Nehru Rejects Red Claims To North Indian Territory

Strong Protest Sent to Peking

By PETER JACKSON

NEW DELHI (Reuters)—Prime Minister Nehru Wednesday forwarded a strong protest to Communist China rejecting its claims to Indian territory on the northern frontier.

A few hours later, Nehru told 100 Parliamentary members of his Congress Party that "every possible step will be taken" to defend Indian soil against Chinese incursions.

The party members, at a 3½-hour private session, told the prime minister India is in a mood to defend its territory "at any cost."

Nehru declared India must remain non-aligned in regard to power blocks.

He said all countries except Communist China want to end the cold war.

MISLED BY REDS

Nehru is understood to have confessed he was completely misled by Chinese professions of friendship. It also is understood he told the private meeting that "thousands" of Chinese Communist troops actually are in Indian territory.

In reply to members' questions Nehru said the possibility of a joint defence policy with Pakistan did not arise. But, he added, the current improvement in relations with Pakistan is a great help in the present situation.

A Congress spokesman said Nehru was asked about the call by the former army chief of staff Gen. K. M. Cariappa, for immediate action to drive the Chinese out of Indian territory.

The spokesman said Nehru replied the general's statement was "not appropriate."

NOT SATISFIED

It was understood most members left the meeting dissatisfied with the government's policy. Further meetings are expected.

Full details of the protest note were not given. Reliable sources said India demanded the immediate withdrawal of Chinese forces from its territory. It also was said to contain a complete rebuttal of a Chinese accusation of "unprovoked" Indian aggression in the Ladakh area of India's Kashmir territory last month.

The Indian note claimed a clash last month in which nine Indian policemen were killed took place 40 miles inside Indian territory.

Earlier Wednesday, about 700 Indian students marched to the Chinese embassy here shouting "down with aggression . . . death to (Chinese Communist premier) Chou En-lai."

Halted by police 50 yards from the embassy, they stuck to its gate a letter addressed to Chou and then burned copies of a Chinese government publication showing 40,000 square miles of India as Chinese.

Ike Plans 20,000 Mile Goodwill Tour

By HAROLD MORRISON

WASHINGTON (CP) — President Eisenhower Wednesday announced the most ambitious tour ever planned by an American president—a 20,000-mile goodwill mission to nine countries on three continents.

The 69 - year - old Eisenhower during a 19-day flight by jet airliner will visit the capitals of Italy, Turkey, Pakistan, Afghanistan, India, Iran, Greece, France and Morocco.

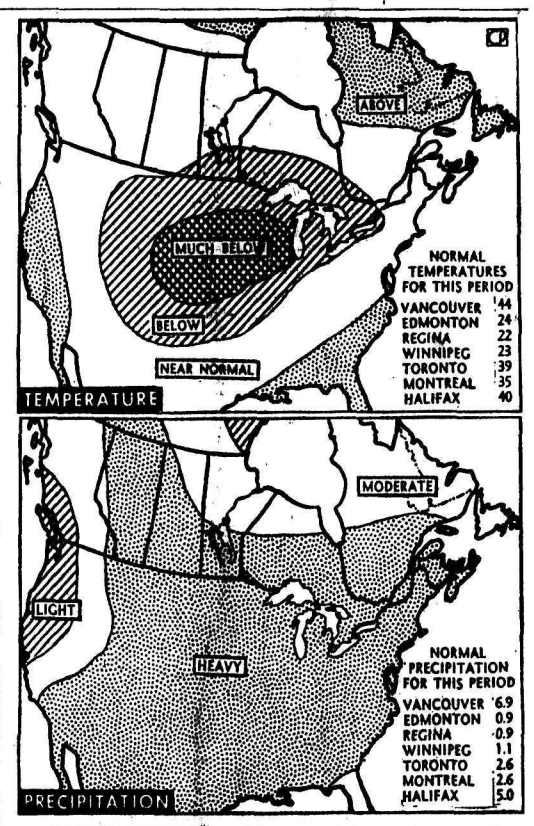
Co - ordinating his flight with the scheduled Western summit meeting in Paris Dec. 19, the president will leave Washington Dec. 4, flying to Rome to confer with Italian leaders and the Pope and then move into the Asian capitals. He will stop at Rabat, Morocco, on the way home from Paris, completing his trip by Dec. 22.

It will be the first time that a U. S. president has visited Asia. Eisenhower, at a press conference, indicated his major stop will be at New Delhi where on Dec. 11 he will open the American exhibition at the World Agricultural Fair and confer with Prime Minister Nehru.

The president may well have decided to seize the initiative in the breach between neutral India and Communist China in an attempt to swing India closer to the West.

The trip may also help strengthen Eisenhower's position at the Western summit conference. Drench President Charles de Gaulle has displayed a strong independent view on preparations for East - West summit negotiations. There has been bickering among the leaders of Britain, France and West Germany.

Eisenhower may find it easier to get his views across in Paris—where he will spend three or four days—if he first finds support for these views among the Asian democracies.



WINTER WEATHER — Near-normal temperatures are forecast for most of Canada during November, with the exception of southern Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec where below-normal readings are predicted. Firms Liable to $100 Per Day and Loss of Licence

EDMONTON (CP)—The Alberta government Wednesday delivered what it believes is the knockout blow to trading stamps and similar promotion schemes.

The move came when A. R. Patrick, minister of industry and development, announced a provincial order had been passed by the cabinet amending regulations under the Licensing of Trade and Businesses Act.

The ban is effective immediately but stores offering the stamps now will be given time to close out the programs.

The new regulations will not affect premiums given in packaged merchandise manufactured by companies which sell their products in the province but do not operate within the borders.

ONE EXCEPTION

Mr. Patrick said if an Alberta manufacturer finds he must put premiums in packaged goods to compete on an equal basis with outside manufacturers an exception might be made to the sweeping regulations.

"The legislation is as wide as we could possibly make it," Mr. Patrick said.

The amendment to the regulations inserts three new sections. One of them says, in part:

"No business licensed under (this act) shall secretly or otherwise give or offer to give any premium, free goods, or use coupons, coupon books, stamps, trading stamps or similar plans for the purpose of furthering the sale of any commodity or service."

HEAVY FINES

Businesses guilty of infractions of the act are liable to fines of up to $100 a day with suspension or withdrawal of the firm's licence a possibility.

Alberta is the first province to ban stamp schemes, by provincial legislation, although in British Columba stamps are banned by municipal laws.

Mr. Patrick said the regulations are aimed not only at trading stamps but at stopping all other retail premium and give-away offers.

The action is supported by—and was requested by—the Retail Merchants' Association, the Associated Chambers of Commerce, the Better Business Bureau and several other organizations.

OK SALE SCHEMES

Opening sales and give-aways by new businesses are not affected by the act, except to restrict them to seven days.

The announcement came on the same day as Independent Grocers' Alliance began their stamp schemes. Loblaw Groceteria Limited started issuing trading Boy Stores Limited recently started a similar scheme.

Betram Loeb of Ottawa, president of Horne and Pitfield IGA and head of Loeb's IGA, said the 35 IGA stores throughout Alberta will go ahead with their program anyway.

He said, however, IGA was "obtaining legal advice as to our future policy."

FEDERAL APPROVAL

The provincial action followed closely on the heels of an announcement by Justice Minister Fulton in Ottawa that provincial legislation to control trading stamps would not interfere with the Criminal Code of Canada.

Reaction to the provincial government's announcement was swift.

In Calgary, a druggist who has been buying Loblaw's stamps from shoppers said he hoped the other provinces would follow suit.

Malcolm Irwin said he was disappointed the first action didn't come from the federal government but was "certainly happy that Alberta has at least led the way."

BUYING BOOKS

Since last Saturday he had been buying books of 1,500 stamps at $3 each. Until the government action he refused to say what he intended to do with them.

He said Wednesday he was not interested in the premiums and would probably burn the stamps. He started buying them, he said, in protest.

In B.C., Attorney-General Robert Bonner said there is no trading stamp problem in the province at the time, but said the possibility of anti-stamp legislation is being studied.

Wilson Lee, chairman of the management committee of the Alberta division of the Retail Merchants Association of Canada, said in Lethbridge he thought the government ban was "in the best interests of the consumer, as well as better business."

PLANNED ACTION

He said the stamp scheme is "not in our interests nor is it in the best interests of the consumers."

Mr. Lee said the RMA had been making arrangements to make a test case of the legality of trading stamps. If they were found to be legal, he said, the RMA was going to approach the governments to have changes made in acts to make them illegal.

Mr. Patrick said the Social Credit government didn't move earlier against trading stamps because they wanted assurance from Ottawa they wouldn't be trespassing on the Criminal Code.

Officials of his department, however, have been working on the new regulations for the last two weeks.

Canada Backs Poland for UN Seat

OTTAWA (CP) — External Affairs Minister Green said Wednesday Canada won't have its "arm twisted" or be "pushed around" over the issue of filling the vacant seat on the United Nations Security Council.

He declined to say what country or countries are trying to twist Canada's army. Communist Poland and Turkey, a NATO ally of Canada, are deadlocked in the race for the seat and Mr. Green confirmed that Canada is supporting Poland's bid. The United States is backing Turkey.

"We don't believe in being pushed around or having our arm twisted," Mr. Green told reporters at Uplands airport on his return from a 10-day trip to Paris and London. "Several other countries have the same opinion."

Later, at a press conference in the East Block of the Parliament Buildings, Mr. Green was asked how the arm-twisting was done.

"Persuasion," he said. Then he added with a broad smile: "We try to persuade other people ourselves but that isn't arm-twisting."

He said at the airport that Turkey was "dragged in at the last minute" as a contestant for the seat on the Security Council being vacated by Japan.

There had been "great relaxation" in world tension through an exchange of visits between heads of government and it "was not wise to make a cold-war issue out of the UN election. There was "not much justification at all" for doing this.

Mr. Green said the seat should go to an Eastern European country and Poland was the "lease difficult" of Communist nations.

Million-Dollar Fire Hits Regina Airport

REGINA (CP)—A $1,147,000 fire early Wednesday levelled one of the biggest hangars at Regina Municipal Airport putting Canadian Aircraft Company of Regina out of business.

The company, Saskatchewan's biggest charter and crop dusting firm, lost 13 aircraft and all its office records as well as tools and parts.

Estimating the firm's loss at $750,000, owner Leo McKenna said nothing is insured. "This puts us out of business," he said.

Cause of the fire is unknown. No-one was injured.

Several other firms lost aircraft in the blaze, first seen at 4 a. m. MST, by policemen C. F. Brown and Glen Hove, who described it as a raging inferno.

OWNER RESCUED

Pilot Ken Blackwood who lives in a hangar apartment smashed a window and called on the policemen who helped rescue Mr. McKenna from his apartment on the opposite side.

The firm hired as many as 25 pilots in the crop dusting season.

In an hour the building was a smouldering mass of rubble.

Firemen were still on duty late Wednesday to prevent smouldering ashes reaching underground aviation fuel tanks nearby.

Also destroyed were three privately - owned aircraft and a RCMP Beaver. The RCMP estimated the value of its plane and equipment at $15,000.

Fish Service Corporation lost an Apache plane valued at $30,000, Robb Construction Company a Piper Cruiser worth $6,000.

25 CARS BURNED

Mid-West Motors lost 25 cars valued at $75,000, G. G. Legett Company lost $2,000 worth of restaurant equipment and some soda pop manufacturing equipment was also destroyed.

The S. E. Gage Company of Winnipeg lost $20,000 worth of equipment.

Fire Chief Percy Wilson of Regina says an investigation has been launched.

The 20 - year - old hangar was owned by the department of transport and leased to the city through the Regina municipal air board. The wooden structure is officially valued at $114,000.

S. E. Gage and Company leased the building from the city.

OTHERS THREATENED

Strong winds earlier threatened to spread the blaze to the other three hangars on the airport and 15 planes were removed from a nearby hangar.

Airport manager Norman Street said no flights are affected and none will be cancelled.

"This finishes me," said 44-year-old Mr. McKenna. "I'm all washed up."

Asked about plans for the future, he said:

"What future? I can't see any future."

Test Ban Hopes Drop

By JOHN TALBOT

GENEVA (Reuters) — Russia Wednesday jolted Western hopes of making rapid progress on a treaty to end nuclear weapon tests.

The setback proved as surprising as a Soviet turnabout Tuesday in agreeing to a meeting of United States, British and Russian experts to study new American data on underground nuclear tests.

Soviet delegate Semyon Tsarapkin told today's session of the year-old three - power conference the experts should study "the use of objective instrument readings" in the inspection of suspected explosions.

Western officials said later the Soviet terms are wholly unacceptable. They complained that Russia is trying to restrict the experts' work to a decision on the kind of dial readings required before an on-site inspection.

The session lasted only 15 minutes. After Tsarapkin read out his proposal, the U. S. and British delegates asked for an adjournment so that they could study the Russian terms.

Informed quarters said Wednesday night U. S. delegate James Wadsworth and Britain's Sir Michael Wright are preparing their own version of what the experts should talk about.

Tsarapkin proposed that the experts start their study Nov. 16 and report back to the conference Nov. 30.

The Soviet representative said they should consider the question of the "use of objective instrument readings in connection with the selection of suspicious events in order to determine a basis for carrying out inspections."

Witness Says

Sponsor Fixed Shows

WASHINGTON (AP) — The associate producer of the scandal-rocked $64,000 Challenge quiz show swore in testimony read Wednesday night that the shows frequently were rigged on instructions from the sponsor.

The testimony was given in an affidavit by Shirley Bernstein, who identified the sponsor as Revlon Incorporated, a leading cosmetics firm. It was read by Richard N. Goodwin, staff investigator for the House of Representatives commerce subcommittee probing quiz shows.

Miss Bernstein is a sister of Leonard Bernstein, director of the New York Philharmonic Orchestra. She has been named in previous testimony as one who had coached quiz show contestants.

Miss Bernstein's sworn statement came after sworn denials by Martin Revson, former executive vice - president of Revlon, that the company was aware of the rigging. Revson's brother, Charles, president of the company, said he personally was not aware of anything amiss.

STOCK SOLD

Revlon stock sold off sharply in heavy trading Wednesday on the New York Stock Exchange, closing off $5.25 at $54.25. Trading in the issue skyrocketed to 39,400 shares from 1,000 Monday and 500 Friday.

Miss Bernstein said the rigging was done at the request of Steve Carlin, head of Entertainment Productions Incorporated, owner of the quiz show.

"Was it your complete understanding from the start that you were receiving instructions from the sponsor as to how a match should come out?" Goodwin asked.

"Yes, completely," Miss Bernstein replied in the sworn deposition. "There were many meetings with the sponsor where Mr. Carlin would come back white with anger."

DIRECT ORDERS

She was asked if Carlin ever told her directly that the sponsor had requested a particular outcome to a match.

She replied:

"Yes. Often I would say 'why do it this way?' Mr. Carlin would say that it was not his wish, but the sponsor wanted it that way."

Goodwin: "by sponsor, he meant primarily Revlon?"

