DISTRICT EXHIBITS IN KEEN COMPETITION

Fruits, Flowers, Vegetables, Grain, Roots, Minerals, Etc., Well Represented.

The Twin Towns.

The district exhibits are again very much to the front in this exhibition. Every year the competition grows keener and keener and each district strains every point to get ahead of the others. Edmonton and Strathcona are sent down, undr the management of J. L. Parte, who has been connected with exhibition work for the past fifteen years, and for the past three years taken charge of the Edmonton and Strathcona exhibit here, an extensive exhibit of field produce and other products of the upper country, among which may be mentioned oats, barley, wheat, both fall and spring; flax, brown grass, alfalfa, alsac, clover, and timothy. In garden produce they exhibit amongst other things marrow flat peas with a pulm of fourteen feet and a sample of broad beans fifteen inches long in pod. Both of these samples were grown by Major Lemonger, of Strathcona. They also exhibit samples of coal, from the White Star Coal mine.

Langley.

Langley exhibit is in charge of W. McAdam, who makes the statement that they are possessed of the only cheese factory in British Columbia and certainly they have some very fine looking cheese in their exhibit. They also show alfalfa three feet long grown from seed this year and timothy seven fet long. They are making a speciality of their exhibit of potatoes, of which they are showing twenty-eight varieties; they are also showing a special glass case of Woolf river apples, and a fine exhibit of forage plants and grain.

Coquitlam.

Coquitlam holds the same space as last year and has a very neat little exhibit will filled with the product of their district, amongst which are some very fine specimens of roots, as well as a general show of field and garden produce and home made jams and pickles.

Nelson.

Nelson makes its strongest point in apples, of which luscious fruit it has made a very good exhibit, with a backing of bottled fruits and grains very tastily arranged.

Chilliwack.

Chilliwack shows up good again, with a fine exhibit neatly arranged under the direction of G. J. Thornton, who has evidently had almost unlimited supplies at his command. The back wall is decorated with grasses and grains, the straw bright and clear and the grains plump and well filled. The display includes a choice selection of bottled fruits, home cured bacon and hams, home made butter and apples of the product of two creameries, with a tube of milk from A. Street's herd of Jersey cows, showing over 20 per cent of butter fat; while the ground is covered with roots and squash.

Mission.

Mission has a much smaller space, but has it well filled with a good collection of fruit, butter, honey, grapes, root and field produce.

Richmond.

Richmond has another large space and has it well filled with a choice selection of grains and grasses, fruits and general field produce, including some exceedingly fine specimens of celery.

Burnaby.

Burnaby, under C. Whiting's care, has exhibited a large supply of market garden truck and makes a splendid showing of green peas, cabbages, carrots, onions, cauliflowers, tomatoes and all kinds of table vegetables, as well as field produce.

Kelowna.

Under the direction of F. G. Speer and F. De Hart, Kelowna has branched out in a new form of exhibit, making a passage right through their exhibit so that visitors can get quite close to the articles they are showing. As well as the usual field produce, they have a very good sample of tobacco, grown and cured there; a lot of canned fruits in cans, and a specimen branch of the old English pin damson, 16 inches long, and with fifteen plums to the inch.

Surrey.

Surrey also has an open display, very prettily decorated with festoons of grains and grasses, and containing good samples of honey, butter, preserved fruits and field produce. Several of the vegetables and grains shown here were highly commended by the judges at several of the fairs recently held in the adjoining municipalities.

F. W. Phillips, bookkeeper at J. Reichenbach's, was out yesterday for the first time in two weeks, having just recovered from a severe attack of measles.

SCOTCH HELD SWAY ON GREEN OVAL

Highland Sports Proved Immense Success---Prizes Won by Amateur Athletes

Yesterday afternoon was Scotchmen's day at the fair ground, and under the guiding hand of a competent committee headed by the Rev. A. E. Vert, the Scottish games and dancing were conducted in a most interesting manner. Thousands of people filled the seats in the grand stand and bleachers or lined the fence to watch the racing, the feats of strength in throwing heavy weights, tossing the caber, etc.

The games commenced promptly at 2 o'clock, and although each event was pulled off in order and without undue delay between acts, yet it was nearly six o'clock before the finel feature was decided. The games were conducted under the auspices of the Lord of the Isles camp No. 191, the national Caledonian rules governing.

In nearly every event there were from three to six entries, thereby giving the competitions unusual interest, the valuable prizes offered for competition creating an eager incentive to win in the minds of the various competitors.

Quite a number of prizes were carried away by W. P. Ogilvie, of Vancouver, while F. D. McConnell, of the Vancouver Athletic club, and H. W. Ferguson of the Vancouver Y.M.C.A. were also prominent winners.

Excellent music was furnished all the afternoon by the Vancouver Pipers' band of some twenty musicians. The officers of the day were:

Rev. A. E. Vert, district deputy grand chief, chairman and starter.

Clerk of course, A. Adams.

Referee, A. Innes.

Announcer, George McMurphy.

Markers, W. Sutherland, J. Ross, J. MacKay.

Judges of field and track events, A. W. Gray, J. D. Rae, George Adams, J. McNiven.

