VANCOUVER TAKES SECOND WITH MARGIN OF TWO GOALS

Low Scoring Match Leaves Champions Behind--Many Thousands Cheer Cup Aspirants to Victory But Show Animosity to Referee Gray--Two Players Threatened With Court Proceedings.

Salmon Bellies defeated! Once in a while this must take place, and on Saturday the Vancouver aggregation of stars did the trick after a game which from the initial face-off until the final whistle, was brimful of excitement. The Daily News of Saturday morning in a criticism of the teams, said that at the conclusion of the match "we may regret this changing and chopping," and so it came about.

Westminster's defence went all to pieces after the second quarter, and the goals which were notched by the Terminal city players were points which should never have been secured, as the report of the game will show clearly. It may be that this defeat has been a blessing in disguise, and that from now on, the world's champions will show that all-round capital form with which their name has so long been associated. When the twelves take up their positions next Saturday there will be a changing which must be for the better defence on our part. That on Saturday was palpably weak, so weak at times in fact that one really wondered if it was the Royal city team of old, we were watching. There were occasions when there was no need to ask this question. Time and again we saw those brilliant dashes which have carried all before them in the lacrosse world, but it has to be confessed that these were rarities, rather than common.

From the commencement of the third quarter, the champs fell off in their combined play and especially in the closing portion of the match was this noticeable. With a strong sun full in Sandy Gray's eyes, the passage of the ball was most difficult to follow, and the very fact that the last goal was secured so easily and with practically a clear front bears out the statement that Old Sol was to a large extent responsible for this additional point being sent to keep the other three goals company.

There was much talk at the conclusion of the match to revert to the practice of having a judge of play, and it may be that the game in this city on the twentieth of this month will see this tried out. Wells Gray was a busy official and a capital referee on Saturday, but he could not have his eyes in two or three places at the same time and it is because of the little mixups on a part of the field where there was no play that the judge of play question has again been brought up.

The crowd was a tremendous one at Recreation park and an hour before the commencement of hostilities, the attendance was over eight thousand, and when the teams emerged from the dressing rooms it was estimated that 13,000 were present.

After a brief talk by Mayor Taylor, of Vancouver, in which he cautioned the players against rough tactics, the ball was faced and the whistle announced the commencement of the game.

First Quarter.

Cliff Spring got possession and galloped off to Vancouver's end with the ball; after a short pass to Bill Turnbull, had it sent back again, and without breaking his stride reached Bun Clarke. A pass was nullified by Grifiths, and Clarke punted out of danger, Immediately after this bustling start, Cliff received a nasty clip on the cranium and retired for a period, Centre West getting the brass tab for ten minutes in consequence. On the restart, Fitzgerald sent to Carter, who in return swung over to Lalonde, and the latter after circling Tom Gifford, repassed to Fitz, and the ball lying in the centre of the gut was sent to Gray who failed to connect, the first goal of the match being signalized in fifty seconds from the start. On the face-off, Westminster quickly got to Vancouver's end of the field where some brilliant play was witnessed. The Royals were just a trifle wild in the passing department and did not seem to take sufficient time to sum up the situation, with the result that they missed some capital openings which presented themselves to cooler heads. George Rennie slipped in and securing the ball galloped off, thirteen to the dozen and was at the half way line when Cliff Spring came out and took up the play. Exchanges were fast and sometimes furious. Bill Turnbull sent in a long shot from middle of the field, but Clarke stopped it nicely, and play centered around the opposite goal. Gray was bombarded with hot shots but Sandy found no difficulty in negotiating the swift low ball which seemed to come at him from all directions. A battle for possession between Lalonde and Howard resulted in Newsy beating the other to it, but the sphere was not permitted to stay long in Vancouver's holding, as Wintemute leaving his check for the time being took a hand in the play and passed to Feeney, who cleared in brilliant style. Carter who improved on his previous

MAY QUEEN APPROVES MAPLE LEAF MESSAGE

SUGGESTION TO ADVERTISE THE ROYAL CITY BY DESPATCHING CANADIAN NATIONAL EMBLEM TO HER MAJESTY.

The May Queen, Miss Kathleen Welsh, has approved a scheme which may both assist to place New Westminster on the map, and carry its loyal greetings right to the foot of the throne.

Every girl in the city is invited to send a maple leaf wrapped up between cards of the city to Her Majesty the Queen, addressed to Buckingham Palace, London, England, and sign her name and address before despatching the miniature parcel. A two-cent stamp will pay the postage, but the idea must be followed out in the next three days if it is to reach London in time for the coronation.

The scheme would prove a splendid advertisement for the Royal City, a charming feature for the children, and a tribute which the royal household would welcome amid the shower of addresses and elaborate presentations this month.

JOURNALISTS FOREGATHER.

Brother Scribes Entertain Two Newspaper Men at King's Hotel.

A charming little gathering of the Westminster pressmen bade farewell on Saturday to P. W. Luce, news editor of the Daily News, and C. A. Sutherland, who has ceased his connection with the Vancouver Province, and entered business circles in the city. The King's hotel formed the venue of the dinner, and over the nuts and soda water the men exchanged experiences and told yarns with the characteristic modesty of journalists. J. W. Cunningham made an excellent chairman, and had the support in the vice-chair of R. A. Wilson. The speakers bore tribute to the individuality of the two guests, and among the speeches was a capital little address from R. H. Best in responding to "Canadian Press."

CENTRAL ON A HOLIDAY.

Through the courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. De Gray, who placed their splendidly equipped yacht "Faloma" at the disposal of the city telephone operators, the young ladies who daily inquire "Number, Please," with varying inflections according to the mood of the moment, were enabled to enjoy a pleasant excursion on the river yesterday, going up to Bridal Veil falls, stopping at Gilley's quarry en route.

Fourteen of the operators and an equal number of friends took in the trip, the yacht leaving shortly after nine o'clock and returning eleven hours later. At the falls a number of the most courageous girls, nobly escorted by heroic male friends, climbed the mountain as far as the big drop of water, where the scenery and the spray were alike enjoyed.

On the return journey a hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. and Mrs. De Gray for their kindness to the members of the party, A. Matthison, local manager of the B. C. Telephone company, expressing the appreciation of the young ladies in a neat speech.

PLACED A DEAD BODY ON PIANO STOOL

Alfred, N. Y., June 4.—The placing of a naked human corpse on a piano stool in the chapel of Alfred university Thursday night has so upset the faculty and student body that the program prepared for the last day of the college year has been postponed.

Students are suspected of the deed, but as yet the faculty has been unable to get any definite clews.

For several days the students have been in a sudden mood over the suspension of the entire baseball team which played a game recently at Wellsville without having obtained permission.

The body was taken from an undertaking room in the town and placed on the piano stool. Prof. Annas, of the music department made the grewsome find when he entered the chapel.

ANTAGONISM BETWEEN CHILE AND PERU GROWS

Iquique, Chile, June 4.—The antagonism against Peru is growing. The Peruvian consul, who yesterday resigned and placed Peruvian interests in the hands of the American consul, on account of an attack made by a Chilean mob against the Peruvian club and the burning of the Peruvian flag, passed the night in the American consulate.

However, he proceeded to the British consulate, as it was stated, the American consul refused to keep him longer. Later the Peruvian consul went aboard a ship protected by the Chilean authorities, amid hostile mobs. The Chilean armored cruiser, Esmeralda, today landed armed sailors to co-operate with the troops in keeping order.

STRIKE BEGINS IN VANCOUVER TODAY

Today the power of socialistic influence on labor organization in Vancouver will be tested, and by the extent of the stand for the closed shop system it will be proved how far unionist sentiment outweighs private interest, loyalty to employers, and determination to live up to contracts. The only defence which the leaders can put forward for a strike is that the proposal of the master builders aim not at one particular trade, but at the principle of the open shop, but the public is not sympathetic now, and will not stand in with the malcontents. Without public sympathy a strike cannot live, and well knowing this, the leaders sought to bring out the street railway men and electrical workers, by which transportation and power would cease, leading to the inevitable discomfort of every person, and to the serious loss to the manufacturer and producer.

