U.S., Panama To Restore Diplomatic Relations

NELSON BOYS' CHOIR recently visited the Royal Canadian Navy destroyer escort HMCS Skeena on their trip to the west coast. Greeting them on the quarterdeck was one of their "old boys," Leading Seaman William Harkness, whose parents live at 1013 Josephine Street, Nelson. Leading Seaman Harkness sang in the choir for eight years until 1951 "when my voice broke." (National Defence photo)

MacEachen Calls Emergency Meeting

OTTAWA (CP) —Labor Minister MacEachen scheduled an emergency meeting today with the Unemployment Insurance Commission to consider ways of paying an estimated 46,000 insurance claims Monday.

The action came after the unemployment insurance fund ran dry and a government bill providing in part for a loan to the fund was blocked in the Senate —at least until 8 p.m. EST Monday when the upper chamber meets again.

Senator Grattan O'Leary (PC —Ontario) objected to a government move to push the bill through all stages in the Senate within a few minutes. He insisted the measure be held up until Monday night's sitting.

Laval Fortier, chief commissioner of the Unemployment Insurance Commission, later told reporters that some, and possibly all, the 46,000 claimants paid in cash at local unemployment offices may not receive their money Monday.

Claims range between $8 a week for a single person and $36 a week for a married claimant.

Cline Given Prison Term

NANAIMO (CP) — Dennis Roy Cline, 17, of Duncan was sentenced Friday to six months' definite and six months' indeterminate in Oakalla Prison for manslaughter in the death Aug. 8 of Hugh George Nesbitt, 14.

"This case has caused me a great deal of concern," Mr. Justice J. G. A. Hutcheson told the youth.

He had given full consideration to Cline's age, but said it wasn't a proper case for a suspended sentence. He noted that manslaughter was a serious offence, bearing a maximum sentence of life imprisonment.

"I am satisfied that the result of your unlawful act was not anticipated, but I cannot overlook the fact that you left that boy in distress," the judge said.

Cline had been charged with manslaughter and assault causing bodily harm following the death of Nesbitt near Maple Bay on Vancouver Island.

During the trial witnesses testified Cline jumped out of a car and chased Nesbitt to give him a scare. During the chase, the court was told, Nesbitt hit his head against an object, indirectly causing his death.

DOLLAR UP

NEW YORK (CP) — Canadian dollar up 5-64 at 92 17-32 in terms of U.S. funds. Week ago closed. Pound sterling unchanged at $2.79 29-32.

Johnson Appoints Emissary As 11-Week Breach Resolved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Panama agreed Friday to end at once their 11-week breach of diplomatic relations and to discuss promptly differences which were climaxed in bloody January rioting in the Central American country.

An agreement to restore relations severed Jan. 17 and to seek a settlement of long-standing disputes was signed at the White House amid considerable fanfare.

President Johnson then talked by telephone with Panama's President Roberto Chiari.

A short time later, Johnson designated Robert B. Anderson, former treasury secretary, as the special U.S. emissary to seek an end to differences which go back to the 1903 treaty which gave the U.S. perpetual control of the Panama Canal Zone.

Speaking to a White House gathering of congressional leaders, Latin American ambassadors to the Organization of American States and other dignitaries, Johnson had this to say after announcing Anderson's appointment:

"This is truly a great day for the American people, for Panama, for all the Western Hemisphere and for all freedom-loving people everywhere."

Anderson is a Texas Democrat-turned-Republican who was treasury secretary under President Eisenhower.

FLAG SPARKED DISPUTE

The outburst of violence in and along the borders of the 10-mile wide Canal Zone came on Jan. 9, as an outgrowth of a schoolboy dispute over flying of U.S. and Panamanian flags at schools in the Zone.

Before things quieted down two days later, 27 persons had been killed, including three U.S. soldiers, and more than 200 injured, including more than 80 Americans. Heavy damage was inflicted on American property, mostly outside the Zone.

The agreement opening the way for talks was signed by the U.S. and Panamanian ambassadors to the OAS, Ellsworth Bunker and Miquel Moreno respectively.

Previous efforts by the OAS to bring the countries together snagged again and again on a difference in the meaning of "discuss" and "negotiate".

The U. S. insisted it would discuss anything—after restoration of diplomatic relations broken by Panama—but wouldn't agree in advance to negotiate a new treaty—one of the principal Panamanian demands.

Just as insistently, Panama contended the U.S. should agree to negotiate a new treaty.

Friday's agreement met the U.S. requirement for restored relations but neatly skirted the other semantics problems. It said the special ambassadors "will begin immediately the necessary procedures with the objective of reaching a just and fair agreement," thus ducking the "discuss" and "negotiate" trap.

UN Mediator Visits Both Sides in Cyprus

NICOSIA (CP) — Finnish ex-premier Sakari Tuomioja, United Nations mediator in Cyprus, began Friday his task of trying to mediate peace between the island republic's mutually hostile Greek and Turkish communities.

Tuomioja started by paying courtesy calls on Greek -Cypriot President Makarios and Turkish-Cypriot Vice - President Fazil Kutchuk.

He also visited the Greek - Cypriot justice minister, Mrs. Stella Souliotis, who is acting foreign minister in the absence of Spyros Kyprianou, who was in New York.

Neither UN nor Cypriot sources made any immediate comment on Tuomioja's calls, but observers said he was apparently getting acquainted with the principal Cypriot personalities.

The Cypriot government declined comment on reports it would unilaterally abrogate the 1960 treaty of alliance under which Greece and Turkey have a right to station troops on the island.

But government sources said Turkey's refusal to move its 650-man force from camps along the key Kyrenia road outside Nicosia was in itself a violation of this treaty.

Hutchinson Wins Award

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) — Bruce Hutchison, editor director of the Vancouver Sun, will be awarded the Quill Award at the annual dinner of the Windsor Men's Press Club May 2.

The award is presented for "outstanding contribution to the flow of public information on Canadian affairs."

The judges said Mr. Hutchison was selected as the recipient of this year's award "for his stewardship of the Victoria Times and Vancouver Sun for his penetrating books and articles on the national scene. Wide circulation both in and out of Canada has increased the awareness of Canadian problems at home and abroad while stimulating national, rather than local, interests."

DAWSON CREEK (CP) — Gregory Brinklow, 2½, was drowned when he fell into a creek. Police and firemen dragged the creekbed for three hours before recovering the body.

Belgian Doctors Standing Firm

BRUSSELS (AP) — Positions were stiffening Friday in a nation-wide doctors' strike in Belgium and a spokesman for the rebel medical profession said "we are in a deadlock."

Doctors went on strike Wednesday when their negotiations with the government on a vision of a medical reform bill failed.

A trade unions leader claimed the doctors objected to the new law because it cut their fees. The doctors said the law violates basic pirnciples of the medical charter and that the reduction of their fees is a subsidiary problem.

The majority of the 10,000 practicing doctors in Belgium stopped treating patients after setting up emergency centres manned by a few of them.

MacArthur Entering Coma

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur "shows signs of entering a peaceful coma," Walter Reed Army Hospital announced Friday.

The statement, without any amplification, was attributed by a hospital spokesman to Lt.-Gen. Leonard Heaton, the surgeon-general of the U.S. Army and the chief surgeon in MacArthur's case.

It was not immediately determined whether this latest word meant that the general had reached a new crisis in his long series of ordeals, but it was the first time that the word "coma" had been used in any bulletin concerning his condition since he entered Walter Reed Army Hospital March 2.

THE WEATHER

Kootenay: A few showers. Not quite so cold overnight. Winds light except southerly 15 main valleys tonight. Low and high at Cranbrook and Crescent Valley, 30 and 45. Sunday: Cloudy.

Alaska Shaken Again By Worst Aftershock

No Damage; Workers, Residents Rush Into Streets in Fright

By WARD T. SIMS

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—Anchorage, heavily damaged by an earthquake a week ago, was shaken sharply Friday by another tremor that sent jittery residents streaming into the streets.

Anchorage police said they had no immediate reports of injuries and said a quick survey showed areas which had suffered heavily a week ago apparently escaped further damage.

The state division of civil *defence said the cities of Sewa*rd and Kodiak, which were also hit hard a week ago by the Good Friday earthquake and subsequent tidal wave and fire, had not reported the quake, although they were connected with an emergency "hot line."

At Everett, Wash., civil defence officials put out a precautionary wave warning.

The University of Washington said the shock measured 7.5 on its Richter scale of earthquake intensity, making it the largest of more than 50 aftershocks since the Good Friday tremor.

The destructive quake last Friday was at 8.7 on the scale.

Dr. Norman Rasmussen of the university said the shock was recorded at 2:38 p.m. PST and showed on the seismograph for about an hour, but probably was felt by Anchorage residents only a few seconds.

The largest previous aftershocks, he said, ranged from 6 to 6.5 on the Richter scale.

The shock brought a mass exodus of office workers from downtown buildings about 12:41 p.m. Anchorage time. People stood in the centre of streets and anixously watched buildings around them.

Nature also threw a quake anniversary curve of another type at Kodiak, just as that city was attempting to shake off the effects of Good Friday's earthquake and tidal waves.

Winds to 85 miles an hour raked Kodiak during the night and morning, driving aground 14 fishing boats that had survived last Friday's quake and tidal waves and forcing an abrupt end to demolition work.

Flying debris was whipped through the air by the winds, northerly blasts known as williwaws.

Meanwhile, plans for reconstruction in the earthquake damaged areas of the state moved quickly ahead.

In Juneau, Governor William A. Egan asked the legislature for quick action on a proposed $50,000,000 state general obligation bond issue to help provide money for repair and reconstruction costs which he estimates will eventually cost $500,000,000.

The latest casualty figures for the entire Alaska quake area show 129 dead or missing and presumed dead.

Mazzilli Names Ministers

CP from AP-Reuters

RIO DE JANEIRO — Brazil's new president, Paschoal Ranieri Mazzilli, said Friday he had in*formation that deposed president* Joao Goulart has left Brazilian territory.

Meanwhile, police officials at Montevideo said early Friday Goulart is in Uruguay.

After flying here from Brasilia to cope with Brazil's acute economic problems and the aftermath of the revolutionary upheaval that put him in office Thursday, Mazzilli announced these ministerial appointments.

Justice and education — Luiz Antonio de Gama E. Silva; war —Gen. Arthur da Costa E. Silva; navy — Vice Admiral Augusto Rademaker Grunewald; air — Brig. Francisc de Assis Correia de Mello; finance — Otavio Gouveia de Bulhoes; foreign —Vaso Leitao de Cunha; labor — Arnaldo Lopes Susskind; president of the Bank of Brazil — Arnaldo Valter Blank; president Petrobas oil monopoly — Marshal Ademar Querioz.

Asked about foreign policy, Mazzilli said "Brazil will fulfill its traditional foreign policy." This was interpreted to mean he intends to end the so-called independent policy that had envisaged closer relations with the Soviet bloc and a cooling of relations with the United States.

Goulart's wife and two children arrived Friday at a small airport near Montevideo to stay with friends and prepare for his arrival.

DISCUSSION REFUSED

VERNON (CP)—Council has refused to discuss with the Chamber of Commerce retail division the reasons for changing the store closing bylaw in the city. Council amended the bylaw last month to permit a six-day shopping week despite objections of 66 of 83 city merchants surveyed by the Chamber.

COMMUNISTS OUST THREE

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Pravda revealed Friday that three leading members of the "anti-party group" ousted from power in the Soviet Union in 1957 had been expelled from the Communist party.

They are former premier Georgi Malenkov, former foreign minister Vyacheslav Molotov and former first deputy premier Lazar Kaganovich.

The revelation came when Pravda, the Soviet Communist party newspaper, printed the text of a speech by party Secretary Mikhail Suslov in which he recited some of the "crimes" of which the group is accused.

It was the first known admission that the three men were expelled from the party, although there have been a number of reports that they were.

TORNADO HITS WICHITA FALLS

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP)— A tornado ripped through the northwestern suburbs of Wichita Falls and nearby Sheppard Air Force Base Friday, killing at least six persons, injuring 55 others and causing enormous property damage.

Entire sections of home additions were demolished by the twister. Autos were tossed about like toys. Power and phone lines were knocked down.

Parliament Friday

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Senator Grattan O'Leary (PC—Ontario) refused unanimous consent in the Senate for passage of a money bill including an unemployment insurance loan.

The Commons was told earlier by Labor Minister MacEachen that jobless benefits could not be paid Monday if the bill was delayed.

Prime Minister Pearson said the legislation for the Canada Pension Plan will go on as scheduled despite possible rejection by Ontario.

Douglas Alkenbrach (PC — Prince Edward-Lennox) protested a switch in the site of a new penitentiary to Cornwall from Kingston.

Stanley Knowles (NDP—Win*nipeg North Centre) filed motion* in the Commons of a bill to abolish the Senate.

Labor Strife Ends on Lakes; McLaughlin New President

MONTREAL (CP)—The board of maritime trustees and the Seafarers' International Union of North America announced agreement Friday night on a formula to ensure labor peace on the Great Lakes. It calls for a regular member of the SIU of Canada to take over as president of the union.

Under the SIU constitution, Executive Vice-President Leonard McLaughlin would take over as president "in the near future" from Charles Turner, appointed to succeed Hal C. Banks as union president when the trustees fired Mr. Banks March 18.

In a joint statement made at a press conference in the trustees' Montreal office, Paul Hall, president of the SIU of North America, and Charles Millard, a member of the board of trustees, said immediate steps will be taken to restore the SIU of Canada to constitutional control of its members.

Mr. Millard said at the question period after statements were read out that Mr. Turner would step down as president "in the near future" but would remain associated with the union and trustees. New elections are scheduled to be held in November.

The joint statement also said "all possible steps will be taken to achieve integration of maritime unions in Canada where it is in the interests of union stability."

MOVES BEING TAKEN

Mr. Millard, when asked if this meant one union for all Great Lakes sailors, said moves toward this goal were "not too far away."

It was understood that the Canadian Maritime Union (CLC), representing sailors of the Upper Lakes Shipping Limited Company of Toronto, would be integrated with the SIU. This would be extended to members of the National Association of Marine Engineers (CLC), who represent licenced personnel on Upper Lakes Ships.

Mr. Hall said he would not refer to the position of Banks because the latter is involved in court cases and comments "would not be fair to him."

