Plans for Shunting at Sapperton Will Relieve Front Street—Discrimination in Rates.

The complaints of the city of Westminster against the G. N. R. Co. occupied the Railway Commission in Vancouver at their Saturday morning sittings. The question of the inadequate accommodation supplied by the G. N. R. and subsidiary companies at their local station was brought up by Mayor Lee and City Solicitor McQuarrie, representing the city. The mayor stated that after a great deal of persuasion by the municipal authorities they had at least secured the promise from the railroad to commence the new station this year. A. H. MacNeill, K. C., representing the G. N. R. explained to the commissioners that an appropriation for this purpose had gone through some time ago, but that owing to difficulties in getting the title of the site satisfactorily aranged the company's work had been unavoidably delayed. He assured the board that as soon as the title trouble had been cleared up, the work would go on without delay. The company was in a position to complete the whole structure in six months' time from the date of commencement. The application was allowed ot stand over for the present, but it was intimated that application could again be made to the Commisioners were there further delay subsequent to the acquisition of good title.

The city's complaint against the G. N. Co. for shunting their cars on Front street was considered by the board and an order given that the practice must cease. The city objected to the cars of the G. N. R., C. P. R. and B. C. E. R. being allowed to stand on this street in strings, obstructing the traffic by blocking the street ends and the entrance to the market. The Great Northern Company was given thirty days to file plans for a new interchange, and until this is done all care must be taken to prevent the blocking of street ends.

The application of the city to be relieved of the payment of a share of the cost of maintaining the watchmen for the protecting of the North Road crossing just outside the city limits was refused by the commissioners. The city solicitor on behalf of the municipality based his reasons for complaint on the fact that the road had existed long before the railroad had arrived, and the latter had been the cause of the danger to the users of the road. While the commissioners agreed as to the cause of the danger, they would not make any exception to their rule of ordering the municipalities to pay a proportion of the burden. Westminster must, as is the past, pay twenty-five per cent of the cost of the watchmen, and Burnaby fifteen. Commissioner Mabee stated that if the railroads in Canada were compelled to pay the whole cost of protecting the crossings used by the citizens the railroads would be broke within six months.

The whole of the afternoon's session of the Railway Commission held in the city hall at Vancouver was devoted to the hearing of the application of the Vancouver Board of Trade, endorsed by the Westminster Board of Trade, asking that the discriminating freights charged by the C. P. R. should cease. The chief witness for the complainant was the secretary of the traffic office of the board of trade, W. D. Powers, who had compiled a most exhaustive treatise on the statistics of the C. P. R. in regard to freight rates affecting this province. He stated that while the operating expenses in this province were high, the net revenue of the railroad showed a larger proportionate amount on the Pacific division than on any other on the entire system. The difference between the net revenue per mile on the Pacific as against the eastern division was seventy-nine one-hundredths per mile more. In British Columbia, Mr. Powers said, the passenger rate was four cents per mile west of Calgary, as against three cents a mile east of it, moreover, the divisions east of Calgary, by the system of account adopted, got a proportion of the four cents paid by British Columbia. In regard to the operating expenses charged to freight the board of trade did not agree with the method the company adopted to arrive at the rate.

F. H. Chrysler, K. C., Ottawa, on behalf of the C. P. R. gave figures as to the cost of freight haulage per mile per 1,000 tons which was as follows:

On Western division	$4.70
On Eastern division	5.45
On Central Division	3.73
On Lake Superior Division	3.70
On Pacific Division	7.12

Mr. Chrysler went into further detail with respect to the operating expenses in various districts of the province, and asked would not the witness expect a higher rate in places where operating expenses were heavier.

After hearing further evidence from William Skene, secretary of the Vancouver Board of Trade, the commission adjourned until Monday when the sittings will be completed in order to allow the commissioners to journey on to Calgary on Tuesday.

DOUBLE HEADERS ARE SCHEDULED

Big Meetings in Interests of John Oliver Held Tonight at Sapperton and West End.

According to an announcement appearing elsewhere in this issue there will be two public meetings in the city tomorrow (Tuesday) evening in the interests of John Oliver, the Liberal candidate, and Reciprocity. Both meetings will be opened at eight o'clock, one in Johnston's Hall, Sapperton, and the other in St. Barnabas parish room, Fifth Avenue. The speakers will be Alex Henderson, late commissioner of the Yukon; J. B. Kennedy, ex-M. P.; A. B. Clabon and George Kennedy, president of the local Liberal Association.

John Oliver, owing to district engagements, cannot be present at these meetings, but will address the grand mass meeting in the Opera House on Thursday evening, September 7, which will also be addressed by F. T. Congdon, late member for the Yukon, and other speakers.

Launch Catches Fire.

No. 1 Fire Hall had a run at 4:30 yesterday afternoon in response to an alarm sent in from Lulu Isand bridge, where an old gasoline launch had taken fire. On arriving at the scene the firemen found that they could not reach the burning craft as it had been towed out into the river a considerable distance from the shore. The inside fittings of the launch were badly burned out but the hull may be used again.

A complete outfit for the manufacture of counterfeit money on a wholesale basis was found and three men, believed to be the gang in charge of the outfit, were arrested.

SPECIAL CONFERENCE

Joe Lally Asks for Lacrosse Meeting

DISCUSS MOOTED POINTS

Noted Referee is Firm—No Rough Play Allowed—Goal Judges and Timekeepers Chosen.

At the express wish of Joe Lally, a conference took place on Saturday afternoon in the Vancouver Hotel between representatives of the Vancouver and Westminster clubs, the respective captains and the newspapermen who have been present at every match this season. The various points were discussed before, during and after a luncheon given by Con Jones, and those present were Manager Jones and Captain Harry Godfrey (Vancouver), Alderman Wells Gray and Acting Captain George Rennie (Westminster) and Referee Joe Lally.

What might with every truth be termed the feature of the conference was the attitude of the famous Cornwall official who has at the express wish of the Westminster champions travelled three thousand miles to referee the clash this afternoon.

Laly stands for no bickering, smothers unnecessary points and held the various speakers down to the rules of procedure. He early showed that he was out for the Labor Day game and that game only, and no amount of coaxing would make him waver from his fixed determination.

Despite the fact that both representatives were fixed on having Lally for the post-season games should Westminster win this afternoon, the easterner plainly stated that he had come to this coast for one match only and would have to return on Thursday at the latest. His business engagements made this stand absolutely necessary.