Judges of pipe music, Duncan MacRae, D. Robertson, Innis Adams, Geo. Mackie and W. Urquhart.

Judges of dancing, K. Peeton, John E. Sinclair, H. McKinnon.

Field secretaries, J. Forrester, J. Muirhead.

Time keeper, W. Gifford.

Following were the events, the winners, and the prizes:

EXPERTS RACK THEIR BRAINS TO SELECT THE WINNERS

Universal Excellence of Exhibits Makes Awarding of Prizes Very Difficult Task--Splendid Attractions Draw Big Crowds to Provincial Exhibition Grounds

Ten thousand and twenty-five people passed through the turnstiles at Queen's park yesterday. For the second day of a Provincial exhibition, this comes very near to establishing a record, but if the weather will only keep fine, the attendance will be trebled before the end of the week. On Saturday it is expected that about twenty-five thousand will attend the exhibition in order to witness the great Tecumseh-New Westminster lacrosse match.

In all departments of the exhibition a great deal of interest is being taken by visitors, and the number of questions which have to be answered in the course of a day is almost beyond computation. The resources of the province were never better exemplified than at the Fair grounds, where can be seen agricultural displays,—abundant proofs of nature's bountitude—mineral exhibits, torn from the bowels of the earth by daring prospectors; splendid cattle and horses—equalled, perhaps, but surpassed never; and the ten thousand other attractive displays that tend to form one component whole of the Provincial exhibition of 1907.

The selection of prize winners in the different classes began in earnest yesterday, and from now on the judges and experts will have a busy time picking out the winners. Their work is rendered doubly difficult owing to the fact that almost all of the exhibits are of such a high standard that it is almost impossible to determine which is entitled to the premier place. Time and again yesterday the exhibits had to be looked at and critically examined three or four times before a decision could be rendered, but in every case it is safe to say that the judges made the wisest selection, even the defeated competitors admitting that in point of excellence the winners might be able to lead by a few points—but to the ordinary individual, it was very, very hard to determine where the difference was noticeable.

The attractions for today include the Vancouver-Maple Leaf lacrosse match, and a number of smaller features that appeal to the pleasure-loving section of the patrons of the exhibition. Tomorrow the jiu jitsu championship will attract to the grounds hundreds of Asiatics, eager to cheer the champion of Japan on to victory.

DOG SHOW REFLECTS CREDIT ON ORGANIZERS

Over one hundred and fifty entries were received for the first New Westminster Kennel club dog show, and almost every canine entered put in an appearance yesterday. The result of this new departure in connection with the Provincial exhibition is a great improvement upon the poultry show, which had been detriorating for years past, and which was cancelled this year because of the lack of support in at the last two or three exhibitions. The dog show leaped into popularity at one bound, and bids fair to become one of the most interesting features of the greatest exhibition in Western Canada.

The judging of the dogs was commenced yesterday afternoon, but had to be abandoned on account of the early darkness. In many cases, there was very close competition between the several entries in the various classes.

The Daily News is asked to state that Miss Maddox (the judge- will be in attendance in the Dairy building from 3 p.m. to 4 p.m. today and tomorrow, to afford any information that may be required, and to explain her reasons for the awards made in the dairy classes yesterday afternoon.

LIBERALS IN CONVENTION FORM NEW ASSOCIATION

"The British Columbia Liberal Association" is the name under which the Liberals of the province will marshall themselves in their fight for good government in future, that name having been given to the organization which was rejuvenated at yesterday's convention of Liberals from all sections of the province, held in Vancouver Tuesday and Wednesday.

The convention was the most successful ever held in the province, over 300 delegates beinfi present to assist in the work of organization. Officers were elected and committees named at yesterday morning's session. The convention concluded with a smoker held in the Labor hall last evening.

Stiff Sentence.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 1.—Frank A. Magee, Worcester, Mass., national organizer of the Foundrymen's union, was found guilty today on four counts of the complaint which alleged intimidation of non-union workingmen at McLagoon's foundry, and on each count he was sentenced to jail for six months and fined $100, a total of two years and $400. He immediately appealed.

GRAND CONCERT DREW CAPACITY HOUSE

Scottish Entertainment Was Triumph for Organizors---Every Artiste Encored.

The Opera house was filled to its utmost capacity last night, to listen to the Scottish concert, gotten up under the auspices of the exhibition directors and the Lords of the Isles camp, on behalf of whom the Rev. A. E. Vert has been working so indefatigably the past few weeks in order to gather the best of talent.

That the concert would prove a huge success was apparent from the very first number, when the pipers of Vancouver aroused the house to enthusiasm with the "Cock o' the North." R. Morrison, tenor, sang with great taste and feeling, "Afton Waters," obtaining a well merited encore, while an old favorite in Miss Ella Walker rendered "Bonnie Dundee" with all the vim and dash necessary for this stirring song, but the piece de resistance was the magnificent singing of Ben Waddell, who sang "Annie Laurie" as only a great tenor can, his beautiful bell-like notes falling upon the audience in one sweet flow of melody.

J. Henderson and A. McKay, with the Misses Mary and Lizzie Isdale, danced the "Reel of Tulloch'. This graceful dance brought down the house, the applause being so insistent that the Misses Isdale gave a Scottish reel "on their own" as an encore.

