Sixth Interest Increase Announced

OTTAWA (CP)—The Bank of Canada announced Wednesday night the sixth increase in its interest rate in 14 months, from 3¼ per cent to a record 3½ per cent, effective immediately.

The announcement gave no reason for the move but it was evidently aimed at encouraging a further tightening of the money market against inflation. The last increase, also one-quarter of one per cent, was made Aug. 9.

The central bank's rate applies to borrowing by chartered banks and security dealers on the security of treasury bills or short-term bonds.

Normally chartered banks don't do much borrowing from the Bank of Canada, but the new boost is an indication of a *further-stiffening money policy. Rate increases generally are re*garded as a warning to industry to moderate investment plans to prevent inflation.

Britain Opens A-Power Plant

". . . Making of History" Says Queen; First Country-Wide Project of Kind

CALDER HALL, England (AP)—Britain Wednesday switched on atomic power to cook the family supper —and launched the second industrial revolution.

"We are present at the making of history," said the Queen as she moved a lever at the world's first full-scale atomic power plant.

Scientists and ambassadors from many lands witnessed the event.

The housewife in England's north could not note the difference. But many a workman came home to supper cooked with electricity generated by uranium fuel rods at Calder Hall.

The atom, with its awesome meaning in war, now was tamely producing steam which drove a turbine generating electricity. Calder Hall took its place as another feeding station for the country's electricity network.

PRODUCTION SMALL

Calder Hall's production was 46 megawatts of Britain's 20,000 megawatts. One megawatt is 1,000,000 watts By next March, when the second half of the power station here is completed, the continuous output should be 90 megawatts, enough to light a city of 1,000,000 persons.

Calder Hall is a £16,500,000 project located on a bleak spot in Cumberland. It takes a page in history as the first big country-wide project of its kind. The Russians claim to have an atomic power plant, but it is not connected to the Soviet national network.

"GREAT CONTRIBUTION"

The Queen said of the Calder Hall project:

"It may well prove to have been among the greatest of our contributions to human welfare that we led the way in demonstrating the peaceful uses of this new source of power."

Ironically, with the world dreaming of cheaper power, the new atomic - energy electricity costs more than the old fashioned type.

British scientists estimated the cost of an atomic electrical kilowatt at one penny, compared to 0.7 of a penny a kilowatt for electricity produced by coal or oil. A penny is worth 1 1-16 cents.

But Britain faces an urgent need for a substitute for coal. Not that there isn't enough underground. It's just that Britain can't get the coal out of the earth fast enough to meet the constantly increasing power demands for her growing economy.

Also, the Suez Canal crisis has raised fears that the huge oil deposits of the Middle East may be cut off by an Arab fever for nationalization.

Some U.S. scientists already look upon Calder Hall as out of date. Yet this "Model T" plant, in British eyes, has the merits of being safe, sturdy, economical and effective.

B.C. Seeking "Better Deal"

VICTORIA (CP) — British Columbia is trying to make a better deal with Ottawa before signing the new Trans-Canada highway agreement.

Highways Minister Gaglardi said Wednesday: "We are anxious to include the upper levels highway of the lower mainland in the route and, if possible the Second Narrows Bridge.

"If we can't include the Second Narrows Bridge we should be able to include everything on the other side as this section of the highway is part of a sea route (Horsesnoe Bay ferry traffic to Vancouver Island.)

"We do not have to sign before Dec. 9, so there is still time for negotiation. And the Rogers Pass section has to be included in the final plans."

B.C. is one of three provinces which has not yet signed Trans-Canada Highway agreements, which provides for Ottawa to pay 50 per cent of the construction costs and up to 90 per cent on vital sections. Under the old agreements, costs were split evenly.

Premier Bennett will discuss the highway agreement during his visit to Ottawa next month.

The other provinces which have not signed with Ottawa are Quebec and Newfoundland.

Increases Won't Meet Requirements

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's two biggest railways said Wednesday that a 15-per-cent increase in general rail-freight rates being sought from the Board of Transport Com*missioners will not meet their full* income requirements for this year.

The CNR and CPR made their statements as the board neared *the end of its hearing of the rail*ways' request for the 15 per-cent rate boost, which includes a review of a seven-per-cent interim increase granted the companies effective last July 3.

The increase is opposed by the four western provinces and the Maritimes. Their spokesmen are to begin summing today, with the hearing likely to end Friday.

ASK ROYAL COMMISSION

OTTAWA (CP) — The Customs and Excise Officer's Association, representing some 7500 federal government employees, Wednesday called for a royal commission investigation of the Civil Service Commission.

ALEXIS CHWASTOV holds his daughter, Tanya, as he moves past newsmen to a Soviet embassy car in London after his plan to take the American-born child to Russia was stalled by a British court order. On a petition by Tanya's mother, Mrs. Yelena Dieczok of Detroit, the court ruled the girl must be detained in Britain until a hearing is held. RE-AFFIRMS ISRAEL STAND

Jordan's Hopes Of Survival Said "Slender"

JERUSALEM (AP) — Premier David Ben-Gurion Wednesday reaffirmed Israel's "freedom of action" if Iraqi troops move into Jordan. Signs increased of a tense tug-of-war over the future of that desert kingdom.

In Cairo, a friend of Egyptian President Nasser accused Iraqi Premier Nuri Said of "engineering a plot" to extend the pro-Western, anti-Communist Baghdad Pact to Jordan and Syria and eventually to overthrow the Egyptian government.

The English-language Jerusalem Post, which often reflects the thinking of the Israeli government, says the chances of Jordan's survival as an indipendent kingdom are "very slender."

Ben-Gurion, summing up a two-day foreign policy debate in parliament, said Iraq's decision to postpone sending army forces into Jordan was favorable. But he warned against what he called premature optimism, and said Nasser, "the fascist dictator of Egypt," is Israel's most dangerous enemy.

At the end of his speech, Parliament voted 76 to 13 in favor of his policy. Only the Communists and the nationalistic Herut Party, which advocates a "preventive war," voted in opposition.

KILLED IN PARACHUTE JUMP

COLD LAKE, Alta. (CP) — FO John Nestoruk, 26, of Vancouver was killed Wednesday when his parachute did not open during a jump from a CF-100 jet fighter near this RCAF station, 145 miles northeast of Edmonton.

The plane, in which Nestoruk was navigator, returned safely to base. An investigation is under way to determine why Nestoruk made the jump and why the parachute did not open.

GAUHATI, India (Reuters) — Prime Minister Nehru said Wednesday night that although world tension over the Suez issue has eased, the danger of war had not yet disappeared completely.

East Basks in Indian Summer

HALIFAX (CP) — Indian summer whooped it up again Wednesday in eastern Canada, scalping heat and sunshine records.

Temperature returned to the 70s in Ontario and the Maritimes. Halifax basked in its 18th sunny day in three weeks.

The sky was a hazy blue, fog hung in the valleys at dawn, a light breeze rustled the falling leaves, and the sun brightened the forests' vivid autumn colors.

. . . was the longest spell of fine weather this year, after a cold stormy winter, a late spring and a cool, damp summer.

DIME MAY BUY LESS BEER

VANCOUVER (CP) — British Columbians may get less beer in their glasses for 10 cents if the provincial government supports a request from the B.C. Hotels Association.

The hotel owners want the size of a 10-cents glass reduced to seven ounces from 7½.

Association members said Wednesday the half-ounce reduction would increase by about seven per cent the profit on draught beer. The move was decided unanimously at a close session.

LUTHERANS CONDEMN RACIAL SEGREGATION

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — The United Lutheran Church condemned enforced racial segregation Wednesday, but rejected an outright endorsement of the Supreme Court decision outlawing it in public schools.

In a hectic closing session the church's biennial convention voted down a proposed declaration that the court ruling is "in harmony with Christian convictions."

MODELS "FENCES"

MONTREAL (CP) — Three ravishing fashion models were used as "fences" to dispose of stolen clothing, police said Wednesday. Two young shipping clerks have been arrested in connection with $25,000 thefts from a downtown manufacturing firm, the police said, adding that three models "who knew the right people" had been used to dispose of the stolen goods.

Pilot's 7-Day Trek Brings Aid to Stranded Survivors

Struggles Through 28-Miles of Near-Impassable Muskeg, Bush; To Pick up 2 Men, Woman Today

YELLOWKNIFE, N.W.T. (CP)—A pilot broke out of near- impassable bush of the Northwest Territories Wednesday after an agonizing seven-day trek to summon help for three persons stranded 19 days in freezing weather near the Arctic Circle.

The three, two men and a woman, were sighted a few hours later by RCAF planes which dropped emergency food rations near their improvised shelter on snow-covered terrain.

Pilot Dick Warner of Aklavik and Edmonton, among the party that disapperaed in two planes Sept. 28, had struggled through 28 miles of muskeg and thick bush before stumbling into a camp of Yellowknife Mines Ltd. Shortly afterwards an emergency flight was on its way to the stricken trio.

PICK UP TODAY

As an RCAF Flying Boxcar dropped rations, the survivors, all unharmed, were seen waving from their shelters. The shelter was near the two Cessna 195s in which they were forced down 300 miles off course.

A small plane is to leave Sawmill Bay, on the south shore of Great Bear Lake, at daybreak today to pick up the party.

Warner, veteran pilot George Gonzalez of the Argentine, and John Gerry Hunter, 34, and his 28-year-old wife, formerly of Na*naimo, B.C., vanished after they* left Coronation Gulf, 90 miles north of the Arctic Circle, Sept. 28. They were on a 318-mile flight southwest to Norman Wells, NWT, on the Mackenzie River.

Their float - equipped aircraft was 150 miles south of the Arctic Circle and 130 miles northwest of here.

In Edmonton the Hunters' parents, from New Westminster, B.C. said they are overjoyed at the news. They said they were beginning to give up hope.

FAR OFF COURSE

Warner walked into Yellowknife Mines' Rayrock property Wednesday with the news of the survival.

The group was far off course when the planes went down. The RCAF said it does not yet know the reason for the forced landings but said fog was heavy the day the light planes set out.

HOPE HAD FADED

When the group did not arrive on schedule one of the largest air searches in Arctic history scoured nearly 100,000 square miles of semi-barren bush for them.

Hope for their safety dwindled earlier in the week when the RCAF, which at one time had 15 planes in its search operations, announced that henceforth only one plane, a single-engined Otter, would continue.

The two planes, which left on the same flight plan, were reported to have taken off from Coppermine in fog. Freezing temperatures, snow storms, and short days hampered search operations.

It was the first time that two planes had ever been missing together in the far north.

The Hunters were engaged by the federal government in fisheries research.

Sudbury Ends 4600-Mile Tow

VICTORIA (CP)—A long tow, beset by fierce North Pacific gales, has ended for the Victoria-based ocean-going tug Sudbury.

The big tug completed a 4600-mile tow Tuesday when she reached Osaka, Japan, with a scrap-metal barge in tow.

The barge, originally the liner Parthia, carried a cargo of 3000 tons of scrap metal on her last *voyage on the Pacific. She is de*stined to be broken up in Japan.

The Sudbury, whose log shows many entries of daring tows and sea rescues, left here Sept. 6. It took 34 days of actual towing to complete the voyage to Osaka.

Rocket Launching Delayed Third Time

FORT CHURCHILL, Man. (CP) —A third delay was announced Wednesday in the firing of an American - built high - altitude *scientific rocket in northern Cana*da.

American scientists and military experts at the launching site, on sub-Arctic tundra 610 miles north of Winnipeg, say the latest delay will mean the firing of the Aerobee rocket will have to be post*poned until later this month.*

The cancellation was made because of a faulty fuel pump which is used to pressurize combustible alcohol - acid fuel into the rocket, a 26-foot U.S. Air Force missile.

Await Word on Resuming Talks

LONDON (Reuters) — Britain and France awaited official word from Egypt Wednesday night on resuming private tripartite talks for a settlement of the Suez dispute.

Official quarters here emphasized Britain will not take the initiative in resuming the talks. started in New York last week.

In Cairo Wing Cmdr. Aly Sabry, President Nasser's chief political adviser, said Britain, France and Egypt will hold "further exploratory talks" within the next 10 days, probably in Geneva.

ONE NIGHT IN PARIS

British and French leaders jointly announced Wednesday morning their determination to win international control of the Suez canal but they invited Egypt to produce any alternative plan giving "equivalent guarantees" to the chief canal users.

The decision was reached when Prime Minister Eden flew with Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd to Paris Tuesday night for a six-hour talk with French Premier Guy Mollet and Foreign Minister Christian Pineau.

Upon his return to London by air, Wednesday morning, Eden told reporters his one night in Paris was "a very useful and practical, if somewhat rapid, meeting."

Candidates Use Sharp Words

WASHINGTON (CP) — President Eisenhower and Adlai Stevenson assailed each other Wednesday in some of the sharpest language either candidate has used in the current campaign.

