NEWSPAPER MAKES CONSPIRACY CHARGE

Bellingham Herald Alleges Chief Constable Spain Was Party to Plot.

The following article is taken from the Bellingham Herald of Oct. 29, and, together with the denials, forms an interesting chapter of the famous Bellingham murder case:

When F. Stanley Spain, chief of the provincial police of British Columbia, came for the assistance of Sheriff Williams of the Bellingham police he will without doubt ask in vain for the charge is made against him by Deputy Sheriff Bert Williams, brother of Sheriff Williams, that Spain helped escape one Frank Stanley, who was serving time for a crime committed in this city, by helping him to escape from the jail. For some time Jim Jenkins, who was convicted of the crime of killing Mrs. Mary Morrison at Blaine, and sentenced to be hanged, was confined in the Whatcom county jail. While here he talked to Stanley, and Spain wanted the latter as a witness.

Stanley was not anxious to appear against Jenkins, but Spain, it is claimed, under promise of helping him to escape, got him to go to New Westminster. Bert Williams took Stanley in his care and as the train went over the Douglas current he turned his man over to Spain. Under the guard of the provincial police he was taken to New Westminster.

It is claimed that after the trial Spain tipped off the constable who was to take the man back to the line, so that Stanley escape at Douglas. The provincial police would make a strong attempt to recapture him and he would be free. Spain, however, it is reported, failed to fix the constable at Douglas.

When the train pulled in at Douglas the charge of Stanley did not leave the train. He, in company with a hobo, darted behind a house. In the meantime the train started for Blaine. As soon as it left Bert Williams was on hand to arrest Stanley. The Canuck officials showed surprise and said he had taken on the train at Douglas. Bert went back and was just in time to see the Douglas constable forcing Stanley and his partner over the line. He was not in on the play and recognized them as undesirables.

As they were on Canadian soil Bert Williams did not interfere, but the moment they set foot over the line he arrested Stanley and put him under arrest. Stanley then put up a fight in earnest, but Bert threw him to the ground, and before the hobo knew a hand Immigration Inspector Corbett and another party cut in and Stanley was soon in irons and put on board the train for Bellingham.

The local authorities are unable to prove that Spain was a party to the plot to let Stanley escape, but they are convinced that he planned it all. Stanley, who was captured in Bellingham, was in jail after Spain had ordered him released and the local officials did everything in their power to help convict him, they feel that Spain did take a dirty trick.

Spain has never been popular here, owing to his methods of doing business. After persuading Williams to release his man it is stated that he did not keep his word, and even after promising here to get Williams in trouble by his statements, but nothing came of the matter, it is claimed that Spain was the author of evening up the score.

Stanley is now a prisoner at the county jail and he will serve out his term. He is the man who, after serving a year for a crime similar to the one for which he was convicted last, found himself under arrest again less than thirty-six hours afterwards.

Official Denial.

Chief Constable Spain was interviewed by a News reporter yesterday, and denied the story in toto. The chief said he was sure that the prisoner, Stanley, made a statement when interviewed in the Whatcom county jail by one of the Provincial police to the effect that he would be a useful witness to the events in the Jenkins murder case, and that he was induced to escape by him. Stanley was brought here by Sheriff Williams and Deputy Sheriff Williams.

ENGINEER ARRIVES TO LOOK AFTER B.C.E.R. WORK

Vancouver, Oct. 30.—Robert Howes, who is to take an important position with the B. C. Electric Railway company, is at the Hotel Vancouver, accompanied by his wife. He will take charge of the branch line of the company to Chilliwack, and will enter upon his duties shortly.

Mr. Howes is an engineer who has considerable practical experience, and is accounted a valuable man. He was with the Washington Waterpower company, of Spokane, the Great Northern Power company, of Duluth, and the Metropolitan Street Railway company, of New York.

It is understood that it is not proposed by the B. C. Electric company to permanently fill the position of general superintendent. Mr. Woodroofe for the time being is acting general superintendent.

CURF[illegible]TLE

Seattle, Wn., Oct. 30.—The curfew ordinance will be enforced strictly by the police, and suspensions will result if the reports of juvenile offenders and truants are not made more regularly by the police. Minors under the age of 16 must now be at home not later than 9 o'clock, p. m.

Secretary Metcalf Still Ill.

Washington, Oct. 30.—Secretary Metcalf is still confined to his bed with a disordered liver and has been obliged to cancel all his political and social engagements for the near future. His malady is yielding to medical treatment.

llams at Bellingham. The man was handed over to his custody at the boundary, and brought to the city. While he was here he made a statement in absolute contradiction to the one alleged at Bellingham, and was therefore not put on the stand. At the request of Sheriff Williams, the man's room at the Windsor hotel was watched from the time he left the court house till his return, and although not in custody, he was watched as carefully as the prisoners, nor at any time was freedom promised him for his evidence.

This idea, however, is explained by the fact that Stanley had consulted a lawyer at Bellingham about an attempt to quash his conviction, and while here was legally advised to return peaceably to prison and carry out his negotiations for a revision of the sentence from Bellingham, instead of outside the jurisdiction of the court.

Prisoner's Release.

When the trial of Jenkins was over, guard W. J. Norfolk was dispatched to Douglas with the understanding he should bring his prisoner back if there was any trouble. At the boundary Norfolk released his prisoner who was at once taken into custody of Deputy Sheriff Williams.

Chief Constable Spain said that if the prison authorities had not been there to take Stanley over, he should have had him deported under the Immigration Act as an undesirable.

