TWO ARE KILLED IN WRECK AT HALIFAX

Mixed Train Jumps Rails--Cars Fall Down Embankment and Catch Fire.

Halifax, N. S., Feb. 25.—Two passengers were killed and over a score injured in the wreck of the Halifax Southwestern mixed train yesterday evening.

The train jumped the track at German Junction, one passenger and four lumber cars falling down an embankment.

The cars, which overturned, caught fire, and the passengers were only rescued with the greatest difficulty. Many were pulled out of the blazing cars after the roofs had been chopped in with axes.

Progress Noted.

Yesterday the board of works committee, comprising Aldermen Campbell, Gray and Dodd with City Engineer Blackman, and Building Inspector Turnbull, made a general tour of inspection throughout the city and boundaries, taking in Pitt river, Port Moody, Burnaby, Vancouver (by way of Eighth and Twelfth streets) and Lulu island. The committee reported that much progress had been made since the previous visit and the various works and buildings are proceeding at a fast rate and with credit to all concerned.

PRIEST FELLS ROBBER OF CHURCH POORBOX

Equally Vigorous Sexton of St. Monica's Captures Second Fellow Accused of Thefts.

New York, Feb. 24.—Father William Jordan, of St. Monica's church, at 413 East Seventy-ninth street, believes he has captured the men who, for a few months have been robbing the poorboxes there.

For the last three weeks Father Jordan says he has noticed three men who entered the church afternoons at four o'clock apparently to pray. Their outward fervor was so great it seemed unnatural to the sharp-eyed priest. Besides after their departure on several days it was found the boxes had been looted.

Yesterday at 4:30 p.m. the priest saw two of the three men enter the church. He hurried to the home of the sexton, Hugh P. Connolly, at 1510 First avenue.

The two returned to the church, went to the rectory, stepped into the confessional and looked through. They could see the head of a man bending over a poor box. He was a big fellow.

Priest and sexton sprang. Father Jordan knocked down the "big fellow," who sprang up and grappled with the priest, but was subdued. The sexton had just as hard a battle, but he also won. Then Father Jordan and the sexton took both the captives to the police station.

At the annual banquet of the South African campaigners of B. C. to be held in the Dutch Grill, Vancouver, on March 9, the members from this city will assemble in full force and will take along as their special guest Captain Pittendrigh, who, by reason of his wonderful record as a soldier, in many parts of the world, deserves well of his fellow men. He is one of the fast narrowing ranks of those who wear the Alma, Inkermann, Balaclava and Sebastopol medals, in all of which engagements he was a member of the far famed 63rd. regiment. The campaigners who will sit down to dinner number 145 and it is pleasing to record the fact that the ranks have not been depleted since the celebrations last year.

About a dozen members of the association are expected to make the trip from this city to attend the yearly reunion.

ICE FLOE DRIFTS OUT TO SEA WITH 500 MEN

Russian Fishermen Carried Away on Immense Mass are in Grave Danger.

Rival, Russia, Feb. 25.—An immense ice floe detached itself from Levensari island, in the Gulf of Finland, yesterday afternoon and drifted out to sea.

Five hundred fishermen were on the ice at the time and not one of them managed to escape.

Every effort is being made to catch up with the floating mass and rescue the men from their melting prison.

The ice floe was lost to sight within a very short time after it slipped away from the land.

Leavenworth, Kas., Feb. 24.—Mrs. Carrie Nation, who has been under treatment in a hospital here for a month, is greatly improved in health, in spite of the fact that physicians recently gave up hope of her recovery. PRISONER ACCUSED OF PROGRESSIVE POLYGAMY

Man Describing Himself as German Engineer Said to Have Had Numerous Wives.

London, Feb. 24.—An alleged bigamist, who is said to have operated in the United States, is on trial here. The prisoner, Felix Franz Alfred Ogilvie, who described himself as a German engineer, is charged with a multiplicity of wives and with defrauding his victims of considerable money and jewelry.

Three alleged alliances have already been established. According to the evidence thus far introduced, the first of these were formed in San Francisco, where, on July 3, 1905, he is alleged to have married a widow named Louth.

In a more recent case it is asserted that he took his bride to a well known hotel, and on the day following their marriage drugged her and decamped with her jewels and cash.

To a third victim he is accused of having represented himself as an engineer employed by the Standard Oil company.

"AB SUK, AB SUK" IS CRY OF HUNGARIANS

Count Albert Apponyi is Unpopular Person With Chicago Socialists

Chicago, Feb. 24.—Differences of opinion as to what ought to be done with Hungary, turned Michigan avenue into a scene of uproar and riot last night after Count Albert Apponyi, the Hungarian statesman, had delivered an address to the united Hungarian societies in a music hall. The meeting itself was turned topsy turvy by a delegation of Hungarian Socialists and Slavs, who had distributed themselves in various parts of the house. They attempted to drown out the speaker, shouting defiance at the police and successfully opposed removal from the building. Outside the building were a thousand disappointed men and women who failed to gain admission to the hall.

When Count Appoyi left the building to go to his auto the crowd set up a jeering cry, "Ab Suk, Ab Suk," which was translated to mean, "down with him." A small band of Hungarian Socialists started the cry and then it was taken up by 600 voices.

Highwayman Is Dead.

2,500,000 CHINESE FACING STARVATION

Statement Issued in the East Tells Need of Relief in Kiang-Su and Anhui.

New York, Feb. 25.—Advices from China to the American Red Cross were made public at their offices here today.

That 2,500,000 Chinese will die for the want of food if assistance is not rendered immediately is the prediction in a statement made by the organization. This number comprises nearly the entire population of the northern part of the provinces of Kiang-Su and Anhui. The statement continues:

"The bubonic plague is creeping southward toward the famine district. It has ravaged Manchuria and thousands of refugees who have fled to Chee Foo, in Chang Tung province, have carried it there. Hundreds of deaths occur daily.

"The frozen ground prevents the burial of the dead and long rows of coffins lie on the roadside.

"American Consul General Alder Wilder, at Shanghai, cabled that people stricken with this plague die in a few hours. The people at last have consented to cremation and several thousand bodies have been burned.

"The plague is now only 150 miles from the provinces and if it ever reaches there the result will be appalling."

