COMING OF LEPER ALARMS SEWARD

Half Breed Woman, Afflicted With Disease, Will Not Be Landed.

Seward, Alaska, Nov. 8.—Seward people are greatly alarmed over the contemplated bringing of a leper suspect here from Kenel, Cook Inlet. The local authorities say they will refuse permission for the suspect to land here.

The supposed victim is a half breed woman whom the Kenai people refused to care for longer. They raised a fund to deport her and forced the local government agent there to take action.

SCANDAL.

Systematic Depredations Long Unchecked at the City Hall.

A real live case of graft was discovered yesterday in the city hall. There has been an exhibit of grains grains tacked up on the wall of the board of trade room for some time and yesterday when Janitor Edward Hoult was in the room he thought he detected a noise coming from the sheaves of wheat and oats.

On investigation he found that a healthy family of mice had been carrying on a systematic scheme of theft and that a large part of the valuable grain on exhibition had been stolen.

A nest was found in the center of a large sheaf of oats and the mice scattered in all directions when they were disturbed. The janitor is at a loss what course to pursue. It has been suggested that he borrow the fire hall cat and this may be done if the firemen can be brought to realize the seriousness of the situation.

Up to a late hour last night the police had not been notified of the depredations.

INTEREST.

Englishmen Turn Their Eyes Towards Canada's Banner Province.

As the result of a letter which the publicity commissioner had published in the Daily Mail of London, England, he yesterday received two letters from Englishmen who wanted to come and live in the Fraser Valley. He is supplying them with all information.

Tales of the interest that British Columbia and Canada are arousing in the old country are brought back by James Mellis, formerly postmaster at Terra Nova, who has been touring the old country. He spent three weeks in London and travelled the length of Scotland, and he states that everywhere anyone coming from Canada was almost mobbed by persons seeking information about the possibilities in different parts of Canada.

Half the people there now have relatives in this country and there are thousands who are anxious to come if they are assured of a decent living here.

Ring Off!

It has been rumored for some time past that the local system of the B. C. Telephone company would be modernized and extended, but when a representative of the News called on Manager A. A. Matthison yesterday, he said that nothing definite had been announced. He stated that the company was doing its best to provide an efficient service with the equipment now installed, and although some changes might be inaugurated soon, for the present no radical alterations were to be made. He stated that the company would be helped considerably if all the subscribers rang off when they were finished with the conversations. Those who came from other towns, where it was not necessary to ring the bell when calling or when finishing, were in the habit of hanging up the receiver without ringing off and if the operators were busy, which they are most of the time, the result was that many "line busy" answers were given when the conversation over the line wanted had actually been finished several minutes before.

Steamer Ophir Disabled.

Victoria, Nov. 9.—The C. P. R. steamer Ophir was towed into port by the John L. Card at eight o'clock last night, having been picked up three miles off Point Roberts with the main shaft broken.

Off to Good Start.

Vancouver, Nov. 9.—The first day of the Y. M. C. A. campaign for half a million dollars ended at midnight with $230,000 collected.

Against Church Union.

Vancouver, Nov. 9.—At the Presbytery session yesterday, a resolution favoring church union was turned down by fourteen votes to twelve.

PROVINCIAL EXECUTIVE DISPOSES OF ROUTINE WORK

Moses B. Cotsworth Confirmed in Burnaby Appointment—Westminster Jail Guard Resigns.

Victoria, Nov. 8.—The provincial executive today dealt principally with the departmental routine business, in addition to which a number of minor appointments were put through.

Moses B. Cotsworth was confirmed in his new appointment as auditor for the municipality of Burnaby. Robert Fairclough, of Coal Creek mines, and Knut Hansen, of Holberg, were appointed justices of the peace, and W. R. Dunwoodie, of Esquimalt, a provincial constable.

The services of F. H. Shepherd, of Nanaimo, chief mines inspector, as secretary to the board of appointments and board of examiners for certificates under the coal mines regulation act were, by order-in-council, continued, this order being rendered necessary in consequence of the recently promulgated regulation interdicting the "after hours" engagements of civil service servants without special authorization.

The resignation of Guard Paul Corrigan, of the provincial jail at New Westminster, has been ordered to take effect at once.

MUSICAL COMEDY WAS SCREAMINGLY FUNNY

Billy Clifford and a Competent Company Gave Clever Interpretation of Play Last Night.

