Khrushchev Hurls Challenge at Peking

Soviet Leader in Rage Over Mao Questioning His Leadership

MOSCOW (AP) — Sputtering with rage over Red China's challenge to his leadership of the Communist camp. Premier Khrushchev dared Peking's leaders Friday to take their ideological dispute to the people.

"I declare to those who would like to overthrow us: I challenge you, gentlemen, comrades, let's pick out any plant or any collective farm," he said.

"You present your program and we will present our program. Let the people be the judge.

"And you may rest assured, you won't need armor or a pillow for protection . . . our people are polite here. They'll listen to you and say: 'Get out.'"

The Soviet premier flung down the challenge in an extemporaneous outburst at a Kremlin rally honoring visiting Hungarian Premier Janos Kadar.

He twice departed from his prepared text to flay his Chinese antagonists, groping for words in obvious vexation.

At one point he spluttered to a halt searching for a word and appealed to the Kremlin Palace of Congresses audience: "Help me out, help me out."

While Khrushchev was throwing down the gauntlet to Mao Tse-Tung at the Kremlin, their ideological experts were meeting to discuss the arguments which the premier's speech showed are nowhere near a compromise.

During parts of his talk, the premier was in good humor. But when he got to the sections on China his anger showed.

Most of his off-the-cuff attack followed the lines of the Soviet party's polemical blow at Peking published last Sunday.

He pressed the attack on the Chinese call for militant revolutionary tactics against the West.

"They say one should start a revolution, a war, and on the corpses and ruins a still more prosperous society will be created," he said.

"And who will remain in this prosperous society?" he asked sarcastically.

EFFECTS INCALCULABLE

"And do you know that if all the warheads of the nuclear rockets were set off and if all this were to go into the contamination of the atmosphere, then it is not known what would be the fate of the people who would survive.

"Wouldn't possibly the living envy the dead?"

Khrushchev defended his right to occupy the top leadership position in the Soviet Union.

"We have taken power not in order to hold this power by any means. No, but to work for the welfare of our party by brains and labor.

"And if the people tell you that you are pulling in the wrong direction, then you have to give the people the right to remove you and elect another."

Jailed 13 Years For Crime He Did Not Commit

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Joseph Smith, 45, has been set free after spending 13 years in prison for a crime he didn't commit.

He was released by Judge Theodore Reimel because two alleged accomplices admitted he had been framed and had nothing to do with a $800 cheque cashing service holdup for which all three were convicted.

Smith, who never married, said that although he brooded much during his early prison years he now wants only to bury the past.

What about the future? Smith said he has 12 songs he hopes to sell. He has also learned electrical work.

Is he bitter?

"Thats' all over now. I just want to live."

Further Work Stoppages Loom

VANCOUVER (CP) — Industrial peace in British Columbia, already shattered by a strike of 10,500 fishing industry workers, appeared Friday on the brink of further disruptions, including the possibility of a work stoppage in the key shipping trades.

On strike are 10,000 members of the independent United Fishermen's and Allied Workers Union, tying up the fishing industry along the British Columbia coast. Included are 6,000 salmon net fishermen, 4,000 shoreworkers and some 500 men who handle the fishpackers.

Main issue is the price of pink salmon. The fisheries Association of British Columbia, which bargains for the fishing companies, says there is an over-load inventory from last year.

A strike date for Monday has been set by Local 16-601 of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers International Union (CLC) at five Lower Mainland refineries in a wage dispute. Companies involved are Imperial, Standard, Shell, British American and Home, with wages the issue.

Negotiations were going ahead with Texaco workers to remain active to provide emergency supplies of gas and oil to police, hospitals and the like.

Meanwhile 23 ships lay idle in three harbors Friday as some 1,700 members of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union (CLC) declared a one-day holiday to hold meetings to acquaint the membership with the latest offer from the Shipping Federation of British Columbia.

The main issue here is protection against loss of jobs through automation.

The province's 6,000 salmon net fishermen struck last Saturday and shoreworkers and tendermen who handle the fishpackers, later in the week.

The union and operators held more fruitless talks Friday. The union said it would not put the companies' "final offer," made Tuesday, to a vote of the membership. The Fisheries Association termed "unrealistic" a counter-proposal for higher salmon prices and wage scales.

With the canneries shut down fishermen catching other species of fish were affected up and down the 700-mile coastline.

Gordon Says Gov't to Discuss Kennedy's Proposal With U.S.

INTEGRATION LOOKS SUCCESSFUL HERE—The Rev. T. Chapin (upper left), pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Morrison, Ill., oversees a picnic for Negro children who "lived in" a week with 15 white families in the town. The hosts were all volunteers. The 19 Negro children, from Chicago's crowded near west side, rode horses, patted dairy cows, sailed the Mississippi wearing life jackets and captains' caps, swam, ate and lived with the small town children. Reverend Chapin, who sponsored all this, said "the church is taking the lead in our racial problems."

Timber Firm, Union Reach Agreement

PORTLAND (AP) — Negotiators for Simpson Timber Company and for 5000 union workers Friday announced agreement on a new three-year wage contract.

The joint announcement from and the two unions — the International Woodworkers of America and the Lumber and Sawmill Workers Union — did not disclose details of the proposed pact. However. a joint news release said: "The contract package was estimated by union spokesmen at 33½ cents over the three - year period."

Union members will be asked to ratify the agreement.

This was the first major break in the lumber dispute which has idled some 25,000 workers of the Big Six employer group and Georgia-Pacific Corp.

A spokesman for the Big Six said the settlement was uneconomic and the Association would not go along at the Simpson figure.

The unions said the base pay in the industry — before Simpson settlement — ranged from $2.52 to $2.56 an hour.

Says Canada in Excellent Negotiating Position

By ALLAN DONNELLY

OTTAWA (CP) — Finance Minister Gordon said Friday the government plans to discuss with Washington Canada's "serious worries" about President Kennedy's proposed new tax on American purchases of securities from Canada and 21 other countries.

In a cautious statement, he told the Commons the situation resulting from the president's announcement Thursday of his tax proposal is "a little delicate."

But he added firmly:

"I do not think it is too delicate. I think we will get out of it all right."

Later he added: "The government is in an excellent position to negotiate with the United States."

Mr. Gordon entered the debate amid charges by Opposition Leader Diefenbaker that his June 13 budget measures may have provided a lead to the drastic Kennedy proposal.

HEDGES ON CHARGE

Mr. Diefenbaker, stating the new U.S. tax would affect Canada "to a tremendous degree," steered short of saying it resulted from the budget.

"What happened yesterday was an understandable consequence of the government's action in this budget . . . It gave the United States an object lesson as to what could be done between friendly nations."

Mr. Gordon replied that it would be "the height of naivete" to suggest the U.S. was retaliating against the budget's changes in withholding tax on Canadian dividend and interest payments to U.S. investors.

The minister's statement was supported by a formal denial in Washington by a state department spokesman that there was any retaliation against the read the Washington statement Canadian budget. Mr. Gordon in the Commons.

Mr. Gordon's speech contained a hint that Canada may seek changes in the Kennedy tax proposal to lessen its impact on Canada.

NEED U.S. CAPITAL

The finance minister argued Canada's need for continued inflows of U.S. capital to offset large surpluses earned by the U.S. in current transactions with Canada in trade and other fields.

It was Canada's failure to raise U.S. capital last year, he said, that led to "so many undesirable consequences." These included the import surcharges which had been even more unpopular in the U.S. than in Canada.

"It is not credible that the United States administration would be trying to incur a repetition of this situation," Mr. Gordon said.

He argued that U.S. concern about its balance-of-payments deficit should be directed against major surplus countries such as France, Germany and Italy, and not against Canada.

Canada had run big annual deficits in current transactions with the U.S. The American capital flowing into Canada was less than that deficit.

"Under these conditions, the United States would surely not wish to cut down their capital exports to this country."

TIME FOR TALKS

Mr. Gordon said it will be "weeks, even months" before U.S. congressional action can be expected on the Kennedy proposal.

There would be ample opportunity to discuss with the U.S. government the possible effects on Canada of the tax.

He counselled "a positive and co-operative" approach to the problem.

As Mr. Gordon spoke, repercussions of the Kennedy proposal continued to be felt on financial and stock markets.

The Canadian dollar's exchange value dropped further below its pegged rate of 92½ U.S. cents. At close of Friday's trading in New York it was 92 3-32 cents after a two-day decline of more than one-half cent.

The government is committed to drawing on Canada's vital exchange reserves to prevent it dropping below 91.575 U.S. cents.

Stock markets dropped sharply early in the day but later recovered some of the loss. Over-all, the Toronto Stock Exchange industrial index fell 5.53 points to 610.52 after a fall of more than 15 points Thursday.

PARRIES QUESTIONS

During the Commons question period, Mr. Gordon parried a question by New Democratic Leader Douglas on whether government steps are being taken to prevent harmful effects on Canada's foreign exchange position.

The minister said the situation is being watched "almost continuously."

TCA Notes 20th Anniversary

MONTREAL (CP) — Trans-Canada Air Lines will quietly mark its 20th anniversary of scheduled air service across the North Atlantic Monday.

The first such flight left Montreal International Airport July 22, 1943 bound for Prestwick, Scotland. The converted four-engined Lancaster bomber carried four official passengers, more than a ton of armed services mail, and air crew.

The flight established a transatlantic speed record, cutting 25 minutes off the existing mark. The aircraft made the return flight two days later.

TCA was chosen by the Canadian government to operate the wartime trans-Atlantic service. The airline provided flight crews, maintenance personnel and liaison officers. The government supplied the aircraft.

These were Canadian - built Lancasters, powered by four Rolls - Royce Merlin engines with elongated aluminium nose and tail sections where gun turrets were normally located. This version of the bomber was called the Lancastrian.

By the end of the war, TCA was operating three round trips a week with a fleet of six Lancastrians. By the end of 1945, the service began to lose its identity as a wartime venture and gradually assumed commercial status.

Avoid Drugs, Doctor Tells Mothers-To-Be

NEW YORK (CP) — Dr. Widukind Lenz, the West German doctor who first noted the link between deformed infants and the tranquilizer drug thalidomide, said Thursday that no woman who is pregnant or thinks she is should take any drugs unless it is necessary to preserve her life.

The Hamburg pediatrician and geneticist told the international conference on congenital malformations:

"We know very little about chemically - induced malformations in man. No method of testing with animals allows us to say with assurance that a drug would be wholly safe in pregnancy.

"Everything should be done to discontinue our involuntary and blind experimenting with human embryos."

Lenz said the best estimates of the total of thalidomide deformed babies in West Germany now is 5900 to 6700, but since reporting of deformities is not required no precise total will ever be known.

Gov't Authorized To Borrow $15,000,000

VICTORIA (CP) — A cabinet order Friday approved borrowing of $15,000,000 in U.S. funds by the B.C. Power and Hydro Authority.

The agreement for the authority to borrow $5,000,000 at 4⅜ per cent and $10,000,000 at 4 7/16 per cent was made before President Kennedy announced Thursday the new tax on foreign loans.

The cabinet also authorized the authority to borrow another $25,000,000 for working capital over the next 18 months.

The money is not required immediately but is for anticipated capital expenditures in the near future.

End Segregation

BALTIMORE (AP) — The owners of Gwynn Oak amusement park agreed Friday night to end segregation at the park beginning Aug. 28, Baltimore County executive Spiro T. Agnew announced.

Agnew announced the verbal agreement as integrationists made plans to renew mass demonstrations at the park today.

About 380 persons were arrested during protest demonstrations at the park July 4 and 7, before a truce was declared while the Baltimore County human relations committee attempted to mediate the dispute.

Not Retaliatory Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — The state department formally denied Thursday that President Kennedy's proposed tax on purchases of foreign securities by American citizens and residents is a retaliatory measure at Canada.

Press Officer Robert J. McCloskey said that in Canadian circles "there has been some suggestion that the (Kennedy) measures were directed specifically at Canada, or . . . were taken in retaliation for the action taken in the Canadian budget."

"This is absolutely not the case," McCloskey said.

The Canadian budget featured two proposals involving foreign investment. One — later withdrawn—was for a 30-per-cent tax aimed at halting foreign take-overs of Canadian firms. The other involved changes in the withholding tax on dividend payments made abroad to encourage greater Canadian minority investment in foreign-controlled firms in Canada.)

McCloskey issued this statement in behalf of the state department:

"The proposed interest-equalization tax is one of several proposals in the president's balance-of-payments message for dealing with various aspects of the problem.

BLOC DRAIN

"During the past two years, and particularly during the early part of this year, there has been a substantial increase in portfolio investment in foreign securities by U.S. citizens. This has resulted in a substantial drain on the U.S. balance of payments.

"This increase of investment has come about primarily because the U.S. long-term interest rates are lower than those abroad, and also because the U.S. capital market is much better organized than capital markets in other countries.

"This tax is simply an effort to equalize the cost of money to foreign interests making long - term borrowings, so that they would pay about the same ratio in the United States that they would pay in their own countries. It would also make it more costly for Americans to buy equity securities in foreign companies.

"The tax is applicable to investment in foreign securities no matter from what country they originate.

