W GAS COMPANY WOULD LAY MAINS

Application Made to Council For Permission to Open Up Streets by Fuel Firm.

A new gas plant for fuel and power purposes in this city is proposed by company of whom the legal firm Whiteside & Edmonds is representative. Messrs. Whiteside & Edmonds laid a letter before the council last evening in which the proposals of their clients were stated, inquiry was made as to the council's willingness to grant the necessary privileges for carrying on such business. The principal privilege requested was permission to lay pipes along the streets.

The writer pointed out that the present service was inadequate for the needs, and that no special effort was being made to extend the service, a fact which was mentioned as being a reason for the encouragement of a second plant which would be prepared to extend to the outlying sections of the city. It was the opinion of the writer that the proposed plant would not interfere with the city's present lighting service, as the new works would be designed more for supplying fuel and power. On motion of Ald. Jardine, the letter was referred to the finance committee for a report.

Last evening's session was not lengthy, owing to the program of business being a short one.

Ald. Jardine reported on the application of Galbraith & Sons for a lease of a piece of city property situated on the north side of Lulu island within the city limits, to the effect that the property there was all unsuitable. The report was adopted.

Ald. Jardine also reported recommending that the sum of $2926.25 be advanced to the board of school trustees to pay accounts outstanding, the sum of $2569.50 of the amount due to Messrs. Marshall & Bowell for the portion of the new wing to the school which has been done. The recommendation was adopted.

A. H. McQuarrie, city treasurer, was appointed to the position of city clerk to act during the absence of W. J. Duncan from the city on holidays.

The following communications came before the council:

D. J. McQuarrie, local manager of the B. C. Electric Railway company, wrote to the effect that his company was about to commence an electrical survey of the city tram line extending from Sapperton, for the purpose of ascertaining the exact condition of affairs with regard to electrolysis, with a view to devising some means of turning the electrical current away from the water mains.

Commenting on the letter, Ald. Smith thought that it was up to the company to lay a return wire to carry back the current to the power station. Ald. Garrett suggested that another overhead wire would return the current satisfactorily.

Ald. Gray considered the proper course would be to let the company proceed with whatever plans they have in mind for relieving the situation, and any suggestion which the council may have to be withheld for the present. The letter was referred to the light and water committees.

R. Robinson, park ranger, reported the death of one of the cougars at the park last week. He considered the death as something of a mystery, as all the animals were in good health a few hours prior to the cougar's demise. The letter was received and filed.

A preliminary sketch of the proposed new Lulu island bridge was received from the city engineer, Albert L. Hill with suggestions as to the construction of the same. He was of the opinion that all requirements would be met so far as the north end of the bridge was concerned, by placing a good gravel surface over the present filling and building a substantial railing along that section. He recommended the entire removal of the old draw span and its substitution by two 73 foot spans of the Howe pattern, the new draw recently constructed to remain intact.

The documents were referred to the board of works and water committee for a report on the advisability of adopting Mr. Hill's proposals.

Mrs. Elizabeth Davis applied for the construction of a crossing over the sidewalk in front of her residence on the south side of Fifth avenue between Eighth and Ninth streets. The application was granted under the usual conditions.

The Rev. A. Shildrick wrote advising the construction of a new sidewalk along Dickinson street between Merrivale and Elliot streets. He claimed that the old one was entirely useless and dangerous to pedestrians. The request was referred to the board of works for a report.

John Reid submitted an offer of $6,000, the tax sale up-set price, for the old city power plant property, situated near the B. C. Electric substation on the sand flats. He offered $500 cash, the balance to extend over five years at seven per cent. On motion of Ald. Jardine, the offer was accepted and the clerk was instructed to ask the city solicitor to make out the agreement.

A report of infectious disease for the month of July was received from the city medical health officer, Dr. J. Jones. Ten new cases of measles and one new case of diphtheria were reported, which added to the thirty-four cases of measles existing at the beginning of July made forty-four, forty of which had recovered by the end of the month. No deaths from infectious diseases occurred during the month.

C. H. Paterson applied for permission to lay building material on Armstrong street, between Blackwood and Merrivale strets. Permission was granted.

FISHERMEN IN TROUBLE.

Caught Casting Sockeye Nets Above Bridge During Prohibited Hours.

Informations charging them with violating the close season regulations on Sunday night last have been laid against nine fishermen, and the cases will be heard by Inspector C. B. Sword within the next few days. Dominion fisheries officers went up the river late on Sunday night, acting on information brought down by an employee on one of the river boats, and found a number of boats belonging to the B. C. Canners' association fishing with sockeye nets, notwithstanding the instructions received from Ottawa about a week ago and passed along to the fishermen to the effect that no sockeyes should be taken from the river above the bridge between the hours of 6 a. m. on Saturday morning and 6 a. m. on Monday morning.

Mr Sword has decided to withhold action until the arrival of copies of the order-in-council recently passed at Ottawa effecting the close season regulations. The copies have been forwarded and should arrive within the next few days.

Razors are Idle.

London, Ont., Aug. 5.—As was expected, the barbers were out on strike today, over fifty men being affected, and about forty shops. Two large non-union shops down town are about the only ones not affected. The barbers declare that they will remain out until the bosses come to their terms.

POPE PIUS ISSUES IMPORTANT SYLLABUS

Errors in Catholic Faith Corrected by Holy Father—Criticisms Condemned.

New York, Aug. 5.—A translation of the text of the Sixty Five Articles of the Syllabus issued by Pope Pius X has been secured by the Hearst News service.

This document, one of the most important issues from the Vatican in nearly half a century, concerns errors in the Catholic faith—errors resulting from socalled modernism.

