WATER TROUBLE REMAINS UNSETTLED

City Council Again Discusses Famous Agreement With Richmond and Its Outcome

An old friend of the council's, no less a matter than the Richmond water agreement, caused all the excitement at the meeting of the city council held last night. There was not a great deal of excitement at that, but there was food for thought and the excitement might follow later, when the men for and against get properly on the warpath.

Alderman Gilley opened fire by asking if the city solicitor had replied to a question put to him some time ago as to whether the city was empowered to make connections in Lulu island with the twelve inch water main there.

Mayor Lee replied that he thought that the solicitor had given his opinion that the city had no right to tap the main, beyond the one that the agreement specified, which was a six inch main from the thirteen inch main at the end of the bridge.

Alderman Bryson stated that if there could be anything done he would like to see it done. He thought that the Richmond people had made a very shrewd bargain and remarked that the city was in a tight place.

Alderman Johnston: "What tight place?"

Alderman Bryson: "The city is now paying $200,000 on a water system and if Richmond takes all the water that can come through their twelve inch main, there won't be any left for the city."

Alderman Johnston said that the city engineer had been here when the agreement was made and he did not see how it could be as bad as all that. He said that the report that Richmond would get all the water had got around town and it was unfortunate that that was so.

Alderman Gray said that the city engineer had told him that the agreement was all right and if Richmond could take all the water that came through the city's twenty-four inch pipe by their twelve inch pipe, he thought the rule would work both ways and the six inch pipe which the city was allowed under the agreement to put in at the end of the bridge would take all the water that came through the thirteen inch pipe.

Alderman Gilley announced that he had a motion to make and as the discussion was becoming too complicated for most of the aldermen, it was dropped.

Alderman Gilley moved that the city engineer be asked to estimate what difference in the water supply it would make if the large main were tapped by the Richmond main at Royal avenue or somewhere near the reservoir. There is a considerable difference in altitude between the two points and that may make a difference to the water to be taken by Richmond. The motion carried.

A motion to request Messrs. Ironsides, Rainey and Campbell, of Vancouver, to remove the remains of the old steamer Strathcona from the river bank near the end of the bridge was put and carried.

On motion of Alderman Gilley the clerk was instructed to write to Publicity Commissioner Wade and ask for a report on the work he was doing. Mayor Lee explained that the commissioner had been acting under the instructions of the publicity committee, whereupon Alderman Gilley explained that it was not because he did not think he was doing his work that he had made the motion, but merely to allow the general public to know what was being done.

W. G. Davies, of Vancouver; James W. Gardiner, of Vancouver; Louis J. Barrett, of Westminster, and J. B. Harvey, of Vancouver, applied for the position of assistant in the treasurer's office. The applications were referred to the finance committee to act.

Mayor Lee announced that the bond under which the Macdonald brothers, contractors, were working, would expire on September 28, and the matter was left in the hands of the finance committee to act.

The tenders for cement sidewalks on Alexander, Begbie, Lorne, McKenzie, Sixth, Church and Clarkson streets was let to Albert Pike, of Vancouver, for $17,705.45. The only other tender submitted was by the Pacific Contracting and Investment company, whose tender was $22,120. The letting of the contract depends on the passing of the local improvement by-law for the work.

Mayor Lee announced that there were two matters which required the immediate attention of the council. One was the re-survey of the city and the other was the re-assessment. He wished the board of works would bring in a report on one and the finance committee on the other.

City Engineer Blackman submitted a detailed statement of the cost to each ratepayer of the proposed paving of Columbia street east. The total work will cost in the neighborhood of $70,000, $20,000 of which will be borne by the city. The report was adopted and the business will take the usual course.

The Eighth street sewer local improvement assessment by-law was read a second and third time and passed.

Alderman Gilley stated that he had been talking to the engineer who had told him that his property was assessed on a double frontage because it had a depth of 264 feet. The mayor did not understand it and Edward Hoult was requested to call Engineer Blackman down from his office.

Mayor Lee put the question to the engineer and the council waited in breathless suspense.

He said that the assessments were made under the provincial government act governing such cases and each man's portion was worked out by him and the assessment commissioner.

He said the irregular lots were taken by the square foot while ordinary lots were taxed by foot frontage.

Alderman Gilley announced that he had no objection to paying for a double lot, but he wanted the same treatment as everyone else. There was some desultory discussion, but no progress was made and the by-law passed as it stood.

Alderman Johnston asked the chairman of the health committee if there had been any complaints re the odor of the cattle pens and pig pens on the C. P. R. wharf. Alderman Smith replied that it was the first he heard of it and he would look after it in the morning.

The British Columbia Rifle association has written to the city council notifying it that the silver challenge cup presented by the corporation of New Westminster had been won three times in succession by Captain G. A. Boult, who became the permanent owner of the trophy. The council was asked to donate another cup so that the corporation of New Westminster match might still be a feature of the annual shoot.

The finance committee of the city council has the matter in hand and will decide whether another cup is given.

A petition to extend the water system from Lulu island road, south on Wood street to Salter street, was received and was referred to the board of works for report.

Arthur Hargreaves and Oliver Libby asked the city to remove some stumps from in front of their lots on Tenth avenue. Referred to the board of works to act.

City Engineer J. W. B. Blackman recommended that the tender of the Schaake machine works for $949.80 for the supply of cast iron specials for the new water main be accepted. The recommendation was adopted.

A petition signed by six ratepayers asked for the improvement of Cariboo street. Referred to the board of works for report.

T. F. Sinclair wrote from Revelstoke stating that he would like to tender on some city work if the city treated him fairly. The communication was filed and the clerk notified to advise Mr. Sinclair that if the tenders were satisfactory they would be accepted.

A copy of the resolution passed recently by the Trades and Labor council, protesting against the action of the city council in asking for the dismissal of Auditor Cotsworth was received, read, and filed.

John Harper asked for the opening up of Sixteenth street. Referred to the board of works to report.

Postmaster MacDonald asked for permission to place a couple of parcel receptacles; one at the corner of Columbia street and Fourth street, and one at the corner of Columbia and Begbie streets. Permission to place the boxes was granted.

