EXHIBITION GAME ENDED IN BURLESQUE

Westminster Piled Ten Goals on Aspirants Saturday, But Play Was Not Classy

In a game of alleged lacrosse, distinctly of the unbaked variety, on Saturday, New Westminster won a ten to two game from Vancouver. The game was only an exhibition event but Con might have stopped off at some public school on the way over and brought over a few kids who could play the game, if his own men wanted a rest.

As a matter of fact, the small crowd of locals parted with its good money to see New Westminster practice and observe Bill Moresby juggle time checks.

There was only one thing to the game from the face off. Spring would get the ball and give it to some one else and it would be then quietly passed down the field to the Vacouver goal, when Bun Clark would obligingly step to one side in case it might accidentally hit him. Bun is a good player, or rather was, but he has to come back twice as far as Jeffries did, if he wants to hold down Dave Gibbons' job between the nets. He made one or two good stops, in fact, made three in about thirty seconds once in the third quarter, but that was not enough.

Westminster Fast.

The game played by the Salmon Bellies was fine considering that they did not have to exert themselves at any stage of it. At first the passing was loose and the Vancouver defence would intercept with too much ease, but in the last half and especially in the last quarter, the boys played as if they liked it, making few errors and shooting with mathematical accuracy.

Defence Played Up.

One of the features of the game was the way the New Westminster defence carried the game into the Vancouver territory. The extent to which this was done may be gathered from the fact that George Rennie, although playing third defence, scored three goals, and Marshall, and even Galbraith, took an occasional shot at Bun.

Hugh Gifford Good.

The work of Hughie Gifford in goal left nothing to be desired. He was right there when the shots began to come, and when he ventured out in the field he never failed to come back with the ball. He stopped some hot ones, and the goals scored were more the result of his being crowded by the defence than by error on his own part.

Clean Game.

Aside from some roughness that developed in the last quarter the game was the cleanest of the season. The doctor was not in evidence and there was remarkably little slashing done. The referee has a nasty habit of looking at a man when he is doing something that causes him to be more careful next time. He does not look over the grandstand when he sees a chance to rule a man off.

Something Doing in Final.

For those who do not take their lacrosse too seriously, the last quarter was the period of the game. There was something doing all the time. It may not have been lacrosse, but that does not matter to the man anxious to enjoy himself. What if the Kaufman-Langford fight was called off in

SHAUGHNESSY GIVES HALIFAX GROUND FOR HOPE

Reason to Believe Garrison Town Will Soon Be Linked Up With C. P. R. System.

Halifax, N. S., June 19.—Sir Thomas Shaughnessy and Messrs. Osler, Mathews and Angus returned to Montreal on Saturday afternoon, having finished their inspection of the N.A.R.

Sir Thomas was in Halifax for three and a half hours, and at that time visited Premier Murray at the hospital, called on the mayor, attended an informal reception at the board of trade, making a ten-minute speech, and then had two hours to spare, most of which he spent at the Halifax club transacting business with R. E. Harris, the company's solicitor here.

Sir Thomas, in his address at the board of trade, gave the business interests here, who have long been hoping for the advent of the C. P. R., some encouragement to think that Halifax will soon be linked up with his system.

Cruiser Sinks Steamer.

London June 19.—The British cruiser King Edward yesterday collided with and sank the steamer Cheapside, off Guernsey.

One of the crew was drowned, but the others were rescued by the cruiser, which was not damaged.

MUCH ACTIVITY IN MATSQUI DISTRICT

One of the most noticeable features throughout the whole Matsqui district is the fact that road making is being carried on energetically by both the Provincial government and the local authorities and "good roads" seems to be the cry all round and most certainly good roads are now being made by the gangs of men who are to be seen working for the government and the municipality.

Everyone is looking forward to the time when the B.C.E.R. will be operating their cars through and it might be stated in passing that they have their poles erected now as far as Abbotsford and ballasting crews are following up fast, and it is expected that the company will be in a position to move the fall crop from this large farming district.

Amongst the industries around Mt. Lehman might be mentioned the Abbotsford Shingle Mill company, which is running overtime right along and turning out first class work. A Hindu named Nuto had his thumb shaved off by a knife whilst the "News" reporter was there and through energetic work he was rushed to Sumas hospital and is there still.

Crops are looking well especially as regards grain and hay, whilst the fruit by careful attention partially escaped the catepillar and will give a very fair return.

Coming to Abbotsford itself one finds a typical western railroad town just now owing to the fact that the B.C.E.R. construction gangs are in much evidence and that the G.N.R. have ballasting gangs at work and the C.P.R. are putting in new steel.

Abbotsford town seems to be running in a very fair shape for the city price. New residences are going up all round, amongst which might be mentioned a $5,000 place for A. Trewthrey, a $3,000 house for Mr. Boyd and another $3,000 house for Alec. Johnston. There are numerous other smaller houses going up as well as several new stores.

The Abbotsford Creamery is running in a very fair shape for the city electric power and plenty of water power available there is an opening for quite a number of other industries.

At the last meeting of the Matsqui-Surrey Associated Board of Trade the question of the G.N.R. and general railway crossings was taken up, as the various companies concerned do not seem to take the matter very seriously it will be taken to the Railway Commissioners as soon as possible owing to the fact that the "crossing" question is becoming a serious problem in the neighborhood.

MUCH TIME IS WASTED OVER TRADES DISPUTES

Ottawa, June 19.—The total number of trade disputes reported to have been in existence in Canada during May was 21, five more than in the previous month, and five more than in May, 1909. About 328 firms and 4,220 employees were affected by these disputes. The loss of time to employees through trade disputes during May was approximately 71,830 working days, compared with a loss of about 49,110 days in April and 96,350 in May, 1910.

Industrial accidents occurring to 376 individual work-people in Canada during the month of May, 1910, were reported to the department of labor. Of these 133 were fatal and 243 resulted in serious injuries.

The preceding month there were 94 fatal and 246 non-fatal accidents reported, a total of 340. In May, 1909, there were 93 fatal and 185 non-fatal accidents, making a total of 278.

ONTARIO MAY YET PROVE GOLD PROVINCE

Ottawa, June 19.—R. Brock, director of the geological survey, has just returned from a visit to the gold camp at Porcupine, New Ontario. Mr. Brock, while not over sanguine regarding the new camp, was not at all depreciatory in his remarks.

To a question whether Ontario would ever become a gold producing province, Mr. Brock replied advisedly: "So far as gold, is concerned, Ontario is today just where the province was seven years ago so far as silver was concerned. Then, no one, or very few, believed Ontario would ever boast a silver producing camp, yet Ontario has been a most wonderful silver producing province."

CANOEIST DROWNED IN THE RED RIVER

Winnipeg, June 19.—Kenneth McDonald, aged twenty-one, clerk in the wholesale hardware department of J. H. Ashdown & Co., was drowned yesterday while canoeing on the Red river.

G. N. R. AGENT HAS SUDDENLY LEFT TOWN

F. C. Meyers Not Seen Since Saturday Evening---Everything in Order.

F. C. Meyers, the Great Northern agent, has disappeared, and there is no indication as to where he is. So far as is known his accounts are in perfect order and the only way in which his strange action can be accounted for is that the hard work he has been doing lately has temporarily affected his mind in some way.

The first intimation that anything was wrong came last night about eight o'clock, when W. G. Butcher, sub-agent of the Great Northern, opened up the office on Front street. In the letter box he found two letters and a telegram. One of the letters was addressed to Mrs. Meyers, the other to Butcher and the telegram to the superintendent of the railway at Seattle.

Mr. Meyers is supposed to have had about $250 on him at the time of his disappearance.

The police have not had time to investigate thoroughly yet, but it seems that he was last seen on Saturday night. His wife saw him then. On Saturday afternoon he was seen walking down the railway track on the Eburne line near the foot of Twentieth street, which is a rather unusual place for him to be seen at that time.

His action in leaving was very deliberate. In the letter to Mr. Butcher he says that he cannot stand it any longer here and is desperate. Then follows minute instructions regarding some of the work in the office; one or two returns that had not been despatched; where to knd his keys, etc.; and instructions to send the telegram found with the letter.

The telegram was to Superintendent McNeil, of the Great Northern at Seattle, informing him that he was leaving and telling him to send relief.

Both letters and the telegram were found in the letter box outside of the office. The one to Mr. Butcher was dated June 19, as was also the telegram, but the letter to Mrs. Meyers was dated on Saturday.

The police endeavored last night to find out if he had left on any of the trains leaving the city on Saturday, but without success.

Missing Man Well Liked.

F. C. Meyers succeeded F. C. Griffin as agent on the Great Northern here in 1907, and during the three years he has been here has won the respect and esteem of all the business men in the city. He is an exceptionally hard worker. He is man of about six feet, with dark hair turning grey and a dark mustache, close cropped. He is a heavy cigar smoker. Besides his wife there is one son, Paul, a boy of about twelve, left. Mrs. Meyers only recently returned from a trip to relatives in the south.

More developments are expected in the case today.

Lady Archibald Dead.