"McGregor's Gathering," a warlike song of the years gone by, was sung by J. G. Brown, a baritone, who gave it full justice.

Miss Walker and Ben Waddell followed with Holder's duet, "Lassie wad ye loe me," after an encore of which, Miss M. Vert presented Miss Walker with a handsome bouquet of flowers. A new feature for a Scottish night was introduced when the Misses Isdale danced the Spanish campanetta with the national castanets, an innovation which met with great success, the popular young dancers being twice recalled, when they gave the Spanish fan dance.

Part two of the programme opened with a humorous song in character, by Messrs. Waddell, Morrison and Brown, "O Willie brewed a peck o' maut," which immensely pleased the audience. Ella Walker followed with "The Auld House," after which the pipers gave another fine selection.

Ben Waddell charmed the lovers of good singin with g"Bonnie Mary of Argyle." The Misses Isdale danced a jig, with fully as great applause as greeted their former efforts, and in the encore naturally demanded they appeared with Henderson and Mackay in a double jig, and one of the most enjoyable Scotch concerts ever given in New Westminster was drawn to a close with character songs and patter by J. G. Brown, ending with the singing of Auld Lang Syne and God Save the King by the whole company. J. Deane Wells, of Vancouver, acted as accompanist throughout the evening.

Mr. Stewart, who has charge of the B. Wilson & Co. of Victoria exhibit at the fair, is a Scotchman and knows a good thing when he sees it. He states that New Westminster is the finest little city he has seen since he left Scotland many years ago. "I took a walk about New Westminster last Sunday," he informed the News, "and was very favorably impressed with the beautiful appearance of the lawns and flower beds. I venture to predict that Vancouver business men will before very long commence to flock to this city to establish their homes." Mr. Stewart has resided in Victoria for seventeen years.

Pat Bowler, city electrician, declares that he never had less trouble with the lights during the Provincial exhibition than is the case this year. Everything is working smoothly, and there are no serious complaints of any kind.

The Daily News will be on sale at Norman Caple's store, Industrial building, during the fair.

TRUSTEES FAVOR CITY NIGHT SCHOOLS

Convention Brought to a Close---Thanks Tendered By Delegates.

The B. C. Association of School Trustees brought its convention to a close yesterday evening with a meeting held in the council chamber, P. Peebles presiding.

Night Schools Wanted.

C. E. Hope proposed "That it is in the interests of education that the scope of the school laws of this province be broadened so as to include the support of night schools in such centres of population as might be thought advisable, either by direct subsidy to the existing boards of school trustees or by subsidizing outside public effort."

J. W. Peck, in seconding, said classes of this character, which could promote technical education, had been a desire of his for a long time.

Resolution adopted.

Compliments Galore.

Votes of thanks were tendered to the New Westminster school trustees for the manner in which they had entertained the delegates, to the mayor and aldermen, the teachers and citizens generally of the city, and the local papers for the full and accurate reports of the proceedings.

(A full report of resolutions passed is held over owing to lack of space.

BURN, OF CALGARY, WINS TEN MILE RACE

Easily Defeats Chandler, Distancing Him in Last Lap by Generous Margin.

A. J. Burn, the little Scotch road-racer from Calgary, vindicated his claim to the running championship of Western Canada, at Queen's park yesterday afternoon, by beating W. R. Chandler of Vancouver by at least 250 yards in a ten mile race. He could have left his opponent much further behind if he had exerted himself, but instead of speeding, he kept a few paces ahead of Chandler during the 19 laps around the half mile track, and then dashed away like a hare, gaining a third of a lap on his opponent before reaching the ribbon. The time was 53 minutes 41 seconds.

Both men were in good running condition at the finish, although Chandler was becoming pretty well winded owing to the pace set for him by Burn. Burn is a wonderful runner for any distance from five to eight miles, and that is his favorite distance. Chandler, on the other hand, can strike a good hard gait and keep it up for fifteen miles, and at that distance he would probably give Burn the time of his life. It was agreed between the men on Tuesday that if Burn won he was to give Chandler a return match for a distance of fifteen miles, and in case Chandler won, the return event was to be for seven miles. Burn having won yesterday, the next time these two runners meet, which will be within the next few days in Vancouver, the distance will be fifteen miles.

The actual distance covered yesterday by the runners was close to 34,400 yards, which is 800 yards short of ten miles. The track is supposed to be half a mile around, but it measures just about 840 yards.

The other runners who asked for the privilege of running with the notables, did not put in an appearance. They were Irish Schragg and C. W. Simpson.

It is understood that the management of the exhibition has refused to allow horse racing at the park during the fair because of the risk to spectators getting injured, and for that reason the trotting competition between H. L. Stover's pacer and James Montgomery's trotter will be cancelled. The race was to come off on Saturday afternoon.

EXHIBITORS SHOW WARES TO ADVANTAGE

Pick of Booths at Fair Fully Described in Paragraph Form.

The Malleable Range.

Messrs Hardman & Co. have one of the finest exhibits in the exhibition devoted almost entirely to the showing of the well known "Malleable Ranges," for which they are agents.