There are musical comedies with more music than comedy and musical comedies with more comedy than mubut "The Girl, the Man and the Game," presented by Billy Clifford and a competent company last night, was one of a first class amalgamation of both.

The plot was woven around the efforts of a young man to get money from his rich uncle. He told the uncle that he was married and that he had a baby, and when the uncle landed in one fine day with toys for the baby there was some trouble finding a woman and a child to take the place of the fictitious family. However the wife and niece were finally secured, but complications began to crowd in so thick that in the last act, the erring young man was glad to inform his uncle that he practiced deception upon him.

In the course of the play itself the efforts of the old uncle, played by Jack Trainer, were productive of far the most merriment. The noises which he considered it necessary to make every time he had a line to speak seemed to be excruciatingly funny and kept the audience in a roar.

When Billy Clifford held the stage for a few minutes before the end of the show the audience again went into spasms of uncontrollable applause, occasioned by his clever songs and dancing.

Adele Archer, as Mrs. Elsie Cerry, made a great hit by her singing and acting which was superior to that usually seen in a comic opera. Miss Marguerite De Von, the girl who took the part of Dorothy, also did some very acceptable work.

Billy Clifford stated last night that it was the first time he had ever visited New Westminster, but he was pleased with the town and would certainly try to have it included on his itinerary the next time he was travelling in this part of the country.

The house last night, possibly owing to so many attractions coming before and after it, was not as good as it should have been, but a fair audience filled most of the seats on the lower floor.

The attraction tonight will be "Twelfth Night, played by William Yule and a competent company of players.

MONTREAL'S TERMINALS.

Grand Trunk Starts Work on the New Station.

Montreal, Nov. 8.—The first step in the Grand Trunk's scheme for providing Montreal with big passenger terminals to replace the present inadequate Bonaventure station was taken today, when the work of dismantling a portion of the property bought by the company for the purpose was begun. During the last year or so the company has acquired all the property between the present station and Cathedral street to the east, and bounded by Chaboillez square and colonial railway will join in the scheme for the new terminals is, of course, for the government to say, but it is regarded as a foregone conclusion that it will. It is stated by railwaymen that the preliminary plans drawn up by the company's architects show one of the finest stations on the continent.

ELECTIONS IN STATES WIN FOR DEMOCRATS

Roosevelt's Candidate in New York Sustains Crushing Defeat—Incomplete Returns Indicate Democrats Will Control National House of Representatives.

New York, Nov. 9.—The results of the gubernatorial election held yesterday, although still incomplete, show a political convulsion even worse than the sensational turnover of 1892.

The National House of Representatives has been carried by the Democrats, who have reversed a majority of forty-three.

The U. S. Senate will probably have a reduced Republican majority as a result of the legislative elections held in many states yesterday.

Following are the results now available:

New York—John A. Dix, Dem., elected governor over H. L. Stimson by a plurality of 55,000, reversing a plurality of 70,000 in 1908 in favor of Governor Hughes.

In New Jersey Woodrow Wilson, Dem., defeated Vivian M. Lewis (Rep.) by 15,000, reversing a plurality of 8,000 for Governor Fort in 1908.

In Massachusetts E. Foss (Dem.), defeated Governor Draper (Rep.), by almost 30,000, reversing a plurality of 8,000 two years ago.

In Connecticut Judge S. E. Baldwin (Dem.), was elected over C. A. Goodwin by a plurality of 4,000, reversing the 1908 plurality of 16,000.

In Ohio Judson Harmon (Dem.), was re-elected by about 15,000 plurality over Warren G. Harding.

In New Hampshire Robert P. Bass (Rep.), leads Clarence E. Carr (Dem.), by about 6,000 votes.

In Pennsylvania the victory of John K. Tener (Rep.), over Webster Grim is claimed by a large majority.

In Rhode Island Governor Aram J. Pothier (Rep.), is re-elected.

In Tennessee the fusion candidate, Ben W. Hooper, is elected by at least 15,000 plurality.

In Alabama Emmet O'Neal (Dem.), is conceded the victory.

In South Carolina the Democratic candidate is believed elected.

In Iowa the Democrats claim the election of Claude Porter over B. F. Carroll, but the Republicans have not yet conceded the victory.

In Wisconsin the re-election of F. E. McGovern (Rep.), is claimed by a reduced majority. The return of Lafollette to the senate is assured.

In Michigan C. S. Osborne, the Republican candidate, is leading by a good majority.

In Minnesota Adolph E. Eberhart (Rep.), is elected by over 30,000 majority.

