SUNDAY FUNERALS ANNOY MINISTERS

PASTORS DECIDE TO ABOLISH SABBATH DAY INTERMENTS EXCEPT IN EXTREME CASE.

Sabbath funerals were disapproved of officially at the meeting of the ministerial association, when it was decided that except in cases of absolute necessity Sabbath day interments should be abolished.

A good deal of discussion also ensued on the subject of Evangelistic work and after thoroughly thrashing the matter out the Rev. A. E. Vert, seconded by the Rev. A. de B. Owen, moved that an effort be made to secure a rotation for union services during the hot weather, also that the Revs. Henderson, Barraclough and Rugg, with Rev. Dr. Taylor as corresponding secretary, form a committee for the purpose of securing a fitting man for the work. Dr. Taylor, who is leaving for the east shortly will also make personal enquiries and report as early as possible.

Dr. Farrin's paper on anti-tuberculosis was read and laid on the table.

A communication was received from Vancouver asking the association of New Westminster to join in chartering a car to Seattle to attend the meeting of the International Convention of the Christian Endeavor in session at Seattle.

The Rev. W. H. Barraclough consented, at the request of the members, to send out invitations to the various churches to have their societies of youthful members to meet with his in the hopes of reviving and fostering this kind of union work among the youth of the various churches. The following attended the meeting: Rev. Dr. Rugg, Rev. Dr. Taylor, and the Revs. Barraclough, Jennie, Magee, Vert, Taylor and A. de B. Owen.

Making Ashes Burn.

Many citizens have been trying the salt and oxalic acid method with results, some succeeding and some failing. One experimenter who succeeded emptied a scuttle three parts full of freshly burned ashes, weighing 21 pounds net, on a board, scattered a heaping tablespoon ful of common salt, wetted it with water while mixing and then added seven pounds of slack. In mixing again, the aggregate filling the big scuttle. This was fed by the shovelful into a heater already burning and was found to last 24 hours, the only attention needed being to see that the draught was open, shaking out the bottom of the fire to clear the draught once or twice during the day and taking care not to poke the fire from the top. The ashes burned slowly and well, giving out a good heat.

Guard for General Kuroki.

Victoria, April 29.—The men of the 5th Regiment Garrison artillery will in all probability be called upon to form a guard of honor to General Kuroki on his arrival in this city. Yesterday evening Lieutenant Colonel Hall, officer commanding the regiment received word from the minister of militia and defence at Ottawa, instructing him to hold the regiment in readiness to form the guard, should it be required, and arrangements are now being made to that effect. General Kuroki, who left Japan, accompanied by a staff of officers, some days ago, is expected to arrive in this city on the steamer Aki Maru on Wednesday.

Silver Wedding.

Mr. Fletcher Shaw, chief operator at the electric light station, and Mrs. Shaw, celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary at their home on Mount Pleasant on Thursday evening, the twenty-fifth inst. An enjoyable evening was spent. The guests numbering about twenty-five, among them being: Mr. and Mrs. Peck, Mrs. Fowler (Vancouver), Mr. and Mrs. J. Lee, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Welsh, Mr. and Mrs. H. Welsh, Mr. and Mrs. J. Sutherland, Mr. and Mrs. Dawe, Mrs. Gourlay (Dewdney), Mrs. Silvright, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Johnson, Mrs. D. Welsh, Miss Grace Smyth, (Ontario), Mr. Lawrence Johnson and others.

AUTOBUS WILL RUN TO PORT MOODY

SPEEDY SERVICE MAY START IN JUNE—BOON TO NEW WESTMINSTER MERCHANTS.

"All Aboard for Port Moody."

Arrangements are at present being completed for the inauguration of a service of auto busses between New Westminster and Port Moody, which will in all probability start some time in June. The men interested in the scheme do not care to have their names published at this time, but one of the parties who is gathering the service informed the News yesterday that he was leaving next week for Seattle, where a large automobile, capable of seating from twenty to twenty-five persons, will be secured. At the present time it is the intention of the promoters to run four trips each way daily, with special excursions on Sundays. A reasonable fare will be charged, and no fancy prices will be asked because the autobus will be one of the swiftest obtainable. The services of a competent chauffeur have been secured, and the road between this city and Port Moody is being inspected for the purpose of finding out where certain necessary repairs will have to be made.