His pointed remark, "Do not ask me any further questions on the subject; I have given my answer," for a moment silenced the other speakers. When Manager Jones reminded Lally that he (Jones) would be in a worse box than ever if Westminster won Monday and had to take referees other than Lally, the latter gave way slightly on a point and asked that he be given time—until this afternoon—to fuly consider the whole vexed question. He mentioned the names of two men whom he could send from the N. L. U. to handle the games were it found to be necessary. The meeting then took up the question of the

THE MARGIN OF ADVANTAGE COMES TO LOCAL MILLS

Reciprocity Will Improve the Lumbering Business—Prominent Manager Talks on Tariff Changes—Plans Being Considered for Additions to Small-Bucklin Plant.

"From my point of view I cannot see that reciprocity will do any injury to the local lumbering business. On the contrary I think there will be a considerable margin of advantage on our side."

This summarizes the opinion of E. H. Bucklin, president and general manager of the Small & Bucklin Lumber company, of this city, in conversation with a News representative, who asked for his views concerning the proposed tariff changes from the lumberman's standpoint.

The suggestion in Mr. Bucklin's presentation of the case was that the hostility at present discovered on both sides of the line to the proposed tariff changes will disappear when the effect of them comes to be tested by experience. The anomoly exists at present, said he, that lumbermen on both sides of the line are showing opposition to the changes for the same cause. In Washington they fear the competition of British Columbia, and in British Columbia the position is just the reverse.

In discussing the situation generally, Mr. Bucklin remarked that the southern supply of timber, according to reliable computation, will be practically exhausted in seven or eight years, and the Atlantic seaboard, which at present draws its building material chiefly from this source, will then be supplied largely from the Pacific coast. The rates from British Columbia through the Panama Canal to the Atlantic seaboard, in foreign bottoms, will be as low or lower than the rates from Puget Sound ports. For this reason a movement was now being made looking to the subsidizing of American ships for the purpose of enabling the mills on the other side to compete with British Columbia mills in the Atlantic seaboard markets.

Looking at the question from the more immediate and local point of view, Mr. Bucklin intimated that an abnormal demoralization of the markets on the other side was responsible, in great measure, for the competition in rough lumber in the Canadian prairie provinces which now came from American sources. The demand for lumber, he pointed out, was subject to general trade conditions and with an improvement of these conditions the demand for lumber in the American markets would sympathetically improve. During the years 1906 and 1907 for instance the prices of rough lumber on the other side were higher than they are here at the present time and considerable quantities of it were shipped from British Columbia into those markets during that period. The demoralization which obtained on the other side at present was due to a quietude in the export trade, temporary dislocation of business following the investigations which have been going on there, unsettled political conditions which could not be improved until after the general elections, and other causes.

Considering the the tariff changes in other ways, Mr. Bucklin thought they would be a great help to the local lumbering industry. There would be a tendency to advance the price of cedar and spruce stumage immediately from the fact that the reduction of the duty on shingles would open the larger and better markets on the other side to resident manufacturers. As an ultimate result of the changes an increased price of cedar and spruce stumpage also in anticipation whereof certain Bellingham mill men have recently purchased large tracts of fir stumpage in the vicinity of Powell river on the northern coast of British Columbia.

I presume you know, said he, that 40 or 50 per cent of the shingle production of British Columbia has been marketed on the other side. This trade was cutt off abount two years ago by the incrased duty imposed against it. Under the reciprocal arrangement this trade will be restored to our mills. Upper grades of shingles are still being sold in the United States. In further conversation the reporter was surprised to learn that considerable quantities of spruce and cedar lumber from local sources are marketed in the United States at the present time. It was explained that the existing tariff on one inch bevelled siding was $2.52 per thousand feet and on one inch stuff $1.25 per thousand feet. The great bulk of this product which we manufacture, he remarked, is sold on the American side. You will readily see, therefore, the advantage that will accrue through the reduction of the duty. Our principal market for the upper grades of cedar is on the other side. In Canada the market has not yet developed, the home buyers being more accustomed to fir.

During the past year the capacity of the Small-Bucklin mill has been increased twenty-five per cent, and Mr. Bucklin intimated that plans were now being considered for a new planing mill, the construction of which will probably be begun within a few months. The yearly output of their lumber mill now aggregates twenty-two million feet, a considerable increase in production having recently taken place. Their cut for the month of August totalled two million feet.

NEW OFFICES READY

B. C. E. Company Will Move in a Few Days.

The offices in the new B. C. E. R. depot on Columbia street are being turned into commission, and in the course of a few days all the local business will be directed from the one building, instead of as at present from a scattered lot of rented rooms.

Local Manager Elson has already got his main office moved and Allan Purvis, the interurban manager, is moving. The ticket office, the baggage office and the despatchers offices will be moved tomorrow. The new home of the street car men is very elaborate and commodious. The rotunda, to be used as a public waiting room, is a very large and well lighted place conveniently situated to the trams as they enter the building. Across the tracks in the triangular corner, cut off by the cars is located the bagage department. The ticket offices are off the rotunda while the upstairs of the new station is devoted to attractive suites of offices.

BUILDING PERMITS FOR AUGUST SHOW UP WELL

The building permits issued for the month of August while not so large as those of the previous month by some thirty thousand dollars, were fully as large as might fairly be expected for a notoriously dull month in this particular line. The exact total is $103,385 as compared with $134,112 for the month of July, the last week of the month coming in with the large figures of $42,885. Of this latter figure the greater part is made up by the permit issued for the building of the new Sapperton school, which accounts for the sum of $33,335. Building in August, while never at what might be called a standstill, is for several reasons not so active as in many other months of the year. Among these reasons may be cited that most plans for building are generally formulated in the early months of the year and the fact that it is generaly a holiday month by popular selection.

Taking all things into consideration therefore the record for the month is by no means a bad one.

SATURDAY'S RALLY.

John McKee In the Chair at the Meeting.

Mr. John McKee presided at a meeting addressed by the Liberal candidate and Mr. George Kennedy on Saturday night.

In the discussion attention was directed chiefly to the reciprocity question. Mr. Kennedy touched more particularly upon its historical and political aspects to show the identity of opinon which had always obtained regarding it, in the history of Canada. Mr. Oliver dealt almost exclusively with the practical features of the agreement as they affected the agricultural industry. Both speakers were well received and were listened to with marked attention.

A BOON TO CONSUMERS.

