FOOTBALL TEAM HAD STEAMER TROUBLES

Late Boat Delayed Game Against Westham Island ---Rovers Won Out.

Westminster senior football team, with a few supporters, journeyed to Westham island Saturday to play their league fixture. Unfortunately, through steamboat troubles, they did not arrive till 3:15, and the game, although short time was agreed on, was called off on account of darkness, at which time Westminster were leading by 1..0, and were having a full share of the game.

Westham island won the toss and the captains agreed to play two halves of 35 minutes. Cunningham set the ball rolling and Westham set up a hot attack and after Barbaree had been twice tested, Herringshaw cleared, the ball going to Craig, who with Lumsden took the ball down into the Westham goal by pretty combination, but Ambrose failed with the final shot. For the next ten minutes midfield play was the order, and Bill Turnbull and Lock managed to draw the Westham defence, the latter passed to Ambrose, who transferred to Watson, the latter tricked several opponents and centered finely to Craig, who being unmarked, took his time and landed the ball in the net. Westham appealed to the referee, that the ball had previous to Watson's centre, crossed the line and was out of play, but after consulting the linesman, the referee allowed the goal. From the kick-off Westminster again attacked and Cunningham struck the upright. From the rebound Lockhart put the ball over. From now till half-time, the Islanders were dangerous, but in Barbaree they found their stumbling block.

After half-time the Westham boys realized that they were in danger of losing their record of not having lost a game on their own ground for the last two years, played up desperately, but in Westminster halves and backs they met their match and Barbaree was not called upon much. The light was now beginning to fail, and Westminster set up a strong attack, shots being rained in on the Westham goal from all quarters, even the halves trying their luck, but Trim, Guichon and Palmer are a hard defence to beat. Westham had just relieved the pressure when the referee decided to call the game fifteen minutes before time, much to the relief of the Island boys.

In Barbaree the Rovers claim they have the best goal keeper in B. C., and they are not far wrong. The backs are both strong and clean tacklers, though they would benefit should they lay up the field more when the ball is in the opponents' goal. The halves were good, Lock holding his own with the strong left wing, and Turnbull and Lockhart allowed no combination between the rest of the forwards. The forwards should keep further up the field, especially the inside men, and not allow the opposing backs to clear so easily. The Westham's defence was good, and Palmer was not to blame for the shot that beat him. J. Savage was the best of the halves, and held Lumsden fine; the brothers Trim were the pick of the forwards, though all played well. After the game, the players and supporters of both teams sat down to supper, after which Messrs. Trim, A. Turnbull, Colin Campbell and T. Haslam made speeches; Messrs. Barbaree, Winch, Trim, Watson sang, and J. Lumsden gave a piano selection, all of which was very much enjoyed.

Rovers team—Barbaree, Clark, Herringshaw, Lock (captain), Turnbull, Lockhart, Watson, Ambrose, Cunningham, Craig, Lumsden (linesman), T. Haslam.

Westham Island—Palmer, Guichon, J. Trim, J. Savage, Cosulick, Georgeson, A. Trim, W. Savage, G. Crawford, C. H. Trim, E. London.

Referee, Colin Campbell.

Dynamite Exploded.

Edmonton, Dec. 1.—A dynamite explosion at the construction camp of the Grand Trunk Pacific bridge at Clover Bar, ten miles east, tonight, killed J. Bell, a laborer. Bell was in the act of thawing out dynamite and dropped some cartridges on the floor. Two terrific explosions followed blowing out the side of the powder house. Bell died in half an hour. This is the second fatal accident to occur at the bridge.

BETTER PHONE SERVICE IS FADER'S SLOGAN

Aldermanic Candidate Declares He Will Attack Makeshift System.

One of New Westminster's hopes long deferred, namely, a better telephone system, will be the subject of action when the 1908 council gets down to business, if E. J. Fader wins one of the seven seats, and it is demonstrated that the telephone company can be regulated by the city government.

Without attempting to fully outline his policy, Mr. Fader, when interviewed by a News reporter yesterday, stated that he would make it his business to investigate the telephone system with the object of securing a better service.