Chicago, Nov. 8.—Judging by returns to eleven o'clock tonight, the next house of representatives will be controlled by the Democrats. They have made gains in eight states and have captured eighteen seats from the Republicans. This is offset by two Republican gains in New York and Pennsylvania.

Danville, Ills., Nov. 8.—Joseph G. Cannon, speaker of the House of Representatives, was re-elected to congress from the eighteenth Illinois congressional district by a slightly reduced plurality.

New York, Nov., 8.—Henry L. Stimson attributes his defeat to causes nation-wide and a general movement of the Republican party towards progressivism.

"There seems to be a ground swell all over the country," he said tonight, "and I was caught in it. I think it is only the beginning. We're beginning to have a re-alignment of political parties and the Republican party is going through the agony of becoming progressive.

"The returns speak for themselves. I have nothing to regret. We've had a good fight. I was surprised that I ran so well and with the rest of the ticket."

Mr. Stimson first conceded his defeat at 8 o'clock this evening. An hour and a half later he sent a telegram to John A. Dix, congratulating him on his election.

PETER IS WILLING.

One Man Announces He Has Designs On Civic Office.

The name of Peter Peebles will be one of those printed on the ballot papers used at the next civic election, unless Providence intervenes. Mr. Peebles has been approached by several of his friends already and when questioned as to his intentions by the News recently he announced that he would be in the running for alderman, "all being well."

The first man to declare himself is not without experience in public life, having served several terms on the board of school trustees, being defeated at the last election. He has declined to make another attempt to return to the board, but is willing to give the electors an opportunity of electing him to the city council.

Away Until Christmas.

H. M. Stramberg, principal of the High school, will not return until after Christmas. This was the information received the other day by Rev. Robert Lennie, secretary of the school board. Mr. Stramberg wrote saying that he would come back if it were absolutely necessary, but he would prefer to stay until after Christmas. The board, after considering the matter, came to the conclusion that the time would be so short, if he came back now, that he could be spared a few more weeks and so they wrote to him to that effect. During his absence H. M. McMillan is acting principal of the High school.

MANY CITIES GO DRY

Bellingham, Nov. 8.—Bellingham knocked its retail liquor houses out today by a vote of 1955 to 1856.

The little border town of Sumas will be the only wet place in Whatcom county after Feb. 1, 1911.

Other cities which were voted dry in Washington are: Everett, Mount Vernon, Burlington, Sedro-Wooley, Anacortes, Edmunds, Granite Falls and Arlington.

One hundred and fifty saloons will be closed.

PAYS MONEY INTO COURT PENDING A SETTLEMENT

Dispute Over C. N. R. Right-of-Way in Surrey Is Being Aired—Arbitrators to Be Appointed.

The Canadian Northern Pacific Railway company, through its solicitor, J. R. Grant, yesterday paid into court the sum of $5,000 and today it will probably pay in $7,500 more, the money to be held pending the settlement of negotiations for the expropriation of lands on the C. N. R. right-of-way in Surrey.

The land in question is a strip ninety feet in width through the nw¼ of section 23, township 14, and it belongs to Edward Smith and Henry Alder.

Yesterday application for an order of possession was made before Judge Howay in county court chambers and he ruled that if the company paid into court the amounts mentioned above, the sheriff would be ordered to place them in possession of the land required.

The arbitrators on the question have not yet been appointed, but that will probably be done in the course of a few days.

KNUD RASMUSSEN PUTS CRIMP IN COOK'S CLAIM

Belated Sidelight on Imaginative Doctor's Story of Polar Discovery Will Not Surprise Many.

Chicago Nov. 8.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook was further discredited in a special cable dispatch to the Chicago Daily News today from its correspondent in Copenhagen, Denmark.

The story was the first publication of Knud Rasmussen, the Danish explorer, sent by him to his wife in Copenhagen and now given out by her.

Contained in the story are purported statements of Cook's two Eskimo companions in the polar quest, Itukusuk and Apilak, in which they confirm Robert E. Peary's charge that Cook travelled in a circle and never even approached the pole.

Rasmussen, in the story, is quoted as saying he himself did not interview the men, but that their statements were taken by the Rev. Gustav Olsen and Katchet Sechmann Rosbach, missionaries.

"TWELFTH NIGHT" COMING.

Shakespearean Play to Be Presented Here This Evening.

An announcement of more than ordinary interest to the lovers of the best in dramatic literature is that of the engagement of the superior company of players headed by William Yule and Violet Eddy, in "Twelfth Night."

