MALL VESSEL MAKES VENTURESOME TRIP

aling Steamship Travelling From St. John, N. B., to Victoria, B. C., Is Now at San Diego---Started Four Months Ago.

n Diego, Cal. - Feb. 10.—Lying off barge office is a little 111-ton nship which is making one of the venturesome trips of the year. boat is the whaling steamship St. ence; Rowe, master; bound from ohns, Newfoundland, to Victoria, e voyage from the North Atlan- o the North Pacific is one which biggest of windjammers enter upon fully, yet this little craft, scarce- rger than a tugboat, is taking it, has already completed the biggest on of the voyage, and that, too, out mishap of any kind. Even the cruise through the Straits of Magellan was without incident.

The St. Lawrence is the third boat of its class to forsake the whale-depleated waters of the eastern coast for the more prolific waters bordering the western edge of the continent. The craft made the trip to Callao in eighteen days, putting in at San Diego for coal and supplies. It left St Johns October 23, 1906.

London, Feb. 8—Sir William Howland Russell, the war correspondent who described the battle of Bull Run for the London Times, is critically ill.

New Mill at Burnaby

The W. J. Beam Lumber Company, of Vancouver, has bought a site for a large sawmill on the north arm of the Fraser river, in the municipality of Burnaby, just outside the city limits. The company will proceed to build their mill in a few weeks, and expect to have everything in running order in a very short time. This makes the third industrial plant which will be built in this locality this year, the two others being the shingle mills in which H. Schaake has an interest.

JAPANESE COAL COMES TO THE COAST

24,000 Tons of Black Diamonds Are En Route from Island Kingdom to Relieve Fuel Famine---Shipments Will Continue.

San Francisco, Feb. 10.—More than 24,000 tons of Japanese coal for Coast ports is now en route across the Pacific on vessels in the fleet of Frank Waterhouse & Co. Shipments of fuel are intended for San Francisco, Tacoma and Seattle, and a cargo of 4,500 tons on the steamship Glenesk goes to the Treadwell mines, on the southeastern coast of Alaska.

So long as the fuel shortage continues, and there is a demand for imported coal, Waterhouse will bring the fuel in all the vessels he has under charter coming from the Orient. The Quito will have 5,200 tons for Portland, the Boveric will deliver 7,000 tons in San Francisco, the Lyra will have 2,000 tons for Seattle and the Shawmut will take 1,000 tons to Tacoma. Friday Waterhouse secured an additional vessel to bring 5,000 tons to San Francisco.

The steamship Suveric, first in the new fleet to North China ports, sailed for Vancouver from the Sound, Friday, and will there load 2,000 tons of salmon, departing with a total of 12,000 tons on the first voyage. The Gymeric is now in Portland loading, but has been delayed about a month as a result of railroad interruptions. The Lyra and Hyades are both due on the Sound this week.

Chicago's Mayor Must Fight For His Office

Chicago, Ill, Feb. 10.—Former Mayor Carter H. Harrison, who has been spending the winter in Pasadena, is expected home within the next few days. On his arrival the Mayoralty campaign, which is expected to the one of the warmest that Chicago has seen in many years, will be on in full blast. For the first time in the history of the city, the next mayor is to be chosen for a term of four years.

The most interest in the campaign centers in the fight for the Democratic nomination. Mayor Dunne has formally announced himself a candidate for re-election on a platform of opposition to the proposed immediate settlement of the street car franchise question. He wants the rehabilitation of the service postponed until after the municipal election.

NOTORIOUS DRUG FIEND WALKS AWAY FROM JAIL

Curley Conley, Sentenced to 63 Days on Chain Gang, Leaves Police Quarters.

Seattle, Feb. 10.—Curley Conley, sentenced to sixty-three days on the chain gang, January 17, because he taught several messenger boys to use cocaine that resulted in their becoming fiends in the use of the drug, escaped from the city jail last Sunday while he was occupying the favorite position of "jail trusty." The fact of his escape was not communicated to Chief of Police Wappenstein until yesterday afternoon.

Although Judge Gordon ordered Conley to spend sixty-three days on the chain gang, he never spent a minute with the working prisoners. For a week he remained in his cell loafing and smoking cigarettes. Then, through the kindness of some one who acted without authority, Conley was made a "trusty" unknown to Chief Wappenstein. For a week he swept the station offices and slept in a bunk in the trusties' quarters. Last Sunday Conley grew tired of jail life and without ceremony walked out of the station. He has not been seen since.

Funeral of Robert Bell.

For the first time in five years, a military funeral was conducted in New Westminster yesterday afternoon, when the mortal remains of Robert Bell were consigned to their last resting place, A and B companies following the body to the grave. The young man, who was only 19 years of age, died in Seattle on Thursday afternoon, and the body was brought home for interment. Having been a member of the D. C. O. R., it was decided to bury him with full military honors, and consequently an order was issued on Saturday asking the members of the two companies to report at the drill hall, when four pall bearers were chosen.

Under charge of Sergeant-Major Cornish, about seventy of the militia men assembled yesterday afternoon, and marched to the residence of the father of the deceased, E. D. Bell, Royal avenue. The funeral service was conducted by the Rev. J. S. Henderson, while at the graveside, a volley was fired by a squad of the deceased's former associates. The last call on the bugles was sounded by A Wise and W. Morrison, after which the troops were dismissed. The pallbearers were W. Sutherland, A. Robertson, H. Henry, J. Bryson, Roy Pearson and H. Ackley. W. E. Fales had charge of the funeral arrangements.

