GAYNOR'S DEATH STOPS CAMPAIGN

New York Municipal Politics Much Upset by Recent Happenings.

Theodore Roosevelt Eulogizes Dead Leader as Man Fearless and Unique.

New York, Sept. 11.—William Gaynor, mayor of New York city, voyaging over the sea on the steamer Baltic in the hope of regaining his strength to enter the three-cornered municipal campaign as a candidate for re-election, died suddenly on the Baltic, as the steamer was within a few hundred miles of the Irish coast yesterday afternoon. The first news of his death, flashed by wireless and relayed by cable from Europe, reached his secretary, Robert Adamson, this morning. The mayor had succumbed to heart failure, the message said.

Later despatches from his son, Rufus W. Gaynor, who was his father's only travelling companion, gave details which showed that the end had come with shocking suddenness.

Sons' Message.

"Father died at 1:07 p.m. on Wednesday, the tenth," said the message from the son received by Secretary Adamson tonight. "His death was due to heart failure. He was seated in his deck chair at the time. I and the urse and the ship's doctor were with him. I discovered him unconscious in his chair though still alive. He died three minutes later without recognizing any of us. Everything possible was done, but he seemed to go as a candle flickers out. Am all right and am trying to arrange to bring the body back on Lusitania, sailing from Liverpool on the 13th."

Campaign Stops.

While messages of sympathy from political leaders and from all parts of the country poured into the mayor's office in the city hall and the Gaynor country home at St. James, L.I., the heated municipal campaign came to a sudden stop, although many conferences were held to review the change which Mayor Gaynor's death made in the general situation. George McAneny, fusion candidate for president of the board of aldermen, announced tonight that he had decided to postpone his vacation trip abroad upon which he had planned to start on Saturday. McAneny and W. A. Prendergast, fusion nominee for city comptroller, were in conference with the Gaynor leaders relative to accepting their endorsement when news of the mayor's death was announced.

Abandon Ticket.

Whether another candidate to head the Gaynor league ticket would be named was problematical tonight, it being urged from many sources that with the personality of Mayor Gaynor removed it would be useless to continue the league.

Roosevelt's Tribute.

Of the many tributes to Mayor Gaynor from men in public life, one from Theodore Roosevelt was among those made public: "Mayor Gaynor's career has not only been distinguished, but in all its characteristics unique," said Col. Roosevelt. "We have lost in him not only one of the most fearless, but one of the most original and interesting of all our public servants, national and local."

U.S. NAVY CONTRACTS GO TO ENGLAND

British Bid for Work on American Battleship $100,000 Lower Than Home Builders.

Washington, Sept. 11.—An English builder today was awarded the contract for turbine drums for the newest American battleship, number 39, at a little more than one-third the price offered by the lowest American bidder. The accepted bid, $57,436, was submitted by New York agents of the Cyclops Steel & Iron Works, Sheffield, England.

It is exceptional for the navy department to send a contract tbroad, but Acting Secretary Roosevelt held that the action today was justified by the tremendous difference between the English and the American prices. The Sheffield bid includes the payment of duty and by giving the work to the foreign builder the United States saves more than $100,000.

There were two American bids, the Bethlehem Steel company, $169,568, and the Midvale Steel company, $160,272.

It will be officially opened at 1:30 by Col. J. D. Taylor, M.P. A total of 600 prizes of the aggregate value of about $700 will be distributed in the exhibition department, while for the sports some valuable trophies have been donated.

DEMANDS LOOK LIKE DISGUISED THREAT

Japan's Conditions Really an Ultimatum to Chinese Government.

If Not Complied With at Once Will Take What Action Is Deemed Necessary.

Peking, Sept. 11.—The president, Yuan Shi Kai, and his advisers, have taken under consideration the demands made by the Japanese government, which are tantamount to an ultimatum, for the killing of three Japanese at Nanking, the maltreatment of a consular messenger, the torture of a Japanese lieutenant at Hankow, and the imprisonment for two days of a Japanese lieutenant at Shantung, Japan demands an apology for the insults to the Japanese flag, the punishment of those responsible and the payment of an indemnity, the amount of which is to be arranged later.

Disguised Threat.

The Japanese legation says that the demands represent the minimum to which China must agree without delay; otherwise Japan will take what action is deemed necessary. A member of the legation stated privately today that if the terms were known at Tokio the people would consider that the government had betrayed its trust and sacrificed the nation's honor.

It is thought here that the Japanese government is as anxious to settle the matter as the Chinese, and has presented minimum demands in consideration of foreign criticism and in order that the Chinese government could accede quickly and readily.

Back to Tyranny.

Nanking reports that General Chang Hsun, commander of the imperial forces there, and his soldiers, will not permit the republican flag to be flown, but nly a red flag with Chang Hsun's name inscribed thereon. For many months reports have been current that Chang Hsun held monarchial views and here even were rumors that he intended to proclaim himself emperor. His present attitude may be due to the rebuke which Yuan Shi Kai administered to him by a public telegram after the looting of Nanking.

It is understood that one of the Japanese demands is for a public apology from Chang Hsun at the Japanese consulate. Whether and how Yuan Shi Kai can persuade this independent general, whom he appointed governor of Kiang Su upon Nanking's final fall to comply with the Japanese requirement is troubling the government, according to reliable information.

HARVESTING ALMOST OVER

All Crops in Districts Served by the C. N. R. and the G. T. P. Are Gathered in.

Winnipeg, Sept. 11.—John F. Hansen, general manager of the North Saskatchewan Land company, reports harvesting completed in all districts served by the Canadian Northern and Grand Trunk Pacific railways. Practically no damage has been done by frost and all grains are of high grade. Mr. Hansen estimates that the value of this year's crop will exceed $250,000,000 and considers it undoubtedly the best that has ever been harvested in the districts mentioned.

There is a particularly active detive department in Canadian Northern Prairie towns, and Mr. Hansen states the influx of settlers has been so heavy that his company is erecting a number of houses for their accommodation at numerous points on the Canadian Northern. He anticipates no falling off in next year's immigration into western Canada.

EXHIBITION TIME DRAWING NEAR

R. A. & I. Society Has Only Three Meetings in Which to Do Much Work.

Some interesting discussion is expected when the meeting of the executive of the R. A. & I. Society is held in the city council chamber this evening. A number of important matters will come up for final consideration and that there is still a number of committees.

The report of the lacrosse committee on the Minto cup games will be received.

President Welsh points out that there is only two more meetings before the exhibition opens on Sept. 30 and that there is stil la number of matters to be settled.

The music committee and the special attractions committee will bring in final reports.

RATHER INCONSISTENT!

CANADIANS FOLLOW THAW TO STATES

Sherbrooke People Go to New Hampshire to Sympathize with Their Little Tin Hero.

Colebrook, N.H., Sept. 11.—Twenty-five Canadians, several of them opponents of William Travers Jerome, after his arrest in Coaticook, Que., last week on a charge of gambling, and others from Sherbrooke, where Harry Thaw received such an ovation in court, have followed the fugitive to New Hampshire and revived with their coming the intense partisan feeling so evident while Thaw was in the Dominion. Jerome denounced one of them in public today.

Their presence in Colebrook enlivened what otherwise was a typical Thaw day for those who have been following the erratic course of the slayer of Stanford White since his escape from Matteawan, Aug. 17. There was no court proceedings, Thaw's arraignment being put off by mutual consent until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

SOCIAL EVIL PLAGUE OF TODAY

Doctors in Convention Say Dress of Modish Women Undermining Race.

Recommend Institution of Doctors, Nurses and Teachers for Research Work—Health Exhibits.

Colorado Springs, Colo., Sept. 11.—That the social evil is the plague of the 20th century was the contention of Dr. J. H. Landis, health officer of Cincinnati, before the American Public Health association this afternoon.

"There is no reason why diseases occasioned by the social evil should not receive the same treatment, so far as their handling by the health department is concerned as that of the plague—that of isolation—he said.

Dr. Landis said that the dress worn by women of today is responsible in a degree for influences which, he said, are undermining the race.

Health Exhibits.

Dr. Hoyt E. Dearholt, of the University of Wisconsin, before the sociological section, recommended the establishment of a correspondence course in state universities for physicians, nurses, teachers, etc., who would be given opportunities of doing systematic, post graduate and research work under competent and stimulating supervision. He urged the holding of the general health exhibits, silimar to tuberculosis exhibits in many states at which the public could see what was being done for the betterment of health conditions.

DAIRY CATTLE TO BE SOLD AT FAIR

Sixty Head of Holstein Grade Cows to Be Sold by Government at Exhibition.

The third sale of dairy cattle to take place in the province this year under the auspices of the live stock branch of the department of agriculture will be held at the exhibition grounds in this city at 1 o'clock p.m. on Sept. 18.

Sixty head of Holstein grade cows have just arrived and these will be offered to the farmers of the Fraser valley at their own prices.

The shipment consists of 50 young cows from two to four years old, the balance being yearlings.

Prof. W. T. McDonald of the department made a special trip to Ontario and personally selected the first shipment, that was sold in Victoria and arranged for the shipment that was sold in the Okanagan, and for the shipment that has just arrived in New Westminster.

These choice animals are from the counties of Oxford, Brantford and Haldimand, Ontario.

Professor McDonald is well known as the best judge of live stock in western Canada and has been frequently sought by the management of the state fairs in western and central United States to act as judge at their fall fairs.

The management of the provincial exhibition, which will open at the end of this month, was very pleased to grant the use of the exhibition grounds for the sale as they consider the sale of these animals, bred from pure sires, a move in the right direction for the improvement of the herds in the Fraser valley and indirectly of benefit to the big exhibition.

EVELYN CAN'T PLAY IN OUR YARD

She Is Booked at Toronto and Montreal Theatres, But One Thaw at a Time Is Enough.

Ottawa, Sept. 11.—Evelyn Thaw, who has been engaged for theatrical appearances in Toronto and Montreal, according to the Ottawa Free Press, may not be allowed to cross the Canadian border.

The Canadian authorities are considering the advisability of refusing her admission as an undesirable. It is held that she is being brought from the United States for the purpose of exploiting financially the unpleasant notoriety which she and her former husband, H. K. Thaw, have acquired during the last five years and which has also been considerably stimulated by Thaw's arrival in Canada. Admission to Canada of those mentality, morals, finances or general record are under suspicion may be refused. The provision is believed to be wide enough to close the door against Evelyn.

MUST PROVIDE SCHOOLS FOR MANY CHILDREN

Port Coquitlam, Sept. 11.—A special meeting of the school board will be held on Saturday to consider plans for the new school, and to make some arrangements for schooling children residing in the vicinity of the Pitt river bridge. At present there are no schools in that vicinity and the board has no funds to provide one. The suggestion has been made that they be brought into the city by rig and returned by the same means at the expense of the board.

OKANAGAN FRUIT BEST IN YEARS

Improved Shipping Facilities Help the Growers to Market Crops Quicker.

Vernon, Sept. 11.—The general fruit situation in the Okanagan valley, now that the shipping season is in full swing, is better than it has been for many years.

Last year, owing to lack of organization and marketing facilities, much of the perishable fruit spoiled in the valley, but this year it is all moving out in response to a big and growing demand. Some fruit, peaches mostly, is left ungathered to rot on the ground this year, but this is only in a few orchards which were neglected by the owners early in the season. The peaches, in these isolated cases, were not thinned, and are now not of a marketable size.

The United Growers' Limited report an actual shortage and an inability to fill all their orders for freestone peaches during the last few days, so great has been the demand. The peach crop this year is not as large as that of 1912, because of continued damp weather, but it is being promptly marketed, and will be vastly more profitable to the growers.

Fire blight, which has been such a detriment to some fruit districts this year, has had scarcely any hold in the Okanagan. Some cases were found, but it is now eliminated and under control, with only nominal loss to the growers of the district.

The selling system has worked even better than was anticipated. All fruit has left f.o.b. and no "tramp cars" have been sent out this year. There has been no glut of any kind of produce in the Vernon district this season. The apple crop will be much more profitable to the growers than last year, for prices are better, and superior marketing facilities have been developed.

DR. F. J. DOHERTY APPOINTED CORONER

Port Coquitlam, Sept. 11.—Dr. F. J. Doherty, of this city, has been appointed coroner for Port Coquitlam. Word of the appointment was received yesterday from Hon. H. E. Young, M.D., provincial secretary. The new coroner is the brother of Dr. Charles E. Doherty, superintendent of mental hospitals for British Columbia, and is connected with the private hospital in this city.

The regular sessions of the conference will begin tomorrow and will end Sunday night.

WORKING MEN DO NOT COUNT IN U.S.

Seems to Gompers That Life of Horse Worth More Than Man's.

Manufacturers, He Says, Oppose All Measures to Protect Employees.

Washington, Sept. 11. — Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, closed his two days' testimony before the house lobby committee tonight with a dramatic warning to the manufacturers of the country, a defense of the legislative activities of the federation, and a bitter attack upon the Sherman anti-trust law as applied to labor unions.

Gompers spoke at the end of a day devoted into the inquiry of the political and legislative efforts of the federation. He began with the inquiry into the "burst in industrial life." There is no feeling between employer and employees such as is known in European nations where industrial life to some extent has taken the place of serfdom and of relations between master and mind, the product of centuries. In Europe, he said, this transition had been accompanied by a deeper feeling for the employee, and in consequence those countries were decades ahead of the United States in legislation for the protection of the lives of the working men.

What is Result?

"The lives of working men count for nothing in the United States," and he. "It seems to me that the life of a horse is of more value than the life of a human being to our manufacturers. If this slaughter does not end I do not know what our industrial, commercial, political and particularly our humane life will come to."

The manufacturers, he added, opposed all acts of legislation designed to protect the working men.

MINERS USED AS TOOL BY OWNERS

Union Said to Have Conspired With Capitalists Against Cheap Fuel.

Operators of West Virginia Try to Prove Conspiracy Before Senate Committee.

Washington, Sept. 11.—West Virginia coal operators continued today their efforts to prove to the senate investigating committee that the United Mine Workers of America had conspired with Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and western Pennsylvania coal operators to unionize the West Virginia mines and eliminate cheap coal from the markets.

