TRAVERSE TRIAL OF MARTIN POWELL

Will Attempt to Prove Alibi When Case Comes up for Trial.

Makes Application to Recover Money —Dean May Be Tried Again at Once.

The trial of Martin Powell on the charge of robbing the Bank of Montreal, has been traversed to the next assizes. That was the order of the Honorable Justice Clement in the assize court yesterday, upon an application by J. H. Reeve, K.C., Vancouver, counsel for accused.

The crown did not seriously oppose the traverse, although it was manifest they would have preferred proceeding at once with the case.

Whether the retrial of Charles Dean, also on the charge of robbing the bank, will proceed at the present assizes, or be traversed until the next, will be decided today, after hearing counsel for crown and Dean. The crown desire a traverse and the defence will press for an immediate trial.

In the event of the Dean case not proceeding at once the next cases scheduled are those connected with the Nanaimo riots.

Martin Powell was ushered into the prisoner's dock this morning promptly at 10:30.

Mr. Reeve, K.C., immediately renewed his application for a traverse to the next assizes. Counsel said it was impossible for accused to go on at the present stage and he was unable at the moment to give a detailed statement of their defence.

Will Prove Alibi.

The Court—The absence of material witnesses?

Mr. Reeve—Yes, my lord.

Counsel, continuing, said that if his instructions were correct and he believed they were, he could prove successfully to the jury by several witnesses that Powell could not have been here at the time of the robbery. He would not take the risk of proving an alibi without the fullest evidence.

The Court asked what about the time that had elapsed since the last application?

Mr. Reeve said he had done everything in reason. He had written the solicitors, who acted for him in the States, asking whether it would be possible to bring the case to trial at the present assizes. He proposed putting that letter and the reply before the court. A number of witnesses would have to be secured. He intended tracing this man's movements, before and after the date of the robbery, and show it was improbable, if not impossible, that Powell could have been here on the date alleged.

Hotel Registers.

The testimonies of hotel registers in different states with regard to this man's goings and comings would be adduced to the same effect. He had not the names of the witnesses, at present, for a certainty. The solicitors in Detroit had to interview parties in the neighboring states, persons who were to establish certain facts, and before that could be done, finally, there had to be, necessarily, communications between the solicitors and himself. Powell's solicitors wrote that it was impossible for this man to gather his evidence together, and be in a position to get a fair trial before, at least, three months.

The Court—The question of witnesses should have been well to the fore in the extradition proceedings.

Mr. Reeve—I have endeavored to act conscientiously in the matter.

The Court—You have only been retained within a very short time.

Mr. Reeve—He could not know what the result of these proceedings would be and you cannot overlook the relative positions of the parties. His funds are completely exhausted, he is a stranger in a strange country, his witnesses are scattered all over the United States, and he was only brought here within the last three or four weeks. For analogy take the Dean case. There is the significant fact that it was a year before my learned friend, counsel for the crown, felt safe to go to trial. Take this man who simply set his foot on our soil within the last few weeks and he must be rushed to trial.

A. H. Macneil, K.C., for the crown, said he did not wish to be unreasonable.

The court adjourned further hearing of the application until 2 o'clock to give Mr. Reeve an opportunity of preparing and submitting his material in support of his application.

From Powell's Solicitors.

On the resumption of the court Mr. Reeve read a letter from Powell's solicitors in Detroit, to the effect that time was required for the preparation of the defence and to get the evidence of witnesses from various parts of the country, Ohio, Michigan and Illinois. It was absolutely impossible for them to collect these witnesses before two or three months at least.

Never in B. C. Before.

Mr. Reeve also submitted an affidavit by the prisoner, which set out that he had never been in B. C. before and that he was in a position to prove conclusively that he could not have been in British Columbia at the time the robbery took place. He would show his movements before and after the date of the robbery by the oral testimony of different parties in the States and also by documentary evidence, hotel registers in the different states that he had visited, before and after the date of the robbery, establishing his whereabouts to an almost certainty that he could not have had a hand in the robbery.

The affidavit further pointed out that there was only one man who had stated he saw him in New Westminster and he had mistaken another man for him, described as with brown hair and brown moustache.

Various witnesses referred to in his previous affidavit, were essential in establishing his defence, and he was advised by counsel that it would be impossible without them to go on, fairly, with his trial at this assizes.

Accused declared he was innocent of the charge and a stranger to the province. His funds were exhausted, and it would be useless to face his trial without money to defray the expense of establishing his defence.

There were several hundreds of dollars belonging to him, taken possession of by the police, which, it was not pretended was money stolen from the bank. It was absolutely necessary that the money should be paid over to secure his defence and expenses of his witnesses, as that was the only source he had, as he could not hope for further assistance from his friends, their funds having been already severely taxed by his extradition proceedings.

He was unable to give the names of his witnesses for a certainty at present and even if he could, he did not think he should be compelled to do so for fear of intimidation.

Mr. Reeve said he did not wish to trespass further on the court's patience, but it was a matter of very great importance to them.

Month to Prepare.

Mr. Macneil remarked that the indictment had been served on September 16, one month ago, and the accused had had that time to prepare his defence. It seemed peculiar that up to this time some of the witnesses, at any rate, should not be available. There was the further fact to be borne in mind that these witnesses were sworn to be outside the jurisdiction of the Canadian courts and consequently could not be subpoened. He supposed on that basis more latitude would be allowed to accused than in

LIBERALS WILL PROTEST ELECTION

Action for Appeal Will Be Taken at Once—Conference Yesterday.

Prosecutions Will Follow as Matter of Course, Says Hon. Sydney Fisher.

Montreal, Oct. 15.—"The election of Chateauguay will be protested," said Hon. Sydney Fisher, after a lengthy conference of the leaders of the Liberal party and prominent Liberals of Chateauguay, held at the Windsor hotel this afternoon. Action for the appeal will be taken at once, it is said, as there is a strong feeling among the Chateauguay Liberals in favor of a protest.

"We have evidence that we will be able to quash the election," said Mr. Fisher.

"Will there be any prosecutions?" Mr. Fisher was asked.

"I do not see how the guilty can escape, when the evidence at the hearing has been given," said Mr. Fisher. "The prosecution will follow as a matter of course," he added.

Those attending the conference were Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. Rudolph Lemieux, Hon. Sydney Fisher, James Robb, M.P. for Huntingdon; Mr. Megerrel, of Armstrong; Mr. Conlin, of Armstrong; Mr. Robert Brown, St. Chrysostome; James Cowan, of Drysdale; A. F. Legatt, Chateauguay Basin; Messrs. Robertson, Ogilvie; Robert Ness, Howick; Mr. Collard, Ottawa; A. Youme, Mr. A. Mahoune, Thomas Gibby, of Houck; W. Sangster, Ormstown; R. L. Calder, Montreal; Sevin Latourneau, M. P. P. for Papineau; Mr. Rutherford, Hon. H. Merier, James Bryson and Wm. Bryson, Ormstown; Mr. Fred Kay, M. P., and Mr. A. Marcil.

Postpone Official Count.

Montreal, Oct. 15.—Some half dozen unitialed ballots found in the ballot boxes from polls 3 and 17, the former in the parish of St. Chrysostom and the latter in the parish of St. Sacrament, caused Returning Officer J. E. C. Bumbray to postpone the official count of the Chateauguay election at Ste. Martin today.

Mr. Bumbray returned to Montreal tonight to take legal advice on the question of rejecting these ballots and announced that the count would be resumed on Tuesday next. The election law requires that each ballot presented to a voter shall be initialed by the election clerk before the voter can make his mark. This seems to have been omitted in several cases, but it is said that should all these ballots be rejected they will not make a material difference in the results previously announced.

CHEMICALS CAUSED VOLTURNO FIRE

Third Officer of Ill-Fated Ship Tells of Explosion of Drum.

FIRST OF SURVIVORS REACH NEW YORK

Bravery of Officers—Thrilling Narrative of Hours on Fire Ridden Liner.

New York, Oct. 15.—New York took in and sheltered today the first survivors of the steamship Volturno to arrive in this country, 105 in number, brought into port by the Grosger Kurfurst, the North German Lloyd liner that sent the first rescue boat careering across the heavy seas to remove passengers and crew from the burning ship.

From the lips of some of the Volturno survivors there came today descriptions which accentuated the heroic conduct of the Volturno's captain, officers and crew and of men who manned the life boats that put forth from other ships.

The explosion of a drum containing chemicals was the cause of the fire, according to the story told by Waldron Disselman, third officer of the Volturno. Disselman gave a thrilling narrative of the long hours spent on the fire ridden ship, fighting the flames, repairing the crippled wireless plant, lowering life boats, quieting the panic-stricken, steering the vessel by hand to keep her from drifting—while the waves were running too high for small craft from other ships to accomplish the journey to the Volturno's side. More than 80 passengers were burned to death when they were cut off by flames, Disselman reported.

Officers' Bravery.

Ranking well up with the bravery displayed by Captain Inch, of the Volturno, were the feats of daring of several of his officers, among them Second Officer Lloyd. While ten ocean liners manoeuvred about the Volturno after darkness had settled on Thursday, Captain Inch wirelessed:

"We can't stand this long. Our boats are gone. Send boats."

No rescue boats came in response to Inch's wireless.

Then Second Officer Lloyd measured up to the mark. Taking four men with him, he entered a damaged life boat, the Volturno's last, and showed that it was possible to ride the seas.

Set Example.

Second Officer von Carlsberg, of the Grosser Kurfurst, told the story of how Lloyd and his crew set the example for the other ships. "We saw a light—it was Lloyd's pocket lamp dancing up and down and on top of the waves," said von Carlsberg, and in a short time the Volturno's boat reached us. Second Officer Lloyd and his crew were in the boat and no sooner had they boarded the Kurfuerst than their boat sank, being nearly full of water. The trio had experimented to see if it was possible for a small boat to live in the heavy seas."

Von Carlsberg commanded the first life boat that put out toward the Volturno as a result of Lloyd's venture. Besides the Grosser Kurfurst, other of the liners that had come to the Volturno's assistance, lowered life boats and assisted in the dangerous work of rescue.

"When we got alongside the Volturno," said Second Officer von Carlsberg, of the Kurfurst, describing the first trip of his boat, "I heard screaming on board and I decided to keep away, for I figured that some of the panic-stricken people might jump into our boat and upset it. I shouted to the officers of the Volturno to tell the people to jump into the sea and they would be rescued. This advice was taken and we picked up man after man. When we got back to our ship I found we had rescued 21 men. The following morning I made two trips and rescued more. While we were at the Volturno's side I could not see a single woman. They all appeared to be men."

Barrister Made Judge.

Regina, Sask., Oct. 15.—A. D. Dickson, barrister of Fort Qu'Appelle, will be shortly sworn into the office of jundge of Humboldt district and the ceremony will take place as soon as the commission arrives.

HOUSEHOLDERS VOTE ON DAM AGREEMENT

Householders will be allowed to vote on the Coquitlam dam referendum which will take place on Saturday, October 18. This is to test the feeling of the electorate in connection with the proposed agreement between the city, the Vancouver Power company and the Dominion government.

In the two bylaws, the interest conversion bylaw and the proposed purchase of the New Westminster Gas company, only ratepayers will be allowed to vote.

The polls will open at 9 a.m. and close at 7 o'clock in the evening.

INTERESTING FIGHTS IN BY-ELECTIONS

Three Seats Vacant in House of Commons and Ontario Politicians Are Busy.

Ottawa, Oct. 15.—Three by-elections will be held in Ontario for the house of commons before the opening of parliament—East Middlesex next Tuesday, South Bruce on Oct. 30 and South Lanark, for which the date has not been fixed. In these the interest is centered in South Bruce, where both sides are putting up a fight.

The South Bruce vacancy was caused by the elevation of James Donnelly, member from 1908, to the senate. W. D. Cargill, son of the late Henry Cargill, for years member for East Bruce, is the Conservative candidate, and R. E. Traux, once member of the house of commons, and afterwards in the Ontario legislature, is the Liberal nominee.

This riding, as it now stands, was formed in 1904 when P. H. McKenzie, Liberal, defeated James Donnelly by 144. In 1908 Donnelly won by 193 and in 1911 by 104. The contest in this riding is particularly interesting as there is a large German vote and the result is thought to indicate the attitude of the German-Canadians on the navy question.

East Midlesex is considered to be a sure Conservative seat and the contest there is creating little interest. The district of East Middlesex as now constituted was formed in 1904 and in the three contests since then Peter Elson, Conservative, carried the riding by 219 in 1904, 249 in 1908 and 661 in 1911.

Family Quarrel.

South Lanark has never returned a Liberal to the house of commons. Morris, Conservative, was elected in 1867 and held the riding until 1872, when he was succeeded by John Haggart, who sat continuously for this constituency until his death in March of this year.

Mr. Haggart's majorities ranged from 324 to 1167. An interesting family quarrel is being waged in the Conservative party in this connection. A convention was being held at Perth and Dr. Hanna was chosen. James Smith refused to abide by the convention and is in the fight as an independent. Smith Falls and Perth, the home of the two Conservative candidates, are two rival towns and a merry war is being waged. South Lanark is such a strong Conservative riding the Liberals had not intended nominating a candidate, but now that two Conservatives are running they may reconsider their decision. The date for this contest has been fixed.

ANOTHER SUSPECT HELD IN DETROIT

Wm. Houilihan Charged With Having Stolen Bank Bills.

Notes Had Been Altered—Unable to Furnish $10,000 Bail—Others Being Held.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 15.—William Houillihan, arrested here recently was today held to the federal grand jury on a charge of having in his possession altered bank notes of a foreign nation. Bail was fixed at $10,000 which he was unable to furnish.

Houillihan was held by United States Commissioner Hurd, after witnesses representing the Bank of Montreal testified that $375 in Canadian currency found on Houillihan when arrested, was part of the $271,000 stolen from the New Westminster branch of the Bank of Montreal more than a year ago.

No Local Witness.

When seen last evening, W. H. G. Phipps, accountant of the Bank of Montreal, who has been representing that institution in connection with the robbery, informed The News that in all probability the witness mentioned in the dispatch, was on the staff of the Bank at Montreal. This witness would swear that the notes found on Houillihan corresponded with those stolen from the New Westminster branch on Sept. 15, 1911.

Mr. Phipps further informed The News that while the bank officials would watch the case, it would be left for the American authorities to handle in their own jurisdiction, the charge against Houillihan being in possession of altered bank notes of a foreign nation, same having been stolen.

A similar instance to this is found at Chicago where a saloonkeeper named Walsh is being held for trial in Cook county on a charge of having stolen Bank of Montreal money in his possession and also with having been complicated with the assault on Police Lieutenant Burns of the Chicago force, who was beaten up in a saloon when attempting to arrest three men single-handed. Burns was later dismissed from the force but Walsh held for the grand jury and later indicted.

Still another instance was that of the man Davis, arrested in Toronto last summer and found to be passing stolen bills into circulation, was brought to this city only to be taken back to Toronto and sentenced to six months for a charge of having the notes in his possession, knowing same to have been stolen.

NO DUKEDOM FOR PRINCE ARTHUR

Created Knight of Thistle and Major of His Regiment.

Great Gathering of Notables at Royal Wedding in Ancient Chapel—Many Valuable Presents.

London, Oct. 15.—Prince Arthur of Connaught, son of the Duke of Connaught, governor general of Canada, was married today to Princess Alexandra Victoria, Duchess of Fife, eldest daughter of the widowed Princess Royal. The ceremony took place in the ancient chapel of St. James Palace. Fewer than 300 persons witnessed the ceremony, but not since the coronation of King George had there been such a gathering of royalty and notable personages.

Besides King George, Queen Mary, Queen Mother Alexandra, the King and Queen of Norway and other royal relatives of the couple, the congregation consisted of the diplomatic corps, the members of the British cabinet, members of the royal household, and a few distinguished civilians.

Enters Church.

The bride entered the church between King George and her mother. The five bridesmaids were Princess Mary, daughter of the King and Queen; Princess Maud, only sister of the bride; Princess Victoria and Princess Helena of Teck, daughters of the Duke and Duchess of Teck, and Princess Mary, the little daughter of Prince and Princess Alexander of Teck.

The pages were Prince John, the King's youngest son, and Prince Olaf of Norway, a popular favorite in England.

The ceremony was performed by the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Bishop of London as dean of the chapel royal and Canon Edgar Sheppard, sub-dean of the chapel royal.

After the ceremony the Archbishop of Canterbury delivered a short address, saying that while only a few had been able to be present at the ceremony millions of Britons all over the world joined in rejoicing at the

PROMINENT LABOR HEAD COMING

James M. Lynch, President of International Typographical Union, to Visit New Westminster.

Word was received yesterday morning by R. A. Stoney, I. T. U. representative for B. C., that James M. Lynch, president of the International Typographical union, with headquarters at Indianapolis, would visit New Westminster sometime in November, immediately following the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor to be held that month in Seattle.

Mr. Lynch is regarded as one of the ablest speakers in the labor world of the American continent, and is looked upon as the logical successor to Samuel Gompers as president of the A. F. of L. when the latter person steps down from that office.

Political reports from New York state link the name of the present head of the I. T. U. with that of labor commissioner of the Empire state.

Just what date Mr. Lynch and party, which will include Delegate Stevenson, of Toronto, and Delegates McColloch and Max Hayes, from the American side, will visit the coast cities of the province is yet uncertain, but when this is announced, it is understood that the labor men of the city will hold an open house at the Labor Temple when the heads of the Typos will probably deliver an address.

