DARING HOLDUP WAS CAREFULLY PLANNED

Mail Clerk's Wit Saves Registered Sack From Looters—Little Plunder Taken.

Spokane, Aug. 16.—One of the most daring holdups ever attempted on a transcontinental befell Northern Pacific train No. 3, almost within the city limits of Spokane, after midnight last night. Two masked men stopped the train at Otis and boarded the engine. After a brief encounter with the engineer and fireman the mail car next to the engine was detached, and one of the men taking charge of the engine, the party came on west to Trent, where the trainmen were dismissed by the robbers. The bandits then proceeded to within a mile of Yardley, where they robbed the mail car. The baggage car and the express car were untouched, and none of the passengers were molested.

As soon as word was received at Spokane a special train was made up, consisting of a switch engine and a coach, and with several deputy sheriffs and special agents of the Northern Pacific, was rushed to Trent. Shortly afterwards a complete posse, headed by Sheriff Doake, who had not been notified in time to catch the first special train, started out to scour the country.

Tricked by the wit of the mail clerks, little plunder is believed to have been secured by the two masked men. Warned that the robbers were coming the clerks took advantage of the time after the train had been cut in two, and threw the local registered packages into a newspaper sack, where they were not noticed. So far as reported, the only booty stolen was the pouch of registered mail sent from Chicago to Spokane, and one for Seattle made up along the route.

The train is not known to have carried packages of any great value.

MILLIONAIRE LOSES COSTLY IVORY CARVINGS

White Plains, N. Y., Aug. 16.—Burglars, it was reported today to the sheriff of Westchester county, have looted the summer home of Henry Marquand, the New York banker, of silver and other articles worth $5000.

Marquand found that the burglars had ransacked the house and stolen many ivory carvings and other articles which were almost priceless while the nine servants slept soundly. This is the third large robbery in this section within a month.

Clarence Whitman, president of the Merchants' Association of New York, and George L. Nichols, a Wall street broker, were the other victims. In each case the thieves stole plunder worth thousands.

BREWERS DEMAND SHARE OF SURPLUS

Balance of Fund Subscribed for Fleet Reception in Frisco Claimed by Y. M. C. A.

San Francisco, Aug. 16.—Members of the local Young Men's Christian association and the brewers are in a lively squabble because the former have made a request for $4728 of the surplus left from the fleet reception fund, to which the beer men were heavy contributors.

The brewers say they are righteously indignant for the simple reason that they do not propose to have any part of their money used for the advancement of an organization that is known to be antagonistic to their interests. They have demanded of Frank Symmes, who was chairman of the entertainment committee, the return of their pro rata of the surplus, and this request is now under consideration.

LARGE SCORE MADE IN POOR BASEBALL GAME

Bodley's Boys Take a Half Share in Practice Game at Queens Park—Win Out by 21 to 2.

By the trifling score of 21 to 2, Manager S. W. Bodley's aggregation of sphere swatters defeated a collection of baseball players, theatrical men and others, at Queens park on Saturday afternoon. Fortunately for the paper reputation of the challengers, the game was witnessed by very few people. The losers were captained by J. P. Bilodeau, who wore flamboyant hosiery and showed his knowledge of the fine points of the game by heading the list in the error column with a good margin.

O. Peele, who pitched for the pickups, deserted the bunch after the fifth inning, he having to play lacrosse against the Eburne team. His position was then taken by McDonald, a member of the "Little Dollie Dimples" company. His work was not of the best. Corbett was drafted in to finish the game, twirling in the last two innings. Walsh, who wore the big mitt, exhibited a split finger as an excuse for the poor showing he made. The other members of the team were all sadly out of practice, but would, if in condition, give the regulars a good game.

Silver and Prouty performed for Bodley's collection of stars. Their work was about up to their average. The remainder did well in the field, and leaned heavily on the willow when facing the opposing pitcher.

Score by innings:

Westminster ..	5	2	6	2	2	0	4	0	x	—21
Rustlers	0	0	0	2	0	0	0	0	0	— 2

Teams:

Westminster—Sinclair, 1b; Fitzgerald, ss; Prouty, c; Silver, p; Deans, rf; Ryall, lf; Stein, 3b; Canfield, cf; McIntyre, 2b.

Rustlers—Peele, p; Walsh, c; McLean, 1b; McDonald, 2b; Brine, 3b; Bilodeau, ss; Garrett, cf; Rogers, rf; White, lf.

Umpire—A. W. Gray.

Catholics Join Temperance Fight.