These errors are pointed out by a decree of the Holy Roman and Universal Inquisition. The hopes set upon the document are many and in the curia many are confident it will root out and banish forever the new views.

The Syllabus, in dealing with the modernism of the Faith, condemns with no lack of decision "modern errors" concerning the interpretation of the Gospels, modern criticisms of the life, works, miracles and death of Christ.

This is the first document of its kind to be issued since Pope Pius IX in his "Quanta Curia" of December, 1864, in which he gathered a Syllabus of eighty popular errors.

ENGLISH SPORT FINDS FAVOR IN PORTLAND

Cricket Increases in Popularity — Peers Makes Fine Showing on Visiting Team

Although defeated in their matches with the Tacoma and Portland cricket teams, the Vancouver cricketers, more particularly Messrs. A. Malins and F. J. Peers, of this city, who played on the Vancouver team, made some excellent scores. In Tacoma Mr. Peers made the top score, registering 31, and had the extraordinary bowling analysis in the first inning of seven wickets for four runs. On the whole four he took 21 wickets for 38 runs. The British Columbians showed up well at times, defeating both the Tacoma and Portland teams in a single inning.

Cricket is gaining a fast hold south of the line, and every effort is being put forth for the advancement of the sport. The Portland cricket club recently purchased a piece of ground in a beautiful suburb, and within a few years will probably have the best cricket ground on the coast.

Both Washington and Oregon are sending elevens to compete at the international cricket tournament which opens in Vancouver on the 19th inst. On account of the number of teams expected to compete, arrangements are to be made to play one of the games each day of the tournament week at Queen's park this city. This should be a great treat for the cricket lovers in New Westminster, and it is hoped that no obstacles will be placed in the way of the arrangements being carried out as proposed.

WORK HAS BEEN TREBLED.

Railway Commission Dealt With 1800 Applications During Year.

Ottawa, Aug. 5.—During the past twelve months the Railway commission has dealt with 1,800 applications as compared with 600 for the previous twelve months, an increase of 200 per cent. This is partly accounted for by the fact that parliament added the control of telephone companies to the duties of the department. The work of the commission has been growing to such an extent that the necessity for an enlargement of the staff is becoming daily more apparent. The appointment of a publicity officer on the staff of the commission is one of the probabilities of the near future, as it is recognized that a method of making public the findings of the board would be in the interests of the public.

Special Coaches Wanted.

Owing to the great demand for tickets for the citizen's picnic, the supply is now practically exhausted, and a large number of disappointed persons have been unable to secure the pasteboards which would entitle them to make the trip on the Princess Beatrice. The committee is now negotiating with the G. N. R. officials for the purpose of trying to induce that company to run five special coaches on the regular south bound train on the date of the picnic in order to accommodate the crowd which intends to take in the excursion. The St. Paul officials of the company have not yet wired their acceptance of the citizens committee's offer, but that they will do so is almost a foregone conclusion. The five coaches would accommodate from 350 to 400 persons.

Hay Crop is Short.

It is reported from the farming sections that the hay crop will not be heavy this year on account of the drought which became effective about the middle of June and continued for several weeks. Prices on a par with those of last fall, winter and spring are expected to prevail again during the coming months. Mr. Mathers, local manager for the Brackman & Ker milling company, is reported to be buying all the hay he can secure, against the time when the scarcity will become pronounced. When interviewed yesterday Mr. Mathers stated that he was not purchasing more than he required for carrying on his business, and that he had not ten tons of a surplus. In his opinion, it was a question whether the crop was any smaller this year than last. His firm was paying $15 a ton for hay, but the high price was caused by the high wages paid by farmers for labor more than to a scarcity of the crop.

EPWORTH CHURCH OPENED.

Memorial Christian Edifice to Pioneer Missionary in Use.

The new Methodist church at Epworth, erected as a memorial to the late Rev Ebenezer Robson, the pioneer misisonary of British Columbia, was formally opened and dedicated on Sunday, with a large congregation in attendance. The opening of the edifice will also be marked by an entertainment which will be given in the church this evening, which is expected to be largely attended. Quite a few New Westminster people will be present.

The church was erected by public subscriptions principally by the friends of the late Mr. Robson, many of whom reside in this city. It is situated a short distance from the tram line between Central Park and Vancouver.

Funeral of E. J. Newton.

Quite a number of New Westminster citizens will go over to Vancouver today by special car to attend the funeral of the late E. J. Newton, who passed away at the family residence, Lansdowne street, Vancouver, last Friday The funeral will take place from the residence and the church of Our Lady of the Holy Rosary to the Catholic cemetery.

The late Mr. Newton was for many years a resident of this city, and conducted a harnessmaking shop here. He came to British Columbia before the advent of the C. P. R., and set up a harnessmaking business in Yale, later coming to New Westminster.

FINE FARM LANDS PROVE TO BE BOGGY

Purchaser Seeks to Escape From Liability by Appealing to Supreme Court.

Vancouver, Aug. 5.—An interesting and complicated litigation was began before Mr. Justice Clement in the supreme court this morning. In this suit the plaintiff, Roderick McKenzie, is endeavoring to escape from an agreement of purchase which he signed, for a certain large tract of farming land. This property is about a square mile in extent, situated in the district of New Westminster just outside the Pitt river dyke, and according to the defendant is valued at $30,000.