"You ask me what my intentions are, in running for Alderman", remarked Mr. Fader. "Well I hav'nt given the matter much consideration as yet. I was approached by many citizens, and if elected I intend to look carefully into the civic business as it comes before me, and the citizens can depend that I will do everything I can to further the interests of the city. There are many improvements looked forward to, but it is the opinion of a number of business men who have discussed the matter with me, that the telephone service stands in the greatest need of improvement. They seem to think it should be shifted to an island in the Gulf of Georgia and given a rest and no doubt if I am elected they will expect me to help it out of the way. I am not sufficiently posted on the laws and the city by-laws to know whether the council has any power over the Telephone company, but if such is the case, as I presume it is, that power should certainly be exercised. For the past two years we have heard of improvements and have been promised a better service, but up to the present the better service has failed to materialize. This is one of the most important matters I have been asked to look into. We have a population now of about 10,000 people in this city and we are deserving of as good accommodation as Vancouver or Victoria, and we should all endeavour to see that we get it.

It is very well to sleep once in a while, but to sleep right on and never wake up is a thing of the past with New Westminster. If we want people to come here and make their homes with us, we must give them good services, good accommodation, a clean city, and the best of all, good moral protection for their families. With these assurances the stranger will abide with us and our city will prosper, and in the very near future will reach a population that will lessen the burden of taxation which is borne by the ratepayers of the present. Actions are greater than words, and I hope New Westminster will elect a council that will push the interests of the city while the opportunity lasts."

HOTEL DREAMT OF BY GILLIES MAY BE BUILT

Tacoma, Dec. 1.—Architect E. W. Houghton, designer of the proposed mammoth Imperial building, twenty-four stories high, to be built in Tacoma, stated yesterday that the Tacoma Subway Terminal company has been organized in connection with the building enterprise for the purpose of handling all trains on all lines coming into the city limits of Tacoma. All of the lines, it is planned, will be brought to a union station immediately north and adjoining the Imperial building. The arrangements for the hotel proper will not be disturbed, but there will be built in addition a six-story structure with two levels for the admission of trains, and several office floors.

The proposed addition is to cost $2,000,000. The hotel building will cost an additional $6,000,000. Architect Houghton states that the money for the vast enterprise is practically all arranged for, and that excavation for the site at Sixth and C streets will be started early in the coming year. During the present month the drawings for the steel work will be made. It is roughly estimated that the building will require 40,000 tons of steel, and A. P. Gillies, one of the Seattle promoters, will leave this city tomorrow evening for Pittsburg to arrange about the placing of the order.

COLLEGE HAZING TO BE SUPPRESSED

ColumbianStudents Expelled from Dormitory for Seeking to Dip Freshman.

Early last Monday morning some of the male students living in the Science hall concocted up a little hazing party which was to give an uniniated member of the school a morning dip in one of the park fountains. However, they made too much noise in their execution of the deed, and awoke one of the professors, who quickly put the expedition to flight. Three of the ringleaders were also expelled from residence in the dormitory, but were reinstated after a meeting of the faculty and student body in the evening, when future hazing was promised to be suppressed.

The theologues of the school will act as hosts to the rest of the students at an open Lit. next Friday, and a week from Friday the College Literary society is planning to give a mock trial, which is to be taken from the famous breach of promise scene in Dicken's "Pickwick Papers."

A junior football match with Westham island was scheduled for eleven o'clock Saturday morning, but the Islanders failed to show up in time to start the match before half-past two in the afternoon, and then to make way for the two following matches, they only played thirty minutes. With the exception of the very beginning of the game, when the Island lads scored the only goal of the game, the playing was uniformly poor. Neither team had any combination, nor was the individual work up to much, with the exception of Meyers at full-back and "Churg" Smith in the forward line, both of whom were stars for the college. T. Mahony refereed the game.

The third week in December is the date set for the final exams of the fall term, and the Christmas holidays will hold from the close of the exams until January 7.

The intermediate association game betwen the Shamrocks and the college which immediately followed the junior event, was an excellent match between very even sides. The Shamrocks, however, seem more at home on the field than the college, and got down to business quickly, scoring two goals within less than five minutes of the first kick-off. But for all the rest of the half they were able to place the ball only once in their opponents' net. In the second half, the College rushed the play, keeping the ball for long periods in the region of the Shamrocks' goal, and also keeping their players there, which the men in green took advantage of by twice rushing down the field with the pigskin when the College goal was undefended and scoring. Nevertheless at last the sphere was shoved into the for the College from one of the scrimmages in front of the Shamrocks' posts by Houle. The last point of the game was made by the Vancouver men after some fine combination work and left the final score six to one in favor of the Shamrocks. Williscroft did the fine playing for the College around their goal, while Watson played equally well on the attack. The Shamrock men lined up as follows: Goal, Jones; full-backs, Bruce and Balfour; half-backs, Whittle, Cerridge and Dowdall; forwards, White Stacey, Cunningham, Smith and Cook. The College team was: Goal, Fleming; full-backs, Williscroft and Teague; half-backs, Nixon, Jones and Prof. Bouck; forwards, Mowat, Houle, Fuller, A. Smith and C. Watson. The referee was Frank McCall, of the Vancouver Thistles.

