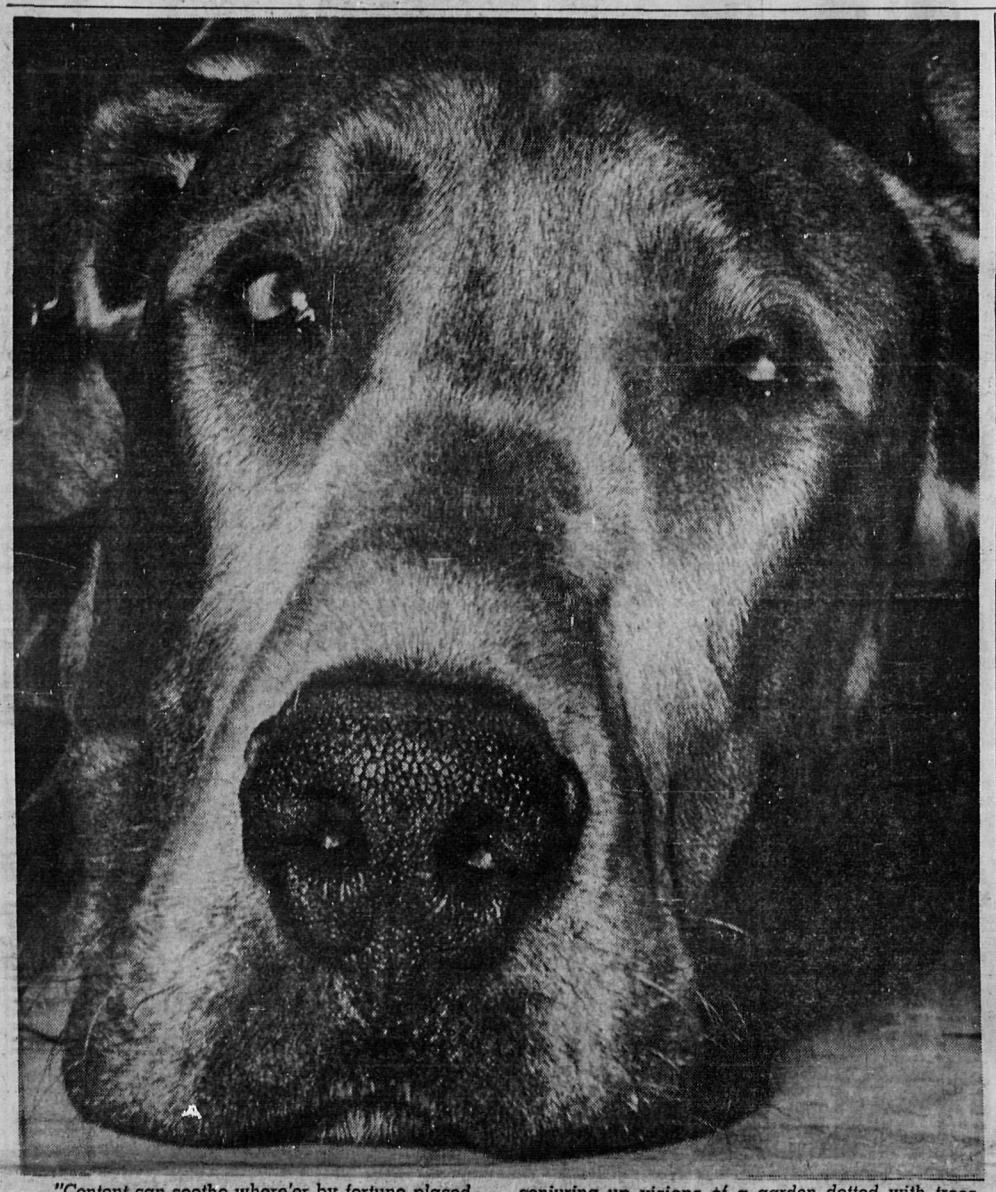
Gov't Will Repair Embassy Damage



"Content can soothe where'er by fortune placed, can rear a garden in the desert place," wrote 18th century English scribe Henry White. Could it be that wishful-looking Brutus, the Great Dane puppy belonging to Daily News reporter Peter Rickwood, is conjuring up visions of a garden dotted with trees, flowers, trees, shrubs . . . and trees? None but he will know. Not even photographer Brian Clarkson could read the thoughts behind those doleful eyes as he caught Brutus in one of his more restful moods.

Ottawa Police Blamed

By DENNIS ORCHARD

OTTAWA (CP) — The federal government took formal responsibility Wednesday for damage to the Russian Embassy by demonstrators, but at the same time put blame on the City of Ottawa and its police force.

External Affairs Minister Martin said in the Commons police took inadequate measures to deal with a noisy, rock-throwing crowd of 350 that protested a celebration of the 50th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution.

Outside the House, he suggested a change in city bylaws to protect embassy properties.

An embassy official said there would be no further protest here beyond the verbal exchange between Mr. Martin and Ambassador Ivan F. Shpedko at the reception.

But the official said a note may come from Moscow, based on a report sent by the embassy after the demonstration.

SAID INTIMIDATED

The report said guests had been intimidated and damage caused.

The government dispatched a crew Wednesday to replace four broken windows and sand blast paint from the stone steps of the Embassy.

Four of the five demonstrators arrested and charged with creating a disturbance did not show up in court Wednesday.

Peter Freibergs, 21, of Ottawa appeared and pleaded not guilty. Bench warrants were issued for the arrest of Martha Duma, 37, and Roman Bezchlibnyk, 20, both of Toronto; Stefan Wankevych 47, of Oshawa, and George Horich of London.

All five had been released Tuesday night on $30 bail.

The demonstration was openly organized by a professional protest group. Yaroslav Stetsko, a Ukrainian who is president of the Anti-Bolshevik Bloc of Nations, flew from Munch to set up the picketing by nationalist organizations.

U.S. Negro Victories Break In Color Bar?

Cheer Also For Democrats, Republicans in Elections

NEW YORK (AP) — The broad victories, some of them historic, won by Negroes in Tuesday's elections in the U.S. brought smiles to the faces of moderate and militant Negro leaders Wednesday, along with cautious predictions that a trend to disregard color may have begun.

Few were as enthusiastic as A. W. Willis, defeated in a preliminary summer election as a candidate for mayor of Memphis, Tenn.

"We're going to see the election of more and more Negroes. . . . Acceptance by the white community of responsible Negro officeholders will become more and more a normal happening."

But there were statements that the "white backlash" is not as strong as feared, that whites have shown their willingness to vote on the basis of qualifications instead of race, and that extremists on both sides were repudiated.

The election of Negro mayors in Cleveland, Ohio, and Gary, Ind., signifies a stunning defeat for black militants who argue that gains can't be won by the ballot, said Senator Edward W. Brooke (Rep. Mass.), who last year became the first Negro elected to the U.S. Senate.

RULES NOW APLY

". . . It shows the American Negro he can achieve through lawful means. The rules are beginning to apply to him as well as others."

Whitney M. Young Jr., director of the National Urban League, said Democrat Carl B. Stokes' successful battle in Cleveland, and the narrow election of Democrat Richard G. Hatcher in Gary, are "living proof of what political organization and wise use of the ballot can do to benefit any group."

Those victories plus the defeat in Boston of Louise Day Hicks, an opponent of "busing" of students to provide racial balance in public schools, show, Young said, "that while the backlash is there, it is not as powerful as the demagogues would have us believe."

In addition to those and other Northern victories, Negroes were elected for the first time to the state legislatures of Virginia and possibily Mississippi.

Six Negroes captured county supervisor, constable and justice-of-the-peace posts in Mississippi, bringing to 24 the number of Negro officerholders in that state, while James M. Bradby defeated a white incumbent who had held the post of sheriff in Charles City County, Va., for 43 years.

Iona W. Adkins, a Negro housewife, comfortably won the Charles County Clerk position, while a Negro was elected to the Boston City Council and two other Negroes were elected to school committees in other Massachusetts towns, all for the first time.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans firmed up their base for the 1968 U.S. presidential contest by capturing the Kentucky governorship in Tuesday's state and local elections. But Democrats were cheered by retaining their holds on the big cities of Philadelphia and Cleveland.

Democrat Carl B. Stokes, a Negro, demonstrated by his election as mayor of Cleveland that it is possible for one of his race to take the top office in a major U.S. city even where Negroes are a minority.

He is the first Negro to accomplish that.

That 40-year-old lawyer could be one of the big guns of 1968 Democratic party campaigning, particularly in areas with a large Negro vote.

Mayor James H. Tate's reelection in Philadelphia is another important one for the Democrats. The patronage and power that go with the mayor's office can be decisive in a close statewide election.

ANTI-VIETNAM MAN WINS

Louie B. Nunn, successful Republican candidate for governor of Kentucky, had made Vietnam an issue in his campaign.

"Tired of the War?" one of his slogans asked. "Vote Nunn."

In other city contests which attracted particular national attention, Richard G. Matcher, Negro Democrat, was elected mayor of Gary, Ind., and Kevin White won in Boston over Mrs. Louise Day Hicks, foe of "busing" Negro children to white schools.

In Gary, where the outcome teetered uncertainly through much of the night, Hatcher was certified Wednesday by the Lake County Election Board as the winner by 1,389 votes in the city of 180,000 population.

But Republican Joseph Radigan, a white businessman, kept open the possibility of a court challenge.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Officials of the United Appeal campaign said Wednesday the appeal is still short of its $3,385,000 target. Campaign chairman C. A. Specht appealed to citizens to help raise the remaining $20,000 to reach the goal.

Blackout Hits Montreal

MONTREAL (CP) — Electric clocks stopped in thousands of homes, elevators stopped running in office buildings, lights went out and police declared a temporary state of emergency Wednesday when a power blackout swepta vast area of Montreal island and suburbs.

The blackout lasted for nearly two hours, but it did not affect the heart of downtown Montreal's financial and commercial district.

The cause of the power failure was traced to a disruption in a high tension transmission line of 735,000 volts which connected Montreal with the giant Manicouagan power site 200 miles northeast of Quebec City.

UAW Gains Parity For Canadian Workers

DETROIT (CP-AP) — The United Auto Workers gained wage parity for Canadian workers in a tentative agreement on a new three-year contract with Chrysler Corp. reached Wednesday night. The new contract would cover 95,000 hourly-rated workers.

The company said Canadian workers, now about 40 cents an hour behind their U.S. counterparts, would draw even with the U.S. workers over the three-year life of the pact.

There are 12,000 Chrysler workers in Canada.

The agreement with Chrysler came only hours before a midnight strike deadline, but too late to avert widespread local walkouts that crippled the company's production.

The UAW announced the agreement after a 34-hour bargaining session in telegrams to local presidents.

BARGAINERS 'EXHAUSTED'

It said talks were being broken off without agreement on a contract covering 8,000 salaried workers because bargainers were "too exhausted to go on."

A new deadline was set for local at-the-plant agreements, but the union did not immediately disclose when it would be.

The tentative contract was almost identical to the record industry pact won at Ford Motor Co. through a 46 day strike that ended two weeks ago. Wage parity for Canadian workers was not won at Ford, however.

The Ford pact gave about 160,000 auto workers at that company wage-and-benefit increases over three years of roughly $1 an hour over the current scale of $4.70.

