Three of Seven Political Deportees Reported Killed

UNITED NATIONS (CP) — A UN report from The Congo said Sunday Premier Joseph Ileo's government has secretly deported at least seven political prisoners to Albert Kalonji's secessionist mining state and three of them were rumored to have been killed.

The report came from Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold's special representative in The Congo, Rajeshwar Dayal of India, who expressed "grave anxiety" about the "perils to which deported persons are exposed."

Hammarskjold published the report on the eve of further Congo debate in the security council. It raised the spectre of a new Lumumba case and could hamper U.S. efforts to get security council recognition for President Joseph Kasavubu, who recently named Ileo head of a new provisional government.

It also cast a shadow on a recent suggestion from the UN conciliation commission in The Congo that Ileo's government become the basis for a coalition uniting all political factions.

The report came just after Ghana's President Kwame Nkrumah proposed to Hammarskjold that a new all-African UN command take over The Congo, free political prisoners, disarm Congolese troops and convene parliament—and that all foreign diplomats get out.

NOT MUCH DOUBT

Dayal said he had established beyond reasonable doubt that seven political prisoners had been flown from Leopoldville to Bakwanga, capital of Kalonji's mining state in South Kasai province.

Dayal said all had been arrested without charge, some last October in Stanleyville, and others in a recent wave of secret arrests in Leopoldville.

Meanwhile, Hammarskjold's advisory committee on The Congo decided to publish an interim report from the UN conciliation commission in that country recommending that a coalition and federal setup be established on the basis of the government headed by Ileo.

A message sent Friday by the 11-nation commission to supplement the interim report of Wednesday said Lumumba's violent death "may well compromise the chance of a peaceful solution of the Congolese crisis."

The supplement expressed shock at Lumumba's death, condemned "violent means to eliminate political opponents" and called for trial and punishment of those guilty.

RUSSIANS AFTER DAG

The slaying brought a Soviet campaign for Hammarskjold's dismissal.

The United States was reported studying Sunday whether to propose that the security council write recognition of the secretary-general into a pending Afro-Asian resolution for peace in The Congo.

Sponsors of the Afro-Asian proposal — Ceylon, Liberia and the United Arab Republic—are holding out against a U.S. request that they put Hammarskjold into it, because they fear that would bring a Soviet veto.

Their resolution, submitted in the 11 - nation council Friday, urges that the UN take measures, including the use of force if necessary, to head off civil war in The Congo.

The Soviet delegation is sponsoring a resolution of its own that would have the council close out the UN Congo operation within a month and "deem it essential" to dismiss Hammarskjold on the ground he was "a participant in and organizer of" the killing of Lumumba.

The council will resume debate today.

If there is a veto, the general assembly will be called into emergency session within 24 hours.

JOHANNESBURG (Reuters)—White refugees from The Congo put up posters declaring "to hell with Lumumba and his friends the Communists" outside a town hall Saturday night where non-whites were protesting against the murder of Congolese leader Patrice Lumumba.

The counter-protest was called by the Belgian Refugees Association, comprising whites who fled The Congo following riots when the country became independent in June.

Inside the hall, the Congress Alliance, representing several non-white organizations, passed resolutions demanding the dismissal of UN Secretary-General Hammarskjold, withdrawal of Belgian troops from The Congo and recognition of Antoine Gizenga as Congo premier.

De Gaulle to Meet Bourguiba

PARIS (Reuters) — Tunisian Information Minister Mohammed El Masmoudi arrived here Sunday to arrange a meeting between French President de Gaulle and Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba that may pave the way for Algerian peace talks.

Masmoudi came here from Zurich, Switzerland, where Bourguiba is undergoing medical treatment, and told reporters he is confident that the insurgent Algerian National Liberation Front (FLN) and France "will reach an understanding on peace."

He said Tunisia's role would be that of a "friendly buffer" to avoid snags resulting from talks last November between French and FLN officials on the Algerian war, now in its seventh year.

Three Stand For Socred Leadership

EDMONTON (CP) Three veteran Social Crediters have declared themselves candidates for the vacant post of national leader of the party, it was learned Sunday.

They are Robert N. Thompson of Red Deer, president of the Social Credit Association of Canada, George Hahn of New Westminster and Real Caouette of Rouyn, Que., president of the Quebec Provincial Social Credit Association. Both Mr. Hahn and Mr. Caouette are former members of Parliament.

The three politicians are the first to let their names stand since the party announced last year it would hold a national convention in Ottawa in July to pick a successor to retired national leader Solon E. Low.

Would Disarm Congo Troops, Have Foreign Envoys Leave

UNITED NATIONS (CP) — President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana proposed Sunday that a new all-African UN command take over The Congo, disarm all Congolese troops, free political prisoners and convene parliament, while all foreign diplomats leave the country.

He made the proposal in a cable to Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold. Nkrumah had Hammarskjold circulate the message to the Security Council, which is taking a weekend recess in its Congo debate, and said he would like to come to New York to give his views.

Nkrumah said the present situation is so serious the Security Council must abandon its previous concept of noninterference in the internal affairs of The Congo.

He also said the new approach must involve first a military and then a political phase, that the initiative must come from African countries with Asian military force support and "all initiative and aid from the big or NATO powers should cease."

No Agreement On Rhodesia

LONDON (Reuters) — Prime Minister Macmillan Sunday failed to break a deadlock in the talks here on the future of Northern Rhodesia.

His eleventh-hour bid came in an 83-minute personal talk with African nationalist leader Kenneth Kaunda, who told reporters later: "The British government has betrayed us."

Reports from Northern Rhodesia, a British protectorate, said a battalion of troops had been moved from The Congo frontier to areas where trouble may be expected. Reserve troops also have been called up as "as precautionary move," a spokesman said in Lusaka.

Several British newspapers speculated today that Britain migh fly in troops, but a War office spokesman said: "There are no specal alerts at the moment."

Negro delegates at the talks here on a new constitution for Northern Rhodesia had demanded greater voting rights for their people. Northern Rhodesia's population of 2,360,000, they pointed out, includes only 56,000 whites.

Foes Find Selves In Same Camp

By GERALD RATZIN

LEOPOLDVILLE (Reuters)—Two Congolese politicians involved in the struggle for Patrice Lumumba's successor found themselves Sunday in the same United Nations camp—seeking refuge from each other.

The confused situation resulted from the politicians trying to arrest one another.

One of the men, Anicet Kashamura, seized power in Kivu province early this year before Lumumba, The Congo's first premier, was slain.

In the same Nigerian UN camp is Christophe Gbenye, interior minister of Oriental province. His boss is Premier Antoine Gizenga, who has been recognized by the Communists and some Asian countries as The Congo's legitimate premier.

Gizenga, fearing his rival Kashamura in neighboring Kivu province, ordered Gbenye on Friday to arrest him. Gbenye was on a visit to Kivu province.

In an attempt to turn the tables, Kashamura ordered Gbenye's arrest.

Gbenye gained protection at the UN Nigerian camp. Meantime, he sent word to Gizenga about the action taken against him.

Kashamura, fearing reprisals from Gizenga's troops, likewise turned to the Nigerian troops for protection. He moved into the camp Saturday night—only a short distance from Gbenye.

In his own capital of Stanleyville, army commander Gen. Victor Lundula has adopted a moderate stand and appealed for calm.

Laos Proclaims Country Neutral

VIENTIANE (AP) — King Savang Vathana proclaimed Sunday that war-torn Laos is a neutral land seeking peace and asked that three neutral neighbors send in investigators to confirm it. He said Premier Prince Boun Oum's government aims to adopt a policy of non-alignment.

"We hope that Cambodia, Burma and Malaya will form a commission which would come to Laos to establish that the country threatens no one and aspires solely to peace," he said.

"This commission would have as its mission the denouncing of all foreign intervention—direct or indirect, open or camouflaged—which would imperil the kingdom's independence, integrity and neutrality."

He thus opened the way for a new international approach to an issue on which big powers of the East and West have deadlocked. The issue is the mechanics of inquiry and pacification to end a six-year conflict that mirrors East-West differences in miniature.

(In Washington, the U.S. state department said it welcomed the King's declaration, will respect his wishes and deemed his ideas "constructive and promising.")

King Savang spoke in French at his Vientiane residence before the Western-backed premier, cabinet ministers, foreign diplomats and reporters. He asked that his declaration be brought before all members of the United Nations through Secretary - General Dag Hammarskjold.

"Raising our voice above individual and party quarrels," he said, "we declare that Laos entertains no feeling of hostility whatsoever toward any country in the world, but on the contrary aspires to live in an atmosphere of friendship, understanding and peace.

"We proclaim once more the policy of true neutrality. Laos will not join in any military alliance. Laos will not have on its territory either foreign forces or military bases."

(France has protested Laotian moves to oust her 450-man garrison from Seno, a southern Laotian base and airport.)

Tessie Does Well by Master

BRANTFORD, Ont. (CP)—Tessie, a Holstein cow, this weekend became mother of three bouncing baby boyines Tara, Tess and Toni.

A local veterinarian says triplets are about as rare among cows as among people.

The event was especially fortunate for Tessie's owner Wilbert McDonald if nearby St. George. Eight of his cows were killed by a truck this summer.

Man, Wolf Decide to Return to Dawson Creek

HALIFAX (CP) — John McGovern, 22, an unemployed Ottawa laborer, is about ready to start hitch-hiking back to Dawson Creek, B.C.

He arrived here during the weekend with his pet wolf and his dog on a leash and with little money in his pocket.

McGovern made the trek here in six weeks, apparantly as a publicity stunt.

He arrived during a snowstorm and collected quite a crowd which started and followed until it gradually broke up.

The wolf-man — he nursed the year-old lobo back to health after finding her injured near Dawson Creek — went to the police station and asked if he could spend the night there as he had done in Fredericton.

However, it was Friday night and the police had no room. Then he tried to sell the story of his travels, but no takers.

Finally, he stonped at an Italian restaurant and behind the counter was an old friend, Joe Pilliterri, whom he had met in Ottawa.

Joe gave McGovern a meal and a place for him and his animals to sleep.

However, the wolf howled all night. Neighbors banged on the walls and the only way to keep her silent was to feed her Spaghetti and pizza pie.

McGovern said he would like to pick up a male wolf and raise cubs, taking his menagerie on tour in a station wagon.

But the next step is the long road back to Dawson Creek. They leave Tuesday as they came — by thumb.

4 U.S. Airliners Strike in 3rd Day

NEW YORK (AP) — Four major United States airlines affected by a country-wide strike of flight engineers announced plans Sunday night to place about 60,000 employees on furlough today if no settlement is reached. The move would virtually shut down operations of the lines.

The move came as the strike neared the end of its third day despite the personal interventtion of Labor Secretary Arthur Goldberg.

Pan American, Trans World, American and National agreed that unless the strike ends today they will have to begin placing the bulk of their employees on furlough.

There was no formal anouncement by the airlines, but spokesmen for the carriers confirmed that the move would be taken.

The airlines said that despite the furloughs, emergency flight service would be continued where needed. Some lines planned skeleton service.

The furloughs would affect about 15,000 Pan American employees, 20,000 Trans World workers and 3,200 National workers.

Eastern Airlines said it had no furlough plans at this time.

There was no immediate word as to any possible similar plans by Western Airlines, which has headquarters in Los Angeles.

Goldberg remained in New York overnight following a speaking engagement and conferred by telephone with the parties involved in the dispute.

"I can't report progress or lack of progress," he said. "I am just awaiting developments."

Pipeline Worker Killed Near Yahk

CRANBROOK—A Burnaby welder was killed Friday morning when hit by a moving platform support at a pipeline construction site near Yahk, about 30 miles southeast of here.

Joe Laberer, 30, was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Eugene Hospital in Cranbrook. He was taken there by ambulance operated by the Price-Poole Construction Co., builders of the pipeline.

He is survived by his wife and three children in Burnaby. Mrs. Laberer recently went to Calgary where she had been staying prior to joining her husband.

