IJC to Advise 50-50 Split On Columbia Benefits

LUCK WAS ON PILOT'S SIDE. Peter Deck, 45, of Langley, B.C., not only missed serious injury Monday when a plane he was piloting crashed into Kootenay River west of Nelson, but also swam ashore in fast-flowing water. The only part of the Junkers water bombing plane to be found—a pontoon—is shown here. Rest of the plane sank.—Daily News photo by Gerry Stevens.

Pilot Uninjured In Water Bomber Crash

A pilot narrowly escaped serious injury when his Junkers water-bombing plane crashed and sank in the Kootenay River two miles downstream from Nelson late Monday afternoon.

Peter Deck, 45, of Langley, received only a bloody nose and a cut hand and swam ashore after the aircraft, owned by Skyway Air Services of Langley and chartered by the B.C. Forest Service to water bomb a fire near Krestova, plunged into the river as the pilot attempted to avoid power lines strung across the river.

He was taken to Kootenay Lake General Hospital but released almost immediately.

The aircraft sank in swift water, but may be retrieved.

The crash was blamed on turbulent air conditions, and a down draft which caught the plane as it reached the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company's high tension transmission lines spanning the river just above Grohman Creek.

Mr. Deck said he saw the lines loom up in front of him, but was unable to climb above them.

"I had no choice. I had to avoid hitting the lines, so I swung her around."

Fishermen watching from shore said the aircraft swung to the left, then a wingtip hit the water and it plunged in.

They said the pilot climbed out of the stricken craft, waved to them that he was all right, then jumped into the water and started toward shore "as though he were taking his Sunday swim."

They observed that he was wearing a life jacket, but didn't bother to inflate it.

He was helped ashore by Jack L. Dawson and Kenneth W. Fredrickson, both of Nelson, who had been fishing from a rock beside the river.

"He looked okay to us except for a lot of blood coming out of his nose.

"We saw him take off, and commented to each other that he wasn't gaining much altitude. He started to swing around when he was about 50 feet from the power lines and on the same level with them.

"He swung towards us, and we started to move out of the way, because he was coming straight toward us. Then his left wing touched the water and she nosed in. It looked as though the engine broke off, but we couldn't tell for sure."

TO RESCUE

The two men paid tribute to fast action by the Canadian Pacific Railway. They said an engine arrived "in no time at all."

The crash had been seen by yardmaster W. B. Stilwell, who immediately dispatched a yard engine to the scene.

When it arrived, engineer M. E. Swanson and fireman A. E. Floren helped Deck onto the engine. He was taken back to the CPR yard and then to Kootenay Lake General Hospital.

Deck has been flying for 17 years. It was his first accident.

When the plane was last seen being swept around a bend in the river by the current about 15 minutes after the crash, one pontoon and the tail were still above the surface.

PONTOON FOUND

One pontoon was later found by a rescue boat.

Arthur Seller, manager of Skyway Air Services, said in Nelson that the plane, worth about $25,000 new, was not insured.

"If we can find it, we'll try to salvage it."

He condemned the practice of placing power lines over rivers and in valleys where aircraft are forced to fly.

"If power lines continue to wreck planes and kill pilots, they will eventually have to be placed under the water instead of being hung over it.

"The markings on the present lines should also be changed, making them easier to see, and from a greater distance.

"This is beautiful country, but those power lines ruin it as far as flying is concerned," he said.

The plane was the second lost by the company in the Kootenays this summer.

On July 2, Ronald Elmore of Langley was killed when the plane he was piloting struck a power line and burned while he was spraying a mosquito-infested area near Trail.

Canada Would Get Half Power Generated in U.S.

OTTAWA (CP)—One of the knottiest problems in the history of Canada-United States relations appears headed for amicable settlement.

It was learned reliably Monday that the International Joint Commission is getting ready to recommend to the Canadian and U.S. governments a 50-50 split of downstream benefits on the Columbia River.

Such a recommendation would have to be accepted by both governments and the concurrence of British Columbia obtained because in Canada water resources come under provincial jurisdiction. The Columbia rises in B.C. and flows through the U.S. Pacific northwest to empty into the Pacific at Astoria, Ore.

A split of benefits would give Canada half the power generated at U.S. plants on the American portion of the river from water stored at dams on the Canadian side and fed downstream as needed.

It is not yet clear on what the 50-50 division will be based — gross or net power generated; water used at one or several of Canadian and/or American dams; expenditures by each country on co-operative power development of the river.

Last March, the international Columbia River engineering board, which has been studying Columbia development since 1944, proposed to the International Joint Commission a $1,000,000,000 scheme for power development on the Canadian part of the river.

The scheme would call for construction of at least eight mighty dams, two of them exclusively for storage.

On Jan. 29 this year the Canadian and U.S. governments jointly announced they had asked the six-member commission—three Canadians, three Americans—to recommend apportionment between the two countries of power developed cooperatively on the Columbia.

The U.S. thus tacitly recognized for the first time officially Canadian entitlement to downstream benefits, long sought by Canada on a 50-50 basis.

Market Has Worst Loss of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — A series of heavy selling waves Monday pushed the stock market down for its sharpest loss of the year.

Prices at the close were a little better than the session's lows, but the over-all loss was the worst of the year.

Stocks associated with the space age, such as electronics and missile manufacturers, were hardest hit. Large losses also were recorded in steels, chemicals, motors, aluminums, metals and oils.

Major stocks declined between $1 and $5. In several instances losses ran to around $10.

Brokers attributed the selling in defence stocks to the Khrushchev-Eisenhower visits. They also noted that the market had scored a long rise and was due for a "technical correction".

The Dow Jones industrial average was off 16.58 at 651.99 at 2 p.m.

Negroes, Chinese Picket Motel

VANCOUVER (CP) — A mid-town Vancouver motel was picketed Sunday night by about 75 persons, many of them teen-agers, five of them Negroes and several Chinese.

The pickets, some wearing placards protesting racial discrimination, marched outside the Downtown Motel following publicity given to an incident there three weeks ago in which a white man and his Negro wife were asked to leave.

The couple involved, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Richards of Seattle, had returned to their home some time before the incident was reported here. They said later they intend no protest and have no comment to make.

Reports of the incident said they were asked to leave a few minutes after they had checked in — as soon as the staff realized that a mixed couple had registered.

The picketing was started Friday by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brown and Mr. Brown said Sunday night they intend to continue the picketing until the city passes an anti-discrimination bylaw.

"We want to keep this up until the city puts a non-discrimination clause in its hotel licensing by-laws," Mrs. Brown said.

CANADA, INDIA DISCUSS LAOS

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada and India now are discussing what possible action might be taken to ease the situation in Laos, authorities said Monday.

The two Commonwealth countries would like to do something to help but Laos is opposed to re-establishment of the Canada-India-Poland truce supervisory commission, disbanded 13 months ago when Laos apparently had achieved stable government.

Communist forces in northern Laos have recently rebelled and one of the difficulties for Canada and India is that it is difficult to discover what is going on there.

Cominco Awards Two More Kimberley Contracts

Dominion Bridge To Do Steel Work; Crows Nest Coal To Supply Coke

TRAIL — The Kimberley iron and steel smelter is beginning to take shape. Two more contracts have been awarded, and construction activity is under way at the site.

The Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company has announced that the Dominion Bridge Company Limited submitted the low unit price bid for structural steel and will now proceed with the fabrication and erection of steel for the buildings and storage bins. Steel is being obtained in the United Kingdom, therefore the construction program will not be delayed by the steel strike in the United States.

The Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company has signed an agreement to supply coke for the operation and will construct a special drying plant for coke breeze at Michel.

At the Kimberley site Cominco crews have completed preliminary work consisting of surveying, building layout and the relocation and establishing of power and other services. Ripley and Associates, a soil testing firm from Vancouver, has carried out drill tests for the pig iron furnace foundation. The Foundation Company of Canada will have personnel and equipment at the site this week to start levelling and excavations for concrete footings.

The $20,000,000 iron and steel smelter was announced in April of this year. The operation will use iron tailings from the Sullivan Mine at Kimberley to produce pig iron, steel ingots and rolled steel products at a planned capacity of over 100,000 tons per year. In July Cominco announced that the Foundation Company will erect the buildings and install equipment. Contracts for the fabrication of the major equipment, which will be the first of its type in North America, have been placed with European firms.

Massey Illness Cancels Tour

BATTERWORD HOUSE, Port Hope, Ont. (CP) — Governor-General Vincent Massey has contracted a kidney infection and on the advice of his doctor has cancelled a visit to Vancouver and the North that was to have been his final trip while in office.

Lionel Massey, the Governor-General's son and secretary, announced that Mr. Massey is deeply disappointed at having to cancel the tour and asked that his regrets be expressed at the inconvenience caused his hosts and those making arrangements for the visits.

The illness struck Mr. Massey, 72, about a week ago. His temperature rose and his personal physician, Dr. Peter Burton of Ottawa, twice was summoned to his bedside at Mr. Massey's family home here.

The Governor-General remained confined to bed and his temperature subsided Monday. He is expected to be well enough to spend an hour out of bed today.

Energy Board To Be Known Today

OTTAWA (CP) — Composition of the new five-man energy board which will have power to regulate Canadian sources of energy will be announced at 9 a.m. MDT today by the prime minister's office.

The board will have authority to regulate export and import of natural gas and electricity and may, by cabinet proclamation, regulate imports or exports of oil.

Finance Minister Fleming, acting prime minister, made the announcement Monday following a one-hour cabinet meeting, called to complete the personnel of the board.

POPE GRANTS DISPENSATION

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John has granted dispensation to Roman Catholics from the obligation not to eat meat on Friday, Aug. 14, the Vatican announced Monday.

The dispensation was given because Friday will be the eve of the Feast of the Assumption.

$100 Million Program Cancelled

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States air force Monday cancelled a $100,000,000 program for the development of chemical fuel for use in bombers and fighter-interceptors of the classes whose speeds exceed 2000 miles an hour.

The cancellation immediately raised speculation over the future of the multi-billion-dollar program for the B-70 chemical fueled bomber known as the Valkyrie and the F-108 fighter interceptor designated the Rapier.

The cancellation will knock out operation of a new $45,000,000 chemical plant built by the Olin Mathieson Corporation at Model City, N.Y., near Buffalo.

The air force officially notified Congress that the prime contract with the General Electric Company for the J93-5 engine had been cancelled. The engine was to be used in both the B-70 and F-108.

This engine is a turbo-jet with an after-burner which would have used high-energy chemical fuels.

CALL-GIRL RACKET BARED BY POLICE

TORONTO (CP) — A squad of morality officers, led by a screaming policewoman, charged into an exclusive east-side Guildwood Village home Sunday night to break up what they called "the biggest call - girl operation uncovered in Toronto in years."

Police arrested a man and a teen-aged girl and seized books covering the operations of 15 girls.

Arthur Donald De Carle, 30, and Margaret Fern Duke, 19, were charged with living of the vails of prostitution and procuring.

Three Men Killed As Planes Collide

CALGARY (CP) — Three persons were killed Monday when a Sabre jet of the air force's Golden Hawk aerobatic flying team and a light United States civilian plane collided and crashed in a field a mile west of McCall Airport.

Pilot of the jet was identified as Flt. Lt. P. J. Kerr, 25, of Welland, Ont. Names of the civilians were not available but the craft was the property of the Medical and Scientific Research Centre of Philadelphia.

An air force spokesman said the Sabre was the last of seven craft attempting to land after arrival from the Lakehead where they had taken part in an air show Sunday.

The jet made one attempt to land and then pulled up and began a second swing over the land field. Witnesses said the two planes collided just as the jet appeared set to make its final approach. Air force officers estimated its landing speed at 169 miles an hour.

BURST INTO FLAMES

The jet fell straight to the ground while the piper cub went into a spin and hit about 200 yards away. The jet burst into flames immediately. The Cub did not burn.

Both landed within 50 yards of the main Edmonton-Calgary rail line. There were no houses near by.

The crash was the first involving the Golden Hawks, a stunt team which was formed last winter and has been on view at many Canadian fairs and exhibitions this summer.

Air force security officers blocked off the area shortly after the crash. They said an unexploded seat-ejection charge in the jet could be dangerous.

An air force spokesman said it was not known whether the Golden Hawks would continue with their demonstrations. He said it would depend upon the results of an air force board of inquiry which would begin sifting the wreckage today.

Two officials of the department of transport from Edmonton had already started an investigation within hours of the crash.

The Golden Hawks, flying F-86 Sabres, were formed to commemorate the 50th anniversary of powered flight in Canada and the 35th anniversary of the RCAF. Leader of the eight-man team is Sqdn. Ldr. Fern Villeneuve, 31, of Ottawa.

Strickland Elected By Acclamation

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP) — Premier Smallwood's Liberals elected the first member to the new Newfoundland legislature Monday — by acclamation. Capt. Uriah Strickland was nominated without opposition in Trinity South, a riding near St. John's.

Capt. Uriah Strickland, a supporter of Premier Smallwood, was elected unopposed in Trinity South. Progressive Conservatives and two new parties—the labor-backed Democrats and the United Newfoundland Party headed by a former Conservative—failed to nominate in that east coast riding.

The Liberals captured Trinity South with a 1,886-vote majority over a Conservative in the 1956 provincial election.

A record number of candidates was believed to have been nominated but the exact figure was delayed by slow communications from some constituencies.

Unofficial figures placed the total at 92, made up of 33 Liberals, 32 Conservatives, 18 Democrats, seven members of the UNP and two independents.

SLUG IT OUT

Premier Smallwood and Conservative Leader Malcolm Hollett will slug it out in a straight personal fight in St. John's West. No other parties entered there.

The premier left the Bonavista North riding he has represented for 10 years to attack Mr. Hollett in his own backyard. The Conservative leader has held the seat since 1952.

Mr. Smallwood said he wants the people to decide whether he or Mr. Hollett is right on the question of federal financial aid to Newfoundland under Confederation terms.