Halifax, N. S., June 19.—Lady Archibald, widow of Sir George Adams G. Archibald, lieutenant governor of Nova Scotia, died at New Glasgow yesterday. Before her marriage Lady Archibald was Miss Elizabeth Lavinia Burneat, a daughter of the late Rev. John Burneat, once rector of Truro, N. S. Two daughters survive, one, Mrs. Gaonne Laurie, widow of F. D. Laurie, of New Glasgow. The other daughter is the wife of Rev. Reginald Heygate, vicar of Boston, England. A daughter and a son predeceased her.

BLIND CUPID WOVE THIS TANGLED WEB

One Marital Knot Brings Chaos in Relationship of Whole Family.

Wenatchee, June 19.—A tangled relationship suddenly sprung up on the fifteenth of June when H. W. Van Slyke, a prominent banker of Chelan, married Mary B. Baker, of the same place. Miss Baker is a sister of the wife of J. B. Van Slyke, the father of H. W. Van Slyke. Therefore she is aunt to her own husband.

Mrs. H. W. Van Slyke's sister is now her mother-in-law, and her father-in-law is now her brother-in-law. J. B. Van Slyke is now father-in-law to his son. Mrs. J. B. Van Slyke is a stepmother to H. W. Van Slyke and also his aunt-in-law, and the father is now his own son's brother-in-law.

Should any children be born to this union their grandfather would be their uncle and their aunt would become their step-grandmother. Their father would be their step-cousin and their mother would be their great aunt-in-law.

Comptroller of the Yukon.

Ottawa, June 19.—George Ian McLean has been appointed conmptroller of the Yukon in succession to J. T. Lithgow, who has become Canadian trade commission at Glasgow.

THREE KILLED IN EARLY TRAIN WRECK

Norwich, N. Y., June 19.—A passenger train loaded with emigrants en route to the west, running as the second section of No. 5, the Chicago Limited, on the Ontario & Western railway, was wrecked at Parker, a small station sixteen miles southeast of this village at 2:15 o'clock this morning.

Three passengers were killed and twenty-five injured.

Doctors and nurses were immediately rushed to the scene and everything possible done to succor the victims.

The cause of the wreck has not been ascertained.

WARNS NEW ZEALAND.

President of Representative Bank Against Injudicious Legislation.

Wellington, N. Z., June 19.—At the annual meeting of the Bank of New Zealand, the chairman stated that though the financial situation was infinitely better than it was a year ago, there was a feeling of want of confidence prevalent in the community. Money was not flowing in the channels of industrial and other enterprises and he hinted that injudicious legislation might be the cause. He quoted the warning of the chairman of the Bank of Montreal on December 6, 1908, against injudicious legislation or doubtful enterprises that would stop the inflow of capital.

SUING RAILWAY FOR DELAYING SON'S FUNERAL

Edmonton, June 19.—Because the Canadian Pacific railway, through a blunder on the part of some of their trainmen, failed to deliver the body of J. H. Miner, from Revelstoke to Bawlf, Alta., in time for the funeral to be held at the hour set, thereby causing painful inconvenience to the bereaved parents, and because, when the body was delivered twenty-four hours late, it was in a badly decomposed state, Mrs. V. Miner is suing the railway company in the Wetaskiwin courts, for $5,000, in one of the most unique actions ever brought to a Canadian court.

George B. O'Conner of the Edmonton firm of Greisbach and O'Conner, is acting for Mrs. Miner in the case, which was tried at Wetaskiwin last week, and in which judgment has been reserved. Mrs. Miner had contracted with the C.P.R. to ship the body of her son from Revelstoke to Bawlf in time for the funeral at that place on July 16 last. The son had died on July 13 and the body was shipped on the 15, and should have arrived at Bawlf on the evening of July 16. Mrs. Miner accompanied the body, but through some mistake the remains, together with Mrs. Miner's baggage was put off at Banff. Mrs. Miner did not discover this until she reached Calgary, where she was delayed twenty-four hours until the body of her son could be forwarded.

In the meantime, her husband had come to Wetaskiwin to meet her, and the friends gathered at Bawlf for the funeral. All arrangements were complete, the minister present, ready for the service, but no corpse showed up. When the body did arrive, it was twenty-four hours late for the funeral.

There is no precedent for the case in English law, but there are three other similar cases in American law, and it is probable that the judge will be guided by these in reaching a judgment.

PLAN NEW LINE TO TAP RICH TIMBER DISTRICT

Revelstoke, June 19.—A party of C. P. R. surveyors has left Beavermouth to follow the Columbia river up north and round the Big Bend to Revelstoke. It is the intention of the C. P. R. to secure a route round the Columbia and so tap the vast areas of valuable timber in that district.

The importance of the movement cannot be overestimated, as a railroad from Beavermouth, which would be a continuation of the Kootenay Central, to Revelstoke via the Big Bend, would open up the large tract of country directly north of the city.

The C. P. R. would have a very easy water grade all round, and could utilize the route for their heavy freight traffic.

With the opening up of the Big Bend Revelstoke would at once become a big commercial center.

Apart from the convenience to the C. P. R., and the development of the vast areas of timber lands up north, mining would have a great impetus with transportation secured, and the likelihood is that smelters would be established here as well as other industries. The result of the survey will be looked forward to with keen interest.

C.P.R. WILL RAISE PAY OF RAILWAY TELEGRAPHERS

Brass Thumpers Will Get Five Dollars More a Month in Future—Other Increases Pending.

Montreal, June 19.—The Canadian Pacific Railway company has arrived at an agreement with its railway telegraphers in regard to wages. The men are to get an increase of $5 per month all round, which will average up as a seven-percent increase.

The men have accepted the increase.

It is stated that there is a likelihood of the conductors and trainmen accepting a settlement on the same lines.

TIMBER FIRE DESTROYS TELEGRAPH STATION

Lesser Slave Lake, June 19.—During the high winds last Saturday, fire swept the little Slave River district, doing much damage to timber, hay and buildings.

The government telegraph station was destroyed and Miss McLeod, the agent with her mother and sisters, barely had time to escape to an open space from the flames, for safety.

The first intimation of the trouble they had was the falling of a burning tree on their house. There was not an instant to save anything, only getting out with the clothes on their backs, the house with everything they had was destroyed with the office, stable and out buildings.

Their loss is keenly felt as they are a long way from where necessary bedding and clothing can be secured quickly.

The Northern Navigation company have a warm house there, which escaped the flames, in which they took temporary shelter.

Mr. McLeod was absent, having charge of the construction gang on the south side of the Lesser Slave river, who are extending the line to Peace River.

LONG OVERLAND ROUTE.

Time of London to Yokohama Cut Down One Day.

New York, June 19.—According to reports just received here, China and Japan are brought one day nearer for those who journey thither by way of London, Paris and the Siberian railroad.

The twenty-four hours have been clipped from the railroad schedule between Moscow and Vladivostok in Russia, by doing away with the tedious waits at several principal junction points.

Under the new schedule a tourist who leaves London on Monday may reach Yokohama on the second Monday following, or Shanghai on the second Wednesday, fourteen and sixteen days.

TEMPERANCE SUPPORTERS HEAR STRONG ARGUMENTS

Rev. C. S. McKinley Delivers Interesting Address on Behalf of Cause in Opera House.

A largely attended meeting of temperance workers was held in the Opera house last night. Rev. J. S. Henderson presided, but did not address the meeting further than to introduce the speakers. Rev. C. S. McKinley, the first speaker dwelt at length on the reasons he had for fighting the liquor traffic, and outlined his experiences in Washington, where local option is in force in a great many towns and municipalities. He claimed that the declaration of prohibition in Wenatchee had resulted in nothing but good and that any statements made to the contrary were false.

He said that the main burden of the evils caused by drink fell upon the women of the country and hence he had great sympathy for the work of the W. C. T. U., under whose auspices the meeting was held.

There were several other speakers, and considerable enthusiasm was shown during the course of the meeting.

GROCERS COMBINE IS SUED FOR $50,000

Seattle, June 19.—Lobst & Hipler and R. J. Oliver, jobbers, have filed suit against a so-called grocer's combine in Seattle, for $50,000.

The defendants are the Pacific coast Condensed Milk company, National Grocery company, Sylvester Brothers' company, West Coast Grocery company and Fischer Brothers.

The suit charges that the defendants have unlawfully combined to refuse to sell a certain brand of condensed milk to any merchants who will not agree to maintain the minimum price set by the combine. It further alleges an unlawful conspiracy to intimidate other dealers to maintain their schedule of prices by threats that if any dealer should fail to do so he would be boycotted and blacklisted.

The jobbers then complain that they refused to enter into such an agreement and as a result have been unable to buy the milk on any terms, to the detriment of their business.

GIGANTIC POWER PROJECT PLANNED

Vancouver Company Will Spend $10,000,000 to Develop Electricity.

Vancouver, June 19.—Plans have been announced by the Vancouver Power company, a subsidiary organization of the British Columbia Electric Railway company, which contemplates the development of 100,000 horsepower of electrical energy.

The source of the power is located in Chilliwack lake and Jones lake, both lying in the Chilliwack district some distance east of Chilliwack, and connected by the Vedder river and other streams flowing from these storage reservoirs with rapid descents to the Fraser river.

To fully develop the two sources of power the British Columbia Electric Railway company will expend $10,000,000. Taken in connection with its present generating plant on the north arm of the inlet, the officials of the company believe that they have solved the problem of securing the electrical power necessary for the development of Vancouver and its suburbs for many years to come.

