PREMIER ADMITS GREEN TOOK STOCK

Explains That He Did It Merely as a Matter of Personal Friendship, and That It Had Nothing to Do With Business.

The Vancouver Province (McBride organ) of yesterday, has the following:

"Hon. Richard McBride, Premier, has wired The Province as follows from Vernon, concerning the charges against R. F. Green, former Chief Commissioner of Lands and Works:

"'Arrived too late last night to answer your message of January 22 regarding charges against Green. Hasten to state that no coal or oil lands in Peace River District have been allotted to National Transportation Company or any other syndicate, person or persons.

"'Any property acquired by Sir Rudolph Caron or associates has been disposed of strictly in accordance with the laws, though correspondence shows that Green, as personal friend, accepted stock from Caron when company was formed.

"'This had nothing to do, directly or indirectly, with lands or public business and Green, when later concessions were sought in Peace River district by Caron and associates, absolutely refused to grant them.

"'Nothing was done by the ex-Commissioner in connection with any of the departmental business with Caron that was in any way irregular.'

"The Province has so far been unable to reach Mr. Green, as the wires are down at Trout Lake."

Yesterday's World says:

"The condition in which the McBride government finds itself in consequence of the direct charge brought against the administration of the lands and works department in these columns the other day, never had clearer illustration than in the answer which the Hon. F. L. Carter-Cotton, president of the council, speaking at Nor[illegible]ancouver last night gave to a s[illegible]ht question put by Mr. W. DeB[illegible]is, one of the Liberal candidates this city. Mr. Farris asked what a letter from Mr. Green in the [illegible]ns indicated by The World had come before the government. Mr. Carter-Cotton declined to answer till pressed to do so. Under pressure he said this was a cabinet secret which it would be a violation of his oath of office as a cabinet minister to reveal.

The answer was unfortunate, in two particulars. A cabinet secret shared by two men—the two who produced the letter—could not properly be called a cabinet secret at all, and Mr. Cotton's sheltering himself under the plea that it was, cannot fairly be regarded as candid. If no such letter came before the cabinet, it would have been no violation of the oath of office to have said so. If no such letter came before the cabinet, Mr. Cotton is laying himself and his colleagues under a cloud of misunderstanding by refusing to take any and every opportunity of saying so.

POINTERS

"Merely through personal friendship." Very accommodating, indeed.

Are the McBride organs fools; or do they think the electors are?

Suppose, Mr. Merchant, that your buyer accepted valuable presents from wholesalers, would you be satisfied with the explanation that he did it for friendship's sake?

Mr. Creighton admits that the Hon. and only Richard may have made mistakes. He must be looking for trouble.

Conservative Meeting Gives Howay Good Hearing

J. W. Creighton, in his speech last night, at St. Barnabas Hall, admitted that the Premier had made mistakes, but failed to see where the opposition had proposed any remedy. Mr. Creighton then proceeded to inform the audience that he was no talker, in fact, he had no use for a talker, and had noticed that, as a rule, talkers were poor workers. What the people wanted were men of action, men whom they could trust. Mr Creighton having imported this valuable information, resigned the floor to Mr. Howay, the popular Liberal candidate.

Mr. Howay's opening remarks met with great applause. He expressed pleasure in being able to appear once more before the electors, and hoped that the time would soon come when the great issues of the country could be discussed impartially and without malice. He then proceeded to outline the policy of the McBride government during the last three years. Going systematically to work, he ran over the list of promises made by the Government prior to their election to power, and in a concise and masterly manner, pointed out how the McBride government had, not only failed to keep their promises, but actually gone out of their way to further embarrass the financial standing of the Province. The McBride government promised to proceed to the immediate construction of roads and trails. Have they kept their promise? The roads of this country today, said Mr. Howay, are in a shameful condition, and a disgrace to the country. The government promised in the event of grants to railroads, that the said roads would be under the control of the government. The present state of affairs spoke for itself. "I would remind my friend Mr. Creighton," said Mr. Howay, "that in the event of the disposal of coal lands, the government promised to reserve a certain portion for the country, yet McBride himself was in the house when the S. E. Kootenay lands were made over to the C. P. R., Mr. Oliver contesting the action alone. I will not weary you with repetitions of transactions made by the McBride government, as they have been repeated until people are tired of hearing them, but will mention the $1,000,000 loan, and a few of the chief points of their administration. The government borrowed $1,000,000 at 5 per cent., today there is $400,000 of this sum in the bank drawing 3 per cent. interest. Can one imagine anything less business-like than to borrow money at 5 per cent., and then loan it to a bank at 3 per cent."

"Take our educational system. Mr. McBride has practically given the McGill university a cinch on Higher Education, for all time to come, the government claiming at the time, that it was only a temporary arrangement, but from my experience these temporary arrangements are the ones that develop into permanencies."