"It is not in any way directed specifically against Canadian securities.

"It has not been prompted or influenced in any way by any action taken by the Canadian government in its budget, or otherwise."

Broader Teacher Exchange Urged

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Canadian Teachers' Federation on Friday proposed a broadened program of interprovincial and international teacher exchanges.

At the closing session of its annual meeting, the Federation expressed concern with the narrow scope of its existing proposals for international exchanges which referred only to Japan and China.

Delegates also instructed directors to name a committee to prepare publicity and promotion on inter-provincial exchanges:

In other major decisions the federation:

Referred to directors for study a Manitoba resolution that would have urged restrictions on tobacco advertising;

Decided to spend $7700 on a campaign to point out inequalities in education and gain support for federal aid;

Asked for amendments to the income tax act to permit teachers' exemptions for costs of attending professional meetings and courses related to their profession;

Tabled a proposal to change from the English to metric system of measurement.

DOLLAR UP

MONTREAL (CP) — The United States dollar in terms of Canadian funds was up ½ at $1.08 9-16.

Khrushchev Proposes Non-Aggression Pact

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev, in a proposal to back up a nuclear test ban, called Friday for an East-West non-aggression pact and a system of airfield and railroad inspections to prevent surprise attack.

While his negotiators and American and British representatives sorted out details of a partial test ban, the Soviet leader walked to the podium in the Kremlin's Congress Hall and made a series of proposals that seemed to point to an East-West summit conference.

He agreed the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union are approaching agreement on a nuclear test ban covering everything except underground explosions. He wants underground blasts covered too, he said, but he added that the West insists on inspections and implied those will not be approved.

With the test ban he wanted a non-aggression pact, just as he said July 2 in East Berlin, but he clearly opened a new way to negotiations on that by saying:

"We think that the question of the form of the non-aggression pact can be solved without any great difficulties to the mutual satisfaction of both sides. The most important thing is not the form, but the content.

"The most important thing is for each side to display willingness to ease tensions and to liquidate the state of the cold war."

The proposals immediately were studied anew by the British and American delegations here even though there was some indication that he had outlined them in their first talk last Monday, when he opened the nuclear negotiations.

Khrushchev spoke at a meeting of 6,000 in honor of Hungary's visiting premier and Communist party leader, Janos Kadar.

The audience cheered repeatedly as he made them.

Khrushchev made clear in his 90 - minute speech that he wanted a non-aggression pact or something close to it to come out of the present negotiations. State Undersecretary W. Averell Harriman, chairman of the U.S. delegation, has repeatedly said he is here to negotiate a test ban, though he is ready to discuss anything else.

Lorne Raymond, War Vet Dies

A First World War veteran, Lorne Raymond died in Nelson Thursday, age 78.

Born in Pembroke, Ont., in 1885, Mr. Raymond worked as a logger until enlisting in the army in 1914. Following overseas service he was discharged in Canada in 1918.

He moved to Grande Prairie, Alta., where he homesteaded, and in 1920 married the former Mary Gray there.

In 1925, they moved to Yahk where he worked as a logger and three years later he logged at Priest River, Idaho. In 1937, he returned to Canada to work for Kootenay Forest Products at Nelson, until his retirement in 1942.

He is survived by his wife, two sons, Thomas of Nelson and John of Salmon Arm; a daughter Louise of Abbotsford; a brother, George of Edson, Alta., and a sister, Mrs. Rose Brunt of Pembroke, Ont.

GREEK RITES AT NAKUSP FOR PETER WIRSTIUK

NAKUSP — Funeral services were held at Nakusp Thursday morning for Peter Wirstiuk, who died there at the age of 68.

Mr. Wirstiuk was well known in Nelson where he lived for 20 years.

Rev. R. Zuback of Victoria officiated at the Greek Catholic rites held at Lady of Lourdes Catholic Church.

Mr. Wirstiuk was born in Kolodribka, Ukraine, in 1895. He came to Canada in 1930 and worked in the Slocan, at Procter and Nelson, as section man and machinist's helper with the CPR until his retirement in 1960.

He was predeceased by his wife in 1958, and is survived by five stepsons, one step-daughter and 12 grandchildren.

Nakusp friends acted as pallbearers.

Queen Scouts and Leader Off to Athens Jamboree

Two East Kootenay Queen Scouts and a West Kootenay scout leader will carry the banner of the Kootenays to the 11th Boy Scout World Jamboree in Athens, Greece, next month.

The two East Kootenay scouts are Donald Kenneth McRae of Kimberley and Kenneth Donald Dicken of Fernie. Cpl. John D. Flamank, NCO in charge of the Crescent Valley RCMP detachment, is the West Kootenay representative and will be B.C.-Yukon contingent leader.

Cpl. Flamank holds most of the major scouting awards after being a member of the Boy Scout organization for over 20 years. He holds the Long Service Award, Medal of Merit, King Scout award, was assistant regional commissioner for training, Nelson district scoutmaster and a few years ago took the most advanced scout course, the Canadian Scout Training Course.

Cpl. Flamank will leave for Vancouver Sunday to meet with main contingent from B.C. and the Yukon. The two Queen Scouts meanwhile will go to Calgary on the first leg of their journey.

In Montreal the trio will join 429 other Canadian scouts for a two day pre-jamboree camp, where final plans will be made for the Athens' jamboree.

Most of the 432 Canadian representatives will fly directly to Greece for the August 1 to 11 jamboree, to meet with almost 15,000 other Scouts from throughout the world. Boy Scouts from nearly every country not under communist domination will meet in the shadow of the Parthenon.

At the completion of the jamboree the scouts will be given a one week's tour of Greece, where the Olympic Games originated and one of the world's greatest civilizations were established. They are expected to return Aug. 17.

$750 PER SCOUT

Each scout attending the jamboree will have to pay $750 for the stay in Greece and transportation costs. Generally the sum is alleviated by assistance from the regional Boy Scouts Association.

The local boy scout organization attempted to assist by selling a book of scout songs, but sales did not reach expectations.

Butorac Firm To Stand Trial

TRAIL (CP) — Michael M. Butorac and his stockbroking firm, Parker Securities Limited Friday were committed for trial on charges of theft. Magistrate Parker Williams released Butorac on $20,000 bail.

Butorac and the firm elected early trial on charges of stealing $871 and $1,674 from pensioner Hamilton Currie. Defence counsel Harold Clegg entered no plea.

Currie testified he gave the money to Butorac with instructions to buy shares of three companies but had never received the stock.

Chartered accountant Jack Yolland testified an examination of Butorac's records and books disclosed an estimated liability, in the form of undelivered stock paid for by customers, of about $40,000. More than 20 Trail-area people were affected.

Forestry Braced For Warm Weather

Nelson Forestry officials will keep a close watch on forests this weekend with the advent of warmer weather and scattered thunderstorms.

Presently, only eight men are employed on the fire lines, keeping eight fires under control or observation. No new fires were reported Friday.

The fire hazard is still at the low to moderate rating.

T. M. Roberts, S. Slocan, Dies

A retired miner from South Slocan died in Nelson, Thursday, aged 65 years.

Thomas Morris Roberts retired from West Kootenay Power and Light Co. as maintenance foreman this year and was planning a trip to his native land, Wales just before his death.

Born in Carnarvonshire, Wales in 1898 he enlisted in the British Army in 1914, at 16 years, and served in India and the Middle East. He married after the war and worked in the mines and quarries of Wales before coming to Canada in 1924 to work at the mines at Coleman, Alta.

In 1926 he moved to Vancouver where he was employed as a high steel rigger and in 1927 he came to Trail working as a rigger for Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada at different points in the interior.

In 1930 he transferred to WKP&L until his retirement.

He is survived by his wife, a son Harry, a daughter, Mrs. Ceri Jones of Carnarvonshire, two sisters and three grandchildren.

Rossland Astronomer To Photograph Eclipse

By DAVE GRANT

One of the more interested persons viewing the eclipse today will be Royal Astronomical Society member R. D. McAllister of Rossland.

Mr. McAllister is a life member of the society and will attempt to photograph the partial eclipse. This will be done by using a six-inch reflecting telescope and a prism to project the image onto a white screen so cameras can photograph the eclipse in all its phases.

Mr. McAllistre plans to have four cameras focussed on the screen so he can take black and white and color photographs. He will also be using a jeweller's chronometer for precision timing of the phases.

A solar eclipse is a strange phenomenon which occurs few time in a person's lifetime, but one look at the burning corona of the sun can scorch the retina to such an extent that a loss of sight can develop.

There is no safe way of looking directly at the eclipse, even though the sun's brilliance may be darkened by tinted glass. It is not the brilliance which causes the burn but the infra-red rays emitted from the sun concentrated on the retina. Normally the sun is too bright for a person to view it directly, but during the eclipse enough light is blocked out to permit easy observation . . . this is when the most damage occurs, even with a filter.

DANGER TO CHILDREN

Children are most susceptible to vision damage since they do not realize the extent of the danger. Parents are therefore asked by most medical authorities to warn their children NOT to look at the eclipse.

If an inquisitive child is deeply enthralled by the darkening of the day then the best way to view the eclipse is through many levels of photographic film. This film can be prepared by unravelling a roll of new, black and white film in ordinary day light and then have it developed.

This method is not perfect and is by no means absolutely safe, nor is smoked glass, sunglasses or a card with a pinhole opening.

Safest way to observe the eclipse is in the comfort of your own living room, in front of the television set.

Most of the television networks will broadcast a time sequence of the eclipse, showing the sun and moon in its many phases, combined with a scientific discussion of a solar eclipse. It is also a sly way of answering your child's questions on the eclipse, especially if you do not know the answer.

In 1959, optometry associations report, that 170 Australians, most of them children, suffered permanent retinal damage and partial loss of vision from watching the eclipse incorrectly. The burn to the retina is irreparable and could be compared to a magnifying glass concentrating heat onto a piece of paper.

One simple method outside of television for watching the eclipse is to make a "projector." This projector is formed of two pieces of white cardboard, one with a pinhole in it to project and focus the image, the other to act as a screen.

165-MINUTE ECLIPSE

For over two hours the moon will partially block out the sun in the eclipse which starts at 12:29 p.m. and after 156 minutes of movement from right to left the eclipse will be completed.

Even though the eclipse falls into the 75 per cent category here, the brilliance of the sun will not be hindered. The sun must be totally blocked out to blacken the earth.

Another partial eclipse will be seen farther north in 1972 and in 1979 a 90 per cent eclipse will pass over southern British Columbia.

Scientifically, an eclipse occurs when the moon passes between the earth and the sun, partially or totally blocking out sunlight. The eclipse can only happen during a new moon. The intersection point of moon and the sun's orbit is called a node, and the moon's orbit is inclined five degrees to the earth's orbit. Because of this difference in orbital inclines total eclipses occur regularly every 19 years. To complicate the prophecy of eclipses, the nodes rotate westward at 19 degrees annually.

Five Young People Praised For Rescue

Nelson RCMP detachment has praised the quick thinking of five young people for saving two Nelson residents from near-tragedy early in July.

Mr. and Mrs. John Learmonth's car overshot the Harrop ferry ramp and landed in the West Arm of Kootenay Lake.

The Learmonth car was about 40 feet from shore when Eric Bredl, 21, of Nelson swam out to assist Mrs. Learmonth. He was followed by Michael Talbot, 15, who also helped in her rescue.

Although she couldn't swim, Mary Anne Phaneux, 17, waded out over her waist to aid the two youths. Bertie Fetchett Jr., 17, and Russell Parson, 17, also gave assistance.

Fred Krown Passes at 78

A Nelson resident, Fred Krown died in Trail Friday, aged 78 years.

Born in Kiev, USSR, he moved to the United States in 1921 and came to Canada three years later to farm at Kamsack, Sask.

He married in Kamsack in 1922 and they moved to Bonnington Falls in 1930 where he worked for Col. Stuart Goode, as a ranch hand.

He came to Nelson in 1947 to work for Kootenay Forest Products until his retirement in 1958. His wife predeceased him the same year.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. John St. Thomas of Nelson.

In the Courts

Evidence, produced in city police court by police, induced a Procter resident to change his plea from not guilty to guilty, for speeding on the Nelson bridge.

Peter Iwanik was fined $10 by Magistrate R. S. Nelson Friday for exceeding the 35-mile-per-hour speed limit on the bridge.

Columbia Bridge Goes Ahead Rapidly

CASTLEGAR — Work is progressing rapidly on the new highway bridge to be built across the Columbia River at Kinnaird.

About 50 men are presently employed on the $2 million project which was awarded to Northern Construction and J. W. Stewart Co., in a joint bid.

The $42,000 CPR overpass was awarded to Vancouver Pile Driving. It is expected to be completed at the end of July. The present tracks will go over this project and car traffic will pass under it.

About 6000 yards of material will be excavated from this underpass to the bridge.

Of the 70-ft.-long pre-stressed concrete test piles, five will be driven into the banks of the Columbia around the first week in August. A load of 240 tons will then be put on one of them to ensure that the driving characteristics of the piles are what they should be.

The piles are being made right on the job. Altogether, 240 piles, 60 for under each of the four pier bases—will be made.