That pact was valued at six per cent. With wage parity the Chrysler pact likely will be somewhat higher but neither side placed an estimate on it.

Philip To Honor Veterans

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Prince Philip will join thousands of Canadians in honoring those who lost their lives at war when he places a wreath Saturday at the cenotaph in front of Toronto's old city hall.

The prince, on a four-day visit to Canada, will take the royal salute during a 35-minute Remembrance Day observance to be attended by Lt-Gov. Earl Rowe of Ontario, federal and provincial government representatives, veterans and members of the armed forces.

The ceremony is one of hundreds being held in villages, towns and cities across Canada.

In Ottawa, 500 military personnel and veterans will participate in ceremonies at the National War Memorial and a non-denominational church service. Governor-General Michener will take the salute during the march-past on Parliament Hill.

Saturday is a normal day off for many Canadians but some, including most federal civil servants, will observe Monday, Nov. 13, as a holiday.

Coast Mill Work Halted

POWELL RIVER, B.C. (CP)—Electrical work has stopped at a $105,000,000 expansion project at the MacMillan Bloedel mill at this British Columbia coastal community in a dispute that has resulted in the firing of about 60 electricians.

About 90 members of Local 213 of the Brotherhood of Electrical Workers staged a work stoppage Monday to protest the firing of one man.

The men did not report for work again Tuesday but about 30 returned to their jobs Wednesday following a letter from the contractors, Flanders Installations of Vancouver.

The letter advised the men they would be considered to have voluntarily terminated their employment if they continued the work stoppage.

45 Trailers, 8 Businesses Burn

RAINBOW LAKE, Alta. (CP) —Energies in this oil boom town were turned Wednesday toward finding substitute accommodation for 200 men and eight businesses whose premises were destroyed in less than an hour by a raging fire Tuesday.

No one was seriously injured in the blaze which swept through 45 trailers containing sleeping accommodation, laundries, work shop, offices and three poolrooms, including a post office in which $18,000 was lost.

Another portion of the camp, housing about 500 men, was not affected. Most of that portion is across a road from the half-acre of charred wreckage.

There was speculation the fire may have been caused either through leaks from oil heaters or electrical short circuits. RCMP were investigating.

The town sprang up after discovery of oil in February, 1965, by Banff Oil Ltd.

BUILDING STARTED

The trailer accommodation is destined to be phased out as permanent residences and business facilities are built. Fifty-four homes and a shopping centre now are under construction and a school is being planned.

The trailers are connected by a series of corridors and plywood walkways, and under some ran heater oil lines. Oil leaks last year had saturated the ground in a few locations.

Most of the 200 men lost all their possessions. Arrangements were being made to house them elsewhere in the camp. About 80 men were flown to Edmonton after the fire. They were expected back at the site in about a week.

A spokesman for Banff Oil, which operates the camp through Canus Camp Services, said in Calgary the burned trailers were worth about $125,000. The 10 by 50-foot trailers are metal-covered over wood frames.

Within minutes of the first fire report men at the camp were using hand pumps and any available fire extinguishing equipment to fight the blaze.

The newly-formed town did not have a fire engine.

Canadians Win Eight Crop Titles

TORONTO (CP) — Canadians took eight of nine world titles awarded Wednesday in the field crops section of the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair. The other championship went to the United States.

The fair, which bills itself as the show window of Canadian agriculture, opens to the public Friday, but the judges have spent the last few days studying entries from Canada, the United States, Scotland, Ireland and England.

Only world title still not decided is in ear corn—won by a U.S. exhibitor for 11 years, A winner will be announced today.

Four of the titles Wednesday went to Alberta, three to Ontario and one to British Cloumbia.

Larry C. Hixt of Beiseker, Alta., was crowned world wheat champion for the third consecutive year with his variety of hard red spring wheat.

WINS AGAIN

Wallace H. Hummel of Milk River, Alta., took his second world championship in a row in the barley section with his exhibit of two-rowed variety.

The two Westerners were the only repeat winners although two other champions had won in earlier years.

Saturn V Ready

By JIM STROTHMAN

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — U.S. space officials have declared the first Saturn V superrocket "ready to go" on its historic first flight this morning, despite minor hardware problems and a warning that winds may be too gusty.

The 363-foot-tall monster booster, first flight version of the rocket which is to hurl three astronauts to the moon in 1969, is scheduled for a 7 a.m. EST liftoff.

"This mission is ready to go," said Maj.-Gen. Samuel C. Phillips, director of National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Apollo program office.

A disquieting prediction from the weatherman that winds may be gusty at launch time was causing concern, however, Phillips said.

The 6,000,000-pound rocket is to thunder away from Cape Kennedy to propel an unmanned Apollo moonship into orbit 11,400 miles over the earth.

After reaching its 11,400-mile peak altitude, a spacecraft motor is to send the moonship in a fiery plunge through earth's atmosphere-generating speeds of 25,000 miles an hour and heat of 4,500 degrees to test the Apollo heat shield at re-entry conditions astronauts must encounter returning from the moon.

Child's Death Leaves Trail of Fear in Wake

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Fear penetrated the quiet residential district of Fleetwood Wednesday as police pressed their search for the slayer of seven-year-old Nancy Johnsen.

Worried parents in the New Westminster suburb said they plan to keep their children home after dark. Many accompanied their younger ones to school Wednesday morning.

Police issued a plea for assistance in tracking down the killer following fruitless initial investigations. RCMP Inspector W. R. Morrison said the investigation was hampered by the fact that the slayer's tracks were inadvertently blotted out by hundreds of volunteer searchers.

Civilian searchers found the child's body lying face down at the edge of a creek about 400 yards from her home early Tuesday morning. The girl disappeared Monday night.

In a news release Wednesday, police said they at first believed Nancy had been raped. Some articles of her clothing had been removed and others disarranged. She was believed to have been strangled.

Inspector Morrison said results of an autopsy will not be released until an inquest is held but rape is no longer suspected.

Inspector Morrison heading a 14-man team investigating the murder, said no date has been set for an inquest.

"We haven't come up with anything so far," he said. "We have absolutely no leads at the moment."

Postman Reinstated

OTTAWA (CP) — The post office department has decided to reinstate Robert Embury, St. Catharines, Ont., postman whose suspension Monday sparked a walkout by about 500 postal employees in Southern Ontario.

A department spokesman said the reinstatement was ordered after "new evidence" was received during a grievance hearing.

He said Mr. Embury was to return to work today.

Mail delivery will resume today in Hamilton and Niagara Peninsula areas.

Peterson Raps Resigned Book Committee Group

VICTORIA (CP) — Education Minister Leslie Peterson Wednesday accused seven members of the secondary school English revision committee of resigning because of misunderstandings and misquotations.

In a letter to the committee, Mr. Peterson said the members failed in their responsibilities to warn him that the four-letter word for sexual intercourse was in a textbook he had recommended for use in B.C. high schools.

All seven members of the committee resigned Tuesday in protest against Mr. Peterson's move to censor the book without consulting them.

Mr. Peterson said he will accept their resignations and will not ask the members to reconsider their decisions to quit.

The controversy arose when the four-letter word was found in U.S. author Philip Roth's short story Defender of the Faith, which appears in the textbook Story and Structure. The book was introduced into the school system this year as a supplementary reader.

EMERGENCY MEET

The controversy led Mr. Peterson to call for an emergency meeting of the committee to review the book.

Members claimed that before the committee could meet, Mr. Peterson made public his decision that the word should be purged from the book.

In the letter of resignation, presented at a news conference, the committee said: "No responsible committee can function as a rubber stamp."

The resigning members of the committee include Dr. Philip G. Penner, associate professor of education at the University of B.C.; Frank E. Bertram, assistant professor of education at UBC; David Macaree, UBC English professor, Morley Gillander of North Vancouver's Carson Graham secondary school, and Phyllis Dover of Delbrook High School in North Vancouver.

Two members of the committee who also resigned but were not at the news conference were Mabel Conibear of Esquimalt Secondary School and Mrs. Anna Cail of Vernon Senior Secondary School.

The letter of resignation said the authority of the committee authority does not come from the department of education but from the experience, scholarship and knowledge of its members.

JUDGMENT IGNORED

"The decisions of the committee can rightfully be questioned by anyone affected by them," the letter said. "But in this instance our professional judgment has not been questioned, it has been ignored."

The letter said that to condemn the story on grounds that printed obscenity tends to stir sex impulses and lead to sexually impure and lustful thoughts is "patently absurd."

Joining the committee in protesting Mr. Peterson's actions was the B.C. Teacher's Federation.

Federation secretary Charles Ovans said that after the book was drawn to the attention of the public, there was no attempt within the department to defend the book as a worthy collection of English short stories.

Montreal Crime Wave Hits Banks

MONTREAL (CP)—City police worked Wednesday on plans to contain a rising wave of holdups as three more violent robberies were carried out in the area.

So far this year there have been holdups at 76 branches of chartered banks and six credit union branches with a total haul of about $650,000. This compared with $320,000 taken in 40 similar holdups in 1966.

Wednesday's crimes included a $700 robbery of a Bank of Montreal branch by four hooded and armed men; a $25,000 robbery of a bus company and the theft of 100 engines for motorized sleds.

The $25,000 was taken when four men removed two safes from the office of Chambly Transport Bus Co. in south shore suburban Greenfield Park. They handcuffed and blindfolded five employees.

The two safes were found abandoned later, one smashed open and the other cut open with an acetylene torch.

OVERPOWERED GUARD

The motorized sled engines were taken by three men swinging steel bars, who overpowered a watchman in a waterfront shed, tied him up and leaned a metal desk on him. A truck was backed up to take away the engines.

Police say they are working on "preventive operations and security measures" in a bid to curb the robbery and holdup wave.

Car Crash Snuffs Life Of Young Grand Forks Girl

GRAND FORKS — A 14-year-old Grand Forks girl died when the car in which she was a passenger crashed near here late Tuesday.

Sheila Wells was thrown from a vehicle being driven by Robert Meyers, 20, when it went out of control while rounding a curve, rolled over three times and ended right way up in a ditch.

The injured girl was rushed to Boundary Hospital by a passing motorist, but was pronounced dead on arrival. It is believed she had a fractured skull.

Meyers sustained minor injuries. The car, which was being driven in a westerly direction, was a total wreck, RCMP said.

The dead girl, who lived with her grandparents in Grand Forks, was a Grade 9 student at the local school.

Police are continuing their investigations into the accident which occurred at 10:30 p.m. three miles east of the city. An RCMP spokesman said Wednesday a charge may be pending as a result of the accident.

An inquest has been ordered by Coroner Dr. E. Tomashewsky. The date has still to be fixed.

Half-Mile of Columbia Rerouted

REVELSTOKE — The Columbia River at Mica Dam site, 85 miles north of here, has been rerouted for more than half a mile, the British Columbia Hydro and Power Authority announced Wednesday.

The diversion, through two concrete-lined tunnels 45 feet in diameter and 3200 feet long, was made following construction of four dikes across the river that will later form the basis for upstream and downstream cofferdams.

Fill material will render the cofferdams watertight, enabling engineers to drain the pool between the two structures and permit excavation for the main dam.

The cofferdams will be completed before the spring runoff next May.

About 2,800,000 cubic yards of material will be excavated to a depth of 155 feet to bedrock before construction of the main dam begins. Mica will be more than 800 feet high from bedrock to crest when completed in 1973.