"The government," continued Mr. Howay, "will proudly point to an increase in the treasury, but how has it been obtained. Let the increase of your taxation answer that question. The Shuswap & Okanagan gets off with a paltry $25,000 per mile tax, including rolling stock and buildings, when it is known that some parts cost $65,000 per mile to build, but the ordinary ratepayers' land is assessed to its full value."

Mr. Howay, having once more outlined the Liberal platform, took his seat amidst great applause.

J. S. Rainey spoke next, and said that Mr. Howay mentioned sometime ago, that he (Rainey) did not take politics seriously, "I may say," said he, "that I do not take politics as seriously as some of Mr. Howay's supporters do," (Laughter) .Mr. Rainey believed that the Labor party were not well represented, and as the only way they could secure recognition, was by being represented by one of the laboring class, he advised the electing of intelligent farmers, mechanics, etc. After a few remarks on the foreign labor element, Mr. Rainey resumed his seat.

J. Burtt Morgan was the next speaker called upon by the chairman.

He thoroughly approved of the remarks made by Messrs. Howay and Rainey as regards amicable argument on great issues, and believed that the time would come when it would be possible. After going over, and defying the opposition to propose any way in which faults made by the government could be rectified, which challenge was taken up and answered in a sensible and reasonable way by Mr. Howay), the meeting was brought to a close in the usual manner.

ADVERTISING SIGNS WILL DIFFUSE LIGHT

City Hall Will Be Illuminated by Means of Sixty-three Electric Globes---Merchants to Be Supplied With Cheap Power.

Increased light for the city streets is one of the chief things that the city aldermen have in view at the present time, and at the committee meeting last evening, they spent a considerable time discussing a proposition to supply advertising light signs to the merchants at a cheap rate, so as to induce them to make the city more attractive by diffusing more light.

Ald. Gray, chairman of the light committee, introduced the subject in bringing in a report concerning the advisibility of erecting an electrical light sign in front of the city hall. After a considerable amount of talking, it was decided to have a sign installed at a cost of $126.30. The sign will contain 63 lights, and will be illuminated on both sides. It will be iron framed, and fourteen feet by eight feet deep. The words "City Hall," will be framed out of colored lights, each letter being three feet high and one foot wide. A similar sign, with lights only on one side, could have been obtained for $86.30, but the aldermen were in a generous mood, and decided to secure the doubly brilliant display board.

"More of these signs are needed in this city," commented Ald. Henley, after the city hall sign had been disposed of. This remark started a discussion on the advisability of providing the merchants with electrical signs at cost price, and furnishing them with light at a reduced rate per kilowat, or preferably at a fixed rate per month, the signs to be lighted from six o'clock until ten every evening, and the rate to be the same summer and winter. The latter plan was decided to be the best, and the final details will be worked at the next meeting of the council to be held on Monday evening. In the opinion of the aldermen, many of the city merchants will instal these signs, and in a few months the city will have a much more business like appearance after dark than is at present the case. The aldermen were unanimous on the advisability of granting cheap rate to merchants requiring light for these electrical displays, and at the figure which will be charged, there will be no profit at all for the city.

Ald. Johnston reported that he had been one of a deputation which had waited upon Mr. Keefer, resident engineer, with a view to finding out whether it would be possible for the Government to provide a boat for the purpose of breaking a channel through the ice on the north arm of the Fraser river. Mr. Keefer informed the deputation that it would be impossible for the government to provide a boat, and upon learning this, the deputation had called upon Mayor Keary and asked his co-operation. An attempt was made to secure a boat from Vancouver, but this also failed. Messrs. Gilley Bros. were then communicated with, and agreed to attempt the work of crushing the ice with their tug Flyer. The cost of the undertaking will be borne by the mill men of the city, and also by the merchants. It was absolutely necessary that the ice should be cleared in that channel, as there were several booms of logs which could not be got to the mills until this was done, and the plants were therefore remaining idle.

A report from Ald. Smith concerning the water situation of the city furnished food for thought for the next few minutes. Sixteen or seventeen houses were still handicapped by having the water pipes frozen, while the B. C. E. R. car shops and the Small and Bucklin fire mains had both bursted some days ago. Mr. Bowler, city electrician, had been working steadily thawing out the pipes along Columbia Street, and there was hopes that all the trouble would be over in a couple of days. Superintendent Stott, who was to have been present at the meeting, had been unable to attend. The outcome of the discussion was that the chairman of the Light Committee was instructed to inform Mr. Bowler that he should continue the task of thawing out the frozen pipes until further orders.

