Throne Speech Also Predicts Grants for Home Purchasers

Throne Speech Highlights

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP) — Highlights of the throne speech read Tuesday at the opening of the B.C. legislature:

New department of travel industry to be established.

Financial help proposed for home-buyers who have not received a home - owner's grant.

Capital fund proposed to stabilize a crop insurance program for tree fruits industry.

Cultural assistance fund proposed to promote, stimulate and expand cultural resources of B.C. residents.

Measures to implement an expanded program of housing for low-income groups will be introduced.

Mental health services to be expanded in the Okanagan, Kootenay and Upper Vancouver Island areas.

Protection of buyers of consumer goods from door-to-door salesmen and disclosure of credit costs also will be proposed.

Air pollution section planned for department of health.

Consumer Protection Measures Proposed

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP) — Plans to protect consumers and set up a separate tourist industry department were forecast Tuesday in the throne speech opening the first session of the 28th B.C. Legislature.

The speech, read by Lieutenant-Governor Pearkes, said members will consider legislation dealing with consumer goods purchased from door-to-door salesmen, protection of buyers under sales contracts and "fair disclosure of the cost of credit."

The new tourist department, the speech said, would help to expand last year's $225,000,000 tourist industry.

Plans to establish a home purchaser's grant for first-time buyers were mentioned.

Under the plan, first announced at last year's session by Premier Bennett, buyers will receive a $500 grant from a $25,000,000 fund the legislature will be asked to set up

MARKS CENTENNIAL

The 6,500-word speech was read at New Westminster instead of Victoria to mark 100 years of B.C. history. The first session of the legislative council of the united colony of B.C. was opened here Jan. 24, 1867.

Proceedings Tuesday were staged in Queen's Park Hockey Arena, near the site of the original session opening.

The speech said the legislature will be asked to approve three major funds—to establish a cultural assistance grant, a crop insurance scheme and to retire debt on New Westminster's Queensborough bridge.

Tolls were removed on the bridge late last year in a surprise announcement by the premier.

The speech said the "government . . . is satisfied that we are now in a position to turn further attention to the promotion, stimulation, and expansion of the cultural resources of our people.

"You will be asked to consider establishment of a cultural assistance fund."

REQUIRE $5,000,000

Trade and Commerce Minister Ralph Loffmark mentioned the possibility of such a fund about three years ago. He estimated at the time that $5,000,000 would be required.

Details were not given on the crop insurance scheme but the speech said members will be asked to approve setting up a fund to stabilize a program for tree fruits established at the last session. Size of the fund was estimated to be about $5,000,000.

Mr. Bennett has said that about $3,500,000 would be needed to retire the bridge debt.

The remainder of the speech reviewed programs initiated last year and reported on progress of hospital, welfare and power.

Legislature desks, chairs and assorted other furniture were moved here to transform the hockey arena into a legislative forum. All the furniture will be moved back to Victoria for the second day, when the 19 freshmen members elected in the Sept. 12 general election will make their official debut in the capital.

Premier Bennett's Social Credit party has 33 seats of the 55-seat assembly, increased by three seats in redistribution prior to last September's election. The New Democratic Party, under opposition leader Robert Strachan, has 16 seats and the Liberal party six.

Mr. Pearkes said legislation dealing with workmen's compensation also will come up this session. The speech did not go into details.

A massive report on workmen's compensation was brought down at the last session, but no action was taken on its recommendations.

A major recommendation called for setting up of an ombudsman - like post as an intermediary between the Workmen's Compensation Board and workers.

The speech also forecast amendments to the Public Schools Act, an expanded program for low-income housing, and establishment of an air health department.

Mr. Bennett's government has been under fire from opposition parties and conservation groups for taking little action to curb air pollution.

Talks with the federal government are under way, the speech said, to reach a joint agreement to improve drainage, reduce flood damage and to increase farm production "in the flood-prone lands of the Lower Fraser Valley."

Eggs, Ink Fly On Ky's Visit

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP) — Anti-war demonstrators hurling eggs and ink battled police Tuesday night in opposition to the goodwill visit of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky of South Vietnam.

Two women and several men halted Ky's limousine at the Auckland airport by throwing themselves in the roadway after the South Vietnamese leader flew in from Wellington. Then about 300 closed in, spattering the car with eggs and pounding on it with their fists and chunks of wood.

Jeering, screaming and punching at policemen, they shouted:

"Fascist! Fascist!"

The car's interior light was on and Ky looked anxious as a burly New Zealander thumped on a window and cursed him.

Suntanned girls and barefoot youths carried printed placards such as "No more lies. Stop this war."

U.S. Budget Hits Record $135 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has unveiled for the next fiscal year a record $135,000,000,000 U.S. administrative budget designed, he says, to defend freedom abroad and promote dignity at home. It includes the largest request for military outlays — $72,300,000,000—since the Second World War.

The budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1, which he sent to the U.S. Congress Tuesday for approval, ranges from increased Vietnam war spending to escalation—on a moderate scale—of the anti-poverty program in the U.S.

Sandwiched between are what the president called modest increases in other Great Society domestic programs, the beginnings of a space venture aimed at an unmanned landing on the planet Mars in 1973 and possible first production of the Nike-X anti-ballistic missile defence.

SPACE SPENDING LESS

The only major spending cut apparent in the budget comes in space, down $300,000,000 from the current fiscal year.

Officials said spending for Johnson's Great Society is scheduled to increase by $1,900,000 to $18,300,000,000 in such fields as education, health, economic opportunity, welfare, regional development, pollution control, labor and community development.

Johnson asked sacrifice in the form of higher taxes and higher postal rates.

Johnson described his budget as a careful balance between the country's abundant resources and its "awesome responsibilities."

"Our nation is stronger today than ever before," Johnson wrote. "We need not, indeed we dare not, forsake our basic goals of peace, prosperity and progress."

The projected administrative budget deficit of $8,100,000,000 is held in check, Johnson said, by reducing or postponing programs wherever possible.

He cautioned Congress against making substantial changes for fear of jeopardizing the economy, the budget itself and the aims of society.

Expanded Mental Health Services Set For District

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Mental health services in the Okanagan, Kootenay and Upper Vancouver Island areas will be expanded this year, the B.C. government said Tuesday in the speech from the throne.

The speech said 14 major hospital projects were completed last year.

"Facilities for over 1,000 new beds are under construction throughout the province, representing construction costs exceeding $25,000,000. Major projects now being planned represent a further investment of approximately $50,000,000."

The speech estimated that in the current fiscal year an estimated $90,000,000 will be paid by the government for B.C. residents requiring hospital treatment under the B.C. Hospital Insurance Service.

MORE EXPANSION

Treatment facilities are being further developed to meet the particular needs of children handicapped by emotional disorders, the speech said. Construction of a 400-bed school for mentally retarded children in Victoria was under way. Renovations to Woodlands school for mentally retarded children were being carried out.

The 104-bed unit at Tranquille school for mentally retarded children opened recently near Kamloops was in full use. Provincial property at New Denver has been renovated to accommodate emotionally disturbed children.

"My government has appointed a director of the forensic clinic, which was established last year, and the regional mental health centre in Chilliwack has now been opened. This year recruitment of staff for the centres at Prince George and Kamloops will be undertaken, and services in the Okanagan, Kootenay and Upper Vancouver Island areas will be expanded."

Air Pollution Section Set for B.C.

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—The government intends to establish an air - pollution section within the provincial department of health, it was announced Tuesday in the speech from the throne read at the opening of the B.C. Legislature.

The speech said the government viewed as a "cardinal responsibility the preservation for all time of the blessings of clean air, pure water and fertile soil."

The speech said 15 survey stations have already been established in various areas of the province to conduct air-quality surveys.

Engineers May Testify on Coulee Boost

OTTAWA (CP)—Energy Minister Pepin promised Tuesday to look into the possibility of engineers from the federal water resources branch testifying before a Commons committee on the planned increase in power at the Grand Coulee, Wash., dam on the Columbia River.

He was replying in the Commons to H. W. Herridge (NDP—Kootenay West) who said there is criticism in Canada of the plan.

Mr. Pepin had said previously that the planned power increase does not involve the Canada-U.S. treaty on development of the Columbia.

QUEBEC (CP) — Justice Minister Jean-Jacques Bertrand of Quebec announced Tuesday that a commission of inquiry into the question of injustice in the province has been set up.

Radio Reports Military Leaders Supporting Mao

By KAY TATEISHI

TOKYO (AP)—Radio Peking said Tuesday military leaders throughout China vowed to help Mao Tse-tung wrest party, government and financial power from his foes. Another broadcast said Maoists had seized control of Shansi province, next door to Peking.

The first broadcast seemed to be an admission that Mao's enemies are solidly entrenched in the party and government apparatus. Other reports told of Mao's forces complaining they were in a minority.

The roster of military "commanders and fighters" who pledged to help Mao fight "those in authority who are taking the capitalist road" was impressive, if Radio Peking could be believed. There have been somewhat similar pledges of support before, but so far the army has taken little action in the Chinese tumult.

PLEDGES WIDESPREAD

The radio said the pledges came from Manchuria in the northeast, Inner Mongolia in the north, Sinkiang province in the far northwest, Tibet in the far west, Yunnan province in the southwest, Kwangtung in the south, Chekiang in the southeast and from many parts of central China, among others.

In nearly all these areas, fighting between supporters of Mao and his chief foe, President Liu Shao-chi, has been reported in wall posters or by the official New China news agency. In some areas, such as Sinkiang and Manchuria, the army has been reported standing aside, or helping Mao's enemies.

Radio Peking said "hundreds of millions of revolutionary workers, peasants, students and cadres" were ready "to unleash a massive onslaught" on the anti-Mao faction.

Reuters news agency quoted Peking radio as saying large quantities of arms were seized Jan. 12 and the headquarters of anti-party elements destroyed by army units in Shansi province.

DISRUPT PROVINCE

It did not disclose the size of the forces specifically ranged against Mao, but the terms of the radio's announcement indicated there had been a major upheaval in the province.

A report from Vergil Berger, Reuters Peking correspondent, said Mao's supporters were placing increasing emphasis on China's massive army in the struggle for power.

But the New China news agency reported resistance to Mao in wide areas, including Kiangsi province in southeast China where earlier reports told of an anti-Mao army forming from workers and peasants.

Truscott Review Begins In Supreme Court Today

OTTAWA (CP)—A stern call for "order" will ring out in the Supreme Court of Canada today to signal the start of the final stage of the government-ordered review of the Steven Truscott case.

Long before the nine justices take their places in the court, reporters will be crowded around four large tables and all 34 seats set aside for the public will be filled.

G. Arthur Martin and E. B. Jolliffe, both of Toronto, will lead off with final arguments on why they think Truscott either should be acquitted or given a new trial in connection with his conviction for the 1959 sex slaying of 12-year-old Lynne Harper at Clinton, Ont.

