Flint, Canadian Chairman of UN Armistice Commission Killed

Hit by Sniper's Bullet Trying To Rescue Three Wounded Israelis

JERUSALEM (CP) — Lt.-Col. George Flint, Canadian chairman of the UN Israel-Jordan mixed armistice commission, and two Israeli policemen were killed in an exchange of gunfire on Mount Scopus Monday, an Israeli spokesman said Monday night.

The spokesman said the Canadian officer was hit by Arab snipers when he tried to extricate three wounded Israelis who were lying in the line of fire.

The Jordanians continued shooting beyond the 3:30 p.m. cease-fire deadline that Flint, 47-year-old native of Outremont, Que., and other truce officers had ordered, the Israeli spokesman continued. He bled to death from his wounds.

However, an official report said it was not known from which side the shot that struck Flint was fired.

In New York, UN Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold said in a statement, "the United Nations owes a great debt of gratitude" to Flint. He said a report on the incident will be made public as soon as it is received.

Flint's wife and two daughters waited at the Mandelbaum Gate in Jerusalem's no-man's-land until his body was brought back.

Two years ago, in the same area, he was wounded when a mine exploded as he was approaching a house to investigate rifle firing.

He was the highest UN official killed in the Israeli-Arab conflict since fanatic Zionists assassinated Count Folke Bernadotte, the Swedish mediator in Jerusalem in September, 1948.

The official report of the chief of staff of the UN truce supervision organization released in Ottawa, said fighting began at 11:15 a.m. local time when five patrolling Israeli soldiers were fired on by villagers of Issawiya, an Arab community within the Israeli part of the Mount Scopus enclave.

SPORADIC SHOOTING

Only three of the Israelis, one of them wounded, returned to Israeli headquarters.

"After that sporadic shooting broke out between the two sides, in which another Israeli was killed and three wounded," the report said.

Col. Flint then entered the scene, walking ahead of a group of Jordanian soldiers with whom he had been working. He was hit by a sniper's bullet.

"The whole party was pinned down by crossfire and could not reach Col. Flint. He bled to death before they could get to him."

It was not known whether there were casualties among the village fighters.

HAD BEEN CALM

After 6½ hours of firing, UN military observers succeeded in arranging a cease-fire Monday night.

The shootings ended several weeks of calm on the border.

Mount Scopus is a demilitarized Israeli conclave within Jordan's territory. Jordan has accused Israel of building fortifications there and Israel says its supply columns, which must pass through Jordan to reach the mount top, have been harassed.

Mrs. Zucco To Administer Estate

VANCOUVER (CP) — Mrs. Florence Bernice Zucco, who once carried her fight for her husband's pensions to the door of the provincial legislature, was granted administeration in Supreme Court Monday for his estate.

The only asset is a cheque for $12,998.87, representing compensation for the eight years miner Jack Zucco suffered from silicosis until he died, April 2.

The Workmen's Compensation Board fought his claim for pension for the entire eight years, but admitted that Mr. Zucco had had silicosis following an autopsy.

Parliament Monday

By The Canadian Press

Augustin Brassard (L—Lapointe) said the government kisses the United States on defence matters and kicks it on trade affairs.

Trade Minister Churchill announced a final Canadian wheat board payment on 1956-57 barley averaging 6.28 cents a bushel.

G. Roy McWilliams (L—Northumberland - Miramichi) said the government's proposed bill of rights, necessarily restricted, seems superfluous.

Harry Jones (PC — Saskatoon) proposed grain elevators in Newfoundland to enable year-round shpiments of Prairie grain.

Yvon Dupuis (L—Jean-Iberville-Napierville) urged adoption of a system of national identity cards for all Canadians 16 or older.

Douglas Fisher (CCF—Port Arthur) said awards of parliamentary study fellowships to professors and students could provide MPs with research assistance.

PHONE COMPANY ASKS RATE HIKE

VANCOUVER (CP) —B.C. Telephone Company sought approval of the Board of Transport Commissioners Monday for a 15-percent rate increase which it said would provide temporary relief from its economic problems.

President Cyrus Mclean, first witness in the special hearing, told the commissioners of B. C.'s expanding economy which he said makes it essential that regulated utilities "be kept in a healthy condition from the earning standpoint."

Company counsel Senator J. W. deB. Farris said any increase granted as a result of the application "will afford only temporary relief."

SUBS STAY UNDER THIRTY DAYS

GROTON, Conn. (AP) — Two atomic submarines—the Skate and Seawolf—have set endurance records of 30 days under water, Admiral Arleigh A. Burke, naval chief of operations, announced Monday.

The vessels had a total of 160 men aboard.

The previous underwater endurance record was 16 days, set last September by the Seawolf.

Burke said the men lived in confined quarters in an environment completely sealed from sunlight and the earth's natural atmosphere.

Youth Gets Two Years and Paddle

NANAIMO (CP) — A 17-year-old youth was sentenced Monday in Nanaimo police court to six strokes of the paddle and two years less a day in Oakalla prison for a "vicious assault" Friday on an elderly couple near here.

Police said the youth, John Paul Maier, and a 15-year-old accomplice broke into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacques Rioux late Friday afternoon and left 15 minutes later after tying the elderly couple and beating Mr. Rioux. They took $29.

The 15-year-old youth received a sentence of one year. Police said both were escapees from Brannan Lake School and were captured about three miles from the Rioux home.

Six Killed by Bomb on Streetcar

BEIRUT, Lebanon (CP) — A bomb explosion in a streetcar killed six persons Monday on the eve of a reported compromise bid by Lebanon's government to its political opposition.

The bomb wrecked the streetcar and injured 20 persons. It was the bloodiest single act of terrorism since rioting and a general strike against the government began 17 days ago.

The blast occurred a few hundred yards from the foreign ministry, where Foreign Minister Charles Malik was receiving diplomats just before he was due to leave by air for New York.

Malik later postponed until midweek his departure for New York, where he is to present Lebanon's complaint of outside interference to the UN Security Council. Lebanon accuses Egypt and Syria of provoking the uprising against the Lebanese government.

Later in the day another bomb exploded in the garden of British ambassador George Middleton's home. It rocked the neighborhood but caused no damage to the ambassador's home and no casualties.

The government announced, meanwhile, that parliament will meet today for the first time since the strike began. The cabinet will make a statement intended to ease the situation and possibly end the strike.

Premier Sami Solh is expected to tell parliament his government will not permit alteration of the constitution to allow President Camille Chamoun to win another six-year term. It is reported Solh also will announce that a new president will be chosen by parliament in July.

The reported Solh compromise probably would be accepted by moderate opposition leaders but almost certainly would be rejected by those demanding Chamoun's resignation now. The violent rioting of the last three weeks was led by anit-Chamoun extremist.s

Fire Knocks Out Atomic Reactor

OTTAWA (CP) — NRU — code name for Canada's most powerful atomic reactor—is out of business while crews mop up after a rare uranium-metal fire that spread radioactive dust through the huge building housing it.

Atomic Energy of Canada Limited, Crown company in charge of the Chalk River, Ont., atomic project, said Monday no one was injured in the Saturday accident. The company also said the $57,000,000 research reactor was not damaged.

Radioactive dust spread through the 12-storey building when a small piece of a uranium fuel rod broke off and caught fire. The flames were smothered with sand. (See also story page 4.)

Four Die in Fire In Nursing Home

TORONTO (CP) — Four elderly patients died Monday after a bedroom fire sent deadly smoke swirling through a west-end nursing home.

Two died in ambulances en route to hospital, the others eight hours later of shock and smoke poisoning. They were Miss Tillie Hewitt, 85, leg amputee William Cavanagh, 79, John Black, 75, and Frank Cooper, 71.

In hospital in critical condition are Hannah Collett, 81, Edward Hansford, 81, Amy Robertson, 82, Mary Reeves, 80, Catherine Walker, 85, and Walter Metcalfe, 87.

An arson squad immediately began an investigation into the blaze, the second fatal fire in two years at the Craig Nursing Home in the Sunnyside district.

There were 64 patients asleep when the fire broke out just before dawn in a second-floor room in the north wing of the home, which comprises two three-storey buildings connected by a third-floor ramp.

Says Spotting Of Gifted Student Important

TORONTO (CP) — The importance of detecting the gifted student was raised Monday at a panel discussion as the Chemical Institute of Canada began its three-day annual conference.

Col. W. R. Sawyer of Kingston, Ont., vice-commandant of Royal Military College, said a major role of the high school is to identify a student at an early stage and to ensure that his talents were developed.

A. H. Louden of the Ontario College of Education, Toronto, said some type of segregation of the gifted pupil may come quickly. The problem was how this could be achieved.

They formed part of a five-man panel which tackled the subject of chemical education and what the high school, the university and industry each expect from the other in that field.

Over 100 at Civil Servants' Meet

VICTORIA (CP) — More than 100 top B.C. municipal employees registered for their annual three-day convention here Monday.

Mayor Percy Scurrah, Municipal Affairs Minister W. D. Black and deputy minister J. E. Brown welcomed members of the Municipal Officers' Association of B.C.

The convention schedule includes lectures and discussions on municipal administration courses, principles of the business tax, auditing, appointment of scrutineers and budgeting.

The convention will wind up Wednesday afternoon with installation of new officers after a keynote address in the morning by Mr. Black.

NEW YORK (CP) — The Canadian dollar was 3-32 higher at a premium of 3 9-16 in terms of U. S. funds Monday; a week ago 3⅜ per cent premium. The pound sterling was 1-32 higher at $2.81 11-16.

Water Shortage Angers Citizens

SURREY (CP) — A drastic water shortage through lack of pressure is threating this fast-growing Fraser Valley community.

Mothers lined their children up at a garage for baths while others melted ice cubes for drinking water as the shortage reached a peak Sunday. Lack of adequate pressure kept the taps dry.

Angry residents held a protest meeting Sunday afternoon to ask municipal council why new subdivisions were added to the system when existing homes cannot get enough water and why enough pumps were not being used when there was an adequate water supply.

Council plans to have an engineer survey the municipality's entire water supply.

Riots Erupt As Strike Grips Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (Reuters) — Several persons were injured Monday as right- and left-wing Cypriots clashed in a wave of violence climaxing five weekend murders.

As a 24-hour general strike gripped the island, left-wing demonstrators marched in protest against the murders—the latest of which occurred in Famagusta Monday.

Governor Sir Hugh Foot appealed to Cypriots in a statement to help security forces "eradicate the menace of violence."

Most of Monday's clashes occurred where storekeepers failed to close during the strike called by Communist-led trade unions.

Leaflets circulated by the political branch of the Greek terrorist organization EOKA said two Cypriot Greek leftists murdered Friday night were "executed" by EOKA because they were traitors, not because they were leftists." EOKA wants political union of the British colony with Greece.

RUSSIA TO PULL OUT TROOPS

BUDAPEST (AP)—Soviet Marshal Ivan Konev has announced that Soviet troops will be withdrawn from Romania soon, Tass reported Monday.

The Soviet news agency said the decision was approved by the political committee of the European Communist powers in the Warsaw Pact.

A statement issued by the committee said also that the Soviet Union and Hungary have agreed on the withdrawal of an additional division of Soviet troops from Hungarian soil during 1958.

