Jet Fires Shots Near U.S. Ship

Shots Fired Across Bow, Stern, But Ship Not Hit

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two unidentified jet planes fired shots near an American vessel in international waters off the north coast of Cuba Thursday night, the U.S. state department reported.

A terse state department announcement said:

"The U.S. Coast Guard has reported the receipt of a message from the U.S. motor ship Floridian proceeding in international waters off the north coast of Cuba en route from San Juan, Puerto Rico, to Miami, Fla.

"The message reported that at approximately 6:05 p.m. Washington time today two unidentified jet aircraft had fired bursts across the Floridian's bow and stern without sinking the ship.

"Cinclant (commander in chief of the U.S. Atlantic forces) immediately dispatched their jet fighters to the area.

"The Floridian, under U.S. air escort, is now proceeding toward Miami, where it is due at 7 a.m. tomorrow morning.

"Further details are expected to be available after the Floridian arrives in Miami."

State department press officer Lincoln White, who issued the announcement, said he was unable to supply any further details at this time.

Last Feb. 20 a pair of Russian-built MiG fighters fired near a U.S. shrimp boat, the Ala, while it was in international waters off the Cuban coast.

The United States vigorously protested the attack and said whatever measures necessary would be used to prevent such assaults in the future.

President Kennedy subsequently ordered the defence department "to ensure that action will be taken against any vessel or aircraft which executes an attack against a vessel or aircraft of the United States over international waters in the Caribbean."

The Cuban government subsequently denied that Cuban planes had fired on the shrimp boat.

The shrimp boat, with two men aboard, was not hit when fired upon.

JURY DECIDES THEIR FATE—Ralph and Iva Kroeger seem unconcerned in court in San Francisco as their murder trial jury files out behind them. The jury decided Mrs. Kroeger is sane, and then took up the task of deciding the Kroegers' fate in the first degree murder conviction for the strangulation of a Santa Rosa, Calif., invalid and his wife.

Two Officials Say Knew of No Graft

VICTORIA (CP) — Two highways department officials testified Thursday that they knew of no wrong doing in connection with two highways contracts mentioned in graft allegations against the department.

A. R. Rhodes, department comptroller, and F. T. Brown, chief engineer, said they knew of no preferential treatment or favors meted out by the department in connection with Projects 819 and 1023.

They were testifying before the legislature's board of inquiry into allegations that $135,000 too much was paid on Trans-Canada Highway Project 819 near Revelstoke, 100 miles east of Kamloops.

Montana contractor Dick Holzworth has alleged that $135,000 too much was paid on 819 and he and his associates were to get well on Project 1923, a Southern Trans-Provincial Highway project near Creston in the Kootenay.

Earlier the board heard of two affidavits which dealt with alleged bribe offers for information that could be used against Highways Minister Gaglardi.

The Board — the legislature's Committee on Public Accounts reconstituted as a board after the House prorogued—has heard Mr. Holzworth testify that he lost $200,000 on Project 819.

He was president of Union Contractors Ltd. which worked on 819. He said he and Clyde Thornton, Union vice-president, bid on Project 1023 with another company and that Thornton told him he was told they were to "get well on" the project.

Mr. Rhodes and Mr. Brown were asked by Angelo Branca, counsel for the highways department, whether they knew of any preferential treatment or special favors in connection with 819 or 1023 and they replied no.

Mr. Rhodes said there was "no mystery" about 1023.

Most of the two men's testimony, which took up all day Thursday, dealt with technical matters.

Helen Klaben Leaves By Plane for Fairbanks

By BOB TRIMBEE

WHITEHORSE, Y.T. (CP) — Helen Klaben, 21-year-old Brooklyn, N.Y., woman who survived 50 days in northern British Columbia wilderness after a plane crash, left her hospital bed unexpectedly Thursday and boarded a commercial airliner for Fairbanks, Alaska.

The Pan-American Airlines DC6B was expected to arrive in Fairbanks at 2:30 p.m. Yukon standard time.

Both her feet were wrapped in bandages when she was officially discharged from the Whitehorse General Hospital where she had been admitted Monday. Doctors said all her toes on her injured right foot were to be removed.

Miss Klaben rode to the emergency entrace of the hospital in a wheel chair and was lifted into a waiting taxi by a friend. The same friend lifted her into the aircraft.

Also aboard the plane was Miss Klaben's brother Arthur. He had arrived a short time before from Alaska but he did not leave the aircraft.

CAME MONDAY

The woman and pilot Ralph Flores were brought here Monday after they had spent 50 terrifying days — most of them without anything to eat—at a primitive hut they set up after their plane crashed Feb. 4. They were on their way from Alaska to San Francisco at the time.

Both were injured and suffered frost bite. Flores remained in hospital.

Miss Klaben's plans were not known. She has refused to meet with reporters for two days.

The next scheduled flight out of Fairbanks was scheduled to leave at midnight for Seattle.

Miss Klaben has said she wants to go home to her mother in Brooklyn.

She worked for the United States government in Fairbanks and has friends there. One of them, Fred Pankratz, flew here Wednesday and spent the day with her talking about "everything but the crash."

He said Thursday intense questioning by reporters since Monday left Miss Klaben "keyed-up and confused."

Pankratz helped the young woman leave hospital and carried her into the plane.

Dr. Nesta James said Miss Klaben's condition is much improved and she is eating a normal diet.

"She is really quite fit," the doctor said. She did not know how long the girl would stay in Fairbanks.

Dr. James described Flores general condition as good and said he can get about on his crutches.

Stormy weather prevented her brother and Flores' wife from arriving here Wednesday.

Mrs. Theresa Flores was expected to arrive later Thursday on a Canadian Pacific Airlines plane from Vancouver. Her trip was paid for by employees of the company where she works in San Bruno. The Flores have six children.

Action Against Pend d'Oreille PUD Continues

SPOKANE (AP) — A condemnation action brought by the city of Seattle against the Pend d'Oreille County Public Utility District was continued in federal district court here Thursday.

The city is seeking to acquire several parcels of land in connection with construction of the $100,000,000 Boundary dam on the Pend d'Oreille River north of Metaline Falls, Wash.

The PUD is asking for additional time for presentation of a motion to dismiss because one of its attorneys was ill and unable to attend Thursday's hearing.

Judge Charles Powell continued the case. A date will be set next month for a hearing on the motion.

The condemnation action is another phase in a series of legal battles between the city and the PUD dating back nearly five years. The PUD owns the dam site and portions of the reservoir area.

BLIND VAGRANT

VANCOUVER (CP) — William Kearr, 34, a blind man, was charged Thursday with committing a vagrancy by begging. Police allege Kearr was standing on a street corner with a tin cup.

. . . To Catch A Moth

LONDON (Reuters) — A small boy accidentally swallowed a live moth and then swallowed a moth ball to catch it, a doctor said Thursday.

Dr. David Langley wrote in the British Medical Journal that doctors were baffled when tests showed both moth and ball in the boy's stomach. When the lad recovered he explained what had happened.

"All this goes to show that if a patient complains of 'butterflies in my stomach, he might well be quite right," Langley said.

Earnings Drop

MONTREAL (CP) — The Canadian Pacific Railway Thursday announced a decrease in net earnings of $1,282,692 during the month of February 1963 compared with the same month last year.

Railways revenues in February were $32,783,613 compared with $35,117,069 last year, while railway expenses dropped to $33,355,156 from $34,405,920.

BOY REMANDED

CALGARY (CP) — A 13-year-old Calgary boy charged with three counts of delinquency was remanded for another four weeks in juvenile court Thursday.

The boy's father, mother and 15-year-old sister were found shot to death in the family's home in southwest Calgary Jan. 25.

Saturn Registers 4th Success in Row

CAPE CANAVERAL, Florida (CP) — The Saturn superbooster, forerunner of a manned moon rocket, registered its fourth straight test-flight success Friday and demonstrated that it can operate if one of its eight engines fails.

With its mammoth power plant generating 1,300,000 pounds of thrust, the world's largest rocket broke away from its launching pad at 3:12 p.m. EST.

Performing with flawless precision, the 165-foot-tall projectile raced across a clear sky, climbing to an altitude of about 77 miles before plunging back to break up and sink in the Atlantic Ocean about 230 miles southeast of Cape Canaveral.

The U.S. National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced that all phases of the flight looked normal.

The seven-minute flight was the last test for Saturn's first stage only. Flights tests for the second stage will start within a few months, aiming at a time when the whole assembly will carry a manned capsule to the moon.

ENGINE SHUT OFF

One of Saturn's four inboard engines was shut off deliberately after 100 seconds of powered flight to simulate a failure. The fuel intended for the dead engine was rerouted automatically by a pressure system to the other seven engines.

With extra fuel, the working engines each burned an additional two seconds—a total of about 114 seconds for the three remaining inboard engines and 121 seconds for the four outboard motors.

On an operational mission, this engine-out capability would enable the rocket to complete its assignment in an emergency.

The Saturn flight was to have been the first half of a scheduled space doubleheader. But earlier today payload trouble forced postponement of an attempt to launch the Explorer XVII satellite.

A Slight Slip Of the Tongue!

WINNIPEG (CP) — Health Minister George Johnson is trying to remedy a verbal slip he made in the Manitoba legislature.

Hansard, the official record of House debate, quoted him recently as saying:

"In mental retardation and mental deficiency, we in Manitoba don't have to take a back seat to anyone."

Mr. Johnson later told the House he meant the province was well advanced in mental illness research and asked permission to change Hansard. It was granted.

Man Gets Two Months for Jaywalking

VANCOUVER (CP) — A man given four months in jail for jaywalking Thursday was released after two months when a police court magistrate admitted he made an error.

Harold Peters was convicted of two jaywalking offences Feb. 6 and was sentenced by Magistrate A. L. Bewley to two months consecutively on each count. He appealed.

When Magistrate Bewley heard about the appeal, he wrote that he intended the sentences to be concurrent rather than consecutive.

The magistrate said two months was in order because the man had a record of drunkenness and had failed to show up once on the jaywalking charge.

CHARGED IN WOMAN'S DEATH

CALGARY (CP) — Murray McGallan, 30, was charged with capital murder Thursday afternoon in the death of a woman who was found shot and beaten in her home.

The body of Mrs. Myrtle Skippen, 37, was discovered by police at 12:15 p.m. MST. Officers said she had been dead about 40 minutes.

They said they went to the home, where McGallan was arrested, as a result of a telephone call.

Mrs. Skippen's body was found on the floor between the living room and the kitchen. She was severely beaten on the head, police said, and also had a bullet wound in the head.

Her husband, an employee of Shell Oil Company of Canada Ltd., was at work. The Skippens have a teen-age daughter.

Detectives said McGallan was a clothing salesman at a department store here. He is married with a small child, said police.

Sugar, Sugared Goods Going Up In Price

VICTORIA (CP) — A world shortage of sugar has forced prices in Victoria up as much as 20 cents.

The price of a 10-pound bag ranged between $1.38 and $1.59 Thursday, up as much as 20 cents from the previous day.

Other commodities with a high sugar content also cost more. A 48-ounce tin of apple juice that sold for 35 cents now costs 45 cents.

Castro Warns Ex-Cubans Against Dare-Devil Raids

Threatens to Get Long-Range Bombers to Escort Shipping

HAVANA (AP)—Premier Castro threatened Thursday to arm Cuba with long-range bombers to counteract daredevil raids by Cuban exiles. He blamed the United States for an exile attack which crippled a Russian freighter Tuesday night.

"If these attacks continue, Cuba will see herself in a situation of considering acquisition of long-range bombers as well as naval equipment necessary to escort our merchant ships, protect our supply lines and repel aggressors," Castro said in a communique.

Castro repeated his charges that counterrevolutionaries are using bases on U.S. soil from which to launch their raids. He called a state department statement disapproving such raids nothing but a smokescreen.

REFERS TO JETS

The threat of acquiring long-range bombers obviously referred back to the 750-mile-range jet bombers which Premier Khrushchev agreed to remove from Cuba together with medium-range missiles in the crisis last fall. The U.S. government said it counted 42 of the bombers and 42 of the missiles on ships leaving Cuba.

Castro said the Tuesday attack on the Soviet freighter Baku near the port of Caribbean on Cuba's north coast, 220 miles east of Havana, left the vessel "seriously damaged" and put the lives of Soviet crew members in "grave danger."

The Soviet news agency Tass said that the ship was on the way to Russia with a cargo of sugar when it was attacked by a "piratic warship." Tass said the raiders fired a torpedo which blew a hole 13 by 1½ feet in the hold.

There was no mention of Soviet casualties.

In Miami, a spokesman for the anti-Castro "commandos" group said the Soviet ship was left "badly in need of repairs to keep it from sinking."

The raid was the second exile attack on a Russian freighter in Cuba this month. The first, on March 17, brought a Soviet accusation Wednesday that the United States was responsible.

The Castro communique also charged that "Yankee agents" sabotaged a Bolivian airliner which crashed last week in southern Peru. It said the agents wanted documents carried by two Cuban couriers killed in the crash.

Decided To Rob Bank Instead

VANCOUVER (CP) — An unemployed bookkeeper who pleaded guilty to armed robbery said Friday he decided to hold up a bank instead of committing suicide.

"I got to thinking about it and thought, "What's the difference between me shooting myself or somebody else shooting me?" John Munro, 48, said in a statement read in court here Friday.

A shot from a Luger struck a wall during a scuffle with Stuart George, manager of a Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce branch, here Wednesday.

Prosecutor Donald Morrison read Munro's statement to the court.

"I arrived in Vancouver three weeks ago after hitchhiking from Winnipeg. I had about $40. I looked for work but was unable to find anything to do.

"Since last week I lived on about $2. I just wandered the streets.

"On March 26, I went to Stanley Park. I had my gun with me. I was going to shoot myself.

"I then thought about holding up a bank . . .

"I just walked in and looked around till all the customers had left. Then I asked to see the manager."

Mr. Morrison told the court that a note demanding $10,000 was given to Mr. George.

The manager instead grabbed the would-be holdup man.

As Mr. George tussled with the holdup man, the Luger discharged and the slug hit a wall.