Contract to build the dam was awarded to a consortium headed by Guy F. Atkinson, Ltd., and known as Mica Dam Contractors Ltd. in September for $136,000,000.

Mass Held For Mrs. Cecchini

Requiem mass for Mrs. Marina Cecchini, widow of John Cecchini, who died in Nelson, November 3, aged 81 years, was celebrated at the Cathedral of Mary Immaculate, Tuesday morning.

Rt. Rev. J. F. Monaghan, V.F. was the celebrant and interment took place in the family plot in the Roman Catholic Section of Nelson Memorial Park. Rosary was recited at the Thompson Funeral Home, Monday night.

Pallbearers were R. L. Jarrett, E. Bortolussi, S. Patterson, F. M. Leverington, A. Graffi and J. A. Boletti.

$200 Fine For Impaired Driver

NEW DENVER — Appearing in court on an impaired driving charge before Magistrate J. L. Wilson, George Rouffel of Kaslo was fined $200.

For being intoxicated in a public place Francois Rheault of Kaslo was fined $35.

At a previous court sitting before Magistrate Parker Williams, Patrick Edward Poznikoff of Slocan Park was fined $75 for speeding. He had pleaded not guilty.

Found Guilty Of Manslaughter

Sixty - six - year - old Johannes (John) Edvin Nyman of Kimberley was sentenced to six years' imprisonment when a jury found him guilty of manslaughter Wednesday at the Fall Assize Court in Nelson.

The charge against Nyman was one of non-capital murder of his close neighbor and friend Howard Raynor, 65, a retired Sullivan Mine shift boss at his Kimberley home April 2 this year.

On the first day of the trial Monday, defence counsel F. W. Barry, a Kimberley lawyer, submitted a statement to the effect that defence admitted Raynor's death was due solely to one gunshot wound discharged from a rifle while in the hands of the accused.

13 WITNESSES

During the two-and-a-half-day hearing 13 witnesses took the stand, seven for the prosecution and six for the defence, including Nyman.

Evidence given revealed that Nyman had been drinking heavily on the two days prior to the shooting and immediately before the events of the morning of Sunday, April 2.

Howard Raynor was shot dead on the front porch of his house. Police were called in and had to use tear gas to drive Nyman out of his nearby residence after exchanging shots with him. Nyman received leg and hand injuries and as a result his left hand was later amputated.

Tuesday, the defendant's claim to be suffering from loss of memory as far as the events of the morning of April 2 were concerned was given weight by four specialists in the field of psychiatry.

In their opinions Nyman was suffering from "genuine amnesia for the period of his life which was referred to in court."

Addressing the jury of 11 men and one woman, Mr. Justice Thomas A. Dohm said what they had to decide in their deliberations was whether he was drunk to such an extent that he did not know what he was doing.

The jury retired for one hour and 15 minutes after the lunch recess Wednesday, before returning their unanimous verdict of "Guilty of manslaughter."

ADMITS CONVICTION

Nyman admitted through his counsel a conviction in September 1966 for assault causing bodily harm ,for which he received a suspended sentence for one year and was bound over to keep the peace for one year in the sum of $1000.

Defence also admitted that the assault charge arose out of an incident involving the discharge of a shotgun.

Passing sentence, Mr. Justice Dohm said to Nyman, who sat rigidly in the dock, "In view of the previous conviction, you will be sentenced to six years' imprisonment."

Senior counsel for the Crown was G. B. Arnesen, assisted by M. Barlow.

Nelson Chamber Throws Support to North Link

Nelson Chamber of Commerce has passed a motion to give moral support to a program aimed at eliminating the two major bottlenecks still existing on the highway route from Nelson to Revelstoke.

The joint Chambers of the Nakusp and the Slocan district are sponsoring the program completion of which, they say, will provide the key link for tourist access to the Kootenays from the Trans - Canada Highway.

Completion date for 1969 is hoped for to coincide with the completion of other highway contracts in the area.

At a meeting of the Nelson Chamber of Commerce Monday, the plans and objectives for pressing for the work to be done was explained by Henry Alten of Nakusp, Frank Pho and Colin Sutherland of New Denver.

The two major bottlenecks to which priority must be given they said were: the Cape Horn Bluffs north of Slocan, and the road from Nakusp to Galena Bay.

SIX POINTS

Their reasons for priority classification were:— 1. This route will tap the major Canadian highway traffic artery—the Trans-Canada Highway. 2. Tourist potential for the whole Kootenay area is greater than from any other single source. 3. This north highway link can be constructed with the least expenditure of public funds; 4. Highways department has already given priority to this route; 5. Work has started on the project, most surveys are completed, and a substantial part of this highway link is already constructed or under contract. 6. Economic boost to the area from tourism will help to soften the sharp loss of economy when dam and clearing contracts are completed in 1969.

The three representatives of the Chambers behind the program also produced facts and figures to stress the tourist potential of the area.

MODEST START

The Nakusp and Slocan district Chambers recommendations urge a modest start (possibly drilling) on the project this year. They suggest starting from the Slocan end, the first section to the foot of the hill, past the present tunnel (about 300 yards) to be completed by the end of the next construction year.

They recommend completion at least by the second construction year, of work on the tunnel at the top of Cape Horn Bluffs, and standardizing of the highway from Slocan to Summit Lake.

Drilling work this winter, they add, would cause less disruption in traffic than in the busy summer season. Cold weather would not be a major deterrent to this type of work.

The Nelson Chamber of Commerce passed a motion giving moral support to the joint Chambers of Nakusp and the Slocan district, and adding that they may give active support after some of their own commitments have been completed.

12 Freedomites Ask For Case Reviews

VANCOUVER (CP) — Twelve Sons of Freedom Doukhobors who are serving penitentiary terms for terrorism imposed five years ago have asked Justice Minister Trudeau to review their cases.

Their submission to the minister was revealed Wednesday in a letter that outlined events leading up to their convictions and the parts played in those events by leaders of the sect.

The men, currently serving terms between 10 and 15 years in Mountain Prison at Agassiz, B.C., said in their letter that conspirators took advantage of them through their desire to migrate to the birthplace of their parents and grandparents.

"This aspiration was kindled to such an extent we were ready to do anything as long as this came to pass," the letter said.

It also states the men were told by a leader, who they accuse as being a police agent, that the Canadian government would not evict them to Russia unless acts of terrorism were performed.

The letter is signed by John Ostrikoff, Bill Babakaeff, Fred Nevokshonoff, John Makortoff, Mike Chernenkoff, Sam Konkin, Andrew Makortoff, Peter Konkin, Nick Pepin, William G. Konkin, Pete Pepin and John Morozoff.

Originally, there were 100 members of the Sons of Freedom sect in the Agassiz Prison but many have been released on parole or transferred to other Canadian prisons.

Get On With Bargaining, IWA, Lumbermen Urged

The call to the International Woodworkers of America and lumber operators involved in the strike to return to the bargaining table is gathering additional support daily from various quarters.

Latest to join the chorus of demands for a move to end the strike is Central Kootenay Regional District Board.

At their recent meeting Board member Marshall of Electoral Area "K" complained that the IWA strike was seriously affecting 80 per cent of industry in the Nakusp area.

Following a thorough discussion of the entire issue a resolution was passed urging the employers and IWA to return to the bargaining table and resolve their problems as soon as possible because of the severe economic blow the strike had dealt to all areas affected.

The communities of Castlegar, Kinnaird and Grand Forks have already appealed to the strikers and employers to reach a settlement.

Chest Just $1500 From Target

Nelson Community Chest is now certain to "lift the lid" off its $40,000 target for this year's campaign!

Wednesday night total receipts had raced to a remarkable $38,500 — remarkable, that is, considering the previous high was $16,000 last year.

Chest treasurer George Brodie, with his finger continually on the pulse of the dollar-flow, said: "We hope by Friday night we will have topped the $40,000 mark."

The business and employees campaign which the Community Chest conducted this year for the first time proved an unquestionable success and is largely responsible for the record-smashing returns.

Almost 250 residential canvassers have been calling at homes in the area during the past two weeks and more than half of their returns have yet to be accounted for before a final figure can be ascertained.

But, there is not a shadow of doubt that the "thermometer" gauging campaign progress which is situated on the corner of the Medical Arts Building in Baker Street is going to . . . blow it's top!

MAN ROBBED

CHILLIWACK, B.C. (CP)—A trucking company employee reporting for work Wednesday was knocked unconscious and robbed of $100. Police said John Lang was attacked at Overland Freightways as he was about to turn on the building lights. He was not seriously injured.

George Kinakin Passes at 85

George Kinakin, longtime resident of the Kootenays died at Castlegar and District Hospital Nov. 7 at the age of 85 years.

Born in Russia in 1882, he came to Canada and Saskatchewan in 1898. In 1909 he moved to Brilliant, residing there continuously except for a short stay in a rest home.

A steam engineer, he followed his trade both on the Prairies and in the Kootenays.

A member of the Union Spiritual Communities of Christ he was predeceased by his wife in 1945 and one daughter, Florence, in 1955.

He is survived by three sons, Bill of Brilliant, John of Nelson, Max of Whitehorse, N.W.T., and a daughter, Mary (Mrs. John Quanstrom) of Quesnel.

New Free Design For Hot Pool

Radium Hot Pool To See Extensive Alterations

A contract for major reconstruction of the hot pool at Radium Hot Springs in Kootenay National Park, B.C., has been awarded to Inspiration Limited of Calgary, it was announced today by James A. Byrne, Member of Parliament for Kootenay East. Mr. Byrne made the announcement on behalf of the Hon. Arthur Laing, Minister of Indian Affairs and Northern Development.

The Inspiration Limited tender of $218,700 was accepted from five submitted. "The design of the pool by the National and Historic Parks Branch of Mr. Laing's department will greatly enhance the beauty of the area and the practical use of all facilities," said Mr. Byrne in making the announcement.

The pool will be changed from a rectangular shape to a modern, free-form design to complement the natural surroundings.

Reconstruction of the pool was required due to the age of existing facilities, which presented a continual and costly maintenance problem. The work will also make more effective use of all available hot mineral water through a better system of distribution to all areas of the pool, as well as greatly expanding the size of the use area to almost double that of the existing pool.

Work will begin immediately on the reconstruction program and will take approximately seven months to complete.

VANCOUVER (CP) — A masked bandit fled empty-handed after grocery store owner Mrs. Miyoko Yamashita ran away during an attempted holdup Saturday.

THIEF JAILED

PRINCE GEORGE (CP) — Colin MacDonald was sentenced to four months in jail after pleading guilty to a charge of breaking, entering and theft. MacDonald was found in a city store with three rifles and two coats.

NILA Ready To Sign at 13 Mills

PRINCE GEORGE (CP) — The Northern Interior Lumbermen's Association is willing to sign a contract at any time with employees at 13 member mills, an association spokesman said Wednesday.

NILA manager Bob Gallagher rejected a statement made Tuesday by an International Woodworkers of America official who said the association wanted to back out of an earlier agreement.

"The NILA has by letter and telephone on several occasions approached IWA Local 1-424 asking that an agreement based on the Munroe recommendations be signed on behalf of the employees who voted not to strike," said Mr. Gallagher.

On Monday the employers issued a statement giving the union until Nov. 15 to sign an agreement based on recommendations of a conciliation report. If the union failed to sign, said the statement, then a retroactive clause would be withdrawn.