Neither presidential aspirant subjected the other to personal attack. But Eisenhower, in a broad denunciation of the Democratic campaign, singled out several of Stevenson's talking points for biting criticism. Stevenson concentrated most of his fire on Vice-President Nixon.

Speaking at Seattle, the president described the opposition campaign as "the angry hum of a locust swarm of partisan orators." He accused them of employing "the half-truth," "the hit-and-run statement," "the big straddle," and "the rubber yardstick." They were composing "political fables in a political wonderland."

UNKNOWN QUANTITY

Stevenson, whistle - stopping through Michigan, described Nixon as "a man whose greatest political talent is a mastery of political inuendo, who cries 'treason' and spreads fear and doubt, a man who uses language to conceal issues rather than explore them, a man whose trademark is slander."

Continue Hunt For Lost Hiker

NORTH VANCOUVER (CP) — A six-man ground party continued searching rain - drenched Mount Seymour late Wednesday for Alex Patterson, 24, the last of three hikers lost since Sunday.

One man—Gordon McFarlane, 27 —was reported to have died by 23-year-old Robert Duncan, who staggered into a Seymour valley home on the North Shore of Vancouver harbor Wednesday.

He was exhausted and incoherent but later told police he had left Patterson "completely exhausted" under an overhanging rock near the summit of the 4000-foot mountain.

He also reported he came across McFarlane's body in a creek.

His friend had either been drowned or killed in a vain effort to hike down from the heavily-wooded mountain in thick fog.

His head bore signs of injury, Duncan said.

Duncan was given coffee and food by Mrs. David Franks when he reached her home.

He was unable at first to piece together the story of what had happened after they left their car parked at the top of the Seymour mountain road where it was found Monday.

Finally he told how he and his companions had become lost, apparently in heavy fog that covered the mountain Sunday, and found themselves going down the west side of the mountain.

They split up on Monday when McFarlane decided to make a lone attempt to get down the mountain because of worry about his wife.

Duncan and Patterson remained together until Tuesday night when, Duncan said, he decided to try to get out to get help for his friend.

"You're at the wrong driveway. This is the exit, not the entrance. Let me drive it up to the entrance for you."

Mrs. Spiers got out and the man got behind the wheel.

"My, this is a nice car," he said as he drove on out of sight.

Mrs. Spiers reported to police that her car had been stolen.

'Misdirection' of Justice Charged, Says Coast Paper

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Sun says Mr. Justice J. M. Coady of B.C. Appeal Court has charged there was "serious misdirection" of the jury which found James Carey, 26, and Joe Gordon, 34, guilty of murdering a police constable.

The newspaper says Mr. Justice Coady made the criticism of Mr. Justice A. M. Manson, who presided at the Carey-Gordon trial, in his written reasons for judgment in the men's appeals.

The Appeal Court unanimously dismissed Gordon's appeal against the death sentence, but granted by a 4-1 majority a new trial for Carey. Both were charged with shooting Constable Gordon Sinclair last Dec. 7. Gordon is scheduled to be hanged Nov. 20.

Reasons for judgment have not yet been handed down by the other three appeal judges who favored a new trial for Carey, The Sun said.

Gov't to Encourage Chronic Hospitals

The B.C. Government would encourage construction of chronic hospitals, Hon. Eric Martin, provincial minister of Health and Welfare, told directors of the B.C. Hospital Association at their meeting in Vancouver on Oct. 10.

C. H. Bland, who represented Kootenay Lake General Hospital at this meeting, and at sessions of the B.C. Hospital Association and its board of directors, told KLGH directors the minister had said chronic wards in acute hospitals could be built but that billing and costs would have to be entirely separated from the acute costs of the hospital concerned. The health department plans to call a conference of municipal, hospital, and other interested representatives "in the near future" to study construction of chronic hospital facilities.

A press report issued by the minister on March 15 stating the government would extend B.C. Hospital Insurance Service coverage to patients suffering from a chronic ailment, who are receiving rehabilitative treatment or intensive corrective care in a chronic hospital on the basis of a dollar a day was noted. Municipal and provincial governments would each make per diem grants of 10 cents per day, and the patient would pay $1 a day. Balance would come from consolidated revenue. Mr. Martin said this plan would not cover bedridden aged, and infirm or nursing home patients.

DEFICITS DISCUSSED

Delegates from Port Alberni and Prince George said that their hospitals had yearly deficits, and costs were rising every year. Mr. Martin said that Quesnel and Prince George hospitals, which operated at highest per diem rates, continued to lose money, but other hospitals at lower rates were "in the black." Variables in costs in each area were discussed. When asked if he was "satisfied with operations of present hospital boards," the minister answered he considered them "very efficient."

Mr. Martin urged hospitals to trim costs as much as possible, warning that there was only a limited amount of money for hospitals. A motion that the Association write BCHIS to have hospitals "retain the whole of the differential for public and private rooms to enable them to meet liabilities for the year," was carried. Mr. Bland said a resolution from the KLGH board asking for a BCHIS grant to help finance operations of the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society was discussed but did not bring any tangible results.

Delegates complimented KLGH on the "very satisfactory arrangements made in the organization of their hospital improvement district." Mr. Bland reported that Okanagan and Mission area are studying the Kootenay Valley set-up. A resolution from the Okanagan Regional Council asking the BCHIS to press the B.C. Government to define and form hospital districts was carried, although Mr. Martin said the government "would not agree to such a concept."

Gymnastic Group Here Tonight

The Sofia Girls of Sweden, among the leading exponents of rhythmical gymnastics in the world today, will perform at the L. V. Rogers High School tonight.

The program will also include a concert by the High School Band under the direction of Edward Baravelle.

The principles applying to natural rhythmic movement, as will be demonstrated by the Sofia Girls, were sytematically designed 125 years ago by Per Henrik Ling.

Maja Carlquist, who has inherited Ling's position as a devoted instructor of Swedish gymnasia, notes that rhythm is latent in everyone, but through mechanized and industrialized civilizations, musicular tension is aiding humanity in a flat-footed, hard-faced existence.

"If we liberate the body," Mrs. Carlquist says "we liberate the spirit."

It was with much opposition that the liquid, flowing type of physical education was adopted in Swedish schools. Today, Mrs. Carlquist instructs not only Swedish students, but housewives and their husbands too. The system has been gaining recognition in all parts of Europe.

Per Henrik Ling, in the preface of his "General Basis of Gymnastics" writes "I pray to God that future doctors and educators may one after another, extend and improve these my efforts, for one day, gymnastics might recover among the northern races the same importance which it had in the minds of Plato, Hippocrates and Galen."

The Swedish gymnasts' appearance in Nelson has bee narranged by the High School and the Community Programmes Branch.

Reserve Judgement

VICTORIA (CP) — The B.C. Court of Appeal Wednesday reserved judgment on the appeal of John Pearson, Penticton, from damages assessed against him for the shooting of a girl by his son David.

The girl, Glendine Hatfield, was accidentally shot in the spine and paralyzed by a bulled from a .22 - calibre rifle. Chief Justice Sherwood Lett of the B.C. Supreme Court held the boy liable and awarded $40,000 damages against him as well as $2850 and costs against the father.

Both children are 15.

Senator J. W. Farris, counsel for Mr. Pearson, told the court the main issue was whether the father could anticipate his son's taking the gun, not whether the gun was dangerous. He said the fact that it is easy to lock a gun up does not imply negligence when that is not done.

Power Commission Payments to Municipalities Up

VICTORIA (CP) — The B.C. Power Commission said Wednesday it has issued cheques worth $134,382 to municipalities in lieu of taxes on its buildings and installations this year. The amount is 12.5 per cent higher that that paid last year.

The payments represent three per cent of the gross revenue within the 40 organized areas for the fiscal year which ended March 31.

Nearly half the total, $66,140, went to Vancouver Island communities. The largest single payment, $16,828, was paid to the city of Nanaimo.

Five Cars Taken, Two Damaged By Vandals; All Now Recovered

A car missing since Monday night, one of four taken from the homes of their owners over a four-day period, was recovered Wednesday morning, City Police reported.

The car was spotted by D. T. Underwood, 810 Kokanee Avenue, who notified Miss Kathleen Porter, the owner, that he had found her car parked near the Lakeside Park concession booth as he was walking to his boat house. The car had been taken from in front of Miss Porter's home at 715 Kokanee Avenue Monday night.

Miss Porter said that the car must have been coasted down the Kokanee hill, and probably pushed to its position at the park, because she felt certain the car could not have been started. She said she had not left the keys in the car as had been reported Wednesday.

Other cars that had been taken and found later were owned by H. Gavin, Morgan Street, R. C. Quin, Mill Street, and Mrs. J. Brown, 613 Mill Street. Mrs. Brown's car was taken from in front of her home Friday night, and found a short distance away, damaged.

Both Mrs. Porter and Mrs. Brown are school teachers.

A fifth car taken from the L. V. Rogers High School Parking lot Tuesday night was identified as that of William Evin's of South Slocan, Wednesday, and the case turned over to RCMP. The late model sedan was located half a block from the high school, but outside the limits. It suffered considerable damage.

Investigations are continuing.

H. D. Dawson To Retire This Year

36 U.S. Mining Men Tour Canadian Ex, Cominco

TRAIL—Attending the regular monthly dinner meeting of Trail Chamber of Commerce Wednesday at the Crown Point hotel were 36 American mining executives and representatives, mainly from Spokane and Seattle. The party is winding up a tour of a number of mining operations in the area which included a tour of the Canadian Exploration Mine at Salmo Wednesday afternoon and will end with a tour of Cominco operations this forenoon. The visitors are to be guests of Cominco for breakfast this morning. They will leave for home later today.

William Forrest, president of the Trail Chamber, in welcoming the guests expressed the thought that there were "far too few of such opportunities to meet friends from the U.S."

James Bryden extended a warm welcome from Cominco and appreciation of R. D. Perry, vice-president and general manager, for including the company in this tour.

Karl Jasper of Spokane Chamber, president of the Pacific Northwest Mining Association, expressed the appreciation of the visitors for the hositality and extended an invitation to visit Spokane and Seattle.

Several other members spoke briefly emphasizing that more such international meetings be held.

During a brief business session it was reported that the question of daylight saving time the year round had been passed over to the city fathers. "The ball is still bouncing," said Mr. Forrest. "But we have gone as far as we ca for the present."

Effect of Natural Gas Discussed With Nelson, Kinnaird Officials

Civic officials from Nelson and Kinnaird, by invitation of Inland Natural Gas Company Ltd., met in Trail recently, primarily to discuss the effect of natural gas on each municipal department.

Cecil H. Smith, assistant to the president of Inland Natural Gas, stated that at present West Coast Transmission had completed approximately 50 per cent of their major 800-mile 30-inch transmission and gathering lines with an estimated 80 per cent site delivery of the pipe. "We of Inland," he continued, "will receive delivery of the fuel, and be in a position to deliver natural gas to the Nelson area by early fall, 1957, and as we have let our contracts, hope to see clearing and grading of right-of-way in the area commence this year, with actual pipe line and distribution systems commencing early in the spring."

Following Mr. Smith's report, departmental heads and company technicians discussed technical and administrative aspects of installation in the communities, to aid its speed and efficiency.

Guests from Nelson included Alderman Arthur Foster, Fire Chief E. S. Owens, Assistant City Clerk D. L. Ure, Building Inspector G. A. Butling, Waterworks Superintendent J. A. Maber, Public Works Superintendent E. E. Olson and V. Fitzpatrick of the city gas works. Commissioner R. J. Smales, Foreman P. H. Hildebrandt and Fire Chief J. P. Archameault attended from Kinnaird. Inland Gas was represented by H. Laub, southern area sales manager, Glen M. Garvin, sales promotion manager, and Mr. Smith.

Cranbrook Accepts Highest Bid On $80,800 Debenture Issue

CRANBROOK — Highest of several bids for the city's $88,800 debenture issue to cover cost of the installation of the new city water main and extension of the existing system was $90.56 per $100 submitted by West Wood-Gundy Ltd. of Vancouver and was accepted this week by City Council. Debenture interest rate is 4¼ per cent. Shipment of pipe for the project, which will bring water from the city reservoir a new route to enter the city at its new southern boundary, is expected in late November, and preliminary work by the works department is already under way toward relief of an intermittent low pressure condition.

The inspector of air services for the Department of Transport is being notified of the stage of negotiations between the city and Crestbrook Timber Ltd. with regard to measures to improve landing conditions at the city airport, and will be asked for advice on the undertaking.

Court of revision for city voters' list has been set, with Mayor Sang, and Aldermen A. J. Balment and A. E. Jones presiding. Prior to that date the tentatively revised voters' list will be posted in various city points and solicitations for new listing of names or removal from the list will be heard by the court.

Application for purchase of a block of extra-municipal land in the vicinity of the Cranbrook Cemetery by J. Hofert Christmas Tree Company was refused. Three applications for extra-municipal water and sewer connections were approved by the meeting, applicants to undertake all cost.