Truscott, who'll remain at work in the machine shop of the medium-security prison at Collins Bay, Ont., during the hearings, was only 14 when convicted of the crime. Sentenced to be hanged, his sentence later was commuted to life imprisonment.

Close U.K.-French Relations Necessary, de Gaulle Advised

By MOHSIN ALI

PARIS (Reuters) — British Prime Minister Wilson told President de Gaulle Tuesday there is no future for Europe except in the context of close Anglo-French relations.

Wilson took this line in the first of a round of talks with de Gaulle to evaluate Britain's chances of joining the European Common Market, informed sources said.

British sources said the French leader listened with courtesy while Wilson outlined Britain's position during the 100-minute meeting. They added it was too early to ascertain de Gaulle's attitude toward the British case.

De Gaulle's aides refused to comment on whether the Elysee Palace meeting brought British and French views closer.

During luncheon after the meeting, Wilson said during a toast to the French president Europe is great only when Britain and France are partners.

MADE COURTEOUS REPLY

In reply, de Gaulle said it was a great advantage to be able to discuss with Wilson the particularly serious and complex problems concerning Europe.

"This is precisely why we deeply appreciate the opportunity of studying them with you who know so well how to gauge their extent as well as their difficulty . . ." de Gaulle said.

Wilson's two-day visit to Paris is part of a tour of all six Common Market capitals to evaluate the chances of British entry.

The key to entry mainly lies in the hands of de Gaulle, who blocked Britain's first attempt to join in January, 1963.

B.C. Will Still Build Vocational Schools

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Despite termination of the federal - provincial agreement on technical and vocational training, the B.C. government will continue to construct and operate regional vocational schools, it was announced Tuesday in the speech from the throne at the opening of the B.C. Legislature.

The announced intention preceded notice the session will consider amendments to the Public Schools Act.

"During the past year my government has vigorously pursued its programme to bring modern, diversified services within reach of all sections of the province," the speech said.

"A major reorganization and expansion of the entire secondary-school systems has been completed and is now being consolidated and implemented throughout the province.

"Attention has been directed to the provision of up-to-date courses and new teaching materials in all major fields of learning. Further, to meet the increasing educational requirements of our technological age, my government proposes to continue its planned programme of expansion of educational facilities at the post-secondary-school level in the British Columbia vocational schools, the Institute of Technology and in district or regional colleges."

Radios, Papers Shut Down In Nicaragua

MANAGUA (AP) —The Somoza - controlled Nicaraguan government shut down opposition radio stations and newspapers Tuesday as a fragile peace settled over the country following a 20-hour uprising.

The government appeared determined to keep the lid on the simmering political passions aroused by the presidential elections scheduled for Feb 5.

Civil Defence Ever At-Ready to Meet Disaster

Zone coordinator Walter W. Wait at work with his secretary, Mrs. J. W. McClelland.

By DON KOLFAGE
Editorial Director, The News

Death and destruction rained on the coastal city. The 'bomb' laid waste to hundreds of square miles. A pitiful procession of injured and bewildered survivors wended their way in a painful march to the comparative safety of the interior . . .

The light plane crashed in the mountainous and mist-shrouded wilderness lying southeast of the city, exact whereabouts unknown . . .

Fire swept through the business section and parts of adjoining residential areas leaving several hundred persons homeless and virtually destitute . . .

Fictitious events of course, but let's suppose they did occur.

Immediately a well-organized force swung into action in each case.

As the survivors of the atomic holocaust straggled into the area they were met and given aid, habitation and food. The injured were treated and hospitalized. Attempts were made to find missing relatives and friends.

As word of the light plane crash reached the city, a well-organized search, operating on a pre-determined plan, took to the air. The wreckage was spotted, food and clothing were dropped, and a helicopter dispatched to pick up the survivors.

Public facilities were readied to handle the victims of the huge fire. Clothing and food were collected, meals were prepared, and medical aid was provided for those needing it.

This was the Nelson Zone of the Civil Defence Organization in action. It was not in charge of the varied activities, but had simply acted prior to the events as the organizational group, and providing training for other persons and organizations taking part in such events.

Civil Defence came into being in 1951 provincially, and the Nelson Zone was organized two years later and comprises East and West Kootenay with a population of 110,000 persons.

For CD purposes the province is divided into six zones, two being considered target zones, Vancouver and Victoria, and four reception zones, Nelson, Kamloops, Prince George and Prince Rupert.

Financing of CD operations comes 75 per cent from the Federal Government, 15 per cent from the Province, and the remaining ten per cent from the municipalities involved.

The three prime purposes of the Civil Defence organization are to save lives, prevent destruction of property and speed the return to normalcy in event of an emergency.

COORDINATOR

The theory of the CD operations is not to be in charge in emergencies, but to act as a co-ordinating agency.

In event of an emergency in Nelson for example, the city's mayor would be in charge with Civil Defence working to assist him, co-ordinating the activities of varous local groups and providing needed assistance.

To train members of the CD program two training colleges are maintained at Arnprior, Ontario, and Victoria. Some 15 classes covering such subjects as rescue, general orientation, radiology, casualty simulation, welfare and health.

Training is carried out at the municipal levels as well. In Nelson, courses in home nursing, first aid, rescue, fire training and other similar subjects are offered each year.

MOBILE FLEET

Nelson Zone Co-ordinator Walter Wait from the headquarters office in Columbia College guides the activities in this area. He noted that CD maintains a sizeable mobile fleet that includes two communications vans complete with radio receiving and sending equipment.

Two trucks equipped for heavy rescue work are also operated and serve a dual purpose, being used for training purposes as well. One feeding truck is also maintained that is capable of producing meals at the rate of 400 per hour.

"Just recently," Mr. Wait said, "we have established a provincial co-ordinating group designed to bring in the Red Cross, Salvation Army, St. John Ambulance Brigade and other similar groups that are in the business of assisting in emergencies into a co-ordinated effort."

He continued "Each level of government is expected to write a plan setting out the duties of the various services and, in essence, provide a quick callup of personnel and equipment so that operations can begin with a minimum of delay and produce the best effect."

EACH HAS PLAN

He said that each municipality in the Nelson Zone, 24 in all, has its own written plan which is kept currently operational by being kept up to date.

Initial steps were taken last summer, Mr. Wait said, to bring local air service into the CD setup. Local pilots are required to sign up and they are then screened for experience. They and their planes are available in event of an emergency.

"In the coming year," he added, "we will be holding exercises for the pilots that will provide experience and give them a general idea of what is expected of them."

Even the hospitals are brought within the scope of CD activities. Mr. Wait noted that a hospital is required to have a civil defence plan in order to obtain creditation. "We hope in the near future," he concluded, "that the schools will be brought into the setup and produce plans of their own."

Residents Rally 40-Strong To Aid of Centennial Club

Overwhelming support by Nelson citizens at Centennial Club meeting Tuesday night gave the organization new life and a fresh start.

Response at the meeting, it had been expected, would either "make or break" centennial project plans.

Over 40 persons turned out, many of them volunteering their services.

Chairman Albert Maida was "delighted" with the sudden upsurge in Centennial Club interest, saying many persons had approached him and volunteered help over the past week.

"We have many fine people here in Nelson," said Mr. Maida, "all they needed to know was what was required of them."

The meeting saw a full slate of executive and committee chairmen elected, including:

General chairman, Albert Maida; secretary, Mrs. R. M. Kaye; treasurer, Kenneth Cole; first vice-chairman, Douglas Reeves; second vice-chairman, E. D. Baravelle; and third vice-chairman, Ald. Henry Stevenson.

Nelson Rotary Club expressed willingness to work with any project undertaken by the Centennial Club, and Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Dill offered to co-chair arrangements for the Centennial Ball.

5000 COINS

It was decided to accept the offer of Barry Kubin Company to produce 5000 bronze-gold Nelson Centennial coins. The bronze coins were chosen over suggested aluminum emblems.

Money received from the sale of the coins will go to aid the Centennial Club's many projects. The medals will display the Nelson Coat of Arms and an especially designed insignia representing area industry.

The association has been given permission to extend the deadline for pioneer medal applications to July 12. Mr. Maida said a surprising number of eligible Kootenay pioneers have applied for the medals in the past short while, "thanks to an article printed in the Nelson Daily News."

Mr. Maida reviewed some of the many projects already booked for Nelson, including performances by: The Best of Barkerville, Centennial Gavel, B.C. Tel Choral Group, Chahko Mika and Water Festival.

NEED MORE FUNDS

Mr. Maida pointed out that a number of other projects are now being considered and Centennial activities are only limited by funds available. He has his hopes set on an additional $7000 to supplement present activities.

As a centennial gift to the city fathers and museum, the meeting decided to purchase a set of statutes and busts of Confederation Fathers, Jacques Cartier and John A. Macdonald. The figures will cost the association $185.

Chamber To Install Officers Saturday

The 1967 slate of officers of the Nelson Chamber of Commerce will be installed at a banquet and dance Saturday night.

Succeeding Arthur Foster as president will be R. E. Nelson, manager of the Nelson Daily News.

Going in as first vice-president will be Ross Mark, district commercial and traffic manager for B.C. Telephone Company; second vice-president, John D. Stanger, manager of the Kootenay Cleaning Centre; and third vice president, Fred C. Merriman, owner-manager of an accounting business.

An unusual slide presentation by James Cameron, public relations director for Cominco Ltd., will be a program feature.

The slides deal with various Cominco activities in the Kootenays and elsewhere.

A social function also, the annual installation night will include a dance.

Guests are expected from Chambers of Commerce throughout Kootenay-Boundary.

ARTHUR FOSTER

Poet Burns Honored

Guest speaker Gordon Campbell, Selkirk College principal, described the Bard Burns as a man of the people, speaking out against injustice of any kind to any person.

Today with the on-rushing advance of science, "we should never become so inhuman that we cannot or will not see that concern for our fellow man should be our first thought."

Adding a musical contribution to the festivities was singer Bobbie Stewart, with "Star of Robbie Burns." Jock Hawkins, accompanied by Mrs. Brewster, led the assembly with traditional Scottish tunes. Kip Underwood's harmonica band was also on hand to join in the festivities.

Couple Hurt Critically

A husband and wife are still in critical condition, following a Monday night head on collision between two cars on Ymir Road, near Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Burt of Fruitvale were rushed to Kootenay Lake General Hospital following the accident.

Tuesday night, their condition was described as "critical."

They were driving towards Salmo, when their small European car was in collision with another car driven by John Ali Buksh of Nelson, who escaped with minor injuries.

The accident occurred on a straight stretch of highway, about two and a half miles from Nelson.

RCMP are still investigating.

MORE PROTECTION

VANCOUVER (CP) — Vancouver police authorities are budgeting for hard hats for police who have to struggle with crowds. Some Vancouver officers were hurt during last years Grey Cup riots. Only a small proportion of the 700-man force will be outfitted with the hard hats.