The company has several engineering parties now in the field near the new sources of water power, and state that it is possible operations on the new plants will be started during the present season. Once inaugurated, they will be rushed to completion.

The full plant will probably not be installed at once, but a start made and additions to the equipment will be installed as necessities demand.

THREE THOUSAND LABORERS NEEDED IN EDMONTON

Edmonton, June 19.—Three thousand laborers will be needed in Edmonton within the next month or two, and it may be necessary for local employment offices to send representatives east to Ontario, and possibly as far east as Montreal, to secure them. At least that is what is now contemplated by the employment agencies in the city, as the result of the extreme scarcity of labor all through the west.

Never in the history of the west has labor been so scarce for all purposes, but particularly for railway construction. Do what they can, the employment offices have been unable, thus far to secure sufficient labor to fill their demand. At present they are some 1,000 men short of their orders for railway construction labor.

The scarcity of labor now threatens to prove a serious menace to the progress of the railway construction that is proceeding west of Edmonton. The employment offices have never been in a position to fill all demands for labor from the construction camps of the G.T.P. west of the McLeod, but the work has not been retarded as yet. Now that construction is opening on the C.N.R. main line west, however, the shortage of labor threatens to be really serious, for the first time. Within the next month or two orders for at least 2,000 men are expected to come in and the employment agents are at a loss to know how they are going to fill them.

High Price for Stamp.

London, June 16.—Sixteen pounds were given today for a 1½d black unused Canadian stamp of 1851 issue.

GENERAL FRENCH INSPECTS TROOPS AT PETEWAWA

Decanters Will Be Draped in Crepe at Banquet Tonight, for the Town Is Dry.

Petewawa, Ont., June 19.—At 9:15 p. m. Saturday General Sir John French arrived in camp here, accompanied by Colonel Lessard, Colonel Henderson and General Sir Percy Lake. The general's private car was placed on a convenient siding, but General French preferred a tent which had been pitched nearby for him. The Royal Canadian engineers immediately installed a telephone there. Colonel Benson and Lieutenant Colonel Burstall, with their chief staff officers, met the distinguished visitors at the station and spent an evening with them.

Sunday morning things began to happen, when Sir John inspected a massed parade of all the troops in camp and attended divine service. The parade mustered nearly 2,200 gunners and troopers, and the general expressed his pleasure in private on the fine appearance and physique of the men.

At 1:15 p. m. all paraded for divine service, General French, Colonel Benson, Sir Percy Lake, and staffs attending.

A good deal of good-natured criticism is being launched at the closing of the wet messes. The Fifth P.L.D. Guards officers will hold a regimental dinner on Monday night, when arrangements will be made to have all the decanters empty and draped in crepe. Every corps has a regimental song of its own on the subject and yet all the while Petewawa remains absolutely dry.

STREET IMPROVEMENT DEBENTURE OR REGISTERED STOCK BYLAW, 1910.

A Bylaw to enable the Council of the City of New Westminster to raise by loan the sum of One Hundred and Fifty Thousand ($150,000.00) dollars for Street Improvements.

Whereas, certain sums of money have this year been expended out of the general revenue of the city for the construction, improvement and repair of streets and sidewalks, and it is expedient that additional sums be spent in like manner, amounting in all (with the sums already spent) to the sum of One Hundred and Fifty Thousand ($150,000.00) dollars;

And Whereas, it appears that if the said sum of One Hundred and Fifty Thousand ($150,000.00) dollars, be appropriated from the general revenue of the city for the current year the rate of taxation will be excessive, and it is expedient that such excessive taxation should be avoided, and the said sum should be raised on the credit of the corporation, and that debentures or registered stock certificates should be issued for that amount;

And Whereas, for the payment of interest on the debentures or registered stock certificates, proposed to be issued under this Bylaw, and for creating a sinking fund for the payment of the said debentures or registered stock certificates when due, it will be necessary to raise by special rate, in addition to all other rates, each year during the currency of the said debentures or registered stock certificates, the sum of Seven Thousand, Five Hundred and Ninety and 32-100 ($7,590.32) dollars;

And Whereas, in order to raise the said yearly sum of Seven Thousand, Five Hundred and Ninety and 32-100 ($7,590.32) dollars, an equal rate on the dollar will be required to be levied on the whole rateable property of the City of New Westminster.

And Whereas, the whole rateable property of the said city, according to the last revised Assessment Roll thereof, is Seven Million, Two Hundred and Forty-nine Thousand and Ten ($7,249,010.00) dollars;

And Whereas, the total amount of the existing debenture debt of the said city is One Million, Six Hundred and Seventeen Thousand, One Hundred ($1,617,100.00) dollars, irrespective of the sum of One Hundred and Seventy-four Thousand, Five Hundred ($174,500.00) dollars proposed to be raised under the "Lulu Island Bridge Debenture or Registered Stock Bylaw, 1910"; the "Fire Debenture or Registered Stock Bylaw, 1910"; the "Schools Debenture or Registered Stock Bylaw, 1910," and the "Parks Debenture or Registered Stock Bylaw, 1910," of which none of the principal or interest is in arrears;

Now Therefore, the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the City of New Westminster enacts as follows:

1. It shall be lawful for the Mayor of the said city to raise by way of loan from any person or persons, body or bodies corporate, who may be willing to advance the same on the credit of the debentures or registered stock certificates hereinafter mentioned, any sum or sums of money, not exceeding in the whole the sum of One Hundred and Fifty Thousand ($150,000.00) dollars, and to cause the same to be paid into the treasury of the said city for the purposes mentioned herein.

2. It shall be lawful for the Mayor to cause any number of debentures or registered stock certificates to be made, not exceeding in the whole the sum of One Hundred and Fifty Thousand ($150,000.00) dollars, for such sums of money as may be required, not less than $100.00 each, or an equivalent expressed in pounds sterling of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, at a value of 4.866 to the pound sterling; and all such debentures or registered stock certificates shall be sealed with the seal of the corporation, signed by the Mayor and countersigned by the treasurer thereof, or by such other person or persons as may be thereunto lawfully authorized.

3. The said debentures or registered stock certificates, shall be payable on the first day of July, 1960, at such place or places as the Council of the said corporation may from time to time appoint with the approval of the holders thereof, and shall bear interest at the rate of four and one-half per centum per annum, payable half yearly on the first day of January and the first day of July in each and every year, and the debentures shall have attached to them coupons for the payment of interest, which said coupons shall be signed by the said Mayor.

4. A special rate on the dollar shall be levied and raised in each year, in addition to all other rates, on all the rateable property of the city, sufficient to pay the interest upon the debentures or registered stock certificates, and to create a sinking fund for the payment of the principal thereof when due, subject to any act or enactment respecting the same.

5. Subject as aforesaid, there shall be raised annually by special rate as aforesaid, during the currency of the said debentures or registered stock certificates, the sum of Six Thousand, Seven Hundred and Fifty ($6,750.00) dollars for the payment of the interest thereon, and the sum of Eight Hundred and Forty and 32.100 ($840.32) dollars to provide for the payment of the principal.

6. The proceeds of the sale of the said debentures or registered stock certificates shall be applied as follows, and not otherwise: towards paying the cost of the passing of this Bylaw and the issue and sale of the debentures or registered stock certificates therein referred to, recouping the treasury of the city such sums as have been this year expended in street works, or may be so expended until the proceeds of the sale of the said debentures or registered stock certificates have become available, the making, improving and repairing of such streets and sidewalks in the city as may be deemed expedient by the council, but no sidewalk or street shall be made or repaired out of the moneys borrowed under this Bylaw unless the same shall have first been approved by a resolution of the Council.

7. This Bylaw shall take effect on the day of 1910, and may be cited as the "Street Improvement Debenture or Registered Stock Bylaw, 1910."

8. This Bylaw before the final passing thereof, shall receive the assent of the electors of the said city in the manner required by law.

Received the assent of the electors on the day of 1910.

Reconsidered and finally passed in open council the day of 1910.

NOTICE.

Take notice that the above is a true copy of the proposed Bylaw which will be taken into consideration by the Municipal Council of the City of New Westminster one month from the day of the first publication thereof in the "Daily News" newspaper, which first publication took place on the 13th day of June, 1910, and that a vote of the electors of the city will be taken on the said proposed Bylaw on the 14th day of July, 1910, between the hours of nine o'clock a.m. and five p.m. at the following places, namely: The Council Chamber, Civic Building; the Fire Hall, Sapperton; and the Waterworks Storehouse, Eleventh street.

SCHOOLS DEBENTURE OR REGISTERED STOCK BYLAW, 1910.

A Bylaw to enable the Council of the Corporation of the City of New Westminster to raise by loan the sum of Ninety-seven Thousand, Five Hundred ($97,500.00) dollars for School Purposes.

Whereas the Board of School Trustees of the City of New Westminster have caused to be prepared and laid before the Council a detailed estimate of the sums required by the Board for the current year's ordinary expenses of maintaining the schools of the said City of New Westminster; and have also prepared a like detailed estimate of the sums required to meet any special or extraordinary expenses legally incurrable by the Board, which last mentioned estimate is subject to consideration, alteration and final approval by the Council, and the same has been finally approved by the Council.