B. C. E. R. Men Stand Firm.

But the proposal has failed. The street railway employees have been given permission to abide by their contracts with the B. C. E. R., and although the referendum vote has not yet been counted, there is no chance of any change in the situation. Other trades like the cooks, waiters, and bakers have been granted exemptions, but it is stated that of the fifty-two organized unions in Vancouver thirty-six will lay down their tools today. The Terminal City is overwhelmed with labor just now, and non-union men are said to be in abundance ready for jobs.

The weakness of the case for a general strike is shown in the absence of a resolution being put to the meeting at the mass gathering in Vancouver on Saturday. Most of the speakers were well known socialists, whose opinion could be anticipated beforehand.

Meeting Tomorrow.

In this city the Trades and Labor council met in executive session last evening, and decided to call a mass meeting at the Labor Temple on Tuesday evening at eight o'clock, when the situation will be explained to the men. Otherwise as a corporate body they will take no action, and do not expect the strike to extend to this city, unless it be among those union men who belong to Vancouver locals, and may go out in sympathy with their confreres. The executive will engage J. C. Bruce, international organizer of the plumbers and steamfitters, who is on the coast, to address this meeting.

A well known Vancouver socialist, E. T. Kingsley, addressed a large gathering under the auspices of local 15 of the Socialist party of Canada, at the Crystal theatre last evening, but his references were of a most guarded character when dealing with the strike situation.

Into Camp at Kamloops.

Yesterday morning the local companies of the 104th regiment left for Kamloops where the annual camp will be held for the next ten days. The boys in red made a brave show at the C. P. R. depot and were surrounded by their friends. Tim Mahoney, who had left in charge of the food department some days ago, had everything in readiness for the men when they arrived after their twelve hour run. During their stay in camp, the regiment will be put through its facings in mimic warfare, and this should bring them back to the Royal City fit and ready to go on active duty should the occasion arise. The beneficial results of this yearly training are more noticeable as time goes on, and with the local merchants granting special leave, so that the Tommies may gain all the necessary information on the subject of soldiering, it says much for the Imperial spirit which is gaining groundb.

ILLINOIS EDITORS PASS RESOLUTION

Chicago, Ill., June 4.—By resolutions adopted at the closing session of the Illinois Daily Newspaper Association at the La Salle hotel, the members pledged themselves against publishing free of charge under the guise of news any "stories" tinged with advertising, thereby placing press agents and seekers for free advertising under a ban.

The editors denounced professional people who declared that it was unethical to pay for advertising, but conducted a campaign for seeking free advertising through "news items" offered to reporters and editors.

The daily newspaper," said Senator Thomas Rees, owner of The Illinois State Register at Springfield, "has been overridden with free notices. Dentists, doctors, and other professional people send in what they allege to be 'news items' which are pure advertising. When asked to advertise they claim it is unethical and refuse to do so, but use their efforts in securing the advertising through the news item avenue. It must stop."

WIFE SHOT DEAD IN KITCHEN HUSBAND FUGITIVE FROM JUSTICE

Terrible Crime Is Committed in Westminster—Jealousy Alleged Cause of Homicide—Discovery Made By Son of Murdered Woman--Police Searching Diligently for Missing Man.

The sale of fire arms to irresponsible persons was the indirect cause of a terrible and deliberate murder being perpetrated in this city in the early hours of Saturday morning. Mrs. Henry Jobes, who came out to this province only a few months ago to join her husband and family, being cruelly put to death at their house on Fourth street.

Despite the fact that the crime was found out practically a few minutes after having been committed, the alleged murderer got clean away and the efforts of the police of this city as well as of Vancouver have at an early hour this morning been unsuccessful in tracing him. Those who know the suspect, Jobes, however, aver that he is not one of the class of men who will commit suicide, and this being the case, his arrest is expected at any moment.

From information gathered first hand it is all too plain that the alleged murderer, Henry Jobes, had his plans laid days ahead and, from the time he left his own home at 427 Fourth street and took up his residence at the Guichon rooms on Columbia street, he had been thinking out his plans.

Jobes came to this province from his native Durham, in the north of England, twelve months last March in company with his two grown up sons and within a short period, the trio secured employment in the workshops of the Schaake Machine company in this city.

Feeling the want of their mother, the sons wrote to the old country and asked her to join them in the golden west. This she did and the residence on Fourth street was secured and here the family ties were renewed, though it is said by neighbors that ruptures and rows were of frequent occurrence. Being of a jealous disposition, the coming to the home of lodgers seems to have widened the gap between husband and wife and despite the interference of the sons, repeatedly have they returned home from their day's labor to find their mother in tears and disconsolate at the treatment meted out to her by her husband.

For a while the pair were reconciled to each other, but Jobes' temper again got the upper hand of him and while it was not reported to the police at the time, it is given out that the husband threatened an attempt on the life of his wife some two weeks ago. A revolver, apparently bought for the purpose was after an early morning squabble, found by the woman who now lies dead and this weapon she gave to one of the lodgers, George Webster, who in turn handed it over to one of the sons.

Attempt at Reconciliation.

Doubtless finding that his sons were against him, and siding with their mother, Jobes removed the greater part of his wearing apparel and took up his quarters at the Guichon rooms, from which place he wrote thrice to his wife at Fourth street asking that he be forgiven for the manner in which he had been conducting himself, and promising that he would turn over a new leaf. While it cannot yet be ascertained if she replied to his communications, the surmise is that she refused to have anything more to do with the man who had treated her so harshly and this seems to have inflamed him.

He attended to his work, but drinking bouts showed only too plainly that he brooded over the estrangement from the woman to whom he had been married for twenty-five years. His letters showed that he had determined to be kinder to her than had been the case for a long while and the fact that she did not answer these had sent him into a passion.

Knowing the movements of the members of his family as well as those of the boarders at his home, Jobes bought a revolver from Specht's store on Front street on Friday night, giving as his excuse for desiring the weapon that he wished to destroy a number of rats. Coming back to the Guichon rooms apparently sober, he collected his clothes and minor belongings and hinted to the manageress there that he had procured work in Vancouver and would be leaving on the following morning for the Terminal City. That he had well laid out his program is evident from the fact that he did not go to work on Saturday morning, the foreman there having granted him leave for the day.

In the house at Fourth street, the wife and her sons had breakfast, after which both young men left for their employment. The elder son, William, when he was about to start his day's duties was spoken to by one of his mates on the matter of Jobes, his father, having bought a revolver the previous evening.

A Terrible Discovery.

Fearing that there might be something wrong and noting the absence of his father from his usual place,

VICTIM OF SHOOTING DIES IN HOSPITAL

The death occurred on Saturday at St. Paul's hospital, Vancouver, of D. E. G. Probert, who was shot by a man who had entered Probert's store at Whonnock ten days ago. The dead man had been aroused from his sleep by his business partners and although he had not time to rise from his bed before the armed man was upon him, he grappled with the intruder, who in a frenzy, shot at Probert's stomach, and then made good his escape. The injured man, who collapsed, was hurried to Vancouver and put under the care of the best surgeons in the Terminal City, but science could do nothing to save the life which flickered out on Saturday.

Despite the fact that posses of constables and others have been out daily searching for the robber-murderer, no trace of him has been found.

The missing man snatched at the chain and watch belonging to Probert and as this may be offered for sale and by doing so, help to entangle himself, it should be stated that the watch is a semi-hunter with a gold case. An inscription reads: "Presented to James Probert, Y. A. Z. O. R. Root Prize." It is said that the watch had been won by a member of Probert's family in the old country. The chain is of silver and of the Albert pattern, with a silver medal attached to the centre.

A Gale Story.

Chatham, June 4.—A farm horse tied near the Central Drug store reached out at the head of an unknown young woman, who was passing and pulled the rat from her hair. The screams of the lady brought the owner of the horse to the rescue, but the horse had devoured most of the rat before it could be taken way from him. The lady made a quick disappearance.

ENUMERATORS WILL HAVE EASIER TASK NOW

Capt. Peele Speaks of First Dominion Census Twenty Years Ago—Shared Duties with R. E. Gosnell.

