"BLACK DIAMONDS"

SUPERIOR TO ANY UPON THE PACIFIC SLOPE.

Captain C. L. Flick Gives a Few Points on the Nicola Valley Coal, Mineral, and Things in General.

Practical experts are agreed that the coal measures of the Nicola district are, beyond contention, far and away superior to any upon the Pacific slope, including Vancouver island.

Seams varying from a few inches to seven or more feet have been located. Up to date, development has been at a standstill not so much from lack of capital as want of transportation. Now that the railroad contracts are let and transportation assured the eyes of American, British Columbian and English capitalists will no doubt be turned toward the valley of the Nicola river.

Nicola coal was first discovered by the Indians who packed large quantities to Lytton for the use of the "smithy" working there during the rush to Golden Cariboo. The coal is, beyond question, excellently adapted for conversion into coke for smelter use.

As far as raw mineral resources go the valley of the Nicola has been amply endowed by nature; coal, iron and copper outcrop everywhere, it but needed the railroad to carry its hidden treasures to the industrial centres of the provinces. During the last twelve months men have been patiently testing the coal fields of the Nicola district by means of the most up to date appliances in the way of core drills. Drilling, as all the world knows, is expensive work and men who finance expensive experiments of this nature do not continue their operations for such lengthened periods unless the indications of substantial future profits are very good indeed.

As far as iron and copper are concerned quite a lot of prospecting has been done and the respective ores carry very good values.

Quite a lot of the coal rights in the Nicola valley are reserved by the owners of the soil—most of whom pre-empted before the government royalty was imposed by the provincial legislature.

One may therefore see in the immediate future dotted among the hills and valleys contiguous to the railroad, the surface machinery of numerous prosperous collieries. Collieries mean a vast influx of population from whom the agriculturists of the valley may surely hope to reap a rich harvest. Storekeepers and other business men will also partake of the general prosperity for which they have patiently waited so long.

HELD TILL SHE WAS DROWNED.

Miss Anderson in Death Struggle Kept Miss Ruckles Under Water.

The following particulars have been learned regarding the sad drowning accident of Miss Ruckles and Miss Anderson at English point, Christina lake, last week. It seems that a party, consisting of Mrs. Wolverton and her little daughter Marjorie, Miss Agnes Ruckles and Miss Ida Anderson, who were escorted by Andrew Wiley foreman at the Cascade power house, started from Cascade about 5 o'clock on Monday morning and proceeded to Christina lake, where they procured a rowboat and rowed down to English point, a distance of five miles. After spending several hours at this place, Miss Ruckles and Miss Anderson accompanied by little Marjorie Wolverton, went by themselves to go in bathing. Marjorie staying on the shore while the grownup girls went into deep water. Miss Anderson, who was in the water first, got into deep water far above her head and at once sank, not being able to swim. Miss Ruckles, who was an athletic girl and good swimmer, at once got a pole and reached it to her drowning companion, but it was too short. As a last resource, Miss Ruckles, in utter desperation, plunged into the deep water after the drowning girl but the moment she reached her she was grasped in a deathlike grip by Miss Anderson, who was a large powerful girl, and held her rescuer firmly until both were drowned. Little Marjorie in the meantime gave the alarm, when help arrived and the bodies of the unfortunate girls in deaths embrace were recovered and taken to Cascade.

Miss Anderson resided near Minneapolis, Minn. At the time of her sudden death Miss Anderson was engaged to be married to Andrew Willey, the wedding having been arranged to take place in two weeks' time.

The bodies were shipped to their homes that of Miss Ruckles being sent to Salt Spring Island.

Wm. Charters left on Tuesday for the coast on a business trip.

The engineers and surveyors for the Nicola railway are gradually nearing this end of the line. A party in charge of Mr. Hill arrived at Coutlee today and will work from Ten-mile up to the end of the route laid out.

Hilton Keith passed through the Nicola valley on last Thursday's stage en route for Allison where he will transact business in connection with the townsite. Mr. Keith has a great opinion of the mineral resources of the valley and expressed an opinion that the advent of the railway would make a wonderful change in the Nicola and Similkameen districts.

OVER THE RAILWAY

BY A PASSENGER ON THE STAGE FROM SPENCES BRIDGE.

Observations Taken on the Way and Put in Words by a Traveler to Nicola This Week.—Work in General.

A trip from Spences Bridge along the the route of railroad construction is not without interest at the present time. The tents of the various camps one encounters at intervals, snugly clustering in leafy groves, looking for all the world like pleasure party camping. Again, one sees, far up clinging to the face of a cliff two, or perhaps, three men; they look like flies upon a wall; then, there is a sudden and rapid descent—a pause—a roar, and twenty or thirty tons of rock are hurled into the bed of the Nicola. Sometimes the air waves set in motion by the explosion of a heavy charge will bring down heavy masses of rock and earth which are quite distant from the scene of construction—and destruction

Passengers by the stage who know well the valley road are thrown out of their reckoning by sudden deviations across newly constructed bridges; in places the picks and shovels of the gangs are hard at work in close proximity to the wagon road, so close indeed that it scarce seems possible for the stage to pass, where but a few short weeks ago, sage brush and pine grew in silent solitude, one now sees a trim embankment—while near and far one hears the stroke of pick or harsh metallic clang as the dump cars shoot their load.

Some ten miles out from Spences Bridge one comes suddenly upon the hospital, which stands upon a small plateau embowered in trees, all around is so peaceful and still, that one can hardly connect the place with sickness or death.

