RCMP Probe Packinghouse Fires for Arson Possibility

KELOWNA (CP)—RCMP and members of the British Columbia fire marshal's office are investigating the possibility of arson in two major packinghouse fires which have caused an estimated $1,300,000 damage here in less than a month.

Three fire departments, comprising 75 men, brought a fire that caused about $500,000 damage under control early Tuesday.

On March 14, four packinghouses were destroyed in an $800,000 blaze.

Firemen fought for four hours Monday night and early Tuesday in the poisonous fumes of cyanide gas.

A large Kelowna Growers Exchange packinghouse in a warehouse complex and an adjacent Occidental packinghouse cold storage plant were destroyed.

Reports indicated about 50 tons of highly-explosive fertilizer were stored in one of the buildings. No one was injured, police said, but persons were evacuated from a complex of warehouses in the area.

The four packinghouses destroyed earlier this month were also owned by KGE. Another building was badly damaged at that time.

Fire chief Charles Pettman said after Tuesday's fire that there is "no actual evidence of arson." But, he added, "It appeared to have got away too fast for a normal fire."

Mayor Dick Parkinson said he was sure an arsonist was responsible for the fire.

Macmillan Expresses Optimism

BRIDGETOWN, Barbados (Reuters) — Prime Minister Macmillan said Tuesday night he has received a message giving hope that Russia will regard Britain's peace proposal for Laos as a good basis for solving the crisis.

But, he told a press conference, he has not yet received a formal reply from Russia to the British proposal for a cease-fire and the re-establishment of the international control commission for Laos, scene of a Communist offensive.

Macmillan's optimistic comment was his first direct public reference to the Laotian crisis since he discussed it with President Kennedy last Saturday in Key West, Fla. He made no further comment when asked if the situation had improved in the last 24 hours.

Earlier Tuesday, Macmillan lunched with his predecessor in office, Sir Anthony Eden, now on vacation here.

BABY'S CRY SAVES 38

RANGOON, Burma (Reuters) A baby's cry in the jungle helped 38 passengers to escape from outlaws holding them hostage after an attack on an express train, it was reported here Tuesday.

At least 23 persons were killed and scores injured Sunday in the attack on the crowded Mandalay-Rangoon express.

According to an eyewitness, the 38 were asked by the outlaws if they were Burmese soldiers.

When no hostage answered the outlaws made ready to bayonet them.

A 14-months-old baby in the arms of his uncle at that moment wailed and his cry was heard by Burmese troops chasing the outlaws.

The troops fired shots in the air, and when the outlaws took cover all the hostages escaped.

Vicar Found Guilty of Immorality

LONDON (Reuters)—An Anglican ecclesiastical court convicted a 62-year-old vicar Tuesday of immoral conduct involving his curate assistant's wife, two teen-aged girls and a woman Sunday school teacher.

Dr. William Bryn Thomas, who had pleaded not guilty to all charges, was sentenced to be deprived of his "living" as vicar of the Church of the Ascension at Balham, South London.

A Church of England spokesman said this meant Thomas will receive no income from the church and cannot exercise any ecclesiastical function. Court chancellor Evelyn Moore, who heard the case, said the question of "unfrocking" Thomas will be considered later by his bishop, Dr. Mervyn Stockwood of Southwark.

Dr. Stockwood passed the sentence at the end of the eight-day consistory court trial.

52 Perish in Airliner Crash

NUERNBERG, West Germany (Reuters) — Firemen estimated that 52 persons were killed when a four-engined Czech airliner crashed near here Tuesday night.

Red Cross officials said there were no survivors, but it was not known how many passengers the plane carried.

All fire engines in the area, about 20 miles from this southern city, were put on alert after the plane, a Soviet-built Ilyushkin-18 turboprop which can carry up to 111 passengers, was reported down.

The airliner was flying from Prague to Zurich, Switzerland.

This was the second air disaster involving a Czech plane reported this year. An Ilyushin-14 crashed near Prague early in January, killing 10 persons.

An eyewitness said he heard the plane approaching and heard a bang. He rushed out of his house and saw the plane low and ablaze.

It crashed into a field and exploded, scattering wreckage about 300 yards.

Rescue operations went slowly because parts of the wreckage still were burning and there was danger of further explosions.

Teachers To Decide on Pro Status

VANCOUVER (CP) — Public school teachers in British Columbia will decide next week whether they will take the final steps towards professional status.

The decision will be made here at the annual B.C. Teachers' Federation conference.

There are 12,000 public school teachers in B.C.

A plan to police teachers' ranks to guarantee professional competence would establish categories for teachers according to experience and training.

Although teaching certificates are controlled by the department of education, the proposed plan would give the federation an opportunity to recommend or withhold its approval of any teacher who seeks employment.

About 1200 delegates will attend next week's convention.

Federal Loan to Aid Sewage Plan

OTTAWA (CP) — A federal loan of $177,596 to assist in construction of a sewage treatment project at Courtenay, B. C., Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation announced Tuesday.

The loan covers part of a total cost of $266,365 for the project.

Would Go Toward More Polaris Subs

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy asked Congress Tuesday to underwrite another $1,954,000,000 in defence insurance. Mostly this would be for 10 more missile-firing Polaris submarines, a bigger arsenal of long-range Minuteman rockets and a stronger capability to fight limited or guerrilla type wars.

If carried through, the Kennedy program could arm the U.S. by 1965 with perhaps 1200 nuclear-tipped missiles, able to reach targets in Russia.

Against a background of crisis in Laos, Kennedy sent Congress a special message boosting the final Eisenhower administration defence budget, as revised, to $43,794,300,000—the highest since the Second World War.

Additional spending next fiscal year would total $650,000,000 with the rest of the boost in contract authority to be paid for over a period of years.

While boosting some promising weapons and asking a slight increase of 13,000 in military manpower, Kennedy jolted the army by denying any funds to start production of the Nike-Zeus anti-missile missile. Like the Eisenhower administration, the Kennedy regime took the position the Zeus hasn't yet proved itself. Kennedy didn't even mention it in his message.

The Eisenhower budget for the next fiscal year starting July 1 called for obligating about $250,000,000 to complete the Zeus test program. Kennedy did not disturb this proposed development allotment.

BOMBER PLAN CUT

The president dealt a setback to the air force's proposed 2,000-mile-an-hour B - 70 bomber. He proposed cutting back the project by $138,000,000—to $220,000,000—because the B-70 would not become operational until the late 1960s. By then, Kennedy said, the United States expects to have a sturdy missile capability.

And the president proposed an end to the costly, but so far fruitless, effort to develop a military plane with an atomic engine. This would save $35,000,000 next year.

Kennedy noted that nearly 15 years and about $1,000,000,000 have been devoted to this effort, but "the possibility of achieving a militarily useful aircraft in the foreseeable future is still very remote." The whole project will be shifted to the Atomic Energy Commission as a non-defence research item.

In a separate message, Kennedy asked Congress for a $30,100,000 increase in Atomic Energy Commission funds for next year and a $125,670,000 increase in the civilian space budget.

The Polaris buildup, aimed at acquiring a fleet of 29 subs armed with 16 rockets each, accounted for the bulk of the Kennedy budget increases—$1,340,800,000. Only $270,000,000 would be spent next year. The president said that in the light of "the high degree of success attained to date," he strongly recommended the Polaris program be "greatly expanded and accelerated."

In the limited and guerrilla warfare realm, Kennedy called for increases totalling $847,200,000.

A proposed addition of 5,000 army troops would be used to double the army's 1,800 - man special force, units intensively trained in anti-guerrilla operations, and to add another battle group of about 1,800. One such battle group now is on Okinawa, within call if needed in Laos.

Parliament Tuesday

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Trade Minister Hees said the government is insisting that Britain fulfill a 1957 commitment to buy 12,000 tons of Canadian uranium in 1963-66 but "there might be a possibility of some alteration in the price."

Paul Hellyer (L-Toronto Trinity) said the government is subsidizing the chartered banks and perhaps "lining the pockets of its friends" by advertising the banks' home improvement loans.

Erhart Regier (CCF—Burnaby-Coquitlam) suggested that officers of Canadian companies found guilty of price-fixing be given automatic jail terms.

Senator Thomas Crerar (L—Manitoba) warned the government that its accelerating spending plans are leading Canada into "a very serious state of affairs."

CNR 1960 Loss Worst in History

OTTAWA (CP) — The CNR said Tuesday its $67,496,777 deficit last year shows how vulnerable it is to a slow-down in the economy.

The 1960 loss was the biggest of the CNR's 37-year history—almost $24,000,000 higher than the deficit of 1959 and some $6,000,000 higher htan record deficits of the depression years of 1931-32.

Russia Denies Space Deaths

By ROBERT ELPHICK

MOSCOW (Reuters) — The vice - president of the Soviet Academy of Sciences Tuesday denied American reports that seven Russian astronauts have died in space shots.

Alexander Topchiev ripped into the reports at an unprecedented press conference on the Soviet Union's drive to put the first man into space.

Correspondents also received possibly significant news in the field of space biology — that there had been highly refined but apparently harmless changes in the nuclear structure of cells of the living organisms sent up in Soviet space ships.

A Moscow television reporter raised the question of the reported astronaut deaths. He asked Topchiev about reports on the failures appearing in an American magazine (Parade) and Topchiev replied:

"This is an utter fabrication. Utter fabrications of this sort unfortunately have appeared. They are entirely and absolutely unfounded."

TOO MODEST TO SAY

Asked why Russia never announced its space experiments in advance, he said, "Sensationalism is alien to us. Modesty prompts us to announce the launching only when it has taken place."

Topchiev maintained it was contrary to Soviet thinking to conceal failures.

The press conference was held at the academy building with Russia's canine space travellers cavorting for the cameramen.

The dogs included Little Star, back from space Saturday; Blackie, veteran of a similar trip earlier this month; and Strelka and Belka, who went up in the first successful space ship last August. Strelka's six new puppies also were on view.

Topchiev said the first Russian astronaut would go into space when his safety could be guaranteed. A panel of scientists repeated several times that this was "not far off" but said more experiments lay ahead before that.

RADIATION DANGERS

The scientists referred to radiation dangers, saying work was continuing on perfecting protective apparatus.

They then mentioned the cell changes, saying observation of the living things returned to earth revealed that space travel had both a stimulating and inhibiting effect on the vitality of various biological specimens.

They spoke of the highly-refined changes in the nuclear structure of cells, adding these did not have an adverse effect on the health or functions of the specimens and could not be termed malignant.

The press conference, lasting more than two hours, also was told that the Russian Venus probe launched Feb. 12 was expected to pass the planet at a distance of about 100,000 kilometres (about 62,000 miles).

Canada Rejects Russian Charge

Says NATO Ties Have No Bearing On Canadian Troops in Congo

By JOSEPH MacSWEEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

UNITED NATIONS (CP)—Canada Tuesday rejected a Soviet contention that its troops have no business in the United Nations Congo force because it is a member of NATO.

Senator F. M. Blois, Canadian delegate to the 15th General Assembly's 99-member budgetary committee, attacked the Russian position in a speech on the UN Congo's tangled financial affairs — a problem that has catapulted the world body into its worst money crisis.

On the purely financial question, 19 Latin - American countries let it be known Tuesday they favor only "symbolic" payments to the UN Congo budget for which UN Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold has asked $135,000,000. An advisory committee has estimated this could be reduced to $120,000,000.

Most of the speech by Blois dealt with financial matters but he referred to "one small error" made last Friday by Russian delegate A. A. Roschin, who said Hammarskjold erred in sending troops of Canada, a NATO country, to The Congo.

"I am sure he would not wish to mislead the committee consciously," Blois said noting that Canada has spent only non-combat communications personnel totalling about 250 in a force of 18,000.

"I am sure he was not suggesting that Canada had any ambitions in The Congo, for that would be too absurd. Furthermore Canada's membership in a defensive organization created for reasons he must well know, can have no bearing on Canada's assuming duties requested of it by the United Nations."

REFUSES TO PAY

The Soviet bloc, demanding withdrawal of The Congo force, refuses to pay anything for its support and has called for the dismissal of Hammarskjold as a tool of imperialists guilty of responsibility in the slaying of deposed Congolese premier Patrice Lumumba.

"My delegation finds intolerable the malicious and totally unfounded statement alleging the secretary-general's complicity in murder," Blois declared.

The Canadian deplored that Hammarskjold has been forced to resort to borrowing to support the Congo operation and stressed "my delegation cannot put strongly enough its belief in the seriousness of the current financial crisis."

He said Canada regards as "indivisible" the normal functions of the UN and its peacekeeping operations — the Congo force and the UN Emergency Force which has been standing between Israel and its Arab neighbors since 1956. Numerous countries are in arrears on all counts.