School Trustees Name Kaslo Man

CASTLEGAR — West Kootenay branch of the B.C. School Trustees' Association, meeting here this week, chose J. A. Cochran of Kaslo as executive member to the provincial organization.

Of the six school districts embraced by the branch, the Kootenay Lake, Nelson, Slocan, Castlegar and Trail school districts were represented at the meeting.

Other business discussed included executive members' duties and financing of attendance at executive meetings, rentals of district-owned houses to teachers, meetings of representatives of various areas, on and two room schools for elementary, advantages and disadvantages of small units, portable one and two room schools and teacherages, university courses at Trail for teachers, and leaves of absence for teachers.

F. Beinder was elected vice-president of the branch.

It was felt that more publicity should be given to the work of the six district boards and the branch. Branch meetings are held quarterly for an exchange of ideas and pplicies.

Proposal for a workship for secretary-treasurers, sponsored by the department of education, was looked on with favor.

Teacher consultants were also discussed, and it was noted that districts having such teachers were pleased with the results.

HIGHER DYNAMITE, LIME REBATES COULD BENEFIT KOOTENAY FARMERS

BOSWELL — Increased rebate on stumping powder or ditching dynamite used by farmers or ranchers for bringing land into agricultural production could probably help Kootenay farmers, an official of the West Kootenay-Boundary Central Farmers' Institute states.

The department of agriculture will pay a rebate of $3.75 per case on the blasting materials, an increase of $1 per case.

Agriculture minister Hon. Ralph Chetwynd has also announced that farmers will receive a subsidy of $3 per ton on lime products used for soil amendment purposes, and which meet the minimum standard requirements set forth in the lime subsidy policy regulations. This is an increase of $1 a ton.

Kenneth Wallace, Central Farmers' Institute secretary, states that "we do not hear of very great use of agricultural lime in the Kootenays, but probably lots could be used to good advantage."

All returns are remitted to CARS provincial headquarters which maintains the clinic service at St. Eugene Hospital here, and the Bluebird Car which serves the whole East Kootenay district, with Miss Elaine Rapson, graduate physio-therapist, in charge of both.

Canada Watching Free Trade Plan

Britain's plan to join a European free trade area is causing some concern in Canada, and how far it will affect the trade of this country is being closely studied in Ottawa.

Fundamentally the British are free traders. They were forced into adopting a tariff system largely by the high tariffs imposed by other countries, notably the United States, but they still regard tariffs as a hindrance to trade.

They do a great deal of trade with members of the Commonwealth and the preferential tariffs are an outcome of sentimental and practical belief in the unity of the Commonwealth.

Because of the continuing adverse dollar balance, something which Canada also has, they find it difficult to trade in the dollar area.

Britain has a great deal of wealth —she claims to be the next most wealthy country to the United States —but that wealth is not convertible into dollars.

Particularly with regard to the dollar situation it is understandable that Britain seeks to enlarge her sterling trade with the view of making sterling convertible into dollars.

Britain has asked the views of the senior members of the Commonwealth on her proposals since they will in some measure be affected by Britain's entry into such a plan. Of all these Canada will be the most affected; since she is in the dollar area.

Canada will want to keep her volume of trade and the opportunity to enlarge it and to receive payment in dollars. It is precisely this matter of dollars which make the British look for more trade in Europe. They realize that they cannot indefinitely go on with an adverse dollar balance growing larger year by year. If Canada could accept sterling the British plan would be more favorably received here, but Canada relies much on her trade with Britain to help correct her own adverse balance with the United States.

The plan, if put into effect, might create a growing area where free trade could flourish, but if it were static it would simply be another preferential area to further complicate an already complicated system of tariff walls. At the least it might be an interesting experiment.

The plan is in a sense a discrimination against dollar goods, but only in the same way that man with no money discriminates against high priced goods. The great need of the world today is to place the sterling countries on a sounder basis of trade with the dollar area. To do this sterling countries must buy less from the dollar area or the dollar countries buy more from the sterling area. This plan is a partial solution of the problem, but we have the assurance of the British minister of trade that it will not be put into effect if Commonwealth members object.

Without freedom of thought there can be no such thing as wisdom, and no such thing as public liberty without freedom of speech.—Benjamin

New Deal in Pakistan

Ever since its formation Pakistan has moved from crisis to crisis. If East Pakistan was not in turmoil, West Pakistan was. It has been a struggle for power with the contending groups not knowing what to do with power when they got it. Some of the difficulties spring from the nature of the state itself, more from the decline of the Moslem League and the lack of cohesive strength in the groups that until now have been on opposition.

A new crisis is in process of being dealt with. The prime minister, Mohammed Ali, has resigned, and a man who once before refused to accept the post has undertaken to form a new government. Hussain Shaheed Suhrawardy even turned down an invitation to join Mohammed Ali's government. He laid grave charges against the Moslem League. It had, he said, rigged the provincial elections by false arrests, kidnapping, property destruction and the threat of withholding water from voters if they did not support Moslem League candidates.

How far these charges contributed to the downfall of Mohammed Ali is not clear. They do not appear to have been investigated, as Suhrawardy insisted they should be. They nevertheless put the Moslem League on the defensive, as it has been ever since it lost control of East Pakistan three years ago, and contributed to its further decline.

The struggle for power has been one between politicians of East and West Pakistan, and at the moment the East Pakistanis are in the ascendant. Suhrawardy is head of the Awami (People's) League, whose support was sought by the Moslem League in an earlier political crisis. He has bided his time, and now takes over. But no one would suggest that this will end Pakistan's troubles. There has never been a general election in Pakistan. One is promised for early next year, but again a postponement is likely, for the ground is not fully laid for general elections. Yet until the people are brought to the point where they can express themselves adequately at the polls, Pakistan is likely to continue to be unstable and unable to solve its own problems.—Montreal Star.

Japanese Height

Some short people are exceedingly self-conscious about their lack of height when by force of circumstances they must mingle with others who are taller. At first thought one would believe that the Japanese as a race would not worry much over their size in comparison with people of other countries. Millions of Japanese work and play on the thickly populated island with few among them tall enough to make others conscious of their low average height.

So it is strange that three Japanese officials should leave Tokyo to visit Australia, there to study the effect of a wheat diet on the people down under. The object of their trip is to find out whether by adopting the diet of western countries, the Japanese can develop a taller race.

The physical prowess of the Japanese is notable. Certainly members of the armed forces of the Western world who fought against the Japanese in the last war learned to respect the physical fitness of their opponents.—Fort William Times-Journal.

Moose Jaw's Traffic Plan

The city of Moose Jaw, like Lethbridge and other urban centres, has a problem in curtailing traffic infractions and accidents. Moose Jaw is developing a plan that has definite merit. Safety-minded citizens of the Saskatchewan city, with the co-operation of the Chamber of Commerce, have formed a safety council. It is made up of representatives of various civic organizations, groups and business firms, the RCAF station near the city, teenage and student bodies. The council threw out any suggestion involving anyonymous reports of traffic violations.

Reporting on the council and its work, the Regina Leader-Post says the council and general public will make out numbered reports of infractions. These are to be filed.

Immediately following, a letter is sent to the owner of the vehicle pointing out the infringement and suggesting that the owner keep a vigilant eye for other offenders. The idea thereby has a snowballing effect.

The council does not normally undertake to forward the names to the police. This is, again, a wise policy. However, say council members, if the filed records show a continued disregard by any particular driver or drivers, it might be possible that the names would be submitted to the police.

Undoubtedly it is the point at which a name might be forwarded to the police which will cause some discussion in the council's deliberations. Its decision will be watched with interest by safety-conscious residents of other parts of the country.

The council believes education to be the ultimate key to the situation. Wanted is a more adequate driver-training plan and driver education for school students. Probably such education might be awhile coming, and when it does come, its fruits might even then take time to develop. Like the poor, we will always have traffic violators. It is the continual effort to cut down on such infringements and accidents which is our highway salvation.—Lethbridge Herald.

Indomitable Spirit

It was Mr. Valiant in Pilgrim's Progress who said: ". . . yet do I not repent me of all the trouble I have been at to arrive where I am. My sword I shall give to him that shall succeed me in my Pilgrimage, my Courage to him that can get it. My marks and scars I carry with me, to be a witness for me that I have fought . . ."

They are words that belong to this time, when Hon. George Drew has laid down his burdens as the leader of his party. "It is terribly hard for me to accept the circumstances which have forced this upon me." These are the words of his resignation. And they are words most characteristic. For he has had at all times an indomitable spirit, not giving way before difficulties, but rather advancing against them, heedless of the discouragements or of the odds.

—Montreal Gazette.

New Words

... F. B. PEARCE

Once upon a time they were chemists, then they became druggists and now they are pharmacists. Which shows how in our democratic world people can get on and raise their economic and social status.

Chemists and druggists started their drug filled life as apprentices and then suddenly their union decided that all members should have a university degree. That was fine but it would never have done to have a course in drugs and emerge at the end with a batchelor of druggery degree so they had to find another word and they chose pharmacy which rolls smoothly off the tongue even if few people know what it means, and of course one who completes his degree in pharmacy is a pharmacist. One of my egregious friends suggests that a pharmacist is a cyst on a farmer but I think that is carrying a pun too far. Pharmacy is the art of preparing medicine so the word is quite alright even if most of the medicines we swallow today come already prepared. It may be purely coincidence by since our druggists have gone highbrow the price of their commodities have gone sky-high. The ist ending on words indicates those who do the first part of the word. It is a shocking thing to find that the English have succumbed to trans-Atlantic influence and have also been tacking it on words. One advertisement read, "For price of our tyres consult our nearest stockist." and isn't that a quaint way of spelling tires. (I mention that because our proof reader is quite likely to alter the word.)

SAME BUT DIFFERENT

Lots of these words which look alike do not actually mean the same thing. An educator is one who educates but an educationist who knows all about education but does not educate. Perspicacity is not the same as perspicuity but I will leave you to find out what they mean. I've forgotten.

Not all these nice new words catch on. Undertakers — now why ever did they call them undertakers unless it was because they undertook something which the dear departed could no longer do for himself — undertakers seemed to think it would give prestige to their profession if they called themselves morticians but that blew up in their faces when people talked of "Mort the mortician" so they settled on funeral directors which is much better but I wish they would not call their establishments parlors. "Come into my parlor said the spider to the fly and when you get inside you'll find out how to die," and funeral home is no happier description.

People in unglamorous professions are always trying to find more dignified names for them. Once we talked of street cleaners. Now we call them sanitary men, which is quite alright if you have never heard that vulgar ballad about Dan, Dan the sanitary man. In the United States they even go so far as to call a school janitor a custodian which sounds better but really means the same thing, but is calculated to give prestige.

EXCITING

These new words can be most exciting and everyone should try their hands at making some. The editorial writer might describe himself as an editorialist, the lover of that quaint music a rock and rollist and the car mechanic a garagist (the French, I think, spell it with an "e" at the end). Even that lowly specie the housewife can immeasurably raise her status if she calls herself a domestician.

But there will always be some name which cannot be changed. What else can you call a policeman other than such names as copper and what can you call a grocer. If the word groceteria had not died out we might have called him a groceterian. No, in a lot of cases we shall have to stick to the "er" at the end of the word. I have been waiting for a long time to see what they call the man who does the finalizing. They won't be able to put "ist" at the end of finalize, or can they? "Finalizist? Maybe they can but finalizer is my choice.

Your Individual HOROSCOPE

—By Frances Drake—

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Friday, October 19, 1956

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) —Put over your pat ideas or new and novel methods if the opportunity presents. Be consistent, and don't become perturbed if the pressure is on. Avoid worry.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus) —Good resolutions, clever management and wholesome activities, whether of work or recreational nature, are honored by benefic aspects. Be alert to opportunities but don't overtax yourself.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini) —If things go "off schedule" don't become upset. The one who calmly and thoroughly analyzes situations and then acts is the one most likely to succeed.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer) —A day for cautious observance of the rules. Don't step out of bounds in your search for gain. Be ready to work in harmony with competent associates, friends, loved ones.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo) —Cancer's advice applies to you, too. Avoid hasty conclusions, needless errors, risky deals. A fair return can be expected for like effort. Control emotions; use common sense.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — Conserve energy for essential tasks. Aim to achieve a new record in quality and efficiency. Others will try to emulate it. Day favors personal interests.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra) — Don't let enticing promises of abundant gain distort your sense of values. One does not get something for nothing. Make each act and thought count.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 22 (Scorpio) — Excellent influences to encourage your efforts. Essential matters demand priority. Honest purpose and consistent performance will count heavily. Give others deserved praise.

NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius) — Watch finances; neither overspend nor oversave. A happy medium course is best. Follow preplanned program in an enterprising manner. When day's work is accomplished, relax, rest for the morrow.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn) — A progressive day for the energetic ones. See that you are among them. The day may challenge your ingenuity. Buckle down, use your fine talents. Be foresighted, too.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius) — Time things well. Avoid expending energy on worthless projects. Tackle essentials first so as day draws to a close you can take a breather.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces) — Incompleted work, familiar matters can be handled quickly, quietly. Avoid a free-and-easy attitude. Use common sense and be guided by past experience.