"All he said was, 'Ah, you're a brave man," the bank manager said.

SHOOTS WIFE, THEN SELF

GLENDALE, Calif. (AP) — Police said Merrill Bertrand, 30, shot and killed his estranged wife Lois, 24, Thursday, in the office where she worked as a dental assistant.

Then he shot himself and died three hours later.

The dentist, Dr. L. Herbert Fowler, found them when he reached his office at 8:45 a.m. Officers said she had been shot five times. Bertrand was unconscious in the hall.

The couple had been separated for a month. Last Monday Bertrand pleaded guilty to a battery charge filed by his wife Feb. 16, and his sentencing was set for April 17. They had been married three years.

The dentist said Mrs. Bertrand's parents live in Vancouver but their names were not learned.

Alec Templeton, Blind Pianist, Passes at 52

GREENWICH, Conn. (AP) — Alec Templeton, 52, noted blind pianist and composer, died Thursday of cancer after an illness of several months.

His wife, the former Julie Barr, was at his bedside in their home here when death came.

Funeral services will be held here Saturday.

Templeton, who appeared on many radio shows and concert tours, had been blind from birth, but his musical talent was evident at an early age. He could pick out tunes on a piano at the age of four.

Later he became skilled at improvising. He would ask for five musical notes from an audience and weave the notes into a melody. Or, he would ask for the names of several songs and work them into one composition.

Templeton was born in Cardiff, Wales. He came to the United States in 1935 with Jack Hilton's jazz band for a radio series and stayed on when the band returned to England.

He became a U.S. citizen in 1941.

Radio programs included the Bing Crosby and Ford Hour shows.

BILLIE SOL ESTES

Sol Estes Convicted

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)— A jury Thursday convicted Billie Sol Estes of mail fraud involving swindling of a dozen major finance companies in mortgage deals involving $24,000,000.

He was convicted on four mail fraud counts and one conspiracy count. Each of the counts carries a maximum sentence of five years.

Estes was declared innocent on nine other counts, one of transporting fraudulent documents and eight of mail fraud.

WRITER-PAINTER DIES

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Writer-painter John W. T. Faulkner III died Thursday at a hospital where he underwent surgery for a ruptured blood vessel of the stomach. Faulkner, brother of the late Nobel Prize winning novelist William Faulkner, had been in critical condition since Tuesday night. The 61-year-old Oxford, Miss., novelist entered the hospital 12 days ago.

Royal Couple Welcomed Back Home After Tour

LONDON (Reuters) — Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip returned to Windsor Castle Thursday after a gruelling two-month royal tour of Australia, New Zealand and Fiji that reports say may be the last such "royal grand tour."

Princess Anne with her grandmother, the Queen Mother Elizabeth, was at London's Heathrow Airport to greet her parents when their Boeing-707 jetliner touched down on a flight from Australia via Vancouver. They went aboard for a brief family reunion and then the Queen and Philip stepped from the aircraft to meet the long line of officials there to welcome them.

Prince Charles, 14-year-old heir to the throne, and Prince Andrew, his younger brother, were not at the airport. Charles is at school in Scotland and three-year-old Andrew still is too young to attend such official occasions.

The Queen looked a little pale after the 14,600-mile flight from Perth, Australia, but Philip was tanned and smiling. Both of them chatted with Prime Minister Macmillan as they walked from the plane.

STARTED QUICKLY

Speculation that this may be the last of the long royal tours of Commonwealth countries started shortly after the royal couple arrived in Australia.

Within the ever-changing context of the Commonwealth, it has been suggested that rather than rare state visits that cover the whole nation, the Queen should make more frequent but shorter visits for specific occasions—such as the opening of Parliaments.

Commentators along the route of the royal couple in Australia noted that public welcomes for them were somewhat less tumultuous than hoped for — though no one suggested that Australians' affection for the Queen had lessened.

MAY HAVE CHANGED IT

The Guardian said:

"If the Queen were truly an extrovert, rollicking and glamorous yet a slightly mysterious woman who tried to live up to her publicity buildup, perhaps this visit would have been different.

"But she is not an extrovert and publicity has just about taken away any vestige of mystery. In fact her own lack of response to big cheering crowds when they were near was part of the reason for a dying-off of enthusiasm on occasions."

And in This Corner . . .

HALIFAX (CP)—The City of Halifax was fined $23 Wednesday for violating one of its own ordinances. City lawyer J. D. F. Theakston pleaded guilty to charges of failing to clear ice from sidewalks fronting city property.

The fines were paid to the city police court. The police commission will get the added revenue.

MOSCOW (AP)—A nervous and apprehensive 36-year-old American professor wed his Russian fiancee Thursday despite reported Communist efforts to break up their romance by questioning the girl's sanity.

Married in a five-minute ceremony at Moscow's wedding palace were Prof. Edgar Lehrman of Emory University, Atlanta, Ga., visiting professor of literature at Moscow University under the Soviet-American cultural exchange program, and Miss Ruth Makarova, 24, a student.

Student sources said members of the Young Communist League made an intense effort to separate the couple. The campaign even resulted in an official demand that the bride produce a certificate of sanity.

This she did, and the ceremony went off as scheduled.

LONDON (AP)—Doctors got a word of advice Thursday on what to do if they start falling in love with a patient.

It was this: Send her off to another doctor — and then go on with the wooing.

The magazine Family Doctor warns that a physician could be struck off the medical register "If he continued to treat and examine a patient for whom he had developed a real affection."

The case of a doctor falling for a patient is not uncommon but it involves great dangers for the doctor himself, says Dr. Harvey Flack, editor of the magazine.

But once the doctor has made sure the patient has transferred to another doctor, "he is entitled to pursue his love as ardently as anyone else."

Canada's Prestige Still High, Herridge Says

Only in the United States has Canadian prestige declined, New Democratic Party candidate H. W. Herridge declared Thursday night in the Royal Canadian Legion building.

In his first major Nelson address in his campaign for "the quiet election" April 8, the six-time MP for Kootenay West stated that Canada's prestige abroad is still high, despite what critics have said.

"Our prestige is declining with the United States and its leaders but as far as the ordinary people of the world are concerned Canada's prestige is as high as ever," he said.

"Why?" he questioned. Because Canada has never given or loaned a dollar to any nation with political strings attached," unlike the United States, he said.

In his lengthy address to more than 100 persons Mr. Herridge touched on several political issues as well as outlining the party's platform.

"DILLY DALLYING"

"The government is responsible for dilly dallying in not bringing in its legislation. They mismanaged the early part of the session and lost the opportunity to get the legislation rolling."

Of the Social Credit, French Canadian parliamentarians, he said, "They are doing exactly the same as Mr. Duplessis, did for years, exploiting the prejudice of the French-Canadian. They are trying to convince the French - Canadian people that they were the first people to arrive in Ottawa that were going to correct the injustices suffered by the French-Canadians."

The Bomarc missile he labelled "obsolescent military hardware," part of the build up of "international suicide," or nuclear war. The NDP opposed nuclear arms on moral, economec and military grounds, he said, placing its strength in strong conventional forces and a United Nations supervised police force.

He said that Mr. Pearson's change of policy on nuclear arms was an attempt to better the government in that department.

He had learned from reliable Ottawa resources that during the National PC conference last January that Mr. Pearson had learned the conference's executive in an October meeting was prepared to recommend to the conference that it endorse nuclear arms for Canadian forces.

BEATEN TO PUNCH

"Mr. Pearson got wind of it and decided to beat them to the punch," he said. "Mr. Pearson decided suddenly to change the policy, not the rank and file." The convention opposed the nuclear arms.

On American intervention into Canadian politics, Mr. Herridge remarked, "It is our (members') responsibility. It is your responsibility to criticize the government. Not the United States or any agencies thereof."

He said American interests were actively engaging in the present campaign through one element or another.

In economics, he termed the present government's policy "bits and bobs" and urged the national development fund plank of the party platform to develop the country's resources, and give full employment.

"The free enterprise parties are destroying the free enterprise system today," he said, suggesting "monopolistic capitalism" was wiping out the small businessman.

As to the charge Canada doesn't have the capital to build its own resources, he countered, "We fought the second world war and we didn't borrow a dollar. We have got the money in Canada."

Columbia Must Not Be Left to Die—Dewdney

A standing - room - only, foot-stomping crowd heard Peter Dewdney promise Thursday night that a Progressive Conservative government would go ahead with Columbia River development.

Mr. Dewdney, Kootenay West candidate, compared the Columbia development to the St. Lawrence Seaway project and suggested to the more than 200 listeners at the Royal Canadian Legion hall that the power factor is not so important as previously, that Mica might be used to a larger extent for storage than earlier contemplated.

The main point was to get the parties together so that construction of one of the dams at least could start and with the assurance that full benefits would be received by Canada as the various stages of construction are completed, he said.

Mr. Dewdney said the wise course might be to substitute a stage development for the previous package deal.

"It would be a tremendous loss if the whole project were allowed to die. The question of who may have been to blame is not of great importance. The main thing is to get started."

He said stage development might mean the substitution of a Low Arrow instead of the proposed High Arrow dam.

"But," he warned, "by no means must we lose out on the treaty agreement."

He accused the Social Credit government in Victoria of stealing the market, the lower mainland of B.C., originally reserved for Columbia power.

Mr. Dewdney said the Socreds pushed the Peace program "in order to bail out the Wenner-Gren interests" who had invested $10 million in that area.

ONE TIME ON TOP

Mr. Dewdney was speaking in the same building at the same time as H. W. Herridge, New Democratic Party candidate for Kootenay West. Mr. Dewdney had the upper floor and quipped: "It's one time I'm on top of Mr. Herridge." The PC candidate has stood for office against Mr. Herridge three times.

PLANNING BOARD

Mr. Dewdney said that if he is sent to Ottawa, he will press for a planning development board for southeastern British Columbia.

"Nelson has its problems, it has lost industries and the completion of the Salmo-Creston cutoff will hurt the ctiy even more," he said.

He mentioned the city's future as an educational centre and the federal government's vocational school program. The vocational school in Nelson is 75 per cent paid for by the federal government, not the provincial, he stressed.

A planning development board would consist of representatives from business, municipal and federal areas.

"Why is there an election today?" he asked. Because, he said, the Liberals and minor opposition parties planned to destroy the government from the start by asking inane questions and taking up valuable time.

In referring to Mr. Herridge as Kootenay West member in the last Parliament, Mr. Dewdney said that if he was truly interested in the riding, why had he not stood up and told the opposition how to behave. "They were elected to do business," not to return for another election.

He said the election will cost $11 million "and untold millions, to the nation, the exact amount of which will never be known."

The PC candidate outlined the government's previous record in new legislation.

Mr. Dewdney said that Canada is not anti-American, but believed that the government should be run without outside help.

"We're not ready to trade "Oh, Canada" for "Oh Kennedy", he quipped.

Asked what he thought about nuclear weapons, Mr. Dewdney said that Canada must not be fooled by the term, tactical nuclear arms. He said that present nuclear weapons have three times the power of the bomb that destroyed Hiroshima. "Careless use of nuclear weapons could start a nuclear conflict that could destroy mankind."

In reply to another question about present divorce laws, Mr. Dewdney said they should be modified.

Mr. Dewdney was introduced by John D. Stanger of Nelson.

300 Expected in Nelson Saturday for Lions Meet

Some 300 Lions Club members and their wives will converge on Nelson this weekend for the annual district convention.

Members will come from points in southeastern British Columbia, Washington and Idaho. Frank A. Beresford of Nelson is district governor.

The conference is scheduled for all day Saturday at the Civic Centre. Opening session will be in the badminton hall.

Some members have already arrived while the bulk of the Lions are expected today. Some from surrounding centres will register Saturday.

To date, 170 members and 125 women have registered.

Most of Saturday morning will be taken up with registrations and panel discussions.

A men's luncheon will be held in the Civic Centre, while their wives will lunch at Peebles Motor Inn.

Men's luncheon highlight will be the finals of the Lions' speaking contest in which Vincent Fitzpatrick of Nelson, Paul Briggs of Spokane and Howard Copp of Pullman, Wash., will compete.

COAST SPEAKER

The conference will wind up with a social hour, reception and combined Lions and women's banquet in the badminton hall. Featured speaker will be George D. Wong of Vancouver, international director.

Guests at the banquet will include Mayor T. S. Shorthouse, an honorary Lions Club member for the last four years.

Fire department crews will decorate Baker Street today with flags in honor of the Lions.

Coast Star Falls To Opponent From Thailand

VANCOUVER — Wayne Macdonnell, 22-year-old Vancouver star, lost to his Thailand opponent at the Canadian Badminton Championships with scores of 15-7, 18-16, and 15-7.

In women's singles, three veteran Toronto players and one from Montreal easily made their way to semi-final berths.

Top seeds in the events were vastly superior to youngsters who had made their way to the quarter-finals but were destined to go no further.

In the junior men's singles second round, Gordon Schmidt was beaten 15-12, 15-2 by Holland of Regina.

Wendy DeFoe of Castlegar beat Kaye Emmett of Calgary 11-5, 11-10 in the junior women's singles first round, while Gayle McPherson of Castlegar was beaten 11-1, 11-0 by Susan Latournerie of Winnipeg. In the second round, Miss DeFoe was defeated 11-2, 11-5 by Anne McDiarmid of Vancouver.

Schmidt and Gordon Hallstrom were beaten 15-10, 18-16 by McTavish and McCready of Edmonton in the junior men's doubles first round.

The Castlegar pair of DeFoe and McPherson lost to Hood and Richmond of Ontario 15-13 and 15-6 in the junior women's doubles first round.

Central School Plans Pared, Approval Asked

Possibility of an early start in Central School's long-delayed renovation program loomed Thursday night, when District No. 7 School Board decided to send revised plans to Victoria for appoval.

The new plans were scaled down to bring the cost closer to the proposed figure of $186,268 by the board, architect David P. Fairbank and A. L. Creighton of Creighton Construction Ltd., of Kinnard.

If the department of education approves the revised plans, the contract will be awarded to the Kinnaird company, which was low bidder. The lowest bid was still about $70,000 over the amount allotted by the department's planning division.

