Grand Rally in St. Barnabas Room Roused to Enthusiasm by Liberal Speakers

GIFFORD ASKS TO SPEAK FIRST AND THEN LEAVES

Howay and Farris Make Telling Speeches and Are Warmly Applauded by Appreciative Audience.

Every chair was taken in St. Barnabas parish room last night, when the meeting, held in the interests of Mr. Howay, the Liberal candidate, was called to order by A Hardman, the chairman. The fair sex of the neighborhood was largely represented and altogether it was a meeting that showed by its close attention and enthusiastic applause, that it had seriously and soberly weighed Mr. Howay, his character, reputation and record, and found him not wanting in any particular necessary to the make up of a clean, progressive and worthy representative of the Royal City.

The first speaker to address the audience was Mr. T. Gifford, government nominee, who repeated practically verbatim his speech of Monday night which may be read in yesterday's News. Mr. Gifford spoke first at his own request as he was not feeling well, and wanted to get away. He left as soon as his speech (which occupied about 15 minutes) was finished.

J. W. de B. Farris, one of Vancouver's coming members in the Legislature, spoke next. Although he is a young man and without much experience in campaign speaking, Mr. Farris' speech was a stirring and eloquent denunciation of the methods of the McBride government. In a few short minutes he made Gifford's arguments, so-called, look like a week-old meal-ticket. Mr. Gifford, he said, had utterly failed to show any connection between the prosperity of the country and the Conservative administration. The government candidates were raising a great cry about outside domination, in fact were making it one of the chief issues of the campaign; but this was only a red herring across the trail to direct the people's attention from the record of the past three and one half years. Because McInnes had come from Ottawa to run in Vancouver, the Tories were asserting that the Dominion government was trying to get control of the province. Such argument was childish, continued Mr. Farris, as it could, with equal logic, be said that Mr. McBride had entered into some unholy alliance to turn British Columbia over to Uncle Sam or to introduce Tammanny Hall political methods into the local campaign because he (the Premier) had come from New York shortly before the elections were announced.

Touching on the bridge question he said if the government had collected the $750,000 in back taxes owing by the C. P. R., there could be no difficulty about doing away with the tolls. He scored the government heavily on its rotten policy in connection with the disposal of timber limits to speculators. He denounced Tatlow for his action in so knocking the Midway to Vernon railway project that the capital behind it withdrew its support and the scheme fell through. The Pulp Act and the government's action in the Columbia-Western deal were scathingly condemned. The speaker after referring to Tatlow's statement in the News-Advertiser, where that gentleman is quoted as practically admitting that he would consent to another alliance, if necessary after the election with the Socialists, Mr. Farris sat down amid a general outburst of applause and cries for more.

J. S. Rainey, the Labor candidate, on arising was greted with applause. He described the campaign, looked at from the party politics standpoint, as a fight between the Conservatives and Liberals to see whether the railway boss of one or the other party should be allowed to have power. He described his own position as that of a representative of the workers, assuring the audience that he was in the fight to win and that he had no use for either party. He severely criticized the government for retaining in its employ the fishery expert Babcock, who cost the country far more than he was worth and who persistently advised against the best interests of the bona fide Fraser fishermen. He made reference to some statements he had heard at Monday's meeting, which struck him as rather remarkable to say the least. Mr Gifford had said that McBride had been the cause of the general prosperity the country had been enjoying for the last year or two, but Mr. Bond qualified this remark by saying that McBride had allowed it to come (laughter).

Mr. Howay's rising was the signal for a general outburst of applause. He was pleased to see so many of his friends out and thought that he needed no introduction as they had all known him for years. Before taking up provincial matters, he would turn for a minute to notice the attempts of his Tory foes, to make political capital out of his stand on the Coquitlam timber question which had been so much discussed in last year's council of which he was a member and also his report on the city's title to the water front lots, which had been made at the request of the Dominion government. As far as the Coquitlam matter was concerned, he thought the position he had taken was the right one; that he was not ashamed of it and would do exactly the same if the occasion arose again. With regard to his report re the water lots, he was convinced that he had stated that strongest case possible for the city. (Applause) Turning to matters political, he drew the audience's atention to the peculiar position in which Mr. Gifford now stood as Conservative, supporting a Socialist-Conservative government and contrasted this position with that in which he posed as a Liberal and supported McBride. The speaker showed by the records of the House that Mr. Gifford had voted 63 times during his last term and that on 62 out of the 63 occasions he had obeyed McBride; but that once he baulked. This was on Hawthornthwait's famous "red wig amendment" when Gifford had refused to follow his leader and voted "red" In 1903, the Conservatives, in order to hang on to office formed an alliance with the Socialists and through the latter's domination the country at large suffered. The E. & N. belt were exempted under the new School Act and its share of taxation distributed over the whole province because Hawthornthwaite and Parker Williams wished it to be so. Numerous instances were cited in which injury was done the country at the whim of the Socialists. "The government speakers," said Mr. Howay, "are trying to bring in outside matters to obscure the real issue which is whether the McBride government, in the last three years, has acted in such a way as to justify the country reposing trust in it a second time. I say it has not." (applause). The government must be judged by its record. He showed that the Assessment Act was oppressive and inequitable. McBride states that he has not raised the taxes on the working class, but rather on the corporations. He showed by the estimates that McBride's statement was untrue. For instance, Mr. Howay said the S. & O. Ry. cost $25,000 a mile and we are still paying interest on the bonds but the railway is only taxed on a basis of $10,000 a mile. He referred to the recent article on British Columbia politics which appeared in the London Financial News, and said that, although he passed no opinion on it, the fact remained that Mr. Gosnell, late McBride dispatcher from Ottawa, and sometime of Colonist fame, was in London at the time of the appearance of the article. Mr. Gosnell was also interviewed, but that is of no weight some people in New Westminster have been interviewed. Mr. Howay was sorry that Mr. Gifford had not had time yet to answer the questions he put to him on Monday, but he (Howay) was going to continue asking until he received some information. He then took up the matter of the bridge. He had Mr. Macdonald's promise that the Liberal party was pledged to a free bridge upon their coming into power (applause). Mr. Howay then showed that the freeing of the bridge from toll, which Mr. Gifford had protested was impossible to accomplish, represented only a sum of $3,000 a year, after the revenue was deducted from the estimated cost of maintenance. Yet the government which boasts a surplus could not accomplish this. Mr. Howay closed with a stirring appeal to those present to vote for him on Feb. 2nd, not because he was a lawyer or was not a working man, but because he was a Liberal who would work at all times for the right, as he saw it, and for New Westminster. Three rousing cheers for Howay brought a most successful meeting to an end.