Mr. Millard refused to say why Banks was ditched as SIU president at the exact time that this was done.

The trustees have never explained why they fired Banks about one month before the start of the shipping season.

The joint statement said the trustees will continue to exercise their powers but that "continued close relations will be maintained" between the SIU of Canada (Ind.) and the SIU of North America (AFL-CIO).

Steps would be taken to "unite all elements of the maritime industry of Canada and the United States in a co-operative effort to solve any and all differences on the Great Lakes."

Steps would be taken to re-integrate the SIU of Canada with the Canadian Labor Congress. The SIU was thrown out of the CLC in 1951 for union raiding.

The main qualifying phrase of the joint statement was that both parties "are at liberty to consider all arrangements terminated" if they feel that "all obligations have not been met."

In a separate statement, Mr. Hall said the position of the SIU of North America and the executive board of the SIU of Canada was identical "in arriving at a method for resolving the issue."

However, Mr. Hall said, the SIU of North America continues to hold its position that the law establishing the trusteeship over maritime unions is "anti-union of character and undesirable; as such we deplore its existence, including the removal of the president of the SIU of Canada, Hal C. Banks."

Khrushchev Calls for Unity Against China "Distortion"

BUDAPEST (Reuters) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev has called for unity in the international Communist movement in the struggle against what he called Red Chinese "distortion."

Khruschev, addressing an audience in Budapest's State Opera House, accused the Communist Chinese leadership of trying to revise policy documents worked out jointly by the international movement.

The documents to which the Soviet leader referred were agreed upon at the world Communist conferences in Moscow in 1957 and 1960.

The reference by Khrushchev to the Sino-Soviet ideological dispute followed the massive reply to Chinese attacks on him and his policies published earlier Friday by the Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda.

Khrushchev, who is on an official visit to Hungary, said the materials published by Pravda made known the Soviet standpoint.

POLICY DISRUPTIVE

He accused the Chinese of a "disruptive policy" and said the only basis for the struggle against it was to strengthen and consolidate unity among the Communist parties.

Khrushchev said this struggle would certainly lead to a new victory for socialism, which would be of historical significance.

He was glad that in all questions of the international (Communist) workers' movement the Soviet and Hungarian parties' views were identifical.

Earlier, Khrushchev praised Janos Kadar, Hungary's premier, on whom he had conferred the titles of Hero of the Soviet Union and The Order of Lenin.

These honors, the Soviet leader said, were in recognition of Kadar's outstanding merits as a great son of the Hungarian people, a friend of the Soviet Union and an outstanding fighter for the international workers' movement.

Khrushchev said international tension had relaxed recently and this was a real result of the policy of peaceful coexistence.

MISTAKE TO RELAX

He said it would be a mistake, however, to relax the struggle for peace because imperialism was ready to make use of any opportunity to realize its "aggressive" plans.

The greatest imperialist danger came from the United States, Khrushchev continued. But the time had now gone when imperialists could carve up the map of the world as they wished, he added.

The transformation of West Berlin into a free, peaceful city would be in the interests of both German states, he said.

The Hungarian Communist party charged Chinese leaders Friday with "political adventurism" and reaffirmed support for Khrushchev.

SAIGON (AP)—A wedding 50 miles northwest of Saigon was broken up recently when the bridegroom's spurned commonlaw wife crashed the ceremony and did a strip-tease, Vietnamese newspapers reported Friday.

The bridegroom, a mechanic named Le Ngoc, was just about to tie the nuptial knot when his uninvited common-law wife appeared. As she stripped and danced, she sang that Le Ngoc had abandoned her with two children.

The bride fled.

LONDON (AP)—Has Prince Charles adopted the Beatle cut?

The 15-year-old heir to the throne, who toots a fair trumpet and twists rather fab (fabulous to you), returned from school in Scotland Thursday night.

As he strode into the wind at London Airport, his darkish hair came down over his eyes Beatle style. It stayed in the familiar droop as he climbed into a royal sedan.

Was it really a Beatle haircut?

Yes, said Beatle fans.

No, said squares in gallant rear-guard defence.

A spokesman for palace attaches, who saw pictures of the prince in the London morning newspapers, said:

"We really don't know if it's a Beatle hairdo or not. Doesn't look it from the rear or the sides perhaps. And we really can't ask, now can we?"

Third Power Plant at Grand Coulee Seen

SPOKANE (AP)—The Bureau of Reclamation's investment in the Pacific Northwest is now more than $1,500,000,000 and projects authorized or under construction will add about $500,000,000 to this amount, the regional director said Friday.

Harold T. Nelson of Boise, Idaho, told the Northwest Public Power Association convention that a feasibility study on adding a third power plant at Grand Coulee dam is nearly complete. The proposal, which he said was made practical by the anticipated addition of 20,000,000 acre feet of upstream storage on the Columbia River through the U.S.-Canada treaty, would boost the giant dam's installed capacity from just under 2,000,000 to a potential maximum of power over 5,500,000 kilowatts.

Nelson said that Grand Coulee provides an opportunity also for a reverse storage and generation pumping system. Water is now pumped from the Columbia at the dam into Banks Lake where it is stored for use in irrigating the Columbia basin project. Under the proposed plan, reversible pump-turbines would be installed and water lifted into the lake during the off season for later power production. As power demand increased in the fall and winter, the water would be brought back from the lake through the turbines where the peaking capacity would be 200,000 kilowatts.

Scholarship Donated to NDU

The Medical Associate Clinic of Nelson has donated $250 to Notre Dame University of Nelson to be used as a scholarship for a worthy student when classes resume next Fall. Presentation was made this week by Dr. A. J. Beauchamp, vice-president of the clinic, to the Rev. Aquinas Thomas, SA, president of the university.

HOUSING PROBLEM

Construction of 640,000 flats in the decade ending in 1963 still hasn't relieved Yugoslavia's acute housing shortage.

PRELIMINARY WORK preceding Duncan dam construction in the Lardeau in connection with the Columbia River development program is well under way. At left, construction of one-and-a-half-mile road to the dam site from the existing Lardeau-Trout Lake road begins. Contract was awarded to P. F. Law Construction Company. Kootenay Forest Products camp at Marblehead is on left side of picture. Five big trucks are moving gravel on the roadbed. At right, Meadow Creek schools are shown. The new one to the left is to be moved to a new location soon. The old school will no longer be used.

Noted Violinist To Perform With Symphony

Brahms, Tchaikovsky and Verdi will have their music come alive when the Vancouver Symphony Orchestra performs in Nelson Tuesday. Nelson Rotary Club is sponsor.

For the first time in the Symphony's Canada Council-sponsored concerts in the province, a soloist will accompany the orchestra.

The afternoon concerts for high school students and the 8 p.m. evening performance in the Civic Theatre will hear Esther Glazer, noted violinist with the 62 musicians.

Miss Glazer, who has appeared as recitalist and guest soloist in many of the world's great music centres, in concert halls and on radio, and with such orchestras as the Chicago, St. Louis, Vancouver and Victoria symphonies and the Little Orchestra Society of New York, will play Tchaikovsky's Violin Concerto in D minor.

Irwin Hoffman, the orchestra's regular musical director and conductor will be on the podium.

In private life Esther Glazer is the wife of Mr. Hoffman, who for the past 12 seasons has been musical director and conductor of the Vancouver Symphony Orchestra.

She has been a member of the Music Faculty of the University since 1961 and also conducts two string orchestras at the Coast.

She is leader of the Beethoven String Quartet, which last season performed the complete cycle of Beethoven quartets in a series of concerts at UBC.

A winner of the famous Naumburg Award, New York, Miss Glazer held a five-year fellowship at the Juilliard Graduate School of Music, where she studied with Ivan Galamian.

In the past six years she has performed internationally all six sonatas and partitas for unaccompanied violin by Bach.

"Hospitality" Conferences Set

A series of conferences to discuss "hospitality" as it applies to the visitor industry will be sponsored by the B.C. Government Travel Bureau in co-operation with the Department of Education, B.C. Hotels Association, Canadian Restaurant Association and the B.C. Motels and Resorts Association.

The conferences will be of one day duration and will be held in Cranbrook, May 11 and Nelson, May 12.

R. L. Colby, director of the B.C. Government Travel Bureau said he hoped that everyone wtih an interest in the travel industry will attend and assist in bringing others.

"In addition to the educational advantages, I hope the conferences will revitalize the entire community insofar as its potential visitor industry is concerned," Colby said.

Paintings, Crafts to Suit All Tastes at Exhibition

Words of criticism and praise were voiced in equal sincerity at the opening of the Kootenay Arts and Crafts Club exhibition Friday.

Last night, approximately 150 Nelson and district residents stood back and appraised the artists' work. The exhibition continues today and Sunday.

In opening the exhibition, Mayor E. T. Bodard praised the club for their smooth operation while accomplishing much but saying little.

Club president Lance Stacey and his wife were presented the Hans Rabehl trophy, by Mayor Bodard, the couple having been chosen the most valuable all-round club members for the 1962-63 season.

Mr. Stacey has been with the club three years, two as president and Mrs. Stacey is leader of the club's ceramic group.

Highlight of the exhibition, staged in the Civic Centre, is an abstract mural, 8x16 feet, entitled "Your City."

A product of an article in a national magazine the gigantic Nelson scene, depicts various aspects of industry and education as well as the beauty spots.

Interwoven in the four sections is Notre Dame University, the Vocational School, Cottonwood Falls, the City Hall, Kootenay Forest Products and the Doukhobor market.

Club painters first sketched the scene, and then pooled the lot.

From the sketches a wood-block was carved and a print made. A compromise between "realistic" and the "abstract" brought the "semi-abstract" effect, in a lacquer base paint.

The mural is to be given away to anyone who can make good use of it.

A first for the Nelson club is their display of hand-made pottery and ceramics lining one complete wall of the badminton hall.

Each Kootenay centre represented is located in its own geographical section with many paintings portraying the various areas.

Paintings to suit all tastes. from the simplicity of a country scene to a wave-battered ship, hang against a black background.

One artist praised the show for offering the necessary encouragement to local artists who would otherwise not have the opportunity to show their work.

In conjunction with the exhibition, the Nelson Model Association has on display 80 models of cars, boats and planes.

Another display which stopped all spectators is a proposed waterfront development master plan prepared for the Nelson Advisory Planning Commission.

It was drawn by city architects D. P. Fairbank and R. S Sawyer.

Another section is devoted to hand-carved wooden figures.

One of the most interesting displays was of three figures painted on black velvet by a Creston artist.

Captured on the soft cloth were the expressions of Polynesian girls and an "Old Salt."

The original firm of Robertson Realty was established in 1908. The two original partners were H. W. Robertson and former mayor M. R. McQuarrie.

In 1946 the firm was sold to F. Hilliard and J. Cattell, who took in as partners Herbert Peacock and two ex-servicemen, A. K. McAdams and R. A. Phillips.

Following the move the staff of seven will be increased.

"The firm has never lost faith in Nelson's future and the latest move to the vacated bank is in keeping with their steady growth over the past 17 years, Mr. McAdams said.

White Students To Help Negroes

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP)—Growing out of racial demonstrations of the last week is a plan for white college students and teachers to live with and tutor St. Augustine's Negro youth this summer.

"Our plans for this summer are quite tentative," said Walton Senterfitt, a Yale student who has been special assistant to Dr. R. B. Hayling, St. Augustine Negro dentist and local integration leader.

"We are aiming to have at least 20 persons, possibly 50 or more, come here to work for a period of four to 10 weeks this summer," Senterfitt said.

Social Insurance Number Would Eliminate Other Number Systems

A nine-digit number, designated as the Social Insurance Number, will be issued beginning April 1 to all employed Canadians with the exception of those engaged in agriculture, those in private domestic service where there is only one employee, and members of the armed forces.

The Minister of Labor, Hon. Allan J. MacEachen, has explained the issuance of the Social Insurance Number is being carried out for a number of reasons, one of the paramount being a means to better government record-keeping. The Glassco Commission has suggested that a single numbering system should be established to do away with multiplicity of numbering systems in government departments.

At the Unemployment Insurance Commission the situation has been that the growth in the labor force and the use of electronic data processing has made the old UIC number obsolete. Therefore, it was felt that a good starting point for the new numbering system would be the operations of the Unemployment Insurance Commission, and the UIC has been assigned to carry out the numbering project. This new numbering system will be introduced in conjunction with the annual renewal of unemployment insurance books that will take place, as usual, this spring.

The Social Insurance Number will be issued to all employed persons whether they are covered by unemployment insurance or not. And it is to be noted that it will be broad enough and flexible enough to be adapted to the "record-keeping required for the proposed pension plan and other social security measures."

NO IDENTITY LOSS

In an address to the recent opening of the UIC school for key personnel in the project, Labor Minister MacEachen dispelled rumors that Canadians are in danger of losing their identity, that the Social Insurance Number project is synonymous with regimentation, and that the real purpose of the program is to obtain an inventory of manpower.

"These observations are not founded on fact," the minister said, "identity will not be lost and regimentation will not be the end result."

He said that, in fact, the Social Insurance Number preserves identity for the useful and valid purpose of providing numerous benefits to the Social Insurance Number registrant. He explained that much of the information that is asked for in the project has also been sought in the application for an unemployment insurance number for the past 22 years.

The need for positive identification is exemplified by the fact that there are now 50,000 Smiths in the Unemployment Insurance Commission's master index. Well over 10,000 Smiths have the initial "J." Therefore, it is purely as a matter of identification that the mother's last name at her birth is asked for.

There has been some talk that there is a link with the project and extending coverage under unemployment insurance. However, there is no consideration in the Social Insurance Number project of broadening the group who will pay unemployment insurance.

FORMS ISSUED

When the project gets underway April 1 employers will have a supply of application forms. And it should be mentioned that an employer for the purpose of the numbering project is one who has at least one full or one part-time employee on payroll.

The employee will obtain an application form, fill it out completely and accurately, sign it and return it to the employer. Then the employer will send the application form to the nearest office of the Unemployment Insurance Commission. The Social Insurance Number will then be sent back to the employer in the form of a three-part card.