WEST END METHODISTS TO HAVE FINE NEW HOME

New Sixth Avenue Church Will Cost $12,000—Construction Work to Commence Immediately.

Twelve thousand dollars will be expended by the trustees of the Sixth avenue Methodist church on the new edifice to be started in the course of the next few days. At a conference of the authorities, H. M. Marshall was appointed foreman and agent to superintend the erection of the church which will be up-to-date in every respect and which will accommodate five hundred worshippers in the main sanctuary. A number of smaller anterooms will make provision for the holding of the various meetings which take place from time to time.

Mr. Hooper, of Vancouver, whose plans were adopted by the trustees, stipulates that cement blocks will be used throughout the structure and that folding doors, which will divide the larger rooms in the basement, may permit, on the occasion of some festival, of one large hall. Rev. F. S. Okell, the pastor, has, by the action of the trustees, carried out his wish to have his congregation housed in a building fitting the importance of the denomination.

WILL STRENGTHEN CANADA'S FORCES

General French's Recommendations in Official Report Will be Carried Out.

Ottawa, Feb. 24.—"We intend to carry out Sir John French's report so far as the whole force of Canada is concerned, perhaps not as rapidly as we would like, but not less rapidly than we have been progressing in this department in the past seven or eight years. The artillery will be increased to the strength it should have and the cavalry and infantry also. Necessary armament will be supplied as rapidly as possible and divisions made as the general's report suggested."

This announcement, made by Sir Frederick Borden, minister of militia and defence, to the annual meeting of the Canadian Artillery association in the committee rooms of the House of Commons yesterday afternoon, elicited prolonged cheers and enthusiasm from members. Sir Frederick said that the report had been eminently pleasant reading to him insofar as the artillery of Canada was concerned, and he thought should be very satisfactory to the militia as a whole.

General French had not considered in his report and had not been expected to do so, difficulties existing in Canada as regards the forming of regiments, the getting of officers and men, etc. He had been expected to report on the force as he found it, as a unit ready to take the field, and he had done so.

Contingent for Coronation.

Ottawa, Feb. 25.—The Canadian military contingent for the coronation will sail from Quebec on the Empress of Ireland on June 3, returning on June 30.

S. P. C. A. IS HOLDING ANNUAL MEETING TODAY

Friends of Dumb Animals Will Listen to Reports of Past Year's Work—Outside Delegates Coming.

The annual meeting of the provincial branch of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals will be held in the council chamber this afternoon, commencing at three o'clock.

Delegates from this city, Vancouver, Victoria, Nanaimo and other cities will be in attendance, but the session is in no wise limited to members of the society, it being the intention to invite the public with a view to creating a greater interest in the work which is being carried on by the small band of animal lovers who now form the S. P. C. A.

Provincial Secretary Gowan, of Vancouver, will be present, and will be called upon to read the reports of the various branches in the province. The most interesting of these will be the one dealing with a resolution passed in Vancouver some months ago, excluding women from active connection with that branch, it having been found that mistaken zeal often worked to the detriment of the society.

Death of George Hargreaves.

George Hargreaves, for twenty-one years a resident of this city, died yesterday morning, at the Royal Columbian hospital. The remains were taken to W. E. Fales' mortuary parlors. The funeral will be held on Sunday afternoon from the K. of P. hall, at half past two o'clock, under the auspices of L. O. L. 1593, from which lodge three pall bearers will be chosen, the other three being from the Lancashire Old Boys' association, deceased having been connected with these two bodies.

The late Mr. Hargreaves was about sixty-three years of age, a widower, his wife dying about twelve years ago. He leaves one son, Ewart, of Vancouver. For many years deceased was toll collector on the Fraser river bridge, and previous to his appointment followed the trade of a painter.

Canada's Trade Increasing.

The new building is to be large and well lighted, being equipped with a glass roof.

SIX HUNDRED MEN GO OUT ON STRIKE

Coal Workers at Frank, Alberta, are Idle -- Trouble May Affect Crows Nest.

Winnipeg, Feb. 25—Six hundred coal miners at Frank, Alta., yesterday evening threw down their tools and declared a strike.

It is feared the whole Crow's Nest district may be affected in a few days, as the controversy over the wages to be paid the men has reached a stage which apparently defies solution to the satisfaction of both parties.

The operators are ready for a bitter struggle, and the men are determined to secure the concessions they demand.

NEW REALTY FIRM.

F. B. Ennis and M. D. White Enter Partnership in Real Estate.

Trading under the name and style of the Westminster Realty company, with headquarters in the Trapp block, F. B. Ennis and M. D. White have entered into a partnership for the purpose of dealing in real estate, insurance, etc. The firm proposes making a specialty of Burnaby acreage.

Mr. Ennis was formerly in the building business in this city, while Mr. White has for some years been in the real estate business.

MAY DRIVE WALL STREET TO JERSEY OR HOBOKEN

Pending Legislation Causes Bulls and Bears to Look Around for a New Trading Location.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 24.—That the New York stock exchange will be driven over into Jersey City or Hoboken if certain legislation now pending here is passed, is the statement made to the state senate by John G. Millburn, counsel for the stock exchance. The bill particularly objected to is a sweeping one, prohibiting trading in stocks on a margin for speculative purposes. The bill aims to stop what are known as "Short sales."

The stock exchange maintains that it is impossible to distinguish speculative from investment accounts and that mature margin trading is not only legitimate, but it is the best method that can be devised for arranging a falling market and preventing panics.

In answer to a question as to whether he regarded such transactions as gambling, Mr. Millburn told the senate that in the same sense all business is gambling.

CLEARING SNOW IN EAST IS EXPENSIVE PROPOSITION

Montreal, Feb. 25.—The total cost of removing the snow from the streets this winter amounted to $100,000, half of which sum must be refunded to the corporation by the Montreal Street Railway company.

Fifty thousand dollars has been expended on this work during the past three weeks.

Post Office Employees Will Receive Higher Pay in Future

Ottawa, Feb. 25.—Postmaster General Rudolphe Lemieux announces that a new issue of Canadian stamps, in honor of the coronation, will be offered for sale within a few weeks. The design is now being drawn up in England.

An official announcement has also been made that substantial salary increases are to be granted to mail clerks, mail carriers, sorters and stampers.

