Biggest Fire Loss in Creston History

640,000 Feet of Lumber Lost in Four-Hour Blaze

By DON KOLFAGE
Editorial Director, The News

CRESTON – Fire raging out of control for more than one hour Wednesday night destroyed more than 640,000 board feet of white pine and cedar lumber at the Creston Sawmills Ltd., causing loss estimated at $150,000.

Creston Fire Chief Bill Carter said it was the largest fire loss in the history of the town. He said the lumber lost was valued at up to $130 per thousand board feet.

Only heroic efforts by both the Creston volunteer firemen, and employees of the firm prevented the flames from raging through an adjoining veneer plant and sawmill, and through a large section of the town's business section.

Fire Chief Carter said he was prepared to use dynamite to blast the buildings if the fire had spread to the veneer plant in an effort to save the business section.

Sparks from a burner on the property were believed by firemen to have started the conflagration. A fireman said that there had been a spot fire at the industry earlier Wednesday afternoon that had been extinguished by company employees, and this also was believed to have started from sparks from the burner.

Chief Carter paid high tribute to three company employees who operated fork lifts and other heavy machinery to aid firefighters in bringing the flames under control.

He said they moved in and broke open stacks of burning lumber so that flames could be extinguished.

"If it hadn't been for these three men," he said, "we would still be fighting the fire, and it would still be burning out of control."

The fire was discovered about 5:30 p.m. by employees, who notified the Creston Fire Department. Chief Carter rushed all available equipment to the scene, manned by 16 volunteer members of the brigade.

More than 3000 feet of hose were used plus equipment and hose belonging to the company. One fire hydrant on the property was not working, firemen reported.

Control over the flames came about an hour after the arrival of the Creston Fire Brigade, and the flames were finally extinguished about 9:30 p.m.

Chief Carter said the ruins were still smouldering, and two firemen were being left at the scene overnight to ensure that it did not break out again.

Heavy Reinforcements Halting Viet Cong Drive

SAIGON (AP) — Clashes erupted in South Viet Nam's central highlands Wednesday for the third day in a row and heavy U.S. reinforcements were thrown in to thwart any North Vietnamese drive toward the coast.

At the same time, U.S. B-52 bombers came in from Guam and bombed a suspected North Vietnamese troop concentration and base behind the battle lines in the mountains a mile from the Cambodian border.

Reinforcing the U.S. 25th Division, large contingents of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division flew in by helicopters to the rugged area about 235 miles north of Saigon, swelling American forces to 10,000. The 25th reported killing at least 81 North Vietnamese in the three days of fighting. U.S. casualties were described as light.

U.S. Navy pilots returning from yesterday's raid on an oil depot on the outskirts of North Viet Nam's port of Haiphong reported the area was engulfed in flame and smoke, preventing a full assessment of bomb damage.

CLAIM PLANE DOWNED

Hanoi radio claimed a U.S. plane was shot down while bombing "a populated suburban area" of Haiphong Wednesday but made no reference to a large-scale raid.

North Viet Nam asserted the United States was stepping up its bombing of irrigation works, dikes, dams and pumping stations, charging over Hanoi radio that U.S. planes conducted 84 such raids in July, killing 29 persons and damaging installations "during the days of seasonal high water."

There was little or no ground fighting throughout South Viet Nam, U.S. officers said.

In the far north, the U.S. marines' Operation Hastings, begun July 15, came to an end. U.S. military officials defined marine casualties in the operation as moderate, or about 10 per cent of the 5,000-man force.

Soviet-Chinese Situation Worse

By BORIS MISKEW
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Soviet leaders still are having their troubles with the Chinese.

In 1964, with Soviet-Chinese relations near the breaking point, they ousted Premier Nikita Khrushchev in an apparent attempt to ease the situation, replacing him by the two-man team of Alexei Kosygin and Leonid Brezhnev.

Discussions at the current session of the Supreme Soviet indicate that the situation, if anything, has worsened.

Khrushchev's bluntness in dealing with the Chinese Communist party chairman, Mao Tse-tung, and other Chinese leaders, created a feeling of discomfort in Moscow.

His ouster apparently was designed to pacify Peking's hostile criticism of the Soviet Union for travelling too far along the road toward coexistence with the West, especially with the United States.

DIVIDED DUTIES

Consequently, Kosygin and Brezhnev divided Khrushchev's duties between themselves, Kosygin assuming the premiership and Brezhnev taking on the job of Soviet Communist party chief. Their hope was to steer the Soviet Union toward a course more to the liking of the Chinese leadership.

But the Chinese were not impressed. They pressed forward with their quarrel with the United States, and accompanied this with strong accusations that Moscow had joined Washington in an imperialist conspiracy designed against Peking.

The Vietnamese war has strained relations between the United States and the Soviet Union, but it has failed to bring together Moscow and Peking, although both capitals have pledged support of North Viet Nam.

The Soviet government appears united in its attitude toward Peking as was indicated by the swift re-election of Kosygin and Brezhnev to their posts when the Supreme Soviet, or Parliament, convened in the Kremlin Tuesday.

DISAPPOINTING RESULTS

It apparently has given up its struggle to mend relations with Peking after several years of disappointing results.

Although Kosygin, reviewing Soviet foreign relations Wednesday, declared that Soviet-American relations were completely overshadowed by "aggressiveness" now apparent in Washington, his main criticism was aimed at Peking.

Chinese Aid U.S. Kosygin Charges

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Soviet Premier Kosygin has accused China of aiding "American imperialism" by its attacks on Kremlin leaders.

In the most detailed attack by a Soviet leader on Peking heard here for some time, Kosygin said Wednesday that all Soviet efforts to improve relations with the Chinese Communists have proved fruitless.

The premier also assured the Vietnamese people that the Soviet Union would do all it could to "drive the Americans off Vietnamese soil as soon as possible."

Kosygin's remarks were made during a speech to the Supreme Soviet (parliament) which voted him and other top leaders back into their government and state posts.

He said the Soviet Union will display calmness and restraint and "will not be taken in by the provocations of those who would like to warm their hands at the hotbeds of international tension, at the hotbeds of war."

This remark was taken to refer equally to China and the United States.

RAPS CHINESE PRESS

Kosygin accused the Chinese leadership and the Chinese press of turning more and more to attacks on the Kremlin rather than on imperialism itself.

"These attacks distort the essence of the course of our party and state and have nothing in common with the truth," he said. By attacking Russia "China is rendering a big service to the American imperialists."

No Marriage Come 2066

LONDON (AP) — Cary Grant said Wednesday he thinks marriage won't exist in 100 years.

The American movie actor —married four times and a father for the first time at 62 —expounded his views on marriage at a luncheon arranged by Columbia Pictures Corp.

"Our divorce laws are more relaxed now."

Highway Deaths 600 This Year

VICTORIA (CP) — Ray Hadfield, motor vehicles superintendent, predicted Tuesday the 1966 highway death toll in B.C. will reach 600 — an increase of 109 over 1965.

Mr. Hadfield said in an interview he bases his prediction on a current trend shown in figures available up to the end of June.

He said these figures show the fatality rate is increasing faster than the accident rate.

The toll to June 30 was 239 dead, a 21 per cent increase over the same period last year. At the same time, property damage jumped 18 per cent. Accidents, meanwhile, increased only seven per cent.

"The fatality rate is increasing faster than the accident rate, thus indicating that our highway accidents are becoming progressively more severe," Mr. Hadfield said.

"No matter what we do, we will not succeed as long as the individual motorist behaves as though he's the only human being on the road."

Mr. Hadfield said about 13,000 drivers' licences have been revoked so far this year.

He said if the trend continues, there will be at least 25,000 suspensions by year end. There were 22,000 last year.

Ordeal Over For 12-Year-Old

DANVILLE, Ill., (AP) — Police said a 12-year-old girl was found apparently unharmed Wednesday after being held for 15 hours by a beer-drinking abductor.

