WINE FROM CHINA.

Product of New Industry to Be Sold in 1908.

London, June 25.—From a publication just issued by the foreign office it is learned that China is about to enter the world's wine market for the first time. The cultivation of grapes for wine has been going on experimentally for ten years on the shores of the Gulf of Chili, where acres are planted with black and white grapes from every wine growing country in the world.

The results have been satisfactory, despite some attacks of phylloxera, and the cellars belonging to the vineyards are now stored with thousands of casks of wine, duly inscribed with description and date. None has yet been marketed, nor will any be sold until the autumn of 1908.

A British official who visited the vineyards and reported to the foreign office tested both red and white wines, which, he says, are excellent. The enterprise was started by a wealthy Chinese residing in the Straits Settlements under the direction of Baron Von Babo, an Austrian expert.

SALMON FISHING.

Victoria, June 19—The work of taking spring salmon has begun in earnest. Yesterday thirty tons of spring salmon from Findlay, Durham and Brodie's traps at Otter point and the Bell Irving trap was landed at Linderberger & Co's mild-curing establishment on the inner harbor. Other scowloads of fish are expected today by Weiss & Co., and also by Linderberger & Co. Capt. Rucker's gasoline steamer Baldy brought the largest lot of fish yet landed, bringing 18 tons of fine spring salmon from the Otter point trap. The weather has been rough for the past few days, and this has delayed the completion of other traps, but within the next few days it is expected that all will be ready.

TWENTY PLAYERS JOIN THE BAND

City Asked to Assist New Westminster Musicians—Merchants to Subscribe.

New Westminster will again have a capable band this summer, arrangements having just been completed by J. P. Rushton, bandmaster, for the services of twenty capable players who will devote two evenings every week to the practice of music in a room to be reserved for that purpose. Mr. Rushton intends to increase the strength of his band to twenty-five members as soon as he can get the musicians.

Yesterday afternoon, Mr. Rushton called upon Mayor Keary and discussed the matter of receiving a grant from the city with him. In past years, the city band has always been assisted materially by the city, and from the expectations held out by the mayor, Mr. Rushton is confident that he will receive not only fair, but also generous treatment this season. Last year, the city band received the sum of $250 from the city, and a like amount has been put in the estimates for this year, but Mr. Rushton will, at the next meeting of the city council present a petition asking for an increased subsidy, as he is under heavy expense in maintaining his band at its high level of efficiency. Each concert given costs on an average $42, all the musicians drawing union pay. There is every probability that the increase asked for will be granted.

It is Mr. Rusnton's intention to give Saturday night concerts on Columbia street, and for this purpose, the merchants are to be asked to contribute the small sum of 50c a month for a period of six months. By this means it is expected that something in the neighborhood of several hundred dollars could be secured during the season.

British Can Hear "Mikado."

London, June 19.—The prohibition against the presentation of "The Mikado" has been entirely withdrawn, according to an announcement made by Home Secretary Gladstone in the house of commons yesterday.

BUILDING WILL START MIDDLE OF JULY

Nurses' Home and Maternity Cottage, Part of New Hospital, to Cost $10,000.

About the middle of July, work on the building of the two new additions to the Royal Columbian hospital will be commenced. A nurses' home, capable of accommodating twenty nurses, and a maternity cottage, with accommodation for twenty cases at one time, will be rushed to completion as soon as possible, in order to relieve the congestion which has been existing at that institution for a considerable time past. These two additions will cost in the neighborhood of $10,000. Work on the new hospital building will not be commenced for some time yet, as the amended plans, presented to the hospital board yesterday afternoon by Architect Edwin G. W. Salt, may have to be changed in some of the details. The plans have been photographed by W. T. Cooksley, and a copy of the photo will be forwarded to the unknown philantrophist who has offered to donate a large sum of money towards the new building. Mayor Keary said yesterday that the time was not yet ripe for the publication of the generous donor's name.

