Sodom, Gomorrah Hit by Atomic Blast?

Soviet Scientist Gives New Twist to Bible Story

MOSCOW (AP) — A Soviet scientist has turned the Bible story of Sodom and Gomorrah into a science thriller by suggesting the two wicked cities were blown to bits by a nuclear blast set off by invaders from outer space.

Possibly, suggested physicist-mathematician M. Agrest, Lot's wife was petrified—the Bible says turned into a pillar of salt—when she disobeyed a warning not to linger in the area or look back. Those who looked at the fire and brimstone lost their eyesight and perished, he added.

Agrest's theory, reported in a Literary Gazette article, was transmitted seriously and in detail by the Soviet news agency, Tass. This is how it goes:

Before the dawn of history, the earth may have been visited by space travellers from other planets.

ACCOUNT FOR TERRACE?

The landing may have been in the area of the Baalbek Terrace, a platform of huge stone slabs in the anti-Lebanon mountains of Syria, or the slabs may have been constructed as a launching platform by the space invaders. Nobody, said the author, has satisfactorily explained the existence of the Baalbek terrace.

This area, relatively speaking, is not far from the Libyan desert, where glassy bodies called tektites, containing radioactive isotopes of aluminum and beryllium, have been found. The scientist said these particles may be the traces of the spacemen's atomic missiles.

The author then pointed to the Dead Sea scrolls found recently in the area adjoining the Lebanese mountains, and wrote:

"The description they give of the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah cannot help attracting the attention of modern men who are familiar with nuclear physics. In modern language, this legend says that people were adivsed to leave the area of the future explosion, not to linger in the open, not to watch the blast. Those of the fugitives who looked back lost their eyesight and perished."

The Tass account said:

"The Soviet scientist believes that during their stay on earth the space travellers tried to convey their knowledge to the people, but in view of the extremely low cultural and technical level of human society of that period it was most difficult to transmit this knowledge."

BRITAIN FACES RAIL STRIKE

May Be Worst Since 1926

LONDON (CP)—Britain started preparing Tuesday for a rail stoppage that may prove as crippling as the 1926 general strike.

There were reports that the government would declare a state of emergency to maintain essential service if the rail men walk off their jobs, as scheduled, on Monday.

This appeared a virtual certainty after the 24 leaders of the National Union of Railwaymen unanimously decided to strike unless the British transport commission grants an immediate pay increase.

During a 2½-hour meeting they rejected the latest commission offer of a wage increase within days of receiving the report of a three-man pay inquiry team.

The rejection will almost certainly force the government to take a hand in the dispute. Expectations are that Labor Minister Edward Heath will invite the unions to urgent consultations with his conciliation officers.

But W. R. Evans, acting secretary of the Associated Locomotive Engineers and Firemen, said that if what he heard was correct, he did not see that it was possible that anything further could be done to bring about a settlement before Monday.

Minister Sees Unlimited Tourist Potential in B.C.

VICTORIA (CP)—A picture of British Columbia as a huge tourist mecca worth millions a year in tourist dollars, was given the legislature Tuesday by Recreation Minister Westwood.

Speaking in the throne speech debate he said tourism now is the province's fourth-largest industry.

"It not only has the potential but the definite promise of surpassing agriculture and mineral production and, in a very short time, of becoming the province's second-largest money-earner, rivalling the $600,000,000 income of our giant forest industries."

The B.C. Tourist Council had set a short-term target revenue figure of at least $300,000,000 a year.

Nanaimo and the Island, the Minister said, stand on the threshold of "the greatest era of development to be anticipated anywhere." Vancouver with its cultural, scenic sports and recreational attractions would come to compete favorably with vacation and convention cities anywhere on the continent.

Outlining the road-building, park development including Great Garibaldi Park north of Vancouver, and steps to bring B. C. to the attention of the tourist, the minister said:

"We feel we are on safe ground, 366,255 miles of it, when we say takes to lure twice, three times, four times the number of visitors from our growing tourist industry."

But B. C. will have to work for it. Competition was stiffening up everywhere for the tourist dollar.

Mr. Westwood was one of four speakers before the House until 2 p.m. Wednesday when Health Minister Martin will take the floor.

The government introduced a number of "housekeeping" bills, bringing various acts up to date and clarifying them.

The House heard a renewal of a CCF charge that the Social Credit government had diverted money from essential services to satisfy "its obsession with debt reduction."

SERVICES "STARVED"

Rae Eddie (CCF-New Westminster) said municipalities, schools and social services were "starved" so that the government could burn bonds at Kelowna last summer and declare it was free of debt.

He hoped the policy now would change. Medical care should be made part of the BCHIS.

Gordon Gibson (SC-Delta) urged steps to ease the taxation load on the aged home-owner on a low, fixed income. There should be an easing of assessments on such properties or else a large increase in the $28 a year homeowner grant to these people.

Arvid Lundell (SC-Revelstoke) said there should be no overly long delay in building Mica Creek dam as part of the huge Columbia River development. Any protracted delay would be a bitter blow to the Interior.

He said he could see no merit in a high Arrow dam. It would flood agricultural land needed to produce for the growing Revelstoke community.

Mr. Lundell gave much of his speech to praising the provincial highways program. He urged that the whole transportation situation "involving both highways and steamer travel between Revelstoke and Nelson should be studied to stimulate full use of the new trans-Canada Highway.

Social Services Starved Says MLA

VICTORIA (CP)—A CCF member charged in the legislature Tuesday that the Social Credit government had diverted money from "hospitals and other services" in the province "to satisfy its obsession with debt reduction."

Rae Eddie of New Westminster said the municipalities, the schools, the social services and hospitals all were "starved" so the government could have its Kelowna bond-burning "circus act" last August and say it had paid off the net debt.

He hoped the policy would now change and money would be forthcoming. For one thing medical care should be added to the B.C. hospital insurance program.

The legislature also heard a Social Crediter from the same area, Gordon Gibson of Delta, urge government action to develop the beach at White Rock, to improve the King George VI highway and to ease the tax burden on the aged who lived in their own homes.

On the latter point Mr. Gibson said the aged home-owner was "burdened" with taxation. He appealed for an easing of assessments or a move to help through a big increase in the $28 a year home-owner grant to these aged people.

Mr. Eddie made a special plea for reversal of Health Minister Martin's turndown of a $225,000 improvement program for Royal Columbian Hospital, oldest institution on the mainland, built in 1864. It had a children's ward which was overcrowded, "disgraceful and a very dangerous fire hazard."

To Wed Woman He Hadn't Seen for 32 Years

VANCOUVER — A whispered, "Are you feeling well?" and a firm handshake, was all 55-year-old John Piskorik could manage here Tuesday as he greeted his prospective bride whom he had not seen for 32 years.

Piskorik's emotions made him mute as his fiancee, Anne Piskorik, 38, stepped off a Canadian Pacific airliner following a year-long fight to get out of Czechoslovakia.

The couple had last seen each other in 1928 when Piskorik came to Canada from the village of Lomne, Czechoslovakia, after marrying Anne's older sister, Mary.

Piskorik began corresponding with Anne, who is now a widow, after Mary died in Sept., 1957, and the couple decided to get married. Although they share the same surname, they are not related, as John explains "there are 17 homes filled with Piskoriks in our village of Lomne.

For the past year, Anne's efforts to come to Canada have been blocked by red tape, but Piskorik continued to supply her with money and she eventually managed to get permission to leave the country.

Anne was met at the airport by a delegation of Canadian Piskoriks, including two future sons, Steve and Mikt. Steve's wife, Beverley, and his son, Randy, three months old, also greeted Anne for the first time.

FINCH ADMITS DECEIT

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Adultery is no sin for a man if his wife consents, Dr. Bernard Finch said Tuesday.

The wealthy twice-wed physician, who has told of several extra-marital affairs, gave that view in testimony at his murder trial.

He added that he had engaged in marital deception for financial and other benefits. But he said it was not fair to say he had lied for money.

Dr. Finch had testified he and his wife agreed each was free to come and go with no questions asked — as long as he left her alone. He said she was sexually frigid and expected unfaithfulness in him.

The prosecutor reminded Dr. Finch that he has previously testified to deceiving his wife, two landlords and a reconciliation court. Dr. Finch agreed he had so testified.

"I think there was a deception, yes, on Barbara's part, and my part, and on the two of us together toward each other."

"For financial benefit?"

"Financial, and social, and other things."

40-Foot Waves Lash U.S. Coast

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Waves up to 40 feet high battered the U.S. Pacific coast Tuesday.

Damage in the hundreds of thousands of dollars was caused by wind-whipped seas to Northern California and Oregon.

Waves poured over and down a 21,800-ton wine tanker off San Francisco. Its power gone, the Angelo Petri, with a cargo of 2,500,000 gallons of wine, wallowed helplessly while helicopters shuttled 14 crew members from ship to shore. Then the skipper said he believed his $7,000,000 vessel could be saved with the 25 men aboard, and the rescue operation ceased.

Scores of coastal residents fled gale-lashed homes. More than 1000 people had been forced from their homes by river floods Monday.

Four youths were washed off a rock at Pacific Grove, on Monterey Bay, about 75 miles south of San Francisco. Three struggled to shore but the fourth apparently drowned.

The seas, whipped by winds up to 110 miles an hour, wrecked a $100,000 dock at Port Oxford, Ore., about 75 miles north of the California-Oregon border.

In the Monterey Bay area south of San Francisco, part of the famed 17-mile scenic drive was blocked by boulders flung out of the sea.

B.C. Should Consider Power Export—Shrum

VANCOUVER (CP)—A member of British Columbia's energy board said Tuesday the province now should be investigating the possibility of exporting power to Alberta and the United States.

Dr. Gordon Shrum, dean of graduate studies at the University of B.C., said the investigations should be made in advance of major decisions which must be made soon on where to develop hydro-electric dams.

Dr. Shrum made his speech to a meeting of the Lions Club a day after W. C. Mainwaring, president of the Peace River Power Development Company which plans a $600,000,000 development on the Peace River, said export of surplus power could assure B.C. of inexpensive power for home for all time.

Mr. Mainwaring said B.C. should develop all its hydro power as quickly as possible and sell the surplus to the U.S.

Dr. Shrum said: "Hydro power will be cheap only if it is developed in large units and the surplus needs can be exported to outside markets."

But the markets must be known first.

LONG TERM BASIS

Dr. Shrum said he favored exporting B.C. power on a long-term basis, with a review of agreed prices every several years.

Even as discussions go on in regard to when and where hydro power developments should be located, "millions of dollars of kilowatts are being wasted in British Columbia."

The advent of long-distance transmission of power put the economic possibilities of exporting power in a new light.

On Columbia River power, Dr. Shrum said that power sent back to B.C. as a result of downstream benefits could be regarded as cheap power while power generated within B.C.'s borders from the same river could be reasonable. In addition, such a program would also offer the benefit of flood control.

Moral . . . if You Are Homely — Don't

SYDNEY, Australia (Reuters) — A Sydney psychiatrist, who has examined hundreds of killers, today gave women advice on how to get away with murder.

Dr. John McGeorge told a luncheon meeting that juries show more leniency towards women charged with murder.

Speaking on "murder and motive—the lighter side of it," McGeorge said that a woman charged with murder has only to follow three simple manoeuvres to be reasonably sure of acquittal.

1. Wear a black dress with white piping.

2. Have a downcast air.

3. Assume a demure expression throughout the trial.

"A woman has a much better chance than a man of acquittal on a murder charge," he said.

"Of course, if she happens to be a blonde, her chances rise about 45 per cent.

"With attractive women, whose chances are much better again, juries sometimes have to be restrained from handing them a medal for their crimes."

Teamsters Get Cold Shoulder

By JOHN LeBLANC
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — The muscular Teamsters Union has been rebuffed in its first attempt to move into the railway field in Canada.

The Canada Labor Relations Board, it was learned Tuesday, has upheld Frank H. Hall's Railway Clerks in a jurisdictional fight with the Teamsters over a small group of CPR employees in Vancouver.

The decision could have future wide application in other parts of Canada where the CPR is planning to integrate some now-separate truck operations into its structure.

Jimmy Hoffa's Teamsters, who claim organizing jurisdiction over "everything on wheels," were trying in the Vancouver case to get bargaining rights for about 300 CPR workers, some of them truckers.

Previously, they had been employed in four different CPR-owned companies, now merged into a single CPR department called Merchandise Service. It includes several categories such as freight and express handlers, drivers, warehousemen, clerks and mechanics.

The railway clerks, bargaining for years with the CPR, contended employees of the new department belong to its system-wide jurisdiction, and the board upheld this view.

The board said the small Vancouver unit is not appropriate for separate collective bargaining, since the men are doing the same work as that for which Hall's union bargains generally.

The Canadian Brotherhood of Railway, Transport and General Workers backed the clerks in their contention.

Parliament Tuesday

By The Canadian Press

The Commons approved an appropriation of $6,000,000 as Ottawa's share of emergency federal-provincial acreage payments to prairie farmers with snowed-in crops.

Opposition leader Pearson accused the government of asking for a blank cheque for $6,000,000 without telling the Commons the terms on which the money will be spent.

CCF House Leader Hazen Argue said the government acted only reluctantly and then with a take it or leave it proposition to the provinces.

Agriculture Minister Harkness denied both charges and other accusations of disregard for Parliament.

Justice Minister Fulton said that there is a decided possibility of criminal charges in connection with Montreal bridge toll collections as a result of new information produced by RCMP raids.

A bill of Samuel Boulanger (L-Drummond-Athabaska) that Parliament adopt a distinctive national flag this session was "talked out."

Labor Minister Starr estimated federal costs for the current winter works program will exceed last year's outlay by some $8,500,000.

Senator David Croll (L-Ontario) suggested government action to help small ports share in increased traffic brought by the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Scientist May Visit Soviet

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian scientists may go to Russia next month to see what success the Soviets have had with a live-virus polio vaccine.

A reply tabled in the Commons Tuesday by Health Minister Monteith for Paul Martin (L—Essex East) said steps have been taken to arrange for two Canadians to attend a Russian meeting in March. The Russians have conducted large-scale experiments with Sabin vaccine, a live-virus type.

Man Killed in Plant Explosion

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md. (AP) A series of explosions ripped thrugh a fireworks plant Tuesday, touching off a mammoth fire and killing the owner.

The body of James Archie Fabrizio, 35-year-old owner of the Havre de Grace Fireworks Company, was identified by a medical examiner from two false teeth and his belt buckle. A man saw him walk into one of the buildings just before it blew up.

"Everything was burned off him," said police chief William A. Bullock. "No arms, no legs, no nothing. It was horrible."

A woman who lived in the area, Mrs. Nellie Stansbury, 62, died at a hospital of a heart attack suffered during the excitement.

Five persons were injured, including two employees.

Columbia Talks Begin at Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP) — The federal and British Columbia governments began a two-day meeting designed to consolidate their joint position before embarking Thursday on negotiations with the United States about a Columbia River development treaty.

The federal group includes External Affairs Minister Green, Justice Minister Fulton and Resources Minister Alvin Hamilton. Lands and Forests Minister Ray Williston is the only cabinet minister in the B.C. delegation.

Both the federal and provincial governments will be represented in the bargaining team sitting down later this week with the Americans.

The guide posts in the treaty talks, it is anticipated, will be the recommendations issued late last year by the International Joint Commission. Among other things, these recommendations urge development of the most economic sites first and suggest a 50-50 split with Canada on benefits gained downstream by the Americans—in flood control or hydro—from water stored in Canada.

VIENNA (AP)—The Czechoslovak Communist trade union newspaper asked its readers which Czech films they liked best in 1959. It got some stinging replies.

