w Railway line Will Follow Water Level and Avoid Long Bridges.

ictoria, B. C. Feb. 7—Hon. R. G. low, acting chief commissioner of ds and works, has accepted the ns submitted by the G. T. P. show- the route of the line in British umbia. The railway will enter tish Columbia at the Yellowhead ss, will run north of Cowdun and ose Lakes, and will follow the th bank of the south fork of the ser until it is joined by the north . The river will be crossed near t Georgy. The line will leave the on the south and will follow al- st due west to Fraser Lake; it will n change and go northwest along northeast bank of the Endakow er and Burns and Duker lakes to headwaters of the South Bulkley ey. It will follow the Bulkley er on the east side and will cross Skeena. At Hazelton the line turn to the southwest and follow north bank of the Skeena to its th, then cross to the Kaien Island minus.

he line will run up the Nechaco Bulkley valley and this is con- red the most feasible of any pro- d, its characteristics being the dance of long bridges and follow- the water level for almost the re distance.

DING OF JURY HINTS AT MURDER

Jackson May Be Tried for Husband's Death—Makes Dangerous Admission.

eattle, Feb. 7.—John Jackson, the ring man who was found dead in room in the Nicolas lodging house Friday morning, came to his th by a knife wound in the heart, rding to the verdict of the coron- jury today.

hile the verdict does not say the th was a murder, it is strongly ed at and the recommendation is Ruth Jackson, wife of the dead , suspected by the police of being slayer, be held in jail for further cedure by the prosecuting attorn- office. An information charging Jackson with the murder will bably be filed this afternoon and will be arrested formally on the rge.

idence of extremely strong cir- stantial nature was adduced at inquest, the most important of ch being the sworn statements of s. M. A. Elliott, landlady of the el, and Mrs. Marie McLean, a room- t the same place, who said that an r before Jackson was found dead th Jackson ran from the room into hall crying:

've stabbed my husband. I want give myself up."

Guide's Awful Plight.

eneva, Feb. 7—One of the most ting rescues which has been re- d in the mountains this winter that of a guide, Mottler, who set alone from Murontatal to climb a ntain pass on Sunday and who found three days later by the rching parties.

e had been imprisoned in a hut ut which the snow was nine feet p. When the searching party nd him he was feverishly burrrow- in the snow, shouting in his de- ium, his hands covered with blood. had succeeded, however, in cut- g a passage two miles long through snow from the hut.

CHILLIWACK ELECTORS FELICITATE MR. MUNRO

Call Mass Meeting and Make Speeches —Success Due to Cleanliness and Merit.

After the nervous strain in both political camps which was accentuated by the dearth of definite news till about 4 p.m. on Monday afternoon, the verdict of the electorate, in favor of C. W. Munro, the deservedly popular representative of Chilliwack for the last eight years, who was hailed with delight and congratulations by the friends of the Liberal candidate and by a great many of his opponents, who had voted from a sense of duty to their party, but who could not blind themselves to the sterling honesty and generous principles of the victor. "The hardest fight he ever fought," was the opinion of many of his old time supporters, as no means, fair or foul, were spared to knife the man who stands as he has always stood, for truth, purity and manliness. Chilliwack gave him a very small majority and the credit of the fight goes to the west end of the district, where his friends rallied as ever to his standard. As soon as the result was known, word was sent to Mr. Munro that his supporters wished to congratulate him on his well earned victory and a meeting was arranged. About 50 people, nearly all Liberals, gathered in the hall and the president of the Liberal Association, A. Rankin, made a few remarks and gave way to the member-elect. He opened his address by expressing his gratification of the way the people of Chilliwack had vindicated his personal character and his honor, which had been grossly slandered on the morning of the election in the most cowardly and contemptible manner. He then addressed the young men, imploring them to stand by their honest convictions, not to stifle their consciences or to be-little their manliness and intelligence by allowing party prejudice or appeals to passion or consideration of greed to influence the sacred right of the franchise. To remember in that hour when evil influences were at work that honesty of purpose, moral courage and cleanliness of character were more to them and to their country than either party or pocket. His speech closed with thanks to the ladies of the district who had used their good influences for the cause of clean politics and a complimentary allusion to the executive of his party, who had helped him carry on the campaign without one farthing of money from outside sources or the help of one speaker of note. After thanking his hearers for their close attention, he took his seat amid the earnest applause of his delighted audience.

The Rev H. J. Robertson closed the meeting with a very able address endorsing the remarks of the member-elect, with regard to the desperate and in many cases, evil means adopted to defeat him and counselling the young men to respond to the splendid example and sterling advice given to them by his honored friend.

Walla Walla for Hemeter.

Tacoma, Feb. 7—Louis Hemeter, suspected of being the man who murdered Elsie Millhuff at Renton, declared to be insane by a lunacy commission summoned by Superior Judge Snell Tuesday, was yesterday ordered committeed to the state penitentiary at Walla Walla on the grounds that he is afflicted with homicidal tendencies and is dangerous. There was some talk of trying Hemeter for the Renton crime but this idea has been abandoned now and the chances are that Hemeter will spend the balance of his days behind the walls of the Walla Walla penitentiary.

STREET CAR RIOTERS RECEIVE INJURIES

Enraged Strap-Hangers Mob Conductor of San Francisco Car---Police Rush to Rescue---Clubs Freely Used ---Cars Wrecked.

