FREIGHT TRAIN JUMPS TRACK. Boxcars toppled like ten-pins Wednesday in a Canadian Pacific Railway freight train derailment five miles east of Nelson, but no one was injured. Freight Cars Leap Track, No One Hurt

CPR Crews Labor Through Night To Clear Line East of Nelson

Mangled steel, splintered debris and heavy rail lines twisted like a broken hula hoop mark the scene of the most spectacular freight train accident in the Nelson area in years.

Although damage was extensive, no one was injured.

Cause of the derailment of the 14 cars of the 80-car westbound freight train had not been established late Wednesday night.

The accident happened at about 5 p.m. five miles east of Nelson.

It left 600 feet of rail line like a deformed steel snake. Splintered ties were torn from the road bed and five coal cars spewed their cargo as they crashed down the steep embankment to the water's edge.

The derailed cars are believed to have been located near the front end.

Railroaders at the scene suggested that one of the cars near the front end became derailed, jack-knifing and telescoping others behind before the train was halted.

POLES SNAPPED

The cars plunged down the steep incline like ten pins, snapping telephone and telegraph poles and sending a mesh of wires whipping to the ground. Telephone service from Nelson to Cranbrook and Creston was cut off as a result of the wreck.

The Nelson-bound dayliner carrying a number of girl campers from Camp Koolaree was returned to Harrop and passengers were transported to Nelson by bus, arriving about 11:30 p.m. Today eastbound travellers will be taken by bus to Procter where they will make train connections.

Within an hour of the accident, a 50-man work crew was at the scene and CPR officials were hopeful of having service restored within 14 hours.

The freight train was being pulled by a two-unit diesel under the control of engineer Charles Simms of Cranbrook.

CROWD AT SCENE

Dozens of pleasure boats rushed to the scene and people milled about the wreckage.

A Daily News photographer returning from the wreck in an outboard became stranded in the middle of the river when the boat's 35-horsepower motor dropped from the stern.

Without a paddle or an oar, he was unable to make land and was caught in a sudden squall. Using his coat as an improvised sail, he was able to reach a log boom and after two hours in the downpour his shouts were heard by three men walking along the rail lines toward the accident.

Borrowing a boat from a lakeshore resident, A. W. Stephenson and Malcolm MacLean rescued him and towed the boat ashore.

Another photographer also returning from the derailment was in a similar predicament when the motor failed but a paddle was aboard and the craft reached shore.

PM Advocates Salesmanship By West

TORONTO (CP) — "Truthful and aggressive salesmanship" of the Western world's ideas and ideals was advocated Wednesday night by Prime Minister Diefenbaker as a method of countering "the aggressive propaganda of the Communist world."

Mr. Diefenbaker in a welcoming address to more than 200 delegates from 41 countries attending the international Junior Red Cross study centre, said the capitalist world should "make a uniform and conscientious effort" to make available books and periodicals which would give a "fair and objective picture of capitalism and its benefits."

"Otherwise the contest for the minds of men may go by default, in many uncommitted countries as the only literature available is highly organized propaganda available in every bookstore in every major language."

COMMONWEALTH SUCCESS

Speaking of his tour through the Commonwealth last year, Mr. Diefenbaker said he learned to "realize more than ever before the Commonwealth of nations is the world's most successful experiment in peace, for war between any of its members is inconceivable."

General Strike Mooted in B.C.?

PRINCE RUPERT (CP) — The Daily News speculated in a front-page editorial Wednesday that the B.C. Federation of Labor may be planning a general strike in an effort to smash Bill 43.

The newspaper said Prince Rupert Labor Council has barred the press from its Thursday night meeting. The editorial linked the ban to the barring of reporters from a special Federation of Labor conference earlier this month, expressing concern that labor might, "in its bitterness over Bill 43, take some drastic step not in keeping with the democratic spirit it shows ini ts own internal affairs."

Pacific Coast Defence Shuffled

VICTORIA (CP) — A shuffle of Pacific coast defence controls has made HMCS Naden the nerve center of an integrated RCN-RCAF organization, it was learned Wednesday.

The amalgamated organization has been named the Canadian Maritime Pacific Command. Its responsibility is the defence of Canada's West Coast against attacks from the sea and the protection of sea communications in the Pacific.

Rear Admiral H. S. Rayner, flag officer Pacific coast, has been named commander of the new organizations, Group Capt. J. H. Roberts, RCAF, Comox, has been named deputy commander and will be stationed at the Esquimalt navy base.

Ships under control of the Maritime Command include the Second Canadian Escort Squadron of nuclear-age destroyers under the leadership of Capt. J. C. Pratt and an escort squadron of Prestonian class frigates. All are based at Esquimalt.

The air area of the command will be 407 (Maritime Patrol) Squadron of Nepture sub-hunter aircraft under command of Wing Commander J. C. McCarthy and based at Comox.

IRONWORKERS GOING BACK TO WORK TODAY

VANCOUVER (CP) — A strike of 550 ironworkers which has tied up about $90,000,000 worth of construction in British Columbia for 50 days is over.

The International Association of Bridge, Structural and Ornamental Ironworkers voted overwhelmingly Wednesday night in favor of a proposed settlement.

The terms were accepted earlier by the Steel Erectors Association, representing 15 companies involved.

The ironworkers voted 96.9 per cent in favor of accepting a 57-cent-an-hour increase over 27 months. A spokesman said they will start returning to work today.

The Erectors Association accepted the agreement, worked out with the union and a conciliation officer, after a two-hour meeting.

T. H. Shields, president of the association, gave no hint whether the companies had agreed on a settlement but it was learned reliably that a travelling-time clause which had halted an earlier settlement was agreed upon.

It was learned that in addition the employers provisionally agreed to pay a flat rate of $3 an hour retroactive to the start of the strike June 23. Monday, their position was that the $3 be paid from the time work began.

GET 57 CENTS

A new contract will give the union members a 57-cent-an-hour increase over a 27-month period. Before the walkout, the rate was $2.62.

The ironworkers will get 32 cents retroactive to Jan. 1, 1959, the six cents retroactive to the start of the strike, seven cents for welfare next Jan. 1 and 12 cents from April 1, 1960.

Red China Urges U.S. Leave Laos

LONDON (AP)—Communist China demanded Wednesday the evacuation of all American military advisers and equipment from Laos, claiming that the current fighting in the tiny Indochina kingdom was "engineered from first to last by the United States."

A foreign affairs spokesman for Mao Tse-tung's government accused the U.S. of threatening Red China's security and the peace of southeast Asia.

His commentary, broadcast by Peiping radio, said American activities in the southeast Asian country "will certainly be firmly opposed by the Chinese government and people."

CLAIM U.S. CONTROL

The broadcast claimed U.S. officers are in control of the Laotian army and want to turn the country into "an American military base and drag it step by step into the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization."

This language was reminiscent of the warnings issued by Peiping at the time of Communist China's intervention in the Korean War in 1950. Korea and Laos both border on Communist China.

DENIED BY U.S.

The U.S. state department has denied repeatedly the substance of Communist charges that the U.S. is turning Laos into a military base.

The diplomatic storm, however, is far more intense than the military one. Apparently these has been no significant fighting in Laos for a week or 10 days.

The Laotian government now admits that its original reports of Communist infiltration were overdrawn.

Khamphan Panya, Laotian foreign minister, told a press conference in his capital of Vientiane that his country may ask for UN observers if Communist infiltration gets worse in northern Laos.

Canada, Russia Swapping TV Films

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada and Russia have started swapping television films for use mainly in news and documentary programs.

The exchange has been going on for a year and CBC officials said Wednesday there is no complaint yet about the Russians trying to slip in communist propaganda.

The Soviet films are carefully screened for propaganda before being used and, presumably, the Soviet TV officials in Moscow are doing the same to Canadian films.

RUSSIA CAREFUL

"Any propaganda would stick out like a sore thumb," Bill Armstrong, CBC information official, said. "But so far the Russians have been very careful about eliminating propaganda before sending their films here and there is no complaint."

The exchange arrangement was reached a year ago when John Dunlop of Toronto, ehad of the CBC's international exchange department, visited Moscow's central TV studios.

The agreement called for a swap of films on news events, documentaries, music and sports and children's programs.

In the last year, Canada has received films on wrestling, footage on the Kelowna Packers' hockey games in Moscow last winter, speeches by Premier Nikita Khrushchev, scientific developments, construction, musical groups, wheat farming in the Ukraine and children's games.

In return, the CBC has sent films on Canadian agriculture and children's programs. The farm material, including wheat farming and maple sugaring in Quebec, has been seen on the CBC's Country Calendar program.

CASTRO FLIES TO TROUBLE SPOT

HAVANA (AP) — Premier Fidel Castro flew Wednesday to Las Villas province, where authorities said a band of counter-revolutionaries was encircled by rebel troops.

Reports reaching Havana later said a number of fugitives had surrendered, including several persons "of considerable importance."

Castro's trip to Cienfuegos, 140 miles southeast of Havana, was unexpected. On reaching the city, he boarded a helicopter, apparently to fly to the mountainous area between Cienfuegos and the town of Trinidad where the operation was said to centre.

New suspects were run through police interrogations, meanwhile, as Castro's forces continued what they called a mopping-up against an anti-government conspiracy.

Law May Not Be Invoked Yet

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration was reported Wednesday on high authority to have no intention of invoking the Taft-Hartley labor law to stop the steel strike at least until Sept. 15 or Oct. 1.

There is no danger of any sizable steel shortage, the administration is convinced, until that time.

This means, if negotiations remain stalemated in New York, that the strike of 500,000 steelworkers still will be under way when Soviet Premier Khrushchev visits the United States in mid-September.

The strike now is four weeks old and president David J. McDonald of the steelworkers union said Wednesday at Youngstown, Ohio, that the big steel firms intend to starve out the strikers.

"We will never quit," McDonald declared.

Kelowna Crowns Lady of the Lake

KELOWNA (CP) — More than 5,000 people filled Ogopogo Stadium Wednesday night to see pretty Kathy Hillier, 18, crowned Lady of the Lake as the first day of the city's 53rd annual Regatta came to a close.

The five-foot-six, 34-24-35 daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hillier has lived here for 12 years. Marion Olive of Rutland and Kathy Lettner of Kelowna were chosen ladies-in-waiting.

Heavy rain and winds, which had forced some of the water skiing events of the opening day to be postponed until Thursday, subsided for the 2½-hour show.

Negroes Enter School, Segregationists Jeer

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Two Negroes went to Central High School Wednesday as club-swinging police held back a crowd of jeering segregationists.

Elizabeth Eckford, 17, and Jefferson Thomas, 16, walked quietly into the school to join 1,400 white students.

A block away, nearly 400 white men, women and children milled at an intersection where violence had exploded only an hour earlier.

Some in the crowd had taken part in a march on Central from the state legislative buildings. Governor Orval E. Faubus told a segregationist rally there that nothing was to be gained by fighting in the streets.