The meeting yesterday occurpied a considerable time, and was attended by James Cunningham, in the chair. Mrs. A. J. Hill, Mrs. Pearce, James Johnston, Maxwell Sinclair, and W. H. Keary, secretary. A deputation from the Women's council, consisting of Mrs. Dauphinee and Mrs. R. H. Gordon, waited upon the board with a request for assistance from that body in the arranging of an entertainment which the ladies propose to hold for the purpose of raising funds. After considerable discussion, it was decided that a conversazione and ball would be given under the joint auspices of the Women's council and the board of managers of the Royal Columbian hospital some time in November.

Maxwell Sinclair, on behalf of the special committee appointed to look over the kitchen and other arrangements at the Vancouver General hospital, reported on the result of the committee's investigations, and his report was embodied in the minutes.

A letter from the Women's council was received notifying the board that Mesdames Hill and Broad had been appointed to act on the board on behalf of the council for the ensuing two months. The board appointed Mrs. Hill, Maxwell Sinclair and James Johnston on the visiting committee for the current month.

Following is the lady superintendent's monthly report:

To the president, and board of managers, Royal Columbian hospital.

Ladies and Gentlemen: I beg to submit herewith, statement of patients Royal Columbian hospital, for the month of May, 1907: Number of patients in hospital, May 1st, 47; discharged, 59; died, 3; admitted during May, 58; remaining May 31st, 46; number of patients treated during May, 105; number of hospital days 1607; number of maternity cases treated in cottage, 19; received from paying patients, $1,006.70; number of patients in hospital today, June 19, 39.

Masons Convene To-day.

The thirty-sixth annual convocation of the A. F. & A. M. will open today in the Masonic Temple, Vancouver, when from 130 to 140 delegates, representing forty lodges from all parts of the province, will be on hand to take part in the openig ceremonies.

The city of Vernon had been selected for this year's convocation, but owing to the fact that the Masonic hall there had been burnt last winter, and the new one could not be built in time, it was decided to convene in Vancouver. The local members who will attend the covocation are as follows: T. J. Armstrong, Dr. R. Eden Walker, Dr. DeWolf Smith, G. Cunningham, Sr., Newton Brown, C. C. Fisher, W. E. Vastone, W. Dashwood Jones, C.A. Welsh, J.A. Lee, N. Nelson, P. Sampson, W. E. Cunningham, G. Brine, A. Munn, A. McKercher, D. W. Gilchrist.

48 YEARS AGO.

Forward Brought Future Notables to Victoria in 1859.

Victoria, June 19. — Forty-eight years ago Tuesday, the good steamer Forward from San Francisco, dropped anchor in Esquimalt harbor having on board a large number of pioneers, too many, alas, of whom have since gone to their reward. In that number were included several who were to play an important part in the affairs of the then colony, among them John Robson, afterwards premier of British Columbia, Major de Courcey, whose name was so closely associated with the embroglio over San Jose island; Jos. Clearihue, C. Major, now of New Westminster, Mrs. Sears, and Alex. Wilson, who still survives to recount the interesting story of these days.

The party came by the way of the Isthmus of Panama, and thence by coasters to San Francisco and on to Esquimalt. The day on which they landed was identical in character with that obtaining today so far as climatic conditions were concerned, which would seem to indicate that even at that remote day Victoria climate was a well nigh perfect article.

Ralph Smith May Retire.

Nanaimo, June 19.—Ralph Smith, when asked if he is going to take the position of superintendent of Indian affairs for British Columbia, said he is not in a position to discuss the Indian question at present. He admitted that the matter was being pressed on him. It is believed here that Smith wishes to retire from public life.

One of the lady residents of Ramage street informed Chief McIntosh yesterday afternoon that a gentleman friend had walked away with six diamond rings and a bracelet, in all valued at $100. The police are looking into the matter, but as the woman was unable to furnish a description of her visitor, it may be, that some difficulty will be experienced in tracing the stolen goods.

SENIORS WILLING TO MEET ATHLETICS

Friction Between Amateur Baseball Teams Result of Scrub Match.

Soothing syrup and a big box of salve is badly needed among the players of the Vancouver Athletic baseball team and the New Westminster seniors at the present time, everybody on these teams being sore over something or other, and as a result, the remainder of the scheduled games for the season are in danger of being cancelled.

