SMOKER AT ARMOURIES WAS GREAT SUCCESS

Big Crowd Witnesses Basketball Game, Wrestling Match, Etc.

A couple of hundred young men were entertained at the Armouries last evening, when the officers of A and B companies gave their "Smoker," which proved to be an unqualified success. The events were all interesting, and everything was conducted in pleasing fashion. The program included a basketball match, a relay foot race, wrestling bout and many other features, all of which were roundly applauded. Frank Major's orchestra rendered several selections, while Arthur Smith presided at the piano a number of times.

The basketball match was played between the senior and intermediate militia teams, and victory went to the intermediates by a score of 20 goals to 16. The players were: Intermediates, Goal, G. Spring and R. Sangster; centre, W. Sangster; forwards, A. Gilley and O. Swanson. Senior, Goal, G. Odin and C. Spring; centre, F. Lund; forwards, A. Robertson and D. Morrison. The game was fast and furious and was keenly watched.

The wrestling match was between Andy McDonald and Pte. Archibald, and resulted in two straight falls for McDonald. Archibald had not done any wrestling for two years, and was therefore in poor condition.

Other features of the program were a vocal solo, Col Sergt. Lusby; and a relay race, four times around the room, between a Columbian college team and a militia team, which was won by the college team by half a length. The college team was made up of Dan McCurdy, Elmer Meredith, Charley Watson and E. W. White, and the militia team B. Gilley, R. Sangster, Alex. Robertson and Cliff Spring. The members of the militia team had just finished playing in the basketball match, and were therefore pretty well winded before starting. Had they started fresh they probably would have given the college boys a close race.

A violin solo by R. Lester Palmer, to Arthur Smith's accompaniment, was a thoroughly appreciated part of the program. Mr. Palmer was encored vigorously.

Five young men figured in a potato race, which consisted in picking a dozen or more potatoes from the floor by each player and carrying them individually to a basket. The race was won by Pte. Mouck. The other competitors were W. Sloan, R. Porter, H. Archibald and W. Burr.

A boxing match between two blindfolded contestants furnished much amusement for the spectators. They were Pte. Wiggins and Pte. Mouck. Col-Sergt. Kelly refereed the bout, which went three rounds and resulted in a draw.

An awkward drill, conducted by Instructor Cornish, completed the evening's entertainment.

WARDEN SWORN IN YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

J. C. Brown Assumes Duties at Penitentiary this Morning---Inspector Pleased.

In the presence of the entire B. C. penitentiary staff, J. C. Brown was yesterday afternoon formally sworn in as warden of that institution, the ceremony of administering the oath of office being carried out by Acting Warden Inspector Dawson, who has been in charge of the pen. since Sept. 2, and who will leave New Westminster on his return journey to the east on Dec. 9. On his way to Ottawa, Mr. Dawson will visit the Alberta penitentiary at Edmonton, and will also spend a few days at Stoney Mountain, Manitoba.

Mr. Brown assumes charge of the penitentiary this morning, and will shortly take up his residence in the warden's quarters. His appointment to the wardenship is favorably regarded by a large majority of the people of this city, and that he will discharge his duties in a conscientious and capable manner is an assured fact. Speaking of the new warden yesterday evening, Inspector Dawson stated that he was of the opinion that a better man than Mr. Brown could not have been found for the position. While he had only known the new postulant for a short time, he had been greatly impressed with his remarkable aptitude, general ability and sound common sense.

TREATY WITH FRANCE BEFORE PARLIAMENT

Negotiations will Not Conflict with Preferential Tariffs with England.

Ottawa, Nov. 20.—The Franco-American trade treaty, with Fielding and Brodeur negotiated in Paris a few months ago, was presented to parliament yesterday. The treaty comprises three schedules.

(A) Giving the minimum tariff rates applicable to Canadian goods entering France.

(B) Showing the intermediate tariff rate payable in Canada on French imports.

(C) Special tariff given to specified French products.

The new rates proposed to be given to France will extend also to all countries to which it will apply are Austra-Hungary, Norway, Sweden, Russia, Denmark and possibly Spain.

In negotiating the treaty care was taken to conserve the interests of Canada's growing trade with Britain. In no instance will there be any discrimination against England. In some cases where Canada's intermediate tariffs have been granted France, Great Britain will get the same advantage. In two or three instances, such as in wines and medical liquids, lower duties have been given France than those in force with Britain under the preference. This will be changed by legislation this session, when the same rate will apply to Britain.

