Federal Spending Rising 6.6 p.c. to $7.5 Billion

Defence Slashed; Pension Hike, Hospital Insurance Up Estimates

By ALAN DONNELLY

OTTAWA (CP) — One of the sharpest jumps in government expenditure in recent years was indicated by Finance Minister Gordon Tuesday as he presented the Commons with a basic spending program of $7,585,513,508 for the 1964-65 fiscal year starting April 1.

The record high total was up 6.6 per cent — a rise of more than $470,000,000 — from the comparable total of $7,114,207,245 for the 1963-64 year ending March 31.

The figure provides only a rough guide to the size of government outlays for the coming year. It is bound to be inflated by further financial needs as the year progresses.

But the size of the increase, which occurred despite a major slash in the defence budget, indicated the problems Mr. Gordon will face in making any major reduction in his federal budget deficit for the next fiscal year beginning April 1.

His 1964-65 budget speech, setting out tax policy and revenue prospects for the future as well as over - all spending forecasts, is expected to be delivered late this month or around mid-April.

Mr. Gordon's forecast last July was for a budget deficit of $655,000,000 in the current fiscal year, though the independent Canadian Tax Foundation estimated recently this might be reduced by $100,000,000 through unexpected revenue increases and spending reductions in 1963-64.

COVERED BY REVENUES

Mr. Gordon's "blue book" of spending estimates for next fiscal year showed $6,703,513,508 in budgetary expenditures compared with the basic spending program of $6,307,207,245 with which he started the current fiscal year last spring. These budgetary outlays are the ones which must be covered mainly by tax revenues.

The rise of nearly $400,000,000 came despite a $109,000,455 chop in the defence department's budget. Among the offsetting factors were big jumps in public debt charges, hospital insurance, foreign aid, scientific research and public works.

Atop the budgetary estimates is an $882,000,000 estimate for the non-budgetary universal $75 monthly old age pension in the coming fiscal year. This compares with the expected $807,000,000 in pension outlays in the expiring fiscal year—a figure which reflects the $10 pension increase that took effect last Oct. 1. These pensions are financed by special tax revenues earmarked for the purpose.

The spending program for the coming year is certain to be increased by supplementary spending estimates covering new programs which develop as the year goes along.

So far in the current 1963-64 year there have been $311,928,255 in supplementary estimates with a further appropriation request still to be made for the year.

MAKES COMMENT

The only opposition comment in the Commons came from former Conservative finance minister George Nowlan who noted that spending would be higher despite "massive sacrifices" by Defence Minister Hellyer.

"He must feel something like Atlas who rolled the stone up the hill only to see it come down again on top of him," Mr. Nowlan said.

Either Mr. Gordon or Mr. Hellyer "must feel very badly crushed this afternoon."

In a Commons statement made as he tabled the estimates, Mr. Gordon cautioned that it would be misleading to compare the new Blue Book spending estimates with the current year's book.

For one thing, this showed a boost of $156,884, 100 in the cost of carrying the public debt to a total $1,037,893,000. Mr. Gordon said the increase would actually be about $52,000,000 because of a "serious underestimate" in the 1963-64 figure.

Mr. Gordon said a special examination of the programs of every department achieved "substantial cut - backs" in many spending programs.

But he added that new programs and new government functions added to his spending plans.

EXTRAS INEVITABLE

Several substantial "extras" inevitably will be added to next year's program in the form of supplementary estimates.

One is an $87,000,000 increase in payment to provincial governments under the improvement in the federal - provincial tax arrangement announced last November but not yet legislated by parliament.

No provision has been made for special railway freight rate subsidies, which took $70,000,000 in the current year, or for municipal winter works incentive payments or subsidies for winter house building, which together took $55,000,000 this fiscal year. Future government policy in both these fields has not yet been determined, but major payments are virtually certain.

Estimates Highlights

OTTAWA (CP)—Highlights of the 1964-65 estimates tabled in the Commons Tuesday.

Total federal spending of $7,585,513,508, up 6.6 per cent, including $882,000,000 for old age pensions.

Defence spending down $109,000,455 to $1,525,000,000.

Public debt charges up $156,884,100 to $1,037,893,000.

Federal share of hospital insurance up $35,000,000 to $420,000,000.

Family allowances up $3,100,000 to $546,000,000.

Foreign aid totals $75,600,000, up 50 per cent.

$21,900,000 for 1967 world's fair in Montreal.

Research outlays up $11,086,100 to $57,860,900.

Works department spending up $28,327,994 to $201,894,700.

Royal commissions to cost $2,329,000.

CBC operating grant up $7,461,000 to $85,900,000.

To come: Supplementary estimates, including $87,000,000 in increased payments to provinces.

Trip Planned

VANCOUVER (CP)—The first attempt will be made next summer to navigate the Northwest Passage both ways in a single season.

"Our purpose is to prove that the passage is ice-free long enough in the late summer so that ocean - going ships can use it as a shorter route between east and west" Arctic navigator Scott E. Alexander said Tuesday.

Hoffa Jury Deliberations Resume Today

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — The jury-tampering trial of Teamsters Union president James R. Hoffa went to the jury of eight men and four women Tuesday night. They deliberated two hours and 35 mnutes before being excused for the night.

U.S. District Judge Frank Wilson told them to report at 9 a.m. today to resume pondering the fate of Hoffa and five others on trial with him.

Columbia Pact Critics Misguided Says Martin

"Will Stand in History As Great Accomplishment"

By ARCH MacKENZIE

OTTAWA (CP)—The Columbia River Treaty is a milestone in Canadian-American relations and its critics are divided and misguided, External Affairs Minister Martin said Tuesday.

In an address in the Commons, Mr. Martin launched parliamentary study of the complex and long-delayed issue, first item of business in the new session following the eight-day throne speech debate.

"The bargaining has been very hard indeed," Mr. Martin said.

"There were times when it looked as though all would collapse; times even when we began to think of how to phrase a press release that would explain why no agreement was possible."

The minister praised the work of the former Conservative government, contained in the main treaty signed in 1961. He also had praise for Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton as former Canadian head of the International Joint Commission, but now a chief treaty critic.

CRITICS HELPED

But Mr. Martin said bluntly that while critics have helped to improve the treaty, the treaty itself and the subsequent protocol signed Jan. 22 "comprise an arrangement that will stand in history as a truly great accomplishment in the co-operation of two nations."

"There is no shadow of doubt or hesitation in my mind when I say that I believe they represent a high point in the combination of legal, technical and economic sciences for the advantage of the people of both Canada and the United States."

The documents, to be studied in detail later by the external affairs committee of the Commons, set up arrangements for taming the turbulent Columbia River as it rises in southeast British Columbia and heads toward the U.S. border.

A three-dam storage system, to be built in B.C., was agreed upon in the 1961 treaty, with B.C. owning half the extra power the U.S. could generate from that control.

The protocol provides for the 30-year sale in advance to the U.S. of that power block, plus some clarifications. Payments by the U.S. for power and flood control are to amount to $501,000,000 by 1973. This would pay for the three B.C. dams at once and leave $53,000,000 to start installing Canadian generating capacity on the Columbia.

Mr. Martin said it is natural there has been a "very great amount of misunderstanding and misinformation about the entire project."

Complicated Subject

The subject was vastly complicated—"it is doubtful if this Parliament has had before it documents involving more complexities and technicalities."

But the government had set Oct. 1 as the date for completing parliamentary approval and ratification. Parliamentary approval was needed as soon as possible to let engineering, financial and administrative arrangements proceed.

He noted that the Columbia has the biggest power potential in North America and that the U.S. section alone was 35,000,000 kilowatts capacity against the total Canadian installed capacity on all rivers right now of 20,000,000 kilowatts.

Mr. Martin dealt at length with the engineering report delivered in 1959, which let the International Joint Commission get to work on some basic principles. These laid the base for successful negotiations on the treaty in 1960.

He said Gen. McNaughton had the "wisdom, foresight and determination" to get agreement on the principle that the U.S. should give Canada half the extra power generated due to Canadian storage.

Negotiations Complex

He said negotiations in 1960 under former justice minister Davie Fulton, now Conservative leader in B.C., were "probably as complex and arduous a process . . . as has ever been undertaken in this country."

But he skipped over the sharp cleavage that appeared early in 1961 between the federal and B.C. governments on the question of financing and power disposal.

Mr. Martin did suggest it would have been wiser to have a separate agreement with B.C. before signing with the U.S., as the new Liberal government proceeded to do. But B.C. got its way in selling its slice of power in the U.S.

The more he studied the basic 1961 treaty after taking office, "the more I became impressed by the achievement that it represented." Instead of renegotiating it, he had been determined to "make a basically good treaty better still."

Thus, under the protocol, Canada was getting a bigger slice of power to sell, clarified language about river control and diversion rights and assurance that the Columbia arrangement sets no procedent to limit future similar arrangements.

Pay for Dams

The power sale would permit the dams, costing $447,000,000 by 1973, to be paid for right from the start.

Columbia critics had been useful, he said without naming names. He had attempted in the last year to talk to all the main ones.

Then—aiming straight at Gen. McNaughton—he said some still argue that the sequence of storage dams was not the best for Canada.

This has been the general's claim in arguing that the Kootenay River should have been diverted into the Columbia at its source rather than left to flow into the U.S., where it will be dammed and back 40 miles into Canada, before joining the Columbia later inside Canada.

"Not a single group of professional engineers that has made a detailed study of the project says so; not one. No one has demonstrated that any other sequence would produce better results," Mr. Martin said.

He also argued—contrary to Gen. McNaughton's view—that High Arrow dam at the southern end of the Arrow Lakes is essential and valuable.

Good Price

As for selling a big block of power to the U.S., it was a good price and plenty would remain after 30 years to reclaim or to continue to sell.

Further, diversion of Columbia water to the Prairies, as argued by Saskatchewan, was non-realistic.

"There seems to be no agreement among such critics as remain," Mr. Martin said. "The things desired by some are completely inconsistent with the things devoutly wished by others."

There had been claims of Canada losing its sovereignty but "if anybody has accepted dependence on anybody else, it is the U.S. which has become dependent on us and our storage."

"In fact, of course, neither of our countries is surrendering sovereignty. We are each entering quite deliberately into an arrangement which will be to our own advantage. We would really be accepting a limitation on our sovereignty if we were to consider ourselves incapable of joining in such a beneficial arrangement."

Salesman Rescued From Floating Log

TOFINO, B.C. (CP) — The wife of a man rescued after floating for three hours on a log and spending two days on an isolated island, said Tuesday her husband had only a bottle of vitamin pills for nourishment.

Mrs. William Young of Vancouver visited her husband at hospital at this community on the west coast of Vancouver Island a day after he had been rescued from the log, dressed only in a business suit and carrying a brief case.

Young scrambled ashore on the island Saturday after his boat struck a deadhead. Monday he got on the log in an attempt to reach land and was picked up exhausted three hours later by the Tofino lifeboat.

Mrs. Young said at one stage her husband heard boom men working near the island.

CALLS FOR HELP

"He yelled and screamed and he heard a voice say: "There's someone shouting for help. I wish he would shut up.' My husband was rather annoyed that they didn't investigate.

"He built a shelter out of wood. He also found three big logs, lashed them together with kelp and built a good raft. Unfortunately he dozed off and lost his raft."

Rescue officials started searching for Mr. Young Sunday when his wife reported he had failed to meet her.

Mr. Young was returning to Port Alberni, 50 miles from here after a trip to a logging camp, when his 24-foot power boat hit the deadhead. He managed to run it ashore on an island and crawl ashore before it sank.

Four Teenagers Die in Stalled Car

SHELTON, Wash. (AP)—Huddled in blankets, four teenagers were found dead Tuesday morning in a stalled car on a snowy logging road 14 miles north of here.

The dead, apparently from carbon monoxide, were identified as Harold S. Prather, 18, James I. Prather, 19, Rita Heiser, 17, and Evelyn Goldsby, 17, all of Olympia.

The 1959 sedan was found nosed into a ditch on the road in the Lake Haven area.

Deputies said the blanket shrouded the bodies of the youngsters.

The car ignition key was on, the heater was on, the gas tank was empty and the battery was dead.

One window was cracked open a few inches on the low side of the car.

A relative of the Heiser girl, Chester Bennett, said later investigation disclosed a small leak in the exhaust pipe beneath the rear seat of the car.

Mason County deputy sheriffs started searching for the four teenagers Monday afternoon after Bennett reported them missing.

New Judge Takes Over, Jury Set for Ruby Trial

By ARTHUR EVERETT

DALLAS (AP)—A new judge took over the Jack Ruby murder case Tuesday and by mid-afternoon a full jury of four women and eight men was completed.

Ruby, 52 - year - old Dallas striptease joint operator, is on trial for his life in the Nov. 24 shooting of Lee Harvey Oswald, president Kennedy's accused assassin. He will plead to the murder indictment Tuesday before the jury and wil offer the defence of temporary insanity.

The last two jurors chosen, after a gap in the selection since last Friday, were both women. They are Mrs. Louise Malone, 58, a tiny, white-haired widow who is an accountant for an oil company, and Mrs. Aileen Shields, 57, a divorcee who works for the telephone company.

Mrs. Malone was the 162nd and final jury prospect examined since the trial began Feb. 17. After she was sworn in, the trial was recessed overnight.

The state was told to have its opening witnesses on hand Tuesday when court resumes. They include policemen guarding Oswald when Ruby stepped from a crowd in the basement of Dallas police headquarters and put a single fatal bullet into the accused assassin's abdomen.