Earlier this year, the Russians said they were withdrawing 17,000 troops from Hungary. Nothing was said about how many would remain. Western observers estimate the figure as high as 100,000.

Report Two Prisoners Dead After Party

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Sun says two prisoners have died and two are in hospital following a party at a prison work camp in nearby Chilliwack during which poisonous spirits were consumed.

The two dead were identified as Archie Morin, 28, and Joseph Bastarache, 48, who were serving their seventh and eighth sentences respectively in Oakalla prison in suburban Burnaby and had been sent from there to the Chilliwack camp. The two victims in hospital were not identified.

The paper said it is believed the men drank anti-freeze fluid or some type of spirit fuel taken from a mechanics shed.

De Gaulle Paris Trip Arouses Speculation

Visit to Pflimin Denied; Four French Warships Enter Algerian Port

PARIS (CP)—Gen. Charles de Gaulle sped to Paris from his village home Monday night on a mission of mystery that may resolve or darken the French dilemma.

Insurgents in Algeria predicted jubilantly that the Paris government of Premier Pflimlin would collapse without a push.

A police commissioner, standing guard at Pflimlin's Matignon Palace offices announced shortly before 11 p.m. local time that de Gaulle had arrived on the outskirts. But where de Gaulle went from there was a mystery.

There were rumors de Gaulle might be meeting Pflimlin or his intermediaries in a suburb. But a spokesman for Pflimlin said the premier had retired for the night.

De Gaulle was provisional president of the Post - War Republic and now has offered to return to power. But he has said he would have to be given extraordinary powers if he took over to deal with France's problems at home and overseas.

De Gaulle drove off toward Paris after a member of Premier Pflimlin's staff had gone to the general's home at Colombey les Deux Eglieses and talked with him for half an hour. The envoy, Marcel Diebolt, then drove back to Paris and reported immediately to Premier Pflimlin.

NEW BID

Diebolt's visit to de Gaulle followed a new bid set in motion by the powerful conservative party to bring the general back to power. The Communist - led general Confederation of Labor alerted to the move immediately, ordered its 2,000,000 members to strike this afternoon to show their opposition to de Gaulle.

Meanwhile, de Gaulle supporters tightened their grip on the French Mediterranean island of Corsica and four French warships steamed mysteriously into Algeria amid rumors that their officers planned to join the committees of public safety set up there to demand de Gaulle's return.

In the National Assembly, Pflimlin struck back at Pascal Arrighi, the leader of the Corsican takeover. He pushed through a bill suspending Arrighi from the assembly and depriving him of his parliamentary immunity from arrest and prosecution.

But tension in government circles mounted swiftly in the face of apparent right - wing moves to desert Pflimlin and throw their support behind de Gaulle.

Pflimlin, weary and grim - faced told the assembly Monday that "the danger facing us is civil war." He said there was "no justification and no excuse" for the right - wing takeover in Corsica Saturday.

"It was an attack on the established order, an operation conceived and carried out for the purpose of overthrowing the legitimate powers," Pflimlin said.

POWER SLIPPING

But there were signs that the 51-year-old premier's power over the assembly was slipping. When he called for unity against the budding revolt he was applauded by only the members of centre parties. Right - wingers and the Communists remained silent.

The premier received another jolt when the conservatives decided to ask Coty to call leaders of all parties except the Communists to a meeting to consider asking de Gaulle to form a government.

Their ministers in Pflimlin's cabinet said they would resign if the premier refused to support the move. They also wanted Coty to ask de Gaulle to attend the meeting.

The conservatives' move was followed quickly by the strike call.

Cardinal Stritch Dies in Rome

ROME (Reuters) — Samuel Cardinal Stritch, Roman Catholic archbishop of Chicago, died Monday a month after he arrived in Rome to direct the Church's missionary activities as pro-prefect of the Congregation for Propagation of the Faith.

He had been unable to take nourishment for two days.

Cardinal Stritch, 70, had been steadily losing ground since he suffered a paralyzing stroke a week ago. The stroke came three weeks after his right arm had been amputated above the elbow to eliminate the danger of gangrene from a blood clot.

Cardinal Stritch attained the highest rank in the Roman Catholic Church ever granted to a U.S. prelate.

He was appointed March 1, 1958, by the Pope as cardinal pro-prefect of the Congregation for the Propagation of the Faith and as a member of the Curia, the supreme governing body of the Church. This was the summit of a lifetime of achievement.

Lumber Company To Shut Down

NANAIMO (CP) —An official of MacMillan and Bloedel announced Monday that all the company's logging operations will be shut down 24 hours a day, despite the fact provincial closure would permit operations between midnight and 1 p.m.

The company decided on a complete shutdown of all island and mainland logging operations because of the extreme danger of fire in the woods.

The public will also be barred from entrance into MacMillan and Bloedel timber lands or leasures during the closure, the company official said.

Approximately 1800 loggers are affected by the closure. The company said special fire - fighting crews will be available should a blaze develop and more than $800,000 worth of company fire equipment is ready for any emergency.

Low Retiring

OTTAWA (CP) — Solon Low confirmed Monday night he is retiring from politics.

In his last speech as national leader of the Social Credit party he said he is handing in his resignation this week.

Next September he returns to Raymond, Alta., to resume a teaching career he dropped 23 years ago when the Social Credit movement surged to provincial power.

His last speech as a political figure was made, ironically, to Ottawa Young Progressive Conservatives. Social Credit representation in Parliament was wiped out by the Conservative sweep to power in the March 31 election.

The short, dignified politician spoke with his usual fire and sharpness. He said Social Credit is not destroyed.

"But the movement is going to require the leadership of a younger man, unimpaired in health. I feel I should step down."

Mr. Low, 58, suffered a heart attack in November, 1955.

SOCIAL STUDIES COURSE SCORED

LILLOOET (CP) — A British Columbia school principal Monday told the B. C. royal commission on education that social studies courses in grades seven and eight are a waste of time.

T. A. Wickstrom, principal of Bralorne consolidated school, told the commission at its opening session that the courses are too complex and that the pupils forget them quickly.

Mr. Wickstrom gave the commission copies of the grade eight social studies textbook, "Canada in the World Today." He complained that tthe course covered British, American, Canadian and B.C. history "once over lightly."

He said that social studies in grades seven and eight should be taught in story form—ancient history being taught in grade seven by interesting stories of the lives of Socrates, Alexander the Great and Julius Caesar.

He said grade eight students should be taught B.C. history since they live in the province and are interested in its history.

He considered their appreciation of international problems to be slight.

Eversfield Tells Of Bonus Cheques

VANCOUVER (CP)—Accountant Charles Eversfield continued Monday to recount how money was allegedly passed to former lands and forests minister Robert Sommers who now is involved in a 38-count indictment of bribery and conspiracy.

Testifying before an Assize Court jury of nine men and three women, Eversfield mentioned sums of $4666 and two sums of $1875 apiece. He said the $4666 represented two-thirds of $7000 and had been requisitioned from the C. D. Schultz Company Limited by Pacific Coast Services Limited where he was formerly bookkeeper.

He said that in August, 1954, H. W. Gray, his former boss and now one of the accused, said he wanted to get money to Sommers and suggested that Eversfield draw a bonus cheque under his own name. The accountant said he refused to do this and that Gray finally informed him that two bonus cheques of $1875 each were to be drawn over the names of John Gray and another company official, S. W. Armitage.

Eversfield testified that Gray told him that this money was to go to Sommers.

EISENHOWER AGAINST TAX CUT

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower Monday ruled out any anti-recession tax cut at this time, so far as the administration is concerned.

The White House announced also that Eisenhower is renewing his recommendation to Congress that corporation and excise taxes be maintained at the current level.

They would be reduced about $3,000,000,000 July 1 without extension of the present law.

The decision to renew the call for continuation at the going rate came after Treasury Secretary Robert Anderson had conferred with congressional leaders of both parties.

Anderson then met with Eisenhower.

Woman Killed in Highway Mishap

CLINTON, B. C. (CP) — Mrs. Richard Mytro Nykfourk, 23, of Bralorne, B. C., was killed early Monday when the car in which she was travelling left the cariboo Highway 11 miles north of here.

Six other occupants of the car were injured, but their names were not released by RCMP.

And in This Corner . . .

VANCOUVER (CP)—A burglar describing himself—or herself—as "The Thin Thief," squeezed through a 12-by-14 inch opening Sunday night to rob a Vancouver hardware store of goods worth $400.

The culprit scrawled the words "The Thin Thief" in lipstick on two store counters.

Police said they believe the thief may be a woman.

CINCINNATI (AP)—Life is full of mystery for Goofy, a small bird with a big problem.

The dauntless martin three times each day starts busily to make a new home. And every time, her nest flies away.

The home sites are the tail sections of three airline Constellations that pull into Cincinnati airport daily at 9 a.m., 11:30 a.m. and 1 p.m.

Bill Birkley, an airline agent, says the bird never tries to use other planes or even other loading gates.

He said the loyal martin streaks for the plane when its engines stop and begins "placing sticks and grass on the tail sections before the first passenger can get his feet on the ground."

Examining the wreckage of what was once a coffee urn at Pierre's Cafe, Mrs. Helen Kanigan is shown shortly after Sunday morning's terrorist blast had partly demolished the Greyhound bus depot and the cafe. Mrs. Kanigan was still downtown when she heard the explosion and she called Mrs. Margaret Lindholm, in charge in the proprietor's absence. Both women got a staff together to start cleaning the ravages and still found time to make coffee for the police and bus depot staff.

Kaslo Scouts Best at Big Camporee

Kaslo Night Hawks scored 390 points to capture the top proficiency pennant at the three - day Boy Scout Camporee held near Kaslo over the weekend. Points were awarded for proficiency in various camping activities, and a total of 550 was possible.

Another Kaslo troop, the Lions, were second with 377. A troop invested only last week, First Nelson Eagles, chalked up 283.

The camporee began Friday night and ended Sunday with a ceremony in which the scouts formed a horseshoe around the flag to receive congratulations from various speakers.

Camp chief was John Langley, district scoutmaster; J. Flamank, First Kaslo Troop, was organizer, and J. N. Johnston, assistant.

The program was packed with a variety of projects, games, inspecions and camp fires. Game subjects included mapping, signalling, stalking and camouflage, Indian style, tree and shrubbery identification and wild life observation.

In charge were Assistant Scoutmaster Herman Nielson, First Riondel Troop; Scoutmaster Jack Flamank, Scoutmasters Gordon Fleming and Robert Percival, and Assistant Scoutmasters Frank Aikins and Robert Percival, all of Nelson; and Scoutmaster G. Penniket of South Slocan.

A game department official spoke on wildlife conservation Saturday.

A total of 103 scouts and leaders, who acted only as supervisors, attended.

Ravaged Cafe Owner Will Eject Sons

Pierre Rivers, owner of Pierre's Cafe which was ravaged by Sunday's terrorist blast, told the Daily News Monday he would no longer welcome Freedomite leaders in his establishment.

"If certain Freedomite leaders come in here again," he said "I shall personally put them out o ntheir ear — and you may quote me!"

Mr. Rivers said the persons he was referring to often frequented his cafe "and they only come in here to stir up trouble" he added.

He said he and Mrs. Rivers were deeply shocked when they were telephoned the news in Spokane, where they were attending the Midsummr Bonspiel Cavalcade.

