INDUCEMENTS OFFERED TO AGRICULTURAL SOCIETIES

District Exhibits at British Columbia's Biggest Annual Exhibition Will Be Strong Attraction This Year—Many Special Prizes Offered—Changes in Methods of Judging Dairy Produce.

To induce districts or agricultural societies in the different portions of the province exhibiting, the directors of the R. A. & I. society, desiring to assist the different localities in advertising their agricultural capabilities, have endeavored to be as liberal as possible with their prizes, and trust the districts or societies will take advantage of these offers to use every endeavor to make creditable exhibits, as they have done in the past.

The management of the R. A. & I. society are of the opinion that there is no better way or more economical manner in which to make a collective exhibit illustrative of what the particular localities of the province can produce, and trust the different districts or agricultural societies will assist them in their efforts.

Division K.—Art.

A very large loan exhibit has been promised for this year's exhibition, and those who have works of art are respectfully asked if they will kindly loan them to the exhibition management, who will protect them in every way.

This is a new departure of the Royal Agricultural and Industrial society, the success of which depends altogether on the kindness of the artists of British Columbia.

Fraser Monument.

There will also be an historical exhibit, kindly loaned by the provincial government, relating to the early days of the west, and with which Simon Fraser, the discoverer of the Fraser river, is so prominently connected.

A monument will be erected to his memory, and placed in position, overlooking the Fraser, on the Crescent, which it is expected, will be unveiled by the premier of the province on one of the days of the exhibition.

Public Meeting.

A meeting of representatives of the different agricultural associations of the province, will be held in the council chambers, city hall, New Westminster, B.C., Wednesday, Sept. 30, at 8 p.m.

The object of the meeting is for the purpose of improving and bettering the condition and management of the agricultural societies of British Columbia. Each agricultural association will be entitled to send two representatives.

NEW VARIETY HALL PLANNED BY VANCOUVER CAPITALISTS

The erstwhile variety hall on McKenzie street will take on a new lease of life, under the enterprising endeavor of a group of Vancouver men, who under the designation of the Royal City Vaudville company, have taken a lease of the premises.

The plan of the new proprietors is to give an up-to-date vaudeville and animated picture performance, and details will be left to the manager, Mr. Crockett, who will live in the city.

The success of the new Maple Leaf Theatre on Granville street, Vancouver, has undoubtly weighed with the promoters, who will seek to give a performance suitable for women and children at the moderate figure of 10 and 15 cents. All novelties of the variety halls will be introduced as occassion offers, and the public show by their appreciation that the enterprise is justified.

The building will be thoroughly remodelled and renovated before the opening, which will take place as soon as possible. The management wish the public to understand that the promoters are genuine residents of Vancouver, and not a syndicate of American capitalists.

MONEY WILL BE SPENT ADVERTISING VICTORIA

Tourist Association Has Set Aside $800 for Newspaper Publicity in Other Climes.

Victoria, May 18.—The Tourist association has decided to take a wholly new departure in its methods of work. Newspaper advertising is to be used as one of the means of attracting visitors and settlers to the district. This was decided at the meeting held yesterday afternoon in the Tourist rooms.

A sum of something like $800 will in all probability be spent in advertising the charms of this fair city in the cities of Winnipeg, Montreal, Toronto, London, England, and some of the cities of the United States. It was the unanimous opinion of the executive that better returns could be obtained by a more liberal employment of the advertising columns of the daily press than has been done heretofore. The plan will be to enlist the interest of the traveler or settler by means of advertisements which will contain a list of the publications of the association which will be available on inquiry. The person inquiring will, however, be asked to forward postage. The experience of the big carrying and other companies has been that when an inquirer is asked to put up ever so small an amount, more interest is taken in the literature when it is received, and at the same time the plan eliminates the collector of free literature who is in the habit if sending for such publications, but who never intends to use them.

