Krestova Man Charged In Ootischenia Fire

Three New Arrests; Several Face Arson Charges Today

The first charge of arson arising out of the burning of Ootischenia village last August was laid against a young Krestova man Wednesday.

RCMP indicated late last night that several more suspects will face the same arson charges in provincial court today.

Wednesday morning two other Krestova men appeared before stipendiary magistrate William Evans to face charges arising out of arson and bombings this year.

The arrests by the RCMP were the 18th, 19th and 20th in the last week.

The biggest crackdown on terrorists in the last 10 years is expected to swell the population of the old provincial jail and RCMP cells even more in the next week.

Charged with arson in the burning of the Orthodox Doukhobor community on the Columbia River near Castlegar on the night of August 20 was John P. Ostrikoff, about 20.

$100,000 DAMAGE

Damage to the community was unofficially estimated at about $100,000 and 14 families, about 60 people, were left homeless.

Ostrikoff is the first to be charged with arson in the series of arrests. Previous charges centred on attempted arson on July 29, and bombings.

On July 29 weekend several unexploded bombs were found in the communities of Brilliant, Ootischenia and Pass Creek, all near Castlegar.

Charged with attempted arson yesterday was Bill W. Kinakin, while Paul P. Zaroubin was charged with bomb making in connection with the Wynndel bomb case.

A 36-stick dynamite bomb was found under the Anglican Church in Wynndel last April. At the same time a grain elevator was damaged by an explosion.

NONE ASK BAIL

Like their 17 predecessors, none of the three applied for bail and thereby were remanded without hearing until November 16.

RCMP said that as yet no one has stepped forward with a voluntary confession and confessions obtained to date have been through diligent police work.

Police said that to date no new evidence has been thrown upon the Hadikin Brothers sawmill burning recently, or the case of a sniper firing two bullets at an RCMP ghost vehicle.

81 PERISH IN AIR CRASH

Only Two Known Survivors; Plane Burns

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — An Imperial Airlines Constellation with 83 persons aboard—28 of them U. S. Army recruits—crashed and burst into flames Wednesday night just south of Richmond. Only two of those on the plane apparently survived.

Ronald Conway, 29, of West Hollywood, Fla., captain of the aircraft and one of the survivors, said the men aboard the plane were recruits from Newark, N.J., Wilkes - Barre, Pa., and Baltimore, Md. The plane was carrying them south to Fort Jackson, S.C.

Witnesses said the plane zoomed over Byrd Field, just east of Richmond, shortly before 9:30 p.m. at an altitude of about 700 to 800 feet and seemed to be trying for an emergency landing.

Then it flew off to the south and moments later, seemingly on a landing approach, smashed down into a ravine about a mile southeast of the airport, exploding several times and bursting into flames.

Authorities at the scene said apparently no one aboard the plane survived except Conway and his flight engineer, W. F. Poythress, 30, of Miami.

The plane had last stopped at Baltimore, where it picked up 17 recruits, and its immediate destination was Columbia, S.C.

Nurses' Demands To Conciliation

VANCOUVER (CP) — The services of a conciliation officer will be sought following a breakdown in wage discussions between 44 members of the B.C. Hospitals Association and the Registered Nurses Association of B.C.

The two bodies were attempting to come to terms for the renewal of a collective agreement.

A statement from the hospitals association gave no other details following three days of meetings which ended Wednesday.

Women Needed as Fallout Reporters

VANCOUVER (CP) — The army said Wednesday it needs 144 women — single or married but without children—to man nuclear fallout report centres in Kamloops, Nelson, Nanaimo and Prince George.

The female militia members will be enlisted as part of the Canadian Women's Army Corps to man filter centres responsible for receiving reports from more than 100 fallout reporting posts in B.C., and forwarding the information to the provincial warning centre at Nanaimo.

Fallout reports in the East and West Kootenays will be filtered at Nelson while Prince George will report on the Cariboo, Prince George area and west to Prince Rupert.

Immigration Drop Noted

OTTAWA (CP) — Immigration to Canada in the first nine months of 1961 dropped by one-third compared to the corresponding period last year, with British arrivals remaining in second place behind Italians.

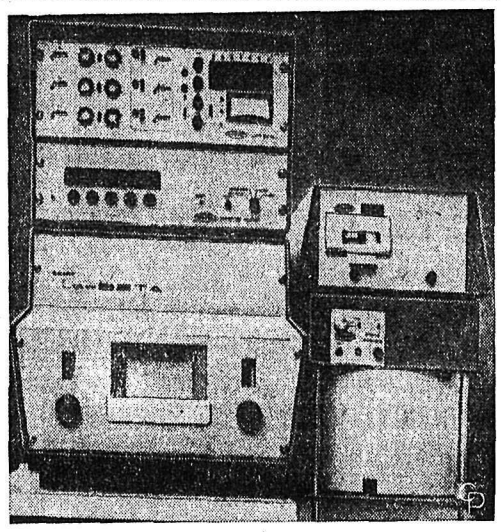
The immigration department reported Wednesday that the flow of immigrants in the January-September period fell to 56,168 from 83,843 in 1960, a decrease of 27,675.

British arrivals in the nine months totalled 10,735, down from 17,468 last year.

Immigrants of Italian ethnic origin numbered 11,202 in the first nine months of the year as against 16,496 a year ago. Arrivals from the United States were at third place at 8788, up from 8500 in 1960.

The drop in total immigration reflects the federal government's policy of discouraging entry of unskilled workers, the class making up the bulk of the unemployed. The immigration department now is concentrating on attracting immigrants with skills and professions and those with funds who want to establish businesses or farms.

Fire Toll Mounts to 470 Homes As Battle for Control Continues



MILK RADIOACTIVITY TESTER—This is the low-level radioactivity detection system used by the U.S. Food & Drug Administration in 11 cities to test for Strontium 90 (compliments of Khrushchev) in milk. It can detect to within one micro micro curie per liter of milk or water. Milk is boiled down to a slag or scum and this is inserted on a slide into slot (lower) of the main unit at left. The detector is made by Sharp Laboratories in La Jolla, Calif.

Firemen Credited With Saving 7500 Homes in Path of Flames

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Firemen battled Wednesday to keep control of two big and still-dangerous brush fires and announced that the toll of homes destroyed — some of the city's finest — had reached 470. Many of the homes destroyed were worth $100,000 or more.

The count was incomplete. Some homes that had escaped so far still were threatened.

All but nine of the houses known to be destroyed were in the plush Bel-Air and Brentwood districts, the homes of millionaires and movie stars. The nine exceptions were in Topanga Canyon, an area of more modest residences.

Firemen were credited with saving 7,500 homes in the path of the fires, which broke out Monday.

The Bel-Air blaze, which had raced with incredible swiftness through brush-choked canyons of the Santa Monica mountains, was described Wednesday as contained.

The Topanga Canyon fire, which destroyed only nine homes but gobbled up thousands of acres of precious watershed, was 80 per cent contained. Along its southern front, where the fire line was not solid, it was about ½ mile from the nearest homes in the seaside community of Pacific Palisades. None was in immediate peril.

The Bel-Air - Brentwood fire, which left such film stars as Zsa Zsa Gabor and Burt Lancaster homeless, covered 5,750 acres after breaking out near the crest of the Santa Monica range Monday morning.

The Topanga Canyon fire had covered 7,400 acres.

There was no official damage estimate but one city fire official said: "Take $50,000 or $60,000 and multiply it by the number of homes destroyed and I think the result would be a conservative estimate." Using the $50,000 figure, the result would be $18,750,000.

Planes have bombed the two disaster areas with 200,000 gallons of a fire-retaring chemical called borate. On the ground, firemen have used millions of gallons of water.

The two fires were one to two miles apart but there was no immediate danger of their joining.

Although the Bel - Air-Brentwood fire was listed as contained — its spread halted — a fire official said it won't be considered controlled for weeks unless there is rain.

Celebrities rendered homeless, in addition to Lancaster and Miss Gabor, included Joan Fontaine, James Garner, Steve Cochran and Joe E. Brown. Miss Gabor's home was valued at $400,000.

Cause of the fires was not known.

Cabinet Decides Queen To Visit

By ROD CURRIE

LONDON (CP)—The British cabinet decided at a special meeting Wednesday that the Queen should go ahead with her state visit to troubled Ghana, starting today.

Prime Minister Macmillan drove to Buckingham Palace to inform the Queen of the decision and then told the House of Commons the Queen would proudly go ahead with the tour despite a series of bomb blasts in Accra, capital of the west African Commonwealth nation.

The Queen is said to be eagerly looking forward to the trip and to have made it known that her personal inclination was against altering the program, announced months ago.

Members of Parliament Wednesday night were preparing an all - party motion expressing their good will to her and the Duke of Edinburgh on the eve of their departure.

The Queen and Prince Philip leave London this morning on a Boeing 707 jetliner for their 3,600-mile non-stop flight to Accra.

BOAC said the craft will be commanded by chief pilot John Woodman, 46, a native of Vancouver.

Macmillan said the government concluded after expert advice that "the degree of risk attaching to this tour is no greater than that which has been present in many of her previous journeys."

DOLLAR HIGHER

NEW YORK (CP) — Canadian dollar 3-64 higher at 96 27-32 in terms of U.S. funds. Week ago 96 51-64. Pound sterling 11-64 higher at $2.81 39-64.

Grief Shared by Film Colony

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — All the movie colony was affected directly or indirectly, by savage fire that cut through the canyons and hilltops populated by the film famous.

The more fortunate shared the grief of those who lost all their belongings in the tragic event.

There was Joe E. Brown, his clown's face sad Wednesday as he viewed the rubble of his home. Gone were the mementoes of his long career, including trophies for entertaining troops in the Second World War.

But he managed to find among the ashes the dress uniform sword of his son Don, an air force flyer killed in the war.

A distraught Zsa Zsa Gabor moved into the Beverly Hills Hotel after viewing the remains of her mansion and announcing she will live in California no more.

The Beverly Hills and other west-end hotels put up many refugees from the fire area.

Maureen O'Hara moved her valuables back into her Stone Canyon house, damaged but still standing.

BOONE PRAISES CREWS

The fire crews drew praise from many of the beleaguered residents. Richard Boone, who stayed up all night to water down his Mandeville Canyon house, commented:

"The firemen were a gallant bunch. Everybody reacted in a fine manner. I expected to find a lot of kooks and sightseers in the canyon, but there was nothing like that. There was no panic."

Jack Lemmon was in London but his home was saved, thanks to a school chum, producer Fred Jordan. Houses on both sides of Lemmon's Bel - Air home were lost, but Jordan removed the actor's Oscar, leather bound scripts and clothes, then returned to keep the place wet and safe.

Jordan had performed a similar service in a brush fire two years ago. Lemmon messaged Wednesday from London: "I guess now I owe Fred the house."

KIM AND HER CAT

Kim Novak nearly lost her home and her cat, Pyewacket.

"He was scared and ran up on the roof," the actress reported. "I went around yelling, 'Pyewacket! Pyewacket!' and I'm sure the firemen thought I was crazy."

She had to leave without the cat but returned the next day to find it safe.

What did she think of saving first?

"My poems," she said. "People laugh when I tell them, but I wanted to save the things I couldn't replace. The only trouble was I couldn't remember where I put them. I had to hunt all over until I found them. I also found all kinds of things that I had missed for months."

De Gaulle Asks Peace Talks Now

TOULON (Reuters)—President de Gaulle Wednesday night invited Algerian insurgent leaders to begin peace talks without further delay or preconditions.

De Gaulle told a cheering crowd of more than 10,000 persons in this French naval port that the end of the conflict "is in sight" in the North African territory.

He arrived here from the island of Corsica where he began his current speaking tour Tuesday.

"There will be an Algerian state, which will play its role in the world, in the Mahgreb (Arab north) and in the West," said de Gaulle.

"We believe this Algeria will need to co-operate with France. We are ready to help it to come into existence and we are ready to help it live."

De Gaulle said this would cost France a lot of money and in return France wanted guarantees for European Algerians and for exploitation of natural gas and oil in the Sahara.

He warned that if the Moslems did not agree or if a majority rejected all ties with France "then we should be forced to reassemble the Europeans in certain regions. Then we would see what would happen."

Pearson Fears Canada May Be Caught Unaware

By JAMES NELSON

PORT HAWKESBURY, N. S. (CP)—Opposition leader Pearson said Wednesday that nuclear war might catch Canada off guard with no time to secure nuclear weapons.

At a Liberal party nominating convention here, Mr. Pearson also criticized Canada's dependence on Communist markets for increased export trade.

Allan MacEachen, the opposition leader's director of research, was nominated as Liberal candidate in Inverness-Richmond in the next federal general election.

Mr. Pearson said the government was spending millions on two Bomarc-B missile sites, at North Bay, Ont., and Mont Laurier, Quebec, but would not declare its policy on nuclear warheads for them.