The whole trouble started over the game at Recreation park on Tuesday of last week, when the local bat artists wandered to the Terminal city several men shy, and played a game against a picked-up team. The Athletics had been advised beforehand by Manager Cunningham that Westminster could not send its regular team, as some of the best players could not get away, but the Vancouver men insisted on the game being played, as the grounds could not be secured at any other time. Six enthusiasts accordingly made the trip, borrowed three players from Vancouver to make up their team, and lost the game by one run.

The defeat of the local team was blamed on the catcher, who was a borrowed man, and the Athletics got a score over this, and let the Westminster men know it. A scheduled game on Tuesday evening was abandoned, the Terminal city ball pounders deciding that New Westminster should go over and get licked before they would come here.

Speaking to the News yesterday, Manager Cunningham remarked that the Westminster men were ready to replay the game lost in Vancouver any time, and would do so if the Athletics desired it. He maintains that with his full complement of players, the Athletics will be put all to the bad when next the teams meet. He is willing to take the team over any day the Athletics care to name.

With the limited number of amateur ball teams in this vicinity, it would be a pity to see a wrangle over a scratch team match lead to the cancelling of the remainder of the games this season.

TWO WEEKS' NOTICE WAIVED BY BOARD

License Commissioners Transfer Occidental Hotel License, Not Advertised.

At the meeting of the license commissioners last night in the city hall, the chief business was the matter of granting a license for the new Russel hotel, now in the course of construction, and an application for a transfer of the license of the Occidental hotel, from J. Chappell to David Hammond who has lately completed the purchase of that business.

The report of the license inspector J. W. McIntosh, was read, showing a very satisfactory state of things. Mr. McIntosh stated in his report that he had thoroughly inspected all the hotels in the city and, with the exception of two, had found them all in first class condition, the furniture and fixtures were all good, the liquor bylaw was strictly observed and things were being run on good clean business principals. He also recommended that Mr. Faders' application be granted.

The two mentioned by Mr. McIntosh as requiring a little attention in the way of remodelling were the Holbrok and the Merchant which he reported as needing some slight repairs, such as kalsoming and papering. The proprietor of the Merchants hotel was there in person, and the matter being brought to his notice by the mayor, as chairman of the board, he undertook to have the repairs suggested in the inspector's report attended to immediately.

E. J. Fader's application was accompanied by a letter from that gentleman, in which he regretted that illness had necessitated his absence from the meeting, but he did not think that his interests would suffer on this account. He had perfect confidence in the commissioners, and felt sure that his application would receive just consideration. He also stated that the hotel was not being built for speculation, but as a straight business proposition, as he was of the opinion that this city needed a new up-to date hotel. The petition accompanying the application was the largest ever presented to the license commissioners, it having 176 signatures, all from responsible business men.

Mr. Fader's communication having been read, the commissioners, upon the suggestion of the mayor, adjourned for five minutes to discuss matters in private. At the expiration of the time, the members of the board returned and business was continued. It was then moved and seconded that the application of E. J. Fader for a liquor license for the Russell Hotel be granted. The motion was carried unanimously.

The next matter taken up was the transfer of the license of the Occidental from J. Chappell to D. Hammond. This application should have been advertised in the local papers for two weeks, and the mayor drew the attention of the board to this, as it had only been received yesterday.

Mr. Broad moved that the transfer be granted, and in supporting his motion, stated that the deal had actually only been put through yesterday, as that was the day when the money was received by Mr. Chappell for his establishment. The contracting parties knew that the commissioners were meeting on Wednesday, and had decided to apply for a transfer, hoping that the two week condition would be waived in this case, so as not to keep the license running on in Chappell's name until the next meeting of the commissioners.

Commissioner J. Jaggers seconded Mr. Broad's motion, and the transfer was granted without further comment.

Commissioner Newton R. Brown wished the license inspector to state whether the law regarding the serving of meals in connection with the retailing of liquor was being observed. Mr. McIntosh replied that it was, with the exception of the Central and the Fraser, in which places he considered that not much inducement was given to customers to purchase meals. In both places the dining rooms were small and the staff insufficient to be able to do business.