The literature of the Tourist association is of such a high order that to get the best results it was thought it would be unwise to scatter the publications broadcast indiscriminately, aiming to draw a few prizes from among many blanks.

The publicity bureaus in San Francisco and Los Angeles will still be used to enlist the interest of tourists who at this time of year are turning northward from the California coast. In addition to the larger publication, 30,000 copies of the smaller booklet have also been struck off, as this publication, too, is almost out of stock.

Another interesting and important departure of the association will be that of posting up a weekly list of inquiries in the rooms of the association of prospective settlers for the use of real estate men, hotel men and any others who may wish to use it. This list will be available at all times to any ratepayer or business man in the city. It will contain an outline of the information asked for, with the name and address of the inquirer. In this way it is thought that the efforts of the association in trying to get people to Victoria may be supplemented by private parties who wish to do business with these people.

RAILWAY MAGNATE RUSHES TO OTTAWA

Ottawa, May 19.—The Conservative caucus held this morning resulted in the decision of the opposition to fall into line behind the Robilin-Rogers standard and join the no surrender louge. The slogan adopted was "no compromise." The only condition on which they will let the business of parliament proceed is the capitulation of the government to their election bill demands. If the government attempts to get supply the opposition will block the attempt by again bringing up the Ames timber limit charges. The government, of course, has no intention of capitulating to such a factious opposition and the present indication points to a long and bitter fight.

A significant sidelight on the present situation is the arrival of D. D. Mann in the capital, simultaneously with Premier Roblin and Hon. R. Rogers. The influence of the Canadian Northern magnates with the Manitoba ministry is well known and corridor talk here connects Mann's visit with the attempt now being made to embarrass the government and force dissolution, failing the granting of the desired concessions.

The caucus decided not to oppose the granting of supply in the matter of civil service employees if the government so desires.

CITIZENS' PICNIC GOES TO VICTORIA

Annual Excursion to Take Place on July 15—Full Moon Will Shine.

Victoria has been selected as the place where the annual citizens picnic will be spent this summer, the decision having been arrived at last night's meeting of the committee arranging details in connection with the event. The date has been set for Wednesday, July 15.

Arrangements with regard to securing a suitable steamer for the excursion have not yet been completed, but a committee, consisting of G. W. Blakeley, W. A. Gilley, Capt. Rogers and Secretary D. E. MacKenzie, was appointed to further interview E. J. Coyle, passenger agent of the C. P. R., on the subject. The result of the interview will be made at the next meeting of the committee, to be held at the call of the chair.

Three members were added to the committee yesterday, these being Fred Jackson, Capt. Wooster and Mr. McIntosh.

The date selected for the picnic is eminently suitable for an excursion, as, in addition to it being during the longest daylight period of the year, the full moon happens on the thirteenth of the month, just two days previous. The cost of the tickets has not yet been decided upon, this being left over until definite arrangements are made for a steamer.

FRASER CELEBRATION SHORN OF PAGEANT

Board of Control of R. A. & I. Society Declares No Funds Are Available.

An important meeting of the board of control of the provincial exhibition was held yesterday afternoon. There were present T. J. Trapp, president in the chair, G. D. Brymner, C. A. Welsh, W. K. Gilley, and W. H. Keary, secretary. After transacting a large amount of routine business, the board discussed the Simon Fraser Centenary celebration proposal. They decided that with the funds at their disposal it was impossible to have a pageant as it was originally intended.

The board cordially approved of the secretary's suggestion that the offer of the provincial government to send a historical exhibit to the exhibition should be adopted, and that also the idea suggested by Premier McBride that a granite monument be constructed, with a suitable inscription engraved thereon, be placed in Albert Crescent, overlooking the Fraser river (subject to the grant of a site by the council), to Simon Fraser and that a subscription list, limited to a dollar, be opened, among the residents of the city and district, but that no one was asked to subscribe for more than that sum. But one exception has been made, the Duke of Norfolk had contributed $10, and subscriptions might be paid into the newspaper offices in this city. As the premier was a New Westminster man, they had decided to ask Mr. McBride to unveil the monument, in the exhibition week.

