BIGGEST PROBLEM WORLD HAS SEEN

Chief Canadian Lecturer in Britain Says Right People Are Coming.

Where United States Immigration Reached 1.7 Per Cent. Canada's Is Now 4.4.

Ottawa, Sept. 30.—"Canada is solving today the bigkest immigration problem the world has ever seen. As chief Canadian lecturer in Britain, I am going across the Dominion on a tour of observation. I have heard that this is going to be a bad winter in the west and intend to look into this when I go there," said Fred Campbell, former journalist and present member of the Canadian immigration service.

"I am making just now a careful tour of observation preparatory to my winter lecture tour," he said.

"As to the statement that we are flooding Canada indiscriminately with immigrants, nothing could be further from the fact. We have the biggest immigration problem the world has ever seen. At its high tide immigration to the United States reached only 1.7 per cent. of its population, whereas ours is now 4.4 per cent.

"Canada's small population scattered over so huge an area will never be able to assimilate such great numbers unless they are the right type.

Bring Good Types.

"As regards this cry for agricultural immigration only, however, I would like to point out that only about 1,000,000 people in England are engaged in farming, why if we brought out only agriculturists and did so at the rate we are now conducting immigration, England would not have a farmer left in three years. The next best thing therefore is to get intelligent people of a good type, whom we can train to work on the lands.

GOVERNMENT TO BE SELLING AGENTS

Ontario House May Try to Reduce Cost of Living in New Way—Would Save Money.

Toronto, Sept. 30.—As a result of the Ontario government's investigation the co-operative plan of selling agencies may be established in the big centres for the sale and disposal of the products of the Ontario farmers and thus reduce the price of living.

This scheme, it is ascertained, will insure the farmer much better prices while it would save the consumers a very great deal. It has been suggested by officials of the Farmers' Institute and Agricultural societies that a profitable plan both to consumer and seller could be established by the government through these associations as a medium.

Fair Foolishisms

The hours I've spent up at the park
Have wrought a bunch of cramps in me.
I've thought each pain would pull me all apart,
My poor tumm-y! my poor tumm-y!

The heated dog, the frozen cone I've gulped,
The sample cake and candy given free
Have tantalized my in'ards as they sulked.
My poor tumm-y! my poor tumm-y!

No more deceptive daintiest tease my taste;
From everything that's gratis now I flee;
No creamy stuff, that's really office paste,
Gets past my throat into my poor tumm-y.

Look out, or the hot dog on Sockeye Run will bit you, particularly if you put mustard on his tail.

"Dog fight?"
"Nope."
"Man hurt?"
"No."
"No yet; can't you see what it is. A lady, no a woman, in a great big slit skirt."

Sure enough he was right; she wore a make-believe skirt that was slashed, slit, ripped or busted, enough to display $2.75 worth of a $3.00 pair of silk hose. The slit came to her knee; she was seen yesterday afternoon at 3:45 along the Sockeye Run.

They met each other at the fair,
After years of separation,
They shook each other by the hand
To show appreciation.
My they were glad to see each other again. "Will you?" "Sure I will." After they got down to Columbia street and pushed open the slatted doors,—
They put their feet upon the rail
And eulogized each other;
And they the man wiped off the bar
And then they had another.

The police got the pair at eventide, and they will 'fess up to the magistrate this morning in court.

While on this painful subject it might be mentioned that the tall, red-headed one was seen with his friend early in the afternoon. He wore a 15 cent hat band; it read "Let George Do It." Apparently George made a poor job of it.

And this is what they found the reverend gentleman doing on Sockeye Run last night:

It gets 'em one; it gets 'em all,
The nigger baby and the ball.
Everybody's doin' it, doin' it, doin' it,
Playin' young and foolish down on Sockeye Run.

Large Grain Shipments.

Regina, Sept. 30.—Over five and a half million bushels of grain have been shipped out from the Regina divisions of the three railways operating here this year, taking the C. P. R. average of 1,500 bushels to the car as a basis. These are divided: C. P. R., 2,027 cars of grain; C. N. R., 900 cars, and G. T. P., 800.

Memberships and passes	3,826	4,026
Paid admissions	4,372	5,330

Increase over last year, 1,158.

A record for attendance for the opening day of the provincial exhibition was established yesterday when 9356 persons passed through the turnstyles. The attendance on the opening day last year was 8198, thus showing a total increase of 1158. The paid admissions yesterday totalled 5330, as compared to 4372 paid admissions in 1912. The balance in each case is made up of membership tickets and passes.

The splendid list of attractions and the quality of the exhibits should tend to break all records for attendance for the week.

The interest being taken in the exhibits of the Women's Institutes and in the better babies contest which opens today is great'

THE BIG FAIR IS WIDE OPEN

KINGSWAY A LINK BETWEEN CITIES

Four Hundred Cars Parade Over New Highway to Fair Grounds.

Because of It Vancouver and New Westminster Will Be Drawn Still Closer Together.

Canada's finest paved highway, the connecting link of the two leading cities of the lower mainland of British Columbia, was officially opened yesterday morning with one of the largest automobile parades ever staged in the Canadian west a part of the ceremony. Other cities may claim the honor of such parades, but yesterday's, extending as it did over twelve miles was an epoch maker in British Columbia.

Not only were there four hundred cars in the procession, carrying an average of four persons at least, but thousands of people lined the route from Vancouver to New Westminster, and gathered at Central Park, where the official ceremonies were conducted, giving the affair more of a national aspect than a provincial one.

Starting out from Vancouver shortly after 10 o'clock, not a hitch occurred along the whole route.

It is doubtful whether there was ever a more representative gathering in this province than that of yesterday. Provincial ministers, Dominion members of parliament, M. L. A.'s, mayors and reeves, aldermen and councillors, members of boards of trade and kindred bodies, all working in harmony towards the culmination of the greatest effort in road building ever engineered in the province.

Kingsway now extends from Main street, Vancouver, to Columbia street, New Westminster, official ceremonies being conducted along the route, one at the corner of Main and Westminster road, Vancouver, by Mayor Baxter changing the name to Kingsway, while Mayor Gray performed a like ceremony at Tenth avenue and Twelfth street, changing the latter street to Kingsway also.

Not Finished.

South Vancouver's portion of the road was barely completed in time, although great credit is due the municipal authorities there for extra efforts made to hurry the work along.

At Central Park Burnaby's portion commences and this section, a little over six miles long, affords one of the finest roads for travel yet constructed in the lower mainland.

The provinical government came into its share of the praise for such a highway, mention being made of the grant of the government, amounting to nearly $300,000, which was turned over to the two municipalities as a share of the cost.

In Fine Condition.

The road yesterday had received a special cleaning, especialy the Burnaby section, where water wagons and street sprinklers had removed almost every speck of dust, while the buoleyards had also been trimmed.

Fine Publicity.

Last, but not least, the ceremony yesterday was the finest publicity stunt ever carried out in connection with the annual provincial exhibition. In the four hundred odd cars were over two thousand people who came along with the intention of joining in the Kingsway celebration and also the provincial fair, while the attraction along the route also brought to the attention of the residents that New Westminster's annual exhibition was on, a sure forerunner for greater crowds for the rest of the week.

Excellent Policy.

The speeches at Central Park were brief and to the point.

All of them hinged on greater co-operation among the municipalities, while that of Hon. Thomas Taylor, minister of public works and official representative of the provincial government, announced the policy of the present government to further the

HORSE SHOW IS FORGING AHEAD

Splendid Card Marks Opening of Third Annual Event.

Mayor Gray Appeals for Support—Col. McRae Takes Cream of Ribbons with Fine String.

For the third year in succession New Westminster and district entertained his majesty, King Horse, when the gates of the horse show arena swung open at 8 o'clock last evening and admitted a phaeton in which were seated President Charles E. Welsh of the R. A. & I. society and Mayor Gray, who performed the official ceremonies.

The ghosts of shrieks of inspired hockey enthusiasts which made the rafters of the building resound on occasions last winter, were hushed for the nonce and in place of the raucous roar of excited fans, was heard the subdued, the dainty applause of fashion, answering, as it were, the proud neighing of some mettled winner, or the impatient champing of a bit.

These are the sounds dear to the heart of the real horse lover and New Westminster citizens did themselves proud last evening when following the opening ceremony by Mayor Gray, a splendid program was run off without a hitch, showing that the Royal City was not going to take a back seat to any on the coast, when a fall horse show is mentioned.

President Welsh, in introducing his worship, the mayor, mentioned the fact that the society was there to give every attention and assistance to its patrons, and if anyone felt they were not getting the right treatment they should make it known to the management and the matter would be rectified.

To the Point.

Mayor Gray did not occupy the stage very long. His knack of saying things to the point was all the more apparent last evening when he traced, in very few words, back to the days before the automobile and train superceded the stage coach. He mentioned the Colony farm, which will exhibit its stock before the horses are sent to the Chicago fair. The mayor closed his remarks with a plea for support from the citizens, for, as he explained, it was up to them to make the show either a success or a failure and New Westminster would never bow to the latter.

Perfect All Round.

As stated above the card last evening was splendid. The music by the band was good, the musical ride performed by sixteen young residents of the city was perfect, while one outstanding feature was the horsemanship of Miss Roberts, riding for E. Henderson of Victoria. In the hunters and jumpers class Miss Roberts well earned the applause of the people by taking the hurdles with faultless nerve and forgetting the other good events, the people were enthused by this popular lady, who will be heard from again during the remaining four nights of the show.

Winners.

The winners last evening were as follows:

Runabout Horse—1, Col. A. D. McRae, Vancouver; 2, Mrs. T. F. Sinclair, New Westminster; 3, Mrs. Arthur Proctor, Vancouver.

Saddle horses, 15.2 hands or over—1, Col. A. D. McRae, Vancouver; 2, Dr. John Johnson, Vancouver; 3, E. Henderson, Victoria.

Musical ride, New Westminster riders.

HON. PRICE ELLISON OPENS THE FAIR

Minister of Agriculture in Address Tells of Benefit of Competition.

R. A. and I. Society Entertain Authorities of the Province at Big Luncheon.

After half an hour at luncheon in the fair grounds, President C. A. Welsh rose and explained that owing to pressure for time lengthy speeches would be dispensed with, and after a most brief address preceded by a toast to the King, announced the opening of the 42nd annual provincial fair would be made by Hon. Price Ellison, minister of agriculture for the province.

In making this announcement the president of the R. A. & I society said that judging by statistics alone the fair this year was to be the greatest of all the great fairs held by the society. Manager D. E. MacKenzie had received 35,000 entries, an increase of 35 or 40 per cent. over those of last year, and far in excess of any previous year. He told of the agricultural and industrial exhibits and mentioned the entries made this year by Revelstoke, for the first time, saying that at fairs to come that city would be represented. He was sure that for agricultural exhibits the provincial fair surpassed any but the Dominion fair, and even because of all the wonderful products of the Okanagan and other inland districts, was easily to be compared with the best in Canada or the United States.

Among those present were: J. White, Tom Prentice, F. P. Rogers, F. E. Woodside, T. Evans, C. E. Mahone, S. Gintzburger, W. A. Blair, W. Hepburn, R. Humphries, C. W. Thomas, J. D. Millar, J. Third, A. G. Moore, T. D. Coldicutt, P. W. Fau Vel, D. E. Mackenzie, W. R. Gilley, Dr. J. G. McKay, Fred Macpherson, C. F. Sprott, F. W. Maine, Eber Stride, Alex McPherson, C. Stewart Campbell, J. B. Springford, Jas. Dickenson, W. Dodd, J. J. Wilberts, L. A. Lewis, Reeve D. C. McGregor, Mayor T. S. Baxter, Mayor A. W. Gray, G. R. G. Conway, T. Gifford, M.L.A., Hon. Thos.

40 DROWNED IN FLOODS IN FRANCE

Eighty-four Hours Storm Spread Ruin and Destruction Throughout Cerbere.

Cerbere, France, Sept. 30.—A terrific thunderstorm which raged for 84 hours has spread ruin and destruction throughout this city. Forty persons are known to be dead.

A stream which passes through the city soon was over its banks and flooded the streets. In a hardware establishment where large quantities of gasoline, petroleum, alcohol and other inflammables and a cask of calcium carbide were stored the water dissolved the chemical and enormous volumes of gas were formed. A terrific explosion occurred which completely wrecked two buildings and enveloped two others in flames. Three persons who were passing at the time were killed outright. Five families were buried in the ruins.

Nearly every house in Cerbere is flooded and much of the provisions have been spoiled.

In answer to an urgent appeal from the mayor the prefect at Perpignan despatched several tons of bread to meet the pressing needs of the inhabitants. A company of infantry was rushed from Collioure to assist in the rescue work and search the ruins.

MAY TAKE OVER ALL WATER POWER

Ontario Conservation Commission Interested in Project—More State Ownerships Advocated.

Ottawa, Sept. 30.—The officers of the conservation commission are interested in the recommendation oft he Ontario municipal electric association, that the water powers along the rivers and canals of eastern Ontario he handed over to the Ontario hydro-electric commission.

The conservation commission has been urging the policy of state ownership along these lines for some time, though it is not particular whether the development be by the federal or provincial governments. Recently in the report condemning the Long Sault project, the commisesion urged that this power be made use of by the government. The question involved is a very large one, however, and before any action is taken the government will have to give it much consideration. No official view is expressed in ministerial circles.

TERROR GRIPS MEXICAN CITY

Federals March Victorious on Piedras Negras—Foreigners Told to Flee by Authorities.

Piedras Negras, Mex., Sept. 30.—Terror has gripped this city, the provisional capital of the Mexican constitutionalists, with the victorious northward march of the federals and the arrival of hundreds of refugees from the surrounding devastated country.

Obeying the instructions of United States Consul Blocker, American residents of Piedras Negras, joined the exodus and hundreds of persons crossed the international bridge into Eagle Pass this afternoon, many carrying on their backs such of their possessions as they could assemble hurriedly.

Warned Foreigners.

Consul Blocker's warning to foreigners to quit Piedras Negras immediately was in anticipation of rioting should the constitutionalists be forced to abandon their provisional capital. As the rebel army is being driven northward by the government troops under General Maas, the retreating insurgents are setting fire to villages.