In closing the meeting His Worship complimented the hotel keepers of the city on the excellent report of the license inspector, and stated that he did not wish the hotel men to feel annoyed or to take offense at things which passed at the meetings, as the commissioners were only trying to perform their duty in the best interests of the city. He was pleased to see that the by-law was being strictly observed, and hoped that it would continue so, as it made things a lot easier for the commissioners, and was better for the interests of the hotel keepers.

Those present last night were Mayor Keary, chairman; commissioners J. Jaggers, F. Broad, Newton R. Brown and W. Townsend. Several of the local hotel men were also present.

BOYS WENT FREE.

Warned Against Meddling With Electric Motors in Public.

Andrew Gray, of Keefer, and John Bulman, of Jubilee, two young lads accused of tampering with a motor on one of the B. C. E. R. tram cars, appeared before Stipendary Magistrate Pittendrigh yesterday morning.

V. Laurson appeared on behalf of the B. C. E. R. company and A. C. Brydon-Jack defended the boys, who entered a plea of not guilty. The magistrate having heard all the evidence, which failed to prove the youngsters guilty of any criminal intent, dismissed the case, not, however, without warning the boys about meddling with things they did not understand. Capt. Pittendrigh also cautioned the conductor, "I don't see why boys should be allowed on the rear platform at all," he said and also "conductors should be very particular about allowing persons to place their hands on the controller as acts of this kind might endanger peoples' lives."

The youngsters were then allowed to go, but it is not probable that they will forget the experience or the magistrate's warning in a hurry.

Clarke-Campbell.

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized yesterday morning at the West Presbyterian church, tastefully decorated for the occasion, where, in the absence of Dr. Taylor, the Rev. W. J. Kidd, of Prince Rupert, united in the bonds of matrimony George Clarke of Grand Forks and Miss Kate Campbell of this city.

The bride, who was unattended, looked very pretty in a gown of pointe d'esprit over white silk, with white carnations in her hair.

The happy couple left by the afternoon train for their future home in Grand Forks. The large number of gifts received testified to the high esteem in which both young people are held.

BOILING METAL SPILLS OVER MAN

Austrian Encased In Slag After Awful Accident—Recovery Doubtful.

Trail, B. C., June 19.—An unfortunate Austrian named Schewerzi may die as a result of being severely scalded yesterday by boiling slag. He was pulling one of the large iron pots of slag, or boiling waste matter, from one of the furnaces and while going backwards slipped. The molten contents of the pot were poured over his lower limbs and part of his body. As the metal cooled it hardened, burning away the clothing and eating its way deep into the flesh.

The victim was placed on a stretcher and immediately conveyed to the hospital where he passed the night in agony. He may recover, but will remain peacefully secured.

Still Burning.

Copenhagen, June 19—A land owner named Christophersen, said to be a religious fanatic, and desiring to die as the reformer, John Huss, saturated himself with oil and set himself on fire. He was cremated.

Commissioner Coombs, commanding officer of the Canadian branches of the Salvation Army, will be in this city at the beginning of next week, and will lecture on Monday in the Queen's Avenue Methodist church. The lecture will commence at eight o'clock, and a general invitation to all interested is issued. Commissioner Coombs has a reputation as a speaker that stretches from Halifax to Victoria, and is better posted on the work of the army in Canada than any other man in the Dominion.

MISSING INDIAN SUGGESTS MURDER

Billy Harry Supposed to Have Been Killed by Siwashes at Friday Harbor.

Nanaimo, June 19.—Officials of the Indian department have invoked the services of the provincial police in an attempt to solve a mystery of the sudden disappearance of a Kuper Indian named Billy Harry.

Billy Harry was a member of the village on the east side of Kuper island, which lies in the gulf near Nanaimo, and was a young man of good habits and respectable character, the hope and promise of his tribe.

The Kuper island and Cowichan Indians, with the remnant of the Saanich tribe, do a great business in the clam trade with American fishermen on San Juan island.

The story is that Billy Harry, accompanied several members of his village tribe to Friday harbor to dispose of a few days' catch. While at Friday harbor a drunken spree began and among the profligates were two Indians with whom Billy had a row two months ago in which he got the best of them. They never forgave him.

The day after his arrival Billy was missing, and search failed to discover his whereabouts. Some of the Indians said he had taken a canoe and gone back home, but this was doubted. On their arrival at Kuper island village, Billy had not been seen, and alarm for his fate was general.