PROPOSE TO CANCEL CAR FERRY SERVICE

Negotiations Are Being Made That May Mean Lessening of Fraser River Traffic.

Victoria, Feb. 10.—Although not yet definitely decided, it is probable that in the near future a car ferry service will be instituted between Sidney and Blaine. With this in view, F. Van Sant, traffic manager of the Victoria Terminal railway, has invited tenders for the construction of a steam tug and two large barges. The tug is to be 91 feet long with engines of 325 horse-power. The barges are to have a carrying capacity of 475 and 850 tons respectively, with a space for nine cars.

It is thought that the proposed service between Sidney and Blaine would prove better from a trade standpoint than the existing one between Sidney and New Westminster. The run between Sidney and Blaine, 40 miles, could be made by a tug and her tow in about six hours.

The establishment of the ferry service to Blaine instead of to the Fraser river has not been finally decided upon and the boats may continue to run to Port Guichon. When the Oliver branch of the Terminal Company's lines on the Mainland is completed the connection by way of Blaine will be practically as good as that now established with Port Guichon.

Addie Roper's Handbag.

Blaine, Feb. 10.—A handbag that belonged to Miss Addie Roper, who was murdered here recently, has been found by the Blaine police, hidden in a crevice of a cell in the city jail. Two files were with the hand-bag.

Some of the police believe the handbag and files were secreted by one of the many suspected persons who have been arrested since the murder. If so, it would indicate carelessness in the search of the prisoners. Another theory is that the articles were placed in the cell with the deliberate purpose of misleading the authorities.

Awful for the Boys.

San Francisco, Feb. 10.—There is a paper famine on in the school department, and the pinch of famine has caused teachers to call upon the youngsters to bring a supply every morning or else go through the terrible experience of sitting in a class without any work to do. Times are like the bitter days of the coal famine, only ignorance, and not pneumonia, is now threatened.

Olga Nethersole's Choice.

Spokane, Feb. 10—Olga Nethersole, the actress, announced last night that she is to become a naturalized American citizen, and that she may take out her first papers in Spokane next October. She states that she has invested $150,000 in Washington real estate, and expects to make the Northwest her home.

VICTORIA MINING MEN FIGURE IN ACCIDENT

Stage Coach Upsets at Deadwood Creek—Broken Ribs and Bruised Legs.

Seattle, Feb. 10—E. K. Finlayson, J. H. Monroe and M. W. Loveridge, three mining men of Victoria, B. C., who passed through Seattle yesterday on their way home, had a narrow escape from death early last week while travelling on a stage coach between Lewiston and Redding, towns in the Northern part of California. Monroe is nursing two broken ribs and Loveridge a badly bruised leg as a result of the experience.

The three men had been up in the mountains looking over a mine in which they are interested and on the way to Redding to take the train, the stage coach in which they were travelling went over the grade and plunged down to the bed of Deadwood Creek. The vehicle overturned and the three men and the driver were caught beneath it.

There's Money in Mud.

Victoria, Feb. 10.—What might be termed a romance of real estate in Victoria reached consummation, for the present at all events, on Saturday. About a month ago a Winnipeg investor purchased 80 lots in the vicinity of Edmonton road, not a favorite locality by any means, for the sum of $12,000. Within a few days he was enabled to make 25 per cent. profit on his buy by selling them for $15,000 But within a very short time he repented the sale and bought them back at $4,000 further advance, of $19,000. The fourth turnover of the property was completed yesterday, when it was acquired by a quartette of investors from Rapid City, Man., for the sum of $22,000, an advance of over 80 per cent. in value within a month.

Dangerous Road.

The recent heavy rains and thaw have played havoc with the Port Moody road. The rushing water has cut out deep channels in the side of the road and the volume of water in the ditch has eaten under the banks until there is in many places a danger of a cave-in. The road is a dangerous one, even on the graded sections, especially at night, as it is so narrow that two vehicles passing have a tight fit. One has to stop while the other goes by. The grade on either side is so deep that an upset is apt to be accompanied by serious consequences.

Lenten Regulations.

At the services of St. Peter's church yesterday, Rev. Father O'Boyle made the announcement that on acount of the great amount of sickness in the diocese, the rigid observance of the Lenten fasts would not be demanded on the part of the parishioners. He urged upon his congregation, in order to make amends for the non-observance of the established custom, to lend a charitable and helping hand to all who might be in need, and to practice acts of mortification.

CHINESE RESIDENTS MAKE MERRY TO-NIGHT

Ten Days of Unrestrained Merrymaking and Unalloyed Joy for the Celestials.

Tonight a blast of whistles, and a rattle of firecrackers will usher in the thirty-third year of Kwang Hsu, and with it ten days of unrestrained merrymaking among the Chinese residents of New Westminster.

There are few debtors in Chinatown and the result will be an almost unanimous celebration. For by the custom of the Celestial Empire, a man who owes money has no right to be as happy as he whose debts are all paid. He is not barred from any of the ceremonies, but his companions go about singing "I don't owe any money," and it hurts his feelings.

This is leap year in the Chinese calendar. As a result the New Year celebration comes some twenty days later. No one in the Chinese quarter has the time just now to explain the mathematics of this, but so it is. The Chinese stores will not close. They will stay open just long enough each day to keep their patrons in living necessities, and there is no prospect that the salesmen will die of overwork.

Tiny Tots Travel.