The accident occurred at 11:55 a.m. Friday when a tractor and boom machine lurched after supporting frozen ground gave way. The boom, suspending a length of pipe, swayed and struck a stack of pipe. The blow knocked a support from the pile which struck Laberer at the base of his skull.

The pipeliners were working down a river bank in the process of stringing pipe across the Moyie River at a point about three miles south of Irishman Creek.

Laberer is believed to have died about 10 minutes after the accident, enroute to hospital.

Education To Reduce Jobless, Advocated

By BILL MacDOUGALL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—Professor John Morgan of the University of Toronto's school of social work Sunday advocated a reorganization of federal government departments to improve welfare benefits and more education to help reduce unemployment.

If social security is to be improved, the time has come to reorganzie federal government departments responsible for its various aspects, he said.

Prof. Morgan was one of several who pleaded for further education at the Ontario Federation of Labor's annual education conference, where he was a panelist. Some 800 delegates attended the two-day conference, which ended Sunday.

High among his recommendations toward government reorganziation was splitting the present federal department of health and welfare into two ministries.

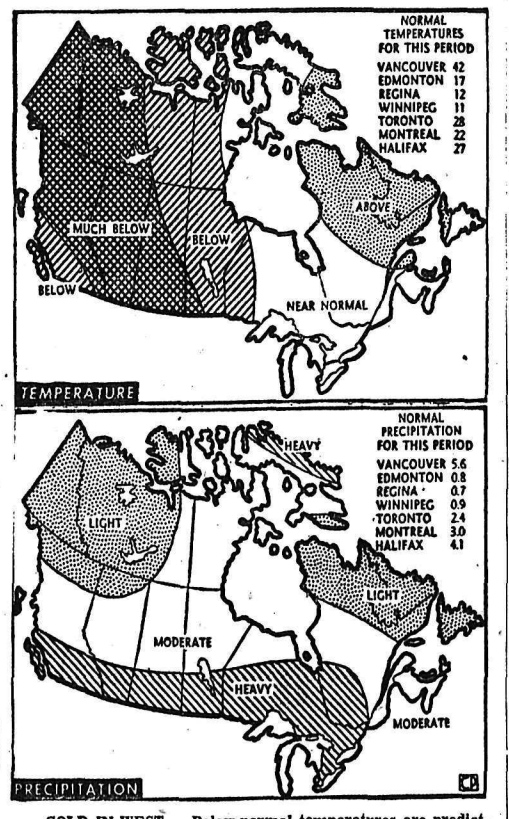
The re-organization would include abolishing the department of veterans affairs — "the clientele of this department are citizens of Canada and there is no logical reason for them to remain a privileged class."

Mum Mynah Ends Marriage

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A young housewife obtained a divorce on testimony that a bird spoiled her marriage.

Mrs. Joyce Blumin, 22, divorced Robert Blumin, 24, Friday. She told the court that after their 1959 marriage her husband's pet myna bird stopped talking to him and he, in turn, stopped talking to his wife.

A corroborating witness said Blumin, a draftsman, would sit in a corner trying to make the bird talk and would say "shh!" if anyone else spoke.



COLD IN WEST — Below-normal temperatures are predicted for Western Canada in the 30-day outlook of the United States weather bureau from mid-February to mid-March. The outlook is based on long-range predictions and is not a specific forecast. A change in weather pattern may produce major errors. Heavy precipitation is expected over all of southern Canada from Quebec west. Normal precipitation is given in inches of rain. One inch of rain equals 10 inches of snow.—CP Newsmap.

VANCOUVER (CP) — A rare but friendly trumpeter swan was flown here Friday in the hope Stanley Park Zoo officials can save its life.

It hobbled into Zeballos on the west coast of Vancouver Island earlier in the week and began following children.

Zoo officials hope it is a female and will become a mate to another trumpeter obtained under similar circumstances four years ago.

HAMILTON (CP) — A tom cat that "wouldn't say die," has resumed his social life after spending two weeks in a chimney.

He was released Friday from his prison by a lariat-looping Humane Society inspector.

The cat's owner, Frank Paulusberger, a butcher said:

"I was hearing noises but didn't know where that cat was. Then a few days ago I found a hole in an upstairs apartment through which he must have fallen.

"I started lowering meat and milk to him two days ago. We've got lots of meat. He looked pretty good when they got him out."

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — George Burns, who smokes about 25 cigars a day, considers them his trademark.

So much so that Friday he cancelled a scheduled March 10 guest appearance on the Jackie Gleason television show. He explained that the sponsor, who sells cigarets, wanted him to smoke the product on the show.

Burns wired Gleason: "Sorry, Jackie, I can't be on your show but me smoking a cigaret is like Marilyn Monroe dancing with another girl."

Khrushchev Hands Out Homely Homilies

LONDON (Reuters)—Russian commentators Saturday reported some of the almanac-style advice dispensed recently by Premier Khrushchev on matters ranging from seeding to bootlegging.

The homespun advice was offered by the Soviet premier during his three-week tour of the Russian farm belt which ended Feb. 2.

He told farm workers in the city of Voronezh last week the entire public should be aroused against "drunkards, speculators and parasites."

The rule in Soviet society is that those who do not work do not eat, Khrushchev said in a report of the meeting carried by the government newspaper Izvestia and quoted by the Soviet news agency Tass.

Let society act against malingerers, Khrushchev said, for they are the people who eat and then complain louder than anyone that there are shortages of meat, butter and milk.

QUOTES LETTER

Khrushchev stressed the social evils of drunkenness and "moonshining" and quoted as an example a letter from a peasant woman.

The woman wrote that her husband made life "unbearable for her and her sons. He drinks day and night and my children hardly dare to come into the house when he is there."

He said this woman and her children should be helped and added that "in any case it is time you dealt with the drunkards and put them in a position where they can't harm society."

Khrushchev also renewed his attacks on bureaucrats.

There were too many leaders "who talk about building communism but themselves sit like mice in their holes, peeping cautiously out in the world outside."

There was no point, he said, in locating agricultural institutes in towns and concentrating their instruction on book learning.

"We need agronomists who can work, who have both knowledge and practical ability. They should be out on the state farms for you can't learn about farming on the asphalt streets."

Arta Wilkinson Queen of Fiesta

By VERN SIMALUK
Daily News Staff Writer

KIMBERLEY — Surrounded by visiting queens and civic dignitaries, Arta Wilkinson, 16-year-old Selkirk High School student, was crowned queen of the sixth annual Snow Fiesta here Saturday afternoon before a wind-chilled crowd of several hundred milling persons.

The Marysville resident accepted her crown from the 1960 queen, Jeannie Morrison of Kimberley at the gigantic ice palace erected for the occasion by city firemen.

The four-day festival ground to a halt Sunday afternoon as it was announced that Al Fabro had been selected as citizen of the year during the presentation of winners' prizes at the ice palace in Coronation Park.

The ice palace had to have some quick repairs made to it earlier that day. Following the queen crowning, vandals destroyed much of the snow turret sculpture and broke several bulbs in the strings of lights on the snow castle.

Only one part of the program was still in operation and being pursued by film by the CBC television crew from Vancouver under the guidance of Bill Herbert, director of special events for CBC, when the Daily News went to press. It was the Snow Fiesta mixed bonspiel which was to decide its winners of the three events late Sunday night.

Trail and Lethbridge captured the two big money prizes in the senior men's invitational basketball tournament. Trail Bee's five-man squad won the consolation round and $50 while the Lethbridge Broder Packers took home the tournament championship and $100 prize money.

Nelson's Notre Dame Pups were eliminated from the tournament in the semi-final round when they bowed to the big guns from Spokane.

Other competitions, minor hockey, junior skiing, bobsled races and boxing were dominated by local talent.

Saturday started with warm, bright skies. By the time the half mile long parade, containing 30 floats and six bands, had woven through the city centre before thousands of spectators, and dispersed at the ice palace, skies were overcast and a chill pervaded the air.

The Hudson's Bay float, depicting two Eskimo boys, one in a kayak passing through a natural ice tunnel, won first prize in the Commercial floats with Manno Perri Contractors placing second. Other prize winning floats were sponsored by:

Clubs-groups: 1, Marysville Businessmen's Club, 2, Indian Mission; 3, Job's Daughters.

Best decorated cars—1, Car Cruisers; 2, Black Bear Services.

When it was announced that the grade 13 student, sponsored by Kimberley Taxi, was the new Fiesta queen, her face was lit with a happy, dazed expression and her chaperone, Mrs. Lenora Wilkinson burst into tears.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wilkinson has lived in Marysville for the past 14 years. Her ambition is to become either a nurse, teacher, stenographer or airline stewardess.

Her princesses for the forthcoming year are Cheryl Warren, 17, sponsored by the Kimberley School of Dancing; Donna MacDonald, 18, sponsored by the Rotary Club; and Zita Bukovics, 19, sponsored by the Kimberley News.

Sunday moring the fiesta area lived up to its theme of "Blue skies and powdered snow" as hundreds flocked to the slopes of the North Star Ski hill, while at the same time the giant slalom for junior skiers was being run off. The downhill competition was run off Saturday.

Double winers in the girl ski competitions are: (name, age group then in brackets the time for the slalom, then for the downhill):

Denice Lenaster of Canal Flats, 4-6 (.82, .72); Judy Leinweber, 7-10 (.43, .715); Marilyn Ross 11-14 (.48, 1.64); Heather Roos 15-18 (4.09, 2.89).

Single winners were: BOYS SLALOM; John Gerlitz 4-6 (.59); Danny Ringheim 7-10 (.41); Gara Wilder of Invermere 11-14 (.41); Gerry Rinaldi 15-18 (1.05.5 and tied for first in the downhill with Milton Howe with a time of 1.81); DOWNHILL: Ross Taplin 4-6 (.48); Ringheim 7-10 (.63); Rich Hammond 11-14 (1.265).

The warm weather played havoc with ice - covered 1500-foot curving run of the only organized and permanent bobsled club in Canada but hundreds still turned out to see 25 three-man teams compete for the new General Bakeries Trophy.

Winner of the mens competition was the Firemen's team consisting of driver Colin Evens, middle man Ron Unwin and brakeman Jack Dean. Their two best times from four runs, two on Saturday and Sunday each, were 40.2 seconds.

The Three No Trumps placed and 43.6 seconds.

The first women's team to join the club, the "Cheerful Charlies" showed what experience means as they swept around the hairpin corners to take first in the women's competition. The team consisted of Lorna Rouse, driver, L. Rickson, middle and J. Cox, brakeman.

Winners of the snow sculpture contest sponsored by the Kimberley Retail Merchants Association, saw four first place winners, for four divisions of the area Winners of the respective areas were: Marysville and Chapman Camp, Mrs. T. Leighton of Marysville, lower Blarchmont H. Wilkinson of 2015 Warren Avenue; upper Blarchmont and city; G. Ambrosio, 410 Spokane St.; Lois Creek and Ritchie, Greg Hutton, Lois Creek.

The Merchants association also sponsored the children's pet and costume parade Friday night and various winners were:

Most unusual: Barry Morrison and hamster, Betty Lou and Johnny Berratt and wild ducks.

Best behaved: Joe Slawter and dog, Dale Wyk and collie, Don Beattie and dog.

Best dressed: Lytte family and dog, Karen Nemrava and dog.

Costumes: Marguerite Garsten, Victorian age theme; Lee Tracey as lion tamer.

Best pair or group: The Voglaar children as Dutch couple and Colleen Brisette in three bears and Goldilocks theme.

Best comic: Vickie Powers as fat man.

One of the best showstopping sculptures, located on the main thoroughfare to the city centre, was not entered in the competition but drew as much attention as those that were. In less than two hours Thursday night Bill Motek and his wife created a giant rabbit which had many visitors who stopped to view its pink ears.

Boy Scout Week Activities Begin

Boy Scout week in Canada begins today. The event, concurrent with the birth of Baden-Powell, founder of the Scouts, will be observed by some 300,000 young Canadians.