ILL WITH COLD

Judge Joe B. Brown, 55, who has conducted the murder case against Ruby ever since his arrest, became ill with a bad cold. He has had four heart attacks and his doctor ordered him to bed.

King Paul Near Death

ATHENS (AP) — Ailing King Paul, stricken by new complications, was reported near death today. Greece's most revered icon arrived to be put before him after a destroyer rushed it across the Aegean Sea.

High government and church dignitaries, along with hundreds of citizens, were on hand when the icon was brought ashore.

There were shouts of "God be with him!"

Crown Prince Constantine, 23, acting as his father's regent, had accepted an offer to send the icon — a religious image — from the Church of Annunciation in Tinos, 75 miles east of Athens.

The icon is called the Holy Virgin of Tinos. King Paul, 62, is the world's only Orthodox Christian monarch.

The sending of the icon underlined Greek fears for the king's life.

Operated on for a stomach ulcer two weeks ago, King Paul's apparent recovery was hecked when blood clots developed in his right leg and left lung Sunday and Monday. Then a Tuesday morning medical bulletin told of the new complications.

ROYAL REGENT — Greece's Prince Constantine (upper) has been named regent in place of his father, King Paul (lower), who is gravely ill following surgery. The prince is 23, the king 62.

SANTIAGO (AP) — Villarrica Volcano erupted with an awesome roar Monday, spreading new terror a day after its first eruption started avalanches that buried a village in southern Chile and drove thousands of persons from their homes.

With an officially-estimated 30,000 people huddled in blinding rain on the mountains, rescue teams fought floods and the torn earth to try to get food and supplies to the area 500 miles south of Santiago.

Wed 81 Years, Happy as Doves

LONDON (CP) — James Burgess celebrated his 103rd birthday Tuesday and received a special kiss from his 98-year-old wife — whom he married 81 years ago.

"I love him now as much as I did all those many years ago," said Mrs. Burgess in their Dockland home. "We are happy as doves.

"Whenever Jim gets angry with me he takes it out on his pipe. That's why we've never fallen out of our married lives. But he's had many pipes."

Jim met his bride in her father's pub, the Britainnia.

"I fell for my wife when I went for a pint," he said.

"She drew my beer and I asked if I could court her."

He believes he has been a husband longer than anyone else in Britain.

NDP To Fight Treaty Tooth and Nail

OTTAWA (CP) — The New Democrats will do everything in their power to block ratification of the Columbia River hydro and flood control treaty, Leader T. C. Douglas pledged in the Commons Tuesday night.

Calling the project a "great betrayal" of British Columpia in particular and Canada in general, Mr. Douglas committed his 17-MP group against the treaty and protocol, as expected.

The Conservative opposition said it will not obstruct the issue — although it intends to seek answers to a number of questions — and Social Credit Leader Thompson was wholeheartedly in favor of the Columbia package.

Crelitiste Leader Real Caouette did not have a chance to speak in the debate, launched by External Affairs Martin, to create a committee forum for detailed study of the matter.

Thus, while the NDP stands committed to opposition, the indications were of more than ample support for the treaty.

Charged in Branca Robbery

VANCOUVER (CP) — Police Tuesday charged mill worker James Ross Boyd, 19, with last summer's robbery of supreme court justice Angelo Branca.

He was remanded until March 11 by magistrate Gordon Scott.

Mr. Justice Branca, then a practicing lawyer, and his wife were held at gunpoint and tied to chairs by the thieves who stole 700 gold sovereign coins from his home July 21.

About 100 of the 700 coins were found scattered outside the Branca home and most of the remainder of the coins were recovered when police arrested Geoffrey Wing, 23, an accountant, five days after the robbery.

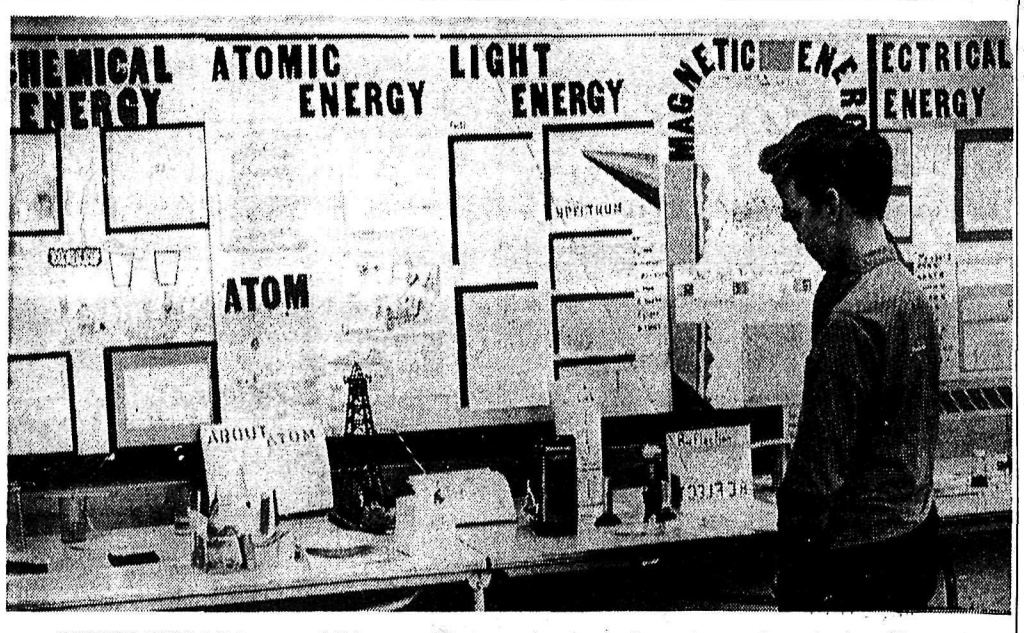
Wing was subsequently sentenced to three years in jail for possessing the stolen coins.

Boyd is in Oakalla awaiting sentencing on charges of breaking and entering, possessing stolen goods, and possessing housebreaking instruments.

UNITED NATIONS (CP) — The United Nations Security Council put off action Tuesday on a resolution to send a peace force to Cyprus. But diplomatic sources expressed hope that the compromise measure will be passed today.

Tuesday's meeting was adjourned quickly at the request of the Soviet Union and some other delegations wanting more time to receive instructions.

One diplomatic source said he understood the Russians were prepared to veto the measure if it was forced to a vote Tuesday.



SCIENCE DISPLAY fascinated Education Week visitors to Hume School "open house" this week. The two boys who assisted visitors are looking at an "atomic reactor," where a flashing light and electric sparks made a realistic display. Many other working scientific displays and other school projects were shown in the gymnasium.

And in This Corner . . .

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Deputy Sheriff Hack Cottey said he arrived at the scene of a barn fire Monday night to find officers of rival suburban fire departments fighting over whose fire it was.

Cottey identified the combatants as George Bragdon, Lawrence, Ind., assistant fire chief, and Junior Dalrymple, Oaklandon, Ind., fire chief.

Damage to the barn northeast of Indianapolis was confined to the hayloft.

Cottey said Dalrymple told him the fire was in the Oaklandon department's area and asked him to "chase all Lawrence firemen out of the area."

The deputy said he suggested that "the most important thing right now is to get the fire out."

CHARLOTTETOWN (CP)—Apples from Nova Scotia's Annapolis Valley were distributed as a promotional venture at the Canadian curling championship.

"Try these," said a man doling them from a basket.

Two men wearing sailor hats marked Kelowna, B.C., passed in his wake handing out apples from British Columbia — twice as large.

"We want you to compare them," they said chuckling.

College Pact Signed By Six School Districts

CASTLEGAR (Staff) — Chairmen and secretary-treasurers of six school districts signed an agreement for the establishment of a regional college in Castlegar school district No. 9 here Tuesday night.

The agreement states the college is for the purpose of providing post-secondary education within the area represented by the parties, to prepare students for advanced work at universities and to provide specialized training institutions for career vocations.

James Gray of Trail, president of the B.C. School Trustees Association, told the meeting that he felt that "a little bit of history has been accomplished in British Columbia tonight."

He said the regional college, a new type of educational institution, represented a tremendous opportunity for students beyond the secondary level in local area. It provided equalization of opportunity for district students who otherwise would have to seek such education far afield.

Next procedure, he explained, would be appointment by the provincial government of a regional council. This would consist of the principal of the college, two members to be appointed by lieutenant-governor-in-council; one member appointed by the minister of education and who would be a district superintendent of schools; and such other members as determined by the minister to be appointed by each participating board, at least one of whom would be a trustee.

Chairmen and secretary-treasurers attending were:

W. E. Graham and Roy Mills, Slocan; Mrs. W. Jacobson and Charles King, Castlegar; Mrs. Alma Jordan and Herbert Miller, Harold Lakes School; Dr. D. A. Perley and William Reid, Grand Forks; Richard Palmer and C. B. Loff, Nelson, and James Gray and Robert Rogers, Trail.

Also attending were Claude Bissel, district superintendent of schools, Castlegar, and Charles Cuthbert, district superintendent, Nelson.

120 Delegates To Meet Here On Columbia

Columbia River Development is bringing the cream of North America's engineering specialists and hydrologists to Nelson in April.

Mayor E. T. Bodard announced Monday that the 32nd Western Snow Conference will convene in the Queen City on April 21-22-23.

Over 120 delegates and their wives from across the North American continent will meet here, primarily to examine the water resources of the Columbia River basin.

Mayor Bodard was unable to give full details of the specialized engineering body which is composed mainly of American engineers. Of the list of prominent engineers planning to attend the conference only two were from Canada.

DAMAGE $700 IN COLLISION

Approximately $700 in aggregate damage was sustained by two Nelson vehicles in collision on Ward Street Sunday.

City police said apparently Dr. R. B. Brummitt pulled out from the curb in the 400 block Ward Street and was in collision with a vehicle driven by Herman A. Nicholson, who was travelling south on Ward.

The impact of the two vehicles caused Dr. Brummitt's 1964 vehicle to hit a parked taxi, causing minor damage.

NDU Being Considered — Peterson

VICTORIA (CP) — Education Minister Leslie Peterson was asked Tuesday whether consideration has been given to allowing Notre Dame University of Nelson a place on the Academic Board of B.C.

Mrs. Lois Haggen (NDP — Grand Forks-Greenwood) pointed out in the legislature that the private university receives no provincial grants.

She hoped a faculty of education could be started at the institution and wondered whether there wasn't some way students at Nelson could get loans.

Mr. Peterson said consideration is being given to appointment of a Notre Dame representative as one of three board members outside the public university system.

The recently-announced federal loans to students "may well apply" to Notre Dame, he said, and he would give it consideration. There had been no consultation with the provinces by the federal government.

Bodard Refutes $12,000 Gyro Bathhouse Figure

The Civic Centre Commission is as popular a topic for city council this year as the municipal car park was two years ago.

Monday night, City Council hashed over the latest move of the commission and clarified "misinformation" concerning the Gyro Park bath house.

Mayor E. T. Bodard, who argued strongly for the present building and its site in 1963, gave a breakdown of the figures involved in the statement that the building cost $12,000.

The Mayor said that the building had been built at a cost less than its estimated maximum of $8,000. The actual cost of building was $7868. Sewer service, including blasting of rock cost $929. Improved water service to Gyro Park cost $1836 while landscaping cost $405 for a total of $11,040.

Ald. Edith Van Maarion took strong exception to the remarks that the bathhouse might possibly be obsolete before being fully utilized because it may not fit into the eventual park planning.

Ald. Van Maarion said that there is a master Gyro Park plan, also that the city has three plans for swimming pools there and that one-time city recreation director Ernie Gare prepared a five-year master park plan for the entire city several years ago.

It was her understanding that the city was launched on the Gare plan, building in a staged program as finances allowed.

She said that the entire council, members of the commission and the Gyro Club were on hand when the final decision on the bathhouse was decided at the site last summer.

What prompted the discussion, other than the news reports, was a request by the commission that it be allowed to make a study of the city's parks and recreational facilities.

Council hedged on the original resolution. Ald. D. F. Porteous and Ald. M. B. Ryalls favored it while Mayor Bodard felt it infringed upon the duties of the Nelson Advisory Planning Commission. Ald. Van Maarion felt parks were the concern of the council's parks committee which is responsible to the taxpayer.

"We cannot at the present moment elect to allow another body to supersede another body we have already set up to study recreational facilities," said the mayor in his argument.

Ald. Ryalls maintained that the NAPC would welcome the commission's action as a relief to its mounting burdens.

He said the NAPC has enough work now to keep it busy throughout the year.

Chairman of the commission and the NAPC, J. S. Harts, who was in the audience, confirmed the view of Ald. Ryalls. He said it will be a year or more before NAPC gets a final answer on the study and it is felt that the commission can accomplish this service in quicker order than the NAPC.

In the end council acceded to the request with one alteration, that the study be contained to the existing parks and recreational facilities.

Ald. Van Maarion was recorded as opposed to the motion.

Memorial, Cenotaph Moves Not Considered So Far

Up to this point the city council has not given any consideration to moving either the cenotaph or the John Houston Memorial, it declared in reply to a letter of protest Monday.

B. C. Affleck, chairman of the Nelson and District Oldtimers, disclosed in his correspondence to council that his association was "emphatically opposed to any removal of boulevard or its features."

Council is currently considering possible sale of the Vernon Street park to commercial interests, but it hasn't expressed an interest in moving the cenotaph, it asserted.

It stated that its recent meeting with a committee of the Royal Canadian Legion, Branch 51, was only to grant the Legion an audience which it had requested last fall. The meeting dealt with the possibility of removing the cenotaph, but no decisions were made.

