HON. FRANK OLIVER RETURNS FROM SUMAS

Arranges Meeting With River Improvement Committee For This Morning.

The Hon. Frank Oliver, Minister of the Interior, who arrived from Ottawa Wednesday morning, is in the city, having registered at the Guilbert last evening after his return from Sumas, where he inspected a number of land dykes in company with Mr. Griffin of Vancouver, Robert Jardine and Mr. McKenzie of the Dominion Lands office.

When interviewed last evening at his room in the hotel, Mr. Oliver said that he was in British Columbia for the purpose of getting in touch with various matters which come under the direction of his department. As to his trip to Sumas, he informed a News reporter that he had gone there to acquaint himself with the art of dyking in this part of the Dominion. He recognized the fact that conditions were very different here than those of other districts of Canada.

The minister has arranged to meet the River Improvement committee in the Dominion Lands office this morning at 11 o'clock, and hear what the members have to say regarding their scheme for the improvement of the Fraser river. He stated that he had, at the request of Mr. Martin, solicitor for the city, arranged to meet him in New Westminster at 11 o'clock yesterday, but was later obliged to change the time to 11 o'clock today, owing to his having to fill another pressing engagement.

Speaking in an abstract manner of the subject of the committee's session, Mr. Oliver stated that the proposed work came directly under the Hon. Mr. Templeman's department, and that as that gentleman would be on the coast in a very short time now, he thought it would be well for the committee to take the matter up with him. He would, however, be pleased to hear what they have to say.

Mr. Oliver will leave on the 11:30 train for Vancouver this morning, and will attend a luncheon in his honor at the Canadian club at 1 o'clock this afternoon. He will leave for the east this evening.

Mr. Oliver was in bed when the News man called, and showed no resentment at being roused by repeated knocking but quietly unlocked the door and turned on the light. Resuming a comfortable position in bed he talked interestingly of many matters of public concern. Touching the immigration policy, which has become a live issue on the coast since the overwhelming influx of Japanese, Mr. Oliver stated that he was in favor of Canada being made a "White Man's country" so far as is practicable or permissable.

A marked change for the better in the quality of immigrants had been noted since the government commenced enforcing the regulations authorizing the exclusion and deportation of undesirables. The government would continue to exercise a close scrutiny on the immigration with the purpose of keeping out all classes that are not likely to make first class citizens.

Deer in a China Shop.

Moncton, N. B., Aug. 15.—The meteoric appearance and dramatic disappearance of a large deer caused excitement on Main street today. The animal entered the city at the north end, crossing the whole town, pursued by children and finally found its way to Main street. Bewildered by the abrupt debut into the business part of the city, the animal fell on the pavement and arising dashed into a china store, heavily stocked with glassware, crockeryware, etc. The animal ran the length of the shop and leaped through a window at the rear and then continued on towards the river. Quite a crowd pursued but the deer was too fast and got away.

Tupper Will Run in Nova Scotia.

Halifax, Aug. 15.—Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, in addressing a meeting here yesterday, announced that when the election came, and it might come soon, he would choose as his fighting ground the good old province of Nova Scotia.

LABOR CELEBRATION MAY NOT TAKE PLACE

Proposed Celebration in Danger of Being Cancelled - Tramway Men Inactive.

Although Labor day is now less than three weeks ahead, there are as yet no preparations for the big celebration which was to be held in this city on the first Monday in September, according to the statement made some time ago by some of the local union men. It looks very much as if the big celebration was to be stillborn.

That the B. C. E. R. employees will take no active part in the organizing of a general mass meeting to be held here is assured. The men are now working at high pressure, and, in the event of such a celebration being held, it would simply mean that they would have to work all the harder. At the last meeting of the union it was decided that the men would not assist in any celebration, owing to the reasons stated above, according to a statement made yesterday by J. S. Rainey, president of the union.

As the B. C. E. R. employees union is the only organization in this city having a sufficient numerical strength to carry through such a project as was mooted some weeks ago, and as none of the other organizations appear to be working in that direction, it appears to be once again a case of nothing doing at home, and the working men of the city who desire to take part in a procession and wear silk badges will probably have to travel to Vancouver or Bellingham for the privilege.