Highlight of the week in Nelson will be a banquet in the Scout Hall Thursday. The banquet will honor new Queen's Scouts, who will go to Victoria Easter week to receive their badges from Lieutenant-Governor Pearkes in a ceremony at Government House.

The banquet will be attended by Mayor T. S. Shorthouse, H. M. Peverley, Regional Executive Commisisoner, Dr. B. A. Resker, Regional Commissioner, E. K. Evans, District Commissioner, parents of the scouts and officers of the various troops along with their wives.

Eleven new Queen's Scouts from the district will go to Victoria; seven from Nelson, three from Salmo and one from Riondel.

The banquet will be sponsored by the Nelson and District Boy Scouts Association with catering by the Women's Auxiliary of Nelson and District.

Tuesday, Troop No. 1 will hold a father-and-son banquet in the Eagles Hall, Nelson.

The week will end with B-P (Baden-Powell) Sunday when Boy Scouts across the country will attend services in the churches of their choice.

It's a week of open house, with Wolf Cubs, Boy Scouts and Rover Scouts inviting the people in their home communities to see what scouting does.

Many scout groups use the week to begin earning funds toward the cost of the new Canadian Scout headquarters building in Ottawa, recently opened by Governor-General Vanier.

More than 2,000 Canadian scouts overseas, sons of members of Canada's NATO forces, also celebrate Boy Scout week.

Sixty per cent of all scout groups in Canada are sponsored by churches, another 20 per cent by community groups organized for this purpose. The rest are under the wing of service clubs, civic and veteran organizations, and fraternal lodges.

The association itself operates none of these directly. It sets up the program and services it. The churches and other groups carry it out.

Two other major events are scheduled by the movement later this year. The third annual Canadian Jamboree will be held for 3,500 first class boy scouts and their leaders at Connaught Ranges near Ottawa, July 6-15. The theme will be "Scouting from sea to sea. All provinces and the United States will be represented.

The first national Boy Scout regatta is planned for July 16-18 near Montreal. The event will be open to registered members of any Boy Scout or Sea Scout troop.

Mrs. Mangan, Well Known In Fernie, Dies

Mrs. Catherine Zoe Mangan 85, Fernie resident since 189? died in Nelson last Friday.

Mrs. Magnan was born in High Falls, Ontario in 1875 and came to Fernie where she married John Thomas Mangan in 1900. Her husband was engaged in the lumber industry. They lived in Moyie, Ryan and Jaffray before moving back to Fernie in 1909. There her husband was a partner in the Mangan Lumber Company, which he later bought outright. Her husband predeceased her shortly before their Golden Wedding anniversary, in October, 1950.

She continued to live in Fernie until coming to Nelson in September last year.

Mrs. Mangan is survived by three daughters; Miss Lauretta Mangan, Fernie; Mrs. D. H. (Marion) Tye, West Vancouver; Mrs. William (Florence) Murdoch, Burnaby; one son, Clarence of Penticton; and six grandchildren.

Funeral service and interment will be held in Fernie.

First Lecture In Marriage Series Tuesday

The "Adventure of Marriage" will be discussed in a series of five lectures starting tomorrow.

The series is designed to help married couples and those contemplating marriage. The lectures will be given every Tuesday night for five weeks, in the Nelson Junior High School. Discussion groups and report sessions will follow each lecture.

Subjects to be lectured on are "Marriage is a Challenge," Rev. Theodore E. Dorpat, Spokane, Washington; "Adjustments for Successful Marriage," G. A. Bryenton, Marriage Counsellor, Vancouver; "Faith and Marriage," Rev. E. Donovan Jones, St. Paul's - Trinity United Church, Nelson; "Sex and Marriage," Dr. A. S. Arneil, Director, Selkirk Health Unit, Nelson; "Financial Worries in Marriage," R. J. Burnham, Regional Administrator, Department of Social Welfare, R. Blake Allen, lawyer, and Robert Adderley, Manager, Canadian Bank of Commerce. The last three are all of Nelson.

Rev. Theo E. Dorpat, speaking tomorrow, is area counsellor for the Lutheran Church - Missouri Synod, for the Spokane and North Idaho area. He is also chairman of the Spokane Senior Citizens Council and a member of the State Governor's Council on aging.

He was ordained in 1918. In addition to his ministry he served as University pastor of North Dakota University. He was pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, Spokane, from 1946 to 1959.

Mr. Dorpat was educated at theological schools in Milwaukee, Wisconsin and Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, Missouri.

He was missionary at large for Southeastern Montana from 1922 to 1932. His hobby is lecturing at Bible camps.

The series is sponsored by the Nelson Branch of the Canadian Mental Health Association.

In Truck Crash

GRAND FORKS — Driver and one passenger of a transport truck were not injured Thursday when the vehicle slid a distance of 20 feet over a bank at the summits of the Cascade-Rossland highway.

Alex Pochachoff of Richmond, the driver, and his father were occupants of the vehicle. It spun on ice to the outside edge of the road. The driver stopped the truck but it slid backwards then went over the edge. After crashing down over the bank the vehicle rolled over on its side. The mishap occurred at 7 p.m., about five miles east of Cascade.

Two wreckers pulled the produce-loaded vehicle back on to the road. It was damaged extensively on the box but was not mechanically damaged.

District Physical Education Workshop Opens Here Today

A physical education workshop will be held in the L. V. Rogers High School today.

The program designed to assist teachers in increasing their knowledge and technique of physical education, is sanctioned by the Department of Education. This will be the third workship held in B.C.

J. R. Ramsden, Oldtime Businessman Here, Dies

Joseph Robert Ramsden, Nelson oldtimer businessman and sports enthusiast, died early Sunday morning in Kootenay Lake General Hospital in his 74th year.

Mr. Ramsden was born in London, England, in 1888, and came to Canada in 1907. He came to Nelson in 1909 where he married Mercy Smith in 1909.

In the early days he worked for the Hudson's Bay Company and Gilkers' Ltd. Later he went to Calgary where he stayed until 1920, when he purchased his own business in Castor, Alberta. He also operated a general store at Gadsby and Bulwark from Castor.

In 1928 he returned to Nelson and went into the ready-to-wear and drygoods business at the site of the present Simpson-Sears store. In later years he operated a wholesale dry goods and manufacturers' agent, business, covering interior B.C. and southern Alberta points.

He travelled throughout this territory until 1957 when he retired to his farm at Willow Point.

He was an enthusiastic sportsman and played with Nelson and Alberta soccer teams. He supported and managed junior hockey and baseball teams, and was an active member of the Nelson branch of the YMCA.

J. R. RAMSDEN

Mr. Ramsden served for several years on the Nelson School Board as a trustee. He was a member of several fraternal organizations, including the Masonic Lodge.

Besides his wife, he is survived by three sons, Cecil and Bert, Nelson; and Cal, Toronto; two sisters, Alice and Mary; two brothers, Carl and Harvey, and five grandchildren.

3-Day Presbytery Here This Week

Ministers and laymen representing 19 charges of the Kootenay Presbytery of the United Church are scheduled to meet here Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

George A. Hoover, one of only three laymen who are chairmen of presbyteries in Canada, will be chairman of the meeting.

Delegates from Greenwood to the Alberta boundary elected by official boards of the local charges will attend.

Regular business will be attended to immediately after the opening of the session, at noon Tuesday. This will include opening of correspondence and reports on inductions of two ministers, Rev. S. W. Dowling of Knox United Church of Trail, and Rev. G. Thomson of the Creston United Church.

A discussion prepared by the Faith and Order Committee, is scheduled for Tuesday evening.

One committee, which has already created a brief on the problems of the Doukhobor people, will report on further work.

Seventeen committees will give reports. Included will be information on evangelism, social service and students.

Rev. M. Warne, of Vancouver, superintendent of five presbyteries in B. C., will report Wednesday evening on Home Missions.

Also scheduled for Wednesday will be a report on a new church organization, United Church Women, which is to be established in January, 1962.

It is the second of two major presbytery meetings held annually. A new chairman to succeed Mr. Hoover will be elected.

The churchmen will meet in St. Paul's-Trinity United Church. Rev. E. Donovan Jones is the host minister.

JIM VIPOND says:

People are continually amazed at the amount of Travel, not only from this area, but everywhere. People are really on the move and on longer trips than ever before. There are many good reasons for this change, not the least being the favorable rates that are in effect today. Did you ever consider the rates for passenger travel today compared with what they were 25 years ago and the ratio which they bear to your income of 25 years ago? Another factor is the speed of today's travel so that with a three weeks vacation, you can have 20 days at the place which you are visiting. But the most important factor in modern travel is the facility available to most travellers of the experienced TRAVEL AGENT through whom the modern traveller can obtain unbiased information on ALL means of travel and at no extra cost. YOUR dream trip can become a reality too. Contact us soon and let us show you how easy and how inexpensive your trip can be.

Rotary Committee Aided In Portuguese Discussion

By E. W. FLORENDINE
Secretary - Manager, Chamber of Mines of Eastern B.C.

I notice that in the Daily News last week, a committee has been formed by the Rotary Club, which will have under discussion varied economics in relation to Portugese Africa.

For their information, the main interest in the Portugese mineral field at present in the building-up of a ferrous metals industry based on the 200,000 ton capacity steel works of the Sirderudgia Nacional at Sexial to be opened in 1961, for the production of a range of products including rolled steel and cast iron.

Production of the Seixal plant, which will cost some £37,500,000, is to be increased as soon as possible to 300,000 tons per year, and to help the expansion of the plant and enable it to work free to a certain extent from imports, the Portugese government is doing its best to boost exploitation of iron ores and manganese ores deposits in Moncorvo, Guadramil, Orada, Maroa and Cercal de Alentejo areas.

A further £3,750,000 is expected to be spent on the erection of a Krupp-Renn installation for the processing of poor quality ores from the Traz Os Montes region and from the Portugese colony of Angola. While large sums are being invested in the necessary expansion of transport and harbor facilities for the growing iron and steel industry.

Portugese exports in 1959 included 582 tons of tin, of which the U.S.A. took 444 tons; 2464 tons of wolfram of which the U.K. took 1,192; and 358,673 tons of pyrites mainly to Belgium and Luxembourg.

Portugal is exporting large quantities of iron ore, most of it hematite, though output of ores — which are not of a high quality and are badly sited — is, according to most recent figures, falling. In 1958, the most recent year for which figures have been issued, production was 232,132 tons (of which 195,000 tons was exported) as against 286,382 tons in the previous year.

Manganese production also fell over the year in question from 5.475 to 4,988 tons, as compared with an annual average for the period 1939-1958 of 5,511 tons.

PRODUCTION FALLS

Accoridng to a recent report entitled "A Riqueza da Industria Extractiva Metropolitana, made available to the Mining Journal by the Portugese government, production of copper pyrites and sulphur has fallen steadily since 1955, and Portugal expects to lose further ground with the development of the Lacq hydrocarbon gas deposits in the South of France. At the main Portugese site of Aljustrel where known deposits total 15,000,000, exploration started in 1957 and is still in progress.

Coal production — at present based on Castelo de Paiva anthracite — is to rise steadily to meet industrial demand in the future. In 1958 it totalled 723,509 tonnes.

Other production figures for 1958 included: gold bearing materials, 433,200 (714,000) kg. of which 90% came from the Pouca de Aguiar district in the north of the country.

Uranium exploration was completed recently and the erection of a 200-tonnes a year uranium metal plant working with Portugese raw materials is to be undertaken.

Work on an aluminum plant in the Bocoso region between Dondo and Cambambe is expected to commence soon. This plant will be supplied from the Cambambe dam, at present under construction.

OTHER MINERALS GAIN

As regards Angola, the mineral development is reported to be increasing rapidly. While diamonds have, in the past, contributed substantially towards export, other minerals are assuming greater importance. Under its 1959-64 plan, Angola has provided for the spending of 30,000,000 excudos (some £375,000) on mineral exploitation.