"The time has come now for the prime minister to tell us," he declared. "It is insufferable and humiliating to Canada that the government can't make up their minds."

Mr. Pearson said it appeared to be the government's policy to "wait for an emergency and then decide," but in nuclear wartare, there might not be time to secure nuclear warheads after war explodes.

Air Attack on Quito Forces Carlos Arosemena Into Presidency

By THOMAS J. STONE

QUITO (AP) — Ecuador's air force attacked Quito with jet fighters Wednesday and forced the army to accept left - leaning Vice - President Carlos Julio Arosemena as president of the crisis - ridden nation.

Three T-33 jets firing rockets and machine - gun swooped over the Legislative Palace where tank - supported soldiers were holding Arosemena a virtual prisoner.

Minutes after the attack, radio stations and loud speakers announced that army - backed Camilo Gallegos Toledo, supreme court chief and a political centrist, had dropped his claim to the presidency.

Army units had picked him to take over the job left vacant by the resignation of President Jose Maria Velasco Ibarra. The congress voted Arosemena into the job and the air force backed up the decision with force against the army.

TWO BLASTS HEARD

Three U.S. - made jets with weapons blazing swooped over military installations and roared over the Legislative Palace. The palace was rocked by two blasts. Residents of this capital city swarmed into the streets.

No damage or casualties were reported.

As soon as Gallegos' resignation was announced, army tanks and troops withdrew from the palace.

Arosemena promptly picked his cabinet, forming what appeared to be a relatively middle - road coalition without representatives from the conservative party or the extreme left.

He had made up a prospective list of ministers as he and Gallegos waited earlier in the day for a decision on their futures.

Record Tourist Season Forecast

OTTAWA (CP) — A record tourist season is indicated this year, Resources Minister Dinsdale said Wednesday in announcing that the annual federal-provincial tourist conference will be held here Nov. 27-29.

Tourist revenues last year were exceeded only by newsprint and have been estimated at more than $420,000,000, Mr. Dinsdale said in a statement.

Travel promotion leaders from Britain and the United States are to attend the conference which is to hear a review of expanded Canadian tourist promotion by the Canadian Government Travel Bureau.

Honduras May Ask U.S. Aid

BELIZE (Reuters) — The first minister of British Honduras said Wednesday he was considering going to the United States to ask President Kennedy for U.S. aid for this hurricane devastated colony.

George Price said he hoped to get U.S. financial help to rebuild a new capital on higher ground away from Belize, which is below sea level.

PARADE DEMOLISHER—Here is that car which ran wild in Anoka, Minn., and plowed into a parade of school children and spectators, killing two women and injuring 23 other persons, including 18 children. Beside it is the body of the driver, believed to have been dead of a heart attack while still at the wheel.

Universities To Put Bigger Bite on Ottawa

By KEN KELLY

OTTAWA (CP)—Much will be expected from the federal government as Canadian university and college representatives meet next week to assess the needs of the future and how to meet them.

This was made plain at a press conference Wednesday at which Very Rev. Henri F. Legare, president of the National Conference of Canadian Universities and Colleges, and A. D. Dunton, president of Carleton University, set the stage for an NCCUC meeting on the theme Canadian Universities in a New Age.

Mr. Dunton, program committee chairman, outlined a need for financial aid almost triple that of the present if universities are to meet their responsibilities in the "age of the explosion of knowledge."

His paper touched on the November, 1960, brief by the NCCUC calling for greater federal financial assistance.

Father Legare, rector of Ottawa University, remarked pointedly that this brief has gone unanswered by the federal government. Another copy, he said, had been sent to Prime Minister Diefenbaker as a "delicate" reminder of the year-old requests.

Only one of four major requests had been dealt with and that one—Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation mortgage loans to finance student residence construction—only partly.

REQUESTS IGNORED

Untouched, he said, were requests for an increase to $2.50 from $1 in per capita federal grants to universities by the 1962-63 academic year, additional payment of $500 for each full-time graduate student and annual grants of between $5,000,000 and $8,000,000 to be administered by the National Research Council and Canada Council to match grants for construction of university facilities.

Father Legare replied "yes" to a reporter who asked whether he regards the 1960 brief as having been shleved and that the federal government doesn't realize the urgency of the universities' problems. Mr. Dunton replied he wouldn't think that was a fair assessment but added "I certainly hope it hasn't (been shelved)."

Both made it plain that they are pinning great hopes on Mr. Diefenbaker's speech to the conference next Tuesday night. At the last such conference in 1956, Liberal Prime Minister St. Laurent announced doubling of per capita grants to universities and grants for capital construction through the Canada Council.

At the conference which opens Monday, the 200 university and college representatives will assess progress since 1956 and the tasks of the next 10 years.

TORONTO MEN INVOLVED IN NARCOTICS RING

NEW YORK (CP)—A federal court was told Wednesday how an international narcotics ring, involving three Toronto men, used a Brooklyn bakery to break open trunks and valises containing packages of smuggled heroin.

Matteo Palmeri, the bakery owner, testified that in August, 1960, he was told by Albert Agueci, 39, of Toronto to meet a passenger at New York's Pier 84. He said the passenger was Rocco Scopellitti, 26, also of Toronto.

Palmeri said he and Scopellitti took a trunk to the bakery. Another man was waiting there and "they took the trunk into the bakery and ripped the bottom open and took 10 packages out of it."

Palmeri was the first witness to testify at the trial of 12 men charged with conspiring to violate the narcotics law. The accused are linked with a ring that allegedly smuggled more than $150,000,000 worth of heroin into the United States from Canada and Italy in the last 10 years.

BOY BITTEN

PRINCE GEORGE (CP) — George Belsham, 4, suffered gashes to his head Wednesday when attacked by a large German Shepherd dog as he played with a companion in a neighbor's yard. The boy was taken to hospital in a "satisfactory" condition.

SUPERMARKET OPERATOR PAYS HEAVY FINES

VICTORIA (CP) — Probably the heaviest total of fines ever imposed in greater Victoria police courts were levied by Magistrate J. A. Byers against a Saanich supermarket operator charged with falsifying income tax returns.

Henry Eng, operator of Oakrest supermarket, was fined a total of $15,000 for six counts of filing false income tax returns.

The trial of Mr. Eng came to an abrupt end late Wednesday when defence counsel W. H. Haldane requested permission to change his client's plea.

The surprise move came at the midway point in the lengthy trial.

TURIN, Italy (AP)—Giovanni Vallauri has decided, with some reason, that he is having a run of luck.

On Oct. 21 Vallauri, a Turin chemist, took a chance on Italy's weekly state-run lottery, Enalotto, and won 3,500,000 lire ($5600).

The next day he played Italy's Totocalcio (football pool) and won 8,000,000 lire ($12,800).

On Oct. 28 he went to Turin's auto show to see what he could buy with his winnings. He won a 500,000 lire ($800) car on his entry ticket.

The next day he played Totocalcio again and won 2,000,000 lire ($3200).

And, of course, Enalotto rolled around again Monday. His winnings: 1,900,000 lire ($3000).

Total to date with Totocalcio coming up again Sunday: 15,900,000 lire ($25,400).

Two Firms Win Awards For City Hall Furnishings

Tenders of J. T. Mowatt Co. Ltd., and Jordan's Ltd., for furniture and carpeting, respectively, for the renovated city hall, were accepted by city council Monday.

Tenders for the blinds and drapes for the council chamber were found to be unsatisfactory and the firms involved will be asked for new quotations on the items.

Mowatt's tender of $7339 for new furniture was accepted over two tenders submitted by Leno-Whimster Printing Limited of Nelson. The first plan, suggested as equal to the specifications preferred by architects Smith and McCulloch of Trail, cost $3989, while the second plan, manufacturer's recommendations, cost $5884.

Mowatt's tender was selected mainly because the other plans did not conform with the specifications for the type of desk and finishing of the furniture sought.

Jordan's bid of $1368 for the 34-foot by 21-foot carpet of forsythia gold was the third lowest bid of the five received.

Other bids were: Eaton's of Canada $1033; Hudson's Bay Co. Ltd., $1241; Home Furniture, (Nelson) Ltd. $1519 and Sterling Home Furnishers $1639. All included sales tax and installation.

Council felt that the quality of the carpet offered by Jordan's justified its bid over the two lower ones.

ASK ROYAL BLUE

It was originally hoped to have the carpeting a royal blue color, but firms were unable to supply the preferred color. To keep the color scheme, council in asking for new tenders on drapes, asked for royal blue instead of gold.

In asking for further tenders on the drapes, council was informed that all samples were too translucent. A more opaque appearance is desired for the Vernon Street wall of the second storey room, which used to house the Kootenay Museum Association.

Tenders were received from Hudson's Bay Co. Ltd., Dorset quality $98; Crystalline quality $106; Sterling Home Furnishers $226; Eatons of Canada $237, Home Furniture (Nelson) Ltd., 10 samples with prices of $334, $306, $346.

Tenders for Venetian blinds were received from Eatons of Canada, 35 blinds with metal slats $1023, 35 blinds with cloth slats $1050; Hudson's Bay Co. Ltd., 25 blinds with metal slats $1048, Home Furniture (Nelson) Ltd. 25 blinds with aluminum slats $1058, and Sterling Home Furishers, 25 blinds with aluminum slats $1278.

All, excepting Eatons, included sales tax and installation cost in their tenders. Eatons did not indicate if the sales tax was included in its tender.

TO BUILD TABLES

Council also authorized J. C. Mermet of Mermet Cabinet and Millwork of Nelson to proceed with the construction of seven tables, total cost $987.

Resolutions arising out of the "in camera" meeting of council, authorized the city hall renovation committee to act on tenders received on curtains and blinds; and city clerk, C. W. R. Harper to prepare a short-term capital borrowing money bylaw, funds from which will be used to purchase the furnishings of city hall.

One new addition didn't cost the city anything. Dick Spurway of Nelson contributed a new flag—waving from its mast atop the building, Mr. Harper informed council.

In other city hall renovation happenings, council approved the second progress payment to Nelson contractor Louis Maglio. To date about $35,000 worth of work has been completed on the $56,000 renovation. The second payment was for $17,000, making a total of $29,000 paid to date.

Work on the building is expected to be completed except for odd jobs at the end of this month. Mr. Maglio's crews have almost finished the second floor work and now are working in a half section of the main floor. The other half section is being used by the city hall clerical staff.

Also approved was the first work change order on the project. The change results in a saving of $7 for the city on the project.

Deleted from the project was all the painting in the basement area, crediting $413 to the city, cupboard for main electrical distribution panel in the equipment room, credit $72.

SOME EXTRAS

Extra costs resulted from: rebuilding of an exterior ramp on Ward Street. When the old landing was broken up it was found in too poor a condition, forcing construction of new walls and landing, creating an extra cost of $173; installing shelving in the vault, $57; installing cupboard, shelves in machine room, $221; reduce width of doorway between machine room and coffee room, $27.

The lighting fixtures being removed from the building are desired by the Kootenay Museum Association to create better lighting in museum quarters at Lake and Hall streets corner. Also sought is three or four old globe light standards to light up the property.

The request for the light standards will be complied with when they become available. There are only a few left in the city as the bulk of them ended in the scrap pile of a smelter.

But the lighting fixtures from city hall was another matter. Council was hesitant to grant the request as it was believed that the lighting fixtures belonged to the firm doing the electrical work in the building, Coleman Electric Ltd. It was believed that council would have to repurchase the fixtures before making them available to the museum.

Ald. Edith Van Maarion was assigned to investigate the matter.

More Teeth in City Garbage Laws Urged

The proposal of a new system of garbage collection for the city brought a "go slow" sign from Dr. A. S. Arneil, medical health officer and director of the Selkirk Unit.

At the same time, city council was urged to put "more teeth" in its garbage collection and disposal bylaw No. 1089, especially in regard to spillage around cans.

Two weeks ago L. H. Miller of Rossland asked the city to consider installing the new "container refuse collection" service. It calls for a few large community-like containers in each alley.

Dr. Arneil asked who would be responsible for the selecting of the sites for the containers. Who would want a large community container on his property, with its offensive odor, fly menace, animal scavengers and spillage from careless handling? the Doctor asked.

He said he was contacting Victoria for more information on the new method which has only been in existence for two years in one city in the United States.

It was reported that several locations in the city suffered badly from garbage spillage around garbage stands.

Russell Davis, sanitarian, has run into several strong objectors in his attempts to have the areas cleaned up, council was told.

Mr. Davis asked that an amendment to the present bylaw be made so as to make the owner or agent of a building responsible for maintaining the area around the garbage stand.

City works superintendent Dragutin Likar said that it was time that several services offered by the garbage collection service be overhauled.

The matter was referred to Mr. Likar for report and recommendation to council.

