PUGSLEY PROMISES RIVER IMPROVEMENTS

Delegation Seeking Deepening of Fraser Channel Cordially Received.

Ottawa, Dec. 8.—The premier and Messrs. Oliver, Templeman and Pugsley this morning heard members of the big delegation which arrived here yesterday to press upon the government the necessity of making immediate improvements in aid of navigation on the north and south arms of the Fraser river. After listening to the arguments advanced Sir Wilfrid Laurier asked what would be the cost of the proposed improvements and was informed by J. H. Senkler, of Vancouver, chairman of the deputation, that the propsed improvements to the north arm would cost probably $1,000,000 and to the south arm approximately $600,000.

Mr. Pugsley said that including dredging, the cost of the work on the North Arm would be approximately $1,250,000. He told the deputation that the department had already decided to go ahead with the dredging on the North Arm, and that before they got back to the coast the dredge King Edward, which has completed its work at Nanaimo, would have commenced operations in the North Arm. Work would be continued until the department's fifteen-foot channel had been provided.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said that a promise would be made by Mr. Pugsley which would be satisfactory to the deleration. He had no hesitation in saying that the government viewed with favor the whole scheme for the improvement of navigation on the lower reaches of the Fraser river. There had, he said, been no exaggeration in the remarks of the members of the deputation as to what it would mean for the development of trade generally. As a native of Quebec, he was sorry to have to admit that British Columbia is the finest Canadian provinces and the possibilities of its future commerce were simply unbounded. The work of dredging would be proceeded with, and the question of additional works necessary would receive all due consideration by himself and his colleagues in the cabinet.

The deputation was accompanied to the premier's office by Messrs. Cowan, Taylor and Smith, M. P.'s, and Senator Bostock. Mr. Sinclair presented the memorials and explained that what was required was the carrying out of the plan, recommended by Engineer Le Baron and the government's district engineer, Mr. Keefer.

Mayor Lee, of New Westminster, dwelt on the immense development in trade, and the lumber industry particularly, if the two arms were made navigable. He put on file letters showing the loss of firms doing business owing to unsatisfactory consideration, together with a complete history of the movement in the direction of improving the navigation of the Fraser river.

Other speakers included Reeve Byrne, of Burnaby municipality, Mr. Pound, reeve of South Vancouver; Mr. Hodgson, president of the South Vancouver Board of Trade; William Bridge, reeve of Richmond; Mr. White, vice-president of the New Westminster Board of Trade; W. P. Higgins, representing the lumber interests, and George Kennedy, president of the New Westminster Liberal association.

All the speakers dwelt particularly on the necessity of undertaking the work at once in order to have it completed in time to take advantage of the increased trade which will follow the completion of the Panama canal.

SEVERE SENTENCE GIVEN MAN WHO HELD UP OLIVER

Paul Reuter Must Spend Next Five Years in Pen and Receive Twenty-four Lashes.

The terrible powers of Canadian law were brought to notice yesterday when Paul Reuter, after pleading guilty to holding up and robbing John Oliver a week ago, was sentenced by Judge Howay to serve five years in the penitentiary and to receive twelve lashes with the cat-o'-nine tails on entering and twelve more thirty days prior to his release.

The man was one of a trio who held up Honest John and relieved him of $100 and a gold watch.

In giving the sentence Judge Howay remarked that it was the first crime of the kind that had come before him for some time and he proposed that it should be the last. The man pleaded that he was starving at the time of the crime.

BURNABY BOYS TO FACE JUDGE FOR BURGLARY

Three Small Lads Accused of Petty Thieving Will Appear in Provincial Police Court Today.

Three small lads, Joseph Burr, aged fifteen; Fred Burr, aged thirteen, and John Hyland, aged twelve, all from Burnaby, are billed to appear in the provincial police court this morning on grave charges.

For some time past there have been a lot of small robberies and a lot of petty thieving in Burnaby. Suspicion has pointed to the boys for some time and they will appear before Judge Howay this morning.

All the boys have respectable parents in Burnaby.

BLAINE SUFFERS.

One Year's Experience Makes People Sorry They Voted "Dry."

In the border town of Blaine much regret is being expressed by the business men and citizen at conditions of affairs which has followed the voting of the town "dry," this happened just about twelve months ago. A. W. McLeod, the insurance agent, who has just returned from a business trip to that place, says business is dull and slow, a condition ascribed by many to the abolition of the licensed houses. As an indication of the change of public feeling on the liquor question, it is pointed out that at the election held there this week, a majority of those returned to office are in favor of a "wet" town. In spite of this Blaine will remain dry for another year, as no local option vote can be taken there again until the end of 1911.

The opinion is freely expressed by several of the leading business men that one or two legally licensed places would be an improvement on the present condition of affairs ,as there is always a certain amount of "bootlegging" going on.

Tottering.

Regina, Dec. 8.—The Greater Regina club, an organization of business men to boost Regina, is on its last legs, according to the report of the finance committee.

FIVE DOLLARS HAUL OF MAN WHO KNIFED ITALIAN

Unknown Tramp Almost Kills Cragone Bartolomes When Latter Refuses to Give Up Money.

Bleeding from half a dozen knife wounds, including a severe slash in the abdomen, an Italian giving the name of Gragone Bartolomes dragged himself into Blaine at a late hour on Wednesday evening and only the prompt attendance of Dr. Sutherland saved him from death.

The story told by Bartolomes is a remarkable one. He states that on Wednesday morning he left Westminster in company with an unknown man with the intention of walking to some point in Washington. They travelled via the G. N. R. tracks until near the boundary, and then branched into the bush with the idea of crossing the line without the interference of U. S. officials. Previous to this, Bartolomes had lent his companion three dollars, and had revealed the fact that he had another five in his possession. No sooner had the pair entered the bush than the other drew a jack-knife and attacked the unfortunate Italian. A desperate struggle ensued, which ended in Bartolomes securing the knife which he threw away, but so weakened was he by the loss of blood and his exertions that it was an easy matter to relieve him of the loose change in his pockets. In his haste, however, the thief overlooked a much larger sum which was hidden in the wounded man's shirt.

Yesterday provincial constables Mtheson and Hutchinson were despatched to the scene of the crime, and all police headquarters in this part of the province and in Washington have been notified to be on the lookout, but up to a late hour last night no information had been received in the city as to the whereabouts of the robber.

"Icabod, Icabod."