And Whereas, the amount required under the said last mentioned estimate for schools amounts to Ninety-seven Thousand, Five Hundred ($97,500.00) dollars, made up as follows: Thirty-five Thousand ($35,000.00) dollars for the erection and equipment of the new Sapperton school; Two Thousand, five Hundred ($2,500.00) dollars for the erection and equipment of a school on Lulu Island, and Sixty Thousand ($60,000.00) dollars for the erection of a High school.

And Whereas, by Section 40 of the the Public Schools Act 1905, as re-enacted by Section 30 of the Public Schools Act 1905, Amendment Act 1906, any statute to the contrary notwithstanding, the Council of any city, town or rural municipality in the Province including the City of Vancouver and City of New Westminster, may in each and every year pass a Bylaw or Bylaws for levying aspecial rate of not more than Five (5) mills on the dollar for school purposes, and the Council may in addition to such rate apply any portion of the ordinary revenue to school purposes.

And Whereas, it appears that the amount required to meet the current year's ordinary expenses of maintaining the schools will exhaust the amount authorized to be levied under Section 40 of the Public Schools Act 1905, as re-enacted by said Section 30 of the Public Schools Act 1905, Amendment Act 1906, and it will be necessary also to apply a portion of the ordinary revenue for such purposes.

And Whereas, it appears that if the said sum of $97,500.00 be appropriated from the general revenue of the city for the current year, the rate of taxation will be excessive, and it is expedient that such excessive taxation should be avoided, and the said sum should be raised on the credit of the corporation, and that debentures or registered stock certificates should be issued for that amount.

And Whereas, for the payment of interest on the debentures or registered stock certificates proposed to be issued under this Bylaw, and for creating a sinking fund for the payment of the said debentures or registered stock certificates, when due, it will be necessary to raise by special rate, in addition to all other rates, each year during the currency of the said debentures or registered stock certificates the sum of four Thousand, Nine Hundred and Thirty-three and 70-100 ($4,933.70) dollars;

And Whereas, in order to raise the said yearly sum of $4,933.70, an equal special rate on the dollar will be required to be levied on the whole rateable property of the City of New Westminster.

And Whereas, the whole rateable property of the said city, according to the last revised Assessment Roll thereof, is Seven Million, Two Hundred and Forty-nine Thousand and Ten ($7,249,010.00) dollars;

And Whereas, the total amount of the existing debenture debt of the said city is One Million, Six Hundred and Seventeen Thousand, One Hundred ($1,617,100.00) dollars, irrespective of the sum of Two Hundred and Twenty-seven Thousand ($227,000.00) dollars proposed to be raised under the "Street Improvement Debenture or Registered Stock Bylaw, 1910;" the "Fire Debenture or Registered Stock Bylaw, 1910;" the "Lulu Island Bridge Debenture or Registered Stock Bylaw, 1910," and the "Parks Improvement Debenture or Registered Stock Bylaw, 1910," of which none of the principal or interest is in arrears.

Now Therefore, the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the City of New Westminster enacts as follows:

1. It shall be lawful for the Mayor of the said city to raise by way of loan from any person or persons, body or bodies corporate, who may be willing to advance the same on the credit of the debentures or registered stock certificates hereinafter mentioned, any sum or sums of money not exceeding in the whole the sum of $97,500.00, and to cause the same to be paid into the treasury of the said city for the purposes mentioned herein.

2. It shall be lawful for the Mayor to cause any number of debentures or registered stock certificates to be made, not exceeding in the whole the sum of $97,500.00 for such sums of money as may be required, not less than $100.00 each, or an equivalent expressed in pounds sterling of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland at a value of 4.866 to the pound sterling; and all such debentures or registered stock certificates shall be sealed with the seal of the corporation, signed by the Mayor and countersigned by the treasurer thereof, or by such other person or persons as may be thereunto lawfully authorized.

3. The said debentures or registered stock certificates shall be payable on the first day of July 1960, at such place or places as the Council of the said corporation may from time to time appoint with the approval of the holders thereof, and shall bear interest at the rate of four and one-half per centum per annum, payable half yearly on the first day of January and the first day of July in each and every year, and the debentures shall have attached to them coupons for the payment of interest, which said coupons shall be signed by the said Mayor.

4. A special rate on the dollar shall be levied and raised in each year, in addition to all other rates, on all the rateable property of the city, sufficient to pay the interest upon the debentures or registered stock certificates, and to create a sinking fund for the payment of the principal thereof when due, subject to any act or enactment respecting the same.

5. Subject as aforesaid, there shall be raised annually by special rate as aforesaid, during the currency of the said debentures or registered stock certificates, the sum of $4,387.50 for the payment of interest thereon, and the sum of $546.20 to provide for the repayment of the principal.

6. The proceeds of the sale of the said debentures or registered stock certificates shall be applied as follows, and not otherwise; towards paying the cost of the passing of this Bylaw and the issue and sale of the said debentures or registered stock certificates therein referred to, and all expenses connected with the issuance of the said loan, and the balance shall be paid over from time to time as required upon the order of the trustees by the city treasurer to the several persons to whom moneys are payable.

7. This Bylaw shall take effect on the day of 1910, and may be cited as the "Schools Debenture or Registered Stock Bylaw, 1910."

8. This Bylaw before the final passing thereof, shall receive the assent of the electors of the said city in the manner required by law.

DETAILS OF TRADE TREATIES EXPLAINED

Terms of Agreements eBtween Canada and Belgium, the Netherlands and Italy.

Ottawa, June 17.—The details of the trade agreements concluded with Belgium, the Netherlands, and Italy have been announced by the Finance department. As already forshadowed, the Canadian intermediate tariff rates granted to France are extended to Belgium and the Netherlands in return for the friendly attitude which these countries have always maintained towards Canada, and in view of the fact that they are now both low-tariff countries, and are entitled to equal treatment with France. In the few cases where the latter's tariff was, under the Franco-Canadian agreement, lower than intermediate rates, equally low rates cannot be given to the Netherlands and Belgium, since this would require legislation by parliament.

The Agreement With Italy.

These countries are, however, not particularly interested in the articles mentioned in the special schedule of the French treaty. In the case of Italy, which is a dual-tariff country, Canada is given the Italian conventional or minimum tariff rates on seventeen of the principal items of Canadian export to that country, viz., Condensed milk, carbide of calcium, timber and lumber, furniture, carriage wheels and parts of carriages, pasteboard, smallware of wood, wood pulp, paper, fur muffs, boots and shoes, tools and implements of cast iron or steel, sewing machines, cement, horses, fish and cheese.

What Canada Gives.

In return Canada gives Italy the intermediate rates on eighteen items, viz.: Macaroni and vermicelli, canned vegetables, lime juice and other fruit syrups, light wines and champagne, castile soap, pomades, essential oils, n. o. p., white and cream-ocolerd lace and embroideries of cotton, women's and children's Italian clothes, etc., when imported in the unfinished state, church vestments, velvets, velveteens, plush and silk fabrics, ribbons of all kinds and materials, musical instruments and parts thereof, head ornaments, statues and statuettes, and fine kid gloves.

New Commercial Agreements.

An explanatory statement by Hon. W. S. Fielding relative to the new commercial agreements is also handed out by the Finance department. Mr. Fielding notes that in the present arrangements no new tariff rates are established, but the existing intermediate rates, as they appear in the French treaty, are granted to Belgium and the Netherlands, and, to a limited extent, to Italy.

A Temporary Agreement.

In respect to the Italian agreement, Mr. Fielding says: "We have no treaty with Italy, but we are asked by the Italian government to enter into negotiations for the making of one. Italy has a general and a conventional tariff, and some of the Italian rates are much higher than those of Belgium and the Netherlands. The formalities necessary for the making of a regular treaty between the two countries, through plenipotentiaries, would occupy some time. It has been deemed desirable for the cultivation of good relations between Italy and Canada that a temporary agreement be made, giving to Italy the intermediate tariff rates on a small list of articles in which Italy is interested, Canada receiving in return the Italian conventional tariff rates on a list of Canadian products. Our trade with Italy is not extensive, but it is worth cultivating, and the present arrangement will probably lead to a broader agreement in the future.

United States Negotiations.

In respect to the prospective tariff negotiations with the United States, Mr. Fielding says that they were only postponed for a short time, owing to the engagements of Canadian Ministers in other affairs. He had not failed to observe, he said, that there was considerable manifestation in Canada of opposition to reciprocity with the United States. Some of this was natural and inevitable. Much of it, however, was, he thought, due to a misunderstanding of the situation, and was at least premature. The opponents of reciprocity appeared to assume that no satisfactory concessions would be made by the United States. This feeling might perhaps be explained by the experience of Canada in previous negotiations with the States, but there was no need for anybody to worry along these lines. He did not expect the Americans to be willing to make a bargain entirely for the benefit of Canada. Any treaty worth while should be advantageous to both parties. If the anticipations of Canadian opponents of reciprocity proved correct; if the Americans would not make a reasonable agreement, then, of course, there would be no treaty. But it would be quite unfair to the United States to assume that the attitude of former years was to be continued. The President and Secretary Knox have given the most cordial assurance of the desire of the United States government to bring about better trade relations between the two countries. The position of the Canadian government, Mr. Fielding said, was that they were bound to receive the assurances of the American government in the good spirit in which they had been offered, and to hope for a satisfactory arrangement. It would certainly be a foolish and indefensible act for the Canadian government to refuse to enter into negotiations to which they had been invited in such a friendly manner. Even if, as some people on both sides of the boundary seemed to believe, it should be found impossible to bring about satisfactory tariff arrangements, the carrying out of these negotiations next autumn would undoubtedly tend to more friendly relations between the two countries.