LACROSSE TEAM PICKED FOR TRIP TO VICTORIA

A lacrosse team representing the local intermediate will leave on the steamer Princess Victoria today for Victoria, where they will play a match tomorrow with the intermediates of that city. C. D. Peele, manager of the team, will accompany the boys to the capital.

The match was arranged some days ago, the initial step being taken by the Victoria aggregation, which first mentioned labor day as a suitable time for the inter-city match. It was later decided to hold two or more matches and with that object in view tomorrow's game was arranged and the team understanding that a return match will be given.

The New Westminster line up will be: Munn, O. Peele, Marshall, Robinson, Mannering, W. Warwick, K. Brown, C. Spring, M. Warwick, Turnbull, C. Smith, R. Sangster, and spare, D. Bartlett.

Victoria, Aug. 15.—Oak bay was the scene of another big lacrosse practice last evening, there being fully twenty players on the field. The boys put in a good hour's drill, and wound up with a run around the track. They hold a final rally tomorrow night, when the team for Saturday's game will be definitely decided upon.

The Westminster team, the pick of two Royal City clubs, is also preparing for this, the provincial championship match, so that the game will indeed be a fight to the bitter end. The local players, however, are showing splendid form, and little apprehension is felt on the part of the local enthusiasts as to the outcome.

Making Doubly Sure.

Paris, Aug. 15.—Mme. Bassager, wife of a doctor at Issoudan, revenged herself in a most ferocious manner on her husband for his infatuation for a pretty actress. In the course of a quarrel the doctor threw a handful of gold and notes at his wife, telling her to go. The wife went downstairs to the surgery, poured some vitrol into a bucket, and rushing upstairs again, emptied the contents over her husband. Dr. Bassager ran to plunge his head in a pail of water. His wife thereupon seized a revolver and pulled the trigger. The first shot went wide and the doctor rushed out of the room. The wife ran after him and fired again, the bullet this time piercing the heart. Mme. Bassager declares she was amply justified by her husband's misconduct.

BISHOP RETURNS.

Many Confirmations in the Okanagon District—Catholicism Flourishing.

His Lordship Bishop Dontenwill, the head of the diocese of New Westminster, returned on Wednesday afternoon from a five weeks tour of the Okanagon district, in the course of which he visited most of the cities, towns and camps in the district. The Bishop spent some time at Revelstoke, Armstrong, Enderby, Kelowna, Penticton, Sicamus and Vernon, and was amply satisfied with the progress made by the Catholic churches since his last annual visit. In the course of his pregrinations, Bishop Dontenwill confirmed over sixty persons, who were received into the fold of the church.

His Lordship expressed himself as being surprised at the growth of the population in the Okanagon country since his last visit. The people are flocking there by hundreds every week, and homesteads are changing hands daily, the sellers always realizing a good profit on their investments although the land is still far below its actual value as productive soil. The bishop is confident that a few years will see the Okanagon the most thickly settled district of British Columbia.

BOYS ARE SUSPECTED OF BEING BURGLARS

The provincial police went out to Barnet yesterday morning to investigate another case of house breaking with robbery. This is the third robbery that has taken place in Burnaby within the last month and the police are having a hard time to ferret out the culprits. The provincial police are of the opinion that the same parties have been responsible for all the tricks and they are now laying their trap for certain boys, resident in Burnaby, who are under strong suspicion.

Both the store owned by the Northern Pacific Lumber company, and the C. P. R. depot were broken open, and goods were stolen from the store. The thieves entered by taking out a pane of glass, first removing the putty, and after gathering up sundry articles including two Sheffield jack-knives, several cans of sweet corn, etc., they departed leaving an overcoat behind them. The station was entered by way of the ticket window, the door of which had been smashed in. The agent informed the police that he had missed nothing from the premises. An overcoat left in the store by the thieves is a boy's or a small man's coat, and therefore serves to strengthen the convictions of the police that boys are concerned in the robberies that have taken place at various times.

GRAND TRUNK OFFERS TO BUY V., W. & Y.

President Hays and Manager Morse Coming West to Negotiate Big Deal.

Montreal, Aug. 15—It is stated here that President C. M. Hays and General Manager F. W. Morse of the Grand Trunk Pacific are now en route to Vancouver for the special purpose of closing a deal with the management of the Vancouver, Westminster & Yukon railway for the acquirment of its rights and privileges for the construction of a line from Vancouver to Fort George, where the main line of the transcontinental will be tapped.