Reports from the front tonight indicate that the federals are closing in on the town of Sabinas, from which the constitutionalists are expected to fall back either on Matamoras or Piedras Negras.

United States troops are hurrying from San Antonio to reinforce the garrison at Eagle Pass.

High Flyers.

Johannisthal, Germany, Sept. 30.—The Austrian aviator, Sablatnik, with three passengers aboard his bi-plane, reached an altitude today of 7924 feet.

MANITOBA CROP RECORDS BROKEN

Eighty Per Cent. of Threshing Done and Prospects for Fall Good.

Province in Best Shape in Years Says the Minister of Agriculture at Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, Sept. 30.—With eighty per cent of the threshing done, and fine prospects for a good fall plowing term, Manitoba finds itself in better shape just now than it has been at the same time in many previous years, according to Hon. Geo. Lawrence, minister f agriculture, for the province.

"Our reports from all parts of the province," said Mr. Lawrence, "show that at least 80 per cent. of the threshing is done. With ten more days of the present weather the job shuold be finished. There are many more outfits threshing this fall than ever before, and in some districts the threshing is ended.

"The yield is good and the grade of the grain was never higher. Wheat, oc course, is king at the present in Manitoba and is likely to remain so. Nevertheless, there is an active movement just now towards the stimulation of mixed farming, and high grade cattle are being bought for syndicates of Manitoba farmers. Representatives of different districts in the east are purchasing dairy cattle for Manitoba, and this will do much toward maintaining the new creameries erected in the last two years.

CHINESE PARTIES AGREE ON ELECTION

Government and Opposition Decide to Settle Question of Presidential Succession at Polls.

Washington, Sept. 30.—The American legation at Peking cabled the state department today that the government and opposition parties of the new Chinese republic who have been at odds for a long time over the question of presidential succession, virtually have agreed to the immediate election of a president without waiting the adoption of a new constitution.

A method of procedure is now being arranged and the election of Yuan Shi Kai as permanent president is expected in time for the inauguration October 10.

Not Exercise Right.

Ottawa, Sept. 30.—It is announced that the Grand Trunk Pacific will not exercise before next spring or summer its right for the leasing of the transcontinental from Superior junction to Cochrane.

WHAT THE BIG MEN SAID AFTER THE FIRST DAY OF PROVINCIAL EXHIBITION

President C. A. Welsh: "I am very much pleased to see so many distinguished guests at the opening of the exhibition. The increased interest being taken in the annual provincial exhibition is certainly very encouraging and the outlook for the success of the fair is this year brighter than ever.

"The splendid increase in the number and quality of the entries is also a source of pleasure to the management and I want to take this opportunity of thanking all those who have contributed to the successful opening of the exhibition which I have no doubt will be the greatest ever held in New Westminster."

Manager D. E. MacKenzie: "I do not think that there is an agricultural exhibition in Canada or the Western States that can compare with the provincial exhibition this year. We have at least an increase of 40 per cent. in the number of entries over any previous year and the quality was never better.

"If the following four days continue like the opening day we will have a record hard to beat.

"Everyone interested in the exhibition has worked hard and I am sure they all feel proud of what they have to show the public for their efforts.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 1, 1913.

AWAY TO A GOOD START.

Off again, with the best of weather, admiring crowds, better exhibits than ever, the annual exhibition of the Royal Agricultural and Industrial society was officially opened yesterday under the most auspicious conditions.

Year after year has seen big improvements in the provincial fair and this season the forward progress is more marked than ever before. Horses, cattle, agriculture and industries all show to the best advantage and it is a good day's work for a visitor to Queen's park to take in everything with the care which the different displays deserve.

The fair is a credit to the men who have worked so hard for it and certainly they have their reward in witnessing the remarkable results of their efforts.

KINGSWAY.

Cement isn't the material usually employed to forge links, but yesterday there was a cement link dedicated which is bound to bind New Westminster, Vancouver and the intervening municipalities more closely together. The link was Kingsway, the fine new road which was officially opened yesterday morning and over which one may ride in comfort and ease from the salt shores of Burrard inlet to the banks of this fresh water port.

Kingsway is a road and it also is a symbol of that unity that is growing stronger with every year and binding more strongly together the interests of the lower mainland of British Columbia which are destined to play so great a part in the future of this great Pacific coast.

May there be many more Kingsways and many more such symbolical links.

How are you feeling? Oh, FAIR, FAIR, thank you.

No, pumpkins don't grow that size. They make them out of cardboard and paint 'em just to fool the judges.

Listen here: the baby judging is to be done in the Rest Room of the Women's Building—in the rest room. Wow!!! Wow!!!

If you want a change from the exhibition, why there's always the assizes. Some of the folks down at the court house would like to swap places with you.

There's only one thing wrong with those new gates at the park. A lot of folks are so taken up admiring them, they don't care whether they buy tickets to get inside or not.

Eclat—yes, that's the word, meaning, of course, the style with which they opened Kingsway yesterday; and not only with eclat, but with silk hats, and frock coats and speeches. It surely was well, truly and properly done.

"Tom Mann Belittles King George," reads a newspaper headline. That's hardly correct. Tom belittled himself when he undertook to discuss the king, the which his auditors demonstrated for his benefit when they interrupted him with the national anthem.

When the organist in a Hamilton church was absent the other Sunday the janitor fingered the ivories for the congregational singing and, it is said, made good. Wonder if the musician could have done as well with the coal shovel and the broom if the man who janits had been away.

And the weather. Lift your roof to the gentleman (heavy on that gentleman) who handles the weather. Every hydrant was screwed down tight, every cloud was pushed back into the corner and that antiquated ball of fireworks, the sun, was polished up for fair. Here's to you, Mr. Weather Distributor, keep up the good work.

THOSE "HOME" DOLLARS

Editor Daily News:

Sir,—What about that little dollar the "trade" sends across the line for fruit when it can be had home grown?

Isn't the difference in price paid here in B. C. something to the "trade" if its kept at home?

And what about the dollars the "trade" sends across the ocean for jams, pickles, vinegars, etc? These are all made and made well, in Canada.

Before you write any more home trade talk just start in to order groceries for a family under another name and notice the labels on your goods, also the name on the end of your apple box; you'll think you are in Seattle. Perhaps there is not enough "home-grown" material to go round after the editors are served.

When the newspapers told the public "blackberries were rotting on the ground on Lulu Island"—my grocer could not get a crate for me—I went to the market and got part of a crate.

While local apples are plentiful I am served out at the rate of twelve apples for 25 cents. He tells me he has no crates in yet—why? Well, the American apples have not come in yet, they are cheaper (they should be for they are not so good) But we, the public, pay the same as if we were helping out our own gardeners by buying home-grown apples and keeping those elusive little dollars at home.

NEW POWER COMPANY FORMED IN TORONTO

Ottawa, Sept. 30.—Letters patent of the Dominion have been issued to the Upper St. Lawrence Power company, limited, with a capital of $5,000,000 and headquarters at Toronto. The purpose of the company is generally to develop power and carry on the varied enterprises connected therewith. The names of the directors do not appear.

REPUBLICANS MAY HAVE POISONED PRINCESS

Berlin, Sept. 30.—Poison administered by plotting Portuguese Republicans may have caused the sudden and mysterious illness of the deposed King Manuel's bride, she who was Princess Augusta Victoria of Hohenzollern.

Such is the persistent rumor here. The mystery is deepened by silence of the bride's closest relatives and of the doctors. The patient is attended by Professor Von Ronberg, a specialist in internal affections and a toxicologist. Yet it is officially announced that she suffers from a severe attack of influenza.

VANCOUVER HINDUS ASSIST THEIR FELLOWS

Said That $25,000 Was Raised at Meeting to Aid in Releasing Countrymen Held in Seattle.

Vancouver, Sept. 30.—Seventy-five Hindus who are at present held by the Seattle authorities on the grounds that they are likely to become public charges have the entire Hindu population of Vancouver working for their release. At a mass meeting held in O'Brien hall it is stated that the sum of $25,000 was subscribed to release the Hindus now held in Seattle on bail. Indignation of the most belligerent nature was expressed by the assembly last night. A resolution was drawn up strongly protesting the action, declaring that the Hindus were under no circumstances liable to become public charges, that they had money and were willing and able to become good citizens.

A copy of this resolution will be at once forwarded to the British ambassador at Washington, D. C., asking him to protect the rights of British subjects, and a duplicate of the resolution will be dispatched to the United States government.

Further discussion of the question of excluding Hindus from Canada took place and the idea was bitterly resented. It was determined to ask the Indian government to support the Hindus in their contention that as British subjects they had a right to enter and settle in any part of the British dominions. The Indian government will also be urged to the extreme step of excluding Canadians from entering India should the objection to Hindus in Canada be continued.

It was further stated openly in the meeting that Hon. Robert Rogers had promised the Hindus of Vancouver that their wives and children should be allowed to enter Canada and they are relying on his promise in this matter.

HEALTH OF GREAT LAKE CITIES

Sewage Pollution of Niagara and Detroit Rivers Presents Difficult Problem to Commission.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 30.—Immediate measures to protect the health of Great Lake cities against sewage pollution of water are held necessary by the committee of the International Joint commission, which will present a report on the entire commission in Ottawa next month. Principal pollution of the Niagara river comes from sewage pollution at Buffalo. The report holds, with the recommendation that the method of sewage disposal be changed there in the near future. The waters of the river, even below Niagara Falls, are polluted, and the towns on both sides are affected.

Sewage pollution along the Detroit river raises a more difficult problem than on the Niagara, and it is to be further investigated with the aid of sanitary experts.

Commisioner Streeter in a supplementary report, holds that nothing but Federal control of sewage pollution can furnish effective remedies where the pollution of an inter-state stream by one state menaces the health of citizens of another.

"Congressional action may wisely be taken to provide Federal control in the interests of public health," says Commissioner Streeter.

HALIFAX TO WEST INDIES

Five-Year Contract Between Canada and Shipping Firms—Cable Rates Cut.

Ottawa, Sept. 30.—As part of the preferential trade agreement recently entered into by Canada and the British West Indies, the Canadian government has closed a contract with the Royal Mail Steam Packet company for a five-year service from Halifax and St. John to the British West Indies. The contract is on a subsidized basis, the amount not being disclosed, but it is said to be heavy. A previous contract made with Pickford & Black of Halifax was not carried out, the company being unable to get the necessary ships. The new contract calls for a freight and pasenger service of our vessels of eleven or twelve knots speed, sailing from Halifax and returning to St. John. The vessels will have a capacity of 5000 tons each. The service begins November 1. The whole subsidy is provided for the present by Canada. As part of the same agreement, the cable rates between Great Britain, Canada and West Indies have been cut in half, Canada and Great Britain each contributing $40,000 as an offset.

STUDY AMERICAN PRISONS

German Officials Cross the Ocean to Obtain New Ideas for the Fatherland.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 30.—Among the passengers on board the steamship Victoria Louise, which sailed from Hamburg today bound for New York, are four German officials appointed by the German government as commissioners to study American prisons. The four commissioners of the German government are Privy Councilors Plaschke of Berlin and Schlosser of Wabern; Superintendent of Prisons Heikman of Werl and Reformatory Superintendent Rempis of Wabern. They are expected to arrive in New York about October 9 and will make a 2000-mile tour under the direction of Orlando F. Lewis, the general secretary of the Prison Association of New York, who was asked by the German government to arrange the itinerary.

PAUPER WAS MILLIONAIRE

Had Only Nickel in Change But Fortune in Securities in Possession.

San Francisco, Sept. 30.—Edward McDonald, a plainly dressed middle aged man, was found ill in a cheap lodging house here with 5 cents in change in his purse, but with $1,270,000 in negotiable bonds and securities sewed up in an inside pocket. The papers are said to be securities of forty-seven bona fide companies in active operation and all drawing interest.

The sick man is in a state of coma and no explanation regarding his wealth has been discovered. He is believed, however, to have amassed the fortune through frugal living and investments.

REPORT ON WONDERS OF GREAT NORTHLAND

Indian Inspector Tells of Prize Vegetables, Wheat and Trees Grown North of Edmonton.

Ottawa, Sept. 30.—No. 1 hard wheat, grown 800 miles north of Edmonton; prize vegetables, raised in the Arctic circle, and spruce trees of a large size are some of the wonders of the northern territories which Henry A. Conroy, inspector of Indian agencies, will record in his report of his recent tour, known officially as "Treaty Hop," of the territory over which Mr. Conray has supervision, being inhabited by 8000 "treaty" Indians and 3500 "non-treaty" Indians. Once a year he visits the eighteen agencies located in "Treaty No. 8" and distributes among the Indians $35,000 in money, besides provisions, ammunition, fishing nets and other things required by these aborigines.

From Edmonton he goes to Fort McMurray and thence to Fort Chippewayan and down Slave river to Fort Smith. One portage there, and then 1400 miles of uninterrupted water navigation to Fort McPherson, near the mouth of the Mackenzie river, and within the Arctic circle. Other points are visited, and at Fort Resolution is a large Roman Catholic mission, where farming is carried on and good crops raised—crops as good as at Edmonton—800 miles to the south. Good timber is to be found in many of the districts and especially in the foothills, where some of the spruce trees are of enormous size.

Mr. Conroy is proud of the work at the agency at Fort Simpson, nearly 800 miles north of Edmonton.

"Our agent there last year," says Mr. Conroy, "experimented with three varieties of wheat, the yield from which was taken to Edmonton and graded No. 1 hard. He also grew 300 bushel of oats, some of which I brought back with me, and they weighed 35 pounds to the bushel. Rye and barley were also successfully grown. This year, in July, when I was there, the crops looked in fine condition."

That this vast country affords great agricultural possibilities is the firm conviction of Mr. Conroy, and that the idea that it is the "frozen north" and unfit for settlement will soon be dissipated.

GREATEST SOCIAL MOVEMENT OF DAY

Professor of University Believes That Social Centre and Social Service Movement is a Great Advance

Calgary, Sept. 30.—Professor C. F. Ward, who occupies the chair of the modern languages in the Calgary university, has returned to the city. Professor Ward, who is keenly interested in the social centre and social service movement, spent the first part of his four months' vacation in visiting practically all the eastern centres where the movement has taken hold or has in any way taken practical form.