Material excavated from the approach to the bridge is being manufactured into sand and gravel in the crusher on site and this material is then used in a batch plant to make the concrete for piles.

The new bridge is expected to be the second largest pre-stressed concrete bridge in the world and was designed for B.C.'s department of highways by Prof. R. Morandi of Rome, Italy. The world's largest pre-stressed concrete bridge was also designed by Prof. Morandi and is located in Venezuela.

The 1200-foot-long bridge will consist of five prestressed concrete suspended spans each 150 feet long. They will be supported by four reinforced concrete hollow girder sections 14 feet long which are part of four reinforced concrete frames 150 feet high. The pier frames will rest on reinforced pier bases each on 60 prestressed concrete piles.

"Take Church to People"

Theologians Urge More Missionary Work in Church

By ALEXANDER FARRELL

MONTREAL (CP) — Many theologians at the fourth World Conference on Faith and Order believe one of the most urgent tasks facing Christian bodies is to give the ministry the missionary character of the early church.

As the conference sections settled down Friday to the job of drafting reports, church organization at the grass-roots level remained one of the most hotly debated subjects.

The section reports will be submitted to the full conference before it ends July 26. If accepted, they will be sent to member churches — Orthodox and Protestant—for their consideration.

Some of the 300 delegates have taken the view Christianity is in essentially the same missionary position as it was before the Roman Emperor Constantine embraced it in the fourth century.

"We've lost not only imperial favor but also the favor of the common man," said one delegate. "Let's get away from the professional pastor and back to the ministry of tent-makers and fishermen."

PARISH SEEN OBSOLETE

In the working section on the ministry numerous doubts were expressed that the traditional "parish" form of organization—in which one clergyman is attached to a specific congregation—is adequate any longer, especially in the industrial countries of North America and Europe.

There was disagreement, however, as to whether the "professional pastor" ministering to an organized congregation simply needs to be supplemented or to be replaced by something entirely different.

Delegates from such countries as Canada, the United States, Germany and Britain said the parish pattern of church life is largely breaking down because people move about so much and cities are growing so large that the neighborhood in which they happen to live has little meaning in their lives.

As for the small Christian communities of Africa and Asia, delegates from those continents said it has seldom been possible to establish the pattern of one minister and one fixed congregation in their midst.

NEED NEW APPROACH

One delegate said the Christian ministry has to re-acquire a missionary character everywhere by reaching people where they work and travel rather than in their homes.

A ministry organized on the parish system seemed "increasingly irrelevant to the real communities in which men live and make their decisions."

For too long there had been a tendency to put churches in places "where they can be supported in the style to which they have become accustomed" rather than where they could render service.

Reporters have been admitted to section and sub-section meetings on condition that they not quote speakers by name without express permission.

A delegate appealing for a clear distinction between the ordained ministry and "the ministry of the whole people" said: "There should be a recognized role for a non-professional form of ministry, comprising people who perform pastoral work for the church while doing secular jobs such as a farmer, a school teacher in a village, or a factory worker."

Gaglardi Promises Grass, Flowers

TRAIL — Hon. P. A. Gaglardi promised beautiful things when commenting Wendesday on the possible effect upon Trail's beautification program of benchside damage during construction of the scheduled arterial link between Highway No. 3A through Glenmerry and the new Columbia bridge.

He promised grass and probably flowers for East Trail benchsides which will be gouged.

It was also understood Wednesday that the sides of the bench upon which Trail's promised provincial building will stand, are to be beautified.

Mr. Gaglardi disclosed Wednesday he had given instructions for beautification work on both sides of the new Trail bridge to begin immediately.

He said he had instructed regional engineer Don Martin of Nelson to carry out whatever work was needed to beautify land and fill at the side of both east and west approaches to the bridge.

"The work is to begin as soon as they can get at it," said the minister.

Following talks with Mayor Joseph Palyga and affected residents, Mr. Gaglardi said he had tentatively established a March 31 deadline for removal of Rossland Avenue homeowners whose property is being acquired for highway construction purposes.

Earlier, the department had set a three-months deadline, expiring at the end of October this year.

However, it became apparent to the minister Wednesday that road construction could not begin until spring, in view of urban redevelopment and other phases of Rossland Abenue reconstruction still to be worked out.

Koolaree Echoes

Today was Sunday, and we took the day off as usual — no crafts, no Bible study, and no chapel. In their place we had an extra 50 minutes of sleep and a church service led by director Cal Moen. His sermon, on courage, must have been good, because no one said anything on the way back to our cabins.

In the afternoon we held the annual Big Chief - Little Chief softball game. The leaders won of course. Umpire Sheila "Wiggy" Wait narrowly escaped a dunking due to her being drenched with five buckets of water. Stuys Sun God says she goes in though. Also, a Duck Neil Daily Club has been formed.

Dinner was delicious (that is normal), but tonight it was something special—turkey, with all the trimmings. The turkeys were ably dissected by "Tacky" Foxall, "Wiggy," Gordon Titsworth and Cam Ellison, who has been chasing something else to dissect it—a rat.

Campfire was devoted to Negro spirituals and Cabin 3's production of "Joseph." It seems that leaders didn't want to stop and kept singing until long after lights out.

Another cloudy day. This time it was worse. It poured half the morning, but let off long enough to hold the land sports. The results were as follows:

Dash—Daly (4), Sommerville (2) Richardson (3); shot-put—Christie (2) 27' 4", Irvine (3) 26' 8", Leaman (4) 23' 6"; broad jump— (standing)—Daly (4) 6' 10", Irvine (3) 6' 1", Christie (2) 6' 0"; softball throw Dowkes (4.); cross country — — Leaman (4), Albright (2), Cabin 2 — 4:05, Cabin 4 — 4:31, Cabin 3 — 4:35; egg throw — Colbert and Dowkes (5), Filleul and R. Sommerville (2), Ellison and Longridgen (3); hop, step and jump — Daly (4) 19' 3", Sommerville (2) 18' 8", Irvine (3) 18' 2"; football throw — Christie (2), Teaman (4), Irvine (3); time guessing — Brothers (2), Colbert (5), Turner (5); totals — Cabin 2—32, Cabin 3—11, Cabin 4—30, Cabin 5—13.

Individual stars were Daly—15, Christie—11, Leaman—9 R. Sommerville—9, Irvine—8. In addition to placing in the most events, Freddy Irvine gained 8 of his cabin's 11 marks.

Tonight was talent night, and we heard from Dale Edey, the Neighbours Four — Neil Daly, Harry Christie, Clinton Ellison and leader Cam Ellison, Neil Daly and Gerry McKinnon, Bill Christie, to say nothing of 4's skits. After cocoa and cookies we were quite ready for bed.

Cabin 3 continues to hold on by a slim margin in tables and cabins, and Cabin 2 holds a close lead in total points.

IDENTIFY BODY

HOLLAND LANDING, Ont. (CP)—A woman's bruised and nearly nude body, discovered in a shallow grave Thursday three miles from here, has been identified as that of Mrs. Becky Hume, 32, of Toronto. Coroner Stewart Noble said death was not caused by violence. Frank West, 23, his brother George, 22, Kenneth Miller, 17, and his brother Alvin, 34, all of this community 30 miles north of Toronto, have been charged with offering an indignity to a corpse.

No Solution Yet for Castlegar Hospital X-Ray Interpretation Problem

CASTLEGAR — The present system of submitting x-ray film from Castlegar and District Hospital to Nelson for interpretation will be continued for at least this year, it was disclosed at a meeting of the Castlegar Hospital Board Thursday night.

This situation will continue until a radiologist settles in this area to practise.

The termination of radiological services at the hospital came into effect in December, 1962, thought to be the best solution in consideration of an $11,800 deficit in the hospital's operations, administrator John McGilp said.

Mr. McGilp also mentioned that during this time patients requiring fluorescent examination have been going to Nelson or Trail hospitals.

Meanwhile it was learned from the Thursday meeting that an $1100 account outstanding for the last six months will be paid for the referral system. This represents 25 per cent of scheduled charges of each examination. A practising radiologist such as Dr. W. K. Massey of Nelson who had been under contract until December of last year, received 28½ per cent, Mr. McGilp said.

The meeting established that $8000 is budgeted to cover radiological services.

Purchase of a portable grid for x-ray is being considered by the hospital board. Furniture and decorative appointments were earmarked for future donations

Reported by Mrs. F. McGill director of nursing, was that several recent donations had been forthcoming from the trustees, the Robson Women's Institute, and the Women's Auxiliary to the Hospital. Trustees made available $500 for equipment, Robson WI made a donation of $25, the WA made available up to $800.

There were 275 outpatients during June.

Notes From Tweedsmuir

This was another one of those nice sunny mornings. After a good breakfast we went on a ramble. The Scouts laid a trail through the wood, which we had to find by reading signs and by compass.

We arrived at the appointed place and were rewarded by Akela.

We made campfires and enjoyed weiners, pop, cookies and bananas.

After lunch, games and stories we went back to camp to finish our projects and after projects we had our swim. period.

After supper Akela brings out the lost and found box so all the Cubs can find any of their lost articles. It is amazing what some Cubs can lose. After the small box was reclaimed, the Scouts brought in a larger box, apparently full of towels. Akela asked Baloo to hand out the lost articles from the big box.

Baloo gave the boys a lecture first on how to take better care of all their clothes, and as he lifted the first towel from the box, he was suddenly startled as he saw movement in the box. Cabin 6 was overjoyed for Baloo had found their cabin leader (Chil the kite) in the box.

There were no sports yesterday, we played games instead.

Today cabin 6 won cabins and cabin 3 won tables. The rest of the Cubs are doing their best.

In sports today cabin 5 and 8 tied in soccer, cabins 2 and 4 tied in volleyball and cabin 1 beat cabin 6 in funball.

Mang (K. Lane) and Mowgli (W. Eastcott) attended campfire in their spectacular robes and led us in some good Cub songs. A good day was had by all.

SHADA.

Can EFTA and the ECM Co-Operate?

A great deal has been heard of ECM, the European Common Market, and especially of President de Gaulle's stand against Britain's admittance. Less frequently in the news is the association of nations called EFTA, the European Free Trade Association.

The Association is made up of nations outside the Common Market. Most of these are agricultural countries and only Britain is dominantly a manufacturing nation. There appears to be no dominant nation in the association and no possible rivalry between two nations as there may be with France and Germany. For this reason free trade between the nations in the association may be easier to achieve than in the Common Market.

However, trade patterns are changing. Agricultural countries develop manufactures and new manufacturing areas are developing throughout the world. One has only to contemplate the fact that Japan has become a leading manufacturing nation and Hong Kong a remarkable exporting centre to realize this. What is not so obvious is that the consumers in every country are ready and anxious to buy the kind of goods they desire whatever their origin. It is scarcely remarkable today that carrots grown in Arizona are sold in Britain along with the sub-tropical products of this continent.

All this is an indication that trade knows no boundaries and that ideally there should be no hindrances in the shape of tariffs or other excluding devices. The EFTA seeks to promote free trade. As the Minister of Foreign Affairs for Denmark says in an editorial in the EFTA Bulletin, "The establishment of one comprehensive European market organizations one of the principal objectives of the European Free Trade Association." This objective has not been reached because of the opposition of General de Gaulle to Britain's entry into the Common Market. But fundamentally it is due to the fact that agriculture and manufacturing interests are not compatible.

Thus Europe is today divided with little sign of it ever being one economic unity. This perhaps is just as well since the Common Market shows signs of developing into a power block.

At the same time the integration of the nations of Europe politically seems to be farther off than before, however far ECM may have gone in that direction. Unless all nations of Europe unite economically under free trade that objective will never be realized. Meanwhile EFTA is working towards that end with its consultative committee recently in session in Lisbon. It hopes to bring about co-operation with ECM though still concerned largely with problems within the association.

How Not To Write a "Life"

The bogus name-dropper may be irritating. It is only when he takes to writing biographies that he becomes a menace.

"My Darling Clementine" by Jack Fishman, is a book about Sir Winston Churchill's wife. Her son Randolph calls it "meretricious, inaccurate, implausible, intrusive and impertinent." In the Spectator (London) he backs this judgment with a list of mistakes filling three columns — a far from complete list, he says.

Fishman goes wrong with names, places and dates. What most infuriates the younger Churchill is evidently the U.S. author's pretended familiarity with "Winston" and "Clemmie", their personal affairs and Chartwell, their house in Kent.

Sir Winston has never worn pyjamas. Nobody in the family calls him "Daddy." He does not demand the installation of a bath in airplanes he boards. Chartwell is built of brick, not stone. There are no flagstones in it. It has 11 bedrooms, not 19.

These are a few of Randolph Churchill's corrections. To cite a howler Fishman could have checked on a map, there is no "glorious view of the Mediterranean" from Marrakesh because Marrakesh is 300 miles from the sea and behind a spur of the Atlas Mountains.

So much for Fishman's obviously third-hand account of a famous household. His critic comments: "This trend in cheap biographies should be resisted by all responsible publishers."

The Moon

If anyone besides the venerable National Geographic Society had mentioned it, we would say it was so much moonshine. But there it is in the Geographic's own official news bulletin: the world is littered with moon dust.