Sheriff's deputies found Betty Farrell huddled for warmth on the steps of an abandoned country store, about five miles south of here and two miles from her rural home.

The girl said that a man, who had picked her up late Tuesday afternoon while she was at play with three other girls, had let her out of his car when it failed.

She said they had driven around all night "then the car broke down."

Betty said she walked along the country road until she came to the store, then sat down, too tired to continue.

"RAF Can't So We Will"

FALMOUTH, England (AP) Relatives and friends of the 31 passengers and crew missing since Sunday with the British pleasure excursion boat Darlwyn have hired three private planes to continue the search along the Cornish coast.

An official sea and land-based search was called off Tuesday night after bad weather hampered the hunt.

Later, however, the RAF ordered a Scottish-based plane to resume the search for wreckage or survivors.

14-Year-Old Boy Faces Charge

NANAIMO (CP)—A 14-year-old boy was charged in juvenile court here Wednesday in connection with the beating death of an 82-year-old woman.

The case was adjourned to Sept. 1 pending a psychiatric examination.

The boy, charged with committing a delinquency, to wit, capital murder, was in court less than 10 minutes.

The body of Mrs. Elina Hartman, described as a recluse, was found last week in the kitchen of her home at nearby Chase River. A plastic bag containing thousands of dollars and tied around her neck was untouched.

More Popular Than Christ Says Lennon

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) —A campaign to ban the Beatles, the British quartet that harnessed the screams and cheers of teen-agers to make millions, spread rapidly from its southern base across the United States Wednesday.

A growing list of radio stations announced they were dropping the music of the group which has had sensational popularity during recent years.

The drive was ignited by a magazine article which quoted one of the Beatles, John Lennon, as saying the Beatles are more popular than Jesus and that Christianity is on the way out.

Several radio stations scheduled bonfires for disillusioned fans, so they could burn their Beatle records and pictures.

However, some stations announced they will continue to play the group's records despite the furore.

The anti - Beatle drive, sparked by a Birmingham, Ala., station, was strongest in Alabama, South Carolina and Texas.

City Moves To Establish Parks, Recreation Body

Preliminary to the amalgamation of the city's parks, recreation programming and Civic Centre operations into one overall program, Nelson City Council Monday night repealed all existing Recreation Commission and Civic Centre bylaws.

Council also approved a motion establishing a Parks, Recreation and Civic Centre Department, and approved the appointment of a superintendent, and an advisory committee if necessary.

After giving two readings to its Recreation Civic Centre Repeal Bylaw, Council moved:

Resolved that the operation and maintenance of all parks within the City, the Civic Centre and all recreational facilities and programs be combined under one department of government to be known as Parks, Civic Centre and Recreation.

"And be it further resolved that the City engage the services of a superintendent to administer the Department of Parks, Civic Centre and Recreationo.

"And be it further resolved that Council appoint an advisory committee of six persons to assist the Superintendent of Parks, Civic Centre and Recreation.

"And be it further resolved that the terms of appointment of any such committee and the terms of office of any such committee shall be as follows: Three members shall be appointed for the period ending the 31st day of December, 1967, and three members shall be appointed for the period ending the 31st day of December, 1968, and thereafter their successors shall be appointed to serve two-year terms."

Local Man Succumbs To Accident Injuries

OMAK, Washington — Death toll in a highway crash near hear last Friday night climbed to five this morning when a Nelson man succumbed to injuries received when the car he was driving careened out of control and collided head-on with an Omak car.

Alexander J. Runyon, 42, of 521 Carbonate Street, Nelson, died at 3 a.m. Wednesday morning in Deaconess Hospital at Wenatchee. He had received compound fractures to both legs and chest and head injuries, and had been classed as in critical condition by the Sheriff's Office at Okanogan on Sunday.

A Nelson couple, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Clem of 706 Wasson Street, were killed instantly in the crash, which also resulted in the death of an Omak couple, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hosheit.

The sheriff's office said the crash occurred when the Runyon car, southbound on Highway 97, three miles north of Omak, careened out of control, crossed the centre line, and collided head-on with the Hosheit vehicle.

Runyon was rushed to the hospital at Omak, where he was given emergency treatment, and on Saturday was transferred to Deaconess Hospital at Wenatchee when his condition was described as critical.

Near Castlegar, officials said, children were responsible for starting one near the lagoon.

At Creston, lightning was attributed as the cause of a fire in the Boundary Creek area.

The fire hazard is rated as high in the Kootenay - Boundary area. At least 11 fires are being fought.

Big Drop In Trail Home Loans

A decreasing number of loans issued by the Trail office of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation was highlighted by the City of Trail itself where loans issued were off by a whopping 84 per cent in the first six months of this year.

CMHC issued a total of 25 loans in Trail during the first half of 1965, and only four during the first half of this year. The Trail drop was the largest recorded by any municipality within the confines covered by the Trail office.

Nelson also recorded a large percentage drop with 11 loans issued in the first half of 1965 compared with only five this year.

Only five of the 19 municipalities in the area served by the office showed increases this year — Montrose with four, Grand Forks with two, Midway, 1, Golden, 7, and Slocan with 2.

Mrs. Denisoff was born in Russia on June 10, 1888. She came to Canada in 1899 and lived in Saskatchewan for 13 years before moving to B.C.

She is survived by her husband, John, of Glade; three daughters, Mrs. Teena Poznikoff and Mrs. Makonin of Glade and Mrs. Polly Esovoloff of Salmo; one son, John of Glade. 15 grandchildren and 31 great grandchildren; and one brother, John Sherbinin of Glade.

Local Ladies Take Stand

Nelson City Council Monday night deftly avoided taking a stand for or against fluoridation of the local water supply.

Letters from two opponents of fluoridation, Mrs. Jacob J. Loewen of 320 Chatham Street, and Mrs. Jeanie H. Ryley of 515 Houston Street, were merely received and filed without action.

Both women voiced strong opposition to municipal fluoridation, and voiced their objections to the city fathers.

Two-Way Radio Service Set for Nelson Airstrip

Scraper Operator Rides Out Flaming Vehicle

CRANBROOK — Operator Grant McMain, safety-belted to a big scraper weighing in at 100 tons, had a narrow escape when the unit, fully loaded on a down grade, jack-knifed and caught fire Tuesday.

He rode it to a stop before bailing out as flames roared up from the tractor unit and destroyed the $100,000 piece of equipment.

The dirt trailer, loaded with 35 yards, was undamaged. The accident occured at the Cranbrook airport site near St. Mary's Reserve.

Construction superintendent Sever Rondesvedt reported the equipment is leased and difficult to replace on this work which is continuing double shift toward a specified completion deadline.

Two-way radio contact between the Nelson airstrip and planes in the air will soon be possible. City Council Monday night moved to obtain a radio licence for operation of an aerotron to serve as a radio base for the airstrip.

Council action followed receipt of a letter form Civil Defence zone co-ordinator Walter Wait that an aerotron was being provided for the city strip.

Mr. Wait wrote:

"The Nelson City Council is aware that the primary function of Civil Defence is to prepare against emergency. To this purpose, in the category of Air Service, I have received an aerotron which will serve as a radio base for the Nelson airport. With this radio it will be possible to be in two-way contact with planes in the air using the Nelson strip. This provides a definite forward step for the Nelson airport.

Recently, too, for use in the zone, I have received a number of Sarah Beacons (which are homing devices) and basket stretchers with slings for use in air-operated or ground rescue.

To make the aerotron operational it will be necessary for the City to apply to the Department of Transport at Kelowna for a licence to operate. The aerotron will be placed in the office of the Okanagan Helicopters Limited, and will be operated by individuals interested in aviation. If, in the event of an emergency, the radio has to be operated for longer periods each day, the Civil Defence is prepared to find operators. In fact, operators have been trained already. There would be no onus on the City to man the equipment. The serial number of the unit is 5653.