The statement in the house of commons of Col. Sam Hughes that French blood runs in his veins will surprise many people, but it is a fact nevertheless. Col. Hughes' great grandfather was none other than General Saint Pierre, who was Brigadier of Cuirassiers under Napoleon, and who together with two sons, was shot and killed in the battle of Waterloo while leading his forces against Wellington. Another son was wounded in the same engagement. To this day the family crest is a Fleur de lis. But Col. Sam neglected to add that while he was French, he was also Irish—probably three-quarters Irish. As a fighter, therefore, he comes by his talents honorably.

OPPOSE EARLY SALE OF GARDEN PRODUCE

'Dead' Clause in Market By-law Is Vigorously Protested against.

Whether peddlers shall be allowed to peddle produce before eleven o'clock on Friday morning, was one of the questions which occupied the attention of the council at the special meeting called last night for the discussion of bylaws.

It seems that in the only bylaw governing the market there is a regulation stipulating that on Friday morning peddlers or hustersshall not be allowed to sell their produce from house to house before eleven o'clock on Friday morning. This is to prevent the farmers and market gardeners from deserting the market and selling their stuff uptown.

When Alderman Gilley, chairman of the market committee, brought in some amendments to the market bylaw this clause cropped up. Alderman Welsh vigorously opposed it and George Adams, who had been attracted to the meeting by the same subjct, joined in the protests.

It was explained that the clause had never been enforced, but that did not seem to satisfy either of the objectors. The clause finally passed but it will come up again when the bylaw comes up for reconsideration.

The discussion of this bylaw finally came to a dead stop when a clause providing for letting of the auction sale privileges to only one person came up. City Solicitor MacQuarrie was of the opinion that there might be something in the Municipal Clauses act which would prevent such a course being taken.

Under these circumstances it was thought better to leave the matter as it was until Alderman Gilley and the city solicitor had again gone into it.

The amendments to the fire bylaw, which are designed to put very severe restrictions on the storage of gasoline and provide for the proper regulation of garages, were read for the third time and passed.

The building bylaw, which has been more or less under discussion all summer, again came up for discussion. The city solicitor had looked it over and decided that in the main it was a very complete and satisfactory bylaw. The building inspector and the city solicitor both suggested some changes and after some discussion they were both adopted and the bylaw passed.

FINE BOAT ADDED TO FRASER RIVER FLEET

Trial Trip of Annacis to Pitt Lake Enjoyed by Friends of Owners.

The latest addition to the steadily increasing fleet of tug boats on the Fraser river made her trial trip yesterday in a most successful manner. The new boat is the Annacis, built and owned by J. W. Pike, the well-known owner of the Beaver dredges and contractor for the difficult Sumas section of the construction work on the Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric railway.

The Annacis is one of the largest and most powerful tugs on the river, having a length over all of 71 feet. Her propeller is driven by a fine and her propeller is driven by a fine set of modern marine engines made by the Doherty Engineering company of Goderich, Ont. Steam is supplied by Scotch marine boilers, with a heating surface of 550 feet.

The craft in addition to being splendidly built and thoroughly seaworthy is conveniently fitted and finished and altogether well found. She is intended for general sea and river work and will be considerably used by the owner in connection with his important dredging contracts.

It was to view the progress being made in connection with one of these contracts that yesterday's trip was partly made. This is the construction of an extensive dyke, some eleven miles in extent, around a large peninsula forming part of Pitt meadows, at the head of the Pitt river, which is owned by a Vancouver syndicate, comprising Dr. Senkler, Messrs. R. Kelly, J. Stewart, Macdonald Marpole & Co., and Ironsides, Rennie & Campbell. The estate comprises some 8000 acres of very fine agricultural land, the soil being of a similar character to that of Westhan Island. Hitherto this has not been available for cultivation owing to its liability to floods, but when the work of reclamation now being carried out is completed, this will be opened up for settlement.

The trip was thoroughly enjoyed by a party of Mr. Pike's friends. The weatlier was perfect and the wild grandeur of the scenery about Pitt river and lake was seen almost at its best; the rich sunset effects being greatly enjoyed. The party included, in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Pike, Messrs. J. Macdonald, W. Rennie, M. J. Phillips, W. Dickinson, F. N. Sinclair, A. E. Graeme, and A. Morgan.

The Annacis, which proved herself to be a fast and comfortable boat, was in command of Capt. Austin Levy, and Engineer Miller.

E. A. Graeme has been appointed Westminster agent for the Annacis.

Vancouver Man Ties Up Much Property on Annacis Island.

A sudden movement in real estate on Annacis Island attracted considerable interest among the local land agents yesterday, when it became known that a number of big deals had been put through and that others of even bigger magnitude were pending. Rumor, ever busy whenever one district attracts more attention than another for the time being, coupled the flurry with the names of certain big American railway interests,the Northern Pacific and Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul being mentioned as the interests behind the deals. That either of these roads, however, is actually buying on the island is doubted by men in a position to know. They point out that every activity in the district for some time past has been attributed to railway interests, while as a matter of fact only in one instance, Port Mann, is it known that a railway is actually concerned.

The buying has been mostly done by outside parties, and on this account it was impossible to secure accurate details yesterday evening.

Paul Swanson is one of the men who has disposed of property, selling his eighty-acre ranch at Sunbury, for a large sum, mostly cash.

Arthur Whitesides, of Whitesides & Sons, Grandview, Vancouver, is believed to be the accredited agent of the men who have been doing the heavy buying. When spoken to last night Mr. Whitesides declined to name the men he represented, but stated they were Vancouver people.

Asked for details of the deals in which he was interested, Mr. Whitesides, after some urging, explained that he did not care to give the description of the land bought, but was willing to state the figures paid. He has purchased two blocks outright, paying $16,000 for one and $47,500 for the other.

In addition to these two pieces, quite a number of options have been secured by Mr. Whitesides, and it is the intention to take these up as soon as the necessary arrangements can be made.

Robert Kennedy, of the firm of Kennedy Brothers, purchased some water frontage in the district, but he aced solely on his own behalf, considering the property a good investment at present prices.

LARGEST IN ONTARIO.

Set of Chimes Ordered by Peterboro Citizens' Committee.

Peterboro, Des. 8.—Today the committee representing the citizens sent a cable order to Taylor & Co., Loughborough, Eng., for a chime of eleven bells, to be the largest and heaviest in Ontario, except, perhaps, those of St. James', Toronto. The total weight is 14,000 pounds, the largest bell being 3000 pounds. They are to be known as the "people's chimes," as the cost, $5600, was contributed by citizens generally of all creeds. They will be placed in the tower of St. John's Anglican church, the oldest in the city, which from its lofty site has for seventy-five years dominated the outook over the city.