With regard to the statement in the above extract that Sheriff Williams had been instructed by the chief constable to release Jenkins, to which publicity was given at the time of the Hazelmere murder, Mr. Spain has in his possession a letter from Williams in which he definitely withdraws the imputation, and says that he never understood the tenor of telephone message sent by Spain about releasing a number of suspects of the crime to apply to the negro Jenkins. This communication was shown to the writer by Mr. Spain yesterday.

Guard Norfolk also corroborated the story. He allowed Stanley to go, knowing he would be taken in charge by the deputy sheriff, nor was there any struggle or attempt to get away unobserved. The prisoner was simply transferred.

A legal tangle is expected to result from the claims to the $1000 reward promised by the Provincial government for the conviction of Jenkins for the murder of Mrs. Mary Morrison, among the claimants being H. D. Ennis, of Wickersham; J. S. Cole and J. Relf, of that neighborhood; and Sheriff Williams.

LIBERALS ELECT OFFICERS FOR 1909

Proposal to Organize Young Liberals Favorably Entertained—Meeting Largely Attended.

At a largely attended meeting of the Westminster Liberal association yesterday evening the following officers were elected:

Honorary President—Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

President—A. E. Kellington.

First Vice-president—A. Hardman (acclamation).

Second Vice-president—H. A. Eastman (acclamation).

Third Vice-president—Ald. J. J. Johnston (acclamation).

Secretary—J. W. MacDonald (acclamation).

Treasurer—Herbert Gilley (acclamation).

Executive—Ald. J. Jardine, R. Buckland, Ed. Goulet, Capt. Mayers, George Adams, M. Phillips, W. J. Whiteside. For the seven positions on the executive, there were fifteen nominations.

A Clear Campaign.

After the election of officers and the transaction of routine business, Robert Jardine, the Liberal standard bearer, was called upon for a few remarks. Referring to the recent election, Mr. Jardine said that although they had been beaten, they could congratulate themselves on having conducted a clean and manly fight, the contrast between their campaign and the tactics of their opponents having been most marked, slander and scandal having been the stock in trade of the Tories throughout the twelve months they had been electioneering in this district. Mr. Jardine urged upon the members present the necessity of getting busy right now in anticipation of another election, either provincial or Dominion, as it was the party that was always prepared that won out when matters came to a climax. Referring to the Fraser river improvement scheme, the speaker mentioned that he was as anxious to see the "Thirty feet to the gulf" a reality as ever, and that he would exert himself to the utmost to bring about this boon, in spite of the apparent apathy of the electors, as evidenced by the majority given the Conservative candidate.

Young Liberal Association.

The matter of forming a Young Liberal's association was brought up by Sid Malcolmson, who put up a strong plea for the organization of the young men of this city. After some discussion on the subject, a committee consisting of Sid Malcolmson, H. Ryall, Alex. Ferguson, D. Walker and L. B. Lusby was named to arrange details in connection with the scheme.

LILLIPUTIAN SISTERS ARE HEARTILY WELCOMED

At Hardman's hall last evening a very interesting entertainment was given by the Lilliputian Sisters, Lucy and Sara Adams. These little women, who are only forty-nine and forty-five inches in height, possess considerable histrionic talent. Their performance included songs, readings and tableaux.

One of the best features was the cantata, "The Mountain Maidens," in costume, which was capitally sung by the two performers. The suspension tableaux of Sara Adams were most creditable and distinctly unusual, while mention must be made of the reading, "Judgment Day," by Lucy Adams, which, in spite of its ominous title, was a humorous piece, which was greatly enjoyed. Reference should also be made to the Grecian art tableaux, the best of which were "Ridicule and Mortification" and "Deception Detected."

There was a large representation of children, which was as it should be, the Ladies' Aid of the West End Methodist church sharing the proceeds with the performers.

Big Anacortes Plant Opens.

Anacortes, Oct. 30.—Steam was turned on in the big plant of the Russia Cement company yesterday for the first time. The plant is worth $250,000. The company will manufacture twelve grades of fertilizers, twelve grades of glues and cements in addition to several different grades of oils, all the product of the fish waste.

SUIT AGAINST GREAT NORTHERN WITHDRAWN

Brunette Sawmills Co. Did Not Proceed With Action Against G.N.R.—Verdict Entered.

Before a special jury yesterday the case of the Brunette Sawmills company vs. the V. W. & Y. railway and the Great Northern railway, for damages for alleged setting fire to the offices of the company on June 2, 1907, was heard, Chief Justice Hunter presiding.

The manager of the mill, Lewis A. Lewis, stated in the course of his evidence that the value of the office and store buildings, and stock in the latter structure, was about $14,000. They carried $6000 insurance on these buildings and had recovered $4800.

His lordship agreed with the counsel for the plaintiffs that the fact the plaintiffs had recovered insurance had nothing to do with that suit, but the insurance company might recover later if damages for the full amount was awarded.

Mr. McNeill cross-examined at length to find out how the buildings were lit, and what precautions were taken against fire.

The evidence called subsequently was not satisfactory to the case for the plaintiffs and Mr. Davis intimated that the suit would be withdrawn, with costs being paid by the plaintiffs. The jury then formally returned a verdict for the defendants.

PLAN TO BLOW UP FORT DISCOVERED IN TIME

Artillery Sergeant Arrested While Attempting to Set Fire to Powder Magazine—Tenantry Troubles.

