TERFRONT DEAL CLOSED YESTERDAY

llace Brothers, of Vanouver, Buy 1373 Feet of iver Frontage for $48,000

e thousand three hundred and nty-three feet of waterfrontage, a t distance above the Fraser river , changed hands yesterday afterfor the sum of $48,000, this about $38 a foot. The purchas- Wallace Brothers, cannerymen, ancouver, bought from a Van- er syndicate through E. J. Fader is city. As far as is known, rs. Wallace do not intend utiliz- the property at present, prefer- to hold it for the inevitable in values.

fair idea of the steady growth in money-getting value of Fraser water front is shown by the t made by the sellers of this pro- , the syndicate clearing $33,000 e deal, and that after holding the erty only a couple of years.

Business is Brisk.

ring the past two weeks, sales nting to $82,000 have been closhrough E. J. Fader's office, a percentage of the buyers being outside points, the majority from ouver.

sterday afternoon was one of usiest periods in this office, an ge of $1000 an hour being taken deposits, options and first payts on property sold. No one ent was over $500.

Demand for Surrey Land.

ere is increasing demand, says Fader, for small holdings across iver, in Surrey and Delta, where alue of land is just now on a , i se. The operation of B. C. E. R. line to Chilliwack is cted to have an important bearn the prices asked for land near tram line, though it is not exd that top value for these proes will be reached for a long e.

Y SHOULD GET MORE FOR LEASE OF WATER LOTS

r Lee Agrees With Trades and or Council on Subject—Rents May Be Raised.

revenue derived by the city th lease of the water lots along Fraser was the subject of some ssion last night at a conference between the council and Thomas bull and William Dodd, repreng the local Trades and Labor cil. Mr. Turnbull thought that property on the waterfront owned he city was worth, at a conservaestimate, $1,000,000, and that the s received from the leases should a resonable proportion to the e.

ayor Lee agreed with Mr. Turn- , placing the value even higher the labor man, and remarking the city ought to derive a reve- of at least four per cent on the e.

e assured Mr. Turnbull that from vate discussions between himself the council was sure that the jority of the city fathers were of same mind, and that some action ld be taken that would be satisory to all concerned, unless perps to some of the holders of the ses.

Mr. Turnbull said that his objection s not so much to the holding of property by those who made conual use of it, but to those who did carry on business for long periods a time and were enabled to do this reason of the low rent. His worp promised consideration of this ase of the matter.

EES BLACK FUTURE IF TAXES TOUCH FOODSTUFFS

London, Jan. 27.—Speaking at rankstone, Winston Churchill asked hat good it was to make the great lonies associated in the minds of e people with taxes on bread and eat. The chancellor of the exequer in future, under such a sysm, might have on the one hand xes which could not be removed ithout a colonial conference, and the other a demand of hungry peoe for food. If that terrible event er occurred then the empire would in direst peril.

Using Klondike Gold.

Dawson, Y. T., Jan. 27.—The adces from Ottawa that the Canadian overnment has bought some Yukon old for minting the first Canadian oins at Ottawa, and further advices hat the member of parliament from ukon is working to get a governnetn assay office and gold-purchasing tation in Dawson, has caused a good eal of comment here.

PROTEST AGAINST PAYING ROAD TAX

Labor Representatives Request Council to Abolish Tax---Seek Standard Loaf

Thomas Turnbull and Wm. Dodd, representing the Trades and Labor Council, made a strong protest last night against the road tax, by which every resident of the city who does not pay other taxes is assessed $2.00 for a privilege of living here and making use of the roads and sidewalks. The protest was made to the city council, which met for the purpose at the request of the executive of the Trades and Labor Council.

Mr. Turnbull first addressed the council. He said that he did not think it right that men coming to the city and getting their first job should be handed a receipt for $2.00 instead of cold cash when payday came around.

Mr Dodd remarked that the tax was a relic of mediaeval ages, and was only found in the province of British Columbia.

Vacant Property Taxes.

Mr. Turnbull also brought up the question of the taxes on vacant property, claiming that they should be the same as on improved property.

His worship was not clear as to whether the city could make a regulation like that.

Standard Loaf Weight.

The question of a standard weight for loaves of bread was next brought up by the labor men. They held that a fixed weight should be set, as was done in Vancouver, and the regulation enforced by law. Mayor Lee said that he had given the matter consideration.

Riot of Socialists.

Brunswick, Duchy of Brunswick, Jan. 27.—During a socialist election reform demonsration last night several shots were fired into the crowd. The police charged, using their sabres energetically. Fifteen wounded persons were removed to the hospitals. A police sergeant was seriously injured.

HERALD'S COLLEGE ALTERS B. C. SEAL

Crown and Lion Are Removed From Emblem in Use for Twenty Years.

Victoria, Jan. 27.—British Columbia's new and elaborate great seal, with its press, has recently arrived from the expert makers the Bronsgrove Guild company, of Worcester, England. It shows that the changes in the provincial crest demanded by the authorities of the Herald's college have been considerably more conspicuous than had been anticipated.