Girl Burned in Tent Fire Dies

VERNON (CP) — Victoria, the seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Tull of nearby Lumby, died Saturday of burns suffered in a tent fire July 19.

The child was critically burned in a backyard fire at the Tull home, when she and her two brothers were sleeping outside during hot weather.

Richard Tull, 5, is still in critical condition in a Vancouver hospital.

1000 Reported Detained In Cuba "Sealed" Camps

By HAROLD K. MILKS

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — Military camps in and around Havana, reputed to hold hundreds of civilians and army men bagged in a government roundup, were sealed Monday.

Entry and exit were permitted only by authority of the commanders. Premier Fidel Castro's revolutionary regime, now in its eighth month, apparently is seeking through sweeping arrests to halt a purported plot to overthrow him.

The newspaper Revolucion, organ of Castro's 26th of July movement, says that possibly more than 1,000 persons have been detained as a result of the discovery of "the counter-revolutionary conspiracy."

PROMISE ANNOUNCEMENT

Revolucion promises that Castro will go before the people by television and radio at an opportune moment—no date was specified—to explain the wave of rumors and arrests sweeping this island republic. A rebel radio spokesman said the government might make some kind of an announcement today.

Some sources said the roundup of suspects was set off by the disappearance of arms from Camp Libertad, a big military base in a Havana suburb, apparently in preparation for an armed uprising against Castro.

These sources claimed investigators seized more than 40 machine-guns, 100 U.S. - made M-1 (Garand) rifles and huge sums of money.

One of the big rumors collapsed Monday. This was a weekend story of invasion strikes by air and sea from the ominican republic against the Isle of Pines, off Cuba's southwest coast.

Responsible Americans who spent the weekend on the Isle of Pines, said on their return to Havana that there was no military activity there whatsoever and that they had heard nothing there of an invasion. All was quiet from Friday through Monday morning, they said, except for a short visit by Castro to the resort island Saturday.

Politicians, large land owners and holdover officers from Fulgencio Batista's regular army are among those rounded up for questioning about the alleged conspiracy to oust Castro's government.

CLEAN SWEEP

Military sources said Castro leaders decided to make a clean sweep by detaining everyone within the armed forces who might conceivably have had a part, then segregate and free those not implicated. Best estimates here are that only a few dozen will be formally accused.

140 Killed in Guerrilla Fighting

SAM NEUA, Laos (AP) — Casualties are slowly mounting in a strange war between Communist-led guerrillas and royal troops in the mountains of northern Laos.

Brig.-Gen. Amkha Soukhavong, commander of the northern zone, said Monday his forces rave killed 90 Red soldiers, captured nine and wounded an undetermined number in Sam Neua province, which adjoins Communist North Viet Nam.

Government forces of this Buddhist kingdom have lost about 50 men. About half are listed as missing, Amkha said.

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—An alarm went out Sunday that smoke was curling from the tower of Frankfurt's handsome Gothic Cathedral.

When they got to the top, they found clouds of flying ants manoeuvring in and out of the delicate red stone work.

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—Ivan Smith, Ohio state liquor enforcement chief, was mistaken for a bartender when he and nine of his agents staged a 3 a.m. raid on a secluded bootleg den Sunday.

So rapidly did Smith slip into the rustic-type building, well-hidden on a thickly wooded farm just southwest of here, that when he got behind the bar to grab the bartender, several customers ordered drinks from him.

About this time, Smith announced the raid and customers dashed for the exits. About 100 were routed from the place.

The liquor agents arrested three persons and seized two cases of whisky and 20 cases of beer.

Arbitration Talks Adjourned Indefinitely

Arbitration between the new hospital builders and the hospital society has been adjourned indefinitely.

It is understood the contractors, Cloverdale Construction Company Ltd., will probably seek prior arbitration on a claim made by excavators in relation to the $1,635,000 contract construction. The adjourned contractor-hospital arbitration, set to be heard Monday by a three-man board here, would likely follow the other proceedings.

The original notice of disputes filed by Cloverdale included the excavation matter involving United Contractors, sub-contracting excavators, who were held up by the laying of gas mains. However, hospital legal counsel had given notice that application to have this matter included in the proceedings set for Monday would be opposed.

BRIEF SITTING

The arbitration board, which sat briefly at the court house here Monday, comprised John Aiken of Penticton, chairman, C. E. Marlatt of Trail, and P. B. Ford of New Westminster.

In all, seven items had been included in the notice of dispute including establishment of unit prices for extra rock excavation and for extra fill provided at the building site, a claim for extras for stainless steel casework supplied and the United Contractors' claim.

The hearing adjourned following a claim by the company's counsel that the hospital board's appointee was informed on the items in dispute. The adjournment came before evidence on the items in dispute was entered.

Record Wheat Shipment Seen At Churchill

LONDON (CP) — British purchases of wheat shipped through the northern port of Churchill, Man., were the highlight of the United Kingdom grain trade during the last week.

If the present trend continues, the current season should be a record for the port on the western shore of Hudson Bay.

The Financial Times describes as "surprisingly brisk" the rate at which Churchill wheat has been bought recently by British millers.

Little of the estimated 2,000,000 bushels shipped so far this season remains to be sold, and the demand for the quantities arriving almost daily continues strong.

Top-Level Conference of Church Leaders Advocated

"A summit meeting of Christian leaders" would lead to world peace and unity.

This opinion was expressed in Nelson Monday night by Dr. Marcus Bach, professor at the State University of Iowa's school of religion, when he addressed a special meeting of Rotary Club in the Fairview United Church hall.

The world traveller, author and authority on religions labelled Russia "a laboratory of atheism" in a world eager for religious direction.

"Old religions are going by the boards. Churchwise, the attendance in Great Britain is at an all-time low. In Africa, religion is in a ferment; in Asia, it is dying on the vine and Buddhist shrines have become a tourist attraction," he charged.

"Christianity stands alone among the religions of the world. Only in Christianity do we find that man whose power upon the world is incalculable."

He said there are many different religions for many different minds and claimed "we are fragmented peoples."

Dr. Bach maintained that between Catholicism and Christian Science is "the full gamut of the definition of sin."

"Some people are so righteous about keeping the law that they become self-righteous and start wishing they could break the law in order to do penance," he said.

"We reduce Christianity to its lowest common denominator when we make it the fulfilment of the law. Where we are to begin is the place we have stopped." Dr. Bach said in his address "How Christian Can You Be?"

CHURCH DIVIDED

He said the religious picture of the world is neither simple nor easy.

"How can you have a united world with a divided church?" he asked the audience of some 200 Rotarians and guests.

Dr. Bach said for him "Rotary becomes more intriguing and more challenging year after year," and suggested the world-wide organization might well "spark the sensitivity of the world."

POPULAR SPEAKER

Introducing the guest speaker, W. S. Ramsay said Dr. Bach made his first appearance before members of the Nelson Rotary Club 12 years ago and since has been a frequent and popular speaker.

He described Dr. Bach as "an authority on the lesser religions, author of nine books and a sincere Kootenay booster." He spends the summers at Destiny Bay on Kootenay Lake.

"He is one of Nelson Rotary Club's very dear friends," Mr. Ramsay concluded.

Dr. Bach, in his opening remarks, pictured Nelson as "one of the garden spots of the world" to which he and his wife return year after year.

He said, however, he was disappointed at local fishing and termed the situation "critical in the area." Dr. Bach said he knew of people who visited the Kootenays every summer to fish but they are returning no more.

In thanking Dr. Bach for his talk Joseph Kary said it was "a rare privilege to have the opportunity to hear such a distinguished orator who endears himself to us more year after year."

Among the visiting Rotarians at the Monday evening meeting were T. Alexander, Saskatoon; F. J. Plester and Herb Clark of Trail; W. J. Malcolm of Three Rivers, Quebec; T. Rodda of Casper, Wyoming, and A. Allan, Walnut Creek, Calif.

T. A. CLARKE, FORMERLY HERE, DIES AT COAST

Trevor Atwell (Tom) Clarke, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Proudfoot of Nelson and a former resident of this city, died suddenly Sunday in Vancouver.

He was an employee of the B.C. Forest Service here for many years, going to Kamloops and later to Vancouver. He was retired at the time of his death.

Other survivors are his wife, Genevieve; a daughter, Mrs. Guy Brooks, and a sister, Miss Alleyene Clarke in Hawaii.

The funeral will be held in Vancouver Wednesday.

Areas Closed To Hunting Designated

Three areas in southeastern British Columbia, beside regular game reserves, have been named as closed for all or certain types of hunting during the 1959-60 season.

Closed to hunting of game birds only is that portion of the Nelson-Creston Electoral District described as follows: "Commencing on the north shore of the West Arm of Kootenay Lake at Willow Point wharf; thence following the Duhamel or Six Mile Creek Road to the intersection of the said Duhamel Road with the First West Fork of Duhamel Creek; thence following the said West Fork to its source; thence in a southerly direction following the divide between Duhamel Creek and the West Arm of Kootenay Lake and Grohman Creek to the mouth of said creek; thence across the West Arm of Kootenay Lake to the south shore of the West Arm to a point known as the slaughterhouse; thence following the south shore of the said West Arm in an easterly direction to a point opposite Willow Point wharf; thence across the said West Arm to the point of commencement."

Closed to all hunting, except the trapping of fur-bearing animals is that portion of the Fernie Electoral District described as follows: "Commencing at the junction of Bovine (Goat) Creek with the Elk River; thence in a southeasterly direction to the site of the East Kootenay Power and Light Company's water-gauge on the Fording River; thence along the west bank of said river to the junction of said river and the Elk River; thence along the east bank of Elk River to the point of commencement."

Closed to hunting of any member of the deer family is that portion of the Fernie Electoral District described as follows: "Commencing at the junction of Morrissey Creek and Elk River; thence following the east and south banks of said river to a point one-half mile south of the junction of Wigwam and Elk Rivers; thence easterly following the summit of the watershed on the south side of Wigwam River to a point on the said river one-half mile south of the junction of the said river and Lodgepole Creek; thence in an easterly direction following the summit of the watershed on the south side of said creek to the summit at the headwaters of the said creek; thence northerly following the summit of the said watershed and westerly along the summit on the north side of the said creek and Meadow Creek to a point on Morrissey Creek two (2) miles north-east from the mouth of said creek; thence along the south bank of said creek to the point of commencement."

Canadian Officer To Teach Charles French

LONDON (Reuters) — Queen Elizabeth has chosen a French-speaking Canadian army officer, Lieut. Jean Lajeunesse of Montreal, to give French lessons to Prince Charles during the royal family's summer vacation in Scotland, Buckingham Palace announced Monday.

Lajeunesse, 27, of Montreal, is an officer of Quebec's Royal 22nd Regiment of the Canadian Army.

An announcement from Buckingham Palace said that Queen Elizabeth had invited him to act as French tutor to the prince during part of the royal family's present vacation at Balmoral in Scotland.

Lajeunesse, now in London, will travel to Scotland later this week and will stay for several weeks.

"It is a great honor for the regiment and a great personal responsibility and honor for me," he said.

STERNWHEELER MODEL GOES TO REGATTA—IF

The Chamber of Commerce is looking for someone to take the SS Nelson float to the Kelowna Regatta.

C. W. Ramsden, president, said that unless the Chamber gets a volunteer by noon today, Nelson won't have its popular float at the regatta. Lack of transportation also prevented the model sternwheeler from being entered in Penticton Peach Festival activities.

Anyone who will tow the float to Kelowna is being asked to contact Mrs. K. K. Christiansen, Chamber secretary.

Numbers Of Jobless Decreasing

Unemployment in the Nelson area is on the decrease.

However, applicants registering for employment are increasing as job seekers (men) flock into the district, it was reported Monday by the Nelson office of the National Employment Service.

During July applications for employment increased by about 60 as both local and transient workers sought jobs on construction of Celgar Ltd.'s pulp mill near Castlegar. Carpenters and building laborers led the stream of job seekers.

Generally, in industry, the supply of workers has been equal to the demand. However, specialized union men are being imported for work on the Celgar buildings.

While most logging operations are producing at capacity, there have been some shortages of semi-skilled workers. A shortage of workers in the lumber industry has been evident in the Arrow Lakes district, forcing some operators to work only two or three days a week and to employ local farmers. Placement has been hampered by inadequate accommodation.

FEW OPENINGS FOR MINERS

Twenty-three men have been laid off at Western Exploration's mine at Silverton, which ceased operations in July.

Thirty-one miners are now registered for employment at the Nelson office, and opportunities for them are said to be "very few".

With respect to the retail trade, the office reports that sales of summer clothing of all kinds have been exceptional, exceeding those of any month during 1958.

To partly a reflection of the hot weather is in the fact that hotels, motels and restaurants have been kept busy in recent weeks. Some resorts have been filled to capacity almost daily.

This is a sharp change from June, when some proprietors found business worse than during the winter months, the employment office notes.

A few jobs were found in July for school graduates, but chances for handicapped applicants were almost non-existent.

IMPROVEMENT SHOWN

A year ago there were 106 veterans registered for employment, whereas now there are 48. Preference is given to veterans whenever possible.

Work for women applicants has been steady. There are 17 vacancies compared with 28 a month ago. Women numbering 104 are registered for jobs, a slight decrease in a month, but the number is expected to stay about the same for the next two months. The office finds that vacancies for domestic workers are the most difficult to fill.

Knights of Columbus Entertain Campers

Eight members of Nelson Council Knights of Columbus went to Camp Lourdes east of Nelson to entertain girls attending a camp session with a wiener roast, marshmallows and soft drinks. The treat was enjoyed by all the campers.

Later the girls and their leaders joined around a huge bonfire for a musical program, sing song and camp fire dance. Music was provided by J. Lang, Joseph Fukala and C. J. Groot.

Arsonists Blamed For Forest Fires

Fourteen forest fires of suspected incendiary origin, which broke out Sunday in the vicinity of Krestova, Taghum and Glade, were reported under control by Monday night.