"It is time there terrorist acts were brought to an end" he told the Daily News "and the only way to do this is if all peace loving citizens stand firm and show the criminals we are not afraid of them."

He emphasized the need for all public spirited people to join together in strong protests to Premier Bennett in order to bring the outrages to a complete stop.

"This has been going on far too long and nothing has been done to prevent these people from planting their bombs" he said.

City's First Bomb Blasted Court 24 Years Ago

Twenty four years ago to the month, a terrorist's bomb shattered the peace of Nelson — and like Sunday's explosion one man narrowly escaped death or serious injury.

The man was H. C. Irving, city lawyer, who was then employed as court registrar.

In a telephone interview Monday, Mr. Irving told the Daily News he had just left the court house before 5 p.m. in May 1934 when a bomb, planted on a stairway from the basement of the building to a first floor court room exploded.

In was the first bombing in the city. Last Sunday's blast was the second. And city police constable M. J. Severyn was the man who narowly missed the latest explosion.

As Mr. Irving recalls, no one was ever brought to justice over the 1934 crime.

Now Nelson and district citizens are calling for immediate action and are demanding that the culprits be brought to justice.

But city and RCM police, who have been working continuously on the case, said no evidence has been located which might lead them to the criminals responsible.

Acting Mayor Not At Chamber Meet

Acting Mayor C. E. Bradshaw did not attend the special Chamber of Commerce meeting Monday afternoon to discuss the terrorist problem. An attempt was made to contact him by telephone during the meeting for information on a special City Council meeting held earlier in the day.

However, it was learned he did not feel he should attend the chamber meeting because he is not a member.

Three city aldermen who are members of the chamber gave officials a brief resume of the morning Council meeting.

In a prepared statement given to the Daily News following the morning Council meeting, Acting Mayor Bradshaw said:

"At a special meeting of the committee of the whole held Monday morning it was resolved to bring in a motion to the Nelson City Council to send its members to Victoria to deal directly with the Cabinet on Friday in regard to the recent bombings. Mayor T. S. Shorthouse, who is at present at the coast, will confer with the council members previous to the Cabinet meeting."

Acting Mayor Bradshaw said Sunday night "city fathers could not openly express themselves" when the press attended such meetings and offered the above statement following the meeting.

It was not known how City Council reacted to Sunday's bombings.

Outrages Spark March on Victoria As Public Feelings Climb High

A delegation from Nelson will meet with the provincial cabinet in Victoria Friday to demand immediate action against terrorists in West Kootenay.

Members of City Council and the Chamber of Commerce, in two special meetings held Monday following an outbreak of bombings in the district early Sunday, said the delegation will demand the utmost assistance from the provincial government.

They said that if the meeting Friday is unsuccessful, the B.C. government will be petitioned to seek federal assistance.

The delegation is the latest move taken by district organizations to quash a rash of terrorist acts which have endangered lives and destroyed millions of dollars of property during the past 40 years.

Friday's meeting was arranged by Mayor T. S. Shorthouse who cut short his vacation in the Okanagan Valley Sunday to confer with provincial authorities.

The chamber of commerce met Monday afternoon "to formulate some plan which might assist or put pressure on the provincial government to rid us of this terrorism and economic blight."

The chamber did not mention the radical Sons of Freedom Doukhobors in connection with Sunday's bombings but said they would seek positive action against the "terrorists".

"It's time drastic action is implemented," chamber members agreed.

SICK OF SOFT SOAP

"I'm sick of this soft soap stuff from Premier Bennett and Attorney General Bonner," R. D. Barnes said. "Let's sign a petition demanding federal government assistance."

"If the reward for information leading to the capture and conviction of the terrorists was increased to $75,000—$50,000 from the federal government and $25,000 from the provincial government — it would be worthwhile," Alderman George Mermet said.

"We have got to put pressure on the people responsible—we are not experts," C. W. Ramsden, president of the chamber, said in answer to a question seeking the type of assistance needed in the troubled West Kootenay.

But A. K. MacAdams, vice-president, said special legislation is needed to give police wider powers. He suggested a curfew be placed on Sons of Freedom, that identification cards be prepared for them, that road blocks be established to check after-curfew activities, and that patrols guard industry and railway tracks.

"This delegation can't be logical—they have to be drastic," he said. "The police are hamstrung by the legislation."

Another spokesman said the provincial government will not admit it is incapable of handling the problem and that "individual and collective pride" is the reason the government has not asked for federal assistance.

The RCMP came under fire at Monday's meeting.

"The police are leaving no stone unturned," Alderman W. S. Ramsay said. "The RCMP are probably one of the best police forces in the world."

TOO MUCH BALLY-HOO

"Bally-hoo," another spokesman declared, "we have listened to that for long enough."

"How can we expect a young constable who is probably only 19 or 20 years old to understand a problem which has plagued this district for 40 years?" another chamber member asked.

The Chamber of Commerce will also contact the federal justice department to determine whether or not the provincial government can ask for federal assistance without first declaring martial law.

Officials of the CPR, RCMP, public utilities and industry will also be asked to join the delegation to Victoria.

The delegation will leave Nelson by car Thursday, meet with Mayor Shorthouse Friday morning and place their demands before the cabinet Friday afternoon.

A special Chamber of Commerce meeting has been called for Monday to discuss the results of Friday's meeting.

Near Drowning Is Warning to Bathers

City recreation director Joe Johnson Monday warned inexperienced swimmers that Kootenay Lake is still too cold for safe swimming.

His warning came on the heels of a near accident at Lakeside Park when a teen-aged girl was rescued from the icy waters.

Mr. Johnson recommended that youngsters and poor swimmers enter the water at the park only when accompanied by adults or when the beach is guarded.

Water temperature in the lake is only 52 degrees, he said, and much too cold for inexperienced swimmers. And he urged them to stay close to the beach if they entered the water at all.

The girl was rescued Saturday by lifeguard George Nixon of Rossland, a student at Notre Dame College here. Lifeguards normally do not patrol the beach at Lakeside Park until June, but guards have already been hired for the swimming pool which is not expected to open for at least two weeks.

Mr. Johnson said the guards have been working instead at the park beach between noon and 6 p.m.

Gyro Park pool for young swimmers and paddlers should be open sometime next week, Mr. Johnson said.

This week the pool will be covered with a new plastic lining.

Depot Damage May Top $5000 Mark

Damage caused to the combined bus depot and restaurant in Nelson early Sunday morning has been increased upward to at least $5000 and "probably more".

First estimates of damage following a time bomb blast at 3:30 a.m. Sunday were set at approximately $3000.

Repair crews working on the structure have already replaced 35 window panes blasted from their frames and Monday were replacing walls crumbled by the explosion.

Owners said the restaurant will probably be closed today and Wednesday during repairs. The blast did not hinder Greyhound operations.

DIES AFTER TANK EXPLODES

VANCOUVER (CP)—A 10-year-old Port Alberni boy, injured last Thursday when an oil tank exploded, died in Vancouver General Hospital Monday.

The boy, Jimmy Delzer, was flown here for emergency operations after he failed to respond to blood transfusions in the West Coast General Hospital.

Police said the heat of the sun caused the fuel in the outside tank to expand and shatter the tank. The boy was playing nearby.

Did He or Didn't He?

In a telegram to the Trail Chamber of Commerce Monday, Premier W. A. C. Bennett said Ottawa had already been contacted in regard to terrorist activities in this area.

But in a release to the Canadian Press, the premier said Ottawa might be called upon to assist in putting down the outrages.

The Canadian Press text was as follows:

Premier Bennett said Monday the B.C. government may call on Ottawa to accept some responsibility in policing the Kootenays.

He was commenting on bombings Sunday in which the bus terminal at Nelson was heavily damaged and power poles were blasted in rural areas. It was the third outburst of bombings in the region in the last six months.

Sons of Freedom Doukhobors are blamed.

Premier Bennett would not comment on a suggestion that more police and perhaps armed forces be sent to the area, but said if necessary the government would call on Ottawa.

Ten Minutes From Death for Policeman

City police constable M. J. Severyn, the last person to see the Greyhound bus depot before an explosion ripped through its interior, told the Daily News Sunday it was fortunate no one was walking past the building at the time.

Constable Severyn, who had made security checks at the depot minutes before the blast rocket the structure, said downtown traffic was reasonably heavy for early morning hours.

In an interview with the News, constable Severyn told how he had checked five doors in the building, unware of the deadly bomb inside and had walked only a short distance when the crude time bomb shattered the combined depot and restaurant.

"I was about a block away and had just stopped for a cup of coffee when the explosion occurred."

"I would say the blast went off at almost exactly 3:30 a.m. I was there about 3:20 and checked five doors in the building. I always make a special check at the bus depot because I have found doors open there before. I spent about three minutes checking the depot."

"When I heard the blast I first thought it might be a safeblowing or gas explosion. But when I approached the depot and saw the damage I knew it wasn't a safeblowing. Black smoke was pouring out of the building and I could smell dynamite."

Constable Severyn immediately contacted the city fire department land city and RCM police officials.

Mercury Hits 91

Nelsonites sweltered in 91 degree heat Monday—the highest so far this year. The mercury reached 86.5 on Friday but a scattering of cloud Saturday and Sunday kept the thermometer around 85. Monday the sky was devoid of cloud and the sun baked on cement and garden alike. It increased the need for sprinkling, and it is anticipated, watering will be done as sparingly as possible on the low water supply.

Mayor T. S. Shorthouse, in Victoria to confer with provincial government officials, said late Monday he will complete arrangements this morning with W. D. Black, MLA for Nelson - Creston, and deputy attorney general Kennedy, for Friday's meeting with the cabinet.

Mayor Shorthouse also said premier W. A. C. Bennett is back in Victoria after a short absence from the capital.

Premier Bennett Contacts Ottawa

Trail Chamber of Commerce president J. R. Mills Monday wired Premier W. A. C. Bennett and urged that efforts be increased "as required" to halt terrorism in West Kootenay.

Mr. Mills said a reply from the premier's office ran:

"Your telegram is under consideration. Ottawa has been contacted."

The Daily News attempted to locate MLA W. D. Black in Victoria late Monday for further information concerning the telegram from the premier's office. However, he was not available for comment.

The message from Victoria was the first indication the provincial government had communicated with federal authorities concerning the recent outbreak of bombings in this district.

HEAD OF POWER COMPANY URGES "DRASTIC MEANS"

TRAIL (CP) — The president of the West Kootenay Power and Light Company wired Premier Bennett Monday asking that the government devise "drastic means" to end terrorist bombings in the West Kootenay.

Referring to Sunday's explosions in which several power poles were blasted and a Greyhound bus depot at Nelson was heavily damaged, West Kootenay president and general manager R. G. Anderson messaged the premier:

"This is a most serious and dangerous situation. I think the government must send someone in here right away to meet with civic officials and others to see what can be done."

Mr. Anderson said he was "very disturbed" by Sunday's incidents and intended to seek an interview with the commander of the RCMP's Nelson sub-division.

The telegram to the premier said:

"Early Sunday morning, our power lines were blasted in three areas and Nelson bus depot was wrecked by time bomb placed in locker.