Operators testified that in the last few years they had sold coal for the Great Lakes trade at cost or at a loss to keep the mines running the year round. Then their attorneys put in a record that they claimed was evidence that the operators in the four competing states sought to eliminate West Virginia coal from the middle western markets by granting higher wages to the United Mine Workers on condition that the West Virginia mines should be unionized. This included statments of delegates to a joint conference of competing state operators and United Mine Workers in Cleveland in April, 1912, to the effect that the miners must unionize West Virginia before they could expect further increases in Ohio, Pennsylvania and Illinois.

TO BUILD HOME FOR LUMBERMEN

St. Louis, Sept. 11.—The establishment of a home for indigent lumbermen in the allied industries was decided upon tonight by the Order of Hoo-Hoos, which closed its 22nd annual concatenation here tonight. A fund of $2000 was ordered set aside for the relief of the sufferers from the recent Hot Springs fire.

Winnipeg, Man., was chosen as the scene of next year's concatenation. The order also decided to eliminate beer and alcoholic drinks from all business or social gatherings hereafter.

TURN DOWN STRIKE.

Local Trades and Labor Council Refuse Request.

The proposal of the executive of the B. C. Federation of Labor to call a 48-hour strike of all union men in the province against the action of the government in placing militia on Vancouver island where the coal miners are on strike, received short shrift at the hands of the local Trades and Labor council on Wednesday evening, a motion to have the letter filed being passed by a heavy vote.

It was noticed that four of the eight names at the foot of the communication resided on Vancouver island and a fifth is a resident of Fernie, in the Crow's Nest district.

REALTY SHARK HUMAN PARASITE

Western Boards of Trade President Condemns Subdivision Man.

Says His Mean and Crafty Spirit Can Never Know Real Patriotism—Glad He's Gone.

Winnipeg, Sept. 11.—In his address to the associated boards of trade of Western Canada in convention here today, Mr. Isbister, of Saskatoon, retiring president, voiced his conviction that the present year will prove one of the most remarkable in the history of the west, a year which later historians will refer to as heralding a truer economic condition, and a better, safer and sounder general basis. During the year they had seen the passing of hysterical real estate activity when men looked to such speculation as their main source of revenue, and considered their legitimate business as a mere side-line.

Human Parasite.

"We have also witnessed the passing of the sub-division shark. He has mercifully relieved us of his unwelcome presence. His operations have been pernicious, and have affected all western cities," continued the president, adding that it is certain that every thoughtful westerner detested the parasite who had fattened upon our prosperity and the credulity of the world beyond, and whose small and crafty spirit can never know the faintest impulse of honest patriotism. It is my hope that provincial legislation will render such abuses impossible in the future and I congratulate the citizens of Calgary upon their recent invasion toward that desired end."

Safe and Sane.

While convinced there would be as much money made in future western realty and land investments as in the past he predicted that it would be in a safer and saner way.

Crops Never Better.

Speaking of the crops, Mr. Isbister said he had travelled extensively over the country and had been amazed at the magnificent character of the crops. He had never seen crops that averaged better.

"Notwithstanding the scarcity of Money, legitimate business in practically every line has been most satisfactory. Now, just so long as this is the case, it must be obvious that western Canada has not suffered in any important sense," added the president.

LONDON DISCOUNT RATES QUIET

Consols Eased off—Mexicans and Home Rails Feature Day's Trading.

London, Sept. 11.—Money and discount rates were quiet today. The settlement was concluded satisfactorily on the stock exchange. Dealings for the new account broadened and the recent improvement in values further slightly progressed in most directions. Home rails and Mexican securities were the best features, but copper shares, while active, closed below the best. Consols eased off on fears of new loans and Paris steadily supported its favorites.

American securities opened a fraction lower. Trading was quiet during the forenoon and prices moved irregularly. An upward movement in the afternoon was followed by a reaction in the late trading and the list declined under the lead of Union Pacific and Amalgamated Copper.

C.P.R. MAKES GAIN AT MONTREAL

Leading Issues Scored New High Levels—Strong Tone in New York Responsible.

Montreal, Sept. 11.—With the recent upward tendency continued on the local market today, assisted by the strong tone prevailing in New York, leading issues scored new high levels for the movement, notably Montreal Power, C. P. R. and Laurentide. Others of the less active stocks also shared in the advance, Textile, Detroit, Montreal Tramways and Shawinigan showing gains on broken lots.

Laurentide mounted the fartest, going seven and a half points above recent sales to 165 1-2, but dropping back two points at the close. C. P. R. mounted gradually throughout the day from 222 1-4, the opening price, to the last sale at 224 and 224 1-4 asked at the close.

New Line Ready.

Ottawa, Sept. 11.—The Toronto-Ottawa Canadian Northern line will be finished and in operation within six weeks. Sir Donald Mann travelled over the new line from Ottawa to Chaffey locks, on the Rideau lakes, last night in his private car.

FREIGHT RATES UP HUNDRED PER CENT

Recent Advances in Charges From England to Canada Enormous.

British Board of Trade May Take Action—Steamship War to Effect Situation.

London, Sept. 11.—At a meeting of the Manchester chamber of commerce, attention was called to the enormous increase that had recently taken place in freight rates to Canada. In some instances advances were said to be as high as 100 per cent, and the chamber decided to seek a conference on the subject with the board of trade, and H. L. Drayton, chairman of the Dominion railway commission, who is now in London.

Mr. Drayton says that as the result of his visit he is hopeful of bringing about, in conjunction with the British board of trade, the establishment of a British-Canadian freight rates commission. He states that the passenger and freight rate war between the Hamburg-American and the North German-Lloyd Steamship company will completely disorganize the Atlantic conference and force all English lines into the fight.

The latter are notifying the agents throughout the United States and Canada that sweeping reductions in cabin, steerage and freight rates may be made at any time.

The Donaldson line has acquired from the Allan line their service from Liverpool and Glasgow to Montevideo and Buenos Ayres and has also taken over the Allan line steamers engaged in that service. The Donaldson line will enter the river Plate conference of shippers.

EMPLOYMENT AGENCY OPENS NEXT WEEK

First Civic Bureau Under Government Charter Now Ready for Operation Here.

The commencement of the city of New Westminster's employment agency is to be made next week, following the arrival of the Dominion charter. This has been expected for some little time, but once it is in possession of the city authorities, instructions have been given Building Inspector Turnbull to go ahead with the plans, so that by the early part of next week it is expected that the first municipal employment bureau running under government charter, will be established in the Royal City.

The committee of the city council which has this matter in hand will meet today when final plans will be made.

The office of the bureau will be established in the city market, special quarters having been found for this new step in municipal ownership which has been coming to the fore in New Westminster during the past few years.

WOULD TAX GROUND HELD BY RAILWAYS

Associated Boards of Trade Wants Companies to Pay on Land Until in Actual Use.

Winnipeg, Sept. 11.—The great railway companies came in for a smelling this afternoon at the convention of the Associated Boards of Trade of Western Canada, when resolutions relating to the granting and renewing charters and also of land purchases and held free of taxation were passed after discussion.

The resolution regarding land purchases by railway companies and held without taxation on the ground of being required for railway purposes, was passed unanimously, the delegates considering that property purchased by railway companies should be subject to taxation until actually used for railway purposes. It was stated that in places land was held for years where there was doubt as to when it would be used for railway purposes, if it ever was.

Dominion Highway.

A resolution introduced by H. B. Pickett, Moose Jaw, asking that the Domiion government and the governments of Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta provide for the construction and maintenance of a good vehicular highway between the great lakes and the Pacific coast, was passed unanimously, it being considered that such a road was needed and would help the commercial and general interests of the country.

A resolution regarding grain elevators for Western Canada introduced by W. B. Wilson, Medicine Hat, was lost by a majority.

TOO MUCH MONEY.

It must be a terrible thing to have so much money you don't know what to do with it; to know that you've got so many millions coming in and to feel that you've got to get rid of them in some way or another. Such a predicament must be almost as nerve-racking as that in which William Jennings Bryan finds himself, drawing a paltry $12,000 per year as Uncle Sam's secretary of state and driven to lecture on the Chautauqua platform to get molasses to smear on the seldom bread and butter supplied by his employers, the American people.

But to go back to the man who has such a collection of financial nuts in his bushel basket that he has to throw them at every possible pretext that presents itself to him as a means of getting rid of them. The gentleman's name is Andrew Carnegie and, to prove to the world at large that he has more actual, real money than he is capable of handling properly, he has just finished building a palace of peace at The Hague and has presented it to the nations, who know as little about what to do with it as Andy does about disposing of his surplus cash.

Mr. Carnegie, the laird o' Skibo, who made his millions and is making them out of the United States, seems to forget there are any number of spots in that republic where he could have dropped his coin and done some good. But that's not Carnegie's lay. He wants to spend his money, but he wants it to do some advertising for him, so he erects a peace palace at enormous cost and hands it over to the nations, while the special correspondents and special photographers write reams and take scads of pictures of the palace.

Past history has demonstrated that international movements are settled, not in public halls where everybody can hear of them, but at quiet heart-to-heart talks between statesmen and rulers. Carnegie knows that as well as everybody else, but he knows just as well that he'll probably get more advertising out of the gilded palace at The Hague than he would out of some needed slum work in New York, Chicago or Pittsburg, from which latter spot a goodly supply of dollars has poured into his breeks' pockets.

An old English bishop opines that London juries are so preiudiced that they would find Abel guilty of murdering Cain.

Wherever you go, you'll meet the same kind of people. The chronic grouch will be able to locate undesirables in heaven—if he ever gets there himself.

A good time costs money. If you don't believe it, ask the carnival committee of Victoria which, at the moment, is scratching its head trying to raise that ten thousand dollar deficit.

In the east they're going to make drivers of bakery wagons wear white gloves as a measure of precaution against microbes. Perhaps if they'd insist on a general hand-washing all 'round it might do as a starter.

Fur is all the go in fall fashions for ladies and it's a relief to hear it for, judging from the tendencies in summer dress, there be some who were afraid that the next style sheets would look like faithful reproductions of Eve's coming out gown.

The doctors are having a time figuring out the whys in the case of a man who has been asleep for 35 days. That's nothing, look at the faithful few in this town who have been living here since before Dutch Bill was in the halibut business and yet don't believe in the harbor scheme.

The Belgians, who have been drinking rain water in their whiskey since rain and whiskey were invented, have discovered an underground lake that, it is thought, will supply them with wetness in the future. Perhaps if they dig deep enough in Scotland they'll find a subterranean supply of porridge.

It's going some for the advertiser of Canadian scenery when it is discovered we have so many mountain peaks in the Rockies we can't keep track of them all. Here we've been hearing for years that Mounts Brown and Hooker were among the tallest things in the Rocky catalogue and a couple of inquisitive Johnnies come out from England and discover that they aren't there at all.

MADE IN IRELAND TRAIN TO TOUR

Novel Proposal to Let Canada See What Can Be Made on "Ould Sod."

Dublin, Sept. 11.—An interesting scheme for developing Irish trade in Canada was unfolded at a recent meeting of the Cork district trades council in a letter from Messrs. Kirkwood & Sons, 176 Dupont street, Toronto. It stated:

"We have arranged with the Canadian Pacific railroad here for a made-in-Ireland train, consisting of 14 cars, as follows: 10 sample cars, 2 sleeping cars, 1 dining car and 1 baggeg car, the 10 sample cars will be fitted up to receive samples, and whilie have an aisle on one side the full lenth of all cars.

Big Project.

The object is to transport forty representatives of the Irish manufactures from Belfast to Quebec via the Empress steamers from Liverpool, and at Quebec to take a train for a trip overland of 6,600 miles, as far as Calgary, and return via Montreal and St. John, N. B., there to embark on the steamer for Liverpool and Belfast. The round trip will cover 12,000 miles, and will itake up from 75 to 80 days' time, zoving over three transcontinental railroads.

Each of the ten sample cars will be 59½ feet long by 9 feet wide, with an aisle three feet long, leaving six feet for the samples, and each car will be divided as follows: 15 feet by 6 feet with cost $1,800 dollars, 30 feet by 6 feet will cost $3,200, and 50½ feet by 6 feet (a full car) will cost $6,000, free of all other costs for the entire round trip from Belfast, and return to Belfast (four men allowed each car) with no other charges for meals, berths, samples and transportation.

"Perhaps you can get up a train for the south of Ireland without the assistance of the north of Ireland, by taking the matter up with your Dublin chamber of commerce. You will require to have forty representatives go on the trip. The Dublin chamber of commerce have all the details of the made-in-Ireland train, if you desire to take it up with them, so also have the department of technical institutions for Ireland, of Dublin. Our friend, Lindsay B. Johnson, Ballygowen House, Lisburn, Ireland, also has full train, and he is acting for us now. If you will write him for particulars he will send them, and he will cable us to go to Ierland as soon as he is satisfied that the manufacturers will take up the train."

Committee Replies.

Upon this communication a special committee of Cork merchants replied:

"No doubt there is a splendid field in Canada for our exporting manufacturers, and were Irish manufacturers to the number required to combine for the purpose indicated in this letter, much lasting results would be derived therefrom. But there is just as excellent a field here in Ireland, where close upon $15,000,000 worth of goods are unnecessarily imported every year—goods similar in make and no cheaper in price to those we manufacture at home in Ireland.

"What is wanted is for Irish manufacturers, first, to make the home markets secure to themselves, and afterwards to seek to capture as large a measure of the world's trade as they have means and enterprise to do. A made-in-Ireland train carrying specimens of Irish-made goods, with energetic representatives to bring such goods in a business-like way to the notice of the buying public and touring from depot to depot here in Ireland, would have a great and beneficial effect upon Irish trade and commerce, and prove our own vast economic and education advantage to the whole community."