London, Oct. 30.—It was reported to the government today that an attempt was made today to destroy Fort Carlisle, which guards Cork harbor. A sergeant of artillery was discovered in the act of striking a match and touching it to a pile of papers, so arranged that it would lead the flames to the magazine. The discovery was made just in time to prevent a disaster.

A courtmartial was ordered at once. While details have not been made public, it is understood the perpetrator belonged within the fort.

The officers think the attempt was the result of tenantry troubles.

MILLIONAIRE LEAVES FORTUNE TO HIS SON

San Francisco, Oct. 30.—As announced by the executors of Henry A. Butters, the millionaire traction magnate who died last Tuesday, the bulk of his fortune, estimated at several million dollars, will go to the testator's son, Henry A. Butters, jr., who is attending Phillips Exeter academy, in New Hampshire. Not only is Mrs. Butters excluded from participation, but her two daughters by a former marriage, are cut off with bequests of $5 each. The will says that failure to make provision for Mrs. Butters is due to the fact that property had been settled upon her during the lifetime of her husband.

The bulk of the estate is divided into two portions, one of which is to go to young Butters when he is thirty years of age, and the remainder ten years later.

TIMBER OF STATES IS FAST DEPLETED

Washington, Oct. 30.—The experts of the forest service estimated today that in less than thirty years the virgin timber of the United States will have been destroyed if the present rate of cutting continues. The great forests are rapidly being depleted of trees and by the spread of sawmills and by the flames of forest fires.

The experts point to the fact that the consumption of lumber, based on a per capita apportionment, is 500 feet of timber annually. They point to the economy of European countries by which the annual consumption is to be 60 feet.

TWO HUNDRED ARRESTED IN NEW YORK POOL ROOMS

New York Police Enforce a New Anti-Race Track Gambling Law—Raid Was Unexpected.

New York, Oct. 30.—More than 200 men were arrested late yesterday afternoon when 20 policemen raided two pool rooms at Second avenue and East Seventh street. The pool rooms were conducted so openly that it was not necessary for the police to force an entrance. They walked quietly in and were unmolested. Before the operators and the men, who were making bets, knew the officers were on hand, the places were surrounded and there was no chance for escape.

Under orders from General Bingham the police commissioner, Acting Captain Boettler led the raids. In this he went over the heads of Inspector Burfeind and Captain Shaw, but this was arranged by Bingham, who received his information from "outsiders."

The arrests were made under the new Agnew-Hart anti-race track gambling law, and if convictions result those found guilty must go to jail, there being no alternative of a fine.

It is reported that many other pool rooms are being operated in Manhattan and General Bingham expressed his determination to put them all out of business.

SECTIONMAN IS HURT IN EARLY MORNING SLIDE

W. Alcock, a section man employed by the B. C. E. R. company on the cutting of a new grade beyond Collingwood, was injured by a landslide at that point early this morning, sustaining injuries on various parts of the body.

He was brought to this city shortly after the accident, Dr. Rothwell having been summoned in the meantime. After a hasty examination at the tram office, it was decided to remove Mr. Alcock to the Royal Columbian hospital, where he will remain for some days. His injuries are not thought to be serious.

COMPULSORY VACCINATION QUESTION IS AN ISSUE

Tacoma, Oct. 30.—Superintendent Yoder, of the Tacoma schools, will submit to Henry B. Dewey, state superintendent of instruction, the matter of compulsory vaccination. He wants a rigid law compelling vaccination, so framed that no quibbling attorneys can find a loophole in it. The fight against vaccination is growing stronger here year by year, and the school board from time to time has trouble with people who refuse to take what they believe to be the serious risk of vaccinating their children.

CABLE CHARGES MAY SHORTLY BE REDUCED

Ottawa, Oct. 30.—Postmaster-General Lemieux will leave this afternoon for England to take part in an imperial conference which has been called to discuss with representatives of the cable companies a proposition for reduced cable charges.

One hundred and seventy thousand dollars has been recovered.

The regular monthly meeting of Typographical union, No. 632, will be held in the Orange hall tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

BRAVE WOMAN NOT TO GET A MEDAL

Mrs. Patterson, Heroine of Coloma Wreck, Not Eligible for Recognition.

Seattle, Oct. 30.—Extreme disappointment will be caused in Pacific coast shipping circles by the decision of the Carnegie hero fund commission in refusing a medal to Mrs. Minnie A. Paterson, whose brave act saved the lives of the crew of the bark Coloma, which was wrecked off Vancouver Island in December, 1906.

Marine men familiar with the details of this case, believe that no more heroic act was ever performed on this coast. Mrs. Paterson's deed was exploited far and wide at the time, and it was believed that the Carnegie commission would recognize her.

W. T. Isted, secretary of the Merchants' Exchange, received word yesterday from F. M. Wilmot, of the commission, stating that on October 21 Mrs. Paterson's case was taken up. He concludes:

"After a thorough investigation your case was considered this afternoon, and I regret to inform you that the commission decided it is not within the scope of the fund."

In writing to Mrs. Paterson Mr. Isted expresses sentiments which will probably meet with the approval of Pacific mariners in general. In part he says:

"I cannot help but feel that some one has evidently given the commission facts that are a little different to those we know of. It is with much regret that I learn that you are not to be decorated with a medal which I think you are entitled to. The shipping public however, will recall the Coloma being ashore, and it is our earnest wist that you will not be called upon again to render assistance of this kind."