Education Vital In Mental Health Work

The need for education at the community level is extremely important in combatting mental illness, George Kenwood of the Canadian Mental Health Association, said Tuesday night.

Mr. Kenwood told members of the Catholic Women's League at the Church of the Blessed Sacrament of the necessity to educate community groups in new developments in the field.

Citing a two-year experiment in England, the Executive Director of the B.C. Division of CMHA said that four of five people who presented themselves at an institution could be treated at home.

He said that with family support and the interest of the lay people in the community a person can lead a full and normal life.

The Nelson branch of CMHA, in cooperation with four other branches in East and West Kootenay will be organizing a regional council to deal with Kootenay affairs. In this way, people in the Kootenay will be able to get attention early and not have so far to travel, he explained.

Speaking to the nurses at Kootenay Lake General Hospital, Tuesday, Mr. Kenwood told them of the latest mental health facts and ideas. He went on to say that nurses confronted with mental health problems in many cases would have to analyze the situation for themselves.

Mr. Kenwood said the Nelson branch is becoming very active and is planning an education program for the winter. He hoped to return to Nelson in February.

FIRE DAMAGES TRAILER

A utility trailer fire resulted in $100 damage over the weekend.

The vehicle, intended to be used by Glen Yates for a hunting expedition, was spotted ablaze near the corner of Hall and Vernon Streets.

City firemen believe a discarded cigarette on the oily floor canvas started the blaze on the wood grading of the trailer's bottom.

The trailer belonged to Nick Lutkiwich.

EVANS RETURNS

Stipendiary Magistrate William Evans reported Wednesday that he and the attorney-general Robert Bonner agree on steps to be taken regards the Doukhobor land settlement question.

Magistrate Evans returned to Nelson Tuesday.

He did not expand on his general remarks, but indicated that future policy that has been decided on is in complete agreement with his recommendations on the matter.

$150 in Fines Paid

For being impaired while in care of a motor vehicle cost a Gray Creek area man, W. J. Stewart, $100 in police court.

Mike Khadikin of RR 1, Nelson, a minor, was fined $30 when convicted of having possession of alcohol.

John Kokosh of Nelson, a minor, was fined $20 for being found on licensed premises

CELEBRATING his 63rd birthday in Nelson on Tuesday was Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson, who is presiding over the fall sitting of the supreme court of British Columbia here. He was born in Nelson, the family home being on the North Shore. His father, later a county court judge at Cranbrook, was first city solicitor here when John Houston was mayor.

Spry Oldtimer Enjoys 99th Birthday Party

William A. "Pop" Hufty has reluctantly allowed himself to be promoted.

To friends and staff members of Mount St. Francis the nonagenarian finally answers to the name "Grandpa."

The distinction was a long time coming for the former CPR employee, 99 years to be exact.

Tuesday Nelson's oldest man celebrated his 99th birthday amongst friends and relatives at the home of his son, Frank Hufty.

After a whole day of celebrating, the consensus was the flesh may be getting weary but the spirit is still razor sharp.

"How old are you grandpa?" asked one of his 31 great-grandchildren.

"Twenty-one. Don't I look like it?" shot back the jaunty oldtimer, city resident since 1931.

Still spry and full of wit, Mr. Hufty steams along through each day, fuelled by a daily ration of six or seven big cigars and plenty of pipe smoke.

His only physical defect is his hearing.

His eating habits like his smoking ones remain gargantuan. As customary at the Mount, a patient's birthday allows him the opportunity of choosing his own breakfast.

W. A. HUFTY

Unhesitant, Mr. Hufty called for ham and eggs and a slew of fried potatoes.

Refuelled at his birthday party by numerous gifts of various cigars, the elderly gentleman matched puff and kept stride with his offspring.

Cards were received from relatives and friends throughout the Pacific Northwest and one card from Grafton, Wisconsin. It was from people who had known the Hufty family when it lived in Marysville, Montana in the early 1900's. It was the first time Mr. Hufty had heard from the people since living in Marysville.

Mr. Hufty, who resided in the Annable Block until April of this year, ended the party on an optimistic note, making plans for his 100th birthday.

H. J. Clark, Arrow Lakes Pioneer, Dies

NAKUSP — Funeral services were held in the Robertson Memorial Church here Tuesday for Harold J. Clark, Nakusp pioneer, who died Saturday. He was 77.

Rev. Ewing Rae officiated, and cremation followed. Pallbearers, all members of the Rotary club, were Dr. F. B. Maxfield, Quinton Forsythe, J. Morehouse, Erling Johnson, J. C. Haire and A. B. Stanley.

Mr. Clark came to Upper Arrow Lake district in 1896, first to Revelstoke. He was assistant agent at Arrowhead, yardmaster at Revelstoke, agent at Three Velley, Clayburn, Golden and Nakusp, where he was agent until his retirement in 1949.

In recent years he has been one of the operators of Beau Vista Motel.

Mr. Clark was a charter member of the Nakusp Rotary Club and served as secretary-treasurer until July of this year.

WOMAN HIT BY TRUCK

Struck by a half-ton truck at a downtown intersection late Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Mary Harlow, 417 Victoria Street, remained overnight for observation in Kootenay Lake General Hospital. She was not injured seriously, it was believed.

The accident occurred at the intersection of Baker and Ward Streets. It was reported that the truck was backing at the time and that Mrs. Harlow received a glancing blow. Name of the driver was not available last night.

Nimsick Asks Gas Distribution By Commission

CRANBROOK (CP) — Leo Nimsick, CCF-NDP member of the legislature for Cranbrook-Kimberley, Wednesday urged the provincial government to allow the B.C. Power Commission to distribute natural gas to the East Kootenay.

Mr. Nimsick made the request in an open letter to Premier Bennett. He said the power commission has the right to distribute gas under the Power Act.

Mr. Nimsick said the recent failure of Kootenay Gas Utilities Ltd. to meet its franchise requirements might result in smaller communities being deprived of natural gas.

Mrs. Legebokoff Acquitted Of Murder of Grandchild

Mrs. Mary Legebokoff was acquitted by reason of insanity on Wednesday on a charge of capital murder in the drowning death of her five-year-old granddaughter last New Year's Eve.

The child, Nina Perepolkin, was drowned in a communal bath house at Glade, Evidence in the West Kootenay Fall Assize trial which began Tuesday was that Mrs. Legebokoff had become so obsessed with the idea that her granddaughter was developing the same humpback condition with which she herself was afflicted, that she drowned the girl to save her suffering, too.

Evidence submitted by two coast psychiatrists indicated the woman was insane at the time of committing the murder. (Due to a typographical error, the report of the trial in Wednesday's paper said she was sane, instead of insane).

When court reconvened Wednesday morning, neither defence counsel G. B. Arnesen or Crown prosecutor Leo S. Gansner made an address to the jury. Presiding judge, Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson commented that the murder case was unusual in that the address to the jury was waived. He stated it was the first time in his career such a situation had arisen, "but I think it correct to do so here."

NO HESITATION

All evidence pointed to the woman's guilt—her admitted guilt—but all evidence also pointed to her insanity at the time of committing the crime. "I think possibly this is the only case where it is proper for me to tell the jury what the verdict will be," his Lordship stated. He said there wasn't the slightest doubt that Mrs. Legebokoff was a devoted grandmother and "I have no hesitation in telling you that this woman is not guilty, by reason of insanity."

He did emphasize to the jury members that he could not instruct them on what verdict they were to return but that it was his prerogative to state his own opinion in the case.

The jury returned its verdict after less than five minutes deliberation. Mrs. Legebokoff was ordered detained at the Lieutenant-Governor's pleasure. It is expected she will be released after a period of treatment.

When the woman was led from the courthouse, an aged lady embraced her. The aged woman, tears on her cheeks, was Mrs. Legebokoff's mother.

Members of the jury were W. H. Mainland, foreman, of Trail; N. A. Joy, Nakusp; J. F. Dunlop, South Slocan; Gustave Wagner, Trail; O. R. Hanson, Trail; J. R. Innis, Riondel; J. D. Brown, Rossland; R. G. Groom, Trail; H. D. Baron, Trail; I. J. Baker, Crawford Bay; W. J. McDonald, Salmo, and Robert Dunsmore, South Slocan.

High School Launches Winter Activities

With first weeks of the new term over and examinations finished, activities at L. V. Rogers High School are taking on a winter slant after the early fall preliminaries.

The drama club, with its 30 members, elected officers at its first meeting and will soon begin rehearsals for a spring production. Sanda Laine is president, Dorothy Fieldhouse secretary and Doug Catley treasurer. The high school chorus, under direction of E. D. Baravalle, began preparation for the Christmas Choral Festival.

First edition of a school biweekly newspaper, the L. V. Rogers Radical, edited by Brad Stevenson, is now out.

DANCES HELD

Social activities have been well attended so far, it is reported. The Frosh Dance, held the first week of September, was designed to give many of the new students a chance to become acquainted with the school and other students. In mid-October, a fall dance was held and the next social function will be the Co-Ed Dance to be held Nov. 17. Theme of this event will be Sadie Hawkins Day, when girls ask the boys for dates and dances.

From the minister of intramurals comes a report on house competitions. "Football is over and volleyball is in progress." Coming events include: Nov. 24, boys' tug o' war; beginning of badminton tournament Nov. 27; and musicals slated for Dec. 1, houses A and D, and Dec. 7, houses B and C.

House standings are: A, 212, B, 190; C, 178, and D, 157.

BUSY IN SPORTS

Soccer teams both won West Kootenay championships held in Castlegar Oct. 28. Grass hockey teams placed well up in competition at Trail.

Volleyball teams have been picked and are practicing regularly in preparation for the tournament, in which two girls and two boys' teams will be entered. The Bombers have been having workouts and are looking forward to a good season.

Next big event will be the West Kootenay volleyball championships to be held in Nelson Nov. 16. The boys will try to retain the title they won in Rossland last year, while the girls will try for the title they lost in the finals.

REQUEST FOR TRAVERSE PONDERED

A charge of murder against Richard Alexander Huculak was requested to be traversed at the Supreme Court sitting here Tuesday, but crown prosecutor Leo S. Gansner indicated his reluctance to apply for further traverse on the request of the Attorney-General.

Mr. Gansner told Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson that Huculak's case had been traversed previously because of the unfitness of the accused to stand trial.

The prosecutor stated he had received a wire from the Attorney-General asking him to make application for further traverse.

Huculak is charged in the murder of eight-year-old Linda Townsend of Park Siding, near Fruitvale in 1959. The girl was found dead with her mother.

Mr. Gansner indicated his reluctance to make application for further traverse without first having received a certificate from the psychiatrist in charge of the accused.

Mr. Justice Wilson stated he thought that the Attorney-General should be told of the developments.

"This constitutes a very bad practice. The time will come when a jury will decide the fitness of the accused. At this rate a person could stay in confinement for many years," His Lorship said.

City Parking Problems Aired by Council

Erection of a multiple parking building on the city-owned site at the 600 block Vernon Street was suggested Monday at city council.

The suggestion arose out of a discussion of a possible remedy for the city downtown parking problem.

Ald. B. C. Affleck said all that was needed for such a building was "vision and a little capital."

Council felt that Nelsonites are not yet so "saturated" with the problem that they would support such a building.

Ald. Edith Van Maarion again broached the solution of removing parking meters from downtown streets to attract business to the downtown area.

This, in turn, would diminish the attraction of a possible supermarket, if one was built on the outskirts of the city.

Council felt that removing the meters would not solve the problem but would only result in all-day parking by a selected few.

A suggestion that a special parking area be established for downtown business personnel was also frowned upon. It was believed that many business people would not avail themselves of the special parking lot, but instead would park on the main business streets.

A motion was passed asking that two members of the town planning commission meet with council to discuss the parking problem.

It is known that it has been suggested to council that to ease the parking problem the streets of 400 Josephine and 500 Kootenay be closed off and made into public parking lots.

Salvation Army To Renovate Hall

Nelson Salvation Army building will undergo extensive renovations about Dec. 11.

Capt. Robert Moffatt said major repairs will be made to the 50-year-old building, including the addition of more rooms, removal of an echo and to make the building "more presentable to the public."

Architect is David P. Fairbank of Nelson.

Admission of Facts Entered For Second Time in Assizes

A twist in an unusual court case being heard at the West Kootenay Fall Assize here seemed to indicate that crown prosecutor Leo S. Gansner might attempt to prove the sanity of Laura Bayoff at the time of a crime she committed, though evidence given by a coast psychiatrist was to the contrary.

Mrs. Bayoff, wife of self-confessed terrorist Mike Bayoff, is charged with unlawfully setting fire to her Wynndel home on Dec. 27, 1960. The fire threatened a West Kootenay Power Company pole and a building owned by Mike Popovich, a neighbor.

The small elderly Doukhobor woman was declared unfit to stand trial on the charge at the Spring assize held last May but has since received further treatment at Essondale and was declared fit by a 12-man jury Wednesday.