JAILED FOR BEING DRUNK ON DUTY

Train Operator Given Six Months—Union Said to Control C. P. R. Officials

oMntreal, Sept. 11.—"The Telegraph Operators' union controls the officials of the Canadian Pacific railway. The men in directing positions are not at liberty to employ whom they please," so declared J. J. Creelman today after he had appealed to Judge Lafontaine to deal as severely as possible with William J. Smith, telegraph operator at Sortin station, near Montreal West, who was arrested today charged with having been under the influence of liquor while on duty, convicted and given six months in jail.

Smith, who stated that he had been in the employ of the Canadian Pacific railway for the past three months, admitted that he had taken too much liquor on the night in question, but denied that the union controlled the company, and that the managers were not at liberty to make selections when employing men. He objected to being punished for the sins of others.

In asking that an example be made of the accused Mr. Creelman said the action was taken under Article 413 and 431 of the criminal code. The accused, he said, could be sent to the penitentiary for five years, or condemned to pay a fine of $400, or both. There might have been loss of property and loss of life.

Assisted From the Dock.

Smith said he had nothing whatever to do with passenger trains. It was after 11 p. m. when he took the liquor, as he was feeling ill. There were no passenger trains after that hour. He said he was an American citizen, but that should have nothing to do with the case.

J. W. Warne, night agent, testified that Smith had a bottle of whiskey in the operating room, and at 11:30 p. m. he had to remove him from the keys. He said he was afraid of an accident. Smith, he said, was a first-class operator, one of the best in the employ of the company.

Judge Lafontaine said he would not impose the maximum penalty, but under the circumstances he would condemn the accused to six months in jail.

Smith had to be assisted from the dock by the guards.

TRADED EYE DOCTORING FOR DAUCHTER'S MUSIC

Spokane, Sept. 11.—Charging that F. Brueschweiler, musical director, had agreed to exchange musical instruction for optometry services, J. M. Spaid, who was recently sued by Professor Brueschweiler, the latter alleging that he had not been paid for the music lessons, filed an answer in the superior court yesterday together with a $28 counter claim for services.

The Brueschweiler and Spaid controversy was started in the superior court six weeks ago. At that time the musical director filed the suit, alleging he had given Vivian Spaid music lesson to the value of $220, but that he had only been paid $28 of the amount.

In his answer filed yesterday Optician Spaid declares that the musician agreed to give his daughter lessons if he would work on the eyes of Brueschweiler, wife and two daughters.

The optician declares that he performed services worth $220 between September 25, 1912, and March, 1913, on the eyes of the Brueschweiler family.

He asserts that he did not know his daughter Vivian, who took the music lessons, had ever given the music man any sum of money, but that after the suit was filed he found she had secured $28 from her grandfather, which was paid on the lessons. As he declares that the eye services paid for the music lessons the optician asked yesterday that Professor Brueschweiler returned the $28 paid by the daughter.

"The reunion of Christendom is, I believe, the chief Christian problem of today," was the declaration of the Right Rev. I. O. Stringer, bishop of the Yukon, preaching in St. John's cathedral, Winnipeg.

CHILDREN SHOT IN STREET FIGHT

Men Firing at Each Other in New York City Wound Little Girls.

New York, Sept. 11.—East 114th street, between First and Second avenues, one of the most congested tenement sections of Harlem's "Little Italy," was crowded with little girls and boys at play just after the supper hour last night. The girls were skipping the rope and playing games, while a group of boys ran in and out among them playing baseball in the street. On the sidewalks and on the steps of the tenement houses on either side of the street sat the mothers and fathers and the big brothers and sisters.

No one, apparently, took notice of two young Italians who were walking in opposite directions on different sides of the street. Each walked near the curb, dodging among the chairs and boxes which blocked the sidewalks.

When in front of 314 on the south side of 114th street the man going west halted suddenly. He jumped to one side when he saw the Italian across the street pointing a revolver at him. In an instant his revolver was drawn, too. In another moment six shots had been fired. There were cries from many parts of the street, and then the two Italians were seen running in different directions.

No further attention was paid to them, for in the middle of the street lay two little girls screaming with pain. Dozens of children hovered around them and cried hysterically. The fathers and mothers and the older sons and daughters added their voices to the wails. The little girls were carried to the sidewalk and neighborhood doctors were summoned while the older men took up the cry of "police." Patrolman Sullivan of the East 104th street station came around the Second avenue corner on a run, and after making a few inquiries he called for an ambulance. Dr Khan of Harlem hospital arrived twenty minutes later. Hysteria broke out anew when the clattering ambulance was heard in the distance. It required some persuasion to permit Dr. Khan to take the little girls away.

Lilian De Mella, 2 years old, of 308 East 114th street, a baby just learning to walk unassisted, was one of the victims. Philomena Pecoraro, 4 years old, of 306 East 114th street, was the other. Each had a bullet wound in the right leg. The bullet in each case had struck the fleshy part of the leg, it was said at the hospital, and had not touched the bone. It was said that the children would in all probability recover unless unforseen complications arose.

After the excitement in East 114th street had calmed down Detective Mancini and Quaide of the East 104th street station mingled with the people to get descriptionse of the men who had fired the shots. Many said that the two men had disapepared in tenement houses. Not one person was found who could give any kind of satisfactory description of the men. The tenement houses pointed out were searched from cellar to garret, but the men were not found.

FRANCE DIVIDED IN SCHOOL ROW

Clericals and Antis Wide Apart and Country is in a Turmoil

Paris, France, Sept. 11.—Secularism with regard to elementary education in France, has been carried to such lengths that its very foundation has been shaken. The extremes to which the partizans of the non-clerical system and their opponents have gone have carried them beyond the pale of all reason.

Many attempts have been made to modify the fanaticism on both sides, but so far without any practical results. A special effort has now been made to deal with this matter and a decree just issued has fixed the conditions under which each year there is to be drawn up in each department the list of books recognized as suitable for use in the public elementary schools.

The question as to what books shall be used is the one around which the greatest controversy has waged and which has been made the cause of much interruption to the progress of public elementary education in the country.

New Decree Issued.

The minister of education has taken the occasion of the publication of the new decree to address individually the various elementary school authorities, reminding them of the agitation that has raged with regard to the books used in the schools and of the result of the governmental inquiry concerning the regulation in force sice 1882. He also recalled to them that by the findings of this commission the terms under which these regulations were conceived had not been correctly interpreted nor administered in a uniform manner, nor had those responsible realized sufficiently either in the nature or extent of their powers and duties.

It was this, the minister said, that had made necessary the revision of the text of the regulations. In speaking of the spirit in which the revision has been made he said that the state had not for a moment sought to reserve to itself the convenient but dangerous privilege of itself preparing the officials lists of books to be placed in the hands of the departmental authorities.

The state declined to impose upon them any doctrine, moral system, historic dogma or scientific method. It was on the contrary of opinion that public education could be nurtured and inspired only by means of the most liberal freedom. It placed the fullest confidence in the local authorities leaving to them complete initiative.

On the other hand, the state could not ignore that taking into consideration the needs of national education and their duty toward the children, parents and teachers themselves some danger might lie in an unlimited facility of choice and for this reason it devolved on the departmental committees to revise the proposals of the cantonal assemblies.

Officials Responsible.

The visital question, the minister said, was what was the role the authorities had to play? It did not suffice to just formally accept and sign the list presented. It was their duty to remember that they were responsible to the parents of the children for the educational and moral value of the books placed in the children's hands.

In conclusion the minister said that it was not sufficient to merely tacitly sanction, by a kind of professional neutrality, an inefficient material which was lacking both in substance and inspiration. What was needed was that they should become infused with the spirit and broad liberalism and traditional tolerance of the university. They must, moreover, not forget that the minds of children were still undeveloped and incapable of reaction against the written law.

The work which ought to be proscribed out of respect to their tender age, in addition to those which were opposed to moral teaching, to the constitution and laws of the country, were books on violent polemics which provoked or engendered hatred amongst citizens and tended to weaken and compromise the growth of patriotism. The public school which was open to all children without distinction of race, religion or party, should in the interest of them all be a sanctum of harmony and peace, upon the threshold of which disputing argument should be left behind.

CHURCH UNION WITH VENGEANCE

Presbyterians and Methodist Episcopalians Join and Call Themselves Congregationalists.

Odessa, Wash., Sept. 11.—The English speaking churches of Odessa have decided to unite under one head and one denomination and have chosen the name of Odessa English Congregational church.

The churches uniting are the Presbyterian and Methodist Episcopal congregations. The former M. E. building will be the home of the new Congregational church. The Rev. A. H. Morton, former pastor of the M. E. church, has preached his farewell sermon and yesterday marked the opening of the new Congregational church of Odessa. The united members will now call a Congregational minister to take charge of the new work.

The Ladies' Aid societies of the two churches are also united with a membership of 24 and elected officers, while a new Sunday school has been organized.

The sale of the Methodist building to the newly organized Congregational church was referred to Bishop Cook at Walla Walla by the Rev. A. H. Morton, George W. Finney and Charles T. Deets, who received his approval. The Rev. Dr. Scudder of Seattle, superintendent of the Washington Congregational conference, conducted services here and came to aid the new church in its organization.

YOUNG CUT-UPS CAUGHT

Town's Prominent Youths Arrested For Gambling

Grangeville, Idaho, Sept. 11.—Sheriff and his deputies, assisted by 8 or 10 special officers, visited the saloons, pool rooms and other resorts of Grangeville at midnight last night and arrested seven young men on a charge of gambling. The officers also secured several card tables, chips and other paraphernalia which will probably be confiscated. All the saloons were found to be observing the laws, the arrests being made in room adjacent to the town's two pool rooms.

The young men arrested were Herman Miller, Albert Fagan, Earl Fagan, Frank Bowman, F. Rothlisberg, E. M. Allison and Carl Fuller. Friends provided bail in each case.

The accused, several of whom are among the city's best known young men, will be arraigned tomorrow before Justice of the Peace Gerets.

Prosecuting Attorney Hatabaugh declares that the prevailing belief that gambling will be permitted during border days is without foundation. He says that the authorities will take every possible step to prevent violations of the state laws in this regard.

JAPS ARE TRICKY; CHINESE HONEST

After 27 Years in Orient Bible Society Representative Gives His Opinion on Two Peoples.

Calgary, Sept. 11—That China, somnolent and decadent for centuries under the oppressive rule of the tyrannical Manchu dynasty, but now awakening to a full appreciation of its wonderful agricultural, mining and shipping possibilities, will become the greater power in the east, and will in a few years be one of the most prosperous and contented nations of the world, was the opinion expressed by Maurice J. Walker, representative of the National Bible society of Scotland at Chinkiang, northern China. Mr. Walker is in the city on his way to China from Scotland, after spending a year's furlough in that country.

As Mr. Walker has been engaged in the big work of actively assisting in the evangelization of the Chinese empire for 27 years, he speaks with authority on conditions in that country, and his forecasts on the future development of the country are of more than passing value to the student of international affairs.

"Since he has become evangelized and since he has thrown off the yoke of the Manchu government, the Chinaman has shown that he possesses many qualities which go to make a useful and progressive citizen," said Mr. Walker. "The average Chinaman is honest and industrious and when he becomes more enlightened on the ways of the western world, and in consequence adopts western methods in agriculture and business China will be a great country.

Restricting Opium Trade.

"Another thing that augurs well for the moral and commercial awakening of China is the restrictions placed on opium shipping and consumption in China by the new administration. When I went to China 28 years ago fully 40 per cent. of the population were addicted to the use of this destructive drug. Now not over 15 to 20 per cent. of the population use it and the percentage is becoming smaller every day."

Asked as to the attitude of the Chinese government on the immigration of white people into the new republic as permanent citizens, Mr. Walker stated that the government welcomed them. There was apparently no thought of restricting them despite the fact that Chinamen were prohibited from entering the United States and could enter Canada only after paying a heavy poll tax. The fear and hatred of the "foreign devil" had died out and awakened China now realized that the western religion and western methods were the best. Except in times of revolutionary outbreaks white missionaries can travel with safety in all parts of the republic, the new administration, in fact, welcoming them as teachers of religion and propagandists of the highest form of education.

"This friendly feeling was firmly established after the great assistance lent the sufferers in the famine of a few years ago," said Mr. Walker, "when thousands of dollars were raised in Britain and America to buy food for the famine sufferers, and when 2,000 orphans were looked after when their parents had died from starvation or exposure."

While Mr. Walker thinks that the Chinese will make excellent citizens of their own country he does not think that they will ever become real citizens of the Occident.

"The average Chinaman who comes to Canada is a native of Canton where there is great congestion and an utter lack of opportunity for thousands of the citizens," Mr. Walker stated. "The Chinaman from the north rarely leaves his home. He is satisfied to remain there and I believe that when the mines are developed and the country is opened up generally, the influx from China will be very small. A big labor market will be afforded in China and conditions anything like equal, a Chinaman would rather be in China than anywhere else. Even those who come here to live very seldom seek the franchise and most of them want to be buried in China if they die here."

Went Through the War.

Mr. Walker went through the civil war which resulted in the overthrow of the Manchu dynasty as a member of the Red Cross department. He says that it was the most humane rebellion he ever saw and states that the rebels avoided all ruthless and unnecessary slaughter. He expressed the view that compared to the bloodshed in the Balkan war and the inhuman treatment of women and children by the Bulgarians the Chinese conducted an exemplary campaign, especially when it is considered that they were only a semi-civilized race.

Although he has a high opinion of the Chinese Mr. Walker does not think well of the Japs. He says that none of the white people in the east do, and despite the cleverness and agressiveness of the little brown men he thinks it is only a matter of time when they will take second place to the slumbrous and antiquated nation they so badly defeated a few years ago.

"The Jap is tricky and treacherous," said Mr. Walker. "He is smooth and polite and while he is apparently servile he is very ambitious and studious and takes notes on everything he seee. There are thousands of Japs over in this country for the express purpose of stealing all the information they can. Their motto is 'Japan and the Japanese' and British merchants are begining to guard against the engagement of Japanese clerks and employees. For after a few years' service in the old country they slip back to Japan and tel lthe people there how goods made in Britisin can be manufactured in Japan. Japan is a nation of ambitious spies. A Jap is not to be placed in the same class as a Chinaman in my opinion."