Police Chief Gene Smith and a score of patrolmen met the marchers just before they reached the school.

YELL DEFIANCE

He shouted for the paraders to disperse but his order brought yells of defiance and cries of "you cowards."

Swiftly, officers closed with the marchers. Several men were beaten over the head with clubs. A fire truck was standing by and Smith had it turn hoses on the crowd.

The demonstration wavered and broke. Later it formed again and was reinforced by others who booed and catcalled police.

At least 15 persons were arrested. Three were teen-age girls, hauled kicking and screaming to police cars.

One demonstrator was taken to hospital, a man who said he had been clubbed.

MOM WHYTE DOUBTS SHE'LL GET HEARING

HAMPTON, Ont. (CP) — Mrs. Bertha (Mom) White strolled into family court Wednesday "doubtful if they will allow me to say anything" during the hearing to determine custody of 107 children taken from her Bowmanville home.

The hearing began at 10 a.m. but the press and public was not allowed in the courtroom. Juvenile Court Judge W. R. Philp of Peterborough is presiding.

In attendance were officials of the Ontario department of welfare, the Ontario fire marshal's office, and representatives of 16 municipalities which have assumed temporary custody of the children.

The department of welfare removed the children from Whytehaven Mission 12 days ago, claiming they were neglected. Evidence of sickness and overcrowding at Whytehaven was given before a justice of the peace earlier.

Polio Mounts In Montreal

MONTREAL (CP) — Six iron lungs were flown to this island metropolis Wednesday to bolster hard - pressed hospital equipment while worried Montrealers watched the polio rate increase daily.

Medical authorities still maintained the polio situation in Canada's biggest city had not reached epidemic proportions.

But they prepared for an emergency meeting of city health authorities today in case the daily rise in polio cases confirms the worst fears of the public.

So far, 206 polio victims have been admitted to Montreal hospitals — 141 of them from the metropolitan area. Thirteen persons have died.

The total number of cases in all the United States for the last week in July was 183.

Twelve polio victims are in iron lungs, there were only 17 iron lungs in city hospitals, and an urgent plea went out Wednesday for help.

Winnipeg responded with six lungs. Toronto offered six more if necessary.

Sceptre Stolen From Cairo Museum

CAIRO (AP) — Secrecy was clamped Wednesday on investigations in the mysterious disappearance of the 3000-year-old gold-plated sceptre of Tutankhamen from the Cairo Museum.

Police at all points of exit from Egypt were on the alert against any attempt to smuggle the valuable antique abroad. Minister of Culture Sarwat Okasha said the disappearance of the sceptre was one of a series of robberies from the museum.

Population Near 17½ Million

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's population at July 1 was estimated at 17,482,000.

The bureau of statistics said Wednesday that present indications are that the 18,000,000 mark will be reached sometime late next year, probably in September. The next census will be in 1961.

In the first half of this year, the increase was estimated at 198,000. This includes the natural increase — births minus deaths — of 177,000, plus the difference between an estimated 55,000 immigrants and 31,000 emigrants.

ALL PROVINCES GAIN

All provinces reported gains in the first half of this year, Ontario leading the way with a six-month rise of 81,000 to 5,968,000 from 5,887,000 at Jan. 1.

Quebec followed with a boost of 56,000 to 5,011,000 from 4,955,000, and Alberta was third with a rise of 19,000 to 1,247,000 from 1,228,000.

British Columbia, the third-largest province, was fourth in half-year increase with a gain of 11,000 to 1,574,000 from 1,563,000 at Jan. 1.

ON THEIR WAY. A 10-member swimming team from Nelson headed by coach George Nixon left Wednesday for Kelowna where they will enter regatta swimming events. The team answered a Chamber of Commerce appeal for someone to take Nelson's sternwheeler float to Kelowna. Drivers are George Nixon and Larry Simpson who will enter the float in Kelowna's annual regatta parade.—Daily News photo.

TELEPHONE, Tex. (AP)—They're going to have telephones again in Telephone.

For seven years, since an ice storm broke down the lines in 1952, this north Texas village has possessed the ironic distinction of nary a telephone.

James Whitworth, owner of an independent company, said telephone service will return to Telephone Dec. 1.

IPOH, Malaya (AP)—A swim in a crocodile-infested river has virtually assured [illegible] Hussein Bin Noordin, a general election candidate, of 441 votes.

This is how:

A 200-year-old custom in Kampong village decrees that anyone visiting the village for the first time must swim its river, alive with snapping crocodiles.

If the visitor is good, legend has it, he will go unharmed. If he's bad, he'll be snapped up.

Noordin, an Alliance Party candidate, took the plunge—and not a crocodile snout was raised in protest.

Said Noordin's agent: "That should assure us of the village's 441 votes."

PANAMA CITY, Fla. (AP)—A greyhound finally caught the rabbit at the Washington County Kennel Club track at Ebro.

In the eighth race No. 3, Dark Glow, was spun completely around in a collision on a turn and took off again in the wrong direction. The dog eluded leadout boys and track officials and ran smack into the lure and the rest of the field near the finish line.

Officials ruled no race and refunded all wagers.

Program Wins Praise

Mothers Love Those Playgrounds!

Nelson mothers are unanimously in agreement that the city recreation department's summer playground program was a good job, well done.

"It's wonderful!" was the most frequent answer to a Daily News poll of mothers which sought their opinions on the program.

Typical of the pleased reactions The News received was the comment of Mrs. Irwin Black, 310 Beasley Street, who said, "My children have thoroughly enjoyed it. They haven't missed a day going. The leaders handled the children very well and kept them interested all the time."

Mrs. C. G. Proctor, 303 Delbruck Street, echoed Mrs. Black's satisfaction with the playground activities this summer. She said, "They are very useful. I had four children over there and they seemed to enjoy it more this summer. There was more variety, and, besides, they liked the girls (the instructors). Everyone I know has nothing but good to say for the program."

NEVER DULL MOMENT

The summer playground schedule was designed to provide recreation and entertainment for children from four to 14 years of age. It included story-telling periods, active and quiet games, contests and handicrafts. It was planned to give a variety of both entertaining and educational activities which would keep youngsters happily and usefully occupied.

That the children were happy is reflected in the remarks of Mrs. R. B. Smith, 316 Delbruck Street, who exclaimed: "I think it has been wonderful, and the children sure like it."

"Our children really enjoyed it," Mrs. E. F. Pepin, 823 Cherry Street, said. "I certainly hope they hold it again next year. There is nothing too much I could say about it."

The playground activity and the interests it aroused carried over into the home, according to Mrs. G. G. Jeffs, 406 Kokanee Avenue. "My kids enjoyed it and they learned from it. Matter of fact, they are still working on it tonight. It gives them something to do, which is especially good in the summer months."

Only complaint raised was one the mother herself felt was not important alongside the advantages of the program. Mrs. Robert McGhie, Cherry Street, regretted that Gyro Park had no grass. "The children come home awfully dirty, all three of them, but I certainly hope they carry on this work."

Other comments:

Mrs. H. N. Jorgensen, whose home on 222 Delbruck Street overlooks Uphill playground, had this to say: "I can glance out of the window and know if the kids are there. Our kids don't have to go to Lakeside Park or Gyro Park. All activities and facilities are right there."

OFF THE STREET

Mrs. G. E. Smith, 103 Richards, mother of four: "It's been a wonderful project and it has kept the kids off the street."

Mrs. J. G. Munday, 1821 Falls Street: "I think it's the best thing for the kids. They've learned handicrafts they never knew before." Mrs. Munday gave special praise to the instructors, saying they were well trained in handling children. "They look after the kids and take an interest in them."

Mrs. Roy Hickey, 507 Delbruck: "It's a job well done. It's getting better every year. It gives the kids something to do."

Mrs. Marsh Severyn, 1004 Carbonate Street, mother of four boys: "The kids learn to play and get along with other children. The playgrounds are well supervised, and I have no worries."

Dragging Crew Finds Sunken Aircraft

Diver George Cady of Trail has been called in by Skyway Air Services of Langley, B.C., to help salvage its Junkers water bomber which crashed in Kootenay River west of Nelson Monday.

The aircraft was located Wednesday by a dragging crew. Gasoline slicks floating up from a ruptured fuel tank provided the clues.

The plane will be towed by tug to Nelson, where the wings will be removed and the parts shipped to Langley for rebuilding or salvage of parts.

A crew will go to work on the salvage of one floating pontoon left grounded on a sandbar below Grohman Creek. This afternoon Cady will attach lifting cables to the plane, and the hulk will be towed up the river.

The aircraft had been chartered by the B.C. Forest Service to water bomb forest fires. Piloted by Peter Deck of Chilliwack, the plane crashed when Deck tried to avoid power lines which cross the river near Grohman Creek.

He escaped with minor injuries.

Fun Galore for Penny Carnival

A famous entertainer and the Nelson City Band will be two of the features of a penny carnival today, winding up the Nelson playground's "Family Week".

The carnival will mark the last day of the six-week supervised playground activity, and the supervisors, led by recreation director Ernie Gare, are hoping to attract hundreds to participate in the event.

The celebrity, a western star who appeared at the Calgary Stampede and is currently making a television series, will do a guest spot, and tell the children a few stories. His name was not announced.

All three city playgrounds, Lakeside, Gyro and Uphill, will take part in the event. Mr. Gare said that if the weather should be poor, the program will take place in the Civic Arena.

Among events will be a jumbo elephant ride, a fun house, "guess your weight", fortune telling, sideshows and booths.

The Nelson City Band will provide carnival music throughout the show, and will give a concert later. Other items on the program will be drama, pantomime, a puppet show, sing song and square dancing.

Booths and program have been prepared by the children attending the playgrounds.

Team Takes First Look at City's Planning Needs

Work on the $18,000 study of Nelson's town planning needs is going ahead.

Representatives of R. J. Cave and Company, Vancouver consulting engineers employed by Community Planning Consultants, Vancouver, have been in the city studying two phases for the eight-section report.

Additional sources of water supply and adequacy of existing distribution lines within the city have been investigated in recent weeks. A survey has also been made of property values and assessments and of the amount of still-unused property inside the city limits.

Expected to be inspected shortly is the sewage collection system and various possibilities for sanitary disposal of waste, with particular reference to ending pollution of beaches.

AMALGAMATION COSTS

Desirability of expanding city boundaries to include adjacent areas will be studied by the consulting engineers with regard to cost of services and to effects inclusion within the city would have on valuations and tax costs to property owners.

It is understood the present survey will be directed principally toward the possible acquisition of the Rosemont, South Nelson and Upper Fairview districts. Some study of the North Shore will be made, but it is not expected that serious consideration will be given at this time toward expansion of the city in that direction.

Other subjects to be covered in the report will include mapping, a preliminary planning study, investigation of traffic and parking problems, commercial development study of land use and future requirements and zoning suggestions to meet present and future needs.