San Francisco, Feb. 7.—Overcrowding of street cars—incident to the general reconstruction now in progress—was the cause of two riots that occurred simultaneously yesterday afternoon and in which scores of persons were slugged or struck with flying missiles, though no one was badly hurt.

At Market and Valencia streets a car of the Castro street line was stopped so that car inspectors could clear the roof of fifteen men. The other passengers, angered by the refusal of the conductor to go ahead until the roof was cleared, started a scrimmage. A crowd of 2,000 men, recruited from blockaded cars, quickly gathered and a riot was in progress when three squads of police arrived. The conductor was rescued only after the police had used their clubs freely. The car was wrecked by a hail of brickbats and stones, and two other cars in the rear were similarly used after the mob had failed in repeated efforts to overturn them.

At Sixteenth and Bryant streets an attempt by inspectors to eject from an overcrowded cemetery car, three "strap-hangers" led to another riot, in which four policemen were knocked senseless. One policeman and four inspectors fought off the crowd.

WEST END PROPERTY BRINGS GOOD PRICES

Kerr's Auction Sale Attracts Many Investors—Land Has Increased in Value.

Over seventy city lots changed hands yesterday evening at the auction sale held by W. J. Kerr, in the Cunningham block, nearly all the lots being in the west end of the city, where some of the best residential sites in New Westminster are to be found. The lots disposed of were situated on Tenth avenue, between Eighth and Tenth streets, and along the route of the proposed car line. The large room where the sale was held, was crowded with buyers, and substantial bids followed each other in rapid succession. The average price of the lots was about $145, the top price obtained being $180 for some choice corner lots, while the lowest bid taken was $130.

After the sixty-four lots in the west end had been sold, Auctioneer Kerr announced that he had a few more to dispose of in other parts of the city, and a number of Sapperton lots changed hands, the transfer price being considerably lower than the west end properties. While the bidding was not quite so brisk as at the previous sale held two months ago, the price realized was in most cases higher, the value of the property having advanced since last November. Mr. Kerr is well satisfied with the result of the sale.

To Burn Rubbish.

Victoria, Feb. 7.—Mayor Morley this morning stated that the incinerator which it is proposed to construct will cost between $30,000 and $35,000 The plans are at present being prepared and a by-law will altimately be submitted to city property owners. The necessity for the plant is daily increasing. With the flats utilized by the C. P. R.'s new hotel, they can be no longer used as a dumping ground, and the incinerator provides the most economical way of disposing of garbage. The estimate of $60,000 is far in excess of the proposed figure.

Ottawa, Feb. 7.—Senator Davis has introduced a bill to amend the Railway Act, by which passenger trains are required "to stop at regular intervals, as nearly as possible, if not less than, six hours, for a time not less than 20 minutes, sufficient to enable passengers by such trains to procure meals."

BURNABY LANDS ARE SELLING WELL

Several Large Deals in Real Estate Are Contemplated—Fine Soil for Gardeners.

Considerable activity is at present taking place in lands in the vicinity of Burnaby lake, between New Westminster and Vancouver on the line of the V. W. & Y. Railway company. Several turnovers to property in that locality have occurred within the past few days, and several large deals are now pending.

The fact that some of the finest soil in this neighborhood exists on the land surrounding Burnaby lake has just been developed, and recent purchases of acreage there have been effected with a view to subdivision into small plots suitable for market gardens. The fact that the railway runs right through the district makes the land particularly valuable for market gardening purposes, as quick connections with markets in the two cities are available.

Explanations in Order.

Explanations will be in order at the committee of the council meeting to be held this evening, several of the civic employees having been requested to be present in order to enlighten the aldermen on various points concerning the administration of affairs in the city. Health Inspector Pearce will give the city fathers valuable information concerning the health of the city generally. Superintendent Stott will deal more particularly with the water and sewer question, while to Dr. Smith's lot will fall the task of explaining the sanitary conditions of the public schools and the precautions that are taken for the prevention of contageous diseases among the growing generation. Some other matters will also be brought to the notice of the members of the council, but the observations of the three above named gentlemen will occupy most of the evening.

To Paint His Holiness.

Rome, Feb. 6.—Willam E. Cook, of Independence, Ia., has been signally honored by Pope Pius, who has consented to give the painter sittings for a portrait. Cook will be the first American to paint a picture of His Holiness. The actual time for the beginning of the sittings will be announced in the near future.

CHINESE NEW YEAR WILL BE GREAT EVENT

Sons of the Celestial Kingdom Prepare to Fittingly Celebrate Annual Festival.

There is much bustle and hustle these days out in Chinatown, where the sons and daughters of the Celestial Empire are getting ready for Chinese New Years, which commences on Tuesday, and the observance of which will be celebrated for several days by the Orientals.

All debts must be paid by Monday night and all provision made for the loading of the festive tables with delicacies which John so delights in at this season of the year.

Chickens, oranges, fruits, candies, and other tempting edibles will be provided in profusion for the many Chinamen who will be here from all over the district. Chicken is the favorite on the menu card, and these must all be killed on Monday, for it is bad luck for a Chinaman to kill a chicken on the first day of his new year.

Monday night the city will be notified of the near approach of the great event by a cannonade of giant firecrackers, and a display of fireworks. The festivities will be continued all the week.

Ties up Big Contracts.

