NTH AVENUE GRADING WILL BE COMMENCED SOON

lengthy report on the water sit- n was received from Superinten- Stott of the city water system. elucidating to great length on ause and effect of the periodic ge of water, he proposed that s be taken at an early date to- constructing another reservoir Queen's park. The report gave a prehensive outline of what the posed reservoir should be, and af- citing expert opinion obtained e years ago as to the construction pipe line leading to it in order get the best results in the matter pressure, etc. Mr. Stott suggested arrangements be made for the mencement of work on the reser- soon after the conclusion of the ndition.

Ald. Johnston expressed the opin- that as the matter was of con- erable importance, it would be well refer the document to the water mittee and that a whole evening taken up in the near future in dis- ing the report and the proposition construct anothe rreservoir. This on was accordingly taken.

A resolution was moved by Ald. ine and passed to the effect that city clerk be authorized to call for ders for supplying the corporation th horse feed, hay, oats, etc.

The following communications received attention:

In reply to Mayor Keary's request that early steps be taken to move the C. P. R. track nearer to the water front where it crosses the foot of Eighth street, General Superintendent F. F. Busteed, of the C. P. R., wrote stating that the matter had been turned over to their Mr. Arundel, and that the work would probably be done at an early date.

G. A. Keefer, Dominion resident engineer, wrote stating that he was forwarding a blue print of the diagram showing the heights reached by the freshets in the Fraser river during the years 1894 to 1907 inclusive, from observations taken at Mission bridge. He suggested that the plan be placed in the Carnegie library for the information of the public. The points were accepted and the thanks of the council will be tendered to Mr. Keefer.

The Bond Sign company, on behalf of the Lipton Tea company, applied for the privilege of erecting a metal sign on lot one, near Albert Crescent. They offered $25 per annum for the privilege. Referred to finance committee for report.

E. J. Fader forwarded plans of the proposed subdivision of lot 6, block 3, with a request that they receive the approval of the council. The mayor was authorized to sign the plans.

A letter from William Nelson and Thomas Kennedy, dated August 6, in which complaint was made against the delay in building a sidewalk along Third street to their residences, was read by Acting Clerk N. H. McQuarrie. They reminded the council that application had been made for the walk some time before. On motion, the request was referred to the board of works for a report.

W. J. Kerr wrote soliciting a share of the city's fire insurance business. The writer claimed to represent several leading English and Canadian companies.

The request was referred to the financee committee.

Hugh McDonald applied to have a four inch water main extended to blocks 5 and 6, lots 757 and 758 Lulu island, where he in partnership with F. L. Johnson, he is about to erect a mill. The writer stated that the water was required for operating the saw mill and for fire protection purposes.

The application was referred to the water committee for a report.

F. L. Johnston, who was present, stated that construction of the proposed mill would be commenced some time next week.

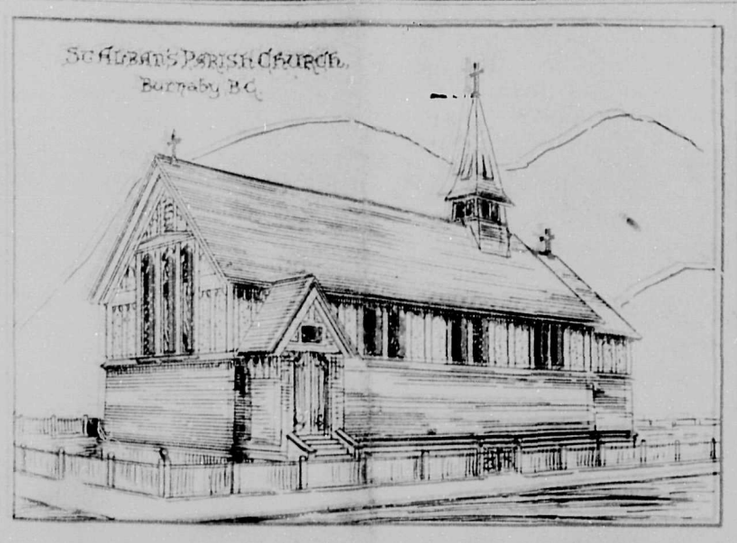
A letter was received from F. C. Meyers, local agent of the Great Northern railway, applying for the right to draw water from the city service for the use of their locomotives. The request was referred to the water committee with power to act.