Canada May Cut Uranium Price For Britain

OTTAWA (CP) — The Canadian government is insisting that Britain fulfill its 1957 commitment to buy 12,000 tons of Canadian uranium in 1963-66, Trade Minister Hees told the Commons Tuesday.

At the same time, he said Canada might be amenable to Britain paying a price lower than the $8 a pound—a total of $192,000,000—originally agreed on through exchange of letters of intent.

Need Seen for More Family Physicians

VANCOUVER (CP) — The family doctor in Canada is making a comeback whereas there is a crying need for general practitioners in the United States.

These are the opinions of the past-president of the College of General Practice of Canada and the president of the American Academy of General Practice.

Dr. J. Howard Black said in an interview the general practitioner is emerging from the shadow of more impressively titled and higher paid medical specialists.

This was largely due to the efforts of the college, a seven-year-old organization which now numbers in its ranks 2,100 of Canada's 8,500 general practitioners.

The college's chief function is to facilitate the continuing post-graduate education of family doctors. It's four-day scientific assembly, currently in progress here, is part of its educational program.

Dr. J. G. Walsh, president of the college's U.S. counterpart, told delegates Tuesday both the public and organized medicine have become alarmed about the diminishing number of general practitioners in recent years.

He said medical education should put more stress on general practice and the most ambitious and intelligent students should be encouraged to enter this challenging field.

General practitioners shouldn't compete with specialists but they should maintain the same degree of competence the specialists have.

"Great advances in medical science mean little," he said, "unless the family doctor can deliver at the bedside."

CANADIAN WRITER FREED

HAVANA (Reuters) — Patrick William Garrard, a 24-year-old Canadian free-lance writer, was released Monday night by Cuban military intelligence after being detained since March 22. He was arrested at Havana airport when about to board a plane for Miami.

A Canadian embassy spokesman said Garrard, from Vancouver, is expected to leave Cuba today if a plane reservation can be obtained.

"There was never at any time a formal charge offered" against Garrard, the spokesman said.

Before his detention, Garrard had been in Cuba for about three months writing features.

Mr. Garrard was released Monday night after five-days' detention. He said in a telephone call to Vancouver Monday night he was imprisoned because Cuban authorities thought he was an American spy.

SEATO Prepared To Act If Necessary

CP From AP-Reuters

BANGKOK, Thailand — The SEATO council of foreign ministers declared today that if peace negotiations for Laos fail, the eight-nation alliance is prepared to take "whatever action may be appropriate in the circumstances."

Ending their seventh annual conference, the policy-makers of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization unanimously adopted a resolution stipulating that SEATO action would be conditioned on a continued Communist military attempt to obtain control of the strategic Indo-Chinese kingdom.

The resolution appeared to be a compromise implying—but not promising—SEATO military intervention in the jungle war in Laos if the Soviet Union does not accept Britain's proposal for a cease-fire and stop aid to the pro-Communist rebels fighting against the pro-Western government of Prince Boun Oum.

U.S. secretary of state Dean Rusk had urged the council to adopt a tough resolution committing SEATO to fight if necessary to prevent a communist takeover in Laos. But France objected, claiming that so firm a stand might halt what appeared to be a Soviet trend toward peace negotiations.

An Australian official said the statement was watered down in deference to the strong French views, but a U.S. spokesman said, "We consider it a strong resolution."

It was understood the foreign ministers were in favor of SEATO military intervention in Laos if a political settlement could not be reached.

Chamber of Commerce Asks Bigger Grant for City Promotion

Chamber of Commerce delegation received strong, sympathetic support but no definite decision from city council Monday night on its request for a city grant.

It is believed that the Chamber is asking that if the city will not increase its grant, then it might at least retain it at the 1960 figure of $3500.

Chamber president J. H. Coventry spoke for the group of 11 men. He said that with the assessment increase of 50 per cent, recently approved by the group, Nelson's fees are now above the $4000 average for the province.

He added that the Okanagan Valley centres of Penticton and Vernon donate generously to their Chambers, Penticton $5000 and Vernon $3500 in 1960, and are asking Vernon city fathers for $5900 in 1961.

"There is no taxpayer in the city who does not benefit directly from the taxpayers' dollars," Mr. Coventry said, adding that a Vernon survey showed that merchantile, gasoline, food and shelter each got about 50 per cent of the $1 million tourist trade.

The local Chamber office handled last year between 9000 to 10,000 visitors and sent out 30,000 pamphlets.

INTEREST TREBLED

"The interest this year is treble what it has been in other years," said Mr. Coventry, in speaking of the pamphlets.

"I do know of the good work they have done and a great deal of work which they do not get credit for," said Ald. Edith Van Maarion. "Their work as far as promoting tourism speaks for itself. We get a lot back from the dollar we put into the Chamber of Commerce."

On delegate George Hoover's remark that the S. S. Nelson steamboat float would have to be overhauled thoroughly or completely replaced in the near future Ald. Van Maarion said, "It is time we had a new one."

As a suggestion she said, "We could have a float made to advertise Nelson as an education centre as well as tourist centre."

"You know, you should have been one of the delegation, not on council," joked acting mayor J. W. McClelland.

Mr. Hoover stated that it is planned to ship the S.S. Nelson float to the Calgary Sports Show as well as the Spokane Sports Show.

He also said Chamber members would be waiting at the ferry dock to greet competitors in the cross-Canada sports car rally who will pass through here this summer.

"It's good business for Nelson," Ald. W. K. Massey summed up his feelings.

"I am fully in sympathy with the Chamber of Commerce," said Ald. J. S. M. Harts, "I cannot see how we can make a quick decision with all the decisions facing us."

The grant was referred to the finance committee with power to act.

Hospital Sale Conditions Set Tentatively by City

Tentative conditions for the sale of the old hospital site and buildings to Notre Dame College were among the recommendations passed by city council following a committee-of-the-whole meeting Monday night.

Only one to oppose the hospital sale conditions recommendations was Ald. W. K. Massey. His negative vote was recorded.

He opposed the conditions because he wanted Notre Dame College to own the buildings outright for its $60,000 purchase.

"I do not approve of holding a lease on the east wing of the main floor," he said later. "We should make a clean sale without any strings attached."

He was also against allowing Notre Dame to pay the principal over a five-year period interest-free in return for a $1-a-year rent of the east wing by the City, which in turn intends to sub-lease the premises. Favored occupant of the east wing appears to be Civil Defence, which has made overtures to Council on this matter in the past.

The tentative sale conditions are:

That $60,000 be paid, $12,000 in 1961 and four annual payments of $12,000 in the next four years on identical terms as city purchased from the Hospital Society in 1960.

That Notre Dame College has the right to pay in cash any amount at any time prior to the expiration of the agreement to purchase.

That a 10-year renewable lease be held by the city on the easterly wing of the main floor of the building known as the old hosptial building for municipal purposes.

That the City pay heat, light and water of portion of building leased by city. Heat cost to be determined by engineer satisfactory to both parties.

That provision be made for renovation by the city of the leased portion of the building.

That there be provision for re-purchase by the city of the old property.

A recommendation passed was that a motion settling a price of $300 for the deep freeze at the Nelson Hostel read $150.

Other recommendations dealt with future discussion of contract negotiations between the city and Firefighters Union.

Coffee Break Introduces New Jargon to Council

Conversation overheard at city council meeting Monday night:

"Pass the milk please!"
"Would you reach the sugar for Frank?"
"Have another cookie?"
"Anyone want the milk?"
"No thanks, no more for me."
"Reeve, you said it would be served at 11 (p.m.)."

A North American pastime, the coffee break, had come to Nelson city council. Amidst cookie crumbs and spoon stirring business went on as usual. Coffee was served at 9:26 p.m. and the two containers were emptied by council and guests in 20 minutes.

The bill was picked up by the taxpayers.

Well, that's the way the cookie crumbles!

Correct Money Management Essential to Happy Marriage

Correct management of money is essential to happy marriage, panelists agreed in the final of a series of lectures on "The Adventure of Marriage," Tuesday night. Topic was, "Financial Worries in Marriage."

Instead of the usual speaker, a panel of three persons and a moderator was used. After opening remarks by the panelists questions were invited from the audience at the Junor High School.

The panel consisted of W. M. Sanderman, district superintendent of the provincial social welfare branch; R. Blake Allan, lawyer; Robert Adderly, manager, Canadian Bank of Commerce. Moderator was Rev. Canon W. J. Silverwood.

All three agreed that correct management must be carried out whether a small or large income is involved. Living outside one's means is always bound to create stresses to the detriment of marriage, they said.

Mr. Adderly stated a budget, which he defined as planned spending, is important in the management of money. He said a budget if managed so as to be a tool instead of becoming a master can greatly lighten financial worries.

Various questions were raised from the floor concerning joint bank accounts, wills and manners pertaining to estates.

Following the panel discussion group discussions by members of the audience and a question period were held.

Injunction Suit Settlement Hearing Climax

The injunction suit against the city over the site of the city hall is slowly grinding to its end.

City council was informed by city solicitors, Garland, Gansner and Arlidge that the solicitor for the defendants, Ald. B. C. Affleck and George Turner, both of Nelson, M. E. Moran ofCastlegar, has served notice of motion applying for an order dismissing the action and requiring the city to pay plaintiffs' taxed costs.

In Cranbrook March 14, Mr. Justice Brown ruled in favor of Mr. Moran and his proposal to tax the costs under column four of the Supreme Court rules, the highest column, because of the special circumstances of the case.

The costs of both solicitors will be taxed before district registrar K. D. McRae, the correspondence said.

Because the city council requested that its own solicitor"s bill be taxed, the correspondence stated, in reviewing its file for the purpose of taxation, the firm learned that more time and work was devoted to the matter than figured in their estimate of November, 1960. Because of this, the city solicitor's bill will be higher than before.

Council Jottings

Correspondence was received from architect D. P. Fairbank requesting an audience with city council to learn its reasons for not allowing his firm to continue with renovation of city hall plans.

Council recently awarded city hall renovations plans to Trail architects Smith & McCulloch. At the time of awarding it, Ald. J. S. M. Harts stated that there were reasons for his favoring this decision but he did not wish to disclose them. Monday night, Ald. Harts said that he had received a letter, similar to the one that council received, from Mr. Fairbank. It was his opinion that the letter should be received and filed.

Ald. Edith Van Maarion was of a different opinion and moved that a letter be sent to Mr. Fairbank to advise that he may have an audience with mayor and council as a whole in committee. However, there was no seconder for the motion.

Ald. Harts motion that the letter be marked received and filed was seconded by Ald. F. A. Beresford. The motion was passed.

The Nelson Advisory Planning Committee budget of $4819 was approved. It was remarked that this was almost $2000 lower than in 1960 and that the Boundary Extension Committee's $3000 made up the bulk of the budget.

* * *

Correspondence from the Union of B.C. Municipalities regarding its committee meeting with a selected standing committee of municipal affairs in Victoria was received and a copy forwarded to the Town Planning Commission.

* * *

The annual reports and financial statements of the Kootenay Lake General Hospital for 1960 were received and filed.

Ald. Harts, to kill talk of the city's making a profit on the purchase and sale of the old hospital site and buildings, stated that it shows in the annual report that the buildings and site were sold to the city for $60,000. Notre Dame College has offered to purchase the site and buildings for an equal sum.

* * *

Correspondence fom the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities was tabled until Mayor T. S. Shorthouse is available to comment on it. The letter stated that this year's convention will be held in Halifax, May 30-June 2, and deadline for resolutions to be presented at the convention will be April 30.

* * *

A request by Miss Gladys Ewings of 423 Silica Street to have a cement retaining wall built on the border of her property bordering Ward Street was referred to the city engineer for report back to council. She stated that children, by using the earth bank as a slide, had ruined it.

* * *

An offer of $280 for purchase of a small lot bordering the Ukrainian Greek Catholic Church was received from Sacred Heart Parish. An offer for the land has also been received from R. Phillips of Phillips Motel.

In his letter Rev. R. Zuback stated that the parish needed the lot to protect its access road to the present site, the church, valued at $20,000.

* * *

Council was informed that the Rotary Club has referred council's suggestion that its project for 1961 be construction of a wading pool in Uphill Park to the club's project committee for consideration.

Rotary originally proposed to purchase a heating unit for Lakeside Park Pool if the city purchased one also, and have them installed before the swimming season opened. Council turned down this suggestion.

* * *

A letter of thanks was received from Major T. I. Powell of the Salvation Army regarding the city's proposed increase in its grant to the organization. The finance committee has yet to bring in a recommendation on this matter.

* * *

A letter of acknowledgment from the department of transport commsisioners regarding council's letter of protest of proposed abandonment by the Canadian Pacific Railway of Coquihalla subdivision was received and filed.

A copy of the letter sent by CPR to the commissioners was also received and filed.