Iron ores have been running at about 100,000 tons a year to West Germany and Italy. Most of the iron produced by Campanhia Mineira de Lobia. It is reported that ore reserves containing an average of 45-60 per cent Fe are estimated at thousands of millions of tons and containing 65-68 per cent Fe are estimated in millions of tons.

Total iron shipments of up to 10,000,000 tons annually have been forecast during the second phase of this expansion scheme beginning 1965. Prior to 1965, shipments of 1,500,00 are forecast via Mocamedes with an additional 500,000 tons via Lobito.

Diamond exploration in 1959 provided for the treatment of 2,197,800 cu. m. of gravel containing 825,850 ct. of diamonds.

The French Pechiney company has reached an agreement with the Aluminio Portugues (Angola) SARL to construct a 50,000 tons per year aluminum plant in Angola.

Feel Projects Society Should Add Auditorium to Memorial Centre

TRAIL— Trail Memorial Centre would not be completely finished until an auditroium has been provided on the third floor of the building, said parks board chairman Otto Gill recently.

This was his comment when Ray Gould reported to the parks commissioners that the Trail District Recreational Projects Society doubted whether it would proceed with further ventures once sufficient money had been collected to complete the swimming pool in Butler Park.

Mr. Gill said he recalled that the Projects Society did contract originally to provide a centre for the arts and crafts groups of the community. "These people will feel they have been left out if the Projects Society were to terminate its activities now, after having provided mostly just sporting and athletic facilities," the parks board chairman remarked.

"The provision of a centre for arts and crafts is one of the things I feel the Projects Society shouldn't give up. In fact, I would say that the Projects Society has not quite finished our Memorial Centre until it does provide such a centre on the top floor," said Mr. Gill.

Commissioner Perry Landucci agreed with the chairman. "The Projects Society is an organization that has been wonderful, but I don't feel it should give up yet," he added. "In fact, Mayor Read on more than one occasion has said that he would like to see the Society continue with its work."

Mr. Gill said the third floor of the Memorial Centre could be readily adapted to provide the type of community centre set up by taxpayers in Vancouver. It would not be practicable to have a sloping floor in the auditorium, but the centre could be a multi-purpose hall available for all types of arts and crafts activities, Mr. Gill commented.

The board received a letter from H. W. Herridge, MP, in which he assured the commissioners he would endeavor to oppose the suggested increase in fees levied by the Canadian Authors and Composers Association.

Mr. Herridge said he agreed with the submisisons of the Trail - Rossland and Nelson arenas that thesuggested 50 per cent increase in porforming fees would be a great imposition on organizations providing for community activities.

Fortune Hidden In Hat Boxes

NEW CASTLE, De. (AP)—A spinster school teacher has left a fortune she kept hidden in hat boxes to three daughters of an old friend.

Police entered the six room apartment of Isabelle Tuchton, 76, last Monday after friends reported they had not seen her for some time. She was found dead on her bed.

The fortune is reported to be worth between $400,000 and $500,000. Stuffed in old hat boxes was $40,314 in cash, blue chip stocks, uncashed dividend cheques, keys to a safe deposit box and a will.

The will, filed for probate here Friday, leaves the fortune to Mary Louise Hughs of Kenton, Mrs. Clair Conly of Wilmington and Mrs. Maurice Arnold of Kennett Square, Pa. The will was written in 1928.

E. Kootenay High Students To Attend Coast Conference

Several East Kootenay students will be included among delegates attending the 14th annual High School Conference at the University of British Columba on February 24 and 25.

More than 260 delegates from throughout British Columbia and the Yukon will be welcomed in a ceremony in Brock Hall by Dean E. D. McPhee, on behalf of the administration; Dave Edgar, president for the Alma Mater Society, and Kyle Mitchell, chairman of the conference committee.

Designed to provide high school students with an opportunity to sample all aspects of life at a university, the two-day event offers a program of typical lectures, discussions, campus tours, and sports which will conclude with a banquet and dance.

All degelates are required to report back to their fellow students on observations made during their visit to the university.

Delegates from East Kootenay high schools are: Canal Flats, Canal Flats High, Diane Edlund, Ester Holmlund; Cranbrook, Mt. Baker Senior High School, Fred Clark, Gail Peterson; Fernie, Fernie Senior High School, David Johnson, Jim Polomark; Invermere, David Thompson Senior High School, Garry Hollingsworth, Giles Peatfield; Jaffray, Jaffray Senior High School, Ron Sandburg, Marilyn Mader.

Germany Promises Aid To Needy Countries

WASHINGTON (AP) — West Germany Foreign Minister Henrich von Bretano flew home Saturday after giving President Kennedy pretty much what he contributions to aid for underwanted in the way of German developed countries.

Reversing the previous German position, Brentano agreed that Germany will help underdeveloped nations on a permanent basis. He indicated this aid would total abut $1,000,000,000 a year.

Previously the Germans had offered a one-shot one-year deal of less than $1,000,000,000.

Kennedy was reported by press secretary Pierre Salinger to feel the new offer was satisfactory and "had the effect of clearing the atmosphere."

The U.S. has asked West Germany to take over more of the load of aid to poorer nations as a means of helping stop the heavy drain on U.S. gold-and-dollar reserves. With West Germany doing its part, the U.S. would not have to spend so much abroad.

President Eisenhower's treasury secretary, Robert Anderson, made a hurried trip to Bonn last November and laid down substantial demands for German aid contributions. He was offered far less than he wanted and the mission was regarded by some as a failure.

After Kennedy took office the Germans made similar offers. Much of the amount would have been in payments of old debts to the United States and prepayments of German purchases of American arms—money which the United States would get eventually anyway.

But last week Kennedy told his press conference the German proposals "do not meet the problem or the opportunity."

This candid language surprised the Germans, and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer asked Brentano to try a fresh approach with Kennedy.

BACKACHE AND RHEUMATISM PAIN
After 35, many women and men are made miserable by common urinary disorders. Waste impurities and bacteria often irritate the delicate passages from the kidneys. Then you can feel tired, old, nervy and suffer from rheumatic pains, such as backache, aches around joints, sciatica or neuritis. For these troubles, thousands are finding wondrous fast help with the urinary antiseptic and pain relieving action of CYSTEX. Then kidneys act well, pains go and sleep is refreshing. You feel younger and stronger. Get CYSTEX from your druggist today and see how refreshed you feel.

Brotherhood Week

The emergence of new nations, the growing nationalism and racial differences which are giving this world a sense of disunity calls attention to that ancient desire and much looked forward day when the brotherhood of man shall be an accomplished fact.

This can only happen if men and women throughout the world prepare for it. In one way or another all the great philosophies and faiths teach it. Yet there is little of it in practice. We are apt to live within the boundaries of our country and our immediate friends and pay only lip service to the ideal of brotherhood.

There can be little doubt that man was not given intelligence, the ability to research, to invent and to climb further and further towards an ever higher civilization in order to enable him to annihilate others but rather that he should use his great gifts to draw closer to and live in harmony with them. There is so much which can be accomplished by unity, so little by dissension.

Civilization today is at the crossroads. Its further progress and its survival depend not upon the machines, the rockets and the mechanical means of making war but upon the determination of men to seek peace and ensure it. It is becoming ever more clear that if our civilization is to survive, tolerance is not enough. There must be an active desire and a genuine endeavor to understand and sympathize with the aims and aspirations of others and to appreciate views of individuals and nations.

Racial enmities can be subdued. For countless generations there has been a chasm between the Jews and the Gentiles but today the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews is leading the way in promoting understanding, tolerance, and sympathy for others. Of all great works this is the most necessary. It can only effect its purpose if all Christians and Jews begin with the sincere desire for brotherhood. This is Canadian Brotherhood Week — a time for us all to embrace the opportunity to assess our attitudes to all men so that the great ideal of brotherhood can become universal.

Interpreting the News

It seems clear that while African countries see much to criticize in Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold's handling of the United Nations Congo operations, they are stopping short of supporting the Soviet Union's call for his scalp.

This was pointed up Friday in a speech by the United Arab Republic's Omar Loutfi before the UN Security Council. Although the UAR had been bitterly critical of UN policies and had withdrawn its troops from the Congo force, Loutfi carefully refrained from hitting directly at Hammarskjold.

While some observers surmised Loutfi was merely courting Western support for a proposed resolution, it was noted that the UAR has preserved a comparatively moderate attitude toward Hammarskjold throughout the Security Council debate.

The other co-sponsors of the resolution, Liberia and Ceylon, also steered clear of castigating Hammarskjold and in fact, the African country formally supported him.

Liberia's Ambassador George Patmore said that among African delegations he had been in touch with, "the overwhelming opinion is that the office of the secretary-general should remain as it is" and that the secretary-general should be given even more authority in The Congo.

In an Asian view, Ceylon said the way the Congo operation had been conducted was not always satisfactory. However, part of the responsibility had to be placed upon the Security Council itself, since member countries had not been able to agree on a clear mandate for Hammarskjold.

African delegates—with the exception of such governments as Guinea and Mali whose support of the Soviet line was regarded as almost automatic—tended to slam at some of Hammarskjold's policies and proposals without hitting directly at him.

Countries of the French Community voted as a bloc within a bloc on most issues during the UN General Assembly debate last year, but their speeches before the Security Council indicate varying criticism of the Congo operation.

They were generally agreed that Hammarskjold's proposal for disarming the Congolese army would be a "ghastly" mistake on the grounds it would over-ride sovereignty of the republic and also might result in African UN troops killing fellow African Congolese.

Seldom did the Security Council debate become more bitter than when, for instance, Guinea charged French Community countries with submitting to tutelage. An observer suspects that French Community Negro representatives sometimes adopt a harsh approach to avoid the stigma of being stooges for their foreign imperialist masters.

1960 in Capsule Form

"Stop worrying about this old world. . . . If it could get by 1960 safely, with all its bickerings and banterings, its troubles and trivialities, its demigods and demagogues, its goofs and its glories, it can withstand anything the years ahead can produce. This was 1960. . . . Do you remember, or would you sooner forget?

"If you were puzzled about the difference between Lumumba and Kasavubu, you had plenty of company—the UN didn't know, either. . . . European countries suddenly realized thar's gold in them thar American soldiers — but only after Uncle Sam decided to stop spending gold in European countries that weren't sure they wanted the American soldiers in the first place. . . . We added more stars to the flag we should wave more. . . . The romance of the princess and the photographer developed into a pretty picture — and everyone was happy but the butler. . . . Steel's blast furnaces were banked, while steelmakers and steelmasters blasted each other with all of the heat generated in a cupola. . . . Everything about the new cars was more compact—except the finance payments. . . .

"Not the most important question of the year: Who makes the dresses for the wives of the candidates — and who cares? . . . There was a time when Tiros, Polaris, Saturn, Hydra, Pioneer meant celestial bodies in the solar system—but that was before 1960. . . . What Russia forgot when it was raging over the spying operations of U-2 was that they should have confessed, ME-2. . . . Justice, after a long game of moves, at long last checkmated Chessman. . . . A year when we elected the first president who had to move to a smaller house. . . . This was a piece of a year of peace—Do you remember? — Dr. M. M. Cohn in Water Works Engineering.

F. B. Pearce. . . . . Writes

When the School Board expropriated our house it was because it needed more ground for the Junior High School. Far from disturbing us the children were a source of interest. We particularly like the scene in spring when the girls blossomed out in new dresses.

The house stood on a little hill. At the time it was built it was in the bush but when be bought it, it had a magnificent view down to Grohman Creek. It must originally have had a branch of Ward Creek in front and we were told that the youngsters who then lived about that time could catch trout farther up where the Junior High school stands today.

The house itself was picturesque especially on a winter evening when the lights made it look like a Christmas card with the tree outlined against it. It was a very high building with double bay windows on the south side facing on the terrace. The terrace helped to give it its pleasant appearance as well as being useful as a place to sit and idle.