In the beginning, Mrs. Bayoff's trial seemed to parallel the trial of Mrs. Mary Legebokoff in that an admission of facts by Mrs. Bayoff was presented as evidence. Mr. Gansner told Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson he wished to forego any address in view of the admission of facts he had received.

At this point His Lordship asked to read the admission before it was presented to the jury. The jury was then dismissed when Mr. Justice Wilson took exception to one part of the admission. A brief recess was called while he considered it.

When court was reconvened the judge said that if the matter he took exception to appeared to be a necessary part of the picture something could be worked out later. He did not elaborate.

At this point, Mike Bayoff, the woman's husband who is awaiting his sentencing Dec. 4 on a charge of unlawful possession of explosives, was brought into the courtroom gallery under police escort to view the proceedings.

Mr. Gansner then read the admission of facts signed by the accused and acknowledged by defence counsel J. B. Varcoe. The admission related circumstances of the burning of the home. Mrs. Bayoff was home alone about 4:30 p.m. on Dec. 27, 1960, and set fire to the building with the use of gas, it stated.

The accused admitted that there were other buildings in the near vicinity and when the Bayoff home was burning people rushed to prevent flames from spreading to other buildings.

It was also admitted that Mike Popovich's building had to be hosed down It was 29 feet from the Bayoff home.

WANTED TO BE CLEAN

Mr. Gansner read in the admission that Mrs. Bayoff stood outside her burning home, nude except for stockings and shoes, and later told bystanders she committed the act because she wanted to be a "clean" Doukhobor.

Mr. Justice Wilson stated that counsel, Mr. Varcoe, was to be commended for obtaining the admission which would speed up the trial. He had said the same thing in the Legebokoff case where G. B Arnesen was defence lawyer.

After a brief address to the jury Mr. Varcoe called Mrs Pauline Berikoff, daughter of the accused, to the stand. Under questioning by Mr. Varcoe, she told court of her mother's physical and mental reactions prior to the burning on Dec. 27.

"Sometimes she would just sit and stare and wouldn't hear me talk to her," the young woman stated. She and her husband lived a short distance from the Bayoff's in Wynndel and Mrs. Bayoff was a frequent visitor to the Berikoff home.

Under cross-examination by Mr. Gansner, Mrs. Berikoff told the court of her mother's association with a group of Doukhobor women but that her mother never spoke of the association or hardly ever discussed religious beliefs with her. The woman did say her mother had told her ownership of property was a bad thing. She also said she knew that her parents had obtained property in Krestova and had intended to move there after selling their home in Wynndel.

Dr. J. C. Thomas, a Vancouver psychiatrist, certified specialist in neurology and psychiatry and consulting psychiatrist for the Attorney-General's department, was called as a witness and related his findings of examinations of the accused.

The psychiatrist told court Mrs. Bayoff suffered from diabetes but could not say whether or not it affected her mental state.

He reiterated her former statement that the accused had been insane but now had all her faculties about her.

Mr. Gansner, on his cross-examination of Dr. Thomas, said that he was prepared to bring neighbors of Mrs. Bayoff to the stand and asked if their testimony in any way could change the doctor's opinion of Mrs. Bayoff's state. Dr. Thomas said it could not.

Mr. Gansner then asked if he would change his opinion if he heard testimony of two "responsible police officers".

At this point Mr. Justice Wilson interrupted, calling Mr. Gansner's questions "hypothetical."

He then called an adjournment until 10:30 a.m. today.

It is not known if Mr. Gansner will pursue the line this morning.

An interested spectator throughout the major portion of Mrs. Bayoff's trial was John Lebedoff of Wynndel, leader of a splinter Freedomite group.

Commission Gives Third Reading to Sewage Bylaw

CASTLEGAR — The new sewage establishment and construction bylaw was given three readings at the regular meeting of the Castlegar Village commission Tuesday.

The bylaw will be presented to the electors December 7. Meanwhile, the Pollution Control Board has approved the village's request to discharge treated domestic water in to the Columbia River.

An aerial map to include new areas of the village is being patented to be included in the overall picture for future reference. The cost of the new map is $550.

The village commission passed a motion to make sewer pipe available to the property owners provided the pipe meets the standard of the consultant in the sewage system establishment.

This must be a cash sale with no responsibility to the village when the sale is made. The pipe would be ordered with the initial shipment.

A drawing obtained from Wannop and Hitrle of Kelowna, engineesr for the proposed sewage system and treatment plant, is to be on display in the village store windows soon.

Bert Staite of the Department of Highways will be contacted to discuss catch basins to be installed on the highway in front of the elementary school and below Sherbiko Hill on a "share cost" basis.

Land will be purchased from Frank Savenkoff for construction of a road on Seventh Avenue.

The need for an extension of street lighting is to be topic of a special meeting to be held November 18. Joe Legelin, village clerk, will obtain information from Osoyoos as to how that town has developed such a high standard in their street lighting project.

V. Cook and W. Thorpe indicated they would stand for re-election at civic elections in December.

Supper, Film Part of Legion Week Program

SALMO—As part of the Legion Week program, a potluck supper was held by Royal Canadian Legion members Tuesday night in the Salmo Legion Hall.

Highlight of the entertainment was showing of the National Film Board presentation "An Enduring Tradition," a documentary film of the Royal Canadian Navy and its part in Canadian history.

Special guests invited to see the film were members of the Salmo Fire Department.

FUNERAL HELD FOR FORMER TRAIL RESIDENT

Funeral service was held in the chapel of Vancouver Crematorium in Vancouver recently for Mrs. Mary Sybil Marlatt, who died in Nanaimo Hospital at the age of 75 years.

A former resident of Powell River, Victoria and Trail, she was born at Hamilton, Ont. She was a member of the B.C. Music Teachers Federation and life member of the IODE and Red Cross at Powell River.

She was predeceased by her husband, Charles, in 1958.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. W. Morrison of Nanaimo and Mrs. W. Dwyer of Trail, and six grandchildren.

Large Crowd Parents, Friends See Air Cadet Trophy Awarded

TRAIL — A large number of parents, friends and interested people attended Awards Night of City of Trail Squadron 531 Air Cadets, held in Central School Tuesday evening.

The D. R. McLaren Trophy representing the top squadron in B.C. was presented to Squadron 531 for the second year in a row. On hand to make the presentation was Wing Commander W. N. Foster of Vancouver, who presented Flt.-Lt. W. H. Ross with the trophy.

The commander said he was impressed with the awards made during the evening. In his opinion the air cadet movement was the finest in Canada today and he was especially pleased to see so many parents and friends present.

The A. D. Bell-Irving Trophy for top squadron in flight drill was also won by the squadron for the third time in a row.

It was presented by J. H. Ewart, vice-chairman of the B.C. Civilian Committee of the Air Cadet League of Canada.

Flt.-Sgt. W. B. Gerrand was presented with wings. It was a special ceremony and his wings were pinned on by his mother. Officials of the squadron requested Mrs. Gerrand to make the presentation.

Other presentations were made by Alderman Allan Broom of Trail and Mayor H. S. Elmes of Rossland: Flt.-Sgt. B. Flegel promoted to WO2; Sgts. W. B. Gerrand and P. Player promoted to flight sergeants; Cpls. A. W. H. Curtis, E. D. P. Thibodeau, E. W. Warrington, promoted to flight sergeants; LAC J. Gray and LAC M. A. Blench promoted to corporal.

Promoted and reclassified as leading aircraftsmen were J. R. Alton, R. Argatoff, M. Barach, G. Bisaro, R. D. Bruce, R. A. Campeau, D Castle, J. D. Clausen, G. Erikson, K. Graham, C. D. Hanes, D. F. Jim Curtis, chairman of the local civilian committee, was master of ceremonies.

MURPHY GETS MEDAL

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actor Audie L. Murphy, whose 24 prior decorations included the Congressional Medal of Honor, now has the Civilian Service Medal as well. The army's highest civilian honor was bestowed Tuesday night for Murphy's contribution to an army film concerned with the missile program.

Harwood Steele Applauds Fort Steele Restoration . . .

Son of First Police C.O. in Province Writes Association

CRANBROOK — Harwood Steele, son of Sir Samuel Steele who established the garrison at Fort Steele in 1887 as first North-West Mounted Police post west of the Rockies, has written the East Kootenay Historical Association secretary, Dan MacDonald, expressing gratification at the Fort Steele restoration plans.

Mr. Steele had queried the C.P.R. earlier this year regarding information about the community and had been referred to Mr. MacDonald, who sent him information and pictures.

Mr. Steele now lives at Ounchurch near Rugby, England, and says he hopes to visit Fort Steele and Cranbrook in 1962. He writes: "The Steele family's interest is naturally far greater than that of the public as it has its roots in more than my father's connection with the fort.

"It is not generally realized that prior to the building of Fort Steele, he was the first Mounted Police officer stationed in British Columbia . . . namely as commander of the Mounted Police detachment maintaining law and order along the line of construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway in British Columbia's mountainous eastern region.

"Before and after that time he often visited the Kootenays on duty or pleasure bent. He took a practical (if unsuccessful) interest in mining development around Fort Steele, in fact the family still maintains the major share of two claims in that district.

FIRST IN COMMAND

Then, in 1898 he became the first Mounted Police officer to command the force in British Columbia (an extension of his responsibilities in the Yukon). He had at least one troop from British Columbia in Strathcona's Horse, which he raised and commanded for the South African War. And while inspector-general for Western Canada in World War I, he had all British Columbia under his jurisdiction.

"I therefore feel that this Fort Steele project will in some measure do fitting honor to a man whose services to British Columbia were not merely confined to the region around the fort and to the years 1887-88 when he built and held the fort. The above may also help to explain why I am ready as well as able to help if the authorities tell me their plans before it is too late."

Traffic Re-routed After Fire on Nick's Island Ferry

CRESTON — Traffic is being re-routed on the West Creston ferry following a recent fire which gutted the wheelhouse of Nick's Island ferry.

The fire, believed to have been started by fumes from gasoline while refueling on the Nick's Island side of the river, left the entire machinery and inside of the steel wheelhouse a mass of twisted metal.

Operator Ross Evans, rushed to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alf Berg when the fire started and they, with Mr. Evans, started the pump to spray water on the flames.

Government men are inspecting the ferry to estimate what repairs are required.

Weakness in New Gov't Aid Policy

The provincial government has informed municipal councils that in future it will contribute 25 per cent of the cost of the labor hired only if those employed are on the lists of welfare agencies. This means that summer seasonal labor hired by the city cannot be counted to receive the government grant.

This policy is in line with the opinion of many people that welfare recipients should work for the money they receive. Under it the provincial government stands to lose nothing, for what it gives to the municipal governments it does not have to give to the welfare agencies.

Whether it will effect its purpose is another matter. If the municipalities elect to try the government's scheme they will probably be plagued with men who either can't or won't work, and, as one alderman remarks, the next thing will be that the government will tell the municipalities that they can't fire them if they are no good, and many of them will probably be unsuited for the work.

There are always those whose lot is unfortunate and who need assistance. In normal times they manage to get by but when the economy slackens, because they have no skills in demand at the time, they are thrown out of employment. Often, because of poor physique they are unable to do heavy manual work and they go on welfare lists. Obviously, these will not make suitable workers for the winter works program.

On the other hand every municipal public works department has summer workers it would like to retain through the winter. In their own line of work these may be regarded as skilled workers and they are the ones cities would like to keep employed. There is no reason why they should not be employed under the winter works program, for while they are on a city payroll they will not be drawing unemployment insurance benefits, a point which might well be drawn to the attention of those concerned.

What every city council has to bear in mind is that the intention of the winter works grant is to provide for men who have no work. It is not to enable municipalities to get work done cheaply. Looked at from this point of view councils could compile lists of local unemployed who are taxpayers or have been resident in the city for many years and should try to make work for them.

We do not suggest welfare recipients do not want to work. We do suggest that since funds have to be made available to those unfortunates in order to tide them over, some return in the form of work would be more satisfactory to the recipients and welcomed by those who provide the tax money so used. In other words, where possible, tax moneys spent should bring some direct benefit to the people who foot the bill.

Will the Government Ever Learn To Listen?

Many Canadians must wonder what the use is of appointing Royal Commissions and paying the considerable costs they entail when the government pays no attention to the recommendations they make. For example, the MacPherson Royal Commission on Transportation recommended that the privilege of free passes on the railways except for company employees and some government officials be abolished, and that some amendment be made in the statutory provision of free transportation for members of parliament. Not only has the government neglected to make the necessary amendments to the Railway Act called for by the MacPherson Report, but Transport Minister Balcer has announced that free rail transportation is now to be restored to the wives and dependents of members of parliament.