Permission was granted to the application of the Nelson Credit Union of courtesy parking tickets, submitted for approval to the chief of police, for vehicles of delegates attending the provincial convention of Credit Unions here June 19-23.

About 150 delegates and 500 out-of-town persons are expected to take in the conference.

* * *

Correspondence from city solicitors advised that:

Council pay the D. P. Fairbank architect account of $3302.49 on plans for the old hospital building.

That they do not think the city can give permission for an easement for gasoline pumps on Stanley Street to Reuben Buerge Motors Ltd., because it would be on crown land. It advised Mr. Buerge possibly should consult his own solicitor in the matter.

That regarding the placing of cigarette vending machines on premises so that underage children trying to use the machine could be spotted, best be dealt with under the Tobacco Restraint Act, R.S.C. 1952, chapter 266.

Under the act the Justice may order the keeper of the premises to take such precautions to prevent its being used as are specified in the order or to remove the machine. Falure to comply with such order would be an offence punishable by a fine.

* * *

A petition signed by five hairdressers asked council to create a by-law governing working hours for their trade. They suggested that shops be closed all day Monday, open to 6 p.m. on Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday, Saturday and to 9 p.m. on Thursday; that for seven working days prior to Christmas shops be allowed to remain open to 9 p.m.

After much discussion regarding the petition and those hairdressers not on the petition, the matter was tabled, but council asked that the petition's spokesmen meet with it at their own convenience to discuss the matter.

* * *

Ald. Edith Van Marrion informed council that Fire Chief E. S. Owens believed that a good week this year for Arbor Week would be April 23-May 1. Cost of the clean up the city project cost the taxpayer slightly over $1,000.

Ald. K. W. Massey reasoned that many citizens keep their own premises quite clean without such a week and it might be possible to forego such a week this year. On the other hand Ald. Harts stated that many people look forward to this week to get rid of their rubbish.

It was felt that the matter did not require any immediate approval and was tabled.

* * *

Ald. F. A. Beresford moved that three 12-minute parking meters be placed on the three vacant parking spots in front of the city hall, which was previously a city bus stop. The motion was carried.

* * *

Council was notified that the annual provincial conference will be held in Oak Bay in September for three days. At the same time it was learned that Kootenay assessors will have a two-day practical field course, May 2-3, here.

Recreation Commission Meeting Well-Attended at Balfour

BALFOUR — Representatives from Procter, Ainsworth, Kaslo, Nelson, Oasis and Balfour attended the Recreation Commission Conference, Zone 2, held in the Balfuor Hall recently.

Opening remarks and welcome to delegates was given by the chairman, Lionel Stainton. Greetings from the Programmes Branch, Agenda for the day and the purpose of zone conferences were explained by R. J. McKeen of Nelson. Problems submitted by various commissions included the leadership of individual organizations, financial procedure rework shop, life guard duties and safety equipment, report-making, badminton supplies, square dancing and calling, athletic competitions, and exchanging equipment.

The question, "Where does family camping come under Recreation Commission promotion?" was answered by Mr. McKeen. Family camping is a most recreative and satisfying project, he said, and the possibility of over equipping a camping expedition should be watched.

The Community Census Study was considered a big help to the Commission in setting up their program.

During the coffee break, Mr. A. H. Green explained carpet bowling, and the rules. The Procter delegation had brought their set and members tried their hand at the game, with Mrs. Bert Fitchett making the first win.

Reference material may be obtained from Community Programmes Branch for life guard duties and safety equipment, said Mr. McKeen, when the meeting sumed. A spring Institute dealing with lifeguard duties and water safety will be held in Nelson May 21 and 22nd. Red Cross instruction at Trail June 7-13th. Swim Institutes are available on application.

CRAFTS EXHIBITED

Exhibits were examined at this time. Many fine examples of local handiwork were displayed on the stage, a model grain elevator, and train station, doll trunk and clothes, oil paintings, lathe turned lamps, petit-point jewelry, leatherwork, needle point, inlaid pictures and frames, coffee tables, lathed knick knacks and a musical knick knack shelf.

The supper banquet was catered for by the Balfour Women's Institue, after which J. A. Cochran of Kaslo was elected zone representative.

Mr. Fitchett introduced a resolution: "Whereas, small communities do not have the resources to purchase heavy equipment such as mats, trampolines, etc., and whereas the Dept. of Education in past years has made equipment available on loan basis, be it resolved that the Dept. of Educatjon be asked to provide heavy gymnasium to communities on a loan basis. This was unanimously approved.

The program was rounded off by the guest speaker. Gordon Wood, director of the B.C.R.A., of Genelle. Starting in a lighter vein by telling of the lost Indian "Rolling Stone" Mr. Wood proceeded in the more serious aspect of "What is Recreation," Everyone needs recreation for relaxation, he said. He stressed the need for leadership and participation in communities.

The meeting adjourned with several members going to see the model railroad set up of Jack and George Wellwod at their home, with Scott Heuston assisting with the signals.

FLIES TWINS TO LONDON

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (Reuters)—A British medical specialist, Professor Ian Aird, plans to fly to London Wednesday with baby Siamese twins he separated by surgery here Sunday night. One of the infants, born to a 42-year-old woman here early this month, is improving as a result of the surgery, but the other's chances of survival are fading. The twins were joined at the pelvis.

DENNIS PARSONS of Salmo is shown holding his West Kootenay Big Game Trophy for top mule deer (non-typical). His deer had seven points on one side and 12 points on the other, for a score of 215. He is second highest in B.C. as the record is 218 1/5, and he has received a certificate from the Boone and Crockett Club in New York stating that his trophy is entered in their records.

E. B. Gates New Chamber President

NAKUSP — Election of officers was held at the Nakusp Chamber of Commerce meeting, with E. B. Gates as new president.

Held at the Leland Hotel, the meeting also elected E. H. Dodge vice-president; and T. McKenzie, H. Wilson, F. Waldie, P. M. Hurry, Herb Miller and Dick Tenneberg to the executive.

The water resources committee remains as before. R. F. Cook, who has been secretary for the past three years has resigned but is carrying on as corresponding secretary for the committee.

Lumby chamber requested support for an alternate road from Lumby to Vernon.

A letter was received from Hon. P. A. Gaglardi. The minister said that emphasis continues on main roads, but he hopes to do some construction elsewhere, especially on the Monashee mine hill.

The chamber went on record as opposing the three cent gasoline tax increase.

It was learned that the chamber has spent $690 during the past two years on the High Arrow Dam fight.

Mr. Waterfield reported High Arrow progress, and reports of the energy board recently published. Mr. Cook reported that the matter has received widespread pulbicity in such papers as the Manchester Guardian, Time magazine, Christian Science Monitor, Ottawa Journal and Family Herald.

The annual meeting of the Associated Chambers of Eastern B.C. will be held in Nakusp April 28 and 29. A committee was appointed to arrange details.

The head of England's government first became known as prime minister in the 18th century.

Huge Crowd at Funeral Rites For Popular Grand Forks Man

GRAND FORKS — Funeral service was held for Elmer Henry Fritz, of Midway, one of the best known and popular young men of the district, who died accidentally at Fritz Sawmills, Ltd., at the age of 30.

More than 500 district residents attended the service held at Midway United Church, conducted by Rev. E. Godfrey White. A cortege of 140 cars accompanied the body to the cemetery, where a Masonic graveside service was held.

Born in Midway, Mr. Fritz was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fritz. He was educated in Midway and Grand Forks schools and for the greater part of his business life was associated with his father in Fritz Sawmills, Ltd.

He was killed instantly while working on a fork lift in the sawmill yards.

Mr. Fritz was prominent in Masonic work. At the time of his death he was Worshipful Master of King Edward Lodge No. 28, AF and AM, Greenwood and a members of Boundary Chapter No. 12, R.A.M. of Grand Forks a member of the Rossland Preceptory of Trail, and a member of Gizeh Temple of the Shrine Vancouver.

He was also an active curler participating in the majority of district bonspiels with considerable success. He was a member of the Greenwood and District Rod and Gun Club and also was an officer of the Credit Union.

He is survived by his wife, Daphne, two daughters, Susan and Cynthia; a sister, Mrs. Helen Scarborough of Nelson, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fritz of Midway.

Honorary pallbearers were Gordon McMynn, George Sherbinin, Louis DeLisle, Fred Schorn, Oscar Richter and Fred Mahoney.

Active pallbearers were Robert Jackson, Chas. Armstrong, W. Uphill, Jim McMynn, Charles Dunn and James Floyd.

Manly's Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Fire Regulations To Be Followed More Carefully

CASTLEGAR — Trades licences came under scrutiny by Fire Chief Ed Lewis at Monday night's Village of Castlegar Council meeting, after it was found the equipment in a local dry cleaning firm, recently established, fell far short of the requirements set down by the Fire Marshal's Act.

The responsibilities of one who obtains a trades licence, it was felt, were quite clear in the Fire Marshal's Act and they should be complied with before the granting of a licence. However, Chairman N. Oglow said that these responsibilities do not preclude anyone from obtaining a trades licence although it would be only courtesy to point them out to the appliant.

Although village funds are seriously depleted due to the water line and Winter works, council made the necessary provisions in the upkeep of equipment for the Fire Department to the sum of $550. Inventory figures of the financial report were adopted. Due to unforeseen circumstances, $2000 will be written off on the current accounts set up by the auditors.

Residents who fail to comply with the garbage bylaw as to tidiness etc., will receive letters of complaint. Improvements to the Bloomer Creek area may be delayed until fall, when an excavation and sewage bylaw can be handled at the same time.

Sam Dower, volunteer fireman who is retiring after 14 years of faithful service, will be presented with a farewell gift by the fire club. Mr. Oglow recommended a letter be sent to Mr. Dower in recognition of his contribution to the community over the years.

Head Kimberley Rotary Club

KIMBERLEY — Bruno Fabro has been named president of the Kimberley Rotary Club for 1961-62, other officers being H. Chalmers, vice-president; E. Whistlecroft, secretary and H. Keys, treasurer.

Installation will be in about two months time.

HOW YOUR LIVER BILE HELPS BREAK DOWN FATS

IN THE DIGESTIVE TRACT

Laboratory tests have now proved that liver bile emulsifies fats... actually breaks them down. It is an established fact that when liver bile is added to fatty solids, the fats are broken down and form a smooth, easy-flowing mix.

In your digestive tract, liver bile helps break down fats the same way. Many of the foods you eat reach the digestive tract as undigested fatty solids. Your golden liver bile helps break down these fats... for easier and more complete digestion.

Carter's Little Liver Pills' exclusive formula of vegetable ingredients relieves irregularity gently and effectively. At the same time, it actually improves the flow of liver bile needed to break down fats in your digestive tract.

So when you feel sluggish, headachy, nervous and need a laxative, take Carter's Little Liver Pills.

Remember, Carter's not only relieve irregularity, but actually improve the flow of liver bile. Get Carter's Little Liver Pills today!

Creston Site Planned for Handicapped Children's Home

WYNNDEL — Although a spirit of controversy sometimes prevailed, unanimity was achieved in important decisions at a meeting of the Board of Governors and representatives of branches of the Kootenay Society for Handicapped Children held at Creston recently, and constructive suggestions were made.

Progress was made toward establishment of a permanent home in Creston, a program suggested by Trail delegates including inquiries by Creston as to land requirements; by Trail for plans and specifications for a 50-bed home; by Kimberley and Cranbrook for planning a campaign towards a fund-raising drive; by Nelson for establishment of a comprehensive registry of all eligible children in the East and West Kootenay. Reports will be prepared for presentation in May.

The Creston site for a proposed home was approved by all delegates. Name for the the home will be the Dr. Endicott School.

Chairman of the meeting was B. R. Redisky of Kimberley and H. M. Keys of Kimberley was secretary. Mrs. V. Main of Cranbrook is treasurer.

The Nelson representatives presented a brief relative to the aims and objectives of the Society and raising the question of whether or not the branches should continue to operate as in the past or to insist on strict adherence to the constitution and bylaws. It was agreed that the Society should continue to operate as in the past or to insist on strict adherence to the constitution and bylaws. It was agreed that the Society should continue as a united body for better results from the most concentrated efforts of the entre branches.

Dr. John Newton of Cranbrook o fthe East Kootenay Health Unit provided a report on the 122 retarded children in the East Kootenay, with 19 in the A group, 21 in the AB, 72 in the B and 8 in the BC category. He stressed that there are 80 in the B-BC group which definitely require more help.

There are 11 district children in Woodlands with six awaiting entrance, he said, also 18 in schools for retarded children, 11 in day school and 24 under retardation.

Trail representatives presented a brief outlining problems in general of mentally retarded children in the Kootenays, prepared by Dr. G. D. Dorgelo.