DAUGHTER IS SPANKED; MOTHER ARRESTED

New York, Dec. 8.—On the ground that she was humiliated by being spanked with the old brown slipper, fourteen-year-old Frances Bahner had her mother arrested.

Now Magistrate Freschi is trying to decide how old a girl must be to escape a spanking; also whether a gentle rebuke should take the place of the good old-fashioned way of child punishment after the child has reached a certain age.

"I'm the mother of sixteen children and I guess I have the right to spank them if I want to," Mrs. Bahner said.

"I just don't care," cried Frances, "I'm too old to be spanked with a slipper."

"She made fresh with me and gave me back talk," exclaimed the mother. "She made faces at the soup, too."

B.C.E.R. SEEKS TO LAY TRACKS ON STREETS

Council Will Inspect Roads at Sapperton Which Company Must Cross to Haul Gravel to Burnaby.

The council will take a trip to Sapperton this afternoon to look over, with the B. C. E. R. engineer, the plans for the connection of the Sapperton line with the tracks of the Vancouver, Fraser Valley and Southern railway. The electric company needs connections with the steam road in order to get gravel for the balasting of its new line through Burnaby.

The road in some places passes through city property, notably along Columbia street and cross Eighth avenue. At a special meeting of the council last night, F. R. Glover, on behalf of the B. C. E. R. asked the city for the temporary use of a right-of-way along these streets. He guaranteed that the company, after using the line for about four months, would tear it up and place the streets in first-class condition again.

His proposals met with opposition from Alderman Bryson, rather it was not the proposals that met with the opposition, but the idea of dealing with the matter at all. He held that it was an important affair and one not to be entered into lightly. He thought that the city should have full particulars and that there should be a full meeting of the council before anything was done.

Mr. Glover had plans and blue prints with him. In explaining them to Acting Mayor Gray and Alderman Gilley, the conversation got into a lower key than usual.

"Is this an open meeting of the council, or what it is?" asked Alderman Bryson.

"An open meeting," responded Alderman Gray.

"Then I don't think there should be any whispering going on that all of us cannot hear," retorted Alderman Bryson.

"Oh, you are are altogether too suspicious," remarked Alderman Welsh, and the incident closed.

It was then that it was decided to go out and look over the scheme in question.

TORONTO STREET RAILWAY PATRONS SUFFER FROM COLD

As Result of Recent Riot Cars Are Run Without Windows—Fleming Still Jollies Public.

Toronto, Dec. 8.—Although there was great excitement last night following the demonstration of citizens after the meeting in Massey hall, to protest against the new regulations of the street railway company, permitting no smoking, no serious results are anticipated from the rioting.

Some persons were cut, but not seriously. Many citizens were clubbed and many have split heads, which were not bad enough to keep them in the hospital after the wounds were stitched up. The mob, which out to smash street cars, confined its energies entirely to this work and made a great success of it.

Today the cars ran as usual, minus windows, which have been removed entirely.

Mayor Geary, who presided at the Massey hall meeting, has expressed regret that citizens had taken the law into their own hands.

Samuel Price and Charles Smith were fined $20 and costs for throwing stones at street cars. The fines will go to the street car company as compensation for the damage done. One thousand street car windows, valued at one dollar each were destroyed in the riots, but Manager Fleming today discounted the loss caused by the rioting, and said the cost of the few windows smashed had been more than made up by the fares of the crowd carried to the indignation meeting in Massey hall.

He still maintains that the pay-as-you-enter system is a great success, and despite riots, continues to jolly the public and ridicule all complaints.

Oil at Sooke.

Victoria, Dec. 9.—Oil prospectors at Sooke yesterday struck oil of a dark green color at a depth of 400 feet below the surface. The boring was through heavy shale. Samples of the oil have been sent to Ottawa for analysis.

Strife in Honduras.

Guatemala, Dec. 9.—It is reported here that a serious revolutionary outbreak is threatened in Honduras. Martial law has been declared in all the large cities and the jails are full of political prisoners. As yet there has been no bloodshed.

VICTORS WILL HAVE A SMALL MAJORITY

British Liberals and Unionists Still Close Together in Race for Power.

London, Dec. 9.—The standing of the parties at the close of yesterday's polling was:

Government coalition — Liberals, 147; Laborites, 28; Nationalists, 45; Independent Nationalists, 6; total, 226.

Opposition, Unionists, 193.

Majority in favor of government coalition, 33.

It is rapidly becoming apparent that when the election are all over there will be but little change in the standing of the parties from what it was before dissolution. At the close of the fifth day's polling and 419 polls heard from, the net changes figure out at a Unionist gain of two seats.

Both parties went into the election with high hopes, but it now seems as if there were no change in the sentiment of the electors.

The results are proving embarrasing to both parties and the sole topic of speculation is the action the government will pursue when the house again meets.

Winston Spencer Churchill, the home secretary, was returned with a large majority in Dundee.

SALE OF WORK IS A SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR

The annual sale of work held yesterday in St. George's parish hall by the Woman's Auxiliary of Holy Trinity Cathedral was the most successful in the history of the organization, the hall being filled with buyers during the whole afternoon.

Bishop de Pencier opened the sale at 3 p. m., and in a short speech commended the auxiliary and its objects and the untiring energy of the members.

The various tables were in charge of the following ladies:

Fancy work—Mesdames Collister, Howay, Gordon, Henderson and Miss Jones and Phillips; delicatessen—Mmes. Levy and Corrigan; Refreshments—Mmes Dockrill, Beattie Webb Whittaker, Peirce, Nesbit and d'Easum; plain work—Mmes Dickinson, Jones and Broad; flowers—Misses Marion Martin and Muriel Cotton; candy—Misses Grace Eastman and Marjorie Larnder; fish-pond—Marjory d'Easum and Minna Walker.

A large Christmas cake which was raffled, was won by Mrs. F. Jackson; one tea cosey by Miss Lena Nelson, Sapperton, another by Miss Davidson and a plant by Miss Edna Eastman.

In the evening progressive euchre attracted a crowd, the ladies prize being won by Mrs. James Brymner and the gentlemen's by M. Sinclair; the consolation prizes going to Dr. De Wolf Smith and Mrs. Goulet. The prizes for lone hands went to Mrs. Goulet and J. J. Jones. An impromtu dance followed, thoroughly enjoyed by everybody. The proceeds will probably amount to $200.

FICTION FROM FIRST TO LAST.

Archbishop Bruchesi So Characterizes Story That He Will Be Pope.