New York, June 19.—The consumption of alcoholic beverages has decreased during the last two years $110,185,600, according to today's issue of the American Grocer. This publication says that during 1909 the consumption of liquors was:

For 1907 the estimated total retail cost of liquor was $1,664,191,463. According to the bureau of statistics the population increased 2,749,966 in the same period.

The per capita use of spirits is the smallest since 1900, and of beer since 1905. Last year's consumption of tea, coffee and cocoa was the largest since 1905.

Population of Coleman.

The village of Coleman, Alta., which is seeking incorporation as a town, has a population of 2,225, according to a census just completed. Mayor Cameron, in calling upon the residents to express their views on incorporation, addresses them in three languages (English, Italian and Ruthenian) through the columns of the Coleman Miner.

ROOSEVELT RETURNS AMID MUCH NOISE

Bwana Tumbo Back From Africa — Americans Are Overjoyed—Big Reception

New York, June 18.—The steamship Kaiserin Auguste Victoria, bearing Colonel Roosevelt, reached Ambrose Channel at 7:05 a.m. today and anchored off quarantine at 7:45.

As the huge liner passed Ambrose Light the warships in the lower bay began to fire the first presidential salute of twenty-one guns ever accorded a private citizen of the United States.

When the South Carolina began saluting Roosevelt clapped his hands for joy and cried:

"Look at them. Aren't they wonderful and beautiful? Can you blame me for wanting that kind of a navy? This is worth coming all the way from Khartoum to see. This is great and worth while.

"Ah, I'm glad to be home!"

Roosevelt boarded a revenue cutter at 8:20 o'clock and was taken ashore.

Roosevelt's trip from the steamship to the battery was accompanied by a continuel uproar from river craft and factories. When he stepped out into the open in Battery Park the thousands who had massed in Lower Manhattan to bid him welcome set up a great shout and continued cheering for many minutes.

The former president was officially welcomed home by Mayor Gaynor. Replying to Gaynor's speech Roosevelt said:

"I wish to thank you and your committee, and through them the American people for their greetings. I need not say that I am deeply moved. No man could receive such a greeting and not feel very proud and very humble.

"I have been away a year and a quarter. I have thoroughly enjoyed myself, and now I am back in my own country, among the people I love and am ready and eager to do my part in helping to solve the problems that must be solved if the greatest of democratic republics is to see its destinies rise to the highest level of hopes and opportunities. This is the duty of every citizen, and particularly my duty.

"Any man ever honored by the presidency is for ever rendered the people's debtor, and bound throughout life to remember this as a prime obligation, so that the people may never regret that they once had placed him at their head."

New York, June 19.—The New York World today in a 2,000 word editorial says that the possible efforts to "deiffy" Roosevelt are not from political prejudice, but from reaction.

The writer adds:

"What every thoughful American has reason to be concerned about are not the plans and purposes of Roosevelt, but the average citizen's attitude toward democratic institutions as revealed by his attitude toward Roosevelt."

The New York American says:

"Coincidents will never cease. This day, June 18, is the date of Waterloo. Roosevelt gets back from Africa, Europe and 'Elba.'"

The Tribune:

"It need not be feared that a man equally at home and efficient in the Masai jungles, the German court and in a great British university will lack congenial and profitable occupation in his own country."

MOVEMENT TO FIGHT UNITED CIGAR TRUST

New York, June 19.—A movement is on foot today to give opposition to the United Cigar Stores company all over the United States. About 300 New York cigar merchants have formed an organization to fight the so-called cigar trust and they plan to establish a chain of stores throughout the United States.

Letters are being sent to independent cigar merchants in many cities asking them to join the new organization. It is eventually planned by the new corporation to manufacture all kinds of smoking and chewing tobacco.

"Bruce" in the Saturday Sunset has a wordy rebuke to impress upon the anonymous letter writer. Here is the contribution:

The tricks and devices of the anonymous sneak who has not the courage to meet his intended victim face to face and say the things which are in his cowardly heart, are not confined to writing unsigned letters with a typewriter on paper.

To the pee-wee minds of these slinking coyotes many smart schemes have been suggested. The most recent example of these was forwarded to me last Saturday by a man whom I know well. These remarks are addressed to him for his special benefit, and also for those other back-stabbers who follow his example. His clumsy contribution took the form of a book, and it furnished so many clues to the identity of the sender that within five minutes after its receipt I knew who he was, and if this paragraph falls under his eye he will know that I know who he is, and if any one is curious to know his name I will be glad to furnish it.

This man is a journalist, at least we have his word for it because he once rose unbidden and unwanted, on the occasion of the entertainment of a world-wide celebrity at a public function in this city, and in the course of three minutes of incoherent and pointless remarks, informed the audience four times that he was a journalist. The announcement was news to the working newspaper men of Vancouver.

This man also says he is a graduate of an Old Country university, but he is not a very creditable specimen of the college bred man. Also, he claims to be a lawyer, and he is not unknown to fame as an ad.-writer, although it appears he is unable to eke a living from either calling.

I have often wondered what can be the point of view of the skulking author of an anonymous communication. These skunks of the social fabric take rank only with the assassin of the character of a woman, and the man with a sandbag in a dark alley. The latter at least take some risks, but the anonymous writer ignobly cringes in fancied security behind blank paper and a postage stamp to deliver his shaft. Such a man is a moral vulture, with the bravery of a slabbering jackal. He may wear the clothes of respectability, but his morals and courage are not fit to be handled with a self-respecting stable fork. If his principles were dropped into a garbage can the other contents of the can would shrink from them in disgust. Yet I suppose these wraped and misgotten freaks must derive some sort of satisfaction from their secret vice. No doubt they parade before a looking glass, and, with swelling chest and flashing eye contemplate their valorous work as they fondly gloat on the writhing agony of their intended victims. If they were not cursed with a ham strung vision they would see themselves merely as one of those slimy, crawling things which infest the edge of a summer cesspool.

I trust my anonymous contributor will recognize the above as a true portrait, but if he doubts the completeness of the details I will be glad to supply the finishing touches if he will have the courage to call at this sanctum and receive them.

BEQUEST TO MASONS.

Spokane, June 19.—Seventy-five thousand dollars to establish a home for aged and needy members of the Masonic order and of the Eastern Star is bequeathed to Blue Lodge No. 55, Oakesdale, Wash., by the will of Frank Rider, a member of that order and one of the pioneers of the Palouse country, who died in Portland.

Although he had lived in Portland for some time after retiring from active farming, his body was brought to Oakesdale for burial and the funeral was conducted by the local Masonic order. Mr. Rider came to Whitman county in 1882 and settled on a homestead. He was fifty-one years old at the time of his death. His will has been prbated at Colfax.

IS BOER ASCENDENCY COMING?

Those who predicted that the union of the South African colonies and the grant of absolute self-governing powers to the new dominion at the present moment would result in the re-establishment of Boer rule are finding in the events of today much that tends towards the confirmation of their views. The choice of General Botha as premier is, of course, significant. Here we have the man who was but recently in arms against the crown, occupying the first position in the new states, and directing its destinies. General Botha, however, if left to himself, would not be unacceptable to the English-speaking people, for he has a strong element of fairness in his makeup.

But the general has convinced the world that he is not the master of his own actions. Before he accepted office he was urged to form a coalition government, including in it Dr. Jameson, and other leaders of British origin. It was thought that if the union started with a clean slate political divisions might be formed later on, with the actual work of the administration as the basis upon which to act. General Botha was favorable to this idea until the opportunity to put it in force presented itself. Then he had to retreat owing to the pressure that was placed upon him. His capitulation, which resulted in the formation of an essentially Boer government, a government so pro-Boer that Mr. Merriman, an English leader who sympathizes with Boer views, had actually to be omitted from it, was a surprise to the British element. The surprise and indeed the disappointment became all the more emphatic when certain features of the policy of the new administration leaked out. One plank that is giving great uneasiness is that with reference to education. Under Mr. Hertzog, the minister of education for the Orange River Colony, an ingenious public school scheme has been planned. All the schools are compelled to give all the lessons to all the pupils in both Dutch and English. This does not seem to be objectionable where the pupils are fairly well divided numerically. But the principle is not elastic in its operation, and the consequence is that it operates as a preservative of the Dutch language at the expense of the time of the English scholars. Absolutely English public schools are prohibited. In many English sections the taxes go to bi-lingual schools and the people are compelled to establish private English schools in order to give their children a fair education. Mr. Hertzog has been named as minister of education for United South Africa. He announces—and this is a good political stroke, for it is calculated to solidify the Boer vote—that he intends to extend his system throughout the entire union. Here we have the germ of a racial quarrel. That the English will protest against the forcing of Dutch upon the public schools goes without saying.