Shakespeare was manifestly in a holiday mood when he penned this delightfully irresponsible comedy of improbabilities. No great problem clogged the flow of his fancy—no call to right the wrongs of humanity choked the serene utterance of his joyous muse. Even Viola is less strenuous than most of the poet's heroines, and throws herself with a gay spirit into the masquerading adventures through which she passes to comedy's inevitable goal—the hymeneal altar. No less an authority than Halliwell Phillips describes "Twelfth Night" as "the perfection of English comedy and the most facinating drama in the language."

ACTRESS SAT ON BENCH.

Caustic Criticism of Manner of Conducting Crippen Case.

London, Nov. 8.—The commendations of British judicial procedure as exemplified by the Crippen case received from America have been largely featured by the London press, but there are certain aspects of the trial which have elicted strong condemnations. A well-known barrister, writing to The Times, says:

"It is not an incongruous thing that while a man is being tried for his life there should sit on the bench on the right hand of the judge a famous musical comedy actress? The lady is, I am sure, charming and delightful and is worthy of her position as any other of her sex, but her name is associated with the lighter things of life than a murder trial, and her presence, I insist, detracted from the solemnity of the occasion.

"In favored positions in the courts, too, were women displaying enormous hats and expensive furs, women chatting and exchanging smiles even while the prisoner was awaiting the verdict of the jury. It may be urged that if we have public trials these things cannot be helped, but this trial was not a public trial, it was a spectacular trial, and the admittance was by ticket. These tickets were in the greater part allotted before the public even heard of the arrangement.

"Rather, far rather, let the public be excluded altogether and let the press tell us what has taken place."

MANY ENTOMBED IN DELAGUA MINE

Victims of Disaster Yesterday Afternoon May Total Seventy—Fifty Escaped.

Trinidad, Colo., Nov. 8.—Between fifty and seventy men are believed to be entombed in mine number 3 of the Victor American Fuel company at Delagua, located twenty-two miles northwest of here, as the result of an explosion shortly after three o'clock this afternoon.

Fifty men came out alive, and unharmed, through mine number 2, which is connected with the main mine, number three, and according to reports to the mine officers they did not even know there had been an explosion in number three.

If this report is true, the explosion which badly caved the entrance to number three, did not extend far into the mine, and it is hoped, therefore, that the men far in the workings are unharmed.

MOTHER GETS VERDICT.

Sues Daughter for Stealing Affections of Husband.

Milwaukee, Nov. 8.—That Mrs. Johanna Hueselmann is entitled to $9,800 damages from her daughter, the wife of Dr. Wilhelm Becker, was the verdict of a jury in the circuit court in a $25,000 alienation of affections suit of mother vs. daughter.

Mrs. Hueselmann and Dr. Becker were married in Chicago in 1900. She was then forty-six years old. He was thirty-one. She had two daughters. One of them was Mrs. Hattie Bott, aged twenty-six at that time.

Mrs. Bott was then living in St. Paul. Some time after the marriage Mrs. Bott came to Milwaukee to visit her mother and her new stepfather, and following her visit Mrs. Becker and the doctor separated. Alleging he compelled her to leave, threatening to shoot her, Mrs. Hueselmann got a divorce from the doctor, and her former name of Hueselmann was restored November 3, 1906.

November 9, 1906, Mrs. Bott, the present Mrs. Becker, began suit for divorce from Dr. Bott. She got the divorce November 24, 1907. Five days later, according to testimony, Mrs. Bott and her stepfather married.

Mrs. Hueselmann-Becker-Hueselmann said, among other things, that it was in July, 1905, that her daughter "wilfully, maliciously and wickedly" gained the affections of Dr. Becker, and sought to entice him to desert his wife, Mrs. Hueselmann.

SECRET OF LONGEVITY.

Centenarians Give Views as to Preservation of Life.

London, Nov. 8.— Two centenarians who have recently celebrated their 100th and 103d birthday, respectively, have been telling what they consider the secrets of longevity. Another centenarian, a well-known huntsman, who died on the same day at the age of 102 also had his views on how to preserve life.

The first of the trio is Henry Tomlinson, a well-known sportsman, of Cheshire. On reaching his hundredth birthday he was gladdened by a message from King George, accepting his photograph. The Duke of Westminster and the Marquis of Cholmondely, also sent him congratulations. He has pleasant recollections of nearly eighty years' hunting, and attributes his great age to having led a healthy outdoor life, using little tobacco and not too much liquor.

