Legion Regrets Outburst

WINNIPEG (AP) — Apologies [illegible]red out to a word-weary [illegible]me Minister Pearson Monday [illegible]owing Sunday night's rowdy [illegible]eption when he took his flag [illegible]mpaign into the enemy's camp [illegible] was given a vicious verbal [illegible]lling.

The dominion command of the [illegible]yal Canadian Legion, whose [illegible]mbers shouted the prime [illegible]ster into a temporary sub-[illegible]ssion on the flag question, [illegible]de it clear Monday it regret- [illegible] — and was embarrassed by [illegible] very interjection that was [illegible]d at the prime minister.

"I feel so badly about this," [illegible] Judge C. C. Sparling, the [illegible]ion's dominion president. "We [illegible] so very, very sorry it hap-[illegible]ed. We thought we had every-[illegible]g under control, but some [illegible]mbers let their feelings run [illegible]."

Mr. Pearson battled with his [illegible]klers at the opening cere-[illegible]nies of the legion's annual [illegible]vention when he placed the [illegible] issue firmly before about [illegible] delegates and their wives [illegible] said he "most sincerely" [illegible]eves Canada should have a [illegible]tinctive new flag with a maple [illegible]f design.

[illegible]t the first mention of a new [illegible], the tension-filled theatre [illegible] loose a yelling endorsation [illegible]he red ensign, and from then [illegible] Mr. Pearson was edging [illegible]ough a minefield, his words [illegible]iting one blast of reaction [illegible]r another.

29 Floats, 10 Bands Add To Mammoth Blossom Parade

CRESTON — The 23rd annual Blossom Festival parade was witnessed by a crowd of 12,000 to 15,000 visitors and valley residents here Saturday. The parade was the third largest in Creston's history. A total of 29 floats, 10 bands and numerous drill teams took part in the procession.

Sol beamed on Saturday's Creston Blossom Festival mammoth entertainment as the parade fell into place on the school grounds, the various sections providing an impressive sight for visitors, with imaginatively executed floats, beautiful queens, precious old cars, restless horses and smartly uniformed bands.

Bright, bobbing spots of color marked antics of a handful of clowns. Rugged, dun-colored figures loping amongst their fellow paraders were the cro-magnon cave dwellers, who were Dr. Endicott Home campaigners.

Focal point of all the displays was the Blossom Festival Queen float, with 1964 Blossom Queen Donna Billey surrounded by her court of Joyce Ruby, Jill Armitage, Joan Phillips, Sharon Zorn, Cathy Ryckman and Loretta Salvador, a tableau to complement the beauty of the valley's fruit blooms.

The parade was led by a color guard of Royal Canadian Legion members and Royal Canadian Engineers, Creston branch. Visiting dignitaries included Mayor J. Palyga, Trail; James Byrne, MP for Kootenay East; Mayor A. Downey, Grand Forks; Mayor White, Fernie; Alderman H. Farenholtz of Nelson; H. L. Dodd, chairman of the Creston Village Commission; W. E. Hearn, chairman of Village Commissioners, Salmo; Leo Nimsick, NDP-MLA for Cranbrook-Kimberley; Hon. W. D. Black, provincial secretary; Mayor Swan, Kimberley; Mayor Wombacker, Bonners Ferry; and Tak Toyota, Blossom Festival Association chairman. Parade marshal was Roy Dewar, Creston.

Judges for the event were Creston citizens: J. Moffitt, Mrs. J. Miller and Mrs. R. Vogel.

LINKS OF FRIENDSHIP

West Kootenaians enjoyed a "guest-of-honor" feeling as a majority of floats in a spectacular parade welcomed them with a "links of friendship" theme, simulated mountains crossed by golden links joining Kimberley, Cranbrook, Creston, Riondel, Trail, Salmo and Nelson. The Kootenay Skyway was a major melody in the "east-meets-west" chorus.

One display of beauty came from across the border with Miss Bonner's Ferry, Linda Reynolds, and princesses Candy Brazier and Jill Witt honoring the United States community on its centennial. A gigantic birthday cake provided the setting for this royal trio, and the float was awarded first prize in the patriotic section for the Bonner's Ferry Knights of Columbus.

Second in this section was the Erickson Cub and Brownie pack float, on which a bevy of Cubs and Brownies were busily working at the various tasks they accomplish to win their badges. Third in the class was the Creston Kiwanis Club float. This depicted gold links joining Creston (elevators) to Trail (smelter) over the Kootenay Pass.

An elaborately crafted and enormous lamp of learning, the lamp gold and a setting of white and purple, won the students' council of Prince Charles Secondary School first prize in the organizations' section. The proposed Dr. Endicott School (Pine Grove School) in miniature was awarded second in this classification and the Elks Lodge of Creston and Fraternal Order of Eagles, also of Creston, tied for third place. The Elks' float was a representation of the mountains separating East and West Kootenay, surmounted by golden chains leading from Kimberley, Cranbrook (logging industry), Creston (holsteins) and Riondel with Trail (CM&S), Salmo, and Nelson (lake and bridge). The Eagles' theme was the same.

In the rural section, the Holstein Breeders' Assocation of Creston won first prize with a tableau of the dairy industry, showing farms on the Salmo side sending milk over the Kootenay Skyway by truck to the plant at Creston.

The Deer Lodge Club of Lister won second prize with its float representing an old river boat containing a tableau of life as it used to be (spinning wheel, old cook stove, hillbilly band) and a signpost denoting progress with "Kootenay Pass 1964" indicated on it.

The Kootenay Valley Ayrshire Club won third place with its little milkmaids and cow "Pride of the Kootenays."

KOOTENAY WEDDING

One of the most striking east-west floats was the prize-winning entry in the commercial class of Tak's Electric Ltd. This showed the wedding of the Kootenays — with junior bridal procession models posed under two enormous wedding rings, the minister standing under the traditional bower and a specially decorated wedding cake completing the tableau.

From the hive to candle was theme of the second place winner in the commercial section, the Western Bees Wax Company, of Creston, and third prize winner, the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce, won third place with its exhortation to "save."

As the only entry at the time of judging, the Mountain View Service won first prize in the humor section with its hillbilly-styled 1927 DeSoto and "Joe's Joint" advertised on the side.

BANDS AND BANDS

There were other entries in the parade worth mentioning, some of them not in competition. The bands, as bands always do, added zest to the parade, the Nelson City Band joined with the Creston Royal Canadian Legion Band, the Kootenay Kiltie Band, the Trail Branch Royal Canadian Legion Pipe Band; the Trail - Rossland Shrine Club Band; the East Kootenay Shrine Club Band; the Bonner's Ferry Band and majorettes, the Stanley Humphries Secondary School Band of Castlegar, the Prince Charles Secondary School Band of Creston, the High School Girls' Bugle Band of Cranbrook, with red jackets and white skirts and boots, and the St. Eugene Mission Pipe Band with their feathered headdresses.

Dancing along the sides of the parade were clowns and the hairy-headed stone age men who were aided in their collection for the Dr. Endicott Home fund by one of their number roaring in and out of the parade in a "Flinstone car." Also weaving around to interrupt the pattern of the parade were the Shrine Club members from Salmo, who intricately manoeuvred a motor scooter with trailer seats, familiar at many parades in the area.

Valley Automotive's float advertised that "we stand behind our machines—but not this one" (a manure spreader).

An interesting note in the parade was the 1924 Reo fire engine driven up from Bonner's Ferry with a license denoting "Idaho Old-Timer."

LISTER EXPRESS

A hoarse whistle and belching smoke indicated the arrival in the parade of the Old Lister Express of 1897, an old-type engine drawing an open coach and caboose peopled with old-fashioned passengers.

A number of horses participated in the parade, their riders including the Maverick Club of Cranbrook. Several little horsemen were riding "real Injun style," their hair shaved except for a strip down the middle and their upper bodies bare and painted with "war paint." Both army and navy cadets also participated.

Besides the aforementioned winners, the floats included: Creston District Credit Union; 4H Sewing Club of Lister, BPO Elks, Creston Builders Supply, Oddfellows, Job's Daughters, Creston Branch, Sherwood Forest Campground, Knights of Pythias, Creston Board of Trade, Valley Automotive, Trail-Rossland Float, Creston Valley Minor Hockey Association, Oddfellows of America, Junction Machinery, Creston Jaycess, Trail Jaycees, Lister Community, Bob Nelson Motors, City of Fernie, Lions' Queen Float, Creston Volunteer Fire Department, Creston Valley Ambulance Association, Provincial Civil Defence Emergency Vehicle, Bee Building Supply Company of Nelson, Creston Valley Advance and the Edmonton Sky Diving Club. A total of 40 entries were accepted by Festival officials.

First Degrees, Awards Presented at NDU

[illegible]ith pomp, ceremony and the [illegible]rsonal touch which large uni-[illegible]rsities no longer have, Notre [illegible]me University of Nelson con-[illegible]rred its first seven degrees [illegible]turday afternoon in the Civic [illegible]eatre.

Presented by Most Rev. W. E. [illegible]yle, Bishop of Nelson and [illegible]ancellor of NDU, and anoun-[illegible]d by Rev. Aquinas Thomas, [illegible], president of the university, [illegible] degrees were awarded to [illegible]o Hendrix of Nelson, B.A. with [illegible] major in education; William [illegible]ng of Kamloops, B.A.; Phillip [illegible]Doux of New Westminster, BA [illegible]h major in philosophy; Archi-[illegible]ld Patrick, of Fraser Lake, [illegible]: James Ring of Kamloops, [illegible] with a major in philosophy; [illegible]tonio Rogolino of Edmonton, [illegible] with a major in philosophy; [illegible]illiam Stade of Richland, Washington, BA with a major in English language and literature.

A total of 20 awards were made. Miss Pauline Apiou of Hong Kong received the academic award of Juricks' Jewellery in Trail for the highest cumulative average during two or more years attendance at the university.

The athlete of the year award was made jointly to Doug Flynn of Victoria, and Miles Desharnais of Cranbrook. The men's citizenship award, to be given to a graduating senior, went to Phillip LeDoux, with honorable mention going to Leo Hendrix.

DRAMA WINNERS

Two drama trophies were given. The acting award for the play "Coriolanus" went jointly to Miss Elizabeth Snowden of Kelowna and Peter Carling of Honeymoon Bay, and the production award to Miss Claudia Gwinn of Spokane.

The Archbishop Johnson scholarship for the graduate with the highest average in his senior year was won by Antonio Rogalino who has never had less than 80 per cent. He plans a career in social work.

The theology awards for the student with the highest theology mark in each grade went to: Sister Marie Georgette, SEJ, Vancouver; Miss Pauline Apiou; Mrs. Lorraine Flynn, Grand Forks; and James Ring.

Three awards donated by the French government for students majoring in French who achieve excellence went to Sister Marie Georgett; Sister Jeannine Marie, SEJ, Vancouver; and Miss Apiou.

Presented by Mrs. E. J. Kambick of Rossland, education chairman of the Nelson diocese, CWL of Canada, the Catholic Women's League scholarship, which goes to a member of the Nelson diocese, was awarded to Miss Bonne O'Byrne Eyre.

FIRST YEAR HIGH

The Nelson Diocesan scholarship for the student from the diocese who achieves the highest grades in the first year on a minimum of four papers went to Colin Fabro, Kimberley, with an average of 84.5.

