GIFT OF CHOCOLATES CONTAINED ARSENIC

Police Quietly Investigating Peculiar Attempt Made on Burnaby Man's Life.

The police authorities of Burnaby and the provincial police have for the last few days been actively engaged, though so far without success, in attempting to trace the sender of a box of poisoned chocolates received by Mr. Farrand, a B. C. E. R. employee, on Wednesday last.

The gift was received by Mr. Farrand while he was at home with a party of friends. The paper wrapper on the box contained two initials which so far have not been of any assistance in identifying the donor of the sweets. Mr. Farrand ate one of the chocolates and passed the box around. Two of his friends helped themselves, one eating several bonbons. The chocolates were noticed to have a peculiar taste and on this account the box was laid aside.

Shortly after the three men who had eaten the chocolates were taken ill, one of them very seriously. A doctor was summoned and after noticing the symptoms pronounced it a case of arsenic poisoning. Traces of arsenic were found in the chocolates remaining in the box.

Mr. Farrand is at a loss to account for the attempt made to poison him, as he does not know of any enemies who have so bitter a spite against him that they would risk a trip trough a gallows trapdoor to satisfy their thirst for vengeance.

Although the three victims of the outrage are now considered out of danger, one of the men remains seriously ill and will not be able to return to work for some days.

The police are still working on the case.

ROYAL CITY MAY BE "DRY" BEFORE END OF NEXT YEAR

Dr. Spencer Voices Proposal to Call for Plebiscite on Local Option Within Twelve Months.

In the Olivet Baptist church last evening Dr. Spencer, of Vancouver, president of the Local Option league of British Columbia, delivered an address on "The War Against the Saloon." Beginning with a bitter tirade against the liquor traffic, Dr. Spencer recapitulated the main counts in the indictment against "the linked gigantic evils of the barroom, the brothel and the gambling hell," attributing the fall of ninety per cent of the occupants of the penitentiary and from twenty-six to thirty per cent of the inmates of the asylum to "the seven hundred and fifty doorways to hell" in the province. Proceeding, the speaker next reviewed the history of the campaign in this and other countries. He spoke of the reduction of crime and drunkenness in Great Britain, owing to the operation of the liquor enactments in the last budget; of the rapid progress in the United States, some sixty millions of the inhabitants of which are now living under prohibition laws; of the forthcoming prohibition congress to take place at The Hague next year, when the scientific aspects of alcoholism will be dscussed; and finally of the effects of the Canada Temperance Act in Eastern Canada and the prairie provinces.

Unfortunately every province in Canada was ahead of British Columbia, but this state of affairs, he hoped, would soon be remedied by the amendment to the Canadian Temperance Act making it applicable to British Columbia. Under the powers of this Act, petitions asking that a vote be taken require to be signed by only 25 per cent of the electors, in any county or city, and the requisite petitions have been presented calling for a vote in Chilliwack and in Prince Rupert, on the fourteenth and twenty-second of December, respectively.

Following on these ballots, it is proposed to call next for a plebiscite in the county of Westminster, in the course of about three months, and in all probability in the City of New Westminster within a year. To do this meant time, work and money, and he called on his audience to give all of these. This year a sum of $2,600 had so far been subscribed to the movement, and the league required $2,000 more to pay all accounts and provide for the coming campaigns.

The speaker concluded with an impassioned appeal to his audience for their assistance in the work carried on by the league, with which he bracketted the Women's suffrage movement, and stated that with the assistance of the women's vote, he could clean the province of British Columbia from end to end within the space of two years.

London, Nov. 14.—The council of the British Columbia Aid society has received £500 from a "well-wisher."

PARLIAMENT NOT TO TRANSACT BUSINESS

The Re-assembly of English House Will Be Purely Formal—Elections Soon.

London, Nov. 15.—The re-assembly of parliament today will be purely formal, the government, in view of the early dissolution, having decided not to introduce any business.

Winston Spencer Churchill has issued a strong manifesto to his Dundee constituents asking them to concentrate the fight on the veto question. Politicians everywhere are already campaigning.

Immediately after the re-opening of parliament Premier Asquith will leave for Sandringham, where he will confer with King George.

It is expected that on Wednesday the announcement will be made that the house will dissolve before the end of next week, and that the elections will be over before Christmas.

Lord Curzon of Keddlestone made a strong appeal at Portsmouth last night, severely arraigning the government and declaring that if the Liberals are returned to power the moderate men will be submerged.

SILAS FADER WILL RUN.

Brother of Former Alderman Willing to Go and do Likewise.

After having been interviewed by an influential deputation which promised him support, Silas Fader has been persuaded to announce himself as an aldermanic candidate at the forthcoming civic election.

Mr. Fader is one of the best known among the later arrivals in the business field of this city. He came to New Westminster about two years ago and entered the real estate and financial business. At the present time he is looking after the interests of his brother, E. J. Fader, a former alderman, who is away on important business in England.

Although a comparatively recent arrival in Westminster, Mr. Fader is not a newcomer in B. C., having been in the province for over fourteen years.

Poor Start in Y. M. C. A. Work.

The campaign will last eight days.

WORK ABOUT TO START ON BUILDING OF B. C. E. R. DEPOT

Westminster Terminus of Street Railway Will Eclipse Others On the Coast---Structure Will Cost About $80,000---Modelled On Lines Of Finest Station On the Continent.

The welcome announcement was made yesterday by Allan Purvis, manager of the interurban lines of the B. C. E. R., that the contract for the erection of the new depot in the city of New Westminster had been let and work would start on the structure almost at once.

The contract was let to Broley and Martin, of New Westminster. This firm has put up many important buildings for the provincial government, the court houses at Fernie, Kamloops and other places being samples of its work.

The building itself will be the finest depot on the coast, as far as facilities for the public are concerned. It will cost, when completed, in the neighborhood of $80,000.

The building will have a cement base and pressed brick walls. The roof will be supported by steel columns. The building will be two stories high and will be so constructed that extra stories can be added on at any time that the business demands an extension.