Tuesday IWA officials accused the employers of "holding the gun to our heads" and "welshing on their word."

Mr. Gallagher said in reply that employees in 13 mills who voted against striking have asked the union to sign an agreement on their behalf, "but the union refuses to do so."

Remembrance Day Program Completed

NATAL — Under the direction of the Royal Canadian Legion, Michel-Natal Branch No. 81, plans have been completed for the observance of Remembrance Day, Nov. 11, in the district of Sparwood.

The parade will form at the Union Hall, weather permitting, at Natal at 10:15 a.m. and proceed to the cenotaph in front of the former Michel-Natal elementary school where services conducted by the local clergy and the laying of wreaths will take place starting at 11 o'clock.

The Natal-Michel Band is expected to lead the parade. Parade marshal will be J. D. Grocutt of Michel. It is expected that other groups, including Scouts, Brownies and veterans, will join the parade and march to the cenotaph.

All veterans and the general public are cordially invited to take part in the parade and attend the short service.

The Legion will also hold its annual smoker in the Michel Hotel basement at 2 p.m. Saturday with comrade J. D. Grocutt acting as master of ceremonies.

Friday, Nov. 10, the Legion will hold a social evening in the centennial room of the curling rink at Natal starting at 10 p.m.

The poppy campaign throughout the District of Sparwood is presently underway and will continue until Remembrance Day under the direction of the Ladies' Auxiliary to Branch No. 81.

A memorial mass will also be held in St. Michael's Catholic Church prior to the parade Nov. 11, with Rev. Leslie Trainor officiating, in tribute to all those who paid the supreme sacrifice.

PARIS (AP)—The French National Assembly rejected Tuesday two portions of the government's budget bill for 1968. Although the government was thrown into a minority by the votes, it did not fall because the question of confidence was not posed. Opponents argued that the funds asked by the government for welfare aid and police personnel were insufficient.

Jack McIntosh Takes Post With Kaiser

J. S. McINTOSH

Jack McIntosh, well known Western Canadian mining and mineral executive, has joined Kaiser Engineers Division of Henry J. Kaiser Company (Canada), Ltd., in Vancouver. He will be responsible for the development of engineering and construction projects within the mineral industries throughout British Columbia, Alberta and the Yukon Territory for Kaiser Canada.

Before joining Kaiser Canada, McIntosh was a division chief of a prominent engineering firm in Vancouver and was formerly the vice-president and managing director of operations and exploration of the old Sheep Creek Mines, Ltd.

Mr. McIntosh, a former Nelson resident, is a mining engineering graduate of the University of British Columbia and holds a diploma from the Banff School of Advanced Management. He is a member of the Association of Professional Engineers, British Columbia; the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy; and the American Institute of Mining Engineers.

The Kaiser organization began contracting activities in British Columbia in 1914. Most recently, Kaiser Canada was awarded a contract to construct the $40-million phosphorus manufacturing complex for ERCO at Long Harbour, Newfoundland. Among other recent engineering-construction assignments of Kaiser Canada for the mineral industries are the huge iron ore concentrators for Wabush Iron Company and Quebec Cartier in Eastern Canada.

Teacher Book Committee Quits in Body

VANCOUVER (CP)—A seven-member committee of the British Columbia Teachers Federation Tuesday resigned following a dispute with Education Minister Peterson over the controversial school textbook story Defender of the Faith.

The committee, comprised of seven teachers from Vancouver schools and the University of B.C., submitted its resignation to Mr. Peterson, saying it can not function as a rubber stamp committee.

Mr. Peterson earlier ordered a revision of the story that would delete a four-letter word used to describe sexual intercourse.

The teachers group, which services as an English revision committee, said the story is not filled with easy problems or beautiful human beings.

It said the purpose of the story is to demonstrate the difficult task of determining those values which make life not easy but worthwhile.

$100,000 Option Taken On Bracebridge Property

Pharaoh Mines Ltd. (NPL), a Vancouver based mining company, acquired the Bracebridge property near Kimberley from Meridian Resources Ltd., according to an announcement by C. L. Carlson, managing director.

The company has accepted a $100,000 option to purchase, pending shareholder approval at an extraordinary meeting.

Mr. Carlson outlined that previous work conducted by Cominco and Meridian Resources includes a drill core of 130 feet, 97 feet of which averaged 1.40 per cent copper. Assays of 2.35 per cent copper over 120 feet have also been reported.

Preliminary exploration and development of the company's copper property near Golden has been completed, with encouraging results, under the supervision of S. J. Hunter, P.Eng.

The Young Claim group is 18 miles west of the village of Spillimacheen.

Mr. Carlson reports that a geophysical program, general prospecting and trenching has been completed. Assays reported from the four mineralized zones on the property range from a minimum of 0.10 per cent copper, through 0.90 per cent copper over a 12-foot width, to a high of 9.90 per cent copper.

Bandit Gets $1700 Loot

VANCOUVER (CP)—A bandit held up a Bank of Nova Scotia branch in suburban Burnaby Wednesday, and escaped with $1,700.

The tall, curly-haired raider told teller Diane Pocklington to hand him the contents of her till. He kept one hand in his pocket, indicating he had a gun.

The teller complied, and the man ran out and fled in a car.

Shortly after, police found the car abandoned in Vancouver's East End.

Board Chairman Warns Against "Pablum" Courses

VICTORIA (CP)—Peter Bunn, chairman of the Greater Victoria School Board, Wednesday warned of the dangers of a "patsy" high school English curriculum committee approving "pablum" courses.

The statement followed the resignation of the seven-member committee that chose a controversial Grade 12 textbook. The committee announced its resignation in Vancouver Tuesday.

Mr. Bunn said he agreed entirely with the committee. He accused Education Minister Peterson of "gross interference."

The committee members said Mr. Peterson had ignored their professional opinion in arranging for the removal from Grade 12 school texts a four-letter word for sexual intercourse.

Mr. Bunn said he was concerned that any new committee would have an extremely difficult time resisting the influences of a "pablum" English curriculum.

Usual procedure for appointment of committee members is for the department of education to ask the Teachers' Federation for nominations for the committee.

One Victoria member of the federation said there is a possibility the federation might refuse to put forward any names as a matter of principle but this would be an extreme measure that could harm the future English curriculum.

He said the department does not have the manpower to take over the committee's work.

Unemployment High At Coast

VANCOUVER (CP)—A record number of immigrants, a seasonal move of prairie farmers to the coast and a lumber strike in the B.C. interior contributed to high unemployment figures in the province during October, a Canada Manpower official said Wednesday.

L. Stewart McGill, Manpower regional director, said B.C.'s unemployment rate of 5.1 per cent for the month was the highest in Canada for the first time in years.

The national rate was 4.7 per cent compared with 4.1 per cent in September and 3.7 per cent in October, 1966.

He said in the same month this year B.C. showed an increase in the number of employed persons, 741,000 compared with 727,000 a year ago. The number of jobless climbed from 28,000 to 40,000.

B.C. Resorts Name President

VICTORIA (CP) — Ernie Shauer of Vancouver and Cache Creek, B.C., Tuesday was elected president of the British Columbia Motels and Resorts Association, succeeding Sam Otto of Chilliwack.

Named vice-presidents in elections during the association's annual convention here were Larry Facey of Burnaby, motels division; Bill Ashworth, of Savery Island, resorts; and Walter Mueller, of Parksville, trailer courts division.

In business sessions Tuesday, the association defeated a resolution that would have favored setting up standards to professionalize the motel and resort industry; passed a motion asking the association to petition the provincial government to implement an across-the-board tax on mobile homes, rather than leave it to individual municipalities; and decided to ask Ottawa to continue efforts to revive west coast herring and salmon stocks.

L'Enfant Terrible

"L'Enfant Terrible of Canadian TV", we see, lived up to his aptly descriptive nickname Saturday while inflicting his prosy oratory on a few misguided souls attending an NDP party nominating convention at Cranbrook.

The party's national vice-president, Laurier LaPierre, waxed eloquently on the need for more control of private radio and TV.

Basis for his concern, it seems, were the remarks from Cranbrook radio's Lloyd Hoole criticizing Mr. LaPierre, former co-host with Patrick Watson of CBCs This Hour Has Seven Days.

Apparently LaPierre feels anyone who criticizes him should be controlled.

Why Mr. LaPierre should be so concerned, we completely fail to see. All that Mr. Hoople's remarks did were to describe Mr. LaPierre as the "enfant terrible" of Canadian TV, and say that he did on television "what little boys painting on bathroom walls do."

The "enfant terrible" claimed the remarks were "a vicious attack on the CBC, his friend Patrick Watson and himself" and were proof that the time had come to control private radio and TV.

Sitting where he does, square in the middle of the NDP ranks, "l'enfant terrible" is fully aware of the situation that exists.

He knows that the majority of private radio and TV media are definitely cool to his own political doctrines.

Perhaps he feels that similar controls are needed for the country's daily newspapers for they, too, are obviously, and certainly with solid foundation, cool to such dogma.

Controls as he suggests would remove for all time the effectiveness of any media of news, and would be a direct strike against the principle of free speech, the basis of our society.

Mr. LaPierre, apparently, feels that only through the means of censorship can he, and his party, obtain a captive audience to which they could enforce their views.

However, in spite of the rantings and ravings of such as "l'enfant terrible" we, somehow, seriously doubt that censorship such as he desires will be allowed in Canada.

Even should his party, and this certainly seems an extremely remote possibility, ever gain national power, we doubt that it could be so foolhardy as to attempt such an obvious blunder.

No, Mr. LaPierre, we believe you will just have to rest on your laurels (?) and be content with your newly acquired title of "L'Enfant Terrible."

Mr. Faribault's Plunge -- Not Far Enough In, or Out

Marcel Faribault's hesitations about entering politics have been so long and anguished as to make a Hamlet seem rash. Now, finally, the Montreal financier has taken the plunge: as an appointed member of Quebec's Upper House, the Legislative Council, he will serve as special adviser to Daniel Johnson's Cabinet on the economy and constitution.

The erratic performance of some members of Mr. Johnson's Cabinet in matters constitutional makes doubly welcome the presence at the Premier's side of a man who has shown, in spite of occasionaly authoritarian tendencies, judgment both positive and coherent. Moreover, the appointment of Mr. Feribault, a highly successful businessman, will likely reassure investors who have become increasingly uneasy about the future of Quebec's economy.

This much said, his appointment raises two disquieting questions.

On on hand, Mr. Faribault, as an appointed member of an Upper House almost no one defends as relevant to democracy, will not be available in the Legislative Assembly to answer directly to the people's representatives. On issues as vital as the economy and the constitution, for which Mr. Faribault may be a minister in all but name, such a defection drains parliamentary government of meaning. Another newcomer, Education Minister Jean-Guy Cardinal, intends to run for election to the Assembly; Mr. Faribault would earn respect by imitating him.

On the other hand, Mr. Faribault will retain not only his shares in private companies, but his jobs as president of the Trust General du Canada, executive in two other firms, and director of 16 companies. Since Mr. Faribault may be allowed to attend at least some Cabinet meetings and will no doubt insist on a strong voice in policy, one wonders whether the functions of government "adviser" and private financier do not in some way conflict.