In the statement of claim, Herbert Ford, on behalf of his wife, Harriet negotiated the sale of this land, by representing that the title was clear, and held in fee simple, by her. In the agreement of sale which was signed on Nov. 8, 1906, it was stated that Mrs. Ford would produce a certificate of indefeasible title on Jan. 1, 1907, and Mr. McKenzie, a New Zealender, bought the land in good faith upon the representation that it was good farming land, while in reality it was nothing but bog. When he had inspected the land with Mr. Ford, he had been permitted only to examine the edges of the property, but had been assured that the central portions were equally fine. He claims that the sale was effected only by fraudulent misrepresentation, and seeks to get his money back.

Homecomers Welcome Edition.

The Ottawa Home-coming carnival, which was intended to attract former Ottawans from all sections of the Dominion, has been marked by the issuance of a special Home-coming welcome number by the Ottawa Free Press. The issue not only depicts the vigorous development of Ottawa in the face of many fires which nearly wiped the city out of existance, but attempts and fairly well succeeds in presenting a concise and interesting story of the history and progress of the Dominion illustrated by photogravures of men well known in Canadian national life. The issue is all the more interesting for the reason that it commemorates the fortieth anniversary of Confederation, a subject which receives liberal space in the big issue.

The Free Press is to be commended for its splendid success.

G. T. P. Construction Commences.

Prince Rupert, B. C., Aug. 5.—Jack Stewart and his associates have the contract for building and grading the Kitamaat branch of the Grand Trunk Pacific which will be commenced at once at the Copper River end.

SWELLS EMULATE ADAM AND EVE

Society People Startle Natives by Bathing With Simple Edenic Costumes.

Des Moines, Ia., Aug. 5.—"Not guilty, but don't do it again," was the verdict of the jury in the trial of a number of prominent young society men and women of Des Moines, who were charged with bathing in a public place, clad in the Edenic simplicity of fig leaves. At a recent outing on the banks of Walnut creek, under the inspiration of a few bottles of extra dry, the young people decided to "startle the natives" by discarding their clothing and substituting therefore narrow bands of leaves cunningly fashioned by the ladies of the party. In this abbreviated costume the leaders of Des Moines' "smart set," brave in the knowledge that they had created a new sensation and established a fresh fad paddled in the water or rested upon the grassy banks of the creek.

The natives of the Walnut creek neighborhood were startled, all right, and soon caused cold chills to chase up and down the spinal columns of the "simple lifers" by causing their arrest on a charge of disorderly conduct. Although at the trial the modern disciples of Adam and Eve were acquitted, it was with a warning that will likely make fig-leaf parties highly unpopular for some time to come.

The offenders were three married couples, two unmarried women and three young bachelors, all prominent in Des Moines' society and among the city's "best families."

WAVE OF FEAR IN BERLIN.

Woman Surprised Man in Act of Stabbing Girl.

Berlin, Aug. 5.—The recurrence of a "ripper" outrage has caused another wave of nervous fear and dread to break over the city. A woman, on opening the door of a flat, surprised a man in the act of striking down an eleven-year-old girl. The woman screamed, and the man succeeded in getting away. This occurred in the neighborhood of the previous outrages. The residents of this section are in such a state of nervous excitement that they fell upon and beat fearfully a harmless man because he had offered a child a piece of candy.

Applications for Water.

A number of applications for water records have been filed at the water commissioners office during the last couple of days. Daniel McKenzie posted an application for 10 inches of water from an unnamed stream running through northeast quarter of section 10, township 16 and W. A. Brown, of Coquitlam wants 10 inches from a stream running through section 17, township 40 and emptying into Innis creek. An application has been posted by Roderick McCrimmon, of Abbotsford, for a record of five inches from an unnamed stream running through the northeast half of section 10, township 16. It was stipulated in all the applications that the water was wanted for agricultural and domestic purposes.

Coal Near Prince Albert.

Prince Albert, Sask., Aug. 5.—The finding of coal in the Eagle lake country has revived the excitement here. Some years ago coal was discovered in Shell brook, and also in Colleston. The showing was very promising in the Colleston districts. Loose coal there can be shovelled up by the wagon loads. No thorough effort has been made to exploit the field but now that the Eagle coal district has been defined steps are being taken to explore the coal fields in Colleston.

Penalty of Doing Right.

Helena, Ark., Aug. 5.—J. N. Scott, city editor of the Helena World, was assassiated at an early hour this morning as he was leaving his office for home. Five shots were fired into his body, two entering the brain. No one was in sight at the time and his body was not found until half an hour later, whe two officers, attracted by the firing, searched for the cause and came upon the dead man. No arrests have been made, and there are no clews. The dead man took an important part in clearing the town of corrupt administration.

KENNEL CLUB MEETING.

Ge[illegible]ents For Fine Dog Show [illegible]hibition Week.

George W. Clayton, of Chicago, the famous dog fancier, was at a meeting of the recently organized Kennel club, last evening elected judge for the bench show which will be held here during the latter part of the big provincial fair, on Oct. 2, 3, 4, and 5. This will be Mr. Clayton's first trip to this part of the country for, although he was in Portland a couple of years ago he has never been further north.

A bench committee, consisting of A. Malins, J. A. Montgomery, W. E. Townsend and Secretary Farrant, was organized to look after all arrangements in connection with the holding of the show, the prospects for the success of which were never better. A large number of inquiries have recently been received by mail, this showing the interest which is being taken in the forthcoming bench show. Entries will be received until Sept. 25, seven days before the opening.

The poultry building will shortly be in the hands of the carpenters, who will thoroughly reconstruct the interior of the building in order to make it suitable for the housing of the canines during the four days they are on exhibition.

The membership of the Kennel club now totals twenty-eight and indications point to this number being greatly increased in the course of the next few months.