This years's census will not involve th strenuous efforts known in years gone by in British Columbia. Even 20 years ago when Capt. Peele and R. E. Gosuell, now provincial archivist, took the first Federal census, with headquarters in Westminster, things were very different. Several times in the north the lives of the enumerators were in jeopardy among the Indians, and on many occasions they travelled through untrodden forests without finding a man to register. The census men kicked at the start, says Capt. Peele, with the remuneration offered, and it seemed likely there would be no counting of heads in this province, but ultimately an agreement was reached with headquarters, and the enumerators received $3 and expenses.

The government set aside $5000 in the bank to make a start with, and the commissioners had to exact strict account from their assistants of every expenditure. It was not till October that the matter was wound up, and the officers paid for their services. The province was divided up into five districts and men sent into the interior with letters of credit, most of them buying their supplies from the Hudson's Bay company's posts. The expenses ran so high that an auditor came to make investigations, but he found no trouble with Capt. Peele's accounts, the vouchers being in order. Other commissioners were not so successful, and delays occurred before the census could be completed. The total population of the province fell short of 100,000, about one-fifth being Indians. The captain thinks the Indians will make a better showing this year than ever before.

LOGGING CONGRESS TO VISIT FRASER MILLS

Many Valuable Papers Are to Be Read at the Gathering in Vancouver This Month.

Victoria, June 4.—The third session of the Pacific Logging congress will be held in the Imperial rink, Vancouver, on June 22-24. The program arranged for the occasion embraces topics of great interest to loggers on the Pacific coast.

Arthur J. Hendry, of the B. C. M. T. & T. Co., Vancouver, is the executive member of the congress for British Columbia. Addresses will be made by leading British Columbia lumbermen. A demonstration of the charpitting system for destroying stumps will be given Saturday afternoon, June 24, at the mill of the Canadian Western Lumber company at Fraser mills.

The congress opens on Thursday, June 22, in the Imperial rink, English Bay, with an address of welcome from J. A. Smith, president B. C. Loggers' Association, and the president's address by E. P. Blake, manager, Washington Log Brokerage company, Seattle. George M. Cornwall, Portland, secretary-treasurer, will present his report, committees will be named and the place of next meeting decided. Thursday afternoon and Friday morning and afternoon will be taken up with listening to and discussing papers. On Friday evening the congress will dine.

On Saturday morning the members will leave Vancouver on special electric cars for New Westminster, thence by steamer to the mill of the Canadian Western Lumber company, Ltd., at Fraser mills, where lunch will be tendered by the company. In the afternoon the charpitting demonstration by Prof. H. W. Sparks will take place.

GIRL IS MOLESTED ON PUBLIC THOROUGHFARE

Incident on Seventh Street May Have Sinister Import—Police Handicapped in Search.

The city police have been notified of an affair on Seventh street between Queens and third avenues, on Saturday evening which may have two aspects. Either an attempt to commit an outrageous assault was foiled, or some man was guilty of a gross piece of impudent folly.

Be this as it may, a young lady carrying a parasol was stopped there by a man wearing a white cloth over his face as a mask. In the struggle the parasol handle broke in two, but her cries spon brought aid to the lady. The miscreant finding himself discovered, slipped away in the darkness, pursued by a number of persons. However, he made good his escape, and the police have but a slender clue upon which to proceed.

This molestation on a public street at 10:30 p.m. may have some connection with an incident which occurred at a down town block, where a man attempted during Saturday night to force his unwelcome attentions on another girl, who had to summon assistance to have him removed from her room.

Any information leading to an arrest will be welcomed by the authorities, who have little to base their inquiries upon as yet in the absence of a description.

DROWNED IN STAVE RIVER.

Swimmer Left His Comrades Hanging to Canoe But Was Carried Away.

A drowning fatality is reported from Stave lake. S. Saunders, an employee of the Western Power company, lost his life on Friday through the capsizing of a canoe in which he was with three companions, when out on the river near the lake. Saunders left his companions hanging to the canoe, with the idea of swimming ashore, but was caught in an undertow. The body has not yet been recovered.

MODERN TENDENCIES CHECK TO CAPITAL

FEATURES OF AUSTRALIAN INDUSTRIALISM WHICH PROMISE BLACK FUTURE—IMMIGRATION POLICY ADVANCING.

Melbourne, June 4.—Some striking instances of what is known as the "slowing-down process," as practiced by Australian trade unionists, have lately been given publicity by Melbourne employers. Limitation of output as a device for increasing the demand for labor seems to be coming into great favor in Commonwealth trade union circles. Apparently the belief is that the amount of employment available at any time is a fixed quantity, and that the less each man does the better it will be for his fellows. It is the same fallacy which underlies the objection of the Labor party to immigration. Their view appears to be that Australia can provide just about enough work for the people already in it, and that every increase in the population will consequently to some extent reduce the dividend of each.

Forty-Four Hour Week.

Commenting on this tendency, the "Australasian" remarks that in an ultra-democratic community it is extremely discouraging to observe how incapable the great majority of the people seem to be looking beyond the length of their own noses. "The forty-eight hour week is already in some trades reduced to forty-four, and there is no knowing where it will stop. The tradesman who respects the Scriptural admonition by doing with his might any task falling to his hand is frowned on by his fellows. He is regarded as a bad unionist, and keeps others out of a job—in short, as a fool, incapable of appreciating the blessings of socialistic legislation. The disastrous effect which this vicious and dishonest doctrine must inevitably have on the character of the workmen is an aspect of the position which the union leaders never trouble their heads about."

Notwithstanding the short-sighted attitude of a section of Australians, the volume of immigration is steadily increasing. Some of the state governments, at all events, are fully alive to the urgency of the need for peopling the empty spaces, and are doing their best to tempt likely settlers. Under the stimulus Victoria is receiving a goodly stream of new-comers, and recently New South Wales was enterprising enough to charter a special steamer to convey immigrants, an example which it is suggested other states might follow with advantage. The West Australian Government have decided to make a special effort to draw to their territory the time-expired soldiers of the Indian army, of whom there are 10,000 available every year—splendid human material—which would make a valuable addition to the military strength of the Commonwealth.

From Western States.

There is also reason to believe that a large and welcome addition to Australia's farming class will be forthcoming from the western states of America. Settlers, it is pointed out, are needed, not only for development and for defence, but as consumers for the products of the factories. Under the impulse of a high tariff new factories have been built, existing ones have been enlarged, a large number of men and women, boys and girls, have been drawn into factory work by the attraction of short hours and regular wages, and very soon, unless population increases rapidly, the cry for consumers will become more and more urgent.

Don't Throw Away Your Earnings!

Make Them Take Care of You

What everybody is on the alert for is sound investment.

An investment is not a speculation.

If there were no investors there would be no progress, and without enterprise and progress, a community would become sleepy.

No man ever saved much on a salary. To get ahead you must look ahead and invest wisely with good people.

Dollars do not grow in your pockets. They must be put to work.

Here is the best opportunity open to the man of small means. It is knocking at your door.

Our first stockholder, after examining our property on Graham Island, says:

"I would not sell my shares in the company for five times their present price if I could not buy shares from the company at present price of 35c. the share."

The public are offered the opportunity for a few more days to acquire shares in The British Pacific Coal Company, direct from the Trustee, T. R. Morrow, at 35c per share in blocks of not less than 100 shares.

Terms of sale are: 10c a share cash with application, balance in three equal monthly payments.

Those who buy at 35c have the assurance that in the very near future the Trustee will place the next issue of shares in The British Pacific Coal Company on the market at 50c or 60c a share, which means that those who buy today at 35c will actually make 15c profit, or $150 if they hold 1000 shares.

Fullest information will be supplied if you are interested.

Call Tonight and see samples of the best Anthracite Coal in British Columbia. Open till 10 p.m.

Remember, the New Westminster office of T. R. Morrow, Trustee, is located at 421 Columbia St., New Westminster, B. C., and is open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily. (Travers' Real Estate Office)

Mrs. Maria Goertz, Orienta, Oklahoma, writes:

"My husband, children and myself have used your medicines, and we always keep them in the house in case of necessity. I was restored to health by this medicine, and Dr. Hartman's invaluable advice and books. People ask about me from different places, and are surprised that I can do all of my housework alone, and that I was cured by the doctor of chronic catarrh. My husband was cured of asthma, my daughter of earache and catarrh of the stomach, and my son of catarrh of the throat. When I was sick I weighed 100 pounds; now I weigh 140.