New Haven, Conn., Aug. 16.—Denunciations of the liquor traffic, an appeal for the sanctification of Sunday and the exclusion from membership in Catholic societies of those engaged in the liquor traffic were the striking features of the resolutions adopted by the national convention of the Catholic Total Abstinence union yesterday. The resolutions declared that "Not in drunkenness and riotous living can any man make effective profession of the Catholic faith."

Fishermen Bitter Against North.

The activities of Sam North, provincial fisheries overseer, as a result of which a large number of up-river fishermen have been summoned to appear in the district court because of alleged disregard of the provincial regulations, has occasioned considerable resentment among the fishermen, many of whom considered that they have been harshly dealt with. The fishermen are of the opinion that North has enforced the law far beyond what was originally intended.

EIGHT MEN ARE INJURED IN CIRCUS TRAIN WRECK

Four Flat Cars Ditched Eight Miles From Westminster—Seven Wagons Smashed—Traffic on G. N. R. Line Suspended Pending Removal of Debris—Track Torn Up—Hoodoo Day for Barnum & Bailey.

LIST OF INJURED.

W. H. WHEALLEN, Rochester, N. Y., right shoulder crushed, ribs broken, spine may be injured. May not recover.

ANDREW McLEAN, Mount Vernon, Wash., wounded in head. May not recover.

F. WALLACE, New York City, bruised chest, left leg sprained.

F. BLINDER, Calumet, Mich., scalp wound, right ear torn off.

PETE SWANSON, Valley City, N. D., sprained ankle.

C. W. MORRISON, Soo, Mich., right leg bruised.

H. J. HOLLISTER, Chicago, crushed shoulder, chest injured. Has difficulty in breathing.

W. MELLEY, New York City, cut in forehead.

Several others received slight injuries.

Section No. 1 of Barnum & Bailey's circus train was partly wrecked about two miles this side of Port Kells shortly before four o'clock yesterday afternoon. Eight men were injured, two of them it is feared fatally. Four flat cars and seven wagons were ditched. The railroad track was torn up for a distance of about twenty yards.

Railway traffic over the G. N. R. line is as a result interrupted, and will not likely be resumed until late this morning.

The scene at the wreck, as viewed yesterday by a News man, is one long to be remembered. The flat cars are tossed about, two on each side of the track, the trucks having been torn off three of the cars. The circus wagons were pitched a distance away from the track, some being smashed to pieces, others were turned completely over, while one landed against a telegraph pole, bearing it almost down to the ground.

How It Happened.

Conductor, M. Pelletier, who was in charge of the train, informed the News that the wreck was probably due to "heat kink," which had caused the rails to spread. He declined to discuss the condition of the roadbed at the point where the accident happened. The smashup took place exactly in front of Mr. Louck's residence, this being the only house in the immediate vicinity. The train was travelling slowly at the time, about twelve miles an hour, according to Engineer H. Randall, who was at the throttle of engine 510. Had the train been travelling faster, the loss of life and property would have been much more serious.

The rails apparently spread when about half of the train had passed that point, fifteen cars, carrying horses and wild animals, immediately preceding the commissariat, which was entirely wrecked. Seven wagons comprise this section of the Barnum & Bailey circus, and the whole seven were ditched.

Several tons of foodstuffs were thrown out from the broken wagons, but owing to the ground being dry, most of it was saved. The cooking utensils, being nearly all enamelware, were not damaged to any extent. Two big cooking stoves were smashed to pieces.

Worst Cases.

The eight men who were injured, together with about twelve more, were riding on top of the cooking wagons. Several of them had a chance to jump before the wagons toppled over and so escaped injured. Among those seriously hurt was Andrew McLean, of Mount Vernon, Wash., who has only been with the circus a few days. He was pitched about twelve feet from the track, and was buried beneath a 900 pound cooking range. His scalp was almost completely torn off by the sharp edge of the stove. He is one of the two who may not recover.

W. H. Wheallen, who was pinned underneath the heavy meat wagon, was seriously injured, but pluckily walked to the caboose after being released from his dangerous position. He became delirious a few minutes later. It is feared that his spine is injured, and that he may die.

Medical Assistance.

A Chinaman, a member of a section gang from Liverpool, hurrying to the spot to assist in clearing the debris, was struck on the hand by a heavy hammer, and had to receive medical assistance.

All the men hurt belonged to the cooking gang, which is bossed by W. H. Roberts. There are about seventy-five men engaged in this department. There were over 200 men on the train, these being employees of the stock, jungle, cooking, pole and sleeping departments. There were no women on the train.

Immediately on receipt of the news in this city, Dr. Drew hurried to the scene to render first aid to the injured men. Here he was met by Dr. McEwen, of Cloverdale, and Dr. Herald, of the G. N. R. construction camps. The three worked hard to alleviate the sufferings of the victims of the wreck, and were unremitting in their attention. After the wounds had been dressed, the injured were taken to the rear of the train and placed on board the sleeping coaches, where they remained until a special train was sent out from this city to bring them to the hospital.

