Wildlife Sanctuary Set For Duck Lake District

Kiernan Says Area Most Important in B.C. Interior

VICTORIA (CP)—Recreation Minister Kiernan said Tuesday the department of recreation and conservation plans to establish a new wildlife reserve this year on flood lands of the Kootenay River near Creston.

Mr. Kiernan, speaking in the legislature's throne speech debate, said the area comprising Duck Lake, Leach Lake and Six-Mile Slough is the most important unit of waterfowl habitat in the B.C. interior.

He said the reserve will have international significance in that it supplements a series of similar refuges in the United States and ensures continuity of habitat for migrating waterfowl along the Pacific flyway.

The minister said part of the area will form a wildlife sanctuary and part will remain as public shooting grounds.

He said that as many as 1800 swans and 48,000 ducks have been recorded in the area with populations of as many as 70,000 waterfowl observed at one time.

The problems to be overcome in bringing the sanctuary to reality were "complex but not insoluble." Most of the land is under crown control but there were certain problems of jurisdictional rights.

Mr. Kiernan said outside the House that the reserve will cover some 14,000 acres, of which 4000 acres wil be crown land in the Duck Lake area.

Asked whether the government will hold the Association of West Kootenay Rod and Gun Clubs to $1440 they owe in back taxes on 180 acres leased in the area in 1961-62, the minister said a decision hasn't yet been reached.

"I'll be willing to consider their problem," he said. "We might be prepared to share the arrears."

The announcement sent a wave of jubilation through the ranks of sportsmen in West Kootenay.

"A major recognition" of efforts of conservationists and sportsmen," said Harry R. Shannon of Trail, president of the West Kootenay Rod and Gun Clubs Association.

Similar responses came from Frank Shannon of Riondel, chairman of the associaton's Duck Lake committee; A. C. Morton of Nelson, president of the Nelson Rod and Gun Club, and J. J. McEwen of Nelson, who has taken part in the Duck Lake campaign for many years.

The Daily News was in touch by telephone with Mr. Kiernan and Hon. W. D. Black, provincial secretary and MLA for Nelson-Creston.

COMPENSATION PLANS

The minister told the News that in connection with compensation aspects in relation to the diking district, this was primarily a matter between the department and the recreation district.

He said that as he was aware of the agreement and proposals from the diking district to the fish and game groups, he was "reasonably conversant" with what the district requires and "with a few modifications, I see no problem there."

He said he had had strong representation from Mr. Black and D. L. Brothers, MLA for Rossland - Trail, as well as sportsmen and other interested parties. In view of the pressure developing on wildlife, it was necessary that the department take this course of action for this area, "which lends itself admirably to this type of sanctuary development."

Mr. Black said he also had been working on the issue for a long time and was "delighted it has come to fruition. I was particularly delighted that Mr. Kiernan has taken the progressive attitude he has in stating he is willing to sit down with the diking people and talk in terms of a fair and amicable solution as far as they are concerned."

Mr .Hanson's statement follows:

The announcement in the B.C. Legislature of the establishment of the wildlife reserve on 14,000 acres of Creston flood land marks a major recogniton of the fight the conservationists and sportsmen have carried on since 1925.

In that year, Mr. Hanson said, the Creston Reclamation Company proposed to reclaim flood land and in the ensuing years did so with the support of the B.C. Department of Agriculture, so that first some 7000 acres, then some 6000 acres, and finally some 3000 acres, for a total of approximately 17,000 acres, were reclaimed.

Then in 1955, a further 1500 acres were applied for which would reclaim from what remained of Duck Lake, the most valuable waterfowl resting area.

INCREASED CONCERN

Through these years the conservationists' concern increased and their resistance stiffened. The International Joint Commission hearings saw J. J. McEwen, the late J. A. Munro, waterfowl biologist, Ralph Garland and Fred Edwards spearheaded the conservationists' effort and in the years since 1959 Frank Shannon has led an uphill struggle for recognition of the potential value of the remaining flood land as a wildlife management area.

The rewards of that struggle are just beginning to be recognized with Mr. Kiernan's announcement. The interest and concern of Hon. W. D. Black, provincial secretary and MLA for Nelson-Creston, and D. L. Brothers, MLA for Rossland-Trail, in this matter, has spurred the representatives of the West Kootenay Rod and Gun Clubs Association to a continued effort over the past few years and should be recognized by all in the work of the association.

HON. W. K. KIERNAN

I wish to thank all members and supporters of the association - sponsored Duck Lake Foundation and would at this time like to correct any misunderstanding arising from reports of the annual meeting of the association.

The money stated as taxes in arrears are not owing to the government as land tax, but rather are the proportion of the diking costs due on the 180 acres of land on which the associaiton has option in the Duck Lake diking district, and which, despite Mr. Kiernan's favorable announcement, must be assumed as a charge against the association. Thus the support of all interested people is still very much needed to see this matter through, now more than ever.

DUNCAN LOSS

Lastly, I would like to point out that the establishment of this wildlife reserve was asked for in our association's presentation to the controller of water rights at the water licence hearings on Columbia River basin development. This was recommended as a compensation and correction for the loss of the upper Duncan waterfowl nesting areas.

Once more, our stand taken in the brief presented to the hearings, has been valuable in bringing recognition to the place of recreation and conservation in Columbia development.

Wants to Buy a Crater

NORTH VANCOUVER (CP) —Ernest J. Beamish of North Vancouver wants to buy a volcanic crater.

Mr. Beamish, a ranger for the Greater Vancouver water district, applied to buy the land in an advertisement in the B.C. Gazette.

The crater, about ¼ mile across is situated on crown land near McGuire on the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, 50 miles north of Vancouver.

Mr. Beamish said it was an unusual crater in an interesting fault area and he hoped to find a variety of minerals there to study.

He said there were a number of craters in Garibaldi Park, but, unlike the one he wanted to buy, they were mostly covered with snow.

SAYS COLUMBIA TO WATER U.S. DESERTS

REGINA (CP) — The general manager of the Saskatchewan Power Corporation said Monday the Columbia River Treaty is designed to prevent Canada from diverting water from the Columbia River so that the United States can make diversions.

David Cass-Beggs, sepaking to a meeting of professional engineers here, said the treaty was designed at U.S. insistence to prevent Canada from diverting water from the Columbia River into the dry prairie provinces. The Columbia flows through British Columbia and the northwest United Sates.

"One may wonder why the United States is prepared to insist on getting every last drop of Columbia River water," he said.

"The reason is that their interest is not primarily for power but for consumptive uses in the United States.

Mr. Cass-Beggs said that as soon as the Columbia Treaty is ratified the Bureau of Reclamation plans will be "brought out of their pigeonholes in Washington and we will stand on the sidelines and watch the water that we were denied for the prairie provinces being moved to the deserts of California and Arizona."

MLA Demands Gov't Probe Welfare Case

VICTORIA (CP) — The B.C. government was asked Tuesday to "look into" the case of a Vancouver woman sentenced to two days in jail one week before expecting a baby after striking a social worker.

William Hartley (NDP—Yale) asked Social Welfare Minister Black and Attorney-General Bonner to look into the case of Teresa Koszis and criticized Magistrate Les Bewley for comments in sentencing the woman.

"It would appear that Magistrate Bewley would like to take us back to the days of Charles Dickens . . . when it was a sin to be poor and if you were poor, this was considered punishment for your sins," he said.

Magistrate Bewley's comment that "she can go to a garbage can" for food "should never have been made by a man associated with justice."

The Vancouver Social Service centre "should be thoroughly investigated" so welfare could be used as a basis for rehabilitation.

The attitude was "it's hopeless . . . give them a cheque and don't see them till the next cheque."

"It's a disgrace to the government."

Mr. Hartley was making his maiden speech since being elected in the provincial election last September, unseating Social Crediter Irvine Corbett.

World News Briefly

OLYMPIA (AP) —Representatives of Washington public power agencies met with state officials Tuesday to discuss plans for a non-profit corporation to finance development of the Columbia River in Canada.

The purpose, they said, was to explore any legal problems that might be involved in forming the corporation of public and private utilities to float enough revenue bonds to pay Canada $254,000,000 for construction of three upstream dams.

LONDON (AP) — President Archbishop Makarios of Cyprus made it plain Tuesday night to the British government that he insists any Atlantic alliance force to keep peace come under the authority of the UN Security Council.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States expressed shock Tuesday night at the "irresponsible" bombing attack on the U.S. embassy in Nicosia and called for punishment of the offenders. The evacuation of U.S. dependents from Cyprus was "authorized."

LONDON (Reuters) — Queen Mother Elizabeth was reported in satisfactory condition and doing "very well" Tuesday night after undergoing an emergency appendectomy earlier in the day.

Mrs. Oswald's Testimony May Remain Secret

WASHINGTON (AP) — The secretly given testimony of Mrs. Marina Oswald on events preceding the assassination of president John F. Kennedy "may not be released in your lifetime," Chief Justice Earl Warren has disclosed.

Warren said the presidential investigating commission which he heads will issue a statement —perhaps Wednesday—when it finishes questioning its first witness, the slim and pretty widow of Lee Harvey Oswald.

Warren told reporters the full testimony will be preserved for the public, but if it contains information affecting national security, it may be suppressed for decades—"and I say that seriously."

This suggested that the commission intends to explore as thoroughly as possible, through Mrs. Oswald and other witnesses, delicate subjects such as Oswald's 1959 visit to Russia, his unsuccessful efforts to defect to the Soviet Union and his attempts, on a Mexican visit last September, to obtain visas for Russia or Cuba.

Canada Has Biggest Trade Surplus Since 1952 High

Hits $412,600,000 as Exports Jump 10 P.C.

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian exports shot ahead 10 per cent in 1963 to produce a year-end trade surplus estimated at $412,600,000, the biggest in 11 years.

It followed surpluses of $90,000,000 in 1962 and $125,000,000 in 1961. Prior to that, Canada had a string of deficits in the 1953-60 period. The previous high surplus was $421,000,000 in 1952.

Preliminary figures issued today by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics indicated that besides the late-1963 boom in sales of grain to the Communist bloc, the year - round improvement resulted mainly from the lower external value of the Canadian dollar which was devalued to 92½ cents in U.S. funds in May, 1962.

DBS said the rise in exports to a record $6,980,000,000 was due almost entirely to an increase in real volume of shipments, up nine per cent from 1962. Average export prices rose only one per cent in the same period.

The reverse was true for imports. They rose to a record $6,347,700,000, up 4.9 per cent from a year earlier. DBS said the gain resulted mainly from higher import prices, up by about four per cent on the average. Physical volume of imports was only one per cent higher than in 1962.

IMPORTS HIGHER

Meanwhile, DBS estimates for the fourth quarter of 1963 showed a strong surge in Canadian imports.

They were 15.5 per cent higher than in the same quarter of 1962, outstripping a corresponding rise of 14.7 per cent in exports—despite the fact that the impact of the wheat sales to Russia was felt mainly in this period.

Fourth-quarter imports from the United States were 14.1 per cent higher than a year earlier. Key factors were higher arrivals of auto parts and engines, and a sizable gain in imports of tractors and farm equipment — probably reflecting higher farm income on the Prairies. Canadian exports to the U.S. were up 4.2 per cent in the same period.

Nevertheless, Canadian trade with all countries in the fourth quarter produced a surplus of exports over imports of $176,400,000, an increase from $164,800,000 in fourth-quarter 1962.

Following are the DBS estimates for the whole of 1963, with figures in millions of dollars:

	1963	1962
Exports
United Kingdom	1,014.9	919.9
Commonwealth	399.1	335.6
United States	3,913.2	3,744.7
Others	1,652.8	1,347.5
Totals	6,980.0	6,347.7
Imports
United Kingdom	527.5	563.1
Commonwealth	405.8	318.5

Must Develop Outlying Areas Says Kiernan

VICTORIA (CP) —British Columbia's Social Credit government was thinking of more than getting power to the Vancouver area when it decided on its "two-river" power policy, Mines Minister Kenneth Kiernan said Tuesday.

Mr. Kiernan told the legislature the primary aim of development of the Peace River's hydroelectric potential, in addition to that of the Columbia River, is economic development of the Peace River area.

"With the power nothing can hold that part of the province back," he said during the throne speech debate.

"Unless we develop the outlying parts of British Columbia we won't be doing a good job either for the people of Vancouver or for the province of B.C."

The Vancouver area was nothing more than a "melon on the end of a vine." It couldn't survive if the rest of the province didn't prosper.

Loggers Killed

PORT ALBERNI (CP) — Two men were killed in separate logging accidents last week near Tahsis on the west coast of Vancouver Island, RCMP said Tuesday.

Lester Percy Walls, 45, of Coquitlam, was crushed by a cable at the Taylor Way Logging operation at Mooyah Bay on Muchalat Arm.

In the other accident, Robert Earl Evans, 33, of Zeballos, died when a guy line broke and a spar tree fell on him. The mishap occurred at a logging operation on Zeballos inlet.

Inquests into both deaths will be held in Tahsis Saturday.

VANCOUVER (CP) — It was $15 or 15 days—and Mabel Charles decided to go to jail for 15 days when she was found guilty for failing to yield the right of way to a pedestrian in a crosswalk.

She pleaded not guilty to the offence which police said occurred Jan. 20.

Magistrate Bernard Isman found her guilty and told her she would be fined $15 with 15 days in jail in default of the fine.

He offered the woman as much time as she wanted to pay the fine, but she said she would serve the jail term instead.

Kelowna School Budget Soars

KELOWNA (CP) — The school board budget is expected to go up $184,000 this year but the cost per pupil will drop from $363 to $360.

The budget totalled $2,575,000.

Mayor R. F. Parkinson congratulated the board on its effort to keep costs down.

"No one can argue your per pupil cost is being maintained at a low rate," he said. "The fact the levy increase will be under one mill, surpasses our wildest expectations."

The average cost per pupil figure for B.C. schools was $372 in 1961, and officials said this has increased to over $400 this year.

Says B.C. Hospitals Not Keeping Pace

VICTORIA (CP) — British Columbia isn't spending as much on its public hospitals as counties in the United States spent on charity hospitals, the B.C. legislature was told Tuesday.

Dr. Pat McGeer (L — Vancouver- Point Grey) cited figures to show that gross hospital salaries in B.C. are rising 20 per cent a year compared with 42 per cent across Canada.

He said B.C. hospitals have only 190 employees per 100 patients, compared with a Canadian average of 220 and an average of 191 in U.S. county charity hospitals.

Capital investment per bed in B.C. was $10,600, compared with $12,900 across Canada and $10,680 in the U.S. charity hospitals.

Man Sought In Woman's Murder

VANCOUVER (CP) — A man with a European accent is being sought by police in connection with the stabbing death of a woman in suburban Surrey.

Mrs. Mary Rhoda Oliver, about 60, was found Monday in a pool of blood on the kitchen floor of her home. Police believe she died about 3 p.m. Friday.

"We think she was tortured before she was killed, possibly in an attempt by the killer to get her to tell where her money was," said an RCMP officer.