Prace ran one blast from a reader in the town of Frydek as an example of depraved taste.

"Czechoslovak films make me sick, and I don't go to them any more because I can't risk my health," said the reader.

"Now I consider it a great shame that the Czechoslovak public never gets to see a film with Kim Novak, who after all is of Czech descent."

Prace asserted that the outspoken writer, and others who expressed similar sentiments, had bad taste because "they wouldn't appreciate the kind of films which show young Communists building a socialist world, they disregard the achievements of their socialist homeland but admire the nonsense of their rich and foolish aunt in the United States."

"White Canes" a Warning to Public

"Every Canadian has three ways to prevent blindness," declared D. E. Hunter, president of the CNIB of Nelson and District as he discussed White Cane Week now underway. Sponsored by The Canadian Council of the Blind and The Canadian National Institute for the Blind week, not associated with fund-raising, reminds Canadians of the use of the White Cane and the role each citizen plays in the care of his eyes.

CNIB is a beneficiary agency of the Community Chest at Nelson and therefore does not campaign for funds.

"Help prevent blindness," he said, "help cure it and help improve the lives of those already blind."

HELP YOURSELF

You can help prevent blindness by observing these suggestions:

1. Always wear protective goggles when working with abrasives or chemicals.

2. Get plenty of exercise and sleep. Good health means good sight. Take your children to the doctor when they develop headaches and listlessness. They may have poor vision.

More than 2000 people lose their sight every year and doctors agree that over 50 per cent of this blindness is completely unnecessary. "Realize that blindness is your business," he urged, "and take steps to combat eye disease in its early stages. Encourage others with poor vision to have their eyes examined. Sometimes people are afraid of the doctor and put off a visit to an eye specialist until it is too late. Don't let indifference be a cause of blindness.

3. Help cure blindness by supporting well-established projects in eye research, but as Mr. Hunter warned, "watch out for phonies."

A wealth of talent often remains undeveloped through blindness," Mr. Hunter said. "Many artistic people have their talents imprisoned because they cannot see or must substitute a second - rate career for a lucrative one. During White Cane Week study the frustrations that arise from these causes and help make life easier for your blind neighbors.

"Do not avoid the use of the word "See" in your conversation. Talk about the news of the day and expect the blind person to answer questions. Remember that blindness is your business and do what you can to lighten its burden all year round."

Mrs. D. L. Kerr Dies in East

Word has been received here of the death in Unionville, Ontario, of Mrs. Emily Kerr, widow of the late D. Louis Kerr, formerly of Nelson.

Mr. Kerr had lived in Nelson for 54 years before leaving with his wife to make their home in Victoria in 1954. He and Mrs. Kerr were married in Nelson in the early days.

Mr. Kerr owned the first modern apartment block to be built in Nelson — still known as the Kerr Apartments. He died in Victoria in July, 1957.

His wife, who had been in poor health since August, 1959, is thought to have relatives in Ontario.

Heavy Smoke Awakens Sleeper

R. Wallin of 724 Victoria Street awoke at 4:30 Tuesday morning to find his home filled with dense smoke. Unable to find the source of the fumes, he called the fire department, which responded promptly.

A search of the premises discovered a 'short' in the wiring of a motor on the forced air system in the building. Damage was slight.

No Need For Dull Nights in Nelson

ONE OF SEVERAL night school classes sponsored by the Department of Education and held in Nelson schools is wood-carving. This class has attracted 15 pupils, two of which are shown with instructor M. T. Roberts (above). They are Mrs. V. C. Owen and Mrs. M. A. Streat. Other classes given are in the arts, typing, gas installation and square-dancing.

AN AMBITIOUS PROJECT undertaken in the night school by Russel Davis (left) is a chair to be carved in a period design. Here, Mr. Davis displays the back part of the chair, which with time and skill will be transformed into a hand-carved masterpiece. Approximately 110 students attend the night school classes.

Important FOE Meeting Monday

Carl Thacker, Yakima, Washington, member of the Board of Grand Trustees, Fraternal Order of Eagles, will address members of Nelson Aerie, on Monday, February 15, is was announced today by O. W. Christenson, Worthy President of the Aerie.

Thacker is a past state president of the Washington State Aerie. He is chairman of the Washington State membership board and served as trustee of the state Aerie. Thacker was Secretary-Treasurer of the state membership board. He is secretary and a past president of Yakima Aerie.

Discipline Alone Not the Answer

Agree Parents' Interest In Children Important

Children of today are too much exposed to commercial propaganda through the radio, television and newspaper, Rev. E. Donovan Jones of St. Paul's-Trinity Pro-Cathedral told more than 100 "cream-of-the-crop" parents and teachers at a PTA panel discussion in Central school Monday night. night.

The parents who have attended this meeting, Mr. Jones said, are the minority of the parents with school-age children needing some guidance in their child's growth.

If more parents would take a little more interest in what their children are learning in school and doing on the street, there would be fewer problems with school children.

"I'm not criticising the parents," he said. "But there are only about one-seventh of the parents with school children who are present here tonight. With more cooperation from the parents, the teacher's job would be much easier."

Discipline is conducive to alertness, Mr. Jones said. No one can accuse the schools of not having disciplined conduct. However, over-emphasis on discipline overrules alertness.

B. B. Crawford, principal of Nelson Junior High school and a panelist said students with a lower than average intellert resent application of disripline if it is not done properly. Good students, however, are wise enough to know they have a job to do.

Malholm Brandon, probation officer for Nelson and moderator remarked, "Emotional instability causes children to be backward. This disturbance in the child reflects in his I.Q.

STARTS YOUNG

"Delinquency can, and does, start from grade one or two," he said. "It is much easier to prevent this instability when it begins than attempt to fight it after it has taken root."

Standards are not set by parents anymore, Rev. Jones said. Parents must go along with what their children do and say. Futility comes from this.

Mr. Crawford agreed by saying, children have been in charge of the standard of dress and behavior for a long time. Parents must see that they have some rights too.

Mr. Brandon remarked to this comment, "It may be possible to impose an accepted code that both the parent and child understand. A control group run by the young people governing dress and everything in general."

DEMAND STANDARDS

Mr. Crawford said, "if standards were demanded, the young people would measure up. The schools are trying to encourage students to be more sensible in their dress."

Mr. Brandon remarked, "there is not a terrific delinquency problem in Nelson. Few other towns can compete with Nelson's record in delinquency control. Conduct and convention coupled with respect is a requirement of democracy. That it be demanded in the schools is beneficial to all concerned.

Not more than five per cent of the teenagers in Nelson are wandering on the streets when they shouldn't be, Mr. Brandon said.

Kootenay Pioneer Dies in Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mrs. Alice Kummer, 89, a pioneer during early mining days in the Kootenays and a former resident of Trail, Rossland, Nelson and Cranbrook, has died at her Vancouver home. Her husband, a baker, died in 1921 and she came to Vancouver seven years later.

One Death in 18 Accidents

One fatality occurred in one of 18 accidents investigated in the Nelson RCMP subdivision last week.

The death was that of Donald Russell, 35, of Cranbrook who was crushed beneath a truck which overturned on the St. Mary's Lake logging road Friday. He had obtained a lift on the truck after a tire on his own truck became flat.

There were five prosecutions, the week's review also showed. For the entire British Columbia area, there were 238 accidents, four deaths and 88 prosecutions.

Subsidy Offer Draws Criticism

WINNIPEG (CP) — A Manitoba farm spokesman said Tuesday the railway bid for a government subsidy on export grain shipments would put the West into an annual budget battle in Parliament.

W. J. Parker, president of the 35,000-member Manitoba Pool Elevators, challenged the railways' subsidy proposal before the royal commission on transportation.

It would turn the grain issue into a political football, he said. The Canadian Pacific Railway and Canadian National Railways have asked for a subsidy from the federal treasury to offset $70,500,000 losses they claim are incurred yearly in handling the West's export grain crop at the low Crowsnest Pass level of 1899.

If the railways get this, Mr. Parker said, "every year the diminishing vote percentage in western Canada—these three provinces—will be fighting a budget debate in the House and it will have lost the full protection of the Crowsnest agreement."

He made the comments under questioning as the six commissioners continued their investigation of all aspects of Canada's tricky railway problems—including the grain rate question.

Car Smash Serious For Two

Two Nelson women are hospitalized with serious injuries suffered in a Washington highway smashup.

The accident that saw three Nelsonites escape death by a miracle occurred Saturday night near Ione, Wash., when a car driven by Sam Siminoff of Nelson was struck almost head-on by an on-coming vehicle.

In hospital in Metaline Falls with broken ribs and knee injuries is Mrs. Siminoff, while Mrs. Christina Erickson is in Kootenay Lake General Hospital with multiple leg injuries. It was believed that Mrs. Erickson would require surgery.

Members of the family said Tuesday night that Mrs. Siminoff, who was in severe shock when taken to the Metaline Hospital, could not be moved for several days. Mr. Siminoff, suffering bruises and shock, was brought to Nelson Sunday night by Mr. and Mrs. Sam Siminoff, Jr.

Driver of the second car was hospitalized with concussion.

CAR STOPPED

The Siminoffs and Mrs. Erickson were returning from Spokane when the mishap occurred. An approach-car, reported taking a corner at excessive speed, was unable to straighten out and slammed into the Nelson vehicle. Roads were treacherous with slush, and Mr. Siminoff had brought the car to a near standstill in a move to avoid the accident, it was repoted.

The late model car, thrown about 30 feet and the front end pushed in, is a total wreck. The car is owned by Colin McCosham of Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. Siminoff had driven Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Olson as far as Spokane on their return trip to Berkeley, Calif., where Mr. Olson former Nelson city engineer, was returning to his studies at the University of California. Mrs. Erickson was accompanying her son-in-law and daughter to Spokane.

Last Year in Old Hospital Showed Surplus

Kootenay Lake General Hospital Society completed its final year of operation in the old hospital on High Street with surplus of $463.48. This was disclosed in the audit report of the Hospital Insurance Service reported to the finance committee of the Board of Directors.

In forwarding the report to the committee, the administrator R. H. Procter, noted that as a result of the BCHIS inspection of the 1958 operation the hospital had received financial assistance covering costs of transfering the hospital operation from the old to the new building.

These included extraordinary costs due to doing the hospital laundry commercially instead of in its own plant, certain administrative expenses related to the new hospital program, and the establishing of new hospital supplies.

Mass Citizenship Ceremony for Today

About 40 persons are expected to be sworn in as new Canadian citizens in the Nelson courthouse today.

His honor Judge E. P. Dawson will administer the oath of allegiance to the group, which will be welcomed by a number of Nelson residents.

Among those participating will be Most Rev. Wilfred E. Doyle, bishop of Nelson; Mayor T. S. Shorthouse, David P. Fairbank, president of the Chamber of Commerce; G. A. Hoover and Kokanee Chapter, IODE, representatives. F. S. Aikins, president of the Nelson branch of the British Foreign Bible Society, will present Bibles on which each new citizen will swear the oath of allegiance. Scarlet-coated Mounties will also be stationed in court.

The ceremony is open to the public.

SIU to Probe Violence

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Seafarers' International Union, accused by many British Columbia unions of violence, Tuesday decided to establish a committee to probe the violence.

A meeting of 250 members of the union directed the committee to "investigate the violence that is being perpetrated on the waterfront by the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway, Transport and General Workers (CLC)."

The brotherhood and the SIU have been conducting a pitched battle for control of west coast seamen since the seafarers' were expelled from the Canadian Labor Congress for raiding a brotherhood-protected union.

Jewish Boy's Sad Diary Found

WARSAW (Reuters) — A moving diary of a 12-year-old Jewish boy about his life under wartime German persecution has been found in a Polish village.

It is pathetically similar to the diary of Anne Frank, the Jewish girl whose account of hiding from the Nazis in Holland stirred the world and was made into a book and a film.

David Rubinowicz' story, a record of the sufferings and privations of himself and his family as the German persecution of Polish Jews mounted between 1940 and 1942, is told in the monthly intellectual review Tworczosc.

Maria Jarochoska, a Polish woman journalist, said the diary ended after the lad presumably died following deportation from his village.

NEW BEAR HOME

VANCOUVER (CP) — Bears in Stanley Park zoo are going to have a new luxury home costing $100,000. The parks board approved at its annual meeting a project which will provide the bears with a pleasant, natural-type setting near the penguin pool. Construction will begin in the fall.

U.S. To Continue Canadian Lead, Zinc Quotas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Interior Secretary Fred Seaton said Tuesday he expects both the oil import program and the import quotas program for lead and zinc to be continued beyond this year.

Seaton told a press conference he believes the oil import controls have worked remarkably well. He said one result has been increased exploration for domestic reserves.

As to zinc and lead quotas, he said domestic production of both metals has increased since the import restrictions, prices have moved upward in a modest way and seem to be stabilized.

P. O. Volume Down in 1960

CRANBROOK — Though revenue from postage stamps and meters and from unemployment insurance stamps sales were both higher, gross volume of business at Cranbrook post office was down compared to last January, Postmaster R. E. Fennessy reports.

The unemployment insurance stamps sales were $7849 compared with $5509 for the month last year when the lower premium rate applied. Returns on postage stamps and meters were $6390.76 compared to $4888 for the month last year.

The post office paid 1236 money orders and issued 3065, compared with 884 paid and 3502 issued during January of last year.

Kimberley to Host Northwest High School Ski Tournament

KIMBERLEY — On March 5th and 6th, school ski teams from Alberta, British Columbia, Idaho, Montana and Washington will congregate in Kimberley for the 12th Annual Intermediate High School Ski Meet.

The meet will take place on beautiful North Star Mountain, which is easily accessible by a road which is kept in good condition throughout the skiing season.

North Star Mountain has the longest T-Bar lift in the world. The lift is 5910 feet long and is capable of carrying five hundred skiers per hour to the top of the mountain, which has an elevation of 5822 feet. When the skiers completes hs 12-minute ride to the tpo, he may choose any one of six runs for his descent.

SNOW GOOD

Snow conditions are excellent, and temperatures range in the 20's. Powder snow and blue skies set off a splendid view of the Rocky Mountains, visible from any part of the hill. A canteen in the ski lodge and repair facilities are also available. There are two cross-country courses and two ski jumps in the facilities. The "Canadian" cross-country course is nine and a half miles long, while the shorter "Intercollegiate" is only five and a half miles. The larger of the two jumps is 275 feet long, while the smaller or "B" jump is 150 feet.

The Selkirk High School Ski Club of Kimberley is handling the meet assisted by the North Star Ski Club.

Kimberley was recently host to the Canadian National Ski Team Olympic Training Squad.

Vicar Travels 17,000 Miles During Year

BALFOUR — Kokanee Parish has had a busy and successful year. Representatives from Balfour, Longbeach, Procter, Queen's Bay, Gray Creek, Crawford Bay, Riondel and Willow Point attended the annual meeting of the Kokanee Anglican Parish, held in the Balfour Woman's Institute hall.

The Vicar, Rev. W. Edington, was in the chair, and H. W. Hankin of Willow Point played for the opening and closing hymns. T. Ludgate was the secretary.

Mr. Edington had compiled the reports from all the organizations of the Parish in a 14-page booklet, whose front page was a pencil sketch of Kokanee Glacier, drawn by Mr. Edington. These were presented to the meeting and approved. The last two pages made up the Vicar's report which covered his work during 1959. He had travelled some 17,000 miles to hold 247 services. Services in most points had shown an increase and the finances were the best thy have ever been in the Kokanee Parish.