Highest second or third year student in the diocese receiving a Nelson Diocesan scholarship was Mrs. Alice Foley, Nelson, with 85 per cent. Runner-up was Walter Kuit, Castlegar, with 83 per cent.

In his valedictory address, James Ring said the principles and ideals of dedicated professors had taught the graduates to see the wonders of life.

"In the world of today, each of us can transform the world for freedom, for dignity, for eternal love of infinite value," he said. He felt their lives should be directed toward progress.

"May our lives as future leaders of society bear the fruits of the seeds you have so diligently planted and patiently nurtured," he concluded.

In addressing the graduates, Rev. Aquinas Thomas, SA, likened Notre Dame and its part in their formation to the passage in the gospel according to St. John which deals with a woman giving birth.

"The pains, doubts, fears have been great," he said.

He spoke of modern education with its emphasis on science, technology, and earning a salary, and said that parents and students are beginning to suspect that something is missing somewhere.

He felt that without God and philosophy in education, only frustration and a seeking for that which could not be found could result. "You can't restrict intelligence," he said.

SKILLS SECONDARY

He believed a human being should have the right to an education which would develop his own humanities. In adjusting to society, special skills were important, but must remain secondary in importance.

The task of education, he said, is the freeing of man so that he may know truth in all its amplitude. Science, philosophy and theology together produce an integrated science.

He turned to the role of the teacher in producing an integrated personality, and said that the overall unity and vision of greatness must be the result of the teacher's wisdom.

"Ability to give vision, meaning, and unity is the very soul of teaching. It makes it alive and buoyant," he said.

He referred to teaching as a noble art when it develops free men in the true sense of the word. He felt that freedom of choice is important in learning for one must know truth and love good.

On the subject of philosophy, he said a university without philosophy becomes one of "isms" which has no unity. He believed there was a failure to recognize an existing hierarchy among sciences with philosophy in its proper place.

The student should realize how his specialty fits into the picture of wisdom. "Society gets from most university students, not leadership, but confusion," he contended, saying that it is an unnecessary situation.

READY TO INTEGRATE

"We are ready for integrated and integral education," he said, "enriched by science, unified by philosophy, and inspired by theology." He concluded by saying the new age should be an age of synthesis.

Mayor E. T. Bodard thanked the university for having its first exercises in the Civic Centre, which was the first of its kind in the province. He said that with the university in Nelson, local children can remain here for their education.

"I welcome the fact," he said, "that we can see our children remain with us from the cradle to the grave to help us build Nelson."

He said that those at the Coast will have to learn that there are four universities in B.C. and the fourth will be the biggest and most important in the province.

The convocation opened with the Notre Dame choir under the direction of Rev. Dr. L. R. McKenzie, singing "The Lord's Prayer." Don Odie was soloist. The choir and violin soloist Ron Pazder then presented "Ave Maria," with Meldy Hewer at the organ. Other selections followed the awarding of trophies.

Pearson Describes Flag He Favors

WINNIPEG (CP) — Prime Minister Pearson indicated Monday the design he favors for a new Canadian flag is a white background, with three big red maple leaves and vertical blue bars at each side.

This design, and another similar flag without the blue bars, were shown at a press conference attended by Mr. Pearson.

He said these two were being considered "along with about 300 others," but there were indications they were the two most favored.

The prime minister said that while no decision has been made on the design, and the question had not been discussed with his cabinet yet, he thought the people "should have the chance of looking at them."

He said both flags were "very impressive designs," and at another point he said he had a "hankering" for the blue edged flag.

However, he understood that the blue bars were not correct from a heraldic point of view. He did not say how important this might be in reaching a decision.

The prime minister also indicated that legislation on the proposed new flag would soon be introduced in Parliament. He used the expression "days or weeks" in a reference to the legislation.

Three Youths Killed in North Shore Crash

Plane Wrecked, Pilot Safe In Near Collision at Creston

CRESTON — A Cessna 180 is a total wreck following an accident Sunday at the Creston airport from which the plane's pilot escaped without injury after being within a split second of collision with a Mustang fighter plane.

A handful of spectators and teams of skydivers watched unbelieving as the Mustang, which was scheduled to do stunt flying for the Creston Blossom Festival skydiving program, flew in low over the airport and the Cessna, which carried the skydivers to their jumping off points, came in for a landing from the opposite direction.

"Neither pilot saw the other until they were quite close," said a spokesman Monday. "The Cessna was just about to touch down when he saw the Mustang and he tried to turn. His right wing hit the ground, the plane did a half cartwheel and stopped. The Mustang pilot saw the other plane at about the same moment and pulled up and away. The Cessna's right wing hit the ground and the plane did a half cartwheel and stopped.

"The pilot, Donald Mark Hinrichs of Pullman, Wash., got out unhurt."

The spectators, who could not believe the planes were headed dead on as they approached one another, broke into a run and cars roared out over the field to the downed plane as the Mustang circled overhead before commencing its stunting. Pilot of the Mustang was G. Wolton of Calgary.

Officials explained the accident resulted from a misunderstanding in radio communication.

"All the pilots at the local airstrip were briefed as to the time the Mustang was coming and advised to guard 122.8 mc. on their radios. All the aircraft here had radios and were tuned in on this frequency. The Mustang was due to arrive at 3 p.m. and the jumper aircraft (two flying and one on the ground) were all on the ground at 2:50 p.m. At this time, a phone call from Cranbrook came in and advised that the Mustang would not arrive until 3:15, so it was decided to take one more flight of jumpers up.

"After the jumpers bailed out, an attendant in a plane on the ground radioed to the Cessna which took the jumpers up, and asked if he could contact the Mustang from up there above the mountains. The Cessna pilot tried several times, and then reported that he could not make contact and proceeded to let down. The attendant on the ground left his radio and went to the hangar to phone Cranbrook to find out if there was further delay.

The Mustang entered the valley to the north and called in on his radio. The Cessna pilot answered and asked the Mustang's position.

The Mustang pilot thought he was talking to the plane on the ground and replied that he would be in in two minutes.

The Cessna made a standard approach from the south and at the same time the Mustang approached from the north, thinking all was clear."

The RCMP arrived on the scene immediately. Department of Transport investigators will look the situation over. The planes are privately owned. The Mustang belongs to pilot Wolton and the Cessna is owned by Dr. Ross of Spokane.

Creston Gymkhana Real Family Event

By JEAN BAKER

CRESTON — "Look at that little guy go!" "That's a delicate turn." "Work on him!" — rang out over the rodeo grounds at the Creston Blossom Festival gymkhana Saturday.

In the arena, horses twisted and turned in figures demanded of them in pole bending and barrel racing, under a sunny sky, with a cool breeze taking the worst of the heat off.

This was a family event, not only for spectators but for the competitors. In the barrel racing, Lester Beller of Cranbrook placed first on his quarter horse and his daughter, Jackie, paced him in second place on her buckskin.

Jackie, 18, and her horse grew up together — he is 18 also — and although retired, took over in place of Miss Beller's other horse, which was ill. In a later race, senior pole bending, Jackie turned the tables on her father and nudged him out of second place.

Another family displaying horsemanship was the Grainger group from Fort Steele. Cliff Grainger and his son Lorne tied for third place in the hide race; Lorne was third in the cloverleaf barrel race, and Lorne's sister Jean placed first in the ribbon race and water relay.

Darrel Stone, 17, of Cranbrook, who placed third in the rescue race, was there with his Arabian stallion. Also attending were his brother Guy, 19, with his Arabian stallion. The two boys bought these horses four years ago as yearlings. Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Stone accompanied their sons to the gymkhana. Mrs. Stone has an Arabian mare.

The boys plan on raising thoroughbreds and have built their stables and paddocks three miles south of Cranbrook. They are expecting their first foal this spring.

BROTHER ACT

Two brothers whose names cropped up often in the competition were Kris Carlson, 17, of Fruitvale, and his brother Glen, 13. Both boys were riding Flicka, an eight-year-old.

Kris placed first in the rescue race, and Glen first in the junior pole bending. Both boys have been ridng since they were four years old.

A little Welsh pony that won 23 ribbons during last summer's competitions, and holds two trophies, carried Mary McGhie of Fruitvale and her son Jimmy, through the competition. Mrs. McGhie won the senior pole bending with the dainty, perky little animal and Jimmy won the junior barrel race. Looking on was Mr. McGhie, unable to ride since he has just had a cast removed from his leg. Another son, Bill, also rides in competitions.

A Creston family made themselves known in the junior competition with Jerry, Tommy and Terry McCurrach running first, second and third, respectively, in the ribbon race; Timmy and Jerry tying for third place in the barrel race, and Timmy McCurrach placing second in the pole bending.

The Creston Valley Riding Club was in charge of the gymkhana.

Results follow:

Hide race—1. Tom Floer; 2. Cecil Allan, Creston; 3. Lorne and Cliff Grainger (tied), Fort Steele.

Ribbon race—1. Jean Grainger, Fort Steele; 2. Tom Floer, Creston; 3. Fred Ogoloff, formerly of Grand Forks and now of Creston.

Cloverleaf barrel — 1. Lester Beller, Cranbrook; 2. Jackie Beller, Cranbrook; 3. Lorne Grainger.

Rescue race—1. Kris Carlson, Fruitvale; 2. Gary Hine, Creston; 3. Darrel Stone, Cranbrook.

Water relay—1. Jean Grainger, 2. Fred Ogoloff; 3. Cecil Allan.

Pole bending—1. Mary McGhie, Fruitvale; 2. Jackie Beller; 3. Kris Carlson.

Junior Competition:

Pole bending—1. Glen Carlson; 2. Timmy McCurrach, Creston; 3. Trevor Petersen, Creston.

Ribbon race—1. Jerry McCurrach; 2. Timmy McCurrach; 3. Terry McCurrach.

Barrel race — 1. Jimmy McGhie; 2. Glen Carlson; 3. Timmy and Jerry McCurrach (tied).

Cliff Lovestrom of Creston won the money for catching the pig.

Nearly 700 Hear Battle Of Bands

CRESTON — Close to 700 people packed the PCSS auditorium Sunday evening to hear five bands compete for championship trophies.

Competing bands included the Chevelles (Trail-Fruitvale), the Tycons (Cranbrook), the Invaders (South Slocan), the Venturas (Kimberley), and the Wildcats (Trail).

Judges for the evening were Orla Anderson, Brian Staples, Gene Anderson, Sandy D'Aquino, Buddy Marr and Pat Johnson.

One official gave the estimated cost of trophies and operation at approximately $225 and expressed the wish for continuation of such a contest in future years. The Blossom Festival Association, under chairman Tak Toyota, backed this year's program. However, it was thought another contest could be run by private individuals.

Fred Veregin of Creston was commended for his initiative and unceasing efforts which made his original idea of such a contest develop into such a tremendous success.

Trophies were awarded to the following:

Best band, Tycons of Cranbrook; best drummer, Chevelles of Trail-Fruitvale; best electric guitar, Wildcats of Trail; best bass guitar, Tycons of Cranbrook; best vocalist, Chevelles of Trail-Fruitvale; best saxophone, Tycons of Cranbrook.

The bands were judged on a points basis in the categories of overall appearance, showmanship, dress, footwork, crowd response; style, originality, selections, variations of program presented, difficulty (if any) encountered; musical ability, and individual ability.