New York, Feb. 7.—Bricklayers have been on strike for the last two months at the big building of the New York Central at Forty-fourth street and Lexington avenue, for which the John Pierce company are the contractors, against the employment of non-union men by the railroad directly on other buildings or in any other work undertaken by the railroad. It has been decided now by the unions that until the New York Central gives a signed undertaking that it will employ only union men directly, and that in all contracts for $40,000,000 of work which the railroad is preparing to give out there will be a provision for the employment of only union bricklayers, the strike will not be declared off, and the bricklayers will work on none of the new contracts.

River Is Rising.

Reports which are coming in from up river are to the effect that the water is rising rapidly and that the ice is being forced up and broken away from the sides of the banks. Many of the small and usually insignificant streams have swelled to large proportions and promise very soon to become rushing torrents which will have the effect of breaking up the ice and starting it on its way down river. The heavy rains of the past few days are reported to be general throughout the valley, and if the thaw comes on very rapidly there will be considerable loss to the ranchers in certain sections where the land is low. Word from Chilliwack district is to the effect that Vedder creek and other streams in the district which are usually of small proportions have already become impassable.

$180,000 for Park.

Winnipeg, Feb. 7.—Elm Park can be procured by the city for $180,000. Ald. Pulford has interviewed the owners of the property and this is the price they have set on Winnipeg's favorite resort. As there is 54 acres in the park, that brings the price at something over $3,000 per acre. Ald. Pulford considers that this is not exorbitant, and at the next meeting of the city council will bring the question up and will advocate the immediate framing of a bylaw to be presented to the ratepayers for the purchase of the property.

INDIAN PROPHETESS PREDICTS DISASTER

Disease, Flood, Fire, Good Crops and Lots of Game to Be Expected.

An Indian who was in the city yesterday from the north brought in a remarkable story of a prophecy uttered by an aged Indian woman who is called Mad Kate. Kate is supposed to have the gift of second sight and on several occosions has electrified her friends by her strange forecasts, many of which have come to pass.

It was about a month ago that Kate went into one of her trances and stated among other things that during the coming year many of the Indian camps will be ravaged by smallpox; many villages are to be wiped out by flood; spring will come early and the vast snows on the mountains will swell the rivers to the highest mark of years ago, and much loss will be sustained by property holders along their courses. Wild life will flourish and game of all kinds will be plentiful. Crops will be the largest for many years and the summer will be a very dry one. Forest fires will rage early and much timber and property will be destroyed.

Just how far the prognostications may come true remains to be seen, but it is said that the Indians trust her implicitly. The informant is named Toby Tentail and hails from Oregon where he has lived nearly all his life. He has been spending the winter a considerable distance up the coast and left last night for his southern home.

WESTMINSTER TALENT DELIGHTS SEATTLE

Scottish Dancers Applauded at Burns' Concert—Miss Munn's Sweet Singing Encored.

The Grand Opera House, Seattle, was packed Wednesday evening, the occasion being the concert celebrating the one hundred and forty-eighth anniversary of the birth of Robert Burns, the Scottish poet. More than 1,400 tickets were sold for the entertainment and it was necessary to refund money to a large number unable to get seats.

The programme consisted of songs by well-known vocalists from Seattle and British Columbia, and dancing by experts. The New Westminster artistes, who took part in the concert included Kennedy and Gilbert Adams, who scored quite a hit with their dancing, the Alexandra quartette, composed of the Henderson brothers, A. Matthews and A. Adams, who received an enthusiastic reception from the large audience, and Miss Alvina Munn, who charmed everyone with her sweet singing, receiving rapturoue encores after each song. She rendered "Ye Banks and Braes," and "Bonnie Mary o' Argyle," in a charm- manner. The party returned home on the G. N. R. train last evening.

Mayor Takes a Holiday.

During the past two days, Mayor Keary has been absent from his office at the city hall, having evidently gone off on a vacation. His Worship announced his intention of going away on Monday evening, but had not since referred to his approaching departure. His absence at the city hall has somewhat upset the usual routine of affairs, and the officials do not know where to find him. Inquiries at the tram office and the railway stations failed to cast any light on the mayor's whereabouts, and he has not been seen leaving the city.

Prompt Action Saves Strangling Diver's Life

Fort William, Feb. 7—An escape om death which is without parallel the Fort William harbor, was ex- rienced to-day by R. McWilliams, a ver for the McDonald Engineering . Mr. McWilliams spends most of ch day at the bottom of the Kamin- tiqwia river, inserting bolts in the ain elevator under costruction by s company.

While twenty feet below the sur- ce his helmet in some manner became detached and was instantly forced from his head by the air within. Almost before he was aware of what had occurred he was being strangled by the water. With his heavy diving apparatus it was impossible for him to arise. Quickly as possible he pulled the signal line, and just as quick response upon the part of the man above is all that saved the man's life. Had not the man at the top divined that the diver's call was urgent the man would never have survived.

Snow Slide Kills Fifteen

BUCHAREST, Roumania, Feb. 7.—Fifteen wood cutters were overwhelmed by an avalanche yesterday in the Muscel district of the Transvania mountains. All the men were dead when dug out of the snow.

Roller Refuses Big Sum To Wrestle in the East

Seattle, Feb. 7—Dr. Roller refused to accept a package containing $12,000 in good United States currency. All he had to do to make the bundle of money his own was to sign a contract for eight months to wrestle anyone the man with the bundle of money picked.

A well-known sporting man came all the way to Seattle from Chicago with that bunch of money to get Roller to go back East and get in shape to tackle Gotch on the mat for the championship. Roller was offered the money flat for an eight months' contract for his services. The Eastern sporting man did not present a certified check. He had a square package that looked like a box of chocolates. When he took the wrapper off, it proved to be the $12,000 currency.