Wins Confidence Vote

PCs Follow John

By BEN WARD

OTTAWA (CP)—John Diefenbaker received an overwhelming vote of confidence Tuesday at the Progressive Conservative party's annual meeting after a bid to hold an unprecedented secret ballot on his leadership was rejected.

A resolution endorsing his leadership was approved in a roaring standing vote.

It was impossible to make an accurate count, but it appeared that only about 50 of the 800 delegates remained seated when the vote in favor of Mr. Diefenbaker was called.

"Make it unanimous," someone shouted, but most of those seated stayed that way.

After chairman William Cox of Halifax called for those opposed to the confidence resolution to stand, between 30 and 40 arose. There was booing and catcalls from sides of the hall.

TENSION BROKEN

Voting broke the electric tension which had been building up for three hours in the jammed hotel ballroom, hazy with smoke and steaming hot under an emotion-charged speech by the former prime minister in which he said he wanted the leadership of the party decided.

"I want to know where I stand," he said, referring to reports that an element within the party sought to remove him.

"I want to know where you stand, too," he added, bringing his audience to its feet in a thunderous ovation.

Mr. Diefenbaker said that no leader could move forward toward the foe while fearing that someone behind him would "interfere."

"If you decide on a secret vote . . . that's fine with me."

The major hassle of the afternoon developed on the motion by John Hilton of Toronto calling for a secret ballot on the draft resolution expressing confidence and support of Mr. Diefenbaker's party leadership. Such a motion is presented to every annual meeting but it had never before run into opposition.

There were 33 speakers—21 supporting the call for a secret ballot and 12 urging an open, standing vote.

When Mr. Hilton opened the argument in favor of a ballot, there were chants of "no, no, no."

AUDIENCE OVERFLOWS

Mr. Diefenbaker made his fighting speech to a huge audience which spilled into the hallways and an overflow hall seating 250.

He said leaders must stand for what they believe is right, no matter what the opposition.

"I come before you today as the defender of the faith of the fathers of Confederation in one Canada.

"I come to unite, not to disunite; to heal, not to wound. . . "

He called on the delegates to build up and not tear down.

There could be "differences without dissension, disagreement without disunity."

Mr. Diefenbaker delivered a blistering rundown on the Liberal government's first nine months of office, declaring that the people of Canada would surely reject the Liberals in the next election.

All elections were unanimous as the Progressive Conservative Association of Canada chose its executive for the coming year. The new slate follows:

President—Dalton Camp, Toronto, succeeding Egan Chambers, Montreal.

National vice-presidents—Finlay MacDonald, Halifax; Jacques Bouchard, Amos, Que., and James Doak, Virden, Man.

Provincial vice-presidents — W. J. Browne, St. John's, Nfld.; Regah Bagnell, Hunter's River, P.E.I.; Ken Matthews, Truro, N.S.; Edison Stairs, Woodstock, N.B.; J. Armand Crevier, Montreal; E. A. Goodman, Toronto; Robert Steen, Winnipeg; Dr. Lewis Brand, Saskatoon; Gerry Amerongen, Edmonton, and William Macadam, Campbell River, B.C.

Secretary — Kenneth Binks, Ottawa.

Treasurer — Roy Veyell, Calgary.

Budget Snowed Under By Snow Removal Costs

January snows buried the city's snow removal budget for the year.

The city allotted $21,000 for snow removal in its 1964 provisional budget and last month the city spent $21,464 in clearing and removing snow and sanding operations. The $21,000 budget was to cover the first few months of next winter as well as the last few months of this winter, the snow year being from January 1, 1964 to December 31, 1964.

Mayor E. T. Bodard gave city council the bad news at its regular Monday meeting, breaking the costs down to: clearance $8310, removal $2235 and sanding $10,911.

During the last 17 days of January, 35 inches of snow descended upon the Queen City, making a total of 75.6 inches to date.

The expenditure of $21,000 in January matched the city's complete expenditure for snow removal in 1963 when a mild winter blessed the city. During the last five years the snow budget has been slowly declining along with the amount of snow each year. The decline is shown in the following figures: 1959 ($31,844); 1960 ($31,506); 1961 ($29,000), 1962 ($25,000); 1963 ($21,000).

The city's concern now is to find in its provisional budget additional funds to meet the snow menace of the remaining winter months of 1964. The amount mooted is $10,000.

The heavy expenditure has not been in vain. Ald. D. F. Porteous, public works chairman, praised the city crews' efforts.

"The crews have done a tremendous job in preventing accidents," said Ald. Porteous, astounded that no serious accidents have occurred during the past three weeks.

"Don't look at me," quipped Ald. F. A. Beresford, whose two cars incurred considerable damage 10 days ago when a car went out of control on an icy Nelson Avenue and collided with them.

To Perform Here

ALBERTO PONCE

Appearing on Jeunnesses Musicales program here Thursday is Alberto Ponce, guitarist. Born in Madrid in 1935, he first studied piano and harmony in his native city and then took guitar lessons from professor Pujol. He then settled in France, teaching at the Ecole Normale de Musique de Paris and at the Fontainebleau Conservatoire. He first came to public attention in 1962, after winning two international competitions: the RTF International Festival and the Sienna International Festival. His extraordinary sensibility ranks him as one of the most important guitarists now performing.

Residential School To Open in Nelson

Another development in making Nelson an educational centre will open in September, 1964 Columbia College is planned as a residential college for high school boys from all parts of British Columbia. It is to open in the former Kootenay Lake General Hospital building at 40 High Street.

In September this year, only Grades 8 and 9 will be offered, but as the students progress, an extra grade will be added each year until the complete course of junior and senior high school is offered through Grade 12.

Classes will be available to graduates from St. Joseph's School, living in the Nelson area. Both boys and girls will be admitted as day students. Boarding students from all parts of the province will be limited to boys. Accommodation will be provided for an eventual enrollment of 150 boarders.

The College will be under the direction of the Brothers of Lourdes who now teach in the Separate Schools in Calgary, Lethbridge and Taber, Alta. All of the Brothers are graduates in education from University of Alberta. Principal of Columbia College will be Brother Julien, who is at present principal of St. Mary's High School at Taber, which has one of the highest academic standings in that school district.

The regular university preparation course will be taught satisfying the provincial requirements and also the requirements for entrance to Notre Dame University of Nelson.

Council Backs Petition

City council endorsed the action of Nelson Chamber of Commerce and its Columbia River petition Monday night.

Council gave its full support to the drive to collect a 10,000-name telegram from the Kootenay, to be forwarded to Ottawa before Parliament opens, asking immediate ratification of the treaty.

Council also elected to write each leader personally of the opposition groups in the House of Commons, asking their co-operation for immediate ratification.

Petition Project "Going Well"

Distribution of Columbia River Treaty petition have encompassed every major business in Nelson in an effort to reach 10,000 signatures before Feb. 12.

Tuesday, A. K. McAdams distributed hundreds throughout the city but he could not quote the number of signatures until petitions were collected.

Mr. McAdams, vice-president of the Nelson Chamber of Commerce said the project was "going very well" and felt confident the petition would reach its quota.

The petition will be forwarded by telegram to Parliament when it opens asking immediate ratification of the multi-million dollar development project.

NDU Speaker To Deal With Indian Poetess

One of the greatest living authorities on Indian culture and history, Mrs. Ethel Brant Monture will appear on the "Contemporary '64" public lecture program of Notre Dame University of Nelson, Thursday.

A great-great-grand-daughter of Chief Joseph Brant of the Six Nations, Mrs. Monture will speak on the life and work of Pauline Johnson to whom she was related. She will illustrate her lecture with examples from the work of the famous Canadian poetess.

Born on the Iroquois reservation at Brantford, Ontario, she received her early education there. She has never lost touch with her people and is proud of her heritage and eager that the Indian be justly recognized for his contribution to the development of North America.

After several years with the Canadian government in Indian service, she is now Indian Relations Specialist with the national staff of the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews, a position which has much to do with the development of leadership within Indian communities. Much of her time is spent visiting areas in Canada where Indians live, go to school and work.

In an effort to cultivate better relations between Indians and non-Indians, she has made many appearances on lecture platforms across Canada and the United States. She is the author of several books on Indian culture and history.

Mrs. Monture's visit to Western Canada is being sponsored by the Western Division of the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews. She speaks on the campus in St. Martin's hall. Friday morning she will speak to advanced social studies classes at L. V. Rogers high school. Later that day, her topic will be "Indians in the Twentieth Century" when she addresses the Nelson Rotary club's luncheon meeting.

71 Delegates Attend Women's Presbyterial

ROSSLAND — "The Wider Work of the Church" was the theme of the annual meeting of the Kootenay Presbyterial of United Church Women which opened here Tuesday afternoon.

There were 71 delegates attending from as far East as Fernie and West to Greenwood. The meeting continues until Thursday.

Mrs. E. H. Birdsall of Kelowna, representing the B.C. Conference of United Church Women, spoke on the work of the church in B.C., with a talk entitled "They Shall All Be One."

Wednesday will see the election of officers and in the evening Mrs. F. Cline, the new minister at Creston, will give a talk and show slides on India.

Mrs. W. A. P. Sones of Castlegar will speak on the new curriculum of the Church. Nelson delegates attending the conference are Mrs. W. K. Massey, president of the Presbyterial; recording secretary Mrs. J. H. Coventry, Mrs. Ross Allen, Mrs. C. M. Coventry, Mrs. Fred Rapley, Mrs. Fred Lowe and Mrs. T. R. Hubbard.

More Library Books Read, But Registration Static

Although Nelsonites in 1964 read more books over the previous year, registered borrowers and library books tally remained almost static.

Last year 43,828 books were circulated compared to 38,245 in the previous year. The aggregate total breaks up into fiction and non-fiction books for adults and juveniles.

The library is open 6½ hours daily excluding Sundays and legal holidays for the 10,000 reading population.

The library added 347 adult non-fiction volumes and 208 fiction volumes to their shelves last year. This compared with 329 and 338 respectively the previous year. The yearly total was 555 and 667.

Juvenile non-fiction section was increased by 71 volumes and juvenile fiction by 97 totalling 168 last year. This compared with 63 and 118 bringing the 1962 total to 181.

The aggregate total for adults and juveniles combined, was 723 last year, compared to 848 in 1962.

Number of adult volumes loaned totalled 29,159 last year up 5000 from the 24,208 tally in 1962.

Adult non-fiction loaned numbered 10,432 and adult fiction 18,727. The previous year's breakdown showed 9129 non-fiction and 15,079 fiction loaned, respectively.

Juvenile non-fiction books loaned tallied 3346 and fiction 11,323 to total 14,669 last year. The previous year's figures respectively are 2960 and 10,150 amounting to 13,110.

Adult and juvenile books loaned collectively totalled 43,828 compared to 37,318 in 1962.

Circulation of library books at Kootenay Lake General hospital totalled 1001 last year, up slightly from the 927 figure in 1962.

The grand total of books loaned during 1963 was 44,829 up over 6000 from the 38,245 total in 1962.

Volumes mended last year tallied 1445 compared to 1286 the previous year.

Adult books in the library up to Dec. 31, 1963 totalled 12,735 up about 300 from the 1962 tally; juvenile books for the same period were 2916 compared to 2774 in 1962. Aggregate totals for the two classifications were 15,651 last year and 15,178 in 1962.

New and renewed adult registrations during the year were 563 compared to 556 in 1962; juvenile registrations were 341 and 311 respectively.

Total number of borrowers at the year's end totalled 2605 compared to 2539 in 1962.

Newspapers and periodicals received were 52 for the two years.

Mothers' March Short $700 Of Objective

The annual Mothers' March, sponsored by the Kinsmen Club, fell $700 short of its $2500 objective following their one-night campaign Saturday night.

Chairman John Kerschbaum attributed the drop mainly to heavy snowfalls which hindered extensive coverage.

He said special mention should go to Mrs. W. Holluboweh, captain mother, who headed the South Slocan mothers to raise $450.

Other areas covered included Nelson, the North Shore area to Balfour and south to Salmo.

The money will be sent to the British Columbia Poliomyelitis and Rehabilitation Fund.

Council Jottings

Possibility of a three-mill increase in the city mill rate nears realization with each passing council meeting.

Monday night Ald. M. B. Ryalls stated he was opposed to cutting the general mill rate to absorb the expected three-mill increase from education costs. If council adopts the alderman's position, the anticipated three-mill increase will be passed on to the taxpayer instead of being absorbed by the general mill rate which has been a practice of late.

Last year the mill rate was increased by 1.27 mills to a total of 53.27 mills ,which broke down thus: general 14.81, debt 16.39, school 22.07.

The retiring commissioners on the Civic Centre Commission were thanked by correspondence for their services. Mayor Bodard replied to criticism of council's handling of replacing the commissioners. City administrator C. W. R. Harper said it was automatic procedure to send a letter of thanks when a commissioner ended his term of office. A motion expressing council's thanks was not made at the council meeting which chose four new commissioners.

The city may find it feasible to enter into the scroll business. A request from the Nelson Kinsmen and Kinnettes for city recognition, via a scroll, of their 30 and 25 years of service, respectively, prompted council to consider designing a general scroll and ordering it wholesale to meet such future demands. It was suggested that the Kootenay School of Art's aid be enlisted in creating a distinctive design.

The matter was referred to the city administrator for investigation.

Housing Starts Up Over '62

The number of housing starts in urban centres in the Kootenays during 1963 was 122, an increase of 11 over 1962.

Nelson showed 10 housing starts during the year, down six from the previous year's figure. Completions in Nelson during 1963 and 1962 numbered 13 for each year. Homes under construction up to Dec. 31 showed one last year and five in 1962.

Trail showed 52 starts in 1963, almost double the 27 figure tallied in 1962. Completions totalled 21 last year, down slightly from the 36 number in 1962. There were 44 homes under construction up to Dec. 31, 1963, compared to 13 in 1962.

Cranbrook tallied 56 starts last year, down slightly from the 1962 figure of 62. Completions during the 12-month period totalled 47, down 50 per cent from the 94 completions recorded in 1962. Homes under construction up to Dec. 31 totalled 14, up from the previous year's figure of five.

Kimberley showed only four building starts last year, down two from 1962's total. Completions were tallied at six last year compared to eight in 1962. Only one home was under construction up to Dec. 31, compared to three for the corresponding period the previous year.

Mrs. Eliza Cox Passes at 91

A former longtime Kootenay resident Mrs. Eliza Cox died in Vernon, aged 91, last Friday.

Mrs. Cox and her husband Ernest had resided in Trail, Shaver's Bench and Silverton for many years.

When Mr. Cox retired from Cominco in Trail they moved to Silverton where they lived for over 20 years.

Her husband predeceased her in 1953 and her stepson in 1951.

Mrs. Cox is survived by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Frances Dubois, a granddaughter Georgette and three grandsons John, Roger and Thomas.

Funeral services will be held in New Denver today and cremation will follow.