The date when the increased pay will go into effect is not stated, but it is understood that there will be no delay.

ALL PRAIRIE HOMESTEADS HAVE NOW BEEN TAKEN UP

Twenty Million Acres of Government Lands Pre-empted and Proved Upon in Last Two Years.

Montreal, Feb. 24.—F. T. Griffin, C. P. R. land commissioner at Winnipeg, who is on a visit to the headquarters in Montreal, states that within the last two years 20,000,000 acres of government lands have been taken up as homesteads and pre-emptions.

The result is that the last block of open prairie lands in the west available for homestead entry and pre-emption has now been practically taken up and future homesteaders will have to resort to the partially wooded lands of the northern and outlying districts or will have to purchase from the railway companies and other holders. This is bound to mean a further increase in the value of the land.

Funeral of Mrs. W. B. Townsend.

The funeral of the late Mrs. W. B. Townsend, relict of ex-Mayor Townsend, who occupied the chief magistrate's chair of this city fifteen years ago, was held here yesterday afternoon and though the ranks of friendship circles had diminished in the long period elapsing in the interval, there were many present from Westminster at the obsequies, whilst the mourners from Vancouver, where Mrs. Townsend had resided since the demise of her husband, were representative.

Canon d'Easum, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Chadwick, St. Paul's, Vancouver, conducted the services which were of an impressive nature, both at Holy Trinity cathedral and at the graveside.

The pall bearers were James Harvey, T. J. Armstrong, C. G. Major, T. Gray, H. Morey and W. T. Cooksley. The floral offerings were many, those who sent flowers being: Gladys and Anthony, sheaf; Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong, Mr. and Miss J. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Cooksley, Mrs. Edward Phillips and family, Mr. and Mrs. White and Edith, Mr. and Mrs. K. L. Burnett, Ida L. Marshall, William Tomlinson, Mrs. E. S. Scouller, Mrs. W. A. Munro, Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Farish, James Wise and family, Mrs. Dickson and family, Margaret and Toddy Tisdale, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Townsend, sprays.

"Citizen" Points to Need of Greater Care in Sanitation

The necessity of exercizing care in connection with the present outbreak of bubonic plague in China, even though this country is thousands of miles away, and which was pointed out in an article in the Daily News yesterday morning, is further borne out by the following letter, written by a citizen who has had considerable experience with epidemics in the past:

Editor Daily News:

Sir,—Some weeks ago the public was thrown into an excited state by the announcement that smallpox had broken out in several of the smaller towns in the district, and within certain limits such excitement was justified. Without wishing for a moment to be in anywise hysterical, I think the announcement contained in your paper this morning is one of grave import and deeply concerns the public safety and that therefore steps should immediately be taken to have all letters and packages coming from China by mail, express or freight thoroughly fumigated and disinfected as otherwise, while living in a state of fancied security from the dread bubonic plague, which is killing thousands daily in China, we may at any moment, owing to the arrival of infected mail or goods have this terrible disease gaining a foothold among us. To any one who is acquainted with the awful ravages that this dread pestilence has caused in India, this is a matter of the gravest importance and no steps can be too stringent to guard the public health from the importation of the plague into our country. We learn, that the plague has already spread into Russia, so the danger is by no means an imaginary one, and let me here say, that, not alone should disinfection of all mail, goods and persons coming from China be carried out carefully, but furthermore all our cities and towns should be carefully examined and all uncleanliness removed therefrom. Right in our city here there are, I understand, a number of residences, etc., the back yards and sanitary departments of which are in an uncleanly condition and the sanitary arrangements of many of these houses are of such an antiquated and obsolete character that it is practically impossible to keep them in that condition of cleanliness, which is one of the best antidotes to the spread of diseases to which class the bubonic plague undoubtedly belongs. I therefore venture to suggest that the municipal councils throughout the province in general, and our own council in particular ought to, without delay, take up this matter and put their houses, so to speak, in order so that we may not offer a congenial resting place for the plague should it unfortunately come. In this direction it appears to me that a house to house inspection of every house in our city should be forthwith instituted and all due measures taken, where required, to have strict cleanliness and proper sanitation enforced.

To some I may appear as an alarmist, but would say that in justification of my calling attention to this matter that having had actual experience of what fearful ravages Asiatic cholera can inflict, I feel it my duty to raise a warning voice in time.

All lovers of the classic "Cranford" have a treat in store for them next Tuesday evening when an adaptation in three acts of Mrs. Gadskell's story will be given in St. Patrick's hall by Miss Lillian Burns and members of the Browning club. It was given last spring at the residence of Dr. Drew and was so thoroughly enjoyed by all present that the club has been asked to repeat it in a large place where all who wish may enjoy it. The members taking part in the play are Mrs. T. R. Pearson, Miss Burns, Miss Ethel Dauphinee, Miss Drew, Miss Laura Watson, Miss Laidlaw, the Misses Briggs, Miss Villa Hall and Mr. Angus McColl. The first part of the program will comprise some very entertaining readings by Miss Burns, the numbers being "The Happy Prince," by Oscar Wilde, with incidental music by Liza Lehmann, Mrs. Pearson at the piano.

A very happy wind-up to an unusually gay week was the dance given in St. Patrick's hall on Friday evening by Dr. and Miss DeWolf Smith. The guests were received at the entrance to the hall, Miss Smith wearing a most becoming mauve satin gown. The stage was profusely decorated with palms and cut flowers and afforded a most pleasant place to sit for those who did not care to dance. Rushton's orchestra furnished the music in their usual manner, each number being brightly rendered. Supper was served at twelve o'clock, the table being bright with candles and flowers. Dancing was enjoyed until an early hour and the guests all pronounced it one of the jolliest dances of the season. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Corbould, Mr. and Mrs. Charleson, Mr. and Mrs. Gracey, Mr. and Mrs. James Brymner, Mrs. McColl, Mr. and Mrs. McAllister, Mr. and Mrs. Brydges, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. A most enjoyable progressive euchre was given by Mrs. Charleson on Tuesday afternoon when eleven tables were arranged. The hostess was assisted in receiving by her sisters, Mrs. Yuengling and Mrs. Collins (Vancouver). Others helping at the tea hour were Mrs. Brydges, Miss DeWolf Smith, Miss Josephine Martin, Miss Muriel Cotton, Miss Alma Lewis and Miss Vida Leamy. Mrs. J. R. IN A BRIDE'S HONOR.