The most serious difficulty in the way of the scheme, and one which has been carefully considered, is the Port Moody hill, which is both long, steep and poorly graded. In the summer time, there is anywhere from six to sixteen inches of dust and loose gravel on the road bed, and, with a road in this condition, it would be a difficult matter to keep an automobile running at good speed. A request is to be made to the authorities that this particular piece of road be properly graded, and in view of the boon which the service will confer on the two places concerned, no difficulty is anticipated in getting the necessary work done. With this piece of road in good condition, the trip to Port Moody can be made in less than half an hour, while the return journey will take a few minutes longer.

The present lack of satisfactory transportation facilities between New Westminster and Port Moody, is a subject that is at present causing discussion amongst several of the business men of this city. Looking at the matter from a business point of view, and the benefits which would accrue to New Westminster from an efficient passenger service between these two places, the service cannot be put on too soon. One of New Westminster's prominent merchants, speaking on the subject yesterday, stated that the time had come when, in the interest of the city, some steps to secure a satisfactory solution of the problem should be taken. The present means of reaching the city from Port Moody are far from satisfactory, the result being that considerable business which would be transacted in New Westminster goes to other places.

Floating Monte Carlo.

Santa Cruz, April 29.—The barque Bilboa, en route from San Francisco to Santa Cruz, where, safely outside of the three mile limit, she will fill the roe of miniature Monte Carlo for society folk at that famous resort. She is fitted with heavily carpeted and elaborately furnished parlors, elegantly appointed bars, private dining rooms and facilities for every game of chance are features. She is protected by the limitless laws of old ocean. The place will resemble the Prince of Monaco's celebrated Mediterranean gambling institution, on which it is modelled.

Thanksgiving Service.

London, April 29.—A great missionary thanksgiving service was held this afternoon at the Albert Hall, at which ten thousand people attended. Nine thousand tickets were issued for the evening, and the crowds commenced to gather long before the hour for opening. Six representatives from each of the thirty-four districts of Great Britain supported the president of the conference on the platform. Previous to the meeting in Albert hall the president held a reception at Wesley's chapel in the city road, when thousands of people were turned away.

MANY ODDFELLOWS ATTEND BIG ANNIVERSARY BANQUET

Splendid Program Rendered Last Evening—Prominent Members of the Order Sing, Speak and Recite—Evening Winds Up With Feast Fit For the Gods.

Over three hundred members including wives and friends of the Oddfellows and Rebekahs of this city attended the sumptuous banquet last night, which marked the thirteenth anniversary of Amity Lodge No. 27.

The celebration took place in the Odd'ellows hall, which was crowded to overflowing. At eight thirty the entertainment was opened by a short speech from the chair, which onerous position was most ably filled by Brother J. J. Johnston, P. G., D. D. G. M., followed by a highly entertaining program, consisting of recitations, songs, addresses, and musical overtures by the orchestra. "Marguerite" rendered by the Rev. A. de B. Owen was received with marked appreciation, as was Miss McMillan's selection. Miss McMillan, in response to repeated calls, favored the gathering with the old Scotch ditty "My love she's but a lassie yet."

The address by the Rev. J. S. Henderson on "Moral, Religious, and Social side of the order, and a Justification of Secret Societies," was a collection of facts, well arranged, and logically set forth.

Brother W. C. Cotham, recording secretary spoke at considerable length on the inauguration and growth of the lodge, supporting his statements with facts and figures, which proved beyond a doubt the vast strides which had been made during past years, and the bright prospects the future held for the order.

The recitation "Lily Servess's Ride" by Mrs. W. G. Moore, was an exhibition of dramatic talent that held the audience spell-bound. The orchestra throughout the piece discoursing soft and appropriate music.

A. H. Johnston also favored the gathering with a song which was so heartily appreciated that he was obliged to respond once more with that charming favorite "Drink to me only with thine eyes."

George S. Grant, of Vancouver, being called on by the chairman, kept the listeners in convulsions of laughter with the recitation "Gone away with a better looking man than you," and as a second favor, a parody sermon with "Mother Hubbard" for his text.

The feature of the evening came when F. Davey, G. S., G. R., M. L. A., rose to address the meeting. The venerable gentleman, who has for many years been connected with the Oddfellows, is particularly qualified to discourse on the subject of Oddfellowship to a gathering such as was assembled last night. In his opening remarks he thanked the lodge for the honor they had conferred on him by their invitation, and was sorry that circumstances had been such as to allow him to be present.