A good example for Mr. Faribault was set by Senator Wallace McCutcheon when he left business to accept a post in Ottawa as Minister Without Portfolio. With his appointment to the Senate, a body resembling in mandate and method of recruitment Quebec's Legislative Council, Mr. McCutcheon resigned from his business positions. He retained, as he had every right to, his shares in Canadian companies.

A minister by any other name is just as subject to potential conflicts of interest. Mr. Faribault, whose own integrity no one doubts, would do well to follow Mr. McCutcheon's course. He would thereby avoid setting a precedent for men less scrupulous than himself, and he would also be able to give his undivided time and energy to serving Quebec and Canada.

"No, I DON'T think they are here for an audition!"

Canada Has Four Prime Ministers

Canadian Press Staff Writer

Quick, now, how many prime ministers has Canada got?

If you're one of the many Canadians who figure Lester Pearson is the only one, you're wrong.

There are four, and the latest convert to this select group is W. A. C. Bennett, who heads British Columbia's Social Credit government.

The others? Daniel Johnson of Quebec, John Roberts of Ontario and, of course, Mr. Pearson.

The chiefs of government in the other provinces? They're premiers.

What's more, a Cross-Canada Survey by The Canadian Press shows, they don't seem inclined to stop being premiers and become prime ministers.

The top men in Quebec and Ontario politics have been prime ministers for a long time. In Quebec it's largely a matter of language. The French term is premier ministre which can be translated as first minister or prime minister.

In Ontario it's a matter of traditional practice. On formal occasions, says a protocol expert, Mr. Robarts should be addressed as Mr. Prime Minister, never Mr. Premier.

But you'd never know that from reading the newspapers or listening to the radio. There it's just about always Premier Robarts.

MARK OF GREATNESS

In British Columbia it's also a matter of preference—Mr. Bennett's. And it dates from the middle of October.

The B.C. premier—as he was then known—lined up with other provincial leaders for their honorary degrees at a McGill University convocation in Montreal. All but Mr. Robarts and Mr. Johnson were introduced as premier.

Back in Victoria, Mr. Bennett got to thinking and on Oct. 13 he delivered his verdict.

"In view of my feeling that B.C. is one of Canada's greatest provinces (we) should not play second fiddle to Ontario and Quebec and therefore the premier will now be known as prime minister. It's not that I feel this way myself. . . . I'm only thinking about the people of British Columbia as their premier . . . I mean as prime minister."

Actually Mr. Bennett's briefcase has for years carried the words "Prime Minister Bennett" and buildings opened by him have had the prime minister title on their dedication plaques.

Having made his decision, he had the sign on his office door changed. And his letterheads will henceforth announce that the writer is prime minister.

However, he's not all that hidebound about it. Two women who met him in the corridor the Monday after the announcement said he told them he doesn't really mind being called premier.

SAME MEANING

"The terms have exactly the same meaning . . . therefore the premier of a province could use either title."

The other seven provinces still have their premiers and they generally share the feeling of E. C. Manning of Alberta.

"This is a matter of no concern to me," he says. "The title has always been premier and Alberta's greatness does not depend upon a title of premier or prime minister."

As in legislative buildings of other provinces, his door has the word "premier" on it and his letterheads say "office of the premier."

Ross Thatcher of Saskatchewan goes further and says he wants to be called premier.

"As far as I'm concerned there's only one prime minister and he's in Ottawa. I think the heads of provincial governments should be known as premiers but it is up to the individual."

TRUDY

"Okay, Ted . . . it's your turn!"

Remembrance Day

To the Editor:

Sir—There seems to be a lot of argument just now as to whether the usual holiday given for Armistice Day should be given on Friday, Nov. 10 instead of Saturday, Nov. 11, because falling on a Saturday means no extra holiday. This seems to be getting away from the original idea of holding the "eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month as a special day of remembrance for those thousands who had done their duty and never came back, and also a day of thanksgiving for the end of three years of bloody slaughter.

To save further argument when Nov. 11 falls on Saturday or Sunday, you might as well make the Armistice holiday always on the nearest Monday to the 11th of November and please those to whom it is only a holiday and leave remembrances to those old enough to remember.

Thinking that you and some of your readers might like to know how it feels to be one of the old men standing out in the rain, and sometimes cold, during Remembrance Day ceremonies, I send you the following record drawn from my own experiences.

The eleventh of November, what memories that brings forth! When I listen to the ceremonies at the Cenotaphs across the country, and listen to the bugle sound the "Last Post", without shame I can say that my eyes fill with tears.

How many times in France have I heard that call, as we stood at attention while the shattered remains of one, two or more good friends were laid to rest in what became, in many cases, an "unknown grave". Strange how some are taken and others left!

The sound of the bugles makes me feel both sad and happy; happy when I think of the many fine fellows I met and friends I made; sad, very very sad, as memories crowd in of the hundreds blown to pieces.

And now 11 a.m.

The gun has sounded; the sound of the bugle has faded away; the Armistice ceremony is over, and we "old squares" return to our quarters and peacefully try to make ends meet, but with happy memories in a peaceful (more or less) and beautiful country until it is time for our "Last Post".

Old Soldier D.C.,
R.R. 1, Nelson, B.C.

P.S.: I would like to add that I wrote this letter before reading that Premier Bennett had turned down the request for an extra holiday on account of Armistice Day being on a Saturday.

The premier puts it better than I do: "The 11th is the important day. The two minutes' 'silence' is the important thing in my mind. It isn't just a holiday."

Thank you, Mr. Bennett!

The name of the rye is Grand Prix.

We made it incredibly smooth by making it dry.

And we made it dry by discovering a new way to make rye without any cloying sweetness.

This makes Grand Prix a full-bodied rye so smooth you can actually sip it straight. And like it.

It took Calvert ten years to make Grand Prix so smooth, and naturally our Master Blender is pretty proud of it.

Weekend Briefs

CANADA'S FIRST PARLIAMENT was convened one hundred years ago almost to the day. For that historic session of Nov. 7, 1867, the members of our first parliament travelled by saddle horse, carriage, boat, wagon, even on foot, sleeping at country inns, rising at ungodly hours and waiting on bleak railway platforms to change and change again. A timely feature by Joseph Schull in Weekend Magazine this week, The Day It All Began, tells about that first parliament and the problems facing it.

DEAR FOLKS:

For those of you who cook instant rice or anything that says, "Put the lid back on. . ."

Did you know that after you stir the contents in the pot, and put the lid back on, that if you TWIST the lid and let it spin a bit as if you were playing a roulette wheel . . . that the steam from the hot water would seal the lid?

You can't possibly lift that lid without a firm pull!

Try it next time.

I also find that it utilizes the same idea as a pressure cooker. Not one iota of that steamy heat will escape. And your food will stay warmer longer.

How's about that?

Since I take two kinds of pills every day, I carry the bottles in my purse so I am always sure to have them with me.

To keep from digging through my purse in search of them, I put the two small bottles into an inexpensive plastic cigarette case. And the little space on the side that is supposed to carry matches is just right for a tin of aspirins.

Now my medicine is all together and easy to find, and I never worry about the pills spilling.

I made three nylon bags with different-colored drawstrings and hung them on the inside of the closet door. I have each child put his soiled socks in his own bag.

When wash days come, I just pull the drawstrings tightly and tie. Then toss (as is) into the washer and on into the dryer.

No sorting or confusion later as to which ones belong to whom.

Connell-Scott Rit es Solemnized

Riverview United Church at Calgary provided the setting for the wedding ceremony Oct. 14 uniting Arlene Marjorie Scott, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Scott, and John Edwin Connell, only son of Mr. and Mrs. John Connell, all of Calgary. The bride is the granddaughter of two Nelson residents.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father, to the strains of the Bridal Chorus, played by organist Mr. P. Turner. The church was decorated with bouquets of white, yellow and rust 'mums.

The bride looked lovely in a most elegant gown of imported silk organza embroidered in an over-all pattern of wool snowflowers. The fitted bodice was set off by a sculptured neckline and buttoned lilypoint sleeves. For added interest, the gown featured a full-length draped train, a matching organza and flower pillbox trimmed in geodetic crystals, and a full-length veil in two layers with scattered appliques of snow-flowers. Her bouquet was white orchids surrounded by yellow baby 'mums, white stephanotis and trailing ivy.

Miss Sharon Adams, as maid of honor, and Miss Marilyn Gillespie and Mrs. Florin Wolfer as bridesmaids, wore identical gowns of green velvet, with matching headbands, and gold accessories. Their gowns were accented by bouquets of yellow and white 'mums.

Mr. Don McTavish supported the groom and guests were seated by Mr. Graham Jenkinson and Mr. Melvyn Scott.

During the wedding ceremony, Mrs. Louis Kesler, cousin of the bride, sang the Lord's Prayer, and during the signing of the register she sang the Wedding Prayer. The happy couple led the bridal party from the church to the strains of The Wedding March.

The bride's mother wore a turquoise colored lace over taffeta sheath and coat combined, with matching hat, and silver accessories. The groom's mother wore a burgundy colored sheath with matching hat and black and white accessories. Both had pink orchid corsages. The bride's two grandmothers from Nelson, B.C., had pink and yellow carnation corsages.

A reception followed at the Glencoe Club, where the color scheme again was yellow, white and green. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with silver and white wedding bells and doves and set in tulle on a separate table. Mr. Fred Jacobs was master of ceremonies and Mr. Percy Scott, uncle of the bride, gave the toast to the bride. Telegrams from Toronto, Cochrane, Vancouver and California were read. Mrs. Don McTavish of Edmonton looked after the guest book.

For a short wedding trip to Banff the bride changed to a tangerine wool dress, brown suede coat with tam to match, and brown accessories. She wore a bronze colored orchid corsage. Out of town guests were from Nelson, Fort Macleod, Edmonton and Vancouver. The newlyweds will make their home in Calgary.

Arlene Scott is the granddaughter of Mrs. Dave Richardson and Mrs. W. Scott of Nelson.

Leafs Win Bloody Battle With Trail Smoke Eaters

By DON CAYO

Nelson Maple Leafs grabbed a little firmer hold on first place in the WIHL as they emerged victors in the bloody battle with Trail Smoke Eaters on Nelson ice last night as they handed the visitors a 9-2 whipping.

Gerry Sillers, Murray Owen and Don Borgeson scored two apiece for the Leafs while Carl Chwachka, Buck Crawford and Gary McQuaid added singles.

Gerry Godfrey and Addie Tambellini scored the Trail markers.

Nelson led 6-2 at the end of the first, 7-2 after two periods of play and went on to score two more for the final tally.

The game started with a brilliant goal from Godfrey at the 1:42 mark. Buck Crawford answered 20 seconds later with another well-earned marker. Murray Owen scored for the Leafs at the 5:00 mark and Tambellini answered 38 seconds later. A goal from McQuaid at 6:12 put the Leafs ahead to stay.

Borgeson added two insurance markers and Gerry Sillers popped in one more before the period ended, all well-earned efforts.

Trail looked more intent on getting the man than the goal after a few minutes of the second period elapsed. Chwachka scored once in the rough period while Trail's John Thompson earned himself an early trip to the dressing room with a five-minute spearing call and automatic game misconduct.

The third period was little better than a free-for-all with the gloves dropped and sticks high on several occasions. Two actual fights broke out.

The home town club did not seem to be instigating the trouble, but they certainly did very little to improve the situation.