"I have regained my health again, and I cannot thank you enough for your advice. May God give you a long life and bless your work."

PROBABLE CHANGES IN FEDERAL MINISTRY

PARENT NOT LIKELY TO RETURN TO POLITICS; BELAND SLATED FOR POSTMASTER-GENERAL'S PORTFOLIO.

Ottawa, June 4.—The Free Press, the local government organ, discussing the rumored cabinet changes, says: " The report that Hon. L. P. Brodeur, minister of marine and fisheries, will go to the supreme court in the fall is revived, and it is probably just as likely now as it was last winter. It is one of those things which are possible but are not immediately probable. Much depends, of course, upon developments in political situation.

"If a dissolution is forced by the refusal of supply and the government is compelled to go to the country, there is every likelihood of a general cabinet shuffle, in which case Mr. Brodeur will go to the supreme court, but unless dissolution is forced there will be no cabinet changes for some time yet. In any event the report published outside of Ottawa that Hon. S. N. Parent, chairman of the National Transcontinental commission, would succeed Mr. Brodeur is ridiculous. It has no foundation. Mr. Parent is definitely out of politics.

"When the time comes for Mr. Brodeur to step down his place as minister of marine will be taken by Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux and the new minister from Quebec will likely be Dr. H. I. Beland, M. P. for Beauce. What portfolio will be assigned to him is yet a matter for the future, but that he is the next minister from Quebec is almost a certainty. "

"When dissolution comes, Sir Allen Aylesworth will retire and will probably be succeeded as minister of justice by Hon. Wm. Pugsley.

"This will leave both the post office and public works open, and there may be other vacancies or transfers when that time comes, but it can safely be asserted that there is no intention at present, at least, of making any changes in the cabinet, and the idea of Mr. Parent entering the cabinet can be dismissed at once. He has too much to do for the next few years in connection with the Transcontinental to abandon what he regards as the work of his life."

CLOUDBURSTS DEVASTATE SOUTHERN GERMANY

Berlin, May 31.—Cloudbursts, accompanied by heavy hail, caused great damage in South Germany today. Six houses in a village in the grand duchy of Baden were swept away by the floods and twelve persons were drowned. Four persons were drowned near Heidelburg, where a mill was washed away. Eight inches of rain fell at various places in the South, destroying the fruit trees and crops, and killing birds by the wholesale.

Bread and Jail Problem.

Toronto, June 1.—At the last council meeting Alderman Hilton, a baker, made a strong objection to the purchase of three-pound four-ounce loaves of bread for the jail. His objections were so strong against the city breaking the law, as he declared, that the council sent the matter back. John McMillan, jail steward, declares that the law compels the prisons to give each man eight ounces of bread, which cannot be done when the shrinage is allowed for.

WHEAT PROSPECTS PRESSAGE GOOD HARVEST

Argentina Will Make Record With Good Season—Fair Conditions in Europe.

Washington, June 4.—Crop prospects in most foreign countries are fairly satisfactory. The department of agriculture here so describes the situation. Partial failure of the corn crop in Argentine and Uraguary and the backward season in almost all Europe are the only untoward conditions.

A bumper crop of wheat may be had in Argentina if the season proves good. The acreage planted is probably the greatest in the country's history. The same is true of its acreage in flaxseed and oats. Argentina's crop, however, shows the smallest yield for years. Uruguary's small crop is a failure. Winter wheat seeding in Australia has been so interrupted by rain as greatly to decrease the area sown. Heavy yields of wheat and oil seeds in British India are indicated.

Spring wheat in Canada gives excellent promise. The seed was in the soil on May 1, over probably 80 per cent of the land to be sown.

Central Europe shows but fair conditions. Winter wheat is rated average in Germany, but rice is under average. Austria and Hungary report unsatisfactory conditions. Russia on the whole has fared very well with its cereals, they wintered well except in some ports of the south, where extensive replowings were necessary.

HALDANE SEEKS TO BE LORD CHANCELLOR

War Minister Would Have Office if Extreme Radicals Had Say—Objection to Loreburn.

London, June 4.—Hon. Richard B. Haldane, secretary for war, was raised to the peerage to assist Viscount Morley but thus far the newest Liberal Viscount has found that the affairs of the war office occupy most of his time.

He has a way in commons of overcoming the opposition of the government's critics and had a reputation of getting his way more often than any other member of the cabinet. This characteristic will make smoother his progress in the upper chamber.

Viscount Haldane's ambition is to become Lord Chancellor. If the extreme Radicals had their way he would be given that position immediately. Lord Loreburn, the present occupant of the position, an old-time and still staunch Radical in most respects, has given offence to the Liberal members of rural districts, by the presistency with which he appoints Conservatives to the magisterial bench, ignoring the claims of Liberals to those positions, which are greatly coveted by the country magnates. The government appointed committees in the various counties to advise the Lord Chancellor on these appointments, but despite this more Conservatives found their way to the bench than did Liberals.

Hon. Neil Primrose, the younger son of Lord Rosebery, is leading the attack on Lord Loreburn and has been trying to get the premier to appoint a day for the discussion of the whole question. The Lord Chancellor has created a rather uncomfortable position for the government, by, in his usual brusque way, declaring that the appointment of magistrates is the business of his office and practically intimating that if the Radicals are displeased they have the privilege of trying to dislodge him. This is the aim of Mr. Primrose and the anti-Loreburn party.

WYETH'S SAGE AND SULPHUR HAIR REMEDY

Here's the Proof

For two or three years my hair had been falling out and getting quite thin, until the top of my head was entirely bald. About four months ago I commenced using Sage and Sulphur. The first bottle seemed to do some good and I kept using it regularly, until now I have used four bottles. The whole top of my head is now fairly covered with hair and it keeps coming in thicker. I shall keep on using it a while longer, as I notice a constant improvement.

THE LIBERAL CAUSE.

The spirit of the Liberals throughout the New Westminster riding was never in a more healthy or buoyant condition than at the present moment The elements of disagreement and uncertainty have been dispersed and the whole body has been welded into one harmonious whole by the selection of Mr. J. W. Weart as Liberal candidate. The effect of the wise choice of the party executive upon the good cause has indeed been most rapid in attaining results that give the highest measure of satisfaction. Wherever Mr. Weart has appeared he has met with unanimous and unqualified acceptance, and his greeting has been in every way hearty and thorough. This very gratifying result was plainly evidenced upon the recent visit of the candidate to Mission.

The hearty welcome extended by the Liberals of this particular centre is, however, by no means confined thereto, as we have excellent reasons for knowing. Throughout the New Westminster district and the southern section of the riding extending through the Fraser valley, Mr. Weart has succeeded in making a thoroughly good impression and in winning every possible adherent to and sympathizer with the cause of the Liberal banner. We are satisfied that when, in the near future, the candidate has been able to visit the more distant parts of the riding he will meet with quiet as ample a measure of success and support as has already been accorded to him.

In order to ensure the success of the Liberal party in this division at the next election there now remains to be accomplished the perfection of the party organization. Good organization has always been and will always be the source of a party's success at the polls, and it is important that all the units and elements of the Liberal forces should be brought into line, and marshaled, as it were, ready for the next electoral contest.

Towards this end the heads of the party are now devoting their energies. As a centre for the carrying out of this important work a handsome new building to serve as the headquarters of the party is to be erected on a site in the heart of New Westminster. Here will be provided a spacious hall for meetings, apartments for a Liberal club, and offices for a permanent secretary, who will undertake the entire management and control of the work of organization throughout the riding. The plans now being prepared will also provide for a number of general offices and stores, the income from which will ensure an ample margin of profit.

The provision of such a headquarters and the establishment of an organizing force is again largely due to the spirited initiative of the Liberal candidate, who, apart from his political strength and capabilities is also a thorough business man. It is indeed his qualiites of keen business ability and activity which serve to endow Mr. Weart with exceptional advantages as our candidate, and give a brightness of aspect to the Liberal cause such as it has never before possessed. He is indeed a standard-bearer around which all the elements and forces of Liberalism in the New Westminster riding will rally without fear, doubt or uncertainty.