All the prize medals this year will have on one side a portrait of Simon Fraser, with the name of the city, and the dates 1808-1908.

The Ontario Society of Arts have offered to lend fifty pictures for the art exhibit at the exhibition, providing all expenses are paid. This condition, common in all such cases, will be readily acceptable to the exhibition board, and the board is also seeking from the public loans of works of art to make the art exhibition a real success in the first year this been planned.

Oriental Poll Tax.

Ottawa, May 19.—The poll tax of $500 on each Chinese immigrant into Canada brought the federal treasury last year no less than $690,000. The total arrivals of Chinese were 1380. Under the terms of the act, half the tax goes to the Dominion and half to British Columbia where nearly all the celestials remain.

CITY MUST BE METROPOLIS OF THRIVING COMMUNITY

Large Gathering of Local Organization Is Addressed by Experienced Publicity Men—Pamphlet Will Be Ready Soon Setting Out Advantages of District—Valuable Suggestions Are Approved.

Very great interest was taken in the meeting of the New Westminster Publicity association at the board of trade room last evening, there being a very large gathering of the representative business men of the city and district, and the newspaper interests of Vancouver and New Westminster were largely represented among the audience. The president, W. J. Kerr, was in the chair. Among those present were H. L. Edmonds, vice-president; W. F. Hansford, secretary; G. E. Martin, D. S. Curtis, E. J. Crean, G. Adams, C. B. Deans, J. Agar, E. Goulet, J. Smith (Burquitlam), D. M. Hammond, W. W. Walsh (London Standard), L. M. Fowler (Ranch), W. J. Coleman (Pacific Monthly), Capt. Wilson-Irwin, J. Bell, H. P. Vidal, E. H. Sands, A. W. Gordon, E. A. Paige, W. N. Carty, A. W. McLeod, P. W. Luce A. Pringle, S. H. Farmer and F. Woodward.

The finance committee had little of interest to report, but C. B. Deans stated that subscriptions were coming in very well, and he had collected $97.50, and it was stated by the secretary that about $1000 was promised.

The Publication of Literature.

Mr. Curtis asked how the preparation of a pamphlet was getting on. E. H. Sands reported on behalf of the committee, E. A. Paige, A. W. McLeod and himself, that the committee was preparing a pamphlet which they hoped to publish shortly. They hoped to report definitely to the next meeting. It was a matter which would take considerable time, and as busy men they found it difficult to devote enough time to the work, however progress was being made. He did not favor the scheme to send printed articles to various journals as from the association. The more satisfactory way was to get the local correspondents of outside papers to supply articles on subjects such as the improvement of the Fraser river, suitably illustrated, and then there was some prospect of the news being used. With regard to the Associated Press correspondent, whom it was urged should be appointed for New Westminster, Mr. Sands reported that owing to the absence of Superintendent Wilson from Vancouver no definite word had been received from the C. P. R. telegraphs re this matter, but it was stated that the telegraph company was ready to receive and despatch over its wires any news of sufficient importance sent in from accredited sources.

G. E. Martin urged that the most attractive form of advertising was to issue a folder, rather than a heavy pamphlet, which was not read. He did think that the men who gave their time for the preparation of the pamphlet should be paid by the executive committee.

An Imperial Newspaper.

On behalf of the London Standard of Empire, W. W. Walsh submitted that this journal, which he represented, would secure a world-wide circulation for the advantages of this district. The idea to publish a weekly newspaper devoted to imperial topics arose from A. J. Dawson's visit last year to Canada in the interests of the Standard. Mr. Dawson had succeeded in persuading the proprietor, C. Arthur Pearson, to begin the publication of a paper devoted to the plan of better making known the resources of the empire, not only among the small investors and capitalists in England, but would also tend to bring the countries more closely together. He had received a large amount of support from Canadian business men, and pointed out its advantages to municipalities like their own. The British Columbia government had secured a large space in the journal, which would be commenced on the eve of Empire Day this month.