All the injured were brought here except C. W. Morrison, H. J. Hollister and F. Mellen, none of whom were seriously hurt.

Repair Gang Busy.

A request for the services of a wrecking crew was sent to Everett, the nearest place where suitable apparatus could be secured. The wrecker had not reached Cloverdale at one o'clock this morning.

Work gangs were sent out to help in the clearing of the tracks. F. Williams, of Port Kells, arrived with a number of men early in the afternoon; M. McClucker, of Cloverdale, came down with eight men; George Parr, of Cloverdale, arrived with six; J. Murray, of Port Kells, bossed eight men, and A. M. Forrestor, of Liverpool, has seven men at work. In addition to these, about fifty Chinamen were sent out to help in the work. Very little progress in the clearing of the line had been made up to a late hour yesterday.

Had the rails spread while the animal cars were passing the spot, the timber district between Port Kells and Bon Accord would have been transformed into a jungle for some time to come, as a large number of the wild animals would have escaped. It would have been almost impossible to recapture them in the dense bush that covers the country at this point. The last car to remain safely on the tracks carried the wagons in which were kept three Bengal tigers and two African lions.

One Man Missing.

Several of the heavy wagons had not been moved when the News man left yesterday evening. One man, name unknown, was reported to be still missing, and there is a possibility that his lifeless body may be found beneath one of the heavy wagons. He is one of the pot-washers and is known among the other men as "Slinger." One of the others members of the circus stated that he saw the missing man after the accident, but that this is the case is doubted by a majority of the other employees.

Several were reported missing immediately after the accident, but all except "Slinger" returned before nightfall.

The Lighter Side.

The accident did not in any way dampen the usual good spirits of the circus men. Throughout the remainder of the afternoon they smoked and joked, lolled around and killed mosquitoes as if nothing unusual had happened. Groups here and there played cards or shot craps to their evident satisfaction. One of the cooks who had a hairbreadth escape from being killed, and who was playing poker at the time, constantly bemoaned the fact that the wreck had cost him a dollar, as he held a good hand and was just about to fatten the kitty when the accident happened.

Eating in the Bush.

With the exception of a number of stockmen, who were with the forward part of the train, and who reached this city early yesterday evening, all the members of the circus with section one had supper in the bush. Bread was rather shy, and the service was not up to the usual mark, but otherwise there was no complaint to make. Everything worked with the proverbial circus regularity, the admirable discipline of the tented travellers standing them in good stead in this emergency.

Second Section Help Up.

The second section of the train arrived at Port Kells about ten o'clock, and immediately the canvasmen and menagerie attendants swarmed out to inquire concerning their friends. When told that no one had been killed they were much relieved. They reported having been held up about a mile this side of Blaine, a bush fire having crossed the track and threatening to burn the ties. Over an hour was spent in fighting the flames. No water was available, consequently sand had to be used to check the progress of the fire across the tracks. The ties were partly burned for a considerable distance.

Third Section in Accident.

A rumor, which could not be confirmed, to the effect that the third section had run off the track beyond Blaine, was current among the circus men late in the evening. The fourth and last section is held at Bellingham.

Quite a number of Westminster people travelled to the scene of the accident yesterday evening, going up river to Port Kells in launches, then crossing the bush to the place where the disaster occurred.

WAGES ARE INCREASED IN NORTHERN TOWN

Legislative Library.

Construction Men Rejoice to Hear That Pay Envelope Will Be Fatter in Future.

Prince Rupert, Aug. 16.—One of the most noticeable features of J. W. Stewart's visit, and one that will be heralded with delight amongst the railway construction men, is the raising of standard of wages to be paid to laborers on the Grand Trunk Pacific work. Considerable dissatisfaction has been felt and many hundred men have quit work in preference to working for the low wages which have heretofore been paid. Although the minimum was said to be $2.25 per day, men have been paid as low as $2 per day and were paying $5.25 per week for board at the contractors' camps.

According to the new scale of wages muckers will now be paid $2.75 per day and drillers will receive $3, while the charge for board remains the same as before. The increase is equivalent to a raise of 50 cents per day all round.

LIBERALS ARE RETURNED TO POWER IN SASKATCHEWAN

Regina, Aug. 15.—From returns now in the Liberals apparently have nineteen seats and the Provincial Righters sixteen, with five returns incomplete and in doubt. In Weyburn there was no vote in one small poll, and it may be necessary to hold a new election. The last returns from Lloydminster give Miles, Conservative, twenty majority. The last from Weyburn give Mitchell twenty-three majority, with one poll out. In Hanley McNeill has thirty-one majority, with six polls out. Sutherland, in Saskatoon county, final has thirteen majority.