Mr. Edington thanked all who had helped him during the year especially the Sunday School teachers, organists, youth leaders, WA and Guides. Mr. Ludgate was thanked for his wonderful work as parish warden and secretary-treasurer.

Delegates to the Synod were H. Hankin, T. G. Ludgate and Clyde White. Alternate delegates were N. Denny, G. Noden, T. Jenkin.

Mr. Ludgate announced that all commitments had been paid, or everpaid, this year and made a motion that last year's budget of $6650 be adopted again for 1960.

This was carried unanimously. The Vicar, who is writing a history of the Parish, asked for pictures of the early days in Kokanee. He also outlined the Jubilee Program of Synod which will be held in Nelson May 31 to June 3. Refreshments were served by the ladies of Queen's Bay and Longbeach Guilds at the close of the meeting.

200 Expected At Trail For Community Program Meeting

TRAIL — Upwards of 200 persons from across the province will attend a join conference here in May of the British Columbia Recreation Commission and the B.C. Community Programs Branch, an affiliate of the Department of Education.

Jim Patton of Victoria, director of the Community Programs Branch, finalized plans for the joint convention Monday in talks with Ray Gould, TAA recreation director and this year's president of the BCRA.

Main purpose of such a conference, explained Mr. Patton is to draw together more administrative officials, such as representatives of city councils and village commissions.

"We feel," he stated, "that they would have a closer relationship with understanding of and the need for recreation bodies."

GUEST SPEAKER

The conferences are scheduled for May 4-5-6-7 and it is hoped that pole-vaulting-great Rev. Bob Richards will accept an invitation to address the gatherings.

Mr. Patton said it was noticeable in B.C. that the value of planned recreation through a recreation director is becoming more and more realized.

"But," he added quickly, "there are still many centres without a recreation director, with the foremost place being Victoria."

Mr. Patton felt every centre in B.C. with a population of 3000 should have its own recreation director.

He said that although 30 B.C. communities had fulltime directors, there were many larger centres without one, including Grand Forks, Osoyoos - Oliver, Penticton, Kamloops, Kelowna, Vernon, Quesnel, Williams Lake, Smithers, Chilliwack, Abbotsford and Mission.

NOT ANSWER

It would be wrong, he conceded, to claim that recreation is the answer for juvenile delinquency. But you could say, and rightly so, that cities, towns and villages with planned recreation programs help curtail such a problem.

"It is a known fact, too," he said "that the city with a keen approach to recreation is the better city for it."

Comparing B.C. with other western provinces, Mr. Patton said B.C. and Saskatchewan were the style setters. Manitoba lags behind the other three western provinces.

Mr. Patton had special praise for Trail recreation director Ray Gould.

"He has done a marvellous job here," said Mr. Patton, "and I'm sure all citizens are cognizant of it."

Scouts to Officially Open Regional Setup

Senior officials of the Boy Scouts Association representing Provincial-Yukon headquarters and Kootenay-Boundary Regional Council met in Creston Feb. 6 to complete arrangements to officially launch the new region in Southeast B. C.

The go-ahead signal was given earlier in the year to a group of scout officials in the Kootenay-Boundary area headed by the late Dr. C. A. H. Wright to organize a regional council and locate an office for headquarters within the region. By November 1 last year the office was located in Nelson and an executive commissioner obtained within the ranks of the Boy Scouts Association executive staff.

The meeting in Creston on Saturday went over the progress of the new regional council and financial arrangements between the provincial body and the region were completed. The new region is now on its own and everyone present endorsed the general optimism that the Boy Scout Association in this region will gain in strength, and advance in standards of scouting now with its own headquarters located within the Interior.

A report by the regional commissioner, Archdeacon B. A. Resker, was read by vice-president J. Giegerich which suggested that the regional association should be a living memorial to the late Dr. Wright who had worked so faithfully to bring about a regional association in this area. The suggestion was heartily endorsed by the meeting.

The representatives from provincial headquarters were president M. J. Foley, Les Way and executive commissioner R. Ken Jordan. Regional council members included J. Giegerich, chairman C. E. Charlton, B. Houlden, Don Truscott, H. L. Abbott, R. S. Nelson, R. Commons, E. G. Fletcher, D. C. Westaway, W. H. Blair and H. M. Peverley.

Mica Creek "Key" Says MLA Lundell

VICTORIA (CP) — An interior Social Crediter Tuesday told the legislature it would be a bitter blow to the interior if there is undue delay in building Mica Creek dam as part of the huge Columbia River development.

Arvid Lundell of Revelstoke said future of that city has for some time been predicated "on the building of Mica dam because the International Joint Commission has indicated that Mica is the key to the whole project of Columbia River development.

"It would be a bitter blow to us and other parts of the interior if there should be any protracted delay in the building of this dam."

Mr. Lundell could at present see no merit in a high Arrow Lakes dam which would flood agricultural land badly needed to produce for the growing Revelstoke community. He was glad to see that the Nelson Chamber of Commerce had taken this view.

The Revelstoke member gave most of his speech to lauding the government's highways program, which had put in shape interior roads neglected for years by previous administrations.

He urged that the "whole transportation situation, involving both highway and steam travel between Revelstoke and Nelson should be studied vigorously in order to stimulate the fullest possible use of the new Trans-Canada Highway."

He also suggested that the Revelstoke-Arrowhead road, now almost half rebuilt, be accelerated as a very important link in the province's tourist road system.

There should be improvement to the Galena Bay-Gerrard road, and a road should be constructed between Galena Bay and Nakusp.

"I hope these will not be overlooked in future highway plans," he said. "Improvements to the Arrowhead dock road are also immediately necessary."

High Bid for Old Brewery Property

FERNIE — An offer of $15,000 for the entire block of three homes and land donated to the city by Interior Breweries Ltd., was revealed when tenders were opened at a regular meeting of City Council.

The offer came from an eastern Canada man who said he represented a group interested in establishing an industry at the site. Council decided to instruct the city solicitors to request the man to appear at a meeting with a concrete proposal by Feb. 15.

LOCAL BIDS

Local bids for individual parcels of land and the homes were received from Mr. and Mrs. Victor Bossio, who offered $2000 for the Lot I property; W. Morley $1700 for the home on Lot 3; C. Salvador $850 for the home on Lot 2; and W. Chester and Jane Chester $600 for the Lot 3 property. Two of the bidders also made offers for lots adjoining the property on which they tendered.

No decision was reached regarding disposal of the property and the matter will again come up for consideration after more is learned of the $15,000 offer. Several aldermen were skeptical regarding the larger offer, which was more or less provisional and indicated they would favor acceptance of the $1700 and $2000 bids if the larger offer did not appear bona fide. They indicated however, that the $850 and $600 bids were too low to warrant serious consideration.

NOT INDIANS?

NEW DELHI (Reuters) — Chinese Communist authorities have released 14 to 37 Indian citizens held in Tibet, Mrs. Lakshmi Menon, deputy external affairs minister, told Parliament today. Replying to questions, she said India is trying to get the remaining Indians released but the Chinese do not accept India's contention that they are Indian citizens.

Kimberley Legion Enrolment at Peak

KIMBERLEY — Branch No. 67, Canadian Legion, reports it has reached an all-time peak membership at 527 with indications this will be increased during the year. Kimberley will be host to the East Kootenay Zone quarterly meeting in April.

The branch at its February meeting approved a contribution to the Provincial Command $300 scholarships awarded each June, in addition to supporting its own annual $100 scholarship for Kimberley schools. In the past there have been three Kimberley winners of the provincial $300 award.

The branch will provide the judging team fo rthe snow-sculptors now appearing in gardens and boulevards as part of Kimberley's annual Snow Fiesta later this month. Peter Crooks' rink from Kimberley branch won the club curling championship and will continue to the zone bonspiel at Invermere Feb. 20 and 21.

Support of a community project to add four additional units to Pioneer Lodge, cottage-type elderly people's home, operated successfully here by the city for the past several years, has been asked of the branch. All units are now occupied, and 25 applicants are on file for future consideration.

Alberta Lumber Firm Invades B.C. Crowsnest

CRANBROOK — Atlas Lumber Company Ltd., Alberta's largest lumber manufacturer, has made its initial move into British Columbia with purchase of Knight Lumber Company Ltd., of Crow's Nest Pass area. Operators of this latter company are Frank Knight of Crowsnest, who founded it many years ago, Ed Cumberland of Jaffray and Gus Erickson of Crowsnest.

Its principal operations are in the Flathead Valley south of Fernie and in Elko area. It employs about 90 men in its logging and sawmills.

Atlas during the past two years has established a plant for milling, planing and dry kilns near Coleman, a short distance east of the Alberta boundary, where it manufactures lumber from timber on the eastern Rocky Mountain conservation area opened several years ago by the Kananaskis road.

Mr. Erickson is a past president and director of the Southern Interior Lumber Manufacturers' Association.

Archives Get Schofield Family Early Records

VICTORIA (CP) — A collection of family documents has been given to the provincial archives by John L. Schofield of Chapman Camp, B.C., curator W. E. Ireland said Tuesday.

Mr. Schofield and his sister, Letitia D. Schofield of Trail, presented the documents in memory of their father, James Hargrave Schofield, a Conservative member of the Legislature for West Kootenay from 1907-1933. He was also an alderman and mayor of Trail in 1902-1907.

The collection includes several letters to his wife and other family documents.

Mr. Schofield's mother was the eldest daughter of chief factor James Hargrave of the Hudson's Bay Company and has become a well-known historical character in the pioneer days of Western Canada.

"Taken as a whole it makes a noteworthy addition to the record of one of the great families of Rupert's Land and early Manitoba," Mr. Ireland said.

B.C. MLA Against Suggested Inquiry Into Trucking Fees

VICTORIA (CP)—The British Columbia legislature turned its eyes to the provincial trucking industry Monday night, with the government announcing it will reconvene a committee to look into fees imposed on the industry.

Labor Minister Wicks said the by Public Utilities ommission chairman Dr. H. F. Angus, will be recalled to look into fees and the operation of the new department of commercial transport, set up following the committee's report last year.

But at least one government member didn't approve of Mr. Wicks' plan.

Hugh Shirreff, Social Credit member for Skeena, issued a statement to the press saying the reappointment of the committee "is completely unacceptable to me and the truck loggers of Skeena."

"The reason it is unacceptable is because the matter is immediate and this has all the overtones of procrastination," he said.

He said Social Credit policy on the road users tax is "pricing the loggers of the province right out of business and long before we have lost world markets in our basic industry, we will have ourselves destroyed the means of production, namely the small logger."

The situation, he added, required immediate action and not a reinstitution of a commission "which originally imposed this iniquitous tax."

Mr. Wicks told the legislature the government wanted to have a new look at the situation in view of "conflicting reports" about the effect of the new higher rates on the trucking industry.

Two other government members, Irvin Corbett (SC—Yale), and Cyril Shelford (SC—Omineca) recently complained that the new rates were working a hardship on the industry and puttingg some truckers out of business.

AGRICULTURE EXPERTS

Mental Health Officers Named

KIMBERLEY — On unanimous vote of the membership, the temporary officers of the Kimberley branch of the Canadian Mental Health Association chosen last March on organization of the branch were elected for 1960 at the recent annual meeting. They are Herbert Chalmers president, Mrs. J. S. MacRea, vice-president; Mrs. R. H. Cameron, secretary and Mrs. G. M. Layton, treasurer. C. W. Davis is education and program chairman, Robert Oram membership chairman, and Mrs. Florence Phillips chairman of the committee which maintains the stock of match books on sale at various city points.

For the province-wide Christmas gift program to ensure a personal Christmas package to every patient in a mental hospital Kimberley branch consigned 200 wrapped gifts for the Coast distribution by service club volunteers. In co-operation with the All Saints Church girls' choir a carton of clothing for women patients at Essondale was packed and shipped.

The branch now has been stocked by its provincial headquarters with a wide variety of pamphlets dealing with phases of minor mental disturbance or illness which occur to most people occasionally with sponsaneous recovery. A main objective of the CMHA is early recognition of more serious disturbance which requires outside help for recovery.

Will Complete Dental Program Says Board

CASTLEGAR — The dental program for students in School District No. 9 already registered will be carried out in spite of the immediate departure of Dr. G. Page, local dentist. Dr. Z. Pawliuk will be in the area in June to complete the program, it was stated at the school board meeting here Monday night, but no further registrations will be accepted.

The senior matric refund committee advised the board that their policy has been set up and that all senibr matric students have been advised of this refund.

Roof bonding companies have been requested to inspect various small leaks which have developed in the roofs under their bond.

An application by the board for several parcels of crown grant lands has been approved by order-in-council and will be turned over to the school board.

The board recommended acceptance of the tender of South West Construction for the Kinnaird and Twin Rivers schools. The department of education has been advised and the board is waiting its recommendations before it proceeds.

There will be a library display in the Twin Rivers school activity room Feb. 26, 27 and 28.

Several requests for school accommodation were discussed and granted, provided the dates requested are available.

The board will review the budget with the department on March 3.

West Arm Social Crediters Meet

HARROP—A special meeting of the West Arm Social Credit groups was held at the home of Mrs. Feller at Longbeach, Feb. 5.

Forty members attended from Procter, Balfour, Harrop, Longbeach and Crescent Bay.

Guest speaker was Mr. Shaw, provincial organizer for the B.C. Social Credit League. He outlined the rise of the Social Credit party, dealing chiefly with the subject of monetary reform.

He said the financial system devised in a state of scarcity was adequate during the past, but today, in a state of surplus, as it is known in Canada, is totally inadequate.

The question period was enthusiastic.

Refreshments were served at midnight.

50-YEAR SLOCAN RESIDENT DIES

The Low Rental Housing Project

On the face of it, it would almost seem that Nelson does not want low rental housing for older persons.

Some years ago, Very Rev. T. L. Leadbeater, when rector of St. Saviour's church, endeavored to interest the people of Nelson in a scheme to provide such housing. He was much disturbed because he found people living in inadequate accommodation, under conditions which he did not believe suitable for them. His investigations did not, however, get beyond the initial stages of investigation of ways and means of financing such a project.

The project languished for some time but was taken in hand by the Kiwanis, who have attempted to spearhead a community effort. They have found the going very hard indeed. Their efforts to find a site have been frustrated. A suitable site in Fairview was opposed on the grounds that it would lower property values in the area and affect the beauty of the park. Other sites were investigated but could not be acquired because prices were too high.

Now the Kiwanis announce that they have found a site. It is not a good site—it is part of city property which would have been sold long ago if the council could have found a buyer. It is a flood area of Cottonwood Creek and by no means suitable for this purpose. But it is the best the club can get.

All along the project has been faced with apathy. Even grudging approval of the project seems absent and there seems to be little regard for the welfare of our older citizens who, through no fault of their own, have limited incomes.

This lack of interest in the project is disturbing. It seems to indicate that we, as citizens, are becoming too complacent, too self-satisfied and too self-centred. This is not a purely charitable undertaking; the buildings will not be almshouses. The project is one which will enable older people to pay for accommodation within their means. In this sense Nelson is merely providing a service. Sometimes service is synonymous with duty. Nelson citizens should consider if it is not their duty to provide this housing for persons with limited incomes.

Interpreting the News

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The Democratic party which dominates Congress in this presidential election year, apparently plans to pay closer heed to the generals than to President Eisenhower in its efforts to arrange the deployment of United States defences.

Sources on both sides of the political fence anticipate that more funds will be voted to keep part of the Strategic Air Command's bombers in the air on a round-the-clock basis.

Those favoring such a plan argue that, under such a system, it would be impossible for an enemy to knock out the United States' retaliatory power with one massive missile attack.