Negotiations looking to this arrangement are said to have been under way for some time, but were halted several months ago by reason of the opposition of the city to certain routes over the False creek foreshore. As the recent agreement with Vancouver has given the line practically all the foreshore desired, the V., W. & Y. is now said to be prepared to close the deal.

Messrs. Hays and Morse are said to have departed for the west with full knowledge of the situation on the coast and are prepared to plan the entire scheme of operations connecting the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific with Vancouver before they leave.

FINGER SMEARS.

Black Hand Expert Leave Clue Behind Him.

Elizabeth, N. J., Aug. 15.—Traced by finger prints in ink impression of a black hand signed to a letter received by Father Foretti of St. Anthony's Roman Catholic church, in which the priest is threatened with death unless he turns over $600 by September 1. Michael Venzio, an Italian barber, was arrested as the writer of the letter. The police rounded up several Italians and took impressions of their fingers. Edward Schwartz, who is at the head of the Bertillion bureau in Newark, declared that the impression in the letter corresponded with the impression of Venzio's fingers taken by the police and on this evidence a conviction is hoped for.

Peterborough, Aug. 15.—It is stated that in the near future the Dominion government intends rebuilding the Peterborough locks. They will be made 110 feet long and considerably wider so that more boats may be accommodated in it at once, and save lockage. This was the excuse given by R. R. Hall, M. P., to the canoe men for not having the necessary work at the locks done to make it safe for small boats to navigate.

WESTMINSTERS FILE ANSWER TO PROTEST

An answer to the protest entered by the Vancouver lacrosse club against awarding last Saturday's game to New Westminster was framed up at a meeting of the New Westminster club last evening. Charley Galbraith was present. The points raised in the protest was that New Westminster had played Charley Galbraith, thereby violating sections one, two and three of rule four, which provides that a player shall not change clubs more than once during the season, and also that the New Westminster team failed to forward the expense money to the Vancouver club six clear days prior to Saturday's game. Charley Galbraith notified the executive of the club that he applied by letter to the Maple Leaf club for registration as a member of the team, and that he received a letter in reply notifying him that his application had been accepted.

In their reply to the protest, the executive expressed the view that this stand was not well taken by the Vancouver's in view of the fact that the constitution of the association states that application for registration must be made out on a regular printed form. The application in this case was written. With respect to the money proposition, the executive had to acknowledge the corn, as the matter of sending the money in advance had been overlooked.

TURN ON THE SWITCH IN LADNER TOWN

B. C. E. R. Co. Will Turn On The Current Saturday---Kept Faith With Patrons.

At the end of this week another community will be receiving light and power many miles from their source in the rippling waters of lakes Buntzen and Coquitlam. On Saturday next the B. C. Electric Railway Co., intends to turn the current on to the high tension wire to Ladner. Since the end of last year Ladner has been lit by electricity, but the current was generated by a temporary steam plant installed by the company to keep faith with the municipality, a delay in the construction of the high power line having been occasioned by the Dominion government requiring a greater height for the wire across the Fraser river than the company had calculated on.

Now everything is in readiness. Two of the four towers that carry the wire over the river to Ladner from Lulu island reach the great height of 320 feet, and are probably the tallest wooden towers in the world. They are built square, tapering towards the top and are really elongated pyramids. They have to be strongly guyed to prevent swaying in the wind, though the first and highest stood the heaviest gale on record, which blew last December, without a single guy to support it.

CONVICT NARROWLY ESCAPES CAPTURE

Jim Walmsley's Mistake Results in Miner's French-Leave Being Prolonged.

$500 reward will be given to any man, woman or child who will return to the B. C. penitentiary one Miner (William), who has not been heard of directly for the past seven days. The party wanted wears a disguise of piety, and may be found in the vicinity of train holdups, or where money is cached in large quantities.

At the yawning hour of midnight, the telephone bell at the penitentiary summoned the guard on duty, and from the other end of the wire came a peremptory demand for the deputy warden, as tidings of great joy had to be imparted to him. The deputy warden was awakened from his beauty sleep, and, hastily dressing, he shivered his way into the office.