The Misses Leamy entertained for Miss Cotton on Monday afternoon at a tea and shower, the bride receiving many very beautiful handkerchiefs from each guest present. Mrs. J. H. Diamond and Mrs. E. N. Sutherland presided at the tea table, which was brightly decorated with daffodils. The guests included Mrs. J. H. Jones, Mrs. Yuengling, Mrs. G. Bruce Corbould, Mrs. Ardagh, Mrs. Doherty, Mrs. Doyle, Miss Corbould, Miss Perdue (Winnipeg), Miss Muriel Cotton, Miss Nora Armstrong, the Misses Lewis, the Misses Brown, Miss MacGowan, Miss Peele, Miss Josephine Martin, Miss DeWolf Smith, the Misses Briggs and Miss Keary.

Miss Josephine Martin gave a bright tea and miscellaneous shower on Thursday afternoon for Miss Cotton and her friends. There was much excitement over a geographical contest, Miss Briggs being the lucky winner of the highest score. Mrs. Coulthard carried off the consolation prize. The tea table was laid in the dining room and was centred by a great cluster of red carnations and asparagus fern. Pouring tea and coffee were Mrs. Ardagh and Mrs. Sutherland. The invitations included Mrs. Bole, Mrs. Malins, Mrs. Coulthard, Mrs. Doyle, Mrs. Doherty, Mrs. Eddy, Mrs. Ackney, Mrs. Diamond, Mrs. Ardagh, Mrs. Brydges, Mrs. Sutherland, Mrs. Gracey, Mrs. Rant, Mrs. Latham, Mrs. Marshall English, Mrs. Bruce Corbould, Mrs. Cambie, Miss Cotton, Miss M. Tuesday evening Mrs. G. E. Corbould and Miss Corbould gave one of the jolliest events of the week for Miss Cotton and Mr. Russell. Military euchre was played, Italy finally winning the most flags. The players at this table were Mrs. Collins (Vancouver), Miss Briggs, Miss Alma Lewis, Mrs. Marshall English, Mr. Shannon and Mr. McColl. England was poorly defended, receiving the fewest flags. At this table were Mrs. Brydges, Mrs. Ardagh, Miss Cotton, Mr. Russell, Mr. Diamond and Mr. Cornwall. Fighting for the different countries caused keen excitement and was most enjoyable. After a very

Tea Time Talks

The Healthfulness of Tea

Physicians who often forbid the use of Coffee and Cocoa to the well, prescribe tea for the sick. Of the three, tea is the only beverage that can be drunk for a lifetime without injurious effects. It is a harmless tonic—a gentle stimulant without reaction.

As tea is the most desirable beverage, so "Salada" is tea in its most desirable form.

"Salada" Ceylon Tea comes from tea plant to tea pot untouched by human hands, from the time the leaves fall into the picker's baskets. Its delicate aroma and delicious flavor are perfectly preserved in sealed, air-tight packages.

Yearly Sales Over 20,000,000 Packages

Ask your grocer for "Salada" Tea or send for a free trial package which makes 25 cups of delicious tea. We will mail it to you without charge. Say whether you use Black, Mixed or Green Tea and the price you pay per pound.

FIVE THOUSAND WIVES WANTED IN THE WEST

Canadian Northern Steamships is to Carry Officer Known as "Ship's Mother

Thomas Howell arrived from Canada a few days ago in search of 5000 wives for the single farmers and mechanics of the great northwest, says a London, England, despatch in the New York Herald. This Canadian "Davvy," continues the Herald, speaking for army of "Barkises," says the English lassies will have the choice of 50,000 bachelors, 30,000 of whom own their farms and the rest of whom are mechanics and artisans in the smaller towns.

Mr. Howell, by the way, makes the interesting announcement that as a result of his marriage mission the Canadian Northern steamships will in future carry a woman officer, who will be known as the "ship's mother." She will take orders direct from the captain and rank next to him. A special uniform is being designed for her with three gold braid rings on her sleeves in the approved naval style. She will take her meals in the saloon at the captain's table and be in command of her own staff of assistants.

The women who will fill these positions have already been chosen, and their names have been submitted for the approval of the National Council of Canadian Women.

The duty of the "ship's mother" will be to see to everything affecting the comfort and well being of the women passengers. She will have the fullest powers and be entitled to enter any woman's cabin at any hour of the day or night.

Fred Salter, European manager of the Grand Trunk railway, says: "Western Canada is full of men who are willing to become the best husbands English girls could wish for. These men are a fine type, many of them college bred. English girls must not think that the Canadian farmer is a big, red-shirted, bearded man, with beetling brows, and whose clothes bristle with bowie knives and revolvers. On the contrary, they are decent, hard-working, thrifty, ambitious and the best physical specimens in the world."

"It is hard to understand why Canadians must come so far afield for wives when there are hundreds of thousands of bright, beautiful American girls, full of life and intelligence, in the manufacturing centers of the United States, all waiting to be asked by these Canadian Barkises," comments the Herald, "The only conclusion that can be drawn is that this is another development of the 'imperial preference' policy. What ho!"

EARNING THEIR $3500.

It is certainly strange, if not amusing, that the Columbian should have waited for nearly a month after the order for compulsory vaccination was launched from Victoria, until the quarantine has been a fortnight or so removed, and until the whole question of vaccination has become a dead letter, to voice its opinion upon this subject, and therewith to deliver a kind of parental rebuke to its contemporaries who spoke in opposition to the hysterical action of the government. If the Columbian had had something of this kind to say and had said it three weeks ago, when vaccination was a live question, there might have been sense in its action. The reason for its coming forward in this way at this late period, when the whole subject is dead and practically forgotten, might be puzzling if it were not apparent that this is one of the ways in which the Columbian has to earn the pap represented at present as far as we know by at least the sum of $3500.00, with which it is fed by the provincial government.

CARELESS BLASTING.

The serious injuries sustained by the little girl, Elsie Gieschen, the other day, in consequence of the gross carelessness of some person or persons in conducting blasting operations on Twenty-second street, is, unfortunately, not the first accident of the kind which has occurred in this city. Though the infliction of personal injuries such as were sustained in this particular case are not of frequent occurence, many mishaps of a more or less serious character due to careless blasting have come to our knowledge. We heard of quite a number of cases in which pieces of rock or roots have been hurled through the roofs of houses, in some cases the occupants only escaping injury by the barest chance.