Miss Bernstein: "Yes. I was given to understand that we had little or no interference from the Lorillard people."

The P. Lorillard Tobacco Company was co-sponsor of the "challenge" show.

Miss Bernstein said that to the best of her ability the instructions were followed. She added that in about 80 per cent of the cases where controls were used, they were effective.

Ben-Gurion Scores Limited Victory

By ARYE WALLENSTEIN

TEL AVIV, Israel (Reuters)—Near-final election returns Wednesday night showed Premier David Ben - Gurion's moderate Mapai Labor Party had won another limited victory.

Mapai once more emerged as the party with the greatest number of seats in the single-chamber Knesset (Parliament). But, as in the previous three elections it failed to win a clear working majority and again will have a form of coalition government.

With counting finished on 90 per cent of approximately 1,000,000 votes cast Tuesday, Mapai had an unofficial 3.5 per cent.

Under the country's proportional representation system, this indicated Ben - Gurion's group would have 46 or 47 seats in the 120 - member Knesset, compared to 40 now.

SLIM EDGE

Ben-Gurion's Knesset bloc was expected to total 49 or 50 since three Mapai - allied, all - Arab slates won enough votes to give them one seat apiece.

The ultra - nationalist Heruth, the No. 2 party, also boosted its vote, indicating it would have 17 seats—two more than in the old Knesset.

Ground was lost by six of the seven other parties represented in the old Knesset. They are expected to lose seats as a result.

The Communist slice of the vote fell by more than 25 per cent. The party was likely to lose two or three of its six seats.

Woman Passes Isolation Test

WINNIPEG (CP) — A young woman emerged Wednesday from a plastic dome at the University of Manitoba after spending nearly a week in isolation as part of a study of the effects of monotony and darkness on the human intellect.

A university spokesman said she apparently suffered no ill effects. He said her name would be released when she appeared at a press conference, scheduled for 9:30 a.m. CST today.

She is the first woman in Canada to undergo such a test, and the fifth person to live in the dome during the current study.

An official said findings could be useful on long inter-planetary flights, submarine voyages, in bomb-shelter living and in existence in the far north.

Horn-Blowing Alderman Rapped

VANCOUVER (CP) — Alderman Frank Baker plays a cool horn.

He's blown his trumpet in most of Canada's football stadiums. Live broadcasts of recent Grey Cup games have sent the clear notes into many Canadian homes.

Wednesday Ald. Baker left his trumpet at home and got on the business end of a loud speaker as Danny Sailor come down from a pole where he's been sitting since the local Red Feather campaign started.

The flag pole is a block from the courthouse.

Mr. Justice A. Manson presiding at a supreme court trial, heard the noise and asked sheriff Eddie Wells what was going on.

"A civic ceremony," said Sheriff Wells.

"Go arrest that man," said the justice.

Ald. Baker was brought into

The Soviet proposal added that the experts should work out instructions "determining the complex of instrument reading which will be the basis for carrying out inspections within an agreed quota."

The American seismic data was compiled after an East-West scientific conference last year worked out an inspection system for policing a test ban. Since last January the United States had insisted on a study of the new data to see whether it would cause any alterations in the proposed inspection system.

Russia argued until Tuesday that such a study would be a waste of time and delay the conclusion of a test ban treaty.

HAS 93rd OPERATION

CHICAGO (AP) — A pioneer in the use of X-rays to treat cancer underwent his 93rd operation Tuesday for the disease he labored to control. Dr. Emil H. Grubbe, 84, is in good condition following surgery. He developed cancer after frequent over-exposure to X-rays during the experiments he started in 1895. His left hand was removed some years ago and portions of his jaw and nose have been ravaged.

Steel Talks Adjourned

WASHINGTON (AP)—Federal mediation director Joseph F. Finnegan recessed bargaining talks in the steel strike indefinitely Wednesday after a fruitless half-hour meeting between management and union negotiating teams.

Finnegan said both sides were instructed to be ready to return at any time. But, he said, it is unlikely there would be any new session before Friday.

The mediation director said both parties in the 113-day strike had their eyes on the Supreme Court which heard arguments Tuesday on whether a Taft-Hartley injunction to send the 500,000 strikers back to work for 80 days should be allowed to go into effect.

There has been no word from the court as to when it might rule on the injunction action.

Street Corners

A lot of motorists are stopping at the top of the Hall Street hill where it intersects Vernon Street. This has been a must in the past, when cars came whooming along Vernon Street. Now there are stop signs on Vernon Street, giving Hall Street the right of way, but motorists still timidly halt instead of bravely breasting the rise.

JOPLIN, Mo. (AP)—"Operator, my telephone has melted. It was just sitting there and it melted."

Mrs. Elizabeth Molly had run to a neighbor's home Tuesday to report to the telephone company.

She said the instrument began smoking, then the plastic casing melted down, exposing wiring that set fire to a cloth under the phone. She doused it with a pan of water.

"I think the operator thought I was drunk," remarked Mrs. Molly, society editor of the Joplin Globe.

The company manager said after two repairmen had inspected the phone: "We haven't yet determined what caused it. We've never seen anything like it."

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP)—"I'll bet I'm the only woman in the city who was knocked down twice by her own motor car."

Mrs. Nona Kitchell explained Tuesday that she parked her auto on a hill to take her six-year-old son to a baby-sitter's home. As she returned to the car it began rolling. She grabbed for a front door handle but was flung to the ground and a wheel passed over her leg.

"I got up and started chasing the car," she said. "It was not moving too fast and I tried to grab the rear door handle."

Down again she went and again a wheel passed over her leg. The auto struck two parked cars and stopped after a 300-foot run. X-rays revealed no major injury to Mrs. Kitchell.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Rookie patrolman John W. Ensign has made his first arrest. He's also recovered his first stolen car—his own.

He spotted Mike Gehres, 18, driving his car Tuesday. After a brief chase, Gehres leaped from the car and was tackled by Ensign.

The youth was booked on a theft charge. Ensign said the car was stolen off—of all places—the police station parking lot.

Vernon Street Intersection Being Reopened

The former Vernon - Hendryx Streets intersection is being reopened to traffic.

City crews Wednesday drilled out the concrete boulevard fronting the Civic Centre and will rebuild the roadway. The area was a roadway years ago when planted boulevards formed the street centreline, but was blocked when they were replaced with a concrete walk the length of the 700 and 800 blocks.

The project was planned for in city of Nelson estimates this year, but was delayed while more urgent jobs were done.

The closing of the roadway brought protests from many residents. Since it was a one-way street, it forced motorists to turn right at the corner of Vernon and Cedar Streets to continue on to Baker Street around the narrow high-walled corner. There were many calls to make Baker Street one-way at this corner because of the resulting heavier traffic.

Bottlenecks also formed at the Vernon-Cedar corner because cars stopping there met traffic from Baker, Cedar and upper Vernon Streets.

Council members, in agreement with the protests, made the project one of its 1959 tasks.

Hampton Gray Plaque Dedication Planned On Remembrance Day

Plans for a Remembrance Day service and dedication ceremony on Nov. 11 were disclosed by the Canadian Legion Wednesday night.

The annual service this year will include the dedication of a plaque on the Gray building in tribute to Robert Hampton Gray, VC, DSC, of Nelson, who died heroicly on the last day of World War 2.

The plaque, contributed by the Nelson branch of the Canadian Legion, will be dedicated by Rev. E. A. Hircock, Legion chaplain, following the service at the Cenotaph.

The Legion parade will be marshalled by C. Ray Higgens outside the Legion at 10:30 a.m. and will move down Stanley Street to Baker, along Baker to Josephine and on to Vernon for assembly at the Cenotaph.

The Kootenay Kilties Band will head the procession, followed by the Legion Color Party, veterans, members of the Legion Auxiliary, members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, men of the 111th Battery, RCA; the Sea Scouts and Air Cadets.

A representative from each group will lay a wreath at the base of the memorial as will Mayor T. S. Shorthouse for the city and a representative from Kokanee Chapter, Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, and fraternal organizations.

The Last Post and Reveille will be sounded by Paul Gergely and the city band. The Pipe Major will play the Lament.

After the service the assembly will move to the Gray building for the plaque dedication ceremony. Those on parade will move to the Legion hall, where they will be dismissed.

Cold Hall Ends Plan for Minister's Talk

Prompt action averted the coldest meeting a cabinet minister ever had.

Within 24 hours of the scheduled address by Hon. R. G. Williston, minister of Lands and Forests, it was discovered heating facilities of the meeting place were not in running order.

Organizers immediately concelled the meeting in the North Shore Community Hall. The minister is to speak Friday evening in the Women's Institute Room of the Civic Centre as previously arranged, however.

Mr. Williston will also be guest speaker at a Chamber of Commerce luncheon in the Hume Hotel Friday.

Fire Damage Heavy In Creston Store

CRESTON — Extensive damage in a fire in the basement radio workshop of the Creston Electric store occurred here Wednesday night. Dense smoke made it impossible to estimate the damage.

Two employees, Ed McKay and Ed Hume, who had returned to work in the store about 7 p.m., noticed smoke coming from the basement area about 8 p.m. They called the Creston volunteer fire department immediately.

The fire burst through the main floor just in front of the store offices. It was brought under control about 9:30 p.m. and an all-night guard was placed on duty.

It is expected that damage to equipment may be heavy, and smoke damage will also be extensive. Store owner is Tak Toyota.

New Rate Structure On Commercial Plates

Motor vehicle licences for 1960 have arrived in Nelson.

The new plates, with maroon letters on a turquoise background, the reverse of last year, will cost passenger car drivers no more this year, but a change in rate structure has been drawn up for commercial vehicle owners.

Under the jurisdiction of the Department of Commercial Transport, for the first time this year commercial vehicles will be rated on gross weight. In the past a fee has been charged for the weight of the truck only.

Truck owners will be required to declare the gross weight of the truck under its maximum load. However, operators do not have to pay a fee for the full capacity of the truck, only the maximum weight they will carry.

A truck weighing 1500 pounds and a carrying capacity of another 1000 pounds but only used to haul 200 pounds would be taxed at the rate of 1700 pounds and not 2500 pounds, the gross weight.

Last year the Nelson motor licence department, which also supplies plates to Nakusp, New Denver and Castlegar, sold 6024 passenger licence plates and 2861 for commercial vehicles.

The licences will go on sale early in January.

58 Children In Playschool

The Civic Playschool moved from the Women's Institute room to the gymnasium lounge in the Civic Centre Wednesday.

Fire Chief Elwyn Owens recommended the change-over due to lack of emergency exits. Regulations for playschools require one entrance and one exit way to the playschool room.

The attendance has steadily increased to 58 registered children, with over 45 mothers participating on a volunteer basis as assistants.

With the use of the Civic gym facilities the children can now be split into the three desired groups—using the women's lounge as the story-telling room, Room A for the arts and crafts sessions and the gym for "big muscles" exercises and games.

Civic playschool takes a holiday Nov. 11th, but will resume the following Friday.

TV Booster Inventor Expects Win Approval

CASTLEGAR — Horace Card, inventor of a new type television signal booster device, is confident his equipment will gain the nod of approval from department of transport engineers.

Mr. Card is daily expecting a visit from technicians, who will examine the transistor sets to establish if the "pass band" is lined up and does not conflict with established broadcasting frequencies.

The inventor said his equipment can be placed on a mountain peak and transmit a clear television signal to a set 15 miles away.

He claims that in a recent demonstration he was able to provide a strong signal for a radius of 150 square miles.

The transmitting system requires two antennas, one for reception and one for transmission, and two transistor type amplifiers. The 20-foot antennas are erected 20 feet above a point of high altitude and additional amplifiers are sometimes required in the circuit.

Mr. Card claims that with slight adjustments the same type of equipment can be used as "booster stations" for radio broadcasts that are now limited in their coverage by high mountains.

He said that when the equipment is placed in operation, any set within the signal area can pick up reception. There is no way of controlling the viewing.

Television co-operatives have been set up with a view to financing television reception in areas now "blacked out." Mr. Card said, however, there is nothing to prevent television set owners who do not belong to the co-operative picking up the programs.

"There's nothing to stop them, but they wouldn't be very popular," Mr. Card said. This problem was not his concern but a matter for the co-operatives to iron out, he stated.

Since perfecting the equipment, enquiries streamed in from all over the province, Mr. Card said.

It was recently disclosed that the Board of Broadcast Governors are prepared to consider legalizing the use of this type of television signal transmission.

The Nelson Lodge, which folded during the last war, was reorganized this year by E. G. Hokonson, an Elks member for the past four years.

Slate of officers are: Ruler, E. G. Hokonson; Leading Knight, Frank Phillips; Loyal Knight, Edward Young; Lecturing Knight, Fred Merriman; Secretary Carl Golling; Treasurer, Albert Smith; Inner Guard, Fred Boyar; Tyler, Gerry MacDonald; Trustees, Ray Stafford, Rudy Martyn and Robert Stack; Esquire, Ken Frederickson; Chaplain, Cecil Alexander, and Historian, Soren Madsen.

The chapter already has plans for building a lodge, possibly two stories high. Although still in the planning stage, members hope to have the lodge built next year.

WONDER WHERE SET FOR RACE

TORONTO (CP) — Wonder Where will be a starter in Saturday's $15,000 Durham Cup at New Woodbine.

It had been believed Wonder Where, owned by Larkin Maloney and Conn Smythe, would be retired for the season after she finished second to Sword Man in the Tattling stakes. However, trainer Johnny Starr Wednesday confirmed rumors that the filly will start in Saturday's 1¼ mile run.

Wonder Where, with a record of nine wins and six seconds in her 16 starts this season, will carry 117 pounds. Top weight of 124 pounds will be carried by Ali's Pride, owned by Rodger Leslie of Toronto.

Three Western Canadian invaders which are expected to run well on Saturday are Major Turley, Treasure Quest and Percy Yates. The first two will run as an entry, trained by W. H. (Bud) Macdonald.

Treasure Quest, which paid one of the largest prices of the Ontario season when he defeated Sunday Sail on a disqualification, is owned by John Robert Howe of Vancouver. Major Turley, a grey colt bred in British Columbia, now is owned by F. M. Clark, Jr., of Meadow Lake, Sask. Percy Yates is owned by W. J. Yates of Calgary.

Mercury Dips at Cranbrook Woodsmen Greet Freezeup

CRANBROOK — Nearly seven inches of snow fell at Cranbrook in the Tuesday storm which preceded a temperature drop Wednesday morning to two degrees above zero.

Department of highways snowplows were dispatched late in the evening and the Kingsgate-Radium and Yahk-Crow's Nest highways were reported plowed, but slippery, in places in the morning. Snowfall was considerably heavier around Kimberley and Springbrook and also toward the Crow's Nest Pass.

Enthusiasm prevailed in the woods industry at the sharp cold. For weeks logging operations, when continued, have been carried out in a flounder of mud and soft roads, and several logging operations had been discontinued, awaiting either cessation of persistent autumn rain or a cold snap to harden the ground.