GERMAN THEOLOGIAN ATTACKS THE BIBLE

Sinai's Fires Were of Volcanic Origin—Genesis a Series of Myths.

Berlin, Feb. 7.—Mount Sinai, with its marvelous fires, described in the Old Testament, was nothing more than a volcano in action, according to Professor Gunkel of the Berlin University.

Professor Gunkel, one of the most noted theologians in Germany, makes other disconcerting statements regarding the Bible stories in a commentary on the Book of Genesis, which he has just published. In this work the professor attempts to connect the religious ideas set forth in the Book of Genesis with the myths of ancient Babylonia and Assyria. All the accepted views on the early history and religion of the Israelites are controverted by the profesor very learnedly and at great length.

The clergy in Germany are greatly shocked and excited over this latest example of the "higher criticism."

Swallowed His Own Brains.

Decatur, Ill., Feb. 7.—"Death from swallowing his own brains," was the verdict rendered yesterday at the inquest over the body of George E. Thomas, an Illinois Central brakeman, who was injured by falling into some pumping machinery.

The base of Thomas' skull was broken in such a way that the man's brains oozed down into his throat and he swallowed them. After repeating the swallowing at intervals for several hours, during which nearly all his brains had oozed through the aperture in the skull, Thomas died.

Perpetual Motion.

St. Catherines, Ont., Feb. 7.—There is a man in this town who claims he has discovered perpetual motion. The inventor is M. W. Culp, who came here recently from Jordan. He calls the machine the M. W. Culp perpetual motion, and promises in a circular that he has issued to the public that his device, which he warrants will run until it wears out, will be on the market in about four weeks. The nature of the device is kept a secret as yet, but Culp has procured a patent on it at Ottawa.

FLAGS IN THE NAVY.

Each Vessel Must Have 250 on Hand All the Time.

"Did you ever happen to think when you saw a cruiser or battleship 'dressed' in its full outfit of flags what a big item flags must be to the navy?" an official of the navy department recently remarked. "Just think of how many vessels, large and small, there are and that every one has to be supplied with 250 flags, which have to be renewed every three years! The annual cost is about $60,000, and a hundred women are kept busy at the Brooklyn navy yard the year around.

"The foreign flags are rather elaborate as a rule, especially the American republics, and their cost is consequently considerable. Each ship must have forty-three foreign flags constantly on board, the standard size being 25 by 13 feet. The cost of making one will depend upon the design. A simple flag, as that of France, costs comparatively little, while to make that of Salvador means just $52.50, it being a veritable landscape. China's flag amounts to about $40 and that of Costa Rica, which runs to scenic effect, nearly $50.

"The largest American flag used is 19 by 36 feet and costs $40. There are eight sizes of the American flag used altogether, and they are less expensive than the foreign flags by reason of the fact that they are largely machine made. There is a special machine that cuts out the stars, stamping out 100 at every stroke.

"Then there are the special flags of the president, the secretary and of the flag officers. That of the president, while simple, means long and careful work. This flag is a blue field, with the arms of the United States in the center. The design is entirely hand embroidered with the finest silk and requires a month of constant effort." — New York Herald.

A Dangerous Cargo.

There was great excitement one day some years ago at a small Russian port on the Baltic. The captain of a newly arrived foreign vessel was arrested for the alleged crime of having attempted to bring a large number of dynamite bombs into the country of the czar. They brought the unhappy man before the judge, who happened to be one of the few intelligent men in the town.

"Where are the bombs?" said the judge.

"On board the ship," said the police. "There is a small cargo of them."

"Go and fetch one," said the judge.

"It is dangerous to touch it," said the police.

"I cannot convict," said the judge, "unless I have the material evidence. Bring me a bomb."

With much trepidation and many precautions they at last brought one on a cushion of cotton wool. The judge laughed a most unjudicial laugh.

"That," he said, "is a cocoanut."

And so it was.

THE BIG BLUE SIGN

Turned Out on the Street!

Get Out or Sell Out!

The time is near for us to get out, but we don't intend taking any of those 5c Collars with us.

This mild weather has brought the contractors down upon us; and we are not sold out yet.

We have some of that Underwear left at 75c a suit.

They have, however, allowed us eight or ten days in which to clear out the balance:

particularly those Congress Boots at $1.15.

During those remaining days we purpose selling goods at prices that will keep the crowd coming for Handkerchiefs, if nothing else, 3 for 10c

This Sale has been no fake, and the people know it.

They know that UMBRELLAS at 45c are good value.

We are actually selling goods at far less than manufacturers' prices;

Hip Gum Boots, for instance, at $3.75 a pair.

The interest in this Sale keeps increasing;

Tweed Suits at $6.15 would interest any one.

We'll continue keeping faith with the public;

and selling Men's Fedora Hats for 85c

REMEMBER! ONLY EIGHT OR TEN DAYS MORE OF THIS BARGAIN FEAST. THEN WE'LL HAVE TO GET OUT.

FRIDAY, FEB. 8, 1907.

We had it on high authority the other day, that the Oliver clock had run down. It seems to be ticking away quite merrily yet, however.

Now that the election is over, is it not time to settle which of those jail warden appointments is to go into effect. There seems to be no reason for keeping the position vacant any longer, except, indeed, McBride intends to appoint Mr. Gifford Attorney-General and have a bye-election here.