William Head celebrated his 103d birthday in Windsor workhouse, where he has been since he gave up his work as a laborer at the age of ninety-six. But he still rejoices in good health. "Fresh air, moderation, hard work and the simple life" are his recipes for prolonged days. He smokes shag tobacco and drinks his regulation pint of beer every day with relish. His only regret is that he has not an allowance of an ounce of tobacco daily instead of weekly.

Colonel John Bower, of Droxford, Hants, who was 102 before he died, was the oldest British officer on the retired list. He was a non-smoker, but not a teetotaller. Up to the last he enjoyed a half pint of champagne with his meals. Asked recently his recipe for old age he said: "Sport and the open air and a healthy, contented mind—the mind that tells you what is best for you and helps you to get it. That's all."

Rumor of Battle.

Oklahoma City, Nov. 8.—An unverified rumor has been received here that in a battle between whites and blacks in Wagoner county this evening, forty-five negroes and five whites were wounded.

DISTRICT COUNCIL

SURREY

The council met at the Town hall, Surrey Center, on Saturday, November 5, the reeve and all members being present. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and confirmed.

Communications were received as follows:

From H. Bose, Hon. Sec. U. B. C. M., saying the meeting of the union will be held at Salmon Arm, Thursday, November 10, 1910, commencing at two o'clock, and asking to be advised of the names of the representatives from Surrey. Received On motion the reeve and councillor MacKenzie were appointed delegates to the meeting.

From Ludwig Pillath re the construction of the wharf at Bon Accord by the Canadian Northern R. R. Received.

From the Local Option league of B. C. re proposed amendments to the "Municipal Clauses Act." Received.

From H. H. Bose on behalf of "C" company, 104th Regiment Canadian Militia, requesting free use of public hall in Cloverdale, till such times as the militia department will be in a position to make proper arrangements. Received.

From D. E. Welcher, reeve of Coquitlam, re location of the new university of British Columbia, re signing petition in support of the Fraser Valley site on St. Mary's Hill, Westminster Junction. Received. Council do not care to interfere.

From H T. Thrift, saying he had met many of the leading people in and around Blaine and had been asked if the people in this district would be in favor of joining in the construction of a first-class macadam road through this district, from north to south, and if the council would give it countenance and assistance. It is the intention to connect the Washington road with the system through Oregon and California, thus ensuring a stream of tourist travel, and will be a great benefit to all. Received, action having already been taken in the matter.

From H. T. Thrift saying he intended to withdraw the plan of subdivision of part of the northeast one-quarter of Section 10, Twp. 1, from registry, as the plan was unsuitable to the contour of the land; also point out that some nine different parcels of land in that vicinity had been subdivided and that not one was uniform with another, also requesting the council to provide a road from his property to the public road, and calling attention to the dangerous condition of the road leading from White Rock townsite to the station. Received and referred to Councillor Keery to look into the matter of providing an outlet.

From Burrows & Armstrong asking permission to place scales on the Milton road in front of their store. Received. Permission granted under supervision of Councillor MacKenzie.

From A. T. R. Blackwood, enclosing bill for gravel. Received, and referred to Councillor Keery.

From E. Stone re damage to his land from flooding by reason of a culvert put across the Serpentine road. Received, and the reeve and councillors Mackenzie and Inglis appointed a committee to examine the ground.

On motion "C" company, under the supervision of caretaker Matheson, was allowed the use of the Cloverdale public hall for the purpose of organizing, on nights that the hall is not otherwise engaged, providing that no injury is done to the building or floor.

Moved and seconded that the reeve have the solicitor write to the G. N. R. Co. to complete the White Rock wagon road according to specifications as soon as possible, to put in a crossing on the Halls Prairie road north of Clayton, to put in a culvert on the east side of the Johnston road through their right of way and to also attend to the ditch and culvert to take the water from the south side of their track about one-half mile east of Flummerfelt's mill at Tynehead station. Carried.

On motion the Surrey Highway bylaw was read a third time and passed.

On motion of Councillor MacKenzie, seconded by Councillor Keery, the following resolution was passed:

Whereas the state of Washington has formulated a plan to build a state road south from the northwest corner of the state, and are desirous of connecting with a good road from the international boundary to the cities of New Westminster and Vancouver;

And Whereas we, the Municipal Council of Surrey, believe that a road north from Blaine, Wash., would be the shortest and most convenient for all concerned, and that such a road would materially develop and advertise the lower mainland of the province; and, Whereas the Clover Valley road would furnish the best grades, and would be the most feasible route,

Be It therefore resolved by this council in meeting assembled that the Provincial government be asked for assistance in opening and improving the Clover Valley road north from the international boundary at Blaine for a distance of about nine miles to the Yale road, which could then be followed to New Westminster.