No Epidemic at Fernie.

As alarmist telegrams regarding the possibility of an epidemic at Fernie continue to be sent out, chiefly from Vancouver the provincial health authorities wish it to be distinctly understood by the public that there is nothing in the situation which affords the slightest grounds for such reports.

PENALTIES FEATURE OF INTERMEDIATE GAME

Eburne Goes Down to Defeat Before Locals—Eight Goals to Two.

A game, which was signalized by the number of penalties, showing a determination to put a stop to practices which do not make for clean lacrosse, was played on Saturday at Queens park between a picked local intermediate twelve and Eburne, a team which figures well in the Vancouver intermediate league. Charlie Galbraith showed a resolve to put all offenders off the field, and at times four men were on the fence at once. Alex. Robertson was penalized most often for the Westminsters, and Fisher for Eburne.

The visitors started off at a great pace, and led at the end of the first quarter, although the locals were the first to find the net. Gibbon, the regular point man, made good at centre, but the home work of the North Arm boys was weak, Jackson letting them down badly. Coutts, keeping goal for the visitors, played as usual a good game. While Westminster allowed the second to start with the score against them, the issue was never in doubt, and as the visitors' pace flagged from their exertions, the picked team forged ahead, and led by five to two at the end of the quarter. Spring and Swanson were busy all the time, and Smith again played a good game, passing well to his inside man. The home defence was not called on often in the latter stages of the game, but all did their part well. Peele kept Forbes well checked, and the visitors had little chance to shoot. The frequent penalties found the players constantly changing positions, when both centres were off together, play was quite ragged. The Warwick boys kept Richards busy, but both he and Speers worked well for the visitors. The match once more demonstrated the fact that it will have to be a very good team to beat the Westminsters on their own ground or elsewhere this season, the final being eight goals to two.

Summary.

Scores:

First quarter—Westminster, Henry (4 mins.); Eburne, Gibbon (6½ mins.), O. Forbes (1 min.).

Second quarter—Westminster, Mannering (2 mins.), Smith (1½ mins.), Swanson (6 mins.), Smith (1 min.).

Eburne — Coutts, goal; Forbes, point; Speers, cover point; McMillan, first defence; Richards, second defence; C. McLean, third defence; Gibbon, centre; T. McLean, third home; Fisher, second home; Jackson, first home; O. Forbes, outside home; McDonald, inside home.

Referee—C. Galbraith.

Umpires—G. Clute and Digby.

Intermediates Going South.

A picked intermediate lacrosse team of this city will indulge in a holiday trip to California in September, remaining away from home for about two weeks. The boys who will make the trip have not yet been selected, but the team will be composed, as nearly as possible, of an equal number of representatives of the three teams in the city league, providing the best players in each can spare the time to make the trip. Games will be played against six California teams, including the Talagoos, San Mateo, and Reliance. The Westminsters will not leave for the south until the second week in September.

A Big Rail Order.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Aug. 16.—According to Mr. Boyce, M. P., Algoma, the rail mill of the Lake Superior Consolidated company will soon start on orders for rails for the eastern division of the Grand Trunk Pacific.

ADVERTISE IN THE NEWS

SELECTIONS

STORY OF THE DOROTHEA.

Romance of a Vessel Assigned to the Naval Militia.

Among the vessels assigned to the naval militia is one with a history.

It seems, says Appleton's Magazine, that many years ago, when it was the custom for the insurance underwriters to put up at auction vessels that had been long overdue and not heard from, a young apprentice in Philadelphia happened to attend one of these auctions at which a large ship named the Dorothea was put up for sale. The vessel had taken aboard a very valuable cargo, which would go with the ship to the successful bidder, but the very fact that the property was so valuable had kept the underwriters from selling the craft until long after it had become generally believed that she was a total wreck. Consequently the auctioneer cried the good ship Dorothea many times without getting a bid. Finally the young apprentice jokingly bid $5, and, as nobody would bid higher, the vessel and her cargo were knocked down to him. Imagine the astonishment of the maritime world when the Dorothea was reported sailing into Delaware bay. The apprentice sold his prize for enough to start him in business, and for years the house thus founded was one of the leaders in enterprise and resources in the Quaker City. But at all times the head of the firm and his family successors made a point of owning and operating a ship named the Dorothea, which name also was always given to the oldest daughter in each succeeding generation.