An American View.

Mr. Walsh was followed by a newspaperman, Mr. Fowler, editor of the Ranch, one of the most popular agricultural papers of the evergreen state, whose views were, to judge by the remarks of subsequent speakers, new to many long experienced in publicity work. He, too, was very amusing, and the naive way in which he set forth his story was the cause of much laughter, mingled at times with hearty applause. He drew a distinction between publicity work, and advertisement, taking the homely example of a merchant's sign over his store. The sign was "publicity" work, it told to the world that there was such a store, and compelled interest in the goods set out for sale in the windows. The latter was advertisement. The object they should aim at was to get New Westminster first known to the outside world, and then, once known, follow it up with information as to its products. Means he urged to this end were the furnishing of printed matter inside the envelopes at the hotels, paying half the cost of same; the provision of the name of the town, and some catch phrase on the backs of all business envelopes used in the city offices; advertising in the technical and agricultural press according as opportunity offered; and above all making use of the local press. The local newspapers were the best advocates of the city. They were always crying, "Here, here," and let the publicity association even pay the subscription of an enquirer to some of the local papers. He would see then how the real estate was selling, how business was, and if he became interested it was half the battle. His coming was only a matter of time. Let them advertise the great possibilities of British Columbia to the southern farmers, who were on the lookout for new homes. "The west coast of our continent," he concluded, "contains opportunities enough for us all."

Burquitlam as a Park.

Mr. Coleman, on behalf of the Pacific Monthly, advocated the claims of magazines to a share in the advertising patronage of the association.

Proceedings were now at a late hour, but amid some impatience Mr. Smith, of Burquitlam, was permitted to advance his project again for a city park at Burquitlam. To what has already been said he added that the boulevard from the city should be planted with native British Columbian trees, and that the city should withhold around the area proposed to be purchased, an area of one acre lots, to reimburse the cost of the property, and place building restrictions upon the sale of them. The property included the largest part of Barnet hill. He undertook, on the chairman's suggestion, to bring the matter up as a motion at the next meeting. A vote of thanks was passed to the speakers, on the motion of D. S. Curtis, seconded by D. M. Hammond.

Funeral of Joseph Oliver.

The funeral of the late Joseph Oliver took place yesterday from his residence on Fourth avenue to the I. O. O. F. cemetery. The relatives of the deceased were nearly all present, the pall-bearers being members of the friendly societies with which he was connected, as follows: H. Disney, secretary, and T. Thornton (Rose Columbia lodge, S. O. E.); J. Carter Smith and L. Thornbur (Royal Templers of Temperance); G. Adams and F. Marks (A. O. U. W.). About sixty of the Sons of England attended, and there was also a large contingent of Templars. No flowers were sent by request. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. A. Dell Owen, and the Sons of England service was also used at the gradeside.

He remained with that road until 1880, rising in the service until he became general freight and passenger agent. During the next five years he occupied a similar position with the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe. He next went with the Missouri Pacific lines and from there to the Cincinnati, Indianapolis, St. Louis and Chicago road. CONSUMPTIVES' HOME IS NOT TO BE NEAR DUNCANS

Duncans, May 18.—Dr. Fagan gave a lecture on tuberculosis before a small audience on Saturday evening. Very few people knew of his coming and so were unable to attend. He reassured his hearers that the home for incurables would not be established without giving the district proper notice, and said that the home would probably not be established in this district in any case, as the locality was not suitable. He assured his hearers that there was no ground for alarm personally because the safest place to escape consumption was in a sanatorium such as they intended to establish.