Two very anxious mothers were nearly thrown into a panic yesterday afternoon by the disappearance of three small children, who had wandered away from home, having been attracted by the military funeral. The eldest of the three was a little girl who had seen fully five summers. After a pilgrimage among the city streets, she managed to steer her small charges back to their respective homes. In the meantime, the parents had organized a search of the city, and had canvassed the entire route of the funeral without success. Dire punishment will be meted out to the youngsters next time they break bounds, but they were forgiven yesterday's offense.

Thousands Have Perished.

Winnipeg, Man., Feb. 10.—Mild weather which has at last come to the great Canadian Northwest, has caused the snow to rapidly disappear in the cattle ranges, revealing, through the bringing to light of carcases of dead animals, the havoc wrought to the stock industry by the terrible cold and unusually severe storms of the past winter.

From all indications thousands of cattle perished. The danger is far from over as there is a great scarcity of food on the ranges. It is feared that thousands of animals that survived the cold will now die of starvation.

EVERYTHING IS READY FOR VALENTINE FETE

Many Attractions Will Delight Patrons of Etertainment Organized by Ladies' Auxiliary.

Today, the Valentine fete for which the Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary has been planning for so long, will commence. The arrangements are complete and all seekers for honest entertainment may find fullest gratification. The lady fortune teller, who has been brought from a long distance to ply her profession and give forecasts of the future to all who consult her, will be on hand to dispense her knowledge, both afternoon and evening. It was at one time thought that she would only be on hand at night. This will give an additional number a chance to consult her.

There will be a fine line of goods offered for sale on the numerous booths and the ladies who have promised goods for sale are requested to have them in early today. Those who have promised edibles for the evening dinner are asked to have their donations in not later than two o'clock. Dinner will be served from 5 to 7 p.m.

The evening concert promises to be one of the best things of its kind ever heard in this city. The ladies have spared no pains in securing the best available talent and those who attend will have far more than their money's worth. On Tuesday night the entertainment will take the form of a minstrel show.

Try a Whale Steak.

Victoria, B. C., Feb. 10.—Two Japanese experts employed by a whaling firm at Nagasaki are here negotiating with the Pacific Whaling company operating on Barkley, west coast Vancouver Island. They seek supplies of whale meat. This meat is growing in favor in Japan, but requires special treatment. In view of the fact that special machinery would have to the employed it is doubtful if the local company will enter into a contract to supply meat, but will continue to manufacture it into fertilizer.

Those Bad, Bad Boys.

Two small boys who have recently been making a general nuisance of themselves in the neighborhood of their homes, have at last brought the heavy hand of the law down upon them, and will appear in the police court this morning to answer to a charge of wilfully breaking doors and windows, the property of Mr. McNeill, a penitentiary guard, who resides at the corner of Third street and Queen's avenue. It will go hard with the boys if they are committed to the pen. for their offense.

hree Hundred Autos Are Destroyed by Fire

ew York City, Feb. 10.—Spontan- s combustion in the paint shop in garage of the New York Trans- tation company at Eighth avenue Forty-ninth street, caused a fire h a loss of more than $1,000,000, -half of which was for electric cabs. was impossible to get 300 of these of the building, so rapidly did the nes spread. Three men were in- ed, and thousands of persons going home from the theatres left the cars and watched the firemen fight the blaze.

Van Vanderwoort, a watchman employed in the building, discovered the fire and was severely burned about the fact and hands trying to extinguish it. There were several explosions, probably of paints, for electricity was the motive power of the cabs, and there was no gasoline in the building.

Restoration of Lands May Be Made Shortly

Washington, D. C., Feb. 10.—The Washington delegation is hopeful of having some of the lands in Whatcom County, now withdrawn for forestry purposes, restored, so that they may be taken by prospective entrymen who appeared at the Seattle land office Wednesday to make their filings. Investigation of official action with reference to the three townships opened this week shows that the land was first withdrawn in 1902. It was afterwards released, but again withdrawn upon recommendation of the local representative of the forestry bureau. On request of the delegation a telegram has been sent to the forestry agent and an answer is expected showing the exact conditions next Monday.

BREVITIES

THE HALL OF FAME.

Professor Goldwin Smith some time ago formally willed his brain to Cornell university.

James Carne of St. Columb Minor, Cornwall, who is over 100 years of age, still attends to his Sunday duties as clerk of the parish church.

The oldest soldier now receiving a pension from the state of Maine is Eli J. Cook of Belfast, a veteran of the Aroostook war of 1839. Mr. Cook has reached the advanced age of 101 years.

Anna Van Ness, aged fifty, and James Ketcham, aged fifty-six, of Pine Brook, N. J., after an engagement of seventeen years, during which both had to care for aged parents, are at last married.

Dr. Wilfrid T. Grenfell, the medical missionary who founded and conducts the Labrador Deep Sea mission, figured among King Edward's birthday honors, being created a companion of the Order of St. Michael and St. George.

Senator George S. Nixon, the new bonanza senator from Nevada, has made $20,000,000 out of his Goldfield mines. Before acquiring his vast fortune he was a modest banker at Winnemucca and also edited a paper in a small mining town.

Lord Knollys, King Edward's private secretary for the past thirty-six years, has the full confidence of his majesty, who tells him all his public as well as private business. He controls the king's enormous correspondence and has a large corps of assistants to help him.

One of the most popular men in Stratford-on-Avon, J. A. Priest, has been elected mayor of that ancient borough, and William Gardner Colbourne, Esq., of the Red Horse, so well known to American travelers, has been re-elected to the board of aldermen, in which he has already served with honor for thirty-three years.