Syringa Creek Resident Dies

Funeral services will be held Tuesday, from Grace Presbyterian Church in Kinnaird, for Syringa Creek resident, Mrs. Sarah Istvanffy, who died at her home May 16, at the age of 75.

Born in Sydney, Nova Scotia, Feb. 14, 1889, Mrs. Istavanffy came west in 1912. She taught school in Saskatchewan and Champion, Alta., where she met Lionel Stephen Istavanffy. They were married in 1917. They settled in Irricana, Alta., in 1918 and moved to Syringa Creek in 1948.

She is survived by her husband and two sons, Daniel of Edmonton and Stephen of Kingston, Ontario; three daughters, Mrs. G. (Theresa) Little of St. Mary's, Ont.; Mrs. Richard (Margaret) Coates, Revelstoke, and Miss Katherine Istvanffy of Creston; 16 grandchildren and one brother, Daniel MacMillan, of Sydney, N.S.

Boys Thrown From Car In 50-Foot Dive Off Road

Tragedy was injected into the long holiday weekend with the death of three young men, resulting from a motor vehicle accident 11 miles north of Nelson Saturday night.

Killed instantly were 19-year-old Allen James Nadeau of Nelson and 18-year-old Einar Anthony Linn of Kaslo.

Owner of the 1962 convertible car, 20-year-old John Ernest Drummond Cox, died 18 hours later in Kootenay Lake General Hospital as a result of his injuries.

Police said the car was proceeding along a straight stretch when it went out of control and crashed down a 50-foot bank, landing upside down on a rocky beach.

All three were thrown out of the car when it hit a tree part way down the embankment. The car continued down and landed on its roof, a complete wreck.

There were no witnesses to the accident and driver of the car has not been ascertained by Nelson RCMP.

Coroner William Evans is conducting an inquiry.

Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roderick Nadeau, 904 Josephine Street, was born in Red Deer, Alberta, in 1944 and came to Nelson the same year with his parents.

He received his education in Nelson, graduating from L. V. Rogers High School two years ago. Since then he worked for T. & H. Sawmills Ltd. at Kaslo until last fall when he returned to Nelson, where he was employed as an apprentice car repairman with Canadian Pacific Railway.

Besides his parents he is survived by two brothers, Joseph of Nelson and Adelard of Prince George; four sisters, Mrs. Joe (Blanche) O'Brien of Burnaby, Mrs. Kenneth (Barbara) Jennings of North Kamloops, Mrs. Gerald (Corine) Iwanik of Castlegar, and Miss Cherie Lynne of Nelson; and a grandmother, Mrs. Exina Nadeau, of Pasadena, Calif.

NELSON NATIVE

John Cox, son of Mrs. Frances Dubois, was born in Nelson in 1944 and attended school in Harrop, Procter, Nelson, Vancouver, Kitimat and Banff. He left school at an early age to help his younger brother with his education.

He worked in sawmills and on general construction jobs in the area. He also was employed at Ashcroft Copper Mine and at Blue River in Northern B.C.

At the time of his death he was employed as a laborer at Kootenay Forest Products Ltd.

Surviving are his mother, a sister, Georgette of Nelson; two brothers, Roger and Thomas, both of Nelson, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Andrews of Nelson.

His father and a brother predeceased him in 1951.

Einar Linn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Einar A. Linn of Kaslo, was born in Brighton, Sussex, England, in 1946 and he came to Canada with his mother that year to Lethbridge.

His father served with the armed forces overseas. In 1947 he moved with his parents to Kaslo where he received his education with the exception of two years which he took at St. Patrick's in Lethbridge.

He had been employed at T. & H. Sawmills since August, 1963.

Besides his parents he is survived by a brother, Michael, and sister, Mary, at Kaslo.

Mrs. H. Leslie Dies in Nelson

A native of Ireland, Mrs. Henry Leslie died at her home, 206 Pine Street, Sunday morning, aged 78.

Born in Cresslough, County Donegal, Ireland, in 1886, she was married in Glenavy, County Antrim, in 1910.

They came to Canada in 1913, residing at Beaver Mines, Alberta, until her husband enlisted with the 13th Canadian Mounted Artillery.

Mrs. Leslie then returned to Ireland where she lived until the end of World War I. They journeyed back to Canada, settling in the Pincher Creek area for seven years before continuing west to Nelson in 1926.

In 1945 they moved to Vancouver returning to Nelson in 1959.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Leslie is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Charles (Isabelle) Cotterill and Mrs. H. (Nellie) Olson, both of Nelson; two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Nichol and Mrs. Agnes Logan both of Cremlin County Antrim, Northern Ireland and three grandchildren.

Festival Crowd Thrills To Sky Diving Contests

By JEAN BAKER

CRESTON — Earth-bound spectators lined the lower Wynndel road Sunday afternoon to watch the Creston Blossom Festival sky diving program, and were in turn seen from a viewpoint familiar only to the sky diving fraternity.

In a few seconds' free fall, followed by a couple of minutes or so of swinging over the expanse of green and ploughed fields, the sky divers strove to combat a wind which was strong enough to make record target jumping possible. With a ceiling of 5000 feet in the afternoon, the divers were unable to perform all the stunts they had planned, but completed all the jumps necessary to make a competition possible. Colorful parachutes were watched with interest by the large crowd of spectators as the death-defying jumpers dangled towards the target area.

An accident involving a Mustang and a Cessna 180 marred the afternoon. The Cessna was one of the planes used to carry the divers aloft and the Mustang performed stunts for the festival crowd. No one was injured in the accident, but the Cessna was a total wreck.

Winniers in the six categories were static line free fall, Dave Cherney of Cranbrook; five-second free fall, Bob Tabor of Moses Lake; ten-second free fall, Wayne McConnel of Moses Lake; 15-second free fall, Sam Fox of Moses Lake; 20 second free fall, Dr. Ross of Edmonton; 30-second free fall, Del Triver of Spokane, for the second consecutive year. The winners are awarded the Creston Blossom Festival Jump Meet trophies.

For the three-minute swing to earth, the divers may spend from one to one and a half hours folding their rip-stop nylon parachutes. This intricate process is a deadly earnest business, with each pleat being smoothed out, each line separated, just so. There are 28 gores in the canopy, with four panels in each gore, and there are 28 lines. These are arranged in a certain order of one to 14 and [illegible] to 15. The whole, with pilot chute, is laid out on a tarpaulin and arranged meticulously, then [illegible] sleeve is pulled over it from the apex and the lines folded into stow bands, all designed so that with opening of the pilot 'chute the large parachute is unleashed. The divers folded their 'chutes at the Creston airport hangar.

When loaded with their gear for going aloft, the divers are well padded with 'chute in back, auxiliary chut in front, jumpsuits and boots, and crash helmets as well as other gear.

Richard Hood of Creston was in charge of the sky-diving program. Assisting at the airport and in the target area were Ken Huscroft, Bill Constable, Lionel Rodgers and Earl Faulkner, besides others.

14 Fatalities Reported in B.C.

By The Canadian Press

Highway accidents, occurring with a violence rarely equalled in British Columbia, killed at least 11 persons in the province during the holiday weekend.

Two persons were drowned and another burned to death to put the holiday toll at 14.

Multiple deaths occurred in two crashes.

Ron Toyota Captures Road-E-O at Creston

CRESTON — Ron Toyota of Creston defeated five other Creston youths to win the Jaycee teen-age safe driving road-e-o here Sunday morning.

Judges for the event were Const. Ron Wilkie, Fred Redies, Rudy Salvador, Wayne Epp, Ed Williams and Joe Zelke. In second place was Barry Staples. His brother, Brian, captured third position. The remaining two entries were Ken Pogany and Brian Salvador.

All five boys received certificates of participation and the winners will receive prizes at a later date. Ron Toyota will receive a cash prize and an all-expenses paid trip to the provincial finals at Cloverdale, B.C.

Each boy wrote a written examination as well as taking part in the practical test. The contest is designed to give young people the opportunity to prove and improve their driving habits and attitudes, and to stimulate community sponsored driver education programs in the schools.

In July, 1964, the 12 finalists will entrain for Toronto, and an expenses-paid four days of activities including a battery of six road-e-o examinations. The three high-scoring contestants in the national championships will receive $1250, $750 and $500 scholarships, respectively.

Kaslo's Celebration Attracts Many Visitors

KASLO — This village looks back today on what it considers one of its best Victoria Day celebrations in some years. It was the 72nd consecutive celebration.

One of the largest crowds in modern times saw the annual parade Monday attended the Friday night bingo, and took part in the various sports.

Winners of the parade, which was led by the Nelson City Band, were: United Church Service Club, first; Faith Chapel, second; T and H Sawmill safety float, third. The winner was a replica of a launch in paper flowers and the second, a little shack in the form of a church with children looking out windows.

Bicycle winners were Kathy Leathwood, dressed as Queen Victoria; Tommy Humphries, "Follow the Rainbow to Kaslo"; and Doug Porter. A special prize went to "Timberland," a tiny scooter pulling a little log immediately behind a huge vehicle carrying a huge cedar log.

MAY QUEEN

At the park, Colleen O'Connor of Kaslo was crowned May queen by Kinsmen Club president Ken Frie. Gifts were presented to the queen and to her attendants, Florence Wolfe of Mirror Lake and Darlene Hansen of Ainsworth.

Village chairman William Drayton welcomed the visitors.

Maypole dancing and old English Morris dancing by the primary grades was followed by a Nelson city band concert and ball games.

Henry Solecki won the booster prize contest, proceeds of which will aid in financing the Kinsmen-sponsored event.

In adult sports, the government crew won the tug-of-war; Gerry Seafoot and Harold Visnoski, crosscut sawing; Ed Carson, power sawing; Harold Vinoski, shake splitting; Mrs. Connie Bowles of Meadow Creek and Mrs. Wayen McKilligan of Kaslo, women's crosscut sawing; Mrs. Mary Wood of Kaslo, rolling pin throw; and Mrs. Bowles, nail driving.

At the bingo, Miss Cherrie Baba was the blackout winner.

A well attended dance was sponsored jointly by the Royal Canadian Legion and Kinsmen Club.

Sunday afternoon softball was played and a car road-e-o was won by David Schonberg in a Kinsmen-sponsored event.

At a monstrous beach bonfire Sunday night, a sing-song was led by Howard Perkins, Penny Drayton and Susan Perkins sang several duets and Eddie and John Banman gave electric guitar numbers.

In Monday's children's sports, J. B. Humphries, principal, was in charge.