The first section of this card will have the Social Insurance Number, surname and at least two given names where applicable and will have the employee's signature affixed. This section will be most useful and handy if it is kept in a wallet or purse but there is absolutely no compulsion that the card be carried. However, it would be handy, for example, for those who are from time to time seeking or changing employment so that they may make their number known to their employer immediately. Section two is a duplicate and will have in addition the old UIC number where applicable. This section is to be put in safe-keeping, it is suggested.

The third portion will be retained by the employer. It will bear the Social Insurance Number, old UIC number where applicable, the surname and at least two given names where applicable. It will show in addition the day and month of birth but not the year.

The third part is to be retained by the employer until such time as the new account number has been recorded on all employee and/or payroll records, at which time it may be destroyed.

ONLY ONE NUMBER

An employee who has two employers must ensure that the second employer is advised of his Social Insurance Number, He must not obtain a second number under any circumstances. Officials of the Commission emphasize that only one application form is to be completed.

If an employee has never had an unemployment insurance number he will register for a Social Insurance Number, says the Commission, and points out that if a person has at present an unemployment insurance number he will re-register for a Social Insurance Number which will replace the present unemployment insurance number.

While applications for Social Insurance Numbers will be available for all employed persons through their employers, if a person is at present unemployed and is in receipt of unemployment insurance benefit, the application form will be provided directly by the Unemployment Insurance Commission. However, if a person is at present unemployed, but not in receipt of unemployment insurance benefit, he will apply at the nearest office of the Unemployment Insurance Commission for an application form.

All employers who are not at present registered with the Commission should contact the nearest office of the UIC to obtain the necessary application forms. The Commission says that all employers will be provided with detailed instructions on how employees are to register and on how to return the application forms to the Commission's local offices.

Political Leaders Criticize Choices

VANCOUVER (CP) — Provincial political leaders are unhappy about Premier Bennett's choice of directors for the Bank of British Columbia.

All struck out at the appointment of Einar Gunderson, already a director of the government-owned B.C. Hydro and vice president of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway.

The five men were announced Thursday in Victoria.

Opposition Leader Robert Strachan called Gunderson: "British Columbia's Kilroy, back again to the surprise of no one."

"However, I am in favor of the bank and hope it will be successful," he said.

Liberal leader Ray Perrault said his fears that the bank cannot and will not be independent of the government have been confirmed.

"Most of the directors have heavy involvement with the government, its agencies or its projects.

"And despite the premier's assurance he would not influence the choice of directors, I'm sure Gunderson will occupy a key position," he said.

Mr. Perrault also said the premier demonstrated his contempt for parliamentary processes by allowing the announcement of the directors to be made outside the legislature without opportunity for discussion.

Davie Fulton, provincial Progressive Conservative Party leader, said he was not surprised at Gunderson's appointment.

"He always has lent himself to Premier Bennett's schemes," he said.

"Although the other appointments were given to estimable businessmen, it does not alter the fact that no government should be directly or indirectly involved in a bank of this type, no matter how estimable the directors."

Other directors are:

Harold Elworthy, chairman of Island Tug and Barge Limited of Victoria; William Mearns, executive director of B.C. Hydro and Power Authority of Vancouver; John Wallace, general manager of Yarrows Limited, a Victoria shipyard, and Frederick Dietrich, president of Dietrich - Collins Equipment Limited of Vancouver.

All have posted a $5,000 bond required for bank directors.

SHEET STEEL

Former Castlegar Man Named Department Assistant Registrar

CASTLEGAR — A former Castlegar man, Edward A. Killough, has been appointed assistant registrar with the department of education at Victoria. He assumed his new duties at the start of last month.

Mr. Killough's major responsibilities include the supervision, preparation and marking of all B.C. department of education junior and senior matriculation examinations and evaluation of the educational credentials of all students continuing academic education in B.C.

This includes ascertaining the credentials of those who have taken education in other provinces and those who have come to B.C. from other parts of Canada and from foreign countries

Until his recent appointment, Mr. Killough, who is married to the former Faith Toogood of Castlegar, had returned to UBC to start work on his master of education degree on a post-graduate scholarship received last year from the B.C. Teachers' Federation.

In 1959-61, Mr. Killough was employed as English - social studies teacher and librarian at the senior high school in Prince George and following that was employed as boys' counsellor and head of the social studies department at Windsor secondary school in North Vancouver.

Mr. Killough graduated from SHSS in 1955 with the Castlegar PTA scholarship. That summer he was awarded the Hudson's Bay Flying Trophy, awarded to a cadet who, while on a RCAF training scholarship, makes the highest marks in Western Canada in flyer training.

In 1956 he finished his senior matriculation in Castlegar with the Castlegar Teachers' Association scholarship and that fall, while at UBC, received the Mary Isobel Buckerfield scholarship.

In the autumn of 1957, while at UBC, he received the Jonathan Rogers Fund scholarship for general proficiency. In 1958 he took a summer session at UBC to enable him to go from his third to his fifth year of his educational studies.

In the autumn of 1958, during his fifth year at university, Mr. Killough received the Dr. Hugh MacCorkindale scholarship awarded by the Vancouver Secondary School Teachers' Association and in the spring of 1959 received his bachelor of education (secondary) degree.

Citizens Urged To Boil Water

NATAL—Users of water from the Natal water system were advised last week to boil all water intended for human consumption. The warning was ordered by chairman of the village commission following receipt of a report that samples of water sent for analysis to the East Kootenay Health Unit at Cranbrook showed contamination.

The contamination apparently appeared in water samples taken from the well which is one of two sources of supply for the system. Low water in a creek which has been used as a source of supply necessitated a recent switch to the well. A chlorinator which in the past has been used to purify the water is presently in Calgary for repairs. Of eight monthly samples taken to date from the well, seven were found to be contaminated and one clear. According to a report issued by the Health Unit, the 1963 record in Natal water samples shows that 32 per cent was contaminated.

The report states that any contamination figure in excess of 10 per cent is unsatisfactory.

Michel had an incidence of five per cent contamination in the same period, while Sparwood had no contamination samples. The Michel incidence was laid to work being done at the supply when samples were drawn. Meanwhile, notices advising boiling of water have been posted in Natal until further notice.

Tourist Spot, Sales Tax On Natal Chamber Slate

NATAL — Natal and District Chamber of Commerce decided at its last regular meeting to endorse fully efforts to have the Fernie-Natal area of B.C. exempted from the five per cent sales tax now felt to be a bar to establishment of new industry.

The chamber plans no independent action on the sales tax issue but will back efforts by Fernie city council, Natal's board of commissioners and Fernie chamber in any representations to the provincial government. Although the latest move to get the sales tax exemption for this part of southeastern B.C., is aimed at making the area more attractive to new industry, Natal is worried also about loss of business to nearby Alberta communities. Alberta does not have sales tax.

The chamber isn't optimistic about efforts to have a new picnic and camp ground opened near Crow's Nest this summer The chamber has been urging the province to open the new tourist facility in conjunction with completion of a highway improvement project in that area.

Natal businessmen have shown concern also about another road project, which would change the Highway 3 route through the village. The last report from the department of highways on this was that the department would confer with the village commissioners before deciding on the route.

Grave Lake in the Elk Valley district is a popular summer resort for many private cottage-owners. The chamber would like to see this area developed as a resort area, but poor access is a problem. So far, efforts to have the province improve the road have not been successful.

Scouts Win Commendation From Pearkes

VICTORIA (CP) — Lieutenant-Governor George Pearkes, a former boy scout himself, Thursday commended the work of scouts in two recent Vancouver Island emergencies and called their work the "acme of all scouting ideals."

He was addressing more than 300 senior scouts from several B.C. centres after they were presented with Queen's Scout certificates at Government House.

In the Albernis, severely damaged last week by tidal waves and flooding, scouts gave up their Easter holidays from school to assist in cleanup work, he said. They used their knowledge of first aid and emergency procedure to great advantage.

At a recent fire at Lake Cowichan High School which caused $500,000 damage, Boy Scouts made themselves available to assist firemen almost immediately, said Mr. Pearkes.

Mainland scouts, some from as far away as the Cariboo and Kootenay districts, were brought to Victoria for the ceremony by navy vessels. They joined more than 60 Greater Victoria and Vancouver Island scouts.

200 Girls Attend CGIT Conference

CRANBROOK — Annual Kootenay conference of CGIT groups of Presbyterian and United Churches drew 200 girls to Cranbrook Thursday, Friday and Saturday on the theme "Go Forth and Serve".

Centres from both Kootenays were well represented by leaders and CGIT members.

Initial gathering was Thursday evening in United Church social hall where a social evening included definition of the theme. Friday the conference divided into study groups concerning the various fields of interest in CGIT, and continued into a banquet at the Mount Baker School in the evening.

Friday morning the theme speaker, Mrs. A. G. Adams of Fernie addressed the conference at Knox Presbyterian Church prior to the luncheon and afternoon study groups. Speakers at the banquet were Rev. Fred Cline, Creston United Church minister, and Rev. John Allison Kimberley Presbyterian minister.

Guests were billeted and the conference had its final session Saturday morning. Arrangements were made by all the Cranbrook CGIT leaders in both churches, with Mrs. A. R. Henderson as convener.

INCREASE RESOURCES

Thirty-six of Norway's 56 commercial banks increased their total resources 7.7 per cent in 1963, with deposits and loans up 6.4 per cent.

MARKET TRENDS

NEW YORK (AP)—Despite a scare which upset coppers and some sharp profit-taking in airlines, the stock market moved higher on balance Friday and posted new peaks in the averages. Trading was active.

A generally higher trend was shown by rails, oils, cigarette stocks, electrical equipments, rubbers and farm implements as well as a variety of selected issues.

News that a leftist candidate for president of Chile had said he would nationalize U.S. copper companies in that country if he wins led to selling of copper stocks, even those whose resources lie outside Chile.

Anaconda and Kennecott, however, have investments in Chile totalling about $1,000,000,000 and these took the brunt of the selling. Anaconda was the most active stock, down 2 to 42¾ on 143,000 shares. Kennecott was sixth most active, down 3 at 80¾ on 57,700 shares.

Phelps Dodge, the second biggest producer, whose mines are in Arizona, took a net loss of ½ at 70½. Cerro Corp., whose properties are in Peru, gyrated considerably and lost 1⅞ at 40¾ as 13th most active stock.

DOW AVERAGE UP

Taking off from Thursday's record, the Dow Jones industrial average rose 2.12 to 822.99.

Volume was 5,990,000 shares compared with 6,840,000 Thursday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose .6 to an all-time peak of 303.3, topping the previous record of 303.1 made March 19.

McIntyre Porcupine jumped ahead 2⅞ while International Nickel and Hudson Bay Mining gained ⅞ each. Among other Canadians, Canadian Pacific lost ⅞ and Aluminium Ltd., and Dome Mines ¼ each while Granby Mining and Distillers Seagrams each moved up ⅛.

Prices were irregularly higher on the American Exchange. Gains of ⅛ each were registered by Brazilian Traction, Canadian Marconi, Molybdenite and Fargo Oil while Canadian Javelin lost ¼.

Historical Society Meet To Be Sunday

CRANBROOK — At a meeting of the directors of the East Kootenay Historical Association last week it was decided to hold the annual meeting and banquet Sunday at the Stop and Go Inn.

It was felt that a Sunday meeting would allow the affair to commence earlier and allow those from a distance to arrive home again in more reasonable time.

There will be exhibits of old relics and a display of books to be looked over also an opportunity for general fraternizing and informal get-together after dinner.

Other matters discussed were the recent discovery of what are believed to be petroglyhs near Cranbrook; the old Fort Steele customs flag; the setting up of further markers on the highways; the preparing of a small brochure giving information on historical points of interest for the tourists.

The secretary reported a considerable delegation is expected to attend the annual meeting from Fernie where an historical association has recently been organized.

Cranbrook Man Named to Polio Foundation Slate

A Cranbrook man was named a vice-president at the annual meeting of the Poliomyelitis and Rehabilitation Foundation held recently in Vancouver. Directors attended from Kinsmen Clubs and other groups throughout the province.

Re-elected president of the foundation is David M. Carter of West Vancouver. Vice-presidents are Robin Wood, Burnaby, and Frank Dillon, Cranbrook; Vers Martin, West Vancouver, treasurer, and Don Cummins, Vancouver, secretary. Other directors elected were representatives of every district throughout British Columbia.

The report of the "Mothers' March" for the disabled showed a provincial gain of three percent over the same campaign in 1963. In some sections funds are still coming in through business and employee groups and this will add to final campaign results.

President Carter outlined the future program of the foundation. "Extensive changes are proposed in our patient services policies, as well as a long term development of the voational services operation necessary to obtain government funds to assist in the assessment and training of the disabled," he said. Plans will also be continued for support and operation of the speech and hearing central therapy unit and field services.

The World Is Watching

Recent U.S. foreign policy speeches by Democratic Senator William Fulbright, Republican national committee chairman William Miller and others indicate that this year's American presidential campaign arena is going to encompass the world.

One of the main issues, and the issue which probably will raise the most international interest, is that of U.S. attitudes and relationships toward Communist countries.

Senator Fulbright speaks for the many liberal Democrats when he advocates a give-and-take policy based on varying degrees of danger posed by Communist powers from Red China to Poland.

Mr. Miller, like Senator Barry Goldwater, champions the conservative attitude that Western inflexibility has proven its value in Berlin, Cuba and other areas and is the only effective way to deal with the Communist threat.

Because the United States is involved in so many East-West issues throughout the world and because the U.S. is the leading free world power ,its election debates are the vital concern of every nation.

And in the end the voting may be a significant gauge of how the Amercian people feel about co-existence — whether it should be based on flexibility and compromise or rigidity and aggressiveness.

There will be strictly local issues of personalities and domestic goals. But it appears that never before have so many had so great a stake in a political campaign.

From Vancouver to Moscow and Peking, the world is watching.

Who Will Pay?

In a recent edition of "The United Nations in Action", the official journal of the United Nations Association in Canada, the question is asked: "Who will pay for the UN?"

It is a good question. And, to date, it is one that hasn't an answer.

The hope expressed by U Thant earlier this year that many of the nations in arrears with their assessments would pay up has now dwindled almost to the disappearing point, due mainly to the fact that the Soviet Union has made it abundantly clear that it will not contribute financially to any of the UN peace-keeping forces now in existence.