"One west line was blasted on first summit out of Rossland, and the dynamite placed around adjacent pole of second line failed to explode, otherwise entire Okanagan would have been without power.

"One line was blasted at Tarrys, causing 60,000-volt line to come in contact with 6900-volt distribution circuits, resulting in severe damage to equipment.

"This whole situation has become most serious and dangerous and I urge the full attention and assistance of your government in developing some drastic means of ending this sabotage."

Pacifist leaflets will be handed to crews of visiting warships—Canadian included — when the ships are open for inspection in Vancouver.

The burning of "war toys" will be held "when we get enough toys, but we haven't decided on the date yet."

Mrs. Fahrni said the fellowship wanted to draw attention to the "ill effects of war toys on the minds of children."

MODERNIZED MEANWHILE

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — For the second time in five years the coast guard Sunday rescued two youths from San Francisco Bay. Five years ago it towed their leaky boat to shore and saved Sam Cuschieri, then 14, and Frank Bertoni, then 13. Sunday, when their outboard runabout overturned, it saved them with a helicopter.

WINDSOR, England (AP) — Prince Philip put in a sharp polo performance Sunday before some Russian visitors. Members of the Moscow Arts Theatre Company, now playing in London, watched him score four goals and help Windsor Park defeat Friar Park by 11 points to 5½.

Haggis Reports Puzzle Herridge

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada has no official objection to haggis — distinctive Scottish dish—as long as it's edible from a health standpoint.

This in effect was the answer given on the matter in the Commons Monday by Revenue Minister Nowlan, a self-described Irish-Canadian, to H. W. Herridge (CCF—Kootenay West), of English origin.

Mr. Herridge asked whether the minister could clear up the "mystery" surrounding recent reports — originating from abroad — that Canadian import regulations refused admission to haggis.

Haggis is a kind of meat and suet pudding, sometimes encased in sheep gut. Scotsmen and their kin eat it on occasions, apparently as much to prove their racial origin as for the sheer enjoyment of it.

Mr. Nowlan suggested it was rather unusual for a man of English descent to be inquiring of an Irishman about something so much the concern of Scots. It might, he said, result in a "haggle."

He went on to say that Canadian tariff regulations don't prohibit entry of haggis. But it had to be certified under Canada's Meat and Diseases Acts and bear the Canadian health department label giving it a clean bill of health before it could be allowed into this country.

Mr. Herridge asked whether these necessary clearances can be obtained in Britain. Mr. Nowlan assured him that they can.

LECTERN GIVEN TO CHURCH

A lectern was presented Sunday morning to St. Pauls-Trinity United Church in memory of M. J. Stallwood. A book will be placed on it in which memorial gifts to the church will be recorded.

E. R. Bennett, acting clerk of session, made the presentation on behalf of Mrs. M. J. Stallwood, her daughter Lorraine and son Roger. It was received by elder F. J. Hawkins and unveiled by senior elder James Allen, assisted by elder Mrs. Elva Kettlewell.

Rev. E. D. Jones said Mr. Stallwood's mother, now in Mount St. Francis infirmary, would be listening to the service over CKLN.

Nanaimo Supports SIU Strikers

NANAIMO (CP)—The Nanaimo and District Labor Council Sunday gave full support to the striking members of the Seafarers' International Union.

Corresponding secretary Carl Anshelm moved support of the strike and offered every assistance possible from the council after hearing a report from SIU representative Wally French.

He said Vancouver Island chamber of commerce representatives "were biting the hand that feeds them" with regard to the recent move of Island businessmen to seek government intervention in the strike.

Mr. Anshelm said the "small businessmen" who make up the chambers of commerce are dependent upon the wage-earners.

"We wouldn't be galloping around the countryside every weekend buying fishing rods, camping equipment and bathing suits if the trade unions had not won the shorter work week for which they fought for so many years," he said.

Labor council president Jocko Colwell advocated Nanaimo city council refuse any further grants to the Chamber of Commerce, calling it a group of "anti-union money grabbing businessmen."

Expansion Sought By Baptist Church

Members at the annual meeting of the First Baptist Church Wednesday night said the church is outgrowing its present facilities and instructed the extension committee to write to the B. C. board in connection with plans for further expansion.

A report from the meeting said "there is an urgent need for extra classroom space and consecrated teachers."

It said the church school attendance increased to 107 during the past year with increased enrolment in Young Peoples' groups Cubs and Scouts.

At the annual meeting, Mrs. A. E. Blackwell was appointed delegate to the B. C. convention to be held in Vancouver in June. Rev. Imayoshi and Mrs. N. Gibson were appointed delegates to the Union convention to be held in Regina at the end of June.

The report said the church had also paid off two years' payments on the building loan in the past year, leaving one more payment. It added the church has adopted a five-year-program to be completely self-supporting by annually reducing the grand received from the B.C. board.

Officers elected for the coming year were:

Deacons—N. Gibson, F. Joyce and F. W. Hawes, honorary life deacon, Mrs. F. Morris, church clerk; F. Aikins, treasurer; Mrs. F. Morris, envelope secretary; F. Joyce, chairman of the ushers' committee, Amy Watson and Jean Highwing, Lord's table committee; Mrs. L. MacLeod, F. Joyce, Mrs. N. Gibson, Miss V. Krieg, Miss Amy Watson and N. Gibson, Christian education committee, Mrs. F. Joyce and Mrs. L. MacLeod, music committee, Amy Watson, cradle roll, Beatrice Maber, nursery, E. Krieg, auditor and N. Gibson, Sunday School superintendent.

Eskimo Makes First Trip "Outside"

DAWSON, Y. T. (CP) — Peter Sidney, an Eskimo trapper from the settlement of Sachs Harbor on Banks Island, 1,500 miles north of Edmonton, made this old gold rush centre his first stopping-point on his first trip "outside."

Never before this far south, he was busy snapping pictures like any tourist. He was on his way to Edmonton and had plans to visit a sister-in-law, a registered nurse with the U. S. Air Force in San Francisco.

On Banks Island he runs a 200-mile trapline that produced $10,000 worth of Arctic fox and polar bear for during the last season. His home has a population of five transport department employees, based at a weather station; two RCMP officers and 30 Eskimos.

Peter chartered an aircraft from Aklavik to go into Sachs Harbor to pick up the furs. He had arranged for it to bring oranges, apples, onions and turnips —rare fresh foodstuffs in the far north settlement which is supplied by boat once a year.

He was educated in Aklavik, and speaks fluent English.

Urges Higher Exemption On Death Duties

OTTAWA (CP) — Exemption from death duties on estates should be increased to $50,000, the Canadian Chamber of Commerce said Monday in a brief submitted to Finance Minister Fleming.

Proposed legislation introduced at the last session of Parliament called for a $30,000 exemption. The chamber said the minimum should be $50,000 and that it should be $60,000 when the dead person is survived by a spouse. There also should be an additional $10,000 for each surviving child.

Other proposals made by the chamber in its brief, one of many being received by the finance minister in advance of his budget included:

1. Pensions should not be subject to death taxes.

2. A marital exemption provision should be adopted to place persons in all provinces in the same position as those in Quebec, where persons with community property enjoyed a tax advantage.

French Seize U.K., U.S., Newspapers

PARIS (AP) — French police seized Monday's issue of the London Daily Mail and the European edition of the New York Herald Tribune.

The information ministry said the seizure of The Herald Tribune was ordered because the paper printed remarks by the French naval commander in the Mediterranean, Admiral Philippe Auboyneau, that the navy supported the rebel group in Algeria.

The Daily Mail was seized when it arrived in Paris. No reason was given. Other London papers were distributed without interference.

The seizures were part of the government's campaign to keep from the public certain information pertaining to the spread of the Algerian revolt against Paris control. The government Sunday extended censorship to all news distributed in France, although there still is no censorship on outgoing news.

KEEP SEARCHING FOR LOST BOY

MONTREAL (CP) — Troops, provincial police, RCMP and volunteer searchers slogged through rain-drenched Laurentian wilderness from daybreak to dark Sunday but failed to find frail Andrew Brown, 11, of suburban Verdun, who disappeared last Monday while on a fishing trip with his father.

Some of the searchers believed the boy, a non-swimmer, was drowned in the swift l'Assompiton River, but frogmen searched the bottom of the stream in vain.

B.C. Valuable Timber Blazing

VANCOUVER (CP) — Forest fires sprang up across British Columbia during the weekend in valuable timberlands dried by a month of hot sunshine.

More than 50 fires were reported Monday in Prinee George district and 1,500 men were at work on the firelines. More volunteers will be recruited during the day. The firefighterf feared a wind might spread the fires across many thousands of acres of timber.

In the Vancouver fire district 10 blazes were reported and three operations were closed because of the fire hazard. A forest service official said no general closure is anticipated.

Fires in the Prince George area already cover 25,000 acres and the hazard is described as "very grave." One of the worst fires is in an area 50 miles north of the city where flames leapt forward to the northeast.

Another serious fire was reported near Red Rock, 20 miles south of Prince George in territory accessible only by amphibious plane or helicopter. Two aircraft were to fly in with firefighters here.

Among the Vancouver district fires was one covering about 200 acres near the headwaters of the Homathko River and close to the Kamloops district boundary. A forest service aircraft surveyed the blaze.

ISLAND RESTRICTED

VICTORIA (CP)—A restricted industrial forest closure, brought on by unseasonably warm weather of the past two weeks, was ordered Monday by Lands and Forests Minister Ray Williston for the whole of the Vancouver forest district, effective from midnight tonight.

Under provisions of the closure, no industrial operation such as logging, sawmilling, mining, construction, or road clearing can be conducted within one-half mile of a forest or woodland except between the hours of midnight and 1 p.m.

Deputy forests minister Dr. C. D. Orchard, speaking on behalf of the minister, said "this closure action is imperative because of the consistently high forest fire hazard in the Vancouver district, and the meteorological forecasts indicating that no real relief can be expected in the immediate future."

Space Travel Not Likely

VICTORIA (CP) — There will be no space travel until a much better fuel than any known is developed, says Dr. R. M. Petrie, director of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory.

Dr. Petrie told a Victoria electric club meeting that the problem of fuel is holding up space travel.

"There will be no space travel until we find a much better fuel" he said. " . . . under present conditions a round trip to a nearby planet would exhaust the world's entire fuel supply."

On an average it requires 10,000 pounds of fuel to put one pound of payload into orbit. At that, they are getting close. "In the case of one orbiting satellite it was estimated that only 40 per cent more power would have been enough to send it to the moon," he said.

Free World Needs Vital Program—Diefenbaker

EDMONTON (CP) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker said Sunday night leaders of the free world must have a "positive and vital" program in the race for men's minds, instead of employing a "negative and defensive" policy designed to answer Soviet propaganda.

He said the time has come for a major offensive for the minds of men. A more positive and vital philosophy is needed to meet the challenge of communism.

Mr. Diefenbaker spoke to 1,500 delegates and visitors at the opening of the national convention of the Canadian Legion.

MUST BE STRONG

He said that in defence, the West must maintain its deterrent strength; in the economic sphere, it must formulate a policy of development for backward areas.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev "can no more resist the power of world opinion than can the democratic leaders, although favorable action will take longer."

He said it was good news to learn, a few days ago, that the Soviet Union had indicated it might be willing to participate in technical studies to examine how a suspension of nuclear tests might be supervised and policed.