INQUIRY INTO C. P. R. TROUBLE IS OPENED

Winnipeg, May 18.—The first sitting of the commission appointed under the Lemieux act to endeavor to adjust the difficulty between the C. P. R. and its employees was held this morning in Manitoba hall. The vital question was raised as to whether the scope of the commission includes the entire system or only that portion west of Thunder bay. A secret session will be held this afternoon to decide this question, and the decision will be announced at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

VICTORIA ASSESSMENT HAS INCREASED THREE MILLIONS

Victoria, May 18.—The assessment figures for this year, it is learned on good authority, will amount to about $2,700,000 more than those for last year, or an increase of about 13 per cent. The exact figures for the year have not yet been given out, but they will be over $24,600,000, as against $21,945,080 last year. These figures represent both land values and improvements, in both of which there has been a substantial increase during the year, that in the latter being due to the large amount of building in the city within the past year. Last year the land assessment totalled $13,718,250, and the improvements $8,226,830, the total figures for the year being $21,945,080.

How to See the Wind.

Take a polished metal surface of two feet or more and with a straight edge. A large handsaw will answer the purpose. Take a windy day on which to make the experiment, paying no attention to atmospheric conditions, for such an experiment can be as successfully made on a clear day as it can on a cloudy one, and the results will be equally good in summer and winter. The only thing you need to look out for is that you do not attempt to "see the wind" on a rainy or murky day, as conditions are then very unfavorable. When everything is in readiness, hold the metallic surface at right angles to the direction of the wind—i. e., if the wind is in the north hold the metal east and west, but instead of holding it vertical incline it about 42 degrees to the horizon. When this has been done sight carefully along the edge of a sharply defined object for some moments and you will see the wind pouring over in graceful curves almost like water.

SELECTIONS

STORY OF THE DOROTHEA.

Romance of a Vessel Assigned to the Naval Militia.

Among the vessels assigned to the naval militia is one with a history.

It seems, says Appleton's Magazine, that many years ago, when it was the custom for the insurance underwriters to put up at auction vessels that had been long overdue and not heard from, a young apprentice in Philadelphia happened to attend one of these auctions at which a large ship named the Dorothea was put up for sale. The vessel had taken aboard a very valuable cargo, which would go with the ship to the successful bidder, but the very fact that the property was so valuable had kept the underwriters from selling the craft until long after it had become generally believed that she was a total wreck. Consequently the auctioneer cried the good ship Dorothea many times without getting a bid. Finally the young apprentice jokingly bid $5, and, as nobody would bid higher, the vessel and her cargo were knocked down to him. Imagine the astonishment of the maritime world when the Dorothea was reported sailing into Delaware bay. The apprentice sold his prize for enough to start him in business, and for years the house thus founded was one of the leaders in enterprise and resources in the Quaker City. But at all times the head of the firm and his family successors made a point of owning and operating a ship named the Dorothea, which name also was always given to the oldest daughter in each succeeding generation.

Shortly before the Spanish war, however, the then head of the house was in failing health, and the only hope of saving his life, he was advised, was to live at sea. Accordingly, he gave an order to the Cramps for a large and luxuriously appointed yacht, to be called the Dorothea, of course, and no expense was spared in her construction and equipment. Unfortunately, death came to the owner before his yacht was quite finished, and the government paid a fancy price for the Dorothea early in 1898.

With the close of the war there was no purely naval duty for which the Dorothea was fitted, and yet the government did not wish to sell her, because there was no possibility of getting a price for her anything like what she had cost. She was accordingly laid up until the naval reserves succeeded in convincing the navy department that they were entitled to her.

Wonders of Machinery.

Dependence upon machinery is becoming almost an instinct among the workmen of a steel mill. A boy who was sweeping the floor of a Pittsburg mill, for example, found his path obstructed by a ten ton machine which had not yet been put in its place.

"Hello, Jim," he called to a laborer, "come here and move this machine back about ten feet. I want to sweep under it."