Coast Patrol Boat.

The United States government will award a contract early next month—bids are to be opened on Feb. 6—for the construction of a life-saving tug to be stationed at Neah bay, where a life saving station will be established by the United States government. The tug, which will be equipped with wireless telegraphic apparatus, will be 152 feet over all, 139 feet between perpendiculars; moulded beam, 29 feet; depth at side 17 feet; displacement to mean load line, 844 21 tons. She will be equipped with engines capable of producing 1,200 horse power, with a single screw. She will have all the equipment for saving life.

BRITAIN IS ANGRY AND INDIGNANT

About the Insult Offered to American Commander Who Went to Help at Kingston.

London, Jan 22.—The failure of Governor Swettenham to keep the authorities here informed as to the exact situation in Kingston, and deferring explanations as regards his conduct towards the American relief party, has caused much irritation in official circles. "Sir Alexander Swettenham," the Evening Standard says, "committed an unpardonable blunder in writing a letter to the American Commander, which bore all the appearance of a studied insult. Even if he received vexatious provocation, no justification can be urged for the letter. The only course it leaves to him and his countrymen, is to apologize to the nation to whose officers it was directed."

The Feast of St. Valentine.

A Valentine Fete will be held in the St. Patrick's hall on Feb. 13 and 14. The Woman's Auxiliary of the Royal Columbian hospital have the matter in hand, and a large meeting was held the day before yesterday at which Mrs. C. A. Welsh, president of the Woman's Auxiliary, presided. There will be various sale tables; the bargain table in particular promises to be well patronised.

The main feature of the fete will be the Valentine booth, which will be arranged as a post office in charge of Mrs Rothwell, Mrs. Lyle, Miss Briggs, Miss MacGowan and Miss Hannington..

Afternoon and high tea will be served each day, and in the evening there will be the entertainment.

The first night will be a minstrel show and the second night devoted to amateur theatricals, and as the object of the fete is a most worthy one, it is hoped that the public will liberally patronize it.

The Women's Auxiliary decided yesterday to give an order for two dozen shirts to be sent to the hospital for the use of the men patients.

The returns from the small savings banks, and the fees collected yesterday amounted to $17.00

Very Polite.

Referring to the Hon. Geo. W. Ross' appointment to the Senate, Premier Whitney said: "I do not care to comment upon his public career. I do not think that would be in good taste at the present time. I hope Mr. Ross will live a long time to enjoy the comforts of a seat in the Senate."

The date for the election of a writ for the necessary bye-election to fill the vacancy in West Middlesex caused by Hon. Mr. Ross' appointment will be discussed by the Cabinet in a few days.

There was a report that Mr. Wm. Stewart, who was Mr. Ross' opponent in the last election, will contest the riding in the Conservative interests in the bye-election.

RAILWAY BUILDING INDICATES GROWTH

Branches Are to Be Constructed From Government Railway in Northern Ontario.

The Temiskaming & Northern Ontario Railway Commission is contemplating the construction of branch lines to the Larder Lake district and to the district variously known as Portage Bay and Mud Lake. Inspections preliminary to the commencement of surveys for both branches are now being made. The line to the Larder Lake district, where some remarkable finds of gold have been made, and where much development work will be done this season, would run from Englehart and be twelve to sixteen miles in length. The Portage Bay line would be about five or six miles in length and run either from Gillies Depot or Cobalt. The present and prospective outlook along the routes which these lines would follow fully warrants their construction as early as possible.

Another Eruption.