Grand Forks Mill Rate May Jump Five Mills

By DON KOLFAGE
Editorial Director, The News

GRAND FORKS — A five to seven mill jump in the overall Grand Forks mill rate, was forecast Tuesday by the city's Clerk-Treasurer E. W. (Bill) Euerby.

Mr. Euerby said he anticipated a minimum five-mill hike in the overall rate.

The reasons, he said, were rising school costs and an anticipated increase in the city's general budget.

A two to three mill increase in the general rate is possible, he said.

"There will be a slight increase in the debt rate, and I anticipate that the school rate, due to teacher salary increases, if nothing else, will jump about three mills."

POWER RATE LOSS

Mr. Euerby said he believed that an increase in the Grand Forks general levy, could be forced by a decrease in domestic power rates that was granted on January 1.

He said the reduction would probably mean a drop in electric power revenue, from nine to ten thousand dollars, annually.

Grand Forks struck a rate of 54.3 mills in 1966. Mr. Euerby noted that the general levy had been 21.327 mills; the debt levy, 5.173 mills, and the school levy, 27.8 mills.

The city's assessment roll for 1967 has been set at $4,175,158.

Mr. Euerby said that taxable assessment, based on 100 per cent of land assessment and 75 per cent of improvements, was about $3,300,000, meaning that one mill would provide the city with $3300.

Grand Forks City Council has approved a provisional budget in the amount of $249,800.85, including capital expenditures totalling about $50,000.

WORKS PROJECTS

Mr. Euerby said that some of the capital programs covered in the provisional budget, include, $25,000 in street construction, $7630 in sidewalk construction, ornamental street lighting, $3120; sanitary sewers, $3795; storm sewers $2870; tools and equipment, $2250; parks buildings and sprinkler system extension, $8700; a new tennis court $2200; pottery kilns for the art club $875; air conditioning unit for city hall, $1125; and a gravel screening plant at a cost of $2930.

2807 Campers Use Grand Forks Park

City Clerk Treasurer E. W. Euerby, noted that the city has provided complete camping facilities at the park and is planning to expand these facilities during 1967.

Campers from every province in Canada, many of the United States, and three foreign countries used these facilities.

Some 900 campers from Alberta were registered in 1966, 272 from Saskatchewan, 78 from B.C. 215 from Manitoba, 197 from Ontario, and 13 from the rest of the provinces.

Washington State provided 148 of the campers, California 91 and other U.S. states 183.

Two Mexican campers were registered, two from England and four from Germany.

In addition to the 2807 campers registered, 64 trailer caravans used the facilities last summer.

School Board Chairman Refutes Bradshaw Charge

A refutation of a statement that the campaign to establish Selkirk College was one of "deceit and incorrect information," was made Monday night.

Mrs. Jean Ryley, Chairman of Nelson School Board, declared: 'There was never any intention or desire to deceive."

She was answering an attack on the campaign for the college, made by former School Board Trustee Mrs. Rose Bradshaw.

Mrs. Bradshaw charged: "The whole campaign for a West Kootenay Regional College has been one of deceit and incorrect information from the outset.

"The board simply fell in with the views of the superintendent of education here at the time, and failed completely to give full and proper consideration to the financial implications involved."

Mrs. Ryley said at Monday night's meeting of School Board: "There might have been some honest mistakes."

She added that there had been some honest opinions on the board at the time.

New Canine Club Formed in Nelson

A number of enthusiastic dog owners and their eager canine companions were on hand to register at the first general meeting of newly formed Nelson Canine Club Monday night.

Jack Reid chaired the meeting, overseeing the election of officers. George Wassick was elected president, to be assisted by vice-president Gay Christie. Ted Chayeski, animal trainer, assumed position of secretary with treasurer being Elsie Allen.

Two courses will be offered, a beginner's and advanced, both under the direction of Mr. Chayeski. Graduate animals from the novice class will receive a companion dog degree.

The beginners course will be concerned mainly with general obedience: heel on leash and off, recall, long sit and long down.

The advanced course will include heeling without a leash, drop on recall, retrieve on flat, retrieve over a high jump, broad jump, long sit and long down.

Classes will be held either on a Wednesday or Thursday or both.

NEW FACILITY

WINNIPEG (CP)—Air Canada will construct a multi-million air cargo facility here during the summer. Construction is expected to be completed within 12 months. Increase in air cargo business brought about the expansion.

Joint Operation of Salmo, Fruitvale Chambers Studied

SALMO—There is a possibility that Fruitvale will join the Salmo Chamber of Commerce, thus strengthening the Chamber by perhaps 20 members.

Martin Walsh, spokesman for the neighboring village and one-man committee on the subject matter, said the general feeling of businessmen is that it would be most beneficial for all concerned.

Salmo members said they were heartily in favor of this gesture, and would like to see it carried through.

Frank Rotter brought up the subject of snowsheds for the Kootenay Skyway. This was taken to the Kootenay - Boundary Presidents' meeting in Trail. Department of Highways stated last month that cost of providing snowsheds over the 8000-foot slide area would be prohibitive.

It was also noted that an out-of-province publication is seeking history of Salmo to be compiled with other provincial records which in due course will be placed in the archives in Victoria. Chris Hansen, local historian, has accepted the task of selecting material and pictures.

The annual banquet took up considerable time in discussion as to date, requirements and pros and cons in reference to programming.

Jack Teague will spearhead the committee with Guy Wells, R. Phelps, Colin Brown. Fran Bradley, Mrs. J. DeGuglielmo will be in charge of all decor. including table decorations, and it is likely a Centennial motif will be he highlight. Mr. Phelps will be in charge of tickets and it is contemplated that 150 should attend.

The showing of film followed by a dance rounds out the program.

Officers for the ensuing year will be announced during the evening.

Showing a healthy crop of whiskers of three weeks growth in their bid for the Centennial beard contest in Salmo are Jim Simmons, Harry Gould, John Koopek and Steve Gora, all smiling because they just passed the uncomfortable stage of their new growth. Mr. Gora says there are now 41 entries. Three cash prizes are offered for the best beard.

Church Names New Officers

SOUTH SLOCAN — The Women's Auxiliary to Saint Mathew's Church voted at their last meeting to have their name changed to the St. Mathew's Church Guild.

At the annual meeting of the St.Mathew's Church, Ven. Archdeacon F. D. Wyatt chaired the meeting. New officers elected were as follows:

Rector's warden and secretary, M. K. Harrison; people's warden for three months, Mrs. W. J. Claridge; treasurer, Mrs. R. J. Mulloy; Sunday School representative, Mrs. A. Scully; Church Guild representative, Mrs. S. F. Baker.

Births, Deaths, Marriages Off

NEW DENVER — Births, marriages and deaths all decreased in 1966 compared to the 1965 figures. Births went down by four, marriages three and deaths four. Vital statistics for 1966 showed births 10, marriages 5 and deaths 7. In 1965 there were 14 births, 8 marriages and 11 deaths.

Cubs Visit Fire Hall

NEW DENVER — The New Denver-Silverton cubs held their regular meeting which saw an increase in membership and in attendance.

Under hte leadership of cub-master Mike Lyver and guidance of assistant cubmasters John Lyver and Gus Stankoven, the cubs then paraded to the New Denver firehall for their first visit to a place of interest in the new year.

W. J. Wilson, New Denver fire chief, was on hand to demonstrate and explain the different types of extinguishers and their operation and uses.

Types of stretchers were also shown to the youngsters as well as the hoses, hard hats and other equipment. Highlight of the evening for the boys was when Mr. Wilson showed and explained the all-purpose gas mask and then let each individual cub try it on.

Saturday afternoon the cubs enjoyed an outing when they gathered at New Denver and motored to Shannon Creek near Hills with their toboggans, sleighs and bobsleds and spent the afternoon riding down the two to three-mile stretch of road.

The youngsters were also treated to hot dogs and hot chocolate at a bonfire. Mr. and Mrs. J. Kauchar donated $5 to this party, the first one this winter. Adults supplied the transportation and leaders.

Riondel's Rod, Gun Heads Named

RIONDEL — The Riondel Rod and Gun Club has elected as officers F. Shannon, president; W. MacLeod, vice-president, and Mrs. L. Kniert, secretary-treasurer.

J. Lemmon and L. Kniert attended the zone meeting in Castlegar. The club will be selling new memberships in the near future.

Highway Act Change Said Pound Law Aid

INVERMERE — James Chabot, MLA for Columbia River Riding, a guest at the January meeting of the Windermere District Chamber of Commerce, said a proposed change in the Highways Act may give the chamber some satisfaction in its effort for a pound law for Highway 95 south of Radium Hot Springs.

The subject of the pound law has plagued the chamber for years and a petition signed by some 300 residents and sent to the government months ago brought no result.

Mr. Chabot said the proposed pound law has met a variety of objections, mostly from local farmers. He said the department of highways has offered the farmers free fence posts, fencing and wire to erect fences along the border of the highway.

W. Roy Lake, who has fought a losing battle for the Chamber on the pound law problem for years, said the department of highways and the department of agriculture "bat the matter back and forth like a hot potato."

He said that if the proposed change to the Highways Act becomes law, Highways 93 and 95 will be the first affected.

Airline business to Australia increased 50 per cent in 1966.

Cranbrook Legion Officers Installed

CRANBROOK — With East Kootenay Zone Commander Harry Broadhurst of Kimberley present and guests from branches from Golden to Creston present, Royal Canadian Legion officers for Branch 24, Cranbrook, and for its Ladies' Auxiliary were installed at a social gathering Saturday.

President is Henry Mayberry, past president O. C. Anderson, vice-presidents P. H. Abbott, Glen Stubbert and Donald Pratt, and elected executive John McLay, Garfield Taylor, Charles Gray, Ronald Jenkins, Ed Gummer and Douglas MacKiliop, with appointed executives James Kennedy and T. F. Mann, with one more to be named.

In the Auxiliary Mrs. Frank Vanlerberg becomes president, Mrs. Margaret Stratton past president, Mrs. O. C. Anderson and Mrs. Harold Porter vice-presidents, Mrs. Ted Rawson treasurer, and executive members Mrs. Gordon Legrandeur, Mrs. T. F. Pollon, Mrs. G. W. Patmore and Mrs. Harold Neilson of Wycliffe. Office of secretary has not been filled.

Riondel Notes

Mr. and Mrs. H. Mattock recently enjoyed a visit from their son Barry and his family from Vernon. Their daughter Lynn and her family also came from Vancouver to spend some time with them.

22 Attend Selkirk College Clinic

CASTLEGAR — Twenty-two representatives from 12 different Trail organizations attended a special leadership clinic sponsored by the continuing education program of Selkirk College, Friday night.

Acting as resource persons for the meeting were E. B. Sexsmith, regional liaison officer for the citizenship branch of the Department of the Secretary of State of the federal government of Canada, and Dr. John Ohliger, Selkirk College's director of continuing education.