Mrs. Paterson's husband at the time of the wreck was keeper of the lighthouse at Cape Beale, on Vancouver island. The Coloma was driven ashore in a terrific storm December 7, 1906, and the unfortunate crew took to the rigging. Seeing their desperate plight Mrs. Paterson bravely made her way over a rough road for miles, through a blinding storm, to give the alarm. Word reached the Canadian government steamer Quadra, which rescued the ten men in the nick of time. But for Mrs. Paterson's heroic act, every man would have been lost, as the bark soon pounded to pieces.

Mrs. Paterson received a gold medal from the United States government. Mr. Isted, Alfred Morley, of Victoria, and the Victoria Board of Trade officially notified the Carnegie commission of the woman's act and asked that her bravery be recognized. Danvers Osborn, of Bamfield creek, furnished the commission with the details upon which the decision was reached.

LOCAL OPTION TO BE DISCUSSED NEXT MONTH

A local option convention has been called for November 25, in the Oddfellows' hall, Vancouver, to take steps for the securing of the option in every municipality. The object of the convention is to form a British Columbia Local Option league, "which shall consist of the entire adult population of the province, and to weld into a solid and serviceable mass the temperance unions and moral reform associations now in existence."

Among the local members issuing the call are J. Cunningham, Mrs. M. A. Cunningham, secretary W. C. T. U.; Rev. W. H. Barraclough, president B. C. Christian Endeavor union, and Newton R. Brown, R. T. of T.

Lost Money, Kills Himself.

San Francisco, Oct. 30.—H. E. Lage, a farmer from Wenona, Iowa, attempted suicide here today, fatally wounding himself with a revolver. When removed to the hospital the wounded man declared that he had come from Idaho two weks ago to procure medical attention and had met a stranger who persuaded him to stake $290, virtually all of his money, in a bet on the races. When he had obtained Lage's money the stranger disappeared and Lage, disheartened by illness and the loss of his funds, determined to end his life.

HON. THOS. GREENWAY SUCCUMBS TO ASTHMA

Ex-Premier of Manitoba's Long and Useful Career in Public Life Ended Yesterday.

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 30.—Hon. Thomas Greenway, ex-premier of Manitoba, and recently appointed a member of the board of railway commissioners, died this morning at 7:30 o'clock, after an illness of about three weeks. Asthma, followed by pneumonia and heart affection, was the cause of his death.

Hon. Thomas Greenway was the eldest son of the late Thos. Greenway, Esq., formerly of Cornwall, England, and latterly of Stephen county, Huron. He was born in Cornwall, England, 1838. Came to Canada 1844, where he was educated. Married January 25, 1860, to Miss Annie Hicks, who died in May, 1875. Married again in 1877, Miss Emma Essery. Settled in Manitoba 1878. Was reeve of Stephen, Ont., for ten years. Unsuccessful candidate for Dominion House in South Huron in 1872 and 1874. Returned to Commons by acclamation for South Huron in February, 1875, on unseating of sitting member. In Manitoba was returned by acclamation for Mountain in 1879, and re-elected continuously until 1903. On resignation of Harrison administration, January 19, 1888, formed Liberal government and remained in power 15 years until defeated by the Roblin government. Elected to the Dominion House in the elections of 1904.

Skyscraper to Cost $8,000,000.

The building is to be twenty-four stories in height and the top of the tower will be 500 feet above the curb. It is to be built of brick and granite over a steel skeleton, will have reinforced concrete floors and the estimated cost will exceed $8,000,000.

Youthful Burglar Arrested.

Tacoma, Oct. 30.—Roy Tierney, 11 years old, was arrested yesterday afternoon and booked at police headquarters on a charge of burglary. It is alleged that with two companions, both younger than himself, he broke into a grocery store Monday night and stole a quantity of tobacco and chewing gum.

BLAZE DOES DAMAGE IN SAN FRANCISCO

Excited Women Prevented From Rushing to Certain Death by Firemen.

San Francisco, Oct. 30.—Four hundred workmen were thrown out of work by a fire that totally destroyed the factory of the American company today. Three firemen were hurt and the police rescued several women and children from adjoining tenements, which were threatened with destruction.

The blaze is believed to have started in the rear of the building in the dynamo room from the short circuiting of wires, and by the time the firemen arrived the main part of the factory was ablaze. While the firemen attacked the flames in the larger structure, lines of hose were run into the building at the rear and by hard work they were saved.

The panic stricken women were with difficulty prevented by the police from returning to their homes and rescuing their valuables.

Chas. Dugnerty and James Quinlan, truckmen, and George Spellman, hoseman, were struck by flying debris from a falling wall and seriously hurt. They were removed to the hospital.

The damage will amount to $60,000.

Whaling Season at End.

Victoria, Oct. 30—The steam whaler St. Lawrence followed the Orion to port yesterday, and the work for the present season off the west coast of Vancouver island has been abandoned. The two whalers took more than 600 whales during the summer. The St. Lawrence operated from Kyuquot broke the world's record. She took 318 whales, including 241 humpbacks, 66 sulphur bottoms, 10 finbacks and one sperm whale. The crew's earnings ranged from $300 to $400 for the season.

JOHN BURNS ANGERS ENGLISH LABOR MEN

Suggestion That Britons Drink Too Much is Greeted With Loud Cries of Denunciation.