Blossom Festival Highlights

A KALEIDOSCOPE OF FESTIVAL FUN AND EXCITE-ENT — The story of the Creston Blossom Festival, pre-nted for the 23rd year this spring, is shown by the pictures this page, taken by Creston photographer H. M. Buckna. ese scenes are ones which were familiar to visitors and eston residents alike during the five-day festival of blossom-me. In the picture above, the theme of the show "Linking e Kootenays" was typified by the first prize float entered in e giant parade Saturday by Tak's Electric Ltd. "The Wed-ng of the Kootenays." At the top right, dignitaries attend-g the festival included, left to right, Theo Greyell of Cres-; Mayor Cliff Swan of Kimberley, Salmo Village Chairman E. Hearn; Leo Nimsick, NDP MLA for Cranbrook-Kim-rley; Mayor A. Downey of Grand Forks; Mayor J. Palyga Trail; Mayor J. Wombacker of Bonner's Ferry; Hon. W. D. ack, minister of *health and welfare; Creston Village Chair-*an H. L. Dodd; Rev. D. D. Holt of Creston; James Byrne, ember of Parliament for Kootenay East; and Festival Com-ittee chairman Tak Toyota. Seated are the Blossom Festival een Miss Donna Billey and her entourage. Also to the ght, four young people enjoying the Kiwanis ladies' pan-ke breakfast Sunday morning were three Crestonites, Dex-r Brown, Donna Greyell and Sandra Barker, and right, ed Cunningham of Nelson. In the picture above, willing nds cut the barbecued beef, which was 14 hours in the oking. Members of the 17th Field Squadron under commanding officer L. W. Charman, left background, worked many hours assisting chef Ray Cameron of Czar, Alta., to prepare hundreds of pounds of beef for the barbecue, assisted by local cadets and others. Skydivers, at right, attracted a large audience, with cars lined up on both sides of the lower Wynndel Road Sunday afternoon to watch the thrilling spectacle of men leaving a plane hundreds of feet up to plunge for several seconds before pulling out their 'chutes. They compete to see who can land nearest the target area, a white X on the green field below. From left to right, back row, are Colin Ross of Edmonton; B. Sharpe of Edmonton; Jerry Fraser of Spokane; Dennis Ryan of Spokane; Del Triber of Spokane, who won the 30-second free fall this year for the second consecutive time; John Frolin of Cranbrook, John Tasseron of Edmonton, and Dennis Willisson of Cranbrook. Front row, left to right, are John Crowley, Bob Hubberstey of Fruitvale; L. Philips of Spokane, Gordon MacDonald of Edmonton, Doug McLean of Edmonton, and Tony Duanran of Moses Lake. Tipping the air from his 'chute, one of the skydivers, below, has managed to gain his footing. The usual procedure is to walk around the 'chute, thus collapsing it. At the bottom right, the Creston Lion is eating a Kiwanis for breakfast, the unfortunate Kiwanian's boot hanging from the beast's mouth. This parade entry drew many laughs. A tail twister follows behind.

Danger in the Mails

From Birmingham, Alabama, comes word of the foundation of another race-supremist, hate group.

This one calls itself the National White American Party. It has adopted Hitler's Thunderbird as an emblem, and the perch upon which the bird sits bears a surprising resemblance to a swastika.

Like its European forbears, it peddles hate; hate Negroes, hate Chinese, hate Jews, hate Communists, hate everybody except southern white Americans.

Like its Nazi sister movements the drivel it pours into its brochures is aimed at the minds of the ignorant, the bigoted, the mass inferiority complex which in order to feel adequate must hate someone.

It makes some astounding claims: Karl Marx, a Jew, founded Communism, therefore all Jews are Communists. Arthur Spingarn is a Jew. He is also a leader of the NAACP movement. Therefore since all Jews are communists the NAACP is a communist movement. Therefore all Negroes are communists.

To play upon the minds of the ignorant and the uneducated with such nonsense is one thing. But the White Americans have the unadulterated gall to solicit editors and publishers of Canadian newspapers for moral and financial support.

The garbage which they peddle emerges from the cesspools of men's minds. Its chief purpose seems to be to raise money.

At first glance their pitiful efforts to capitalize on hate appear pathetic. Then one remembers Nazi Germany.

Hitler began the same way. He wrote pamphlets in the beginning and people laughed at him. A decade later people didn't laugh. They suffered and they died, because enough fools supported his belief in a super race.

The beauty of living in a free society is that any citizen is entitled to believe, write and speak as he chooses. It is also a danger because he is also entitled to attempt to convince others of the validity of his beliefs, regardless of how absurd they are.

We must eternally be on guard that we do not succumb to the ego flattering bilge distributed by race supremist groups.

More Aid for Development

The Province of British Columbia, whose premier regularly wends his way eastward to brag about the province's great industrial future, currently spends 25 per cent of the total B.C. budget on industrial development. To say that this is a drop in the bucket is to appear ridiculous. And to say that one of the province's senior representatives abroad complains that he never gets much specific information on B.C. industrial opportunities from the department in Victoria is embarrassing. The provincial representative in London recently told Prime Minister Lester Pearson just that.

The Department of Industrial Development, Trade and Commerce at Victoria has one of the best staffs in the country. T .L. "Tommy" Sturgess, the deputy minister, is highly regarded in and out of B.C., and his Bureau of Economics and Statistics does its best. But it costs money to develop industry properly, and it's in the pocketbook department that Mr. Sturgess' structure feels painful stricture.

There's a new minister responsible for industrial development now, the Hon. Ralph Loffmark. We suggest that Mr. Loffmark give early consideration to two changes in the departmental setup. First, the industrial development budget should be increased to 75 per cent of the total provincial budget. This would amount to about $3,000,000. Second, the department should create and staff seven regional industrial development authorities with one covering the Okanagan - Similkameen area. There's great potential in the Interior of this province, but it needs to be developed. The provincial government, operating a decentralized system of this kind, could contribute greatly to the creation of a stable employment pattern in all parts of the Interior and at the same time advance the industrial strength of the province as a whole.

Inky Dinky Parlez Vous

The British Legion is reported to be appealing for information which would help identify that celebrated French hostess of First World War days, Mademoiselle from Armentieres. It plans to erect a memorial in her honor at Armentieres and it will depict the mademoiselle sitting on a shield supported by a quartet of English, Welsh, Scottish and Irish soldiers.

Now while one well-known verse of the song has it that the mademoiselle hadn't been kissed in 40 years, there can be no doubt whatever that she did have a wealth of adventures. A safe prediction would be that the British Legion will be astounded at the number of Mademoiselles from Armentieres from which it will have to make a choice.—Welland Tribune.

Well, Why Not?

With the business of the House of Commons thoroughly bogged down, by design or by accident, in party bickering and pointless procedural arguments, Prime Minister Lester Pearson has issued a gentle warning ot the Opposition. He suggested that, if necessary, MPs will be kept sitting through the long, hot summer instead of taking the customary, lengthy vacation.

And why not? Most people earning a lot less than the MPs' $18,000 a year expect as a matter of course to work through the hot months and count themselves lucky to get two or three weeks away from their tasks. What makes parliamentarians a special case?

MPs will answer, of course, that they need the summer vacation to return to their ridings and consult their constituents. Perhaps they do, but they should be in no doubt that their constituents expect them to get on with the job in Ottawa first so that there will be something to consult about when they do get home.

—Toronto Globe and Mail.

No Surrender

We're at the time of year when the men commonly turn to puttering around the house and yard, doing a bit of gardening here and some grass cutting there. And dressed any old way. But this — ugh — marks them as style outcasts.

The fashion dictate of 1964, as laid down recently in Toronto by the Men's Clothing Manufacturers' Association, is that males become more elegant in their dress.

They must strive, it's decreed, for a simple silhouette with less shoulder padding and a crisp tailored line. Instead, many of them will decide to paint the house, or re-sod the lawn, and make the old "best suit" last another year.

Interpreting the News

By JOSEPH MacSWEEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Even such innocent words as "mediation" take on a bomb-like meaning between those two not-to-chummy NATO partners, Greece and Turkey.

That was never clearer than at the NATO minsterial meeting in The Hague this week when one could provoke glassy stares and trembling indignation by unwary use of the terms mediator or mediation.

The problem went deeper than semantics, of course, but it points up how easily differences in the alliance can be magnified and how difficult it is to keep 15 countries working as a team.

There is a long history of hostility between Greece and Turkey but the Russian threat following the Second World War was frightening enough to drive them to co - operation within NATO.

Now that the main Communist pressures are being applied elsewhere than in their region, those two countries find it easier to quarrel openly over Cyprus.

In the case of Greece, this feeling of independence is so strong that Foreign Minister Stavros Kostopoulos at first rejected the idea that the quarrel was any of NATO's business.

SOME FEARED WAR

Secretary - General Dirk Stikker of NATO says he refuses even to contemplate the possibility of war between two sister countries of the alliance but it was apparent at The Hague that some foreign ministers did not share his confidence.

Even apart from open warfare, the feeling was strong that the countries—particularly Greece—fall short in their efforts to exert a moderating influence on the warring Greek and Turkish communities in Cyprus.

This seems strange in the eyes of such far-off countries as Canada, making sacrifices and taking risks on behalf of the suffering Cypriots.

Much was in the background of the bitter debate that led to Stikker being commissioned to maintain a "watching brief" with Greece and Turkey over Cyprus, which is not a NATO member.

In one sense, this surely is what Stikker has been doing all the time. Its' obvious that the alliance secretary-general would be watching the possibility of war between two members.

HAVE AGREED

Any mention of mediation was eschewed lest it be thought NATO was shouldering its way into a field solely the responsibility of the United Nations—the restoration of peace in Cyprus itself.

But NATO sources feel it is no small matter that both Greece and Turkey have formally agreed to the "watch"—that they have, in fact, agreed on something in connection with Cyprus.

It would be a diplomatic coup for Stikker, whose term of office is coming to an end, if he managed to bring Kostopoulos and Turkey's Cemal Erkin together for talks as suggested by Canada's Paul Martin.

DALAI LAMA IN NEW DELHI

NEW DELHI (AP) — The Dalai Lama, exiled ruler of Tibet, arrived in New Delhi Monday on a week's visit amid speculation that he may go to Buddhist countries soon to seek support for his Communist-ruled people.

The Buddha incarnate, as his followers believe him to be, called on Indian President Sarve-Palli Radhakrishnan and will see Prime Minister Nehru Friday.

Informed sources said the Dalai Lama probably will discuss with the Indians his long projected plan to visit such Asian nations as Thailand and Japan.

Nehru granted political asylum to the Dalai Lama in 1959 after the Chinese Communists overran Tibet. One condition set by Nehru was that the Dalai Lama would not engage in any political activity.

Queen Disapproves Filming of Life Of Edward VII

LONDON (Reuters) — The Queen has intimated she would prefer that a proposed film on the life of her great grandfather, King Edward VII, should not be made, a correspondent of Press Association reported Monday.

The Queen's views were made known after an approach by Sir Philip Magnus, author of a recently published biography of the King.

The biography was written with the Queen's permission, and Magnus was given access to the royal archives.

Later the Queen was approached by Magnus who asked whether she would mind if a film were made of the life of King Edward VII. The Queen replied that she would prefer not, the correspondent wrote.

Malaysia Rejects Token Proposal

KUALA LUMPUR (Reuters) The Malaysian Federation has rejected an Indonesian proposal of "token" withdrawal of Indonesian troops from Malaysian borneo, special Philippines emissary Salvador Lopez said Monday.

The ambassador to the United Nations was speaking to a press conference after closing formal discussions with Malaysian Premier Tunku Abdul Rahman.

He said he would submit a last effort "compromise formula" of his own to Rahman at a dinner Monday.

The Philippines is trying to organize a three-power summit conference together with Malaysia and Indonesia.

Malaysia refuses to attend a summit conference without an Indonesian agreement to pull troops back from the Malaysian Borneo states.

Indonesia wants withdrawal of its forces to be dependent on political discussions.

It was understood Indonesia would agree to a "token withdrawal," as long as it appeared to be a voluntary gesture on its part.

CIVIL DEFENCE

One course a year is given in British Columbia when Civil Defence co-ordinators attend with elected representatives. This practice is found to be beneficial as candidates seem to get more from this double representation from a given municipality. It provides for a better balance to have council members well informed on Civil Defence aims and objectives.