RCMP stated there was definite proof the fires were the work of arsonists. Corporal Ron Davidson of the Crescent Valley detachment said each of the fires started after an explosion.

He said there is evidence to show that bottles filled with gasoline or some other volatile substance were exploded in the bush by electric or fuse detonators controlled by a timing device. These gave the arsonists ample time to get clear of the area before the fires began.

SOME CLUES

There are some clues to the identity of the arsonists, but they are considered insufficient to warrant arrests.

All of the outbreaks occurred in what is generally considered Sons of Freedom territory. Three were on Mount Sentinal in the Goose Creek-Pass Creek area near Krestova, home of the radical Freedomites.

B.C. Forest Service men believe that in some instances the arsonists hang around to watch the effect of their work from a safe distance. They report that near South Slocan shortly after crews had put out two blazes and left the scene, two new fires broke out in the same neighborhood.

Similar occurrences at other points suggest a deliberate plan to harass Forest Service crews. The areas concerned are too big and the terrain too rough to make possible an efficient hunt for the suspects.

In one case Forest Service men located an empty car parked in an area close to one of the new fires, and RCMP are investigating.

WATER-BOMBED

Quick control gained over the incendiary blazes was credited to the use of one Junkers and two Grumman Avenger aerial tankers, which water-bombed most of the fires, controlling them before they reached much size.

One fire at Krestova and one near Slocan Park made considerable headway before control was established. Besides the three water bombers, five tractors and approximately 90 men were thrown into the fight Sunday and Monday.

Of 17 other new fires reported in Nelson Forest District, only two were causing much trouble. One at Rock Creek covered 50 acres before being brought under control by a crew of 60 Forest Service men and 17 private employees.

Another at Boundary Falls near Midway burned over 90 acres before being controlled by 20 Forest Service men, 14 outside agency men and three tractors.

SLOWING

The Canal Flat fire is still the biggest problem in the district. Cooler weather in the past 48 hours has slowed its advance, and a water-bomber has been effective in controlling hot spots and spot fires in advance of the main fire.

With 12 tractors and 95 men employed, construction of guards was reported Monday progressing satisfactorily.

By Monday night the total number of fires in Nelson Forest District was 40, with 378 Forestry Service employees and 34 private employees on the fire lines.

To be known as the Nelson district office, it will serve Association members in the Kootenays and visiting members from affiliated clubs of the Canadian and American Automobile Associations. It will also inform other motorists about the benefits of membership.

In attendance at the opening will be civic and business leaders and eight association officials from Vancouver.

The latter will include president J. Howard Boothe, vice-president Clarke Simpkins, treasurer Halford D. Wilson, directors C. E. Thompson, F. R. Paxton and R. J. Hastings, who is also president of the Canadian Automobile Association, and secretary-manager Stan C. R. Wicks.

Commenting on the opening of the Nelson office, Mr. Boothe said: "This is only the first of a number of offices which will be established throughout the province by the B.C. Automobile Association. The next will be in Penticton about the first of September. And we shall be continuing with arrangements for offices in the northern section of the province.

"These branch offices are evidence of our strong desire to bring our services right to the doorstep of our members and other motorists throughout British Columbia and also reflect the steady growth of our organization."

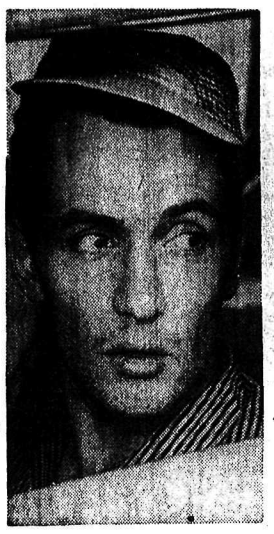
Tourists Say Our Scenery's Tops, Like Lake Crossing



DAN McNIEL
. . . mountains spectacular.

ALVIN HERINGER
. . . likes ferry ride.

By IAN BROWN

Why do tourists come to British Columbia? What do they think of the scenery? The highways? The ferry service on Kootenay Lake?

These were some of the questions asked during an on-the-spot interview with five tourists who were left behind by a crowded ferry on the Kootenay Bay terminal Saturday.

Secenery rated tops with most of the tourists, while only complaints centred on the winding road from Creston to Kootenay Bay.

H. Martin from Alberta, travelling through the Kootenays to the Coast with his wife and five sons, described the Kootenay Bay-Creston road "well paved, but rather curvy." Mrs. Martin who has never been out of Alberta before, described B.C. as "beautiful," and made special mention of the Creston area being "a really beautiful valley."

F. G. WHITFIELD
. . . B.C. incomparable.

Alvin Heringer of Ponoka, Alta., who is on a honeymoon trip with his bride, has been to the Okanagan before through the Big Bend route.

Asked why he chose the southern route, he said the Big Bend highway is in rough shape owing to road construction and repairs.

Asked how it felt like to be left behind by the ferry, he said, cheerfully "It's a delay, but it's nice to drive onto the ferry and then watch the water go by."

George Carlisle of Moab, Utah, was travelling west with his wife and family and towing a boat and trailer. Mr. Carlisle had been to B.C. five years ago and when asked why he had come again said, "I like the country and the people are friendly."

GEORGE CARLISLE
. . . friendly people.

LIKES PRICES

Canadian prices, he said, are "agreeable," and cited gasoline as an example.

"The price of gasoline is higher but you get more gas to a Canadian gallon."

Dan McNeil from New Brunswick, travelling with wife and two children, in comparing B.C. with his native province described mountains in B.C. as "more spectacular."

F. G. Whitfield, a resident of Nelson for 16 years and a former bank teller here, now resides in St. James, Man., where he is a supervisor in the western superintendent's department for the Imperial Bank.

Asked why he is spending holidays in B.C., he said simply: "Is there a better province to spend holidays in?"

H. MARTIN
. . . Creston beautiful.

DEVELOPMENT WORK OF COMINCO PROGRESSES

Sinking of the new auxiliary shaft at the Bluebell mine of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada at Riondel is now in progress below the 825 level following the completion of all preparation work, it is reported.

No. 1 mine shaft at the Sullivan mine, Kimberley, has been completed and work has been started on raising the main shaft. A 200-gallon-per-minute flow of water was encountered 35 feet from the bottom of the shaft.

The strip-mining operation at the Anderson mine of Montana Phosphate Products Company, Garrison, Mont., has been started up again. The stockpile of phosphate rock at the Luke mine has been shipped to Trail and the Anderson stockpile is now being shipped.

EXPLORATION PROJECTS

Cominco has three underground exploration projects in progress this year.

At the Wedge in New Brunswick, a road has been built, a camp is under construction, and shaft sinking will soon be commenced. At the Duncan property on Duncan Lake in the Lardeau, a camp is being built, and an adit has been advanced about 100 feet. On the Double Ed property at the old Anyox copper camp, construction of mine buildings and collaring the adit are just starting. The crew is presently living on floats moored on the beach at Anyox.

Mr. Rumball is retired minister of the Evangelical Church for the Deaf.

One of the bride's attendants, Margaret McLeod, also is deaf.

The couple will honeymoon in Muskoka and live in Ottawa.

42 New Houses . . .

Boom Year in Building For City of Cranbrook

CRANBROOK — City building permits issued by building inspector James Gordon have come to a total of 92 for the year to July 31 with an estimated total value of $673,303, the city's busiest construction year for some time.

The total covers 42 new houses ranging in estimated value between $10,000 and $15,000 each, now well under way, and one substantial commercial building, a new Super-Valu food market which is advancing fairly rapidly, and a number of major or minor alterations to business premises.

Rate of starts on new building has slowed after the early summer rush but still continues at an above-average pace. At least another six houses are expected to be started before fall.

The total does not include the large volume of building both commercial and domestic continuing in subdivisions outside city limits. Construction has begun on two new homes of substantial value in the new regulated Pinecrest Housing subdivision east of city limits.

Smoke Flare Saves Two Men

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—A single smoke flare, saved for use at just the right moment, brought rescue Aug. 2 to two men marooned seven nights and days high on the barren face of an Alaska glacier.

The flare was sighted by a helicopter pilot participating in a week-old sea and air search over the mountains and through the valleys and inlets of rugged Glacier Bay national monument.

Although the two were saved, the body of a third man remained with the wreckage of a helicopter in which they crashed July 26 at the 5800-foot level of Gilman Glacier.

Dead was Robert Baldwin of Ridgefield, Conn., a geologist for the Newmont Exploration Co. Ltd. of New York City. He was fatally injured in the crash.

Bearded and weary, bruised but otherwise not seriously hurt, were Robert Sheldon and Melvin Guerrera. They survived through chilling temperatures and heavy rain with the aid of a sleeping bag and emergency food rations.

Police Chase Suspects in Show

VANCOUVER (CP) — Movie patrons favored a rollicking real-life adventure in the seats and aisles around them over a fast-moving western here as police moved into an east-end theatre to arrest two men, suspected of possessing narcotics.

Police chased the suspects through the ailes and over seats of the balcony.

The chase started when seven RCMP and city drug squad officers made a routine check during the screening of a midnight movie early Monday.

When they attempted to interview a woman and two men in the balcony lobby, the men fled into the theatre.

Detectives held the woman while other officers bounded after the two men. They finally were cornered in the balcony.

A third man was arrested an hour later when one of the RCMP officers returned to get his jacket.

The officer was leaving the balcony when a patron began sewaring at him, telling him to "get out of here".

Police said the man will be charged with creating a disturbance.

Kinnaird Little Theatre Chooses Play for Autumn

KINNAIRD — "Roar Like a Dove" by Leslie Storm has been chosen as the play to be produced by the Kinnaird Little Theatre this fall. President Gwilym Hughes will be the director.

At a recent meeting at the home of Mrs. W. Walper, it was announced that a drama course will be held in Trail under the direction of Sydney Risk from Sept. 2 to Oct. 10.

An anonymous donor has presented a trophy to the Kinnaird Little Theatre which will be awarded to a member chosen by an appointed committee. The committee will decide on the type of award.

Reading committee chairman Mrs. Terry Whitelock said at least 50 plays had been read by the committee and that festival plays were now under study.

Plans for a cabaret style dance Aug. 28 are well under way.

Crawford Bay Fair Shapes Up

CRAWFORD BAY—Preparations are well advanced for the Crawford Bay and District Fall Fair to be held Sept. 2.

Prize lists have been out for weeks, and a large entry is expected.

A new award will be made this year—a cup for high aggregate in the fruit and vegetable section.

Two entry classifications will be judged by popular vote—a floral table centre and articles from bygone days not now in use.

CASTLEGAR—George McIntyre of Trail was fined $10 and costs in police court here Monday for an infraction of the Motor Vehicle Act. The charge was laid after an accident at Blueberry August 2.

Kimberley Firemen To Serve Chapman Camp

KIMBERLEY — Faced with buying expensive new equipment to continue operations of its fire department independently, the village of Chapman Camp has proposed the department be merged with the Kimberley fire department. The proposal has been accepted effective Sept. 1. Organized as a village many years ago, Chapman Camp has had its own volunteer fire crew and equipment centrally located. It was incorporated long before adjoining Kimberley.

Kimberley was formerly dependent on mining company fire protection, but since incorporation its city fire department has expanded to five full-time firemen under the direction of fire chief James Dickens.

Under the bylaw agreement, cost sharing will be on a 90-10 per cent basis. The village equipment will be taken over by the city fire department, and there will be no change in the full-time strength of the latter.

Auto Accident Rate Climbs

Automobile accidents in the Nelson RCMP subdivision remained generally the same for the week ending Aug. 9, but accidents in British Columbia reached the highest point of the year.

There were 28 accidents and 11 prosecutions recorded for the Nelson district, compared with 26 accidents and seven prosecutions the previous week.

In the province accidents reached a new record of 294, compared with 257 the previous week. The previous high was 288 on the week ending July 5.

During the week ending Aug. 9 there were 126 prosecutions and six deaths compared with 94 prosecutions and seven accidents the previous week.

Koolaree Echoes

HAPPY SAILING DAY NO. 2—Some brave crew-members enjoyed an early dip instead of jerks. Cabin spirit is strong and decorations today showed great originality. A heavy shower spoiled plans for afternoon swimming but the campers enjoyed "reversal day." Did you ever see a ponytail worn backwards?

At campfire, Cabin 5 put on a good skit about "The Lone Stranger" and everyone enjoyed a hearty sing-song. The crew were ready for bed early after a long, busy day.

HAPPY SAILING DAY NO. 3—Beautiful weather again, and extra swim time for the lucky campers. Handicrafts are well on their way to being decorative pieces of driftwood. The drama group is hard at work on a play, "Cinderella." The choir rehearses for their anthem during chapel. The highlight of the day was a masquerade parade which kept cameras clicking busily. The leaders made fine "beatniks." Prizes were won by the Lone Ranger on his horse, a garbage collector with his trash; a girl of the woods, a couple displaying To Koolaree and From Koolaree signs and an adorable bride and groom among the leaders' children.

The skits at campfire, put on by Cabin 4, were "Echo Valley" and "Slightly Exaggerated." They were heartily applauded. The weary campers are glad enough to find their bunks waiting.

Come On Ottawa, This is Part of Canada

There seems to be something about the Kootenays which is not inducive to their being included on tours of our heads of state. What that something is, we have been unable to ascertain. We simply haven't a clue, as the saying goes. All we know is that whenever the itinerary for a royal tour of the country is announced, we can count on the Kootenays being omitted.

The fact that our people would welcome an opportunity to greet such distinguished visitors, that we have splendid scenery, that we have air, rail and highway transportation, that we have adequate accommodation, that we have man-made giants such as the largest smelter in the Commonwealth, should be sufficient reason for our being acceptable to tour planners, certainly as acceptable as other regions which are invariably "on the route." We're not complaining; we are merely inquiring into the "whys" and "why-nots."

