Kootenay Gas Utilities To Supply East Kootenay

CALGARY (CP) — Kootenay Gas Utilities Ltd. announces it has obtained franchise agreements from communities in the East Kootenay district of B.C. to supply natural gas.

W. A. McBean and Associates Ltd. of Calgary, consulting engineers, made the announcement on behalf of W. R. McRae, president of the gas company.

Kootenay Gas will undertake to supply between 750,000,000 to 800,000,000 cubic feet of gas a year to the towns of Cranbrook, Kimberley, Creston, Fernie and Marysville. The gas will be drown from the Alberta natural gas line.

Cost of the operation is expected ta be $3,500,000.

Approval still is needed from the Kootenay Public Utilities Commission and individual town plebiscites.

Battelle Report Paints Glowing Future for America Northwest

Northland Seen as Ultimate Frontier in Population Surge

SEATTLE (AP) — The vast area from the Williamette Valley of Oregon through British Columbia to the far reaches of Alaska has the most promising future than the human race can show anywhere, a prominent research expert said Friday.

Dr. B. D. Thomas, president of the Battelle Memorial Institute, forecast a glowing future for Alaska International Rail and Highway Commission.

Thomas said that a country to have a future needs people, a high level of technical sophistication, energy in the physical sense, and water.

He predicted that in the not too distant future the area from Willamette north to Vancouver will have a vast metropolitan area with a population of some 50,000,000 people.

He said that in this large population mass will be thousands to whom the Northland will be the ultimate frontier.

"The population of the northland will increase extremely rapidly," he said. "The area has all of the requirements which must be met to assure a great future."

He said the question of people will take care of itself.

The people are pretty sophisticated now, he said, and in the matter of energy the northland is abundantly supplied. It is one of the great areas of the world in water power plus coal and petroleum, he added.

"The northland must safeguard its knowledge and sophistication," he said. "It must look to its universities. I have seen the University of Alaska and it is making a valiant effort to preserve this."

Report Stirs Enthusiasm

SEATTLE (CP — Two United States senators Friday acclaimed the Battelle report on the future of the northwest of North America as "an excellent base from which the interested state and national governments can work."

The report, made to the Alaska Rail and Highway Commission here Friday by the Battelle Memorial Institutte, gives a glowing account of the probable future development of the vast area from Oregon's Willamette Valley through Washington, British Columbia and the Yukon to the far reaches of Alaska.

"MOST VALUABLE"

"It is a most valuable and useful tabulation of the known statistics of the human and natural resources in northwest North America, together with the economics of the area Friday and projections of the indicated area's future," Democratic Senators Warren G. Magnuson of Washington and E. L. Bartlett of Alaska said in a statement.

"The report does not represent the conclusions of the Alaska International Rail and Highway Commission. They will be reached at a later meeting in Washington, D.C. and then will be submitted to the U.S. Congress. It may be expected those conclusions will, of course, be based principally or altogether on the studies of the Battelle Memorial Institute.

"The economic projections and recommendations contained in the report are without reference to joint or individual U.S. and Canadian defence considerations.

DEFENCE TALKS

"In this connection, it was pointed out that negotiations with Canada on the inter-related transportation system would be carried out through diplomatic channels after Congress had requested the U.S. State Department to enter into negotiations.

"Finally, the report deliberately avoids any recommendations relating to the inter-Alaska transportation system which is entirely within the jurisdiction of the Alaska state government.

"Recommendations for highway systems are confined to roads which could not be built for useful purposes or integrated without cooperative effort by the Canadian and United states governments."

Lakehead Strike Spreading

FORT WILLIAM (CP) — A strike which already has affected telephone, street sanitation and office employees of the Lakehead cities of Fort William and Port Arthur was expected to spread today.

William Ladyman of Winnipeg, representative of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (CLC), said employees of the light, power and water divisions of the Port Arthur public utilities division would strike at 8 a.m. to support pay demands.

Forty-one men in Fort William and 29 in Port Arthur already are on strike against the telephone divisions of the Public Utilities Commissions in the two cities. They are being supported by 28 office workers at the Port Arthur public utility office.

Streets remained snow-covered in Fort William as 60 to 70 workers declined to work.

Since supervisory personnel did not move garbage packers across telephone pickets lines, employees of the sanitary department did not work. The street sanders said they would not work unless all men belonging to their union — including the garbage collectors — were called out.

Raids Nip Call Girl Racket

VANCOUVER (CP) — Bail was set at $5,000 each Friday for eight women charged with conspiring to live off the avails of prostitution.

The women and two men were arrested Friday in morality squad raids on a home in the southern suburbs and several west-end apartments.

The two men were held for investigation but not charged immediately. A few other women were released.

Detectives said they believed the raids have broken up the city's biggest call-girl operation. Two more women were being sought.

Charged are Bonnie Everett, Sylvia Shannon, Dianne Frew, Valarie Shrimpton, Beatrix McKenzie, Rose Wilson and two other women whose names were not given by police.

Viet Nam Loyalists Battle Insurgents

Key Positions Recaptured After Coup Toppled President Diem

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Forces loyal to President Ngo Dinh Diem struck back in Saigon today and claimed an initial victory in bloody fighting with insurgents who toppled the pro-Western president 24 hours earlier.

A broadcast by Saigon Radio claimed the loyalists had recaptured key positions in this capital after shooting that lasted for about 45 minutes.

"We have captured and killed many insurgent troops who tried to oppose us," the radio said. "We have seized about 300 rifles and mortars at the radio station and promise to fight until our last man to restore the peace and securtiy under the leadership of President Ngo Dinh Diem."

The broadcast claimed other forces were rallying to Diem's banner and hurrying back to Saigon after hearing his radio appeals Friday.

Reuters news agency said the rebel siege of the presidential palace collapsed when marines and tank units abandoned the paratroops and switched allegiance to the loyalist army units.

The remaining rebels withdrew into an army barracks half a mile north of the palace, the news agency said, while thousands of loyalist troops poured into Saigon after Diem's radio appeal.

Reuters said a volley fired from inside the palace where Diem was surrounded killed at least four persons in a crowd of civilians. The civilians had been friendly with the rebel paratroopers.

A rebel junta headed by paratroop Col. Nguyen Chanh Thi led a lightning pre - dawn coup against Diem Friday and claimed control of the government after 20 to 30 persons were slain and many wounded.

They proclaimed that Diem, who remained in the presidential palace, had passed the mantle of power over to the junta, which would form a new government "to continue the fight against the Communists and stop all unfavorable propaganda."

LOYAL TO WEST

The junta maintained it would preserve South Viet Nam's ties with the West, but wanted to end a family dictatorship and strengthen the struggle against Communist infiltration.

The reference was to Diem's strongman rule with the help of members of his family.

But the junta maintained a loose control over this city, not even bothering to instal a curfew that usually follows a power move in the overthrow of a regime.

Apparently, the loyal followers of Diem took advantage of the easy-going situation. They struck back at the security guards of the capital, the military muscle that had put the junta into power.

POPPY WREATHS, symbols of Flanders fields where Canadian blood mingled with the scarlet poppies in World War I, were placed at the base of the Cenotaph in Nelson's Remembrance Day service Friday. This is a familiar scene on the anniversary of the signing of the Armistice in 1918, and as in other years, the block on Vernon Street was filled with returned men who honored fallen comrades, and relatives and friends of loved ones who gave their lives in two word wars. —Daily News photo.

Rebel Coup in Viet Nam Delighted Russians

LONDON (Reuters) — Moscow Radio Friday hailed the coup against South Vietnamese President Ngo Dinh Diem as the latest example of an "American puppet" pitched on the garbage heap.

The broadcast gloated that in 1960 alone such "servants of Washington" as South Korean President Syngman Rhee, Turkish Premier Adnan Menderes and Japanese Premier Nobosuke Kishi had been forced out of office.

"And, now is crumbling the throne of one more American puppet—Ngo Dinh Diem," the radio said. "One thing is clear: The uprising of large military units against Diem is a new sympton of dissatisfaction with the policy of that avowed creature of the imperialist quarters of the United States."

It said Diem had worked actively on Washington's orders to transform his nation into "a military jumping-off place for aggressive purposes."

Earlier Friday, the Soviet news agency Tass said Diem had abolished "elementary human rights and freedoms" during his five-year rule.

"A black web of prisons and concentration camps enmeshed the whole country," it said.

British officials remained cautious Friday night in assessing the importance of the Saigon uprising. They said the revolt will be discussed when the military committee of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization meets in Bangkok Wednesday.

There is fear in London and other Western capitals that the revolt might work to the benefit of the Communists even though both sides are anti-Communist.

Student Riot Quelled

ALGIERS (AP) — French infantrymen and riot police Friday night finally battled down hot-headed students who turned Armistice Day into a bloody riot against President de Gaulle's Algerian policy.

The students sacked the U. S. cultural centre, wrecked buses, smashed windows, shouted "Algerian Algeria." Although the rioters were formally disclaimed by the cooler-headed Front for French Algeria, which represents the diehard European settlers, they fought enthusiastically.

About 50 persons—rioters, police and soldiers—staggered away from the day's battlefields to get patched up in aid stations.

The troops were called in to help cordon off an area when the rioting broke out at sundown after an afternoon lull.

In Oran, about 50,000 gathered at a downtown plaza to shout "Algeria is French." Riot police expertly channeled the crowds from the main streets without violence.

Nixon "Accepts Decision"

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice-President Richard Nixon's press secretary and campaign manager said Friday Nixon does not intend to dispute John Kennedy's election to the presidency.

Their declarations, to a press conference, ran contrary to earlier word from aide to the Republican national committee that Nixon and Republican chairman Thurston Morton had jointly approved a decision that could lead to a possible vote recount in 11 states.

Herbert Klein, Nixon's press secretary, said:

"The vice-president ran the race and accepts the decision of the voters. The decision made on Tuesday stands."

Morton asked Republican leaders in 11 states to recheck the vote in their areas for possible error or fraud with a view to possible entering of recount demands.

Cook Calm As Noose Near

FORT SASKATCHEWAN, Alta. (CP) — Robert Raymond Cook, 23, sentenced to be hanged for the murder of his father, was reported calm Friday as time ran short for any possible reprieve from execution, scheduled at the provincial jail here early Tuesday.

Cook was convicted after the shot and bludgeoned bodies of his father, Raymond, 54, his stepmother and her five children were found concealed in a garage pit adjoining their Stettler home in June, 1959.

An application for permission to appeal the case to the Supreme Court of Canada was refused last month.

The case was to be reviewed by the federal cabinet to determine whether the sentence should be carried out.