"Great Divide" Between Russia, Red China Nearing Say Experts

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union has widened and deepened its battle with Red China and Monday, more than ever, diplomats here feel "the great divide" is on the way.

Within the past 48 hours, two developments have hardened the struggle.

1. In Paris, Mikhail Suslov, chief Soviet ideological spokesman in the struggle with China, said the Soviet Union has determined that a world meeting of Communist parties should be held. He told French Communists that such a meeting is in the interests of Communist unity.

2. On another front, First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan invited Japan to closer relations with the Soviet Union. The speculation here was that the bait likely to be offered in the near future would be the return of two offshore Japanese islands which the Russians occupied after the Second World War.

The Soviets also occupied the Kurile Islands and the southern half of Saknalin Island, but no one here expected them to be returned.

CHALLENGE EFFORTS

Joined to these two recent developments was the recent Soviet challenge to Chinese efforts to exclude Russia from the proposed second Bandung conference of African and Asian nations.

Here among diplomats, and in Italy among Communists, the opinion appears to be that a world meeting of Communists would not unite, but would split, the Communist world into two camps.

The bid to Japan was not necessarily hinged to the party struggle, but diplomats here felt it had a strong bearing on the long range struggle shaping up between the Russians and Chinese.

Mikoyan, addressing a parliamentary reception Friday in Tokyo, reminded Japanese officials that Russia and Japan were close neighbors by force of geography that wasn't going to change.

A friendlier Japan would be a handsome improvement in the Soviet Union's position in Asia.

But it was in the Bandung conference affair that diplomats here saw possibly earlier developments.

PUBLISH MESSAGE

Soviet papers published on May 4 a digest of a message the Kremlin had sent to Asian and African countries attacking China's efforts to exclude the Soviet Union from the proposed conference. Preparations for such a meeting recently were made in Jakarta, Indonesia, with the expectation that the conference will be held some place in Africa, at a date not yet specified.

Evidently the Chinese contended that the Soviet Union was not an Asian nation. In its message to the African and Asian countries, Russia pointed out that it had Asian territory equal to the combined territory of China, India and several other Asian countries.

To diplomats here it appeared inevitable that the Chinese would seize upon this opportunity to renew the accusation that Russia was an Asian nation only by imperialistic conquest. Much territory included now in the Soviet Union was once Chinese.

It includes great chunks of Kazakhstan and other central Asian Soviet republics. These territories have rich deposits of oil, gas and minerals that would make a world of difference to the Chinese economy.

Speculation here doesn't go as far as to suppose the Russians would give up such territory short of war. But the demand for return of this territory, if made by China, would be troublesome for the Russians in world Communist negotiations.

It was in such fields as these that the Soviets would appear to be very vulnerable to a world conference. However, they seem determined to face up to it rather than to endure the unending Chinese attacks.

Boy Dirty But Happy After Fair Adventure

NEW YORK (AP)—Dominick Tucci's run of the world's fair ended Sunday after 11 days and nights. He thought it was a shame. He had planned to spend the summer there.

When Dominick, 12, left his Long Island home, he had hinted that he was bound for the fair. And, that's where they found him, still the object of a 17-state police alert.

Somewhat dishevelled, but well-fed, Dominick was reunited Sunday night with his parents, five sisters and a brother.

"I got away from seven cops, and a woman had to catch me," he said.

The woman, Mrs. Naomi Sallod, works at the fair grounds and recognized him from newspaper pictures.

The boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benito Tucci, had gone to the fair every day to look for him, but with no luck.

Dominick started his safari by sneaking aboard a railroad train at Port Washington, his hometown.

He climbed a fence to get into the fair grounds. Thrown out a couple of times, he said, he just climbed back again.

Dominick ate well, literally picking up about $5 a day retrieving "good luck" coins tossed into several fountains.

For sleeping quarters, Dominick secluded himself in several pavilions, including one with a shipboard setting complete with lifeboat.

Was he afraid at night? "There's nothing to be afraid of," said Dominick. "The place is crawling with cops."

Notre Dame WA Stages NDU Reception

An academic atmosphere with caps, gowns, and colorful hoods in abundance pervaded St. Martin's hall on Notre Dame campus Saturday afternoon as members of the women's Association to the university held a President's Reception as their contribution to commencement.

Faculty members, students parents and friends of the university filled the hall, which was decorated with blossoms and spring flowers.

Entertainment was provided by The Legends, a quartet of NDU folk singers.

Guests were met at the door by Rev. Aquinas Thomas, SA, president of Notre Dame, Mrs. M. E. Drew, president of the association and Mrs. M. McMillan, dean of women. Mrs. J. Malacko was in charge of the guest book

At the lace-covered tea table, pourers were Mrs. E. Baravalle, Mrs. Peter Faris, Mrs. W. J. Van Maarion and Mrs. E. T. Bodard.

Refreshments were served at individual tables by Mrs. G. B. Arnesen, Mrs. S. A. Bragagnola, Mrs. Hamilton, Mrs. R. H. Dill, Mrs. C. A. Scarborough and Mrs. J. D. Ryan. Tea plates were filled by Mrs. Carr, Mrs. Peter Klassen, Mrs. Mary Darwin, Mrs. J. T. Harvie, Miss E. Gri, Mrs. A. L. Gustafson and Mrs. S. A. Moisey.

Mrs. Roy Pollard arranged the flowers. The reception was arranged by the social committee convened by Mrs. C. Van Pelt, assisted by the hospital committee convened by Mrs. P. D. Murison.

60-Year-Old Pennant Given W.I.

WILLOW POINT — The Willow Point Women's Institute held its annual tea, plant and bake sale Thursday afternoon in the church hall

A short business session preceded this. Letters of acknowledgement for flowers and greetings were read from Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Ashby and from Crawford Bay WI on the occasion of their 50th anniversaries.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Fink donated a pennant with the WI motto "Home and Country" and "Women's Institute" inscribed on it. The pennant is 60 years old and had belonged to Mr. Fink's mother.

The hall was bright with flowers. The tea tables were centered with forsythia and bowls of pansies.

The tea was in charge of Mrs. A. R. Morgan and Mrs. F. Pearle. Assisting were Mrs. J. Learmonth, Mrs. M. Brandon and Mrs. R. A. Grimes.

The bake table was looked after by Mrs. H. Gaskell and Mrs. E. Duff and the plant sale was in charge of Mrs. N. Denny and Mrs. C. Shannon. Mrs. A. Jenkins was cashier.

African Servants Must Be Treated With Respect

JOHANNESBURG (AP) — Most white families in South Africa have at least one African servant. Johannesburg's 70,000 households use 76,000 domestic servants — about 55,000 of them male.

Many of the whites had black playmates as children, and they are inclined to say something like: "I understand the African. I grew up with him and I know him inside out."

Not necessarily true, says a booklet issued by the city to advise whites how to behave with Africans.

It tells white women:

"Never appear before male African esrvants in a state of undress. This never happens in tribal society.

"Never get angry and lose dignity. Never let children speak to servants in anything but a courteous manner."

It is suggested that the African retains his own teachings and customs, no matter if he is living in a predominantly white city.

Another tip is not to use common names like "Mary" or "Jim" for just any African. The African's attitude is: "I have a name like anybody else, use it." Whites also cling to the habit of calling even full-grown African men and women "boy" and "girl."

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our beloved son Robert McLean, who passed away May 18, 1963.
Time rolls on and I am reminded
Of a day my heart was crushed,
When God took you, oh, so quickly,
And we all in gloom were thrust.
In the bloom of life death claimed you,
In the prime of manhood days:
But I hope some day to meet you,
And to be with you always.
—Dad, Mom, Brothers and Sisters.
—117-117

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Henry Swedberg who passed away on May 18, 1963.
We miss you my darling and wish you were here. You are close to us in loving memories of the years we had together. You are in our hearts and minds always.
—Lovingly remembered by his wife, Vera and his daughter Elizabeth.
—117-117

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Gregory F. Planiden who passed away so suddenly May 19, 1963. Ever loved and remembered by his mother, sister, brother-in-law and nephews.
One sad and lonely year has passed,
Since our great sorrow fell;
The shock that we received that day,
No one can ever tell.
Dear Lord forgive a silent tear
And a constant wish that he was here.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Get FASTEETH at drug counters everywhere.

When you've owned a Manufacturers Life permanent insurance policy for a few years, you find it becomes more than insurance protection for your family. It also accumulates cash values which are as good as money in the bank – because they're guaranteed, in writing, right on your policy. (For example, a $10,000 whole life policy issued 16 years ago to a man at age 28 has already built up a cash value of $2,210.) The current cash value of your policy is, in fact, your money. You can use it later for retirement income. In the meantime, you can always use it as collateral for a loan.

You may borrow direct from Manufacturers Life. No questions asked - and no credit check. Low rate of interest (guaranteed at the time you take out your policy), and completely flexible repayment plans.

There are many other investment advantages in a Manufacturers Life policy. For instance, because the cost is only a few dollars a month, you're able to start investing when you're young and your income relatively low.

It's an investment worth looking into. So check it out with a Man from Manufacturers soon.

Nelson Chosen National Ski Site

Notre Dame University To Host Canadian Team

TORONTO (CP) — Delegates to the annual Canadian Amateur Ski Association meeting Monday adopted a training program to enable national-class skiers to further their educations while developing into top-calibre competitors.

The training system, proposed by Donald Sturgess of Montreal, Alpine chairman of the international competitions committee, is scheduled over a period of eight months and will be held in co-operation with Notre Dame University at Nelson, B.C.

A committee was formed to study establishment of ski scholarships, suggested by Robert Gray of Sudbury, Ont. Gray, who was U.S. Nordic, and U.S. North American and Canadian cross - country champion, said the scholarships would give potential international competitors an opportunity to reach a high level of proficiency without sacrificing academic years.

The delegates also decided to revise the constitution completely, which will eliminate administrative loopholes concerning representation of various areas on executive committees.

JUNIOR PROGRAM

The meeting agreed to hold the summer junior training program on a glacier in the Alberta-British Columbia area in August.

National winter junior training programs in both Alpine and Nordic will be organized in Eastern and Western Canada during the Christmas holiday period. Three Christmas jumping camps for both the national senior and junior teams will be held in Midland, Ont., Port Arthur and Revelstoke, B.C.

At the windup session of the meeting, Linda Crutchfield of Shawinigan, Que., was awarded a trophy for outstanding qualities of character and competitive ability in skiing.

The recipient of the award must best exemplify the qualities of sportsmanship and skill in international ski competition.

Miss Crutchfield, a member of Canada's national team since 1960, placed 14th in Alpine-combined standings in last winter's Olympic games at Innsbruck, Austria. On her return to Canada she won the Canadian Alpine championship at Tod Mountain, B.C.

Nancy Holland of Montreal was suspended from the national ski team for "not conforming to the program laid down by the international competitions committee." Miss Holland, who may still race in Canada although her licence for international competition was cancelled, did not return to Canada with the team following the Olympics.

SKIERS CHOSEN

Skiers named to the national alpine men's and women's team at the meeting include:

Women skiers: Miss Crutchfield; Karen Dokka, Burnaby, B.C.; Nancy Greene, Rossland, B.C.; K. Sevensma, Kimberley, B.C.; Judy Young, Port Arthur; Nancy Mason, Kimberley, Emily Ringheim, Kimberley.