There may, possibly, be a deterrent in occurrences which have taken place in the past. We recall, for instance, the opening of the Nelson bridge by Premier W. A. C. Bennett and the crowd of Sons of Freedom standing by, presumably waiting for an audience, yet by their presence creating an air of apprehension over the entire ceremonies.

Definitely tour planners would wish to avoid any likelihood of incidences, yet surely it would be possible to impress on all such groups the fact that heads of state are not heads of government, and should be immune from "pressuring." We think that this would be readily understood and accepted, and that only a welcome would be accorded.

Therefore, we look in future to a change in attitude from planners of royal tours and vice-regal tours. We hope, for instance, that the Kootenays will be included in the first official tour west of the governor-general designate, Major-General George P. Vanier, especially since we have not had the opportunity to greet his distinguished predecessor.

Interpreting the News

By GEORGE BOULTWOOD

BONN, Germany (AP) — President Eisenhower is making his Aug. 27 visit to Bonn after an urgent invitation of Konrad Adenauer, the 83-year-old West German chancellor.

The arrangement is evidently designed to ease German fears of being left in the lurch as a result of the coming exchange of visits between Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

The shift in the president's schedule for a round of talks with West European leaders was announced officially Sunday.

It puts Adenauer — regarded in some circles as the last of the Western cold war warriors advocating a continued tough attitude toward Moscow—first on the president's calling list.

Eisenhower is to see Prime Minister Macmillan in London Aug. 28 and President de Gaulle in Paris Sept. 2.

Diplomatic observers had been expecting that Adenauer would go to London or Paris to see Eisenhower.

Informants said these considerations influenced the change:

1. Adenauer has been under heavy fire lately as the Kremlin's No. 1 target and therefore needed a demonstration of Western support.

2. West German worries about the possible outcome of the coming Eisenhower-Khrushchev exchanges would be dampened by a personal visit from the president.

Adenauer is reported worried about a trend away from the line of no compromise with Russia.

His government has formally endorsed the Eisenhower-Khrushchev exchange of visits, but the only personal comment he has made publicly was that he hoped Khrushchev would be impressed by American strength and determination to stand up to threats to peace.

The German press has been openly sceptical. Some editorial writers have warned of the danger of a big-power settlement at Germany's expense. Others believe that Khrushchev will exploit his long-awaited American visit to the advantage of communism.

All this strengthened the impression that Adenauer will have some strong views to express to Eisenhower.

And it appeared he wanted to express them first, in his own capital, before the president sees the other Western leaders.

There had been speculation in Washington as recently as Saturday that Bonn was practically ruled out so as not to upset the Russians by special attention to Adenauer.

It was probably that very reason which made Adenauer press for a meeting in Bonn.

Fifty Cents a Head

Mr. James Hoffa of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters probably wields more economic power than any other individual in the United States. Now he is moving to gain a corresponding political power. He plans to set up a "department of political action" in his union to participate in next year's presidential election and subsequent contests.

The proposed organization will not suppotr either the Democrats or the Republicans, as a party, but will concentrate on individual Congressional elections. Senators and Representatives will be classified according to their "right" or "wrong" voting records. The test of "rightness" and "wrongness", needless to say, will be whether the candidate has supported legislation favorable to the Teamster leadership, and opposed measures — such as the current proposals for closer government regulation of unions —which threaten their position. The union's political arm will intervene in local contests to support Mr. Hoffa's friends and to fight his enemies.

The effectiveness of such a plan should not be underestimated. The "department of political action" will be financed by a levy of 50 cents a month on the Teamsters' 1,600,000 members. This should produce a war chest of $9,600,000 annually. (By way of comparison, the total expenditures of the Democratic Party in the 1956 presidential election amounted to $10,977,790.) A fund of this size, thrown into selected districts and perhaps supplemented by precinct work done by union members, might well tip the balance in a close contest and secure the defeat of legislators obnoxious to Mr. Hoffa.

Congress has always shown itself sensitive to pressures of this sort. The Teamsters' lobby in Washington is given much of the credit for the watering down by the House of Representatives of Senator Kennedy's bill to regulate the financial operations of unions and to protect rank-and-file members against arbitrary action by their leaders. Once the "department of political action" gets under way, the influence of the union is likely to increase—perhaps to the point where it has a virtual veto on labor legislation.

This obviously presents a grave issue to the people of the United States. It also raises serious questions for Canada. The Teamsters' Union has some 40,000 members in this country. Will they be required to contribute to the proposed fund to finance political activity in another country? Can the Canadian government permit its citizens to be taxed for such a purpose? Mr. Hoffa's scheme dramatizes, as perhaps nothing has before, the problems involved in foreign domination of the Canadian labor movement.

The Tie That Binds

A London outfitter, Mr. Cecil Gee, reports a significant change in the men's neckwear business. A few years ago, he dreaded selling ties to women because the men for whom they were intended usually brought them back. "But," he adds, "women's taste in ties has so improved that we now have to change only one in fifty." Perhaps. More likely British husbands, like Canadians, are just becoming better trained.—Toronto Globe and Mail.

Baudouin Flight Sparks Gossip

BRUSSELS (Reuters) — Belgium's King Baudouin left by military plane Sunday to spend a few days vacation in southern France, a palace spokesman confirmed Monday.

Sources close to the palace disclosed earlier that the 26-year-old king made the trip alone and kept it completely private.

The report of the king's visit to France sparked fresh speculation here that he was planning a secret meeting with 25-year-old Princess Marie-Therese of Bourbon Parma, with whom his name has been linked romantically in the past.

Scores Canadian Wheat Handling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican Senator Milton R. Young of North Dakota said Monday he and other members of Congress are concerned about a continuing increase in imports of farm commodities which the United States now has in great surplus.

He said he will introduce legislation aimed at correcting what he said are loopholes in the custom laws.

Young said importers are using a loophole in importing of seed wheat from Canada. The wheat import quota excepts from its provisions wheat unfit for human consumption.

"By treating their wheat with the ordinary chemical substances used on seed, the Canadians were able to qualify under this provision," oung said.

SELL LOWER

"They are able to clean, treat and bag their wheat and sell it at a price considerably lower than the price American farmers must obtain for their wheat.

"This has resulted in virtually all of the seed wheat not only in North Dakota but for the whole spring wheat area being imported from Canada."

He said there is another loophole under which wheat screenings are permitted to enter the U.S. free of quotas.

Canadian farmers, Young said, have started cleaning their wheat and taking out for their own seed some of the best kernels. The rest then is shipped into the U.S. as screenings at a low duty and then resold on the American market for the current price, he said. Young said this wheat has sold for as high as $1.88 a bushel.

Goldfine Given Second Chance

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional investigators announced plans Monday to give Boston industrialist Bernard Goldfine another chance to answer questions he refused to answer last year.

Oren Harris, Democrat of Arkansas and chairman of the legislative oversight subcommittee in the House of Representatives, told reporters Goldfine will be recalled "at the earliest practical time."

After refusing to answer the subcommittee's questions last year, Goldfine was indicted for contempt of Congress.

That indictment brought him a suspended sentence last month of one year in jail and a $1,000 fine. In lieu of paying the fine and serving the jail term, he was placed on two years' probation.

In imposing the sentence, Judge James Morris directed that if given the opportunity, Goldfine must answer the 18 questions 599 ,o' answer the 18 questions he spurned during his appearance before the subcommittee last year. The questions concerned Goldfine's dealings with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Spectre of Fear of Radiation Still Walks the Streets of Japan

Atom bombs were dropped on Hiroshima and Nagasaki 14 years ago, in August, 1945. There was instant devastation. The dead were buried and the cities rebuilt, but effects of nuclear bombardment still remain —along with a cloud of anxiety. This is the first of four articles exploring the survivors' difficult adjustment and the scientific basis for their continuing concern.

By ALTON BLAKESLEE

HIROSHIMA, Japan (AP) — A go-between was arranging pretty Katsuko Tanaka's marriage, and her heart was singing.

Suddenly the wedding was wrecked by one fearful word—radiation.

Parents of the young man learned Katsuko had lived in Hiroshima that shattering day 14 years ago when a city first died under an atomic bomb.

To them this meant she was tainted by radiation, genetically dangerous, likely to bear malformed children. Katsuko in fact had not been exposed to radiation—but that didn't matter. Katsuko's name is fictitious. The incident is real, one expression of tragic psychological scars and anxieties in the wake of atomic warfare.

Young trees flourish now in Hiroshima and Nagasaki, which was bombed three days afterward. The cities have been rebuilt.

FEAR AND MYSTERY

But there walks the spectre of fear and mystery of radiation and radioactivity, the new element unleashed by A-bombs. Much of this new tragedy appears avoidable.

Fear of "bad seed" leads some parents to oppose marriage of their children with A-bomb survivors, almost threatening a new class of atomic outcasts.

This fear persists despite an American-Japanese study of all 70,000 children born during 1948-54 in both cities. It found no significant difference in numbers of malformations, stillbirths, or defects between the offspring of survivors, and the children of parents not exposed to A-bombs.

Rumor, at least, says some employers hesitate to hire survivors because they may sicken later, obligating the boss to pay expensive benefits.

Officials and doctors tell of persons not wanting to become listed publicly as survivors, for marriage, job or other reasons.

CHRONIC AILERS

Many survivors complain of chronic fatigue, although physicians cannot detect any physical causes. Some physicians think this a psychological effect; a few wonder if it is due to undetected liver damage.

Parents everywhere are prone to think sometimes that their own children aren't making as good school grades as the parents expect.

In Hiroshima, some wonder if radiation is responsible, says Dr. Yoshiso Kubo, social psychologist of Hiroshima University.

"It's like having a crazy aunt then looking for symptons of mental illness in your children," Kubo explains.

Dr. Kubo, personally interviewing 500 or more survivors, found many beset by vague psychological fears, including anxiety that physical examinations when they feel badly might bring the chilling diagnosis that they had been affected by radiation.

In Nagasaki, "there still is fear of the atom," says Katsuya Sato, governor of Nagaski prefecture.

CHECK LINEAGE

Japanese parents traditionally have checked on lineage whether any diseases known or supposed to be hereditary ran in the family their own son or daughter would marry into.

Some now have added fear of inheritable radiation effects to the list. It is difficult to plumb the extent of this.

A comparative study of actual human births, made by the casualty commission, "shows it is safe to marry survivors," says director Dr. George Darling.

The genetic study for the first generation now is finished, although new babies are still being checked for sex ratio study, adds Dr. Hiroshi Maki, associate director.

One next step is trying to gauge the long-term or delayed effects which radiation may have brought.

Bull Kills Fight Promoter

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — A bullfighter promoter was killed and two companions gored Sunday when they leaped into the ring to escape a rampaging bull and encountered three other beasts just let loose.

The promoter, Apoderado Feliciano Cerco, was talking with the other men when a bull escaped from his pen into the corridor adjacent to the ring.

The trio jumped the fence into the ring and encountered the other bulls. One beast gored Cerco, who died a few hours later. Another seriously injured Americo dos Santos Pena, another promoter, and Macara, a local matador.

ALL ABOARD—Girl Guides board bus at Nelson on first lap of journey to California.

Arrow Lakes Guides Make Nelson First Stop on Way to Claremont, California

Girl Guides from the Arrow Lakes district passed through Nelson Monday on the first lap of a three weeks' visit to Claremont, California, an original experiment in international exchange visits.

Claremont Girl Scouts last year extended an invitation to 15 Arrow Lakes district Girl Guides to visit them in Pomona and Claremont this summer. The invitation is an expression of gratitude for hospitality received by the American girl Guide camp. All expenses while in Claremont are taken care of for the Canadian visitors, with assistance of Kiwanis clubs there, the Claremont Girl Scouts' sponsors.

Expenses en route, however, have been raised through activities of the Guides themselves. In centres such as Needles, Edgewood, Nakusp, Silverton and New Denver, the girls have spent the past year organizing car washes, teas, baseball game carnivals, ball game sales, sale of rags to garages, sales of hats for New Year's dances, bake sales and shows.

Companies represented are the First Inonoaklin, First Nakusp, First New Denver and First Silverton Guide companies.

Travelling by bus, the girls spent Monday night in Spokane, where they were guests of the Spokane Girl Scouts in Riverside Park for supper and overnight camping. They will spend some time sightseeing in San Francisco and are expected in Pomona, California, Friday.

The visitors will attend a senior conference at Big Bear, with one evening there being devoted to Canadian Guiding.

During their visit the Canadian Guides will tour botanical gardens, visit an orange grove, see Disneyland, spend some time at Newport Beach Scout House and take a trip to San Juan Capistrano. En route home, they will travel via Utah to visit Salt Lake City.

The girls have all met requirements as to camping experience, duration of Guide membership and other regulations. They have received permission from Mrs. C. M. Vick, international commissioner of British Columbia, to leave Canada as official Girl Guides.

Leaders accompanying the group are Miss M. R. Kirkman, Arrow Lakes district commissioner, and Mrs. H. F. Hyson of Robson, divisional commissioner. Junior leader is Sheila Stanley of Nakusp.

Girl Guides making the trip are Sharon Bakker and Carolyn Watts of Needles, Sharon Pender, Annette Hopp, Ellen Hopp, Connie Ewings, Peggy Farrer and Sheila Milne of Edgewood; Bonny Rolston and Lynn Smith of Nakusp, Maureen McCrory and Donna Detta of New Denver; Wilma McLeod and Sherry Detta of Silverton.

"I first met Marty two years ago at a rodeo in New York's Madison Square Garden," said Mrs. Jean Wood. "We've been travelling ever since and I just love it."

Jean married the Canadian-born world bronc - riding champion June 10. She doesn't let her husband's wild and wooly job worry her.

"All the wives are a little anxious, I guess," said the green-eyed brunette from Springfield, Mo. "After a while, I realized that worrying doesn't do any good."

The Woods are undecided about their future but like most of the rodeo cowboys, Marty hopes eventually to buy a ranch and a string of horses and settle down.