Living in Washington in his ninety-fifth year is General Daniel H. Rucker, father-in-law of Phil Sheridan and boyhood chum of Sherman. He was born in Belleville, N. J., and at an early age enlisted in the army and served on the frontier, being a great friend of Kit Carson. He took part in the Mexican war as well as the civil war.

Bronson Howard lays the blame for an inferior stage upon the tired business man who has to be amused. He lately said: "I hate the tired business man. He is the cause of plays being produced that keep four other men at home. I wish he would go home and rest. The drama has no future in this country until we cease to cater to the tired business man."

SHORT STORIES.

Smell is the only sense in which man is not superior to the lower animals.

Policemen say that an Italian beggar on the streets of New York city is practically an unknown quantity.

An electric current travels 463,500,000 meters a second in copper wire, while the fastest ocean steamer makes only 9.8 meters a second.

The Young Men's Christian association is planning to support an army secretary in the arctic circle whose duty it will be to visit the military posts along the Yukon river. His equipment will include a launch, snowshoes and a dog sledge.

The Wadsworth library at Geneseo, N. Y., has received 5,000 volumes from the collection of the late Martin Brimmer of Boston. He made a specialty of scarce books and expensive bindings, and these volumes are valued at $50,000. The Wadsworth library was founded in 1843 by James Wadsworth. Mr. Brimmer was a distant relative of the Wadsworths.

Still, it is a trifle early to begin wondering what we will have to kick about when the trusts are all busted.—Washington Post.

The Congressional Record will not be printed in the simplified spelling. Congress is having too hard work to get its words read by the public as it is.—Baltimore American.

If other women would adopt her style of dress, says Dr. Mary Walker, they would not break their husbands. And most of them would be unable to get husbands.—Washington Post.

Automobiles can now be fitted with buffet cabinets and ice chests. But even with this equipment they will hardly be complete without an individual coroner.—Rochester Democrat.

Slang is getting on when members of the house of lords can talk about "pulling the leg" of that august body, as Lord Grimthorpe and the Earl of Camperdown have in the education bill debate.—London Chronicle.

NEW YORK CITY.

New York city spends $21,520,000 annually on education.

New York city's fire alarm equipment is the most antiquated of any in the large cities of the world.

Travelers say that New York city leads all the cities of the world in the number of really good hotels and excellence of their service.

The BIG BLUE SIGN

Turned Out on the Street!

Get Out or Sell Out!

One week more of the BIG GET-OUT SALE. One week more of genuine bargains. We urge you to take advantage of this last opportunity to get seasonable goods at reasonable prices.

The contractors are already at work. They started this morning at the rear of the block; but as this does not interfere with us at the front, we will continue the sale for another week or so.

We intend to make this last week one of larger crowds and smaller prices. We will mark all goods right down to the vanishing point.

During this sale we have reduced our stock wonderfully. We have satisfied the people; but we have not quite satisfied ourselves. The balance of the stock must go. We intend to accomplish this by more than satisfying our customers. We'll surprise them by cutting prices to an unheard-of extent.

WHAT IT INVOLVES.

One wonders how long it will be before the people of British Columbia awake to the realization of what the majority of them voted for at the recent election. It often happens that the people never do wake up; they see results more or less plainly, but either they do not trace those results to their cause or they assign a wrong cause. In the present case, the chances are that the results will force themselves upon the attention of the people; but every effort will be made to induce them to attribute those results to some cause other than the true one. Such efforts, in fact, began before the election; indeed it would be more correct to say that such efforts are an esential part of Conservative policy.

Take the verdict at the polls as it affects revenue and taxation. The Government shouts from the housetops that capital is needed to develop our resources, and that the revenue of the Province should exceed its current expenditure. Both of these propositions are sound enough. It does not follow, however, that capital should be given the opportunity to make hundreds per cent. on its investments, while everyday day, sober going industry is heavily taxed to supply the revenue. Yet that, exactly, is the McBride policy. It is easy to show—the Daily News has shown frequently during the past few months, that the Government could, simply by proper administration of the affairs of the Province, and without any departure from established precedent, have obtained a larger revenue than it did obtain and yet have remitted every cent of the taxation which presses upon industry.

The people at the polls, however, have said that they prefer to see industry taxed and a free hand in the exploitation of the country's assets given to speculators.

They have also said that they want unrestricted Chinese immigration. It will, of course, be denied that unrestricted Chinese immigration is the policy of the McBride Government; but it is, despite all denials. When we pointed this out on previous occasions, it was doubtless set down as "campaign literature"; the campaign is over now, and we point it out again. The personal organ of one of the Ministers openly advocates it—openly declares that British Columbia needs and wants free entry for Chinese, and that the opposite impression was created merely by the clamor of "demagogues," backed by selfseeking politicians. Most of the big corporations supported the McBride Government and all of them want free Chinese. They will say, of course, that the Chinese should be restricted to certain lines of labor, knowing quite well that no such restriction is possible, as the history of past legislation clearly proves. But that matter rests with the Ottawa Government, we shall be told. Certainly, the executive action rests with the Ottawa Government, which greatly offended many of its Eastern supporters by enacting the $500 head tax law; and which could not well continue to enforce that law against a demand for its repeal coming from this Province.

And that reminds us that Dewdney, Richmond and New Westminster voted to prohibit all salmon fishing above the railway bridge here, and also to prohibit sockeye fishing entirely for one or more years. We showed some days ago, that the McBride Government had demanded in an official document, that these steps be taken. The people, by sustaining the Government, have approved of that demand—have given the McBride Government the right to say that three of the constituencies most vitally interested, are behind it in making the demand.