The Soviet Union at present owes $37 million in assessments for The Congo force and $15.6 million for the Suez operation. In addition, other members of the Soviet bloc are in arrears on the two forces as follows: Ukraine, $6.7 million; Byelorussia, $1.7 million; Poland, $3.6 million; Czechoslovakia, $3.5 million; Hungary, $1.4 million; Romania, $1.3 million, and Bulgaria, $0.3 million.

The Soviet Union and most of its satellites are now subject to Article 19 of the UN Charter which provides that any member owing the equivalent of two years' contributions "shall have no vote in the General Assembly."

Also subject to the same Article are Nationalist China, in arrears $14.8 million on both budget and peace-keeping forces; the United Arab Republic, Yemen and several Latin American members.

France, who is in arrears $16.4 millions and Belgium, owing $3¼ million, both on The Congo account, will not come under Article 19 until 1965.

Forty-six member governments of the United Nations have paid nothing at all toward the Suez and Congo operations.

Obviously, as the Canadian UN journal says, the Soviets are counting on wide support in their declared policy of refusing to pay what they owe.—Victoria Colonist.

Negative Thinking

A psychology professor says that in North American society neurotics have the best chance of working their way up to the top jobs.

The man in the street has always thought so. His way of putting it was "You don't have to be crazy but it helps." But now that this idea has had academic blessing we can expect some curious consequences.

Perhaps all the people who aren't successful but want to look it will give up wearing executive-length socks and drinking the right whisky and take to the couch. This mightn't be as bad as it sounds. For as Sam Goldwyn might have put it, anyone who pretends to need a psychiatrist should have his head read. But since the layman's idea of neuroticism is inclined to be hazy, the imitation of it should produce some diverting behavior.

Still, this is an age in which the woods are full of amateur psychologists who set great store by being well-adjusted, never mind what it is they are adjusted to. If this school of thought wins out, the man at the top will soon seem to be more to be pitied than envied. The rich uncle will be looked on as a poor relation and the new conventional wisdom will hold that nothing succeeds like failure.—Ottawa Journal.

Waste of Time

In present-day China, it appears that even the emotions are being brought into line by decree. "Love between man and woman," says one of the official definitions often quoted in party journals, "is a psychomatic activity which consumes energy and wastes time."

To fill the gap created by this edict, party members are encouraged if not commanded, to love the masses, the party and the party chairman. Affection for these objects apparently takes up none of the workers' valuable time. It is said, in fact, to cause rising spirits and increased production.

The average Chinese today must have a very low opinion of the effete Western world. Not only is love between man and woman acceptable here; it also seems acceptable to be devoted to other delightful time-consuming pursuits that have an emotional basis. Robert Louis Stevenson drew attention to one of them many years ago, when he said that the pleasures of the table had more devotees than love.

Probably officialdom in China has been at considerable pains to point out how much time can be wasted in the very diverting pastime of eating. This seems particularly likely to be so if recent harvests in that country have been as poor as those of a neighbor.

Income Tax for the Worker

By C. A. MILLER

A taxpayer who purchases bonds or other revenue producing assets in his wife's name with the mistaken idea that he will not be subject to income tax on the revenue so earned will get quite a shock when he finds he is taxable on this as long as the assets are held by his wife.

One of the first questions asked by the income tax assessor in such cases is "Who supplied the capital to purchase the asset?" The person who supplies the capital to purchase revenue producing assets is the one that is responsible for the tax on the income earned by the invested capital. In short you cannot use your capital this way to escape income tax.

A taxpayer in business where he employs his wife may not deduct as a business expense the salary he pays to her. On the other hand the wife need not file a return if her only income is the salary she receives from her husband. If a son or daughter is employed by the father, their wages are deductible as a business expense. The taxpayer who is leaving employment to enter into business should check all these points before he files his first business tax return. My advice to such persons is to engage the services of a professional accountant to set up the bookkeeping system and prepare the first income tax return. In many cases the accountant will save the embryo business man more in income taxes than the fee charged for his services.

If the taxpayer is in partnership on an equal basis with another person and the taxpayer's wife is employed by them, then the wife needs to report only one-half of her salary. The other half must be added to her husband's return.

For personal replies pertaining to income tax problems, please enclose a self-addressed five-cent stamped envelope and 25c coin for each question you wish answered.

Mail to Mr. C. A. Miller, care of the Daily News.

Question: I buy bonds in my wife's name through the payroll deduction plan. I am told I have to pay the tax on the interest. Why?

Answer: The person supplying the capital to purchase the bonds must report the interest on his return. This is covered in Section 21 (1) of the Income Tax Act.

Question: I am thinking of buying a business and employing my wife and two sons. Can I deduct their wages as a business expense?

Answer: The only deductible amount is the wages paid to your sons.

Struck B.C. Shipyards Lose Millions to Eastern Firms

VANCOUVER (CP)—A strike at British Columbia's three major shipyards went into its third month this week amid indications of a severe loss of business to competitors in the East.

Representatives of two Victoria shipyards and one in North Vancouver appared no closer to terms with 22 unions speaking for more than 2,000 workers. But both expressed willingness to restart stalled negotiations.

David Groos, Liberal member of Parliament for Victoria, indicated the yards, with $20,000,000 in work tied up, face the loss of a $3,000,000 destroyer-escort conversion job.

Missing this contract would be especially trying. In February a delegation of mayors urged the federal government to speedily let contracts in western shipyards for conversion of three St. Laurent class destroyers in the navy's Pacific Command.

There had been rumors that at least two of the contracts would go to eastern yards.

Mr. Groos said: "It looks very much as though they will be forced to send the next one at least to the East Coast. This is about $3,000,000 disappearing out of B.C."

He said the navy cannot wait forever.

Work tied up in the yards includes: The refitting of two destroyers and a frigate, jobs worth $3,000,000 each; construction of two $3,000,000 ferries for the provincial government: construction of a $5,000,000 Pacific naval laboratory ship; work on a $9,200,000 federal government weather ship.

On Feb. 17, a delegation headed by Mayor R. B. Wilson of Victoria and Mayor W. N. Angus of North Vancouver, asked the federal government for more work here to avert "an early calamity in our shipbuilding industry and our economy."

Industry spokesmen said no new business was in sight for the yards and the laying off of all workers was a possibility.

Besides the conversion work the delegation requested a speedup of a proposed $165,000,000 building program of the department of mines and technical surveys and a start on the rebuilding of a Canadian merchant marine.

Some 1,400 workers at Victoria Machinery Depot and Yarrows Ltd., went on strike Feb. 5 while 600 workers struck Burrard Drydock Ltd. in North Vancouver the following day.

The original demand of the union was for a 40-cent-an-hour increase in a two-year contract. This was modified to 15 cents in each year of a two-year contract and modified still further to 15 cents in each of four years.

The companies — represented by the B.C. Shipbuilding Federation—accepted a conciliation board recommendation of 28 cents over three years. They modified this to a four-year contract with a 40-cent increase for journeymen and 28 cents for classes below journeymen. The unions rejected this.

Base rate at the time of the strike ranged between $2.70 and $2.80 an hour.

Unemployment Fund Hit by New Charges

OTTAWA (CP)—Charges that abuses and high unemployment were draining the unemployment insurance fund have been replaced in Parliament by complaints of difficulties in qualifying for benefit payments.

The fund, built up by contributions from employers, employees, and the government has declined in recent months from a peak of more than $900,000,000 in 1956 to the point where sometimes it goes in the red and has to borrow from the government.

MPs are voicing suspicions that to protect the fund the government is fostering a policy of making it difficult for unemployed persons to qualify for benefits.

In the Commons this week Murdo Martin (NDP—Timmins) told the story of a crippled cage tender—a job similar to an elevator operator—on the night shift of a Kirkland Lake, Ont., gold mine.

The man was fired for dozing on the job and, because he was fired for cause, was automatically disqualified from drawing unemployment benefits for six weeks. At the end of that period, still out of work, he was placed on the benefit rolls.

His physical disability handicapped him in finding new work but, Mr. Martin argued, his difficulty in speaking English soon became a handicap in drawing benefits from a fund to which he had been making contributions.

SENDS QUESTIONNAIRE

The Unemployment Insurance Commission sent him a questionnaire in English asking how much he would like to earn, what he would like to work at and where he would like to work.

He replied—$75 a week, truck driver and Val Gagne, Ont., where his wife and family lived.

He was notified he was disqualified from receiving benefits, first because he had restricted the area where he wanted to work, later because he was asking more pay than the current rate and finally because he was limiting himself to truck driving.

After each disqualification he amended his replies, making it plain he wasn't insisting only on working at Val Gagne, that he would like to receive $75 a week but would take the going rate and that while he would like to drive truck what he wanted was a job.

Having made these changes, he reapplied for benefits while he looked for work. This time he was disqualified on the ground of credibility—because the commission officers didn't believe him when he changed his replies to the questionnaire.

ACCOUNTS FOR DROP?

"I think I have found something to indicate the reason that the loss in the unemployment insurance fund is not as bad this year as last year," Mr. Martin told the Commons.

"In my opinion it is a very insidious practice and should be stopped."

His view was echoed by three other MPs who spoke later, referring specifically to the case he raised.

Eric Winkler (PC — Grey-Bruce) said it was a practice, condoned by the labor department, that existed in other areas of Ontario outside the large urban centres.

Lucien Plourde (Creditiste—Quebec West) argued that many who don't qualify for benefits from the fund are given unemployment relief and in addition "they are going to great lengths to prevent workers from being eligible for unemployment insurance."

Rod Webb (PC — Hastings-Frontenac) said never in five years in the Commons had he received so many complaints from applicants for unemployment insurance benefits "to which they are undoubtedly entitled."

Communist Bloc Split Will Cause New Russ Thoughts

By STANLEY JOHNSON

NEW YORK (AP) — The Kremlin virtually read the Chinese out of the world Communist movement Friday, forecasting an era which brings new opportunities and new dangers for the United States and its friends.

How to exploit what appears to be an unbridgeable chasm between Moscow and Peking was a major concern of the White House and state department long before the Soviet Communist party issued its showdown challenge. Now it has become a vital concern.

To most diplomats, it long has seemed inevitable that a definitive break with China would mean the Soviet Union would have to work to improve relations with the West.

Not only does such a break mean the return to the relatively small "socialist camp" of the late 1940s, it also means the Soviet Union must guard the world's longest border against an openly hostile China.

In addition to the United States, firmly opposing Communist expansion to the West, there now is also Communist China, firmly opposing Soviet policy in the East.

RESISTED PRESSURES

Premier Khrushchev must be thanking his lucky stars he resisted all pressures to help China build an atomic bomb.

With its limited resources, faltering agriculture, and pledges to fight imperialism with "goulash"—improved living standards for its people—the Soviet Union will find such a situation an almost unbearable strain unless there is relaxation somewhere.

It could come in Berlin, Cuba, or any point where Moscow and the West are in conflict.

There might be some concessions on disarmament. However, the direct inspection demanded by the West seems further off than ever since the Russians now will want to preserve their secrets from the Chinese as zealously as from the West.

The other side of the coin is just as important, however. The Russians, and Khrushchev in particular, cannot afford to follow a policy which might appear to prove the Chinese charge that Khrushchev is "the greatest capitulationist of all time" and a stooge of the United States.

KENNEDY UNDERSTOOD

The late president Kennedy understood this well, and there is no reason to think President Johnson does not.

More than two years ago, Kennedy told this correspondent during a private White House conversation that he could understand Khrushchev's need to "save face." Speaking specifically of the situation in Berlin, he said that if a self-guaranteeing arrangement could be worked out for the Western presence in Berlin and the security of the city, he would not object if Khrushchev found some way to present it to his people as a victory.

Khrushchev put an optimistic face on things to the last. Even in the call for a world Communist showdown meeting, his spokesman said th Soviet Union was still willing to work for reconciliation.

The last time this correspondent remarked to Khrushchev that U.S.-Soviet lineup against China in the not-too-distant future would come as no surprise, the premier showed no anger. He laughed.

Muslim Head Seeks $1 Million Suit Against Policemen

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — Elijah Muhammad, national leader of the Black Muslims, is asking $1,000,000 damages in a suit filed in U.S. district court here Thursday against three Flint police detectives, claiming they violated his constitutional rights by carrying weapons into a Muslim religious rally last Oct. 27.

Named as defendants are Capt. Glenn B. Sommers, head of the detective bureau; Det. Lieut. Victor H. Smith and Det. John Conley, along with Flint city attorney Edward P. Joseph.

Muhammad said the Black Muslims forbid any members to carry weapons and also have a rule against any other persons carrying arms at Muslim meetings.

Potash May Be No. 1 Industry In Saskatchewan

TORONTO (CP)—Potash may soon replace oil as Saskatchewan's largest industry, the Toronto chapter of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy was told.

M. A. Upman, general manager of the agricultural chemicals division of International Minerals and Chemical Corp. (Canada) Ltd., said that by 1975 world demand for the fertilizer mineral may exceed production.

He also said that the world potash reserves are estimated at 60,000,000,000 tons, of which about 6,500,000,000 tons have been proven by drilling.

Mather Introduces Fishing Limit Bill

OTTAWA (CP)—An MPs bill that would establish a 12-mile fishing limit — something the government has already announced that it plans for mid-May—was talked out in the Commons Thursday.

Most of the members who spoke were in favor of such a measure, but those on the Liberal benches said it would be better to wait for the government's legislation.

The private bill, first introduced last year, was sponsored by Barry Mather (NDP—New Westminster). Even though the government was going to implement such a fishing limit, he said, hie bill should be passed so it could be referred to the Commons fisheries committee and give members a chance to discuss fully all the points involved.

British Air Attack Termed Aggression

UNITED NATIONS (AP)—The Soviet Union joined three Arab countries Thursday in demanding United Nations condemnation of a British air strike against a border fortress in Yemen. The attack was assailed as "criminal," "barbaric" and "naked aggression."

Britain acknowledged that it had ordered the attack, which took place last Saturday, but sought to justify it as a necessary defensive measure to halt incursions of Yemeni planes over the adjoining territory of the South Arabian Federation.

The exchange took place in the UN Security Council which had met in urgent session at the request of Yemen.

Yemeni delegate Yahya H. Geghman charged the British attack resulted in the death of 25 persons and in the injury of scores. Britain's Sir Patrick Dean conceded that casualties may have occurred, but said he did not accept Geghman's figures.

