MEXICO IN PANGS OF ANOTHER REVOLUTION

Supporters of General Felix Diaz Hold Vera Cruz—Federals Cut off Communication with Interior. Wholesale Desertion of Troops. Foreign Consuls Cable for Aid--American Cruiser Arrives—Chaos in the Capital.

Vera Cruz, Oct. 20.—The United States cruiser Des Moines, in command of Captain Charles F. Hughes, arrived last night. Today an officer from the warship visited General Felix Diaz and arranged an interview on behalf of Captain Hughes. General Diaz then visited the Des Moines where the American captain and the leader of the new revolt had a large conference, the nature of which has not been divulged.

While the Diaz revolutionists hold the city and the federals have taken up positions on the outskirts, there has been no coming together of the two opposing forces. The feeling of anxiety among foreign residents has been considered probable that a battle, if it is fought, will take place beyond the city limits.

Leave for Mexico City.

The German and Russian ministers to Mexico who arrived here on the steamer Serugancia, left today for Mexico City on a special train supplied by General Diaz. The German and Russian consuls traveled with them part of the way.

In the firing last night between the gunboats and Uluoa fort, a man operating the searchlight on a gunboat was killed.

The Ward line steamer Serugancia on her arrival yesterday was warned by Commodore Azueta, in command of the gunboats still loyal to the Mexico government, not to discharge its cargo. Today Captain Jones, of the steamer, was ordered by the company to unload and declares his intention of doing so. The Serugancia has on board arms and ammunition for the government which, if landed will be seized by General Diaz. Great interest centres in the attitude Commodore Azueta will assume in connection with the discharge of the cargo and what measures will be adopted by the Des Moines.

Take Off Spaniards.

Two other American warships are expected to reach here at any time. The Spanish consul has sent out wireless messages to passing steamers to proceed here to take aboard Spanish subjects in case of a bombardment.

The revolutionists now hold all the strategic points within the city with a thousand seasoned soldiers, who have deserted to the Diaz banner and several hundred volunteers. The federal troops occupy a position ten miles beyond the outskirts of the city, thereby cutting off communication with the interior.

The French, Portuguese, Spanish, Italian and British consuls, realizing the gravity of the situation, have urgently cabled their governments to send protecting gunboats.

Port Is Captured.

Alvarado, a minor port about 30 miles south of Vera Cruz, was captured last night by Major Zerape, a revolutionary officer. Tuxpam, 145 miles northwest of Vera Cruz, has declared in favor of the revolution, the authorities there, together with 250 veterans and 250 armed volunteers, taking part in the movement.

The rebel generals, Aguilar and Delallave, are reported to be moving from the north to attack General Beltran's rear. Beltran has 2500 men around Vera Cruz, while the revolutionists have more than 1500 within the city and 2000 with Generals Aguilar and Delallave.

A German liner has arrived here to take off German subjects in case of bombardment.

Rumor Reigns Supreme.

Mexico City, Oct. 20.—With every avenue closed, this city is a prey to all sorts of rumors. There is a growing tension of expectancy among all the better element of the population. No news has been permitted to leak from the government offices where the chiefs refuse to talk and have informed employees that they will be severely punished should they give out information.

Heavier patrols than ever cover the city nightly. A sensational rumor current was that 450 members of the hydrographic force who volunteered for service and went to the front, have deserted.

There appears to be a growing feeling here that General Felix Diaz is jeopardizing his chances of success by dilatory methods, instead of pushing his first advantage by advancing.

Diaz States Views.

General Felix Diaz, in a telegram to a newspaper here, says his future plans depend on the attitude of the army. He declares that he is not guided by personal ambition, for with the contending factions reconciled as the result of the new movement, he shall call elections in which he pledges his honor not to permit his name to be offered. He adds that he will not accept candidacy for any public office, but will uphold the person elected fairly who does not owe his elevation to a moment of madness, as in the present case of Madero.

Diaz says he has appropriated only funds intended for the payment of troops and public employees.

The government announces its intention to form a division of ten thousand men for the protection of the capital under General Huerta. General Blanquet's arrival has been delayed by the activity of rebels in the Torreon district.