YOU BORN TODAY are natural peacemakers, defenders of the underprivileged, promoters of good will. If you remain true to your better self you can achieve great things. You will work hard to provide the best for your family. You also like comforts; do not be extravagant in this connection. Your personality attracts. Dramatic ability strong.

Says Parental Kindness Can Ruin Children

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Parents are so starved for their children's affection that they will try at any cost — even at the risk of turning them into delinquents — to get it, the Catholic Women's League was told here.

Canon G. Emmett Carter of Montreal said that some of today's young hardened criminals are the direct result of parental indulgence.

Canon Carter suggested that to develop the desired characteristics in children parents adhere more closely to the example God sets for them.

"Adults are like children," he said. "They pray to God and when their wishes are not granted they say God is not listening," he said. "God is listening but when he does not grant a wish his silence means no."

Names Seldom Heard Named

WASHINGTON (CP) — You hear a lot these days about Dwight D. Eisenhower and Adlai E. Stevenson but very little about T. Coleman Andrews, Darlington Hoopes or Henry Krajewski.

Yet, all five are candidates for the presidency of the United States.

Andrews, Hoopes and Karjewski play minor roles as the leaders of three of a group of splinter parties scattered around the fringe of U.S. politics.

Keep Child From Mischief by Firm Teaching

By Garry Cleveland Myers, Ph.D.

When the baby begins to creep and walk, both he and his mother face many trials. Think of all he has to learn in this short period. With his strong urge to explore and his growing knack of going about under his own power, he often gets into things that are dangerous to him and things to which he is a menace.

Usually, he is alone with his mother who has other things to do. Even if she hasn't, keeping him out of trouble all day, day after day, is a wearing ordeal.

ONLY TEMPORARY CONVENIENCE

You could, of course, remove everything which he might harm or which might harm him. But this would provide only temporary convenience. In time, he would still have to learn to avoid certain things and places. It is better to put away just a few of the most frail or dangerous things temporarily.

Here is a workable program:

Have a play pen for him. Keep him in this play pen with ample playthings for short periods. Place it preferably where he can see and hear you. At the end of such periods, which should become gradually longer, go to him and talk to him, even play with him.

LET HIM WALK ABOUT

During several periods of the day, let him creep or walk about the room. Watch him and intercept him when he is endangering himself or things you prize. Just by holding or intercepting him, making quiet explanations, you might train him eventually to avoid certain things and places. But you will still have the problef of training him to respect automatically your quiet word No in new situations.

You may get easier and quicker results if, during the brief periods he is relatively free on the floor, you center on one important thing he must avoid. As he is about to touch or seize it, slap him lightly on his bare hand or thigh. Make it hurt. As you do so, say No, just once, in a moderate tone. Next time he's about to touch this same forbidden object, don't intercept or pull him away. Give another smack, saying No just once.

PAINFUL CONSEQUENCES

Allow no exceptions. Always let him choose what to do and see that he receives the painful consequence if he makes the wrong choice. In this way, he will learn before long to avoid the forbidden thing automatically and permanently. He will also respect your No.

Having succeeded in training him to avoid one thing, add other things to the list of items he must stay away from. Do all you can to help him enjoy the many things he can have and do.

Late Vegetables Meet Need For Substantial Fare

By MARGARET CARR)

Good hot meals will be appreciated after months of salads and cold plates.

Late summer vegetables like cauliflower topped with a creamy cheese sauce, golden buttered carrots, plump onions cooked to tender goodness and rosy-red broiled tomatoes, satisfy this need for more substantial meals.

Serve fall vegetables creamed or in casseroles, or try them stuffed. Most late vegetables like peppers, onions, eggplant, tomatoes and, later on, squash, are improved with a tasty stuffing.

And in using up the odds and ends of the late vegetables crop, do not forget green tomatoes. They are wonderful for chow-chow and green tomato relish, but also make tempting casserole dishes, for instance, our red and green tomato scallop. This would be served as a vegetable with the meal.

RED AND GREEN CASSEROLE

- 3 medium green tomatoes
- 3 medium red tomatoes
- 1 large onion, sliced
- 2 tablespoons fat
- 2 teaspoons sugar
- ½ cup dry bread crumbs
- Salt and pepper
- 1 tablespoon butter

Peel and slice tomatoes. Saute onion in hot fat until lightly browned, about 5 minutes. Arrange half the red and green tomatoes, onions and bread six cup casserole, sprinkling the tomatoes with sugar, salt and pepper. Repeat arrangement with remaining half of ingredients. Dot with butter. Bake in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 20 minutes or until vegetables are tender. Makes four to six servings.

STUFFED CUCUMBERS

- 6 cucumbers, about 6 inches long
- 2 cups sausage meat (about 1 pound)
- 2/3 cup finely chopped celery leaves
- 1/3 cup chopped onion
- 1½ teaspoons salt
- 1 teaspoon sage
- 2 cups soft stale bread crumbs

Cut cucumbers in half lengthwise, remove seeds and soft portion with spoon. Cook cucumbers in boiling water for 10 minutes. Drain well. Brown sausage meat in a hot frying pan. Add seasonings and crumbs and mix well together. Pile stuffing in cucumber shells. Place in a greased baking dish and bake in a hot oven (400 deg. F.) for 35 minutes, or until cucumbers are tender. Makes six servings.

CREAMED CUCUMBERS

- 3 medium cucumbers
- 3 tablespoons mild-flavored fat
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 2 cups milk
- 1¼ teaspoons salt
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- Dash of mace

Wash and peel cucumbers. Cut in half lengthwise. Scoop out soft pulp and seeds with a spoon. Cut cucumbers in ¼-inch slices. Melt two tablespoons fat in pan. Saute cucumbers in it for five minutes, tossing constantly.

Make cream sauce of remaining fat and other ingredients. Add cucumbers, reheat and serve. Makes six servings.

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD WERBESKI

PATRICIA ANN OZEY IS BRIDE IN WEDDING RITES AT KAMLOOPS

The Sacred Heart Church in Kamloops was the scene of an Autumn wedding when Rev. Father Flannery united in marriage Patricia Ann Ozey, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Ozey of Nelson, and Richard Werbeski of Winnipeg.

The bride, who was given away by her father, looked lovely in a satin and net dress, ballerina length, with a lace jacket and long pointed sleeves. Her headpiece was set with pearls and sequins. She carried a cascade of American Beauty roses and carnations.

Her bridesmaid was Miss Claudette Lund, who was attired in pink tulle, and carried a colonial bouquet of carnations.

The groom was supported by Mr. Laurence LaChance. Both wore white dinner jackets.

A reception for relatives and friends was held in the Blue Room of the Plaza Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Werbeski will live in Vancouver.

Brook Trout Supreme Ranks Top in Taste

By MARGARET CARR

"The Gourmet Touch" was the theme of an exhibit sponsored by the entire fishing industry at the Newspaper Food Editors' conference in New York.

Pre-cooked and specialty foods, a wide variety of fish and shellfish, as well as 22 dishes each representing a "gourmet touch," were included in the exhibit.

Among the fishing associations represented at the exhibit was the Fisheries Council of Canada.

Here are two of the fish dishes we thought particularly good.

BROOK TROUT SUPREME

Sprinkle cleaned and dressed brook trout inside and out with lemon juice, salt and pepper. Dip in egg beaten with two tablespoons milk, then in fine dry bread crumbs. Melt enough butter or margarine in frying pan to just cover the bottom. Add fish and saute until golden brown on both sides, about three to four minutes, or until fish flakes easily when tested with fork. Remove to hot platter and serve with mushroom-butter sauce. Garnish, if desired with toast cornucopias.

Mushroom Butter Sauce

- ¼ cup butter
- 1 2-ounce can, sliced mushrooms, drained
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- ½ teaspoon salt

Melt butter. Add mushrooms, lemon juice and salt. Serve hot with trout. Makes enough for three to four small trout.

Toast Cornucopias

Remove crusts from thin-sliced bread. Spread each slice on both sides with softened butter, sprinkle with garlic salt. Roll to form cornucopias and fasten each with toothpick. Stuff centre with crusts so that cornucopias will retain rounded shape. Toast at 350 deg. F. (moderate oven) 20 to 25 minutes or until golden. Remove crusts in cornucopias and fill centre with parsley sprigs.

HERBED FISH AND SHRIMP

- ¼ cup butter
- ½ pound mushrooms, cleaned and sliced
- ¼ cup flour
- 1½ cups milk
- ½ teaspoon salt
- Dash papper
- ¼ teaspoon thyme leaves
- ⅛ teaspoon rosemary leaves
- ½ teaspoon majoram leaves
- 1 pound fish fillets
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon flour
- ¾ pound uncooked shrimp

Melt half of the butter in a shallow pan. Add mushrooms and saute until lightly browned. Lift out mushrooms, leaving butter in the pan and add to it the remaining butter. When melted, add the ¼ cup flour. Blend well and add milk, the ½ teaspoon salt, pepper and herbs. Cook slowly, stirring constantly, until sauce is very thick. Dry fillets thoroughly and dredge with remaining salt and flour. Place half of them in a buttered 1½-quart casserole. Clean and de-vein shrimp, dry thoroughly and place half on top of fish. Spread half of cooked mushrooms on top. Pour half of sauce over the top. Repeat with remaining fillets, shrimp, mushrooms and sauce. Cover casserole and cook 15 minutes in a hot oven (400 deg. F.). Remove cover and cook 15 minutes longer. Makes six servings.

Presbyterian Cleric Weds At Kimberley

KIMBERLEY — The former Shirley Ann Nicholson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Nicholson, and Ralph Wesley Kirchen, of Wilkie, Sask., son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Kirchen, were principals in a wedding ceremony performed by Rev. E. McKinley in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

The couple left for Calgary en route to Wilkie where the groom will take charge of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church in that centre.

Both are well-known in Kimberley, where the bride grew up, and has been outstanding in Highland dancing. The groom has been in charge of the Presbyterian Church for the past eight months.

The bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Nicholson of Trail, came for the ceremony.

The full choir, with Mrs. I. Hogg as organist, sang for the service. Gladioli, stocks and snapdragons banked the chancel.

The bride wore a fitted suit of grey wool gabardine with pink accessories, and carried a white Bible centred with red roses and with white satin streamers knotted with rosebuds and lily of the valley. She was given in marriage by her father.

Her attendant, Miss Shirley Saunders, was attired in a blue knitted suit with white accessories. She held a shower bouquet of pink carnations.

Mr. George Williams of Kimberley was best man.

The bride's mother wore a deep blue afternoon dress, inset with lace, coral accessories, and a pink rose corsage, while Mrs. D. Sutherland of Kimberley, representing the groom's mother, wore a dark grey suit, black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

A wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's cake was three-tiered, topped by a miniature bride and groom figure.

One Good Way To Stay Slim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Who ever heard of a streamlined cook? There is no blinking the fact that it takes a bit of doing for the homemaker-cook to cope with calories. If this is your role, tune in. You work with food so much of the time — marketing, menu planning, meal preparation, serving and clearing away—temptation is ever present.

You'll be interested in an eye-opening experiment which paved the way to successful reducing for a suburban homemaker. Here's her story:

"Women don't really realize how much their so-called tasting and nibbling while fixing meals counts up. When my doctor recommended that I reduce, I complained of the meal-getting chore. He suggested that I chew gum while preparing dinner, and put each item that I was tempted to put in my mouth into a large serving dish instead. Would you believe that I had an overflowing dish full? Perhaps this will help some of your readers—it certainly opened my eyes.

"I now chew gum while getting dinner, and I am happy to report I have lost 17 pounds in two and a half months."

There's a challenge, homemakers! While preparing the evening meal, get out that serving dish and see for yourself. Liberal sampling can actually amount to a small meal, and taste makes waist.

This eye-opener can alert you to the cause of your excess pounds. The next step is to take determined action. A scientific way to deal with the problem is to cut ahead of hunger pangs with a late afternoon protein pick-up. This is termed "purposeful piecemealing" and the snack must be within 100 calories—else you defeat your purpose.

Around 4:30, have a cup of hot tea and a ¾-ounce wedge of cheese; or a glass of skim milk or buttermilk; or cocoa made with skim milk and sweetened with a non-nutritive sweetener. Or the snack may be a hard cooked egg and some celery stalks.

Of course, the pick-up must be counted in with the total calories for the day, and in any reducing diet the snack should furnish protective nutrients.

Then, while preparing dinner, chew gum. Or, if you are not a gum chewer, you can chew on crisp celery stalks. Another idea—one homemaker reported success from sipping hot bouillon as she prepared dinner.

It's fun to share slimming tips.

Vanilla Works Kitchen Magic

By ALICE DENHOFF

There's nothing like vanilla to add sorcery to dessert sauces. Not only does it have its own distinctive flavor, it also steps up the goodness of the other flavors, too. Just try these and see which goes over best.