Referee Harry Harris called 38 minutes of penalties in this period alone, including two five-minute fighting for Nelson, a 10-minute misconduct and a five-minute spearing for Trail. The five-minute spearing was accompanied by an automatic game misconduct and Harry Smith left the ice 24 seconds before the final horn.

Hugh Hooker shone for the Leafs along with Bill McDonnell who earned his keep, particularly in the final frame when Nelson found themselves one or two men shorthanded for much of the play.

McDonnell blocked 34 shots in the Nelson net. Barry Richardson stopped eight for Trail in the first period and Don Holmes who took over in the final 40 minutes kicked out 16.

Roughrider Armchair Critics Silent

By BOB MacKENZIE

OTTAWA (CP)—The capital's armchair football critics have been strangely silent this season despite a somewhat disappointing showing by Ottawa Rough Riders in the Eastern Football Conference regular season.

While the Riders' record of nine victories and one tie in 14 games was impressive by most standards it was one point short of first place in the East. Fans here seem to regard anything less than a first-place finish a disappointing season.

The Riders scored 337 points during the 14-game schedule, 60 more than last year when they won 11 games and lost three. The defence allowed 207 points, only 30 more than in 1966.

To try for a repeat performance of their stunning 1966 playoff win over Hamilton Tiger-Cats, the Riders have to get past Toronto Argonauts in the sudden-death semi-final here Sunday.

This looks like an easy chore based on the season record—Argos had only five wins and a tie—but Clair has a lot of respect for Toronto, especially its running attack.

In past seasons, any imperfect showing has set the critics going although coach Frank Clair still is in charge for his 12th season and has four to go in his contract.

WAS IN CONTROVERSY

Only two years ago Clair was the centre of a heated controversy when Ottawa finished second behind Hamilton for the fifth year in a row after losing six of its last eight games to finish with a 7-7 record.

But Clair silenced his critics in 1966 with a first-place finish and a one-sided 72-17 conquest of Hamilton in the two-game, total-point EFC final.

That series prompted optimistic talk among Ottawa fans of another first-place finish this season. They failed to take into account the way Hamilton strengthened its team this year with the acquisition of several experienced players rather than raw rookies.

The Riders made a few changes due mainly to impressive showings by rookies. Ted Watkins, an EF all-star at offensive end, lost his job to 20-year-old Margene Adkins. Corner linebacker Jim Conroy, a Canadian Football League all-star, was supplanted by Wayne Giardino, Fullback Jim Dillar was replaced by Rick Black, a Canadian who was impressive as Dillard's backup man last year.

But Black was injured early in the season, after Dillard went to Toronto, and Clair had to assign defensive half Don Gilbert to offensive duties.

Three defensive regulars are still recovering from injuries which might affect their play Sunday. Halfbacks Bill Cline and Bob O'Billovich have leg troubles and tackle Ted Collins has a bad elbow.

Maybe the critics have taken these factors into account although Clair has not tried to hide behind any alibis and still expects his boys to win.

All Signs "Go" For Esks, Riders Sudden Death Play

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Regina's weather is promising, Taylor field is reported in perfect shape and both sides are healthy as Saskatchewan Roughriders and Edmonton Eskimos prepare for Saturday's sudden-death Western Football Conference semi-final.

Riders carry an imposing 12-4 won-lost record and a 2-1 edge over Edmonton this season into the playoff action. But third-place Eskimos have impressive short-term credentials.

Coach Neill Armstrong finished off his schedule with a five-game winning streak that included victories over Saskatchewan and first-place Calgary Stampeders who tackle the winner of Saturday's game in a best-of-three series for the Western berth in the Grey Cup final.

The late surge gave Edmonton a 9-6-1 record, the same figures the Riders sported last year when they won the conference title and went on to the Grey Cup.

The clubs are similar in some respects. Both defensive squads are strong, particularly against a ground attack. Both offences are well balanced, unlike the Stampeders' devastating pass attack and almost negligible running game.

And both Saskatchewan and Edmonton have disappointed their supporters at times by bogging down offensively in key moments.

In over-all yardage, Riders have the edge, racking up 2,667 yards rushing and 2,961 passing to Edmonton's 2,318 on the ground and 2,385 in the air.

Defensively, the gap is narrower. Riders were the stingiest club in the league against enemy rushing, giving up 1,641 yards to Edmonton's 1,673. Eskimo pass defence had the edge, giving up 3,349 yards to Saskatchewan's 3,512.

Saskatchewan coach Eagle Keys says the only physical handicaps that could affect his team's performance are defensive halfback Dale West's damaged shoulder and a rib injury that limited offensive half Al Ford to punting duty against Winnipeg Blue Bombers last Sunday.

CUP STAR NOW HEALTHY

Offensive end Jim Worden, a standout in Saskatchewan's Grey Cup victory over Ottawa Rough Riders last year, returned to action against Winnipeg after missing all but the first game of the season with injuries and was back in top form. Guard Al Benecick, a long-time absentee, is the only regular not expected back.

Eskimos, who wound up their season four days before Riders, reported all hands ready for action.

Neither coach had much to say about his strategy.

Keys said he has used virtually everything in his play book this season and doesn't expect to introduce anything new.

Armstrong said he has 40 offensive plays up his sleeve.

"Most of them we used before and found effective against Saskatchewan," he added. "But of course some are new."

The CBC will carry the game in black and white on its national television network, beginning at 2 p.m. CST.

Pittsburgh 1, Philadelphia 1

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Ab McDonald batted in a rebound with 4:52 to play, giving Pittsburgh Penguins a 1-1 tie with Philadelphia Flyers in a National Hockey League game Wednesday night.

McDonald's goal on Andy Bathgate's deflected shot climaxed a Pittsburgh power play on which Flyer goalie Bernie Parent had already turned aside six shots.

About three minutes later, Philadelphia missed a chance to win when Garry Peters' shot from 15 feet on a breakaway hit the upright.

The Penguins clung to second place in the Western division with the tie, one point ahead of the Flyers.

Bill Sutherland's tip-in in the second period gave Philadelphia its goal.

He tipped in Lou Angotti's slapshot from five feet away at 4:10 after Angotti had fired from 30 feet to the right of the net.

Flyer goalie Bernie Parent turned aside 41 shots.

Pittsburgh's Les Binkley made several outstanding saves, particularly in the first period on a shot by Wayne Hicks and in the second period on Leon Rochefort's effort. Binkley made 33 saves.

Boston 6, New York 3

NEW YORK (AP) — Rookie Derek Sanderson fired two goals, one while killing a penalty, to help Boston Bruins to a 6-3 victory over New York Rangers in a National Hockey League game Wednesday night.

Vic Hadfield scored New York's first two goals as the Rangers suffered their second straight loss after going eight games without a setback.

Sanderson's second goal came with only six seconds gone in the third period. He had lost a face-off, but pursued the puck into the Ranger end, took it away from defenceman Arnie Brown and whipped it past goalie Ed Giacomin.

Earlier, Sanderson had blunted a Ranger power-play by scoring while Boston was shorthanded.

Ken Hodge and Johnny Bucyk scored twice within 43 seconds early in the first period as the Rangers were unable to clear the puck out of their own end of the ice.

Hadfield's first goal climaxed a two-on-one break with Rod Gilbert at the start of the second period. But Sanderson's shorthanded goal restored Boston's margin.

Sanderson, Bobby Orr and Tommy Williams scored third period goals for the Bruins rapping it up. Phil Goyette scored the Rangers last goal.

Minnesota 5, St. Louis 1

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Minnesota North Stars clicked merrily to their best offensive production of the National Hockey League season Wednesday night, defeating St. Louis Blues 5-1.

It was the first time the North Stars have scored more than three goals in their 11 games. Minnesota backed goalie Cesare Maniago with a solid defence that shut out the Blues until 14:38 of the final period.

Dave Balon scored the first two Minnesota goals. Bob Woytowich got three assists.

The victory moved Minnesota into a tie for third place in the Western division with Philadelphia Flyers.

Minnesota led 3-0 after two periods, then made it 4-0 on a goal by Bill Masterton.

BROKE SHUTOUT

Jim Roberts broke Maniago's shutout when the puck tipped off his stick almost shoulder high, bringing a complaint from Maniago.

Mike McMahon scored the final goal, his first in the NHL, on a slap shot that travelled about 45 feet and under the arms of St. Louis goalie Glenn Hall.

Balon scored his first goal at 10:46 for a 1-0 Minnesota lead. Duke Harris was in the penalty box for the North Stars at the time.

At 19:24 of the opening stanza, three seconds before Noel Picard was to leave the penalty box for the Blues, Ray Cullen scored to make it 2-0.

In the second period, Balon hit his second goal at 6:34 with St. Louis goalie, Glenn Hall flat on his back.

Toronto 6, Oakland 1

OAKLAND (AP) — Jim Pappin and Murray Oliver each scored twice as Toronto Maple Leafs blitzed Oakland Seals 6-1 Wednesday night to take sole possession of the Eastern Division lead in the National Hockey League.

The Leafs exploded for three goals in the second period and two in the third for their eighth victory against four losses and a tie.

The Seals, now winless in 12 games, outshot Toronto 39-28 but could not penetrate the solid Leaf defence anchored by 44-year-old goalie Johnny Bower.

Toronto skated to a 3-0 lead by the two-minute mark of the second period on a first-period goal by Ron Ellis and two second-period tallies by Oliver and Pappin just 51 seconds apart.

Leaf defenceman Allan Stanley made it 4-0 before Seal defenceman Aut Erickson broke Bower's bid for a shutout.

Pappin and Oliver scored the final goals by the 4:09 mark of the final period.

Chicago 3, Montreal 2

CHICAGO (AP)—Two goals by Stan Mikita and one by Pit Martin gave Chicago Black Hawks a 3-2 victory over the Montreal Canadiens Wednesday night.

The win was the third of the season for the National Hockey League champion Black Hawks and their first at home in five games.

Montreal dropped to fifth place in the East Division behind the Boston Bruins, who defeated New York Wednesday night.

The Canadiens opened the scoring in the first minute of the second period when Bobby Rousseau took the puck away from Mikita during a face-off to the left of the Chicago cage and dribbled it through goalie Denis DeJordy from 20 feet away.

Mikita got the goal back a few minutes later. He was in front of Montreal goalie Gump Worsley to take Doug Mohns' pass from the left corner and rammed the puck into the cage.

Martin converted on a pass from Bobby Hull at 16:32 of the middle period for his fourth goal of the year.

Mikita, the league's scoring champion last year, then hit the winner for the Hawks at 18:22 of the finale. He took a pass from Pat Stapleton near the Montreal blue line and slammed a 25-footer over Worsley's shoulder.

Gilles Tremblay pulled the Canadiens to within one goal at the 19-minute mark of the third period.

The Canadiens lost John Ferguson for several games when he suffered a fractured right hand during a punching match with Wayne Maki in the first period.

A Lot More Than Pride

TORONTO (CP) — It took a lot more than pride and brawn to get Toronto Argonauts into the Eastern Football Conference playoffs this season for the first time in five years.

The Argos did it swathed in more than 35 miles of tape and bandages during the 14-game regular season, while winning the EFC rushing title with 2,171 yards—less than 1¼ miles.

The man who kept the Argos glued together is trainer Mert Profit, currently engaged in readying the club for their sudden-death eastern semi-final against Ottawa Rough Riders Sunday.