Providing there is no sudden thaw the huge Christmas tree harvest under way in East Kootenay woods and assembling in various wholesaler yards, will also benefit from the brisker weather and trucking trees from bush to yards, harried continuously by mild wet weather, will benefit.

Construction projects racing toward various stages of advance before onset of winter are handicapped by the storm, however.

At Kimberley P. B. Ford Construction Ltd. has been pushing concrete work on Kimberley's new three-storey hospital since August with the objective of roofing by winter so that interior work could continue under shelter, and this week was pouring walls for the second storey.

Children welcomed the snowfall but householders took the usual dim view of snow shovels and furnace problems.

Changes in Castlegar Roadways Suggested by Property Owners

CASTLEGAR — Request that the hill on Juniper Street not be cut down was received at this week's meeting of the village commission.

Petition from John Clarke and signed by seven other property owners on Second Avenue, said such action would make it impossible to turn into Second Avenue. Filling in of a low spot between the highway and the hill, and a low spot between Fourth Avenue and the hill was suggested. The petition also asked that the Rotary sign be relocated because it obstructs view of drivers coming off Juniper.

West Kootenay Power and Light Company informed the commission that the difference in power costs between 250-candle power street lights and 600 candlepower lights would be 70 cents a month. The commission had asked if the company would install larger street lights. The matter was left for later action.

Village clerk, J. Logelin, will represent Castlegar at the meeting of municipal clerks in Creston Nov. 28, when trades licences bylaws will be discussed, it was decided.

Commission inquiry into possibility of installinug level crossing lights here drew a letter from inspector of municipalities, J. E. Brown, giving information on what government assistance might be forthcoming.

The fire committee reported that the fire department had changed 13 lights Monday night.

Commissioner Gordon Pettitt reported that Douglas Rowe, health officer, is not satisfied with a site above Kinnaird chosen for the garbage dump. An offer of land from W. Z. Ozeroff had been received, but as the land was across the Columbia River, the commission thought it unwise to have to use the ferry.

Norman McNabb, public works department, said he had spoken to H. Wood about a garbage dump site above Kinnaird, which Mr. Wood thought would be suitable with proper fire protection.

A petition requesting lowering of the road in front of their property on Lakeview Avenue was received from Harry Slowski, and H. Anderson and P. K. Zaitsoff.

A report was heard from Mr. McNabb stating that Nick Koochin on Juniper Street has three lots he would sell to the village for use as gravel pit and sanitary fill. Price was quoted at $200 a lot. The commission will take a six-month option to buy on these lots.

Frank Savinkoff requested installation of a light on the corner of Seventh and Hemlock.

Thompson Fort Inspiration for New UBC Residence

INVERMERE — In recognition of the support of the Kootenay to the UBC Development Fund last year, one of the new buildings at the university was dedicated as Kootenay House.

David Thompson's Fort which he built in the valley in 1807 was named Kootenae House.

The Windermere District was the highest per capita donor in British Columbia to the Development Fund.

Report on Cranbrook Extension Plan Ready

CRANBROOK — Associated Engineering Service Ltd. of New Westminster, whose engineer, Dieter Naumann, made an extensive examination of extra - municipal area east and south of the city with regard to practical area for city limits extension, has notified city council a detailed report with recommendations is now prepared.

This week's council meeting set November 12 for Mr. Naumann to present the recommendations with accompanying map at a special meeting. Council also notified the firm that at the same session they would like to hear their engineer's recommendations concerning proposed amendments to the City Zoning Bylaw which is holding up some proposed commercial building plans, and also some advice on development plans for the new reserved Gyro Park for children south of Fifth Street South.

A. C. Morton, staff member of a Nelson architectural firm, Fairbank and Williams, will attend the council meeting next Monday to go into more detail concerning space facilities and cost estimates for the city building proposed for construction and acceptable on lease by the RCMP for its city detachment and East Kootenay headquarters.

On council instruction an ultimatum is being issued the owners of a long vacant house in the 300 block of South Eleventh Avenue that they must demolish it and fill the excavatinon by January 15. In default of this the city will do so at the owner's expense.

The provincial department of municipalities will be queried as to the authority of the individual municipalities to prohibit use of trading stamps by firms operating within their limits.

Application of Fernie Dairy for a trade licence to sell milk in Cranbrook was considered but not granted with the city's Milk Bylaw, 1957, cited as requiring inspection and licensing of its production and handling facilities by the department of agriculture.

Windermere PTA Gains $193 From Christmas Trees

INVERMERE — A one-day project of the Windermere Parent-Teacher Association netted the organization $193.86, a lot of fun, and a fine feeling of achievement on the credit side, and one badly cut thumb on the debit side of the ledger.

Through Ray Tippie, manager for J. Hofert Ltd., the PTA group arranged a Christmas tree field day Sunday. The turnout, comprised of 14 men, some not even members, six women and sundry children, spent the day on the allotted Christmas tree plot, had a picnic lunch and made the fine proceeds which will assist in the purchase of a radio-record player for the Windermere school.

Victim of the accident was Vick Thyggessen, whose hand slipped on a power saw, receiving a nasty cut.

Mrs. Sepp Wenger was PTA convener for the project.

Kootenay at Top of List as Site For Small School for Retarded

CRANBROOK — Outstanding authority on special instruction for backward and retarded children, Dr. James Richardson, professor of special instruction at the University of British Columbia reported to a well attended meeting here on what is being done and is planned for this special schooling.

Most notable progress, he said, was in day schools for these handicapped children which now number 43 through the province, compared with three when the situation was reviewed five years ago. Where more than ten children of 6 to 18 years in age are enrolled at one of these special schools, the school qualifies for inclusion in the public school system of that center.

To provide teachers for this work, the university of B.C. now offers a full-time study program, in addition to short summer courses leaidng to certificates for those already engaged in teaching in the local special schools of ten pupils or less.

He said the British Columbia Association for Handicapped Children plans as its next advance in assisting these youngsters a travelling group of experts on the subject of retardation to cover the province regularly to assist parents and local associations in early diagnosis and advise on providing the special instruction available.

He stressed the importance and advantage of early diagnosis of the retarded condition so that this and other possible physical handicaps can be given the maximum attention toward preparing the child for as normal a future as is possible. He said diagnostic clinics for the condition in infancy are planned.

Main practical plan for the B.C. Association at present, he said, listed six small additional residential schools through the province in addition to Woodland, out of Vancouver, which is overcrowded with 1410 resident children and has a waiting list of 500 more. The list of six is headed by one for the Kootenays. Homes would each accommodate 12 to 20 children, and plans would allow for addition of vocational training, recreation facilities, and eventually sheltered workshops for employment of the retarded.

"We are at a crucial point in this work of assisting the retarded to maximum possible independence," he said, "to bring about coordinated effort toward improving the situation for them."

Gilbert Kitchen, president of the B.C. Association for Handicapped Children, in which the Kootenay Society is affiliated, reported plans plans for a province-wide drive for memberships and contributions November 16 to 24 with proceeds to eb applied directly to improvement of local assistance available for the handicapped. He said Vancouver had been chosen for the annual meeting in 1960 of the Canadian Association for the Handicapped.

The Kootenay Society already has a site for a proposed small residence for children of its district, located at Creston outside village limits, but no detailed plans of a building or an estimate of its cost have been prepared yet.

Cattle Disease Still Gov't Worry

VICTORIA (CP) — Eradication of brucellosis — or bang's disease—among British Columbia cattle herds is still of major concern to the government and the industry.

Arthur Kidd, provincial livestock commissioner, in a report to the advisory board of B.C. Farmer's Institutes, said four areas taken over by the federal department of agriculture in November, 1957 have since been declared free of the disease.

Three other areas taken over by the federal department in April this year are now under test in an attempt to eradicate the sickness which is the primary cause of premature birth of calves.

Calves are being vaccinated against the disease but Mr. Kidd reported the provincial department has discontinued paying the cost of this service in areas taken over by the federal department.

Calfhood vaccinations for the year ending last June totalled more than $5,000 and veterinary costs were more than $62,000.

The livestock commissioner said areas now declared brucellosis free are the Pemberton-Sechelt, West Kootenay, McBride and Vancouver sland areas.

Gov't To Aid in Trail Hospital Gas Conversion

TRAIL—The provincial government has approved a payment to the Trail-Tadanac Hospital covering one-third the cost of converting the hospital to natural gas.

Donald L. Brothers, MLA for Rossland-Trail, said Wednesday afternoon that he had heard through an official of the health department that Health Minister Eric Martin had authorized the payment.

On hearing the news, hospital board chairman J. Howard Hargrave said he was "very pleased" at the decision. He said an application for the grant has been in the hands of the department for some time, and that Inland Natural Gas Company was anxious to proceed with the work before winter sets in.

B.C. Has No Trading Stamp Problem – Bonner

VICTORIA (CP) — Attorney-General Bonner said Wednesday there is no "trading stamp problem" in British Columbia but the possibility of anti-stamp legislation is being studied.

The attorney-general was commenting on the Alberta Government's sweeping legislation to outlaw all types of trading stamps.

"In British Columbia we have been keeping a careful eye on the situation but my latest information is that no trading stamps are being used in B.C.," the attorney-general said.

"Any move to introduce them to this province will receive a very cool reception. The possibility of legislation is being studied."

Hats Off to Nelson Maple Leafs

Hockey is undoubtedly Canada's major winter sport. The fact that towns the size of Nelson try desperately to maintain teams is an evidence of the appeal it has to spectators. That they so often find themselves in difficulties over finances is understandable where towns are almost too small to support them.

Nelson has reached the stage where it is impossible for an executive to finance and run the team under present conditions. This does not mean that the Nelson team will withdraw from WIHL. The players themselves have taken over.

They will co-operate to run the team themselves, financing it from gate receipts and sharing the profits. Whether they will make a profit is another matter, but they will undoubtedly give better hockey if only because there will be teamwork to earn that profit.

It is an experiment which everyone is watching with interest, and with a great deal of sympathy since it brings local hockey nearer to amateur hockey.

All that is needed now is the support of the team by the fans. This will not only make for better hockey but more enjoyable games.

But whatever happens, the players must be congratulated on their initiative and resource. Nelson will wish them the best of luck during the season.

Mom Whyte Idea Worth Looking Into

The general opinion seems to be that Mom Whyte should be allowed to operate a children's home in Nelson provided that she conforms to the laws of the province. This is a broad-minded view which indicates that such a home might be of value to the district.

It is possible that her case has been a subject of misrepresentation. It is true that her home in Ontario was overcrowded and that there was an outbreak of an infectious disease, but whether the children's health had suffered is not stated. Published photographs and movies shown here of children in the home indicate that they were both healthy and happy.

Her home in Bowmanville had operated for some years and at the time of its closure there were ninety-seven children in residence. During the time it had operated, three hundred children had passed through its doors. This is an indication that such a home was needed in Ontario or at least that some parents felt that in their case it was preferable to the provincial welfare homes.

Mr. George Talbot is to be commended for offering Mom Whyte a building and lands for her purpose. In the past there have been suggestions that a home for delinquent children was badly needed in this district. There is no reason why Mr. Talbot, Mom Whyte and a citizens' committee should not co-operate to provide a refuge for children who are temporarily in need of assistance.

Interpreting the News

By JOSEPH MacSWEEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The success of the United Nations resolution on disarmament negotiated by Vasily V. Kuznetsov of the Soviet Union and Henry Cabot Lodge of the United States, gives hope of some progress on the peaceful uses of outer space.

The Russians, riding high on the prestige of moon missiles and Premier Khrushchev's suitcase diplomacy, have been playing a starring role at the 14th general assembly. It's likely they will try to continue.

Kuznetsov took the initiative on the disarmament proposal and apparently made some fairly worthwhile concessions, in phrasing at least, to get unanimous agreement.

"The Russians really wanted this one," said one diplomat. "They didn't want anything to go wrong."

True, the resolution reads along the lines of the proverbial injunction against sin, which is all the more reason people aren't scoffing at it.

No one was scoffing, either, at Khrushchev's plan for total disarmament within four years. That would have sounded like mocking peace.

It would have been equally foolish to dismiss lightly the Soviet call for an international conference of scientists to swap experiences in exploring outer space, especially in view of Russia's feats out there.

Lodge let it be known that he was looking for more private talks with Kuznetsov, leading observers to believe that he was hoping to reach an accord as agreeable, or nearly so, as the one on disarmament.

A working paper was drawn up containing the essential points of a resolution for establishment of a permanent body to encourage the peaceful uses of outer space.

But the working paper left blank the crucial question of the membership of an outer space body — the issue on which East-West negotiations foundered last session.

The Soviet Union, Poland and Czechoslovakia were placed on a temporary 18-nation committee established by the General Assembly last December. However, the three Soviet bloc members boycotted the group on the ground that it had a Western majority, and they were joined by India and the United Arab Republic.

Other members of that committee are Argentina, Australia, Belgium, Brazil, Britain, Canada, France, Iran, Italy Japan Mexico, Sweden and the United States.

Canada, among other countries, has been trying to work out a formula that the Russians would accept. The Russians won parity on the 10-nation disarmament committee that will begin work in Geneva early next year, but that body was established outside the UN, and few — if any — Western nations are willing to grant the Soviet bloc parity on any similar committee within the UN.

It is believed that on the outer-space issue the Russians — eager to bring their initiative to a successful conclusion — are in a mood to negotiate the membership problem without demands of parity. That might be enough to get the show on the road.

Floating Library

Norway's first library boat, named "Abdulla", has left Bergen on its virgin tour of the Hordaland skerry yard with a collection of some 3000 volumes. The venture is jointly sponsored by the Municipality of Bergen, Bergen public library, the state, and the province of Hordaland.

The floating library will fill a long felt need for books among fishermen-farmers who live in widely separated and sparsely populated island communities along the coast of this western district. To start with, the boat will make calls at 149 places in thirty-one of the fifty-six Hordaland municipalities. Besides regular library books, the floating book service will also handle special volumes requested from the Bergen University Library.

F. B. Pearce... ...Writes

It has been known for a long time that you can lead a horse to water but you cannot make him drink. It does not seem to be generally understood that a child can be taught the mechanics of reading but he still won't read anywhere outside the class room.

It is not sufficient for anyone, child or adult to be able to read and yet not employ their knowledge. Only by continual reading will the rate and comprehension of an individual rise and his active intelligence increase. Those pupils in high school who cannot read come from homes where there are few books and probably not even a daily paper. Whether such individuals shoul be in school is questionable. They seldom amount to anything in the scholastic sense.

Nevertheless Canadians will continue to be concerned over their unhappy plight when they would be better off if hard-boiled teachers refused to deal with such obvious misfits.

There can be nothing more frustrating to the writer to find that not only are his efforts not appreciated, but that the unlettered are convinced their native wisdom is so great that they do not need to read. There are people who will blithely tell you that they do not read editorials. They will give as an excuse that an editorial is just one man's opinion or that they are not interested or haven't the time. What they do not say is that mentally they are too lazy. They are retarded readers who read very slowly and only half understand what they read.