Tokyo, Jan. 22.—News has reached here that the volcano Asama-Yama, in the Island of Hondo, has been in active eruption since last Friday.

POINTERS

The Tory papers have settled the matter in advance, and pour out columns of vainglorious boasting about the big sweep they are going to make Feb. 2d. We simply say: The Liberals are satisfied with the situation, and, day by day, their satisfaction grows.

"Gifford and McBride's prosperity" is not the prosperity of British Columbia.

Free traffic bridge this spring. No more holding up the men coming to market. Feb. 2d will fix it.

Can people lie and run at the same time? The fact that the Tories have begun to lie recklessly shows that they are on the run. Keep them going.

The latest Tory story is that the Ottawa government is backing up the McBride government and approving of its actions. What next?

If the World has the right end of that Pine River coal land story, balloting on Feb. 2d will be even more of a form than we anticipated.

FARMERS REBEL AGAINST RAKE-OFFS

Agriculturists in Illinois Form Union In Order to Escape Exactions of Middlemen.

Chicago, Jan. 22.—Years of dreams in which formers have seen themselves thoroughly unionized, dealing with the consumer in Chicago through the agency of local unions without assistance from the arbitrary middleman are to be realized within thirty days.

The plans for beginning the experiment here were practically completed by representatives of American Society of Equity, the Farmers' union at yesterday's meeting of the Chicago Federation of Labor. Under these plans the promoters of the scheme expect to be in a position within a month to ship to Chicago, hay, butter, eggs and such other farm produce as are to be found in the country at this season of the year.

The Federation of Labor is acting as the clearing-house for the farmers' produce.

The executive committee of the federation and the Farmers' union representatives met Saturday and decided that the Chicago clearing house should be in charge of a man appointed by each body.

Several grocery stores in every part of the city will be selected as the representatives of the clearing house, and they will be permitted to sell the products at a profit of 10 per cent.

Two applications for water records was filed yesterday in Water Commissioner' C. C. Fisher's office by Indian agent R. C. McDonald. One was in the interests of the Indian residents on the Seymour Creek reserve for 20 inches of water from Seymour Creek and the other was for the Indians on the Sechelt Indian reserve. So many water applications have recently been filed for water on streams adjacent to the various reserves that the Indian agent has come to the conclusion that unless something is done to reserve some for the Indian population, they will soon be compelled to use whiskey or other manufactured liquids, as the plan of the white residents seems to be to monopolize every available drop of water throughout the country.

NEW YORK BANKERS MOVE AGAINST USURY

Will Make an Effort to Render Illegal any Rate of Interest Higher Than Six Per Cent.

There is under way a great movement among bankers who can look further ahead than one day to make usury a crime. They also propose to make an agreement among the principle bankers of the world to regulate the money rate. It is understood that in connection with the movement to have congress pass a bill for elastic currency, the New York legislature will be asked to repeal the law which legalizes any rate charged on call loans which are based on stock exchange collateral. Bankers are beginning to realize that it is not the banks that get the advantage of usury, but the big depositors in the banks, who, whenever money gets tight, draw out their balances and lend them through stock brokers. This upsets the orderly market for money, deprives the banks of funds legitimately theirs and gives the public the impression that banks are exterting usury. Many western banks are responsible for some of the queer money rates seen on Wall street. Through outside agents they lend their balances on the stock exchange and send the borrowers to the New York banks to get the money. As agents do not always disclose their principals the borrower is frequently led into the belief that he is being forced to pay, say 25 per cent. to a New York bank at a time when the bank is publicly, and, in fact, lending money at no higher rate than 6 per cent. Bad feeling is thus stirred up, and, as the New York law legalizing usury is to blame, the repeal of this law will be the first step towards clearing the situation. "Six per cent. or jail" is the slogan of the call money reformers.

Japan for Peace.

Tokyo, Jan. 22.—In accordance with the indications shown in the budget for the next fiscal year of the Government's desire for economic and peaceful development it is now declared that Japan favors the submission of the question of disarmament to The Hague Peace Conference.

Who Said

BOVRIL ?

SAYS SPECULATORS HAVE GOBBLED LAND

Along the Line of the G. T. P., and Will Hold up the Settlers When They Come in.

"A great menace to British Columbia is the wholesale acquisition of fine land in the interior by foreign and home speculators, which is now going on. Rich valleys have fallen into the hands of syndicates that will hold them till the influx of immigrants through the mountains, over the Grand Trunk Pacific. Then they will feed on the settlers by asking their own prices."

Thus spoke H. Helgeson, Dominion fishery inspector, whose headquarters are on the Skeena. He went on:

"Scores of people in the Skeena and Bulkeley districts have complained to me of the manipulation by these speculators of the land available for settlement, and the general opinion is that the manipulation will have a detrimental effect upon immigration and settlement when the Grand Trunk Pacific comes through. Although the provincial government will only allow so much land to be taken up by one person, the speculators are getting over that by the use of ficticious names and are obtaining what they want with the greatest of ease. It appears very much as if immigrants will not find land waiting for the worker, but speculators waiting for the settler."—The Albertan.