The Cave company has made no comment on its work so far, pending study of data collected.

The Nelson Advisory Planning Commission hopes the final report will be available before the preparation of the city's 1960 budget next spring, but expects preliminary reports on the various phases of the work may be presented as they are completed.

Rain Brings Relief To Fire-Fighters

The number of men fighting forest fires in Nelson Forest District was cut almost in half by general rains Tuesday night and Wednesday.

By Wednesday afternoon crews had been cut to 170 B.C. Forest Service men and 36 privately-employed men, and further reductions were expected as mop-up operations continued on the 28 fires still burning in the district.

The sudden rainfall cancelled plans to use two Grumman Avenger aerial tankers to water-bomb the big fire at Canal Flat. One Avenger from Castlegar and another from Langley were scheduled to work from the Kimberley airstrip to maintain control while ground crews burned off the area between the main fire and the guards built by tractor operators.

The air assistance was called off when almost half an inch of rain fell before 5 a.m. A reduced crew moved back onto the edge of the fire Wednesday to extinguish burning sections before any new hazard arose.

One more fire of suspected incendiary origin broke out Tuesday three miles west of Krestova, but it was promptly stopped in its track by one of the Avengers which completely checked the head end of the fire with two well-placed 500-gallon strikes.

Those and several subsequent strikes to cool the blaze prevented the fire from spreading until crews arrived.

The Forest Service credits the larger loads the Avengers can carry with getting even better results than other types of planes. Only difficulty in using the land-based Avengers is necessity to haul water by truck to the airport and pump the load aboard. Although it takes only about six minutes, it is longer and more work than the scoop-loading used by the float planes.

With fire hazard conditions moderate, little trouble is anticipated in extinguishing all remaining fires in the district.

Truck Line Workers Seek Decertification

VANCOUVER (CP) —A group of freight truck line employees have applied to the British Columbia Labor Relations Board to have the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway, Transport and General Workers (CLC) decertified as their bargaining agent.

The move was a set-back to the brotherhood which has been involved in a jurisdictional dispute with the independent Seafarers' International Union on the waterfront here.

A group of employees of the OK Valley Freight Lines, a CPR subsidiary which operates in the Okanagan Valley and Kootenays to prairie points, is seeking the decertification.

A company executive confirmed that the step had been taken but declined further comment. Officials of the labor department were not available for details.

The brotherhood has claimed that it has made good progress in its dispute with the SIU since the seafarers' union was expelled from the Canadian Labor Congress for raiding.

The CBRT also envisages another battle when the CPR integrates its air express and trucking services later this year.

The brotherhood holds some certification rights in CPR trucking affiliates but others are held by the Teamsters Union, the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees and the Railway Clerks' Union, all members of the CLC.

Trail Continues Safety Record

TRAIL — Trail reached its 1700th consecutive day Wednesday without a motor vehicle death. The fatality-free record is tops for British Columbia.

The city, which had its last traffic death in 1954, has received four citations from the Canadian Highway Safety Conference for four full calendar years without a highway death.

GRADUATE. Flight Cadet A. W. Kent, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Kent of Arrow Park, is a recent graduate of the RCAF air observer school in Winnipeg. Besides receiving his observer wings, he was granted a commission in the RCAF regular force and was promoted to flying officer. Born in Nakusp, he attended school in Arrow Park and joined the RCAF in January, 1954. After further training he will join one of the RCAF's operational squadrons for flying duties.

GROWERS URGED TO KEEP DOWN CODLING MOTH

CRESTON — Apple and pear growers in Creston valley and the Kootenay and Arrow Lakes district are being advised that second brood codling moths are active. It is recommended that where required a codling moth control spray be applied by this weekend.

Since mites and/or aphids are also prevalent in many orchards, J. E. Swales, district horticulturist, has suggested that growers carefully inspect their trees for the presence of these pests and apply control measures where required. European and two-spot mites are visible to the naked eye. Rust mites, which are causing trouble in some orchards, cannot be seen without the aid of a magnifying glass. However, injury caused by these mites is evident in many orchards. Where mites are prevalent the leaves lose their bright green colour and take on a dull bronzed appearance.

It is further recommended that ferbam or ziram be added to the spray at this time to prevent the development of pinpoint scab on apples later in the season. Ferbam or ziram should be applied at the rate of approximately three pounds per acre in concentrate sprays and three-quarter pound per 100 gallons in dilute sprays.

1000 Attend Union Picnic At Michel

NATAL — The annual picnic of Michel local, United Mine Workers of America was held under ideal weather conditions and featured the largest crowd yet, an estimated 1000 persons.

Events included races for children up to 15 years of age, men's and women's horseshoe pitching contests, a bocce (Italian bowling) tournament and other games.

The Natal-Michel Band, under the direction of Charles Thomason, added to the festive atmosphere by playing marches and polkas.

In the pre-school races, all participants received 15 cents for their efforts.

Mrs. Isabelle Patrick and Mrs. Hilda Holub won the women's horseshoe pitching, defeating Mrs. Elva Mannion and Mrs. Nellie Smith in the final. The men's competition went to Tony Cerney and Billy Beard, with Al Rousseau and John Josay taking second prize money.

In the four-man bocce tournament, the final was won by Dominic Romano, Robert Doratty, Gino Berdusco and Nellio Quarin. Runnersup were Tony Quarin, William Stephenson, Douglas Morgan and Tony Berdusco, and third were George Tymchuk, Tony Podrasky, Sortorel and Panon.

All racing events were run off in snappy style by veteran starter Simon Weaver, who was helped at the finish line in picking the winners by Jack DeLuca, John Desjardins and Walter Rybachuk.

RCMP Search for Missing Papers

PENTICTON (CP) — A murder case involving Gilbert Louie, 23, of Keremeos turned into a case of missing documents Wednesday.

A. D. C. Washington, counsel for Louie, asked to see the original information shortly before Louie's appearance in court Wednesday on a charge of murder. He was told it had been mislaid.

RCMP from Keremeos claimed the Penticton detachment held the original information. Penticton RCMP denied they had ever received it.

The outcome was a remand to Oakalla prison for Louie and a full-scale search of Penticton and Keremeos detachment offices in an effort to locate the missing document.

If it can be found, it will be added to the present file. If not, police may have to release Louie, immediately re-arrest him and lay the charge again.

Lawyer Washington agreed to go ahead with the remand with a copy of the information prepared from the police report.

Crown counsel John S. Aikins said he wasn't sure what the next step would be "I've never run into a situation like this before."

Louie, charged with the July 25 murder of his stepmother, Mrs. Mary Jacks, will be transferred to Oakalla today. No definite date has been set for the preliminary hearing, buti t will probably be Aug. 27.

GOV'T PLANNING FOR NEXT DECADE

VICTORIA (CP) — All government departments are busy planning 10-year programs of great development for British Columbia in the 1960s, Premier Bennett said Tuesday.

"The 1960s will be British Columbia's greatest decade," he told a press conference. "With a debt-free province, people who think they have seen great developments to date will see even greater developments."

SITE TO BE READIED FOR CELGAR SAWMILL

CASTLEGAR—The clearing and excavation contract for Celgar's new sawmill near Castlegar, adjacent to its pulp mill site, has been let to Emil Anderson Construction Company Ltd., of Vancouver.

Work will begin Monday or completion by Nov. 30.

At the peak, 32 men will be employed to operate the equipment which will be used to carry out the clearing, rock blasting, cutting and filling, rip rapping and grading.

Sawmill construction will begin early in the spring of 1960. The mill will be designed to make use of the pulp mill utilities and to supply chips to the pulp mill as a byproduct of high grade lumber production.

Other features of the sawmill design include dry kiln and planer installations.

Celgar lumber is already established as a high quality product through the output of the existing Castlegar and Nakusp sawmill divisions.

CANADIAN SWEDES

There are about 100,000 residents of Swedish birth or descent in Canada.

Grant To Be Asked For Castlegar Airport

A grant will be sought from the federal government for maintenance of the Castlegar airport.

The airport, owned by the three municipalities of Nelson, Castlegar and Kinnaird, operated at a deficit last year and thus would be eligible for a grant, it was learned Wednesday following a meeting in Nelson earlier this week of the airport committee, consisting of Ralph West of Castlegar, chairman, S. C. Muirhead of Kinnaird and Ald. Edith Van Maarion, Nelson's representative. The meeting was also attended by Nelson city engineer E. E. Olson.

The 1958 financial statement was approved, and will be submitted to Nelson City Council and the Kinnaird and Castlegar Village Commissions at their next meetings.

A better water supply is being sought, and three proposals are under study — pumping from the Columbia River, drilling of a well, and enlargement of the present system. If more water can be obtained, landscaping is planned.

Work has progressed on placing of fan markers, guides for airplanes during landings.

Drivers To Be Jogged Before Licences Due

VICTORIA (CP) — B.C. drivers will soon get mailed reminders before their five-year driver's licences expire.

The innovation will be part of a complete changeover of the huge department filing and mailing system from manual to mechanical methods. The conversion has been under way in varying degrees for almost two years.

Spirit of Farm Still With Us

Nelson owes a great deal not only to the pioneers who built the city, but also to the many who settled along the shores of Kootenay Lake and established homes and fruit farms.

Many of these were led to do so, not only from the gains they might expect from their work, but because farming or fruit ranching seemed to them an admirable way of life, as giving them an opportunity to work in the open air and to enjoy all the beauties of the mountains, the forests and the lake.

Many of the first settlers in the Kootenay Lake district came from England. They were often men with money of their own — but not remittance men. They had families and when they settled in their new homes they did so with furniture brought from their old homes in England and arranged with the taste of cultured people.

They brought with them the customs of their native land and each settlement, as it grew up, built itself a church around which its social life centred. There are eight of these little churches scattered from Willow Point to Crawford Bay. They are plain and simple in design, but this simplicity blends well with the background of the lake and forest. As part of our historical background they should be preserved as monuments to those who first realized the loveliness of life in the Kootenays.

But time goes on and many of these pioneers have either died or left the Kootenays. Their families have scattered throughout British Columbia and their ranches, which once afforded their owners a bountiful living, have fallen into decay. Here and there an orchard can be seen in blossom in the spring, but in most cases they have been so long neglected as to have gone back to nature.

Nothing can stay the hand of progress and everything which cannot go forward with it perishes. The way of life which was so attractive in the halcyon days of the Kootenays has gone, but the same spirit still lives in those who live in the cities. They may no longer work out of doors, but dormant in all of them is the love for nature. Their summer homes are full of happy children, their pleasure boats throng the lake and the evenings see them gathering, as did their predecessors, in pleasant social intercourse.

The "farm way of life" with all that it means may indeed be almost dead in the Kootenays, but the spirit will always remain.