The brief also included suggestion on furthering efforts to provide a home in the Kootenays, methods of finance and other information relating to establishment and operation of such a school.

All matters of policy will continue to be handled by the Board of Governors and local branches and chapters will deal with local problems but will submit correspondence to the Board.

A social period followed the meeting with Creston and district members serving refreshments.

Cranbrook Magician Enthralls Audience At Crawford Bay

CRAWFORD BAY — Before an appreciative audience, George Haddad of Cranbrook displayed his magician's powers.

The stage was decorated in gay eastern colors. Candles, gold-fish bowls, feather plumes and quaintly-shaped tables. All kinds of handkerchiefs, cards, rabbits, balls and wands were dexterously made to appear and disappear at Mr. Haddad's will. One minute there were gold-fish in the tumblers of water and then they were gone.

Mr. Haddad was particularly successful in his hypnotism. Half a dozen teen-agers sat on the platform and were put into a deep sleep and then taken for a vacation. Off came their shoes for wading, they went rowing, catching fish and proudly holding up their imaginary catch. They could get up and take a step only when told. Two boys walked through the audience calling 'Peanuts and Candy,' even receiving nickles and dimes though still fast asleep. Another boy went to his seat and called out "Shut Up' every time Mr. Haddad said 'Ladies and Gentlemen'.

Beverley Wills of Riondel was painlessly sawn in half. Carol Eddy was suspended in air. Handcuffs came on and off in an unexpected manner on Dick Wills and his two friends. Then strange things happened to 'Grandma's Umbrella'.

The evening was sponsored by the Women's Institute.

Gaglardi Writes Board re Fletcher Creek-Kaslo Road

KASLO — The Kaslo Board of Trade has received a letter from Highways Minister P. A. Gaglardi saying that his department is investigating condition of the Fletcher Creek-Kaslo section of road.

This letter and one from Randolph Harding, MLA, were read at the recent meeting in the village hall, attended by 12 members.

The letter from Mr. Harding thanked the group for their letter protesting the gas tax increase and urging the board to keep in constant touch with Department of Highways offices in New Denver, Nelson and Victoria to keep them on their toes concerning local roads.

Roads chairman Wilf Higgins suggested that the cabinet be asked to hold a sitting at Kaslo soon. The secretary will write to Premier Bennett and cabinet.

A goodwill tour of boards from the area is planned May 13, with the group making the loop from Nakusp north to Galena Bay, south through Trout Lake and Lardeau and back to Nelson via Kaslo.

Name of Pioneer Family Chosen for New School

CRANBROOK —Cranbrook district School Board selected "Laurie Elementary-Jr. High School" as official name for the new school it plans to start early in April for occupation in the fall term.

Splitting the $10 prize offered elementary school children for name proposals were Kenneth Delamont and Vera Olive, both Grade 6 students at Central.

The site, just east of city limits, was bought in 1930 by the late Robert James Laurie, with his brother John, one of the district's earliest settlers. The latter came to the Kootenays on railway construction in 1890, and the former in 1899. Mrs. Robert Laurie sold the site to the school board over a year ago.

Fourth generation Lauries now live in Cranbrook. Mr. and Mrs. Laurie had 10 children known as Laurie's baseball team and Annie, nine boys and one girl. Mrs. John Laurie was a city alderman in 1923, one of the first women to serve in this office in the province. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Laurie had no family. Mrs. Laurie now lives at the Dr. Green Memorial Home.

The Laurie School also has a principal, appointed at the March meeting of the school board. He is Malcolm D. McPhee, current principal of Tenth Avenue elementary school and at one time with the Castlegar School.

Twenty-one applications for plans and specifications for the new structure have been received and answered, with closing time for tenders 5 p.m. April 4, and James Wilson of the school planning department at Victoria will attend a board meeting that evening to examine tenders and if a suitable one is included the contract decision will be made that evening.

A New Field Suggested for Industry

The Kootenays are fortunate in having large industries located within their boundaries. Because of this, many of the areas have had handsome grants to provide such facilities as swimming pools, parks and arenas and have been aided in many other ways.

Cominco gives encouragement to the brightest sons of its employees by expensive scholarships.

All these are worthy things indeed and the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company deserves credit for them. They are, though unconsciously, tinged with self interest. It in no way detracts from their value that the amenities brighten the lives of their employees, and that the scholarships tend to increase the number of graduates in science and engineering and who will perhaps return to the great smelter on the Hill.

Away from the shadow of the Hill communities have no such angel as Trail. They struggle to build their own arenas and pools and send their children to university through their own efforts with some encouragement from outside and the small bursaries offered by such institutions as the Parent-Teacher Association.

But the winds of change are blowing. The Kootenays are growing in cohesion and its communities becoming closer together. Trail and Nelson, though 50 miles apart, are complementary to one another, for Trail is a city without parallel in British Columbia in its dependence on science and Nelson is struggling to develop itself as a cultural centre along with its service industry.

Both science and art are worthy things and they cannot be entirely divorced from one another. Which is first is a matter of argument, but one complements the other. Since this truth is becoming more obvious every day it means that our industrial firms, while by no means neglecting the sciences, are becoming patrons of the arts.

They are doing that in Eastern Canada, but in the West, in its restless desire to establish its industries have tended to neglect the arts.

Industry might, for example, consider our native artist, Mr. Alec Garner, whose work is rapidly becoming known farther afield. His paintings rank with the best of British Columbia artists.

Industry could do a tremendous public relations job for the Kootenays, for British Columbia, and itself, if it arranged to sponsor a tour of the work of Mr. Garner.

Interpreting the News

By DAVID ROWNTREE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

It's still not cricket, in some people's minds, to talk or try to do something about the internal affairs of a friendly country.

But events in London and at the United Nations recently show that the rule is being changed and that the old definition of "internal affairs" is becoming hazy.

When South Africa was subjected to determined criticism of apartheid and decided to withdraw from the Commonwealth, Prime Minister Menzies of Australia voiced a worry of traditionalists.

Apartheid, he said, "is as much a matter of domestic policy to South Africa as Australia's immigration policy is a matter for us," perhaps indicating that Menzies expects to be the target at next year's Commonwealth meeting for his country's dealings with Asiatics.

At the United Nations; the U. S. has been accused of opportunism by some of its allies.

Belgium complains that the U.S. is deserting its friends in NATO in debates over the former Belgian Congo. Portugal is incensed at American support for "interference in an integral part of a unitary nation"—meaning an inquiry into Angola's racial trouble. And the South Africans have been assailed for their "repugnant race policy."

The American position is that if its voice is to be listened to in Africa and Asia, as President Kennedy wants it to be, the U. S. must not only say it is against colonialism and apartheid but prove by its actions to be against them.

Britain is moving more slowly in these changing tides than some of her Commonwealth partners or the U. S. Prime Minister Macmillan wished to retain the club spirit that until recently was the group's strongest cement and at the UN Britain continues to hold to the doctrine of non-interference.

Even when a country decides to go with the tide, the change can be viewed suspiciously.

South African External Affairs Minister Eric Louw, for example, questioned Prime Minister Diefenbaker's sincerity in opposing apartheid. Louw said the Canadian "has been losing ground at home" and was pandering to anti-South African feeling.

And American officials are understandably edgy about the anomaly of assailing racial discrimination abroad while it exists at home.

But as Macmillan told the House of Commons in a succinct statement about "the wind of change" he first identified more than a year ago:

"Hardly any country, at some time in its history, even at the present time, can stand blameless. All kinds of discrimination—racial, political, religious and cultural—have been or are still being practised.

"But the fundamental difference between ours and the South African philosophy is that we are trying to escape from these inherited practices. We are trying with varying degrees of success, but always with a single purpose, to move away from this concept in any form."

Caucasian Chalk Circle Seen as Rare Treat

To the Editor:

Sir—The two letters in Saturday's paper complaining of the vulgarity of "The Caucasian Chalk Circle" prompt me to write in favor of this play.

The performance was a rare treat. The versatility of the players and the ingenious use of simple props showed the calibre of this group. The quality of the diction and the realism of the miming were superb.

The language contained some of the most beautiful and fluid passages that I have heard in a long time. There was quiet, subtle humor, there was boisterous humor, and there was, occasionally, ribald humor. There was gentle, learned philosophy, there was cruel satire, and there was good, earthy intuitive common sense.

Above all, there was honesty, compassion and humanity. There were also some blunt references to certain facts of life. I say "blunt" because there were no insinuations, no leering, no wallowing around in the dirt. These devices have become so commonplace in the average Hollywood production that they no longer excite comment.

If one is hypocrite enough one can pretend not to understand the insinuations, and therefore they give no offence. In dealing with the kind of bluntness offered by "The Caucasian Chalk Circle", hypocrisy offers no protection and one's only choice is to be shocked.

The idea, suggested by your second correspondent, that some effort should have been made to show that "in spite of the way the peasants of the Caucasus act, we in this country still hold marriage as sacred and have due respect for religion", strikes me as hilarious.

It is too bad that the playwright, a Berliner, in setting the scene of his play, the Caucasian region, missed the comic possibilities of this suggestion. For instance, the narrator could make his appearance after some particularly un-Canadian activity on the part of those brutish Caucasian peasants, shift his wad of snoose and drawl, "Meanwhile, back at Ainsworth Hot Springs," and show a happy scene of adolescents necking in a Model A.

Or the whole action could be punctuated by an angelic choir of girls in leotards, bubble-gum and mink stoles singing uplifting choruses about love and marriage and going to church and reminding us that this is the Canadian way of life.

If this play was not educational I don't know what is. I think the Canadian Players are to be congratulated on their taste, both in its choice and presentation, and I hope the Rotary Club will continue to provide us with such treats.

They Enjoyed Play

To the Editor:

Sir—In common with your two correspondents of Saturday's paper, I belong in the large community of non-intellectuals. Unlike them, I found the "Chalk Circle" to be a refreshingly moral and uplifting play. Both my wife and myself enjoyed it unreservedly and, to be brief, we agreed with the opinions expressed in Mr. Leiren's excellent review.

"Uncultured" need not fear that his objections are due to prudery; they are more broadly based on a complete lack of understanding, just as Mr. Mella's. They will, in any event, have no effect on the world's growing awareness that Brecht holds a very great place in the modern theatre and has given it a renewed vigor. But here at home in our narrow Selkirk valleys — ah, there's the rub, if you will pardon a theatrical expression. No doubt "Uncultured" could muster up quite a few to say, "Me, too," especially from the ranks of those who did not see the play.

That is what I am afraid of and that is why I am concerned to express my opinion and the opinions of a number of my friends who feel that it was a privilege to have been able to attend a brilliant presentation of the "Chalk Circle."

When the time comes to make whatever decisions or choice must be made with regard to future plays, let us remind ourselves that it is not necessary to import mediocrity or drab conventionality into any small community. And in a community which aspires to become a centre of education anti-intellectualism is not a virtue.

Pictorial Picture Recalls Pioneer Fun

To the Editor:

Sir—In your Pictorial just received, there is a picture of a locomotive which was used to load coke ovens at Michel, and is now on display in Fernie.

I was quite interested in this, as I was the engineer on this same locomotive from 1912 until 1916. I was the only English-speaking man on the job, and many stories I can tell of those days. The Spokane Flyer used to come through around midnight. We would toot to one another, and raced the length of the coke ovens. There were around 150 men working at the coke ovens, and things were booming.

Alta. Prepares To Present Bold Education Financing

By BRUCE EASSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

EDMONTON (CP) — Albert's Social Credit government, beset by spiralling education costs, is preparing to introduce a bold method of financing that already has been attacked by one critic as heralding "the dark ages of education."

Harvey Bliss, chairman of Calgary public school board, thus joined the Alberta Home and School Federation, some members of the Alberta Teachers Federation and many urban members of the Alberta School Trustees Association in expressing doubts about the plan.

Under it, the province will become the first in Canada to take over basic financial direction of its schools from the municipalities.

Education Minister A. O. Aalborg says the government intends to go ahead with the plan. All the required amendments are expected to be pushed through at the current session of the legislature.

The plan will be retroactive to Jan. 1, 1961.

WILL ALLOT FUNDS

Its most radical feature calls for the government to allot funds to all school boards for what Mr. Aalborg describes as "an adequate minimum standard of elementary and high school services."

A uniform school tax rate of 32 mills will be imposed on an equalized assessment throughout the province. Municipalities will collect the taxes but the education funds will be forwarded to the province. To the total amount collected, the government will add, in a lump-sum, its annual school appropriation.

The government estimates the 32-mile rate will provide $55,600,000 this year and to this amount it will add an appropriation of $49,000,000, resulting in a total fund of $104,600,000. It says this is within $1,400,000 of the total estimates for all school boards in the province.

From the special fund of $104,600,000, the basis of a "foundation program," the province would return to the 214 local school authorities a grant, based on a six - point cost formula, to cover essential services at current prices.