MAPLE GROVE SAW MILL IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Loss Will Be in Neighborhood of $10,000—Two Houses Tenanted by Employees Also Burned.

About seven o'clock on Sunday morning the Maple Grove Lumber company's saw mill, near Clayburn, was destroyed by fire, the plant being a total loss. The damage is estimated at $10,000, with little if any insurance.

The mill was under the management of, and partly owned by, Mr. Hartnell, and had a cutting capacity of about ten thousand feet a day. For some time past the plant had been mostly occupied in cutting ties and timbers for the B. C. E. R. company.

Two small houses close to the mill, tenanted by employees, were destroyed by the fire, only a portion of the contents being saved.

STRIKING PLUMBERS THREATEN HOLD-UP

Montreal, Sept. 19.—The four hundred striking plumbers threaten, unless a settlement is reached by Wednesday, to hold up every important contract in Montreal indefinitely.

CONSTABLE SHOOTS HIMSELF IN STOMACH

Special Constable Samson, of Mission, while searching for George Reid, the supposed Clayburn murderer, at Mount Lehman on Sunday morning, accidentally shot himself through the stomach and may die. He is now in the hospital at Sumas in a critical condition.

Samson has been out looking for Reid ever since the discovery of the tragedy on the peaceful Matsqui prairie. On Sunday morning he went in an automobile from Abbotsford to Mount Lehman, following up a slight clue that the suspected murderer was lurking in the vicinity. While near Mount Lehman something went wrong with the automobile and the chauffeur got out to fix it. Samson also went to get out to assist the chauffeur when in some manner his heavy revolver exploded in his pocket, the bullet passing through his stomach. The chauffeur did his best to staunch the wound temporarily and then went direct to the Sumas hospital, where there are hopes held out for his recovery.

The bullet was of nickel and it is thought that that fact may save the constable's life, as blood poisoning is not so liable to set in.

There is still no trace of Reid.

CATERING TO CROWDS ENTAILS TOO MUCH WORK

Women's Auxiliary of Hospital Will Leave Running of Fair Booth to Other Societies.

The Women's Auxiliary, of the Royal Columbian hospital will not conduct a refreshment booth at the fair grounds this year, as they have done in former years. At a meeting of the auxiliary held yesterday afternoon it was decided that to attempt to feed the multitude as in the past was too strenuous work, and as it has been announced that several other institutions are going to have refreshment booths on the ground it was decided to drop it.

The auxiliary in former years made considerable money by this means, but now they will turn their efforts in another direction and as soon as St. Patrick's hall is opened they will give the first of a series of social entertainments, the proceeds of which will go to the hospital. The entertainment will take the form of a card party, followed by a dance. The date of the first one is not definitely announced, but it is expected to be in about a month.

BELCARRA STRIKES ROCK, SINKS OFF JERVIS INLET

The Terminal Steamship company's steamer Belcarra, Captain Cates, ran on a rock off Jervis inlet on Sunday night and sunk in forty fathoms of water.

The half dozen passengers and the small crew escaped in an open boat and landed safely.

The Belcarra was built twelve years ago for the B. C. Packers' association. At one time she ran on the Fraser under the name "Union," but on being sold to the Terminal City company her name was changed. The new name, "Belcarra," was taken from the ranch owned by W. Norman Bole, K. C., on the North Arm, this being formerly the property of the Terminal Steamship company.

SCARLET FEVER IS RAGING IN WINNIPEG

Over a Hundred Cases and Several Deaths Reported. Isolation Difficult.

Winnipeg, Sept. 19.—An epidemic of scarlet fever has broken out in that section of the north end immediately beyond the subway.

Over one hundred cases are reported with half a dozen deaths.

One physician, who has sixty cases on his hands, chiefly in the Galician settlement, is appealing to the board of health to close the public schools in the district affected. He claims that as there are no isolation facilities efforts to check the disease are useless.

It is possible one of the schools may be converted into a temporary hospital.

Wheat Crop Estimate.

Winnipeg, Sept. 19—William Whyte, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific railway, has issued the company's official estimate of this year's wheat crop in Western Canada, based on threshing reports to date. This places the total at 94,700,000 bushels.

FIRE CHIEF REPORTS ON ANNUAL CONVENTION

Fire Chief J. H. Watson, who recently returned from the annual meeting of the Pacific Coast Fire Chiefs association held at Stockton, Cal., submitted the following report to the city council last night:

"I have to thank you for sending me to the fire chiefs' convention at Stockton. I may say my trip was not alone pleasant, but very instructive. Many papers on fire prevention were read and discussed, from which we received some good information. I may say that we found the auto fire apparatus being adopted in every city we visited and found them giving the best of satisfaction.

"The storage of gasoline and other combustibles is a matter that is causing fire departments more trouble than anything else in connection with fire prevention, and strict by-laws for the storage of same were the only prevention. These the association asked every chief present to have adopted in the city he represented.

"A full printed report of the convention will be sent you by our secretary when completed. We had sixty-eight members attending this meeting, which was the largest we have yet had. Vancouver was chosen for our next place of meeting in 1911.

"There is elected a vice-president for each state and province and I had the honor of being elected for British Columbia. Again thanking you for being a representative at this meeting, where I gained much knowledge in fire prevention."

J. H. WATSON,
Chief Fire Department

September 19, 1910.

The report was received and filed, Mayor Lee remarking that there were some suggestions made which Alderman Gilley might act on.

Fire in Fort Rouge, Winnipeg; Damage Estimated at $120,000

Winnipeg, Sept. 19.—Fire which broke out at half past two o'clock this afternoon in the fashionable residence district of Fort Rouge, and which was not under control until nightfall, did damage roughly estimated at $120,000.

Thirty men who worked on the roof of an apartment block in which the fire started had a narrow escape. It broke out in the $150,000 apartment house of Hicks and Patterson, totally destroying it, and then jumped back to McMillan avenue, where several frame houses were speedily licked up.