Interpreting the News

By DAVID ROWNTREE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Representatives of the United States and 20 Latin American countries open a meeting in Santiago, Chile, today that is supposed to put a damper on the jittery political situation in the Caribbean area.

As Christian Herter of the United States and the other foreign ministers converted on the Chilean capital, there was a growing feeling that the conference instead may lead to more bickering and tension between the declining dictatorships and the struggling democracies of South and Central America.

Cubt and Venezuela, two countries which recently tossed out military chiefs, are expected to lead a campaign to condemn the regimes of generals Rafael Trujillo in the Dominican Republic, Alfredo Stroessner in Paraguay and Col. Luis Somoza in Nicaragua.

These three countries have yet to be swept by the tide of change that has overturned the old order of one-man rule in many of the other republics in the last seven years.

The special meeting of the organization of American states—Canada is not a member although there have been suggestions in the past that she join—was originally called to consider complaints of invasion or invasion scares.

Revolutionary groups operating out of Cuba and Venezuela made unsuccessful forays against the Dominican Republic, Nicaragua and Panama. Nicaraguan exiles also used Costa Rica and Honduras as bases.

At the moment, Trujillo is the main target. For nearly three decades he has ruled the Dominican Republic almost as a private estate. The unsuccessful invasions in the early summer did not discourage his opponents who still think it possible to unseat Trujillo.

Venezuela, Cuba and Argentina have reason to be troubled by Trujillo's regime. He has given shelter to former dictators of those countries —Perez Jiminez, Fulgencio Batista and Juan Peron. All plan opposition at home and dream of making a comeback.

To end intrigue and counter-intrigue, the Santiago meeting will remind the 21 American republics of their agreed policy not to intervene in each other's internal affairs.

There is also a U.S. proposal to set up a "watchdog" committee that would be on the alert for military buildups or possible invasions in the hemisphere.

But the debate over political differences will probably over-shadow the conference.

The U.S. will be on the spot if it is asked to join in condemning the dictatorships and praising the democracies. Fidel Castro's land distribution scheme — which will break up large estates owned by American sugar interests — the executions of Batista's henchmen and a strong Communist bid for power all led to disenchantment of his popular revolution in Washington.

Despite this, the other republics will be looking for real evidence that Washington acknowledges the changed situation in Latin America.

A Phony Claim

The step from phony money to phony debt reduction is apparently a short one. Premier W. A. C. Bennett of British Columbia celebrated the elimination of his province's debt after seven years of Social Credit.

As outlined on this page by The Telegram's Vancouver correspondent, Ivers Kelly, B.C.'s debt situation is not nearly as rosy as the premier paints it. Far from being eliminated, the total direct and indirect debt has more than doubled since 1952.

Mr. Bennett is free to alter his bookkeeping methods as he sees fit, but it seems incredible that many of his electors would swallow his assertion that the debt doesn't exist.

He has loaded it upon agencies and boards, such as the B.C. Power Commission.—Toronto Telegram.

While Canada was making up its mind about 1500 m.p.h. airplanes, Frank Slimmers of Clover Hill, Virginia, had a somewhat different experience. On Tuesday last, Mr. Slimmers found a tortoise on whose back he had carved his initials—F.S.—and the date 1901.

Mr. Slimmers found the tortoise about 300 yards from where he had last seen it—fifty-eight years ago.

Spare Tires

Tires are tougher than they used to be, which is a mighty good thing for most of us. In fact, modern tires are so good the automotive engineers are thinking of doing away with the spare wheel and tire.

There are some advantages in this. A spare tire and wheel weighs quite a bit, and it costs money to haul it around mile after mile. Even more important, it occupies space which could be used for other purposes. This last problem is notable enough that at least a few station wagons have been made without spares.

Station wagons are bigger, but there isn't any enclosed space to conceal the spare. So those that do not have a spare merely rely on the two-chamber tires that don't go flat without warning. But the public continues to demand spare tires as it has since the old days of incessant punctures and wartime shortages.

Taking one thing with another, we prefer the spare tire, too. We can't forget changing a tire on a country road at midnight one time, a spot where there was no help available. And that was when the car hadn't gone 500 miles yet. Spare tires are still needed, sometimes, and when they are, they are needed badly.

Women's Defence

Grounds for divorce have widened considerably in England since the war, continued acts of cruelty being one of them. It acts both ways and why not? An English husband has just obtained a divorce because his wife repeatedly jabbed him with a hatpin. A few years ago we would have asked how that could be because the hatpin appeared to have gone out of use, but it seems to have made a comeback, depending on the kind of hat that has to be kept on with the pin and the kind of hairdo in which the pin can be stuck.

In the era of long hair and cartwheel hats the long pin was essential for keeping hats in place, and in most cases the pin was longer than the diameter of the hat. The sharp end projected, and if the wearer had several hat pins she looked like some kind of a human pin-cushion. When standing behind a woman in a theatre queue a person was in danger of being poked in the eye.

The hatpin had and still has, of course, a valuable use as a weapon of offence or defence. Let some wolfish individual molest her and she whipped out one of her hatpins and in the best thrust and parry of the fencer she soon sent the attacker fleeing.

Nowadays she still makes the air resound with the traditional screams, but she is just as likely to toss him over her shoulder with a judo movement.—The St. Thomas Times-Journal.

Criminals are People

How shall we get crime under control? Should we step up the severity —even the extremity—of punishment and thereby frighten away the criminally susceptible from crime? Ought we to treat criminals simply as mentally diseased persons and ignore the moral and immoral content of motivation? Should we view criminals as products of their environment and hold society itself ultimately to blame?

Manifestly we should do none of these things exclusively. Severity of punishment, for instance, means less in practice than do certainty and celerity in apprehension, trial, and sentencing. Perhaps we would do better if we continually reminded ourselves that criminals are people and that they differ as well as do the acts they commit.

Rarely if ever have we seen this summed up more succinctly and clearly than by Dr. Karl Menninger, chief of staff of the famous Menninger Foundation of Topeka, Kansas. He speaks of:

The persistent failure of the law to distinguish between crime as an accidental, incidental explosive event, crime as a behavior pattern expressive of chronic unutterable rage and frustration, crime as a business or elected way of life.

Society must, no doubt, rate forbidden acts by drawing some scale of consequences. But far from simply saying, "Let the punishment fit the crime," it should say also, "Let the treatment fit the criminal."

CLC Setting Up Marine Department

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Labor Congress is concluding plans for setting up a marine trades department to deal particularly with the needs of members engaged in waterfront work.

First charter probably will be issued to the port council of Vancouver unions, which up to now has been affiliated directly with the United States AFL-CIO but which is applying to the CLC for a charter.

The shift is being made with the consent of the AFL-CIO following consultations between Congress and AFL - CIO executives. The Vancouver council is the only marine group in Canada under direct charter to the AFL-CIO.

The Vancouver move does not involve any withdrawal of Canadian locals from international unions.

VARIETY OF UNIONS

The council is an association of locals of unions whose members are engaged directly or indirectly in shipping and waterfront activities. It includes such varied groups as longshoremen, teamsters and woods workers.

While the congress decided several months ago to set up a marine department, it has not yet come into being formally pending the drafting of working rules.

These are expected to be placed before the next meeting of the CLC executive council, ruling body of the congress between biennial conventions. The council meets at Winnipeg Aug. 25.

Once the rules are set out, officials said Wednesday, the Vancouver charter application would be accepted and efforts would be made to set up similar councils in other ports and bring them into the new department. It was expected a special effort would be made on St. Lawrence River and Great Lakes ports, where the seaway has expanded waterfront activities.

Rats, Bad Air Draw Actor Fire

NEW YORK (AP) — Broadway's actors are getting irked at rats, bad air and bum plumbing.

One hit show, The Music Man, faces threat of suspended performance by Equity, the actor's union, if backstage changes are not made promptly.

The union has declined comment on how widespread the drive might become.

There were some indications that management and performers alike were eyeing The Music Man row as a test case.

The curtain at Monday night's performance at the Majestic Theatre was delayed 18 minutes as a union committee made an inspection tour.

"The situation there has become inteolerable," said a union representative.

Equity's complaint to Kermit Bloomgarden, producer of The Music Man, listed overcrowded dressing rooms, improper ventilation, dirty toilet and rats. He was told the cast would not perform if improvements were not speeded.

A Bloomgarden aide insisted the only bonafide complaint concerned the plumbing, which had been damaged during a recent severe rainstorm.

Canadian Doctors To Avoid Charge

TORONTO (CP)—It is "most unlikely" Canadian doctors will adopt a United States practice of charging $1 for telephone advice, Dr. A. D. Kelly, secretary of the Canadian Medical Association said Tuesday.

He was commenting on an article in the American Medical Association Journal that says charges for telephone advice in Milwaukee, Wis., range between $2 and $5 with the idea of discouraging unnecessary calls.

The Ontario Medical Association fees schedule lists a $1 fee for telephone advice, but an OMA official said it is rarely charged.

Lifespan Study of Radiation in Japan Seeks Answer To Exposure

What are the long-term effects of exposure to atomic radiation? To the citizens of Hiroshima and Nagaski who survived nuclear blasts 14 years ago, the question is one of urgent personal interest. This second of four articles tells how scientists in the two cities are piecing the evidence together—some reassuring, some disquieting.

By ALTON BLAKESSLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

HIROSHIMA, Japan (AP)—A worrisome radiation time bomb ticks in the minds of many A-bomb survivors.

Will they age faster, die sooner, suffer cancer or other diseases from delayed effects of radiation exposures 14 years ago?

Radiation apparently has contributed deaths, but no one can reliably count how many.

Some say many, other relatively few. Doctors generally are cautious about assuming a connection between deaths today and the atom-bombings of 1945. Popularly there are some tendencies to associate them.

"Some try to enlarge the number of deaths for political reasons, and say the Americans try to minimize them," remarks Professor Tatsuo Morito, president of Hirshoma University.

DETAILED STUDY

To pin down the facts, one of the most extensive, detailed study projects in medical history is under way. It will last the lifetime of thousands of A-bomb survivors.

Radiation from A-bombs killed quickly and for some months afterward. Unknown thousands died then, some mainly from radiation effects, many from radiation atop other injuries.

Mysterious radiation was the new element of A-bombs. For otherwise, devastating as it was, the A-bomb killed and injured by blast and fire, as did conventional explosives.

Latest Japanese estimates list 200,000-240,000 persons killed in Hiroshima (about triple the first police estimates) and 70,000-80,000 in Nagasaki. Figures in the Hiroshima museum list 163,293 hurt in Hiroshima, 78,804 in Nagasaki.

Now the prime concern is the living, whether and what delayed effects on the radiation exposures brought.

On evidence so far:

1. There is more leukemia or blood cancer among survivors, 82 cases in Hiroshima through 1957, a smaller number in Nagasaki.