Ida E. D. Fearn applied for the installation of electric lights in the new house which she has just erected at the corner of Tenth avenue and Thirteenth street within the city limits. Referred to the light committee with power to act.

No less than forty nine rate payers petitioned the council to have repairs effected to the Lulu island road within the city limits. The petition was signed by Nels Nelson and nearly all the merchants of the city.

It was pointed out by the petitioners that the road was coming more and more into use, as it is an inlet from the adjacent municipality of Richmond and therefore the highway shoud be put in a thoroughly passable condition. On motion of Ald. Henley, seconded by Ald. Johnston, it was resolved to have the board of works carry out the work without delay.

P. F. Venables wrote stating that he had forwarded plans of the wharf which he contemplates erecting on water lots 77 and 78, in case his application for a lease of them is favorably considered. He asked that a reply be given at an early date. The letter was referred to the finance committee for consideration.



Proposed new church being erected by popular subscription.

Plans for the erection of a church in Burnaby have been submitted and approved, and the work of building will be commenced almost immediately. The church, which is, to be known as St. Alban, is to be situated on a site given by a supporter of the movement for the building of a church in Burnaby, and subscriptions are being asked for among the adherents of the Church of England, and any others who may be interested in the spiritual development of the district.

The church will be so situated that it will be easily accessible for a large number of residents in the parish, as well as for a number of people within the city limits, who live a considerable distance from either of the other two churches of the same denomination.

Subscriptions may be sent to the Canadian Bank of Commerce, New Westminster, to the credit of St. Alban's church fund, or to any member of the committee, which consists of: D. Dunlop, vicar, Sapperton; B. G. Walker, warden; P. B. Brown, J. Clifford, R. Featherstonhaugh, E. Stride, W. J. Walker and A. Wedge.

CANNERYMEN MAY CLOSE PLANTS FOR TWO YEARS

Scarcity of Sockeye Responsible For Proposed Drastic Measure on Part of Financial Dictators of Fraser River—Season's Catch Is Lowest On Record.

It is reported from Vancouver that the canneries of the Fraser River Canners' association have decided to shut down business until 1909, which, according to the adopted method of figuring the prospects, will be the next big sockeye year.

This year has been a sore touch to the canners, and unless a run takes place before the end of the season, the pack will be the lowest on record. The year 1904 was a losing one for the canneries, yet this year the pack so far is less than one half of the 1904 pack, with only five days of the season yet remaining.

Although no confirmation of the rumor could be obtained from the local members of the Canners' association, yet it is almost certain that they will stand out for a close season from now until 1909. The same feeling is said to exist among the canners of Puget sound, and there is a strong probability that the Canadians and Americans will co-operate towards securing a close season.

The association will hold a meeting in the near future to discuss the proposition.

Inspector of Fisheries C. B. Sword stated last evening that no applications had yet been received for an extension of the closed season after the 25th inst., and he had no reason for believing that an extension of the time would be made.

JOHN D. ASKED FOR BIG CONTRIBUTION

Caring Naught for Recent Fine, Minister Asks Rockefeller For $100,000,000.

New York, Aug. 19.—A special to the Tribune from Cleveland, Ohio, says John D. Rockefeller was invited to contribute $100,000,000 to the cause of evangelism yesterday. Shortly after hearing the invitation made from the pulpit of the Euclid Avenue Baptist church, by the Rev. Courtland Myers, of New York, Mr. Rockefeller grasped the preacher's hand cordially and invited him to Forest Hill to dinner. Mr. Myers, in his sermon, attacked newspapers, charging them with responsibility for the impression that present day conditions, economic as well as sociological, are rapidly nearing a crisis which might cause a revolution.