A scare-crow is an object designed to frighten poor creatures who do not know any better, from partaking of something they want very badly.

The scare-crows erected by the Tories to prevent the people from getting something they want very badly, namely, cheaper food, are really insulting to the intelligence of our people.

The man who tells you that you must not have anything to do with the United States, even in the most casual way, but who will barter away tremendous areas of timber and agrecultural lands to foreign speculators, apparently does not believe that example is better than precept.

In spite of tariff walls almost half of our trade is with the United States. You cannot back the laws of nature.

The stronger each unit of the Empire, the stronger will be the Empire. Let each unit expand according to its best requirements.

Opponents of reciprocity say that everything is in a most satisfactory condition, and that everybody has all that he can reasonably ask for, and yet at the same time they are moving Heaven and earth to prejudice the minds of the workingmen against the Laurier administration. Reciprocity is especially and particularly in the best interests of the workingman. It will cheapen food, and if anything, increase his wages.—Victoria Times.

ANOTHER HUGE FIRE STAGGERS NELSON

The Halls Mines Smelter is Gutted and Loss is Estimated at $750,000.

Nelson, B. C., Sept. 2. At midnight tonight the huge plant of the Hall Mines' Smelter, covering thirteen acres of ground and one of the largest plants of its kind in Canada is a mass of blazing crackling ruins. Nothing is saved except the seven miles of cable running from the smelter to the Silver King mine on Toad mountain and the tall blackened chimneys, one of which is two hundred feet in height and the one-storey building used as an office. Everything else the huge smelters, the tramway terminal and dump, the assay office, the boarding houses and numerous smaller buildings are a tangle of blazing timber and twisted iron. The disaster is the work of an incendiary who for the past two weeks has started a dozen fires, three of which have entailed enormous loss. The plant destroyed tonight is conservatively entimated to have cost to erect $750,000.

It was only the night before that the Nelson Brewery was burned to the ground, entailing a loss of $50,000 and previous to that there had been burned a Chinaman's house, some stables and outbuildings. The smelter was insured for a sum of $50,000 and had been lying idle for the past three years. It had recently become the property of a syndicate from Vancouver and it was expected that it would start up again within a very short time.

There is no clue whatever to the incendiary who has been responsible for the long series of fires which have staggered the inland city. The very day before the city had offered a reward of $500 for information leading to the apprehension of the culprit.

COUNCIL OF KNIGHTS

Five Hundred Knights of Columbus Here

EXEMPLIFY THREE DEGREES

After Mass in the Morning Hold Lodge Meeting and Conclude With Great Banquet.

Westminster Council No. 1283 had as guests yesterday nearly 500 visiting brethren of the Knights of Columbus, representing the councils of Vancouver and Victoria, together with a number of fraternal brethren from other points throughout this province, the coast cities as far south as Portland, Oregon, and as far east as Calgary. The visitors were royaly entertained by the Westminster Council, No. 1283, of the order and they spent a very enjoyable day in the city.

The brethren assembled at 8:30 in the morning at I. O. O. F. Hall and paraded to St. Peter's Church where mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Joseph R. Bourke, of Portland, Oregon. Rev. Father O'Boyle welcomed the visitors to the city in a brief address, after which the knights withdrew to the hall where the first degree was exemplified by the Westminster Council. After lunch the second and third degrees were put on by the Victoria Council and by district deputy A. J. Bagley. Seventy-eight new brethren were received into membership.

The evening programme took the form of an elaborate banquet, held in St. Patrick's Hall, at which covers were laid for upwards of 700 guests The feast, a lengthy one, including many delicacies, was thoroughly enjoyed. Mr. Peter Byrne, Grand Knight of the local council, acted as toastmaster, and Mr. R. C. McDonald, past grand knight, delivered the address of welcome.

Toasts were proposed as follows:

The Church .....Most Rev. McNeil
Knighthood in B. C.....F. J. Sehl
The Ladies .....
.....Bros. Roche and O'Hara
Responsibility of Knighthood.....
.....J. D. Byrne.
New Members .....Father Buck
Practical Fraternity ....A. G. Bagley
Knightly Traits .....Rev. O'Boyle
Our Visitors.....James T. Lawler

and L. R. Savage, of Seattle. Bro. Boyle, E. J. Walsh, John M. Madden, of Tacoma, Esmond F. McFeeley, D. G. K., of Vancouver, John Hart, G. K. of Victoria.

Credit should be given where credit is due and therefore it is only right that acknowledgement should be made of the fact that the whole of the banquet to which the Knights of Columbus sat down last night was prepared and served by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Knights. It is no wonder then that the banquet was so favorably received and so thoroughly enjoyed by all.

TODAY'S GREAT GAME

Westminster and Vancouver Fight for Cup

ALL SEATS ARE SOLD OUT

The Royal City Will Be the Magnet for Sports of Country, Rain or Shine.

This afternoon at three o'clock Joe Lally, of Cornwall, Ontario, will send Westminster and Vancouver off on the battle for supremacy, and it is safe to predict that no matter what the weather, the largest crowd that has ever witnessed a lacrosse match will be on hand to see both twelves struggle for the long end of the score.

The game will be the tenth, and according to the original schedule, the last of the series in the B. C. L. A championship for the season. Owing to the fact that Vancouver have won five games and Westminster one less, the actual position is that should Westminster, president holders of the Provincial championship, and world's champions, holding the Minto Cup as emblematic of the latter honor, be successful today, two post season games will of necessity be played, the winners to be found by the goal average in the two tests.

Until the respective teams leave their dressing rooms the make-up of the twelves doing honor for the two cities will not be known, the manager prefering to keep secret who is who until the last moment. It may safely be predicted that Vancouver will step out as in the last two encounters, but with the champions it is a different matter. Pat Feeney is expected to take his place at centre and although this player has not fully recovered from his severe attack of rheumatic fever he is looked to, to play the game of his career for at least two quarters. That Manager Con Jones unquestionably fears Feeney at number seven is a well-known fact, and he raised the question when at the conference on Saturday, he asked Lally if it would be permissable to play a man (meaning Feeney) for two quarters and then drop him and have another take his place. The famous eastern referee replied that as he was not a medical man he failed to see how he could stop any player from going off to the side lines if he was unable to continue. It is hard to tell if Jones will be content to permit Ernie Murray to cont nue in Feeney's place in the closing quarters or take one of his team off to even up matters.