The Legion group at the meeting stated it saw nothing wrong with the present site.

Last fall the Legion indicated that if the cenotaph is to be moved, it preferred Lakeside Park.

Mr. Affleck said that the John Houston boulevard in 400 block Vernon Street was the brain child of the Oldtimers Association in 1916. They were also responsible for placing the cenotaph there via a city referendum in 1922.

ASKS BYLAW

He felt the removal of the cenotaph should be decided by ratepayers through a money by-law, for it appears that public money—$3000 to $5000 he estimated—will be required to finance the project.

He also felt those advocating removal should help finance the project as evidence of their sincerity.

He asked those who insist on removal to subscribe at least 50 per cent of the cost and also to insure the monuments for $10,000 against damage in the moving.

150 Parents Visit School At Rosemont

The first annual open house at Rosemont School brought about 150 parents out to observe their children in school activities.

Principal, Terry Wayling expressed his gratitude to the parents for their keen interest in the community's education.

Grade 1 students gave a recitation and dance routine to begin the afternoon's entertainment.

Students in Grade 2 and 3 choral speaking numbers were topped off with some lively folk dances.

An adventure drama, "The King's Highway," was Grade four students' choice, followed by more reciting by Grade 5 pupils.

The program ended on a hilarious note with Grade 6 students acting in their own production "The Brahman and the Tiger."

Parents then proceeded to classrooms to watch their children at work.

Grade 4 and 5 students demonstrated their versatility with recorders, flutophones and rhythm instruments. Parents then turned the tables, by playing in the band while others sang to their accompaniment.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. R. Swihart, Mrs. A. Grodzki and Mrs. J. Walkden.

CURLERS STUDY CODE AT 'SPIEL

CHARLOTTETOWN (CP) — The Dominion Curling Association at its annual meeting today was to consider a proposal for a curling code of eligibility that was understood to be a compromise between the extreme views of professionalism.

The code would eliminate the so-called carspiels — bonspiels with four cars as prizes for the winning rink—by limiting the first prize of any single competition to $1,000 value for the rink or $250 for each member.

Loss of eligibility for DCA-sanctioned events — the Canadian championship included — would be the penalty.

Sawlog Production Continues at Record

Records continued to fall in production of sawlogs in the Nelson Forest District as the February scale sent the total for the year to date to 131,768,876 feet board measure.

The February scale was 68,274,328 fbm, a gain of 6,756,163 fbm over January. The January-February total was 9,315,847 fbm higher than for the same period in 1963.

Gains were recorded in cedar, spruce, lodgepole pine, hemlock, balsam and larch.

The figures in detail:

| Sawlogs | 1963 | 1964 |

Mrs. Matthews Passes at 80

Long-time district resident Mrs. Barbara Matthews died in Nelson Sunday morning, aged 80 years.

Born in Moran, Minnesota, in 1883, she moved west to Spokane before travelling north to Salmo about 1909.

In Salmo she married the late George Matthews, an oldtime prospector and onetime stipendiary magistrate. He predeceased her in 1949.

She moved to Nelson the same year, residing in the Annable Block.

Surviving are two brothers, Steve and Wilfred Warzeha, of Chicago; and two sisters, Mrs. Marie Ajdukovic of St. Maries, Idaho, and Miss Balbina Warzeha of Chicago.

Coffee Break Brings Suspensions for Seven

The aroma of coffee resulted in a week's suspension for seven public works department employees during February.

The grievance committee of Civic Employees Union, local 339, protested the suspension, implemented by city works superintendent D. Likar, to city council Monday.

The committee said information given to it by the employees does not concur with the information given by Mr. Likar for the suspension.

The city works superintendent disclosed to the union that the men were suspended for leaving their jobs to enter a coffee shop during the early hours of the morning.

The union contract forbids an operator to leave his vehicle without a cause and forbids patronizing coffee shops and restaurants. Mr. Likar said that there had been numerous reports of infractions of this rule.

He said that the early morning snow removal crew receives extra monetary compensation for its shift work.

Council granted the grievance committee and suspended employees an audience at an "in-committee" meeting to be held Monday, March 10.

Council Jottings

Notre Dame University asked the city for a further contribution to its Project 75 drive for $1.4 million, Monday.

Last year city council gave a donation of $3000. It was the first time that the council had made a direct contribution to the fund.

Monday, council agreed to refer the matter to budget time.

C. J. Connors, transit and garage superintendent, will make a two-week study of the city transit system with an aim to streamlining operations.

* * *

A. K. McAdams, chairman of the court of revision, said only seven assessment appeals were heard from the city, indicating that the reassessment of the city was equitable.

* * *

* * *

The city's latest invitation to the Trail city council to have it become a member of the Castlegar Airport Committee has been referred to Trail's airport committee, councillors were informed.

* * *

The crown has no intention of selling to the city 2.5 acres of hillside immediately fronting Cottonwood Creek and below the vocational school on Perrier Road, but in two years will restudy the proposal.

The city wanted to convert the area into a park and beauty spot.

* * *

The city took a full page advertisement in a brochure being prepared by the Nelson Rotary Club to help defer the cost of sending the Nelson Boys' Choir to Victoria for concert dates.

* * *

Referred to the Parks committee was a request from J. H. Sutherland for removal of a large "nuisance" cottonwood tree on city property near his 809 Kokanee Avenue property.

* * *

A new firemen's agreement providing a 44-hour work week compared to 48 hours in the past, and a slight reduction in clothing allowance has been accepted by both parties.

* * *

The city will call for tenders for repairing and redecorating a home at 520 West Gore Street, apparently affected by city blasting in the immediate vicinity. Several cracks appeared in the walls of the house when the city were blasting rock for the sewer line.

The tenders will be referred to the finance committee with power to act.

* * *

E. Coschizz asked the city to reroute its sewer line so he can build a driveway and a basement garage at his 620 Victoria Street residence. The present sewer line is near ground level.

The matter was referred to Mr. Likar and the building inspector for report.

* * *

Ald. F. A. Beresford was the only councillor not in attendance.

Stork Delivers 32 in February

Nelson's birth rate last month took a slight drop from the corresponding period in 1963, but jumped slightly above the January tally.

The stork made 32 trips in February, three less from February, 1963, but up eight from the January figure.

Deaths recorded showed an increase of five over the 10 recorded in February, 1963, and four more over the 19 in January.

Only four couples were married last month, up one from the corresponding period in 1963, and remaining static with the January tally.

SCHOLARSHIPS INCREASED $50

Growth of the University of British Columbia Alumni Annual giving fund allowed an increase of $50 to six Kootenay students MacKenzie Alumni Regional Scholarships to $350 each.

A total of 42 scholarships are awarded.

Current scholarship holders from the Kootenays are: Leonard James Horvath of Nelson; Kathleen Kennedy Campbell and William Drummond Irvine, both of Trail; Edward Paul Chala of Natal; Harvery James Glanville of Grand Forks and Denis H. J. Douville of Creston.

MOOSE BAGGED

During the 1962 season in Ontario, nearly 14,000 moose were taken, not quite one for every three hunters.

Cranbrook Education Week

Inter-School Quiz Winners Move On to Televised Finals

CRANBROOK — Mount Baker Secondary School was host Saturday to top students of senior secondary schools of southern East Kootenay at the fourth annual inter-school quiz, as an academic competition toward East Kootenay Teachers' Association trophy. William Phillips, originator of this clash of intellects aimed at putting the stress on education during Education Week, was moderator.

Teams came from Selkirk School, Kimberley, and the senior secondary schools at Creston and Jaffray, with three grade 12's and a grade 11 to each team, each accompanied by a spare. Method was double knockout round-robin competition in paired draws. Cranbrook and Creston are winners with two wins each and no losses.

The two teams now continue to a televised competition at Lethbridge Friday at 4:30 p.m. for the trophy. On the Cranbrook team are Trevor Klinkhamer, Persis Dale, Pamela McWhirter and Donald Draper, with Tannis Ewen, spare.

Efforts toward building this event to inter-provincial Alberta-B.C. final have failed so far, due to differences in grading curricula in respective provinces in senior high schools.

Other Education Week events in Cranbrook are individually set evening open house at all Cranbrook schools this week for parents to examine plant facilities and work examples, with programs by pupils at some schools, and the PTA serving refreshments.

REPLACE IRAQ C-IN-C

BEIRUT (Reuters) — Brigadier Hardan Takriti has been relieved of his posts as defence minister and deputy commander-in-chief of the Iraqi armed forces, a presidential decree broadcast by Baghdad radio said Monday night. The decree said Takriti, a member of the socialist Arab Baath party, would become an ambassador.

UBC Forestry Faculty Head Guest Speaker

KIMBERLEY — T. G. Wright dean of forestry at the University of B.C., was guest speaker at the dinner meeting of the East Kootenay branch of the Professional Engineers of B.C. Monday evening in the Oasis, Kimberley.

Each year the association arranges for an authoritative person, in some field of applied science and industry basic to B.C. economy to address a special meeting of its branches throughout the province and to make himself available to local school authorities and students for advice on career counselling on his specialty.

At the meeting, W. Jewitt, jr., of Chapman Camp received his certificate of registration as a member of the association of Professional Engineers of B.C.

Students Add $100 To Fund From Rummage

NEW DENVER — A successful rumage sale was held at Lucerne Secondary School.. Proceeds of over $100 were devoted to student council funds.

Council president Brian McKeller said that the sucess of the sale was due not only to the hard work put in by teachers and students but also to the support given by parents and others in the community who sent rummage and produce for sale and who attended in such large numbers.

Barbara Freeze Wins Rotary Essay Contest

KIMBERLEY—Miss Barbara Freeze, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Freeze, of Chapman Camp, has been named this year's winner of the Kimberley Rotary Club's annual essay contest "Ventures in Citizenship."

A Grade 12 honors student at Selkirk Senior high school, 17-year-old Miss Freeze chose as her topic, "Why I am proud to be a Canadian."

She will join a cavalcade of contest winners from B.C., and Alberta in Calgary and will be joined by other winners from across Canada for the all-expense trip to Ottawa. While in the capital May 11-14, winners will be the guests of the Ottawa Rotary Club, which sponsors this contest.

Between 270 and 300 students take part annually in this contest. This year there were six contestants from Selkirk high school and on opening the sealed envelope naming the winner at the Rotary luncheon, Selkirk principal R. D. Young, stated calibre of essays entered from here was the highest in the four years the contest has been in operation.

Previous local winners of the ventures in citizenship award were Diane Coupland, Susan Keys and Louise Zarowny.

FIERCE FIGHTER

The fisher, a fierce North American mammal, weighs less than 12 pounds but can kill a fox, deer or bobcat in a fair fight.

A BAS BRAHMS

MINEHEAD, England (Reuters) — Banners proclaiming "vive Brahms" were torn down Monday by 1,000 screaming Beatles fans in this quiet seaside town. The fans plunged into a five-foot ditch and rushed a fence and 40 policemen to see the Beatles, Britain's top pop-singing group, arrive at a railway station for a film-making visit.

Crestbrook, City, Byrne Confer on Cranbrook Airport

CRANBROOK — Cranbrook municipal airport, which flanks city limits west of the railway track, with paved runway adjoining Crestbrook Timber Ltd. yard at the south end, was subject of a conference Monday among city council, Crestbrook officials and J. A. Byrne, MP for Kootenay East.

Crestbrook recently notified the city it intended in future to utilize its yard space to most economic advantage, which might include structures, though it had no immediate plans. The city, in recent efforts to secure zoning regulations in the airport vicinity outside city limits, discovered this was outside provincial jurisdiction, and could only be done under federal jurisdiction at large city cost for land purchase.

Mr. Byrne told the meeting of investigation by the Department of Transport for a suitable all-weather instrument landing airport convenient to Cranbrook and Kimberley at a new location between Wycliffe and Fort Steele, and suggested the city ask Crestbrook to delay any building plans for its yard for a period of three to five years to allow for this airport development.

Crestbrook president and general manager V. C. Brown agreed to put this proposal before the company board of directors later this week for a decision.

Kaslo Observing Education Week

KASLO—Education Week plans of Kaslo elementary and high schools include a variety of events.

Open house will be held on Thursday and besides the usual classroom visiting, there will be a program, bake sale and tea.

Demonstrations of school equipment will be shown during the afternoon.

On Friday, the elementary school academic night will be presented in which the students will show their academic knowledge as well as provide entertainment for their friends.

STORE STAFF TRAINING

KIMBERLEY — Sixty-seven applications have been received for attendance at the store staff training night school classes, to get under way tonight in McKim High School.

The first class starts with registration, introductory remarks by retail merchants president W. Spence and a film.

Hospital Wing May Open in June

Trail Library Budget $19,898

TRAIL — Trail municipal public library submitted its annual budget to city council Monday evening. An increase of around $2000 over last year, the budget, covering the three municipalities of Trail, Tadanac and Warfield, amounted to $19,898.

Advice was received from the Trail advisory planning commission that F. E. Devito had been elected chairman of the commission.

Building inspector F. W. Banton was authorized to attend the building inspector's annual conference to be held in Victoria May 7 and 8.

Health committee chairman alderman Ugo Debiasio, reporting for the union board of health, said that it is hoped to have the new mental health wing ready by the time the psychiatrist is due to arrive, sometime in June. He also hopes, following the visit of the architect, to see some action on the new hospital wing.

During the month of February total loss by fire amounted to five dollars, in a car fire. Four alarms were responded to: flooded oil heater, short circuit, suspected natural gas leak and one false alarm. Assistant fire chief C. Cowlin reported that 155 inspections had been carried out.