In the communication from Mr. Lynch yesterday morning, R. A. Stoney was invited to attend the sessions at Seattle and will accompany the party to Victoria, Vancouver and New Westminster, representing the typos of the province.

ABANDON HOPE OF RESCUING MINERS

Cardiff, Wales, Oct. 15.—All hope of rescuing more of the miners entombed in the Universal colliery, where an explosion occurred yesterday, has been virtually abandoned. The report that a party of 29 men had been found alive in one of the galleries, has proved erroneous, but a large number of bodies were encountered today.

No official reports have been issued, and this has caused much comment. Fire broke out anew this afternoon and still is raging. There are no further signs of life in the pit.

Up to a late hour tonight, 49 bodies had been recovered, while 368 miners were still missing.

NO VERIFICATION OF RESIGNATIONS

Reports that Members of Cabinet Will Resign Will Not Be Confirmed for a Time.

Ottawa, Oct. 15.—"The recurring report of the resignations of various members of Mr. Borden's cabinet are not likely to be verified in fact until after the coming session of parliament," says an Ottawa despatch to the Montreal Daily Mail. The withdrawal of Hon. Louis Coderre, Hon. Bruno Mantel, Hon. Mr. Pelletier, Hon. Mr. Crothers and Hon. Dr. Roche have all been predicted.

"Some of these resignations, it is said on good authority, will probably occur within the next year, but none are likely to come just when the government is preparing for the session. It is believed that Dr. Roche, whether he retires or not, on account of his health, would be relieved of the immigration branch of the interior department, this being added to the proposed new department of public health," says the despatch.

Tenders for Nassau Dam.

Ottawa, Oct. 15.—Tenders are being called for the Nassau dam on the Trent canal, to be received up to October 30. Proposals for section two of the Welland canal came in today but a contract will not be awarded until the end of the week.

Robbed to Read.

Regina, Oct. 15.—John Taylor, 18 years old, was let out on suspended sentence this morning in the city court after pleading guilty to robbing the mails for the purpose of securing magazines to read. A bond of $2000 was put up so that the man would not again commit a robbery.

160 Lots for $9200.

Moose Jaw, Oct. 15.—The government sale of lots today at Chaplin was considered satisfactory. T. M. Wilson, auctioneer of Moose Jaw, conducted the sale. Four hundred and eighty-nine lots were put up and 160 were sold, realizing $9200.

MORE CRITICISM OF B.C.E.R. RATES

Burnaby Board of Trade Complain of Fares on Burnaby Line.

Want to See New Westminster Gas Bylaw Passed—Make Bid for Car Shops.

A general kick at the fares charged by the B. C. E. R. on the Burnaby branch, the support of the members in the matter of the alleged Great Northern railway encroachment on the North road, and the support of the body towards the passage of the New Westminster gas bylaw formed the salient features at a meeting of the Burnaby board of trade held at Edmonds last evening.

In the matter of car fares, T. S. Sharp, of Burnaby Lake, explained a wide divergence of rates between points in Burnaby and Vancouver and New Westminster. From Vancouver to Sprott's station the fare charged for a ten ride settler's ticket was $1.00. From Vancouver to Burnaby Lake it had been changed from $1.25 to $1.00. Less than half a mile further on is Rayside station where the charge is $1.50.

The same, explained Mr. Sharpe, applied in the rates from New Westminster to Cumberland Road, where ten rides cost 75 cents and to Sprott's station, past Rayside, the fare was the same, viz., 75 cents.

After considerable discussion, a committee consisting of Councillors Coldicutt and Stride and T. S. Sharp, was appointed to lay complaint to the railway commissioners, when that body meets in Vancouver on October 27. At the same time, the same committee will assist the council in protecting the municipality's rights on the North road where the Great Northern Railway company is doing considerable excavation work.

A communication from C. H. Stuart Wade, secretary of the New Westminster board of trade, was taken up, Mr. Wade asking for statistics regarding Burnaby's resources, trade, railways, etc. The secretary will fill out the list.

Burnaby is going after the tunnel which the C. N. R. will build in order for that line to get into Vancouver. It was stated at the meeting that South Vancouver were after the project.

Gas Bylaw.

The New Westminster Gas company bylaw to be voted upon on Saturday in New Westminster, was brought up by Councillor Coldicutt, who mentioned that it was in Burnaby's interest to support the bylaw on account of the strong possibility of Burnaby getting a good supply of gas from the city in the near distant future.

HUERTA IN BAD WITH UNCLE SAM

Militant and Naval Demonstration Suggested as Precautionary Move.

GERMANY SENDS ANOTHER CRUISER

Mexican Situation Grows Keener—Crisis Almost Reached, But Is Temporarily Delayed.

ANOTHER GERMAN CRUISER.

Berlin, Oct. 15.—The German protected cruiser Vineta, in addition to the Pertha, were ordered today to proceed to American waters, owing to the disturbance in Mexico.

Washington, Oct. 15.—Administration officials up to the hour of closing the government departments today were without advices as to the result of the reported conference in Mexico City of the entire diplomatic corps. This development in the situation, following upon President Wilson's sharp note declaring that the United States was shocked at the "lawlessness" of General Huerta in assuming a dictatorship over Mexico, was taken to mean here that foreign governments might bring pressure to bear in an effort to compose the situation.

General Huerta's decree taking unto himself legislative as well as executive powers has swept aside all hope that the Huerta regime would re-establish constitutional government or be able to cope with the increasing vigorous fighting of the Constitutionalists.

Three Methods.

Both President Wilson and Secretary Bryan are turning over in their minds the possibility of a more aggressive course of action by the United States. Three methods of dealing with the situation are being suggested as open to the Washington government.

First—There is the ever recurrent suggestion in official circles of a military and naval demonstration, as a precautionary move in case a forcible policy is required later. For the present, however, the president and his advisers are concentrating on a constructive solution by the use of peaceful measures.

Second—Many officials think a series of strong demands made upon the authorities at Mexico City to force the immediate elimination of General Huerta would complete the record of the United States in attempting to assist "as the nearest neighbor" in solving the difficulties of the southern republic. It has been suggested by some officials that should such demands be ignored, the American government would be justified in throwing its support to the Constitutionalists in the north.

Third—The United States could formally announce its absolute termination of relations with the Huerta officials, leaving it to the influence both of the Constitutionalist movement and the Liberal element in Mexico City to secure the elimination of Huerta and the establishment of a provisional government with which the Constitutionalists would negotiate for peace and arrange a free election in compliance with Mexican law.

Few Days' Delay.

Secretary Bryan left here today for Waterloo, Ia., and before his departure told his callers that he did not expect the American government to take any further steps for a few days at least.

The dispatch of an additional German warship to Mexican waters did not bring forth any comment as the Washington administration looks upon such action as well as upon the conference of the diplomats today in Mexico City as the beginning of a series of manifestations by the governments of the world generally, that may have a sobering effect upon Huerta.

The arrest of General Maas, the Mexican federal officer, on a civil warrant, while travelling through the United States to get from Piedras Negras, Mexico, to Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, excited attention chiefly because the war department's permission was overridden. As the general was released on bail, however, it is not believed that the Huerta government will make any representations in the matter.

Crisis Imminent.

Mexico City, Oct. 15.—That the crisis in the relations between the United States and Mexico, which was almost reached yesterday, is only temporarily delayed is the general feeling here tonight among Mexicans and foreigners. When and how the next developments will be reached is a question entertaining all alike.

POLISHING UP SILVER TONGUES.

Some of the self-appointed political weather forecasters at Ottawa announce with a seriousness that almost demands belief that during the next session of the Dominion parliament the naval bill will be dug from the junk heap where the senate dumped it, brushed off, pressed out and again offered to the legislative menagerie; also that the highway bill, which has been reposing in the same rag bag, will be sponged up a bit and submitted to further torture at the hands of the gentlemen who we pay to go to Ottawa for the purpose, evidently, of conducting a national debating society.

All of which, if it be true, warrants the inference that we are going to be let in again for another job lot of oratory like unto the Webster's unabridged stuff that floated from both sides of the speaker during the last session.

Verily the silver tongues are promised another opportunity to get a good burnishing and polishing.

It took an enormous amount of talking and a whole lot of expensive time last session to decide that the naval bill was not to become law. The members of the opposition were determined by their obstructionist tactics to show their complete disapproval of the measure and the government wished to show its determination to pass it without leaving an opening for the charge of gagging. Then the senate, after all the fuss and feathers in the lower house, calmly sat down on that naval bill like a prairie steer on a cream puff, and with a similar result.

This year, when the naval bill comes up, if it does come up, there is no call for the opposition to show its disapproval; it already has done that to the queen's taste, nor need the government hesitate to apply the closure after its expensive consideration for the feelings of its opponents at the last sitting of the house; so that the measure may go unhampered to the senate for another steer-cream puff act—provided the senate is not called upon by Premier Borden to be a cream puff itself in the meantime.

If another series of obstructions is resorted to, the opposition will be to blame, and if the government fails to rush its measure through it will be equally guilty on the same count. The spectacle of the last session of representatives of the people wasting the country's time and money would look too much like a parliamentary habit if repeated when the house convenes again.

Who said there was a lot of hot air talk about this gas bylaw?

Rancher is Shoved Off Prairie Map

Big Cattle Ranches Disappear Before Homesteaders—Stock Men Sore at the Change.

Magrath, Oct. 15.—The number of cattle and sheep shipped annually from this point is every year increasing and it will scon be imperative that the C. P. R. construct larger yards and better loading facilities. Last Saturday W. H. McIntyre shipped a thousand head of prime beef steers to the Swift Canadian company, Edmonton. This is one of the largest shipments this fall and it tasked the local equipment to the utmost capacity.

The steers were in splendid condition for the market. In fact the past season has been unusually favorable to the stockmen and this fall the range cattle were looking unusually well. There will doubtless be other large consignments leave from Magrath, as this town is located near some of the largest ranches in the province.

Passing of the Ranch.

There is much talk these days of the passing of the ranches in this portion of the province. It is true to a certain degree that farming is gradually crowding out its natural forerunner, but there are yet many thousands of head of cattle roaming the plains of southern Alberta. Of course, the future of the ranch is problematical. It would seem that the whole matter hinges on the attitude of the Dominion government toward the holding by lease of vast areas of good farming land, which at present is being used solely for grazing purposes.

These leases were secured from the Dominion government in the early days when the Alberta of the present was undreamed of. It is not easy to change the order of things. The farmers are clamoring for the leases to be immediately thrown open. Last year their cries reached the ear of the government with the result that the Knight Sugar company's lease, directly south of Magrath, was cancelled, and the whole block of land was disposed of as homesteads. This lease comprised several townships, practically all of which has been filed on. Since that time, howeved, the government has manifested no inclination of cancelling the other tracts held by large ranchers. Rumors have at times been current to the effect that in the spring the Ross lease would be cancelled, but there are no grounds for the statement. While there is a large area of this parcel that is well adapted to farming there is also a large portion totally unfit for anything but grazing. Under these conditions it is very doubtful whether the government will take any action in respect to this particular lease.

Ranchers Alarmed.

That the ranchers are alarmed there can be no doubt. Their ranges are being intersected by the wire fence, they are constantly at warfare with the homesteader, and the persistent rumors of the pending cancelling of their leases, all contribute to the gravity of the situation. In connection with the possible exit of the large ranch from southern Alberta an alarming fact presents itself.

This is the question of the future beef supply. Wheat and beef form the basis of the food supply of the country. If the ranches go the price of the commodity will naturaly soar. The possibility of such a condition is not confined to Alberta, for in the east it is a topic of considerable discussion, both in trade circles and the press.

Recently a large rancher made the following suggestive statement: "Yes, it seems that they are determined to make us move, to where I don't know. The homesteader files on a quarter section and takes a pre-emption adjoining it. What is his object? Is it to raise grain and contribute to the wealth of the country? In the majority of cases I say no. His purpose is to prove on it, then sell, and go to the States, where he goes through the same performance. I almost think homesteading has become a business. I am certain it has with some men.

Farmers Not All Society.

"You know people are so prone to speak before they think. The most of us never look beyond the tip of our noses. If we did this would land us somewhere near our mouth. And here is where the trouble will arise sometime in the future if so-called civilization says exit the ranch. People must eat and every day in our large centres there are thousands of stomach to be filled. Of course, the farmer is all right—but the farmer must surely understand that he does not form the whole of society. The millions of wage earners must have meat and plenty of it to turn the industrial weels of our great country.

"Mixed farming will not supply the deficiency. It is an impossibility and it is almost amusing to hear some men say that it will do so. Mixed farming is a splendid thinng, and the ranchers are very pleased to see this system inaugurated in southern Alberta. But any intelligent, unprejudiced man must admit that the beef supply from the mixed farms of our nation would scarcely keep Montreal alive a month. Mixed farming is a complement to but not a supplement for ranching.

The Ambitious Transient.

"This impending doom of the rancher is a juicy morsel for the ambitious transient, whose absorbing object in the country is to 'prove up' on a homestead and sell just as soon after he gets his patent as possible. It is also excellent material for peanut politicians who use if for bait during campaigns. Both Grits and Tories have done this in the past, so one hasn't anything on the other in that regard. But the rancher thinks better of the cool, farsighted economist and genuine stateman. He looks beyond his nose, and we have confidence in his wisdom and intelligence.

"You can say for me that it will be a sorry day for this country when 't ties the can to the ranch. Of course we are not worrying seriously. Our position is secure for many years to come. But it is sometimes irritating to hear people continualy deploring the fact that certain ranchers have large leases lying idle. If their butcher asked double the price per pound for steak they would probably substitute another word for idle."

This was the summary of a long talk over the whole situation, and while it may be ridiculed by some it will serve to show that there are other phases to this vital question than simply the placing of a certain number of people on land every year. The truthfulness of most of the stockman's statements cannot be questioned, but it appears that his attack on the homesteader is somewhat exaggerated. While many homestead for speculative purposes, the greater percentage of those who file on land on the lease south of Magrath are establishing themselves permanently upon their farms. And they are doing well.

OLD MAN OF SIXTY JAILED FOR THEFT

Montreal, Oct. 15.—After serving as a trusted employee of the C. P. R. for a number of years, Daniel McNamara, over sixty years old, was this morning sentenced to six months in jail for theft by Judge Choquet in the court of sessions.

This was the prisoner's first offence, but the court pointed out that his breach of trust made his act all the more serious.

Robert Drummond, though only 19, has already served two terms behind the bars, will put in another three months. Upon being liberated in August, he was immediately taken back by his old employer and showed his gratitude by stealing $17 from his benefa tor.

Arthur Larose and Joseph Riendeau, charged with breaking and entering a store at 1075 Laurier avenue, were sentenced to three months in jail.

Blanche Morin will do six months for the theft of a horse and buggy, the property of Arsene Lecavallee, which she and a young man were claimed to have used for a ride on September 9. The court suspended sentence on Elzear Laplerre, her companion in the ride.

WANT DOUKHOBORS BROUGHT TO TIME

Associated Boards of Trade Draft Strong Resolution for Provincial Government.

At the meeting of the Associated Boards of Trade of the interior at Kaslo last week, Grand Forks introduced the subject of the Doukhobors and their delegate, Mr. DeCaw, stated that two of them had been arrested there and the order came from the attorney-general to release them. Since then the Doukhobors carried themselves as if they were above any law. They were not living as a Canadian people should, as their marriage relations, their health or the educational provision made for them. L. A. Campbell, M. P. P., stated that at Victoria during the last session, the premier had declared emphatically that the laws of the province should be enforced, but this had not been done. They had not been required to send their children to school, the health regulations had not been enforced and in many ways the laws of the province had been violated by them and apparently no effort had been made to bring the offenders to justice. A house had been blown up and one or two killed, and though there were suspicions of crime the police had not thoroughly investigated the case to be assured that the explosion was an accident or crime. A rancher in the Slocan had been killed, but no one had been arrested. The one suspicious rumor in connection with the murder was that a Doukhobor had wanted him to sell his farm and he would not. White men could not act as the Doukhobors had acted without being arrested, yet the provincial authorities would do nothing. Mr. Campbell had made a trip to Victoria during the summer to bring the matter to the attention of the heads of departments about the non-enforcement of the law, but had got no satisfaction; each minister would send him to the next.

A resolution was passed emphatically insisting that the provincial government enforce the laws upon all alike, to see that Doukhobor children attended school, that the health regulations were complied with and that births, deaths and marriages were registered. As the Doukhobors had come to the province under no special conditions it was thought that this was as far as action could be taken, but if this were done ends would be met as far as possible at present.

KITTY'S SMOKE RUDELY DISTURBED

Actress Arrested for Puffing Perfumed Pill Behind Scenes in Theatre.

Spokane, Oct. 15.—That even an actress may not smoke behind the scenes of a theatre was demonstrated last night, when Kitty Lawrence was rudely aroused from her enjoyment of a perfumed cigarette and haled to the police station on a charge of violating the fire ordinance. The time was after her performance at the Empress theatre, the place was her dressing room, and the officer Captain Frank Burton of station No. 1 on special fire duty at the theatre.

Kitty refused to walk to the station. She appealed to her escort, who attempted to reason with the officer, but in the end a taxi was called and Kitty, her escort and the officer taken to the city hall. She was arraigned on the charge as above and after depositing $6 as a bond was permitted to depart.