"There is nothing more we can do but wait," Frank Dunne of Edmonton, his counsel, said Friday. "He knows this. It's all up to Ottawa now."

Quebec Hospital Plan Outlined

QUEBEC (CP)—The Quebec government Friday proposed in the legislative assembly a hospital insurance plan for all residents of the province, starting Jan. 1.

Quebec's hospitals, 5 per cent of them administered by Roman Catholic religions orders, would retain full autonomy in the hiring of nursing and medical staffs and in the formation of medical bureaus.

Everybody living in Quebec for at least three months would be entitled to public ward services free of charge in any hospital under contract with the Quebec department of health."

Tuberculosis patients, the mentally ill and incurables—covered under separate legislation — do not qualify under the plan.

But all other hospital cases are covered, including births.

Health Minister Alphonse Couturier proposed first reading of the bill, saying the Quebec plan calls for contracts between hospitals and the Quebec government and for participation under the national hospital insurance plan.

Cost to Quebec has been estimated as high as $80,000,000 annually. The federal government would, under an agreement, pay roughly an equivalent sum.

Rail, Road Projects To Spark Tourism

SEATTLE (AP) — Looking for a tremendous increase in tourists to Alaska and northwestern Canada by 1980, the Battelle Memorial Institute Friday recommended five major highway improvement and construction projects for Alaska.

The report was made after a year of study to the Alaska International Rail and Highway Commission.

The comprehensive report declared the area's annual income may increase by nearly $1,400,000,000 in 20 years and stated "highway construction projects costing an estimated $240,000,000 will be an important factor in this predicted income increase."

Senator Warren G. Magnuson (Dem.-Wash.) is acting chairman of the commission.

While recommending major highway improvements for the purpose of "more integrated road system," the study at the same found that a Fairbanks-central British Columbia railroad link would require an annual subsidy of about $34,000,000 by around 1980.

The report was presented at Friday's meeting by Dr. B. D. Thomas, president of the Battelle organization.

TOURISM BASIS

He said the primary basis for the highway recommendations is tourism.

"All of the highway improvements recommended could be financed over a 20-year period from the estimated additional revenue that would be generated by an integrated road system," the report stated.

It added that estimated annual yearly maintenance cost of such a system would be more than offset by increased revenue from gasoline taxes.

The five recommendations for the integrated highway system are:

1. Upgrading and asphalt surface treating of the Alaska Highway from north of Charlie Lake, B.C., to the Alaska border;

2. Construction of an asphalt surface treated road from Hazelton, B.C., to Jakes Corner, Alaska;

3. Construction of a new hard-surface highway from near the mouth of the Stikine River, up the Stikine and Iskut rivers to a junction with the Stewart-Cassiar road;

4. Relocation, upgrading, and hard-surfacing the Haines cutoff from 23.3 miles north of Haines, Alaska, to Haines Junction, Yukon Territory;

5. Construction of a gravel road from Juneau to Taku Inlet and the Taku River to the British Columbia boundary and construction of a new asphalt treated highway to the junction with the proposed Hazelton-Jakes Corner road south of Atlin.

SHORT WORK WEEK

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Russia's industrial working week will be 40.2 hours — less than that in the United States — by the end of 1960, the Communist party newspaper Pravda claimed Friday.

Wreaths Go Out On Tide in Coast Ceremony

VANCOUVER (CP) — Nine wreaths were cast on the water and carried out to sea on the tide Friday in a Remembrance Day service, unique in North America, commemorating Canadian naval servicemen and merchant seamen who died at sea.

A flotilla of 25 military, police and private vessels sailed across the sunlit waters of Burrard Inlet to a point a quarter of a mile off west side Jericho Beach to take part in the service.

More than 2000 persons watched from the short and the boats formed a circle around the yacht Senaietta II.

Flags were lowered to half mast as Commodore Temple Wright took the salute aboard the Senaietta II and Rev. Stanley Smith of the Vancouver Seamen's Mission conducted the service. The wreaths were placed on the water by veterans' organizations and individuals.

The flowers could be seen floating out to sea as the flotilla returned to shore for a further short service at the Royal Vancouver Yacht Club.

And in This Corner . . .

ANCASTER, Ont. (CP) — Police in this Hamilton suburb are look for a missing cat, last seen wearing a bib, boots on its hind legs and mittens on its front feet. A disconsolate woman reported a lost cat with dyed fur markings.

TORONTO (CP) — Something new in the form of inducements to rent turned up today in the advertising sections of Toronto's newspapers.

A real estate company offered a $1,445 automobile with each apartment. The only stipulation was that the lessee sign a three-year lease at $126 a month for a two-bedroom apartment and pay three months rent in advance.

HOMER, Ga. (AP) — Birdwatcher Connie Watts, the presidential candidate whose platform was strictly for the birds, said he isn't ready to concede the election to Senator John Kennedy.

"The trend seems to be running against me as late returns come in," Watts admitted Thursday, but "you may quote me as saying I know I got seven votes — they just haven't been announced yet. Besides, the absentee ballotts from a lot of places haven't been counted. You can't tell what might happen."

Watts, write-in candidate of the "Front Porch party," campaigned for better housing for all the birds of Atlanta. He wanted to put the unemployed to work boring holes in dead trees so more birds would have places to build nests.

If Darwin Could See This!

By ROBERT RICE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — A monkey would have a hard time getting a union card in Canada—even if he had a trade.

That's the word from a leading labor spokesman here after learning about the plans of Ben Friedman to use three trained chimpanzees in his furniture factory at Houston, Tex.

"I don't think we'd go for any monkey business like that in Canada," said a union official who declined to have his name used.

"The next thing you know we'd be organizing all the dogs that fetch newspapers off the front lawn for their owners."

So, the chimps—Fudgie, Candy and Bobby—won't be overly welcome this side of the border.

"Imagine what would happen if chimps took over some of our jobs?" said the official.

"We'd have vocational schools for monkey trainers — not for workers."

It's not a new idea, anyway, he said.

A British botanist in Malaya once trained monkeys to collect rare flowers from tree tops without damaging the trees.

And not so long ago, an enterprising British cherry grower used his pet chimp to pick cherries — faster than any human worker and far better than any man-made machine.

However, the cherry - picking chimp was soon out of a job. A unionist called it unfair competition—and won the point.

GOOD FOR DULL JOBS

There is something to the idea of using monkeys to do some of the dull, simple jobs done now by human beings. Here's what Sir George Thomson, a Nobel Prize winner, says about it in his book, The Foreseeable Future:

"It seems to me that the combination of hand and eye connected through a moderately intelligent brain is one of the bargains that nature has to offer us.

"We ought to make more use of it and I have little doubt that we shall."

Trail's Remembrance Service One of Best

TRAIL — With the sun shining between clouds, one of the best Remembrance Day services in the history of Trail was held at the Cenotaph Friday morning.

Six bands led a colorful parade to the place of service. They included the 44th Balmoral Pipe, Trail Pipe, 24th M.A., Trail High School, Navy League and Maple Leaf Bands, and were followed by members of the three armed services.

Comments and praise concerning the day's activities came from many sections, including officers and members of the forces. At a well attended banquet held during the evening at the Legion Hall Parade Marshal Alex Sutherland said that such a successful parade, that could not be criticized by any part of the province or of Canada, could not have been staged without the help of most organizations.

Mayor L. A. Read, who said that year by year it seemed unlikely that the next parade would be bigger, declared it the best parade the Legion has ever put on in the city of Trail.

P. F. McIntyre, celebrating the 40th anniversary from his first Legion banquet, linked last year and this year as the two best parades he could remember. Representing Cominco in the absence of R. D. Perry, who is out of town, he expressed appreciation for the good work of the Legion over the years. Reeve Lloyd Williams then brought greetings from Tadanac and Arnold Lauriente greetings from village of Warfield.

Toast to the Queen was proposed by president E. A. Todd; to fallen comrades, by past president H. J. Webber. Toast to the Legion was proposed by Fred Edmund and responded to by first vice-president Dave McCall.

Toast to the ladies was proposed by second vice-president W. T. Charters and responded to by Mrs. G. E. Laarz, president of the Ladies' Auxiliary.

Missing Man Object of Search

Creston RCMP said Friday, in connection with the reported disappearance of Sam Ralph of Crawford Bay, that there was "no indication" a car left the highway north of Crawford Bay.

Ralph was reported missing Monday after he left the home of Walter Clazier, his uncle, of Crawford Bay. He did not report to his place of work north of the Bay. The car he was driving was a 1960 blue model. It has not been located.

RCMP said Friday Mr. Clazier had suggested the possibility that Ralph had gone to the coast or to Saskatchewan.

Police are continuing to investigate.

City Plans Early Engineering For Outside Areas, Group Told

Planning and engineering will begin for sanitary sewers in the three areas of Upper Fairview, South Nelson and Rosemont immediately they are amalgamated into the City of Nelson, South Nelson property owners were told Friday night.

The meeting was called by the Boundary Extension Committee to sound out the feelings of South Nelson residents and to find what services they would want first if the area amalgamated.

Of nearly 30 South Nelson residents, all agreed that sewage was their foremost wish with main access road development in areas which needed it most and lighting in areas where darkest to follow.

Chairman was M. B. Ryalls with S. A. Bragagnola assisting. Ald. Edith Van Maarion and Ald. J. S. M. Harts gave information and answered questions.

Although nothing definite has been reached in regard to the proposed amalgamation. Mr. Ryalls stated it had been suggested that the $60,000 in extra taxes derived from the three areas would be ut back into the area. The taxes would nearly double themselves in the outside areas if they amalgamated, the meeting was told.

Mr. Bragagnola reminded the outside residents that they would not be getting anything for nothing if they came into the city—"What you ask for you must be willing to pay for."

SELF LIQUIDATING

Sewers, if they were to go into any or all three areas, would be on a self-liquidating basis, Mr. Ryalls said. Also under consideration, he stated, was to supply free to amalgamated areas in the first years, police and fire protection, garbage collection, reduced electrical rates, equal water rates and lower insurance costs.

South Nelson takes in the area from South Cherry Street to the outside boundary of the cemetery, bounded on the outside by the Great Northern tracks.

A series of meetings are proposed, Ald. Van Maarion stated, beginning in January when the Boundary Extension Committee will be in a position to tell the people from outside areas just what the city can offer.

One resident suggested to Ald. Van Maarion that if South Nelson were amalgamated frontage rates should be kept as low as possible for the benefit of old-age pensioners.

Ald. Van Maarion stated that outside areas are not being annexed. The people are to vote willingly if they want to amalgamate or not. She reminded them, too, that their property would be worth more in the terms of real estate should they amalgamate.