Trail groups represented at the meeting to discuss leadership problems included the Parent-Teacher Association, Trail-Tadanac Parks and Recreation Commission, East Trail United Church, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Local 480 of the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers' Union, St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Women's League, Boy Scouts of Canada, East Trail United Church Women, the New Democratic Party, the Council of Women, the Anglican Church women and St. Francis Catholic Women's League.

Further meetings are contemplated to provide an opportunity for improvement in the effectiveness of volunteer group activities.

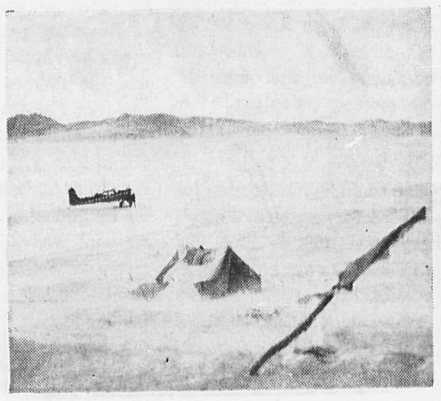
The White Fleet

For centuries, a Portuguese convoy of tall-masted schooners has sailed across the Atlantic to the rich cod-spawning grounds off Greenland and Newfoundland. H. L. Lemieux of the National Film Board, who spent 3 months aboard one of the ships of the White Fleet, describes their lonely life in Weekend Magazine this week.

Part Two: Struggle for Survival

In a desperate search for food while stranded alone, freezing and without nourishment for 50 days inside the Arctic, prospector Jim Barton tried eating dynamite, with almost fatal results. The second instalment from Barton's survival story tells how he won his fight for life.



All the Redgraves

Sir Michael Redgrave was knighted for his contribution to the theatre, his wife is a much-in-demand character actress, son Corin is a leading actor of the younger generation and daughters Vanessa, star of Morgan, and Lynn, award-winning Georgy Girl, continue the family tradition. Read about the remarkable first family of the British theatre in Weekend Magazine.

Jolly Good GINGER

How often do you use ginger in your kitchen? asks Food Editor Margo Oliver this week. Margo suggests that this tangy spice can be used to brighten up your main dishes, and includes recipes for Chicken Breasts With Vegetables, Ginger Fish and Ginger Cheese Cake.

N.H.L. HOCKEY STAR

"Today, in his 14th N.H.L. season, I still meet goalers who rate his slap shot as the 'heaviest' in the N.H.L.", says Sports Editor Andy O'Brien of Chicago's Doug Mohns. The 33-year-old left-winger is Andy's choice this week for Weekend Magazine's hockey star portrait series.

Advertising Is the Key

The trend of times being to introduce government into almost every aspect of our society, it was inevitable that the bureaucrats should eventually get around to meddling in the complex field of retail marketing. Fo rit is in the merchandising of every form of consumer goods that the genius of the system of free enterprise chiefly lies, and its amazing achievements are the key to the survival, success, and spread of the free enterprise structure.

The highest standard of living the world has ever seen has been achieved by a system of free enterprise, not only in North America, but on all the inhabited continents of the world. It is a system based on a simple formula of free competition; the man who can produce the best product for the least cost will prosper. One of the chief factors in the cost of machine-made goods is volume, and it is the success of advertising in creating enormous consumer demand for various products that has kept volume up and cost down. The variety of the market, reflecting the purchasing power of a variegated society, has made possible an infinite choice of product, tailored to the taste and pocketbook of the whole spectrum of society.

It is this very variety which is so galling to the socialist and planned-economy mind. From the socialist viewpoint, there should be but one brand of automobile, of washing machine, of women's coat; all the rest are so much wasteful duplication. To people of such outlook, advertising is an encouragement of waste, since it creates desire for "unnecessary" products and they look upon the vast sums expended to promote the sales of products as simply another item of expense which adds to the price.

Nothing could be further from the truth. It is the very variety of goods that keeps their quality high and their price low. One has only to compare the modern American automobile, providing an amazing standard of comfort and even luxury to consumers from every walk of life, to its Russian counterpart, the product of a planned, state-controlled economy. Uninspired, outdated copies of American models, they are priced beyond the reach of all but the very few.

Competition may be wasteful to socialist eyes, but it is enormously successful in terms of providing the most in consumer goods for the least in price. The key to volume sales, and hence to lowest possible costs, is advertising; without it, consumers would be unaware of even the existence of a new product, let alone its qualities. Without advertising there could be no choice of products, no urge to improve an old item or devise a new one.

Like the fool who killed the goose that laid the golden egg, there are politicians today who contemplate the restraint or abolition of advertising, through punitive taxes or government edict. Such meddlers should be acquainted with the results of a recent survey of consumer buying habits conducted by the Newsprint Information Committee. In a remarkably well-documented study, this group established that three out of four American women made major purchases, involving everything from fur coats to washing machines, on the basis of a decision made within a week of the purchase. In other words, they had not been planning to buy the coat or the washer until they had seen one advertised which appealed to them. As a consequence, they bought. Without such advertising, without the resultant sales, without the factory production they represent, there would be few factory jobs and few pay cheques to buy fewer goods — and so it goes, all down the economic chain.

Advertising can be in poor taste; it can be obtrusive and rude, banal and just plain irritating. But to eliminate or hamstring all advertising for the shortcomings of a tiny portion of it is to halter the whole economy in which we live, and on which we are, all of us, dependent for our material well-being. Merchandising is the name of the free-enterprise game, and it is advertising which is the key to merchandising and hence to our free-enterprise way of life, the most successful economic system yet devised by man.

Encouraging, But . . .

In reporting a seasonally adjusted annual rate of one million housing starts in November — 18.9 per cent above the 20-year low rate for October — the Commerce Department warned against interpreting the rise too optimistically.

Compared with November, 1965, start of construction was down 35.4 per cent. And the annual rate at which advance building permits were issued did not show the same gain over October as did the starts. It was up only .4 per cent from October and 43 per cent below the rate for November, 1965. One 2500-unit apartment house in New York City accounted for the small gain in permits.

However, interest rates on conventional mortgages appeared to have levelled off at 6.7 per cent after climbing for eight months in a row. A spokesman for the Home Builders Association said this was more significant than the gain in starts. A shortage of mortgage money and climbing interest rates are generally blamed for the slump in home construction which has hurt the Pacific Northwest lumber and plywood industries.

The home building industry has a long way to go before it reaches last year's healthy rate which must be maintained if the American people are to be housed adequately. If the November rise in starts continues through the next few months, recovery may be said to have begun.

Hope that the improvement will continue is seen in the report that the November rise did not reflect substantially the mortgage money advances recently ordered by the federal government. The Federal Home Loan Bank is funneling $500 million into the mortgage market through building and loan associations and the Federal National Mortgage Association (Fannie Mae) is putting $250 million into low and medium-cost housing.

—Portland Oregonian.

Aim in Vietnam—Stop Troop Flow

BY BOB HORTON

WASHINGTON (AP) — For 22 frustrating months, U.S. planes have bombed and strafed North Vietnam's roads, highways, bridges, railways, secondary power plants, truck convoys, boats, barges and fuel storage facilities.

Almost as quickly as the targets are hit, they are patched up, replaced, bypassed, plugged up, restocked, overhauled or discarded.

Unlike the Second World War, when the Allied goal was to crush the Germans and Japanese, the objective of the current campaign is to stop, or at least curtail, the flow of troops and equipment into South Vietnam, convince the Hanoi government that a military victory is beyond its reach, and thus impel the Communists to accept repeated invitations to negotiate peace terms.

To that end, the United States has expended 455 aircraft at a cost of more than $500,000,000, spent air munitions at the rate of $2,000 a minute around the clock, and lost 200 to 300 airmen.

GOAL NOT ACHIEVED

There is some evidence that delivery of supplies and weapons to Communist forces in the field has been reduced by the bombing but in their larger objective the raids have failed.

—Infiltration of troops into South Vietnam has increased; in fact, the rate actually has almost doubled, to 8,800 a month.

—The North Vietnamese government has rejected all overtures to negotiate, and shows little, if any, indication of changing its mind.

—The raids have generated worldwide criticism of the United States on a steadily ascending scale, fueled by North Vietnamese charges that planes have deliberately bombed civilian areas — an accusation vehemently denied by the U.S. defence department.

What the raids have achieved in hampering enemy operations is pure guesswork. But military men, and many congressional leaders, believe strikes aimed at disrupting supply and transportation facilities have reduced by 50 per cent the amount of war material delivered to Communist forces in South Vietnam. Military men believe a supply shortage is the main reason for the declining scale of enemy unit actions. The Communists have not launched a big offensive since 1965.

BOMBING FEARED

Interrogation of captured Viet Cong guerrillas and North Vietnamese regulars also shows the Communists fear sudden bombing more than any other U.S. tactic. Air attacks are regarded as the most effective weapon for sapping enemy morale.

Lack of clear - cut success, however, has created deep-seated uneasiness among congressmen and some military men.

Congressmen who want the bombing stopped, notably chairman J. William Fulbright of the Senate foreign relations committee, fear the raids eventually will draw China into the fighting and trap the United States in a major Asian land war.

Another group of influential congressmen and military men is demanding that the raids be extended to primary targets, especially North Vietnam's major port, Haiphong.

U.S. planes are unleashing bombs, rockets, missiles and bullets at the rate of 50,000 tons a month, almost matching the country's airborne firepower of the Second World War, and triple its rate in the Korean War.

WANT CITIES HIT

Congressional and military critics contend this formidable expenditure of munitions is being wasted on "cheap" targets, and that American pilots and planes are being sacrificed to an exercise in futility.

They want the bombers to destroy Haiphong's harbor facilities and Hanoi's factories and major power plants, all now exempt from a list of targets whose major items must have the approval of President Johnson.

"No Discrimination"

By MARILYN ARGUE

OTTAWA (CP) — If African diplomats in Ottawa suffer from racial discrimination, they're not talking about it publicly.

A recent story from New York said the 19-year-old wife of an African United Nations delegate killed herself and her two children because of her loneliness in an unfriendly city.

The story quoted other Africans as saying they had been insulted by restaurant staff and taxi drivers, and refused accommodation because of their color.

An African diplomat who has lived in Ottawa with his wife and three children for three years said in his "honest opinion" there is no racial discrimination here.

"I have never felt this or experienced it or heard about it. I've never had problems in restaurants or in finding accommodation."

His wife finds herself at home in Canadian circles, he said.

PLENTY OF PARTIES

"I do not think the manager would refuse to take my dollars because I am black," he said with a laugh.

There was a kind of shock for Africans coming from a society in which individuals exist in a large circle of family and friends.

"Here you don't expect people to come to see you unless you have made an appointment. I have found that many Canadians are very lonely."

But he says the diplomatic party circuit enables all to be as sociable—or as reserved—as they wish.

The wife of an official of the external affairs department said she has "never heard African wives complain" about difficulties in getting household help because of their color. She said "nobody can get help" in Ottawa.