Geghman was supported by Iraqi delegate Adnan Pachachi and Ambassador Mohamed H. El-Zayyat of the United Arab Republic.

1963 Top Tourist Year For Canada

OTTAWA (CP) — A record flood of visitors from the United States last year gave Canada its first favorable tourist trade balance since 1950.

The tourist tide from south of the border more than offset record spending by Canadians in countries other than the U.S. to put the Canadian travel account $13,000,000 in the black.

Preliminary figures issued Friday by the bureau of statistics show that visitors to Canada spent $602,000,000, seven per cent more than the 1962 record of $562,000,000.

Reducing spending by Canadians in the United States helped produce a three per cent drop in Canadian expenditures in other countries to $589,000,000 from $605,000,000.

STAMP FOREIGN MEAT

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—A new Iowa law requiring foreign meat to be labelled went into effect Thursday. State Secretary of Agriculture L. B. Liddy predicted it will result in a substantial reduction in the sale of imported meats because "the average housewife questions whether foreign animals are healthy, and also wonders about sanitary conditions under which the animals are slaughtered and processed."

Interpreting the News

By JOSEPH MacSWEEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Every so often the Americans pull off a stunt that leaves the British either slack-jawed with shock or boiling with anger.

Certainly there is a note of incredulous outrage in the reaction to the United States demand that British shipping lines scrap existing contracts for carrying freight to U.S. Atlantic ports.

Although the action was taken by the Federal Maritime Commission, it was seen in Britain as resulting from pressure by senators and congressmen who want to hit at British and Europan exporters.

EXTEND U.S. LAWS

Even more irritating than the dollars-and-cents issue is the matter of principle as it appears to British eyes. The move is regarded as a high-handed attempt to give extraterritorial effect to U.S. legislation without benefit of international treaty.

Some commentators are fascinated by the thought of what would happen in the U.S. if some other country took similar action.

The Guardian of Manchester wonders, for instance, what the Americans would say if a British commission suddenly ordered U.S. airlines to break within 48 hours their contracts for flying goods to Britain, under penalty of a daily fine of $1,000.

Actually, the FMC strictures may not be as serious as first believed by British observers. Victor Sprigings, chairman of the North Atlantic Westbound Freight Association, said after study that the ruling "at first glance seems to give a lot more jurisdiction to the Federal Maritime Commission but rates themselves are not altered."

HURTS EXPORTS

Initial estimates were that the ruling would mean a 15-per-cent freight costs increase which, as one example, might hurt the export of British cars. The Edinburgh Scotsman comments:

"That may be what it is meant to do under cover of a scarcely disguised accusation that the shipping conference rigs the freights to hamper American industry."

Anything that tends to place barriers against the export trade comes at an extremely sensitive time, with the U.S. striving to increase world trade through tariff-slashing in the so-called Kennedy round of negotiations opening in Geneva next month.

The British shipping lines are heartened by the knowledge that—with the approval of the government — they foiled U.S. attempts to regulate their freight rates in the last two years.

The latest action was taken under the U.S. Bonner Act of 1961 which was presented as a weapon against monopolies but is seen in some British circles as simply a device to protect American shipping from fair competition.

Look in the section in which your birthday comes, and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Sunday, April 5, 1964

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) — If you delay beginning things, you will probably set yourself back and have to rush later. However, DO wait till you have all facts, are sure of correct information.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus) — Lumbering along at the "usual" tempo may not suffice in several areas. Meet with those involved in the same matters as yourself; discuss quietly, reason things out.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini) — You may now have an opportunity to advance through a "different" idea. At least, draw up plans to project it at the right moment. Be explicit yet not abrupt, eager but not excessively so.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer) — Don't go looking for mistakes or faults. You may find more than you bargained for. The optimistic attitude will be best. Enjoy the artistic about you.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo) — It's mostly up to you whether you will gain ground, make ends meet, or just drift. Some usual suggestions or directives will be absent. Be ready to plough your way through.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — With your mentality, you could accomplish a variety of things now — unless you are restricted by rigid habit or over-meticulousness. Emphasize flexibility.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra) — You could overstep limits now if too strong a desire for a certain attainment causes you to strive and press beyond what is wise under present conditions.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 22 Scorpio) — Give others the benefit of the doubt, and yourself a fair chance to display your flexible thinking and ability to cope with the day's mixture of temperaments and doings.

NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius) — Avoid quibbling over "what might have been" or "what things SHOULD be." Consider the overall pic ture; avoid agitation.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUAR 20 (Capricorn) — There's grea inner strength here though yo yourself seldom realize it. Y can assist others up the hill you make progress yourself, why not try it now?

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUAI 19 (Aquarius) — Let good jud ment guide your decision; fi ure out what you must have against what you would like (t latter must be partly sacri ed). Study others methods.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH (Pisces) — Chin up! Most d emmas and obstacles are neith as difficult as they seem nc as numerous. Don't let the keep you from appreciating yo advantages and blessings.

YOU BORN TODAY are a d er — not merely a dreamer. Yo put so many activities into being and back so many interestin ventures that it seems you have no time for dreams. But loft dreams really are the instigator of your activities. Your lif should be full and you will un doubtedly achieve more tha one unusual recor dor goal. Yo are suited to stage, literature as a travel guide, companior organizer, investor, banker, poe You combine the artistic and th practical smartly. Curb emo tions, impulses; channel amb tions carefully. Birthdate of: A C. Swinburne, poet, critic; Jo (Baron) Lister, surgeon; Th Hobbes, English philosopher.

Grandson, Grandmother Treated to Surprise Party

KASLO — Kaslo's entire Japanese community attended the joint birthday party of one-year-old Gene Masaru Atagi and his grandmother, Mrs. K. Atagi, "71 years young."

Although it was held at her home, it was "a real surprise party" to Mrs. Atagi, who had thought all the preparations were for her small grandson's party.

Two birthday cakes were made and presented by Mrs. Kay Kumagaya—a white cake decorated with yellow flowers for Mrs. Atagi and a chocolate cake iced in pale green and white for Gene. Each was centred with one candle.

A banquet of both Chinese and Japanese food was enjoyed by the guests, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Sawada of Nelson. Mr. Sawada was best man at the wedding of Gene's parents.

Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Mike Shuto, Mr. and Mrs. K. Kamagaya, Mr. and Mrs. T. Baba, Mr. and Mrs. S. Kitagawa, Mr. and Mrs. Y. Atagi and Gene and Mr. and Mrs. Buck Higashi.

1930s Contribute Ideas To New Spring Fashions

By PEGGY MASSIN

PARIS (Reuters)—Trimmings and accessories borrowed from the 1930s emerge as the complement to the new spring fashion models here.

The mood epitomized by the "man's woman" is based on minute detail, rather than any vital change in silhouette. For once, last year's dress is just as good as it was last year.

Paris abounds with ideas which are easy to copy and adapt.

Inexpensive accessories like pale stockings and multi-layered white organza collars are already on sale in department stores here.

The essence of this year's "look" emerges in many details, ranging from a deflated hair style to the revival of belts and low-heel, two-toned shoes.

The new look decrees a small head. Hair is either bobbed in charleston styles or worn twisted back in a chignon. Coiffures are trimmed with hair bows and bandeaux, or hidden under symmetrical toques and turbans.

The dominant millinery trends are the Greta Garbo cloche, the sou'wester with stitched brim folded back off the brow, and Yves St. Laurent's squared brim sailor hats.

If a single accessory could symbolize Paris fashions this spring it would be a white camellia. Every couture house revives the artificial camellia or gardenia buttonhole. Dior even discarded the traditional sprig of lily of the valley in favor of white camellias or burgundy red carnations pinned on a jacket revers, caught at the base of a white collar, or looped through a narrow, sash belt.

The most popular collections in Paris score with simple navy or black dresses, spotlighted by white collars and white accessories.

St. Laurent handles the effect with Puritanical simplicity. Other designers, like Cardin and Crahay of Lanvin, prefer frothier effects with layer-upon-layer collars of white organdy which appear as light as French pastry. Waistcoats, jabots, and modesty vests fill scooped necklines. Crahay shows double collars of white over black organdy.

A buffet supper followed for the immediate relatives.

The young couple will reside in Nelson.

KASLO — The annual "mother and daughter" banquet to be held by the Guides and Brownies was the chief topic of discussion at a recent meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Guides, Brownies, Cubs and Scouts held at the home of Mrs. Dave Leyden.

It was decided to hold the banquet in the Scout Hall May 9, with the fathers in charge of the kitchen and serving the meal.

All leaders were asked to attend the group leaders' session in Nakusp April 5.

Trailite Among Pupils Of Mobile CNIB Teacher

VANCOUVER (CP)—It's not quite a case of the blind leading the blind, but it's close.

Rosemary Druskin has 20-per-cent vision—enough to read ultra-large type — and she is teaching blind persons to "travel in a safe and gracious way."

An employee of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind here, she is the only teacher of mobility in British Columbia, though she also teaches Braille and handicrafts.

Showing the blind how to get around, she says, gives them independence and pride in self and "it also gives me a wonderful sense of accomplishment."

She says she teaches the "Valley Forge"—or long-cane—technique developed after the Second World War for veterans.

USE LONG CANE

Pupils are taught to "arc" the long cane across the width of the body, always keeping it in front of the leg that is behind.

They are also taught to listen for sounds that sighted persons take for granted—the click of traffic lights, water in a drain or manhole, sounds bouncing off buildings, footsteps and the noise of cars.

Other clues are walls, fences, curbs, mailboxes and parking meters — items that can be touched.

She says children are the most difficult to teach because they want more reasons for everything they do. And elderly persons can't use the long cane because they need the support of the shorter stick.

After lessons from Miss Druskin blind Harry Dovey of Trail, B.C., went from the CNIB residence to his sister's house on the other side of town by himself.

"I just didn't think I could do it but I did—thanks to Miss Druskin," he said.

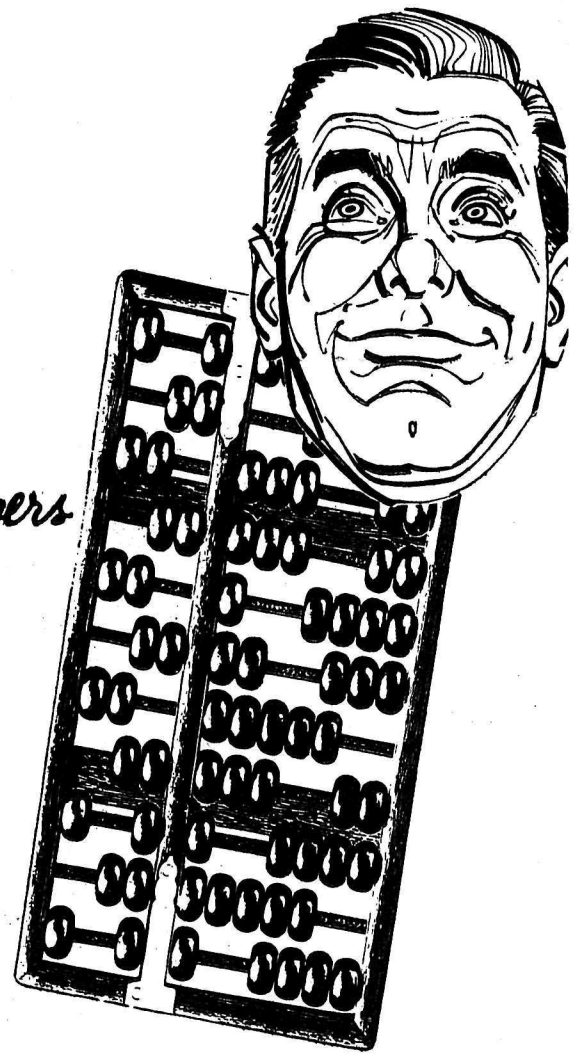
FOR Advertisers...



When you advertise in daily newspapers you know the size of your audience!

Your advertising budget has a big and vital job in building sales. The very health of your business depends on it. Hence, there should never be any substantial doubts about the size of the audience you reach, nor about the complete validity of the figures!

Some audience figures have been subject to a great deal of suspicion and mistrust and have come under serious fire from many sources. It will take a good deal of refurbishing before anyone can advance them as statistically and accurately sound.

Daily newspaper advertisers are able to buy a potential audience of known size on a basis of audited, responsible figures which for almost 50 years have been acceptable.

The Audit Bureau of Circulations, a buyer-controlled organization was organized to provide believable, reliable and provable circulation figures. A.B.C. protects the interests of daily newspaper advertisers that they may know exactly the size of their audience, where it is, and much more.

If you want to know what your advertising dollars buy, ask for a copy of our current A.B.C. report.

Fanciful figures are no match for facts!

Bookshelves Do the Trick

Shelves cope successfully with all kinds of problems, but even for them, it's quite a triumph to spread books all over a narrow hall wall without creating the effect of a tunnel.

This hall is architectural minimum size, typical of modest and luxury apartments alike in new buildings. It is lined with books from very near the entrance door to the end of one wall, and still looks decidedly wider than the four feet it actually measures to the inch.

Usual arrangements for books made narrow halls uncomfortable. Tall bookcases overburden the hall and hover darkly over pinched floor space.

Even a few open shelves often look like obstacles to steer around.

These are tall bookcases, two of them, and the hall is walked through comfortably past books by the dozens. The secret is first of all the bookcase shelff depth—only six inches. Then the design is airy, with handsome open shaping at the ends.

Two dark walls running head-on into a light wall would be sure to create the tunnel effect although the book cases were omitted. A dark wall opposite a light one doesn't close in, and wall shows through the bookcases from the third lowest shelf upward. The books are also arranged to leave open spaces on every level.

Covering flat-topped furniture with plate glass is one of the best ways to protect the lustre of the fine finish against mars.

DISTRICT EDITOR DIES

CORNWALL, Ont. (CP) — George Wilson, 90, retired district editor of The Standard-Freeholder and a newspaper man in Cornwall for 74 years, died Thursday. He started working for The Cornwall Standard as a printer's devil in July, 1889, transferred to the editorial department in 1918, and was appointed district editor in 1932, when The Standard and The Freeholder, both weeklies, merged. He retired in 1962.