Mr. Diefenbaker warned that while the West must have "a rigid regard for the goal of world peace," it must also be flexible in seeking that goal.

"But we cannot afford to remain muscle-bound in any one strategic posture or set in any one diplomatic attitude."

NEW COMMONS COMMITTEE

Mr. Diefenbaker told delegates earlier that a 40-member standing Commons committee on veterans affairs will be established at this session of Parliament.

He said he was "proud" of the legion's leaders because they had never attempted to lobby Parliament in efforts to gain benefits for veterans.

Mr. Diefenbaker flew here Sunday afternoon and left for Ottawa immediately after the opening. He flew to Saskatoon from Ottawa Saturday to visit his mother, 84-year-old Mrs. William T. Diefenbaker.

The prime minister was accompanied by Mrs. Diefenbaker and Veterans Affairs Minister Brooks who spoke to the convention Monday.

Mr. Diefenbaker's address followed an impressive memorial service on the platform of the Jubilee Auditorium, where a replica of the National War Memorial at Ottawa had been erected. A wreath was placed at the memorial by Mrs. C. H. Gerow of Edmonton, whose son was killed while serving with the RCAF in the Second World War.

Fisherman Invents Own Lure

OTTAWA (CP) — A fishing enthusiast who got tired of his plugs getting caught on logs and weeds has invented his own snag-proof lure.

Ottawa contractor John Hummel has manufactured a working model—a six - inch - long spoon with two concealed hooks. When a fish strikes, the hooks are released by a spring.

"I tested it last fall and it worked beautifully," he said on displaying the lure to an interviwer. "I caught northern pike and pickerel with it and never once got hooked in weeds or any underwater obstacle."

About one ounce of pressure on the lure releases the spring.

A button on the lure retracts the hooks so the bait can be removed easily from the fish's mouth.

The lure also has a tiny, built-in screw driver and a bottle opener.

Mr. Hummel is arranging to have the invention produced commercially. It will be manufactured in plastic with only the spring and hooks of steel. It can be produced as a plug, spinner, jointed plug or in practically any shape.

The only self-sealing asphalt shingles proved on over 300,000 homes — cost as little as $14.50 a month

Johns-Manville patented Seal-O-Matic Asphalt Shingles have a continuous stripe of special adhesive on the underside of each shingle. The sun's heat automatically seals down the entire shingle edge and bonds it so firmly that it holds fast even in gale winds. The continuous seal also prevents rain and snow from being driven up under the shingle and thereby causing leaks.

Freedomite Limelight Unfavourable to The West Kootenay Area

The limelight of Sons of Freedom publicity has once again fallen on this area—this time centering its focus on Princess Margaret's trip to this province.

According to a story carried by a prominent Coast newspaper, the Royal household is not in favor of the Princess touring West Kootenay because of possible Freedomite activities and one presumes the Royal advisers fear for the Princess' life.

While those who live in this area realize that this suggestion is carrying things too far, it is not difficult to understand apprehension in the minds of the Princess' household, which is not intimate with West Kootenay and must judge a situation by what news reaches it over the international press wires.

If, as we are led to believe by the Coast paper's story, the Princess' tour of this area is cancelled because of the fear of Freedomite activities, two salient facts will face the provincial government.

The most important is that steps must follow to eradicate the possibility of further threats to property or life in West Kootenay. The second is the need for accurate news reports in outside newspapers.

Those who live in West Kootenay are aware that many articles and stories reaching distant areas become so colored by drama and sensation that they lose similarity with the original incident.

The Freedomite problem of West Kootenay must never be minimized until it is solved, but a sane approach to it and the calm handling of news resulting from it are essential to the future well being of this area.

'Noninterference'; Eastern Style Roads Are the Key

In Moscow, Premier Khrushchev of the Soviet Union and President Nasser of the United Arab Republic (Egypt and Syria) have subscribed to a joint statement. It includes one paragraph of the high-sounding platitudes with which communism woos the unwary and some 10 paragraphs in which Mr. Nasser walks down the Russian foreign policy line.

With his Muscovite hosts he condemns "colonialism in all its manifestations," with apparently never a thought that the most contemporary and virulent manifestations of colonialism are taking place in such areas as Hungary and East Germany, with fingers of Communist expansionism clawing at Indonesia.

But first they declare themselves piously for "noninterference in any manner whatsoever with the internal affairs of any state."

During the very days in which this profession of noninterference with the internal affairs of other states was being drawn up, the government of Lebanon, under President Chamoun, was combatting riots, bombings, and other disorders which took a number of lives and which were patently directed toward destroying the pro-Western government of that key Middle Eastern country.

Besides constant vituperative outpourings of the official Cairo and Damascus radio, the Lebanese police and army have had to contend with infiltration by hundreds of armed men from across the Syrian border and with effects of money and intrigue from Egypt. Colonel Nasser and his junta may not be responsible for all these operations, though they have certainly fomented trouble in Iraq, Libya, and Saudi Arabia, and would not like it said they have less than full control in Egypt and Syria.

The rulers of the Soviet Union, for their part, have shown in the last two weeks that they dislike the fact their definitions of communism are not implicitly accepted by the avowedly Marxist head of another sovereign nation, Yugoslavia.

Nothwithstanding Moscow's frequent protestations that there are "no strings attached" to its economic aid to other countries, there is a strong hint that Yugoslavia may be left without $300 million worth of goods promised to it. President Nasser can hardly suppose that any Soviet-bloc trade or credit he has been offered is nonpolitical.

The official groups accompanying Premier Khrushchev and President Nasser doubtless felt very righteous in endorsing peaceful coexistence of states and self-determination of peoples. But their regimes are acting in the traditional manner of the most authentic imperialists when Pravda thunders that Yugoslavia must come into the "socialist camp" and when attempts are made to pull down governments from outside in the name of pan-Arabism.

A Plan To Encourage Good Students

A proposal that university fees should be reduced for high calibre students, made to the Cameron commission on education by the University of Alberta's entomoly department, has much to recommend it.

This would, of course, reduce university revenues to some extent. But it must be borne in mind that fees now being charged nowhere begin to meet the actual cost of operating the university anyway. This year, for example, the provincial budget provides $3,150,000 for University of Alberta running expenses, exclusive of capital outlays.

University fees have to be kept at reasonable levels because the students have to meet substantial living costs besides while attending the institution. Any reduction in student overall cost would be welcomed by young people who lack earning power and, in most cases, have to struggle against great financial odds to get a higher education. Reduction of fees would certainly inspire them to work for maximum grades and would have the effect of raising the university's levels of scholarship. This in turn would increase the return to the public on its investment in higher education.

Undoubtedly there is a great wastage of potential brain power in this country at present as a direct result of discouragements many young people face in looking toward a college education. Many young people who not only have the desire for a professional career but the natural abilities to match, are compelled by monetary reasons to forego college training. On the other hand, it may be presumed quite a few young people who have the wherewithal to finance university training, attend the institution at considerable cost to the public treasury but do not return to society very much in the way of scholarship or professional service.

It cannot be denied that young people who are sure of their ability and are absolutely determined to get higher education, usually manage to do so. But often it is at considerable cost to their health and social development. University life offers more than formal learning. It offers cultural and intellectual associations outside the lecture rooms. Students who have to pass these up in favor of part-time jobs are not getting as much as they should out of university. Scholarship, not earning power, should be more of a determining factor in getting to college and this plan of the entomology department is a move in that direction. It should be considered seriously.—Calgary Herald.

Slender Thread Of History

To the Editor:

Sir: This Centennial year gives cause to many to search back into the early days of Kootenay, and perhaps to give a thought also as to just how what we call history is composed, the written record, artifacts coupled with imagination and other factors give a clue, verbal evidence passed on from mouth to mouth and perhaps subsequently to find its way into writing.

A few days ago you published some comments on early days made by me at a pioneers' tea. I believe I mentioned the first white murder of record in Kootenay, that of Hammil by one Sproule at what is now Riondel. The bare facts seem well authenticated, the young engineer shot from ambush, the capture of Sproule by Anderson assisted by an Indian, conveyance of the accused man to Victoria, the trial, conviction and execution.

It may well be that research may reveal further information, but in its absence it seems a fair assumption that, as Anderson was at that time the sole representative of the law in all Kootenay, he took Sproule to Victoria, doubtless with some precautionary assistance. However this may be, I well remember some fifty years ago being told by J. C. Rykert that Sproule was taken to Victoria by one Paddy Miles, singlehanded, over the Eagle Pass trail. Some notes made at the time confirm this. Since Sproule was a desperate man, and perhaps none too sane, this must have been a feat in the best tradition of law enforcement.

Rykert could well know of this since he established a Canadian customs at the boundary in the early eighties and it may well be that it is only now and by this letter that this further detail of a past tragedy is transmitted on. It illustrates, if such be the case, how at times the facts of history are tied together by such slender threads.

LITTLE ROCK SEES INTEGRATED SCHOOL SERVICE

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—An historic graduation ceremony was held at Central High School Sunday night against a backdrop that resembled an armed camp. There was at least one racial incident.

About 120 armed national guardsmen and 100 policemen rolled into the school area shortly before the first racially integrated ceremony began.

The service went smoothly on the floodlit field at Central High, the scene of rioting last September when nine Negroes entered the school.

As some 1,500 persons, including 25 Negro visitors, filed outside the stadium a white youth spat at one of the Negroes. He was arrested by city police, charged with disturbing the peace and released on $200 bond.

A photographer for the Arkansas Democrat who tried to take pictures of the incident was almost slugged by a white woman. Officers took him away from other hostile whites.

Nearly an hour before the ceremony seven Negroes were arrested in a car a few blocks from the stadium. All were booked for disturbing the peace and two were charged with carrying a concealed weapon—a gun and a knife. All were released under bond.

Says Russians Could Swamp West by '68

ELLIOT LAKE, Ont. (CP)—Dr. S. W. Holmes, a geologist who recently took part in a two-week tour of Russia with other Canadian industrial leaders, said Monday the Western nations have only about 10 years remaining to start competing with the Soviets or else "they will swamp us."

Dr. Holmes, chief geologist of Consolidated Denison Mines Limited and Can-Met Explorations Limited, said in an interview that he and the group of men with him on the tour felt keen alarm at the technological progress they had seen.

He returned here last Thursday.

"The Russians are really rolling," he said. "If we don't smarten up they will soon roll right over us."

"They have taken all we have learned and improved on it. It scares you to think of it. We have about 10 years to compete with this progress before we are swamped."

Dr. Holmes was the only foreigner ever permitted to visit a Soviet uranium mine. He was flown by aircraft to a uranium complex in the Ukraine where he was allowed to visit the underground workings and surface operations of the plant.

The mine he saw produced approximately 1,000-1,500 tons per day.

"They are working on processes over there that we haven't even begun to think about," he said.

Tunisian Rebels Demand French Forces Get Out

TUNIS, Tunisia (AP)—Tunisian demonstrators streamed into sun-baked streets Monday demanding anew that French forces get out of this North African country.

Their protests were sparked by renewed weekend fighting between French and Tunisian troops in Remada, in the southern Tunisian desert. The fighting there had stopped.