Alberta's approximately 44 separate school districts, including some Protestant ones in predominantly Roman Catholic areas, would not be covered unless they wished.

MILL RATES VARY

Alberta currently follows the practice of financing education used in other provinces. Grants are paid to public school boards, based on their operations of the previous year. To raise the difference between the grants and the estimated cost of current school operations, the municipalities impose a tax on their ratepayers. As a result the mill rate for education varies considerably from municipality to municipality, according to local school needs.

Mr. Aalborg has said the intention of the plan is to spread the cost of education more evenly, adding that it should "enhance educational opportunities for boys and girls in Alberta."

Some observers argue that if school estimates in an area go over the amount allotted by the province, the municipality will be forced to levy an extra tax, in addition to the 32-mills, to make up the difference.

Although a government source says local authorities will be free to spend the government grant in whatever way necessary, critics say the provision could mean curtailment of certain courses outside "adequate minimum standard" services.

A. D. G. Yates, president of the Alberta Teachers Federation, said the plan may weaken local autonomy and in turn lead to a weakening of local initiative and a slowing of educational progress.

Formula for the grants is made up of six factors: instruction, transportation (for students requiring it in rural areas), school plant operation and maintenance, instructional aids, debenture payments and school administration.

The schedule of instructional payments calls for $105 for each student and from $2,100 for each teacher with less than two years training to a high of $3,700 for each teacher with six or more years training. An allowance of about $300 a teacher will be made for instructional aids.

Your Individual Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Thursday, March 30, 1961

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) — Benefic influences linger since yesterday's good Mars' aspect. Besides, most other planets now are in excellent position. Should be a responsive, progressive, fruitful day all told.

Canadians Cut Machinery Purchases

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian importers cut down last year on purchases of machinery — this country's biggest import item.

Imports of non-farm machinery declined almost one per cent to $579,800,000 from $585,200,000 in 1959, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported Tuesday.

The inflow of foreign farm implements and machinery fell more sharply, down 16.5 per cent to $228,700,000 from $273,800,000.

The bureau's report gave a detailed breakdown of Canada's $5,492,300,000 import business last year—a trade which came within a fraction of the $5,508,900,000 of imports in 1959.

There was little change in imports from Canada's major suppliers.

Imports from the United States—67.2 per cent of the total—declined to $3,693,200,000 from $3,709,100,000. Purchases from the United Kingdom were virtually unchanged at $583,000,000 and the U.K. share of the import market remained at 10.7 per cent.

Imports from Venezuela—largely petroleum—declined to $195,200,000 from $204,600,000.

Uranium Sales Touchy Issue With Politicians

By DON HANRIGHT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—The semantics of international bargaining for uranium sales—a touchy issue among Canadian politicians—led to a row in the Commons Monday.

It was all about $192,000,000 worth of uranium that Canada hopes to sell to Britain in the 1963-66 period and the nice differences between a letter of intent, a commitment, a contract and a formal contract.

Core of the dispute was Prime Minister Diefenbaker's statement that there is no contract. All that exists, he said seven times, is a 1957 letter of intent from Britain to buy 12,000 tons of Canadian uranium at $8 a pound.

This was his answer to Opposition Leader Pearson's statement last week that the government had concealed the existence of a contract while it watched uranium mines in Canada close for lack of orders.

CONTRACT 'FIRM'

After Mr. Diefenbaker's statement, Mr. Pearson referred to March 2 and 3 testimony before the Commons research committee by W. M. Gilchrist, president of Crown-owned Eldorado Mining and Refining Limited, that the contract was "firm."

Mr. Pearson also cited these words from a March 6 Commons statement by Trade Minister Hees:

"The Canadian government through its Crown corporation, the Eldorado company, has a firm contract with the British atomic energy authority. I have received from the British authorities no indication that they do not intend to honor this contract."

Mr. Diefenbaker noted that Mr. Pearson, then external affairs minister, was a member of the Liberal government which conducted the initial negotiations on a 1963 - 66 contract in April, 1957. The letter of intent had been given by Britain and accepted by the Canadian government when the Liberals were in office, he said.

WINTERS QUOTED

The prime minister, arguing his case like the lawyer he is, quoted former Liberal works minister Robert Winters, now president of Rio Tinto Mines Limited, as saying March 24 that he was not aware of any "hidden" uranium contract. Mr. Diefenbaker added:

"I simply point out that after he (Mr. Winters) ceased to be a minister of the Crown he became, within a matter of a few days or a week, the head of this particular uranium firm (Rio Tinto).

"Within a few months thereafter, the late Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe (trade minister in the Liberal government) became a director of this company.

"Naturally, these facts arouse a question amongst minds as to whether or not there might have been some communication on a question such as this, where a letter of intent had actually passed."

Mr. Pearson made no reference to this.

ESTIMATES STUDIED

Otherwise the Commons concerned itself with studying the $178,205,741 in supplementary estimates for the current fiscal year, which ends Good Friday.

There were two significant announcements by Finance Minister Fleming:

1. The government is considering what steps to take following Hong Kong's unwillingness to voluntarily control its exports to Canada of certain textiles—exports that are undermining the effectiveness of Japan's voluntary restraints on exports of the same goods.

2. The federal and British Columbia governments have agreed on the need to start the Columbia River power and flood-control project as soon as possible, but some "further studies" are needed before Canada ratifies the international treaty already sanctioned by the United States.

Laos Peace Plan Not Yet Known

LONDON (Reuters) — Britain Tuesday officially expressed the belief that an editorial in the Soviet newspaper Pravda Monday did not indicate acceptance of a three-point British peace plan for Laos.

A foreign office spokesman emphasized the necessity of awaiting a formal Soviet reply to the British plan, submitted to Moscow last Thursday.

A reporter asked whether the editorial in the Soviet Communist party paper indicated acceptance of the British plan.

"I do not think it justifies that interpretation," he replied.

West Coast Fishing Values Up

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian landings of sea fish and shellfish climbed in February to 128,071,000 pounds from 77,184,000 in the corresponding month last year.

The catch on the west coast was up to 88,847,000 pounds of value of $1,016,000 from 30,071,000 pounds worth $637,000.

Battle of Peace Arch Fence Won by U.S. Congressman

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (CP)—A west coast U.S. congressman has won his two-month battle on behalf of "the plain, everyday folks" of the United States and Canada.

There won't be any fence to clutter up the unique Peace Arch Park connecting British Columbia and Washington State — at the western end of the 3000-mile international border.

Says Washington Republican Jack Westland: "The octopus of bureaucracy has been defeated."

Under pressure of an unrelenting attack by the 56-year-old politician, naval veteran and one-time U. S. amateur golf champion, the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads issued new instructions stopping the erection of a high fence on both sides of the American right of way inside the park right up to the 67-foot-high Peace Arch.

While Westland charged basic freedoms of American and Canadian park-lovers were being restricted, the bureau at first insisted all American public highways, built with federal funds, had to have proper fencing—inside a park or outside.

NO ONE EVER HURT

Millions of Canadians and Americans made pilgrimages to the Peace Arch in the last 40 years and no one has ever been injured, argued Westland.

What's more, while the United States proposed extending the fence from the American custom house at the park entrance to the arch—a distance of several hundred yards — British Columbia would leave the road on its side open.

If an American wanted to walk around the arch, he would have to walk up to the Canadian side—and around—to get back on the other side of American territory.

"The people of my district and the millions of people who have visited this historic site say 'Don't fence me in'," claimed Westland. The bureau was unmoved.

ACTION AT LAST

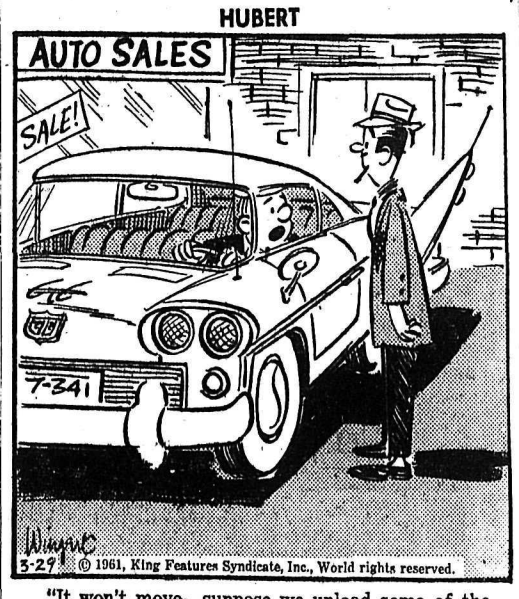
Westland carried his campaign from Congress to Commerce Secretary Luther Hodges. Things began moving.

The new roads commissioner, Rex Whitton, who didn't seem to know what the fuss was all about, finally got into the act and told his associates to send new instructions to the northwest regional office.

There won't be any fence inside the park, the office was told, but officials are to keep a sharp lookout. If any serious accidents occur, then new fencing instructions might be issued.

The Peace Arch, neighboring on Douglas, B.C., and Blaine, Wash., was built in 1921 to commemorate more than a century of peace between the two countries. On the inside walls of the portal are two iron gates and above them the inscription: "may these gates never be closed."

HUBERT



"It won't move—suppose we unload some of the extras."

Calgary Artist Wins Scholarship to Japan

CALGARY — A Japanese government two-year scholarship will take a 24-year-old Calgary zoologist to Japan this April to study art.

Iain Baxter of 1140 16th Ave., N.W., Calgary, came across announcements of the Japanese scholarship while working during his summer vacation in the art department of Calgary's Glenbow Foundation. He applied, even though only one scholarship was offered for all of Canada — and it was open to all fields of endeavor.

Baxter's interest in art was encouraged by professors who admired his zoology drawings at the University of Idaho. He was assigned to do 175 illustrations for a book by two professors "Wildlife of the Northern Rocky Mountains," to be issued this spring.

He has had one-man shows in Idaho, and also displayed his work at shows in London, Ont., Minneapolis and Spokane. Last year, he won the purchase award in the Calgary Allied Arts regional show.

Baxter is one of 30 Canadians whose paintings were chosen for North American exhibition by the Young Contemporaries of Canada contest, sponsored by the Public Library and Museum of London, Ontario.

Mission Work, Fund Raising WA Topics

ROBSON — Plans for furthering its mission work, and fund-raising projects were discussed at a meeting of the Women's Association to the Community Memorial Church held in the church hall, with president Mrs. Roy Brown presiding.

Mrs. E. Nickerson reported for the Mission Committee on requirements for the White Cross project, Baptist Church work in India. A work bee will be held at the home of Mrs. H. F. Hyson to roll bandages and make squares for the mission hospital and the Association will contribute toward a food parcel for a missionary family when required.

Two coffee parties were planned at the homes of Mrs. C. Thring and Mrs. Brown. A magazine exchange will ask a small charge, and a "market day" will be held in April, with a white elephant stall, bake table, wishing well and sidewalk tea table.

Mrs. P. Swift was program convener, speaking on "The Women With a Little Room" taken from the book "Stewardship in the Life of Women" by Helen Kingsbury Wallace.

Mrs. Hyson, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. A. W. Thorp and Mrs. D. Carter will look into estimates from three films for floor covering for the church hall.

The new visiting committee is Mrs. J. Evans and Mrs. Brown.

Hostesses were Mrs. Hyson and Mrs. Ballard.

Robson Institute To Have Busy Year Agriculturally

ROBSON — A new adoptee will be requested by the Robson Women's Institute since their present adoptee at the Solarium on Vancouver Island has been discharged.

This was one of the topics discussed at a recent meeting held at the home of Mrs. Courtnall, with Mrs. J. Scott, president, in the chair.

Agriculture committee chairman, Mrs. W. T. Waldie, reported that packets of seeds were available for members to plant in flats, in preparation for the spring plant sale. The children's garden contest will be held again this year, it was decided, and the WI will convene a flower section at the fall fair again.

Mrs. A. Smecher of the hospital committee reported that bed linens are low, and quoted prices of sheets and pillow cases and draw sheets. The committee will purchase linens.

Mrs. Smecher and Mrs. S. Grant were thanked for packing and shipping the WI layettes.

Mrs. W. T. Waldie was put in charge of the Red Cross canvass at Robson, to be assisted by Mrs. J. Fornelli, Mrs. V. Pattullo, Mrs. W. Hubert, Mrs. A. J. Byres and Mrs. J. Scott.