MR. WELSH'S RESIGNATION.

We very much regret the announcement of the resignation of Mr. C. A. Welsh from the managership of the Westminster Lacrosse Club.

During his regime, our team has met with wonderful success; we cannot forget how in 1908, Mr. Welsh cast aside all business affairs to pilot our team, then practically an unknown quantity, back east and wrested from the champions of the N. L. U. the Minto Cup, emblematic of the championship of the world.

For three years the cup has remained in our city, a token of the prowess of our boys, and at the present time stronger teams than ever are on the attack to obtain possession. During the past few years Mr. Welsh's straight and square decisions have always given the greatest amount of satisfaction, not only to New Westminster, but also to our rival teams, his reputation among the eastern teams is second to none, and we feel deeply concerned that owing to pressure of business Mr. Welsh has decided to resign.

Wife Shot Dead

William was permitted to leave for the day and proceeded at a run for his home. Passing Tipperary, he came face to face with his father, who by his cool manner put the son off his guard that at this moment his mother was lying dead. Without betraying any emotions, the father enquired where the son was going and the reply that "Oh, I've just got two hours off" also seemed to offset the thoughts of the elder man.

The climb from the meeting point to the home on Fourth street was taken at a fast rate and the scene which confronted the young man almost beggars description. In the small kitchen and in close proximity to the stove lay the body of Mrs. Jobes, and a pool of freshly spilt blood told plainly that a murder of the most gruesome nature had been done. From the position of the dead body, and the broken plate which was near by, Mrs. Jobes had been in the act of clearing up the breakfast things in the room. Also from the position, it is conjectured that there had been no words exchanged betwee had been no words exchanged between the pair, and that immediately he found his wife alone he apparently opened fire and sent three shots into her head, any of which was sufficient to cause instantaneous death. Neighbors plainly heard the shots, but no cries rang out and seeing that the foul and dastardly deed was completed, and finding none to obstruct his path, it seems Jobes coolly left the house and walked off in the direction of the Guichon rooms.

The almost demented son hurried to Dr. Kenny's and the medical man telephoned to the police station. Chief Bradshaw, who was having breakfast, called Police Constable Johnston and together they went to the home of death and collected information as to the description of the father. Captain Pittendrigh was likewise summoned and decided to hold the inquest this morning at half past ten o'clock. Police officers were detailed to search all outgoing cars and vehicles as well as local hotels in the hope of finding a man answering the description, but these searches resulted only in the alleged murderer getting a good start on his pursuers. Telephonic messages were sent not only to Vancouver, but to all outlying points where he might have gone, but no word came back that any one answering to the description had been captured.

The chief, with Jailer Charles Pittendrigh, the two sons of the murdered woman, and a friend went over to Vancouver before midday and assisted by the officers of that city made a visit to the hotels and along the waterfront in that city, but the man for the time being seems to have made his plans secure, and up until time of going to press, no word of his arrest has come to hand.

Guichon Rooms,
New Westminster.

"Dear Wife,—I am alone in this world. Can you not forgive me this time, for God's sake. It is enough to drive me mad. Try and make up your mind for this once. I will never do anything to vex you again. Do try and forgive me. I know that your life has not been a pleasant one ever since I took the drink, but I have given it up. Only forgive me this time and God will bless you. From your loving husband, Henry Jobes.

"I love you; I could not live without you. Write and let me know what to do, if you please."

On the authority of the chief of police, a number of photographs of the dead woman, and the scene of the tragedy were taken by a local man, these being for the purpose of the pending judicial enquiries.

Late yesterday the official description of the missing man, Henry Jobes was put in the hands of the printers and this morning these will be scattered broadcast so that the various authorities in the United States and Canada will be in possession of the details which have been sifted out under the supervision of those who know the hunted man well.

Jobes should be easily recognizable, as apart from being built on small lines—he stands but five feet four and a half inches—he has only three teeth and these being widely apart give him a noticeable appearance. Without his moustache, Jobes should be also a marked individual, his face being heavily scared.

A rumor which lost nothing by the telling was spread around the city yesterday evening that a body had been found at the B. C. E. R. wharf, but when a News representative arrived there, it was found that one of the undertakers were despatching a casket up river, and had brought this down overnight so as to be in readiness for shipment this morning.

The inquest is to be opened at the undertaking rooms of Murchie & Son at 10:30 today.

showing, had the time of his life with the Westminster boys, and although he occasionally got away with the goods he repeatedly was left thinking as to how the visitors managed to hoodwink him.

W. Turnbull looked like equalizing, and with only Clarke to master, he had the Royal enthusiasts standing on their feet in expectancy. The point was not to be at this time, however, as Bun caught the flying ball nattily and relieved the tension. Fitzgerald and Ladonde gave an example of gallery play which not only wasted much valuable time but was uncalled for at this period of the game. Lalonde after sizing up the position muddled the ball and Rennie cleared.

Visitors Fail to Equalize.

The ball still remained at the Westminster end, and Bones Allen banged at Gray and at short range, Sandy without any effort accepted the shot and sent to Galbraith, who in turn swung over to Howard, but Vancouver continued to press, and the goal looked like again falling as Allen came dangerously near and the ball from his stick came nearer, only skimming past the left upright. The game was momentarily stopped the while, Referee Gray searched for a chcek which he presented to Rennie for fouling Lalonde. Grumpy Spring, on the game being resumed went off on his own to the opposition camp and when within striking distance pass to Pat Feeney, who threw in a ball which looked like kissing the back net. Clarke grabbed hold, however, at the critical moment and again play was in midfield. Fast passing and repassing brought the ball to Westminster's end and here our defence showed that the barrier to be beaten through was a stiff one. Allen closely checked by Galbraith beat our man to it, but this was but for a brief space as Gally in a scrimmage, grounded over to Will Turnbull and the latter was careering to the other end with Mathieson on his heels. The equalizing goal was not to be yet, as when in close proximity to Clarke, Rennie mulled his shot and Bun backed up by his defence cantered round the net and cleared. The scene of operations was changed to the other end of the field and here Bones sent in a great shot, but the rubber sailed over the cross bar after being tipped by Gray on the end of his stick.

West, for deliberately tripping, was given a five minutes rest on the bench—or where the bench should be—and immediately afterwards the gong rang for a cessation of play, Vancouver leading by the only goal scored in the opening quarter.

Second Quarter.

Immediately after the face-off, Wintemute got away and Len Turnbull caught up a high pass and within fifteen seconds Vancouver's goal was surrounded. A number of fast exchanges was indulged in by the visitors and Grumpy Spring banged into the net, Clarke being powerless to save the lightning like speed of the ball, which lay in the net after twenty-five seconds work. Back again to centre field, face-off and down again to Clarke was the procedure, faster than it takes to write the words. Again Grumpy was given possession for the parting shot and like his first point he sent the ball into and past Bun and the leading goal was registered. Playing somewhat cautiously, Vancouver deliberated ere sending the ball on its final journeys and Fitzgerald, who had a number of openings, hung on until his field came up with him for support. In one of his clashes, he was met by Tommy Gifford, the hasty and perhaps rough introductions resulting in both taking a rest off the field, Fitz for ten minutes and Gifford, half that period. This had the effect of clearing the air for a bit. Nothing daunted, Vancouver came back and sent in four shots in rapid succession, but Gray was there with the goods and a stout stick and nullified all attempts made by the near champions to get even on the score card. Harry Godfrey, who had been lying low in the previous play, was to the fore in some brilliant play and his passing to Allen was well timed and certainly worthy of the applause which greeted his efforts. Allen from one of these offerings nearly got through, Galbraith alone being responsible for the sudden stoppage. The Westminster representative for hammer play was the recipient of a five minute brass. When a resumption was made, Howard, who had been checking Lalonde in a splendid manner, made a clearance and the ball, which had been hovering around the Royals' net too long for the liking of the visiting fans, was removed to the far end of the field, Feeney and Mathieson, as the result of a little tiff, were given ten minutes to cool off, and this put the teams on an even basis, each now playing ten men. Lalonde made two efforts to draw level, but he was not backed up as he desired and the ball went wide. Godfrey to Fitz gave the homesters another likely chance, but Gray scooped the ball from only a few feet out and cleared to Galbraith, who had just returned, while Jimmy Gifford held Lalonde safely, the eastern player being nonplussed repeatedly by the fast work of the Westminster defence man. Exchange at this point slowed down the play of the first quarter having taken the steam out of the boys. Wintermute and Godfrey had a scrimmage for the ball which rolled against the fence and among the spectators who helter-skeltered when the players looked like making their presence a bit course. The sticks seemed to be in all directions and after a close series of biffs and bangs, Godfrey had the better of the melee and West catching up the message from fifteen yards swung off on his ugly gait but Cliffe was after him and nullified his final shot. The referee cautioned Lalonde for tactics which were not deemed serious enough to put him off. A treble play by Westminster took the rubber to Clarke and had the final shot been a trifle stronger the goal would have fallen. As it was Clarke saved only after an effort which sent him to the ground. Nick Carter for rough play went off as Feeney and Mathison returned, but the remainder of this quarter was dull. The majority of the players eased up as if waiting for the following quarter which would tell the tale. Weak passing from both combinations whilst closely watched resulted in a waste of time and the gong which sounded was a relief to players and spectators alike.