Shortly before the Spanish war, however, the then head of the house was in failing health, and the only hope of saving his life, he was advised, was to live at sea. Accordingly, he gave an order to the Cramps for a large and luxuriously appointed yacht, to be called the Dorothea, of course, and no expense was spared in her construction and equipment. Unfortunately, death came to the owner before his yacht was quite finished, and the government paid a fancy price for the Dorothea early in 1898.

With the close of the war there was no purely naval duty for which the Dorothea was fitted, and yet the government did not wish to sell her, because there was no possibility of getting a price for her anything like what she had cost. She was accordingly laid up until the naval reserves succeeded in convincing the navy department that they were entitled to her.

Wonders of Machinery.

Dependence upon machinery is becoming almost an instinct among the workmen of a steel mill. A boy who was sweeping the floor of a Pittsburg mill, for example, found his path obstructed by a ten ton machine which had not yet been put in its place.

"Hello, Jim," he called to a laborer, "come here and move this machine back about ten feet. I want to sweep under it."

Jim moved a traveling crane until it stood over the machine and lifted the 20,000 pound obstacle out of the way as easily as if it were a box of cigars. The boy went on with his sweeping as if nothing extraordinary had happened. He was a Pittsburg boy and accustomed to miracles. And electricity, which is a new force—sixteen years old in steel mills—will perform its greatest deeds in the future.—Munsey's.

Passing of Crumb Brushes.

The doom of the household crumb brush has been authentically pronounced. Napkin and tray now comprise the outfit for relieving the dinner table of crumbs. By the adoption of the latter system it is contended that the likelihood of bread particles becoming fugitive is minimized. Another objection cited to the continuance of the time honored brush method is that dust accumulates in the bristles and in due course circulates around the board. Hotel restaurants first called the halt in this direction, and gradually guests cottoned to the new idea, eventually introducing the reformation in their own homes.—New York Press.

The Esperanto Congress.

An article in a Berlin paper on the Esperanto congress, which will take place at Cambridge in August, says: "There will be more than 3,000 delegates present, representing nearly every country in Europe, and the proceedings will show what progress the universal language has made. In order to show one feature which has not been largely dwelt upon, a Shakespearean tragedy has been translated into Esperanto and will be performed while the congress is in session. For practical purposes the policemen and the waiters in the large restaurants will learn the language, so that they may converse with the delegates from other countries."

A Four Decker Sea Pie.

A huge sea pie was served to a party of fifty guests at a feast at Gorleston at which the member for Yarmouth was present. It was made by an old trawl skipper and weighed a hundredweight and a half. It was a four decker and was boiled in a vast caldron for several hours. The keel was laid with beef bones, and there was a triple bulkhead of short crust, the bunkers being filled with beefsteak and ox kidneys. There were holds also stored with meat, onions, carrots, turnips and potatoes, and the hull was constructed of a substantial short crust that alone took a stone and a half of four.—London Globe.

ENGLISHMAN ASKS FOR PRINCE RUPERT LOTS

Arrives From London in Response to Advetrisement Announcing Sale.

Victoria, Aug. 16.—An Englishman walked into the provincial bureau yesterday and announced that he had just arrived from London to buy lots at Prince Rupert, and he wanted to know particulars about the sale. He said that the Grand Trunk Pacific had placarded London with advertisements saying that the lots would be sold by auction September 15, and that others besides himself were on their way, or about to start, on the same mission.

He seemed much taken aback when informed that it was improbable that the sale would take place before the spring. He said he had inquired at the company's office at Montreal, but had been referred to the company's land agent at Winnipeg. That gentleman in turn told him to consult the British Columbia government, wherefor he came west to Victoria, relieved to find that the Pacific ocean apparently put a term to his journey. He was told at the bureau of information that as long as he had come so far, he had better go up to Prince Rupert and take a look over the townsite for himself. He did not want to do this, saying that if the lots were not going to be put on the market it was not worth while. He was very anxious to see the plans of the new townsite, but his curiosity in this respect was not gratified. Eventually he said he might go up to Prince Rupert after all.

The authorities cannot understand how such an advertisement came to be current in London, as it was only the other day that an agreement was reached and it had been patent for some time, that there could be no sale of lots in September. It was suggested that it might have been the advertisement of the other townsite of the same name, but the visitor was very positive that the announcements purported to be signed by the Grand Trunk Pacific railway.

SEVEN-YEAR-OLD BOY SAVES A LITTLE GIRL FROM FLAMES

Auburn, Aug. 16.—Albert Gilbert, a seven-year-old boy of Auburn, showed fine courage and presence of mind yesterday. While playing with four-year-old Phyllis Fletcher, a neighbor's child, in a tent about fifteen rods from his home, the children found some matches and began playing with them. The little girl's dress caught fire from the matches and in a moment was all ablaze.