We will be having a Civil Defence Fly-in Saturday, August 6, and would like to have the aerotron operative, if possible. This would require obtaining provisional permission to use the radio.

City Promises To Study Dairy Farm Hydro Rates

Hydro rates came under fire from area dairy farmers using bulk tank storage methods when they appeared before Nelson City Council Monday night.

Spokesman for the delegation, D. Pasacreta of Blewett, noted that with the installation of the bulk tanks the farmers are consuming more power and paying commercial rates. He asked if the City of Nelson rates could be revised to be more in line with rates charged in other areas.

He said the dairy farmers in the area, five or six, feel that they should be on domestic hydro rates.

Another spokesman said that farmers were not manufacturers in the general sense, but rather were primary producers, and should not be penalized by being forced to pay rates comparable with ordinary industry.

Council appeared sympathetic to the request, and moved to have the electrical superintendent give serious consideration to a revision of the rate structure as it applied to dairy farmers.

Council noted that it wanted to encourage dairy farming in the area, not force it out of business.

Slow Park Progress Scored

TRAIL—Slow progress on Centennial Park is drawing city council's fire and Mayor Joe Palyga is going to try to get the Centennial committee moving on the project.

Ald. D. W. Mawdsley said he was not satisfied with progress at the centennial park site in Glenmerry.

"We should try and bring some pressure to bear on the Parks Commission to get on with the work," he added.

Mayor Joe Palyga said he was very disappointed at the way things were going and he promised he would get in touch with the chairman of the Parks Commission.

The federal and provincial governments have made grants totalling $19,000 towards the project, and Trail and Tadanac will put another $22,000 forward for the work.

The park is expected to cover about seven acres when it is completed.

BOAT OWNERS WARNED TO HEED WATER LAWS

Nelson detachment RCMP, Wednesday night, issued a warning to boats operating in the West Arm between Nelson and Balfour to heed navigation laws.

An RCMP spokesman warned that:

. . . Boats are not allowed to moore to any buoys, beacons or dolphins.

. . . Except in an emergency, boats are not allowed to anchor in channels or fairways in such a manner as to obstruct the normal passage of other vessels.

. . . Any time that a boat is at anchor at night it must show a white light on its mast.

The spokesman noted that there were four prosecutions this week of boat operators running without lights on Saturday night, and that there had been five other prosecutions for operating improperly equipped boats.

RCMP patrols are being maintained on the West Arm, and boaters are warned that any infractions will make the operator libel for charges.

Fined on 2 Counts

ROSSLAND — Charged with driving without due care and attention and also for speeding, Mike Marrello of Trail was fined $25 and had his licence suspended on the first charge and was fined $15 on the second charge. The offences occured on June 19 and July 25. He appeared before magistrate J. C. Urquhart.

Youth Takes Dad's Car for 9000-Mile Ride

GAND FORKS — A 9000-mile joyride ended for a 16-year-old Vancouver youth when he was apprehended a mile east of Grand Forks Monday at 5 p.m.

The youth had taken his father's car a month ago and had travelled all over the United States before returning to Canada two days ago through the Alberta border point of Whiskey Gap.

His father, who had a search warrant out for his son, picked him up at the Castlegar airport Tuesday.

Labor Negotiations Slowed Area Economy

TRAIL — Recent management-union negotiations in the manufacturing and construction industries slowed the overall employment activity throughout the area.

Cliff Bristow, manager of the National Employment Service, said that reduced buying of the employees affected by possible work stoppages decreased volume sales in all major retail-wholesale outlets. Employers were reluctant to fill vacancies until the economy recovered.

Opportunities for employment with the Columbia Hydro projects resulted in 42 workers hired on all projects.

Eight persons were recruited from other areas for local employment.

The National Employment Service also despatched 36 workers to the fruit-picking and packing industry in the Okanagan valley.

Mr. Bristow advised that maximum production within the logging anad lumbering industry continued throughout the month.

Sufficient manpower was available to meet the requirements for all vacancies received.

Experienced, qualified help within the catering industries remains difficult to obtain.

This situation was greatly improved with recruitment of senior students.

Continued opportunities in the executive and professional categories were evident throughout the month.

Canada and the United Kingdom clearance has resulted in some vacancies being filled.

Mr. Bristow added that employment opportunities for women were somewhat limited during July.

A slight surplus of qualified stenographers and other workers was also noted.

The employment picture has lesssened as noted for the end of July, indicating a total of 53 positions for women and 87 positions for men remained unfilled.

The local office was successful in placing 27 women and 89 men during the month.

TORONTO (CP)—Mayor Phil Givens, now on a European trip, has been invited to visit Russia but a reply will not be made until he returns to Canada. The invitation was delivered to Controller William Denison by officials of the Soviet Embassy at Ottawa.

Council Snaps Up Land as Price Right

CRANBROOK — In an abrupt bit of bargaining, price set by the Department of Lands for a 99-foot strip of land through the undeveloped southeast corner of Cranbrook, tallying 3.5 acres, dropped from $10,000 last week to $10 this week. City council approved the purchase quickly at its Monday meeting.

The strip was former power line right-of-way abandoned by East Kootenay Power Company, and the city had applied for purchase to use the property as bargaining basis for streets and alleys when the development is undertaken soon.

Mayor Haddad, shocked at the price set in a department letter received last week, got quick action on the price reduction when purpose of the purchase was explained.

Most of the area through which it runs is privately owned and scheduled soon for provision of utilities and subdivision for residential purposes.

Bowey Heads Model Aero Club

The club was organized in Trail last week and began planning events to come, as well as to elect a full slate of officers for the organization's first year of operation.

Elected vice - president was George Penniket, and secretary-treasurer is Charlie Lancaster.

All types of model planes are built and flown by the members.

Two Cases Heard At Fruitvale

FRUITVALE — Magistrate C. H. Clegg heard two cases Monday in magistrate's court here. Jack Michael Kanigan, 32, of Castlegar was charged with theft of two speakers from the Auto-Vue drive-in, and was fined $100.

Alvin Norman Skoog, 26, of Rossland was remanded to August 29, after being charged with false pretences in the issuing of a bad cheque for purchase of a car.

Missing Plane Had Engine Trouble

NAKUSP — RCMP received a report of a missing aircraft Sunday afternoon in the Nakusp area.

The two-seater plane with pontoons, was piloted by William Blair who was accompanied by John Fornelli, both of Nakusp. It was out on fire patrol for Celgar.

RCMP had launched a search and inquiry when the plane was located on Beatrice Lake near New Denver Monday morning at about 5 a.m.

The plane had had engine trouble and had put down on the lake, but was unable to take off again. Mr. Fornelli had begun to walk out and was met by a car on one of the area's logging roads. The pilot was able to get the plane off the water later.

200 Expected At Reunion

VICTORIA — About 200 persons, former Rossland residents, are expected at the second annual reunion here next month.

A picnic in Mount Douglas Park will mark the reunion. Last year's reunion saw 130 Trail and Rossland ex-residents in attendance.

Edgar Jamieson, former public works foreman for Rossland-Trail district, said today he hoped that people from Trail and Rossland who might be vacationing in Victoria at the time would come out to the picnic and renew acquaintances. Other members of the committee are Ernest Clay, Stan Mawdsley, Lance Whittaker and Tom Crannage.

The reunion attendance committee, working on a "Christmas turkey" list of Cominco retirees, estimates the number of former Rossland-Trailites in Victoria as close to 500. The reunion could turn out to be one of the largest picnics held in the capital city.

Swerves for Deer, Car Wrecked

CASTLEGAR—Richard Nelson Rainbow of Trail said his car swerved to miss two deer on the Blueberry-Paulson highway at about 2:30 a.m. Sunday. The car ended up travelling in the opposite direction and then rolled over, rendering it a total wreck. The accident is still under investigation by the RCMP, but no charges are contemplated.