MOTHERS' ANXIETY OVER AUTO VICTIM

Three Hundred Besiege Police Station Each One Fearing it is Her Own Son

New York, Sept. 11.—When the news spread through the neighborhood that a small boy had been killed by a motor truck as he was attempting to cross Washington avenue at Sterling Place, Brooklyn, yesterday afternoon, three hundred mothers hurried from their homes in search of their children. The news came that the body of the body had been taken to the Grand avenue police station. The mothers went there, wailing and ringing their hands, many of them hysterical, and attempted to squeeze through the station house door. Lieut. Gray, with difficulty, prevented them from entering, and told them they would have to come in one at a time to view the boy's clothing, and, if they could, establish his identity.

The boy, in crossing the avenue, had run directly in the path of an auto truck driven by Henry Tiederman, of 48 Irving avenue. Tiederman had seen the boy when it was too late. He applied the brakes, but the truck struck the boy, hurling him heavily against an iron trolley pole from which he had dropped lifeless to the pavement. Dr. Nylon, of the Swedish hospital said that his skull had been fractured.

One by one, as Lieut. Gray had directed, the women passed into the rear room of the police station, where lay the clothing of the dead boy. And one by one they all passed out again, for the clothing had never been seen by them before.

Meantime, in her home at 770 Bergen street, Mrs. Wm. T. Foster, the wife of a boss painter was growing worried about the failure of her seven year old son William, to appear for his supper. She waited until 7 o'clock, and then sent her two sons, Frederic and George, to scour the streets for their step-brother. William had gone to see a ball game at the vacant lot at Sterling Place and Washington avenue, the mother said.

Frederic and George had not gone far when they saw the crowd of women at the police station. They asked what had happened. "A boy has been killed," was the reply. They asked to see the clothes and both agreed that the garments were those of their brother. The lieutenant thought one of them had better identify the body, and Frederic, the 15-year old boy, passed into the rear room, and came out again saying that the dead boy was indeed his brother.

CUPID TRAVELS TOO FAST FOR THE LAW

New York, Sept. 11.—Legally separated and a division of their property ordered by the court, but at the same time living happily together in their home at No. 109 Woolsey street, Long Island City, is the strange circumstance in which Mr. and Mrs. Madelon Le Compte, wealthy suburban residents, foundthemselves yesterday.

Last May Mrs. Le Compte brought a suit for separation from her husband, and he in turn demanded that she should deed back to him their Woolsey street property. A decision was handed down yesterday by Justice Townsend Scudder, in which he announced that owing to the radically different temperaments of the parties, they could not live happily together, and granted the separation on condition that Mr. Le Compte would support his wife. She, in turn, was ordered to deed back the Woolsey street home.

But the wings of reviving Cupid had moved faster than the wheels of justice. While the litigation was in court and furies and judges had been debating the strained situation, Mr. and Mrs. Le Compte had met, smiled and taken up their former life with each other again. Neither could be seen last night; but it is thought that they will seek to have the decision granting them a separation made void.

CHANGES MADE IN McGILL MATRIC

Curriculum Altered for 1914—Likely Other Colleges Will Follow Suit.

Montreal, Sept. 11—Several changes in the curriculum of McGill university have been made for the year 1914 in the faculty of arts, the most important being the introduction of a senior matriculation in arts, which enables a candidate to enter the second year of the faculty or arts from the collegiate schools.

The regulations regarding this new matriculation are that the candidate will make at least fifty per cent. of the total marks assigned. The matriculation comprises the subject taken up in the first years of the faculty, and is after suggestions made at a meeting of the educationalists in Toronto, where the proposal was first brought up by President Falconer, of Toronto university, who advocated the adoption of this plan in all Canadian universities.

McGill is the first university in Canada to take up the idea, and it is possible that other colleges will follow suit. The one objection they raise is that the smaller schools are handicapped for the more advanced work. The fees are the same as for the ordinary matriculation. That the changes will be made for the other faculties is not probable, as only a university such as McGill can handle the work in the first years of Science, Law or Medicine.

Formerly a student who had completed all but two of the courses, in the first year of the faculty of arts, and who had made fifty per cent. on the whole, would be advanced to the second year without special permission of the faculty. This has been changed so that a student is allowed to fail in but one subject. The other regulations for advancement remain the same.

PHYSICAL TESTS FOR JAIL MATRON

Civil Service Board Across Border Decides Fair Applicant Must Be Strong

Spokane, Sept. 11.—Candidates for police matrons for the city of Spokane will hereafter be required to submit to the same mental, medical and physical examinations required of policemen and also conform to the age limits of 25 to 35 years.

This action was taken yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the civil service commission following the receipt of an opinion from Corporation Counsel H. M. Stephens, who held that a matron was a full fledged member of the police department and entitled to participate in the police pension fund.

The action of the civil service commission will mean the elimination of a number of applicants over 35 years of age who have applied for the place including "Mother" Wilson, the present temporary appointee of Commissioner D. C. Coates, who is past fifty years old. Fifteen had applied for the position up to last night. There are three matrons and one vacancy to be filled. The examination is set for September 17.

Need Expert's Advice

The minimum and maximum height weight, chest measurements, respiration, waist measurements and other physical requirements for the women officers are yet to be determined, and it is probable that the civil service commission will call in expert advice before finally arranging this schedule.

Dr. J. B. Anderson, city health officer, is the examining physician for the civil service board and it is possible that his advice will be sought as to what constitutes a physically perfect woman. When police matrons were first appointed, they were not under the civil service and no age limit or other requirements were enforced. The place pays $75 per month.

TOOK HER BABY FROM HOSPITAL

Foreign Woman in Hamilton Alleges Ill-Usage of Child—Probe Will Be Thorough

Hamilton, Sept. 11.—That the judicial probe into hospital affairs before Judge Snider, will be thorough, was made evident when his honor threatened to issue warrants for the arrest of witnesses who seemed reluctant to appear and testify.

In opening the proceedings the judge said that while only one complaint had been received in reply to the advertisement, representing that charges be made by anyone who had a grievance, he would cheerfully look into any further complaints that might be made.

The morning session was occupied with the case of Mrs. Mary Gruich, the foreign woman, who complained that her child was allowed to go for hours unattended and had been removed to a public ward after she had paid for its keep in a semi-private ward.

Mrs. Gruich practically repeated her story as told in the newspapers and reiterated her statement that she took the baby from the hospital without permission when she saw how it was treated.

"Insulting to Foreigners."

She swore that frequently when she went to the hospital she noted the insulting attitude of members of the staff towards foreigners. The hearing of the testimony in this case was still in progress at the time of adjournment. It is expected that the sensational charge made by a Toronto weekly paper against one of the controllers to the effect that he was caught by a policeman coming out of the nurses' home at a late hour in the night, will not be reached before the end of the week.

The police were scouring the city this morning in an effort to serve subpoenas on certain witnesses who are trying to avoid being mixed up in the investigation.

SHIP THIRTY-FIVE CARS OF ITALIAN PRUNES

Spokane, Sept. 11.—Close to 35 carloads of Italian prunes will be moving out of the Spokane district by the end of the week, according to announcement by Orris Dorman, president of the Spokane Fruitgrowers' company. The Italian prune season is practically over in the other districts and the local fruit will go to a market, in all probability, that is not crowded.

Moran Prairie will have from 10 to 15 cars and Willow Springs alone will have eight. Opportunity and Sharon will have two cars each. Marshall expects to have four, and there will be at least one each from Orchard Prairie, Green Bluff, Myers Falls, Fairfield and Valleyford. Shipments will start on Friday.

Two cars of Bartlett pears will be shipped by the local company from Green Bluff today.

Charles Hauser, chief inspector of the North Pacific Fruit Distributors, is spending two days with the inspectors of the Spokane sub-central and is going through various sections of the district making sure that the local inspectors of the branches interpret the grade and pack rules correctly to insure uniformity in all the sub-centrals. He is going over the ground with Ben Candee, Harlan Coe, Archibald McLeod and W. H. McKnight, the four general inspector of the Spokane district. They worked with Mr. Hauser yesterday and will continue their conferences and inspections today, going to Green Bluff to supervise the shipment of the two cars of Bartlett pears.

Mrs. McCarthy, a Newmarket octogenarian, was so seriously injured by the falling of a window upon her hand that it was necessary for two of the fingers to be amputated. The old lady refused to take an anaesthetic.

BIG SCOW MISSING ON FRASER RIVER

Mysteriously Disappeared From Steveston Wharf Two Months Ago and Can't Be Found.

What a big place the Fraser river must be after all, when a scow 70 feet long can amble away from a wharf at Steveston two months ago and never be found.

This is what happened some time ago. A light draught scow was tied at the Imperial cannery wharf at Steveston, and between two days vanished and so successfuly that so far all efforts to find it have been unavailing.

The Westminster Trust, Limited is looking for it. This company are the liquidators of the Fraser aVlley Tile & Cement company, to whom the hull belonged. In a notice issued a reward of $10 is offered for information leading to its recovery.

The scow had a 30 foot beam, was 70 feet long and drew but 18 inches, when it disappeared. There is a suspicion that it may have been stolen or cast loose purposely.

Goes After Coal.

The tug Annacis left last night for Seattle in search of a scow of coal, which same she was last week unable to procure because of the great demand and consequent shortage.

U.S. TO MARK ROCK IN GAMBIER BAY

Washington to Take Measures to Shows Where Uncharted Reef off Alaskan Coast Is.

Washington, Sept. 11.—Measures will soon be taken to mark the reef in Gambier Bay, southwestern Alaska, upon which the State of California was lost, according to information received from the department yesterday.

This information together with statistics with respect to the work done in Alaskan waters by the department was contained in a deply to United States Senator Jones' enquiry as to navigation safeguards in Alaska.

A brief summary of the work done by the department during the past few years shows that an increase of 400 per cent has been made in the number of marine safeguards in position in 1910. In that year there were 160 danger signals, including lights, fog signals, buoys and day marks. This number was increased to 276 in 1913.

EMPRESS OF IRELAND MAKES FAST PASSAGE

Quebec, Sept. 11.—The C. P. R. steamer Empress of Ireland with 1153 passengers and mails which docked here at 4:30 p.m. this afternoon has added another to her many fast passages. From the time she cast off her mooring ropes at Liverpool until she was safely moored alongside the dock in Quebec, just six days and two hours elapsed. She entered the harbor at 4:15 p.m., ran up the river, turned, tied up at the dock and commenced to land saloon passengers in 15 minutes.

NO WHEAT BLOCKADE ON GREAT LAKES

Saskatoon, Sept. 11—The movement of wheat towards the head of the lakes is setting in with every indication that it will be farther advanced by Oct. 1 than for many years in this district at that time of year.

The railroads are distributing the empty cars all along their lines where grain in abundance is raised and great activity is manifested.

The C. P. R. yesterday placed 40 cars to be loaded with wheat in the district between Lanigan and Neudorf.

HON. MR. PELLETIER WILL NOT SPEAK

Advises Vancouver Societies He Will Not Give Address—Terminal City News.

Vancouver, Sept. 11.—Hon. Mr. Pelletier, postmaster general of Canada, who is accompanying Postmaster general Samuel, of Great Britain, on a tour of Canada, has advised H. H. Stevens that he does not thing it will be possible for him to address any public meetings in Vancouver during his visit to this city. Several public and semi-public organizations in Vancouver looked forward to a speech from the Canadian postmaster general.

Want Her Deported.

Roma Graham, a resident of Alexander street, whom the immigration authorities have been endeavoring for some time past to deport, was arrested again yesterday by an officer of the immigration department. The arrest was the outcome of the recent order made by Mr. Justice Murphy, staying the woman's deportation pending an appeal.

Railway Commission's Session.

As the representative of the Vancouver board of trade in the rate case, W. A. Macdonald, K.C., has received notification that the next special session of the board of railway commissioners in Vancouver has been fixed for September 29. It is expected the inquiry into the rates will be held at this session. Mr. Macdonald has also been commissioned to urge the case on behalf of the British Columbia government.

People Missing.

Several enquiries have been received at the police headquarters this week for the adresses of missing relatives. A telegram from Victoria yesterday asked the detectives to endeavor to locate Alexander McMuir, a resident of Fairview, whose nephew died suddenly in Victoria this week. The person asking for the information was M. R. McLeod, 1131 Pandora street Victoria. Mrs. Armstrong, a resident of Newcastle-on-Tyne, England, asks the police to look for her son, Joseph, who was last heard of some months ago, when he was working on the Point Grey road, having his mail addressed to Kerrisdale postoffice. Mrs. J. Landreth, 73 Stillson street, Rochester, N.Y., is very anxious about the whereabouts of her son Homer Spinning, sometimes known as "Jack."

Whites Only.

At a meeting of the Ward Seven Conservative association, held at Fisher's hall, Beaconsfield, last evening, a resolution was passed urging that the Dominion government be asked to compel all companies receiving government subsidies to employ white labor exclusively. C. E. Tisdall, M.L.A., and R. S. Pyke, president of the Vancouver Conservative association, were among the speakers at the gathering. Mrs. William McConkey, president of the Pioneer Political Equality league, spoke on the women's suffrage question.

Extended Time.

In view of the fact that the municipalities financially interested in the Second Narrows bridge project had not been able to meet the call of 5 per cent. on the amount of stock subscribed, it was decided at a meeting of the directors of the Burrard Inlet Tunnel & Bridge company yesterday afternoon to extend the time limit for two months. Vancouver has met the liability but the city of North Vancouver and the municipalities of North Vancouver and West Vancouver have not made any payments on the extra stock call. The payments were due on Sept. 2.

MADE IT IN TWENTY MINUTES, BUT NOT FITTED

Paris, Sept. 11.—Tube travelers who were recently astonished to see six young women hurriedly cutting and making a fashionable gown while riding in a tube train have learned that the unusual performance was the result of a wager that the modistes could not fashion a dress complete during a trip from the Porte d'Orleans station to the Porte de Clignancourt, a 20-minute journey.