Homecoming To Feature Art Exhibit

The work of several local artists will be on view at Bonaventure Hall during Notre Dame's second annual Homecoming. Although the exhibit is primarily being held to afford the returning alumni the opportunity of viewing a cross-section of Nelson's local artistic talents, Rev. Aquinas Thomas, rector of the college, will open the exhibit to the public Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m.

Represented in the show will be Zelkjo Kujundzic, principal of the Nelson School of Fine Arts, and internationally recognized artist. He will exhibit approximately a dozen of his highly personal stylized works which trace their origin to the Byzantine school.

Alec Garner of Procter will also be represented by a dozen of his works painted especially for the show. Mr. Garner's landscapes, which have long enjoyed local popularity, are rapidly acquiring a national reputation.

The work of Rolfe Brock, who has temporarily given up art for a career in engineering, will also be shown. Employed at the East Kootenay General Hospital, Mr. Brock has won many local awards for his portraiture of local residents.

Dr. V. V. Fanderlik and his wife Velenka will exhibit their landscapes of the Kootenays along with a few figures. Dr. Fanderlik, who now resides in Trail, received his art training in his native Czechoslovakia. Mrs. Fanderlik studied art at the Vancouver Art Center.

Hundreds Pay Tribute To District's Fallen

The sun broke through cold grey clouds for minutes to warm the cenotaph on Vernon Street Friday morning when hundreds of veterans, soldiers and citizens gathered to pay tribute to the fallen soldiers of three wars.

About 80 veterans of the Canadian Legion took part in the parade and service.

North of the cenotaph stood Sea Cadets of HMCS "Hampton Gray," Army Cadets, Nelson Squadron No. 561.

A large crowd lined Vernon Street to take part in the service, arriving at the cenotaph early, as did the veterans, and stood for 45 minutes.

People stood on the sidewalk from Ward Street to the centre of the block. They were at the sides of the park where the City Band was stationed, and on the hillside behind. People watched from hotel windows. Boys stood under the trees and on the second storey ledge of a nearby building.

During the two minutes silence, signalled by a fire siren, laughter was heard from a group of small boys some distance away. Perhaps the veterans wondered if the little fellows would ever be called into another conflict.

Then A. P. Jeffrey, Legion president, gave the invocation: "They shall not grow old as we that are left grow old; age shall not weary them, nor the years condemn. At the going down of the sun, and in the morning we will remember them."

Then addresses were given by the Legion padres and Mayor T. S. Shorthouse.

Rev. Father F. Managhan said there was a danger the present generation would remember the world wars "only as a matter of hostory."

WAR VERY REAL

"By our way of acting and speaking we should impress on those who follow us that war was a very real thing. It takes a great deal of effort to avoid it," he said.

Rev. E. A. Hircock said that "the inheritance and the liberties the following generations will enjoy were bought with sacrifice."

"By this act of remembrance we gratefully recall the thousands who by sea, by land, and in the air, laid down their lives for everything we as Canadians cherish."

Mayor T. S. Shorthouse said that "in spite of the shams, drudgery, and broken dreams it is still a beautiful world in which we live and for which our comrades fought and died."

Members of the 111th Nelson Battery RCA, militia, fired three rifle volleys, the report echoing each time in the mountains.

The soulful lament, "Flowers of the Forest," was played by Pipe Major C. Underwood, piper Keith Langhorn and drummer Norman Hampson, of the Kootenay Kiltie Band.

Most of the trees on the avenue have bare branches but leaves from three trees fell throughout these minutes during the playing of the Last Post and the Reveille.

Then followed the hymn, "Oh God Our Hope in Ages Past," as the first of 17 wreaths were placed on the cenotaph.

While the City Band played the hymn, "Eternal Father Strong to Save," the wreaths of autumn colored Maple leaves were set in place. They were from the Canadian Legion Branch Number 51, Ladies' Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion, the City of Nelson, RCMP, 111th Battery, Royal Canadian Army militia, Dutch veterans and Nelson Hungarians as well as sea, air and army cadets.

Representatives of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire, the Independent Order of Oddfellows, Fraternal Order of Eagles, Aerie No. 22, DeMolay and several Nelson business firms, placed wreaths.

The color party at the cenotaph included Nelson veterans C. O. Anderson, carrying the Queen's Colors, G. J. Verkerk, carrying the Canadian Legion Standard, Mrs. B. McCreight, carrying the Ladies' Auxiliary Legion Standard, and Margaret Taylor, 13, carrying the World Guide flag. Parade marshal was C. R. Higgens, Legion secretary-manager.

About 21 Girl Guides of the 1st, 2nd and 3rd Nelson Girl Guide companies paraded.

As the City Band led the second section of the parade to the Armoury at the conclusion of the ceremony they played "Anchors Aweigh."

The annual Canadian Legion banquet climaxed the day's program.

OPENING new business in Nelson Saturday is Reo Rocheleau, above, resident of Nelson since 1957. He has established a record shop at 488 Baker Street. Mr. Rocheleau came to Nelson from Kenora, Ont., to become manager of the Woolworth store from which he recently resigned.

Clubs Set for Auction Today

Nelson Kiwanis and Silver King Ski Club members Friday afternoon were given a last-minute briefing for their auction of second-hand-furniture this afternoon in the Hume Hotel.

"We're all ready to sail right off," W. F. Dalling, work committee chairman, said.

"If it is a fine day we'll hold the auction at the Ward Street entrance to the hotel," he said.

Crews of 14 men of two clubs will move beds, mattresses, dressers, chesterfield suites, and upholstered and folding chairs from the hotel rooms after each sale Saturday.

One-third of the money will pay for the furniture. The club monies will be used for service work and toruist recreation projects.

Retail Merchants Hear

Troubles Caused by Lack of Organization

KIMBERLEY — A special meeting of the Kimberley Merchants' Association heard Duncan Scott, secretary-manager of the B. C. Retail Merchants' Association speak on "20th Century Era of Organization."

"Organizational strength is reflected only in the accomplishment of any group," the speaker said. He cited as instance the influence labor unions have on government legislation because of the more complete representation of the working man.

He deplored the fact that only 30 per cent of B. C. business men belong to the RMA, because of the great amount of good merchants would derive if the organization was more representative. Scott pointed out to the meeting that he fate of he small, independen business man will be decided in the next five years. Every retail merchant should appoint himself a policeman to clean up cases of misrepresentation and loss leader selling, if he wants to stay in business. Also to be watched for is a possible amendment to the BNA Act that would allow the provinces to place an indirect tax on sales volume. "This would be the choicest tid-bit that could be handed to the province and the most difficult for the retailer to cope with," Mr. Scott commented.

He explained the duty-free shop, found at present in Ontario. This shop operates with a bonded warehouse and allows tourists to purchase goods which under existing laws are not considered to be even in the country, being mailed to the purchaser from the bonded warehouse completely tax-free.

Other businesses catering to the tourist trade are forced out of business by this. Only the federal government can rectify this injustice to a legitimate tax-paying industry. Their defence lies in more complete organization.

The meeting noted that their recent complaints have resulted in an improvement in merchandise services in this area.

Mrs. Marlene Nahirniak has been appoined acting paid secretary of the association subject to final approval at end of December.

Night Classes Offering Wide Variety

KIMBERLEY — Registration for the 1960-61 night school classes took place recently and classes got under way this week, F. Gagnon, director, has announced.

Subjects offered this year are ceramics, woodwork, millinery, geology, practical mathematics, typing, golf, bookkeeping, contract bridge, chess, basketball, women's keep fit classes, drawing and painting, dressmaking, smocking English for new Canadians, music appreciation, stereo, hi-fi, French, auto tune-up, party cooking, current events discussion and square dancing, this last having been under way for some time.

KOOTENAY REAL ESTATE BOARD

Natal, Rossland Students Named To Club Executive

NATAL — Three students from Natal and one from Rossland attending Victoria College were recently elected to the Victoria College Newman Club executive during a noon-hour meeting at the College.

Elected president for the 1960-61 term was Armand Lalonde of Natal. Other members of the executive are: Mike Bruschetta of Natal, vice-president; Margaret Magee of Victoria, secretary-treasurer; Bernadette Bell of Rossland, social committee convener; Phyllis Haggerty of Port Alberni, publicity convener; Tom Krall, Jr., of Natal, sports convener; Louise Wostradowski of Rutland, convener of the educational-spiritual committee.

Projects for the immediate future will include a Communion breakfast and a panel discussion on Christmas morality.

Chaplain of the club is Rev. M. O'Connell, of St. Andrew's Cathedral.

Cemetery Work To Come Under Winter Program

KINNAIRD — Since Kinnaird Council has learned that work on cemeteries is now permissabe under the winter works program, application is to be made to erect two gates at the back of the cemetery and for fencing to be put up there.

Ralph Williams of Associated Engineering reported to council this week that installation of the new water main had now been completed and all domestic service connections, except one, had been completed.

Construction of the pump house is now complete and the new pump, which arrived Monday, is to be installed right away.

Mr. Williams said that he understands the electrical contract will probably be let this week and the foundation of the new storage reservoir had been completed.

Commissioner Jake Hendricks is to ask Celgar what work it plans to improve the road to the new sewage treatment plant at Woodlands Park.

At present, it was pointed out, the road is barely passable and in the winter months it was expected that it would be almost impossible to get through to service the plant.

DOG BYLAW

It was reported that a meeting has been arranged for November 16 between representatives of Castlegar and Kinnaird, so as the dog bylaw may be drawn up.

Comm. Gerald Rust told council that he hopes to submit a draft of the new trades licence bylaw in two weeks time.

Building permits totalling $2630 were authorized by council.

Paul Hildebrandt, works foreman, was instructed to start immediately on projects authorized under the grant-aided winter works program — particularly the general road program.

Commissioners hoped that it might be possible to get the work done before the weather changes. It was pointed out that additional help will be hired for this purpose.

Vehicles Branch Saves, Village Office Does Work

CASTLEGAR — The superintendent of motor vehicles will be asked to review the amount of work involved at the village office in the issuing of motor vehicle licences.

The village commission brought this matter up at this week's meeting, as eight years have passed since the last review by the superintendent.

Village clerk John Logelin pointed out that as the population of the district continues to grow, the number of vehicle licences applied for increases correspondingly.

So far this year, it had been necessary to issue 1456 auto plates, 547 truck plates and 227 Class C plates.

Although $55,543 revenue had been received for these licences, only a small percentage — about three per cent on most items — was allocated to the village, Mr. Logelin explained.

This, the commissioners felt, was insufficient recompense for the amount of work entailed in providing the service. It was maintained that it would cost at least $400 per month for the motor vehicles branch to operate its own office.