Over the line came the voice of Jim Walmsley, night watchman at the C. P. R. depot: "Mr. Bourke, one of the convicts has just gone into Kenny's restaurant, where he has ordered a porterhouse steak saying that he is ravenously hungry. He is wearing the garb of the government and there can be no mistake. You had better send down a guard. I will see to it that none of the box cars at the station are stolen in the meantime. Be quick."

Deputy Warden Bourke did not hesitate. Guard Walsh the man with the iron nerve, was immediately despatched, single handed, to recapture the notorious outlaw who dared enter the city to partake of a late supper. Loaded down with instructions and firearms, Walsh made remarkably quick time from the pen to Kenny's restaurant, which he cautiously approached. Dismounting, he peered in through the door. There could be no mistake, there sat the escaped convict, munching away at the first hearty meal he had had for a whole week. The five hundred dollars reward was as good as earned.

Cautiously approaching his man, Walsh called upon him to surrender. The challenged party turned around, and at once the five hundred vanished into thin air. He had a ferocious mustache.

Explanations being now in order, the guard described the hurry up call over the telephone, the quick ride into the city, and the sad denouement. And then the other fellow cleared up the rest of the mystery.

His name was not Miner, Clarke, Woods or McCluskey. It was Rogers, and by occupation he was a fisherman. He had arrived in the city from up river late in the day, and started out to get a meal. The fact that he wore a khaki coat, adorned with brass buttons, and Jim Walmsley's vivid imagination, had supplied the necessary details to identify him with a desperate criminal.

Up-to-date, this is the nearest approach to the actual capture of Bill Miner. The other three convicts are still supposed to be in hiding in the Delta, and guards are patrolling the district. The offer of $500 reward has been made by Commissioner of Dominion Police Sherwood by means of a telegram to Chief of Police Chamberlin, of Vancouver. The warden of the penitentiary has not yet been officially notified of the fact that there is a price on Bill Miner's head. The other three criminals are not mentioned in the offer of a reward.

Where is the Island?

A cablegram from Honolulu says the schooner Lute C. Olsen returned on Tuesday from Avovo to Laysan island, one of the small group northwest of Hawaii. The captain reports that he cruised for twelve days in the locality and he was unable to find Laysan. It is apprehended that the island has been sunk by seismic disturbances. The island of Laysan was inhabited by Max Schemmer and his family and a number of Japanese laborers. The United States government tug Iroquois Ire, which is returning from Midway island, will search for the missing island.

MacLean is Not Free.

Tangier, Aug. 15.—It has been learned that Caid Sir Henry MacLean, who has been a prisoner of Raisuli since early in July, has not been set at liberty as previously reported.

FAST LACROSSE GAME ENDS IN TIED SCORE

Two All at End of Play—Unable to Continue Game Because of Darkness.

The best intermediate lacrosse seen in this city during the present lacrosse season was played last evening between the Reginas and the West Enders. At the end of the time the score stood two all and only lowering darkness prevented the match being continued to a decisive point.

The Reginas have held the position of second best in the running all summer and last evening they went on the field to win, with the result that they gave the fast Green-shirted stick handlers their fastest pace of the year. The game was not unmixed with a little slugging and much foul play, some of which was noted by Referee Charley Galbraith, and a number of players were ruled over for a time in consequence. A scrap took place in the last quarter between Fitzgerald and Sangster, and a few minutes later Alex. Robertson and Em. Warwick had a short set-to. D. Bartlett attempted to separate two of the pugilists and in doing so received a blow in the face and was sent to the fence, the referee evidently had surmised that Bartlett was attempting to take part in the fight. The scrappers were soothed by force of reasoning and the play was resumed without casualties.

Hugh Gifford played a splendid game in goal for the Reginas in spite of his youth. Many of the stops which he effected would have done credit to a man of experience. Munn for the East Enders in goal was also there with the goods.

O. Peele, K. Brown, D. Morrison and G. Fitzgerald played an extra good game for the Reginas. C. Smith scored twice for the red shirts but it was more through luck than good play. He has seldom been seen in worse form.