Men's squad includes: Gary Battistella, Kimberley; Rod Hebron, Vancouver; Scott and Wayne Henderson, Banff, Alta.; Larry Nelles, Revelstoke, B.C.; Gerry Rinaldi, Kimberley; Ron Williams, Kimberley; Bob Calladine, Vancouver; Keith Sheppard, Revelstoke.

Those named to the cross-country team included Nils Skulbru, Vancouver, Franz Portmann and Eric Luoma, Calgary, Clarence Servold, Innisfail, Alta., Irvin Servold, Devon, Alta.

Those selected to the jumping squad included Ivor Frederickson, North Vancouver, Frank Gartrell, Fort William, Gord Lun, Camrose, Alta., Johm McInnes, Revelstoke, B.C., Scott Gibson, Edmonton, Franz Winkel, Banff.

Arnold Palmer Wins Oklahoma Open

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Arnold Palmer put together one of his patented come - from-behind finishes Monday and won the $40,000 Oklahoma City Open golf tournament with an 11-under-par 277.

Palmer fired a closing five-under-par 67, with birdies on the 17th and 18th holes, to win his 42nd PGA tour victory.

The victory, Palmer's second this year, was worth $5,800 and increased his official 1964 earnings to $44,298, second best among pro golfers. Jack Nicklaus has won almost $47,000 this year. Palmer's first 1964 win was the Masters tournament.

Lionel Hebert, the halfway leader, came in second, two strokes behind Palmer.

Hebert led Palmer by three strokes going into the final 18 holes, but went over par on the second and third holes. Palmer pulled even with a birdie on No. 3 and went ahead with a birdie on No. 6.

Hebert never caught up again although he, Jack McGowan, South African Bob Verwey and Mike Souchak stayed in contention until Palmer's final two birdies.

STARTED SLOWLY

Palmer started slowly in the tournament, carding a 72 when the first round finally was played Saturday. Thursday and Friday play was rained out.

After the par round Saturday, Palmer blistered Quail Creek Country Club's 7,042 - yard course, shooting a pair of 69s before the closing 67.

28 Horses Perish In Stable Fire

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Fire raced through 13 wooden barns at Miles Park race track Monday, causing the death of at least 28 thoroughbred horses.

General manager Horace Wade said 23 horses died in the barns and five others were so seriously injured they had to be destroyed.

He estimated damage to the barns at $150,000. No figure was available on the value of the dead animals.

Baseball Roundup

Giants Lose to Mets; Phillies Down Houston

By The Associated Press

Houston Colts, who have had trouble getting runs for hard-luck Ken Johnson this season, almost failed to get him any hits Monday night as Philadelphia's Jim Bunning hand-cuffed them on one single, 4-0.

The victory moved the Phillies into first place in the National League, 10 percentage points ahead of San Francisco Giants.

Jim Wynn's fifth-inning smash past third base ruined Bunning's chance for a no-hitter. Only one other Colt reached base. Nellie Fox got on when he was hit by a pitch in the first inning.

Tony Gonzalez drove in two runs against Johnson with a pair of doubles as the righthander, who lost a no-hitter earlier in the season, gave up all the Phillie runs and nine hits in seven innings.

Phillies' manager Gene Mauch was not in uniform. Before the game it was revealed that he had been fined $150 and suspended for two days for a run-in with umpire Lee Weyer in Sunday's game here.

COMEBACK VICTORY

Ninth-inning doubles by Gates Brown and Norm Cash gave Detroit Tigers a comeback 7-6 victory over Washington Senators. Brown and Cash each drove in three runs for the Tigers, overshadowing a pair of home runs by Washington's Don Lock. Cash and Bill Freehan homered for Detroit.

George Altman whacked a three-run homer in the eighth inning as New York Mets snapped a 31-inning runless string and whipped San Francisco Giants 4-2 in a day game. Jim Duffalo and Bob Bolin held the Mets scoreless before Altman's shot overcame a 1-0 San Francisco lead. Tom Haller homered for the Giants.

Coast Dominates Penticton Meet

PENTICTON (CP) — Vancouver club athletes captured 10 of the 16 senior events Sunday at the windup of Penticton's annual Highland Games.

Don Bertoia of Trail, running for the Vancouver Olympic Club fought off a determined 16-year-old clubmate to capture the mile and the half-mile events.

Bertoia, Canada's Pan-American Games gold medal winner, was dogged by young Terry Dooley in both races. In the half-mile Bertoia hit the tape in 2:02.3, with Dooley right behind in 2:03.7.

It was Bertoia and Dooley again in the mile event, Bertoia winning in 4:26.7 and Dooley in 4:27.3.

Irene Piotroski of VOC won the women's 100 and 220-yard events; Bob McGavin, Vancouver Optimist Striders, the 100-yard dash; Tony Clark, Striders, the 220; Jerry Tighe, VOC, the two-mile event; Dave Aune, VOC, the 440.

Braves Sign Star UBC Third Sacker

Send for the cavalry, Pappy, there's another Brave in town!

He is 20-year-old Mel Morey, a classy third baseman who holds down a starting berth on the UBC Thunderbirds.

Dorey signed Monday to toil for the Nelson Braves during the forthcoming baseball season.

In a 20-game exhibition tour against American university teams, he posted a respectable .396 batting average and belted 10 home runs.

The native of Salmo was advised to play one season in the Can-Am Baseball League by the New York Mets, who have shown considerable interest in him. There is a good possibility he will be invited to the Mets' training camp next spring.

A versatile performer, Dorey can handle any position in the infield, and doubles as catcher.

Elsewhere on the Can-Am scene the Braves received bad news from Creston.

Pitcher John Drysdale and first baseman Jerry Messenchuk, with whom the Tribe have been negotiating, are reported as having signed with the Cranbrook Swansons. Drysdale, a former UBC star, advanced as far as the triple A Omaha club in the Los Angeles Dodgers chain before a series of minor arm injuries curtailed his career.

The Braves, who last week changed their name from the Outlaws, were advised by wire Monday that the revised Can-Am baseball schedule has the Kimberley Dynamos slated as their opponents when they open at home next Sunday.

It was earlier believed they would play host to the Spokane Orfuns, but pressure of university exams has forced the scholarship - player packed American club to postpone their road activities until the end of the month.

Braves' officials report tickets which went on sale Monday are moving at a brisk pace.

Hockey Delegates Favor Canadian National Team

By STUART LAKE

OTTAWA (CP)—Officials of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association agreed Monday that Canada should begin this year to assemble a national team for world hockey competitions.

President Art Potter of Edmonton said the team must be on a par with those in the professional American Hockey League if Canada is to regain its world supremacy in the sport.

The CAHA, governing body of amateur hockey in Canada, opened its 50th annual meeting Monday behind closed doors as committees met to consider rule changes and resolutions submitted by the branches.

Open sessions begin Monday and continue until Friday.

Potter said the executive is convinced that sending Allan Cup winners—Canadian senior champions—to world events is not the answer to Canada's poor showings.

He said the Canadian team at the 1965 world championships will have as its nucleus several players from the University of British Columbia team that represented Canada at the 1964 Olympics. But as much as 40 per cent of the team's personnel would come from senior teams across the country.

ADD PLAYERS YEARLY

The CAHA would add players each year until a truly national team was assembled probably by 1968.

Secretary - manager Gordon Juckes said the success of the UBC team would encourage delegates to accept the idea of a permanent national team.

Juckes said he intends to suggest Ottawa as the base for the national team. But because the capital's only rink of any size is to be torn down within the next few years, other members of the executive are considering London or Kitchener, Ont., as alternate sites.

Juckes also said the CAHA hopes to have Rev. David Bauer, coach of the UBC team, available in some capacity for the national team. But there will be a move to have a national coach named at the meeting.

SEVENTH INNING WAS A HOT ONE

DENVER (AP) — A Pacific Coast League baseball game between Denver and Spokane was suspended Saturday night because of fire.

With the score 1-0 for Spokane in the bottom of the seventh inning, fire broke out on a wooden fence on the left field line and spread into the stands.

Fans in that part of Bears stadium were cleared out and no one was injured. Firemen put the fire out in about 15 minutes, but the game was halted because of electrical damage.

The fire started in main electrical feeder lines in the fence.

About 75 feet of fence was burned.

Harmon Killebrew, Willie Mays Aim for Batting Championships

NEW YORK (AP)—Harmon Killer Killebrew, playing a passive role over the first month of the 1964 baseball season, has finally become an active member of Minnesota's murderers' row while moving to make a successful defense of his American League home run title.

Killebrew only had four homers in the Twins' first 21 games. Then, he cracked five in his next five games, including a pair in Sunday's doubleheader against Boston. With nine, he trails the leaders, teammate Bob Allison and Rocky Colavito of Kansas City, by one.

Killebrew led the AL with 48 homers last season and has a lifetime total of 187.

Meanwhile, Willie Mays of San Francisco Giants continues to set the National League home run pace with 14. He slammed three last week.

LOSES GROUND

However, the slugging outfielder lost considerable ground in the batting competition. With only seven hits in 31 tries, Mays dropped 70 points to .411.

It was a bad week for most of the majors' other top batsmen. Billy Williams of Chicago Cubs, the NL runner - up, slumped 24 points to .381 with eight safeties in 26 trips while Pittsburgh's Roberto Clemente remained in third place despite a 26 point drop to .372. Clemente turned in a 7-for-26 performance last week.

Tony Oliva, Minnesota's rookie outfielder, maintained his American League batting lead although he lost 43 points to .398. He had eight hits in 31 attempts.

Jim Fregosi of Los Angeles Angels fell 15 points to .385 with 9-for-26 and Boston's Ed Bressoud, in third place, dropped 17 points to .361 on a 9-for-29 showing. Detroit's Bill Freehan is fourth with .360.

Chuck Hinton of Washington was one of the few to gain ground. He moved into a fifth place tie with Charley Lau of Kansas City. Hinton hit at a .478 pace with 11 hits in 23 times at bat and climbed 35 points to .333. The figures include Sunday's games.

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Canadian - bred Kentucky Derby winner, Northern Dancer, made it stick with emphasis Saturday when he pulled away in the last quarter mile for an easy victory in the 88th running of the $176,700 Preakness at Pimlico.

Hill Rise, odds-on choice in the field of six three-year-olds, was not only unable to match Northern Dancer's great run through the stretch but also bowed to The Scoundrel, and ended in third place.

The Scoundrel, inched back slightly at the start and again at the three-eighths pole, was beaten by 2¼ lengths for the purse of $124,200.

OUTFOXES THE SHOE

Bill Hartack, outfoxing Bill Shoemaker on Hill Rise at every point, sent the Canadian-owned Dancer over the 1 3-16 miles in 1:56 4-5. The time over a fast track compared with the record of 1:54 3-5, set by Nashua in 1955.

Northern Dancer, made the 2-to-1 second choice by the crowd of 35,975 despite his victory in the Derby two weeks ago, made his challenge a half mile from home after running close to the early pace set by Quadrangle.

As he made his move, Hill Rise also challenged for the lead, but the son of Nearctic from E. P. Taylor's Windfield Farms of Toronto never gave an inch.

TAKES LEAD

With three-eighths of a mile to go, the dazzling Dancer stuck his nose in front. One-eighth of a mile further he had opened up daylight.

And from there on home it was strictly a battle for second.