The apartment house was brick and stone, wood finished. The fire started from the explosion of a plumber's gasoline furnace. A high wind was blowing and the unfinished structure not being closed in, the flames spread so rapidly that thirty men working on the roof were cut off before they well recognized their predicament. Some jumped, others slid down by ropes and all escaped with few minor injuries. Forty-five men working inside escaped uninjured.

The $80,000 so far expended on the building is represented by $20,000 insurance. Raging from house to house, the occupants of the residences destroyed on McMillan street had no time to save even their personal belongings.

Seventy-five firemen and five engines battled with the flames and driving one of the latter was F. M. Ireton, engineer of fire station No. 5, who stoically watched the conflagration lick up his own home.

A herd of Angora goats belonging to Mr. Nicholls, of Matsqui, which were being taken by W. Atkinson, of Chilliwack, to Mr. Nicholls' grazing ground, escaped from a corral at Clayburn on Sunday and scattered over the country. Most of the animals, about 130, climbed on to the C. P. R. trestle close by and made themselves at home on the height.

Unfortunately for the goats, a C. P. R. train happened along from Seattle and insisted on having the right of way, ploughing through the scattering herd and spreading death broadcast. After the slaughter of the innocents eighty-three dead billies and nannies were tossed off the trestle. Nineteen of these were given their quietus because of injuries received.

The engineer and fireman on the train stated they were unable to see the goats on the track owing to the fog.

YOUNG PEOPLE DROWN WHEN LAUNCH CAPSIZES

Vancouver, Sept. 19.—Returning by moonlight yesterday from the North Arm in the launch "You and I" a merry party of boys and girls were caught in the tide-rip off Prospect Point and in an instant were struggling in the seething waters, their boat upturned. William Young, and his sister Mabel, and William Woodruff were never seen again. James Jamieson, the bethrothed of Mabel Young, another brother, Walter Young, Miss LeBleau and two other girls were rescued by John Baker, an Indian who lives near the Point and who gallantly went out into the boiling whirlpool and took the survivors off the upturned hull to which they were clinging and on which they were being carried around and around by the eddy.

The party of eight left Vancouver yesterday morning in the gasoline launch "You and I," a galvanized iron metal hull boat, one of two which Mr. Woodruff had helped build. They spent the day up the North Arm and were returning rather early in the evening.

A short run was made out through the Narrows for English Bay. The tide was running out at the time, and directly opposite Prospect Point, while passing through the most dangerous portion of that passage the launch ran into one of those swirling eddies, almost a whirlpool, and in a moment the boat was capsized. Fortunately the craft was equipped with air tanks which enabled it to keep afloat, or else even the strongest swimmers in the party would have perished in the grip of the rushing tidal torrent.

When the launch turned over Walter when the launch turned over, Walter Young and James Jamieson succeeded in gripping the keel of the boat with one hand while with the other they held three of the girls above the water.

Mabel Young, along with her brother Willie, and Willie Woodruff, were carried out of reach of the upturned craft by the out rushing tide, and were never seen afterwards.

John Baker was attracted by the cries for help and after clinging to the boat for nearly a half hour, the remaining five of the party were rescued.

Of the three missing, Willie Young, aged 20, employed as a clerk in the B. C. E. R. company's office; William Woodruff, aged 21, was employed by the J. R. Tracey Sheet Metal Workers of 1051 Seaton street, and Miss Mabel Young, aged 23, was employed as a stenographer in the Hudson's Bay company's wholesale warehouse. The Youngs lived at 1675 Fifth avenue west, and Woodruff lived with his mother and sister at 154 Eleventh avenue west.

LADNER TRAM PROJECT CAUSES INTEREST HERE

The recent actions of the Ladner board of trade have aroused more than a passing interest in New Westminster. Some of the people in Ladner have been trying to induce the B. C. E. R. to bridge the river down there and provide a tram service for the Delta.

Many of the Westminster people claim that the interests of Ladner and New Westminster are too closely allied for any good to come out of this agitation.

At the council meeting last night Alderman Gray moved that a committee of the city council combine with a committee of the board of trade to have a meeting with the Delta board of trade to discuss the tram situation.

In making remarks on the question he said that the city had appointed a publicity commissioner and one of the first things he had done was to form a board of trade which knocked New Westminster.

Alderman Gilley remarked that he did not think that the agitation in the Delta was general. He had been talking to a farmer there the other day who had told him that there were three or four men in Ladner trying to run the whole business.

"That's right," interposed Mayor Lee.

His worship stated that he thought the agitation had been started in Ladner by people who had more interests in Vancouver than they had in the Delta, and they had evidently dominated the board of trade there. He defended the action of the publicity commissioner in helping to form the Ladner board of trade as the action it had taken had certainly nothing to do with him. He wound up by remarking that he thought the Ladner board of trade was making a grave error in taking a stand almost antagonistic to New Westminster, as the route over the government bridge here was the natural way into the Delta.

The trend of the discussion did not suit Alderman Bryson. "Do you think that if the New Westminster council and the Delta board of trade get together and ask the B. C. E. R. to build a line here or not to build a line there, they will do it?" he asked. "If the B. C. E. R. wants to build a line, the Ladner board of trade or the Westminster council won't stop them, and if they do not want to build, the same institutions cannot make them. In a few years there will be branches all over the country and there will be a bridge across at Ladner. Do you think that New Westminster will lose all its trade if the Ladner people are accommodated with a line to Vancouver?

"The country is expanding, it is marvellous the way the country districts are expanding and New Westminster will not suffer if Ladner is given another line. If they can get the bridge there, let them have it."

Notwithstanding Alderman Bryson's strong and lonesome opposition, Alderman Gray's motion to arrange for the meeting carried.

MAN HINTS AT SUICIDE AND THEN DISAPPEARS

Mr. Cedarburg, Wanted for Bigamy, Writes Letter to Wife Declaring He Will Drown Himself.

Mystery surrounds the movements of a man by the name of Cedarburg, who was in this city on Friday and who is wanted by the police of Tacoma and Vancouver. He wrote a letter from the Russell hotel here on Friday night last announcing that he was going to commit suicide by jumping into the Fraser river. The letter was addressed to his wife in Vancouver.