"I've used 125 cases of white 1½-inch tape alone—that's just for ankles and knees," says Profit. With 32 rolls in a case and 15 yards for each roll, it works out to 60,000 yards in addition to another 1,500 yards of elastic bandages.

Profit has also succeeded in getting Norm Stoneburgh back into the lineup for Sunday's game in Ottawa and is now working on quarterback Wally Gabler, Jim Dillard and Bill Symons.

Stoneburgh, a veteran centre, missed Sunday's final game of the EFC schedule against Hamilton Tiger-Cats because of an injured back. He worked out with the club Tuesday.

RIBS BRUISED

Gabler and Symons, a halfback-flanker, both suffered painful rib injuries during Sunday's 9-5 loss while Dillard suffered an injured knee.

All three are expected to be in the lineup against Ottawa.

One of the major prizes at stake in Sunday's match, which will be televised by the CTV national network from 2 p.m. kickoff time, is money.

Each player on the winning team Sunday will collect $400. Each member of the losing club will get $300.

But the winner will also collect an additional $600 even if Hamilton wins the two-game total-point eastern final or $700 if they can upset the Ticats.

New Intercontinental Missile Shown By Russ

MOSCOW (Reuters) — The Soviet Union displayed a huge new intercontinental ballistic missile and smaller rockets Tuesday in a glittering display of military might climaxing celebrations of the 50th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution.

But foreign military observers said there appeared nothing radically new in the column of tanks, armored cars, rockets of all sizes and other military equipment which roared through Red Square behind smartly-marching infantry.

Defence Minister Marshal Andrei Grechko and top Kremlin leaders watched the parade from atop Lenin's Tomb.

Lenin, leader of the Bolsheviks who seized power in Petrograd—now Leningrad—50 years ago Tuesday, reviewed the first anniversary parade on Red Square in 1918.

The parade Tuesday followed the traditional pattern apart from a historical section, composed of foot soldiers, cavalry and horse-drawn artillery wearing the uniforms and using the equipment of the early revolutionary period.

The new ICBM—a sleek, khaki-painted cylinder about 100 feet long with a pointed red tip—came near the end of the parade immediately before a three-stage orbital missile of the same length first shown in May, 1965.

HAS 3 STAGES

The new rocket was officially described as a three-stager, but unlike the old one did not have the three stages clearly defined.

An official commentary said it fired on a new kind of highly efficient propellant, but gave no details.

Other rockets new to the parade were a medium-range two-stage tactical missile, and a naval missile, apparently to be fired from land, which Western military observers said seemed to be designed for coastal defence.

Military observers said there was no sign of any missile in the parade that could be the so-called "orbiting space bomb" which U.S. Defence Secretary Robert S. McNamara claimed the Russians were developing.

Tuesday evening, the Soviet government and Communist party gave a huge reception in the Kremlin attended by the foreign leaders here for the celebrations.

The only two non-Communist heads of state or government attending the anniversary spectacular were Indian Prime Minister Indira Gandhi and Finnish President Urho Kekkonen.

War Criminal Said Still Alive

LUDWIGSBURG, West Germany (AP)—The West German government's central office for Nazi war crimes said Tuesday it has received information indicating that former Gestapo chief Heninrich Mueller, one of Germany's most-wanted war criminals, is still alive and in hiding.

The office said it had already informed the prosecutor's office in West Berlin which is responsible in Mueller's case. It said the information came from Nazi-hunter Simon Wiesenthal, but declined to give any details.

Wiesenthal, however, was reported by informed sources to have found in Munich a "contact person" who has been in touch with the former Gestapo chief. Mueller's trail was reported to lead to Egypt.

Mueller, who ranks behind Hitler confidant Martin Bormann as the most-wanted Nazi, was Adolf Eichmann's superior and was allegedly responsible for mass killings of Jews. Eichmann was executed by Israel for his part in the murder of millions of Jews in the Second World War.

Mueller has long been regarded by German authorities as dead, but the death has never been verified.

Seal Catching Season May Be Cut To Save Herds

By PAUL DUNN

OTTAWA (CP) — The federal fisheries department is considering cutting the 1968 seal-catching season off the Labrador Front by 1½ weeks and reducing the season in the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

Fisheries Minister Robichaud said in an interview Tuesday a reduction of seasons is necessary to conserve dwindling seal herds in the area just east of Labrador and as marketing measure in the gulf.

The season in the Front this spring was from March 11 to April 30, and in the gulf from March 6 to April 26.

A closed meeting of the International Commission for Northwest Atlantic Fisheries in Hamburg last month proposed the 1½-week cut in the Front season, the minister said. Representatives of Canada, Denmark and Norway—countries involved in Atlantic sealing—agreed to take the proposal back to their governments.

Mr. Robichaud said the government feels adequate measures already have been taken to conserve seal herds in the gulf. However, there was concern about herd sizes in the Front.

OTHERS CONCUR

Norway and Denmark had assured Canada of their full co-operation in conservation measures. Officials in the three governments now were working out final details for new control measures.

Mr. Robichaud said he hopes to announce soon "further measures of control for both the Front and the gulf."

His department was considering tighter control of aircraft used in spotting and hunting seal herds. Light planes land hunters on ice floes and fly them and their pelts back to the mainland.

The reduced sealing season is expected to draw a favorable reaction from humane societies, some of which want the seal hunt forbidden.

Mr. Robichaud said adverse publicity associated with sealing has hurt the industry to the point where "it's the humans who are suffering hardships."

IMPOSED RESTRICTIONS

The department had introduced new and stricter control of killing methods such as limitation of the size and weight of clubs, greater inspection, and prosecution of offenders.

"But thousands of letters refuse to acknowledge these changes," he said. "There has been irresponsibility shown by some leaders of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals."

Holding Gun At Our Heads, Say Unionists

PRINCE GEORGE (CP) — Officials of International Woodworkers of America have labeled an ultimatum issued Monday by the Northern Interior Lumbermen's Association as an attempt to "break down the morale of the strikers."

The ultimatum told workers affected by the current wage *dispute that unless an agree*ment was reached by Wednesday next week, the employers will not pay a retroactive 20-cent-an-hour increase.

The wage increase will only be paid from the date a settlement is concluded, said the NLA.

Union officials replied Tuesday that the employers were "holding the gun to our heads."

Ross Inglis, president of local 1-424, said the companies earlier agreed to the retroactive payment. "Now they're welshing on their word," he said.

"They go snivelling around the back door handing out propaganda to the workers without coming to us."

The IWA's No.1 regional executive is meeting in Vancouver Tuesday, followed Wednesday by meetings of its northern and southern interior negotiating committees.

Population Up 61 Million Over Last Year

By ROD CURRIE

UNITED NATIONS (CP) — The world's population increased by an average of 167,000 persons a day in the year up to mid-1966 when it reached a total of 3,356,000,000 says the United Nations Demographic Yearbook to be published Sunday.

The mid-1966 total was 61,000,000 higher than at the same period a year previous and if it continues to increase at its present rate of about 1.9 per cent it is expected the world population will have doubled by the year 2005.

The yearbook, 18th in a series issued by the statistical office of the UN since 1948, says nearly three-quarters of the earth's population lives in the so-called underdeveloped regions, with one-half the total on the Asian continent.

The global death rate during the first half of the 1960s was around 16 per 1,000 population, However, the death rate for the underdeveloped regions alone was more than double the rate of nine per 1,000 recorded for the quarter of the earth's inhabitants living in the developed areas.

The book says the birth rate averaged 40 for each 1,000 population in underdeveloped countries in the 1960-64 period compared with 21 for each 1,000 in developed countries.

Although Canada's population has since passed 20,000,000 the book lists its population as of June 1, 1966 at 19,919,000.

CANADA LOWEST

It shows Canada as having one of the lowest rates of population density on earth, the fastest-growing marriage rate and 14th among countries with the lowest infant mortality rates.

Statistics on infant mortality showed Sweden had the best rate with 13.3 deaths in the first year of life for each 1,000 live births. Canada's figure was 23.6 deaths, marking a gradual yearly decline from 31.9 in 1956.

Canada led the way in the trend toward higher marriage rates with 155,280 marriages recorded in 1966 representing the largest number ever in Canada and an increase of 6.5 per cent over figures given for 1965. There was a 3.7 rate of increase in marriages in Britain and a three-per-cent increase in the U.S.

Your Individual Horoscope

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Friday, Nov. 10, 1967

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) — Hold it now! Maybe it isn't as bad as it looks or seems! Anyway, give it a real try — you may do much better than you believe possible. The main thing is not to be caught off-balance or asleep on the job.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus — Crowded in? Rushed? So just slow down and catch your breath and don't be pushed! Relieved of tension, you will think clearer and pursue a more intelligent course. Outlaw worry and distraction.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini — Somewhat akin to Taurus. If a bit of quiet is what you know you need, seek out a secluded corner and gather your thoughts in orderly fashion. You and your associates will be happier with the results.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer) — Nothing like mixing a splash of sane variety into your routine today. Your quest toward success becomes more potent and presentable by so doing. No waste motion in your composite plan!

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo) — Support your ideas with wisely aggressive action. Review the facts that are pertinent and apply the conclusions reached after due deliberation. Complete current schedules on time, without overlooking any items.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — Some cutbacks may be needed or not feasible. It all depends upon specific conditions at the time. Face up to whatever situation presents itself for your appraisal. Be flexible, yet calm.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra) — Today may seem a non-conformity day, so step out and inject an attention-arresting formula to gain a favored — yet legitimate foothold. Thus you can stay ahead of competing forces without overstraining.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 22 (Scorpio) — Friendly influences on whole. Decide early on your course of activity, be it in the home, at business, with sales or technical matters or a combination of them. Concise and to the point, rather than elaborate preparations, suggested way.

NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius) — Today is a challenge to your determination You have the stamina and knowledge to put you up among the first-rankers. Prevail upon common sense in your planned itinerary and things should come your way nicely.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn) — Discouragement is NOT one of your traits. Neither is lassitude. So display your productive wares to the envy of your lazy fellowmen and latch on to that desired prize you so earnestly wish to possess.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius) — Retain your composure regardless of extenuating circumstances, irritating influences. Others may want to pry into your affairs where they do not belong: give them no opportunity to do so.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces) — Adjust your thinking and actions to changing conditions. If pliable, you can surmount any obstacle that may inject itself. Be at all times cautious, selective, alert and poised.

YOU BORN TODAY: Have a dominant will and strong personality. Natural ability for executive and top sales positions. Courage and initiative are a basic part of your makeup. From these a concrete and sturdy program usually results. You have a tendency to be skeptical. This may cause you worrisome moments which are either unnecessary or exaggerated. You do, because of your astuteness, often turn to writing, especially detective or mystery stories. Your determination to succeed, plus an extra amount of grit, stands by you during trying hours. Comfort others at the same time.

Aerial Superhighway Given Inauguration

By ROSEMARY SPEIRS

MONTREAL (CP) — Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Telecommunications Tuesday inaugurated a new $4,000,000 telecommunication system—one day to be capable of transmitting data at 51,000 words a minute.

While a room full of prospective corporation customers looked on, CPR President Ian Sinclair and CNR President Norman MacMillan together pressed a button to start what they called "a system more for the future than for the present."

Called the Broadband Exchange Service, the new system can transmit voice, pictures, charts, written information and computer data to and from certain cities across Canada and the United States on an "aerial superhighway" of microwave bands.

