CONFERENCE WITH PREMIER SOUGHT BY FISHERMEN

Summons Served on Dozen More Defendants for Breach of Provincial Regulations.

Arrangements are concluded to take the summonses tomorrow against the fishermen found, it is alleged, guilty of breaches of the close season regulations of the provincial government and fishing without provincial licenses, with the cases adjourned from Tuesday. Five are cases in which the weekly close season rules were broken. Most of the men live at Whonnock, and Provincial Fisheries Officer Reid went up the river in a launch and served the summonses yesterday afternoon.

It is understood that Premier McBride, who will be in the city in connection with the lacrosse celebration, and Attorney-General Bowser, who is also minister of fisheries, have been asked to meet the fishermen here on Friday afternoon, to discuss the present enforcement of the provincial regulations.

The fishermen feel very keenly the prosecutions now pending, and the delay and vexations incidental to hearing the cases. The year is a poor one, business indifferent and between the millstones of two governments deciding constitutional questions, the poor fishermen stands little chance.

RELIGIOUS STORM RAISED BY KING EDWARD'S ACTION

London, Aug. 12.—The Council of the Protestant Alliance, that raised such a storm in Parliament and elsewhere at the time the King visited the Pope, is again agitated over the announcement that His Majesty intends ceremoniously to receive the Papal Legate, Cardinal Vannutelli, at the forthcoming Eucharistic Congress in London. The Alliance has sent a memorial to Sir Edward Grey, the Foreign Secretary, calling attention to this "projected violation of the Protestant Constitution of the United Kingdom," and urging that steps at once be taken to prevent the King from paying this compliment to the Roman Catholic prelates of Europe and America who are coming to attend the Congress. Sir Edward has done nothing more than formally acknowledge the receipt of the memorial.

London, Aug. 12.—Colonel Lamb, who has sailed for Canada, will interview the premiers of the different provinces in an endeavor to pursuade them to make emigration the concern of the local administrations.

ROUSING WELCOME HOME TO CHAMPIONS OF THE WORLD

Winners of the Minto Cup Return to Westminster This Evening—Everything Ready for Monster Reception to Popular Heroes of Western Canada—Decorations Everywhere; Music and Speeches Galore.

Tonight twelve thousand people will cheer themselves hoarse when the C. P. R. train pulls into the depot, bringing back home the champions of the lacrosse world after their triumphant journey east in successful quest of the Minto cup. The reception which awaits the boys will be the greatest ever seen in this city, political welcomes to popular heroes not excepted.

Home at 8:40 p.m.

The boys are due to step off the train at twenty minutes to nine o'clock. The appearance of the first stickhandler will be the signal for a mighty roar from the thousands assembled to do honor to the returned heroes. To prevent the boys from being overwhelmed in the congratulatory rush upon them by their friends, arrangements have been made for a passage way, to be reserved from the tracks through the waiting room and into a tally-ho which will be in waiting. A few minutes later the long procession will start on its way to Albert Crescent, where the remainder of the evening will be spent in celebrating.

A committee, consisting of W. N. Carty, secretary of the Minto cup celebration committee; W. R. Gordon, H. G. Major and H. P. McMartin, has been selected to receive the members of the team on their arrival in this city, and will escort them from the train to the seats of honor on the tally-ho. Other members of the celebration committee, including Rev. J. S. Henderson, president of the Westminster lacrosse club, will travel as far as Agassiz and make the remainder of the journey in company with the boys.

Will Receive Guests of City.

Included among the many prominent guests who are to be here this evening is Hon. Richard McBride, premier of the province, and other members of his cabinet. Messrs. J. J. Cambridge, J. B. Agar and Ald. A. W. Gray will meet the premier on his arrival here shortly after seven o'clock. Arrangements have been made whereby all B. C. E. R. cars will be met and the glad hand of welcome extended to invited guests.

Pyrotechnic Display.

Everything is now in readiness for the big pyrotechnic display on the Fraser river bridge, the fireworks lasting for about three hours. Because of the presence of a large number of bombs on the C. P. R. tracks along Front street, these being due to explode when the train comes into the city, all persons are warned to keep at a safe distance from the metals.