Cedarburg was wanted on charges of bigamy and embezzlement and the letter is thought to be a ruse to throw the police off his track. On Friday night there was no one by the name of Cedarburg registered at the Russell, but his acquaintances who came over looking for him thought that they recognized the writing of the man they were looking for in the signature of W. T. Johnston, registered from Montreal. Johnston only stayed for lunch and his movements around the hotel attracted no notice.

The police here were notified, but they could find no trace of the man either in the river or out of it, and it is not likely that he is anywhere near here now if he is still alive.

Cedarburg was connected with a large steel contracting firm in Tacoma and was making a good salary. He was a good liver and rather fond of women. He had a wife in Tacoma and is said to have married another woman in Vancouver recently. He was about thirty years of age, clean shaven and of medium height.

FOR FREER TRADE WITH WEST INDIES

Movement on Foot to Unify Islands in Trade, and Have Canadian Line.

Montreal Sept. 19.—A movement is on foot among a number of Canadian merchants and businessmen of the West Indies, to develop more direct trade relations between the Dominion and Jamaica. This movement has found an appreciable impetus from an exhibit of goods from Jamaica at the Toronto exhibition, and Stanley de Lisser, of Kingston, Jamaica, who was in charge of the exhibit, is in Montreal at the present time, working in the interests of the present trade movement.

"Jamaica," he said, today, in the course of an interview, "has not begun until now to realize the advantages that she may receive by direct interchange of trade with Canada. At the present time there is but little steamship communication between Canada and Jamaica, but there should be sufficient trade for a regular service of steamships coming to Montreal. Canada ,I know, can supply us with everything that we need, and I believe that we can supply you with much that you now receive through the United States, such as bananas, sugar, tobacco and cigars. We ourselves get much Canadian produce through the same channel, and it is only recently that some of us have got to know that it was Canadian produce that we were receiving. It has been usual to say that all the goods came "from America," which was accepted as meaning the United States, and Canada has in this way been slow to receive the credit which the excellency of the materials, notably flour, merits.

"What we have to do on our part is to unify the West Indian Islands a little more for trade purposes, and then we shall be what I may term a little more 'worth while.' There is good prospect that this unison may be brought about. Several influential businessmen are working hard towards this end, and the government of Jamacia is actively appreciative of the importance of the enterprise."

J. P. Murray, who represents the Canadian Manufacturers on the Toronto Exhibition committee, was with Mr. de Lisser at the time of the interview, and he said that it seemed obvious to him that there was real scope for developing a profitable direct trade with Jamaica.

VIEW OF McBRIDE.

B. B. Cooke, the representative of the Toronto Star with the Sir Wilfrid Laurier party, writes entertainingly about the visit to Victoria. His analysis of the two premiers is complete and searching, and his conclusions on the whole, appreciative. Dealing with Mr. McBride's political "cleverness," he writes:

"An interview with McBride is deceiving. Nobody could ever be as splendid as he impresses you as being; so there must be a weakness somewhere. It is a common saying in British Columbia that nobody could ever be as wise as McBride looks. It appears true. He is clever, but not brainy. He has not enough chin to be forceful. The keynote of him is the cleverness. His enemies call him a mountebank and flim-flammer. Some things support them, and they cannot explain away McBride's successes. They cannot overlook his genius for organizing political machines, nor his ability to use his personality. He cannot speak. On the platform he is merely a democratic noise. He is not an administrator. He has no great policies. He has no records except one for nerve in reading old Sir Charles Tupper's son out of the party last fall. He has been connected with objectionable land deals, and is said to be too good a friend of the C. P. R. But none of these things counterbalance his organization and personality. He could offer the forlorn Tory party a record of victories against the honorable defeats of that admirable man, R. L. Borden. In two years he would have his organization complete, and in the year would have secured a personal following that would weigh heavily. Above all, being the politician he is, and not 'a mere reformer,' he would rig up a good-looking policy that would, other things being favorable, hold enough wind to float his vessel into the desired haven. But in an interview you might easily be reserved, fearfully sagacious, and at but McBride's seeming ability. He is resrved, fearfully sagacious, and at times wonderfully bright. But it is the skill with which he hides his weaknesses that reveals the greatest of them."

"A STUBBORN CINDERELLA."

Lovers of musical comedy will find in "A Stubbron Cinderella" all the requisities that go to make up a thoroughly complete production of this description. The book is by Hough and Adams, and the music by Joseph Howard. These noted writers have collaborated in the construction of one of the greatest successes ever given to the musical comedy stage. The cast of principals is made up of a number of prominent artists. The chorus is composed of attractive, prepossessing and capable young ladies. Charles A. Goettler has equipped the porduction with magnificent scenery and goregous costumes. "A Stubborn Cinderella" comes to the Opera house on Saturday.

TURKEY AND RUSSIA IN NEW MILITARY ALLIANCE

Le Temps, of Paris, Announces Extraordinary Development in European Politics.

London, Sept. 18—Remarkable news affecting the status of Turkey with the European powers is published in Le Temps, of Paris, one of the most trustworthy and influential newspapers on the continent.

Briefly, the announcement is that Turkey and Russia have concluded a military alliance and that the former power is taking steps to range herself with the powers forming the Triple alliance—Germany, Austro-Hungary and Italy.

If this be true, an extraordinary development has come in European politics.

Only a year or two ago Turkey and Austria were at daggers drawn over the annexation of Bosnia-Herzegovina and Turkey and Russia on little better terms.

Now apparently old sores are about to be healed and the Ottoman Empire comes forward to take its place boldly among the factors with which all European chancelleries will have to reckon.

The report of Turkey's action was first published in July, but was denied as a journalistic canard. Berlin issued a denial and the Constantinople press took up the attitude that the proposal was entirely inopportune.

Le Temps itself on the occasion even said to Turkey that "if she entered the Triple alliance and thus changed the character of that coalition, she would inevitably forfeit the sympathies and the support of France, England and Russia. The men who govern Turkey," added the journal, "know very well that, in order to carry to a successful issue the difficult task which they have undertaken, they require to unite, not to divide, Europe."

CANADIAN SYSTEM BEST.