He went on to relate the idea that was prevalent that the order of Oddfellows was first instituted in the United States. Prior to Mr. Fleedings organization of the order in Massachusetts, the speaker stated that two lodges had existed in Nova Scotia (considerable applause from Nova Scotia representatives.) He went on to describe the formation of the first lodge on Vancouver island, which started with five charter members, and read a descriptive article of the work performed by the lodge which was written in 1864. Following up his remarks he outlined the history of the spread and growth of the Oddfellows from that date up to the present time. He closed his remarks with a statement of very satisfactory statistics showing the numerical strength of the order and the prospects for a general increase in the number of lodges, stating that one was being organized at Princeton, which would before long be in full swing, and arrangements were being completed for the organization of another at Penticton, B. C., in the near future.

At the close of Mr. Davey's address, refreshments proceeded to partake of the refreshments provided, and the magnificent display of palatable edibles was well calculated to tempt the most epicurean taste. Owing to the large attendance it was impossible to seat all at one setting and a second spread was necessary.

At the close of the banquet the orchestra favored the guests with several charming selections, and several impromptu speakers were heard. The gathering then broke up after singing the national anthem, many having to catch the special cars which left at midnight for Vancouver, and on the city and Sapperton runs.

The arrangements were in charge of the following committee: J. J. Johnston, P. G., D. D. G. M., chairman; S. Gregory, noble grand; C. S. Richmond, vice grand; W. C. Cotham, P. G., recording secretary; J. W. MacDonald, financial secretary; Alex Adams, P. G., treasurer; A. P. Halladay, junior past grand; Rev. A. de B. Owen, chaplain.

DETAILS FORTHCOMING.

Mayor Keary Willing to Name Informant in Hughes Case.

The old libel suit Hughes vs. Keary, hobbed up again in the supreme court chambers yesterday morning, when Justice Morrison gave J. D. Kennedy, counsel for Thomas Hughes, power to further examine Mayor Keary in connection with this famous suit. W. G. McQuarrie, counsel for Mayor Keary, offered no objection to the issuing of the order.

The suit is an action to recover damages from the mayor for certain remarks made by him at a meeting of the board of license commissioners last year, in which reference was made to young girls who were supposed to have been enticed into the Lytton hotel, then controlled by Hughes, for no good purpose. If the mayor decides to go on the witness stand, some salacious stories will see the light of day, the reading of which would be out of place at a mission band circle.

Interesting Lecture.

The Rev. J. P. Hicks, editor of the Western Methodist, Victoria, delivered an entertaining lecture at the Queen's Avenue Methodist church last evening, under the auspices of the Epworth league. The lecture was not as well attended as had been expected, owing to strong counter attractions, but those who put in an appearance were amply repaid. The Rev. Mr. Hicks, in a pleasing and entertaining language detailed the life of the early missionary evangelist in a manner that appealed to his hearers, and was accorded close attention throughout the evening. The Rev. W. H. Barraclough occupied the chair, and at the close of the lecture, a hearty vote of thanks was moved by the Rev. A. Lennie, seconded by the Professor Etherington, of Columbia college, and heartily endorsed. A free will offering was taken at the door, and the proceeds will be added to the Epworth league fund.

Looking for Coal.

According to the Ladysmith Ledger, G. Page, whose fruit ranch is situated on the opposite side of the bay from Ladysmith, states that he has been approached by various parties recently who desired to continue boring operations for coal on his property. One bore was made several years ago to the depth of five hundred feet, and it is said that coal was found. The creek, from which the water was obtained for boring operations, however, went dry and the work was not continued. Now Mr. Page states that anyone who wishes to bore holes on his property must buy the whole place, and then, he says, they can go to the other side if they wish.

WINNIPEG SECURES NEW Y. M. C. A. SITE

OLD BUILDING ON PORTAGE AVENUE WILL BE SOLD—NEW LOCATION OPPOSITE EATON'S.

Winnipeg, April 29.—The Y. M. C. A. of Winnipeg will have a new home. Negotiations for a site for a beautiful building costing $200,000, were closed this afternoon. The lot at the south-west corner of Donald street and Graham avenue, comprising 100 feet on Donald street and 120 feet on Graham avenue, is the situation selected. The property is the opposite corner from the Hutton property on Graham avenue and Donald street, in rear of the store, and the present building on the property is occupied by Dr. Harvey Smith. The old Y. M. C. A. building on Portage avenue will be placed on the market.

BIG MILL FOR NORTH.

Capitalists Secure Site and Buy Machinery—Many Whales Caught.