On the coming Saturday, Columbian college has a junior game with the Shamrocks at home, and a game at Vancouver with the intermediate Nationals. A return Rugby match is also going to be arranged for with Vancouver before Christmas.

E. Elliott, a carpenter by trade, and reported to be well known in Vancouver, where he is building a number of houses, is face to face with a serious accusation preferred against him by local employees of the C. P. R., who declare that the man on Saturday broke into a box car standing near the depot, and was making free with the contents when arrested. The more serious part is that he is said to have broken the seal placed on the door of the car, an offence which, if proved, is likely to entail severe punishment on the party.

LIBERALS PREPARE FOR ANNUAL MEETING

Formation of Social Club Will be Discussed Tuesday ---Election of Officers.

The annual meeting of the New Westminster Liberal association will be held tomorrow evening in the club room, when important business is to be transacted, and in order to have a thoroughly representative opinion on the various subjects which will be discussed, a large gathering is desired. All Liberals in the city, whether affiliated with the association or otherwise, are cordially invited to attend and take part in the discussions.

The election of officers for the coming year will be one of the items on the program, while a new constitution will most likely be adopted, in order that the local New Westminster Liberals may be placed on the same footing as the Vancouver supporters of the party. The constitution was drafted at the Liberal provincial convention held in Vancouver on Oct. 1, 2 and 3, and differs in some minor points from the constitution at present governing the local body. It consists of nineteen clauses, and is intended to replace the rules governing the associations throughout the province, the intention being to have a uniform mode of procedure.

The officers of the local association will in future consist of an honorary president, president, three vice-presidents, secretary, treasurer, and an executive composed of five members who will act in conjunction with the other officers.

One of the clauses provides for the admission to the association of men 18 years of age or upwards, providing they be British subjects and residents of this electoral district. Hitherto, there has been no age limit placed on persons desiring admission, and many young men have been under the impression that they could not join until they had attained the age of twenty-one.

It is probable that a motion will be carried at Tuesday's meeting providing for the amalgamation of the Liberal club and the Liberal association, and that officers will be elected having full control of both departments. It is the intention to appoint a room committee to look after the club in future, this committee to be composed mainly of the younger members of the association.

The social end of the Liberal club will be more closely looked after in the coming year, and will be placed on a more comfortable footing. Better rooms will be secured, and the billiard tables moved from their present quarters. Books, magazines and papers will be provided for the members, and everything possible will be done to make the club rooms more attractive and pleasant. During the coming months, social evenings will be given in the new club rooms by the members of the association, while occasional debates will also form part of the winter program.

Visitors Won.

The Rugby game at Queen's park Saturday was won by the V. A. C. from the New Westminster team by six points to nil. Because of the two preceding soccer matches on the same field, the game was not started till after four, and no time was allowed between halves, which handicapped some of the New Westminster men, who had played in the other football games. Vancouver made its scores by two unconverted trys, one in each half, the first by Dillabough and the second by Stacey. Watson, well known as a Rugby player in Vancouver, who is attending college here, showed up well on the New Westminster line up, and Leamy also made some star plays. While Rugby is yet a novelty in this city, the game showed that only a little more practice is necessary to make the team superior to the Vancouver men.

The cooks and waiters of the city will assemble this evening for the purpose of organizing themselves into a local Cooks', Waiters' and Hotel Employees' union. Heretofore the cooks have been associated with the American Order of Cooks, but the object is to give all the New Westminster restaurant attendants the benefit of a union.

ATHLETIC ASSN. IS STILL A POSSIBILITY

Provincial Amateur Organization is Discussed at Length.

The meeting of delegates from the various British Columbia coast athletic organizations which was held in the Badminton hotel, Vancouver, on Saturday afternoon, for the purpose of considering the unsettled condition of sport in this province, came to the decision after a lengthy discussion of the subject that it would be advisable to organize a British Columbia A. A. union. The following resolution was adopted by the meeting:

"Moved by Messrs. King and Shallcross, that this meeting consider it advantageous to appoint a representative executive committee to go thoroughly into all details connected with sport in British Columbia with a view to, if possible, forming a B. C. A. A. union. To this end the executive committee shall report their deliberations to the various clubs throughout the province, and at a date to be fixed thereafter (not later than November, 1908), shall call a general meeting of delegates from each club, who shall be empowered to act.."