Mr. Thorton says that it is understood in South Africa that the Canadian system of grain inspection is the best in the world and as such commands the confidence of the British market. It is the desire of South Africa, he says, to adopt somewhat similar grain inspection laws.

A BROKEN REED.

It is a long time since the immortal bard penned the famous line, "Hope springs eternal in the human breast." But the truth of this excellent morsel of philosophy is as apparent today as ever. It forms for instance the whole reason for the continued existence of the Conservative party, and of their leader, Mr. Borden. The latter has just reaffirmed his fath in the success of the Conservative party at the next federal election. Mr. Borden does not appear to have made clear the reason for the faith that is in him. It cannot be that the experience of his party at the last two elections, nor the reception accorded to the Halifax platform give any justification for such an optimistic outlook.

It may be of course that the Conservative party has a fresh program of scandals to put forward, and expect to score over the government in this way. But their experience even in this respect is scarcely such as to be encouraging. Or it may be that Mr. Borden regards his party's attack on the National Transcontinental railway and the transportation policy of the government as a likely means to produce the desired result. But he will not find any useful measure of public support for this wrangling and bickering, because the Canadian people recognize and support the progressive policy of the government.

Nor is the position which Mr. Borden has taken up in respect to the Canadian navy likely to gain his party any increase of support at the next election. There is no question that the naval policy of the government meets with general approval throughout the Dominion. The Conservative party is not even able to show that it has done any good or useful work in the character of an opposition. It does not possess the cohesiveness of harmony, but instead, dissention is rife within its ranks. Mr. Borden's optimism is no doubt cheering to his party, but having nothing to give it warrant has only the unstable reliance of a broken reed.

AUTOMOBILE REGULATIONS.

We are glad to learn that the law officers of the provincial government are now engaged in preparing regulations for automobile traffic throughout the province. The exsiting regulations, which were drawn up in the early days of the automobile, somewhat hurriedly, are altogether inadequate to meet the condition of affairs today, when this speedy means of travel has become so widely adopted. Most, if not all, local authorities have by-laws for regulating the traffic through their respective districts, but these in no way to properly safeguard the interests of the public.

Patrons of the automobile have increased in number considerably during the past few years, and it is pretty certain that they will become even more numerous in the near future. Some thorough form of legislation dealing with this kind of traffic has therefore become urgently necessary. Unfortunately there are a good many drivers of automobiles who cannot resist the temptation to run at high speed, especially when they come across a section of nice smooth roadway like the main street of our city. The facility with which pace can be attained on these machines also seems to develop a degree of selfishness in certain drivers which makes them utterly indifferent to the rights of the public. They career along the roads at a mad pace, raising a great dust and endangering both their own and other peoples' lives. These road hogs, as they are generally termed, are deprecated by the great body of automobile owners. They are a nuisance and a grave source of danger, and no law can really be too severe upon them.

We understand that the new government regulations will embody all the best principles of similar legislation now in force in other countries, remodelled where necessary to meet the peculiar requirements of British Columbia. We presume therefore they will include a provision for securing the proper qualification of all automobile drivers and the limitation of this privilege to males. The former is very necessary. As to the latter, though a woman may, and does often make a most capable handler of the reins, experience in Great Britain and Europe has shown that they are not to be trusted with the control of the steering wheel.

LAND POLICY WANTED.

The people of British Columbia scarcely realize to what extent the progress of British Columbia is being retarded owing to the failure of the McBride government to evolve a proper land settlement policy. The government has a policy, and that is to give, or sell at a nominal figure, big tracts of the best of the land to its faithful friends as a reward for services rendered. This policy has been persistently adhered to from the first, and is still being followed. Take as an instance the splendid districts in the Bulkley and Ootsa valleys. When the government surveyors were sent in, practically the whole of the land was found to have been staked and sold to camp followers of the government. After these had taken all they could handle, and all that was worth taking, a reserve was put upon the remainder and this was thrown open to settlement by pre-emptors. There never was a more scandalous piece of business transacted in the history of the province, and yet this is only one of a hundred similar instances. The Bulkley and Ootsa valleys will be crippled for a century by the almost criminal action on the part of the McBride government. The government has no other land policy than that indicated. It is impossible for settlers to get more than the most vague information in regard to government lands. On Vancouver Island there are some splendid farming lands in the neighborhood of Shushartie. A dozen settlers have gone in and have pre-empted or purchased lands, but the best of the land has been sold to favorities, and other sales are being made. If purchasers were bound to settle these lands it would not be so bad, but they are not. They are given a clear title to them and can hold them indefinitely until the surrounding lands are settled up, and then they can sell at an immense profit. Even this, although bad enough, would not be such a great injury to the province, were it not for the fact that by taking the best lands out of the reach of the pre-emptor, the district is killed so far as present settlement is concerned. No man wants to go into a district and pre-empt land, even if it is good land, unless he knows he is going to have neighbors, and unless a settlement is likely to grow up around him, so that he can obtain the privileges of schools, churches, post-offices and the other accompaniments of civilization. Then there is the general lack of information in regard to lands to be obtained. No one knows anything how to get to them, and no one seems very keen on inducing their settlement. Compare this method with that of the Dominion government, and the difference at once shows why it is that British Columbia has not settled as fast as it should have. Complaint has sometimes been made that the Dominion government does not advertise Birtish Columbia sufficiently, but how could it, when it was well known by everyone that if the people came here they could not get the land unless they were ready to pay the prices demanded by the government favorites who held them. —Victoria Times.

BAPTIST PASTOR ANSWERS CHALLENGE OF CATHOLICS

Toronto, Sept. 19.—Rev. Dr. William T. Graham, pastor of the First Avenue Baptist church, last night before an overflowing congregation preached a sermon in which he picked up the gauntlet thrown down by Father Vaughan in his recent challenge to Protestantism.

Referring to the recent demonstration in Montreal he said: "It was the Pope, the Italian priest and the Church of Rome that were exalted throughout this entire congress, and Christ and church were kept in the background.

"I have lived in Montreal and I can say to you from first hand knowledge that it was for nothing more than to show the people in that district the power of the church that all this display was made."