Unsubsidized Canadians may well wonder what service the wives and children of members and senators render to the country to entitle them to such a privilege. The members themselves are well paid for the duties they perform, and if they need the extra perquisite of free railway fare, that is an expense that, as the MacPherson Report recommended, should be provided from the national treasury rather than loaded on the railways. Certainly, the railways have little reason to subsidize either the members or their families, since, as a matter of political policy, the members are always opposed to anything that would enable the railways to increase their revenues, and in favor of increasing the railways' costs whenever the leaders of the railway unions decide that it is time for their workers to get higher wages or paralyze the country's economy with a strike.

If members of parliament, as a class, are so fond of their families that they cannot bear to be separated from them for any length of time, the obvious course is to refuse the families free transportation. This would make for shorter sessions of parliament, with more efficient conduct of the country's business and some saving to the overburdened taxpayer.

Lesson in a Shelter

Publicity gimmick though it may essentially have been, that nine-day stay of a young Peninsula father in an 8x10-foot bomb shelter at the county fair produced some interesting results—and observations.

Perhaps the most noteworthy of these had nothing at all to do with civil defence or emergency survival.

It was mentioned by Terry Scott, the man in the shelter, to Walt Zimmerman, one of our reporters.

"The extreme quiet was good," said Scott. "I had a chance to do some thinking about my own personal values."

From the emphasis Scott put on his words, it was obvious he had valued this part of his experience especially highly.

Small wonder. For with Scott, as with many of us, quiet tends to become a virtual stranger in our noisily busy world.

It's nice to become acquainted with it again. And necessary.

"The important job is to learn to fit quiet — and the kind of thinking it brings — into our daily lives. If enough people all over the world could do this, could gain the strength, the peace and the direction that come from silent communion with inner self and with God, it would do incalculable good.

It would, for one thing, greatly lessen the awful possibility of all of mankind having to find their quiet where Scott found his, in a bomb shelter. — Advance-Star (Burlingame, Calif.)

Interpreting the News

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Konrad Adenauer is back in the saddle in West Germany but he no longer holds absolute power.

Paradoxically, just at the moment of his re-election as chancellor by the Bundestag, there are signs that the Adenauer era is drawing to an end.

The 85 - year - old chancellor himself has promised to step down before the end of his four-year term, and the expectation is that he will not last much longer than one or two years.

Another factor is that he now is considerably dependent upon the Free Democratic party, which made the biggest gains in the Sept. 17 elections.

TOUGH BERLIN STAND

There are two views about the Free Democrats, headed by 44-year-old Dr. Erich Mende. One is that Mende will steer the federal republic along a dangerous new road of narrow nationalism, reviving all the old fears about a militarist-minded Germany.

The London Daily Express, for instance, says that Dr. Mende as part of his coalition agreement with Adenauer is insisting on a "whole list of tough conditions" about Berlin.

These conditions, The Express says, postulate that there "shall be no weakening of the bonds between Berlin and West Germany, no recognition of East Germany and no interference with civil air passage to and from Berlin."

The other view is that Dr. Mende is a flexible man, and that there are loopholes in the coalition agreement. In other words, the Free Democrats do not entirely rule out negotiations with the Russians over Berlin.

NEW BLOOD

Time may show that the Free Democrats are a party with a split personality. Basically, Dr. Mende's forces are built around the old Liberals, moderate-minded men from Germany's south and southwest.

Recently, the party has been invaded by the "young Turks," a more radical - minded group from the industrial Ruhr. It is from these elements that the call comes for a more nationalistic German policy.

Some observers feel that the Free Democrats are unlikely to exercise a veto over a flexible Lestern policy on Berlin, as The Daily Express fears.

A possibility is that West Germany ultimately will develop a sort of tripartito approach on foreign policy, with Willy Brandt's opposition Social Democrats coming in for consultation though they have been excluded from the government.

HUBERT

"How do you do, Mrs. Dibble."

F. B. Pearce Writes

Nelson is reputed to be a good place in which to bring up children. Certainly the environment is a pleasant one and children seem to enjoy their lives here. Yet there are people who contend that larger places are better while others prefer the country.

Environment may have some effect but it is not the most important factor in the development of the child. Those children brought up in the narrow streets of London are no less happy than those brought up in the highly select suburb of Toronto's Don Mills.

Children adapt themselves to their environment and extract their pleasure from it. What they get from their environment depends on their intelligence and the use they make of it. There are a surprising number of children in the country who know little or nothing of the animals and plants in their neighborhood.

Nor do children have to have every advantage. My children were brought up without a summer home. They did not have a boat but they learned to swim and today I cannot see that they are any worse off than their more fortunate friends. Yet people regard such things as indispensable.

It is not environment that stimulates but people. Those children born to parents whatever their status will almost inevitably follow the pattern of their parents' conduct. A slum child with good parents is far more likely to be a good citizen than one born of parents without moral standards in the most expensive penthouse.

Intelligence, or at least the ability to use it, is stimulated by environment. The child who lives in the country may lack the stimulus of intelligent companions, but when he goes to the city he may react to his environment readily and probably far more than those who have been subjected to it all their lives.

Large cities exert a great influence on writers and artists, who seem to need the crowds to stimulate them. Some indeed cannot work in the country and many who do have to travel to be able to work well.

Eric Nicol expressed the influence of the large city as compared to his own home town of Vancouver by saying that you don't know how rural you are until you get to London. The same could probably be said of other cities like New York and Paris. Though this may be true, the plain fact is that everyone has to make the best of his own environment.

Plan Two Grey Cup Dances At Toronto Hotel

TORONTO (CP)—Two dances in connection with the Grey Cup football game have been scheduled for the Royal York Hotel, which has been picketed by strikers for more than six months.

The Grey Cup festival committee of the Junior Board of Trade said Wednesday night a reception and victory dance after the game will be held at the hotel, as well as a dance Dec. 1, the night before the game.

Committee chairman Richard Browne said bookings for the two events were made before the strike began and no other place large enough to house them was available.

He said the committee believes enough football fans will cross the picket lines to make the dances a success.

The hotel employees, members of the Hotel and Club Employees Union (CLC), have been on strike for higher wages since last April.

J. Allan Wood, president of the Musicians Union, said he did not know whether union members would play at the dance.

Sees Even Higher Overpayment

To the Editor:

Sir — Referring to your guest editorial of Nov. 13, "Wrong Pocket" which point out that the B.C. Hospital patients are overpaying an amount equivalent to a $2 boost in co-insurance. A closer examination of BCHIS revenues seem to indicate a $5.70 patient day overpayment.

The National Health Plan assented to April 12, 1957 and entitled Hospital Insurance and Diagnostic Service Act, provides for a payment to the province of not less than 47% of the cost of hospital insurance exclusive of capital expenditure and related items. Roughly, the Provincial Health Department should have received a Federal Grant of around $8,000,000. Therefore, total revenue received in the guise of hospital care requirements amount to $43,750,000 not $35,-750,000 the combined 2% sales and amusement tax.

The Provincial Government paid out $31,200,000 on behalf of insured persons: $13,550,000 less than actually received for the purpose. Assuming your lesser figure represents a $2 boost in co-insurance then the difference between the actual revenue and expenditure represents an amount equivalent to $5.70 boost in co-insurance.

Hospital Boards unquestionably require more revenue. The fact Canadian Nurses income, as recently revealed by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, ranks lower than that of the average Canadian pensioner, attests to this lamentable need. Let them, however, call upon those responsible under the terms of the Hospital Insurance Act: Section 5. Clause (2)a "the province shall covenant and agree to make insured services available to all residents of the province." The purpose of co-insurance has always been to prevent malingering and not to produce revenue. Continued increases in patient responsibility coupled with our already heavy tax burden, could, if it has not already done so, bring hospital care once more beyond the reach of low income families.

Suspect Held In Internl. Swindling

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—A federal grand jury indicted Herbert George Sharp Tuesday on charges of swindling a Canadian insurance firm of $100,000.

Edward Boardman, U.S. district attorney, said that according to the FBI and authorities in Toronto Sharp turned a few letters, a phone call and a telegram into one of the slickest mortgage swindles in years.

The FBI arrested Sharp in Palo Alto, Calif., Oct. 27 after it had pieced together details of the April 27 transaction.

The indictment charges Sharp with impersonating Morris Hanisch, owner of a $500,000 apartment house in Toronto. Using this identification, Sharp allegedly called the London Life Insurance Company in Toronto and asked for additional $165,000 loan on the building on which the firm already held a $50,000 mortgage.

Sharp allegedly contacted a Tampa attorney and bank officers there to facilitate transfer of the money to Florida. The insurance company sent $100,926 to the First National Bank of Tampa, Boardman said.

When the real Hanisch contacted the insurance company about his first mortgage he learned there was a second.

Mrs. Hamilton Heads Guide Association

Election of officers was held at a meeting of the District Association of the Girl Guides at the home of Mrs. Gregory Gutfriend, 616 Mill Street, Tuesday.

Elected were Mrs. J. S. Hamilton as president, Mrs. A. A. Taylor, acting secretary; Mrs. J. Ludlow, treasurer; Mrs. J. A. Maber, badge secretary.

District Commissioner Mrs. J. MacDonald was present, together with three Guiders.

Mrs. John Paul, past vice-president, has received her warrant as Tawny Owl to the Second Nelson Brownie Pack. Miss Greta Curwen, Brown Owl of the Second Nelson Brownies, showed the meeting a layette that the Brownies had made and collected to be sent to Greece, and their present project, sewing kits, also to be sent to Greece.

NO INTEREST

It was deplored by the members present that so few mothers care what their daughters are doing in Guides and Brownies, or take any interest in the Association which makes the movement possible.

Tentative plans were made for the February Tea, but as more help is needed for this, it was tabled until the next meeting when it is hoped that more mothers will be present. This meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. S. Hamilton on December 5.

Your Individual Horoscope

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Friday, November 10, 1961

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) — Planetary aspects neither all favorable or unfavorable. Pinpoint on carefully chosen objectives. Give consideration to worthy advice of learned friends, associates.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus) — Don't negate a good program by spreading talents in too many directions. Don't be as the saying, "Jack of all trades, master of none." In this age of specialization, do your singly best.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini) — Fine rays emanate from your major planet Mercury. Get on the bandwagon, increase tempo of your activity if needed, concentrate on best use of available facilities. Carelessness can result in foolish errors.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer) — Like Gemini, aspects in your sector now smile brightly. And like Taurus, don't divide efforts too much, too far, thereby achieving only moderate success. Your zeal/ can surmount obstacles.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo) — Generally friendly day. Frankness and honesty of manner important. Sensible, continued application produces steady good returns. Do not permit schemers or gossips to upset wise plans.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — The second of three fine days in which to forge ahead. Your intrepid demeanor can give those about you courage to advance. Otherwise strict conservatism might rule and destroy initiative.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra) — Desire for excitement sometimes interferes with orderly accomplishment of routine, plainer duties. Guide acquisitive instincts along first-rank representative lines. Keep smiling.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 22 (Scorpio) — Temptation is to put off till next week what you think distasteful. If it is good and necessary, complete it, regardless of "taste." Desire is half the battle though; wise planning comes next.

NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius) — Jupiter states that an alert attitude and proper distribution of energies is urged. Comply with this directive and enhance chances for new success with consistent tempo.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn) — Excellent influences predominate in your sector. Highly sponsored: research, construction, extra sales effort, cautious investing. Check monetary balance, don't overspend.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius) — Uranus rays smile on you and your well-prepared plans. Proceed with unified objectives, steady gait, patient controlled interest. Isolate the unnecessary to sidestep it.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces) — A day to coax your mind to rule your heart. This is a demanding world, permits too little time for sympathetic understanding, friendly repartee. Stay vigilant, steadfast to principles.

YOU BORN TODAY are innately a gracious individual, with a great liking for your fellowman, and an earnest desire to help him over the rough spots. Cleverness, keen powers of observance are notable qualities. Business skill, convincing manner and speech are aids in your quest for top honors. Your planets signify a love of and knowledge of outdoor activities, fondness for travel, pursuit of the tangibles that lead to the life of a well respected citizen, a qualified business associate. Personal magnetism draws others to you and often induces unrequested help to ease your path to objectives. The finer things of life are cherished by you, and when you acquire them you like to share them. Birthdate of: Winston Churchill, novelist, leader; Auguste Rodin, French sculptor; Claude Rains, actor.

Read Slowly and It May Come Clear

By DAVE McINTOSH

OTTAWA (CP)—Radar is an electronic measure in warfare.

It follows that a device to nullify radar is an electronic counter-measure.

And therefore a device to nullify the device which nullifies radar is an electronic counter counter-measure.

There is a branch of the RCAF at St. Hubert, Que., called the Electronic Warfare Unit.

It is responsible for electronic counter counter - measures as well as for electronic counter-measures.

"Already, we sometimes don't know whether we're countering countering or just countering," said a harassed member of the unit, probably the most secret operation in the air force.

The RCAF has pieces of equipment known simply as ECM (for electronic counter-measures).