All printed matter can be interesting provided the reader not only has the intelligence to understand what he reads, but also applies his mind to considering whether the ideas presented are reasonable. He then emerges with some ideas of his own. If he finds himself in strong opposition, so much the better. No one need be expected to swallow all he reads as gospel. Nevertheless he should be sure that his opposition has some ideas of logic.

A real reader reads everything that comes within range of his eyes. He does not pride himself on the fact that he reads only good books for he knows that it is not so much what he reads which is important, but the use his mind makes of what he reads. Good books, bad books, all contribute to the enlargement of his mind and the hallmark of every real reader is the fact that he cannot go to bed at night unless he has read some time during the day.

Warnings Made To Stick

About the time when people were beginning to wonder if warnings issued to young cyclists by the city police were just so much hot air, along comes a report that more than 40 offenders have been summonsed to appear in court today, and another 50 next week. Obviously the police meant what they said—and a good thing, too, for the risks many young cyclists run through disregard of the safety laws are a byword.

These prosecutions will convey a dual message. Because the hearings will be in juvenile court each of the youngsters charged will have to be accompanied there by at least one parent or guardian. Warnings issued to young offenders are liable soon to be forgotten. When parents are required to appear in court because of the misdeeds of their children the effect of prosecution is fairly certain to be lasting. The personal inconvenience alone is enough to make most parents take the necessary steps to guard against a repeat performance before the magistrate.

The police are not being unduly harsh towards children when they prosecute for offences against traffic regulations. Not to do so is to encourage young cyclists in the belief that that duty to avoid accidents devolves solely on the motorists. Children who ride bicycles know perfectly well what is required of them, because they have been instructed in school. Failure by the police to take action when infringements come to their notice undermines the good work of the safety instructors.

Oldest Salt Mine Closes

PUGWASH, N.S. (CP) — Canada's oldest salt mine, operated since 1918 by the Malagash Salt Company at nearby Malagash, closed down Wednesday as a new mine opened here.

The mine here, which lies under a porous, water-bearing formation, will increase Canada's reserve of rock salt by 200,000,000 tons.

Developed by the Malagash Salt Company, the Pugwash mine was started in June of 1955. Complications, including the position of the mine, delayed the sinking of the shaft for several years. More than 300,000 bags of cement were required to build a colossal, waterproof wall around the shaft from the surface to the 358-foot-deep level where the solid salt was reached.

The shaft was sunk through unstable ground until March of this year when a solid formation of rock was encountered. It took only a few months after that to reach the chosen mining depth of 630 feet.

MILL AT MINE SITE

At the mine site a mill has been constructed which houses storage bins for finished products, a salt bagging department, a laboratory and a shipping department. The five-storey crushing and screening mill has an annual production capacity of 300,000 tons per shift.

The salt produced at Pugwash will be shipped to users throughout the five eastern Canadian provinces and to some foreign markets as well. The mill will employ some 50 Nova Scotia residents.

The Malagash Salt Company is a member of the Canadian Salt Company group which includes Canada's largest salt rock mine at Ojibway, near Windsor, On.

On hand for the official opening Wednesday will be the federal minister of mines and technical surveys, Hon. Paul Comtois.

CALGARY (CP) — The worst snow storm of the season hit southern Alberta Tuesday, bringing traffic almost to a standstill and dashing hopes that grain still in the fields would be threshed.

Teenage Girl Tells Court of Days Spent In Stolen Taxi

BRACEBRIDGE, Ont. (CP)—Two Huntsville youths charged with murder heard a 17-year-old girl tell a Supreme Court jury Tuesday how she spent days with them in a stolen taxi, in barns and on the banks of the Montreal River.

Marvin McKee, 20, and 17-year-old Wayne Sluman, charged jointly with the June 17 slaying of Francis Grosso, 29-year-old Huntsville taxicab owner, and his companion Bruce Spiers, 22, pleaded not guilty.

Police found the decomposed bodies of the two men in a gravel pit after an 11-day search. Both had been shot in the head and their pockets emptied. Spiers' skull had been crushed.

Speaking without apparent emotion, Ann Young of Huntsville said the two boys picked her up in Oshawa on the night of the murder and drove her to the home of McKee's uncle at Elk Lake, near Kirkland Lake in Northern Ontario.

HEADED INTO BUSH

During the drive north, she said, the car left the highway near Huntsville and they drove to a small gravel pit. The boys left her in the car while they headed into the bush for 20 minutes.

Miss Young said she has known both boys for about four years and steadily dated McKee for the last 1½ years. She said McKee was the leader of their escapade.

While they were staying with McKee's uncle, she learned police were searching for them and told McKee. That night they slept in a barn, then borrowed a boat and travelled down the Montreal River.

She said they travelled by night and slept on shore for four days before police arrested them.

Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (CP) — A United States Atomic Energy Commission official has disputed the economic efficiency of Canada's proposed atomic power system.

Frank K. Pittman, the commission's reactor development director, suggested to an atomic industrial forum Tuesday that power could be produced cheaper from a number of other systems than the heavy - water natural uranium plant idea Canada has adopted.

W. B. Lewis, research vice-president of the Crown - owned Atomic Energy of Canada, immediately shot back that Canada's system would be as efficient as any in existence.

WILL CATCH UP

Lewis compared U.S. and Canadian commercial atomic efforts with that of the tortise-and-hare fable. At present, he said, the U.S. is ahead, but in a few years Canada may catch up in development.

However, he conceded in an interview after the conference that his efficiency estimate for Canadian commercial reactors is based on a lower return on investment than the one made by Pittman.

Pittman downgraded the Canadian system to seventh place in listing potential costs of commercial power from various atomic systems. Compared with a potential cost of 7.81 mills a kilowatt-hour for the pressurized water system widely used in the U.S., he estimated the potential Canadian heavy-water power cost at 9.03 mills.

"I am sure that all of you recognize that our evaluation of the potential of the heavy-water natural uranium system is not completely consistent with that of the Canadians," he told the forum.

DIFFERENT STANDARDS

"In this respect, it must be recognized that our evaluation is based on U.S. economic conditions and that theirs is based on Canadian conditions . . . the differences are matters of judgment and only time and in intelligent program of research and development and plant construction will show which evaluation, if either, is correct."

Lewis estimated Canada's proposed big Candu commercial reactor, to be completed in 1964, will produce electricity at a cost of 4.75 to five mills a kilowatt-hour. He based this on a seven-per-cent rate of return on investment. Pittman made his estimate on a 14-per-cent return.

Lewis said that if his estimates of low operating and fuelling costs are born out by events, the Ontario Candu project will be one of a series.

"Including some other prospective users, I personally expect Canada to build such plants at a rate of one a year in the first four years."

Pittman suggested that on the basis of current technology, some of the proposed atomic plants would have trouble competing with existing costs of producing electricity in conventional steam plants.

Lewis said that studies which show nuclear power is not economic in "average" American conditions delay the switch to nuclear power "not only in the U.S. but elsewhere."

What is needed, he suggested, are studies applied to "real" rather than "average situations."

Pope John Marks First Coronation Anniversary

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John Wednesday marked the first anniversary of his coronation and asked for the prayers of the entire Roman Catholic Church to aid him in the second year of his pontificiate.

The 77 - year - old Pope spoke during a mass honoring him in St. Peter's Basilica. Thirty - one cardinals, hundreds of archbishops and bishons, the diplomatic corps to the Vatican and about 20,000 people attended.

Giovanni Battista Cardinal Montini, archbishop of Milan, celebrated the mass.

The pontiff, moved by emotion, recalled events of his first year as supreme ruler of the church and once again pleaded for peace.

Many sorrows, the Pope said, continue to be provoked in the world by "the incessant violence of error and evil."

Despite this, "there yet and always are seen to rise as on granite columns the fundamentals of the social life of the church, whose mission, begun on earth, is the beginning of celestial glory."

The Pope's words were broadcast by the Vatican and Italian radios.

Accelerated Pace of Women's Groups Noticeable in November

(This is the second in a series of articles showing the objectives and activities of women's organizations in Nelson.)

By JEAN BAKER

Activities of women's organizations are accelerating as winter approaches, with November and December favorite months for fund-raising projects such as teas and bazaars.

A large number of Nelson women are participants in meetings and study groups held weekly, semi-monthly or monthly. Many community benefits are derived from these women's club activities.

Objectives and projects of the Nelson branch of Soroptimist International, Rose City Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star and the Beta Sigma Phi sorority were outlined in a previous article.

The Women's Auxiliary to Kootenay Lake General Hospital belongs to a provincial organization of hospital auxiliaries and has a membership of 80. They have a representative on the hospital board and meet once a month in the board room.

The auxiliary's objective is to provide any equipment the administrator points out as necessary to more successful operation of the hospital.

They have a large tea—the Chrysanthemum Tea—in the fall, card parties in February and the Hospital Day tea in the spring, to raise funds for their equipment purchases.

At Christmas, the auxiliary provides Christmas presents for patients who are without a family and assists with decoration of the hospital.

JUNIOR HOSPITAL AUXILIARY

With a membership of 25, the Junior Hospital Auxiliary meets in the cafeteria of Kootenay Lake General Hospital. The auxiliary is comprised mainly of business women.

Most recently, the group has purchased a steam inhalator for the children's ward of the hospital as a memorial to the S. Ballard family, lost in the Montana earthquake this summer, but their main objective is upkeep of the sterilization room in the hospital. They raise funds for new equipment for this room when needed and pay for necessary repairs.

If any equipment is urgently needed in any other department, the auxiliary uses its funds for that purpose. They have been active recently preparing TB Christmas seals for mailing.

Previously, annual fund-raising projects of the Junior Hospital Auxiliary were their Christmas bazaar and spring fashion show, but this year, they are substituting a bake sale and white elephant table for the bazaar. They will sell home baking and Christmas baked goods and dainties in a store early in December.

IODE

Kokanee Chapter, Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, is the Nelson branch of the largest voluntary, patriotic, non-sectarian, non-partisan and philanthropic women's organization in Canada.

Its motto is "One flag, one throne, one empire".

There are 32,000 women in 977 chapters in Canada and there are chapters in Bermuda and the Bahamas. It is associated with the Victoria League in England and the Daughters of the British Empire in the United States.

Any woman or girl who is a British subject may belong.

The organization now is known largely for its charitable work and its great contributions for furthering education.

The Kokanee Chapter provides the following local benefits: milk for underprivileged children; furnishings and miscellaneous gifts for Kootenay Lake General Hospital; Christmas gifts and birthday cakes and gifts for men at the Nelson Hostel for Aged Men; clothing for the needy; a library and books for a Lardeau school; donations to the Kootenay Society for Handicapped Children; a scholarship to a high school student intending to enter the teaching profession; annual book prizes for students and membership in the Kootenay Historical Society.

Nationally and provincially, the IODE provides many bursaries and scholarships from First World War and Second World War memorial funds for both men and women in all provinces of Canada to study abroad as well as in Canada.

The IODE fosters unity within the Commonwealth and the British Empire, provides an efficient organization for use in times of emergency and furthers good works for the betterment of Canada and its people.

It achieves these aims through its educational services, its services at home and abroad, cooperating with government and welfare agencies for emergency relief, works closely with local Civil Defence organizations; extends a welcome to immigrants; promotes friendship among Commonwealth and Empire nations and donates to their medical, educational and cultural activities.

It contributes to the British Save the Children fund, and sends hundreds of crates of clothing to be distributed in Britain, Europe and the Far East.

The Kokanee Chapter raises its funds from operation of its Thrift Shop.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

Objectives of the Women's Institute are: to improve conditions of rural life so that settlement may be permanent and prosperous; to promote home economics, public health, child welfare, education and better schools, legislation, immigration and settlement; to encourage agriculture, home and local industries; to promote social intercourse, mutual helpfulness and diffusion of knowledge; to make settlers welcome and improve community conditions.

Local branches of this worldwide organization contribute to the Queen Alexandra solarium on Vancouver Island, which was founded by the Institute, and to the Crippled Children's Hospital in Vancouver, as their main projects.

Nelson and district institutes have furnished a ward in Kootenay Lake General Hospital and support practically all canvasses in Nelson. As one member put it, "There's hardly anything we don't support."

B.C. Women's Institutes provide two bursaries, one in agriculture and one in home economics, for university students.

They raise their funds through teas, card parties, bake sales, plays, musicals, fashion shows and sale of handicrafts.

West Kootenay Institutes are centred in Kaslo, Crawford Bay, Harrop-Longbeach, Balfour-Queen's Bay, Willow Point, Nelson, Granite Road, South Slocan-Bonnington, Robson, Kinnaird, Slocan City, Fruitvale, Salmo, Deer Park and Renata.

Prizes were awarded for painted masks, and winners were Sheilagh MacKinnon, Kenneth Gleam, Lynda Iwanik, Georgia Gleam, John McCulloch and Larry Kosma.

So many children participated in the games that eliminations were run off with final winners Jerry MacKinnon, Michael Paulhus, Sheilagh MacKinnon, Ray Eddy and Susan Bonacci.

A little white rabbit, pre-schooler Allan McLeod, drew the contest tickets. Georgia Sokolosky was a prize winner for selling most tickets.

Procter PTA made a donation towards the costs of the party and each. The party was well-attended and bus students a chocolate bar each. The party was well-atended by parents and friends.

SWASTIKAS LEGAL

PFORZHEIM, West Germany (Reuters)—A court here today ruled that two men who produced and sold cuff links and tie pins decorated with swastikas were not guilty of anti-constitutional glorification of the Nazi regime. The accused told the court they had made the jewelry to meet orders from American souvenir hunters.

CBRT Says Seamen's Votes Padded in Favor of Rivals

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Brotherhood of Railway, Transport and General Workers (CLC) charged Wednesday that voting lists of seamen in two west coast certification votes last week were "padded" in favor of the rival Seafarers' International Union (Ind.).

The brotherhood made the allegation before the Canada labor relations board, which had ordered votes in 11 companies to determine which union would represent non-officer personnel.

The brotherhood had majorities in eight companies. The SIU was ahead in two. In the 11th, no employees turned up to vote.

Counsel Maurice Wright of the brotherhood contended there were voting irregularities in the two cases in which the SIU obtained majorities—Gulf of Georgia Towing Company and Straits Towing Limited.

ASKS NEW VOTE

Mr. Wright presented no direct evidence but asked the board to investigate his charges and call a new vote in the two companies, with the voting lists fixed on the basis of personnel employed Wednesday.

Board chairman C. Rhodes Smith expressed some doubts as to whether Mr. Wright's claims would upset the vote but asked him to submit names of persons alleged to have voted wrongly and said the board would take the matter under consideration.

SIU counsel Robert McKercher attacked the Brotherhood statements as "grossest hearsay" and said that, even if the challenged votes should be thrown out, the Seafarers would not lose their majorities in the two companies.

"The votes in these two companies do not represent the wishes of the employees," Mr. Wright said. "The lists were padded."

QUIT AFTER VOTE

In the Gulf of Georgia Company case, he said, one man who voted was a full-time paid official of the SIU who quit work right after the vote. At least four more had quit right after the vote.