In cases where there is no preference given to Britain over France, it is on a few lines of French specialties in which Britain is not interested. In light wines, where the tariff is reduced to fifteen per cent, twenty per cent and the highest twenty-five per cent. The general tariff is fifty per cent. The lower duties will apply to Britain as well as France. Medicinal liquids are treated in the same way, the existing tariff will be altered to give the same duties to Britain. With the exception of about a dozen special lines where special rates are given French goods entering Canada, they will get the advantage of the intermediate tariff rates now existing. A special list where lower rates are granted are: French wines, books and periodicals, olive oil, medicinal preparations, embroideries, pure silk, velvets, silk fabrics and ribbons. These articles get rates lower than the intermediate list. The minimum duties given by France to Canada will apply to about two hundred million dollars' worth of exports.

ASIATICS ARE EMPLOYED, WHITES WALK STREETS

Exclusion League Brings Out Telling Facts in Connection with Their Attempt to Keep Canada a White Man's Country---Agitate, Educate and Legislate.

The second public meeting of the New Westminster Asiatic Exclusion league held last evening clearly proved that the interest in the exclusion subject is far from diminishing, the attendance and the interest displayed in the subjects debated clearly proving that one and all present were heart and soul with the movement for the exclusion of the yellow men from the province of British Columbia.

The routine work transacted included the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting, the reading of a communication from the city clerk with respect to the enforcement of the health by-laws, and the election of members to two committees, one of which is to look after the organizing work of the league, and which is composed of Peter Peebles, Ald. A. Garrett and H. Stead. The other committee was apopinted for the purpose of bringing the question of exclusion before the public meeting to be held previous to the civic elections, when aldermanic candidates are to be asked to place themselves on record as being opposed to Japanese toleration in this province.

This committee will be composed of W. Dodd, V. Johndro and A. G. Cook. J. J. Randolph and S. Craig, who were both proposed as candidates, retired, giving as their reason the fact that they were not voters.

A paid organizer of the league is to be placed in the field at an early date. The constitution of the league was adopted without discussion. The main features of this have already been published.

The principal speaker of the evening was Gordon M. Grant, of Vancouver, who occupied the platform for over an hour, and delivered a most interesting speech on the subject of Asiatic exclusion. He declared that this was the first attempt of the yellow races to dominate the world, and in a lucid manner he pointed out the results that would curse Canada if it were not checked immediately.

The Vancouevr league now numbered over 300 members, while Victoria also has had a strong non-political league which was doing good work in the keep-Canada-white cause. A great nation could not be built with Asiatics, and unless the Anglo-Saxon race was prepared to do the hard work that fell to their task, its day of glory would soon be on the wane, and other races would supersede it in the first place among the nations of the world.

At the present time there were 2,500 men seeking work in the city of Vancouver, while more than this number of Japanese were being given employment in mills and other industries. The Asiatic Exclusion leagues were certainly going to hurt politicians because these had left themselves open to the missiles of the league by their actions in the past. The members of the Exclusion leagues were prepared to sacrifice their party before their country.

Commenting on the policy followed by Joseph Martin with respect to the attempted monopolization of Manitoba railways by the C. P. R., Mr. Grant stated that this was a good example for Premier McBride to follow. He should re-enact te Natal act, or its equivalent, until he practically forced its acceptance upon Ottawa.

After commenting at length upon the attitude of the C. P. R. and the Japanese, the speaker concluded with the remark that it was the policy of the league to agitate, then educate, then legislate. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered him by the meeting.

Sam Craig, one of the members of the executive, spoke upon the mode of living adopted by the Hindus in this province. He quoted instances where four Hindus have lived at a cost of $25 a month.

Ald. Garrett was called upon for a speech and detailed his recent visits to the Hindu quarters in the west end of the city. In answer to a question from the floor of the house, he declared that the city by-laws were not stringent enough to cope with the situation.

Ald. Shiles, Marshall Sinclair, Peter Peebles and other public men also addressed the meeting, every one of them declaring that the league had their entire sympathy and support.