The Toronto News says, its contemporary, the World, has discovered that the Maclean Railway Bills are to be smothered in the chambers of the Railway Commission. The News understands that the Globe would be willing to have the author included in the scheme.

The council did well to make haste slowly about the signing of that immigration petition. We want new settlers of course, but we want the right kind, and the proper way to get them would be to make British Columbia such an attractive place to live in that the right sort of people would be irresistibly drawn here.

Toronto papers report the annual meeting of the Chinese Presbyterian church in that city. Twenty-five new members were added to the communion roll during the year and contributions were $581.40. The elders are English speaking, but Mr. Lee Ling and Mr. Wong Sing were elected deacons.

The "Tattered Remnant," is supposed to be busy these days considering the question to whom the vacant portfolios shall be given. Mr. McBride is also supposed to be debating with himself which of his two constituencies he shall transfer to some faithful henchman and to which faithful henchman the gift shall be presented. Announcements may be expected very soon, as the necessary bye-elections should be over before the end of the month.

Leading Ontario papers, particularly those which give a fair share of attention to matters outside and above the mere material interests of the hour, are commending the announced intention of the government of that province to increase its expenditure on the rural schools and generally to make an effort to raise the standard of education throughout the province. It is to be hoped that the government of British Columbia will follow this example.

Our Conservative friends obey one scriptural injunction at least. They are dilligent in business—the business of looking after their political interests. In this part of the country we are told that Victoria Liberals have now come to the opinion that the result of the election—although a disappointment to them—is, after all, a good thing for the Province. In Victoria some "hot air" of a similar kind will no doubt be circulated as to the opinions of mainland Liberals. All of which, being interpreted, means simply that three bye-elections are coming off and that the Government does not mean to take any chances.

Immigration is not wholly confined to Western Canada, but while the West is receiving thousands of settlers with flesh and blood, the East seems chiefly troubled with an influx of ghostly visitors. Some months ago, all Albert County in New Brunswick was stirred by an outbreak of the supernatural. Then followed stories from Hopewell Cape. Now the tales come from Toronto Junction. Then the C. P. R. workshops are troubled by a mysterious but garrulous spirit. This latest aspirant for mundane fame is truly up-to-date, for he is said to come from Niagara Falls via the High Power wire. The police, however, with their customary scepticism, are hunting for a disaffected employee. They are incapable of appreciating the occult.

Clean, dry, fine Salt—that slips from the spoon, grain by grain—WINDSOR SALT. 136

Uncle Sam's interstate commerce commission appears to be determined to make a record as a thorough going business concern. It is making radical and far reaching recommendations for the control of railway traffic. If this sort of thing keeps on for a few years, and if the regulations recommended by the commission, are enacted and enforced, we shall have the railways coming forward as the strongest advocates of government ownership, and begging the government to take the lines off their hands and run them. One of the latest proposals is that railways engaged in inter-state commerce be forbidden after reasonable time to own or have interest, directly or indirectly, in any operated coal properties except such as are exclusively for their own fuel supply, and that ownership, either directly or indirectly by officers or employes of common carriers of any coal properties or any of the stock of coal companies along the line of road by which they are employed be forbidden.

Buoys at Prince Rupert.

Victoria, Feb. 7.—Gas buoys have been established in Prince Rupert harbor, British Columbia. The buoys are of steel, cylindrical, surmounted by a pyramidal steel frame supporting a lantern. The lights are white, automatically occulted at short intervals. The illuminant is acetlyne, generated automatically. The following are the places where these aids to navigation are: Kestrel rock, Barrett ledge and Bird rock.

STUART, THE PAINTER.

Curious Hits Born of His Faculty For Reading Faces.

"I don't want people to look at my pictures and say how beautiful the drapery is. The face is what I care about," said Stuart, the great American painter. He was once asked what he considered the most characteristic feature of the face. He replied by pressing the end of his pencil against the tip of his nose, distorting it oddly.

His faculty at reading physiognomy sometimes made curious hits. There was a person in Newport celebrated for his powers of calculation, but in other respects almost an idiot. One day Stuart, being in the British museum, came upon a bust whose likeness was apparently unmistakable. Calling the curator, he said, "I see you have a head of 'Calculating Jemmy.'"

"'Calculating Jemmy!'" repeated the curator in amazement. "That is the head of Sir Isaac Newton."

On another occasion, while dining with the Duke of Northumberland, his host privily called his attention to a gentleman and asked the painter if he knew him. Stuart had never seen him before.

"Tell me what sort of a man he is."

"I may speak frankly?"

"By all means."

"Well, if the Almighty ever wrote a legible hand he is the greatest rascal that ever disgraced society."

It appeared that the man was an attorney who had been detected in sundry dishonorable acts.

Stuart's daughter tells a pretty story of her father's garret, where many of his unfinished pictures were stored:

"The garret was my playground, and a beautiful sketch of Mme. Bonaparte was the idol that I worshiped. At last I got possession of colors and an old panel and fell to work copying the picture. Suddenly I heard a frightful roaring sound. The kitchen chimney was on fire. Presently my father appeared, to see if the fire was likely to do any damage. He saw that I looked very foolish at being caught at such presumptuous employment and pretended not to see me. But presently he could not resist looking over my shoulder."

"'Why, boy,' said he—so he used to address me—'you must not mix your colors with turpentine. You must have some oil.'"

It is pleasant to add that the little girl who thus found her inspiration eventually became a portrait painter of merit.