On the ground floor will be the car tracks; commodious waiting rooms both for ladies and the general public; a parcel office, four ticket windows and the ticket offices, and in the centre of the waiting room a well equipped news stand will be maintained.

The interurban cars will run into the station on three tracks. It will be the first station in British Columbia in which a modern method of handling the public will be used. The public will be excluded from the track platform until the cars are ready to load. Then the ticket holders will be admitted through pneumatic gates and no visitors or loafers will be allowed to enter. In this way the company will have a better system of keeping track of their passengers and the risk to the public will be reduced to a minimum.

In one corner of the first floor there will be a parcel and express office. Here also the train dispatcher's office for the whole interurban system, including the new Burnaby line, now under course of construction, will be located.

The interior of the waiting room and the offices will be finished in different varieties of native woods, highly polished and ornamented.

The second floor will be devoted to the offices of the different officials of the company. Here also will be well furnished reading and recreation rooms for the employees. As soon as the building is completed the offices of Allan Purvis, general manager of the interurban lines; the chief engineer, auditor, train master and others will be found there.

The building will be 132 feet square. In general plan it will be similar to the station of the Indiana Traction company at Indianapolis, but in some features it will eclipse that station, now regarded as one of the finest on the continent.

The completion of the station will see the start of a new era in the development of New Westminster, which will be second to no city in Canada in electrical transportation facilities.

Almost coincident with the start of the building here work will be commenced on yards and freight sheds on the other side of the river, just west of the Westminster Bridge. Here the company has arranged to spend almost $100,000 in permanent improvements.

The announcement of the building of the station has been hanging fire for some months and Manager Purvis was pleased to be able to make the announcement yesterday that a start was about to be made.

BANK TELLER SUSPICIOUS OF CLEAN CERTIFICATE

Woman Launders Dirty Dollar Bill—Treasury Officials Appealed to to Reassure Banker.

Washington, Nov. 14.—A mistake that may become common if the government finally decides to laundry dirty paper money came to the attention of the treasury officials today.

A woman in New York received an extremely dirty silver certificate. She promptly washed and ironed the bill. It came out of the process clean and she took it to the bank. It looked so strange that the bank teller pronounced the note a counterfeit and sent it to Washington for inspection.

"The only thing the matter with it," smiled Chief Wilkie, of the secret service department, "is that it's been cleaned."

FLOODS AGAIN THREATEN INUNDATION OF PARIS

Jardin des Plantes Under Water—Residents of Eastern Suburbs Fear More Trouble.

Paris, Nov. 14.—Rain, which set in last night, continues to fall and fears for the safety of the inhabitants of villages along the Seine are increased.

Already the water in the river has reached high-water mark and unless the downpour ceases soon it will be over the banks in a dozen places. The Jardin des Plantes already is inundated, and the subterranean passages to the Austerlitz station flooded, gangways being improvised for passengers.

The poor in the eastern suburbs of Paris, who suffered greatly in the floods early last year, are beginning to flee from what they believe will be a repetition of last January's overflow.

It is feared that a number of factories will be closed down, throwing thousands out of employment.

WESTMINSTER FAILS IN BID FOR CONVENTION

Next Meeting of Union of B. C. Municipalities to Be Held in Victoria.

New Westminster had a narrow escape from being chosen as the next meeting place of the Union of B. C. Municipalities, which concluded its session at Salmon Arm on Friday. There were three towns aspiring for the honor, New Westminster, Chilliwack and Victoria. At first it was only Victoria and New Westminster, but Chilliwack's bid for the honor rather overbalanced things and the choice fell on Victoria.

New Westminster lost only by two or three votes. New Westminster has already had the convention here once and Victoria has never had it and that probably turned the scale in favor of the capital.

The meeting was the largest that the union ever had and the interest seems to be growing every year. Mayor Lee, when speaking to a News reporter about it yesterday, remarked that nearly al the discussion was relative to the way certain clauses in the Municipal Clauses act operated. All the places except New Westminster had been under the operation of the act for some time and they were able to find fault with it. As a result the Westminster delegates were not very prominent in the discussions. "We may have more to say next year," stated the mayor, "when we have had some experience with the act."

Mayor Bell, of Enderby, president of the union, who occupied the chair at the meetings, delivered his report reviewing the legislation which had been effected during the year, and also calling attention to these recommendations of the union which the government had not seen fit to place on the statute books. The convention then passed to the consideration of new recommendations which it was decided to forward to the government, these including such matters as the division of the Municipal Clauses act into three sections, applicable to first class and second class cities, and rural municipalities; government ownership of telephones; biennial election of councils; taxation of timber leases and timber berths on Crown lands, and the establishment of county councils to co-operate with the provincial government in building trunk roads. In this connection much profitable discussion arose on the question of the best methods of road building and maintenance of roads, with particular reference to automobile and motor freighting car traffic.

Mayor Lee, of New Westminster, delivered an instructive address on municipal advertising and publicity work. A resolution was adopted asking the provincial government to build, equip and maintain a sanatorium for tubercular cases, two-thirds of the cost to be borne by the municipalities pro rata to their population. A number of minor matters were also approved of, such as the classification of land subdivision plans and the procedure of justices of the peace in the administration of their duties.

Single Tax System To Be Brought Up at the Next Council Meeting.

The few people who attended last night's meeting of the city council had to wait until the very last thing on the program before anything of great interest happened. Then it happened so suddenly that it was hardly noticeable. Alderman Welsh gave notice that at the next meeting of the council he would bring in a motion to exempt all improvements from taxation in New Westminster.

This is practically the single tax system of taxation and it could be seen that the announcement occasioned a great deal of surprise. There was no discussion as it was only a notice of motion and was the last thing mentioned at the meeting.

Outside of that the meeting last night was remarkable for the ordinary nature of the proceedings. For one thing it was half an hour late in starting and when they did commence operations their actions were not characterized by that activity which marks their deliberations when there is a show on in the Opera house or something of that description. Alderman Johnston for the first time in several weeks occupied his chair and was appointed acting mayor in case Mayor Lee goes away some time this week, as he announced might be the case.