Penuche Sauce is rich but is it good!

To prepare 2 cups of this delicious topping, mix 1¼ cup brown sugar, 2-3 cup light corn syrup and 1-3 cup butter or margarine in a 1 quart saucepan. Bring to boiling point and cook 2 minutes or until sugar and butter are thoroughly blended. Remove from heat.

Stir in ½ cup sweetened condensed milk and 1-16 teaspoon salt Cool. Remove from heat.

Add ½ cup chopped nuts and 1½ teaspoon pure vanilla extract.

It's wonderful over ice cream and delicious over pound cake when a quickie dessert is needed.

WITH CHOPPED NUTS

Nutty Vanilla Sauce is excellent over puddings and cakes as well as ice cream.

Combine 2 tablespoons cornstarch, 1 1-3 cup sugar and ¼ teaspoon salt in a 1 quart saucepan. Stir in ¼ cup cold water. Gradually blend in 1¼ cup boiling water and cook until slightly thickened, stirring mixture constantly.

Add ¼ cup butter or margarine. Cool and stir in 3 teaspoons vanilla extract and ½ cup chopped nuts.

COMBINED FLAVORS

When chocolate and vanilla flavors are combined, the result is a double treat.

To prepare approximately 1 2-3 cup of sauce that is tops over ice cream, cake or pudding, melt 2 squares unsweetened chocolate, and 3 tablespoons butter or margarine over low heat in saucepan, stirring frequently.

Blend in 2-3 cup light corn syrup, 1 cup sugar and ⅛ teaspoon salt.

Gradually add ¾ cup hot water and bring to boiling point. Boil slowly 4 to 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and stir in 2 teaspoons vanilla extract.

Colorful Assortment Of Fruit on Markets

By MARGARET CARR

Peaches, pears, grapes, apples, plums and prunes — what a wonderful assortment of fruit is available right now for lunchbox treats, between-meal snacks and delicious eating anytime.

For breakfast, fruit is so refreshing served alone or with cereal and cream. At lunchtime, surely nothing could be tastier than several fresh fruits on a salad plate, perhaps with cottage cheese. For dinner, fruit cocktail as a starter or spiced fresh fruits with the meat course, and a freshly-baked fruit pie or pudding for dessert is sure to please everyone. Any fresh juicy fruit eaten out-of-hand is particularly good for dessert following a heavy main course and a fresh peach or pear or a bunch of grapes is both satisfying and attractive when accompanied by nippy cheese or Danish Blue cheese with crackers.

Besides eating plenty of fresh fruits while they are in season, nearly everyone will want to store some away for next winter. There is nothing more satisfying to a homemaker than the sight of colorful rows of sparkling jellies, jams, pickles and canned fruits that she has made herself. And for a new bride, what a proud moment it is when she opens the first jar of her very own peach jam, cucumber pickles, plum chutney or luscious deep purple grape jelly.

FROZEN FRESH FRUIT COCKTAIL

In addition to canning, many of today's homemakers are fortunate to be able to freeze fresh fruits and store them in their home freezer or locker. Frozen fruits do taste so fresh and good later on when the harvest season is a thing of the past. And for a touch of summer at Christmas, what could be more refreshing than a fresh fruit cocktail, frozen according to directions from the consumer section, Canada Department of Agriculture.

Make a thin syrup in the proportion of one cup of sugar dissolved in two cups of water, allowing three-quarters to one cup of syrup for each 16-fluid-ounce container of fruit. Choosing firm fully ripe fruit, prepare as for fresh fruit cocktail — one part each red grapes, green grapes and apples, two parts cantaloupe and eight parts peaches. Gently mix the fruits, pack into freezer containers and cover with cold syrup. Seal and freeze. When serving this fruit cocktail and other frozen fruits, it is best to thaw them slowly in the unopened container, inverting the container occasionally to distribute the syrup evenly. For fullest flavor and most attractive appearance, frozen fruits should be served immediately after thawing, with a few of the ice crystals still in the fruit.

Homemakers without a freezer or locker can still store away the basic makings of a fruit salad or cocktail by canning peaches and pears together. For this combination, the consumer section suggests using a thin syrup, a cup of sugar to two cups of water. The halves or sliced peaches and pears may be packed cold into the sealers, then covered with boiling syrup and processed. Packed this way, so called, pint sealers or 20-ounce cans require 20 minutes processing in boiling water, quart sealers or 28-ounce cans 25 minutes. If the prepared fruit is simmered gently in the syrup for three minutes and is packed hot, then pint and quart sealers and 20 and 28-ounce cans all need only 15 minutes processing in boiling water.

Revelstoke Man Heads BCHA

J. A. Abrahamson of Revelstoke will head the B.C. Hospital Association for the ensuing year. First vice-president is L. F. C. Kirby of New Westminster, with H. R. Slade of Powell River as secretary.

The elections were made unanimously at the Association's annual meeting in Vancouver. C. H. Bland represented the Kootenay Lake General Hospital board.

The treasurer's report showed an $11,223 surplus for 1956, against $7,140 for 1955. A $5000 saving bond investment brought the Association's bonds to a value of $9000.

Mrs. G. C. Chandler of Vancouver introduceed a KLGH resolution about forming an advisory council of trustees for the BCHA, which was approved. A resolution from Association directors asking the BSHIS to let hospitals retain the whole of the differential for public and private rooms, was also approved. This would help local hospitals meet yearly liabilities.

BCHA Heads Discuss Hospital Construction at Coast Meeting

Construction of new hospitals was among the items discussed by the board of directors of the B.C. Hospitals Association at their meeting in Vancouver immediately after the Association's annual meeting. C. H. Bland, acting representative for the West Kootenay Regional Council, told the monthly meeting of the board of directors of Kootenay Lake General Hospital on Tuesday night.

Harvey Taylor, administrator of the West Coast General Hospital at Port Alberni said there are many points to watch in construction of new hospitals, such as landscaping, grounds areas and entrance roads. Although hospitals are not taxed under the Municipal Act. Mr. Taylor reported that some councils have suggested hospital boards to pay half the cost of civic improvements affecting hospitals.

Members approved a request from the nurses' division that a panel of nurses be included in the 1957 convention. Owing to accommodation problems, the 1958 convention has already been arranged for October in Vancouver.

The matter of B.C. Hospitals Association opinion on formation of on all-Canadian cmmission on accreditation was referred to the executive.

NEED MORE INSURANCE

There was considerable discussion on a letter from the Summerland Hospital about liabilities from court judgements. Discussions showed that several hospitals have a very low liability insurance coverage, and consensus of opinion was that hospitals should increase their liability insurance.

BCHA executive will meet doctors and nurses to study recommendations for a forthcoming conference with government and other authorities about chronic hospitals.

BCHA directors were not in complete agreement with the revised constitution of the Canadian Hospitals Association, Mr. Bland's report showed. The matter was referred to the BCHA executive. "Nothing will be incorporated in the bylaws without notification to all members," the chairman of the Vancouver meeting assured.

Gorge Road Hospital, Victoria, and Hawthorne Private Hospital, Vancouver, were admitted to the association. Private hospitals will try to form a division in the association.

Mr. Bland told other directors "my knowledge of hospital work is very much improved" after the sessions.

White House Statements Displease Tito

BELGRADE (Reuters) — Yugoslavia announced Wednesday that certain statements made by President Eisenhower on American aid for President Tito's government are "unacceptable".

At the same time, Yugoslavia revealed it has offered to purchase American agricultural surpluses under long-term credits repayable in dollars or corresponding currency instead of the present year-to-year aid system.

Wednesday's announcement expressed gratitude for the aid given to Yugoslavia since the cold war days of 1949 and for Eisenhower's decision to continue it.

REPRESENTS INSECURITY

But it complained the formulation that aid could be withdrawn at any moment represented "a great insecurity" for Yugoslavia. The Tito government could not then be able to guarantee regular supplies to the population, it said.

The statement also complained of Eisenhower's assertion that aid was being continued to preserve Yugoslavia's independence from Russia.

It said: "We consider that there is no threat to the independence of Yugoslavia on the part of the Soviet Union".

The statement said that if the U.S. cancels its military aid to Yugoslavia, it will not influence future good relations between the countries.

Marilyn Monroe Wins Heart Of London Times

LONDON (CP) — It had to happen. The Times has lost its heart to Marilyn Monroe.

After weeks of stony silence, the lofty newspaper joins its contemporaries and admits that Marilyn is a talented comedienne.

In fact, it adds, she would have made a great co-star for Charlie Chaplin.

The eulogy occurs in a review of Marilyn's latest movie, Bus Stop, which has its London premiere this week.

"STRANGELY MOVING"

"There is about her a waif-like quality, an underlying note of pathos, which can be strangely moving. What a partner she would have made for Charlie Chaplin in his heyday!"

The review reflects an abrupt change of heart. When Marilyn arrived in Britain, The Times steadfastly ignored the clamor. Later, it referred to her gingerly by her married name, Mrs. Arthur Miller.

Greek Captain Proud To Help Orenda's Crew

ROTTERDAM (Reuters) — Two young Canadian adventurers, sighted in their storm-battered ketch Orenda in the Atlantic five days ago after they were given up for lost, went for almost a week without tasting solid food, it has been learned here.

Leonidas Angelides, Greek-born captain of the Liberian steamer Mariblanca, told how the starved, exhausted sailors turned down his offer to bring them to safety.

Angelides, who arrived here Wednesday, said the Orenda was spotted from his ship because a sharp lookout had been ordered for survivors or wreckage of the United States Air Force Liftmaster reported lost in the area.

CAME ABOARD

The Mariblanca hove to in rough seas, the Ketch came alongside, the two sailors — Bert Smith, 31, of Toronto, and Alan Battersby, 29, formerly of Blackpool, England — stumbled aboard the steamer, muttering: "Thank God, captain, God is good."

The 27-foot Orenda sailed for Europe from North Sydney, N.S., on Sept. 1. The tiny ketch was sighted in mid-Atlantic Sept. 22 by the United States liner America.

SUFFERS RASH

Today, Angelides said the men were tired and wet, but in fairly good condition when he spoke to them last Saturday. He said Battersby had a slight skin rash, but was supplied with Penicillin.

GAVE PROVISIONS

The captain gave them provisions for about 40 days and materials to repair the broken boom and mend the tattered sails. As the revived Canadians sailed off again, the Mariblanca signalled that the "lost" men were safe.

Angelides said he was "still haunted" by the vision of the two 'decent, brave chaps" setting off on their lonely course again.

LAUDS CANADIANS

The 39-year-old captain praised both men as "pleasant and very polite." He said he felt grateful to have been able "to do them a service of brotherhood."

"I am doubly proud, as a Greek sailor, to have been of service to Canadians, who saved so many Greeks during the postwar years by their gifts of wheat," the captain added.

"At that time, I was a poor boy in Chois Greece, who had to borrow nautical books from his friends to study for his ticket. Without that Canadian wheat, I would not be a ship's captain today.

Businessmen Urged To Help Colleges

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Writer

QUEBEC (CP) — Businessmen and prosperous people in general should be willing to put up money to support their freedom; Dr. Watson Kirkconnell, president of Acadia University, Wolfville, N.S. said Wednesday in an address to the Canadian Chamber of Commerce.

Universities are in grave financial difficulties, he said, and if the survival of these centres of intellectual freedom were really of importance, why should not businessmen come to the rescue of university budges?

EVERY LITTLE HELPS

If every firm in Canada would contribute one per cent of its gross profit each year to a fund for Canadian universities, the benefit would be incalculable.

Dr. Kirkconnell spoke on a panel entitled "Economics, Education and the Businessman," presided over by Maj.-Gen. R. H. Keffler, vice-president, public relations, Bell Telephone of Canada. Other speakers were Capt. Joseph Jeffery of London, Ont., president of London Life Insurance Company; Leonard J. Knott, Montreal, president of the Canadian Public Relations Society; and Frank Sparks, New York, vice-chairman of the Council for Financial Aid to Education.

Charge Ewing Scott In Wife's Death

LOS ANGELES (AP) — L. Ewing Scott has been charged with murder in the disappearance of his wealthy wife, Mrs. Evelyn Throsby Scott, who has been missing since May, 1955.

The indictment, returned by the county grand jury, plugs a possible legal loophole for the 60-year-old Scott, who previously was charged with forgery and grand theft in connection with his handling of Mrs. Scott's estate.

The district attorney's office said that under British and American extradition proceedings Scott could be tried only for the offence for which he was extradited. He jumped $25,000 bail last May and police believe Scott is hiding out in Canada.

Brooks' Paintings Safe and Sound

HAMILTON (CP)—W. A. Moss, of American Railway Express Agency, said Wedensday that 47 paintings by Major Allan Brooks, reported lost are safe and sound in Hamilton awaiting customs clearance.

Earlier the president of the Hamilton Nature Club said he had been informed by the company that the paintings, in transit from New York, had been lost somewhere along the line.