The SIU had a majority of 15 to 8 in this company. While 23 had voted, Mr. Wright said, there were only 12 on the payroll at the time the Brotherhood applied for certification in August.

In the case of Straits Towing, Mr. Wright said, there had been these actions:

1. One man joined a vessel Oct. 9 and voted in an advance poll Oct. 13, leaving the ship immediately to join another in the same company. He was replaced by a man who voted on the same day.

2. Two other men who voted on this company's ships previously had taken part in votes aboard two other vessels — not among those involved in the current case.

3. Two others who had been taken on just before the vote quit right afterward.

4. The company had lent the use of one of its boats to the SIU on voting day, which Mr. Wright said could have influenced the balloting.

AN "UNDERSTANDING"

"I submit there was something of an understanding between Straits Towing and the SIU," Mr. Wright said.

Chairman Smith announced during the hearing that the SIU had filed applications for certification last week in nine of the companies, including the two in which it had majorities.

The SIU lawyer said he had no information on this.

The recent votes were held on applications for certification by the Brotherhood. The Seafarers have contracts with most of the companies involved but have never had board certification.

Aussies Await Announcement On Gov.-General

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP) — There's only one topic of conversation in Australia these days—who's going to be the next Governor-General?

The appointment is overdue. Some months ago Prime Minister Menzies promised the name would be known in September. Now he is silent, and speculation in Australian circles is that he is waiting to see whether Princess Margaret will accept the post.

The present Governor-General, Sir William Slim, leaves in January after nearly seven years in the job. The British field marshal has been extremely popular.

When he visited Ottawa last spring, Menzies said he was going to London to discuss with the Queen the question of the new Governor - General. He also said he would "whisper in the ear" of Princess Margaret about an Australian tour.

ROYALTY MENTIONED

Margaret and the Queen Mother have been mentioned as possibilities to succeed Sir William but official sources see more wishfulness than likelihood of such an eventuality.

At least one Australian official in London would like to see a Canadian in the post.

Sir Douglas Copland, Australian high commissioner in Ottawa from 1953 to 1956, made the suggestion to a reporter during a luncheon conversation. A still bolder idea, he said, would be to appoint a prominent person from India.

Sir Douglas said such an appointment would tend to have a unifying influence on the Commonwealth. The countries on the "periphery" tended to be neglected as long as their contacts were largely confined to London.

He admitted such an appointment might be too "imaginative" a stroke to be practical politics.

BIG INDUSTRY

EDMONTON (CP)—Cecil Grad of Calgary, chairman of the legislative committee of the Alberta Motor Courts and Resorts Association, said Tuesday the Canadian Tourist Industry has in recent years become the country's third largest industry. He was addressing motel owners from the four western provinces.

U. S. LEADER— Maj. Gen. Barksdale Hamlett heads the U. S. forces in West Berlin. He is also the top American diplomat in the Communist - surrounded city.

Upsets and Surprises About Equal In American Elections

WASHINGTON (CP) — Democrats generally consolidated gains on state and local levels in Tuesday's scattered "off - year" elections throughout the United States. In the main contests they easily retained the Kentucky governorship and the Philadelphia mayor's office.

Democratic politicians, looking for a 1960 presidential year trend, could point to a strong showing as well in Indiana and Connecticut municipal elections.

But the Republicans gained in New York state, where they ousted nine Democratic mayors while losing four municipalities. And in New Jersey the Republicans not only staved off a Democratic bid to win control of the state senate, but apparently cut the Democratic majority in the assembly.

UTAH UPSET

As usual in politics there were a few surprises and upsets. Former Utah governor J. Bracken Lee made a comeback by winning election as mayor of Salt Lake City. The ultra-conservative Lee, who no longer counts himself a Republican, ran as an independent against a Democrat in what was supposed to be a non-partisan election.

In Philadelphia ever-hopeful Republican Harold E. Stassen went down to a predicted defeat by Mayor Richardson Dilworth, a Democrat. The margin was overwhelming.

Stassen has not won an election since the 1930s when he was the youthful governor of Minnesota, but not from lack of trying. But though he seemed to be at the end of a downhill political trail, he said: "I may run for political office in the future. I am still a young man and plan to be active in politics."

KENTUCKY WINNER

Democrat Bert T. Combs won a landslide victory as governor of Kentucky over Republican John Robsion. Combs had had an intra-party squabble with retiring Gov. A. B. (Happy) Chandler, the former baseball commissioner, but it hardly affected his smashing win.

Mississippi also elected a governor, but it was a formality. Democrat Ross R. Barnett was unopposed. The segregationist lawyer had won the real election —the Democratic nomination primary—in August.

In a human-interest contest in New England, John Collins, 40-year-old polio victim who campaigned from a wheelchair, was elected mayor of Boston in an upset victory over John E. Powers, the state Senate president. In an unusual feature of U.S. municipal politics, the election was non-partisan as both are Democrats.

American opera stars are invariably as pleasing to the eye as they are to the ear. Slim, pretty, smart they are, and one of the prettiest, smartest, most beautifully groomed is Metropolitan Opera coloratura soprano, Roberta Peters. Her clothes are well chosen, very much of the mode, yet individual. We posed her in this delightful easy-to-wear dress of French cocoa silk lace made with a full, billowy skirt and a deep cape collar.

PM Says Speaking Up To U.S. Meant $75 Million For Canada

TORONTO (CP) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker says his government's courage in "speaking up" to the United States has resulted in $75,000,000 in new defence subcontracts for Canadian firms in the first 10 months of this year.

Everyone had told him it couldn't be done, he said in an address to the Ontario Progressive Conservative Association annual meeting Tuesday night.

"When we, in opposition, asked the government to speak up to the United States, they said it couldn't be done."

"They said 'don't say anything, they'll get angry.'

"We did speak up. We made it clear that Canada's co-operation for defence demands that our economic interests shall not be disregarded and the strength of our countries' economies must not be diminished or undermined by each other."

He said his government has increased old-age assistance, civil servants pensions and unemployment benefits. Conservatives had spent 12 times as much under the National Housing Act since 1957 as had been spent in the previous three years.

America Considers Using Lake Superior Iron Ore

CLEVELAND (AP) — American railroads may be asked to move a mountain of iron ore from the Lake Superior area during the winter months.

Even if the United States Great Lakes ore fleet, tied up by the steel strike, gets moving next week, the boats will have trouble getting enough ore down from the Lake Superior region before navigation closes to fill the steel industry's needs.

Normally at this time of year the stockpiles at U.S. lower lake docks contain about 50,000,000 tons of the ore produced in the Lake Superior district. At present this stockpile is about 31,000,000 tons.

Counting other types of ore from U.S., Canadian and foreign sources, the present total stockpile is close to 50,000,000 tons, compared with some 70,000,000 in a normal year.

When American steel mills are operating fully they consume roughly 12,000,000 tons a month, of which some 7,000,000 come from the Lake Superior area.

If the ore boats get a month of good weather on the lakes, they may haul 10,000,000 tons of ore from Lake Superior. Last year some boats operated until Dec. 7.

How much can the railroads haul?

They have never carried more than 7,000,000 tons of ore in one year.

Hauling by rail is much more expensive than in the big ore boats, and during the winter months there are special problems. The ore, which contains about 10 per cent moisture, freezes, and flame throwers or "rattlers" that unstick the frozen loads of ore must be used.

Furthermore, the car situation will be critical because the railroads will be moving coal too.

Gas Price War Temporarily Halts At Coast

VANCOUVER (CP)—For the first time in four months independents and major oil company dealers were selling regular gas at the same price—35.9 cents a gallon.

It halted—at least temporarily—a price war that saw gas prices dip from an average of 40.9 cents to a low of 29.9 during the four-month struggle.

Meanwhile, a self-serve station still was selling regular gasoline for 32.9 cents a gallon. The operator said he will continue the practice until he received instructions to alter the price from the station owner who lives at Winnipeg.

Fur, fur and more fur will be seen in the coming months. Large cape collars are appearing with frequency at fashion shows. At left this coat is in bright green wool. The short, cuffless sleeves repeat the lines of the collar. Right is fur on tweed in a new coat trend. Lavish accents of blond lynx are shown here. The slim dress is of matching black and brown tweed.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States will sell Poland 200,000 tons of feed grains to help the Iron Curtain nation overcome a meat shortage, a department of agriculture spokesman said Tuesday night.

In-and-Out Trays Made Obsolete by Computer

By DAVE McINTOSH
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — The RCAF Wednesday broke through the paper barrier.

Air Material Command, the big-best business in Canada — $500,000,000 a year — put into operation an electronic data processing machine which can do in 1¼ seconds the work which it would take a clerk two weeks to accomplish.

Defence Minister Pearkes pressed a button — what else? — to put the machine in business. And it replied, in a mechanical and, thank heaven, not a human voice: "Thank you, Mr. Minister. I'm glad to be a member of the defence department."

PAPER FLOW GONE

In one fell swoop, the computer rids the command of the mountainous flow of paper required to keep track of 300,000 items in the air force inventory and to order and supply them as needed.

Now, as requests steam in from squadrons and other units for items ranging from jet engines to paper cups, the computer by use of the 60,000 instructions stored on its memory drums will issue orders for replacements from the nearest available supply depot.

In a fraction of a second, the computer obviates the need for the laborious process of "in" and "out" trays on a clerk's desk.

NO EMPLOYEES OUT

Does the machine eliminate people?

"No," says Air Vice-Marshal Clare Annis, chief of Air Materiel Command.

"The computer eliminated routine and allows the people in the command to be employed in things which matter."

"There is a lot of good work waiting for humans to do. It will require a lot of retraining, of course.

Other government agencies are considering switching their routine work to similar electronic brains. The RCAF's computer, rented from International Business Machines for $600,000 a year, is the first of its type in Canada but the CPR, Dominion Bureau of Statistics, Metropolitan Life Insurance Company and Imperial Oil Limited are soon to acquire them.

Snow Storms Hit Canada Almost Coast-To-Coast

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The cold, white word "snow" today lay across the weather reports of Canada, almost from coast to coast.

Some areas were digging out; others were waiting.

Southern Alberta reported the worst snowstorm so far this season. It stopped traffic and crushed hopes that weather - hit grain still in the fields might be harvested.

Calgary reported seven inches of snow; Medicine Hat and Lethbridge more than five. Up to 10 inches fell in the mountainous Crowsnest Pass area in the southwest. The Trans-Canada Highway was all but impassable.

The storm ranged from Red Deer in central Alberta down into the United States. Temperatures, under a blanket of cold Arctic air, were in the 20s.

Another area hit was Gander, Nfld., where transport department plows ground onto the runways of international airport for the first time this fall. Four inches of snow fell Monday night and more came Tuesday.

In the Montreal and Ottawa areas, there were flurries. About two inches fell Tuesday in Ottawa, most of it melting quickly away.

In Manitoba, the word was: "Generally cloudy with snowflurries and temperatures dropping to 15 to 25 degrees above zero in the south; zero to 15 above in some northern regions."

Southern Saskatchewan reported light snow falling with a high temperature for today set at 25 degrees. Snow was forecast for the north with colder temperatures.

Even the normally warm west coast lay under a blanket of Arctic air. Heavy frost was forecast in the fruit-growing interior.

In the Espanola area of northern Ontario, the flying snow hindered the search for Arnold Esquimaux, 24-year-old Indian guide missing since Thursday.

Temperatures were below freezing in the Medicine Lodge district of Alberta where the search for Ira Herman, trapper missing since Friday, continued. He had light clothing and only six rounds for his rifle.

But a woman lost on the slopes of Mount Seymour, on Vancouver's north shore, was found Tuesday despite rain, fog and high wind.

Mrs. Inez Warkman was picked up by helicopter and flown to hospital in Vancouver after being lost at the 4,000-foot level of the mountain since Sunday. All she could say was: "I feel fine. I want to thank everyone who took part in the search."

BBG Go Into Huddle On Morning TV Rule

By BERNARD DUFRESNE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—The Board of Broadcast Governors sat behind closed doors Wednesday to prepare its final word on the ground rules for Canadian television.

It is expected to be a tough session, lasting two or three days, but no announcement of a decision is expected before Nov. 15.

Monday and Tuesday, 12 members of the board—two were absent and there is one vacancy—went through a mental grind, listening to varying opinions on its proposed TV regulations.

INDUSTRY UNHAPPY

A summing up of the two days of oral argument in support of written briefs goes roughly like this:

The broadcasting industry and some elements of allied fields raised objections to the proposed regulations.

But labor and groups interested —but not directly involved — in broadcasting were all in favor of the board's proposals.

For the board members, none of whom had any close experience with broadcasting when they were appointed a year ago, it may be a problem to reconcile their initial proposals and the industry's views.

During the hearings, the board members listened patiently and asked questions, but gave no recognizable hint that they will either stick to their proposals or modify them to any extent.

CANADIAN CONTENT

The major issue was the board's proposal that 55 per cent of television programming must be of Canadian content.

Private broadcasters, represented by the Canadian Association of Broadcasters, flatly opposed any "percentage regulation," but offered alternatives.

The percentage could be 35 per cent at the start and increased gradually or, better still, a percentage could be set for the CBC with the private broadcasters required to meet half the publicly owned corporation's mark.

The CBC, while claiming it now is programming at a higher level than the 55 - per - cent Canadian content, suggested that the minimum be set at "50 per cent or more" during the peak viewing hours between 6 p.m. and midnight, and somewhat less during the rest of the day.

LOWER QUALITY

The broadcasters' main argument against the 55-per-cent rule was, in effect, that it would mean less money for individual programs and, consequently, a lowering of program quality.

Such public - minded radio and TV watchdogs as the Canadian Broadcasting League supported the rule, and one Montreal group representing unions of artists and technicians suggested a higher percentage—75 per cent—could be economically profitable.

The board's proposal to regard TV films from Commonwealth countries and France as 50 per cent Canadian—an apparent easement of the 55 per cent rule—was attacked from many sides.

The CBC said that under such a rule, a station could, if it wanted, operate within the 55 per cent rule by using 10 per cent of Canadian programs and 90 per cent of films from Commonwealth countries.

SCARE OFF INVESTMENT

Film companies opposed a board proposal that a Canadian firm must be 75 per cent controlled by Canadians before its TV films will be considered acceptable for Canadian content regulations. The firms said this would drive out foreign investment in the Canadian film industry.

Perhaps the bitterest comments on one of the board's proposed regulations came from Bruce McLeod, manager of CKGN - TV, North Bay, Ont. It was directed at a proposed ban, with some exceptions, on telecasting during the forenoon. CKGN - TV has been broadcasting in the mornings regularly for 14 months.

Mr. McLeod described the proposal as an invasion and an infringement on Canadians' freedom to watch TV in the morning.

Other private broadcasters, especially from cities close to the U.S. border where American TV stations operate in the morning, said the prohibition would mean the loss of viewers to American outlers.

The CBC also disagreed with the ban on morning telecasts, though it said it has no plans for them at the present.

India's Police Fire On Rioters

KAN PUR, India (Reuters)—Police Wednesday opened fire on rioting crowds here for the second day in a row, wounding 12 persons.