The power that influences the language that is to rule in the new union can also dictate the nationality of the population. It has the immigration policy in its hands, and it can easily order that the coming of British colonists be discouraged. The educational policy will be an influential factor in a movement of that character. It stands to reason that the English are not going to settle in a country that requires their children to learn Dutch. The ruling idea, therefore, seems to be to lay the foundation of a Boer dominion. That a situation such as this can be viewed with satisfaction it is impossible to say. It might have been better if full power had been held back until the strength of the British electorate in South Africa had become greater.—Mail and Empire.

LACROSSE SITUATION.

Editor Daily News:

Sir—The outstanding feature of the lacrosse embroglio in Vancouver is the striking unanimity among the sporting editors of the various papers of that city, in roasting the players who have seceded. Not one of them have had a word to say in their defence, and this, notwithstanding the fact that the players in question have been personal friends of the newspaper men for many years. Is there not something remarkable about this? Can it be possible, that, as a certain advertisement says, "there's a reason?" Several declarations have been published anent the trouble, but they have almost entirely been on the one side! What about the other? Have the boys nothing to say on their own behalf, or is it possible that there is some truth in the rumors that they are unable to secure space in the daily papers to express their version of that trouble? I have heard it said on good authority, that several communications have been submitted for publication, but these have either been altogether refused, or have been so emasculated by the dictum of the editors that their value to the cause of the said players has been rendered almost null and void.

If this is true, it is a sad reflection on the spirit of fair play which the people of the Terminal City claim, and are supposed to possess.

As regards the merits of the dispute between Con Jones and the rebellious players?

Now it is quite probable that both the Vancouver papers and people, may resent any comments emanating from the Royal City, and claim that it is none of our business.

But it does concern us, it is very much our business. The citizens of New Westminster have loyally supported lacrosse for many years, our young men have been taught to consider it a clean manly game, free from the taint of gambling, and other corroding influences, and in addition, as all will acknowledge, the New Westminster club has been a mighty factor in lacrosse history, and in keeping the game on the high plane, which generally speaking it holds in Canada today, and we do not propose to sit quietly by and see it made the vehicle for certain so-called sport promotors, whom there are many good reasons for believing are in the game for the money that there is in it, and for that reason alone.

To get to particulars; the position of manager of the Vancouver Lacrosse club is presumably still an elective one, and the actual ownership of the franchise, I conclude is, as yet, vested in the players and officers; but, to the ordinary citizen—the man who doesn't bother his head about such things—all appearances would indicate that Con Jones is the supreme power in every particular, financial and otherwise, that he owns it body and bones; in fact, the organization is generally referred to nowadays, as "Con Jones' team," not as the Vancouver Lacrosse club.

Surely this was not the agreement, or intention of the players last year, when, not being able to agree among themselves as to a leader, they accpted his offer to assume the managment? Have they not a voice at all in domestic affairs, and can they not legitimately demand an investigation into the running of the club? And how is this to be done? How is their cause to be championed, if the columns of the press are closed to them?

In explanation of his actions, Mr. Jones comes out with some statements which would be comical if they were not absurd. He gives no valid reasons for the fact of his being the first to break faith with the boys in the matter of maintaining a second team, and winds up with the implied intimation that he did not go into lacrosse with any expectation of gain. This last is the most ridiculous, and surely Mr. Jones does not expect any sane person to give any credence to such a claim.

Several of the figurehead officials, and past officials of the club, have been quite warm in their denunciations of the conduct of Matheson, Gibbons and Co., characterizing it as a rank case of hold up, and pointing out that the same thing happened a few years ago.

I have reason to believe that the holdup referred to by these gentlemen did actually occur, and it was a most disgracful episode. I am not defending it in the least, but, the present difficulty is altogether a different matter and the slurring term of "holdup" cannot rightfully be applied. The boys who resigned from the team, did so purely from the reason that they were not receiving the same financial remuneration as others, and they did not propose to continue under such conditions.

And why were they not? I have not the slightest intention to disparage Griffiths, Howard or Pickering; they are sterling players, and an acquisition to any team, but in what are they superior to the others?

Were not Gibbons, Clarkson, Matheson and Murray as vital to the success of the team as a whole, as they? In the opinion of competent judges, Gibbons is the equal, to say the least, of any man playing the goal position; as a defence fielder, Clarkson, who has worked his way up from the junior ranks of the city, is acknowledged to be one of the best, Archie MacNaughton, to the contrary, notwithstanding, and, en passant of Mr. MacNaughton's rather incoherent spiel, I have only this to say, that his remarks were uncalled for, and unjustifiable, and his belittling references to home bred players, were in most execrable taste.

Of George Matheson it is hardly necessary to say anything, he has been with the V.L.C. for many years and is probably the hardest working, most enthusiastic player the green shirts ever had, added to which he is one of the cleanest players in British Columbia. The other malcontent, Ernie Murray is also a home brew, and his work in every game this year has met with unstinted praise from these selfsame people who are now decrying him.

Why therefore should these boys be rated in a lesser financial category than the others? Is it not adding insult to injustice to so relegate them to inferior positions? But the officials referred to seem to be of the opinion that it was shameful of the boys to protest; apparently they would have been pleased to have seen them bound down in a slavery contract where no amount of kicking would have benefited them, whereby they would not have been able to call their souls their own. And unless something drastic is done to check it, this slavery business is just about what senior lacrosse in British Columbia is drifting into. And then, it will cease to bear the name of sport, and be more properly classified as labor. Then we will be able to witness (if we care to do so) the pleasing spectacle of an outfit of hirelings, masquerading as the Vancouver Lacrosse club, engaged at the work of attempting to wrest, what is supposed to be a sporting trophy (the Minto Cup) from the present holders, the Westminster Lacrosse club.

Shade of Charlie Beecher, what a retrogression from the glorious Brocton Point days, when rivalry was intense, and enthusiasm loyal.

When this comes to pass I would just as soon go down to a foundry and watch a gang of men pounding iron, it would be accomplishing something useful.

One amusing claim was made this week in one of the Vancouver papers, though it was not intended as levity, being written in all seriousness, that the Westminster team was behind all this trouble, that they had been pursuing a Machiavelian policy of fomenting discord among the Vancouver players with the intent to thus break up the powerful team that Con Jones had got together; the implication being that they were fearful of the outcome of the seasons schedule.

Friends in the Terminal City, be assured, the day never dawned when the Westminster lacrosse boys were afraid of any aggregation that ever stepped on a field, they have proved this year in and year out for nearly two decades, and it is quite unnecessary for me to say any more on that subject.

The sporting editor of the News-Advertiser, a player himself, and a gentleman whom I have always had the highest respect for, has indited a very plausible editorial comment on the lacrosse situation.

He maintains that the game is now

Exhibition Geme Ended In Burlesque

San Francisco? Who cares? Was not the Pete Latham-Howard affair every bit as good, and much nearer home at that. There has been many a fight seen on the lacrosse fields of this coast, but this was the first instance when the pugs went to it in approved Marquis of Queensbery rules. It was a pretty scrap while it lasted. In fact, the other players considered it too good to interrupt, leaning on their sticks and watching the swings and uppercuts with evident relish.

By and bye Referee Moresby happened along and donated checks to the two principals entitling them to a rest for the remainder of the period. Both men walked off the field.

Howard Was Missed.

With Howard off the defence things began to happen around the Vancouver goal, the big coverpoint being sadly missed by the visitors. Before the final gong sounded the champions had slipped five tallies beyond Bun Clark, play being in the neighborhood of his net nearly all the time.

Moresby got bitten by the check microbe during the last ten minutes and the way he handed out his little brass tags was enough to make the poundkeeper jealous. Jimmy Gifford looked crosswise at McLaughlin. McLaughlin made faces at James. The fence for both. Then Springer swung a little too wildly at Bill Turnbull and Moresby saw it. The fence for Springer. Galbraith was next, and then to even up Paynter earned a ten-minute tag and trailed along after the others. Keeping up the good work, Moresby next sent Billy Turnbull to the bench, Billy bringing up the total of trusties to eight, one-third of the strength of the teams. Fortunately, about this time the supply of checks ran out, else the game would have ended with only the referee on the field, for Moresby had his eye on the goal umpires and would have sent them off too. That would have made the farce complete.

As Noah Webster once remarked, Con was disappointed on Saturday, but in no wise surprised.

Manager Welsh is slowly suceeding in ridding the oval of unnecessary "officials." The megaphone was only misused a couple of times during the whole game.

Governor Johnston on Saturday called off the fight between Latham and Howard in the middle of the first round. There is intense indignation over the action of the governor and the promoters are contemplating taking the fight to Reno.

"Make a good sprint up the field, Bob," said Con Jones' little boy to Big Bob Springer after the Vancouver man had finished doing time on the fence. The boy wanted to see something for his money.

BIG FUN MAKING SHOW AT OPERA HOUSE TONIGHT

A brand new revised edition of "The Alaskan" now made over into a genuine fun-making musical melange will be the attraction at the Opera house tonight.