Montreal, Dec. 8.—The report from Ottawa to the effect that a movement was on foot to appoint Archbishop Bruchesi a cardinal, with the ultimate end in view of securing for him the office of supreme head of the Catholic church, was indignantly denied by the Archbishop today. The report was labeled as malicious and as a fiction from beginning to end. Beyond that the palace officials would not discuss the rumor.

WORKMAN'S LOST TROWEL COST $200 TO RECOVER

Sewer Pipe Blocked by Tool Dropped Through Manhole on Begbie street —Trouble Remedied Yesterday.

A striking example of the truth of the ancient adage: "Great things from little causes spring," was discovered yesterday when the city found out that it had spent about $200 as a result of a little carelessness on the part of one of the sewer workmen.

It was found that the new Eighth street sewer had become blocked in front of the Hotel Russell on Begbie street. The street was dug up and blocking the pipe was found a small trowel. One of the men working on the manhole masonry had evidently dropped the trowel in while the sewer was being laid a couple of weeks ago. Thinking that it had gone down to the river he did not bother about it, but the city bothered and spent $200 in the process.

CALIFORNIANS KEEN ON GETTING WORLD'S FAIR

State Polls Heavily in Favor of Having International Exposition in Frisco in 1915.

No better evidence could be had of the unanimity with which Californians are working to secure the International exposition of 1915 than the vote polled throughout the state recently on the constitutional amendment that imposed a world's fair tax of $5,000,000 upon the people. A review of this vote as the figures actually stand is educational and inspiring. It proves that from the northern boundary of California to the Mexican line 800 miles away, Californians were willing and eager to back their advocacy of San Francisco with hard cash. The tremendous favorable vote is all the more gratifying to Californians because of the fact that the state is divided geographically into five distinct sections, but by sentiment in this contest for the exposition the state is united.

In San Francisco a large majority would be expected, and it is no surprise to learn that the vote there went 20 to 1 for the tax. The totals show that 42,378 votes were polled for the measure, and but 2463 against it. Across the bay from San Francisco, in the region so closely connected with it commercially and socially, an overwhelming favorable vote was registered also. Alameda county, in which are the cities of Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley, return their verdict by casting 18,937 votes for the proposition to tax themselves for San Francisco, and 1583 votes against it.

Sacramento, the capital of the state, located in the heart of the Sacramento Valley, and distinctly an interior town, voted 5821 to tax itself for the world show at San Francisco, and only 1346 against it. San Mateo, on the peninsula near San Francisco, voted 3204 for, and but 142 against the state tax. Shasta, in the heart of the northern mountains, 200 miles away from San Francisco, cast 1341 votes for the measure, and only 544 against it. Humboldt, another far northern county, went better than 2 to 1 for the proposition; Placer, one of the famous placer mining counties of pioneer days, cast 1387 for, and but 407 votes against it.

That is a wonderful showing, unprecedented in any state. It is the result presented in plain figures, not glossed over in general terms.

Should Louisiana bring forward her vote for the bond proposition in the southern state, it could be shown how far behind this record she falls. The Southerners have never presented their record over the state.

But now as to the southern part of California. Los Angeles and San Diego—how did their votes run? It was freely predicted that Southern California, 500 miles away from San Francisco, would never give a favorable vote to a proposition which meant that the district should carry its heavy part of a state tax to help San Francisco in her exposition fight.

Yet Los Angeles went better than 2 to 1 for the tax. In that metropolis of the Southland, 21,995 votes were cast for the tax, and 10,899 against it. In San Diego, which is far below Los Angeles, all but snug against the Mexican line, 3836 votes went for the tax, and only 1690 against it. Even in sparsely settled Mono county, which stretches along the Nevada line far to the south, 120 votes were polled for the tax, and but thirty-eight against it. Fresno returned a favorable vote of 4469, and an opposing vote of but 1556. Monterey county went 2051 votes for the tax, and 422 against it.

So much for the state tax of $5,000,000 for the exposition. It passed by an overwhelming vote, and Louisiana can not show anything approaching the unanimity displayed in California. In Southern California the tax passed better than 2 to 1. The total state vote sent it through 10 to 1.

November 15 the city of San Francisco again went to the polls, this time to vote on the proposition to bond the municipality for $5,000,000 for the exposition. The bond issue passed by a vote of 42,040 to 2122. Again 20 to 1.

As a record of city and state spirit California is inclined to point with pride to this tremendous vote. It is the largest favorable vote that any amendement presented to the city or state ever received.

It explains how California has been able to raise $17,500.000 for the Panama-Pacific Exposition of 1915.

KANGAROO STEAKS.

Immense Quantities of the Meat Imported to England.

London, Dec. 8.—The historic butcher of Punch, who retorted upon the grumbling housewife that evidently what she wanted was a "new animal" should have lived until today. The latest novelties to be seen at Smithfield meat market are kangaroos and wallabies, which are being imported in large numbers in a frozen condition from Australia.

The flesh is said to be excellent eating, while kangarco tail soup has become a favorite dish in some of the best restaurants. A representative of the Natural History museum, who made a visit to Smithfield on the lookout for rarities, was surprised to find in one of the latest consignments a number of specimens of wallaby, of which South Kensington possessed very few examples, and he discovered a skin of a species which was altogether unrepresented in the South Kensington collection.

WANT LLOYD GEORGE FOR NEW VAUDEVILLE FEATURE

Chancellor of the Exchequer Is Offered $5000 Per Week to do "Lime Housing" Stunt."

New York, Dec. 8.—If the Rt. Hon. Lloyd-George, the British Chancellor of the Exchequer, wants to quit British politics and British finance for a time and begin "lime-housing" in the United States, he has the chance. A well-known theatrical firm this afternoon sent the following cable to the distinguished Welshman:

"Offer you new theatre and guarantee £1000 a week support, for purpose of organizing American campaign to aid you against lords. Must be twice daily from your repertoire on lime-housing lines, which is a novelty here."

The peculiarly vigorous and original invective which Mr. Lloyd-George uses in his campaign speeches in attacking the lords and wealthy men generally has been termed "lime-housing" ever since he made a speech a few weeks ago in the Lime-house section of the east end of London. The theatrical firm that cabled the offer thinks from the samples that have been cabled to the United States that "lime-housing" on the vaudeville stage in this country would be a greater drawing card than George Ade's slang.

R.N.W.M.P. FORCE NEEDS RECRUITING

Report of the Commissioner Shows that Duties Are Increasing—Many Arrests.