Phyllis ran for the house, thus fanning the blaze. Arley ran after he caught her, threw her into a neart sand pile and roled her in the sand until the flame was extinguished. He then let the child get up and run for the house, but seeing that her clothing was still burning in places, he tore it off her.

The little child was quite badly burned on her right side and face, but will recover.

DO NOT FORGET.

Do not forget that the Conservative ministry at Victoria is owned body and soul by the canners.

"Thirty feet to the gulf."

SASKATCHEWAN.

The finals will show Liberals 22, Provincial Rights 14. A very good balance on the side of good government. Doubtless the Liberal majority would have been larger but for the contaminating influence of a crowd of Conservatives who were ashamed to appeal to the electorate under their own name and style. The immense number of newcomers, immigrants, a year or so in the country, who were made to understand that any little difficulty they experienced in the new Province, and the later settlements thereof, was due to the Government. They were told that the cost of implements such as they had used south of the boundary was due to the Government, that the Chinook winds that has caused a little rust could have been prevented by the Government. But the most startling onslaught on their credulity was that they would be compelled to ship their grain via the Hudson Bay, if the Liberals were returned to power. When asking if some of the candidates were Conservatives, the answer came to them readily, Oh, no, we are Provincial Righters, a new party entirely. These Conservatives were afraid the history of the past would come out, so they were ready to assume the power they proposed to gain under an assumed name. It is a good thing for the electorate of Saskatchewan that they were not entirely bulldozed by scouts from the Bordenite camp. Mr. Haultain may be a statesman, but he is extremely unfortunate in being under the wing of the "Rubber Policy" Tories. The Province is to be congratulated that, taking the number of representatives returned and the total vote, they have secured a good Liberal Government to further develop the country and direct its destinies.

"Thirty feet to the gulf."

SOUTH AFRICAN VETERANS' SCRIP BILL.

The value of the bounty scrip granted to South African veterans by a statute passed at the last session of Parliament is being considerably discussed.

Those enlisted are men whose home was in Canada but who served in the British forces in South Africa during some part of the war, and included as well are those of the last contingent enlisted in Canada, but who reached South Africa after peace was proclaimed, and also the enlisted female nurses.

The right of the volunteer must be established by a certificate received from the Militia Department before any grant of land or scrip can be made by the Interior Department. And no transfer of any right of a volunteer before such a certificate has been granted by the Militia Department has any standing.

Once the certificate from the Militia Department has been received by the veteran, the Interior Department is prepared to issue to him either land scrip for 320 acres of land, or money scrip to the amount of $160, as he may choose. The money scrip is worth its face value to the holder in payment for Dominion lands. If the holder does not desire to use it for this purpose, those who do are always ready to purchase at a small discount. At the present time the discount on similiar money scrip issued to North-west half-breeds is about 10 per cent.

The veteran's right is therefore worth at least $140 to $150 in cash, without any trouble to him beyond his establishing it with the Militia Department.

If the veteran should elect to take land scrip, he becomes entitled to select 320 acres of land in adjoining quarter sections anywhere on surveyed lands in the three prairie provinces and on completing the ordinary homestead duties—residence for six months in each year for three years, erection of a habitable house and cultivation of 30 acres of land—he becomes entitled to a free patent. The practical effect of this provision is that the veteran who becomes a Western settler secures 160 acres of land free of charge or duty. But he does not get it until he has earned his patent for 160 acres as a homesteader.

In order that the veteran who is not in a position to become a homesteader may get the all possible value out of his land scrip, he is permitted to assign it to a substitute, who by the assignment requires all the rights of the veteran. This provision practically places the veteran who does not go on the land, but who is provident in the management of his business affairs, in the position of having the right to 160 acres of land to sell to any homesteader, present or prospective, who may be able and willing to buy it.

As there is no Government land for sale outside the pre-emption area, the veteran stands a fair chance to sell 160 acres of the 320 acre scrip at the price of adjoining railway lands, which may be from $3 to $10 an acre. Even in the pre-emption area, where 160 acres of adjoining Government land is sold to homesteaders on settlement conditions at $3 an acre, the veteran's scrip is worth more than $3 an acre for 160 acres. For the Government requires three years' residence in addition to the price, and the exhaustion of the homesteader's right, in the case of a pre-emption, while the veteran's 160 acres is free of residence and settlement duties and of exhaustion of right, as well as of price.

It is unfortunate that, whether by accident or design, there seems to be a combined effort in the Opposition press to depreciate the value of the veterans' grant, with the result, no doubt, that many men will part with their rights without fair value. The statute does what it can to prevent this by providing that no transfer of right before the issue of the certificate by the Militia Department shall be valid.