A short time afterward she left for Seattle.

RESPECTABLE WOMEN AS SHOPLIFTERS

Well Known in Stratford, Ont., Mothers and Daughters Are Sentenced for Stealing.

Toronto, Oct. 15.—Stratford residents have interested themselves to a great exten in the affairs of Mrs. Winnifred Neil, her daughter, Miss Mary Neil, Mrs. Catherine Mary Hillman and her daughter, Miss Mary Hillman, who appeared before Judge Morgan in the sessions yesterday charged with shoplifting. Half a dozen letters, the author of one being the Stratford police magistrate, and another a member of parliament in Perth county, were presented, giving the women good characters and a good place in Stratford society.

However, in view of the elaborate scale on which the theft was carried out, Judge Morgan said that some punishment was necessary, even for the welfare of the rest of the community. Crown Attorney Greer said the case was a little out of the ordinary in that they were caught red-handed, and over $300 worth of goods found in the boarding house where they were staying. "It appeared to have been a raid planned and operated from Stratford," said Mr. Greer.

"A lapse of morals, a cloudburst," was the manner in which Mr. Blewitt of Stratford, counsel for the accused women, described the theft. "No man could imagine the torture they had undergone since they were arrested."

The girls took the full responsibility and both volunteered to take the punishment, but pleaded for their mothers. Judge Morgan, however, took the view that in allowing them to go when the theft was so extensive would have no beneficial effect on others, and sentenced each to four months in the Mercer. Mr. Robinette then protested against this, saying that the Mercer was nothing but a seething pot of women of vice. He would rather put in two years in jail than two months in the Mercer, he added. Judge Morgan stated that he would recommend that they be segregated from other women. However, the sentence was later changed so that the young women were fined $50 each, but the mothers must spend two months each in the Mercer.

He's Alive All Right.

Grand Forks, Oct. 15—Frank Fincham, who disappeared from Rossland and was supposed to have been drowned in the Columbia river in the early part of July, is alive and well in the north country. When seen a short time ago he was in Prince Rupert and when accosted by an old acquaintance confessed his identity and his reason for disappearing. This information has just been received on such reliable information as to be beyond question. The reasons given are of a confidential nature, and were not communicated for publication. Fincham was well known in Grand Forks, having resided here before going to Rossland a little over a year ago.

English Capitalist Waits for Prices to Drop for Investment, But Slump Doesn't Seem to Come.

Montreal, Oct. 15.—A prominent London capitalist now visiting Vancouver, writes to Chas. R. Hosmer, that over $3,000,000 of English money is lying on deposit at the coast, awaiting an opportunity for investment.

The English owners, according to Mr. Hosmer's correspondent, are waiting for a slump in values before investing the funds.

"The slump, however," writes the Londoner, "does not seem to be in sight, as conditions here are excellent."

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS.

COAL MINING rights of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the Northwest Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 2560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee will be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

NURSES DISCUSS NEW LEGISLATION

Registration Bill Taken Up at Suggestion of President, Miss Wright, of This City.

A general meeting or the Graduate Nurses' association of British Columbia was held on Saturday, October 11, at 8 p. m. at the Alexandra club, Victoria, B. C.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mis Wright, of New Westminster. After the roll call, and the minutes of the last meeting had been read by the secretary, the president spoke a few words on the registration bill for nurses which had been presented at the last session and had been laid over until the next. She said that the fact of the bill being printed for the members of the house might be taken as a good sign, and would encourage all to do what they could in working for it this year. There were several alterations that had zeen made since the bill was first compiled, viz., the first council to be appointed by the B. C. College of Physicians and Surgeons; the amount of the fee for registration, after open discussion at the annual meeting, was reduced to $10; and the word "attendant" referring to the registration of non-graduates if they with it, to be altered to "household nurse."

There was a discussion on what the local nurses' associations could do towards helping, and suggestions were made that condensed literature bringing forward the most important points of the bill be printed for distribution among the associations. Miss Randall of Vancouver gave a report of the special committee who are working along these lines.

The resignation of the second vice-president, Miss Patton of Kamloops, was then read. It was proposed by Miss Norcross of Victoria, and seconded by Miss Scott of New Westminster, that the office be kept open until a new superintendent was appointed at the hospital, in order that Kamloops might be still represented among the officers of the association.

The meeting then adjourned and tea and coffee was served by the Victoria Nurses' club to the members and guests. Among those present were: Miss Randall, Miss Hall, Miss Trew, Miss Breeze, Miss R. Judge, from Vancouver; Miss Wright, Miss Scott, Miss Gray, from New Westminster; Miss Morrison,t Miss Hurst, Miss Jones, Miss Norcross, Miss Trombley, Miss McCrae, Miss Kennedy, Miss Swan, Mrs. Greig, Miss Goward, Miss Archibald and many others from Victoria.

AEROPLANE BOOM ON IN LONDON

Pegoud, Who Flies Upside Down, Says He Is a Scientist and Makes Money By It.

London, Oct. 15.—At last London has another boom. England is just now suffering mrom an excess of air-climbing, and the new craze is still so new that as yet people like it. Actresses are taking to the new sport, the army is showing a keen practical interest, and though it would be quite untrue to say yet that doctors are recommending their lady patients to "try a flight for their nerves," one may expect to find that the hazard of today will be the medicine of tomorrow.

The latest and most daring exponent of tricks in an aeroplane is Pegoud, the young Frenchman. This is the young man who flies with his machine upside down, and people are asked to believe that he is actuated solely by scientific motives. This may or may not be so, but if he is really the earnest scientist which he would have people believe him to be, it is a little curious that he should choose Brooklands as a place in which to show his brother airmen how to handle a machine scientifically. Incidentally there will be twenty or thirty thousand other people at Brooklands, all paying good coin of the realm to go inside to see a man risk his neck, and it would be interesting to know whether this scientist takes any share of the gate money or the proceeds from the sale of cinema rights. All admit that Pegoud, the same as any acrobat or other performer, has perfect liberty to take his chance with death, but it is high time that some protest was lodged against the growing habit of describing such performances as scientific achievements.

FALLS IN LOVE WITH OUR SYSTEM

English Lady Traveler Likes Canadian Method of Handling Baggage.

The superiority of the Canadian baggage system to the no system that prevails in England has been fully demonstrated by Miss Maude Adams, the English journalist, who lately arrived in Canada. She describes graphically how the system works to the conserving of temper, and contrasts he efficiency which marks it with the barbaric scramble which is necessary in the old country at the railway stations, when the public is searching for its baggage.

Miss Adams shows the delightful simplicity and security of our system—the baggage checked through, the ease with which you enjoy yourself, confident that with the check in your pocket you can go to sleep, go to the ends of the Dominion—certain that your baggage will be produced on the instant.

She describes, by way of antithesis the scrabble at the stations in the mother country—everyone searching for his particular baggage ;the similarity in valises, the loss of temper and time, the undignified hustling and imprecations which are features of the rush to get baggage. It is a case of the devel take the hindmost.

System Which Is No System.

about on the platform or in a place for the purpose, but quite unclassified. Even, however, if it were labelled in an illuminating way, there is no checking system as we have it. Miss Adams wonders how the British people stand the stupid system, or, rather, no system; but then she recalls how conservative the people are, how they are adverse to change, and how especially on the railways everybdoy seems willing to put up with limited accommodation which might have been woefuly inadequate today. That is, inadequate in the apprehension of an outsider; but on the whole satisfactory to the majority of the people.

Experts, indeed, have been sent out to this country to study and report on our baggage system. They returned unconvinced; but Miss Adams is emphatically of the opinion that you cannot have any comfort in traveling until you make acquaintance with our checking system, which allows you to go to sleep in peace, knowing that your bag or trunk is faithfully following you in the darknes of night, across the wilderness and the prairie, to greet you the first thing when you reach your destination.—The Canadian.

EACH SIDE IN FIGHT PAYS FOR ITS OWN FUN

Montreal, Oct. 15.—"Case dismissed and each pay your own costs," was the verdict rendered by Judge Leet in the police court yesterday, after he had listened practicaly all forenoon to the evidence in a charge of assault case brought against Michael Philips, of Caughnawaga, by J. Horning, of the same place.

Both men, and in fact the whole regiment of witnesses had taken part in a "pow-wow," held on September 2, to celebrate a wedding. On the road home Horning and Philips met and a few minute later war whoops startled the whole neighborhood. Horning, who is a squaw man, alleged that Philips attacked and tried to choke him.

Doctor Patton, of Caughnawaga, told the court that his wife had warned him on the night of the fight that some one was calling very loudly on the road just outside his residence. The doctor ran out and found Horning lying on the roadside. He had him carried to a neighbor's house, but could find no traces of any blows or any marks of violence, and thought he had fainted as a result of over-excitement and over-indulgence.

Horning had first taken his case before the superior court, claiming $131 damages, but he had later withdrawn the complaint.

Judge Leet said that there was no doubt an assault had been committed, but if Horning had not been under the infinence of liquor and had Philips not misunderstood some remark made by Horning there would have been no trouble. He therefore dismissed the case.

CHINESE TRUCK GARDENERS MUST OBSERVE REGULATIONS

Nelson, Oct. 15.—Before a public market can be established in Nelson with any prospects of success some means must be found of regulating peddling of produce by Chinese truck gardeners, declared members of the board of trade at the monthly meeting last night when a committee of six was appointed to report on the legal aspect of the question of the passage of a city by-law, which would permit the hawking of produce only after a certain hour each week day, was one means of accomplishing the desired end, which was suggested.

Grocers, ranchers and consumers all spoke in favor of the proposed market, which is likely to be formed next spring.

Filthy methods of Oriental truck gardening, and the manner in which John Chinaman, to whom the grocery men gives the credit of being a clever salesman, made housewives believe that they were securing fruit and vegetables more cheaply than they really were and the emphatic declaration that British Columbia must be kept a white man's country were features of the speeches at the meeting.

Daughter Kills Father.

Wawanosh, Ont., Oct. 14.—Harry McDowell, 35 years old, was shot and instantly killed last night by his nine year old daughter who playfully pointed a revolver at him and accidentally discharged it. "Hold up your hands, daddy," said the girl, and at that instant the cartridge exploded, sending a bullet into the farmer's left side just below the heart.

Unknown Man Run Down.

OWNS BROAD ACRES.

New Duke of Sutherland Inherits An Immense Fortune.

A goodly inheritance is that which comes to the Marquess of Stafford, fifth Duke of Sutherland, who, at twenty-five years of age, succeeds his father, the fourth Duke, who died recently.

Close upon a million and a half acres of land, and an income of nearly $750,000 a year, is the total of the riches and the estate which the young Duke inherits. In addition he becomes owner of five country mansions in Scotland and three in England. With one exception, of the Czar of Russia, he owns more land than any other person in Europe.

The secret of this immense wealth lies in the fact that the Gowers have always married money. Originally they were a simple Yorkshire family of good lineage. The first baronet, however, Sir Thomas Gower, married the heiress of the Stafford Levesons, and acquired Lillieshall with its coalfields and the great estate of Trentham.

The fourth baronet married Lady Jane Granville, one of the co-heiresses of the Earl of Bath, and his son was created Lord Gower and married into the ducal house of Rutland. The second Lord Gower was raised to an earldom and married three times, on each occasion to a lady better fortuned than her predecessor, while the second earl in the next generation did even better for himself, for he wedded the heiress of Scrop, first Duke of Bridgewater, and the great Bridgwater estates in Lancashire afterwards fell to his grandson.

While, however, the Gowers have thus linked wealth and matrimony, they have always shown keen business instinct, and the late Duke was no exception. Eschewing society, he lived quietly in retirement, developing his already immense estates. He was an enthusiastic Imperialist, taking a great interest in Canada, and every year visited this country, purchasing thousands of acres of land in Alberta and British Columbia.

His marriage to the Duchess of Sutherland, who owns in her own right nearly 150,000 acres, was a veritable romance, while at the same time it added one more to the long list of wealthy marriages contracted by the Gowers.

The late Duke was thirty-three years of age, and one of the most notable matrimonial catches in society, when, in 1884, he went on a visit to the Earl and Countess of Rosslyn. The day after his arrival he went to tea in the school room. There he saw the sixteen-year-old Lady Millicent St. Clair Erskine, a young girl as witty and intelligent as she was pretty.

"Happy the wooing that's not long a-dooing," proving true in this case, for on her seventeenth birthday, the girl became Marchioness of Stafford, and ultimately Duchess of Sutherland when her husband succeeded to the title in 1892. King Edward and Queen Alexandra were at the wedding, the Duke of Fife being best man.

"The Amazing Duchess" is the title which has been applied to the Duchess of Sutherland, who is undoubtedly one of the most remarkable celebrities of the day, not even excepting her half-sister, the Countess of Warwick. Like the latter, the Duchess has distinct Socialistic tendencies.

"Years ago," she said, in one of her characteristic speeches, during the course of which she alluded to the necessity for certain social reforms and her longing to live in a cottage, "when I came inexperienced and enthusiastic amongst you, you called me 'Meddlesome Milly.' As far as a miserable Duchess could be an agitator, I strove to be one. The day is coming," she continued, "when no one will be grateful for the crumbs that have fallen from the rich man's table, and it will be a good day. We absolutely must advance, and we are advancing."

The new Duke, who last year married Lady Eileen Butler, the eldest daughter of the seventh Earl of Lanesborough, is a lieutenant in the 2nd Dragoon Guards, and a very keen sportsman as well as soldier.

Wants Divorce From Priest.

An extraordinary case has just been heard by Mr. Justice Bucknill in the Divorce Division. It was a suit for nullity of marriage brought by a young girl against her husband, a Roman Catholic priest. Previous to going into the matter the judge, owing to the recent decision as to hearing cases in camera, intimated that all persons who were not directly interested in the proceedings should leave the court. Most of those present accordingly went outside. The petitioner was Annie Rosetta Fortemps, otherwise Goodwill, and the respondent was Louis Portemps.

Mr. Barnard said that the petitioner when a young girl of 16 years of age was at a school at Slough, where she became acquainted with the respondent, a Roman Catholic priest. He made love to the girl, and she had to complain to the people at the school with reference to it. After the petitioner left the school on November 27, 1909, she and the respondent went through a ceremony of marriage at the Lambeth Registry Office. The petitioner was then 19, but the marriage, it was alleged, was never consummated. At Windsor, the respondent passed off the lady as his ward. The judge granted a decree of nullity, with costs.

Politician's Death.

Sir Samuel Gillott, ex-Attorney-General and Secretary of State for Victoria, Australia, met with a tragic death at Sheffield, a few days ago. Sir Samuel was a native of Sheffield, and was on a visit to England with Lady Gillott, staying with his cousin in Sheffield. About two o'clock in the morning a noise was heard, and his cousins, on rising, found Sir Samuel lying at the bottom of a flight of stairs. He was conscious, and on being asked if he could account for his fall, the only theory he could put forward was that he must have got up in a half-awakened state and walked to the head of the stairs, from which he fell.

Relics Sold.

The christening shirt worn by Lord Nelson was sold at Messrs. Sotheby's, London, for £30. Napoleon's flint-lock gun sold for £135, and his hat when First Consul £85.

Small Boy Sues.

Seattle, Oct. 15.—Norman Henry Rothwell, 13 years old, stepped on a skylight of the Bon Marche store and fell to the floor below, fracturing his skull and right leg. In the superior court suit for $40,000 was filed.

Duels in France.

A large proportion of the duels in France end without bloodshed. When the offense is not very serious it is agreed beforehand that the words of command shall be given so rapidly that the duelists will not have time to take good aim. Sometimes three shots are exchanged without a hit, and then the seconds step in and—"honor is satisfied." At the word "Fire!" the pistol is raised instantly, and it must be discharged not later than the word "three," so the speed with which these words are given regulates the time in which it is possible to take aim. Therefore the speed with which they are spoken is agreed upon beforehand, this depending upon the seriousness of the duel. The words are timed with a metronome. If the encounter be very serious this is set at the lowest speed, eighty beats a minute, which gives time for taking accurate aim. A speed of 140 beats a minute allows no time for aiming, and therefore is used when the seconds consider the duel should be made as little dangerous as possible.—London Answers.

Two Ways to Catch Rabbits.

By the first method "you take a lot o' salt, mix some pepper with it, strew it on a very hard rock, then watch. The rabbits cum and eat the salt, and the pepper makes 'em sneeze so vilent they bump their noses on the rock till they fall in a swound and you step up and pop 'em in your bag."

The other method was to "build a bustin' fire in the woods when the snow is plenty. Now, rabbits, you must know, is a mite cold blooded little critters, so they'll cum and set round it and warm their toes. Well, pretty soon they'll drop off asleep and the fire'll melt the snow into slush. And pretty soon the fire'll die out and the mornin' 'll cum on sharp and 'll freeze the slush into ice and ketch the little critters fast by the paws. Then all you have to do is cum round with yer ax and chop 'em out." — Robert Haven Schauffler in Metropolitan Magazine.

Captured by an Orang.

There is an old story told of a native of Borneo who, with a party, went out to hunt an orang outang to sell to show men. This particular hunter got separated, and at the end of the day was still missing. A search was organized, and at the end of the second day he was found high up in a tree with an orang outang by his side. A rifle shot killed the big ape and then the man descended and told of his strange adventure. He had gone into the river to bathe, and as he came out was seized by the orang and carried to its lodging in a tree. To his surprise he was not otherwise molested. What the orang supposed him to be or what would have been the eventual outcome of this strange captivity no one knows, and the hunter willingly gave up the chance of finding out.