The ground, which sloped steeply to Josephine Street, was terraced and grassed. It was quite a job to mow this grass and the fruit on the trees was hard to pick, too. Some apples could never be reached but in general there were sufficient for our needs. We had a crabapple tree by the kitchen door which shaded the house. This we pruned into an umbrella shape and it made a good place for children to play in its shade in summer time.

There was a large vegetable garden which I worked every year and which my neighbors envied. They thought the soil was very special but actually it grew good crops because it was well manured and worked.

The flower gardens were good too, especially the rockery, which I built between my neighbor's lot and mine, and the trellis we built together and on which I grew rambler roses. The frost killed it one year but 18 months later it sprang up again in many places from the roots.

The house itself was a pleasant one with large rooms. Three different families of children had lived in it. They loved it and the aura of their happiness dwelt with the house. One of the boys who first lived there came years later to ask if he could look around. He told us of the devilment he and his brothers had got up to there. He told how on one occasion his mother woke him to say there was a burglar downstairs and he found his brother trying to get in without disturbing the family. My eldest boy afterwards got in the house late one night in the same way.

But none of them liked the house being torn down. Indeed, one girl who had lived there told me if I ever wanted to sell it to let her know and she would buy it.

Briton's Credit

Britons, after delightedly discovering the luxury of unrestricted credit buying, are now learning some of the penalties. A group of finance companies, alarmed by its losses on bad debts, is developing a system of credit rating. Persons regarded as bad risks will be placed upon a "black list", to which any trader can subscribe.

This is regarded by many Britons as a very un-British intrusion upon privacy; an Englishman's credit — or lack of credit—is his castle. There is now a move afoot to circulate a "white list" of traders who have promised that they will not subscribe to the "black list."

Canadians, who are painfully resigned to credit rating, may wish to greet the British rebellion with cheers of encouragement. Before becoming too excited, however, they should be aware of the disillusioning fact that the new British rating system will be based upon an existing system — known as Kemp's Mercantile Gazette — which has been quietly operating from London since 1866.

Your Individual Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Tuesday, February 21, 1961

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) — Benefic Mars and other aspects boost this auspicious and important day. Finish incompleted tasks if you can, and also undertake new, even unfamiliar matters if need be.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus) — Friendly rays linger since yesterday's good Venus aspect and whole setup is approaching more generous inclinations as day advances. Difficult work, conferences, science, art favored.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini) — A peak period for many interests, for industry, manufacturing, building, handling machinery and tools and for investigating and promoting new projects. Create, invent, be orginal!

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer) — Energizing, prosperous-looking day for you kindly, humane folks. Be rightly ambitious, eager to enter and compete with the best in your field of endeavor and with all matters.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo) — Strongly favorable Sun and other planetary influences. Should be an opportune period for creating new situations from which *good can come, and also for ad*vancing in your work.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — This month has been and still is filled with enterprising, auspicious days for worthy interests, good deeds, matters of wide variety, literary efforts, journalism, the arts, study.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra) — Mixed vibrations but on whole they are interesitng, encouraging. Select tasks, urgent duties to perform first and efficiently, then examine follow-ups and attend to them more leisurely.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 22 (Scorpio) — Today and tomorrow auspicious and heartening for personal affairs and for activities that have bearing on your occupational and domestic duties. Be inspired and enthused to achieve.

NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittrains) — Jupiter's position now is good and you can expect a progressive, fruitful time. Do not worry or be overly anxious. Attend tasks and urgent duties quietly but with faith.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn) — Really your strongest, best day this whole month (and we hope it has been a prosperous period all told.) Try some new projects, plans, sound ideas now. They could be successful.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius) — If you hold restlessness and desire for change within sensible bounds, you will have time to concentrate on essentials and complete at least some of them. Confer, seek advice where needed.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 21 (Pisces) — Be warned against carelessness handling chemicals, liquids of all kinds. Also watch confidential issues carefully. Practically all worthy endeavors can gain now and you can benefit.

YOU BORN TODAY: Ambitious, studious but not as active as should be to attain bigger, better achievement. Are keen, often crafty and too cautious. Should foster and keep alive initiative and perserverance. Don't permit a lackadaisical attitude to take hold, it could become a hindering trait and defeat your achievement. You have intuition, perhaps inventive genius and much talent. Don't indulge eccentric tendencies or aim at too drastic reforms. Enjoy your finer qualifications and pray to improve them. Birthdate: John H. Newman, Eng. cardinal and writer; many noted churchmen; Ann Sheridan, actress.

American Navy Favors Non-Nuclear Defence

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Navy is alarmed over the number of epitaphs being written by self-appointed experts in rival services for its surface warships, especially aircraft carriers.

In the navy's opinion these proponents of surface ship cutbacks have an almost total misunderstanding of sea power in the thermonuclear age.

One of the pressing tasks facing the new administration is construction of a firm, over-all defence policy.

By and large, the navy and army have argued that it would be folly to prepare for only nuclear warfare.

Both the army and navy insist the U.S. must be prepared to fight non-nuclear wars. To the navy this means the retention of a powerful surface fleet.

While atomic submarines are replacing carriers as the navy's first-line warships, even as carriers replaced battleships, the scuttling of the surface fleet by the epitaph writers is to the navy both dangerous and premature.

Rear Admiral Claude Ricketts director of the navy's strategic plans division, says the navy cannot yet foresee the day when all surface warships will be obsolete.

PROJECT POWER

"One of the functions of the navy—the primary function—is the projection of the nation's combat power from sea to shore," the admiral said, adding that this is something the submarine can now do directly only in all-out war. An amphibious landing such as that at Normandy in the Second World War was a projection of combat power from sea to shore.

In all-out nuclear war the underwater missile - launching platform, the polaris submarine, would pay a major role in the enemy's destruction.

The navy believes the probability of such a war is becoming more and more remote.

The navy reasons that as the U.S. and Russia approach a thermonuclear stalemate, the possibility of wars for limited objectives increases.

In a limited war, the navy believes, surface ships will still be essential for the transport of supplies and manpower and to put that manpower ashore and keep it there.

To the navy this beachhead requirement means aircraft carriers to establish air supremacy over the beachhead area.

The use of nuclear missiles as a beachhead weapon of attack, the navy contends, would not only be uneconomical, but would endanger our own troops.

Even in all-out war Ricketts does not discount the versatility of the carrier with its planes capable of carrying atomic bombs.

The navy believes the most immediate danger would be the air - launched missile, either guided or ballistic.

The approach of missile-carrying enemy planes, the navy says, would be detected in time to launch aircraft and defensive missiles against them.

Dramatic Figures Show World Population Boost

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

Dramatic figures regarding increase in world population were given in a recent address by Albert A. Thornbrough, president of Massey Ferguson Ltd., Toronto-based farm equipment manufacturers with international operations.

"From the origin of mankind until the 1920s, world population grew to a total of 2,000,000,000," said Mr. Thornbrough. "It now is estimated at present rates of growth that by 1980, 20 years from now, world population will reach 4,000,000,000 and, by 2020, 8,000,000,000 an increase of 600,000,000 in a century.

"At the end of this century, if present rates continue, there will be 1,000,000,000 Indians and 1,500,000,000 Chinese. At the turn of the century, at these rates, 70 per cent of the world population will be of African or Asian origin and 75 per cent will be living in what are today the least-developed areas.

"The first 1,000,000,000 of people was reached after about 200,000 years; the sixth billion will take less than 10 years."

Mr. Thornbrough expressed only one conclusion: "We may accept the fact that there is a continually expanding market for farm products."

The newly-formed Canadian Nuclear Association will hold its first annual meeting and conference in Toronto May 16-17. About 250 people are expected to attend and addresses will be given by American and Canadian speakers engaged in research, development or utilization for peaceful purposes of nuclear energy and radio isotopes.

Investor's Reader, publication of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith, says:

"Avis-Rent-a-Car System has come out with its image of the automated car rental operation of 1971. The customer simply steps into a booth at a remote-controlled rental station. The agent scans his identification and licence over closed-circuit TV, then pushes a button to release the car key for the customer. The agent need not watch whether the renter can walk a straight line. Alcohol on the would-be customer's breath would flash a red light in the agent's office."

SET TO EXPAND

Gulf Pulp and Paper Company at Clarke City, Que., for which a $2,000,000 expansion is announced, is one of the Canadian properties which has come within the orbit of Albert E. Reed and Co. Ltd., British paper firm.

Gulf is owned by Imperial Paper Mills, Kent, England, and Reed has bought all the ordinary stock of Imperial from Daily Mirror Newspapers. Reed has also bought the Mirror's majority interest in Anglo-Canadian Pulp and Paper Mills Ltd., Quebec, and, through similar purchase from other shareholders, now owns about 92 per cent of Anglo-Canadian.

The Mirror, through the transactions, becomes a large owner of Reed.

Consumers' Gas Co. Ltd., with co-operation of the Ontario department of education, has set up English-language courses for its "new Canadian" employees. The action was taken when the company found that numbers of its workers passed practical tests but failed in written examinations because of difficulties with English, and were thus handicapped in their advancement.

Russ Woman Says U.S. Leads in Some Space Tests

MILAN, Italy (AP)—A Soviet woman sputnik scientist said Saturday the United States leads Russia in some phases of the space race, but the Soviet Union has a more efficient program.

Professor Cilla Massevitch, visiting Italy at the invitation of the Italian - Soviet Friendship Association, said in an interview that Russia's spectacular space strides were achieved by making the Soviet government master co-ordinator of all rocket research.

"We have a mastermind ordering a certain course of researches," she said, "and the whole nation follows it, with discipline. This is what leads to great results."

In contrast, she said, scientific research in the U.S. is carried out by both private enterprise and various government organs which often duplicate efforts in the same direction.

"Our results are certainly due to our organization," Mme. Massevitch said.

The 39-year-old scientist, who is in charge of observing Soviet Sputniks, disclosed the Russian Lunk satellite which took photographs of the far side of the moon and relayed them by television in October, 1959, was damaged on its return trip by a collision with a meteorite.

She said the Soviet space ship now heading toward a springtime rendezvous with Venus does not have cameras to take pictures of the planet.

"We want to know the exact distance between earth and Venus," she said, "and we hope to learn this from radio signals."

Mme. Massevitch would not say when the Russians hope to put a man into space.

"There are many dangers, mostly due to radiation," she said. "In addition, there is the danger of collision with meteorites."

Elliot Roosevelt Has Plans To Help Sheldon on Its Feet

SHELDON, Iowa (AP) —The town of Sheldon looked forward with relief to an end of the nightmare caused by Mrs. Burnice Geiger.

There was a promise that it will not lose its principal industry which foundered in the ruins of the Sheldon National Bank from which Mrs. Geiger embezzled $2,000,000.

While the 58-year-old former bookkeeper waited in jail at Sioux City to be taken to a federal prison to serve 15 years, there even was a revival of talk about opening a new bank.

Elliott Roosevelt, son of the late president Franklin D. Roosevelt, plans to move into town with his family to take up permanent residence as he helps Sheldon get back on its industrial and economic feet.

Roosevelt announced Friday he has obtained assurance from groups of financial backers in chicago and Minneapolis that they will put up $500,000 in new capital to reorganize Northern Biochemical Corporation under a new name and under strong management.

OPERATING OFFICER

Roosevelt, a fiscal adviser from Denver, Colo., has been chief operating officer of the chemical firm in the interim between the collapse of the bank about a month ago the present efforts to save the company.

Government officials say that nearly half of the huge sum Mrs. Geiger stole from the bank went to buy stock in Northern Chemical and to cash cheques that were not debited at the bank.

A federal grand jury at Sioux City, which for four days has been investigating past operations of the corporation, returned a secret indictment Friday, U.S. Attorney F. E. Van Alstine said.

Van Alstine said he could not disclose at this time who had been indicted. He emphasized that there were too many complexities involved.

He said other investigations still are being made by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Securities Exchange Commission and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

The SEC is involved, it was reported, in the stock financing of Northern Biochemical. The FDIC, in liquidating the defunct bank, became principal owner of the chemical company because of Mrs. Geiger's interest in it.