Judging by the number of sales already made, these stoves have become great favorites, and justly so, because only the very finest of materials are used in the manufacture, every piece of which is carefully tested before fixing. The stoves sell from $65 to $80. As an exhibit of interest to housewives, Messrs. Hardman's show is unique, and reflects the greatest possible credit on the enterprising firm.

Invitations are given to visit their large stores and warehouses on the corner of McKenzie street, opposite the Carnegie library, where everything pertaining to hardware is on exhibit.

Wadd Bros' Photos.

Little wonder need there be that such a considerable amount of interest was displayed by visitors to the Provincial fair in the exhibit of photographic work presented by Wadds Bros., of 337 Hastings street west, Vancouver. It is not too much to say that the arrangement of very high-class photographs by this firm formed an art exhibition in itself, for here was a choice selection of exquisite examples, in the form of artistic portraits of all sizes, landscapes, and exteriors, well arranged groups and some clever interior studies—always one of the mose trying departments of the photographer's work. Of all the portraits it may be said that they are perfect studies in art, in fact the larger examples justified the remark of an observer in regard to one of these, that "the cleverest portrait painter could not produce anything more lifelike and beautiful."

This particular portrait was a life size presentatin of a beautiful child which was so thoroughly realistic and perfect in its posing and expression and in the pictures delicacy of tone as to imbue it with the quality of life. If any testimony as to the high excellence of Wadds Bros' work were required in a material form, this was furnished by the judge's award of three first class prizes.

Lipton's Exhibit.

The handsome and spacious booth of Thomas J. Lipton, occupying a prominent position nearly in the centre of the main Industrial building, is, almost naturally, the Mecca of thousands of tea and coffee lovers. A very handsome display of tea and coffee, grown on the famous Lipton estates, is made by the ranks of canisters in the centre, which represent, in the shape of tea alone, nearly 6,000 lbs. A still more effective display of Lipton products would have been made but for the misfortune that a number of cases containing pickles, sauces, jams, etc., have gone astray since their dispatch from Toronto by the C. P. R. four weeks ago.

Lipton's are makin ga specialty of their 50 cent tea and coffee, and visitors are invited to partake of cups of these fine flavored beverages. Today there will be presented to every purchaser of two pounds of tea at the Lipton booth a pound of 50 cent coffee, whilst a set of picture post cards will also be at the disposal of patrons.

White Swan Soap.

Quite the most attractive exhibit in the Industrial building is the stall of the British Columbia Soap Works, of Victoria and Vancouver, manufacturers of the famed White Swan and Pearl soaps. The eye is at once attracted to the graceful motions of two stately white swans upon a miniature turf-margined pond occupying the centre of the stall, on one side of which are ranged the valuable prizes offered for competition among visitors to the fair for the nearest approximation to the weight of the two birds. The first prize consists of a handsome lady's gold watch, a massive marble clock and similar valuable articles forming other prizes. This competition is, of course, quite apart from the premium gifts awarded by the B. C. Soap Co. for wrappers of their soaps. These are home productions, guaranteed to be the purest soaps in the world. They are specially manufactured for laundry use and are warranted to be composed only of pure vegetable oils and free from any mineral or animal matter. As washers and cleansers these soaps will do far more than any other soaps. The Pearl soap, which forms a fine white tablet with a translucent, pearly appearance that is very attractive, is manufactured expressly for washing flannels, for which purpose it is as perfect a combination as modern chemical science can produce. Both these soaps are obtainable in 25 cent cartons.

Mason & Risch Pianos.

Perhaps one of the finest displays of pianos ever seen in New Westminster is that gotten up by the Mason Risch company of Vancouver. Their pianos, so widely known throughout the whole Dominion of Canada, are on exhibit at the Provincial exhibition and drawing crowds of admirers and lovers of music.

This is an age of specializing. The man who dabbles in this and that is like the rolling stone which gathers no moss. He gets a few of the rough corners taken off, but he accomplishes little or nothing. So with the business man. To get results and give the public the best returns for their investments, he must be a specializer. He must give all his time and energy to the one line which he places and keeps before the public, and satisfaction will be felt os all sides and by all parties.

This is the principle on which the Mason and Risch Piano company conduct their business. They have given their time and their money to bring the piano trade to a point of perfection. All the small lines which are usually found in a music house are tabooed within the walls of the Mason and Risch company. It is the piano trade first, last and always.

And right well may the company confine their efforts to an exclusive trade, for the Mason and Risch piano is regarded by many as without a peer on the market. It has taken time to bring the instrhment to its present form of perfection, bdt the company has now the satisfaction of seeing retnrns for their aggressiveness and enterprise. A home or a hall without a Mason and Risch piano is like a desert without an oasis.

The wheels o ftime turn slowly on occasions, but not so where the Mason and Risch company is concerned. Less than a month ago the company decided to open up offices in Vancouver, and it would indeed be a dull eye which could not discern the wonderful changes made in the offices at 659 Granville street. With their characteristic method of undertaking things, they have set out to make the offices the best of their kind in the West, and a journey through them will convince anyone that they have succeeded well in their venture. No more handsome rooms to display the latest and most perfect in a piano line could be found than in the beautifully and artistically decorated and arranged rooms of the Mason and Risch Piano company on Granville street. Even to the question of decoration the company seem to have given more than the usual amount of attention. To handsomely decorate their rooms appears to be just as important to them as to complete a sale.