Ald. Garrett brought to the notice of the Council the case of Officer Johnston, of the police force, who has been working on the night shift for several months in anticipation of getting an increase in salary. As chairman of the Police Committee, Ald. Garrett was instructed to consult with the police commissioner, and if they decided upon granting the increase in salary, to include the same in his estimates for the coming year.

Ald.Shiles occupied the chair at the meeting, Mayor Keary being absent.

CATHOLICS PLAN EASTER BAZAAR

Ladies of St. Peter's Cathedral Arrange Details for Big Fete Early in April.

The ladies of St. Peter's Cathedral are planning for a great bazaar, which will be held in St. Patrick's hall shortly after Easter. A number of ladies connected with the church met yesterday and discussed ways and means of making the undertaking a success. The funds derived from the bazaar will be devoted to the improvement of the church property, but more especially to the improvements of the cemetery. The bazaar will have, in addition to other attractions, at least eleven booths, which will be managed over by separate committees. In view of the fact that this will be the first bazaar held in connection with the church for a considerable time, the ladies are confident that their venture will be attended with a complete success, both financially and otherwise.

The following ladies were selected to preside over booths: Mrs. English, fancy work; Mrs. Lavery, high tea; Mrs. Leamy, afternoon tea; Mrs. Crean, candy booth; Mrs. Feeney, plain sewing; Mrs. Goulet, art gallery; Mrs. Diamond, flower table; Mrs. Bowler, raffle table; Mrs. Heaton, doll table; Miss Freeze, music entertainment; Mrs. Eastman, fish pond. His Lordship Bishop Dontenwill was named honorary president, Mrs. E. Goulet, president of the conveners, and the Rev. Father O'Boyle was appointed secretary-treasurer.

Swettenham Resigns.

London, Jan. 25.—There is good reason to believe that Governor Swettenham, of Jamaica, has forwarded his resignation to the colonial office. The officials there say they are not prepared either to confirm or deny the report, but they admit having received telegrams of a confidential character from the governor. It has been fully expected here that a solution of the difficulty would be found in Swettenham's resignation.

HINDUS ASSAULT PORT MOODY MAN

Neil Morrison Is Relieved of Money and Valuables by Brutal Swarthy Assailants.

A resident of Port Moody, named Neil Morrison, called on Chief Spain on Thursday and laid information that he had been mobbed, assaulted and robbed by a bunch of Hindus at Port Moody, on Tuesday last. The Hindus, six in number, met him on the outskirts of the village and without any warning, set upon him from both front and rear. They knocked him down, struck him over the head with clubs, beating him till he was unconscious. They deprived him of his pipe, tobacco, watch and chain, and two dollars in change which he happened to have in his pocket at the time. He was left on the roadside, and when he came too, he was suffering severely from loss of blood, but managed to make the village in safety. He admitted to the chief that he had been drinking at the time of the assault, and might have been somewhat the worse for liquor. Morrison was instructed to have his injured head examined by a doctor and to wait on the chief again yesterday forenoon to give further information as to his assailants. He, however, failed to appear. Provincial Constable Deans, was instructed to go to Port Moody and find out all he could relative to the matter.

Superintendent Stott Soaked.

While attempting to subdue a minature geyser, which was spouting water about seventeen feet in the air on Columbia street yesterday afternoon, Superintendent of water works Stott received a severe drenching which compelled him to go home and lay off for the remainder of the day. A water pipe had burst, and the water, forcing its way to the surface, was soon shooting out in all directions. In order to plug up the leak, which was of considerable size, Mr. Stott had to kneel alongside the waterspout, and drive a wooden plug in the hole in the water main.

Religious Conference.

Plans are almost completed for the fourth annual conference on religion and theology which will be held in this city in May, in connection wth the meeting of the Presbyterian Synod of British Columbia. Eeverything indicates that it will be the most successful of the series. Rev. Dr. Taylar, convener of the committee having the matter in charge, has received word from Rev. Dr. Jordan, Professor of Old Testament literature in Queen's university, promising to be present. Dr. Jordan will deliver a course of six lectures on recent problems. Arrangements have also been completed for a course of three lectures by Rev. E. A. Wicher, Professor of New Testament Interpretation in San Francisco Theological Seminary.

Meeting at Mission.

R. Jardine came in from Mission yesterday where he held a meeting on the previous night. He was assisted by W. W. B McInnes, who made a rousing speech. There was a very large attendance, and the speakers of the evening received close attention and liberal applause.

Hockey Match To-Day.

The return match between Vancouver city and New Westminster will be played off at Trout Lake this afternoon, arrangements for the game having been made between the captains of the two teams yesterday afternoon. Owing to the dispute as to which team really won the game two weeks ago, considerable interest is being taken in the match, and a large crowd of New Westminster sporting enthusiasts will travel over to Trout Lake to see the game pulled off. The names of the players who will represent the Royal City had not been finally decided last night, but several of those who took part in the game in the North Arm will again play today, while a couple of new men with eastern reputations will assist.