Moved by Messrs. Henderson and Ellis that a committee of seven be now formed, as follows: F. R. McD. Russell, G. A. Smith, Dr. Davidson, A. E. King, W. Ellis, R. P. Woodward, Rev. J. S. Henderson.

Following were the delegates present:

Vancouver island, Victoria and Nanaimo A. F. U.—W. Ellis.

Mainland A. F. U.—B. F. Armstrong

McGill University—Dr. J. C. Davidson.

Vancouver Rowing club—A.E. King.

Burrard Cricket club—H. M. Hepburn.

Police Mutual Benefit association—Mr. McRae.

B. C. A. F. U.—D. McCallum.

Vancouver Rugby union—Mr. Pattison.

V. A. C.—Mr. Francis, F. R. McD. Russell, W. P. Ogilvie.

New Westminster Lacrosse club—Rev. J. S. Henderson, J. R. Payne.

Columbian college, N. W.—H. Watson.

Y. M. C. A. (Vancouver, Victoria and Revelstoke)—G. A. Smith.

Brockton Point A.C. and track team—Mr. Gowen, C. D. Rand, Mr. Shallcross.

The chair was occupied by F. R. McD. Russell. C. D. Rand moved in favor of forming a B. C. Athletic union, and the motion was strongly seconded by Instructor G. A. Smith, of the Y. M. C. A., but the majority of those present were in favor of sticking to the idea of forming an Amateur Athletic union. Mr. Rand's motion was consequently withdrawn and the one moved by Mr. Shallcross was adopted.

Some of the opinions expressed were as follows:

The football men do not want any professional football, but their only difficulty is as to whether they desire that a professional in another sport should be allowed to compete as an amateur in football.

With regard to visiting teams—professional teams—which desire games in B. C., they wish to be allowed to play against them.

Cricketers wish professional cricketers to be allowed to compete with amateurs without prejudicing the standing of those amateurs in other sports (as is the case under the laws of the Merylebone Cricket club).

The lacrosse representatives were non-committal as to their standing in the matter until the annual meeting of the B. C. Lacrosse association.

All the other representatives stood by the definition of an amateur as adopted by the C. A. A. U. and the A. A. U., i. e., that a professional in one sport is a professional in all other sports, and that amateurs may not compete against him.

A special meeting of the council of the board of trade will be held this evening at 8 o'clock for the purpose of appointing a member to represent the board on the delegation from this city which will go to Victoria to interview the Provincial government with the object of having constructed a large addition to the land registry office. A delegate will be appointed by the city council and another by the Bar association of this city.

NOMINATION DAY HAS NOW ARRIVED

Candidates for Civic Honors Not So Numerous as Last Year---No Dark Horses.

Who shall occupy the seats of the mighty during 1908 and guide the destinies of New Westminster from the precincts of the council chamber?

At eleven o'clock this morning, Returning Officer W. A. Duncan will enter the council chamber and await nominations for the positions of mayor, school trustees and aldermen. Nomination papers must be in his hands, in the case of mayor and school trustees, before noon, and in the case of aldermen, before one o'clock this afternoon. The elections, if necessary, will take place one week from today.

Mayor Keary will most probably be re-elected by acclamation. A number of electors have during the past week been working hard to induce a prominent business man, an ex-mayor, to contest the mayoralty, but he has declined. Advances in other quarters have met with no better success.

The retiring school trustees will again submit to the dictates of the electors, while Thomas Turnbull will also be a candidate.

Among the aspirants for aldermanic honors are E. J. Fader, Marshall Sinclair, Ralph Wilson and Arthur Mallins. The seven sitting aldermen will also be in the field.

TRAIL WORKMEN ACCEPT SMALL CUT IN WAGES

Trail, Nov. 30.—The smelter men's union yesterday recorded its vote on the question of whether they would accept a cut of 25c per day in wages or close down the smelter. By a large majority, the men followed Rossland's lead and decided to accept the proposed cut. The result is generally accepted with a strong feeling of relief and thankfulness as the prospect of the smelter being closed for six months spelt blue ruin to a number of citizens.

There was a heavy snowfall yesterday of about 5 inches. Weather is very mild and snow is disappearing rapidly.