Incidentally, he praised Mr. Rockefeller's recent utterance, in which he pleaded for "fair play" for big corporations, Mr. Myers adding his own appeal for a square deal, and predicting that "the present attitude of misrepresentation, misunderstanding and criticsm cannot long be endured."

TWO HUNDRED ACRES SOLD ON SATURDAY

Deal in Burnaby Property Means Turnover of About $40,000.

A deal was completed on Saturday last whereby 200 acres of land situated in Burnaby municipality, between the B. C. Electric railway track where it passes the Burnaby power station and the city limits, changed hands for a sum said to be in the neighborhood of $40,000. The property was owned by a Vancouver syndicate, and was purchased by a syndicate of New Westminster men. It is reported that the deal was negotiated by Messrs. Malins & Coulthard.

The land in question is situated in a very advantageous location northwest of the city, and will be bisected by the proposed new B. C. Electric interurban line, which will shortly be constructed from the foot of Twelfth street almost in a direct line to the corner of Tenth avenue and Twentieth street and thence to the Burnaby power station. The intention of the company in building this portion of track is to avoid the heavy grade which their cars have to overcome on the present Twelfth street line.

CONSTABLES DISGRACED MAGISTRATE CENSURED

Northern Officers Responsible for Outrages Among Indians—One Goes to Pen.

Vancouver, Aug. 19.—That the responsibility for the murders committed by the Indian Gun-a-Noot in the north last year, and for further bloodshed that may be expected, rests on the magistrate at Hazelton and the constables of the district, is the charge made by Rev. W. H. Pierce, for twenty-six years a missionary in those parts, and few will be found to contradict the misisonary's statement in face of the evidence recently produced before County Court Judge Young at Port Simpson. A story of shameless debauchery of Indian girls by the peace officers of the district and apparently a stupid adherence to the cause of these same officers against the missionary on the part of the magistrate at Hazelton, was brought out at the trial that produced severe strictures from the bench on magistrate and officers alike, and left little doubt that both badly needed replacing.

To the credit of British Columbia justice, Judge Young has given one of the constables, Charles Stephenson, three years in the penitentiary while another, named Martin, was stripped of his star by the court for disgraceful conduct in the same connection.

It appears that both Martin and Stephenson have made a practice of having young Indian girls in their cabins. The trouble came to a head recently when the father of one girl refused Martin entry to his house and called a meeting of the Indians to which he invited the missionary as interpreter.

The meeting took place in July, and as one result of it, the particular girl in the case whose father objected, was married to a young Indian by Rev. Mr. Pierce. There were no banns or licence and with astonishing absurdity, the man Martin arrested Mr. Pierce for marrying the Indian contrary to the provisions of the statute. This was apparently his method of getting even with the missionary. It was still more astonishing that Magistrate Hicks-Beach at Hazelton, should send the missionary up for trial, but he did, and towards the end of July the trial took place before Judge Young as related, when Mr. Pierce was commended by the court and the prosecuting parties suffered sorely for their conduct.

McGuigan's Job Filled.

St. Paul, Aug. 19—An announcement was made today to the effect that Howard James is to be the new first vicepresident of the Great Northern Railway He is to have charge of the entire operating department, the position made vacant by the resignation of F. H. McGuigan on Aug. 1.

FISHERY REPORT IS VOLUMINOUS

Work of Commission is Almost Completed—Statistics In Compact Form.

The sturgeon, for which there was no regular fishery even so recently as 1890, though seven years later bringing upwards of $50,000 to the Fraser river fishermen, comes in for attention, and a strict protective policy, similar to that adopted in the case of the depleted sturgeon fishery in New Brunswick, appears to be the only method of restoration. Artificial hatching has not apparently been successful hitherto, and reliance must be placed on the natural spawning beds of this valuable fish, which yields caviar, isinglass, and oil apart from the fesh and other products. Smelt, pichard, anchovy, true cod, black cod or skil, colaccan, red cod, cultus cod, etc., are also included in the review, and the remunerative shell-fish industries, still in their infancy, such as the oyster, clam, abalone or ear-shells and other kinds are referred to, more or less in detail.