Postal Rates in 1830.

According to a table of the post offices in the United States as they were Oct. 1, 1830, the whole number of offices in the United States was 8,610. The rates of postage established by congress in 1825 were: On a single letter composed of one piece of paper for any distance not exceeding thirty miles, 6 cents; over thirty miles and not exceeding eighty miles, 10 cents; over eighty miles and not exceeding 150, 12½ cents; over 150 miles and not exceeding 400, 18¾ cents; over 400 miles, 25 cents; a letter composed of two pieces was charged double these rates; of three pieces triple and four pieces quadruple these rates. For newspapers the rate was 1 cent for 100 miles and 1½ cents for over 100 miles.

Bells of Old England.

To one sixteenth century visitor at least the English seemed to be a nation of bell lovers. This was Paul Hentener, a German, who wrote of his travels in this country during the reign of Queen Elizabeth. "The English," he said, "excel in dancing and music, for they are active and lively, though of a thicker make than the French. They are vastly fond of great noises that fill the air, such as the firing of cannon, drums and the ringing of bells, so that in London it is common for a number of them, that have got a glass in their heads, to go into some belfry and ring the bells for hours together for the sake of exercise."—London Chronicle.

Father's Reason.

Young Harold was late in attendance for Sunday school, and the minister inquired the cause.

"I was going fishing, but father wouldn't let me," announced the lad.

"That's the right kind of a father to have," replied the reverend gentleman. "Did he explain the reason why he would not let you go?"

"Yes, sir. He said there wasn't bait enough for two."—Harper's Magazine.

A Duty Well Done.

WHEN "LAGS" ESCAPE

INGENIOUS METHODS ARE USED TO BREAK FROM PRISON.

Patience, Keen Wit, Set Purpose and Desperate Cunning All Contribute to the Successful Attempts to Pass Through Locked Doors — France Holds Record for the Most Sensational Jail Deliveries.

Not in all the annals of adventure will you find more stirring tales than those relating to escapes from great prisons. It is a war of keen wits, of long patience, of set purpose, and of passionate thirst for freedom, against every obstacle that can be devised. To a strong man with a lifetime behind bars in prospect, what is a year, two years, five years, spent in scraping away mortar with his finger nails

His jailers have many things to think of besides his safe keeping; on the other hand, he is free to bend all his faculties, night and day, on ways and means, and the results are indeed full of human interest. I have often spoken with prison wardens on the subject and sat almost breathless with interest as tales were told of escapes and attempts so ingenious and daring that they commanded the admiration and smypathy — purely personal and unofficial of course—of even those stern disciplinarians.

Wardens have shown keys made of wire from tin cans and twisted strands of oakum—keys that would open massive doors with startling readiness. And think of a master key to almost every gate in a prison, forged by a convicted blacksmith entirely from memory! The man had seen the original displayed in the chaplain's belt two or three times and had so accurately impressed each angle and curve on his eager mind that the skeleton he reproduced with such patient labor was, if not a perfect copy, at least an effective substitute. But prisoners using tools of any sorts, or having access to even the most unlikely material, will contrive keys, saws, files and other implements that accomplish miracles as open sesames.

Probably the French penal establishments yield the most interesting and romantic cases. The sentences are more severe and the prisoners are left more to their own devices, particularly at the famous prison of Noumea, in New Caledonia, a lonely island in a tropic sea. Severe punishments are in store at this convict station for men who attempt to escape. They are loaded with chains and thrown into a black hole, where many a man has lost his reason. Moreover, recapture after the alarm gun has been fired means a great prolongation of sentence. It is eloquent of the life in New Caledonia, however, that in spite of this, one will find young prisoners who have made a dozen attempts to escape and in consequence have cumulative sentences hanging over them amounting to 50 or even 100 years.

The latest and strangest case reported to Paris was one where two men had patiently cut their chains and made their bedclothes into petticoats by night. White caps and curls were skillfully fashioned out of picked oakum; and they dyed the lower part of their legs a dark blue to imitate long stockings. Thus disguised they made a bold bid for freedom. But the ocean forged fetters beyond even their sharp wits, and they had to give up after a day and night on a crazy raft, half drowned and delirious with thirst.

As to the great French prisons at Brest, Rochefort and Toulon, up till recently amazingly daring escapes were attempted and carried out; and, stranger still, coining money was constantly practiced in them. In the words of a government inspector, "It seems possible to make files or false keys in the shops by evading supervision; but to strike false money during the short hours of rest—to hollow out molds melt metals and complete the coins—seems incredible; yet it was successfully done."

At Toulon the great French forger, Suttler, was held in durance and his feats even in prison were a sore trial to the officials. One case is on record where official authority reached the prison for the release of a particular prisoner. All the documents and signatures were in perfect order and proper form, and the man would have been set free forthwith, were it not that one important paper was lacking.

Inquiry was started concerning this, when it leaked out that the letter containing the documents bore the postmark of Toulon and not of Paris. Further search disclosed an astonishing fraud. The orders were forgeries from beginning to end, prepared and carried out by the wonderful Suttler, who had forged every signature, including even that of the President.

The whole life of this prisoner was a strange romance. He had played many parts and displayed genius of a high order, whether clothed in broadcloth or rags. His end was mysterious. One night after displaying some marvelously clever forgeries to the officials whose signatures they purported to be, he went quietly to bed and was found dead next morning. Beyond doubt he had committed suicide; but the surgeons who performed the post-mortem were utterly at a loss to explain the cause of death. Only a week previously he had taught a fellow prisoner 10 or 12 ways of cutting the links of his chain, or of concealing the gaps in the partly sawed steel. To another Suttler sent straw basket which was confiscated by accident, and on pulling it to pieces each straw was found to contain a small file of wonderful fineness.

Usually the British system in convict prisons is perfect enough to detect a man's absence long before he can get clear of the jail precincts. On one occasion at Portland the usual bells were tolled and shots fired to give notice of escape. All the staff turned out with loaded rifles and half an hour later some of the civil guard casually too to prodding the soft ground of the vegetable garden with their bayonets.

All at once a wild yet smothered yell was heard from somewhere below the ground. And simultaneously the men were astounded to witness a spasmodic upheaval of freshly-turned soil. A bayonet point had pierced the flesh of the artfully buried prisoner and with a convulsive movement he sprang out of his strange grave.

Fire Loss is $4,000.

Miles, Wash., Oct. 15.—C. L. De Tillion's store at the De Tillion bridge, was burned yesterday morning. The loss is about $4,000, insurance, $2,500.

SEARCHERS FAIL TO FIND BODIES

Remains of Two Men Drowned in the Pitt River May Never Be Recovered.

Searchers for the bodies of Robert Vaughan and Charles Wood, of New Westminster, who were drowned in the Pitt river last Saturday, have been unable to discover any signs whatever of the objects of their quest and it is feared the bodies may never be found.

The two men, who were employed at Small & Bucklin's lumber camp, were lost in attempting to cross the Pitt on a raft, and the supposition is that the bodies have been carried down stream and swept into the deep waters of the lake, where they may lie without ever coming to the surface.

Coroner Dr. McQuarrie yesterday gave the above as his opinion. Persons travelling up or down the river are keeping a sharp lookout for the remains.

CANNERS INTERVIEW PROVINCIAL MINISTER

Victoria, Oct. 15.—An influential delegation, representing the B. C. Canners' association and others interested in the fishing industry, consisting for the most part of those operating in district No. 2, the northern district of the province, waited on Hon. W. J. Bowser, commissioner of fisheries, at their request, to confer with regard to the regulations that will be in force in 1914.

The changes in the regulations favoring the employment of white men were debated, various suggestions received by the commissioner, were brought to the attention of the delegates and their views on the questions obtained. The commissioner stated that he would be taking up the matter with the Dominion minister of marine and fisheries following the return from Ottawa of the provincial representatives of the Dominion fisheries advisory board.

DID NOT HAVE PERMISSION OF WHOLE COUNCIL

Port Coquitlam, Oct. 15.—At the council meeting held last evening a rather sharp discussion took place over the extra expenditures by the engineer on improvement work without first receiving authority from the board of works committee. Alderman Galer accused the engineer's department with an expenditure of $57 over and above the amount authorized by the council. Alderman Welcher exonerated the engineer from blame in the matter stating that the extra expenditure had been authorized by himself as chairman of the works department. The stoppage of the work, he said, would have necessitated the firing of the gang engaged and this he did not think an advisable thing to do as it would mean the hiring of a fresh crew for the next job.

As a result of the discussion it is very probable that in future the engineer will not undertake any work whatever unless it is authorized by the board of works as a whole.

PREMIERS OF PROVINCES TO TALK FINANCES

Toronto, Oct. 15.—The premiers of Canadian provinces are going to meet in Ottawa on Monday, Oct. 27 to talk over the question of provincial finances.

The are going to start a movement to have the Canadian provincial bonds placed on the British trustee list, said a prominent financial man today.

This will enable English trustees and estate managers to invest in these desirable bonds. It is probable the premiers will visit England in a body soon and appear before the British cabinet.

WINDJAMMER GETS WIRELESS CHARTER

Barkentine Everett G. Griggs Establishes New Record for Sailing Vessels.

The famous six-masted barkentine Everett G. Griggs was chartered by wireless, when far out at sea, says a letter written by her master and owner, Captain E. R. Sterling, at Sydney, Australia. No other sailing vessel was ever before fixed by wireless, and this must go down in marine annals as another world's record for the big sailing craft.

The Griggs is the largest sailing craft of her rig afloat. She was the first sailing vessel to have electric lights and a cold storage refrigerating plant installed. Her sailing records are numerous. She was the first sailing vessel to be equipped with wireless. July 8 she left Puget Sound with the largest lumber cargo ever carried by a sailing vessel.

Captain Sterling is delighted with his wireless, which is the latest acquisition of the Griggs. It enabled him to keep in touch with the charter market, and the fixture he obtained through its use was two shillings higher than he received for the last voyage of the barkentine. In addition the wireless served as a newspaper and those aboard the big sailer were fully informed at sea of the I. W. W. troubles in Seattle.

The Griggs' new charter calls for her to begin loading at Newcastle, Australia, about November 10. She will take a full coal cargo to Callao for Davies & Fehon of Sydney.

TAKES OVER STREETS IN C.P.R. RESERVE

Vancouver Makes Arrangement with Railway—Scheme to Save Daylight.

Vancouver, Oct. 15—The civic board of works tentatively agreed to take over some of the streets in the C. P. R. warehouse reserve on the terms suggested by the company, and an agreement will be drawn up between the city and the railway company in which the city will be indemnified against loss because of the presence of the freight tracks. At a previous meeting of the board, property owners in the reserve requested the city to take over the streets and improve them, but owing to the presence of loading platforms in the streets, the city refused. Now the proposal is for the railway company to retain the platforms, make them permanent, and convey to the city the remaining 41 feet for a street.

Save Daylight.

At the regular meeting of the Vancouver board of trade last night, a resolution was passed approving of a request for legislation tending to the saving of daylight, and another one to the effect that the government be asked to abolish the personal property tax, was also approved by the members.

Small Fire.

Fire last night broke out shortly after 11 o'clock in Wray & McKee's clothing store on Hastings street between Carrall and Abbott streets, and considerable damage was done to the stock and building by the smoke. The actual loss from burning was not heavy.

Can Refuse Drink.

The decision of importance to hotelkeepers has been handed down by Judge McInnes, in which his honor holds that an hotelkeeper is not obliged to serve any man with liquor unless he is a bona fide traveller. The decision was given by the judge in dismissing the action of Moses Rowden, a colored man, against J. B. Teevens, of the Stratford hotel, for $500 damages for refusing to serve him with a drink because he is colored. His honor found that as Rowden was not a bona fide traveller, it was within the discretion of the hotelman whether he served him with liquor or not.

Indians on Trial.

The calendar at the assizes has been added to by the names of George Wilson and Stikine Joe, the two Kimsquit Indians who are charged with the murder of Charles Wilson, his wife Emma Wilson, George Paul and Watchee Gus. The tragedy occurred at the end of the fishing season when the accused were said to be under the influence of drink. An unusual coincidence is that George Wilson was sentenced at the Vancouver assizes a year and a half ago to 18 months in prison for an assault on Emma Wilson, the woman whom he is now charged with murdering. Wilson had only been out of the penitentiary for a few weeks when the tragedy occurred which resulted in the death of the four Indians.

Tragedy Recalled.

The tragedy connected with the drowning of O. T. Chamberlin and Fred Lucas, who perished in the Fraser river on May 29, while on their way to join a survey party at Fort George was recalled yesterday in supreme court chambers when an application was heard to presume death and grant probate in the case of the young axeman, O. T. Chamberlin.

C. P. R. Awards Prizes.

Prizes in the garden contests organized by the Canadian Pacific Railway company have just been awarded by F. W. Peters, general superintendent of British Columbia lines. A Lovell, section foreman at Agassiz, won the first prize for the British Columbia division, which extends from Vancouver to Field, and embraces the Okanagan, Kootenay and other branch lines in the province. E. Hunt, station agent at Haney, was the prize winner on the subdivision between Vancouver and Kamloops. J. McKenzie, watchman at Cut Bank on the eastern slope of the Selkirk range, won the prize on district two, and W. Ponnock, agent at Brilliant, secured the award on district three of the Kootenay and Boundary branches.

AWAIT RESULTS OF EXHIBITS AT WINNIPEG

Word of the results of agricultural exhibit competitions at the Chicago and Winnipeg exhibitions in which produce selected from district exhibits at the provincial fair here were entered, is daily expected by officers of the R. A. and I. society. The entries taken from here include grains, grasses, fruit, vegetables, etc., from Langley, Salmon Arm, Richmond, Chilliwack, Mission, Burquitlam, Maple Ridge, Kamloops, Comox, Revelstoke and Penticton.

Selections from these ten districts were to have been made by W. J. Brandrith, provincial exhibition commissioner, but owing to his sudden illness the work was done by Mr. Shotbolt, and after being rearranged at Victoria were shipped, with a man in charge of each, to Chicago and Winnipeg.

RUSHING WORK ON NEW C.N.R. LINE

Laying Steel Between Pembroke and Toronto—Whole System Complete in 1915.

Ottawa, Oct. 15.—J. P. Mularkey, contractor for the construction of a section of the Canadian Northern railway between Pembroke and Toronto, left Pembroke two days ago. Before sold weather breaks, he says he will have the steel laid as far as Portage du Prairie. Before the next six months the rails will be laid from Ottawa as far as Finch Falls.

Then work on the construction of two bridges over the Ottawa river, one at Portage du Fort and the other at Chats Falls will be rushed so that the bridge will be completed next spring. The entire section of the road in Quebec has been graded and it is planned to have it ready for operation in the fall of next year.

The contractors of the section from Pembroke to North Bay and from there to the Canadian Northern railway line now in operation from Fort William westward, are making good headway with their work. Early in 1915, perhaps before then, the whole line from east to west will be ready for traffic.

FRASER VALLEY AT PANAMA FAIR

Products of District Will Be Seen at Great Exposition at San Francisco.

Products of districts in the Fraser valley and other parts of the province will find a place among exhibits of the world at the Panama-Pacific exposition in 1915. While two years is a long time to look ahead, still it is practically a certainty that the fruits, grains, vegetables and other products of the agricultural districts of B. C. will be shown alongside those of distant parts of the world.

The big fair at San Francisco is to last from April until December, 1915 and much the same method of selection will likely be used as in sending exhibits to the Chicago and Winnipeg exhibitions this year. Fruit and vegetables from the district exhibits at the provincial fair here will be selected by an independent party and after being re-arranged will be shipped to the exhibition in charge of an expert. If the proposition is carried out the B.C. exhibit from the fair at New Westminster will consist of agricultural products only.

Other departments will be left for other bodies to take care of. Already some advance in this has been made by H. B. Brown, director of the mines branch of the Vancouver exhibition, who has issued a public letter asking for specimens of minerals for display at San Francisco and London two years hence.

The whole plan is in an embryonic state at present, but if carried out will do much to put British Columbia before the eyes of the world more than ever.

MUSICIAN OBTAINS ARREARS OF SALARY

Successful in Action Heard Before Judge Barker in County Court.

A. P. Reynolds, musician, recovered the sum of $122.16 and expenses, in an action against Mrs. J. A. Wagner, of the Toronto Academy of Music, tried before his honor Judge Barker in the county court yesterday.

The action arose out of a claim for wrongful dismissal of plaintiff, who was employed by defendant as a teacher in the institution, arrears of salary and retention of monies.

Defendant appeared to have taken objection to the manner in which Mr Reynolds conducted his tuition and he asserted that in the quarrel which ensued, the defendant struck him with a ticket puncher and at the same time discharged him. The defence was justifiable dismissal.

Judge Barker held the plaintiff had been unlawfully dismissed and gave judgment for the full amount claimed.

W. F. Hansford represented plaintiff and Deacon, Deacon & Wilson the defendant.

INSPECTORS MUST BE SHOWN GOODS

Clothing and Equipment to Be Produced When Ordered—New Order Issued.