Following council meeting, a number of business men gathered in the council chambers to discuss the problem of parking in downtown Trail.

Grandmothers Among Many Guests at Guide Event

SILVERTON — The Silverton Brownie and Guide Association held a Mother and Daughter potluck supper in the Municipal Hall, with grandmothers and visitors Miss Kirkman, Division commissioner and Mrs. H. F. Hyson, area commissioner, in attendance.

Vice-president, Mrs. Bolling, gave the welcoming address Randy Harding said grace. The toast to the Queen was proposed by Fern MacLeod; toast to the founder's memory was given by Donna Wright; toast to Guides and Brownies was given by Mrs. Nelson; toast to the mothers was by Carol Ann Bolling; reply by Mrs. Gordon; toast to the commissioners and guiders was by Lorill Taylor, reply by Miss Kirkman.

Miss Kirkman and Mrs. Syson each gave a talk. Mrs. Hyson enrolled Mrs. Wright as guide lieutenant.

Mrs. Hyson presented service stars to guides Lorill Taylor, first year; Sylvia Wilkowski, second year; Randy Harding, third year.

Miss Kirkman presented proficiency badges to Randy Harding, 1st class, child nurse and naturalist; Donna Wright and Sylvia Wilkowski, hostess; Lorill Taylor, hostess and laundress.

Mrs. Mills presented gifts to Miss Kirkman and Mrs. Hyson, who no longer will be division and area commissioners.

Guide captain Mrs. Harding thanked commissioners for their years of service.

USWA Refused Phoenix Certification Vote

TRAIL — In a telephone conversation from Vancouver to Local 480 in Trail Harvey Murphy reported Tuesday that the B.C. Labor Relations Board has denied the United Steel Workers of America the right to a certification vote of the employees of the Phoenix copper company near Grand Forks.

Presently Local 1013 of the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers is the certified bargaining agent for the employees working at this property.

The right to a certification vote under present legislation can be granted to an applicant who has a majority of the employees signed up and only in the 11th and 12th months of an agreement.

The present agreement is in its fourth month but the United Steel workers argued before the board that on technical grounds the collective agreement and the wage increases which it granted should be declared null and void and a certification vote taken to determine the wishes of the employees.

Harvey Murphy, for the Mine Mill Union, argued that Penn Baskin, an official of the United Steel Workers and member of the labor relations board, should not be allowed to sit in judgment of the case.

His arguments were upheld by the board and Mr. Baskin was removed.

Chamber Celebrates 39th Anniversary

KIMBERLEY — Visitors from Creston, Cranbrook, Invermere and one from Montreal augmented the Kimberley and Marysville Chamber of Commerce and friends to make the chamber's 39th annual dinner a most successful affair.

President K. Ansley introduced Mayor C. Swan, who officially welcomed the guests.

Following the dinner, six members of the Lost Dawg Singers entertained with 20 minutes of folk singing.

Mr. Ansley introduced R. H. "Bob" Lewis, vice-president and director of public relations for a Spokane business firm, guest speaker for the evening.

Mr. Lewis emphasized the importance of the individual in any organization and the need for each to do his share..

"We must be ready to work for our goals — alone if need be — for 'It is better to light your own candle than to curse the darkness' ".

Chamber vice-president Lyle Craig thanked the speaker and Mr. Ansley presented Mr. and Mrs. Lewis with mementoes of their visit, made from Cominco metals.

A dance concluded the evening's entertainment.

MARYSVILLE WOMAN WINS $1000 BLACKOUT

KIMBERLEY — Top winner of the $1000 Blackout in last Thursday's TC Liono was Mrs. A. Schacher of Marysville.

Other winners were Mrs. Florence Yeager, Kimberley; Mrs. Ann Hedley, Cranbrook; Mrs. Ev Unrau, Kimberley; Jim Davis, Kimberley; Mrs. Hilda Muir, Kimberley; Barrie Foster, Kimberley.

Proceeds again go to Lions Club community projects and to the Dr. Endicott Home.

Scout Committee Has First Meet Of New Season

CRAWFORD BAY—The Crawford Bay Scout and Cub Group Committee met Sunday for the first time since election of the new board of officers.

At that time the following persons took office: president, E. Ingham; vice-president, J. Gardner; secretary, Mrs. K. Osborne; treasurer, I. Green; badge committee, J. Lovestrom, G. Osborne; building committee, J. Johnson, A. McGregor, H. Howell, B. Hawkins, E. Ingham.

Building of the proposed Scout hall was discussed, and plans were finalized for the building to be constructed on the park land.

Fluoridation Panel Topic

KIMBERLEY — The recent meeting of the Marysville PTA heard a panel discussion on fluoridation, speakers being Dr. N. Ouenville, medical viewpoint, Dr. Panattoni, dental; Dr. V. Baker, MHO, East Kootenay Health Unit and Dr. Grimsrud Kootenay dental consultant.

A good representation from the village commission also attended, fluoridation of the village water supply now being under consideration.

Membership in this PTA is now 81, just under the 1962-63 figures.

During the past two months, two special films have been shown at the school, one for fathers and sons, the other two for mothers and daughters.

The parent attendance banner went to Miss Fleming's class.

Red Mountain Ski Club Approves Land Purchase

ROSSLAND — Red Mountain Ski Club approved purchase of land to expand its parking space and intermediate slopes and agreed to investigate future development, particularly in the Granite Mountain area.

Approval was granted at a well attended meeting held in the high school auditorium.

The extraordinary meeting was called so the executive could place before the members its recommendations or suggestions regarding land acquisition, future development, and hill grooming equipment. Club president Bill Stevens chaired the meeting.

The membership supported the executive recommendation regarding the purchase of two pieces of land

Little opposition was voiced to purchase of about 22 1/2 acres of land immediately north of the lodge at a cost of $4400. This will provide additional parking space. The piece of land slopes up toward Indian Flats, and includes areas which would provide good slopes for intermediate skiing, and it was generally felt this will be a valuable addition to the club's holdings.

BLACK BEAR LAND

The executive's second recommendation was to offer Cominco $1500 for three acres in Black Bear, adjacent to the highway. The purpose of this purchase is to provide access to the highway from a possible ski run down the south face of Red Mountain.

It was felt open mine pits on the south side of Red Mountain present hazards to skiing but the meeting was assured these hazards would be removed.

OUTLINES PLAN

Mr. Stevens outlined plans for future development of skiing facilities which had been considered and discarded as too costly or otherwise unfeasible. He then introduced a plan to develop a skiing area on Granite mountain. If further investigation bears out the findings of preliminary surveys, it was felt, he said, that excellent skiing could be provided there. Club manager Peter Alder, who has made several trips over the areas indicated on a map of the mountain, expressed the opinion that the plan was feasible, with the main ski area in the bowl (below the mountain top), down through Indian Flats to the lodge.

Quite a number of members felt the proposed development should be to the top of the mountain, including Squaw Basin and opening up the whole wide area. One asked that a comprehensive engineering study of the whole possibility be made even if it had to cost as much as $10,000, and his suggestion had the approval of some other members.

The loss of outside revenue is responsible for the rise in rates, and Red Mountain is losing outside skiers to other, newly developed areas, it was felt.

Mr. Alder gave some statistics for the past two years' operation on Red Mountain. He said that while club membership had increased in that period, the "gravy," the revenue from senior day tickets, had been cut in half, and the take in American money was noticeably reduced. He said that ski clubs from as far away as Nelson have expressed interest in an extensive development here.

Mr. Stevens said it was felt the maximum expenditure that could be taken on in relation to estimated revenue was $175,000.

A man who has skied on the mountains around here for the past 20 years said he felt the terrain of Granite is "very rugged" and too steep for intermediate skiing.

After many expressions of opinion, the meeting approved the motion that the executve be directed to continue its investigation of engineering and financing surveys of the Granite plan and report its recommendations to another general meeting in the spring.

Cranbrook White Cross, Meeting Quarters Now Permanently Housed

CRANBROOK — Operating centre for all activities of the Cranbrook branch of the Canadian Mental Health Association will be located in permanent quarters in a ground floor office of the Star Building on Tenth Avenue, the Branch confirmed at its well-attended February membership meeting.

Quarters are extensive and will accommodate the monthly meetings as well as the White Cross Volunteers' Centre. This latter service is available specific afternoons each week manned by an approved volunteer ready to give lay assistance to anyone requesting it. The centre is equipped with CMHA-approved pamphlets and paperback books dealing with mental health, and with specific mental disturbance and behaviour problems, particularly among chillren, toward home help for these while the disturbance is still minor.

Another function of the White Cross Centre is to extend a friendly hand to those in the community wshing advice on proper channels toward professional assistance or practical help in dealing with these problems.

Branch president Earl Schmor is in process of completing standing committee chairmen appointments for the year.

ASK PSYCHIATRIC FACILITIES

Past president Ron Powell reported completion of the Branch's brief to the Cranbrook Hospital Society New Project, outlining, with documentation, the urgent need to include some psychiatric treatment facilities and space in the new hospital approved in principle, and now at the preliminary planning stage.

The brief will be presented to the Branch membership meeting at the centre, March 12. A copy is at present before provincial government authorities for approval before it is presented to the hospital society. Extensive survey was made in its preparation by Mr. Powell and Mrs. P. H. Abbott in consulting RCMP, members of the clergy, social service and schools who unanimously support the need and the brief's solicitation.

The CMHA national advertising campaign, which will continue through March 15 to May 15 to call public attention to the seriousness of this major health problem in Canada, was thoroughly endorsed at the meeting. Accent of the campaign is "More for the Mind," which is also the title of the CMHA-approved handbook at libraries, outlining the essential of establishing and maintaininy mental health.

All-Weather Airport a Must

We want to say it before the opposition does, or before the opposition says it again. There is no such thing as an all weather airport. What is implied by the term, however, is a field to which a safe landing approach under IFR (instrument flight rules) conditions can be safely made under most conditions subject to limitations in ceiling and visibility as prescribed by the Department of Transport.

With the cessation of the Canadian Pacific Railway passenger rail service in this area, reduction of Greyhound bus service, an airport where a greater percentage of landings can be made than we are presently getting at the Castlegar site is needed very badly.

By now most people will be aware that property in the vicinity of Creston is being mooted as a possible site for such an airfield. Nelson, Castlegar and Kinnaird, who own and operate the Castlegar strip, will naturally be reluctant to see existing air traffic transferred somewhere else but we must all realize that the low percentage of landings that we are experiencing at the Castlegar field is becoming not an asset but a liability to the Kootenay area.

What is needed is a more suitable location, centrally fixed, so as to serve the entire East and West Kootenay area with the minimum amount of limousine time travelling to and from the field. It would appear that Creston has this kind of property and location to offer and every effort should be made to determine its suitability.

This is not a matter for the village of Creston. It has nothing to do with Creston. It is our understanding that the proposed land does not belong to the village. This should be a joint affair, an investigation by all Kootenay communities to be served by such a field.

A year ago in Nelson, the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Southeastern B.C., pressed by the Creston delegation, asked that the Department of Transport resume its investigation of the possibilities of establishing an all-weather airport to serve the Kootenay. Trail Chamber of Commerce has also expressed approval. We urge all areas to follow these examples in endorsing the all-weather airport proposal.

A Shady Deal

There is a saying if you would sup with the devil, you'd need to have a long spoon.

Castro had something to do with Panama and flew into Moscow in an exultant mood.

There he made a new deal with Khrushchev. Russia would buy Cuban sugar, 2.1 million tons next year, 3 million tons in 1966, 4 million tons in 1967, and would pay twice what it is now paying for Cuban sugar. The new price being 6 cents a pound. World prices today are about 11 cents a pound.

Russia will pay not cash, but in Russian goods, the prices being determined by Russia.

It has entered into a contract to do this, for more sugar than Castro is currently able to produce.

If the world price of sugar falls below 6 cents, Khrushchev can offset this by simply raising the price of his goods, used in exchange.

Russia can't lose on a deal such as this, and it has Cuba tied up to such a contract of "heads I win, and tails you lose."

Castro knows little of business and doesn't understand its complexity.

The new contract he has tied Cuba to is phony and can never be carried out.

Cuba can't grow the sugar, and even if she could the flexible price paid by Russia in goods can be altered at will to Russia's gain.

Here you have a sample of Communist dealings, and the folly of Castro fully exposed in relation to it.

Stuff Them Stupid

In thinking about the horrors of riding airplanes seated alongside kiddies, our Satanic instincts definitely come to the fore.

According to a prominent friend of ours the only way to deal with the problem and have peace aloft seems to be to slip three double-whiskies into their porridge or several fat sleeping pills into their milk.

The airlines, however, discourage such self-protective measures and — good news — United Airlines is trying to do something about it in a manner approved by better homes and mothers.

United is letting the adults have their own menus but is coming up with special goos for the kids — hamburgers, hotdogs, peanut-butter-and-jelly sandwiches, cookies and potato chips. This is about as close to perfection in menu-making as any small child could hope for.

Early results with United's Junior Menu have been highly successful. Delighted airline cabin staff report that child after child has sat quietly — and stuffed stupid — for as long as the supplies held out. With the speed of the new jets this can be translated for the rest of us into hundreds of miles of restful travel.

This may be the biggest thing in air transport since the fan jet.