Renovation plans call for reducing the school from 16 to 12 rooms to make way for an activity room.

Former Salmo Man Passes

SALMO — A former Salmo man, Louis Melvin Anderson, 53, died in St. Mary's Hospital at New Westminster Thursday afternoon after a short illness.

Born in Velva, North Dakota, in 1910, he moved with his family to west Saskatchewan in 1912, then to Kitchener, B. C., in 1924, receiving his education there. He worked at the Beecher Campbell sawmill in Salmo and at the Gold Belt and Canadian Exploration mines. He also had built and operated the Texaco garage in Salmo. In the last few years he operated a garage at New Westminster.

Besides his wife, Olive, he is survived by two sons, Gary and Robert, and one daughter, Sharon, in Salmo; his mother, Mrs. Sina Anderson of Salmo; two brothers, C. J. "Skinny" of Salmo and Selner of Emerald; one sister, Myrtle Botterill of New Westminster; and five grandchildren in Salmo.

Funeral services will be held in New Westminster Monday.

Chamber Committee Protests Penalizing of Large Trucks

A telegram protesting an additional permit for large trucks servicing Nelson from Castlegar has been sent to provincial secretary W. D. Black, MLA Creston-Nelson.

The Roads and Bridges Committee of the Chamber of Commerce forwarded the telegram Thursday afternoon during a committee meeting.

F. M. Hufty told the committee that all truck-trailers over 50 feet in length travelling from Castlegar to Nelson must pay a $3 permit per unit per trip or $10 per unit per month.

No one could suggest why Nelson truckers should be penalized by this permit but the ruling has been on the books for years. Only in the past two weeks has it been enforced, however.

R. D. Barnes termed the permit, "a nuisance tax" while B. C. Affleck tagged it, "Democracy with a very small D."

"After they have collected the money it doesn't make the road any safer for anybody," said Mr. Affleck.

It was suggested that the narrow Brilliant bluffs might have caused enforcing of the permit, only applicable to the Castlegar-Nelson section of Highway 3. There have been recent collisions on the narrow twisting stretch and it is reasoned that nervous motorists may be intimidated on spotting a tractor-trailer unit swinging around one of its sharp corners.

TO SEE MINISTER

The committee will take up the matter again when they meet with Mr. Black on Monday. The provincial secretary will be here for the official abolishing of tolls from the Nelson Bridge. They will also discuss the Rose Pass route with Mr. Black.

The committee and the Chamber executive will meet with Minister of Highways P. A. Gaglardi during his visit here April 5. Topic of discussion will be the Brilliant Bluffs and Rose Pass.

The Department of Highways is reported to have in its estimates this year work in Brilliant area, creating a road system bypassing the bluffs, and linking to the new Kootenay River Bridge and eventually linking with the junction to the new Columbia bridges.

Giroday Joins Crestbrook Directorship

VANCOUVER (CP) — Vancouver sawmill operator Louis De La Giroday and two others joined the board of directors of Crestbrook Timber Limited Thursday.

The election of Mr. Giroday, Victor Hardy and Henry N. Anderson came at the company's annual meeting where Mr. Giroday claimed ownership of, or holding proxies, for 8,500 of the company's 16,000 outstanding preferred shares.

Crestbrook operates sawmills in East Kootenay.

Mr. Giroday attempted to join the board last year. Following this he made an offer to buy all offerings of the company's preferred shares at $40. The shares have a $50 face value. In a letter he circulated, the new director indicated he sought to join the board because of dissatisfaction with the company's dividend position—some $15 in arrears at March 15.

Victor C. Brown of Cranbrook was elected president, being elevated from vice-president and general manager and who will continue in the latter position. He succeeds Carl I. Hall of Vancouver who did not stand for re-election.

Directors elected Alfred O. Farstad of Creston vice-president and M. M. McFarlane of Vancouver secretary.

In his annual report Mr. Hall said a final decision on dividend payments had not been possible because maintenance of a minimum amount of working capital was essential.

Advance Poll Opens Saturday

The advance poll for the April 8 general election will take place in the Chamber of Commerce building Saturday and Monday. The poll will be open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Notre Dame Salutes Oldest University

Monsignor Louis-Albert Vachon Rector Laval University, Quebec, P. Q. received a wire of congratulations from Father Aquinas Thomas, S.A., president of Notre Dame University of Nelson and faculty and staff, of Canada's youngest university.

Father Aquinas' message read: Canada's and British Columbia's newest University, Notre Dame University of Nelson, B.C. is pleased to extend sincere appreciative felicitations to Laval University, the oldest of our Canadian Universities, on the occasion of her tricentennial celebration. Your performance of excellence on the Canadian educational scene and your academic prestige illustrates in a concrete way the importance of the non-governmental University to the development and maintenance of scholarship and culture.

Three Water Bombers To Stand By This Year

There will be no additions to the water bomber and helicopter squad to combat forest fires in the Nelson Forest District this year, forest rangers attending the district's meeting here learned Wednesday.

This was disclosed in a discussion on techniques and usefulness of aerial suppression of forest fires, a fire-fighting method which the audience felt was invaluable in its effect.

At present the forestry budget calls for three water bombers and a spotter plane to be stationed in the forest district on a "crisis come, crisis serve" basis of operation as well as the service of the Okanagan Helicopters Ltd.

The possibility of holding a larger training plan, "Helitak," to train specialists in getting into and out of inaccessible areas via helicopter was discussed. The first helicopter training school was held in Nelson last spring. It is hoped in the future that not only forestry personnel but also industrial personnel will receive "Helitak" training.

To Be Held Election Day . . .

Slocan School District Trustees Distribute Brochure On Referendum

SLOCAN CITY — The board of school trustees, representatives, and district schools superintendent Charles Cuthbert finalized arrangements for Referendum No. 3 for School District No. 8 (Slocan), at a recent meeting.

The referendum will be offered to the ratepayers of the district at the polls April 8; the same date as the federal election. This date was chosen in the expectation that the voter will exercise his right for the referendum at the same time.

Voting for the money by-law will be held in buildings separate from those used for the election; and all ratepayers have been informed of these locations.

Brochures in colorful booklet form answering four questions for the voter, have been mailed to all owner-electors on the voters' list. A statement to the owner-elector in the brochure, signed by W. E. Graham, chairman of the board, states: "Many months of careful planning have gone into the preparation of the School Building Program as outlined in the brochure.

"It includes no frills. It provides only for badly needed and long postponed improvements to school grounds, buildings, and the supplying of necessary equipment to improve teaching and administrative efficiency. Of all the use to which the taxpayer's dollar is put, that portion invested in education is surely the most valuable in dividend returns."

He, on behalf of the elected school trustees and representatives, has requested wholehearted and active support at the polls.

The last referendum was defeated in 1955, and since then $75,000 expenditures for capital improvements to district schools has had to be paid by the district ratepayer, without any government contribution. The success of the current Referendum No. 3 will reduce the capital costs of needed improvements to the local ratepayer by more than 50 per cent. The provincial government will pay at least 50 per cent of the costs of improvements to schools as provided for in the referendum.

The passage of this by-law by the voter will, in the board's opinion, not increase the school tax levy, due to the increase to $70 of the home-owner grant by the provincial government in this session of the Legislative Assembly; and it will not be necessary to pay the entire costs of the improvements, with the provincial government contributing under a guarantee, at least one-half of the yearly payment of principal and interest.

The burden of taxes for the district are shared on a percentage basis, with the industrial share 65 per cent, main industry being the West Kootenay Power & Light Co. Ltd., subsidiary of C.M. & S. Co. Remainder of the taxes are raised by the rural areas, 24.1 per cent; New Denver, 5.5 per cent; Silverton, 2.3 per cent; and the village of Slocan, 3.1 per cent.

A. L. Harris of Silverton, has been appointed returning officer for the referendum, voting for which will take place at the polls from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Mr. Cuthbert and Trustee N. H. Brewster were guests at the annual business meeting of the Slocan Valley Credit Union held at Passmore, Saturday, with over 100 members in attendance. They were invited to speak on various aspects of the Referendum, and many questions from the floor were answered. They were accompanied by the school district representative for the area, P. Bloodoff.

Requests for a similar meeting of ratepayers has been made at Winlaw, and the board anticipates holding further information gatherings at other points in the district, which extends from Hills in the north of the Slocan Valley, south to South Slocan.

Mr. Cuthbert reported on his attendance at Trustees Day, held in Vancouver at the University of B.C.; and at Victoria College in Victoria. On behalf of the school board he interviewed over 50 prospective teachers, who expressed great interest in the area. A display of the school facilities in the district, the scenery and the geography made up by the Kootenay School of Art, enabled Mr. Cuthbert to give the teacher trainees a general idea of the District as a place to teach, and to live.

The Board estimates that there will be required probably five or six new teachers for the schools in the Valley for the next term.

Dewdney Advocates Staged Development On Columbia Power

FRUITVALE — Speaking to a public meeting Wednesday night in Fruitvale, Progressive Conservative candidate Peter Dewdney discussed Columbia River Development, stating that seizure of the lower mainland market for distribution of Peace River power had radically lowered the demand for proposed power from the Columbia River in the near future.

He advocated that the federal provincial and American authorities meet to determine what part of the development could be started immediately.

He said a staged development rather than a package deal might ensure that the great benefits to be derived from an agreement with the United States would not be lost forever.

He named the N.D.P. as "the real anti-American party" and said it seemed to him the party is against any kind of agreement with the United States.

"It is an anti-enterprise party," Mr. Dewdney said, "and no matter how beneficial it might be to Canada we will continue being hurt in this riding if we re-elect an N.D.P. member."

PEARSON'S CLAIM "NONSENSE"

The P-C candidate remarked that Mr. Pearson's claim that he had legislation all ready to go after the election was "nonsense." He said government legislation on the order paper is of a major nature and required months of preparation by government departments and civil servants. Some of it was the result of detailed study by royal commissions, such as the Gill Commission on the Unemployment Insurance Fund, the Glassco Commission on government efficiency and the MacPherson Commission on Railways. Other major legislation, which had required careful preparation, covers such matters as portable pensions, job retraining and manpower adjustment to meet the problems of automation, urban renewal and slum clearance for small and large municipalities, national power grid and the like.

Dewdney said that when Mr. Pearson was asked to outline his legislation, "he became tongue-tied and completely deflated." Apparently he had not been told what this "ready to go legislation" was, said Mr. Dewdney.

Mr. Dewdney said announcement of the proposed establishment of an automobile manufacturing plant in the Maritimes, by the Volvo Automobile Company, to be used eventually as a base for the export trade as well as for the Canadian market, was another example of the government supplying sufficient incentive to private enterprise to induce it to come to Canada.

He said the Volvo Company had been persuaded to come to this country by special tariff and tax advantages.

"This was not the only instance where enlightened activity by the Department of Trade and Commerce has brought important industry and consequent jobs to various parts of Canada," Mr. Dewdney noted. He pointed out that General Motors and Ford Company had been persuaded to buy Canadian steel and to make in Canada automotive transmissions and other automobile parts, which had previously been made in the United States.

Western Indian Theme for Alpha Phi Rush Party

KINNAIRD — The western Indian theme provided an unusual settnig as nine rushees came in authentic Indian costumes to participate in a rush party, hosted by Mrs. J. Gormeley for the Alpha Phi Chapter of the Beta Sigma Phi.

Mrs. P. Bartlett had arranged the colorful display of totem poles and tomahawks as the decor, where the entertainment included modelling. She awarded Mrs. S. Angus the prize for the best costume.

Games and popcorn roasting rounded out an enjoyable evening. Mrs. R. McDonald won the prize in the first round of games played. Mrs. B. Harsent's group won the relay. In the name-the-song contest, winners were Mrs. L. Vader, Mrs. D. Calder and Miss Olga Plotnikoff.

A cake designed as a totem pole was the centrepiece of the refreshment table. It was made and decorated by the hostess, Mrs. Gormeley.

Japan to Take 400,000 Tons Canadian Coal

FERNIE — Fernie and Coleman coal company heads have finished negotiating with a representative of a Japanese steelmaker for export of 400,000 tons of Canadian coal beginning April 1.

T. G. Ewart, president of the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company, with headquarters in Fernie; F. J. Harquail, president of Coleman Collieries Ltd. at Coleman, Alta., and W. G. Whittaker, of Calgary representing the Western Canada Coal Operators Association, were in Tokyo for the negotiations.

The figure is 100,000 tons less than was purchased by Japan last year. But Kiyoshi Murata of Nippon Kokan Company said "This decrease is simply due to the lull in Japan's steel industry at the moment. There is a possibility that Canadian coal imports will be increased this fall depending on the steel market at that time. The figure agreed upon is simply a minimum amount.

Murata said it is "not unreassonable to expect" Japan to buy 1,000,000 tons of Canadian coal annually "in the not too distant future, providing the price can be kept competitive."

Trail Safety Council Plans One-Day Seminar

TRAIL — Plans for a one-day safety seminar are taking shape for the Trail and District Safety Council.

M. S. Bowen reported at the monthly meeting that the agenda includes occupational and recreational safety, with home and school and traffic sections taking an important part.

All phases of safety will be covered in panel-type presentations, with trained and experienced personnel assisting. Some response has been received to date. Mr. Bowen said that about 25 or 30 interested persons would be required to make the seminar, set for April 27, worthwhile.

It was felt by the meeting that more education on the necessity for wearing safety belts is required for the general public. It was noted that in a recent accident on the Rossland hill, had the occupants been held in the car instead of being thrown out, they would not have been seriously injured.

A campaign was felt necessary to bring to the attention of the general public the importance of wearing seat belts. Jaycees are at present looking into the matter.

CHLORINE LEAKAGE PRECAUTIONS

A delegation from the union was concerned about what protection could be taken in the event of an outbreak of chlorine gas. Several suggestions were brought up including approaching the company to find out what publicity could be given the matter and whether some sort of emergency signal could be devised.