Victoria, April 29.—The steamer Tees, which arrived from Cape Scott and way ports yesterday, brought among her passengers S. C. Jackson and party, including W. I. Clark and G. E. Lamb of Seattle, who have been to Kyuquot to locate a site for a new sawmill which is to be established before many months. Work is to begin within the next few weeks. The mill is to have capacity to make a daily output of 200,000 feet, and will be built not far from the Kyuquot Indian village on Kyuquot sound. The party had chartered the steamer Tees on her last trip to Kyuquot—the usual destination of the vessel was Clayoquot—and after locating a site for the mill they have come to arrange for machinery, etc. Other arrivals by the Tees included J. B. Moseley, D. Morrow and W. S. Thyng, of Spokane, who have been buying large areas of timber lands in Quatsino district.

The Tees brought news that the whalers of Sechart, where both the steamers Orion and Saint Lawrence were being operated pending the completion of the Quuquot station, have been more successful than ever since the station on Barkley sound was established. The steamers brought in seven humpback whales on Friday. The catch has averaged six whales per day for the past week, and the station has been working full blast. A shipment of 550 barrels of whale oil for shipment to Glasgow by the Blue Funnel liner Oanfa was brought to Victoria by the Tees and landed at the ocean dock.

Maple Syrup in Kamloops.

Kamloops, April 29.—Maple syrup in Kamloops would be somewhat of a surprise to the average easterner who in all probability has never seen a hard maple tree in this province. That the tree grows and thrives here is known but it is likely that it remained for Alex McArthur of McArthur & Harper, to make the first test of the quality of the sap from the local grown hard maple. From a tree in his garden he took the sap, boiled it in approved sugar making fashion and the result was as good as the product of any crack Quebec "sugar bush." It is up to someone now to advocate the manufacture of maple sugar as an industry for the interior of British Columbia.

Dead Under Horse.

Nanaimo, April 29.—Joseph Stewart, one of the oldest pioneer residents of Oyster river, a small settlement north of Comox, B.C., was found yesterday morning lying dead under his horse on the road to Comox. No details are yet available. The provincial police have left for the scene and until they return to Cumberland there is no way of ascertaining how Stewart met his death. Deceased was one of the best known men in the province, and one of the earliest settlers in the Comox district.

T. S. Anandale, in company with Lieut.-Col. Holmes and Lieutenant Hughes, made a tour of the new rifle ranges yesterday. The ranges are on the whole fairly satisfactory, several minor changes were suggested, which Col. Holmes will recommend to the government, but he did not think that an addition to the butts, or lengthening of the range could be considered this year.

RAILWAY RESUMES TRAFFIC AT REGINA

NORTHBOUND PASSENGERS AND MAIL HAVE LEFT SASKATCHEWAN CAPITAL.

Regina, April 29.—We won our all northbound passenger traffic with mails and baggage this morning, said Supt. Wilcox of the Canadian Northern today, "and we shall get all stock and settlers' cars out tonight. We could have got them out this morning, but they were scattered through various sidings in the city."

This announcement was made by Supt. Wilcox of the Canadian Northern who arrived in the city in his private car after an absence on a trip extending over the better part of a week and entailing an enormous amount of road work en route at various points which have all been repaired and are now in shape for traffic.

HUSBAND IN PEN.

Woman With Small Means and Large Family Needs Assistance.

Nelson, April 29.—An unusually sad case of destitution has stirred the employees of a large local industrial concern and prompted them to start a relief fund which should appeal to the heart of every generous citizen of Nelson. A woman, whose name is withheld for obvious reasons, has been left to support six small children, the husband and father having been recently sent to the New Westminster penitentiary for abusing his wife. The family has practically nothing to live on; and, burdened with the care of her children, the poor woman is not in a position to work for wages. Several of those who have been acquainted with the details of the case have clubbed together and raised $30, to be used as a nucleus for a special relief fund. They make their gift anonymously, accompanying it with a letter appealing to the general public to join them in helping a woman who is deserving of all the assistance that can be given in a white man's community."

Annual Inspection.

The annual inspection of companies A and B of the Sixth regiment D. C. O. R., was held at Moody Square yesterday afternoon, Lieutenant Colonel Holmes inspecting. The muster was good both companies turning out in full force, and throughout the inspection the showing was most creditable. The men were put through several evolutions, in which were included skirmishing and company drill and the general march past. At the close the companies, headed by their respective officers, marched back to the armouries where a short address was given by Lieutenant Colonel Holmes, in which he commended the men on their ability, general appearance and neat condition of the arms and accoutrements. His remarks were highly complimentary and reflected great credit on both officers and men. The following were the officers in attendance: Lieutenant Colonel Holmes, D. O. C.; Lieutenant Hughes, Royal Engineers; Officers of A company, Captain Johnston, Lieutenants Cunningham and Wilson; B company, Captain Corbett, Lieutenants Gamon, Webber, Corbould and Tuck.