The Democrats are also sympathetic to pushing development of the projected 2000 - mile - an - hour B-70 bomber, which the president has almost dropped.

All this comes at a time when Eisenhower has cried out against listening to generals with "parochial" views and has stated that he knows more about defence than probably anyone else in the country.

The government wants to provide the Strategic Air Command with roughly $90,000,000 a year for two years for the purchase of spare parts to prepare for an air alert if one is ever ordered.

General Thomas Power, the SAC's commander, says this isn't enough. He told a congressional committee that the Russian missile threat is too great.

Congressional sources indicate that instead of $90,000,000 a year for spare parts, power may get $300,000,000 or even $400,000,000.

But even if Congress does try to upset Eisenhower's views—and cut into his projected budget surplus of $4,200,000,000—the president could have the last word.

Congress may vote funds but the government doesn't necessarily have to spend them. The bureau of the budget can freeze certain expenditures—as it has done in the past.

Not One, But Many Questions

The abolition of capital punishment, which will soon be debated in the Canadian House of Commons, is not such a black and white matter as those who favor the measure would have the populace think.

What, for example, would be done about those who commit murder with poison—clearly and unmistakably a premeditated act?

How to deal with life-imprisoned murderers who would not hesitate to shoot their way to freedom should the opportunity present itself?

Is life imprisonment punishment enough for the calculating individual who plants a bomb in an aircraft and destroys, say, fifty people?

What about the criminal who deliberately arms himself while preparing for a robbery and then shoots his victim?

And there is the problem of the criminal who kills a policeman.

The matter, as always, then, resolves itself into a question of deterrence and degrees of murder. It has never been shown to our satisfaction that capital punishment doesn't deter criminals from the act of homicide. It is our view that hanging has a definite deterrent value as far as potential crimes of violence are concerned. It is a difficult question and one on which statistics are open to varied interpretations. And it is a question charged with emotionalism and sentiment — two pitfalls which MPs debating the matter must avoid like the plague. The matter will have to be discussed in the House in a calm, rational manner.

It may be that the people of Canada, through their members, will decide that hanging should be abolished, that it does not serve the purpose for which it is designed—to deter would-be murderers.

If this is the decision, so be it. But what check then, what restraint, will curb those murderers and potential murderers whom we have mentioned above? A further term of life imprisonment will not deter a man already serving a life term from shooting his way out of prison.

And the penalty of life imprisonment presents another problem. If capital punishment is abolished, then life imprisonment must mean just that. Not fourteen, or fifteen years, but imprisonment for the rest of the prisoner's natural life.

The whole subject is repugnant possibly, but we cannot avoid unpleasantness. It is a matter to which Parliament must face up in view of the continued denial of Parliament by the cabinet in regard to commutations.

You Can't Eat Electricity

To the Editor:

Sir—The High Arrow dam must not be built. As a delegate to the convention of B.C. Women's Institutes held in Vancouver eight years ago, I feel it is my duty to pass on the warning given to us at that time. We were given a lecture, in no uncertain terms, of the population explosion and the great need for food. We were shown how every available square inch of soil would be needed, and that reclaiming efforts to put deserts and barren lands into growing acreage would have to be instituted.

Films on Japan shown to the Slocan Home and School Club revealed a modern Japan humming with industries, growing city populations, very intensive farming with hillsides terraced and every available bit of ground already under cultivation. I quite imagine that the people of China and India are in much the same situation. Formosa, too, is struggling under the influx of Chinese refugees from Communist rule.

Here are Canadians so unconscious of reality that they are willing to cover up miles of good arable land in the Arrow Lakes district with water. Wars to keep these people from invading our land would cost us much more than we would gain. We on this continent must feed these people or have our land taken from us by force.

What is the idea of more electricity? It is for more industry to produce more goods, so that more can be wasted. Pages and pages could be compiled on how Canadians and Americans are wasting their natural resources because, like the French aristocracy before the revolution, they are asleep in pleasure. They wined, danced and sinned their way to the guillotine. Are not the North American people doing the same?

Doesn't Agree With Game Experts

To the Editor:

Sir—In your issue of Feb. 1, 1960, you printed an article headed "1959 Deer Kill Set New Record". The news write-up contained estimates of Kootenay deer kill of approximately 17,000 to 18,000, of which 2000 came from the western area. These figures were quoted by our district game biologist, Mr. Smith, who attended the game zone meeting in Nelson.

From a letter of enquiry by this writer, addressed to chief game biologist J. Hatter of Vancouver, B.C., the presented figures were received from Mr. Hatter in a letter dated Jan. 28, 1960. Mr. Hatter stated in his letter that the following figures represent a large sample of East Kootenay hunters compiled from accurate road checks during hunting season last fall: 12,032 hunters checked took the following big game: 2984 deer, 424 elk, 70 moose, 24 sheep, 21 goat, 12 black bear, 343 ducks and 377 grouse.

It is interesting to note that these are figures compiled from on-the-spot road-checks and are not estimated probable kills. Should you look closely at the above figures and note the number of hunters checked in ratio to deer and elk bagged, it represents no great average kill per hunter for this area. Further to this, doe season was open for 10 days last fall, and that in itself certainly contributed largely to a heavy harvest of game. The elk season was open from Sept. 12, 1959, to Nov. 30, 1959, and the cow season was open for a full 50 days of this period. With this in mind, compare 424 elk checked in against 12,032 hunters. A large portion of these were holders of big game licences. Therefore it would seem a very low bag average for elk in relation to the number of hunters out.

A lot of experienced East Kootenay hunters last fall failed to get their buck deer or elk. It is the opinion of most of them that the game just was not available for so many hunters. In other words, they just did not see the game to get. Having met a large number of visiting hunters from other areas while out hunting, it was the general voice of most of these chaps that hunting was not as good in the East Kootenay as newspaper articles led them to believe.

Reports from various sections of the East Kootenay this winter seem to indicate a substantial decrease in deer herds. We are of the opinion like many other sportsmen living in this region of B.C., that it is time to cut our bag limits and watch very carefully the cropping of our reproducing stock. For the want of publicity, let's not deplete our game in the East Kootenay to the point of no return.

Report From Victoria

By HON. W. D. BLACK
Minister of Municipal Affairs
Provincial Secretary
Minister of Social Welfare

In the legislature during the past week, many members have taken the opportunity of speaking during the debate on the Speech from the Throne.

One of the most important talks dealing with the future of B. C. was by Hon. Ray Williston on the power question. No doubt you will have read some of the highlights of the speech as reported in our newspapers. Of course the section pertaining to the Columbia was of particular interest to us in the Kootenay.

Through the speech the legislature was brought up to date on the national and international developments with respect to the Columbia. I quote a paragraph from the speech:

"Much has happened relating to the Columbia River in the last 12 months. You may recall in my report to you in February, 1959, I indicated at that time that no satisfactory liaison had been established with present Federal authorities either at the technical or official levels which would allow a proper exchange of opinion relating to the development of this river. I am not sure if my presentation, a copy of which was immediately mailed to Ottawa, proved to be the catalyst which brought us together or not, but in any event such a development did take place almost immediately."

FORM COMMITTEES

Mr. Williston then went on to describe the setting up during the year of a Canada-British Columbia Policy Liaison Committee for the purpose of presenting a united Canadian front in any international negotiations which might take place concerning cooperative development of the Columbia River.

A Technical Liaison Committee was also established to work under the direction of the policy committee. Mr. Williston then proceeded to detail the work of these two committees to date. I would very much like to pass on that information at present but it would be too lengthy for this column. If anyone would care for a copy of the full text of the speech and would drop me a card, I would certainly be glad to forward one.

During the course of the speech the following statement was made and I quote:

"It is probable that before this House adjourns it will be possible for me to bring to you another report outlining the progress that is being made towards negotiations of a treaty between Canada and the U. S. As you are no doubt aware, from the recent announcement in the press, the initial meeting for this purpose is scheduled at Ottawa on Feb. 11 following upon our Policy Committee meeting on Feb. 9." Unquote.

Mr. Williston reiterated B. C.'s stand that the province should have equal voice in the final plans and that all interested individuals and groups in the Kootenays should be given the opportunity to voice their opinions before plans are finalized.

In regard to the portion of financing the Federal Government is willing to contribute, this still appears clouded. To date the only commitment made was contained in a letter addressed to the Premier from the federal minister of finance and is quoted thus:

"The amount (of money) involved would depend on the projects jointly undertaken which, of course, would be self-liquidating." So far no mention of amounts is or has ever been made.

DEATHS

Calgary — Mr. Justice W. Gordon Egbert, 67, of the Supreme Court of Alberta, apparently drowned.

London — Dorothy Paget, 54, race-horse owner who spent more than $10,000,000 to win the Grand National Steeplechase and the Derby.

LA PAZ, Bolivia (CP) — No Canadians were reported aboard a Bolivian airliner that crashed Friday near Cochabamba, Bolivia, resulting in the deaths of 59 persons. There were seven North Americans aboard but all were U.S. citizens.

B.C. Electric Purchases Coal Deposits In Lillooet District

VICTORIA (CP)—B.C. Electric Company, the private utility which supplies much of British Columbia with electricity, has exercised an option to purchase huge coal deposits within 20 miles of its present power transmission lines at Lillooet.

The purchase price was estimated at $2,000,000.

A company spokesman said the purchase is a safeguard against its customers being forced to pay excessive costs in the future and against possible shortages in the power supply if hydro power production is delayed.

The rich deposits, 14 miles from Pavilion and 178 miles north of Vancouver by Pacific Great Eastern Railway, put BCE in a position to develop its own 2,600,000 horsepower thermal plant—using coal—in a project which would coast an estimated $200,000,000.

Dr. Harry L. Purdy, executive vice-president of BCE, said the move will not interfere with bargaining now proceeding with Peace River Power Development Company, which plans a $630,000,000 hydro project on the Peace River.

Western Power Development Company, a subsidiary of BCE's parent company, B.C. Power Corporation, has been investigating the Lillooet coal deposits since 1957.

Recent surveys by Dolmage, Mason and Stewart, Vancouver geologists and mining engineers, estimated there are 340,000,000 tons of coal in a square-mile area 20 miles from BCE's present transmission lines.

The known reserves are estimated to be enough to keep a 2,600,000 horsepower plant operating for more than 50 years.

The deposits, known as Hat Creek coal deposits, were bought from Inland Resources Limited of Vancouver, which is two - thirds owned by Wilson Mining Corporation.

SAFEGUARD

Dr. Purdy said the purchase is a safeguard. If for any reason BCE couldn't strike a bargain with Peace River and if Columbia River development is too slow to meet demands, he said, the Hat Creek project would fill the gap.

W.C. Mainwaring, president of Peace River Power Development Company since November, 1958 and before that head of the Western Development Company which negotiated the original option on the Hat Creek deposits, said Monday he is confident BCE will choose Peace River hydro power in preference to thermal development.

BCE has invested $500,000 for engineering surveys and initial investigation in the Peace River area.

All the shares in Wilson Mining are owned by president Bob Wilson; his brother Keith, 43, managing director of Inland, and head of Western Marine Enterprises Limited of Nanaimo; and his sister, Mrs. Barbara D. Foreman of Vancouver.

Montreal Said In Need of Co-ordinated Planning

MONTREAL (CP) — Multi-million dollar construction projects in downtown Montreal have revived demands for co-ordination of planning.

Within the space of a few blocks on midtown Dorchester St., three new skyscrapers are to rise. They are:

1. The Vine-Marie project, consisting of a 42-storey office building.

2. The Windsor Plaza, another 42-storey structure, mainly to be filled by offices.

3. The C.I.L. Tower, a 34-storey office building.

"What we need are top businessmen uniting to take the initiative on co - ordinated planning," said Romeo Mondello, Montreal city planner. "My department has neither the resources nor the financial power to initiate detailed downtown planning."

Architect Henry E. Greenspoon said most downtown areas have grown up in a haphazard fashion without regard for the automobile.

CONVINCED OF NEED

David Owen and Robert Cummings, associated with the Ville-Marie and Windsor Plaza projects, are convinced of the need for a businessman's association.

They look for an association along the lines of one in Pittsburgh, where six industrialists formed a committee to co-ordinate between builders and civic officials. A similar committee in Philadelphia, formed four years ago, is already reported to be showing results.

Mondello, who succeeded Campeau, wants developers to erect tall buildings 40 feet from the street to eliminate skyscraper canyons and consolidate land space by building upwards, allowing more green and plaza space around the structures.

The University of Montpellier, near Marseilles in France, was founded in 1125.

Your Individual Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes, and find what your outlook is, according to the stars,

For THURSDAY, FEB. 11, 1960

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) —Hold everything under strict control now or you may run into needless difficulties, may say the wrong thing, or find yourself in a squabble before you realize it. TACT!

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus)—If you are not making the progress you should, try a new method. There is always a better way, if one looks for it.

MAY 22 to JUNE 1 (Gemini)—Don't hesitate to incorporate someone else's ideas or plans with your own if worthwhile, an improvement. But use discretion.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer)—Pleasant indications. A happy, constructive day can be yours if you manage intelligently. Bright ideas plus cooperation with associates should bring fine results.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo)—This promises to be a day for advancement and improvements in many lines of industry, trades; also for household and personal interests. Professions, mechanical matters especially favored.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — Accelerate your pace now. Don't drift or fall into habits you know, from past experience, "won't work." Relieve tension with good humor, and don't overload your schedule with unnecessary matters.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra) — This Sign is noted for its integrity and even balance, both gifts urgently needed now. Put your best foot forward, and KEEP it there. There are some planetary restrictions but advantages are evident, nevertheless.

OCTOBER 23 to NOVEMBER 22 (Scorpio) — You can run into snags, possible setbacks if you are not on guard. System and consistency will help in situations where cooperation is lacking. Avoid over-crowding your schedule.

NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius) — Excellent rays for personal and business matters. If day is handled well, as you can when you try, it should produce to your satisfaction. Essentials first!

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn) — Favorable prospects! Choose well, even in little things. Know your ground and be better fitted to accomplish. Avoid haste and keep your mind on your work.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius) — You can assist others now, but should not do so to the detriment of your own affairs. Aim high, quicken pace where you can.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces) — You may be able to make more headway than many now, but with others feeling out of sorts, or "hard to manage," you may need extra tact and patience. Forward!

YOU BORN TODAY are a happy combination of philosophy, sincerity, sympathy and intelligent reasoning. Your patience can be long-lasting and bring about great reforms. Develop your powers of concentration; you can surpass many in difficult matters. You deal in facts, are a progressive thinker. Persons born under this Sign have produced innumerable inventions, reforms, beneficial innovations. Birthdate of: Thomas A. Edison, famed inventor.

1960 World Almanac Surveys Space Age

By HARRY HANSEN

Global events that make 1959 a key date in human history are highlighted in the World Almanac and Book of Facts for 1960. The latest issue of this one-volume encyclopedia now in its 75th year, nominates as top news the consequential trip of Soviet Chief Khrushchev to the United States, the peak accomplishment of Soviet science in hitting the moon, and the decision of the West to stand firmly behind the freedom of Berlin — diplomatic, scientific and military developments of incalculable effect on the future welfare of the free nations.

The World Almanac devotes special attention to events that influence trade and friendly relations in the Western Hemisphere and publishes a comprehensive report on government, industry, business and social welfare in Canada, with tables from the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

The section on the Commonwealth of Nations is the largest under the subject of foreign countries; it includes a complete table of English and British rulers and information about the Royal Family, descriptions of the visit of Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip to Canada and the ceremonies attending the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

In addition, shipping on the Great Lakes and trade with the United Kingdom are covered, with lists of transatlantic ships and their tonnage, including the big tankers now carrying petroleum from Near Eastern ports.