Rome, Jan. 25.—Preparations for transferring the remains of Leo XIII. from St. Peters to the Church of St. John are being made. It is reported that Pope Pius will end the traditional custom of extracting the entrails of the deceased pontiff and preserving them in the parish church of the Quirinal, consequently Leo XIII. will be the last Pope to be thus mutilated.

FIRE BOAT NEEDED ON FRASER RIVER

Means Must Be Taken During This Year to Protect Vessels From Conflagrations.

Owing to the large increase in the shipping business that has been done on the river during the past year, and the prospects for a still larger increase this summer, the necessity for a fire patrol boat, which would ply on the river, is beginning to be felt. According to gentlemen well posted on the water front, it is only a matter of time before the city will be called upon to provide fire protection for the many craft that ply on the waters of the Fraser.

Ald. Henley, speaking on this subject yesterday stated that a fire boat had become an absolute necessity along the water front, and he hoped that something would be done towards providing one during the coming year. There are very few shipping centres which are unprotected by a floating station, and their usefulness has been proved time and again. In case of fire at any of the industries that line the river front, such a boat would render valuable services, and the danger of the flames spreading would be greatly reduced.

INSURANCE COMPANY MUST PAY FULL AMOUNT

Earthquake Clause in San Francisco Policies Fails to Protect Six-Bit Underwriters.

San Francisco, Jan. 25.—The earthquake clause upon which many of the insurance companies based their refusal to pay the full amount of policies on losses arising out of the recent disaster in this city, was considered insufficient by the jury which heard the evidence in the case of Thomas Bergin against the Commission Union Assurance company of London. The case has been on trial before Judge Whitson, in the circuit court for two weeks and the verdict was rendered today in favor of the plaintiff, the judgment being for $6,778.

The case was regarded as a test of the earthquake clause and of the right of the companies to exemption.

Louis Essinger, one of Gilley Bros. Co.'s drivers, took a bad tumble yesterday afternoon; as his sleigh swung around one of the corners he pitched off his rig into the road. He sustained a severe cut on his head which required some assistance from Dr. Drew in order to make it comfortable.

TAGS FOR ARMY MEN.

In future wars of the United States there will be no unidentified dead after battles, because hereafter all officers and enlisted men in the American army will be tagged. Acting Secretary of War Oliver has ordered that aluminium disks, inscribed with the officer's or soldier's name, regiment and company, be issued to every regular soldier by the quartermaster's department. These will be worn suspended around the neck under the clothing. The idea of tagging was recently suggested to the general staff by Surgeon General O'Reilly, who has just returned from Switzerland, where he represented the United States at the Red Cross conference. Such a badge of identification is generally used in foreign armies. Thousands of unidentified dead of the civil war now lie in Arlington cemetery, Virginia, and in other national cemeteries.—Philadelphia Record.

China's Fight on Opium.

China has again decreed the abolition of the culture of opium poppies and the use of opium or its products in any of its forms, save medicinal. This action, which comes in the shape of an imperial edict, was the direct result of the report of the Chinese commission appointed to visit this country and Europe, and the edict is signed by the heads of both civil and military affairs. This is not the first attempt of China to free herself from the effects of the opium trade. The first effort was made in 1839. That result led to a war with Great Britain, which profited by the export of opium to China, and as a result of the war the edict was recalled, and China had to pay an indemnity of about $6,000,000.

The McKinley Tomb.

A contract has been let to a Windsor (Vt.) firm for the granite for the sarcophagus in which the bodies of President and Mrs. McKinley will lie at Canton, O. The material will be the green granite quarried only on Ascutney mountain, on the east side of the state. It will be from the same quarry which furnished stone for the Seth Low library of Columbia university. The contract calls for sixteen pieces of stone, the largest of which will weigh nine tons, to form two receptacles eight feet long, four feet wide and three feet deep. The whole will be surmounted by two capstones, the architect endeavoring to carry out the plan of the Napoleon sarcophagus in Paris.

No Wonder He Found It.

The papers relate it as a remarkable fact that Frank Bookwalter of Springfield, O., returned to his childhood's home after an absence of sixty-five years and found a dime that he had lost in a crack in the front steps when he was five years old. There is nothing remarkable in this story. Mr. Bookwalter is described as a millionaire. After sixty-five years' experience in picking up money it would have been a wonder if he had not found his boyhood's dime, especially as he knew where it was. If the lost dime had been Mr. Rockefeller's, he would have found a dollar. Mr. Rockefeller's money breeds.—Life.

A Short Speech.