Rev. D. E. Holt, Superintendent of Baptist Missions in British Columbia, was a visitor in the city on Wednesday.

The smelter men's union has opened up a co-operative store and expects to transact a large business.

TUNNEL BEGUN IN 1874 UNDER HUDSON FINISHED

New York, Dec. 1.—Closely following the opening of the new tunnel under the East river to Brooklyn, in January, will come the opening of the railway tunnel under the Hudson to Jersey City. The tunnel was begun in 1874, and the northern tube was not completed until 1904, several companies having failed to do the work.

Each tube is 15¼ feet in diameter and 5700 feet long. Connections have been made with the New York terminus and the public stations at Sixth avenue and Thirty-third street, the site of the new Pennsylvania station.

VOLCANIC ASHES FALL AND STARTLE ALASKANS

Nome, Alaska, Dec. 1.—Nome, and probably the entire Seward peninsula, are shrouded in a haze and the ground for miles is covered several inches deep with a fine gritty powder, which is believed to be volcanic ash. The storm began several days ago, the dust blowing in from the ocean, but at first little attention was paid to the freak of nature, as it was expected that it would soon cease. Instead, however, the fall continued and after a day became so dense as to seriously interfere with outdoor pursuits. Further, the air is so full of ashes that breathing is difficult, and the fine powder has sifted into houses and business places to such an extent that it is thick on the floors and on everything in the way of goods and household furniture. It is believed that some of the numerous volcanic islands between this coast and Siberia have been in eruption, and that the ashy downpour is the result.

A number of foreigners have declared that they will probably enter the race, but no formal entry has been made.

Lawyer-Crook Seriously Ill.

New York, Nov. 29.—Abraham Hummel, formerly a well known lawyer in the criminal and divorce courts here, is seriously ill in the city prison, Blackwell's island, to which he was sentenced to serve a year's imprisonment recently, after his conviction on charges of conspiracy in connection with the Dodge-Morse divorce proceedings. Hummel, the prison authorities said today, is suffering from kidney trouble and a weak heart, but a report which gained currency that he was dying, was denied.

Drowned in Y. M. C. A. Tank.

Winnipeg, Nov. 29.—A peculiar fatality occurred in the Y.M.C.A. building yesterday afternoon when A. B Jones was drowned in the swimming tank while trying to learn to swim during the absence of attendants. The body was discovered by a member in bathing. Several persons had touched some object lying in the bottom of the tank during their afternoon swim, but did not realize it was a dead body.

Accident to G. N. R.

Nelson, B. C., Nov. 29.—The Great Northern express from Spokane due to reach here at 1:55 yesterday morning, met with an accident at Troup junction, five miles east of here, at 3:25 a.m., resulting in the sleeper being derailed and subsequently burned. The derailing was caused by a broken rail. The car turned over and went down the bank to the lake side. All the passengers and crew escaped without injury. The sleeper was completely destroyed by fire.

The formal opening of St. Peter's cathedral, which has been closed for some time owing to repairs, will take place on Sunday, Dec. 8, when Bishop Dontenwill will address the congregation. The Feast of the Immaculate Conception will be celebrated on this day.

The Eye of the Needle.

When Christ says in his sermon "that it is easier for a camel to pass through the eye of a needle than it is for a rich man to enter the kingdom of heaven" he does not mean a sewing needle, but a hole through which a camel had to pass through in getting into a fortress. It was the custom in old times, and in parts of Arabia still is, for the people of a village to build a fortress against the robbers of the desert, into which they carried an underground passage in a zigzag form barely large enough for a camel lying down on its side to work itself through into the courtyard of the fort, and the Saviour beautifully compares the struggles of the animal to what the rich man must suffer in order to gain paradise. The hole was called "the eye of the needle."

In the old stone cahirs, or walled cities, in Ireland specimens of these eyeholes may be seen. Most of them have been partially destroyed, but there is one almost perfect at Grianan Eileach, in Donegal, and so like the eastern eyeholes that one would think they were made by the same workmen. The Irish annals relate that Eileach was erected by a Tuach de Daanan chief 1,300 years before Christ.—Exchange.

The Magic Flat.

"This is our library," said the New York woman, leading her visitor into the front room. "And that cozy little room back of it is the music room. The 'den' is the big, bright room on your left. Come over and see it. Yes, we have just five rooms in all. The small back hallroom we use as a packing and storage closet. Isn't it cozy?"

"Y-e-s," agreed her visitor doubtfully, "but where do you sleep and eat, and all that?"