The match commenced a few minutes before seven o'clock, and was lively from the start. Smith made the first score for the Reginas and W. E. McFadden for the West Ends followed a few minutes later with a shot into the net. Another score was made by Smith before the end of the first quarter. Neither side netted a ball in the second quarter and it was in the third quarter that the score was tied by Sangster scoring for the West Ends.

The last quarter was very fast, both sides doing their best to land the ball into the net without success. The falling darkness interferred with the passing.

As the teams stand now, the West Enrders have four games to their credit and their opponents have two, with three games yet to play. The Reginas have to win three straight games in order to secure the medals which have been donated by Messrs. Robert Jardine and James Leamy as trophies.

The teams line up was as follows:

West End—E. Munn, D. Marshall, B. Galbraith, W. Warwick, D. Eastman, W. Sangster, Al. Johnston, D. Bartlett, E. Warwick, R. Sangster, V. McFadden O. Swanson.

Reginas—H. Gifford, O. Peele, R. Pearson, D. Morrison, A. Robertson, G. Mannering, C. Smith, J. Fitzgerald, K. Brown C. Bourne, G. Archibald and H. Allan.

Tuberculosis in Schools.

London, Aug. 13.—Speaking at the international congress of school hygiene, Dr. Oldright, of Toronto university, dealt with the question of the schoolroom as a factor in tuberculosis. He referred to the lamentably prominent position held by the teachers of Ontario in the death list from consumption, and suggested that the causes were foul conditions of air in the older schools, and the inhalation of chalk dust from blackboards.

Carnegie's Munificence.

London, Aug. 15.—Andrew Carnegie has given $500,000 to King Edward's hospital fund. The money has been handed over unconditionally to the Bank of England to be used as the administrators of the fund think best. Mr. Carnegie's gift is the second largest individual gift made to the fund since it was founded in 1897 the largest having been that of S. Lewis, the money lender, who bequeather $1,250,000 to the fund.

BOTH SIDES ASSURED OF VICTORY IN END

Key Men Are Just as Confident as Officials, Who Declare Strike Broken.

New York, Aug. 15.—On the one hand this afternoon officials of the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies asserted that the operators' strike was broken, and on the other the telegraphers declared they were gaining strength, that there were more than 21,000 operators out, and that the strike was proving more successful from a labor point of view than that of 1883.

Belvedire Brooks, superintendent of the eastern division of the Western Union company, declared that the officials had the utmost confidence in their power to win as against the men, and stated that no effort would be made to prevent a strike among the 40,000 members of the Order of Railway Telegraphers.

From the newspaper point of view the situation was decidedly improved. Both companies said that press matter was being promptly moved and many leased wires to New York operated by newspapers throughout the country were manned.

The press associations reported that their traffic was now practically normal. The Associated Press is maintaining its customary circuits fully manned in the eastern divisions. Several operators who went out have returned to their keys.

Dispatches from Norfolk, Va., said that the operators in both the Western Union and Postal offices there had gone out. At the Jamestown exposition an d Portsmouth, Western Union and Postal operators struck.

At the strikers' headquarters it was announced that the conditions favoring a speedy settlement at the strikers' terms were improving hourly.

PRICE OF SHINGLES TAKES BIG TUMBLE

Telegraphers' Strike Blamed For the Financial Slump Across Boundary Line.

Bellingham, Wash., Aug. 15.—Because of the vast quantity of shingles and lumber in transit, the telegraphers strike will likely result in serious financial losses to those immediately interested in this staple product of the Northwest.

Eastern buyers feel perfectly free to cancel an order for shingles at any time, as there is practically no means of preventing them doing so; hence the western men may lose on products on the road.

Already dealers say the price of shingles here has fallen off 25 cents at the mill. Products that brought $3.25 a thousand some days ago are now being sold at the mill for $3.

Eastern dealers have been loading up for the fall trade, and because the annual car shortage during the wheat moving season is at hand they have been taking all the shingles which could be shipped to continue their trade. This year, because of the operation of the reciprocity demurrage law in this state, the railroads propose to withdraw their cars from the shingle belt entirely during the wheat rush.

SIXT-YTHREE POACHERS.

Many Japanese Caught After Raiding Northern Rookeries.

Seward, Alaska, Aug. 14.—Sixty-three Japanese poachers arrived this morning from Unalaska aboard the revenue cutter Manning.