The whole trouble arises from the fact that this very dangerous operation is all too commonly performed by irresponsible and incompetent persons. It is time that some regulations were made and enforced in regard to the carrying on of this work, both in the city and the outlying districts, so that it may be properly controlled. Such regulations exist, we believe, in Vancouver city, and by their means several offenders have been brought to justice, whilst more frequent accidents have undoubtedly been prevented. There is no reason why the people of this district should not be similarly protected, and we hope the council and the municipal authorities will take this matter under early consideration.

THE ANNEXATION ALARM.

There can be no room for any further alarm that the proposed reciprocity arrangement with the United States will result in annexation. Parliament has now unanimously passed a resolution emphatically affirming its determination to preserve intact the bonds which unite Canada to the British empire, and the full liberty of Canada to control her fiscal policy and internal autonomy. Though there has been a good deal of talk about the annexation danger during the past few days, it is very doubtful if any number of Canadians regarded the idea seriously. Indeed the most likely people to make a stir about this were, as Hon. W. S. Fielding remarked on Wednesday, in the House of Commons, those who are opposing reciprocity.

It can be said with perfect assurance that Canadians as a whole, are far too loyal in spirit and too deeply sensible of their indebtedness to Great Britain to entertain any such idea as that of allowing their beloved land to become merged in the commonwealth of the United States. An altogether foolish importance has been given to the assertions of two or three members of the congress in regard to annexation. These must have been more in the nature of random shots than words charged with serious intent, for no one who has taken the pains to make himself acquainted with the spirit which pervades both the Canadian and British peoples respecting the sanctity of the empire could for one moment entertain the idea that anything savoring of the absorption of Canada by the United States is at all possible.

MARKET REPORT

Supply and demand, combined with the decision of the local hens to lay a greater number of eggs, was responsible for a slump on this commodity yesterday at the city market. When the hen fruit was at low ebb special consignments came in from Huntingdon and it looked for a brief period that the price would still drop, but the buyers were satisfied that enough damage—to the dealers at any rate—had been done for the day and the market closed at 40 cents, a decrease of five, and in many cases ten, cents from the figures of the previous week.

As against the over supply of eggs, meat was at commencement weak, and though the stock looked capable of meeting all requirements, as the morning progressed it was plain that meats would command the same prices as obtained last week, and this conjecture proved correct in many instances. Pork and veal bought at a slight decrease, but so trivial as to occasion no comment.

Northern Spies led the apple market and the showing made by this specie was a grand one. Top price obtained was $1.40 per box, a high price at this time of the season.

Poultry was at starting, weak, but time wrought the change, not, however, before the fortunate dealers who appeared on the scene betimes had done a prosperous morning's work. A big change came over the prices when the supply was supplemented by a lot which had the effect of lowering the previous high prices obtaining. Taken on the average, the birds fetched $13 a dozen.

The supply of general vegetables was not in excess of the demand at any time and as a result prices ruled high. Turnips, carrots, onions and potatoes were at all times strong in the money sense of the term, potatoes in particular fetching as high as $1.75 per sack.

Fish was brisk from start to finish, catches registered by the Japanese mongers calling for and receiving a big share of the market.

The auctioneers in the live stock department exerted themselves in vain to bring good figures from the buyers, as in the first place the stock was not of a startling nature and in the second, the prospective buyers were absent.

R. A. WILSON'S VIEWS AND COMMENTS ON CURRENT EVENTS IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

Boxing Referee of International Fame, Now Attached to Daily News Staff, Makes Caustic Comments on Laws Governing Glove Contests in Canada.--Bob's Strong on Billiards, Knows Nothing of Bowling, But He's Willing to Learn.

A FOREWORD.

Robert A. Wilson, who has joined the staff of the Daily News, will contribute a sporting page once a week, from time to time, as occasion demands, give his impressions and opinions in these columns. Wilson is one of the best known sporting writers of London, England, and as a boxing referee has a big reputation in the old country. In the twelve months prior to his leaving the world's capital, he had refereed 684 contests, many of these being international importance, including national amateur championships. In the United States, east, middle west and on the Pacific slopes, he has repeatedly been the third man in the ring, being the first Britisher to render decisions in California, Texas and Oregon. As he writes under his name, the Daily News takes no responsibility for the opinions expressed. Criticisms are invited.

READER, have you ever been discovered? When three months ago a medical man told me in Oregon to lay aside my pen for a lengthy period and forget all about newspaper work, owing to a breakdown in health, he did not know his patient, and though I have faithfully, almost religiously, followed the medico's orders, the time has been hanging heavily on my hands, until now when I feel that I want to be up and doing. I had not been in Westminster three days when I was "discovered" by a Canadian passing through this city and who recognized me as the referee in some contest or other which took place in California many months ago. This calls to mind a like incident during the training stunts of Jim Jeffries at Rowardennan, in the glorious Santa Cruz mountains. A bunch of scribes were out one day looking for "copy," which by the way, was never very hard to find during that memorable period, and in a lonely spot, we chanced on a party of hunters, one of whom "discovered" me after a lapse of five years, as the referee of that famous boxing rendezvous, Wonderland, London. In Jack Johnson's home town, Galveston, Texas, the same thing occurred, the "discoverer" on this occasion being one of Frank Slavin's backers, when that old-time champion was in the old country—and that's, well, just a few years ago, isn't it?