Requiem Mass For Former Blacksmith

KIMBERLEY —Requiem Mass was offered Monday in Sacred Heart Church, Kimberley, for Joseph Arthur William Doran, 88, of Marysville, who died in Kimberley and District Hospital.

Rev. J. J. Cheevers officiated and interment was in the Kimberley Cemetery.

Born at Newcastle, N.B., Mr. Doran moved with his parents to Mahtomedi, near White Bear Lake, Minn., at the age of eight. Here he apprenticed in blacksmithing with the Staples Lumber Company, owned by Otis Staples, sr., who later became well known in the East Kootenay.

On March 14, 1900, Mr. Doran married Mary Geneveive Shylock at St. Thomas, N.D.

In 1909 they came to Canada and homesteaded in the Bow Island district, east of Lethbridge.

For two years he continued as a blacksmith at Medicine Hat and Bow Island. He retired in 1940 and with his wife moved to Kimberley and in 1948 to Marysville, making their home with their daughter, Mrs. May Slade.

Surviving are two sons, Sherlock Sylvester, San Francisco; Francis Arthur, Bow Island, Alta.; two daughters, Mrs. M. C. Slade, of Marysville and Mrs. I. E. Andrews of Taber, Alta., two sisters, Miss T. A. Doran and Miss Mary Doran and one brother James, all of Mahtomedi, Minn., nine grandchildren and 11 great grandchildren.

He was predeceased by his wife in 1957 and by his eldest daughter, Mrs. W. Meyers of Spokane, in 1948.

VISIT TO JAPAN, LOCAL TOPICS IN HERRIDGE TALK

NAKUSP— H. W. Herridge, M.P. for Kootenay West, addressed a relatively small group in the parish hall this week, speaking on his visit to Japan and topics of interest locally.

In a humorous 1¾-hour discourse, Mr. Herridge sketched for the gathering details of the International Conference held in Tokyo earlier this year when eight Canadain dlgates spent eight busy days at the Tokyo conference, attended by 75 delegates. Disarmament and world trade problems were thoroughly discussed, said Mr. Herridge.

Entertainment of the delegates was a prime factor following the daily conferences and committee meetings. Their hosts, said Mr. Herridge, spared no effort in lavish entertainment of each represented country.

Mr. Herridge then dealt briefly with local affairs. Mentioned in his Castlegar Airport in preference to address were the expansion of the the building of another airport at Creston, the expenditure of public funds for buildings such as the new post office and RCMP building in Nakusp, radio relay stations in the West Kootenay, the situation concerning local reception of television and the High Arrow dam problm.

A short question period followed. W. Moseley was chairman of the meeting.

MARYSVILLE — Marysville Lions Club sponsored a costume party and bonfire for children of the community with Mrs. Gale Carpender, Mrs. Allan Keer and Mrs. Jim Lyons as judges.

Winners of prizes were: ages one to five, Caroline Pendry, Darlene McConnell, Morna Edeburn and Laurie and Gay Hay as hunter and mate: age six to nine, Terry Unwin, Geraldine Olson, Marie Aranjo and Jamie Pearson: age 10 to 12. Mary Ann Hargraves, Judy Ochs and Margaret, Colleen and David Turnbull: teenagers, Lynda Shannon, Karen Paulson, Joan Foder and Shirley Watkins and Sheila McKay as beatniks: adults, Helen Ordway and Iris Wallach as Indian and friend.

Windermere Board To Hear Provincial Chamber President

INVERMERE — Maurice P. Finnerty, president of the British Columbia Chamber of Commerce, will address the Windermere District Board of Trade Monday. Mr. Finnerty will be accompanied by Charles K. Bantock of Vancouver, manager of the B.C. Chamber of Commerce.

The meeting will be held at the National Park Hotel at Radium Hot Springs where Mr. Finnerty will be special speaker following dinner at 7 p.m. Mr. Bantock will also address the meeting.

NEW CITIZENS

VICTORIA (CP) — Nineteen men and women became Canadian citizens here Thursday in a special ceremony before Judge J. B. Clearihue. In the Citizenship Council ceremony, R. J. Bower, editor-in-chief of the Colonist, said they "must uphold the freedom of Canada to the best of their ability."

SAINTED HERMIT

St. Simeon Stylites, fifth century Syrian hermit, lived more than 35 years on a platform atop a high pillar.

Visits Ireland Before Entering Monastery

KIMBERLEY — Sam Dunn has left for Belfast, Ireland, where he will spend two months' holiday with his parents before going to West Park, N.Y., where he will commence his novitiate in the Holy Cross Monastery on February 24.

Following five years' advanced study, Mr. Dunn will enter the Mission field as a preaching monk with the Episcopal Church of the U. S.

He came to Canada in 1956 to accept a position with the Canadian Bank of Commerce in Toronto In 1957, he came west, joining the Royal Bank of Canada in Calgary, transferring to the Kimberley branch just two years ago.

The senior choir of All Saints Anglican Church bade fareweli to him at a social following choir practice, presenting him with a pair of book ends.

Last Saturday, a musical evening and farewell party were held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Jones, where the quartette of which he was a member, as well as other friends and choir members, were in attendance.

A tape recording of quartette selections and best wishes of all present was presented to Mr. Dunn.

Lions Hear of Their Origin At Trail Meet

TRAIL — Trail Rotarians heard a talk on the history and organization of Lions International at the noon luncheon this week.

Guest speaker Ron Rinaldi, president of Trail Lions Club, says there are more than 15,000 operating in free clubs. With over 605,000 members it is the largest service club in the world, he commented. Asked whether there are Lions Clubs behind the Iron Curtain he said it was a difficult question to answer.

Clubs were organized in Tuentisin, and Tsingttoa, which are located in Communist China. These clubs went underground to hold meetings and no word has been received from them since the nationalists were driven from the Chinese mainland.

The Lions Club was founded in Chicago in 1917 following a meeting of independent business clubs from St. Paul, St. Louis, Detroit and Chicago, who amalgamated into the international association of Lions Clubs.

The Trail branch was formed in March, 1957, and was chartered with 24 members.

The name was derived from the first letter of each word of a club slogan — liberty, intelligence, one nation, safety.

The motto is "we serve".

Roger Pasiaud Heads Crow's Nest Liberals

NATAL — At a well attended meeting of the Michel-Natal Liberal Association, held in the Oddfellow's Hall at Natal, Roger Pasiaud of Michel was elected president.

Honorary President is Hon. L. B. Pearson; honorary vice-presidents are Harry G. McKay, MLA of Fernie and Anthony DeLuca of Michel. Vice-presidents are Walter McKay, Sparwood; Orlando Ungaro, Natal; Mrs. Lorraine Fontana, Michel and Robert Martin, Michel. Secretary-treasurer is Mrs. Charles Gaal, Natal.

Executive committee elected were Peter Zeith, Mrs. B. Zeith, John Polak, Mrs. Ruth Polak, Arthur Polak, Mrs. M. Walker, Mrs. F. Pasiaud, Mrs. K. Winters, Mrs. E. Kozler, Mrs. A. McKay, Ian Dufour, Ken Walker and Charles Gaal.

The meeting was addressed by Mr. McKay, MLA and James Byrne of Kimberley.

Senior Citizens To See Monique in Rehearsal

CASTLEGAR — Senior citizens will be invited to attend the dress rehearsal of the Kinniard Little Theatre fall production "Monique", a play in which mystery and suspense are enhanced by a touch of the supernatural.

Final plans for the play were made at the Little Theatre group's monthly meeting, held at the home of Mrs. W. Sweeney of Woodland Par kin Kinnaird.

Two new members were welcomed by the groups — Mrs. Doreen Knutson and Eric Morter.

The story of "Monique" is a study of deterioration of character as the result of base and unconquerable passions. Monique, an attractive and domineering woman doctor, has ensnared Fernand, a man of good will but unhappily married to the shrewish Lucienne.

The latter refuses to divorce Fernand and insidiously and cleverly Monique succeeds in implanting in the mind of the tormented man the obsession that there is only one course open to him: Lucienne must be removed.

The conspirators evolve an ingenious murder method, absolutely foolproof. The plan is put into operation and is apparently a complete success — the solution is surprising.

QUESNEL (CP)— Twenty-one rinks started play Thursday in the ninth annual B.C. Elks Bonspiel here. The event winds up Sunday. Defending champion Johnny Gagnon of Mission was not curling.

Non-Stop Merry-Go-Round

That the government will have to take some action to prevent a strike by the non-operating railway unions is certain. Government can either leave the railway companies to fight their own battles, or take over the railways and operate them themselves, or—as is rumored—give them a subsidy to cover the extra cost of the new wage scale.

It might be better, in the long run, to remove all government restrictions and let the railways find their own levels. For the government to take over and operate the railways might have advantages if government refused to be dictated to, but the measure which would have the least political effects is to give the railways a subsidy.

A subsidy, though it appears an easy way of dealing with the situation, is not without its disadvantages, one of which now appears in the attitude of the trucking companies, who declare they will make a nationwide fight against it. They declare that a subsidy to one transportation service would be grossly unfair to others. In effect, what they say is that what is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander, and if they carried the parallel farther they might well argue that they need subsidies to help keep their costs down to compete with the railways.

Then, having established the principle that a transportation company faced with a demand for higher wages from its employees is entitled to a subsidy, it is possible that industry would demand the same treatment when they have to meet such situations, and by an extension of the principle we should all be entitled to subsidies when we are unable to make ends meet.

This is absurd, but no more so than the present situation, where employees are endeavoring to force increased wages from an employer who is already operating at a loss, who must know that if they receive their increases it will mean that the companies will lay off men and reduce their services to the public.

Be of Good Comfort . . .

It is doubtful whether there will be any significant ecclesiastical implications when the Most Rev. Geoffrey Fisher, Archbishop of Canterbury and Primate of All England, and His Holiness, Pope John, meet shortly in Rome.

Such an unprecedented "church summit" as this would not have been suggested, let alone announced, if full agreement had not been reached to avert any conceivable friction over such questions as might arise over doctrine and dogma.

Most assuredly, the two elderly church statesmen — representing the spiritual and temporal power of Rome and all the vast influence of the other Christian churches — are to come together simply in the humanitarian interests of Christianity and peace as they are understood in the Western world.

Yet it is impossible, when contemplating this event, not to look back with amazement across those turbulent and bloody centuries that separate the present year of Our Lord from that distant day when Henry VIII split the Mother Church in two.