Ottawa, Dec. 8.—The need of strengthening the Northwest Mounted Polic is emphasized in the annual report of Commissioner Fred White.

On September 30 there were 600 officers, non-coms. and men, and forty-five horses.

In Alberta there are 261; Saskatchewan 302; Territories twenty-six; Yukon sixty.

"In the last annual report," says Colonel White, "I ventured to express to you my views upon the inadequacy of our present strength. The experience of the last year has only confirmed and strengthened these views. Settlement is going on apace; railways are building into every portion of the new provinces, and towns are springing up along these lines.

"No one will dispute the value of maintaining law and order among the new comers from the very beginning. The moral and material advantages to Canada of a well ordered and well conducted population in these new provinces are so well understood that I feel justified in submitting the question of an increase of strength to your consideration, especially as a new arrangement is to be made for the continuance of the force in these provinces for another term of five years."

During the twelve months 10,489 cases were entered; convictions resulted in 9042 cases, being 86 per cent of the cases tried. 1258 cases were dismissed or withdrawn, and 148 cases were awaiting trial on September 30. There is an increase of 3193 convictions over last year.

This appears startling, but on examination of the returns it is found that the increase is almost entirely due to convictions in minor cases. Assaults account for 231, offences under vagrancy act for 1130, theft for 223 and convictions under provincial laws which are not criminal for 1113.

FATHER OF TRUSTS.

Judge James Brooks Dill Is Dead At Orange, N. J.

Orange, N, J., Dec. 8.—Judge James Brooks Dill, often referred to as "The Father of Trusts," died at his home here early today. He was for many years the most prominent corporation lawyer in New Jersey, and helped frame the articles of incorporation of many of the big combinations organized under the protection of the state laws. His income was estimated at $300,000 a year.

In 1905 he was persuaded to accept a place on the bench and became fully as noted a jurist as he was a corporation lawyer. He was about to resume his private practice, having resigned from the bench, when taken with an attack of heart failure some weeks ago. He was supposed to be getting well when pneumonia set in and his strength had been so sapped he could not resist the disease.

The corporations that Dill personally organized while practicing in this state had a total capital exceeding $793,000,000. For organizing the United States Steel trust he received a fee said to have been one million dollars. He came into this case as the result of the fight between Andrew Carnegie, Henry C. Frick, and their associates in 1900, and through his diplomacy brought the warring elements together. On the last day of his private practice, just before going on the court of errors and appeals bench, Dill refused a retaining fee of $25,000, equal to more than eight years' salary on the bench. He said that he was through practicing law for a while.

His book, "Dill on New Jersey Corporations," is the chief authority on corporation law in every sect ion of the country. In his younger days, when he was a newspaper reporter, he covered the Molly Maguire riots at Wilkesbarre. A train on which he was riding was blown up by the rioters, and Dill was one of four men who escaped either death or injury as a result. His story of the wreck was a "scoop" and a bonus of $350 given him for it, was used to complete his law studies. He is survived by his wife, who was Miss Mary F. Hansel, of Philadelphia, and three daughters.

GERMAN INTERESTED IN STAMP SELLING MACHINES

Ottawa, Dec. 8.—An interesting visitor to the city today is Rene Wohlforth, of Berlin, Germany, who is one of the chief members of the firm of the German Postoffice and Railroad Appliance company, makers of all kinds of slot machines. Mr. Wohlforth is here to call on the officials of the Postoffice Department with a view to introducing stamp slot machines and other mechanical devices for use in the postoffice of this country.

The visitor claims that the machines his firm make are an improvement on those in use here. If his negotiations with the government authorities are satisfactory the firm will build a factory in Montreal for the making of their inventions in Canada. His machines are in use in many cities in the United States.

Discussing the political situation in Germany, Mr. Wohlforth said there is no animosity felt between Great Britain and Germany. He classified the newspaper talk as a "lot of rubbish." He says the kaiser's idea about "divine right" is laughed at by the German press.

FRASER RIVER IMPROVEMENTS.

The prompt success which has attended the arrival at Ottawa of the deputation appointed to urge the importance of making immediate improvements to the Fraser river, is highly satisfactory, in two respects, particularly. First it will be most gratifying to the people of New Westminster, Vancouver and the adjacent districts to know that the necessary works of improvement are to be at once carried out. Second the result of the deputation's visit is satisfactory as showing that the government recognizes the importance of the Fraser river to the commercial success of British Columbia, and is prepared to put both the main channel and the North arm in a permanently navigable condition.

That this work had already the sympathy and attention of the government was previously known. The Hon. W. Pugsley promised attention to the work when in this city last year, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier pledged the government's attention to the matter when here in the summer. Then as an earnest of this a sum of forty thousand dollars has been placed in the current parliamentary estimates. Beyond this, however, Dr. Pugsley informed the deputation yesterday that the department had decided to go ahead with the dredging on the North arm and that before the delegates reached home the King Edward dredge would have commenced operations on this part of the river. The premier also assured the representatives of this district that the government viewed with favour the whole scheme for the improvement of the lower reaches of the river.

We may expect, therefore, from the assurances given both by the premier and the Minister of the Interior, that the full program of improvements embraced in the Le Baron scheme, which was what the deputation mainly went to Ottawa to urge, will be carried out.

TRADE RELATIONS IN DEBATE

Public attention has been directed almost exclusively during the debate on the address to two leading questions: the Canadian navy, and trade with the United States. Many other topics found a place in the speech from the Throne, but more and more persistently as the days passed last week other topics were allowed only a mere mention or were permitted to drop out altogether, while one or both of these took a prominent place in almost every speech. There are reasons for this; the Canadian navy was pushed to the front by the result of the Drummond and Arthabaska election; the state of trade between Canada and the United States is for many Canadian a matter of vital and perennial imoprtance. There are signs that the navy as a subject is almost exhausted; there are signs that the consideration of reciprocity of trade with our neighbors will have greater prominence during the session than even the navy and will overshadow everything else.

For the mention of reciprocal trade in the speech from the Throne the Laurier government deserves neither praise nor blame. The matter was thrust upon its attention by the course of events in the United States, and no ministry could under existing circumstances have omitted from the speech all mention of such a subject brought and kept before the people of Canada in such a way. It would have been churlish and unmannerly, not merely beyond all precedent but beyond the limits of common decency, to slam the door in the face of a delegation purporting to come with a request for a friendly conference on matters of business, especially when this proposed conference was assumed and represented to be a renewal of negotiations that had taken place a few months ago with good results for both countries. It is to be noted that the mention of reciprocity in the speech is unaccompanied by any indication whatsoever as to the course of the negotiations, not to say any pledge, that concessions of some sort would be made. The matter has been left absolutely unprejudiced, so far as the government is concerned, and that is the best possible way to bring it before the House and the country.