"The Alaskan" has not been seen here before in its present form. It arrives here from a phenomenal run of five months in Chicago, where the entire press of that city lauded it as "the bulliest musical show seen there in years." Manager William P. Cullen, who has presented many good things, viz., "The Burgomaster" and "The Tenderfoot," is the producer, and he has been especially happy in the formation of the present company. The complete Chicago production intact will be brought here. Richard F. Carroll and Gus Weinberg are responsible for many of the new, novel surprises and exclusive features with which "The Alaskan" fairly bristles, and in the part of Walsingham Watts, a stranded theatrical manager, Carroll has a part exactly suited to his peculiar talent. Gus Weinberg as Professor Knicklebein is prominent amongst the funmakers, and is given ample opportunity to extract many laughs with the aid of his "laughing powder," not saying anything about his natural spontaneous humor. Detmar Poppen will be welcomed as Totem Pole Pete, while Al Rauh will show his splendid voice to advantage as Richard Attwater; Jessie Stoner as Arlee Easton; Alice Keen as Mrs. Good Better Best; Etta Lockhart as Kuko, as Eskimo child of nature; also Nellie Templeton as La Lu La; not forgetting Leo Kendall in the now famous character of "Snowball," the polar bear, will all be welcomed. The many new musical interpolations, including "Snowballing," in which the entire audience takes part and the same self audience is allowed to pelt back, "Laughing Powders," "Hi Hi Hi" "The Face of the Girl I Love," and twenty other odd song hits of last season, including "My Totem Totem Pole." The large chorus of Eskimo girls and miners is again a strong factor in this season's organization.

East Indians Deported.

Tacoma, June 19.—Eleven East Indians, who arrived on the Chicago Maru Tuesday, averred that a man was entitled to as many wives as he could support. They will be accordingly deported on the same steamer, together with two others afflicted with trachoma.

on an altogether professional basis, and points out that on the Toronto or Tecumseh lacrosse teams, very few Toronto boys appear.

If he will tell me, or anybody conversant with the facts, how long since it is that any real Toronto boys did figure in the lineup of these teams, it would be more to the purpose. Toronto never was remarkable for producing home brews, depending almost altogether on the players from suburban and contingent towns, where practice fields were free and open to supply their recruits. He also omits the vital fact that in the three Montreal teams (the Nationals, the Montreals, and the Shamrocks) the majority of the players are homebred men, and that the Shamrocks have held the Dominion championship five times as often as any other team in the association.

Does this indicate anything?

In conclusion, it is not time for the officers of the B.C.A.L.A. to call a halt on this importing business? Is it right or just to ask the Westminster team to defend the cup against a combination of Montreal, Ottawa, National, Shamrock, Toronto, Tecumseh and Winnipeg players?

Here is the chief roster of the so-called Vancouver team(let the reader puzzle out the Vancouver players if he can; he will not need more than two fingers to do so): "Bun" Clarke, Griffiths, Howard, Pickering, Godfrey, Springer, West, O'Reilly, Allan, Hennessy, Hogan, Adamson.

But it a wearisome business altogether, this insane jealousy of the Westminster team. The latter club has done its best, and will continue to do its best, to maintain the game as a sport, not as a financial gamble. Let Con Jones comb the east for the best that the N.L.U. and C.L.A. will supply. We're willing to meet them. Let 'em all come.

MAN ACCUSED OF FRAUD IS FOUND NOT GUILTY

St. John, N. B., June 19.—In the county court yesterday the case of H. Leslie Coombs, in connection with the Disraeli Asbestos company affairs, was concluded and he was found not guilty. The charges were conspiracy with R. D. Isaacs, former manager, and altering entries in the books. Coombs was immediately discharged, with a few words of advice from Judge Forbes.

SUCCESS
---IN---
BUSINESS

TO be successful in business, to establish, maintain, and keep it on a firm basis, three things are essential to that end:

FIRST---Thorough knowledge of the business you about to undertake, and, of course, the necessary capital.

SECOND---Good location, ample facilities to receive fresh stock and a well-kept, clean store, having nothing but the best in quality of dry goods, drugs, groceries, hardware, or whatever the nature of your enterprise may be.

THIRD---Tell the people that you are doing business by Advertising in The Daily News. Talk to them; get them interested; gain their confidence in your ability to supply their wants as efficiently as any store in Vancouver. Back up your statements by showing them the goods. Don't exaggerate their quality or excellence; give plain straight talk, otherwise you will lose the confidence and goodwill of your patrons, both present and prospective, and don't blame them if they do go to Vancouver for their shopping.

WHY NOT TRY AN AD. IN THE DAILY NEWS

BRITAIN'S RULE OF EGYPTIANS

What Has Been Accomplished by Viscount Cromer and Sir Eldon Gorst.

Interest in the British occupation of Egypt is revived by Col. Roosevelt's much-criticised remarks in London recently, and the following article in the Daily Telegraph by Perceval Landon will prove readable:

It is almost proverbial that the English only interest themselves in Oriental affairs when some unlooked-for incident or sudden development—generally of an unpleasant character—compels them to abandon an attitude of habitual unconcern. Now it must be admitted that this Gallio-like attitude often has its advantages. So far at least as India has been affected by it ,the indolent acquiescene of England in what was being done for her gave to those who were doing it the free hand which was requisite for the work. The benefit of this policy of non-official, almost of this public lack of interest in Indian matters, is recognized in the saying that if India is ever lost to the Empire, it will be lost on the floor of the house of commons. But the case is very different with Egypt. India is our own affair. In our sleepy way, we understand and approve the methods of our men there and the slightest interference from outside would wake us widely indeed. But Egypt is not our affair only. We are not there engaged upon work which concerns ourselves alone of western nations, and, instead of the clear dominion we enjoy in Hindustan, it would be beyond the powers of Bagehot himself to put his finger upon the real and essential sovereign of Egypt at this moment. We are always on our trail in Egypt; our critics are unsleeping; and, vastly to our distaste though it be, a certain definite intention on the part of the British public must be expressed now and then in order to support our work and our position along the Nile. From time to time, therefore, it is as well that we should recall to our minds the anomalies of our occupation of Egypt, and review the work that is being done there under our direction.

This is the more necessary nowadays because the development of Egypt is no longer guided by the strong hand of Lord Cromer. There is always an inherent defect in these commanding personalities, however true it is that they are our greatest imperial assets. They leave behind them a set of difficulties which are due, not merely to the fact, ex hypothesi, that their successors are presumably weaker men, but to the instinctive reaction after long repression, which is shared by human instincts as well as more obviously elastic bodies. The work of great men has always been characterized by repression in some form or another, and Lord Cromer's record affords no exception to the rule. He had grim work before him which compelled him to postpone any indulgence in those theories of liberalism and constitutionalism with which outsiders have both decorated and impeded his work—theories, too, which by his own admission must once have played some part in even his own imaginings. Few of those who attended the meetings of the Imperial Press Conference and heard Lord Cromer's confession of his reluctant change of faith as to the wisdom of the unfettered freedom of the press in certain countries, could have failed to realize that Lord Cromer's brilliant rule in Egypt was based upon a willingness throughout his life to submit even his most cherished prejudices to the touch-stone of hard experience and having done so, to abide by the result. Perhaps before dealing in any manner with the present condition of affairs in Egypt it will be best to remind readers as briefly and clearly as possible of the record of our quarter-century of predominance in the country. Before proceeding to discuss matters about which differences of opinion have been made so sharply apparent during the past year, it is a good thing to have behind us a plain statement of facts about which no question can arise.

Our Record in Egypt.

Responsibility for suppressing Arabia's revolt against Khedive Tewfik Pasha was thrown upon England by the refusal of France to act with us in 1882. The complete success of our armed intervention in that year invested us with the influence which we have since exercised in Egypt—an influence, be it said, which at its outset was only sought by us in order to guarantee the route to India by the Suez Canal. Sir Evelyn Baring—or, to use the name by which he is best known, Lord Cromer—was appointed British Agent in 1883. (The phrase agent is somewhat misleading. As plenipotentiary representative of Great Britain, Lord Cromer exercised something just short of absolute power during his twenty-four years of work in Egypt.) From the outset his work was one of extreme hardship and delicacy. Besides the economic difficulties of Egypt, international and other complications had to be handled with the utmost judgment. These latter arose partly from the natural regret of the French nation that by absention at the critical moment they had forfeited a joint predominance in a country which had already become largely Gallicised, and partly from the existence of "capitulations" which in some measure had, and still have, the effect of ex-territorialising European foreigners and their property. To add to the troubles of the agent at this time, the conspicuous success gained by the Dervishes, the death of Gordon in Khartoum in 1885, and the subsequent abandonment of the Soudan provinces of Egypt to the

Mahdi, naturally weakened British prestige in the country.

Undeterred, however, Lord Cromer devoted himself to the internal development of Egypt; a considerable loan was obtained from England, and the immediated improvement in the economic position of what had long been practically a bankrupt country, strengthened his hands. Steadily applying himself to the practical necessities that confronted him, he succeeded not only in restoring law and order throughout the Khedive's territory, in extricating Egypt from her crushing financial embarrassments, and in mightily developing her industries, but with the invaluable aid of Lord Kitchener he wrested the Soudan once more from the Dervishes, and established a con-dominion of British and Egyptian authority from Egypt proper to Uganda, on the south, and on the west to the frontiers of French Central Africa. It was the work of a giant, and it was done without haste or delay, and, so far as it went, without omissions. But Lord Cromer necessarily concerned himself rather with the primary needs of a newly-founded state than with the political education of its people. Circumstances had put into his hands the duty of re-making a beggared, prostrate, and defenceless country. He knew that a strongly centralized authority was the only one that could effect the needed reforms, and he wisely refused to entrust any large measure of authority to anyone except himself. There is an amusing little tale that at the crowning moment of Lord Kitchener's all-important successes in the Soudan, the victorious soldier remarked with a smile that it was time for him to return to Lord Cromer's "kindergarten" in Cairo.