EAGERLY AWAITING INDIAN MONSOON

Heat Causes Intense Suffering - Famine Conditions Prevail---Prayer, Fasting.

Lucknow, India, Aug. 5.—Intense heat prevails throughout Upper India, and there is a condition of famine. Everywhere the monsoon is being eagerly awaited.

British soldiers in Allahabad and Cawnpore are suffering from apoplexy. Several are reported to have succumbed. Cattle are also dying for want of fodder.

Famine prices prevail in many districts, and people have been driven to the extremity of selling their jewelry in order to buy grain.

A swarm of locusts passed over Lucknow yesterday, and t he native inhabitants killed as many as they could and ate them.

Owing to the continuation of the drought five hundred Mussulmans at Allahabad spent the day in prayer and fasting.

They were beginning to despair when heavy rain fell, and they had to wade through water knee deep before they could reach their homes.

Winegrowers Settle Down.

Paris, Aug. 5.—The situation in the south of France which arose from the discontent of the wine growers has improved to such an extent that the authorities began to withdraw today the troops set into the disaffected districts. Furthermore, the government has decided to release on bail M. Ferroul, former mayor of Narconne, Marcelin Albert, and other leaders of the movement who were arrested.

Man Wound on Shaft.

Port Arthur, Ont., Aug. 5.—An accident occurred last evening on the steamer Doris which resulted in the horrible death of an Italian, name unknown. The Italian was working on the deck and by some means became entangled in the hoisting rope from the hold. Instantly he was wound round the shaft and his body badly lacerated by the rope. After being cut down he was taken to the hospital where he died early this morning.

Fish Trust in Trouble.

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 5.—Indictments were voted today by the federal grand jury against persons and corporations connected with the investigation of the alleged fish trust rebate cases.

A. Booth & Co., the Nickle Plate & Lake Shore railroads and employees of Booth & Co., whose testimony is said to have been perjured, have been mentioned in the daily sessions of the grand jury. Indictments will relate two rebate cases only.

ADVERTISE IN THE NEWS

DEFIES POLICE WITH DRAWN REVOLVER

Frenchman Sentenced to Imprisonment Barricaded His House and Blazes Away.

Paris, Aug. 5.—A tragic "Fort Chabrol" drama has occurred at Toulouse. On Wednesday evening a wrestler named Tournier was sentenced at the local police court to eight months' imprisonment for a desperate assault on a man named Darmes.

Immediately after the sentence was pronounced Tournier drew a revolver and fired, first at Darmes, who had given evidence against him, and then at the policeman who arrested him. Darmes was seriously injured, but the shot missed the policeman.

In the confusion which followed Tournier escaped from the court and fled to his house, which he barricaded against the police. When they approached the house for the purpose of capturing him he fired at them with his revolver, and several of the policemen narrowly escaped serious injury.

It was decided to lay siege to the house, and all night long the building was carefully watched. Several times the police attempted to obtain an entrance,but each time they were forced to retreat from the shots of Tournier's revolver.

Tournier shot himself when finally cornered.

SICILIAN WHITE SLAVES.

Agency Run by Mafia Society Raided By Police.

Rome, Aug. 5.—A big Sicilian secret agency for the white slave traffic, managed by the Mafia, and having its headquarters in the city of Catania, has just been exposed by the police. Sixty arrests have been made.

The agency has been in full working order for several years. Shiploads of young Italian girls from the southern provinces have been transported to Cairo and other towns of the Orient under cover of false passports. It appears that the traffic was greatly facilitated through the unlimited demand for Neapolitan debutantes for Egyptian music halls.

Eight Students Succeed.

A letter received from Fredericton, N. B., yesterday morning gives the results of the matriculation examinations of the University of New Brunswick participated in by eight pupils of the New Westminster high school:

All eight pupils were successful in passing in all subjects as folows:

Division 1. Miss O. Wilson, Miss M. Wilson.

Division 2. Barclay, Murphy and Miss Mack.

Division 3. Corbett, Miss Lord and Miss Wade.

The relative standing of the pupils is not yet known.

J. A. Lee returned on Sunday from Toronto, Berlin, Stratford and other Ontario cities, where he went some weeks ago to select furniture for the new Russell hotel, for which he has secured the contract to furnish, and also for the new addition to the Windsor hotel. While down east Mr. Lee also purchased furniture for the restaurant and rooming apartments which Mrs. Cook will conduct in the new Dominion Trust company's block, now under construction at the corner of Columbia and Sixth streets. Mr. Lee reports that business is brisk down east, and things are prosperous. Wheat on the prairie seemed very good all along except in Manitoba, where the drought was particularly noticeable during the spring months. He noticed farmers ploughing up fields which had been seeded with wheat.

BRILLIANT METEOR

Falls to Earth Near Eagle Pass Entrance.

Revelstoke, Aug. 5—A meteorite of unusual briliance, cutting a vivid flaming arc in its flight, appeared at a late hour on Saturday night in the western sky, making in a direct line for the shoulder of Mt. McArthur, where it disappeared in a blinding flash, apparently among the heavy timber. The meteorite left a trail of sparks behind it similar to that of a rocket, and the explosion lit up the scene for the moment with a brilliant greenish light. It would be interesting to discover traces of these bodies after they come in contact with the earth, as from specimens found in other countries, it has been proved that no two are composed of the same material. Iron, nickel, and other minerals, including gold, have been found in these bodies.

CHAIN OF WARSHIPS TO PATROL MOROCCO

Riotous Element Must Be Suppressed by European Governments at All Costs.