Yokels

In an account in a London paper of some recent efforts to add urban gaiety to the rusticity of a country town, its inhabitants were spoken of as yokels. If that word be derived, as some think, from the yoking of oxen or horses and the driving of a plough, the yokel was a man of some ability. In the same paper was a description of the complicated machinery of a combine-harvester which the alleged yokel has now to master. That vehicle of several purposes has saved an immense amount of labor — and, one thing is certain, it cannot be kept in trim by a lubberly fellow. So, far from being unskilled, the general laborer on a farm is a man of many crafts.

The names bestowed on the yokel have been absurdly insulting. He has been termed a bumpkin, a clodhopper, a chaw-bacon and a hobbledehoy. Compared with these, the American hayseed seems almost polite. Now that the bumpkin has to be a mechanic and electrician these titles may be increasingly forgotten, as they deserve to be. Before farming was mechanized and the parish pump gushed petrol the great writers who came from the country did not think of its people as clods. Thomas Hardy's men of the dairies, the flocks, and the forest were not zanies with straws in their hair. In Shakespeare's Arden the shepherd Corin could hold his own in argument with Touchstone, late of the court, and crushed the quibbling clown with his final remark, "the greatest of my pride is to see my ewes graze and my lambs suck." To keep a flock in health and land in good heart may be yokel's work. If so, it honors that name.—London Times.

Action May Be Planned For Deserting Husbands

VICTORIA (CP) — The B.C. Legislature heard about deserting husbands, lotteries and many other things Monday and got the word from Attorney General Bonner that something is to be done about remuneration for jurors.

Mr. Bonner told the house during consideration of his estimates totalling $14,738,559—which eventually were passed — that he plans to introduce an amendment to the jury act.

He gave no details but did say it would involve "a variation in remuneration" to those who serve on juries. He said the legislation may also involve adjustment in the present system governing exemptions from jury duty.

The attorney general made the statement in response to questions from lawyer-member Gordon Dowding (NDP—Burnaby) who suggested the current jury pay of $8 a day be boosted to at least $15 a day. The present scale, Mr. Dowding said, imposes a hardship on many persons, particularly when trials become lengthy.

Mr. Bonner also told the house that paroled mental patient Charles Heathman, freed by the courts in the slaying of a Vernon newsboy whose murder he once admitted and then denied, has been located outside B.C. He said Heathman is under surveillance.

It was Mr. Dowding who also suggested that B.C follow Ontario's lead in setting up a team of investigators to track down deserting husbands. He said in Ontario 31 per cent of the errant spouses were being located through such a system. As a result more than 350 families had been taken off welfare rolls.

However, he got some disagreement from fellow party member Arthur Turner (NDP—Vancouver East). Mr. Turner said social workers tell him it is cheaper to give families social assistance than to track down missing husbands.

HOUSE GETS LAUGH

At this point the house got a laugh as Alan MacFarlane (L—Oak Bay) quipped: "Maybe we should make prospective husbands put up a performance bond."

Mr. Turner introduced the question of lotteries.

He said there was a "lot of self-righteous moralizing" on the question. He said Britain was "none the worse" for permitting lotteries and suggested the government should seek federal support for provincially-operated lotteries in this province.

"I think it will be an instant success,"he said.

There was no reaction from the attorney general.

David Barrett (NDP—Dewdney), social welfare spokesman for his party, said B.C. drug addicts are being denied a chance to break the habit at the time when opportunity for withdrawal is best. Addicts who tried to enter hospitals for rehabilitation were being refused.

Mr. Bonner said the federal treatment centre for addicts, while not a solution in itself, was "a step in the right direction." Ottawa was at least recognizing its responsibility.

INSURANCE DISCUSSED

Mr. Dowding also introduced the subject of car insurance and got from the attorney general a statement that he would study the member's allegations.

Mr. Dowding said that car insurance companies in B.C. are cancelling policies "under peculiar circumstances." Mr. Bonner asked him to furnish the attorney general's office with details of such cases.

Mr. Bonner, speaking as the province's industrial development minister, told the house that talks are under way with a federal official on closer B.C.-Ottawa cooperation in spurring economic development of the Fernie area, once a great coal producing region.

WOMAN DECISIVE

Liberal Leader Ray Perrault told the house the time is ripe for creation of a consumers' affairs office in the province. And he suggested that a woman should head the office since women made 80 per cent of the buying decisions.

Such an office, he said, could serve those who found themselves the victims of fraud but who were afraid to call in the police.

Mr. Bonner said his office already has a number of unassigned inspectors to deal with such complaints as fraud.

NDP Opposition leader Strachan suggested that the $35,000 limit on B.C.'s traffic victims indemnity fund should be raised. At present it did not begin to solve the problem since in one case alone the provincial supreme court had awarded a total of $97,703 in damages.

Mr. Bonner said he would like to examine the reasons for the court judgment which he termed "unusual."

Etonians Would Keep Caning

ETON (AP)—A sampling of students at Eton, one of Britain's most fashionable private schools, shows that fewer than one in four of the young gentlemen want flogging abolished.

A few lashes with a cane is standard punishment for wrongdoers at the school, training ground of Britain's social and political elite.

The school newspaper, the Eton Chronicle, reported that in a random sampling of 100 boys only 23 wanted the cane banned.

At Eton, the headmaster canes senior boys. The lower master pays it on junior boys. But some senior boys have the privilege of thrashing juniors who get out of line.

Income Tax for the Worker

By C. A. MILLER

There is one claim for dependants exemption that is made by many taxpayers each year, that is never allowed by the income tax department. This claim is for persons who are just visiting the taxpayer, and they usully are from another country. In some cases the taxpayer has paid his parents fare in order to get them over here. This is no way permits him to claim them as dependants even though the taxpayer supports them to the extent of board and lodging while they are with him.

In order to claim such visitors for dependants exemption, the taxpayer must have supported them before they arrived and again after they returned to their home. However if a taxpayer's parents came to Canada as immigrants, intending to make this country their permanent place of residence, but after a few months here, decided they did not like it and returned to their own country, then consideration might be given to the taxpayers claim for them on his return.

He must submit full details on a separate sheet of paper securely attached to the income tax form. In any case this should be done when parents are claimed for the first time. Most taxpayers err in not giving enough information on their returns and I am sure the income tax department never objects about getting too much.

Another point to remember when attempting to claim a visitor as a dependant is, that it is their income for the full year that governs and not just for the period they were here. If they were not dependent on the taxpayer before or after the visit their income must have been over $950 for the year. Over that amount, they are not dependants.

For personal replies pertaining to income tax problems, please enclose a self-addressed five cent stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin for each question you wish answered and mail to Mr. C. A. Miller, Daily News.

Question: My parents from Scotland visited me for 3 months in 1963. I supported them fully while they were here. Can I claim them for the period they were here? If so for how much?

Answer: You have no claim at all.

Question: My mother who resided in England, came to live with me in 1963. She stayed for 8 months but could not get used to Canada and returned to my brother back in England. When she came it was her intention to remain here. Can I claim her for exemption?

Answer: Yes. Claim $550 exemption.

Mystery Increased By Yacht Disappearance

By JOSEPH MacSWEEN

LONDON (CP)—The names Christine and Cheddington are linked in a mystery which, police have been told, holds the secret of a fabulous fortune from Britain's great train robbery.

What was the fate of the five-ton yacht Christine which sailed from Ramsgate just after midnight Jan. 2, taking at least one man to his death?

Did she carry bags-full of loot taken Aug. 8 when a Glasgow-London mail train was robbed of more than £2,600,000 at Cheddington?

Yes, says Edward Anderson, 32, Christine's owner, a handsome, devil-may-care character who once was chauffeur to actress Elizabeth Taylor.

Twenty persons now are on trial at Aylesbury in connection with the train robbery—the trial is in its fifth week—but as far as is known only £322,000 of the haul has been recovered.

NOT SATISFIED

Police are apparently not satisfied the Christine was carrying robbery money when she vanished.

One man who could solve the riddle—Dennis Bassett, 32, Anderson's friend and a Christine crew - member — is dead. His body in a lifejacket was washed ashore near Ostend, Belgium, Feb. 12.

Police have hinted that their enquiries into the death of Bassett — an inquest has been opened and adjourned—may reveal new information on the Christine mystery. Bassett's calendar watch had stopped at 1.27 p.m. the day after the yacht sailed.

The whole puzzle took a dramatic turn Sunday when Anderson, a garage manager by trade, said on television he had told his full story to Scotland Yard because he was "dead scared."

"If I hadn't jumped ship the night the Christine sailed I'd probably have ended up in the sea with Denny Bassett," said Anderson.

SAW £5 NOTES

Anderson said he had contracted for £5,000 to take two men to a channel rendezvous with another vessel but panicked when he recognized one of the men as wanted for the train robbery. He also saw a suitcase stuffed with £5 notes.

"When I told Denny Bassett about the money he said there was a million quid (pounds) from the train job on board," said Anderson.

Asked about Christine's whereabouts, Anderson said she may be at the bottom of the sea "or she could be in Tangiers."

One report says Ronald Verrier, Christine's former owner who had insured Anderson's life for £150,000 becaus eof his importance as a business associate, was told Jan. 1 the Christine was leaking badly.

Christine sailed on the midnight tide into a calm sea. At 5:17 a.m. flares were sighted. Were they distress flares or did Christine make her rendezvous?

Greek Army, Navy Ready for Trouble

ATHENS (Reuters) — The Greek navy Tuesday began manoeuvres in the Aegean Sea for the first time since the start of the current Cyprus crisis.

At the same time it was revealed Monday night the 3rd Army Corps in northern Greece with headquarters at Salonika was ready to meet any emergency.

The order to begin the manoeuvres in the tense Aegean Sea area came Monday as two Cypriot cabinet ministers arrived in Athens for talks with Premier George Papandreou on future moves for the strife-torn Mediterranean island.

Papandreou said Tuesday Greece's policy "aimed at peace but in case of aggression it will be defence."

He made the statement in reply to one by Turkish Premier Ismet Inonu questioning whether Papandreou had said Greece was ready to fight Turkey for Cyprus.

The Greek leader said he did not know how his policy of peace but defence if needed could be "construed as a provocation."

Greece, along with Britain and Turkey, is one of the island's guarantor powers under a 1960 constitution which granted Cyprus its independence.

A plan to amend the constitution by the Greek-Cypriot majority on the island touched off the current crisis. The minority Turkish-Cypriot community on the island felt the amendments would diminish their rights.

Street fighting between the two hostile communities before Christmas resulted in from 200 to 300 deaths on the island. An uneasy truce was gained Christmas Eve but sporadic communal fighting has flared since.

Defence Minister Petros Garouphalias said the naval manoeuvres—taking place off Crete and the island of Rhodes—were planned well in advance.

WITHHOLDS DETAILS

The defence minister declined to disclose the number of vessels involved.

Units of the American 6th Fleet and three Turkish submarines were taking part in joint manoeuvres in the North Aegean.

Since Christmas, Greek destroyers have been reported on patrol and "ready for action" in the Aegean between Crete and Rhodes.

The acting Cypriot foreign minister, Andreas Araouzos, and Cypriot Interior Minister Polycarpis Georghadis said on their arrival in Athens they would present the Greek premier with a message from Cypriot President Makarios.

They also said they would discuss with Papandreou a draft resolution on Cyprus by five non-members of the UN Security Council.

Today In History

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

March 4, 1964 . . .

Premier Ben-Gurion ordered withdrawal of Israeli forces from the Gaza strip and the Gulf of Aqaba in favor of a United Nations emergency force designed to police the Israel-Egypt border seven years ago today—in 1957. Gaza, which came under Egyptian control in 1948, was overrun by the Israelis in late 1956 when they invaded the Sinai peninsula. Israel justified its action by citing Egypt's blockade of Israeli shipping through the Suez Canal.

1923 — Canada and the U.S. signed a fisheries treaty, the first signed by Canada on her own behalf. Britain had signed previously.

1925—Premier Taschereau declined a Newfoundland offer to sell Labrador to Quebec for $30,000,000.

Interpreting the News

By ROD CURRIE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Now that the panic is over, East African leaders are gradually coming to grips with the unpleasant fact that they must rely on outside help to keep the peace.

The problem is: How much help and from what source?

Britain's Commonwealth Secretary Duncan Sandys, who flew to East Africa during the weekend, is charged with the delicate task of helping find some scheme politically acceptable to prime ministers Kenyatta of Kenya and Obote of Uganda and President Nyerere of Tanganyika.

So far, the three Africans seem undecided on what form of assistance they can accept graciously to offset any repetition of the mutinies among their own armed forces that recently almost toppled their governments.

It was a grave embarrassment, so soon after independence from Britain, for them to have to call in British troops to restore order. Now they are seeking the most painless way of guaranteeing security in a region that China's Chou En-Lai recently described as ripe for revolution.

MUST BE CAREFUL

Britain is anxious to help, but there is a limit to how far she can go in accepting responsibility without seeming to be helping keep a government in power by force.

Sandys, before leaving London, answered all questions with a curt "no comment." But it is believed he took with him the outline of a plan for some form of Commonwealth "fire brigade," a mobile force ready to go to any trouble spot.

The prerequisite, of course, is that any such force would have to be acceptable to the African countries. It would be a force drawn from all Commonwealth countries or one restricted to African countries alone.

The second would seem to be more acceptable to the Africans and it also would leave open the possibility of inviting more developed member countries to give technical assistance in training.

Prime Minister Douglas-Home has hinted at something along these lines in suggesting that Britain might consider stationing military missions in East Africa. Such training teams would operate in a capacity similar to British military instructors now in Ghana.

The plan East African leaders like most of all is one under which the Organization of African Unity would create an all-African force. But recent discussions on this at a conference in Laos were disappointing.