Referendum Not Legal Nakusp Residents Told

NAKUSP—A referendum concerning the beach at Nakusp which is proposed to be held shortly, will have no legal effect, says Dr. Hugh Keenleyside, co-chairman of B. C. Hydro.

In a letter to Nakusp council Mr. Keenleyside says he thinks it is important that B. C. Hydro should clearly restate its position in order that the voters may be fully informed.

"We are not only willing but anxious to meet the desires of the people of Nakusp concerning their future waterfront. But it is my duty to warn you that the forthcoming referendum, while reflecting the views of the people of the area, will not have any legal binding effect."

Dr. Keenleyside advised that as a result of representations the company's consultants were studying the possibility of extending the beach into the area between Beach and Lake Avenues.

"We stated, however, that we were not prepared to undertake any additional alterations or extensions which would further increase the cost or adversely affect the aesthetics."

Washington's World Mood

Country wisdom knows that a two-horse team can haul more and go farther but that a one-horse rig is easier to drive. The problem of which to drive continues to trouble the United States Government where communism is concerned. Should America (and the Western world) continue merely to fight communism's attempted advance on every front, or should the United States (and its allies) restrain Communist imperialism with one hand while helping the Marxist lands to develop economically with the other?

But where Communist China is concerned, the case is different. Whereas the European nations have tended to believe that the same trade policies should be applied to China as have been shown toward Russia, the United States has strongly disagreed. Believing that China constitutes a greater threat to world peace than does Russia, and that China has shown less willingness to curb its imperialistic tendencies, Washington has long sought a strict economic boycott on that land. Although some slight easing of this stand has been apparent during the past half-year, Washington still looks with suspicion, unease and disfavor on the willingness—often the eagerness—of many of its allies for closer economic links with China.

These sentiments have just boiled over in their hottest form with the stiff senatorial rebuke to West Germany for agreeing to set up a steel rolling mill in Communist China. By a vote of 56 to 33, the Senate termed this "a grave blow to the common defence of the free world and to the safety of American troops in Viet Nam."

This vote came against national tension created by the Viet Namese war and growing Washington disillusionment with its relationship with its allies and with other capitals.—Christian Science Monitor.

The Facts Come Sadly Late

Mr. Justice Dalton Wells has found, as expected, that George Victor Spencer had indeed been guilty of the "grossest misconduct" in supplying information to Soviet embassy officials, that the Government had no choice but to fire him from his Vancouver postal job, and that in depriving him of his pension while returning to him his own pension contributions the Government had fully met the requirements of justice.

Had the information now revealed in the report been made available in the spring of 1965, when the case first burst on the public through an announcement by the External Affairs Department, there would have been no outcry. The Government would have been seen to have treated Spencer properly and with justice.

The Government, however, did not take that course of action, and thereby precipitated consequences which may have a far harsher impact on Canadian public life than anything Spencer could have done.

When the case first blew up, Prime Minister Lester Pearson made a brief statement in the House and refused to accede to Opposition demands for an inquiry. The matter was battled through Parliament and the ensuing election. In November, Spencer revealed himself to be the civil servant concerned. Justice Minister Lucien Cardin then, incredibly, went on national television to confirm that Spencer was the man accused of selling information to the Russians, and to say that while Spencer would not be brought to trial he would be kept under perpetual RCMP surveillance.

Two months later it was announced that Spencer had been dismissed from the post office with loss of pension rights, following a Civil Service Commission investigation and Cabinet approval, but under a section of the Civil Service Act providing no appeal.

The public now knew that a man had been punished for a charge of espionage but without any public evidence that the charge was well-founded. It was inevitable and proper that both Opposition and public should demand the facts.

Even at that point, it would have been possible for an all-party parliamentary committee to have conducted an inquiry into the affair, hearing in camera any evidence which might have endangered the security of the country. Yet the Government continued to refuse an inquiry.

In February, Mr. Pearson brought his own honor into the affair saying that he had personally examined the case and found no injustice. Nobody doubted Mr. Pearson's word; but nobody wanted a precedent established, either, that would set up any Prime Minister as the arbiter of individual fates.

There followed Mr. Pearson's strange production of Spencer's thank-you note, and stranger interview with Spencer by televised telephone call to ask if he wanted an investigation. There was Justice Minister Cardin declaring that there would be no inquiry, and Mr. Pearson finally announcing that there would be. But even then there was hesitation: at first it was not to be a full inquiry; only after further pressure did the Prime Minister leave it to Mr. Justice Wells' discretion.

Nearly a year of bitterness, when a full statement of the Spencer case in the beginning could have saved it all. Or, even if that wisdom had not been employed, the inquiry that was finally established in 1966 could have been established in 1965.

There is only one good result of the affair. A general inquiry is to be held into the conduct of espionage investigation which should enable Canada to provide machinery for handling suspected spies without destroying a man's rights or endangering the security of the nation.

The evil consequences of the affair are as yet beyond counting.

Angered by the failure of the prime minister to support him and by the attacks of the Opposition, Mr. Cardin dropped his piece of malice about the "Monseignor" affair and precipitated the Munsinger inquiry. An inquiry which for the first time in Canada's history put a former prime minister and justice minister on trial, in effect, for their judgment, which established a precedent for endless witch-hunts into previous administrations that could destroy the operation of government, which brought the impartiality of the judiciary into question, which did immeasurable damage to the dignity of Parliament. We wait the Munsinger report and all its evils because the Spencer inquiry was so unconscionably delayed.

The fruits of Mr. Pearson's indecision are bitter indeed.—Globe and Mail.

We Are Inter-Dependent

Premier Daniel Johnson of Quebec, who in his days in Opposition had a tendency to sound somewhat separatist, has given evidenve since assuming office that these sentiments were being put aside, or at least toned down. On Monday he will meet most of his fellow Premiers for the first time, at the inter-provincial conference to be held in Toronto. The experience may underline for him the real degree of provincial inter-dependence that exists, and how necessary it will be for Quebec to co-operate with both its fellow provinces and Ottawa if it is to attain one essential equality—economic equality.

The commission found that Quebec was not spending as much per capita on education, health, roads and many other services as most other provinces, and especially the prosperous provinces, when, in fact, it should be spending more. It should be spending more because it was already behind in providing these services, and not only had to catch up but stay abreast of provinces that were steadily increasing their spending, especially for education. It had to do this—if it wanted prosperity—because these services were the tools of prosperity.

The commission recommended a number of internal measures by which Quebec could increase its tax revenues and redistribute the tax burden more equitably. But it pointed out that these increases could not meet Quebec needs. To do that Quebec would need a share of tax resources now reserved to the federal Government, and—at least as important—it would have to co-operate with the other provinces to make sure that it did not place itself in an invidious position so far as attracting capital, industry and even individuals was concerned.

Estate taxes and succession duties, for example, are to be discussed at next week's meeting. The Belanger report proposed a complete revamping of this legislation, but not its obliteration. Yet Alberta has already indicated that it will rebate to estates the 75 per cent of such taxes that come to the province, and will urge Otawa to rebate its 25 per cent also. This could make Alberta a most attratcive haven for older people—even Quebeckers—with money.

Then there is a capital gains tax. The commission recommended such a tax, but pointed out that it must be agreed with the other provinces and Ottawa; and certainly a capital gains tax unique to Quebec would drive capital beyond its borders.

The commission emphasized that it was particularly necessary for Quebec to co-operate with Ontario, Canada's most prosperous province. It recommended that the sales tax be increased and extended to, among other things, commercial advertising.—Globe and Mail.

The conspiracy was uncovered when correspondence between Babington and Mary was intercepted and one of the plotters confessed. Babington and six other Roman Catholics were condemned to death for high treason, and the reign of Elizabeth was made more secure.

Russian European Position Based on Power

Nations of Communist Eastern Europe respect the Soviet Union's military and political might but few cultural ties have developed over the years. John Best, Canadian Press correspondent in Moscow, describes the relationship as seen in a tour of the region.