Several members on the Opposition side of the House have taken the opportunity to protest against any trade convention of any sort between Canada and the United tSates. It is difficult to understand the frame of mind that impels a man of Mr. Foster's personal ability and administrative experience to put himself into such an attitude as he assumed very early in the debate on the address. If his purpose was to give a cue to others on his own side he has perfectly succeeded, for there has been a fairly general corroboration of his position by those who followed him as Opposition speakers.

Several speakers on the government side have not merely protested strongly against prejudging the case for reciprocity, but also undertaken to show that a good case can be made out for continuing the negotiations which have been already commenced. Mr. Guthrie followed Mr. Foster with an admirable speech in which he dealt at length with the ex-Finance Minister's contentions. Mr. Fowke gave the House a good fighting speech, which made clear that there is a strong case for better relations to be made out, and that the governmen's supporters are not afraid to risk taking a strong stand on the subject. Dr. Clark from Alberta, spoke with as little reserve as his fellow-English Radical, Mr. Lloyd-George, does when he is making a Budget speech. Fortunately the trade debate will not be marred by such strong personal feeling as the navy question has stirred up.—Toronto Globe.

SPORTING NEWS

TOURING AMERICANS HAVE FUN WITH FIJIANS

Colored Islanders Saw Glory Ahead, But Were Quickly Disillusioned.

If Oscar Hammerstein or some of the big vaudeville promoters in America could have witnessed the exhibitions of boxing between the American and Fijians at Suva, Fiji Islands, September 27, they would never have bothered about the Johnson-Jeffries moving pictures. It was a sight never to be forgotten, and the people who did see it will have stories to tell their friends for years to come. It was really funny that words fail to describe the ludicrous side of it.

When the Zealania steamed into Fiji harbor about five-thirty o'clock Monday afternoon, the American boxers, Billy Papke, Ray Bronson, Cyclone Johnny Thompson and Jimmy Clabby, had no idea that they were to show there that night, as no word had been received by wireless that show had been arranged for. However, upon landing and walking to the main street, they were confronted with a big seven foot Fijian, with a large bell and an advertising card swung over his shoulders, announcing the names of all the American boxers who would star that night at town hall. That was the signal for a shout of joy, for the boys were sorely in need of some form of recreation. Mr. Parker, the local promoter, appeared on the scene and stated that eight o'clock would be the time.

After a hurried dinner the boys made for the town hall, where they were met by Joe Cliff, a former boxing champion of New Zealand, and he informed them that they were expected to meet native Fijians in three-round exhibitions, the same as Tommy Burns had done once before. Clabby and Bronson readily agreed, and Papke and Thompson fell in line, but wanted the yellow-haired ones.

The native Fijians turned out in force, and with the whites of the island and the passengers on the steamer, including practically all of the ladies the place was packed.

Chita was the first gladiator, and he was introduced by Walter Kelly, the Virginia judge, as the world's champion welter, and his opponent, an Emori, the champion twelve-stone boxer of the Solomon Islands. They appeared on the stage, and W. F. Corbett, of Australia, refereed. Clabby made a few feints and tied the big black into knots. Then Jimmy proceed to poke his left into his face a dozen times before the black knew where he was at. Jimmy let him go the first round. Then came the second, and the Milwaukee lad threw so many hot shots into the black that he jumped the ropes and went through the window head first, carrying sash and all. The last seen of Emori he was headed down Main street running as if the old nick was after him. When the other warriors saw Emori beating it, they too, jumped the back benches and made for the hills, not to be seen again that night.

No Fijian could be located for Bronson, so white scouts were out looking for new ones. Ray boxed three rounds with a local white boy named Hammond. The poor boy was willing but knew little of the game and Ray was merciful to him. When they had finished Joe Cliff had captured another black giant. He faced Bronson and looked like a rooster, jumping with both feet in the air every time he moved. Ray played with him and had to laugh so much himself that he nearly rolled into the footlights. It was a scream, and in the third round the black, Emosi by name, hurdled to the side of the stage and was lost to view.

The promoters became wise with the first flight of the black fighters and when they brought in the second bunch they put them in a separate room so they could not see their opponents. It was a lucky thought, as otherwise they would not have held them.

Papke Gets Policeman.

A giant black Moria, and one of the best policemen on the force, was the choice for Papke to face, but he would not go on until William Desmond, the American star in stock work, took up a collection and gave him £3 in advance. Then the fun started. Papke went after his man like a real champion and Morita could not escape to the ropes to jump over, so fast did the blows come. Finally he made a dive for the side of the stage and hurdled the chairs.

Judge Kelly and Mr. Desmond followed close on his heels and would not let him take the gloves off. They explained in pantomine that Papke did not understand that he was a bigger man than the Illinois Thunderbolt and he was induced to return. The burly policeman started to mix the second round, but as he came in Billy let go a short arm jab to the jaw and Moria looked silly. When he found his chair he laughed long and loud and said he had been to the happy hunting grounds.

The toughest Fijian of the lot had been overlooked in the rush and it remained for Johnny Thompson to tame him. This fellow was bigger than Tom Sharkey and strong as a bull. He would make a great wrestler if given lessons. Wellis had evidently made up his mind to show up Johnny, for he rushed in like a young and angry bovine. As he did so Johnny uppercut him on the body and he doubled up like a jack-knife, but came back for more. He got the strangle hold on Johhny and held him as though in a vice, and it took all Referee Corbett's strength to loosen his hold. Then Emossi, who by the way was a dock artist, let go with his left hoof and kicked Johnny on the thigh. This nettled the pride of Sycamore, Ill., and he cut loose for keeps. There was a general mixing, and when it ended Emossi looked at the refree and said: "Me got enough." Mr. Corbett told Emossi he was a good fighter, but he only replied: "Me no fighter; white man he big fighter."

Had Heard of Johnson.

One of the big men of the town in commenting on the show, said: "These natives had heard of Johnson's victory and supposed they, too, were boxers, and the lessons they got from the American boys will do a world of good here. Why, it will tame them for a long time to come." It was really the best workout the American invaders had during the entire trip and one was anxious to have more blacks to practice on.

Billiard Tournament

Two more matches in the billiard tournament at the Royal Billiard parlors were played last night.

In the first Turnbull beat Godwin by 200 to 107, and in the second Gauthrie won from Fraser by 200 to 197.