Towards the close of the meeting Mr. Phipps, severely scored the city council for permitting industries which obtained rebates from the city to employ Asiatic labor. He also referred to star chamber committee meetings, and made some grave allegations against certain members of the council, without, however, naming any one. Ald. Shiles replied to Mr. Phipps, declaring that committee meetings of the council were not closed, and that reporters were allowed to attend all meetings. Mr. Shiles was corrected on this point by one of the press representatives, who pointed out that many closed doors meetings had been held during the year. Chairman Thomas Turnbull ruled the discussion out of order, and the meeting adjourned.

There are indications that a third freight and passenger boat will be running on the Fraser betwen this city and Chilliwack at an early date. A local syndicate of business men have been investigating the Fraser river traffic, and have arrived at the conclusion that there is enough business for three boats. The two boats now operated, the Beaver, by the C. P. R., and the Ramona, by a firm of Royal City men, have during the last few months been taxed to their limit to keep even with the freight offering, and the promoters of the new venture are confident they would find ample business until the Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric is completed.

GIRLS COMING TO REPLACE CHINKS

Salvation Army Bringing Many British Maidens for Housework in Province.

Victoria, Nov. 29.—Brigadier Howell in charge of the immigration department of the Salvation Army for Canada, with headquarters in Toronto, and Adjutant Wakefield, in charge of the immigration work in British Columbia, has waited on Capt. Hon. R. G. Tatlow, finance minister, and minister of agriculture for the province, and discussed the army's plans for immigration during the approaching season.

The army has chartered the Dominion line steamer Kensington, which will sail from Liverpool February 20. On that vessel there will be 250 domestics, 50 families, and 150 young men bound for British Columbia to engage in domestic and farm labor.

Situations will have been secured for all these in advance through the efforts of the local army immigration department. They will be met on their arrival at Halifax, and furnished with transportation right through to their destinations so that there is absolutely no possibility of any congestion arising through their coming in any of the centres of the province. They will come by special train.

The 250 domestics are at present being carefully selected in Great Britain by a staff of 20 Canadian officials of the Salvation Army who will exercise the greatest care in this task. Two of these officials are from British Columbia and understand the situation here perfectly.

CATHOLIC SOCIETY WILL ORGANIZE SUNDAY

Knights of Columbus Start Off Strong in This City---Parade Tomorrow.

A local branch of the Knights of Columbus is to be formally organized in this city on Sunday, when about three hundred members of the order will arrive here in order to attend the inauguration ceremonies. Representatives will be in attendance from Victoria, Vancouver, Bellingham, Seattle, Everett, Tacoma, as well as from a number of eastern cities. About one hundred and fifty members will arrive from Vancouver in special cars early in the morning, reaching here in time to assemble in the Oddfellows' hall at half-past nine o'clock.

The ceremonies in connection with the organization of the new lodge will commence with a parade to St. Peter's cathedral, in which every one of the visitors will take part. His Lordship Bishop Dontenwill is to address the visitors.

The initation ceremonies will take place in St. Patrick's hall during the afternoon, when the following officers of the order will administer the rites: J. H. Cane, Grand Knight, of Bellingham; J. G. Byrne, G. K., Vancouver; F. J. Sehl, Victoria; T. J. Gorman, G. K., Seattle; and several others. About forty members will be initiated during the afternoon. After the ceremonies, which will be of a secret nature, are completed, lunch will be served in the hall.

FOUGHT FURIOUS FIRE WITH FLAKEY SNOWBALL

Easton, Wash., Nov. 29.—As the result of a fire which destroyed six saloons and damaged several houses in the restricted district yesterday, the reform element is shouting its thanks as a victory for prohibition. The total loss is estimated at $25,000, and had it not been for a timely snowstorm the entire town would undoubtedly have been burned.

The fire started from a defective flue and spread rapidly owing to the scarcity of water, until the snow commenced to fall in large flakes, which the citizens quickly gathered into balls, with which they fought the flames for more than an hour.

SCOTCH CONCERT WAS WELL UP TO STANDARD

Attractions Provided by S. O. S. for St. Andrew's Day Were Meritorious.

A very excellent concert was given last evening in the Knights of Pythias hall under the auspices of the Lord of the Isles camp, Sons of Scotland, in celebration of St. Andrew's Day. Attracted thither by the wide reputation of the camp to get up a good concert, an overflow attendance listened to the various numbers with keen enjoyment and did ample justice to the refreshments later in the evening. Fully 250 members of the camp, their wives, children, and friends, attended. After the conclusion of the concert and the serving of refreshments, the outer hall was cleared and the young people and some not quite so young, enjoyed a dance with real Highland relish. The party broke up shortly after midnight.