One member suggested that in discussions on this topic should include the city chlorination plant. A committee was formed to cover the Trail and district area as far as Castlegar and included Staff Sgt. Beaumont, Fire Chiefs Casey of Tadanac and Ronald of Trail. While a matter of public security, it was also considered a matter for the Safety Council to consider. The committee will make a study and make necessary recommendations.

Enforcement of snow removal came up for discussion and one member, whose wife had slipped and hurt herself, was irked that the regulation had not been enforced on places of city responsibility.

Also Seek Public Access to Grave Lake . . .

Michel-Natal Rod, Gun Club Protests Opening Game Reserve

NATAL — Protest over opening of the Elk River Game Reserve, establishment of an access road as a public road into Grave Lake and poisoning and re-stocking of fish in the lake were highlight topics of the recent meeting of the Michel-Natal Rod and Gun Club held in the Centennial Room of the Natal Curling Club.

President Archie Wojtula conducted the lively meeting.

Regarding the opening of the Elk River Game Reserve, established since 1922, to hunting, the club moved a protest to its recent opening and would concede the opening only if another area be closed to hunting.

This closed area would act as a preservation of the wild life concerned, the club felt.

Members also endorsed the pushing of an access road as a public road to Grave Lake. This area, otherwise known as Emerald Lake, is widely used for recreational purposes by the residents of Natal - Michel - Sparwood an doutsiders.

The lake is one of the few in the area and is a potential major tourist attraction.

The present road, chiefly used to gain access to the lake, is over private property, and is not maintained by the crown.

Prior to the private road being put in, the local Rod and Gun Club had constructed an access road to the lake from a cutoff on the Elk Valley road by the Big Ranch, over a swinging bridge crossing the Elk River. This cable bridge was also constructed by the Rod and Gun Club.

This access road and bridge, which has been used only when necessary, is now in need of repairs. With other groups showing interest regarding the road, it was decided that a petition to have it made a public thoroughfare be circulated to all leaseholders at the lake.

Volunteers for the petition signing were Charlie Kozler and Ronie Kozler.

After a brisk discussion pertaining to the poisoning and restocking of fish in Grave Lake, the meeting decided to leave this important matter for the present time pending further study.

The treasurer's report showed that the club was in good financial standing and the membership had already passed the one hundred mark since the membership drive commenced.

Visiting guest at the meeting was former member and well known sportsman, Martin Baher of Fernie, who assisted with valuable information on some of the discussions that took place.

Keen enthusiasm was shown in the question period.

Chairman was Ray Wilder of Radium, president of the Windermere District Liberal Association.

A number of Golden residents attended.

MARKET TRENDS

NEW YORK (AP) — After more than two sessions of advance the stock market turned irregularly lower Thursday as weakness in tobaccos triggered selling. Volume slackened below the 4,000,000-share level of the previous two sessions.

The market was continuing its advance in the morning when tobaccos began to decline on news that the California Medical Association had voted to publicize "the harmful effects of smoking."

The tobacco stocks declined and Reynolds Tobacco, one of the 15 most active stocks, fell 2 to 43¼.

The day's volume totalled 3,920,000 shares compared with 4,300,000 the previous day.

The Dow Jones industrial average dropped 2.26 to 682.47.

Of 1,290 issues traded, losers outnumbered gainers by 540 to 448.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dropped .8 to 258.7.

Eight of the 15 most active stocks declined, six advanced and one was unchanged, U.S. Steel.

General Motors, touching another historic high, was the most active stock, rising ⅛ to 65⅛ on 64,500 shares.

Aluminium Ltd. rose ⅜ and Hudson Bay Mining ⅝ among Canadian issues traded, while Canadian Pacific and McIntyre Porcupine each gained ¼. International Nickel lost ⅝ and Walker Gooderham ⅜.

Prices were mixed on the American exchange. Volume rose to 1,530,000 shares from Wednesday's 1,020,000 shares. Preston gained 1-16 while Jupiter Corp. lost ¼ and Molybdenite 1-16.

TORONTO (CP) — After six days of continuous rise, a number of strong issues pushed the industrial index ahead nearly three points for the session to a new high for 1963 during moderate trading on the stock exchange Thursday.

The industrial gain for the six - day period was 7.40 points and also featured a new high fo rthe year in base metals around mid-day. The latter dipped slightly at the close to remain ahead two-thirds of a point, while golds were higher and western oils lower.

Algoma Steel gained strength during the last hour and was up two points to a new high of 50, and Canadian Celanese, reaching a new high of 52½ earlier, closed with an advance of 1¾ at 52¼.

Investors Syndicate A rose 1½ to 57 and Dupont advanced 1⅛ to a new 1963 high of 44.

Banks were also generally higher with Nova Scotia up ½, Toronto-Dominion and Imperial Bank of Commerce each ¼ and Royal ⅛.

SHOW MUCH ACTIVITY

Aluminium, one of the session's most active industrials, went ahead ½ to 25¼ and Canadian Chemical, also showing heavy turnover, rose ¼ to 8¾.

On index, industrials rose 2.77 to a new high for 1963 of 604.61, golds gained .04 to 91.50 and base metals .67 to 202.08. Western oils slipped .27 to 117.51. Final volume was 3,523,000 compared with 3,716,000 Wednesday.

Among losing industrials, Trans-Canada Pipe Lines and Moore Corporation each eased ½ and Dominion Stores ¼.

Hudson Bay Mining led the base metals market to higher ground as the stock advanced 1¼ to 55½ on moderate turnover. Geco rose ⅜ and rises of ⅛ were seen in Denison and Noranda. International Nickel was off ⅜.

Western oils struggled through another relatively quiet day with Pacific Petroleum rising ⅛ in senior issues and Northcal slipping a penny to 22 cents on a turnover of 64,500 shares.

MONTREAL (CP) — Stocks advanced Thursday on the Montreal and Canadian exchanges. Trading was moderately active.

Trading very actively, Aluminium rose ½ to 25⅜, Bell ⅛ to 55⅛ and Stelco ⅛ to 19⅛.

Feature gainer was Canadian Celanese, up 2⅛ points to 52½.

Banks showed gains, Banque Canadienne rising ⅝ to 73¾, Banque Provinciale ¾ to 50¼ and Imperial-Commerce ½ to 64.

Central-Del Rio dropped 15 cents to $8.35 and Hudson's Bay Company ⅛ to 14.

Falling ¼ were International Nickel at 64¾, Dominion Stores at 14 and Industrial Acceptance at 26½.

Papers showed losses, Consolidated dropping ½ to 38 and Price ¼ to 37.

In mines, Alsof rose one cent to 55 cents, Bellechasse three cents to 25½ cents and Silver Summit five cents to 93 cents. All traded very heavily.

The indices were mainly up, industrials rising 0.3 to 120.3, banks 0.2 to 125.3 and the composite 0.3 to 120.2. Hitting a new high were utilities, up 0.2 to 116.7. Papers were off 0.1 to 104.7.

Lesson To Be Gained in Tale Of Pair's Survival

The story of the survival of Ralph Flores and Helen Kablen through the seven long weeks of a northern British Columbia winter is an epic in itself. Their courage and the will to live enabled them to survive when their lack of shelter, low temperatures and food called for a spirit of endurance beyond the ordinary.

Despite their injuries and the shock of the plane crash, they had the fortitude to contrive a shelter, to light and keep a fire going despite the fact that the only tools they had to cut wood were a hammer and chisel. Their food ran out in the first week and from then on they had nothing to eat, keeping alive on their body reserves with the help of water to drink. For those whose experience of outdoors was negligible their performance was almost incredible.

They seem to have spent much time in reading the Bible, and no book can surpass this in encouragement in such a difficult situation. Miss Kablen made a particular point of the courage she gained from reading it. It is possible that the sanity of both their minds was preserved by having the Bible to read.

Their ordeal, however, is an encouragement to the belief that others who survive a plane crash can also help themselves. It would seem, however, that all planes, and particularly private planes operating in the northlands, should have survival kits, ample food and tools. It is obvious that these two would have found their plight easier if they had had an axe and some means of snaring the rabbits they saw. Every plane should carry with it a booklet setting forth what can be done under such circumstances and the story of the survival of Ralph Flores and Helen Kablen should be on the first page.

What Is a Policeman?

Policemen are human (believe it or not) just like the rest of us. They come in both sexes, but mostly male. They also come in various sizes. This sometimes depends on whether you are looking for one or trying to hide something. However, they are mostly big.

Policemen are found everywhere — on land, on the sea, in the air, on horses and in cars, and sometimes, in your hair. In spite of the fact that "you can't find one when you want one," they are usually there when it counts. The best way to get one is pick up the phone.

Policemen deliver lectures, babies and bad news. They're the ones who ring the doorbell, swallow hard, and announce the passing of a loved one; then spend the rest of the day wondering why they ever took such a crummy job.

On TV a policeman is depicted as an oaf who couldn't find a bull fiddle in a telephone booth. In real life he's expected to find a little blonde boy "about so high" in a crowd of a quarter million persons. In fiction he gets his help from private eyes, reporters and "who-dunit" fans. In real life, mostly all he gets from the public is "I didn't see nothin'."

To little kids he's either a friend or a bogey-man, depending on how the parents feel about it. He works "around the clock" split shifts, Sundays and holidays and it always kills him when some joker says, "Hey, tomorrow is a holiday, I'm off, let's go fishing."

Lots of policemen have homes. Some are covered with ivy, but most of them are covered with heavy mortgages. A policeman's credit is usually good. This is very helpful because his salary isn't. Policemen raise a lot of kids — most of them belonging to other people.

A policeman sees more misery, bloodshed, trouble and sunrises than the average person. Like the postman, policemen must be out in all kinds of weather. His uniform changes with the climate, but his outlook on life remains about the same; mostly hoping for a better world.

Policemen like days off, vacations and coffee. They don't like auto horns, family fights and anonymous letter writers. They must be impartial, courteous and always remember the slogan "at your service." This is sometimes hard, especially when some character reminds him superfluously, "I'm a taxpayer — I pay your salary."

Cheers and Silence

Official silence of the West German government on the light sentence given a former SS leader is in sharp and shocking contrast to the cheers of the man's supporters as he left the courtroom.

The man, Martin Fellenz, now a Free Democratic Party town councillor in Schleswig-Holstein, was found guilty of helping in two murders during mass killings of Polish Jews in 1941. He was sentenced to four years' imprisonment. With remissions and taking into account the two years he has been held for investigation, he may spend only another month in prison.

This is not the first case of its type, and the apparent reluctance of the Bonn government to demand harsh penalties for Nazi crimes has been noticeable for some time. Observers have frequently reported a national tendency to ignore the bestial aspects of Germany's Nazi years, with a resulting lack of awareness of that barbaric history among German young people.

There have been exceptions, of course, of which the reception given to the German stage runs of The Diary of Anne Frank is an example. Even in that case, however, the common reaction was shock and disbelief. The play was, for some, the first real revelation of what had happened.

The News Interpreting

By HAROLD MORRISON

The Soviet Union's oil exports drive is causing dissension in the Western alliance and fear in Washington that oil will give Russia decided military advantage in Europe.

Undersecretary of State George Ball has decided to hurry to London in what is described as a mere stopover meeting with British officials but which is reality is a mission to plead with the U.K. government to discourage exports of large-diameter oil pipe to Russia.

Tapping what appears to be one of the world's greatest oil reserves, Russia has developed the world's largest oil supply network. By undercutting established Western prices, she also has established major markets in Italy and smaller markets in other West European centres.

So speedily has Russia transportation of oil that her own pipe - producing facilities are insufficient for her needs. For some years she obtained additional large - diameter pipe from West Germany but Chancellor Adenauer thrust aside industry protests and put a halt to further exports.

Now Russia is seeking pipe from Britain and U.S. authorities fear Britain will encourage such shipments because of unemployment at home and because pipe is not on the list of strategic goods banned from export to Communist countries.

Americans realize the Germans would be highly incensed if Britain grabs a pipe contract valued at many millions of dollars which the German government had crushed at great political risk.

Americans also are concerned that Britain is ready to consider bartering British ships for Russian oil, thereby displacing some imports from Western suppliers. British officials conten dthat U.S. criticism is unwarranted since some of the British shipyards are idle. The violent demonstrations by thousands of unemployed workers at the doors of Parliament in London tends to add strength to the British argument that the British worker won't stand for idleness.

Aside from the competitive impact of Russian oil on U.S. exports, th U.S. fears that by extending her large - diameter pipeline, Russia will be able to speed delivery of oil to strategic points in the event of war.

U.S. policy is to attempt to persuade the Allies to do everything they can to reduce Soviet oil expansion. European allies have been slow to co-operate. A congressional foreign affairs study mission reported that government - owned facilities in Western Europe created markets for Soviet oil in Sweden, France, West Germany, Italy

The U.S. believes oil pipe should be on the strategic list of goods banned from shipment to the Communists but the congressional report says "Britain remains one of the chief stumbling blocks to the attainment in Western Europe of broader and more effective controls on exports to the Communist countries."

The report also says that the private oil industry in Western Europe "must share part of the blame for the success of the Soviet oil offensive in that area."

CIVIL DEFENCE

Civil Defence preparations will enable a community or a country to better withstand natural disasters. In the case of Hurricane Carla nearly 700,000 people were moved from their coastal homes to safety to inland points.

F. B. Pearce ...Writes

One of my anonymous correspondents sends me a clipping of Arthur Mayse's column in the Colonist. Arthur does not like being called a senior citizen, neither does my friend for she says he speaks for an old woman, and neither do I like Senior Citizen-ess, so that makes it unnanimous. But I told you this before.

On the other hand while I do not object to being an old man, I'd be dead if I wasn't' I don't want any of these young sprig-ginses suggesting that I should not be allowed to look at pretty girls and enjoy fast cars. I'm old but not that old. Neither do I suppose my lady friend feels she is any less of a woman because she is a grandmother (?).

I like to see people grow old gracefully. I have a great respect for grandmothers and cannot see why anyone should object to being one. Unless they wan to dress up and look like mutton got up as lamb. Who do they think they are kidding? Not any other woman. Almost every woman can tell another woman's age without looking at her teeth.