Two Cowichan Indians report having heard Billy having angry words with two other Siwashes, and that the sounds came from the end of the Friday harbor wharf. They say they heard Billy say, "Let me alone, let me alone," and then they heard a splash as of a body thrown off the wharf, and then all was still.

BIG BLAST.

Six Hundred Pounds of Powder Used at Grand Forks.

Grand Forks, B. C., June 19.—Wall & Creelman, the well known railway bridge contractors, have just been awarded the contract to build the passenger depot for the Kettle Valley Line railway on Third street. This station house will be one of the best in the interior of the province and will cost approximately $5,000.

Arrangements are now in progress whereby the C. P. R. will run an excursion into this valley from Eastern points early this fall for the purpose of giving intending purchasers of fruit lands a chance to see the valley. The excursion will be under control of the Grand Forks Twenty Thousand club.

Three hundred and fifty pounds of black powder and 250 pounds of dynamite were used a couple of days ago in the largest blast ever recorded in railroad building in this district. The shot was fired by Contractor Tierney, who is building the spur on the C.P.R. to the Rawhide mine.

Lunacy Commission Needed.

Lansing, Mich., June 19.—An incident occurred in the house the other day which made the members sit up and take notice. Carl E. Bailey, stenographer of the Hillsdale circuit, which was recently separated from Tenawae county, had a bill introduced cutting down his salary from $1,600 to $1,400 a year. His reason is that with a much smaller circuit to attend to he does not feel that he is entitled to his present salary.

Anarchs in Session at Rome.

Rome, June 19.—The anarchists here obtained permission from the police to hold a conference which is now in progress. Many delegates are in attendance. The [illegible] where the congress is held is decorated outside with black and red flags. The program which has just been published contains an affirmation that anarchists are bound to combat religion, which, like governments and capitalism, represents authority.

Mrs. Besant Wins Fight.

Kansas City, June 19.—Mrs. Annie Besant of Adyar, India, the noted writer and lecturer on matters occult, has been elected world president of the Theosophical society to succeed the late Col. Henry Steele Olcott, formerly of New York, according to a private cablegram received in this city today from London.

GEORGIA CANNOT GET MEXICAN CARGO

Steamer Arrives at Vancouver, but No Freight Will Be Sent South.

Vancouver, June 19.—Just to show the people of Vancouver that there is really a steamer on the subsidized run between this port and the Mexican west coast points, the steamer Georgia has been brought into port. She is now anchored in the stream off the C. P. R. wharf, and will likely remain here till July 1, when she will sail for Ladysmith to bunker. She is scheduled to depart for Mexican ports on Saturday, July 6. She has already made one trip between this coast and Mexico, though this is her first appearance in Vancouver.

"We did not bring the Georgia here to load cargo, as there is not a pound of freight offering for her in Vancouver," said J. H. Greer, agent for the Canadian-Mexican line.

"The lumber mills here turned down an order for twenty million feet of lumber for Mexico—they would not even consider it for delivery alongside the ship. The order has gone to the sound, where much of the cargo taken south by the Georgia on her first trip came from. On that trip she also had freight from Victoria and New Westminster. The people who desired to place that lumber order in Vancouver were prepared to increase it to 30,000,000 feet—delivery to be spread over a number of months. Ultimately these people will take about 75,000,000 feet of lumber from the sound for construction work in Mexico."

HALF DAY MATCH.

Vancouver Cricketers Cannot Play All Day on Saturday.

The all-day cricket match, slated to take place on Saturday between the Vancouver Cricket club and the New Westmintser Cricket club, will not commence at ten o'clock as originally intended, the Vancouver men finding it impossible to arrive at that early hour. In consequence of this, the match will only occupy half the day, play will commence at two o'clock in the afternoon. Out of the three games played this season by the local team, one has been won, one lost, while the last had to be abandoned on account of the weather.

The following will form Saturday's team: F. J. Peers, captain; W. Morris, H. J. Davis, E Bacchus, W Barlow, J. H. Vidal, A. Howard, C. Williams, C. Purvis, P. C. Lashmar, G. W. Schrouder. Reserve, A. H. Turner and Harvey.