The paintings are the property of the National Museum in Ottawa and had recently been shown in New York. Brooks was Canada's best known painter of bird life.

Russia Claims To Lead World Logging

CALGARY (CP)—G. M. Orlov, Soviet forestry minister, said in an interview here that Russia is the leader in the world's logging industry.

An interpreter quoted Mr. Orlov as saying Russia produces more timber than Canada.

"Our country," he said, "produces 320,000,000 cubic metres a year. In Canada it is 100,000,000 cubic meters a year."

On pulp and paper, the Soviet minister admitted production is low.

"We produce 2,000,000 long tons of pulp and paper," he said. Canada produces 10,000,000 long tons a year.

"We need more pulp and paper than we produce so we import a small amount from Scandinavian countries," the Russian minister said.

WOMEN LOGGERS

Women play a large part in Russia's logging industry.

Mr. Orlov explained the feminine touch this way: "Because of the Second Great War we lost millions and millions of our men. That is why we need a number of women to work in our logging industry. Within the next two years there will be no women in the industry."

The minister has been making a tour of Canada's logging industry.

Socred-PC Coalition Would Not Surprise Ex-CCF Ross Thatcher

VANCOUVER (CP) — Ross Tatcher, former CCF member of Parliament for Moose Jaw-Lake Centre, says he considered becoming a Social Crediter for a long time before switching to the Liberal party.

"I couldn't figure out their monetary system so I gave up," he said in an interview here. Mr. Thatcher is in Vancouver for the wedding of his sister, Joan.

The 39-year-old hardware merchant from Moose Jaw says he doesn't expect to be elected in the next federal election.

"Being elected as a Liberal in Saskatchewan is almost impossible. I'd say my chances are about one in three. I'd have a much better chance as a Social Crediter. I was offered the Socred leadership in Saskatchewan, you know."

Mr. Thatcher said he joined the socialist party after sensing the bitter feeling amongst the unemployed in the thirties when he left university.

"It looked like a good thing. But boy, was I wrong. Their ideas then (for instance, government factories for the unemployed) were very sound but of course completely impractical."

After years of feuding with the party leadership in the House of Commons, he became an independent and recently announced he would run as a Liberal next election.

"I'm a Liberal at heart. My basic thinking is Liberal. After 16 years of political experience, I'm all for private enterprise."

Socialism in Canada has been an "unmitigated failure. The CCF party is slipping badly all across the country."

Mr. Thatcher said the greatest weakness in Canadian politics today is having three opposition parties. "The quicker Canada gets back to a two-party system the better."

He doesn't think British Columbia's Social Credit administration will "march on to Ottawa" but added he wouldn't be surprised to see a coalition between Premier Bennett and John Diefenbaker, one of the front-running contestants for the Progressive Conservative party leadership, "to form an effective opposition. After all they're both private enterprise parties.

"Of course Mr. Bennett is just working a Conservative philosophy. He's gambling on an expanding economy and it will probably work for him."

Mr. Thatcher predicted Prime Minister St. Laurent will "ride the election and retire six months after" leaving the government in the hands of Finance Minister Walter Harris or Fisheries Minister James Sinclair, who he described as the most brilliant man in the House. "He'll be prime minister within 10 years anyway."

Market Trends

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued its uncertain path with another decline on slim volume.

Pivotal rails and selected issues tried to buck the trend but gains by the carriers were nearly wiped out before the close and some special issues which had been ahead of the game swung to the minus side late in the day.

Among Canadian issues on the New York exchange Hudson Bay Mining registered a gain of 1½. Most issues were lower, however Aluminium Ltd. lost 2¾, McIntyre was down ¾, Canadian Pacific and Distillers - Seagrams slipped ¼.

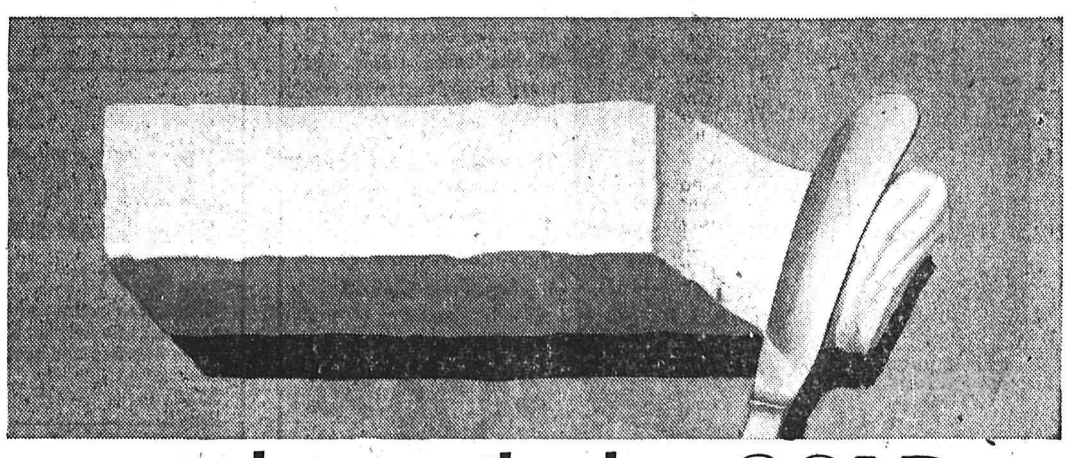
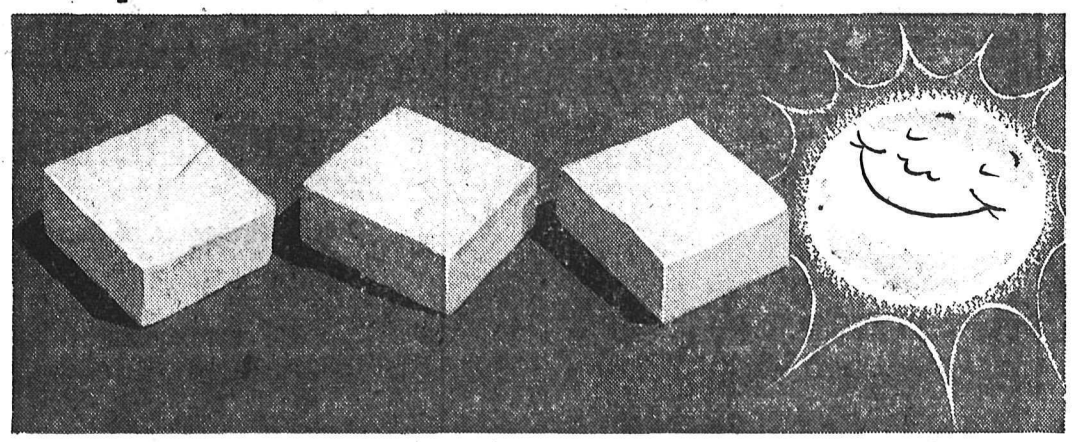
KRAFT'S PARKAY

the margarine most people spread most!



spreads smooth when COLD!



keeps form when warm!

It's fresher because it's made in B.C.

Of course, Kraft's Parkay Margarine is the margarine most people spread most! It "behaves" best at all times.

Right out of the refrigerator, Parkay spreads smoothly, instantly, on even the freshest bread. Even in a warm kitchen or on a hot summer day, Parkay keeps its shape . . . never turns gooey or "runny."

Its flavor is something special too. It's milder, fresher, because Parkay is made from the finest pure vegetable ingredients.

Be sure you always look for Kraft's Parkay Margarine in the four foil-wrapped quarters or the 2-lb. Economy size.

Children Come to Teachers From Sick Society—Silverwood

(Editor's note: During the recent West Kootenay-Boundary Teachers' Association meeting at Castlegar, Rev. Canon W. J. Silverwood addressed the gathering on the meeting's theme, "A Time for Reassessment." The Daily News has been asked to publish his speech in full, and the first half is presented here. The second half will be published shortly).

We need to face at the outset the kind of background against which we have to do some assessing. It is an undoubted fact, I think, that the whole of life, in all its fields of human activity, has become cluttered up beyond recognition so that — as some of you were told about two weeks ago by one of your inspectors — there are lots of people who hardly know where they are going — or why.

The result is that we live in an age of tension and confusion, resulting in a sick society and a diseased world. I fully realize that this condition and its possible cure belongs to the field of sociology, and — since this is a field to which I am no stranger — and certainly no expert, nevertheless I can speak with some force and some conviction.

Just look at some statistics given out by Mr. Edgar Hoover of the F.B.I. Dateline, Washington, Sept. 27 — 37 persons are slain every day in the U.S.A., 260 are assaulted and 55 females are raped, heading one of the most serious crime lists in history.

A major crime was committed every 12 seconds, and, for the first six months of 1956, the total crime list stood at 1,028,350. In a special broadcast to the American people, an F.B.I. expert said that, at such a rate, America as a nation could not last much longer, and that 40 per cent of major crimes were committed by people under 21 years of age.

Australia has passed special legislation to deal with their crime problem, while the U.N. sponsored an international conference at Geneva, representing 63 countries, to deal specifically with this one problem. Our mental hospitals are full to capacity, with an appalling shortage of trained workers, doctors, physicians, and other personnel. Our prisons and so-called reform institutions are full to overflowing, while the problem of rehabilitation seems almost impossible, because society does not want such people, and, in any case, most of them go back to the environment from which they came.

DISEASED WORLD

There is the problem of drug addiction, of the alcoholic, the problem of mounting divorce and broken homes; there is the breakdown of moral responsibility and a seeming and utter lack of discipline anywhere in our society. The want of good manners, of courtesy, respect, and refinement, the want of respect for law and authority; all these factors have made their dismal contribution to what has been described as a diseased world.

Dr. Frank Laubach tells us after his world tours that two-thirds of the world is literally starving. With all our education and technical skills with all our highly-developed technical sciences, with America supposedly the most skillful country on earth, with a coinage for everybody to see — *In God We Trust, here we are liv*ing under the shadow of possible destruction because our scientific skill has seemingly outstripped our moral sense.

Was it not Chesterton who said, "What a pity it is that, when all our methods of communication have been developed to the 'nth degree, we should have so very little of any importance to communicate?" And Will Durant had this to say:

That we had drawn up a long list of the good things we have taught people, yet what has come of it? We have taught them how to read. We have the talkies, we have the radio. We listen in our homes to the music of savages and the prejudices of the mob. We gave them unbelievable wealth, mir*aculous automobiles, luxurious* travel, only to find that peace departs as riches come . . . that automobiles override morality and connive at crime . . . that quarrels and wars grow more bitter as the spoils increase.

Remember some lines of the poet Shelley: "Look on my works, ye mighty, and despair . . . of that colossal wreck, where the sands stretch far away."

Now, out of this gloomy background, out of this fierce, competitive world, where scores of agencies are bidding for the minds and loyalties of young and old alike, I say, out of this sick society, come to you the children to be trained, to be educated, and, finally, to take their place in society.

From a lot of homes come children where the respect for law and order is sadly lacking or not existing at all. Assuming that my picture is gloomy, but also realistic, are you ready to agree that somewhere along the line we have failed badly, and that a time for reassessment is drastically needed?

All right. Who and what do we reassess first? I have read in Scripture that judgment begins in the house of religion. So, too, I think judgment begins right on the doorstep of the educational field. Here we have to think of the personal status of the teacher, of the whole teaching profession. There is always the pressure to keep us from being different . . . regimentation, if you like. Dr. Norman MacKenzie, if I remember rightly, said recently something about us being far too mediocre. In fact, we are suffering from mediocrity.

May I say that at times I have been, not shocked, because there is little that shocks me these days, but indignant, when I have heard individual teachers, and the teaching profession generally, hung, drawn and quartered, ridiculed and abused over the family meal table.

The high tail assembly and twin exhaust of Britain's *Gloster Javelin give the all-weather fighter a bug-eyed ap*pearance. Claimed to be one of the world's most powerful and extensively equipped attachers, the Javelin has the latest in radar for day and night operations. It carries guided missiles, four machine guns and flies at 50,000 feet at over 600 miles an hour. Central Press Canadian

Hold Policeman In Extortion Case, Winnipeg

WINNIPEG (CP) — A Winnipeg policeman with more than 10 years service Wednesday was charged with extortion following his arrest in the Fort Rouge district Tuesday night after a chase in which pursuing detectives fired three warning shots.

Const. Daniel McClure, 32, was remanded without plea until Oct. 25 and released on $20,000 bail.

Inspector of detectives James Toal said that on Oct. 4 a middle-aged Fort Rouge man received an anonymous telephone call saying he could avoid publicity of a recent court case in which he was involved by paying an unspecified amount of money. When he replied he did not have that kind of money, the caller allegedly told him to get it and he would be called later.

CALLED IN POLICE

The man notified police. He had been fined $50 for disorderly conduct in September and the case was reported in the newspapers.

Monday night he reported to police he had been advised to leave $200 wrapped in paper beside a mailbox the following night.