Nationalist Aspirations.

But long before the date of Lord Cromer's retirement, in 1907, the first signs of Nationalist discontent had arisen. A cry was raised—and if it did not originate with, it was quietly but strongly supported by the Khedive himself—that the time was come for the extension to Egyptians of a larger share in the administration of Egyption affairs. The demand found support in several quarters in England, and after 1907 the British government determined to inaugurate a new regime, in which a considerable part of the authority hitherto exercised exclusively by Englishmen should be entrusted to Egyptian officials. It was, perhaps, impossible wholly to refuse to listen to this demand. During this critical time other Oriental nations were struggling to obtain constitutions based upon western ideas of self-government, and both in Turkey and in Persia a large amount of practical support and sympathy—more, perhaps, based upon the traditions of English statesmanship in the past than upon a careful examination of the merits of each case—was accorded by the British ministry and public to these aspirations. It was therefore difficult to turn a deaf ear to a similar demand from a country like Egypt, for which we were ourselves immediately responsible. Sir Eldon Gorst was therefore despatched to Egypt in 1907 as Lord Cromer's successor, charged with the inauguration of a new and more liberal policy.

Sir Eldon Gorst's Regime.

This policy has been carried out. Now it is to be remembered that no man was better qualified than Sir Eldon Gorst to have the management of the great experiment. No man living has the intimate knowledge of Egypt that he possesses. Both as adviser to the ministry of the interior and as financial adviser, his work had been brilliant. His subsequent years in the foreign office in London had given him the fullest insight into the diplomatic delicacies and difficulties of the situation he was called o nto fill. Personally, he had won, not merely the respect, but the affection of everyone with whom he had come into contact; he was the personal friend and trusted confidant of the Khedive. Above all, he was the man specially chosen and trained by Lord Cromer to carry on his work, and it was with Lord Cromer's sanction and benediction that the new agent prepared to open the doors of Egyptian office to Egyptians. Thus it will be seen, on the face of it, that any accusation brought against Sir Eldon Gorst personally needs to be carefully and even suspiciously examined. The hotheaded onslaughts that have been made in some quarters at home have not in the least affected the situation, or Sir Eldon's reputation in Egypt, at home they seem merely to have called forth an answering movement of sympathy with a practically defenceless man. This is no question of a single man's success or want of success; it is a much more difficult problem.

But in all seriousness it must be admitted—and I believe that Sir Eldon Gorst would be the first to admit it—that the great experiment of which he was in charge has proved an almost complete failure. In the most signal manner the Egyptians have given proof of their incapacity, as yet, to govern themselves. That they are unequal after a quarter of a century to a task for which western nations have been training themselves for many hundreds of years, is, after all, no discredit to them. They will have learned more from a failure, from the effects of which we are willing and perfectly able to preserve them, than from years of theoretical training, and in the distant future the day will no doubt come when responsible authority will be entrusted to them. But for the moment there is no sign of the dawn of that day on the eastern horizon, and no more complete justification of our continued occupation of Egypt could have presented to the world than the fiasco which has attended the recent tentative step towards Egyptian autonomy. There are two sides to every medal, and the visible alarm which seizes a representative of any interested European nation at the bare mention of a relaxation of our present occupation is a witness to the need and to the soundness of our influence in Egypt, for which, under ordinary circumstances, we might long have had to wait.

TOWN BEING BUILT FOR PEACEFUL LIFE

Evansville, Ind., June 17.—A blissful, peaceful life is in store for the residents of the new town that is being built on the Kentucky side of the Ohio river, directly opposite here, if the plans of J. A .Brown, of New York, the builder, and his backers, Mrs. Kate Hawley, a philanthropist, of New York, and James Crawford, a capitalist of Terre Haute, Ind., are carried out.

The town has been laid out and work has started on a large factory building and the electric light plant.

The new town will be run on Socialistic lines, although Brown states he is not a Socialist. He says Mrs. Hawley and Crawford have furnished the money for the town and that they want him to build a model town. in fact the most ideal city in all the world.

There will be no public officials in the town and the people will rule themselves. There will be a public meeting once a week in the coliseum in the town, where all the trials will take place. People accused of any crime will be brought before the people as a tribunal, and they will vote on the guilt or innocence of the accused. All home owners will have an interest in the public utilities of the town and will share in the profits.

Brown says he proposes to have a town where every resident will obey the golden rule. In a few days he ex- the streets of the new city. pects to have 200 or 300 teams grading

DUKE OF FIFE CANNOT SUCCEED EARL GREY

London, June 19.—The Duke of Fife, replying to the suggestion of a Scotch-Canadian, that he should succeed Earl Grey, says that even if the position were offered him it would be impossible to accept on account of the health of his wife, Princess Louise. He adds that he has often dreamed of the future when one or more of the king's five sons should represent the sovereign in different parts of the Empire.

IS THE SCOTCH BAGPIPE ONLY A DUDEL SACK ?

Jury at Milwaukee, Wis., So Decides And Highlanders Take Decided Exception.

Scotch ire is rising. "The Cock o' the North" resounds from the bagpipes, the beacon fires burn, and from clansman to clansman files the blood-besmeared talisman of strife. Onto the Lowlands will pour the Scotch hordes, but it is not hapless North England this time, but the land of the Teuton, perhaps the home of the Yankee, which two countries have been responsible for an insult to the ancient war musical instrument of the hardy race, says the Portland Telegram.

An American jury at Milwaukee, Wis., has declared that the Scottish bagpipe is not a musical instrument, and that its proper name is the "Dudel-Sack." The case arose in this way. An enthusiastic Scot was favoring the Milwaukee citizens, with a performance on the national instrument, when an American horse on hearing (the sound of the pipes straightway reared up, fell down and died. The owner sued the performer for the price of the unmusical beast.

The defence was: "The horse was guilty of contributory negligence in permitting its nerves to go off at a tangent at a musical sound." The horse owner denied that the bagpipe was capable of producing music, and the jury actually sustained him. But worst of all, the jury, which contained several Germans, insisted upon calling the bagpipe a "Dudel-Sack."

Scotsmen have heard many opprobrious epithets hurled at the great Highland bagpipe, but never before was it called a "Dudel-Sack." This demanded a protest, and the protest came. From all parts of the United States indignant dissents from the findings of the Milwaukee jury have come from insulted Scots. Other nationalities have replied, and the controversy has waxed so warm that the Monroe doctrine is simply nowhere.

One authority declares that the mere fact that Scotsmen use the word "music" in regard to the sounds emitted by the "Dudel-Sack" simply proves that they have no intelligent conception of what music is. The sounds of the "Dudel-Sack" are merely "stridulous cacophony" and a mediaeval instrument of torture. Patriotic Highlanders point to the many glorious victories achieved to the strains of the pipes, and are met with the retort that the enemy had only two courses open—either to flee or remain and lose all desire for life. The "Dudel-Sack," they say, rouses barbarians to frenzy, and fills them with a burning desire for universal murder.

Then, again, when confronted with its capabilities for social enjoyment and dancing purposes, the insulting Yankee admits the bagpipe will make a Highlander dance, but so will a red-hot stove if he sits on it in his national costume. One good purpose is admitted to have been served once—it made the English run at Bannockburn; but as one gentleman says, that is not to be wondered at, as it is "a h—l of a noise." Such are the insults hurled at the Scotish national music, and though Venezuela and Cleveland's threats may in time be forgotten, the "Dudel-Sack" incident will rankle in the brains of all patriotic Scots for ages to come.

MILITANT SUFFRAGETTES MARCH TO MARTIAL MUSIC

Ten Thousand Women Parade Streets of London—Big Meeting Held in Favor of Cause.

London, June 19.—Weary of inactivity, the militant suffragettes reopened their campaign yesterday evening with a musical pageant. Ten thousand women with banners flying and forty bands marched in procession for miles through the streets from Charing Cross to Albert Hall.

There a great meeting was held in support of the movement, and it was opened with the singing of the Marseillaise. Mrs. Drummond was chief mashal of the procession. She was constantly greeted with cheers as she cantered upon and down the line of march astride a huge charger followed by two aides, the Hon. Mrs. Haverfield and Miss Vera Holme, both of whom also rode astride.

The meeting at Albert Hall was presided over by Mrs. Pankhurst, who was most enthusiastic. Mrs. Pankhurst, Frederick Pethick Lawrence, joint editor of "Votes for Women," and the Earl of Lytton, were among the speakers. The leaders of the movement promises the government a lively time unless it quickly concedes to their demands.

Alteration Sale

30 Days of Alteration Sale Prices—Prices that are down lower than any before offered in New Westminster. We are forced to reduce our stock to the lowest possible limit inside of 30 days. During the past few weeks customers and ourselves have been inconvenienced by the work necessary in altering and enlarging our store. We give here the first list of prices. Watch every advertisement. Keep your eyes on our show windows and, what is better, view the piles and racks full of goods at prices which leaves us without the expectation of profit on our sales. Doors open at 8 a. m. Tuesday.