Eleven were killed and at least 150 persons were injured Tuesday when police fired on rioters trying to lynch a police constable said to have raped a young girl prisoner. About 90 policemen were among Tuesday's injured. About 109 persons were arrested.

A curfew was imposed on this northern textile city Tuesday night, but as soon as it was lifted at dawn this morning crowds assembled again outside the police station, erecting barricades across the street and stoning police on patrol duty.

OPEN FIRE

Police used tear gas and batons to try to disperse the crowd and later opened fire, injuring the 12 persons.

The district magistrate immediately imposed a day curfew on the city.

During Tuesday night's rioting a crowd raided a hospital and tried to remove the bodies of those killed in the firing. They broke open the lock of the mortuary door before they were dispersed.

According to the district magistrate, the constable was suspended and taken into custody Tuesday immediately the report was received that a woman had been taken to police station for questioning had been criminally assaulted.

Violence broke out when police refused to hand over the constable to the crowd.

TB Cases Decreasing In Many Parts of the World

GENEVA (Reuters) — Tuberculosis, while still widespread in some parts of the world, is on the way to being eradicated in some countries, notably in northern Europe.

This was the conclusion reached by a committee of experts of the World Health Organization who met here to discuss the progress made in the fight against the disease.

The experts said that though tuberculosis still is common on a world scale, the number of deaths attributable to the disease has been greatly reduced. Latest available figures show that for 1957 the death rates per 100,000 of the population in the countries worst affected were: 102.6 in Hong Kong; 58.4 in Portugal; 57.9 in Chile, 57.8 in Singapore; and 46.9 in Japan.

In the countries least affected, the death rates for the same year fell as low as 4.3 per 100,000 in Iceland; 4.7 in The Netherlands; 4.9 in Denmark; 5.1 in Israel; 6.1 in Australia; 7.1 in Canada, 7.5 in the United States; and 8.8 in Sweden.

A W.H.O. spokesman has warned, however, that these figures should not be taken as indicating a reduction in the incidence of the disease since the number of deaths has fallen considerably as a result of the use of new drugs.

According to the experts, although eradication should be the ultimate aim of all anti-tuberculosis plans, it is still, in most parts of the world, only a distant goal. Countries in which the disease still is rampant have a long way to go before they even achieve effective control of the disease.

Quiz Show Sponsors Called as Witnesses

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional investigators of quiz show rigging talked of expanding their inquiries to take in other kinds of television programs accused of misrepresentation.

The staff of the House of Representatives legislative oversight sub-committee, it was learned, has begun gathering information on at least one show of a different nature. Sources declined to name or specifically describe it at this point.

The sub-committee meanwhile pushed ahead Wednesday in its hearings on the admittedly controlled $65,000 Question and $64,000 Challenge, formerly carried on CBS.

It called as witnesses two officials of the Revlon Company, which sponsored the $64,000 Question. They are president Charles Revson and vice-president Martin Revson.

Mert Koplin, associate producer of both $64,000 shows, testified Tuesday that Revlon officials, among them Revson, knew about the controls and made suggestions that involved keeping some contestants going and letting others drop out.

Koplin added, somewhat grimly, that in television there is a tradition of pleasing the client.

Revlon issued a statement later contending that "pressure from a sponsor to do a better job did not give quiz program producers a licence to cheat."

SHOULDN'T STOP NOW

Meanwhile Representative John B. Bennett of Michigan, senior Republican member of the subcommittee, said he does not think the group should stop at the quiz shows in its efforts to root out what he called "misleading and deceptive practices in television." He called for criminal penalties for those guilty of deception on the air.

The big winner who featured in Monday's testimony got a further blow Tuesday when NBC fired him from his $50,000-a-year job because of his part in the rigged Twenty-One show.

Charles Van Doren already had been dropped by Columbia University, where he had been a $5,500-a-year assistant English professor. But a new magazine, Leisure, said it would retain him as an associate editor despite the TV scandal.

U.S. Follows U.K. With Magazine for Mid-East

By TERENCE DAVIDSON

BEIRUT (Reuters)—The United States is entering the battle for Arab readers with a bimonthly color magazine which reaches Middle East newsstands at a price undercutting its Soviet and Chinese competitors.

The 48 - page illustrated magazine, published by the U.S. Information Agency, already has an initial circulation of 50,000 copies. The first 5,000 were sold at the Damascus Fair in September.

Entitled Al Hayat fi America (Life in America), it is destined for distribution in most Arabic-speaking countries and is expected to find its way to North Africa (except Algeria where there is no American distribution organization), Egypt, Sudan, Somaliland, Central Africa, the Red Sea and Persian Gulf areas, Iraq, Jordan, Syria, Lebanon and parts of Iran. Eventually, it probably also will appear in Indonesia.

COSTS ABOUT 13 CENTS

Its price will be the local equivalent of about 13 cents, which in Lebanon is about 40 piastres. This compares with 50 piastres and more charged for Communist publications of a similar type in Arabic.

The Communist organs include Soviet Russia, printed at the Pravda plant in Moscow, a number of Chinese magazines printed in Red China, and a Czechoslovakian magazine. Unlike these, Life in America is printed in Beirut, though the editorial work is done by a staff in Washington.

The first issue measures up to the highest North American or European technical standards.

The magazine includes articles reprinted from such American periodicals as Time, Holiday, Parade and the New York Times Magazine. Subject covered include higher education in America, Louis Armstrong, atomic fusion, college girl fashions and a Washington girl's interview with Indian Prime Minister Nehru.

U.K. ALSO HAS ONE

Britain is well entrenched in the Middle East battle of magazines with a full-color monthly which has been selling at about 25 piastres for years. It is a general magazine aimed at promoting trade as much as favorable relations with the West.

Unlike all the others, it contains advertising and features glamour photographs of a kind that pleases the Arab reader without offending his Moslem elders. The magazine, entitled Al Alaam (The World) and printed in England, is admired by Americans as a smooth and subtle propaganda vehicle.

Lady Luck Let Them Down

TORONTO (CP)—A syndicate of 10 Toronto men that had a chance of winning $125,000 in an English soccer pool learned today the total will be only $40.

Apparently 3,124 other entries duplicated the feat of the group in picking eight tie games in Saturday's Vernon treble chance pool. The 10 are all employed by the Copp Clark Publishing Company.

Sports Photographer Used to Frozen Hands

WINNIPEG (CP)—Ken Davey has hands that amaze him.

In 19 years of shooting movies of western football games, Ken estimates he must have frozen his hands a few hundred times. But not so much in recent years. He insists that football seasons are getting milder.

As official photographer for the Western Interprovincial Football Union, and the man responsible for providing movie films to the five team coaches, Ken's most painful recollections go back a good many football seasons.

He recalls the days in 1934 when he stood on the roof of the Amphitheatre Rink battling howling north winds as he shot pictures of games in the adjacent Osborne Stadium here. And a later occasion when he spent an afternoon strapped to a hydro pole high above old DeYoung Park in Regina.

NOW SYSTEMATIC

But that was many, many feet of film ago, and Ken now is organized. As Ken Davey Productions, he supervises filming of all WIFU games and processes all the film except Vancouver shots.

He estimates he goes through 60,000 feet of negative per game, supplying films to interested coaches. Usually there are five prints of each game.

The movie films are provided basically for the coaches. Few, if any, of football's strategists pass up an opportunity to scan films of the opposition's performance.

But it wasn't always this way. In 1934, when Davey and Joe Ryan, then Winnipeg's football manager, pioneered football filming in Canada, the pictures were considered fine for entertainment and a cheap source for laughs.

Reg Threlfall, who coached Winnipeg in the late 1930s and early 1940s, was the first western mentor fully to appreciate the value of game movies. He used Davey as a part-time employee, advising him what and when to shoot. Threlfall even insisted the club photographer should accompany the team on the road.

CHANGED CAREER

Up to then, Ken was just another member of the photography branch of a departmental store. But with this new horizon opening up, he went into the movie business on a large scale.

Business went well until the Second World War broke out and football and the movie business slackened. Rejected by the services, Ken worked in the paint shop of an aircraft factory.

It took a while for football to regain stride after the war, and the Winnipeg club didn't send for Davey until 1949. Coach Frank (Butch) Larsen was interested in game movies and Ken Davey Productions was back in business.

There have been times when Ken wondered if the job at the department store might not have been a better idea. The first year, 1952, when he went to work for the league, his schedule had him in Edmonton on Saturday night, back in Winnipeg processing film Sunday, and off to Calgary for a Monday night game. Once he went five days without sleep.

Davey can point with pride at his work. He was the first man to photograph a Grey Cup final—1935. He also likely was the first man to refuse a bribe in western football. In the old days, the players were willing to barter $5 for a strip of the film which could have embarrassed them in front of the coach.

Eskimos Smash Lions To Win Semi-Finals

Parker Scores 17 Of Eskimo's 41

EDMONTON (CP)—Edmonton Eskimos smashed past B.C. Lions and into the Western Interprovincial Football Union finals Wednesday night with a decisive 41-7 victory over Lions before a shivering crowd of about 16,000.

The final score of the two-game total - paints series was 61-15. Esks had whiped Lions 20-8 last Saturday in Vancouver.

Edmonton's all - Canadian defensive backfield had a field day nabbing five of 48 passes by Lions' quarterbacks Randy Duncan and Earl Keeley. Esks also recovered a fumble by Duncan and turned it into a touchdown.

PARKER STARS

Quarterback Jackie Parker was the scoring star of the game, collecting 17 points on a touchdown, two field goals and five converts.

Parker also threw touchdown passes to end Tommy-Joe Coffey and scored his touchdown on a pass from Don Getty, who quarterbacked Esks in the second half.

Fullbacks Normie Kwong and Johnny Bright also plunged for touchdowns.

Lions only points came when fullback Bill Britton took a seven-yard pass from Duncan and fought 16 more yards for a touchdown. Guard Vic Kristopaitis converted.

Lions' never recovered from their first-half lapses, including three interceptions. They looked more organized on the frozen, slippery field in the second half when they traded their regular cleated shoes for running shoes.

Esks wore special rubber-soled shoes throughout the game.

Edmonton took a 6-0 first quarter lead and were ahead 27-0 at half time. Two more converted touchdowns against one by Lions ended scoring in the third quarter.

"Shoes made the difference," said Edmonton coach Eagle Keys after the game. "B.C. tried cleats in the first half but they were better in the last with running shoes."

"REALLY BEATEN"

Coach Wayne Robinson, interviewed in Lions' dejected dressing room, disagreed.

"When you're beaten 41-7 you're really beaten," he said.

Eskimos drove for 222 yards along the ground and 225 in the air, with 15 of 22 pass attempts complete and only one intercepted.

One-third of B.C.'s 48 passes believed a conference record for attempts, were good for 286 yards but Lions made only 46 rushing.

Esks meet Winnipeg Blue Bombers in a best-of-three final, with the first game Wednesday, Nov. 11.

Esks had 26 first downs to 17 by Lions.

FAST OPENER

Fullback Mike Lashuk intercepted a Duncan pass two plays after the game started and Parker kicked a 33-yard field goal four plays later.

End Steve Bendiak made a second interception in Lions' territory and it was turned into a 34-yard field goal to end first-quarter scoring.

Guard Gino Fracas stole the third first-quarter interception at Esks' 36 and Kwong plunged one yard for the touchdown early in the second quarter.

Duncan fumbled on the first play after kickoff and Esks took over at their own 40. A series of running plays moved the ball to the seven, and Parker passed to Bright in the end zone.

Esks again went into Lions territory and a 27-yard pass from Parker to Coffey went for their third touchdown.

B.C. entered Edmonton territory twice in the first half, once on a 47-yard pass-and-run play from Duncan to fullback Ed Vereb.

Lions seemed completely off balance in the half, with Duncan's passes going high or bouncing off the stiff fingers of receivers in the 15-degree cold. The brightest moment for them was a 47-yard pass-and-run play from Duncan to fullback Ed Vereb.

The nationally televised game was a complete runaway early in the second half when Edmonton halfback Joe-Bob Smith took the kickoff at his own 10 and ran it back 61 yards to Lions 44. Getty threw two complete passes to Parker and Bright went over from the five on the next play.

Esks marched 79 yards to the B.C. three the next time they got the ball and Getty threw to Parker in the end zone, for Esks' final touchdown.

Britton's touchdown came after a five-play drive from the B.C. 45, with Duncan tossing a screen pass to the big Canadian fullback. Britton weaved through a maze of tacklers for the score.

Banks Repeats League Award

BOSTON (AP) — Ernie Banks, Chicago Cubs' hard - hitting infielder who set a major league fielding record for shortstops this season, Wednesday was named the National League's most valuable player of 1959.

The 28 - year - old slugger, who set a major league mark by committing only 12 errors in 155 games, drew 10 of the 22 first-place votes cast by the Baseball Writers Association of American in the eight National League cities. Banks was listed in a tie for first place on another ballot.

Banks also won the award last year.

He was named on every ballot and drew a total of 232½ points. Eddie Mathews, Milwaukee's third baseman, drew five first-place votes, was named in a tie with Banks on another and finished second in the balloting with 19½ points.

FEW FIRSTS

Hank Aaron of Milwaukee and Los Angeles' Wally Moon got the only other first - place votes. Aaron, the National League batting champion, collected two first place selections and 174 total points, while Moon was named first on four ballots and had 161 total points.

"Gee, that's great. I'll be dancing all night," Banks said in Chicago when informed oqi6uselection.

Banks led the majors in runs batted in with 143 and finished second to Mathews in the National League home run race with 45 and hit .304.

In addition, he wiped out a 17-year-old fielding mark for shortstops. He handled 802 chances with only 12 errors for a .985 fielding percentage, bettering the previous mark of .983 set by Eddie Miller of the old Boston Braves in 1942.

Stampeder's President Resigns

CALGARY (CP) — Eddie LaBorde, president of the Calgary Stampeders for less than a year, resigned Wednesday.

His resignation was submitted to the board of directors of the Western Interprovincial Football Union club through secretary and general manager Jim Finks. Mr. LaBorde said it was effective immediately.

Mr. LaBorde declined to give his reason for resigning but said he will explain them to a meeting of the board called to deal with his resignation.

LaBorde said his resignation was not brought about because of the rehiring of Otis Douglas as head coach. Previously, the president had gone on record as being op*posed to Douglas'* rehiring.

LaBorde succeeded Mervyn (Red) Dutton who resigned last winter after three seasons as president. He served three years as a club vice-president.

Born in Louisiana, LaBorde has made his home in Calgary since 1947 and became a Canadian citizen in 1953. He is president of Canadian Homestead Oils and Petcal Company Limited.

Leafs Regain Third Place

TORONTO (CP)—Toronto Maple Leafs, led by George Armstrong's two goals, Wednesday night re*gained third place in the National* Hockey League by whipping the hapless New York Rangers 4-1 in a game which offered little in the way of excitement for the 12,814 fans.

Rangers, who fell behind at the 13-second mark of the first period on Armstrong's first goal and never recovered, had a few chances to add to their one-goal total but Leafs' Johnny Bower thwarted them.