Paris, Aug. 5.—Orders have been issued by the government for the patrolling of the entire coast of Morocco by a chain of warships. Through an agreement with the Spanish government the riotous elements in Morocco will be held in subjection by naval forces from both nations until the international police provided by the Algeciras convention can be installed.

Unless the disorders in Morocco decrease and it is shown that foreigners are entirely safe from molestation, it is expected that an expedition will be sent to Fez to make a demonstration of military force and frighten the turbulent tribes into submission, at the same time threatening the passive Moroccan government.

It has been agreed by the powers that anarchy must be stamped out in Morocco.

The Moroccoan government gives its typical assurances that every effort is being made to restore order and protect the foreign interests and that the governors of the various ports will be held personally responsible for the safety of the foreigners within their jurisdiction.

This is the same old story that Morocco has told upon previous occasions. Little faith is placed in the ability of the sultan's government to preserve, order, and the plans for outside interference are being rushed nothwithstanding the assurances.

According to a message from Melilla, Morocco, the Moorish pretender will send a delegation of rebel chiefs to Europe in the hope of winning sympathy for his cause. The pretender has intimated that he is willing to co-operate with the European powers in suppressing the present uprising in Morocco, and he thus hopes to secure foreign backing enough to have the sultan deposed and himself placed on the throne.

ANTI-ASIATIC LEAGUE.

Movement to Restrict Undesirable Immigration is Growing.

Vancouver, Aug. 5—The people who are behind the movement to restrict immigration of Asiatics into this country have determined that it will be well to have the movement take a wider scope. In consequence a meeting has been called for this evening in the auditorium of the labor hall, Homer street, for the purpose of organizing an Asiatic Exclusion league. To this meeting are invited all persons, whether members of labor unions or not, who believe, in keeping Canada a white man's country. The meeting will not be for speech making, but for organization, and all interested are most cordially invited to be present. Up to now the local persons interested have been working without any complete organization on the lines set forth by the Anti-Japanese-Korean league of the state of Washington. While the interests of the state of Washington and the province of B. C. are identical in this matter it is deemed that a purely Canadian organization would have more interests on Canadian law makers.

SHARK IN HARBOR.

Young Nine Footer Captured at Victoria By Young Men.

Victoria, B. C. Aug. 5—A young shark nine feet long was captured in the inner harbor last evening shortly after 6 o'clock by two members of the James Bay A. A. A., who lassoed it by the tail and hauling it out on the club float killed it.

The shark was feeding under the C. P. R. wharf when discovered by a small boy. Jack Donaldson and Ted Hiscocks took a canoe out from the club and undertook to capture the man-eater. They approached the big fish in the canoe and after some manouvering managed to get a slipknot over its tail. The shark was busy eating and did not pay much

Bulldog Bites Nose Off.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 5.—A vicious bulldog sprang at Robert Davis Friday and bit his nose off. The man had gone to the house to paper some rooms and as he was entering the back yard the dog rushed at him. Davis ran with the blood streaming from his face to the office of Dr. Hall. The nose was afterwards found in the yard and placed in alcohol. An attempt to sew it on may be made.

QUERIES, CONTRASTS AND COINCIDENCES.

The little ripple which last week ruffled for a few hours the calm surface of our political life, seems to suggest some comment; the marking of a contrast, the making of one or two queries. The contrast is partly that between the Socialist movement as they have it in the old country, and Socialism here as "demonstrated" by Mr. Hawthornthwaite and his more immediate allies; and partly that between the manner of political discussion in the two places. To be exact, however, the contrast is suggested by incidents connected with the visit of J. Keir Hardie, rather than by the local bye election.

In the old country, Socialism seems to be much broader than it is here. It aims in the first place at the amelioration of the condition of the poorer classes. It wishes to raise the standard of comfort, to sweep away some of the uglier features of the life of the poor, and it seems to count as friends, and to be willing to make alliance with, all who are working honestly toward the same end. In British Columbia we have a different state of affairs. Mr. Hawthornthwaite's followers are a class apart, politically speaking. Their hand is against every man. The practical working out of their policy so far has been to defeat and discourage those who are working towards the betterment of the average man, and to give help to those who are the tools and servants of privilege and monopoly.

As to the difference in political discussions, an incident reported in a Vancouver paper brings that out. Mr. Hardie addressed a meeting on the joint invitation of Labor party and Socialists. Mr. Hawthornthwaite was there as one of the "hosts" and Mr. Macpherson, M. P., was there by invitation. Both spoke, and the former "pitched into" the latter. "As the meeting broke up," says the paper from which we quote, "Mr. Keir Hardie gave it a dramatic finish by lifting his hand and asking the people to wait a moment. 'I was very sorry,' he said, 'to hear the last speaker abuse Mr. Macpherson in the way he did. Whatever we are, we should at least try to be courteous, and to invite a man to your platform and then to abuse him afterwards is a poor business. I thank you again. Good-night.' A very "poor business" it certainly is, but too common in British Columbia; nor are the Socialists the only sinners.

One of the questions suggested by the bye-election is, why do we continue, both in province and Dominion, the barbarous practice of requiring a deposit from each candidate, which deposit is forfeited if the candidate fails to poll a certain number of votes? If the deposit was to insure that the candidate would not be "scratched" before polling day, one could find some arguments in support of it; but as things are we do not think we have erred in describing it as a barbarous practice. We are not Socialists; particularly and especially we are not Socialists of the Hawthornthwaite brand; and we have no sympathy at all with the so-called "principle" which, it is said, was the reason for Saturday's contest; but we do believe in freedom of speech and of action. Mr. Kingsley made use of the occasion to preach his political doctrines. He was entirely within his rights in so doing, and certainly should not have been fined for it. Tennyson expressed a fundamental doctrine of the British constitution, which springs from one of the strongest and most admirable traits in the British character, when he described Britain as

"The land where, girt with friends or foes,
A man may speak the thing he will."