As matters stand at present the minimum value of the bounty if taken in money scrip should be $140 to $150 in cash, and if taken in land scrip should not be less than $500 to $1000 for purpose of sale, while for purposes of actual settlement it may easily be worth $1000 to $3000, as it enables the veteran to acquire 320 acres of land without interfering with his right to acquire in addition a homestead of 160 acres as an ordinary settler anywhere in the prairie west, or a homestead and pre-emption of 320 acres in the pre-emption area.

In another column of today's issue is printed the text of the Act.

STEAMSHIP COLORADO IS ASHORE NEAR DOUBLE POINT

Victoria, Aug. 16.—Wireless messages from the U. S. steamship Colorado, intercepted here, report that the cruiser is ashore near Double Point. A fog encountered between Port Townsend and Seattle was responsible for her grounding. The cruiser is not making water, and is expected to be floated at high water. Telegrams have been sent to Bremerton from the Colorado, asking that the tug Navajo be sent to her assistance.

Ringing Our Praises

Another insurer has been made happy by the prompt payment of a loss. Listen to what he says:

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

This is to certify that on the 11th day of July, 1908, we lost one of our horses, from rupture of the Diaphram probably caused by an acute attack of colic. That we carry a policy of insurance on all our horses with the British American Live Stock Association, Ltd., of Vancouver, B. C. That the "Proof of Loss" required by them was not completed until the 28th day of July, and that we have this day from their General Agent, A. W. McLeod, received their check for $175.00, the full amount of our claim. This being the second loss we have sustained since the policy was issued, and we take this method of publicly thanking them for the prompt manner in which they have settled both of our claims.

WHEN BOSTON SHOOK.

An Earthquake That Rocked the City November, 1755.

On November 18, 1755, "a little after 4 on a serene and pleasant night," Boston was roused by an earthquake which lasted nearly five minutes. A writer of the times gives an account of the catastrophe, and Rev. Henry White quotes it in his "Early History of New England:"

One hundred chimneys were leveled to the roofs of the houses and fifteen hundred were shattered in part. The streets were covered with bricks which had fallen. The ends of brick houses were thrown down.

It was first introduced with a noise like several coaches rattling over pavements, or rather like many cart loads of paving stones thrown down. The first motion was a strong pulsation, which threw my house upward. Immediately after a tremor succeeded; then instantly a quick vibration with sudden jerks followed.

The first view I had was of the steeples of the churches, and I was glad to see them standing, but the spindle and vane of Faneuil Hall market were thrown down.

Many persons ran into the streets, shrieking with apprehension of its being the last day or the judgment, and some thought they heard the last trumpet sounding and cried for mercy. The beast creatures lowed, the birds fluttered in surprise, and all the animal creation was filled with terror. Every face looked ghastly, and many knees smote together. Never was such a scene of disaster in New England before.

DON'T BORROW MEDICINE.

Physician Points Out the Grave Danger of Such a Course.

"And whatever you do," said a doctor to a poor patient, "don't take any borrowed medicine."

"Wasn't that an unnecessary caution?" asked a woman who happened to be present.

"Not in this neighborhood," said the doctor. "It is a common thing for people down here to lend medicine. They do it, of course, to help each other along. So far as I know, no one has paid the penalty of this neighborly kindness with his life, but it is the greatest wonder in the world that one-half the people in the neighborhood hasn't poisoned the other half.

"The first thing a sick person does is to describe his symptoms to his friends. He is pretty sure to find somebody in the crowd who has been afflicted with apparently the same ailment. Usually the former patient has some of the medicine left and straightway it is proffered as a possible cure.

"'You might just as well have it,' says the kindly neighbor. 'It will be pretty sure to help you and will save doctor's bills.'

"Of course it doesn't do anything of the kind. Nine times out of ten the stuff taken was prescribed for an entirely different ailment and makes the patient worse than he was in the beginning, but until the altruistic spirit results in some serious accident the practice is likely to continue."—New York Press.

The Chatty English.

Every Englishman likes to be alone and have things to himself. If he cannot choose his company, he would rather have none. Englishmen are proud of the national idiosyncrasy, yet here comes one who, knowing all this, pays it no deference, but sets the national tradition at defiance and forces his intrusive presence on you. Why does this denationalized Englishman, when he may be as solitary as you wish to be yourself, not act as every true Englishman ought and go into the next carriage or take a seat at the other side of the room as far away as he can get from you? By all acknowledged laws of English intercourse he ought as much to dislike being near you as you dislike to be near him.—London Saturday Review.

Miraculous Cures.