While following the general scheme and significance of the old bearings, the new seal shows manifest difference in the crest, while the supporters are enlarged and much altered in their relationship to the whole, the original design supplied by Rev. Canon Beanlands having been modified and materially altered under instructions from the Herald's office. Indeed, it was not long ago pre-emptorily demanded that the crown and the lion should be altogether omitted, the statement being made that British Columbia, as a mere province within the British dominion, is not entitled to bear those symbols of royal and imperial authority in her crest.

The removal of the artistic position and prominence given the national flag was finally insisted upon. The crest and seal, as now drawn, will remain for future ages the authorized coat of arms of British Columbia, accepted as such by the Heralds' college and king-at-arms, despite the fact that the authoritative A. Farnham Burke, C. V. O., T. T. A., still insists that the province is not entitled to the crown and lion, nor to supporters of any kind. Artistically, few will accept the new crest as approximating the old in beauty. The now discarded emblem of provincial authority has been in use for twenty years or more It has, indeed, been borne by the province ever since it has been a province, the old colonial crest and seal being used for some time after British Columbia entered the Canadian federation.

CARRIED IT TO LIMIT.

Whisky Could Not Even Be Obtained For Medical Purposes.

Provo, Utah, Jan. 27.—The druggists of this city, having entered into an agreement among themselves not to sell or give away liquor for sixty days, T. J. Smith was unable to procure whisky and brandy declared by a physician to be necessary to save the life of Smith's two-year-old son. The child died yesterday from pneumonia. The prescriptoin which the druggist refused to fill was endorsed by the president of the city council and one of the aldermen.

SLOWLY RISING WATERS SPREAD DESOLATION OVER GAY PARIS

Destruction and Ruin in French Capital Shows no Sign of Ending—Board of Health Draws up Stringent Sanitary Measures---Food Hoarders are Warned by Premier Briand.

Paris, Jan. 27.—Another day has passed, but the inexorable yellow tide still creeps slowly higher, each inch of water widely extending the area of destruction, desolution and ruin, although the barometer is rising rapidly and bright sunshine today succeeded the rain and clouds.

Champs de Mars Submerged.

In the Bercy quarter the water is six feet deep in the streets and the entire left bank of the Seine from above the island to Autueil, comprising the law court institute, the fashionable St. Germain district, the foreign office, the chamber of deputies and the Champs de Mars, is submerged under from one to ten feet of water.

Some of the deputies left the palais Bourbon tonight in row boats, others on the backs of attendants.

Social Life Not Dead.

The walls of the Invalid's station are crumbling and both that structure and the wing of the foreign office opposite are in danger of collapse. Nevertheless, Mme. Pinchon, wife of the foreign minister, held her regular reception this evening, oil lamps and grate fires being employed in the absence of steam heat and electricity.

Streets Sink Three Feet.

The streets surrounding the St. Lazare station have sunk three feet, and the situation there is regarded as desperate.

It is also feared that the foundations of the two big neighboring department stores are being undermined.

The overflow of the broken sewers into the flooded basements menaces the health of the occupants, and the smell of the sewerage already is permeating the buildings, but notwithstanding this the police tonight notified householders, especially those of the wealthier classes, who are using automobile engines for pumping purposes, that they must exercise the greatest care, as the removal of the water pressure would likely cause the foundations to sink or collapse.

Soldiers Hard at Work.

Soldiers are working desperately by the aid of torches, disentangling the driftwood above the Solferino and Henry the Fourth bridges, while large forces of men are still engaged in constructing dams to divert the courses of the swiftly moving currents.

City in Darkness.

There was a further shutdown of electric light plants tonight, leaving the city in semi-darkness.

The relief work is proceeding very bravely, none being refused food or shelter.

Public Prayers.

Archbishop Amiette has ordered public prayers in the cathedrals.

In spite of the crippled market supply, the authorities say the reservoirs are intact and there is no danger of a famine if the water is husbanded carefully and confined strictly to the drinking purposes. At the same time a warning is issued that the water should be boiled.

Worse Below Paris.

The situation below Paris is becoming appreciably worse. The strength of the water which engulfs Boulogne, Neuilly, Puteaux, Sevres, Amieres, Maisons-Lafitte, Lepeco and Poisey is widening rapidly, while further below the swollen Oise is pouring in new torrents over the Pontoise section.

Improvement in Provinces.

Owing to defective communication with the provinces, few despatches have been received here, but these report a general improvement.

The weather everywhere throughout France has moderated, and it is thought that the worst of the floods is passed.

Boulevards Are Silent

The boulevard life of the gay Parisian has been suddenly silenced.

Most of the music halls are open to the public, but they are almost deserted.

A hushed multitude sits in front of the boulevard cafes.

Stringent Sanitary Measures.