"Oh," said the New Yorker indifferently, "my husband and I sleep in the 'den' on the oriental couch, and mother sleeps in the music room on another couch that pulls out at night. We eat on that funny little table in the library. You've no idea how big it can be made when the leaves are in. And we dress in the bathroom and keep our clothes in the packing room. So, you see, it's all very convenient."

"What do you do in the kitchen?" inquired the other laconically.

"Oh, we keep the dogs in there at night, and in the daytime we sometimes use it—to cook in."—New York Press.

In order to do this we are cutting the prices still lower and those who resisted buying last week, can't afford to do so now, as the goods we are offering and at the prices they are marked, will certainly make shrewd buyers put in their supply of Footwear, whether they are needing them just now or not.

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP

The Montreal Star is a little bit like a man lost in the woods in these days. We have, according to the evidence of its proprietor, some29.000 ($) reasons for saying that it was a hot Conservative in 1904, but it has lost its faith in the "grand old party" and appears to be looking, like Noah's dove for a dry spot to rest on. So at least it would seem to be fair to infer from the tone of some of its recent utterances. It wants public ownership, but it has lost its faith in the public. It recognizes that public ownership means government ownership, but it has lost its faith in all governments, past, present and future—especially future. In its bewilderment it appears to mix a little the nature and functions of a commission, such as a railway commission, which may be described as a court freed from legal technicalities in order that it may efficiently protect the rights of the public against the aggression of great corporations which have become great by virtue of special privilges granted by the public, and those of a board of control which would be simply a body of trustees or managing directors of some particular "public utility" of which the public had retained or acquired the ownership. Yet it is plain that there is a wide difference, and a difference which could not fail to have a marked effect in the practical working out of the scheme which the Star favors. Of course there are difficulties and dangers. That is the baldest of truisms when one is talking of human plans; but the Star's remedy might turn out to be worse than the disease. As it says itself, a commission (which was put in the owners place) beyond the power of public opinion and public control, would be a dangerous tool. Here is the Star's case: "Independent Commissions should certainly control all our public utilities. That is the only way in which the people can secure anything like fair treatment. Competition in such things is against the very nature of things, and invariably leads to combination. Government control is the remedy; but when we hand our governments over to the politicians to use for party advancement, it is plain that we cannot trust them to serve the people with a single purpose in these matters of first-rate importance.

Thus we are driven to the independent Commission. A body of men who are given a security in the tenure of their offices like that of the judges, and then are paid enough to make them contented in their positions, probably comes as near to an ideal form of public control of public utilities as we have yet achieved. The weakness of this system is that the Commissioners are beyond the reach of public opinion; but we can never expect public opinion to govern effectively until it is strong enough to assert itself at the polls. So long as partyism can master it there, we can not trust vital issues to its vigilance or strength."

TRUTH VS. PARTIZANSHIP.

By way of a birthday present Lord Strathcona gave Sir Wilfrid Laurier an automobile. Such a gift from Lord Strathcona is no more in proportion to his ability to give than would be a birthday album from thousands of Sir Wilfrid's admirers; yet the Mail and Empire talks of it as if Lord Strathcona had some ulterior motive in giving and Sir Wilfrid some corrupt intention in accepting. That is partizanship—the bitter, sneering temper which seeks to say something "nasty" about an opponent; and in this case the Tory organ is not held back even by the fact that Lord Strathcona, before his acceptance of office put him out of politics, was a Conservative.

Take the other style. The Montreal Witness, an independent paper which speaks its mind regardless of party, pays this tribute to Sir Wilfrid as a great Canadian—a man of whom all right-minded Canadians are proud:

"Sir Wilfrid Laurier is sixty-six years old today. The King also is sixty-six, and both are at the height of their service, of their powers, and of their popularity. Alexander and Bonaparte have left names at which the world in their day turned pale. Sir Wilfrid has conquered the world in a different fashion and will leave a name, which in his own day has everywhere carried with it goodwill and hope, to history, where it will not die, because the services which he has rendered to his time will be even better appreciated in the perspective in which the future will place them. Amid all the disjunctive forces which lift themselves among us as bars to nationhood, his great gifts and graces have been ever bent towards the cementing of friendship between the diverse strains which must go to the making of the nation. All will wish him many happy returns of the day."