The design was submitted to the dressmakers as they boarded the train and as soon as they had taken their places the six fell to their task in whirlwind fashion. Two of them made sleeves, another the bodice, and a fourth the skirt, while the fifth and sixth attached hooks and eyes and trimmings. As the train drew up at Clignancourt the girls stepped from their car and held out the finished dress with a shout of triumph.

The dress is of pink chiffon designed in the latest style, with a draped tunic and lavish ornamentation.

THIEF CAUGHT WITH FIVE PURSES IN HIS POCKETS

Toronto, Sept. 11.—After being chased by a citizen through Eaton's store a man who gives his name and address as Harry Cohen, 130 Claremont street, was arrested and held on a charge of vagrancy, although he is suspected of taking $5 from the purse of a lady visitor to the city.

Cohen stepped into a crowded elevator at one of the upper floors and stood by the side of the woman. The lady did not seem to notice her loss until she had reached the ground floor, when, on the suggestion of the operator of the elevator, she notified a floor walker. In the meantime an observer followed Cohen, who, when upon discovering that he was being pursued, commenced to run. He was captured by his pursuer on James street.

When searched at the detective office on his person were found five purses and a quantity of car tickets and he could not account intelligently for having them in his possession.

JAPANESE RESENT MONROE DOCTRINE

It Hits Them Hard and They Are Inclined to Rebel—Bars Them From Mexico.

The latest American interpretation of the Monroe doctrine continues to elicit attention in the Japanese exchanges to hand on the Sanuki Maru. The Tokio Asahi among others observes that the Americans brandish the doctrine against Japanese immigration in Mexico, not for the sake of the doctrine itself, but because they want to prevent Japan's future activity in that country in view of the strong Mexican pro Japanese movement. Last summer when a rumor concerning the lease of Magdalena Bay by some Japanese was afloat, the foreign affairs committee of the American senate conducted an investigation which resulted in the finding that the rumor was entirely groundless. Yet the whole upper house, with the exception of only four senators, passed the resolution subsequently introduced that no point of strategical importance on the American continent should be placed at the disposal of any company connected with a foreign government. Even at that time, however, the question did not affect Japanese immigration to Mexico. How is it, then, that America should at this moment arbitrarily expand the meaning of the Monroe doctrineto such an extent as to make it touch the immigration question? As hardly needs pointing out, commerce and immigration are the only objects that Japan has in view in approaching the continent of America. Truth to tell, being unable as things are now to attend satisfactorily even to the polical commotion in Asia, Japan can scarcely afford to entertain any ambitions concerning the continent across the Pacific.

No Intention.

Inasmuch as the fact is clear that Japan has never for a moment contemplated the establishment of an immigration company of a semi-political nature, in the existence of which the Americans pretended to believe, it appears that they refer to the Monroe doctrine for the sole purpose of preventing a further increase of Japanese immigrants in Mexico, in view of the possible restriction they themselves may suffer in their future activities in that land. But if such be the case, why do they remain unconcerned towards Germany, who has already dispatched well night four hundred thousand immigrants to Brazil since the declaration of the Monroe doctrine? Viewed from every standpoint, it is not only against diplomatic etiquette but the height of futility for any third party to call for restrictions when one country is about to dispatch immigrants to another by mutual agreement. Certainly the motion introduced in the house of representatives against Japanese emigration to Mexico, must be an entirely unnecessary, and, in some respects, meaningless proposition.

Convenient Pretext.

The Niroku declares that America has got a very convenient pretext in the form of the Monroe doctrine for interference in the affairs of others. The doctrine, however, is, in its very nature, destined to become a dead letter in the eyes o the powers, in view of its abuse by America. It has now almost assumed the complexion of imperialism, and can no longer command the esteem of the powers, inasmuch as its significance has become empty on account of America's interference, in spite of it, in the Moroccan affair, the Jewish question (in Russia) the Manchurian question and the situation in China. The Monroe doctrine is in effect an insult to the different countries of the American continent. Canada as a British possession, while all the republics of South and Central America are absolutely independent Latin countries. They are in no way obliged to accept American dominance. The Monroe doctrine, in this sense, is destined to suffer destruction from within. In short the Monroe doctrine is no better than a creed of America's own. She may alter its meaning or expand its scope as she pleases, but it rests entirely with the powers, including all the Latin American republics, whether they recognize the doctrine or not.

DOWNWARD MOVEMENT IN WALL STREET

Speculation Colorless, But Undertone Good—Union Pacific Showed Two Point Loss.

New York, Sept. 11.—Speculation was colorless with a narrow movement downward. Trading lacked the strenuous tone of yesterday, but there was no severe pressure of stocks and the small decline which occurred was due largely to realizing sales following the rise of the preceding session. It was devoid of important developments. The undertone throughout was good.

Union Pacific's buoyant rise of yesterday subsided and it showed a loss of nearly two points at its low figure. Although yesterday's rise was based on rumors of a cash bonus for stockholders, the quotation was not affected by announcement that the directors had taken no action to distribute the proceeds of the sale of the roads, Southern Pacific holdings.

In the afternoon there was increase in the afternoon there was increased selling of steel and amalgamated, but toward the close the market stiffened. Sentiment was cheerful. The favorable showing of the steel and copper statements, ending of the drought in some portions of the corn belt and the recent improvement in the investment market all were referred to an indicating a betterment in fundamental conditions. Weakness of the grain markets was said to be the basis for bidding up the grangers in the late trading.

BARCELONA TRACTION FEATURES AT TORONTO

Toronto, Sept. 11.—The feature of the Toronto stock market today was the continued strength and activity in Barcelona traction which made its debut yesterday. The price rose over three points. A feature of the dealing, however, was that they were on a delayed delivery basis, indicating that the scrip is on the other side of the ocean. Brazilian has apparently made way for the new favorite and is less active, closing at 93¼. The Cement boom subsided and the stock went back to 33¼.

LIVERPOOL CABLES LOWER WHEAT PRICES

Winnipeg, Sept. 11.—Wheat prices were tending lower again today on the easier Liverpool cables, weather generally favorable and heavy receipts. Oats and flax were both weaker. The cash demand for all grades of wheat was good but few offerings were on the market and export enquiry was more active. American wheat and corn markets were also showing weaker.

Winnipeg wheat opened 1-8 to 1-4 lower and closed 3-8 to 1-2 lower.

Minneapolis opened unchanged to 1-4 higher and closed 7-8 lower for all months.

Cotton Steady.

New York, Sept. 11.—Cotton closed steady at a net loss of 1 to 8 points.

CANADA IMPORTS MUCH BUTTER

Home Market Increased and None Was Shipped Last Evening to United Kingdom

According to statistics just prepared for the past year, for the first time in over sixty years Canada shipped no butter to the United kingdom. Canada is now, on the other hand, classed among the butter importing countries. During the last fiscal year there was an enormous increase, and the butter imports reached a total of 7,000,000 pounds, mostly from New Zealand.

The total exports of butter were the smallest on record, amounting approximately, to half a million pounds, which consisted chiefly of tinned butter to the West Indies and dairy butter to the United States. There was also a decrease during the year in exports of cream to the United States on account of the high price of butter in Canada.

Home Market Grows

The dairy branch of the agricultural department, Ottawa, claims that the decline in Canada's export butter trade and the increase in imports of butter do not indicate any decline in the dairying industry. The growth of the home market is given as the principle cause in the situation. According to officials, the production of milk in Canada is larger at the present time than it ever was in the history of the country. It is also claimed that in addition to the increase in consumption, due to a greater population, there is a large per capita increase in the use of milk, cream and ice cream.

Because a farmer keeps a herd of dairy cows, it does not necessarily follow that each one in the herd is especially adapted for dairying. The type and general appearance may be good, the temperament and disposition may promise fair results, but the real value of each one is to be measured actually and practically by just her individual yield, not the average of the herd as a whole at the end of a full season's work.

Over and over again, when dairy farmers have cracked up the production of each cow, there have been found wonderful surprises and serious disappointments. Those "good-lookers" have turned out to be poor producers; the despised cow of insignificant appearance has often proved to be a splendid money maker when her moderate cost of feed has been deducted from the large total yield of milk and fat.

Some Milk Tests

Some cow testing figures recorded by the dairy division, Ottawa, show great contrasts. For instance, two cows yielding the same weight of milk may differ in production of fat by 175 pounds. Two cows the same age may differ in profit by $25. The aged cow may do far better than the five-year-old. Two mature cows in the same herd have been known to differ in production by eight thousand pounds of milk. One herd of twelve cows last year gave thirty-six tons of milk more than another herd of twelve. How are those vital points to be definitely ascertained by the practical dairyman? Such facts are brought to light when figures are used. It is just as simple as ABC. Keep records of individual productions; it takes scarcely ten minutes per cow per month, and abundantly pays every dairyman.

RITCHIE BLAMES POLLOK FOR FIGHT FAILURE

American Says Welsh's Manager's Demands Unreasonable—May Fight Chicago Man.

Harry Pollok, manager of Freddie Welsh, is the cause of the recent boxing fiasco, according to Willie Ritchie when interviewed in Seattle yesterday morning.

The American lightweight champion was in a disgusted frame of mind when he landed off the C. P. R. boat and frankly informed the newspaper men the reason why he quit Vancouver and his scheduled fight with Welsh, the British champion.

"I have been imposed upon, unfairly treated and am disgusted with the whole business," said Ritchie.

According to reports Hugh Springer, the dark horse of the Brighouse arena, was not satisfied with the plans made by Chet McIntyre and came to Ritchie at the last minute, after everything had practically been arranged, and argued with Ritchie that he would not abide with the agreements made by McIntyre.

"Then again," continued Ritchie, "Pollok was anything but fair in his actions. His demands were unreasonable and—but I have said enough."

Worrying Him.

It was evident, according to the Seattle interview, that Pollok was aiming to worry the American, knowing that the champion was practically his own manager and took an active interest in his business relations.

One thing followed another, for which the Californian lightweight, with his desire to prove to the public that he was the better man than Welsh stood for, until things became too hot for him so he just quit.

To back up Ritchie's argument about Pollok's desire to worry him, the following carbon copy of a press agent mailed to the sporting editor of The News, from Pollok's office in Vancouver, and which was published in the sport columns of this paper on Tuesday morning under the heading "Managers Spar," furnishes interesting reading at this stage of the dispute.

A portion of the letter is again published for the edification of the local fight fans:

"Vancouver, Sept. 7.—Again the old saying that a match well made is half won comes to the fore in the negotiations between Freddie Welsh, British lightweight champion, and Willie Ritchie, holder of the world's title, for their twenty round battle on the afternoon of September 20 in this city.

"In this case the generalship of Harry Pollok's Welsh's manager, stands out strongly throughout the entire story of the match, Pollok appearing to have carried almost every point, despite the fact that he was handling a challenger and not a champion.

Pollok put Welsh at a low weight, and then allowed him to build up to 142 before starting active work. On the basis of the low weight actually made by Welsh, Pollok insisted that the battle be staged at 133, and forced Ritchie, lightweight champion, to ask for a higher poundage.

"Ritchie came here with Eddie Graney in mind as the third man in the ring. Pollok refused to accept Graney, but did not make his decision known until Ritchie was in Vancouver, and the men prepared to draw up articles. Then Pollok forced the Ritchie interests to name Jim Griffin, who, with Biddy Bishop, of Tacoma, formed the two Pollok stood ready to accept.

"During the entire week Ritchie has been haunting the officers of the club, keeping engagements with Pollok as late as 10 o'clock at night, while Welsh has been quietly training and getting his regular sleep. As a result, Ritchie is at least a week late in starting his training, and Welsh, instead of being looked upon as the under-dog, appears to have a first class chance of entering the ring in better shape than the champion."

McIntyre O.K.

Ritchie expressed himself well satisfied with Chet McIntyre, whom he claimed had done everything in his power to make the affair a success, but when Chet met the American at Seattle the "nothing doing" sign was hung out.

Another Fight.

Chicago, Sept. 11.—Willie Ritchie lightweight champion, who recently called off his bout with Freddie Welsh, is soon to appear in a Wisconsin ring against Charlie White, the Chicago lightweight. Ritchie leaves Sadn Francisco tomorrow for the east and stated in a wire that he would be willing to meet White. The champion is said to be in the best of shape so that he will need but little training for the battle.

SOCCER IN SAPPERTON

Rovers and Burquitlam Should Draw Crowd Saturday.

With both teams practicing every evening, the prospect of good soccer on Saturday afternoon, when the Rovers and Burquitlam clash, is creating no little interest among the fans.

This is the only scheduled attraction of the afternoon in the city so that the members of the other teams in the league will be on deck to watch operations.

An error crept in the report yesterday when it was mentioned that the grounds would be Moody park. It now develops that Sapperton is the location, thus placing the two aggregations on a neutral field.

Jimmy Craig will officiate.

Hold Paper Chase.

The younger members of the Y. M. C. A. hold a paper chase tomorrow morning, starting from the association building.

PELKEY HEDGES ON HIS CONFESSION

Still Maintains Calgary Match was a Frame-up, But May Make Settlement.

Victoria, Sept. 11.—Arthur Pelkey, who is one of the claimants to the world's heavyweight title, is beginning to hedge on his statement made to the sporting editor of the Portland Oregonian the other night, although by no means does he deny the import of the confession as to frame up between himself and Tommy Burns in a match at Calgary last March.

Regarding his previous announcement that he intends to break with Burns, who have a five year contract on his services, Pelkey said he did not know exactly what he would do. He would be in Calgary during the next two weeks when he would see Burns and perhaps come to an amicable agreement.

The New York heavyweight is evidently disgusted with the boxing game and while he is a claimant for the title, it is not at all sure whether he will go through with his plans regarding a match with Gunboat Smith, who is a strong contender for the distinction formerly held by John Arthur Johnson.

TONIGHT WILL TELL.

R. A. & I. Society Will Decide on Pro. Lacrosse for the Fair.

Tonight will decide whether professional lacrosse will be staged at the annual exhibition or no. The R. A. & I. society have another meeting scheduled for this evening when the matter of staging a minto cup series between the V. A. C. and the Salmon Bellies will come for final discussion and decision.