The Scoundrel, from Rex Ellsworth's stable which won with Candy Spots last year, got up in the final strides for a head decision over Hill Rise, carrying the hopes of George A. Pope's El Peco Ranch.

Then came Quadrangle, Roman Brother and Big Pete.

Northern Dancer, who also was the second choice in the Derby, returned $6.20, $3.60 and $2.20 in winning the second leg of the Triple Crown for three-year-olds, which includes the Belmont Stakes to be run June 6 at Aqueduct.

Northern Dancer, who now has a record of seven straight victories and an enviable mark of never having finished out of the money in 16 career starts, boosted his earnings for the year to $304,237, and for his career to $519,092.

Hartack, as in the Derby, said that his main concern was "what Shoemaker would do with Hill Rise."

The winning jockey said that in the duel turning into the stretch "I won the battle for the lead and I think that took it out of Hill Rise. I don't think anyone was closing on us at the end."

Big Pete, noted for his early speed, and Quadrangle took the small field through the first quarter in 25 1-5 seconds. Quadrangle then moved to the front and hit the first half mile in 48 2-5, with the Dancer moving smoothly in third place.

CLOSE TO PACE

Hill Rise was on the outside with Shoe keeping an eye on Hartack, just as he did two weeks ago at Churchill Downs.

They were heading out of the back stretch when Hill Rise started his move in on the leaders, but Shoemaker found Hartack also ready to go. For one-eighth of a mile it looked as if the two might take command and stage a stretch duel as they did in the Derby, which the Dancer won by a neck.

But trainer Horatio Luro had given Hartack a razor sharp colt this clear, sunny day and Willie made the most of it.

With a little more than a quarter of a mile to go, Northern Dancer was bidding for the lead and in a few strides he had it.

Hartack gave him a crack with his whip as they straightened out for the finish, tapped him lightly twice more near the eighth pole and the race was all over.

FRED GLOVER, who led the Cleveland Barons to the Calder Cup championship as coach and leading scorer, was named American Hockey League's most valuable player recently. He polled 27 votes to Lorne "Gump" Worsley's 22.

Savoys Grab First Place

Nelson Savoys blasted their way into first place in Western Canada Soccer League Standings, when they bombarded the hapless Grand Forks club 8-1 in Grand Forks, on Sunday.

Andy Vingo led the Nelson Squad with a four goal attack. Joe Jacoe, playing on the forward line for the first time, proved he belonged as he counted three times. Richard Eggars scored a single.

Vingo opened the scoring early in the first half when he broke up a play in the Grand Forks zone and hammered the ball through the uprights. Jacoe and Eggars added quick goals, and thereafter the result was never in doubt.

In other WISL action, Trail Italicos defeated Kimberley Dynamoes by a score of 5-4.

Giardello-Rivero Rematch Goes Friday

CLEVELAND (AP) — Joey Giardello and Rocky Rivero, who fought a sizzling brawl in Cleveland five weeks ago, meet here again Friday night.

Once again Joey's world middleweight title will not be at stake.

Giardello won a split decision in their first match, April 17, after building up a slight margin in the middle rounds. At the end of the night, the Argentine was coming on like gangbusters.

Rivero weighed 169 last time, but he'll have to make 164 for the rematch.

Although Giardello is supposed to give ex-champ Dick Tiger a return bout in his first defence, an emphatic victory by Rivero could scramble all plans.

Giardello has been fighting all comers since 1948, managing a 92-22-7 record. Rivero has a 41-10-1 record in a career dating back to 1956.

The bout will be carried on ABC network television.

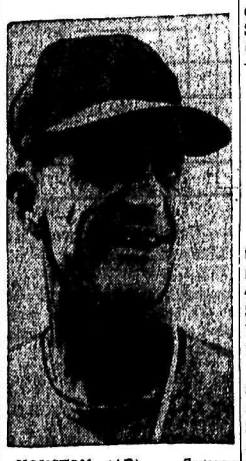
Spaniard Beats Aussie in British Tourney

STOKE POGES, England (AP)—Angel Miguel of Spain withstood a hole in one by fast-finishing Peter Thomson Saturday and defeated the Australian by one stroke in a British professional golf tourney.

Thomson's ace, on the 143-yard 16th hole, cut the 34-year-old Spaniard's four-stroke lead to two. Thomson closed to within a stroke with a birdie on the 17th but his long putt for another birdie on the final hole rolled four feet past the cup.

Miguel holed a two-footer for a 68 and 72-hole total of 268, good for $2,100 first prize money. Thomson carded a final-round 65 for 269.

The Australian came out ahead in earnings, however, pocketing $2,800 for his hole in one and $1,120 in second place money.



HOUSTON (AP) — Sammy Baugh, a record - breaking passer who played 16 seasons in the National Football League, will join the Houston Oilers of the American Football League as offensive backfield coach, it was announced Saturday.

Harvard Downs Cornell In Olympic Rowing Prep

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP)—Harvard's powerful heavyweight crew swept to a one-length victory over Cornell Saturday in the Eastern Sprint rowing championships, one of the major tests pointing to the Olympic Games in Tokyo.

Stroked by Edward Washburn of Cambridge, Mass., the Crimson led all the way and then spurted across the finish line of the 2,000 metres, approximately 1¼ miles, race on Lake Quinsigamond.

Harvard was timed in 6:32 with Cornell second in 6:36. Then came Yale, second seeded, in 6:37.5, Wisconsin in 6:40.1, Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 6:53 and Syracuse last in the field of six finalists in 6:55.7.

Cornell won three of the six finals, taking the junior varsity lightweights, varsity lightweights, and the freshman heavyweights. Columbia won the lightweight freshman race and Harvard both the junior varsity heavyweight events.

First Japanese No-Hitter Recorded

TOKYO (AP) — Big league baseball scouts had better start scanning the Japanese collegiate scene. Yasusuke Watanabe, a 21-year-old senior at Keio University, pitched a perfect game Sunday against St. Paul University.

It was the first perfect game in the 39-year history of Japanese collegiate baseball.

Watanabe used only 82 pitches and ended the game with a flourish by striking out the last batter before 50,000 spectators.

Scottish Rugby Team Hammers Allstars

VANCOUVER (CP) — The touring Scottish international rugby team scored victory No. 4 in a five-game Canadian tour Saturday, walloping with ease a Western Canada all-star team 14-3.

The hustling Scots kept all-stars pinned in their own end almost the entire game. Only four times were the Canadians able to penetrate Scotland's 25-yard line.

The undefeated Scots play their final Canadian game Tuesday in Montreal.

Scotland scored its points on two penalty goals, a try and a goal. Western Canada scored its lone try in the last minute of play.

Jim Telfer opened scoring early in the first half when he took the ball over from a line-out two yards out. The convert was missed. Centre Chris Elliot made it 6-0 minutes later with a penalty goal. Just before the half ended Elliot repeated the performance with another penalty goal. Centre Jim Shackleton made it 14-0 with his try.

With seconds to go in the game, standoff Ted Hunt kicked across the field and winger Brian Mackee picked it up for Western Canada's try. The convert was missed.

A crowd of about 3,500 at Brockton Oval in Stanley Park watched the game.

Hartack 'Almost Polite' After Preakness Victory

BALTIMORE (AP)—Bill Hartack, the angry young man of thoroughbred racing, was almost polite Saturday when he described his Preakness victory aboard gritty little Northern Dancer, a victory worth $12,420 to the jockey.

"This horse gives you everything he has when you ask him," Hartack said. "He is easy to ride and extremely sensitive to what you want him to do."

Bill Hartack

There was only one waspish outburst by the brilliant but volatile jockey. That came when a photographer called him "Willie," a pet peeve with Hartack.

"My name is Bill," he snapped. "Where did you come from? One of these days you are going to learn you spoil everything for everyone else."

WAS MORE POLITE

Then he resumed answering questions. He stopped off only for a television interview before giving audience to reporters, a far cry from his antics after the Kentucky Derby two weeks ago when he signed autographs for an hour before making himself available for questioning.

Just as in his Kentucky Derby victory, Hartack said, he kept his eye on the favored Hill Rise and let the rest of the field take care of itself.

"I was prepared to meet the challenge of Hill Rise at any part of the race and throw the challenge back at him," Hartack said after his 2¼ length triumph in the second leg on the Triple Crown.

Rogers in the West Kootenay district track and field championships at Trail next Saturday.

California Primary May Determine Republican Presidential Nomination

Republican State governors, assessing the effects of the Oregon presidential priary, generally agree that the nomination still is up for grabs. Here's a report on their views.

By JACK BELL

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Assessing Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's Oregon victory, Republican governors agreed generally Monday that the contest for the Republican presidential nomination remains wide open.

Some of the state chief executives who responded to invitations to comment on their party's political situation, indicated they think the June 2 California primary may be a decisive factor in determining the nominee.

Rockefeller, who won Oregon's 18 convention votes in that state's balloting Friday, faces Senator Barry Goldwater, of Arizona in the last significant primary before the party convention opens here July 13.

Gov. John Anderson of Kansas, chairman of the national governors' conference, said the Oregon primary in which Rockefeller topped Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, "shows the Republican nominee in San Francisco is not settled yet."

"If Rockefeller can win the California primary, he is going to be in a position to have something to say about the nominee, if there is no move to make him the nominee himself," Anderson said.

"Goldwater certainly is leading in delegates but I don't think it's in the bag."

Goldwater placed third in Oregon with Richard M. Nixon in fourth place.

Gov. Robert E. Smylie of Idaho said the Oregon results will increase the importance of the California primary outcome.

"If Goldwater wins in California," Smylie said, "it is likely that he will be nominated on the first ballot. If it looks like that is what is going to happen, it would be smart for the Idaho delegation to go along with him."

Gov. John H. Reed of Maine said Rockefeller's Oregon victory "certainly have boosted his stock and will make him a top contender at San Francisco."

Gov. John H. Chafee of Rhode Island commented that there was no question that Rockefeller's Oregon victory had saved the New Yorker's candidacy.

"If he had lost this primary, it would have made his future pretty bleak," Chafee said. "By winning it, he remains one of the strong contenders."

Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, who has said he would accept a genuine draft for the presidential nomination but doesn't expect that to happen, said Rockefeller deserved to win in Oregon.

Scranton, whose name was on the ballot, finished last behind Senator Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, among six contenders in the balloting.

Accept the Best, Lecturer Advises

Accept nothing but the best, the infinite goodness of God, Ralph W. Cessna of Evanston, Ill., said in a public lecture in Nelson Thursday night.

Calling upon his audience to "refuse to accept or express mediocrity, half-way good, limitation," Mr. Cessna declared that "we should and can aim at and truly be satisfied with, not just improvement, nor just something a little better, but only with the very highest and best kind of experience."

Health, freedom and well-being are in reality unlimited, because they are of God, the lecturer stated.

Mr. Cessna spoke in the Elk's Hall at the invitation of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Nelson. A Christian Science teacher and practitioner, he is a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship. The subject of his lecture was "How Christian Science Removes Limitations."

"Limiting God," he said, is ignorance of God. And ignorance of God is not only contrary to His plan, but is unnecessary."

Drawing on the field of sports, Mr. Cessna cited evidence to show how refusal to accept limited thinking has removed, on a human basis, barriers to accomplishment.