MADRID (AP)—Spanish police reported Tuesday they had smashed a ring that has been flooding Spain with cheap, home-blended liquor bearing labels of high-tone English and French liquor. Five arrests were reported.

Cancer Fund To Benefit From Job's Daughters Tea

The Cancer Clinic in Vancouver will benefit from a well-attended early spring tea held in the Church of the Redeemer parish hall Saturday by the Nelson Bethel International Order of Job's Daughters.

B.C. bethels have contributed $2163 to the cancer fund. Bethel No. 10, as do other bethels in B.C., contribute annually towards work of the cancer clinic and also donate toys for the children's ward in the clinic.

Tea tables were crowded during the whole afternoon. The serving table was centred with a floral arrangement in bethel colors, of white snapdragons, purple grapes and daffodils, flanked by white tapers in candelabra.

Individual tea tables were centered by symbols of the order.

Presiding at the tea table during the afternoon were Mrs. Stan Morris, past guardian; Mrs. Stewart Ross, Mrs. W. M. Young, Mrs. W. A. Manson, Mrs. J. J. McEwen, wife of the associate guardian, and Mrs. M. R. Smith, mother of the honored queen, Miss Cheryl Smith.

Miss Smith and Guardian Mrs. Wilton Allan received the guests. The Mothers' Club looked after the kitchen and members of the bethel acted as serviteurs.

Riondel Notes

RIONDEL — Mrs. Norman Bonnell has returned from a trip to Vancouver. While there, she visited relatives and former Riondel residents Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Linn, Mrs. M. Slaven and Frank Salviulo, the latter having been a hospital patient at the coast since New Year's.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Hallstrom and son, Don, motored to Salmon Arm on the weekend, where they attended the wedding of their eldest son, Flying Officer Ron Hallstrom to Miss Maureen Weber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Weber of Salmon Arm.

Recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Cormack were Mr. and Mrs. Robb Raulston of Cranbrook.

Procter Notes

PROCTER — Mrs. Max Paulhus has returned to her home in Procter after an absence of eight weeks.

She travelled as far as Montreal by train, continuing her journey to England by plane, her first trip home in 14 years. She participated in a family reunion with her mother and family. There were 42 members of the family attending the reunion at Highgate, Holloway. While there, she also visited Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Stemp and Mr. and Mrs. E. Volier in Surrey. En route home she visited St. Joseph's Shrine in Montreal before continuing on home by train and bus to Procter.

A whist drive sponsored by the Procter Community Hall Society was held recently with eight tables in play. First prizes were won by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brady and Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Carroll. The consolation prizes were won by Mr. and Mrs. Nick Dosenberger and Mr. and Mrs. Pete Iwanik.

A successful bingo sponsored by the ladies of the Altar Society of Sacred Heart Church in Procter was held recently at the Procter Hall. It was well attended by people of the community. Rev. J. Boyle thanked the men who handled the bingo. Refreshments were served.

Teenagers of Procter have formed a drama club under the sponsorship of Mrs. Cy Fitchett and Mrs. Albert Ogden. The executive is: president, Gordon Fitchett; vice-president, Barry Brassington; secretary-treasurer, Georgia Sokoloski. They will be known as the Procter Masqueraders. The 20 members meet each Tuesday evening to read plays and to try out small skits. They hope to find a suitable play to produce after Easter.

START JFK FUND

DALLAS (AP) — Southern Methodist University students have started a John F. Kennedy memorial scholarship fund for children of policemen and firemen killed on duty. About $80,000 is already in the fund. President Kennedy was assassinated in Dallas Nov. 22. Lee Harvey Oswald, the alleged assassin, was also charged with slaying Dallas policeman J. D. Tippit the same afternoon.

IMPORT FROM ITALY — Gino Paoli of Italy designed this dress on easy lines that mold the figure in a most flattering way. The frock is made of woolknit and comes in a wide choice of spring flower colors. It is sleeveless with a slightly flared skirt and a back zipper closing. A silk organza shawl collar, edged with silk posies, adds a fresh, feminine look.

Mrs. Hope Takes Chicago Spotlight

CHICAGO (AP) — Mrs. Dolores Hope was honored as Notre Dame University's "Chicago Lady of the Year" Monday night, but when the time came to make a response, she turned to her well-known husband and asked: "Well, where's my response?"

A beaming Bob Hope then took the floor and responsed —for 30 minutes.

The Hopes were guests of the Chicago Alumni Club of Notre Dame, which opened a $20,000,000 drive for a development program at the South Bend, Ind., campus.

Hope joined the laughter when Mrs. Hope was asked what it was like having such a famous husband.

"I really don't know," the soft-spoken Mrs. Hope replied. "He's the only husband I've ever had and I can make no comparisons."

GOT ANGRY ONCE

Hope, casting a glance at his wife of 30 years, told of the only time he was angry with her: "The morning I came downstairs for breakfast and found her sitting in my spotlight."

The citation lauded Mrs. Hope for "graciously accepting and playing an outstanding lifetime role of devoted wife and mother, for her distinguished efforts in many charities . . . for exemplifying the ideals of a dedicated Catholic woman."

Before the evening ended, a telegram was received from the Hopes' four adopted children: Anthony, 24; Linda, 23; Nora, 17; and Kelly, 16.

"We thank you," the telegram said, "for recognizing what we have known all along."

Hope had no response. He just smiled.

Kaslo Notes

KASLO—Miss Karen Surina, popular bride-elect whose marriage to George Nelson takes place this month, was recently feted at a miscellaneous shower at "The Lodge," with Mrs. Joanne Beurge, Mrs. Lynne Siebert and Miss Barbara Hewat as co-hostesses.

The guest-of-honor was the recipient of many gifts, presented in a pink-and-white decorated umbrella. Games and contests were enjoyed, followed by refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. O'Neail of Slocan City were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. N. Miller. Mrs. O'Neail has just been advised that her book "Doukhobor Daze" has attained "best-seller" status.

Rev. Father Hearne of Willow Point conducted morning services at St. Mark's Anglican Church in Kaslo on Sunday.

Toronto Teachers Say

Overcooking Often Fault of Canadians

By JEAN SHARP

TORONTO (CP) — A reform school for cooks is being run by two Toronto housewives. It's called the School of International Cooking.

"We're not teaching our pupils recipes, we're teaching them to cook and they don't even know it," says the school's founder, Mrs. Benjamin Seton, wife of a Toronto real estate man.

"We send them out of our classes changing daily cooking habits they've been using for 20 years," says her partner, Mrs. Benjamin Geneen, a psychiatrist's wife.

Mrs. Seton is a Canadian-born woman who has been food-conscious most of her life. Her father, in the meat business, loved to cook. The school began when she agreed to teach some of her friends and their daughters how to cook.

Mrs. Geneen, who came here from Scotland eight years ago, married into a Scottish hotel family. While her husband was in the services during the Second World War she took cooking lessons from hotel chefs and went on to classes at the famed Cordon Bleu school in London.

COOK TOO LONG

"We've felt cooking should be creative for women because they have to do it," says Mrs. Seton. "An ordinary dish can become an extraordinary dish. Cooking is an art, not an occupation."

They agree that overcooking is a common Canadian fault and in class they spice recipe instructions with general hints. Mushrooms should be cooked four minutes. Vegetables should be cooked briefly in water at a rolling boil. The water should be saved for stock, because everything else should be cooked in stock, never in water. Water is for washing.

Pan-fried meats should be cooked one piece at a time and the pan allowed to come back up to proper cooking temperature before each new piece goes in.

They never forget why they're cooking. They urge pupils always to set the table attractively. For entertaining, the teachers are anti-buffet. "We encourage small, frequent dinner parties with hot food. "The smell catches the nostrils, opens the pores and sharpens the mind," says Mrs. Geneen.

"You never know what good conversation is in people until you get them around a table," says Mrs. Seton.

Coaxing the family to try something new should be no problem. "Often husbands have tried specialties in restaurants but are scared to suggest them at home because they think they take hours to cook," says Mrs. Seton. "But they also think things taste better outside. Gourmet cooking is not exotic and difficult, it's the result of care. The palate has to be developed as well as any other instinct."

BUILD SEASONING

"If the family is shy about new seasonings, use a minimum amount, say, half a teaspoon of curry when the recipe calls for a teaspoon," Mrs. Geneen advises. "Start small and learn to increase. And don't be afraid to alter recipes when you find spices you like, and the amounts that taste best to you.

"Actually, we find our pupils often say new spices don't seem to have enough taste. Their palates aren't educated yet. I think hot dogs, and ketchup which is a staple item here, have given Canadians a taste for high spices. That's one reason Italian food is so popular."

The teachers want their pupils to try new foods when they eat out, but Mrs. Geneen says:

"There is a food for houses and food for restaurants, and people shouldn't mix the two. Any food such as roast beef, which should go from the oven straight to the table, should be eaten at home. In a restaurant it stands on the steam table."

"Made to order foods which you have to wait for, or soups and sauces which need time to be at their best, are restaurant foods," says Mrs. Seton. "Good restaurants have stock pots which make fine soups."

All Round Cord Among Awar Made at Riondel Guide Banque

RIONDEL — The annual girl guide and brownie "mother and daughter" banquet was held in the Bluebell Recreation Hall, with over 100 attending.

Tables were decorated in the guide and brownie colors and the place cards made by the guides.

The "color party" of Carrie Sarver, Diane Colman and Brenda Johnson brought in the flag, and after the singing of "O Canada", Grace was said by Guider June Colman.

The dinner of spaghetti and meat balls and salads was prepared by Danny and Anna Marchiori.

The welcoming address and introduction of the guest speaker, Mrs. H. Haverstock of Crawford Bay, was made by the Riondel guide captain, Mrs. Gladys Szczerba, who also introduced the guests at the head table.

Toast to the Queen was given by Maureen Bothamley; to the mothers by Harriet Waltels; to the daughters by Mrs. Karl Pompu; and to the Guide Movement by Patsy Nelson.

Mrs. Haverstock, who is the district commissioner, spoke on "Thinking Day", the joint birthday of Lord and Lady Baden-Powell which is celebrated February 22. She reminded everyone that it is that day when girl guides, brownies, scouts and cubs throughout the world think of one another, and the true meaning of world sisterhood and brotherhood. Thinking Day provides the opportunity to stimulate interest in World Guiding by holding banquets, ceremonies, open meetings and church parades. Guides and brownies throughout the world make the same promise and obey the same 10 laws.

On behalf of the Riondel guides, June Colman presented Mrs. Haverstock with the Thinking Day pennies, which will go into the Canadian Friendship Fund.

Brownie badges were presented by Mrs. Haverstock to the following girls:

First year star — Christine McKenzie, Audrey Christensen, Sheila McKinley and Susan Rae; second year star — Susan Downing, Karen Brown and Mary Jean Comfort; golden hand badges — Joan Wachter and Maureen Bothamley; golden bar — Jill Gold, Sheila McKinley, Shirley Dortman, Audrey Christensen, Christine McKenzie, Susan Rae and Carol Szczerba.

Before the presentation of badges to the guides, Captain Szczerza thanked all those who made it possible for the girls to receive the badges.

B.C. Wins Two More

By MARVEN MOSS

CHARLOTTETOWN (CP) — British Columbia's Lyall Dagg bowed up the soft touch of Newfoundland 15-6 and shaded Polybank's tough Northern Ontario rink 10-8 Tuesday, parlaying an unbeaten string into a lead after four rounds in the Canadian curling championship.

The Richardson rink from Saskatchewan, four-time winner of the round-robin bonspiel, followed with a 3-0 mark, upending host Prince Edward Island 12-9 after drawing a third-round bye. With 11 entries, one rink is idle each round.

Polybank won his first two starts before running into the classy crew from the Pacific Coast. His Kirkland Lake rink edged New Brunswick 11-9 in the morning third round.

Art Burke's young Charlottetown foursome, averaging 25 years in age, was bracketed with Manitoba, Ontario and Nova Scotia at the 2-2 win-loss level.

Burke, tied with the Richardsons and Dagg with a pair of wins after the opening two rounds, was set back 8-7 by Quebec in morning play.

MANN ILL

Winnipeg's Bruce Hudson—he was born in 1928, the year his father won the first of two national championships for Manitoba—overpowered the ailing Bob Mann of Ontario 11-5 in the afternoon after knocking off the Ron Northcott Calgary rink 11-8 in the third round.

Northcott bounded back to crush Quebec 15-8 in the afternoon for Alberta's first win in four starts.

Nova Scotia meanwhile gave Newfoundland defeat No. 4 with a 12-6 win in the afternoon after bowing 9-5 to Ontario in the morning. Mann later developed stomach flu and his game suffered against Hudson.

Dagg, 34, the public relations director for a paper company in Vancouver, preserved the win over Polyblank with a superb toss on his last stone, a draw for shot rock.

He said the ice turned heavy halfway through the game and it "gave us a little trouble but we curled well nonetheless."

The Richardsons, under skip Ernie, were extended for the first time in the competition, overcoming a 6-2 cushion Burke piled up in the opening five ends.

CHANGES STYLE

Ernie switched to a draw game from the traditional knockout style most of the top rinks use and it seemed to unsettle the boys from the island.

Saskatchewan tied things up with a four-count in the eighth end, fell one back in the ninth and then pushed in front with a three on the 10th.

Two rounds are set for today. The first, starting at 3 p.m., gives Prince Edward Island the bye and sends Dagg against New Brunswick, the Richardsons against Alberta, Manitoba against Newfoundland, Polyblank against Nova Scotia and Mann against Quebec.