General von Pitreich, who will take the place of Count Beck at the head of the general staff of Austria, is the second war minister on whom this honor has been conferred. The first was General von John, who is remembered in Austrian military circles because of the remark which he made at a meeting of the equipment board. He said, "I cannot be successful with one pair of trousers." The question under discussion was whether the enlisted men should be supplied with one or two pairs, and he won for the greater number by his short speech.

William as a Matchmaker.

A curious instance of the active part the kaiser takes in arranging the marriages of relatives and friends is recorded. A personal aid-de-camp of his majesty was very much depressed by the lady of his choice giving him a refusal. The same afternoon the kaiser drove to the house of the young lady, the daughter of a wealthy Berlin banker, and pleaded the cause of his aid-de-camp with such eloquence that the marriage took place a month later.

"Micrography."

A post card of the usual size is exhibited at the Bucharest exhibition. On it are written the Bulgarian constitution in full, the opening speeches of various European parliaments and two poems by Rudyard Kipling, 12,000 words in all. The caligraphist, Peter Paikoo of Sofia, spent nine hours a day during three months to accomplish the feat.—London Express.

Turned Out on the Street

Get Out or Sell Out

This is our sad plight at present. The old unsightly store which we have occupied for the last four years is at last to be practically rebuilt and made one of the most beautiful places of business in the city. But until it is ready for us, we will actually be out on the street, for we find it impossible to secure suitable temporary quarters.

We have decided to Sell Out and retire from business until the block is completed

Our entire stock is to be sacrificed. It's a case of have to; we have no other alternative. This store must be cleared of goods before contractors begin work. We are desperately in earnest; to use the slang of the day, "we are up against it," and we must "make good." We can't afford to fool the public; we must give genuine bargains, or the stock won't move.

FRIDAY'S MARKET REPORT

There was a slight improvement in the market yesterday and it sounded quite business like to hear the whistle of the Beaver once more, as it pulled up to the market slip. The down river contingent of market ladies were on board, loaded with eggs, butter and honey.

The florists, for once, were conspicuous by their absence, and the corner which is usually bright with flowers, was bare and empty. There was a fair quantity of poultry, some of which was of excellent quality, and was offered for breeding purposes. The fat poultry was readily snapped up and for some of the birds which were extra choice, very good prices were paid.

There was a marked improvement in the meat offering. Beef came in considerable quantities and for the first time for several weeks, several carcases of veal were offered. There was no mutton on the market. A considerable amount of pork was offered and found a ready market.

Eggs were rather more scarce than they have been at any previous time this season. The cold snap seems to have had a discouraging effect on the feathered denizens of the farm yard.

Potatoes were offered in quantities about equal to the demand.

Turbah is far more respectable looking than the majority of his brothers in the faith, and wears a tailor-made suit, starched white shirt, four-inch collar with a heavy, soft, silk neckwear, ornamented with a heavy, gold stickpin. He also wears a few other articles of clothing, but these are the most conspicuous. The police magistrate will attempt to solve the mystery of Tervah's downfall, this morning.

THE LATEST SCANDAL.

The charge having been made that Mr. Green, then Chief Commissioner of Lands and Works, accepted a block of stock in a company formed for the purpose of acquiring and developing valuable coal lands in British Columbia—Mr. Green, as Chief Commissioner, being the official to whom the application for these lands would be made, we have:

From Mr. Green himself (who is said to be out of touch with the telegraph wires)—not a word.

Coupled with the charge is the further assertion that the whole matter came before the Cabinet last May, all the members except Mr. Fulton, being present, and from these other members we have:

Mr. Tatlow—A blank refusal to talk.

Mr. Cotton—A statement that it would be a violation of his oath to say what took place in the Cabinet.

Mr. McBride—First a straight denial that "one acre" of land had been leased; then (after a Lands and Works clerk had said that the leases had been given), a declaration that any loans granted had been granted in a strictly legal way; and that there was nothing irregular about the transaction, "though correspondence showed that Green, as personal friend, had accepted stock from Caron when company was being formed."

Is comment necessary? We do not think so. Read the Premier's own words, quoted from his own organ, and if, after that, you can support the McBride party, do not dare again to prate of political honesty or of patriotism.

A good story comes from Rossland, says the Victoria Times, regarding the recent meeting held in that city by Premier McBride. It is as follows: A brawny miner, becoming tired of the "hot air" being dispensed, made his way from the meeting, and at the door was met by another miner just entering, who inquired, "Who's speaking now?" "Premier McBride." "What's he talking about?" asked the newcomer. "I dunno; he didn't say!" replied the disgusted one.

The Delta Times says: "If Mr. McKenzie has been as extravagant in his promises of public works in other parts of the Riding as he has been in this municipality he will require an appropriation of about $100,000 to make good. Our opinion is that Mr. McKenzie has missed his vocation, but as an author of ridiculous fiction he would be a great success. We can imagine the immense sale his "Fairy Tales for the Amusement of Gullible Voters" would have if printed in book form."