By JOHN BEST
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Russia's position in Eastern Europe is based on power—military, political and economic.

If cultural leanings were the criterion, most of the countries would long since have slipped away from Moscow domination and tied their destinies to the West.

On a journey through Eastern Europe one is continuously struck by the lack of any deep-rooted popular attachment to Russia or the Russians as a people.

The Russian image is not so much sinister — although various countries have had cause down through the ages to fear its military might—as opaque. To the peoples of Eastern Europe, Russia represents almost as much of an enigma as to the people of the West.

Their attitude was well summed up by a Pole who told me: "We and the Russians have completely different outlooks."

The feeling, or lack of feeling, is equally pronounced among Slavic peoples such as the Poles, Czechs and Yugoslavs as among non-Slav Hungarians and Romanians.

FEEL SUPERIOR

All have a peculiar tendency — often rather rude —to look down their noses at the great colossus to the East, whose culture they consider inferior to their own.

The one exception is the Bulgarians, who consider themselves the purest of all Slavs and apparently feel a genuinely warm kinship to the Russians. This is based at least in large measure on still-felt gratitude to Russia for liberating Bulgaria from centuries of Turkish rule in the 1870s.

Also, having been the most backward of all the Soviet-bloc countries, Bulgaria takes great pride in its latter-day industrial development, which has been powerfully assisted and to a large degree mastermindedness by the Soviet Union.

The other peoples look primarily westward. The cultural influences to which they exposed come primarily from the West. If they think of travelling abroad it's to the West that they dream of going.

The young people hanker after Western clothes, Western pop records and Western pocket books. Italian movies are all the rage for grownups as well as youth.

INFLUENCED BY WEST

Writers and intellectuals make it a point to keep abreast of literary developments in the West, and not a few are influenced by Western writers in their own work.

In conversations with prominent writers both in Belgrade and Prague, I heard the names of a long list of contemporary Western writers and playrights reeled off as being outstanding — Anouilh, Ionescu, Marquand, Miller, Salinger, Steinbeck, Osborne.

By contrast they were decidedly unenthusiastic about the contemporary literary output from Russia—and were positively disdainful of the Soviet literary school known as socialist relism.

The most popular foreign languages among school children in Eastern Europe are English and French, with German running third. Russian trails behind in popularity but this may be at least in part because it is comulsory.

But the greatest influence of all serving to inculcate Western ideas is tourism. Hundreds of thousands of tourists stream into the Eastern states every year.

Competition for tourist business is very real and very stiff, as can be seen from the expensive display ads East European countries sponsor in travel sections of big Western newspapers.

Such chasing after foreign currencies is an ironic commentary on a system which, until recently, always gave the impression of being repelled by the notion of economic competition in any form.

FEW RUSSIAN TOURISTS

Incredible as it may seem, one seldom encounters a Russian tourist in a part of the world supposedly tied to Russia by the closest of fraternal bonds.

Those Russians who do travel go in groups, usually on highly-organized bus or train tours, but only the most fortunate can hope to get a booking in one of these.

The idea of a single couple going in a car is virtually unknown, although there have been reports in Moscow that this will soon become possible.

What is possible is group tours by members of automobile clubs. But all have to be cleared with the Russian police first, and strict itineraries are filed, under which the caravan must stay in specified places on specified nights.

Westerners tend to assume that the reason Russians are not permitted to travel abroad is that the authorities don't want them to become exposed to alien influences and compare conditions in other countries with those at home.

But it's also a matter of money. Russian authorities evidently feel the country can't afford the loss of foreign currency which mass travel abroad would entail. In Eastern Europe, they can presumably make limited arrangements for Russians to travel on soft currency.

Oswald-Hird Principals To Reside at Cranbrook

A pretty wedding was conducted in St. Paul's-Trinity United Church by Rev. J. Rae Allan when Janet Rose Hird and Frank Allan Oswald exchanged nuptial vows.

Pews were marked with pink and silver bows and a profusion of peonies provided the setting for the ceremony.

The bride, daughter of Mr. Donald W. Hird of Slocan and Mrs. Dorothy Hird of Nelson, chose a graceful eggshell tinted sheath, street length, with a lace coat of the same color. It featured three-quarter length sleeves and fastened with a bow at the empire waist.

Her dainty shoulder-length veil, embroidered around the bottom edge, was held by a seed pearl tiara. Her bouquet of seven long-stemmed red roses, tied with satin bow, made a pleasant contrast with her ensemble.

Her sister, Mrs. Lyn Teneycke, as matron of honor was attired in teal blue, the bodice topped with lace. Her accessories were white and she carried white carnations tied with a pink satin ribbon.

Mr. John Horswill attended the groom and Mr. William Oswald was usher. Mrs. Patricia Green played the wedding music.

A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Collinson on the North Shore. The three-tiered bridal cake, embedded in tulle and pink flowers, was topped with a bride and groom under an arch of white orchids. It was flanked by tall white tapers.

Mr. Robert Collinson was master of ceremonies and guests were served a buffet lunch.

For their wedding trip the bride chose a white sheath with pink accessories and pink carnation corsage.

The couple are making their home in Cranbrook.

Out of town guests were Mr. D. W. Hird, Naomi and Donald; Mrs. A. A. Anderson, Shannon and Arroll; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Tyenecke, Sharon and Brian; Miss Patricia Hird of Slocan; Mr. and Mrs. John Ravestein, Castlegar; Mr. and Mrs. William R. Oswald, Calgary, and Mrs. A. Basaraba and Renee of Hudson Hope.

Senior Citizens Treated To Jaunt to Riondel

A trip to Riondel and a tasty lunch served by the Ladies' Recreation Club there made a pleasant outing Sunday for 35 members of Nelson's Senior Citizens' Association.

They travelled by bus and private car, leaving Nelson at about 12:30 p.m. Mrs. A. Buie, secretary of the recreation club, welcomed the group and directed them to the recreation hall.

Tables were bright with roses and sweetpeas and a group of Riondel senior citizens joined the group for lunch. Mrs. V. Gendron spoke words of welcome and said grace.

After lunch the group was taken to the beach and also on a bus tour of the community with Mrs. Buie as guide.

Votes of thanks were given by E. Callbeck and A. S. Horswill for the hospitality shown them before they boarded the bus for home. They arrived back in Nelson at about 7 p.m.

hints from Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:

My mother taught me to buy the most solid heads of lettuce I could find.

She said it was a better buy, especially when paying for it by the head, rather than by weight.

However, I don't think it tastes as good as lettuce which is a little looser.

What is your opinion?

Marian Holmes

• • •

Dear Marion:

Your mother might get more lettuce for her money, but here is what the U. S. Department of Agriculture says:

"Remember that a good head of lettuce is just that.

"The head should be firm, but not TOO solid. Heavy, hard lettuce often is lacking in the most desired color.

"The greener the lettuce, the better it will look, and the more vitamins it will have."

They also gave us the following hint which I want to pass along to all of you:

"Remember, too, to store lettuce in the refrigerator away from fresh fruit. A gas given off in the ripening process of many fruits may cause the lettuce to spot."

However, I buy my heaviest and biggest head of lettuce when it's sold by "Each head," and my greenest, firm, and not too solid ones when sold by the pound, and I'm way ahead!

Love Ya

DEAR HELOISE:

Here's a hint for apartment dwellers who have to wrap and tie up their garbage before putting it down the trash chute:

Instead of buying string, cut up old nylon stockings, starting from the top and cutting in 1" strips to the toe.

Wind the strips into a ball and you will have strong ties when you need them.

Old slips and T-shirts can also be used.

DEAR HELOISE:

Use an old plastic cloth-backed tablecloth for a mattress pad when traveling with small children.

And have you ever thought to scrub your baby bottle nipples inside out?

Amazing how much easier it is.

First run the nipple brush under cold water to make it firm.