EVERYWHERE I have been in the United States, and I have covered very many thousands of miles since leaving the dear old Strand, boxing has been invariably the subject I went after and my quests have taken me into some queer parts of Uncle Sam's domain. It, therefore, seems strange after having for so many years been intimately mixed up with the grand game of self-defence to get dumped down in a city that has put the lid down tightly on the noble art. I had heard many miles from here, that Westminster was a great centre for the sport, but on my arrival I find that if you want to discuss the mitt-pushing business, you have to secret yourself in a room, fill in all cracks and crevices, extinguish the lights and then whisper the doings of the squared ring otherwise the police will get wise, around the aforesaid room and make some glorious captures. This is, of course, a little bit wide of the mark, but, honestly, I have never struck a town in my travels where the powers that be look with such deep disgust—yes, that's the right word—as Westminster. In Astoria, Oregon, the boys in blue, too, were against the game, but I showed that a boxing contest—NOT fight—could be as easily handled and brought to a pleasing conclusion as that appertaining to any other branch of sport. I, in the city, referred four Pacific coast professional championships and each passed off without a hitch. It was only when the promoters thought they saw easy and shady money that I put a stop to it, and I am told that now the sport is in a bad way in that Oregon town over which the dear old Union Jack once fluttered. Only once was there any kind of a disturbance, and that, when the sheriff, or some other big nobody, requested me to stop a bout on the grounds of a man being exhausted, but as I afterwards found out because this official had backed the man who was, at that stage of the game, behind on points. The funny part about the whole thing was that the sheriff's man eventually won, but that public servant has never been known to divulge the information which I whispered to him on the quiet. Whilst the police have not given it out as an excuse for prohibiting the sport in this part of the world, I have been told semi-officially that the noise created by the onlookers has gone a long way to put a stop to the boxing bouts. What a shame! Fancy spectators shouting their words of encouragement to the respective opponents. Of course, no one ever shouts at a baseball or lacrosse match, do they? Of course not. It would be well to supply mouth guards for all spectators at future matches so that a breach of the peace may not be incurred.

AFTER having sat up o' nights reading, analyzing and digesting the laws as laid down by the Canadian authorities for the prevention of contests with the fists, I must confess to be still floundering on a sea of dispair. The fault, to my mind, seems to lie at the door of the press, and I will explain my reasons for this apparently strange judgement. Pick up any journal published in the Dominion, glance down the boxing "dope" and I am willing to bet a box of Solo Specials against a bag of peanuts that you will find every BOXING BOUT referred to as a FIGHT. If the writers would do as we in the old country and write of these as BOXING BOUTS or CONTESTS, there would be, I make bold to say, less heard from the police and perhaps no interference from those who seem to take a delight in killing a sport which has held sway through all those years and which is at this time at the height of its popularity.

DENY a full-blooded man anything which he feels and knows he is entitled to have and he's going to get it by hook or by crook. That's the way I have always found it. Many years ago in Scotland—in guid auld Glesa' to be precise—the police put the bar upon the boxing game and what was the result? Hole and corner bouts, but classy ones at that. I have travelled miles under cover of the night to attend a match in that city and write up the copy for the following morning's paper, and the boys in blue were not next until they read the reports in the sheet—and then the air was blue. Hailed before the long since dead Baillie Jeemes Martin for aiding and abetting in an affair of this kind—I held the watch—I was soundly roasted for taking part in a "prize fight" according to the charge, but I had even then nerve enough to tell the bench that it was not a fight, but a boxing contest, and after a conviction the appeal to a higher tribunal turned the tables on the lower courts, and now look at Scottish boxing. Officially recognized clubs and the sport in a better condition than ever before. A little over fifteen months when I travelled to Edinburgh from London to referee the amateur championships, the city council of Auld Reekie granted permission for the meeting to be held in the Synod hall, a building which was specially built for church conventions! And so, if that is what the canny Scots, the wide-awake northerners can do why cannot the people of this new country of Canada? Honestly I believe from what I have learned in this city the Canadians want boxing, and as the Canadian criminal law digest does not say that we cannot have these sporting events, the time is I think ripe to test the point.

EVERY penalty it is possible to inflict upon a man who attends a "prize fight" in this Dominion has been included in the penal code and nothing short of hanging has been omitted. Just let us look for a moment at the exact wording and see where we're at: "A prize fight means an encounter or fight with fists or hands, between two persons who have met for such purpose, made by or for them." And again: "An exhibition of fighting with fists or hands, to witness which an admission fee is charged to the public and at which it is announced that the stake money will go to the contestant who knocks out his opponent in a stipulated number of rounds is a prize fight within sec. 92 of the criminal code. Such an exhibition made for gain must be viewed as it appeared or was intended to appear to the public and it is no defence that the participants had merely feigned to fight." Let's now turn to section 105 and this will put our case on a better footing. This reads as follows: "A sparring match with gloves under Queensberry, or similar rules, given merely as an exhibition of skill and without any intention to fight until one is incapacitated by injury or exhaustion is not a prize fight; to constitute a prize fight there must have been a previous arrangement for a fight in the ordinary sense of the word and that involves an intention to continue the encounter until one or the other gave in from exhaustion or from injuries received."

READER, having waded through the above, given word for word from the accepted authority, what do you think of the whole thing? I am safe in saying, taking the whole affair as it presents itself, that the police will have to present a very strong case ere they can prove a conviction in any part of the country. In the first place no boxer nowadays goes into a contest where the number of rounds are not clearly defined. In the olden times when Tom Cribb, Jem Mace, Tom Spring and others of that ilk fought until one or the other mixed matters and was beaten to a jelly it was different. Then, there were no Queensberry rules, the "scraps" being guided by the London prize ring code, which permitted almost any old thing. I would be at one with any government prohibiting a bout of this nature, but coming right down to the present time, the contests are without exception carried on with decorum and everything done to carry out the instructions of no less an authority than the late Lord Chief Justice Hawkin's ruling and which is a precedent, that "a boxing contest if conducted with regulation gloves and over a prescribed number of frounds is legal." This dictum, delivered to a crowded court, and at which this writer was a listener has stood the test for many years over the "herring pond" despite almost countless attempts to break it down.

GRANTED that the laws of Canada do prohibit "contests with the fists," why are the authorities so lax in their duties? This question is asked in all seriousness, as I have been reading in newspapers from the eastern provinces of bouts taking place there for large sums of money and in a few days time an international contest is scheduled for Stewart which I believe is also in this part of the globe. It is a joke when time is wasted framing laws and money spent employing judges who hand down decisions which are not carried into effect. In the United States it is a different proposition, as each state has its own laws in which the government as a body does not move.