At intervals one passes on the road unkempt tough looking "whites." These men are on the tramp from year's end to year's end, they work for a few days and toil unwillingly, then with a few dollars off they prowl to fresh fields and pastures new.

One want that will be severely felt ere long is the dearth of houses for rent throughout the valley. Some of the Nicola millionaires could do worse than erect a few cottages for which at this early stage of construction, there is a keen demand. Residential property would command a ready tenant and make for the general good of the community. At the present time there is not a habitable house vacant along the entire fifty miles from Spences Bridge to Nicola.

INDIANS KILLED

BY A BIG LAND SLIDE AT SPENCES BRIDGE ON SUNDAY

Fifteen Killed and Thirteen Injured.—Slide Dammed Up Thompson River Whichich Overwhelmed the Rancherie.

At 2:30 p.m., last Sunday the inhabitants of Spences Bridge were startled to see a large slide coming down the mountain side on the north side of the Thompson river, half a mile west of the C. P. R. station and directly opposite the Indian rancherie. The slide descended to the river with great velocity and swept the water and debris on the poor, unfortunate Indians. Many ran for their lives others in their houses were swept out of existence without a moment's warning. Every building on the reserve was swept away and nothing now remains but debris and rocks. The new church was the most substantial building, but it was lifted and carried a considerable distance away by the impact of the water and reduced to kindling wood. Immediately the slide descended a mighty wave, ten to fifteen feet high, started up the river against the current, sweeping for over two miles and flooding the buildings on the river bottom. The river was completely dammed for a couple of hours and rose over twenty feet in that time before it found an outlet.

The work of rescue was commenced immediately and twelve maimed and injured men, women and children were picked up and placed in the temporary hospital, where they were attended to by Dr. Kerr of the Nicola railway construction department. Assistance was wired for to Kamloops and Ashcroft and Drs. Wade, Chipperfield, and Sanson arrived by special train at 11 p. m.

Fifteen are killed and thirteen injured all beloneing to the Indian population. The injured are housed in the new building of Clemes' and are receiving every care. The whole population of Spences Bridge turned in and did all possible to help in the rescue.

James Macdonnell, the railway contractor, is doing all he can for the stricken natives, and in addition to the food with which he has supplied them, he donated lumber for the coffins.

IN AID OF THE SUFFERERS.

Subscriptions in aid of the destitute Indians who suffered from the effects of the land slide at Spences Bridge on Sunday, August 13, will be received at The Nicola Herald office. The funds will be used to purchase lumber and other necessities to help in building new homes. The following is the list to date:

A. R. Carrington	$2 50
A. W. Strickland	1 50
Fred A. Howse	1 00
The Nicola Herald	2 50
N. J. Barwick	2 50

Progress at Peace Conference.

The first three articles of Japan's program have been adopted by the peace conference. They cover paramount power in Korea, open door in Manchuria and cession of the Chinese Eastern railway to China. The real bones of contention, reimbursement for cost of war and cession of Sakhalien are being discussed. Meanwhile there is a virtual armistice at the front.

D. Trodden, brother of Miss Trodden and Mrs. Stewart arrived in Nicola today.

THE DOMINION FAIR.

Great Preparations Being Made For the Big Exhibition.

With the Dominion Exhibition just six weeks away the various committees that have to do with the elaborate arrangements are working overtime in order to have their work all completed so that it will require only the pressing of a button to set everything in full swing on the morning of Sept. 27.

Scores of artisans and laborers are busy on the site of the 1905 National Fair and nearly all work has developed into the stage where finishing touches are the only worries. The old provincial exhibition grounds on which so many successfull fairs have been held under the auspices of the Royal Agricultural & Industrial Society have been greatly enlarged and with many alterations and improvements will for beauty, surpass anything of the kind in Canada.

The new buildings, which represent the latest ideas and best skill in architecture, together with the expenditure of $35,000 are now in the hands of the painters and decorators whose schemes promise most attractive results.

The space in the buildings is ample to accommodate a stupendous array of exhibits representing all that is of interest in the products and manufactures of Canada and the extreme limit of this space will be occupied.

The British Columbia exhibits of horticulture, floriculture, agriculture, livestock fish, game, timber, minerals, etc., will be an eye-opener to all who are not in constant touch with every center and corner of the province, and it will be a revelation to visitors from other parts of the Dominion and the world. Nearly every fruit growing district in the province—and there are about thirty of them—will make its best showing, which means an amazing display of what is destined to be one of British Columbia's most important resources.

The sports and spectacular and musical events will be in keeping with the general nature of the great exhibition.

Registered Mail Theft.

Robert Mackin, a ranchman of the Cariboo road, is under arrest on a charge of theft of a sack of registered mail. The theft occurred near the 150 Mile House, two weeks ago. Quite a large amount of money and important papers are alleged to have been stolen with the sack.

Mr. Sword is of the opinion that the marketing of trout should be governed by law as well as the number of catch permitted each sportsman in the season. Mr. Sword was unable to visit Nicola, but sent in J. T. Edwards to examine the Nicola river. Fish traps of all kinds have been ordered out and free access of the salmon to the spawning grounds in this district will be given.

Peace Conference May End Suddenly.

Despatches from Portsmouth make it clear that unless their is a very substantial abatement of the demands of the Japanese plenipotentiaries, which is unlikely, the peace conference will come to a sudden conclusion. The two nations are so wide spart that all hope of agreement has been practically abandoned. It is possible the session will end in a final adjournment, and that M. Witte may sail for Europe shortly.