Dr. Johnson's poor health so affected his eyes that they were dull and lifeless, of a watery blue.

The Same Advice.

"Do you give your son good advice?" said the solicitous friend.

"Yes," answered the somewhat sardonic person. "I give him the same good advice that my father gave me and that my grandfather doubtless gave him. If we keep passing that advice along from generation to generation perhaps we shall eventually find somebody who will take it."—Washington Star.

FALSE AND FOOLISH.

The Columbian last night printed an article headed "As to Mr. Babcock" in which it makes a number of very reckless and some very silly, misstatements. Take this sample:

"Who appointed Mr. Babcock? The Dunsmuir government, in 1901.

Who joined the Dunsmuir government after this appointment, saying that it was the best government we had had in the province? Mr. Brown."

It is true that the Dunsmuir government appointed Mr. Babcock, but the rest of the statement is absolutely false. Mr. Brown had ceased to be a member of the Government before Mr. Babcock was heard of in British Columbia.

Suppose it were true, however, what would it amount to? The point is the official recommendation of the McBride Government in 1904.

Then we have the childishly silly statement that Babcock had no power to injure the fisheries of the Fraser until it was given by the Laurier government in appointing him a member of the fisheries commission. The fact, of course, is that his position as fishery expert of the McBride government made it impossible for the Ottawa government to pass over him in appointing the commimssion. The first intention was to make him merely a sort of adviser to the commission but the influence of certain good Conservatives in British Columbia was exerted to have him made a full fledged commissioner.

There are the facts, and further facts are that the McBride government issued, under official sanction, from the government printing office, before the commission was appointed, official reports calling for the closing of salmon fishing entirely in the years 1906-7-8, and further calling for the absolute prohibition of salmon fishing above New Westminster bridge for all time, and that neither the Columbian nor Mr. Gifford dared to utter so much as a whimper in protest.

Mr. J. W. deB. Farris can count on a good reception whenever he addresses a New Westminster audience. His clever and forcible speech at the West End meeting last night has made him many friends here.

Among the letters of Raisuli which have been captured is one from the Sultan, written only two months ago, promising his entire confidence and support. There is nothing surprising in that. It is only a common device of oriental politics, the one day praise, the next the knife. The method is not even confined to the east. In recent years several leading citizens of New Westminster have made personal acquaintance with a past-master in this North African style.

According to the Swan River Star the settlers of Pelly district, 50 miles northwest of town, have shown a progressive spirit that is hard to beat. Although the district has hardly been settled four years and there is no market within twenty or thirty miles the farmers have already installed their own telephone system, using barb-wire fences for the purpose. H. L. Probst is responsible for the innovation of the barb-wire fence telephone which, he claims, has been operated successfully in rural districts in the States.

Expects Amicable Setlement.

Tokyo, Jan. 22.—In a speech before the House of Peers, Marquis Saionji, touched on the San Francisco school question. He said this government is making every effort to effect a settlement of the school question, while the American government is trying to reach a satisfactory solution.

He consequently looked forward to a satisfactory adjustment.

AN INDEPENDENT OPINION.

To the Editor of the Daily News:

Sir,—I was rather surprised to see that no mention was made in your report of the Conservative Rally held at the Opera House last Monday on the superbly patrosizing manner in which Mr. See 'Em Woodworth referred to our city. In opening, he spread out his arms as if to bless his audience, informing them how delighted he was to leave the hustle and bustle of stirring Vancouver and come to our quiet little town. He was promptly thanked by one of the audience.

But what surprised me most was his pedegogic utterances on the geography of North America, he told us where the Panama Canal was, and then laboriously took us along the coast, not forgetting the Golden Gate to the Yukon; but my! we did miss the stereopticon views. Then, as if this was not sufficient for a long suffering audience, he dilated on the plains of the Northwest Territories, but of politics in British Columbia hardly a word. If Mr. See 'Em is a specimen of the big wigs of the Conservative party, the sooner we get rid of them the better. What we want are facts about our own province, not infant class lectures on geography. Perhaps I am wrong in writing this, as nothing can help the Liberal party more than to have people compelled to sit and listen to such twaddle from the Conservative speakers.

Yours Faithfully,

CUM OCULO.

Obituary.

A large number of citizens were present at the funeral of the late A. M. Malins, which took place yesterday afternoon. The impressive Anglican service was conducted in Holy Trinity Cathedral by Rev. A Shildrick, and as the funeral cortege left the edifice, the audience arose as the strains of the "Dead March in Saul" pealed forth from the organ. The greatest sympathy is felt for the bereaved widow and the family of the deceased. A. Malins was prohibited from attending on account of a severe attack of the prevailing epidemic. A large number of vehicles followed in the funeral cortege, as the remains were carried out to and interred in the Anglican cemetery.

The chief mourners were the father-in-law of the deceased, H. O. Brown, and the brother-in-law, J. P. Hampton Bole.