The professor was full of enthusiasm on behalf of the movement.

"I do not hesitate to say," he stated, "from what I saw and heard on my recent journeyings that this social centre idea will prove to be the greatest philanthropic movement of our time. I appreciate that this is making a big statement. When one remembers the strides that have been taken in recent years. And yet all the signs in regard to the movement are indicative of such an achievement. At the Presbyterian general assembly at Toronto last June a special point was made of social service, resulting in the appointment of a council to investigate and forward the movement.

WORKERS OR SHIRKERS

Cows That Do Well and Those Who Do Not

These dairy farmers who are carefully noting the total production of each of their cows for the season are finding some curious differences. For instance, in one Ontario herd the yield of a 9-year-old grade that freshened March 5 was 4,080 pounds of milk up to the end of July; her stable mate also nine years old, that freshened March 12, receiving the same feed and care gave only 2,970 pounds of milk. Over half a ton of milk in that short period indicates a considerable difference in income between the two cows.

In another herd at the same factory between two six-year-olds that calved April 3 and 4, there is a difference of 1400 pounds of milk and 60 pounds of fat up to the end of July. This means between fourteen and fifteen dollars that one cow earned more than the other. Are your cows workers or shirkers? Dairy records alone will provide the means of ascertaining these facts beyond question. Form for weighing milk either daily, or on three days a month, are supplied free by the dairy division, Ottawa. In your letter of application state what you want.

MUNICIPAL POWER PLANT IS DICUSSED

South Vancouver, Sept. 30.—Discussion regarding the possibility of establishing a municipal lighting and industrial power plant took place at a meeting of the board of trade here. Reeve Kerr spoke at some length on the subject, showing in the course of his remarks that other cities were selling electric supply at a rate between 4 and 6 cents per kilowatt hour where the plant was municipally owned.

He pointed to the fact that if South Vancouver was in the happy position of having municipally owned power, it would inevitably draw many manufacturing plants to establish there. He also spoke on the establishing of a municipal gas plant and its advantages to South Vancouver.

MEDICINE HAT SHOWS GREAT DEVELOPMENT

Civic Officials Arranging for Two Million-Dollar Bond Issue for 1914 Program of Extension.

Medicine Hat, Alta., Sept. 30.—Arrangements are now being made by Medicine Hat civic officials for the placing of a bond issue of $2,000,000 on the London market during next January or February. This amount will include an issue of $1,200,000 already authorized, the balance being for municipal capital-expenditures that will be required during 1914 in order to keep up with demands made by the substantial industrial and general municipal growth of this community. By-laws will be prepared by the city council for the amounts not already passed upon by the ratepayers, and submitted to the people at the earliest moment in order that the necessary legal details may be completed without delay and the matter be taken in hand by the city's fiscal agents at once.

The growth of the city has been so steady in almost every direction during this year of tight money conditions, that it has kept the city council busy to meet the reasonable requests of home builders in different sections for the extensions of water, sewer, gas mains, etc. Hundreds of homes have been built this year, and while, for the most part, they have been served with the needed public utilities, owing to the continued industrial expansion of the city, it is a foregone conclusion that 1914 will see even a greater call for further extension of these same utilities. As the city's credit has thus far stood high among purchasers for municipal debentures, it is not anticipated that there will be any serious difficulty in placing the amount required at a satisfactory figure.

BROKE AVIATION RECORDS

San Francisco Man in Great Flight Carried Flying a Step Further.

San Francisco, Sept. 30.—A. G. Sutro of San Francisco, grandson of the late Adolph Sutro, broke four aviation records here yesterday.

Flying through fog banks he carried two passengers four and three-sixteenths miles in three minutes and forty seconds. His greatest speed was seventy-five miles an hour; his average speed for a full lap fifty-one miles an hour. The weight lifted, exclusive of machines, was 900 pounds. Eight hundred feet was his greatest altitude.

The previous record corresponding to Sutro's, was held by T. O. M. Sopwith, who, carrying two passengers, made 3,107 miles in six minutes and fifty-six seconds, an average of thirty-five miles an hour for the full lap and a maximum of 62.13 miles an hour.

The late Phil Pharmlee held the weight lifting record of 458 pounds.

Sutro's cargo included oil, gasoline, additional clothing, scientific instruments and ballast.

The endurance record was tried for, but engine trouble intervened.

The figures were taken officially for the Aero Club of America.

RAIN STOPPED WORK

Fire Rangers Forced to Suspend Destruction of Dangerous Slashing.

Seattle, Sept. 30.—With more than one-half of the timber and logging slashings of the state already burned, rangers of the Washington Forest Fire association and of the state were compelled to cease work by steady rains which fell over the state and soaked the underbrush. Whether any more burnings can be attempted this season is problematical, owing to the damp condition of the forests.

Following the close of the fire season three weeks ago, the rangers and inspectors were set at work preparing for next year, removing as far as possible all dangerous spots where trees had been cut or slashings made near forests. Through diligent work and co-operation on the part of farmers and loggers, these bad places were burned rapidly. The flames were stopped before encroaching on standing timber and next summer there will be no danger of fire starting in these slashings when the dry spell comes on, when it would be impossible to save the big trees. Chief Warden G. C. Joy returned Saturday from the Skykomish country, where a number of big slashings were removed. Because of the large, valuable forests in that vicinity the fire fighters treat it with great caution. Two years ago the most serious conflagration in years originated in that locality.

As soon as weather conditions indicate that no more work can be done this year, the rangers will be drawn off except in one or two places where burning may be attempted later, if dry weather should permit.

FEEDING ENTOMBED MAN THROUGH HOLE

Centralia, Penn., Sept. 30.—A rescuing party seeking to liberate Thomas Loshesky, who was entombed in the Continental mine here last Friday by a fall of coal, hearing signaling to them by tapping on the side of a gangway, the rescuers bored a hole through an upper level to where he was confined and bottles filled with nourishing liquid were lowered to him. Twice rescuing parties have been within a short distance of the entombed miner, only to be driven back by fresh rushes of coal.

FIRE DESTROYS HOME IN SOUTH VANCOUVER

South Vancouver, Sept. 30.—Fire broke out in the home of Mr. Harry Evans of Forty-seventh avenue and Kerr road, between 9 and 10 o'clock on Saturday night, and totally destroyed the building. No one was at home when the fire started and it was too far advanced before discovered for the fire department to be of much assistance when the men from No. 1 hall arrived. The damage is only partly covered by insurance.

FAMOUS CUTTER TO BE HALIBUT BOAT

Rush Precipitated Sealing Controversy Between States and England—Now Largest Halibut Boat.

Seattle, Sept. 30.—Capt. Andrew Welding, veteran Seattle halibut man, has closed negotiations for the purchase of the famous old revenue cutter Rush, which he intends converting into a halibut steamship, from the Alaska Junk company, which acquired the Rush from the government at public auction a year ago for $8500. The purchase price was not made public.

The Rush will be the largest halibut boat in the world. The Rush is 175 feet long and will have a capacity for approximately 400,000 pounds of halibut, according to estimate of her new owner.

Perhaps no other craft in the revenue cutter service on this coast had the varied history of the old Rush. She was built at Port Blakeley in 1885. In 1889 when in command of Capt. L. M. Shepherd, who later became commandant of the revenue cutter service, the Rush caused international controversy by seizing British Columbia sealers in the Aleutian islands.

Out of that controversy grew the agreement between the United States and England to forbid all sealing in the Bering sea, and in 1891, 1892 and 1893 the Rush served on the first Bering sea patrol maintained by the United States to prevent pelagic sealing. During those years the Rush was one of the most active boats in the service and made many sensational captures. As late as 1906 the Rush seized a Japanese pelagic sealer.

When Hawaiian islanders deposed Queen Liluokalani and raised the American flag over the islands, late in 1893, the Rush was chosen to bear President Cleveland's special commissioner, E. P. (Paramount) Blunt, to Honolulu. On Commissioner Blunt's report the United States decided upon a policy of nonintervention.

During the last years of her service the Rush was stationed in southeastern Alaska looking after the interests of the natives and patroling the waters of the inside passage and from Juneau to Kodiak. A wooden hull, the Rush became an almost obsolete type of government craft, and the all-steel revenue cutter Unalga was built to replace her.

She was still a sturdy craft, however, when offered by the government for sale at public auction and the Alaska Junk company was thought to have secured a big bargain at $8500. Wieding is confident she will make a success as a fisherman and anticipates little trouble in converting her from the trim revenue cutter to a fishing craft.

Welding, among halibut men, is almost as well known as the old Rush in the government service. He was connected with the New England Fish company, the first large fish concern on this coast, for nearly four years, entering that company's service in 1893. Then he took command of the old halibut steamboat Rainier, operated by the Chilopeck Fish company.

TEDDY WILL SHOOT IN SOUTH AMERICA

Roosevelt Finds Oyster Bay Too Peaceful—Will Lecture and Hunt in Southern Republics.

New York, Sept. 30.—From about the middle of December to the end of March Col. Theodore Roosevelt will wander in the wilds of South America. Arrangements for this feature of the colonel's South American trip were described today. Little was said about times and places because the colonel himself is not sure just where he will go or when he will emerge into civilized country.

Colonel Roosevelt will sail from New York October 4 and will spend about two months visiting the various cities in Brazil, Argentina, Chile and Paraguay, where he will be the governments' guest and will make several formal addresses. Late in December a little river steamer will leave him and his party of naturalists at Cuyaba, Brazil, the head of navigation on the Paraguay river, where the hardships of the journey will begin.

The colonel's companions will be Anthony Fiala of New York, the Arctic explorer; George K. Cherrie of Indiana, and Lee E. Miller of Nefane, Vt., naturalists connected with the American Museum of Natural History, under whose auspices the expedition will be undertaken. Fiala will look after the equipment of the expedition. Cherrie will have charge of the collection and preparation of the bird specimens and Miller will superintend the collection of mammals. The ex-president will be the party's chief huntsman.

These four, with native Indian bearers, canoemen and servants, will embark at Cuyaba in light draft motorboats and canoes, although canoes alone may have to serve.

It was said today that when Colonel Roosevelt first received invitations to lecture in South America, his first idea was to decline, but that the opportunity to hunt and collect scientific specimens in the wilds of Brazil was too attractive for him to resist. This opportunity was brought to his attention by the Rev. John Augustine Zahm of Washington, Province of the Order of the Holy Cross, a missionary and a scientist who has explored much of the wild country that Roosevelt will enter. Father Zahm has been consulted about the itinerary and equipment of the Roosevelt expedition.

CHARGE WHOLESALE LETTER DESTRUCTION

Former Alaska Convict Held in Seattle—Said to Have Been Aided in Looting Mail Chutes.

Seattle, Sept. 30.—That Henry A. House, the former Alaska convict now under arrest in the city jail in connection with the wholesale stealing of stamps from letters and with destruction of correspondence in downtown business blocks, was not alone in his operations, but that others were implicated with him, was the charge made by Postoffice Inspector Henry B. Temple.

With Superintendent Charles I. Lynch of the postoffice department and other officials, Inspector Temple spent the entire day Sunday working on the case and interviewed many persons this morning who offered additional information.

Inspector Temple refused to make public the extent of his information, but it was known that it included the names of intimate friends of House who had unstamped stamps in their possession, such as the vast quantity obtained from House's apartment and his downtown office in the Pioneer block following his arrest. The government contends these were steamed off letters which had been left in business blocks near mail chutes for collection.

Because of congestion in the district attorney's office, the case against House could not be considered yesterday morning, but it was said a warrant would be asked by Inspector Temple charging House with bringing stolen property into a government building. He will be held on this information, it was asserted, until the government has gone through the mass of letters and documents found in his apartment and office.

Among the different angles which will be followed by the government agents will be a bunch of cafeteria cashier's checks found stowed away in his suitcase for which no explanation has yet been offered, also a large bundle of street car transfers.

Another discovery made by Inspector Temple which he is investigating is a large calendar for the entire current year, dating back to January 1. On each day is a single initial, with figures set opposite noting an amount and totaled at the end of the month. It is thought these initials refer to different business blocks.

ENGLISH EMPLOYERS UNITE

Union Proposed to Back Firms Involved in Strikes—Labor Unions Respond

London, Sept. 30.—The announcement that all the strikes in Great Britain had been settled was followed by much discussion, both among employers and working people, regarding the formation of a United Kingdom Employers' Defense union to consolidate the resources of employers and maintain the right to bargain either with the trade unions or with free workers. Opinion on the subject is not unanimous on either side.

Many of the employers believe the promoters are right in anticipating that the guarantee fund of $250,000,000 will greatly strengthen the position of the employers involved in the strikes. Others, however, doubt the wisdom and usefulness of the proposal. There is a general agreement that the leaders of the movement should make it perfectly clear that they are not undertaking any attack on what is understood by the phrase "legitimate trade unionism." Some of the workers' representatives clearly regarded the formation of the union as a new challenge to organized labor, while others are in favor of the most thorough organization of both employers and employed.

London, Sept. 30.—The gage has been flung down by the labor unions in answer to the employers' proposed fund of $250,000,000 and the formation of the Kingdom's Employers' Defense.

Several prominent labor leaders are planning a new policy, which, eliminating the benevolent feature of the union, will leave all the funds to supply the war chest; in other words, will convert the trade unions into a trade fighting machinery.

The new machine may be extended so as to cover the production by the workmen themselves of the primary necessaries of life without losing sight of the necessity of using to the fullest extent their forces for political execution.

AZORES NEUTRAL ZONE

International Agreement May Be Result of Proposal Under Discussion

London, Sept. 30.—A proposal to make the Azores archipelago an international neutral zone is being considered by the American, British and German governments, according to today's Manchester Guardian. The proposal is said to be incidental to the opening of the Panama canal. The fact that German, American and British companies have a joint cable station on the islands make free access to them of the utmost importance.

"It is proposed," says the Guardian, "that a joint treaty be arranged between Portugal and the other civilized nations by which a neutral international zone shall be established and strictly maintained in the archipelago. It is suggested that all vessels within the zone be protected against attack or seizure and allowed to receive provisions and fuel."