Jim moved a traveling crane until it stood over the machine and lifted the 20,000 pound obstacle out of the way as easily as if it were a box of cigars. The boy went on with his sweeping as if nothing extraordinary had happened. He was a Pittsburg boy and accustomed to miracles. And electricity, which is a new force—sixteen years old in steel mills—will perform its greatest deeds in the future.—Munsey's.

Passing of Crumb Brushes.

The doom of the household crumb brush has been authentically pronounced. Napkin and tray now comprise the outfit for relieving the dinner table of crumbs. By the adoption of the latter system it is contended that the likelihood of bread particles becoming fugitive is minimized. Another objection cited to the continuance of the time honored brush method is that dust accumulates in the bristles and in due course circulates around the board. Hotel restaurants first called the halt in this direction, and gradually guests cottoned to the new idea, eventually introducing the reformation in their own homes.—New York Press.

The Esperanto Congress.

An article in a Berlin paper on the Esperanto congress, which will take place at Cambridge in August, says: "There will be more than 3,000 delegates present, representing nearly every country in Europe, and the proceedings will show what progress the universal language has made. In order to show one feature which has not been largely dwelt upon, a Shakespearean tragedy has been translated into Esperanto and will be performed while the congress is in session. For practical purposes the policemen and the waiters in the large restaurants will learn the language, so that they may converse with the delegates from other countries."

A Four Decker Sea Pie.

A huge sea pie was served to a party of fifty guests at a feast at Gorleston at which the member for Yarmouth was present. It was made by an old trawl skipper and weighed a hundredweight and a half. It was a four decker and was boiled in a vast cauldron for several hours. The keel was laid with beef bones, and there was a triple bulkhead of short crust, the bunkers being filled with beefsteak and ox kidneys. There were holds also stored with meat, onions, carrots, turnips and potatoes, and the hull was [illegible] of a substantial short crust. [illegible] took a stone [illegible] Daily News

THE NIP SUE MARRIAGE.

The Rev. C. W. Houghton in a letter in last night's Columbian attacks this paper, for daring to report a marriage which he performed on Thursday last; giving as we did the facts much more correctly than contained in the statement of the case given by the reverend gentleman. At first blush one is inclined to the belief that he has made a mistake and wishes to brazen it out. Mr. Houghton's reputation was in no way attacked in the News item. The street comment reported was in no sense an attack. We go further and say there was nothing in the report as published to warrant the use by the reverend gentleman, of such terms as "distorted," "sensation-mongering," "not to tell the truth, but rather to suppress the facts," "base and cowardly." We did not wish to touch the case further than give the facts as we obtained them, but as the reverend gentleman has opened up the subject by this letter, we wish to tell him one or two things.

First. That the marriage license is only a document permitting the joining in wedlock, and is not mandatory. Would he marry a divorced person who came armed with a license? Taking the last charge by the bishop, we think not.

Second. The canons of the church require that the male must be baptised into the church or he cannot be married by a clergyman of the Church of England without the permission of the Bishop of the Diocese, or, in his absence, by the administrator. This was neither asked nor given.

Third. That authority was not asked, neither was it given without asking, for the marriage ceremony to be performed at the home of Mrs. Mercer. The canon is clear, that if the parties, or one of them, reside within five miles of a Church of England edifice the ceremony must be performed in the church edifice.

Fourth. The Chinaman, Nip Sue, while he may have repeated the responses pigeon like, has not the intelligence to understand them, and could not even tell the surname of his bride-to-be, producing a name written on paper when he made application for the license.

Fifth. That the name used in Mr. Houghton's letter is not the name upon the marriage license.

Sixth. We assert that what is contained in the insinuation that "The News" came between these two contracting parties and broke up their wedded bliss is unworthy of the high-calling which is designated as "the cloth."

Seventh. Mrs. Nip Sue is not dead, as the reverend gentleman states in his letter, and in this connection we would return the advice he so freely gives, to get the facts before he writes, as he says, to give them. Had he looked into the facts as closely as did our reporter, and learned half as much, he never would have consented to officiate.