Sheep Slaughtered.

Cheyenne, April 29.—A special to the Telegram says: Masked men last night raided Lynn sheep camp, Trapper Creek, Big Horn Basin, Wyoming, destroying the camp and slaughtered four hundred sheep. The herders tied up at a distance, dynamite was then laid in and about the camp, and after the sheep had been driven on to the mines, the dynamite was exploded. The sheep were maimed in a horrible manner. The identity of some of the raiders is known, and officers are on their trail.

Georgia Sails.

Victoria, April 29.—When the Str. Georgia inaugurates the Canadian-Mexican Pacific SS. company's service by sailing from this port on Tuesday afternoon, it will carry a large and miscellaneous cargo. Included in this are 1,500,000 feet of lumber, 1,500 tons of coal and about 300 tons of different kinds of freight.

MEN STILL REFUSE TO RETURN TO WORK

FERNIE STRIKE IS NOT SETTLED —HITCH IN CONCILIATORY ARRANGEMENTS.

Fernie, B. C., April 29—The strike situation reached a crucial point this afternoon. During the latter part of the week both Lewis and Sherman have been apparently using every effort to get the men to return to work today pending the sitting of the Conciliation Board, but from the returns of the votes from the different locals, their efforts appear to have been signally unsuccessful and the men appear to have taken matters into their own hands and decided not to return to work until they have received a satisfactory answer to their demands in the way of an increase.

Mackenzie King has been using every effort to effect an amicable settlement before the board meets, but events tonight will prove whether or not Mr. Sherman was right in his boast made in an open meeting in Fernie that the new law would not hold water and that he could drive a team and wagon through it.

The executive of the board of miners is meeting in private conference this afternoon, and is evidently in a quandary as to what position to take because the general notices posted all through the town indicated that the men would return to work this morning. This part of the agreement has not been fulfilled, for the very obvious reason that the men have all voted down such a proposition.

The coal company here had its train at the siding at Fernie to take the men to the mines to work as usual this morning, but none availed themselves of it.

A RAZORLESS SHAVE.

Londoner Discovers Means of Removing Beard by Use of Paste.

London, April 29.—There is consternation among the barbers of England over the invention of a Londoner named Witherington. He has made a paste which removes the beard without the use of a razor in ten minutes.

The paste makes the hair so brittle that it can be rubbed off clean with a wet sponge. "No skin trouble" is guaranteed, and the performance is simply a part of washing the face upon arising in the morning.

The following advantages are claimed for the paste:

"No punctilious barber to ask if the razor is sharp enough; No second man waiting to brush your hat and ask with his manner for a tip! You rub on the paste, wipe it off with the sponge, and presto; You go down to coffee and rolls looking like a man fresh from the hands of the best barber in London. The cost is about one cent a shave—and tip yourself."

Father Cocola Goes North.

Rev. Father Cocola, O. M. I., who has been spending a few days in Vancouver as the guest of the priests of the Mission House on Richards street, left last night for the north. The reverend father has been unable to continue his work up at Stewart lake during the winter season as the severity of the climate renders travel almost impossible. For the past few months he has been visiting in the interior, travelling from camp to camp, and also visiting the mining districts. Up in the north, in the district lying around Babine lake, Stewart lake and the Fraser Valley lake Father Cocola numbers 1,700 Indians among his congregation. No priest of the Roman Catholic ministry has had more experience of work among the British Columbian Indians than Father Cocola. A Corsican by birth, he came to this province many years ago. Since that time he has been one of the foremost figures in the mission field in British Columbia. Throughout the province those who have come into contact with him speak of him in terms of the warmest admiration. The fact that in many cases they are not of his church makes not the slightest difference. Last, but not least, he was the discoverer of the St Eugene mine in the Kootenay district. Father Coccala sang mass at the Church of Our Lady of the Holy Rosary on Sunday morning. He leaves for the north this evening, there to resume his work among his Indian people.

T. W. Bain, chief of police of Revelstoke, arrived in the city yesterday morning in charge of an insane man, who was delivered to the care of the authorities at the asylum. No difficulty was experienced in bringing down the lunatic.

SABBATH OBSERVANCE.

The McBride government has decided that it will not allow the Lord's Day Act, passed a year ago by the Dominion parliament, to be enforced in this province. The act contains a provision that proceedings under it cannot be taken without the consent of the attorney general of the province, and the attorney general has announced that his consent will not be forthcoming. The Daily News made the same announcement some two months ago; but of course its statement was not official; it simply "sized up" the position of the government and pointed out that it dare not allow the act to be enforced.