On account of the disagreement regarding rates, hours, etc., the management of the Columbian college gym and the basketball enthusiasts of the Crescent club were unable to arrange for basketball practice for the Crescent club team at the gym. Assurances were held out to the club early in the season by certain officials of the college, but when the time came for giving effect to those assurances, the conditions were made prohibitive. It is likely that in view of the disappointment of the Crescent club team to arrange for the privileges at the gym, the idea of organizing a basketball team this year will be dropped.

The time for the Free Library Contest is drawing to a close and remember that the West End Grocery is the only grocery where votes are obtainable. **

Mr. Quigley expects to have the dredge ready for launching within three months form the present, and ready for use in about eight months. The machinery will be shipped from Toronto at an early date.

Edmonton, Dec. 1.—The issuing of a warrant for the arrest of a man like Ald. J. B. Walker produces a most painful impression. He is charged with embezzlement of the funds of the Queen's Fire Insurance company, and of Carruthers and Bradley, general insurance agents, Winnipeg, to an extent of upwards of $5,000. He is said to have left the city two weeks ago, but has not been located up to the present. At the council board he took a very prominent part, and was frequently spoken of as a mayoralty candidate.

"THE ROYAL CHEF."

Authors of musical comedy always try their utmost to get winning or attractive dancing numbers. "The Mother Goose" number in "The Royal Chef" is probably the most popular dancing number that has been in any musical comedy in many years. There are sixteen little girls who take part in this number, and they are dressed in black, red and green pantaloons, with a black bolero, to represent witches. These "Mother Goose" girls as they are known, taking their names from the title of the song, are famous throughout the country, and are the originals of that class of fancy dancers who enjoy the soubriquet of "broilers." The "Mother Goose" number never fails to get less than nine or ten encores at every performance. The date here is Thursday, December 5.

A PAYING BUSINESS

"There was a few years ago," said Major Hotchkiss, "a man at Badger Rock, Mont., who joyed in calling himself Wildcat Bill, the Rattlesnake of Bender's Flat. Not that that was his name, of course, or that his name was Bill or even William, or that, so far as I know, he had ever seen a wildcat or would have known a rattlesnake if he had met one, and I am certain there was no such place as Bender's Flat, but this is what he was pleased to call himself. In point of fact, his name was Ernest Wilberforce or something of that sort, and he came originally from Baldwinsville, Conn., or some such mild, wildcatless and nonrattlesnake neighborhood.

"His finances became reduced, and the time came when something had to be done. He determined to take up the vocation of desperado in a purely commercial way.

"Badger Rock was at that time a small town engaged chiefly in the business of transferring people from the railroad station to the stages which ran to certain gold and silver mines. A great many eastern people, capitalists and so forth, passed through it, but few stayed in the place more than a few hours.

"One day, a half hour before the train from the east was due, the clerk of the hotel was astonished to see this man enter, clad in most striking cowboy costume, wearing a belt with two revolvers and a knife in it and carrying a heavy double barreled shotgun with the barrels sawed off so that they were not more than a foot long, making a weapon such as is sometimes affected by desperate characters, treasure coach guards, deputy sheriffs or other individuals engaged in turning their hands against their fellow men.

"It is a piece of ordnance which is supposed to be loaded with inordinate charges of powder and irregular slugs of lead. It makes an excellent companion for one gentleman to wait around the corner with for another gentleman who has been telling about town that he (the first gentleman) is a liar.

"To the surprised inquiries of the hotel clerk Wilberforce explained that he was now Wildcat Bill, the Rattlesnake of Bender's Flat, and that all he asked was the simple privilege of waiting behind the half open door of the office for Pete Smith of Patchen's ranch. The clerk had never heard of any of these names before, but as there was no rule against it he assented.

"It was not long before the train arrived, and an elderly and correct appearing man alighted and made his way toward the hotel. He was, in fact, a prominent Boston capitalist, and this was his first trip to the somewhat extensive region west of the Connecticut river. As he entered the door of the hotel his eye caught the muzzle of the shotgun, with its two cavernous shafts, apparently about the size of sewer pipe, which projected an inch beyond the edge of the open door. A glance behind showed a most murderous individual, breathing short and with his finger moving nervously on both triggers. The Boston man stepped quickly to the clerk and whispered:

"'Who—who is that man?

"'That's Wildcat Bill, the Rattlesnake of Bender's Flat,' answered the clerk.

"'What—what is he doing?

"'Waiting for Pete Smith of Patchen's ranch,' replied the clerk.

"'Will—will he shoot him?

"'He will blow him into pieces unless Pete shoots first.'