New Committee Named for Summer 'Spiel

An eight-man committee headed by V. L. Davies will head this year's Midsummer Bonspiel in Nelson.

At a meeting Monday night a committee was formed of Lawrence Ludlow, J. R. Bailey, K. W. Frederickson, Jack James, Ben Hanson, L. M. Trahan, F. M. Boates and Mr. Davies. The committee named Mr. Boates secretary.

W. W. Wait gave a resume of plans for the water pageant to be held in conjunction with the bonspiel. Also attending the meeting in an advisory capacity was Ray Commons, member of the 1963 committee, which resigned.

Printing of posters was authorized. These will incoporate promotion of the water pagent, square dancing and other entertainment being arranged for the 20th annual event.

Tree Cuts Power For Three Hours

North Shore homes were without power for three hours Tuesday night when a tree crashed through a line one miles east of the Harrop ferry landing.

J. W. D. Cramb, electrical superintendent, said the power failure was caused by a strong gale on the North Shore which ripped up large trees throughout the area.

Damage Into Thousands At Creston Garden Bakery

CRESTON — A fire gutted the rear part of Garden Bakery Sunday night.

What could have been a major blaze was quelled by the prompt action of the Creston Volunteer Fire department, which received the alarm about 12:30 a.m. No other buildings were damaged in this, the third fire on the same premises in the past dozen years.

As it was, the Garden Bakery suffered losses estimated to run into possibly $20,000, property and contents.

Proprietor Angelo D'Aquino turned in the alarm after he and his wife smelled smoke downstairs. He was in the bath at the time. Oil fuel to the oven had been turned off.

Baker Harry Monak, who was asleep upstairs was wakened. At the same time, Const. Doug Payne, received the call on his patrol car radio as he drove by. When he saw the flames in the rear of the premises, he hustled the three occupants out the front door.

All available firemen responded and over 1300 feet of 2½-inch hose was stretched from two hydrants.

Also brought into play was 200 feet of two-inch hose from the fire truck tanker, located at the rear of the building.

West Kootenay men R. Corner and S. Charman snipped the power wires.

Firemen, with the valuable help of citizens who donned helmets, attacked the blaze.

The firemen under Chief Charlie French were still battling the blaze in the roof two hours later before they could break off in shifts for coffee and refreshments served by Mah Toy at the Club Cafe.

SOGGY DOUGH

Water soaked the kitchen and warehouse section, reducing hundreds of loaves of bread and pastry to soggy masses of dough.

In the upstairs living quarters and the cafe and confectionery section at the front, damage was extensive from steam and smoke.

Those on the scene early reported the blaze was severe and fears were felt for the safety of neighboring businesses.

Among the junior firemen on duty at the fire were David French, Neil Roth and H. Braden.

Const. H. Herzog also assisted. C. French reported water pressure was good.

SUPPORT ASKED

KAMLOOPS (CP) — The best amateurs from Canada including Olympic entries as well as U.S. and Japanese skiers will attend the Canadian alpine ski championships at Tod Mountain March 13-15. Foreign winners will receive special prizes. About 5000 people are expected to witness the events.

To Head Fertilizer Operations at Regina

KIMBERLEY — W. G. Jewitt Jr. of Kimberley has been appointed superintendent of The Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company's chemical and fertilizer plant under construction at Regina, Sask. The announcement was made by E. A. G. Colls, manager of Cominco's chemical and fertilizer division, who said Mr. Jewitt will take up his new duties immediately.

The Regina plant, a $5,000,000 project, will be constructed this year to produce ammonium phosphate fertilizer early in 1965.

Mr. Jewitt was born in Windsor, N.S., and later moved to Edmonton with his parents. He graduated from the University of Alberta in 1949 with a B.Sc. in chemical engineering. He joined Cominco following graduation, serving first at Trail in research and development of the chemical and fertilizer division.

In 1953 Mr. Jewitt was appointed superintendent of the acid plant at Cominco's Kimberley fertilizer operation, and in 1958 became superintendent of the phosphate plant there.

Active in community service, he is a charter member of the Kimberley Junior Chamber of Commerce and its past-president and a past district president. He was also a director of the Rod and Gun Club in Kimberley and an executive on the District Boy Scout Association.

He is a member of the Association of Professional Engineers of B.C.

Slocan School Board

Newly Installed Board Presses Highway Work

SLOCAN CITY — Five trustees of the Slocan School District No. 8 were sworn in at the regular monthly meeting of the Board, for the new term of office.

J. L. Wilson, Silverton; W. G. Thring, New Denver; W. E. Graham, Slocan City; and N. H. Brewster, South Slocan, incumbents for the past several years, were joined by J. V. Reibin, newly elected trustee for Passmore to Perry's attendance areas.

District superintendent C. Cuthbert acted as chairman during the nominations for chairman, when W. E. Graham was returned as chairman of the board for 1964.

It was approved by the board, that, subject to the approval of Lieutenant - Governor-in-Council, 2.05 acres of property at Winlaw be advertised and sold to the highest bidder, as the property is no longer suitable for school purposes.

The board received a reply from D. Westaway, department of highways at New Denver, concerning the board's request that the department investigate ways and means of improving sections of Highway No. 6, between Roseberry and Hills, which the board considers dangerous to the safety of school buses. The areas concerned are approximately 2½ miles north of Rosebery, and five miles from the same community.

The department of highways has erected guard rails at the dangerous areas, until such time as widening of the road is possible.

The board also requested and received a verbal agreement of co-operation from Pacific Logging Co. to schedule their logging trucks at other times of the morning and afternoon than those scheduled for school buses.

Trustee Thring noted that 13 of the children from the Hills area were absent from school for three days following an accident on one of the narrow sections, involving a private car and a logging truck. The children have since returned to school.

A special meeting of the board was held January 22 to consider the 1964 budget in the amount of $441,028. The budget will be presented to the municipalities and the area representatives for their approval.

District 11 School Operation To Cost $102,043 More in '64

TRAIL — Operation of schools in District II is to cost $102,043 more than the 1963 estimated cost, according to estimates filed with the city council Monday evening by District II secretary-treasurer R. G. Rogers.

The board's estimates indicate education in the greater Trail area this year is to cost $2,553,755, against a 1963 actual cost of $2,454,673 and a 1963 burget of $2,451,712.

The city council made no comment but ordered the school board's estimates referred to its finance committee for study. Aldermen are to meet with the trustees Feb .11 to discuss the budget in detail.

It is too early yet to say what effect the proposed budget of District II may have upon the mill-rate in Trail. The provincial government has not yet indicated what grants will be forthcoming. A comparison of assessments among the components of District II—Trail, Tadanac, Warfield, Rossland, Montrose, Fruitvale and the unorganized territory—has not yet taken place.

It is possible that Trail's share in the district education cost may drop a percentage point or two, in reflection of a heavy expansion in industrial assessment in Tadanac and the unorganized territory. Cominco's third unit at Waneta, chlor-alkali plant and various other expansions, may result in a small reduction in the school cost share to be paid by Trail taxpayers.

SALARY INCREASE

In the meantime, it is evident that most of the increase in District II costs is attributed to salary boosts.

Teachers are to be paid $89,226 more than the $1,513,668 budgetted for them last year.

Janitors and engineers also have won sizeable salary increases. Administrative salaries have gone up an estimated 25 per cent in total.

Among other large cost increases, teaching supplies are to cost $10,672 more than the $62,503 budgetted figure of last year.

FEES TO OTHER BOARDS

There appears to have been some provision made this year in connection with the proposed regional college.

The estimates show an item, "fees to other boards, Maple School and Regional College," at $20,833, or $14,807 more than the $6026 budgetted in 1963.

In some departments, savings have been effected. Expected to account for less spending this year than last, were grounds, building maintenance, warehouse and vehicles, buses, health services, cafeteria operations.

The estimates indicate that heavy non-shareable capital spending out of revenue last year on account of an addition to the vocational wing at J. Lloyd Crowe High School, will not be repeated this year.

Altogether, the project—still not under way—accounted for $50,000 out of the 1963 District 11 revenue from local sources.

Funeral at Fruitvale for Mrs. Williams

TRAIL — Funeral service was held Saturday at Fruitvale for Blanche Mabel Williams, who died January 28 at Vernon, aged 84.

Born in Boston, Mass., she resided at Robarts, Sask., coming to Fruitvale over 40 years ago. She lived there and at Erie before moving to Vernon a few years ago.

She was predeceeased by her husband, William, in 1940.

She is survived by three sons, William Henry of Fruitvale, Charles Albert of Longview, Alta., and James John of Erie; three daughters, Mrs. Blanche Grive of Erie, Mrs. Clara May Veitch of Fruitvale, Mrs. T. C. Marvel of North Surrey; one brother, Charles Smith, Spokane; two sisters, Mrs. Tom Minnaugh, Valley City, North Dakota, Mrs. Jack Minnaugh, Shaunavon, Sask.; 11 grandchildren and 27 great grandchildren.

Funeral service was held from St. Paul's United Church in Fruitvale, Rev. J. R. Herman officiating. Hymns sung were "Rock of Ages," and "Unto the Hills."

Pallbearers were Melvin Salder, Edward Salder, Jack Startup and Robert Davis.

Interment was in Fruitvale Memorial Park cemetery.

YERBURY RITES HELD MONDAY

CRANBROOK — Shift boss at the Sullivan mine in Kimberley, William Albert Yerbury died at Kimberley Hospital Friday after a week's illness. He was 49 years old.

He was born in East Kootenay and had lived in Kimberley 24 years, an employee of Cominco the entire period until a week before he died. He was a member of the Loyal Order of Moose.

Surviving are his wife, Bernice and daughter, Wendy at Kimberley, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Yerbury at White Rock, three brothers, Fred at Cloverdale, Frank at Creston and Harry at Lister, and four sisters, Mrs. M. L. McKee, White Rock, Mrs. C. Neumann, Mrs. Annie McConnachie and Mrs. Pat Holland, Kimberley.

Rev. Ronald Smith officiated at the funeral at the United Church, Kimberley Monday and LOM had graveside service.

Garage Man Dies Suddenly

CRANBROOK — Ross G. Pascuzzo, president and manager of the Hanson Garage, died suddenly in St. Eugene Hospital Monday night at the age of 65 years.

Born in Italy, he was brought to Canada and Sirdar, near Creston, as a baby by his parents, who started a ranch there. He had his schooling in Cranbrook and joined the employ of F. M. MacPherson, owner of the Hanson Garage in Cranbrook's early days, who retired from business when he went into politics in the 1930's. He sold the business to Mr. Pascuzzo, who transferred it from Norbury Avenue to new premises on Baker Street a few years ago.

Mr. Pascuzzo had been active in earlier Chambers of Commerce, and was also a past president and longtime member of the Rotary Club. His wife, a son, Gordon, a daughter, Mrs. Ed Delamont, and 12 grandchildren, all in Cranbrook, survive him.

Record Coal Shipment Foreseen for This Year

VANCOUVER (Special)—More than one million tons of western coal, a record for the port of Vancouver will be exported in 1964 through the bulk loading plant at Port Moody, a Canadian Pacific foreign freight spokesman said Tuesday.

Another record will be set this week when the giant bulk carrier ship Kanishka Jayanti carries 32,000 long tons of coal from the Port Moody loading plant for the steel industry in Japan. This amounts to about 500 rail cars of coal and will take less than 30 hours to load through the operation of the loading plant. About half a million tons was formerly considered a good year's shipment of coal.

Reg. Jones of Coleman Collieries, suppliers of coal, said 60 cents of every dollar earned through this big shipment would benefit Vancouver. Earnings to rail workers, dock loaders and to incidental outlets.

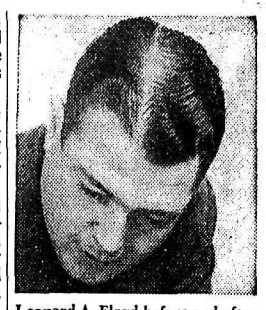
"Scalp tension, a sign of the times, is one cause of your hair loss," says trichologist M.D. Harrison to balding man. Harrison directs the famous Harrison Hair and Scalp Specialists, whose main office is in Vancouver. He is sending a specialist here to advise men how to correct hair troubles by home treatment.

How to save and improve your hair demonstrated by expert here tomorrow

New home treatment methods for preventing baldness — and growing thicker hair — will be demonstrated in Nelson this Thursday, February 6.

This news was released here today by M. D. Harrison, internationally famous director of Harrison Hair and Scalp Specialists.

In his announcement, Harrison named staff trichologist E. Woodhall to conduct the Nelson clinic. Mr. Woodhall will personally examine hair-worried men and women from 1 p.m. to 8 p.m. Thursday at the Hotel Hume.



Leonard A. Floyd before and after scalp treatment. Unretouched photographs made four months apart.

Examine You Free

"I want to make it clear that you incur no charge or obligation by seeing Mr. Woodhall," director Harrison said.

"Your only obligation is to yourself — to free your mind of worries about hair loss, dandruff, itching, or other scalp disorders, by learning how to take care of your hair. If your trouble is beyond the scope of Harrison Home treatment, we will frankly tell you so. But less than five per cent of the people we examine are 'hopeless'."

Offers No Cure-All

Harrison emphasized that his new home treatment is neither "mail-order" nor "cure-all."

"We always make a personal examination before suggesting any treatment," he pointed out. "There is no one cure-all that will correct every one of the 18 scalp disorders that cause most baldness."

Harrison said that sometimes your treatment must be changed after a few weeks to get best results. "For this reason, you mail regular reports of your hair progress to the Harrison headquarters in Vancouver.

"Also, your scalp condition is checked personally by a Harrison trichologist at regular intervals."

Who Can Be Helped?

Will this new treatment cure baldness? "No," said Harrison sincerely. "We can not help men who are slick-bald after years of gradual hair loss. But where your scalp still grows hair, we can at least save and improve what you have. Usually, we can grow more hair even where you have only 'fuzz' now."

The important thing is: Don't wait until it's too late!

Best evidence of the success of Harrison treatment is the phenomenal growth of the organization behind it. Harrison and his affiliates maintain treatment clinics in Canada, the U.S. and Mexico. And their staff trichologists regularly do extension work in more than 100 other cities.

Satisfy 95%

"Our biggest problem is not in doing what we claim to do," declared Harrison. "We satisfy more than 95 per cent of our clients, and have records to prove it.

"But to overcome the average man's initial skepticism is sometimes difficult. He's usually quite desperate — and baldish — by the time he nerves himself to see a Harrison trichologist. He's 'tried everything.' So he starts consoling himself with one of the old superstitions about hair:

That baldness is hereditary; that men naturally lose hair as they get along in years; that nothing can be done to stop hair loss — and a lot of other notions that we know are not true today.

Free Scalp Examination

See Mr. Woodhall in person. Learn how baldness can be stopped, and new hair grown on your own scalp. The new Harrison method permits you to actually stop your baldness and regrow hair in the privacy of your own home.

For a free examination and discussion of your hair problems ask the desk clerk at the Hotel Hume tomorrow between 1 p.m. and 8 p.m. for Mr. Woodhall's suite number.