London, Oct. 16.—John Burns, the labor leader and president of the local government board, drew down upon his head the anathemas of the labor party in the House of Commons this afternoon by intimating that he could sympathize under which the British unemployed labored, as compared with the unemployed in America, was that the Britons drank more than the transatlantic cousins. Mr. Burns repudiated the suggestion that the difference lay in the fact that the American unemployed had money in their pockets. "I have been in America three times," he said, "and the only difference I saw between the unemployed in America and those of this country was that the former, for a short time after losing work, were better dressed. Many of them do not drink so much as do many British unemployed workmen, so British workmen have an advantage in the number of days they are idle."

Loud cries of, "It is untrue. It is a shameful comparison," greeted Mr. Burns' statement.

MARKET REPORT

There was a small market yesterday, owing to the heavy rains. The live stock offered was not large, but plenty of produce reached the market. When the day closed a fair amount of business had been done. The sales of meat and fish were satisfactory, of beef, the supply being good, with a weak demand, caused by the importations of Alberta beef arriving already dressed, and received in storage cars in large quantities. The offering of mutton and lamb was fair, and all sold. The demand for a small supply of pork was good, while veal was not so plentiful, and the demand remained good.

Eggs were not so plentiful, and consequently the demand was keen, selling retail at 50 cents a dozen. A large supply of fowls made the call weaken, with slow sales. The fair offering of chickens and broilers brought a ready sale. Demand was also very good for ducks, poultry being a prominent feature of the market.

The offering of apples continued fair and demand remained only constant for No. 1 stock. Sales continue limited for potatoes, the consignments exceeding requirements of the public. Fresh vegetables reached the market in quantities, and were sold at good prices.

The ring sales were low, it being a bad time of year for the auctioneers. T. J. Trapp sold a horse at $100, two calves at $24 and a cow at $40.

—PLAN—

—OF SUBDIVISION OF—

A PLUM PUDDING!

The proof of the pudding is in the eating of it, and to judge from the way the 5-acre blocks in our South Westminster subdivision are being snapped up, the investing public recognize a really good thing when they see it.

"My lot is a peach!" said one man who bought about two weeks ago, and only examined his purchase for the first time yesterday, "and I would not take double what I paid for it. You do not say half enough about your splendid subdivision. It is by far the best thing advertised in any of the papers."

"I am going to make a home on my 5-acre farm and will commence building right away. I consider land here will, in a very short time, be just as valuable as any along the Vancouver-Westminster tram line."

These are only two of the many complimentary references to our 300-acre subdivision, and go to show that our statements are based on fact and will bear investigation, as for instance, when we state that the new Chilliwack tram runs through and has its first fixed station in the centre of the property, it will be found exactly as we represent. We make this point to offset if possible the bad effect of statements circulated in an effort to sell certain other lands, that the new tram line runs through them, when, as a matter of fact, an old discarded trail line is the only thing in evidence, and the adopted route, where actual construction is rapidly advancing, is miles away. This sort of thing does no good and brings ridicule on the perpetrator of the canard.

All the other excellent and variously named orchards, gardens and apple groves are all right in their way and place, but are not in the same class with ours. This is conceded by all.

Our principals have control of all the good land at the South Westminster end of the Chilliwack tram line, and it is here that the wise ones are now investing, recognizing that our choice suburban villa sites possess soil admirably suited to fruit culture, and can be purchased for $100 per acre—the same price asked for 5-acre blocks situated from 10 to 20 miles distant from town.

Our subdivision has only been on the market a few weeks, but during that short time we have disposed of over 500 acres. This fact speaks for itself.

If fruit farms are worth $100 per acre 15 miles from town, what should they be worth two miles away, where you have all the conveniences of city life? This is the way the question is being figured out, and the result is very much in our favor.

Don't put it off, but come right along and buy a block. You'll never regret it. We've only a limited number to sell at present prices. When trams commence running prices will advance 100 to 200 per cent.

Our carriages go over every day. Any hour will suit us. It only takes half an hour to drive over.

SATURDAY, OCT. 31, 1908.

DAWN OF A NEW DAY.

The prophesy of the leading Conservative organ in the Province, the News-Advertiser, the day prior to election will have its fulfilment in a larger and broader sense than was intended in its subject matter under that caption.

All that element which was the bane of the Conservative party, with the exception of Mr. Foster, has been bumped into the outer darkness of political oblivion, and Mr. Borden should breathe easier because his party has been relieved of the rubbish, and the Government should be in a better position, once its program for the session, is prepared, to carry it through without the unseemly and unproductive obstruction of last session being repeated. The Opposition, being in a measure purged of its filth, may take up the duties for which His Majesty's loyal Opposition has a place in Parliament, to aid in placing upon the statute book good sound beneficial legislation as well as check the handling of the country's finances by the Ministry.

The Premier having a good working majority will prevent any political uncertainty and turmoil, or demands being made upon the treasury which might be considered unreasonable. The fact that the depression in Great Britain is more widespread than it was a year ago, and the aggravated situation of the trade conditions upon the continent, together with the retarded recovery from the panic conditions of the United States, are all strong reasons why the strength behind the Government should be full, so that we may escape the indirect consequences of further possible setbacks within the countries with which we have a large interchange of trade.

To the end that the great enterprises and services on which the country depends, may be prosecuted with vigor and efficiency, the Ministers and Deputy Ministers of the various departments will require to devote to them all their energies. In this connection it is pleasing to know that no election is in sight, no campaign material needed, no false charges to meet, therefore the time and energy of the various departments will be at the service of the country to prosecute the great undertakings of the nation. There should be as a consequence no halting in the construction of the Great Transcontinental Railway or any other undertaking endorsed by the electorate. There should be no laxity in the work of filling up the great Northwest and extending the transportation facilities where they are needed, and, if we mistake not, circumstances will imperatively demand.