The nchmen will take the waters there submit to expert massage in an- ation of the next melee with the pions. The Nationals will have time for the next few days, but will not be a patch to the hot e next Saturday.

Newsy Lalonde's boys are easily the sportsmen who have ever come after the Minto Cup. They were en on Saturday, decisively by en goals to three, but not a whim- has been heard from a single one them. They took their beating like and acknowledged the superiority their opponents. Contrast this the baby yelping of the Mont- s or the eternal grouch of Charlie rie and his Indians, and you will y see who are the sports and are the pikers.

e Lally's story of the game, writ- for the Montreal Star, must have pleasant reading for the sporting r of that paper—not quite. It's fe bet Lally will not get another gnment from the Star, for he does write the kind of stuff that paper s.

MINES SUPPLYING COAL TO BRITISH NAVY CLOSE

Cardiff, Wales, Sept. 19.—Twelve thousand miners from the Cambrian colliery struck today. The strike temporarily closes all the mines supplying coal to the British navy. The strikers in walking out, violated the orders of the leaders of the unions. The federation of mine owners is considering locking out 200,000 men as a result of the trouble.

If this action is taken by the mine owners, one of the most serious labor disputes of recent years in England may begin. The action of the men in quitting in spite of the efforts of the heads of their organizations to keep them at work, gives the operators a chance to make a winning fight against the unions, it is believed, and anti-union sentiment which has been crystalizing among the mine owners may show itself in a general lockout order, brought on the grounds of alleged violation of contracts.

The labor situation throughout England is regarded as somewhat critical and the strike has caused wide comment and is receiving close attention from all parts of England.

Conference votes Strike.

Cardiff, Wales, Sept. 19.—By their action this evening in voting in favor of the strike of 200,000 Welsh coal miners, the delegates to the miners' conference gave a tremendous impact to the impending English labor war. The vote for the strike will not become operative unless the miners themselves support the proposal, but there is little doubt that they will vote overwhelmingly to support their delegates and tha strike will be declared within the next two weeks.

Boy Scouts Tour in Canada.

London, Sept. 18.—The Boy Scouts, who have returned from a visit to Canada, speak warmly of their reception there. The Imperial Cadet association proposes to extend in 1911 invitations to teams from all overseas dominions. It is also hoped to send a British cadet team around the empire.

EIGHT PLAYERS FIGURED IN THIS DOUBLE PLAY

What is conceded to be the most complicated double play in the history of baseball was made in Brooklyn recently between two semi-professional teams, the Manhattans and the Marquettes. The play involved every player on the Marquette team save the right fielder, and it was so peculiar as to attract widespread attention.

Marquette had runners on first and third, with one out, when the signal was given for a double steal. The pitcher, suspecting, turned a new trick. Instead of pitching to the plate he made a half balk motion and whipped the ball to third, drawing the runner off first. The man on third dived back to the bag, and the baseman threw to second, stopping the man approaching, who turned back to first and beat the throw.

As the second-sacker threw to first the man on third streaked for home, but was turned back by the first baseman's throw to the catcher. As he was being run down by the catcher, third basemen and left fielder, the man on first continued around the paths. The left fielder touched out the runner between third and home and turned to get the man between second and third. The ball was thrown back and forth several times, the put-out finally going to the center fielder, who had hurried in to join the play.

In all the ball was thrown eighteen times, every man but the right fielder had assists, and two outfielders were credited with put-outs on an infield play.

DRAMATIC INCIDENTS ARE FREQUENT IN MELODRAMA

Last night's production of "The Manxman" at the opera house is one of the neatest and best staged dramas that has held the boards in the local playhouse for some time.

The dramatic incidents throughout the play are sufficient to keep the audience enthralled through the whole process of unwinding the story of the honest love of Pete Quilliam for Kate Creegan and his great self-sacrifice for that love and her good name. It is the same old story of a weak woman and the tempter's tongue, but told without the sordidness that marks most of the melodrama of today. As "Pete Quilliam" Frederic Clarke had a trying role to assume, but despite this his part was well taken. Miss Lolita Lamb as "Nancy Joe" had easily the best part of the evening and to her belongs the credit for carrying the production through in several of the duller moments.

Mildred Eddy as Katherine Creegan, Gertrude Stone as Grannie Creegan, Thomas H. Clarke as Philip Christian, Percy Kilbride as Ross Christian, Chic Kehoe as Ceaser Creegan, Abe Darnes as Black Tom and Irving Cook as Johnny Niplightly completed the cast. From a scenic standpoint "The Manxman" was exceptionally good.

Correspondence

THE MANUFACTURERS' ASSOCIATION.

To the Editor, Daily News:

Sir—The value of the aproaching visit of the Manufacturers' association to our city shall unquestionally be in proportion to the interest we manifest in that visit. The opportunity to display our wares is the best the city has ever had. We claim to have the goods, to have a city offering the best facilities for industrial pursuits, present and prospective, but especially prospective, of any city on the Pacific coast, and the purchasing power of all Canada is here to examine our goods. If a stranger who inquires for a certain article in a store is told to look around and see if he can find it, he will turn on his heels and go elsewhere. Let us then by all means show the goods. This is not a matter on which any citizen should excuse himself on the plea that there are others such as the city council and the board of trade whose duty it is to attend to such affairs. Every citizen no matter how humble, can and should aid. The man who removes one stump or applies a quart of paint to his premises helps to build up the city and if this is all he can do his good work has the merit of the widow's mite. In like manner, the man who raises his hat to welcome the visitors is aiding the city.

A few years ago this association visited the coast, but did not cast an eye on New Westminster. I thought then this omission was unfortunate for us and perhaps unprofitable for them. The reader may remember how enthusiastically they were received along the route. At some town on the prairie, Moose Jaw, I think, all the articles there and in the surrounding district were commandered, so to speak, and the associations' train was met six miles out where the members were taken charge of and driven around to see all points of interest.

We have among our citizens men from all parts of Canada, and those delegates come from all parts of Canada. If sapce in our local press could be obtained I would suggest publishing the names and places of residence of those visitors. On looking over the list every eastern man here would likely see some name familiar to him and would at once become interested in seeking his man and thus possibly securing a valuable friend for the city. It is not by formal methods alone that a city can be built up. Every good word spoken in its interest has an influence.