DETECTS SUB'S RADAR

For instance, the Argus anti-submarine plane—and the navy's tracker plane—carries a gadget which tells whether a submarine is surfaced and radar-watching for aircraft, without the submarine knowing its radar is being picked up.

Thus the submarine's own radar, a detector, becomes the means whereby the submarine itself can be detected.

The Electronic Warfare Unit, which has specially equipped C-119 flying boxcars and CF-100 jet interceptors, is mainly concerned with providing training for air force elements in the North American air defence system.

All modern air defence systems are heavily reliant on radar and communications. They are therefore vulnerable to various forms of jamming and deception—that is, electronic counter-measures.

The Electronic Warfare Unit trains technicians on the ground and in the air in the art of "working through"—the RCAF's term—these types of interference.

BOXES JAM JAMMERS

How this "working through" is done is, of course, the big secret.

Meanwhile, the scientists and engineers have developed "black boxes" to jam the jammers.

One of the jobs of the electronic warfare unit is to evaluate these jammers of the jammers — that is, the electronic counter counter-measures.

All the practical work in this field is done miles high over Canada.

When a bomber of the United States Strategic Air Command or of the Royal Air Force is simulating a raid on North America to test the radar and interceptor network, chances are it is carrying some new-fangled jamming device which NORAD is trying to eliminate by counter-jamming.

Provincial Bank Reports Higher Total Assets

MONTREAL (CP)—The Provincial Bank of Canada reported Wednesday that total assets at Oct. 31, its year-end, were $422,239,130, compared with last year's total assets of $382,006,204. This is an increase of $40,232926, or 10½ per cent.

Net profits before provision for income taxes and for staff pension fund but after making transfers to inner reserves were $3,260,000, compared with $3,020,000 at the end of the last year.

Total deposits were $399,000,000 compared with last year's figure of $360,500,000. Personal savings accounts increased to $195,000,000 from $186,500,000.

Here and There In The Business World

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

If you believe in going to the knowledgeable, the skilled and the experienced when confronted with a problem, then you will go to your banker with your financial problems, says John S. Proctor, executive vice-president, Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce.

Outlining the place of the banking system in the various phases of the economy in a recent address, Mr. Proctor added:

"Tremendous changes have taken place in banking in the last 30 or 40 years. It has been brought to the level of people and their problems. A Canadian bank today is far more able—and far more determined — to assist a customer in a wide range of banking services than you will find in perhaps any other banking system in the world.

Mr. Proctor said close working relations between business leaders and bankers is a necessity in the development of new productive enterprise.

L. C. Bosanquet, president of the Canadian Importers and Traders Association, in another recent address, drew attention to the place of the tourist industry in Canada's international balance of payments. He said:

"In 1960 Canada's deficiency on tourist travel with the rest of the world was $215,000,000, or twice as much as the deficit on merchandise trade. It can be argued, therefore, that it would be more productive to urge Canadians to take their holidays at home than it would be to devise ways and means to make it more difficult for other countries to sell their merchandise in our market.

Canada is second to Britain among foreign investors in the United Statesn according to a survey by the American commerce department.

As quoted by Business Week, the survey shows that direct foreign investment in the United States doubled from $3,400,000,000 in 1950 to $6,900,000,000 in 1960, and potfolio investment reached $11,500,000.

Britain tops the direct-investment list at $2,200,000,000, followed by Canada with nearly $1,900,000,000 and the six-country European Economic Community at $1,300,000,000. Canadian investment in the U.S. is broken down into $907,000,000 in manufacturing; $227,000,000 in finance and insurance; $207,000,000 in petroleum; and $556,000,000 in all other.

Soviet Bloc Joins Afro-Asians In Attack On Colonial Powers

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS (AP)—The Soviet bloc and a host of Afro-Asian countries Wednesday pressed one of the bitterest attacks on Western colonial powers in UN history.

Colonialism was under simultaneous fire in the 103-country General Assembly and two of its main committees. However, there was no attack so far on Communist domination of subject countries to which most of the Asians and Africans turn a blind eye.

In the assembly, debate got under way on proposals to carry out the UN's 1960 declaration against colonialism. Russia denounced the United States and Britain as the main colonial powers barring freedom for millions of people. The United States countered that Russia was using colonialism as a pretext for a propaganda attack on the West.

In the trusteeship committee a parade of Communist, Asian and African countries blasted Portugal for the way it runs its overseas territories.

In the special political committee, country after country bitterly assailed South Africa's white supremacist policy and pointed to it as an outgrowth of the colonial system.

Colonialism also was probably in for another going-over in the main political committee, which opened debate on an Afro-Asian resolution demanding that all Africa be kept free of nuclear weapons and all foreign bases on the continent be liquidated.

With the powerful 49-member Asian - African group supported down the line on colonialism by the Soviet bloc and a number of other states, most of the resolutions against colonial practices were virtually certain to win approval.

S. G. Lapin, foreign minister of the Russian Republic, charged in the assembly that U.S. monopolies "take $20,000,000,000 a year profits from the new countries and worm their way in to force out the old colonizers."

Lapin said the Soviet Union supported demands for expulsion of South Africa from the UN because of its white supremacist policies. He claimed the United States and Britain were preventing the UN from taking any punitive action against South Africa.

U.S. delegate Jonathan Bingham asserted in reply that the Russians were injecting cold war charges into the debate in an attempt to weaken the economic ties of the free world with newly independent countries.

The Soviet Union has submitted a resolution to the assembly calling for "the final and unconditional liquidation of colonialism in all its forms and manifestations" by the end of 1962. Nigeria has put in a rival resolution which would extend the deadline to Dec. 1, 1970.

A Dutch resolution before the assembly proposes setting up a UN commission to investigate the possibility of a plebiscite in Netherlands New Guinea on its political future. The Indonesians, who claim the territory, have warned delegates that if this resolution is approved, they will launch a military attack on the Dutch in New Guinea.

The Dutch delegation has brough in Dutch Foreign Minister J. M. A. H. Luns for the debate, which is certain to see The Netherlands under heavy fire from both the Soviet bloc and many Afro-Asian states.

Thirty nations are sponsoring a resolution calling for an economic and diplomatic boycott of South Africa and possibly its expulsion from the world organization because of its apartheid policy of racial segregation.

Ottawa Cancels Bond Debt In Two Gov't Accounts

OTTAWA (CP) — The government has cancelled a total of $142,853,500 of its bond debt held in two special government accounts, the finance department announced Wednesday.

The move, effective Tuesday, is part of the debt management program announced by Finance Minister Fleming in his June 20 budget aimed at reducing interest rates and improving conditions in the bond market, especially for long-term bonds.

A total $60,899,000 of the cancelled bonds had been bought on the market by the purchase fund established at the time of the budget. Mr. Fleming said in his budget the fund would have $100,000,000 to buy bonds, especially middle- and long - term ones, during the following 12 months.

The other $81,954,500 in bonds were held by the government's securities investment account, and had been purchased during the last three years.

The cancellations clean out the entire government bond holdings of both funds.

A somewhat similar step, designed to remove pressures on the bond market from government holdings of its own bonds, was taken Oct. 2.

At that time the government cancelled $200,905,000 worth of long-term bonds held by the unemployment insurance fund and exchanged them for special non-marketable government bonds.

This is the first time the bonds bought by the new purchase fund have been cancelled. If the government follows its announced plan to use $100,000,000 to buy bonds through the fund during a 12-month period, a other $39,000,000 in bonds should be bought on the market between now and next June.

Nine separate bond issues were involved in the cancellations announced today in the two funds.

The two largest amounts involved were $59,500,000 in 4½-per-cent bonds due Sept. 1, 1972, and $46,091,000 in 4½ - per -cent bonds due Sept. 1, 1983.

Most of the others were long-term bonds, but $455,000 were 3¾-per-cent bonds due Sept. 1, 1965.

Gallegos Reported To Be Ecuador's Interim Ruler

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador (AP) Camilo Gallgos Toledo, president of the Supreme Court, took office Wednesday as Ecuador's interim president, with the backing of the armed forces.

President Jose Maria Velasco Ibarra quit Tuesday night under pressure of rising violence and opposition. He now has been elected to the presidency four times and thrown out three times.

Army leaders decided to support Gallegos. Gen. Gonzalo Villacis, director of the National Military Academy, announced the army's decision to the country by radio.

Gallegos was reported to be making up a cabinet list representing all parties in an effort to restore peace to this strife-torn country.

PASS OVER TWO

By backing the Supreme Court president, the army passed over both Velasco Ibarra and left-leaning Carlos Julio Arosemena, the vice-president. Gallegos was second in succession to the presidency after Arosemena. Reports during the night had said Congress proclaimed Arosemena president.

Velasco Ibarra apparently resigned under army pressure. His whereabouts were not clear. There were reports he had flown to Panama and others, not confirmed immediately, that he had taken refuge in the Argentine Embassy.

Arosemena, arrested early Tuesday by Velasco Ibarra, was released from prison during the night. Velasco Ibarra had accused Arosemena, his onetime political ally, of being a Communist and attempting to set up a dictatorship.

Gallegos is expected to call national elections soon to choose a constitutional president.

Gen. Villacis said the army is making itself responsible for public order and called on all workers to return to their jobs.

KEEP SOME POLICIES

The new president, a liberal but not a member of the formal Liberal party, said he would retain some of Velasco Ibarra's policies

He said he would stick by Velasco Ibarra's denunciation of the 1941 border pact with Peru. Under this a large portion of disputed territory was awarded to Peru, with Argentina, Brazil, Chile and the United States as guarantors the frontier would be maintained. Velasco Ibarra, soon after taking office three years ago, denounced the agreement on the grounds it had been imposed by force.

Gallegos also said he will retain the principle of public rather than religious education in the country's schools.

He pledged to permit all political parties, including the legal Communist one, to function.

The army, meanwhile, explained that one of the conditions of its support for Gallegos was that he would call new national elections within 90 days.

REPORTS OF FIGHTING

There were reports that five persons were killed in fighting Tuesday between a revolting regiment and loyal troops. The revolt was quelled by troops then loyal to Velasco Ibarra but during the night the army leaders apparently decided the split in the country was too deep to be healed by Velasco Ibarra.

British Escort 200 Russians To Memorial

BERLIN—British military police escorted some 200 Russians into West Berlin Wednesday to place three huge wreaths at the Soviet War Memorial near the Brandenburg gate.

The 15-minute ceremony in the British sector was part of Soviet celebrations of the 44th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution.

In former years a long train of East German Communist officials came along also. But this year the British permitted only Soviet citizen sand nationals of East-bloc countries other than East Germany to attend.

It was a wet, grey day and West Berliners seemed to pay no attention to the convoy of 12 Soviet sedand six buses escorted by British MPs.

POSTMARK DISPUTE

In another development, it was learned East Berlin authorities are refusing to accept letters or postcards sent from West to East Berlin if they have postmarks "hostile to the (East) German Democratic Republic."

The semi-official Berliner Zeitung quoted postal officials as saying letters postmarked in this way were being returned to the senders in West Berlin.

Postal officials were not immediately available for comment. It was not known here to which postmarks the report referred.

An East Berlin post offic eofficial said later that the letters and postcards which were being returned had the letters "SBZ" (standing for "Soviet occupation zone") or the words Soviet sector" stamped over the address.

British Throw Eggs At Burning Spear

LONDON (AP)—Militant British imperialists threw two eggs at Jomo (Burning Spear) Kenyatta, Kenya nationalist leader, as he arrived at the colonial office Wednesday for talks on the East African colony's future and as he left.

The egg that hit Kenyatta's raincoated right arm when he arrived was fresh. The one that splattered at his feet as he left two hours later was rotten. Both throwers were arrested.

"The League of Empire Loyalists denounce Kenyatta," said the first thrower, apparently a member of the right-wing group that opposes independence for Britain's colonies.

Kenyatta, the president of the Kenya African National Union, is discussing the new constitution for the colony with Colonial Secretary Reginald Maudling.

CIVIC ELECTION

KELOWNA (CP)—An entire new city council will have to be elected here in the Dec. 7 municipal elections — for the first time in the city's 56-year history. Two, possibly three councillors will not seek re-election.

Burmese Papers Threaten To Boycott News

RANGOON (Reuters) — Major Burmese newspapers threatened Tuesday to boycott all news from Burmese government information organs to protest infringements on the freedom of the press.

Newspapers carried blank spaces on their editorial pages Monday as a protest measure.

Last Sunday newspapers in Rangoon and Mandalay carried identical front - page articles headed: "Repressive laws, personal spite restricts freedom of the press—a report to the people by editors, reporters, and printers and publishers.

The article charged the government with violating press freedom and with putting existing as well as intended press legislation in abeyance for one year.

The protest action is sponsored by the Burmese Journalists' Association, which says all major newspapers in the Burmese, English and Indian languages have agreed to participate.