Mayor Lee announced that the city bonds had been sold at a good figure and the action of the mayor and the finance committee in selling them was endorsed by the council.

Alderman Gray gave a short verbal report on the deliberations of the Union of B. C. Municipalities at Sal-

VIRGINIA HARNED

Possibly the most important attraction of the present theatrical season at the Westminster Opera house is the engagement of Virginia Harned next Wednesday, November 16. Miss Harned will proffer a new play, "The Woman He Married," by Herbert Bashford, the well-known dramatist, that deals with a new phase of New York life. Competent critics declare it is better than anything Miss Harned has had since her joint starring tours with E. H. Southern, not excepting "Iris," in which, under Charles Frohman's management she had two years of immense success in London and New York.

In "The Woman He Married" Miss Harned will again be seen as a barefoot model, as in "Trilby," the role that she originated and in which she made her first great success. She plays a highly emotional character, an actress-artist-model-wife, but there are many light scenes in which she shows new and unexpected developments of her art.

Miss Harned has enjoyed a wonderful and remarkably successful career for many years, devoting most of her time and talents to offerings made in the larger cities of the country. In fact she has almost confined her efforts to New York and London as she has enjoyed year and two-year runs in the metropolis with "Iris," "Alice of Old Vincennes," "Ursula" in Anthony Hope's "The Adventures of Lady Ursula," and her "Ophelia" to Mr. Southern's "Hamlet." Other prominent plays in which she originated the leading roles were "The Love Letters," "Molly Haddon," "An Enemy to the King," and "Anna Karenina."

"The Woman He Married" is a vehicle of today, thoroughly up-to-date, and Miss Harned takes advantage of the many opportunities it offers. The seats sale opens at MacKenzie's Drug Store today.

A CHURCH SCANDAL.

Anonymius Letters Are Circulated Among Ottawa Congregation.

Ottawa, Nov. 14.—The congregation of Dominion Methodist church have been greatly exercised during the past few weeks because of a series of anonymous letters sent by some woman, a member of the church, to various prominent church officials, making charges of improprieties and inconsistencies unbecoming to church members. One city merchant, for instance, was accused of paying too much attention to his stenographer. Other members were accused of flirting or of emphasing social distinctions.

Finally a committee of members was appointed to investigate. A new York handwriting expert was called in, and suspicion is now fastened on the wife of a man who has held many important offices in the church. The letters are still continued, and it is stated that the matter may finally reach the police court.

GLOBE TROTTER STARTS ON WORLD TOUR AT SIXTY

Henry Stewart, San Diego, Reaches Kingston and Says He'll Call on Laurier at Ottawa.

Kingston, Nov. 14.—To start out on a globe trot at sixty years of age is a most unusual occurrence, but Henry Stewart now in the city, is engaged in that mission.

On February 14 of this year he started to walk around the world, and has already travelled about 5000 miles. He goes from here to Ottawa, where he expects to have an audience with Sir Wilfrid Laurier. From the Capital he will continue his tramp to Quebec, where he sails for Queenstown.

He will visit every country in Europe and also the capital cities. He will spend four months in Jerusalem, where he will write an account of his travels. He intends to visit China and Japan, and has letters of introduction to the chief instructor of the Japanese navy and to the Electrical commissioners to China. It is his intention to see the Mikado who, he says will send him back to San Diego on a Japanese man-of-war. He is booked to return to San Diego, January 1, 1915.

Reason of the Trip.

The object of his long trip is to advertise the Panama-California exposition, which is to be held in 1915 to celebrate the completion of the Panama canal.

While here the veteran globe trotter called on Mayor Couper and Dr. Sands, city clerk, who affixed the seal of the corporation to his dairy. He hoped, before leaving the city, to see Hon. William Harty, M. P., Principal Gordon and other distinguished citizens. During his trip through the States he called on several governors.

Mr. Stewart presents a most picturesque appearance. He is tall, erect, with long white hair and military beard. He wore military trousers of khaki, a white rubber jacket, with a blanket rolled and worn in military marching order fashion over the shoulder. He carried a staff on which were attached the American and British flags and a small hand grip, on which was painted the words: "Out of San Diego." One object in carrying the flags is to secure protection for himself in foreign countries.

HOME FOR DESTITUTE OPENED AT MIDNAPORE

Calgary, Nov. 14.—The father Lacombe home for the destitute, erected at Midnapore at a cost of $60,600, was opened today by Bishop Legal of St. Albert. A special train carrying over three hundred visitors was run out from Calgary. Speeches were delivered by Bishop Lagal, Father Lacombe, Rev. Father Lewis, and C. B. Reilly. The building is the crowning act of thirty years' labor by Father Lacombe, and will be in charge of the Sisters of Providence of Montreal. Father Lacombe personally gave $15,000, Lord Strathcona contributed $11,000, and P. Burns donated 200 acres of land for the use of the home. The building is a very handsome brick structure, situated on rising ground about a mile from the C. and E. railway, and is steam-heated and lighted with acetylene gas. It will accommodate ninety-five people. The intention is to as far as possible make it self-supporting, through cultivation of the splendid farm surrounding it.

CHINESE DEVELOP FORMIDABLE ARMY

Prof. Mavor Addresses Montreal Club on Changes in Celestial Kingdom.

Montreal, Nov. 14.—The effect of the China-Japanese war of 1895 on the popular mind of the people of the Celestial empire was the first real awakening of the great Oriental kingdom.

This was the keynote of the address delivered today before the Canadian club of Montreal by Professor James Mavor, professor of political economy at the University of Toronto. Prof. Mavor has but recently returned from a trip through China, Japan, and Korea, where he studied the conditions of the several states and the influences at work in the East.

The Chinese army, said Prof. Mavor, had in the last five or six years become a most formidable force and one to be reckoned with in dealings of western nations with the empire of China.