It will be a surprise to most British Columbians to learn from the commissioners' report that there are over thirty different kinds of edible shellfish on the prolific Pacific shores of this province, omitting such molluscs as the octopus and various cuttlefish, which are highly esteemed as table delicacies in many countries. In Italy and most Mediterranean lands these shellfishes are said to surpass the oyster in flavor and delicacy. The vexed dog-fish question occupies several pages in the report, and it is worth noticing that the commissioners favor the utilization of this fish not merely for oil and glue and guano; but for food.

There is already an increasing demand for this fish in Boston, New York and other eastern cities.

References to the newly developed whale fisheries of the province are of special interest and the vastness of the whaling resources and of the profitable nature of the industry are demonstrated by the commissioners though they express their conviction that protective measures are called for before the British Columbia schools of whales are decimated as happened years ago in the case of the whales of California.

Towards the end of the report (Part I) the important question of fish culture, of salmon and trout hatcheries, and the planting of lob-

A change in the day of the weekly gun shoot at Moody square has been decided upon, and in future the clay pigeon smashers will repair to the traps on Tuesdays instead of Wednesdays as in the past. A shoot for an oyster supper is the latest incentive to the keen sighted boys.

ELECTRICITY USED FOR MILKING COWS

Time-Honored Hand Method Superseded By Modern Mechanism—Cows Like It

Cows are to be milked, eggs hatched and crops cultivated by electricity in the lower Fraser valley after this, and the problem of farm labor is solved. There is no job on a farm which it is harder to get help for than milking. Farm hands for any kind of work are hard enough to get when they are most wanted, but even those who are available have an objection to the milking stool and the musical squirt of the lacteal fluid as it leaves the cud-chewing bovine and strikes the pail.

Joseph Steves, of Lulu Island, has already had his barn piped. The system requires a specially made receptacle for the milk, which stands between every two cows. Tubes from this fasten to the cows' teats. The ends of the tubes are composed of rubber rings, which are given a vibratory contractile motion by the creation of a vacuum. The whole works are attached to a pipe along the wall of the cowshed, which pipe is attached to a motor that alternately creates and fills up the vacuum, thus drawing the milk from the cow very nearly as is done by the human hand, and doing it in about five minutes.

There will be a large number of electric incubators in operation on Lulu island and around Ladner next spring. These keep an even temperature, with no attention whatever.

On the whole, it is evident that electricity is to work a revolution in farming wherever the B. C. Electric Railway company can carry its power. Among other things, a three-horse motor can run a cheap refrigerating plant in a dairy and keep it at any temperature the farmer needs in the hottest weather.

Shareholders Criticize Hays.

London, Aug. 18—The action of the Grand Trunk directorate in regard to the pension fund continues to be the subject of much criticsm. One leading financial paper describes the fall in stocks as a direct result. It was, this paper says, a gratutious piece of cynicism on their part to allow junior securities to appreciate in accordance with the growth in revenue and then invent, without notice, a new use for the surplus earnings, thus destroying confidence and sowing discontent. The dissatisfied party asks if the G. T. R. board has any idea beyond obeying the behests of a dominating general manager who cares much for the railway, but very little for the shareholders.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Patrick, of Revelstoke, are in the city on a holiday trip. Mr. Patrick is an engineer on the C. P. R. Imperial Limited running west from Revelstoke.