At a special meeting tonight the board of health drew up instructions for the prevention of an epidemic. In addition to the usual precautions with regard to water, vegetables and fruits, the board especially states that no flooded houses shall be reopened until they have been thoroughly disinfected, the walls scraped and bedding and clothing which has been contaminated by the flood water has been burned.

In many places a coating of ice has formed on the flood water in the streets.

Warning to Shylocks.

Premier Briard has declared that persons who hoard provisions with the intention of reselling them at a big profit will be drastically dealt with.

HISTORIC CANOE.

Native Sons Secure Loan of Water Craft For Decorative Purposes.

An Alert Bay Indian racing canoe, which for the past five years has been in the possession of Chief Charley, of Surrey, has been borrowed by the Native Sons for use in the decoration of the Pythian skating rink, where the first annual ball of Post No. 4 will be held on Monday evening. This canoe was brought to Westminster by Alert Bay Indians who had been challenged to a series of races by the Coquitlam and Sechelt Indians, in 1904, during the fishing season. While racing the canoe upset, and the Indians were thrown into the Fraser, but were rescued by a gasoline launch. Some weeks later the canoe was picked up by Chief Charlie, who now claims it by right of possession.

For the benefit of the ladies attending the ball an awning will be spread from the Pythian rink to the entrance of the Odd Fellows hall, where the banquet will be held. A carpet will also be laid on the sidewalk so that the dresses will run no danger of being spoiled.

The demand for tickets is so great that the committee in charge is seriously considering putting a limit on the number sold.

Accident at Asylum Farm.

Wm Bromley, in charge of a donkey engine at the asylum farm, had his knee badly cut yesterday afternoon. He was pulling out stumps with the engine when a hook slipped and gave him a gash which necessitated his removalt ot he hospital.

AUSTRALIAN FARMERS ARE TO GROW MORE WHEAT

Melbourne, Jan. 27.—Addressing a farmers' conference here yesterday, Sir Robert Best urged the necessity of increasing wheat production in order to prevent Great Britain relying upon foreign supplies. He hoped to see ultimately a reciprocity preferential arrangement throughout the British empire.

DIFFERENT VIEWS.

Englishman Lauds, Canadian Condemns Dominion's Banking System.

London, Jan 27.—Sir Felix Schust, governor of the Union of London and Smith's bank, at a meeting of th bank today, said that the Canadian banking system was both highly efficient and useful.

Halifax, Jan. 27.—H. C. McLeod, in an interview today said he had given up all hope of any realization of the banking act being made, despite his efforts to bring it about. He says that the secrecy with which Canadian banks are being managed is not in the interests of the shareholders and is a menace to the financial system of the country.

Railway Out of Business.

Los Angeles, Jan. 27.—That the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake railroad will be out of the transcontinental business at least a year was the announcement made today by officails of that system, following the completion of an investigation to determine the recent flood damage. It was found that about eighty miles of track had been washed out in Nevada.

Hamilton Has a Surplus.

Hamilton, Jan 27.—City Treasurer Leckie presented ihs annual statement today, showing a surplus from last year of $59,140. Taxes collected amounted to over $38,000 more than estimated.

LOAN OF $20,000,000 TAKEN UP BY PUBLIC

London, Jan. 27.—The Bank of Montreal closed today its list for the Canadian government of $20,000,000. The issue was covered by public subscriptions and the result is regarded favorably in view of the fact that half of the new Indian loan of 96 1-2 was left with the underwriters, and also seeing that Germany is about to float a 4 per cent loan at 93, whereas the Canadian loan was at 99.

TRIED TO ROB CITY OF QUARTER MILLION

Alleged Conspiracy Charged Against Eleven Chicago Men---Big Bail Furnished

Chicago, Jan. 27.—Paul Redieske, resigned deputy commissioner of public works and Michael H. McGovern who has had many big city contracts, and nine city officials and employees of McGovern were indicted by the grand jury today.

Big Conspiracy Charged.

The men are charged with conspiracy to defraud the city of $254,000. The men indicted besides Redieske and McGovern are: Otto Niehodd, secretary to McGovern; Max Languth former superintendent for McGovern; George More, a foreman for McGovern; Ralph Bonnett, resigned as assistant city engineer; J C Parks, assistant city engineer; Robert Green, a foreman for McGovern Richard Burke, John McNichols and Joseph Maher, city inspectors in the engineers department.

All are specifically accused of conspiring to defraud the city by laying only one-tenth of the concrete and brick work called for in the contract for the construction of section "N" of the Lawrence avenue tnunel.

Held in Big Bail.

Redieske displayed little emotion when he was told he had been indicted and shortly after furnished the $20,000 bail required of him.

McGovern was also held in $20,000 bonds while the others were placed in $500 bail each.

The following statement was made by Redieske.:

"The only thing that I can say is that no report of any irregularities or shortage of material in the construction of the sewer was ever made to me. I had reports that the work was progressing very fast. The city engineer reported to me that the job was one of the finest pieces of sewer building he had ever seen."