The Japanese are accused of having looted a village fifteen miles from the Alitak cannery. The cannery was not molested, although it was reported here several days ago that the plant had been demolished by the foreigners.

One Japanese died from beri beri on the voyage to this city. Two other suffered from the same disease, but recovered.

Grip Men Want Their Wives.

Toronto, Aug. 14.—The commercial travellers of five associations have inaugurated a movement to secure the same travelling privileges for their wives as they receive themselves, and an effort will be made to influence the railways to this end. An increasing number of travellers now take their wives with them, on their trips, and it is claimed that this percentage would be even greater were the custom to involve less expense. The associations will also endeavor to secure other privileges for the wives of commercial men. The interested bodies include the Dominion, Canadian, London, Maritime and Western associations, representing travellers from coast to coast.

Heir to Krupp Millions.

Essen, Aug. 15.—A son has been born to Frau Bertha Krupp Von Bohlen und Halbach, eldest daughter of the dead gunmaker. The infant is heir to the enormous fortune of the Krupp family. Frau Krupp was married October 15, 1906, to a young German diplomat named Bohlen und Halbach. The Krupp was incorporated was incorporated into her name by imperial decree.

ABOUT TAXES AND "ISIMS."

Taxation evokes a good deal of grumbling, and there is more than a little lying and trickery resorted to for the dodging of it. Few people there are who cannot be said to be concerned about taxes, directly or indirectly; and yet it is very nearly true that there is nothing of large and general importance to the people about which they are so little concerned. That statement of course involves a certain play upon words. Men will grumble or swear at their tax bill when it comes in; but, once it is paid, they think little more about the matter until the next demand; and the thing about which the majority of us show a really astounding carelessness is that study of methods and systems of taxation which would equip us for intelligent work in the direction of reforming abuses.

A related point as to which our thinking is apt to be more or less misty and nebulous is the real difference between the various "isms" of which we hear so much in the discussion of political questions—Socialism, Toryism, Liberalism, and so forth. Many content themselves with the easy criticism, "O, these politicians are all alike; it is their own interest and the interest of their party they think about; not the welfare of the country." And, pray, who elected the politicians; who gave them place and power? In these democratic days there is a great deal of truth in the saying that, after all, the people get what they want.

The other day an avowed Socialist was elected to the Imperial House of Commons, and the news gatherers, in giving a summary of the "Socialistic" ideas which he held, put government ownership of railways in the forefront. One might just as well cite as proof that a man was a Socialist the fact that he believed it the duty of government to protect the lives of citizens. Again, the Montreal Star, commenting on a recent incident of Ontario taxation, gets things twisted the other way around, and sneers at those who class death duties, or succession duties as they are called in Canada, as "Socialistic." The Star says:

"Senator Fulford's estate dropped into the Ontario treasury $356,000 as a legacy duty; and there are those who appear to think that this is an act of socialistic spoliation. But did it ever occur to these critics that Senator Fulford would have had a very difficult task to leave any estate at all, after he was not here to guard it, if it were not for the legal and administrative machinery which the province of Ontario provides for the protection of that estate. When a man dies, it is organized society which enables him to bequeath his property. Now, if organized society is to support its benevolent machinery by taixng the wealth it protects, there is no wealth that it can more justly tax than that to which it gives very often all its value—the wealth left to heirs in an estate."

Is not that a fine specimen of economic reasoning? Passing the absurdity of talking about a man "leaving" (i.e., bequeathing) his estate after he is dead, and the begging of the question involved in the talk about organized society enabling a man to bequeath his property, examine the argument about organized society giving a value—"after all its value"—to property just passing into the possession of one who acquires it by inheritance The idea appears to be that property at such a time stands in some special danger from which organized society—established government—protects it. That, of course, is ridiculous. The fact is that these death duties are essentially and radically socialistic. Probing to the bottom, one easily sees that the basic idea is the socialistic one of divide up and have a fresh start.

We do not happen to know how the particular estate in question was created. It is quite possible that the man who built it up enjoyed some monopolistic privileges for which the law did not require him—as it should have required him—to pay a fair quid pro quo. Taking particular instances, it would often be easy to show that the death duty did but restore to the state a part of what belonged to it by right; but the fact that a blundering rule-of-thumb law happens to do substantial justice in this or that instance, does not make it a just law. To see what a blundering and unjust expedient these death duties are, one has only to remember that one estate may be liable to the tax but once in a century, while another of equal amount may be liable five or six times.