Demonstrations in Tunis carried over from Sunday. There were more reported in Bizerte and the olive-growing sections of Tozeur and Degsache in south central Tunisia. The demonstrations were vociferous but orderly.

President Habib Bourguiba was scheduled to make another radio broadcast to his people later in the day. He declared a state of emergency for all Tunisia Sunday after fighting at Remada swelled. French planes bombed and strafed Tunisian positions 25 miles north of Remada.

Five French soldiers were killed and 14 wounded as the French military commander at Remada tried to break through Tunisian roadblocks.

Fighting at Gafsa in central Tunisia also was reported to have ceased after Tunisian troops fired on planes landing on a French airstrip.

Baby's Body Hidden In Trunk 11 Years

NEW BOSTON, Tex. (AP) — A former United States Army nurse was held for murder Monday in the death of a baby whose body police said was kept in a trunk for 11 years.

Sheriff W. J. Watlington laid a murder charge late Sunday against auburn-haired Mrs. Rose Powers, 46.

The sheriff quoted her as telling police she bore the child illegitimately 11 years ago. He said her only explanation for keeping the body was: "I just couldn't bear to get rid of it."

Watlington said her husband, Elburn Powers, 42, called police after discovering the body in his wife's steel foot locker Saturday night.

He said the partly decomposed body, packed amid clothing with a preservative powder, was surprisingly well preserved.

Chalk River Atomic-Reactor Put Out of Action for Third Time

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's powerful NRU atomic reactor at the Chalk River, Ont., atomic establishment was knocked out of action Saturday night following a rare accident which contaminated the building housing it with radioactive dust.

Atomic Energy of Canada Limited, Crown company that operates the huge atomic project, said no one was injured in the accident. However, the $57,000,000 reactor, which goes by the code name NRU, likely will shut down for three or four weeks.

This is the third time that reactors at Chalk River have been shut down because of accidents.

The famed NRX reactor was knocked out of commission twice.

The first accident occurred on Dec. 12, 1952. The reactor was idle for 14 months and was so badly damaged it had to be completely rebuilt.

The $11,000,000 NRX reactor broke down the first time when aluminum tubes, holding water used to cool the pile's energy producing uranium rods, sprang several leaks. It went back into operation 14 months later in February, 1954.

On July 25, 1955, NRX broke down a second time when a special fuel rod, being tested, contaminated the 30-foot atomic pile. This breakdown lasted seven weeks.

FUEL ROD BLAZES

Atomic Energy of Canada said the Saturday accident happened when a piece of uranium fuel rod caught fire after it had been removed from the reactor.

The reactor had been shut down in the normal way to remove a defective rod. This operation proved difficult and part of the rod broke off and caught fire.

"The fire was quickly extinguished but in the meantime radioactive dust was spread throughout the interior of the NRU building," the company said.

An official of the company said the accident was the first of its type at Chalk River. He said the fire likely was caused when oxidized uranium on the outside of the rod burst into flames.

The official explained that oxidized metal or metal shavings will burn in concentrated heat. This was one reason why oil is used to cool any metal when it is being machined.

Before the NRU reactor can be started up again it will be necessary for the entire interior of the 12-storey reactor building to be radioactive dust cleaned up.

GEAR NOT DAMAGED

The reactor and the rod removal equipment were not damaged by the accident. The area surrounding the reactor building was not contaminated and work is proceeding normally in other buildings.

However, a road between the reactor building and a waste disposal area became contaminated when some material was spilled during Sunday's cleanup operation.

NRU went into operation last Nov. 1. It is probably the free world's most powerful atomic test reactor.

De Gaulle Leads Secluded Life In Country Chateau

By EDDY GILMORE

COLOMBEY France (AP)—Across the dusty road from where Gen. Charles de Gaulle sits awaiting a call to lead France, an old sign reads:

"No beggars allowed in this village."

Colombey - les - Deux - Eclises (Colombey of the Two Churches) has erupted into the news from centuries of rural slumber.

Well aware that the 67-year-old general is their first citizen, many villagers now regard him as the central figure of France, if not the universe.

There are dissenters, of course, among the population's 400 souls.

De Gaulle's house was converted into a home from a brewery about 50 years ago.

The general bought it in 1920 when he was a young cavalry officer stationed at nearby Metz. It was 1934, however, before de Gaulle moved into his country home with two acres of wooded grounds beside a village road.

"The first sign we knew that the Germans were getting close," said a villager, "was one night in 1940 when the general suddenly departed."

When the Wehrmacht came, two artillery batteries were stationed in the village and officers occupied the de Gaulle home.

The general and his family returned shortly after the war and have remained here since. They live quietly and few of the peasants know the general.

TWICE A YEAR

"He shakes our hands twice a year," said one old man. "On July 14 (Bastille Day, France's national day) and on Nov. 11."

On the two holidays de Gaulle usually makes a short speech at the war memorial.

Ask any villagers how de Gaulle spends his time, and he'll reply:

"Writing his memoirs. He's always writing his memoirs."

Since the austere general offered to lead France out of its present difficulties, security police have appeared in the sleepy village.

They stand in the road before the villa gates, in the fields about the house, and beside the hedges and fences that hem it in

Three hundred yards away at the village hall 30 guards are stationed. Some villagers think the French government has placed the security police around de Gaulle as much to watch him as to guard him.

Seven Drown In Vain Effort To Save Child

ROCKPORT, Tex. (AP)—Struggles of a drowning child drew 10 rescuers off a sunny beach late Sunday and seven persons perished, including the little girl the others tried to save.

Drowned were the little girl, a United States Air Force chaplain, the little girl's mother and four other children.

The tragic sequence started after Janice Bailey, 9, stepped into a deep hole off the small public beach opposite this Texas port on the Gulf of Mexico.

Chaplain Leonard Berry, 40, dived in.

The father of another child, who also drowned, and Janice's mother, Mrs. Mary Bailey, 26, followed. Efforts to help were made by seven other children, including the four who went down.

ARRIVES TOO LATE

Wayne Bailey, an airman from Foster Air Force Base at neighboring Victoria, Tex., was in the crowd of more than 3,000 persons who saw the bodies of his wife and daughter pulled from the water.

Rockport Fire Chief Dick Fox identified these other dead:

David Curby, 7; Margarita Torres, 11; and Aurélia Tomas, 10.

Joining in the vain rescue attempt was Concepcion Tomas, who saw a little girl thrashing in the water and dashed from his parked car. He arrived too late to reach Janice or his own daughter.

Resuscitation efforts were fruitless.

Fox said 30 emergency corpsmen, swimming or in boats, joined in the rescue attempts. Twenty others aided on the beach with a respirator.

Panama Talks Break Down

PANAMA (AP) — Strong National Guard patrols restored calm in Panama during the weekend but talks between protesting students and the government apparently broke down over new student demands.

The students rioted last week. They demanded President Ernesto de la Guardia Jr. fire his education minister for what they called bad administration and three National Guard chiefs for trying to halt student demonstrations. Eleven persons were killed in a destructive rampage Thursday.

The students withdrew those demands during the weekend, but the president told reporters the students insisted now that everybody jailed after the rioting should be released as a condition to further peace negotiations.

De la Guardia said suspected sniper who moved in on the rioting could not be released. He promised, however, that there would be no reprisals against student demonstrators.

About 500 students remained barricaded in the national university.

The National Assembly ratified the government's 30-day suspension of constitutional rights under a state of siege declared to restore order.

Woman's Voice Important as Makeup He Says

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Feminine chatter has more far-reaching effects than most people realize, says Peter Dearing, artistic director of the London Little Theatre.

He told a women's meeting here: "Speech patterns are mostly founded on listening to women talk. A child learns from its mother the first instincts of speech."

Women should take as much care with the sound of their voices as with their appearance, he said.

"The human voice can sound exquisite when properly trained, but few persons have any knowledge of its value."

Mr. Dearing asserted that few women are good public speakers because their voices are either too weak, or too penetrating. He suggested that a tape recorder might be used to detect and to correct faults in speech.

Water Rats Scare Girl Scientist

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (CP) — Miss Aola Mary Richards of Auckland has been awarded what must be one of the hardest-earned doctorates of philosophy in history. For the last six years she has been studying Cave Wetas—creatures somewhat resembling a huge brown grasshopper.

To do so she has had to stalk them at night with a flashlight in the layryinth of the Waitomo Caves, 120 miles from Auckland.

"It wasn't really creepy," Dr. Richards declared nonchalantly. "Cave Wetas grow to about 15 inches, but they don't bite or slash you with their back legs like ordinary Wetas. But they do jump into the air when disturbed, and that frightens people.

"What I didn't like in the caves were the water rats. They are huge things as big as cats. Once, one even got into the boat I was working from. I got to the stage where I would never go into the caves without a stick."

Guides Plan Box Lunch Social at Camp

TRAIL — Monthly meeting of the Guide and Brownie Guider training session was held at East Trail Guide Hall. Mrs. A. Rizzuto, West Kootenay divisional trainer, conducted a question and answer period. She reviewed songs of past season, both for Guides and Brownies, asking each Guide to suggest a song they wished to appear on a new song sheet to be compiled.

Discussion took place on the plans for Colls cup first aid competition to be held at Gyro Park later this month. This competition, judged by St. John Ambulance safety men, is open to the Castlegar district, East Trail district and the Trail-Rossland district. It is hoped parents and friends will turn out to support the Guides.

The highlight of the evening was a film in color and sound of the international Baden-Powell centennial at Doe Lake, Ont., last summer. Several members of the West Kootenay division Girl Guides were in attendance at this centennial camp.

As the season is rapidly drawing to a close for the packs and companies, camping will be the next adventure. With this in mind the final training session will take the form of an old fashined box lunch social June 18 at Scout Camp Tweedsmuir on the Trail-Fruitvale highway.

It is hoped all Guides and Badge secretaries of West Division from each district will make up a lunch and plan to be there. Ice cream, coffee and tea will be supplied by the local associations.

Aussie Girl Shows Women Not Weak Sex

WINNIPEG (CP)—Anyone who still thinks women are the weaker sex might have a changed opinion after hearing the daily routine of Rosemary Lucas, an Australian farm girl now visiting Canada.

Her family runs a 60 - acre dairy farm near Armidale, 365 miles north of Sydney in New South Wales.

There, her day starts at 4:15 a.m. with the milking of 30 cows.

"Mother and I do the milking in the morning, feed the cows and scrub all utensils, then we return to the house to prepare breakfast, served at 8 o'clock," she said in an interview.

"Following breakfast, I take the cows to the paddocks for green pasture feed, check and repair equipment and tattoo or brand cattle, of which we have 80 head, pedigreed jerseys."

Then she does some gardening, any painting that is necessary, or perhaps works in the kitchen.

Miss Lucas says that in her free time she does junior farmer work, similar to the 4-H club work of North America. She does needlework or prepares cattle for exhibition. She has collected 500 prizes for her efforts and has so many ribbons she made a bedspread out of them.

Now 23, she won her trip to North America in a contest for junior farmers run by the Rural Bank of New South Wales. After visiting Canada she will go to Britain, Scandinavia and Western Europe.