"Of course, they're used to having several servants over there. There's always someone to watch the children, dress them, take them out. There's just nobody.

"But they've never complained about a color problem. They don't say, 'The maid won't wash my floor because I'm black'."

DIFFER CULTURALLY

She said there is a cultural difference which may make it difficult to communicate with Africans, "but I find this applies to many of the Latin American countries, too."

"They're not just like Europeans, but they're all human beings, and very well educated and cultured. They're not hanging from trees."

Staff members at an international club for 300 students from different countries differed in describing problems encountered by African students.

A member of the club's directorate said she doesn't think Africans suffer unduly from prejudice.

"They're a very jolly bunch, very popular and have a very good time. They're a little more cheerful than the Indians and Pakistanis, or at least they seem so."

Ottawa had fewer racial problems than New York "because it's a smaller city—you can't compare them."

"Sure they have trouble making friends. That's why they come here. There's discrimination. They have trouble finding homes. But some are too tactful to talk about it."

Crafts Prove Big Hit

By TOM MITCHELL

OTTAWA (CP) — The National Gallery has put together a Canadian crafts exhibit that has turned out to be an artistic and commercial smash.

The show, Canadian Fine Crafts 1966-67, will be put on the road during Centennial Year but there will be little left for interested persons to buy. Practically every item in the collection was snapped up before the exhibition's three - week stint in Ottawa was half over.

"I'm sure there will be nothing left to send back" to the artisans, says exhibit organizer Norah McCullough of Regina, the gallery's western liaison officer. "Except perhaps a couple of very expensive rings that might hold things up."

But selling the works wasn't the main idea behind the exhibition. Miss McCullough wanted to point up the vast improvements that have been made in Canadian crafts since the Second World War.

She credits post - war immigration with part of the upsurge.

"Immigration has helped bring professional standards — new tastes, skills and varieties."

QUALITY IMPRESSES

Along with this, there has been rapid growth in the number of courses offered by private groups, schools and universities.

The high standard of craftsmanship and artistic perception stands out in the exhibition. The works are a far cry from the dime - store tooled leather wallet or painted ashtray offered as a souvenir of Canada.

There are some items from Eskimo and Indian craftsmen, whose work in recent years has been in ever-greater demand. They include bone Indian rattles, a lacrosse stick, Eskimo snow goggles carved from bone, soapstone carvings, handmade parkas and mukluks.

But the bulk of the exhibition is made up of home - woven tapestries and rugs, some in eye - catching op art patterns, jewelry ranging from $5 cuff links to big - budget rings and brooches of precious metal and jewels, and pottery in a profusion of shapes, colors, sizes and finishes — even down to pottery doorknobs.

There are hammered metal plates and drinking vessels, carved and hand-rubbed wooden bowls and hand-patterned place mats that would give a table a made-in-Canada look of which any hostess could be proud.

Miss McCullough criss-crossed the country for a year to gather the material, spurred by the success of showings of Czechoslovakian and German handicrafts at the gallery in recent years.

She felt Canadian artisans had advanced their techniques to the stage where they would compare favorably with other countries. She feels the exhibition proves this.

The commercial success backs this up.

The external affairs department alone bought almost $7,000 worth of handicrafts to give a distinctly Canadian look to its embassies and to put in special displays abroad. Ottawa residents and visitors quickly claimed the rest.

The exhibition will be split for the 1967 tour, half going to the East and half to the West. But the division has been made with the idea that each travelling show will be fully representative of all the works displayed at the gallery.

Miss McCullough hopes it will stimulate hundreds of new craftsmen and challenge those who have dabbled in the field.

"It will give them a yardstick against which they can judge their own efforts."

But just as something to go and see, the show is worthwhile.

"The great thing about this exhibit is that these works are beautiful to look at and useful as well."

Miners Form Chorus

GLACE BAY, N.S. (CP) — If Cape Breton now has something to sing about, the Men of the Deeps are just the fellows to do it.

Though coal diggers may be going out of style as government gives them a $55,000,000 lift out of the underground workings (deeps) over a period of years, this new choral group of miners is making plans to be around quite a while.

The Men of the Deeps, numbering about 40, are the genuine coaldust-breathing article. Not only do they appear before audiences in miners' working regalia down to the headlights on their helmets, but they either work or have worked at the pits that sprawl around the coal fields of Cape Breton.

Like some other Cape Breton institutions, the Men of the Deeps are a creation of Nina Cohen, a middle-aged grandmother from nearby Sydney, and a whirlwind of community effort. Currently, Glace Bay-born Mrs. Cohen is in her second term as national president of Hadassah-WIZO, the Jewish organization of 15,000 women in 70 communities.

Mrs. Cohen's major monument here is the Cape Breton Miners' Museum, which she dreamed up when it appeared the area would be without a centennial project. It has become just that for Cape Breton County It took Mrs. Cohen only four days of fast talking with key figures to get the project off the ground. Now it is due to open here July 31 as a permanent reminder of the miner's contribution to Canadian life during the last 250 years.

HAS 'HEARTBEAT'

The Cape Breton miner is no ordinary man," says Mrs. Cohen. His story has a heartbeat. It should not be allowed to die."

With this in mind, she whipped up the Men of the Deeps as a complement to the museum, though she had considerably more difficulty getting this idea afloat.

More than a year ago she had Myles MacDonald, a New Waterford miner and now executive director of the choir, post notices on the walls of the wash-houses where the colliers socialize while scrubbing off the underground grime. That didn't work, so they went after key figures in each mining town. Now there is a long list of applications for places.

Among the singers are Freeman Jenkins, former district president of the United Mine Workers of America, and Jimmy P. MacNeil, a former mayor of New Waterford.

To drum up more interest, Mrs. Cohen organized a song-writing contest. Contributors ranged from a 12-year-old girl to a woman of 100. The best songs will be put to music for use by the chorus.

Most of the singers belong to church choirs. The only professionally trained musician is director John O'Donnell, professor of music at St. Francis Xavier University. Now busy smoothing out the rough edges, he says the men in time will become polished singers.

Meanwhile, they have so far made several public appearances to crowded houses and have turned down requests for many more. They're spending the time sharpening up for the museum and for a three-day appearance at Expo 67 in August.

Today in History

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Jan. 25, 1967 . . .

A British punitive force led by Sir Garnet Wolseley, hero of the Red River Expedition in Canada, sacked Kumasi, western Africa, 93 years ago today—in 1874—and successfully intimidated King Koffee of the Ashanti tribesmen from interfering with European traders. The king agreed to pay a fine of 50,000 ounces of gold for the trouble he had caused; 2,400 European troops had taken the field and more than 70 per cent caught fever. The Ashanti later attacked the Europeans again and their country was amalgamated with the Gold Coast, now independent Ghana.

1777 — Washington ordered all Americans to sign an oath of allegiance to the 13 Colonies or else to depart behind the British lines.

1863—The United States formed its first Negro regiment during the Civil War.

First World War

Fifty years ago today—in 1917—HMS Laurentic was sunk off the Irish coast, with 112 crew members saved; the French transport Admiral Magon was sunk; a German ship bombarded the Suffolk coast.

Second World War

Twenty-five years ago today—in 1942—Thailand declared war on the Japanese side the day after the RAF bombed Bangkok; Japanese forces landed on Celebes and Borneo; London announced the 35,000-ton battleship HMS Duke of York was in service; food rationing began in Canada with limitation of sugar supplies to 12 ounces a week each.

BAZAAR OF VALUES CUSTOMERS CAN WIN $200 IN CASH PRIZES

Customers participating in the "Bazaar of Values" will also have an opportunity to win cash prizes as well as gaining from the many bargains being offered.

There will be a total of $200 in cash given away during the eight-week campaign.

During the next three weeks there will be $20 per week and the final week will be highlighted by a grand prize of $100.

Customers purchasing items from any of the "Bazaar of Values" merchants win a chance at the cash prizes.

Those wishing to participate can fill in their name, address and telephone number on any sales slip, charge slip or proof of purchase from any of the merchants offering "Bazaar of Values" savings.

These slips can either be mailed to "Bazaar of Values Contest" c/o The Nelson Daily News, Box 700, Nelson, B.C., or dropped into The Nelson Daily News office at 266 Baker Street. They will be placed in the special "Bazaar of Values" contest box located in the business office of The Nelson Daily News.

Each week a lucky winner will be drawn from the box and, upon answering a simple question, the prize will be presented by the merchant on whose slip the name is written on. A picture will be taken and published in the Nelson Daily News.

The slips from each week's draw will be placed in the Grand Prize Box for the $100 draw which climaxes the program. Thus, slips must be sent in, or dropped in, each week to participate in each week's draw. All the entries will have an opportunity to win the $100 prize.

We hope this will add entertainment in addition to the many specials to be advertised by the merchants who are participating in the "Bazaar of Values":

hints from Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:

When small children are my guests for a meal, instead of using a sofa pillow on my dining room chair, I put several large magazines, books or maybe a phone book, inside a pillow slip, and fold it over to hold them together.

This makes a fine seat and the magazines do not slide apart—which is quite dangerous for little ones.

The pillow slip is easily washed.

And I'll bet there're a thousand people who wish you were their aunt.

You probably saved many a little kiddy's head from being bumped when they slid off a stack of slick magazines.

Bless you always.

When I put freshly laundered tablecloths away, I pin a square of paper to one corner saying how many boards I may put in the table for that size cloth.

It saves time and inconvenience when one wishes to select the right length cloth.

DEAR HELOISE:

As the time of year for new calendars approaches, I have decided on what to do with my old linen towel calendars.

I will sew them together for a picnic table cover or to use for a throw cover over a chair or couch.

DEAR HELOISE:

This is for the birds!

Save all your fat drippings, heat them and pour into an empty tin can about one-sixth full. Then fill with wild bird seed.

Mix the seed into the fat to be sure all the seeds are saturated, then push a double string down the center of the can to the bottom. Place this in your refrigerator until cool and hard.

Remove the bottom of can with a can opener and push the bird seed chunk out.

It is then ready to hang on a tree.

I also made smaller seed balls to place on my window sill.

I filled an empty egg shell the same way and just peeled the shell off when the fat was hardened.

Your sink does not appreciate fat drippings — but the birds sure do!

DEAR HELOISE:

Heres' a good way to get rid of the excess grease on spaghetti sauce.

By making it a day ahead you accomplish two things:

Second, since spaghetti sauce will taste better the following day, you are improving the flavor and paving the way for a greaseless sauce.

After it is cold, simply lift the cold, hardened grease off the top with a spoon before reheating the sauce.

All that's left to do the next day is to cook your spaghetti and pour the greaseless, reheated sauce over it.

DEAR HELOISE:

At night I put water in my tea kettle and set it on the pilot light of my stove.

The next morning I put the kettle on the burner and it just takes it a few minutes to start boiling. Then I pour it in my drip coffee pot and in seconds I have my coffee made.