These are a few of the things which logically follow from the verdict of the second of February. They are not comfortable reflections; but it is folly to shirk the truth because it happens to be unpleasant.

Every grocer keeps WINDSOR SALT. No other is so pure, so delicate. Best for the table. 139

Well, which of its loyal supporters is the Government going to send to the jail? Doubtless a lot of them deserve it.

The importance of Canada is growing steadily. A bill has been introduced in the New York legislature permitting insurance companies to invest in stocks and bonds outside of the United States, the object of which is supposed to be to enable the companies to invest in Canadian securities.

The Duke of Abruzzi, who has been exploring the mountains of Uganda, is a diplomat. He has named the twin peaks of Ruwenzori, which he climbed, Margherita and Alexandra, in memory of his native Italy and to honor that country, as he said, "whose "tenacity of will and humanity of "purpose have carried the light or "civilization everywhere, even to the "foot of Ruwenzori itself."

The Columbian thinks it would not be a surprising thing if Skeena should, after all, elect the Conservative candidate. The Columbian is quite right The Government knew that Skeena would go Liberal if the election were held at the proper time, therefore it arranged to postpone the polling in part of the constituency. If the rest of the country went against it, it lost nothing; but if it won, as it has, there was a chance that the "winning horse" argument might give it Skeena also.

The latest British dispatches show that those who rejoiced over the "turning down" of the Campbell-Bannerman Government by the House of Lords, were a little previous. If any turning down is done it will probably be the other way about. It will be a bitter fight, and each side will accuse the other of tearing the Constitution to pieces; but the Constitution has a way of getting its pieces reassembled after such tearings, and generally on a somewhat broader foundation.

Canada is a civilized country, but occasionally our faith in our own enlightenment is sorely tried. In Toronto, the other day, the body of a respectable citizen, who died suddenly while on a street car, was permitted to lie for three hours on the floor of the rotunda of an hotel, awaiting the convenience of a coroner. Afterwards, when removed to the house, it was locked in a room and the widow and the undertaker were forbidden to see it without permission. It was only the apotheosis of red-tape, always stupid and often brutal. It is some satisfaction to know that the hotelkeeper is sueing for damages. May he win.

Teheran, Persia, Feb. 10.—At a meeting yesterday, attended by more than 2,000 persons, violent speeches were made against the government, and especially against the minister of war and M. Naus, minister of customs. The people were urged to be ready for action and to procure arms. Naus, it is claimed, is in the Russian service.

Bedding and Household GOODS

Quality first, then price—price is not the great moving feature in the New Spring Goods. Quality comes first.

Our customers know that the lowest priced goods are the most expensive to buy; they know that a poor article is not worth carrying home; so each season finds us pushing a better class of merchandise.

Not that we're after a high priced business, we don't want that; but just an every day trade in reliable goods at prices which people can afford to pay.

The local board will be represented at the convention of school trustees, to be held at Nelson on Wednesday, by P. Peebles.

Work on the city sewers will be resumed today, the workmen having been absent on a compulsory holiday during the past cold spell.

The Dauntless left for Victoria yesterday with th balance of the pontoons for the use of the King Edward in its dredging operations.

Tomorrow evening, the Beulah Rebecca Lodge whist party takes place in the K. of P. hall. The ladies will provide refreshments for their guests, while musical selections will help to pass the time away in a pleasant manner.

The bursting of water pipes has spoiled the appearance of the lacrosse boys' dressig room at the exhibition grounds. The floor is covered with about six inches of ice. The whole room presents a very neglected and woe-begone appearance.

Louis W. Moreas will come before the Hon W. Norman Bole today for a hearing, and will be called upon to explain how he came to marry the girl he admired before she had reached the legal age for girls to marry without the parental consent.

The police yesterday evening corralled five cows which they found wandering on Columbia street. The bovines were taken to the market stables, where they were quartered for th night. The owner can have the cattle by applying to the chief of police and proving ownership.

The appointment of local officers of the Salvation Army was made at the barracks yesterday, the following being named: Staff-major, Nathaniel French; treasurer; W. Innes; Band of Love staff-major, Mrs. W. Innes; junior staff sergeants, I. Way, Russell, Noice; drum-sergeant, John Mercer.

Daniel Fry, a young man who had been employed on a survey party, died in the Royal Columbian hospital yesterday morning, where he had been under treatment for the past two weeks for typhoid fever. He was a bachelor, and not known to have any relatives in this city. He was born in London, England, and was a member of the English church. D. Murchie has charge of the funeral arrangements.

The four delayed trains which had been held at Revelstoke for the past three days, were due to arrive in Vancouver early this morning, the first being due at five o'clock, with the other three following at short intervals. The local train left at 4:15 a. m. for the Junction, and, if the occasion demanded it, was going to make a second trip about six o'clock. A large number of passengers were expected to arrive in the city from these trains, while the mail matter which will be brought in will certainly be the heaviest consignment for some time past.

"Obtaining money under false pretences," is a charge that may be preferred against a member of a highly respected family of this city unless the information laid against him by a Vancouver man is withdrawn. A complaint was received here on Saturday, and the suspect was arrested and taken to Vancouver. The charge is that he has been collecting money for goods which he failed to deliver. The chief of police stated yesterday evening, that there was a strong probability that influence would be brought to bear, which would lead to the withdrawal of the charge.