You don't need an appointment. You won't be embarrassed or obligated in any way. Examinations are given in private.

Kootenay Just the Spot for Observatory

The battle of Canadian astronomers for a new powerful optical telescope perched on a mountain top should automatically enlist the aid and sympathy of Kootenay's chambers of commerce.

The federal government has agreed to consider representations by the astronomers, who wish to see a start made on the $10 million project in the Rocky Mountains either in B.C. or Alberta before 1967 so it can be partially serviceable by the Centennial year.

The Kootenays abound in the prime requisite for an observatory — mountain tops. The astronomers want to nest at a minimum of 10,000 feet, or higher. This would seem to eliminate many of the areas in the Kootenay and leave only the jagged Rockies as contenders, but these areas should not be discouraged by the minimum elevation standard. Accessibility and servicing will be of prime importance in locating the site. Weather trends, particularly cloud patterns, will rule out some proposed sites.

Accessibility is of prime importance for it must be easy to travel to if it is to have any value as a tourist mecca in the Kootenays, already basking in natural wonders. Mountain top lookouts are a favorite and awe-inspiring feature of the Kootenays, realizes anyone who has braved the winding trail to the Idaho Lookout in the Slocan Valley or Copper Mountain Lookout in the Nelson area. An observatory, a lure in itself, roosting atop scenic splendor, would possess drawing power unparalleled. Therefore, easy accessibility is a demanding requisite and perhaps it is just as well that rough terrain may cause the astronomers, who are aiming their sights high, to lower their elevation minimum.

Under such conditions, the Salmo-Creston highway would warrant serious consideration. The high peaks in the area nudge the 8000-foot mark; the highway summit is 5823 feet. The completion of a Rose Pass Highway with a summit near the 6000-foot mark would also open the peaks in that area to project conjecture.

It can be expected that inter-provincial struggle for the telescope, if it is approved, will be keen and now is the time for chambers to be marshalling their forces to provide the necessary data and our members of parliament to mobilize their oratorical powers. The East Kootenay we feel, will definitely take a serious approach, one matching the enthusiasm and effort generated by the Sun Valley Winter Olympic campaign, boosted by Fernie and friends. Will West Kootenay rise to the challenge with equal interest?

Heathman: Let Us Hope

The Heathman case, to date, has been a terrifying exposition of our society's failure to protect innocent people.

Charles Heathman, now 40, has had 54 criminal convictions. He has never been put in safekeeping under terms of the habitual criminals law.

He was twice found guilty by juries of the sex-killing of a 10-year-old boy. B.C. Court of Appeal nullified the convictions.

Four months after being freed, Charles Heathman confessed to Sun staff members that he had, in fact, killed the child. He said he acted in the grip of an overwhelming impulse, induced by drinking 40 glasses of beer.

As a result of the news story, the man was examined by psychiatrists, declared to be a danger to himself and to others, and committed to Essondale Mental Hospital.

He has spent 20 months there.

As is his legal right, Charles Heathman requested re-examination.

Two doctors, neither of whom are psychiatrists, have acceded to his release.

This man will spend the next six months under an extremely light probation. Supervision will diminish almost to the vanishing point if he is released to the care of persons outside this province. If he spends these six months free of evidence of abnormal behavior, all traces of control or supervision by authorities will cease.

An official of Essondale (where the man has presumably not had access to 40 glasses of beer) says, "He seems free of psychotic symptoms."

In the light of Quebec province's horrifying Dion case, where the unwise parole of a sexual psychopath resulted in the murder of four more boys, freedom from psychotic symptoms for a few months may seem to laymen a slim basis for release of this man.

Neither can the dire warning of another psychiatrist be ignored: "The only generalization I can make about sexual psychopaths is that if they have killed a child they will kill again, given the opportunity."

Yet this man, pitiable victim of mental aberration as he may be, is to be given that opportunity.

The law is apparently incapable of stopping the experiment.

Despite his 54 convictions, he cannot be charged as an habitual criminal unless and until he is convicted of a 55th offence.

Despite his detailed confession of murder and the impulse to murder, he cannot be committed to preventive detention unless and until he has been convicted of another offence.

Despite two convictions for murder, he cannot be jailed because our Court of Appeal, by majority decision, found fault with his trials.

Despite being found dangerous by psychiatrists 20 months ago, he cannot today be held longer in custody at a mental institution because Section 23 of the Mental Hospitals Act provides for his release.

It is regrettable that this man's name and record should now be publicized. It is regrettable that his chances for mental rehabilitation will be hampered by this publicity.

Neither of these considerations is as regrettable as the death of one boy whom society failed to protect.

We devoutly hope that Charles Heathman has been cured, in some manner so far unexplained, of his dreadful compulsion.

We can do nothing more than hope.

Our laws offer us no other protection in this case.

Sees Warning In Arab Plight

To the Editor:

Sir — In questioning the Chamber of Commerce's proposed 10,000 signatures for the Columbia agreement I feel like Huck Finn questioning the institution of slavery; but, wasn't Huck right?

An article from Atlas magazine by Sheik Abdullah Fariki says, it is regrettable and painful to see Arabs lose the chance to lift themselves out of the middle ages: "The reason can be attributed to the contracts signed between those who exploit the oil and the old-producing countries." Further, "The Saudi government agreed to the terms of the Standard Oil of California — terms which, if anything, demonstrated the cunning of the American negotiator on the one hand and the naivete of the Saudi negotiator on the other. These agreements, in essence and detail, were bonds of economic servitude."

As I understand it, we can make a power system for ourselves, or a storage system for American power of our river and largely lose control of it in doing so.

The latter appears to be Chamber of Commerce foresight. To the extent this is so, Arab hindsight is presented. The Arab plight a warning.

Chinese Policy Could Carve Red World in Half

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Communist China may be on the verge of a go-it-alone policy which could carve the Communist world into two distinct and even opposing blocs.

Peking is flexing new muscles. Possibly it feels more confident since the recognition extended by France. Turning Nikita Khrushchev's own words against him, Peking implies the Soviet premier and his European Communists should let China lead the revolution in Asia and Africa.

Khrushchev, who once promised to bury the West's social system, himself is going to be buried by the revolutionary movement, said Peking in its latest broadside Monday.

The attack accused Khrushchev of encouraging an "anti-party group" inside the Chinese party. The use of this phrase—coined by Khrushchev—is tinged with sarcasm.

NO KNOWN PURGES

The Chinese party never had a violent purge in the old Soviet style. If it had purges it avoided advertising them. But it is highly possible that—much more quietly—Mao did what Khrushchev said the Soviet party did with its own anti-party group: Threw them out.

It is known that Khrushchev opposed Mao's attempt to launch China on the "great leap forward." Khrushchev applauded those in the Peking leadership — such as Marshal Peng Ten-huai, an old comrade of Mao—who resisted the great leap.

The unsuccessful experiment with the great leap and people's communes is known to have caused trouble in the Communist Chinese army. Some officers feared it meant an end to Soviet military aid. Others resented expansion of the Chinese militia and the use of regular army soldiers as laborers to speed industrial development.

Peng Teh-huai eventually was removed as defence minister and tossed off the politburo. He has disappeared from public view.

The difference of opinion over China's internal policies was a root cause of the ideological split with the Kremlin. The latest Chinese blast indicates little lessening of the bitterness.

Now the Chinese are beginning to sound like a party about to go its own way, and even to assert its undisputed sway over the revolution in Asia and Africa, on the ground that Khrushchev and his supporters have forfeited their claim to leadership.

The latest blast coincided with a press conference statement by travelling Premier Chou En-lai in Somalia, in East Africa. Chou announced after a long journey through Africa that much of the continent now is ripe for revolution.

Chou also called for another conference along the lines of the pro-Asian Bandung meeting in 1955 in Indonesia.

A new Bandung meeting, in the light of what Peking has been saying and indicating about Soviet leadership, would be a strong assertion of Chinese intention to lead the revolution in under-developed countries, and to do it their way, regardless of Russian qualms.

Court Upholds Union Bid as Bargaining Agent

OTTAWA (CP)—The Supreme Court of Canada Tuesday rejected an ttempt to upset the certification of the United Steel workers of America as bargaining agent for employees of the International Nickel Company of Canada at Sudbury.

It refused an application by Local 598 of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers for leave to appeal against Ontario court decisions upholding a certification decision of the Ontario Labor Relations Board in October, 1962.

Chief Justice J. C. McRuer of the Ontario high court earlier refused an application by Local 598 to quash the board's ruling. Local 598 alleged there was sham, fraud and conspiracy by the Steelworkers in connection with the certification vote at Sudbury in February and March, 1962.

Last December the Ontario Appeal Court rejected an appeal against Chief Justice McRuer's ruling. Local 598 failed in an attempt Tuesday to obtain leave to appeal to the Supreme Court against that judgment.

Up Cigarette Taxes Urges Socred MLA

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

A plan to augment provincial revenues and reduce cigarette smoking was proposed Monday in the British Columbia legislature.

Alex Matthew (SC—Vancouver Centre suggested that the government act to counter the "seductive brainwashing" of cigarette advertising by increasing the price of a package of 20 cigarettes to 50 cents.

B.C. smokers now pay 37 cents a package. Mr. Matthew, a non - smoker, felt the best way to deal with the smoker was "to hit him in the pocket" with an extra cigarette tax.

Elsewhere, Quebec's new educational department came under fire again from the opposition Union Nationale party.

Opposition Leader Daniel Johnson said Quebec's future education minister, under the new education bill, is given power to hold up grants to local school boards if they infringe on regulations or law. Mr. Johnson suggested a "disinterested body" be established to pass judgments.

Premier Lesage denied that the minister would have these judicial powers.

In the Ontario legislature, Economics Minister Stanley Randall denied allegations by Eddie Sargent (L—Grey North that the Conservative government withdrew financial aid to an Owen Sound knitting firm after the Conservative candidate in that riding was defeated.

Mr. Sargent, a former mayor of Owen Sound, charged the assistance was withdrawn last Sept. 26, the day after the provincial election.

Mr. Randall said the Ontario Development Agency decided to withdraw the loans as of Oct. 22, not Sept. 26 as Mr. Sargent claimed, because the firm was going deeper into debt and had exhausted most of its credit.

NDP Opposes Tree Licence For Big Firm

VICTORIA (CP) — A New Democratic Party member of the legislature said Monday a $1,000 investment in shares of MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Limited in 1947 would have increased 15 times in 16 years.

John Squire, member for Alberni, said the investment would be worth $11,960 and income from dividends would amount to $3,368 for a total of $15,328.

He mentioned the figures during the throne speech debate in which he opposed applications by MacMillan-Bloedel and B.C. Forest Products Limited for tree-farm licences in the North.

"We of the NDP don't want to see these licences granted until we determine the return to the people of the province," he said.

The price of wood for pulp in B.C. was half that in the East, he said, "but the paper price is the same."

Lumber companies had revenues of $780,000,000 last year but only $15,000,000 of this had been returned in taxes.

"The truth of the matter is that in the forest industry of B.C. neither wages, taxes nor stumpage rates are related to the profit picture of the industry."

Shotguns, Gas Break Up Negro Demonstrators

By ED McCUSKER

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Policemen firing shotguns loaded with buckshot and using tear gas broke up a demonstration by about 1,000 Negroes Monday night.

The injury of a Negro pedestrian in a traffic accident set off two protests by Negroes, the first racial demonstrations in Mississippi's capital in more than six months. Most of the demonstrators were high school and college students.

Police quelled the first demonstration by shouting commands to disperse.

Three Negroes received treatment for superficial buckshot wounds following the second flareup on the campus of Jackson State College, a state-supported all-Negro institution.

Police made no arrests. Last summer more than 1,000 were arrested here during a month of demonstrations climaxed by the assassination of a Negro leader.

Mamie Balard, 20, of Flora, Miss., a Jackson State coed, received a fractured leg late Monday when she was struck by a car while crossing Lynch Street, a busy thoroughfare which cuts through the campus. Witnesses said the driver was a white person.

MOTORIST ARRESTED

Officers said later they had arrested the motorist, who was summonsed for failure to yield to a pedestrian. Police declined to identify the motorist.

Small groups of students began to protest speeding on Lynch Street. As the crowd of protestors grew they began marching in the street, shouting and singing "freedom songs."

The milling students blocked traffic but dispersed when police arrived on a scene.

Many went to a college basketball game. After the game ended students and spectators poured out of the gymnasium and the demonstration started again.

Police reinforcements sealed off both the Jackson State campus and that of adjoining Campbell Christian College, a small Negro church-supported school.

Charles Evers, Mississippi field secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, walked among the shouting, singing students and urged them to disperse.

"None of us are afraid," Evers said. "We know that, but this is no way to get what we want."

Evers succeeded his brother, Medgar W. Evers, in the NAACP post when the latter was slain last June 12. A white man, Byron De La Beckwith, is on trial here for murder in connection with the killing.

Gaglardi To Build Roads On Moon?

VANCOUVER (CP)—A crowd of 500 University of B.C. students gave Highways Minister Philip Gaglardi a rough ride Monday when he spoke on campus.

He ran into several sharp exchanges.

"It's nice to be able to do something on behalf of students here," he said.

"Put a pub on campus," said someone, to loud applause.

Everyone who ever amounted to anything had to endure criticism, he said. "They assassinated Abe Lincoln."

Rejoined a student:

"Hang Gaglardi on a sour apple tree."

"Anyone who counts gets criticism," insisted Mr. Gaglardi.

"And three speeding tickets?" he was asked.

There were jeers for his serious statements that Social Credit voters are enlightened, that Columbia River power development would ensure them jobs for their skills, and that the new Bank of B.C. would provide money for future development.

But he slipped in a shaft of his own. He offered to take a rocket to the moon to build roads there.

"They'll need me," he said. "The Liberals and Tories will never do it."

TEACHERS MISSING

VANCOUVER (CP) — Influenza has affected not only student attendance at Vancouver schools, but teacher attendance as well. The outbreak has eased off but 120 teachers still were away Monday, compared with 180 the previous week and an average rate of 60.

Interpreting the News

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The "Monsieur X" of French politics is over the first barrier in a long, lonely and seemingly impossible campaign to dislodge President de Gaulle from the seat of the mighty.

Few experts give him much chance. He seeks to win the votes of the French left in the presidential elections that must be held before the end of 1965, and the French left is a notoriously hard team to drive in harness.

Besides, nearly everyone will tell you, General de Gaulle is unbeatable.

But Monsieur X—53-year-old Gaston Defferre, the Socialist mayor of Marseille—is going to have a try at the giant-killer task. He surmounted his first big obstacle during the weekend by reaching a compromise with the man who could have torpedoed him, Socialist Party Leader Guy Mollet.

During a Socialist congress held at the weekend in the Paris suburb of Clichy, Mollet sought to ensure that Defferre as presidential candidate would be responsible to the Socialist party. Defferre demurred, arguing that he must be free of party ties to rally all the leftist forces in the country.

