IMPERIAL LIMITED HELD UP

Three Men Hold Up Train, But Get Away With Few Letters Only.

$11,500 Reward Offered For Capture.—Robbers Heading South.—Said to Be Near Stump Lake.—A Number of Parties on The Trail.

The west bound Imperial Limited was held up by train robbers on Wednesday morning between twelve and one o'clock about thirteen miles east of Kamloops. It seems the robbers secreted themselves on the tender at Ducks station, and on being discovered one of them held up the engineer and and fireman and made them stop the train. The fireman was made to get down and uncouple the train leaving the baggage and mail car with the engine, the robbers evidently thinking these were the mail and express coaches. The driver was then ordered to pull out about four miles further into a gully where they stopped evidently at a pre arranged spot. Some letters were taken from the mail car, the other car was found to be a baggage car. The robbers decamped in a southerly direction. Yesterday rewards were offered: $5,000 by the Dominion Government, the C. P. R. $5,000, and $1,500 by the Provincial Government, for the capture of the robbers. Early yesterday morning, the descriptions of the men were sent out.

An arrest has been made at Revelstoke on suspicion Latest reports indicate that the robbers are heading for Stump Lake or its vicinity. Men knowing the trails and country thoroughly are scouring the district in every direction and capture may be reported any hour.

DIVIDE WATER.

International Committee Comes to an Agreement.

Under the agreement signed by the international waterways commission at Buffalo last Thursday, Canada will secure 36,000 cubic feet of water per second at Niagara Falls, and the United States 18,500 per second. At Sault Ste. Marie, the power is to be divided equally. The Canadian section recommends that this agreement be limited to twenty five years. The question of division of other waters, such as St. John river, has not been made the subject of any agreement, although the Canadian section lays down certain principles in regard to these. The United States commissioners took the ground that it had not the power to deal with this latter phase of the question. A committee report, which is a very bulky document, will be submitted to the governments of both countries for ratification as soon as possible. It is understood the United States commissioners will ask their country for power to deal with all questions recommended by the Canadian commissioners.

Mountain Fires.

A heavy fire is raging among the timber on the south east side of Iron mountain. There has been no clue as yet to its origin. It evidently started on some pre-empted land but whether started by the pre-emptors or the Indians is yet unknown. Nothing at present can be done to fight the fire, which is destroying much valuable timber.

To be No Coal Strike.

A Scranton, Pa., despatch says there will be no strike of the anthracite miners. That is now a settled conclusion, for such is the advice of President Mitchell, Secretary Treasurer Wilson and others of the leaders who addressed a convention of the miners before the report of the scale committee was presented. The addresses fully forecasted the report which the committee would make. The suspension order will be raised and the miners will go back to work upon the terms of the award of the anthracite strike committee of 1903, which the operators were willing to have continued. They will later seek to obtain through the conciliation board, or by arbitration, a bettering of the conditions, which they complain are working hardships on them.

INDIANS REMONSTRATE.

Johnny Chillihitza is Accused of Erecting Fence Which Bothers Others

The Indians at the Head of the Lake Reserve are just now entering strong objections to what they consider an injustice being inflicted upon them by the self constituted authority of the chief of the Douglas Lake reserve, by fencing off a portion of their lands. From information gathered from the members of the head of the lake reserve it would appear that one Johnny Chillihitza, a Douglas Lake Indian has recently acquired from the Douglas Lake chief control of a tract of land near Round lake on the former reserve and is now engaged in fencing same to the injury and inconvenience of the rightful owners. An enthusiastic indignation meeting has already been held and the Indians are taking the matter up with the Indian department, while it is expected a new chief will be selected as the head of their own tribe. Among those who have signed the remonstrance are Joseph Jimmie, Batus, Logan, Antoine Ely, Pierre Louise, Peter Persit, Pierre Mitchell, Simalow, Alix Simalow, Dankin, Kanaskite, Peter Quankin, Narcees, Pur, Batees Andrew, Jimmie Login, Gasto Louis, Louis Marchell, T. Lindley, Old Batees, Napier and Susie.—Armstrong Advance.

INDUCING CAPITAL.