Government organs are busy, of course, in defence of the masters. The line of defence chosen is to cry out that the law, being a Dominion law, should be enforced by the Dominion government. The whole criminal code is a Dominion law—is its enforcement left to the Dominion government? It can be argued, no doubt, that the provision requiring the consent of the provincial attorney general imposes upon the provincial government the responsibility for the enforcement of the law; but as a matter of fact, it imposes upon the governments of the provinces only the responsibility of saying that certain violations of the letter of the act shall be exempt from prosecution; shall not, that is, be held to be violations of the spirit of the act. During the long debate in the Ottawa House, when the bill was before it, stress was laid upon the contention that the provisions of a Sunday Observance act could not, without being made so wide that the act would be useless, be so framed that they would be applicable with fairness and justice to all parts of the Dominion from the Pacific to the Atlantic. That objection was held to have force, and to meet it this provision about the consent of the attorney general was put into the bill. What each provincial government (for of course no attorney general would act in such a matter on his individual responsibility) was asked to do, therefore, was to say that, if any provisions of the act should not be enforced in their province.

Nor was it necessary for the McBride government to shoulder the responsibility. It could quite properly have asked the legislature to deal with the matter.

The government has chosen, however, to condemn the whole law. This course it is doubtless the more willing to take because it coincides with the "light Ottawa" policy which the government has adopted; but that is merely an incidental advantage. Its real reason ought to be obvious enough; it is so obvious that the Daily News was able, many weeks ago, to anticipate its course with the utmost confidence.

SEEN FROM INSIDE.

Mr. Macgowan, M. P. P., as we noted the other day, allows himself the uncomfortable luxury of a conscience. How a man so equipped came to be allowed in Vancouver's "solid five" is one of those things which the ordinary individual cannot hope to understand; but there is the fact.

Being a member of the aforesaid solid five, Mr. Macgowan has been acting as a supporter of the McBride government during the greater part of the session just closed, and probably he will continue, generally, to act in that capacity; but he feels that something is due to his conscience, and therefore he allows his conscience, rather than his partizanship, to speak when he criticises the work of the session. Being on the inside, he has had much better opportunities of judging than we can pretend to, and therefore we recommend his opinions to our readers. Among other things he says that the session has been the most barren of good to the country that could possibly be imagined. It is disgusting to think that forty-two white men should be called upon to lose some seven weeks in doing nothing. The estimates were passed—they run from an excess to districts represented by Conservatives who might have been expected to show independence, down to the reverse in districts represented by opponents of the government. There was the usual unlimited amount of amending of laws bearing on professional work, particularly in local lines, really making our statutes even more difficult of interpretation. * * * Apart from finance, the legislation presented by the departments to the House was miserably prepared and late in being presented, giving ample evidence of the fact that cabinet reconstruction is absolutely necessary. * * * * This year there should have been introduced and laid on the table a proper timber bill, a civil service bill and a new municipal bill; also, there should at this session have been appointed a committee to revise and consolidate our statutes with power to hire the best commercial legal ability in the country with a view of having our laws, particularly those bearing on commerce, made clear and workable, bringing about less necessity for litigation."

WAR IS IMMINENT WAY DOWN SOUTH

MEXICO AND GUATEMALA PREPARE FOR TROUBLE—TROOPS MOVING TO FRONTIER.

City of Mexico, April 29.—It is known here tonight that war between Mexico and Guatemala is imminent and may be declared by the Diaz government within a week. Already troops are moving to the Guatemalan frontier.

Tonight Minister of Foreign Affairs Mariscal made a formal demand upon the Guatemalan president for the surrender of Gen. Jose Maria Lima, whom Mexico accuses of hiring the assassins who murdered former President Barillas in this city two weeks ago.

The demand recites that Barillas was making Mexico his refuge from his successor, President Cabrera, and other enemies who sought his life. Investigation, it adds, has shown that Cabrera's friend, Gen. Lima, paid the transportation of the two murderers from Guatemala to Mexico with the understanding that they were to kill Barillas and then return to him for their reward.

Friday's Attraction.

"A Stranger in Town," that comes to the Opera House next Friday, is under the personal direction of Harry B. Linton, who is among the foremost of the younger (heatrical managers of America. Frank Beamish, a comedian of exceptional ability, is featured in this sparkling comedy with music and high class vaudeville specialties, and is surrounded by a clever company of well-known artists, including Edward Allor, Arthur Fitzgerald, Herbert Hice, Albert Homburg, Rita Knight, Jessie Barrington, Louise Frazier, Elma Ward, Annett Peters, Mable Gordon, and many others.