No more wasting a lot of water out of the faucet waiting for it to get hot. The pilot light has warmed it during the night.

Guides Win Gold Cords

The highlight of the 3rd Nelson Guide Company meeting Thursday evening, under the leadership of Mrs. J. Wrangler and Mrs. L. J. Best, was the presentation of Gold Cords to Judy Paul and Terry Evans, by the District Commissioner Mrs. B. Thorshaug.

The Commissioner spoke to parents and friends and sister Guides attending, saying that this is the highest award a girl can earn. It takes many hours of dedicated service, hard work, the required number of tests and badges and encouragement of parents and leaders to accomplish this.

Each girl in turn spoke and thanked all who helped and encouraged her.

Other events of the evening were the fly up of four Brownies from the 3rd Nelson Brownie pack, Crystal Mason, Brenda Jorgensen, Diane Phillips and Donna Phillips.

When badges were presented the following received their second class badge: Joan Blunt, Gail Fargher, Karen Hough, Linda Hoople, Devon Dayman and Wendy Nickle.

Receiving Needlewoman's badge were Judy Burdenie, Margaret Jorgensen and Denise Toews.

Judy Burdenie, Margaret Jorgensen and Denise Toews received their Homemaker's badge and Lavonne Ridge the Home Nurse.

Kathleen Smythe and Cindy Toews got their Toymakers' badge and Kathleen Smythe and Wendy Nickle, their Hostess badge.

Laundress badges went to Denise Toews and Margaret Jorgensen and Little House Emblem to Judy Burdenie, Denise Toews and Margaret Jorgensen.

Service Stars: One-year went to Wendy Nickle, Linda Hoople and Ingeborg Moen and two-year stars to Denise Toews and Judy Burdenie.

Other Guides put on a skit telling of some comical and serious events during the Brownie and Guide life of Judy and Terry.

Invited guests were Mrs. B. Thorshaug, District Commissioner; Mrs. J. McMaster, Public Relations officer, First West Nelson Land Rangers, and the Third Nelson Brownie Pack and leaders, Mrs. E. Mason and Mrs. R. Ramsay.

Lunch was served and the Trefoil cake, baked and decorated by Mrs. J. Hoople was cut and served by the two Gold Cord Guides.

Judy Paul, left, 15, of the 3rd Nelson Guide Company, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Paul and Terry Evans, 15, of the 1st West Nelson Land Ranger Company, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Evans were presented with their Gold Cords by District Commissioner Mrs. B. Thorshaug. This is the highest honor in Guiding and during the Easter holidays the girls will travel to Victoria and be presented with the Gold Cord Certificate by Lieutenant Governor G. R. Pearkes at a ceremony at Government House.

$400 Cheque, Books Arrive for NDU Library

It was reported at the meeting of the Notre Dame Women's Association that a cheque for $400 and four boxes of books had been received from the Association's Vancouver chapter, for the NDU library.

The group met with nine members attending and a new slate in office.

It was decided that members of the Association would spend an afternoon painting the library when it is ready. There was also some discussion concerning the group's centennial project.

The association also received a request from E. D. Baravalle for help in stuffing summer school brochures.

A letter was received from the Rossland chapter announcing its new executive.

The group also discussed having a social in the form of a tea or evening affair so members could get acquainted. Last year's membership was about 140.

The group operates as a liaison between the city and the university.

About The Town

Mrs. Maud Saunby entertained a number of friends at her home, Friday afternoon, at a surprise birthday party, in honor of Mrs. Laura Kirby, and Mrs. H. B. Lindsay. Mrs. L. Renwick cut the birthday cake and served the refreshments. Mrs. Saunby played piano selections, and singing was enjoyed.

N. Denver UCW Elects Slate

NEW DENVER — The United Church Women's Group met at the home of Mrs. W. Marvin Thursday.

Members were in favor of sending donations to the United Church Girls' Home, the Union College Auxiliary and the Presbyterian Sunday School.

It was also decided to change meeting nights from the third Thursday of the month to the second Thursday. Mrs. E. Baja and Mrs. C. Sutherland, Jr., are going to meet with members from other church denominations to make plans for the World Day of Prayer.

It was decided to have the annual church congregational meeting after church with coffee and sandwiches being served. Election of officers then followed which saw the following slate coming into office for the new year: president, Mrs. C. Sutherland, Jr.; vice-president, Mrs. E. Baja; secretary, Mrs. W. Rose, and treasurer, Mrs. D. Turner.

HALF STAY AT HOME

KITCHENER, Ont. (CP) — About one in every two Kitchener residents attends church, say city planners here. They are assuming, in the city's new official plan, that no more than 50 per cent in any one district will want to go to church.

Plan for Day Of Prayer

A meeting regarding World Day of Prayer, Feb. 10, was held recently at the home of Mrs. E. Stone. Representatives from the Anglican, Apostolic, Church of God, Catholic, Pentecostal and United Churches were present to discuss this important day.

The service this year is being held in the Pentecostal Church, Castlegar, the theme to be "And of His Kingdom There Shall Be No End."

Wynndel Notes

Wynndel — Mrs. Daisy Uri has returned to her home in Wynndel after spending some time as a patient in the Trail-Tadanac Hospital.

Mrs. Paul Popovich has returned from a two-week holiday spent with relatives in Calgary.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Larson and family leave for Edmonton this week to make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Popovich and son Jack left for Calgary where they will attend the marriage of their son Jerry.

Women's Groups Undecided On Centennial Projects

By DORIS BRADSHAW

After phoning about 15 women's groups in Nelson to enquire whether they had chosen a Centennial Project, I found none had decided on anything specific, although some "had an idea" about one but were not quite ready to commit themselves.

Many groups, I discovered, were a bit non-plussed as to what is expected of them in the way of a centennial project. One group I know is considering doing a history of their organization, having been active since early in the century.

I had half expected some of the expert needlewomen would be getting Centennial quilts under way, though in my phoning I did not discover any.

Some groups were considering a centennial theme for their spring teas or other affairs they are planning. I suppose some groups who donate equipment to the hospital or other worthy causes could specify a donation as a centennial project.

I'm afraid I am at a bit of a loss for ideas myself and can understand their difficulty. Then, too, with many of the organizations, new slates of officers have just been installed and the wheels of progress under the new executives are only just beginning to turn.

Time is flitting, however, with one month of the centennial year all but gone, and if anything special is to be done to mark Canada's 100th birthday plans cannot be too long delayed. Has anyone any ideas? Let me know if you have.

Mrs. Wilks LA to BRT President

A new slate of officers assumed their positions when the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen held its first meeting of 1967.

Mrs. R. H. Wilks is the new president, succeeding Mrs. C. Fraser. Mrs. Muriel Stevens is vice-president; Mrs. William Towhey, secretary; Mrs. Fred Emmott, treasurer; Mrs. Jennie Beltner, chaplain; Mrs. Jim Christie, warden; Mrs. Dave Rento, conductress; Miss Irene Laughton, inner guard; Mrs. William Thompson, outer guard and William Towhey is councillor.

Mrs. C. Fraser acted as installing officer in December, and the slate assumed their positions January 17. Miss Irene Laughton and Mrs. Dave Renton are on the sick committee.

Freeze-dried foods have lost 85 to 98 per cent of their water and need not be refrigerated.

Altar Guild Elects Slate

A new slate of officers was elected when the Altar Guild of St. Saviour's Pro-Cathedral held its annual meeting, with Miss E. Hamson returned as president.

Mrs. E. Nicol was elected vice-president; Miss Myrtle Bailess, secretary; Miss Hazel Rapley, treasurer and Mrs. Paddon is honorary president. Duties were assigned for the coming month and Mrs. C. H. Hamilton's group served refreshments. Archdeacon F. D. Wyatt thanged the group for their services to the church and complimented them on their efficiency. He also remarked on the beauty of the Christmas decorations.

HOUSEWIVES GULLIBLE

KIRKHAM, England (CP) — A hoaxer pretending to be a post office engineer persuaded four women in this Lancashire town to cut off their telephones with scissors. He told one woman she was blocking all the lines in the area and convinced the others their telephones were about to catch fire.

New Home Recipe Reducing Plan

It's simple how quickly one may lose pounds of unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this home recipe yourself. It's easy, no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your drug store and ask for four ounces of Naran Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Take two tablespoons full a day as needed and follow the Naran Plan.

If your first purchase does not show you a simple easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't disappear from neck, chin, arms, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow this easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Leafs Start Tough Week Against Smokies Tonight

Tonight marks the start of a crucial four-game week in the Western International Hockey League for first-place Nelson Maple Leafs. And, as seems to be the case with the last few of the Leafs' busy weeks, they finish up in Spokane facing the second-place Jets.

Tonight they host Trail Smoke Eaters. The Smokies were the hottest club in the WIHL before they met disaster twice over the weekend, and slipped to fourth place, one point behind Kimberley Dynamiters.

The Smokies have always been tough against the Leafs, they shouldn't be any different tonight.

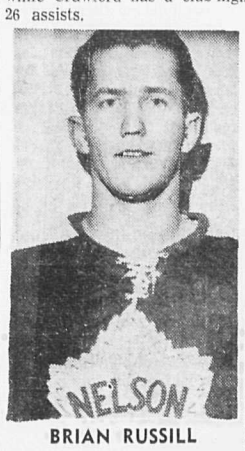
Nelson journeys to Kimberley to meet the surging Dynamiters Friday night and return home Saturday to host the same Dynamiters.

Then the big game Sunday afternoon. The Leafs, currently three points ahead of the Jets, with two games in hand, meet the healthy Spokane club in the Coliseum.

Press release from the Jets say the Sunday game could be the "decider" for the league title.

But all four games will definitely have influence on the final standings of the Nelson club.

Speedy left-winger Brian Russill, absent from the Leafs' past two games against Cranbrook Royals may be back in action tonight. The 22-year-old hustler has 10 goals and 22 assists to date and will, if he plays, be reunited with linemates Gail Holden, the Leafs' leading scorer with 41 points, top goal scorer with 21, and most popular player, and right-winger Buck Crawford, currently the third-highest scorer on the club with 36 points. Crawford is tied with Murray Owen, but Owen has 19 goals while Crawford has a club-high 26 assists.



BRIAN RUSSILL

Rod Collins and Wally Chernenko, both of whom played Saturday night in the absence of defenceman Stan Ruzicka, and forwards Russill and Brian Randall, will also be in the line-up tonight.

If Russill doesn't play — a final decision will be made this afternoon — Collins will probably be inserted on the forward unit again with Chernenko on the blueline.

Don Holmes, the top goaltender in the league with a 2.44 goals against average, is another question mark in the lineup. The 26-year-old netminder has been out of action for the past week with an ankle injury, but was back at practice Tuesday night. The decision on whether Holmes or Bill McDonnell will start in the nets will be made just before *game time, following a doc*tor's examination of Holmes' foot. McDonnell is currently the number two goalie in the league with a 3.00 goals against average.