The funeral of the late Thomas H. Goldie will take place this afternoon, the interment to take place in the Oddfellows' cemetery. The body will be taken to St. Andrew's church early in the morning, and will remain there in order to enable friends to view the remains until the hour set for the funeral service, two o'clock. The members of the K. of P., and the Sons of Scotland, will attend the funeral in a body. The funeral service will be conducted by the Rev. J. S. Henderson. Yesterday afternoon a large number of the friends of the deceased had a last look at the body in the K. of P. hall, the hall being kept open for this purpose. There will be a large number of people attending the funeral today, as, in addition to the two lodges, of which he was a member, parading in force, a large number of friends will assemble to pay the last tokens of respect to one who was honered and respected by everyone with whom he came in contact.

Rev. Dr. Sipprell, of Columbian College, will lecture on "Canadian Life and Literature," at Nanaimo this evening

The Robert Dunsmuir arrived in port yesterday from the Serpentine River, with a fourteen swifter boom of logs for the Fraser River Mills.

The Brunette Mills are running again after a lengthy silence. The first consignment of logs for the season was brought in yesterday by the Vulcan. More are expected today.

Postmasters are requested by the post office inspector at this point, to deliver free of charge for three weeks from the date hereof, unpaid letters received from Kingston, Jamaica.

During the present week the river will be full of log booms. All the mills are waiting to be still further supplied and all around the coast booms are awaiting the arrivals of the tugs to tow them in.

Lectures on the Prophetic Chart will be continued, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights, at 8 o'clock in the Gospel Hall, Sixth avenue and Ninth street, the special topic being "The Present Dispensation," 34-6

A number of loafers from the notorious "Billy the Mugs" saloon in Seattle, are said to have recently arrived in British Columbia, and in consequence the police are keeping a sharp lookout.

A complaint was made to the city police yesterday afternoon by Jans Gunderson, that someone had stolen his boat, which he had left moored at the city wharf. The boat is supposed to have been taken away late on Saturday evening.

Ezra Davis, who is at present in the employ of Dave Grossman, has secured a lease on one of the stores to be erected in the new block being built at the corner of Columbia and Sixth streets, where he will conduct a first-class pool and billiard room.

The funeral of Mrs. D. McGill, of Sapperton, took place yesterday afternoon, D. Murchie having charge of the funeral arrangement. The interment took place in the Oddfellow's cemetery, the pall bearers being M. Gilanders, W. R. Austin, C. C. Cameron, H. Coulsan, P. McDougall and G. McKenzie.

Today, the Beaver will endeavor to make a still further impression on the up-river ice. The vessel did a little local work on Saturday and today will make a big break to get through to Langley. The city has offered to supply a scow, iron sheeted, which has been used by Gilley Bros., for the purpose of placing it ahead of the Beaver with a view to breaking clear through to Chilliwack. It is reported that the river is clear around Chilliwack and that the surrounding ice is very rotten. Once the river is broken through, the clearing of the stream will take but a short time.

This morning the Samson will journey to the spot where the Stranger sank a few days ago, and with the assistance of a diver will endeavor to hitch ropes and other tackle onto the submarine and raise it once more to the surface. The Swan went to the scene of action on Saturday and endeavored to locate the boat. They found it all right, and succeeded in making a grappling iron fast. The spot is now marked, so that no time will be lost today in locating the vessel. The greatest difficulty will be in making the vessel fast. When once that is acomplished, the rest will be fairly easy, as the Samson has all the power necessary to meet the requirements.

FUNERAL NOTICE.

"Lord of the Isles" Camp, No. 191, Sons of Scotland.

FOR THE LITTLE ONES.

Some Interesting Statistics of the Amazon River.

The Amazon, in South America, is the largest river on the face of the globe and is, according to Professor Agassiz, 160 miles in width at its mouth. The distance from the source of the Amazon in the Andes to the Atlantic ocean is 2,000 miles in a direct line, but by the course of the river nearly 4,000 miles. The Amazon drains an area of 2,500,000 square miles, ten times the area of France, and in connection with the river and its tributaries there are said to be 50,000 miles of navigable waters, one-half of which is suitable for steam navigation by large vessels. The number, length and volume of the Amazon's tributaries are in proportion to its magnitude. More than twenty superb rivers, 1,000 miles and upward in length, pour their waters into it, and streams of less importance are numberless. At the junction of the Yucayali with the Amazon a line of fifty fathoms does not reach the bottom, and in breadth it is more like a sea than a river. The longest tributary, the Madeira, has a length of 2,000 miles.

The Coughing Bean.

We have heard of the pitcher plant that captures unwary insects and eats them, and we have been beguiled by the tale of the singing tree, but we never heard of any product of the tropics more strange than the coughing bean. This bean is not the product of an excited imagination, the fantasy of a dream phantasmagoria, but a very material coughing fact. What makes the bean cough? Why, that's easy. It coughs for the same reason you cough—to clear its throat—I mean its pores. These pores are very sensitive to any irritation. When the pores become clogged with dust, gas collects within the plant cells, finally bursting out in a paroxysm of coughing and sneezing, which effectually disposes of the dust. This respiratory plant is sometimes cultivated as a house plant, and the weekly sweeping of the carpets sets it to coughing violently. — Star Monthly.

Unconscious Movements.

Choose from your audience an assistant and beg him to lean his hand forcibly on the table, placing within his fist a common dinner knife.

Slit a match at the wrong end and cut another one on the slant. Now place one within the other, so as to form an acute angle, and set these conjoined matches a-straddle on the blade of the knife your assistant holds, having first slightly bent them. Impress on your experimenter to allow the phosphorous ends lightly to touch the table, but on no account to move away from its surface.