One of the main features of the evening was the presentation to Rev. A. E. Vert of a silver medal, in recognition of his untiring efforts for the good of the order. The address to Mr. Vert was read by W. G. McQuarrie, and the presentation was made by Chief Barclay, of Camp 191. On the back of the medal is inscribed: "Presented by Lord of the Isles camp, 191, S. O. S., New Westminster, B. C., to Rev. Bro. A. E. Vert, first district deputy grand chief for British Columbia, 1907." The medal is of silver and inlaid with Scotch pebbles. In reply to Mr. McQuarrie and in acknowledging the gift, Mr. Vert outlined the work of the organization in this province.

Following was the program: Introductory remarks by chairman, W. G. McQuarrie; song, James Aitcheson; song, A. Innis; song, Miss Muirhead; song, J. W. Creighton; reading, J. G. Forrester; violin selection, Mr. Campbell; song, Mrs. A. W. Gray; Highland dancing, the Masters Adams; song, Mayor Keary; recitation, Dr. Hoggan; song, Mr. Ross; song, Miss Laird; mouth-organ selection, Scotch medley, Master Francis Vert; recitation, Mr. Emery; song, W. Morris; violin selection, Mr. Parnell; song, David Boyle. The accompanists were Miss Vass and Miss Laidlaw.

Asiatics in Public Schools

The racial question in one of its most acute forms is about to become a live issue with the Board of School Trustees of New Westminster.

Peter Peebles, one of the School Trustees for 1907, and a candidate for election in 1908, informed the News yesterday that he intended to introduce the exclusion topic at a meeting in the near future. He is alive to the fact that Chinese and Japanese children, AND CHINESE ADULTS, are attending the public schools of this city, and that the conditions under which they live are such that these students are a menace to the public health. Investigations recently started have brought most startling disclosures to light concerning the mode of living of these Asiatics, and the facts obtained are sufficient to bar from the public schools a number of the yellow students now attending daily, on the ground that their utter disregard for all hygenic and sanitary rules is apt to bring about a public danger.

As far as can be learned, there are no Chinese in this city evading the $500 head tax by attending school for one year, although such cases are numerous in Victoria and Vancouver. The number of Asiatics attending school in New Westminster is far in excess of what most people suppose, and is increasing at an alarming rate.

In response to a direct question, Mr. Peebles informed a News man that he was in favor of OPEN MEETINGS OF THE NEW WESTMINSTER BOARD OF SCHOOL TRUSTEES, and that he would look with favor upon the admission of reporters to School Board meetings in future.

RIFLE SHOOTING.

Develops the Arms, Lungs and Chest and Trains the Eye.

It is not only the muscles of the arm which are tested by properly organized rifle shooting. It supplies an excellent exercise for the chest and lungs. One of the first things the young rifle shot has to learn is how to take a deep breath, to fill the lungs with air, and then to hold the breath while the rifle is kept absolutely steady and the finger is gradually tightening on the trigger. A glance at any successful rifle shot will show you a man with a deep chest and full powers of breathing.

Any form of recreation which trains the muscles of the arm and exercises the chest and lungs would seem likely to be beneficial to health, but if that is not enough there is the unequaled training which rifle shooting gives to the eye and to the hand working with the eye. The writer remembers hearing a musketry instructor boast that he had lengthened not only his own sight, but the sight of scores of boys whom he had taught how to use their eyes in aiming at a target, by two or three hundred yards, simply by continued practice at long distance shooting. It is astonishing what results can be obtained in this way by placing a rifle on a sand bag raised on a tripod and making the pupil aim as accurately as he can at any distant object. The eye can be trained, of course, equally well, though the sight will not necessarily be lengthened, by aiming at objects close at hand.—London Spectator.

Tyranny of Clothes.

Place a man in a silk hat and frock coat and transport him to a farmyard. Agricultural pursuits may be the one passion of his life, but clad in these garments he feels in such surroundings miserable, out of place, essentially urban. Clothe him, conversely, in flannels or knickers and place him in a church, and it is utterly impossible for him to assume a fittingly devotional frame of mind. Unlimited autocracy itself cannot impose such tyrannies on the subject. Civilization is the slave of its clothes, and there is no prospect of freedom. — London Graphic.