If we could have but one coat to carry us through a social afternoon and evening, we would most likely choose a handsome combination of fine leather and fur. Jean Edwards has nicely epitomized the idea in this coat, a slim, wrap-around model in lustered Dior blue cabretta leather with a soft collar of fox dyed to match. This type of coat, although essentially unpretentious, is sure to hold its own amidst all the sumptuous after-dark coats awaiting next season's party and theatre goers. It is an especially good choice for the suburban commuter.

Workers in India Are Lazy for Many Reasons

By ADRIENNE FARRELL

NEW DELHI (Reuters)—Indians are perturbed by a charge that they are "the laziest people in the world."

Mrs. Indira Gandhi, daughter of Prime Minister Nehru and president of the Congress party, says a survey of Asian and Western countries by an international team of experts has shown that people in India work fewer days a week, less hours a day and less intensively than any other people.

Nehru has capped this by calculating that the average Indian office or factory worker has 150 workless days a year.

Many people, Indians and foreigners, would contest the charge that Indians generally are lazy. It will be hotly denied by those who have watched the back-breaking work by a farmer plowing the waterlogged earth of his ricefield with a heavy wooden plow and cumbersome oxen; or by those who have admired the cheerful patience of men and women laborers, carrying baskets of earth or bricks on their heads in endless streams, or chipping away from dawn to sunset at stonebreaking for piece-work pay averaging two rupees (about 40 cents) a day.

CITY MAN DOES LESS

But most people would be inclined to agree that the Indian city worker does less than his counterpart in other countries.

In the first place, India must have more public holidays than any other country in the world. As a secular state, it observes the main festivals of all religions —Hindu, Moslem, Sikh, Christian, Parsee and Buddhist.

Apart from state holidays such as Republic Day and Independence Day, holidays are observed for Christmas and Good Friday, for the Moslem Id and Mohurram festivals, for the birthdays of the Sikh Gurus, Mahatma Gandhi and the Buddha, and for the Hindu Spring Festival and Festival of Lights.

In all, there are 27 bank holidays a year in India, compared with only six in Britain and eight in the United States.

In addition, factory, office and government workers get a month's leave each year with pay, and sick leave or casual leave amounting to 15 days—of which everyone automatically avails himself.

Add to this 52 Sundays and another 26 days made up of Saturday half-holidays and you get a total of 150 days leave a year.

UNPUNCTUAL WORKERS

Moreover, Indian workers, particularly in government offices tend to be unpunctual in their arrival for work, and are ready to seize on any occasion—such as the death of some official formerly connected with their office —as the pretext for a holiday.

It is possible to attribute slackness in working to the chronic malnutrition from which a large proportion of the population suffers. But, as the Times of India stressed in an editorial, it is the undernourished man who tends to work the hardest in India.

"Few people can be lazier than a well-fed Indian," the newspaper added. "He is usually too hungry to work before meals, and too drowsy to work after them."

Some people attribute the slow tempo of work to the hot, sticky climate.

30 South Africans Charged With Treason

PRETORIA (Reuters)—Thirty defendants in South Africa's treason trial Monday were alleged to be associated with a movement "inspired by Communist fanaticism, Bantu nationalism and racial hatred in various degrees."

The prosecution made the charge in a 15,000-word opening address, lasting nearly three hours.

The accused, including two whites, have pleaded not guilty to charges of trying to overthrow the state by violence.

"Over the period of the indictment and for some time before, there existed a countrywide conspiracy between the accused co-conspirators and persons unknown," the statement said, "to overthrow the state by violence and substitute for it another form of state."

LIBERATORY MOVEMENT

It said the conspiracy originated in the so-called liberatory movement, an international Communist - inspired and supported movement pledged to overthrow by violence all governments in non-Communist countries where sections of the population did not have equal political and economic rights.

The prosecution said the accused had described their goal as a "people's democracy."

Organizations alleged in the prosecution's statement as being subversive were the African National Congress, the South African Indian Congress, the Peace Council, the Congress of Democrats, the Congress of Trade Unions, the Colored People's Organization and the Federation of South African Women.

When the trial started last August, 91 persons faced treason charges but the indictments against 61 were quashed in April.

German Firm Buys Shares From Studebaker

STUTTGART, West Germany, (Reuters) — The management of the Diamler-Benz firm Monday confirmed that it has bought 43,000 preferred shares of the Studebaker-Packard Corp. Through its subsidiary, Mercedes - Benz of Canada, the West Germany economic news agency VWD reported.

The subsidiary, which belongs to the Studebaker - Packard Organization, gave the United States company $7,000,000 credit last year for the sale and distribution of Mercedes and auto union cars.

The loan is no longer required, the agency said, and part of the money released was used to buy the preferred shares which are convertible to 1,450,000 shares of common stock on Jan. 1, 1961.

Columbus' Vessel Hunted

FRIENDSHIP, Me. (AP)—Two adventurers are preparing here to seek out the ruins of the vessel Santa Maria which carried Columbus to America.

Travis Ingham, 53, of Jupiter, Fla., and John Larter, 36, a diver from Niagara Falls, Ont., have refurbished a nine-ton double-ended motor yacht built in 1910.

Ingham says he has a friend who knows the location of a recently discovered Spanish galleon off the Florida Keys. The galleon carried tiles dating to the time of Columbus. Ingham's friend believes the ship may have been with the Santa Maria when she sank during a later trip to the Americas.

Ingham's queer craft has somewhat the appearance of a surf boat or whaleboat with bluff bows and cabins at either end. The vessel steps a stubby mast for a steadying sail. It is having its ancient gasoline engine replaced by an English diesel.

Britain To Act In Laos Fighting

LONDON (Reuters) — Britain hopes to make a proposal to Russia soon on fighting in northern Laos between government troops and pro-Communist insurgents, a foreign office spokesman said Monday.

Britain and Russia were co-chairmen of the 1954 Geneva conference which ended the war between France and Communist guerrillas in Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia.

Asked about the suggestion Britain is expecting to put forward, the spokesman told a press conference "we have not yet made any proposal as co-chairman but we hope to do so shortly."

Britain is expected in informed quarters here to propose the sending of United Nations observers to Laos.

Nasser "Insult" Draws Fine

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Charles Tambu, editor and proprietor of the English-language The Times of Indonesia, was fined 300 rupiahs ($26) Monday for describing President Nasser of the United Arab Republic as "a lackey of the Soviet Union."

The charge was insulting a head of a friendly nation. The article appeared Dec. 11 and brought protests from the U.A.R. Embassy.

Canadian Planes To Carry GIs

OTTAWA (CP) — Transport Minister Hees Monday announced a new Canada - United States agreement providing for a substantial increase in the use of Canadian commercial air services by U.S. armed forces.

They will use Canadian air services for movement of cargo and civilian personnel within Canada whenever these services can meet military transportation requirements effectively and economically.

Mr. Hees said that during construction of the DEW radar line in the Arctic Canada and the U.S. agreed that Canadian planes would be used for the movement of contractors' personnel and materials. However, this agreement applied only to the construction phase of the radar line.

Under the new pact, Canada agrees that where U.S. military operations have become dependent on Canadian air services "these services will not be withdrawn in the event of emergency without U.S. consent." Canada also recognizes that there may be times when it would be impractical for Canadian carriers to be used.

Scientists Say Space Flight Will Not Refute Church Do

By JACK STILLMAN

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP)—Will man's first flight into space cast doubt on the existence of God?

Two men closely associated with American space projects have taken special pains to answer that question.

Their interpreted conclusion: No.

The men are Maj.-Gen. J. B. Medaris, commander of the U.S. Army ordnance missile command, and Dr. Wernher von Braun, the army's leading civilian scientist. Both are stationed at Redstone Arsenal.

Medaris and von Braun, like many other scientists, measure their words carefully when they try to explain why they believe man's flight into space will not refute religious dogma.

10 COMMANDMENTS

In speeches, both have tried to show the relation between religion and the scientific and technological revolution, hinging their remarks on the 10 Commandments as man's guideposts.

Says Episcopalian Medaris: "The 10 Commandments have guided men and brought them safely through the upheavals of the past. They should be the rock of decision today and through all our tomorrows."

Von Braun, a Lutheran in his native Germany who attends an Episcopal church in Huntsville, says: "I think it is a fair assumption that the 10 Commandments are entirely adequate, without amendments, to cope with all the problems the technological revolution not only has brought up but will bring up in the future."

Medaris says he believes scientific advance has been made with the grace of God. He told a recent meeting of army chaplains:

"It is my own belief . . . that the door would have closed in our faces if what we are attempting contravened God's design."

BEAUTY OF CREATION

"Our first steps into the vacuum of space, he says, "have reemphasized the beauty and order of creation . . . and have verified the natural laws which govern all existence."

Von Braun, stressing the compatibility of religion and science, says he thinks God will always be evident to man, no matter what scientific wonders are unfolded.

"Nature around us still harbors many thousand times more unsolved than solved mysteries, and for all our scientific enlightenment we know more mysteries today than when the technological revolution began.

"So there is no reason why God cannot retain the same position in our modern world that he held before the natural sciences began to pierce the walls of dogma erected by the church."

Sophia's Husband Faces Bigamy Charge

ROME (AP) — Film producer Carlo Ponti has joined his actress wife, Sofia Loren, in Rome despite the possibility of a bigamy charge against him.

The Italian producer and the Naples-born film star were married in Mexico by proxy in 1957, a month after Ponti obtained a Mexican divorce from Giuliana Fiastri.

The divorce is not recognized under Italian law and a tribunal of the Roman Catholic Church last week rejected the petition of Ponti's first wife for an annulment. With an annulment, Ponti and Miss Loren could legalize their wedding.

The court's decision can be carried to an appellate tribunal and possibly to the sacred Rota of the Roman Catholic Church.

Rome lawyers have said recently they do not believe the state prosecutor will bring any bigamy action against Ponti unless the charge is filed by his first wife.

Ponti drove here Saturday from Switzerland, where he and Miss Loren have lived since their marriage. He declined to say anything about her plans. It is the couple's first visit to Italy since their marriage. Miss Loren is here to co - star with Clark Gable in the film, The Bay of Naples.

Petticoat Lane Salesmen Face Fate Worse Than Death

LONDON (Reuters) — The pitchmen and pickpockets, traders and touts muttered the sad word in the deafening din of Petticoat Lane.

"They want to turn 'er into a ruddy supermarket."

It would be a fate worse than death for the 200-year-old rollicking street whose proud sons boast they can peddle anything from a toothpick to an elephant.

The threat comes from a London development company which has applied for municipal permission to build a £200,000 ($560,000) shopping centre in the area with provision for 300 stores.

The thought of stationary counters with roofs overhead fills most of the Cockney and Jewish natives of the faulous open-air market with horror.

Every Sunday morning shoppers and sightseers crush into the once-fashionale street in Whitechapel, London's Jewish quarter.

A bewildering array of goods spill from open stalls: Nylons, accordions, toys, pots, pans, raincoats, watches, second-hand clothes, furniture, perfume, food, soap and towels.

Braced against the crowds in front of their traditional pitches, the high-powered salesmen of Petticoat Lane flatter, insult, implore and demand in a withering cross-fire of private enterprise.

Petticoat Lane started life as a fashionale 17th - century street with a Spanish ambassador in residenc there.

But times changed and as the street became a market for second - hand clothes it picked up its nickname.

Manpowered Aircraft Possible This Year

By HAL R. COOPER

LONDON (AP) — This may be the year when man at last learns to fly like a bird—powered, that is, by nothing but his own muscles.

The problem had been under attack by no less a body than the British Royal Aeronautical Society since January, 1957. H. B. Irving, a member of the society's manpower flight group, now says:

"I think it is possible that some sort of manpowered craft will be in the air before the end of 1959."

Irving, in his 60s, is a former assistant director of aerial research for the government supply ministry.

He says the manpower flight group hopes to come up with a light plane which will be pushed through the air by a pedal-driven propeller. It probably will be a tandem job for two.

For the sake of lightness, the flying machine may have an inflatable fabric wing, kept rigid only by the pressure of the air pumped into it.

Construction of the new-fangled craft with the old-fangled motive power is proceeding under maximum security wraps.

The manpower flight group's medical expert, Dr. D. R. Willkie, figures one man in reasonably good shape can exert half a horsepower for half an hour or more.

Dr. Willkie found that one man can put out the equivalent of two full horsepower for a burst lasting only a second. Two men could produce four horsepower, which should be enough to get the thing off the ground.

If a manpowered takeoff proves to be too wasteful of energy, the plane could be shot off the ground by an arrangement of elastic cords like a giant slingshot, although purists might regard this as cheating.

KU KLUX KLAN CONTINUES TO FIGHT JEWS

STOCKHOLM (AP) — The Ku Klux Klan is shipping anti-Semitic material from the United States to Brazil, Argentina and Chile, a spokesman for the World Jewish Congress said Monday.

But he said the KKK's role in distributing anti-Jewish literature all over the world is a minor one. A study of the distribution of such materials is on the agenda of the congress now meeting here.

The spokesman, Dr. Joachim Prinz, president of the American Jewish Congress, said that anti-Semitism in the United States, although it exists, must not be exaggerated.

"There is an enormous difference between being barred from a tennis court and being thrown into a gas chamber," said Prinz, who is rabbi of New Jersey's largest Jewish congregation, Temple Bnai Abraham of Newark.

RED DESERTERS BELIEVED AMONG TIBETAN REFUGEES

NEW DELHI (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru told the Indian Parliament Monday that 40 persons of "non-Tibetan origin" are among the thousands who have fled into India from Tibet.

Answering questions, Nehru did not confirm reports that the 40 are deserters from the Communist Chinese army. He said so far the government has not decided whether to grant them political asylum.

Nehru reported that Tibetans still are fleeing into India.

In all, said Nehru, 12,396 refugees fled from Tibet into India between the unsuccessful uprising against the Communists in March and the end of June.