The pall bearers were Messrs. M. M. English, J. G. Brymner, J. R. Grant, F. J. Coulthard, T. A. Graeme and G. B. Corbould. Wreaths, sprays, and other floral emblems were sent in great profusion. Among them were contributions by H. O. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Hampton Bole, Hon. W. Norman and Mrs. Bole, Mr. and Mrs W. H. Keary, Mr. and Mrs Beveridge, Miss Pittendrigh, Mr. T. S. Annandale, Mrs F. J. Coulthard, Mr. and Mrs L. A. Lewis, Mr Edward Johnston, F. Cotton, and family, Westminster Club, Mr. and Mrs Arthur Malins, Mrs M. M. English, Mr. and Mrs James Leamy, Miss Brennan and Mr. Brennan, Dr. and Mrs. J. Harold Jones, Mr. T. W. Shadham, Mr. and Mrs E. A. Graeme, Mr. and Mrs J. B. Brymner, Mrs Henry Doyle, Mrs. J. C. Armstrong, Miss Freese, G. E. Corbould and others.

Death visited St. Mary's hospital yesterday and claimed E. W. McStay, aged 75 years, who had been in the hospital for about three days. The man was very weak and succumbed to a severe attack of la grippe. He was a native of Ireland and came to the west coast in the year '62. The greater portion of that time was spent in Olympia, Wash., where he made his home. It is understood that he had no relatives on this continent, all being still in Erin's green isle. The funeral will take place from St. Peter's church tomorrow, whence the remains will be taken to the Roman Catholic cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs Job Davis are mourning the death of their little daughter Alma Cecilia, aged three years. The little one had been ailing for some time. The funeral will take place today from Murchie's undertaking parlors.

The funeral of James Spiers of Port Kells, who died in the hospital yesterday, will take place tomorrow from Murchie's undertaking parlors. The remains will be interred in the Masonic cemetery.

Chills and Hot Baths.

Hot water bathing is beneficial in counteracting the effect of a chill. First, it undoes another mischief worked by the chill. The latter has sent too much blood internally, so risking congestion. Heat brings the blood to the surface. Heat is not life, but it is one of the factors of life. Indeed, dissolution always occurs when the internal bodily temperature is greatly lowered. Heat will not keep a body alive and great heat will kill it. In many morbid states of the system, as rheumatism, hot baths are of great service. Warm baths are useless. The heat should be as great as can be borne without pain.

Fakirs.

Fakirs is the name given to a celebrated class of fanatics found in many parts of the east, but more particularly in India. Some of them will make a vow to continue all their lives in one posture and adhere to it strictly. Others never lie down, but remain in a standing position all their lives, upheld only by sticks or ropes under the armpits. They pretend to have subdued every passion of mortality.

Pins.

An exchange asks, What becomes of all the pins? Why, they fall to the earth and become terrapins.—Atlanta Journal.

The "Man" Who Minds the Cows.

In the Basque country the children begin to work at an early age. They learn to tend and guide the oxen, which are used entirely for agricultural and draft work, and as if by instinct obtain complete control over the animals while barely able to reach their heads. The sturdy urchin of four years is up at daybreak, and barelegged and bareheaded he goes with the cows to the pastures. If one should stray on to a neighboring patch he is after it with his long stick and Basque adjurations and brings it scampering back, generally holding on to its tail meanwhile.—Strand Magazine.

The Spiers case is still postponed. It is not known definitely when it will be brought up, but it is expected to come on in the near future.

Owing to a severe attack of the grip, Magistrate Corbould was unable to attend the court, Magistrate Pittendrigh taking his place, yesterday.

Mr. Alex. Speck, has received permission from the city council to lay building material on the street and will commence immediately to convert the old Vulcan Iron works into an up-to-date automobile garage.

Shall we have Local Option? Hear Dr. Chown on the question.

The boys at Fire Hall No. 1, are taking turns at getting the Jap Matsuda ready for his coming match with Swanson. They report the Jap in excellent condition, and are very sanguine, as to the issue.

This afternoon at 4 o'clock, Dr. Chown will hold a conference in the lecture room of Queen's avenue Methodist church with the members of the Ministerial association, the W.C.T.U., the R. T. of T., and any interested temperance workers who may care to attend.

A good story is told around town, in which the joke is on the coal dealer. It appears that two men were in partnership in the coal business and they had been boosting prices and otherwise trying to get rich quick. One Sunday one of them strayed into a church and became converted. He went down to business the following day prepared to talk to his partner and persuade him if possible to be of a like mind. The partner thought for a few minutes and then said, "Well, Jim, I have no objection to becoming converted, but, if I do, who will weigh out the coal."

W. A. Dashwood Jones, is another of the sufferers from the recent heavy snow fall. The weight of snow was so great that it broke in the roof of his greenhouse which is seventy-five feet long. The result is that all his choice plants are destroyed and it will be necessary for him to start all over again or else go out of business. It is not long since Mr. Jones slipped through the roof of his greenhouse and cut his hand so badly that he nearly died from loss of blood. Mr. Jones says he wishes that the snow had broken in the greenhouse roof before he fell through it, he would be money in pocket.