In event of the series being thrown out by the exhibition authorities, the two teams will probably play off for the cup on Saturday, September 20 and Saturday, September 27, at Queens park.

SPORT CHATTER.

(By the Potter.)

The first basketball game of the season was played in the Columbian college gym when a pick-up team composed of former high school and college boys defeated the college quintette by a score of 44-19.

The Western Canada baseball league could not finish the season without another scrap. Instead of Pres. Gray suspending one or two teams, it remained for Moose Jaw to refuse to play off in the post series. The matter was smoothed out by awarding a pennant to Saskatoon and still another to Moose Jaw.

A world's record in the number of tie games was established at Binghampton, N.Y. last week when two checker players finished a series of 30 tie games. From latest accounts the contestants are still trying to arrive at a decision.

Who ever heard of John Lester Johnson before he ran up against Sam Langford last Monday at New York. John Lester was reputed to be the champion heavyweight of South Africa but after his showing against the Boston Tar Baby, lasting just 30 seconds, he ought to retire to Northern Rhodesia and live among the natives.

Jimmy Muphy, late president of the National Lacrosse union, and one of the best known sporting men in the east, is slated to lead the Tecumsehs in the hockey league this winter. Spaldings, the sports outfitters, have secured control of the team. It is reported that several of the Ct. Michael's amateur team, including Jerry Laflamme, Rankin and Jimmie Disette are being sought.

The Burquitlam people are enthused over the prospects of the soccer team of that place and when the first city team pays a visit to this rising hamlet the sidelines will be black with supporters of the red and blue.

Every team in the Big Four with the exception of the Torontos made money this season. The stir that R. J. Fleming made when he refused to play against Buck Yeaman hurt his gates considerably during the latter part of the season. This will probably be the last season for Fleming if the deal for Toronto to purchase the street railway goes through. R. J. is slated to a good position with the C. N. R. so he should worry. Jim Kavanaugh made a name for himself by steering the Irish-Canadians to the championship and what pile George Kennedy lost last season has been made up by big crowds in attendance this summer. Nine thousand were present at the Labor day game which is going some considering counter attractions on that date.

Bill Graham admits he was outpointed in a hockey deal this week, by which Ben Robb of the Beavers secured Spence, who is said to be some speed artist with the puck. Ben is making preparations to repeat his success of last winter when he landed the McRae trophy, although by all appearances he will have a strong opposition from the other three teams.

No decision has yet been made by the local hockey magnates as to appointing a manager for the coming season and little will be done until the return of Lester Patrick from the east when the Coast league plans will be unfolded. Ran McDonald was in town from Kamloops yesterday and was noticed holding a confab with the local executive.

The Moose and Bankers have arranged a practice game at Queen's park for Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The soccer players believe they have a legitimate kick at the condition of Moody park, which they claim is a cross between a gravel pit and a rolling prairie.

GOLF COMPETITION

The ladies' monthly competition held by the Vancouver Golf and Country club was played on the Burquitlam links yesterday.

The senior prize was won by Miss J. Peele and the junior prize by Mrs. A. C. Eddy.

The following team has been selected to meet the ladies of the Jericho club on the Burquitlam links on Sept. 18:

Mrs. J. E. Jenkins, Mrs. F. Page, Miss J. Peele, Mrs. Andrew Stewart, Miss A. Corbould, Mrs. T. D. Sheriff, Mrs. C. Tweedale, Mrs. Yuengling, Mrs. F. Elkins, Miss M. Bunce, Mrs. Eddy and Miss Aglivy.

The following were selected as reserves: Miss G. Bunce, Mrs. A. G. Stewart, Mrs. F. H. Parks and Mrs. Bond.

The first round of the gentlemen's autumn competition will be played next Saturday. All entries must be in the hands of the secretary by 1:30 on that day.

WORKED FOR DOMINION SINCE YEAR 1863

Ottawa, Sept. 11.—R. W. Stephens, deputy clerk of the senate, and one of the best known officials of the upper house, died today at the age of 74 of paralysis. He had been ill for a number of months. The deceased had been an employee of the Dominion government since 1863.

WAS NO PIPE DREAM

Moose Smoker Perfecto—Old Chums of Sporting World Dismiss Craven Thoughts.

For possessing the art of staging a successful smoker the officials of the Moose lodge last evening just about copped the cookie.

Right from the drop of the hat the proceedings in honor of the baseball team and teams was of the highest order and the person who went home without enjoying himself can be ranked a confirmed pessimist.

First on the list was the presentation of the medals, cups and watch fobs, all of which went to members of the Moose baseball team for their stellar display in the city league and the post series games played this summer.

Mayor Gray performed the honors of making the presentation speech, ably supported by Alderman Lynch. Both of these gentlemen have been out and out rooters for the city league this summer and it was a pleasure, declared the mayor, to present the trophies which had been won by fair means on the baseball diamond.

Manager Bill Graham responded with a neat but brief speech.

Of the attractions, the wrestling display by Snowball O'Connor in throwing two men, Walter Mortison and Lefty Peterson, in two falls each, was of the highest order, both O'Connor and his two opponents coming in for all kinds of praise by their exhibition.

Boxing de Luxe.

Next, but not least, was the boxing exhibition of Bombardier Doc Wells, taking the part of Freddie Welsh, and Rankin Scott as the Bowery Kid. The affair was humorous and then some, Wells unslinging the English, shall we say the London, accent with quantities galore, besides gaining the decision over Scotty immediately after the latter had sent his contestant down for the count of nine and a half.

Show Folk There.

Other attractions were W. Matthews with a club swinging display, Peck's orchestra with selections while the male members of the Royal stock company were also on deck, to enliven the proceedings.

The smoker was an excellent one to start off the winter season, bringing all the fans in the sporting world together and demonstrating that the Royal City for its loyalty to clean sport is there with the goods.

WILL BE CLOSE

Connie Mack Explains How He Will Beat Out the Giants in World's Series.

Philadelphia, Sept. 11.—"This will be the hardest fought world series that the country has ever seen," observed the long-legged, silent Cornelius McGillicuddy, a few days ago.

Mack is as talkative as a crutch. The only way Friend Writer could get him started was by remarking that the Giants will cop this 1913 pennant through superior pitching.

"I have some young pitchers who will give the Giants a tussle," broke out the silent Irishman, "and they are Brown, Shawkey, Houck and Bush. Now, mind you, I am going to have in this world's series two old timers, Plank and Bender. These veterans took part in the first battle I had with McGraw, also the second, and they are going to be the features in this series, providing McGraw and I win out in our respective leagues.

"I realize that McGraw's club is stronger than it was in 1911," continued the Philadelphia strategist, "and I can see that my men have a battle ahead of them.

Depends on "Break of Luck"

"No, I won't say that the Athletics will outhit New York. I suppose a good deal will depend upon the break of luck. Now I want to tell you about the first time my club bumped up against New York. You can draw your own conclusions. No manager is going to knock an opposing club in a world's series, nor is he going to alibi. But here were the facts in 1905:

"I had Topsy Hartsell, Lord and Socks Seybold in the outfield and the Cross brothers, Danny Murphy and Harry Davis in the infield. I will say that all those boys were worn out when we tackled the Giants. Why, just imagine, we won the championship of the American league only one day before the season closed.

"Of course, I figured on pitching Rube Waddell in the game and that erratic southpaw threw me down. The ball players were all busting up one another's straw hats. Rube, who could outbox anybody on the club, broke half a dozen hats and then a certain member of the club soaked Rube with a uniform bag. It injured the southpaw's arm. That is the truth so far as Waddell's failure to appear in the 1905 series is concerned.

"Mathewson shut us out three games and McGinnity did it once. Bender also shut out the Giants, and I don't mind predicting that he is just as good now as he was then. Plank's games were 1-0 and 3-0. I had great pitching in that 1905 series, but Waddell's absence handicapped me.

Outplayed Giants in 1911.

"Well, you want to hear something about the contest in 1911? Say, I don't see what the American public cares to know about the inside stuff on that. We outplayed the Giants in every department.

"The experts thought my club would fall down on the catching end. Say, Thomas and Lapp both caught excellent games, and I have a youngster now, this Schang, who will deliver the goods, no worry.

"No, neither Danny Murphy nor Harry Davis will get into this coming series, but they will be there with some timely advice. By club fought the Giants in a disabled condition in the first battles. They were right in 1911, and although it is doubtful whether Coombs can come back, I will have a well conditioned club this year.

"McGraw's club looks so much better than it did in 1911 that if I were a betting man I would hay that it is an even wager between these two clubs, always supposing that each cops the pennant.

GIRDLE BRITAIN WITH WATERPLANES

Stations to Be Established 50 to 100 Miles Apart—Plan to Be Carried Out at Once

"We are able to state on high authority that it is the intention of the admiralty, with all possible speed, to encircle the coast with a girdle of water plane stations 50 to 100 miles apart," says the London Daily Mail. This is due to the fact that the waterplane—Britain's best weapon of defense—has come through the first stage of the naval manoeuvres with flying colors."

In the naval manoeuvres the waterplane has proved invaluable as a scout and as a means of discovering the approach of the submarine. This too, not in a single instance, but on a dozen occasions. The naval waterplanes stationed at Cromarty discovered a red submarine approaching on the surface and brought about her capture.

Again, a lieutenant in a waterplane from the Yarmouth naval air station detected a submarine cruising off Hunstanton. Her number was read and she would in war have fallen a ready prey to surface ships. Similar experiences have been gained on the south and north coasts.

It has been ascertained that the submarine can be easily seen from the waterplane in clear weather so long as she is running on the surface. Yet in this position she is almost invisible at a distance to the large ship, as her conning tower is hidden by the waves.

Below the surface the submarine can be made out when thewaterplane is overhead or nearly overhead. The airman looking down is not baffled by the optical effects of the waves.

Thus the first effect of the waterplane is to relieve the large ship's crew of the intense nervous strain which is felt when there is peril of a sudden blow from an invisible antagonist. It's second effect is to hamper the submarine's movements and greatly to diminish her tactical value. She can no longer hope to cruise unseen, and will have to keep much farther below the surface than she does at present and to be far more wary.

HUNDREDS IN BURGLAR CHASE

Everybody Takes a Hand When Mary Kearney Raises the Cry For Help.

New York, Sept. 11.—A chase along the ocean front of Rockaway park brought out a thousand persons at 10 o'clock last night and ended in the catpure of Jacob Bugler, 28 years old, a plumber, of 372 Vanderbilt avenue, Brooklyn.

The chase started when Mary Kearney, a maid at the Emmett house, Fourth avenue, near the ocean front, rushed to the porch screaming "Burglars! burglars!"

A number of men who were enjoying their last cigars on the porch saw a man jump out of a window on the ground floor of the house and started after him. The chase led through the sand along the beach to Third avenue, thence to the Boulevard, to Second avenue and back again to the beach. From each hotel and boarding house poured men and women, who joined in the chase.

William C. Smith, of 30 Third avenue, an athlete, caught the fleeing man and held him until Police Perkins of the Rockaway station came up.

"I didn't do anything," said Bugler.

"Yes, he did," wailed Mary Kearney. "He took all my money from a drawer in my room. I saw him take it. He wore a mask."

"I was just calling on Irene," expostulated the captive.

"We'll see about that," said Perkins, leading Bugler back to the Emmett house. It was found that a maid named Irene was employed there, but it was said that she had been out all the evening.

Just before the prisoner was taken to the police station Frederick Koenig of 20 Second avenue came along with a little white bag, which Mary Kearney immediately recognized as the work of her own hands. The fleeing man had dropped it in front of his house, Mr. Koenig said. The bag contained $63 and Mary Kearney was happy. But she can't get her money until Bugler is arraigned before a magistrate in the morning.

JAP BANKS PAY HIGH INTEREST

Country Poor and Financial Institutions Offer as High as Eight and Half Per Cent.

Toronto, Sept. 11—After an absence of seven years in Japan as one of the missionaries of the Methodist church, Rev. W. G. Connolly has returned to Canada. Mr. Connolly gives some interesting sidelights upon the Japanese people. He has been stationed at Shidzuoka, and one of the greatest supports of the church there is Hon. S. Ebara, the distinguished Japanese educationalist who recently visited Canada. "Mr. Ebara preaches more than any ordained man in Japan," said Mr. Connolly, referring to the great work done by the Japanese convert.

Speaking of financial conditions in Japan, the missionary stated that at Shidzuukka the banks were willing to pay eight and one-half per cent. on deposits of $25 and upwards for six months, while in the large cities of Tokio and Yokohama the rate of interest was as high as six per cent., indicating clearly the scarcity of money. "The people are poor," said Mr. Connolly, "but still they are a wonderful people, wonderful. The working man in Japan earns a sum equal to about fifty cents for a day's work, but although that sounds small it is equal to a man earning $1.00 or more in this country." Then the missionary had to acknowledge that there were some traits in the Japanese that beat Canadians easily. "Take the case of the public servants," he said, "from bank officials down, they are as anxious to help the tourist in every direction, and their politeness is beautiful. The word for 'traveler' in Japan is 'guest;' there is the 'ship-guest' on boar dthe steamer, and the 'train-guest' traveling on the railways, and train boys, conductors, brakemen and stewards treat travelers as their guests, and this makes traveling very pleasant in Japan."

Country Is Changing.

The country is in such a transient state that it is difficult to make definite statements about the progress of the Japanese. One of the most contradictory sights to be seen in Tokio is that of an electrical watering cart going through the streets, while in one of the back streets a man may be seen carrying water in two buckets slung across a pole. It is this condition of affairs that, as a rule, makes a missionary very chary about passing comments upon the Japanese civilization, because there are after all great differences, according to the returned missionary.

Mr. Connolly, who is accompanied by his wife and one child, left Japan on June 7 and traveled home by way of the Suez canal and Italy.