Free Horns.

An announcement of much importance to the ubiquitous small boy is authorized by a member of the new stationery firm of Daniel & Lodt, who occupy the premises formerly tenanted by J. A. Lee in the Dupont block. Horns and other helps to noise-making will be given away free to all children at half past seven o'clock this evening. There should be a big bargain sale rush around "The Fair" when the advertised hour and the kiddies arrive.

Order of the Procession.

The procession will be led by Charlie Donahue, bearing aloft a banner inscribed "Champions of the World." The Vancouver boys' bugle band will follow, then will come Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Welsh and children in a buggy. An army of small boys, all armed with lacrosse sticks, is to be next in line. As many recruits are needed, all boys who own or can borrow a stick are requested to take a place in the line this evening. Then will come the Westminster band, immediately preceding the champions of the world in their char d'honneur. Officers of the club will follow in automobiles and carriages, after which will come another Vancouver band. The remainder of the procession will consist of automobiles, hacks, buggies, rigs and pedestrians, the latter gradually tapering off to a straggling few who will be unable to keep up with the rest of the crowd.

At the Crescent.

Arrived at Albert Crescent, the boys will take up positions on a specially erected grand stand. Here they will be formally welcomed back to their home city by a number of prominent men, these including Mayor W. H. Keary, Rev. J. S. Henderson, Thomas Gifford, M. L. A., Ald. J. J. Johnston, J. J. Cambridge and several others. Individual ribbon badges artistically inscribed, the work of D. A. Shiles, will be presented to the players by some lady not yet selected. It had at first been intended to reserve this honor for Mrs. Richard McBride, but as she has found it impossible to come over for the celebration, the duty will devolve upon someone else. It is understood that Mrs. J. B. Kennedy will be requested to pin the decorations on the boys.

Decoration of Stores.

Lacrosse sticks and the club colors are everywhere in evidence today in the decorations. Many of the stores have been to much trouble in arranging designs appropriate to the occasion, especially on Columbia street.

The jewelry window of Thomas Gifford has a fine collection of cups arranged by one of the old guard, with photographs of the teams of the past, and other souvenirs of the great game.

The Gifford cup is given the place of honor in the group, doubtless soon to be replaced by the Minto cup. The beautiful presentation badges designed by D. A. Shiles are on exhibition here and widely admired.

Everybody will admire the sentiment of the warlike bull-dog in H. Ryall's windows, draped as he is in red and blue, and bearing the motto, "what we have we hold." This group is particularly good. A battered lacrosse stick, relic of many a hard fought battle, finds a place of honor in this window.

Bottled Line-up.

The display at the premises of the manager of the champions, C. A. Welsh, is very effective. Bottles of essence represent teams, the Shamrocks and Westminster, lined out in the lacrosse field, with pictures of past lacrosse teams in the back ground. Two miniature lacrosse sticks, presented to Bob Cheyne, then the best goal keeper in Canada, several years ago, by the Macbeth Manufacturing company, are also on show.

Won by Hot Air Brigade.

George Adams has a tin cup, which will be engraved something after this style, "Mean-too cup, presented to the Vancouver lacrosse club." Behind the cup is massed a collection of salmon tins, giving a very attractive appearance.

For the Dead Ones.

F. J. MacKenzie has a number of flags representing the emblems of all nations, and symbolical of the New Westminster club having won the world's championship. In one corner is a graveyard with tombstones of the dead Shamrocks.

J. A. Lee has his principal window dressed in the club colors, and the words "Welcome Home" worked on a pretty variegated background.

Red and Blue Everywhere.

Johnston Bros. have lit their big electric sign with red and blue lights. The windows are decorated.

T. H. Smith presents his principal display solely in the club colors, while W. E. Sinclair has lacrosse sticks and a cup.

DEEPENING RIVER CHANNEL SUBJECT OF MEETING

Committee Will Meet Member for This Constituency to Discuss the Improvement of Fraser.