The present situation existing between the powers of Europe and America and the Chinese, he said, was a menacing one. Since the Boxer Rebellion of 1900, the legations had insisted on having set apart for them property in the vicinity of the Royal palace, and today had their guns trained on the gates of that place. How long the Chinese would permit this was a matter of conjecture, but when the time came for the Imperial government of the country to act, there would be a grave crisis to be faced by the powers. Such a condition was incompatible with the national pride of the Empire and, unless the growing educational tendency of the country did something to alleviate the evils existing at the present time, dark days are ahead.

The industrial condition of China, said Prof. Mavor, was almost a unique one. Trades unions and established influences rendered the nation's becoming a force in many branches of commerce entirely out of the question. The manufacture of steel rails and other departments of industry were gaining ground, but in the way of cotton, silk, sugar, and other manufacutring the trade conditions of the empire rendered the markets of China one of the best in the world for outside exploitation.

The missionaries, he said, were at present facing the problem of how to share in the newly aroused educational activities of the empire. Their claims to attention on the part of the authorities that they must have a part in this phase of the nation's life was one easily justified by the past achievements. The government, however, had taken the stand that the education of the country must be nonsectarian and non-religious, one equally easily justified and more likely to be enforced.

There was a good attendance at the luncheon, the members evidently enjoying the observations of Professor Mavor to the full.

THE BOREDOM OF LABOR.

Every now and again, happening indeed with increasing frequency, we have great labor strikes, with the consequent disorganization of some industry or possibly the entire working arrangements of our daily life.

These strikes are most prejudicial and injurious to a country's well-being and sometimes threaten the whole social fabric of a nation. But for the stern and determined measures adopted by M. Briand, the premier, France would have been plunged anew into a revolution by the late railway strike.

Experienced philosophers and clever political economists are constantly striving to get at the root of this trouble, and find out exactly what is the cause of the commercial interests of the world being so seriously shaken every now and again. What is the actual cause of the dissatisfaction of employees, first of one country and then of another, these well-meaning men are constantly asking themselves? If they could only place a finger on the festering sore possibly they would be able to find a remedy. But they cannot.

Mr. H. G. Wells has, however, come forward with an entirely new and original idea in this respect. He claims to have discovered the real source of the world's trouble. He says the constant outburts of indignation among the workers and their sudden cessation of work is due to lack of joy among the workers. "The essential problem of modern labor is the problem of boredom. * * * The ordinary worker is bored. He is in the position of doing things that he does not particularly want done, for ends he either does not understand, or with which he does not sympathize. He is in the grip of circumstances that seem to oblige him to these unmeaning services. He may be making rails for railways in Peru or cotton goods for India, or brick for the Strand site. He may be contributing to a dividend of 9 per cent, and his employer may have the finest motor car in the world. But it is too remote to stir him. And as he does not clearly diagnose his case he expresses his discontent by inadequate demands. Between him and his master there is an incurable breach; at the best it is a latent possibility of strife. Almost always the modern employee is hostile to his employer. His employer may be a model of generosity and consideration yet still he is the director, the controller of this irksome effort that is always going on. He is the palpable agent of impalpable forces, and as the discontent of the workers rises, it is naturally against him that it directs itself.

"This is what everyone most concerned with these questions seems to forget. The labor leaders and representatives forget it more than anyone. They lead lives of infinite variety and endless excitement, they do work to which they have come by deliberate choice and special aptitude, they are always in hot water, going from conference to public meeting and from committee to town hall or Parliament. They forget the original boredom that drove them into politics, as it drives men of other types to dram-drinking. They think that it must be insanitary conditions or bodily fatigue or infantile employment or poverty that lies at the core of the trouble. But the ultimate distress of labor—is labor."

All this is very interesting, but it is also rather amusing, and we can but regard this as a little bit of pleasant fooling on the part of Mr. Wells.

CREATES SCENE WHEN POLITICS ENTER CHURCH

Fort Rouge Methodist Protests When Pastor Uses Pulpit as Political Platform During Service.

Winnipeg, Nov. 14.—Manlius Bull, president of the Royal Crown Soap works, created a sensation in Fort Rouge Methodist church yesterday evening, when he interrupted the pastor as the latter was announcing that a petition requesting E. D. Martin, brother of the famous Joseph, to run for mayor on the anti-segregation issue could be signed at the close of the service.

Mr. Bull declared that he considered a church no place for the signing of political requisitions, although he himself was a strong supporter of Mr. Martin.

Pastor Irvine refused to allow any change in the program and the petition was signed by a large number at the close of the service. The incident was almost the sole topic in the city today, the stand taken by Mr. Bull being endorsed by many.

HIS SENTENCE INCREASED.

Prisoner Appealed and Gets Three More Years.

The London Daily Chronicle of October 25 contains the following: For the first time since its formation the Court of Criminal Appeal yesterday exercised its prerogative and increased the term of a prisoner's sentence.

The man before the court was William Simpson, who fired five shots at a gentleman traveling on the Metropolitan railway between Baker street and St. John's Wood. For this crime Simpson was recently sentenced to twelve years' penal servitude, on a charge of attempted murder, and against his sentence he appealed yesterday.

The Lord Chief Justice warned him that the court had the power and might see fit to increase the sentence which had already been passed upon him, heavy though it was. Simpson said he would proceed with the appeal.

After hearing the case the lord chief justice said that having regard to the nature of the crime, the only too obvious premeditation, and the deliberation with which it was carried through, the court came to the conclusion that the sentence was not severe enough. Therefore it would be increased from twelve to fifteen years' penal servitude.

SAYS WOMEN FEAR NEW RESPONSIBILITY

London, Nov. 14.—It has been the general supposition that the British suffragette has been sufficiently lively to remove any impression that feminine apathy is the cause of woman's failure to obtain the franchise in the United Kingdom, but Mme. Sarah Grand believes that just this "apathy" is the real cause which prevents English women from getting the ballot.

"The real reason these women do not want the vote," she says, in the Young Woman, "and their objection to their own enfranchisement is because they see in it the danger of having to attend seriously to a new duty.