The company was the processing and marketing agent for a formula of enzymes used as additives for livestock and poultry feed.

MAY BE NEW ERA

Roosevelt said that there is a big potential market for the products. "It may well be that what began as the greatest tragedy ever to befall this community will lead to a new era of growth and prosperity," he said.

To a town of only a little more than 4,000 the 125 jobs that the chemical company furnished before the bank failure meant a lot. The firm had been struggling along with about 55 employees as of Friday.

An FDIC official had asked the company to go into bankruptcy. Roosevelt said only that the firm is about ready to fold up under its present structure but he expects the new company to rise within a couple of weeks.

Aunt Het

I wouldn't trick Pa, but it don't seem wrong to brag on a man, if that's the only way to get him to fix things around the house.

19 Delegates Attend WMS Kootenay Presbyterial

KIMBERLEY — Forty-seventh annual meeting of Kootenay Presbyterial of the Women's Missionary Society drew 19 delegates when St. Andrew's Church WMS was host here recently. Theme of the meet was "Take my yoke upon you and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart."

Synodical president Mrs. E. Fox and regional secretary Miss May Nutt, both of Vancouver, attended the meeting and the latter was a special speaker in describing the organization from basic local auxiliaries to the national general assembly. Mrs. Harold McClure of Kimberley, as presbyterial historian, summarized the history of the WMS of Knox Church, Cranbrook, since 1925, and the history of both Senior and Young Women's WMS of St. Andrew's Church.

Mrs. P. J. Miscow of Kimberley presented a WMS pin and a life membership to Mrs. Douglas Jarrett of St. Andrew's Evening group in acknowledgement of many years' work. Mrs. D. W. Dow of Cranbrook conducted the service of remembrance.

Mrs. Fox as synodical president was main speaker on mission work. Mrs. T. H. Clarricoats of Kimberley closed the morning session with prayer and Mrs. M. J. Schnell of Cranbrook the afternoon session. Presiding over the meeting was Mrs. R. M. Pollock of Creston. Ladies' Aid of St. Andrew's Church served lunch and supper to delegates, and at the evening service Rev. R. M. Pollock of Creston gave the missionary address.

Officers elected and installed for 1961 were: president, Mrs. Pollock of Creston; vice-president, Mrs. Jarrett of Kimberley; recording secretary, Mrs. Schnell of Cranbrook; corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. J. Sutherland, Cranbrook; treasurer, Mrs. R. Roebuck of Creston; secretaries, Mrs. Dow for senior groups; Mrs. P. R. Robinson of Creston, girls' groups; Mrs. Miskow, children's organizations with Miss Dora Hutchcroft of Cranbrook; Home Helpers, Mrs. Fred Messinger, Creston; welcome and welfare, Mrs. A. S. Waldie, Trail; literature and library, Mrs. J. Henderson; "glad tidings", Mrs. B. Mitchell; press, Mrs. N. J. Sherwood; supply, Mrs. D. F. Downie; life membership, Mrs. J. E. Carter, all of Trail, and historian, Mrs. McClure of Kimberley.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

Make Home At Boswell

BOSWELL — Mr. and Mrs. Ora Barker of Saskatoon, who recently bought the property if Mr. and Mrs. George Hill, have now come to reside here permanently.

They have spent the last several months in California, but hearing the winter was such a mild one, decided to return home where snow drops and pansies, were seen in bloom last week.

Valentine Dance At New Denver

NEW DENVER — The annual Valentine's Dance was held in the Bosun Hall Friday, February 10th sponsored by the Slocan Community Hospital Ladies' Auxiliary, New Denver.

The hall was tastefully decorated with Valentine favors by Mrs. W. P. Gilroy, Mrs. William Chornobay, Mrs. E. Baja and Mrs. J. Greenan. Music was supplied by Clark's Orchestra. Master of Ceremonies was J. McLean. Cashiers were W. G. Thring and Mrs. M. A. Wright. Winner of the door prize was Mrs. J. H. McDonough. Refreshments were served by Mrs. S. Pedley.

Large Crowd at Valentine Dance

BOSWELL — A successful Valentine Dance was held Saturday evening in the Memorial Hall, by the Square Dance Club. The young committee had decorated with a profusion of heart favors, in many colors. The young people served refreshments to a large crowd. Friends came from Creston, Sanca, Grey Creek, La France, Crawford Bay, Kootenay Bay, Riondel, Mrs. W. Miller and son of Creston, assisted by Boswell's Bill Thompson, supplied excellent music for dancing.

PTA Observes Founder's Day

FRUITVALE—Mrs. W. Veitch presided at the Founders' Day meeting of the Fruitvale PTA last week. A film was presented during the week on lung cancer under sponsorship of the PTA and a variety concert is planned during February.

A question period covering Founders' Day was held. E. Henry, principal, then spoke on mathematics in junior high. Mrs. Johnson, Miss McLaughlin, Mrs. Koftinoff, Mrs. Craig and Mrs. Gaylor explained the teaching methods from grades one to six.

Room count was won by Mrs. Yard.

Mr. McKenzie, school inspector, will discuss the Chant report at the next meeting in March.

Mother-Daughter Banquet Planned

SALMO—The regular monthly meeting of the Guide Auxiliary was held at the home of Mrs. P. Landy. A report of a successful annual Guide and Brownie enrolment was given and discussion was held concerning a mother-daughter banquet to be held in March, an annual affair. Lunch was served and booster prize was won by Brownie Leader Mrs. F. J. Kennedy.

Group Plans First Annual Ball

CASTLEGAR — Four new members were welcomed into the Castlegar and District Hospital Women's Auxiliary when their regular monthly meeting took place in the hospital auxiliary room last Monday. They were Mrs. J. Heggeman, Mrs. R. McCutcheon, Miss Helen Douglas and Mrs. W. Sweeney.

Their First Annual Ball, this year is to be held in May in the Improvement Society Hall, Kinnaird. Convenors will be Mrs. D. Brooks and Mrs. William Reed. Others serving on commitees for the affair are Mrs. W. Sweeney, Mrs. Guido, Mrs. D. Deverson and Mrs. D. Campbell.

A Home-Makers service within the Anxiliary was proposed in a letter received from Dr. J. H. Lindsay, district health official. Opposition to the scheme was expressed by the group at this time.

A seamstress is employed by the hospital, obviating the regular sewing sessions by the members at the hospital. Toys were supplied for the Children's Ward.

Upon adjournment of the meeting, refreshments were served by Mrs. A. M. Rizzuto and Mrs. M. Verzuh.

SURPRISE PARTY HELD FOR FUTURE NURSE

ROBSON — A surprise farewell party was held Friday evening at the home of Mrs. R. Oborne in honor of Miss Lorreen Webster, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Webster, prior to her departure for Vancouver, where she will enter Vancouver General hospital for nurses training. There were 24 guests at the party where all enjoyed games and contests. Winner for the evening was Wanda Havedale. Mrs. A. Smecher and Mrs. B. Macalister were in charge of games. On behalf of those present Mrs. W. T. Waldie presented Lorreen with a gift and the good wishes of all for a successful future. Mrs. Webster accompanied her daughter to Vancouver on Saturday morning. Refreshments were served by the hostesses Mrs. Oborne, Mrs. A. Smecher, Mrs. J. Scott and Mrs. W. T. Waldie.

Bride Showered

FRUITVALE — Miss Alice Haines entertained in her home last week in honor of Mrs. R. Rogers, the former Katherine Plummer, a December bride, with a surprise miscellaneous shower. On her arrival Miss Haines presented her with a pink rose corsage. Contest prize winners were Clara Lifely, Bernice Wilson, Jennifer Rogers and Beverley Black.

Gifts were presented to the bride on a pink and white decorated tea wagon. At refreshment time Mrs. Rogers cut the pink and white decorated cake topped with a miniature umbrella. There were 16 guests. The following day Mrs. Rogers left for Calgary to join her husband who is stationed there with the Canadian Army.

Norway Visitor Bade Farewell

HARROP — At the regular meeting of the Harrop and District Women's Institute Miss Tora Anderson was honored with gifts as a farewell before returning to Norway. She will leave by the Polar route shortly.

The welfare convener reported arragements for adopting a child at the Princess Margaret Children's Village.

Arts and crafts convener reported the hooked chair seats for the Tweedsmuir Competition were ready for shipment to Victoria.

Jams and jellies for Mount St. Francis have been sent.

Stamps are piling up for the therapy work at the Alexander Solarium.

A Valentine's Day entertainment, conducted by Miss Grant, was greatly enjoyed.

Valentine Card Party a Success

WYNNDEL — The Wynndel Women's Institute held a successful evening of bridge, whist and crib at the Memorial Hall Wednesday. The hall was decorated with Valentine motifs. Prize winners were as follows: bridge — High — Mrs. Ruth Brown and Mrs. Ivy Strand, wth Mr. and Mrs. L. Shulaida having consolation. In whist, Mrs. A. Dicken and Mrs. Joan Wigen won the high prize with Mr. Humphrey and Mr. F. Ingham having the low score. In crib, Mrs. J. Jennings and Mr. A. Margitan had the high score with Mrs. J. McGirr and Mr. T. Mountford taking the consolation prizes.

In the drawing for the prizes, W. Scott Sr. of Creston won a dressed chicken with Mrs. E. Craig winning a decorated cake. There were 21 tables of cards in play during the evening. Following the session of cards, the players adjourned to the dining room of the hall where a delicious lunch was served by Institute members assisted by their husbands.

Her Colleagues Say . . .

Immigration Minister Makes Great Success of a Tough Job

By JOHN E. BIRD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — Mrs. Ellen Fairclough is the only housewife in the federal cabinet but she seldom gets a chance to be one.

This vibrant 55-year-old native of Hamilton, Ont., turned in her apron in June, 1957, when she became the first woman ever appointed to the federal cabinet.

Many women envy members of their sex who successfully invade a world dominated by males. But any woman who thinks she'd like to step into the shoes of Canada's silver-haired immigration minister should be prepared to give up a lot of the amenities of family life and to put work—and lots of it—before pleasure and comforts.

Mrs. Fairclough's job is as tough as any of her male colleagues — perhaps tougher in many respects. Her decisions are not always popular and she often is subjected to vehement criticism.

A hard worker, Mrs. Fairclough directs Canada's immigration, citizenship and Indian policies and is responsible for a department with 5000 employees and officers in 22 countries.

LITTLE HOME LIFE

Most male members of the cabinet have their families in Ottawa. After a rough day at the office, they can relax at home.

But not Mrs. Fairclough. Her home, husband Gordon and her son Howard are in Hamilton where they operate a printing company.

Mrs. Fairclough lives in a hotel when she is in Ottawa. She usually manages to get home about every second weekend and Mr. Fairclough tries to come to Ottawa on other weekends.

But Mrs. Fairclough says she isn't lonely.

"I keep busy; there's no time to be lonely. I am usually at work by 9 a.m., and I'm lucky if I can get back to the hotel to see the 11 o'clock news.

"Unless I have an appointment I eat my lunch at my desk. When Parliament isn't sitting, I sometimes work at night at the office or take some work with me to the hotel.

"I like cooking and when I get home on weekends I usually prepare a big meal with all the trimmings. I like to cook everything but I have a special fondness for making pies."

A smart dresser, she likes the simple silk prints in soft shades.

HURRIED SHOPPER

"I don't have much time for shopping. I don't buy clothes by seasons. If I see something I think is attractive I buy it and wear it during the appropriate season."

Before she was appointed to the cabinet, Mrs. Fairclough made all her own evening clothes as well as special clothing. She now has them made.

"I haven't bought a ready-made evening dress in 25 years."

Most of her hats are designed and made by Mrs. Gladys Forsyth, operator of a shop in Hamilton.

She revels in quick repartee. Generally, she can handle a barrage of questions by opposition members and newspaper reporters without getting flustered, although she blushes readily.