Ottawa, Oct. 15.—The inspection of clothing and equipment of the militia regiments must be a real inspection henceforth. That is the attitude taken by the adjutant general, Col. Williams, and he has issued instructions to the inspecting officers somewhat to that effect. Each year the clothing and equipment of a corps is inspected and it is claimed that in the past the inspecting officers throughout Canada have taken the word of the officers commanding units for many of the uniforms which were not produced at the inspection but were said to be at the homes of the men's corps.

The commanding officer took the word of the officers under him that such was the case and they in turn took the word of the sergeants over whom they command. Consequently there was much room for error. The practice, however, saved the trouble of making every member of a regiment turn in his uniform.

But it will not go any more. The inspecting officers of the future will have to be shown the goods.

GREED OF CASH SAID TO BE CAUSE OF MURDER

Moose Jaw, Oct. 15.—To stand trial for the murder of Edward Benson, on a farm near Calgary, in August last, W. J. Collins was last night delivered at the border by the sheriff of Caldwell county, Missouri, to Corporal Binning, of the R. N. W. M. P.

Collins was arrested some weeks ago. It is reported that he confessed the crime, but fought extradition. The charge is that Collins succumbed to the greed of Benson's cash, that he murdered Benson and, to cover traces of the crime, set fire to the shack, in the charred ruins in which his corpse was found. Collins got over the line, when suspicion pointed to him.

University Rifle Match.

Ottawa, Oct. 15.—Major Birdwhistle, secretary of the D. R. A., has sent out notices to the different universities calling attention to the university rifle match which will be held this fall. A university may select a team and shoot on any day it likes providing it notifies the secretary of the date. The ranges are 200, 500 and 600 yards.

Mountain Fire Checked.

San Jose, Cal., Oct. 15. — The progress of the mountain fire on the valley side of the Saratoga summit, has been checked in Booker Gulch by a force of about 50 men by means of fire trails and back-firing. The gulch is a seething mass of ruins and only one man, Patrick Murphy, was badly burned, and 14 others burned more or less seriously.

Poor Excuse.

Pocatello, Idaho, Oct. 15.—Because his oldest daughter had married a man whom he did not like, Ben P. Cantrell, a cement contractor here, shot his wife on the street here today and then turned the gun on himself. Cantrell died instantly, but only wounded his wife. She is in a local hospital and probably will recover. Cantrell fired the shot which killed him just as the chief of police, who witnessed the shooting of Mrs. Cantrell, was about to arrest him.

BRING UP QUESTION OF DEPOT REMOVAL

Feud Between Rival Factions in Coquitlam to Be Settled by Railway Commissioners.

The railway commissioners will hold sittings commencing on Oct. 27 in Vancouver. The removal of the C.P.R. depot at Westminster Junction will be one of the questions up for adjustment and will reopen the feud between the removal and anti-removal factions of Port Coquitlam.

Burnaby and Coquitlam municipalities will bring the excavation works of the G.N.R. company near the North road under the review of the commission with the object of preventing encroachment or damage to the road, and other matters.

Messrs. McQuarrie, Martin and Cassady will represent Burnaby and P. J. McIntyre, Port Coquitlam, will appear for Coquitlam.

marriage of a British prince and princess.

Created Knight.

It had been rumored for some time that King George would confer a royal dukedom on Prince Arthur of Connaught on the eve of his marriage to the Duchess of Fife. This was not done, but by a royal decree he is created Knight of the Thistle and promoted from captain to major of his regiment. The Times denies that it ever was intended that a dukedom should be conferred upon him.

Presents have been showered upon the bride and bridegroom, including jewels in abundance, gold and silver plate and ancient and modern furniture. One estimate places the value at $750,000.

The wedding gifts will be placed on public exhibition at St. James Palace next week. One shilling admission will be charged and the proceeds will be devoted to the relief of the sufferers of the Welsh colliery disaster.

SIX PERSONS KILLED IN RAILWAY COLLISION

London, Oct. 15.—The following six persons are officially stated to have been killed in the Liverpool railway collision: Mrs. Owen, London; Miss Edmundson, Liverpool; Otto Gotheim, Christiania; Hans Olsen, Christiania; Guard Bishop, of the Central railway, Sheffield; a woman, supposed to be Mrs. Owens' maid.

Mrs. Owen is the daughter of the late Sir Charles Scotter.

Four Convicts Escape.

Portland, Ore., Oct. 15.—A report from Salem says four convicts escaped last night and today. E. L. Beveridge cut his way out of the prison basement. It is Beveridge's second escape. R. F. Smith and R. S. Wallace, honor men, left last night and Harry Marlow, a trusty, painting outside the prison walls, left last night.

It's an Ill Wind, Etc.

Nome, Oct. 15.—Miners who have worked the beach sands here for their gold, think it likely that the storm that half destroyed the city drove ashore gold bearing sands that will more than pay for the damage done. After each big storm, miners pan the new sand that has been cast up. The bottom of the sea in front of Nome is rich in gold, but no method has been found of working it.

the case where witnesses resided in Canada.

The affidavit should have set forth the names of the witnesses and the last paragraph might have omitted the insinuation it contained. He would have to insist upon having the names of the witnesses. If these names were supplied he would not press his objection.

The Court said that if the crown afforded the defence any assistance as to the attendance of witnesses they would naturally expect the names. He had read in the newspapers that there was to be a special assizes before very long.

Mr. Macneil—I have no definite information as to that.

Crown Bears Expense.

The Court—I know the crown will incur heavy expense. The witnesses will be the same as in the Dean case, I presume.

Mr. Macneil—It amounts to this that if the trial is held over, the witnesses will have to be brought back from Montreal and Detroit.

The Court—All these things must give way to the man having a fair trial.

The application was granted and Powell's case traversed until the next assize, whenever that may be.

May Recover Money.

Mr. Reeve referred to the funds which the authorities had taken from Powell. In view of the immense resources of the crown and the Bank of Montreal and he applied for an order to set aside some reasonable sum for accused to provide for his defence.

The Court said that application must be made to the officers of the crown. If they had no reason to believe that these monies formed part of the stolen money he had no doubt the application would be granted.

Mr. Reeve—It is the fact that the man stands there penniless and the prosecution possesses unlimited funds. The accused is handicapped and helpless.

The Court informed Mr. Reeve that on representations to the proper authorities it was the practice of the crown to provide the means of procuring witnesses for the defence.

Mr. Macneil said the money referred to was alleged to be part of the money stolen from the Bank of Montreal and was to be produced at the trial.

The Court—I cannot settle that. The prisoner will be remanded until next assizes.

Dean Case.

Mr. Macneil mentioned the Dean case in reference to a traverse to the next assize.

Adam S. Johnston, who just arrived at the moment, said that Sir Charles Tupper was engaged in a jury trial in Vancouver that day. Both Sir Charles and he were anxious that the case should be finished at the present assizes. He urged that the trial should go on at once, or as soon as possible.

The Court said the case might stand over until tomorrow when it could be brought up again.

The court then adjourned until 10:30 today.

All-Blacks Swamp Stanford 'Varsity 54-0—Have, Yet to Be Scored Against.

Stanford University, Cal., Oct. 15.—The New Zealand All-Blacks rugby team overwhelmed the Stanford 'Varsity today by a score of 54-0. Stanford was unable to break up the New Zealanders' back field passing and forward dribbling. The 'Varsity attack was easily penetrated and after 13 minutes play New Zealand had scored 10 points. At the end of the first half the score stood 21-0. Stanford rallied near the close of the first half and played the Blacks to a standstill, but the rally came too late.

The 'Varsity team put up a very weak play in the second half, no team work being shown. They were outclassed in every department of the game.

TURNED THE TABLES

Jericho Ladies Hand Bad Defeat to Vancouver Club—Coming Events at Burquitlam.

Showing a complete reversal of form the ladies' golf team of the Jericho club in Vancouver, defeated the team from the Vancouver Golf and Country club on the former's links Tuesday afternoon by a heavy score, the Burquitlam club members only notching two points against eight scored by the homesters.

When the two teams last met on the Burquitlam links the Vancouver and Westminster ladies romped home with a victory so that the clubs are now on an even basis. Here are the scores:

Jericho		Vancouver
Miss Beckett	0	Mrs. Jenkins	0
Mrs. Waghorne	1	Mrs. Page	0
Miss Innes	0	Miss Peele	1
Miss Waghorne	1	Mrs. A. Stewart	0
Mrs. Senkler	1	Miss Corbould	0
Mrs Griffin	0	Mrs. Mackenzie	0
Mrs. J. Burns	1	Mrs. Tweedale	0
Mrs. Richardson	1	Miss M. Bunce	0
Mrs. Tulloch	1	Miss G. Bunce	0
Miss Bell-Irving	1	Mrs. Yuengling	0
Miss Griffin	1	Mrs. Elkins	0
Mrs. McFarland	0	Miss Ogilvie	1

The ladies autumn tournament will commenc e today at the Burquitlam links, the draw being made at 12:15 o'clock. Any lady who finds it inconvenient to be present can have her name placed in the draw by notifying the secretary. The round must be made before Oct. 23.

On Saturday the men's monthly medal competition will be started and and on Thanksgiving day a sweepstake competition, 18 holes against bogey, will be run off. Competitors can start up to 4:30 o'clock.

Will They Swap Suits.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—Old time ball players of the National Association of Professional Baseball leagues, today planned an innovation when the minor league magnates meet in Columbus next month. They will try to arrange a ball game with the convicts in the Ohio penitentiary for Nov. 15. President Ban Johnson of the American league announced that a special meeting of the National commission will be held here next Monday.

NEW SOCCER TEAM

Native Sons Will Oppose Rovers on Thanksgiving Day—Caps as Prizes.

For the first time perhaps in the history of the lodge, the Native Sons of the city will field a soccer team against the Rovers next Monday afternoon at Moody Park, a business man of the city having put up a dozen caps which will be presented to the winners.

The game was arranged last evening between Manager Tidy, representing the Sons, and Manager Grant, of the Rovers. The team of the Native Sons will be selected from the following: H. Leamy, Stacey, Allison, Shildrick, Cooper, Craig, Feeney, Wilson, Lougheed, Storme, Gault and Tidy. Tim Mahoney will officiate.

IT WAS PETRIFIED.

Norfolk, Neb., Oct. 15.—A baseball batted over into a cornfield 38 years ago by E. K. Ballantyne, later sergeant-at-arms in the United States senate, has been found by excavators.

The ball had completely turned to stone, but the seams and stitches were perfectly visible. A slight dent on one side marked the terrific wallop given the ball by Ballantyne.

This was the first league baseball ever bought for North Nebraska and the game which was being played between Tekamah and West Point had to be stopped because the ball was lost.

PLANS ALL MADE

Giants and White Sox Baseball Teams Arrange Healthy Schedule in United States.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—Thirty-five games will be played in the United States by the White Sox-Giant stars who inaugurate their world tour at Cincinnati on Saturday. Beginning Oct. 18 they will play every day, the weather permitting, up to and including, Nov. 19. After their game at Seattle on that date they will climb aboard a chartered tug which will carry them to Victoria, where they will take the liner bound for the orient.

The itinerary of the trip as far as Vancouver after the team reached the Pacific coast follows:

Nov. 8 and 9, Los Angeles; Nov. 10, San Diego; Nov. 11, Oxnard; Nov. 12, Sacramento; Nov. 13, Oakland; Nov. 14 and 15, San Francisco; Nov. 16, Oakland, morning; Nov. 16, San Francisco, afternoon; Nov. 17, Medford, Ore.; Nov. 18, Portland; Nov. 19, Tacoma, morning; Nov. 19, Seattle, afternoon.

The foreign itinerary will be announced within the next few days.

50 to 1 Shot Wins.

London, Oct. 15.—The Czarwitch stakes, the greatest long distance handicap of the year, worth £1000, two miles and a quarter, was won today by the rank outsider C. Wadia's Fizyama, a four old bay gelding, who started at 50 to 1 and carried 7 stone 7 pounds.

TERMINALS WIN

Local Bowlers Nosed Out by 16 Pins Against Hodge's Team—Other News.

Local bowlers were again forced to bite the dust in favor of Marsh Hodge's aggregation from Vancouver, the games being played on the Club alleys last evening. Hodge as usual came through with high aggregate, 551, but was closely pressed by Harry Walsh with 544, who also took high individual with 225. None of the locals appeared to get going right in the first game which meant disaster in the second and third.

In the doubles bowled later in the evening Hodge and Campbell beat Cor*nish and O'Connor*, Vancouvre scoring 1130 against Westminster's 1090.

Hodge:
Bevlund	118	170	177	465
Miller	180	154	177	511
Hockley	188	169	159	516
Campbell	188	184	154	526
Hodge	178	184	189	551
Totals	852	861	856	2569
Royals:
Walsh	174	145	225	544
Cornish	147	181	171	499
Burnett	170	166	178	514
O'Connor	146	204	181	531
Marshall	145	153	167	465
Totals	782	849	922	2553

Burnett and Cornish will bowl a series of eight games on Saturday evening to see who is the best man.

On Friday and Saturday a turkey tournament will be held.

The single men beat the married men of the American Can Co. by a small margin.

Should Do It Today.

Los Angeles, Oct. 15.—By defeating Los Angeles by 5-3 today, Portland made it possible to clinch the Pacific Coast league pennant in tomorrow's double-header. The Beavers went out in front in the second and were never headed. A double play in the sixth in*ning, preceding* Ryan's home run into right field bleachers, kept them in the lead.

This Fight is Postponed.

Superior, Wis., Oct. 15.—The ten round bout between Spike Kelly and Billy Walters, aspirants to the wel*terweight championship* title scheduled to take place here Friday night, has been postponed until Oct. 23, because of an injury to Walters.

STILL IN THE RING

English and Irish Ladies Retain Their Positions in Golf Tourney—Victoria Entry Eliminated.

Wilmington, Del., Oct. 15.—Miss Muriel Dodd, English and Canadian champion, Miss Gladys Ravenscroft, last year's English champion, and Miss Mabel Harrison, Irish champion, won their matches in the second round for the women's national golf championship today on the links of the Wilmington Country club.

The American survivors who will enter the third round with the visitors tomorrow are Miss Marion Hollis of New York, metropolitan champion, Miss Harriet Curtis and Miss Fanny Osgood, of Boston, Mrs. Clarence H. Vanderbeck and Mrs. E. H. Fitler, of Philadelphia.

The Canadian, western New Jersey and Delaware entries were all eliminated in today's round.

In the matches tomorrow Miss Ravenscroft will play Miss Osgood, Miss Hollis will play Mrs. Fitler, Miss Curtis will play Miss Harrison and Miss Dodd will play Mrs. Vanderbeck.

TROUBLE IN HOCKEY

George Rochon and Bob Genge Mentioned in Prairie Amateur Sport—Important Meeting.

Moose Jaw, Oct. 15.—The annual meeting of the Saskatchewan amateur hockey association will be held in the Y. M. C. A. here Wednesday, Nov. 5. Much important business is down for discussion and it is expected that the meeting will require an all day session. It is altogether likely that one or two new sections will be added to the association. The local division will be composed of two teams from Regina, one from Weyburn and two from Moose Jaw.

Swift Current will no doubt apply for admission but whether or not they will be elected after the vagaries of the club for the past two seasons is another matter.

It is understood that the five clubs already in the local division will oppose the entry of a Swift Current club on the ground that they have now deserted the league in mid-season on a couple of occasions. Then again they got in bad last season by playing three professionals, Bob Genge and the two Rochons. Two of these players afterwards played in the Pacific Coast league.

SPORT CHATTER

(By the Potter.)

Members of the Sapperton-White Rock hockey team will hold high jinks in the Royal theatre this evening, a large number of supporters having promised to grace the show with their presence. The stock company playing there have arranged a special program which will preceed the usual show, skits on players being mentioned as possibilities. A large block of reserved seats have been taken up.

Down in Seattle they are considering entering the Washington university rowing eight in the Henley, England, regatta next summer. The Sound City men made quite a hit in the east last summer and gave quite a shock to the big colleges. The plans call for the Washington crew to enter the Hudson regatta and then cross the Atlantic.

Ping Bodie, the slugger of the Chicago Americans, was a happy man on Tuesday when he found that Manager Callahan had included in his pay envelope the $600 Ping thought he had lost through sinking his face into a stein of suds in St. Louis last summer. Bodie's contract read that he was to keep clear of the beer, but he fell for a schooner under the eyes of Callahan. Ping declares he will surely keep on the wagon next summer.

Ottawa rugby enthusiasts will get a chance to see the famous Carlisle Indians in action next Monday under Canadian rules. The contest will be for the benefit of William J. Slee, ex-president of the Canadian Rugby Football union. Last year the Indians under their well known coach, Glen Warner, played the Toronto All-Stars defeating the Queens City bunch by a big score when under American rules. Jim Thorpe, now with the New York Giants, was with the Indians on that occasion.

Football is becoming a great sport among all nations. We read that Prin among all nations. We read that Prince Albert, the King's second son, has made his place on his ship's team and was so pleased with himself that he dug down in his jeans for enough collateral to buy the stokers beer or tea, just as they preferred. Then again we read that Prince Madikine Cele, of Zululand, has been studying the American game as played by Harvard, coming through with the suggestion that the game is far too brutal and will never do in his land except in a milder form. The next thing we shall read about is a contract let for a big stadium in sight of the great Victoria falls.