One wonders how the spirits of the Christian martyrs would be moved by this gesture — the Catholic zealots who were put to the torch, the Protestants who gave their lives up in the dawn of the Reformation: "Be of good comfort, Master Ridley, and play the man: we shall this day light such a candle by God's grace in England as (I trust) shall never be put out."

It may be that, despite vast bitterness and dissension of the years between, such a meeting as that now envsiaged implies that none died in vain.—Vancouver Province.

Next the Mekong

The Indus compact has just been signed, and now the taming of another great Asian river is being considered. Unlike the Indus, the Mekong has long been as much of a curse as a blessing to those who live along its banks. It flows 2600 miles from the frontiers of Tibet through China, Burma, Laos, Thailand, Cambodia and Viet Nam to the South China Sea. Much of the river's path lies through wild and mountainous country. It is navigable only in stretches, is liable to flood, and the ancient art of irrigation which nurtured such great civilizations as that of Angkor has in places fallen into disuse.

This time it is the United Nations and its subordinate agencies which are carrying the flag. Experts from a dozen countries are carrying out surveys (the cost of these alone will be about $15 million) of everything from dam-sites to soil content. As the plan now unfolds, it will involve perhaps $600 million and about twenty years of work. If it is put into effect (the United Nations is sanguine) the Mekong plan will alter much of the face of Southeast Asia.

Four great dams are envisaged as a first step, in Laos, Thailand and Cambodia. These will not only check destructive flooding and produce power, but also will make great reaches of the Mekong navigable by backing up water over the fierce rapids which are one of its features. Power, in turn, will open up the possibility of mining the great mineral resources of the middle Mekong and working them on the spot, or moving them by water transport or electric railroads. Irrigation from the dammed lakes will lift the subsistence economy of large areas, now dependent on a scanty rice crop a year. If the plan moves into effect at its present speed, the United Nations will be as much a presence in Southeast Asia as it has become in Central Africa.

The Feminine Touch At the Wheel

Four school bus companies in suburban New York's Westchester County have found a new source of capable drivers. It is from among young mothers of school children.

"Most of these women would be drivng to school anyway," says the manager of one of the companies. So the change to a nine-passenger yellow-painted station wagon is an easy first step; and many of them graduate readily enough to even a 60-passenger bus if it has automatic transmission and power steering.

They may not have quite the practiced eye of a trailer-truck driver but they are dependable and are especially good at handling the children. A part-time schedule of two or three hours fits conveniently with housework.

Probably other communities in the country have their share of women school bus drivers. Already many localities have found women adept as traffic officers at school crossings. If they extend their control to the steering wheel they may prove, as in other lines, not only equal but "more equal" than men.

Food for Action A Responsible Youth

One of the worst problems the world has to face is that a few nations, including Canada, are piling up ever-increasing stocks of surplus food at considerable cost, while food shortages continue to plague almost three-quarters of mankind. It is estimated that surplus stocks of wheat alone in the four principal exporting countries will increase by another 10 per cent to around 3 billion bushels in 1960.

Yet, no matter how heavy the burden of costly, rising surplus stocks on the one hand and of growing need on the other, the problem has remained without a solution despite many efforts to overcome economic and political barriers. The over-producing nations have felt that they cannot just give away their surpluses, because in doing so they would almost certainly disrupt the world market. Individual disposal of some surplus food as part of a foreign aid program has carried with it, in some instances, undesirable political implications. There is also the fact that few of the needy nations can afford to buy the food at market prices, or with foreign exchange of which they usuall yare ill-supplied.

Now a way of action has been worked out in the United Nations. A plan recommended by the Economic Committee was unanimously accepted by the General Assembly last week. It provides that the problem will be handed over to the United Nations Food and Agricultural Organization, which is to act as a central food bank and as the clearing agency for payments.

The plan does not contemplate a massive give-away program but it provides that the Food and Agricultural Organization shall negotiate sale of the surplus stocks put at its disposal at prices the needy nations can afford to pay, in their own currencies. In this manner the recipient nations can get food to bolster the physical fitness of their citizens, while at the same time their economies stand to receive some stimulation from the funds which will be largely available for purchases of goods in their own markets.

The plan also offers a reasonable guarantee against dumping practices, or deliberate over-production of food.

Pity Poor Dobbin

Time was when the horse reigned supreme in this country — he carried goods and people; blazed new trails as a one horse "tractor" on which man's life often depended.

How times have changed! Today the horse has no part in the lives of most of us. Comparatively few ride or can claim any knowledge of the art; skill with reins has been replaced by a dangerous knowledge of steering wheels; the wholesome aroma of the stable has been succeeded by the stink of gasoline; the romance of the horse has been replaced by the hard facts of monthly payments on the family car.

The extent to which the horse has taken a back seat in our lives is highlighted by the fact that only after it has been empty for several months has anyone pointed out that for some time there has been no water connection to the horse trough at the hitching rail at Victoria and First Avenue.

Worst Yet

As if the bargain atom bomb didn't give us all the nightmares we can handle, scientists of both East and West are pushing research that may lead to something worse than the biggest nuclear bombs.

The new horror is called anti-matter.

In nuclear and thermonuclear explosions, a small amount of matter is turned into pure energy. In the explosion of an anti-matter device, apparently all the matter would be translated to a flare of energy such as our solar system has never seen.

Fortunately even the preliminary steps in this development are staggeringly expensive and we can hope that everybody goes bankrupt before everybody just plain goes.

Unlikely Venture Sparked Flourishing Irish Industry

During a tour of Northern Ireland, Dave Oancia of CP's London bureau talked with businessmen and government officials about efforts to build up the nation's industrial base. In this story he reports on the campaign to make Northern Ireland attractive to foreign capital.

By DAVE OANCIA
Canadian Press Staff Writer

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (CP)—Thirteen years ago a Canadian textile firm and a British financier teamed up to start making women's hosiery in a factory at Enniskillen, overlooking picturesque Lough Erne deep in the heart of Northern Ireland.

Their decision puzzled many and there were some who doubted that the operation would ever be profitable. Raw materials had to be brought in and the finished product had to be shipped to markets hundreds, sometimes thousands, of miles away.

But the scoffers soon were having second thoughts. The company, Taylor Woods Limited, expanded twice — once in 1955 and again a year later. It now provides jobs for 750 and pumps about $15,000 a week into the local economy.

This is one of scores of business success stories resulting from Northern Ireland's drive to diversify and expand its industrial base. The goal is to cut unemployment and provide a cushion against a feared recession in the shipbuilding and aircraft industries.

MANY NEW FIRMS

Since 1945, when the commerce ministry started its campaign, more than 150 companies have started operations. They turn out products ranging from petrochemicals to oil well drilling bits, turbines and spectacles.

A measure of the campaign's usefulness is that unemployment has been trimmed from a high of almost 50,000 in 1952 to the current figure of about 30,000—still a worrying six per cent of the total number of workers.

"We picked Northern Ireland because its government offered us more help than any other," says M. B. Hughes, the British managing director of the hosiery-making firm once controlled by York Knitting Mills of Toronto.

Hughes said his firm was influenced by existence of an untapped labor pool in the area 100 miles southwest of Belfast and the generous government inducements. The government built the factory to the company's design and provided it rent-free for the first five years. The firm now pays a rental of about 15 cents a square foot, compared with the going rate of about $1 in the London area.

FUEL SUBSIDIZED

In addition, the treasury subsidizes coal and fuel costs and foots the bill for one-third of practically all capital expenditures.

"We regard this sort of help as a social investment—not as a commercial proposition," said a high-ranking official in Belfast.

"The rents are fixed and the grants made, not with the idea of giving us a return on our investment, but with the goal of attracting more industry to provide more jobs."

A few investors, notably the du Pont Company, do not take advantage of the available grants. This American corporation this year opened a neoprene plant at Londonderry, an operation that provide jobs for 400 persons in the area.

"We didn't get any grant or subsidy," said works manager John Weyrich, a soft - spoken American. "But the commerce ministry was a tremendous help in assisting us to meet requirements for good transportation for raw materials and products, plentiful water and power supplies."

TOUGH TIMES AHEAD

The importance of Northern Ireland's drive will almost certainly become obvious in the next year or two. Difficult times appear to be looming in the industries that, historically, have been the most important.

The linen industry has been forced steadily since the war to cut its work force, now 35,000.

The trend in agriculture is towards larger units and increased mechanization, pushing farm workers into the industrial labor market.

But the big worries are over the future of aircraft and shipbuilding. Employment in the aircraft industry dropped steadily from a peak of 20,000 during the war to its current level of about 8,500. Recently a four-day week was started as orders for planes dwindled.

Shipbuilding has held up well since the war, but the world surplus of shipping is discouraging new orders.

RECESSION FORESEEN

"The outlook here is good for at least the next 12 months," said Dr. Dennis Rebbeck, deputy managing director of Harland and Wolff Limited — one of the world's largest and most versatile building and repairing organizations. "But after that, work will thin out a bit and we'll feel a recession for a couple of years. We're getting down to rock-bottom, pre - war realities again."

The Northern Ireland government is worried. Lord Brookeborough, the prime minister, has been shuttling between Belfast and London in an effort to get some British aid that would avert a serious recession in the two industries.

Rebbeck said his company is making every effort to provide alternative employment for his labor force, now totalling roughly 22,000.

BUILDING LUXURY LINER

"But the stark, horrible truth is that 2,500 men are working on a ship like the Canberra," he said. "It will take one hell of a lot of diversification to provide jobs for all of them when she's launched."

The Canberra is a luxury liner due to be launched next year for the run to Australia and across the Pacific to the west coast of Canada and the United States.

Senior government officials are confident, however, that the industrialization program will help maintain the current wave of prosperity in Ulster.

"The program hasn't wiped out unemployment and it is not yet large enough to cope with any serious dislocation in our basic industries," said one. "But this much is certain: If it hadn't been started, we'd have far more serious problems than we have now."

Utah Local UMWA Against Columbia Hydro

WASHINGTON (AP) — What was believed to be the first open opposition from the United States to a proposed treaty with Canada for development of Columbia River hydro came Thursday from a Utah local of the United Mine Workers of America.

The Spokane Spokesman - Review's Washington correspondent said a spokesman for Republican Senator Wallace F. Bennett of Utah, said a letter has been received from the Utah UMW local urging Bennett to vote against the treaty when it comes before the Senate for confirmation next year.

The local said the building of big power dams both in Canada and the U.S. Pacific Northwest would further depress the already suffering coal industry.

The newspaper's correspondent said Bennett's spokesman expressed belief the leadership of the mine workers union would be united against the treaty, saying it was doubtful an isolated local would come out against the project.