Grandmothers rate higher than grandfathers. I go up to visit and the middle grandchild says, "Where's Grandma?" as much as to say, "What do you mean by leaving her at home."

That grandchild amuses me. He is like the fat boy in Pickwick Papers, he can go to sleep any old time. He came down here last night, had a little snack and then put himself to sleep on the sofa. The other two were still going strong an hour later when his father came in but he couldn't waken him.

I think he is like his grandmother, who seems to be descended from the Seven Sleepers of Ephesus. She goes calmly off to sleep while I'm lying there busy counting sheep and thinking of all the sins I would have like to have committed and so far have not got around to.

It is a wicked world, alas a very wicked world, as my friend the Canon says, I could not agree with him more. I'm sure we are headed for destruction much like Sodom and Gomorrah, in a blaze of light if not glory.

When I was eighteen and knew a great deal more than I do today, out of the wisdom of youth I concluded that this civilization would reach an apex in materialism and then pass away, to be followed by one where the spiritual side of man, not necessarily religious, would be developed. I am happy to announce that since then the British Israelites and the Jehovah's Witness agree with me.

However, when I get despondent, particularly after reading all the election brainwashed speeches I refresh myself by reading the first verse of chapter four of Ecclesiastes:

"So I returned and considered all the oppressions that are done under the sun and behold the tears of such as were oppressed and they had no comforter and on the side of their oppressors was power but they had no comforter.

"Wherefore I praised the dead which are already dead more than the living which are yet alive."

Then, such is my ornery nature, I believe it is as well to be alive while I am alive.

Los Angeles Teenagers Mixed Up On Morals

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Teenagers are being seduced by a "culture of fun morality," a doctor says, and some of them are so mixed up they think getting pregnant before marriage makes them more to be envied than pitied.

The doctor said a 1961-62 survey conducted at 21 schools in California's Contra Costa County turned up 121 pregnancies among 12,136 junior and senior high school girls.

Dr. Toshiye Tagasaki, county assistant health officer, delivered a report to the California Medical Association and later discussed the survey at a press conference.

She said the survey showed the school "with the highest incidence of reported pregnancy had an all-white population with parents generally in a high level of income and education."

"Our attention is called to the culture of fun morality—hedonism, in other words—sexual titillation from the mass media, the 'so-far-but-no-further' philosophy and practice."

Refugees Advised Against Hit-Run Tactics On Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI, the U.S. Coast Guard and other agencies are doing all possible to discourage hit-and-run raids by Cuban refugees on Cuba, officials said today.

President Kennedy has said he does not believe the hit-run tactics are an effective way of freeing Cuba from communism. They may even strengthen Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Some in high administration circles believe the free lance raids, if continued, might set off a new, explosive crisis in U.S.-Soviet relations.

The question of what measures the United States is taking to stop the forays came up in the wake of a Soviet Union protest Wednesday and the report of another raid Tuesday night.

Russia charged the United States was responsible for "piratical attacks." Specifically it mentioned an attack on the Soviet freighter Lgov, shot up by exiles March 17 at the sugar port of Isabela de Sagua on Cuba's north coast.

The state department denied U.S. responsibility for the assault, which refugee leaders have said was mounted from "somewhere in the Caribbean." Lincoln White, department press officer, said "the U.S. government is doing everything it possibly can to prevent such incidents from happening from U.S. territory."

CASTRO BLAMES U.S.

Today, Havana radio said Castro holds the United States responsible for the attack.

If such hit-and-run attacks continue, the radio quoted Castro as saying, Cuba may have to acquire "long range bombers and the necessary naval equipment with which to escort her merchant vessels and protect her routes of supplies from the outside and to repel aggressors."

Even as the United States was rejecting the Russian protest, word came of a new raid by an anti-Castro organization on the port of Isabela de Sagua.

A spokesman for the group, Commando L, said in Miami the raiders slipped into the port Tuesday night, attacked a Russian freighter and left it "badly in need of rapaids to keep it from sinking."

The raiders, the spokesman said, returned safely to their base "somewhere in the Caribbean."

March 29, 1963 . . .

Royal assent was given to the British North America Act 96 years ago today —in 1867—uniting the provinces of Canada under one government. The provinces then in Confederation were Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. Prince Edward Island refused to join the Confederation at that time and British Columbia, separated from the new union by a vast and practically unsettled area controlled by the Hudson's Bay Company, also remained aloof. They, and the other present - day provinces, joined later to make today's 10-province nation.

Russ Discoveries May Turn Cuba Into Soviet Union Fief

The author of this article, a correspondent for the nation, recently returned from Cuba with a report on Soviet mineral and oil explorations. Andrew Tully CIA: The Inside Story, lists Jesse Gordon as one of the few expert observers on conditions within the Island.

Written for The AP
By JESSE GORDON

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Angus Henriquez, director of the Cuban Institute of Mineral Resources, took four hours off a busy day to go over a Soviet technicians' new report on Cuba's mineral resources.

"I am not an engineer," I said toward the close of the interview. "Yet, I see well enough that the Russians, in 18 months' time, have decided that they can get many times as much wealth out of your ground in a few years as American engineers have taken out of Cuba in half a century. How is that explained?"

Dr. Henriquez smiled and said: "Socialistic mining is quite different from capitalistic mining. Capitalist mining only scratches the surface; socialist mining digs deeper."

Several months later, in New York, an American engineer scanned the tables I had copied on the Soviet estimates of Cuba's nickel, manganese, chromite, iron and oil reserves. "I'm prepared to accept these figures," he said. "They seem high, but not implausible. We've always known there was a lot of stuff down there."

"Then why didn't you take it out?"

"We took out only what we could sell at a profit," he answered. "That's what mining outfits are in business for. Generally speaking, the farther down you have to go for your ore, the more it costs you to bring it to the surface. Cuba wasn't our only source for these ores; what we could get out of Cuba cheaper than elsewhere, we took out; when we could get the stuff cheaper elsewhere, we stopped producing in Cuba."

PROFITS DON'T MATTER

But socialist mining, when designed to achieve national security or increased autonomy, takes little account of profits. The iron, manganese, chromite, oil, copper and so forth that American miners have been spurning, may prove the salvation of Castro's Communist regime in Cuba.

These Cuban resources may enable Castro to solve the long range economic problems that present more peril to him than invasions from the United States.

And they may turn Cuba from an economic fief of the United States into a fief of the Soviet Union.

For all available data indicate the Soviet Union will one day demand a reckoning from Castro for the estimated $450,000,000 in aid—industrial, military and financial—that the Soviet Union has already poured into that country.

And available data indicate equally clearly that Cuba has neither the capital nor the technical knowledge to exploit the mineral potential revealed in the Soviet report.

The capital will come from Russia and the Soviets will hold a mortgage on every drop of oil, every ounce of manganese, iron, nickel, cobalt, and copper drawn out of Cuba's earth.

Some Drugs To Be Banned

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator Hubert H. Humphrey said Thursday he has been told the Food and Drug Administration is taking steps to ba nsales of a vitamin supplement, menadione, to pregnant women.

The Minnesota Democrat said the FDA may try to pass off the action against the supplement, vitamin K-3, as routine. But, he added in a statement:

"The fact is it has taken a behind - the - scenes battle of more than a year and a public airing of the situation to get the FDA to act decisively."

Humphrey, himself a pharmacist, is chairman of a Senate government operations subcommittee which heard Dr. John O. Nestor, a pediatrician on the FDA staff, testify last week that the use of the vitamin in pre-natal supplements may result in some instances in "brain damage, spasticity and death" to the newborn.

Humphrey also announced he has received further confirmation that another drug, mylicon, which he said Nestor had forced from the market as a "pediatric drug," still is "unfortunately being sold for infant use" in the treatment of colic.

He said his subcommittee will not give FDA officials hearings until its staff has examined all the files on drugs criticized by Dr. Nestor, as well as on "certain other cases" and members have all the facts.

CUBA DEPORTS MISSIONARIES

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Two groups of religious missionaries were deported from Cuba Wednesday. They said they had been under detention since a March 13 speech in which Fidel Castro called them spies.

The religious deportees included missionaries of the Assemblies of God (Pentecostal) and Jehovah's Witnesses.

They were among 73 refugees alighting from an airliner which earlier Wednesday had flown to Cuba 10,000 pounds of supplies, part of the price Cuba demanded for releasing the prisoners captured in the abortive Bay of Pigs invasion.

Youth Dies Of Sniffing Airplane Glue

FREEPORT, Kan. (AP) — Stanley Duncan's life ended at 19 while he was sniffing glue.

Everybody said he wasn't the type.

It can't happen to you, you always tell yourself," says his mother, "but it can and it does and I pray Stanley's death will help some youngsters and parents to realize that it can."

Howard Duncan found his brother's body March 15.

A plastic freezer bag was over Stanley's head. Glue was found in the bag. Suicide has been ruled out.

Dr. A. R. Edmundson said Stanley apparently breathed too much of the glue and suffocated. "He died a violent death," Dr. Edmundson said.

Thousands of youngsters have found they get kicks from breathing fumes from glue used for model airplanes. A tube costs a dime.

The fumes damage the liver, lungs and frontal lobe of the brain and bone marrow where blood cells are formed.

In high school, Stanley lettered in football, basketball and track. He attended a year of college, then dropped out to start farming with his father.

"He wasn't a problem child," said his father. "We never had any trouble with him all the time he was growing up. Usually you can tell if your kids are up to something, but this was a complete shock."

Facts Behind Election Noted

To the Editor—

Sir—Many voters have heard their favorite candidate speak at least once and have read accounts of some of the other's statements. To many the reasons for the election are confused and hidden among the smoke screen risen over matters which are only vital if there is a responsible opposition as well as a responsible government.

Too many candidates are raising issues which are in the provincial field of action. Too many are raising questions on unemployment without analysing why there is unemployed. Too many are raising the "bogey" of high prices because of the dollar pegging.

Let us review what people who have no axe to grind have to say. A recent bulletin put out by a financial house listed the rating of the Canadian dollar for the past 15 years. Since June at no time has the exchange been listed below 94 cents, hovering mostly between 95 to 97 cents.

Jack Pickersgill on May 5th, 1962 and again a short time ago, stated that "pegging the dollar will mean higher prices for Canadians." On January 28, 1963 President Kennedy estimated that Canada had "achieved the best record of price stability among all major industrial countries." (A quote from the Canadian Press).

Last June 8, Lester Pearson stated the "cost of living would increase because of the dollar pegging." Yet the Canadian Business three months later revealed that in a 12-nation comparison of retail price increases over a 12-month period showed Canada has been most successful in keeping down the cost of living. Canada's increase was less than one per cent while the U.S. was over one per cent. And her position in relation to the other 11 nations is steadily improving.

Paul Martin on June 6, 1962, stated that the dollar pegging was too great a burden for the common man to bear. What has the Mercantile Bank of Canada in November to say? They stated "Devaluation has provided a powerful force contributing to a better external balance, increased production and provided more employment." Again the December 29 issue of the Business Week stated that in 1962 Canada has chalked up the highest growth rate of any Atlantic Community Country.

Has pegging the dollar raised prices to the extreme extent that many politicians are claiming? Let us see what statistics reveal regarding some of the items which could have been affected.

Take the car which cost $3000 in early 1962. After pegging of the dollar the price was $2991, down $9. Or the electric stove which last June first was $425. After the pegging it went down to $423.30. Increases were noted in drug orders and fuel orders. A 10-dollar drug order increased 10 cents and the fuel order of $3.50 only showed an increase of three cents. And on down the line where you might expect and increase there has been a decrease and then where an increase has been the amount is only less than one percent of what was predicted by the criers.

What had Louis Rasminsky, governor of the Bank of Canada to say about Canada's current-account deficit? He noted in his 1962 annual report that the amount of imports over exports had been narrowed from $980,000,000 in 1961 to $850,000,000 at a time when normally the results would have been greater. He said, "I believe that the lower exchange value of the Canadian dollar, taken in conjunction with the degree of price stability we hace been able to maintain has played a helpful role in the improvement which has occurred, and that if we take advantage of our opportunities we can expect to derive additional benefits from this and other actions that have been taken affecting our balance of payment."

Mr. Editor, these are but a few of facts regarding some of the points reased by the candidates. I hope they are of value to the voter in making their selection next April 8.

Sheep Shearing Is Her Line

PUKEKOHE, N.Z. (CP)—Another masculine stronghold has fallen. A farmer's daughter, 19-year-old Pamela Herlihy, has been making eyes pop this year as a member of a sheep-shearing gang.

A small, quiet - spoken brunette, Miss Herlihy took up shearing about a year ago and this year has held her own in what has hitherto been considered an exclusively male occupation. She has been taking her place with the shearing gang and handling big flocks of sheep while working for a full nine-hour day.

Lately, she has even been competing with success in sheep - shearing competitions, which require both skill and speed. She placed second in her class in one contest and third at another agricultural show, against all-male competition.

Miss Herlihy now has acquired sufficient stamina to be able to put through more than 160 sheep in a nine-hour day.

Women often work as shed hands, removing and sorting fleeces, especially in Maori shearing gangs, but oldtimers cannot recall a woman working as an actual shearer in a New Zealand gang.

"There's no knowing where it will end," said one veteran in shocked tones after watching the new invasion of masculine preserves.

Miss Herlihy's only comment on her occupation is: "It was something different."

Explorers Hear of Life In Hong Kong

Fairview United Church Explorer girls, mothers and friends heard Miss Myrtle Cheung of Notre Dame University tell of the hazards and privations of living in Hong Kong.

A city of few times larger than Nelson, Hong Kong has a population of at least four million persons, the audience was told.

The Explorers demonstrated in costume a chapter from their study to show the work of the church in giving a small amount of food each day to many refugees in Hong Kong.

A gift of money, raised for relief purposes and contained in a Chinese junk made by the girls, was presented to the missionary and maintenance secretary.

Several of the girls received red, blue or gold stars earned during the year.

A class of grade 3 Sunday School girls, guests with their teachers, were invited to become members by the leaders, Mrs. C. M. Robinson and Mrs. R. D. Paterson.

Mrs. W. H. Elmes assisted at the tea table, with Explorers serving.