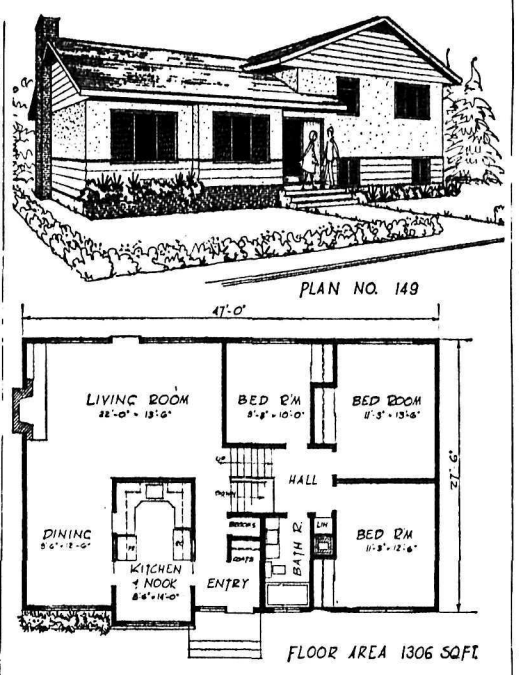
The Modern Home



A touch of the Tudor is evident in the design of this handsome split level, with mullioned diamond shaped window panes to carry out the theme.

This is a "rear-view" house, with living room at the back. Picture windows open to the view, french doors lead to the patio and garden. Outside wall fireplace suggests an infinite variety of furniture arrangements, while at the front the dining room and efficiently designed kitchen look out over the street.

Sleeping quarters are ideally secluded along with good sized bathroom, while a gracious entry and vestibule leads into the home lending a formal note, in keeping with the dignity of this handsome home.

This is a house that would look well in any district whether the surrounding homes be contemporary or traditional.

Picture Arranging Brings Out Best Decorative Scheme

The correct arrangement of picture groupings can point up a decorative scheme by focusing interest in one area, highlighting a furniture piece or achieving a balanced look.

In hanging single pictures or groups, the arrangement should be related to the available wall space, the lines of the furniture beneath it, and the rules of good balance.

* * *

The picture and frame institute suggests these tips for effective picture groupings:

Mark off an area on the floor approximately the same size as the wall space where the grouping will hang. Then arrange the pictures on the floor before hanging them on the wall.

For a large grouping, start with one important picture and build your arrangement around it. The key picture may be in the middle, on the top or on the bottom.

Arrange and rearrange your secondary pictures around the key picture until you get a pleasing over-all effect. Don't spread them too far apart because a narrower space between pictures will tend to give the feeling of one mass.

* * *

Try to balance the entire grouping so that the eye flows smoothly from one picture to another. If your eye is continually drawn to one side of the grouping, rearrange the pictures to achieve better balance.

After you have decided on a "floor" grouping, cut out a piece of paper large enough to hold the complete grouping. Lay the paper on the floor and draw the outlines of the pictures as you have arranged them on the paper. Mark the spot where the nail or hook will go.

Four Elements Needed To Create Beauty

CHICAGO, Ill. — Four elements are needed to create beauty and order in a room.

These elements are line, form, texture and color, and they should be combined properly in individual pieces as well as in the entire room.

Furniture with predominantly straight lines gives an appearance of stability and force while curved lines reflect graceful, delicate effects.

Every room contains both types of lines. But emphasis on straight lines produces a masculine or business-like effect.

Vertical lines create an illusion of height and slenderness, as in straight backed chairs. They usually are more formal than horizontal lines, which lead the eye across areas and create a short, wide effect.

The most common forms used are the square and rectangle, seen in sofas, chairs, chests and tables. There are no restrictions on the combination of forms, so long as they complement each other and create a desired effect.

Nubby, coarse textures go well with early American furniture and ranch homes. Soft, silky textures create an elegant appearance and combine well with formal furnishings.

Textures should be considered in connection with light absorbing or reflecting properties.

Windows Give Choice In Styles

The various types of windows on the market today can be chosen both for their function of admitting air and light as well for their appearance. The different types include:

Double hung windows, which slide up and down; casement types, which swing out on a verticle axis by means of a crank or lever, multiplane windows, which contain three or more panes of glass.

Awning windows, which swing out on a horizontal axis by means of crank control; jalousie types, which consists of a series of horizontal glass panes which swing out and upward simultaneously.

Horizontal sliding windows which slide open to the right or left; glass block windows, which are decorative and come in a variety of textures and patterns; the blocks may be clear or translucent.

Relaxed Room Needed Says Home Expert

NEW YORK, N.Y.—Fashion's been through its "relaxed" look in woman's clothing. The home may be next to be affected.

In this age of tension, one New York interior designer holds that every house should have one "relaxed" room; one where no one color or one piece of furniture figuratively shouts for attention.

Staniford Squire, the designer, says there's so much color today that sometimes it dominates decorating schemes until "people are the background."

He's all for color — in room settings, restaurants, offices and other design schemes he creates. Bright, clear poster colors are his tools because, as he explained, he is selling a production.

* * *

But in his own Manhattan apartment, beige and brown neutrals prevail as a "rest" from the bright shades with which he works all day.

"I like a lot of color, but not for myself," said Squire, a Californian who has had his own New York design firm for six years.

* * *

The designer said in an interview the "relaxed" room could be either living or dining room. The best way to achieve it: Use of monochromatic color schemes either in pastels or in the beige or grey neutrals.

Squire, a native of Pasadena, studied design at the University of Southern California and the Chouinard Art Institute and Art Centre, Los Angeles

Before setting up his own firm, he was decorating editor on one of the home furnishings magazines. He currently has design commitments to four national magazines.

The New York Racing association hired him to "face lift" the grandstand and clubhouse of the Saratoga track for its centennial this year. He did interiors for two restaurants at New York's Aqueduct track, and now has been commissioned to design trappings for clubhouse and grandstand when Belmont is rebuilt.

Squire's design approach is simple: "Don't use a fabric or a piece of furniture or any other element of design just because it's the newest. Use it because it is tasteful, colorful, functional and livable."

Color Changes Room's Measurements

The imaginative homeowner can work wonders with color to create a bright, fresh appearance. He can also seemingly change the shape of a room. For example, by using paint effectively he can make a small room look much larger than it is, bring interest to a square room, widen a long, narrow room, or raise or lower a ceiling.

Colors are often classified as being warm or cool. Red, orange, yellow and yellow-green are warm colors; they seem to advance toward you. Objects painted in these colors will seem smaller because of this apparent advance. Blues, violets, blue-greens and blue-grays are the cool colors. Because they seem to retreat from you, objects painted in these colors will seem larger.

Colors have another property, too, that of reflection. Light colors reflect more light and make objects seem farther away. Thus, a room painted in light colors will sem larger than one painted in dark colors. Dark colors make objects seem smaller and heavier and make things seem closer. Thus, an overly large room can be made more intimate by painting it in dark tones.

If a room seems too small, the walls and woodwork should be painted in light, cool colors. The pale colors make the walls visually recede and create the illusion of a larger room. Similarly, a low ceiling can be made to look higher if it is painted white or in a very light tint.

If a room seems too large, paint in in a dark or warm color to make it more inviting and smaller. The bold warm colors will transform a barnlike living room into a pleasant place to spend your time or entertain friends. If your ceiling is overly high, a dark or warm color will be most effective.

Tile Tricks

Talent, Color Work Wonders in Bathroom

There's no room like a bathroom when it comes to providing a setting for clever decorating tricks. Besides, experimenting with color in the bath can be done simply and inexpensively.

Most baths are an excellent background for exciting touches of color and interesting accessories. If you have new ceramic tile, chances are that the color is already there. On the other hand, if your tile is older, or chosen from a fairly neutral selection of shades, these tips are meant for you.

Study your bath and decide which color you wish to highlight.

Choose a patterned towel or curtain as your decorating motif.

Retain one basic color, but experiment with others. You can employ towels, mats, rugs, shower and window curtains to bring your changes.

Consider accessories such as sconces, jars and bottles, flowers, mirrors, little tables, stools and similar items to add variety.

Change the shape of your window or simulate one, where there isn't any, by the use of curtains.

Add shelves to store bathroom items which you want to keep handy.

Vary your lighting. Interesting lamps can be used in any number of ways to change or vary the entire feeling of the room.

"NO COLOR" LOOK EXCITES DECORATORS

The "no color" look is causing a buzz as one new approach to home decorating.

A number of situations may call for the no color or subdued effect in a room. Yours may be a sky high apartment with a view of city skyline.

You may have a country home generously glassed to frame the parade of seasons. Perhaps you collect brilliant art, or want your room to be a backdrop for a special hobby collection. You may simply prefer a muted background for interesting people and conversations.

Effective in these cases are black and white fabrics with occasional brilliant accent. Many prefer the variation of a mono*color effect in pastels.*

Fine wood becomes doubly important in these plans to add character to a room. A fine hardwood seems to gain richness and depth from subdued upholstery.

Hair Broom Brush Helps With Varnish

Proper care can prolong the life of varnish on a floor.

Experts list the following as the ways to treat and care for varnished floors:

A hair broom or an ordinary broom covered with a cloth bag, or even a dry, dustless mop should be used in cleaning.

Varnished floors should never be soaked with water. If water is spilled on the floor, it should be wiped up immediately.

Soiled spots can be cleaned with cloths damp with soap and water. As soon as dirt is eliminated, the floor should be dried.

When wear begins to show in an exposed floor area — a doorway or hallway, for example, dirt should be removed with a damp cloth. Then the surface should be gone over with fine sandpaper and a new coat of varnish is brushed out at the edges, the patch should not show.

FIRMS FIX PRICES?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. government charged Thursday that two leading manufacturers of light airplanes—Beech and Piper—have fixed prices and otherwise violated anti-trust laws. Two separate but similar civil anti-trust suits accused the firms of illegally fixing prices, allocating sales territories and forbidding their dealers to sell competing airplanes.

The Sports Scene

By PAT McMAHON

. . . Of this and that.

Health Minister Judy LaMarsh has announced the distribution of the government's $540,000 physical fitness grants for 1964. Priority was given to leadership training programs. Largest grant was $51,133, to expand the Canadian Legion's track and field clinic and establish coaching clinics in each province.

The Amateur Athletic Union of Canada picked off $50,383 to assist in holding national championships in boxing, fencing, gymnastics, weightlifting, handball and track and field; national coaching clinics in the above sports; a junior Olympics training plan for track and field competitors; and the cost of staging an international fencing competition. . . . That seems to be spreading the gold a little thin.

Thirty-seven national sports organizations will benefit from the grant. The Canadian Amateur Hockey Association will get $50,000. Among the other beneficiaries are the Canadian Lacrosse Association $2000; table tennis association $1200; Cycling Association $2052; Badminton Association $3300; Olympic Swimming Team $38,261; and a cricket group $5822, something for everybody.

The Regina Leader-Post predicts the folding of the present Saskatchewan Junior Hockey League, in favor of a "super" junior league comprised of teams from Brandon, Saskatoon Regina, Calgary, Moose Jaw, Edmonton and possibly two teams from Winnipeg . . . It sounds like a good idea if financing and transportation problems could be overcome. Senior hockey leagues would benefit by the better calibre player who would graduate from such a league.

While on the subject of hockey European interests are talking about forming a professional hockey league patterned after the NHL. The loop would be made up of eight teams from Germany, Switzerland, Austria and France. Canadian players would make up about half of the teams' personnel.

Winnipeg Blue Bombers have announced the signing of Ernie Pitts for his eighth season. Pitts who holds six conference records, is probably the best end ever to play in the Western Canadian Football League. Last year he was plagued by injuries. The loss of Pitts was probably the biggest single factor in the Bombers' drop from first place to fourth.

VANCOUVER (CP) — B.C. Lions accused Winnipeg Blue Bombers Friday night of violating regulations governing the Western Football Conference's Canadian equalization draft.

Herb Capozzi, Lions general manager, said the B.C. club has filed an official protest with Commissioner Sydney Halter and has advised him that Lions will oppose any selection by Winnipeg of a B.C. player.

Capozzi added in a statement. "We have proof that not only did Winnipeg have some one contact one of our players but they also advised this player as to the names of other players on the (unprotected) list.

Ailments Hurt Habs' Chances

JEAN BELIVEAU
. . . knee injury.

By JOE DUPUIS

STE. MARGUERITE STATION, Que. (CP)—An obviously worried coach Toe Blake pondered the grim prospect Friday of continuing the Stanley Cup hockey war without the services of his super star Jean Beliveau.

It was the cause for worried frowns from both Blake and his Montreal Canadiens players as they tried to relax in the mountain retreat where they spent four days prior to the start of their semi-final series with Toronto Maple Leafs.

Beliveau, the team's veteran centre who is having one of his finest seasons, injured his right knee when Toronto's Eddie Shack carried him into the boards in Thursday's fourth semi-final game at Toronto. Leafs won that penalty-packed game 5-3 to tie the series at two games each.

The teams play the fifth game tonight in Montreal, the sixth back in Toronto Tuesday and the seventh, if needed, in Montreal next Thursday.

Blake got hourly reports from Montreal on his big centre who was x-rayed to determine if any of the knee ligaments were torn. Blake said a final, conclusive report on Beliveau's injury may not be ready until today.

"It depends on how seriously the ligaments are torn, if any of them are," Blake said. "But I'm not counting on him for Saturday and I'll put Backstrom in there."

This means the Beliveau line of Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion and John Ferguson will be centred by Ralph Backstrom, one of the smaller men in Blake's charge, who has distinguished himself in the Toronto series.

CALL UP LAROSE

In Montreal, the Canadiens announced they are calling up Claude Larose, a right winger with Omaha of the Central Pro League, to fill in for the injured centre.

Larose played 21 games with Montreal in the regular season and picked up one goal and one assist.

The loss of Beliveau came on the heels of an ankle injury to speedy winger Gilles Tremblay, a 22-goal man during the season, lost to the team after the opener against Toronto.

Ferguson was the only other ailing player, bothered by a sore throat for which he was given penicillin.

Talking about the 5-3 loss Thursday to Toronto, Blake said the Canadiens played "very well" until the Leafs popped in those two quick second-period goals.

He said the first-period fight seemed to knock the Canadiens out of their lethargy but it was the Toronto penalty-killing team that beat them.

Blake said he barred the dressing room door to reporters after Thursday's game because he had nothing to say to them.