SHORTER DAY FOR CIVIC AND GOVERNMENT WORKS

Montreal, Sept. 11.—The Montreal Trades and Labor council has decided on the recommendation of its executive committee that it would introduce at the labor congress for the Dominion, which is to be held there this month, a motion that the Canadian body insist upon an eight-hour day for all government and municipal works.

It was said by the supporters of the motion that all laborers for the city of Montreal, no matter in what line, put in a ten-hour day. One fiery delegate drew a picture of the "clerks" after working only from 9 o'clock to 5, casting the eye of scorn upon the "poor working man' 'who couldn't even get a seat in a car.

Delegate James Drury of the Typographical union, on the other hand, thought that there would be some government or municipal laborers who would not want to take a shorter day because of the reduction in pay.

INDIA'S PROGRESS IN TEN YEARS

Landmarks in Her History Reviewed in Bulky Blue Book Just Issued.

London, Sept. 11.—India's progress during the past ten years is narrated in a blue book of nearly 430 pages which has just been issued. The period dealt with covers events that will stand as landmarks in the history of India. Its first year saw the great ceremonial of the Delhi Durbar of January 1, 1903; its last the visit to India of the king-empress, in fulfillment of his majesty's wish to announce his coronation in person to the people of India.

Memorable events of the intervening years were the first visit of their majesties, as Prince and Princess of Wales, in 1905-6, and the proclamation of the king-emperor to the princes and peoples of India on November 2, 1908, the fiftieth anniversary of the transfer of the government of India to the crown.

Allusion is made to the great earthquake in the Punjab in 1905, when 20,000 lives were lost and 100,000 houses destroyed, and to the local famines and floods experienced during the decade.

The introduction closes with a brief review "of the various connected tendencies and developments referred to comprehensively under the now familiar phrase 'unrest in India,' which constitute collectively the distinctive feature of the period covered by this statement. To the word 'unrest' as here used no precise or limited meaning can be attached. It has always been recognized that the manifestations of unrest have included, besides elements due to seditions or anarchical agitation, other elements arising out of the natural aspirations of the educated classes. On the one hand, excesses, leading in many cases to violent crime, have called for repressive measures; on the other, it has been the aim of the government to encourage healthy growth, and to satisfy as far as possible legitimate hopes."

There has been noticeable in recent years a certain quickening of interest, among the more educated classes in India, in questions affecting the public welfare—education, sanitation, and the development of Indian industries. With this has gone a desire to take a larger share in the work of administration. The momentous changes in the constitution and functions of the legislative councils introduced under the Indian Councils Act of 1909 had their origin in a recognition of these aspirations, and a desire to entrust to the leaders of the Indian peoples a greater share in legislation and government, and wider opportunities of expressing their views on administrative measures.

U. S. LAW NEEDS MORE JUSTICE; LESS FORM

London, Sept. 11.—The Times, in an editorial on ex-President Taft's address on the American judicial system before the American Bar association at Montreal, says:

"Just as Americans have over-elaborated machinery for politics till the democracy at times seems almost bound and helpless in its toils, so they have magnified the procedure and mere technicalities of law until justice is in danger of being thust backward and lost sight of. What the United States needs more than anything else is a reformer of the Jeremy Wentham type to restore common sense to its codes and simplicty to their administration.

"In criminal procedure, especially, America's today is very much as ours was in the time of the Stuarts. It is hopelessly enmeshed in technicalities, and neglects justice and perspective in the chase after impossible infallibility of form.

"It is this fetish of the worship of forms and rules that has made judicial procedure in America a handicap to justice and a comfort to criminals, and too many decisions of state courts on social, industrial and constitutional issues seem to have been formed with the same quibbling spirit. They have lost touch with life; they have grown petrified in pettifogging abstractions; and no problem that confronts the American people is more urgent or cuts deeper than the problem of how to lead them back to reality and common sense."

COME TODAY | MRS. A. J. BIRTCH "THE WHITEHOUSE"

H. T. LACELLE

THE WORLD'S GREATEST PRICE CUTTER.

WHY SOME MONEY IS VERY TIGHT

New Central Gold Reserves Kept in Special Vaults With Guards Day and Night.

Montreal, Sept. 11.—The new central gold reserves are being established and will be maintained at no expense to the government, the banks assuming the entire cost. Each of the chartered institutions will make an intial contribution and thereafter be charged annually in proportion as it avails itself of the privilege of the fund.

The money will be stored in special vaults of the Royal Trust company, Montreal. The government has been particular regarding the depository and has insisted upon a vault within a vault. Every precaution which human ingenuity can devise has been taken to safeguard the valuable contents. Two armed guards must be on duty day and night. They will not be officers of the trust company, but of the Canadian Bankers' association.

Protection of the gold is the largest item of expense. The trustees will only receive a nominal payment for each meeting.

The banks are enthusiastic over the new co-operative scheme, working with harmony towards greater stability in the already excellent Canadian banking system. It is expected that a very large amount will be deposited immediately, several million at least, each of the chartered banks being represented. Stamped bullion will not be accepted, the Bank act specifically stipulating only "current gold coin and Dominion notes." The exclusion of bullion was probably by inadvertence, as gold in such form is acceptable anywhere in the world at weight, while coined gold is less suitable for shipments, being more liable to abrasion and requiring to be re-coined before available for circulation elsewhere than in the country of origin. Experience may demonstrate the advisability of amending the act to allow deposits of properly stamped bullion bars, but for the present gold coin must be presented in bags of either £1,000 sterling or $5,000 Canadian or United States gold coin.

Centralization of Reserves.

The bankers are confident that the additional powers emit notes which the deposits will be a very material assistance to them and to the country generally in meeting the circulation requirements of the crop-moving season. Instead of paying at the rate of five per cent. per annum for the paper issued in excess of their paid-up capital, the banks may now issue against this gold reserves which in large part will be transferred to the central depository. Gold on deposit and against which notes are not issued may be counted by the banks in their cash reserve and reported as specie on hand. The Bankers' association have adopted by-laws relative to the management of the reserves, requiring notice of withdrawal, etc.

While the banks may deposit legal tender (large denomination Dominion notes) they probably will not do so to any very great extent. The inclination will be to deposit gold, despite the fact that transportation charges are considerably higher for the yellow metal. There will thus be built up a central reserve of gold, while the banks will retain only a very small amount of the metal in their own vaults, using legals almost exclusively in the settlement of domestic balances. The large visible gold stock cannot fail to prove a factor of very great stability to the banking system of the Dominion as it has to those of England and France.

Quietly and almost without the citizens realizing it, the Canadian banking and currency system has entered upon a new stage in its evolution. By some it would be characterized as centralization. Co-operation more correctly expresses the idea. The gold reserves of the two dozen Canadian chartered banks are to be combined and mobilized to do the most effective service. A large visible stock of gold is always such as to inspire confidence, since it is security for immediate redeemability of credit instruments. Gradualy the Canadian system is taking on the best features of European banking, while avoiding some of the disadvantages of a central banking organization.

After United States System.

The creation of the central gold reserves in Canada was admittedly suggested by the plan of the national monetary commission of the United States for reform of the republic's banking and currency system.

It is to be expected that the central gold reserves board will gradually take on additional powers and in time probably its powers will approximate to those which it is proposed by the Glas-Owen bill now before the United tSates congress to confer upon the fgederal reserve board, itself a modifcation of the Aldrich plan provisions.

It is to be expected that eventually the Canadian banks will be allowed under certain conditions to deposit with the tructees not only gold, but securities as well and issue their circulation against them. This will in effect be one form of re-discount such as is allowed under the proposed legislation in the United States.

SENT UP FOR BURGLARY.

Pair of Wyoming Thugs Sentenced at Victoria.

Victoria, Sept. 11.—Two young men who have been in trouble before were again before the police magistrate this morning on a serious charge. Glenroy Cluness, who failed to take the warning to leave town on Friday when he was up on a vagrancy charge, will now be taken away from the city under arrest to spend the next four years in the penitentiary at New Westminster, and Peter Hansen will put in six months in the provincial jail, where he hays he has not been yet.

The pair broke into the grocery store of Robert Erskine at the corner of Quadra and Johnson streets, shortly after midnight on Sunday night, and stole a quantity of goods, but while they were walkink away with the loot they were seen by Detective Macdonald.

When they were ararigned today Cluness pleaded guilty with a smile and Hansen said he was not guilty, trying to make out that so far as he was concerned it was a case of mistaken identity.

The record of Cluness includes a three-year term for burglary, three months for burglary in Nanaimo, six months here for vagancy in March last, a term for vagrancy in Nanaimo, and suspended sentence with deportation in Portland for vagrancy, and in Seattle for burglary.

COUNT WAS REAL GOOD HYPNOTIST

Lured by Promises Woman Gave Him Valuables and Was About to Poison Husband.

New York, Sept. 11.—Stanislaus Pepinski is being sought by the police of Paterson, N. J., on a charge of swindling Mrs. Charles Walf, of Nok 232 Vernon avenue, that city. She declares that, under his hypnotic influence, she gave him $1,200 in cash, jewelry valued at several hundred dollars, her $300 piano, and was on the verge of poisoning her husband to get his $2,000 life insurance for the bogus noman.

Pepinski claimed to be a Polish count, and, according to Mrs. Wolf, baited his trap for her with a promise to make her a countess when her husband was out of the way. She has confessed that, with the assistance of Helen Jochnicwicz, a beautiful young woman companion of Pepinski, his alleged nurse, she actually placed poison in her husband's coffee and his life was saved only because he failed to drink it.

Henry and Anna Mahowski, of No. 189 Crooke avenue, with whom Pepinski was living when Mrs. Wolf met him last March, are under arrest on suspicion of being implicated in the swindle.

The alleged count and his companion disappeared about a week ago after Mrs. Wolf, her cash and jewelry gone, started to turn over her household effects to him, beginning with the piano. His departure was hastened by Wolf's discovery of the strange happenings in which his wife was involved.

He notified the police and rMs. Wolf made a complete confession, insisting that hypnotism and her desire to marry into the nobility were responsible for her actions.

WANT CITY TO MAKE THEM RICH

Widows and Spinsters Make Life Miserable for Montreal Civic Official.

Montreal, Sept. 11.—How deeply rooted the desire for wealth is in the human heart was demonstrated in a striking manner at the city hall when four widows and several spinsters called on Assistant City Treasurer Collins, and unfolded to him their dreams of wealth, which the city was expected to lay at their feet.

In each case the applicant declared they had reasons for believing that distant ancestors had died and left them property, for which no title deeds could be found. The fact that the corporation has a couple of valuable lots of land on its hands, for which owners are being sought, and the fact that the papers last week made public the case of a spinster, who was informed by Mr. Collins that she owned land worth thirty thousand dollars, is responsible for the stampede of spinsters and widows in search of wealth.

Remarkable Arguments.

It was explained by Mr. Collins today that many of the reasons put forth why the city should enrich these women, are remarkable in the extreme. One claimant, a woman nearly seventy, gravely stated that she had been informed that a party, bearing her name, had lived in Montreal something like a century and a half ago, that he had owned much land, that she believed she was his descendant, that she had no proof of this, but as the names were alike, it was only fair the city should act handsomely and enrich her by something like half a million.

Upon the assistant treasurer quietly informing her that the corporation had no land whatever on its hands from such a man, the good woman became very irate. She held it was the duty of the corporation to dig into the dusty annals of the past and ascertain just what people had got her property. She felt sure there was law enough in the land to compel the civic authorities to take such action. She meant to stand by her right no matter what the consequences were. At the same time she did not want to be hard, and if the city would make her a fair cash offer, she would compromise matters.

"But, my good lady," explained Mr. Collins, "there is nothing to compromise. We have no land whatever belonging to you or your ancestors. The law cannot help you."

This only added fuel to the lady's anger, and as she eswept from the office, she threatened law suits enough to tie up all of the city's funds for generations to come.

Ready to Take Anything.

Another applicant, a wee bit of a body, adopted a very much different procedure. She said she had always heard that some of her relations, in the shadowy past, must have owned property and she hoped the corporation would appoint the law department to study her case. The truth was, she was quite poor and needed money in the very worst way. This would surely result in something being done. If it should be found there was some haziness to any claim she might have, she would consent to take any other parcel of valuable land which might by lying around handy.

"We have no unclaimed land whatever in your name," answered Mr. Collins, "and it is really very foolish of you to harbor hopes that you may wake up and find yourself rich."

"But why would it be foolish of me? Did I not see in the paper that a woman who went to bed one night as poor as a mouse awoke the next day to get the news from you that she was worth thirty thousand dollars? She was a poor woman and so am I. She never thought she was the owner of any land, yet it was proven she was. If you look through the books I feel sure it will be seen there is property I should have. Now I am sure you will not turn me down in this way. If you knew how poor I really am you would be interested in this matter."

Upon Mr. Collins saying it was useless to make any investigation the woman turned away in tears.

Other applicants for wealth continued to come in. One and all were firm in the belief that if any army of clerks was put to work it would be found there were acres of valuable land all over the city waiting to be claimed by them. One would-be property owner was so persistent as to her fancied rights that she refused to budge from the office till her case was put right. The only way out of the deadlock was for Mr. Collins to decamp for lunch leaving the amazon in possession of his bureau.

HOUSE THIEVES ARE MAKING HAY DOWN IN SPOKANE

Spokane, Sept. 11.—One of the most daring attempts at burglary in recent months was made early last night at the home of A. Cromes, 1422 Bridge avenue. Two other burglaries yesterday were successful.

Mr. Cromes' 20-year-old daughter went to her bedroom shortly after supper and founda man in the room. The intruder grabbed her and she screamed. Her cries attracted the other members of the family.

The burglar then broke away and ran down the front stairs and out of the house. The police searched the empty houses in the neighborhood but no trace of the burglar was found.

Mrs. M. H. Merrill, residing in suite 202, Helen apartments, reported that her rooms were burglarized some time yesterday afternoon. The entire molding of the door had been cut away by the thief and the Yale lock forced with a knife blade. Articles missing are a woman's engraved gold watch, a sealskin purse with small coin purse containing $2.35 and a gold neck chain. Detective Buchholz has been assigned to the case.