sters, Atlantic oysters, etc., are treated and an extended scheme due to the efforts of Hon. William Templeman is outlined for advancing this essential work, which the Dominion government have already shown that they fully understand, the three or four new hatcheries now being erected furnishing ample evidence of it. Ten or twelve new hatcheries are strongly urged by the commissioners and sites on Vancouver island, the interior, and the northern mainland coast are specified for early consideration by the government. Game fish and angling are not excluded, and the commissioners have dealt very fully and in a highly interesting manner with the complex and difficult matter of Indian fishing claims. They rightly point out that the fish never were of any market value until a white population settled in the province. The advent of the white man made the fish commercially valuable and in this the Indians have fully shared, some of them making annually quite handsome incomes. The absolute necessity of fish as food for the aboriginal tribes along the coast is fully admitted; but the interests of a vast and growing state like the province of British Columbia cannot be subordinated, and the destruction of salmon on their spawning beds as carried on in early days prior to civilization; the capture of myraids of small infant salmon, a few inches long, to be dried for food; the obstruction of salmon of their way to the breeding areas by huge barricades, and stone walls erected across important streams, are matters fully dealt with in this report. The commissioners claim that these abuses which may endanger industries of immense value to the whole province in the future can be effectively dealt with without in any way curtailing the legitimate supply of fish food required by the Indians. This part of the report is of exceptional interest and importance. Many minor fishery questions are treated in the pages which are here reviewed; but cannot be noticed now. It is not too much to say that the report of this important fishery commission, Part I of which is completed and has been submitted to the Dominion government, and Part II of which is now in progress, marks an epoch in the great fishing industries of the province. The report cannot fail to attract wide attention and will awaken the public mind to the value of the fishery resources, many of which are still neglected if not actually wasted.

The Dominion government did a wise thing in appointing a commission capable of gathering together so much valuable information. The field to be covered by the commissioner's investigations would take many years to completely report on; but the present report which on many pages recommends immediate fishery investigations by qualified authorities, is of great value and is full of interest. One important outcome will be the founding of a biological school of fishery research by the federal government, and another will be the formation of a new and more satisfactory set of fishery laws and regulations.

REAL BAD MAN.

San Quentin Convict Runs Amuck Among Trustees.

San Francisco, Aug. 19.—Jake Oppenheimer, a convict in San Quentin, exceded the boldest of his exploits within the penitentary walls Saturday night. Under the very noses of two guards set especially to watch him, he sawed through thirteen steel bars in his cell, escaped to the prison diningroom, and there, running amuck in rage, fatally stabbed a trusty, and was only recaptured after a furious fight. The trusty will probably die from the knife wounds.

Oppenheimer was first sent to Folsom under a life sentence for murder. He had not been there long before he quarreled with a fellow convict, and slew him. He was such a firebrand among the prisoners, that he was transferred to San Quentin. Here, in a desperate attempt to escape, he stabbed one guard almost to death, and wounded another guard, who finally succeeded in knocking him senseless with a heavy cane.

ORIENTAL JUGGLERS.

Feats Performed by Chinese and East Indian Magicians.

"During a trip through the far east I was much impressed with the wonderful feats performed by some of the Chinese and Indian jugglers and sleight of hand artists," said a Chicago man the other day. "In American theaters we see some skillful work along these lines, but the performer is usually at a considerable distance from the spectators and could employ many aids that the orientals do not use.

"I have seen Chinese and Indian magicians come on board a ship and in the center of a circle of passengers perform tricks that are little short of marvelous. For instance, one of the Chinese would ask a spectator to place a coin in the latter's hand. The Chinaman would close the fingers one after another over the piece of money and then, by passing his hands over the closed fist of his "subject," would in some mysterious manner extract the coin. I have had this trick worked on me a number of times, and I am no nearer to knowing how it is done than I was the first time.

"Then I have seen an Indian magician come out on deck, place a small seed on the planks, pour a little water over it, cover with a small cloth for a moment and then remove the cloth to disclose a living plant a foot or more high. These fellows do not wear long, baggy sleeves in which a piano might almost be concealed, but have bare arms. There is said to be a clan of jugglers, among whom the secrets of the craft are jealously preserved and handed down from father to son."—Detroit Free Press.

Followed His Pipe.

An old Hungarian countryman had smoked the same pipe for more than fifty years and as a natural consequence had grown to love it as a companion. One day, however, his infant grandson smashed the pipe beyond all hope of repair. The old man was so broken hearted at his loss that he hanged himself on a peg. In his pocket was found a scrap of paper on which was scribbled, "My pipe is done for, and I must go too."

Sparing the Smasher.

"I told you," said the merchant, "to mark this box 'Handle With Care.' What's this nonsense you've painted here?"

"That," said the college graduate, "is the Latin for 'Handle With Care.'"

"How do you expect a baggageman to understand that?"