"Rocket" Power, who played such a sterling game with the Canadians in 1911 will probably be back with George Kennedy this winter. Last year Power only played two games with Quebec although the winter previous he was about the highest paid player on the Maritime provinces organization with New Glasgow. This year Manager Kennedy is going to try out a new stunt of having enough material for two teams, playing one on Wednesday nights while the other will be ready for Saturday games. It is believed in this way all the players will be kept fresh and will have only one game a week, instead of two here before. The only stumbling block to the scheme is in finances and George might find the going heavy.

Reading 2, Southend 0.

London, Oct. 15.—In a scheduled Southern league football game played today, Reading disposed of Southend United on the formers' ground by the score of 2-0.

Longboat Goes Farming.

Toronto, Oct. 15.—Tom Longboat has sold his cigar store and house and has purchased a farm near Deseronto. Harry Rosenthal, manager of the redskin, prophecies that Tom is through as a runner.

British Golfers Win Again.

St. Louis, Oct. 15.—Edward Ray and Harry Vardon, the British professional golf champions defeated E. Miller and Jesse Carleton on the Normandie links today. Ray negotiated the course in 72 and Vardon in 75. Bogey for the course is 79.

TY COBB AGAIN.

Syracuse, N.Y., Oct. 15.—Postal clerks from here to Detroit solved the rebus of a letter bearing as its address nothing more than a rough sketch of a necktie and a corn cob.

A local newspaper artist made the odd test, dropping the letter into a street mail box without the slightest hint other than the pictures as to whom it should be delivered. Word has been received that the letter was promptly delivered as intended into the hands of none other than Tyrus Raymond Cobb, the popular idol of the baseball fans.

BARRIEAU-BURNS GO

Vancouver Scrapper has Much to Gain if He Wins Thanksgiving Day Bout.

The last boxing bout of the season will take place in the Steveston arena next Monday afternoon when Frank Barrieau, the well known Vancouver scrapper, will clash with "Rough House" Charlie Burns in a 15 round battle.

The boxing game has been in a dormant state since the Ritchie-Welsh fiasco but just to give the fans another chance before the winter season puts a stop to this year's events, Bert Halstead of the Eburne hotel, made arrangements to take over the Steveston arena for that day and from all accounts is making a success of the affair. The go will be an important one to Barrieau for if he gains the decision it will mean a trip to California for the former Sapperton boy, where he will meet the best top notchers in the welterweight class during the winter months.

Some fear is being expressed that the former V. A. C. scrapper will be unable to get down to the required weight, 135 pounds and it is there that Burns will have the advantage for Barrieau is better off at 138 pounds than any other weight.

The referee for the bout will be selected towards the week-end, a Vancouver man probably being the choise.

MILLENNIUM CAN'T BE FAR AWAY

Drunks Ask to Be Locked up—How Wong Bound Became Wong Free.

There's getting to be the most obliging bunch of drunks around this town that any well organized police force could wish for. In most places the cops are under the painful necessity of going through the form of what is generally known as "running in" the meandering jags that festoon the thoroughfares, but in New Westminster it's different, yes altogether different.

For instance: Friday evening last there came a strenuous knocking at the lock-up door. One of the patrolmen thought it was thunder, while another allowed it was the rapping of some of the spirits that sometimes accompany visitors to the hold-over coop. But it was neither, though the latter guess was close to the truth. In fact and indeed it was one Charles Indiana, or an Italian gentleman whose name sounds like the label on the hoosier state. Signor Indiana had some spirits with him—inside—and he was playing a tattoo on the bastile portcullis. Seeing that he was so insistent Charles was admitted. The day before yesterday he came up in the police court and intimated that not he, but the police, had been drunk. Yesterday he still maintained his allegation of sobriety, but unfortunately, he couldn't prove it and it was two-fifty and costs or five days for Charles.

And Still Another.

Pursuing the thread of the narrative, as Laura Jean would say, another instance of the obliging nature of the nose painters of this locality was offered on Tuesday evening, or to be more correct, early Wednesday morn.

In this case the gentleman telephoned about 3 a.m. from a down town hotel that, after a close examination of his condition, he had come to the conclusion that he was under the influence of liquor and had better be locked up. Jailer Pittendrigh, who is one of the most obliging individuals that ever rattled a bunch of keys, immediately ordered out the official taxi and sent for the man with the hunch. They brought him and his hunch, which was perfectly in order, to the place forninst the city hall where such exhibits are housed and for some hours he slumbered on the civic pallet guarded from the cold world. Yesterday morning, when his name was called in the police court he was elsewhere, preferring to forfeit his bail coin.

Bound No More.

For some days Wong Bound has been bound by fifty simoleons of cold cash to appear in answer to a charge of threatening, intimidating and otherwise trying to persuade a certain Dora Jim to part with her valuables. Now Wong is bound no more and it happened this wise: Yesterday when the case was called, up rose Mr. Hansford to announce that he appeared for the accused. At the same moment there appeared beside him another legal form with the same announcement. It turned out that the second interpreter of the law and the prophets hailed from the forensic emporium of A. S. Johnston and that he had become rather mixed in his dates and facts. Finally it was sorted out and explained to him that he was appearing for the prosecution, but then it was found impossible to locate the prosecution. Search was made, but the prosecution wasn't there nor were the witnesses, nor was Mr. Johnston, who appeared the only man who knew just where to land that prosecution. That proved Wong's loophole and the court dismissed the charge.

Missed a Few Meals.

It was alleged by Fire Chief Watson, who is also a prominent member of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, that D. C. Thue was ill-treating a horse by refraining from giving the animals enough to keep its stomach from scraping close acquaintance with its spinal column, further that the horse was worn out, unfit for work and ready to be Oslerized into the equine valhalla. Thue opined that the horse was all right except for the lack of a few meals which he seemed to have missed. Finally the magistrate adjourned the case till this morning, when the horse, a competent veterinary and all the necessary evidence will be on deck.

Four members of the International Brotherhood of United Anointers of Parched Gullets did not respond to the roll call and their dues were declared forfeit.

VICTIM MAY DIE.

Drunken Brawl in Idaho Ends Seriously.

Moscow, Idaho, Oct. 15.—County Attorney John Nesbit received information by phone today noon that a drunken melee at Deary, this county, last night would probably prove fatal to one of the combatants. Attorney Nesbit left this afternoon for Deary to investigate and Deputy Sheriff Pat Malone of Bovill left for there also.

The details furnished over the phone to the county attorney were meager. The correct names of the persons in the fracas were in doubt. It appears that a public sale was held in the Deary section yesterday, at which there was a quantity of illicit handling of liquor by bootleggers.

It is reported that some who attended the sale returned to Deary intoxicated and that a victim of a savage fight was hit over the head with a pail and beaten so badly that he is likely to die.

Holds to His Bible.

Walla Walla, Wash., Oct. 15.—With a small Testament clasped tightly in his hands, where it has been, so far as officers knew, since he was brought to the jail from Touchet Thursday, Geo. Williams was taken to the Medical Lake asylum this afternoon by W. P. Raley, a traveling guard. Williams' last words to three friends who were at the jail to seem him leave were, "Are you converted?" Williams is about 24 and has been working as a farmhand. Recently he has been suffering from religious mania and was pureaching to his fellow workmen. When brought to jail he refused to give up the sacred volume, and whenever Jailer Honeycutt looked in at him he had the book clasped tightly in his hands, apparently reading.

Youth Arrested for Arson.

Belleville, Oct. 15.—A sensation has been sprung in Trenton by the arrest of Earl Henderson, 18 years old, on a charge of arson. The accused was arraigned before Magistrate O'Rourke this afternoon in Trenton where the case was given a preliminary hearing. A number of serious fires, destroying many thousand dollars worth of proherty have within the last few months visited Trenton and every effort has been made to learn the cause.

GETS JOB ONLY TO BE KILLED

Young Married Man Meets Instant Death in Accident at Kamloops.

Kamloops, Oct. 15.—A distressing accident occurred in the main street ofg Kamloops at about 11:30 yesterday morning, resulting in the immediate death of one man, and injuries to another necessitating his removal to the Royal Inland hospital.

The men engaged upon the work of double tracking for the C. P.R. just opposite the Hotel Patricia were unloading huge bualks of timber intended for use either as telegraph poles or for piles in connection with the track now under construction. One of these timbers, it is stated, jammed in the wheels of the car from which the unloading was taking place and immediately a couple of men, Fred Ellison and Swan Johnson, stepped forward to disengage it. Their efforts, however, loosened another huge timber from the load, and this rolled down, struck the earth ponderously, and rebounding, struck Ellison on the head, killing him instantly. Johnson also was hurt but the nature and full extent of his injuries were not known when he was carried off to the hospital.

A sad feature of the affair is that Ellison was married only two months ago, and had just left his wife at Vancouver while he found work at Kamloops. He commenced this morning upon the double tracking operations, from which death so quickly removed him.

ROYAL STANDARD
Is tested for you, madam

There's only one real test for flour—breadmaking! We grind into flour each sample of wheat that comes in and then bake loaves with it. If the bread is perfect in grain, color and texture, smooth and velvety, we order a shipment of wheat like the sample; if not, the sample is rejected. That's our test and that's why it's impossible to get a poor loaf with ROYAL STANDARD. Just try it and see.

PUTS HIGH PRICE ON HIS FOOT AND TOES

Spokane, Oct. 13.—While witnesses for the Spokane, Portland & Seattle Railway company testified in the court of Judge Bruce Blake that the railroad is not responsible for the loss of a foot and three toes sustained by B. A. Kennedy, who seeks $30,000 damages. Mr. Kennedy, who weighs 340 pounds, testified that he is losing his feet and toes as the result of the accident.

The physician for the company attempted to prove that Mr. Kennedy is in poor health and that the disease of the feet which made it necessary to remove a foot and three toes can not be traced to an injury received in 1909 at Cliff, when he stepped on a pile of scrap iron. Kennedy declares that he has enjoyed good health.

Dr. H. P. Marshall declared that he did not believe Mr. Kennedy lost his toes and foot because of the accident. He said Kennedy has poor blood vessels and said that it would be proper to say "that when the Lord made him he put in poor piping."

FAMILY LOSES TWO THUMBS AT ONCE

Olmpia, Wash., Oct. 15.—The most peculiar coincidence in accidents since the workmen's compensation act went into effect was reported to the industrial insurance commission last week.

A father and son of the same name were injured at the same plant, each by a circular saw, and each sustaining a mangled left thumb. The two accidents happened within an hour of each other.

The victims were John Melcher Sr. and Jr., one a man of 50 and the other a youth of 18. Both were cutting wedges in the plant of the Tillicum Development company at Loomis, Okanogan county, when the thumb of each man came into contact with the circular saw. The son sustained the more severe injury and is still disabled, while the father is back at work.

The remarkable similarity in the two accidents made the commission believe the same accident had been reported twice until the matter was investigated.

ITALIAN COUNT WOULD BE A CARIBOO MILKMAN

Ashcroft, Oct. 15.—Count Agostius Gabriel Fererra, of Italy, spent a day in Ashcroft last week. The count had been on a tour of inspection of land for a stock raising and dairying proposition in the Cariboo which is to be the largest of its kind in British Columbia. He represents large capitalist interests in Italy and should he decide to select the Cariboo for the scene of his operations in this line it should prove a great boon to the northern interior.

Among others in the party were the following well known business men of Vancouver: C. P. Reil, A. G. Closer and J. W. Sukler, who is acting as legal adviser for the interested parties. The party were the guests of D. J. Stewart at his cattle ranch at Lillooet and Dog Creek.

He Gives It Up.

Seattle, Oct. 15.—Dr. J. E. Crichton, commissioner of health, is inclined to abandon any further effort to control the dogs of the city.

NAVAL BILL WILL COME UP AGAIN

Government Likely to Reintroduce It Next Session—Chances Against Tariff Changes.

Ottawa, Oct. 15.—It is customary for the government, at this season of the year, to consider the legislative program for the session of parliament, and although it is officially intimated that the house is unlikely to be summoned till after the new year, this work will be commenced next week. By that time the draft estimates of several departments will be ready.

From this distance it looks as though the legislation to be introduced will not be of any very extensive character as regards the number of subjects.

Of outstanding importance will be the naval question. As was stated last week from government circles, the impression is growing at Ottawa that in view of its popularity in the country, and the obvious reliance of Great Britain upon Canada to do something, the Borden naval bill killed last spring by a partisan senate, will be reintroduced. A definite decision in the matter has not yet been reached. It will be the subject of immediate consideration.

Reforms in the Civil Service.

Many reforms in the civil service were suggested by Sir George Murray, the British expert, and this report is now being considered. The expectation is that legislative effect will be given to a number of recommendations, including those designed to relieve the cabinet of much of the routine work now devolving upon it, re-establishing a system of superannuation, and readjusting many conditions in the inside service at Ottawa, involving a new salary schedule. Whether the outside will be placed under a commission, as sugegsted, is debatable.

The Hon. W. T. White will have a bill to regulate trust companies and to govern their incorporation. The explosives bill, somewhat changed in form, will be reintroduced, and a number of amendments made to the mining act.

The railway act has been consolidated, but the changes are along the line previously intimated, namely, extending the degree of municipal control over such corporations as come under the operation of the act.

No Tariff Changes.

It is a far call to the time of the budget speech, when tariff changes, if any, will be announced, but at present the chances are against anything very radical being put into force.

The new United States tariff has just gone into operation, and it is quite likely that its effect will be watched for a while. Unless exceptional conditions arise to justify variation in the tariff schedules the present finance minister is a strong believer in the principle of tariff stability.

The highways bill will very likely be introduced, even though it has twice been killed by the senate.

C. N. R. Bridges Finished.

Ashcroft, Oct. 15.—The two C. N. R. bridges which cross the Thompson about three miles east of here are finished and ready for the locomotive and passenger trains. The bridge furthest east is long and very picturesque. It has about twelve spans and makes its way across the river on the bias and convolutes into the shape of the letter S as it creeps across. Those bridges are very substantialy constructed and their duration should equal that of the rocks themselves.

POTATOES SCARCE.

Crop in Western States Shy Million Sacks.

Seattle, Oct. 15.—"The potato crop of the Pacific coast and Rocky mountain states is at least a million sacks less than it was last year," asserts H. I. Maxwell, a Rocky Ford, Colo., farmer, who is in Seattle on a brief business and pleasure trip.

"Colorado, the home of scores of potato barons, and where an enormous acreage is planted annually, will have a smaller surplus to 'export' than in years. The yield probably will not be more than two-thirds of what it was last year. In California and Oregon, I find, the yield is correspondingly small, and I am told that the same is true in this state. Every indication is that before the winter is over 'spuds will be spuds.'

"We do not raise many potatoes in the Rocky Ford district, as our specialty is the Rocky Ford cantaloupe, which we ship to the four quarters of the globe. This season, approximately 16,000 carloads were shipped from our section, bringing the growers more than a million dollars. We raise an enormous quantity of sugar beets also, the sugar industry being the leading one in Colorado."

The Poor Man's University ~

"JONES knows more about motor cars than any other man I know," said a man to his friend. "He has obtained his knowledge chiefly from motor car advertisements, and the catalogues and booklets circulated through them."

"All I know about photography," declared a well-known amateur, "I have learned from the men who advertise cameras, plates, papers and films."

Advertisements have been well called "The Poor Man's University," but other than poor men have been schooled thereby.

Much of what the average individual knows concerning personal and domestic hygiene, modern office methods, books and authors, electricity, precious stones, investments, and almost everything else, he has learned from advertisements.

Advertisements have stimulated our intelligence, added enormously to our knowledge, and given us aspirations which have raised us to higher levels of thinking and living. Advertising is indeed "The Poor Man's University."

If you are doing a local business talk over your advertising problems with the Advertising Department of this newspaper.

If you are doing a provincial or national business it would be well for you to have the counsel and assistance of a good advertising agency. A list of these will be furnished, without cost or obligation, by the Secretary of Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lumsden Building, Toronto.

SEES LOST GEM ON CUSTOMER'S HAND

Druggist Loses Diamond the Size of an Arc Light and Has Trouble Getting It Again.

Spokane, Oct. 15.—After a chase of three days, which carried him before two judges, the sheriff's office and a pawnbroker, A. L. Auen of the Columbia pharmacy yesterday recovered a four carat diamond ring valued at $700, which he left upon the washstand in the lavatory at Davenport's restaurant August 9, 1912, 14 months ago.

Last Thursday afternoon, when a hand was extended across the counter of his store to receive an article just purchased, Auen's eyes widened as he instantly recognized upon the third finger the lost diamond which he had given up all hope of recovering. He was certain of the stone, he says, because of the peculiar manner in which it was deeply set in the heavy gold band.

"That's My Ring; I Want It."

"That's my ring, and I want it. I will make a settlement with you for it," said Auen to the stranger, T. V. Blasier, a laborer. The men then visited three jewelers, who positively identified the jewel as having been owned by Auen. Blasier said he purchased the ring from a waiter and demanded a price for it.

No satisfactory price could be agreed upon and early Friday morning Auen secured a writ of replevin from Justice F. H. Witt. With this he went to Blasier's partments and was informed the ring had been lost unaccountably the previous night. Auen then elicited the aid of the police department.

A search warrant was obtained and Friday night deputies from the sheriff's office made a complete and minute search of Blasier's rooms. The ring could not be found.

Ring in Pawnshop.