HUNDREDS OF LIVES IS TOLL OF STORMS

Gales and Blizzards Cause Untold Damage Over Europe---Details Are Meagre vessels have been wrecked, with the probable loss of at least half of their crews, in the great storms that are raging along the western seaboard of Europe, according to despatches received here today.

The vessels, mostly fishing craft, lie scattered along the coasts of Spain, France, Germany and the Scandinavian peninsula. Even the Mediterranean has felt the force of the great atmospheric disturbances, and wrecks are reported from Italy and the Turkish and Grecian peninsula.

The loss of life can not be stated at this time, but it is probable that in many instances the entire crews of vessel were drowned, while in other cases at least half of them perished when their vessels foundered.

Great gales have been sweeping the coasts for the last forty-eight hours. Tremendous loss of life and property on shore is reported. These reports cover a period of two days or more, as wire communication has been interrupted by storms. Details of the general disaster are lacking, and it is feared that when definite news arrives the stories of death and destruction will shock the whole world. Inland Europe is suffering almost as much as is the seacoast. Interior Spain is isolated, while the Swiss Alps have been threshed by blizzards and covered in blankets of snow in which already twelve Alpine tourists are reported to have been lost.

Banks of snow have blocked trains on the Danish railroads in isolated sections, and reports from the nearest telegraph stations say that the prospect of aiding the weather-beseiged passengers is slight. In many instances passengers in the stalled railroad trains are without either food or fuel.

Although reports of a tidal wave at Venice were false, the ancient city of the doges is badly damaged by storm. Other Italian cities, including Rome and Naples, report extensive damag. The waterfront streets at Naples are flooded and many quays are wrecked. At Rome the Tiber is rising and now threatens to inundate portions of the city.

Fur Shipment Seized.

Ottawa, Jan. 27.—The biggest seizure of furs ever made in Ottawa took place yesterday morning of the Union depot, when District Game Inspector T. E. Loveday confiscated a bale of furs valued at over $6000. The bale contained furs of all descriptions, and was consigned to the Hudson's Bay company at its headquarters in London.

FORTUNE FAVORS LIBERALS AT FINISH

Prospects Are That Coalition Majority Will Approach 120—Shuffle in the Cabinet

London, Jan. 27.—The Liberals are meeting with better fortune in the closing stages of the elections. The position of the parties tonight is as follows:

Unionists, 258,
Liberals, 253,
Laborites 40,
Nationalists 76.

The prospect now is that the coalition majority will eventually approach 120. Premier Asquith came to London today and conferred with the chancellor of the exchequer, and the chief liberal whip on the situation. Nothing is likely to be decided, however, until after Mr. Asquith's audience with the King next week, and the meeting of the cabinet council.

Cabinet Making.

The premiers first business at this meeting will be the re-shuffling of the ministers, as a result of Herbert J. Gladstone's appointment as governor of United South Africa, and the desire of one or two of the older ministers to retire.

The Lords' Privileges.

It is reported that the premier will divide the question of privileges of the Lords in two parts, the first dealing with the right of the house of lords to veto finance bills by simple resolution, the second, which may be dealt with later, in the form of a bill based on Sir Henry Campbell Bannerman's resolution, limiting the Lords' veto to ordinary legislation under which any measure would automatically become law after it had been thrice rejected by the lords.

Lancashire Favors Free Trade.

The pollings for Lancashire's 56 seats has now been completed. In 1906 the Liberals won 30, the Unionists 14, the Laborites 11 and the Nationalists 1. This year the Liberals won 25, the Unionists 18, the Labor-

Committee Appointed to Investigate Causes of Impurity in Canada's Waters.

Ottawa, Jan. 27.—The Canadian Society of Civil Enginers today appointed a committee to wait on Premier Laurier respecting a higher standard for government engineers and the appointment of an advisory board on national engineering questions.

The question of the pollution of Ottawa's water supply, by Almyr Swage, resulted in the appointment of a committee to look into the matter of pollution of Canadian lakes and streams.

A standing committee of twenty-two members was appointed in connection with conservation of national resources.

Officers were elected as follows: President, H. N. Ruttan, Winnipeg; Vice-Presidents, W. H. Tyre, C. H. Rustand, R. W. Leonard; Councillors, C. R. Coutless, Phelps Johnson, H. J. Cambie, D. McPherson, A. E. Doucett, L. A. Herdt, C. E. W. Dodwell, C. N Montserrat, J. V .Sullivan, A. W. Campbell, J. M. H. Fairburn, J. M. Shanley, H. H. Vaughan, W. J. Francis, H. E. Haultain, H. G. PISTOL PERSUADES DRIVERS TO DROP CASH

Toronto, Jan. 27.—Five drivers for Rutherford and Marshall's stables were held up for $200 by two masked men early this morning. As the drivers, one by one, came in with their money returns, they were met by a pistol pointed at their faces and told to deliver the cash. Then they were tied up in the stables. Detectives are at work on the case.

DISTRICT COUNCIL

Burnaby.