A meeting of the river improvement committee, Mayor Keary, representing the city council; D. S. Curtis, W. R. Gilley and A. E. White, secretary of the board of trade, will be held shortly, probably tomorrow afternoon, to discuss the improvement of the channel of the Fraser river, the most important of all questions to the future of the city as a port and industrial centre.

J. B. Kennedy, M. P., will be invited to attend, and some statement is expected from him as to the position at Ottawa. The committee is anxious to know how soon the work will be commenced from the sums already voted in the estimates.

When the subject was ventilated at the last meeting of the board of trade it was explained that Mr. Kennedy was expected from Ottawa, and it was desirable to hear personally from him on the subject. Since his return it has been difficult to get the members of the committee together.

COURT OF A. O. F. REVIVED AND OFFICERS ELECTED

The dormant court of the Ancient Order of Foresters in this city was revived at a meeting held last evening at the Eagles hall. There was a good attendance, and W. Gray, district sub-chief ranger, formally instituted the court under its old number, 8808, giving an address on the objects of forestry. The following officers were selected: Chief ranger, F. McIntosh, P. D. C. R.; sub-chief ranger, J. D. Fleming; treasurer, J. H. Todd; secretary, J. J. Randolph; S. W., T. Freeman; G. W., F. Baldwin; S. B., J. Mayers; medical examiner, Dr. J. H. Jones. A few additional candidates were initiated.

J. J. Randolph was appointed delegate to the annual district court in Victoria next week, and failing him, J. H. Todd. Meetings of the court will take place in the Eagles hall on the second and fourth Wednesdays in each month.

PRINTERS UNITE TO FIGHT WHITE PLAGUE

Ravages of Consumption Among Typos Will Be Checked Systematically.

Boston, Aug. 12.—Favorable action on the appointment of a committee to investigate, report and remedy, if possible, the ravages of tuberculosis in so far as it vitally affects the members of the organization, and the defeat of the proposition for a convention every five years instead of annually, were the features today of the meetings of the International Typographical union. The action on tuberculosis followed an interesting and lengthy paper by H. Russell Wray, of the chamber of commerce of Colorado Springs, who spoke particularly of the advantages of the west in the treatment of the disease and of the success of the union printers' home in that city.

SHAUGHNESSY FAVORED AS SOLE ARBITRATOR

President of C. P. R. Will Endeavor to Reconcile Warring Forces—Situation Is Quiet.

Montreal, Aug. 12.—A move has just been put on foot to make Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the C. P. R., sole arbitrator between the men and the company. Much satisfaction is expressed over the new aspect of affairs.

There are said to be 1800 men working in the Angus shops today, 600 of whom are strike-breakers. The others are all classes of labor. The pay roll for the week is stated to be $25,000 less than if the works were running full blast. Everything is quiet.

Medicine Hat, Aug. 12.—Japs are still working here and the possibilities of acts of violence are very remote. Amongst the strikers are some of the best and most respected citizens. No picketing is being done.

FIFTEEN LIVES LOST IN GERMAN MINE EXPLOSION

Saarsrufken, Germany, Aug. 12.—As the result of an explosion of fire damp today in the Dudweil mine, five miles from here, fifteen persons were killed and six are in hospitals suffering from serious injuries.

BELIEVE THE STEAMER ELSIE HAS BEEN LOST

Valdez, Aug. 12.—The steamer Elsie, operating on a regular run between Valdez and Cordova, which has been missing, is believed to be lost. The steamer left Valdez Monday morning direct for Cordova and should have made the run in ten hours. She had not reached port this afternoon and was not seen by the Yucatan, which just arrived. District Attorney Ray was one of the passengers. He was going to Cordova to prevent election frauds. Another boat will be sent out tonight to look for the wreck.

Large Brewery Bond Issue.

New York, Aug. 12.—It is announced here that a syndicate of English financial men who nineteen years ago took a mortgage for several million dollars on a number of large brewing plants in New Jersey and adjoining states, have allowed the property to revert to the original owners. The latter are reorganizing under the name of the United States Brewing company. A large bond issue has just been made in favor of the English syndicate.

Macpherson Appointed Postmaster.