Saturday the police department reported the ring had been located in a Main avenue pawnshop, where it was identified by Auen, the jewelers and friends for a second time. The pawnbroker said he had loaned $80 on the stone and refused to give it up without being reimbursed.

Auen was instructed that he could replevin the ring from the pawnbroker and set about to do so. The broker declared that if the ring was taken from him he would prosecute Blasier for offering property he did not own, and obtained a warrant from Justice Witt on that account.

Blasier was taken in custody and held at the police station while his wife pleaded with the owner of the ring and the police to give him a chance. It was finally decided that should the $80 be returned to the pawnbroker and Auen given his ring no prosecution would follow. Blasier raised the money and the ring was returned to Auen yesterday.

RICHARD STRONG OF GALT DIES IN 89TH YEAR

Galt, Oct. 15.—At his home, Purbeck House, Richard Strong is dead in his eighty-ninth year. A resident of Galt for sixty-five years, he was closely associated with the growth of the town, being on the directorate of the Gore District Mutual Fire Insurance company for half a century, and manager of the company for over thirty years. Previous to this he was in business as a druggist in Dundas and Galt, and for a time farmed near Goderich.

He was born in Purbeck, Dorset, England, migrating to Canada when sixteen years of age. The late Mr. Strong was not a man who sought public office, but as a member of the collegiate institute board for many years rendered excellent service in educational matters. He was known as a supporter of high-class music, and sang in Trinity Anglican church choir for fifty years. He also represented the church at synod, and became well known through the active part he took in the discussions. He was a man of independent views, but always supported Conservative principles. An extensive property owner, he is understood to have left a very large estate.

His wife died seventeen years ago, but there still survive one son, A. D., of Galt, and two daughters, Mrs. Hugh B. Lewis, of Ottawa, and Mrs. Wilson A. McWhineny, of Detroit, Michigan.

MRS. KIN SENO IS SHREWD WOMAN

She Runs a Bank in Japan and Attributes Her Success to Her "Last" Husband.

Tokio, Japan, Oct. 15.—Madam Kin Seno is the first, and, so far, the only woman in Japan to attain the rank of bank president. Besides calling attention to her business achievements her fellow countrymen are always careful to have the stranger understand that she is a model wife and mother. Progress in Japan, so the natives assert, includes both men and women. To be accounted a "new woman" in Japan is considered a high compliment, so, when the citizens of Tokio point to their woman bank president as their leading "new woman" they feel that all is said.

Madam Seno, when talking of her success in business, is careful to attribute it all to her "last" husband. "On September 16, 1912, the bank of which I am the president was founded by investing a part of the property of my family," said Madam Seno in interesting English. "And thus my last husband's aim was realized on the lapse of about twenty years after his death. He always said that his property was the result of his own labor and saving, so that it must be safely preserxed generation by generation. On this point he felt assured that the bank business was the most appropriate occupation in the world, because the aim of the bank in general exists in the safeguarding of the property of all people."

Kindly Old Woman.

Madam Seno is a kindly appearing elderly woman—at least, one knows that she must be elderly, having been informed, almost before her greeting is returned, that she was born December 28, 1842. Then there are the great-grandchildren and the two grandsons, both officers of her bank. Without this knowledge, it would be easy to believe her scarcely in middle life. Her complexion is the color of a ripe olive, and unwrinkled, and her eyes are bright. Though she has acquired many European customs, she still clings to her native costume. It is easily understood why her fellow-countrymen take pride in her appearance, as well as her character and business ability.

Bank Is Purely "Domestic."

"The business method of my bank is negative, but reliable," she continued, after a few minutes' thought. "Moreover, the peculiarity of my bank is revealed in such organization as that all the members of my family are shareholders. My grandson, Isuke, and his wife are directors. His younger brother, Isaburo, is auditor. So to speak, by bank is purely domestic."

In spite of, or, it may be, because of, this domestic quality which we in America would call private, Madam Seno's reputation for probity and shrewdness being well known and highly esteemed her bank has a large business. Her "negative" policy, which an American might call conservative, is considered by her fellow-countrymen the best of all methods when it comes to handling their hard-earned cash. "She is no wildcat trader," they assure you, with evident pride in their American slang, as well as in the shrewdness of their woman financier.

SUFFRAGETTES SAVE LONDON FROM FIT OF PEACEFULNESS

London, Oct. 15.—Everything is quiet and restful in London now, with the solitary exception of the suffragettes, who appear to have broken the truce of the holidays rather earlier than was expected. The damage announced from Lancashire, (an imbeciles' home, on which £80,000 was spent, has been burnt) by the wild women is but, it is to be supposed, an earnest of favors to come. There are not wanting those who ascribe this recurrence of militant activity on the part of the suffragettes to a desire on their part not to be outdone by Sir Edward Carson and his friends. While Sir Edward and the men of Ulster are talking, the women are up and doing. Perhaps, however, it is merely a desire on their part to let ministers see that they are prepared to attend to their work during such time as the members of his majesty's government are in Great Britain.

Practically all the members of the government are in England now, or will shortly be coming here, Sir Rufus Isaacs returning to town on Friday next from a stay in Italy in the lake district. It is presumed that he is coming back in order to give the government the advantage of his legal knowledge in respect of the wild men of Ulster, so the outbreak of the wild women is calculated to remind the government that they have more than one thistle to handle.

City of New Westminster

"New Westminster Debenture Interest Conversion Bylaw 1913."

BYLAW NO.....

A BYLAW TO AMEND BYLAWS NUMBERS 151, 152 AND 153.

WHEREAS the municipal council of the corporation of the city of New Westminster did with the assent of the electors on the third day of July, 1912, finally pass Bylaw No. 151, being a bylaw to enable the municipal council of the corporation of the city of New Westminster to raise by loan the sum of seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000) for the purpose of constructing a new reservoir and enlarging the existing reservoir and extending the waterworks system in the city of New Westminster, the said bylaw being known as "Waterworks Extension Debenture Bylaw, 1912, No. 2."

AND WHEREAS the corporation by the said bylaw authorized the issue of debentures to the amount of seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000) to be payable on the first day of July, 1962, and to bear interest at the rate of four and one-half (4 1-2) per centum per annum payable half-yearly on the first day of January and the first day of July in each year.

AND WHEREAS the municipal council of the corporation of the city of New Westminster did with the assent of the electors on the third day of July, 1912, finally pass bylaw No. 152, being a bylaw to enable the municipal council of the city of New Westminster to raise by loan the sum of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) for the purpose of granting the same to the Royal Columbian hospital in addition to the sum of thirty thousand dollars ($30,000) granted under "Hospital Debenture Bylaw, 1909," the said bylaw being known as "Hospital Debenture Bylaw, 1912."

AND WHEREAS the corporation by the said bylaw authorized the issue of debentures to the amount of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) to be payable on the first day of July, 1962, and to bear interest at the rate of four and one-half (4 1-2) per centum per annum, payable half-yearly on the first day of January and the first day of July in each year.

AND WHEREAS the municipal council of the corporation of the city of New Westminster with the assent of the electors did on the third day of July, 1912, finally pass bylaw No. 153, being a bylaw to enable the municipal council of the corporation of the city of New Westminster to raise by loan the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) for the purpose of improving the city parks, being known as "Parks Improvement Debenture Bylaw, 1912."

AND WHEREAS the corporation of the City of New Westminster authorized the issue of debentures to the amount of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) to be payable on the first day of July, 1962, and to bear interest at the rate of four and one-half (4 1-2) per centum per annum payable half-yearly on the first day of January and the first day of July in each year.

AND WHEREAS the debentures authorized by the said bylaws, Nos. 151, 152 and 153, have not been sold, and owing to the decrease in the rate of interest for money since the passing of the said bylaws the said debentures thereby authorized cannot be sold and disposed of except at an amount involving a substantial reduction in the amount required to be provided for, and it is necessary to pass this bylaw authorizing the debentures to the amounts to bear interest at the rate of five (5) per centum per annum.

AND WHEREAS it will be necessary under the said bylaw No. 151 to raise annually by special rate the sum of six hundred and sixty-one and 65-100 dollars ($661.65) to form a sinking fund for the payment of the principal and the sum of three thousand seven hundred and fifty dollars ($3750) for interest, making together a total amount annually of four thousand four hundred and eleven and 65-100 dollars ($4411.65) for the term of forty-nine (49) years for the repayment of the said loan and interest thereon as hereinafter mentioned, the amount of six hundred and sixty-four and 98-100 dollars ($664.98) having been raised for the first year's sinking fund.

AND WHEREAS it will be necessary under the said bylaw No. 152 to raise annually by special rate the sum of eight hundred and sixty-eight and 80-100 dollars ($868.80) to form a sinking fund for the payment of the principal, and the sum of five thousand dollars ($5000) for interest, making together a total amount annually of five thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight and 80-100 dollars ($5868.80) for the term of forty-nine (49) years for the repayment of the said loan and interest thereon as hereinafter mentioned, the amount of eight hundred and eighty-six and 55-100 dollars ($886.55) having been raised for the first year's sinking fund.

AND WHEREAS it will be necessary under said bylaw No. 153 to raise annually by special rate the sum of two hundred and seventeen and 20-100 dollars ($217.20) to form a sinking fund for the payment of the principal and the sum of twelve hundred and fifty dollars ($1250) for interest, making together a total amount annually of one thousand four hundred and sixty-seven and 20-100 dollars ($1467.20) for the term of forty-nine (49) years for the repayment of the said loan and interest thereon as hereinafter mentioned, the amount of two hundred and twenty-one and 64-100 dollars ($221.64) having been raised for the first year's sinking fund.

AND WHEREAS the net value of the whole rateable land in the municipality according to the last assessment roll amounts to seventeen millions, one hundred and fifty-seven thousand, nine hundred and forty dollars ($17,157,940).

THE MUNICIPAL COUNCIL of the corporation of the city of New Westminster enacts as follows:

1. That the said debentures authorized by said bylaws 151, 152 and 153 shall bear interest at the rate of five (5) per centum per annum computed from the first day of July, 1913, and such interest shall be payable half-yearly on the first day of January and the first day of July in each year during the currency thereof and the said debentures shall have attached thereto coupons for the payment of the said interest which shall bear the signature of the Mayor and clerk, and such signature may be either written, stamped or lithographed.

2. There shall be raised and levied annually during the currency of the said debentures authorized by said bylaw No. 151 by special rate sufficient therefor upon all the rateable land within the limits of the said municipality in addition to the annual sums required by the said bylaw No. 151 in the sum of three hundred and seventy-five dollars ($375) to pay the additional interest authorized by this bylaw, the same to be in addition to all rates to be levied and created in the said municipality.

3. There shall be raised and levied annually during the currency of the said debentures authorized by said bylaw No. 152 by special rate sufficient therefor upon all the rateable land within the limits of the said municipality in addition to the annual sums required by the said bylaw No. 152 the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars ($250) to pay the additional interest authorized by this bylaw, the same to be in addition to all rates to be levied and created in the said municipality.

4. There shall be raised and levied annually during the currency of the said debentures authorized by said bylaw No. 153 by special rate sufficient therefor upon all the rateable land within the limits of the said municipality in addition to the annual sums required by the said bylaw No. 153, the sum of one hundred and twenty-five dollars ($125) to pay the additional interest authorized by this bylaw, the same to be in addition to all rates to be levied and created in the said municipality.

5. This bylaw shall come into effect on its receiving the assent of the lieutenant-governor in council.

6. This bylaw may be cited for all purposes as "NEW WESTMINSTER DEBENTURE INTEREST CONVERSION BYLAW, 1913."

DONE AND PASSED in open council the (6th) sixth day of October, 1913.

RECEIVED the assent of the electors the day of October, 1913.

RECONSIDERED and finally passed the day of October, 1913.

City of New Westminster

THIS AGREEMENT, made the day of , one thousand nine hundred and thirteen

BETWEEN:

VANCOUVER POWER COMPANY, LIMITED, hereinafter called the "Power Company" of the first part;

and

THE CORPORATION OF THE CITY OF NEW WESTMINSTER, hereinafter called "the Corporation" of the second part;

Whereas, the power company on the 30th day of April, 1903, obtained under the provisions of the Water Clauses Consolidation act (Chap. 190 R. S. B. C. 1897) a grant of 10,000 inches of water out of Coquitlam lake subject to certain conditions endorsed on the record of such grant.

And Whereas, these conditions provided, among other things, as follows, namely:

"That in addition to the water which the city of New Westminster is entitled to take from Coquitlam lake for its waterworks system, the company shall without cost, surrender to the city of New Westminster 1000 inches of water, if and when, required, or such less number of inches from time to time as may be required, but so that the whole number of inches so surrendered shall not exceed 1000 inches.

"The company shall pay the annual fees for such 1000 inches, both before and after surrender, and shall enter into a binding agreement with the said city to surrender said 1000 inches of water to the city without cost to the city, and to pay the annual fees in respect thereof."

And Whereas, the corporation has requested the power company to surrender to the corporation the said 1000 inches of water.

Now it is agreed by and between the parties hereto as follows:

The power company for itself, its successors and assigns hereby surrenders to the corporation 1000 inches of water out of the said grant of 10,000 inches which 1000 inches is to be in addition to such water as the corporation may be entitled to take from Coquitlam lake for its waterworks system.

The power company for itself, its successors and assigns agrees to pay the annual fees payable from time to time in respect of the 1000 inches so surrendered and hereby warrants that the annual fees in respect of the said 1000 inches up to the date of this agreement have been duly paid by the company.

In witness whereof the parties hereto have caused these presents to be executed.

Witness:

Take notice that a referendum as to whether it is advisable for the corporation to enter into the above agreement will be submitted to the vote of the electors on the eighteenth day of October, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, between the hours of 9 o'clock a. m. and 7 o'clock p. m. at the following places, viz.:

The council chamber, city hall.

No. 4 fire hall, Sapperton.

City hall, New Westminster, October 12, 1913. (2216)

City of New Westminster

AGREEMENT made in diplicate this day of in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and thirteen

BETWEEN:

HIS MAJESTY THE KING, represented by the Honorable William James Roche, His Majesty's Minister of the Interior of Canada, hereinafter called "the Crown."

and

VANCOUVER POWER COMPANY, LIMITED, a body corporate duly incorporated, hereinafter called "the Company."

THE CORPORATION OF THE CITY OF NEW WESTMINSTER, a City Municipality in the Province of British Columbia, hereinafter called "the City."

Whereas, by petition of right dated the third day of March, 1910, filed in the exchequer court of Canada and duly served, the city and one Matthew Marshall sought inter alia certain proprietary rights in the lands and premises therein described and the company and the crown duly filed and served a defence to the said petition, and the city filed and duly served a reply, and the issues in said action have hitherto been standing for trial;

And Whereas, on the 24th day of March, A.D. 1910, an agreement was executed between the crown and the company with respect to the company's application for permission to build a dam at Coquitlam lake and to execute certain other works for the purpose of developing water power in connection with the said dam," a copy of which agreement is hereunto annexed;

And Whereas, the construction of the said work is continuing under the terms of the agreement last referred to;

And Whereas, the object of the city in the litigation first above referred to was to secure both the quantity and purity of water required for the supply of the city of New Westminster;

And Whereas, the company has by agreement of even date herewith surrendered to the city 1000 inches of water out of the grant of 10,000 inches of water out of Coquitlam lake granted to the company on the 30th day of April, 1903, under the provisions of the Water Clauses Consolidation act, 1897 (Chap. 190 R. S. B. C. 1897) which 1000 inches is to be in addition to such water as the city may be entitled to take from Coquitlam lake for its waterworks system.

And Whereas, the parties to the above litigation subject to the approval of His Excellency the Governor-General in council did agree to settle all matters in difference between them by entering into the agreement herein contained;

Now this agreement witnesseth and it is hereby agreed that the agreement of March 24, 1910, hereinbefore referred to shall, subject to the approval above mentioned, be amended and altered to the following extent, that is to say:

(a) The city shall be considered the party of the third part to the said agreement, and the said agreement shall be read accordingly.

(b) The following words shall be added to Clause 1 of the said agreement, viz., "the word 'City' shall mean and include the Corporation of the City of New Westminster."

(c) The following shall be added after Clause 13 of the said agreement: "13a. The company shall keep pure and maintain the purity of the water supply for the city at and above the intake pipe for the city."

(d) In case of any dispute between the company and the city or between the company and the city's engineer touching any matter provided for by these presents in respect of the requirements on the part of the city for the preservation or securing of the purity and sufficiency of the water supply for the city, such dispute shall be decided by the minister of lands or acting minister of lands of the province of British Columbia for the time being or by such person or persons as may be appointed by him to hear and decide such dispute or in case of the inability or unwillingness of such minister of lands or acting minister of lands of the province of British Columbia for the time being to act or to appoint some other person or persons as aforesaid (a letter from himself or his deputy signifying such inability or unwillingness being conclusive proof thereof) such dispute shall be decided by the minister of the interior or by such other person or persons as may be appointed by the minister of the interior to hear and decide such dispute, and the decision of the minister of lands or acting minister of lands of the province of British Columbia or the person or persons appointed by him as aforesaid or the minister of the interior or the person or persons appointed by him as aforesaid as the case may be, shall be final and conclusive, subject, however, to an appeal to the lieutenant-governor in council of the province of British Columbia.