The Daily News inclines to the opinion that Manager C. A. Welsh will play Charlie Galbraith at point and Buck Marshal at cover point. That Johnny Howard will take his place and check Newsy Lalonde is practically a foregone conclusion. In the two weeks which have elasped since the last match between the two teams, Howard has been showing wonderful if not brilliant form at practice and is satisfied that the champions will emerge from the struggle successfully.

Although rumors were current in the Terminal City Saturday night that Tommy Gifford would be out this afternoon, Gifford informed the writer at a late hour last night that while he would like to be on the line up, there is not the slightest chance of him occupying his old position at this time.

The seats on the new bleachers which were on sale at Herb Ryall's on Saturday night have all been bought out and those who arrive late will have a mighty poor chance of seeing the play.

According to present arrrangements the timekeepers and penalty checkers will officiate from the grand stand side of the field this afternoon and thus tend to keep clear the dressing room front.

Sand Bar Removed.

Vessels can again make the landing at Ladner with safety as a result of the dredging done in the channel last week by the Fruhling. This channel had for the past few months been gradually filled up by a sand bar which made the landing very difficult at low tide. The bar was about 400 yards wide and ten yards across, but the big dredge destroyed it with despatch.

City of New Westminster, 10th October, 1911. Civil and Criminal.

In consequence of today being Labour Day, and therefore a general holiday throughout the Dominion, there will be no issue of the Daily News tomorrow, Tuesday, Sept. 5.

B.C.E.E. CONVENTION CONCLUDES SESSION

One of the Best Annual Meetings Ever Held—Many Travel from Westminster Daily.

Last evening the final meeting of the B. C. C. E. convention was held in the First Baptist church. About forty Christian endeavorers went over from here in a special car. Rev. H. A. Carson took the chair, and the meeting opened with a song service, led by Rev. I. W. Williamson. Rev. W. H. G. Temple, of Seattle, was then introduced to the convention. He gave an address on "A Call to Work, taking as his text, "Follow me and I will make you fishers of men. The speaker very strongly denounced the Christian who has faith without work, as Christ said: "He who has faith without works is dead. Do the little things that come to hand as well as the large things, and whatever you do, do not do it for the sake of reward or praise, but for the sake of the work itself. Cultivate whatever quality you have that can be used for Gods work. Do not be afraid of failure, for there is no such thing as failure in Gods Work.

This address concluded, a solo was rendered by Mr. Turner. Miss Harpster then sang the national song of the Hawaiians, and also a beautiful song composed by herself, showing the strength received by continued daily prayer.

Rev. D. A. Poling gave a short address in the shape of an appeal for support of the work undertaken by the B. C. C. E. Union.

Rev. H. H. Rottman gave an illustrated address on "Basic Principles of Christian Endeavor, which was very good, being both instructive and inspiring.

SIR WHYTES SUCCESSOR MAY BE EASTERN MAN

Winnipeg, Sept. 3.—Who will succeed Sir William Whyte as vice-president of the Canadian Pacific railway with head offices in Winnipeg? This is the question that has been discussed at great length among the railway officials of the city since the retirement of Sir William was announced by Sir Thomas Shaughnessy. Many have suggested that G. J. Bury will receive the position, but there is a persistent rumor afloat that an eastern man will be brought out to fill the vacancy. If this is the case the question narrows down to two men, G. M. Bosworth and D. McNicol, both vice-presidents at Montreal and both operating men. It is also rumored that the man who takes this position will be the next president of Canadian Pacific. It is most likely that the man selected, if he comes from the east, will be G. M. Bosworth, but the president says the name will not be announced for some time to come.

BOMB SET FOR WIFE WOUNDS TWO SHERIFFS

Oakland, Cal., Sept. 3.—Charles Pickard, who said he intended to blow up his wife, was convicted here yesterday on the charge of setting the infernal machine with intent to harm a human being. The penalty is imprisonment from one year to life. Sentence will be pronounced Saturday.

Pickard, a quiet man, mined his home in East Oakland by setting a sort of bomb in a closet. His wife, Rosalie, who had secured a divorce, also obtained a writ for Pickards ejectment, and when officers went to serve it they exploded the affair by opening the closet door. Constable Albert Kihn was badly cut, and two deputy sheriffs were shaken up.

Welsh Colliers Strike.

Llanelly, Wales, Sept. 3.—One hundred colliers went on strike here today. The other colliers have given notice that they will refuse to work with non-union men. It was at Llanelly that the soldiers and strikers had their most serious clash during the recent railroad strike. Several persons were killed in a riot there at that time.

PROFIT BY OTHERS' EXPERIENCE

Gray Hair Restored

My hair was getting quite gray and falling out rapidly and I was troubled with a terrible itching of the scalp. My head was full of dandruff, which fell upon my clothes and kept me continually brushing it off. While on a visit to Rochester I heard of your Sage and Sulphur for the hair. I got a bottle and used it. A few applications relieved the itching, my hair stopped falling out and gradually came back to its natural color. It is now a nice dark brown color, soft, glossy and pliable. Several of my friends want to use it, and I want to know what you will charge me for six bottles of it.
MISS E. A. ROSS,
Sharon, Mercer Co., Pa.

Grew Hair on a Bald Head

For two or three years my hair had been falling out and getting quite thin until the top of my head was entirely bald. About four months ago I commenced using Sage and Sulphur. The first bottle seemed to do some good and I kept using it regularly until now I have used four bottles. The whole top of my head is fairly covered and keeps coming in thicker. I shall keep on using it a while longer, as I notice a constant improvement.

EVERY DROP 100% PURE

After a thorough investigation of various brands of paints Martin-Senour proved to be the paint we could risk our reputation on.

Martin-Senour 100% Pure Paint

which we guarantee to be Pure White Lead, Pure Oxide of Zinc, and Pure Linseed Oil, with of course the necessary coloring ingredients and dryers. Now to be entirely truthful, they do make a few dark shades that cannot be produced from lead and zinc. Come in the store and we will show them to you—but every other color is positively and absolutely 100 per cent Pure Paint, and not a drop of adulteration or substitution is mixed in.

We recommend this excellent brand to all our friends and customers. Another good point is that two gallons of this paint covers as much space as three gallons of the filled paints.

We have color cards showing all the colors and shades made. Free for the asking.

Correspondence

(The Daily News is not responsible for the opinions expressed by its correspondents.)