Two detectives waited near the scene at the appointed time. They said a man picked up the parcel.

McClure was arrested after the case. He has been police storekeeper for four years.

Inspector Toal requested that the name of the victim in the case be withheld.

KLGH Statement Shows Surplus

Kootenay Lake General Hospital had an adjusted operating surplus of $1606 last month, chairman J. W. Graham told the board of directors Tuesday night. A. K. McAdams, finance committee chairman, was absent from the meeting. Operating surplus for 1956 to date is $106.

Receipts totalled $32,101.73, disbursements $37,396.10, an excess of $5294.37. Figures to date in 1956 are $311,222.78 receipts, $312,115.01 disbursements, a deficit of $829.23.

Monthly payroll was $22,893.75, less $422.23 for board and lodging.

Administrator R. H. Procter reported 326 admissions with 2848 so far this year, compared with 316 and 2891 in 1955. There were 324 discharges last month, and 2847 this year, against 308 and 2880 in 1955. There were 153 outpatients in September, and the figure so far in 1956 is 1656. Quotations for last year are 194 and 1414.

Fifty three babies were born at the hospital in September, bringing the year's total to 401 compared to 42 and 376 in 1955, Mr. Procter's report showed.

Adams Blames Poor 1955 Start on All-Star Game

General manager Jack Adams figures his Detroit Red Wings got off to a fine start in the National Hockey League this season because they didn't have to worry about the league's all-star game.

Each year the defending Stanley Cup champions opposed the league's All-Stars in a pre-season engagement. For the first time in three seasons the Wings were not the Stars' opposition. Montreal Canadiens, who ended Detroit's two-year championship streak last spring took on the All-Stars Oct. 9 and battled to a 1-1 draw.

"In the past when we had to build a team for the all-star game we had to step on it." Adams says. "This season that pressure was off and we were able to analyze, juggle and experiment a great deal more than in other years.

"I think we benefitted from the extra time we were able to put in at training camp. The records of our first three league games show that. Last fall we had to play in the all-star game and we got off to our worst start in 20 years."

3 GAMES, 3 WINS

Wings are in first place with three victories in as many games for six points. Toronto Maple Leafs and Boston Bruins are tied for second spot with three points. New York Rangers and Canadiens have two points while Chicago Black Hawks hold their usual cellar position, winless in three games.

Coach Phil Watson, who watched his Rangers get beaten 2-1 by Wings last Sunday, agrees that Detroit is stronger.

"Maybe it's Detroit's year again," he says. "These Wings are in perfect shape. I watched them on television against Toronto Saturday and they really outclassed the Leafs. They outclassed us, too.

ALEX DELVECCHIO

"In both games they seemed to tire after the first period but they still had enough. I don't say we won't still take Detroit on the season. But they do look as though they've got another big team."

Rangers nearly beat out Detroit last season for second spot, losing it by two points.

The Blueshirts open their home esason tonight against Boston in the only game. Leafs are at Detroit and Hawks visit Montreal in Thursday night's games.

Wings will be without right winger Bill Dineen and Alex Delvecchio when they tangle with Leafs. Dineen suffered a knee injury last Thursday and will be out for another week.

FACES SEVEN WEEKS OFF

Delvecchio isn't expected back for at least seven more weeks He has a fractured ankle. Adams announced Tuesday that Billy McNeill has been recalled from Edmonton Flyers of the Western Hockey League.

The 20-year-old right winger, who scored 19 goals and had 31 assists for 50 points with Flyers last year, will fill in for Dineen. Right winger Murray Costello was sent to Edmonton.

Mantle Leads Major Sluggers; Average Highest in 15 Years

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP) — Mickey Mantle won the American League slugging championship in 1956 with the highest average in 15 years. The New York Yankees' centre fielder piled up 376 total bases in 533 times at bat for a .705 mark.

Figures compiled by The Associated Press today also show Duke Snider of Brooklyn Dodgers was the National League's pacesetter. He edged Milwaukee's Joe Adcock—.598 to .597.

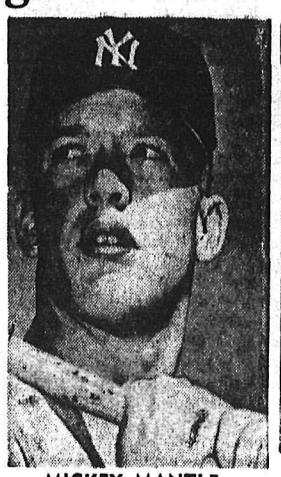
The titles were the second for both Mantle and Snider. Mickey was the top man in 1955 with .611 while Snider was high in 1953 when he nipped Eddie Mathews of Milwaukee by a narrow margin—.6271 to .6269.

Mantle, who also led the junior circuit in batting, runs batted in and home runs, numbered 79 extra-base hits among his 188 safeties last season. In addition to his 52 four-baggers, the 24 - year - old switch-hitter had 22 doubles and five triples.

WILLIAMS DID IT

Ted Williams of Boston Red Sox, runner-up to Mantle in '56 with a .603 average, was the last player to have a better than .705 slugging mark. He finished with 7.35 in 1941.

In fact, only six other players have slugged as high as .700. Babe Ruth of the Yankees did it nine times; Jimmy Fox of the Red Sox and Philadelphia Athletics had it three times; Rogers Hornsby did it twice with St. Louis Card; and Lou Gehrig of the Yanks, Stan Musial of the Cards and Hack Wilson of Chicago Cubs each reached .700 once. Ruth holds the record—.847 in 1920.



MICKEY MANTLE

DUKE SNIDER

Musial by finishing in ninth place at .522, saw his lifetime slugging percentage drop to .578.

Slugging average are computed by adding the total bases on all hits and dividing the result by the number of official times at bat.

ROSSLAND WARRIORS ARRANGE TO KEEP GEORGE FERGUSON

Leo Atwell, secretary of the British Columbia Amateur Hockey Association, said Wednesday afternoon that George Ferguson, who transferred from Kamloops Chiefs of the Okanagan Senior Hockey League to Rossland Warriors of the Western International Hockey League without the permission of Ken MacKenzie, the new Chief owner, had not been suspended.

Atwell said he received orders from MacKenzie to suspend Ferguson before Saturday night's WIHL opener here. The BCAHA secretary said Rossland promised to make arrangements to keep the starry defenceman so Atwell gave him permission to take the ice.

MacKenzie also demanded the suspension of Kevin (Crusher) Conway, who coached the Kamloops team last year when it was known as the Elks. Conway has been working out with Penticton V's of the OSHL.

Atwell said he had not yet checked the Penticton situation.

Alexander of Tunis Wonders If Rocket Richard Still Plays

MONTREAL (CP) — Earl Alexander of Tunis, former governor-general of Canada, expressed concern over the Middle East crisis and inquired about hockey star Maurice (Rocket) Richard during an interview here Tuesday night.

In Montreal on a business trip, Earl Alexander asked reporters if the Rocket, professional hockey's most prolific scorer, is still playing with Montreal Canadiens in the National Hockey League.

Assured that the famed right-winger shows no signs of slowing up, the former governor-general said ice hockey is probably the most exciting game in the world.

On the international scene, he said the tense Middle East situation is a matter of serious concern.

"It's very much a danger spot," he said. "The West must see that Premier Nasser of Egypt doesn't get away with nationalization of the canal."

Al Sherman Expected To Receive New Pact

WINNIPEG (CP) — Bob Moir, sports writer for the Free Press, says the Winnipeg football club is expected to offer coach Al Sherman a new contract within a few days, possibly before Saturday night's game here with Calgary Stampeders.

Blue Bombers originally signed Sherman to a one-year contract in March, 1954. He then signed a two-year contract that fall. It runs out at the close of this season.

Moir says Sherman, when asked about the possibility of his returning for at least another year, said he had thought about nothing during the last three weeks except the ball games which have occurred.

Sherman admitted, however, he did not think it would be smart for either the club or himself to get tangled up in a long-term pact.

Football club officials were non-committal.

"However, it is my opinion that Sherman will be asked in for a conference with top club officials in a matter of hours," Moir said.

Rumors circulating in the Western Interprovincial Footbal Union recently indicated that Frank Filchock, coach of the Saskatchewan Roughriders, might be offered the Winnipeg job.

Filly Wins Classic Against 18 Others

NEWMARKET, England (Reuters)—Prelone, a 20 to 1 shot and the only filly in the race, Wednesday won the classic Cesarewitch Stakes over a slim field of 19 starters, smallest entry in 28 years.

She beat Kribi, a 100-to-6 starter by three-quarters of a length. Another 20-to-1 shot, Gads Hills, was third.

Decision Coming, Clem Crowe Waits

VANCOUVER (CP) — Clem Crowe, head coach of the British Columbia Lions, will know within a week if he is to be retained next season to lead Vancouver's entry in the Western Interprovincial Football Union.

Club directors meet next week to map the 1957 season and decide Crowe's position. He is on a two-year contract, but the directors could decide to buy it up and search for a new coach.

DODGERS SELL THREE

BROOKLYN (AP) — Brooklyn Dodgers sold Bob Aspromonte, reserve infielder, to Montreal of the International League.

The National League champions also announced the sale of pitcher Ralph Branca and catcher Dixie Howell to St. Paul of the American Association.

CREDIT UNION DAY
Today, members of the West Kootenay Chapter of Credit Unions join hands with 10,000,000 other Credit Union members in celebrating Credit Union Day on this continent.

CREDIT UNION PHILOSOPHY
"MAN IS HIS BROTHER'S KEEPER"—We believe that. We don't talk about it, we do it.
We believe in democracy. We don't talk about institutions of, for and by the people. We MAKE institutions that are literally, of, for and by the people.
We believe in the integrity of the human race. We know that if the average man wasn't honest, there could be no credit unions. And therefore, it seems to us that we are enlisted in a cause that is very great, that has the possibility of international spread which will some day engulf the whole world and which will carry forward, consistent with the purpose of God, the great ideal of human progress.

WINGS OF THE WORLD'S GREATEST TRAVEL SYSTEM

Isn't that just like a man? You can be sure this spilled water won't get wiped up till morning. ✦ But take heart, ladies! With Stride—a magnificent new Johnson's Wax—on your floors, a damp cloth whisks away spill spots, even if left for hours!

SPILL ON IT, SPLASH ON IT, PUNISH IT —JUST AN EASY ONCE-OVER RESTORES THE LUSTRE, WITHOUT RE-WAXING!

No wonder the swing is to Johnson's Stride! For in Stride women have found at last a self-polishing wax that actually protects like paste wax. You just spread Stride on—it dries to a rich wax lustre. And from then on, spills wipe up without a trace, even after they've dried. A little buffing erases scuff marks.

Your usual damp mopping actually brightens the lustre... brings back Stride's beauty again and again, without re-waxing! So you wax less often. That means fewer of those back-breaking scrub-ups before waxing, too...that's what Stride can mean to you! Why don't you join the swing to Johnson's Stride?

Four Players Chopped; Egan Swings Big Axe

Playing-Coach Pat Egan Wednesday night wielded the widely-feared "axe".

To slice the roster of Nelson Maple Leafs to something approaching workable size and give himself a chance to work more with the remaining players, Egan cut Pete, Frank and Dave Joyal and Lou Broder.

It was expected the four would leave almost immediately.

Dismissal of the Joyals meant, too, that Eddie (Cotton) Schwab and newcomer Billy Yanchuck would see game action tonight against Trail Smoke Eaters as Leafs hope to open their road season as successfully as they began their 1956-57 term at home.

Yanchuck is expected to patrol one side and scrappy Jim Pilla the other with Schwab cruising up an ddown between them.

The other lines, Egan said, will remain unchanged. There is a possibility, however, that Wendy Keller, who played defence most of the time during his junior career, will be worked in an the blue-line.

BESKAL DOUBTFUL STARTER

Dave Beskal, the inexperienced rearguard who opened the season beside Marsh Severyn on the Leaf blue-line, did not practice last night. If Beskal is unavailable, Keller will do double-duty, working in his accustomed spot beside Lee Hyssop and Fritz Koehle as well as spelling off Severyn, Ernie Gare and Murray Parker on defence.

The impressive formation of Don Appleton, Archie Gaber and Mickey Maglio may well be weakened tonight. Mickey, noted for the hustle that has characterized his play since he first came to Nelson, is laboring under the strain of two pulled leg muscles.

But, remembering back a few years ago when Mickey played almost half a season with his wrist in a cast, local fans are sure that if Mickey can walk, Mickey can play.

Lee Hyssop and Fritz Koehle, two of last season's brightest stars, weren't in gear Wednesday. Both will oppose Smokies tonight.

Tuesday night, Frank Turik, Al Di Pasquale and Gil Desrosiers were released by Smokies to enable them to catch on with another club. Although no announcement has been forthcoming, it has been assumed by Nelson observers that either or both will probably pay a visit to Mike Buckna at Rossland.