DEAR HELOISE:

I know women change purses ever so often and I have sometimes forgotten to put my keys in my purse when I change.

However, we seldom forget our billfolds. So I had an extra house key made, and put it in a corner of my billfold.

Since then it has come in handy several times when I forgot my keys.

DEAR HELOISE:

I have found a practical use for an old fur coat which I lacked courage to toss away.

I cut it off at the underarm seam and stitched the lining to the skin where it was cut off.

It serves as a rug children love to use while watching T. V. It can be used in the bedroom, den, car, or as a football game lap robe.

A short-hair coat will make a nice toss pillow, using a sleeve for each side.

No Strike Settlement In Sight

By JOHN SKINNER

MONTREAL (CP) — One of the longest, bitterest strikes by textile workers in Quebec province's history is in its fifth month with no sign of a settlement.

The walkout, marked by explosive violence, charges and counter-charges and, in some cases, economic troubles for small merchants, involves 5,000 workers at Dominion Textile Co. Ltd. plants in Magog, Sherbrooke, Montmorency and Drummondville. Union spokesmen in Magog and Sherbrooke say the weekly cost of the strike is $113,000 in strike pay and other expenses, most of which must be paid from union funds.

The strikers are members of the National Federation of Textile Workers, an affiliate of the Quebec-based Confederation of National Trade Unions. The strike started in Magog April 1 and spread to the other three centres.

The walkout started quietly enough but as negotiations dragged on, tempers became frayed and violence erupted.

The bulk of the violence came during a six-day period in mid-July during which three bombs exploded and a company office was sacked.

OVERTURN DESKS

On July 11 a goon squad broke into the company's temporary Sherbrooke headquarters and caused $2,000 damage by smashing typewriters and overturning desks.

Three days later a 16-year-old Montreal high school student, Jean Corbo, carried a time bomb into an alley behind the Dominion Textile plant in Montreal and was killed when the bomb apparently exploded prematurely.

Police said they believe the student was a henchman for a terrorist organization. Corbo's grief-stricken father, a Montreal notary, described his son as "the naive servant of the high priests of separatist terrorism."

The Montreal plant is not affected by the strike because its employees belong to a different union.

On July 17 the homes of two company executives in Magog were rocked by explosions caused by a Molotov cocktail and dynamite. Both men—Geoffrey Bonhomme, the Magog personnel manager, and Clarence Styan, a foreman—were away with their families at the time but the explosions caused extensive damage to their homes.

SEEK HIGHER WAGES

The dispute involves the question of night work for female employees and wage demands. The union is demanding an increase of 42 cents an hour and a 28-month contract and the company is offering 29 to 31 cents in a 40-month agreement. The present average wage paid to the workers is $1.79 an hour.

In a speech to the company's annual meeting July 29, E. F. King, executive vice-president of Dominion Textile, said the strike has cost the company about $6,000,000 without consideration of fringe benefits and possible wage increases. He said the "impact of the four communities is substantially in excess of this figure."

A few days earlier, two elected representatives from Sherbrooke became involved in the strike when they blamed the "rigid and miserly" attitude of the company for continuation of the walkout.

In a letter to then-president Blair Gordon, who retired July 29, Maurice Allard, independent Conservative member of Parliament, and Raynald Frechette, Union Nationale member in the provincial legislature, warned that if the company did not modify its rigid attitude they will take the issue to the people in a "study and information campaign."

ADDRESS STRIKERS

The campaign opened Aug. 1 when the two men addressed a meeting of 500 strikers in Magog.

A company spokesman said the two representatives were not "properly informed" and should seek first-hand information on the walkout and the company's position.

Meanwhile, local merchants and striking employees, who represent half the labor force in Magog, are suffering.

Strikers in Magog receive strike pay of $10 a week for single men and $13 for married men. Through a special arrangement they can borrow up to $15 a week from local banks and storekeepers are cautiously extending credit, confident they will be paid once the strike ends.

Lions Weather Storm—Rain That Is, To Whip Calgary 21-3

CALGARY (CP)—British Columbia Lions took advantage of a weak defence Wednesday to defeat Calgary Stampeders 21-3 in the first game of the Western Football Conference season for both clubs.

The Lions, rarely threatened before 19,536 fans in a game hit by heavy rain and a thunderstorm in the second half, broke a losing streak which had run for eight games.

Punching through the Calgary defence and harrassing Stampeder quarterback Eagle Day, the Lions collected touchdowns from halfback Willie Fleming and Bill Munsey, a tough fullback.

Bill Mitchell converted both second-quarter touchdowns and kicked an easy field goal in the first quarter. The Lions also collected two singles and a safety touch.

The Stampeders managed only a third-quarter field goal by Larry Robinson, a booming 42-yard kick.

Lions barged from their 50-yard line for Mitchell's field goal at 8:14 of the first quarter on a field soaked by an hour of heavy rain before the game.

Calgary quarterback Eagle Day had been smeared for losses of six and 11 yards in his own territory. Lions' march included a 15-yard pass to Fleming.

Lions' punter Neil Beaumont kicked to Calgary's one-yard stripe in the second frame. Stampeders couldn't make any headway and punter Jim Furlong conceded the safety touch.

Midway through the quarter, Norm Fieldgate picked off a wild pass by Day and Lions worked from their 35 to set up Munsey's marker. He bulled over, carrying three tacklers on his back, from the six.

Lions' quarterback Joe Kapp dodged a tackler at the Calgary 54 late in the quarter and fired a sideline pass to Fleming, who scooted past two defenders into the end zone.

Lovell Coleman, Ted Woods and Frank Budd brought Stampeders from their 31 to Lions 38 early in the third quarter, but Stampeders stalled and had to settle for Robinson's field goal.

In turn, Lions stalled but Neil Beaumont boomed an 83-yard punt past Bill Gaskins into the end zone. Gaskins was trapped for the point.

Stampeders made a brief recovery early in the fourth quarter but a constantly-harrassed Day could make no consistent headway. Munsey sparked Lion's next scoring march with a burst from his 42 to the Calgary 18.

After Kapp threw wide on a pass attempt, Mitchell's field goal bid bounced through the end zone for a single.

Stampeders, held to a meagre 95 yards offence in the first half, recovered in the second, carding 226 yards for a total of 321 on 17 first downs.

WILLIE FLEMING

Lions compiled 314 yards in the first half and 117 in the last for a total of 431 on 21 first downs.

Kapp, back after missing preseason action with a pulled hamstring muscle, completed 15 of 22 passes or 267 yards. Day completed 12 of 24 for 135 yards.

Nelson's Recreation Hockey Clinic, scheduled to have been held next week, has had to be cancelled due to the water restriction placed on the city and the Civic Centre.

Civic Centre manager, Dave Thomas, said Wednesday, the International Ice Hockey Clinic, now in its final week of operation for this summer, will continue as planned and the ice will be taken out of the arena immediately following the final hockey game Saturday night.

The final session of midsummer skating was held Wednesday evening.

Last-Quarter Touchdown Gives Ottawa 10-8 Win

By BOB MacKENZIE

OTTAWA (CP) — Ottawa Rough Riders came from behind with a fourth - quarter touchdown, then hung on for a 10-8 Eastern Football Conference victory over Montreal Alouettes before 19,599 fans at Lansdowne Park Wednesday night.

Riders opened the scoring on a 20-yard field goal by tackle Moe Racine on the last play of the first half. A third-quarter pass interception by halfback Joe Poirier set up the game-winning touchdown.

Poirier grabbed a pass from Montreal quarterback Bernie Faloney on the Montreal 25-yard line but his dash into the end zone was nullified by a clipping penalty against Ottawa.

WHIT TUCKER
. . . Winning TD

This moved the ball back to the Montreal 32. Eight plays later, after two successful third-down gambles, quarterback Russ Jackson hit flanker Whit Tucker with a nine-yard touchdown pass.

Faloney scored Montreal's touchdown on a four-yard end sweep in the third quarter after marching his club 60 yards in five plays.