(e) The company agrees to pay all the out-of-pocket expenses of the city incurred by reason of the litigation as aforesaid, together with the proper costs and charges of solicitors and counsel fees incurred by the city, the whole not to exceed the sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000), such payment to be made on or before the first day of December, 1913, and the company shall on or before the first day of December, 1913, pay to the city the further sum of eleven thousand dollars ($11,000) and shall also pay to the city the further sum of one thousand dollars ($1000) a year hereafter on the first day of January in each and every year during the construction and operation or maintenance of the said dam, the first of such payments to be made on the first day of January, 1914.

(f) For the better protection and conservation of the supply of water to the city and for the company, the Coquitlam reserve, comprising an area of fifty-six thousand (56,000) acres more or less and as constituted by order in council dated the fourth day of March, one thousand nine hundred and ten, shall be continued and the minister shall make and enforce all necessary rules and regulations governing the said lands so reserved so that the same may be preserved for the protection and conservation of the supply of water to the city and for the company, and so that the purity of the water supply of the city may be maintained.

(g) The city shall have the right at any time to apply to the parliament of Canada or to the legislative assembly of the province of British Columbia or both to confirm this agreement or to empower it to carry out any of the terms thereof or to enforce this agreement, or to do and perform any matter or thing therein contained. Provided, that the company shall be at liberty to take such objections to such application or legislation as it may deem advisable.

In witness whereof, His Majesty the King has caused his seal to be affixed by the Honorable William James Roche, and the company and the city have hereunto affixed their corporate seals under the hands of their proper officers.

Signed, sealed and delivered in the presence of:

Take notice that a reefrendum as to whether it is advisable for the corporation to enter into the above agreement will be submitted to the vote of the electors on the eighteenth day of October, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, between the hours of 9 o'clock a. m. and 7 o'clock p. m. at the following places, viz.:

The council chamber, city hall.

PROBLEMS FACING FRUIT GROWERS

Causes of Difference Between Prices in East and Quotations in West.

During the sitting of the select standing committee of the house of commons on agriculture and colonization a few months ago it came out in evidence that many apple growers were last year unable to secure more than from 75 cents to $1.00 per barrel on the tree, and in some districts hundreds of barrels of good fruit were allowed to fall to the ground and rot because no profitable market could be found for it. It came out also that in the western provinces consumers were required to pay from $5.00 to $5.50 per barrel for good fruit. J. A. Ruddick, dairy and cold storage commissioner, in giving evidence on this question, pointed out that about $1.75 per barrel was received in the Lake Ontario and Lake Erie ditsricts by the members of co-operative associations, while independent growers received about $1.00 per barrel. The commissioner in referring to the discrepancy between the first and final prices of apples, estimated that the unavoidable expenses amounted to about $2.23 per barrel, made up as follows: Barrel, 45c; picking, 177c; management expenses or commission to a local buyer, 19c; freight to Winnipeg, 80c; broker's commission, 12c; and retailer's profit, 50c per barrel.

The question of marketing was but one of many dealt with by the special committee, who had as witnesses besides the dairy and cold storage commissioner, Daniel Johnson, Forest, Ont.; S .B. Chute, Berwick,. N. S.; W. S. Foggo, Vernon, B. C., and James Hardwell, Ottawa.

As evidence of the value to the grower of co-operation, Mr. Johnson instanced the case of a woman who was offered by a local buyer $125 for her crop, for which she received through a co-operative association $1,035.

Mr. Chute, who represented 1,500 farmers, as manager of the United Fruit companies of Nova Scotia, explained that through his organization 5,000 tons of fertilizer had been bought from the manufacturers for the members, who had benefited to the extent of about $15,000 on purchases of fertilizers, spraying machines, and materials, farm implements, seeds and other requirements.

Equally interesting evidence was given by the other witnesses, all of which appears in a pamphlet of 116 pages that has been printed for public distribution by the publication branch of the department of agriculture at Ottawa.

FURNITURE SALE

The Iver Smith Sales Co. now Selling Fales' Furniture Stock

THE PRICES ARE DOING IT

You never saw such reductions, and the way this big stock has been moving along has kept our sales force on the jump from early morning until closing time. One thing is certain---the people of New Westminster know real bargains when they see them. One man bought Furniture and Rugs for his entire house and told us afterwards that he wouldn't have use for them for at least six months. He figured that it was much cheaper to store his Furniture than to pay regular prices later on when he would be ready for it. This stock is so large and so well selected that you can't possibly make a mistake in anything you buy.

CLUE FOUND TO MISSING HEIRESS

Half Million Pocketed by State Yet May Reach Its Rightful Owner.

Boise, Idaho, Oct. 15.—The real heir to the $500,000 estate of Alexander Duvall, the wealthy, eccentric recluse of Livermore, Cal., whose estate was sold last week in Livermore at public auction, the state pocketing the proceeds, may yet be discovered and located through the clue offered by Mrs. J. H. Spainhower of Fruitland, Idaho. She is a former resident of Duncombe, Iowa, where Thaddeus Stevens, who married Amelia Duvall, daughter of Alexander Duvall, lived, and may yet be a resident of that town.

Mrs. Stevens is the missing heir to the Duvall estate, but search for her has failed.

Grew Wealthy in Ecuador.

Alexander Duvall was a Frenchman. When a young man he went to Ecuador, where his services as an engineer were such that he received the order of Simon Bolivar and concessions that made him a rich man. He purchased the Chateau Bolivue and the big vineyard surrounding it, one of the most beautiful estates in California. With him lived his wife and their one child, the beautiful daughter Amelia.

It was three years after the purchase of the estate where Duvall and his family made their home that Amelia was won by Thaddeus Stevens, son of a rich eastern woman. From that time Amelia was as though dead to her father. Stevens asked Amelia to marry him without first securing the consent of her father, who flew into a rage on being so ignored that he refused to ever see her again. Although two years later one of Duvall's servants informed him that his daughter had been deserted by her husband and was destitute he refused her assistance, declaring, "I have no daughter."

Search in Vain.

It was shortly after this that Mrs. Duvall died and ten days later Alexander Duvall passed away. Since then a careful search has been made for the missing daughter. Failure on her part to appear resulted in the sale of the valuable estate by the state of California last week.

The story of the sale of the Duvall estate has just reached Mrs. Spainhower of Fruitland in this state and she has given the following statement relative to the case:

"I was greatly surprised to learn of this remarkable case, as Thaddeus Stevens was a resident of my home town and may still be, so far as I know. In his younger days my brother stayed with him and this same young wife. The pity of the case is that the young woman should be punished her entire life for this one act of folly.

Squanders Mother's Cash.

"Mr. Stevens was immoral and intemperate, but blessed with good looks. His mother idolized him. She left her husband, John Lundy, and took her profligate son to California, where he squandered her money, met and married this girl and took her back to his home, a humble cottage in Duncombe, where for a time he straightened up and tried to be a man.

"It was not long until the young wife saw her fatal mistake and they left Iowa. When he returned she was not with him and many supposed she had gone back to her parents. He went from bad to worse, squandered his mother's last dollar, and I was in Duncombe visiting my parents and saw the officers carry this once proud woman, with snow white hair, to the county poor house, broken in spirit, mind and body, while that same son was a drunkard in the ditch. The mother, broken hearted, died about a year ago."

Heir May Be in Chicago.

From time to time reports have been published that the missing daughter has been found. The latest report of this kind comes from Chicago. Mrs. Soainhower believes that Amelia Duvall returned to California. Her husband, who she has every reason to believe, is still living at Duncombe, can if he will, she thinks, tell where his wife is.

TOWN AROUSED OVER CONDITIONS

Startling Revelations in Court Shock Ellensburg—Children Allowed to Run Wild.

Ellensburg, Wash., Oct. 15.—Judge Ralph Kaufman, in the superior court, yesterday sentenced George Jones to the Monroe reformatory for not less than one year and not more than five years. Jones was convicted two weeks ago after the most sensational trial in several years on a statutory charge.

In denying the motion of Attorney E. K. Brown for Jones for a new trial Judge Kauffman severely criticized conditions in Ellensburg, particularly flaying Charles Manner, the proprietor of the Queen candy store, at which place it was shown in the trial a score or more of young girls had been congregating and discussing sex affairs with almost the freedom of the underworld.

Judge Suggests Ordinance.

"There are no laws in this state that deal with such places," said Judge Kauffman from the bench yesterday. "There seems to be no city ordinance that will regulate the running of such places and I greatly regret it. I would advise that the city attorney draw up an ordinance dealing with the operating of such congregating places for young girls.

"We have ordinances preventing young men from entering pool halls and saloons but we have no ordinances to prevent girls from running the streets and gathering at such places. I believe if such a place had not existed there would be no occasion for such a trial as we have just gone through with, this girl would have been saved her shame and this boy would have been saved the disgrace of a felon's sentence.

Parents Criticized.

"It is to the shame of the parents of this city who allow their daughters to run about the streets at night. They should be severely criticized."

Attorney E. K. Brown stated in court that he had at no time advised against the marriage of Jones and the Mallette girl, but in fact had urged it, but that the boy's mother prevented it.

In pronouncing sentence Judge Kaufman stated that he had absolutely no sympathy for young Jones.

City is Aroused.

The case has aroused a wide sentiment in Ellensburg. A meeting called by O. W. Ball, president of the Associated Charities, and attended by a committee from the Associated Charities, a committee from the Federated Women's clubs of the city, F. A. Kern, the prosecuting attorney; Jay A. Whitfield, the city attorney, and a newspaper editor, was held in the public library and a committee was appointed to draw up petitions to ask the council for a police woman with no other duties than to look after the moral conditions surrounding young boys and girls of the city.

Want Conditions Bettered.

This committee will draft a petition and have it circulated throughout the city and presented to the council at its meeting, October 20. A mass meeting may also be called.

It is proposed to have the police woman have the enforcement of the juvenile law, attend public [illegible] and the like and in general [illegible] better conditions.

Two-thirds of the witnesses for the defense in the Jones trial were boys and girls under 20 years of age. Some of them showed a knowledge so shocking to the court that no minors were allowed in court except to testify.

ENTERS STRONG PLEA FOR THE FRIENDLESS LEPER

"A million lepers challenge our attention," said W. M. Danner of Cambridge, Mass., American secretary of the interdenominational mission to lepers, in his address at the Spokane Y. M. C. A. last Sunday.

"The mission to lepers," continued Mr. Danner, "furnishes money for buildings and current expenses of the leper work done by each denomination while the denominational missionary gives the supervision and Christian teaching.

"The leper is afflicted in three ways. He is sick, poor and homeless. His illness may be one of three types or he may have mixed leprosy.

"Most of the lepers are beggars, possessing no property except the leper beggars' bowl. The people of India particularly regard leprosy as a curse from the gods. They therefore drive a member of their own family out of the home.

"There are now 30 centers of work where lepers are cared for by the society. The gratitude of the lepers often finds expression in the phrase, 'You have taken us from hell to heaven.'

"There is a false impression that the missionary becomes afflicted with the disease. This seldom occurs. Children of leper parents are often saved from the disease by being taken from the parents in early childhood."

Building permits were issued yesterday from the city building inspector's office to Cameron brothers for alterations to the Lytton hotel, $1500; to J. H. Diamond for a five roomed bungalow on Simpson street, Sapperton, $1500, and for a new front to the Merchants cafe, $200.

Say No to Burnaby.

Burnaby has asked that the Pacific highway signs placed along Kingsway be marked showing the limits of that municipality. This request, however, has been refused since the road signs of the highway league all along the coast are of one design which could not be changed.

Fred Davis will sell by public auction the furniture and effects of Mrs. L. Miller on the premises at 120 Sixth avenue, on Thursday, October 16, at 2 p.m. sharp. Every article must be disposed of and will be sold absolutely without reserve as Mrs. Miller is leaving for the old country. (2238)

Social and Personal

Among the number of ladies from the mainland who attended the general meeting of the British Columbia Graduate Nurses club in Victoria recently, was Miss White, of New Westminster, who took the chair at the gathering. In all 40 members were present.

Robert Allan has returned from Calgary after spending some time in that city.

W. R. Austin, of Kamloops, was in New Westminster yesterday. He was here attending the funeral of the late C. C. Cameron.

Mrs. J. B. Kennedy will not receive today.

A Big Hanging.

H. E. Leash, photographer, is now hanging a number of large photos taken in this district, on the walls of the B. C. E. R. depot here. The views are of the Fraser valley, showing farm lands, live stock, etc. Many of the pictures have been greatly enlarged by means of a new apparatus invented and perfected by Mr. Leash a short time ago.

Free of Debt.

When the financial assistance promised by the Burnaby council comes through, the Central Park Agricultural society will be in a position to claim its freedom from debt, the recent fair being a huge success. All business in connection with the exhibition was cleared up at a meeting of the society held on Monday evening.

Burnaby Liberals.

The annual election of officers of the West Burnaby Liberal club will be held on Monday evening, October 27. A meeting of the club was held this week when H. M. Fraser, president of the organization, gave an account of his stewardship. A novelty in the electing of new officers and which it is thought will stir up considerable interest, is the scheme of issuing two sets of tickets, red and blue, officers being named on either ticket.

Civic Employment Bureau.

Carpenters are busy at the city hall making alterations on the second floor in the quarters formerly occupied by the engineering staff. When completed, the rooms will be occupied by Building Inspector Turnbull as a municipal employment bureau. An entrance to the building has been erected from the rear side of the hall, the platform running past the police station having been extended westward.

Harvest Festival.

Harvest Thanksgiving services were repeated in St. Mary's church, Sapperton, last evening when the Venerable Archdeacon Rev. F. C. C. Heathcote occupied the pulpit. The special harvest festival music was admirably rendered by the choir under the leadership of A. G. Moore. Preceding the service, the ladies of the parish served supper in the hall.

Informal Dances.

Native Sons Post No. 4 met last night and after business was concluded held an informal dance, about 30 members and friends being present. From this time on meetings will take place on the fourth Tuesday of the month instead of the third Wednesday. A special entertainment committee to have charge of the monthly dances was appointed, consisting of Frank Hoy, A. H. Johnston, H. Leamy and C. Lord.

Fred Davis will sell by public auction the furniture and effects of Mr Lindekugel, at the residence, 236 Mowat street, on Friday, October 17 at 2 p.m. sharp. Every article will be sold absolutely without reserve. Particulars of sale can be had from H. J. Russell, Westminster Auction House Columbia street. (2246)

Visions of Tong War.

Visions of a tong war cropped up in the Chinese quarter last evening when two members of the Celestial empire undertook to settle their little differences by the manly art of using their fists. Wong Gong and Lung Lee were the contestants and as the names suggests, the sound of the Gong coupled with lusty shouts of Lung brought out the habitues of Chinatown by the score. Is the presidential inauguration being celebrated? Are the Manchus, the deadly enemies of the new era, being murdered, beheaded, executed? These and other thoughts passed through the mind of the patrolman on the beat. He would investigate. After much difficulty in making his way through the throng, the principals were placed under arrest, and Magistrate Edmonds will be asked to settle the difference in the court this morning.

For Better Laws.

The Women's Educational club will welcome all friends and members at a meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. J. A. Cunningham, 307 Fifth street, tonight at 8 o'clock. This is to be a very interesting meeting for gentlemen as well as the ladies. Mrs. Ralph Smith, president of Women's Canadian club, Vancouver, will give an address on "Better Laws for Women and Children." M. J. Knight will give one of his solos.

Get on the Voters' List.

Only a little over two weeks remain for householders in the city entitled to vote at the civic elections held in January, to have their names registered on the list. During the past two weeks City Clerk Duncan has been called upon to hand out a considerable quantity of blank forms to be filled out by applicants, the requirements being that a person must be a British subject, must have had six months' residence in the city prior to making application and is paying a rental value of $100 a year. The lists will close on October 31 in order to allow the names to be made up in book form.

WEDDING BELLS

WRAY—HOLME.

A quiet but pretty wedding was celebrated last week at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Wray, 1124 Edinburgh street, between Lillian Margaret Wray and Cecil Edwin Holme, youngest son of C. J. Holme, North road, Burquitlam.

The happy couple proceeded to Seattle and the coast cities for their honeymoon and will take up their future residence in New Westminster.

OBITUARY.

NICHOLSON—The funeral of the late Malcolm Nicholson, who died on Tuesday will take place from the family residence, 233 Sixth avenue, this afternoon at 2 o'clock, the change in time from 2:30 o'clock being made yesterday afternoon.

The interment ceremony will take place at the family plot, Odd Fellows' cemetery.

wards the end of the year, but he was of an American engineer being employed on the work.

"That is a pretty small way of in a position to state that a company which would require gas were to take over the buildings and employ a larger force than ever, once the can company has removed. He cited several instances where Burnaby would benefit by the passage of the bylaw.

Councillor Stride, W. S. Rose and P. B. Brown all spoke in the same vein, the former depreciating the statements he had heard in the city that day that some people were against the bylaw simply on account thinking," said Councillor Stride.

Another B. C. E. R. matter cropped up when the estrangement of Vancouver and the company was discussed in regard to new car barns. In event of the company not agreeing to the city's demands it is hoped that the company will see fit to erect their barns in North Burnaby on its own property. A special committee consisting of Councillor Coldicutt and W. S. Rose will meet the company in Vancouver this morning.

To create a little more interest in the board of trade and give the winter schedule a good send-off, a smoker will be held on Wednesday, October 29, at the public hall. The executive have the matter in hand.