Wonderful Forethought.

The habit of companies which insure against accidents to compel their patrons to resort to the courts to recover in case of injury was the occasion of this singular thoughtfulness, told by the president of a large accident company: "Some time ago," he said, "a large policy holder in my company was run over by a trolley car and his right leg painfully crushed. He remained conscious after the shock for three minutes, during which time he pulled out his watch and called the attention of the crowd to the fact that it was just fifteen minutes of 12. His policy expired at noon, and his foresight was rewarded by the immediate payment of his weekly indemnity without controversy or litigation."

Ancient Coffins.

The coffins of the ancient Egyptians were made of marble and stone. The Romans used similar receptacles for their dead, and Alexander the Great is said to have been buried in a coffin of solid gold. In parts of England glass coffins have been found. The Athenian heroes were buried in coffins made of cedar, owing to its aromatic and incorruptible qualities, while the first record of wooden coffins in England dates back to the days of King Arthur. This monarch was supposed to have been buried in the hollowed trunk of a gigantic oak tree. Patent coffins were invented in 1796, and metallic air tight coffins were advertised at Birmingham in 1861.

Whooping cough is said to be on the increase in the city and surrounding country.

The debate of the Westminster debating club, which was to have taken place today, has been postponed until Feb. 14.

The Chinook, which was recently raised from the bottom of the Fraser, is now tied up at the Begbie street slip, all ready for business.

The Mystery, a freighter owned and operated by McKenzie Bros. of Vancouver, was in port yesterday, returning to the mouth of the river in the afternoon.

There were no passenger trains yesterday, all having been cancelled as a result of the heavy snow falls in the mountains. Two delayed trains arrived during Wednesday night.

The Royal Templars of Temperance at a recent meeting appointed committees which will make the necessary preparations for the visit of Dr. C. B. Emory on the evening of Feb. 27.

The Otter arrived in port yesterday for the first time for many months. The main portion of the cargo brought in was a hundred tons of coal which is being unloaded and placed in the C. P. N. coal bunkers.

The funeral of Duncan Weber, who succumbed to a severe attack of the grippe on Monday morning, took place yesterday afternoon, the cortege leaving Fales' undertaking parlors on Agnes street and proceeding to the Church of England cemetery, where the interment took place.

A start was made yesterday to lay down the cement floor for the engine room of the new Wood Stave Pipe manufactory. The work of installing the necessary machinery is being pushed along as rapidly as possible and the managers expect to have the plant in running order by spring.

Considerable improvements have been made to the V. W. & Y. depot in this city, the little station being fitted out with a new ceiling, the waiting room lined and painted. The broken window panes have also been replaced, and altogether the depot is now much more attractive than was the case a short time ago.

Spokane is becoming very ambitious. That fair city proposes to make herself, not only the metropolis of the inland Empire, but the capital; to make of that vast interior territory a state, and to call it Lincoln. The plan is considered so feasible that it gets first page display and exhaustive treatment in the Spokane papers.

Representatives of the Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary are making a house to house canvass for supplies of edibles for the Valentine fete which is to be held in St. Ptraick's hall on Feb. 11 and 12. The canvassers are being well received and a choice list of dainties, such as will delight those of the most decidedly epicurean tastes, is being rolled up.

Owing to the complete tie-up of all G. N. R. lines west of Seattle, the local offices are only issuing tickets as far as Seattle and Skyhomish. According to the local officials, the present conditions restricting travel will continue until they receive word that the lines are clear, and that railway traffic is no longer impossible. A large number of city people have been compelled to postpone trips east as a result of this arrangement.

Archibald Gray, who was recently appointed assistant general passenger agent of the G. N. R., with headquarters at Seattle, paid an official visit to New Westminster yesterday in company with K. J. Burns, general agent of the company at Vancouver. This was Mr. Gray's first visit to this city, and he expressed himself as being delighted with the town. Mr. Gray was formerly stationed at Sioux City, Iowa, being transferred to the western division of the G. N. R. towards the end of last year.

The Beaver made an attempt to get through to Langley yesterday, but was compelled to give it up and return to port after reaching a point about eight miles up the river. The ice was very green and thick especially in the narrower portions of the channel. The Captain went at the proposition in a very cautious manner and his first consideration was that nothing should be broken. The vessel took on a considerable cargo of freight yesterday and will make another attempt to get as far up as Langley today.

TUG STRANGER SINKS BUT CREW ESCAPES

While Towing Dredge Equipment to Victoria, Vessel Is Rammed by Ice Floe.

The steam tug Stranger, owned and operated by Capt, Robert Fenton, was rammed by a block of ice Wednesday evening and sank in a few minutes. The accident took place not far from the Currie McWilliams cannery on Westham island, and the captain and crew had to take their chances and jump on the block of ice which caused the damage in order to save their lives. The tug which is under charter to attend the King Edward, was on its way to Victoria with a scow in tow which bore some of the paraphanalia needed by the dredge in its operations and the crew found a refuge upon it until the Restless, which was coming up behind could come up and take them off.

The vessel sank a very few minutes after it was struck and the water was almost running over the deck when the captain stepped off onto the ice. The place where the tug sank is one of the deepest in the river, and there is said to be about eighty feet of water there. Engineer Mann and Norman McLeod were on the tug when the accident took place and the dauntless three feel as though they don't care to run any closer chances of losing their lives during the rest of their days. The tow line which was connected with the scow, broke off close by the latter and will be of great assistance when it comes to locating and raising the Stranger once more to the surface.