Dagg gets his bye in the second, starting at 8 p.m. Saskatchewan goes against Ontario, Northern Ontario against Manitoba, Prince Edward Island against Alberta, Quebec against Newfoundland and Nova Scotia against New Brunswick.

Saskatchewan and British Columbia meet in the 10th round Friday, the final day of the spiel.

Canadian curling championship standings after four rounds:

Maroons Score Third Victory

LAUSANNE (CP) — Winnipeg Maroons Tuesday night scored their third triumph of a 12-game exhibition hockey tour of Europe as they slipped by a team of Canadians coaching in Switzerland 6-5.

They earlier scored 10-1 and 8-2 victories over the German national champion team from Krefeld.

It was the same team that held Canada's Olympic squad to a 4-4 exhibition tie prior to the Winter Olympic Games, except that Winnipeg's Gerry James, who coaches at Davos, was not in action.

Fred Denny scored two goals to pace the coaches.

Maroons spread their goals among Ross Parke, Murray Couch, Aggie Kukulowicz, Elliott Chorley, Ron Farnfield and Lorne Davis, picked up for the tour from Regina Caps of the Saskatchewan Senior League.

Notre Dame Sports

NDU Pups had a wonderful time in Calgary over the weekend even though the Mount Royal College Cougars were the victors in the two-game exhibition match.

Friday's game ended 71-60 in favor of the Cougars with Doug Flynn making 24 of NDU's points. On Saturday, the Pups were defeated by 79-58 with Doug again bringing in 24 points.

Others making the trip were Max Gordon, Les. Jenson, Gerry Bell, Pete Olinger, Butch Berdusco, Bill Duff, Alan Meldicott and Silvano Duregon.

We aren't looking for excuses, but the Calgary boys did outstretch us by quite a bit. We had four boys over six feet tall, and they had eight six feet and over. Ken Baker, 6 foot 8, and Brian Wiseman, 6 foot 6, really made our boys look up.

Statistics for the two games in order of:

Shots taken, NDU 72, MRC 78.
Shots made, NDU 22, MRC 28.
Percentage, NDU 29.3, MRC 35.9.
Foul shots, NDU 25, MRC 38.
Fouls made NDU 14, MRC 22.
Percentage NDU 56, MRC 53.

Pups resume the playoffs in the Senior Men's basketball League Wednesday night with a home game with Castlegar. Two games to one behind, the Pups will have to win one to have a chance at the title.

Dynamiters, Tribe Take Openers

Betker Blanks Leafs; Martin Back in Net

KIMBERLEY (Special to the Daily News)—It snowed rubber in the Kimberley Arena Tuesday night but veteran Earl Betker proved to be more than capable of handling it as Kimberley Dynamiters whitewashed Nelson Maple Leafs 5-0 before 900 fans.

The veteran goaltender kicked out 49 shots, 22 in the first period, as the Dynamiters took the opener of their best-of-five Western International Hockey League semi-final behind the sticks of their second string.

The second game of the series will be played in Nelson Thursday night.

Second stringers Wally Sauter, Dick Vincent and Chuck Passmore scored the first three goals to give Kimberley 1-0, 3-0 first and second period leads.

Don White and Bill Taylor clinched the humiliation with two markers at the midway mark of the third period.

It was all Betker in the first period as territorial play gave the edge to the Leafs. Nelson's hottest sniper, Doug Kilburn, had several good chances but was unable to beat Betker, who was the master of the moment.

Kilburn had Nelson's closest scoring chance when his shot hit the crossbar in the second period.

Hugh Hooker sprang Passmore loose with a pass to centre from his own zone. The big winger cut to the side then knifed in, beating Adams with a bullet shot to the near side between the pads and the post.

Nelson continued to apply pressure in the second but Dynamiters started to roll. Vincent took a pass behind the Leaf net and hooked the puck around the goalpost for a marker. The play appeared to take the edge off the Leaf attack.

Sauter then delighted the fans by stickhandling through Bobby Kromm, and Harry Smith twice, to blast the rubber by Adams.

At 10:31 of the third White fanned on his shot, but the toe of his stick ticked the puck and it dribbled by a frustrated Adams. Seventy-four seconds later Bill Taylor's persistence paid off as he duplicated Vincent's goal by sheer obstinacy.

Referee Doug Kerreghan levied 17 minor penalties, nine to the Leafs.

Lineups:

Nelson — Goal: Adams; defence: Smith, Severyn, Stewart, Carlson, Gare; forwards: Durkin, Laughton, Kromm, Dimich, Hornby, Kilburn, Calles, Koehle, Maglio.

Kimberley—Goal: Betker; defence: Gallamore, Hooker, Taylor, Steenson, Gibson; forwards: Beattie, Peacosh, Sauter, King, Passmore, White, Lilley, Vincent, Manchester.

Officials—Referee, Kerreghan; linesmen: Johannson and Mellor.

SUMMARY

First period — 1. Kimberley, Passmore (Hooker) 2:03.

Penalties—Gibson, Smith, 3:10; Gibson, 6:48; Stewart, 12:38; Hooker, 14:15; Kilburn, 19:59.

Second period—2. Kimberley, Vincent (Hooker) 16:26; 3. Kimberley, Sauter, 19:03.

Penalties — Manchester, 6:05; Koehle, 14:32; Gare (double minor) 19:59; Peacosh, 19:59.

Third period — 4. Kimberley, White (Manchester, Sauter) 10:31; 5. Kimberley, Taylor, 11:45.

EARL BETKER
. . . Kicks out 49.

ROSSLAND (Special to Daily News- — Goaltender Seth Martin made a surprise return to the cage of the Rossland Warriors Tuesday night and the Tribe were once again world beaters as they stunned Spokane Jets 4-3 before 500 fans.

Martin appeared shaky, showing the effects of his long layoff due to an injured knee, but Warriors were out for blood as they dominated the action of the first of best of five WIHL semi-final. The second game is to be played in Rossland Thursday.

THERE IN PINCHES

Martin appeared to be favoring his injured leg but he came up with the big save when it was needed. Shortly after Pinoke McIntyre scored the winner, gunner Ching Johnson broke in alone on Martin. The veteran pro tried to "deke" Martin but the goalie managed to nudge the puck with the end of his stick to foil Johnson's play.

Rossland opened with a roar, making a complete shambles of the Spokane attack in the first period, allowing only three shots on Martin but still had to settle for a 1-1 tie. Spokane played its best hockey of the night and held a 3-2 lead after the middle frame.

Other Rossland scorers were Ed Legare, Dave Rusnell and Bill Martin. Don McGowan, G. Turlik and Vince Collins replied for the visitors.

McIntyre converted a long air borne pass into the winner. The forward knocked the disc down and with two Jets draped over him fired a high blast to the corner.

McIntyre's marker was the result of prolonged pressure by Warriors, who hit the goal post several times.

Turlik scored on the first shot at Martin as the puck slipped between the netminder's pads. Legare tipped in Andrews' pass while streaking across the goal mouth to knot the count 1-1.

McGowan's slapshot and Collins' shot, richocheting off the end of the goalie's stick, gave Spokane a 3-1 lead. Rusnell on his third attempt in a scramble cut the margin to one goal and Martin tipped in the disc in a scramble early in the third to deadlock the score once again.

Lineups:

Spokane: goal, Kuntz; defence, McGowan, McDonald, Collins, McDougald, forwards, Gibson, Morneau, Kenny, Turlik, Goodwin, Bahr, Nadeau, Bodman, Johnson.

Rossland: goal, Martin; defence, Hamilton, Gallamore, Andrews, Paolone; forwards, B Martin, Godfrey, Davis, Legare. Demore, Jones, Brennen, Rusnell, McIntyre, Reid.

Officials—Referee Sammartino; linesmen Mailey, Waddell.

Summary:

1. Spokane, Turlik (McGowan- 1:13; 2. Rossland, Legare, (Martin, Andrews) 4:04.

Penalties: Nadeau 2:21, Gallamore 5:00, Paolone, Turlik 6:35, Bahr 7:32, Legare 11:05.

Second period — 3. Spokane, McGowan 2:06; 4. Spokane, Collins (Turlik, Johnson) 7:20; 5. Rossland, Rusnell (Paolone, Davis) 10:26,

Penalties—Bodman 3:38, Gallamore 11:33.

Third period—6. Rossland, Martin (Andrews, Godfrey) 4:03 7. Rossland, McIntyre 17:30.

Wings Shade Leafs In Playoffs' Chase

DETROIT (CP)—Parker MacDonald put in a Gordie Howe passout with 5:35 to play to give Detroit Red Wings a 3-2 victory over Toronto Maple Leafs in a National Hockey League game Tuesday night.

The victory tightened the race for third place and virtually assured the Red Wings of making the Stanley Cup playoffs.

Detroit is three points behind the third-place Leafs, who have a game in hand, and 12 points ahead of fifth-place New York.

Bruce MacGregor and Floyd Smith provided early one-goal leads for Detroit but the Wings couldn't hold them.

George Armstrong matched MacGregor's goal and then Ron Stewart, on a setup from Dave Keon while killing a penalty, scored with 45 seconds left in the second period to make it 2-2.

It was the second straight game in which the Howe-MacDonald combination paid off for the Wings. MacDonald scored with less than five minutes of play Sunday on a Howe pass for a tie with New York.

RESTS BOWER

Don Simmons was in goal for the Leafs for the second straight game as manager-coach Punch Imlach rested Johnny Bower for the playoffs.

But Imlach indicated before the game that Bower will return Wednesday when the Leafs host Boston. Toronto has lost two straight with Simmons in goal.

Canadian Horse Wins Flamingo

MIAMI (AP) — Canadian-bred Northern Dancer came home two lengths in front in the $138,000 Flamingo Stakes Tuesday, with Mr. Brick second and Quadrangle third in the first major test for derby-age colts in the eastern United States.

Journalist finished fourth and second-choice Roman Brother came home in a dead heat for fifth place with Dandy K. in the field of 11.

Northern Dancer was even-money choice with the crowd of 32,944. The muscular bay paid $4, $3.20 and $3. Mr. Brick returned $6.40 and $5 and Quadrangle $5.60.

Northern Dancer, bred and owned by E. P. Taylor's Windfields Farm of Toronto, ran the 1⅛ miles in 1:47 4-5, only four-fifths of a second off the Flamingo and track record set by Bold Ruler in 1957.

The fractions were 22 4-5, 45 3-5, 1:09 2-5 and 1:34 3-5.

Mr. Brick, owned by Robert Sturgis of Malvern, Ark., was first out of the gate and jockey Walter Blum kept him in front until Northern Dancer turned on the steam at the top of the home stretch.

Cougars Fall To Warriors

Warriors thumped Cougars 6-1 to win their best of three Bantam hockey semi-final two games to none.

Warriors now meet the winners of the Eagles-Royals semi-final.

M. Heuston with three and G. Frocklage with two paced the winners. J. Stinson scored the other Warrior goal. Arishenkoff replied for the losers.

Despite Record Pace, Hawks Underdogs

MONTREAL (CP)—It's going to be the best year for a Chicago Black Hawks team in National Hockey League history, but the tribe from the Windy City may still retain the dubious distinction of being the only team that has never won the NHL pennant.

The Hawks set a team record of 33 victories with Sunday's 4-3 win over Montreal and are nearing the club mark of 81 points in one season, a milestone they reached last season when they scored 32 victories, the previous high. The Hawks have 77 points to date, four short of their record with seven games to play.

The remainder of the 70-game schedule, however, still favors the Canadiens in their battle with the Hawks for the NHL title.

Both teams have 77 points, but Montreal has played only 61 games and the Hawks have played 63. Furthermore, Canadiens play five of the nine games at home while the Hawks are on the road to five of their seven remaining contests.

WINGS CHASING LEAFS

Although Toronto seems out of the first place picture, 13 points behind with 10 games to play, there still is a reasonable amount of doubt surrounding third place. The Leafs now are looking over their shoulders at fourth place Detroit, five points behind with nine games to go.

And, in turn, Detroit still is being followed by playoff-hungry New York, still hopeful of closing a 10-point gap in their last nine games.

The parade doesn't end there. Boston can still overtake the Rangers by erasing the seven-point difference in their last eight games.

Stan Mikita has opened up a six-point lead in the NHL individual scoring race. His 80 points are three better than his best previous output and within four of tying a team record.

PICKS UP FIVE POINTS

He scored one goal and earned four assists last week for a total of 34 goals and 46 assists. Teammate Bobby Hull is second with 74 points on 37 goals, a league high, and 37 assists. Montreal's Jean Beliveau follows with 71.

Glen Hall, the cool goaltender for the Hawks, still holds a slight edge in the Vezina Trophy race, awarded to the regular netminder on the team that allows the fewest goals.

The Hawks have given up 146, the same number as Montreal. But the Canadiens have played two games less than Chicago and Charlie Hodge will have to make up the difference somewhere along the line to keep pace.

Vic Hadfield of New York has taken over the leadership in penalties from Mikita. The Ranger roughie has 143 minutes to Mikita's 138. Chicago is the most penalized team with 1,032 minutes—40 minutes short of a record they already own and appear destined to break.

The leaders:

| | G | A | Pts. | PiM |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Mikita, Chi | 34 | 46 | 80 | 138 |
| Hull, Chi | 37 | 37 | 74 | 46 |

MARKET TRENDS

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market advanced Tuesday to new peaks. Trading was active.

It was the third straight session in which the Dow Jones industrial average closed above the once-elusive 800 level. Dow Jones rose 2.97 to 805.72.