Charged With Stealing Autos

Seattle, Sept. 30.—Following the epidemic of joy riding in stolen automobiles, the police arrested three young men believed to have been responsible for the theft of numerous cars of late. At police headquarters they gave the names of Harry Jones, 18 years old; Roy Rogers, 17 years old, and Ernest Hagmoe. They were suspected of attempting to steal an automobile belonging to R. B. Pinneo. When searched at headquarters the boys were found to possess a variety of auto switch keys. They declined to discuss the charge against them.

TWO CRAZED MULATTOS CAUSED RACE RIOTS

Whites and Blacks Killed and Authors of Trouble Lynched—Military Rushed to Scene.

Harriston, Miss., Sept. 30.—Two drug-crazed mulatto boys, brothers, began a reign of murder here that ended only after three white men, four negro men and a negro woman had been killed, 20 persons, 16 of them negroes, wounded, and the two boys lynched. A serious clash between the races was prevented by the arrival on a special of a company of national guardsmen from Natchez.

The trouble started about 2 o'clock Sunday morning and continued intermittently until 10 o'clock, when Walter Jones, the oldest of the two boys who started the firing, was lynched just after the soldiers arrived. His brother, Will Jones, has been shot and lynched by citizens earlier in the day. No more trouble is feared.

The Natchez guardsmen have returned home. The negro population appears to be as much incensed at the Jones brothers as were the whites.

The shooting was started by Walter Jones, 20 years old, in the negro quarter, where Johanna Aiken, the negress, and Thread Grayson were shot and killed. Walter then went home, aroused his 17-year-old brother, and together they proceeded through the main street of the little town, firing at every one in sight.

The two boys went to the home of former Constable Frank Keinstly and Walter Jones killed him when he responded to their call to come out. Keinstly's son, William, saw his father fall and reached for a gun, but before he could fire he received a bullet in one hand.

The Yazoo & Mississippi Valley depot is near the Keinstly home and the two negroes walked in that direction. A train had arrived from Natchez just a few moments before and Conductor E. B. Appleby was standing at the station talking to Flagman W. C. Bond. Without warning, the two negroes fired on them and both fell. Then the negroes directed their fire at Claude Freeman, who was waiting for a train. He was instantly killed. The negroes then fired into the train, terrorizing the passengers. A sleeping car from Natchez is left every night at Harriston until the through train from Memphis to New Orleans arrives. After the train from Natchez had departed this car was a target for the fire of the two negroes. While many windows were broken, no occupant of the car was hurt.

The two negroes then made their way to a cottonseed house near by, from where they killed Sheriff Hammett and Gillis.

Finding his hiding place too precarious, Will Jones started to run toward a coal chute near by, but had gone only a few steps when a bullet ended his life.

A special train bearing the Natchez guardsmen arrived soon afterwards. While the soldiers were detraining the crowd rushed the seed House.

Not a shot greeted them and when the leaders entered they found Walter Jones completely unnerved but uninjured. He was hanged.

The crowd then went to the home of the Jones negro where they found two negro men, whom they were about to lynch, when officers persuaded them to desist.

STOLEN PAY CHEQUES CASHED IN VANCOUVER

Accused of rifling the safe of the Polson Vanderhoof Lumber company a Polson-Vanderhoof Lumber company, at Acme, this state, and making off with pay cheques valued at $800, a number of which he is charged with having cashed in Bellingham, Vancouver, B. C., and Seattle, W. N. Adair was arrested at the Coleman dock yesterday morning by City Detective Ralph Jones on a telegraphic warrant from Bellingham. Deputy Sheriff Emory Hess, of Bellingham, started north with his prisoner this afternoon. Adair refused to give his name at police headquarters when booked, saying "John Doe" was good enough for him.

MONTANA CITY WAS DESTROYED BY FLAMES

Butte, Mont., Sept. 30.—Fire that started in the store of the Clinton Mercantile company destroyed the principal blocks of Whitehall, forty-five miles east of Butte, causing a loss estimated at $40,000.

The volunteer firemen of the town were handicapped by inadequate water supply. A frame building next to the White House, the leading hotel, was blown up and the course of the fire stopped at that point.

THIEF LEFT DRILL AND STOLE ONLY SMALL SUM

South Vancouver, Sept. 30.—Drilling a hole through the lock of the back door of the grocery store belonging to F. Wilbee, corner of Forty-seventh avenue and Fraser, a thief entered the store on Saturday night and secured 75 cents from the cash drawer. Nothing else was touched. The drill, which was left on the floor, may prove a clue to the identity of the thief.

CASTOR HAS NATURAL GAS IN ABUNDANCE

Alberta Turns Out With Band to Celebrate Success of Great Municipal Enterprise.

Castor, Alta., Sept. 30.—A demonstration of natural gas was given before practically the whole Castor population who assembled accompanied by the town band to witness the first definite evidence that the gas well is a complete success.

For many weeks there has been much anxiety on the part of the town fathers in particular and of the citizens in general as to whether the gas well would be a success as a result of striking water at the 1400-foot level 30 feet below the last flow of gas, which registered according to a test made at that time by a siphon pressure mercury gauge 600,000 feet per 24 hours. Since that time, however, until this week, owing to the difficulty in shutting off the water the doubting Thomases have held the field.

A temporary capping of the well was undertaken during fair week when the grounds were illuminated by the local gas, but it was not until this week that the permanent capping of the well had been accomplished with the result that the well was safely capped and after 18 hours registered a pressure of 262½ pounds to the square inch. The cap was removed to stop up leaks in the pipe and the escaping gas was heard all over town. The well was recapped and in eight hours registered a pressure of 270 pounds to the square inch. This is greatly in excess of the Vegreville gas well, which after 24 hours only registered 167 pounds to the square inch.

As near as can be ascertained Castor has, after an eight-hour test, equal to 600,000 feet of gas, which is expected to materially increase during the next few hours, and according to the statement of the men who have bored the well, Castor has at the present moment a stronger well and a larger supply of gas than any known well in northern Alberta.

This information was contained in a wireless despatch received here from Captain Boldt, of the Arcadia.

MORE JAPANESE SHIPS

Japan One Great Workshop, Says Nagashima—Needs More Raw Material.

San Francisco, Sept. 30.—Because of the rapidly increasing trade between the United States and Japan, a shortage of transpacific vessels is expected by Y. Nagashima, manager of the Mitsui company of this city, who has just returned from the Orient.

"Japan will become the greatest purchaser of cotton and other raw materials in the world," said Nagashima. "Last year 370,000 bales were shipped there and this year the shipments will reach 400,000 bales. The development of China and Manchuria is being taken advantage of by Japan, and an era of industrial activity without parallel in that country has been started.

"The empire is one great workshop. Labor is plentiful, but raw material is scarce. It will not be many years before Japan will be the United States' biggest purchaser of cotton.

"Owing to the scarcity of coal on the Pacific coast Japan will ship scores of cargoes of coal here in the near future. This will avert a coal famine this winter."

ROCKED THE BOAT

Tacoma Fatality Due to Same Old Foolish Joke—B. C. Boy Had Close Call

Tacoma, Sept. 30.—McCord McDonough, thirteen years old, a student at De Koven Hall, who ran away from the institution with Charles McGregor, fifteen years old, of Victoria, B. C., also a student, and went canoeing on American lake, rocked the frail craft and was drowned when it capsized. The screams of the boys in the water brought assistance from the shore, Harold Balabanoff, Mildred Maberly and Genevieve Bemis, all of Tacoma, were attracted by the dispairing cries and the two boys splashing in the lake jumping into a boat, Balabanoff and the two young women went to the rescue. Before the three had the boat in the water McDonough was seen to throw up his hands and sink from sight. Young McGregor was crying hysterically when the party from the shore arrived and begged Balabanoff to attempt the rescue of his companion before bothering with him. The lad was pulled from the capsized canoe and hastily brought to shore.

FISHERMEN CAUGHT BY HUGE WALL OF WATER

Hoquiam, Sept. 30.—Edward H. Sear street commissioner of Aberdeen; Harvey Kidd, of the Aberdeen fire department, and George McLean, a young man of Aberdeen, probably were drowned in the Humptulips river, north of this city, when caught in a logging "splash" while fishing.

Two companions on the fishing trip, Ernest Lindstrom, Aberdeen water superintendent, and Charles Ingram, after an eight hours' search, reported by telephone the disappearance of the three men and asked that a searching party be sent out.

The Big Creek Lumber company, which is logging about fifteen miles further up the Humptulips river, "splashes" the stream each Sunday, and some time after the time for the fishermen to return to their auto the splash reached that point in the river. Splashing a stream is a method in use by Gray harbor loggers in getting logs down several streams to tide-water. It is done by means of a big dam, the water being released when a large enough head is stored, and the flood carries the logs down. In the splash in the Humptulips river, a wall of water about four feet in height sweeps down the channel with the speed of a racehorse. During the last few years several unwary fishermen on the Humptulips have been caught by a splash and drowned, and there appears little hope that the three Aberdeen men have escaped.

PANIC STRICKEN PASSENGERS SAVED

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Sept. 30.—Three hundred passengers of the steamboat Mohawk of the Manhattan Navigation company were transferred from the vessel after she had gone hard aground on an embankment off Hyde park, seven miles north of here. In the panic which followed the grounding several passengers were hurt. The accident was due to a break in the steering gear.

scheme of better and more roads in British Columbia, with a hint of more financial assistance if the projects appear feasible to the government.

Marshall Fred Lynch performed the difficult task of keeping the cars in line and his work was greatly assisted by those in the parade, which once started, gave no trouble whatever. Alderman Lynch was in the van throughout the whole parade, the auto of Fire Chief Watson being used for the occasion.

Starting from the Vancouver hotel at exactly 10.20 o'clock, with Chief Watson and Alderman Fred J. Lynch in the lead, the procession wended itself along Broadway to the intersection of Main street and Westminster road, where Mayor Baxter, of Vancouver, was introduced to the concourse by Chairman Fau-Vel of Burnaby.

Changes Name of Road

With a few remarks, Mayor Baxter officially changed the name of Westminster road to Kingsway, declaring that it was fitting that such a highway should have one name reaching from Vancouver to New Westminster. Three cheers greeted the ceremony, and thence the procession travelled through South Vancouver until Central Park was reached, this being the boundary line between Burnaby and South Vancouver.

Here was erected a raised dais, where accommodation was found for the government officials, reeves and mayors of the various cities and municipalities, together with councillors and aldermen and representatives of various public bodies.

Hundreds of people had gathered, which number was swelled by several hundred passengers in the autos.

On the Burnaby side of the street was Chief Parkinson with a detachment of mounted police and foot patrolmen, while Chief Jackson had practically his entire force out in uniform to enliven the proceedings.

In Burnaby

The marshall, Alderman Lynch here introduced Chairman Fau-Vel and the speechmaking was on .

Councillor Fau-Vel, big and portly, just about filled the bill as chairman of such an auspicious occasion. With a few brief remarks he greeted, on behalf of Burnaby and South Vancouver, the different public bodies who had assembled there that day. It was the connecting line between the cities of New Westminster and Vancouver and as such was the first spike in the Greater Vancouver idea.

Reeve Kerr, of South Vancouver, was the first speaker and dwelt for a time on the handsome way in which the provincial government had come to the aid of the two municipalities. The highway formed the link between two of the greatest cities in the Canadian west, and also joined together the two greatest municipalities in the Canadian west.

Reeve D. C. McGregor injected a little Scotch humor into his address which was short and to the point. The reeve of Burnaby was strong on the Greater Vancouver idea and gave great praise to Hon. Thomas Taylor, minister of public works for the province, who was indirectly responsible for the two municipalities getting the aid they had received.

Historical Day

"This is a day of history in the lower mainland, and shows a spirit of character wonderful to relate," said Reeve McGregor.

The building of the road illustrated just what could be done with co-operation, was pointed out by Mayor Baxter, the next speaker. The two leading cities had worked hand in hand with the two municipalities and the end was by no means in sight.

Mayor Gray

Mayor Gray was equally brief in his speech, stating what a pleasure it was to him, representing the Royal City, to join with Burnaby and South Vancouver and Vancouver in linking up the highway. From all appearances it was a road which would stand all questioning as being the finest in Canada. He bid them a hearty welcome to New Westminster.

Ex-Reeve Weart, under whose regime as chief executive of Burnaby the scheme for financing the cost of constructing the highway was first broached, made a forceful speech that was punctuated with applause from the crowd.

He had been a resident along the highway for the past seventeen years and it had been a dream for him to see such a roadway completed on the lower mainland. Such a construction scheme, said Mr. Weart, was an example for the municipalities to follow out in other directions and quit the cut-throat methods of duplicating work, which was costing thousands of dollars every year.

Mr. Weart's Prophetic Eye

He hoped and expected to see the day, and not a far distant one at that, when the whole of the lower mainland would be under the control of one board of commission, when engineering projects could be carried on with little fear of overlapping on the different municipalities.

Mr. Weart touched on the speed limit in force in Burnaby, declaring that twenty-five miles was a safe speed, in fact a motorist could make forty miles an hour in the daytime, but the danger lay in the night drivers. He hoped that those who endanger the lives of residents by reckless driving of motor vehicles would get the limit of the law from the powers that be. Reeve Weart's suggestion was heartily concurred in by the motorists present.

Following brief remarks from Reeve Churchill of Point Grey, Reeve Bridge of Richmond, and J. J. Miller, president of the Vancouver Exhibition association, the speaker of the day, the official representative of the provincial government, and one who was due to officially open the road for traffic, was introduced—Hon. Thomas Taylor, minister of public works.

Hon. Thomas Taylor

"Good Roads" Taylor was heralded by the singing of "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

The provincial minister, first mentioning the progressive spirit of Burnaby and South Vancouver citizens in going ahead with such an undertaking, spoke of the fact that, as he remembered it, it was the Vancouver and New Westminster auto clubs that first took up the question of agitating for such a highway. Roadmaking had considerably altered during the past two years, more especially during the last year, when the provincial government came to the conclusion that macadamized roads consumed too much money in up-keep. The paved road they expected would more than offset this yearly grant made by the government and also provide excellent facilities for travel.