The Juice of the Grape.

The Arabs say that when the first grapevine was planted the demon Iblis sacrificed a peacock on the spot where the plant was set. As soon as it began to sprout forth he sacrificed an ape over it. When the grapes began to appear he slaughtered a lion, and when these were ripe he offered up a pig; hence it is that he who drinks wine feels at first as proud as a peacock and becomes subsequently as tricksome as an ape, as bold as a lion and at length as stupid as a swine.

PEACH GROVE

Is situated one and one half miles from Westminster Junction, eight miles from New Westminster by a good wagon road and six miles to New Westminster by water. PEACH GROVE overlooks the beautiful Fraser River and lies on a gentle southern slope. Three steamboats call daily, four trains daily to New Westminster, four trains daily to Vancouver and two trains daily to the east.

The soil is rich chocolate loam, five feet deep and particularly adapted to fruit and vegetables. It needs no draining, it needs no irrigation. Good water can be obtained within a few feet of the surface from pure flowing springs.

Both soil and climate are admirably suited to fruit raising and in fact all the hardier varieties of decidous fruit trees appear to have found in PEACH GROVE ideal conditions for their growth.

PEACH GROVE, settled for more than ten years, has always been highly prosperous and one sees fine orchards and numerous comfortable homes on every side. A poor family is unknown throughout Peach Grove.

The man who is on a salary, or the one conducting a small business producing but a limited income, can here find a golden opportunity to strike out for himself in an independent undertaking which can not fail to net large returns. The man who has farmed 160 acres has here a certainty of earning from the cultivation of only five to ten acres of land a larger net sum than his entire 160 acres would ever earn.

It is difficult, for those not informed, to understand why lands in some of the Pacific Coast valleys are so much more valuable than, for example, Manitoba, Alberta or Middle States farm lands. The reason is, that the valley lands grow a much higher priced product than wheat, oats or corn. The yield from an acre of high grade western fruit land will bring in money from ten to twenty times more than an acre of grain. This is the secret of the higher values. Apples grown in the Peach Grove district are never sold in barrels, but are packed in boxes and sold as fancy fruit. The area of lands capable of producing fruit of the quality grown in Peach Grove district is limited, hence the high price that such lands command.

PEACH GROVE lands are practically the last of the distinctly high class fruit lands at a price which will permit a man of moderate circumstances to secure a fruit farm, as the most valuable lands for fruit culture are fast disappearing from the market. Fruit lands are readily selling at $300 and upward per acre for undeveloped lands, and, as Eastern orchards are rapidly deteroiating, owing principally to intemperate seasons, $500 to $1000 and upwards per acre are prices at which well developed orchards find ready sale to-day. Crop records of the Peach Grove district show as high a yield net per acre as any land in the Dominion of Canada.

Our lands are offered for the present at $100 per acre; one quarter cash, the balance in equal quarterly payments covering a period of three years.

Ten acres of this ground, properly cultivated, will more than amply provide for the every day needs of a family from the very start, and, as the fruit trees come into bearing, large profits are assured. We guarantee to refund within ninety days of the purchase the entire amount paid for the land if, after investigation, it does not entirely please the buyer.

We want you to see this property and we invite you to call at our office at any time and we will be pleased to go with you. We will not insist upon you buying but will ask you to use your best judgement. You must not delay as the property is now selling rapidly. Further particulars on application at our office.

WHY NOT?

When people ask, as they do, why the government of the province persists in charging road tolls on the bridge across the Fraser at this city the answer is—as the speaker may incline to the poetical or the colloquial style — "Echo answers why," or "Search me."

When the bridge was erected, no one grumbled at the charging of tolls on the road traffic. That traffic was relieved of the heavier tolls which had been charged on the city's ferry, and it was also freed from the necessity of observing hours and submitting to delays; and all recognized the fact that the bridge, built by the province as a provincial public work, and costing a round million, was something of an experiment and had the risks which an experiment implies. The good times which began in Canada when the Liberal government came into power had not at that time so greatly and briskly advanced our prosperity as they since have; and therefore it was felt that a source of revenue like these road tolls should not be at once surrendered. But a lot of water has run under the bridge since that time, and from the East has come, even as the water—from the same point of the compass and with the same steady flow—a stream of prosperity which has changed the conditions in many things and, amongst others, has not only fully justified Mr. Dunsmuir's courageous policy in building the bridge, but has lifted the undertaking out of the class of experiments and by that has left the government altogether without an excuse for the continued imposition of these vexatious tolls.