To the great astonishment of both the operator and the spectators, the matches will begin to march along the blade. This is due to the unconscious movements of the person who holds the knife, movements invisible both to himself and to the public.

PITH AND POINT.

Every one is awfully tired of some one thing.

There is only one way to meet impoliteness. Iguore it.

When you do just exactly what you want don't demand credit for doing it.

When a man buys a foolish thing and people laugh at him he says it was "given to him."

It is a part of the love disease for a girl to worry more if her young man gets a spliuter in his thumb than if father gets a telegraph pole in his arm.

When we sit around and hear a lot of men talk we think, "How smart they are!" But when we note how they act we think, "What fools they are!"—Atchison Globe.

TIME AND TIDE

wait for no man, neither does prosperity. Prosperity is with us all the time. Four years of progress unchecked are in front of us. New Westminster is rapidly forging ahead.

HITCH IN SETTLEMENT OF SCHOOL TROUBLE

Outbreak of Japanese Pupils Still Agitates Residents of Pacific Slope.

Washington, Feb. 10. — Mayor Schmitz, of San Francisco, announced tonight that the Japanese school question was in a fair way for satisfactory settlement. Authority that cannot be quoted, however, intimates that the whole thing is again in the air.

Mayor Schmitz says that at a conference to be held between the President and the Pacific slope visitors Monday or Tuesday, an agreement satisfactory to all is likely to be reached.

The other authority, whose identity must be concealed, declares that the President and the San Francosco authorities will never be able to adjust the differences and the visitors will depart without any agreement.

The mayor and two of his party had their first conference with the President at the White House yesterday afternoon. They gave every evidence of being satisfied with the progress of events.

King Edward in Victoria.

Victoria, Feb. 10.—The dredge King Edward has arrived in the harbor, coming from New Westminster. She is anchored in James Bay, and tomorrow will commence filling in the flats adjoining the new Empress hotel. There is now in James Bay a large quantity of mud which was brought by the dredge Mudlark from the inner harbor and deposited there. By a process of suction this will be drawn up and forced through pipes into the flats. The pipes running under the roadway into the harbor are now in position, and have only to be connected with the forcing apparatus of the King Edward. The work will occupy about a month.

Uncle Tom's Cabin.

This ever-popular play will be put on here on Friday, Feb. 15, by the Stetson Company, whose production this season is said to excel anything yet attempted in the past. It is a play that all can and do enjoy, and it is the one in which the very old and the very young take full and lasting delight. A good house is assured for "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

Paying Guests.

Guichon—W. Murphy, Toronto; E. E. Erissman, Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Palmer, Blaine; W. B. Gareau, Victoria; A. C. Schallenberger, Muchetto.

Windsor—J. C. Atkinson, Victoria; H. B. Skinner, Winnipeg; L. Baker and wife, Vancouver; J. H. Browning, Agassiz; A. P. Chenette, Calgary; G. L. McRae, Seattle.

Colonial—T. H. Roberts and wife, Vancouver; H. McDermott, Boca, Cal.; H. Hayton, Matsqui; W. N. Roberts, Vancouver.

MODES OF THE MOMENT.

Of the princess and empire styles, both of which are worn, the empire is rather in the lead, and the surplice and shirred waists seem to have the preference.

Some modistes are featuring little lace coats in empire, sack or pony styles of negligee garments. They are worn over slips of lighter silk fastened with ribbons.

Slowly but surely the tea gown is coming back to its own, and perhaps even before the season is over we shall see them as of yore in the drawing room at 4 o'clock.

Since trimmings are such an important factor this season, the market is flooded with new passementeries, applique embroideries, jeweled bands, etc., while jet has come to the fore with surprising vim.

In the way of negligee—under which head come the kimono, short and long, dressing jacket and bathrobe—there is nothing really new and startling to be said unless it is that the Japanese designs have taken an extraordinary leap ahead of all others.—New York Post.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS.

"The Love Route" has proved a mighty fine route to travel.

"The Social Whirl," a hit in New York, is a big success on tour.

Louise Gunning made a big success in "The Flower Girl" in Chicago.

Mrs. Fiske has made a great hit in New York with "The New York Idea."

Manager Savage has added another American girl to his prima donna forces for "Madam Butterfly." This is Ethel Houston, a contralto who came from Paris three years ago to sing contralto roles with the English Grand Opera company.

Vera Michelena, the prima donna of "The Tourists," practically stepped from a convent on to the stage; also her father, Fernando Michelena, the once famous tenor, while singing as a choir boy in the great cathedral of Venezuela was heard by a man of wealth who saw great promise in his voice and sent him to Rome to study music.

HUMOR

POOR JOHN!

He Is a "Poor Sinner" Because He Wanted to Get to Sleep.

"John."

"Yes, dear."

"Did you lock the basement door?"

"Yes."

"Are you sure the gas is turned off in the kitchen range?"

"Uh huh."

"I don't believe you looked at the dining room windows."

"Yes, I did. Now keep quiet. I want to go to sleep."

"It seems to me I smell gas. I'm afraid you didn't open the damper in the furnace pipe."

"The furnace is all right. I fixed it the last thing."

"Well, I have a queer feeling that something is the matter. Are you sure the front door is bolted?"

"Yes, yes, yes! Confound it, give me a chance to go to sleep! I need rest!"

"John."

"Oomph."

"John, are you asleep?"

"Oomph."

"John, wake up and answer me. You forgot to lock the library window. The girl was dusting today and had it open."

"Oomph."

"John, stop that pretending and get up. I can't go to sleep tonight unless you go and lock that window."