Saith the Victoria Colonist: "The Colonist does not know anything about the relations between the G. T. P. managers on the one hand and Messrs. E. V. Bodwell, Peter Larsen, and James Anderson on the other; nor is it particularly interested therein." No wonder. The very fact that the Bodwells, Larsens and Andersons had anything at all to do with the Kaien island deal was enough to prove that the government did not deal directly with the G. T. P. If the Colonist were to know too much it might be compelled to make admissions. So it prefers not to know.—Nelson News.

A Case in Point.

A correspondent of the Delta Times writes, "It is not very often that the people of Delta have an opportunity to judge of the efficiency of the Provincial Government as illustrated by their manner of spending the money which they are so keen to collect from the farmers and other taxpayers, but we have had one such instance and I think if we form any opinion of the present Administration from what was observed at that time we cannot help but condemn them as extravagant and wasteful in the extreme.

WINDSOR SALT—because it's pure, fine, clean, dry, piquant—is used by most people all the time.

I refer to the repairing of the school building at Ladner, some two or three years ago. When this was done, no tenders were called for and no opportunity was given to local contractors or mechanics to take any part in the work. Instead a certain Peter Peebles, of New Westminster, together with several other favorites, were sent down here to make the necessary repairs. And what was the result? For finishing one room, putting in a staircase and repainting the building the cost to the taxpayers was in excess of $1600. The first cost of this building was about $1800, which included the finishing of three rooms and the construction of necessary fences and outbuildings so that Mr. Peebles and his assistants received for the small amount of work which they did, nearly as much as the entire building had cost. I may add that a great deal of adverse comment was made at the time by people of both political parties resident in the town who could not help expressing themselves strongly against this wanton use of public funds. About the only one who had anything to say in defence of this "job" was the gentleman who is at present the Conservative nominee for this Riding.

Argentina.

The future prospects of Argentina are very bright, there being no ground for doubting that the country will continue to flourish. The nation is at peace with its neighbors, internally more settled and revolutions appear to have had their day. Immigration is increasing and every condition indicating prosperity is present. The riches lie in the pastoral and agricultural industries. The country will never become a great manufacturing country, due to the fact that it has no coal or iron. There is, however, much more to be done in the industrial field than is being done at present, but this will only come about when the development of the country is greater and raw materials are produced which are imported today. This will come about when there is more population and the provinces become producers as well as consumers. Today much raw material is destroyed. There is produced from half a million to a million tons of flax seed a year and the fibre is all burned in the threshing machines. There is produced up to six million tons of corn and nothing is done with stalk or cob once the grain is threshed out. These are only two instances of many that could be cited.—Dun's Review.

NOT IMPRESSED.

Clark Howell of the Atlanta Constitution enjoys telling how in his early days in the newspaper field he was visited by a Georgia farmer, having his seventeen-year-old son in tow, and who upon entering the office said, "I came to git some information, Mr. Howell." "I shall be glad to afford you any that I can," politely responded Howell. "Well," said the farmer, "this boy o' mine wants to go into the literary business, an' I thought you would know if there was any money in it. It's a good business, ain't it?" "Well, yes," said Howell after some little hesitation. "I've been in it myself for some years, and"—whereupon the farmer eyed him from head to foot, glanced around the poorly furnished office, surveyed the editor once more, then, turning to his son, said, "Come 'long home, Jim, an' git back to your plowin'."—Harper's Weekly.

The regular sitting of the county court will take place on Feb. 5, before the Hon W. Norman Bole. There are a number of cases awaiting consideration.

The hearing of the Spiers case, which was to have taken place today, has been once more remanded on account of the witnesses being in Seattle, and there not being time enough to get them back for the trial.

Heard outside the Liberal-Conservative committee rooms, just before the Sapperton car arrived, which was to take the crowd out to Howay's meeting. "Hurrry up now, get the gang together, and let's get out there good and early."

An old man, gathered in by the police yesterday morning while suffering from electioneering lubricating oil, was allowed to depart, after having spent some time pondering on the follies of old age in the police cells. It was his first fall from grace, and Chief McIntosh was lenient on account of his grey hairs.

A steriopticon service will be conducted in the Salvation Army barracks this evening by Capt Davey. The subject of the service is entitled "Wilhe Will's Wings," or "A Gambling Story Played out." Seventy colored views will be thrown upon the canvas and the story is said to be particularly interesting.

Word was received yesterday that in Winnipeg, on Thursday, the thermometer dropped lower than it had been before within the memory of many of the oldest inhabitants. West of Moosejaw, for a considerable area yesterday, one of the severest blizzards known for many years was raging.