Your Individual HOROSCOPE

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes, and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Wednesday, May 28, 1958

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) —The position of Mars, somewhat inauspicious, suggests that you pull in the reins a little and check whether you are following the best road. If not, change your course. And don't strive for the unreasonable.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus)—This day's mixed influences offer opportunity — but also opposition. Feel your way carefully when presenting new ideas or methods.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini) — A new twist or idea could make the difference between a good performance and simple mediocrity now. Results can be bettered through extra effort and careful regard for details. You Can achieve!

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer)—Some excellent opportunities are available to shrewd, alert Cancerites now. Maintain an upper-level outlook and be ready to act when they are presented. Your fine Moon aspect should prove an inspiration.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo)—Strong, benefic rays for you ambitious, determined folks. Maintain your inherent good-nature and sense of humor in all matters and your day will end well.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — Mixed influences now, but you can make headway if you recognize all good possibilities. An elastic mind and careful study of all situations will prove beneficial.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra)— Pause to consider the day's tasks, then handle in the order of their importance. Set your goals according to your capacity to deliver, and you should achieve — in spite of possible pressures.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 22 (Scorpio) — Curb your desire to get-on-with-it. Haste often makes waste. Better to follow a more leisurely pace and be right than be led into mistakes, wrong methods.

NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius) — A better day than it may seem at first. However, you may have to cope with some indisposition on the part of others, so make up your mind that you'll do so — with a smile and tolerance.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn) — The position of Saturn now indicates a need for working at top capacity. Leave no room for irritability, moodiness if you hope to reach worthwhile goals.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius) — Go after those opportunities; they are available. Capitalize on your aptitudes, mental gifts. A good aspect of Uranus indicates advancement.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces) — Don't hamper your own progress through minor distractions, petty irritations, or by lack of confidence. Here is a day in which the determined can succeed.

YOU BORN TODAY are versatile, active, sensitive, intuitive; can rise to an emergency with remarkable aptitude and strength but may, normally, deplete your energies by working sporadically. You are especially fitted for journalism, activities connected with travel; also invention, advertising, politics. You can never work under dull or monotonous conditions or you lose interest quickly. You may appear confident; often are not. Develop your talents; make only sacrifices that are reasonable, protecting your own health. Birthdate of: Thomas Moore, Irish poet; Louis Agassiz, Swiss naturalist; William Pitt, English statesman.

Mrs. F. Merriam New E.K. WI President

LISTER—More than 60 Canadian visitors registered at the East Kootenay Women's Institutes convention at Deer Lodge hall.

Guest speakers were Mrs. E. J. Roylance, president of B.C. Women's Institutes, Mrs. J. O. Decker, vice-president, and local speakers Mrs. L. A. Hobden, Mrs. J. C. Helme and Mrs. A. Marzke.

During the convention, members were taken to points of interest in the Creston Valley and were served tea during their tour.

Slides of her trip around the world were shown by Mrs. Stella E. Gummow, superintendent of B.C. Women's Institutes, who also gave an address. The pictures were titled "Associated Countrywomen of the World." Mrs. Len Huscroft was projectionist.

Reports of 1957 work done by each institute were read by Mrs. J. Cardinal, Arrow Creek; Mrs. W. Robinson, Creston; Mrs. F. Merriam, Wynndel; Mrs. Sinclair of Flagstone; Mrs. A. Marzke, Lister, and Mrs. Lockhart, Invermere. Mrs. Gummow complimented each institute on its fine community work. A recess was taken for a delicious buffet-style dinner.

Officers elected were: Mrs. F. Merriam, Wynndel, president; Mrs. S. Salansky, Flagstone, vice-president; Mrs. W. Robinson, Creston, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. A. Marzke, Lister, director; Mrs. Lockhart, Invermere, director.

Brief talks on provincial board functions, publicity and the Centennial Cookbook were given by Mrs. J. O. Decker, Mrs. E. G. Woodward, Mrs. R. C. Palmer and Mrs. Clyde White of Pemberton, Brentwood Bay, Kelowna and Nelson respectively.

Miss Eunice Meakin, extension home agent of Bonner's Ferry, Idaho, gave an account of the American equivalent of Women's Institutes. The woodwork and needlework contest brought varied and interesting exhibits. Judging on the woodwork only was done. Creston placed first with a lovely applewood and birchbark lamp; Flagstone second, with a prehistoric bird fashioned from a tree-root, and Windermere third with a root-base lamp.

Remarks of welcome were offered by John Bird. Mrs. J. A. Hobden presented guests with boutonnieres of apple blossoms and maple leaves.

Mrs. M. K. Powers was in charge of registration and president Mrs. Selensky gave a few remarks.

Young People Conduct Service

The entire evening service Sunday at the First Baptist Church was conducted by the Young Peoples' Association of the church with Terry Westgate, one-time premier of B.C. Boys' Parliament, leading the service.

Judy Ferworn spoke on the sermon title "Why Call Ye Me Lord, Lord" and Elaine Ogden read the testament lesson. Song service was conducted by Verena Krieg and Phyllis Smith led the congregation in the responsive lesson. Visitors were welcomed at the door by Rosalee Spray and ushers were Bob Wood and Ed Trask, who also took up the offering.

Following the service the group, with a number of guests, took part in a time of fellowship and enjoyed refreshments at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Gibson. During the fellowship period, Jack Fleming, who is taking a course in psychiatric nursing at Ponoka, Alta., showed movies of his recent trip to England.

Crippled Mother Does Housework From Chair

VANCOUVER (CP)—Using all sorts of gadgets, Mrs. Verda Betts, a widow and mother of two children, does all of her housework from a wheel-chair.

Mrs. Betts, 45, and her two children have a happy, smoothly operating home life even though she is crippled by arthritis.

Four years ago she was bedridden in a Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society clinic and pluckily prepared for her return home as a cripple. Therapists showed her how she could maintain her independence as a home-maker.

The children, Norman, 14, and Caroline, 20, help her as much as they can.

As an infant, Norman used to wedge himself between the back of the couch and his mother's stiffened body to push her off the couch and thus help her to her feet.

Therapists helped Mrs. Betts devise self - help articles that allow her to do her housework.

They made a short - handled broom and a long-handled dustpan—both about 30 inches—for cleaning floors from the wheelchair.

A twisted coat-hanger stretched out about 18 inches with the hook at one end enables her to pull baking and roasts from her oven, move cooking to the side of the stove and slide plates across the table.

All pots and pans have handle hooks so she can lift them off shelves with ease.

A small serving table on wheels the height of her kitchen table and slightly lower than the stove allows her to slide pots off the stove and serve at the table.

Recently Mrs. Betts began working in an Arthritis and Rheumatism Society craft shop and made her first stuffed animal for sale. This helps regain the mobility of her stiffened fingers.

Her home wheel - chair is a kitchen chair mounted on wheels. With it she can move easily through doorways, into closets and corners of her home.

MARKET TRENDS

NEW YORK (AP) — Rails advanced on hopes that their excise taxes would be repealed but the stock market as a whole was mixed Monday. Late profit-taking checked the rising trend.

Steels were early pacemakers as they rose on brighter prospects for output and demand. The price of scrap was boosted and production was up.

Rails joined them in leadership after the Senate commerce committee approved a program to help this ailing industry, recommending repeal of the three-per-cent tax on freight transportation and the 10-per-cent tax on passengers.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks closed unchanged at $169.60 with industrials down 10 cents, rails up 90 cents and utilities down 30 cents.

Canadian issues showing gains were Hudson Bay Mining ¾, McIntyre Porcupine, ¼, and Canadian Pacific and International, both ⅛ higher. Aluminium Ltd. lost ½, Granby Mining ⅛ and Walker-Gooderham ⅛.

Prices were also mixed on the American exchange. Canadian stocks on the plus side were Preston East Dome 7-16, Shawinigan ⅛, and by smaller margins, Sapphire Petroleums and Scurry-Rainbow Oil. Lower were Brazilian Traction, ¼ and Fargo Oil by a minor fraction.

TORONTO (CP) — The stock market was mixed to higher Monday in light trading.

Western oils were off all day.

Final volume was 2,563,000 shares, well down from Friday's 3,499,000.

Base metals, led by senior mines, sent their index to 153.81, a 1958 high, surpassing a mark set March 14 by .16 decimal points.

Industrials moved in a narrow range, with most gains less than one point. Among the winners were British American Oils, CPR Canada Cement, International Nickel and Ford A. Steels were the heaviest losers.

Losses among golds were small with few index issues recording any big turnover. Western Oils continued the profit taking that apparently only eased off at the close Friday. Home Oil B slipped ¾ point at 18¾ while Pacific Pete and Royalite each were off ⅛ point.

MONTREAL (CP)—Prices on the Montreal and Canadian Stock Exchanges were generally stronger Monday at the close of moderate trading.

Breweries, papers and miscellaneous stocks were up. International Paper was 1½ stronger at 93. Canadian Celanese slipped ¾ to 14¼ and Anglo-Canadian Pulp was down 1 at 26.

Other industrial groups were mixed to slightly stronger. McColl climbed ⅜ to 56⅞, and Home Oil B slipped a similar amount to 18¾.

Penny and producing mines as well as Western oils, were mixed. Central Del Rio picked up 15 cents at 8.05. Opemiska lost 15 cents at 8.15 and Bailey-Selburn A was down 40 cents at 9.50.

Closing averages: Banks up .01 at 49.75, utilities off .2 at 140, industrials up 1 at a new high of 255.4, combined up .6 at a new high of 216.9, papers up 5.6 at 1110.04 and golds off .11 at 71.27.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Brooks Outlines NHI Plan Concerning War Veterans

EDMONTON (CP) — Veterans Affairs Minister A. J. Brooks said Monday national hospital insurance will not bring a reduction in special services to veterans.

He said although the plans provide for all necessary hospitalization, the government has no intention of ducking any of its responsibility to veterans.

Mr. Brooks said veterans' hospitals in provinces taking part in the plan will be recognized for the provision of insured services to veterans.

"This means that many of the services now provided to veteran patients, at the expense of the veteran himself, will be provided in future in DVA hospitals, at the expense of the plan," he said.

The minister spoke to the national convention of the Canadian Legion, opened here Sunday night by Prime Minister Diefenbaker.

Mr. Brooks said the federal government will pay hospital insurance premiums for recipients of war veterans' allowances, in provinces participating in the hospital insurance plan.

He said that for such patients, hospitalization in a DVA hospital or elsewhere will be at the expense of the plan. CO-insurance charges, where they apply, and medical and surgical costs will be at the expense of the department.

PLAN TO COVER COST

Other veterans will be admitted to hospitals, subject to accommodation being available, and the cost of their hospital will be recovered through the plan.

"This will help to ease the load on other hospital accommodation in these problems."

The extension of services, he said, would not mean hospital facilities for veterans will be extended "beyond the limits to citizens of any province who are non-veterans."

He said veterans treatment regulations will be retained in their present form for veterans in provinces which do not take part in the national hospital insurance scheme, or for those who for some reason are not covered by a provincial plan.

SIU Considers Peace Offers

OTTAWA (CP)—Proposals for arbitration of the West Coast shipping strike are under consideration, Labor Minister Starr said Monday.

He told the Commons that he understands they have been accepted by the Canadian Pacific Steamships "under certain conditions" and that the reaction of the striking Seafarers' International Union is being awaited.

Mr. Starr did not indicate the nature of the proposals, or who made them. He said the development occurred during the weekend.