Scientists, the bulletin says, are spending millions of dollars on rockets to expore the moon. But all they need do is "simply step outside their laboratory door and scoop up bits of the moon for testing."

Here's how they explain the moon dust. The moon has no atmosphere to shield it from meteors which smash unhindered into its surface, The meteors displace huge chunks of moon as they create craters.

Some fragments of moon are hurled off so fast they escape its gravity which is only one-sixth that of the earth. Captured by the earth's gravity, the fragments fall gently all around us.

Scientists and the National Geographic may think moon particles are pretty exciting things. But think of the poor housewife. She has enough to do sweeping up the debris left by her own family without taking on the moon too. The thought must leave her exhausted and depressed. — Ottawa Journal

Fallen Cook

Those who have served in the army may doubt if there is such a thing as a good army cook. There seems a penchant for selecting a mechanic or a truck driver and convincing him that he can cook.

That, of course, is an unfair appraisal. There have been some fine cooks in the armies of this and other countries. This is illustrated by a court martial in Britain.

It involved the head cook of the 1st Batallion for the Grenadier Guards. He had served wartime meals to personages such as King George VI, Sir Winston Churchill and President (then General) Eisenhower, and had won high praise from each for his culinary art.

He was reduced to the ranks after twenty-five years of honorable service, for having stolen from the sergeant's-mess. Old army cynics may suggest that, if he were a good army cook, obviously there must have been something else wrong with him.

Scientists Gather for Brief Look at Eclipse

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

For the first time since 1932, Canadians will have a chance today to view an eclipse of the sun.

The spectacular scientific show will be brief, from the start of the eclipse over Japan at dawn to 5:44 p.m. EDT on the Maine coast, about three hours later. And only in a 60-mile wide strip across Alaska, Canada and Maine will the eclipse be total.

The strip in Canada is mostly unpopulated. Some representative points are Fort Providence in the Northwest Territories, 600 miles north of Edmonton; Wivenhoe, Man., 620 miles north of Winnipeg; Moose River Crossing, Ont., 160 miles north of Timmins; Troise-Rivieres, Que. and Cape Sable on the southeastern tip of Nova Scotia.

The eclipse is caused by the moon passing between the sun and the earth, thus blocking the solar rays.

WILL TRAIL SHADOW

One group of scientists, including astronaut Malcolm S. Carpenter, plans to trail the eclipse's shadow by jet plane as it races across Canada at 1,800 miles an hour.

From points in North America, rockets will be fired to herald the start of the eclipse—which will last a maximum 100 seconds in any one place. Radio beams from earth will also be focused on it.

A group of University of Maine scientists plans to study the behavior of mosquitoes during the blackout. Others will study birds and wildlife.

Pictures of the cloud cover are to be taken from the United States' Tiros VI weather satellite, while radiowaves will come under the scrutiny of the Canadian-built Alouette satellite.

---

DAUPHIN, Man. (CP) — A train load of amateur star gazers paused here Thursday night enroute to Wivenhoe in northern Manitoba to view Saturday's eclipse of the sun.

The 125 to 130 travellers came from all over Canada, the United States and even Denmark to be directly in the 60-mile-wide path of the total eclipse as it passes from west to east across Canada.

There is a professional scientific group from the University of Illinois about eight miles away, at Willbeach, but all of the group at Wivenhoe are amateurs.

Dr. John Scatliffe of Winnipeg, past-president of the Manitoba branch of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada and medical director of Winnipeg's Misericordia Hospital said the amateurs will see the bright red chromosphere or outer edge of the sun, the many prominences formed by escaping gases and the seldom observed pearly-white corona.

BLOTS OUT SUN

He said that only during an eclipse, when the moon blots out the intensely hot and bright centre of the sun, are these phenomena visible.

He said there are two other phenomena of great interest to astronomers—the diamond ring and Bailey's beads.

Bailey's beads are pinpoints of light encircling the moon as it starts to slip past the sun. "They are the sun shining past the mountain peaks of the moon," he said.

The diamond ring is the first, intensely bright edge of the sun as it appears with the passing of the moon from between the earth and sun.

Most of the astronomers on the trip will be attempting to photograph the sun through their telescopes. The R.A.S.C. is also planning to use its four inch refractor telescope to beam an enlarged image of the eclipse on a movie screen, from which photographs may be taken without the use of filters or any other apparatus.

A RARE CHANCE

Much of the excitement of the eclipse is engendered by the fact it will be the first visible in inhabited parts of Canada since 1932 and the last until July 10, 1972. The 1972 eclipse will be only one of five expected to be visible from inhabited areas of the earth from now until the year 2005.

As well as the two observation projects in Manitoba, the Dominion Observatory, the National Research Council, the University of Saskatchewan, Oxford University and the RCAF are co-operating in a project to view the sight from an aircraft following the sun at 400 miles an hour at an altitude of 30,000 feet. This is being done to obviate the chance of weather blotting out any sighting from the ground. The plane, at 30,000 feet, will be well above the effects of any weather.

In addition, groups will be concentrated in southern Quebec between Montreal and Quebec City where the total eclipse shadow is expected to pass.

All that now is needed for the happiness of all is a clear sky, at least for the 90 seconds during which the sun, moon and earth will be in line.

No Safe Way To View Eclipse

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Society for the Prevention of Blindness takes the position that there is no safe way to look directly at the eclipse of the sun today. It urges indirect viewing. Other eye specialists say a direct look can be safe, but only if the filter protecting your eyes is dense enough.

All warn against using sunglasses or a piece of smoked glass. Welders' goggles vary so much they also are not endorsed generally.

Some astronomers recommend looking through three thicknesses of black and white film which has been fully exposed to daylight and then developed to maximum density. The society for the prevention of blindness disagrees, saying everyone may not follow these directions well enough.

For safe viewing, says the archives of opthalmology, filters of no less than No. 4 density (or shade No. 10) should be used.

The great danger is that the retina, or screen of the eye, will be burned by infra-red or heat rays from the sun. There is no pain, but the burn can scar the retina, and this may create a black spot in central vision at whatever the eye looks at.

There is no remedy.

In Australia, 170 persons, mostly children, are reported to have suffered retinal burns during a 1959 eclipse.

Indirect viewing will show the moon moving across the sun's face, blocking the sun to greater or lesser degree depending upon the viewer's locality. One method is to let the image of the sun be projected through a hole in a piece of cardboard onto white paper. The viewer keeps his back to the sun.

The sun's image can be projected in similar fashion through binoculars or telescopes—but don't look at the sun through them.

Tax Proposal May Slow But Not Stop Economy

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

Canada apparently will have financial virtue forced upon her by President Kennedy's tax proposals—if they are adopted by Congress—and may not like the retreat from her high-stepping past.

Slowing down to the influx of foreign money, about which Canadians have talked so much, will be done for Canada, at least so far as American capital is concerned—and perhaps Canada will get a better idea of how essential it has been.

The process will hurt in places.

The ramifications of the proposals are hard to assess, and most sources are slow to comment on them, but at first glance here are what look like "hurt" spots:

A slow-down in Canadian stocks; higher cost for any borrowing in the United States; presumably higher costs for money in Canada; possible difficulty in financing new large projects.

SUBSIDIARIES UNHURT

Here are some things, however, which the taxes don't do:

They don't apply to investments by American parent companies in Canadian subsidiaries; they don't apply to short-term borrowing under three years; they don't interfere with present holdings of Canadian securities by Americans.

Particularly, so far as can be seen at the moment, they don't appear to have much effect upon the day-to-day workings of the Canadian economy as a whole; nor on its efforts, for instance, to make our industry more efficient and our products more competitive at home and abroad.

In brief, they don't knock down any bricks, though they might slow down the putting in place of new ones.

EFFECT UNCERTAIN

Virtually no immediate attempt was made by observers to assess the amount by which the American flow of capital into Canada might be reduced. This flow has been the chief means by which we have financed the deficit in our international balance-of-payments.

If the drop is sufficient, and Canada doesn't pick it up in some other way, severe steps can be envisaged in such fields as possible foreign exchange control or controls against imports.

Over-all, a key question for Canadians, as for Americans, is:

"Are the steps proposed by President Kennedy necessary for American financial and economic stability?"

If they are, presumably Canadians must face up to any consequences they may bring, for American stability and prosperity are necessary to Canada's.

Interpreting the News

By JOSEPH MacSWEEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

If Red China is having difficulties with the Soviet Union, it appears to be gaining a measure of influence with another, pro-Western country: Pakistan.

Pakistan has been sending out warnings of unhappiness over Western policies for some time and the latest of these was a parliamentary speech by Foreign Minister Z. A. Bhutto.

The immediate cause of Pakistan's discontent is the military aid provided by Western countries — especially the United States and Britain—to India because of its border troubles with Communist China.

Without naming names, Bhutto left the clear implication in his Wednesday speech that he expects Peking will come to Pakistan's aid if it should be attacked by India over disputed Kashmir or for any other reasons.

Another indication of growing accord between Red China and Pakistan is the proposal for an airline link between the two countries. The United States, it is believed, raised Pakistani hackles by saying such a move would be "an unfortunate breach of free world solidarity."

This came on top of Pakistan's standing protest that Western military supplies to India might be used not only for defence against Red China but for offence against Pakistan, regardless of what provisions were made against it.

It is apparent Pakistan feels that although through the years it has been a committed ally of the West—being a member of two military pacts—the U.S. and Britain are willing to ignore her arguments against India.

India, which remained aloof from both the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization and the Central Treaty Organization, was able to obtain massive Western aid merely by—in Pakistani eyes—saying please.

President Kennedy and Prime Minister Macmillan had at first said that arms aid to India would be short-term and limited to $120,000,000. But at their recent meeting they decided to give long-term military and economic aid.

Observers in London feel it is not surprising that in these circumstances Pakistan should seek some support in Peking, or try to give the West and India the impression it is doing so.

Construction Industry In Canada Termed Lazy

VANCOUVER (CP) — Paul Cote feels the biggest trouble with Canada's ailing construction industry is laziness, particularly when it comes to looking for work outside the country.

Mr. Cote, president of Jones-Cote Construction Ltd., has already gone a long way toward showing his colleagues what's possible. The Vancouver dredging firm has just landed a big share of a $7,500,000 job in East Africa.

"We were aware of this contract, we chased it and we got it," he said.

"The construction industry locally is, let us say, 'not in good shape.'

"Others will tell you flatly that it is sick."

He said former trade minister George Hees was right in scolding Canadian businessmen for not chasing business opportunities overseas.

"The work is available abroad," he said. "But you have to get it."

He said his partner, George Jones, recently returned from a reconnaisance trip to Africa and the Orient.

"Everywhere he went he found German contractors, Americans, Dutch and English. But he didn't run into one Canadian."

Mr. Jones had found a lot of interest in the possibility of Canadian firms bidding for major construction jobs.

"Canadians are well thought of abroad, particularly in Malaysia."

TRYING FOR ANOTHER

He said Jones-Cote is already in the midst of negotiations toward a second big overseas contract but declined to give details.

The East African job was won in competition with a major Dutch firm.

The project, being shared with Paul Smith Construction Co. of Tampa, Fla., involves a huge harbor development in isimaio, 36 miles south of the Equator in Somalia. Capital is being supplied under a United States aid program.

Paul Smith Construction will do the concrete work on the harbor and Jones - Cote the dredging and rockfill. Mr. Cote estimates his firms share of the total contract at about two-thirds.

Jones - Cote and Paul Smith Construction will share the cost of a $750,000 dredge that will be transported to Tampa from Arkansas, tested, and towed on a barge to Somalia. Other equipment has already left New York by freighter.

Jones - Cote will supply 30 men from its Vancouver operations for the 15-month project.

Mr. Cote said the Kisimaio harbor will be only the second in 700 miles of Somalia coastline. It will be capable of handling four freighters at a time.

10 Tried, Executed In Syria Uprising

By WEBB McKINLEY

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Maj.-Gen. Amin Hafez, the Syrian Army strong man, announced Friday 10 persons implicated in an uprising Thursday against Syria's Ba'athist socialist government have been tried and executed.

Radio Damascus broadcast Hafez's statement after a new curfew was clamped on the entire country and Syrians were warned to stay inside or be shot. The revolt had seemed to have pro-Nasser overtones.

A colonel identified as Hisham Shabib, five non-commissioned officers and four civilians were tried by a court-martial formed by the National Revolutionary Council and executed, the radio said. All the soldiers were from the army signal corps.

Hafez, who is deputy military governor, interior minister, deputy premier, defence minister and army chief of staff, warned that disturbers of the peace must be punished. He said the court was still in session.

USUALLY BLOODLESS

The executions were the first such in Damascus to follow a coup or attempted coup in more than 10 years. Syria's eight post-war revolutions have been almost bloodless.

Hafez reminded Syrians of the ban against demonstrations or the carrying of arms. International telephone lines were cut again. Syria's borders remained closed.

There was still no official report on casualties in the battle Thursday. Beirut newspapers, often given to exaggerating Syrian events, estimated up to 200 were killed.