As to the expense of entertaining such visitors there should be some system of appealing to citizens for donations so that nothing would be left undone to make the most favorable impression.

PROBLEM OF MYRIAD RATES ON RAILWAYS

Billions of Freight Rates—Unintelligible Schedules—Work of Commission.

Beginning this month, the railroads of the United States will have to provide the freight shipping public with statistics showing the amount of each subsequent advance of rates. Hitherto a railroad could simply announce on its schedule that the rate on, say, pork from Chicago to Boston would be so much per hundred. In future it will be required to inform the public what the previous rate was. In other words, the fact that a change is an increase must be duly published. Up to the present the railways have announced new rates almost daily, with the public little the wiser whether they were increases or not. The new regulation may not appear very important, but since the railways have for many years objected to such a rule, it is to be inferred that the shipper reaps some benefit. It is another turn of the screw that the people of the United States, through the interstate commerce commission, are driving into the spine of the railways, and marks one more step on the long road that leads to an understanding of the whole question of freight rates.

Billions of Freight Rates.

That the day will ever come when the public or any of the representatives of the public will finally master the details of freight rates is a physical impossibility. It is their number that defies comprehension. A few days ago an official in the employ of the Interstate Commerce commission at Washington estimated that there were 6,743,000,000 different freight rates in the United States. This is considered an unduly optimistic calculation by former President Stickney of the Chicago Great Western railroad, who says that the number of rates is 97,000,000,000. Stickney has been at work for some years in his spare time trying to standardize the rates, and he claims to have reduced the number to a mere trifle like 300,000. Other experts say his system is impossible; but even supposing the number of rates to be thus reducible, for one man to know them all would be equal to the feat of one man who knew every citizen of Toronto by name, and could tell his proper address on a moment's notice.

Miles of Shelves.

There are five grades of freight, each with a separate classification, recognized by the United States government. There are about 75,000 stations from which freight may be shipped in the United States. If you multiply five by 75,000 you can calculate the number of rates that may be quoted from any given station in the United States. Multiply it again by 75,000 and a fair idea is obtained of the possible rates now existing in the country to the south of us. Bear in mind, too, that this is the result after years of regulating which insists that there shall be no discrimination on the part of a railroad against any individual shipper or point of shipment. To find out the number of rates that previously existed would be like figuring out the number of spikes in the railroads of the United States or the number of lumps of coal consumed in the course of a year's operation. In the offices of the commission at Washington there are miles of shelves crammed with books containing nothing else but railroad rates that have existed in the past few years, that exist at present, or that the railroads desire to put into force.

The Grip of the Commission.

No railroad in the United States can increase any existing rate by the fraction of a cent without first notifying the interstate commerce commission. Afer the notification thirty days must elapse before the new rate comes into force. In the meantime any shipper who has any objection to the rate can appear before the commission or write to it and state his case. If that body decides that the rate is not a fair one, or that it tends to discriminate against any particular individual, class of individuals or community, it may refuse permission to the railroad to advance the rate. The rates that have been govern to a very large extent the rates that are to be. Hence it is necessary that the commission should have filed with it rates that are supposedly obsolete, for there is no knowing when some particular case may arise which will make it necessary to hunt up an old schedule to serve as a precedent. These miles of shelves contain the ammunition with which battles are fought every day of the year between the railways which desire to make a little more money out of the shippers, and the public which desires to get a little more service out of the railroads. The commission holds the scales between them.

Unintelligible Schedules.

As a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat says, a new rate may look plain enough, but will be found to contain exceptions to the rule, references to other rates, provisions that certain weights and rules shall govern, explanations that it does not apply over certain connecting roads, and scores of other details that must be taken into consideration in determining many of the rates in every-day use. Nor must it be supposed that it is only the public or the shipper that is in the dark. Quite as often the appellant is a railroad man himself, who asks the commission to declare what a certain rate means and how it is to be applied. The very official of the railway who makes the change probably has in mind a single object; but he does not know, until the board decides, how the change will affect a dozen or a thousand other rates or commodities. Consequently it is quite the ordinary thing for a railroad to cancel today the rate that it applied for a week ago, the board having in the meantime shown that a great many undesirable changes, from the railroads' point of view, were thereby involved.

RICH COAL DEPOSITS.

Seward, Sept. 18.—Prospectors returning from Knik Arm, a branch of Cook inlet, report the discovery of an immense field of bituminous coal that promises to be of more value than even the fabulously rich Matanuska deposits. Alfred H. Brooks, head of the Alaska mineral resources division of geological survey, who is here, is taking steps to investigate the new field thoroughly. Mr. Brooks has just completed a study of the Matanuska fields and will send an exhaustive report to Washington.

Cigarette Smoking in Canada.

Ottawa, Sept. 18.—Customs returns for the last fiscal year show one indication of prosperity which will not excite general enthusiasm. The consumption of cigarettes in Canada for the fiscal year ending March 31 last totalled 469,711,081, an increase of a little over 100,000,000 cigarettes, as compared with the preceding year and representing an outlay of probably $4,000,000.

UNIVERSITY TO CEMENT BOERS AND CONQUERORS

Home of Learning in South Africa to Be Built in Grounds Adjoining Groote Schuur.

Capetown, Sept. 18. — Whatever shock it might cause the late Cecil Rhodes if he could see General Botha occupying Groote Schuur, his splendid mansion near here, as the premier of South Africa, it would be modified by the discovery that a great South African university is to be built in the grounds adjoining.

Rhodes was a firm believer in education, as his scheme for the Rhodes scholars proves, and he would certainly have approved this means of bridging race differences between Boer and Briton. About $2,500,000 is to be spent from the public treasury for the establishment of this Harvard of South Africa and as this quarter of the globe has many millionaires it may be reckoned certain that they will make liberal benefactions to the new seat of learning.