The Burmese press has recently come into conflict with the government over a number of issues. The editors of the English - language daily, The Guardian, and the Burmese Mogyo (Lightning) are being prosecuted by the government on charges of violation of the Official Secrets Act.

The editor of the Burmese Htoon Daily is being held in jail under the provisions of the Public Order Preservation Act for writing a series of articles denouncing the government for making Buddhism the official religion of the country.

The Burmese press also feels aggrieved at the government's move to amalgamate all the numerous press laws and draft what editors consider to be even harsher press laws.

Britain Makes Good Start In ECM Session

BRUSSELS (Reuters)—Britain got off to a good start Wednesday in negotiations for membership in the European Common Market.

The 50-member British delegation went into the initial session faced with the task of reconciling traditional British Commonwealth ties with the move toward Anglo-European integration.

A British spokesman said after the session that talks had been "tremendously business-like," with "constructive" comments from market negotiators.

"We felt very much at home," he said.

The spokesman said the Common Market team suggested another meeting for Thursday to work out a program for future talks.

The British delegation was headed by Deputy Foreign Minister Edward Heath. He was expected to make a bid for special arrangements to guarantee traditional British markets to large agricultural members of the Commonwealth.

Heath also was expected to seek assurances for the trade interests of Britain's partners in the rival seven-nation European Free Trade Association.

These special guarantees have shaped up as the central issues of the membership bargaining which is expected to last about 18 months.

Arctic Oil Test Passes 7500 Level

OTTAWA (CP)—Winter Harbor No. 1 wildcat, the Arctic islands' first oil test hole, has passed the 7,500-foot level, reports reaching here said Wednesday.

The drilling on Melville Island, about 1,500 miles north of Edmonton, began in mid-September and is scheduled to penetrate to the 10,000 - foot level in what is expected to be the first of several holes in the area.

The northern affairs department said problems have been few so far with temperatures comparable to northern mainland drilling at this time of year.

Peter Badwen Drilling Limited, putting down the wildcat for Dome Petroleum, set an original deadline of Christmas for finishing the hole.

LEAFS SCALP WARRIORS, TAKE OVER SECOND PLACE

Four-Way Fight Erupts In Third Period

By DAVE GRANT
Daily News Sports Writer

Nelson Maple Leafs, erupting for four goals in the third period, moved into sole possession of second place in the Western International Hockey League standings Wednesday night, dumping the Rossland Warriors 6-3.

The game, played before 750 fans, was one of the slowest and dullest games seen in Nelson in the infant season. The only amount of action and violence came late in the third period when Warrior netminder Don Holmes and Nelson forward Charlie "Boomer" Burdette collided in front of the Rossland cage. At the same time Reo Touzin and Warrior defenceman McKay also began exchanging blows.

The fight between Holmes and Burdette was not confined to fists. Immediately after the collision, Holmes swung his goal stick and rapped Burdette across the head and back. Burdette retaliated with a barrage of punches, forcing Holmes backward, at the same time pulling his sweater off his head. Referee Bill Waddell tried to separate the two, but Burdette in his rage pushed Waddell away and knocked him over. The Boomer was given the thumb and then exited from the game with a game misconduct.

While Waddell separated Holmes and Burdette, Reo Touzin and McKay exchanged words and then went at it. Sarg Sammartino, with player help, broke up the fighting and order was restored.

Leafs first opened the scoring at the 6:43 mark of the first period with Touzin tallying, and held a 1-0 lead at the start of the second frame. Then the Rossland opportunists scored three goals. The first two goals, by Davis and Godfrey, were defensive mistakes on the Leafs' part. The third tally was more than a mistake as Alec Reid outskated Leafs to a mispassed puck and then went in on Koehle and beat him on a hard shot along the ice. Charlie Burdette brought Nelson within striking distance two minutes later, pushing the puck over the goal line.

BIG THIRD PERIOD

Going into the third frame with Rossland sporting a 3-2 lead, Nelson's attack which had swarmed about the Warrior cage all night but lacked the finesse to score, suddenly caught fire.

Bob Wales, on a pass from Vic Poirier, pushed the puck past Holmes for the equalizer. Four minutes later Don MacKenzie put Nelson ahead for keeps, beating Holmes cleanly. Charlie Burdette and Poirier added two more insurance goals to end the four-goal barrage.

Ron Carruthers was the spark for the Nelson third period attack, assisting on two of the goals. Mackenzie's goal was the picture goal of the night. Carruthers, along with Mackenzie and one man back, went in on Holmes alone, He faked a shot, taking Holmes to the ice and then drop-passed to Mackenzie, who shot the rubber past the netminder's outstretched body.

Poirier's goal was similar to that of Mackenzie's. Terrible Ted Leboda, with another of his rink-length rushes, took a shot at Holmes which Holmes had to go down to stop. Poirier following close behind Leboda, only had to touch the rubber into the net.

Only injury of the game was a cut to the forehead of Shorty Malacko. The cut, demanding five stitches, came in a high sticking collision along the boards.

KOEHLE WEARS MASK

Gerry Koehle, playing an outstanding game in the net, became the second netminder in the league to wear a plastic face mask. Trail goalie Seth Martin introduced the facial protection to the league last season. The mask served its purpose early in the first period when a puck after a a wild scramble in front of the Leafs net hit Koehle on the forehead.

Holmes in the Rossland cage played a sparkling game, making 27 saves. Holmes is a product of Nelson hockey training and has played goal for almost every senior hockey club in B.C.

RON CARRUTHERS

Ford Named Winner of Cy Young Award

BOSTON (AP)—Whitey Ford of New York Yankees, the first American League pitcher in a dozen years to win 25 games, was announced Wednesday as winner of the 1961 Cy Young award for the major league's outstanding pitcher.

Ford received nine votes from a committee of the Baseball Writers Association of America. His season record was 25-4.

Warren Spahn of Milwaukee Braves, who brought his lifetime victories to 309 last season, received six votes in second place. Spahn was 1957 winner.

Detroit's Frank Lary was third with two votes. Lary had 23 wins and nine losses for the Tigers.

One writer failed to vote from the 18 major league cities.

Ford, a lefthander, wound up a banner year by breaking Babe Ruth's record of 29 2-3 scoreless innings in world series play. Ford stretched his consecutive scoreless innings to 32 against the Redlegs, bringing his world series victories to nine—also a record.

Winnipeg Places Nine

Parker Named to All-Stars For Eighth Straight Year

By GRAHAM COX

EDMONTON (CP) — Quarterback Jackie Parker of Edmonton Eskimos romped on to the 1961 Western Football Conference all-star team for the eighth straight year while selectors gave the first-place Winnipeg Blue Bombers nine places on the 24-man team announced Wednesday.

Bombers had four players named to the offensive squad and five to the defensive team. Calgary Stampeders and Saskatchewan Roughriders each had five players chosen, Edmonton four and British Columbia Lions one.

The team was picked for The Canadian Press by coaches of the five conference teams and sports writers and broadcasters in the conference cities. Ballots were weighted to give the five cities equal voting strength.

OFFENSIVE TEAM

Half flanker — Willie Fleming, B.C.
Half — Earl Lunsford, Clgy.
Half—Leo Lewis, Wpg.
Half—John Bright, Edm.
Quarter—Jackie Parker, Edm.
Centre—Neil Habig, Sask.
Guard—Cornell Piper, Wpg.
Guard—Mike Kmech, Edm.
Tackle—Frank Rigney, Wpg.
Tackle—Don Luzzi, Clgy.
End—Farrell Funston, Wpg.
End—Jack Gotta, Sask.

DEFENSIVE TEAM

Safety—Harvey Wylie, Clgy.
Half—Norm Rauhaus, Wpg.
Half—Oscar Kruger, Edm.
Corner linebacker—Bob Ptacek, Sask.
Corner linebacker—Gordie Rowland, Wpg.
Inside linebacker—Wayne Harris, Clgy.
Inside linebacker—Dave Burkholder, Wpg.
Middle guard — Ron Atchison, Sask.
Tackle—Bill Clarke, Sask.
Tackle—Mike Wright, Wpg.
End—Herb Gray, Wpg.
End—Tony Pajaczkowski, Clgy.

EIGHT HOLDOVERS'

Eight of the offensive team, including the entire backfield, were returned from last year. They are Fleming, formerly with the University of Iowa; Lunsford from Oklahoma A and M; Lewis of Lincoln College; Bright from Drake University; Parker who came from Mississippi State; Habig from Purdue; Rigney from the University of Iowa, and Piper, a Canadian.

JACKIE PARKER
. . . 8th straight year.

Five of the defensive team are repeaters from 1960: Wylie, Rowland, Atchison, all Canadians; Burkholder from the University of Minnesota and Gray from the University of Texas.

Parker was named all-star halfback for six successive years before he moved to quarterback last year and held the spot again this year. He led the conference scorers with 104 points on four touchdowns,. 34 converts, 14 field goals and four singles.

Lunsford, Calgary's 26-year-old fullback, set a rushing record when he carried the ball 209 yards in the final conference game against British Columbia to push his season's total to 1,794 yards.

No choice was unanimous. Lunsford missed by two votes. Herb Gray by only one—as he did last year.

Pajaczkowski and Luzzi were picked for a second time although they changed positions this year. Pajaczkowski went from offensive guard to defensive end. Luzzi, formerly of Villanova, switched to offensive tackle from defensive tackle.

NINE CANADIANS IN

Nine Canadians made the team compared with eight last year. They are Piper, Kmech, Rauhaus, Wylie, Kruger, Rowland, Atchison, Clarke and Pajaczkowski.

Kmech, Kruger, Rauhaus and Clarke are newcomers, along with the following imports: Wright from the University of Minnesota, Ptacek from the University of Michigan and Harris from the University of Arkansas. Harris was the only rookie chosen.

Rigney was named for the third time.

Gotta, formerly of Oregon State, was an all-star defensive end in 1956 and all-star defensive half in 1957 while playing for Calgary.

Bruins, Rangers Battle to Tie

NEW YORK (AP)—Don McKenney's desperation shot with 18 seconds left gave last - place Boston Bruins a 4-4 tie with New York Rangers Wednesday night and prevented the Rangers from taking sole possession of the National Hockey League lead.

McKenney, shooting from a pack of players about 20 feet out, caught the right-hand corner of the net.

The Rangers, behind twice by two goals, rallied with a three-goal final period capped by Andy Bathgate's 55 - foot shot with 408: remaining to put New York ahead 4-3. Boston's Johnny Bucyk was off for interference at the time.

The tie put the Rangers into a first-place deadlock with Montreal Canadiens, each with 16 points. Bathgate's goal made him the league's top scorer. Combined with two earlier third-period assists, the goal gave him 21 points for a one-point edge over Claude Provost of Canadiens.

HEAD IN FINE FORM

Boston's 29 - year - old rookie goalie, Don Head, turned in acrobatic night in the nets, but finally was overpowered in the Rangers' last-period comeback.

Camille Henry narrowed the Boston margin to 3-2 at 1:12 of the third period when he took a pass from Bathgate and whipped it in. Six and a half minutes later, Dean Prentice drilled a 25-footer that evened the count at 3-3, Bathgate again assisting.

Both Head and New York goalie Lorne (Gump) Worsley repulsed several last - period attacks until Bathgate and McKenney brought off their late goals.

Boston's Bob Beckett, recently called up from Providence, scored twice. He netted an angled 12-footer early in the opening period and counted again in the second, skating close in on the left and taking a pretty pass from Pat Stapleton.

The other bruins goal came Midway in the second period on a power play when Doug Mohns whacked in a 25-footer.

Nelson Minor Hockey Teams Chosen

Players allotted to the six Pee Wee league teams of the Nelson Minor Hockey Association for the coming season along with their respective coaches have been selected.

This year players have been more or less put on teams in different sections of the city and surrounding districts. There will be two teams from the Fairview area, two from the upper section of the city, one from South Slocan-Granite Road section and one from the North Shore. Players whose names are not on these teams or who have as yet failed to register, may contact Slim Porter and they will be placed on a team in their locality.

Lineups for the different teams follow—

Sun Important Factor In EFC Semi-Final

OTTAWA (CP)—Unlike baseball outfielders, football pass receivers would find it difficult if not dangerous to wear sun glasses.

That's why Rough Riders and Toronto Argonauts likely are hoping for a cloudy day for their Eastern Football Conference sudden - death semi-final here Saturday starting at 2 p.m. EST.

The late starting time—it used to be 1 p.m. at this time of year before Lansdowne Park was lighted—means that the sun is already low at the opening kick-off. The field lies generally east-west so that the rays of a low-on - the - horizon sun can be bothersome.

They were troublesome last Saturday and prevented what might have been a touchdown by either club.

Earlier in the first quarter, Ottawa halfback Ernie White was in the clear and ready to catch a pass when he was suddenly blinded by the sun. He staggered around with outstretched arms, hoping the ball would fall into them. It didn't.