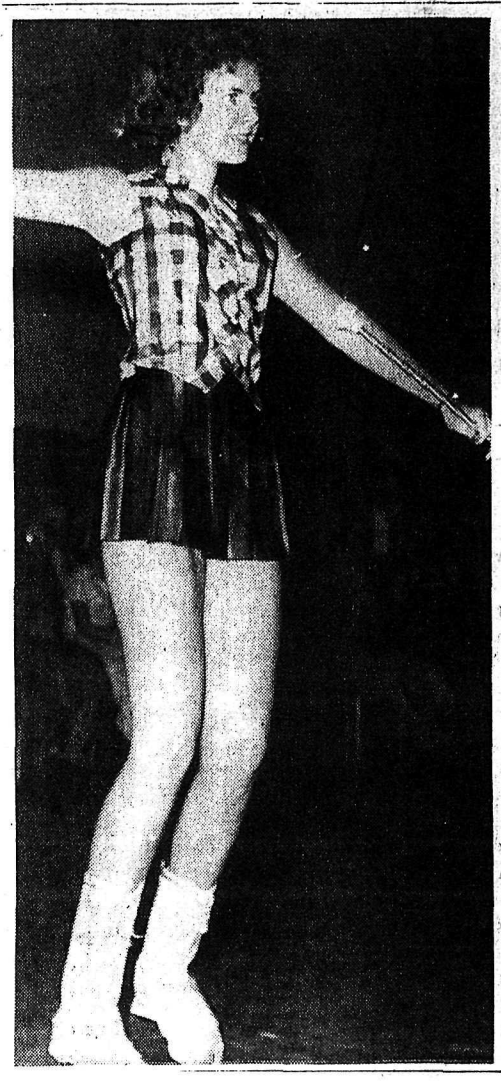
Mrs. Fornelli, Mrs. Jolly, Mrs. Byers and Mrs. Pattullo were in charge of the tea and kitchen at the St. Patrick's Day tea and bake sale with Mrs. E. H. McPhee and Mrs. Ballard in charge of the bake table. Mrs. Hubert was in charge of tickets and Mrs. Waldie, Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Fowler of decorating.

Debaters Vera Rilcoff, Dick Fowler, Chris McBain, Maxine Adshead and Donna Dewis entertained the Institute with their topic of "It is resolved that it is an advantage having buses for elementary school children" in a debate, which was won by the affirmative group. Principal H. F. Hyson accompanied the students to the meeting.

Tea hostesses were Mrs. C. S. Squires, Mrs. Courtnall and Miss R. McDiarmid.

TWO SENTENCED

KATMANDU, Nepal (Reuters) Mrs. Nona Koirala, sister-in-low of deposed premier B. P. Koirala, and Miss Mundan Sharma have been sentenced to two years in jail for demonstrating against the dismissal of the government by King Mahendra and the detention of Koirala and his cabinet, it was reported today. Five youths got one-year terms.



SCENES at the recent open house held by the Recreation Commission at the Civic Centre are shown above. Starry-eyed children and parents filled the hall for an evening's entertainment by the youngsters. Pops Singer, Magician . . .

Canadian Girls Entertain Troops in Troubled Congo

By PETER BUCKLEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LEOPOLDVILLE (CP)—Two Canadian girls have arrived in The Congo to bring United Nations troops in this tense republic their first "live" entertainment since the UN operation began last August.

For pops singer Mae Sagan of Montreal and magician Celeste Evans of White Rock, B.C., it was a bit like old home week.

Both have made tours in recent years entertaining troops in Korea, Japan, the Middle East and other countries. In Leopoldville, they exchanged laughing reminiscences with members of Canada's United Nations contingent about past tours and experiences in several parts of the world.

Both girls now live in New York and it was through the United Nations there that they got an invitation to visit The Congo as part of the first United Nations - sponsored entertainment troupe.

GIVEN WEEK'S NOTICE

Miss Sagan, a pixie-like brunette, recalled the circumstances as she and the vivacious Miss Evans relaxed with some of the Canadian officers:

"Celeste called me up and said the UN had just phoned her. 'We're going to The Congo,' she told me. 'We're supposed to leave in a week.'

"We couldn't quite make it in a week, but within 10 days we were on our way."

Miss Evans said the death of former Congolese premier Patrice Lumumba hit the headlines almost at the same time "and we couldn't imagine that they'd send us, but here we are."

Within two days after they arrived, they were given the first of what was scheduled to be almost a month of performances in more than a dozen Congolese centres. Accompanying them were accordionist Luigi Appareti and xylophonist Joe Rankin, both Americans.

A UN official said some of the scheduled trips might have to be cancelled because of local tension, "but so long as there's no danger for the entertainers we'll do our best to put the shows on."

READY AUDIENCES

An indication came soon after arrival of how welcome the entertainment was to the troops from a dozen nations serving with the UN here.

The troupe flew to Matadi, a Congo River port, some 175 miles south of here, and had to give two shows instead of one because hundreds more UN personnel in the area wanted to see them.

Miss Evans could not get over the modern look of parts of Leopoldville, one of Africa's most striking cities.

"I haven't taken any pictures here at all because no one would believe them," she said. "It reminds me of Jamaica or Havana.

"How do you tell people at home that the air conditioner broke down and boy did I suffer But that's Leopoldville. I'm amazed."

But they also saw a different side of Leopoldville. Because of sudden changes in schedules, no United Nations officials were at nearby N'Djili airport to meet them when they landed from Paris.

The customs officials at the airport promptly seized their musical instruments and prodded through all their bags.

UN GOT THEM BACK

"They were really suspicious of Joe Rankin's xylophone," said Miss Evans. "I guess they thought it was full of guns or something."

It took UN officials an hour and a half later in the day to argue the instruments out of Congolese custody.

Both Miss Evans and Miss Sagan are veteran entertainers.

Celeste Evans was born in the Fraser River community of White Rock and took up magic at the age of nine. She worked part time in the Vancouver area until 1954, when she moved to Eastern Canada for television and night - club appearances. Two years later she moved to New York and has spent much of her time working out of Manhattan or touring nearly 30 countries for troop shows or night-club performances.

Miss Sagan, who changed her name from Seguin to make pronunciation easier, was educated in Montreal convents and high schools.

She sang at first in school concerts, then graduated to radio work and dance orchestras and finally to a program of her own for private radio stations in Quebec in 1951.

She was an established Canadian television performer two years later and in 1955 moved to New York for television and night-club work in the Eastern United States. She is married to pianist-conductor Lee Norris, an American.

Both girls toured Korea and Japan in 1953 for the Canadian goverment and were together again in 1959 for a tour of the Gaza strip under UN auspices.

"After Gaza, my husband and I decided we'd go to Europe for about 10 days on the way home," Miss Sagan said. "We ended up getting a steady stream of offers and we worked all over Europe together for a whole year."

At present, they're adjusting quickly to life in a somewhat troubled country.

Miss Sagan said she's planning to have "M'sieur George," the Congolese who looks after her temporary apartment here, teach her that African song she's heard him singing.

"I might use it in my act," she added.

JERUSALEM (AP) — Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion announced today the remains of scores of Jewish soldiers and their families who died in an anti-Roman rebellion 1,800 years ago will be reburied with all Jewish religious rites. The skeletons were found in caves in which the Jewish rebels made their last stand after the destruction of Jerusalem.

THE ANGLICAN CHURCH'S only college for training professional women parish workers, located in Toronto, is raising $275,000 in the first major appeal in its 67-year history. The fund will be used to build the wing to the right. Increased demands for its mature graduates have forced the board to plan for extra teaching and residential accommodation. The Anglican Women's Training College has graduated 637 full-time church workers since opening its doors with one student in 1893. Formerly using teaching and library facilities of other colleges, ACWT must now provide complete educational as well as residential facilities for the first time.

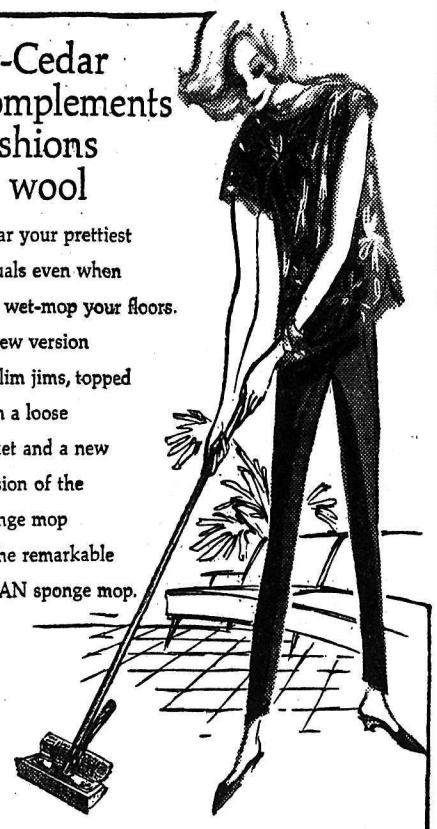
O-Cedar complements fashions in wool

Wear your prettiest casuals even when you wet-mop your floors. A new version of slim jims, topped with a loose jacket and a new version of the sponge mop —the remarkable CHAN sponge mop.



Keep hands dry!

Now! No more wet hands! A once-over lightly with a CHAN sponge mop will keep your floors shining clean—and keep your hands dry, too. And the bonus is in the unique wringer on the CHAN model — swings from back to front so the dirt can't collect in a ridge as it will with other mops.

P.S. Remember CHAN refills will extend the life of your CHAN sponge mop indefinitely.

Habs Blast Out Win; Leafs Lose 4-1 to Wings

Incomparable Howe Scores

DETROIT (CP) — The incomparable Gordie Howe scored the winning goal and assisted on another Tuesday night as Detroit Red Wings defeated Toronto Maple Leafs 4-1 to take a 3-1 lead in their best-of-seven Stanley Cup semi-final.

The great rightwinger, completing his 15th National Hockey League season, scored his goal at 11:20 of the second period to break a 1-1 deadlock and send a crowd of 13,100 into hysterics. It was the third straight victory for the Wings who dropped the opener 3-2 in overtime at Toronto last Wednesday.

The teams return to Toronto for the fifth game on Saturday and, if necessary, will meet here Sunday in the sixth.

The desperate Leafs made a dramatic last-minute switch in their lineup in an effort to stop the Wings who won the second game 4-2 at Toronto on Saturday and followed with a 2-0 shutout here Sunday. The gamble didn't pay off.

Leafs Coach Punch Imlach brought leftwinger Bert Olmstead in by plane from Toronto Tuesday and used centre Red Kelly for the first time since March 5. Both had been out with leg injuries and Leafs had missed the two old pros.

Olmstead was hurt in the series opener.

And Olmstead wore the hero's crown for nearly seven minutes when he banged in the Leafs' first goal at 12:52 of the opening period. Leo Labine, on a pass from Howe, evened that with only 52 seconds remaining in the wild, hard-hitting first 20 minutes and Howe supplied his clincher at 11:20 of the middle session.

PICTURE GOAL

Marcel Pronovost scored a picture goal at 3:24 of the third period and Val Fonteyne flipped the puck into an open Toronto net with only five seconds left in the game. Goalkeeper Johnny Bower of the Leafs had been taken out a couple of minutes earlier in a final, supreme effort to salvage this game.

But it was Howe who killed Toronto's hopes for the second consecutive game. He also scored the winner in Sunday night's bruising affair.

The score was not a sure indication of the play. Sawchuk turned in a spectacular performance as he kicked out 32 shots, may of them dead-on drives that he just managed to flick away or block.

The Leafs went out for an all-or-nothing game, slammed the Wings hard in the opening minutes with terrific bodychecks. They creamed every red shirt wearer within hitting range and referee Frank Udvari called five penalties in the first nine minutes—three against Toronto.

Ingo Tells Uncle Sam About $$$

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Swedish heavyweight Ingemar Johansson spent four days telling U.S. attorneys what he knows of his financial status but has made himself available for any further questions the government might want to ask, it was learned Tuesday.

Attorneys have completed taking depositions from Johansson and he is scheduled for a hearing before U.S. district judge Emett C. Choate today.

The government claims Johansson owes $598,191 in taxes for 1959 and 1960 and $411,620 for 1961. Attorneys for Johansson say the fighter got nothing for his 1959 fight with Floyd Patterson until the spring of 1960.

Government attorneys claim the fighter did not file a return for 1959 and Choate reminded them Johansson was not required to file if he had no income.

Last week Choate denied Johansson permission to leave the country but said he would rule on this point March 31, "or earlier if the examination is finished."

Friend Goes Nine To Down Yanks 9-2

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It wasn't like last fall, but big Bob Friend finally scored a victory over the New York Yankees Tuesday.

Friend became the first Pittsburgh Pirates' pitcher to work the full nine innings. He scattered eight hits as the Pirates beat the Yanks, 9 - 2, at Fort Myers, Fla.

The Yanks hung two defeats on Friend in the world series last year.

Dick Stuart and Roberto Clemente hit homers for the Pirates. Art Ditmar was the loser.