"He won't and therefore he won't get mad and smash the box."—Philadelphia Press.

For Feminine Jurors.

In breach of promise cases the presence of female jurors among the male jurors would certainly benefit the men, as they would at once see through the wiles of their own sex, disconnect the picture hat and the pretty gown and disclose the hussy at heart in the pleading, innocent betrayed one.—Lady Violet Greville in London Opinion.

IGNORANT OR AFRAID?

There is one thing only which is more astounding than the knowledge displayed by the McBride organs, and that is—their ignorance. They know—at least so they tell us—not only everything that is discussed in the executive chamber at Ottawa, but even the motives which lie behind the words spoken and the action taken. They can—they continually do—tell us things about Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his colleagues which those gentlemen themselves could not tell us, for they not only know, as we said, all about the things which the Ottawa government does, but they are thoroughly familiar with all their future plans, nay, they can fortell those plans—before they have even been conceived in the minds of the men who are to carry them out. "Wonderful" is a weak word when one comes to speak of the extent of their knowledge.

Wonderful as this knowledge is in itself, however; it appears still more amazing when one puts it in contrast with their ignorance. Knowing all about the actions, the motives, the plans, of the Ottawa government, to which they are opposed, with which they are not in sympathy, to whose confidence they are not admitted, they are yet absolutely and blankly ignorant—quite in the dark—as to the actions, motives and plans of the McBride government at Victoria, whose organs they are. Now and then they treat us to a little laudation, as fulsome as it is ridiculous, of the premier or one of his colleagues; but they do not explain, they do not defend, they do not show the connection between the prosperity of the country and the policy of the government. Liberals have often pointed out the relation between cause and effect in dealing with the question of the influence of Ottawa policy on the growth of the Dominion, but when a McBride paper does attempt to say anything by way of showing that the policy of the Victoria government has contributed to the prosperity of British Columbia, it confines itself to vague generalities; and when the organs are challenged on special points, what have they to say? As a rule, nothing. Discretion is considered by them (and one cannot deny that they are wise in the circumstances) the better part of valor. Take, for example, the scandal of the court house sale in Vancouver. Has any one of the McBride organs dared to defend—or attempted to explain—that transaction? If so, we have not seen the defence.

Any one who reads the McBride organs can easily figure to himself what sort of comment they would make on such a transaction as this Vancouver court house sale, if the Ottawa government or any of the Liberal governments of the provinces were responsible for it. They would fill their columns with screeching denunciations of the business itself and of all who might be supposed to be concerned in it. Here is a block of property on the main business street of Vancouver. Real estate in Vancouver, the papers tell us, is mounting in value day by day and month by month. This block, with frontage on four streets, will certainly go up largely in value with the growth of the city. The government will hold and use it for two and a half years yet, but insists on selling it now. Why? If the object is not to let some friend in "on the ground floor," what is it? If the transaction is a proper and straightforward one; if there is a good reason for it; why are not the people—who are the owners—told what the reason is? The government is simply the trustee or manager of the property of the people. Any manager of private property who proposed so to dispose of it would have to show a good reason or send in his resignation. Why should a different rule apply to the government?

Less than a week ago, the Toronto Globe was lecturing the Ottawa government, and all the provincial governments, Liberal and Conservative, because they were not alert enough in the matter of securing the enhanced value of future townsites along projected railway lines. This enhanced value—the difference between the value of the land as farming land and its value as town lots—should go, the Globe points out, into the public treasury. Here we have a case in which property not to be handed over to the purchaser for more than two years, is to be sold now. By the end of 1909, when the purchaser enters into possession, the value will be very much more than it is today, but the government will get little of that increased value, if any. It will go into the pocket of some private individual. And the organs dare not utter a protest.

Fond of Rice—Was Killed.

Revelstoke, Aug. 19.—A Japanese laborer was run over and killed on Thursday last two miles west of Three Valley on the C. P. R. main line It appears that the Japs were operating the hand cars on the track when a work train backing up, came round a curve towards them. The Japs, thinking that they would have no time to get the cars clear before the train came up, jumped to safety. One man, however, ran back to the hand car to get a bag of rice which he had left—the car knocking him down. Unable to regain his feet quickly enough, the legs of the unfortunate man were both severed under the wheels of the train. The injured Jap was conveyed to Revelstoke, but died before the city was reached.