Reginald of Durham, who wrote a chronicle some time before 1195, asserts that a young English nobleman was cured of leprosy at the shrine of St. Cuthbert in Durham cathedral and that a young woman who had been for the space of three years an inmate of a large hospital established at Badele, near Darlington, in the diocese of Durham, was miraculously healed at the shrine of St. Godric at Finchdale in the presence of Ralph Haget, sheriff of the county, and Norman, parish priest of Hallfune.—St. James' Gazette.

It Didn't Break.

A little girl held a mirror up before a visitor's face and asked, "Do you see yourself in it?"

"Yes, my darling."

"Are you quite sure?"

"Yes. Why should I not?"

"Because I heard mamma say the other day that if you ever peeped into a looking glass you'd smash it all into tiny little bits!"

He Could Dodge.

"There's nothing slow about Jones," he said reflectively.

The other laughed scornfully.

"I guess you never loaned him any money," he said.

"Oh, yes, I have," replied the first speaker. "That's what made me speak that way. I loaned him $10 six months ago, and I haven't been able to catch him since."

She Got a New One.

"I've stopped asking people if my bonnet is on straight." The Husband—Why, my dear? The Wife—I love you too much, John, to disgrace you by calling a body's attention to an old bonnet like this.—London Tit Bits.

Newspaper Advertising Best

The Retail Merchants' Association of Chatham is a level-headed organization. At a recent meeting newspaper advertising was discussed, and the general opinion of the members was that newspaper advertising was the best, and program and other advertising of that class was almost useless.

RUSSIAN REDS WILL LIVE IN SWITZERLAND

Headquarters of Anarchists Will in Future Be Outside Czar's Domain.

Geneva, Aug. 16.—Preliminary to making Switzerland headquarters for its activities against the czar, Russia's revolutionary organization is now clearing the country with lead and knife of everyone it suspects of spying on its plans. Though it has been impossible to obtain a single conviction, the authorities are convinced that the seventeen recent murders of Russian travellers in Switzerland were allotted to political motives.

Fifteen of the victims were men who stood high in Russia and were well-to-do, and some of them were aristocrats. Investigation convinced the police that they were all in the Russian secret service.

Terrified by the threats he has received the Russian consul at Geneva has resigned his post and has left the country.

The revolutionists make no secret of their plan to use Switzerland as the base of operations against the czar's government. Their decision that the revolutionary campaign must be conducted from some point outside Nicholas' realm marks the abandonment of their faith in Nicholas' manifesto pledging liberty of the press and the subjects, and promising other reforms which, had they actually been put in operation, would have made it possible for them to have carried on their work in comparatively peaceful methods in their own country.

Four revolutionary papers will be published in Switzerland and smuggled into Russia through secret channels.

CALGARY WAS IMPRESSED BY ROYAL CITY LACROSSE TEAM

Commenting upon the lacrosse game played against Calgary on Aug. 11, the Herald says in its lead of a two column writeup:

"It was the finest bit of lacrosse that will be seen in Calgary for many a day, even if the local team was beaten by a score of 6-2. The New Westminster lacrosse team, holders of the Minto cup, recent victors of the mighty Shamrocks, champions of the world, came from St. Paul direct to Calgary, dismounted from the train, and only losing enough time to change clothes and get their chattels out of bond, came out to Victoria park and beat the strong local team with a good margin.

Just what the coast team could do to Calgary if it had been able to spend a few days practicing and training on the local field is only conjectural what the score would be. Calgary played a harder, fiercer and more aggressive game than they have been seen to play this year, but the visitors always held the lead, so whether they let themselves out to do it is not known. Once when Calgary scored the first time there was a flurry in the ranks of the red wielders of the nein. They seemed for the moment somewhat offended that Calgary should dare to score on them. The flurry lasted about one minute and when it was over Bill Turnbull had shot another tally through past Powell and a few other Calgarians."

WHALING RECORD BROKEN LAST WEEK

Steamer St. Lawrence Arrives at Kyoquot With 26 Leviathans.

Victoria, Aug. 16.—The world's record for a week's catch by any coast whaling station was broken last week by the Kyoquot station, to which twenty-six whales were taken by the steam whaler St. Lawrence. The best catch heretofore was twenty-two, a record also made by the St. Lawrence. The Kyoquot station has taken 234 whales since the season began. The records of whaling stations on the west coast of Vancouver island are far in excess of catches of stations on the eastern coast, according to advices received by the coast whalers from the east. The total catch of the three Newfoundland stations at St. Lawrence, Balena and Dublin Cove is a little over a third of the catch of the Kyoquot station alone. The three eastern stations took ninety-six whales.