A seven-game winning streak built up by the Los Angeles Dodgers was snapped mostly through the efforts of Billy Pierce. Chicago White Sox downed the Dodgers, 3-1, with Pierce blanking the Dodgers on two hits for the first six innings.

Roy Sievers, hitting at a .378 clip, drove in two Chicago runs. The White Sox managed only seven hits, one less than the Dodgers.

In other action, Baltimore Orioles edged Kansas City A's 8-7, in 11 innings at Miami; St. Louis Cardinals blanked Milwaukee Braves, 1-0, at St. Petersburg, Fla.; Detroit Tigers halted Cincinnati Reds, 7-5, at Lakeland, Fla.; San Francisco Giants nipped Boston Red Sox, 2-1, at Phoenix, Ariz. and Washington Senators toppled Cincinnati B squad 5-3, at Tampa, Fla.

The Cleveland - Los Angeles Angels game, scheduled for Palm Springs, Calif., was cancelled because of rain.

Ron Hansen drove in the winning run for Baltimore with his fourth single of the game with two out in the 11th, scoring Jim Busby from second base. Baltimore collected 18 hits off four A's pitchers.

Bill White, a .440 hitter this spring, drove in the only run in the Cards' victory over the Braves. He doubled home Hal Smith with a fifth inning double. Smith had singled and gone to second on an error, so the run was unearned. Art Kay, Al Cicotte and Mickey McDermott whitewashed the Braves.

Steve Boros, Rocky Colavito and Harry Chiti hit homers for the Tigers and Chuck Cottier and Jack Wood chipped in with triples. Jim O'Toole, first Reds' pitcher, walked five Tigers in the first inning and forced in two runs.

San Francisco collected only six hits, but two of them were home runs by Bob Schmidt and Felipe Alou. Giant starter Sam Jones didn't allow a run in the seven innings he worked.

Pete Daley homered for the Senators in the third, but it wasn't until the eighth that the Senators were able to break a 3-3 tie and sew up the game.

Rhubarb Cost More But Wasn't First

CHICAGO (AP) — The rhubarb which cost Montreal coach Toe Blake a record National Hockey League fine of $2,000 was the most expensive but not the first in the torrid Stanley Cup rivalry between Canadiens and Chicago Black Hawks.

Two years ago, on the same Chicago stadium ice where Blake Sunday night struck referee Dalton McArthur, another referee incurred the wrath of the entire capacity crowd and also got himself poked.

That referee was Red Storey, who subsequently quit the NHL claiming he didn't get proper backing from league president Clarence Campbell.

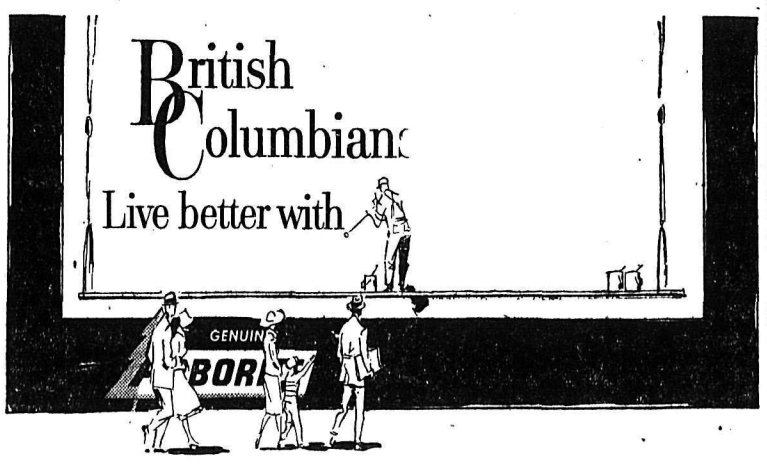
Monday, Campbell plastered a $2,000 fine on Blake for his attack on McArthur after the Black Hawks won a heroic, triple overtime 2-1 to move ahead 2-1 in the cup semi-finals.

The Storey incident in 1959 came after the referee called tripping on Chicago's Bobby Hull and the Canadiens scored on the same play.

Fans charged onto the ice and one clouted Storey. The pugnacious fan was clipped by a Black Hawk in a general melee.

Twenty years ago, in the 1930-31 cup finals, a hassle developed in a pivotal fourth game, with the Hawks ahead 2 - 1 in games. Chicago's Duke Dutkowski apparently banged the puck into Montreal's net, giving the Hawks a 3-1 lead.

The goal judge flashed the red light, but the referee ruled it was no goal. The Canadiens went on to win 4-2 and took the best-of-five series with a 2-0 victory three nights later.



Remarkable Firing Power

By W. R. WHEATLEY

CHICAGO (CP) — The aroused Montreal Canadiens, displaying remarkable firing power, cashed in on two goals each Tuesday night by Dickie Moore and Billy Hicke and a single by Phil Goyette to set back Chicago Black Hawks 5-2.

The win, a vital one to Montreal's playoff hopes, squared their best-of-seven Stanley Cup semi-final with Chicago at 2-2, with Montreal having the advantage of home ice for two of the next three games.

The Montrealers sent a merciless rain on Chicago goalie Glenn Hall — 48 of them in the first two periods.

Dollard St. Laurent and Stan Mikita scored for the Hawks, who were never in the lead and found the Montreal defence and goalie Jacques Plante impregnable in the last period.

The Hawks, making their best showing the second period, saw their usually effective fore-checking overpowered by the Montreal drive that seemed to pick up steam whenever Canadiens felt they needed a better working margin on goals.

HICKE INJURED

Hicke suffered a five-stitch cut on the left side of his forehead late in the third period when he was checked at the boards by Ken Wharram.

The little Montreal winger, who suffered a concussion in the first game of the series, did not appear hurt other than the cut.

The fifth game of the series is in Montreal Saturday.

It was the Hawks' poorest showing since the first game when they were squelched 6-2 in Montreal after electing to try a bumping style of play.

Tuesday night they were outskated from the start and their defence was made to look weak by the seemingly tireless Montrralers. The Hawks mustered 21 shots on Plante.

Only flareup was in the first period when tough little Marcel Bonin of Montreal and big Moose Vasko of the Hawks dropped sticks and gloves and put on a slugging match.

Other players piled up and it was a few minutes before they were pried apart, only to start throwing fists again.

Referee Eddie Powers gave major penalties to both, and added a double misconduct to Bonin and a single misconduct to Vasko when the brawling and squawking subsided.

MORE JUGGLING NEEDED

Bonin's absence for 25 minutes forced more line-juggling on coach Toe Blake of Montreal who already had had to do some revamping because of the absence of Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion.

Geoffrion injured his left knee in Sunday's long overtime game here, won 2-1 by the Hawks. He said he will try to skate Friday in Montreal.

Only two of Tuesday night's goals came on power plays, and by that time Canadiens had built up a 3-1 lead. Mikita scored while Montreal was shorthanded and Moore's second goal came when the Hawks were down a man.

When the game ended, fans at one end of the stadium appeared to be heckling referee Powers and making an attempt to get at him, but police hustled over and the crowd dispersed.

Goyette gave Montreal a 1-0 lead at 4:04 of the opening period. He took Provost's pass and shot from about 20 feet out, the puck appearing to go in off Hawk defenceman Jack Evans' skate.

Calder Named KMBA Prexy

KIMBERLEY — D. Calder was named president of the Kimberley Minor Baseball Association for 1961 at a recent meeting held here.

Other officers elected were: Bill McCormick vice-president; Jerry Howis secretary; F. Holmes, treasurer; G. Browell, recorder; J. Murphy, equipment manager; directors are R. Wynn, H. Attchison. Four others yet to be appointed. A commission is also still to be named.

Four leagues will be in action this year taking in boys from nine to 15 years of age. The leagues will be Pee Wee, Little League, Pony League and Babe Ruth.

Members of the Vancouver Mounties baseball organization may come here May 25 and 26 to conduct a coaching clinic.

Baseball films will be shown here for the benefit of young players in April by the Hobos senior ball team. Tentative plans have also been made to form a mother's auxiliary to the minor leagues.

Spare Tire Boys Hit the Greens

Spare Tire Club members, in hopes to make their organization a year-round one, move into a new phase of their program this noon . . . golfing.

A special practice tee will be set up in the Civic gym at noon today to test the power of the members and viciousness of their slices.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

K M K G J I R N R W O P N R L O R D R P F A R F, P T K M Y F J, O J B D P T G ? — U W J B T R.

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: DOGS DISPLAY RELUCTANCE AND WRATH IF YOU TRY TO GIVE THEM A BATH—NASH.

SUES LADY ATTLEE

LONDON (Reuters)—A widow is suing Lady Attlee, wife of former prime minister Earl Attlee, over the death of her husband in a car crash in September, 1959, a law firm said today. Mrs. Anne London is claiming damages from Lady Attlee and also from Abraham Cook, a 66 - year - old retired clothier who was driving the car that was carrying her husband, when Cook's vehicle and a car driven by Lady Attlee collided.

May Use Escape Clause In Hong Kong Trade Pact

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian imposition of a special "escape clause" tariff against imports of Hong Kong textiles and footwear appeared Tuesday as a possibility following an unsuccessful attempt to have Hong Kong voluntarily limit such shipments.

One big issue at stake is the successful continuation of the present arrangement whereby Japan imposes voluntary controls on shipments of certain textiles and other products to Canada.

Finance Minister Fleming told the Commons Monday that the British colony had declined Canada's request to impose similar voluntary controls on shipments of certain items of clothing and rubber and canvas footwear.

He said the government now will have to "consider what steps need to be taken, bearing in mind the need for avoiding disruption in the Canadian market and the system of voluntary restraints on exports to Canada maintained by Japan."

TWO METHODS AVAILABLE

A trade official said that two methods are available under the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

One is the GATT escape clause, allowing emergency action where domestic industry is suffering serious injury or the threat of serious injury from imports from another GATT member.

The second method is a renegotiation of tariffs—a measure not considered useful in this instance since a tariff level adequate to meet normal competition from other Western countries would not meet the problem of low-cost Hong Kong imports.

LIFT SURCHARGE

UNITED NATIONS (AP)—The United Nations announced Monday night that the three-per-cent surcharge on shipping through the Suez Canal, in effect for the last 3½ years, was lifted as of March 15. A spokesman said that the $8,200,000 required for the clearance of the canal after the British-French-Israeli attack on Egypt in 1956 had been raised from the surcharge.

MARKET TRENDS

NEW YORK (AP) — A proposal for a vast increase in defence spending sent some aviation and electronics issues upward Tuesday in a scrambled stock market.

Except for gains by these issues and some specialty issues, the list was a mixture of gains and losses up to a point or more.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was unchanged at 242.7 with the industrials down .70, the rails up .20 and the utilities up .40 at a new 1961 high of 125.9.

Steels, utilities and oils edged to the upside while chemicals and drugs declined. Motors, rubbers, metals, rails and airlines were mixed.

Lockheed, prime contractor for the Polaris missile and the Midas satellite, and a major beneficiary of the strengthened arms and space programs, was up 2⅛.

Boeing, test and assembly contractor for the Minuteman missile, gained 1⅝ to 46¾. General Dynamics, whose electric boat division builds Polaris submarines, advanced ⅞ to 41.

Canadian stocks had fractional gains and losses. McIntyre Porcupine dropped ⅞ for the biggest move either way and International Nickel led winners with a rise of ½. Distillers Seagrams was up ¼.

On the American stock exchange prices advanced in heavy trading, but Canadian issues were quiet. Shawinigan Power and Scurry Rainbow Oil each climbed ⅜.

TORONTO (CP) — The stock market began the day in a faltering mood and wound up with fractional losses during moderate trading Tuesday.

On the exchange index, industrials dropped .50 to 556.75 while golds rose .03 at 81.37. Base metals showed a gain of .55 to 178.73, and Western oils were .67 to 98.61.

Banks had a bad day, with Canadian Bank of Commerce off ⅞ at 63, and Bank of Montreal down ¼ to 61¾. Bank of Nova Scotia fell ⅛ at 72¾. Foods also experienced difficulty with Loblaw B down ¼ to 37¾, and Hardee Farms off ⅛ at 17½.

Canadian Breweries took the biggest loss in a mixed liquor market, down a point to 48, while Molsons B fell ½ at 26½. Liquor gains included John Labatt, up ¼ to 36⅝.

Holding companies had a good day, with Traders Finance A and B both rising ½ to 42¾ and 42, and Industrial Acceptance Corporation gaining ¼ to 55⅝. Pipe lines saw Trans - Canada and Trans-Mountain show gains of ⅛, and 23 and 23¼.

Golds also had a sluggish start but became active in late afternoon trading. Kerr Addison was up ⅜ to 11⅛ and Giant-Yellowknife gained 30 cents to $9.80 to lead gold winners. McIntyre Porcupine fell ¼ at 27¾ for the losers.