Though almost unknown internationally and occasionally derided as "a socialist with a yacht," Defferre is by no means what the French call a man of straw. He has vigor and style.

It used to be said that if Britain and North America voted in French elections, victory would go to a man like Pierre Mendes-France, widely admired abroad but a declining figure at home.

In the same way Defferre will probably seem an attractive figure to those whom de Gaulle would dismiss as Anglo-Saxons.

HAS GOOD RECORD

He is a pragmatic politician, he has the strong support of liberal-intellectual organs like the Paris weekly newspaper L'Express, he has a good wartime resistance record and he has excelled as an administrator in his 10 years as mayor of the sun-drowsy, yet volatile, port city of Marseille.

He is surrounded by a dynamic "equipe" or team of ardent supporters, all set for the fray.

Defferre would end French pin-pricks against NATO, support the nuclear test-ban treaty, concentrate on political realities, discard a policy of grandeur built largely around nuisance value.

It remains to be seen whether he can whip the inchoate left into anything like a serious threat to de Gaulle, who is almost as "institutional" as the Effel Tower. People may not like the look of it, but they want to keep it around as a symbol.

U.S. Navy Launched Special Solar Craft

By FRANK CAREY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Navy disclosed Tuesday it has secretly launched a satellite to monitor solar x-rays and transmit the information to 15 countries, including Canada, during the period called the Years of the Quiet Sun.

The satellite may help in eventual development of a system for predicting storms on the sun which bedevil some radio communications on earth and pose a threat to manned space flight.

The navy in its announcement didn't give details on the size of the spacecraft or when it was launched but indicated it was put into orbit riding piggyback on some other satellite.

Already, the navy scientists reported, the satellite has determined that the sun is fast approaching its "minimum of activity" in its 11-year cycle of sunspot activity.

This period of relative calm should last about two years, thus the 1964-1965 period was given the scientific designation of the International Years of the Quiet Sun.

LATEST IN SERIES

The navy noted that the new spacecraft is the latest in a series of navy solar-monitoring satellites. Three others were launched in 1960, 1961 and 1963 but the navy said the newcomer is now "the only active solar monitor in orbit."

The announcement added:

"The world-wide scientific interest in accurate monitoring of solar radiation is evidenced by the fact that observatories in Argentina, Canada, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, England, France, Germany, India, Ireland, Italy, Japan, The Netherlands, Scotland and Sweden have prepared to utilize the continuous data transmissions from the navy's satellite."

In explaining the potential value of the satellite, scientists of the Naval Research Laboratory said solar x-rays and ultraviolet rays create the ionosphere, the region of electrified air at altitudes of about 50 miles which acts as a radio mirror and makes possible round-the-world short-wave radio communication.

Since the sun is entering a quiet phase, scientists expect to get data to be compared with information acquired during the International Geophysical Year in 1957-1958, which was marked by a record-breaking period of stormy solar activity.

Bilingualism Not Only Requisite For Civil Service

OTTAWA (CP) — Douglas Fisher, member of Parliament for Port Arthur, said Monday night the advantages of being bilingual are overriding other qualifications for civil service jobs.

He made the statement during a debate at neighboring Rockcliffe Village on the subject "bilingualism is a long outstanding debt of Confederation." Mr. Fisher took the negative side and Rockcliffe Reeve Denis Coolican the affirmative.

Mr. Fisher said he knew of one case where a man had "leap-frogged" over 10 or 12 others in the civil service just because he was bilingual. Yet the man lacked important academic and scientific qualifications.

The MP said English-speaking Canadians are "acceding to the tyranny of a minority."

"French - speaking Canadians have deliberately set out to protect themselves and their society . . . yet we must remember they made the decision to isolate themselves, not us."

Mr. Coolican, president of the Canadian Bank Note Company, said French should be taught as a living language and also should be used to teach other subjects.

"If our children are to play their proper place in the development of their country, we should make it easier for them to learn French," he said.

TORONTO (CP)—Only about 20 per cent of the population would be immediately affected if Canada became bilingual and bicultural, Jean-Luc Pepin, parliamentary secretary to Trade Minister Sharp, said Monday.

Federal politicians, particularly cabinet ministers, would be affected first, the member of Parliament for Drummond-Athabaska told the Canadian Italian Business and Professional Men's Association.

Civil servants in Ottawa and French-Canadian areas, university professors, priests and clergymen and businessmen working in Quebec would be affected next, he said.

He said he didn't believe all ethnic groups should be given constitutional guarantees.

"Canada is a multi-cultural land and we might as well just pack up if we are going to be Polish - Canadians, German-Canadians and so on."

RCMP QUESTION HEATHMAN

VANCOUVER (CP) — An RCMP officer Monday questioned Charles Heathman at Essondale mental hospital for any further information he might have about the murder of Donald Ottley at Vernon Sept. 2, 1960.

Heathman, twice convicted of the crime and later acquitted, recently stated that people in Vernon "know who did it and so do I."

His release from Essondale was suspended pending investigation of the statement.

Designers Make Thigh Focal Point

PARIS (AP)—Simonetta and Fabiani stayed out of the plunge sweepstakes and took off after waistlines.

As though they had known that Cardin would drop the neckline to an all-time low, they lowered the focal point to mid-thigh.

Cossack blouses were the inspiration. The effect was that of a deflated balloon that skimmed along the body to billow low, harem-style, over a soft-pleated flounce.

Big, deep patch breastpockets with jutting flaps were the principal detail.

FRENCH VACATIONER — Feder-Tricosa of Paris featured this dress in their recent collection for cruise and resort. And it certainly is a perfect vacation companion as it is both chic and practical. Made in a flattering tone of yellow woolknit, the dress is deftly tailored with a novel knitted collar and cuffs and a self belt. Matching buttons form the front closing and two side pockets are set at the hips.

Women Continue Taking Large Part in PC Convention Rites

By BRENDA LARGE

OTTAWA (CP)—Tuesday was a long, emotionally-charged day for hundreds of Progressive Conservative party women members.

Although the women held their own national convention Monday, they would not settle for a back seat at the party's main meeting Tuesday.

In the wilting heat of the convention hall or in the crowded corridors of the Chateau Laurier, they distributed pamphlets, made short speeches and gave moral support to voting delegates.

Olive Diefenbaker, quietly dressed in a navy blue suit and rose velvet hat, sat with her husband on the convention platform during his two appearances at the meeting.

It was easy to see why national PC President Egan Chambers, in paying a special tribute to Mrs. Diefenbaker, called her John Diefenbaker's "first lieutenant".

Among the prominant PC women at the meeting was former Conservative cabinet minister Ellen Fairclough. She paused in the corridor to have her picture taken with Mr. Diefenbaker.

GIVES UP POLITICS

"Smile, you're on candid camera," said the opposition delegates when she spoke out leader. Mrs. Fairclough did. Later, the former immigration minister told a reporter she was not interested in returning to politics.

Typical of the women's attitude was that of tiny, grey-haired Mrs. A. C. Blaikie of Economy, N.S. Mrs. Blaikie won applause from convention against a secret ballot on the leadership question.

Mrs. Ernest G. Mardon of Edmonton took her 19-months-old son Austin to the convention and Austin ended up shaking hands with Davie Fulton, now leader of the Conservative party in British Columbia, and Mrs. Fairclough.

The most colorful group of women at the convention was the Calgary delegation. They came in "squaw dresses", the brightly colored, full skirted costumes worn each year at the Calgary Stampede.

Auxiliary Hears of Religious Teaching

To form children in the image of Christ is the purpose in teaching religion, members of St. Joseph's School Auxiliary were told at their recent meeting.

Rev. H. J. Lynch was speaker at the meeting, at which reports were heard concerning forthcoming social events.

Father Lynch's topic was "Spiritual Formation of the Child." He mentioned a few of the problems involved and some principles which religious teachers follow in attempting to provide for the child a religious learning process or system.

"Our purpose in teaching is not simply to communicate knowledge, as important as that is. Our objective in teaching religion is to form children in the image of Christ. In other words, they must learn to live the Christ-like life, and therefore the presentation of the whole program must be dominated by this happy, joyous, startling fact that makes life sensible," said Father Lynch.

Mrs. W. Murphy thanked the speaker.

The spring social event, previously a Valentine tea, will be a fashion show and tea this year, to be held March 2 at Peeble's Motor Inn at 8:00 p.m. Gray's Fashion First will be supplying the fashions.

The pancake lunch on Shrove Tuesday, for the students of St. Joseph's, their friends and parents, will be a feature as in other years. Mrs. M. Crowley and Mrs. W. C. Leahy are conveners for this event.

The proposed presentation of the Kamloops Indian Children's Dance Troupe in May has been postponed until the fall.

Coffee was served at conclusion of the meeting.

Women Hear Diefenbaker Rail Against Liberals' "Big" Works

OTTAWA (CP) — John Diefenbaker accused the Liberal party and its government Monday of bringing about greater divisions, higher taxes and more patronage in the country than Canada has ever known.

In a speech to the Progressive Conservative Women's Association, the former prime minister appealed for personal support as Conservative leader, saying that if the party would stop fighting within itself and begin fighting Liberals it could return to office and "restore a sense of national purpose" to government.

"Canada needs us," he said. "I hold no unachieved ambitions except one, to restore here in Ottawa a sense of national purpose and the reality that election promises are made to be carried out."

Mr. Diefenbaker said the Liberal party deceived the voters last spring in promising tax cuts and in criticizing him for his reluctance to acquire nuclear warheads for Bomarc missile bases in Canada.

HITS GOVERNMENT

Lashing out at the government of Prime Minister Pearson, Mr. Diefenbaker said that "in a few months in power, the government has brought about divisions within the country.

"It is a big-government government, with bigger divisions in the nation, bigger taxes than ever before, bigger expenditures, bigger patronage, and also the biggest salaries for high officials.

"In the biggest propaganda buildup in the history of our country, the people are told these things are all for the good of Canada."

Mr. Diefenbaker said he stands for one Canada, "strictly upholding the equal partnership of the two founding peoples."

"We in the party today know what is happening with the government in a few short months bringing about divisions the like of which we never have seen before."

No Engagement for Dutch Princess Irene

THE HAGUE (AP)—Queen Juliana told the Dutch people Tuesday night that a planned engagement of her second daughter, Princess Irene, would not take place.

The 24-year-old Irene was linked romantically with a Spaniard after it was announced last week that she had left the Protestant Dutch Reform faith of the royal house to become a Roman Catholic.

At the time of the announcement Irene was in Spain, but she vanished from the Dutch Embassy in Madrid last Saturday.

Queen Juliana chose simple words to tell the nation the dramatic climax of a week of rumors about her daughter.

She said she was also speaking on behalf of her husband, Prince Bernhard.

She said she would have liked to tell her people earlier about the future plans of her daughter. But this could not be done, she went on, "because of the enjoyable possibility of an engagement."

The Queen then added: "But now, we have to tell you, alas, that our daughter Irene told us this afternoon that this engagement will not take place."

The Queen continued:

"You will feel with us that our daughter now is going through a very difficult time.

"We, therefore, make an urgent appeal to all of you to give her the rest which she is needing so much in these circumstances."

The Queen concluded: "We hope to see our daughter again in our midst soon."

Cranbrook Branch Annual Meeting

Psychiatric Nurses Registry Major Project of CMHA in '63

CRANBROOK — In outlining advances in Canadian Mental Health Association objectives by Cranbrook Branch in 1963, president Ron Powell reported major progress locally was sponsoring establishment of a psychiatric nurses registry in Cranbrook. This has obviated the necessity of overnight police custody for patients awaiting a transfer to a Coast treatment centre, which was formerly routine procedure.

Doctors, hospital personnel and RCMP were in accord that where the patient's relatives consented, this service would be utilized, and the branch agreed that when the patient had no means or relatives, payment for this service could come from Branch funds. The nurses' registry operates independently of the branch following its formation.

CENTRE IN HOSPITAL

Joining the continent-wide trend toward decentralization of treatment facilities for emotional disturbance, the Branch has also launched a campaign toward community support for inclusion of proper treatment facilities on a small scale in the plans being prepared for the new Cranbrook Hospital to eliminate the archaic East Kootenay procedure of consigning its acutely disturbed patients to remote city treatment centres.

He referred particularly to needs of disturbed children, reporting accepted statistics of one seriously disordered child in every 10 occurs in East Kootenay as elsewhere, without any permanent local therapy available.

Subsidiary mental health services by the Branch during the year included adoption of a ward at Essondale where patients were regularly sent birthday and Christmas gifts.

A White Cross centre was established to make available practical help to people with minor disturbances, or convalescent, but at the end of the year this was in process of reorganization toward more general operations.

The Branch sponsored public showing of films, distributed "More for the Mind" to libraries, and also made radio tape recordings for Canadian Mental Health Week.

Membership drive in the spring of 1963 drew contributions of $1,325.39, and distribution of CMHA folder matches returned $130. Per capita dues to the National Association, used for research and general CMHA work, tallying $530, were paid. Other major expenditure was $553 toward travelling expenses for the valuable CMHA provincial conference and other expenditures left a net operating deficit of $209.

However, substantial balance at start of the year left $770 balance to begin 1964.

'Mob' Demands May Cancel Crosby Tourney

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Professional golfers are making such "outrageous demands" that the Bing Crosby tournament may not be held in 1965, Larry Crosby, tournament director, said Monday.

Crosby, speaking from his Beverly Hills headquarters, said the U.S. professional Golfers Association has asked for "75 per cent of all television money on tournament sponsored events.

"This is worse than the Capone mob moving in," Crosby said.

Crosby said the PGA was demanding most of the profits that went to charity last month and is commanding the sponsors to step aside and allow the players themselves to run the television.

"He will turn them down flat and if they don't like it we'll pull the tournament out from under them," said Crosby.

PGA officials are to meet this weekend in Phoenix with 25 other members of the International Golf Sponsor's association to negotiate 1965 contracts.

AWAIT MEETING

"We are unable to do a thing until a solution is reached in Phoenix," Crosby said. "Until then we cannot negotiate with television network or the sponsor.

"At this time everything is very much up in the air."

However, he said, "I intend to go to Arizona personally in an attempt to handle this. If they persist in taking all but 25 per cent of the television revenue I have authorization to throw in the sponge."

Crosby said the tournament is a benefit tournament and depends heavily on profits from television to support such groups as the Boy Scouts of America, Monterey Peninsula Council for Retarded Children and other associations.

Jim Trimble Eyed by Eagles

PHILADELPHIA (CP-AP)—Jim Trimble has been mentioned as a candidate for the coaching job of Philadelphia Eagles, a team he once led in the National Football League.

Trimble, who came to Canada in 1956 to coach Hamilton Tiger - Cats of the Canadian Football League and now is coach of Montreal Alouettes, was among those mentioned Monday when Jerry Wolman, new owner of the Eagles, disclosed he is considering at least six persons to replace Nick Skorich who has been released.

Trimble, one of the most colorful figures in Canadian football, was head coach of the Eagles for four years starting in 1952.