A memorial to King Edward will also be woven into the scheme, in addition to the present plan to erect a monument to the late peacemaker in front of the new parliament house of the Union of South Africa, now being built in Pretoria. This latter memorial will have special reference to the part King Edward played in ending the Boer war.

After the Fakers.

The city police stopped some of the fakers last evening from running gambling games in connection with their faking and utterly disgusting exhibitions on the water front and at other poins throughout the city. To the average citizen, even not those who draw the line closely, it seems a most unwise thing for the few dollars that pass into the city treasury, to license men to set traps of various kinds around pay day to catch the dollars and dimes of boys and men foolish enough to play their sure-thing game. It is time, so say the people, to change existing city laws, and refuse these vultures the privilege of spreading their nets to catch the unwary.—Nanamio Herald.

PRISON TERM FOR HEIKE.

"Man Higher Up" In Sugar Trust Frauds Sentenced.

New York, Sept. 19.—Charles R. Heike, former secretary and treasurer of the American Sugar Refining company, who has been called the "man higher up" in the sugar trust, was sentenced today by Judge Martin to serve eight months in the New York penitentiary on Blackwell's Island, and pay a fine of $5000 in the case of conspiracy against the government in the underweighing of sugar.

NEW PORTUGUESE PEERS.

King Appoints Sixteen Men Who Are Supporters of Government.

Lisbon, Sept. 19.—King Emanuel has appointed sixteen new peers, all of them supporters of the present ministry. The king has also signed a decree of amnesty to those who have given offense to the government through newspapers.

World's Shipments.

Liverpool, Sept. 19.—(Special.)—The world's shipments of grain during last week were: Wheat, 14,192,000 bushels; corn, 3,760,000 bushels; Russian shipments of wheat amounted to 6,036,000 bushels; Danubian were 832,000 bushels.

Threshing Wheat Rapidly.

Brandon, Sept. 19.—Great progress was made in the work of threshing last week and returns are much more satisfaactory than expected previously. The crop is easy to handle and there are plenty of threshing outfits. The only difficutly is lack of harvesters.

GAYNOR CONSIDERING GOVERNORSHIP CALL

New York's Mayor Writes that He Will Soon Take Up Resolution of Democrats.

Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 18.—Mayor Gaynor's first word as to his attitude toward the movement to nominate him for governor was received here today. In a letter to Frank Gick, secretary of the Saratoga county Democratic convention, who had informed him of the resolution adopted by the convention indorsing him for the Democratic nomination for governor, the mayor replied:

"I thank you for the letter and the resolution you inclose. I shall have to carefully consider the matter in the near future."

When Mayor Gaynor took office, he said he intended to serve the full term of four years.

ALL SIGNS POINT TO VERY COLD WINTER

Winnipeg, Sept. 19.—The Indians and the old-timers, neither of whom are often wrong in their predictions, say that the coming winter will be one of the coldest on record. They point to the fact that the fur-bearing animals are growing thicker and longer coats than customary; that muskrats are building their houses larger and higher than is the custom in mild winters; that the bears are starting to make their dens in the most protected places they can find, and the little chipmunks and gophers are also preparing for a cold winter. They affirm that these signs never fail and that people should be ready for a very cold winter with lots of snow.

SUBSIDY TO PRESS.

Australian House Will Make Grant for Cable Service.

Sydney, Australia, Sept. 19.—The Australian house of representatives has agreed to grant subsidies to the Independent Press Cable association of Australia. Under the new arrangement the commonwealth pays £2000 for the first year, £2000 for the second year and £1500 for the third year. At least 6000 words of cable service are to be transmitted each week from Europe or Africa, and Australian newspapers are to be entitled to become subscribers to the service at rates varying from £1000 to £300 per annum. It is to be a condition that the association must transmit to Australia any information supplied to its agents in London by the high commissioner of the commonwealth.

A bush fire which has been burning in the west end of the city for several days yesterday came within a short distance of George Mead's new house. The blaze was fought back by a number of volunteer firemen.

Joseph Brannick, of East Chilliwack, is applying for a water record of one-tenth of a cubic foot to be taken from John Ford creek on the northwest corner of section 30, township 26, Chilliwack, the water to be used for domestic purposes on the applicant's farm.

The forest fires in the different districts are reported to be fairly well under control. There is no immediate danger from the one at White Rock and most of the others in Surrey are nearly burned out. The light rain on Friday night helped a little and since then there have been heavy dews and fogs which have helped materially in checking the flames. Small fires are reported from Harrison river and Suicide creek, but particulars as to their extent and origin are lacking.

The junior Templars of Temperance met in the old I. O. O. F. hall yesterday evening and elected officers as follows: Select councillor, Mildred Owen; vice-councillor, Amy Mann; chaplain, Nesta Owen; herald, Sanford Mercer; deputy herald, Elin Melein; secretary, Lily Johnson; guard, Winslow Crouse. Miss Secred Johnson is acting secretary during the absence on an eastern trip of Mrs. N. R. Brown. The officers will be installed next week, when a fine program will be presented.

Edward Goudy, the man accused of taking part in an affray on the market square about a week ago, was found guilty in the police court yesterday morning and fined $50 and costs. Magistrate Edmonds, in summing up the case, commented strongly on the nature of the evidence that had been offered. He stated that there evidently had been perjury committed by some one and if it were not so hard to obtain a conviction in such cases he would hame some of the witnesses arrested. Two other charges against Goudy, one for obstructing a police officer and the other for assault on the same officer, were dismissed.

Prominent Styles Of Hats In The Millinery Department

The many enquiries for satin blush, and beaver hats justifies our preparations to supply such demand as we now experience. Fashion indications of a year ago were carefully studied out with the result that we made ready for this fall's business with a large stock of advance styles. It is these advance styles that now command the attention of those who desire the newest hats. We are showing many shapes (including turban, mushroom and high crown, Dolly Varden with droop brims) in satin, plush, beavers, feather and fur hats. All shades in amethyst, plum, raisin, wine, cardinal, wisteria, rose cadet, royal, navy, Copenhagen and black and white.

Another popular hat is known as the sofe crown, felt sailor, in English and Canadian makes. All colors and black and white. Leave your order early for your fall hat. We can give you now our best attention.