Besides Armstrong, veteran left winger Bert Olmstead and defenceman Allan Stanley scored for Toronto. Captain Red Sullivan got the New York goal late in the first period.

Action dragged after the first four minutes, when Leafs had a 2-0 lead, and the fans kept up a continuous din of stamping and clapping.

LEAFS MOVE UP

The victory moved Leafs one point ahead of the idle Boston Bruins, who have played one more game than Toronto. It also kept Leafs' undefeated record at home intact.

The loss left Rangers in fifth place, nine points behind Boston.

Olmstead gave Leafs a 2-0 lead at the four-minute mark when he blasted a five-footer past Ranger netminder Lorne Worsley after Horton had put him in the clear.

Sullivan's goal at 15:09 of the second narrowed the lead and for a time it appeared Rangers might give Leafs a battle. Stanley's first goal of the season—equalling his entire output for 70 games last season — seemed to cave in the Ranger hopes and Armstrong closed the scoring with a hot which zipped under the falling Worsley at 16:15.

English Beat Irish

BLACKBURN, Eng. (Reuters)—The English Soccer League maintained its unbeaten record against the Irish League Wednesday night with a 2-0 inter-league victory.

The goals came in the fourth and 27th minutes from Dennis Violet, Manchester United's cen*tre forward, and John Connelly,* burly rightwinger.

Comets Score Over Seattle

SPOKANE (AP)—Spokane Comets scored up their first Western Hockey League victory of the season over Seattle Wednesday night as they turned back the Totems 5-2 before 1978 fans here.

The triumph was the second in a row for Comets, their first back-to-back effort this year.

It also was their second-biggest goal output in the 12 games they've played.

Les Lilley led Spokane with his first two goals of the season. He tallied the game's opener in the first period and scored again in the second.

Other Spokane goals came off the sticks of Del Topoll, Bev Bell and Ron Atwell. Atwell's first-period counter gave Spokane a lead they never lost.

Marc Boileau scored both Totem goals, getting his first mid-way in the opening period and the second late in the final session.

Spokane started smartly and finished strong. Most of the play in the first two periods was in the Seattle zone, as Spokane saw its forechecking tactics pay off repeatedly.

Much of the credit for the Spokane win went to Comet defenceman Bill Burega, whose thumping bodychecks thwarted several Seattle sorties into Spokane territory. He also excelled in all other defensive departments.

For Sale: 14 Karat Gold Putter

NEW YORK (AP) — Golfers, how about a 14-karat gold putter—price $1475?

Tiffany and Company, New York jewelers, advertised the putters Wednesday, but anyone who craves one is out of luck for the time being. They are all gone. The ad carried this postscript:

"This advertisement appears for the record only as the entire stock has been sold."

Tiffany said it is ordering more. The company declined to say how many have been sold.

The putters were advertised as "presentation" items but a company spokesman said some devil-may-care golfers reported they performed well on the greens.

Rough Riders Ready For Semi-Finals

OTTAWA (CP) — Coach Frank Clair said Wednesday that if his Ottawa Rough Riders are not ready now for their semi - final game against Montreal Alouettes Saturday, they never will be.

"The boys know this is the big game and I'm sure they won't need a pep talk,' he said. "If they have the burning desire to win they will."

Clair said backfield coach and scout George Terlep, who scouted Montreal's last couple of games, reported Alouettes a much improved team with a lot of players playing both ways.

"In cold weather you can play 50 or 60 minutes and still do a good job," Clair said. However, he plans to platoon his offensive and defensive squads just as he has done so far this year because "the system has worked well."

Clair expected all his players would be in good physical shape for the sudden death semi-final.

MONTREAL (CP) — The offensive strength Montreal Alouettes can muster for their sudden-death playoff game with Ottawa Rough Riders next Saturday may be a highly important factor in the outcome.

Coach Douglas (Peahead) Walker, never a man to bubble over with optimism, nevertheless was a mite happier Wednesday when he talked about his Als' defence.

"We've strengthened down the middle," said Walker. "These boys Curt Iaukea, Wes Gideon, Milt Campbell and George Dixon have been doing real well."

The defence-tightening has come about since the last meeting of the Als and Rough Riders. That was in Montreal Oct. 12, when the Riders came up with four touchdowns in the second half to win 28-12.

The playoff meeting is in Ottawa, giving the Riders the home-field advantage—whatever it may be.

Since Iaukea and company got into action and began taking up the slack, the Als squeezed out a win over Toronto Argos and broke even with Hamilton Tiger-Cats, first-place winners in the Big Four football circuit.

LONDON (AP) — Brian London, former British heavyweight champion who was knocked out by Floyd Patterson last May, said Wednesday he would start a comeback campaign by meeting Nino Valdes of Cuba, here on Tuesday, Dec. 1.

London was suspended by the British Board of Control for fighting Patterson because the board held he was not a fit opponent for the then world champion. He also was fined $2800. The suspension ended Nov. 1. Patterson knocked out the Briton in 11 rounds.

Dick Richardson of Britain, a contender for the title London once held, will appear on the card. He will be matched against an American fighter, promoter Jack Solomons said.

In the Junior Women's League, Jane Pearson of Royal Bank rolled high single of 242 and high aggregate of 658. Team high single and aggregate went to Dynamos with 630 and 2265.

His place on the Lee-Hyssop-Mickey Maglio line will be taken by Garth Linsack when Trail Smoke Eaters play here Friday night.

Australians Crush Canada in Tourney

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (CP) — An undermanned Australian team crushed Canada's entry in the Commonwealth golf tournament Wednesday, winning eight of the nine games played.

The loss left Canada at the bottom of the five-team competition despite the fact that two of the entries—Britain and New Zealand — have played one round less than Canada.

Only Gary Cowan, 20-year-old Kitchener, Ont., amateur, man*aged to win in Wednesday's play.* He overpowered Justin Seward 5 and 4. Seward, Australia's team manager, was called in at the last minute as a replacement for Bruce Devlin, Australia's amateur champion, who was taken ill.

In the day's other round, South Africa strengthened its hold on first place by defeating Britain 5-4.

POINT A GAME

Standings are based on one point for each game won during every round and one-half point for a tied game.

South Africa defeated Canada 7½-1½ in Tuesday's opening round.

Africa, favored to win the tournament, appeared to be on the way to a lop-sided win, taking the first three singles games against Britain before the U. K. team fought back to tie the score.

The biggest game pitted Denis Hutchinson, South Africa's open champion, against veteran Reid Aack of Scotland, former British amateur titlist.

Hutchinson was only 1 up on Jack at the turn, but captured the 11th, 12th, 14th and 15th holes to win 5 and 3.

1½-POINT LEAD

South Africa now has 12½ points on its two wins. Australia, upset Tuesday 6-3 by New Zealand, is second with 11 points, followed by New Zealand with six, Britain with four and Canada with 2½.

CLOSE GAMES

In Wednesday's Canada - Australia round, veteran Nick Weslock of Windsor, Ont., and Doug Silverberg of Calgary gave their opponents close games in the singles play.

Weslock was defeated 1 up by Kevin Hartley while Silverberg, 26-year-old insurance salesman, lost 2 and 1 to Jack Coogan.

In the other singles games, Peter Toogood beat Johnny Johnson of Vancouver 7 and 6, Doug Bachli defeated Ron Willey of Vancouver 6 and 5 and Vic Bulgin beat Bert Ticehurst of Vancouver 5 and 3.

Australia swept the three foursome games, Seward and Hartley defeating Cowan and Willey 2 up, Coogan and Toogood beating Silverberg and Ticehurst 5 and 4 and Bachli and Bulgin defeating Johnson and Weslock 4 and 2.

Max Bell, McMahon In Tanforan Purchase

SAN BRUNO, Calif. (CP)—Two Calgary racing enthusiasts and two Californians have united to buy control of Tanforan race track here for $1,500,000.

The Calgarians are Max Bell, publisher of The Albertan, and oil tycoon Frank McMahon. They are already partners in Alberta Ranches stable and breeding farm.

The Americans are Marco Hellman, San Francisco financier, and William Gilmore, San Francisco steel man and vice - president of Pacific Turf Club, which operates Golden Gate Field, another track in the San Francisco area.

A spokesman for the Tanforan track said Wednesday the $1,500,000 payment would give the group about 30 per cent of the stock in the track, which sold for $5,000,000 last August. In a way, he said, the money represents a down payment; the group is expected to buy more.

Gilmore, Bell and McMahon are directors of Golden Gate Fields For some time, there have been rumors that Golden Gate and Bay Meadows track officials would like to see Tanforan sold for industrial land, reducing northern California's tracks from three to two.

But Gilmore said the Tanforan property was found to be worth more as a race track and the owners plan to keep it in operation.

Small College Turns Out Starry Player

BEAVER FALLS, Pa. (AP) Small colleges often produce some of the finest football players, and Geneva College is proving it with a quarterback named Joe Denone.

Denone, a five - foot - nine, 165 - pound sophomore, has completed 64 of 99 pass attemps for an amazing 66.7 percentage. He has made 15 touchdown tosses.

"In 20 years of coaching, I'd say Denone's the best quarterback I've had," says Geneva coach Byron Morgan. "As a matter of fact, he's just about the best all-round player I've ever seen."

Detroiter to Run Buffalo Franchise

NEW YORK (AP)—Harry Wismer, member of the new American Football League's expansion committee, said Tuesday that Ralph C. Wilson of Detroit has decided to locate a franchise in Buffalo, N.Y.

Buffalo is the seventh city in the new professional league which plans to start play in 1960 with eight teams.

An eighth city will be selected from among Boston, Philadelphia, Kansas City, St. Louis, Cincinnati, and New Orleans.

The league plans to expand to 10 teams in 1961 and 12 in 1962.

In addition to Buffalo, cities in the league are New York, Los Angeles, Dallas, Houston, Minneapolis-St. Paul and Denver.

Ti-Cats Still Not at Peak

HAMILTON (CP)—Jim Trimble, coach of the team that has ruled Eastern Canada football for three years, says his Hamilton Tiger-Cats haven't hit their peak for this year.

At this stage of the season, he said, the 1959 team isn't as advanced as the 1957 or 1958 squads.

"If we have hit our peak, then we're in trouble."

He's hoping that Hamilton has yet to reach that razor edge of efficiency which took them to the Grey Cup in 1957 and just shy of it last year.

This year's team has outscored the last two teams and has had fewer points scored against it. This year the record is: For 298, against 162; 1958: For 291, against 235; 1957; For 250, against 189.

All three clubs won 10 regular league games. The 1958 team lost only three and tied one, compared to four losses and no ties for the other two.

However, this year's club was outscored by only 10 points in their four losses and only once did the defence allow more than two touchdowns in any game.

Hopeful Non-League Soccer Clubs Finally Gain Sports Page Headlines

By ED SIMON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—The names of Burscough United, Gainsborough Trinity and Oswestry Towm made an unaccustomed bold - type appearance in Britain's sports pages today. Normally, if you find them at all, you have to look for them with a magnifying glass.

They are three of the non-league soccer clubs that have survived two months of knockout competition to emerge in the first round proper of the Football Association Cup competition.

The perennial dream haunting the part-time back - lot athletes performing for the non - league sides is that some day one of them will keep going for another seven months and appear before 100,000 fans on the sacred turf of Wembley Stadium in a cup final.

NEXT HURDLE

Today the 32 remaining non-leaguers caught their first glimpse of the next hurdle—the draw for the first-round competition Nov. 14, in which they have their first shot at the 48 members of the Football League's Third and Fourth Divisions. The really big fish of the First and Second Divisions don't come into the picture until the third round.

No non-league club has ever gone all the way, but occasionally they have made things interesting.

Last year Tooting and Mitcham United, a London amateur side, scared the daylights out of First-Division Nottingham Forest in the third round by holding the eventual cup winners to a 2-2 draw. In fact there are Tooting fans who will still tell you Forest's tying goal should have been disallowed.

Tooting went out 1-0 in the replay at Nottingham, failing to emulate the feat of Yeovil Town, a non-league club that actually put out a First-Division opponent —Sunderland—10 years earlier.

BURSCOUGH'S BIG CHANCE

Both Tooting and Yeovil failed to get through the qualifying rounds this year. But Burscough, a Lancashire side with an average age of 20, has a chance to shine with a home match against Crewe Alexandra, one of the lesser fourth-division clubs.

Grainsborough Trinity, a Lincolnshire club, has an away match against Doncaster Rovers, a team that has dropped from the Second to the Fourth Division in successive years and has won only five of its 18 starts this season.

Another non-league club with a chance is Shildon, which entertains Oldham Athletic, Oldham, in the Fourth Division cellar, hasn't won a match away from home all season.

Norwich City, the Third - Division side that knocked over mightly Manchester United on its way to last year's semi-finals, is drawn at home against Reading, a Third-Division colleague. Peterborough United, one of the most powerful non-league clubs, is at home to Third-Division Shrewsbury Town.

Dead Man's Friend To Hang Podola

LONDON (AP) — German-born Gunter Fritz Poloda will be hanged Thursday by a friend of the British policeman he was sentenced to death for murdering.

Podola was convicted of shooting Detective Sgt. Raymond Purdy while attempting to escape arrest last July 13.

Tuesday night hangman Harry Allen told reporters: "I knew Ray Purdy well. We had been friends for about eight years. He was a very nice person, too nice to die the way he did."

Allen arrived in London Wednesday to prepare for the execution in grim old Wandsworth prison.

Canadian Horse Jumping Team in Pure Amateur Ranks

NEW YORK (AP)—You can't get much more simon pure than Canada's international horse jumping team.

"We are lucky if we can practice two nights a week," 25-year-old Jim Elder of Aurora, Ont., said Tuesday night as the national horse show started an eight-day run. "And practice and training can tell the story in this business."

Elder won the West Point Challenge Trophy, the first of the big international tests Tuesday. It was his first victory after four years of trying.

"But I don't mind not winning," he said. "And neither do my teammates. We use this time as our vacation and we're happy just to compete. We hit only four or five shows a year."

YEAR-ROUND TEAMS

Elder noted that United States riders make a European tour in the summer and that the other teams in the National — Mexico, Argentina and Brazil — all have military riders who work most of the year.

But for a team that is strictly catch-as-catch-can, the Canadians are doing fine. Tom Gayford, of Toronto, at 32 the veteran of the team, is the defending individual champion. Elder's triumph on Isglide left Canada and the U. S. tied with one victory each in the international jumps.

"I sure wish we had more time," Elder said. "But I'm afraid it's not in the cards. We all have jobs that we have to keep. Our horses are good, but they are inexperienced. We don't have the time to train them enough. In fact, we probably won't be able to enter any of the Olympic events next year except the three - day, which is more of a test of endurance than jumping."

Elder's other teammate, Doug Cudney of Grimsby, Ont., was second in the West Point competition on Diana Khan.