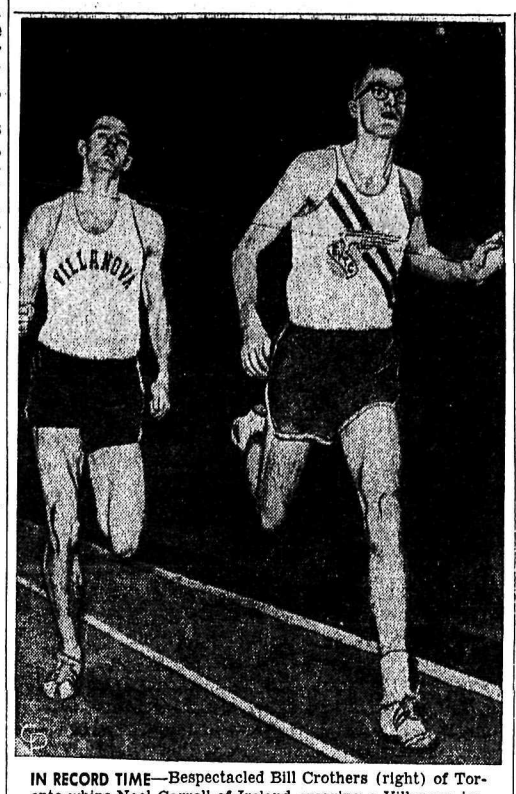
Wolman's ownership of the Eagles became official Monday when he handed over $5,505,000 to a group of businessmen who bought the club in 1949 for $300,000.

Wolman hopes to make an announcement within two weeks.

"We feel it is more important to make sure we get the right man than getting him quickly."

He says he has talked with Otto Graham, former Cleveland Browns' quarterback and now coach at the U.S. Coast Guard Academy. Another top-ranking candidate was former Cleveland Browns' coach Paul Brown.

20 Olympic Referees Called Before IIHF



IN RECORD TIME—Bespectacled Bill Crothers (right) of Toronto whips Noel Carroll of Ireland, wearing a Villanova jersey, in the 880-yard run at the Millrose Games in New York, cracking the American indoor mark in doing it. Crother's new time was 1:50 flat.

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Sports Editor

INNSBRUCK, Austria (CP)—International Ice Hockey Federation officials held a series of emergency meetings Tuesday to consider charges of incompetent refereeing and soft ice conditions in the Winter Olympics hockey tournament.

Kaur Hauser of Switzerland, chief referee of the IIHF, it was learned, called all 20 referees on the mat early Tuesday after Canada defeated the United States 8-6 in a game marred by 14 penalties.

Hauser called the meeting after he received a complaint from Art Potter, president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association.

"We aren't crying," Potter said. "Every country in Olympic hockey is in the same boat.

"The referees are inefficient and unfortunately we have to put up with them," he added. "They don't use their heads. It seems futile to spoil games with petty penalties, such as every country here has been getting.

ALL SUFFER

"Everybody is suffering. Monday night, when the Americans were losing, they began to spear out boys who protected themselves and were given unnecessary penalties."

Potter said that Rev. David Bauer, coach of Canada's team which now has a 4-0 record in the seven - game round - robin tournament, had "shown admirable restraint until Monday night when the refereeing became too much for him." The Canadians received nine of the 14 penalties and Father Bauer said the officiating was "incredible."

Meanwhile, John F. (Bunny) Ahearne, IIHF president, met with Prof. Friedl Wolfgang, general secretary of the Austrian Olympic Committee, to complain about the ice surface at Olympia Stadium where hockey and figure skating are held.

"The figure skaters want soft ice and hard ice is needed for hockey," Ahearne said in an interview later. "I simply pointed out that the IIHF interest is in the players and if ice conditions aren't satisfactory for hockey we would take necessary action."

He refused to say what this action would be.

SEP Suit Settled

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Curtis Publishing Co., settled with Alabama coach Paul Bryant for $300,000 Tuesday in his libel suit against the Saturday Evening Post.

Bryant's attorneys accepted the sum in settlement of Bryant's two suits—one for $10,000,000 and the other for $500,000. Both were to come to trial in a Birmingham Federal Court Feb. 10.

The Alabama coach had sued Curtis, publishers of the Post, for an article which charged him with conspiring with former Georgia Athletic Director Wally Butts to rig a football game.

The $500,000 action was for an earlier article in the Post which alleged that Bryant condoned brutality among his players.

Butts won a $3.06 million judgment in the trial of his $10 million suit against the magazine. The trial judge later reduced the amount to $460,000.

Emptying Net Usually Costly, NHL Finds

By MARVEN MOSS

MONTREAL (CP) — Hey coach! Here's a piece of advice next time you're thinking of yanking the goalie for an extra forward to get you that tying goal:

Don't do it.

It's probably going to cost you another goal.

There is a strong suspicion that virtually all members of the hockey coaching fraternity are aware of this implication.

But how can you expect a guy to stand on the sidelines and do nothing—apart from grimace and grind the chewing gum—while his team blows a game?

Statistics based on National Hockey League play so far this season bear out rather conclusively that it's sheer folly to take the gamble, nonetheless.

For one thing, they show that in the majority of cases nothing happens either way. But when a goal is scored, it's far more likely to be a product of the team that's one-up, anyway.

In the 187 games played so far, the occasion where a goalie might be lifted—a situation where a team is a goal down with scant seconds to play—has arisen 33 times.

STRATEGY FAVORED

Ron Andrews, the NHL's rookie statistician, says the stratagem is normally applied in about 80 per cent of these situations.

Only once has it worked.

That was Dec. 4 in Chicago when Bobby Hull beat Boston's Eddie Johnston with a 20-footer 31 seconds before the game ended to give the Black Hawks a 2-2 tie with the Bruins after Glenn Hall was removed for an additional Chicago attacker.

But eight other times pulling out the goalie has wound up simply a prelude to the club in front dumping the puck into that wide-open net.

Hall, Toronto's Don Simmons and New York's Jacques Plante have all watched in anguish from the bench while the opposition collected gift goals twice against their clubs.

Johnston and Montreal's Charlie Hodge meanwhile have been sideline victims once each.

It must hurt badly. The goals are charged up against the netminder's record in the competition for the Vezina Trophy which goes to the goaltender who has played the most games for the club with the best defensive record.

HALL TOP GOALIE

Hall and the Black Hawks are still in front after the week's play, yielding an average of 2.26 goals a game to the opposition, down from 2.28 the previous week. The man they call Mr. Goalie gave up six goals in three games.

The Maple Leafs with Bower and Don Simmons moved ahead of Montreal and Hodge into the No. 2 spot, Bower dropping the team average six percentage points to 2.52. He was beaten five times in three games.

Yielding seven goals in three games, Montreal's average jumped a point to 2.53.

On the offensive side, Chicago's Stan Mikita boosted his league-leading total to 67 points with a six-point week in the individual scoring competition. He scored five goals and added an assist.

His teammate Hull, the No. 1 goal-getter, picked up one more for a total of 33.

Sweden Wins

INNSBRUCK, Austria (CP)—Sweden trounced Germany 10-2 Tuesday to stay in a third-place tie with Czechoslovakia in the Olympic championship hockey standings.

The Swedes led 2-1 after the first period, were ahead 6-2 after the second and added four unanswered goals in the third.

It gave them a 3-1 record in four games, their only loss so far a 3-1 decision to Canada, which is tied with Russia in the standings lead, each with four straight victories.

Condition Improves

SEATTLE (AP)—Doctors issued an encouraging report Tuesday on the condition of Fred Hutchinson, Cincinnati Reds baseball manager who was stricken with cancer before Christmas. They said he should be able to report for spring training at Tampa, Fla., March 1.

Dr. Orliss Wildermuth of the Swedish Hospital Tumor Institute where Hutchinson is undergoing treatment said Hutchinson's tumor has decreased in size.

Hutchinson starts his second set of tests and treatments this week.

Russians Whitewash Struggling Finlanders

By JACK SULLIVAN

INNSBRUCK, Austria (CP)—The Soviet Union's heavily-favored Olympic hockey team went on a goal-scoring spree Tuesday, whipping the weak Finland squad 10-0 for its fourth straight victory in the Winter Olympics hockey championships.

Two other top contenders also won handily Tuesday, Sweden routing the winless German team 10-2 and Czechoslovakia downing Switzerland 5-1 after trailing the Swiss 1-0 until the second period.

The Soviet victory moved the Russians into a first-place tie in the standings with Canada, which was idle along with the United States Tuesday. Each has a clean 4-0 record.

The Czechs and the Swedes are tied for third with identical 3-1 marks.

With three more playing days—including the climactic Friday and Saturday clashes involving the four leading teams—remaining, this was the picture at the top of the standings:

	W	L	T	F	A	Pts
Russia	4	0	0	37	6	8
Cslovakia	3	1	0	25	9	6
Canada	4	0	0	23	9	8
Sweden	3	1	0	25	9	6

All eight teams are in action today with Canada meeting Finland, Russia meeting Germany, Sweden facing Switzerland and Czechoslovakia going against the defending-champion United States.

No games are scheduled Thursday, but all eight will play again Friday and Saturday.

The Canadians, who already have beaten Sweden 3-1, face the Czechs Friday and the Russians Saturday. Russia, with a 7-5 win over Czechoslovakia among its victories, faces Sweden Friday and the Czechs and Sweden meet in the final game of the tournament Saturday night.

Those are the games on which the championship rides since the other four teams—including the U.S. which lost 5-1 to Russia and 8-6 to Canada—are already out of te running.

500,000 SEE OLYMPIC GAMES

INNSBRUCK, Austria (Reuters)—More than 500,000 persons have watched the first six days of the Winter Olympic Games, the organizers announced Tuesday.

It was expected that by the time the 12-day games end Sunday, more than 1,000,000 persons will have seen the 34 events, breaking all records for a Winter Olympiad.

The figure - skating competitions in the ice stadium have attracted the biggest crowds so far, with an attendance figure of 190,000 for the first six days. The alpine ski events in the Lizum Valley have been watched by 180,000.

Six-Goal Thrust Sends Jets Within Point of Top

ROSSLAND (Special to the Daily News) — The slumping fortunes of the Rossland Warriors sagged a little more last night as Spokane Jets thumped the tired Tribe 10-2 before 375 fans.

It's either flood or famine with the Warriors, who are scrambling to hold on to a playoff spot. They scored 11 goals in trouncing the league-leading Kimberley Dynamiters Saturday but were kept in Tuesday's game only by the stellar efforts of substitute goaltender Don Holmes.

The shorthanded Warriors matched strides with the terrible tempered Jets for the first two periods, 3-0, 4-2 but wilted in the third as the gunnery experts of the Jets picked their spots at will to beat an overworked Holmes.

The win left the Jets one point out of first place in the Western International Hockey League standings. With the smell of first place in their nostrils, the Jets will have that little extra incentive when they renew their hot blooded feud with the Nelson Maple Leafs in the Civic Arena tonight.

Leafs, at the same time, need the win to strengthen their third place hold from the faltering Warriors and surging Trail Smoke Eaters.

With 30 seconds gone in the first Gordon Turlik set the game's tempo, rifling a blast from the wing by Holmes, who made 20 saves in the first period. The lanky centreman added two more before the final minute of the contest while ex-Maple Leaf Charlie Goodwin matched his hat trick.

Buddy Bodman, Don McGowan, Tom Hodges and Ron Bahr fired singles.

Bud Andrews scored on a blooper from the point and Dave Rusnell finished off a three-man passing play to put the Tribe back in the contest in the second period.

The heart dropped out of the Warriors in the third period when Doran Hamilton inadvertently scored on his own goaltender at 2:20 and the marker was credited to Goodwin.

Hodges, Turlik, Goodwin, McGowan all added markers with a five minute period starting at 5:58 to crush the men of coach Hal Jones, who is benched with a heel injury.

Referee Sarge Sammartino gave his lungs plenty of exercise as the two teams amassed more than 20 penalties. All, except for two majors, were minors.

League badman McGowan and defenceman Gallamore squared off for a minute of fisticuffs in the second period.

LINEUPS:

Spokane: Goal, Kuntz; defence, McGowan, McDonald, Collins, Hodges; forwards: Gibson, Morneau, Kenney, Turlik, Goodwin, Bahr, Nadeau, Bodman, Johnson.

U.S. Picks Up First Gold Medal; Germany Cops 5 in Luge Singles

By ROD CURRIE

INNSBRUCK, Austria (CP)—The United States cracked the Soviet Union's monopoly on Olympic speedskating Tuesday and got its first gold medal of the ninth Winter Olymic Games as Terry McDermott skated to victory in record-breaking time in the men's 500-metre race.

The Russians were not to be shut out elsewhere, however, and added their seventh gold medal in as many days as world champion Valdimir Melanin won the biathlon, an event combining cross-country skiing and rifle shooting.

Germany had the day's biggest medal harvest, winning five of the six awarded in the men's and women's luge singles, or toboggan racing, which is on the Winter Olympic program for the first time.

The first three places in the men's luge were filled by Germans, with Thomas Koehler taking the gold medal. Ortrun Enderlein of Germany won the women's championship and a teammate took the silver medal.

ONLY FOUR FINALS

These were the only four finals on the program Tuesday and Ralf Olin of Calgary, 39th in the 500-metre speedskating, was the only Canadian entry in them. Doug Anakin of Montreal 36th after last week's first two runs in the four-run men's luge, withdrew and Canada had no competitors here for the biathlon or women's luge.

Meanwhile, on the figure skating ice, a European sweep of the men's singles medals shaped up as Germany's Manfred Schnelldorfer, Czechoslovakia's Karol Divin and Alain Calmat of France placed one-two - three after completion of the five compulsory figures.

The decisive freeskating, where Calmat is expected to excell and probably overtake the other two for the gold medal, is scheduled Thursday.

Don Knight of Dundas, Ont., was the leading Canadian in the figures, placing seventh. Canadian champion Dr. Charles Snelling of Welland, Ont., was 16th and Bill Neale of Fort Erie, Ont., was 19th.

MORE

BORROWED SKATES

McDermott, a 24 - year - old barber from the little town of Essexville, Mich., shattered the long - time Russian hold on speedskating as he raced on borrowed skates over lightning-fast ice to win in 40.1 seconds.

His time clipped one-tenth of a second off the Olympic record for the 546.8-yard distance and was half a second better than Eugenij Grischin of Russia, seeking his third gold medal in the event, who tied with two others for second place.

Grischin, four - time world speedskating champion who set the Olympic 500-metre record at Cortina, Italy in 1956 and won the gold medal again in 1960, was heavily favored to win again Tuesday.

Instead, the 32-year-old Russian slipped going into the first bend, momentarily losing his rhythm, and he finished tied with another Russian, Vladimir Orlov, and Alv Gjestvang of Norway, each timed in 40.6 seconds. All three got silver medals. No bronze was awarded.

The victory came in the first men's speedskating event here and followed Lidia Skoblikova's sweep of all four women's championships for the Soviet Union.