One regret there is very much in evidence in this city, that we will not share in as large proportion as we would like to in the general prosperity and development in that we ourselves have condemned the work undertaken to give us large shipping facilities, and that our great manufacturing concerns will only be able to handle the trade which can be shipped by rail or in vessels of light draught, which will practically compel the mill companies to fight for their share of trade in one market, whereas if we had endorsed the Government's policy of deepening the river channel we would have had a volume of trade that might have doubled our population in four years. As far as we know this is the only constituency that has returned the class of man that should not be given a seat in parliament and whom it must be a relief to the Conservative leader and the House to find absent from the ranks of the Opposition, and no person in or out of the Government will take kindly to this constituency for again applying the blister.

HOWELL IS FINED FOR WINNIPEG ASSAULT

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 30.—After hearing evidence for over two hours today, Magistrate McMicken sentenced E. L. Howell to pay $20 and costs or thirty days in jail, the case concluding shortly after 1 o'clock. The magistrate proposed binding Howell over, but on the latter saying that the incident was closed so far as he was concerned, Attorney-General Campbell said such was not necessary. The court room was crowded by persons interested in the case.

SOCIALIST CANDIDATES NOT TO BE ON TICKET

Olympia, Oct. 30.—The supreme court has denied an application for a writ of mandate requiring the secretary of state to certify to the nomination of the presidential electors of the Socialist Labor Party.

The leaders of the party submitted a complete state ticket prior to the time the supreme court decided that the fee provision of the primary law is constitutional. No fees were sent with the filings as they were returned by the secretary of state. After the decision was rendered the parties delayed sending in the list of presidential electors for which no fees were required until it was too late to get them on the ticket. The secretary of state refused to file the belated nominations and the party appealed to the supreme court.

Iroquois in Bad Condition.

Nanaimo, Oct. 30.—Latest reports from the scene of the stranding of the Sidney-Nanaimo ferry steamboat Iroquois yesterday say that the vessel is in a much more serious condition than first announced. Early yesterday morning the vessel suddenly listed heavily to one side, the sea rushing in over the stern and partially filled the hold and submerged the engine room. Shortly afterward the vessel further listed and finally keeled over and sank, and now lies partly submerged. The Iroquois was on her regular run from Gabriola Island to this port when in a dense fog she piled up on the rock ledge at Jack's Point.

HAS ROLL OF $10,000 TO PLACE ON TAFT

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 30.—Charles F. Smith, an Idaho ranchman, arrived here today with $10,000 in greenbacks to bet that Taft will be elected President next Tuesday. Smith waved his money before a big crowd of Democrats and offered to bet any amount up to $10,000. The best he could do was to accept a bet of $200 at odds of two to one.

He then offered the whole "roll" at two to one, but found no takers.

The sixteenth anniversary of the institution of Beulah Rebekah lodge, No. 5, I. O. O. F., will be celebrated by a reunion of all members on Tuesday evening, Nov. 10, in the Oddfellows' hall, when all members are requested to be present. A special effort will be made to increase the membership of the lodge at this meeting.

The death is announced of Joseph Marshall, a watchman at the Royal City Mills, at the age of 68. He was born in the county of Essex, England, and is survived by two daughters. Both are married, one being resident in this city. Both his sons lost their lives at different dates by drowning in the Fraser river. The funeral takes place on Monday afternoon to the Oddfellows' cemetery.

A man whose name is not known, employed by the B. C. Telephone company stringing wires at Port Haney, fell from a pole yesterday, breaking a leg. He was brought into the city, and taken to St. Mary's hospital where he is progressing satisfactorily.

It is possible that at Monday's sitting of the Assize court an application will be made to Chief Justice Hunter with regard to the Jenkins murder case, probably for a retrial. The habeas corpus writ re Patrick Groghan will probably be considered on that occasion. A divorce action will complete the list.

The formal opening of the Free Methodist chapel on Eighth street, between Third and Fourth avenues, will take place tomorrow, when the first sermon will be preached at eleven o'clock in the morning by Rev. C. E. McReynolds, district elder of the Puget Sound district.

A painful accident occurred yesterday morning to John L. McGregor, who was working at Cliff & Sons' canning factory at Burnaby. His right arm became entangled in some of the machinery, and was badly mangled. He was removed to the Royal Columbian hospital, where he is resting comfortably. It is expected that from the elbow the arm will have to be amputated. The patient is a resident of Princess street, and has a wife and four children, the youngest a baby.

As a result of renewed effort it is pleasant to record an increase of membership of 45 to the Junior Royal Templars during the past two weeks. The large Oddfellow's hall is now used for the meetings, the parlors being much too small to accommodate the large number attending, with a roll-call of 125 children in good standing. J. C. Cornish, of old time fame as a drill master in the city, has kindly consented to drill a class of boys, who are Royal Templars, in military and other exercises at 7 o'clock every Wednesday evening, in the Armouries.

No answer having been received to The Daily News' bowling team challenge to compete against any team in this city, a proposition is hereby made that any two men, associated in any one business, trade or calling, in this city, bowl a series of games against two Daily News men for a stake of $10 a side. In the meantime, The Daily News lays claim to having in its employ the champion bowlers of the city of New Westminster, and its team will so style itself until such time as any other business firm can produce five men capable of knocking down more pins in a given number of games.