DIDN'T LIKE THE MAN.

Seattle, June 19.—What is believed to be by the immigration officers the first case of its kind on record occurred yesterday on board the Tosa Maru when Tomi Sugi, a Japanese Geisha, refused to marry Katsuyoshi Sugi, who had sent to Japan for her.

Katsuyoshi is a resident of California, and sent to his friend in Japan to pick out a wife for him. In the letter he enclosed his picture, which was given to the bride-to-be. When Tomi arrived on the Tosa she had the picture with her, but when Katsuyoshi appeared he was so unlike the picture that when the inspectors asked Tomi whether she wished to marry the man, she replied that she didn't. A special board of inquiry has been called and will investigate the case before sending her back to Japan. Katsuyoshi still has hopes that Tomi will change her mind and become his bride.

RIGHT OF WAY.

When we ventured a few days ago to offer the civic fathers some advice about the care which should be exercised in granting rights of way along the waterfront, we did not anticipate that the soundness of that advice would be so speedily demonstrated. The article referred to appeared in the Daily News last week and was called forth by the application of the B. C. E. Railway for a right of way along Front street; last Monday evening, the council received a similar application from still another railway company. There are already two railway lines (C. P. R. and V., W. & Y.) on Front street, so that the granting of these applications would mean four tracks, and that would mean either very expensive work (and probably more expensive expropriation) or the complete giving over of Front street to railways. It may be taken for granted, too, that on Front street as it now is, room could not be found for all the lines which will desire to run there before this day ten years; so that a "common track" arrangement now would appear to be the best plan.

We do not mean to dogmatize, however, on such a technical matter as railroading; our dut yis to point out that the near future will see a number of railway companies seeking right of way along the water front, and as three tracks at least will be required to accommodate them, even on the "common track" plan, it is evident that every grant which conveys anything in the shape of a vested right will be just another complication in the knotty problem which some one will have to solve by and by, and probably at no very distant date.

WHY THEY WOULD SECEDE.

It appears that the people of "New" Ontario, who want a province of their own, are moved to make their demand by certain conditions which are practically identical with those under which the people of this province have suffered for years—suffered without protest, meekly bowing their necks to the yoke, so far as a majority of them are concerned. The Globe has been making a special investigation of the matter and it finds that the "chief grievances put forward by the settlers are the want of good roads, the burden of education, and the conflict of interest as between the settler on the one hand and the lumberman and the miner on the other. So far as their grievances are concerned, there is no difference in kind between those of the settlers in the Rainy River district and those of the settlers in northern Ontario generally. Everywhere over a wide and rapidly-expanding area the conditions are similar; everywhere the settler finds himself handicapped by the same conditions and hampered by the same natural limitations and the same factitious restrictions. When he takes up a farm he does not own either the timber that grows on his land or the minerals that lie beneath its surface. How this long conflict of interests shall be settled is for the Legislature to say, but the time has arrived for an equitable settlement of some sort. To put off the matter any longer will only add to the difficulty of applying whatever remedy is provided by legislation."

AN ECONOMIC LESSON.

The Toronto Globe put the text for quite a long lecture in economics into the opening sentence of a editorial, the other day:

"It would be somewhat innocent and confiding, after the discouraging experience of a generation, to expect any material relief from competition among private corporations exercising franchises monopolistic in their nature."

That is the citadel—monopoly. Get a monopoly of something the people must have, and you can put up your name at the Plutocrat's Club forthwith. There are always of course, more or less favorable circumstances and conditions; a good deal can be done by exercising the right sort of "influence"; a protective tariff helps wonderfully in many cases; but moncpoly is the neverfailing means—the lead-pipe cinch, as the vernacular has it.

PACIFIC PREPARES FOR COMING CLASH

War Cloud Hovering Over Japan and America Brings Navy to Coast.

Washington, June 19.—Victor H. Metcalf, secretary of the navy, will leave Washington, June 29, for Puget sound, in connection with the recommendation of Admiral Dewey. He will make a thorough inspection of the condition of the Pacific coast navy yards and shipbuilding plants, especially with a view to re-establishing the 4 per cent. differential in bidding for the construction of warships on the coast, formerly allowed by the department. It has been realized in Washington that the high prices of labor and material in the west make this desirable.