In quiet but steady Western oil trading, Bailey Selburn A gained 30 cents to $7.95, and Home B was up 15 to $9.75. Hudson's Bay Oil rose ⅜ to 14⅛, while Pacific Petroleum gained ¼ to 12. Royalite was off 20 cents to $9.20, and Dome slipped five cents at $9.00.

MONTREAL (CP) — Industrial stocks rallied and edged ahead on the Montreal and Canadian exchanges Tuesday. Other sections were fractionally mixed in moderate trading.

On index, banks were off 0.05 at 64.01, utilities off 0.3 at 148.2, industrials up 0.7 at 304.6, combined up 0.4 at 252.5, papers off 0.6 at 474.8 and mines off 0.48 at 74.20.

Among active stocks, Saladas-Shirriff was unchanged at 18⅛ on 7,422 shares. Massey-Ferguson added ⅛ at 13⅝ on 7,360 shares.

Canadian Breweries lost ⅜ at 48¼, Great Lakes declined ⅝ to 46¾ and Gatineau Power eased ⅜ to 37¾.

Western oils attracted little attention. Cent Del Rio gained 20 cents at $6.15 and Royalite lost 15 cents at $9.10.

Irish Poet Said Very Sick Man

TORONTO (CP) — Brendan Behan is in hospital and described as "a very sick man."

Dr. David Pratt declined to disclose the nature of the illness that kept the wild Irish playwright from appearing in court Monday to face charges of assault and creating a disturbance.

Police have not tried to arrest Behan, despite a bench warrant issued by Magistrate Donald Graham when he didn't turn up for his court appearance.

Behan faces charges of assaulting a police officer here, assaulting a security guard at the Royal York Hotel and creating a disturbance.

Woman Charged In Causing Child's Death

GLASGOW (CP)—A 37-year-old spinster, accused of throwing five children out of a fourth-floor apartment window to the pavement 60 feet below, was charged Tuesday with the murder of one who died.

Four other charges of attempted murder were placed against the accused woman, Jean Barclay Waddell.

Magistrate James Langmuir ordered her remanded for further examination.

Hatless, the black - haired, pink-cheeked woman spoke only once in a two-minute arraignment. No pleas were taken.

The macabre scene of small children hurtling to the pavement late Monday afternoon still held an entire neighborhood of Glasgow in a buzz of shocked excitement.

DIES INSTANTLY

The first of the five to fall, Marjory Hughes, 4, died almost instantly.

Seven-year-old Daniel McNeil is on the critical list at Killearn Hospital.

Also in hospital but less seriously hurt are Thomas Devenny, 4; Margaret Lennon, 3, and her brother, Frank, 7.

None lived in that particular tenement.

One report said the five children went into the apartment building "to look at some newborn pups."

One of the children was saved when a neighbor in the slum district, hearing their cries, rushed out and broke the fall of one. He thought it was one of his own youngsters crying.

SPRIGHTLY DANCES were demonstrated by children before hundreds of parents at the Recreation Commission's Open House at the Civic Centre Friday night. Nearly 300 ranging in age from four to adult took part in the colorful display which included baton twirlers, acrobatics, playschool work, rhythm band, judo, and others. Here, children are performing in a lively square dance.—Daily News photo.

SERVICE LAGGING

VANCOUVER (CP) — Chairman A. A. Boucher of the Community Chest division for guidance of the handicapped said Monday vocational rehabiliation for handicapped persons in the province is lagging far behind medical services. He told the division's annual meeting the greatest need is for rehabilitation with a realistic approach.

B.C. News Briefs

LABOR SUPPLY

VERNON (CP) — The labor supply in the area exceeded the demand most of last year in unskilled and semi-skilled categories despite occasional shortages of workers. The Unemployment Insurance Commission reported in a summary of last year the peak unemployment period was February when 2,908 persons were registered as unemployed.

CHAMBER PRESIDENT

VERNON (CP)—Emil Meister of Vernon has been elected president of the Okanagan-Mainline district junior chamber of Commerce at the chamber's spring conference. Retiring president is Bob Gordon of Kelowna. The conference was held here at the weekend.

RETIREMENT

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Ralph Stewart MacPherson retires Friday after 35 years with the British Columbia Telephone Company here. Commercial manager since 1943, his jurisdiction extended from New Westminster to Hope.

FUNERAL SERVICES

VANCOUVER (CP) — Funeral services are to be held today for Mrs. Gladys Jean Borland, well-known in many parts of the province. The wife of David G. Borland, manager of the Dominion Theatre and a veteran Famous Players employee, she lived for some time in Prince Rupert and Nanaimo. The family moved to Grand Forks and she was educated there and in Vancouver.

CONSTRUCTION DROP

VANCOUVER (CP) — February construction in British Columbia was $11,299,449 compared with $15,898,830 in the same period the previous year. The figures include dredging, oad work and airport work as well as building permits in 50 provincial centres.

Senator Quinn Dies, Aged 86

HALIFAX (CP)—Senator Felix Patrick Quinn, 86, a member of Canada's upper house since 1935, died Tuesday at his home in nearby Bedford.

He entered politics in 1925 as a Conservative member of Parliament and held his seat until 1935 when he was appointed to the Senate.

Of Irish descent Senator Quinn was widely known for his musical talents and known to have burst into song in the Senate on St. Patrick's Day.

On his 80th birthday, Senator Quinn offered this advice for a long and useful life:

"Travel on your feet, not in cars; live within your means and stay away from worry; keep regular hours; don't be afraid of hard work; develop your lungs by singing."

His death leaves two vacancies in the 102-seat Senate.

Eldorado President Says Crown Agency Has Contract With U.K.

OTTAWA (CP)—W. M. Gilchrist, president of Eldorado Mining and Refining Limited, Tuesday insisted that the Crown agency has a firm contract with the United Kingdom Atomic Energy Authority to supply Britain with 12,000 tons of uranium in 1963-66.

Mr. Gilchrist told the Commons research committee that Eldorado assumes that an exchange of letter of intent is a firm contract. He added that if what was meant by a firm contract was a formal document, Eldorado didn't have one.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker told the Commons Monday that Eldorado had no contract with Britain for the amount of uranium in question and that agencies concerned have held intermittent discussions on renegotiation of the 1957 letter of intent.

ASKS CLARIFICATION

Questioning of Mr. Gilchrist was started by George McIlraith (L — Ottawa West) who asked for "final clarification" of Britain's commitment to Canada.

Mr. McIlraith recalled that Mr. Gilchrist had informed the committee early this month that there was a "very firm contract" for Canadian sales of uranium to the United Kingdom in 1963-66.

Mr. Gilchrist stuck firm to this testimony Tuesday and Mr. McIlraith said he agreed with the Eldorado president's interpretation of the letter of intent.

Mr. Gilchrist said he is not free to disclose the area or the subject matter involved in discussions with the United Kingdom with respect to renegotiation of the 12,000-ton arrangement.

He was replying to Mr. McIlraith who wanted to know whether the renegotiations involved quantity, price, delivery dates or all three.

STILL BEING DISCUSSED

Mr. Gilchrist said he could not possibly comment on a matter which was the subject of discussion between the Canadian and British governments.

Several Progressive Conservative members objected to Mr. McIlraith's line of questioning.

Erik Nielsen (PC — Yukon) said any comments by Mr. Gilchrist might prejudice Canada's position in the renegotiation.

In reply to other questions Mr. Gilchrist reiterated that the allocation of contracts by eldorado to uranium mines is a matter of government policy. The government established the policy and it was implemented by Eldorado.

WINTERS CALLED

Mr. McIlraith said Trade Minister Hees should be called as a witness.

Ferguson Browne (PC—Vancouver Kingsway) suggested that Hon. Robert Winters, president of Rio Tinto Mines Limited and former Liberal works minister, be called.

Chairman W. J. Murphy (PC—Lambton West) said Mr. Winters is scheduled to appear before the committee April 13.

C. A. Best (PC—Halton) proposed that Opposition leader Pearson appear as a witness.

Mr. Murphy said such suggestions would be dealt with by the steering committee April 10.

Gordon Aiken (PC — Parry Sound-Muskoka) said no conflicting statements had been made in the entire matter and that there was nothing controversial about it.

'STATEMENTS VARY'

In reply to Mr. McIlraith, Mr. Gilchrist said it would be wrong to assume that, the 12,000-ton sale to Britain had been left out of the uranium stretch-out program so that the uranium could be purchased more cheaply by Eldorado from independent producers later on.

Mr. McIlraith said this reply varied from the statement made Monday by Mr. Diefenbaker.

The prime minister told the Commons that Eldorado knew after the stretch-out and that "it could obtain what it would require in the future more simply and cheaply by purchasing it from producers at competitive prices because there is a surplus of production capacity available."

Mr. Gilchrist said the government offered the stretch - out program on deliveries to the industry and did not exert any pressure. Acceptance of the program was up to the producers themselves.

He said Eldorado had no intention of trying to close out uneconomic producers. The decision was one for the companies themselves.

Mr. McIlraith said the stretch-out offer was made at the same time that the producers knew that the United States would not exercise its uranium option in Canada.

Europeans Interested In Hollywood's Oscar Award

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — About her Oscar chances, Melina Mercouri is "optimistic — like a Greek."

The optimistic Greek isn't here to campiagn for the Academy award, but she has been keeping in touch with the race via phone from Paris.

At least one authoritative source bolstered her hopes. Variety, the show business journal, observed an Oscar looked likely for Miss Mercouri on the basis of past performance. The Academy in recent years has often given the top female award to foreign actresses new to North American audiences—Audrey Hepburn, Anna Magnani and Simone Signoret.

The actress was cited for her role as the gay-spirited prostitute in Never on Sunday. She appeared opposite director Jules Dassin, also reported to be her co-star in private life.

BROUGHT CHANGES

What has the film done for her?

"It has brought many changes. The biggest thing that happened to me? No, that was meeting Jules Dassin."

Is there much interest for the Oscar awards in Europe?

"Very much. There are big articles about it in Paris with pronos—how do you say it?—predictions of the winners. Also in Greece."

Where is home for her?

"All the world. But always I return to Athens. That is where I was brought up."

WIFE HAS OBLIGATIONS

DETROIT (AP)—A judge ordered a working wife Monday to contribute to the support of her jobless husband and their two children. The husband said she deserted the family two years ago. Mrs. Vernesther White, 30, an $80-a-week clerk-typist, was ordered to contribute $30 every two weeks to her husband, William, 34, and two sons, Stanley, 10, and Ronald, 6. Judge John Scallen ruled that a working woman has a legal obligation to support her family.

Engineers Must Be More Than Just Silent Men

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

Engineers, generally thought of as silent types (except for occasional outbursts of purple expletives), apparently can be as introspective as anyone else.

In any event, in their own circles, what they are and why they are seem to be popular subjects for discussion.

Some of them think they should stick to the task of "silent men," directing big and small projects in near and far places; and some think they should have more to say in the forums of public opinion.

Whatever the answer, a lot of them wind up in entirely different things than they dreamed of when they were undergraduates.

Robert H. Winters, trained as an engineer, who became a federal cabinet minister, and who now is president of Rio Tinto Mining Company of Canada Ltd. tried to find the answer to the engineer's identification in a recent address at Niagara Falls, Ont.

He described the engineer's task as "tempering science with economic judgment so that it can be used for the benefit of man."

However, in Mr. Winter's opinion, it is not enough to be just the "silent man." He said:

"In the field of social and civic responsibility the engineer in a group sense may be passing off to others less ably equipped some of his responsibility if he allows himself to become exclusively preoccupied with things technical.

MUST USE TRAINING

"The trained outlook of the engineer must be brought to bear on the problems of our times."

Mr. Winters, who spoke to an audience of the Engineering Institute of Canada, also outlined some of the physical tasks still ahead for the Canadian engineer.

"In Canada's north," he stated, "we have perhaps the last real frontier on the North American continent. It is heavily mineralized and abounds in water power potential. In many ways the key to the realization of Canada's great destiny lies north of the 60th parallel.

"But in the areas of Canada with which there is greater familiarity, from Newfoundland to British Columbia, we are well-blessed with a wide variety of resources.

"Simply because there is not a Moak Lake, a Kitimat or a Beaverlodge in the full bloom of development at all times does not mean that the country is lying dormant. If we let our minds roam over the broad sweep of exploration and basic development work taking place from the Hamilton Falls in Labrador to the Columbia river water system in B.C., we quickly become reassured as to the latent strength of the country."

Paralyzed Boy Receives Compensation

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—The Cutter Laboratories of Berkeley, Calif., Monday gave a $180,000 settlement to Kenneth Kudron of Portland, a paralyzed nine - year - old who contracted polio after receiving a shot of anti-polio vaccine produced by the firm. Cutter made the settlement without a suit being brought to trial.