An adjourned meeting of the council was held in the municipal hall on Saturday at 1:30 p. m. Present His Worship Reeve Byrne, Councillors Coldicutt, McKee, Hill and Rumble.

Councillor Cameron, of Coquitlam, addressed the council with reference to a contribution of $50 to the repairs to the Austin road. Referred to the intermunicipal committee to meet Councillor Cameron on January 28.

The following suggestions of the board of works were adopted: That all plans not accompanied by the requisite postage be left at the office until called for, and that the clerk notify parties presenting same for signature by postcard that the plans have been approved; that the engineer look after plans in so far as his technical knowledge is required, the index of the finally and tentatively approved plans to be kept by the assessor, and all other work in connection therewith to be done by the office staff; that notice of gazette of extension of Noscrop road by the government through district lot 72 be obtained; that sliding scale of wages for day labor be established, commencing February 1, as follows: $2.00, $2.25 and $2.50 for an eight-hour day, the regular wage being $2.50, and that time to be made up by the hour; that all men be paid on the works at any distance from the office; that advertisement be inserted in the papers for one week for hire of twenty horsepower traction engine.

The reeve reported that he had adjusted the Williamson claim with J. P. Hampton Bole, Mr. Williamson having agreed to accept $60 in full satisfaction of all claims.

It was moved by Councillor Hill, seconded by Councillor Coldicutt (1): That the engineer stake out Douglas road between the city limits (New Westminster) and Welch road; (2) that work be started as soon as the weather permits; (3) that Gilley Bros. be asked to supply rock at $1.50 per yard, loaded on wagons.

The reeve reported that satisfactory arrangements had been made with the B. C. Electric railway with regard to water supply. Agreement as amended was read. Moved by Councillor Hill, seconded by Councillor McKee, that agreement be approved, subject to the approval of committee in charge of the matter, and the reeve and clerk be authorized to sign same.

It was resolved that the services of Medical Health Officer R. Eden Walker be retained.

It was resolved that the engineer be retained at a salary of $150 per month as from January 1, 1910. On motion of Councillor Rumble, seconded by Councillor Hill, it was resolved that applications be called for the position of assistant engineer, applicants to state qualifications and salary required.

It was resolved that the following constables be retained: Harry Hornby at $75 per month; Edwin Rodgers, G. C. Powell and J. J. Mervyn. The question of appointment of constable for North road district was left in the hands of Councillor McKee.

It was resolved that applications be called for road tax collector, applicants to state commission required on a basis of collection of $1200 per annum and to furnish security to the sum of $300.

It was resolved that the services of W. N. Draper be retained as engineer under the Ditches and Water Courses act.

Councillors Hill and Coldicutt and the reeve and the engineer were appointed a committee to approve all plans.

It was decided to place the sum of $1000 in a trust fund at the Royal Bank of Canada, on which the reeve and clerk could sign cheques in payment of wages due in the interim between pay-days.

Communications were received and dealt with as follows:

From T. D. Coldicutt, secretary of the board of trade, enclosing copy of resolution of board with reference to use of hall for their meetings. Received.

From Robert McBride, giving notice of public meeting on the 18th inst. with reference to trunk roads. The clerk reported adjournment of meeting. The reeve and Councillors Hill and Coldicutt were appointed to attend.

From F. T. Tappleton, applying for a license for premises to be erected on lot 1, block 16, D. L. 117, west half. Referred to licensing board.

Scotch Whisky

Genuine Scotch is Good for You.

Scotch Whisky is an excellent tonic and digestive. Many elderly people find it absolutely essential to their physical well-being.

But, like everything else, it benefits the user only when used in moderation.

Also, its benefit to you depends very largely upon the brand you select.

Use a genuine Highland Pure Malt Whisky. Use Watson's—a brand that for nearly a century has been held in the highest esteem wherever Scotch Whisky is to be found.

Distilled in the Highlands of Scotland, from pure Barley Malt, and by the old-fashioned Pot Still process, our Whisky is aged in Sherry wood until it is smooth, mellow and rich.

Insist on Watson's

"THREE STAR"—A mild, thoroughly matured Scotch.
"NO. 10"—A full-bodied, richly flavored Scotch.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 28, 1910.

NEW COLUMBIA STREET.

Up to the present, we believe, the Council has not done anything toward formulating bylaws in regard to the use, or regulations respecting the cleansing and maintenace of Columbia street, when the paving work is completed. We presume, however, this matter will have attention in the near future, so that everything may be in readiness for that day—happy day, we are inclined to say—when New Westminster will possess a really first-class modern roadway and sidewalks.

Whilst the co-operation of the citizens is to be expected toward keeping the new street tidy and free from litter and rubbish ,the thorough cleansing of the roadways and pavements daily will be necessary. In connection with this work we hope the Council will take heed of the experience of Vancouver. In that city the Board of Works has found that the somewhat perfunctory methods of cleansing the main streets failed to keep them in a decent and proper condition. They have accordingly now decided that these shall be thoroughly flushed eevry night in the week and that a body of men shall be engaged in gathering the garbage and sweeping the thoroughfares clean during the day.