Among small commercial and farming communities, a very general impression is prevalent that the tourist or sportsman is of little use in the development of a new district, and although he may perhaps financially benefit a few trades men, the general trade of the country is but slightly affected by his advent. To such of our readers as may be of this way of thinking, we invite them to read carefully the extract from Collier's Weekly in this issue. Applying it to our own district, it does not require the wisdom of Solomon to realize what great benefits might accrue to the Nicola Valley from the attractions it holds for tourists and sportsmen. We have one of the finest hunting and fishing grounds in the province and we have a climate unsurpassed in Canada. The combination is hard to beat, and when we have allied with it the ranches and cattle and the great mineral riches all around us, awaiting development from capital, it can easily be seen how naturally the man of capital, with rod or gun, going over the country, would have forced upon him the idea what an opening there would be for capital all over the district. It is therefore evident that energetic effort is necessary for the attainment of this object, viz: the attraction of tourists and sportsmen. The C. P. R. no doubt will in due time advertise the district thoroughly but it is up to the inhabitants themselves to do something. A live Board of Trade or Tourist Association is a much felt want in the Valley. The Nicola Herald has harped on this string before and it is only because we realize the necessity of such a body that we again return to it. To throw the wet blanket on such a scheme, because one individual here or another there may not derive direct financial benefit from it is puerile in the extreme. Such a body will benefit everyone either directly or indirectly. We want to see the Nicola Valley go ahead and we feel sure such is the wish of our readers. The objections to traveling by stage will in a few weeks no longer obtain and it behoves us one and all to get busy and try at any rate, to induce tourists and sportsmen to look over the good things Nicola Valley has to offer. The tourist traffic along the main line has already started and there is every indication that it will be heavy and it will be the fault of the residents themselves if a good proportion of that traffic is not diverted to our inimitable Nicola Valley.

LURING EMPIRE.

The following from Collier's Weekly of April 21st, will be read with interest by the sportmen of Canada, as it shows the trend of public opinion in connection with the protection of game:

"The movement in Manitoba to establish game preserves is not only commendable but essential, and every province in the Dominion should follow this constructive policy. Laws regulating the seasons during which game may be killed always serve a good purpose, but they can not, however well enforced, prevent the eventual extinction of the hunter's prize Canada is the world's great hunting ground, and this wealth of game should be made to serve the Dominion's commercial and industrial growth. It was the Hudson's Bay Company in quest of this very game that blazed the way of empire across the continent and made the present development of Western Canada possible. The frontier of the United States is already history, and American sportsmen are more and more seeking Canadian forests and streams when they put in play the gun and rod. Not a few of these amateur hunters are men of affairs in the States, and the revelation that will confront them in the northland will not lie in the fish, fowl and beast they go to find, but in the vast opportunities to operate capital upon a basis of high per cent. English and German capital laid the foundation for New York's financial greatness, and New York in turn promoted Chicago and the west. It is not less likely that the money of the States may join that of London in building industrial Canada. The new provinces have but to be seen to be appreciated, and a primary purpose of the Western parliaments should be to lure industrial captains northward. The preservation and promotion of this great hunting ground will not be least of these allurements. And the wise huntsman who goes in quest of game will add to his conquest something better than elk or bear."

Effect on Panama Canal.

It seems likely, since the occurrence of the San Francisco disaster, that the question of the kind of canal to be constructed at the Isthmus of Panama may come up for consideration says The Province. It was practically decided some time ago that the canal should partake partly of the lock system and partly of the deep sea plan. It is not improbable that the recommendation that locks be constructed will be eliminated from the plans and that, throughout, the work will be conducted on the deep sea principle. That Panama is within the same zone of seismic disturbance which affects San Francisco, is pretty fully admitted. There has not been any disastrous happenings at the Isthmus from earthquake, but the tremors which in the past have been experienced at San Francisco have also been felt at the point where the canal is to be constructed. It can quite readily be understood that a visitation, such as that paid to San Francisco, would wreck any lock canal in existence, and "put it entirely out of business." Millions of dollars' worth of property would be destroyed in an instant, and the work of years, spent in joining the two oceans, would be rendered utterly useless. It is altogether likely therefore that the lock system will be abandoned as altogether too risky in that zone, where Nature seems ill at ease in her internal economy.

Chief Justice on Perjury.

During his charge to the grand jury at the opening of the spring criminal assize court at Vancouver recently, according to The Province, His Lordship Chief Justice Hunter used strong language with reference to the all too prevalent crime of perjury. "I am sorry to say that perjury is becoming all too frequent in the tribunals of this country, both in the upper and lower courts. There is nothing strikes so hard at the administration of justice as perjury. In fact, if perjury becomes much more prevalent, it will be just as well for the justices to close up the courts and go home."

These remarks were called from his lordship in connection with his directions to the grand jury in respect to the evidence to be placed before them in connection with a charge of perjury against an Indian.

Improves the Coal.

The British admiralty's small experiments have proven that the storage of coal beneath the sea steadily increases its calorific value while open air storage decreases it. The admiralty has directed an experiment on a large scale, with a view to overcoming the difficulty of subsequent drying of coal after it has been stored beneath the water.