Third Quarter.

From the face-off West took the rubber to the visitors' end and here Fitzgerald looked like a scorer, but he missed a golden opportunity as a moment when things looked bad for the Royals. Galbraith was the man who was responsible for clearing and Fitz possibly savage at the point which was not to be charged at Will Turnbull, monentarily stunning the home defence player. A breathing space revived him and play was again centred at Gray's end of the field. Fitzgerald not to be outdone made attempts to weave in and but for the ball jumping his stick at a critical moment it is almost safe to say that our goal would have fallen, as the Vancouver player had a golden chance. West was in the spotlight for a series of splendid plays, but eventually he was beaten by Cliff Spring and the tensi,on relieved. Spring's passes to Jimmy Gifford were not lost on the crowd which came out whole-heartedly for the splendid manoeuvres executed by the champions.

Sandy Gray was kept busy repelling shot after shot and the game at this juncture was being maintained at a high pressure, every player showing of what stuff he was made. It was now a matter of success to those who could last the longest. Gray, Feeney and Howard seemed to be a wall at the mouth of the goal and this trio it was for a time impossible to break through. Adamson, following the example of Fitzgerald, tried to get inside the lines, but he too had to go the way of his playmate and Gray proved that he was second to none in his masterly stopping of the attacks.

Once the custodian of the world's champions footed out the ball from a prone position and this brought cheers from the multitude. Grumpy Spring collided with Godfrey, but he was up and doing well inside of sixty seconds. Wintemute and Ions, far removed from the actual location of play, were ordered off for ten minutes for an infringement of rules. It was alleged that the Westminster player smashed Ion's stick, but acting as in the past, Referee Gray sent both to the outside lines. Immediately after this objectionable scene, Lalonde and Galbraith incurred the wrath of Gray and they were penalized for twenty minutes. Although handicapped by the absence of their fellows, play continued fast and Vancouver continued to press, twice feeling out Gray with stinging shots which he safely sent out and to safety. A hard shot which made dents on the right of the goal was brought back by Adamson but Howard repelled the attack and the third interval came with a pointless quarter.

Fourth Quarter.

A strong sun was blinding to Sandy Gray and his position was not an enviable one. The ball travelled swiftly from the face off and Fitzgerald close in, baffled Johnny Howard and scored the equalizing goal amidst a wild scene. Feeney on the restart, sent to Jimmy Gifford, but the latter in a long pass to Wintemute shot wide and after a struggle for possession, Mathieson came out on top. The ball went from one end of the field to the other in rapid fashion, the plays being conducted at the top speed of the twenty-four players. Gray narrowly averted his goal falling, being able to glance the ball off the end of his stick when it looked like going to the net. Rennie, Bill Turnbull and Spring made a fast play and this resulted in the custodian of the home lot having a lively time. The exchanges for over a minute looked like resulting in a goal being registered, but Pickering and Griffiths got the rubber away and again Vancouver took up the attack. Jimmy Gifford was responsible for Ions going to a brief slumber, and Referee Gray in turn was responsible for Gifford going to the fence for five minutes. The Vancouver player could not have been badly hurt as he came to and more than held his end up. Attended by Billy West, he made circles round his opponents and Graying shading the rays of the sun from his face with one hand could not get into position to rebutt the attack. West took charge of the final placing of the ball and getting close in he swung into the net, placing his boys one up and twelve minutes to go. Again Sandy Gray was called upon to clear his ground and right well did he answer to the summons. Vancouver were doing all the attacking and on the few visits made to Vancouvers end, the goal was flanked by a band which it was well nigh impossible to burst up. Adamson stopped a flying ball in its course across the field and as quick as a greased flash of lightning he transferred operations to the opposing end where he beat Gray with a low shot which mowed down what few blades of grass were permitted to remain standing. When the play was resumed and being conducted at Westminster's end Feeney and Ions were having an argument which was only stopped by the appearance on the field of Mayor Taylor, chief of the detective force and friends of the delinquents. In the result, names were taken and a prosecution hinted at in the courts. With but seven minutes to play, both were ordered off for the remainder of the match and this doubtless had a deal to do with the after exchanges. Len Turnbull, who had not been showing anything approaching his best form missed a glorious chance to score, but he was robbed when in a tackle.

Excitement was keen and the plays were eager and fast. Visits were made to both ends of the field, but no further scoring resulted and the match concluded in favor of Vancouver by four goals tot two.

A low scoring game, a threatened prosecution, and a disgraceful exhibition of animosity to Wells Gray in his capacity of referee sum up the situation at Recreation park on Saturday. The crowd showed its usual partiality to the Vancouver bunch, and wanted the referee to send the visiting boys to the fence for every trifle. Hence the despicable booing which received Gray every time he came to the grand stand. Perhaps the association will be forced against its will to go back to judges of play. The best referee who has lived can't see every detail, and when it comes to questionable tactics such as almost always mark these games another official is badly wanted. Whether there can be found another man to hold the whistle remains to be seen. At the present time it is hard enough to get referees to act in the professional games.

The day was ideal for a big crowd, and at least ten thousand must have been present, including a good sprinkling from here in the bleachers. Vancouver fans must learn not to throw their cushions about, or else someone is going to get hurt. A fine encouragement for ladies to attend! What is the use of notices if they are not obeyed, and the police take no steps to prevent this Hooliganism at the end of the match.

The score might easily have been equally shared between the opposing teams, as Gray was handicapped with the sun in his eyes, and Westminster had an even share of the passing and home play. Howard exhibited a bright defence game, rightly leaving the field work to George Rennie. The boring tactics of Adamson and Allen supplemented by the brute strength of Lalonde worried Tommy Gifford and Charlie Galbraith, but they held close on to their men. The Salmon Bellies' home did not seem so quick to take advantage of openings as usual, but on the whole each of the boys were closely checked, and neither Griffiths nor Pickering spared their sticks. George Matheson put in some useful runs, and if one of the few Vancouver home brews demonstrated that the home-raised variety might play a different style to Con Jones' Minto cup aspirants. A glimpse of the fire which the champions can put into the game when they try came early in the second quarter when Grumpy Spring scored twice at a few seconds' interval.

As the incident between Feeney and Ions may be discussed in another place reference cannot be made here, but perhaps more firmness in the courts when recourse has to be made to the law would give strength to cautions like that of Mayor Taylor. If such a decision was reached the matches, if not exactly pink tea affairs, would approximate a little less to the style of gladiatorial contests.

Of the two hours and a half that players spent at the fence their dubious honors were about evenly divided. The practice of laying off men from both sides for dirty tactics tends to eliminate rotten work, and check retaliation. The broken stick legend of which much was heard last week will unfortunately not be permitted to die as a similar incident occurred in this game. Who was responsible is alone known to the actual participants, but Referee Gray sent the two principals to the fence to cool off.

SHOOTING.