Ottawa, Aug. 12.—The notice of the appointment of R. G. Macpherson, M. P., to the postmastership of Vancouver has been forwarded to him by mail, according to a well informed source. The present postmaster, Mr. Jonathan Miller, has applied for his superannuation.

YESTERDAY'S BASEBALL.

This Is My 40th Birthday

Duke of Teck.

The Duke of Teck, whose name in full is Adolphus Charles Alexander Albert Edward George Philip Louis Ladislans, was born in Kensington Palace, August 13, 1868, the grandson of the late Duke of Cambridge, who was first cousin to the late Queen Victoria. The Duke of Teck is still more closely related to the British royal family through the marriage of his sister to the Prince of Wales. The Duke was educated at Wellington and at the royal military school at Sandhurst. He became an officer of the Seventeenth lancers and distinguished himself in the South African war in 1899-1900. In the latter year he succeeded his father to the title. In 1894 he was married to Lady Margaret Grosvenor, daughter of the immensely wealthy Duke of Westminster.

"Fernie is situated right in the midst of the Rocky mountains in the beautiful Elk river valley," remarked William Fernie at his residence, "Kimbolton," on Oak bay avenue, Nelson, to a Daily News man recently.

"It was founded in the year 1898 and is a coal town, depending almost altogether upon the Crow's Nest Pass coal mines for its existence, although the lumber industry, in the shape of saw mills, etc., etc., has attained very considerable proportions. But, of course the coal mines form its greatest and most enduring support. And as the first buildings were put up in the month of August, 1898, it is now precisely ten years old.

"It was built upon what is known as the B. C. Southern railway a branch of the C. P. R., and it is almost needless to say that without this means of communication, this great and important deposit of coal would be practically valueless.

"Fernie's situation is very attractive with the timber all round it, far too close, in point of fact, for safety from the very danger which has now twice overwhelmed it. And indeed, I am, I must confess surprised that after their first disheartening experience, greater precautions were not taken to avoid it for the future. Nevertheless it is to be remembered that this fire began upon the other side of the Elk river, which in itself is over one hundred yards wide, and yet it crosed that river and in a case where the flames will effectually cross so considerable stream, it is evident that an extremely large area indeed must be thoroughly cleared away about a town in order to prevent all peril from this particular source. It appears that quite half a gale was blowing at the time, and when timber catches fire in such circumstances, nothing, humanely speaking can arrest its progress.

"Why in this city and in much less perilous surrounding, I have seen blazing shingles carried 100 yards, and fore. This fire crossed the river, and did it with the greatest ease too.

"A claim for 5000 population was made for Fernie this last year, but when I left it, seven years ago it had about 2000 inhabitants. It grew very slowly at the outset, and while a good many of its people are either railroad men or employed in thelumber mills, the great majority earn their living in the coals mines and in the coke ovens. This is the second time that it has been destroyed by fire, but I cannot give the exact date of the other conflagration. It however occurred some four or five years ago and was due to the same cause, the firing of dried brush and timber, which through the gross carelessness of those who are engaged in lumbering operations, are left in the woods to give rise, as has been so frequently the case in the history of this province, to disasters of the most poignant and serious description.

"I will tell you plainly where the trouble is, and the government should at the very earliest possible moment take steps to put an effectual stop to these practices, as far as this can be accomplished by departmental regulations, and interference. The lumbermen go into the woods and fell the trees, and after they have removed what they wish to turn into merchanable lumber they leave the butts and tops and branches to dry out and become a constant source of danger to the standing timber and to the community. And when, through any cause and most frequently this is due to carelessness, these large clumps of woodland debris catch fire, the heat that is thrown off repidly becomes so extraordinarily intense that no one can possibly endure it at any reasonable distance, and in view of all these dangers that are perpetually threatened, of the terrible calamities that have so often caused in the loss of lives and property, both in the form of building and of the most valuable kinds of timber, the government should have inserted in every timebr license a clause absolutely compelling the lumbermen to burn up every spring all this dangerous waste material, and prescribing heavy penalties for leaving it to lie scattered abroad in the woods to become a menace of the most terrible character.