No doubt we shall hear the old parrot cry about the "failure" of Ottawa to grant a subsidy advanced in defence of the Victoria government; but in the first place it is a mere parrot cry—some arrangement may be made in the future under which a Dominion subsidy can be paid to provincial governments which construct large works of this class under a public ownership plan—but no such arrangement now exists and in its absence the payment of this subsidy would create a precedent which would be most dangerous; and in the second place, it is absurd to talk as if the Victoria government which brags of its overflowing treasury and its swelling surplus, could not afford to remit these tolls unless it received the subsidy. The argument in defence is, as we have said, a mere parrot cry; but if, for the sake of argument, we give it some consideration, what follows? By what principle of justice can the users of the bridge be penalized for the sins of Ottawa? By what kind of muddle-headed logic can the government at Victoria sustain the position—Ottawa owes us a subsidy in aid of the work and refuses to pay, therefore we will impose a fine on Smith, Jones, Brown, and Robinson?

The fact is that the Victoria government, bowing hat in hand, before corporations and wealthy speculators, has no sympathy with the sobergoing, honest, everyday industries of the country, and is therefore fertile in excuses when asked to do anything for them; except perhaps it be something more or less spectacular, out of which a vote catching scheme can be manufactured.

EARNED THEIR LOVE.

The recent alarming illness of Sir Henry Campbell - Bannerman has brought out a number of personal tributes. Here is one of them:

"Few public men have ever earned a place so near to the hearts of their political supporters as Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman. The Liberals worshipped Gladstone; they admire Rosebery; but they love 'C. B.' He is one of their very selves. He is not brilliant, but he is sincere. He does not lead by virtue of any commanding and indisputable ability; but it is as if one of the men from the fighting ranks had stepped to the front to guide the column forward. In his absolute honesty of purpose, there is entire confidence. He may go wrong, but he will never consciously do wrong. Even Lord Rosebery the other day, who differes strikingly from him in policy, paid a willing tribute to him personally."

It's a grand thing that the Conservative nominee of New Westminster at present controls the columns that are not taken up by "quack" advertisements in the Columbian, as it is a certainty that no person, even were he an inmate of Dr. Doherty's hotel, could possibly lend himself to write up the "heroic postures" of the Conservative nominee as he is able to do himself, and the fun of it is that J. D. honestly and truthfully believes he is a great man.

"J. D. Taylor, the present Conservative candidate, at the request of the chairman, spoke a few words to the young people assembled, and his strong and intelligent manner of handling the present political situation * * * * " Fie! fie! for shame, to use your own paper in an attempt to bluff an intelligent public in such slobbering self-praise.

Poor James Davis! we certainly sympathize with you. It is hard lines to have to write laudatory articles about yourself, because no one else can conscientiously do so.

It won't wash; what won't wash? James Davis' piffle about himself being 'strong and intelligent.' What, ho!

The Conservative slogan, motto and war cry—"James Davis, strong and intelligent"—vide the Columbian.

A debate between the members of the Columbian college literary society took place yesterday afternoon, when the following subject was up for discussion: "Resolved, that a professional career offers more advantages to a young man than a business career." "GET OUT OF THE HOUSE"

That's what we are saying to all our Men's, Women's, Boys' Misses' and Children's Shoes

Furthermore, we're going to make it our business to see that they GO.

It is simply our time for unloading a great big bunch of Shoes with which we find we are overstocked and which we are determined the public shall have at prices lower than any other Shoe firm in the country would ever think of selling them for.

To-day --- Saturday

We intend to do a record day's business

We have stacked our windows full of shoes. Every shoe bears a big square ticket with the ordinary, everyday price showing. On the same ticket will be found the Sale Price so that you can readily figure out just what you are saving on your shoe bill.

Our windows are surrounded all day long, and well on into the night, with all kinds of people sizing up and taking advantage of the greatest money saving shoe prices they ever saw or expect to see. When we started this sale we intended it to be a record breaker and certainly thus far our expectations are being most fully realized. Shoes are leaving the Store at a tremendous rate, but that dosen't bother us, we have thousands of pairs left and every pair a bargain for somebody. But, the prices we are offering now will not last forever. "A word to the wise," etc.