Accounts to the amount of $2337.93 were passed and ordered paid.

The council then adjourned to meet again on Saturday, December 3, at 1:30 p. m.

Not So Very Good.

Regina, a few days ago, was horrified to learn from an outside source that it had a restricted district. Chief of Police Zeats promptly denied this, using a bluffer's argument—offering to bet $1000. Betting is illegal under the Miller act. Now comes word that a man named Charley Puller, a notorious white slaver, is making his headquarters in that city. On top of this the interesting information is given that many Regina women are heavy cigarette smokers.

FEDERATION FOR THE BRITISH ISLES

Spectator Presents Strong Arguments Against Suggested Union Dissolution.

(The Spectator, London. Abridged.)

Since we believe that the dissolution of the union and restoration of the Heptarchy, 'plus' some plan for forcing a premature scheme of federation upon the empire, would mean our ruin at home and oversea—a weltering political chaos in which one by one would disappear every part of that proud heritage which is ours and our children's, and of which these islands are the special trustees—we intend to fight this proposal to the death. We believe that it must mean internal and external confusion, at home the destruction of national strength, and therefore of national safety, and oversea the disintegration of the empire—'an absolute desolation to the nation.' Some day, no doubt, it may be a hundred or eighty or only sixty years hence—when the great self-governing portions of the empire have obtained a population and a fiscal strength in some sense comparable to our own, the edifice may be built of a closer political union based upon that solid foundation, which, thank God, we already possess, of a common citizenship and a common throne, and what we shall no doubt have before very long, a common system of naval and military defence. To make this splendid dream a reality, however, one thing is essential, and that is to keep inviolate in health and wealth the central unit—the United Kingdom. Mr. Kipling speaks with a poet's insight of how 'the Abbey makes us "we."' Could it perform that imperial task if we demolished its towers, levelled its walls, and set up some pinchbeck imitation of the British Zion—'templum et arx'—in half a dozen divisions of the British Isles? The several acts of union with Wales—it is too often forgotten that in the sixteen century we made a union with Wales—with Scotland, and with Ireland are the very best cornerstones of that concentration of sovereignty and power which has enabled us to found and maintain the British Empire.

We do not believe for a moment that it has ever crossed the minds of the statesmen of the king's oversea dominions to bully the United Kingdom into disintegrating herself in the name of imperial federation, or that they believe that such a sacrifice could be for the good of the empire as a whole. They know that no one here has the slightest desire to constrain them even in the smallest degree, and that they are free nations in a free empire, as absolutely independent of British control as if they were in theory as well as in fact sovereign communities. While they have still to tame the great forces of nature, to build their houses, to make their roads, to control their rivers, and to clear their woodlands that the plough may pass, it is only right and natural that the chief burden of the common defence should fall upon the mother country, and that with this burden should go also the chief direction of foreign affairs. As soon, however, as the settler's pre-occupation with his war with nature has abated, the daughter nations will one by one take up their full share of the burden of defence, and with it their proportionate share in the direction of foreign policy. Meantime the notion that they desire to dictate to us our internal organization is unthinkable, the gross and incoherent nightmare of political hypochondriacs

REGINA'S CHARACTER.

City Will Go After Speakers Who Said Some Things.

Regina, Nov. 8.—Failing a full retraction of the charges made by Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Wright, of London, Ontario, with respect to an alleged red light district in Regina, Mayor Williams has instructed the city solicitor to report as to whether or not an action could be taken for defamation of the city's character. In the event of the solicitor advising that such action can be taken, failing the withdrawal of the charges, proceedings will, it is stated, be in due course instigated.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER.

Dealing with the recent election at Drummond and Arthabasca, the Montreal Witness sums up the situation in a masterly manner:

We are bidden in strong language to regard the Bourassa movement as the fruit of Laurierism and to believe that "the weapons of Mr. Bourassa and his associates were forged by the friends of Sir Wilfrid Laurier."