FREE PACKING HOUSES

RIO de JANEIRO (AP)—Nine meat packing houses, including three owned by American firms, were freed Tuesday from government control. Brazil's new price control chief, Guilherme Romano said the packers' co-operation will be sought in getting beef to Brazil's meat-short markets. He said he will permit a price increase if necessary.

Green Confirms Canada Favors Poland in UN

OTTAWA (CP) — External Affairs Minister Green Wednesday confirmed that Canada has supported Communist Poland for the vacant seat on the United Nations Security Council.

He told reporters on his return from Europe that the security council seat should go to Eastern Europe. Turkey, backed by the United States, is also seeking the seat.

"At this time of relaxation of tension it is not wise to make a cold war issue out of the election," he said.

Poland was the "least difficult" of Communist countries and "there is not much justification at all to make a cold war issue of this."

MARKET TRENDS

NEW YORK (AP)—The independent automakers continued as the pacemakers in an irregularly lower stock market Wednesday.

Revlon was hurled into the most-active list, falling 5¼ to 54¼, as the spotlight of the television quiz investigation fell upon the company.

Stock split proposals brought gains of 3½ for Goodyear and 3¼ for Eagle-Picher.

Studebaker-Packard, up a fraction, continued to rule as most active stock while American Motors surged to a high, keeping a gain of 7 points.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell 80 cents to $223. Volume rose to 3,940,000 shares.

U.S. Steel, General Motors, Standard Oil (New Jersey) and New York Central lost fractions.

On the Canadian list, Distillers Seagrams gained ½, Dome Mines ¼, and McIntyre Porcupine 1½. Aluminum Ltd. lost ⅛, Canadian Pacific ¼, Hudson Bay Mining ⅜ and International Nickel ⅜.

American Stock Exchange prices were mixed on volume of 1,210,000 shares.

Among the Canadians, Fargo Oil lost ¼ and Scurry Rainbow Oil ⅛. Canadian Marconi rose ¼ and Jupiter Oils 3-16.

TORONTO (CP) — With Wall Street giving it some trend to follow, the stock market Wednesday lost ground amid moderately active trading.

The final volume was 1,912,000 shares. Tuesday's sales totalled 999,000 shares, lightest in eight years, as Toronto struggled on its own with Wall Street closed because of American state and local elections.

Western oils led the decline with their index losing 2¼ points. Brokers attributed the selling to profit-taking following strong gains by many issues, particularly natural gas stocks, in the last few sessions.

Industrials lost a point on their index but, despite a long list of fractional losses, several good gains were noted.

The western oil losses were strong in number but most changes were moderate. Losing between 20 and 25 cents were stocks such as Bailey Selburn, Canadian Devonian, Central Del Rio and Royalite. Most seniors dipped fractions.

Uraniums showed strtngth in mines while senior base metals closed mixed to higher.

Index changes: Industrials off .96 to 513.10; golds up .35 to 87.39; base metals up .33 to 169.86; western oils off 2.23 to 104.99.

MONTREAL (CP)—The Montreal and Canadian stock exchanges Wednesday ambled to losses across the board in moderate trading with few large price changes.

In utilities, Quebec Power lost ¾ at 34 to equal a gain of the same by International at 36¼. Quarter-point losers were Calgary Power at 92½ and Jamaica at 27¾.

Papers showed fractional losses to Bowater, Great Lakes, St. Lawrence and Anglo-Newfoundland to offset the new high set by International at 129, up 4.

Biggest loss in pipelines went to Interprovincial at 57, down 1. Quebec Natural Gas led the gainers in the mixed section with an increase of 1¼ at 15¾. Gainers in oils included Imperial and Canadian Oil. Western oil losers were Pacific Pete and Home A, both down fractions.

Banks showed two late gains but failed to come up on index. Toronto-Dominion made ¾ at 56¾ and Imperial 1 at 63.

Volumes were 61,100 industrials and 207,600 mines and oils.

Closing averages showed banks off .1 at 58.98, utilities off .7 at 143.6, industrials off .1 at 301.8, papers off .8 at 432.5, and golds off .10 at 83.83.

Hail Steffanson as Man Who Took Fear From North

HANOVER, N.H. (AP)—Vilhjalmur Stefansson Tuesday night was hailed as the man who has done the most to remove "the greatest of all barriers to exploration in the Arctic and Antarctic—the psychological one."

The remark was made by Dr. Laurance Gould, director of the United States Antarctic program for the International Geophysical Year, at a surprise birthday party for the 80-year-old explorer.

His remarks were echoed by Professor Trevor Lloyd of McGill University, Montreal, who said "It was Stefansson who took the fear out of the Far North."

Stefansson, currently a consultant on polar studies at Dartmouth University and an Arctic explorer for 50 years, broke a four-year diet to taste a huge birthday cake he was presented.

SURPASSED VIKINGS

Lloyd, principal speaker at a dinner honoring the explorer, said Stefansson, "a child of Icelandic pioneers, grew up to a career in Far Northern exploration that even his countrymen of a thousand years before did not surpass."

"Dr. Stefansson's greatest expedition—that for the Canadian government — lasted for five years, from 1913 to 1918. It changed the map of Canada's Far North, placing on it a series of islands named for the cabinet ministers of the time — islands which have sometimes since been referred to as the conservation archepelago.

"The results of this expedition ultimately put the Arctic in its true location—at the centre of the world's great land masses—and led eventually and inevitably to its conquest in air and under the ocean — modes of travel which Stefansson advocated himself 40 years ago."

Inner Conflicts Cause Illness

EDMONTON (CP) — A noted psychiatrist says that subconscious inner conflicts cause a high percentage of physical illnesses.

Dr. William S. Simpson of the Menninger clinic of psychiatry and neurology in Topeka, Kan., spoke at the annual convention of the Alberta division of the Canadian Medical Association.

"A high percentage of patients treated by all doctors," he told delegates, "initially go to doctors for psychoneurotic symptoms. A physical examination shows no organic disease.

"The causes of psychoneurotic symptoms seem to come from nowhere because the reasons for their production are beyond the patient's awareness.

"Usually the symptoms arise from deep-seated conflicts which originate in childhood but are triggered off by reality situations.

"The symptoms of the psychoneurotic have a cause, a significance, and they help to maintain an equilibrium within the personality."

Dr. Simpson added that "the psychoneurotic suffers from conflicts which in turn produce anxiety. Since the anxiety is painful, it must be defended against by the personality and the modes of defence chosen determines the symptom picture."

He gave as an example a case he had treated recently in which a woman was suffering from asthma.

"She was placed in a conflicting situation. One side of her personality urged her to blast off at her mother but the other side made her suppress the desire.

"The asthma disappeared when she discovered how irrational her conflict had been."

Too Many Foreign Fishermen Spell Disaster For Japanese

VANCOUVER (CP) — Overcrowding of fishing waters and decreased returns on their catches are spelling near-disaster for 4,000,000 Japanese fishermen, delegates attending a four-nations fisheries conference were told here.

Jahime Abe, Japanese delegate to the meeting, said fishermen are being forced out of waters adjacent to Korea and Kamchatka and, despite increased efficiency in the industry, it is deteriorating.

He said Japanese fishermen are asking the government to negotiate with Canada, the United States and Russia to increase their area of the Pacific Ocean.

Homer Stevens, secretary of the United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union (Ind.) said Canada is also facing a problem of overcrowding in its waters and he advocated a system of limiting the number of licences issued.

"Lack of government action had led to a dangerously over-crowded, over-capitalized fishing industry," he said.

The meeting, which has been held behind closed doors here since Monday, will be open to the press Wednesday. Delegates are also attending from Russia and the United States.

Leukemia Takes Sports Editor

TORONTO (CP)—George Dulmage, former sports editor of The Telegram, died in hospital Wednesday of leukemia. He was 50.

Mr. Dulmage, who resigned from The Telegram in June because of poor health, had been in and out of hospital for the last year.

He was appointed Telegram sports editor in 1957 after more than 29 years of reporting. Before coming to The Telegram in 1948 he worked on the Owen Sound Sun-Times, Windsor Star, Toronto Star, Peterborough Examiner and Toronto Globe and Mail. He had experience as a news reporter and deskman as well as a sports writer.

During the Second World War, he was in the RCAF for three years, including 18 months as a bombardier overseas.

He is survived by his wife Elsie and two sons, Paul, sports editor of the Prince Albert, Sask., Herald, and Doug, in Toronto. A brother, Elmer, owns a weekly newspaper in Canaan, N.H., and a second brother, Jack, is sports editor of the Windsor Star.

Railway Workers' Contract Demands Expected Shortly

MONTREAL (CP)—The long-awaited contract demands of 130,000 Canadian railway workers will likely be served this week on Canada's major railways, it was learned Wednesday.

Sources indicated the contract proposals will be delivered to the railways within 48 hours — thus launching Canada's biggest single labor talks involving 15 unions, six railways and an express agency.

The 15 unions bargain for almost all railway workers in Canada except those who actually run trains. Their ranks include electricians, clerks, telegraphers, shop and track repair men, freight handlers and clerks.

In the past, their demands have involved millions of dollars and have set the pace for contracts for other railway employees.

The new round of talks comes less than 11 months after the unions settled with the railways for a series of wage increases amounting to about 13 cents an hour.

WAITED FOR DECISION

The 1958 talks went almost to a nation-wide strike when the railways refused to meet a conciliation board recommendation on wages and other benefits until they got a freight rate increase to cover the cost.

The unions, headed by Frank H. Hall of Montreal, chairman of their joint negotiating committee, accepted the conciliation report "in the interests of industrial peace."

The contract due to expire Dec. 31 was actually for two years, with retroactive provisions to January, 1958.

During the last negotiations, the railways proposed a new wage standard based on the "going rate" paid in a composite section of private industry comparable to the non-op workers.

Railways involved in the forthcoming talks besides the CNR and CPR, are all in Eastern Canada.

Students Get Scholarships

OTTAWA (CP)—Three Indian students striving for careers in medicine, governnent and industry Wednesday received federal scholarships to help them achieve their goals.

They are among 17 Indian students from across Canada who have received scholarships from the Indian affairs branch of the citizenship department to enable them to continue their education.

The scholarships were presented to the three students by Prime Minister Diefenbaker at a ceremony in his office. The students are Clare Clifton Brant, 18, a Mohawk from the Bay of Quinte band near Belleville, Ont.; Geraldine Elizabeth Restoule, 19, an Ojibway from the Dokis band, near North Bay, Ont., and Rose Oke, 19, a Mohawk from the band near Montreal.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The navy said Tuesday it tried but failed to launch a small satellite from an airplane last year. "The navy has no plans to conduct further experiments to place a satellite into orbit by means of air launch," the navy said in response to queries to a report in the trade publication Washington Science Trends.

Coast Drug Addiction Said Wide-Spread Social Illness

VANCOUVER (CP) — The incidence of drug addiction in Vancouver is a sign of acute, widespread social illness, a University of British Columbia professor told city council Tuesday.

Prof. W. D. Dixon, head of the university's school of social work, presented a brief to council which cited public indifference as the main cause of the problem.

His major recommendation was the city should establish a committee to guide social welfare policy and give technical reports to council on its findings.

Prof. Dixon, who directs one of the four schools of social work in Canada, said it would be a mistake to appoint a committee to investigate the problem of drug addiction alone. Social problems must be studied on all fronts.

A survey of probation services at the municipal, provincial and federal levels is also needed, he said.

A study should be made of adult and juvenile probation facilities here to see if there are adequate resources to do a good job.

The committee should also consult with the British Columbia Narcotics Addiction Foundation and help expedite its plans for development of a withdrawal hospital for Vancouver addicts.

Prof. Dixon said statistics show families dependent on social welfare assistance frequently prove to be the source of adult delinquents. He recommended rehabilitation study be made of the city's case load.

Meetings should also be held with the police department, social service agencies and the Alcoholism Foundation to discuss common problems.

He suggested creation of a research division to investigate special issues, develop a family counselling service and introduce a program for multiple-problem families.

B.C.-Yukon Junior Chamber Urges New System For Car Registration

VICTORIA (CP) — A brief from the British Columbia and Yukon Junior Chamber of Commerce Tuesday urged the provincial government to adopt a new system of registering motor vehicles.

It sought the establishment of a central registry in Vancouver and a permanent licence number for every vehicle. The licence number would be in the form of a windshield sticker instead of the conventional plate.

The group suggested a registration and time stamp system for a permanent log book in every vehicle.

It also urged the government to appoint people trained in traffic law as travelling magistrates and the adoption of a point system to keep dangerous drivers off the road.

The brief, compiled by a committee representing JCC organizations throughout the province, said jurors' pay, now $6 a day, should be increased to $10 or $12.

"It is well known by members of the bench, bar and court house officials that many people try to avoid jury duty primarily because of the financial burden," it said.

SCHOOL ALLOWS SMOKING

SALISBURY, Md. (AP)—Should high school girls be allowed to smoke during school hours? Apparently many Salisbury parents think so. George H. Corddry, principal of Wicomico High School, says the school has lifted its ban on smoking by girls because "considerable pressure has been exerted by some parents to allow it." Boys had been allowed to smoke in certain areas of school property for years.

Poland Said Discussing Wheat Deal With Canada

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Tribune says it has learned that the Polish government is negotiating for an estimated $17,000,000 worth of Canadian grain.

The paper says indications are that the Polish government is seeking a similar amount to what was purchased last year. In 1958, Poland bought $11,000,000 worth of wheat, and $6,000,000 worth of barley. These are delivered prices.

When this deal is completed it will raise to about $100,000,000 the amount of grain Canada has sold to Iron Curtain countries since the first sale was made in 1955 by Northern Sales Limited of Winnipeg, the paper says. This amount does not include cash sales to Russia.

Poland's negotiations with Canada are concerned with purchases on a credit basis. J. Giedwidz, of Warsaw, chief of the North and South American desk of the Polish foreign trade minister, now is in Ottawa seeking credits.

W. Piatkowski, or the Polish trade commission, now is in Winnipeg where he is discussing availability of grain supplies with the Canadian Wheat Board.

Diefenbaker Stresses Arms Sharing

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker said that Canada has enjoyed about $50,000,000 more in defence production sharing in the first nine months of this year than in any previous one-year period.

Mr. Diefenbaker, elaborating to reporters on remarks he made Tuesday in a Toronto speech, said contracts received from Jan. 1 to Oct. 1 total about $75,000,000. In the past, the most that had been received had been about $26,000,000.

He said this indicates the degree to which there have been some major steps forward in co-operating on defence production sharing.

He spoke as he entered a cabinet meeting.

OTTAWA (CP) — The federal health department today announced award of grants totalling $26,000 towards new health centres at Vancouver and Quesnel, B.C.

Ike Comments On Quiz Scandals

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said Wednesday nobody is going to be satisfied until the television quiz rigging scandals are cleaned up.

Eisenhower told his press conference the attorney-general will be ready before Jan. 1 with recommendations for changes in the law to prevent what he called the astonishing deceptions carried out on some programs.

The federal trade commission also is looking into the possibility of deceptive advertising, he said.

Eisenhower said that the reaction to TV quiz disclosures indicates that most Americans are not so much angry as bewildered.