Nashua Makes Final Public Showing Today

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — The world's leading thoroughbred money winner is to make his final public appearance Thursday, then settle down in his native bluegrass country for the rest of his life.

Nashua, the big bay who piled up a bank account of $1,288,565, is to gallop around the oval at nearby Keeneland, then retire to stud at Leslie Combs' Spendthrift Farm.

In the saddle will be jockey Eddie Arcaro, who has ridden him in most of his big stakes victories.

Mayor Shelby Kinkead already has proclaimed Thursday Nashua Day and a crowd of more than 15,000 is expected at the track.

Ball Veterans Cut

BALTIMORE (AP) — Three more veterans of major-league baseball were cut loose Wednesday by Baltimore Orioles — Grady Hatton, 34, Hoot Evers, 35, and Johnny Schmitz, 35. All were given unconditional releases.

Pitcher Morrie Martin, 34, and outfielder Joe Frazier, 34, were sold Tuesday to the Birds' Vancouver affiliate in the Pacific Coast League.

Hatton, a utility infielder; outfielder Evers, and southpaw pitcher Schmitz were given unconditional releases.

Yankees Pull Down $8714 Each as World Series Share

NEW YORK (AP)—Thirty-two members of New York Yankees will get $8714 each as their full world - series cut, approximately $50 less than they would have received if they hadn't boosted Enos Slaughter's amount while the series was in progress, Commissioner Ford Frick's office announced Wednesday.

Twenty-eight full shares to the losing Brooklyn Dodgers were worth $6934 each.

Slaughter, veteran outfielder, joined Yankees late in August. When the players cut up their share of the world-series receipts they voted Slaughter a one-half share. Then while the games were in progress they held another meeting and voted Slaughter a three-quarter share. It meant a $2100 increase.

OTHERS ALSO SHARE

Baseball secretary Charles Segar, presiding at a press conference in Frick's absence, said the increase was cleared with the commissioner a day before Slaughter hit a three-run homer to account for Yanks' first victory, in the third series game.

From the net series receipts of $2,183,254 the four first - division clubs each league shared in a players' pool of $758,561, of which $520,933 went to the two league champions and the rest to the first-division finishers — Milwaukee, Cincinnati and St. Louis in the National League and Cleveland, Chicago and Boston in the American League.

For the other teams sharing in the pool a full share to Cleveland was worth $1649, to Chicago $1112 and to Boston $505. In the National League a full share was worth $1598 to Milwaukee Braves, $1185 to Cincinnati and $602 to St. Louis.

May Lift Lane Suspension

DETROIT (AP) — Floyd Stevens, president of the National Boxing Association, indicated Wednesday that a suspension against Kenny Lane would be lifted in time for the Muskegon, Mich., lightweight to meet Frank Ryff at Miami, Fla., in a match scheduled Nov. 7.

The Miami Boxing Commission approved the bout Tuesday night despite an indefinite NBA suspension against Lane pending investigation of a contract dispute in New Orleans.

Injury Benches Leafs Reaume

TORONTO (CP) — Toronto Maple Leafs will be without defenceman Marc Reaume when they play Red Wings in a National Hockey League game in Detroit tonight.

Reaume suffered a bruised heel in a workout Tuesday. The team doctor recommended that he sit out today's game.

Left-winger Bob Pulford, recovering from a back injury, also will miss the game.

Tigers Buy Risley

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Tigers bought third-baseman George Risley Wednesday from Sacramento of the Pacific Coast League.

Risley, 24, broke into organized baseball with Jamestown, N.Y., in 1952. He was picked on the Pacific Coast All-Star team in 1956 when he hit .288 in 164 games.

Regain First Place

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP) — The Long Beach, Calif., team of Jerry and Lee Thompson regained first place in the Western hemisphere Snie-class yacht championships by winning the second of Wednesday's two races after finishing third in the opener.

UNWANTED ADVICE

ICHENHAM, Eng. (CP)— Three municipal councillors of this Middlesex town decided to open an advice bureau to help local electors. They hired a room, and equipped themselves with documents, forms and pamphlets to help them and their visitors — but no one turned up.

WATER SHORTAGE

LATCHLEY, Eng. (CP) —There were glum faces in this Cornwall village after an annual cricket match against nearby Pillafon. The home team was all out after scoring only one run.

Claim Stamps May Pull Out Of Grid Loop

VANCOUVER (CP) — Calgary Stampeders are reported prepared to pull out of the Western International Football Union next season unless the league includes a 60-40 gate split setup in its 1957 plan of operations. The visiting club would get 40 per cent of the gate.

"The information comes from informed Calgary Sources who say Stampeders and Saskatchewan Roughriders will make their split gate pitch together at the WIFU annual meeting at Winnipeg in January," the report says.

Under deficit pooling, total league attendance this season will be averaged out of among the five clubs. Teams with above average attendance will contribute 25 cents a person to the pool for every customer over the average to a maximum of $15,000. Below average teams can then draw 25 cents a person for every customer below the league average.

Ward Suspended

DETROIT (AP) — The permanent suspension of Moses Ward, Detroit middleweight now fighting out of New York, was announced Wednesday by Floyd Stevens, chairman of the Michigan State Athletic Board of Control.

Stevens, also president of the National Boxing Association, indicated the suspension will be observed in all states where the NBA governs boxing. He said Ward's poor record during the last 18 months dictated the decision.

TRADE INVOLVES TRIBE

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The San Diego Pacific Coast League Baseball Club announced Wednesday it has traded outfielder Bob Usher to Cleveland Indians for infielder Stan Pawlowski and cash

The 31-year-old Usher batted .350 last season, second-best in the coast league.

SELKIRK TO SUPERVISE

KANSAS CITY (AP) — George Selkirk, former New York Yankee outfielder and veteran minor-league manager, was named supervisor of player personnel Wednesday for Kansas City Athletics.

He begins Dec. 1 and will take over duties handled during the last year by Parke Carroll, business manager.

CENTREFIELDER SOLD

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Rod Graber, centrefielder for Mobile's third-place Southern Association club, has been sold to Buffalo, Bears announced Wednesday.

Graber went to the Class AAA International League team for an undisclosed amount. He had hit .294 for Bears.

Gump Worsley Halts Bruins, Rangers Win

NEW YORK (CP)—New York Rangers vaulted into second place in the National Hockey League standings Wednesday night as they defeated Boston Bruins 2-0 in their first home appearance of the season.

The victory, goalie Lorne Worsley's second shutout in three starts, enabled the New Yorkers to hurdle Boston and the idle Toronto Maple Leafs to move within two points of the league-leading Detroit Red Wings, unbeaten in their three starts.

Rangers' improved defensive play gave Worsley a record of two goals scored against him in his three games — the best in the league. He stopped all 27 shots Bruins were able to direct at his net.

HAD GOOD CROWD

Allan Stanley, a former Ranger defenceman, was serving a penalty when Andy Hebenton shot Rangers into the lead at 4:32 of the opening period. Dave Creighton finished off a smooth-passing relay with Ron Murphy to drive home the second New York tally early in the second.

A good mid-week crowd of 12,358 fans turned out to welcome Rangers, Cinderella club of the 1955-56 season on the strength of their third-place finish after most of the experts had picked them to miss the playoffs.

FORMER FIRST-BASE COACH, JACK TIGHE TO PILOT TIGERS

DETROIT (AP) — Jack Tighe was made manager of Detroit Tigers Wednesday, a job he "wanted so bad I'd have taken it on six weeks' contract."

The 43-year-old Tiger first-base coach, who thinks of himself as "fiery and aggressive," signed a one-year contract to succeed Bucky Harris with the fifth-place American League baseball club.

Although no salary was revealed, Tighe was estimated to have signed for between $20,000 and $25,000. A considerable cut from Harris' $40,000 salary.

A veteran of almost 20 years in the Detroit organization, Tighe spent 13 seasons managing minor-league clubs. He was boosted to Tiger first - base and pitching coach two years ago.

SEE PENNANT CHANCE

Walter O. (Spike) Briggs, general manager since an 11-man syndicate bought the Tigers last month for $5,500,000, said the new board "felt Tighe could lead the club into contention for a pennant."

Harris, a mild-mannered 59 with 29 years of major-league managerial experience, took a job as assistant to the vice-president of Boston Red Sox following his resignation Sept. 27.

Tighe, who spoke freely of such plans as curfews at night and calisthenics in the morning, said he will continue to use third-base coach Billy Hitchcock, 30, at his post. Don Lund, 33-year-old field director and scout, would coach first and 50-year-old Willis Hudlin, Detroit's minor-league pitching coach, would direct the club's hurling.

Tighe never has piloted a major-league club, but his minor-league clubs finished in the first division seven times.

POP IVY WON'T USE RADIO NOW

EDMONTON (CP) — Coach Frank (Pop) Ivy of the Western Interprovincial Football Union split-T Edmonton Eskimos said Wednesday he might have considered the radio helmets dreamed up by Paul Brown, coach of the National Football League Cleveland Barons, but fullback Normie Kwong discouraged the idea.

Ivy quoted Kwong as saying he read in the papers that split T football is dull and he wanted television to relieve the monotony.

B.C. Bonspiel Topic Of Heated Discussion

H. (Fritz) Farenholtz, President of the British Columbia Curling Association, delivered a thorough indictment of Nelson City Council Wednesday evening in the Silver Room of the Hume Hotel as an estimated 60 members of Nelson Curling Club held a meeting, primarily to discuss the B.C. Bonspiel which will be held here Feb. 4 to 11 inclusive.

Mr. Farenholtz said he was disappointed that City Council who recommended an all out effort during jubilee year had not started proceedings for the pending bonspiel and was told council was apparently waiting for some tangible action by the curling club.

The gathering went through the formality of approving the executive's action in arranging for the B.C. Bonspiel to be held here during the second week of February.

Upon being told by chairman D. M. (Max) Sample that the Civic Centre Commission had levied a price of $750 for the seating rink during the six days of bonspiel competition, Mr. Farenholtz said in his dealings with the city, he had always found them co-operative.

He added he "can see no reason why city council should charge us more than it would cost them to maintain the building during the time we need it." Farenholtz added that "they apparently felt the same way until this year."

Discussions also raged about the possibility of improving facilities at the curling rink in time to accommodate the expected onslaught of curlers and spectators.

ARGO BACKFIELD COACH RELEASED

TORONTO (CP) — Bill Earley, backfield coach of Toronto Argonauts of the Big Four Football Union, was fired Wednesday night, it was announced by team vice-president Joe Wright.

"This action was taken in the best interests of the club," Wright said in a statement.

The development was a surprise. Rumors circulated that the future of head coach Bill Swiacki was shaky with the last - place Argonauts. Argos have lost their last five games.

Wright said in reply to a question whether the club is happy with Swiacki: "As far as I know they are—I think he's a good coach."

Wright declined to discuss the reasons behind Early's dismissal.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One-letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Odds... and Ends

... by M. D. B.

It would seem royalty has fallen on evil times. The Duke of Edinburgh is reported going bald while Prince Charles' down-to-eyebrow trim has drawn caustic remarks. It seems it's a case of hair today, gone tomorrow.

Queen Juliana of the Netherlands is having to sit hard on her throne to prevent its being pulled out from under her, as the papers hint, by her mother-in-law. And the King of Greece has announced new economies with the closing of the Athens royal palace.

• • •

The Duke and Duchess of Windsor are going to England for a spot of hunting in November and rumor has it that the Queen might receive the naughty duchess that stole England's king. We are eagerly awaiting odds from Lloyds of London. Will the duchess make it to the foot of the throne? Be sure to read the thrilling answer in our November issue of "Who's Where."

• • •

Nor is Princess Margaret letting rice grow under her rapidly advancing footsteps or shall we say banana leaves or whatever grows in Tanganyika. No sir. Now there's a clever girl who plays into the hands of the gossip mongers with fine artistry and a Mona Lisa smile. What is she doing now? "Meeting the gaze of none other than the hapless Townsend's brother — giving him a nod, a smile and a handshake, no less."

• • •

Thirty-five years old he is—just the right age for Margaret, what is she — 26 isn't it? But alas, he is encumbered with a wife and three children — what a pity —so that rules him out. But isn't it a shame she didn't invite him for an interview — that's all that would have been needed to feed the tongue waggers. Why, they would have had the Townsend breaches mended in no time, with this here brother carrying messages for her.

As it remains, Townsend is roaming the wide world over, the Princess is doing the same and who knows wether the twain shall meet. There's the answer, get hold of the two itineraries and you'll have it. Oh, there's no telling where it all will end, now is there?

THE TRACKER, of U.S. design but 98 per cent Canadian-made, has been accepted by the RCN as its first-line submarine killer and will go into service early in 1957. One hundred have been ordered from de Havilland aircraft and they will be part of the armament of HMCS Bonaventure, the new Canadian aircraft carrier, scheduled for commissioning in January.

WITH WINGS FOLDED, the Tracker makes a small package aboard a carrier. It can carry any weapon likely to be designed in the next few years.—Central Press Canadian photos.