But in British Columbia we find a man who seeks the best possible opportunity—almost the only opportunity worth while—of putting his views on public matters before the people!

The other question suggested is, why was there even the form of an election on Saturday? We need hardly say that, politically speaking, we have not an atom of faith either in Mr. Bowser or in the government of which he is a member; but we do think that he had sense and reason on his side when he said that, having been elected at the head of the poll six months ago, he should not have to make another fight for the seat now. The fact that a man is strong enough (politically) to be invited to join the government is a very poor reason for subjecting him to the time and money wasting process of re-election; but it is a very considerable temptation, both to the man himself and to the government of which he is a member, to go in for "nursing" the constituency in a way which may be neither legitimate from the ethical point of view, nor fair to the rest of the country. It is unparliamentary to attribute motives; and we trust that no one would dream of accusing us of doing such a thing, but one may properly make note of the curious coincidences which occur from time to time, and the general remarks which we have been led to make on this matter of re-election recall the fact—well known as to its general outline—that there has been a battle royal behind the curtain which hides the internal workings of the government from the vulgar curiosity of prying grits and all people of that kind. The issue was, Should Mr. Fulton keep the portfolio of attorney general and leave that of lands and works for Mr. Cotton, or should he keep lands and works and leave the attorney generalship for Mr. Bowser? Now Mr. Cotton sits for Richmond and Mr. Bowser for Vancouver; and the coincidence is that, while the fight was pending, and no man knew whether the coming bye-election would take place in Richmond or in Vancouver, it was discovered by the eagle eye of the government that both these constituencies suffered through the want of many things—court houses and speedways and a host of other requirements; and accordingly, the spigot of the treasury was opened wide so that a refreshing stream of public works appropriations should flow into both constituencies. Of the various incidents of the battle of course we know nothing—"who fought, who fled, who basely live, who bravely died," or how it happened that Richmond was not in the field at the last; but we do know—and herein is the coincidence—that these two constituencies got away with a large percentage of the amount available for public works.

Lectured From Elevated Stand.

Edmonton, Alta., Aug. 5.—Providence together with the anxious care of the nursing staff of the Misericordia hospital, saved George E. Wood, a young carpenter, from a horrible death yesterday. The ward where the man was is on the third storey of the hospital and a stone cornice a foot wide runs around the building on the level with the window sills. Wood made a dash for the window and to the consternation of the nurses started walking along the stone cornice. He paraded up and down the cornice until he finally reached the tower at the corner of the hospital. There he stood and continued his address to an audience gathered on the street below. Some of the staff of the hospital coaxed the man to return to the ward but he was deaf to their appeal. He did not share their terrible anxiety of seeing him slip and being hurled to death on the ground below.

A plan was hit upon by one of the staff. A neighbor was sent for and a bottle of whiskey produced. With this one of the nurses cajolled the man in from his perilous position and once safely within, the windows were closed and a man detailed to watch him until the police authorities arrived.

He reports that Burrard inlet is growing in popularity as a resort and that there are more people camping in the vicinity of Aliceville, Port Moody, and along the North arm this year than ever before.

A meeting of the local camp of the Sons of Scotland will be held this evening for the purpose of deciding upon to what extent the members of the camp will take part in the celebration department of the annual provincial fair in October. A report of their action will be made later in the evening to the amusement committee of the R. A. & I. society, which will meet in the city hall at nine o'clock this evening.

A letter was received at the city hall the other day addressed to Mayor Keary from J. A. Dark, who signed himself Vice-president of the Society of Amalgamated Carpenters, in which complaint was made against the alleged employment of Japanese on city street and sewer work. His Worship replied to the effect that his complaint was without point, inasmuch as no Japanese or Chinamen were being employed by the city.

Plans are now in course of formation for the tennis tournament which will be held in this city shortly before the end of the month. The exact date has not yet been fixed, and the program of events has not been drafted, but a committee is now engaged and everything will be in readiness for holding the tournament probably during the last week of August. About thirty-five or forty local tennis players will compete.

A fairly good run of sockeyes took place along the North arm of the river Sunday night and yesterday, although in other places the run was very small. North arm boats averaged about 125 fish on Sunday night, and yesterday each boat secured about 20 fish per drift. The run was very small in the vicinity of Steveston, the boats not averaging more than forty or fifty, during Sunday night. It was reported from down river that fairly good catches had been made out on the outer sand heads and near Point Roberts.

Mayor Keary was authorized by the city council in committee last evening to declare Aug. 14 a civic holiday, in response to a request from D. E. McKenzie of the Citizen's picnic committee. The provincial fire fighting forces headed by Deputy Fire Warden Alex. McQuarrie and a number of Dominion government men, had a hard fight with bush fires in the vicinity of Hyland's camp near the Serpentine river last Friday and Saturday. The fire crowded very close to the camp, and the combined efforts of the government men and all the loggers were needed to protect the camp from destruction. Considerable timber was destroyed. Deputy Warden McQuarrie reports that there are very few fires in his division. There are a couple near Cloverdale which are still threatening, but as yet no property has been destroyed.

It was later learned that Mr. Walsh's disorder was a cardiac affection, and that he would bring back a balm that is expected to relieve the malady by which he is troubled. A NEED, JUST LIKE SLEEP.

Is the Instinct of Natural Death Born In Mankind?