The Syrian national revolutionary command, which has run the country since the Ba'athist coup last March 8, accused "groups and individuals . . . both inside and outside the country" of plotting Thursday's attempt to overthrow the government.

Births, Marriages Down; Deaths Up

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian births and marriages in June and the first six months of the year declined from totals in the corresponding 1962 periods, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics said Friday.

Deaths were down in the month but up in the half-year period.

Births in June declined to 37,409 from 40,239 in June, 1962, while marriages eased to 9,889 from 10,854 and deaths to 11,345 from 11,962.

In the six months, births declined to 233,618 from 235,784 and marriages to 46,747 from 47,846. Deaths rose to 76,608 from 73,606.

Refugee Ruled Rentals

By CAROL KENNEDY

LONDON (CP)—The spectre of a dead Polish refugee arose this week to reveal a slum property racket in London that would have disgraced the Chicago of Al Capone.

The picture of a near-gangster slyly managing to operate within the law emerges from the story of "Polish Peter" Rachman, who bought up seedy stretches of West London and made £1,000,000 ($3,000,000) by rent extortion and terrorist tactics.

Now, stimulated by a searching BBC television inquiry Monday, a Labor peer and a Labor MP are urging government action to stamp out the evil empire Rachman has apparently bequeathed to a number of faceless heirs.

Rachman, onetime lover of Christine Keeler and her friend Mandy Rice-Davies, died Nov. 29, six months before Miss Keeler's association with former war minister John Profumo exploded with such far-reaching effects.

His activities came to light as an offshoot of evidence given at the recent committal hearing of osteopath Stephen Ward, due for trial July 22 on vice charges.

TENANTS IN FEAR

The baby-faced property magnate made money from tenants herded into slum dwellings and kept in fear by his personal strongarm men.

He filtered his fortune out of the country into a number of Swiss bank accounts, evading tax.

Always managing to operate within the rickety structure of the property laws, Rachman would buy up houses cheaply at the end of their leases and pack them with West Indian immigrants who could find no other home and were forced to pay his exorbitant rents.

He would frighten people out of rooms he wanted for his own tenants by sending in thugs to beat them up or make life unbearable by installing prostitutes as their neighbors.

To evict some unprofitable tenants he once had the entire roof ripped off a house.

METHODS CONTINUE

The truth seems to be that his methods have been taken over by several anonymous men hiding behind a complex web of investment companies.

They wield real power. Some of the BBC's informants were too frightened to appear on the TV screen. Also, as The Daily Mirror says in an editorial, the men "know the law inside out" and "use it for their own squalid ends."

They will be difficult to prosecute. But Labor MP Ben Parkin of North Paddington, one of Rachman's most profitable colonies, has been accumulating evidence. Nexxt week he will also ask Parliament to frame new legislation to flush out the racketeers and to give local authorities more power over elusive landlords.

The problem partly involves rent control, a touchy topic for Tories, since they were responsible in 1957 for lifting the socialists' restrictions from landlords.

Another tricky aspect is the inflated value of London land, often £30,000 ($90,000) an acre, which plays into the hands of slum profiteers and prevents local councils from developing much-needed housing.

Today In History

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

July 20, 1963 . . .

A bomb attempt on Adolf Hitler's life failed 19 years ago today—in 1944—as the last remnants of the German "opposition" sought to perform a coup d'etat. The fact that he had escaped death was not known to the conspirators who set about implementing their plan. They were quickly rounded up and executed. Hitler was frightened by the attempt and instituted his last and most savage purge in which thousands of persons were shot.

1942 — HMCS Huron, a tribal class destroyer, was launched.

1943—Canadian and U.S. troops captured Palermo, the Sicilian capital.

CMVA Auxiliary Names Coast Woman Head

SASKATOON (CP) — Mrs. C. J. Morris of New Westminster was elected president of the Women's Auxiliary of the Canadian Veterinary Medical Association at the group's annual meeting here Wednesday.

Past president is Mrs. E. C. Eddy of Calgary.

Also elected were: first vice-president, Mrs. M. Abelseth, Willowdale, Ont.; second vice-president, Mrs. J. R. English, Winnipeg; third vice-president, Mrs. A. B. Kelly, Charlottetown; treasurer, Mrs. F. J. Zeman, Davidson, Sask.; secretary, Mrs. J. N. See, Malton, Ont.; historian, Mrs. E. L. Brown, Moose Jaw.

A resolution concerning changes in the auxiliary's student loan fund was passed without discussion.

The fund, which now totals $38,870, is the main project of the auxiliary. It was established to make funds available to veterinary students.

The resolution asked that loans be made available to second and third-year students in addition to those in fourth and fifth year.

Baby Hair Seal Enjoys Company

VICTORIA (CP) — A baby hair seal who adopted four boys camping on a beach in nearby Sooke has joined about 200 other varieties of fish in the Undersea Gardens in Victoria.

The boys — Dennis, Chris and Gwen Perry and Ron Canavan — were camping on the beach Thursday when the 15 - pound seal climbed into their boat.

The seal stayed with them and followed them to sea when they went fishing.

Taken to the Undersea Gardens, an acquarium in-reverse where customers watch fish in an inclosure from an underwater viewing chamber, the seal immediately took to the divers.

It curled up on one of them, Lynn Menzies, and licked her face.

The Gardens hope to train the seal and raise it to a weight of 50 pounds before weaning it.

A WELL-LOVED CITIZEN of Nelson and longtime United Church worker, Dr. Annie C. Smith was honored by her friends at the tea hour on the occasion of her 96th birthday Wednesday afternoon. With a distinguished record of service as medical missionary. Dr. Smith looks back on the 32 years she worked among native men, women and children at her Punjab hospital, now in Pakistan, as a medical missionary of the Church of Scotland. "Dr. Annie" was awarded the Kaiser-I-Hind medal by the British authorities in India on her retirement in 1928. The doctor was presented Wednesday afternoon with a corsage sent by a friend who was unable to attend the tea, which was held at the home of Mrs. C. M. Coventry, 1716 Stanley Street, Mrs. C. C. Young, Mrs. L. G. Catley and Mrs. J. H. Coventry assisted.

GUARDS WILL STRIKE

LONDON (AP)—Guards at 21 museums and tourist attractions, including the Tower of London, decided Thursday night to strike on Sundays for higher pay. The Civil Service Union said only enough of the 900 guards will report on Sundays to provide internal security, not enough to open the museums to the public on the most popular day of the week at the height of the tourist season.

Ken Blakeman, 508 Fourth Street, has returned after spending the past four months touring England and the Continent. Mr. Blakeman flew from Spokane with Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Brown of that city to Calgary, Edmonton and over the polar route to Amsterdam.

They rented a car and motored through Holland, Belgium, France, Italy (also the state of Lichenstein and the republic of San Marino), Germany, Denmark, Switzerland and Austria, spending six weeks exploring the historic sites, cuisine, shops and colorful spots along the winding and often rugged highways of these European areas They had an audience with the late Pope John in Rome, possibly his last public audience, visited the famous factory at Murano near Venice and despite poor weather and the occasional holdup in finding specific routes, covered nearly 4000 miles. Mr. Blakeman crossed over to England and spent two months there following his continental tour. He visited many museums and historic points there as well as pottery and chinaware factories. He returned to Canada by boat completing his journey home.

Anglican Theological College To Be Topic

This Sunday will be devoted to the Anglican Theological College as topic at St. Saviour's Pro-Cathedral service, announced Rev. T. D. Wilding, priest-in-charge, Friday.

Speaking both in the morning and evening services will be Frank Lippingwell, lay reader at St. Saviour's and a candidate to enter the college this Fall.

Mr. Wilding explained the college has a campaign to raise $750,000 for expansion purposes.

The college, at University of British Columbia, was built 37 years ago for a maximum of 32 students. Today it has an enrolment of 50, and facilities are far short of the minimum required. There is only one small full-time classroom. Another two are being used as a temporary chapel.

The library has room for only 12 people at a time. In one area the stacks are entered by crawling on hands and knees through a hole in the wall. Once inside, a person can't stand erect.

To correct these conditions, plans have been prepared to renovate the present building and to add new facilities to accomodate and house 85 students.

Laymen of British Columbia are at the same time being urged to go out on visitations to "find the lost Anglicans." The last census showed there are more than twice as many Anglicans in B.C. as there are on parish rolls, Mr. Wilding remarked.

Mr. Lippingwell, a resident of Nelson for many years has disposed of his business and at the end of this month will leave for Vancouver with his family to begin his studies for the Anglican priesthood.

London Line Styles Kind to Those With Less-Than-Perfect Figures

By LYNNE EDMUNDS

LONDON (Reuters) — The London Line, taking shape on the second day of the autumn collections Thursday, is essentially flattering to the figure.

The perfectly - proportioned woman may turn up her nose. But her 999 less fortunate sisters will breathe heartfelt thanks for clothes that are kind to their wearers.

Semi-fitted suit jackets and coats indicate the waist without revealing it. Long-line jackets with back-dipping hems pare down the hips. Straight but easy skirts are slimming without being restrictive and stop short at the most flattering leg length—just covering the knee.

The British designers who showed their collections all contributed to this casually flattering look, adding their own subtle variations and using every shade and texture of tweed.

They all chose muted autumn colors for day wear, with an occasional flash of raspberry, turquoise or mustard, and vivid colors or black for evening wear.

Michael showed a suit in a speckled black, brown and white tweed with a long-waisted jacket, belted easily in leather. The shoulder line was soft and wide and the jacket single-breasted.

DEFINES THE WAIST

Charles Creed produced a tailored version of the long-jacket look, with straight-skirted, narrow - sleeved suits that defined the waist.

Norman Hartnell's collection had the usual number of show-stopping evening outfits. Two that drew gasps were a coat and dress in black velvet. The wrap-around coat had a skirt of banded mink, falling from a hip-length velvet top.

The dress was a - simple, full - skirted style with bell-shaped, elbow - length sleeves made completely of mink.

The Queen's dressmaker showed a collection of ball gowns in gold, emerald and blue tissue and satin. The tops, whether strapless or high-necked, had a bolero-effect and the narrow skirts trailed wide, central back panels.

Ireland's John Cavanagh showed a "free form" line—a compromise between the casual and formal. His suit jackets were longer, shoulders wider and sleeves long and tight.

Enjoyed Lack of Discrimination In Canada

CAMBRIDGE, Md. (CP-AP) Negro integration leader Mrs. Gloria Richardson says the kind of atmosphere she wants to live in is the same as in Canada where on a trip she found virtually no discrimination.

While reminiscing about the trip she once made to Canada, she said: "It was the first experience of feeling perfectly normal and human. It was as if a big burden was lifted off my shoulders."

One day Mrs. Richardson, 41, hopes to be a social worker in this eastern shore community, torn by racial strife.

But right now, the slender Negro sees her job as trying to make Cambridge "a place Negroes can live in"—even if it means going to jail as she did Monday night.

Released along with 13 other Negro leaders Monday night after 500 Negroes threatened new mass demonstrations, she immediately announced "we will march a gain" in defiance of a ban imposed by national guardsmen who control the town.

She has been in and out of a jail a number of times for participating in demonstrations ever since Negroes elected her chairman of the Cambridge Non-Violent Action Committee two years ago. Once her mother and 17-year-old daughter were locked up with her.

Patio Becomes Haven For Comfort and Value

One of the easiest and most economical ways to add both comfort and value to your home is to build a patio.

A patio can be as simple or as complex as you want to make it. By using wood, it's possible for a weekend carpenter, using simple tools, to do the whole job himself.

WOOD FOR HARMONY

Flagstones are frequently used for patio floors, but, in some cases, wood will harmonize better with the color and styling of your home. The deck should be laid on a framework of naturally durable or preservatively treated 2x4s partly imbedded in the ground. It's a good idea to put a layer of sand between the ground and the underside of the decking.

Before embarking on the construction job, though, plan the patio carefully. Decide first of all what it will be used for — dining, sun-bathing, reading? Patios also serve, of course, as children's play areas and make ideal settings for summer parties.

Some patios have built-in storage areas which are used for such things as gardening tools and outdoor furniture.

If the family is going to be using the patio at night, you'll probably want to install electric outlets and screening. Sunbathing calls for a patio with a western or eastern exposure. If very young children will be playing in the area, you may want to make it easily visible from the kitchen. Another point to remember in picking a location is that existing walls and fences can provide part or all of the enclosure needed.

If an additional enclosure is desired, it can be built in a number of ways, since one of the big advantages of wood is that it provides almost infinite design variation. You can cut it to satisfy any set of dimensions, shape it or assemble it into a variety of attractive patterns and obtain additional variety through the use of the natural grain by applying paint or stain.

Wood is also easily available and economical. A lumber yard or building materials dealer is probably only a short distance away from where you are right now.

Some very attractive patio enclosures can be built by forming an open lattice of horizontal and vertical 2x4s spaced 6 to 12 ins. apart. Another idea is to build a framework of 2x4s and then panel it on one or both sides.

A patio or sundeck might be free-standing, attached to the house or detached but connected via a series of protected decking walk-ways. Whichever it is to be, consideration must be given to the existing landscaping, property lines and the direction of the sun's rays and the prevailing winds.