Mrs. McFadden Honored On 88th Birthday

SOUTH SLOCAN — Fourteen members of the family of Mrs. M. A. McFadden of South Slocan, gathered at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. K. McFadden of Cora Linn to celebrate her 88th birthday.

Others attending were another son and daughter-in-law, Mr. Mrs. Jock Hawkins of Brilliant; her daughter, Mrs. I. Dunsmore; grandsons and their families, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hawkins and Roberleigh; and Mr. and Mrs. R. Dunsmore and Robert, Glen and Louisa.

Great grandsons Robert and Glen presented her with a corsage, and two birthday cakes were a feature of the dinner. One honoring Mrs. McFadden, the other to remember the birthdate of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. J. Hawkins.

Children's Ward On Improvement Agenda

NEW DENVER — Work will be commenced on the children's ward of the Slocan Community Hospital in New Denver as soon as approval is received from the B.C. Hospital Insurance Service.

This was noted at the 36th annual meeting of the hospital society, held in the Royal Canadian Legion Hall recently.

Other improvements will include modernization of wiring in the hospital.

President J. L. Wilson reported that nothing further had been received from the BCHIS on the survey which was to have been made to determine the need for a new hospital in the district. The society will contact the service again.

The directors' report to the members indicated that 362 patients were cared for in the hospital in 1962. There were 3278 patient days, an increase of 572 days over 1961. There were 146 major and minor operations performed, and 138 outpatients received treatment.

Mrs. Avison, R. Peachey and M. Wright, all of Silverton, and J. L. Irwin of New Denver were elected to the board of directors for two-year terms.

Miss M. Butlin gave a comprehensive report on the activities of the Hospital Aid in 1962 and appealed for new members to enable the aid to carry on its work.

S. Slocan People Observe Their 51st Anniversary

SOUTH SLOCAN — Mr. and Mrs. W. Baker celebrated their 51st wedding anniversary when they were the guests of honor at a dinner party held at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Baker, at South Slocan.

Seventeen guests sat down to dinner, and were entertained in the evening with slides of local mountains and the Rockies by E. J. Askew, a member of the Alpine Club of Canada.

A turkey supper and election of officers marked the recent meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Kootenay Kiltie Pipe Band, held at the home of Mrs. David Paul, 426 Anderson Street.

Two new members, Mrs. H. L. Galbraith and Mrs. J. Smith, joined the 13 attending.

Election of officers saw Mrs. R. Wright named president; Mrs. A. Cook, secretary treasurer; Mrs. C. Underwood, vice-president; Mrs. Paul, and Mrs. J. F. Hogg, social conveners; Mrs. I. Walgren, sunshine convener.

A forthcoming bake sale, to be held at a downtown store, was discussed.

Toastmistresses Have Dinner With Men's Group

KINNAIRD — A joint dinner meeting of the Castlegar Toastmasters' and Toastmistresses' Clubs was held in the Golden Horse Shoe Banquet Room in Kinnaird

The varied topics of the main speakers included comments on St. Patrick, Communications, Men's Contribution to History, and the Life of the Honey Bee.

Grace was said by Mrs. D. Brookes after which chairman Allen Selbie opened the meeting. The table topics discussions were opened in seasonal Irish brogue by Mrs. David Campbell.

Toastmistress for the evening, Mrs. Pat Haley, introduced four speakers, Mrs B. Shealds, G. Markin, E. Mosby and A. Woodrow. Impromptu speaker was Mrs. R. Watters. General evaluator, A. Shutek introduced the evaluators, P. Moroso, G. Shanks, H. Pitman, S. Petersen and Mrs R. Bernick.

Mrs. G. Leitner reported, as grammarian, on the English errors and structural soft spots of the speeches. The inspirational thought given by Mrs. R. Watters was taken from the writings of Mahatma Ghandi. "The only tyrant I accept is the 'still small voice within'."

Canadian Golfers to Watch Knudson, Thompson — Toski

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Sports Editor

Bob Toski mentioned during a visit to Toronto a couple of weeks ago that the golfing Canadians to watch on the gold trail are George Knudson and Alvie Thompson.

The two Toronto golfers aren't likely to threaten the big three of Arnold Palmer, Gary Player and Jack Nicklaus, but they have the shots to win considerably more than pocket money. In the rough - tough skirmish of pro golf, where it costs $200 and more a week to survive, the circuit can be risky business.

Toski knows, because he was just another name among touring pros for nearly 10 years before he hit the jackpot in 1954 for $100,000 in the world championship at Tam O'Shanter in Chicago. He pocketed the first-prize $50,000 and a $50,000 exhibition tour contract.

He made only a few appearances on the tournament trail after that and now, at 36, he bathes in the Florida sunshine counting his money.

"Knudson, I know, has the shots to become a real good one," the dapper little man—weight 130 pounds—said in an interview. "I've seen him play. I don't know too much about Thompson, but the touring pros tell me he likely will be heard from in the near future."

Toski apparently had the right line on Knudson, a native of Winnipeg. So far this year he has topped the Canadian money winners with an official $5,783. Thompson had better put some good rounds together because his official earnings in two months are a meagre $328.

This would keep him in golf balls, and maybe caddy tips, but nothing else.

Toski had a few kind words to say about 48-year-old Stan Leonard of Vancouver who has been a consistent winner since he left his home town more than 10 years ago to try his luck with the big boys. He picks his spots and so far this year has won an official $4,871.

Al Balding of Toronto, another seasoned pro, is doing okay with $5,185.

BOOST OPEN CASH

Undoubtedly, all four will show up at Toronto Scarboro for the July 3-6 Canadian Open, which this year will be worth $50,000, an increase from $30,000 in the last two years.

This tournament has been pretty good to the home-breds over the years. Canadians still remember 1954 at Vancouver when Pat Fletcher, then 38, and no great tournament golfer, won the Canadian Open and $3,200 in cash—$3,000 as winner plus $200 as low Canadian.

That was the first time in 40 years a Canadian had won, but there wasn't great jubilation. Most of the big-time pros had by-passed the tournament. The previous stop on the trail was Columbus, Ohio, and the Americans felt it was too long a haul to British Columbia.

But they should be around in great numbers this year. Some Americans complained a year ago that the $30,000 pot was too small and that the sponsors had better set their sights higher.

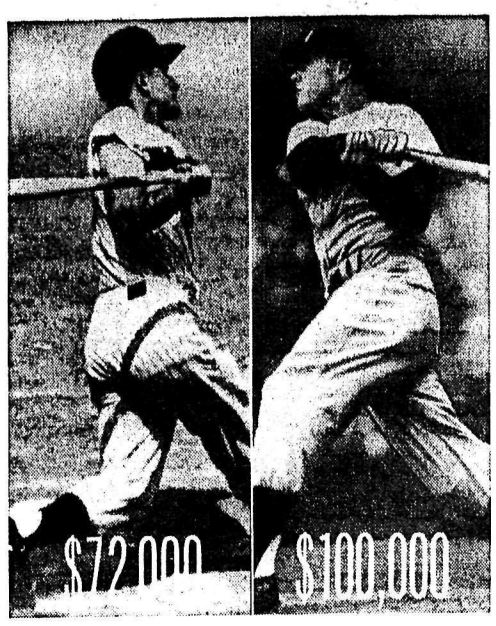
The sponsors did and the first prize now is $9,000, up from $4,300. Second money is $4,600, an increase of $1,600, and third-place money is $3,000, compared with $2,000 the last couple of years.

The big boys just can't afford to pass this up and the Canadian pros certainly will be around.

Defending Champ Leads World Chess Tourney

MOSCOW (AP) — The third game in the current world chess tournament involving defending champion Mikhail Botvinnik, playing black, and Tigran Petrosian was declared a draw Thursday after 87 moves. Both the players are Russian.

The match was adjourned Wednesday after 41 moves. Botvinnik now has two points and Petrosian one. The fourth match will be played Saturday.



Roger Maris — Mickey Mantle

HOMERS COME HIGH—The New York Yankees this year are dishing out a total of $172,000 to their two slugging outfielders—Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris—whose combined home run production was 63 in 1962. Mantle's 100 grand makes him the fifth player in baseball history to earn that much in a single season.

3-Time National Champ Heads Bowlers at Tourney

VANCOUVER (CP) — Tony Chibi of Leamington, Ont., heads a delegation of Canada's six top tenpin bowlers today at the opening of the Canadian Masters tournament here.

Chibi, three - time national champion and six-time Ontario champion, is expected to provide the stiffest competition in a 15-game series during the two-day tournament.

Winner of the Masters becomes Canada's representative in the world match play championship in Chicago.

British Columbia's hope is Percy Scott, 51, who won the provincial title with a 2,852 total in 15 games, including a 280 game.

Youngest competitor is Chuck Faas, 21, of Calgary, Alberta champion, who had a 199 average in winning his title.

Maurice Boyer of Montreal, Quebec - Maritimes title holder, has the highest average in regional playoffs—201. Boyer is a former Quebec duckpins champion making his first appearance in the Masters.

Frank Boehm of Regina, who knocked defending Masters champion Red Glasser out of the Saskatchewan playoffs this year, will represent his province.

Bob Holder of Brandon will represent Manitoba.

Holder won his provincial title with a 1519 total for eight games and an average of 189.

In addition to the trip to the world championships in Chicago, the six provincial titlists will be competing for a trip to the U.S. Masters in Buffalo, N.Y.

The six bowlers will compete in a 15-game series in three blocks of five games.

Davis Cup Tie May Be Played In Canada

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Canadian Lawn Tennis Association has asked that this year's Canada-Mexico Davis Cup tie be played in this country.

Jim Macken of Vancouver, vice-president of CLTA, said that if the Canadian bid is accepted, there is an excellent chance the tie will be held here.

The Canadian championships will be played here July 27-Aug. 3.

"We don't stipulate a site other than the 'west coast' in the application to the CLTA," said Macken. "But I think Vancouver would be a natural to host the tie if it could be played here around the time of the Canadian championships."

Few Remember The First Lady Byng Trophy Winner

PEMBROKE, Ont. (CP) — One of the most unusual trophy presentations in hockey history occurred in Ottawa on a warm spring night in 1925.

Lady Byng, wife of the Governor-General, sent a message to Frank Nighbor, star extraordinary of the famed Ottawa Senators. Would Mr. Nighbor drop into Rideau Hall at his convenience?

When Nighbor arrived, Lady Byng took him into a drawing room where a huge silver trophy was displayed on the table. She held it up and asked him whether the National Hockey League would be willing to accept it for annual award to its most sportsmanlike player.

Nighbor said the NHL probably would be delighted.

"Then," said Lady Byng, "I present this trophy to Frank Nighbor as the most sportsmanlike player for 1925."

Nighbor, today living in comfortable retirement in this Ottawa Valley town, recalls that as one of the most memorable events in the 1915-30 hockey era when his name and exploits were as familiar to sports fans as those of Gordie Howe or Rocket Richard are today.

JUDGMENT UPHELD

There were no complaints about the rather arbitrary manner in which Lady Byng, an ardent hockey fan, handled the inaugural award of the Lady Byng trophy. A vote of sports writers in the league cities a year later upheld her judgment by naming Nighbor a repeat winner.

"They hand out a $1,000 cheque with the Byng award today," says Nighbor, "but I wouldn't trade this for $10,000." He was holding up the miniature Lady Byng trophy the governor - general's wife gave him that night 38 years ago.

Nighbor, hair thinning and step slowing to a shuffle, recently marked his 70th birthday. But he still is only five pounds above his 160 - pound playing weight and has a photo-clear memory of those bygone years when hockey was front-page news across the country, when his $7,000 salary was considered fabulous and when only Toronto had artificial ice.

Born in Pembroke, he began skating at four on old-fashioned blades strapped on to overshoes. At 15 he starred with a district senior team that lost only one game in two years.

In 1909 Nighbor went to a Port Arthur club and had two seasons there before a scout signed him for Toronto in the old National Hockey Association, five-team forerunner of NHL. Salary: $750.

DEFENSIVE WIZARD

Faded newspaper clippings of the day make only secondary mention of the 23 goals Nighbor produced in his 20-game rookie season. The sensation was his introduction of the "sweep check," in which Nighbor held the length of his stick flat on the ice and swept it across the path of opposing forwards. It collected the puck almost every time.

Time has even dulled the memory of his sweep-checking skill, however, and today old-timers remember him for his effectiveness with the "poke check."

Toronto fans howled at the end of the season when he was drafted by Vancouver Millionaires. The Pacific Coast League had made a deal with the eastern circuit, after threatening a player raid, under which the Western clubs were allowed to select two players from the east. Frank Patrick, then coaching Vancouver, took Didier Pitre from Montreal and the new wonder boy left-winger from the Torontos.

His selection paid off 12 months later when Vancouver won its first and only Stanley Cup. Nighbor's checking was given much of the credit.

"I really loved it in Vancouver," Nighbor told an interviewer. "But my mother was sick back east and I jumped the club after the first season. Patrick threatened to sue my ears off."

Thus in 1915 he hit the ice with Ottawa. The late Tommy Gorman, coach of the Senators, later called Nighbor one of the best hockey players he had ever seen. Moved to centre, he was hailed as the outstanding two-way forward in the league.

In the 1916-17 season he and Joe Malone of Quebec City staged one of the greatest scoring duels of all time, ending up tied at 41 goals in 20 games.

Nighbor was with Ottawa on four Stanley Cup teams—three of them in the four years from 1919 to 1923. On the night of the final Stanley Cup game in 1927, the last cup year for Ottawa, his only son was born. He was named Frank Stanley in honor of the victory.

In 1924 the Hart Trophy was established, to be awarded to the most valuable player in the NHL. Nighbor was the first to win it, although he was 12th in the scoring list that season with 10 goals. But Ottawa's 1923-24 league title was largely due to his defensive work.

Elmer Ferguson, the Montreal sports writer, wrote after one of Nighbor's performances against Montreal: "Frank Nighbor picks the puck off the stick of a forward with all the grace and deadly accuracy of a master fencer."