The leukemia incidence rate was 50 times higher than national average among persons within about 1,000 yards of the bomb centre (with 19 cases of leukemia among 1,282 who survived that close to the bomb in Hiroshima). Among survivors beyond 2,000 yards the incidence rate is about equal to the national average, from studies by the atom bomb casualty commission.

2. Survivors have suffered more cataracts than would be expected normally.

3. A careful analysis of cancer cases based on 20 months data, and histories of bomb exposures, now indicates a greater incidence of tumors among irradiated persons who were within 1,500 yards of the bomb. Beyond that distance, differences between exposed and non-exposed persons are difficult to detect, if they exist.

4. Genetically, a six-year survey of all infants born in Hiroshima and Nagasaki finds no statistically significant increase in malformations of children of bomb survivors.

MICROCEPHALY SHOWN

Around 30 children, whose mothers were carrying them in pregnancy during the bombings, show signs of microcephaly, (small brain) some of them with mental retardation, the doctors found.

There is less agreement about other effects.

Some Japanese physicians report apparent increase in anemias, says Dr. Watanabe.

Dr. Raisuke Shirabe, professor of surgery at Nagasaki medical school, reports an apparent difference in liver function among some survivors, with some deaths presumably due to this. Other Japanese physicians and the commission do not have such evidence.

Checking for bomb effects, the commission now is in the second year of a gigantic lifespan study involving 75,000 persons in Hiroshima, and 25,000 in Nagasaki. Half had presumably been exposed to radiation, the others have not.

It's hoped this study can answer whether radiation exposures lead to premature aging and death.

MARKET TRENDS

NEW YORK (AP) — Space age stocks stumbled to losses as the stock market beat an irregular retreat.

The drop in volume to 2,700,000 shares from 2,980,000 Tuesday showed there was no great rush to sell.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks took a moderate loss of 50 cents to $230.20.

Santa Fe preferred was the most active stock, unchanged at 10 on 54,500 shares.

Among the Canadian issues International Nickel lost ⅜, Aluminium Ltd. ½ and Canadian Pacific, Dome Mines and Granby Mining ¼ each. Hudson Bay Mining was up ½ and McIntyre Porcupine was up ¼.

American Stock Exchange prices were irregularly lower. Scurry Rainbow Oil, a Canadian stock, gained ⅛.

TORONTO (CP) — Late profit clipped industrials for most of their early gains but western oils, especially those with gas interests, remained strong to lead the stock market to a fair gain in moderate trading.

On index, industrials saw their early two point win dwindle to one-half point in the final minutes. Western oils were pulling away at the close, up more than two points. Golds added more than three-quarters while base metals moved ahead one-third, after being up and down throughout the session.

The final volume was 2,492,000 shares, somewhat better than Tuesday's 1,937,000.

The appointment of a National Energy Board provided a boost for gas issues in the expectation that export applications might soon be given hearing. Trans-Canada one of the early leaders, lost its gain and closed unchanged at 28⅞. Alberta Gas Trunk Line was the leader, up 1¼ at 29¾. Northern Ontario Natural Gas added ¼ at 17½.

Great Plains Development was the leader among western oils, up 1 at 14. Calgary and Edmonton added ⅞ at 25⅞ while ⅝ wins went to Canadian Husky, Home B and Hudson's Bay.

Index gains: industrials .50 to 547.13; golds .78 to 90.04; base metals .35 to 177.88; western oils 2.13 to 120.06.

Freedom, Progress Solution — Herter

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Christian A. Herter told the American Republics Wednesday a solution of troubles in the Caribbean lies in "peace and freedom and progress."

The United States secretary of state spoke at the opening session of the 21 foreign ministers of the Organization of American States, summoned here to deal with the invasions and rumors of invasions in the Caribbean.

Speaking in behalf of the ministers who had been welcomed by Chilean President Jorge Alessandri, Herter said he believes the issues here are "more capable of early solution" than those dealt with at the Big Four foreign ministers' conference in Geneva.

Teachers Hear Views On Gifted Children

By EDNA BLAKELY

HALIFAX (CP)—Is the modern-day problem of teaching the gifted child and the "average" student being adequately tackled?

The Canadian College of Teachers got some professional opinion on the subject.

Delegates were told not to go overboard on gifted children.

Frank Patten, superintendent of secondary schools in Ottawa, said educationists shouldn't pin too much hope on gifted children for the "salvation of society." He said the so-called gifted child "frequently deteriorates" as he progresses through secondary school and college and moves into the work world.

Stanley E. MacKenzie of the Nova Scotia education department said more can be accomplished through the teacher's efforts for handicapped and average children than for the gifted.

D. C. Munroe of Montreal, president of the college and director of the institute of education at McGill University, said in an interview he would like to see courses for would-be teachers stretched to two or four years.

The teachers' sessions were a prelude to the 38th annual conference of the Canadian Teachers' Federation, which opens today for four days.

Will Liz' Knees Show, Is Query

PARIS (AP)—Elizabeth Taylor goes for the new "peekaboo-knees look" at the House of Dior.

The movie star has just bought 10 models from the collection designed by Yves St. Laurent. At least four are the short hobble-hemmed styles, shock numbers of this year's fall fashion showings in Paris.

Will Liz actually show her knee-caps like the Dior mannequins?

A spokesman for the fashion houses said: "The customer always decides the length she likes at fittings, so we don't know yet. But we have the impression she likes them short."

Flood Teams Fight Epidemic

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Medical teams worked around the clock Wednesday to prevent epidemics in the wake of Formosa's worst floods of the century. Forty cases of typhoid and dysentery were reported at Taichung, Central Formosa.

With 248,184 homeless on the Nationalist Chinese island, sanitation was a major problem. More than 185,000 acres of land were flooded and nearly 41,000 home were destroyed or damagked.

Officials said the latest count of the known dead after the disastrous weekend was 645, with 519 persons still missing. The floods in Central and Southern Formosa followed torrential rains last Friday.

A U.S. Marine helicopter crashed while trying to get food and water to 34 villagers isolated 10,000 feet up in the mountains of Central Formosa. Three Americans and a Chinese officer escaped injury.

To engure future food supplies, slaughter of cattle, sheep and pigs was ordered suspended for eight days.

Bow-Tie Bishop Legend Just That, Says Cleric

LONDON (Reuters) — Britain's "bow-tie bishop" says his nickname resulted from a combination of doctored photographs and his own absent-mindedness.

Rt. Rev. Mervyn Stockwood, 46, Anglican Bishop of Southwark, was replying to a complaint that his bow - tie might lead him to be mistaken for a racetrack bookie.

In a letter to The Times he writes that the "legend" began late last year on the eve of his appointment to Southwark. To avoid the press, he said he took off his clerical collar "camouflaged himself with the bow."

But on his trip from Cambridge to London, he absent mindedly forgot to pack his collar. In an exclusive interview with The Times, "I had to be photographed with the shameful haberdashery around my neck."

"Some photographers, jealous of The Times, found in their archives old prints of myself and doctored them — by which I mean the clerical collar was removed and the haberdashery substituted."

He adds that "on most occasions I wear the dress of a respectable clergyman," but admits to "a spree" in a soft collar and tie occasionally when having tea at his London club.

FIRST POLIO CASE

EDMONTON (CP) —The city's first case of paralytic polio in 1959 was recorded Monday when a 26-year-old man fell ill. Tuesday, 1,178 people received salk polio vaccine shots at four city clinics. The daily average is about 150 shots.

DIEFENBAKER URGES TOURISTS TO USE CARE

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker has added his voice to an appeal for highway safety as the national summer vacation campaign to "slow down and live" hits at peak holiday traffic.

"I appeal to every motorist and pedestrian using Canadian highways to use every care to the end that a needless waste of lives and damage will be reduced if it cannot be entirely avoided and prevented," the prime minister's statement said.

The Canadian Highway Safety Conference, which sponsors the campaign in conjunction with similar drives in the United States and Puerto Rico, said last year highway accidents cost 3,134 livss and $313,000,000. The three summer vacation months took 979 lives.

AP Ready To Send Scribe To China

SEATTLE (AP)—The Associated Press "stands ready to send a correspondent into Red China whenever Red China will let us," Frank J. Starzel, AP general manager, said Tuesday.

Speaking at the annual meeting of the Washington and Oregon members of the press association, Starzel also said the United States state department has issued visas to enable AP and other correspondents to go to Communist China whenever the Chinese would admit them.

Starzel said the most important development in news coverage in recent years is the expansion of the scope of the news report.

"The emphasis now is on the significance and meaning of the news, rather than on the immediate news event itself," he said. "There is a need for more perceptive reporting, since news today is much more complex."

Men Still Missing

TORONTO (CP) — Police and fire marshal's office spokesmen said Wednesday there was still no trace of two Regina men missing from the Fort Hotel here since it was damaged by fire Tuesday.

The fire started in the unoccupied room of Jack Eves and E. McDonnell.

Four persons were injured in the early-morning blaze and damage was estimated $16,000.

Townsend Denies Engagement Rumor

BRUSSELS (Reuters) — Peter Townsend, former suitor of Princess Margaret, has denied in a cable to a Reuters correspondent here that he is engaged to his Belgian-born secretary, Maria-Luce Jamagne.

The cable said: "This is to confirm (there is) no truth whatever in reports that I am engaged or about to be engaged. I am here on holiday with my mother, Miss Jamagne and her brother, whose family I have known for several years."

Townsend is vacationing in his bungalow at Cap Benat, near the French Riviera resort of St. Tropez.

Million-Acre Farm, PEI Industry Thrives

CHARLOTTETOWN (CP)—The economic heart of Prince Edward Island, farming has grown to a $30,000,000-a-year industry since the first settlers began clearing small plots of land in the early 19th century.

"Prosperity for our farmers means prosperity for everyone" says Premier Alex Matheson who like most islanders grew up on a farm. "About 75 per cent of our provincial population is made up of farm people.

"The richness of our soil and the industry of our farm people have combined to give this million-acre farm of ours an enviable reputation in the markets of the world."

Mixed farming is general throughout the province. A few farms specialize in beef cattle, hog raising, dairy cattle or potatoes, which account for one-third the total money yield of the agricultural economy.

There has been a marked increase in farm mechanization since the end of the Second World War. This has helped double the size of the average farm to 160 acres. In 1951 there were 2,776 tractors. Today the number surpasses 5,000. In nine years the number of combines has risen to 250 from 18.

WIDENING MARKETS

In the early days of Prince Edward Island's history, farmers began exporting products given up by the rich red soil. Their markets in the Atlantic provinces and New England states have expanded to include central Canada and the developing northern regions.

A large part of the credit for agricultural developments goes to the provincial experimental farm, one of a chain of federal stations across Canada. It too has grown since its establishment in 1909 when 29 acres were leased to the federal government. Today it spreads across 427 acres, supplying island farmers with invaluable scientific assistance in improving the quantity and quality of their products.

Over the years, agricultural scientists have tackled potato diseases, fertilizer experiments, research in soil conservation, and fertility, poultry management and cattle breeding.