And when selecting the actual design of the structure, these factors must also be taken into account. That is, the functional must be considered as well as the aesthetic.

Perhaps, for example, the windward side of the patio, deck or pool ought to be sheltered. Such protection can be achieved by incorporating a distinctive solid lumber screen along the windward side. uy using a latticework design, vertical louvers ar a basket weave design for the screen, protection can be achieved without cutting off the supply of light and air completely.

DECKING PLACEMENT

Whether or not the decking is to be placed directly on the ground or raised is another question that depends largely upon the general lay of the land. It may be constructed either way, but if the yard slopes appreciably, it would be better to raise the decking on posts. Solid lumber is ideally suited to this type of construction.

Modern Home

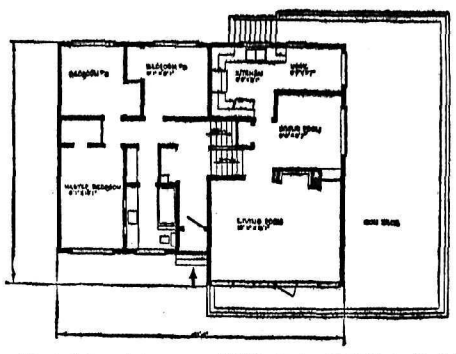
THE BUILDING CENTRE
VANCOUVER, B.C.
PLAN No R/S-11188 FLOOR AREA 1168.5 SQ. FT.



A picture home from every angle, here is split level planning at its very best.

The floor layout shows the dining room as a separate room for formal dining, but the efficiently planned nook includes a nook for dining "en famille". Sloping ceilings with plaster finish are featured throughout the house, but are especially effective in the living room, allowing for large picture windows . . . French door from living room opens to the balcony at the front of the house, balcony continues around the side over the carport for a sundeck and around the back to the kitchen door, an ideal arrangement for serving outdoor meals, on the deck.

Complete privacy for all areas of the house is a feature. There is a recreation room with fireplace under the living areas, which is made possible because in this split level, the bedrooms are on the lower level with the living areas up, which of course, is a factor in the heating of the house. It is scientific knowlelge that heat rises, and thus better control of heating throughout is possible because of the designing of this house.

Although not post and beam, careful attention to design has produced a truly delightful concept of contemporary planning.

Designed for NHA approval, working drawings are available from the Building Centre (B.C.) Ltd. New edition of Select Homes Designs Plan book is now available. Send 50 cents to cover cost of mailing and handling to 96 Kingsway, Vancouver 10, B.C. Plan No. 11188 (copyright No. 117093).

CONDEMN INTEGRATION

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) The Florida Baptist Association has adopted resolutions saying that efforts to force racial integration are morally wrong and condemning the U.S. Supreme Court for outlawing enforced Bible reading in public schools. The association, which took its stand at its annual meeting Thursday, represents 100 churches of Missionary Baptists in Florida.

'ROCKET' EXPLODES

NEW YORK (AP) — Edward Sacco Jr., 13, was making a rocket in the basement of his home. He and a friend opened a carbon dioxide cylinder and packed it full of kitchen match heads Thursday. They had to make a hole for a fuse. Edward put a nail to the cylinder and started pounding. After half a dozen blows the cylinder exploded. He was killed.

WHAT PAINT TO USE WHERE

Here's a quick run-down on the proper paint to use for any interior surface you may be beautifying:

Plaster walls and ceilings — any high quality interior flat paint, oil, alkyd or latex paint. For bathrooms and kitchens, use semi-gloss or gloss enamel paint for greater washability.

Wallboard — seal with primer sealer and then follow with any high quality wall paint.

Hardboard — seal with latex paint, primer sealers, shellac or enamel undercoat. Use any desired topcoat.

Plywood — for an opaque top coat, seal with penetrating resin sealer, flat oil or alkyd paint or enamel undercoat. When dry, apply a second coat. For a natural finish which shows the grain, use a clear penetrating resin sealer, followed by varnish.

Woodwork — semi-gloss enamel in same colors as walls. Full gloss is often used in kitchens and bathrooms.

Howard Clouts Two Homers as L.A. Whips Braves

CLUB CHAMPION — Terry Panton, right, won the Nelson Golf and Country Club's men's title 2 and 1 from Bernie Clarkson in an 18-hole final recently. A 15-foot putt by Panton on the 13th hole and a par five on the 15th made the difference in the match. Clarkson bounced back with an eagle two on the 16th to stay alive, but a par three by both players on the 17th gave Panton the match and the championship.

Dodgers Push Lead; Pirates Down Cubs

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Big Frank Howard, who only gets to play right field when Los Angeles Dodgers face left-handed pitching, made the most of the opportunity Friday night.

In each of his first two trips to the plate, Howard clouted southpaw Bob Hendley's first pitch out of Milwaukee Stadium to start the Dodgers off to a 4-2 victory over the Braves. The win, their 13th in 15 games, widened the Dodgers' National League lead to 7½ games.

Chicago Cubs, beaten 9-4 at Pittsburgh, held second place by a single percentage point to St. Louis Cardinals, who got strong relief pitching from Toronto-born Ron Taylor as they whipped Houston Colts 7-2.

Cincinnati Reds joined San Francisco in fourth place by downing the slumping Giants 5-2 as rookie Tommy Harper drove in all their runs and Philadelphia Phillies got a two-run homer from Roy Sievers in the last of the ninth to nip New York Mets 2-1.

In a rain-curtailed American League bill, Orlando Pena had to score the winning run himself to break a personal eight-game losing streak as Kansas City Athletics edged Baltimore Orioles 2-1.

Don Lock's two-out single in the 13th inning drove in the winning run as the suddenly-surging Washington Senators outlasted Minnesota Twins 6-5.

Pinch hitter Whitey Herzog's two-run double in the eighth inning was the key blow as Detroit Tigers went on a late scoring spree and whipped Los Angeles Angels 10-5.

Rocky Colavito triggered the Tiger comeback with a leadoff homer in the eighth, then after a double by Bill Bruton and a two - out walk to Bill Freehan Herzog smacked his line drive double off loser Art Fowler for a 6-5 Detroit lead.

Norm Cash's single with the bases loaded, a squeeze bunt by Bubba Phillips and Freehan's single drove in the four insurance runs in the ninth.

Willie Smith, Detroit southpaw, registered his first major league victory.

Lock also hit a homer for the Senators' first run, then singled in another run and scored in the eighth when the Senators rallied for four runs and a 5-5 tie.

It was the 11th victory in 14 games for the Senators, last-place club in the American League.

OSTEEN WINS IT

Lefty Claude Osteen, Washington's fifth pitcher, who came on in the 12th, had to fight off a Minnesota rally in the bottom of the 13th to gain credit for his fourth victory in 10 decisions.

Howard's homers scored three runs for the Dodgers.

Don Drysdale scattered six hits, struck out 11 and walked only one in beating Milwaukee.

Third baseman Eddie Mathews' first error in 29 games, a double by Bill Skowron and a two-run single by Ken McMullen completed the Dodgers' scoring against reliever Frank Funk in the seventh.

Taylor, who boosted his record to 5-4, relieved Ernie Broglio with a run in, runners on second and third and one out in the top of the third at St. Louis. He got out of that inning without further damage and held the Colts to four singles and no runs the rest of the way.

COLLECT 16 HITS

Scoring behind pitcher Bob Friend for the first time in four National League games, Pittsburgh banged out 16 hits to down Chicago.

Friend, who had pitched 30 innings wihout having a run scored in his behalf, made sure he would not be blanked again by driving in the first Pittsburg run with a single in the third.

Friend allowed six hits before giving way to Al McBean in the ninth in posting his 11th victory against eight defeats. The loss was charged to Dick Ellsworth, his seventh against 13 victories.

Harper drove in all five Cincinnati runs with two homers and a single and John Tsitouris pitched a four-hitter.

Harper and his fellow rookie, Pete Rose, took care of the Reds' scoring. Harper tagged Billy Pierce for a homer in the first inning after a lead-off single by Rose, homered in the fifth off Pierce following a walk to Rose, then singled Rose home in the seventh after the Cincinnati second baseman had reached first on an error and had stolen second.

Sievers' two-run homer for Philadelphia dealt Roger Craig of New York his 14th straight pitching loss.

Craig now is 2-16. He has not won since April 29.

GETS THE VICTORY

Reliever Jack Baldschun, who pitched the ninth, was credited with the victory.

Doc Edwards hit a home run for the Athletics in the third after the Orioles had taken a 1-0 lead. Pena walked in the fifth, advanced to third on Gino Cimoli's single and an outfield error and scored on Ken Harrelson's sacrifice fly.

Pena worked into the ninth inning when he needed help from John Wyatt after the Orioles put men on first and second with one away. Wyatt retired John Orsino on a foul pop and struck out Jackie Brandt.

Pena had not won a game since May 31 when he defeated Washington Senators. Since May 5 he had pitched only one victory against 13 defeats.

Time for a Decision

By D. S. STEVENSON

A Western International Hockey League meeting will be held at the Union Hotel in Trail at 2:00 p.m. today.

Whether team representatives from Nelson will be among those from Trail, Rossland, Kimberley and Spokane was still in doubt here last night.

The annual problem of senior hockey in Nelson has returned, but it will not be a problem long, unless a decision is made by someone, and made quickly.

If Nelson is planning on entering the league this year, someone had better speak up soon or the Nelson entry will not be accepted by the WIHL.

Today's meeting will see the four member clubs and the league executive at work drawing up the 1963-64 schedule, setting playoff dates and tackling other problems in preparation for an active senior hockey season.

Once this has been accomplished, if Nelson is still out, it won't get in.

This city is no longer absolutely essential to the operation of the WIHL.

Everyone, including the Trail, Rossland, Kimberley and Spokane hockey teams and the WIHL executive is hoping for a Nelson entry, but they won't wait very long.

The apathy and indecision concerning senior hockey shown by this city in the past few years has gone too far.

Now everyone concerned is saying "produce or else," we have a four team league, we will operate with or without you, so make up your mind. It's up to you and its now or never."

The big meeting is today, at 2:00 p.m. in Trail.

Nelson senior hockey enthusiasts, if there really are any, have two weeks at the most to form an operational senior hockey club.

Streit, Harvey Make Finals in Women's Open

By W. R. WHEATLEY

OTTAWA (CP) — Marlene Stewart Streit of Fonthill, Ont., who makes championship-winning a habit, and 20-year-old Gail Harvey of Toronto won their semi-final matches Friday in the Canadian Women's Open Golf Championship and meet today in the 36-hole final.

Mrs. Streit, nine years Gail's senior, was too consistent for Joanne Riddell of Montreal, whose own miscues down the back nine helped to widen the margin. Joanne bowed out 5 and 4.

Miss Harvey, University of Toronto student, won 4 and 3 over 29-year-old Mrs. J. M. Netterfield of Winnipeg whose home club, Niakwa, is in St. Vital.

WORK NEARING COMPLETION ON CLUBHOUSE

Construction of the Nelson Golf and Country Club's new clubhouse is progressing as planned and the building is expected to be in use by August 15 it was reported Friday.

Leo Atwell, club president, said most of the work has been completed with the exception of a "patio type verandah" which is the next stage of the building program, when this is completed, landscaping of the area immediately surrounding the structure will begin.

There is also some work still to be done on the lower floor of the building as well as most of the interior finishing which will begin next week.

Official opening of the building is tentatively scheduled for the Labor Day weekend.

OLAFSSON LEADS GRAND MASTERS CHESS TOURNEY

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Fridrik Olafsson of Iceland moved into the lead after the 10th round of the 14-round Piatigorsky cup international grand master chess tournament Thursday night by beating Samuel Reshevsky of the United States.

Olafsson forced Reshevsky to resign in the 38th move, and the Icelander took the lead from Svetolar Gligoric of Yugoslavia who adjourned his game with Miguel Najdorf of Argentina, after 40 moves.

Pal Benko of the United States and world champion Tigran Petrosian of the Soviet Union also adjourned after 40 moves.

Paul Keres of the Soviet Union had a superior position when he and Oscar Panno of Argentina adjourned after 41 moves.

Standings: Olafsson 5½-3½; Gligoric 4½-2½; Keres 4½-3½; Najdorf 4½-4½; Reshevsky 4½-5½; Petrosian 4-4; Panno 3½-5½; Benko 3-5.

Gary Player Out of PGA Play; Hart Holds Lead

By WILL GRIMSLEY

DALLAS (AP)—Dark horse Dick Hart, the expectant young father waiting for the telephone to ring, overcame steamy heat and mounting pressure Friday and held his lead in the Professional Golfers Association championship with a four-under-par 36-hole score of 66-72—138.

The game's greatest champions fired and fell back in a day of scorching, 100-degree heat at the 7,046-yard, par 71 Dallas Athletic Club course.

Defending champion Gary Player of South Africa, his driver wild and his putter cold, blew himself out of contention with a 74-75—149.

Arnold Palmer, the sport's outstanding gate attraction and No. 1 favorite, failed to snap a tenacious slump in shooting a second round 73 for 147—nine shots back of the unshakeable young pace-setter.