He added that his department is keeping in constant touch with the situation.

The May 16 strike of about 300 SIU members has largely tied up the Canadian Pacific's West Coast fleet of 10 ships. The union is seeking wage increases.

Are you using your settlement options?
At one time life insurance policyowners had no option. Policy proceeds were paid in cash — in one lump sum. Beneficiaries faced all the dangers and problems that go with managing a large sum of money.
Today most life insurance policies have "built-in" income options that will give your beneficiary a continuous income without investment worries. For example — you can arrange with your life insurance company to pay a monthly income for 10 years, 15 years or for a lifetime.
The Man from Manufacturers can show you how settlement options can increase your policy benefits as much as 25% without increasing premiums. Give him a call today for more information on this valuable life insurance "extra".

Ranger Scout Provides Stars for Summer Game

Ed Bruchet, coach of Lethbridge Native Sons before sponsor Emil Sick dropped the Lethbridge franchise in the Western Canada Junior Hickey League, has made arrangements to supply professional hockey players for the Summer Hockey Game which will highlight this year's Nelson Midsummer Bonspiel.

Vic Stasiuk, Earl Ingarfield, Les Colwill, Howie Yanosik, Billy Dea and Dick Lamoureax have been lined up by Bruchet, and Gus Adams, who contacted the New York Ranger scout, said Ed is trying to line up a few more.

Almost every player mentioned played for Bruchet in junior hockey, and others — Ray Kinasewich and Jim Powers were mentioned — have had contact with him through the years. All except Stasiuk, Kinasewich and Dea are Ranger farmhands.

Stasiuk played on Boston Bruins' famed "Uke Line" last season, scoring 20 goals on a line with Bronco Horvath and Johnny Bucyk.

Dea, a 5'7" hard-rock forward for Chicago Black Hawks, is the only other National Hockey Leaguer in the group, but NHL scouts are reportedly high on the prospects of Yanosik and Ingarfield as stars of the future. Yanosik split last season between Hershey Bears of the American Hockey League and Edmonton Flyers of the Western Hockey League, while Ingarfield was one of Winnipeg Warriors' highest scorers in WHL play.

Colwill toiled for Brandon-St. Paul Regals, while Powers spent the season with the WHL playoff champion Vancouver Canucks. Kinasewich, of course, is a high-scoring rightwinger with Seattle Americans and odds-on in the near future to line up with Detroit Red Wings.

Kinasewich is well-remembered as an outstanding star on the 1954-55 Nelson Maple Leafs, when Rangers had a working agreement with the Western International Hockey League squad.

The SHORT CIRCUIT

By JOHN SHORT
Sports Editor

Only a few years ago, general-managers of baseball clubs were virtually unknown and unheard of as newspaper copy, but sports writers have undergone a change of mind in recent years and now general-managers—with names like Frank Lane, George Weiss, Roy Hamey, Paul Richards—are almost personal friends.

And for as long as general-managers have basked in the sunlight of popular opinion, they have been referred to as "genial GM's."

Some of them, of course, are genial only on the surface, and all of them are hard-headed, quick-thinking business men to whom winning is—and has to be—a way of life.

Such a man is Spencer Harris, general-manager of Spokane Indians. If ever a man deserved the tag "genial", Spencer Harris is one. This reporter met Spencer Harris Saturday night during the Vancouver-Spokane doubleheader and found him to be a highly-intelligent baseball man.

Of course, my opinion means little when compared with a statement by a career man such as Paul Richards. But Richards said first that Harris is a fine baseball man, and others have repeated the statement since.

If Richards said it, that's good enough for me, because to my mind, he's the ablest general-manager of them all, with full respect to George Weiss and his high - priced counterparts who adorn the front-offices of other major-league operations.

But back to Harris. He's a stocky, friendly man, with grey hair and an accent that smacks of New York State, and he always has time to stop for a moment or longer to answer a question, no matter how irrevelant.

Spencer Harris is one of many reasons why Spokane Indians, half-a-game out of the Pacific Coast League cellar, are well up toward the top in home attendance, and my opinion is that they'll stay there.

Spokane's new franchise needs player help, make no mistake about that either. And they'll get it, make no mistake about that either.

It is not a great baseball club, this one that moved from Los Angeles to Spokane, but it should finish in the first division. Manager Goldie Holt is new to me, and certain fans are not satisfied with him, but Harris is, and he makes the decisions.

The two Saturday night games seen by Nelson visitors on the weekend Cavalcade to Spokane were the type guaranteed to entice first-time visitors back to the Fairgrounds park. The park itself is a masterpiece, constructed in only 70 days and it would be possible to expand it to eventually hold as many as 15,000 fans if the demand arose.

Harris did one thing that made himself a popular man in Nelson, and he did it without fanfare. In a discussion, a bystander mentioned that Elwin Owen's son, Chuck was a ball fan, and Spencer promptly did something to console the boy for missing the games. He had the Indians autograph a ball and sent it to the Fire Chief, who brought it home.

No wonder Spencer Harris is known as Spokane's "genial GM." And no wonder Spokane Indians are drawing fans by the bucketfull, because Spencer Harris is a public-relations man who realizes the fans are necessary to his club's successful operation.

I hope, and most Nelson residents hope, too, that the fans keep coming.

MONTREAL (CP) — Hockey player Camille Henry and singer Dominique Michel were married Monday in a quiet ceremony.

Henry, 25, is one of the National Hockey League's outstanding players while his bride is well known as a concert hall and television star.

Nelson Splits Double-Bill With Thrums

Nelson's Senior Men's Softball team split an exhibition doubleheader at Thrums Sunday, winning the first game 2-1 and dropping the nightcap 8-1.

George McFarlane,s 15-strikeout performance was tops in the first game, and he belted a pair of triples to drive in the winning run in the opener.

Don Ball's control departed from him on occasion in the nightcap, and Fred Hoodicoff backed Bill Perehudoff's fine hurling with a long run and a pair of other safeties.

Both Nelson and Thrums are in the West Kootenay Senior Softball Leauge. No schedule of leauge games has yet been released, coach Bernie Law said Monday.

Close Scores Mark Major League Play

By The Canadian Press

Murry Dickson clouted a 10th-inning lead-off homer after overcoming a four-run deficit in a relief role Monday night to lead Kansas City Athletics to a 5-4 American League victory over Baltimore Orioles in a battle of home runs.

It was the only afternoon game scheduled in either of the major leagues. There were two National League night games, Milwaukee Braves topping Chicago Cubs 4-3 and the cellar-dwelling Los Angeles Dodgers edging Philadelphia Phillies 2-1.

Dickson took over in the fourth, relieving starter Ralph Terry after Terry tossed a home-run ball to Jim Busby with the bases loaded. From then on, Dickson pitched four-hit ball.

In the Kansas City half of the fourth Bill Martyn hit a homer with Mike Baxes on base by virtue of a single. The Athletics got another run in the fourth on a double by Hector Lopez, an error and a force-out. Then Harry Chiti led off the fifth for the As with a round-tripper over the left field fence.

THIRD OF CAREER

That ended the scoring until Dickson's blast in the 10th. It was only the second time at bat this year for the veteran reliefer.

The homer was only the third of the 41-year-old Dickson's major league career. The last time he accomplished the feat was in a losing effort with Philadelphia Phillies against the Chicago Cubs on May 19, 1955.

In the 6 2/3 innings he pitched Dickson struck out four and issued no walks. The victory gave him a 3-1 record.

Cliff Johnson was the loser for Baltimore, retiring after five innings, with four runs in, in favor of Arnold Portocarrera.

In Milwaukee, the Braves rode to victory on the strength of a three-run homer by Frank Torre and a tie-breaking homer by Eddie Mathews.

Torre's second homer of the season, in the fourth inning, came after Billy Bruton singled and Mathews walked. Mathews' lead-off round tripper in the eigth gave the Cubs' Moe Drabowsky his fifth loss against two victories this season.

Don McMahon was credited with the victory, his third of the season.

Righthander Carl Erskine hurled a two-hitter at Philadelphia as the lowly Dodgers beat the Phillies. He had a no-hit game going until leftfielder Chuck Essegian smashed a single to left field in the sixth inning.

Willie Jones got the only other Philly hit, a single to centre filed in the eighth. He was scored on a sacrifice fly. Dodgers were playing their first game this season in the east.

Robin Roberts, the loser, gave up six hits. The defeat broke his three-game winning streak and left his record at 4-5.

Giants' .293 Batting Mark League's Highest

NEW YORK (AP) — A year ago Monday Bill Rigney's New York Giants were stuck in sixth place in the National League with 19-20 won-lost record. Their team batting average was .255 and they had a total of 35 homers.

Monday with a 2½-game lead in the pennant scramble while representing San Francisco, the Giants also were miles and miles ahead of their club and individual batting performances for 1957.

This was the situation after games of Sunday, May 25:

In 39 games of which they've won 25, the Giants have a club batting mark of .293—by far the best in the major leagues. They have walloped 58 homers, also a major league high.

Individually, the Giants have three players among the first 10 in the batting competition. They are Willie Mays, who shows a nifty .401 percentage, Daryl Spencer at .342 and rookie Orlando Cepeda at .331.

ALSO LEAD HOMERS

The three Giant pacesetters also are among the league leaders in home runs and runs batted in. Mays and Frank Thomas of Pittsburgh share the home run lead with 13 apiece. Cepeda has 12 and Spencer nine. Spencer and Mays, with 33 runs batted in each, are one behind Thomas in the RBI race. Cepeda is close with 32.

Mays dropped from .406 to .401 in last week's games. But the brilliant centre fielder picked up ground on league-leading Stan Musial of St. Louis. Musial collected nine hits in 24 tries (a .375 pace) and dropped from .476 to .457.

In the American League, Bob Nieman of Baltimore held his batting lead. After Monday's games, the veteran outfielder sported a .392 average. He climbed three points in last week's action.

Preston Ward of Cleveland was second with .367.

Outlaws Host To Trail Tonight

Nelson Outlaws made arrangements with Spokane baseball clubs for a home-and-home series while touring the Inland Empire city with the Midsummer Bonspiel cavalcade over the weekend.

The Outlaw team members took in the Pacific Coast League game while there and also arranged a series with Fairchild Air Base and Spokane Mercurys of the Twilight League.

Tonight, a game postponed from Sunday to allow the Outlaws to take part in the Spokane festivities, will be played at the Civic recreation grounds against Trail Smokies.

At Spokane, the team car bore printed slogans and players wore their ball shirts for the parade.

Kobluk Replaces Anderson As Smoke Eater President

TRAIL—With Jimmy Anderson vacating his position as president of Trail Smoke Eaters for the 1958-59 Western International Hockey League season, Joe Kobluk was elected president at the club's annual meeting Thursday night.

Kobluk was club vice-president last year. Anderson, who was named to the executive in an honorary advisory capacity, left the executive to take over his duties as secretary of the British Columbia Amateur Hockey Association.

Anderson, in his annual report, said the club wound up with a profit of $37.26. Anderson gave credit to the Trail-Tadanac Parks Board for their slight profit.

Eric Hewitt was named to the board of directors, joining Ugo DeBiasio and Bill DeBiasio and Bill Waddell. DeBiasio replaced Ernie Cook as secretary-treasurer.