It was a sweet one for McDermott and the U.S., which had only Jean Saubert's silver and bronze medals in women's slalom skiing in the trophy bag until Tuesday.

"Terry skated a perfect race," said the U.S. coach, Leo Freisinger, who loaned his skates to McDermott just before the race because the Michigan skater preferred the longer tips.

Melanin, the biathlon winner, is a 31-year-old Soviet student. The event, first a part of the Olympic program in 1960 when a Swede took the gold medal, calls for a 20-kilometre ski race over rugged terrain with periodic pauses to shoot at 20 targets.

WINS 19 MEDALS

With the gold and silver in the biathlon and two silvers in the speedskating tie, the Russians boosted their medal total here to 19—seven gold, eight silver and four bronze—more than twice the total of second-place Germany, which now has eight, two gold, three silver and three bronze.

Canada has only two medals, both bronze and both won in figure skating—by Petra Burka of Toronto in women's singles and by Guy Revell of Newmarket, Ont., and Debbie Wilkes of Unionville, Ont., in pairs.

Leafs Out for Playoff Spot, Host Jets Tonight

Veteran defenceman Ernie Gare has rejoined the Nelson Maple Leafs for the duration of the WIHL season.

Leafs have nine games left and will be angling for a playoff spot tonight when they meet the Spokane Jets at Civic Arena It is questionable if Gare will rejoin the Leafs tonight as he has been battling the flu for the last few days, but he has informed the team he is prepared to finish out the season with the club.

Spokane will be making its last appearance in the Arena unless the two clubs meet in the playoffs. The terrible-tempered Jets will be out to climb into first spot while Leafs will attempt to improve their third place standing.

At present, Nelson is only one point up on fourth place Rossland Warriors and six up on the Trail Smoke Eaters, who are roaring after a disastrous start.

The best of five semi-finals will have the first and fourth-place clubs squaring off while the third and second place teams meet. The final will be a best of seven affair.

Coach Bob Weist isn't particularly concerned who the Leafs meet in the playoffs as long as they make the playoffs. At present the club's chances of nailing down first are virtually nil and second place is rapidly moving out of range.

"We've still got to make the playoffs," said Weist. "We haven't got anything cinched as yet. We have got to win some hockey games and the team realizes this."

BRUNO FORLIN
. . . ready to skate.

He wiped out Nelson's loss to Kimberley Dynamiters last Friday as a "bad game."

"Friday night we didn't skate. We didn't check and they were getting three-man breaks that they should never have had and we were in trouble."

Gare's return brings the defence corps back to full strength of five, though some blueliners are nursing minor aches and pains.

Veteran all-star Shorty Malacko has had the cast removed from his ankle which was injured in a game with Spokane last month. It will be some time before the defenceman is able to start skating and return to the lineup, possibly by the last weekof the regular schedule.

Goaltender Bruno Forlin, who has been out of service for the last several weeks, is also reported ready to begin skating sessions. No definite date for his return to action has been set.

Weist odesn't intend to make any lineup changes for tonight's game with coach Joe Benoit's men.

Ski Slants

By SITZMARK

Another good skiing weekend has passed We had good crowds on the hill Saturday, Sunday and Monday. The number of Monday skiers is growing each week. It's sure the best day to ski, if you are interested in lots of runs and no lineups.

Actually the big lift is running very well and the wait in lineup is not too long but there is no doubt that more T-Bars will be needed for another season.

Skiers in the beginners' classes are due now for their final lessons and we're hoping in a couple of weeks to have the club tournament and let them show off their ability on the boards.

The snow this weekend was the first we have had of the real packing variety and after being skied so much over the weekend there is an excellent base on the hill that should assure quite a few more weekends of excellent skiing..

By the way, there won't be night skiing tonight. So if you go out you will have to tramp up and ski down in the dark — not recommended. Maybe next week.

NDU Knights To Host Montana Bruins

Notre Dame University's Knights will be host to the Bruins of Montana State University, Missoula, Montana, at an exhibition hockey game Sunday, at the Civic arena.

The visitors, on a two-game ex*hibition tour, will play the Gon*zaga Bulldogs in Spokane Saturday. Reports indicate that the Bruins are a big, rough team, and the Knights will have their hands full, according to Ernie Gare, Knights' coach.

This will be the final home game of the year for the NDU team. Future games are scheduled with Cranbrook and Victoria University.

Couple Charged In Fire Death

KAMLOOPS (CP) — A man and his common-law wife will face preliminary hearing Feb. 18 on a charge of endangering the life of their son.

Robert Bennett and Sherle Greenway were charged after a fire in their Blue River home Jan. 18 took the lives of their three children.

The count was laid specifically in the death of Robert William David Bennett.

McGibney in Finals Of Bonspiel A Event

VERNON (CP)—Buzz McGibney of Trail and George Cmolik of Kelowna will meet this afternoon in the "A" event finals of the 69th B.C. Curling Association Bonspiel.

In Tuesday's semi-final matches McGibney stayed unbeaten by defeating his old skip, Reg Stone, 9-7 and Cmolik came from behind to defeat Bob McCaugherty of Kelowna 9-8.

The McGibney rink was the only zone winner among seven here to reach the "A" event semi-finals.

Stone's first game Tuesday, a 7-6 victory over Jim Feeney of Rossland, gave him an entry through the bonspiel into the double draw knockout playoff that begins tonight, declaring an interior curling champion by Saturday.

He is shooting for his seventh provincial title.

Stone, McGibney, McCaugherty and Cmolik were automatic qualifiers for the playoff by reaching the fours of "A" event.

Four more from "B" event and eight from "C" event also will join the zone winners in the interior playoff.

Moving into the playoff as "B" event semi-finalists were Dick Topping of Osoyoos, who downed Tom Foord of Vernon 7-6, Al Harris of Quesnel, who whipped Jim Feeney of Rossland 9-3, Lionel Stokes of Whitehorse, who beat Bill Mullen of Armstrong 11-6, and Joe McKinnon of Kamloops, who edged Alvin Poggemiller of Vernon 7-6.

And in the day's final draw, play in "C" event advanced to the quarter - finals, declaring eight more rinks for the playoff.

They include Garry Coughlin of Oliver and Prince George; Joe Paolone, Trail; Al Lachance, Prince George; Bill Croft, Summerland; Sam Gould, Greenwood; Eric Bisgrove, Kimberley, and Ray Lyon, Trail.

MARKET TRENDS

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market seesaw continued with another mild movement Tuesday. Both the popular averages and the market statistics pointed slightly lower.

Brokers said the performance of most blue chips was regarded as firm. Many of these posted gains while those declining kept their losses within bounds. Heavy selling in the volatile issues did not upset the blue chips unduly, brokers noted.

The market, thus, was continuing about the same kind of action which has marked its course for more than a week—a "two-way" performance without any clear - cut emphasis anywhere in particular.

The Dow Jones industrial average declined 1.42 to 783.30—but 0.93 of the decline was accounted for by several component issues selling ex-dividend.

Turnover continued routine, 4,340,000 shares compared with 4,160,000 Monday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks took a moderate loss of .6 at 289.7.

Xerox was the most active issue, touching a new 1963-64 low as it fell 3¾ to 73⅛ on 156,200 shares.

ALUMINUMS ACTIVE

Second most active was Aluminium Ltd., a Canadian issue, up ⅞ at 28⅞ on 120,200 shares. The aluminums were said to respond to an adbisory service recommendation. Alcoa gained 1¼ and Reynolds Metals ⅜.

Among other Canadian issues traded, Canadian Pacific fell ⅜, International Nickel and Walker Gooderham ¼ and McIntyre Porcupine ⅛. Hudson Bay Mining gained ½ and Dome Mines ⅛.

Prices on the American Exchange moved generally lower. Canadian issues were mixed with Preston and Brazilian Traction gaining ⅛. Canadian Marconi lost ⅛, Canadian Javelin ½ and Scurry Rainbow Oil ¼.

TORONTO (CP)—The stock market meandered through a dull day Tuesday with volume the lowest since Dec. 30 of last year.

The turnover dipped to 3,162,000 shares, missing the backing of usually active speculative trading. Volume on Dec. 30 was 2,944,000 shares.

Banks were lower on the industrial board, Nova Scotia down ¼ and Imperial Bank of Commerce and Royal ⅛ each. Toronto-Dominion was even at 62½ on 3,362 shares, including a special size transaction of 2,050 shares at $62.50 a share.

Among selected issues, Aluminium rose 1¼ to 31¼, Dominion Foundries and Steel ⅝, B.C. Forest ½ and John Wood ⅜, on 20,950 shares.

Labatt's advanced ½ to 22½ after reaching a high of 22⅞ on nearly 20,000 shares. Union Gas was ahead ⅛ to 23⅛ on 7,225 shares, including a special size bloc of 5,000 shares at $23.35 a share.

Consolidated Mining and Smelting declined ⅝ and International Nickel ⅜, in senior base metals. Lake Dufault was off 15 cents to $9.20 in juniors.

Dome and Hollinger both dipped ⅜ among senior golds.

Harrison Minerals was the heavy trader on a quiet speculative board. Turnover was 226,500 shares to close even at 15 cents. Consolidated Mogul fell 35 cents to $5.20.

Hudson Bay Oil and Gas slipped ¼ among senior western oils.

On index, the exchange index advanced .01 to 131.89, industrials 0.2 to 141.08, base metals .01 to 61.17, golds declined .33 to 133.62, and western oils .42 to 81.91.

MONTREAL (CP)—The stock market was mixed Tuesday at the close of trading at the Montreal and Canadian stock exchanges.

The composite index was unchanged at 132.7 and declines edged advances 93 to 80.

Trading was fairly active. Industrials turned over 151,600 shares and mines and oils 746,100 shares.

Industrials were the only gainers with the composite index rising 0.1 to 136.4. Canada Cement rose ⅜, Asbestos ¼ and Chemcell ⅛. Southam dropped ⅜ and Dominion Bridge ⅛.

Banks were hardest hit with the composite index down 0.4 to 123.6. Canadienne Nationale rose ½ and Royal ⅛. Toronto Dominion dropped $1, Nova Scotia ½ and Montreal ¼.

Utilities were off 0.3 at 123.4. B.C. Telephone dropped one point, Quebec Natural Gas ¼ and Trans Canada Pipe Line and Bell Telephone ⅛.

Papers were off 0.2 at 119.2. B.C. Forest rose ⅝ and Dominion Tar and Great Lakes Paper ¼ each.

In senior base metals Consolidated Mines and Smelters dropped ½, Hudson Bay Mining and Noranda ⅜ and Hollinger ¼.

Steambaths—Japanese Style—Not for Timid

By DAVE STOCKAND

TOKYO (CP)—A steambath Japanese style is an exquisite ordeal.

But beware if you're the bashful type.

You wait your fate in an outer room, thumbing nervously through unillustrated magazines which have texts henscratched entirely in Japnese characters. It's like being in a dentist's office far from home, not knowing the drill.

The appointed hour, the solemn start of the last mile, arrives with a smiling escort service into the inner chamber by a transistor-trim girl in white who, it turns out, has the hands of a karate champion and the professional dedication of a kamikaze pilot.

Now the stage is set for the start of a burlesque show in reverse with an audience of one who has seen it all before.

She points to shoes. You hand over shoes. Trousers. You hand over trousers. The sign language continues.

It's a one-way street; strip poker with a marked deck.

Quick bows accompany the ultimate exchange—towel for shorts—and into the steam cabinet full steam ahead. There you simmer feeling silly, like a naughty pilgrim locked in the stocks in the village square.

CLOSE YOUR EYES

The cooking—an hour-long 15 minutes—is followed by a towel-flapping scramble to a tub of tepid water and a lathering; a limb - by - limb lathering, inch by blushing inch, administered by the same unflappable girl in white.

"You shy," says the girl, "you close your eyes."

The logic leaves something to be desired, but you're ready to grasp any suggestion short of hara kiri. You close your eyes. It helps.

The next stop, after a top-to-bottom rinse which destroys any hopes of salvaging even a fragment of privacy, is a low table where you flop down under orders feeling like a well-boiled side of Japanese beef.

Prize Japanese cattle reach maturity on a beer-and-rice diet spiced by a daily rub-down. Thus they go to the slaughterhouse truly contented cows, producing beef so tender it falls apart under the shadow of a chopstick.

But mulling over the secrets of Japanese cattle barons is scant consolation under the circumstances.

Not when you're being punched, poked, prodded, squeezed, thumped, gouged and otherwise womanhandled—and not when the horrible realization dawns under the relentless third-degree therapy that muscles you never knew existed don't exist.

"You no very relax," says the girl in white, her English and probably her patience strained to the limit. "This first time Japan steambath?"

Ah so. First time, honey. And last time, too.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Japanese Bar Girl—Like a Computer In a Sexy Sheath

By DAVE STOCKAND

TOKYO (CP) — She is a many - splendored individual, pert and alert, soothing and stimulating, and a tingling massage to the male ego.

She is the Japanese bar hostess — as honest as the night is long but also a business girl who can make a bankroll melt like butter in a burning creamery.

Her dress is a sexy sheath, her mind works with the speed of a computer, but she in her own way is as much a keeper of tradition as the most rock-ribbed protectors of protocol in the imperial household.

This is the tradition, jealously guarded by the Japanese male, that on an evening's pub crawl man does not live by drink alone.

For one thing, he needs somebody to pour it for him. He needs a cigarette lighter that slinks like a girl. He needs an audience when he's talking, amusing chatter when he's silent; compliments in his end-of-day contentment.

WIFE STAYS HOME

Naturally a wife does not share in this relaxation. She can have her usual scintillating evening at home arranging flowers with grandma and looking after the children.

The foreigner is not immune to the charms of the hostess system. He comes, sees, and is conquered. The hostess takes on more responsibilities.

To cater to the combined demand there are 150,000 hostesses in Tokyo alone with one "conservative" estimate putting the number in all Japan at more than 500,000.

For her part the hostess is far better off financially than she would be as a shop or office worker. She has far more freedom than the average Japanese girl or woman.

Where she goes, what she does, when the last drink is served and the bars latch their shutters for the night is her decision and her business.

Just think of her at work, doing her job with the graces of a geisha who has had to come to terms with the 20th century, comforting the lonely traveller, unfurrowing the worried brow of the busy businessman.

She is nice to have around.

Members Debate Everything From Canals to Liquor

VICTORIA (CP)—It was new members day in the legislature Monday.

Of the eight speeches in the throne speech debate, four were by members elected for the first time last September and one was by a man who returned to the House after an absence.

The new members' remarks ranged from liquor to canals, speeches to power rates.

Ernie LeCours (SC — Delta) took a swing at the policy of his own government. He said there should be an immediate review of the "antiquated and unrealistic" liquor laws.

He called for hotel-room service of liquor and sale of liquor in grocery stores and in restaurants on Sundays.

PART OF LIFE

The majority of British Columbians had made liquor part of their normal life. He failed to see why a small minority should restrict consumption of alcohol to certain hours and certain days.