Volume reports the British General Election, the West's conferences with the Soviet Union over disarmament and nuclear testing, the emergence of the French Community of autonomous governments, the rise of nationalism in Africa and the battles for human rights in the United Nations.

Science bulks large in the new World Almanac, which describes rockets and satellites that make the Space Age top news, progress, in developing nuclear power for peace and war, and medical advances against mankind's great killers — cancer, heart diseases, arthritis, polio, tuberculosis and others.

Of special usefulness to readers everywhere are the pages dealing with astronomical calculations, including dates of the eclipses of 1960, planetary configurations and tables for sun, moon and stars for the northern latitudes. Other sections devoted to religious news, including holidays and feast days, sports, travel distances, and new developments in business and industry make the World Almanac a handy reference work and helpful companion to students, teachers, industrial leaders and all who wish to keep accurately informed.

The World Almanac and Book of Facts for 1960 is published by the New York World-Telegram and Sun, 896 pages, clothbound and paperbound.

Nelson Children Receive $495 Milk From IODE

TORONTO (CP) — The IODE marks its 60th birthday Saturday with the emphasis on education and welfare.

Emerging from a reputation as a flag-waving organization the 984 Canadian chapters of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire still promote loyalty to "king and country" but most of their million-dollar budget goes for education and welfare.

The IODE was conceived during the Boer War by Mrs. Clark Murray of Montreal as a token of encouragement and devotion to Queen Victoria.

Mrs. Murray, on a one-woman campaign, sent telegrams to the mayors of provincial capitals seeking their aid in the formation of a national group.

The plan seemed destined to failure but on Jan. 15, 1900, a group of women gathered in Fredericton at the request of Mayor Beckwith and formed the first chapter.

The formation of the New Brunswick chapter gave impetus to the failing Montreal group and, despite a heavy downpour of rain, 25 women gathered at the Windsor Hotel on Feb. 13, 1900, to form the Daughters of the Empire.

The 32,000 present members will mark the 60th anniversary at the local level.

Kokanee Chapter Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire in Nelson has provided during the past year a $100 bursary to an L. V. Rogers High School student; history awards to students; library books and other gifts to their adopted school; and $25 for other educational assistance.

In the field of welfare, the chapter has provided $495 for milk for needy children in the Nelson district; has made a donation to the handicapped children's school; provided gifts and treats to patients at Kootenay Lake General Hospital and Mount St. Francis and during the year has held birthday parties for all residents at Nelson Hostel for Aged Men and given them birthday and Christmas gifts.

They have donated $10 to the Queen Elizabeth Fund.

Swiss Woman Geologist Executive of Family Firm

By EDNA BLAKELY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP) — Elisabeth Feller, international president of the Federation of Business and Professional Women studied geology and geography at the Sorbonne University because she wanted to explore the world.

Instead, she has become president of a manufacturing firm in her native Horgen, a suburb of Zurich, Switzerland. She now is on a short visit to Canada and the United States.

She quit university life after the sudden death of her father and entered the family firm, a plant employing 600 men and women, which manufactures electrical switches, plugs and sockets. She has been president and chairman of the board since 1953.

PERSONAL PLAN

Her own pattern does not follow her criterion for other women. She says executives should have good training from the bottom up, and must know all the small jobs in a plant.

Women executives must be broadminded, able to organize and to deputize work.

"Most women don't like to deputize jobs, but a top woman must," she says.

Women executives must learn to trust their employees. If they do, they can obtain a "family" atmosphere within a plant more readily than a male executive could, she claims.

Although Miss Feller runs a factory, she is not allowed to vote. Women, except in a few cities, are not allowed to vote in Switzerland.

A vexing problem? Perhaps to some, but most Swiss women are not trained enough in politics, says Miss Feller.

WOMEN'S PAPER

She is a member of the board of directors of Schweizur Frauenblatt, a weekly paper for women which devotes many of its columns for women's causes.

Equal pay for women doing men's work is one of the paper's campaigns.

The argument for the other side, Miss Feller says, is that women need special attention, absenteeism is more frequent, women are not transferred so easily and interest is not the same.

"Although older women are usually more interested in their jobs and usually make excellent workers," she says.

Her own factory does not pay equal wages to women because the salary rates are governed by competition.

Miss Feller's interest does not begin and end at the factory. She lists the business and professional clubs as her foremost hobby but also serves on the board at Pestalozzi refugee home for orphaned European children.

Her philanthrophic deeds include support to modern artists and sculptors.

"I know the past is important but I am particularly interested in today," she sums up.

SECOND WOMAN COMPLETES 1000-MILE WALK

LAND'S END, England (Reuters) — Wendy Lewis, an 18-year-old hairdresser, finished a 1000-mile walk from the northern tip of Scotland to the southwestern of England Sunday night.

She promptly said she would be willing to challenge Dr. Barbara Moore, the 56-year-old Russian-born dietitian who finished the same walk last Thursday.

"If I can get time off, I am prepared to go with Dr. Moore from here back to John O'Groats," she said. "I feel marvellous and perfectly fit."

Wendy took 28 days compared with Dr. Moore's 23 but she had to carry a pack for most of the distance. A car carried the older woman's pack.

United Church Women's Organizations Combine With Single Executive Body

History was made in Kimberley United Church last week when for the first time, two women's organizations of the United Church of Canada combined at presbytery level to elect a single executive.

This working board will carry on work of both the Kootenay Presbyterial Women's Missionary Society and the Kootenay Presbytery Woman's Association.

The occasion was a joint annual meeting of the two organizations, conducted by presidents Mrs. P. O. Huse of Trail and Mrs. F. H. Lowe of Nelson.

United Church women of Cranbrook and Kimberley were hosts for the two-day meeting.

Following a meeting and dinner on the first evening, a public meeting was held at which the Kimberley Ladies' Choir performed and Mrs. T. M. Karpoff of Genelle led the devotions, following the theme "Steps to Understanding", of which the first step is faith, with its complete dedication to life; the second step is hope, based on knowledge of the church and its activities, and the final step is love, which if taken would life life above envy, falsehood and pride.

In the presidents' reports, Mrs. Huse reporting for WA highlighted visits to Nakusp, Arrow Park, Burton and New Denver. She emphasized that a goal for 1960 be "All locals reporting and contributing to presbytery." All were reminded of the year's theme for United Church women "The spirit of man is the candle of the Lord." Mrs. Huse called on all to seek the best in everything in order to find this light.

Mrs. Lowe, for WMS reported visits to Kimberley and Cranbrook. She related that the complete supply allocation had been met and in addition many articles given to the used clothing depot, but that the full WMS mission allocation was slightly short. This could have been met had the organization succeedtd in establishing more local groups.

Mrs. W. E. Fullerton, wife of Rev. W. E. Fullerton of Queen's Avenue United Church in New Westminster, was guest speaker. Mrs. Fullerton is an executive mtmber of both B.C. Conference WA and B.C. Conference Branch WMS; also dean of the joint school for leaders of Naramata.

"Let our hands be the witness to our understanding," was Mrs. Fullerton's subject, leading thoughts through three positions: "1. Our hands as a witness in devotion; 2. Our hands as a witness in outgiving; 3. Our hands as a witness in gathering in of knowledge."

The Wednesday morning session commenced with a memorial service, led by Mrs. C. Foote of Kimberley and Mrs. J. M. Clark of Wycliffe, for late members Mrs. Clinton Johnson, past-president, of Hope; Mrs. Helen Wilson, past-treasurer, of Fernie; Mrs. Emma Strong, Creston; Mrs. B. Roth, Rossland; Mrs. John Forrest, Trail; Mrs. Chester, Cranbrook; Miss May Smith, Mrs. J. H. Wallace, Mrs. J. R. Andrews and Mrs. David Laughton of St. Paul's-Trinity, Nelson.

Rev. J. A. McPhee conducted the Communion Service with women elders serving: Mrs. J. R. Geigerich, Kimberley; Mrs. E. Plourde, Creston; Mrs. W. B. Veitch, Fruitvale; and Mrs. W. B. Miller, Kimberley.

The point of motion, "That we elect a federated executive on Kootenay Presbyterial - Presbytery level, starting in 1960 with the newly elected officers," was presented and passed at the following business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Huse, WA president.

After lunch election of officers for the new single executive took place. These officers are honorary presidents, Mrs. F. H. Lowe, Nelson, and Mrs. P. O. Huse, Trail; president, Mrs. T. M. Karpoff, China Creek; first vice-president, Mrs. E. S. Whistlecroft, Kimberley; second vice-president, Mrs. C. M. Coventry, Nelson; third vice-president, Mrs. P. L. Swift, Castlegar; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Robert Rodger, Trail, recording secretary, Mrs. F. M. Peitzsche, Trail; treasurer, Mrs. F. Bremer, Kimberley; press, Mrs. P. O. Huse, Trail, manse, Mrs. H. Chernoff, Cranbrook; supply, Mrs. J. Carr, Rossland; Christian education and baby bands, Mrs. E. S. Whistlecroft, Kimberley; CGIT, Mrs. J. M. They were installed by Mrs. W. E. Fullerton and instructed as to their various duties and responsibilities by Mrs. P. L. Swift.

Miss Beatrice Wilson of Dominion Council will be invited to visit the East Kootenay April 1. Plans will be made for Miss Thompson to visit younger groups and their leaders sometime in March.

Important dates were announced: B.C. Conference WA in Chalmers United Church, Vancouver, March 15, 16 and 17; B.C. Conference Branch WMS, in Victoria, March 29, 30, 31, and April 1; joint school for leaders at Naramata, June 15 to 18; Kootenay Presbyterial-Presbytery sub-executive in Trail, Feb. 17, and full executive tentatively set for May.

The new president, Mrs. T. M. Karpoff, requested that all old records be completed and turned in to be preserved for church archives.

The final event was a panel on "Steps To Understanding the Church in the Kootenay," chaired by Mrs. A. J. Lawton of Rossland, and six speakers.

First—Mrs F. H. Lowe gave a report on financial dedication, prepared by Mrs. D. Maloney of Nelson, following which she spoke on the adult growth of the Kootenays during the last five years. Mrs. Lowe stressed future growth, for which the church must now prepare.

Mrs. W. A. Bennett spoke on members of tomorrow, referring to responsibility of training young people for their roll as the church members of tomorrow.

Mrs. C. M. Coventry of Nelson spoke on personal dedication. The need of the church for 1960 is 36 overseas workers and 16 for home said Mrs. Coventry. These include nurses, teachers, paid workers and Deaconesses.

Mrs. W. Hicks and Mrs. H. Chernoff reviewed the building program of the last 5 years using an outline map of the Kootenay area and placing symbols for new churches and manses erected.

Mrs. Johnson of Cranbrook outlined the service of a former Presbytery member, Miss Margaret Vanderburgh, also of Cranbrook, who is a home economics teacher missionary in Trinidad, by means of slides and commentary.

Among the 100 women attending sessions of the two-day conference, 80 were delegates from Trail, Rossland, Fruitvale, Salmo, Genelle, Castlegar, Nelson, Harrop, Wynndel, Creston, Fernie, Cranbrook, Wycliffe and Kimberley.

U.K. Universities Consider Dropping Latin and Greek

LONDON (AP) — British educational experts recommended Monday that Latin and Greek be quietly buried by Oxford and Cambridge Universities.

Committees set up by the two universities made the recommendation.

Cambridge proposes to do away with both Latin and Greek as compulsory subjects in the entrance examination. They would be replaced by any two languages other than English.

Oxford plans to do away with Latin and Greek for science candidates if they have sufficient knowledge of mathematics of a science subject.

Port Credit School Bans Henry VIII

PORT CREDIT, Ont. (CP)—South Peel High School library has discarded a book on the life and wives of Henry VIII because of objections from a parent.

Mrs. Janet VanEvery, chairman of the committee concerned, said committee members had no objection to the book's removal. She said the book was approved by the provincial education department.

Trustee Joan Caldwell said the book was probably "historically accurate but morally questionable."

Eisenhower Urges End To Wheat Surpluses

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower Tuesday urged congress to enact a new program to end United States wheat surpluses, but offered the legislators leeway in working out the measure.

In a special message, he set three guide lines for meeting the problem, but said that if the Democratic - controlled Congress has an alternative to the plan he has advanced in the past, he would go along with it if it were constructive.

This was a break with the Republican administration's past position. It has insisted that the wheat surplus problem be met by lowering price supports and eliminating controls. This approach is designed to discourage high-cost producers and to encourage greater use of the grain as a livestock feed.

CHANGE IN TONE

This change in tone came after Republican leaders in Congress—presumably including Vice-President Richard Nixon, the potential Republican presidential nominee—had urged that the administration back away from its insistence upon lower supports.

The three guide lines for meeting the wheat situation — which the president described as particularly acute—include:

1. That price support levels be realistically related to whatever policy Congress chooses in respect to production control. Eisenhower said it must be recognized that the higher the support the more the farmer must be regimented.

2. That price support levels not be so high as to stimulate still more excessive production, reduce domestic markets and increase the subsidies required to hold world markets.

3. That direct subsidy programs for crops in surplus be avoided; also that the chosen programs not invite harmful counter measures by friends abroad.

In emphasizing the need for new wheat legislation the president pointed out that the U. S. government has about $3,500,000,000 dollars tied up in surpluses of the grain. It costs the government more than $1,000 a minute the year round to stabilize wheat prices and income.

INJURED BY TIRE

VANCOUVER (CP) — Charles Leslie Rapin, 47, of nearby Ladner suffered serious head injuries Monday when the rim of a giant tire he was inflating blew apart and struck him. The six-foot tire was being inflated to 75 pounds pressure.

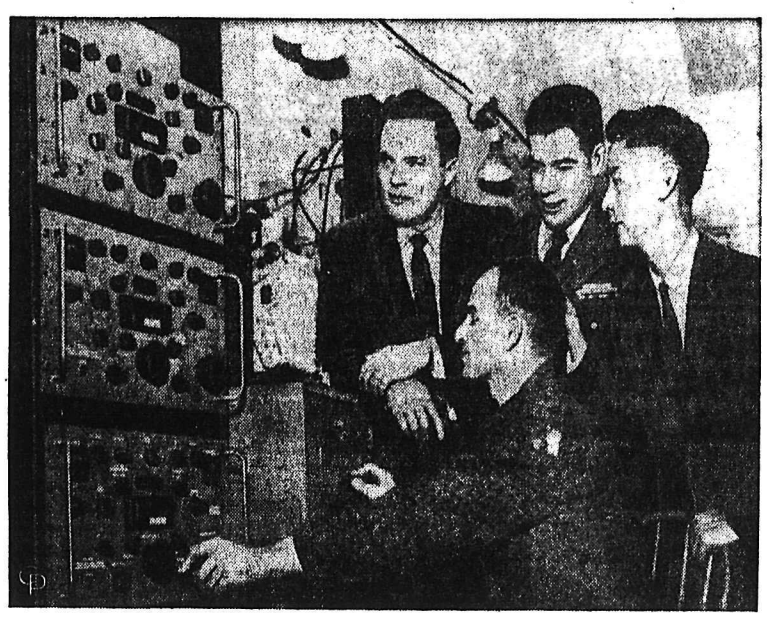
To Investigate Canada's Bleak Uranium Future

OTTAWA (CP)—The bleak future facing Canadian uranium producers and controversy over Canada's approach to economic electric power from atomic energy will be investigated this session by a select committee of the commons.

A notice of motion on Tuesday's House order paper proposes the establishment of a 20 - member committee to study the operations of the federal government's three main research institutions.