Editor, Daily News:

Dear Sir—May I beg the use of a little space in your valuable paper to join in the discussion on matters martial. I have had much pleasure accorded me lately in readng the notes by Gareth and Rubes. Now it may or may not be a splendid thing to have a military critic in a city where their has just been formed a new regiment, but I hope those critics will only discuss points which they are well posted in, for in my opinion nothing can be worse than pulling a regiment to pieces, so to speak, unless sure of the facts.

The 104th certainly have had a very stormy time since being formed, but the faults, though many, are not so serious that the rank and file need get sore about it. The 104th are in the unhappy position of having to build up a regimental staff without any help from the powers that be. Therefore, the officers of the regiment must just makeshift with the best officers (n. c. o. s.) or men who offer their service, and I think that it is to the credit of those officers who have given their time and tried their best to make a success of a very thankless job. Their is no doubt but that the commanding officers as well as the other officers under him are just as ready and anxious to put heart and soul into the making of a crack regiment as anyone, either inside or outside of the regiment, but no matter how hard the officers (n. c. o. s.) or men may work, they are bound to be handicapped unless the city which they represent take some interest in the regiment, but from what I can see of it, taking the Coronation, and also the big bundle of replies which Gareth received from the ladies of the city, with reference to their making and presenting colors to the regiment, and the general interest being taken by the city at large, I must say that we had better paddle our own canoe.

So boys, let us rally around the flag; if the 104th have been asleep, then sound the reveille and be up and doing. Take the tip from Gareth and stop all quarreling.

Discontented non-coms who air their grievance before the men only manage to make the men more disconted than ever, which can only make matters worse for all concerned. Further when there is a complaint to make let us make it in the proper place, which is the orderly room and to the commanding officer, who is the only one who can be expected to hear the case and dispose of it. In the interests of the regiment, I think that all those complaints about ammunition, company pay, pay for camp, and whether those who had a written permit to be absent from camp should be returned as efficient, or not, is a question which can only be answered in the proper place, namely, the orderly room of the regiment, and I think Gareth will back me up in this. I should like to add, that in one case mentioned by Rube and Gareth—that of the soldier of seventeen years service, I may state that I am well acquainted with him, and all he wishes to say about the matter, is that his service is over twenty years, and that he has learned in that time to fight his own battles in the proper place; further, he hopes that the mention of his medals will not be taken as a sign than he loves to flaunt them in people's faces. They have been hard-earned, and accordingly have a high honorable value. So Comrade Gareth and Rube. let us all pull together with the one object in view, namely, to help to build up the 104th and encourage that true comradeship which is so essential in the making of a crack regiment.

WILLIAM MATTHEW.

A FISH STORY ABOUT BIRDS ON A STEAMER

Boston, Sept. 3.—"It beats all what a bird can do,'. The waterfront reporter was leaning against the rail of the British steamship Hellenes, in from South America, waiting for a word with the captain, when an oil-smeared member of the engine room force volunteered the foregoing information. After the representative of the Marine Truth Tellers' Association had heard the sailor's tale, he, too, believed that either it beat all what birds could do, or else boats from South America brought something besides the odor of hides to Boston.

"You see them?" continued the oily one, pointing to a score or more of deep triangular dents in the iron deck of the ship. "Them was made by birds. When we left Buenos Aires for here we had on board two ostriches. They were South American ostriches, or gadnu. The birds was not as big as regular ostriches, but they was some birds, and powerful—why, they would throw three men all around the deck.

"They was tame, though, and great pets, and we used to let them roam around the deck instead of keeping them in their cages. Ostriches can't fly, and so there was no danger of their getting away, and we used to have lots of fun with them in off watches.

"After we got up in the Gulf of Mexico one day we had a thunderstorm. It was a regular rip-snorter, and them ostriches was scared near to death. We left the birds at Havana."

Then the tale stopped, and the teller started to run away.

"But what has that got to do with the dents you pointed to in the deck?" queried the scribe.

"Why, when an ostrich is scared he tries to hide his head. That's where they tried."

WHEAT PRICES.

There are those who contend that wheat prices are no better in the States than in Canada. Mr. Borden admits there is a difference in favor of the states, but that it will disappear once reciprocity is in force.

The North Dakota and Minnesota farmers living along the boundary line apparently think there is a very considerable difference. They have strenuously opposed the pact in Washington.

Senator Gronna, of North Dakota, who fought reciprocity in the U. S. senate, recently quoted some figures which had been furnished him by a grain buyer, George McLean, of Sarles, N. D., showing the prices paid by the latter for Canadian and American wheat last fall. He buys Canadian wheat in bond, importing it duty free to be ground for export. The prices on the American side were paid at Sarles three miles from the boundary line, and those in Canada at various points within ten miles of the line.

The respective prices were as follows:

	American Wheat.	Canadian Wheat.
Oct. 3, 1910	$ .97	$ .85
Oct. 5. 1910	.98	.84
Oct. 7, 1910	1.00	.85
Oct. 11, 1910	.99	.85
Oct. 12, 1910	.98	.83
Oct. 15, 1910	.96	.83
Oct. 17, 1910	.95	.81
Oct. 20, 1910	.93	.81
Oct. 25, 1910	.91	.81
Oct. 29, 1910	.92	.79
Nov. 1, 1910	.89	.77
Nov. 2, 1910	.90	.75
Nov. 3, 1910	.89	.77
Nov. 4, 1910	.88	.75
Nov. 8, 1910	.89	.77
Nov. 12, 1910	.88	.77
Nov. 14, 1910	.91	.79
Nov. 16, 1910	.93	.79
Nov. 20, 1910	.92	.80
Nov. 26, 1910	.91	.80
Dec. 2, 1910	.91	.77

In the face of the above figures and many other similar lists published from time to time, there would appear to be little or no question as to where the higher prices have prevailed at marketing points. It is not alone the difference in price that will benefit our farmers. It is the additional and most important advantage of having a close and ready market for the surplus after we have supplied our own needs and all that Britain requires of our surplus production.—Tribune.

FAVORED NATION TREATIES.

Yet another of the objections which have been urged against the reciprocity agreement is that this will open Canada to the competition of many other countries under the "favored nations treaties." There are in existence certain old treaties between England and other countries by which it is provided that if England or any of her colonies should give a preference to any country the same treatment shall be accorded to those nations with which these treaties have been made. Until 1896 these old treaties were of little consequence to Canada. But when British preference was brought forward in that year the treaties with Germany and Belgium were found to be in the way and a renunciation of these was obtained.