Nicklaus Adds Crosby Open Title

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus, flashing home on a string of birdies while Arnold Palmer collapsed, has added the Bing Crosby golf tournament championship to his ever-growing list of titles.

"I've wanted to win this tournament ever since I turned pro, and everything I did happened to come out right this time," Nicklaus said. He now heads for the Los Angeles Open starting Thursday.

With five birdies on the final seven holes despite a cold, biting wind over the tough Pebble Beach course, Nicklaus scored a 31 over the last nine holes. He passed Palmer and Bill Casper and won with a 72-hole score of 284, four under par ,on a final-round 68.

All three battled the final day head and head. Three times they were in a three-way tie for the lead and the situation changed on 14 of the 18 holes. Palmer bombed himself out with two shots out of bounds and a 9 on No. 14.

Meet the Nationals

DAN IRWIN

Canada's National Ski Team can boast of brother acts, former sister acts and now cousins. Danny Irwin, of Fort William, Ontario, and Bert Irwin of Kamloops make this combination the latest on the team.

Danny, the smallest male member of the team, is also one of its bright future prospects. Born in Princeton, B.C., the 5'6", 146-pound skier has a list of creditable results from the competitions during the past few years.

At an early age Danny moved to Fort William where his father operates a large ski area. Skiing out of the Loch Lomond Ski Club, Danny placed first in the Central Division downhill in 1964, slalom in 1963 and giant slalom in 1964.

Following these and other races, he was selected to the National Team in 1964 where he continued his improvement. He placed fourth in the Canadian Senior championships and second in the Okanagan championship.

Last winter Danny competed on the U.S. circuit as well as the Canadian and showed well in the international competitions. In June he was named to the FIS World Championship team to compete in Portillo, Chile. But an injury prior to the opening race sidelined him for the competitions.

Danny is one of the popular students at Notre Dame University in Nelson where he is presently taking the third year of his Bachelor of Science course.

Bombers Win 2 Games; But Bomberettes Lose

L. V. Rogers High School Bombers basketball team won both games over the weekend, but the Bomberettes suffered two straight setbacks in Rossland and New Denver.

The Bombers whipped Rossland 67-41 Friday night and then dumped New Denver 68-41 Saturday in New Denver. Rossland girls defeated the Bomberettes 15-13 Friday night and New Denver handed the L.V. Rogers girls another narrow loss Saturday, 25-23.

Don Johnston sparked the Bombers in both games, compiling 51 points in the two encounters. Friday he hooped 23 points as the Bombers took a 23-22 half-time lead and broke it open with 44 points in the final half.

Alex Sidor picked up 13 points in the contest with Murray Winlaw adding seven, Gary Banks and Bob Jeffs six each, Greg Kalyniuk and Dan Olson contributed four points each and Don MacLeod and Rich Shave split four points evenly.

Puddicombe led the Rossland boys with 15 points, five more than Magnone. Heier added eight to the total, Stanton and Rozer three each and Feenez a pair.

Saturday the Bombers followed the same script. They held a narrow lead at half-time 25-21, but broke the game wide open in the final half. Against the New Denver club they fired 43 points in the second session, limiting the home team to 20.

Johnston enjoyed one of his better games of the season, easily taking top game scoring honors with 28 points. Jeffs and Sidor provided more scoring power, each picking up 10 points. MacLeod added six points, Shave and Ozeroff four each and two points came from Banks, Winlaw and Kalyniuk.

Whitehead compiled nine points to take scoring honors for the losers, two more than Nelson and Thring. Steenhoff, Hashimoto and Delta each scored four points and Sawada and Wymer added six points between them.

The Bomberettes didn't enjoy such success. The second half had the opposite results to the boys. Against Rossland the LVR girls saw a 12-6 half-time lead fade away as the home club rallied for nine points and a 15-13 victory.

Bielli led the home girls with seven points while Fluite added four, Stanton three and Haden one.

For the Bomberettes Captain Norma Ronmark picked up six points in defeat. Marg McMurchy contributed three, and Joan Woolls and Janet Russell two each.

Saturday in New Denver the Bomberettes put up a stubborn second half rally that just fell short in the dying minute of the game. Trailing 21-10 going into the final portion of the game, the Bomberettes suddenly came to life, scoring 13 points, while *giving up only four to New Den*ver. But the rally fell two points short of a tie and the Bomberettes suffered their fourth defeat of the season.

Captain Taylor led the New Denver squad with 10 points, four more than Mori. Two points were added by each of Sawada, Palmer, Nelson and Taylor, with the final point coming from Mole.

Miss Ronmark again led the L.V. Rogers' team, picking up eight points. Connie Wassick took second spot on the Nelson scor*ing list with six points, two more* than Woolls. Anita Dunlop and Carol West each contributed two points and Russell picked up the final one.

80-Mile Drive to World Championships

By DAVID MILLER

TORONTO (CP)— Ricky Stephens, 18, and Anna Forder, 15, would like to turn an 80-mile drive into a trip to Vienna for the world figure-skating championships next month.

The two teen-agers have been travelling 80 miles each day for the last two years from their home in Port Perry, Ont., to Toronto to practise for the Canadian figure-skating championships which begin today.

They haven't thought about the world championships Feb. 28 to March 5, but their coach, Bruce Hyland, compares them to Otto and Maria Jelinek of nearby Oakville and predicts they could win the Canadian senior pairs title.

Hyland should know — he guided the Jelineks to the 1962 world pairs title.

"They can do everything the Jelineks used to do with the exception of the double axel," Hyland says.

MAY BE FIRST

"One of the highlights of their program is the reversed Russian overhead axel combined with a death spiral. As far as I know, nobody has done it before."

But Forder and Stephens may have their problems. A strong British Columbia team is out to win its first senior title and the McKilligans of Vancouver are favored.

The McKilligans, Betty, 17, and John, 18, finished third in the senior pairs last year behind winners Susan and Paul Huennergard of Toronto, who are not entered this year.

They won the Canadian junior pairs title and are favored ahead of Forder and Stephens and Alexis and Dr. Chris Shields of Toronto, who finished second last year.

More than 150 skaters are entered in this year's champion*ships and B.C. has sent 32 skat*ers, its largest and most powerful team. Novice and junior events begin *today and the sen*ior freestyle finals close the championships Sunday.

In the senior women's singles, Valerie Jones, 17, of Toronto, fourth in last year's world championship at Davos, Switzerland, will have to fight off the challenge of Vancouver's Karen Magnusen.

Miss Magnusen, 14, finished fourth to Petra Burka in the 1966 Canadian finals at Peterborough, Ont. But officials say a year's practice in her compulsory figures may make Miss Magnusen a strong entry.

She finished fifth last year in the compulsory figures, which count 60 per cent of a skater's total mark. But the next day she performed brilliantly in the freestyle to place fourth overall.

In the men's singles, another Vancouver skater could conceivably upset veterans Donald Knight, 19, of Dundas, Ont., and Dr. Charles Snelling, 29, of Toronto.

Jay Humphrey, now training in Toronto, finished third last year in the national finals and is rated one of the most sensational freestyle skaters in Canada.

Snelling, six-time holder of the men's title, finished second last year to Knight.

Nancy Candidate For Award

VANCOUVER (CP) — The British Columbia Sports Federation announced Tuesday night it will co-sponsor the province's first annual amateur athlete of the year awards to individuals and groups that provide leadership in amateur athletics.

A spokesman fort he organization said trophies will be awarded to the outstanding athlete of the year and to the team of the year during 1966, as well as in other categories.

He said among those being considered for the individual honors are Nancy Greene of Rossland, a top international woman skier, track star Harry Jerome and Elaine Tanner of Vancouver ,a gold medal winner in last summer's British Empire Games.

The spokesman said the awards will be based on the results of voting by a panel of sports writers, broadcasters, businessmen and educationists.

The awards will be presented Feb. 22 in Vancouver. Co-sponsors of the awards with the provincially - sponsored Federation is the Vancouver Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Hawks May Have Finally Found Second Half Secret

MONTREAL (CP) — It may well be that Chicago Black Hawks have finally killed their reputation as the National Hockey League club most likely to slow down in the second half of the season.

The Hawks last week broke out from a neck-and-neck battle for top place with New York Rangers and with 40 games behind them they hold a lead of five points.

They took five out of a possible six points during the week, while New York lost two starts.

Chicago now has 52 points and the Rangers, with 47, have a five-point edge over third-place Toronto Maple Leafs. Montreal Canadiens have 37 points.

Charlie Hodge of Montreal has the top personal average of 2.30 and Giacomin still is the shutout leader with six.

Junior Game For Dennis

VANCOUVER (CP) — Vancouver Hornets Tuesday defeated Coquitlam Comets 6-2 in a West Coast Junior Hockey League benefit game to raise money for injured Nelson junior player Dennis Cherenko.

Cherenko was paralyzed after an accident during a hockey game Nov. 27.

Organizers of Tuesday's game said 214 people attended the game, and tickets were $1 each. They estimated the game raised $100 for Cherenko.

George Croteau and Doug Aldrich each scored two for the winners, and singles came from Don Cooney and Russ Moffat. Wayne Johnson and John Ferguson scored Coquitlam's goals.

Vincent Sparks Kimberley To 5-4 Win Over Jets

KIMBERLEY — Kimberley Dynamiters continued to raise in the Western International Hockey League, taking a 5-4 victory over second-place Spokane Jets in the only game played Tuesday night.

Right-winger Dick Vincent fired two goals to lead the Dynamiters to the win. Ken McTeer, Bill Steenson and Graham Longmuir added singles.

Defencemen Vince Collins, Don Scherza, Gordie Turlik and Tom Rendall shared the Spokane scoring.

The Dynamiters took a 3-2 lead in the first period. They jumped to a 2-0 lead and held a 3-1 margin but the Jets came back to narrow the gap. After battling through a scoreless middle stanza, the two teams opened up the scoring in the final twenty minutes.

Kimberley fired two consecutive goals three minutes apart midway through the stanza to sew up he victory. But Colin Kilburn's club, which had hemmed the home club in their end for the first five minutes of the period, but failed to score, rallied in the final minutes to cut *the margin to 5-4, but the Kim*berley defence led by Steenson, which had been outstanding all night, held up and kept tne two points for the Dynamiters, moving them to within nine points of the Jets.

Only three minor penalties were called in the game, two to the Dynamiters.

Both netminders — Kimber*ley's Bill Sides and Dave Cox* for the Jets, were shaky at the start, but settled down. Sides made 26 saves with Cox coming up with 24.

McTeer was back in action for the Dynamiters, playing with John Manchester and Wayne King and the Jets had the services of captain Tom Hodges once again.

First period: 1. Kimberley, McTeer 1:14; 2. Kimberley, Steenson, (Mongrain) 4:03; 3. Spokane, Collins 4:20; 4. Kimberley, Vincent, (Peacosh, Mongrain) 7:20; 5. Spokane, Scherza (Rendell, Bahr) 11:09. Penalties — Steenson 10:59; Bodman 13:30.