EVERY one who admires good, clean sport cannot deny that the profession of boxing is a manly one, calling for all that is best in a participant. Think for a brief moment of the training necessary ere a youth takes part in a bout from which he cannot expect to emerge unless he is in the pink of condition. For over seven weeks I was attached to the reporting staff at Jeffries' camp, prior to the Reno engagement, and I would have liked had the framers of Canadian laws been there with us to see what the entry into a boxing bout really meant. I am not at this late hour going into the condition or want of condition of the "hope of the white race"—by permission of the U. S. A. press—but had my readers seen Jeff when I introduced him at the National Sporting club in London five months prior to his starting in on a serious grind, it is safe to say that he would not have been recognized as the same man. This as a preface to the statement that a boxer has to be strong of mind and body; stronger than in any other branch of sport. Prejudiced people, and I have met a few, tell you that it is the crowd that follows the boxing game that gives it the "black eye," but I agree to differ, to use an Irishism. Come with me to my boxing haunts in the old country and see the swarms which congregate to witness a "go" with the gloves. 'Tis true that boxing bouts are not church conventions, and therefore, we must not be as silent as mice, but at the chief places where the game holds sway in England order is more so than disorder.

TAKE any sporting crowd; did you ever see it quiet and still? If so, I for one, do not want to see that branch of athletics. The whole thing resolves itself into the question, "does the law of Canada permit BOXING CONTESTS? There is so far as I have been able to find; no mention made of the matter and if the bouts are controlled by the Queensberry rules there is nothing to stop a contest over a certain number of rounds being engaged in. Well might the sport lovers ask "please, may we be allowed to breathe?"

BOXING, although my strong suit, does not always take the chief place, and the game of my boyhood, football, is, I am pleased to know, in a fair way to make a name for itself in Westminster. Ruptures have been open, however, and this is not good for any game. With the Rangers, Sapperton, High School and City teams in the local league race things are looking up, but methinks that Sapperton will be the winners of the exhibition trophy when the curtain rolls down on the scene of the session 1911. And by the bye, Sapperton officials tell me that as the result of the challenge in this paper last Monday that the Rangers were willing to bet all kinds of things on the length of Sapperton's playing pitch, the players of the former organization are ready to accept the extravagant wagers at any time. Measurements taking during this week by those who know their business, show that the layers of the bet are liable to lose out, as the enclosure is 130 yards in length and 80 yards in width. Now, then, Rangers, what's your answer?

UNLESS something unforeseen happens, the special meeting of the B. C. A. L. A. scheduled for next Tuesday evening at the Vancouver hotel, will help clear the decks for what gives promise of being a hard and at the same time brilliant season. The supposed invitation from the east to the Salmon Bellies has not materialized, and in any case it would have proved abortive as we cannot loan our boys to the east for exhibition matches. If after the season proper has run its course, the invite should come through, then the subject might be considered, but as the wise men will be out here to capture the championship (I do not think), the Westminster boys will not be required to make the long journey. That the Easterners are sorely in need of expositions from this city's team I have no doubt, but they, the aforementioned Easterners will have to come here for the lessons, or bide a wee.

SAM LANGFORD, British subject, and better known to fame as the Boston Tar Baby, gave out to the pressmen at the finish of his contest with that Australian joke boxer, Bill Lang, that he was now going after Jack Johnson for the title. Having seen Langford in action on four different occasions and being a personal friend of the sawed-off black, I would prefer to take the report of Sam's intentions with the proverbial grain of salt. There is no question that he is a wonderful ring exponent, but when he talks about butting into his taller black "brudder" he sure is out looking for trouble. For his size, the Nova Scotian is a holy terror, but against Lil' Arty it would be a case of "Morning, nurse; tell me how it all happened." By the defeat of Lang, we have doubtless heard the last of the colonial, and no one who follows the game for its good points will regret the "back to the woods" sign which he now displays. What Lang ever knew about boxing science he forgot before he made a public appearance, and he is a lucky fellow to get away with a bunch of money as the loser's end. It would be a good idea if those at the top of the fistic tree introduced some rule as an addition to the Queensberry set which would put a stop to the paying the losers end of the purse when that loser fouled his opponent. This would be for the good of the game, and eliminate from the field all those lemons who get a show and then foul a genuine tryer after six brief rounds. Talk about easy money!

YEARS ago, to foul an opponent did not, as it does now, call for immediate disqualification and it is not so very long ago that on the occasion of the international contest in London between Battling La Croix, the French champion, and Matt Wells, the British champion, I got into the bad graces of a big crowd for ruling the Frenchman out, as he struck the Englishman whilst the latter was on the ground. A London boxing spectatorate is mighty hard to satisfy and terms of anything but endearment were hurled at me for the stand which I took on that occasion. The onlookers would not stand for me refereeing the ensuing bout, and called my good friend Eugene Corri, who was in the house. This the management would not stand for. I was a paid official and I had to carry out my agreement. Just when everything looked blackest, R. P. Watson, one of England's greatest authorities on matters fistic, jumped into the ring and explained that he some years previous had been responsible for the introduction into the rules of the clause dealing with the disqualification for a blow, whether intentional or otherwise, when a man was down. This at once appeased the mob, and as they say in the fairy books, "we lived happy ever afterwards." No sir, it's no joke being the third man in the ring, and especially, when, as happened in California to me, one of the boxers mistakes you for his opponent and catches you just about where the last button on your waistcoat is fixed. Oh, joy!

ANYONE who does not bowl is a "mutt." This was thrown at me in the alleys last night. There's a great deal of truth in the statement. I am a believer in the strenuous life that Roosevelt speaks about, and although I have never handled a bowl in my life, with the exception of that kind containing porridge or soup, the day is not far distant when I am going to clean up the local brigade and without the permission of the aforesaid brigade, either. The play I have witnessed since striking this city has to say the least of it, surprised me, and to be an expert player I should think a youth must have plenty of strength and nerve. I have been told that something else is required, but that as Rud. Kip. has it, is another story. The scheme to send a team to Spokane for the big meet next month and which was outlined in this paper, is a grand one, and deserves every support. Should representatives travel to the Washington city I can assure them of a hearty welcome and a glorious time. The sportsmen of that city are genuine live wires.