Adenauer Hailed In Bonn Decision

BONN (Reuters) — President Eisenhower's decision to include Bonn on his pre-Moscow tour of European capitals at the end of this month was hailed Monday as a political triumph for Chancellor Adenauer.

Eisenhower will begin his European talks with a visit here Aug. 27 with the chancellor and afterward will travel on to London to meet Prime Minister Macmillan and then to Paris for talks with President de Gaulle.

The tour will take Eiserhower back to Washington in time for the arrival of Soviet Premier Krhushchev in the middle of September. Diplomatic circles here saw the news as a personal victory for chancellor. They thought the Eisenhower visit here would "sugar the pill" for the subsequent Moscow-Washington talks which Adenauer has opposed.

POPE RETURNS TO ROME

ROME (AP)—Pope John left the cool of his summer palace Monday and returned to sweltering Rome to see the church in which he was ordained a priest 55 years ago.

He drove into a Rome crowded with foreign tourists and almost abandoned by Romans, pulling out of the city for the annual mid-August holiday.

No One Hurt as Plane Hits Sea

HONG KONG (Reuters) — A Royal Thai Air Force C-47 with 24 persons aboard ran off a taxi track into the sea at Kaitak Airport Monday.

No one was injured and salvage operations were begun to tow the plane ashore.

Airport sources said the plane, on a flight from Formosa to Bangkok, was carrying 19 officers of a Thai air force mission which had been on a goodwill visit to Formosa.

Picket Lines Up at Mine

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Picket lines went up Monday around Kennecott Copper Corporation operations in Utah, Arizona, New Mexico and Nevada as the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (Ind.) and United Steel Workers went on strike against the continent's biggest domestic copper producer in a contract dispute.

Company officials here said the strike amounted to a complete shutdown. Picket lines were orderly and no incidents were reported.

The Mine-Mill contract expired June 30 and the Steelworker's expired July 31 but both had been extended from day to day.

The Mine-Mill union asked for a package pay increase of about 45 cents an hour, including a general raise of 15 cents an hour. The Steelworkers want about the same. Pay scales in Kennecott's western division now range from $15.55 a day for laborers to $24.78 for skilled mine and smelter trades.

Tough Battle For 3rd WIFU Spot Expected

By GERRY MCNEIL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Attention is focused on third place in the Western Interprovincial Football Union, with the opening game of the 1959 season Thursday night in Vancouver.

The top rungs are expected to be occupied by Winnipeg Blue Bombers, 1958 Grey Cup champions, and Edmonton Eskimos, who finished second last season.

There hasn't been too much talk about Esks upsetting Bombers, who are stronger this year if anything.

But third place—the last playoff berth—is the subject of plenty of speculation.

LIONS MEET BOMBERS

British Columbia Lions, who haven't made the playoffs in their five seasons in the WIFU, take their first step and a tough one Thursday against Winnipeg.

Calgary Stampeders and Saskatchewan Roughriders, the other playoff hopefuls, meet Friday in Regina in the second game of the season.

The schedule is in full swing next Monday, with Esks host to Lions and Stamps going to Winnipeg.

Calgary was elbowed out of third place by Saskatchewan last year after a fast start. B.C., losing the first 10 games, finished a poor last.

Lions are determined to do better in 1959, though rookie Coach Wayne Robinson isn't promising much right away.

LONG ROAD

"We've got a long way to go and we've got a most difficult task at the start of the season," says Robinson, an assistant coach at Winnipeg in 1958. "We run up against the good teams early and in rapid succession and it's going to be tough."

The club pins its hopes on highly-rated 21 - year - old from Iowa, halfback Willie Fleming, also from Iowa, a more experienced line and the results of tough training.

Stampeders, who usually start fast, are in excellent pre-season shape. Coach Otis Douglas through cuts or trades, has pared his imports to 16—the lowest number on hand of any club. He says his players are the best he's had in three seasons.

The Cowtown club also boasts a flashy quarterback — big Joe Kapp from California. Other newcomers include power fullback Pat Abbruzzi from Montreal Alouettes and Rhode Island State and half Donnie Stone from Arkansas, a sleeper who has shown lots of two-way ability.

LUZZI BACK

Returning will be tackle Don Luzzi, only player to make both all-star squads in 1958.

Roughriders, under sophomore coach George Terlep, are in a state of reorganization after losing ace quarterback Frank Tripucka and fullback Cookie Gilchrist in winter deals.

Most likely prospect to fill Tripucka's boots is George Herring, acquired from Lions. Also trying for the quarterback spot are Bob Webb from St. Ambrose College in Indiana, and Bob Brodhead from Duke.

Halfback Neil Worden, fast and big, is the most impressive newcomer and will be in quick company with halfs Mike Hagler and Jack Hill. Hill was WIFU scoring champion in 1958.

"The offensive line is better this year than last," says Terlep. The big questions are quarterback and defence.

STRENGTHENING TEAM

Eskimos have strengthened their punting and halfback positions and hope to tighten end and tackle slots. Quarterback Jackie Parker, who showed a new talent for passing as Esks won their three exhibition tilts, again will form the nucleus of the club with fullbacks Johnny Bright and Normie Kwong.

Rookie coach Eagle Keys, with 21 imports in camp, has tough choices to make at tackle and half. The four offensive halfbacks in camp all have shown ability.

End Vic Chapman, traded from Lions, has supplied kicking power to Esks.

Keys, an assistant coach last year, took over in late May when Sam Lyle resigned.

BOMBERS THE SAME

Winnipeg, under coach Bud Grant, has done the least reorganizing and essentially the same team that caused the other WIFU clubs to revamp will face them again. Quarterbacks Jim Van Pelt and Kenny Ploen, backs Leo Lewis, Charlie Shepard and John Varone, Canadian stars Ron Latourelle and Gerry James, out with a broken leg most of last season, all are returning.

Bombers, as are Esks, are in good physical shape for their 16 - game schedule. Sickness has knocked out Norm Rauhaus, a homebrew end and defensive half, but already the loss of Rauhaus has been eased by the return from brief retirement of Keith Pearce, also end and defensive back, for his tenth season.

Right half, tackle and end have been bolstered by Grant. Most notable newcomers however are tackle Fred Cole of Maryland and halfback Carter Shannon from Southern Illinois.

"Old Arch" Favored To Retain His Crown

By JOHN YORSTON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL (CP) — Champion and challenger hustled through light drill Monday in preparation for the world light-heavyweight championship bout here Wednesday night.

Champion Archie Moore whipped through two rounds at the bags and did some skipping. Challenger Yvon Durelle did the same, but neither did any roadwork because of rain showers.

Both have finished their glove work in preparation for their second meeting for the crown Moore has held since taking it from Joey Maxim on Dec. 17, 1952.

Meanwhile, the Montreal Athletic Commission said it hasn't been asked to rule on whether six or eight-ounce gloves will be used.

Both fighters said they want the lighter gloves, used in championship bouts in the United States. Commission rules here provide for eight-ouncers.

NO OFFICIAL REQUEST

"We've had no official request from anyone," a commission official said. "If they want a ruling they should let us know."

The official said a referee has been chosen but his name won't be disclosed until Tuesday afternoon.

Ticket sales at Montreal Forum, where the fight will be held, were reported doing "very well" and were believed over the $100,000 mark. A sellout would be $277,000.

Moore is a strong 3½ or 4-1 favorite to retain his title, although the odds were expected to undergo considerable change before fight-time. But if you wanted to bet on Durelle the odds were 2½ to 1. Ol' Archie was a 5-1 favorite when they met last Dec. 10.

Moore, after a brisk workout Sunday, touched the scales at 175 pounds, the division limit. Durelle was reported 176 Sunday.

Yank Helps Britain Prep For Wimbledon

PITTSBURGH (AP) — An American tennis star from another generation gave Britain's Wightman Cup players the six hardest hours of tennis Monday that they have had in years.

The rough and long practice session provided the strange opportunity of seeing an American help Britain prepare to try to beat Americans.

The oldtimer was Doris Hart. She won the Wimbledon championship in 1954 and just about every other international title against competition which was far stronger than any in the last three or four years.

Miss Hart, now one of the world's extremely few women professionals, was hired by Britain Wightman Cup team captain Bea Walters to coach and sharpen up the British girls for the Aug. 15-18 matches against the Americans.

During her six hours on court against the British girls, Miss Hart hit all the shots in tennis. She and Christine Truman of London played for an hour and a half but little resembling a score was kept. She also played against Shirley Bloomer Brasher of London, and in doubles with captain Walters against Angela Mortimer of Torquay and Ann Haydon of Birmingham.

Underworld Tied To Title Fight

NEW YORK (AP) — Former rookie kingpin Frank Erickson agreed Monday to testify before a grand jury looking into the promotion of Ingemar Johansson's recent heavyweight title victory.

District Attorney Frank S. Hogan talked with Erickson about an hour and then said the former bookmaker would appear before the grand jury later this week.

Hogan said as far as he is concerned there is no question of any fix in Johansson's upset victory over former heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson.

NO FIX

"In fairness to Patterson and Johansson, there isn't a scintilla of evidence of any fix. We're not investigating the fight. I choose to believe it was strictly on the level," he said.

Hogan indicated his office is interested, instead, in the promotion of the fight and the later squeeze-out of promoter William P. Rosensohn. The district attorney said there were pre-fight meetings between Rosensohn and an unidentified underworld character.

"Rosensohn has given us information that we are trying to corroborate," Hogan added. "He told us about the meetings."

EVIDENCE OF UNDERWORLD

Of the over-all boxing picture, Hogan said:

"Since we've been investigating it, it seems to me that underworld characters have their fingers in it . . . we have made certain progress, and we are cooperating with the state athletic commission and hope to make more progress."

Hogan said he also was informed during the day that Gilbert Lee Beckley will appear for questioning Wednesday. Beckley, 47, of Surfside, Fla., is described as a professional gambler.

He was said by Hogan to have been present during Rosensohn's meeting with the unidentified underworld character.

Marlene Streit Leads Women's Golf Field

TORONTO (CP)—Mrs. Marlene Stewart Streit, Canada's queen of the golf links, was the only one of a field of 175 to break par in the qualifying round Monday of the Canadian Women's Open golf championship played at Toronto's suburban St. George's Golf Club.

Playing during heavy rains which fell on the course during the day, Mrs. Streit fired a 36-39—75, one under par, for a two-stroke lead over Mrs. J. R. Jamison of Edmonton, who had a 36-43—77.

Mrs. Streit, defending champion, saw her steady round overshadowed by a spectacular hole-in-one.

Mary Darling, 18-year-old Quebec junior champion, aced the 135-yard par-three sixth hole and turned in a comfortable 38-41—79. It was the first hole-in-one for the trim 98-pound blonde, who placed third in the Canadian junior championship here last week.

An eight-over-par 84 was the cut-off figure.

Included in the list of 32 qualifiers are three Open champions—Mrs. Streit, 65-year-old Ada Mackenzie of Toronto and Mrs. G. A. Cole, the former Betty Stanhope of Edmonton who won the tournament two years ago at Montreal.

Along with Mrs. Cole seven other Western ladies qualified. They were Margaret Kiggins of Winnipeg, 42-42—84; Mrs. J. R. Jamison, Rae Milligan, Calgary, with a 40-39—79; Gail Hitchens and Jo-Ann Percy, both of Vancouver, with 80, Mrs. Barbara Turnbull, Saskatoon, and Joanne Goulet of Regina, each with an 82.

MELBOURNE (AP) — John Landy, once the fastest miler in the world, began a new career Monday as a technical officer in Victoria State's national parks authority.

Landy holds an agricultural science degree from Melbourne University and once taught agriculture and biology at grammar school. His new job will involve the selection of new sites for national parks.

Cowboy Bill Rides To Gold Cup Victory

SEATTLE (AP) — Cowboy Bill Stead rode the unruly Maverick of Lake Mead, Nev., to victory Sunday in the gold cup speedboat race and his churning wake left Seattle drenched in sorrow.

Only one other time in 10 years has this hydroplane - happy city lost the gold cup — in 1956, when it moved to Detroit. The winner designates the site for the next race and William Waggoner of Phoenix, who owns the Maverick, is expected to set the defence for Lake Mead, where he bases the boat.

Stead's margin of victory over a local favorite — Bill Muncey in Miss Thriftway — was so small the unlimited hydroplane race was over for two hours before officials came up with the decision. Most of the crowd, estimated at more than 250,000, waited for the announcement.

At the end of 90 miles of racing Stead and Muncey were tied in points, each with 1325. Maverick was given the cup because she made the run 13.3 seconds faster than did Miss Thriftway.

A Washington, D.C., entry, Nitrogen, placed third with 714 points and Wahoo of Seattle was fourth with 700.

Fourteen boats were entered.

Muncey pushed Stead to a record 104.003 miles an hour average speed and himself beat the 103.481 mark set last year by Haiwaii Kai, III, defending champion. Wahoo cracked its own 9158 record for a three-mile lap, making one trip around the Lake Washington oval at 113.924 miles an hour.

Giants Boost Lead to Two

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

San Francisco's Giants increased their National League lead to two games, Cleveland narrowed the Chicago White Sox' American League margin to 2½ games and the New York Yankees took over undisputed possession of third place in Monday night's curtailed baseball activity.

The Giants, blanked by Larry Jackson for eight innings, broke out with three in the ninth to nip the St. Louis Cardinals 3-2. The Yankees, shut out by Frank Sullivan over the same stretch, rallied for four runs in the ninth to tie the score and added three more in the 10th to defeat Boston Red Sox 7-4.

The Indians jumped into an early 6-0 lead, then staved off a couple of furious bids by Kansas City to defeat the Athletics 6-4.

No other teams were scheduled.

It was the fifth victory in the last six games for the Giants, the fifth triumph in a row for the Yankees and the seventh loss in succession for the Athletics.