The figures may startle some, but it is a fact that when the complete stock is in the show rooms of the Vancouver branch, there wil be no less than 160 instruments on view, all of them the result of the best workmanship and skill of the peerless band of experts who manufacture the Mason and Risch pianos. The large show rooms at the front of the store holds its quota of instruments, while at the rear a smaller room will contain a number of the highest class pianos.

But an announcement which should interest musical Vancouver to the highest pitch is that the Mason and Risch company is contemplating the erection of a handsome concert hall at the rear of their premises.

Mr. J. G. Whiteacre, Western manager of the Mason and Risch Piano company, is in charge of the opening up of the Vancouver office.

Mr. T. F. Brenton, who is well known in musical circles in Vancouver, is in charge of the sales department.

Mr. Thos. Morley is chief accountant and attorney for the province for the company.

The advertisement of the company on another page is well worthy of perusal.

WITHOUT PREJUDICE.

It is well to look abroad occasionally, in order that we may get a new point of view. In Canada, the critics of public affairs are so largely divided into two hostile camps, neither of which cares to give any help or comfort to the other that we are in danger of losing the power to see things in their true proportion. Something in the way of reluctant admission that the government of the Dominion is doing a litttle towards providing for the safety of navigating the waters of British Columbia, has been wrung from the McBride papers, but the net effect of their criticism has been to give an impression that the Marine Department at Ottawa is open to a charge of neglect of duty.

That is not the way in which people who look at the matter with open eyes, and not through party spectacles, view it. A Seattle paper of last week quotes and endorses the emphatic declaration of a man largely interested in shipping on this coast "that the Canadian Government is doing far more to prevent disaster, and to save the lives of those whom inevitable disaster engulfs, than the United States of America." Nor is the Seattle editor content merely to quote an expert opinion. It proceeds to "rub it in." The Canadian Government is doing its duty in the matter but the United States Government is "criminally negligent," and says, although the ships which are away on that deadly west coast of Vancouver island, "are usually American ships."

We have called this an opinion without prejudice, but it is more than that. It is the statement of one whose natural prejudice, and whose feeling about the natural prejudice of his readers, would lead him to exalt the United States at the expense of a foreign country, instead of declaring as he does that Canada is guarding for the lives of American sailors better than their own government.

RT. HON. JOHN BURNS.

The London Spectator, which is in the strongest possible antagonism to the whole Radical program, and has, therefore, "no use" for John Burns politically speaking, has this to say about him as an administrator:

"Mr. Burns was at one time represented as a Radical so violent and so flighty that no dependence could be placed upon him. Two years' experience has shown the injustice of such a judgment. * * * * We do not hesitate to say that Mr. Burns, even in the short time he has been at work, has done more to stop the pauperization of the people than any Minister during the present generation, while his enquiry into the cases of maladministration by Poor Law Guardians such as those at Poplar, West Ham, and Hammersmith, has done incalculable good in showing that corruption and the carelessness which leads to corruption, will no longer be tolerated in men who undertake public trusteeships. Mr. Burns' courage is matched by his straightforwardness. He has not attempted by any of the arts of the politician or by Parliamentary finesse to hide his meaning or to cloak his actions. He has gone straight for his point, relying upon the good sense of his countrymen to support him."

Down by the stormy Atlantic, political matters "breezed up" a little the other day. Hon. Mr. Pugsley, the new Minister of Public Works declared that the Conservatives used half a million dollars in the atempt to defeat the Liberal Government in '04, and the St. John Sun says it assumes full responsibility for all Mr. Pugsley said about the matter, and invites Mr. Borden to sue for libel.

The School trustees, in convention assembled, deserve hearty thanks and congratulations for the manner in which they have handled the text book question. It is beyond dispute that the people have been left to the mercy of the school book "trust" and have suffered therefrom a double loss. The parents have had too much "dross" extracted from their pockets and the children have had too much dross put into their minds. On both points, the convention spoke out clearly and to the point, and one may at last indulge the hope that something will be done. It is not too much to say that some of the text books in use are a disgrace to the country in their matter as well as in their mechanical makeup.

DROPS FROM CLOUDS IN GRACEFUL STYLE

Frank Brooks, of Seattle, yesterday afternoon performed one of the most graceful balloon ascensions seen on the Pacific coast for many a day, when he went up to a height of nearly a mile in the air before opening the valve and allowing the gas to escape. Gazing up into the heavens, the crowd could hardly see the figure of Brooks getting ready for the leap from his balloon, and the big mass had begun to drift downwards when the daring conqueror of the air swung clear of the car and shot downwards.

Within a few seconds the big parachute had opened and he was approaching terra firma once more. While about five hundred feet from the ground, he was caught in a slight current of air and the parachute commenced to drift towards the brickyard lying east of Queen's park. By dint of tugging at the guide ropes, Brooks managed to steer his apparatus out of the current, and guided himself towards the centre of the park, his intention being to alight in the centre of the oval. When hovering above the tents that line Sockeye Row, the parachute made a sudden drop and it seemed as if he would land on one of the canvas domes, but he manipulated the ropes sufficiently to steer clear, and just managed to land inside the oval. He received a great ovation by the crowd, which had been anxiously following his movements, and after bowing his acknowledgements, made a hurried departure for the rear of the grounds, where the big gas bag had dropped. With the assistance of two-thirds of New Westminster's young population, he packed up the canvas preparatory to having it again filled for today's ascension.