WI Committee Plans Canvass, Yule Party

A committe was chosen for the annual Women's Institute canvass and also for the annual Christmas party at a meeting of the Granite Road Women's Institute at the home of Mrs. John Doerksen.

Election of officers also took place, with Mrs. J. Mondini reelected as president; Mrs. Verne Johnson reelected secretary; Mrs. H. Ronmark newly elected as treasurer and Mrs. W. Anderson as vice president.

Directors are Mrs. Fred Olson and Mrs. W. Anderson.

Appointed to the canvassing and Christmas committee were Mrs. A. Farenholtz, Mrs. Bob Jerome, Mrs. K. Ironmonger, Mrs. J. Mondini, Mrs. R. E. Pickering, Mrs. W. Anderson, Mrs. G. R. Pickering, Mrs. B. A. Pickering, Mrs. H. Ronmark, Mrs. W. Leahy and Eric Johnson.

A report on the recent tea indicated that the Institute cleared $60 from proceeds.

A letter was read from the Mental Health Association for whom the W.I. will send Christmas gifts to mental patients as requested.

Plans were made for the annual Christmas party, to be held Dec. 21.

Two members read a report on a talk by R. H. Procter at the Hume School Parent Teacher Association meeting which they had attended and during which Mr. Procter spoke on town planning.

Settle Near Lardeau After Honeymoon Trip

Now settled in their new home near Lardeau, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thomas Abey recently enjoyed a honeymoon trip to Edmonton and the Canadian Rockies following their late-summer marriage.

The bride's father, Rev. Carl M. Doss of Redlands, Calif., officiated at his daughter's wedding. She was the former Dorothy Jean Doss. Her parents were accompanied from California by her three sisters and three brothers for the event.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Abey of Lardeau.

For her wedding, the bride wore full-length white brocaded taffeta with chapel sleeves and a lace-edged veil. She wore a single strand of pearls and her bouquet was of yellow roses. Her sister, Elaine, was her maid of honor and wore yellow cotton satin with bouquet of white carnations.

Kenneth Abey stood with the bridegroom as his best man. Ushering the 200 guests to their places in the Argenta School, where the ceremony was performed, were James MacNicol, George McQuarry, Charles Boyd, Larry MacNicol, and Roy Lake.

Floral decorations, in charge of Mrs. Robert Boyd, included white gladioli, miniature yellow dahlias, and Shasta daisies, to repeat the color theme chosen by Mrs. Abey for her wedding. Mrs. Agnes Nomland was pianist.

After the ceremony, guests were greeted at a reception, which was arranged by Mrs. Bob Boyd.

CATTLE RANCHER

Mr. Abey is a cattle rancher and a director of the Willett Farmers Institute. A graduate of Kaslo High School, he also took a year of higher education at Edmonton. His bride attended Redlands High School, the Wasatch Academy in Utah, and then the Argenta Friends School.

Out of town guests included Dr. and Mrs. K. R. Abbey, Dr. and Mrs. G. K. MacQuarrie and Mr. and Mrs. Dan J. McQuarriee of Edmonton, Mrs. Joe Fogacz and Cherrie of Prince George, Mr. and Mrs. David Abbey of Calgary and Rev. and Mrs. Doss and family of Redlands.

ROYAL PURPLE IN CHARGE OF CHRISTMAS GIFTS

KIMBERLEY — Christmas gifts for mental patients are once again being solicited in this area by the Kimberley Mental Health Association branch and gift depots will be announced shortly.

Members of the Royal Purple lodge, under the chairmanship of Mrs. George Cameron of the mental health branch, have volunteered to collect, sort and wrap the gifts.

Tonsilectomy Slated for Father, Daughter

RAYTOWN, Mo. (AP) — Three year-old Susan Maris will have company when she has her tonsils removed next month.

Going through the same ordeal will be her daddy, Roger Maris, New York Yankee outfielder who earlier this week was named the most valuable player in the American League for 1960. Maris has been troubled by a sore throat for months.

Mrs. Lister Heads Slocan City WI

SLOCAN CITY — Mrs. B. Lister is president of the Slocan City Women's Institute following election of officers at the annual meeting last week.

She will be supported by Mrs. D. Hicks as vice president, Mrs. J. Patterson as secretary-treasurer and Mrs. D. Hird and Mrs. E. Hird as directors.

Christmas presents will be bought for four patients at Essondale Mental Hospital.

A coffee party and sale was planned for November 23.

FAMILY MAN

Danny Thomas, the TV comic, and his wife Rose Marie, married since 1936, are parents of two girls and a boy—Margaret, 21, Theresa, 17, and Charles, 11.

JAYCETTES MAKE STUFFED ANIMALS

KIMBERLEY -- Stuffing toy animals occupied Kimberley Jaycettes meeting at the home of Mrs. Lorne Cotnoir, with Mrs. Ron Gilbertson, Mrs. Ron Brown and Mrs. Walter Cowan as cohostesses.

The toys will be presented to the Children's Ward of the new Kimberley Hospital.

Jaycettes will send a donation to the Homemakers' Service, it was decided, and plans were finalized for the annual doll contest.

Mrs. Newhouser WI President At Windermere

INVERMERE—Mrs. Louis Newhouser of Athalmer is president of Windermere District Women's Institute, succeeding Mrs. T. N. Weir of Invermere.

Mrs. W. H. Lloyd is vice-president. Elected as secretary was Mrs. F. Coy of Invermere and as treasurer, Mrs. Corbin Mitchell.

Directors are Mrs. Charles Osterloh as convener for social welfare; Mrs. Coy, convener for home economics, Mrs. A. E. Portman convener for agriculture; Mrs. Arthur Fuller, convener for citizenship; Mrs. Donald Cameron for cultural activities and Mrs. T. N. Weir for publicity.

Mrs. J. V. Mackill, director at large, will convene the Christmas party for district children.

Baby Baptized In Father's Christening Robe

NEW DENVER—Elizabeth Anne were names given the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Angrignon in St. Stephen's Anglican Church at New Denver recently.

Rev. E. R. Hope officiated and godparents were Mr. and Mrs. Archie Greenlaw and Miss Gladys L. Reynolds.

The baby's christening robe was made by her paternal grandmother for her father's christening.

A reception was held following the service.

From out of town, guests included Mr. and Mrs. William Jupp and family of Nakusp, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Irwin and family and Mr. and Mrs. Greenlaw of Lardeau.

BRAZIL'S STRIKE ENDED FRIDAY

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Brazil's railroad and coastal shipping strike ended Friday. About 500,000 government transport workers who went on strike Tuesday returned to their jobs.

Officials said the walkout was backed by Communists in an apparent test of strength of President Juscelino Kubitschek's administration.

Union leaders called Thursday night for the return to work, but a good many strikers had drifted back to work earlier.

Let's Decorate

Prolong the Life Of Your Best China

By BETTIE BRADLEY

Even the experts can't agree about the relative strength of kitchen pottery and English bone china. We lock up our Sunday best china and label it 'for company only.' And yet many connoisseurs insist that bone china is harder, more durable and more resistant to cracks and chips than kitchenware.

Nevertheless, your good china represents a healthy investment and a few precautions will prolong its life.

The hard, shiny glaze needs protecting. For instance, diamonds do more harm to your china than any other single irritant. Diamonds leave deep scratches that the housewife often mistakenly blames on cutlery. So the first warning is: take off your diamonds before you wash the dishes.

When you stack your dishes, slip a paper napkin between each plate. The underside of your dishes are not glazed and this rougher surface will in time, act as a abrasive and tiny scratches will appear.

And speaking of abrasives, don't use scouring powders to remove hardened food when you wash the dishes. In time, these harsh cleaners can wear away the glaze. Instead, soak your dishes, then wash them in very hot water with any soap or deterent.

The only time use of an abrasive is recommended is to remove a dark, smoky stain on the dishes. This is a sulphurous film caused by your flat silver and cannot be removed by ordinary washing. Use a very mild abrasive and a damp cloth and the stain should never reappear.

BETTIE BRADLEY

How do you stack your cups? The experts say "hang them up on hooks the way Grandma did." If you stack one on top of the other, listen for a 'click' as the cups come in contact. This is a warning sound. You are inviting cracks that will start at the rim and run down to the base.

The lucky few who own an automatic dishwasher can relax — they don't harm your finest dishes. Just use normal care when you stack the dishes in the washer.

All these precautions sound tedious. But if you once establish habits of caring for your finest possessions, the precautions will become automatic.

Good Cement Can Be Made From Ordinary Garden Soil

Unless you're a civil engineer, you've probably never heard of soil-cement, much less considered its possibilities for low-cost, all-weather garden paving.

Used to surface paths, walks, or off-street parking areas, soil-cement eliminates mud and dust, and provides firm footing early in spring or any other time when lawns are too soft to walk on.

Unsurfaced soil - cement looks like its main ingredient — soil. Chances are you haven't recognized it. You may have landed on a soil-cement runway, surfaced with a bituminous top course, at any number of light-traffic airports. You may have driven over bituminous-coated farm - to - market roads built with a soil-cement base.

But the same qualities that make soil-cement widely adaptable for light-road construction — its low cost, durability, and the simplicity of placing it — make it a good choice to 's'tabilize" earth in the problem traffic areas around your home.

You can place soil-cement inexpensively with ordinary garden tools. And you'll be proud of the results.

Soil-cement is a thorough mixture of soil, cement and water, which is tightly packed while still moist. The cement acts as a binder in uniting the soil into a solid mass. The water coates the soil grains so the mixture can be compacted tightly, and serves to hydrate the cement so the mass hardens.

SUITABLE SOIL

Almost any combination of sand, gravel, silt, and clay that is present on your lot can be used successfully for soil-cement paving. Sandy and gravelly soils with 10 to 35 per cent silt and clay combined are best. Clayey soils require more work to pulverize, and more cement for satisfactory hardening, the less organic matter present in the soil you use, the better.

A six-inch soil-cement base is used for light roads. The same thickness is serving satisfactorily for runways used by planes with gross loads up to 15 tons.

Soil-cement projects in Canada and the U.S. are giving good service under alternate freezing and thawing conditions. Some have carried traffic more than 15 years and still show no signs of having reached the end of useful life.

Soil cement is more elastic than regular concrete, but not as strong. But a properly made soil-cement has sufficient strength, at any moisture content it is likely to attain, to withstand the stress of normal traffic loads.

MIX IN PLACE

You can do the work in a mortar mixer, heap it between forms, tamp it, strike off the surplus, and roll the surface with a lawn roller. A convenient way for a homeowner, however, is to spread the cement directly on the ground and mix it with the soil "in place."

The existing grade or slope at the start of construction determines to a large extent the final grade of the paving. So check and make necessary slope changes before you begin the mixing. Set line stakes to control width of the area you want to pave. Paving will look better with a brick border.