The work of the federal researchers has been supplemented by an aggressive program undertaken by the island agriculture department. The provincial government financially assists students seeking degrees in agricultural subjects, subsidizes practising veterinarians, bonuses boars, pays half the cost of transporting seasonal farm labor in the province and takes part in many other fields.

"The importance of agriculture to the economy of Prince Edward Island is apparent to everyone," says Agriculture Minister Eugene Cullen. "Too much stress cannot be placed on the need for continued improvement and development of this top-ranking industry."

Rickety Boat to Sail Unknown

DARTMOUTH, N.S. (CP) — A 45-year-old Hungarian immigrant said Tuesday he's undaunted about the grounding of his rickety said boat because "I have dreamt of a place which is my paradise and that's where I am going."

Yavorcsik Endre has been trying for three days to sail his "bits and pieces" vessel out of Halifax harbor in search of paradise on some distant shore. The ship struck a sand bar at nearby Eastern Passage Sunday and, but for the help of fishermen working up to their necks in breaking surf, it may have foundered. The ship was freed.

Andy, as he is known to his friends, took three months to build the unorthodox craft from bits of lumber, tarpaper and canvas, some purchased and others scrounged from the city dump.

The thin, bright-eyed Hungarian said he plans to head in the direction of Newfoundland. "And after that, who knows?"

When asked where is his paradize, Andy replied: "Wherever the water takes me."

He has been in Canada 12 years and worked his way here from Vancouver. An amateur sailor, he says he isn't afraid of tackling the cold North Atlantic. As soon as he can repair the damage caused in the grounding, he plans to set sail again. A five-week - old German shepherd puppy will be his only companion.

POLIO CASES AT WEEKLY HIGH

WASHINGTON (CP)—The public health service says 183 cases of poliomyelitis were reported in the United States for the last week in July, representing a weekly high for 1959.

For the period Jan. 1 through Aug. 1 there were 1,314 cases, compared with only 579 in the similar period of 1958.

The figures showed that the worst outbreak this year has been in the Des Moines, Iowa, area. There also have been large numbers of polio cases reported in New York, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, Kansas, Virginia, South Carolina, Tennessee, Mississippi, Arkansas, Alabama, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Texas, Arizona, California and Washington.

Premature Ripening Darkens Crop Picture

OTTAWA (CP) — Hot, dry weather over most of the Prairies has ripened crops prematurely over wide areas, resulting in a deterioration in crop prospects, the bureau of statistics reported Wednesday.

Many districts have started harvesting, particularly in the southern parts, and harvest operations should be in full swing over most of the Prairies shortly. Rain would help late - seeded crops but most of the Prairie crop is past the stage where rain would benefit it. o

The bureau's report, based on information from field correspondents during the last 24 hours showed a varied picture over the rest of the country. In the Maritimes, wet weather delayed haying in Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island but New Brunswick has completed haying. Grain crops are promising.

Dry weather in Quebec speeded the hay harvest. The crop was normal and of excellent quality. In Ontario, the wheat harvest is well advanced but the yield will be below normal. Early - seeded fields are yielding better than late-seeded.

Warmer weather over most of British Columbia hastened crop maturity. Loganberries and second early potatoes are being harvested. Below average yields are expected for apricots, peaches and pears.

Bing Rings the Bell

VANCOUVER (CP)—Entertainers Bing Crosby and Phil Harris have been striking it rich on their British Columbia fishing trip with Calgary publisher Max Bell aboard his yacht Campana.

Interviewed by radio telephone Wednesday, Bing said he caught a 48-pound spring salmon on regular tackle while Harris caught a 36-pounder with a fly rod and light tackle.

The Campana at present is near Namu, about 350 miles northwest of here.

Kelowna Draws Record Entry For Swim Events

KELOWNA (CP) — A record number of swimming entries has been received for the 53rd running of Kelowna's International Regatta.

To date, 220 swimmers from Prairie and United States points south to California have entered various events. Even Hawaii has sent a six-man team.

Streets here are gaily decorated with flags and bunting for the regatta and several of the 10 bands lined up have started pre-regatta warm-ups on street corners.

It will probably be the last regatta to be led by Mayor R. F. Parkinson. Recent ill health, coupled with heavy mayoralty duties and increased pressure of business had led Mr. Parkinson to ask for a permanent steering committee to guide future water shows. Mr. Parkinson has been regatta chairman for the last 29 years.

Ninth Inning Homer Wins for Vancouver 8-6

VANCOUVER, B.C. (CP) — Joe Taylor's second home run of the game with two on in the ninth inning Wednesday night gave the Vancouver Mounties a thrilling 8-6 victory over the San Diego Padres before a slim crowd of 1638. Taylor's blow, with two out and two strikes on him, provided Dick Luebke with his third win of the season.

B.C. Champs Next Test Friday In Lil' League Playoffs

PORTLAND (AP) — Oregon and Washington Little League baseball champions will play here Friday to determine which will meet British Columbia's champion Saturday.

The winner of the Saturday game will go to the sectional tournament at Sacramento, Calif.

Oregon's entrant is from the Northeast Portland League and Washington's is from Alcoa League of Vancouver, Wash.

Duncan, the B.C. champion, will play the winner at 3 p.m. Saturday, in the single-elimination event.

15-Year-Old B.C. Girl Still in Golf Title Play

TORONTO (CP) — Five Canadians—two each from Ontario and Quebec and one from British Columbia — two Americans and an English woman remained in the hunt Wednesday night after two rounds of the Canadian women's open golf championship.

The day was probably the blackest in the tournament's 46-year history for Western Canada golfers.

The West sent six to the first tee and only one returned with a victory.

Ironically enough, it belonged to 15-year-old Gayle Hitchens of Vancouver, the youngest in the field, and she walloped the eldest, 65-year-old Ada Mackenzie of Toronto 6 and 5. One of the great woman golfers of all time, Ada won the first of her five open titles exactly 40 years ago.

ARCHIE STILL CHAMP

Canuck Challenger KO'ed in 3rd Round

By JOHN YORSTON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL (CP) — Archie Moore Wednesday night knocked out Canada's Yvon Durelle at 2:52 of the third round to hold on to his light-heavyweight boxing championship.

Archie used a flurry of lefts and rights to the head to floor Durelle four times in the third round.

Durelle went down for the fourth and last time with a right to the head. He staggered into the ropes near Moore's corner, struggled to a sitting position but couldn't make it up.

He went down earlier in the round to two nine-counts and a seven.

Archie rocked the challenger the first time with an overhand right, then sent Yvon into the ropes with a right and left to the jaw.

More right and left combinations by the champion sent the big fisherman back against the ropes. He was up at seven, only to be knocked out seconds later.

Moore weighed 174¼, Durelle 173.

Durelle got few really solid punches at Moore, who took them with his unique wrap-around defence or on the top of his head.

At the knockout, Moore was ahead on points.

Judges Leon Germain and Johnny Gwo had it 5-4 in both rounds for Moore. Rene Ouimet called it 5-4 for Moore in the first and 5-4 for Durelle in the second.

The Canadian Press had it 5-4 for Moore in both rounds.

Moore and Kearns immediately announced they would go after a bout with heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson.

They offered the Swede $1,000,000.

"I've got a couple of guys in Canada and one in California who are willing to put up the dough," Kearns said.

The fight started slowly in the first round, in contrast to the wild opening of the fighters' first meeting, Dec. 10.

Moore landed two solid left hooks in the opener and Durelle countered with a flurry of lefts and rights to the champion's midsection.

In the second, Durelle had Moore against the ropes, but the agile champion's arms, crossed over his body, protected him. Durelle's punches landed harmlessly on the arms or grazed the top of Moore's head.

BLED SLIGHTLY

Moore was bleeding slightly from the mouth at the end of the round after fighting off the ropes and getting in a couple of jabs before the bell sounded.

Moore rocked the husky fisherman early in the third round, then started hitting him almost at will. Durelle went down from a punishing right for a nine count and was on the way out.

It was Moore's eighth title defence and his sixth straight title-match knockout.

Moore won the crown December, 1952, from Joey Maxim.

He also increased his knockouts record to 128, two more than the late Young Stribling's record. He topped the old record when he beat Durelle last December.

Ol' Archie's record for 22 years of professional boxing now is 176 wins, 24 losses and six draws.

Durelle in 14 years has won 77, lost 21, drawn in two.

MOORE CALLED IT

Outside the Montreal Forum it was 78. Inside, some 11,000 fans sat in 85-degree heat to watch Moore dispose of Durelle.

Earlier Moore said he had hoped to win by a knockout.

"I think a championship bout should end in a knockout," he said.

GLOOM SHROUDS DRESSING ROOM

Across the arena, a hockey rink in winter, Durelle's dressing room was shrouded in gloom.

Durelle refused to talk to anyone for half an hour. As soon as he came through the door he quickly removed his ring robe, tossed it aside and walked silently to the shower room.

His co-manager, storekeeper Chris Shaban, said he had no excuses for Durelle's defeat.

"Moore fought a good fight and he's a great champion. There's one thing though. I don't think Yvon should ever fight again in the light-heavyweight division.

"He's a big man with big bones and it would be a lot easier for him to fight in the heavyweight class.

"He really had a tough time making the weight this time—even more so than last time. And then there were those postponements. That didn't help."

Shaban said he had no immediate plans for Durelle. He said they would probably return to the Maritimes tonight.

Game Rules Eased For Non-Residents

Regulations governing the transport of fishing tackle and guns by non-resident hunters have been relaxed in British Columbia. It is no longer necessary for out-of-province travellers to have their tackle and guns sealed upon entering B.C.

Game branch officials warn, however, that fishing and firearms licenses are required before residents or non-residents do any fishing or hunting. The relaxation of the rules applies only to possession of hunting and fishing equipment, not to its use.

'Furriners' Stomp on Canuck Junior Racketeers

By ART WILKES
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — Seven Canadians and nine foreign players reached the quarter-finals Wednesday of the junior men's and women's singles as play moved along at a brisk clip in the Canadian junior tennis championships.

The only upset of more than 100 matches saw top-seeded Canadian Judy Borland, 17, of Winnipeg lose 6-0, 6-4, to fifth-ranked American Nadine Netter, 15, of Scarsdale, N.Y., in a third-round match.

Play reached the quarter-finals in the boys' and girls' singles, the semi-finals in juvenile singles and a large number of doubles matches were run off.

Veronica Holdup and Della Freedhoff of Toronto, Pat Ryan of Ottawa and Linda Lee of Halifax were the Canadians to reach the women's quarter-final, joining Americans Virginia Hesse and Judy Heldman of Hamtramck, Mich., Sharon Pritula of Detroit and Miss Netter.

Miss Holdup, who won the closed junior women's title, did not play singles Wednesday.