Sawchuk Definitely Won't Dress Sunday

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Sports Editor

CHICAGO (CP) — Terry Sawchuk's pain in the neck has become a big headache for Detroit Red Wings in their Stanley Cup semi-final series against Chicago Black Hawks.

The veteran goalkeeper will not be dressed for Sunday's fifth game here.

He'll be in traction for a pinched nerve when the Wings meet Hawks in the fifth game of the best-of-seven set with things all tied at two games apiece. And the Hawks have been murder at home against Detroit this National Hockey League season — six wins and a loss in seven outings.

"Sawchuk is definitely out of Sunday's game, but we hope he'll be available for the sixth game in Detroit Tuesday night," coach Sid Abel reported late Friday from the Wings' hideout at Toledo, Ohio.

A clue to his concern over outcome of the fifth game was given when he added:

"We aren't dead yet."

Maybe not, but there will be close to 20,000 Hawk fans available for pallbearer duty in Chicago Stadium.

Apart from a leg infection to defenceman Elmer Vasko, the Hawks are in good shape.

Not Desperate for Experienced Quarterback . . . Jungle Jim

MONTREAL (CP)—Coach Jim Trimble said Thursday his Montreal Alouettes of the Eastern Football Conference won't suffer any kind of "mortal blow" if the team fails to land an experienced quarterback for the coming season.

He is confident his two rookies of last season, Warren Rabb and Francis (Bubba) Marriott, and promising newcomer George Bork of Northern Illinois State, can get the job done.

"Rabb and Marriott were close, very close at the end of last season to giving us depth in that position," Trimble said in an interview. "Now with one year's experience in Canadian football, I feel very confident that they can get the job done."

Ironically, one of the established signal-callers he is after arrived in town unexpectedly this week. Dick Thornton, third-string quarterback with Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the Western Conference, arrived in Montreal to look for an off-season job.

Thornton majored in commercial and radio advertising at Northwestern State.

"Thornton came in to see me," Trimble said. "But it was just to say hello, and to say he was looking for an off-season job in Montreal."

"This thing could be dynamite," Trimble said of Thornton's appearance here. "For ethical reasons, I won't talk trade with him. Everything will have to be done with Bud Grant's complete blessing."

Trimble phoned Grant, coach of the Blue Bombers, in Winnipeg Thursday after Thornton's visit. "I talked to him about Thornton, and what he wanted for him. But he was still adamant. He hasn't changed his mind."

Originally, the Alouettes offered players and cash for Thornton or Ken Ploen, the Blue Bombers' first-string quarterback. The deal fell through when Grant insisted on a five-for-one player swap.

Maroons Down Port Arthur

FORT WILLIAM (CP)—Winnipeg Maroons moved a game closer to the Allan Cup here on Friday defeating Port Arthur Bearcats 6-3 in the first game of their best of seven western semi-final series.

More than 2400 fans watched the Maroons gain strength as the game, the final series in the Manitoba-Thunder Bay Senior League, progressed.

Port Arthur held a 1-0 lead going into the second period and led 4-2 at the end of 40 minutes of play. But Maroons scored four goals in the third period.

Penalties Hurt Brandon As Edmonton 'Kings Win

WINNIPEG (CP) — The defending Memorial Cup champion Edmonton Oil Kings bounced Brandon Wheat Kings 5-3 here Friday night in the first game of the Western Canada Junior Hockey semi-final.

A crowd of 7500 watched Oil Kings score three unanswered goals in the second period to floor the Wheat Kings, champions of the Manitoba Junior Hockey League.

The winner of this series meets either Estevan Bruins or Regina Pats for the Abbott Cup, symbolic of Western Canada Junior supremacy.

Butch Paul, Bert Marshall, Reg Taschuk, Greg Tomalty and Max Mestinsek scored for Oil Kings, who faced a 2-1 deficit at the end of the first period.

Two replacements allowed under CAHA regulations, forward Jim Irving and defenceman Terry Ball, both from Winnipeg Rangers and Jim Murray scored for Wheat Kings.

Brandon goalie Ken Kachulak blocked 37 shots, seven more than Russ Kirk of Edmonton.

Referee Al Paradise of Port Arthur, meted out 12 minor penalties in the hard-hitting game, seven to Brandon.

Mothers, Officials Knock Shack's Goat-Like Tactics

By DAVE BETTS

TORONTO (CP) — There wasn't a private detective in sight as Eddie Shack boarded the train for Montreal Friday afternoon.

Like a blind billy goat wandering into a wolves' convention, the hard-headed Toronto Maple Leaf winger was on his own for tonight's appearance in Montreal Forum for the fifth game of the Stanley Cup semi-final.

While his teammates were winning 5-3 here Thursday night, the rambunctious Shack butted and slammed two of Montreal Canadiens' biggest heroes.

Shack used his head to cut the skull of talented centre Henri Richard and then knocked captain Jean Beliveau out of competition with a body slam into the boards.

In what was described by NHL president Clarence Campbell as "a shabby trick," Shack opened a six-stitch cut on Richard's forehead by butting with his head while the two players had each other tied up.

Richard had been getting much the better of a first-period fight when the Leaf player resorted to his goat-like tactics.

In addition to the Shack-Richard affair, Thursday's game featured two other major brawls and the teams drew 30 penalties for a total of 102 minutes.

A spokesman for Maple Leaf Gardens said Friday the hockey emporium was deluged with calls from irate mothers of minor league and peewee hockey players.

"They said they were trying to teach their youngsters to play cleanly and were disgusted by the example set by the professionals," he said. "They complained mostly about Shack, but they also mentioned (Dave) Balon, (John) Ferguson and (Ron) Stewart."

EDDIE SHACK
. . .rough . . . butt definitely.

Toronto's Stewart drew tw major penalties and an autom tic misconduct for engaging B lon and Ferguson in knuckl cracking contests.

The series shifts back he Tuesday and if a seventh gam is necessary it will be playe in Montreal Thursday.

Young Hunters Instructed In Firearms Safety Rules

If future Nelson hunters don't establish a record of safety of which the entire community can be proud, it won't be the fault of Art Morton and his Junior Firearms Safety Committee.

Morton and five committee members devote a night each week to administering the B.C. Fish and Game Federation Junior Firearms Safety training course to 27 young Nelson hunters.

The committee, a division of the Nelson Rod and Gun Club, instructs boys in the 12 to 16 age group in everything from proper firearms handling methods to the dressing of game, after a hit. The youngsters are taught rifle and shotgun loading and shooting, game laws, safety practices in the field, first aid, range proceedure, gun handling and sighting ,bush survival and game conservation.

Emphasis is placed on safety rather than marksmanship. The boys are taught three basic rules with regard to gun handling:

1. Treat every gun as if it were loaded;
2. Always point the muzzle in a safe direction.
3. Be sure of your target.

The committee enjoys the wholehearted support of Nelson school authorities in their effort to create safety conscious young sportsmen. The schools aid with the scheduling of youngsters who are to take the course, and offer the use of their facilities wherever possible.

The training course is sanctioned by the B.C. Department of Conservation and Recreation and at its completion the boys will be given a comprehensive examination, conducted and marked by a B.C. conservation officer.

Trainees will be given a vision screening at 1:00 p.m. Sunday, at the Nelson Junior Higih School.

Dr. Desmond T. Littlewood will captain a team from the Kootenay Optometric Association, who will examine the boys for visual sharpness, eye-co-ordination, color discrimination and field of vision. A check will also be made to determine if the dominant eye is being used for rifle sighting.

ROD AND GUN CLUB INSTRUCTOR Bob Hawes gives a young sportsman pointers on how to handle a rifle properly as part of the B.C. Federation of Fish and Game Clubs' junior firearms safety training course. The course is governed by the B.C. Department of Conservation and Recreation.

A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE

'64 Chevrolet Impala Sport Sedan and (background) Impala Sport Coupe

'64 Jet-smooth Luxury Chevrolet

A hill is just something to admire the view from when you're driving a '64 Chevrolet. With engines up to a 425-hp V8*, getting from one side to the other wouldn't be much easier if somebody had put a tunnel there.

And if Chevrolet can go over a whole mountain so you hardly feel it, you can imagine how it goes over plain old bumps. Jet-smooth, of course. We put a big coil spring at all four wheels to soak up the bumps just as fast as they come.

As you'd expect, Chevrolet matches performance with outstanding luxury, inside that big beautiful Body by Fisher. All kinds of stretch-out room, wide thick-cushioned seats, yards of deep-twist carpeting and elegant fabric and vinyl upholstery — all make you feel good just being there.

With all its looks and luxury, you can see how anyone might get the idea that this great highway performer is a high-priced car. Unless, of course, they happened to look first at its reasonable Chevrolet price.

Douglas Urges Setup to Deal With Disasters

OTTAWA (CP)—T. C. Douglas, leader of the New Democrats, urged the government Friday to set up machinery for prompt action when civil disasters strike.

Mr. Douglas told the Commons that the federal government's role in meeting a disaster is limited until a plan is worekd out with the provinces, municipalities, charitable organizations and others. This delay could be avoided if some machinery was devised for automatic action in providing assistance to disaster areas.

Tinkering With Calendar Still Causes Tangles

By FRANCIS STILLEY

NEW YORK (AP)—This is supposed to be 1964—but is it?

There has been so much tinkering with the calendar through the centuries that it might still be 1963, or it might be 1965, or almost anything.

Days, months and years have been added to and taken from the calendar during bygone ages. Even our present one isn't precisely perfect.

Once the calendar had only 10 months, totalling 304 days, and the year began on March 25. People just ignored the remaining 61 days because they came in the winter and weren't fit for much anyway.

Later on, a couple more months were tossed in but the year kept coming out 10 days too short. That soon had the seasons fouled up, but good.

Then somebody got the bright idea of adding still another month of 22 or 23 days every other year. That didn't work either.

Finally Julius Caesar got fed up with the situation and ordered a complete overhaul of the calendar. His year came out with 365 days, plus an extra every fourth year, and started Jan. 1.

It was necessary for him to plunk in an extra year of 445 days to get things back on the right track. This was called "The Year of Confusion," No wonder.

MORE JUGGLING

But people weren't content to let well enough alone, and after Caesar's death they began monkeying around with the calendar again. Naturally, they got it out of whack.

Through the centuries there ensued a continuous juggling process.

The present system of numbering years is based on the birth of Christ. However, the birth date wasn't calculated until long afterward, and some biblical scholars believe it was several years before the start of the present calendar.

The present calendar was put into use in 1582 by Pope Gregory XIII, but it wasn't adopted by Britain and her possessions until the middle of the 18th century. In both cases, 11 days had to be skipped over to get it started.

It still isn't perfect because the solar year is not precisely 365¼ days long. It is 365.2422 days long.

That's 2 6 seconds a year difference, and in 3,323 years adds up to a whole day.

Boyle-ing Point

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

One way to keep peace in the family is to keep mum before meals. . . . A survey found that most quarrels between husbands and wives erupt just before the dinner hour.

Royal prerogative: Iran reserves its small output of golden caviar exclusively for the shah.

What are the odds against your being dealt a perfect bridge hand? . . . about 40,000,000 to one.

Ardent hobbyists sometimes impress us as being a bit balmy, but psychiatrists say no. . . . they have found that well-balanced individuals are more likely to have hobbies than those who are either neurotic or psychotic.

Quotable notables: "We owe to the middle ages the two worst inventions of humanity—romantic love and gunpowder."—Andre Maurois.

Prosperity note: some 74 per cent of American families now own automobiles. . . . incidentally, 14 per cent of family cars today are station wagons, compared with fewer than one per cent in 1940.

PEARL EASIER

Gag of the week: Lore Noto, a member of the Fantasticks cast, says it's easier for a girl to get a pearl out of an oyster than a diamond out of an old crab.

Folklore: If you knock over the pepper shaker, that's a sign company is coming. . . . You can also expect visitors if your eyebrow itches, you get two pieces of butter on your plate, or if a bumblebee flies in an open window in your home.

Champion host: The Roman emperor Nero was a pretty fair hand at staging orgies, but the biggest party-thrower in history was probably Xerxes, king of ancient Persia. . . . he put on one feast that lasted 180 days!

Quebec Autonomy Not Necessarily Good, Group Says

By ALEXANDER FARRELL

MONTREAL (CP) — Greater autonomy for Quebec or any other province would be a move in the wrong direction, one group decided Thursday at an unusual conference of Montreal businessmen.

The conference, Operation Rapprochement, brought 240 French - speaking and English-speaking Montreal businessmen together to discuss the problems that cause tension between Canada's two major ethnic groups.

There was considerable agreement that some redistribution of governmental powers in Canada is in order but a pronounced movement toward greater provincial autonomy "would be swimming against the current."

The conference was divided into seven groups to discuss various aspects of French-English relations in Canada, particularly as they affect business. Reporters were asked not to mention speakers in the group discussions by name.

Sponsors of the conference were La Chambre de Commerce des Jeunes de Montreal and the Montreal Junior Board of Trade.

TEACH ANOTHER TONGUE

One group, debating how Confederation could be turned into a more effective partnership, agreed that it would help a good deal if New Brunswick and Ontario allowed their French-speaking minorities to have public schools in their mother tongues.

In another group, one speaker said the English-speaking population will continue to play a "substantial" role in Quebec but "a better balance of ownership" between French and English would have to develop in the private sector of the economy.

It was becoming necessary for the English to speak French to a far greater extent and to achieve a better understanding of the French environment in which they live.

Discussion of the meaning of "equal partnership" in Canada led to the conclusion that both major ethnic groups should not only have their own language and instructions, but be able to participate fully in common institutions.

Wendy Raised Money by Nursery Rhymes

VANCOUVER (CP) — Fund-raiser Wendy Roydhouse, age six, who harvested nickels and dimes with nursery rhymes, is starting on a new campaign to help Alaska's earthquake victims.

"I'm trying to find my snow pants so I can send them up there, too," Wendy said Thursday.

Alaska's Governor William A. Egan received a letter, wrapped carefully around a Canadian dollar bill, which said only:

"To the dear children. This money is for you."

Wendy was the sender.

When a reporter dropped around to see her, she told this story:

"Daphne (Pappas) and I recited nursey rhymes along the block, and the people gave us money.

"We had to make them up first, and I don't remember them any more, but we made a dollar."