Don't loosen the soil deeper than the desired four inches — to go deeper means too much soil and a leaner mix. The surface must be finished while moist so all soil and cement particles are firmly bound together. Don't begin paving unless the air temperature is at least 40 degrees in the shade, or if the ground itself is frozen.

Roughly, a half sack of cement and six gallons of water per square yard of four-inch paving. Exact amounts needed to make satisfactory soil-cement vary with the characteristics of the soil.

Two-thirds of a sack of cement per square yard is safest where your soil is heavy loam. You'll need less on gravelly soil. More cement than necessary for a particular soil won't harm the paving; too little means an inferior product.

Too little water won't "hydrate" the cement properly. Too much will make the mixture too wet to pack. A ball of the soil-cement mixture containing the proper amount of water will just moisten your hand. You can't squeeze water from the ball, and it will break if you drop it.

Fort William Council To Sit Tight In City Wage Issue

FORT WILLIAM (CP) — City administrator Sidney Blake of Fort William said Friday council has decided to "sit tight" in the city's wage negotiations with telephone servicemen who went on strike Wednesday against the Port Arthur and Fort William public utility commissions.

Negotiations between the two cities and members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (CLC), Local 339, broke down Wednesday after 19 months.

Involved in the strike are 41 men in Fort William and another 29 in Port Arthur.

They are being supported by about 28 office workers at the public utility offices in Port Arthur who refuse to cross a picket line around the building and who haven't been at work since Tuesday.

About 60 Hydro workers in Port Arthur also are refusing to cross picket lines.

SNOW STAYS

In Fort William, two inches of snow until 9 a.m. remained on city streets as 60 to 70 employees of the board of works refused to clear streets. Garbage workers in Fort William, who refused to cross picket lines Wednesday, now are working.

At a Fort William city council meeting Thursday, councillors supported the city wage negotiation committee.

William Ladyman of Winnipeg, international representative of the IBEW, said Friday his union also would "sit tight."

The union has agreed to provide essential and emergency telephone service. Mr. Ladyman said light and power workers who joined the picketing telephone servicemen were told not to do so again, but were told not to cross the picket lines.

More and More People are Getting to Like Winter!

They are learning that it is the very best time to get all sorts of jobs done around their homes, plants and businesses.

Skilled workers are more readily available and, being more productive, give you better value for your dollar. Many firms also offer discounts in the off-season lull.

This applies especially to home, plant and office improvements.

But in addition to home improvements there are many other things that can be done to advantage during the winter. They include such things as maintenance of lawn and garden equipment, electrical appliances, outboard motors and automobiles, as well as dry cleaning of drapes and rugs and replacement of upholstery, to mention but a few.

By taking a realistic approach to winter work you will also be helping your community by creating employment during the traditional winter lull. When everybody works, everybody benefits.

Retirement Bill Approved by U.K.

LONDON (Reuters) — The House of Commons Friday gave an unopposed second reading—agreement in principle—to a bill providing that the judges of superior courts in Canada should retire at 75 instead of holding office during "good behavior" under the British North America Act.

Cuthbert Alport, secretary for Commonwealth relations, said the British government had been asked by both houses of the Canadian Parliament to approve an amendment to the Canadian constitution by repealing section 99 of the British North America Act of 1867 and its replacement by an amendment affecting the tenure of office of judges of the Canadian high court.

Alport said legislation by the British Parliament was still necessary where the subject of the BNA Act amendment affected both the interests of the federal Parliament and the provinces.

"We are therefore acting in a formal capacity for the Canadian parliament in a matter which is solely its concern," he said.

As was customary on such occasions, the British Parliament refrained from discussing the merits of the bill.

Nelson Returns to WIHL; Loses Fourth Straight

"Go, Leafs Go" Fails To Inspire Spirit

Nelson's return to senior hockey here after a five-day retirement due to financial difficulties ended in a 11-4 trouncing at the hands of Canada's world hockey representatives Trail Smoke Eaters before nearly 800 hopeful fans Friday night.

Nelson, who called in Hughie Hooker and Vic Poirier to bolster their veteran lines, dropped behind Trail's intense attack from the 5:45 mark of the initial stanza and failed to retrieve their deficit throughout the game. Trail led 5-2 at the end of the first period and 7-3 at the end of the second.

Poirer scored two of Nelson's goals — one in the first period and one in the second — and Howie Hornby and Bill Taylor added singles.

Taylor's goal came with just 25 seconds remaining in the game on a last desperate rush to close the gap.

Smokie marksmen were led by Cal Hockley who scored three goals, Gerry Penner and Dave Rusnell with a pair each followed by Laurie Bursaw, Ernie Secco, Harry Smith and Ed Famulak with singletons.

Gerry Koehle was back in the nets for Nelson for the first time this season and played outstanding hockey stopping shot after shot despite a lagging defence. Trail outshot the Leafs three to one.

Two of Trail's goals came off the skates of Nelson defenders who were standing in the Leaf goal mouth.

Trail's second goal glanced off the skate of Shorty Malacko and passed a surprised Koehle midway through the opening period. The second unearned goal came late in the second session.

OFFBEAT SHOTS

Koehle faced a number of other off-beat shots the first which was off the stick of Bursaw in the first period. Bursaw's long dribbler from just inside the red line never left the ice but slid through a maze of skates and sticks and past the outstretched leg of Koehle.

A similar episode occurred with less than a minute remaining in the opener when Penner drove a shot from the blue line which whipped past Koehle's arm and bounded off the right hand post and in.

Poirier's second goal of the night was also a dribbler from just inside the blue line. Poirier collided head-on with a charging Harry Smith but managed a weak shot at the net before both players sprawled onto the ice. When they looked up the red light was on. Both of Poirier's goals were solo efforts.

"GO LEAFS, GO"

"Go Leafs, Go" rang in the rafters through the most part of the third period but the pleas of the fans failed to inspire the Leafs and they managed only one goal . . . that of Taylor's . . . throughout the period. Trail scored four unanswered goals in that period.

Trail netminder Seth Martin has found that his new face mask is even better than the first one that fans saw him with last year. Seth complained of the lack of circulation with the first mask. A Trail spokesman also stated that Martin put on quite a bit of additional weight during the summer lay-off and the mask was too small this year.

This protector is re-formed to his fuller face and has been re-constructed to afford more circulation to prevent excess perspiration.

Lineups:

Trail: Martin, Smith, Fletcher Turik, Famaluk, Rusnell, Hockley, Kromm, Secco, Nash, Lenardon, Cristofoli, Penner and Bursaw.

Nelson: G. Koehle, Gare, Malacko, Hornby, Etewart, McClenaghan, Taylor, Maglio, Jeffs, Carmen, Latkin, Poirier, Hooker.

Summary:

First period: 1. T. Secco (Penner, Turik) 5:45; 2. N. Hornby (F. Koehle) 7:24; 3. T. Hockley (Kromm) 8:40· 4. N. Poirier (unassisted) 11:21; 5. T. Penner (Famulak) 13:28; 6. T. Rusnell (Lenardon) 18:40; 7. T. Bursaw (Smith, Kromm) 19:08. Penalties: N. McClenaghan 2:39; T. Cristofoli 14:20.

Second period: 8. T. Smith (Kromm, Bursaw) 5:35; 9. Poirier (unassisted) 16:07; 10. T. Hockley (Smith) 18:19. Penalties: N. Gare 3:47; T. Penner 11:13; T. Kromm 12:00; T. Secco and (N.) Gibson 13:26; T. Famulak 17:04.

Third period: 11. T. Famulak (Rusnell) 1:05; 12. T. Rusnell (Secco) 11:03; 13. T. Penner (Turik, Kromm) 15:22; 14. T. Hockley (Kromm, Secco) 16:41; 15. N. Taylor (Poirier, Carmen) 19:32. Penalties: T. Turik 3:34; N. Maglio 4:14.

Edmonton Tightens 1st Place

Flyers, Bucs, Comets Win in WHL Contests

EDMONTON (CP) — Two unassisted third-period goals gave Edmonton Flyers a 4-3 win over Seattle Totems in a WHL game before 4986 fans Friday night.

The win strengthened Edmonton's hold on first place in the 8-team circuit. It was the third successive loss for Seattle on its current prairie tour.

Rookie Ed Joyal and defenceman Lloyd Haddon fired the unassisted markers for Flyers. The other Edmonton scorers were Ed Diachuk and Chuck Holmes.

Seattle goals were scored by Marc Boileau, Gord Sinclair and Jerry Leonard. Rudy Filion was credited with two assists to give him sole possession of first place in league scoring race with 19 points.

The teams battled to a 1-1 tie at the end of the first period and 2-2 at the end of the second in a wide open entertaining game. In the final 20 minutes Edmonton outscored the Totems 2-1.

VICTORIA (CP) — A goal by Earl Johnson with 2:15 remaining in regulation time gave Spokane Comets a 3-2 victory over Victoria Cougars in a wide open WHL game here Friday night before 3977 fans.

It was the Comets' third victory of the season, all over the Cougars and the first time this season they have won two in a row. The result left Victoria in a four-way tie with Vancouver, Seattle and Calgary for third place and Spokane in the cellar.

Steve Witiuk and Colin Kilburn added the other Comet goals while newcomer Bill Saunders scored both Victoria counters, bringing to three his total in two games since joining the Cougars from Rochester of the American League.

VANCOUVER (CP) — Portland Buckaroos used a second-period scoring outburst and steady goaltending by rookie Don Head to down Vancouver Canucks 4-0 in a WHL game before 4242 fans here Friday.

It was the first shutout of the year for the 27-year-old Head, goaltender for the 1960 Canadian Olympic team. He turned aside 26 shots in gaining his first professional shutout.

It was the fifth loss in six games for the punchless Canucks, who again turned in a mediocre performance.

Portland goals were scored by Gordie Haworth, Art Jones, Bill McCulley and Arnie Schmautz. All came in the second period.

It was Bucks' fourth victory in nine starts, all on the road while their home rink was being completed.

Knights Meet Gonzaga Today

Notre Dame Knights have had a considerably brief history in college sports but their hockey club is the strongest team in the college's history.

Knights take to the ice at 2:30 p.m. today to meet Gonzaga Bulldogs in the first of a series of five exhibition hockey games between the two colleges.

The college competition will be sharpened by the fact that many of the Knights will be playing against several of their former teammates.

Wings Come From Behind; Enter NHL Trophy Race

By The Canadian Press

Montreal Canadiens and Chicago Blackhawks are no longer alone as principals in the race for the National Hockey League championship.