The most convincing fact in proof of the existence in man of an instinct of natural death seems to me that reported by Toxarsky in relation to an old woman. In the lifetime of Toxarsky I begged an acquaintance of his to obtain for me the details of this most interesting case, of which I had found but an incomplete statement. Toxarsky unfortunately could add nothing to what he had published in his article. I believe, however, that I have found the source from which his instance had been taken.

In his book upon the physiology of taste, which had its day of celebrity, Brillat-Savarin relates the following: "I had a great-aunt, ninety-three years old, who was dying. Although for some time confined to her bed, she had retained all her faculties, and her condition was only betrayed by her loss of appetite and the weakening of her voice. She had always shown a fondness for me, and I was near her bed, affectionately ready to wait on her, which did not prevent my watching her with the philosophical eye I have ever had for the things and events surrounding me. 'Are you there, nephew?' she asked, in a scarcely audible voice. 'Yes, aunt; I am here at your service, and I think you would do well to take a little good old wine.' 'Give, mon ami. One can always swallow liquid.' I hastened. Raising her gently, I made her take half a glass of my best wine. She brightened for a moment and, looking at me with eyes which had once been very fine, 'Thank you,' she said, 'for this last favor. If ever you reach my age you will find that death becomes a need, just like sleep.'

"These were her last words. Half an hour later she had fallen asleep forever. We unmistakably have here an instance of the instinct of natural death. The instinct was shown at a relatively early age in a person who had retained all her intellectual faculties."—Professor Elie Metchnikoff in Harper's

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

Beat a boy out of a dime and the crime will never outlaw.

Comparison may not be a detraction, but it is certainly a half sister.

The truth with unselfish people is they are liable to brag about it.

There is only one way in this world to get your own way—insist upon it.

Almost any defense would be all right if you could make people believe it.

It is just as dangerous to tell some people a secret as it is to fool with a loaded gun.

When a man submits to a procession wedding the other men look at him the way boys look at a boy whose mother makes him wear long curls.

The man who has made a failure in any line of business never has a very good opinion of the man who started in the same line at the same time and made it a success.—Atchison Globe.

Too Deep.

The story is told of a lank, disconsolate looking farmer who one day during the progress of a political meeting in Cooper institute stood on the steps with the air of one who has been surfeited with a feast of some sort.

"Do you know who's talking in there now?" demanded a stranger briskly, pausing for a moment beside the disconsolate farmer, "or are you just going in?"

"No, sir. I've just come out," said the farmer decidedly. "Mr. Evarts is talking in there."

"What about?" asked the stranger.

"Well, he didn't say," the farmer answered, passing a knotted hand across his forehead.

A Pet Tiger.

Out of a river bed where it had tumbled when its dam was put to flight some hunters in India fished a tiger cub. In two days it was as tame as a kitten and grew up the playmate of the camp terriers. It was very fond of them and the terriers worshiped the tigress. To allay the fears of a woman visitor the tigress was one night chained up. Next morning the animal was found with a man under her. She had not hurt him. He was a thief and, not knowing of her existence, had come within the area which her length of chain enabled her to command. She sprang upon him, lay on him and kept him prisoner until guards came to release him.

A Famous Tenor.

Apart from its wide range, the natural beauty and sweetness of the voice of Sims Reeves held his audiences spellbound and fully entitled him to be termed the finest English tenor of his day. He especially excelled in oratorio parts, while in opera his success was scarcely less pronounced. Perhaps it was as a singer of English ballads that Sims Reeves appealed to the majority, and it will probably be many a long day before we shall hear a more exquisite rendering of "Sally In Our Alley" than that of which this great tenor was capable.—London Mail.

FURIES IN THE ARENA.

The Wrestling Matches Between Women In Japan.

Describing a wrestling match between women in Japan, a writer says: "The wrestlers arranged themselves in two sides, each led by a captain. They sat cross legged around the platform in the dirt, all but the two chosen to begin, who advanced into the center with the umpire. They squatted upon their feet and bowed to each other slowly and solemnly. Politeness thus being fulfilled, they stood up again and bent over opposite one another like two gamecocks, watching intently for a chance to seize an advantage. During the preliminaries the audience was tense with expectation. Then suddenly the women sprang, hissing at each other furiously and gnashing their teeth, at first by simulating ferocity to spur themselves up to greater excitement, but, after a few clutches, in deadly feminine earnest, the umpire meanwhile buzzing close to them as they swayed around the narrow ring.

"Any and all holds seemed fair means to the end of pushing a combatant over the edge. Sometimes with a clean throw one woman landed her opponent, sprawling, in the midst of her friends. This was the signal for the umpire to begin, 'Hitotsu, futatsu, mitsu, yotsu, itsusu' (one, two, three, four, five), in a series of irregular and disconnected squeaks, and before he ceased counting another wrestler from the losing side jumped up to meet the champion, who stood panting, hissing and spitting like a boiling kettle in the center of the arena.

"This time there were no preliminaries. A wild rush, and like two furies or two beasts the women were struggling again. Some affected quick clutches, some locked their adversaries in their arms and stood stock still for a full five minutes. Some picked up their opponents almost at once and threw them bodily over the ring, while others rolled over with them."—Chicago News.

AMERICAN ART.

The Way Men of Means May Promote Its Advancement.

It is an encouraging theory that all important art epochs have been preceded by epochs of great wealth, and it may well be that the present multiplication of large fortunes will be the foundation of a more ideal condition of society, affording, as these fortunes do, the support of extensive artistic undertakings, as did those of Genoa and Venice. And while it would be insensate folly to fill our museums exclusively with work by Americans, it is more and more to be expected that our artists will profit by the showing they make in such collections as the comparative exhibition of a few years ago in which they held their own with foreign masters of the same departments.