Something of this kind will have to be done for our new street, whilst bylaws making penal the sweeping of refuse and the throwing of waste liquids into the street will be necessary. A simple and effective means of ensuring general tidiness could be established by the attachment of wire baskets to the poles along the street, into which waste paper, orange peel and the like could be placed.

THE FORESTRY COMMISSION.

The report of the Forestry Commission, appointed in July last, which was presented to the Legislature on Monday, is, on the whole, of a very satisfactory character. It is, however, but an interim report, presented in accordance with the request of the Premier, to assist the government in its proposed legislation in regard to the tenure of special timber licenses. The Commissioners propose to continue their investigations before submitting their complete report. This is well, for the question of forestry administration in British Columbia is, as the Commissioners observe, of the greatest importance.

Having regard to the rights and interests of the Province in the conservation and perpetuation of its valuable asset in the shape of timber, the Commissioners strongly urge that the government do not in any way limit its power to amend or adjust the rentals, license fees or royalties to be charged, or the conditions or restrictions under which timber may be cut. They accordingly recommend that special licenses other than those provided in sub-section 2 of section 57 of the Land Act should be renewable from year to year so long as there is merchantable timber on the land, and that such renewals be made subject to the payment of a license fee, tax or royalty and unedr such restrictions or conditions as may be imposed by Order-in-Council.

An important recommendation, and one that will, we believe, meet with general approval, is "that power should be provided or reserved for the Chief Commissioner or government where, after inspection, it is found the land is fit for tillage and settlement, and required for that purpose, that he or they may require the license to remove the timber from such land within a fixed reasonable time, at the end of which period the land shall be opened for settlement upon such terms as the government shall see fit."

We are glad to see that the Commissioners intend to recommend the establishment of a properly organized forestry department. The need for such a means of administering the important forestry affairs of the province has long been evident. We are glad to see also a strong recommendation for the improvement and extension of the present system of fire inspection, to the utter inadequacy of which we have more than once called attention.

By a typographical error in yesterday's editorial re the part of street end asked for by Gilley Bros., it was made to appear that Tenth street was in question, whereas it should have been McInnes street.

JUDGE HOWAY REVIEWS CAPT. WALBRAN'S BOOK

Interesting Work Ably Criticized By Learned Student of British Columbia History.

"British Columbia Coast Names, Their Origin and History," by Capt. John T. Walbran. Published by order of Hon. L. P. Brodeur, Minister of Marine and Fisheries of Canada. for the Geographic Board of Canad. Ottawa: Government Printing Bureau, 1909; 546 pp.; price $3.00.

There is no person in British Columbia more competent to compile a work on the origin and history of our coast names that Captain Walbran, who, besides being a close student of our history, has navigated these waters for twenty years. Between 1891 and 1908, while in command of the Canadian government steamer "Quadra," his duties called him constantly into every port and bay between the Strait of Juan de Fuca and Dixon Entrance.

Originating in a few notes picked up from time to time, the idea grew until it assumed the shape of this really monumental work. The origin of almost every important name on our coast line is given in this volume. But that is not all, for the learned author, not content therewith, has luxuriated in great detail. Indeed, the book thus becomes a history of our coast topically arranged; a history of the "Glorious First of June," of St. Vincent, the Nile, Trafalgar, the Peninsula and the Crimea; a record of many of the great deeds of the British navy, and a biography of the principal men in the history of our province and of England's greatest soldiers and sailors.

Captain Walbran's labors in compiling this work must have been enormous. Wherever the book is opened the wealth of information disclosed shows that every conceivable source of knowledge has been ransacked. Old records, letter books, muster books, officers' journals, vessels' logs, naval chronicles, newspaper files, published biographies, old editions of Burke and De Bret, Indian traditions and pioneers' reminiscences have all been laid under tribute, and the facts gathered from sources so diverse have been arranged systematically and in their proper positions. The volume is a perfect encyclopedia. The alphabetical arrangement renders it particularly valuable as a book of reference. It is concise, complete, correct.

At first blush it might appear that the coast names had been applied indiscriminately, but Captain Walbran shows that even in name-giving there is system. For instance, the names on Howe Sound are those of officers or ships engaged in Lord Howe's victory of the "Glorious First of June." The names attached to places on Jervis Inlet allude in the same way to Admiral Sir John Jervis' victory at St. Vincent. So Nelson Island, at the entrance to Jervis Inlet, gives the key to the names in the vicinity. Likewise Chancellor Channel indicates the persons whose names are preserved in Thurlow Island, Hardwicke Island and Loughborough Inlet. The names of the officers under Captain Cook have been most appropriately conferred on places in the vicinity of Nootka.

Arctic explorers are remembered in Franklin Mountain, Parry Passage, Piers Island, Pynn Island, Kellett Bluff and Belcher Mountain. Our own history is intimately connected with the search for the Northwest Passage. Lady Franklin visited this province in 1861, and Sir Edward Belcher, with the officers whose names are above associated with his, was on this coast in 1839, and in 1852 was in command of an expedition in search of Sir John Franklin.