Report comes from the hatcheries that the eggs during the past season have all hatched out and that the small fry are doing well. The supply secured during the past season was the largest ever secured in any "small run" year, and would have been much larger but for the heavy floods which were prevalent during the season when the spawn was collected.

The B. C. Mills, Timber and Trading company has received a contract to supply 500 ready made houses to be used in the Northwest territories. A number of the houses are to be used by the Bank of Commerce, and the Northern Bank. The buildings will be so constructed as to provide the necessary room for the business of the bank and the manager's residence.

So deep did the political fire burn in the veins of a couple of citizens yesterday afternoon, that they decided to settle the dispute by means of their fists. They went at it with a will and blood soon commenced to flow. The appearance of Chief McIntosh on the scene was timely and he soon got in between the combatants and sent them home to repent, with the lock-up as an alternative.

Constable Deans left for the other side of the river yesterday, to investigate a rumor to the effect that Japanese camp workers were playing havoc among the pheasants and living high on pheasant pie. The complaint was received from a trustworthy source and it is hoped by the police and game guardians, that a conviction will be secured so as to make an example of the offenders.

The Chinese laundrymen on Front street believe in a distribution of labor, and yesterday they had about six Hindus busy sawing wood for them. There were about a couple of cords to saw, and there was still a considerable quantity to cut when night fell upon the scene. The whole six operators were apparently working very hard all day, but somehow their efforts did not seem to have much effect on the pile.

Amateur gardeners, farmers, nurserymen and market gardeners should take the first opportunity of securing a Sutton's Seed List for 1907, which is now ready at the sole agents, the Brackman-Ker Milling Co., Front St., New Westminster, B. C. The seeds this year are reported to be the finest ever put on the market by the famous Reading Seed House, Messrs. Sutton & Sons, who have the honor of being seedsmen to His Majesty King Edward VII.

L. Adams, a son of George Adams, was seriously injured yesterday forenoon while coasting down a hill near his father's residence. He collided with some kind of an obstruction and had to be carried home. The lad vomited a lot of blood and seemed to be injured internally. Drs. Walker and Kenny were called and later in the day, Dr. Drew was invited in to consult with them. The doctors also visited the lad last night and are at a loss to know just what the exact extent of the injury is and state that it will be impossible to know how things will turn out for a day or two.

The latest idea along the line of pipe thawing was witnessed yesterday on Columbia street, when City Electrician Bowler, in conjunction with foreman Stott, of the water works department, proceeded to thaw out a number of frozen pipes by means of electric juice. The apparatus used was mounted on a rig, and consisted of a barrel of water, coils of wire, and a supply of electrical tools. The vehicle was drawn up beside a live wire pole and connected with the power. The power was turned on and inside of seventeen minutes, 250 amperes of electrical current was being brought to bear on the frozen pipes which speedily yielded to the influence and allowed the water to run once more.

The Beaver came in from Steveston yesterday forenoon in nice time for the vendors of market produce to meet their customers. The vessel went out again in the afternoon rather later than usual, and also expects to take the down river run today. The officers report that the river was in good shape and fairly free from ice. The only difficulty experienced was in getting through the slough to Ladner landing. The ice had been partly broken and the landing was made after a little care and trouble. The Transfer will today make a couple of trips down the river to Sunbury and Ewen's landing for cargoes of hay. On Monday, unless there is a very solid freeze up, the Beaver will make an attempt to reach some of the up river points.

Gilley Bros. Co.'s steam tug Flyer, yesterday morning started on the contract of breaking the ice on the north arm of the Fraser, and reopening it for navigation. A scow was placed in front of the boat and a trip to the Lulu island bridge was made in short order. The channel, which had been previously made, was considerably widened. It was discovered that the sharp edges of the ice were cutting into the scow and a return was made to the wharf and a considerable quantity of sheet iron was secured with which to make things safe. The scow was then taken over to Lulu Island and beached for the purpose of putting on the iron sheeting. It is expected all will be in readiness for an early start today, an that a big step will be taken towards completing the job before night.

FOR THE LITTLE ONES.

How Four Clever Monkeys Outwitted a Hive of Bees.

Four monkeys sat under a tree in an Indian forest. One monkey was seen to busy himself in smearing one of the others with red clay earth. When he had succeeded in entirely covering his companion the three disappeared, leaving the other a mass of clay but for two small holes, through which peered a pair of cunning eyes. Then the bedaubed monkey was seen to climb to the hollow of a tree where there was a beehive. The bees buzzed about the intruder, but all they could do was to leave their sting in his clay coat. At last they swarmed away in despair, and the clever monkey helped himself to the honeycomb. And then the other monkeys came out of their hiding place and proceeded to pick off the clay covering from their brother. This done they set to work at the honeycomb and finished it to the satisfaction of all four.