"It is when there is more to do in the world is in prospect that they remember that woman's sphere is the home, and they spend half their time in each other's houses admiring the domestic virtues with which they credit themselves on the strength of this argument.

"The woman who when she is wanted to help right a wrong refuses for the reason that she has more than enough to do at home is usually the woman who will, if she can, spend her days in gadding about, her nights in bridge and her wits in unedifying conversation."

SPORTING NEWS

NOBLE RED MEN PROMINENT IN EVERY LINE OF SPORT

No Nation Has Produced Greater Percentage of Famed and Gallant Athletes Than the Indian.

No nation since the gaseous nebula became a planet called earth has produced, in proportion to his percentage of people, more famed and gallant athletes than the American Indian and he is not confined to any one realm of sport.

Chief Albert Bender, of the Athletics, a Carlisle graduate, is one of the best pitchers who ever trampled a hurling heap, and for the Atnletics he has won his share of games in three pennant races, 1902, 1905 and 1910, and he won a game in the world's series this season. He is, according to Ira Thomas, the greatest speed pitcher in the country, and the cutest curve flinger in either league. Thomas has faced the Cubs several times in world's series. He has caught for Detroit and the Atnletics, and should know the bypaths of the American league.

Bender is one of the best shots in the land, and he is to work for one of the big gun factories this winter. Bender started to shoot as a youngster, but until he competed against the crack shots he had no idea that he was one of the best marksmen in the land. It is seldom that a big shoot is held but that Bender's name is seen in print, near the top of the list, too.

Chief Myers, of the New Yorks, is rated as a catcher who will in a few seasons amply fill the shoes of Roger Bresnahan, late Giant, now manager of the Cardinals. Myers has been a big help to Manager McGraw, and in addition to being a backstop who, with Indian wile, baffles the best batsmen, he is a sticker of no mean rank. He greatly aided in beating the Highlanders in the New York State championship.

Sockalexis, the Indian outfielder, of Cleveland, was one of the best baseball players who retired, went back to the mines before he reached his prime. He was a good thrower as ever shot a ball from the outer garden to the plate, and a corking hitter and a splendid man on the bases. He was ordered to report one season when he was ill. A telegram was flashed him saying that unless he came at once he would go back to the small league. This started him on the paint path and he dissipated. He drifted down grade swiftly, and never proved his real merit as a big league star.

Few sons of the forest ever own more than small craft of the waters, but they never had a master at canoe paddling. Some of their work in the rapids was never equalled by the frontiersmen or guides. Motor cars are out of reach or desire of most Indians, but in Tobin De Hymel, who pilots a huge racing car, the sons of the forest have as faultless and daring a driver as ever entered a curve rushing like the wind ablast.

De Hymel has been driving only a short time, but his thrilling turn-taking in the Vanderbilt and Fairmount Park race is still talked of along Gasoline Row by the Philadelphians.

On Carpeted Green.

On the carpeted green the Indians are feared by evry college in America that plays them, and, as a matter of fact, Princeton and Penn alone of the big four, meet the redskins on the football field.

Mount Pleasant was one of the best quarterbacks who ever trampled a gridiron. This lean, flatfooted fellow was almost on a par with Vincent Stevenson, except that he did not have the band of marvels in front of him and built about him which was the fortune of the greatest of all quarterbacks.

Pete Houser, the juggernaut line-ramming fullback; Bemis and Hawley Pierce, the great linemen of the Carlisle team, and Wausega, the tumbling ball player who tore up the lines of Penn and Harvard, were all famous Carlisle Indians.

Frank Hudson, the greatest kicker, not barring Pat O'Dea, Marshall Reynolds, Billy Bull or John De Witt, who ever hoisted a spiral, was an Indian. He was the greatest goal kicker known to football and one of his best stunts was to stand in front of the goal posts with five footballs in his arms. He would drop them in quick succession to the grund and as each one touched the earth he toed them through the goal post. He could drop-kick as far as fifty-five yards.

Deerfoot and Longboat.

Mount Pleasant was a crack broad jumper, and went to England with Mike Murphy to the Olympic games. Thorpe, another Carlisle Indian, won five firsts in a recent amateur athletic union track meet in Gotham.

There was the great Wheelock, Libby, Afraid-of-a-Bear, Exedine and Gardiner. The writer could scrawl a hundred names all famed on the football field.

Deerfoot, the first of the Indian runners, has records which stand today. He toured the world and made good against the best brought to race him. Tom Longboat was the fleetest distance runner of his age, but Tom was jockeyed for the money many times. He won the real indoor race of races when he took the famous Alfred Shrubb off his feet for the first time in his life.

"384" Magic Number.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 14.—Lucien B. Hall says he will give up his state auto number —384—to Larry, so the Nap can tag it on the machine he won by batting .384 this year. The only thing Hall asks is that State Auto Registrar Caley give him a small number in exchange.

BILLIARD HANDICAP.

Tournament to Be Played Before End of Present Month.

Arrangements are being made by Mr. Fletcher, manager of the Royal Billiard parlors, to have a handicap tournament played off some time within a week or two. The idea is to charge an entry fee and then the winner of the handicap and the runner up will divide the purse; the proportions to be settled later. Entries must be in at the billiard rooms not later than Saturday night.

It is also proposed to form a house billiard league and men wanting to enter that should also leave their names. Several teams will be selected and the games pulled off, one or two every week. At the end of the series a team will be selected to go to Vancouver to see if it is not possible to bring back the Chamberlin cup which the Vancouver billiardists won from New Westminster last winter.

LOVESICK LADIES MAKE LIFE A BURDEN

Montreal, Nov. 14.—Maurice de Riaz, the Swiss strong man and wrestler, is in trouble, and women are at the bottom of it all. To use a slang expression, they are "stuck" on Maurice.