WESTERNERS' LOSE

Harry Fauquier of Toronto, top-seeded Canadian who won both the Ontario and Quebec junior men's singles crowns, scored two easy victories, beating Don Brown of Halifax, 6-0, 6-0, and British Columbia junior champion John Fraser, 6-1, 6-0.

Fraser was battling a bout with the flu and after losing to Fauquier dropped out of the junior men's doubles competition.

Second-ranked Don Curtis of Toronto, runner-up in the closed junior men's final, beat Lenny Richard of Edmonton 7-5, 6-0, while third-seeded Keith Carpenter of Montreal, defeated Edmonton's Wes Alexander 6-3, 7-5, to also reach the quarter-finals.

Plain Scrapings

. . . by Cam

Well, there goes another Canadian chance to have a world boxing title with us again. Not since the halcyon days of Jimmy McLarnin, the tough little welterweight from Vancouver, has this country been able to put up much competition for the Yanks, Cubans and Mexicans who have pretty well monopolized the squared circle for the past 20 years.

In Yvon Durelle most Canadians hoped we once again had a champion, but the dream was broken very rudely by the Old Maestro. Archie Moore, all 43 or however many years he may have (and he just ain't tellin') proved once again that as a fighter he deserves to be ranked with such immortals as Stanley Ketchell, Joe (the Boston Tar Baby) Gans, Jack Dempsey and Joe Louis.

Jim McLarnin, now comfortably retired in California, was another great champion, but what comes to mind this night is Tommy Burns, the little man from Canada who became heavyweight champion of the world in the early days of this century.

Stocky but short—he was just 5 feet 7 inches tall—Burns didn't hold the crown too long, but while he did he performed some exceptional feats. His 1 minute 28 seconds knockout of Jes Roche in Dublin was the fastest KO ever registered in heavyweight title history.

During a seven-month period, Tommy knocked out—not just decisioned — seven challengers in a row. It is also recorded that he fought twice in one day against two different men in defence of his title. How changed are the times, when even the threat of having his title taken from him won't get Sugar Ray Robinson into the ring (and Sugar Ray is another who will live in ring history along with the other great men of the ring)?

The one I like to remember, though, about heavyweight champion of the world Tommy Burns is the time that Con (Don't Argue) Jones talked him into playing lacrosse for Vancouver against New Westminster Salmonbellies. The story goes that after the game Tommy told Con, "Keep your lacrosse stick, I'd rather fight a man-eating tiger than those Salmonbellies again." Or something like that.

Spokane Wins Replay of Game

SPOKANE (AP)—Spokane's protest of a disputed play in a game with Salt Lake City Tuesday night was upheld Wednesday by the Pacific League president. The decision wiped out a 10-8 Bees win.

PCL boss Leslie O'Connor instructed umpires to replay the game Wednesday night from the seventh inning, with the Indians ahead 9-7 and two men out.

The Indians played the game under protest from the seventh inning when the plate umpire ruled Indian shortstop Bob Lillis out at home even though the plate was blocked by Salt Lake catcher Daryl Westerfield, who didn't have his hands on the ball.

O'Connor ruled that Lillis' run did count after umpire Bob St. Claire admitted to O'Connor that he wasn't familiar with the rule about the catcher not blocking the plate when he doesn't have the ball.

Spokane manager Bobby Bragan got tossed out of the game when he protested long and loud about Lillis being called out by St. Claire.

Moore Now After Crack at Johansson

By MARVEN MOSS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL (CP) — Ringmaster Archie Moore bounced happily into his dressing room Wednesday night after retaining his world light-heavyweight title and announced he has sent Ingemar Johansson a $1,000,000 offer for a heavyweight title match.

Moore, holding court from a cloth covered rubbing table, said "the match would be promoted by Canadian and United States interests".

Moore would not elaborate further but his manager Jack (Doc) Kearns said the $1,000,000 "would be strictly Johansson's cut. Our share has not been discussed".

He, too, declined to name the prospective promoters. He said "the idea is to bring the title back to America".

MOORE UNMARKED

Moore, in his white ring robe and dripping sweat heavily, calmly accepted the congratulations of well-wishers. He was unmarked.

Moore said a good left hook he landed just under the heart of challenger Yvon Durelle was the blow that set up Durelle's downfall.

"That took the steam out of him and after he fell I knew it was just a matter of time before I had him," Moore said.

The Baie Ste. Anne, fisherman went down three times and the bout ended at 2:52 of the third round.

HURT ONCE

The Canadian, Moore said, hurt him only once.

"He hit me with a vicious left hook to the body in the second round. But I counterpunched and hurt him just as bad."

Archie said the 85-degree temperature in the Forum was a blessing. He said in his first meeting with Durelle last December, he went in cold.

"That's why he tagged me early and I wasn't able to put him away until the 11th."

"But this time I was warm right from the start. When Yvon started slugging the way he did I knew the fight was going to end early. But I was geared to go from one to 15 rounds anyway.

To Ask Parliament Recall From Recess

BELFAST (Reuters) — The opposition Labor party decided Wednesday to ask Prime Minister Lord Brookeborough to recall Parliament from its summer recess to consider industrial disputes involving aircraft and automobile production.

Some 6,000 men are on strike in plants here in protest against a decision by Short Brothers and Harland to lay off 1,200 men by the end of the year.

The factories involved make English Electric's Canberra bombers, Bristol Britannia airliners and the Noble-200 miniature automobile under contract.

The strikers want available work to be spread among all present employees rather than having staff cuts.

Chinese Speakers Vie In Debate On Country

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

GENEVA PARK, Lake Couchiching, Ont. (CP) — Spirited differences of opinion between students of China—both Chinese and occidental — featured Tuesday night's session of the conference of the Canadian Institute on Public Affairs.

Y. P. Mei, Chinese philosopher and historian, and Edwin O. Reischauer, director of the Harvard - Yenching Institute, both took the view that China could have had another way to modernization than through communism.

Dr. Reischauer expressed some fear that the Communist regimentation of life may destroy Chinese culture.

Han Suyin, medical doctor and novelist of Singapore, recalled that she had once been a student of Dr. Mei and still regarded him as her teacher.

REVISITED CHINA

"But," she said, "I have been back to China and found many of your students in the Chinese government. Some of them have died of overwork in this cause which Prof. Reischauer thinks rather physical.

"They are working so that people may rise from the level of cattle to that of human beings. . . .

"I find the regime harsh and wish what it is doing could be done in some other way. But I ask you how else, and you go on and on condemning but you don't show any other way."

Dr. Mei, who left China in 1949 and now is professor of Oriental studies at the State University of Iowa, replied:

"How about India? Many other countries also are making honest efforts. If it hadn't been for the Japanese aggression China might now be well on the way to modernization without communism. Because you are hungry you don't have to be poisoned."

E. B. Jolliffe, Toronto lawyer who was born in China and recently revisited that country, asked whether communism in China hadn't taken on considerable aspects which are indigenous to China. Dr. Mei disagreed, saying:

"It always heartens me when I hear of improvements in life for the Chinese people. I could only wish such reports were representative of the whole country and not specific instances which the government wishes visitors to see."

Communism, he said, isn't indigenous to China, but came to her like a strong hurricane from the west.

"Why," he asked, "did 14,000 out of 20,000 Chinese prisoners of the Korean War — erstwhile volunteer heroes—choose not to go back to their families and land, but ended up for the most part in Formosa?"

Subject of the evening's discussion was "Western influence on Asia."

The speakers offered considerable hope that better things would emerge from the present situation in Asia, though being apprehensive that Chinese culture might suffer a death blow.

Nkrumah First Negro Member Of Privy Council

BALMORAL CASTLE, Scotland (Reuters)—The Queen Wednesday appointed Ghana Prime Minister Kwame Nkrumah as the first Negro member of the Privy Council.

The Privy Council is a body of statesmen and other public figures appointed by the Queen to advise her on high constitutional matters.

Nkrumah was the Queen's overnight guest at the castle, where the monarch is vacationing, after flying from London Tuesday.

He flew from Accra, capital of his West African country, Monday at the Queen's invitation to be her guest at Balmoral.

The African leader was one of the first to be informed that Elizabeth is expecting a baby early next year.

This pending birth caused her to postpone a November visit to Ghana, formerly the British colony of the Gold Coast. It gained independence within the Commonwealth in March, 1957.

Nkrumah, 49, "made affirmation" as a member of the privy council at the council meeting in the castle.

There now are some 300 members of the council, including Prime Minister Diefenbaker.

BORN GOLDSMITH'S SON

Nkrumah, born the son of a goldsmith in a poor village of the British colony of the Gold Coast, now Ghana, was in the forefront of his country's drive for independence.

After receiving education at missionary schools, he went to the United States in 1935 and stayed there till the end of the war. He was graduated from Lincoln University, Pa., working his way through college as a seaman and hotel porter.

In Britain after the war, he studied economics, then returned to Ghana in 1947. He was jailed by British authorities for sedition and fomenting an illegal general strike, but released when his party swept the polls in the 1951 general election, taking 35 of the colonial assembly's 38 seats.

Nkrumah automatically became the man to lead his people to independence.

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—French actress Corinne Calvert, suing actor Jeffrey Stone for divorce, charges that he treated her so cruelly she became nervous and sick. She did not specify acts of cruelty in her suit filed Tuesday.

ZOO EXCHANGE

NEW YORK (AP)—The Bronx Zoo today acquired two pureblood wisents, or European Bison, from the Amsterdam Zoo. The Amsterdam Zoo will receive 18 American prairie dogs in exchange. Wisents have been extinct as a wild species since the end of the last century and now exist only in zoological parks.

JAVELIN KILLS SISTER

LOS GATOS, Calif. (AP)—A javelin thrown by a 14-year-old boy practising with hope of making the high school track team bounced off a tree limb Tuesday and killed his eight-year-old sister. The blunt wooden end of the spear struck Maria Englert in the neck beside her collarbone with such force it penetrated her lung, pulmonary artery and her heart. She died 50 minutes later in hospital.

THREE MEN DROWN

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—Three fishermen were drowned Tuesday in the Delaware River when their 14-foot motorboat hit a submerged jetty. A fourth member of the party managed to cling to the side of the overturned craft for four hours before he was rescued by two other fishermen.

Your Individual HOROSCOPE

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars,

For Friday, August 14, 1959

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) — Show your really fine assets now; also what you can do with new responsibilities. Day calls for clever management, smart planning, perhaps conferences, but much can be accomplished.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus)—Your willingness to try and your gift for getting around difficult situations will be needed now but the day will be profitable. Pause when in doubt, but don't worry. Have faith in your capabilities.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini)—Outlook stimulating. This can be a beneficient day If you exercise moderation sensibly. Your specific interests are favored and you may gain through an avocation, too. Judge wisely.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer)—You are fortunate now; things should work out nicely if you do your share of thinking and planning. Handle affairs and responsibilities carefully and you can achieve your goal.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo)—You may find needless fault with prospects that are really good. Avoid worry, don't become involved in others' troubles; it could upset your judgment.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — Pleasant activities are equally honored with weightier matters. Be diplomatic and promote friendship where you can. News could be helpful; analyze it.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra) — A good period. Don't allow criticism or setbacks to dull your enthusiasm or effort. Avoid unpleasant discussions and time-wasters, and be staunch in principle.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 22 (Scorpio) — Gains in industrial and manufacturing pursuits indicated. Don't be too set in your ways; change according to need. Use your gifts of capability and efficiency, and you will advance.

NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius) — Activities requiring foresight and intuition, and purely mental work are governed by especially fine aspects. Don't fuss if industrial matters meet snags or move slowly; take all in stride.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn) — Show a genial dis*position and half your day's battle* will be won. You who can remain silent and avoid adding oil to the fires of contention will fare better, be happier. Artistic pursuits favored.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius) — Some risks likely this somewhat uninteresting day. Put aside thought of chance-taking and stick to essentials, routine matters. Heads up, eyes open for best results!

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces) — The planetary aspects give you an extra push if you are ready to try to get all that is possible on this favorable day. Substantial gains can be had in many ventures.

YOU BORN TODAY are unusually capable and eager to learn. You possess humor and are usually the "life of the party." Do appreciate your natural gifts and utilize them purposefully. Curb impatience, especially with those slower than yourself. You may have a tendency to act before giving matters proper thought; this could cause needless worry, repetition of effort. Birthdate: John Galsworthy and Sir Walter Besant, noted English authors.

Albacore Tuna In Coast Waters

VANCOUVER (CP) — The elusive albacore tuna is back again in North Pacific coast waters, the Canadian fisheries patrol vessel Laurier reports.

Tuna fish have not appeared in large numbers off the coast since 1949, but each year a fisheries patrol vessel is rigged with tuna gear and makes a test run to see if the fish are appearing in commercial quantities.

Appearance of tuna so far north is attributed to unusually high water temperatures this summer. Temperatures where the fish were caught were up to 61 degrees.

Catches of tuna in excess of 2,000,000 pounds were taken by B.C. trollers and seiners in 1948 and 1949.

American Republics Urged Work Together

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Chile's President Jorge Alessandri urged the 21 American republics Wednesday to seek peaceful settlements of their disputes and try to strengthen the inter-American system. A drive toward enforcement of human rights also was taking shape.

In a speech at the opening session of a conference of foreign ministers of the American republics, Alessandri said it is imperative that peace, freedom and law prevail throughout the western hemisphere.

The conference was called to discuss tensions in the Caribbean.

Condemning Latin American dictatorships, Alessandri expressed hope "that the circumstances which bring them about will end."

MUST USE CAUTION

He said the conference must proceed with caution in discussing Caribbean feuds so as not to encroach on national sovereignties.

The feuds line up Premier Fidel Castro of Cuba and President Romulo Betancourt of Venezuela against Dictator Rafael Trujillo in the Dominican Republic. Castro and Betancourt also are bitter foes of Dictator Luis Somoza of Nicaragua.

Keen interest in the human rights issue was demonstrated Tuesday night when El Salvador's Alfredo Ortiz Mancia circulated a proposal for creation of an inter-American commission of human rights. It would be set up by the council of the organization of American States.

CUBA SEEKS COURT

Uruguay and Venezuela also have specific items on the conference agenda dealing with human rights. So has Cuba, which has called for an inter-American court of human rights.

The foreign ministers have set Monday as the target date for adjourning the conference. They decided to meet twice a day, including Saturday and Sunday.

Communists and more moderate leftists had arranged a noisy welcome for the Cuban and Venezuelan delegations, but their ardor was cooled by the failure of Fidel Castro to appear. He stayed home and sent his foreign minister.

Toronto To Build Large Shelters

TORONTO (CP)—Ozzie Waffle, chairman of the Metropolitan Toronto civil defence committee, says the federal government plans to build large atomic fall-out shelters in downtown Toronto.

Mr. Waffle, reeve of suburban Etobicoke, said in an interview that he gathered from talks with government officials in Ottawa the "new look in civil defence" will be a combination of fall-out shelters and evacuation.

He also said it is likely the government will subsidize construction of fall-out shelters in basements of private homes.

NORAD Cuts Missile Warning Gap Distance

WASHINGTON (AP)—NORAD, the North American Air Defence Command, is being streamlined to shorten the gap between a warning and the launching of interceptors and missiles.

The heart of the reorganization plan is elimination of a system of three separate air defence headquarters. Orders from NORAD headquarters at Colorado Springs, Colo., had to go through them to the air divisions that direct the fighter planes and missiles of the air force, army and navy.

The joint chiefs of staff approved the reorganization plan June 23, forwarding it to Gen. Earle Partridge, then NORAD chief who since has retired. Patridge had urged the defence department for months to tighten up the air defence command system and give more control over units of the individual services coming under his command.

Partridge's program now is being carried out by his successor, Gen. Laurence Kuter.

THREE ELIMINATED

The three air defence force headquarters—eastern at Stewart Air Force Base, N.Y., central at Richard-Gebaur Air Force Base, Mo., and western at Hamilton Air Force Base, Calif.—are being abolished. The eastern headquarters already is terminated.

Instead of air defence warning and operational orders funnelling through the three headquarters and then being relayed to three subordinate air divisions, the latter organizations will work directly with NORAD headquarters.

These divisions are built around the SAGE system. SAGE, which stands for Semi-Automatic Ground Environmental, is a combination warning and control system which sends interceptors of missiles toward approaching enemy bombers. The three SAGE division headquarters are at Syracuse, N. Y., Robbins Air Force Base, Ga., and Truax Field, Wis.

The staff at Colorado Springs also is being increased.

BOY DIES IN DRYER

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—The 19-months-old son of an air force captain was fatally burned Tuesday when he climbed into a front-loading automatic clothes dryer which was in operation. William N. Forsythe, son of Capt. and Mrs. William N. Forsythe, was found by his mother after she had reported him missing.

Red China Showing Teeth To "Paper Tiger" on Laos

By JOHN RODERICK

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China, eager to sit at any future summit table, may be preparing to deepen the military crisis in the little Southeast Asian kingdom of Laos.

This could be at least one meaning of the sharpened propaganda tone by both Peiping and Communist North Viet Nam against Laos and its big Western protectors, particularly the United States.

The Chinese might hope to promote a limited jungle war in Northern Laos, and thus fan world fears of a renewal of the Indochina conflict that ended in 1954. This could make their presence at any summit conference a matter of urgency.

The Chinese are not likely to become involved directly with their own armed forces in Laos. They probably would continue to rely on troops from North Viet Nam and the Communist - led Pathet Lao in Northern Laos.

WARNING ISSUED

The Vietnamese already have prepared the outside world for the possibility they will join the fight officially. Premier Pham Van Dong and his vice-minister of defence, Ta Quan Bun, issued weekend statements warning they would consider North Viet Nam's security threatened if any foreign power stepped into the conflict.

A small war in the jungles of Northern Laos, with the North Vietnamese taking part, could help tell Peiping whether the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization really means to keep its pledge of protecting Laos. The Communists have been ridiculing Seato as a "paper tiger" for years.

While they are anxious to attend a summit meeting, the Chinese Reds have not shown any great enthusiasm for this fall's exchange of visits between Soviet Premier Khrushchev and President Eisenhower.

Peiping probably fears that an easing of U.S. - Soviet relations could (1) damage its own cold war position with Moscow and (2) increase difficulties at home.

Continued hostility of the Western world, combined with embargoes on normal trade, has strengthened and solidified the Peiping-Moscow axis. A break in the cold war might weaken these ties.

NO MORE KNIVES

NEW YORK (AP)—Gum-chewing children can no longer get knives as premiums from the Bazooka Bubble Gum Company of Brooklyn because of a complaint from a housewife. She complained to Brooklyn District Attorney Edward S. Silver after she found her son stuffing 15 bubble gum wrappers and 75 cents in an envelope—with which he hoped to get the sheath knife.

Russ Claim Oil, Gas Discoveries

LONDON (AP) — Astronomers in Leningrad Wednesday reported the discovery of a dense nucleus of hot gas in the centre of the milky way.

Moscow Radio, quoting the Soviet government organ Izvestia, said the average temperature inside the nucleus of the galaxy is nearly 18,000 degrees fahrenheit.

The nucleus is formed of hydrogen atoms, the building blocks of the universe, which are thinly spread through even the most tenuous parts of outer space.

Izvestia said the discovery was made "with the aid of the observatory built recently in Pulgovo, which has the largest radio telescope in the world."

The largest radio telescope in the Western world is the one at Jodrell Bank in England, which has a bowl 250 feet in diameter.

Radio telescopes locate objects in outer space, many of them invisible to ordinary telescopes, by picking up radio waves they give off.

Teacher Council Appointed

HALIFAX (CP) — The nine council members of the Canadian College of Teachers were named Wednesday during business sessions ending the college's second annual meeting.

Named to the council of the 250-member college were R. J. Bolton, Peterborough, Ont.; George Croskery, Ottawa; Prof. D. C. Munroe, Montreal; Mollie E. Cottingham, Vancouver; Dr. M. E. LaZerte, Winnipeg; Rev. J. H. Conway, Ottawa; Dr. L.P. Patterson, Montreal; Miss Muriel Dixon, St. George, N.B., and G. Forbes Elliott, Saint John, N.B.

The president and other officers will be chosen at the group's first meeting in September. Prof. Munro was the college's first president.

Nixon Sure of Battle From Rockefeller

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice-President Richard Nixon is convinced that, come what may, Nelson Rockefeller intends to battle him for the 1960 Republican presidential nomination.

The New York State governor has indicated he will make a decision by November. If private polls then show Nixon trailing leading Democrats in popularity, and Rockefeller feels his appeal to independent voters would make him a stronger nominee, he will take the plunge.

Nixon's reaction to all this, it can be said on the best authority, is that anyone can get any kind of result he desires from private polls. He thinks Rockefeller wants to run and that he will find that the polls support such a course.

But Nixon never really believed he could get the nomination without a fight and since Rockefeller's election as governor he has regarded a battle between them as almost inevitable.

WON'T ACCOMPANY VISITOR

At this point Nixon has no thought that President Eisenhower might designate him to accompany Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev on the latter's scheduled tour of the U.S.

While such a tour assignement might enhance Nixon's political stature in the international field, it is not expected to materialize.

Instead, Nixon will stay in the background when Khrushchev comes to Washington, limiting his contacts to official affairs to which he would have been invited even if he had not conferred at length and jousted with the Soviet leader in Russia.

Nixon, who does not share Rockefeller's obvious reliance on the polls, appears to be convinced he will do all right in the public opinion canvasses for some time to come as a result of his Russian trip.

Consequently he is planning no obvious campaigning efforts in the next two months or more.