A very pleasant time was spent last evening at St. Paul's Reformed Episcopal church school room, when the young people of the congregation entertained a large and happy gathering. Among the items were duets by Effie Harris and Dean Maxwell, and Roland and Roy Gilley. Annie Tidy recited with much success, and was deservedly encored. Miss Liddilow contributed a solo, which was encored, and Bert Gilley also assisted with a vocal solo. Misses Lola Burkitt and A. Gilley, and W. J. Burr were among the other contributors. The reading of Miss Thompson from "The Habitant," was one of the most attractive features. The boys present provided plenty of fun, and all were satisfied with the evening's enjoyment. In addition to the formal program, the time was spent socially. Miss Vera Gilley presided.

Anyone will admit that it is worth more than that to be without the worry of finding your home in ashes some day with no compensation for your loss.

RECOUNT FAVORS HON. MR. TEMPLEMAN

Political Situation in Victoria Remains in Doubt--- McBride Machine at Work.

Victoria, Oct. 30.—The judicial recount in the disputed election here has been adjourned by Judge Lampman until tomorrow, eight ballot boxes out of 25 remaining to be dealt with. Over forty votes have already been set aside for further adjudication, and decision on these may have the effect of unseating the election of C. H. Barnard. The matter will likely be carried to the last ditch, as the McBride machine is alleged to have resorted to crooked methods to secure votes. As matters stand at present, the result is greatly in doubt, but the chances for Templeman are considered good.

LIVE WIRE CAUSES DEATH OF LYNDEN ELECTRICIAN

Body Saved From Being Horribly Mangled by Quick Action of Lineman—Victim Leaves Family.

Bellingham, Oct. 30.—Charles McKettrick, relief engineer for the Wapiti Electric company at Lynden, was electrocuted tonight at 6:30 o'clock at the plant, and the body was only saved from being horribly mangled by the quick action of another workman, who happened to be near.

McKettrick had taken the place of the electrician for the time and was standing near the dynamo trying to fix a belt that had become twisted. In some manner he came in contact with the current and was thrown back on to the big drive belt.

The body was rescued, but the shock had caused instant death. McKettrick was thirty years old and leaves a wife and two children.

He had lived at Lynden for some time.

RAILROADS TO FIGHT SEMI-MONTHLY SALARIES

New York, Oct. 30.—The New York Central Railroad company, it is announced, will begin an action to test the constitutionality of the new law requiring railroads to pay their employees in full at least twice a month. The law becomes effective next Monday and the New York state labor department has announced that measures will be taken to enforce it. The railroad will probably apply for an order restraining the labor commissioner from enforcing the law. The other railroads probably will await the outcome of this action before taking any steps.

SEVERE STORM DRIVES SHIPS ASHORE IN NORTH

Prince Rupert, Oct. 30.—The worst storm this year is just abating at Prince Rupert, having lasted now five days. During the storm the gasoline launch Vina was driven on the rocks between Essington and this port. Several fishing boats also met a similar fate. The river boat Skeena, which should have left this port several days ago for upper river ports, has been compelled to lie over at Prince Rupert as the captain was afraid to attempt to face the storm with the vessel.

Lumber Famine at Prince Rupert.

Prince Rupert, Oct. 30.—There is a great scarcity of all kinds of building material at Prince Rupert. Shingles cannot be had at any price and only certain kinds of lumber at famine prices. Unless arrangements are made to get building material, the building boom at this northern port next spring will be decidedly limited.

SIR

Are you earning $25.00 per week?
Few clerks are paid so much money.
Few advertisement experts are paid less.
But many qualified men are paid much more.
Wannamaker, of Philadelphia, pays his advertising manager $25,000 per year, and in a recent interview said he was cheap at the price.

Can I Learn to be an Ad. Writer by Correspondence?

Our answer is, yes. We can teach you how to write good, catchy advertisements by mail just as well as if you were attending personally, and only taking up half an hour of your time every evening.

The Swords School of Advertising is the best school of instruction for many reasons, viz:

It is the only school that gives you their personal criticisms, no form letter being used, but, instead, the work of every student is looked over separately.

Then, too, it is the only school that is conducting a successful advertising service, and is backed up by leading merchants of the province. It supplies practical ad-work for the student, showing lay-outs, copy, etc., which is picked from the most successful advertisements written by its writers.

Its system of teaching by mail is endorsed by not only the leading merchants and manufacturers, but by the greatest experts and publishers.

If you have only a common, ordinary school education and earning less than $25.00 per week, let us put you in the most lucrative profession in the world today.

Its employed students are everywhere—in stores, factories, advertising agencies, and are so thoroughly qualified that they command higher salaries year after year. If you want to work up in the firm you are with, this knowledge will open the door of promotion, and we can do it by correspondence and the hearty co-operation of yourself.

Write for further particulars.

FLEET'S VISIT MARRED

BY COMPLICATIONS

British Consul Incensed Because Few Invitations Were Given to English Residents

Amoy, China, Oct. 30.—An international complication threatens to mar the visit of the American battleship squadron to Amoy. Incensed because only sixty invitations to attend the festivities had been given to British residents here, the British consul general today refused to attend the viceroy's reception and the subsequent festivities and it was announced tonight that no British subject would attend any of the festivities.

The American fleet officers are trying to pacify matters, but the extreme fear of the Chinese that some one might be injured through revolutionist outrages during the celebration, has led to a curtailment of the number of invitations even below the number that it was at first announced would be given out.

The natives are incensed at what they term an attempt to make the reception exclusive and there may be trouble before the American ships depart.

An extra guard of police was stationed about the viceroy's palace tonight to prevent any possible disorder.