Selective strength in blue chips accounted for the gain in the average. The over-all market showed only an irregular rise.

Du Pont gained 2⅜, American Telephone 1½, General Motors 1.

The advance was accompanied by generally bullish news. The consumer price index was reported at a record high in January. Construction spending in February edged above January spending, the U.S. government estimated. Auto assemblies in February were well ahead of the February 1963 total.

Volume was a brisk 5,570,000 shares compared with 5,700,000 Monday.

Of 1,322 issues traded, 557 advanced and 495 declined.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose .5 to a new high of 299.1.

Chrysler was the most active stock for the second straight day, rising ½ to 45¾ on 254,400 shares.

Among Canadian issues traded, Distillers Seagrams gained ⅞, Walker Gooderham ⅝, McIntyre Porcupine ¾, Aluminium Ltd., and Canadian Pacific ⅜ and Hudson Bay Mining ⅛. Granby Mining fell ½ and Dome Mines ¼.

Prices on the American Exchange were irregularly lower with Canadian issues closing mixed. Canadian Marconi gained ⅛ and Molybdenite 1-16. Scurry Rainbow Oil fell ¼ and Canadian Javelin ⅛.

TORONTO (CP)—The stock market continued in its upward trend Tuesday, but trading generally was only moderate.

Steels and chemical issues paced the industrial rise, Algoma ahead ¼ and Dominion Foundries and Steel and Steel Company of Canada ⅛ each among the former, while CIL rose ½ and Chemcell and Du Pont ¼ each among the latter.

Banks softened, Toronto - Dominion down ½, Montreal ⅜ and Imperial Bank of Commerce and Royal ¼.

Among selected issues, Interprovincial Pipe Lines advanced 1¼ to 82½, Distillers-Seagrams ¾ and Massey - Ferguson ½ while Bell Phone fell 1¼ to 52½ on a turnover of more than 18,000 shares.

Geco Mines gained ⅞, Falconbridge ½ and Noranda ⅜ among leading base metals. Bethlehem Copper was ahead 15 cents to $6.80 among junior metals.

Trading was light in the speculative sector. Maritime was the most active stock with a turnover of 116,650 shares, up five cents to 72 cents. Consolidated Marbenor rose seven cents to 92 cents.

Calgary and Edmonton Corp. and Hudson Bay Oil and Gas both advanced ⅛ in senior western oils.

On index the exchange index moved ahead .35 to 131.94, industrials .37 to 140.76, western oils .14 to 82.42, base metals .08 to 64.76 and golds slipped .01 to 134.89. Volume for the day was 3,343,000 shares compared with 3,997,000 Monday.

MONTREAL (CP) — For the second day in a row prices were substantially higher at the close of the Montreal and Canadian stock exchanges.

The composite index rose 0.6 to 132.1 Tuesday. Advances led declines 94 to 73.

A flurry of activity near the close boosted the Montreal Exchange to fairly active trade, but trade on the Canadian Exchange remained moderate. Industrials handled 194,300 shares and mines and oils 796,200 shares.

Industrials rose 1.1 to 136.2. CIL rose 1¼, Dominion Textile ⅜, Canada Cement, Chemcell and Southam ¼ each. Asbestos and Dominion Glass dropped ⅛ each.

Papers also reported widespread gains, rising 1.0 to 121.5. Fraser rose ½ and B.C. Forest ⅜.

Utilities were off 0.8 at 122.4. Bell Telephone dropped 1½ and Trans Mountain Pipe Line ⅛. Interprovincial Pipe Line rose 1⅛, CPR ¾ and Maritime Telegraph and Telephone ⅝.

Banks dropped 0.6 to 119.6. Montreal and Nova Scotia dropped ½ each and Royal ⅜.

In senior base metals International Nickel rose ½ and Falconbridge ¼. Hudson Bay Mining dropped ⅛.

Among the oils Imperial rose ⅜ and BA ⅛. Pacific Petroleum and Shell dropped ¼ each.

In speculative mines on the Canadian Exchange Black Hawk rose five cents, Dumont Nickel and Ghislau three cents each.

Stairs Exploration and Transterre dropped four cents each and Futurity and McKinney two cents each.

Your Individual Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars,

For Thursday, March 5, 1964

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) — If you got something mixed up or made a real error lately, now is the time for rectifying. Review with an eye to complete betterment. A good day for going forward.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus) — Neither force nor laxity will help you to attain, but painstaking effort Will. Do not expect returns too soon but do keep the ball rolling as it should.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini) — It may be exciting to think about the "next thing to do," but be careful not to neglect or cut corners in present work, tasks. Emphasize your fine sense of responsibility.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer) — Do not let a flatterer's words cause you to forget someone less outspoken, nor a glamorous description or display turn your mind from the solid, real things. Keep true values in mind.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo) — Being a natural leader, others look to you for guidance, stimulus. Supply it generously. They will be grateful and you will reap representative reward.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — If you cannot accomplish in one way, you can in another. Remember, the many feats you have achieved, the records you have broken, which you thought impossible in the past.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra) — A sense of responsibility and good judgment will be important now. Know what is expected of you, but do not take on everything asked—only what you should, and can do in the time available.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 22 (Scorpio) — Voluntary effort in all worthwhile areas will be highly appreciated, but make only promises you can keep. Avoid hectic activities, arguments. Go forward with poise.

NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius) — Regrets will not change what has already happened, but digging in with added incentive and renewed zest will help keep spirits bright and make your way easier.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn) — Be careful in both wirtten and spoken word, and handle finaces, big or small, with system and the future in mind. Hold firm to high principles.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius) — There will be more to obligations now than simply going about matters "as usual." There will be unusual items added, different people involved, more to be considered. Keep alert through all.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces) — Note Aquarius; your outlook similar. Be eager for new activities or projects, but do not drop one that deserves continued attention.

YOU BORN TODAY are roundly capable but sometimes supersensitive; are able to do big jobs in a big way, yet may hesitate for fear of criticism or failure. Many artists, milliners, dressmakers, designers, and tailors were born in this Sign; also clever business executives who put in long hours diligently.

BOSTON (AP)—The John F. Kennedy Memorial library fund is nearing $2,000,000 the New England Merchants National Bank said Monday. The bank, which is administering the fund for the $10,000,000 library to be built on the Harvard campus, said the public contributed $1,200,000 during February.

Sino-Indian Truce Possible Suggests Red China Paper

By ADAM KELLETT-LONG

PEKING (Reuters) — The main Chinese Communist newspaper, The Peoples Daily, said Tuesday a settlement of the Sino-Indian border dispute is possible "if the Indian side agrees to return without any preconditions, to the conference table."

The paper was commenting in an editorial assessing results of Premier Chou En-lai's recent visits to Burma, Pakistan and Ceylon, following a tour of 10 African countries and Albania.

Diplomatic observers here said it appeared the deadlock on Sino-Indian negotiations had not been removed as a result of Chou's talks with Asian leaders and China was maintaining the position it has held for more than a year.

Ceylonese Prime Minister Mrs. Sirimavo Bandaranaike initiated a Colombo conference of six Afro-Asian nations which met in 1962 in a bid to mediate in the Sino - Indian dispute. Burma was one of the participating countries.

PROPOSALS BLOCK TALKS

Differing Chinese and Indian attitudes to proposals formulated by the Colombo conference have become the main public stumbling-block to negotiations.

Indian holds that it has accepted the proposals in whole and insists China do the same before any negotiations can begin.

China insists both sides have differing interpretations of the proposals and these can only be discussed during negotiations using the proposals as a basis.

It claims India's attitude amounts to imposing the "preconditions" mentioned in today's editorial.

China also says it has carried out or surpassed all the provisions of the Colombo proposals except one key sub-paragraph which would permit India to establish joint police posts with China in a 20-kilometre (about 12 miles) demilitarized zone on the Chinese side of the ceasefire line between Ladakh and Sinkiang on the western sector of the border.

Canada New Manchuria For Japan

VANCOUVER (CP) — Canada is in an economic sense a new Manchuria for Japan, Howard Mitchell, president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, said Monday.

In an address to an Associated Chambers of Commerce meeting he noted the growing Japanese interest in such things as Canadian pulp and paper and coal, and said:

"There is scarcely any segment of the Western Canadian economy that is not stimulated by this entry of Japan increasingly into our economic zone.

"We, in a sense, are the new Manchuria for Japan."

He said that British Columbia could devote from eight to ten pulp mills on its coast simply to satisfying the Japanese market should Japan's per capita consumption of paper ever reach North American or British standards.

No Technical Failure Seen On Airliner

INNSBRUCK (Reuters) — A preliminary report on the crash of a British airliner Saturday in which 83 persons died found no indication of a technical failure in the plane, a joint Austrian - British inquiry commission announced Tuesday.

A spokesman for the commission told a press conference the final report on the crash may not be completed for several months.

He said the British Eagle Airways Britannia airliner smashed into a vertical rock face about 8,600 feet up Glungezer Mountain at between 185 and 250 miles an hour.

Detailed study of instruments found at the scene showed the plane must have been flying on instruments because of weather conditions at the moment of impact.

The Britannia was carrying 75 passengers from London to a winter sports vacation in the Tyrol.

The preliminary finding said medical evidence showed all aboard were killed instantly.

MINDEN, Nev. (AP)—Workers began the grim task Tuesday of recovering and identifying 85 Lake Tahoe plane - crash victims as this tiny western Nevada town opened its doors and kitchens to relatives of the dead.

The 81 passengers and four crew members died Sunday in the crash of a Paradise Airlines Constellation against a lofty, snow - covered peak on a flight scheduled from San Jose, Calif., to the gambling and winter sports centre on the south shore of Lake Tahoe.

Their bodies, guarded through the night by two deputy sheriffs, were to be brought to an improvised morgue at this community of 550 residents.

Relatives and friends of the victims, who will help the FBI in identifying the bodies, thronged into Minden, six miles east of the crash site and seven miles south of Carson city, the state capital.

Federal Aviation Agency and Civil Aeronautics Board investigators were to examine the crash scene in their attempt to learn why the plane crashed.

Grand Falconer Dies At 89

CORK, England (Reuters)—The 12th Duke of St. Albans, 89-year-old holder of the rare royal office of the hereditary grand falconer of England, died at his family home near this Lancashire community Tuesday.

The duke, Osborne de Vere Beauclerk, also was the hereditary registrar of the court of chancery. Both appointments date from Stuart times in the 17th century.

The duke served in the Boer War in South Africa and in the First World War. He was attached to a home guard unit during the Second World War.

His wife, the former Lady Beatrix Frances Fitzmaurice whom he married in 1918, died in 1953.

Urge Opera To Perform At '67 Fair

VIENNA (CP)—Touring Canadian officials Tuesday called on the Vienna State Opera Company to arrange a series of performances during the 1967 world's fair in Montreal.

Pierre Dupuy, commissioner-general of the exhibition, and his executive assistant Gerard Bertrand, talked with Dr. Egon Hilbert, administrative co-director of the famed opera company.

Dupuy and Bertrand later lunched with Eng Sallinger, president of the Austrian Federal Chamber of Commerce, and discussed Austria's participation in the exhibition.

Monday the Canadian officials called on the Austrian foreign minister, Dr. Bruno Kreisky.

The Canadian emissaries came to Vienna after a three-day visit to Czechoslovakia, where they saw Foreign Minister Vaclac David and foreign trade officials. That country has shown a keen interest in the fair.

Britain, Belgium, France, West Germany, The Netherlands, Morocco and Austria have announced they will take part in the exhibition.

Dupuy and Bertrand conclude their European tour with a three-day visit later this week to Switzerland.

SY WITHDRAWN

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The fourth wife of writer-producer Sy Bartlett, 61, divorced him Monday, testifying he was "entirely withdrawn and seldom at home." Carol Bartlett, 28, also said her husband showed little love and affection. She waived alimony and received $15,000 in a property settlement. The couple married April 3, 1963, in Las Vegas, Nev., and separated Dec. 15.

Gets Bride by Long Distance

BRISBANE (AP) — Eleven months after he mailed the engagement ring, William Lancaster, 30, a factory worker from London, Ont., placed it on the finger of his fiancee, Norma Brunjes, 23, of Kingaroy, Queensland, Australia.

They met for the first time Tuesday after Norma travelled 200 miles from Kingaroy to Brisbane to meet Lancaster as he arrived from Canada.

Lancaster had proposed and been accepted a year ago, three years after he and Norma became pen pals after they had been introduced by letter through an Ontario girl who had emigrated to Queensland.

Date of the wedding has not been set but meanwhile Lancaster has a job waiting for him at Kingaroy.

Hoax Bomb Dismantled At Coast

VANCOUVER (CP) — Gingerly an RCAF bomb expert worked on an object found in Cabin 13 of a suburban Burnaby motel.

Police, holding back spectators, were warned that the colorless liquid might be enough nitroglycerine to set off a blast equivalent to 40 sticks of dynamite.

The feverishly working Sgt. Gordon Headon, fearing that the object could be set off by remote control, took an hour to freeze it in dry ice and defuse it. The incident occurred Monday night.

Tuesday the city analyst's department identified the fluid.

Mineral oil.

City analyst Ted Fennell said the oil might burn, but only under extreme heat.

Police said they were baffled by the "bomb" which had a trigger mechanism, a detonator cap, set of transisters, tiny battery and coil.

It was found behind a chesterfield by RCMP when they went to the motel on a case for Canadian customs. They called Sgt. Headon.

Meanwhile, a 40-year-old man was arrested at the motel and was being held for investigation in connection with an unregistered .38-calibre revolver.