INJURED LEG

During the 1928-29 season, when he was in the $7,000 salary range, he was injured during a game and underwent an operation that removed a leg cartilage. From there the Pembroke Peach went downhill.

"I knew I was just about over the hill," he recalls. "Then Conn Smythe offered Ottawa $50,000 for my contract. I couldn't believe it."

Nighbor moved to Smythe's Toronto Maple Leafs for the 1929-30 season but he had a tough time keeping pace with younger players.

At the end of the season Smythe revealed the real reason for his purchase. He asked Nighbor to coach Toronto.

"It was a great chance," he says, "but I had to turn it down. My wife was back in Ottawa dying of TB and I decided to get out of hockey and stay with her."

Mrs. Nighbor died in May, 1931. "I didn't know what to do with myself for the next couple of months. Then a couple of Buffalo executives came and told me to get off the seat of my pants and back into hockey."

GAVE UP HOCKEY

Nighbor ran Buffalo Bisons of the International League for three seasons, winning the title in the first two. It was the first hockey title ever won by Buffalo. Later he coached London Tecumsehs, in the same league, for a season "but my heart just wasn't in it any more."

He returned to Pembroke and the general insurance business he had kept up in partnership with Dave Behan all through his hockey career.

Nighbor retired from the insurance business 18 months ago, buying out Behan and turning the firm over to Frank Jr. Then he took a five-month winter vacation in Florida before settling back amid his memories and mementos.

He remains a keen hockey fan, watching televised games regularly and sometimes visiting the school rink up the street from his home.

But a check of the youngsters playing on the rink one afternoon recently showed that none of them had ever heard of Frank Nighbor, the "grey ghost" of New York sports pages in the 1920s and the 12th player admitted to the International Hockey Hall of Fame.

Federation Ratifies List Of World Records

LONDON (AP) — The International Amateur Athletic Federation Thursday ratified a long list of world track and field records, including the one-mile mark of 3:54.4 by Peter Snell of New Zealand and the 100-yard record of :09.2 by Canada's Harry Jerome.

The IAAF list included several marks made prior to last season, but most were for 1962, with 15 going to U.S. athletes and 10 to Russians—half by Soviet women.

Snell's mile record was made at Wanganui, New Zealand, Jan. 27, 1962. His 800-metre record of 1:44.3 on Feb. 3, 1962, at Christchurch, N.Z., also was ratified, along with his 880-yard mark of 1:45.1 in the same race.

Frank Budd's 100-yard mark of 9.3 seconds at Villanova, May 6, 1961, was recognized, but it is superseded by Jerome's clocking at Vancouver, B.C., Aug. 25, 1962 and again Sept. 3 at Toronto.

Kraft Rink Takes Fourth Round Lead in Bonspiel

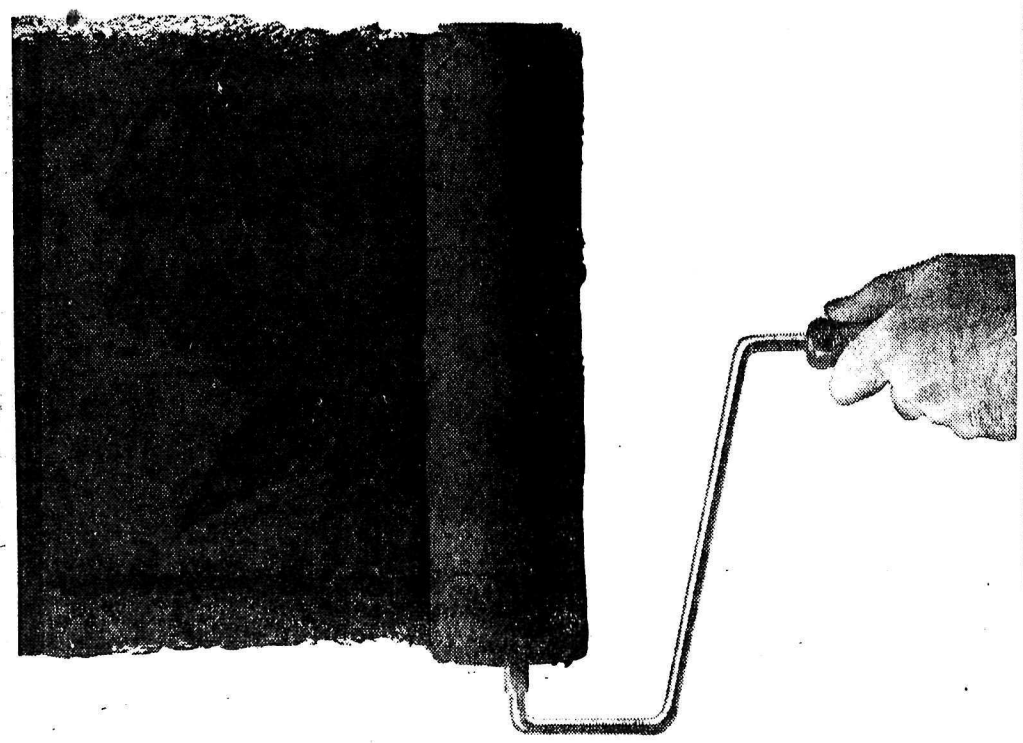
TORONTO (CP) — Twenty-eight-year-old Larry Kraft of Salmo, B.C., went to an extra end Thursday to down previously undefeated Manitoba and take undisputed possession of first place after four rounds in the five-round Dominion Firefighters Curling Association championships.

Manitoba, skipped by John McCorrister of Winnipeg, took an early lead but faded and had to come from behind to tie the game 7-7 in the 12th end. Kraft didn't have to throw his final rock in the extra end for an 8-7 victory after McCorrister's shot ended up on the eight-foot circle after missing a take-out.

B.C. now has four straight wins. Alberta, skipped by John McDonald of Edmonton, is tied for second place with Manitoba after edging Dick Hollier of Saskatoon 9-8. Saskatchewan has yet to win in four games.

Northern Ontario, skipped by Ron Smith of Red Rock, is in fourth place with a 2-2 record after whipping winless Ontario, skipped by Ford Watt of Brampton, 14-7.

Earlier games Thursday saw B.C. drop Northern Ontario 10-9 Manitoba trounce Saskatchewan 16-6 and Alberta beat Ontario 16-6.



How to save 4/10 of a cent

Buy a gallon of cheap, promotion paint.

You'll save 4/10 of a cent on every square foot of wall you paint. When you finish the room, you will have saved just over a couple of dollars. And in less time than you think, you'll probably have to paint again.

That's why so many people know it's good sense and good economy to pay a few dollars more for Monamel Paint.

Monamel is the finest paint you can buy. A gallon costs a few dollars more than cheap paint. It will cover some 600 square feet of wall surface and you'll have paint left over. (Note: a gallon of cheap paint doesn't always cover that large an area.)

A Monamel painted room looks fresh and clean for a long time. Its latex-painted surface can be washed time and again. Cheap paint is apt to come off in the washing. Monamel stays on because it's made to be the finest paint you can buy.

No short cuts in the manufacture. No skimping on the polymerized resins, acrylates, copolymers, pigments, and all the other quality ingredients fine paint must have.

For your Spring painting, pay the few dollars more for a gallon of Monamel. It's worth it. It's good sense. It's good economy. It's the finest quality paint made by General Paint Corporation of Canada, Limited. – Monamel – there just isn't any better paint.

Leafs, Hawks Take Victories

Keon Scores Winner In Toronto Victory

TORONTO (CP) — A goal by Dave Keon late in the second period stood up as the winner Thursday night as Toronto Maple Leafs defeated a spunky Montreal Canadiens club 3-2 to take a 2-0 lead in their best-of-seven Stanley Cup semi-final series.

The goal by Keon, his ninth this season against the Habs, was scored at 16:35 and broke a tie which Montreal defenceman Terry Harper had set up with his first National Hockey League playoff goal earlier in the period.

Captain George Armstrong and defenceman Allan Stanley scored the other Toronto goals. Centre Jean Beliveau scored the first Montreal goal, giving him two of Montreal's three goals so far in the series.

The Montrealers were much improved in this game over their showing in the opener, which they dropped 3-1 here Tuesday night. The third and fourth games of the series will be played in Montreal Saturday and Tuesday night. A fifth game, if necessary, will be back here next Thursday.

The Canadiens outshot Leafs 31-27 and gave Toronto veteran netminder Johnny Bower several anxious moments, especially in the final period when they went all out for the tying goal.

They managed to get goalkeeper Jacques Plante out of the net for a sixth attacker with 70 seconds left but he had to go back in for a faceoff in the Montreal end. Then, with 45 seconds left, Plante got off again for the balance of time but neither club had a chance to take advantage of the situation with direct shots.

None of the Leafs' goals could be classified as clean-cut while only one of the Montreal goals, that by Harper, resulted from neat playing by the Canadiens.

Keon's game-winner was the flukiest of the night.

Armstrong gave the little Leafs centre the puck at the Montreal blueline. Keon cut in close to the Montreal goal and Plante, apparently figuring he had the play blocked off, went down to stop a drive. But Keon never got his shot away, instead the puck just slid off his stick and skidded into an opening between Plante and the post. The goaltender was so disgusted with the goal, he slammed his stick on the ice as a teammate scooped the puck out of the net. Keon was hampered on the play by Harper, who drapped himself over the Leafs player.

OPENS SCORING

Beliveau opened the scoring after six minutes and seven seconds of play by stealing the puck from Toronto defenceman Bob Baun just inside the Toronto blueline, cruising to directly in front of the net and blasting a 30-foot drive past Bower. It was only Canadiens' third shot until that time. But the lead lasted only 47 seconds, Armstrong tying the score with his second goal of the series.

The Leafs captain took the puck from a pileup in front of the Montreal net and drilled a 15-foot shot into the cage.

Stanley put the Leafs ahead 2-1 early in the second with his first playoff goal with the Leafs in 41 games, spanning five Stanley Cup seasons, and only his sixth in 65 playoff games.

Harper and Richard combined on a pretty passing play to score Montreal's final goal. Harper carried the puck into the Leafs end, passed to Richard and went into the faceoff circle to the right of Bower. Richard then passed back to Harper, who fired a 15-footer into the net on Bower's right.

MISS CHANCE

The Canadiens had a great chance to go ahead just after the midway mark of the second period when, for the third time in two games, Leafs had to play two men short.

Bobby Pulford was given a hooking penalty at 11:32 and 13 seconds later he was joined in the penalty box by defenceman Tim Horton for interference. But the Leafs' penalty killers kept the Canadiens under control for most of the minute and 47 seconds. The only dangerous drive was by Beliveau from point-blank range, but Bower managed to get in front of the shot.

Plante, for the second straight game, continued his amazing acrobatics to rob several Leafs while Bower also had plenty to do in this game.

In the final analysis, however, the Canadiens didn't get the breaks, especially in the final period when the puck didn't bounce their way at times and Leafs defenders often happened to get in the way at the right time.

Only casualty of the game was Canadiens' Giles Tremblay, who suffered a cut from Pulford's elbow on the inside of his upper lip. Club officials and Tremblay said after the game that he'll probably play Saturday.

We'll Be Back Says Toe Blake

By PAUL RIMSTEAD

TORONTO (CP)—Toe Blake, a picture of dejection seconds earlier, snapped his head to attention and announced: "We'll be back."

He said it in a loud voice, breaking the silence in Montreal Canadiens' dressing room.

Blake's Habs had just dropped a 3-2 decision to Toronto Maple Leafs to fall behind 2-0 in their best-of-seven Stanley Cup semi-final series.

"If we'd played that way Tuesday (when they lost 3-1) we would have won anyway," said Blake.

Frank Selke, managing director of the Canadiens, said quietly: "It won't give you any marks, Toe, but you sure didn't disgrace yourself tonight."

Jacques Plante, in a far corner, demanded of reporters:

"Did he tell you? eh? Keon was trying to cross in front of the net. Sure he was."

LET IT SLIDE IN

Plante was talking of the winning goal scored by Dave Keon in the second period. Keon drifted in, one arm fending off defenceman Terry Harper and one hand on his stick. Instead of shooting, Keon swept the puck towards the net and let it continue on its own momentum.

"He was trying to hook in front for a shot," insisted Plante.

Others felt Plante fanned badly on the play.

Harper, who scored a great goal and played well defensively, is still wondering how Keon operates.

"It's like trying to catch a sunbeam in a basket," he had described Keon before the game. "You saw it again tonight," said Harper. "That guy is an asset to a team. He's the best I've faced."

There was some concern over winger Gilles Tremblay, hit in the third period by Toronto's Bob Pulford.

AZALEA OPEN LEAD GOES TO HAROLD KREECE

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP) — Harold (Catfish) Kneece, one of the most ardent fishermen in the ranks of professional golfers, went birdie hunting instead Thursday and baged seven to shoot 34-32—66 for the first-round lead in the $20,000 Azalea Open tournament.

The sturdy little Aiken, S.C., professional held a one-stroke lead over two former U.S. Open champions, Jack Fleck and Gene Littler.

Fleck shot 33-34. Littler, No. 2 money winner on the 1962 trail with $66,000, had a 34-33 — 67 round.

Top Canadian after the first round was George Knudson of Winnipeg and Toronto, whose 36-34—70 put him into a tie for seventh place with a dozen players.

CBC TO COVER WEEKEND GAMES

The third games in both Stanley Cup semi-final series will be carried on CBC television this weekend it was announced Thursday.

Saturday at 6:00 p.m. the third game of the Toronto-Montreal series will be shown and Sunday at 5:00 p.m. the third game of the Chicago-Detroit series will be covered.

CBC will continue its Stanley Cup coverage Tuesday at 6:30 with the fourth game of the Toronto-Montreal series.

All times are Pacific Standard Time.

Power-Play Goals Help Black Hawks

CHICAGO (CP) — Chicago Black Hawks, operating full tilt throughout the 60 minutes and scoring four power-play goals, walloped Detroit Red Wings 5-2 tonight in a rousing, penalty-filled second game of their best-of-seven Stanley Cup semi-final. he victory put the Hawks ahead 2-0 in the series.