The countries concerned in these treaties are Venezuela, Switzerland, Spain, Norway, Sweden, Russia, Japan, Denmark, Columbia, Bolivia, Austria-Hungary and the Argentine Republic. Except in regard to Norway, which exports some fish to this country, there is nothing in the character of the trade between Canada and any of these countries which could come within the scope of the reciprocity agreement. If this is approved and goes into force, however, Norway will have the benefit of exporting dried fish to this country free of duty. That is not a very serious matter, for the total value of our imports from both Norway and Sweden last year only amounted to $108,000, and much of this was for other trade than fish.

The cry which has now gone up from the Conservative ranks as to the danger to our trade which the favored nation treaties will produce is not a new one. Exactly the same pathetic wail was raised when the Liberal government introduced British preference. This, however, was quickly silenced by the Dominion government obtaining a denunciation of the objectionable treaties, as already stated.

Now we have the undertaking of the British government, secured by Sir Wilfrid Laurier at this year's Imperial conference, that all the trade treaties which Great Britain has with foreign nations shall be abrogated so far as they affect Canada, which will henceforth be in a position to negotiate such trade agreements as she may desire.

"It is significant of much that the Hon. Robert Rogers, of Manitoba; Premier McBride, of British Columbia; Attorney-General Bowser, also of British Columbia; the Hon. Clifford Sifton, Henri Bourassa, the Hon. W. J. Hanna, of Ontario, and other well-known politicians who have proclaimed loudly their intention to fight the reciprocity agreement or the Canadian navy to the 'bitter end,' are every one of them afraid to seek a federal constituency in support of Mr. Borden. As our Ottawa correspondent says, this looks like a practical admission that by those on his own side who should be nearest in touch with popular sentiment, he is not expected to win. Nor does he deserve to. He has turned his back on the one redeeming feature of the Conservative policy since confederation, namely, freer trade in one direction at least; and he has left it to the Liberals to appeal to the country, as Sir Wilfrid Laurier said at St. Jerome, on the side of 'truth and justice.'"—Montreal Witness.

CAMPAIGN EXTRACTS FROM LIBERAL TALKS

John Oliver at Ladners:

"In my opinion there is no province in Canada that will benefit so much by the tariff changes as proposed in the reciprocity agreement as British Columbia."

"In Quebec Sir Wilfrid Laurier is being attacked on the ground that he is too much of an Imperialist; in other provinces because he is not imperialistic enough. Does the truth rest in either of these positions or are they both lying."

"Protection is a means by which a few men are enabled to compel the masses of the people to pay tribute to them."

"In some political argument there is the suggestion that Americans are cuter than Canadians and will get the better of them in a business transaction every time. If this be true is it reasonable to conjecture that Americans will bring oats into the Delta and sell them at $4.00 per ton less than they are fetching on their own markets?"

"It took the Conservative leaders at Ottawa two months, after the reciprocity agreement was introduced, to decide whether they would oppose it or not. Why?"

George Kennedy at Ladners:

"Reciprocity should not be a party question, and was never admitted as such in Canada prior to the last session of parliament. In this respect all the great leaders of both political parties have hitherto agreed."

"The national policy introduced by Sir John A. McDonald embodied a standing offer of reciprocal trade with the United States."

"This is an issue which affects every man, woman and child in the Dominion. It is the culmination of the aspirations and hopes of both political parties. It points the effort of statesmanship as reflected in both political parties in Canada for over fifty years."

OH! YOU Lacrosse Fans

Several thousand Vancouver lacrosse fans are coming to Queen's park this afternoon to cheer for Con Jones' team firm in the belief that the green and white are going to wallop the Salmon Bellies and thus lift the Minto Cup. Thousands more from other parts of the province will also be there to lend enthusiasm to what promises to be one of the most thrilling athletic contests ever seen in Canada.

Drawn by the attention the game is exciting throughout the Dominion, newspaper men, from as far east as Winnipeg, will be there to describe the excitement to those who were unable to attend.

The teams are trained to the minute, and the New Westminster lacrosse team has sent all the way to Cornwall, Ont., to get Joe Lally, Canada's greatest referee, to handle the whistle.

Altogether there promises to be the greatest game of lacrosse ever played on Queens park—and that will be going some.

You Westminster fan; get in the running. Be there to cheer for the old red and blue, and incidentally see a spectacular sporting event that would turn almost any other town or city in Canada green with envy.

See the crowds, listen to the tremendous enthusiasm that will be rampant, and witness what promises to be the greatest game of lacrosse ever played in Canada.

Today's game will be one that will take an honored place in the lacrosse history of little old New Westminster. AND YOU KNOW WHAT THAT MEANS.

Special Conference

rules and the interpretation of them read by the referee.

Laly made it plain that he would stand no rough play; everything would have to be conducted in a manner which all the time should be above board and stated that he would deal with a heavy hand with those players who transgressed any rule. When a foul has been committed the players must not leave the positions they occupied at the moment when the whistle sounded.

Lally will not handle checks, but will signal to the time keepers, one raised hand with fingers extended for five minutes, two hands likewise for ten minutes, and two hands raised and lowered and raised again for twenty minutes. Everyone will thus be in a position to know for just how long the penalized player is off the field of play.

On the question of subordinate officials there was at one time a deadlock, Jones objecting to the name of goal judge Ed Savage for Westminster. Wells Gray came back on the run when he opposed the nomination of Matt Barr for the near champions. Gray made the statement that while he was a close friend of Matt Barr, he objected to that name being brought forward by Jones who should, he averred, surely know that Westminster would not stand for Barr's name. Lally, who apparently was not used to arguments of this nature, endeavored to pour oil on the troubled waters by the remark, "Be calm, boys, don't let us talk kindergarten; let's get down to some solid business. No good can come of this silly talk. Goal umpires have to be appointed, and it is up to the representatives here to select only those who will be acceptable to both sides." After much talk it was decided to appoint Joe Reynolds for Vancouver and Ed Savage for Westminster.

The other offcials being timekeepers, Alderman J. J. Johnston, Westminster, and Frank B. Armstrong Vancouver; penalty timekeepers, Harry Major, Westminster, and Charlie Young, Vancouver.

Cornwall, Ont., Aug. 26, 1911.

As stated in my telegram of acceptance to President Nelson the interests of our national game, and that alone prompted my acceeding to the joint request of the New Westminster and Vancouver clubs to referee the match between these two great teams.