More Roads

Mr. Taylor mentioned that it was the scheme of the municipalities on the lower mainland to complete a circuit of paved highway from Vancouver to New Westminster via Kingsway and returning by the river road through Point Grey. They had seen fit to assist in the financing of Kingsway and he hoped in the near future to be able to announce government assistance for the river road.

The government is spending the immense amount of ten million dollars on highways, which, considering the population of the province, 400,000 by the last census, was quite a figure for British Columbia.

Mr. Taylor said he hoped before another year had passed to see the federal government come to the assistance of the trunk roads in the province, especially those connecting a national highway. The coast to coast highway was well on the way to fruition and British Columbia, by reason of the mountainous portion in the Rockies, had every right to share a portion and a large portion of the money to be set aside for highways by the Dominion house.

Kingsway Opened

At Central Park scores of autos had joined the already long procession, which made a rapid trip through Burnaby until the intersection of Tenth avenue and Kingsway was reached, where Mayor Grey, on behalf of the City of New Westminster changed the name of Twelfth street to Kingsway, thus completing the change of nomenclature reaching from Vancouver to New Westminster.

At one o'clock Chief Watson's auto reached the park gates and the longest and greatest auto parade ever known in western Canada was ended together with the official opening of the finest paved highway in the Dominion.

Clapped Their Hands.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 30.—More than 200 members representing interests of the New Egland and Southern states and their guests from many parts of the world applauded the stand taken by Edwin Farnham Greene, the president of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers, in his address relating to the tariff at the opening session of the semi-annual convention of the association here tonight.

SPAIN ALSO AFFECTED BY BIG FLOODS

Madrid, Sept. 30.—Torrential rains are falling throughout Spain. Great damage to crops and property is reported; railroad and telegraph lines have been destroyed, rendering communication difficult; urgent appeals for aid have reached the ministry of the interior from many inundated villages and towns. At Darcelens the flood carried awaya a carriage with two children, who perished.

BAR INTERPRETER FROM COURT

Yesterday's evidence in the Dean trial at the assize court, for the Bank of Montreal robbery was wholly ad duced by bank officials.

An incident in the proceedings was the exclusion from court of the Chinese interpreter.

Mr. Phipps resumed the witness stand and related the Chinaman's story of his encounter with the robbery, the remuneration of the Pinkerton detectives and other details. The other officials were examined principally upon the bank's system and business methods in regard to the despatch and receipt of notes between the head office and branches.

A. H. Macneil, K.C., assisted by Mr. Davis, K. C., represented the crown and Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper and Adam S. Johnston appeared for Dean.

Sir Charles, before Mr. Phipps again took the witness stand, brought up the question of his being allowed to examine in a preliminary inquiry the two new witnesses, Burman and Armitage, sprung upon him, as he alleged, yesterday. He said it was in the nature of an examination for discovery and he wanted two hours in the afternoon to meet the difficulties he had mentioned in conducting the trial. After seeing those men the defence desired to follow up any thread or clue that the examination might suggest, otherwise the mere fact of asking what they knew would not be of any great advantage to them in enabling them to test or devising means of testing the truth of their statements. By following up their inquiry they could be ready when these men come on to the witness box without throwing themselves upon the discretion of the court for further delay. It would save time.

The Court—Suppose we adjourn at half past three.

Mr. Macneil pointed out that the defence had been supplied with a statement in writing of the nature of their evidence and had got their names and addresses.

Sir Charles—My learned friend assured me I could see these witnesses.

Enforce Order.

Another matter Sir Charles brought before the court had reference to the order excluding all witnesses from court previous to their examination. He said it was a matter of great importance to have the order rigidly enforced. He had been credibly informed that the Chinese interpreter remained in court during the hearing of Mr. Phipps' testimony, and as soon as he had finished his examination of the witness in regard to the inspection of the Chinese janitor's wrists the interpreter left the room and was seen in an apparently animated conversation with this witness. If the interpreter were to remain in the court room and then convey the evidence to this Chinese witness it made the exclusion of witnesses a farce.

The court emphaticaly agreed.

Mr. Macneil said most of the evidence had been given in the Macnamara trial; there was nothing new in it.

The Court—The interpreter is certainly not to be allowed to remain in the court room and then permitted to give the purport of the evidence to witnesses.

Sir Charles—Mr. Johnston is my authority as to having seen them in conversation.

The Court—They might be talking quite innocently, but nobody knows.

Sir Charles—It happened just at the time the examination regarding the Chinese janitor was going on.

Mr. Davis—Is there anyone else you want to go out, Sir Charles, and we will have him excluded. You knew the interpreter was in court.

Sir Charles—No, I did not.

Mr. Davis—You heard the sheriff call out Charlie?

Sir Charles—Charlie is my name. (Laughter.) Orders were then given that the interpreter should be excluded.

Cross Examination.

W. H. G. Phipps was recalled and his cross examination continued. He said that no attention was paid to the size of the hole at the time. Only a small man could go through. There were a number of tools found in the bank. The Chinaman showed him the chair as the one in which he had been bound. Witness did not examine the Chinaman's trousers or clothes.

Sir Charles—You took everything he said for gospel truth?

Witness—Yes.

Sir Charles—It was a long time after the robbery before the prisoner was arrested.

Witness—Yes, some time.

Sir Charles—So long that you complained to the Pinkertons that they were not accomplishing anything.

Witness—Yes.

Sir Charles—You asked them to hurry up and get the matter cleared up or words to that effect.

Witness—Yes.

Sir Charles—You asked them if they had any trace and they answered yes they were working on such and such a thing.

Witness—Yes.

Sir Charles—The bank was concerned in the matter of the insurance.

Witness—I have the policy here.

The policy was produced.

Sir Charles—You were under the impression at the trial of Macnamara that it was very essention in connection with your insurance to convict some one.

Witness—No. I never said that.

Sir Charles—Was that your impression?

Witness—I believed we had recovered under that policy—I think I informed you before the trial commenced.

Sir Charles—It was not necessary to secure any conviction?

Witness—Not that I know of.

Sir Charles—When did you examine the lock of the bank doors?

Witness—I won't say definitely. Shortly after I got down.

Sir Charles—To see if the lock had been tampered with?

Witness—I found it in perfect order.

Sir Charles—You know that before and after the robbery the door of the bank has been left open.

Witness—I believe so.

Sir Charles—So far as you know the door might have been left open that night?

Witness—I don't know.

Sir Charles—This story of the Chinaman being bound to the chair and gagged, in whose presence did he tell you that story.

Witness—Chief Bradshaw, Mr. Brymner and myself.

Sir Charles—Did you understand him quite well.

Witness—Yes. He has been with us for years and I never had any trouble to make him understand.

Sir Charles—He gave a full account of what occurred?

Witness—Yes. I can't tell exactly the hour or whether it was before or after the money was found. The conversation took place in the vault. He described it on the chair. I won't be positive Mr. Brymner was present, but I think he was.

Sir Charles—As a matter of fact you don't know exactly where the Chinaman began his explanation of what he knew of the robbery.

Witness—No.

Sir Charles—Do you remember exactly what he told?

Witness—Not word for word.

Sir Charles—That would be unreasonable. Practically.

Witness—Yes, practically.

Sir Charles—He did not volunteer the explanation. You elicited it from him by questions?

Witness—Yes. Mr. Byrmner may have put some questions and I may have put some. I don't remember making any suggestions to him.

Sir Charles—Give it to us as nearly as you can.

Witness—He described seeing a policeman standing across the street opposition the bank, how he (the Chinaman) came to the door of the bank. As he came through the vestibule he was seized and pushed down on the floor, gagged, and taken down to the vault and tied to the chair.

Further evidence, in the main similar to that given before at the trial of Macnamara was given. Bank officials told of the various system in use.

Later in the day court was adjourned until 10:30 this morning.

BRANCH RAILWAYS FOR FARMERS

Premier Sifton to Consider Laying of Spur Line from Main Roads of Province.

Edmonton, Sept. 30.—Premier Sifton stated today in answer to a unique deputatioon, consisting of 70 farmers from Blindman Valley district, that the government would seriously consider the matter of assisting in building light railways to connect up well settled districts removed some considerable distance from the main line of the railway.

The premier said that people who came into Alberta were of such an adventurous disposition that they would go a long distance away from the railway in order to get the kind of country that they desired, a fact which made the problem of settlement and railway extention very much more difficult.

TRANSACTIONS FOR MRS. SULZER

Evidence at Yesterday's Trial Show Dealings of Stock Exchange—Brokers Testify.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 30.—Evidence that Governor Sulzer's stock transactions with the New York brokerage firm of Harris & Fuller were for the account of Mrs. Sulzer was disclosed today at the trial of his impeachment. The articles of impeachment charge that the governor made use of some of his unreported campaign contributions in some of these transactions.

Melville B. Fuller, head of the firm, said that the governor had told him that Mrs. Sulzer had a loan with the now defunct Carnegie Trust Company of New York, and that in order to take up th e loan for which Sulzer had given his note he had deposited securities belonging to Mrs. Sulzer with Harris & Fuller, and borrowed money thereupon to pay the note.

The governor's account with Harris & Fuller, which the impeachment charge was a marginal or speculative account, not a loan account, was opened in 1910, according to the books of the firm which Fuller presented today. The Carnegie Trust company, it was recalled tonight, was in financial dificulties that year and subsequently it failed.

SALMON BELLIES WIN EASILY FROM V. A. C.

Like the Fair They Were Bigger and Better Than Ever—Nine to One Was the Score.

The Minto cup is going to stay right here. That much is certain after yesterday afternoon's display of the national game between the Vancouver A. C. and the Salmon Bellies, which ended in the latter piling up a total of nine goals to a lone one scored by the challengers.

Although one-sided as the score may read, the weather conditions and the uphill battle fought by the youngsters from the Terminal City, made the game fairly interesting to the spectators, perhaps taking into consideration the fact that lacrosse has been dead for several weeks caused by the demise of the B. C. L. A.

From a critical standpoint, however the V. A. C. have to play many more years together before they can ever hope to equal the speed and team work of the famous Minto cuppers. What the old veterans showed in the way of losing their rapid footwork they more than made up for in the matter of quick snappy pass work, always a feature with New Westminster, but rarely displayed to better advantage than yesterday.

Cops the Cream.

Of the individual honors of the day a non-partizan critic would credit Davy Gibbons with the cream, for never in his experience with either Con Jones' aggregation or the Torontos last season did the custodian show up more clearly. Bun Clark was also at his best, but he had so little work to perform that the little Fergus player could not display his prowess as of yore.

Three in a Row.

Of the Westminster team it was a toss up between Cliff Spring, Pat Feeney and Bill Turnbull. Spring was spectacular, Bill Turnbull was there time and again with those copywrited hook shots, while the veteran Feeney surprised everybody with his work of feeding the home. Pat only broke into the score sheet but once, although more than half the Westminster goals were taken from passes from the stick of Feeney.

Although larger crowds have been seen at Minto cup games there was a fair attendance yesterday afternoon when the opposing teams trotted out on the sward. All the old timers were congregated around the club house, Dad Turnbull, Bob Cheyne, Mayor Gray and several of the former Salmon Bellies being noticed chatting around, Frank Patrick, Matt Barr and Charlie Young, of Vancouver, mixing with the bunch, which reminded many of the days when Con Jones was wont to bring his aggregation over to Queens park, invariably for a licking.

Can't Lose It.

Dressed in his ministerial regalia, Rev. J. S. Henderson excited the curiosity of the fans by his old time enthusiasm, the former minister of St. Andrew's and incidentally former president of the Westminster Lacrosse club, giving an exhibition of how New Westminster citizens enthused during those days when the Minto cup was first brought back from the east.

At one period of play the reverend minister got so disgusted with several faulty passes made by the Royals that he sent a C. Q. D. call to Tim Mahony for a megaphone.

Like a Dutch Uncle.

A few minutes after 3 o'clock President J. R. Agar, of the Westminster club Mayor Gray and Referee Lynch escorted Hon. Price Ellison, minister of agriculture, to the centre of the field where, following a brief address to the players as to how sport should be kept clean and free from disorder, the provincial minister faced off the ball. The game was on.

First Quarter.

Vancouver secured the draw and gave Clark trouble on two occasions George Rennie relieving both times. Cliff Spring tested Gibbons, who made a faulty recovery, but the effort availed nothing.

Following another run down the field by Vancouver, Hugh Gifford made a run which was followed by the first goal of the game secured by Pat Feeney. 4.44 was the time.

Immediately following the face-off Bill Turnbull tried one of his hook shots which missed by inches.

Cliff Spring and brother Grumpy were both well placed, but again the shooting was wild.

Bun Clark was up to his old tricks when Peacock nigh went through, Bun making a brilliant save.

The first penalty of the game was handed out late in the first session when Charlie Donihue was sent off for holding. Vancouver became dangerous once more, Crookall missing the pass by inches.

Johnny Howard joined Donihue on the bench after he had twined Davis around his stick.

Second Quarter.

Vancouver again got the draw, but lost it. Feeney gave a wild pass, but the return run came to naught, Buck Marshall intercepting. Feeney made good this time, causing Bill Turnbull to use his height to advantage in notching the second goal.

Bill and R. Murray caught the eye of Referee Lynch a minute both going off for five minutes.

Crookall hit the post with a fast shot, the checking of the Vancouver having improved on both divisions. The crowd held its breath when Grumpy Spring took a pot over his opponent's head, Gibbons pulling off a fine save.

The really classy work of the game so far was engineered by the Royals towards the end of the quarter, when after some lightning pass work Pat Feeney slipped the rubber to Doughy Spring, who shot a beautiful goal at a difficult angle. The applause from the crowd was well deserved.

End to end play followed, the crowd getting a laugh when Bill Turnbull missed an open goal with a hook shot. The long fellow had consolation from the fact that about six V. A. C. players were hanging on his neck.

Third Quarter.

A change was made in the V. A. C. line-up when the teams took the field in the third quarter, Punch Burns going on the defence in place of Davis, who retired with a strained shoulder.

Pat Feeney opened the firing by hitting Gibbons on the chest with the rubber followed by one of the same brand by Gordon Spring. Both bore earmarks of tallies.