Great fortunes come from the possession of special privileges. People have but to look with clear eyes at what is going on around them every day, to be convinced of that. These privileges are, in "organized society" given by the law, the government, which is supposed to be, in democratic countries, the representative of the popular will. The privileges, therefore, are given by the people, and if the holders were required to pay a proper equivalent for the privilege they enjoy, we should not need to exact death duties, and we should get rid, with them, of a lot of other pernicious absurdities which now oppress the people and clog the wheels of true progress.

Before that happy condition is brought about, however, the people will have to learn that there is such a thing as the science of government, having laws which can no more be violated with impunity than can the laws of health.

Look out for a "policy" of huge grants to railways and all that sort of thing under the excuse of "developing" the more northerly districts of the province. Corporations have waxed fat on that sort of "policy" applied to the southern part of the country, and unless signs and tokens have lost their significance, they are now sharpening their teeth for a feast on the resources of the northern country.

Toronto is sorely vexed by the problem of providing some means by which its citizens can reach the waterfront without incurring grave risk of losing their lives in crossing a network of railway tracks. Bridges to carry the streets over the tracks and a viaduct to carry the tracks over the streets, are the plans suggested, each plan having its advocates and opponents. The situation is a fine object lesson for younger places where similar conditions are coming into existence; but the chances are against the younger places learning the lesson to any practical purpose.

Renumbering Streets.

Victoria, Aug. 15.—Good progress is being done in renumbering the city streets under the new system recently adopted. The James bay section has been completed and Joseph Sears, who has the contract to do the work, is now busy working on Fort street from Wharf street to the Foul Bay road. Mr. Sears expects that he and his assitsants will complete the whole city within three months. They have been at work for about three weeks.

Purcell added the intoxicating liquid to the soft drink when he thought that the attendant was looking the other way, but was mistaken. Information was given to the police, and the pair were arrested. SOLDIERS FIRE ON RIOTOUS IRISH MOB

Searchlights Turned Upon Unruly Crowd---Bayonet and Baton Charges.

Belfast, Aug. 15.—Searchlights were flashing on Belfast last night as a means of protection against mobs, many gas mains having been cut. The lights were operated by a fully equipped company of Royal Engineers, numbering eighty men, who have six large searchlights. The railway companies rushed the men from Aldershot, and they did duty under civil authorities. During the riots last night two men and a woman were killed. Barbed wire was strung on some of the streets to entangle the cavalry and the gas mains were cut by the rioters during the night.

Men, women and youths participated with the greatest zeal in the stone throwing which began at six o'clock and lasted until midnight. For hours the soldier sand police were subjected to an almost continuous bombardment. Repeated bayonet and baton charges were made but they did not seem to terrify the crowds, enraged as they were against the soldiers.

The soldiers were at times beaten back to their base and for a period it looked as if the rioters would succeed in gaining the upper hand. It was only after every effort had been made to defeat the attacking party that the order to fire was given.

The volley momentarily checked the mob. But very speedily the people renewed their labors with greater intensity than before. A second volley proved the determining factor of the fight. After it had been fired the spirit of the mob was broken and the police were able to cope with the rioters.

The Irish trades unionists have given notification of their willingness to arbitrate the difficulties. The board of trade of London will meet the unionists half way and try to settle the trouble.

South African Medals.

The war office has sent out the following: It is notified that claims to South African war medals from civilians employed during the late campaign, will not be entertained after the 31st day of December, 1907. Any applications for these decorations before that date should be addressed to the secretary, war office, London, S. W., accompanied by full particulars as to the nature of the duties performed, the corps to which the applicant was attached, with the names of any officers under whose immediate orders he served.

Rossland, Aug. 15.—John Covello was instantly killed in the White Bear shaft at 4 o'clock this afternoon. He was riding in the skip and accidently fell out when near the 300-foot level, and went hurling down the shaft to the 1000-foot level, striking against the sides on the way. His head was almost severed from his body, and the body was badly mangled. He was a native of Italy, aged 24 years, and has lived in this camp for the past eight years.