Some more players may arrange to have their matches played tonight, but so far the only one in sight is between Buck Marshall and Roy Stewart. The game is scheduled to start at 6:30 p. m.

CITY ON EVE OF GREAT EXPANSION

Eastern Capital Will Be Flowing This Way in Steady Stream Soon.

New Westminster and adjacent territory is on the eve of experiencing one of the greatest industrial expansions that has ever fallen to the lot of any Pacific coast city.

Capital, that for years has lain dormant in the east is now being rushed to British Columbia for investment and for the establishment of manufacturing plants. The immense amount of money expended during the past year by the Canadain Northern Railway in the Fraser Valley has caused the eyes of eastern capitalists to be cast in the direction of the Fraser river seaport.

The Canadian Pacific recently expended over one million dollars at Coquitlam for real estate, which practically gives this company a fresh water harbor that will care for the heaviest tonnage afloat, after the river has been dredged up to that point.

At this time a delegation consisting of the most prominent business men of the Fraser Valey are waiting upon Sir Wilfrid Laurier at Ottawa, for the purpose of having the premier pledge himself to further the cause of the $4,000,000 appropriation asked for, to be expended on dredging and improving the Fraser river. This amount of money properly devoted would place New Westminster in the foremost ranks of the harbors of the world.

At the present moment this appropriation means, practically, the future of this city as a seaport of the first-class. The completion of the Panama canal will be the medium of diverting thousands of tons of freight to the water route to Europe, from Canada.

It is not a visionary's dream to state that within six years the Fraser river will be lined with long strings of wharves and grain elevators, and one can stand upon the bridge now spanning the river and gaze upon a vast flotilla of ships bearing the flags of all leading maritime nations. Canada's wheat crop alone will command the attention and eventually the investment of millions of capital in the vicinity of New Westminster alone for elevators and mills.

New Westminster possesses a jewel coveted by every port on the Pacific, Portand, Ore., excepted, and that is a fresh water harbor. Every skipper who ever manned a craft and every owner will go out of their ways to put into a fresh water harbor, as the monetary saving, for dry dock service alone, runs into thousands of dollars annually.

The natural resources behind the Royal City are just beginning to be developed. The realty dealers of Vancouver are casting covetous eyes upon the fertile acres of the Fraser Valley for their operations, and with the completion of the Stave Lake tram line another rich virgin agricultural section will be opened up.

The investor of New Westminster does not have to go outside the confines of his home city to find sterling opportunities for real estate investment, for nowhere on the North American continent will land values increase more rapidly during the next five years than in New Westminster, the great fresh water seaport of the Pacific coast.

MARINE INSURANCE PROMPTLY PAID

Portland Will Be Replaced by New Steamer—Part of Cargo Saved.

Seattle, Dec. 8.—What President H. F. Alexander of the Alaska Coast company claims to be a record in the prompt payment of marine insurance was established in settling for the loss of the steamship Portland. One hour after the owning company presented proof of ownership and loss to the Firemen's Fund Insurance company's marine department it received a cheque for full payment of the claim, which represented four-fifths of the value of the Portland, a vessel worth about $90,000.

"So far as this company is concerned at least, that is a record for prompt payment," said Mr. Alexander yesterday. "A very striking contrast to the company's experience in the Portland case is the case of the loss of the Kentucky in February of last year, on which the insurance has not yet been paid."

Mr. Alexander stated that a number of vessels have been offered to replace the Portland, but no choice has been made as yet. About the first of the new year the company will purchase a steamer, probably from the Atlantic coast.

Kellington Brothers have the New Westminster agency for the Firemen's Fund Insurance company.

JACK JOHNSON HAS HIS BRAIN EXAMINED

Chicago, Dec. 8.—Arthur Johnson, heavyweight boxing champion of the world, is worried over his mental condition.

The champion was told recently that he was on the verge of a nervous breakdown and that his days of supremacy in the pugilistic world were numbered.

He brooded over the prediction and underwent several examinations to test his nervous condition. All pronounced his nerves all right. They did not satisfy the only that that ever defeated the mighty Jeffries.

His sanity has been doubted and he could not stop worrying. He wanted a picture of his brain to see if there was anything wrong, and last night the cranium of the world's mightiest fighter "posed" for an X-ray photograph.

The unique examination was performed at the Washington Park hospital and Johnson came through test with flying colors. Doctors W. F. Lorimer and T. T. Matlock made the exposure.

"We took a stiogram of the head, or an X-ray photograph of Johnson's skull, to see if there was any depression in the skull that would affect the brain," said Dr. Lorimer. "The exposures show a slight indention of the external table of the cranium but the internal table appeared perfectly normal. The X-ray picture shows no evidence that the fighter is in danger of a nervous breakdown or insanity."

Johnson breathed easier after the two physicians had examined the picture of his head and pronounced his thinking apparatus in perfect good working shape, if not absolutely perfect.

He led a rather fast life for weeks after his victory over Jeffries, mixing numerous parties with hard work on the stage. He stood up under it well until a few weeks ago, when his memory failed him at Bridgeport, Conn.

POLICE BREAK UP LEAGUE FOR SMUGGLING ITALIANS

Two Arrests Made at the Falls—Man Brought in Makes Confession.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Dec. 8.—Organized for the conveying of their countrymen across the border into Canada, a band of Italians was broken up here today. One of their number, Tucci, was sentenced to two months; another, Fernandino Spino, was fined $5 and deported, and the American agent, Diveta, warned against coming across the boundary line.

For some time the police have been aware of the fact that Nichelas Tucci, who runs a little shoe repair shop here, has crossed the river almost every night. They have been watching him, and this morning, before daybreak, Officer Farrell, of the city police saw Tucci, accompanied by another man, dodging along an alley. He followed them to Tucci's shop, and while watch was kept sent word to the immigration office. Inspector Carter arrived and took Tucci and his companion, Spino, in charge.

Spino could talk no English, but through an interpreter told his story in court this afternoon. When accused he admitted that he was rejected here a year ago. He said that he had been sent by a friend to the house of Diveta, at Niagara Falls, N. Y., and there he met Tucci, to whom he promised, when it was demanded, ten dollars to get him into Canada. They had, he said, chosen last night for the attempt because it was dark and stormy. About two this morning the trio, thinly clad, crossed the upper bridge in a gale of sleet. They were stopped by Inspector Thomas, but Tucci told a plausible story, and the men were passed in. Their arrest followed after Farrell saw them seeking shelter.

The local inspectors think that they have broken up a league for smuggling human cargo into Canada.