For some unaccountable reason none of the Vancouver shots had any sting to them, with perhaps two or three exceptions, while those which Gibbons navigated had everything that counts for goals. Gibbons was by far the best man on the field for the green shirts and showed his old cunning as he displayed when with Con Jones aggregation.

Doughy Spring broke in the limelight again after ten minutes of play, beating the custodian with one of his familiar side wheelers. That made four goals to Vancouver's nil. Clark had only four shots to stop in this period, and drew attention from the crowd by reason of his alertness. Taken on the whole the third quarter was the most listless of the three.

Fourth Quarter.

The challengers showed signs of making a valiant attempt to penetrate the Westminster goal from the face-off and after a run up the field McLaren scored the first goal for the Vancouvers.

Westminster fans naturally expected the Minto cuppers to forge ahead, and it only required a little over a minute before Cliff Spring sent through a lightning shot, the effort of the day. Nine seconds and Doughy was there again, beating Gibbons every way.

The Vancouver goaltender had a hard time of it for the next five minutes, Pat Feeney, George Rennie and Cliff Spring sending in difficult shots to handle.

Four more shots were sent in the net before time was called in quick fashion, H. Gifford and Bill Turnbull adding to the quota, the latter securing the pass like clockwork.

SHOTS AT GOAL.

Fred Lynch when weighed on the P. Burns scales immediately following the game, was found to have lost just five pounds. Fred never worked harder in his life, being kept on the run all the time.

In the last quarter, Vancouver call-upon Bun Clark just three times, one finding the net. Of Westminster's thirteen shots in the same period, five found the billet.

That long shot by Doughy Spring fairly sizzled and made Joe Mahoney duck his head.

The crowd gave a real cheer when McLaren scored the lone goal for the V. A. C.'s. It was followed by repeated real cheers when the Royals started on a rampage in the last quarter.

The third quarter was so slow that the sport writers were busy watching the Curzon sisters go through the flying butterfly stunt when Cliff Spring scored the lone goal.

Those eastern games must be pretty punk if the word of a Toronto fan is worth anything. This fellow went real crazy throughout the game, declaring that yesterday's contest had it over anything pulled off at Scarboro Beach or on the island.

JOHNNY HOWARD SICK.

Johnny Howard, the star point man on the Salmon Bellies lacrosse team, might be an absentee from the ranks on Saturday in the second Minto cup game. Johnny was taken sick last evening and was forced to take to his bed. It is believed that a stiff prod in the stomach from one of the Vancouver players yesterday afternoon caused the illness.

WON AT EVERETT

Local Golfers Double Score in Match on Week-end—Women Players Badly Beaten.

Members of the Vancouver golf and country club haven't forgotten their public school 'rithmetic; at least so it seems, for when they went to Everett, Wash., and played the club there they didn't take any more or any fewer points than just to exactly double the score:

Here are the details of the sum:

Everett—		Vancouver—
Fielfield	0	McAllister	3
Wentworth	0	Gardner	3
Swalwell	0	A. Stewart	3
Agnew	1	Brooks	2
Crosby	1	Milne	2
Mooney	0	McAdam	3
Pendleton	3	McLaughlin	0
McCasney	3	Middleton	0
Total	8	Total	16

The women members who played with Everett were badly beaten, and harrowing details are omitted.

All who made the trip were most hospitably entertained.

NOW IT'S SOCCER

Big Sporting Event at Fair Today Is Game Between Port Coquitlam and City.

The premier event in the sports program at the fair this afternoon is the soccer game between New Westminster and Port Coquitlam teams. Handsome prizes have been hung up by the exhibition people, but these are a mere flea bite in the rivalry existing between the two aggregations.

Manager Grant, of the Royals, reported every player in fine shape for today's game and fully expects to see his boys romp away with the game, although the Port City eleven are at present heading the Senior Amateur league of Vancouver.

Together with the free attractions in front of the grand stand, the soccer game should be an attraction worthy of the support of hundreds of fans on the lower mainland, no extra fee being charged for admission either in the grand stand or the bleachers.

Tim Mahony will handle the game, which starts at 3:30 o'clock sharp.

BARBARY COAST HISTORY NOW

Police Enforce Rule of No Liquor in Notorious Resorts—Lemonade Sold and No Dances Held.

San Francisco, Sept. 30.—The farfamed Barbary Coast ceased to exist at midnight tonight, through the recent ruling of the police commission that no liquor be sold in dancing resorts, beginning October 1. Tamed and subdued, but not crushed, proprietors did not turn out the bright lights.

Grape juice and soft drinks took the place of liquor in the one final attempt to prevent the passing altogether of the famous night life which has existed here since pioneer days. Although none of the resorts closed its doors, it is believed it will be impossible for any of them to stay open and make the business pay on the soft drink basis.

No women were allowed in the places and no dances were attempted.

ROBBERS CLEAN UP DAWSON GOLD DUST

Hydraulic Works in Yukon Held Up and Gravel Taken From Sluices on Clean-up Day

Dawson, Y. T., Sept. 30.—Twenty thousand dollars worth of gold dust was stolen from the Levett Hill hydraulic company's works near Dawson late last night when two masked men held up the men on the night shift and at the point of the gun gagged and bound them.

They then removed the gravel from the riffles. Four sacks comprising gravel with gold were taken. The company planned a clean-up there today, but the robbers got the big share of the total for the Hill's operations.

It is believed that five men are implicated, although only two men did the actual hold-up.

Fred Bowers and Milford Halliday were in charge of the work at the time, and the day crew was asleep in the bunkhouse two hundred feet distant.

While the robbers got the plunder all right still it is believed that they will be captured soon.

VANCOUVER SHOULD COMPLETE WITH B. C. E. R.

Vancouver, Sept. 30.—The city should compete with the B. C. Electric company both in transportation and lighting. Such is the opinion of the Central Ratepayers' association, and at their meeting at the city hall they adopted a resolution calling for an amendment to the city charter allowing of the competition. "We must fight for the control of our public utilities," said Mr. Miller in introducing the resolution, "and only when the city enters into competition with the company will the people of Vancouver be sure of anything like fair treatment."

PREMIER NEEDED HIS STOVEPIPE HAT

Paris, Sept. 30.—An express train leaving Madrid the other day in which Count Romanones, the Spanish premier, had taken a reserved saloon, was three-quarters of an hour late in starting. Indignant passengers made fruitless demands to the stationmaster that the train should leave at once. The official replied that he was unable to order the departure of the train, for a reason that he would not state.

Eventually a breathless messenger arrived from the premier's house carrying a cardboard box which, to the obvious relief of Count Romanones, was installed in the reserved saloon.

The stationmaster then explained to the passengers that the premier had forgotten his top hat and had refused to allow the train to start withohut it.

ACTION NOT WARRANTED

Smolenski Will Not Be Brought Back to Canada.

Calgary, Sept. 30.—Police Chief Cuddy is the authority for the statement that it is not at all likely that Charles Smolenski, the swindling Jewish school teacher, who victimized several Hebrew citizens before taking a flying trip to the United States on Saturday, will be brought back to Calgary to stand trial for his offences. "There would likely be some trouble in extraditing Smolenski even if he were caught," said the chief. "He might fight extradition, and although there is a possible chance that he might be beaten if he opposed being escorted to Calgary by the police, at the same time the nature of his offences apparently does not warrant action by the attorney-general's department."

AMERICANS CROSSED BORDER

Mexicans Claim That Cavalrymen Fired at Them After Crossing Line.

El Paso, Texas, Sept. 30.—That ten United States cavalrymen of troop H second cavalry, crossed into Mexico last Saturday and began shooting at three Mexican woodcutters, is the version of the international shooting incident near San Elizario, which has been given out by the federal officials of Juarez. To prove their assertions, Colonel Juan N. Vasquez, military commander of Juarez, showed a hat which one of the United States soldiers is alleged to have lost when the three woodcutters returned the rifle fire of the American soldiers and forced them to retreat. It is alleged to the American side of the international boundary line. In one report of the affair received by federal officials of Juarez, it was said three Mexican federals, assisted the woodcutters in driving the American soldiers off after the shooting began.

GOVERNMENT WIRELESS ALMOST READY

Ottawa, Sept. 29.—The government system of wireless telegraphy between Lepas and Port Nelson will be in operation by Christmas, according to the present plans. The apparatus will have the longest range of any in Canada, and it is designed to enable the department to keep in close touch with the Hudson's Bay railway work. A staff of 250 men will remain at Nelson all winter to go ahead with the terminal operations.

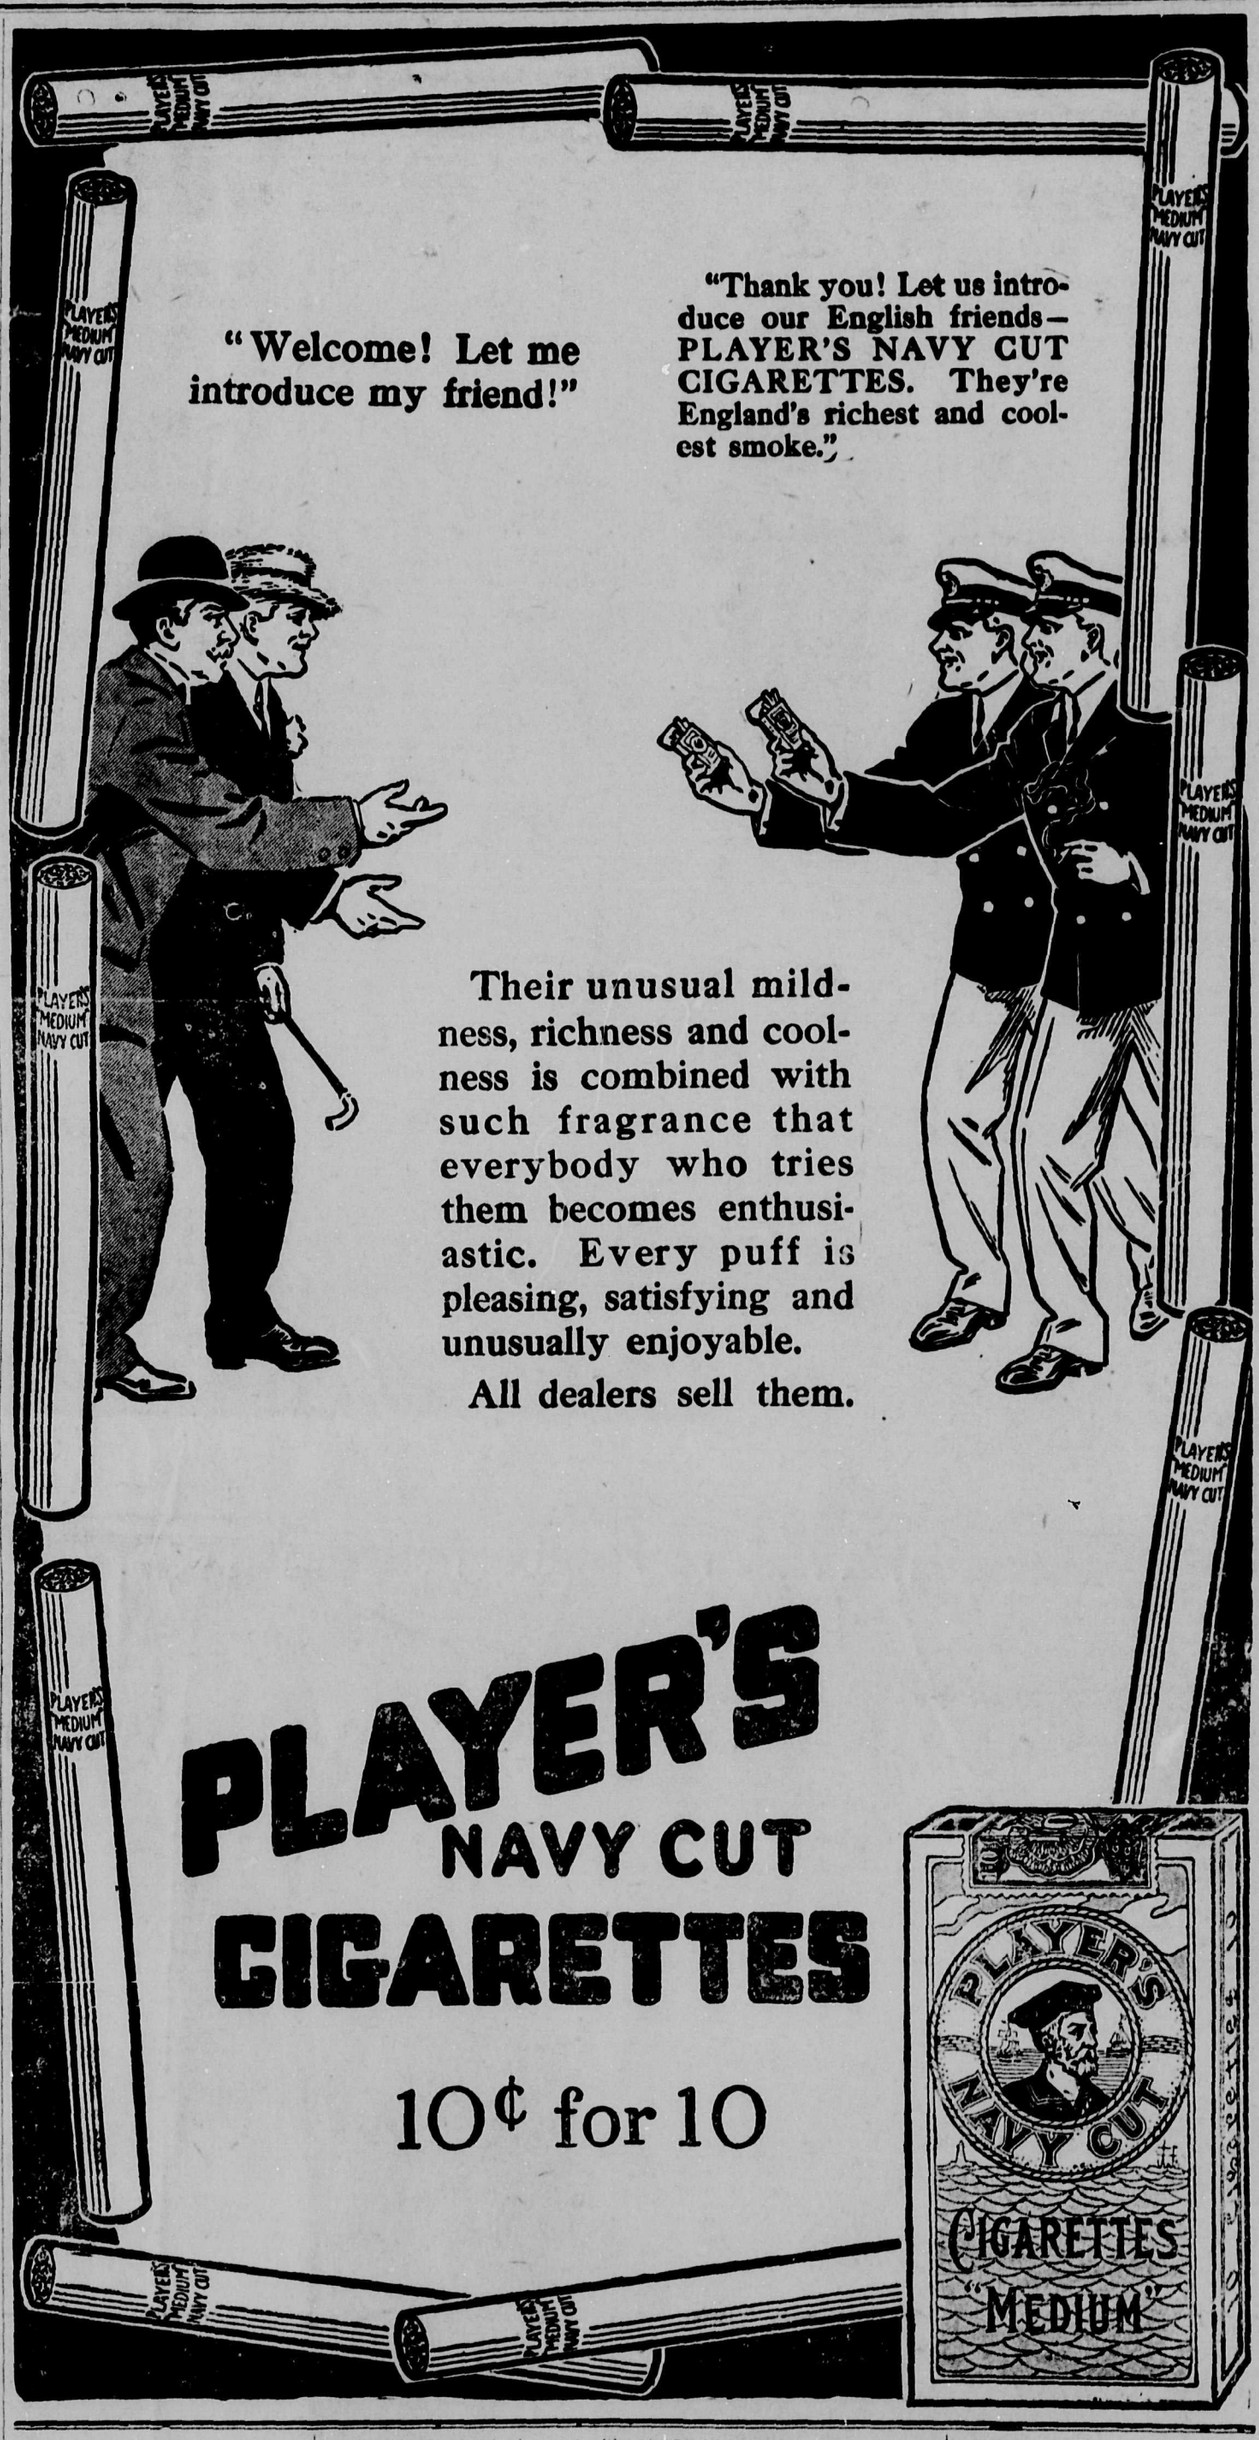
ALBANIANS CAPTURE JAKOVA AFTER HARD FIGHT