There can be no doubt, that taking Mr. Houghton's statement he would have saved himself much heart rending, if, when he found the one person claiming Christianity as a belief to be of Methodist persuasion, he had used the 'phone to enquire from the minister of that persuasion, as to the advisability of performing the ceremony, even if he had the right canonically so to do. The opening up of the subject has compelled us to say, what we would have preferred to leave to the councils of his own church to say, that, canonically he did wrong, that tactically, he erred in judgment, and that in view of the feeling existing against Orientals in this Province he made an irreparable mistake which he has not lightened by his contribution to the press.

Several people yesterday evening expressed their opinion that Rev. C. W. Houghton's letter, published in last night's Columbian, had been refused space in these columns. This is not the case, as the communication was never forwarded to us. Had it reached the News at any time, it would have been given the prominence it deserved, and not relegated to the waste paper basket as were several letters on the subject of the Nip Sue marriage, not one of which commented unfavorably on the stand taken by the News in reporting at length the unholy alliance between a so-called Christian Chinaman and a woman with a past.

An important case occupied the attention of Judge Cane for several hours yesterday at the court of appeal hearing the appeals against the assessment made by the court of revision for the municipality of Mission. The appellants were the first of a large number of ratepayers who object to assessments on the present basis. They were John R. Wren and Wren brothers, owning several parcels of land in the Silverdale district. W. Norman Bole, K.C., appeared for the appellants, and the respondent council was represented by A. Wheeler. BAD CROP YEARS.

When Birds and Animals Do Not Mate at the Mating Season.

"When birds and animals do not mate at the mating season, it is a sign that a bad year is coming," said a farmer.

"Quails, gophers, rabbits and squirrels all refuse to mate in certain years. These years afterward turn out to be bad ones. The quails are particularly weather wise. By instinct the little wild creatures know that for lack of rain or for some other reason there is to be a grass famine and a seed famine, and, instead of pairing off and mating and setting up housekeeping in little families of two, they remain unmated in the large bands in which they have flown all winter, living, as it were, a kind of apartment house life. That year inevitably turns out a bad one, though the bachelor and spinster quails, with a good deal of picking and scratching, manage to get enough to eat. But to feed families of little ones in such a famine year would be impossible.

"In California the squirrels in a famine year not only do not mate; they do not even live. They become dormant. As by a miracle, they remain dormant until a season of plenty comes with the next winter's rains."—Exchange.

For Her Welfare.

Mrs. Goodheart had made up her mind that most of the so called charity of the present day was not, strictly speaking, charity at all. Whoever gave, she had concluded, did so for the pleasant sensation of seeing his or her name figure on subscription lists, and she did not agree with this ostentation.

"Here, my good man," she said one day last week to a man who had begged alms of her, "here is a threepenny piece, and please to understand that I do not give this because I hope to be rewarded for my charity some day, but because it gives me pleasure to do so."

The burly beggar looked dubiously at the tiny silver coin.

"Look 'ere, mum," he said. "In this 'ere wicked world we don't orften get the chance to enjoy ourselves. Why not make it a shillin' an' 'ave a rea good time?"—London Tit-Bits.

Why He Quit.

"For the drunkard and the glutton shall come to poverty." "I figured out years ago," said a prosperous farmer, "that with very moderate drinking I'd drink an acre of good land every year. So I quit."—Central Christian Advocate.

Synopsis of Canadian North-West Homestead Regulations.

Any even numbered section of Dominion lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or sub-agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at an agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead duties under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of a homesteader has permanent residence on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of the homestead, or upon a homestead entered for by him in the vicinity, such homesteader may perform his own residence duties by living with the father (or mother).

(4) The term "vicinity" in the two preceding paragraphs is defined as meaning not more than nine miles in a direct line, exclusive of the width of road allowances crossed in the measurement.

(5) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the agent for the district of such intention.

Six months' notice in writing must be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of intention to apply for patent.

Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

Do You Intend Building?

"There is no time like the present" is an old saying but more especially does this apply to building operations at this moment. LUMBER HAS GONE DOWN to a very astonishing extent. It is, however, very questionable if it will remain so much longer. Labor is also much lower and more available than it was this time last year. Make inquiries and convince yourself. DON'T PROCRASTINATE until prices go up again.

Of course you will have to procure a lot and this is where WE CAN BE OF ASSISTANCE TO YOU. We have been given the EXCLUSIVE SALE of what is beyond the least shadow of doubt the most desirable property in the City of New Westminster. WE DO NOT MEAN AWAY OUT IN THE SUBURBS where it is necessary to use fancy names in order to attract prospective purchasers BUT IN THE VERY HEART OF THE BEST RESIDENTIAL SECTION OF THE CITY.

It is situated on FIRST STREET between SECOND and THIRD AVENUES. FACING ON THE BEAUTIFIED PORTION OF QUEEN'S PARK, it commands a magnificient view of the Fraser River and the Pitt Mountains. You can also see all the LACROSSE MATCHES and other sports without going out of the house. Be sure to look at these lots before buying elsewhere. Nearly every lot faces on a 66-foot street and has a lane at therear. Below is a plan of the property which you might cut out and take with you when you go to pick out your lot. If one lot is too small for your purposes you can take two or three and have just as large a frontage as you want. If you cannot aford to buy lots facing on the Park look at the back lots, the prices of which are absurdedly low. Remember: WE ARE THE ONLY FIRM IN THE CITY WHO CAN SELL THIS PROPERTY.

THE MEXICAN OCELOT.

A Great Jumper Is This Strange Little Spotted Jungle Cat.

One of the most interesting animals of the new world and yet one of which little seems to be written, even by sportsmen who have spent much time in Mexico and the Central American states, is the ocelot, the strange little spotted cat of the dense jungles of tropical parts of the two Americas.

They are not nearly so heavy as the average lynx of the eastern woods and are infinitely lighter on their feet. They run with the greatest agility up and down the almost perpendicular trunks of trees and follow a crippled bird out on limbs too slender, it would seem, to bear the weight of the parrot, let alone the cat. Parrots are the ocelot's principal food, and their hunting is done almost altogether by day, though, like all the cat tribe, they are thoroughly at home in the blackest night.

The parrots which they hunt frequent the thickest of forests, coming to the ground only in the rare open spaces and along the banks of the many small streams where they drink. In order to follow them it is necessary that the ocelots be great jumpers, and so they are. When I was following the hounds through the southern California hills after wildcats and an occasional mountain lion I was wont to say that the latter was the greatest jumper on earth. The ocelot has any mountain lion that ever walked beaten a block, length for length and weight for weight.—Forest and Stream.

IN FIVE INNING BALL GAME COLLEGIANS DRUB DAUBERS

Painters Get Short End of 6 to 4 Score in Match Which Begins Late and Ends at Dusk.

The Columbian college baseball team again demonstrated its right to be called a crack team last evening when it defeated the painters' team at Queen's park by a score of 12 to 4. This is the last scheduled game the college has with the daubers and now it is up to the students to beat the city at their next game with them, or lose the championship of the league.

The color appliers did not put up nearly as good as game as when they played the city on Saturday, owing partly to the regular catcher, Johnson, being unable to play. Robinson, of the Sapperton team, filled his place. The first inning was finished in fine form, but after that the painters dropped their steady work and the runs poured in for the school. Only five innings were played, but the game lasted till after eight. The pitching was erratic on both sides, some of the time good work being done and then the twirlers would weaken and walk a number of men. The first run of the painters, which occurred in the second inning, was given to them by McPhail, when the bases were full, by presenting a walking ticket to the whitewash artists. In the fourth inning two two-baggers in succession by Fitzgerald and Prouty was the most sensational grandstand playing of the game.

J. A. Cunningham umpired.