Lectures on the Tabernacle of Israel, illustrated by chart, will be delivered each night this week in the Gospel hall on the corner of Sixth avenue and Ninth street, with the exception of Saturday evening. The subject for tonight will be "The Golden Bars, Altar and Lamp." Christians of all denominations cordially invited.

Good music. Seats free. Free admission to the lecture by Dr. Chown of Toronto.

An attempt is to be made today to release the Beaver and the Transfer from durance vile in the bone yard, where they have been tied up during the cold snap. It is understood that the C. P. N. Co. is trying to secure the services of the Dauntless to clear the track and make way for the release of the captives. It is also rumored that the Beaver will be put on the down river run as soon as there is any possibility of getting through. The Transfer will take a still further rest until the river is clear enough for the Beaver to resume its regular up river run.

The toot of the Dauntless' whistle was heard yesterday once again and many of the old steamboat men pricked up their ears and smiled as though it was the sweetest of music. The vessel found some difficulty in getting in from the bend on account of the passage which was cleared a few days ago, blocking up with drift ice. The vessel took hold of the proposition quietly and carefully, and in a short time managed to work through The ice was heavy and in spots, very thick. The scow which the vessel brought in contained a cargo of 240 tons of Nanaimo coal. More is expected in during the week.

Remember the old pledge you signed and come up and hear Dr. Chown on the Liquor Habit tonight in Queen's avenue Methodist church.

This evening at 8 o'clock, Dr. Chown, secretary of the Temperance and Moral Reform association will address a meeting in Queen's avenue Methodist church. He will deal with matters of vital importance to the parents of the city and citizens in general. The regular mid-week prayer meetings in the various churches have been cancelled in order that all the members may have the opportunity of hearing Dr. Chown's lecture. The lecturer's head quarters are in Toronto and he has been sent to the west to tour the province, speaking wherever opportunity presents itself in the interests of the society he represents, and the country at large.

Dr. Doherty, superintendent of the Provincial Asylum, has just returned home from Spokane, having been in conference with the Deputy Attorney-General of the United States as regards the new law regarding insane patients who are citizens of the United States, and are at present confined in Canadian institutions. One patient who has been proved an American citizen has been already turned over to the U. S. authorities, and Mr. McDonald, the deputy attorney-general, informed Dr. Doherty that they would accept all patients who were U. S. citizens, provided they had not been in Canada more than two years. Dr. Doherty expects being relieved of fourteen more patients in the near future.

Dr. S. D. Chown, of Toronto, is a talented speaker, and will repay your attendance at the meeting tonight in Queen's avenue Methodist church. No admission charged.

A gentleman who came in from Seattle yesterday, lodged a complaint that he had lost a gold watch on the Pulman car while coming in from Seattle. He stated that he put the watch under his pillow an went to sleep. He woke up in the morning in time to change on to the C. P. R. train at Sumas, and in his hurrry came away without his watch. He wired back immediately on discovering his loss and asked for the car to be searched and the missing property held for him. The negro porter was communnicated with, who was in charge of the car at night. He stated that in making up the berth he saw absolutely no sign of a watch or anything else belonging to his late passenger. The loser of the watch is now trying to figure out just where he could have left the timepiece.

Delay In Divorces.

"The underlying reason why so much time usually elapses between the filing of petition and the hearing or trial in divorce proceedings is not generally understood," remarked a lawyer who makes a specialty of this character of practice. "Perhaps it is within the circle of truth to say that in a majority of cases, if either husband or wife, whichever side be plaintiff, should 'stop, look and listen,' as it were, the trouble would be adjusted out of court entirely. As a rule, judges are inclined to afford ample time for domestic partners to ponder well before pursuing further toward legal redress for matrimonial difficulties. 'Divorce in haste and repent at leisure' is a logical paraphrase. Of course, if after mature reflection a different opinion does not ensue, the average jurist would favor progressing the suit."—New York Press.

Might Be Worse.

When the poet Wordsworth died an old lady at Ambleside lost no time in telling the mournful news to an old and confidential manservant. "Ey, ey!" quoth Thomas. "It's a gre't loss nae doot, but efter a' it may not be sic a parlish loss as ye're coontin' on. Mrs. Wordsworth, they say, is a gey, clever body, and she'll be carryin' on the business, we may be sewer."

Confidence.

Father (to aspirant to the hand of his daughter)—Suppose I should fail and lose my last cent, would you still ask me for my daughter? Lover—Naturally. I know you to be a man capable of getting to work again and making another fortune.—Il Mondo Umoristico.

No matter how witty the sarcastic man is, he never seems to have a lot of friends.—Somerville Journal.

STOPPED THE OVATION.

Richard Wagner's Peculiar Experience in Vienna.

When Wagner was at the height of his popularity he visited Vienna. Baron von Beust, then chancellor of the empire, was informed that the Prussian party intended to give him an immense serenade—a serenade which would have the air of German protest against the tendency of the ministry to make the union of Hungary and Austria more intimate. The demonstration promised to arouse strong feeling.

"Your excellency is warned," said the chancellor's advisers. "It is impossible to stop this manifestation unless Wagner goes away, and he loves ovations too well. Nothing will induce him to depart."