Just a Moment---We would ask you to shop early.

To our Lady Customers--Shop in the afternoon--if you can--for you will receive better and more careful attention then than in the rush and hustle of Saturday evening. We like to reserve the greater portion of Saturday evening to our out-of-town customers who have not the chance to shop during the week. So we say---

WHISKERS.

Once upon a time the clean shaven man used to be told that he looked like a groom. To tell him so at the present day would be, by implication, to insult Mr. Chamberlain, Winston Churchill and the bishop of London. Very similar, though in the opposite direction, has been the evolution of public opinion with regard to whiskers. At the time of the Crimean war they were the badge of the military caste and were the center of sentiment accordingly. One remembers a song, once popular, of which the refrain was, "The captain with his whiskers cast a sly glance at me." To quote it is like calling up the ghost of a forgotten past. It reminds us no less of the modesty of the early Victorian maiden than of the lady killing propensities of the early Victorian warrior. Whiskers were one of the lady killer's weapons in those days, and it would seem from the sighs of our contemporary that when the hirsute circle is completed they may be made to serve that purpose yet again.—London Graphic.

MARKET REPORT

Farmers are rushing produce to market at a rate which seems likely to meet the strong demand which has not been fully satisfied for many months. Yesterday a quantity of beef was thrown on the weekly market which had a weakening effect on the quotations and caused much stock to be left over. The great portion of the beef was sold at 8 cents for hindquarters and from 5 to 6 for frontquarters. Other meats were a good supply, and quotations were about normal. Lamb brought 14 cents a pound, and mutton about 13. The demand for both was strong and all the stock was cleared out. Veal sold readily at 11 cents for medium carcasses, and larger stock realized from 8 to 9 cents. Pork strengthened a half cent per pound over last week's quotations, bringing 9½ under a strong demand.

The chicken market was very active and quotations were slightly weaker than those of last week.

Good fowls brought from $6.50 to $8 a dozen, while a smaller variety were disposed of at from $4.50 to $6.50 a dozen. Chickens were a good supply, and the demand was keen. Ducks sold at from $7 to $8 a dozen.

The demand for eggs was very keen and prices were boosted another five cents. Quite a few of the regular market sellers received as high as 70 cents a dozen for their eggs, while others sold out at 65 cents a dozen. The jobbers gathered in a few cases at 60 cents wholesale. Butter still sold at 35 and 40 cents under a normal demand.

Fruits, especially apples and pears, were in fair demand, especially for good stock. Apples were offered in large quantities and sold at from $1.00 to $1.25 a box. There was a very small supply of pears, and these sold at from 65 to 70 cents a box.

Potatoes sold at $18 a dozen. The supply far exceeded the demand. Onions dropped 25 cents a sack from last week's quotations, selling at $2.50 a sack.

Among the specials were a few boxes of second-growth raspberries, placed on sale by Mrs. Keegan, of Woodward's. They were considered a rare treat for this time of the year. Mrs. Keegan also offered for sale a quantity of honey at 25 cents a pint. Mrs. A. Jenkins, of Cloverdale, sold dressed chickens at 60 cents each. The demand was strong. The weekly auction conducted on the square was largely patronized.

The children's concert given last evening b ythe primary department of the Queen's Avenue Sunday school, under the direction of Mesdames Canfield and Nicholson, was well attended, the large school room being filled with the parents and friends of the children. The little folks uniformly acquitted themselves well, rendering choruses, part songs, duets, and solos, piano and violin selections, recitations and dialogues in a form that would have done credit to adult performers. The enlarged school room makes possible the seating of about 400 people besides those seated on the platform. The proceeds amounted to about $50, which will be used in furnishing the primary school room.

At the Granite lodge No.16, Knights of Pythias, meeting held on Thursday evening, the following were elected to office for the ensuing term: C. C. Bro. George Ettinger; V. C., Bro. L. Grimmer; Pre., Bro. H. Barbaree; M. of W., Bro. W. G. Simms; K. of R., & S., Bro. F. P. Maxwell; M. of E., A. McDonald; M. A., T. Hembrough; I. G., J. Forrester; O. G., C. B. Deans. Ranks were conferred on three candidates during the meeting. The membership of the lodge has been increasing at a gratifying rate during the past term, and it is expected that many new members will be added to the roll early in the new year.