Flanker Peter Kempf kicked the convert and end Gino Beretta added a single on a 50-yard punt in the fourth quarter.

FAILED TO PULL AHEAD

The Alouettes had two chances to pull ahead in the EFC season opener but a tough Ottawa defence stopped them the first time and the clock halted their second attempt after Faloney moved his team from his own 17 to the 30 on three pass completions.

The Riders managed 204 yards rushing but Jackson had a poor night passing, completing only eight of 18 passes for 92 yards. Three of his passes were intercepted, all by Montreal halfback Larry Fairholm. Halfback Ronnie Stewart missed on his only pass attempt.

Montreal was held to 56 yards on the ground. Faloney completed 12 of 24 passes for 192 yards but had four passes intercepted—two by halfback Gene Gaines and one each by linebacker Ken Lehmann and Poirier.

End Peter Kempf and halfback Donnie Davis were Faloney's favorite targets, catching four passes each for 68 and 58 yards, respectively.

Tucker caught three for [illegible] yards to lead the Ottawa receivers.

Rick Black, who shared fullback duties with Jim Dillard led the Ottawa ground attack with 82 yards on 10 carries. Halfback Bo Scott ran 61 yards on 14 trips and Stewart got 4 yards in nine carries.

Halfback Don Lisbon accounted for more than half of Montreal's ground gains with 30 yards in nine tries.

Homelites Blank RCMP

Homelites, led by the 10-strike-out performance of Paul Kinakin, coasted to an easy 12-0 victory over RCMP Wednesday night in South Slocan in Nelson Fastball League play.

Kinakin gave up only four hits in going the distance. For the losers, Ed Malinowski was tagged for 12 hits while striking out six and walking one.

Homelites jumped off to a 7-0 first inning lead to win the game before it even got started. Bill Kooznetsoff opened with a double, Kay Savinkoff and S. Denisoff walked, and two runs scored on Phil Markoff's single. Kinakin was hit by a pitch, George Kooznetsoff doubled and Anthony Markoff singled to complete the scoring.

Homelites scored one in the fourth as Kinakin scored on an attempted pick off at third.

In the fifth, Markoff opened with a single, Kinakin doubled, Kooznetsoff sacrificed, M. Esovooloff singled, A. Markoff walked, J. Kalesnikoff advanced on an error for the remaining runs.

For Homelites, Bill Kooznetsoff was three for four and Markoff was three for three.

Homelites' next game is Tuesday in Nelson against the Mounties.

Giants, Pirates, Dodgers, One, Two, Three in NL Race

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Hart's grand-slam home run and Tom Haller's second homer of the game sparked a seven-run seventh inning for National League - leading San Francisco Giants Wednesday and sent them to an 11-1 victory over New York Mets.

Gaylord Perry picked up his 16th victory of the season against two losses, as the Giants maintained a one-game lead over Pittsburgh, which beat Los Angeles 3-1 Wednesday.

Lefthander Bob Veale, staked to a first-inning lead on Roberto Clemente's two-run homer, scattered seven hits, outdueling rookie Don Sutton as Pittsburgh Pirates defeated Los Angeles Dodgers 3-1.

Veale, making his first start in two weeks because of a back ailment, struck out 11 while posting his 12th victory against six defeats. He was in serious trouble only once — in the second inning when the Dodgers loaded the bases with one out — but ended the threat by getting Jeff Torborg to hit into a double play.

Bill White's grand-slam homer in the fifth inning powered the surging Philadelphia Phillies past Houston Astros 7-6 for their sixth straight victory.

The Phils trailed 4-2 in the fifth when John Briggs walked, Cookie Rojas singled and Rich Allen reached on an error, loading the bases. White then belted the first pitch from Carroll Sembera over the right field wall for his 19th homer of the season and seventh career grand slam.

Knuckle-baller Ken Johnson pitched a five-hitter and Felipe Alou scored both runs as Atlanta Braves defeated Chicago Cubs 2-0.

Johnson struck out 10 in scoring his ninth victory against seven losses. He allowed only one Cub runner to reach second base. It was Randy Hundley who doubled in the fifth inning.

The Braves picked up their first run in the opening inning on Alou's infield single, a walk, a passed ball and Hundley's throwing error.

John Romano's two-run homer triggered a five-run explosion in the eighth inning, carrying Chicago White Sox to a 6-3 victory over Detroit Tigers and a split of their doubleheader.

The White Sox ended Detroit's winning string at four games after the Tigers took the opener 3-1 on pinch hitter Jim Northrup's two-run homer in the ninth.

Earl Battey's two-run double climaxed a four-run fifth inning for Minnesota as the Twins beat Boston Red Sox 7-2.

With one out in the inning, Zoilo Versalles doubled and Jim Hall beat out a bunt. Versalles came in on an infield out by Tony Oliva and a single by Harmon Killebrew scored Hall. After Don Mincher singled, Battey doubled him in along with Killebrew.

Max Alvis hit a three-run triple and Fred Whitfield clouted a two-run homer to lead Cleveland Indians to a 9-6 victory over Baltimore Orioles despite five home runs by the Orioles.

Frank Robinson and Boog Powell both hit two homers for the Orioles.

Pinch hitter Dick Nen's two-run double in the sixth inning snapped a 2-2 deadlock, leading Washington Senators to a 4-3 victory over Kansas City Athletics.

The Senators scored the deciding runs in the sixth against 21-year-old John (Blue Moon) Odom, who was making only his second start of the season.

Mel Stottlemyre pitched a two-hitter, clouted a homer and drove in two runs Wednesday night as New York Yankees broke a five-game losing streak with a 9-0 victory over California Angels.

Pete Rose drove in the lead run with a sacrifice fly in the 16th inning and Dick Simpson followed with a run scoring single as Cincinati Reds beat St. Louis Cardinals 3-1 Wednesday night for their ninth victory in 10 games.

TEE TIME

Veriane Olsen captured the A class honors at the Nelson Ladies' Golf Club ladies' night competition held Tuesday with 18 golfers participating.

B class honors went to Isabelle Rand, while Marcelle Black and Helen Olson shared the C division top spot.

The Tuesday night golfing served as a warmup to this weekend, when the Nelson Golf and Country Club hosts the Esmeralda Golf Club of Spokane in a return competition. The ladies compete Saturday, while the men tee off Sunday. The inter-club tournament for the ladies begins at 1:00 p.m. Saturday.

Experience Pays Off At Dominion Shoot

SOUTH MARCH, Ont. (CP)—Experience paid off at the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association championships Wednesday as top honors in the three major matches of the day went to veteran competitors at the annual championships.

The matches were fired in sunny weather with strong winds whipping across the Connaught range near this community west of Ottawa.

Two former members of Canada's team at the Commonwealth shooting championships at Bisley, England, were among six marksmen who tied in the Macdonald Tobacco match, fired from 300 and 600 yards, and were to shoot it out later for top spot.

They were Ed George of Winnipeg and Johnnie Thompson of Stellarton, N.S. Both have competed in the DCRA matches for years.

GROUPED AT TOP

Grouped with them at the top of the heap with scores of 120 out of 125 were Bill Hornsby of Downsview, Ont., Fred Kirkman of Toronto and Joan MacKay of Lancaster, N.B., all veteran competitors here.

Jack Roberts of Victoria, another veteran Bisley competitor, won the tough Gatineau match with a score of 34, one short of perfect. Scores in the event, fired from 1,000 yards, were unusually low because of the wind, and Roberts was the only shooter in the field of about 550 who had over 32.

The Gatineau originally was scheduled for Tuesday but was postponed—the first event to be postponed here in years—because of a driving rain that created a haze over the targets and made sighting nearly impossible.

British Empire Games Starting in Jamaica

By JACK SULLIVAN

KINGSTON, Jamaica (CP) — Australians, who introduced a martial note into the British Empire Games four years ago, now want the military to give the Games back to the athletes.