SUCCESSIVE SINGLES

Successive singles by pinch hitter Leon Wagner, Jim Davenport and Willie Mays produced one run and routed Jackson. After Davenport scored the tying run on a fielder's choice grounder by Willie McCovey the third Willie—Kirkland — doubled Mays home with the winning run. Stu Miller, in relief of Sam Jones, was the winner.

Boston's Sullivan appeared on the verge of pitching a shutout against the Yankees. He retired 17 straight batters until the ninth. Then a hit batsman, a walk and singles by Elston Howard, Hec Lopez, Cletis Boyer and pinch hitter Norm Siebern pushed over four runs to tie the score. In the 10th, singles by Yogi Berra, Howard and Lopez following two walks accounted for the winning runs.

Whitey Ford, fourth Yankee pitcher, was the winner, with Al Schroll taking the loss.

Rocky Colavito snapped out of a long batting slump, clouting four hits including his 33rd home run, to pace the Indians' attack against five Kansas City pitchers. Cal McLish picked up his 14th victory although he needed eight-inning help from Mike Garcia and Jack Harshman. Rip Coleman was the loser.

Turnstiles Click as Ball Fans Pack Major League Parks

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP) — Major league baseball attendance, rocketing toward the 14,000,000 mark, has received a big lift from Cleveland Indians, New York Yankees and Chicago White Sox and shows a five per cent increase over last season.

The American League, an Associated Press survey revealed, has pulled 6,599,333 customers through the turnstiles for a gain of 1,174,794 over 1958. This nullifies a National League decline of 533,372. The over-all major league pickup is 641,422.

Three American League teams already have surpassed their entire totals of last year. They are the Indians, who drew 663,805 paid admissions in 1958 and have 1,000,000 in the till this season; the White Sox, with 873 368 in '59 compared to 797,451 for their final 1958 figure and Washington Senators, who had a home attendance of 475,288 last season and have reached 497,617 this year.

Three other American League clubs also are ahead of their 1958 paces. New York Yankees, with the circuit's top attendance of 1,138,065 are up 276,833. Baltimore has an increase of 86,464 and Kansas City is on the credit side by 12,438.

Boston Red Sox and etroit Tigers are the only junior circuit clubs behind last season's gait—the Sox by 54,406 and the Tigers, 35,108.

The National League, which boomed its attendance over the 10,000,000 mark last year when the Giants and the Dodgers moved to the West Coast, has attracted 7,167,230 customers this season. In the same number of home dates a year ago, its total was 7,700,602.

The Giants, with the smallest seating capacity in either major league (23,000), have played before 1,063,904 fans in San Francisco this year. This represents a gain of 76,361.

MAY BEAT LAST YEAR

The Dodgers, although trailing their 1958 aggregate by 82,153, may equal or surpass last season's figure of 1,845,556 in Los Angeles. The Dodgers drew no more than 30,000 in any of their last 13 home dates in 1958 when they finished seventh in the pennant race. Their 1959 total is 1,526,454—highest in the majors.

Milwaukee Braves, who dropped almost 245,000 paid admissions last season and finished under 2,000,000 for the first time since returning to the big leagues in 1953, are another 216,129 in arrears this year.

Pittsburgh, which gained 461,256 in 1958, is up another 102,997 this season. However, St. Louis Cardinals, Chicago Cubs, Cincinnati Reds and Philadelphia Phillies all show decreases.

Stretchy Girdles Have Most Snap

OTTAWA (CP) — Stretchy girdles appear to hold the line in the undergarment trade.

Girdles, "principally elastic," ranked highest in manufacturers' shipments of girdles from January to June this year, the bureau of statistics said Monday in a special report.

In the six-month period 104,446 dozen of the principally elastic type were shipped compared with 89,344 dozen last year.

Next in demand were girdles with rigid panels plus elastic—68,177 dozen shipped in six months this year compared with 68,130 last.

Last in line were corselettes, or "all-in-one's", up to 22,946 dozen from 21,654 last year.

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Fund to Aid Seamen Families

FREDERICTON (CP) — Chief Justice J. L. Ilsley of Nova Scotia, Maritime representative of the Canadian Disaster Relief Fund, announced Sunday the CDRF has approved the donation of $75,000 to the New Brunswick fishermen's disaster fund.

The money will help provide for the widows and dependent children of the 35 men lost in the Northumberland Strait fishing fleet disaster June 20. The fund now totals about $340,000.

The CDRF is authorized to make grants to meet emergencies and needs arising from disasters "where such needs are beyond the reasonable capacity of the areas affected."

The New Brunswick Fishermen's disaster fund was inaugurated by the Fredericton Daily Gleaner and the Atlantic Advocate the day after the Northumberland Strait disaster to aid the 24 widows and 83 children left destitute. It is estimated that $440,000 is needed to safeguard the future of these dependents.

TIRE COSTS CUT

TORONTO (CP) — The cost of rayon and nylon automobile tires will be reduced by up to 15 per cent effective immediately, the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company of Canada Limited announced Monday.

Goodyear president L. E. Spencer said the price of all 14-inch sizes of tubeless rayon has been reduced by 15 per cent and 15-inch tubeless and tube type custom super cushion by 10 per cent.

MARKET TRENDS

NEW YORK (CP)—The stock market fell to its worst loss of the year Monday in a correction of historic highs reached only a week ago. Trading was heavy.

Key stocks throughout the list fell from fractions to half a dozen points, while high priced or more speculative issues took wider losses.

The market was down from the start in response to many advisories to the effect that the recent market performance was poor and boded no good for the immediate future. The decline, therefore, was "technical," since no outstanding news was involved, traders claimed.

An estimated $5,400,000,000 was shorn from the quoted values of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange, based on the fall in the Associated Press average.

The AP 60 - stock average plunged $4.10 to $229.20 for its worst loss since last Nov. 24 when it dropped $5.20. The industrials fell $7.50, the rails $2.60 and the utilities 30 cents.

In the Canadian list, Aluminium Ltd. lost 1⅝, Canadian Pacific ¼, istillers Seagrams 1¼, Granby Mining and Walker Gooderham ⅛ each, Hudson Bay Mining ½ and International Nickel 2. McIntyre Porcupine was up ¼.

American Stock Exchange prices fell also. Canadian Marconi lost ⅜. Shawinigan and Molybdenite gained ⅛ each.

MONTREAL (CP)—The market swung down and showed a number of declines of more than a point at the close of moderate trading on the Montreal and Canadian stock exchanges Monday.

Banks paced the decline. Commerce wa. down 2 at 63, Toronto-Dominion lost 1½ at 64½, Canadienne Nationale dipped 1¼ to 58¼ and Nova Scotia was off a point at 81 while Montreal dipped ¾ to 59⅝.

Steels, pipelines and base metals were also off, generally in a fractional range. Big losers included International Nickel, off 1½ at 99½, Aluminium, off 1⅝ at 33¼, Consolidated Paper, down 1¾ at 41½ and Steico, off ⅞ at 83½.

A fractionally easier tendency in the utilities was irregular. Bell eased ¾ to 43⅛ while B.C. Power improved ½ at 38¼.

Penny issues also showed a weaker tendency. Seven - cent losses were taken by Canorama at 36 cents and New Pacific Coal at 1.18 while New West Amulet slipped 6 cents to 76 cents. But Maritimes was up 17 cents at 1.42.

The closing averages show banks off 1.03 at 66.66, utilities off 0.1 at 154.9, industrials off 3.7 at 324.8, combined off 2.4 at 268.2, papers off 6.1 at 459.3 and golds unchanged at 91.52.

TORONTO (CP) — Industrials suffered their sharpest setback Monday in more than nine months as the stock market was staggered by a wave of selling. The trading pace was moderate.

The industrials index loss of almost 6 points was the biggest the section has suffered since Nov. 24, 1958, when it gave up more than 9 points.

All sections were off on index with base metals, dipping more than 1¾ points and golds almost one-half. Western oils, ahead most of the day, faded in mid-afternoon trading, closing down more than one-third.

The final volume was 2,582,000 shares, compared with Friday's 2,971,000.

Among industrials losses ranged to Ford Motor's 3⅛ dip at 74⅜. One point setbacks were not uncommon while General Dynamics, General Motors, Steel Company of Canada and Canadian Cottons were down more than 2.

International Nickel dipped 2⅛ at 98⅛ as interlisted stocks, issues traded here and in New York were down. Among other mines Falconbridge eased 1¼ at 28¾ while Noranda and Consolidated enison Uranium gave up ½.

Western oils were generally mixed. Home B took the big loss, down ⅜ at 14⅜. French Pete led juniors up 65 cents at $7.40.

Index losses: Industrials 5.96 to 544.96; golds .49 to 89.31; base metals 1.76 to 176.91; western oils .38 to 117.83.

42 Weekend Fatalities

At least 42 people died in accidents across Canada during the weekend.

A Canadian Press survey from 6 p.m. local time Friday to midnight Sunday shows Ontario leading the toll with 11 deaths, including five traffic and three drownings.

In addition, Ontario listed one man who died in a fire, a boy struck by lightning and a man who ran into the side of a moving train.

British Columbia had four traffic fatalities, two drownings and one suffocation. Nova Scotia had four traffic deaths and one drowning.

Quebec counted seven traffic fatalities and one man was killed when he struck a pier while water skiing. Alberta had two traffic fatalities and two drownings.

Saskatchewan had two traffic deaths. Prince Edward Island reported one miscellaneous death. Manitoba and New Brunswick each listed one traffic fatality.

No accidental deaths were reported in Newfoundland.

Farm Services Costs Mount

OTTAWA (CP) — Seasonally higher wage rates, particularly in western Canada, accounted for most of a 3.2 per cent increase in the composite index of commodities and services used by farmers in the first four months of the year.

The bureau of statistics reported Monday that the index moved up to 250.8 in April from 243 in January. The April index figure compared with one of 245.3 in April, 1958. The index is based on 1935-39 prices equalling 100.

The farm wage rate index rose to 554.6 in April from 487.2 in January, an increase of 13.8 per cent. The index of equipment and materials was up one per cent to 220.3 from 218.2.

U.S. City To Battle Underground Blaze

By HERB LINNEN

CARBONDALE, Pa. (AP)—A project costing $3,000,000 and expected to take three years to complete will start here soon to eliminate an underground mine fire that threatens to spread under the city's business district.

The fire broke out in 1946 on the west side of this northeastern Pennsylvania community of 14,000. Since then, in addition to proving fatal in 1952 to an elderly couple who died of carbon monoxide poisoning, the fire's noxious fumes have made hundreds of others ill.

Officials have tried unsuccessfully to kill the fire by drilling holes into the earth and pumping silt-bearing water into them.

RIP APART EARTH

Engineers feel the earth must be ripped apart to get at the mine fire and put it out once and for all. Steam shovels will dig huge trenches in a carefully planned pattern to surround and seal off the fire. Then the burning coal will be taken out, dumped on high ground and sprayed with water.

The fire broke out when rubbish dumped by the city into in the 130-acre area started burning. Before the fire could be put out, exposed coal deposits were ignited. The flames raced underground through a network of abandoned mine tunnels.

As a precaution against the fumes, many families keep fans running in cellars and sleep with windows partly open. Inspectors check gas concentrations in homes on a 24-hour schedule to advise families of possible danger.

The federal government plans to spend $2,000,000 and the state another $1,000,000 to dig out the fire.

First, however, families must be moved from the 130-acre area threatened by the fire. Their homes are being purchased so that the opening phase of excavation can get under way.

Canadian Bases For Missiles Studied

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defence Neil McElroy is expected to discuss with Canadian defence chiefs on Tuesday a Pentagon plan to locate some of the now-authorized American Bomarc and Nike-Hercules missiles on Canadian osil.

The Washington Post says members of Congress have disclosed that the question of moving some of the planned air defence sites from the northern part of the United States to Canada is being seriously considered at the Pentagon.

The Post says the matter is expected to come up during McElroy's one-day visit to Ottawa.

"There are some considerable military advantages in locating more of the Northern American anti-aircraft missile bases well north of the border—and some financial and political disadvantages on the other side," the Post story states.

These military considerations are being pressed in support of moving such bases.

The 350-to 400-mile-range Bomarc—if placed at sites above Canada's populated area, perhaps as far north as the mid-Canada radar warning line—would be able to intercept enemy bombers farther away from key targets and population centres. Similarly; 90 - mile - range Nike-Hercules bases in southern Canada might score more hits. Missiles could keep a mass raid under attack longer and have a better chance of destroying the bulk of the bombers short of their targets.

DANGER LESSENED

The danger of fallout on Canadian and American border cities from explosions of the atomic warheads of the Bomarc and Nike-Hercules would be lessened, along with dangers of damage from unintended low-level bursts or detonation of a shot - down bomber's own lethal load.

On the other hand, the post story goes on. The cost of building missile bases in Canada would run considerably higher than in the United States. It is planned to build most of the 16 Bomarc sites and many of the more numerous nike - Hercules sites on existing bases in the U.S. where roads, utilities and other support facilities already exist.

Moreover, the post notes, the cost of extending the multi - billion-dollar sage fire control and communication system to additional places in anada, particthe mid-Canada radar net, would the mid-anada radar net, would be considerable.

Council Would Strengthen Catholic Church

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John has said that the main aim of the forthcoming ecumenical council will be the strengthening and invigorating of the Roman Catholic Church.

The Pope made this statement during a speech he delivered more than one week ago to a group of Italian Catholic action leaders. The speech was published in Monday's issue of the Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano.

"The entire world is waiting for the ecumenical council," the Pope said.

The main aim of the ecumenical council will be that of strengthening and invigorating the Roman Catholic Church. Then, when the Catholic Church is in its full splendor, we will say to orthodox, Protestants, etc.: 'You can see, brothers, this is the church of Christ. Come, come! This is the way open to a meeting, to a return! Come to take, or take back, your place which, for many of you, is that of your ancient fathers.

"From a religious peace, from a reunited Christian family, oh, what joy! We can expect prosperity even in the civic and social order of the entire world."