The committee will consider the policy, operations and expenditures of Eldorado Mining and Refining Limited, Atomic Energy of Canada Limited and the National Research Council.

The Eldorado Company is the federal agency which mines, buys and markets Canadian uranium. It also operates a metal refining plant at Port Hope, Ont., and has other facilities associated with the use of uranium.



GOT RADAR REBOUND FROM SUN—Dr. Philip Gallagher adjusts the receiver on which he and associates received radar signals back from the sun 93,000,000 miles away, at Stanford, Calif. The feat never before has been accomplished. The achievement took place at sunrise last April 7, 10 and 12, and it has taken the intervening months to analyze the data, to within 99.999 per cent accuracy. The radar beam, traveling at speed of light (186,000 miles per second), took 17 minutes to go to the sun and bounce back. Watching Professor Gallagher are (from left) Prof. Von R. Eshleman, Lt. Col. Wicks Condemns Union Violence

VICTORIA (CP)—Violence in the trade union movement was condemned in the legislature Monday night by Labor Minister Wicks.

Referring to the recent gangstyle beating administered to Richard Greaves, president of the National Association of Marine Engineers (CLC) in Vancouver, Mr. Wicks said such methods are to be "condemned at all times."

He expressed appreciation that the B.C. Federation of Labor (CLC) and other union bodies were organizing a stand against such behaviour — behaviour which could only bring the labor movement into disrepute.

In a wide-ranging speech, Mr. Williston said the CCF opposition should realize that B.C. is growing at such a pace that power from both the Columbia and Peace Rivers would be needed in short order. Power would attract industry—Washington State was an example of that.

The minister congratulated both labor and industry for outstanding effort in the field of work safety campaigns.

Khrushchev Again Asks Peace Treaty With Berlin

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev brushed aside protocol at an Italian diplomatic reception Monday night to make another public demand for a peace treaty with Germany and an end to the occupation of West Berlin.

Visiting Italian leaders, drawn into an impromptu debate with the unpredictable Khrushchev, reiterated the Western position that Soviet terms are unacceptable.

Khrushchev launched into his views on the German question following a toast at the crowded reception, given for himself and President Klementi Voroshilov by visiting Italian President Giovanni Gronchi.

"If we don't resolve these (German) problems now," the Soviet premier warned "sooner or later someone will try to change the existing situation by force.

SOLUTION: REALISM

"A situation which has been changed by war generally can only be changed by another war. Czechoslovakia and Poland will not have their frontiers changed. They are our allies. Prayers are not enough. We must face problems with realism. (West German Chancellor Konrad) Adenauer does not agree, but who asked Adenauer for his opinion."

Italy's Foreign Minister Giuseppe Pella interrupted to say: "I must say that we do not share your point of view on Berlin and Germany."

This prompted the following exchange:

Khrushchev: "Life will teach you. Life is such a good teacher that even the slowest pupils learn their lessons. I trust in man's mind. You say you are for peace. Then, why don't you want a treaty with Germany?"

Pella: "I think we have nothing to add to the picture drawn by President Gronchi this morning."

(Khrushchev and Gronchi apparently had covered the same ground in a meeting at the Kremlin earlier in the day.)

Khrushchev: "Maybe your picture is better than ours?"

Pella: "Let me say yes."

Khrushchev: "Then, did we show you a deluding one?"

Pella: "No, but ours is better."

During the half - hour debate, Khrushchev smilingly suggested that Gronchi and Pella give up their membership in Italy's Christian Democrat party and become Communists.

Khrushchev: "Under the capitalist regime the man who has more dollars is the most intelligent. Under the socialist regime, he is the most intelligent who has more intelligence. Think again on this and you'll become a Communist."

Gronchi: "I would like to present Premier Khrushchev with a good wish — maybe some day, touched by divine grace, he will enter the Christian Democrat party."

Khrushchev: "I am for that party which gives the largest welfare to the people. If you do that, I accept the invitation."

Gronchi and Pella met again Tuesday at the Kremlin with Khrushchev, Voroshilov and Foreign Minister Gromyko.

U.K. Railway Strike Seems Inevitable

LONDON (Reuters)—Hopes of heading off a national rail strike next week slumped Tuesday when the major one of three unions involved rejected peace plans.

The 350,000 - member National Union of Railwaymen turned thumbs down on the plan offered by Sir Brian Robertson, chairman of the state-run British Transport Commission.

Union leader Sidney Greene said there will definitely be a strike starting Sunday midnight if his members are not given an immediate pay raise.

Hopes rose Monday when a committee, which has conducted a long inquiry into rates of rail pay, said it would produce its report within three weeks, instead of in April.

Robertson said he promised to open pay negotiations as soon as he received the report. Any raised would be backdated to January.

LONDON (Reuters)—The number of immigrants to Britain from the West Indies in 1959 was 16,400, Home Secretary Richard Butler said Monday. The number from India was 3,000 and from Pakistan 900.

Toll Collection Inquiry Postponed

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons railway committee Tuesday postponed indefinitely an inquiry into toll collections on Montreal's Jacques Cartier and Victoria bridges because of developments in an RCMP investigation into alleged irregularities.

The Commons last week had directed the committee to investigate the matter as a sequel to disclosure that toll collection on the Jacques Cartier Bridge had jumped sharply after a manual operation was replaced by an automatic system last year.

The committee's action followed weekend raids in the Montreal area by the RCMP on the homes of present and former bridge toll collectors.

Police seized documents relating to income tax returns, property holdings and other assets.

The raids involved the homes of both present former employees of the National Harbor Board who worked on Jaques Cartier Bridge as toll Collectors. The Bridge is operated by the board on behalf of the Ottawa, Quebec and Montreal governments.

DEMAND FOR INVESTIGATION

Victoria bridge is operated by Canadian National Railways.

The demand for an investigation into bridge toll collections stemmed from disclosure last November that revenues on Jacques Cartier bridge increased sharply following the installation of automatic collectors. The increase in the last four months of 1959 was $323,096 compared with the corresponding period of 1958.

The CNR has said only that revenues on Victoria bridge increased approximately 10 per cent following the installation of automatic collectors.

Lionel Chevrier (L—Montreal-Laurier), former transport minister, Tuesday proposed postponement of the committee probe, and Transport Minister Hees agreed with him.

"In view of the fact that the investigation by the RCMP has now reached the stage where there is a possibility that evidence may be produced which would warrant the laying of criminal charges, I believe that the proceedings of this committee should be postponed until the outcome of the investigations by the RCMP are known," Mr. Hees said.

Under questioning, Mr. Hees said he understands the RCMP investigation concerns toll collections only on the Jacques Cartier bridge, operated by the National Harbors Board on behalf of the Federal, Quebec and Montreal governments.

Coast Man Dies From Beating

VANCOUVER (CP)—A 73-year-old man found badly beaten in an east-end hotel room Dec. 15 died in hospital Monday.

Earlier charged with assault causing bodily harm to Temboulas Djibiloff, alias James Rybloff, was William Froehlich, 28, of no fixed address.

Froehlich is scheduled to appear in court Wednesday. Ivan Jontz, a material witness, was picked up by police in Merritt during the weekend and returned to Vancouver for the trial.

An autopsy indicated Djibiloff died of head injuries. Police were unable to question him after he was found and it was believed he was Ole Olsen, a Galiano Island logger.

Uranium Diffusion Plant Considered By Peace River Co.

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Peace River Power Development Company is interested in the possibility of establishing a difusion plant in Canada to produce enriched uranium and will continue studies with a three-fold purpose, company president W.C. Mainwaring said Monday night.

He said the studies will attempt to: 1. Prove that enriched uranium can be produced competitively in Canada; 2. Find a market in this way for Canada's natural uraniums; 3. Find someone who will build such a plant.

"We've been working on this very quietly for several months," Mr. Mainwaring told reporters.

"We are satisfied on our information from England that is possible for a private company to build a difusion plant to produce enriched uranium in the Peace River area in competition with present United States prices."

The United States now is the only country producing enriched uranium in any quantity.

Mr. Mainwaring said Peace River Power's proposed multi - million dollar hydro projection on the Peace River could provide a difusion plant at the hydro site with more than 1,000,000 horsepower "cheaper than anywhere else in the Commonwealth."

Prince Philip Holds Investiture

LONDON (Reuters) — Prince Philip Tuesday held an investiture at Buckingham Palace on behalf of the Queen, who is awaiting the birth of her third child.

He presented 151 men and women with the insignia of their awards announced in the Queen's New Year's honors list.

The investiture in the white and gold state ballroom of the palace was the first of Prince Philip's public engagements of the year. It was also the first of six investitures which he and Queen Mother Elizabeth will hold on behalf of the Queen during this month and next.

At the investiture he wore the uniform of an admiral of the fleet as he bestowed the accolade on 43 new knights.

Missing Frogman Alive In Russia Says London Paper

LONDON (Reuters) — Cmdr. Lionel Crabb, British frogman who mysteriously disappeared while diving near a visiting Russian ship in 1956, was reported by a newspaper Tuesday as "alive and a prisoner in Russia."

The four - year mystery of Crabb's disappearance took a new twist with a report in the London Daily Sketch. It says a London publishing firm is claiming that "photostats and transcripts of a top-secret Russian dossier, which have been smuggled to Britain, reveal the full story of his kidnapping and his prisoner's job in Russia."

Neville Armstrong, director of the firm, is quoted as saying: "We hope that photographs of Crabb showing him alive in Russia are on the way to Britain."

The 46-year-old navy diver disappeared at Portsmouth, England, when Soviet warships that brought Nikita Khrushchev and former premier Nikolai Bulganin to Britain were in harbor there.

A headless body later found floating off the coast was believed at the time to be that of Crabb.

"But no one could identify the body," Armstrong is quoted as saying.

"Crabb was not drowned. He was captured by the Russians and taken aboard the cruiser he was investigating."

B.C. Highlights

ROYAL COMMISSION URGED

VANCOUVER (CP)—W. J. Burnett, city school trustee, Monday urged that a royal commission investigate "fantastic" finances to school board for loans or debenture issues. He said the Vancouver board expects to pay a "bonus" of more than $100,000 in repaying the recently - announced $1,100,000 share of a provincial government debenture issue.

ASSAULTED TEACHER

VANCOUVER (CP)—A 17-year-old Haney youth was jailed Monday for one year by Magistrate W. Hope, who found him guilty of assaulting high school teacher Daniel Buss at a school dance. Mr. Buss was assaulted by three youths—none of whom were students—when he refused them permission to enter the dance.

Bisgrove One of Three Winning Five Straight

KELOWNA (CP) — Vancouver's Charlie Cook, Eric Bisgrove of Kimberley and Glen Harper of Duncan rolled to their fifth straight victories in the 65th annual B.C. Bonspiel here Tuesday.

Lyle Dagg of Vancouver and Tony Gutoski, 1958 B.C. champion, also had unblemished records, each winning four.

Cook followed up a thrilling 12-end 8-7 victory over Reg Stone of Trail, six-time B.C. champion, with an 11-8 victory over Cam Lipsett of Kelowna.

Bisgrove was also forced to 12 ends to win his fifth match 6-5 over Gene Koster of Nanaimo.

Cook, twice a semi-finalist in the provincial championships, held a one-up lead coming home in the 10th and last regulation end. Stone drew in neatly to deadlock the score and then was lying two in the 11th only to have Cook come back with a double knockout on his last rock. Cook just rolled out of the house to blank the end.

In the 12th Stone again held two counters after his first shot. Cook made no mistake on his attempted double-knock and rolled to the outside edge of the 12-foot circle.

Stone missed his knockout attempt to give Cook the decision.

Bisgrove, East Kootenay zone winner, stuck to a knockout game in edging the rugged Koster. He pulled even at 5-5 in the 10th and after blanking the 11th stole a single from Koster in the 12th.

Gutoski had his toughest fight of the bonspiel in turning back Vern Mawdsley of Trail 11-8. One up coming home, Gutoski had three counters when skip Tom Dunlop of Trail came up for his last shot. But the shot rock was open on the out-turn side. Dunlop was narrow and rolled out to leave Gutoski with two and the victory.

While Stone's chances of reaching the B.C. championship still remain good he cannot lose another primary event match. Neither can several other outstanding rinks including Frenchy D'Amour of Trail, Mawdsley, Lloyd Harper of Quesnel, Ray Ottem of Kamloops and Gar Taylor of Victoria.

All have lost one primary event match.

It's That Outlaw 'Spiel Time Again

Five years ago the Nelson Outlaw Baseball Club hit on the idea of curling to raise money for their summer sport.

Starting with 20 units in 1955, the Outlaw Bonspiel has grown beyond belief and this weekend, Feb. 13 and 14, the sixth annual spiel will see 56 rinks entered.

Unique in that the participants combine the two sports—curling and baseball—to help each other all the way, the bonspiel finds hilarity is the basis of the teams' efforts.

Prizes are given for everything imaginable and entrants may even find themselves winding up as a number one pinch-hitter on an Outlaw Baseball contract for the coming season.

Uniforms are available for those wishing the proper dress and many outside rinks will wear their respective uniforms in opposition to Outlaw suits.

Ron Nash announced the "hog line penalty" which has proven so popular in the past will be in effect to aid the cause of the Kootenay Handicapped Children's Society.

In addition to aiding the baseball club and the Handicapped Society, the bonspiel also has been instrumental in obtaining new members for the men's and women's curling clubs.

Smokies Hit Warpath Scalp Rossland Braves 6-5

Trail 6, Rossland 5

ROSSLAND — Trail Smoke Eaters, apparently winding up for their duel with the Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen in Vancouver on Wednesday, managed to eat up Rossland Warriors here last night. Score was 6-5 for Smokies, just another one of those heart-breakers the Golden City boys have been dropping all season.

The slightly-sad Indians of this mountain town battled the mighty Smokies to a 2-2 tie at the end of the first. Davis put Rossland ahead early in the period, only to see Tambellini and Hockley edge the visitors out in front three-quarters of the way through the stanza. Desrosiers, on a two-way pass from Andrews and Demore, tied it up a minute later, and it stayed that way until the period ended.

Warriors went on the warpath in the second as Hal Jones notched one from McIntyre and Andrews, and then little Pinoke McIntyre sauntered in all alone for another to give the home-towners a nice 4-2 lead. But the "Injuns" must have failed to make "good medicine."

Bursaw collected one from Turik and Robertson for Trail, Rossland got that back on Andrews' counter but from then on it was all the Smelter City boys' way. Smith banged one more in, then Penner and Tambellini found the road home with two more to wrap it up for Trail.

Both teams set out to play it rough in the third and the result was no scoring but a rash of four penalties with the teams splitting the honors, if you can call them that, two apiece.

Both goalkeepers played standup hockey, with Trail's Seth Martin stopping 28 and Rossland's Bruno Forlin 31.

SUMMARY

First period—1. Rossland, Davis (Demore, Andrews) 3:18; 2. Trail, Tambellini (Hockley) 5:45; 3. Trail, Hockley (Kromm, Tambellini) 15:52; 4. Rossland, Desrosiers (Andrews, Demore) 16:56.

Notre Dame Pups In B.C. Finals

Kootenay fans will see junior basketball championship games for the first time when Nelson's Notre Dame Pups play off with a Coast team for the B.C. title.

The games, when the Pups will meet the winner of semi-finals between Vancouver and Victoria clubs, are scheduled for the Cominco Arena in Trail March 4 and 5.

Persistent pressure by local basketball interests had brought the playoffs to the district, Notre Dame officials reported Tuesday night. They urged "good crowds" to ensure a return of the event. The Pups were the only team in the district eligible for the championship, it was said.