That a dog could jump from the top of the post office and land on the sidewalk without suffering any serious inconvenience might be difficult to believe, but is nevertheless the case. People who were passing in the vicinity of the post office about noon yesterday were rather surprised to see a large grey hound suddenly shoot out from one of the topmost windows of the building, and after describing several fancy curves in the air land heavily on the sidewalk. The canine lay for a moment motionless, when a passerby, thinking that the brute was dead proceeded to turn him over with his foot, when the dog jumped up, shook himself, and trotted off apparently none the worse for his aerial flight.

SHACKLED WOMAN IS STILL MISSING

CHINESE GIRL RESCUED FROM BURNING HOUSE DISAPPEARS —SUPPOSED TO BE A SLAVE

Victoria, April 29.—There is indeed an atmosphere of mystery surrounding the fire Saturday morning in the premises of Loo Gee Wing, 41 Cormorant street. As yet not the slightest trace of its origin can be found, and although the occupants state that the fire was started by outsiders, the police have grave doubts about it. The place was formerly a notable gambling resort, and it is quite likely that the conflagration started from within.

There were also known to be three girls, thought to be "servants" of Loo Gee Wing's third wife, in the building at the time of the fire. Two of these were taken out in safety down a flight of steps into an alley and conveyed to the premises of Quown On, across the street. Of the third girl not the slightest trace can be found. She was the eldest of the three, being about 16 years of age and was called Ah Tong.

There are several rumors afloat concerning the disappearance of Ah Tong. One is that she was carried out shackled and placed in a cab and driven away.

According to the missionaries who labor in Chinatown these "servants" are little more than slaves. Generally very young, they are treated in the majority of cases very kindly. They possess no freedom. One of the local homes had been endeavoring to secure the release of Ah Tong for some time before the fire.

Several cases appeared before the police magistrate yesterday morning. John Ross, who is accused of attempting to pass a forged cheque, was remanded till this morning. The case of W. Newberger, who, it is stated, refuses to provide for his family, was also remanded till further investigation has been made. Several minor cases were sumarily disposed of.

COUNCIL MEETING

Burnaby Council.

The above council met on April 20 and 27, all the members (excepting Councillor Love) being present, Reeve Byrne presided.

Plans of subdivisions of the following properties were dealt with:

Blocks G and H, of district lot 29, district lot 173; District lot 171; East half of district lot 160; blocks 11 and 13 to 16 of district lot 158; part of district lot 96; west part of district lot 68; portion of district lot 25; resubdivision of blocks 1 to 5, district lot 159; blocks 6 and 7 of district lot 159; N. E. quarter of district lot 162.

There being no stipulation in the new land act that each lot or subdivision should have access to a road, the clerk was instructed to write the Hon. Carter-Cotton suggesting that in the amending act, a clause should be inserted requiring that each lot should have a frontage on a road 66 feet wide.

Messrs. Duthie, Blane, Shannon, and Capon waited on the council with requests for roads to the settlements on the north of Burnaby lake and received an assurance that their representations should receive attention.

The specification of Cliff road (north of the lake) was approved and tenders were ordered to be called for the work. Instructions were reported to have been given to Mr. Hill, the engineer, to survey the line of Gunn road across district lots 58, 42 and 43 to give access to the settlement north of the lake.

Tenders were ordered to be called for ditching and grading on pole line road, ward 2; for 18 chains of power house road; for 4 chains of North Arm road; for widening and grading hill near C. F. Sprott's house, Hastings road; for 4 1-2 chains of Hastings road, opposite Mr. Sharp's residence; for clearing boulevard Smith avenue.

Councillor Skinner and the road foreman were authorized to take all necessary steps to secure the flood box on Walkem road.

Councillor Cliff introduced a by-law to amend the Pole Line road by-law and the same was read a first and second time, and committed for reconsideration.

The resignation of Peter Gray, as constable, was accepted, Mr. William Ralph, road foreman, having been appointed constable.

Joseph Collins, of the power house, was appointed assistant to the clerk at a salary of thirty dollars per month, his duties to commence on May 1.

The balance sheet for the quarter ended March 31, 1907 was received. The receipts were shown to be $18,609.29 and the expenditure $1,564.40. The balance in hand on ordinary account was $10,235.05 and $611.37 on sinking fund account.

The assessment roll for 1907 was returned to the council by the clerk. After deducting exemptions for crown and public lands, the total assessment for this year is:

NATIVES BATTLE JUST TO KILL TIME

TWENTY MEN SLAIN IN FRIENDLY FIGHT—QUEER CONDITIONS IN CONGO.