NOWADAYS billiards is regarded as part of a young man's education and one of the first thing I did when I blew into Westminster was to find just what sort of provision was made for the devotees of the green cloth. Need I say that I was agreeably surprised not only to see that the pastime had a good standing, but that the exponents were in a class much higher than I would have placed them. A famous divine once said "show me a young man who excels at billiards and I will show you one who has destroyed his useful time." Noble words to fall from the mouth of a man who was supposed to know better, were they not? I hold with the bylaw of this city which has just come into operation and which prohibits those under a certain age from frequenting pool or billiard rooms, and I think that the proprietors of the places will agree that the introduction of this clause is the right thing. Bert Fletcher has done much to put the game on a strong footing here and he deserves every encouragement from those who take up the ivory (for that matter of it composition) ball game. As a relaxation from the day's labor, there is nothing better, and with good clean management the pastime is one that has every good feature. If you can show me a wreck of a man who is no good to himself or to anybody else, and that condition has been brought about by his proficency at the game of billiards or the time spent, I will give in and say "close down these places," but like the man from Missouri, you've got to show me. Billiard requires nerve, clear eyesight, a steady hand and other attributes which a ne'er do well has not only not got, but never could get. Now then, detractors, answer that.

HURRAH for the greatest press agent boxer in the world, Battling Nelson! There were many at the ring side in San Francisco, when Owen Moran, the nifty Britisher, whipped the Dane, and it is safe to say that the onlookers at the conclusion were in a mixed frame of mind by the result. It is never at any time a pleasing sight to see a straight chap like Bat has always proved himself to be, taking the long count signalizing defeat, but Nelson, the greatest worrying persistent boxer who ever stepped into a ring, will come back; of that I have no fear. I do not say that he will be the champion of the world again, as there are many who have a prior claim with Ad Wolgast and Moran, but there is not a man in the business today who can relegate Nelson to the "has-beens," with the possible exception of Moran. Wolgast couldn't; no, not if he carried a horseshoe inside his glove for good luck. I have always thought and given expression to that thought, that when at Point Richmond last February, second-rater Wolgast met Nelson, it was the latter's day indoors. Take any branch of sport, be it football, baseball, swimming, you will find that the erstwhile leader does go off form temporarily, and so it was with the Dane at that time. Although the decision will always go down to Walgast as a win by the knockout route, Bat reminded me at Reno that he wasn't knocked out. Referee Eddie Smith stopped the contest at a time when Nelson looked all in, but one has to remember that in previous contests he has come back when the signs of being on the goodbye road looked like flying. Just what might have happened had Smith not called Ad Wolgast off, will, of course, never be known. This is one of those things you can argue out from now until doomsday and never advance a theory sufficiently strong to beat down an argument. Smith is without question the most capable referee in the United States today, and I've seen them all. When it is remembered that Nelson would not enter the ring unless Smith was the third man, it is a fairly sound argument that he gave a fair deal, but—there always will be a doubt. From cables to hand, Nelson is supposed to have told a newspaperman in good old Detroit that "One-Round" Hogan, of San Francisco will be the next lightweight champion of the world. If this statement did come from the Battler then I am inclined to think that he must be "bats in the belfry," as Hogan is about the poorest sample of a ring master I ever saw. I hope the day is far distant when Hogan is proclaimed a champion. He is a rough and tumble merchant, with no semblance to science, and if he should get to the top of the ladder, it will be by a display of strength and not those attributes which have gone to make the boxing game the grand sport it is at this time. What Moran with his straight lefts and hooked rights would not do to the native son of the Golden West would be a shame. Do not think I am standing up for the Englishman just because he is an Englishman. I have been with so many different nationalities as third man in the squared ring that nations cut no ice with me when it comes to a showdown. I have often been asked which contests I prefer to rule over, and without hestitation I lean to the "coon bunch." I have always found that a colored boxer will carry or at least endeavor to carry out the referee's instructions more so than his white opponent. Look at the past men of color and take at random, Peter Jackson, Bobby Dobbs, Frank Craig, George Dixon. Did you ever hear of either of those being cautioned time and time again for tactics which were questionable. A newspaper man and especially one who incorporates his profession with that of referring must have no nation. All must in the words of the old song, "look alike to him." Otherwise he cannot be depended upon to give either a fair report of a just decision. I remember some years ago on the occasion of an important contest in Paris, the ruling official in a long-distance bout gave his verdict to a white man over a "gemmen of color" and the winner in the opinion of those qualified to judge was streets behind on points, so much so that the result was a foregone conclusion. At that time the Parisians were not so well posted on the finer points of the sport as they are now and the referee got away with his verdict from the crowd. We who had travelled over for the affair asked how the decision had been arrived at and were astounded, to use a mild term, when the reply fell from the lips of the wise one: "Do you think I would give a blooming nigger the verdict? No sir; white men always for me when it comes to a decision on points." Curtain!

THE Maple Leafs Limited (don't forget the "limited," Mr. Printer) are determined to get a show, and the latest is that they will take upon themselves the representing of North Vancouver. This is announced as the move, however, in the event of the old firm, the original M. L.'s, not holding to their published story, to back out of the strenuous game. Application by the new organization for admission to the B. C. L. A. as a second strength team will be sought should the old-timers come back. Lacrosse will be a hustling game this season alright, alright.

EVER read of a more obliging, kind-hearted, patriotic wrestler than Frank Gotch? In a interview just given to a fellow scribe, Frankie almost broke down, and amidst sobs which could be heard for miles he tells with pathos, how he had worked for ten long weary years to earn the respect of the public! Poor, old public; silly old public. Just what that same public have fallen for in the stunts engineered by wrestlers, will I do not think, ever be known. The American goes on to say that the foreign element (of wrestlers) are making a joke of the sport he built up. HE build up! When and where? Someone might carry the imformation to F.

R. A. Wilson's Views and Comments on Sport

G. that years before he was born; before his parents were on this wicked earth, Great Britain, the mother nation of sport, was forgetting about wrestling and giving her attention to industries instead of to the greatest faking game which has ever been permitted. Oh, the stories that could be told of matches on the mat which were all ready framed; where everyone, including the (supposed) intimate friends of the wrestlers themselves, were trapped into wagering their money, and after the match (?) was over the couple of schemers would gloat over their conquests. Cut out wrestling; let's talk about sport.

LEST you forget, the Sapperton F. C. will put out their strongest team this afternoon, and on the home ground face the eleven from the City. From the nature of the stories going round the howffs where footballers most do congregate, the match will be worth witnessing.