The challenge is one that may be bravely accepted. If words have meaning, and if ideas have a history, it should be possible to show that where the political philosophy of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Bourassa differ, and have differed, is at their very basis. If the narrow sectionalism of Mr. Bourassa and the broad Canadianism of Sir Wilfrid Laurier are one and the same thing, the exercise of political judgment becomes a meaningless phrase. The sectionalism to which Mr. Bourassa is appealing should leave no doubt as to its meaning or its danger. It is an appeal which has for its end the complete segregation of the French-Canadian race from the rest of Canada; and the movement is in deliberate alliance with the most recationary forces which have ever worked for the consummation of this purpose. with the actual working of his propaganda before our eyes, and the manifestations of race feeling which it has engendered, it is surely plain that the parentage of Mr. Bourassa's principles is not to be sought in those of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, but rather in those of the illustrious ancestor of Mr. Bourassa, who refused to accept the principle of the legislative union of the two Canadas accomplished in 1840, and who became the bitter and unrelenting opponent of Lafontaine and the Liberals in general when they endeavored to work in harmony with the people of the upper province.

To represent or to suggest Sir Wilfrid Laurier as an apostle or supporter of sectionalism is to misrepresent and to falsify his political record, and incidentally to impugn most seriously the political intelligence of the people of Canada. Impatience with the spirit of sectionalism as the great enemy of our national development, is not a new thing in the Dominion; a sure instinct has kept public opinion steadily awake to its manifestations in any quarter. If Sir Wilfrid Laurier's attitude had been sectional in spirit, it is perfectly certain that he would never have been chosen, as he was by the English members of the Liberal party as their leader, and would have been declared disqualified long before this for the premiership of the country. As a French-Canadian, indeed, he has shared the best aspirations of his race, just as he has splendidly exemplified their noble qualities. But if any characteristic of his political career stands out more clearly than any other, it is surely this that from the begining onwards, he has deliberately followed, like Lafontaine and Cartier before him, the ideal of a united Canada, British in its political methods and aspirations. Can any sane man, indeed, acquainted with the facts, deny that it is just because he is not sectional that he is attacked in the province of Quebec today? What is the "lesson" that the Nationalist leaders talk of teaching him? Is it not this, that their narrow and reactionary provincialism is of more account in their eyes than the development of the Dominion as a whole? History will justify Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and the broad spirit and direction of his statesmanship, but in the meantime true Canadians of every nationality should uphold him, with redoubled energy, against the attacks of men who would, above all, overthrow his good work in the promotion of good will and mutual understanding between the races.

WATCH REPAIRS

Probably that watch of yours is not giving you proper satisfaction. You have had it in the repair shop, but, while it is running, will not run accurately. The reason for dissatisfaction is that the man who did the repairs is either incapable or doing good work or is not conscientious in his work, or, in all probability, he is gifted with both of the faults mentioned.

We have been fortunate in securing the services of a first class watchman who has taken charge of our watch repair work. A man who will tell you the truth in regard to the condition of your watch, and will repair it properly, and, as a consequence, it will not only run, but keep accurate time.

SPORTING NEWS

AUSTRALIANS DO NOT FAVOR CANADIAN LACROSSE VISIT

Melbourne Argus: There was quite a flutter in the lacrosse world at the receipt of a cable message from Vancouver, published in The Argus on Monday, as follows: "A suggestion has been made by Hugh D. McIntosh, the Australian sports promoter, that the New Westminster, British Columbia, lacrosse team, this year's champions, should make a tour of Australia. Lacrosse officials favor the idea. The first feeling was of surprise that no mention should have been made of the matter here. Then came regret that such a thing was not likely to come off. Nearly all the lacrosse in Canada now is professional, and most of those who were here three years ago with the Canadian team, who are still playing the game have "gone over." Thus it would cost £60 or £70 a week to pay the salaries of the men to Australia, without allowing for expenses. The time is not yet ripe for another Canadian visit, and a tour at present would mean financial failure.

Australasian: News of Hugh D. McIntosh is ever lacking. That hustling man has diverted his attention momentarily from J. Johnson to suggest that a lacrosse team from British Columbia should tour Australia. This should give good sport if Australian players thicken their skulls in time. The "game for thoroughbreds," as played in Canada, requires thoroughbreds of the hard-headed variety

The Meaning of "Soccer."

I heard a discussion the other day as to the origin of the term "socker" or "soccer," as applied to the game of association football.

Some one talked wildly about the wearing of socks in the game.