Amoy, China, Oct. 30.—Afraid that the evolutionists will avail themselves of the opportunity granted by the festivities attending the visit of the American battleships here, to engage in another outbreak against the viceroy's government, soldiers and hundreds of policemen have been stationed everywhere to guard against a possible outbreak.

The common people are not admitted to the various receptions and functions attending the visit of the American fleet here and the coolies regard the American battleships' visit a matter of strange and wonderful import.

A rumor is current among the ignorant people of the city that the American battleships are going to bombard Formosa after their visit here is completed and the slums of the city have poured out their tens of thousands of Chinese to the waterfront to look at these strange white ships that have come to their port.

The Chinese officials from Pekin are here with all their pomp. They have prepared a most elaborate series of festivities of all sorts for the entertainment of the officers and men of the fleet.

Political Cleavage.

Editor Daily News:

Sir—As the election, with all its excitement, is now over, I think the moment opportune for the expression of a few calm thoughts.

"Majority rule" is the foundation of responsible government everywhere. This of course implies political contests and the existence of minorities. But it does not follow that minorities should be considered as outcasts with no interest in public affairs, and with no ambition to serve their country loyally and faithfully. Without a minority we could not have a majority, each being the complement of the other. Indeed, without minorities we could not have responsible government. There must be a cleavage, but the cleavage should not be too wide or too narrow.

Forty years ago the cleavage was too narrow. In those days the voter paid more attention to the character of the candidate than to the public questions at issue. Today his attitude is reversed, so much that the cleavage has become too wide, and the tendency of majorities is to ignore minorities. As a consequence of this wide cleavage the usefulness of many a good man is lost to the country. This feature may not be felt very seriously in the older and more populous provinces of Canada, but in a province like British Columbia, which is only in its infancy, and especially in a district like New Westminster, where clever and influential men are comparatively few and where progressive development, such as we foresee, must lean entirely upon such men, we cannot afford to dispense with the service of even one of this class. No one questions Mr. Taylor's cleverness or his ability to present our claims faithfully and forcefully to the Dominion government. No one questions Mr. Jardine's influence with the government or his standing with the most influential men of his party in Canada. Must one consider the usefulness of these two men gone because the political wheel threw one man off and landed the other in the wrong place? I hope not. The cleavages of Christian denominations became so wide through bitter and useless discussions that millions of good men rejected Christianity in disgust. It was not till enthusiasts saw the appalling effects of the cleavages that discussions were abandoned and efforts made to narrow the chasms. Similar results are in store for the ever widening political cleavage unless it is checked in time. If good men see that the public interests must suffer because of this cleavage, they will turn away in disgust from party politics and unite with Socialists or with some other party that may offer a better form of government. Let us be wise in time. As a convict once said to me on entering prison to serve a sentence of five minutes too late.

Is it reasonable that we should be deprived of the usefulness of our best citizens because of the unexpected freak of the political wheel? Did not the minority believe its party would be returned to power, and did not the voter believe he was acting in the best interests of his country when he voted for the party in which he had the most confidence and from which he expected the country in genral and his constituency in particular to derive the most benefit? Although he lost his vote, so to speak, he was no less consistent, no less honest, no less conscientious, no less loyal to the best interests of his country than his neighbor who voted for the successful party. Had he acted otherwise, had he voted for a party in which he had no confidence and which he believed would be defeated, he should be written down a finished hyprocrite, unworthy of his franchise or his citizenship. If party government were conducted as it should be, there would be no bitterness in the aftermath of political contests. But there is. And this bitterness is frequently nurtured from one election to another, disturbing all the social relations of citizenship. We have not long to wait to see the party man select his doctor, his lawyer, his merchant, his tailor, and even his barber, on party lines.

In the matter of appointment to public office and patronage generally, it is only natural that a government should give first consideration to the claims of its supporters, everything else being equal. But in the matter of public improvements, in which all parties are interested, the ignoring of the voice of the minority is little less than a crime. Mr. Taylor may have the ear of the government in pressing our claims, and our claims are of infinitely more importance to us than the interests of any individual, but to get the ear of the government with good results, Mr. Jardine can render invaluable aid. New Westminster is his home, he must share in its future prosperity or adversity, and we must ask him and also Mr. Taylor to forget whatever unpleasant incidents may have caused a ruffling of temper during the heat of the contest, so as to combine the influence of one with the cleverness of the other for the common good of our city and country. To my mind there is nothing connected with the election of President of the United States so edifying as the congratulatory message always sent by the defeated candidate to the President-elect when the votes are counted. It is not only a graceful act, it is the homage which loyalty pays to the institutions of a free country, where the voice of the majority is recognized as the will of the people.

During the last ten years hundreds of towns have sprung into existence in the adjoining provinces. Vancouver only a few mile away, has doubled its population in a few years. During those years our progress, while fair and very substantial, has not been rapid.

Let us all unite, regardless of politics or any other consideration and make an effort to remove this reproach. I fear that heretofore we have allowed our minds to dwell too much on small maters—on little thirty cent appointments, for instance—instead of grasping the big problems which can make our city great. If the grinding of little axes has impeded our progress, let us see to it that this grindin gis stopped. God and nature has done much for us. Our beautiful elevations, looking down on a magnificent river, with hundreds of miles of water frontage and a land-locked harbor, might say to us as Scotland's hills were made to say to Roderick Dhu's followers:

"I gave you shelter—in my nearts
Your own good swords must win the rest."