Methodist Reunion.

About two hundred adherents of the Queen's avenue Methodist church sat down to the supper which was provided in the lecture room of the church last night and enjoyed a social time of re-union. Supper was served from 6 to 8 o'clock. In the absence of the pastor, Rev. W. H. Barraclough, who is confined to his room through ill health, the chair was occupied by Rev. Dr. Sipprell. Reports of a most encouraging character were received from the workers in the various sections of the church's enterprises and growth and outreach was apparent on every hand. During the evening, music of a special character was rendered by the choir, which added much to the enjoyment of the occasion.

Trouble for Housekeepers.

Seattle, Feb. 7.—"On and after this date, members of the Servant Girls' Amalgated Union, No. 23, will refuse to work more than eight hours a day, in accordance with the enactment of the Legislature of 1907, regulating the hours of female labor. Employers will take notice that the members of the union will prepare only two meals a day, hereafter at the same rate of wages, and they may have the option which two they prefer, breakfast and lunch and dinner."

A notice substantially like the foregoing will be served on every woman in Seattle employing a cook or domestic, as soon as the eight-hour bill, now pending before the legislature, becomes law. All the women's clubs in Seattle are discussing the grave topic.

CONDENSED STORIES.

Easy For the Lawyer, but His Clients Had to Hustle.

No law firm in Somerset county, Me., was better known than the firm of Walton & Walton, S. J. Walton being the senior member of the firm and his nephew Lyman the junior. So well known were the men personally that they were always spoken of as "S. J." and "Lyman," says the Boston Herald.

A number of years ago the citizens of the town of Solon, in the northern part of Somerset county, bent their energies upon getting up the biggest Fourth of July celebration ever known in the county. Among the numbers on the programme was an oration by the Hon. S. J. Walton of Skowhegan, ex-senator of the county.

A large platform was built under some large trees, and it was there that the senator poured out his eloquence and told over the well known features of the Revolution and how many times his great-grandfather died for his country.

"POOTY SPOKEN MAN, HAIN'T HE?"

A visitor, approaching the platform, observed an old farmer gazing at the speaker with open mouthed wonder. As the visitor drew near the farmer the latter remarked, "Pooty spoken man, hain't he?" "Yes," answered the visitor, "S. J. is an easy speaker, and it is very easy for him to earn $10 today."

"Yes, yes," observed the farmer as he stroked the yellow corn tassel on his chin, "very easy for him, but mighty hard for us."

When the Reporter Scored.

Charles M. Jacobs, the chief engineer of the Pennsylvania railroad tunnel under the North river, recently conducted a party of railroad officials and reporters through the tunnel on foot.

At one stage of the programme there was some slight delay, and Mr. Jacobs said, with a laugh, to a reporter:

"We are not very punctual, eh? We are like a little country railroad that I used to ride on. To the president of this road a reporter went hurriedly one evening.

"'I understand,' he said, 'that there has been an accident on your line tonight.'

"'Oh, you do, do you?' said the president, with a sneer.

"'Yes, sir.' And the reporter waited, pencil and paper in hand.

"'What do you know about this accident?' the president, still sneering, asked.

"'Nothing, except that it happened to the 9:15 train,' the reporter meekly answered.

"'Well,' said the president, 'that train came in on time to the minute.'

"'Are you sure of that?' said the reporter.

"'Of course I am, sir.'

"The disappointed reporter pocketed his tools.

"'I suppose,' he said thoughtfully, 'that must have been the accident referred to.'"

Is Severe on Senate.

Bart Kennedy, the noted English novelist, told in New York a story about the senate.

"I heard this story in Washington," said Mr. Kennedy, "and I have every reason to believe it is true.

"A senator hurried into the senate chamber one morning early and said to a page:

"'Young man, did you find a ten dollar bill on my desk last evening? I wrote a letter, intending to inclose the bill, but somehow I failed to do so and left it behind on the blotter.'

"'Yes, senator,' said the page, taking out his wallet, 'I did find that bill, and here it is. And it's a lucky thing for you, sir, that none of the other senators happened in before I saw it.'"—Boston Herald.

To Rebuild Foundry.

Victoria, Feb. 7.—The foundry at the British Columbia Marine railway shipyards at Esquimalt, destroyed during the fire on Saturday night, will be rebuilt at once. Plans have already been drawn for the new structure, which will be much larger than that destroyed. The old building was equipped for a casting of about eight tons, while the new building and plant which are to replace that lost in the fire of Saturday, will have capacity for castings weighing about fifteen tons. Work on the new foundry will be commenced at once. Plant has been ordered to replace the lost appliance, and it is expected the foundry will be running again within three weeks.

Color of the Bride's Gown.

It is interesting to note that the choice of white for wedding dresses is comparatively a modern fashion. The Roman brides wore yellow, and in the most eastern countries pink is the bridal color. During the middle ages the renaissance brides wore crimson, and most of our Plantagenet and Tudor queens were married in this vivid hue, which is still popular in parts of Brittany, where the bride is usually dressed in crimson brocade. It was Mary Stuart who first changed the color of bridal garments. At her marriage with Francis II. of France in 1553—which took place not before the altar, but before the great doors of Notre Dame—she was gowned in white brocade, with a train of pale blue Persian velvet six yards in length. This innovation caused quite a stir in the fashionable world at that time. It was not, however, till quite the end of the seventeenth century that pure white, the color hitherto worn by royal French widows, became popular for bridal garments in England.—Church Eclectic.