At the Brownsville ranges on Saturday afternoon, the regular weekly shoot of the Westminster Civil Rifle association was held with the following results:

	200	500	600	Ttl
J. H. Yidal	32	31	23	86
A. F. Menzies	29	28	28	85
W. F. McNeil	27	28	27	82
W. G. Wooster	30	25	23	78
V. H. C. Abbott	31	29	17	77

The next shoot will be held on Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock. Those who are unable to attend on the Saturday meets are reminded that should a sufficient number attend on Wednesdays, regular prizes will be offered for competition and these mid-week competitions made standing fixtures.

BASEBALL.

An Unfinished Struggle.

The Maple Leafs and Balmorals were to have faced each other on the diamond Saturday at Moody square, and a fair crowd attended in the hope of watching a keenly contested series of plays. Although the weather gave signs of breaking, the Leafs went in to bat and had safely careered round the square twice when Jup. Plus, for no special reason saw fit to butt in and call a halt. The leaders aver that their two runs represented but the beginning of ever so many more, while the Bals contend that they (the Bals.) were simply trying them out to see what they (the Leafs) could really do. These opinions still hold, and the next meeting should be worth witnessing.

DESPITE the fact that two meetings have been called for the purpose of settling up the recently concluded commercial billiard league championship, only one captain put in an appearance. This laxity is not surely a compliment to those who worked so hard for the success of the meeting, or is the right thing by the generous citizen who, unasked, presented valuable gold medals for competition. Many are too prone once an event of this nature is settled to forget all about the after consequences, or to trouble about future series. It is a pity when one finds this class, and I would rather believe that the respective captains of the teams had not seen the notice which appeared in both local papers calling a meeting for last Wednesday night. The acting secretary would like to get in touch with those who immediately prior to the close of the tournament, signified their willingness to act on the committee which had the arrangements for the banquet in hand. As one of the players who took part in the series of interesting games, I would be pleased to give any assistance in the matter, and I feel that there are other sueists (or alleged) who would do the same. The medals have to be presented and surely the spread does not require to cost a small fortune. Let's hustle, boys, and see what can be accomplished by sacrificing a few minutes one night in the forthcoming week and pay honor to whom honor is due. Either Bert Fletcher or Scotty Grant will inform the secretary the moves on the board and the matter can be concluded after a brief jawfest.

Gold and Silver Act.

Toronto, June 4.—Gordon Mackay & company, the well-known wholesale firm, were fined $25 by Judge Winchester on a charge of violating the gold and silver marking act. It appeared from the evidence of Inspector Ryan that in their catalogue they guaranteed that a gold filled necklace would wear for a year. Under section sixteen of the act it is an offence to guarantee that any gold filled or plated article will wear for any specified time. The judge was not anxious to impose a severe penalty, as the offence was probably committed in ignorance of the law.

NEW REICHSTAG WILL BE SELECTED

PRESENT ADMINISTRATION HAS HAD CHECKERED CAREER—HOTLY CONTESTED ELECTION PROMISED.

Berlin, June 4.—The reichstag which resumed its sessions this month is still busy with important legislation, including the bill to consolidate the three systems of workmen's insurance which was taken up on second reading after a long year in committee. The forthcoming elections, however, overshadow every other interest and deliberations are being conducted and speeches made, according to the German phrase, "through the windows," with reference to their effect on the impending struggle. The elections, which a few months ago, were promised for this spring, have been repeatedly put off and according to present intimations will now be held at the latest possible date late in January, the present reichstag being permitted to live out its entire constitutional term.

Political Changes.

It has had a most checkered career, beginning its existence under the auspices of the Liberal- Conservative "Unholy Alliance" of Conservatives, Anti-semites and National Liberals, devised by Prince von Buelow to oppose the long dominant clerical centre, and carried on, after the collapse of this block upon the financial legislation of 1909 and the fall of Buelow, by the chancellor, von Bethmann-Hollweg, with a loosely-jointed coalition of Conservatives, Clericals and Anti-semites. This arrangement has worked fairly well, in spite of predictions of an early break-down and dissolution two years ago.

Parties Break Up.

For several months, the various parties have been nominating their candidates and arranging alliances with other organizations. The National Liberals and the Radical Progressive party, have arranged to support common candidates in the greater part of the empire. and to make their fight on the so-called "two-front" basis—In other words, opposing the Conservatives and Clericals in one direction, and the Socialists in the other. The Conservatives and Clericals will pull together, avoiding useless nominations where they can secure the election of the other party's candidate by assistance on the first ballot. Bebel has announced the policy of the Socialists to be the nomination of a candidate in every district, in order to get as imposing a general vote as possible, but in reballots his party will evidently assist the Liberals as against the government parties. It will be a hotly contested election.

CURIOUS OLD FOSSIL WRECKED BY TORNADO

Ottawa, June 1.—News of a loss, through the recent tornado in Kansas, to the Geological Survey of Canada, has been received by Professor R.W. Brock, director of the Geological Survey of Canada.

Some time ago, the survey acquired a rare and beautiful fossil, found on the plains of Kansas. It was of phenomenal size—about seven feet square—and bore the tracings of some long extinct reptile of the dinosaurian type, picturing the beast to the minutest hairs and clefts in its tough hide.

The fossil was to have been an important acquisition to the Dominion fossil collection, but, fate ruled otherwise. The fossil was being mounted ready for shipment to Ottawa, and subsequent display, when a fierce tornado howled its way across the plains of Kansas, knocking over the rare animal and smashing the stratified rock with its unique tracings to smithereens.

HUGE RESERVOIR FOR OLD LONDON

London, June 4.—London will shortly come into the possession of an other large reservoir holding a thousand million gallons of water, and covering 120 acres. This new artificial lake, which will be opened in the summer, is situated in Surrey, about 12 miles from the city. It will be one of the largest reservoirs constructed in Eurape, and has taken nearly three years to complete.

The actual work of building the reservoir has cost about $760,000, the engines, pumps and turbines about $250,000. The connecting river between the Thames and the pumping station, which is a quarter of a mile long, 22 feet wide and eight feet deep, cost, with the pumping station, just about $350,000.

With the exception of the concrete lining the inner slope of the embankment wall, the work is ended. This lining will, however, be completed very shortly and the great reservoir will be filled and ready for use.

WOMAN DRIVEN FROM HOME BY BANDITS

Trinidad, Colo., June 4.—The report that Robert Sweasey was recently burned at the stake in Mexico, has been confirmed in all its horrible details by the receipt of a letter by Mrs. Joseph Bonateo, jr., of this city, from Mrs. Sweasey. The women are sisters.

The letter states that Sweasey was put to death at the stake by Mexican bandits on May 16, for failure to give them money they knew he had. Mrs. Sweasey writes she was driven from her home and was without food and shelter for fifty hours, but finally reached the camp of friendly Americans. Sweasey was superintendent of the Mexican Central railroad.

SHERLOCK HOLMES RIVALLED BY FILMS

PARIS POLICE TO USE NEW DETECTIVE IN CHAMPAGNE RIOTS CASE—VARIED OPINIONS AS TO MERITS.

Paris, June 4.—Sherlock Holmes and all that galaxy of dead-eye detectives have been entirely outdone for cocksureness in arresting culprits and gathering evidence against them. The new hero is the motion picture machine. "Detective Cinema," as the French call him. And thereby hangs an awful row.

During the "champagne riots" in the Marne and the Aube districts, several Paris firms of motion pictures sent operators down there for "news pictures." These firms are vying with the daily newspapers here for telling the news, and when a startling event happens in the afternoon, the boulevard motion picture theatres the next day show it in all its details. Paris newspapers usually are a day later than this. The "champagne riots" made a good "story," and the cinematograph "editors" went for it strong.

It happens that the police were eager to make arrests of many engaged in the riots, especially those who took the lead and set fire to or plundered champagne cellars and warehouses. Evidence was hard to get together, that is evidence that was indisputable, for in crowds of 20,000 or 30,000 people it was hard to say that this man and that man did the dirty work.

Use of Pictures.

But when the motion pictures began to unroll their films to public gaze, a brilliant idea struck the police. They visited several performances, taking with them a few old inhabitants who were personally acquainted with all the folks in the surrounding country. As the show proceeded, first one, then another of the men would exclaim:

"Oh, look! There's Pierre Durand setting fire to the warehouse?"