Brooks refuses to take any passengers on his aerial journey, stating that he can take them up easily, but has no facilities for bringing them down again, as there is only accommodation for one on his parachute. On his upward trip this afternoon, Brooks will be accompanied by his dog "Aero."

When not engaged in the hazardous occupation of dropping from the clouds, Brooks follows the occupation of a plumber. He was married in this city last year by the Rev. J. S. Henderson, the bride being Miss Flumerfelt of this city.

The Brownsville Red Skins defeated the Squamish Indian lacrosse team at Queen's park yesterday morning, by a score of three to two. The South Westminster aggregation is now the champion Indian team of the Pacific coast. The game was quite fast and checking vigorous, so much so that no goals were scored in the first three quarters. The Brownsvilles, however, got very busy in the last quarter and slammed in three goals, their opponents retaliating with two. Quite a few people watched the match from the fences. The next Indian lacrosse match will come off at the park on Friday morning.

A Long Game.

In the summer of 1840 Henry Clay went to Kentucky on his vacation. Three nights after his arrival at a certain springs a sociable game began. In the game were Mr. Clay, Josiah Blackburn, John Hardin and Sam Clay, a cousin of the statesman. It began on Friday night and ran along with varying luck. They were all old hands and had the nerve to back their cards. At 12 o'clock Saturday night Blackburn quit a little ahead. He had been married only two months and was afraid his young wife would think he was dead. Sunday morning at 9 o'clock some one rapped on the door. It was opened, and a negro girl stood in the hall. She had a clean shirt in her hand, and on the bosom was a note from Hardin's wife, "For Mr. John Hardin, wherever he can be found." The door was closed and play resumed. Hardin changed his linen at the table.

The Turkey Buzzard.

Some one has taken the trouble to search out an attribute of beauty in the common and repulsive looking bird known as the turkey buzzard. His flight is said to be the perfection of aerial navigation, and the manner in which he floats upon the still, soft air of the southern climes is a dream of grace and loveliness. But when he alights poetry takes its flight, and the marvelous soarer is found to be the homeliest and most unattractive of birds. His tastes are low, for he is a natural scavenger. He is bald, scraggy, rusty looking, awkward and repulsive. Pride seems to have been left out of his nature, and his manners are simply atrocious. No self respecting bird will associate with him.

SOCKEYE ROW IS MECCA OF THE FAIR

Weird, Wonderful, Strange and Startling Sights Seen on the Midway.

Racuous voiced barkers telling with grotesque exaggeration and appaling gestures o ft he wonders to be seen within, sallow skinned ticket sellers chanting their everlasting 'Allreadysteplivelypayhere' monotonous repitition, tired looking women, ycelpt beautiful Indian dancers and lovely Italian females with alluring gestures, the cry of the hot tomales seller blending with the shriek of the steam calliope, the jolly jostling crowd of easy spenders gaping open mouthed at the wonder depicted in gaudy colors on the flaring banners in front of the tents spread for a thousand feet along the race track at the exhibition grounds, such is Sockeye row, this year, last year, and year after year. Always the same, yet patronized as heavily today as it was twenty years ago or will be twenty years hence, the Midway is part of every fair, the happy hunting ground of the fakers and the pitfall of the innocent. All hail to Sucker Row.

Starting at the extereme north end of the row, take a walk along and glance in at each as you pass. Yucatan, the Chinese mandarin, compelled to flee from China beacuse he stepped on the Emperor's shadow, will show you the great and only Chinese dragon in captivity outside of the Celestial empire. This monster arrived in America eight weeks ago, and is fed entirely on Japanese snakes.

Zee great Oriental dancers come next. These are being exploited by Auguste Sala, not the original of that name, and comprise three dancing girls and two Turkish war dancers. The cause of the Turk's dance is not clear, but it is plain that anyone seeing him dance will feel inclined to committ murder and thereby provoke a war. The women are clever dancers What? Of course they do, can't even see their ankles you naughty, naughty man.

The electri lady has a msall teepee all to herself. She greatly shoked the News man yesterday—physically, of course. He's too hardened a sinner for anything else to affect him.

The Six Specially Selected Siberian Spitz-Spurnzitz dogs (they answer to the names of Sprix, Sripx, Sirpx, Srpix, Spirx, and Siprx) can do everything that no sensible canine should ever attempt, but the poor brutes went crazy when they were named. They cannot sneeze.

Morton, the great glass eater, offers $250 reward to anyone proving him a fake. Anyone needing the money has full liberty to hit him with a cleaver. If the glass is not inside Morton, he wil lhand over the money. What more do you want.

In the vicinity of the summer tobaggon slide a number of insurance agents have taken up their pitch. They are doing a roaring business.

The petrified woman occupies a tent all to herself. She gives everyone the stoney stare.