"This carelessenss is undoubtedly the main cause of one-half of the big fires throughout the country, and once a fire like that gets started it cannot be stopped until it practically burns itself out. Lightning very often gives rise to these most disastrous conflagrations, and I am not making this statement on mere conjecture, for in a number of instances I have myself seen lightning strike a tree, whence shortly afterwards I have noticed flames appear.

"I don't of course know how this disaster actually began, but to ascribe it to the machinations of Black Hands among the Italian element in Fernie's population is in my opinion going rather far afield. It is much more likely more due to mere carelessness. A number of men are engaged in the lumber camps, and one of these persons is liable at any time to drop a match and start a fire among this dry brush which in so many places in the timber is laying scattered around without let or hindrance.

"When Fernie was rebuilt, brick and cement structures were put up. I do not know how many of this class were erected, for I have not been in town for some years, but the walls of the Crow's Nest Pass Coal company's offices were built with cement, and I believe that these have not been destroyed. They however, in addition to this fact occupied a very advantageous situation, being located in a wide open space, near no other structures, and consequently standing a much better chance of being saved from destruction than any of the others.

"I was the original locator of this coal, and the town was named after me, and I am still connected, although not in any large way, with the Crow's Nest Pass Coal company as a shareholder.

"I cannot say that I was the actual discoverer of the deposit, for we all knew many years before the date when I filed my location that coal was to be found in this part of the country, but no one knew what its real value was until I went in there and located the mine. It is what is called semi-anthracite. Some years ago it was tried in the British warships at Esquimalt, but as we could not possibly supply it to the fleet at the same price for which the best Welsh steam coal could be bought at this port we were forced to abandon altogether the idea of entering into a contract with the British admiralty, although I really believe that if we were now confronted with the same situation which existed at that time, i.e., if the British navy were represented in our waters, we could very advantageously meet their requirements in this particular.

BURNABY DISTRICT HAS GREAT FUTURE

ndle a change in the aspect of the place.

The community of Burnaby lake has been strengthened by the arrival of many new settlers in quite recent times. A dozen new residences have sprung up within a twelve month, two others are about to be erected, whilst numerous additions and improvements have been made to some of the older dwellings in the valley.

The appreciation in land values at Burnaby lake has been a notable circumstance of recent times. Only a year or two ago it was not difficult to obtain ranch or residential sites at a few dollars per acre, but today $100 may be said to be the bottom price for cleared or partially cleared land, ordinary bush sites fetching $300 and over. As recently as Monday last the News recorded the sale of a small block of pasture at a price approaching $500 per acre. There are unmistakable indications that before the present year closes the community of Burnaby Lake will be increased by the arrival of several new settlers.

Apart from its position as a ranching and residential district Burnaby Lake possesses some substantial commercial interests, four mills operating upon the two lakes. Electric light and power are supplied by the B. C. Electric company, and telephone communication has just been established with the lines of the B. C. Telephone company.

The northern end of Burnaby municipality which has the Burrard inlet for its natural boundary line, with the old town of Barnet thereon, has not enjoyed quite the same measure of progress and development that has marked the lower or southern portion, partly because of its greater distance from the city of Westminster and partly by reason of the lack of facilities for intercommunication. But if current rumor is worthy credence this defect is likely to be remedied in the not very distant future so that this extensive outlying area will be placed in direct car communication with New Westminster and Vancouver. The proposed electrification of the Great Northern railway will also be an important factor in the future development of this portion of Burnaby, which, whilst it contains numerous farms and ranches, has also many hundreds of acres of land as yet untouched. A notable work of improvement in this locality has been the recent completion of the Gunn road, thus opening a direct means of access between the North road and Vancouver.