It means a great sacrifice on my part, particularly at this season of the year, to be absent from my business, but the success of our national game has always been uppermost in my mind, and I feel that if there is one part of the Dominion more than another which deserves special consideration, that place is British Columbia, owing to the deep interest, I may say enthusiasm, that they have for some years manifested in the game. My hope is that that enthusiasm will not wane, but rather that it will develope on broader grounds, that the day may soon come when both spectators and players will banish all prejudice and (like British sports) view these contests as friendly competition in a manly sport. When that time arrives there will be no necessity of coming east for officials. When I step on the Lacrosse field I have no prejudices or preferences, and no threats or solicitations from the field or grandstand will either intimidate or induce me to deviate from what I believe to be my duty.

Watch as closely as I may, some fouls may escape my notice; and like others, I may err in judgment, but rest assured my sole and every effort will be put forth to do justice between the two teams, and to see that our glorious national game is played as it should be. In my efforts I hope and believe I will have the sympathy and support of both players and spectators.

Spectators, the majority of whom, as a rule, have strong leanings with their favorite team, sometimes assume that fouls are committed when they are not, and frequently fouls occur which are not observed from the grandstand, but which the referee from his position in the field, and his close touch with the play, at once detects and penalizes. Onlookers who do not allow for such cases are apt to put the referee down as partial when he is absolutely fair.

I intend to enforce the rules strictly, and I trust when I leave the field, the spectators will at least give me credit for doing what I conscienciously believe to be right.

Y. M. C. A. BUILDING

Ir Now Almost Ready For Occupancy.

FORMAL OPENING FOR 26th

All Arrears in Subscriptions Are Asked for to Pay Bills.

Plans are now under way for the formal opening of the new Y. M. C. A. building on September 26th. The report comes from the committee that the building is rapidly nearing completion, and it is hoped that all will be in readiness for the date fixed. To this end the committee are sending out a special appeal to the subscribers calling for the balance of the subscriptions promised and asking for a prompt response. Bills for the construction of the building must be met shortly, and it is hoped that remittances will be sent in within the next few days.

The new Y. M. C. A. home, which covers an area of 55 by 130 feet, is a brick construction and will have four stories and a basement. It will be a splendid addition to the rapidly increasing number of fine buildings which are springing up in all parts of the city.

Included in the general arrangement of the building will be reading and writing rooms, lounging rooms and recreation rooms and offices for the secretary and the management on the ground floor. On the two upper floors will be thirty-four bedrooms for members, sixteen on each floor, with two commodious rooms in the attic floor. To these rooms there will be conveniently adjacent bathrooms and lavatories and the building will be hot-water heated.

At the rear of the building on the main floor will be the gymnasium which will be one of the finest on the coast. It will measure approximately fifty feet by sixty feet and will be twenty-one feet in height. Round the walls there will be a gallery which will be used as a running track and also at times of meets as a spectators gallery. There will also be a series of class rooms and in the first basement a bowling alley of the regulation size.

Added to all this will be the spacious swimming pool with a spectator's gallery and in another section plenty of lockers will be fitted up for the use of the athletes.

Special provision has been made for a thoroughly equipped kitchen so that any entertainments which may be held in the building may adequately be handled from the insde.

In the lowest basement of all there will be located the hot water heating plant and this will be sufficient in extent to not only heat the whole building but to provide water for the swimming bath and for the baths upstairs. The swimming tank deserves a word to itself as it is sure to prove one of the most popular features of the many attractions provided.

It will be lined wth white tile and will be eight feet in depth at one end and five feet at the other. The water will be emptied once a week and the special facilities for providing hot water makes it posisble to refill it the same day.

Altogether it may be said that the Y. M. C. A. building in New Westminster will be a credit to the institution in any part of the world and the architects and contractors both deserve credit for the work which they have so efficiently carried to a satisfactory conclusion. The names of these gentlemen are Mr. Charles H. Clow, the architect, and Messrs Sloane and Harrison of New Westminster, the contractors.

It is the intention of the committee to have a formal opening to which the public will be invited and this will be on the 26th, if possible.

Regimentals to Play.

An effort will be made by the Regimental Lacrosse club to secure the Queen's park ground for a match to be playd at nine-thirty today when the Regimentals wil melet the Stewbums. Mr. Welsh has been approached with a view to getting his permission to use the ground, and on this the game will hinge.

The line-up of the Regimentals will be as follows: Goal, T. Sayers; point, W. Mortison; cover point, W. Patchell; first defence, F. Smith; second defence, A. McKenzie; third defence, O. Fern; centre, R. Sangster, third home, B. Daley; second home, A. Sedgeley; first home, H. French; outside home, H. Mitchell; inside home, A. Angus, Spares, M. Mortison, R. W. Wintemute and B. Cherrie.

The team has been fortunate enough to secure the services of W. L. Wright as referee. His decisions are sure to be without question, and eminently fair.

To Wrestle Winner.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 3.—Jack Herman, manager of Stanislaus Zbyzsko, the Polish champion, left for Chicago today with a certified cheque for $10,000 in his pocket which he says will be used to back up a challenge to the winner of the Gotch-Hackenschmidt match. If the winner declines to accept the challenge, an effort will be made to arrange a match with the loser for a like sum.

ANOMOLIES OF OPPOSITION CASE

LIBERAL CANDIDATE WAS HEARD BY GOOD AUDIENCES ON FRIDAY NIGHT — SOME TELLING POINTS ARE SCORED.

In the present political campaign the Liberal candidate is making all effort to the end that the people all over the district may have an opportunity of hearing him at the points most convenient to themselves. Owing to the comparatively short time allowed for this purpose he is being subject to the trying exertion of appearing at two and even three meetings, separated by varying distances in the same day, in practically all cases these meetings following each other in close succession at night. This entails a heavy physical strain, which might well try the stamina of any man, but Mr. Oliver, although occasionally showing some signs of tiredness, has entered with surprising vim and the best of good humor into these political obligations.

The Liberal candidate appeared at Strawberry Hill and South Westminster on Friday night, the halls at these points being taxed fairly to their limit to accomodate the audiences. W. B. Bennett presided at Strawberry Hill, and J. E. Murphy occupied the chair at the second meeting, George Kennedy held the audience at South Westminster until the candidate's arrival.