Bill Young, Australian general manager, said Wednesday athletes were left standing around "like clowns" while the military paraded for more than an hour during rehearsal for the opening ceremony.

The ceremony begins today with a guard of honor mounted by the 1st Battalion of the Jamaica Regiment marching into the arena. The guard later salutes the arrival of the Duke of Edinburgh, who will inspect the guard.

Half an hour after start of the ceremony, this guard marches from the premises, to return an hour later for the end of the pomp.

In the meantime, a flag party from the 3rd Battalion Jamaica Regiment will troop the ceremonial color of the Games, marching from north to south in slow time.

MILITARY TAKEN OVER

After the rehearsal, Young said: "Australia introduced the military into the Games at Perth in 1962 and the Jamaicans are following on. The military have taken over from the original concept—a parade of athletes."

The sport "should revert to an opening ceremony for sport."

Meanwhile, in the Canadian camp, there was quiet confidence as the athletes prepared for Friday's lead-off events.

During the first day, Canada will have fencers, track and field men, badminton players, marksmen, swimmers, weightlifters, boxers and cyclists in action in a program which begins at 9 a.m. EDT and is expected to wind up about midnight.

Events in which champions will be decided Friday—with the Canadian entrants—include:

Fencing: Men's individual foil—John Andru and Gerald Wiedel, both Toronto, and Herbert Obst, Montreal.

Weightlifting: Bantamweight —Chan Chun Hon, Montreal; Marcel Gosselin, Quebec City. Featherweight — Allen Salter, Ottawa.

Swimming: Women's 440-yard freestyle relay — Jane Hughes, Vancouver; Louise Kennedy, London, Ont.; Marion Lay and Elaine Tanner, both Vancouver. Men's 880-yard freestyle relay—Sandy Gilchrist and Ralph Hutton, both Ocean Falls, B.C.; Ron Jacks, Vancouver, and Bob Kasting, Lethbridge, Alta.

VANCOUVER (CP) — Two seeded Canadian players were eliminated Wednesday from the Canadian lawn tennis championships here.

FIS Events Rescheduled

PORTILLO, Chile (AP) — A blizzard has forced a rescheduling of events in the world alpine skiing championships which open Saturday.

About a foot of snow fell on the courses Tuesday, postponed training and forced the coaches to shift the dates of the ladies' slalom and downhill.

The women's downhill was scheduled as the first event, but the coaches decided to open with the slalom because the blizzard meant cancelling 1½ days of training for the downhill.

The women's slalom now will be Saturday, the men's downhill Sunday. The rest of the schedule depends on how the weather develops.

Leafs Edge Homelites

Nelson Maple Leafs rallied for three runs in the sixth inning and two in the seventh to overcome a 3-0 deficiency and defeat Homelites 5-4 in the only game played in the Nelson Fastball League Tuesday night.

With one out in the sixth, Don Ball started the Leafs on the road to victory with his hit. Consecutive safeties by Wayne Farenholtz, Peter Godfrey and Gary Kilpatrick resulted in the second and third runs.

Bob Plager led off the seventh with a base hit and scored as Syl Benedetti singled. Ball drove in the winning run with his base hit that scored Benedetti.

Homelites had taken a 2-0 lead in the first inning as P. Kooznetsoff hit safely and scored, as did S. Denisoff.

Homelites, league-leaders, increased their lead to 3-0 with a single run in the second and, following the Leafs' three-run sixth inning, regained the lead with one in the seventh, as Kooznetsoff blasted the only home run of the contest.

Ball went the route on the mound for the Leafs, giving up five hits and striking out four.

Granted Injunction

REGINA (CP)—A temporary injunction was granted Wednesday restraining Commissioner Frank Boucher and five Saskatchewan Junior Hockey League officials from acting on plans to disband the league.

Mr. Justice F. W. Johnson granted the injunction, effective to Aug. 23, to Melville Millionaires, who filed an application for the injunction July 28. Decision was reserved at a hearing Tuesday.

What's everybody in B.C. saying about this popular whisky?

Cheers. And you'll cheer too once you've tried Walker's Special Old. You'll like the mellow smoothness and the look of luxury. No wonder it's one of Canada's favourites.

Your Individual Horoscope

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars,

For Friday, August 5, 1966

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) — You must recognize your limitations, of course, but aim to increase your boundaries judiciously, through earnest, intelligent study and observation, and you will progress the sure, lasting way: Start now!

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus) According to your properly set up program, are you up to, or behind, schedule? Side-stepping important details? Answer yourself these and other questions thoroughly; make adjustments.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini) Ask yourself, like Taurus, if your program is properly drawn up. Are you following through in a valid, effectual manner? Protect your due rights and privileges through responsible action. Stress accuracy.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer) Some spectacular situations are indicated, but certain "dull" matters will require attention nonetheless. Stress clear-cut thinking, judicious penetration, level-headedness.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo) What you ordinarily do may not be the thing today. A favorite activity or pastime may have to be by-passed. Meet eventualities with perception and poise.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo)—This could be a livelier day than anticipated, but Virgoans can meet all situations with grace and agility. If day does not please in part, it's for you to work on, remedy: Improve conditions.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra)—Take a dignified approach to all problems now. In personal relationships there may be some differences to recognize, cope with.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 22 (Scorpio)—Note the questions others ask, where they place their trust. This is not so that you may follow, but to be guided in using your own powers of evaluation.

NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius)—A tip-top period for achieving happiness through personal relationships—especially with family and close friends. Make this day stand out.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn)—Some expansion approved; retrenching needed in other areas. Be equal to your obligations. You have an innate sense of propriety; make it work potently.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius)—Especially favored now: Students, teachers, technicians. Make the most of your skills and adaptability. Even if gains seem slow in coming, take all in stride.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Psices) — Be discriminating in what you say and how you act now. Efforts will be judged first on content and intent, then on quantity. The middle road means "safe", not just expedient.

YOU BORN TODAY are a vivacious companion and worker, though tend, at times, to sit back and enjoy comforts you like, forgetting that time and opportunities can pass you by. Once you marshall your many talents and emphasize your most endearing traits, you can reach a high position and retain your friends along the way. But the Leoite often battles his friends even when he least expects to. Curb that impulsiveness! One thing sure: You staunchly defend both principles and persons against many odds. You are idealistic, expressive; would make an excellent writer or worker in humanitarian causes. Birthdate of: Guy de Maupassant, French writer; Alex Kinglake, English historian; Robert Taylor, cinema actor.

It's a tubon—Marc S. Dronge demonstrates a new instrument at the 65th annual Music Show in Chicago. Made in Sweden and called a tubon, the instrument basically is an upright organ.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X B

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

TORONTO (CP)—The industrial index slumped to its lowest since June 29, 1964 as prices continued to sour in a wide range of issues on the Toronto Stock Exchange Wednesday.

The index, a measure of key stock movements, dropped .49 to 156.31. It tumbled 1.31 Tuesday on news that several large Canadian corporations had reported lower earnings.

The slump continued despite a rally on the New York Exchange Wednesday.

Inco, which slid 3¼ Tuesday, lost ¾ to a low of 92. The company recently reported lower net earnings for the first six months of 1966 against the same period last year.

Among other issues that dropped to lows were Alcan and Dominion Textile each off 1 to 32½ and 27. Alberta Gas Trunk touched a low of 28⅞ before it closed down ½ at 29.

NEW YORK (AP)—A price increase by Inland Steel was given Wednesday as the cause of a sharp rally in the stock market. Trading was moderate.

After the close, Armco Steel also announced price increases, and during the day there was speculation on what attitude Washington would have on the increases.

Volume rose to 6,220,000 shares from 57,710,000 Tuesday.

The Dow Jones industrial average advanced 9.13 to 841.70.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 2.9 to 304.7, with industrials up 5.7, rails up 1.1 and utilities up .3.