Volunteers Save Lands From Flood

HONG KONG (Reuters)—Thousands of volunteer workers who toiled to reinforce flood dikes along rain-swollen rivers of Communist North Viet Nam have saved their land from inundation, the New China news agency reported Monday from Hanoi.

The agency quoted a communique issued by the central flood prevention committee in the North Viet Nam capital saying the flood tide on the rivers had begun to ebb.

700 Men Unload Northern Cargo

HALIFAX (CP) — A 700-man team of Canadian stevedores will begin this week unloading 80,000 tons of cargo in northern Canada to re-supply the Distant Early Warning radar line.

Sixty-five men left here Monday and 48 are scheduled to leave Tuesday. the remainder will come from Montreal and Saint John, N.B. All are employees of the Eastern Canada Stevedoring Company.

It is the first time that Canadians have been given the job of cargo carrying to the northern bases which stretch from Resolute Bay to Frobisher and along the northeast coast of Baffin Island. The job is expected to take about two months.

Five transport department ships are in the area clearing the way for cargo ships.

Stowaways To Be Deported

OTTAWA (CP)—Justice Minister Fulton Monday ordered the deportation of six Yugoslavs who arrived in Montreal on two vessels as stowaways.

An appeal by the Yugoslavs against deportation was considered by an appeal board and rejected. Mr. Fulton, acting immigration minister, concurred in the board's decision.

Mr. Fulton ordered the masters of the two vessels, Rigoletto and Olav Bjark, to return the stowaways to France and Germany where they had been living for many years.

The two stowaways from the Rigoletto are Milentaje Stanisavljevic and Vitomir Isailovic, who both came from Germany. Isailovic about a year ago applied to come to Canada as an immigrant and was turned down.

The four from the Olav Bjark came from France. They are Mate Akrat; Mileva Stanic, alias Pujic; Yve Pujic; and Slavko Svraka.

The Stanic woman is pregnant. Capt. Peter Pedersen of the Olav Bjark said she expects her baby in January.

Yve Pujic did not appeal the original order for deportation because he entered Canada as a stowaway Aug. 25, 1958, and was deported.

LAOS BLOCKED INDIA'S EFFORTS HOUSE TOLD

NEW DELHI (Reuters) — India's external affairs minister, Mrs. Lakshmi Menon, Monday told the upper house Laos has blocked India's efforts to have the three-power supervisory commission on Laos reconvened for "purposes of conciliation and mediation."

Prime Minister Nehru last week suggested to Prime Minister Diefenbaker that the commission of Canada, India and Poland be reconvened.

Set up under the 1954 Geneva agreement ending the Indochina war, the commission was disbanded a year ago.

Nehru said India does not want the commission ended but that because of objections by Laos it was adjourned indefinitely. Canada agrees with the Laotian contention that resumption of the commission's work would be an intrusion into the internal affairs of Laos.

Fleming To Attend London Conference

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada will be represented by Finance Minister Fleming and probably Trade Minister Churchill at a Sept. 22-23 meeting of Commonwealth finance and trade ministers, it was learned Monday.

The London conference also will include the first meeting of the Commonwealth economic consultative council, a body that the Montreal conference on Commonwealth trade and economic affairs agreed to establish last year. The council is to co-ordinate all the consultative machinery on economic and trade matters.

Canada is understood to have no particular matters to press at the London conference. It is scheduled for two days but may be extended by a day.

WIDE FIELD OF SUBJECTS

Discussions are expected to range over a wide field of finance, economics and trade, taking in at the same time a review of the trade liberalization moves that grew out of the Montreal conference at which a number of Commonwealth countries agreed to relax currency restrictions.

The Canadian ministers and their advisers are also understood to be interested in hearing from Britain of arrangements among the Outer Seven—Britain, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Switzerland, Austria and Portugal—for tariff reductions and trading quotas.

The Outer Seven trade arrangement was undertaken as a trading answer to the European common market, composed of France, Belgium, The Netherlands, Luxembourg and Italy.

However, fears have been expressed in this country that the new trading arrangements may cut into markets for Canadian products, particularly agricultural produce.

LONDON (Reuters)—Authoritative sources said Monday Commonwealth finance ministers will meet here Sept. 22 for about three days to discuss sterling area problems and Commonwealth financial, economic and trade matters.

Following the meetings, they will attend the annual sessions of the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund, starting Sept. 28 in Washington.

The Commonwealth finance ministers met in Montreal last September at the Commonwealth trade and economic conference and in May their experts and senior officials held a full-scale review of world trade and economic problems here.

Countries expected to be represented at the discussions here are Britain and her colonies and Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, India, Pakistan, Ceylon, Ghana, Malaya and the Central African Federation.

SEATO Warned By Red China

TOKYO (AP) — Communist North Viet Nam warned Monday that it would consider intervention by a foreign army in neighboring Laos an act directly threatening North Viet Nam's security.

"In such a dangerous situation, the Viet Nam democratic republic government will not stand idly by," said Peiping Radio in a fence Minister Ta Quang Bun.

The warning apparently was aimed at the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO), which has put Laos under its protection although the little Indochina kingdom is not a member of that anti-Communist alliance.

There has been no indication of any Laotian appeal for SEATO aid against rebel tribes and Laotian Communists operating against government forces in northern Laos. The Laotian government claims they are being armed and trained by the Vietnamese Communists.

French, British and U.S. military attaches flew to northern Laos Sunday to study the situation. Their reports may prompt the three powers to ask the United Nations to send observers to Laos.

Men Saved As Trawler Sinks

LONDON (AP) — A 133-ton Dutch trawler sank in the North Sea Monday but a German ship picked up all 16 members of her crew.

The trawler Geertruida Jacoba went down about 65 miles northeast of Great Yarmouth after an explosion that flooded her engine room. The crew took to lifeboats and the German vessel Rabenfels picked them up.

Coast Climbers First On Peak

VANCOUVER (CP) — Four Vancouver climbers have made the first ascent to the 10,300 foot peak of Mount Raleigh.

Ralph Hutchinson, Jim Woodfield, John Owen and Warner Himmelsbach spent eight days conquering the mountain which is 120 miles north-west of here.

Hot weather made snow conditions treacherous and the danger of avalanches forced them to spend a night on a tiny ledge at 9,000 feet before they reached the summit on Aug. 1.

"We were unable to return safely over snow we had crossed a few hours earlier so we spent 17 hours on a narrow ridge that dropped 5,000 feet down to a glacier," Mr. Hutchison said.

The climbers hiked through 20 miles of rough, mountain country before they reached Raleigh.

Rockefeller, Fiancee Disappears

KRISTIANSAN, Norway (AP) Steven Rockefeller, his bride-to-be and his future in-laws took a holiday from press and public Monday "somewhere in Norway."

Young Rockefeller, his fiancee, Anne Marie Rasmussen, and her parents left the Rasmussen home in a rented car Sunday, giving the impression they were off for a Sunday outing.

A spokesman for young Rockefeller said the group will be away for the rest of the week. He gave no indication where they had gone.

Steven's mother is expected here from New York Monday to help with arrangements for the wedding Aug. 22 in the nearby village of Sogne, where Anne Marie was born. The bridegroom's father, Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York State, is due Aug. 20.

Superstition Defied, Postmaster Honored

INDIAN WELLS, Ariz. (AP)—The postmaster of this tiny Navajo reservation community will be honored Friday by the post office department for defying a superstition as old as man himself.

The postmaster is Herbert S. Hukriede, 50, and behind the award he is to receive is a story of death, fear and friendship that goes back to the hot, humid afternoon of July 15.

That day, Harry Joe, a 17-year-old Navajo, was killed by lightning while tending a flock of sheep near his family's home.

Joe's elderly parents found his body lying under an abandoned wagon.

He had been struck dead by the evil spirit of lightning, they believed, and an ancient Navajo superstition came back to haunt them. They refused to go near their son's body.

POLICE ALSO REFUSE

Indian police were summoned and they, too, refused to touch the corpse.

"Next day they asked me to help," Hukriede recalled Sunday. "I drove over there, about 12 miles, took the body to the mission, cleaned it up, fitted it with new clothes and picked out a box. They didn't even want to haul the body in their own truck, so I used mine.

"They wanted a Christian burial for the boy, but the missionary, Glen Davis, wasn't due back until the next day. It was pretty hot, so I sent a couple of the boy's relatives over to Holbrook to get some block ice so I could cool the body."

On July 17, Davis conducted the services at an Indian burial ground beside the mission.

From a hillside a quarter of a mile away the dead boy's family watched the ceremony. Superstition prevented them from going any closer.

"They think they'll go blind or something if they touch anything that has been hit by lightning," Hukriede explained.

Hukriede's award is for public service above and beyond the call of duty.

Gov't Workers Suspended

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP) — Liberal Premier Joseph Smallwood announced Monday that two Newfoundland government employees have been suspended for apparently taking part in the election campaign of a Liberal candidate.

The men were identified by the premier as "government employees Ern Driscoll and John Tricco." Their jobs were not known immediately.

Mr. Smallwood said in a statement:

"I was surprised when I took up the Daily News this morning to notice in a picture of the nomination of Liberal candidate George Nightingale in St. John's North two employees of the government who were evidently present in an active capacity.

"Civil servants are not permitted to take an active part in politics. I have . . . instructed that these two employees of the government be suspended from their positions."

Playful Squirrels No Longer Fun

TORONTO (CP) — Mr. and Mrs. George Cruickshank aren't smiling any more at the playful squirrels that cavort about their street.

While they were vacationing last week one fell through the chimney of their home, chewed window frames and rugs, toppled potted plants and other objects, munched potatoes and generally created havoc.

When their son Barry returned home Saturday, the black squirrel bit him on the hand as he ushered it out. He was given an anti-tetanus shot as a precautionary measure.

Police sighted the squirrel in a backyard tree and shot it. The animal is being tested for possible rabies.

Injured Bride Defies Pain, Wed In Chair

ALMONTE, Ont. (CP)—Myrtle Campbell, 29, said "I do" to Pte. Lorne Proctor from a wheel chair with her left arm in a sling and her wedding dress a white kimono.

Injured in a car accident three days before her Saturday wedding and in hospital at Smiths Falls, a town 25 miles south of this community about 40 miles west of the capital, the bride defied doctors' orders to marry at St. Paul's Anglican Church here.

Little more than an hour out of her hospital bed and in obvious discomfort despite pain - easing drugs, Myrtle after the ceremony said "I didn't think I was going to make it."

CANCELLED BEFORE

But she wasn't going to cancel it, either. Once before the couple, who have known each other for about 15 years, had to cancel their wedding.

But not this time, with Pte. Proctor stationed in Montreal with the Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps, on leave until Aug. 24 and scheduled for a transfer to Germany in September. And guests were invited months ago.

St. Francis General Hospital authorities in Smiths Falls had turned thumbs down on a planned hospital wedding, so the guests and the couple moved on to Almonte, in spite of the broken arm, the shock, cuts and bruises the bride suffered three days earlier.

Mrs. Proctor's parents later said the bride suffered no ill effects from her hectic wedding. She now is waiting at home for a room in the Almonte hospital.

Unions Say Private TV Must Contribute

MONTREAL (CP) — Private television must contribute to Canadian culture, two unions representing Montreal television artists said Monday.

It must also "give Canadian talent a chance to produce and give Canadians work in the television industry," said the Societe des Auteurs Dramatiques and L'Union des Artistes de Montreal.

The unions' comments were contained in a letter to Andrew Stewart, chairman of the Board of Broadcast Governors.

$10,000 a Year Given To Mom Whyte Home

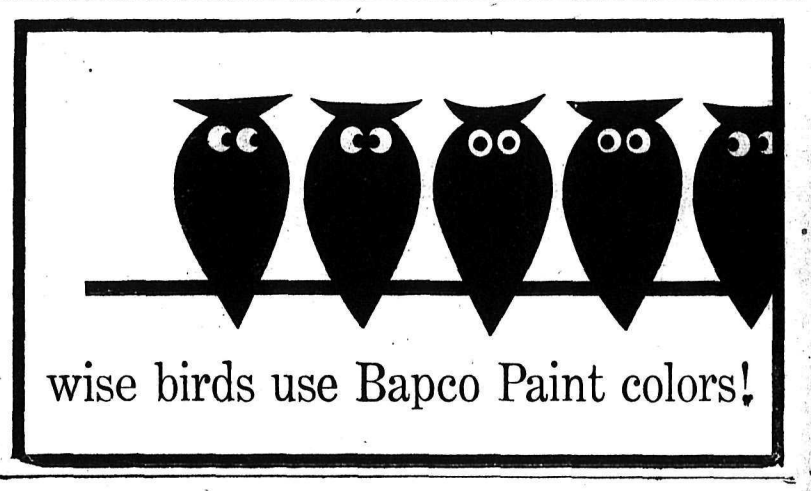
BOWMANVILLE, Ont. (CP)—Whytehaven children's mission, put out of business by the Ontario government, will be given $10,000 a year for the next three years by an anonymous Canadian, Mrs. Bertha (Mom) Whyte says.

Mrs. Whyte made the announcement Sunday as hundreds of persons visited Whytehaven, the subject of a great deal of recent controversy. The government removed the 107 children 10 days ago, claiming sickness and overcrowding.

The open house marked the start of Mom Whyte's campaign to get back into business. She told visitors of a country - wide speaking tour to get more money.

The government has indicated it won't allow Mrs. Whyte to operate her mission again outside of the law. She has applied to register Whytehaven under the provincial Charitable Institutions Act.

A court hearing is to be held Wednesday in Hampton, five miles north of here, to determine custody of the children taken from the home. Mrs. Whyte hasn't decided whether she'll attend.

At present she's concerned with raising $10,000 which she says will be a down payment on 86 acres of land three miles west of her present home.


She said she intends to build a $500,000 children's home on the new site, putting her faith in God and in her speaking tour to provide the money.