The municipality of Burnaby comprises an area of 21,000 acres, and extends from the Burrard inlet on the north, to the North Arm of the Fraser on the south, having the city of New Westminster and the municipality of Coquitlam on the east and the city of Vancouver on the west. The administration of the affairs of the municipality has been carried on by a council composed of business-like and enlightened men with Reeve Byrne at their head. They have made excellent use of the means afforded them for the steady and continuous improvement of the district, without either undue extravagance or parsimony, always with an intelligent comprehension of the future needs of the area in their charge. The municipality has an assessable value of $1,717,350; its population is something over one thousand souls. The educational requirements of Burnaby have been kept well to the fore by the board of trustees, of which E. Clayton is chairman. There are six good schools, each being located in a convenient centre. Two of these, known respectively as Lakeview, at Burnaby Lake, and Johnson Road school, have just been completed and in their design and construction all the most recent improvements and facilities for educational work have been embodied. The religious needs of the community have not been neglected. Various religious bodies have places of worship in or adjacent to the more populous centres. The Methodists have just opened a new church at East Burnaby and a handsome new edifice is about to be erected by the Church of England on a central site on Edmonds street and Hastings road that will be convenient for residents at Burnaby Lake and East Burnaby.

THURSDAY AUGUST 13, 1908.

WELCOME HOME.

Boys! You are welcomed home. You have won a victory that staggered the lacrosse world! Had you been defeated you would have still been welcomed home, because we would have known you did your best. You have been true to the highest interests of your city and have proved yourselves gentlemen as well as sports, doing credit to it everywhere.

WHY THE DELAY?

It is more apparent every day that the work of straightening and deepening the Fraser River Channel should not be further delayed. It is getting to be common property that one or two officials in the enforced absence of the Resident Engineer are putting their opinion up against that of the eminent engineer who came to the river with a high reputation of knowing just what is necessary to be done to accomplish the desired end of giving a thirty foot channel to the Gulf of Georgia. It is understood they favor dredging rather than the simple and less costly method recommended by him in his report of harrowing from the wall at the outer edge of the sandheads by means of chains operated from a specially constructed frame at the stern of a tug boat when the tide turns to fall and as long as it is outgoing. This, with the twenty-five ton rocks placed at the north side of the river to protect the new channel as it is cut, will allow the silt disturbed on the lower reaches to pass out beyond the natural wall now at the outer edge of the sandheads into one hundred feet of tidal water to be carried away for all time. Engineer Le Baron distinctly stated that a dredge could not be operated successfully at the sandheads and his opinion should prevent any portion of the present grant for the Fraser River being frittered away on a dredge to be taken away as the present one is, to do work in no sense pressing, while the work for which the King Edward was built is yet to be done and is urgently needed to make safe the channel followed by shipping loaded at the Fraser River Mills. If these gentlemen do not at once cease their obstruction their resignations will be asked for. The work must go on and the Government at Ottawa will be blamable if it allows itself to become the tool of officials who have long outlived their usefulness.

WHAT NEXT?

The fool killer must be on vacation in Vancouver. His assistance is sadly needed in the Sporting Editor's room of the News-Advertiser, as evidenced by the idiotic statement in yesterday's issue of that paper that Alex. Turnbull would lose his amateur standing because his homecoming expenses were being paid by his club. If he loses his standing, what about all the other members of the team who will arrive today with the silverware under their protection? If any of the lacrosse teams of the Province go afield to play a match, their expenses and return fare being paid would not disqualify them as amateurs. After the season is over, or at any time, if Papa Turnbull is honored by a place on any representative Canadian team to play in any part of the world, his expenses would have to be met, and the rules of the association cannot be corkscrewed to disqualify him. Much as we think the Vancouver sports would like to hug the Minto cup, let the embrace cost them little or nothing, we cannot think ten persons in her whole population seriously agree with the rattled brained effusions of yesterday's News-Advertiser. Let the fool killer get to work, gather that sport (?) and ship him to the Mile End lacrosse grounds, Montreal, to the care of Hoobin the executioner. In the meantime Alex. Turnbull's welcome awaits him here in the Royal City, come when and how he may, regardless of consequences.

The attention of the sporting editor of the News-Advertiser is called to section 2 of article 6, of the constitution of the B. C. Amateur Lacrosse association, which explains that a player loses his amateur standing if he accepts money "except for his actual travelling and hotel expenses." In spite of the squib writer's fears that Alex. Turnbull may be professionalized if his fare back to this city is paid by the local club, the proceeding would be quite in accordance with B. C. A. L. A. rules.