Dave Stupich (NDP — Nanaimo and the Islands), who defeated former recreation minister Earle Westwood in the September election, called for uniform power rates throughout the province. Rural electrification would never be possible unless there was power available throughout the province at uniform rates.

James Chabot (SC — Columbia) called for serious consideration to dredging and diking of the Columbia River from its source at Canal Flats to Mica Creek. The project would create valuable farm land which could be used to triple B.C. wheat production and re-establish farmers and ranchers displaced by the flooding caused by the damming of the river.

George McLeod, Social Crediter from North Okanagan who took over the seat held for years by the now-retired former Speaker Hugh Shantz, asked for a government study of a possible canal system linking Shuswap Lake and the Okanagan River system. He said the proposal has "wonderful ramifications," particularly for tourism in the area.

LASTING BENEFIT

While he thought the study would show the canal would be of lasting benefit, the government should not rush into the project.

Arvid Lundell (SC—Lillooet) continued on from where he had left off 14 years ago. A former Conservative and Social Credit MLA who was defeated by a New Democratic Party candidate in the 1960 election, he said in his maiden speech in the House he suggested better facilities for the provincial library, the legislative press gallery and the members themselves.

None of these suggestions seemed to have produced any action and he made a special plea for reporters in the press gallery who were falling down the same steps as they were 14 years ago.

Mr. Lundell also suggested that MLAs check speeches they have delivered in the House and see "whether we haven't been spending too much time talking."

VETERANS TOO

Veteran members had their say also.

John Squire (NDP—Alberni) said it is about time major oil companies halted repeated price manipulations during sittings of the royal commission of gasoline prices. The companies "insult the intelligence and intentions of this Parliament, the commissioner and the people of B.C. by constant price changes."

He urged a price freeze on gasoline for the duration of the hearing, adding that while the commission sat in Nanaimo recently prices at Port Alberni, 30 miles away, fell six cents a gallon.

Alex Matthew (SC—Vancouver Centre) praised government plans, announced in the throne speech, for a law banning job discrimination against older workers. Such discrimination was "morally wrong, economically unsound and basically indefensible."

MISSING LINK

He said facilities for the chronically ill are "the missing link in B.C.'s otherwise splendid program of hospital care."

Don Robinson (SC—Lillooet) called for a highway from Lillooet to Squamish, a plea he has been making for years. The road would follow the Pacific Great Eastern Railway route.

Poking fun at the amount of highway work in Kamloops constituency, represented by Highways Minister Gaglardi, he suggested a sure-fire way of getting all B.C. highways blacktopped—change highway ministers every four years until there had been one from each constituency.

Mines Minister Kiernan leads off the continuing throne speech debate Tuesday.

ASKS PRECAUTION

NANAIMO (CP)—A coroner's jury has recommended placing sides on ships' gangplanks before they are lowered in port. The recommendation followed the drowning last Friday of a crew member of the Liberian freighter Grand Grace.

Your Individual Horoscope

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars,

For Thursday, February 6, 1964

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) — You can do a better job of attaining today than you may think. All situations and problems need not be as difficult as seen on surface; keep plugging.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus) — Don't anticipate failure, neither look for sudden success. A conscientious program will help you surmount annoyances, irksome tasks. You may gain by that one more try.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini) — Especially favored now: outdoor pursuits, transportation, the ministry, agriculture, engineering, reconstruction, bargaining. But a steady hand and head are needed.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer) — Planetary influences stimulate intellectual pursuits, eagerness and carefully directed ambitions. If impulsive or hurried, day won't please. Think constructively to avoid errors.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo) — Born before July 30: take more care in the romance and domestic departments. All Leoites: put tact before talk, and walk before you run if you would stay out of traps, detours.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — Good Mercury influences. Accomplish as much as you can while time and opportunity are here. You will be glad later. Don't mind obstacles; they are normal tests and improve ability.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra) — Accent the basic formula — facts, the further learning that must be acquired for right solutions. No matter your position, you Can go Up, and there are smart maneuvers to begin Now.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 22 (Scorpio) — This should be a day for stepping back to view your projects and methods with an eye toward revitalizing, even if only in small part. Remain poised, undismayed, ready for bigger and better opportunities.

NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius) — Negative factors need not disturb if you keep situations in hand and study the whys and solving measures as you go along. Do not let things go till the last minute.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn) — Especially favored now: eductional pursuits, travel, study methods, enlightened environment. Achievement is possible in out-of-the-ordinary ways and places.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius) — Through cooperation with right sources and sticking firmly by duties, you should enjoy better-than-everyday credits. Understanding, better deals, bargains shape up.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces) — Not much planetary help here, but through your own efforts, you can have a satisfactory day. Study conditions, be sensibly philosophical, and know that there are many advantages for the searching.

YOU BORN TODAY are widely talented, roundly capable in an emergency: make fine nurses and doctors. You are naturally jovial, ready for good fun, sports, gaining knowledge in new fields, but often stay in a "rut" through lack of aggressive tactics. But your mind and abilities are appreciated in the long run by more than a few. This Sign has more than the usual quota of doctors, reformers, scientists, literati, humanitarians. Birthdate of: Aaron Burr, American Statesman; Sir Henry Irving, dramatist.

"YEAH! THE MARINES ARE HERE!"—Teamsters President James Hoffa (left) smiles as he passes a television interview on leaving his jury tampering trial in Chattanooga, Tenn. The interviewee is one of his prosecutors, Special Justice Department attorney James Neal. Hoffa yelled, "Yeah! The Marines are here!" Neal is a captain in Marine Reserve.

WEST GERMAN ARRESTED BY SWISS POLICE

BERN, Switzerland (Reuters) Swiss police have arrested a West German allegedly found in possession of Western military secrets addressed to an Eastern European country, the Swiss justice department announced Tuesday.

A communique from the justice department said the unnamed man, now in jail, was arrested on the night of Jan. 18-19 in the station waiting room at Schaffhausen, northern Switzerland.

He was carrying and intended to mail two packages containing military information on "foreign troops" and bearing an address in an Eastern European country, the statement said.

French Papers Discount Quebec Separation

MONTREAL (CP) — French newspapers are giving more attention to developments in Quebec but tend to ridicule the idea of the province separating from the rest of Canada, a former Canadian now teaching in Paris said Monday.

Dr. Otto Klineburg, formerly of Quebec City and now professor of social psychology at the Sorbonne University in Paris, made the remark at a press conference.

Dr. Klineburg said the French - Canadian drive for equality is viewed with great sympathy in France. However, no responsible newspapers or individuals speak in favor of Quebec breaking ties with English-speaking Canada.

Dr. Klineburg, author of several books on the psychology of race and international tensions, arrived in Montreal to give a series of lectures at Sir George Williams University.

Strange Formula Makes Up Congo Terrorist Revolt

By ROBIN P. MANNOCK

LEOPOLDVILLE (AP) — A witch doctor's brew of tribal magic, terror, anti-white hatred and crude Communist slogans is the latest formula for subversion and revolt in The Congo.

The bloodstained rebellion in Kwilu province is led by Pierre Mulele, 34, former education minister who has visited both Moscow and Peking.

Mulele's uprising started six months ago with fewer than 75 men. Today he has several thousand fanatical warriors who control a region half the size of Belgium.

His soldiers say the white man stole their land and enslaved them. They believe the Communists will bring them "wonderful things."

American missionaries who survived attacks by Mulelle's warriors reported hearing cries of "Russia" and "Moscow" as the terrorists closed in.

PROMISE THEM LAND

The warriors told the missionaries their chiefs promised the Russians would give them "things" possessed only by white men, and also would give them the land.

Captured documents, however, told of support from Peking from Mulele's revolt.

Western experts say the slogans are probably all the Communist indoctrination the tribesmen have had. But Western experts say someone well versed in guerrilla tactics is behind the assaults on missions in which an American woman missionary and three Belgian Roman Catholic priests have been killed.

Government forces have captured the notebook of a man who attended a guerrilla school. It is believed to be Mulele's.

"It's the sort of stuff the Communists crib from each other," U.S. Ambassaeor Edmund Gullion said after a trip to Kwilu. He said the notebook contained ideas from Cuban guerrilla specialist Ernesto (Che) Guevara and China's Mao Tse-tung.

One Western army officer commented: "I can open Mao's works and show you the exact place Mulele has reached."

SITUATION CHANGES

Until two weeks ago, Kwilu was a prosperous agricultural province in the southwast Congo dotted with mission stations where the Congolese sought education and medical care.

Today the government still holds the larger towns, but Mulele rules the countryside of eastern and southern Kwilu.

The missionaries were forced to flee. Many were told they would not be harmed if they left.

"We don't want white blood," terrorist leaders told American missionary Charles Sprunger, who spent 31 hours as a captive of Mullele's men.

But the rebels have no mercy for Congolese. About 150 provincial government officials have been slaughtered, according to latest reports.

EARTH SAVES THEM

Mulele's warriors have marched heedless into army rifles, convinced that bullets cannot hurt them because they "draw their strength from the earth."

Tribal sources say Mulele has told his men only cowards and traitors can be shot dead from the ground. To protect themselves from air attack, the men are told to eat peanuts and drink water.

The warriors believe Mulele possesses a "golden book" containing all the secrets of power in The Congo. They say the book was owned by the late Patrice Lumumba, The Congo's fiery first premier.

Mulele's men have few modern weapons. Most of them carry bows and poisoned arrows, spears and machetes.

Fire is a potent rebel weapon against missions and government posts. Mulele has cut off access by road to the rebel zone by sinking ferries and breaking down bridges.

Scouting Moves Into Space Age

OTTAWA (CP)—A swift evolution is changing the face of the Boy Scout movement in Canada as scout leaders race against time to attract today's sophisticated, science - minded youngsters.

"We're getting into the jet generation," says an official at scout headquarters here.

"Scouting in Canada is striving to keep pace with the space age," proclaims an official publication.

The aim is to reach more boys and teen-agers while dispelling the popular stereotype of the scout as a naive kid in a and ties knots.
silly suit who peddles apples

Adults participating in the 1964 Boy Scout Week, Feb. 16-23, will realize more than ever that the stereotype bears no relation to the facts.

Today's scouts like big challenges: They operate ham radio stations, go skin-diving and sailing, pilot gliders, climb mountains and undergo army-style survival training.

A new activity being introduced this year is a competition for .22 - rifle marksmen. Scout troops across the country will shoot at identical targets and mail them to a panel of judges in Ottawa. The champion will be declared in September.

STRESS FITNESS

The whole program of scout activities is being revamped to place more emphasis on new physical education techniques.

The old "Be Prepared" motto and lily emblem have given way in scout literature to a new theme, "fitness through scouting," and a new triangular symbol featuring two silhouettes in the familiar spread-eagle-arms position.

Even the traditional uniform based on Boer War styles is under review. Scout troops were given the right to adopt long trousers in the fall of 1962 and roughly half of the 12,000 troops in Canada have made the transition from knee pants.

A special committee is considering further uniform changes, involving styles, colors and materials. Troops will be permitted to choose from several types of uniforms eventually, but the transition will take years.

Scout leaders emphasize that the basic aims of scouting are unchanged from Lord Baden-Powell's days—only the methods are being updated.

The new program seeks to promote "total fitness." This takes in physical training, hygiene, getting along with others, learning crafts and skills, and "emotional fitness" — building character through competition and initiative.

Another innovation now in the planning stage is the creation of a fourth scout division for boys aged about 14 to 16. The still-unnamed division will be added to the Wolf Cubs, Scouts and Rovers.

"We felt that the present age span of 11 to 17 years for scouts was too wide," an official explained. "Boys aged 11 and 17 don't mix much."

A note of urgency underlining the changes is provided by the rate of membership growth, which has dropped steadily from 12 per cent in 1955 to 2.4 per cent in 1962.

Officials hope the new program and the new magazine Canadian Boy, launched in January with a subscription list of 300,000, will reverse the membership trend.

Latest statistics show a cub membership of 172,000, a scout membership of 105,000 and a total of 33,000 adult leaders.

Counting Sea, Rover and Lone Scouts, the membership in the 8-23 age bracket totals about 282,000.

The scout movement now has a world membership of about 9,500,000 in 83 countries.

MORE INITIATIVE NEEDED IN B.C.

VICTORIA (CP) — British Columbians should show more local initiative in dealing with social problems, the legislature was told Monday.

George McLeod (SC — North Okanagan; chided the opposition New Democrat and Liberals for criticizing the government's welfare program.

"We don't need people on that side of the House to tell us it's a problem," he said.

Every time a problem comes up these days the first reaction is to look at the government to solve it, he said.

Two communities in his constituency had their own school for retarded children and supported it through service club activity.

"This is the kind of spirit we want from the people of this province," he said.

Mr. McLeod was elected in the provincial election last September, replacing former Speaker Hugh Shantz who did not contest the election.

VANCOUVER (CP) — Police carried out a search Monday without finding a trace of a bomb in a confectionery store, following discovery of a note. The note said a bomb would be planted if $25 was not left in a specified place.

BEEMASTERS MEET

VANCOUVER (CP) — Agriculture minister Richter will open a Beemasters' short course to be held at the University of B.C. from Feb. 17 to 26. The course will cover the honey bee colony and its development and other aspects of the bee's life.

NANAIMO (CP)—A tentative 1964 school board budget of $3,166,998, has been submitted to city council for 1964. The budget shows an increase of $322,831 over last year.

PROFESSOR ELECTED

VANCOUVER (CP) —Professor J. Ross Mackay of the department of geography at the University of B.C. has been elected chairman of the board of governors of the Arctic Institute of North America for 1964. The institute administers grants totalling about $1,000,000 a year for research projects in the Arctic and Antarctic regions.

Columbia Cellulose earnings per common share jumped 35 per cent in 1963, Paul M. Marshall, president, above, reported Monday. Net profit was $3,779,000, an increase of $644,000 over 1962. Net sales reached a record high of $56,768,000, an increase of nine per cent. Continuing improvement in production and sales at the Celgar pulp mill and the high level efficiency of the Celgar sawmill, at Castlegar, improved prices for the company's products, he said.

Drew Blasts Canadian Trade Policy Critics

By ALAN HARVEY

LONDON (CP)—In a farewell speech Tuesday, George Drew blasted critics of Canadian trade policy.

Those who speak of Canadian barriers on British exports, he said, are guilty of "pure and unadulterated poppycock."

The fact was that Canada's anti-dumping laws were passed 50 years ago. British exporters had an advantage rather than a disadvantage in Canada. There was a "strong, strong sentiment" in Canada for buying British goods — "it just couldn't be otherwise."

Drew was addressing a luncheon meeting of the Commonwealth Correspondents' Association. His term of office as Canadian high commissioner came to an end officially last weekend and he returns to Canada in late May after a holiday in Italy.

31 DEATHS—Max Feinberg, variety store operator, is herded to a paddy wagon in Philadelphia, held without bail in the deaths of 31 skid row derelicts, one a woman. He is accused of selling canned heat to them, knowing they intended to drink it.