LEADS BY THREE

Going into Saturday's third round with the field reduced to the low 75 players and ties, the 27-year-old Hart had a three-stroke advantage over U.S. Open champion Julius Boros, Tony Lema and Shelley Mayfield, tied at 141.

Another stroke back at 142 were Masters champion Jack Nicklaus, fighting an unwieldy putter; scattershot Doug Ford, the Canadian Open champion, and a transplanted Spaniard, Miguel de la Torre of Milwaukee.

The dry Texas heat was so searing that former Open champion Jack Fleck, Don Fairfield and Jim Ferree quit midway through the second round.

"This is like the Sahara Desert," said Fairfield, as he dropped out at the 12th hole.

"I would like to go somewhere and hide for three weeks," said Palmer, the all-time leading money winner seeking the only major title he has not won. "I am tired, hot and disgusted with myself."

HART KEEPS GOING

Hart, a shy, good - looking young man whose wife is back in Hinsdale, Ill. momentarily expecting their second child, refused to be upset by the scorching sun or the blistering pressure from the game's name stars.

Starting with a three-stroke lead after firing a sensational opening round 66 — which included a hole-in-one on the 16th hole—he didn't miss a shot until the eighth where he overdrove the green and chipped short.

He lost another shot at the 10th but rapped in a birdie at the 206-yard 13th, where he put his tee shot eight feet from the pin, and marched home like a potential champion.

It was different for Boros, Mayfield, Nicklaus, Lema, Ford and Australia's Bruce Crampton. One by one, they collapsed.

PUTTER GOES SOUR

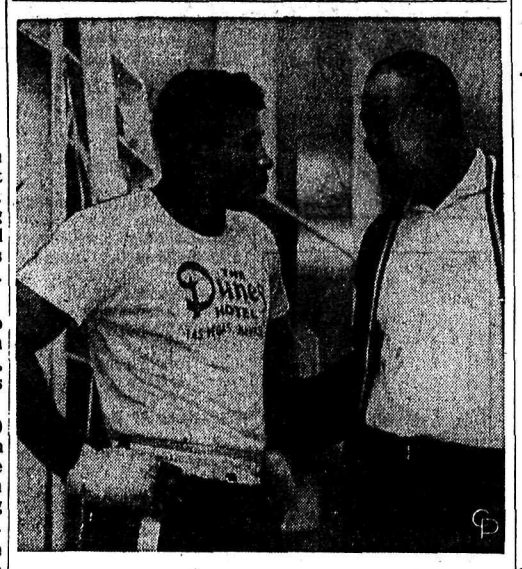
Nicklaus' usually reliable putter was just another slab of cold and defiant steel. The chubby Masters king, playing remarkably from tee to green, three-putted three greens, took a total of 39 putts and wound up with a score of 73.

Ford, after an opening 70, shot a 72 that defied description. He was in the rough on 13 of the 18 fairways and he one-putted eight greens. He was pressing for the lead until he went two over par at the par-three 13th where he overdrove the green into a trap, blasted into the thick fringe, chipped short and two-putted.

Mason Rudolph, a bespectacled young pro from Tennessee's tobacco belt, was even with Hart through the eighth hole of the second round, but three-putted the 10th, took a six at the 13th where he buried his tee shot in the sand, and wound up with a 75 for 144.



AS ONE EX-CHAMP TO ANOTHER—Two former heavy champs, Floyd Patterson (left) and Joe Louis, talk it over at Las Vegas, Nev., where Floyd is training for his July 22 bout with Sonny Liston, the champ.

Liston, Patterson Have No Rematch Obligations

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—A minor hassle involving the gloves to be used Monday night when Sonny Liston defends the heavyweight title against ex-champ Floyd Patterson flared up during Friday's meeting of the Nevada State Athletic Commission.

Dan Florio, Patterson's chief trainer, objected when he learned that the fighters would be able to wear any make of glove they wished as long as they weighed the required eight ounces.

Liston planned to use the foam rubber Frager gloves and Patterson expected to use the horsehair - packed Everlast gloves that were used in their first fight last Sept. 25 at Chicago.

"This is the first time I ever heard of fighters being allowed to use different makes of gloves in a title fight," said the veteran trainer.

The outcome was that Florio said: "We'll use the Frager gloves, too."

Original sets of the Frager gloves did not meet the weight requirements but new sets were en route from Chicago.

COULD HURT FLOYD

"I don't care if they wear golf gloves," said Jack Nilon, manager of Liston, the 4-to-1 favorite. If the Chicago-made gloves punch, Patterson could be in trouble. Using the other make, Liston belted him out in two minutes and six seconds of the first round last Sept. 25.

The Nevada Athletic Commission waived the three knockdown rule and announced that the automatic eight-count will be used in the title fight. A ruling that might help Patterson, who is usually on the canvas, even in winning fights. (He went down seven times in the third round when he lost the title to Ingemar Johansson.)

Jim Deskin, executive secretary of the commission, told reporters that there positively was no rematch agreement this time, either oral or written. Both fighters had been requested to sign papers that there was no further obligation for future bouts.

Rodriguez, Moyer Sign for Fight

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Two recently - deposed world boxing champions — Luis Rodriguez and Denny Moyer — were signed Friday for a 10-round fight Aug. 17 at Miami Beach Convention Hall.

Rodriguez, a Cuban who lives in Miami, lost his welterweight title to Emile Griffith on a split decision in New York last month.

Moyer, from Portland, Ore., has lost twice this year — both times to Ralph Dupas and both times with the junior middleweight crown at stake.

BROCKVILLE, Ont. (CP) — Yvon Durelle, one - time Canadian and British Empire light-heavyweight champion, suffered a concussion when he was thrown out of the ring during a wrestling match here Friday night.

The 33-year-old former Baie Ste. Anne, N.B., fisherman was knocked unconscious when he fell on his head.

He regained consciousness in hospital before being taken to the emergency ward for X-rays.

Dr. J. W. McDougall said Durelle suffered concussion and a possible broken collar bone. He would not comment on the extent of the injury until he had viewed the X-rays.

League Leading Texans Host Trail Nine Sunday

Nelson Texans, Kootenay Junior Baseball League leaders, will put their undefeated home record on the line Sunday when they battle Trail Juniors at the Civic Centre at 2:00 p.m.

Coach Gil Gilbert's club took a close 3-2 decision from the Smelter City nine in their last encounter and another close game is expected Sunday.

The Texans' coach said Friday he expects to start the club's star right hander, Fred Jmaeff, on the mound and the only change in the infield lineup may be the return of Jim Cain at first base.

Cain has been out of action since he injured his right ankle trying to steal home in a game against Fruitvale three weeks ago.

For Sunday's game, Bill Burdenie will be at his regular position behind the plate as will Danny Huden at second, Paul Peters at third and Len Bousquet at short.

The outfield spots will be filled by three of four players, Cyril Saviskoff, Walt Cherenko, Ed Grill or Ted Leslie.

In case Jmaeff runs into trouble, Doug Florio will probably be standing by as a relief chucker.

Florio in his last outing pitched the first no-hit shutout of the season against Castlegar Wednesday giving Nelson a 9-0 victory and the team's league leading 9-1, won-lost record.

The Trail Juniors are currently in third place in the standings.

CHAMP CUFFS CASSIUS CLAY

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Cassius Clay must have carried his heckling too far with heavyweight champion Sonny Liston. Clay said he was slapped by the champ.

It happened, Clay said Friday, after he taunted Liston during his workout Thursday at his hotel.

"I was at the gaming table," Cassius said, "and he came over and slapped me.

"I didn't know whether he was mad or playing, but it took two special policemen to hold me off him."

Record Entry Expected at Kaslo Tourney

KASLO (Staff) — About 150 golfers are expected to take part in the annual Kaslo Rainbow Golf Tournament which starts here today.

Entries, 100 men's and 50 women's, have been received from nine district centres including Nelson, Trail, Rossland, Christina Lake, Cranbrook, Creston, Riondel, New Denver and Kaslo.

The biggest contingent is expected from Riondel and by all indications this year's entry will top all previous records.

The women's competition will be held today and the men's Sunday. Both are 18-hole affairs and both defending champions, Ruby Stone of Trail and Arnold Sherwood of Nelson are expected to be on hand for the tournament.

Over 35 prizes will be given away to winners this year and an added attraction will be the fishing derby open to any, or all, members of a competitors family.

Nelson, Slocan Seniors Tangle Here Today

Senior baseball action resumes here today when Nelson Outlaws host Slocan Silver Kings at the Civic Centre grounds at 6:00 p.m.

The game was originally scheduled for Sunday.

Silver Kings will be trying to hand the Outlaws, first-place club in the Kaslo, Slocan, Arrow Lakes League, their first loss of the season.

In their last outing, the powerful Nelson nine were almost upset by a surprisingly strong Kaslo team. Only the relief pitching of left-hander Blair Olson in the ninth inning salvaged a close 7-5 victory for the league leaders.

a grain of sense about rye This is it. The best there is. Sangaste rye grain. Alberta farmers near Calgary plant it in early September, harvest the following summer. DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

MARKET TRENDS

NEW YORK (AP) — A confused Wall Street groped for solid footing Friday in the second day of its reaction to President Kennedy's proposal for the foreign security purchases by Americans. The stock market declined again.

It was a moderate loss and trading was light. As the session ended many stocks were far improved above their lows of the day.

The Dow Jones industrial average—which had been down as much as 3.34 at the end of the first hour—closed with a net loss of 2.01 at 693.89. Volume was a dull 3,360,000 shares compared with 3,710,000 Thursday.

The most heavily traded of the foreign issues was Royal Dutch, which was down 1⅝ at its worst but closed with a loss of only ⅛ at 46¼ on turnover of 107,500 shares.

Among Canadian issues, Aluminium Ltd. lost ¾, Distillers Seagrams 1, Dome Mines ¼, Hudsons Bay Mining 1⅛, International Nickel ⅛, McIntyre Porcupine 1¼ and Walker Gooderham ½. Canadian Pacific closed unchanged.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks ended the day with a minimal loss of .1 at 266.7.

Chrysler posted a net gain of 1⅛ at 59¼ on 47,000 shares.

Alcoa was off 3¼, following news that its profits for the first six months this year were some $8,000,000 less than the similar period last year. Du Pont dropped 1⅜, Union Carbide 1⅛ and Polaroid ⅞.

American Stock Exchange prices were mixed on volume of 970,000 shares compared with 1,020,000 Thursday. Canadian Marconi lost ⅛, Preston ⅜ and Scurry Rainbow Oil ⅜.

TORONTO (CP) — It was black Friday on the stock market as prices fell hard and struggled hard to recover.

Following a 15 point drop Thursday with announced tax proposals by President Kennedy, the industrial index, a compilation of 20 representative stocks, took a sensational 15-point drive in the first hour of Friday's trading. Prices then slowed their downhill gallop and indexes at noon, 1 and 2 p.m. showed the market off less severely at about five points.

All other sections on index, golds, Western oils and base metals also fell sharply. Some 101 issues hit 1963 lows.

Heaviest industrial losses went to Guaranteed Trust, off 5, Moore Corporation, 2¼, and Imperial Bank of Commerce, 1½. MacMillan Bloedel dropped ⅞ with Alberta Gas, Algoma and Toronto Dominion Bank fell ¾.

Senior base metals took a beating but recouped near the close, Falconbridge finishing up ⅜ and International Nickel ahead ¼.

Central Del Rio fell 10 cents to $7.00 in western oils and Canadian Devonian dipped five cents to $4.25.

On index, industrials fell 5.53 to 610.53, golds .57 to 88.38, base metals 2.37 to 199.38, and western oils 1.50 to 111.69. Volume was 4,016,000 shares compared with 3,394,000 Thursday.

MONTREAL (CP)—The deflationary effects of the proposed 15-per-cent tax on American purchases of Canadian stocks began to wear off in mid-afternoon Friday, as prices on the Montreal and Canadian exchanges turned upwards.

In moderately heavy trading, many stocks showed gains for the day. Papers were stronger, led by Great Lakes, up 1⅛ and Price Bros., up ½.

Senior base metals were mixed. International Nickel gained ⅜ and Noranda was up ¼. Hollinger was down ¾ and Hudson Bay Mining lost a full point.

Atlantic Sugar and Canadian Vickers were down one point, Southam lost 1¼ and Du Pont and CPR both lost ¼.

Banks were generally lower, though Montreal gained ½ and Nova Scotia was up ¼. Royal and Imperial both dropped 1⅛ and Provinciale was down 1¼.

In Mining issues, Mount Pleasant was active, dropping 16 cents. Dumagami lost six cents and Fox Lake fell three cents.

NEWS BRIEFS

SELECT 15 FINALISTS

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Fifteen Miss Universe finalists were selected Thursday night from an international parade of 50 beauty delegates who appeared in colorful native costumes and stunning swim suits. Canadian competitor Jane Kmita, 24, a nurse from Regina, was one of those eliminated as the contest neared its climax. Miss Canada's measurements are 34-24-34.