London, April 29.—Throughout the year 1906 Franco-German commissions have been engaged in the delimitations of the frontier of the French Congo and the German colony of the Cameroons. Until these commissions got to work last year a great part of the borderland had never been visited by white men. Indeed, few parts of Africa were less known, and the delimitation has been a veritable piece of exploration which has been fruitful of results.

Commandant Moll, the leader of the more important of the two French commissions, has returned, and has made known the outlines of his march and some experiences with the natives. One of the most notable facts ascertained was the great diversity of languages spoken by the natives. It was frequently found that the people of one village could not understand the language spoken by the people of the next village.

The most remarkable of the obstacles encountered by the missions was the state of almost continuous intoxication in which the inhabitants of the region called Laca lived. Potent beer is brewed from millet, and the natives give themselves up as much as possible to carousals. On such occasions the appearance of strangers is likely to lead to dangerous consequences. Lieutenant Georg, a member of the Moll expedition, had a curious experience, from which ardent teetotallers can draw many morals. Together with an escort of Tirailleurs the lieutenant arrived one day at a Laca village while the beer was flowing in rivers. The villagers were induced to place some huts at the lieutenant's disposition and then return to their feasts, presently indulging in various dances, in which they invited their guests to assist. When the dancing was over the village chief, turning to Lieutenant Georg, said: "Now, to finish the day, if you like, for your amusement we will have a fight with your soldiers." The representative of France declared that such a contest would not afford sufficient entertainment. Happily, the answer was received in good part.

"Very well," replied the chief. "In that case we will have a fight between ourselves." And in less than a quarter of an hour twenty villagers were killed, among the first to fall being the chief.

Commandant Moll states that when drunk the Laca were great thieves, but on regaining sobriety they would bring back the goods they had stolen.

The Franco-German missions in 13 months marched 1,430 miles. The frontier was fixed at nearly 200 points astronomically, and the missions gathered valuable information about the economic condition of the country. The southern part is dense forest land, while the north is open land, suitable for the cultivation of cotton.

CALLS STORY OF ADAM A MYTH.

Methodist Minister Causes Sensation by Agreeing With Scientists.

Richmond, Ind., April 29.—Declaring that the story of Adam is a myth and that the Bible is a very embarrassing book, because of its many contradictions, Rev. C. Tinsley, a Methodist pastor of Youngstown, caused a sensation among the orthodox members of the faith at Rushville. Mr. Tinsley lectured before the literary organization on "The Modern Viewpoint of Religion," and his argument agreed with the views of scientists. He said this was the day of science, that the breach between the church and the educated was widening, and that the old methods and viewpoint would not answer. The present period, he held, demands a new theory, with a new intellectual world.

A Heart Story.

The clergy, press and public throughout the United States indorse Fred Raymond's plays. His latest production, "Old Arkansaw," will appear at the Opera House here on May 10th. It is a heart story of the Arkansas hills, one of absorbing interest, and the vein of clever comedy which runs through the piece keeps the audience in convulsions. A complete scenic equipment is carried by the company, and many novel and mechanical effects are introduced. A special feature of this season's performance is the introduction of clever vaudeville during the action of the play.

THOUSANDS OF TREES MUST BE DESTROYED

INSPECTOR CUNNINGHAM ORDERS INFECTED FRUIT TREES TO BE BURNED.

Vancouver, April 29.—Some time this week Provincial Inspector Cunningham will have a monster bonfire at the local fumigating station in which will be destroyed almost an entire carload of nursery stock recently sent here from Tennessee for planting in the Summerland district. The usual inspection given showed that the trees were diseased and a closer inspection was made with the result that the following were condemned: Four thousand four hundred and sixty-three apple trees, 103 pear trees, 1684 peach trees and eight cherry trees. The most important condemnation was that of the apple trees, inasmuch as they were infected with the Schizoneura langiera or woolly apple louse, an insect of which there has previously been no trace in the province, and the introduction of which might have done untold harm in the Summerland district.

Before taking final action in the case, Inspector Cunningham wired the Tennessee nursery sending the trees and immediately a representative was sent out arriving last week. The shipment was shown him and the diseases plainly pointed out. The visitor at once acquiesced in the condemnation of the lot and cheerfully consented to their destruction He paid the local inspection department a high compliment when, despite the fact that its action had just entailed a heavy loss to his company, and said that he felt well repaid for his trip here because of his finding such systematic work for the preservation of the orchards of the province.