Later, Toronto quarterback Tobin Rote passed to the unguarded Ron Morris on the left sideline.

When Morris turned to make the catch he caught the sun squarely in the eyes. He stood stock still and the ball sailed by.

Consequently, the choice of ends here Saturday will be based more on the sun than on the wind. Generally, however, the wind at Lansdowne blows from the same direction as the sun's rays.

Say Corby's for the GOOD, CLEAN TASTE
of true Canadian Whisky
The real test of a true Canadian whisky like Corby's is its good, clean taste . . . so pleasantly light, so noticeably different from that of all other whiskies. It is an enjoyable whisky, good company tonight, a pleasant memory tomorrow. Buy a bottle of Corby's and experience its enviable quality for no whisky is more truly Canadian than Corby's.

MELCHIOR HAS TESTS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Lauritz Melchior, former opera tenor, is undergoing tests for a stomach disorder which caused him to cut short a hunting trip in South Dakota. His wife, Maria, said the 71-year-old singer-actor "probably ate something bad—or maybe just ate too much."

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

MARKET TRENDS

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market recorded one of its biggest gains of 1961 Wednesday with more than 6,000,000 shares changing hands.

Volume swelled to 6,090,000 shares from 4,340,000 Monday and was the largest since April 4 when 7,080,000 shares were traded.

Among the new highs was 54 for General Motors, which declared a 50-cent extra dividend late Monday.

An estimated $3,000,000,000 was added to the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York exchange, based on the rise in the Associated Press average.

The Associated Press 60-stock average rose 2.80 to a new high of 264.40, its biggest rise since Oct. 4 when it gained 3.10.

Steels gained but aircrafts and airlines tended to back away. There were soft spots among chemicals.

Standard Oil (New Jersey) was up ⅝ at 47⅜.

Du Pont, which owns 63,000,000 shares of General Motors, spurted 7¾.

International Nickel gained 1⅜ among Canadian issues while McIntyre Porcupine advanced ¾. Distillers Seagrams lost 1⅛, Dome Mines was down ¼ and Canadian Pacific dropped ⅛.

On the American Exchange, Canadian Marconi and Preston each gained ¼ and Fargo Oil and Sapphire Petroleums were up 1-16 apiece.

TORONTO (CP)—A surprise drop by Lake Dufault and sharp industrial movements highlighted heavy trading Wednesday.

Dufault issued an assay report which said 4 per cent copper, 8.4 per cent zinc, 3.30 ounces of silver and .03 ounces of gold have been found in the hole drilled 100 feet east of the Discovery hole.

Dufault, after reaching a new high of $7.75 in the morning, promptly fell to $6.85 but later recovered to $6.95.

Arcadia Uranium, Area Mines Wiltsey-Coghlan and Mt. Wright all fell in the one to eight cent range, while New Mylamaque and Murray Mining were unchanged at 66 and 98 cents respectively. Canadian Dyno rose 17 cents to $2.20.

Industrials were paced by utilities, refining oils, steels and banks and financial institutions with a number of issues reaching new highs. Typical among these were General Motors, Algoma Steel and Investors Syndicate A.

PIPE LINE FALLS

Trans-Canada Pipe Line was a victim of profit-taking after Tuesday's record-breaking rise and fell ½ to 24¾. The day's largest loss was sustained by Goodyear Tire, down 2½ to 152½ in light turnover.

On index, industrials rose 1.61 to 606.69 and western oils .28 to 104.42. Golds fell .87 to 88.13, base metals .08 to 204.82, and the final volume was 3,801,000 shares compared with 3,129,000 yesterday.

In senior base metals Ventures, Hudson Bay Mining and Smelting, International Nickel, Falconbridge, Geco and Denison all advanced ¼ to one pont.

Dome, Kerr-Addison and Hollinger golds all lost ground. McIntyre Porcupine rose ⅞ to a new high of 46⅞.

Western oil trading was weak. Hudson's Bay Oil, Home B and Canadian Devonian rose as much as 30 cents. Dome Petroleum and Great Plains each slipped ¼.

MONTREAL (CP) — Stocks were irregularly mixed in heavy trading on the Montreal and Canadian exchanges Wednesday.

Industrial volume was heavy, at 180,000 shares, and mines were heavily traded at 840,300 shares.

Lake Dufault closed five cents lower at $7 after touching $7.60. Vanguard rose a cent to 12 cents Mercuty - Chipman gained seven cents to 70.

Texaco dipped a point to 56, a new 1961 low, and General Motors advanced two points to 55½.

Banks were active. Toronto-Dominion gained one point to 69, and Montreal dropped ½ to 69¾. Commerce added ½ to 70.

In utilities, Canadian International Power at 12¼ fell ½.

HUDSON BAY UP

In base metals, Hudson Bay gained ¾ to 54¾ after touching 55⅜. Aluminium rose ¼ to 27⅞.

Consolidated Paper gained ⅜ to 42¾.

Trans Canada Fund gained ¾ to 77½ after rising to 79. Interprovincial Pipeline dropped ⅝ to 79.

In mines, New Jack Lake rose 1½ cents to 12½ cents. Falconbridge gained 1½ to 64½ and Hollinger dipped ¾ to 25¼.

In western oils, Home B gained 35 cents to 10¼, Home A dropped ¼ to 10¾ and Pacific Pete at 11¾ and Royalite at 12⅛ each improved ⅛.

On index, banks were up 0.04 to 70.30, utilities off 0.1 at 144.5, industrials off 0.5 at 331.9, combined off 0.5 at 269.4, papers up 1.3 at 496.6 and golds off 0.85 at 84.97.

RAPISTS GET LIFE

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Three Negro teen-agers have been convicted of raping a 16-year-old white girl and the jury set punishment at life in prison. The jury, which included two Negro men, deliberated 5½ hours Tuesday before returning a guilty verdict against Raleigh Williams, 17; Troy Alexander, 16; and Marvin Aron Hammond, 16. The state had asked the death penalty.

Damascus, capital of Syria, has existed as a city for more than 4,000 years.

Nine O'Clock Gun Gets Mixed Greeting

VICTORIA (CP) — Every night at 9 o'clock Ed Parlee takes a firm grip on the arms of his chair, squeezes his eyelids as tightly as he can and waits.

A sharp, angry boom jolts the house. Windows rattle and cats run squalling for the basement.

The Parlee family lives near the Work Point army barracks in nearby Esquimalt, where the 9 o'clock gun is fired as a curfew.

"Picture yourself in my living room," says Ray Hunt. "We are all watching television when 9 o'clock rolls around and all of a sudden there's this horrible bang. One day I'll fire back."

"I can't hear another thing for 20 minutes afterwards," said another neighbor. "It scares my wife, terrifies my doy and my daughter is a burned-out veteran at three years of age."

Another who had combat experience before moving to the area sees serious implications in the nightly barrage.

"Suppose some of these folks are called out to fight a real war," he said. "They'll hear a cannon go off and instead of ducking they'll stand up and set their watches for 9 o'clock."

But to other citizens the curfew has become so routine few know how or when the custom originated. Mrs. F. V. Cornwall said her father used to load the gun in 1879 but that is all she knows of its history.

A Second World War anti-tank gun was used in post-war years for the daily signals. About a year ago it was replaced with a 105-millimetre field artillery piece.

RECLUSE FOUND DEAD

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—George G. Bowman, author and song writer who lived in seclusion and apparent poverty was found dead in his one-room house Tuesday. Saving deposit books scattered through the room indicated he was worth about $40,000, but the 92-year-old blind man had no food other than two boxes of cereal in his shabby quarters. Police found $457 in his clothing.

BUILDS SHELTER

MUSKEGON, Mich. (AP)—Members of 50 families in Laketon Township north of Muskegon are building a huge privately owned fallout shelter. The shelter will accommodate 200 persons—members of families who are paying for it.

LEAVES $3,500,000

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) The will of film pioneer Joseph M. Schenck disposes of an estate valued at more than $3,500,000. Income from the estate was bequeathed to Schenck's brother Nicholas. The will was filed for probate Tuesday. Relatives, friends and household employees received bequests ranging from $2,600 to $10,000. Schenck died Oct. 22 at 83. He had no children.

ESCAPE TO WEST

BERLIN (Reuters)—Two 17-year-old East Berlin boys swam to West Berlin across a border canal during the night. A third refugee reached West Berlin after losing a shoe and his jacket on the barbed wire barricade dividing the city, police said.

Gov't Approves Back Yard Fallout Shelter

By ALAN DONNELLY

OTTAWA (CP)—Fallout shelters for your backyard are going on sale in Canada with the federal government's stamp of approval and a financing assist under the National Housing Act.

Civil defence officials figure they will cost considerably more than shelters built in basements. But by going underground they will provide considerably more protection against radioactive fallout.

The government's Emergency Measures Organization soon will be issuing a booklet describing two types of backyard shelters—one below ground, the other above. It also has approved about 18 designs prepared by private firms which aim to sell them commercially.

The government housing agency, Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, also has informed builders that home improvement loans under the National Housing Act will be extended to cover EMO-approved outdoor shelters on the same terms as basement ones.

HAVE ADVANCE ORDERS

Civil defence officials say they have no information on how many backyard shelters have been built, or are likely to be. But they say that many of the contractors and manufacturers seeking approval of shelter designs have had a number of advance orders.

The Emergency Measures Organization estimates the cost of its below - ground shelter at about $2,000, and the above-ground one at slightly less if the owner builds it himself.

Some of the private manufacturers are quoting prices of around $900 and $1,100—plus the cost of excavation and installation.

These price tags compare with the $500 cost of a basement shelter as estimated by EMO. The increase results mainly from the cost of waterproofing and weatherproofing.

EMO engineer S. N. White said in an interview that the protection from radiation, with two or three feet of soil on top of a backyard shelter, should be 10 times greater than that achieved by a normal basement shelter.

FALLOUT SHELTERS

VANCOUVER (CP) — Mrs. Daphne Sait says she wants children kept in fallout shelters at city schools in the event of an air attack. She presented her plan Tuesday to people on buses fellow workers and at a downtown hotel where she is employed. She sent an 112-signature letter to the school board. Mrs. Sait began her campaign after a suggestion that children should be sent home in the event of an alert.

Frost Hands Over Premier's Chair to John P. Robarts

TORONTO (CP) — Ontario's Frost era ends officially Wednesday.

The man who guided the province's development through 12 of its most prosperous years was scheduled to preside over his last cabinet meeting, hand over the premier's office to John P. Robarts, and become simply Leslie M. Frost, 66, private member of the legislature for Victoria.

Speculation now has had him becoming a senator, ambassador to the United States, chief organizer of Canada's 1967 centennial celebrations, a representative to the United Nations and high commissioner in the United Kingdom.

But the Lindsay lawyer, never known to make hasty pronouncements, remained true to form by refusing to comment on his plans.

Mr. Frost, who quit as Ontario Progressive Conservative leader this summer, has not suffered an electoral defeat since entering the legislature in 1937. He led his party to thumping majorities in 1955 and 1958 despite scandals involving highway contracts and natural gas pipeline stock deals by members of his cabinet.

In 1951, in his first election as party leader, the Conservatives took 79 of 90 seats; in 1955 they won 84 and in 1959 they won 71 out of 98 seats.

WAS FATHER IMAGE?

One political school feels his attraction was a magnetic father image — a folksy yet dignified, platform manner, a friendly way of calling everyone "my friends" and seeming to encompass them with wide sweeps of his arms.

During the "Frost era," Ontario established a hospital insurance plan, increased education and municipal grants, created a department of transport which brought in a demerit points system for drivers, enacted a human rights to code to stop discrimination in employment and housing, began major road programs that built highways 400 and 401, pressed for development of the St. Lawrence Seaway power project, brought in fluoridation of public water supplies on a local option basis, and drafted a study bill for establishment of a portable pension scheme across Canada.

Mr. Frost will also be remembered as the Conservative leader who pushed through legislation for a three - per - cent retail sales tax.

Mr. Frost became financial critic soon after his election to the legislature, when the Conservatives were in opposition. With the formation of the Conservative administration of Premier George Drew in 1943, he became treasurer and minister of mines. He became party leader and premier in 1949 after Mr. Drew resigned to lead the federal Conservative party.

Four Youths Face Rape Charge At Kelowna

KELOWNA (CP) — Four Kelowna youths charged with rape were remanded to Nov. 16 when they appeared before Magistrate Donald White in police court Wednesday.

Bruce Wittenburg, 19, Phillip P. Larden, 18, William Winslow, 18, and Keith E. Hough, 18, are charged with the rape of a juvenile girl.

The magistrate ordered the youths to secure cash or property bonds to secure their release pending a preliminary hearing.

The charge is one of the most serious in the criminal code, carrying a maximum penalty of life imprisonment.