Mrs. Fairclough says the post of immigration minister is tough because "you're dealing almost entirely with human beings."

"It is not the kind of a job in which you always can be objective. Every decision you make affects someone's life. Someone is going to disagree with you whatever decision you make.

"Frequently, you have to make a decision you'd rather not make but which you know must be made in the interests of all Canadians."

RESPECT FOR INDIANS

Mrs. Fairclough says that in a broad way her most satisfying experience since she became citizenship and immigration minister has been her contact with Canadian Indians.

"They are wonderful people and I have enjoyed my association with them very much."

In 1959 she travelled 10,000 miles in three weeks visiting Canadian Indian settlements, mostly in western Canada. The trip was a difficult one for a woman, much of it being by car through remote areas without the best conveniences.

Mrs. Fairclough always is in demand as a speaker and not especially to women's organizations. She travelled a total of 50,000 miles in 1959 on speaking and departmental business and chalked up more than 30,000 miles in 1960.

A fifth generation Canadian of United Empire Loyalist stock, she was first elected to parliament in a byelection in May, 1950, in Hamilton West. She was re-elected in 1953, 1957 and 1958.

Mrs. Fairclough entered the Commons with a good business training which has been invaluable to her, first as an opposition member and later as a cabinet minister.

STARTED OWN BUSINESS

She got a job when she graduated from Hamilton High School of Commerce at the age of 16. In 1953, she opened her own office as a certified public accountant, a business she operated until she was appointed to the cabinet in 1957, as secretary of state. She became immigration minister May 12, 1958.

As a member of the Progressive Conservative opposition, Mrs. Fairclough was official spokesman for her party on labor matters. An advocate of the rights of women, she saw one of her dreams come true at the 1953-57 Parliament enactment of legislation providing equal pay for equal work for women employed in industries subject to federal labor jurisdiction.

When she was named immigration minister, many old-timers in the department wondered how a woman would make out in this tough portfolio. It didn't take her long to show the skeptics that she could handle the job.

"Our Ellen's a real doll," one veteran employee of the department said. "She's handling this job fine."

The drama for loose styles for 1961 will come from stripes and checks. Colors were never brasher and it looks like it will be a pink year. No single part of the body is treated as a fashion focus with bias cut and diagonal moulding bringing new swing and cling to fashion.

Kinnaird Notes

KINNAIRD — Tulips and daffodils enhanced the sparkling appointments on a white lace covered main table for the Valentine Tea held Saturday in the Improvement Society Hall under auspices of the Anglican Church Women's Auxiliary.

The valentine motif was complemented by red tulips centering each smal table, being served by the Misses Joan Sheilds, Joan Reed, Beverlay Robinson, Wendy Reith, Marilyn Edmondson and Louise Fink under the supervision of Mrs. Jack Robinson and Mrs. A. Eldridge. Mrs. T. Green welcomed the guests.

Pouring tea were Mrs. A. Selby and Mrs. J. Crawford; Mrs. G. C. Bissel and Mrs. E. Walker. In charge of the attractive bake table were, Mrs. B. Crissall, Mrs. H. Bate, Mrs. C. McKenzie.

* * *

An evening for the ladies, one of several such events during the year was held when the Rotarians and their wives enjoyed a theatre party, Thursday. There followed a social evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Guido.

Don Phillips who has spent a month's vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Phillips, left Tuesday for Ottawa where he is boarding a plane for Miosie Air Force Base near Seven Isles, Quebec. He will train as a mobile equipment technician, having completed his basic training.

Patsy Rourke is vacationing from her nursing duties at Essondale, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benny Rourke.

An effective welcome to newcomers to Kinnaird was expressed recently when the St. John's Anglican W.A. held a friendly get-together. The twenty-eight guests of Mrs. Jack Robinson enjoyed an evening of Charades and other mixer games at which Mrs. McCullough and Mrs. E. Walker were prize winners. Refreshments served in a buffet arrangement capped a successful evening.

E. Ryan, formerly of Dawson Creek is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Condy. Mr. Ryan is a former army companion of Mr. Condy's and the two men had not seen each other since England in 1945. During the war, Mr. Ryan had performed a rescue of the injured while under fire in Italy, assisting Mr. Condy away from the front lines. They were both members of the Royal Canadian Engineers.

Mr. Margaret McIntosh recently celebrated her 92nd birthday at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Donald A. McIntosh. She received many cards, letters and gifts and a few friends gathered in the evening to offer congratulations and to share her birthday cake.

Gray Creek

Eleven were present at the Women's Club monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Wayne Vickery. The president welcomed two new members Mrs. Ernie Crayford and Mrs. Gordon Reid. Material was distributed for the Bazaar when a turkey supper is to be arranged. Plans were made for a whist drive and sale of home cooking in March.

Gonzaga Beats Knights 23-10

Gonzaga University hockey team turned in a 23-10 victory over Nelson's Notre Dame College here Saturday night in one of the highest scoring playoff games in hockey history. Saturday's game left the final series at 2-1 in favor of Nelson.

Both teams were forced to use pick-up netminders. Gonzaga picked up a young goalie from Salmo and Nelson used their second string netminder who hadn't played hockey in more than three years.

Period scores were all in favor of Gonzaga who led 8-2 at the end of the first period and 17-4 at the end of the second session.

High scorer for Gonzaga was Len O'Byrne with six goals, followed by Albert Pasqualotto with five, Len Hutfy and Bob Davidson each with three, Ken Cabianca and Bill Harstad with two apiece and Bob Blewett and Dick Pelkie with singles.

For Notre Dame it was Gerry Schiavon with three goals, Bob Kinahan with two, and Al Roemer, Gregg Arduini, Tom Kemp, Rich Kranabetter and John Misurelli with one apiece.

Gonzaga received 13 penalties and Notre Dame four.

Nelson will be playing in Spokane next Sunday for the next game in the playoff series.

Nelson Hosts Trail In Hockey Playoffs

Nelson will host Trail juvenile hockey team here Saturday for the West Kootenay Juvenile Hockey championship in the first of a two-game total point playoff.

Nelson and Trail are the only two teams in the league after Rossland failed to come up with a team of its own. There will be no semi-final playoff.

The second game of final will be played in Trail the following Saturday's game. Winner of this final playoff will take on the East Kootenay and the Kootenay champion.

Rescheduled for March; Pair Wins Downhill

By MARVEN MOSS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MOUNT ORFORD, Que. (CP) — A steady drizzle followed by fog that swallowed up 2500-foot Mount Giroux Sunday set back the two slalom runs in the Canadian ski championships.

They were rescheduled as part of an event to be held March 11 - 12 in this eastern townships ski centre 80 miles east of Montreal.

Little Heli Summerauer, Austrian-born instructor from Ste. Agathe, Que., and Ottawa's 15-year-old Vicki Rutledge Saturday won the downhill races on the Three Creeks trail of Mount Orford, a 1 1-10-mile course with a 1,550-foot drop.

Thick fog produced by unseasonably warm temperatures obscured the top of the twisting downhill slope but visibility became progressively better on the way down and there were few falls.

Sunday the 3,000-foot trail on Mount Giroux was what one official described as a "slushy mess." From the base of the mountain, nothing of the trail could be seeen. It was immediately ruled unsafe.

One note was cheering. Canada's national ski team, now training in Europe, is expected back at the end of the month and likely will strengthen the entry for the slalom runs.

OLDEST AT 28

At 28, Summerauer was the oldest of the 51 racers who took to the trail Saturday, 10 of them women. He was entered under a new ruling of the Canadian Amateur Ski Association that allows instructors to compete with amateurs.

The five-foot-four 140-pounder said later in an interview that he had planned to pass up the race because of conditions and his unsatisfactory practice runs.

But he changed his mind when his friends started ribbing him.

"They called me chicken. So I thought I'd better go through with it."

Summerarer came to Canada five years ago. He plans to return to his native Austria soon and open a ski inn.

His winning time was 1:43.8. Another Instructor, Russell Legare of Mont Tremblant, Que., was runnerup with 1:44.1 followed by Renaud Argouin of Thetford Mines, Que., with 1:46.2.

Ottawa's Arnold Midgley, the 1960 unofficial combined winner at Camp Fortune, Que., was seventh. A notch ahead was Larry Nellis of Revelstoke, B.C. the only westerner entered.

Miss Rutledge, skiing since the age of five, turned in a 1:56.1 time. Fellow - Ottawan Marge Hanna was second with 2:02.5 and Louise Thibault of Victoriaville, Que., third in 2:19.2. Both girls are 20.

Rams, Warriors Battle Into Overtime Periods

CRANBROOK — East Kootenay Rams and Rossland Warriors battled into two overtime periods in a weekend doubleheader here. The clubs tied the Saturday contest 7-7 and the Warriors eked out a 6-5 victory over the Rams Sunday.

The Rams, unable to win a Sunday afternoon game here yet this season, had former Nelson netminder Gus "The Greek" Adams in goal. Adams misjudged a number of shots and his inactivity this year showed up in a number of ways when the Warrior club put on the pressure.

Rams' Andy Drobot, high-flying East Kootenay forward, showed fine form, racking up five goals and two assists for the two games. Other Rams goal scorers were Barry Craig, Bill Hryciuk with two goals, Kenny McTeer with three, Johnny Poweska.

Warrior marksmen were led by Laurie Bursaw who registered four goals for the weekend, followed by Lorne Reid with three, Ray Demore, Wiggy Davis, Butch Black and Norm Nadeau with singletons.

Playing coach Bud Andrews registered a pair.

Rossland was forced to neutralize a 3-1 first period deficit Saturday and a 6-4 score at the end of the second period to send the game into overtime for the 7-7 deadlock score. The Warriors slammed home two goals in the third period Saturday to tie up the game and then matched the Rams with a goal apiece in the 10-minute overtime period.

Adams stopped 34 shots, while Rossland Warrior netminder Gerry Zanussi gave a brilliant performance for Warriors, stopping 44 shots. Only seven penalties were handed out, four to Rossland.

Warriors started out Sunday on a little more even keel but still were forced to come from behind a 3-2 first period deficit and a 4-3 second period score. They scored the only goal in the third frame to tie up scoring.

The Warriors outscored Rams 2-1 in the overtime session.

Shots on goal for Adams in the Rams' cage were 30 and Zanussi for Rossland with 28. The same number of penalties were handed out Sunday as were earned Saturday—seven—with Rams getting four of them.

Adams fluffed on three long shots by Rossland marksmen, one of which was Reid's in the second period Sunday on an unassisted charge at the 17:31 mark. The shot whistled at Adam's gloved hand, his best side, and the dark-complexioned netminder misjudged the shot.

Beattie's goal in the first period Sunday had the earmarks of the old Maurice "the rocket" Richard style. Beattie swept in on Zanussi and drilled one over the prostrate form of the desperate netminder. Both players collided and tumbled into the corner of the rink. Beattie's goal was also unassisted.

Zanussi replaced Don Holmes, who was injured during the latest battle with Nelson Leafs here Wednesday. He will be back in the crease for the playoff games.

Adams, who has not played with any club this year, except for a few games at the beginning of the season, was far from satisfied with his performance over the weekend and plans to set himself a rigid training schedule in an effort to get into shape for the playoffs. Adams signed up with the Rams and will be in the cage for the remainder of the season.

Steve Nelligan, who was just beginning to get into his own in the Rams' lines, has been sidelined for the season with a dislocated shoulder.

Towering, turbulent, tenacious Gordon Andre has sworn vengeance on Nelson badman, Ted "The Terrible" Leboda. Andre and Leboda, who used to be teammates with the now defunct Kimberley Dynamiters, and who used to be the scourge of the league, are expected to square off, if and when the Rams meet the Leafs for the finals next month.

"Leboda has been getting away with a heck of a lot this year," Andre remarked, following the Sunday game. "And I think it's time he was trimmed down a little."