Nightmare Was a Bicycle.

Fort Dodge Aug. 19.—The ghostlike apparition of the girl astride a bicycle flitting about the streets after midnight will not startle the residents in the east end any longer. For weeks pedestrians abroad late at night have been mystified by seeing this sight. Last night a policeman, attracted by a crash and a scream, ran around a corner and solved the mystery. He found a young and pretty girl clothed in a thin night dress which had suffered considerably when the wheel she was riding struck a brick. The girl was dazed, but told the policeman where she lived. He escorted her home and startled her father, a well known merchant, who thought his daughter was safe in bed. The girl said she had no recollection of her night rides.

WITH MIGHTY NOISE BIG METEOR FELL

Fishermen and Seashore Dwellers Anticipated End of World when Crash Came

New York, Aug. 19.—The World today says: "At 6 o'clock last evening an immense meteor, apparently about 75 feet in circumference, fell into the sea about a mile off the Naragansett light, Long island. At first a roar was heard and an instant later a great stream of fire, which seemed to come down from the clouds, plunged into the sea. The meteor fell into the water with the noise of a mighty boiler letting off steam. Great waves rolled in upon the beach, part of the bathing pavilion was washed away, and along with it several fishermen's huts. Much damage was done to abutting on the waterfront. Some persons thought the strange incident marked the end of the world.

Even the old fishermen, used as they are to face death on the sea, were terrified. Captain George Green was in command of the vessel in St. Pierre when Mount Pelee blew its head off and destroped that city, and was sitting on the waterfront when the meteor fell. He declared nothing had ever frightened him so much except the Mount Pelee disaster.

The meteor apparently fell vertically. From the time the noise was first heard until it plunged into the sea, probably three quarters of a minute elapsed.

Richards and Pringle's minstrels proved a good drawing card at the opera house yesterday evening, the house being packed from the start. Judged by the minstrel standard, the show was well above the average in clean and wholesome patter, coarse jokes being tabooed by the management. The different acts received a hearty reception from the audience and well merited the applause tendered. Some of the novelty acts introduced in the course of the evening were well seasoned, but a couple of new features were introduced by the star artists. Localized hits were more striking than usual, some of them bringing down the house.

Two Hindus, Picaria Singh and Mahcunda, were sentenced by His Honor Judge Bole yesterday to serve nine and twelve months respectively in the provincial jail for theft. The men were found guilty of having robbed a fellow countryman of $100 by going through his clothing in one of the shacks on the sand flats. Four Hindus were originally charged with the offense and sent up for trial, but after going fully into the case by the aid of counsel, his honor decided that only two of the accused men were guilty, and he dealt with these as stated above. All four pleaded not guilty. The other two men were discharged.

Royal Crown soap, 8 bars for 25 cents at Kyle & Son, Front street.

An irrigating pump, recently invented, will receive a practical test near the Fraser river bridge towards the end of this of or the beginning of next week. Mr. Adams, who is introducing the new article, called upon the mayor and the chief of the fire department yesterday, and interested both these gentlemen in the merits of the pump, and arrangements were made for a public demonstration. Adams claims that the pump will throw water higher than any other pump at present on the market, and can be used either for irrigation or fire fighting purposes. The rights of manufacture have not been disposed of, and unless some buyer is found in the near future, the inventor will organize a company to manufacture the pump. The factory will most likely be located in this city.

ACCOMMODATION WANTED.

On account of the inability of local hotels to accommodate all the guests who will visit the city during exhibition time it is desired that all householders prepared to offer accommodation at reasonable rates will leave their addresses with Edward Hoult billeting agent at the city hall, where all information may be obtained.