Second period: no scoring, no penalties.

Third period: 6. Kimberley, Longmuir (Willey) 10:19; 7. Kimberley, Vincent (Mongrain, Peacosh) 13:45; 8. Spokane, Turlik (Hodges, Chow) 14:48; 9. Spokane, Rendall (Hodges, Leiman) 18:05.

Penalties — Talotti 15:10.

Limpin' Rangers Celebrate for Howell

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

New York Rangers limp back into Madison Square Garden tonight hoping home ice will snap a mid-season slump that has left them five points out of first place in the National Hockey League.

The Rangers, second to the leading Chicago Black Hawks, take on the last-place Boston Bruins and it will also mark a special night for New York's veteran defenceman, Harry Howell.

Howell, a 34-year-old native of Hamilton, will be playing his 1,002nd game for the Rangers and will be the first active New York player honored with a special night. About 50 persons from the Hamilton area are expected to be on hand, including Mayor Vic Copps and Ray Connell, minister of public works for Ontario.

Two other slumping teams meet in the only other game *scheduled tonight when Mont*real Canadiens play Toronto Maple Leafs in Toronto.

HE'D LIKE TO FORGET

Howell played his 1,000th game as a Ranger last Saturday night in Boston and he would like to forget that one. The Rangers lost 6-2 and followed with a 7-2 loss to Detroit Red Wings Sunday night.

The losses wound up a five-game road trip forced on the Rangers when an ice show moved into their rink.

One player who hasn't been bothered by enemy territory is forward Bob Nevin, who started the season in low gear but has three goals in his last six games.

If everyone was playing like Nevin, manager - coach Emile Francis would have no worries. But injuries to Bernie Geoffrion and Reg Fleming have left the Rangers without a solid third line and Francis has been trying to come up with the right combination. He has called up Larry Mickey from Omaha of the Cen*tral Professional League.*

Jerome's Record Run Officially Recognized

LONDON (CP) — Harry Jerome's 9.1 seconds for the 100-yard dash was officially recognized as a world record Tuesday, seven months after it was set.

The Vancouver sprinter's name was included in the official list issued by the International Amateur Athletic Federation and nominated by Tommie Smith of the United States and Ron Clarke of Australia.

Jerome ran the 9.1 dash at Edmonton in the British Empire Games trials July 15, 1966, equalling the record set by Bob Hayes of the U.S. at St. Louis in 1963. Hayes later turned professional as a football player.

Sprinter Smith of San Jose, Calif., voted Sportsman of the Year by the magazine World Sports, appeared in the record list four times.

Clarke was listed seven times for distances ranging from three miles to a one-hour run.

Also recognized officially was the 3:51.3 mile by Jim Ryun of the University of Kansas; the 17-feet, 5½-inch pole vault of Bob Seagren of the U.S. and the 17-6¼ pole vault of John Pennel, also a U.S. athlete.

The records officially recognized were submitted to the IAAF between Jan. 1 and Dec. 31, 1966. Some have since been broken and new marks will be considered at a later date.

nothing is too BIG... or too small to be sold in a want ad

The capabilities of Want Ads are almost limitless. You can buy (or sell) big things like houses or 10-ton trucks or even mountains, if you wish. And, just as easily, you'll find buyers for more modest sized items like jewelery or roller skates or baby buggies. One thing that isn't big is the cost of a Nelson Daily News Want Advertisement.

PRAIRIE BRIEFS

EDMONTON (CP) — More than 170 British Infantrymen will undergo cold tests at CFB Griesbach. The members of the outfit have just completed a tour of duty in Aden and will spend five weeks in Canada before returning home.

JOB PREPARATION

EDMONTON (CP)—A school of tourism will be held in March for students who will be looking for jobs in Alberta's tourist and hospitality industry. Courses will be held in Calgary and Edmonton.

Your Individual Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Thursday, Jan. 26, 1967

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) — Influences mixed: don't pamper yourself or believe you are the only one who has setbacks. Do what you honestly can ,the best way you can.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus) — Financial, business, home or other problems may be hitting a peak, tend to cause "nerves" if you allow them to mushroom. Keep busy, be calm, content with fractional — if steady — gains.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini) — Bypass personal whims, foibles, unnecessary maneuvering. Give marked attention to the urgent and useful. Make a soundly serious appraisal of pertinent facts relative to all endeavors.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer) — Cultivate further your normally cheerful demeanor. It sits well with others, has the tendency to reduce pressures. Don't permit a few responsibilities to weigh you down: tackle them.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo) — Interesting, challenging period. May have to show your mettle and talents early. Also demonstrate how you can stand up to things. Tabu anxiety: push ahead on your urgent schedule.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — Your innate finer traits, especially dependability, can be valuable teammates today. Use your keen intuition and sense of fairness in all matters — work, family interests, other connections.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra) — Be progressive, but at same time hold to methods and traditions of proven worth. Fresh opportunities if you accept the challenge and aren't very concerned about personal recognition.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 22 (Scorpio) — Thoughtfully appraise day's possibilities the best you can. Need not overdo or force issues, but it is essential to give coordinated attention to activities needing it.

NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius) — Monetary gains may hit a lull temporarily in some respects. Don't be too disappointed if profits aren't what you had hoped for. Take it in stride and venture forth with renewed effort.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn)— Utilize your resources fully to attain gains that can be yours under day's favorable aspects. New possibilities through contacts, unexpected friendly sources. Circumvent tricky situations.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius) — Conditions may be trying, your actions not exactly appreciated. Keep going, and you will come into your own where you should. Have faith, be consistent, stay wisely optimistic.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces) — Pleasing outlook if you make up your mind to pull with the most plausible elements around you, with real requirements. Nothing defeats faith and effort properly distributed.

YOU BORN TODAY: Usually systematic, able, persistent. Fine qualities, and you generally go after the higher and better things of life. Can achieve in any field where you put in a consistent appearance and put your heart into your work. Correct your faults. Don't allow discontent to get a foothold, or a lack of due consideration to disturb. You may indulge moods when you really don't want or mean to. Therefore, your surest foot forward always! Don't waste time fretting, and note that gloomy companions are not for YOU.

Seek high levels; looking for them will make you happy. Birthdate: Gen'l Doug. MacArthur, U.S.A.; Charles XIV, King of Sweden and Norway; many singers.

MARKET TRENDS

TORONTO (CP)—Support by investors in late-afternoon activity enabled the market to trim most of its early-session losses. Trading was light.

The industrialindex, the indicator of the market's performance, was down .34 to 158.74. It had fallen .78 in morning activity.

Brokers said the decline was of a technical nature due to profit taking rather than related to President Johnson's U.S. budget.

GM LOSES 1⅛

General Motors fell 1⅛ to 82 and Moore Corp. and Calgary Power 1 each to 94 and 22½. Maclean-Hunter moved up 2⅞ to 36⅞.

Western oils continued to slide and the index tumbled 2.16 to 141.91. Hudson's Bay dropped ¾ to 26½ and Canadian Superior and Chieftain ½ each to 32¼ and 10⅜.

New Quebec Raglan highlighted speculative activity, rising 40 cents to 5.50 on 69,000 shares. However, 65,000 of the shares were involved in a special size transaction.

On index, golds were up .32 to 160.31 while base metals were unchanged at 90.87. Volume was 2,620,000 shares compared with 2,603,000 at the same time Monday.

MONTREAL (CP) — Prices rallied slightly Tuesday towards the close of the Montreal and Canadian stock exchanges but the rise was not enough to offset wide-spread losses earlier in the session.

The composite index closed at 151.95, a drop of .50.

The decline interrupted an almost unbroken string of rises this month but most losses Tuesday were fractional. Losses outnumbered advances 132-63 on the Montreal and Canadian exchanges.

Consolidated Textiles posted the heaviest loss on the Montreal Stock Exchange, dropping two points to a new low of 7. Dominion Textiles was off ½ at 18¼ while Du Pont advanced ⅞ to 38.

Cominco fell 1¼ points to 34⅜ on a turnover of 3,595 shares. Hollinger was off ½ at 24 and Noranda ¼ at 57¾.

WAS MOST ACTIVE

Massey - Ferguson was the most active issue on the Montreal exchange, dropping ¼ to 24½.

Banque Canadienne Nationale fell 1½ points to 55, Trans-Mountain Pipe Line 1⅛ to 17½, and Brinco 10 cents to $4.15.

Among the gainers, Trans-Canada Pipe Line rose ⅝ to 27⅜, Dominion Stores ⅜ to 20 and Banque Provinciale ½ to 43½.

On the Canadian exchange losses of five cents were posted by Commodore at $1.15, Delta Electric at $1.70 and Kodiak P. at $1.50.

Among the speculative mines and oils Camflo fell 15 cents to $3.70 and Ranger 10 cents to $3.10.

On index, industrials fell .50 to 160.32; utilities .59 to 136.83; banks .41 to 119.59 and papers 1.11 to 117.12.

VANCOUVER (CP) — Bata Resources was again the leading trader on the Vancouver Stock Exchange Tuesday.

The issue traded 406,258 shares and closed at .77, up .10.

In other mining issues, Highmont closed at $2.37, up .20, Madrona at .86, up .07, and West Coast Resources at .86, up .06.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market Tuesday proved the extreme durability of its 1967 rally by digesting some sharp profit-taking and ending the session with a gain on balance.

For the 16th session this year, more stocks rose than fell. In addition, two of the popular averages advanced while one was unchanged.

This added up to another plus day, the 15th clear-cut gain of the year. Only Jan. 16 befogged the record.

The Dow Jones Industrial average wiped out an early loss of 6.35 and ended the day unchanged at 847.72.

Standard and Poor's 500-stock index, however, gained .12 at 85.51 and the New York Stock Exchange index advanced 9 cents to $47.17.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose .1 at 314.8, with industrials off .⅝ rails up .⅝ and utilities up .¼.

Early in the day, losers were outnumbering gainers at a ratio of 2 to 1 while averages were down sharply.

Control Data was the most active stock, up 4½ at 48½ on 176,400 shares.

Johnson and Johnson was delayed in opening due to accumulated demand following news that it plans a 3-for-1 stock split. The issue advanced 10 points to 195½.

IBM, which proposed a 2½ per cent stock dividend, gained 2.

Among Canadian issues, Granby Mining advanced ¾, Alcan and Massey-Ferguson ⅛, McIntyre Porcupine dipped 1½, Distillers Seagrams, Dome Mines and International Nickel ¼, Canadian Pacific ⅛.

Prices were irregularly higher on the American exchange. Volume was 3,250,000 shares compared with 3,710,000 Monday. The exchange's index was up 9 cents at $15.42.

Among Canadian issues, Preston gained ¼, Scurry Rainbow Oil, Jupiter Corp. and Canadian Javelin ⅛.