Not Too Good For the General.

It is related of General Sterling Price that he once stopped at a humble cabin in Missouri and asked for supper. The good wife of the house was thrown into a flutter of excitement over entertaining her distinguished guest and profuse with apologies for the not very tempting menu, consisting of corn dodgers, boiled collards and wheat coffee sweetened with sorghum. The hungry officer ate heartily of the coarse food, but not relishing the over sweet coffee passed his cup, saying:

"Not quite so much molasses, please."

"The idee!" gasped the loyal hostess. "Catch me skimpin' your sweetenin'!" as she tilted the molasses jug upward while amber ropes of 'sweetenin' overflowed cup and saucer and threatened disaster to the spotless homespun cloth.

"Why (enthusiastically), that coffee would be none too good for General Price if 'twas all molasses!"—Memphis News-Scimiter.

The Scholar.

He isn't what you would call bright,
And yet he isn't slow,
For he can add up one and one
And make it two, you know.
His spelling, too, is rather good,
He'll spell b, e, e, bee,
But "honey" is too much for him;
He's still quite young, you see.
He started with the little ones,
The kindergarten bears,
But then he got so quickly on
They soon moved him upstairs.
And there he sits and learns and growls;
His brows are knit with care,
But I feel sure he will get on,
He's such a plodding bear!

First American Iron.

The first iron to be found in America was discovered in North Carolina in the year 1585. The first attempt at its manufacture was in Virginia in 1619.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Matter intended for this column should be addressed, "Social Editor, Daily News, P. O. Box 402, New Westminster."

J. Magden, who has been a resident of this city for a considerable length of time, left yesterday on a visit to his home at Liverpool, England.

P. James, a well known resident of Tacoma, has purchased a ranch on the Poart Moody road. He will put a man on the ranch to run and improve it.

Miss Cotton left yesterday for Greenwood, where she will visit Mrs. N. F. Kendall.

The engagement is announced of Miss Elsie McGowan to W. G. McQuarrie, of the firm of Martin, Weart & McQuarrie, barristers.

Miss Violet Ladner is spending the weekend with Mrs. T. J. Armstrong.

Miss McGowan gave a Valentine card party yesterday afternoon. The game played was Hearts, and each guest contributed two valentines for the Hospital Fete. The first prize was won by Miss Lewis and the booby by Miss Freese while Miss Weeks was awarded the "Black Maria" prize. Among those present were Mrs. Lyle, Mrs. Ahearn, Mrs. Lyle (Vancouver), Miss Pittendrigh, Miss Fletcher, Miss Cassidy (Vancouver), Miss Gifford, Miss Briggs, Miss Leamy, Miss McBride, Miss Peele, Miss Johnston, Miss Harvey, Miss Alma Corbould, Miss Grace Corbould, Miss Vera Corbould and Miss Hannington.

A most enjoyable time was spent at the Windsor hotel last evening, when Mr. Campf gave a social party to a few of his friends. Music was supplied by Dyke, Evans & Callaghan's high class gramophones, presided over by E. K. Mills. The guests were greatly pleased with the choice selections rendered.

Th ladies of the Hospital Auxiliary are working hard for the fete which is to be held in St. Patrisk's hall next Monday and Tuesday, and which is sure to be a brililant success.

Thomas Goldie is now lying in a critical condition at the Royal Columbian hospital. Dr. Hall, who is attending the patient, called Dr. Ernest Hall, of Vancouver, into a consultation yesterday afternoon. They consider the case to be very serious.

H. L. Edmonds, who has been under treatment in the St. Mary's hospital for some time, is now reported to be well on the road to recovery.

Real Estate Prices.

To the Editor of the Daily News:

Sir,—Through the columns of your paper I beg to draw attention to a peculiar state of affairs at present existing in this city, viz: A stranger arrives in New Westminster, wishes to buy a piece of property, spends a week or thereabouts looking for a desirable place, interviews agents, gets prices,etc., etc., then finally decides on the place he wishes to purchase and offers the price asked; then he is coolly informed that the property is either withdrawn from the market or the price materially increased, and as he has set his mind on that particular piece, he goes away disgusted. A dissatisfied customer seldom returns, and property owners should bear this in mind. M. A. Z.

THE POINT

WE wish to emphasize is this—Money can seldom be put to work in such GOOD REAL ESTATE as that which we are at present offering.

Viscount Goschen Dead.

London, Feb. 7.—The Right Honorable George Joachim Goschen (Viscount Goschen), died suddenly this morning at his residence, Seacox Heath, Hawkhurst, of heart failure. His death was quite unexpected.

Viscount Goschen, who was born in 1831, had a distinguished public career. His achievements in the department of finance, in Lord Salisbury's second administration, was acknowledged by friend and foe alike to be exceedingly creditable, though he was necessarily overshadowed in his position of Chancellor of the Exchequer, by the briliant achievements of Gladstone in the same sphere. Later, he was appointed First Lord of the Admiralty, in which capacity he served his country for five years.

Moving Pictures Tonight.

An attempt was made to exhibit these pictures in Paris and Berlin, but after the first night, the Secret Service department of the Czar had the entertainment cancelled.

The performance in New York was therefore the first and since then all the way across the continent audiences appeared to be geartly interested and New Westminster is assured of a good, attraction tonight, and a good house should be a certainty.