Luck and Reputations

"Nobody gifted with a sense of humor can fail to be diverted by the Puck-like manner in which luck makes and unmakes reputations for business ability," says Will Payne in Everybody's. "Years ago a gentleman named Jennings was an extensive owner of downtown real estate in Chicago. He was the first, I believe, to develop on a large scale the modern system of the ninety-nine year lease, whereby the owner insures to himself and his heirs for a century an absolutely fixed rental, free and clear of all charges. After Mr. Jennings had leased a lot of his lands for ninety-nine years a depression came on. Other people's incomes were curtailed, but his was stable. 'What foresight!' said the town. 'What sagacity!' 'What superb business judgment!' Mr. Jennings' views on the business situation and outlook were eagerly sought. The depression passed. Realty prices advanced immensely. The Jennings lots could have been leased at twice the rental named in the old indenture. The town shook its head sympathetically over poor Mr. Jennings' deplorable shortsightedness."

Woes of a Drummer.

"I'm just a little discouraged with my work," said the tall New York boy who has started out on the road. "I was making my second trip west when I met an old drummer who had been on the road for more than thirty years. He sat with grip between his knees and talked to me.

"'Chuck it, my boy,' he said. 'If there is anything else in the world you can do, do it. Look at my gray hairs. I don't know what it is to have a home. For thirty years I have seen my wife about once in five weeks. I know that I've a wife and children in a flat in New York, but that's all I do know about them. The children have grown up and married, but I have not had time to attend their weddings. My wife has grown gray, too, but she has had the best of it. She has had a home and the children. If there is anything else in the world you can do, my boy,' he repeated, 'quit drumming, and do it.'"

Curious Blunders.

Some remarkable mistakes in memorials have totally escaped notice until it was too late to rectify them. The spurs on the boots of Cromwell's statue at Westminster abbey, London, are the most interesting feature of the monument, although they generally get no attention at all from sightseers. They are worn upside down. In a painted window on the staircase which leads from the floor of Westminster palace to the committee rooms an inscription on a sword wielded by the "Black Prince" has the words "Prince of Wales." Again, in the fresco depicting the embarkation of the pilgrim fathers in the corridor leading from the outer lobby at St. Stephen's to the house of lords the Mayflower is shown to be hoisting the union jack, a flag which did not come into existence until 250 years after the days of the historic Mayflower.

A "Ringers' Jug."

A beer jug in a belfry is happily somewhat of a rarity in these days. At the beginning of the last century, however, people were not so particular. The ringers' jug at Beccles, in Suffolk, holds six gallons, a sufficiency to sustain the ten weary ringers, though the weight of the bells did exceed six tons. The vessel is made of red earthenware and has three handles, one of which is concealed by the neck. It bears the following inscription in quaint spelling:

"When I am fill'd with liquor strong
Each Man drink once and then ding dong.
Drink not too much to Cloud your Knobs
Least you forget to make the Bobbs.

A gift of John Pattman Beccles." On the reverse side is the maker's name, "Samuel Stringfellow, Potter."—London Strand.

Baked Rabbit.

Take a rabbit, cut it up, pepper and salt each piece and fry in butter till nicely browned.

Take the pieces out and place them in a dish with a cover over them. Then fry some sliced onions and carrots, some powdered sage and some fat ham. Add a quarter of a teaspoonful of sugar and fill up the frying pan with good stock, bringing it to a boil. Pour this quickly over the rabbit and bake it for one hour and a half. Thicken and brown the gravy, and you will find this is a delicious way of cooking a rabbit.

To Bleach Lace Curtains.

The safest way of bleaching is the old fashioned way of letting the sun do most of the work. Lay the curtains in warm water to which you have added the juice of six lemons and leave them there all night. In the morning lay them in the hottest sun you can find and wet hourly with sour water. At night leave in cold water and repeat the lemon juice process next day. It will not rot the muslin, as most bleaching powders do. Finally wash in the usual manner.

It Varied.

The late Judge Saunders of North Carolina was noted as an angler, but he had a poor memory as to the weight of the fish he had taken. On one occasion a friend, trying to entrap him, said, "Say, judge, what was the weight of that big catfish you caught the other day?"

The judge turned to his waiter and said, "Bob, what did I say that catfish weighed?"