MAP OF BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Just Issued by Department of Interior At Ottawa.

A new map of the province of British Columbia has just been issued by the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, which will assist in meeting the demand for complete and up-to-date information.

This map, which is on a scale of thirty-five miles to the inch, shows not only the whole province, but portions of each of the following: Yukon and the Northwest territories on the north, Alberta on the east, the United States on the south and Alaska on the west. All information of a general nature, which the scale will admit of, is shown, including railway stations and all important points.

The boundaries of the Dominion railway belt and the Dominion land agencies into which it is divided, are clearly shown. All township and range lines of the Dominion lands system of survey, with corresponding numbers, are shown in this district. The Dominion electoral divisions throughout the province are also shown.

All railways in operation and the Grand Trunk Pacific line as located, are shown.

The Yukon telegraph line can be traced on the map all the way from Ashcroft to Dawson City in the Yukon.

Single copies of the map will be sent, free of cost, on application to the chief geographer, Department of the Interior, Ottawa.

ENGLISHMAN MAKES NEW WALKING RECORDS

New York, Dec. 8.—News of the establishment of new world's walking records, made a few days ago in Milan, Italy, has just reached this city. The new title holder is H. V. L. Ross, an Englishman, who was entered as scratch man in a 20-kilometer walking handicap. The distance in statute measure is 12 miles, 75 yards, and Ross won in 1 hour, 35 minutes, 1 1-5 seconds, a new world's record for the distance.

In the course of the walk he also set up a new world's record for 10, 11 and 12 miles. His figures for those distances were as follows: Ten miles, 1 hour, 15 minutes, 55 seconds; 11 miles, 1:23:53; 12 miles, 1:31:56.

Some of the old records had stood for more than twelve years.

HIGHER SALARIES FOR PRIESTS

Premier of Spain Says That They Will Be Provided For.

Madrid, Dec. 8.—In the senate today Prime Minister Canalejas announced that it was the intention of the government to grant increases in the salaries of the priests, parish cures, the personnel of the sanitary corps and schoolmasters. He added that these increases were not provided for in the present budget, but such measures would be submitted to the Cortes to provide for them pending the negotiations with the vatican.

A petition bearing 100,000 signatures has been presented to the Cortes, praying for the passage of laws that will guarantee freedom of religious beliefs. Among the signers are many Protestants and the remnants of what was the Radical party.

To Hold Post-Mortem.

Montreal, Dec. 8.—The defeated candidates at the two last Federal elections on the Conservative side—and there are fifty-six of them—are talking of going in a body to Ottawa to talk over the matters with the leader of the Opposition and to discuss generally party matters. They claim that such a movement is absolutely necessary, owing to the rapid growth of the Bourassa movement in Quebec province.

COLD SHOULDER TO ALIEN LABOR

Victoria Troubled With Influx of Handy Men From Across the Line.

Victoria, Dec. 8.—Owing to the circulation broadcast of the news that Victoria is prosperous and engaged in the prosecution of a large amount of civic work, which will continue throughout the winter, a considerable number of laboring men from Seattle and other points on the other side of the line, where business conditions are in a very depressed state, have lately come here looking for work. A considerable percentage of them apply to the city engineer for positions, but that official is adhering strictly to the policy which he inaugurated when he assumed office, that is, favoring allthose who make their homes in Victoria permanently.

A reporter happened to be in the engineer's office this morning when one of those from the other side of the line appeared and asked for work. After the caller had been disposed of, Mr. Smith said:

"There are too many strangers from Seattle and other American cities coming here looking for work. I suppose they have heard that we are busy over here. If they need work I am sorry for them, but I want as far as possible to keep our own men employed; and I have issued instructions to all foremen to be very careful to see that no outsiders are taken on until every available citizen of Victoria has been put to work.

"I am thinking of establishing a 'waiting list' in my office. This would enable me to keep in touch with the men in the city who are looking for work.

"Victoria is perhaps, the one city on coast where outside work is being done to any large extent by the corporation, and I feel that this desirable situation should redound to the benefit of our own people rather than outsiders. We are just now in need of a considerable amount of labor in connection with the work in progress at Foul Bay, but even if we are inconvenienced for a few days I would rather wait for our own people than put on these men who drift in here from the neighboring American cities."

DUSKY SANTA CLAUS.

Jack Johnson, Champion, Plans Xmas Festivities.

Chicago, Dec. 8.—Picture Jack Johnson in a Santa Claus role. That's the champion's latest hobby, and just to prove that he's on the level, the pugilistic man of the hour is going to sink one thousand cold American plunks in the Christmas trade, just by way of displaying his esteem for friends and constits in various parts of the United States.

While waiting at his home on Wabash avenue the other day for the delivery of his racing autos, the hero of Reno mapped out a list of the desirables—folks who may count upon something substantial in the way of remembrances when the merry Yuletide rolls around.

"I've made up the schedule," said John Arthur, after enumerating a string of relatives and warm admirers who have stood by him through thick and thin. 'But that's the easiest part of it. Looks as if I'll have to engage a shopping agent to attend to the heavy work, for I can't buck the center or run the ends in the holiday crowds here, and I propose to patronize home industries.'"

Next in importance to the distribution of present, according to Jack's line of chatter, will be the Christmas dinner. Last year he arrived one day late for the big eats—reaching Chicago on December 26, but this little hitch didn't interfere with the carrying out of an elaborate programme planned by Jack's mother. Every delicacy known to the culinary art was heaped upon the festal board when John Arthur pulled up a chair and bade all the guests be seated.

One year before the dusky giant was busy dethroning Tommy Burns, and officially clinching his right to the heavyweight title in far-off Rushcutte Bay, Sydney, N. S. W.

M'LEAN WILL INSIST UPON SIGNING FREAK CONTRACT

Cincinnati Dec. 8.—Larry McLean, the big catcher o fthe Reds, will soon get a new proposition in regard to his salary if he will play with the team next year. Larry says he will insist upon being paid at the rate of 25 cents for every drink he refuses during the coming year.

"I was made to sign a fool contract last year," said Larry today, "and now I'm going to have a contract of my own. I was to lose $25 every time I touched a drink after my fling at Hot Springs. Now I want to be paid for every time I refuse a drink.

"I'll pay a man to around with me, eat with me, sleep with me and be with me all the time to see that I don't take a drink and to get the correct number of times I am asked to take a drink a day. This may sound foolish, but it is on the level."

McLean insists that he means every word he says about his new contract and proposes to have it drawn up within a few days.