There are about two dozens of them in Montreal at present, and in addition to that he has received offers of marriage from as far away as Australia, where one lady offers to pay his passage to the Antipodes if he will come and marry her. De Riaz thus far is a confirmed bachelor, and what is more, is not even a flirt, so that the attention paid him by unknown ladies is repugnant to him, and he, therefore, asked his manager to write the following letter:

To the Sporting Editor of the Montreal Daily Star:

Sir—Would be very much obliged if you could find space to publish this letter.

De Riaz has received letters from several ladies, who are very anxious to know him. But I wish it to be known that De Riaz is an athlete who does not wish for the attention of ladies, and I ask all those ladies who will persist in writing to him not to do so again, as if they do their letters and names will be given to the press for publication.

Manager of Maurice De Riaz.

Skated Eighty Miles.

Winnipeg, Nov. 14.—F. H. Partridge, L. Bond and C. Peebles, three young citizens of Morris, Man., had a unique but strenuous experience yesterday, namely, that of skating on the Red river from Morris to St. Norbert, a distance of over eighty miles on good, bad and indifferent ice between 8 a. m. and 3 p. m., with an hour's stop at Union Point. The three young men called in at the Free Press office last evening. Their feet were wet, as they had fallen through the newly formed ice in sevral places, but always near the edge of the river, so that they could go down only three or four feet. In some places the ice was so thin and insecure that it could bear the weight of only one at a time. At Silver Plains the water had frozen over only Saturday night, according to the ferry man stationed at that point. In some places, however, there was excellent skating. They covered the eighty miles in six hours, and after that walked from St. Norbert to the city, about nine miles, and needless to say they were tired. They phoned to their homes last evening, and will take the Northern Pacific train back this morning. A few Winnipeg enthusiasts ventured on the river yesterday also, but they went only half a mile, keeping close to the city shore from River park to the second bend. Their opinion, which is worthy of consideration, is that the ice is not safe yet.

GERMANY SCHAEFER IS KIND TO BELL HOPS

Germany Schaefer received $500 of the receipts of the All-Stars-Athletic series in Philadelphia just before the world's series. He counted his wad in the lobby of a Philadelphia hotel, with a group of hungry-eyed bellhops watching him.

"Come here, boys," Germany commanded.

Eight boys lined up in front of Schaef.

"You fellows have been mighty good to me, and I'm going to show my appreciation. How many of you are there? Eight, I believe; yes, eight. Well, boys, I'm going to pray for you tomorrow in church."

Rovers to Practice.

The Rovers will practice tonight and on Thursday night at Moody Square in preparation for the game with the Hibernians here on Saturday. On Thursday evening the selection committee will be on the grounds and the team for Saturday's game will be picked.

Kelly Looks for Match.

Tom Kelly, the wrestler, has been unable to secure a match with Bazukos, the Vancouver mat artist. Some time ago the man with the funny name promised to give Kelly a match, but he now claims that he has a date on in a couple of weeks and cannot arrange to take on Kelly. Kelly is quite willing to meet any wrestler on the coast at weights of 135 pounds or less.

No Football Game.

A league football game between Central school team and Sapperton was scheduled for yesterday afternoon at Queen's park, but did not materialize owing to the failure of one of the teams to put in an appearance.

Stimson & Co. Offer 102 3-8 for 5 Per Cent 20-Year Debentures and 94 2-5 for 4½ 50-Year.

Yesterday Mayor Lee and the finance committee of the council accepted the offer made by Stimson & Co., Toronto, for the city's debenture bonds and this was duly ratified at the council meeting last night. The prices realized, which constitute a record for this city, were: for $181,499 worth of five per cent debentures, over a period of twenty years, 102 3-8; for $192,000 of 4½ per cent fifty year debentures, 94 2-5. Figuring the latter price on the basis of twenty years, it is the equivalent to 102½.

About this time last year, Messrs. Stimson bought $398,000 worth of five per cent debentures at par, in spite of the fact that at that time bonds were more easily marketable, and taking this fact into consideration, it can be seen that the present transaction is a remarkable indication of the city's financial status.

Engineering Office at Edmonton.

Ottawa, Nov. 14.—The public works department has established a new engineering district at Edmonton. F. G. Goodspeed, formerly of St. John, N. B., will be engineer in charge.

mon Arm last week and his report was adopted by the council.

A certificate for $6,421.02 in favor of the Municipal Construction company, the firm which is laying the new Coquitlam pipe line, was passed for payment.

Alderman Gilley gave notice that at the next meeting of the council he would bring in an amendment to the market bylaw.

The Columbia street extension local improvement amendment assessment bylaw was read for a second and third time and passed, as was also the cement sidewalk local improvement assessment bylaw.

Alderman Welsh reported on the dredging at the foot of Sixth street. Both he and the mayor stated that they had been unable to see Mr. Keefer, the government engineer. Alderman Jardine announced that Gilley brothers had offered to do the work for $25 a day; at least they would try it and if they were unsuccessful they would not charge the city anything. It was finally left in the hands of the mayor and the board of works to take what action they saw fit.

The contract for the sewer pipe for the uncompleted portion of the Eighth street sewer was let to Gilley brothers, they agreeing to comply with certain conditions regarding delivery. During the vote on the awarding of the contract Alderman Gilley left the rostrum, remarking that as many people had an idea that he was interested in the firm of Gilley brothers, he preferred not to vote. "It looks like old times to see Alderman Gilley leave the circle," remarked Mayor Lee, and every one laughed.

Alderman Gilley reported that one of the horses at No. 2 fire hall had gone lame and recommended that a new one be purchased and the old one sold. The recommendation carried.

The board of works reported, recommending that a three plank sidewalk be laid on both sides of Fifth street; that a similar sidewalk be constructed on the south side of Eighth avenue; that Princess street be cleared and rough graded between First and Second streets and that a four foot sidewalk be laid on the west side of Second street from Eighth to Tenth avenue. The recommendations were all adopted.

Alderman Johnston asked what was being done about the removal of the wreck of the Strathcona from the south bank of the river and the city clerk responded that no answer had been received to the letter he had sent to the owners in Vancouver.