Socker is just Oxford slang for association football. At Oxford Rugby was and may be is called "Rugger" and association "socker." Writing for the Oxford Magazine was called doing a "mager" and the Oxford Union was called the "Ugger," while a certain college was known as "Jaggers."—New York Morning Telegraph.

A Woman Athlete.

A young girl, Miss Margaret A. Graham, nineteen years of age, and employed in one of the silk mills of Massachusetts, has developed into a wonderful athlete. Always a lover of outdoor sports, she has just made a new record for women by throwing a baseball 262 feet and six inches.

Standing six feet three and three-quarter inches in her stocking feet, and tipping the scales at 189 pounds, Miss Graham was born in Ludlow, Mass., and although employed as a mill operator, spends her leisure time in a local gymnasium

In skating swimming, tennis, basketball, and boxing, she has also made remarkable records.

One of her aquatic feats has been a one-hundred-foot swim in twenty-three seconds. In skating for women from one to ten miles her time for half a mile was one minute and forty seconds.

As a fancy skater Miss Graham has acquired much local fame, so that her appearance is always eagerly looked for.

In discussing her love of sports not long ago she confessed to have been early aroused to an interest in sports by watching boys play baseball. Once interested, though the pleasure derived rather drove out all thoughts of excelling the boys, and it was only as her physical development became so perfect that the natural inclination to excel once more took possession of her.

She is apparently very modest over her achievements, which have caused coaches and experts to wonder what her limit may be.

Plain, wholesome food she declares the proper sort to enable any girl to keep in good form, if a course of outdoor sports is followed

G. BERNARD SHAW IS BANNED IN NEW YORK

The Library Censors Do Not Approve of His Works on Moral Grounds.

Albany, Nov. 7.—The three or four capital employees of the New York State library department, who sit in judgment upon the lists of books desired by public libraries of the state applying for a state monetary grant, have barred the works and plays of George Bernard Shaw.

Thus the flickering flame of animosity that exists between library officials and committees in the United States and the great satirist is bursting out into another conflagration. A few years ago, it will be remembered, Bernard Shaw and his publishers had a mighty battle of words with the public libraries of New York City, which refused to purchase his books, on moral grounds. Now it is the New York State Library department that is entering the lists.

"G. B. S.," in a letter to a journalist of this city, states that he is just now conferring with his publishers, preparatory to putting up a stiff fight against the ban. He concludes with the laconic and typically Shawian remark: "Curious country, yours; tired of freedom!"

Appalling Inconsistencies.

State Librarian J. I. Wyer, acknowledged to the correspondent of The Star that the informal committee of employees which has to deal with the library list sent in from all parts of the State pass over Shaw's works "in favor of books that are better for the public."

Among others of these "better" books which special attention is drawn in a recent "office bulletin" are elementary works on "The Science and Practice of Cheese-Making," "Fowl-Raising," "The Cultivation of Sweet Pea," and some works of fiction, to the titles of which are appended brief summaries of contents, to guide the outlying libraries when the time comes for them to chose their books. Among these are, for instance, "The Inner Shrine—A Novel of To-day."

The summary gives the following salient details: "A young Frenchwoman, whose thoughtless flirtations have caused the ruin and death of her husband, comes to New York," etc.

"Chip, chip!" runs the summary, "deals with a woman-hating Englishman, dringing himself to death on a South African farm." "Margarita's Soul: The Romantic Recollections of a Man of Fifty," is another work which is recommended to the readers of New York state, while "Man and Superman" and "John Bull's Other Island" are banned.

The Editor's Snap.

Bob Lowery contributes the following: Every once in a while some cheerful individual remarks to us: "Well, now that the paper is out, I suppose that you can take it easy for three or four days." Yes, how delightful it is that a country editor has nothing to do between press days. Business runs along automatically. When paper bills become due money drops off the trees with which to pay them. Subscribers vie with each other to see who can pay the furtherest in advance. Advertisers beg for additional space. And the way the news hunts up the editor is also pleasant to contemplate. There is really something strange about the way news items act. When the paper is out the editor simply goes to his desk and leans back in his easy chair and looks wise and waits for next week's press day. The day before press day the people line up in front of the office door and then they file past the desk and tell him all the news of the week. He writes it up in fifteen or twenty minutes, takes it back and hangs it on the hook. The compositors take the copy and shake it over the type cases, say a few mystic words, the type flies into place, and after a few passes by the foreman the forms are ready for the press again. And the editor goes down and deposits some more money in the bank. It is the greatest snap in the catalogue. Now if the editor could only do away with press day his job would be complete.