The opera house was well filled last evening when the Pollard Lilliputian company played another of their repertoire, this being the ever popular "Florodora." The applause was frequent, as this comedy has the merit of giving all the performers a chance. Like so many other plays of this class, the scene takes place on a mythical island, the players are not tied down to strict facts, and considerable attention is given to songs and pretty dresses. The famous sextette, "Tell Me Pretty Maiden" was well taken. Teddie McNamara, as the proprietor of the island, entered fully into the part, while Ivy Pollard cast as Lady Holyrood, and Rose McGorlick personating Dolores did their roles better than many adults. Praise is also due to Eva Pollard as Abercoed, manager for Cyrus Gilfain. The minor parts were well played.

CHALLENGER TO DUEL IS IMPRISONED FOR A MONTH

Berlin, Aug. 12.—For having challenged State Attorney Bleicher to a duel with pistols Baron Johan von Reitzenstein, a captain in the Saxon army, has been sentenced to one month's imprisonment. During the process against Miss Olga Molitor, in which the Baron was called to testify, he accused the State Attorney of having insulted his wife, Baroness Agnese von Mengersen. The brother of the Baroness, who had carried the challenge to the attorney was sent to prison for one week.

This is only one instance of how the authorities are trying to do away with the dueling habit. Simultaneously with the baron, twenty members of the Klansthaler Mountain Academy, who had challenged a number of academical officers, were sentenced to long terms of imprisonment by the court at Goettingen. They have appealed the case, and declare that there is no law in Germany forbidding duels, and that the fact that an army man who refuses to accept a challenge is expelled from the army in disgrace proves that duels are not illegal.

Too much money is spent on useless advertising by city merchants every month. Many columns might be written on the folly of using certain advertising mediums, but the moral in the end would be that there is only one really sure remunerative advertising medium.

Newspaper Advertising Best
The Retail Merchants' Association of Chatham is a level-headed organization. At a recent meeting newspaper advertising was discussed, and the general opinion of the members was that newspaper advertising was the best, and program and other advertising of that class was almost useless.

JAPANESE ARMY HAS BECOME DEMORALIZED

Tokyo, Aug. 12.—A storm of criticism has arisen in the leading newspapers on the Japanese army. Editors charge that since the war the officers have become demoralized by extravagant living and corruption. They suggest that the nation is spending immense sums on an army that perhaps may prove worthless in a crisis.

The sensational killing of Captain Kawakita by a Japanese soldier at Pekin precipitated the exposures. Many instances of the ill-treatment of soldiers are also alleged, together with a number of retirements of junior officers for misconduct, and the suspicion of the betrayal of military secrets.

PRETTY WOMAN WEARS STUNNING STAGE GOWN

In support of Grace Cameron is Daisy King, said to be the most beautiful woman on the stage. Miss King is gifted with a most excellent soprano voice, and in "Little Dollie Dimples" she renders some pretty selections written especially for her by the author, C. Herbert Kerr. One of her big hits is the "Bobby" song, which is whistled by nearly everybody at the close of the performance. It is bright and catchy with a decided swing. The one great number of the play is "At Night in My Brilliant Salon," sung by Miss King. Miss King wears some of the most stunning gowns ever seen in a musical attraction; one in particular, a fish scale gown, which she wears in the second act, was imported direct from Paris at an enormous expense. Miss King will be remembered in this city by her many friends as Flora Gelle Fly in "Little Johnny Jones," and many other big attractions. She was especially engaged by C. Herbert Kerr in support of Miss Cameron in her latest musical success, "Little Dollie Dimples," which will be seen here on Saturday evening.

CUSTOMS SUES C. P. R. FOR SUM OF $20,000

Montreal, Aug. 12—Action to recover $20,000 has been taken against the Canadian Pacific railway in exchequer court by the Dominion customs department. The cause of the action is alleged fradulent entries of under-valuation, etc., which are said to have taken place during the period when James Hobb, now serving a seven year sentence, acted as the company's customs official. In one instance it is alleged, $37,000 worth of bridge material was entered as scrap iron.

After spending three months visiting their old home at Colchester county, N. S., L. O'Brien and Walter Starrat have returned to this city. They are staying at the Cosmopolitan hotel.