Mr. MacMillan and Mr. Sinclair spoke briefly to introduce the joint service and then stood beaming as their speeches — already punched onto computer cards—were sent to Vancouver at the system's present top rate of 3,000 words a minute.

The new service is expected to become popular among large corporations which regularly send large quantities of information from one city to another and particularly with companies interested in sending data to computer centres for quick processing.

MAY TRANSMIT NEWS

Mr. Sinclair predicted the day may also come when publishers will use Broadband to transmit the contents of an entire newspaper from one city to another to publish simultaneously in more than one centre.

"Computerized data libraries" could be used by customers all over the continent who simply would recall needed data by using Broadband facilities.

Broadband itself is neither the microwave highway nor the different kinds of telecommunications equipment used to send data over it. It is a $4,000,000 switching system centred in Toronto which regulates the flow of information and chooses microwave bands used by each customer.

CNT and CPT experts worked for three years to set up the system, whose cost is shared equally. Used up to now on an experimental basis by the two companies and the RCMP, Broadband is expected to recoup its cost within two or three years.

One CNR spokesman said it is hoped Broadband will have as many as 5,000 subscribers in five years.

$100 PER MONTH

Initial cost of renting space on the microwave network will be $100 per month. Added to this will be the cost of whatever telecommunications equipment is used for transmission and reception and a charge for each minute of time used on the system.

Starting rate will be 10 cents for a one-minute transmission from Montreal to Toronto and 50 cents for one minute from Toronto to Vancouver.

No Politics in Signpost Removal

By DAVE McINTOSH

OTTAWA (CP) — Can federal signposts be signs of the political times?

No, says the National Capital Commission, which maintains federal parks and parkways in the Ottawa area.

The question was posed when signboards pointing the way to the estate of Mackenzie King, late Liberal prime minister, at Kingsmere in the nearby Gatineau Hills of Quebec suddenly vanished a week or two ago.

Mr. King willed the property to the nation, together with some old European and Ottawa ruins of stone buildings he had transported there and re-assembled in different locations on the estate.

Mr. King's summer cottage at Kingsmere is maintained as an historic site. Visitors—there are thousands of them every year—can be served tea on the verandah.

It was purely a coincidence, a commission spokesman said Tuesday, that the signboards came down about the same time that a natioanl public opinion poll showed the Conservatives well ahead of the Liberals in political popularity.

The signboards disappeared for a while during Prime Minister Diefenbaker's regime. When the Liberals resumed office in 1963, more and bigger signboards were erected.

They have disappeared again but only for winter "protective maintenance," the spokesman said. He allowed that they had been taken down two or three weeks earlier than usual.

There's a new road sign leading to the King estate. It has only one word: "Swamp." The road was previously unnamed.

The commission spokesman said it was put up by the Quebec roads department. The sign is in English only.

Fireworks Not Expected

OTTAWA (CP) — Don't look for any verbal fireworks when Robert Stanfield takes the Commons seat he won Monday in the Colchester-Hants byelection.

The Conservative skipper is expected to feel his way cautiously as he did before he decided in July to run for his party's national leadership, which he won Sept. 9.

The Liberals probably will treat Mr. Stanfield gingerly for a while at least.

Mr. Stanfield, though no spell-binder like his predecessor, John Diefenbaker, has already spoken out on some national issues.

But on the main issue—national unity—his party is still trying to evolve a policy and the committee established to do this has not yet made its report.

WILL PICK ISSUES

The former Nova Scotia premier is not expected to tackle the government on each and every issue as it crops up.

More likely, he will pick his subjects carefully, especially for his maiden speech, and leave the rough and tumble of the question period mostly to his supporters.

Conservatives here were jubilant that the Liberal majority in Bonavista-Twillingate had been severely cut into.

HUMPHREY RETURNS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice-President Hubert H. Mumphrey reported Wednesday to President Johnson, the National Security Council and some top leaders of the U.S. Congress on his trip to South Vietnam and Southeast Asia. Humphrey returned here Tuesday night after a trip to South Vietnam, Malaysia and Indonesia.

SERGENT SELLS HERALD

OWEN SOUND, Ont. (CP)—The Owen Sound weekly Herald has been sold by Eddie Sargent to Lou Dixon of Owen sound. No purchase price was announced. Mr. Dixon is the former owner and publisher of the Ajax, Ont., Weekly Advertiser. Mr. Sargent, Liberal member of the Ontario legislature for Grey—Bruce, founded The Herald about 17 years ago.

TO SEE REPORTERS

PARIS (Reuters)—President de Gaulle is expected to hold his next press conference Nov. 27, Information Minister Georges Gorse told reporters Wednesday. He said the date was not final but that a press conference would definitely be held after the next meeting of the Council of Ministers of the Common Market scheduled in Brussels, Belgium, Nov. 20-21.

It Happened in Canada

THE LARGEST SINGLE MOVEMENT OF TROOPS IN THE HISTORY OF THE WORLD LEFT CANADA OCT. 3, 1914. THIS WAS THE FIRST CANADIAN DIVISION ON ITS WAY TO ENGLAND IN WORLD WAR I. THEIR NUMBERS WERE THREE TIMES AS MANY TROOPS AS SPAIN ASSEMBLED FOR THE "INVINCIBLE ARMADA" AND 6,000 MORE THAN WELLINGTON COMMANDED AT WATERLOO.

FOR THOUSANDS OF YEARS MAN HAS BEEN LEAVING TANTALIZING SCRAPS OF AUTOBIOGRAPHY ON THE ROCKS AROUND HIM. CANADA'S INDIANS HAVE BEEN NO EXCEPTION. SPREAD ACROSS ONTARIO AND THE PRAIRIE PROVINCES ARE HUNDREDS OF PLACES WHERE THEIR ROCK PAINTINGS SURVIVE—VIVID, EVEN DRAMATIC, INSCRUTABLE MESSAGES FROM A WORLD NOW PASSED.
THE LARGEST CONCENTRATION OF PAINTINGS SO FAR FOUND ARE 165 SEPARATE PICTURES AT BON ECHO—Near KINGSTON, ONT.

MARKET TRENDS

TORONTO (CP) — The Toronto Stock Exchange continued to advance in relatively active trading Wednesday.

The industrial index, which touched 162.31 in mid-afternoon but slipped towards the close, gained .68 to 161.73.

Brokers described the advance, which began last Thursday after a three-week slump, as a technical rally caused by a heavily oversold position.

"The market isn't bullish yet," one broker said.

Inco, which reported increased nine-month profits recently, jumped 1⅝ to 115½, Thomson Newspapers and Robertson Manufacturing 1½ each to 38 and 27 and White Pass and Yukon 1¼ to 25.

Falconbridge and Texaco gained 1 each at 90 and 30, Bank of Nova Scotia and Magna Electronics ¾ each at 14½ ane 16⅝. Trans-Canada Pipe Lines and Toronto-Dominion Bank added ½ each to 28 and 13⅜.

LEVY DOWN 2⅝

Levy Industries, which announced its takeover has been agreed to in principle by Allen Electric and Equipment Co. of Chicago, dropped 2⅝ to 36¼.

Famous Players and IMC were off 1½ to 41½ and 29 and Anthes A ¾ to 29¼. Massey-Ferguson dipped to a new three-year low of 17⅞, down ½.

In base metals, Preston advanced 1¼ to 21, Roman Corp. ¾ to 28⅛ and Placer ½ to 33⅞. Patino fell ⅜ to 15½ and Denison ¼ to 81½.

Among western oils, Central-Del Rio and Scurry-Rainbow slipped ½ each to 20¼ and 42.

Bralorne Pioneer Mines picked up 21 cents to 1.19. The Vancouver-based company received bids for control Tuesday from Can-Fer Mines of Toronto and Cemp Investments of Montreal.

On index, base metals gained .36 at 105.39 and golds .05 at 164.57. Western oils were down 1.86 at 198.51.

Volume was 3,663,000 shares compared with 3,607,000 Tuesday. Advances outnumbered declines 251 to 201 as 225 issues remained unchanged.

VANCOUVER (CP) — Trading on Vancouver Stock Exchange was more active Wednesday and prices were generally higher at the close. A total of 1,232,623 shares were traded.

Western Exploration led the trading with 293,900 shares, to close at .67, up .05.

In other mining issues, Consolidated Standard traded 46,000 to close at .26, up .09. Lytton Minerals traded 39,500, closing at .93 for a gain of .03. Magnum Consolidated traded 85,700, closing at .67, up .09, and Merritt Copper traded 88,100, closing at .37, up .07. Mid-West Mines traded 111,700 shares, up .04 to .31.

On the oil board the leading trader was Bata Resources, trading 59,200 to close at $1.05, down .01. In other oils, Commercial Oil and Gas traded 54,500, closing at .41, up .02. Futurity traded 14,500, closing at .34, down .01. Peace River Petroleums traded 18,500, closing unchanged at .29.

In the industrial section the leading trader was Neon Products, closing at $9.25, up .75. In other industrials, Capital Estates traded 1780 shares, to close at $2.70, down .15. Okanagan Helicopters traded 500 shares, closing at $3.40, up .05. Pacific Western Airlines traded 2035, closing at $11.75, down .25. Woodward Stores Class "A" traded 600, closing unchanged at $16.75.

Canadian Pacific Investments Preferred — a new listing Wednesday morning — traded 1065 to close at $23.50.

Vancouver averages: Industrials, 154.95, up 1.22; western mines, 185.61, up 1.93; pipelines, 131.96, up 2.33.

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the most vigorous stock market rallies of the year faded early Wednesday and stocks erased gains and closed with another loss. Trading was heavy.

Stocks surged ahead in the first hour with buying so heavy the ticker tape ran five minutes late. The market reached its peak in the first hour, then gradually trimmed its gains.

Gains outnumbered losses by a 9-to-2 ratio when the market was at its most bullish stage. Sharp profit taking cancelled this advantage.

The Dow Jones industrial average closed with a loss of 5.72 at 849.57. This put it 93.51 points below its year's high of 943.08 reached Sept. 25.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell 1.0 to 307.2 with industrials off 2.7, rails up .5 and utilities off .6 to another new low for the year.

VOLUME WAS UP

Volume was 12,660,000 shares compared with 10,320,000 Monday and was the largest since Aug. 3 when 13,450,000 shares changed hands.

The New York Stock Exchange index lost 18 cents at $50.60.

Among Canadians, Inco held on to a gain of 2 while Distillers was up ⅞, Gooderham ½ and Dome and Alcan ⅜. Hudson Bay lost ⅛ and Granby ⅝.

Prices were irregularly lower on the American exchange. Scurry lost 1¾ and Jupiter ¼. Fargo and Preston gained ¼.

MONTREAL (CP) — Late afternoon profit-taking dulled the edge of a sharp rally on the Montreal Stock Exchange Wednesday, but gains led losses 72 to 38, and several issues held advances of more than one point.

Analysts saw the day's trading as a technical rally, following the trend of the New York Stock Exchange.

Senior mines and oils led the upswing with Falconbridge up 2⅛ points at 89¼ on buying pressure from 1,125 shares. International Nickel advanced 1⅝ to 115¼, matching a similar gain in the stock's price on the New York market. Texaco rose 1⅜ points to 30, and Hollinger and Hudson Bay each climbed one point to 26 and 59 in active trading.