"Some of the rhymes were hard to remember," said Wendy. "I had to keep them in my brain."

Court Terms Sign Vulgar

NEW YORK (AP) — Robert Moses, head of the New York world's fair, won court permission Thursday to build a "spite fence" to spare fairgoers the message of a grocery chain sign across the way.

Supreme Court Justice Louis J. Capozzoli said the glow from the 10-foot-high red neon letters of the rooftop sign would be "generally and esthetically offensive to the theme and beauty of the fair."

The justice dismissed the complaint of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company. He denied the injunction sought by the company to prevent construction of a "spite fence conceived out of malice" because A. and P. is not participating in the fair, opening April 22 in Queens.

WINS PRESS AWARD

NEW YORK (AP)—Malcolm Browne, Associated Press correspondent in Saigon, was named Thursday as winner of the Overseas Press Club award for the "best daily newspaper or wire service reporting from abroad during 1963." Browne apparently was announced as winner of the Headliners' photojournalism plaque for his picture and story of the suicide by burning of a Buddhist monk. The same picture won the grand prize in the world press photo contest in the Hague.

Lull Settles In St. Augustine

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP)—Racial tensions appeared to ease Friday while a civil rights lawyer prepared to appeal a federal judge's refusal to take jurisdiction in the state's cases against demonstrators.

The lack of arrests Thursday and the departure Friday of a prominent demonstrator apparently marked a temporary halt to demonstrations.

Police arrested 285 persons between last Saturday and Wednesday, mostly for violations of the state's trespass laws.

Mrs. Malcolm Peabody, 72, mother of Massachusetts Governor Endicott Peabody, was scheduled to fly back to Boston Friday. She spent two days in jail on trespass charges and put up a $450 bond for her release.

The lull started Thursday when lawyers, Mrs. Peabody and other witnesses went to Jacksonville in an effort to have the federal court take jurisdiction in the state's cases against the jailed demonstrators.

JUDGE REFUSES

However, U.S. district Judge Bryan Simpson refused to take jurisdiction, saying regular county courts could handle the cases.

Simpson also refused to issue an injunction barring the St. Augustine police department from using trained police dogs for the control and breaking up of integration demonstrations.

The appeal was made by Mrs. Peabody and two other New England church women.

Meantime, William Kunstler, New York lawyer specializing in civil rights cases, said he would appeal Simpson's ruling to the Fifth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans.

Kunstler said he would seek a federal court order stopping trials of the 285 demonstrators until the appeals court rules on his petition. He also said he also would file a federal suit to test the state's trespass laws and their application.

Mrs. Peabody testified in court that she joined the integration movement because "all my life I have been concerned with discrimination and injustice. . . . Talking hasn't done any good."

She was arrested with a group of Negroes and whites while staging a sit-in demonstration at the Ponce de Leon Motor Lodge.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate continued debate Thursday on the 11-point U.S. civil rights bill, with Senator Jacob K. Javits, a New York Republican, urging that it be amended to protect civil rights demonstrators from police dogs and cattle prods.

Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon, a Democrat, also urged strengthening of the bill.

In a three-hour speech Javits attacked what he called police brutality against demonstrators. He referred particularly to use of police dogs and electrically charged cattle prods.

He said he would offer three amendments to the bill.

COLLECTION DIFFICULT

One would make local governments liable for injuries suffered by individuals injured by police. At present, only policemen and officials can be sued and Javits said collection of judgments is impossible or difficult.

Another would impose criminal penalties on officials refusing to provide normal protection to those involved in civil rights demonstrations.

A third would allow the attorney-general to initiate actions to end discrimination in state - or city-owned public facilities. As it stands, the bill permits the attorney-general to act only on request from individuals or groups after their initiation of such actions.

Stikker To Quit Nato

CP from AP-Reuters

PARIS—Dirk U. Stikker, secretary-general of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, announced Friday he is retiring in the middle of the summer.

Stikker, foreign minister of The Netherlands before becoming NATO's chief civilian official, did not set a definite date, presumably to allow NATO members time to agree on a successor.

Stikker, 67 next Sunday, told the permanent NATO council his health would not permit him to continue. He underwent a series of abdominal operations in 1962.

One possible successor to Stikker is the deputy secretary-general, Guido Colonna di Paliano of Italy. Another possibility is Gaetano Martino, former Italian foreign minister who has been active in various European unity movements. The choice by the 15 NATO members must be unanimous.

Stikker became secretary-general April 21, 1961, succeeding Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium, who had held the job since 1957. NATO's first secretary-general was Lord Ismay of Britain.

In a speech to the NATO council Stikker referred to Friday's 15th anniversary of the alliance and recalled he was the only member of the present council who actually signed the North Atlantic treaty in 1949.

He said the alliance "has halted Soviet aggression in Europe. It has brought into being the closest knit defensive alliance that has ever existed in time of peace."

WILL OPEN FAIR

LONDON (Reuters) — The Duke of Devonshire, minister of state for Commonwealth relations, will open the official British display at the Vancouver trade fair which is being held from May 13 to 23, it was announced here Thursday.

Judge Charged With Lying In Fraud Hearing

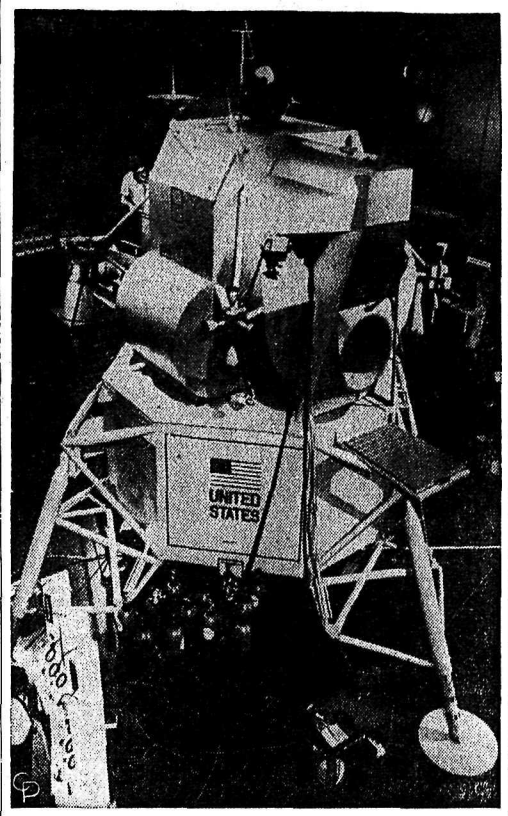
MONTREAL (CP) — A summons was issued Thursday against Mr. Justice Adrien Meunier of Superior Court and his bid to block legal action by the Crown was rejected.

The summons was issued by Judge Claude Wagner of criminal court, charging Mr. Justice Meunier lied on three occasions while testifying under oath before Judge Wagner at a preliminary hearing in a fraud case arising from a $64,000 bankruptcy.

Mr. Justice Meunier's petition for a writ to halt proceedings against him was turned down meanwhile by Judge Claude Prevost who ruled there was no legal basis for the writ.

Named to the bench last summer, Mr. Justice Meunier had been testifying at the preliminary inquiry about his connection with the case as a defence lawyer before his appointment. The 59-year-old Superior Court judge was also a Liberal member of Parliament for Montreal Papineau.

Judge Wagner presided over the inquiry, held in camera to determine whether there was enough evidence to bring the case before the courts. His precedent-sitting judgment recommended that criminal charges be laid against the Superior Court judge and six other persons.



MAN'S TAXI TO THE MOON—This is a full-size model of the space vehicle in which the first Americans are to land on the Moon, probably in 1969. It is on display at Grumman Aircraft Engineering, Bethpage, N. Y. The "taxi" is 20 feet high, 10 feet in diameter, has four legs, and windows.

Negroes Mourn Murdered White Church Teacher

NEW YORK (AP) —About 20 Negro children stood in front of the white man's coffin and sang, with tears streaming down their faces, Take The Lord With You Wherever You Go.

The dead man was David Watts, 29, small, fair and blue - eyed. Last week he was stabbed in the heart by an unknown Negro mugger on a Harlem street.

There were 500 Negroes at his funeral Wednesday night, and about a dozen whites—including his mother, whose air ticket from Seattle, Wash., was paid for by a Negro congregation.

Watts appeared in New York seven years ago. He joined the Advent Sabbath Church in Harlem, the lone white member, and taught a Sunday school class.

He walked about Harlem distributing religious literature, and kissing everybody he spoke to.

NEVER APPROVED

"I never approved of it," said his mother, Vera Mahoney, of her son's kissing custom. "But David just loved everybody. He always had a feeling for the person that was the underdog."

"He taught us how to sing real good and he went swimming with us. He was just like my own father," said a Negro boy.

A reporter asked the police about Watts.

"You get a young white guy wandering around Harlem followed everywhere he goes by kids and you check him out pretty good," said the officer. "David Watts was a wonderful man."

The police have assigned 25 men to find the killer.

"He belonged to all of us," said Rev. Thomas Hughes, pastor of the church Watts attended, and one of 19 ministers and evangelists at the funeral.

World Unity Before U.S. Nationalism Stevenson Warns

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Adlai Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, has warned Americans that they must forget nationalism and place world unity first—or the world is lost.

Stevenson issued his warning Thursday before the 96th charter anniversary ceremonies at the University of California. He and United Nations Secretary-General U Thant both warned the audience of the importance of the UN in achieving world peace. And both warned of the dangers of excessive nationalism.

Stevenson termed nationalism "the poison that slays us."

He said Americans must grasp stronger than ever before the "audacious dream" of world unity."

"If the United States does not press on," in support of world policing and world law, he said, "the world, I believe without rhetoric or exaggeration, is lost."

In his warning against nationalism, Stevenson said: "Twice in my lifetime our vaunted Western world has plunged the globe into near total war. And in Naziism it reached a pitch of hysteria which betrayed the fact that uncontrolled nationalism is now in many ways an incurably pathological condition.

"Yet, we still live with our passionate nationalisms.

"If our fateful interdependence does not move us, what can, what will? We have to accept it as the new irrevocable environment of our age. And if there is one lesson above all that history should impress on us, it is that we ignore our environment at our peril."

Both Stevenson and U Thant received honorary doctor of laws degrees from the university during the ceremonies.

U.S. Bishops Study English Use In Mass

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top clergy of the Roman Catholic Church in the United States arrived at decisions Thursday on the proposed use of English in place of Latin in celebrating the mass.

Archbishop John F. Dearden of Detroit, presiding at a meeting of nearly 200 archbishops, cardinals and bishops, said the group will have to wait for approval from Rome before making its decisions public.

However, a spokesman noted the American bishops already have gone on record as saying they will make full use of any power granted them to use the vernacular in church services.

Thursday's meeting was held in response to a directive from the Vatican council.

The council last Dec. 4 published a constitution on the liturgy which gave broad powers for the revision of the mass, sacraments and breviary.

That constitution also gives to territorial conferences of bishops the power to decide for their own territories the extent to which the vernacular is to be employed and also to approve the text which will be used.

Doctors To Found New Organization

MONTREAL (CP)—An international liaison committee of family doctors was established Thursday night as the first step towards the founding of a worldwide general practitioner organization.

The decision to set up the committee came in the form of a resolution approved by the international conference of general practice in the final session of its four-day meeting here.

The resolution states that the committee consist of "national colleges and academies of general practice, and where none exists, equivalent organizations dealing with the educational standards of the general practitioner."

The organization would provide mutual friendship, correspondence and help and would have its own publication.

Soldier Found Free of Spinal Meningitis

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Military and civilian doctors said Friday tests proved that a soldier, suspected of being infected with spinal meningitis, does not have the dread disease which touched off a scare extending halfway across the United States.

The scare resulted in guarantine of 37 other soldiers and six of their dependents and a warning to several hundred civilians who had travelled with the soldier aboard a Frisco train to Oklahoma City from St. Louis, Mo.

The suspected carrier, Pte. Kenneth R. Murray of Marietta, Ohio, was examined by Dr. Bruce Lemmon at Burge Hospital in Springfield, Mo.

Col. J. B. Miller, executive officer at the U.S. Army hospital at Fort Sill, Okla., said Lemmon reported that tests show Murray "does not have meningitis, nor is there any meningitis involved" in ailments which Murray had complained about.

The doctor said Murray had suffered for about five weeks from mononucleosis, sometimes known as "kissing disease."

Arctic to Gulf of Mexico Dream Comes True This Year for Youths

VICTORIA (CP) — A 7,000 - mile inland voyage from the Arctic to the Gulf of Mexico is shaping up for four youths this summer, thanks to the lifelong dream of one of them, 18-year-old Mark Dickinson.

The four will leave by rail toward the end of June for Waterways, Alta., where they will launch two 18-foot fibreglass boats powered by 100-horsepower outboard motors for a trip to the Mackenzie River via Lake Athabasca and Great Slave Lake.

They hope to go down the Mackenzie as far as the Arctic Ocean before returning to Aklavik, N.W.T., for the start of their southbound voyage.

If their maps are accurate, only two portages will be necessary. They'll take the train from Waterways to Edmonton to avoid rapids on the Athabasca and again near Minneapolis, Minn., in switching to the Mississippi River system for the last leg to New Orleans.

USED TO BOATS

Dickenson has worked at his father's marina for nine years and has owned his own boat for eight of them.

Gerald Scholefield, 19, has worked at marinas for six years and had his own boat for two of them. An undergraduate arts student at University of Victoria with an eye to becoming a journalist, he will be the expedition's historian - photographer.

The third member of the quartet is Richard Day, 19. A former junior vice-commodore of Maple Bay Yacht Club here, he has been racing small yachts for 10 years.

Mechanic for the trip will be Harry Ford, 19, of Calgary, who has had many years' boating experience.

All four are graduates of Victoria's Brentwood School.

Dickinson says he has been working on plans for the trip full time since September. He now has a briefcase full of information and a memory that will recall at the drop of a hat the expected total gas consumption and mileage from place to place.

He also has records on the location of outboard motor cruising clubs, gasoline depots and isolated outposts and has made complete scale drawings for loading the boats.

He estimates they will need 2,500 gallons of gasoline and will consume about $500 worth of food.

At the start of the southward journey the boys will retrace their route from Aklavik to Waterways. Then comes the rail trip to Edmonton where they join the North Saskatchewan River system.