Mrs. B. F. Emleume, E1623 Fourth avenue, reported to the police that her house was entered yesterday between 9 o'clock in the morning and 3 o'clock in the afternoon and that she was robbed of a small home bank containing $9 and a woman's gold ring mounted with five amethysts. Entrance to the house was made by removing a screen over a window.

PRAIRIE DEALERS TURN DOWN B. C. FRUIT

Say It Is Not Packed as Well as California Shipments—Little of It Seen in Winnipeg.

The following from the Winnipeg Tribune throws an interesting, though disappointing, light on the prairie market for B. C. fruit:

For some time there has been a discussion regarding the fruit which is brought to this city, and in some quarters it has been stated that some local wholesale as well as a number of retail fruit houses discriminate against British Columbia fruit in favor of California fruit. It appears that very little fruit grown in British Columbia is sold in this city and accordingly a western despatch suggests that there is a "ring" in the city which conspires to deal only in California fruit. To ascertain if this had any truth the Tribune interviewed several of the leading fruit growers on the subject.

George Vipond and company, one of the largest California fruit importers, say: "There is absolutely nothing in the report. The statement that fruit dealers discriminate in favor of the American fruit is not at all true when the fruits are of the same quality. Another thing which might be of interest is that we rarely see a British Columbia man around here. Anyhow there is no truth in the statement that we do not give the B. C. fruit a fair show."

California Has Hold.

W. A. Taylor, of Taylor & Co., admitted that the California fruit men have a very strong hold on certain of the wholesale fruit men. This tends to increase the amount of California fruit brought to the city, but he did not think that there was any definite thing which controlled the merchants and tried to keep the B. C. fruit out of the local market. Personally, he said that he would like to sell the British Columbia fruit more but there is one thing against it, and that is the fact that the Canadian fruit does not at present keep as long as that forwarded from California. This may be owing to the packing advantages which the Americans appear to possess. There was, however, a strong hold by the American growers."

J. E. MacLean, manager of the Rogers Fruit company, said that he did not consider that there was any ring here which discriminated against the British Columbia fruit in favor of the American produce. He pointed out that there was certainly more fruit from California used in this city, but that was not owing to the discrimination made against it but owing to the fact that the California season is far longer than that of British Columbia. He said that they can get fruit from the southern state far earlier than they can from the Canadian province. It was this that brought more of the American fruit here and that it could in no way be because of any ring which may be suggested, but does not exist.

D. S. Masson, of the Scott Fruit compan, says that there is nothing in the sugegstion. The two markets are very different and do not usually compete against each other. When there is competition there is no discrimination made except on business lines, that is, they choose the best quality stuff at the most reasonable price. Some of the growers ask a great deal too much and this is the cause of some similar reports going around after their fruit has been rejected on account of the high price.

B. C. Fruit Refused.

Against the statements that there is absolutely no "ring" in the local market comes the following incident from the Farmers' Central market. A B. C. grower had a large consignment of fruit at the market and was unable to sell it through the market, as there was too much. An appeal was made to dealers, whole wholesale and retail, to take some of the fruit at a reasonable price, but they would have nothing to do with it when it was known that it was British Columbia fruit. Speaking of this yesterday one of the market officials confirmed the statement and said that the California men appeared to have a strong hold on some of the local wholesale houses.

He admitted, however, that the B. C. fruit was not packed as carefully and as well as was the California fruit, and therefore would not keep as well. He believed that steps were being taken to see that the Canadian growers pack the fruit as carefully as their American competitors after which there should be no cause for dissatisfaction.

IMPOUNDED THEIR COWS AND THEY CLUBBED HIM

Sandpoint, Idaho, Sept. 11—C. B. Murray, constable at Kootenai, was the victim of an assault last night by a couple of armed men with clubs. Saturday and Sunday Murray took to the village pound 19 cows which were roaming at large.

Yesterday owners of eleven of the cattle paid their fines. About 8.30 last evening Frank Reid came to the officer and asked him to go out to the pound and release his cow. The pound is well on the outskirts of the town in a lonely location.

At the pound Reid got his animal and as Murray gave him his receipt for the fine money, Reid turned a flash light full on the officer. Murray stepped back, and a moment later two men stepped out of the underbrush and began an attack.

Reid caught several blows and yelled "My God, it's me fellows, it's me."

At this the men took to their heels, disappearing in the heavy underbrush, but in the meantime the cattle in the pound escaped.

Murray says he could not recognize his would-be assailants and did not shoot because he did not want to kill anyone.

No Delegate.

New Westminster will not be represented at the annual convention of the Trades Congress of Canada to be held in Montreal this fall. Instead, the local labor men will work hard at the coming election and will also entertain the British Columbia Federation of Labor at its annual convention to be held here next January.

The delicious quality of "SALADA" tea has been maintained for twenty-one years, notwithstanding the fact that there has been over a hundred imitating packets which have come and gone, and all of which have shown the dealer a larger profit. Not one of them has given the same satisfaction to the consumer. You owe it to yourself and to good service generally, to see that another packet tea is not foisted on you when you order "SALADA."

Not Hurt by Auto.

A newsboy while crossing Eighth street at Columbia stepped in front of an automobile which was turning the corner. Although the boy way knocked down and the machine passed over him he was not touched by the wheels, nor hurt in any way other than the jar he received. He emerged from the Depot hotel where he was taken, with a very reassuring smile and was soon at his work again.

Did Good Work.

As an aftermath of the big Labor day celebration held in Queen's Park last week, Chairman Harry Gibb and Secretary D. S. Cameron of the Labor day committee were last evening presented with momentos as a mark of recognition by the labor men of the city of their work in making the affair such a success. Mr. Gibb's gift was a gold locket, while that of Mr. Cameron was a watch. Both are suitably inscribed.

Burquitlam has reported and demands an investigation and claims the coveted first prize.

More Unions Here.

Following the action taken by Vancouver in sanctioning the request of local musicians to form a union of their own in the city, the Trades and Labor council has appointed a special committee consisting of D. Dodd, H. Gibb and H. Knudsen to visit Vancouver in the near future where the proposal to form unions of machinists, boilermakers and other trades who have members in the city affiliated with Vancouver unions, will be made.

G. N. R. Warned.

Reeve Barth and Councillor Atkins, J.P., previous to legal proceedings from their solicitors, waited upon the foreman of the G. N. R. or of Guthrie, Macdougall & Co. yesterday evening and warned him that if any accidents happened from operations, excavating or undermining the North road, the Coquitlam council would hold either the G. N. R. or the contractors responsible.

Ruffled Plumes.

Lady Nicotine did it, or rather it can be traced to man's desire for the noxious weed. It all happened thusly. One of the woman customers of the B. C. E. R. fruit stand, anxious to investigate the tempting wares displayed on the case and shelves in the rear, happened to mix a fine looking plume attached to her headgear, in the cigar lighter placed for the benefit of cigar smokers. Naturally the gas and the plume just loved each other with the result that Mr. Plume dwindled down to about two inches in length before the ardor of the flames were dampened. No damage was done to the woman with the exception of ruffled headgear and countenance. The incident happened about 6 o'clock last evening.

BATEMAN—The funeral of Thomas C. Bateman, who died in St. Paul's hospital, Vancouver, at 9 o'clock Monday evening after a very short illness, took place from St. Peter's church to the Catholic cemetery yesterday morning, attended by a fair representation of the local council of Knights of Columbus, of which society the deceased was a much respected member.

Rev. Father Beck celebrated the requiem high mass at which three other priests,d Fathers Maillard, W. P. O'Boyle and H. P. Bessette, assisted in the choir; and there were present throngs of pupils from St. Ann's academy, St. Louis college and the Providence orphanage.

The funeral cortege to the cemetery was headed by a procession of boys including the pupils of the late Mr. Bateman, who was a teacher at St. Louis college for the past two years, and was about to commence the third consecutive term.

The late Mr. Bateman was born in Ireland in 1868, and leaves three brothers and four sisters resident in Chicago.

AUSTRALIAN BIRDS IN QUEEN'S PARK ZOO

Arrived Yesterday and Were Given the Best Cages Available.

Guess all our lil' las' year birds, and the mere parrots and canaries that have been lording it over the sparrows, and sporting gaudy plumage, will be feeling pretty bad today. That shipment of Australian feathered ones which the city council swapped sight unseen for two bears and three deer, with Ellis S. Joseph, of the Commonwealth, arrived yesterday. They were four pairs of white Java sparrows, five pairs of zebra finch, one pair of bare eyed cockatoos, five pairs of green paroquets, five pairs of yellow paroquets, and one roseate cockatoo.

Parkmaster Robinson met the visitors and after welcoming them on behalf of the city consigned them to a select suite in the Queen's park zoo, with bath attached and two kinds of water. The bears and deer will be shipped at once.

CARD OF THANKS.

Borden Visits Aged Mother.

Ottawa, Sept. 11.—Premier Borden left this evening for Nova Scotia. He will probably be absent from the capital for about a fortnight. The prime minister will visit his aged mother at Grand Pre, N.S., but will spend several days in Halifax where he will deliver a political address Tuesday evening next.

MARKET PROBS.

The first shipment of Italian prunes arrived on the market yesterday and will be offered for sale this morning at from $1 to 85 cents per crate. The shipment is from Chilliwack and Sardis and is of an excellent quality.

Apples will also be offered and a good supply of all kinds of vegetables was brought in by the river boats yesterday.

Pears, plums and blackberries will also make their appearance, but the prices will depend entirely on the supply which is brought in this morning as there will be a demand for all kinds of fruit today.

At the Theatres

"SUNDAY" AT THE ROYAL.

The longer the Royal stock company stays in the city the larger grow the crowds that attend the Royal theatre every day.

Last evening a capacity house greeted the company when it presented "Sunday" for the first time to a local audience, and Ethel Barrymore's beautiful play and one of her leading successes was never shown to better advantage.

Miss Edythe Elliot as Sunday took the leading part and was excellently supported by the rest of the cast, including Miss Margaret Marion as The Sister, Mr. Royal as Lively, and Austin Ripley as Davey.

The story starts with a scene in a mining camp in Colorado, the first act ending with a villian being disposed of for his attentions to a girl.

From there the scene shifts to Brinthorpe Abbey in England, in which Miss Elliot is shown to special advantage.

Back to Colorado in the fourth act and the story ends with the unfolding of an untold tale.

"Sunday" will be before the footlights for the rest of the week, including a matinee on Saturday afternoon at 2:30.

AT THE EDISON TODAY.

"Breaking into the Big League." (Kalem, two parts.) An air of excitement pervades the little town of Squashville. The local baseball team is to cross bats with the determined organization from Stringtown and the game will decide the season's championship. Mamie Wallace, an ardent enthusiast, appears on the field with her father and greets her sweetheart, Montjoy Jones, who, resplendent in his uniform, assures his friends that Squashville will capture the pennant. It is a hotly contested game and as the final inning approaches Squashville has a lead of three runs. The local pitcher wavers momentarily and the visitors fill the bases. Now comes the crucial moment. A high fly is driven toward Montjoy, who makes a terrible muff and loses the game and the championship.

Montjoy becomes a stranger in his own town. His friends desert him and no one has a kind work. The love of his sweetheart turns cold and her father forbids the disgraced player from entering the house. The outcast seeks the solace of sleep and has a wonderful dream. He plays the game again. This time he catches the fly and retires the side. He is acclaimed the hero of the hour. It happens that a scout for the New York Giants witnesses the game and wires to Manager John McGraw, who has his team in training at Marlin, Texas. Acting upon the scout's advice, McGraw sends a contract to Jones, who loses no time in preparing to join the team. Squashville gives its "first citizen" a rousing send-off. At Marlin Montjoy reports to McGraw and meets the famous veterans who have brought two championships to New York. McGraw and Mathewson, the peerless pitcher, take the recruit in hand. He has a severe lesson in sliding and McGraw shows him how to bat. Mathewson's fast cures put the young fellow on his mettle. After the training season the the team goes to New York for the first game of the season. Montjoy has shown such skill with the bat that he is sent in a "pinch hitter" and knocks out a home run, which clinches the game for the Giants.

Modestly he submits to an interview and news of his fame reaches the home town. Mamie and her father determine to see the famous star in action and make a trip to New York. It is a spirited game that the Wallaces witness. One sensational play follows another and finally the great Mathewson is called up to replace a weakening pitcher. A hit off the famous twirler causes alarm. Mathewson sees an opportunity to work an extraordinary play and confers with Montjoy, who has been sent to the shortstop position. The result is a lightning triple play. Again Montjoy is the hero. As he passes one of the boxes he sees Mamie applauding him. What a pleasure it is to pass by and ignore her? And then he wakes up. The stern reality of his position strikes home as he sees a note thrust under the door. The note is from Mamie, stating that after much persuasion she has prevailed upon her father to permit Montjoy to call, but father has declare that if baseball is mentioned, the player will have to "beat it." Monty throws bat and glove into the street and hastens to his sweetheart's home.

BURQUITLAM POULTRY MEN WIN MANY PRIZES

Although Winning at Vancouver Their Hopes Are Set on Fair Here.

Poultry men have reason to be proud of the district of Burquitlam for its successes at the recent Vancouver exhibition.

Councillor Walker, whose chief exhibits were Buff Orpingtons, Rocks and Minorcas, took a matter of 26 prizes. E. J. Chesterfield was awarded seven prizes for six entries. Mr. Chesterfield was great on Wyandotts.

The Wilson brothers, Quality ranch, Burquitlam, were equally successful with their all round display of birds.

Everything predicts a bold bid for higher honors at the great New Westminster exhibition, which after all is the goal of the ambitions of the Fraser valley agriculturists.

The other exhibitions are looked upon as leading up to this.

Port Coquitlam, Sept. 11.—The surveys for a pipe line from Silver creek to this city were started yesterday by the city engineer's department.

It is not planned at the present time owing to the financial stringency, to proceed with the development of the Silver creek rights, but only to complete the surveys in order that they may be confirmed. According to the civic authorities, Silver creek will serve a population of $100,000 people. The creek is located several miles from here.