Washington, June 19.—Comprehensive plans for putting the United States navy in a state of preparedness for any emergency were today sent to Secretary of Navy Metcalf, for immediate dispatch to the president.

By special direction of the president, the general board of the navy, of which Admiral Dewey is the president, has been in session for several days discussing the steps necessary to insure the presence of the war fleet, in fighting condition, at the point where it could render the most effective service in case of an emergency; and the board has now formulated and handed to Secretary Metcalf a series of recommendations, which include the following:

That the entire battleship squadron of the navy be concentrated on the Pacific coast.

That prompt measures be taken to improve to the highest possible point of efficiency the shipbuilding plants and dry docks on the Pacific coast, even to the extent of taking these plants and docks under government control, if that be found necessary.

Other recommendations of similar tenor are included in the plans submitted to Secretary Metcalf today.

While these plans have been prepared by the navy board at the direct request of the president, it is not certain that they will be approved by him. But the fact that he thought it necessary to seek counsel from navy experts at this time is regarded here with the utmost significance and has stirred navy circles to an unusual degree of activity and interest.

Nor is this likely to be lessened by the announcement made today that on the 29th inst. the secretary of the navy will leave for California, where he will make a special study of naval conditions on the western coast, and that a joint naval and army game is shortly to be inaugurated on the Pacific slope for the purpose of ascertaining what success a foreign foe would have in passing fortifications and entering certain specified ports with landing expeditions.

Information here is to the effect that in Honolulu and Manila orders have also been issued to put more energy into the work of fortification in the two harbors than has heretofore been shown.

Immediate interest, however, attaches to the recommendations of the navy board and, therefore, of Admiral Dewey as well, that our complete force of battleships be concentrated in Pacific waters.

The board has many times expressed the opinion that the greatest usefulness of the battleship is attained when such vessels are maintained in squadrons in the places where they are most likely to be needed.

EAT NEMO AND LIVE

TWENTY-FIVE DEAD.

Scranton, Pa., June 19.—Eight dead bodies have been recovered and it is believed that fifteen or seventeen miners and laborers who have not been accounted for are dead in the Johnson colliery in Dickson city, a suburb of this place.

An explosion, caused by a boy, a doortender, lighting a cigarette, is believed to be responsible for the disaster. Most of the dead were horribly mutilated. In one case, Frank Bordack, a miner, had his head blown off.

The accident happened in what is known as the "diamond vein," the lowest level in the mine. It is 800 feet below the surface and the workings extend a mile from the shaft. At the time of the explosion there were forty-six miners and laborers working in the twenty-three chambers, and in addition to these there were drivers, helpers, and doortenders. Earlier in the day there was a slight explosion in the mine which should have been a warning of the prevalence of too much gas.

This explosion of gas was followed by a second ignition of the black damp, as the miners term it. It is believed that this second explosion caused the larger part of the casualties.

The explosion was not heard outside the mine, although those near the cage knew something had happened. In a few minutes, the shouts of retreating miners as they fled toward the entrance warned those near the cage there had been a disaster. It was discovered that between fifteen and thirty men were not accounted for.

At the mouth of the mine as soon as the news was heard the greatest excitement prevailed, and soon a crowd of nearly 2,000 persons had surrounded the colliery. The explosion was followed by fire. This was extinguished in a few minufes by shutting off all air in the chambers affected, and in a short while a rescuing party, headed by Mine Foreman O'Hara, was sent down in the cage.

There was a long wait of tense agony to the women and children and the friends of the missing about the gates, and then the signal was given and three men who had been injured were brought to the surface. The next signal of the bell for the cage resulted in the bringing up of a couple of bodies.

St. Andrew's church members will hold another of their delightful entertainments Friday night in the lecture room of the church. The entertainment this time will take the form of a strawberry festival and an excellent musical program is being arranged, in which considerable of New Westminster talent will assist. One of the chief features will be a quartette, four of the city's most popular singers taking part. Several duets have also been arranged as well as a number of other musical selections and recitations. An admission fee of twenty-five cents will be charged.