Strangely enough, the names of the four evangelists appear, in Matthew Island, Mark Rock, Luke Island and Port John.

Dickens is the only author who has furnished coast names. They are all from Dombey & Son—Bunsby Island,

Contractors Want to Move.

The contracting company in charge of the Lulu Island bridge want the city to take over the rest of the planking of that structure as the men want to get away as soon as possible. Alderman Jardine, chairman of the board of works, does not take kindly to the suggestion, and if the contractors want to leave town before their contract is complete they will have to sublet that part of the contract which is not finished. Some slight errors in the draw have not been rectified and until they have, City Engineer Blackman will refuse to accept the bridge and release the contractors.

Cautious Point, Clara Inlet, Gang Passage, Cutter Group. Dickens' youngest son, Sydney Smith Haldeman Dickens, R. N., was on this coast in 1868-'70 as sub-lieutenant on the flagship Zealous.

The name of Josephine, the captain's daughter in Gilbert and Sullivan's well known opera, "H. M. S. Pinafore," is preserved. By a strange coincidence, the young lady who played the part was also named Josephine—Miss Josephine Glaholm.

The Derby and its associations are perpetuated in the names of Thormanby Island, Derby Point, Epsom Point, Surrey Islands, Tottenham Ledge and Buccaneer Bay. Welcome Pass, in that vicinity, expresses the feelings of Captain Richards and his officers when the news was received that Thomanby had won the Derby (1860).

The prominent points on the coast of British Columbia owe their names, generally speaking, to one of five principal sources—the natives, the Spaniards, Captain Vancouver, Captain Richards or Staff Commander Pender. Later navigators have but filled in the names of out-of-the-way or unimportant spots.

The native names are invariably descriptive of some characteristic of the place, as Nootka, to go aground; Esquimalt, a place gradually shoaling; Kaien, foam floating on the water; Krichlith, the place of scalps, and Oneekayon, poison, alluding to the explanation of the sudden deaths of undesirable persons.

Comparatively few of the names bestowed by the Spanish expeditions of 1790, 1791 and 1792 remain; but the names of the officers and ships engaged in these expeditions have been bestowed by later navigators upon spots theretofore unnamed.

Captain Vancouver was without a peer as a name-giver. Knowing to his disappointment, as he confesses, that the Spaniards had preceded him and named the principal points on the Gulf of Georgia as far as Cape Lonzo, Vancouver, nothing daunted, scattered the names of his "esteemed friends" with bounteous hand. The early publication of his voyage secured the permanency of his names.

Captain Richards, while in charge of the surveying vessels H. M. S. Plumper and H. M. S. Hecate (1857-1863), and Captain Pender, who contiued the survey work in the old Beaver, both bestowed a great number of names, but not at random. To them, indeed, we are indebted for the system and order which have been introduced into the nomenclature of this coast.

A large number of historic items are scattered through the various notes. I select a few. The fitsr vessel built on the coast was the well known Northwest America, 1788 (333); the second, the Adventure, 1791 (94); the third, the Alberni, 1862 (238). The Cadboro was the first vessel to enter the Fraser river, June 22, 1827 (76). The Labouchere the first seagoing vessel to arrive at New Westminster, July 16, 1859 (295). Rev. Magin Catala, a Franciscan, the first priest in British Columbia, 1791 (85). H. M. S. Connorant, the first steam naval vessel on this station, 1846-50 (212). Coal first discovered at Suquach, near Port McNeill, in 1835 (393).

This will give the reader some slight idea of the great and varied amount of information which Captain Walbran has gathered together in this volume.

It is surprising that a book containing such a mass of facts and figures should be so free from errors. Indeed, the errors I have noted are in every case errors in proofreading. Thus, Louis XIV, on page 67, is clearly a printer's error for Louis XVI; the date of Sir John Palliere's crossing Canada, 1838 for 1858 (371); the date of the wreck of the steamer Enterprise 1888 for 1885 (169); Frederick F. Whymper for Frederick Whymper (73); Lewis O'Bryden for Lewis O'Dryden (479); La Peyrovse for La Peronse (326).

The statement on page 274 that Juan de Fuca "was undoubtedly the discoverer of the strait which bears his name, is in my opinion absolutely opposed to the weight of authority. Nor do I think it too much to say that every competent writer, except Greenhorn, places Juan de Fuca's voyage in the apocryphal list with Maldonado's and De Fonte's. In the langauge of today, Juan de Fuca is in Dr. Cook's class.

Neither can I agree with the statement on page 333, that as a result of the "Spanish Armament" the Spanish government "acceded to all demands." The settlement of that trouble was effected by the Nootka treaty. In later years this treaty had a great bearing on the Oregon boundary dispute. It was warmly contended at that time, as Fox had claimed in parliament, that this treaty only complicated the question. (See Greenhorn's Oregon, p. 212 et seq., and Teviss' Oregon Question, pp. 117 and 286 et seq.).