Sureyoucan Nosiree, the only living son of Jo-Jo, the dog-faced boy, does the quick stunt behind a circular hole in a big sheet. You have the privilege of pitching baseballs at his nut, if you miss him you can buy more shots, if you hit him you get arrested for brutal assault.

One man is trying to induce passersby to pitch things at Maud, but her reputation is aginst her. There are very few Si's in the vicinity.

And—the ladies will please retire for a moment—there is also the marvellous Tinnitoe, the famous mironic dancer, who guarantees to cure tootnache by the marvellous power of auto suggestion. There are five other girls supporting her. You're wrong again, friend, leastaways, they don't call it by that name now. Its the Seereenelee Saroolah this year.

Besides these, all the old familiar money extorting devised are there. The knife you tried to ring at the Dominion exhibition is still tempting hundreds every day, and the boy in charge is as positive as ever that if you ring it you will get it.

Through culpable negligence, a Siwash got a prize at the press-the-bulb and-win-something stand yesterday afternoon. An experienced man has now taken charge.

Strikers Quarrel.

Regina, Sask., Oct 1.—There is some dissension in the ranks of the fifty carpenters who struck here yesterday, and this is likely to result in the failure of the strike. Twelve firms have signed the agreement recognizing the union, but five of the larger firms refuse to do so, and as the labor supply is plentiful and building operations will not be affected to any extent, the trouble is not likely to last. The places of the striking carpenters have all been filled by other men.

Nicomen, Oct. 1.—The fisheries steamer "Swan," which was snagged and sunk in the DesRoche slough over a month ago, was Saturday safely salvaged by Messrs. F. Robinson and Graham, who recently bought the sunken boat from the government by tender. They succeeded in getting a cable around her and with a hand-winch and tackle beached her sufficiently for thme to repair the hull. The damage proved to be a very small hole (not large enough to admit of a billiard ball); this having been fixed, she was baled out, and shoved into the water again with the aid of a jack-screw.

The young men are being congratulated on their acquiring so good a boat at a nominal price, plus a little enterprise.

It is understood that as soon as the water on Harrison rapids will admit of it, the steamer will be taken up to Harrison lake and will engage in the towing business there.

WARNING

BEWARE OF OPTICAL SHARKS, WHO MAY OPERATE AT THE EXHIBITION.

These optical parasites make a business of operating at exhibitions, and are past-master fakers.

They owe allegiance to neither state municipality or its citizens. They pay neither taxes or rent, but like all "gulls" they are ever on the wing, excepting when gathering from their victims the necessary for locomotion. They know nothing about the eye or the science of optics, and care less, so long as they can relieve the unsuspecting of their hardearned money.

If your eyes are troubling you and you have not the time to come to an eye specialist like Dr. Jordan (Vancouver), then spend your money with your local optician, and at least have the satisfaction of knowing you stand a chance of getting some degree of satisfaction, which you cannot hope to get from fakers. SO BEWARE!

often wonder why the boy or girl is so backward at school—and naturally feel disappointed that the child is so dull; then, too, the loved one is subject to harsher treatment at school because he or she seems so stupid. It may be the fault of the child, or it may be the child has defective eyesight and is therefore at a disadvantage because the sight is not normal. What we want to say to the mother is: Send your child to us. We will have our optician examine and test the eyes to see if the poor sight can not be improved by the use of glasses. We will be honest with you and the child. If glasses are not needed, we will tell you so. The examination and testing will not cost you a cent. We have the appliances for testing and correcting all kinds of poor sight, and can supply glasses at your own price. Our charges are about half what some others charge. Our optical department is in charge of F. W. Heath, graduate optician, late of Ottawa. In all cases satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

DRIVERS CANNOT TIE UP THE MINES

Mayor Planta, of Nanaimo, Discusses Trouble Between Company and Employees.

Mayor Planta, of Nanaimo, who is also a school trustee for the Coal city, attended the convention of British Columbia School Trustees held in the city Monday, Tuesday nad yesterday evening. Yesterday he made a friendly call at the News office, and in the course of a conversation expressed himself as being highly pleased with the New Westminster exhibition, comparing it flatterly with the recent Victoria exhibition. He was sorry that he was called upon to return home without being able to spend several more days in this city.

Discussing the trouble of the Western Fuel company, of Nanaimo, and the drivers who are employed in the mines, he said that the company came to an amicable settlement with the miners empolyed in the same industries at a representative meeting of the men and owners held last week, the drivers agreeing to the conditions

Acouple of days later, they made a demand for increased pay, asking for $3 a day. The present rate of wage is $2.85, this being a substantial increase upon the money they were receiving a few weeks ago.

Commenting upon the situation, Mayor Planta said: "While I have all sympathy with anyone trying to better their conditions and get as much for their labors as they can, yet in this case I can't help thinking that our drivers are making a mistake. In the first place they are a part of the employees and as such attended our meetings and had a representation on the committee that helped to draw up the agreement, and when that agreement was presented by the committee no particular objections was made on behalf of the drivers, and when it was finally submitted to a secret ballot they took part in the voting. This in honor bound them to abide by the result. But instead of agreeing to the vote of the majority, they held a meeting of their own and passed a resolution to quit work uness they get more wages than what is provided for in the agrement.