A post mortem examination and coroner's inquest held yesterday morning on the body of the unknown man found floating in Pitt river resulted in a verdict to the effect that the deceased had come to his death by drowning in a manner not known to the jury. The only articles found on the body were a silver watch and chain, a $10 Royal Bank of Canada bill, $3.75 in silver, several trinkets ad a small brooch, bearing a photograph the jury decided was of the man himself. The brooch is now in the possession of the provincial police, where it can be seen by persons interested in the case. The funeral took place from Mr. Murchie's establishment yesterday afternoon.

The assault case which was brought up by one of the Chinese residents of this city against three youngsters, was dismissed yesterday morning by Magistrate Pittendrigh, the Chink having to pay the costs of the court. The evidence went to show that the boy, Stanley Mack, whom the Chink had summoned, was not the one who had struck the Chinaman, but young Fred Eastman, who smote the heathen in the eye in return for a blow received from a stick in the hands of Wo Bi. The Chink was far from pleased when the magistrate's decision was translated to him, and indulged in a steady flow of talk, which was probably not complimentary to the court.

The fisheries committee of the board of trade of this city will meet within the next couple of days to consider the report of the president, W. R. Gilley, concerning the blocking of the river channel by the fishermen during the fishing season, which report was made at the last meeting of the board of trade. A deputation will be appointed to interview inspector Sword of the fisheries department, to obtain assistance from the government in keeping the channel clear and an endeavor will be made to have a clause inserted in the license rendering the license liable to cancellation should the holder violate the regulations regarding an open channel.

VANCOUVER TO HAVE NEW C. P. R. DEPOT

Company Cancels All Waterfront Leases—Will Build Great Sheds on Wharves.

Vancouver, June 19.—Terminal facilities adequate to the enormously increased demands of the city of Vancouver are about to be provided by the C. P. R. Plans have been perfected that will result in an entire remodeling of the water front from the present C. P. R. freight and passenger docks around to the old Albion iron works at the foot of Westminster avenue.

A terminal station, equal to anything in the west, will be built on, and just back of, the space now occupied by the Evans, Coleman & Evans company. The present depot buildings of the C. P. R. will be used as general offices only, as the vast volume of freight and transport business will be handled, so far as working details are concerned, in the new yards and buildings.

An unbroken line of docks, with the necessary sheds, will be built to connect those at present owned by the C. P. R. with those about to be acquired by the termination of the Evans, Coleman & Evan's lease. Smaller holdings, such as those of Armstrong & Morrison, at the Vancouver Granite company's frontage; the Union Steamship company; Andy Linton's boat house, Edward Cook's slip and works, and others, will be swept away to make room for the contemplated improvements.

A vast amount of filling in along the water front will be necessary, and this work will be carried out on a scale that will practically remodel that part of the city.

This will bring the C. P. R. up to the section secured by the V. W. & Y. for their inlet frontage, and when that company completes its wharves it will mean a magnificent sweep of traffic facilities along the entire city frontage on Burrard inlet.

That the decision of the C. P. R. to extend its wharfage to the east and to use that section for freight and passenger terminals will have a tremendous effect on realty values in the neighborhood is of course at once apparent. The effect will first be seen in close in property in the east end and on Water and Alexander streets, and North Vancouver property is also certain to be effected.

The first steps have already been taken toward the terminating of all leases covering the waterfront now to be used by the C. P. R. in its gigantic undertaking.

Fire at Cloverdale.

A disastrous fire occurred at Cloverdale Tuesday afternoon, when the large two story house belonging to Mr. Smith was burnt to the ground. The fire had obtained considerable start when first noticed, and when it was seen that the owners and several other residents could not succeed in checking the flames, the mill was closed down and the mill hands all turned out to assist.

Notwithstanding the heroic efforts of the impromptu fire brigade, the flames gained the ascendency, and though the volunteers worked to the last, the large building was completely destroyed.

It will practically mean a total loss to Mr. Smith, as very little insurance was on the house and none on the furniture; all of which was either consumed by fire, or so badly damaged by smoke and water as to be completely ruined. Among the effects, was a valuable gramaphone and about two hundred records. The cause of the conflagration is supposed to be a spark from a train, which passed the place shortly before the fire started.