"In 1864 the best anyone could do in running the mile was 4 minutes, 56 seconds — nearly 5 minutes," he said. "This gradually improved until in 1945 the time was cut down to 4 minutes, 1.4 seconds. But it stayed right there for many years and folks began to say that no one would ever run the mile in less than 4 minutes. But in 1954 an English lad who did'nt believe in this limitation was clocked at 3 minutes, 59.4 seconds. Almost immediately a half dozen others, seeing that it was possible after all, equalled and even bettered that record."

Appearance in human experience of something less than good is evidence of lack of spiritual understanding of God as infinite Mind, he maintained.

"A belief in the limitation of health is a denial of God's allness and of the wholesomeness of His image and likeness, man, and this is the very state of thought that seems to produce all error in the first place," he declared.

Swedish Steel On Upswing

STOCKHOLM (Reuters)—Sweden's steel production is increasing steadily.

Answering for about one per cent of world production, Sweden has increased its production from 1,400,000 tons in 1950 to almost 4,000,000 tons last year—an increase of about 180 per cent in 13 years.

In 1962, steel plants here exported steel worth more than 1,000,000,000 crowns. Last year's figures were even higher.

The country's export of commercial steel in 1959 was 474,000 tons worth 722,000,000 crowns (about $134,960,000). Last year, the corresponding figure was 780,000 tons for about 1,113,000,000 crowns (about $634,200,000).

One reason for the upswing in production and sales figures, says Dr. Erik Ruist of the Iron and Steel Corporation's statistical department here, is that the Swede is almost twice as productive as his British colleague.

"While British workers produce 100 units," he said, "the French, German and Swedish equivalents are 121, 144 and 192 units a man in the same period of time."

Saturday's Answer

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Your Individual Horoscope

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Wednesday, May 20, 1964

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) — Consistency and moderation should be day's key words. With them, and your usual assets placed tightly into just-right position, you can make real strides.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus) —Good Venus influences presage new means for gains. You should feel ready and wiling to exercise your skills, make the most of your intution and originality.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini) — Do not quit a project or put aside things in which you lose interest except where the definitely more appropriate and useful appears. Keep spirits, ambitions alive!

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer) — You may encounter some upheavals but, in general, prudence and steadiness can keep the boat from rocking. Adaptability a big asset!

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo) — Get as early and sure-footed a start as all your gifts will permit, then keep things running smoothly by watching for pitfalls, warding off errors

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — Stay close to your own affairs now, except where you can assist another in thoughtful, capable manner. Otherwise, you may find yourself in strange waters, "over your head."

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra) — Planetary influences favorable. Your perception and intuition should be keen now. Get into the spirit of things and do your utmost, which can be substantial. Good progress in the making.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 22 (Scorpio) — Inspiration may be lacking, but that should only spur you on to a constructive determination to further good efforts. Emphasize system, order.

NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius) — Wait for results without becoming anxious; don't anticipate difficulty, and you will encounter less. Work conscientiously and your perseverance will be rewarded.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn) — You should have generally smooth going now, but if you SHOULD run into obstacles, take them in stride. You CAN hurdle them — and wind up the day satisfactorily.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius) — Getting along with others will be of prime import now. Speak and project generally in your tasteful best, and you should win all the cooperation you need.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces) — A dandy day for dandy deeds! A good period for launching new enterprises, assisting others over obstacles, solving complex problems. Make the most of it.

YOU BORN TODAY take up new ideas quickly, are normally progressive. You have so much going for you in versatility and keeness, you should steadfastly shun a tendency to stubborness at times. Don't be satisfied with superficial knowledge even if you are "getting along" with it. Quick adaptability enables you to join various pursuits, and you could succeed admirably as a writer, editor, musician, artist, surgeon or horticulturist. Birthdate of: Honore de Balzac, novelist; Jas. Stewart, actor; J. L. Agassiz, naturalist.

NASSER'S FARM PROGRAM SLOW

CAIRO (AP)—President Nasser's socialism is running into trouble down on the Egyptian farm.

Production isn't fast enough and the Egyptian peasant is showing himself to be a stubborn fellow when it comes to change.

The problems may force the Egyptian leader to shift his ground from his present policy of private farm ownership to a policy of big state or collective farms.

Such a hint has come from one of Nasser's closest friends, Mohamed Heikal, editor of the Cairo daily newspaper Al Ahram.

Heikal suggested that new land now being reclaimed from the desert should be turned into giant collectives or state-run farms.

These, he said, should specialize in hard-currency crops. An acre planted in cereals earns only about $100 a year on the local market, Heikal claimed, while the same land put to such a crop as flowers—yes, flowers—would earn 20 times as many dollars.

MARKET TRENDS

NEW YORK (AP) — Buying interest was slight and the stock market took a loss Monday as trading lagged.

Volume fell to 4,610,000 shares from the 5,060,000 in Friday's rising market.

It was a dull session. Some blue chips merely moved back from their gains on Friday. Wider losses were shown by some of the higher-priced, volatile issues.

The list was steady to a bit higher in the morning but this upward edge withered as buying power dried up. Stocks settled lower in the afternoon and closed at about their worst prices.

The Dow Jones industrial average sank 4.92 to 821.31.

A big factor was a 5-point decline by du Pont. The stock advanced 5 points Friday.

Of 1,343 issues traded, 632 declined and 431 advanced.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell 1.3 to 305.9.

A preponderance of fractional gains gave the rails their plus in the average. Santa Fe, however, yielded a point of its 2-point rise Friday.

TEXAS GULF ACTIVE

Texas Gulf Sulphur again was the most active stock. It erased an early gain of more than 2 and settled for a net loss of 1 at 57¼ on 417,000 shares. Radio Corp. was second, off ⅝ at 32¼ on 73,200 shares. Third was Curtis Publishing, off ⅛ at 14½ on 63,400 shares.

Calumet and Hecla absorbed further profit-taking and sank 1⅜ at 22⅜ in active trading.

Boeing, up 1½, paced a moderately higher aerospace group.

Polaroid, down 7⅞, was in a continued slide. Sears, Roebuck lost 2, Zenith 2¾, Merck 1¾, Standard Oil (New Jersey) 1⅛ Kennecott 1¼, American Smelting 1 and Proctor and Gamble 1⅛.

Among Canadian issues traded, Dome Mines lost ½ while ¼ losses were taken by Aluminium Ltd., Granby Mining, International Nickel and Walker Gooderham.

HMS Half Pint Leaves Half Beer Ration

LONDON (CP)—What to do with drunken sailors isn't a problem in the Royal Navy any more. Or so a signal from the frigate HMS Plymouth indicates.

The 2,200-ton frigate, returning from a year in the Pacific and Indian oceans, reported that the ship's company of 200 had drunk less than half the 100,000 cans of beer loaded when she sailed from Devonport last June.

Old admirals, shaking their heads sadly over their pink gins, wondered what the navy was coming to and why the surplus occurred.

Some speculated that the crew must be young and fonder of soft drinks. Others thought the local brews of the East might have appealed to the men more than their home stock.

Whatever the cause, old navy men predicted that the Plymouth from now on will always be known as the "half-pint ship."

Lures Beetles To Death

LONDON (CP)—Insect physiologist Dr. Harry Hurst has discovered a diabolical way to kill death-watch beetles.

It all hinges on the beetles' "beat"—a violent but regular eight taps to the second that sets the beetle's body rocking in perfect time in response to a mating call.

Dr. Hurst has taped the rhythmical love song and now is relaying it through loudspeakers in the beetle-infested parish church of Dalham, Suffolk.

The beat lures the reluctant beetles out of their holes and sets them dancing ecstatically on the church's high wooden beams. Eventually they tire and fall off on to a floor coated with a powerful insecticide that kills them instantly.

The method has been tested in laboratories and found perfect. If it works in Dalham's 14th-century church, it will save £3,000 — the cost of eliminating the beetles by conventional means.

Dr. Hurst, who owns a timber-proofing firm, hopes the dance-of-death beetle trap will soon be operating in some of the large English cathedrals threatened by death-watch beetles.

East German Youth Festival Fights Wane

BERLIN (AP) — East Germany's Communist youth festival appeared to run more smoothly Monday after several night brushes between people's police and unruly crowds of youngsters.

Disturbances were reported from three areas in East Berlin during the night, but Western diplomatic sources said they felt political motives were involved at only one spot.

At Karl-Marx Allee, the Communist sector's main street, fistfights broke out during political arguments and witnesses reported East German police moved in with nightsticks to break up the disturbance.

About 350 youngsters gathered near the Communist wall dividing Berlin.

At Unter Den Linden, near the Brandenburg Gate, about 350 members of the Free German Youth Movement apparently tried to get a close look at the wall dividing the city and were pushed back by police.

The youths jeered and booed as the green-uniformed police linked arms and began pushing. According to witnesses there were no fights.

POLICE PREPARED

But Communist police had seven armored cars and two armored cars with powerful water jets standing by. The water cannons were not used.

At the Bornholmerstrasse crossing point into West Berlin's French sector, similar incidents occurred.

There were no reports that any West Berliners or West Germans were involved in the disturbances.

The Communists said about 500,000 youths from throughout East Germany were taking part in the three-day festival which ends Monday night.

The last such festival was held in East Berlin 10 years ago. There was no wall at that time and hundreds of youths used the occasion to defect to the West.

ALQ Sign Found At Wire-Cutting

MONTREAL (CP) — Wires along the CPR tracks near St. Lazare, Que., some 40 miles west of here, were reported cut early Monday. A CPR spokesman said the painted initials ALQ —l'Armee de Liberation du Quebec—were found in the vicinity.

The CPR spokesman said one wire controlled a signal light beside the tracks. It was cut about 3 a.m.

"Fortunately there wasn't much traffic on the line," the spokesman said. "It didn't interfere with operations."

Crews had repaired the damage quickly.

WRECKED at Creston Blossom Festival yesterday was this aircraft but the pilot, D. M. Hinrichs, of Pullman, Wash., was uninjured. The aircraft's right wing hit the ground during the skydiving show as the pilot sought to avoid collision with a Mustang fighter plane. Then the plane cartwheeled and stopped while the other aircraft pulled up and flew on. The Mustang was flown by G. Wolton of Calgary.—Photo by H. M. Buckna.

Turkish-Cypriot Dock Workers Return to Jobs

NICOSIA (Reuters) — Turkish-Cypriot dock workers returned to work at Famagusta Monday for the first time since last Monday's shooting in the east coast port which cost the lives of two Greek army officers and a Greek-Cypriot policeman.

At the same time, a United Nations statement said it expected 32 Turkish-Cypriots abducted since last Monday to be released before UN Secretary-General U Thant's special envoy Galo Plaza leaves for New York Wednesday.

A UN spokesman, who announced the return to work of the dock workers said both Greek- and Turkish - Cypriots started removing fortifications erected in the tense days following the shooting.

Saturday, Cypriot President Makarios strongly condemned the practice of taking hostages. UN sources said UN force commander Lt.-Gen. Prem Singh Gyani and Plaza were bringing strong pressure on the Cyprus government to achieve the release of the abducted Turkish-Cypriots.

Bertrand Russell Celebrates 92nd

LONDON (AP) — Congratulatory messages from all parts of the world poured into the Welsh home of Earl Russell Monday on his 92nd birthday.

The philosopher and pacifist rebel, better known as Bertrand Russell, spent the day reading and writing as usual, said his secretary. Friends and relatives called at his home at Plas Penrhyn with gifts.

His secretary said no special celebration was planned.