The first way, therefore, to help American art is to buy worthy pictures by American artists. Our rich men—particularly our new recruits in this class—should bear in mind that an exhibition of, let us say, the Society of American Artists, has as high a standard of admittance as the Paris Salon and is likely to contain less trash, and that, purely as a matter of investment, to urge no higher motive, it pays to buy the best American work.

Another way for those who wish by their wealth to add to the pleasure of their countrymen is to give or bequeath a portion of it to a museum for the encouragement of native art, and to be of the highest efficiency such a benefaction should be without condition. It is said that in Boston it is not respectable to die without making a bequest to Harvard university or the Museum of Art. Certainly that city has an enviable reputation for the unceasing, ever vigilant civic pride and solidarity that made Emerson exclaim of it, "Thou darling town of ours!"—Century.

The Jehu of Bombay.

In no city in the world is there a public vehicular system so irresponsible and so dangerous to human life as in Bombay. Even were the gharrywalla a jehu of ordinary intelligence the principle of allowing Europeans to be chased by two or three gharrywallas "sahibing" for a fare would be an affront to the civilized public of the city. But the Bombay gharrywalla is notoriously the most stupid individual to be found on the earth's surface, while as a coachman he is the personification of cruelty to his horse and of disregard of the public safety.—Bombay Gazette.

Not In His Line.

Smart—I'm thinking of a trip abroad. Knox—Oh, come now! You can't afford that. You're not accustomed to that sort of thing. Smart—Ha, ha! I simply said I was thinking of it. I can afford to think, can't I? Knox—No. That's what I meant when I said you were not accustomed to that sort of thing.—Philadelphia Press.

EASY DOOR FASTENERS.

Only One Kind of Lock the Expert Burglar Can't Pick.

"There's only one lock in the world that I can't open if you'll give me a few minutes at it, and as for ordinary door and drawer locks, I'll open them as easily as if there was no lock there Any expert burglar can do the same."

The foregoing statement was made by an experienced locksmith of Kansas City.

"Few persons know how insecure their homes are," he continued. "Few persons realize that the average lock is absolutely worthless for keeping out an experienced burglar. The ordinary door lock is good for nothing but reminding casual business or social callers that they must ring to be admitted. None of these ordinary 'door fasteners,' and that's the best you can call them, will deter a burglar two whole minutes. If there's no key in the lock, he soon fits one to it. If there is a key in the lock, he inserts a pair of pinchers and in ten seconds has it opened. Understand me, I am speaking of the experienced burglar. The clumsy burglar is the one who gets in trouble. He'll fumble around with a lock until somebody hears him. There is only one unpickable lock made. That's the six pin lock used by the government. It will defy any expert. There are six little steel pins in the lock, which have to be raised just a certain distance to open it. Some of the pins are one-fourth of an inch long and some of them a half inch. If one of the pins lacks even a hairbreadth of being raised the proper distance, the lock will not open. It baffles all the experts."

This locksmith is so expert he can open the majority of safes by putting his ear to the combination and listening to how the tumblers click into place as he turns it.

"I intended at one time to be a burglar," this locksmith declares. "I had it all planned out—even had a set of burglar's tools made. Then I decided that honesty was the best policy, and I stuck to my trade."—Kansas City Star.

AUDIENCE APPRECIATES OPENING ATTRACTION

Although it was past eleven before the curtain rang down on the final act at the opera house last night, still there was not one out of the crowded house that evinced the slightest desire to leave before the finish.

In the past New Westminster has had many plays by different touring companies, but the dates have been far apart, and more often the prices beyond the reach of the regular theater goer. Now it is to have the chance of a company of its own, putting on each evening different plays ranging from "Faust" to "In Missouri."

There has often been a cry raised, that there is nothing doing in the Royal city after six o'clock, transient visitors have nowhere to go, with the result that they make for Vancouver. People now-a-days want to be amused and therefore welcome a stock company at the theater, provided, that the plays are clean.

Of the play last evening, it is only necessary to say that it entertained one of the largest audiences ever seen at the theater. From the rise of the curtain to the fall, the company was exceedingly well balanced, and though at times there were dull scenes, still there was always an exciting undercurrent that kept the audience on the qui vive. The play depicted life on a country farm with the innocent girl and the heavy brained yokel, with the usual introduction of the opulent and silver tongued villain, and of course at the end the triumph of virtue, but it must not be thought from this brief outline that "Down on the Farm" is trash, far from it, the plot is sound, thoroughly well worked out and in the capable hands of the Ray Brandon players, a most interesting and delightful play.

SHARK IN HARBOR.

Young Nine Footer Captured at Victoria By Young Men.

Victoria, B. C. Aug. 5—A young shark nine feet long was captured in the inner harbor last evening shortly after 6 o'clock by two members of the James Bay A. A. A., who lassoed it by the tail and hauling it out on the club float killed it.

The shark was feeding under the C. P. R. wharf when discovered by a small boy. Jack Donaldson and Ted Hiscocks took a canoe out from the club and undertook to capture the man-eater. They approached the big fish in the canoe and after some manouvering managed to get a slip-knot over its tail. The shark was busy eating and did not pay much attention to the hunters till they had the rope fastened to it. They yanked its tail upon the canoe, and despite the struggles of the shark, towed it over to the float. Once there it was an easy matter to haul it out of its native element and club it to death.

The shark was an object of much curiosity to passersby during the evening. While not fuly developed it was an ugly specimen of its kind, and the sight of it was not at all reassuring to the members of the club, who are in the habit of bathing from off the club house.