Rossland Warriors and Rams will be meeting for a two-game total point semi-final playoff in Cranbrook next weekend. The winner will meet the Leafs who are currently in top spot in the league, in a three-out-of-five final playoff.

Smokies Beat Kladno 5-3

PRAGUE (AP) — The Trail Smoke Eaters, Canada's entry in the world hockey championships this year, beat the Czechoslovak national team 5-3 at Kladno Sunday night.

In Prague Saturday, the Canadians defeated the same team 7-6 after coming from behind a 5-2 deficit.

Smoke Eaters took a 2-0 first period lead in Sunday's goals in the second period and game, then matched single doubles in the third, the Czech news agency Ceteka reported.

Right - winger Jackie McLeod scored both of Trail's first-period goals, getting one at the 13-minute mark and the other a minute before the period ended.

The Czechs scored early in the middle period but this was matched by left-winger Walt Peacosh on a pass from Gerry Penner in the 18th minute.

Canada's 3-1 lead going into the third period was whittled to 3-2 after eight minutes but Cal Hockley made it 4-2 for Trail just three minutes later.

Again the Czechs cut the Smoke Eater's lead to one goal, however Hal Jones took a pass from defenceman Don Fletcher for Trail's insurance goal two minutes before the game ended.

Habs, Leafs Battle Down to Wire

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Montreal Canadiens and Toronto Maple Leafs are battling down to the wire to see who gets the winning spot in the National Hockey League.

Leafs downed Chicago Black Hawks 5-2 Saturday night in Toronto, while in Montreal the Habs were handing a 7-4 whipping to New York Rangers. The win kept Leafs two points ahead of Canadiens.

In other Saturday action Detroit downed the visiting Boston Bruins 5-1.

Maple Leafs spotted Chicago two first period goals and then roared back to beat Hawks in a hard-hitting game.

A crowd of 14,060 watched Leafs explode for three goals in the second period and two more in the third to break Chicago's unbeaten streak at six games.

It was the first NHL victory for rookie goaltender Gerry McNamara, playing his second game replacing the injured Johnny Bower—out with a leg injury.

Toronto goals were scored by Frank Mahovlich, Dave Keon, Billy Harris, Bob Nevin and defenceman Carl Brewer. Mahovlich's goal was the 44th of the season for the big leftwinger, leaving him only six short of equalling the one-season record of 50 set by Maurice Richard of Montreal in 1944-45.

Chicago scorers were Ken Wharram and Tod Sloan.

Hawks started by scoring two goals early in the first period.

Wharram made it 1-0 at 1:08, and Sloan, 33-year-old centre, put Chicago ahead 2-0 at 15:04.

Leafs came to life in the second period, scoring three times and outplaying Chicago in every department.

BOOM BOOM GETS THREE

Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion, leading point-getter in the league, scored three goals to lead Canadiens to the 7-4 victory over New York.

Geoffrion's three goals increased his point total for the season to 76, the highest in his 11-year NHL career.

His previous high was 75 in 1954-55 when he won the scoring championship.

Jean Beliveau scored two of Montreal's other goals and also had two assists. Single goals went to Ralph Backstrom and Dickie Moore.

Johnny Wilson, Camille Henry Red Sullivan and Earl Ingarfield scored for New York.

It was a fast, bruising game in which the Canadiens outshot the Rangers 47-34.

Tempers flared at various stages of the game and referee Frank Udvari handed out 14 minor penalties and a 10 - minute misconduct to ranger goalie Gump Worsley for arguing on Canadiens' third goal by Geoffrion. The misconduct was served by Ted Hampson.

Norm Ullman attained the 20-goal mark for the fourth straight season, won a wild, fist - swinging battle from Boston's Aut Ericksen, and led Detroit to a 5-1 triumph.

The usually mild - mannered Ullman scored his 20th goal early in the final period, and 10 seconds later got involved in a bruising duel with Erickson. Ullman landed half a dozen solid punches to the young defenceman's face before officials finally parted them. Erickson was so shaken up that the five-minute penalty he and Ullman drew for fighting was half over before Erickson made it to the penalty box.

Erickson's face was blood-smeared after the fight and two stitches were required to close a gash over his right eye. He took his regular turn on defence later in the period, however.

Red Wings, unbeaten in their last six matinee games, were in command all the way. Howie Glover put in a long shot from the blue line before the game was four minutes old and Leo Labine made it 2-0 with Boston shorthanded 10 minutes later.

Resurgent Montreal Canadiens pulled into a first - place tie with Toronto Maple Leafs in the National Hockey League Sunday night with a 4-2 triumph over Detroit Red Wings.

At the same time, Toronto was going down to a 4-2 defeat at the hands of New York Rangers. And Chicago Black Hawks wqueaked through with a 2-2 deadlock with Boston in a draggy, sloppy game.

Jean Beliveau's 26th goal broke a 2-2 tie at 9:40 of the second period after Detroit twice had come from behind and tied the score before a standing-room Oympia Stadium crowd of 14,296.

A Detroit goal that would have tied the score in the final period was disallowed by referee Frank Udvari because a Detroit player was in the Montreal crease.

Coach Sid Abel of the Wings yanked goalie Hank Bassen with less than a minute to play, giving Wings six attackers.

But Leo Labine's pass got through a maze of players near the blue line, skimmed all the way down the ice and into the open net. The goal was credited to Don Marshall, the last Montreal player to tuch the puck in the preceding faceoff.

Berni Geoffrion, who scored a goal nd an assist and suffered a 10-stitch gash on the left side of his face, kept his five-point scoring bulge over Toronto's Frank Mahovlich.

Each got a goal and an assist Sunday night giving Geoffrion 78 points and Mahovlich 73.

HOWE GETS 500TH

Detroit's Gordie Howe, scored his 500th goal and it was his goal that pulled Wings into a 2-2 tie early in the second period.

Billy Hicke put Canadiens in front just inside the six - minute mark of the opening period but Gerry Odrowski tied the score with his first NHL goal less than three minutes later.

Rangers scored twice in the first period though badly outplayed and added two more within a minute of the second period on a flashy offensive bust for their win.

Early Ingarfield and Pat Hannigan got the second - period goals that broke open the game — both on shots that didn't give Gerry McNamara, Toronto's goalie, any chance. McNara is subbing for Johnny Bower, who has a pulled muscle.

How do I save?

I'm a working girl, so saving isn't the easiest thing in the world. But I've found how to make it easier . . . I use the "Royal's" 2-Account Plan. I like the way it keeps my saving and my spending quite separate.

I use a Personal Chequing Account to pay bills. My Savings Account is strictly for saving. I'm really getting ahead, now I've stopped dipping into savings. They're building up, earn interest too . . . it works!

See New Activity for Gas, Oil

Traders sat in their counting horses, counting out their commissions . . .

Investors haven't had it so good in months.

And even speculators came out in dapper style last week in a Toronto stock market that saw industrials hitting their highest index point since August, 1959. Western oils came to life with gusto. Some stocks went up more than a dollar a session.

On index, industrials were up 6.10 at 546.25, base metals 3.59 at 172.47 and Western oils 4.19 at 95.12. Golds were off 1.25 at 85.51.

Oil and gas stocks were the feature among industrials, following what some brokers say is a better investment approach to the Canadian oil and gas market.

Says the Toronto brokerage house of Draper Dobie:

"We are at the beginning of unprecedented activity for the Canadian oil and gas industries."

Consumers' Gas and Union Gas did well in their field, while Dome Petroleum set Western oils a strong example with a gain of almost $2.

Gov't Lives in "Dream World"

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., (CP) The federal government is "living in a dream world" if it expects industry to get together voluntarily with labor and discuss economic problems, David Archer, president of the Ontario Federation of Labor, said Saturday.

Labor Minister Starr and Trade Minister Hees have said the government has done everything possible to solve unemployment problems and now it is up to industry and labor, Mr. Archer said in an address to the federation's annual education conference.

"If Mr. Starr or Mr. Hees thinks management is going to sit down voluntarily with labor to discuss productivity, wages, methods of production and so on, they must be living in a dream world. I would commend to Starr some of the Northern Ontario properties where union organizers can't even get past the armed guards to enter public property in order to talk to employees. Does he imagine these companies are suddenly going to have a change of heart and invite the unions to discuss with them the economic problem of Canada?"

Mr. Archer said the federation plans to compile a brief "covering those things which we feel the provincial government can do to create new jobs and to assist those people who now are on public welfare."

The federation hopes within the next year or so an "extensive, worthwhile" re - training program will be developed in most Ontario urban centres.

Kennedy States U.S. in Recession for Months

By JACK LEFLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Business attention centred last week on Washington, where medicine is being brewed for the ailing United States economy.

President Kennedy said flatly that "we have been in a recession for some months." These moves were taken to stimulate business:

The president said that within the next few weeks he will send to Congress a new tax incentive plan to spur business and industrial modernization.

The Pentagon announced it will begin awarding two to three months earlier than planned contracts worth $650,000,000 for such items as clothing and weapons.

The defence department investigated to learn whether it can advance construction schedules involving about $500,000,000 from next fiscal year.

The small business administration decided to give special consideration in defence contract awards to more firms in areas of high unemployment.

DISMAL STATISTICS

The steps were taken against a gloomy backdrop of statistics.

The government reported that in January the industrial output declined for the sixth consecutive month. Personal income dropped for the third month in a row.

Production of mines, factories and utilities fell one per cent to a level eight per cent below the previous record low. Personal income slumped $600,000,000 to an annual rate of $406,300,000,000, down from $409,700,000,000 in October.

Retail sales in January declined for the third month. The number of workers drawing unemployment compensation increased by 61,500 in the week ended Jan. 28 to 3,293,500, a record for the period.

The automobile industry, with many plants shut down for the week and 70,000 men layed off, hit its lowest production level of any non-holiday week of the 1961 model year. Output was estimated at 75,000 passenger cars, compared with 8,134 last week and 159,058 a year ago.

The steel picture brightened a little as plants produced 1,524,000 tons during the week, up 2.1 per cent from the previous week for the biggest weekly total since last October. The output reflected a rise in orders from users other than automakers.

The stock market racked up a good gain for the week, apparently anticipating that government moves will get the economy rolling.

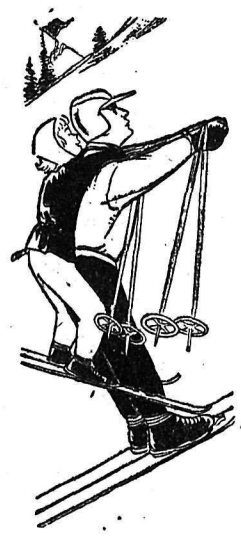
Enjoy Skiing with Anne Heggtveit

NO. 35

Today, with ski-tows on the peewee slopes, children are able to get in much more skiing. The result is that they learn to ski more quickly than they could without the uphill transportation. Care should be taken, however, to see that woollen mitts or sweaters are not worn. These can be snagged by the fibres of the tow-rope. Instruction should also be given on how to ride the rope safely. Keep a close watch on the child in the early stages so he will not develop habits that could result in an accident.



On such tows, the child is apt to tire in the arms and the rope could slip through the fingers. If he is still eager to ski, Dad can be very useful. When I was small, my father took me piggy-back on the rope-tows. I held onto his neck and he held onto the rope. Many people seemed afraid that my ski tips would catch in the snowbanks one sometimes finds along the tow-track. This never happened because, if the ski tip touched the snow, the forward motion flipped it away at once. I had my last piggy-back ride when I was 8 and Dad found I was getting too heavy.

Some parents prefer to let the child stand in front of them with the kiddie's skis in the centre, when using either a rope-tow or T-bar. This can work very well if reasonable care is taken.

In areas where there are no tows, the child's energy can be conserved by proper waxing with cross-country wax so the skis will not slip back when climbing. A certain amount of climbing is, of course, good exercise and, teaching a small child to herring-bone up a hill can be fun by telling him to waddle like Donald Duck. The weight should be transferred continuously from one ski to the other, holding with the opposite pole each time a ski is placed on the snow.