After a month-long drive, Detroit Red Wings Thursday night made their first appearance of the season as league leaders by defeating the faltering Boston Bruins 4-1 at Boston.

The Red-Wings now are tied with Canadiens for first place with 17 points, one more than Chicago which led Wednesday The Hawks were idle Thursday night.

Canadiens, who were tied in second place with Detroit before Thursday night's games, defeated last - place New York Rangers 9-7 in the highest scoring game of recent years to keep up with Detroit.

In that wild - scoring spree at Montreal, Dickie Moore and Ralph Backstrom scored two goals apiece to lead Canadian scorers. Geoffrion, Jean Beliveau, Henri Richard, Bob Rousseau and Claude Provost scored the other goals.

Right winger Andy Bathgate led New York scorers with two goals and two assists while left winger Johnny Wilson collected two goals.

Other scorers were Andy Hebenton, Dean Prentice and Brian Cullen.

Detroit's Al Johnson scored two second-period goals — including the winner—to lead Detroit to its victory. Centre Alex Delvecchio and Parker MacDonald scored the other markers for Detroit.

Bronco Horvath scored Boston's lone goal.

The Red Wings appear to be atoning for their poor performance in the last two seasons. This year they have won eight games to Chicago's seven and have scored 52 goals to the Hawks' 45. Canadiens have eight wins and 62 goals.

Macmillan Congratulates John Kennedy

By RELMAN MORIN

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP) A personal message from Prime Minister Macmillan was delivered this morning to President-elect Kennedy at his Hyannis Port home.

D'Arcy Edmondson, British consul-general in Boston, brought the message personally. There was no immediate indication of the contents.

Macmillan previously had sent congratulations to Kennedy, a customary formality. Therefore, it was assumed that the communication concerned policy matters. It was reported that Macmillan, along with several other heads of European governments, expected to confer personally with Kennedy within the next few months.

Kennedy, meanwhile, prepared to leave by air for Palm Beach, Fla., for a two-week vacation.

He took with him a list of several hundred names for consideration for appointments in at his first press conference Thursday that he expected to have his cabinet complete "in late November or early December."

GETS 13,000 TELEGRAMS

His press secretary, Pierre Salinger, said the president-elect has received 13,000 congratulatory telegrams in the last 24 hours.

Canadian's Play Receives Mixed Reception

DETROIT (CP) — A lighthearted comedy by Canadian playwright Robertson Davies was successfully launched on the sea of American audiences here this week, but it was director Tyrone Guthrie who won most plaudits from the critics.

Love and Libel, a comedy centring on a fraudulent newspaper announcement of an impending wedding between members of two feuding families, had its world premiere at Toronto earlier this month.

Critics treated the twisting plot lightly. Guthrie, well known in Detroit for his work at the Stratford, Ont., Shakespearean Festival was favorably mentioned by all critics.

But John Gardner, drama and music critic for the Windsor Star, dealt less favorably with Davies' work.

"The miraculous part of it all is how that distinguished and world-renowned actor - director Dr. Tyrone Guthrie was able to unjigger the jigsaw puzzle that Love and Libel is and piece it together so that it bore more than a passing resemblance to a legitimate stage comedy.

"This indeed was a feat of genius, a feat which might well test the ingenuity of a master director like Guthrie."

The play opens Nov. 21 at Boston for a two-week run. A New York appearance is planned but in doubt.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to express our sincere thanks to our many friends and neighbors, whose acts of kindness, expressions of sympathy, did so much to help us in the loss of our beloved mother. We especially thank Dr. Morrison, Dr. Calbeck, nurses and staff of Kootenay Lake Gen. Hospital for their kind attention to our mother, Mrs. Perdue, during her illness.
The Family

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to extend our sincere thanks and appreciation to many friends, neighbors and relatives for their kindness and sympathy and so many beautiful floral tributes, which we received during the sudden loss of our beloved husband and father Alex Swetlikoe. Special thanks to Dr. Johnston and nurses of Castlegar Hospital, Thompson's Funeral Home and special thanks to Nick Hlookoff and young choir.
Mrs. Anne Swetlikoe and Allan, Betty and John Voykin.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to thank our many friends for their acts of kindness and beautiful floral tributes and messages. Also special thanks to the Nelson Legion Branch Ladies Auxiliary to the Legion, Canon Silverwood, Rev. Bushe, to the ladies and men of the B. of R.T. Special thanks to the Thompson Funeral Home for their kind an dcourteous service in our great loss of a beloved husband and Father William Simpson.
Mrs. W. Simpson and Roland

Last rites held for Alex Swetlikoe. Funeral services for the late Alex Swetlikoe of Nelson, who was killed suddenly on Sept. 8th, were held at the home of A. Swetlikoe. Many beautiful floral offerings and cards were received. Mr. Swetlikoe was born in Mikado, Sask., coming to New Westminster in 1938 where he was a mill wright for many years. His interment took place at Shoreacres. Pallbearers were his three brothers, Fred, William and John, two brothers-in-law, Bill and Mike, and cousin Walter. He was survived by his loving wife, son Allan and daughter Betty.

Your Individual Horoscope

By Frances Drake

For Sunday, November 13, 1960

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) — The strong, assured beginning, backed by faith and confidence will aid others to a better day, as well as bolster yourself. Dignity, integrity stressed.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus)—Little things others do for us is too often forgotten; today would be a fine day for writing, telephoning, or telling someone in person how much you appreciate them. Enjoy the outdoors.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini) — When you arise, stop for that moment of reflection, be grateful for still another day, wherein you can build, rejoice and share, and relish so many things! It's all in the attitude.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer) — Quiet forst, for contemplation soothes the soul, thus calms nerves and eventually means smoother going. Look for the best in everything and you will find many happy surprises.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo) — Among your favorably aspected days, this one urges some thought to formation of new plans, revised procedures for the week. Waste no moments, even relaxing should be useful.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — With proper frame of mind this whole month should be in your strongly successful column. But a little dissention there and there can upset any good day. YOU make matters go well.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra) — Treatment of today and people whom you contact is omportant to many days ahead. Give the best performance you can, and that will be VERY good. New advantages afloat.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 22 (Scorpio) — Your sense of the uncommon and know-how in difficult matters may be tested. Remain poised, think before you speak or act, your judgment will be clear, potent.

NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius) — Striving against time can not only deplete energies but cause poorer effort and show strain. Take some period of today for reviewing, digesting, suggestions, diversion.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn) — Saturn's most auspicious aspect favors the extraordinary, so be sure what you plan is within reason, too. As many friendly influences exist as do other kinds; up to you to distinguish.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 21 (Aquarius) — Fine for whatever you choose within realm of common sense and which would not be exhausting. Renew an old friend*ship, enjoy children's activities,* you can do much for them.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces) — Too often we look at results only and do not see the happy moments put into a project or activity while doing it. Life's best part is actually the striving, in good order!

YOU BORN TODAY have a wealth of attributes and talents for a most successful career, business life, or domesticity, in which you can make an ordinary day full of enthusiastic doings and plans. Others look to you for guidance, counsel, do not let them or your own self down by being regretful or dissatisfied. Your initial start in life gives you vigor, happy outlook. Enjoy them and show others how to. You go for the accomplishment itself, not the reward: right! Relax at regular intervals; put your tenacity and economy to wise use. Birthdate of: Robert L. Stevenson, 19th century Scottish novelist, poet; Edwin Booth, 19th century American tragedian, brother of John Wilkes Booth, assassinator of Abraham Lincoln.

For Monday, November 14, 1960

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) — If you find disturbing elements, tighten emotions, don't permit them to upset you or your plans. Again you may note things moving your way smoothly — much is up to you.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus)—Initiative and zest requirements today. Practicality and common sense also. Pay heed to small but important details, little niceties. When time allows, enjoy good reading.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini)—Analyze projects well before making decisions, promises. Your specific interests can advance. Add to day's benefits by being thoughtful and sufficiently slow to get right momentum.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer)—Vibrant day, encouraging for creative work, smart advertising, promotion. Be selective in shopping, choosing companions. Mental alertness, concentration begets progress.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo) — Good day on whole. Be mindful assuming debts, extending credit. Meet competition's challenge with determination and confidence in your abilities. Bypass little annoyances.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — Up to you to make this day count in the winner's column. A good time for introducing careful, accurate plans with a brisk start. Then the followup is just as important.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra) — Finances, domesticity, study among many favored. Be a step ahead where you can. Do your best without strain. Give your diversified talents room to assert, develop.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 22 (Ccorpio) — Allocate activities to include some planning, execute with finesse, no delay. Use your kindest, most persuasive personality; it can help greatly.

NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius) — Improvement is always on the march. Be a party to it, don't let it pass you by. Watch out for schemers, gossips. Guard against impulsive actions, careless mistakes.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn) — Better concentration on goal will enable you to avoid waste effort. Use intuitive powers to best advantage. Certain items may appear troublesome; a little patience can offset irritation.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius) — Fine day for your hobby, or worthy new interests. In maintaining a good tempo don't strain. Think, reason, remain your gracious self. Let's not underestimate opposition.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces) — Get down to facts, eliminate the superfluous. Be at ease, relaxed when pressure increases. We can all do better when we try. Tend to details carefully; be happy.

YOU BORN TODAY belong to a vibrant, ever-active Sign, strong in character, usually gleaning what the others are thinking; under*standing them, too. You take on* too much at times, and wear down normally robust health, so be forewarned. Plain, nourishing diet best as general rule. And complete relaxation is as much required as are exercises, walking, etc. Your reserve energy and business acumen can put you at top of your career. Never become disheartened at people's lack of interest; keep YOURS up. Great feats have been achieved by those who KEPT trying. Many odds serve to whet your appetite. Birthdate of: Sir Charles Lyell, 19th century British geologist; many doctors, architects, writers.

Ukranian Lauds Canada's Views On Integration

TORONTO (CP) — Newcomers to Canada must be made to realize they have a "stake in the country," Alberta pioneer Michael Luchkovich, 66, the first Canadian of Ukrainian descent to sit in parliament, said Thursday.

Mr. Luchkovich, former school teacher and an MP until 1936, was guest of honor at a dinner sponsored by the Ukrainian Branch 360 of the Canadian Legion and attended by more than 500.

He praised Canada's approach to integration and said Canadians are fortunate the various groups "are not submerged to lose their identity in a melting pot."

He was elected MP for Vegreville in 1926.

GET PAY RAISE
CALGARY (CP)—A two - year contract giving 550 coal miners an increase in wages was signed Thursday by representatives of the Drumheller Coal Operators' Association and the United Mine Workers of America (CLC).