WELCOMES DELEGATES

LONDON (CP)—Representatives of 130 universities in Britain, Canada and other Commonwealth countries were entertained at a glittering reception at the Guildhall Thursday night. About 500 delegates to the 1963 Congress of the Associatino of Commonwealth Universities were welcomed by Sir Ralph Perring, Lord Mayor of London. Among the delegates was Dr. Norman MacKenzie, president-emeritus of the University of British Columbia.

RELAX LIMITATIONS

LONDON (AP)—Britain and other NATO countries are relaxing entry limitations on East Germans on a trial basis for sportsmen and scientists. Lord Dundee, minister of state for foreign affairs, told the House of Lords Thursday the relaxation would apply to those taking part in scientific meetings and sports events as members of all-German delegations or teams. The restriction was first imposed in retaliation for the Berlin wall.

STANDS UP STARS

LONDON (AP) — Elizabeth Taylor stood up the rehearsal of 100 British theatrical stars Thursday. The actress ignored the final exercise of a revue put on to raise funds for a charity devoted to orphans of actors. London Palladium officials expected her first at noon, then at 2 p.m. and finally a half hour later. They stopped the four-hour drill at 3 p.m and sent everyone home to get refreshed for the night show.

NEEDS ROYAL ASSENT

OTTAWA (CP)—The Senate gave third and final reading Thursday to a bill to establish a department of industry. The bill, passed by the Commons previously, now needs only royal assent to become law. Defence Production Minister Drury is scheduled to take on the new portfolio.

POLARIS SCORES AGAIN

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The long-range Polaris A-3 missile scored its seventh straight test launching success Thursday night on a 1,800-mile flight down the Atlantic tracking range. The navy reported that preliminary tracing data indicated the submarine weapon met all test objectives. It was launched from a land pad. Initial submarine launchings are scheduled later this year.

Election Seen for Next Spring, Fall

By JAMES NELSON

OTTAWA (CP)—A prominent Conservative party source sees the likelihood of a general election next spring or the fall of 1964 and says "we'll be ready for it."

The sources, a close associate of former prime minister Diefenbaker, said election timing seems obvious in the government's schedule for the start of its new national contributory and portable pensions plan.

The Conservative opposition leader's speech on the subject in the Commons Thursday was obviously pegged to this and comes after a period of Conservative party headquarters reorganization, the source added.

In outlining the pensions plan for next week's federal-provincial conference on pensions and municipal loans, Health Minister Judy LaMarsh spoke of starting the $10 addition to the present $65 monthly old age pension "very early" in 1964, and contributions to the pension plan itself in October, 1964.

WOULD CALL VOTE

As the Conservatives see it, these are admirable dates—for the Liberals, at least—on which to peg a new general election. The Liberals then could call an election to seek a majority mandate in the Commons after they have started to pay the additional $10 and when the machinery is well-advanced for the start of the contributory supplements.

Since leaving office last June, Mr. Diefenbaker has been quietly reorganizing Conservative party headquarters and his own office in preparation for the next election, whenever it comes. He has spoken several times publicly of his firm resolve to lead the Conservatives back to victory and put himself back in the prime minister's seat.

Party headquarters has been strengthened by the appointment of experienced party workers in new, more responsible roles. They include R. D. Thrasher as party secretary and Pat Mcadam as research director.

NEW SECRETARY

Tom Van Dusen, twice a defeated Conservative candidate in the almost hostile riding of Gatineau, Que., and executive assistant in the former government to Michael Starr as labor minister, is Mr. Diefenbaker's new private secretary. He is a former newspaper man, as is B. T. Richardson, Mr. Diefenbaker's special assistant.

The changes in the Conservative organization line-up prompted even one Liberal organizer to ask "what is happening."

The significant feature of the new appointments is that they are predominantly young men with practical political experience and no association with any advertising agency. The so-called "grey flannel suit" brigade was prominent in both the Liberal and Conservative organizations of the last two general elections.

SENATOR UNCOVERS ODD RESEARCH GRANT

WASHINGTON (CP-AP)—Senator John Williams, Delaware Republican who is an unofficial watchdog of government spending, Thursday cited som eunusual amounts granted for research.

Williams said the department of health, education and welfare has approved research grants providing:

1. $46,731 for a study of the "regulation of development of the mouse egg."

2. $9,740 for a study of the "physiological adaptation of the Mexican free - tailed bat."

3. $4,120 to promote a study of the "effects of frustration on a reflex response."

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of a dear son and brother, Kenneth Franklin Sillers, who was called to rest eight years ago today, July 20, 1963.

We do not need a special day
To bring you to our minds
The days we do not think of you
Are very hard to find.
They say time heals all sorrows
And helps us to forget,
But time so far has only proved
How much we miss you yet.
God gave us strength to take it
And courage to stand the blow,
But what it meant to lose you Ken,
No-one will ever know.
To know we never said goodbye,
Will always bring regret,
But the hearts that loved you truly
Are the hearts that won't forget.
—Lovingly remembered by Mom, Dad, brother Lyle, sister Ann and the Golla family.

Your Individual Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars,

For Sunday, July 21, 1963

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) — Even if you get a late start, your fault or now, you can promptly reverse the situation and bring things up to date, checking in at end of day with many credits — maybe a few new big ones.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus) — Avoid making hasty decisions, even though your intuition tells you you are correct. Making sure is everyone's obligation, else we draw others into an area of error. Shun trouble-makers.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini) — Walk with precision, enough pep to keep yur ball rolling effectively (but not frantically), and with conformity to the generally accepted structure and arrangements suitably made.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer) — It may be a day free from usual tasks, but it should NOT be a wasted one — even though you may have a tendency to dile. Be purposeful in all things.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo) — A time for you to hold those reins of order, composure, dignity. The urge may be to dash off in a variety of directions, to "forget" chores, to toss some careful habit to the winds.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — It would be well to follow Leo's advice now. While your aspects are not all similar, the general outlook suggests the same image. Be methodical in all things.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra) — Poise and perseverance will be needed now. Choose an appropriate goal and plan for its attainment quickly. Share joys, benefits with family.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 22 (Scorpio) — Plan your chedule in your usual methodical manner. Cut all "clutter" from your program, but do not cut out the "meat", the vital things that will count later.

NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius) — You will need a little more than usual spunk in touchy situations, but DON'T loste temper. This day holds a multitude of favors for the happy-minded and trusting.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn) — The nucleus of a splendid new outlook is before you. But it will require some doing. work, digging, searching out and continued study, plus a calm disposition. It's worth it!

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius) — Cherish the good things, forget the others. Nothing can keep a good man down who wants to stay UP! take time out to investigate a new idea, plan, a different approach. Rest, too.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces) — Mild planetary influences. Do not be capricious in likes, dislikes, either business or personal. It lead to poor performance, discontent, clouded judgment.

YOU BORN TODAY: In the third section of Aries: you have a keen, quick mind, with ready hands and, normally are an energetic on-the-go being from head to toe. The first "DON'T" is advice against over-doing, over-stressing, which can upset those about you more than you realize. You are intuitive, idealistic, an eager student, and if you STAY WITH a project, you will easily reach the top with an amazing fund of knowledge. This sector's child steps into trouble when he argues, is headstrong. He is also sensitive and an excellent gatherer of important details. So the well developed, right-living Aries native is a joy to friends, a boon to family, an asset to business. Birthdate: Thos. Jefferson, 3rd U.S. President.

Kierans Tells U.S. Canada Should Be Exempt

MONTREAL (CP)—Eric W. Kierans, president of the Montreal and Canadian stock exchanges, said Friday Canada should have been excluded from the proposed 15 per cent tax on American investments in foreign securities.

The reason, he said, is that Canada is not accumulating gold at the expense of the United States.

Mr. Kierans said Canada runs a heavy deficit on merchandise account and payments of interest and dividends with the U.S.

In a statement prepared for a U.S. broadcasting network, Mr. Kierans said Canadians fear the proposed legislation will prove damaging to Canada and may not achieve the ends outlined by President Kennedy.

"If interest rates rise in Canada, the resultant slowdown in economic activity here will reduce our imports from the United States," he said. "If we impose exchange controls or import restrictions, this will damage your balance of payments."

Mr. Kierans also said the measure is likely to weaken American efforts to liberalize world trade and financial agreements.

World Briefs

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Forty men and women skiers fled Friday from a blazing building into a raging snowstorm in the Mt. Kosciusko area of Australia's southern Alps. Barefooted skiers tried to fight the fire with buckets and hoses but the Kosciusco Alpine Club building was destroyed in 40 minutes. No one was injured. It is winter in Australia.

PRANKSTER DROWNS

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—A man described as a good swimmer had been playing pranks on his friends by pretending to drown. He cried "help" again, his friends ignored him and he was drowned Thursday. Authorities said the victim, Elmo C. Scranton, 22, apparently got a stomach cramp and went down in 12 feet of water.

Bond Review

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Money market securities declined this week in sympathy with the basic adjustment upward in Canadian interest rates.

Losses of 90 to 95 cents were recorded on the week with greater fluctuations in ultra-active issues. Canadian government 3¾, 1965 closed at 97.65-75 and the 3½, 1966, closed at 96.80-90.

The 91-day treasury bills averaged 3.48 per cent in yield compared with last week's 3.39 and the 182-bills averaged 3.68, compared with 3.48.

On Friday many sections of the market came almost to a standstill, with dealers sitting back, hoping for clarification of the situation created by President Kennedy's proposed new taxes on American investment in foreign issues.

Long - term Canada bonds showed losses for the third consecutive week with some issues down 4½ points during the period. Canada 4½, 1983, were off three points on the week and were quoted at Friday's close at 89½-90½.

Provincial securities were offered without bids with the last Ontario Hydro five-per-cent issue trading at a 5.50 basis.

Corporate bonds declined two points on the week with active trading. Rio Algom 5¾, 1983, closed 96-97 while Weston 5½, 1983, lost a point and closed 98-99.

No new municipal issues of significance were in evidence.

World Briefs

AGREE IN PRINCIPLE

LONDON (Reuters)—Agreement in principle on home rule for British Honduras, Britain's only Central American colony, was reached in constitutional talks here, conference sources said Thursday. The colony, which has almost 100,000 people, is expected to become self-governing early next year.

RICH VAGRANT

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP)—Police received a complaint that an elderly man was rummaging through garbage cans Thursday night. They rounded up Paul Peter Greco, 73, and were about to book him on a vagrancy charge when he produced two bank books showing a balance of $5,500 in savings accounts and a sheaf of U.S. savings bonds worth $22,000.

Martin Busiest Foreign Minister

By DAVE McINTOSH

OTTAWA (CP)—Ringmaster Paul Martin is handling three sets of negotiations with the United States concurrently and soon will add a fourth to his stable.

Never before has a Canadian minister of external affairs had to deal with so many negotiations with the U.S. at once, officials said Thursday.

The three sets of negotiations are: The Columbia River power development project; an agreement on provision of nuclear warheads for Canadian forces; and implementation of a 12-mile Canadian fishing zone.

A fourth set is expected to be added before long: The Passamaquoddy tidal power project on the Maine-New Brunswick border.

Moreover, meetings are being planned for the Canada-U.S. joint cabinet committee on trade and economic affairs, the Canada-U.S. ministerial committee on joint defence and the Canada - U.S. interparliamentary group.

IMPORTANCE GROWS

Officials said the scheduled autumn meeting of the joint trade and economic committee likely will take on increased importance because of President ennedy's proposal Thursday to tax U.S. purchases of Canadian and other foreign securities.

Negotiations on the Columbia River treaty with a U.S. delegation are likely to open here late next week and move to Victoria at some later date.

Negotiations on the nuclear agreement have been proceeding for weeks. Prime Minister Pearson said June 25 he hoped the agreement would be signed "very shortly."

There have been preliminary talks on the 12-mile zone with the U.S. and other countries with historic fishing rights off Canada's coasts.

Further negotiations, especially with the U.S., are scheduled later this summer. The 12-mile zone is to be put into effect next May.

EARNINGS SET RECORD

WASHINGTON (AP)—Average earnings of U.S. factory production workers during June rose above $100 a week for the first time in history. Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz said Thursday 70,000,000 Americans were at work during that month. However, the unemployment rate has remained above five per cent since November, 1957, and the youth unemployment rate is 16 per cent. The new high in average weekly factory earnings was $100.61—more than $1 above the previous record of $99.47 set in May.

Boy Genius Cheats Phone Company

MIDDLETON, Ohio (AP)—A lonely but disturbed boy genius told officials here Thursday he had found a way to cheat the telephone company and place free international long distance calls as far away as Scotland Yard, London, England.

The 14 - year - old boy said he had called Scotland Yard with a story about smuggled jewelry, telephoned a television star because he didn't like a program and impersonated a Brazilian operator to falsely inform his neighbors that they had inherited a million dollar estate in South America.

To support his story, the boy called Mexico City as Butler County Probation Officer James Castle watched.

"He apparently went to the library and picked numbers at random from the telephone books," Castle said. "Then he used a home - made device to make the calls. (Officials withheld details of the boy's device.)

The boy said he tried to describe his system to a friend, but that youngster's parents wound up with a $300 phone bill.

The boy was arrested Monday after people in the community became suspicious of mysterious clicks on the telephone line.