Kimberley Rink Wins at Fernie

FERNIE — A Kimberley rink, skipped by Mrs. Isobel Leith, copped the King Edward Hotel Trophy, top event of the Fernie Ladies' Invitational Bonspiel.

The two-day event which drew 20 entries, completed play late Sunday night. Other members of her rink were Emily Wilkinson, Betty Crook and Evelyn Harlin. Runner-up was the Evelyn Lutz rink of Pincher Creek, third was Martha Chester of Fernie and fourth in the event was Kay Sherling of Cranbrook.

The "B" event was won by the Gudwin Thompson rink of Cranbrook which included Irene Withenshaw, Florie Wheaton and Eva Truscott. Second was the Jean Fields rink of Coleman, third, Ida Grant, Cranbrook and fourth, Beatrice Mogielka, Sparwood.

The "C" event was won by the Helen Nelson rink of Galloway with Helen Graf, Alma Mitchell and Maureen Rosicky the other members. Second in the event was Raffir Sowchuk of Fernie, third went to Alta Lowe, Fernie and fourth to Nina Todhunter of Galloway.

A Fernie rink of nurses won the "D" event. Skip was Rose Miller, with other rink members Winnie Megale, Mary Duthie and Helen Bachlet. Joy Mullet of Sparwood was second, third was Helen Baker, Fernie and fourth Violet Wilson of Fernie.

Trail Reps, Bantams Win At Creston

CRESTON — Two hockey games sponsored by the Creston Valley Minor Hockey Association were played in the Civic Centre last Saturday night. In the first game, the Trail Pee Wee Reps had little difficulty defeating the Creston Valley Pee Wees 10-0. Trail Bantams walloped the local Bantams by the same score.

Notre Dame Beat Whiteleys 63-44

Notre Dame College hoopsters continued their winning ways last night, knocking over Whiteleys 63-44.

Part of the secret of the collegians' success was in the way they split their scoring all around the roster, with Fabro 13, Highland 12, and Zimmerman 11, leading the way but everybody else but Bressenuti getting into the fun.

Craig with 15 and Renwick with 13, were big guns for Whiteleys, but their efforts were not good enough to make up for the college's all-round team showing.

Whiteleys drew 12 of the 22 personals handed out during the fast game in which Notre Dame led all the way, racking up a 26-15 lead in the first half and going on from there.

Lineups:

Notre Dame: Rybachuck 5, Manducca 5, Highland 12, Bressenuti, Stade 7, Woodruff 4, Zimmerman 11, Fabro 13, Dawson 2, DeRosa 4; total 63.

Whiteleys—Craig 15, Renwick 13, Postnikoff 4, Rommack, Pasacreta 2, Sjoberg 2, Segur 2, Lanky 6, Coreale; total 44.

Central Hands Hume 10-2 Loss

Central School emerged winners by a big margin in the first inter-school hockey game played at the Civic here last Friday as they trounced the Hume School squad by a 10-2 margin. Hume got off to a good start getting both their goals in the first period but after that it was all Central, as they slapped in five goals in each of the second and third frames while keeping the powerful Hume team off the score sheet.

Reggie Cherenko almost single-handedly won the game for the winners as he racked up five goals. Tommy MacDonald and Larry Black scored two [illegible] with Paul Dawson getting [illegible] other one. Dawson picked up three assists, Hennig two, Wellander and Young one each. Pat Laughton starred for Humes, gettin gboth of their goals unassisted. Humes also drew the only penalty of the game, a minor for tripping in the middle stanza.

With Stane And Besom

A three-way tie between D. Meakins, N. Lutkiwich and W. Marr will be decided tonight in Nelson Curling Club Plugs' section B competition.

Meakins meets Lutkiwich tonight at 6:30 and the winner will meet Marr at 9 p.m.

In the Colts play, H. Whitmore, winner of section A, meets H. Miller, winner of section B, at 7 p.m. tonight. Tuesday night's results:

L. Chase 0, L. Whitelock 1.
G. Barefoot 10, W. Marr 6
L. Bicknell 9, E. Hunt 12
H. Doelle 8, F. Graves 11
J. Laughton 8, N. Lutkiwich 6
H. Farenholtz 7, J. Sutherland 10.
R. Riddell 6, H. Miller 8
T. Fox 0, C. Arcuri 1
R. Phillips 11, W. Cartwright 12.

Kimberley Minors Take Two Games

MARYSVILLE — Two Creston Valley Minor hockey teams motored to Marysville Sunday to take part in the first playoff games with Kimberley in the East Kootenay minor hockey division. Both teams suffered convincing defeats. The Creston Valley Pee Wees were defeated 10-0, while the Bantams went down by an 11-1 score.

Both Kimberley teams will appear in the Creston Civic Centre Saturday morning when the second games of the series will be played. The Creston Valley Pee Wee rep team will meet the Kimberley Pee Wee reps in a game scheduled for 10 a.m. The Bantams will see action in a game which will get underway immediately after the Pee Wee game.

First Minor Playoff Games Seen at Creston

CRESTON—The first semi-final playoff games in the Creston Valley Pee Wee Hockey League were played in the Civic Centre Saturday. In the first game, Canadiens defeated Bruins 10-5. The second game, a thriller, saw favored and previously undefeated Lister overpowered 2-1 by an aggressive Legion team.

Canadiens were sparked by five-goal and four-goal efforts by Guy Salvador and David Arbuckle, respectively. Allan Hughes scored the 10th goal.

Ernie Armitage, with three, and Brian Endicott, two, scored for Bruins.

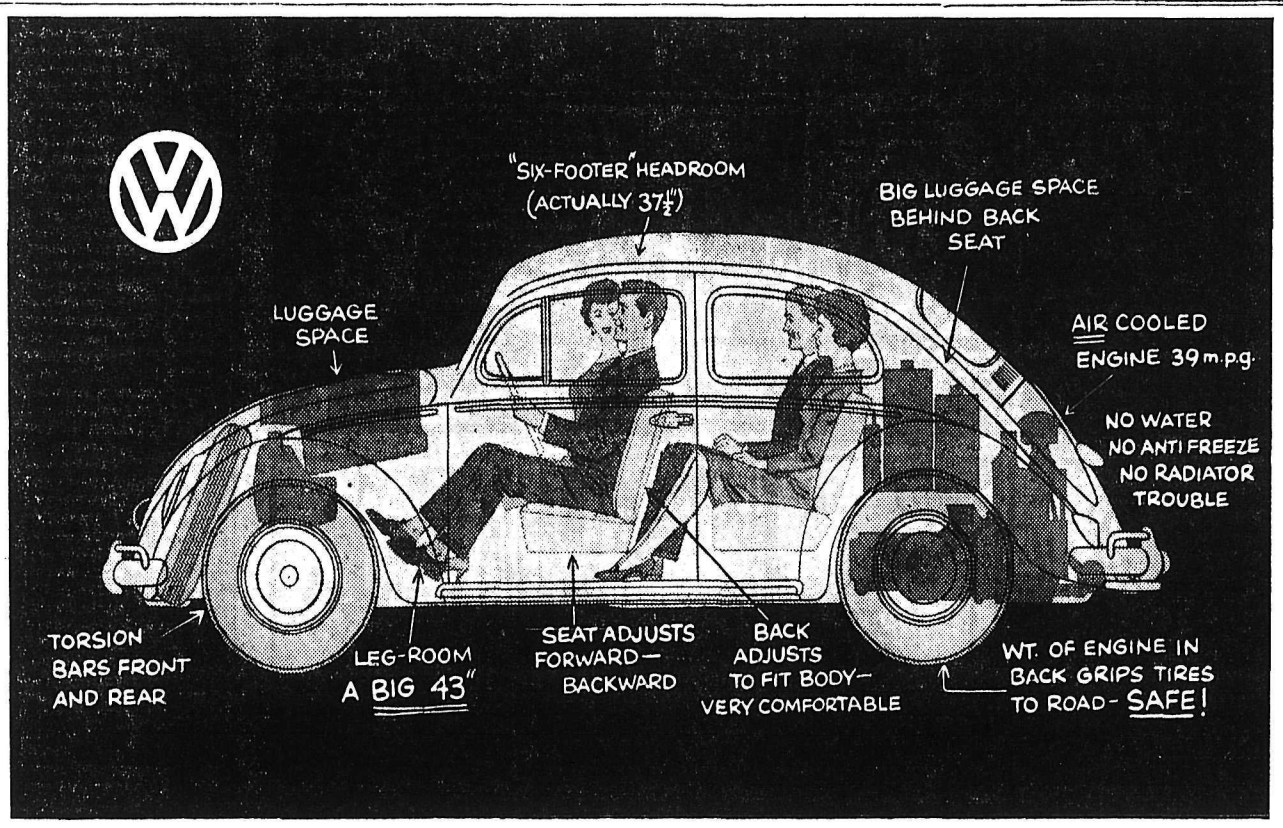
The game was marred by an incident in the second period when a Canadien player put on a display after being sent to the penalty box. The player was put out of the game and it is understood disciplinary action is planned by the Minor Hockey Association.

The Legion victory was an upset. The victors' two goals were scored by Roy Shuler and Allan Tompkins, who scored late in the third period, while Rickey Lanoville scored for Lister.

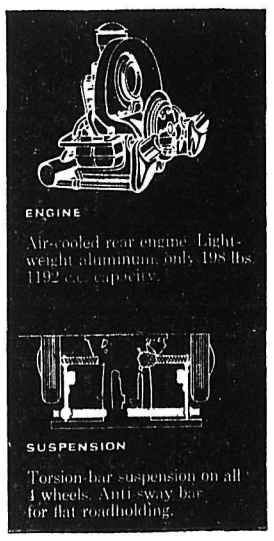
Dave Melenka and Bill Vaughn officiated at both games.

The same teams meet again in the second game of the semi-finals this week. Legion and Lister were to meet Tuesday night and Bruins and Canadiens Thursday night. Saturday night another playoff game will be held as a preliminary to the Notre Dame-Creston Midgets game.

TORONTO (CP) — Red Kelly, former star defenceman with Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League, has signed with Toronto Maple Leafs, Leafs coach and general manager George (Punch) Imlach announced Tuesday night.



What makes Volkswagen tick?



What makes Volkswagen tick? People have been asking that for years. But there's no mystery about a Volkswagen... a functional design for comfortable, low-cost transportation. Volkswagen's rear engine eliminates the long, power-wasting driveshaft, gives traction through mud and snow. Air-cooled, no water to freeze or boil. And you get up to 40 miles per gallon.

Volkswagen's ride is constantly smooth. It has independent suspension on all wheels—by torsion bars. Balanced weight distribution empty or loaded. Anti-sway bar for flat cornering. And talk about passenger room—Volkswagen's got it. Stretch your legs, wear a hat; there's space aplenty front and back. Individual seats shaped for comfort adjust fore and aft. The angle of the seat back can also be changed. Two luggage areas. A sloped hood for better vision. Yes, Volkswagen keeps right on ticking for a long, long time. It's rugged. You might ask the Volkswagen owner on your street... he's a real enthusiast.

U Nu's Party Leads Burma's Lower House

RANGOON, Burma (Reuters)—Former premier U Nu's party has secured an absolute majority in Burma's new lower house of Parliament by winning 134 of the 164 results declared so far.

The new lower house will have 250 seats, 223 of them elected.

U Nu's sweep with his "clean" faction of the Anti - Fascist People's League may be so complete that he is considering formation of steering committees of non-parliamentarians to keep watch on Parliament and the government.

Main opponent of the "clean" faction was the "stable" faction of the same party lead by U Ba Swe, also a former premier. It has secured only 20 seats so far in last Saturday's balloting and observers say it will be lucky to pick up 10 more seats.

U Ba Swe was defeated personally by a "clean" candidate.

U Nu turned his government over to an army - backed caretaker government in the fall of 1958 to clean up corruption and ensure free elections. A "clean" faction spokesman now says the party will call a conference before the April opening of parliament to decide on a government program and a cabinet.

Mining Problem Holds Back Saskatchewan Potash Trade

SASKATOON (CP)—Under the plains of central Saskatchewan lies enough potash to supply the world for perhaps 800 years. Yet because of mining difficulties, Canada must continue to import the essential mineral.

Saskatchewan's estimated potash reserves of 6,400,000,000 tons, about 3,000 feet below the surface, are staggering when put alongside a 1952 estimate of world reserves. In that year a U.S. survey estimated world reserves at a mere 500,000,000 tons.

Potash is important agriculturally as a fertilizer. Its base is the spectacular metal potassium, many compounds of which are essential to industry.

Mining Saskatchewan's deposits would be simple if it were not for a 300-foot layer of water-soaked sands between the potash and the surface. This obstacle, known as the Blairmore formation, has frustrated attempts by two United States companies to mine and refine potash on a profitable basis in the province.

The Potash Company of America has, since 1958, constructed a $25,000,000 mine and refinery at nearby Patience Lake. It hoped to achieve full production in 1959 at an estimated rate of $10,000,000 annually. But production actually was $840,000. The mine and refinery have been idle since December, when water began seeping into the shaft.

International Minerals and Chemical Corporation started a $20,000,000 development at Esterhazy in 1958, but difficulties with the Blairmore formation have kept it from reaching the potash on a commercial basis.

The Potash Company of America used a freezing technique developed in Germany to control the Blairmore sand formation, in which water pressure is more than 500 feet per square inch.

In December, water began squirting through the cement walls of the shaft at the 1,900-foot level at the rate of 300 gallons a minute. Special pumps controlled the flooding, and the shaft walls were reinforced with more cement, but production has been halted since December.

The company now is looking for the cause of the leak, about 400 feet below the Blairmore formation. A limestone formation is suspect, though some water may be seeping from the Blairmore sand.

International Minerals tried to plunge a shaft through the Blairmore layer without freezing the sand but it didn't work. Last month the company began the lengthy freezing process, now nearing completion with the shaft stalled at 1,200 feet — still about 1,800 feet from potash after two years of work.

Such holdups have had their effect on 10 other companies that planned to mine Saskatchewan's potash deposits. All have taken a wait-and-see attitude.

Potash of America has been doubly hurt by the setbacks. It lowered its price five per cent in 1958, apparently on expectations of more economical Canadian production by 1959. Now it has had to boost output from its mine at Carlsbad, N.M., to look after contracts.

One quarter of the world's potash production of 8,700,000 tons in 1957 came from New Mexico, but the Carlsbad deposits are becoming depleted and Saskatchewan has been seen as a new, virtually unlimited source.

As a soil rejuvenator, potash is becoming more important. The chemical fertilizer has a potent effect on over-worked farm soil. Markets have been increasing. North America remembers the panic when potash supplies from France and Germany — then the major producers — were cut off during the Second World War. The war price of potash shot up to $500 a ton. Now, as fertilizer, it brings about $20 a ton.

Rare Book Given To Wilcox Notre Dame

WILCOX, Sask. (CP)—A first edition of The Nuremberg Chronicle, most famous of the late medieval histories, has become a part of the library of Notre Dame College.

The literary treasure was given to Rev. Athol Murray, president and founder of the Roman Catholic college, by his students. They bought it for $600 fro mVancouver architect Kenneth Gardiner.

The book was written in latin by Schedel, renowned German historian, and published in 1493. It contains more than 2,000 illustrations.

The chronicle contains the history of the world to 1492, maps of the cities of Europe at that time, and the names of rulers and important people.

Mr. Gardiner bought the book in South America during the Second World War from a German refugee.

Market Trends

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market erased all of Monday's sharp losses in moderately active trading Tuesday and then went on to gain some.