"And there's Eugene Marcelle, Tomas Toutee, Georges Lapauze, Alphonse Ganay, Gaston Roger, etc., battering down the doors of the Bubbly Wine company!"

The police wrote down these names, and later made wholesale arrests. The motion picture films will be introduced in court as evidence at the trials of these unhappy people, this being the first time in history a criminal proceeding had for an "eye-witness" a motion picture machine.

Opinion Divided.

Opinion is greatly divided as to the worth of this new detective. Chief Hamard, of the Paris detective bureau, declares even this evidence is not conclusive, though he regards it as very important. While a single picture might be snapped to show a perfectly innocent man in an attitude utterly condemnatory, a series of pictures would not permit of this. At the same time even motion pictures may be faked.

"Many a time I have seen photographic tricks of the kind exposed," the chief smiled. "Alleged detectives go to a husband and say: 'Sir, your wife is false to you.' 'Never!' says the husband. 'Certainly,' replies the hold-up man, 'and here's the picture which proves it!' He produces a photograph, seemingly genuine, of the man's wife emerging from a house, holding the arm of a male escort. The trickster has simply substituted on the negative the face of a man's wife for the face of the woman who posed for the picture, dressed like the man's wife dressed."

WIRELESS FROM CAPE BRETON TO AFRICA

Halifax, N. S., June 1.—Communication has been established between Cape Breton and Africa, and a message sent from the Glace Bay Marconi station direct to the Eiffel Tower, Paris, has been relaid within one hour to Daker, on the coast of Western Africa.

A large staff of operators are on duty, handling press and commercial business sent for the old country, and that transmitted from the mother country.

Sold Ice Cream on Sunday.

Kingston, June 4.—A fine of $10 and costs was imposed upon D. Campbell, proprietor of the Grosvenor restaurant, Princess street, by Police Magistrate Farrell for the illegal sale of ice cream on Sunday. The decision of the magistrate was that a person could not sell ice cream or soda water in a room devoted for that purpose alone, even though in another room regular meals were served. An appeal will be taken.

GOVERNMENT STOP SALE OF A BUNYAN RELIC

London, June 4.—The sale of John Bunyan's copy of Fox's "Book of Martyrs," with which the former consoled himself while in Bedford Prison, was stopped at Sotheby's by order of Sir Rufus Isaacs, the attorney-General. This action on the part of the government was the result of the outcry that the work should not be sold, but that it should be preserved as a national possession. The attorney-general is considering the question of the legality of the action of the trustees of the Bedford Literary Institute in ordering the sale.

The history of the volumes can be traced back to 1780. They were purchased by public subscription for $225 in 1841 and presented to the Bedford Literary institute.

HELP FOR OLD BACKS THAT ACHE

GIN PILLS Cure Them

Age is no barrier to the wonderful, soothing, healing properties of GIN PILLS, the great Canadian Kidney Cure. We have on record many letters from men and women of 60, 65, 70, 75, 80 and over, testifying to the great relief they received from taking GIN PILLS.

Mr. Samuel Martin of Strathroy, Ont. suffered for twenty years with misery in his back. Some months ago, he tried GIN PILLS and after taking only three boxes, was entirely cured. Mr. Martin is now 85 years of age and enjoys the robust health of a vigorous man of sixty, thanks to GIN PILLS.

All elderly people are troubled, more or less, with Kidney and Bladder Trouble, and pain and weakness in the back. GIN PILLS are a guaranteed cure for all these misfortunes. Money promptly refunded if they fail to give complete satisfaction.

CITY NEWS

The first meeting of the citizens picnic committee for making arrangements in connection with the annual outing has been called for tonight at the board of trade room at 8 p.m.

Will the party who took a package of sewing machine needles and writing paper from Vancouver car on Wednesday evening kindly return same to J. H. Todd's music store. **

Among those who motored over to lunch at the Russell hotel were Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Ward, of Vancouver, Mrs. S. D. Ward, and Miss Highton, of Whitehaven, England.

For spring plants and cut flowers phone Davies and Son, florists. Phone 897. **

Rev. S. T. Bartlett, secretary of Sunday schools and Epworth leagues in the west, gave addresses during yesterday at Sixth avenue, Sapperton and Queens avenue Methodist churches.

The adjourned annual meeting of the W. C. T. U. for the election of officers will be held this afternoon at three o'clock at Queens avenue Methodist church parlors.

Doctors Holmes, Hacking and MacSween, dental surgeons, have moved their offices from the Collister block to the Cliff block, corner of Sixth street and Clarkson. **

The funeral will take place today from the Roman Catholic church to the Roman Catholic cemetery of George Linnett, a three months' old son of A. Linnett, of 310 Eleventh street. Bronchitis was the cause of death.

The attraction at the opera house this evening will be the "Winning Miss," an opportunity for those who like a strong chorus and catchy songs. It supplies amusement which will meet with genuine approval from the audience rather than praise from the critical, but withal assuring a merry evening.

At the residence of Mrs. T. L. Briggs, Royal avenue, a lecture to which ladies are invited will be given by Miss MacKinney, formerly a missioner in India under the auspices of the Zenana Missionary society. The meeting is called for 8 p.m. today. On Friday Mrs. de Pencier held a reception for the lecturer at the See house.

At the residence of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Buchanan on Saturday afternoon the wedding was solemnized of J. B. Roberts, solicitor, of Calgary, Alta., and Miss Bernice A. Killoran, of this city. Rev. R. Wallace Collins, of the West End Presbyterian church, officiated, the bride being gowned in white chiffon with satin trimmings. After the honeymoon, which will be spent in Victoria and the sound cities, Mr. and Mrs. Roberts will take up their residence in Calgary.

SPORTSMEN WILL BE GLAD OF J. B. JOEL'S VICTORY

Jack Barnato Joel, the South African diamond mine owner and multimillionaire, has had his desire of many years fulfilled, and by winning the Derby on Wednesday his name will be handed down to followers of the king of sport for all time. J. B., as he is known to those who mix with the higher sporting set in the old country, has thrice endeavored to land the winner of the blue ribbon of the turf, but despite the outlay of huge sums of money and which he could well afford to spend, this has been the first occasion upon which he has been successful.

No true sportsman will begrudge Joel his victory. He is one of the finest sportsmen in the land over the seas, and all branches of athletics command his attention.

Despite the fact that he has been through all manner of hairbreadth escapades in South Africa when the diamond boom landed him a winner, financially for all time to come, Joel is highly strung and an instance of this may at this time be recalled. During some boxing bouts at the old Shoreditch baths in the east end of London, he was present with a number of members of the London Stock exchange and was one of the most interested and excited spectators at the ringside. In the heavyweight competitions he was particularly struck by the performance of a city policeman, who, although the decision went against him, put up a hard battle for supremacy. Joel asked that the boy in blue be sent for and on the constable-athlete coming forward, the millionaire offered him a twenty-five dollar bill (£5). It was pointed out that this procedure was against the amateur law, but nothing daunted, J. B. coolly took out a costly gold cigarette case studded with diamonds and asked the "copper's" acceptance of this as a reminder of how an enthusiast had enjoyed the sport provided, by a man who had contested for the sheer love of the art.

This is but one instance of the kind heart of Joel for sport. Yearly he donates trophies for all manner of athletics and the Joel cups for football and kindred pastimes are legion.

Heirloom Cheeses.

In some parts of Switzerland it is said that chesses form family heirlooms, which are sometimes handed down from one generation to another. At Les Ormonts, in the canton of Vaud, it is customary to make special cheese for certain family feasts. They are tagged with explanatory labels and eaten several years later, at other feasts, or even at funerals. Recently, at Les Ormonts, in a concealed shelter, there was discovered a cheese dating from 1785. It was as hard as a rock and had to be cut with a saw. It is reported to have tasted good.

THE WESTMINSTER MODERN BUSINESS SCHOOL

If you will place yourself under our instruction we will not only teach you bookkeeping, shorthand and typewriting from a practical standpoint, but will supply you with a "B.-L." that will satisfy the business man of your ability to "make good."

Day Session the Entire Year.