"You think so," said Beust, with a smile.

An hour later Wagner was invited to dine with the chancellor. He was flattered by the invitation and accepted it. After dinner, at which Beust was delightfully affable and entertaining, the chancellor remarked: "Herr Wagner, are you interested in autographs? I have some very curious ones to show you." And he opened a portfolio where were letters of Palmerston, Bismarck, Napoleon III., Heine and others.

Suddenly turning to a paper, dated 1848, he said: "Ah, look at this. It is very curious. What would your friend his highness the king of Bavaria say if this paper, which would be significant in connection with the political serenade which the Germans are going to give you, should be published tomorrow in the Vienna papers?"

The composer examined the paper and recognized, with surprise, an old proclamation of one Richard Wagner, who, an ardent revolutionist in 1848, had proposed to the youth of that time to set fire to the palace of the king of Saxony. He saw his autograph and that it might be the means of getting him into serious trouble.

"Very curious, is it not, Herr Wagner?" said the minister.

"Very curious, your excellency," replied his guest.

The next morning Richard Wagner left Vienna, recalled to Baireuth by urgent business.—Strand Magazine.

MAKING WAMPUM.

A Process That Requires Both Patience and Skill.

With certain tribes wampum is still highly prized and necklaces are worn by men, women and children when they are the fortunate possessors of them. To make wampum various kinds of shells are used, white and those having a lavender hue being most liked.

The thin shells are broken into little pieces and by aid of nippers are made as nearly round as possible. When each piece is drilled in the center, the old time fire kindling style of drill being used, the shells are then strung and rolled with the hand on a flat stone, which grinds them until they are smooth and even.

Comparatively few Indians among those who prize wampum beads most highly have the skill or patience to make them, even though they had the materials. The fact is there are but few wampum bead makers in the country, and it often happens that long pilgrimages must be made to secure the requisites for really fine beads, and, as with the white man's trinkets, that which is "far fetched and dear bought" is most sought after for ornamentation.

Around some of the ancient ruins in the southwest the little disks of wampum are often found in the sand, and it is probable that they were deposited in the graves in very early times and washed out or exposed by the wind's action. These ruins are in the best state of preservation of any in the country. Absolutely nothing is known of their builders, and the origin of these ruins was as much a mystery when Coronado first saw them in 1540, when he made his famous invasion, as it is to the people of the present day.—Indian's Friend.

Oxygen and Mushrooms.

A singular way of removing oxygen from the air by the aid of a plant is as follows: Inside a glass bell jar, suspended over water, is placed a mushroom, and sunlight is allowed to fall upon the plant. The mushroom absorbs the oxygen from the air in the jar, and the carbonic acid formed during the process is absorbed by the water, which gradually rises in the jar to one-fifth of its height. The mushroom now dries up, but its animation is only suspended, as may be proved by introducing beside it a green plant, when it will recommence to vegetate, being nourished by the oxygen exhaled from the fresh plant.

Hope.

"Mr. Merchant," said the new clerk, preparing to ask for more money, "I think I understand the business pretty well now, and"—

"Yes?" interrupted his employer. "Well, keep at it four or five years. Perhaps you'll understand it then as well as you think you do now."—Philadelphia Press.

Taking Papa Down.

First Daughter—Oh, papa, dear, two young men we've met down here have asked us to marry them. Father—They'd better see me first. Second Daughter—Oh, they've seen you, papa, and they love us notwithstanding.

A Fashion Note.

Doctor (to female patient)—You've got a slight touch of fever. Your tongue has a thick coat— Patient (excitedly)—Oh, doctor, do tell me how it fits!

Reading is thinking with some one else's head instead of one's own.—Schopenhauer.

ANCIENT LITERATURE.

How Some of It Was Luckily Saved From Destruction.

Considering that the whole of ancient literature was confined to manuscript, it is wonderful that so much of it has come down to us. The preservation of some old writings has been almost miraculous. To a single copy preserved in a monastery of Westphalia, for instance, do we owe all that we have of Tacitus. This is the more remarkable since the emperor of that name had copies of the works of his distinguished ancestor placed in all the imperial libraries and caused ten copies of them to be transcribed yearly. Still, only the one copy has been found in modern times.

A page of the second decade of Livy, we are told, was discovered by a man of letters on a battledoor while he was amusing himself in the country. He rushed up to town, but he was too late, for the battledoor maker "had used up all his parchment the week before." Two manuscripts of Cicero on "Glory" were presented to Petrarch, who lent them to an old preceptor. This latter gentleman, being pressed by want, pawned them and died without revealing the name of the pawnbroker. Two centuries afterward they were mentioned in a catalogue of books bequeathed to a convent, but could not be found. It is supposed that Petrus Aleyonius, the physician to the institution, appropriated them and, having transposed some of the thoughts to his own writings, destroyed the originals.

The original Magna Charta of England has certain mutilations, presumably from a pair of shears. It is said that Sir Richard Cotton, calling one day at his tailor's, discovered that that man was holding in his hand ready to cut up for a pattern a copy of the great Magna Charta, with all its appendages and seals.