It is hardly possible that the officials will isten to their claims, indeed, I can't possibly see how they could, which means that if the drivers live up to their resolution of quitting work the men will all be idle for an indefinite time.

"No company wants to be forced to pay more than those operating mines around them. And it is admitted on all sides that the Western Fuel company is now paying more for drivers than any other coal company in Canada. As was pointed out on the Green last Saturday, they are paying at least 3 per cent. more than at Extension, Cumberland, or Crows' Nest Pass. While it was pointed out in the State of Washington drivers were getting more than here, yet I don't think the comparison was quite fair.

"The drivers not being skilled workmen can easily be replaced at the mines, but we will give all the employees a chance to reconsider their decision first."

Mayor Planta is a large shareholder in the Western Fuel compnay.

NURSES SAVE HOSPITAL.

Brave Women of St. Thomas Fight Flames Heroically.

St. Thomas, Ont., Oct. 1.—The Amasa Wood hospital here had a narrow escape from destruction at 4 a.m. and was saved by the nurses. The fire originated in an old trunk full of clothes which stood in the hall on the third storey, and when the flames were discovered they had eaten through a partition and consumed a wardrobe in an adjoining room. The alarm was given and the nurses, seizing the fire buckets, went willingly to work. When the city firemen arrived the blaze was entirely under control. The patients were kept in ignorance of what was going on.

Rich Traces of Radium.

Geneva, Oct. 1.—A newspaper states that Prof. Joly has completed a geological examination of specimens of the strata collected from borings for the Simplon tunnel. He found rich traces of radium, indicating larger deposits than any hitherto discovered in Europe.

He believes that the presence of these deposits caused the abnormal heat experienced in building the tunnel. He predicts that continued research will prove the world's supply of radium is greater than was supposed.

FLOWERS AND FRUIT MAKE FINE DISPLAY

Keen Rivalry Between Exhibitors in Cut and Pot Flowers---Indians Exhibit.

In the Agricultural building judging was the order all day yesterday, and on the lower floor, among the flowers and plants, it has been a very hard task for the judge, L. F. Henderson, to award the prizes. The flowers and plants shown in the amateur classes are of an exceptionally high class, and there is quite as large an exhibit as has ever been shown previously. In cut flowers, the dahlias, pompon, cactus, decorative and show, are all fine speciments and each variety is very well represented. In the carnations there is an exceptionally good display, both in the light and dark varieties, while in the begonias the display is of the very best. Roses are not much in evidence, except in bouquets and sprays.

Great Taste in Flowers.

In the arranged flowers and designs there is the finest exhibition that has ever been here. The arrangement, choice of colors and material, show great taste and a perfect knowledge of the possibilities of both the combination of colors and stock. The shower bouquets and baskets of flowers are particularly worthy of notice, while the bridal bouquets, button-holes, sprays, crosses and other funeral designs are all that could be wished for.

Among the plants the same high standard prevails, all of them showing the care and attention that has been expended on their culture. There is a particularly fine specimen of the brugmansia, or angel's trumpet.

Keen Rivalry.

The professional exhibits are all very good and show how keen the rivalry in flowers is, and the collection of ferns and palms are well worth attention.

Indian Display.

All round the wals of the Agricultural building are the displays of the different districts, competing for the district prize, and the rest of the floor is taken up by the exhibits of M. I. Henry, who has a large exhibit of aparian's supplies, bulbs, cut flowers, and trees; the Langley Indian display, which includes basket work, bottled fruits, jams, bread, vegetables and field produce; the Kettle Valley Irrigated Fruit Lands company, limited, who sends down an exhibit from west of Midway and around Rock Creek. W. Rennie & Co., of Toronto, are exhibiting their seeds and bulbs, while Ashael Smith, of Ladner, has a large exhibit of some fifty varieties of potatoes.

The government experimental farm at Agassiz has a stand here, but as an exhibit it is a long way behind former years' showing, the only prominent feature about it being a collection of seventeen jars of nuts grown upon the experimental farm.

First-class Fruit.

Up stairs the fruit is on display, and though there is plenty of room for more as regards quantity, the quality is well up, the judge, L. F. Henderson, remarking that a more healthy or perfect lot of fruit would be hard to find, this being no doubt to some extent due to the work of the government officials during the early spring, in insisting on the spraying and pruning of the fruit trees.

Wonderful Grapes.

There is a very fair show of individual plates of fruit, but the grapes are a wonderful show, by far and away above anything shown here before, the judge hardly believing such grapes could be raised here, especially some that were sent here from Spulmacheen.

There is a much better showing of quince than in the past, but the commercial display has dropped to two competitors, and the same number compete in the classes for packed fruit for shipping. The smaller number of entries this year is largely attributed to the cost and scarcity of labor.

It would be unfair while mentioning the flowers, to omit mention of the way the flower beds and lawns have been kept at the park, and the credit they reflect on the park keeper, R. Robinson.

Fined for Killing Pony.

Montreal, Oct. 1.—George Abbott, of St. Lambert, who smashed a polo pony's head with a club, was found guilty today and sentenced to fifteen days with a fine of $52.