The following communications were disposed of in the manner indicated:

The municipality of Surrey sent in a copy of a resolution by the council at a meeting last night. It suggests asking for government assistance in opening and improving the Clover valley road, the idea being that the road should connect at Blaine with a magnificent roadway planned by the state of Washington from one corner of the state to the other.

The Surrey board of trade sent in a copy of the same resolution.

The council endorsed the idea, but did not commit itself to any particular route for the road.

Mrs. Annie Baker complained that she had bought a lot on the understanding that the taxes were paid. She subsequently found out that the 1908 taxes were not paid and she had to pay them. She wanted the city to set the matter right. The matter was referred to the finance committee for report.

A petition for a sidewalk from Sixth avenue on Cumberland street to Essex street was received and was referred to the board of works for report.

H. Stewardson asked to have Regina street opened up between First and Second streets. Referred to board of works for report.

E. B. Nobles complained about being asked to pay $15 for light which he said was supplied to a man who had rented his house. Referred to finance committee for report.

The Brackman-Ker Co. asked for a crossing on Front street from the sidewalk to the water front. Referred to the board of works with power to act.

M. M. Burgess asked for a sidewalk on Hospital street. Referred to board of works for report.

F. L. Kerr, manager of the Edison theatre, wrote that he had purchased a motor from the B. C. E. R. company but the city electrician had refused him permission to have it connected with the power line. He asked for a meeting with the light committee and one will be arranged by Alderman Gray.

Accounts amounting to $9,748 01 were passed for payment. The amount was distributed among the different committees as follows: Water committee, $876.11; parks, $184.62; finance for schools, $1,004.27; finance, $1,707.26; market, $6.05; police, $110.80; fire, $214.83; library, $20.50; health, $105.46; bridge, $12.50; light, $2,295.56; board of works, $3,209.06.

LIQUID CURES ECZEMA WHERE SALVES FAIL

In regard to skin diseases, medical authorities are now agreed on this:

Don't imprison the disease germs in your skin by the use of greasy salves, and thus encourage them to multiply. A true cure of all eczematous diseases can be brought about only by using the healing agents in the form of a liquid.

WASH THE GERMS OUT.

A simple wash: A compound of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol, and other ingredients as combined in the D. D. D. Prescription. This penetrates to the disease germs and destroys them, then soothes and heals the skin as nothing else has ever done.

A trial bottle will start the cure, and give you instant relief. Write for it today to the D. D. D. Prescription Laboratories, Depart. N. M., 49 Colborne St., Toronto.

TOLSTOI LEFT BECAUSE WIFE WAS NAGGING HIM

Famous Russian Novelist Discovered in Seclusion in Convent at Kaylest —May Come to Canada.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 14.—The spectacle of Count Leo Tolstoi, self-exiled in his old age, has sent a thrill of pity throughout the land of the czar. Every aid is being given the Countess Tolstoi to induce her husband to forsake his plan of becoming a recluse and entering upon a living death.

The great Russian novelist is in seclusion in the convent at Koyelst, one of the severest monasteries in the world, refusing to see any of the messengers sent by his family, and obtaining consolation from his daughter, Alexandra, who is a nun. The amanuensis of Tolstoi is with him, and, rumor says the count plans, in the winter of his life, to journey to Canada to join the colony of the Doukhobors.

Reports that Count Tolstoi has become reconciled to the Greek Church, which excommunicated him after his most famous work, "The Resurrection," was published, have not been verified.

The Countess Tolstoi and her daughter seek to have the count return to the home which his departure has made desolate.

"The countess is not exactly as represented in the press," said a prominent Russian diplomat today. "She loves publicity and was so flattered that, like many a woman whom Tolstoi and Ibsen mercilessly dissected, she became tired of her reflected glory of being a great man's wife and grew autocratic and assertive. Then the grand old man of the forest found himself hampered at the closing of his life with cramped and confined ideals and so he has gone gack to nature with principles as firm as they have been throughout his wonderful life."

All doubt that the count's flight from home was contemplated was set at rest today by one of Tolstoi's daughters, who declared that her father made every provision as though he intended being regarded henceforth as among the dead.

"He has refused to return or communicate with us," she said dolefully. "My mother is hurrying to the Szamorodinski monastry today. She is stricken with grief and has little hope of inducing him to return.

"He has taken this step because he believes it to be one more advancement in his conception of his duty and a higher life. He is assuredly in his right mind. We who love him, know he had no need of living a kindlier, holier life than he has done for these many years. His life has been simplicity; his nature wholly above the ordinary plane of humanity. To know him was to adore him.

"Now that he is gone we are utterly broken hearted and our home is made desolate."

That Count Tolstoi looked not to the earth for his reward was shown recently by his refusal to accept the Nobel peace prize. That he did not seek pecuniary reward was also shown by his refusal to copyright an unpublished novel for which he was offered an immense sum. Money carried such slight weight in the eyes of the great writer, that he objected when his wife's son raised the rents of the tenants on the son's estate.

WORK GOES A-BEGGING.

Usually More Jobs Than Workmen in New York.

New York, Nov. 14.—The National Employment Exchange, backed by $300,000 supplied by philanthropic men and agencies, and established for the purpose of providing a reputable employment agency where those seeking work can be sure of a fair treatment, has just issued its report covering the time from May, 1900, when the first office was opened, to September 30, 1910, when three offices had been opened.

The report shows that there are in general more seekers after employment than there are employees willing to work.

Besides the general executive office force, the Exchange maintains interpretors who speak seventeen languages, so that all prospective employees who cannot understand English may be told plainly the details about the work they are asked to do. So far as the Exchange is able, it is working to prevent misrepresentation and misunderstanding, which cause many workmen to desert their places and get discouraged about places offerd through agencies.

All three offices have so far been run at a heavy loss, according to the report. The workers in these offices report that the requests for men, except clerks, have far exceeded the placements, the demand for common laborers being especially heavy. Many of these orders could not be filled because the Exchange could not get the men. Many of the army of idle men always in the city do not want to work, the Exchange officers report, and it is difficult to induce the unemployed to accept work in the country. Foreigners are especially loath to go into the country, preferring to remain in their settlements here.