THE STICKLEBACK.

After Winning a Fight His Colors Take on Brighter Hues.

Most courtly and gallant of fish is the three spined stickleback, the beloved "tiddler" of British youth. These little fish derive their name from the sharp spines with which they are armed and which they can raise or depress at will.

The female stickleback is the model wife of a model husband. She does not leave her eggs to chance, but establishes a nest or nursery for their reception, over which her irritated little husband keeps a jealous guard.

Woe betide the rival "tiddler" who rashly approaches too closely the domicile of his neighbor during the breeding season. With all his spines fixed for action the warlike parent steams out to offer him battle.

The contest that ensues is desperate, the combatants darting at each other with lightning rapidity, biting and striking at each other with their spines, a well directed cut from which weapon of offense will often rip up the body of the adversary, sending him to the bottom.

But most remarkable of all is the decoration which nature bestows upon the victor. The brilliant green of his mail becomes tinged with gold, while his red throat blushes to a deeper hue than ever.

On the other hand, his vanquished assailant, should he be fortunate enough to escape with his life from the battle, loses his brilliant and martial uniform of red, green and gold and retires to some obscure corner of his native pond, attired in a humble civilian uniform of sober and sorrowful gray.—Dundee Advertiser.

Parisians' Bread.

There is no city in the world where so much bread is consumed as in Paris. It is estimated that every inhabitant eats one pound a day on the average. Even in past centuries the French—especially Parisians—had a horror of stale bread. And, as in those days people manufactured their own bread, they had a curious way of making it palatable. Strange as it may seem, the bread they prepared—huge round or square slabs—was used as a dish on which the meat was carved and bore the name of "tranchoirs," or "tailloirs." The juice of the meat having penetrated into the bread imparted a pleasant taste and prevented it from becoming dry.

High Priced Copy.

During the siege of Kimberley the editor of the only daily paper there was often hard put to find enough news. One day in a clubroom he found Cecil Rhodes reading a fairly new paper from Cape Town. He borrowed it and rushed to his own office, where it soon reappeared as a special edition, selling like hot cakes. That same evening he met Rhodes, who inquired, "Where's my Cape Town paper?" "Oh, I cut it up for the printers," was the reply. "Please don't do that again," said Rhodes mildly. "That paper came through my native runners and cost me $1,000."

The Long Lived Orchid Flower.

Even when orchid flowers are fully developed they may remain uncut upon the plants for two or three weeks without apparent deterioration. This gives them a manifest advantage over most flowers that have to be cut immediately upon or even in advance of reaching full maturity.—Country Life in America.

Marble at Chilliwack.

A strike of unusual character but of great importance to the welfare of the district is reported from the vicinity of Chilliwack. This consists of the discovery of a large quarry of marble of excellent quality about eight miles from the town in the vicinity of Mt. Cheam. Mr. Davidson, of Chilliwack, was the prospector who made the find and the reports he brings as to the extent and quality of the deposits are such as to assure the prompt development of the quarry. The marble is said to be of varied colors, some of it being of that mottled variety which is capable of receiving a high polish and thereafter being especially valuable for building purposes.

The character of the stone is such that large blocks even up to fifteen feet may be taken out in this line, the find being different from many discoveries of marble where the deposits are found to be commercially useless because of their fracturing too easily.

Well Done, Chilliwack!

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Matter intended for this column should be addressed, "Social Editor, Daily News, P. O. Box 402, New Westminster."

Jack Fitzgerald has returned from Revelstoke, on a visit to his parents. Jack was previously connected with the C. P. R. staff here and went to Revelstoke last spring as an engine wiper. He has now been promoted to the position of fireman and expects to get a steady run on his return to Revelstoke.

J. Laidley, of Nanaimo, is a visitor in the city.

F. P. Maxwell, secretary treasurer for the Gilley Bros. company, is among the number who are at home trying to sleep away la grippe.

The Gray-McLeod Lumber company mill on the south side of the river has been purchased by Messrs. W. and C. S. B. Burley, who were across the river a few days ago looking over their new possessions. They propose putting in an entirely new plant and fill outfit the mill so as to produce the best results. They are confident that their venture is a good one and that it will be a paying proposition. C. S. B. Burley is one of the leading merchants and real estate men of Portage la Prairie, Man., where he makes his home and to which place he will start on the return journey from Vancouver today. W. Burley was for many years in the lumber business in Neepawa, Man., and will assume the general managership of the mill. Mr. and Mrs. W. Burley are negotiating for the purchase of property in this city where they propose making theim home.

The Little Duchess.

"The Little Duchess" as played last night by Olga von Hatzfeldt and her company is a very seeable play, possessing as it does its own scenery and very pretty and fresh looking dresses. It has no plot, but plenty of fun is supplied by the star and her supporting comedians, among whom Irving Brooks as "Wurtzbugger," George Moore as "Zaramba," and Robert Lett as "Gustav," were especially good. It was perhaps better put on than any other of its kind this season and was thoroughly well worth going to see. There was a very good house.