Vienna, Sept. 29.—According to reports received here the Albanians captured Jakova only after heavy fighting. Prisrend, a few miles to the south, is surrounded by the Albanians and its fall is expected hourly. The Servian garrison consists of 6,000 men.

News from Alona on the Adriatic sea states that the Albanians have captured Orchidria after a fierce engagement.

Anglicans Meet.

Saskatoon, Sask., Sept. 29.—Twenty-four Anglican bishops will be spending next week in Saskatoon during the sessions of the board of management of the M. S. S. C. on October 9 and 10, preceded by a meeting of the Sunday school commission on October 7 and 8.



FOLLOWING CLUES TO THE PACIFIC COAST

Head of New York Detective Agency in Canada on Big Case—Broken Friends Now Prosperous.

Calgary, Sept. 30.—"There are plenty of young fellows who had not enough money to their names when I left Calgary to buy themselves a square meal, who are smoking two-bit cigars now and wearing diamonds and silk shirts. What more can a man ask of a country?"

This was an evidence of western prosperity which appealed strongly to R. R. McCarthy, head of the Manhattan Detective agency, New York, when he returned to this city after a continual residence of six years in Gotham, during the last three of which he has been connected with the Manhattan agency.

Mr. McCarthy says he believes he would have done better had he stayed here than he has in the metropolis, despite the fact that he has met with great success as a sleuth in the big town. He worked for District Attorney Whitman on the Rosenthal murder case and took a prominent part in securing the evidence which landed "Lefty Louie," "Gyp the Blood" and Lieutenant Becker, of the New York strong arm squad, behind the bars with death sentences hanging over them. He is in Calgary on a big case, which may result in sensational developments, but he will have to pursue his inquiries further before any arrests are made, and may find it necessary to go to Vancouver and Seattle to obtain evidence.

WILLIAM WHYTE ON CROP PROSPECTS

Toronto, Sept. 30.—Chances of a wheat blockade at Montreal which would back up to the Fort William elevators; chances of a great proportion of this year's harvest being sent across the ocean by United States transportation companies through the Buffalo port and prospects of a deluge of prime milling wheat upon the British market which might result in reduced prices for the northwestern producers, were cited by Sir William Whyte tonight. Sir William was a guest of Mr. T. C. Irving and reached the city from a three weeks' survey of the prairie provinces.

GRAPE VINE CROP BELOW THE AVERAGE

Paris, Sept. 30.—While the vines in Algeria are full of promise, they are said to be no more than satisfactory in Spain, and in France this year's yield is likely to be below the average owing to the drought which has prevailed in the south during the last three months. The president of the Paris Wine Dealers' association estimates that this year's yield from the vines of France will be nearly half a million gallons less than the yield in 1912. The departments of the eastern Pyrenees, Drome, Puy-de-Dome, Tarn, Lot-et-Garonne and Dordogne will maintain last year's figures, but the drop on the output from the departments of Herault, Gard and the Loire and from the Rhone, Meurthe-et-Moselle, Yonne, Allier, Vaucluse, Isere and Charente will be marked.

General Election Called.

Pisa, Italy, Sept. 29.—King Victor Emmanuel today signed a decree submitted to him by Premier Giolitti at the royal hunting lodge at San Rossoro, dissolving the chamber of deputies and calling a general election for the end of October. A cabinet statement which will be issued probably tomorrow, indicates that the pacification of Libya by Italy is almost complete.

LARGE CONTRACTS.

Tenders Called for Work at Halifax and Welland Canal.

Ottawa, Sept. 29.—Two large contracts are about to be awarded by the government. Tenders will be received up to October 15th for the extensive terminal work at Halifax and on the same day for section two of the Welland canal. The Halifax work will cost about ten million dollars. For section three of the Welland canal, tenders will like be invited this week.

SHUSHANNA DISTRICT PROVEN TO BE RICH

Vancouver, Sept. 30.—"At least 12 square miles of the Shushanna district have been proven to be rich in gold values, but whether the new goldfield extends farther is problematical. It will not be known until next spring. When in the north I met several miners from the new fields. None of them had sold out their holdings, and many of them intend going to Dawson and there outfitting for the winter." The speaker was Dr. D. D. Cairnes of the Dominion Geological Survey, who is at the Hotel Vancouver. He has been in the north all summer, and was in charge of the party of geologists who visited the Yukon recently.

SECOND CANAL TO COMPETE WITH PANAMA

Rumored That English Capital May Construct Ocean to Ocean Waterway Through Colombia.

London, Sept. 30.—The Standard, in a long editorial hints that English capital, represented by Pearson & Son, will give Colombia a chance to avenge herself against Panama by constructing an ocean-to-ocean canal, by way of the Atrato and Cupica rivers.

"What," says The Standard, "is to prevent Colombia, if it has sufficient support from foreign capitalists, from making this canal itself and thereby setting up a formidable rival to the enterprise which is now rapidly approaching completion."

The assertion of the Monroe doctrine to prevent the building of the canal, would be, according to the editorial, "equivalent to the assertion of sovereign rights over every American republic, which, so far, is not a pretension American statesmen have put forward."

ABANDON THE PURSUIT

Sheriffs Lose Trail of Railway Hold-up Men Who Secured Heavy Booty

Tuscaloosa, Ala., Sept. 30.—Deputy sheriffs from Birmingham and Montgomery and armed farmers of Tuscaloosa county have abandoned the search for the three men who held up and robbed the Alabama Great Southern passenger train at Bibbville Siding, Alabama, and the case is now in the hands of the railway special officers.

Five men have been arrested at Eutaw, Ala., below Tuscaloosa, none of whom is over 30 years old, and five others have been taken to the Tuscaloosa county jail by special agents. All of these men deny connection with the holdup.

Various estimates place the amount of booty secured as high as $100,000. Conservative estimates, however, put the amount at $50,000, including a heavy shipment of currency from the east to New Orleans. This cannot be verified, however, at this point.

FREIGHT IS WRECKED NEAR MAPLE CREEK

Calgary, Sept. 30—Eastbound freight No. 84, struck a broken rail when travelling one mile west of Kincorth, a station not far from Maple Creek, causing the derailment of fifteen cars. Fortunately the train was only travelling at the rate of twenty miles an hour at the time of the wreck, and no one was injured. Bue the speed was sufficient to badly damage the derailed cars and render some of them useful only for kindling. The nature of the damage reported shows evidence of a sharp curve at the scene of the wreck. Conductor Richards was in charge of the train with Engineer Booth in the cab.

A wrecking train and crew were immediately despatched from Medicine Hat, while H. C. Coleman, general superintendent, left for the scene of the trouble.

DOGS MAY RIDE IN CITY STREET CARS

Calgary, Sept. 30.—It has been decided that the question as to whether dogs shall ride on street cars to be settled by the carrying out of the present regulations unless the city councils changes those regulations. This will allow of the carrying of pet dogs not too big to be carried in arms. The subject came up again yesterday when the letter of Superintendent McCaulay of the street railway department to Commissioner Graves was read at the commissioners' meeting.

After some discussion it was decided that the regulation as it stands will be enforced unless the council sees fit to change it. This, as said, will permit carrying of lap dogs, and it is to be understood that no dog that no dog that cannot be carried in arms will be allowed to be taken on the cars.

INDUSTRIAL BUILDING FOR CALGARY'S CENTRE

Calgary, Sept. 30.—"None other than a central location has ever been suggested by anyone as a site for the proposed industrial building" said O. G. Devenish, president of the Industrial bureau. "The building must be located near the centre of the city," he added, "as it is absolutely necessary for the manufacturers who will occupy the building to be close to their labor supply. It will be possible, I believe, to secure a suitable site within half a dozen blocks of the city hall. To place the industrial bureau at a greater distance from the city's centre would be a serious mistake, and I do not think anyone interested in the success of the building would wish it placed anywhere else."

CHARGES SHE USED HATCHET ON HUSBAND

Saskatoon, Sept. 30.—Sergeant Dubuc was the principal witness examined for the prosecution in the King versus Dora White, charged with the murder of her husband at Govan on June 2. That George White was killed with an axe or hatchet or that both were used and that the deed was committed while he was lying on a couch in the front room of his house in Kovan was the gist of his evidence. The witness was on the stand almost all afternoon. It was he who, according to his evidence, heard the damaging statements attributed to the prisoner when on June 7 she is alleged to have cast herself upon the casket containing the corpse of her dead husband while in the undertaking rooms at Govan and cried out to be forgiven and that whiskey was responsible for the end.

"My God, I'll never forget the way he died. He had been so mean to me and did so many mean things to me. I would give my life to bring him back to life."

These words Sergeant Dubuc stated in his evidence were used by Mrs. White in his presence.

CHEAPER LIGHT AND POWER FOR ALBERNI

Agreement Pending With Ritchie-Agnew Company Would Give Better Rate Than Coast Cities

Port Alberni, Sept. 30.—The first stages of the proposition of the Ritchie-Agnew Power company to generate current at Stamp falls and supply power and light in bulk to the city, have been completed.

Mr. Agnew, who was present at the council meeting armed with all the figures obtainable, clearly put the case before the aldermen. Briefly quoting all the rates of cities in the Puget Sound district, Mr. Agnew said that this city would get current at rates which compared favorably with Seattle and Tacoma, two cities supplying current at lower rates than any other city in the west, and at better rates than are obtainable in either Vancouver, New Westminster or Victoria.

Mr. Agnew made it quite clear that he desired a decided answer one way or the other, owing to the fact that the company have to file their plans with the government by November 1, and the time was dragging on without anything being decided.

Alderman Bird did not seem to like committing himself in regard to a few points in question. The company's representative endeavored to clear any points not clearly understood, and pointed out that the city would be buying current at a rate which would had the company been supplying it last month, have netted the company just $46. It was pointed out to Alderman Bird that the responsibility would not rest on his shoulders as the people would have to decide the question.

It was then moved in council that a bylaw be prepared to submit to the votes without delay.

SCOTTISH OIL WELL AGAIN DISCOVERED

Thousand-Year-Old Industry Brought to Life by Winston Churchill—Holy Well Only Petroleum.