However, these two statements are largely matters of opinion, and it may be that Captain Walbran has material to support the views that he has taken.

The typographical work has been well done, the paper is good, and the variations in the type well arranged to catch the eye.

The book contains about a score of well selected illustrations, including portraits of aCptain Cook, Captain Vancouver, Captain Richards and Staff Commander Pender, R. N. A map of the coastline and a very useful chronological list of voyages to the coast make the book self contained.

I can only express, in conclusion, my own opinion that it is the most valuable contribution to the history of our province which has appeared in many years. F. W. HOWAY.

HUMOR

AUNTIE'S MEMORY.

What She Knew About the Fall of the Roman Empire.

An old colored woman down in Alabama was reported to be of great age and was extremely proud of the distinction. The proprietor of a museum, on hearing of her, sent one of his agents to make an investigation, as she would be a valuable acquisition to his museum. The agent plied her with questions regarding her age. He asked her:

"Auntie, do you remember George Washington?"

"Does I remember George Washington? Laws a-massy, mister, I reckon I does, for I done nussed him when he was a chile."

"Well, I suppose you remember the Revolutionary war?"

"Yes, indeed I does, honey. I stood dar lots of times an' seen de bullets flyin' round thick as hailstones."

"Well, auntie, how about the fall of the Roman empire? Do you recollect anything about that?"

"De fact is, honey, I was pretty young about dat time, but I does 'member, now you speak ob it, dat I did hear de white folks tell 'bout hearing som'pin' drop 'bout dat time."—Harper's Weekly.

STEAMBOAT DRAMA.

Floating Palaces That Furnish Entertainment For River Towns.

Anybody who lives in a town on the banks of the Mississippi river and hears a calliope play at 5 o'clock in the morning knows that it is not a circus that is coming to town. It is the floating palace, which is the name given to a unique form of theatrical transportation entertainment that is used only on the river and its tributaries, the Ohio and the Missouri.

There are at the present time more than a dozen floating palaces. Each of them carries a well equipped stage, a company of from sixteen to thirty-five actors and actresses, and has seating capacity for from 200 to 700 persons. Each of the boats has a steam piano with which the people from the countryside are called to the landings, where the shows are given on the boats, and most of the boats carry pretty fair bands.

Nowhere else in this country or abroad is the drama carried up and down rivers on steamboats. Barring the railroad, the favorite means of transportation in England and in continental Europe is the wagon. There are many wagon shows in this country, but they would find it difficult to reach all the towns that are easily reached by the floating palaces. Many of the towns that get all their dramatic sustenance from these floating playhouses have no railroad connections whatever. If it were not for the shows that float down or up to them by boat they would have to go without theatrical fare.

Mark Twain, who knows the big river about as well as anybody, used to be well acquainted with the old time managers of a few of the floating palaces. He introduces one of them into "Huckleberry Finn." But times change, and men change with them, and the floating palace of today is much more elaborate and much finer than were the floating palaces of the older time.

They play to thousands of persons each season, and they give pretty good shows. Their managers, who live in Cincinnati and St. Louis, make good profits on the investment.—Chicago Tribune.

A LASTING REMEMBRANCE.

How soon we are forgotten,
Our memory put aside,
Although we have been mighty
And much puffed up with pride!
A gentleman from nowhere
Steps in our place to fill.
How soon we are forgotten—
Unless we owe a bill!

We go out west or somewhere
To grow up with the place,
And few will mourn our going,
And few will miss our face.
But an account unsettled
As a reminder stays;
The owner will recall us
Once every thirty days.

The ones that we have favored,
The ones that we have fed,
The fellows we have boosted,
Will count us with the dead
Or, if we still are living,
They languidly may guess,
The ones with money coming
Hang on to our address.

How soon we are forgotten
And on the scrap pile placed,
Our name no longer mentioned,
Our memory effaced;
Recalled at times by no one
Our prowess and our skill,
How soon we are forgotten
Unless we owe a bill.

Mr. Architect, You Make No Mistake

if you specify our materials. The quality of lime is a very essential factor to be considered by builders, and for that reason alone it will pay you to consider your source of supply, and when the question of quality comes up our claims for superiority are paramount, because we can and do furnish the best grades at the lowest prices.

A Mark of Decency.

Indianapolis, Jan. 27.—Saloonkeepers who violate the closing hour in future will be compelled to keep their saloons closed until they can produce a letter from a preacher certifying that they have attended church on at least one Sunday morning and remained throughout the service. Such was the ruling of Mayor Samuel Lewis Shank in two cases heard today.

Increase in Salary.

Washington, Jan. 27.—Ambassadors from the United States to foreign countries should be better paid, according to President Taft, who in an after-dinner address last night to the national board of trade declared it was a shame that, with all the wealth of the United States, nobody but a millionaire could afford to accept a post as its ambassador.