It was noted in the course of discussion here that the present election, with its inconveniences and expense, was precipitated by the unwillingness of the Ottawa opposition that reciprocity should go to a trial. In the natural course of events an election must have been held within a year, when the representation, based on the census figures, which would have been doubled in British Columbia and the prairie provinces, would have been in vogue. If the Conservative contention that reciprocity was a bad thing proved correct, the people would then have sustained them at the polls, and the government would have been swept out of power. But if that contention proved incorrect the result would have been exactly the reverse. In this Mr. Oliver pointed out it was apparent that it was the voice of party and not the voice of statesmanship which had prevailed in Conservative councils at Ottawa. They knew that reciprocity was calculated to be beneficial. They knew that it had been approved by Sir John A. McDonald and others of their great leaders in the past. But realizing this they had resorted, with childish petulance and unscrupulous tactics, to an effort to deprive the Liberal government of the credit, which would attach to the consummation of this great piece of statesmanship.

This selfish and almost insane policy, Mr. Oliver pointed out, could not prevail with the intelligent electorate throughout the Dominion of Canada. That the Laurier government would receive the overwhelming endorsation of the people was beyond the shadow of a doubt. But it had, nevertheless resulted unfortunately from a local point of view, in as much as large appropriations of money, provided for in the estimates, for public services in British Columbia, had been held up by the opposition obstruction in which Mr. Taylor had so unwisely and conspicuously joined. A number of wharves, required in this district, could not be gone on with on this account, and works designed for the improvement of navigation at the mouth of the Fraser, for which the sum of two hundred thousand dollars had been granted, were also unable to proceed. The delay of this work, with the stoppage of other expenditures, including three hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars for additional dredging apparatus, was not calculated to forward the untilization of the forty or fifty miles of water frontage lying within the district, which promised to afford the very best sites for manufacturing purposes when the navigation of the river was improved.

Mr. Oliver contrasted the Conservative attitude toward reciprocity, that it tended toward the dismemberment of the empire, with the position that party had assumed when the Laurier government proposed to give Great Britain a preference in Canadian markets. In that case they had declined to assent to a proposal which, as Mr. Borden had put it, might build factories in Yorkshire, which otherwise might be built at home. They contended that no preference should be given unless a corresponding concession were forthcoming from the British government.

Adverting to reciprocity, from a local standpoint, Mr. Oliver remarked that the fishermen of British Columbia had paid over one million dollars, for the privelege of selling their catch to American customers last year, this money having passed into the United States treasury in the shape of customs duties, paid on the British Columbia export. Under the reciprocity treaty this money would remain in the province, with the addition of millions of dollars more which would come from the increased trade following the reciprocity arrangement. According to official computation the readjustment of the tariff would mean an immediate increase in output amounting to 700 tons of coke perday from one mine in the Crow's Nest alone. This represented a daily gain of $3,500, so that the probable advantage of the arrangement as applicable to the province was easily discernible.

The strange and almost ludicrous anomoly discoverable in the opposition to reciprocal trade with the United States was pointedly illustrated by Mr. Oliver in a reference to the general trade of the country. Even the Conservatives were forward in lending encouragement to efforts looking to the discovery of new markets and the extension of Canadian commerce. Yet when the opportunity was opened to secure advantageous admission to a market of ninety million people—our nearest neighbors—Conservative politicians said: "Let well enough alone." Had Sir John A. McDonald succeeded in negotiating this arrangement, it would have been well. Had the chance fallen to Mr. Borden of doing so it would have been well enough also. But because these markets were to be opened through the statesmanship of a Liberal government the Conservatives had reached the conclusion that Canada should let well enough alone.

During the discussion at South Westminster, J. E. Murphy, the chairman, remarked that a prominent local shingle manufacturer had informed him that the reduction in the tariff, as proposed in the reciprocity arrangement, would make a difference equal to $25,000 a year in favor of his business.

George Kennedy was well received at South Westminster, and introduced many telling points in the course of his argument.

TO SETTLE MOROCCAN QUESTION WITH GERMANY

Paris, Sept. 3.—While the French foreign office, it is understood, has not received any assurance that Germany will accept the French proposals for a settlement of the Moroccan question, confidence is felt in an early agreement because of the extent of the compensation offered by France.

The real difficulty in the way of an early settlement, it is believed, lies in the special commercial and mining guarantees which Germany may seek in Morocco, as nothing can be given Germany in Morocco which Great Britain does not possess. Besides, anything like special privileges would afford endless occasion for the reopening of the controversy. The French and British governments have reached the fullest mutual agreement on every phase of the Franco-German dispute.

Brussels, Sept. 3.—The Belgian government continues actively engaged in completing the armament of all the garrisons on the German and French borders. Several trains have been dispatched with ammunition and guns from the Liege arsenal to Namur, Liege and Verviers, and all the forts are being inspected.

At Antwerp the engineer corps is transporting all campaign matter from Tetode, Flanders, to the Antwerp side of the Scheldt.

The Belgian newspapers explain the activity by the statement that talk of European hostilities has awakened the Belgian government to the unprepared condition of the Belgian army and defences.

Owing to the fact that his is a Dominion holiday, the police court will not be held this morning. Magistrate Edmonds will sit tomorrow morning when he may have a heavy calendar, provided the Salmon Bellies win out. The magistrate being one of the fans will be inclined to look with a favorable eye on those who may come before him as a result of biting the grape to excess. A Chinaman, O Sam, who supplied drink to some Siwash Indians, is awaiting the pleasure of the court, having been arrested by the police Saturday night. This offense which is a severe one in the eyes of the law, may be the means of Sam going over the road for a brief term.

Miss L. Hoe returns September 6 from a visit to relatives in Calgary and Banff. She will resume her music classes the following Monday, September 11. **

The inclement weather of yesterday did not act as a deterrent to the Barmen's picnic which was held at Derby. Thither went those who serve out the beverages and cordials and sometimes something stronger, and with them went their wives and many others who find such a jollly company the best of fellows. The steamer carried a full complement and a great time was had on the outward journey with music and song. During the day sports and other pastimes were held and the return journey was made late in the day the company arriving back in the Royal City before dusk set in. Altogether the day was one to be remembered by those who were fortunate to obtain the necessary pastboards and regrets were expressed on all hands that the season was now too far advanced to permit of just such another day being given to the enjoyments of life.

It is stated by those who have the daily handling of much silver that there are in circulation at the present time a large number of spurious American half dollars. These are slightly thinner at one edge than the genuine coin, but are such a good imitation that they are not easily detected. The ring, too, gives some clue to their counterfeit origin.