The Red Wings, who collected 11 of the 21 penalties handed out by referee Art Skov, were ahead 1-0 in the first 11 minutes on Vic Stasiuk's goal, but the roof fell in on them as wave after wave of Black Hawks poured in on Detroit goalkeeper Terry Sawchuk.

Bobby Hull, the blonde Chicago jet with the gimpy right shoulder, suffered a broken and badly-cut nose in the final seconds of the second period when he was slashed by the Wings' Bruce Macgregor and didn't return to the excitement - filled action before a howling mob of 15,987 at the stadium.

It was not known immediately whether Hull, who suffers pain whenever he raises his right arm above his head, would be able to dress for the series which now switches to Detroit Olympia ice for the third and fourth games on Sunday and Tuesday.

The handsome left winger scored his third goal of the series at 12:58 of the first period —just two minutes and four seconds after Stasiuk put Wings ahead. Defenceman Doug Barkley of the Wings was watching the proceedings from the penalty box after being chased for holding.

This was the goal that fired up the Hawks, who had taken the opener Tuesday night 5-4, from that point on, and with Red Wing players beating a steady path to the penalty box for infractions ranging from holding to slashing and even sassing the referee, Chicago was in full command.

The Hawks made it 3-1 in the second period on the two-goal effort of Red Hay, the six-foot three-inch right winger who had a big night. From that point on the Wings were dead. he Hawks, with just about every player on the roster a star, swept in to harass Sawchuk who made a total of 35 saves, many of them bordering on the sensational.

The Hawks added two more goals in the third period by Stan Mikita and Ab McDonald before Gordie Howe, shadowed all night by Chicago's Eric Nesterenko as expected, got Detroit's second goal.

SUFFERS SHOCK

One club official said Tremblay suffered shock and would likely be ready to play in the third game Saturday at Montreal. Tremblay, too, said he would be okay. His upper lip is split and his jaw feels stiff, but he says it isn't serious.

Big Jean Beliveau, who missed a great chance when Canadiens had a two-man advantage in the second period, was moaning about the play.

"A quarter of an inch, that's all," said Beliveau. "Bower was lying on the ice and all I had to do was lift it over him and catch the top of the net. But I hit him and the puck deflected over the top."

Plante was also asked about Toronto's first goal, scored by George Armstrong.

Armstrong stole the puck from Donnie Marshall and Plante said it went off his outstretched stick into the corner.

Film Star's Horse Rated Second Best

AINTREE, England (AP) — The girls decided Thursday there's only one horse to follow in Saturday's 122nd running of the Grand National Steeplechase — film star Gregory Peck's Owen's Sedge.

Forty-eight horses still were entered for the chase over four miles, 856 yards-a turf course in which jockeys and riders must negotiate 30 tough obstacles. They'll start about 10:15 a.m. EST.

It's the biggest field for a decade. The record since the war was in 1947 and 57 horses tried to land the first prize after a winter as hard and frustrating as the one the British have just survived.

Weeks of idleness because of ice and snow have left racing form in doubt. But the girls, placing their modest bets all over Britain, have decided that Peck is the man to follow.

TAFFE TO RIDE

Owen's Sedge, second favorite at 14-1, will be ridden by one of the most experienced steeplechase jockeys in Britain and Ireland—Pat Taffe.

Taffe has won almost every big-time steeplechase at Aintree. He took the Grand National in 1955 on Quare Times. This will be the 10th time he has ridden in the National.

Bookies rate Springbok current favorite at odds of 10-1 followed by Owen's Sedge at 14-1, Dagmar Gittell, Loving Ecord at 16-1, Kilmore at 18-1, Team Spirit at 20-1, Carrickbeg and Frenchman's Cove at 22-1.

Angels Rally in Ninth Inning; Beat Indians

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Los Angeles Angels came up with another ninth inning rally Thursday and beat Cleveland 4-3 for their third straight victory and 14th in 19 spring exhibition baseball games.

With one out in the ninth at Palm Springs, the Angels' Leon Wagner hit his second homer of the game to make the score 3-2 for Cleveland. A single by Bob Rodgers, a double by George Thomas and an intentional walk to pinch hitter Bob Sadowski filled the bases. Jim Fregosi struck out, but Charley Dees connected for a pinch-hit single that scored Rodgers and Thomas with the tying and winning runs.

In contrast to the Angels' impressive spring showing that has put them on top of the American League standings, New York Yankees and San Francisco Giants, the National League champs, again lost.

CUBS DUMP GIANTS

The Giants were defeated by Chicago Cubs 4-1 at Phoenix. It was their fourth straight loss and 13th in their last 15 games. The Yankees went 11 innings before losing 3-2 to Cincinnati at Fort Lauderdale on Ken Walters' double that scored Tommy Harper.

Doug Camilli's lead-off homer in the 14th inning accounted for the winning run for Los Angeles Dodgers in their 4-2 victory over New York Mets at St. Petersburg.

In other games, Pittsburgh whitewashed Baltimore 6-0 at Miami, Minnesota nipped Kansas City 3-2 at Bradenton, St. Louis blanked Milwaukee 3-0 at West Palm Beach, Washington edged Detroit 5-4 at Lakeland and Houston crushed Boston 12-4 at Scottsdale.

Kootenay Skiers To Compete at Sun Valley Meet

SUN VALLEY, Idaho (AP) — A sprinkling of top European skiers, a crack Canadian squad and United States' Olympic team hopefuls will compete today in downhill events in the 21st annual chase for the Harriman Cup.

The Canadian competitors include the 1963 Canadian downhill champion, Jean-Guy Brunet of Ste. Agathe, Que., and Linda Crutchfield, of Shawinigan, Que., the Canadian women's giant slalom champ.

Others in the strong Canadian squad are Nancy Holland of Montreal, Vicki Rutledge of Ottawa, Roddy Hebron and Karen Dokka of Vancouver, Garry Battistella and Gerry Rinaldi of Kimberley, B.C., and Nancy Green of Rossland, B.C.

Miss Green is Canadian women's combined champion and Hebron is men's combined champion.

Junior Smokies Set for Opener Against Oil Kings

TRAIL, B.C. (CP) — Edmonton Oil Kings arrived in Trail late Thursday and began immediately to limber up for their upcoming best-of-five series with Trail Junior Smoke Eaters for the B.C.-Alberta Junior A hockey final.

First game goes tonight and the second Saturday night.

Oil Kings took to the ice lanes of the Cominco Arena in a brief half-hour warmup following the bus ride from Edmonton.

Edmonton coach Buster Brayshaw was making no predictions on the outcome of the first game of the series.

Trail Juniors coach Ray Hamilton had a little more to say. He stressed the fact that this year's edition of the Trail Juniors is the strongest to come out of Trail in a long time.

Hamilton picked up three forwards, to make one line, and one defenceman. Jack Littler from Nelson Notre Dame Knights, Colin Patterson from the Knights, and Ivan Susheski from New Westminster Junior Royals will be in the line-up Friday night. The new defenceman will be Gus Servatius from the Cranbrook Canucks.

SEALS TAKE EASY VICTORY FROM COMETS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Nick Mickoski, Danny Belisle and Len Haley scored two goals apiece to pace the San Francisco Seals to a 7-3 win over the Spokane Comets in Western Hockey League play Thursday night.

It was the 400th goal of his career for Haley and the 39th goal of the season for Mickoski.

Max Mekilok drilled two short goals for the Comets in the final period after teammate Steve Witiuk scored during a goal mouth scramble.

Duke Edmudson scored the other Seal tally as they took a 2-0 lead in the opening round and never looked back. Seals were leading 6-0 at the end of the second.

The Seals will play a home-and-home series with Los Angeles to end the season, taking on the Blades on Los Angeles ice Friday and hosting the last game on Saturday.

The same team will meet again in a division post season playoff, beginning in Los Angeles on Monday and moving to San Francisco Wednesday. In the event of a tie, the third game will be played in San Francisco next Thursday.

Angry U.K. Teachers Pour Into Parliament

LONDON (AP) — Thousands of angry school teachers streamed to Parliament Wednesday to protest new pay scales set by Education Minister Edward Boyle.

An extra force of police was on duty before the Parliament building as about 6,000 teachers assembled. But stewards of the National Union of Teachers maintained strict order.

T. T. S. Cresswell, first in line at St. Stephen's entrance to the House of Commons, accused Boyle of using dictatorial methods.

Boyle called a press conference to justify his pay scales, which the teachers claimed had been worked out without sufficient advance consultation.

"I am not acting illegally," Boyle insisted. "Under the law I am required to be the last to move."

The teachers' union was not placated. It set up headquarters at Church House, just behind Westminster Abbey, and sent teachers across Parliament Square at regular intervals.

They handed out pamphlets and spoke to members of Parliament, then reported back to headquarters on their meetings.

The teachers' complaint was based as much on the way Boyle handed down the pay scales as on the scales themselves.

As he is entitled to do under the law, Boyle overruled the findings of a government - appointed committee which had recommended increases totalling the equivalent of about $58,000,000 for teachers in England and Wales.

Boyle ended up with approximately the same sum, but he gave higher increases to teachers with more responsible posts, less to others.

The teachers want the salaries at the lower end of the scale increased substantially.

Beginners now make |£600 ($1,800) a year. Teachers with 15 years' experience make £1,170 ($3,150). This is the top bracket.

Bidault Banned By W. Germany

BONN (Reuters) — Former French premier Georges Bidault, the No. 1 anti-Gaullist leader, was Thursday banned from returning to West Germany which he left secretly for Portugal last Monday.

A West German interior ministry spokesman said all border police had been instructed not to allow Bidault into the country.

He said it had been established that Bidault would be engaged in political activities of a nature "offensive to the hospitality of a host country."

Bidault, who left Munich by air Monday night without awaiting a decision from the Bavarian state interior ministry on whether he could stay, appeared the following day in Lisbon.

Portuguese authorities asked him Wednesday to leave the country. It is believed he will go to South America.

Surprise Strikes Cripple Subway Service in Paris

PARIS — Surprise strikes by electricity company workers Thursday crippled the vast Paris metro (subway) system and suburban trains.

The new strike tactic came as a walkout of 240,000 coal miners moved into its 28th day with no sign of settlement.

Workers in both industries, which are state run, want higher wages, shorter hours, longer vacation periods and other benefits. The government has met the demand part way, but refuses to offer more for fear of starting a dangerous inflationary spiral.

Paris metro and suburban trains halted during the rush hour, stranding many commuters. Lights also blinked out in several districts of the capital. The current cuts were due to come intermittently for the next week.

Parisians braced themselves for another day of transportation chaos Thursday as 13 bus lines were closed down by strikes.

Work stoppages by journalists and gas workers also were expected during the day.

Pay talks were due to start with representatives of France's 350,000 railroadmen who Wednesday threw the country into turmoil for the fourth time this month with a day of periodic work stoppages.

The rail workers, who are demanding higher wages, threw French train services into total confusion. Main-line trains ran up to five hours late and suburban lines to Paris and other major centres were halted during rush hours.

Canada's Trade Shows Ninth Surplus in Row

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's ninth monthly trade surplus in a row—an $8,000,000 excess of ary — was reported Thursday b ythe Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

It compared with a trade deficit of $26,100,000 in February last year as the month's exports rose 3.8 per cent to $437,700,000 from a year earlier while imports declined four per cent to $429,700,000.

Exports in the first two months of the year advanced to $984,500,000, up 6.5 per cent from $924,600,000 in the corresponding period of last year, while January - February imports declined slightly to $938,100,000 from $939,800,000.

The two-month trade surplus of $46,400,000 compares with a trade deficit of $15,200,000 in the opening two months of 1962.

Canada now has had cumulative trade surpluses of more than $260,000,000 in the nine months since last June.

Protection Inadequate For Small Investors

By REFORD MACDOUGALL

MONTREAL (CP)—A Montreal investment counsellor says Canadian security laws are inadequate to protect the small investor.

Stephen A. Jarislowsky, president and partner of a firm of investment counsellors — Jarislowsky, Fraser and Company—said in an interview that Canadian security investment laws seem adequate only for "underwriters, brokers, corporations and insiders." He cited some of the abuses suffered by the small shareholder.

"First, the small investor is prey to his own emotions. He sells when he's scared and buys when he's confident, whereas a sound investment policy would be to buy a stock for what it's worth apart from one's emotions."

The small investor was also prey to unscrupulous or ignorant securities salesmen chiefly concerned with commissions.

"This explains the fad for low-priced stocks for which brokerage commissions are high," said Mr. Jarislowsky.

Then corporations frequently did not give adequate information about themselves.

"Often financial statements are distorted to woo high or low stock prices. And many companies don't publish interim reports or sales figures so that investors can see what's going on during the year."

Another abuse, Mr. Jarislowsky said was that directors of companies here can operate with inside information, whereas in the United States the Securities Exchange Commission obliges directors to publish transactions in their own stock.

"All this adds up to a pretty archaic situation," he said. "As a result the Canadian shareholders has come to regard stocks as a gambling medium rather than an investment."

"Or else he has become so cynical that he only buys bonds or Bell Telephone stocks and leaves it to foreigners to buy growth stocks, which partly explains, of course, why Canadians don't own their own resources."

What is needed, Mr. Jarislowsky said, "is a government agency like the American Security Exchange Commission to protect shareholders and to raise investment standards."

Treasury Certificates Burned Accidentally

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Some $7,500,000 in negotiable treasury certificates have disappeared from the San Francisco Federal Reserve Bank, but there was no theft.

No one is out any money, bank officials said Thursday. First Vice-President H. E. Hemmings says the 12 certificates were burned by mistake last August. It was the largest disappearance of treasury certificates in U.S. history.

The disappearance of the certificates seven months ago was revealed Wednesday. Even other bankers had not been told of the disappearance while the bank was making its own quiet investigation.

The six employees who had access to the certificates took and satisfactorily passed lie detector tests, President Eliot Swan said, and "everyone who had any connection with them was intensifely interrogated."

None of the certificates ever turned up, and Hemmings said it is certain that they were burned by mistake with some trash. He called it a "million-to-one" human error.

Treasury officials said the certificates ultimately will be replaced after the bank certifies to their destruction.