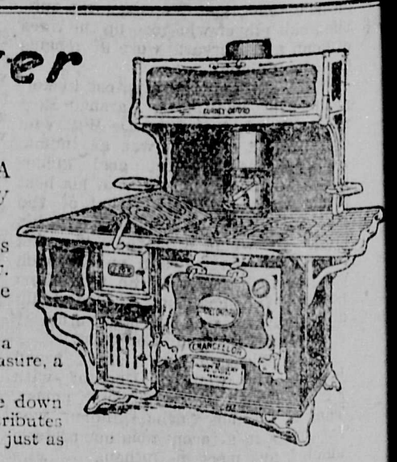
The Best Baker in Canada



A good oven is the housekeeper's delight. A poor one is the despair of her life. That's why we want to tell you about this Chancellor.

A special divided flue makes the oven a perfect baker. There is not a range in the country can beat it.

Baking day instead of being a trial and a disappointment is a pleasure, a satisfaction.

Come in the store when you're down town and let us explain to you just how this flue distributes the heat evenly over the whole oven. Bakes in front just as well as back—under crust as well as upper.

The GURNEY OXFORD STEEL TOP

means a marked saving in fuel, and better baking results. The Chancellor not only does its work better but at less cost than other ranges.

We can demonstrate to you the whole superior Chancellor principle of economy and efficiency in ten minutes.

Isn't it worth that much of your time right now?

The Chancellor is made for either coal or wood. Other Gurney-Oxford designs of every sort, for every purpose and all kinds of fuel, on display on our floor. Special demonstration now.

DOWER RIGHTS ACT TO BE INTRODUCED

Legislation to Protect Married Women to Be Submitted to Legislature.

Edmonton, Nov. 14.—An act respecting the rights of married women in the estates of their husbands will be introduced at the present session of the legislature. An act purporting to protect married women from being cut off with a shilling was introduced at the last session of the legislature, but was not finally passed. It received two readings and was then referred back by the private bills committee for revision, after Mrs. Arthur Murphy, president of the Edmonton Local Council of Women, Mrs. Ferris and Mrs. Riddell had appeared before the committee to present the case for the married women.

The dower rights question has been a live one in the western provinces for several years. The only provinces in Canada which have not enacted legislation respecting the dower rights of women are Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta There was a time, many years ago, when there was a dower law in force in the northwest territories, but this legislation was rescinded because at that time there were many men, pioneers of the country, who were squawmen, and to prevent the property of these men falling into the hands of their Indian consorts a disability act was passed. But though this period in the country's development has long since passed no legislation has been enacted in any of the three provinces named dealing with the question.

The bill presented to the legislature at the last session did not meet in any particular the demands of the women of the province, whose case was presented by the deputation from the Edmonton Local council of women. It was fairly riddled when it came before the private bills committee for discussion after its second reading in the house, and the committee unanimously decided that it should be revised and laid it over until the forthcoming session to permit of this.

Ther is no law in the province which protects married women respecting their share, or dower, in the estate of their husbands. A husband may mortgage or sell his property when the spirit moves him without heed to his wife. This is not the case in the older provinces in the Dominion or in the older countries of the world.

The advocates of a dower rights bill are free to admit that the average man does the fair thing with his wife, but for the same reason that there is necessity for law to protect society against a forger, for instance, it is argued that there should be a law to protect a married woman against a villainous husband.

At the present time a man addicted to the use of liquor may mortgage or sell his property when he sees fit to do so, and use the proceeds. The deputation from the Local Council of Women which waited on the private bills committee presented evidence of a number of such cases where the wife had been left penniless.

Trust companies operating in the western country by their high rates of interest frequently secure control of a man's property, notably in the case of homesteaders, with the result that when they foreclose their mortgages the wife is left with nothing whereas she may have contributed by her labor to the securing of the homestead or by handing over to her husband money which she possessed in her own right when she married him. In the latter instance it is a fact that when once a married woman relinquished control of her own money and placed it in an enterprise of her husband's she no longer has any say as to the disposition of the investment.

What the women who are behind the movement for the enacting of dower rights legislation want is the laying down of the definite principle that a married woman shall be entitled to a third interest in her husband's estate, during his life or after his decease. This is the law in the older provinces. It protects a married woman from the mortgaging by her husband of more than two-thirds of his property unless by the consent of his wife.

Mrs. Murphy, acting for the Local Council of Women, has already interviewed Hon. C. R. Mitchell, attorney-general, respecting the revision of the bill presented last session, and has received the promise of careful consideration, as well as a statement to the effect that a bill embodying the principle sought by the women will be introduced at this session of the legislature.

An important deal was put through by the firm of White, Shiles & Co. yesterday, when fifty-five acres of land south of the Hjorth road, between the Yale and Scott roads, were sold to Vancouver men for $27,500. OUTBREAK OF MEASLES.

Montreal Has 4000 Cases—The Doctors Blamed by Health Officer.

Montreal, Nov. 14.—Measles are spreading at an alarming rate in the city, especially in the new wards. Last week 163 cases were reported. "This does not represent one-twentieth of the number of cases in the city and suburbs," states Dr. Laberg, city health officer.

"Doctors have not reported cases since where one child had measles, all the others in the house have to remain away from school. To avoid this and please parents, doctors neglect to report many cases." Dr. Laberg's report shows that there are 800 cases in St. Henri ward alone. There are probably 4000 cases altogether in the city and the number is increasing every day. More schools will probably be closed in a day or two. St. Henri and Cote Des Neiges so far are the two closed.

TAKING STRIKERS BACK.

Montreal, Nov. 14.—Since the negotiations relative to the reinstatement of strikers on the Grand Trunk were reopened last week, quite a number of the 150 men who still remained out have been taken back to work, and it is quite possible that the present week will see the final settlement of the question of reinstatement.