"Oh, Lord, why can't you let a fellow alone? I fixed all the windows. All of them—every window in the house—kitchen, dining room, library—all of 'em! All of 'em, can you understand that? The doors are all bolted. The furnace is as it should be. The gas is turned off in the kitchen. Now let me alone, will you?"

"John."

"Oomph."

"John, wake up and listen to what I say."

"Great heavens, are you talking yet or again?"

"John Worthington, did you water the rubber plant?"

"—— ! !! ?? ***."

"Oh, our heavenly Father, have mercy on this poor sinner and give me patience to"—

"Shut up!"—Chicago Record-Herald.

Flattery.

Governor Frank Frantz of Oklahoma tells the following story of camp life with the rough riders before they were transported to Cuba:

"Before we were shipped to Cuba time dragged heavily on our hands, and even those who left home well supplied with funds found themselves absolutely broke before the transport sailed. Everybody borrowed from the other fellow.

"I was standing near an Irish sergeant one day when a member of our troop approached him and asked to borrow a dime.

"The Irish sergeant looked at him a moment. Then a queer smile lit up his face and he replied in his rich brogue:

"'Ah, ye flattherer!'"—Ridgway's.

AMENDED PROVERBS.

"Faint heart never won fair lady." Well, what of it? Ours is a brunette.

"Give the devil his due." What's the use of bothering? He's sure to get it.

"Marry in haste and repent at leisure." Bosh! Married men don't have any leisure.

"Never say die." Nice, prosperous undertaker you'd make with that motto, wouldn't you?

"You can't judge by appearances." Can't you, though! How else can you judge an actor but by his appearances?

"Seeing is believing." Not always. Your wife sees you when you come home late from "sitting up with a sick friend," but she doesn't believe you.—Boston Transcript.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Matter intended for this column should be addressed, "Social Editor, Daily News, P. O. Box 402, New Westminster."

Mrs. Innes and Miss Vivian Scholefield of Vancouver, spent Saturday in the city.

Mrs. Pearson's pupils gave a most enjoyable recital at her residence on Saturday afternoon.

J. Reichenbach left yesterday afternoon on a business trip to Armstrong.

His Observation.

"We're glad to welcome you into our little family, Mr. Slimm," said Mrs. Starvem. "Our boarders almost invariably get fat."

"Yes," replied the new boarder, "I've noticed the same thing in most boarding houses. It's cheaper than lean meat, isn't it?"—Philadelphia Press.

A Wise Fellow.

Wigg—The last I saw of you Youngpop was talking you to death about his baby. How did you get rid of him?

Wagg—Oh, some fellow came along who had just bought an automobile, so I introduced them and made my escape.—Philadelphia Record.

A Long Game.

In the summer of 1840 Henry Clay went to Kentucky on his vacation. Three nights after his arrival at a certain springs a sociable game began. In the game were Mr. Clay, Josiah Blackburn, John Hardin and Sam Clay, a cousin of the statesman. It began on Friday night and ran along with varying luck. They were all old hands and had the nerve to back their cards. At 12 o'clock Saturday night Blackburn quit a little ahead. He had been married only two months and was afraid his young wife would think he was dead. Sunday morning at 9 o'clock some one rapped on the door. It was opened, and a negro girl stood in the hall. She had a clean shirt in her hand, and on the bosom was a note from Hardin's wife, "For Mr. John Hardin, wherever he can be found." The door was closed and play resumed. Hardin changed his linen at the table.

The Turkey Buzzard.

Some one has taken the trouble to search out an attribute of beauty in the common and repulsive looking bird known as the turkey buzzard. His flight is said to be the perfection of aerial navigation, and the manner in which he floats upon the still, soft air of the southern climes is a dream of grace and loveliness. But when he alights poetry takes its flight, and the marvelous soarer is found to be the homeliest and most unattractive of birds. His tastes are low, for he is a natural scavenger. He is bald, scraggy, rusty looking, awkward and repulsive. Pride seems to have been left out of his nature, and his manners are simply atrocious. No self respecting bird will associate with him.

WILL START TO BUILD ANOTHER LARGE TUG

Keel of Large New Vessel Will Soon Be Laid in Royal City Yards.

Messrs. Myers & Preston have plans all ready for the construction of a tug larger than the largest of their present fleet. The vessel will be eight feet longer than the Peerless, and will be fitted up with all the most up-to-date appliances and with the best and most powerful machinery. The machinery has been ordered and will be on hand in readiness for installation as soon as the hull is ready to receive it.

The big tug will be built in the Royal City Mill yards and the material for it will be secured from both the Brunette and Royal City mills.

The boat will have a name corresponding with the rest of the Westminster Fish and Towing company's fleet and will end with "less." The other boats are the Dauntless, Peerless, Fearless, and Restless.

Ah Fong has languished in a police cell for the past two days, having been placed in durance vile after the receipt of a complaint of Hong Lee, who charges his compatriot with having misappropiated trust funds, or, in other words, with having pocketed washee monee. Evidence is strong against the trust magnate emulator, and the police magistrate wil hold an investigation this morning.

Social Level.

"Mamma, can't I go up to the next block an' play with the Jones boys?" asked Henry, a boy of six, who was being brought up very carefully.

"No, indeed!" answered his mother. "They are very bad boys."

"Then can't I go over to see Mrs. Smith's little girls?"

"No, Henry; I'm afraid to let you go."

The little fellow left the room. Later he stuck his head inside with, "Say, mamma, I'm going over next door an' play with the dog."—Woman's Home Companion.