"'Is the—the—gentleman expected soon?' went on the man from the Hub

"'Pete comes in at 2:45 for a drink.'

"The visitor consulted his watch and found it was 2:30.

"'Is there no way to stop such a terrible thing?' he inquired earnestly.

"The clerk shook his head. 'No,' he replied. 'Bill has shot twenty-two men, and, you see, he's got a three cornered file in his mouth now to file the twenty-third notch in his six shooter after he gets through with Pete. But,' added the clerk confidentially, 'perhaps he could be hired to postpone the operation for a few hours, say till after you have left for the mines.'

"The upshot of it was that for $10 the Rattlesnake agreed not to shoot Pete till after 5 o'clock, and the Boston man again drew a full breath.

"Naturally so easy and rapid a way of making money could not be left uncultivated, and Wildcat Bill became a regular thing behind the hotel door at train time. He divided profits with the clerk, and they did a thriving business. His terms for consenting to postpone temporarily the awful slaughter of his enemy varied from $5 to $50, according to the means or terror of the subject. Only one attempt proved a total failure. This was in the case of a rollicking youth from Louisville, who sat down and announced that he was going to wait and see the fun. He was finally tired out by the inexplicable failure of Pete Smith to arrive.

"The game was kept up several years and would perhaps have been still going on had it not been for an unfortunate accident. One day a man came into the office with a black ebony cane. Having a valise in either hand, he was carrying this cane in a horizontal position under his arm. When the end of it poked around the door Wildcat Bill, the Rattlesnake of Bender's Flat, mistook it for the muzzle of some sort of weapon, uttered an agonized cry, dropped his own gun, leaped through a window and ran a half mile for safety. It unnerved him to such an extent that he never returned to his profession and finally dropped out of sight."

Venison Once Cheaper Than Pork.

Time was, along in the early forties and the early fifties of the last century, that from the wilds of Morgan and Brown counties hunters would bring venison to market and sell it much lower than pork was sold in that day, pork being preferred by the Hoosier then to the red deer of the woods. It was in that time that an entire wild turkey, full grown, would sell at a price far below the present appraisement of a scrawny spring chicken, and a dozen quail could be bought for less money than it now takes to buy a dozen links of sausage—neither was the quail required to masquerade as "short billed snipe."—Indianapolis News.

CATHOLIC SOCIETY IS WELL ORGANIZED

Knights of Columbus Parade Hundreds Strong----Over Sixty Members Initiated.

The city yesterday was in the hands of the Knights of Columbus, a Catholic fraternal organization which was organizing a lodge in New Westminster, opening it with a membership of over sixty. The ceremonies in connection with the inauguration of the new members lasted throughout the afternoon, and were naturally of a secret nature. St. Patrick's hall was the place selected for the mystic ceremonies, which were conducted under the supervision of a number of Grand Knights of the order, who had come here for the purpose from Vancouver and a number of southern cities.

At the morning service at St. Peter's cathedral, His Lordship Bishop Dontenwill addressed the visitors at some length, dwelling particularly upon the work which the order was doing with regard to maintaining the high standard of the Catholic religion in this continent.

During the evening, a banquet was served in St. Patrick's hall, a large number of the members of the order and other supporters of the Catholic religion sitting down to well loaded tables.

After the covers had been removed, speches were in order, and for a couple of hours the hall resounded with laughter or re-echoed with applause, according to the moods of the various speakers. In a flattering speech, Grand Knight J. H. Cane, of Bellingham, thanked the members of St. Peter's congregation for the kind reception which the visitors had received, and spoke in the highest terms of the Catholic population of this city, and of New Westminster generally. His sentiments were endorsed by T. J. Gorman, G. K., of Seattle, and a host of other brilliant speakers.

LIVERPOOL TO EDMONTON IN 11 DAYS.

"To the editor of the "Overseas Daily Mail" Sir,—I attach a cutting from a local paper concerning some birds which we had shipped out here the other day. Surely this achievement will require some beating."

Yours Faithfully,
Knowles Bros.

"To transfer goods from Liverpool, England, to Edmonton, Alberta, in 11 days, is the record of the Dominion Express, in connection with a consignment of 5 Indian Game fowls, ordered by Knowles Bros., Edmonton. They were shipped in Liverpool on Sept. 20, and arived here on Oct. 1, beating a letter, posted on the same day, which did not get here till the following day. The express goods came over by the "Empress of Ireland" via Montreal, and the letter by the "Lusitania" via New York. Both steamers left the same day.