In Doubt.

Many persons, old as well as young, are often in doubt as to the use of "in" or "at" before the name of a city, a town or an institution. The following illustrations will show how they are used by the best writers: In is used before the names of countries and of large cities; as, "He lives in America," "He has a house in Chicago." At is used before the names of houses, institutions and small towns; as, "Duties are received at the custom house." If a city be regarded merely as a locality, it is customary to use at before the name; as, "He was crowned at Paris."—Chicago News.

Might Be Worse.

When the poet Wordsworth died an old lady at Ambleside lost no time in telling the mournful news to an old and confidential manservant. "Ey, ey!" quoth Thomas. "It's a gre't loss nae doot, but efter a' it may not be sic a parlish loss as ye're coontin' on. Mrs. Wordsworth, they say, is a gey, clever body, and she'll be carryin' on the business, we may be sewer."

Confidence.

Father (to aspirant to the hand of his daughter)—Suppose I should fail and lose my last cent, would you still ask me for my daughter? Lover—Naturally. I know you to be a man capable of getting to work again and making another fortune.—Il Mondo Umoristico.

No matter how witty the sarcastic man is, he never seems to have a lot of friends.—Somerville Journal.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Matter intended for this column should be addressed, "Social Editor, Daily News, P. O. Box 402, New Westminster."

C. C. Fisher, government agent, is among the latest victims of la grippe, and was confined to his home yesterday.

On Tuesday, Rev. J. S. Henderson will go to Mission to attend the induction of Rev. C. McDermid, to the pastorate of the Presbyterian church at that place.

The Hon. Richard McBride arrived in the city about one o'clock this morning. He addressed a meeting at Eburne last night.

John Oliver returned yesterday from an electioneering trip to the Okanagan Valley.

D. Morrison, of Westbourne, Man., arrived in the city yesterday.

W. Emerson, who has been seriously ill at his home for some time, was reported to be slightly better yesterday.

Miss Violet Ladner is the guest of Sheriff and Mrs Armstrong.

Secoud Night in "Posterland."

"Cupid in Posterland" played to a crowded house last night. From the curtain raising to the singing of the of the curtain to the singing of the National Anthem, the comedy went with a swing that would put to shame some of the professional shows that have visited this city.

With confidence born of Thursday night's success, the amateurs acquitted themselves in a manner that does credit to themselves, and to Mr. Evans, who has trained the company. C. D. Peele, in the role of Laughing Jim, was a show in himself, and certainly earned his "celery;" his gags bringing down the house. Mr. Gordon was also the recipient of a handsome bunch of —— cabbages, so the floral tributes were not confined to the ladies. This afternoon's matinee will close the performance, and New Westminster theatre goers will, no doubt, long remember the smiling faces, and pretty choruses of "Cupid in Posterland."

The Pollards.

These popular little players will be here on Monday and Tuesday. There is no need to introduce them to the New Westminster theatre-going public, for we know them of old and have thoroughly appreciated their efforts on former occasions. Since we last saw them they have been in the great San Francisco earthquake, have opened the big new theatre in Winnipeg and have travelled all over the Dominion, passing through many strange experiences that would be remarkable for any other kids of their age. It is said that their acting is more finished than ever, which is saying a good deal. They will play "In Town" on Monday and "The Mikado" on Tuesday.

Striking Arguments.

The proper kind of political spirit was displayed by two well known politicans last evening, when, failing to convince each other of the opposing party's defects, they resorted to blows as the handiest means of settling the vexed question. The encounter took place on the six o'clock city car, and although the strenuosity of the argument was interupted by the onlookers shortly after it started, the Liberal supporter made a strong impression on his Conservative adversary. The damage to the car consists of a broken window, through which the Tory made a partial exit in order to avoid the striking arguments of his liberal friend.

Landslide Covers Tracks.

Bellingham, Jan. 25.—A slide of earth and stone 1,000 feet long has covered the Bellingham Bay & British Columbia railway between Maple Falls and Warwick and transportation to the Mount Baker district is confined to wagons. A force of men is trying to remove the debris in time to begin the operation of trains by Monday. The avalanche covers the track to a depth of from one to three feet.

Mining Work Suspended.

Grand Forks, B. C., Jan. 25.—Owing to the great depth of snow and bad roads, development work on all the Franklin camp properties has been discontinued until about April 1. In the meantime extensive preparations are in progress to put several properties on a sound shipping basis. Among the early shippers will be the Glouster, M. S. McKinley and Maple Leaf.

The members of the Royal City lodge, I.O.O.F., held a very successful reunion last evening. A large number of Vancouver Oddfellows came over to take part in the affair.