Volume was 2,860,000 shares. The Dow Jones industrial average rose 9.02 to 628.45.

Steels, motors, chemicals, rails, airlines, aircrafts, electronics and rubbers gained.

Among Canadian stocks, International Nickel gained a point, Hudson Bay Mining 1¼ and Aluminium Ltd. ½. Other gainers were Canadian Pacific, Granby Mining and McIntyre Porcupine.

American Stock Exchange prices moved irregularly higher. Insurance Co. of North America rose 4½, as did Aerojet General.

Shawinigan was off ⅝ on the Canadian list. Canadian Marconi, Preston East Dome and Scurry Rainbow Oil gained fractionally.

TORONTO (CP) — A late rally at the close of light and dull trading pushed the stock markets upwards.

Industrials, hovering between high and low levels most of the day, jumped nearly 1½ points on index. Base metals were up nearly 1¼ points and Western oils moved ahead more than a point. Golds were up about ½ point.

The final volume was 1,636,000 shares, much lighter than Monday's final of 2,065,000 shares.

International Paper led industrial winers with a two point gain at 110. Imperial Bank was ahead 1⅛ at 57½ and Ford Motor advanced one point at 75½.

On the losing side Laura Secord went down a point at 26.

Bank of Nova Scotia was off ⅝ at 66 and Alberta Gas and Consolidated Paper fell off ½.

Western oils, the only consistent winner all day, gained considerably.

MONTREAL (CP) — The Montreal and Canadian stock exchanges ended on a firm note. Closing averages had utilities, industrials, combined, papers and golds up and banks off. Volume was down from Monday.

Utilities, constructions and Western oils showed gains.

Bell was up ⅛ in utilities at 43⅜, Brazilian Traction 5 cents at $4.40, B.C. Power ½ at 33¼ and Shawinigan ⅜ at 28.

Dominion Bridge was up ⅜ in constructions at 19⅞, Foundation ⅝ at 11 and Dominion Tar ¼ at 14½.

Home B was up 15 cents at $10.00 in Western oils, Pacific Petroleum ¾ at 11 and Royalite 10 cents at $7.45.

Consolidated Paper lost ¼ at 40½, Abitibi gained ½ at 37½, Brown advanced ⅛ at 10⅛, Great Lakes slipped ½ at 38½, Howard Smith declined ½ at 43½, Powell River rose ⅛ at 16⅛ and St. Lawrence climbed B at 16⅝.

Base metals showed Aluminium down ⅛ at 30⅛, Asbestos off ⅜ at 23¼, Hudson Bay up ½ at 50 and Noranda up ¼ at 44¼.

BA Oil was down ⅛ at 32⅛ and Imperial Oil was up ¼ at 33¾.

Other movements included Trans Mountain up ¼ at 10¼, CPR off ⅛ at 24½, Canadian Breweries up ⅛ at 33⅞, Industrial Acceptance from ½ at 33 and Cockshutt off ⅜ at 17⅝.

Toronto Barringer Family Carry On Stage Tradition

TORONTO (CP) — The Barringers — like the Barrymores — are a theatrical family.

Five of the nine children of Bill and Joyce Barringer of suburban Willowdale are active in radio, television and the legitimate theatre. The father is also an actor and two others of the children have been on stage.

Here is the current lineup on the Barringer call board:

Alec, 9, and Stephen, 11, have completed work in a filmed CBC TV production, The Remarkable Incident at Carson's Corners; Leslie, 7, is appearing in a theatre play, Sun in My Eyes; Jimmy, 14, is auditioning for a new CBC radio show for teen-agers, and Mr. Barringer is reading for a part in Toronto's Crest Theatre production of Three Men on a Horse, to be cast in March.

Stephen is also preparing for All Summer Long, a local entry in the Dominion Drama Festival.

VETERAN AT 15

Bob, 15, is the most experienced of the family, having appeared on more than 90 radio shows, including Aunt Lucy, such TV productions as The Last of the Mohicans, Tugboat Annie, The Wayne and Shuster show, Hit Parade and dozens of commercials. He gets an acting job on an average of about once a month.

The only daughter, Joyce 6, has acted but, says her mother, "she didn't care for it and we let it go."

Bill Jr., oldest of the children at 19, has acted in the past. David, 18, and Michael, 10 months, have not taken up the theatre.

As for their mother, she says "I'm the audience."

The theatrical exploits of the Barringers began a number of years ago when the father, Bill Sr., was a child actor on a local radio program. He outgrew the part but when he heard of a shortage of boy actors he promptly brought Bobby in to fill the gap.

As the children grow older there is always another Barringer waiting in the wings to pick up the parts.

"When a producer or agent would call asking for eight-year-old Bobby," said Mrs. Barringer, "I would have to say he was 10 now, but that I had an eight-year-old. That's how the children keep going into the business."

The children were so successful they got their father back into show business. He started to do the odd commercial a few years ago and branched out into roles in New York Little Theatre productions. He now is finding regular work in theatre and TV in Canada.

Bill advises hopeful parents to send their children to acting school to learn the ropes before attempting to break into radio or TV. "Don't force them if they don't want to do it, and above all they should have a good scholastic record."

Ontario Argues On Rates For Basic Gas Sale

TORONTO (CP)—Both the consumer and distributor must be protected in the consideration of any formula to establish a base rate policy for the sale of natural gas, Energy Resources Minister Robert Macaulay told the Ontario legislature Monday.

In explaining a bill which would set up an Ontario energy board, Mr. Macaulay said the best rate policy might be found in either a formula based on the philosophy of original cost less depreciation or a formula based on a fair rate of return on a shareholder's equity.

In Ontario, since 1919, basic rates have been based on original costs less depreciation, he said.

The government, Mr. Macaulay said, will continue to think of a fair rate of return on investment as seven per cent.

CONSUMPTION DOUBLED

A total of 90,000,000,000 cubic feet of gas was used in Ontario in 1959, nearly double that used the previous year, Mr. Macaulay said.

The bill, which means the end of the Ontario fuel board if passed, was not given second reading. It is to be further debated.

CCF Leader Donald C. MacDonald said that the government is permitting the Ontario consumer to be "fleeced."

He quoted figures in a recent government submission to the national energy board which he said showed the Ontario consumer is paying $7.24 to Consumers' Gas Company for 3,000 cubic feet of gas, while a subsidiary of the same firm is asking permission to export gas to the United States to sell for $4.17 for 3,000 cubic feet.

Labelling Mr. MacDonald's statements "absolutely untrue," Mr. Macaulay said the matter would be discussed at a later date.

UN May Help Cyprus To Independence

NICOSIA, Cyprus (Reuters)—The United Nations may be called upon to help steer Cyprus toward independence, political quarters here said Tuesday.

They mentioned this as one strong possibility following the collapse of independence negotiations here Monday.

The UN, they said, might be asked to consider a caretaker administration until a general solution is worked out.

Another possibility is that Britain would continue colonial rule indefinitely until agreement is reached on the size of British bases to be retained on the island after it becomes an independent republic.

Cyprus had been due to attain independence Feb. 19. This was postponed a month after a conference in London last month broke down over the future size of the British bases. And a British statement Monday said there has been no agreement on a new target date for independence.

AMERICAN-TAGGED FISH

MOSCOW (AP) — A salmon tagged by Washington state University recently turned up in the Soviet-occupied Kurile Islands in the North Pacific, the newspaper Soviet Russia reports. The paper says two boys caught the salmon in the Kluch River near the city of Kurilsk. A disk, bearing the number 346, was tagged to the fish and included a message requesting that the disk be returned to the university.

400 New York Babies Given Polio Vaccine

NEW YORK (AP)—Sabin live-virus polio vaccine has been given to 400 new-born infants at New York's Bellevue Hospital in the last two months. All are reported well.

Purpose of the program at the large municipal hospital is to learn if new-born babies can be immunized for life.

Dr. Morris Greenberg, director of the city health department's bureau of preventable diseases, said that while the live-virus vaccine has been taken orally by millions of persons, the Bellevue program is the first large test at such an early age. He said the parents of the babies consented to the tests.

Bellevue researchers believe that if the test prove successful and the infants develop their own antibodies against polio within two or three months, the simplest means of immunizing will have been found.

India Eagerly Awaits Khrushchev's Arrival

By WATSON SIMS

NEW DELHI (AP)—Indian officials eagerly await the arrival Thursday of Nikita Khrushchev. They consider the Soviet premier the only person who might induce Red China to retreat in the bitter dispute over the border between India and Tibet.

India's leaders attach about the same importance to Khrushchev's four-day visit as that given to President Eisenhower's visit last December.

Eisenhower's coming was regarded by many as a veiled warning to Peking against using force to seize 50,000 square miles of border territory claimed by both India and Communist China. The American president did not disappoint his Indian listeners when he told Parliament that the United States is ready to come to the aid of its friends in the event of aggression.

PARTY PRESSURE

Khrushchev is viewed more as an "honest broker" — one who might use his top Communist position to persuade Red China to ease its claims.

Indian leaders from Prime Minister Nehru down have been encouraged by Khrushchev's refusal to take sides in the dispute. But there has been concern over the Communist chief's description of the dispute as a misunderstanding.

"Misunderstanding is precisely what it is not," declared the influential Hindustan Times in a recent editorial, reflecting what many officials are saying privately.

The newspaper pointed out that India has explained its position in scores of notes and letters over the last five years—that the disputed territory is India's legally and historically.

VITAL TALKS

Nehru will get an opportunity to reiterate that position in talks with Khrushchev Thursday and Friday. The Soviet leader's reaction could profoundly influence Indian attempts to negotiate the dispute. It also may provide the outside world with some insight into the often-enigmatic relations between Moscow and Peking.

Nehru has taken great pains to prevent the dispute with Peking from affecting India's relations with Moscow.

"Communism has nothing to do with it," he has declared repeatedly. "What we are faced with is Chinese expansionism."

Desperate Man's Holdup Fails

NEW YORK (AP) — A man walked into a Brooklyn bank Monday, handed a 1,500-word holdup note to a teller and left.

The highly detailed note told the teller, 18-year-old Dolores Catalano, to wrap $2,000 in $20 bills carefully in a package. It explained that in an hour someone would come to get the package. She called police.

An hour later a 14-year-old boy came in and said he had been given a dollar to get a package for a man waiting a block away.

Police gave the youngster a dummy package, followed him and picked up Frank Wilson, 32.

He told detectives he hasn't worked since December, his wife is in a mental hospital and he is caring for three children.

He was charged with attempted robbery.

Kamloops Man Freed In Stabbing Charge

VANCOUVER (CP) — A 21-year-old widow who testified her fiancee stabbed her in the abdomen told an Assize Court Monday she had now forgiven him and still planned to marry him.

Acquitted by the jury of stabbing Mrs. Anne Peal Barron last Dec. 26 was William James Michael Hall, 19, of Kamloops.

Mrs. Barron said she had been drinking in an east end beer parlor with Hall and they later argued on the street and she gave him back his engagement ring.

She said Hall was paring his fingernails with a knife and he lunged at her and stabbed her once in the abdomen.

"He then walked me to my sister's home two blocks away," testified Mrs. Barron before Mr. Justice F. K. Collins.

The wound was superficial and Mrs. Barron was released from hospital 12 hours later.

B.C. Authority Outlines Plan For Surplus Power

By JIM PEACOCK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

VANCOUVER (CP)—Export of hydro power surplus to foreseeable needs of British Columbia could assure the province of inexpensive power at home for all time, a B.C. power authority says.

"We should develop all of our hydro power as quickly as we can and sell the surplus to the United States," said W. C. Mainwaring, president of Peace River Power Development Company.

In that way, he said, the U.S. would write off the depreciation of Canadian plants "and we could have cheap power as long as we wanted to keep the plants running."

Mr. Mainwaring made the remarks during a six-hour dinner meeting-press conference where he described in detail many facets of the Peace River Power Development Company's proposals for hydro power production on northern B.C.'s Peace River.

QUESTIONS EXPORT TAX

In an aside on the export question—one which he has stressed does not have any bearing on whether or not the Peace project goes ahead—he questioned the common sense of a federal government policy which places an export tax on a commodity he says is in surplus supply and which has a ready market "right on our doorstep."

The tax amounts to three-tenths of a mill and is coupled with a federal policy not to permit hydro power export under long - term contract.

Mr. Mainwaring listed figures based on a broad range of studies of various hydro resources in B.C.

He said that if all the power sites known to be economically feasible from the Peace River south were developed by 1970 and the surplus power during the next 15 years sold at five mills, more than $3,000,000,000 in revenue could be obtained from the U.S. by 1985.

By that time there would no longer be a surplus because B.C. would need all its power production.

Mr. Mainwaring said this took into consideration only the present known potential of about 21,000,000 horsepower possible if the Peace, the Columbia, the Clearwater and Homathko and several smaller waterways were tied together in a power grid. Another 13,000,000 horsepower could be developed within this grid as it progressed.

SALMON UNTOUCHED

This estimate, Mr. Mainwaring said, would not include any portion of the Fraser River that is involved in the Salmon-fishing industry nor the potential of the Liard River and the Alberta side of the Peace.

"We can install generating capacity much faster than B.C. can use it," he said.

Consumers in the Pacific Northwest U.S. were willing to purchase B.C. power if they could obtain it under contract for 10 to 15 years. There was no reason why surplus power could not be exported on the same basis as surplus natural gas—under contract for a specified amount for a specified time.

Mr. Mainwaring said Canada is an exporting nation and no other commodity faced an export tax.

"We don't even put an export tax on our whisky," he said. "But we put one on power—a commodity that we have in surplus supply and one that has customers waiting at our doorstep. We don't even have to send a commission down there to sell it to them."

McKee Joined Church On Eve of Hanging

PARRY SOUND, Ont. (CP)—Marvin McKee, 20, went to a "quiet, efficient and quick" execution early Tuesday, said sheriff Stephen Elliott of Bracebridge, Ont.

McKee, convicted of murdering Huntsville taxi driver Bruce Spiers, 22, dropped through the trapdoor of the gallows at 12:07 a. m. and was pronounced dead 11 minutes later by the jail surgeon, Dr. A. J. L. Wright.

Reports said McKee went to his death quietly and confessed to his crime shortly before he died.

When told Monday that the cabinet would not commute his sentence, McKee requested that his eyes be given to the Eye Bank of Canada and that he be buried in the jail yard as a reminder and deterrent to other boys who choose to live carelessly.

Jail officials said the requests would be granted.

CALM REACTION

Rev. Gordon McElhose of the Pentecostal Church, who stayed with the youth during his last hours, said McKee took the news calmly when told a commutation was refused.

The minister said the youth had made the request to be buried in the prison yard "with frankness and sincerity." He said McKee had told him he had no unkind thoughts or feelings against anybody.

Mr. McElhose said he gave the youth communion Monday morning and that McKee had embraced the Christian faith.

McKee was the first person under 21 executed in Canada since 1947 and the eighth person hanged since the Progressive Conservative government came to power in June, 1957. Since then the government has commuted to life imprisonment 32 other death sentences.

GRAVEL PIT SLAYING

McKee was convicted of the murder Nov. 7 at Bracebridge. The bodies of Spiers and his partner, Francis Grosso, 29, were found in a gravel pit 11 days after the men had disappeared.

McKee was charged jointly with Wayne Sluman, 17, who later pleaded guilty to manslaughter and was sentenced to 15 years in penitentiary.

Sluman testified the youths lured Spiers and Grosso on to a deserted road June 19.

Both taxi operators were shot with a .22-calibre rifle.

Later the two accused returned to rob the bodies and one of them crushed Spiers' head with a rock.