London, Sept. 30.—The British public, through the medium of Mr. Winston Churchill, have rediscovered the Scottish oil field. Until the right honorable gentleman's recent speech few were aware such a valuable national asset existed on the north side of the border. Yet the production of a first-class quality of oil from the paraffin shale has been in operation for upwards of a century and it has proved a profitable Scottish industry. And ample raw material exists for great development of the oil trade in the future.

Three times has the discovery of the oil-bearing stratas been made. The first was made some 900 years ago, Mr. Young, of Broxburn, 60 years ago, and now Mr. Churchill makes the fact known to the uninitiated British public. How the oozy fluid was first brought to light is contained in an interesting legend. There exists, some three miles due south of Edinburgh, upon the estate of St. Catherine's a "holy well," which is nothing more than a fount of natural petroleum on a small scale, and this "holy well" has been known for the last nine centuries.

How this well originally came into existence, is narrated in the Latin writings of Hector Boece. According to this ancient priestly historian, St. Catherine was responsible for the formation of the oil well, and a pretty little tale he tells, although it is completely discounted by modern knowledge of geology.

FLOODS IN SOUTH

Louisiana City in Darkness and Traffic Stopped by Rains.

Lake Charles, La., Sept. 30.—Floods in southwest Louisiana have reached serious proportions. As a result Lake Charles is in darkness and without street car service. Many houses in the lower sections of the city are flooded and it still is raining. The Southern Pacific railroad has annulled all trains bound for New Orleans and three branch railroad lines running into this city suspended operations. Conservative calculations are that unless the rain ceases within a day, not more than half a rice crop will be gathered.

KILLED BOY WHO CALLED MOTHER FOUL NAME

Philadelphia, Sept. 29.—Jos. O'Brien who was arrested Saturday night on suspicion of having attacked and killed seven year old Israel Goldman and then thrown his nude body among some bushes on the golf links of the White Marsh Valley Country club, today confessed that he had committed the crime, according to the police. According to the authorities the prisoner said he had killed the child because he had called his (O'Brien's) mother a foul name.

SETTLE RAILWAY STRIKE

New Industrial Commission Will Try to End Old Labor Trouble.

Chicago, Sept. 30.—The strike of 88,000 allied shopmen of the Illinois Central and Harriman railroads, which is two years old, may be the first labor trouble considered by the federal industrial commission, whose members were recently appointed by President Woodrow Wilson. A committee of the Brotherhood of Railroad Carmen elected a delegation to go to Washington to arrange for the presentation of evidence. Several hundred of the strikers, who demand recognition of their union, yesterday observed the second anniversary of their strike at two meetings. It was asserted that less than 5 per cent. of the men who walked out two years ago have returned to work.

SURE ALL BABIES ARE GOOD ONES

If You Want to Prove the Truth of This Drop in At the Judging Room Today

All babies are good, and though the judges say that some are better than others, the heft of public opinion does not always appear to be with them. Irrelevantly speaking, this is about the state of affairs as those affairs will exist at the baby show judging today.

To begin with, the important operation of sizing up the points of the scores of budding statesmen and women, geniuses, artists, mayors, lawyers, doctors, farmers, etc., who are now disguised in the long flowing robes of infancy is to be pulled off in the rest room of the Women's building. Yes, the Women's building is considered the strongest structure in the fenced confines of Queens park.

There is an official program for the baby show, which goes to demonstrate how little the officials know about babies. Whoever heard of a baby adhering to the program? Whoever heard of the mother of a baby having to wait till the judges got through their nonsense before she could tell which was by far and away the best exhibit of babyhood that has chewed a thumb since the flood?

But going back to the program, for the sake of truth it must be asserted again that there is such a thing as a program in connection with the baby show, which, in its turn is in connection with the annual exhibition. The program says that the judges shall start work at a certain time and shall do certain things within certain time limits. Well, if they do, there'll be something wrong with the babies.

Of course, it is only natural to suppose that when the judges have finished looking over and examined the babies they will announce that one has taken first prize and another second and another third, and so on. If the judges think that that settles the matter, they'll be much mistaken. There isn't a mother in the bunch that won't be able to give those judges one hundred and seventy seven different and distinct reasons why her child isn't the pick of the lot.

And when you come to think of it, the mother is right; of course she is, which brings us back to where we started, namely to the opening paragraph that reads in part something like this, "All babies are good."

MONOPLANES WERE WINNERS

Aeroplanes in Novel Race Started in Line—Annual Race London to Paris.

Rheims, Sept. 30.—The most interesting and instructive event of the second day of the Rheims aviation meet was a cross country race for monoplanes and biplanes. The race was five times around a 30 kilometer course. The result was a complete triumph for the monoplanes, nearly all of which made better time than the leading biplane.

A novel feature of the race was that the machines were lined up in a row and started by flag in the same manner that a horse race is started. The biplanes were sent away first. Six of the seven machines rose without a moment's delay as the starter's flag dropped, while the seventh was only a scant second behind them.

Three of the biplanes abandoned the race and most of the others were compelled to land once or twice.

The winner was M. Rost, whose monoplane negotiated the 150 kilometers in 1:07:18. The best time for a biplane was 1:25:51, made by Rene Caudron. The altitude contest brought forth some sensational flying. M. Gilbert ascended about 19,620 feet, less than 300 feet below the record.

Representatives of the Aero club of England and France met here today and decided to hold an annual race between London and Paris beginning in 1914.

CAUSED BY CHRISTIANITY

Chinese Revolution Was Caused by Missionaries, Says Dr. Bryan.

Seattle, Sept. 30.—The Chinese revolution, which resulted in the overthrow of the Manchu dynasty and the establishment of a republic, after centuries of absolutism, was due to the influence of the Christian missionaries, declares Dr. R. T. Bryan, veteran Shanghai missionary and seminary president, who departed for the Orient after spending a long vacation at his old home in North Carolina. "Approximately three-fourths of the leaders of the revolution had been taught and trained in mission schools" Dr. Bryan explained. "My twenty-eight years in China as a missionary and teacher make it possible for me to speak authoritatively on this point and others. The republic has come to stay. That the republic should have trouble at first was to be expected. It would have been a miracle indeed if China, which had slumbered for ages, should have had no trouble during the first years of her republican government. Our own original thirteen colonies had a stormy time for a few years, as we all know."

GERMANS INVESTIGATE CIGARETTE INDUSTRY

Berlin, Sept. 30.—Preliminary steps for the investigation of the operations of the "tobacco trust" in connection with the German cigarette industry, have been taken by the government. The secretary of state for the interior replying today to the petition sent him by the Hansa league, an association of business men, on Sept. 17, asking him to order an inquiry into the subject, says the German government has long had its eye on the "trust."

ROYALISTS ACTIVE ON PORTUGUESE FRONTIER

Madrid, Sept. 30.—Bands of Portuguest Royalists have gathered along the Portuguese frontier, according to dispatches from Badajos, where they intend to carry out a carefully laid plan to create slight disturbances at various points so as to attract the attention of the Portuguese while the main body of a Royalist army marches on Lisbon from the north.

BABYLONIA WAS FIRST SEAT OF LEARNING

First School Was Opened Over 5000 Years Ago in Nippur, Says Professor—Influenced Greece.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 30.—The discovery of the existence of the first temple of learning in the world, where the first exponents of the Liturgical system congregated, has just been made by Professor Stephen Herbert Langdon, Professor of Asyriology in Oxford, who is now investigating the Nippur collection of the University of Pennsylvania. The tablets were collected in three expeditions to Nippur in the southern part of Babylonia.

"I have ascertained from the examination of the tablets that priests had a school in the temple at Nippur as early as 3200 B. C., and that this school existed about 1000 years," said Dr. Langdon.

"To these priests is due the liturgical system which spread throughout Babylonia and Asyria and influenced Greece and Rome. They were the exponents of a great university, the most important centre of learning. I believe it was the first school of learning and for that reason the University of Pennsylvania's collection, which discloses the presence of this university is of the greatest value to scholars.

"The discovery will establish more clearly in the minds of scholars the fact that the origin of religious orders existed in ancient antiquity and that a very important religious order existed at the temple near Nippur."

WELCOMED FIRST TRAIN

Milwaukee Starts Service From Spokane East—Exciting Program.

Spokane, Sept. 30.—Promptly on time the first regularly scheduled passenger train of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway company left the Milwaukee freight station at Bernard street and Trent avenue, thus officially opening the line for service between this city and the east.

The first inbound train arrived 50 minutes later, at 8:05 a. m., and on this train were W. P. Warner, assistant general freight and passenger agent, with headquarters in Spokane, and A. W. Spenle of Tacoma, superintendent of dining and sleeping car service; Thomas McFarland, traveling engineer; A. J. Murphy, trainmaster, and T. J. Cutler, traveling freight agent.

While the above was the official opening, the real excitement came at 8:30 p. m., when Jacob Goetz (Dutch Jake), seated in an express wagon at the station, started to fire 21 shots from a small cannon as the first evening train departed. This brought two officers, Leroy Self and J. D. Hill, rushing to the scene. Officer Self was on Riverside avenue and was first to arrive, while Officer Hill came from across the river. When Self ordered Dutch Jake to cease shooting the hotel proprietor immediately fired another shot and was taken from the wagon by the officers.

Commissioner D. C. Coates, who was present, advised the officer that the shooting was premitted although there was no written permit. In the meantime Officer Hill had telephoned Captain Martin J. Burns of the shooting and he also was advised that it was allowed and that the commissioner had probably forgotten to issue the permit. Dutch Jake missed a ride in the patrol wagon and only got to fire 14 of the intended 21 shots, as the train was out of sight before the controversy was over.

QUEBEC FAMILY BURNT

Eight Children Dead, Mother and One Boy Dying—Only Two Saved

Quebec, Sept. 30.—Eight children, all brothers and sisters, were burned to death in a midnight fire and two others, the mother and elder boy of the unfortunate family, are now at the point of death, at the Hotel Dieu suffering terrible agony from burns and wounds received in their escape from the burning house. The family destroyed is that of Ulric Trudel, who was the only one to escape with slight injuries.

The dead: Yvonne Trudel, 13 years; Lucinne Trudel, 12 years; Alci Turdel, 9 years; Junie Trudel, 7 years; Charles Trudel, 3 years; Therese Trudel, 3 years; Jean Paul Trudel, 2 years; Alphonse Trudel, 7 months.

The fatal fire broke out at midnight in a wooden house, situated at 482 St. Francois street, in the centre of the most densely populated districts of the city. It was discovered by a young man on his way home, and before the firemen arrived on the scene the flames had devoured eight victims and the rescue of two members of the trudel family had been effected by passersby.

REDUCTION IN GERMAN BANK RATE POSSIBLE

Berlin, Sept. 30.—The possibility of the reduction of the German bank rate was held out today by Otto Von Glasenapp, vice-president of the German Imperial Bank, at the monthly meeting of the institution. He said the reduction would depend on the extent of the demands on the Imperial Bank at the coming settlement. These however, he declared, were already large.

Official Opening.

Full of optimism and assurance that the province of British Columbia was destined to fill a wonderful and unequaled position in the history of the Dominion and the Empire, was the speech of Hon. Price Ellison, which took place immediately following the luncheon, at the entrance to the Women's building.

"I am sincerely grateful," he said, "for this opportunity to be present here today. I am proud of the fair and congratulate the exhibitors on the spirit they have shown in competing here. It means a loss of money to most of them to bring their stock, the best in B. C. and equal to any in Canada, to this show, and the keen but good-natured rivalry is fine. At this show it is a distinction to win a blue ribbon. The exhibitors are all good sports."

Referring to Kingsway, the speaker told of the part highways played in the development of a country, and mentioned that it was due to the work of Hon. Thos. Taylor that the highway opened yesterday, was built.

"It is our duty, the duty of every British Columbian, to support this provincial exhibition; and it is this exhibition that I now declare open."

Much cheering for the ministers, led by President Welsh, followed and the crowd dispersed, people making tours of the buildings and taking jaunts down Sockeye Run until the Minto cup lacrosse match, which commenced at 3 o'clock.

BIG DECREASE IN BIRTH RATE

Figures for the Month Are 21. Compared with 115 for September Last Year.

Quite a startling decline is recording in the birth rate for the district of New Westminster by the returns for the month of September, the decrease being no less than 29.56 per cent. on the corresponding month last year, and this is only in part compensated by the lower mortality which shows a decrease of 20.40 per cent. There was also a considerable decrease in the number of marriages, which were 15.86 per cent. below that for the same period in 1912.

The figures for the month of September, 1912, and September, 1913, respectively, are: Births, 115-81; marriages, 38-32; deaths, 49-39.

TOKIO DESPATCHES NOTE TO UNITED STATES

Tokio, Sept. 30.—Another note of protest in the California anti-alien controversy has been despatched to the United States. The text has not been published but it is understood that if it is accepted on which point the Japanese authorities are very optimistic, it will necessitate a new treaty between the two countries.

MISSIONARIES ARE CAPTIVES

Hankow, China, Sept. 30.—Five American and four Norwegian missionaries are in the hands of Chinese bandits who on Friday captured the town of Tsao Yuang, in the northern part of the province of Hupeh. The American prisoners are reported to be Mr. and Mrs. Helm and child and Mr. and Mrs. Fauske.

The Rev. C. Stokstad, of the Hauge's Norwegian mission, telegraphed from Fancheng that on Saturday Mr. Fauske, who is attached to the Levian Brethren mission, was still held in Tsan Yeng for ransom, but was separated from his wife, who with the other foreigners was held prisoner in another part of the city.

The notorious bandit "White Wolf," whom the government has been fighting for several months, is the leader. Orders have been issued for the Chinese troops surrounding the district to advance toward Asao Yang and exterminate the bandits.

General Li Yuen Heng, vice-president of the republic, told J. Paul Jameson, acting American consul at Hankow, yesterday that he believed the foreigners would not be harmed and would not be taken away.

JUDGING OF BABIES COMMENCES TODAY

Judging will commence today in the better babies contest, which will be held in the rest room of the women's building in the exhibition grounds.

Owing to the large number of entries it was found necessary to commence judging on Wednesday instead of on Friday, as previously arranged. Entries will be taken in alphabetical order, letters from A to K being judged today and from L to Z on Thursday.

Four doctors and four trained nurses will be in attendance at all times.

Killed Fixing Belting.