Recruited in U. S. A.

El Paso, Texas, Oct. 20.—Rebel troops recruited and armed on American soil have begun to cross into Mexico. A group of fifty men entered late today at Lelean, N. M., a few miles west of El Paso. Shortly afterward, General E. Z. Steever dispatched two troops of the Second cavalry to march in all haste along the New Mexico border. Organization of other bands at various points on the border is reported.

ABSOLUTE REST IS ROOSEVELT'S NEED

Flood of Visitors Causes Over-exertion—Leaves for Oyster Bay This Morning.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—Colonel Roosevelt's slight setback yesterday from having over-exerted himself in receiving friends will not prevent his departure tomorrow morning for Oyster Bay. His physicians admitted in their morning bulletin today that the patient had suffered from his exertions yesterday and they appealed to the public to aid in obtaining perfect rest for him. Their bulletin follows:

"10:05 a.m., Sunday, Oct. 20.—Pulse and temperature, normal. The patient continues to improve. Colonel Roosevelt suffered somewhat from overtaxing himself yesterday.

"There is somewhat more discharge from the wound, but conditions of the injury are satisfactory. We have issued strict orders for absolute quiet.

"Arrangements have been made to send him home, believing conditions warrant it at this time, although it will be necessary for him to be under surgical care for the next ten days.

"It would be kindness if his friends and the public would assist in allowing him absolute rest and quiet for the next week or ten days.

The blood test taken today indicated the patient's condition to be excellent. No trace of sepsis was found.

Colonel Roosevelt was taken today to the operating room for a last X-ray photograph by which the doctors expect to note whether nature's process of encasing the bullet has proceeded far enough that the missile will appear to be thrust away from the broken fourth rib. Much of the colonel's future activity will depend on what the pictures disclose. They will not be ready for inspection before tomorrow.

Special arrangements for the protection of Colonel Roosevelt when he leaves Mercy hospital were announced today by Assistant Chief of Police Schuettler. The assistant chief of police will lead 25 patrolmen who will guard Colonel Roosevelt en route from the hospital to the railway station. A force of detectives will guard him until the train passes the Indiana state line.

BURNABY CELEBRATION.

Opening of Renovated Hall Will Be attended by Many.

Edmonds, Oct. 20.—The official opening of the old municipal hall of Burnaby, which takes place on the evening of Oct. 31, has formed the subject of much favorable comment during the past week and one of the largest crowds that has ever gathered at Edmonds will be present that evening.

A special interurban car is being chartered to carry the residents of North Burnaby to the scene of the festivities, the arrangements having been promised them by Reeve Weart.

The program is being made up by the hall employees and the best talent in the district has been promised. Refreshments will be served on that evening, a small fee being charged to cover same.

King Peter's Opinion.

Belgrade, Oct. 19.—In the presence of the troops at Kish yesterday, King Peter read a long proclamation explaining the causes of Servia's declaration of war against Turkey. He declared that the condition of the Serbs in Turkey had been for many years "absolutely intolerable."

GREAT CONGRESS IS OPENED TODAY

International President Outlines Aims and Scope of Dry Farming.

Affects Six-tenths of Globe—Every Country Sends Special Representatives to Lethbridge.

Lethbridge, Alta., Oct. 20.—The seventh International Dry Farming congress called for assembly at Lethbridge, October 19-26, 1912, is now ready for the opening ceremony to be performed by Lieutenant Governor Bulyea of Alberta tomorrow. Delegates from all parts of Canada and the United States reported with visiting delegates from the foreign countries, Brazil, Chili, Persia, Turkey, Russia, Mexico and in fact, from every part of the world.

The popular idea of dry farming being interesting only to places semi-arid is thus refuted and in referring to the matter today, Dr. John A. Widtsoe, international president, pointed out that dry farming was of interest to every country where agriculture holds place.

Aims to Conserve.

"Dry farming," he said, "is a branch of agriculture that primarily aims to conserve, for the use of crops, the moisture that falls as rain or snow. The difference between dry farming and older farming is that the former is simply a question of the conservation of moisture, while the latter has for its fundamental principle the conservation of fertility.

"Dry farming has three-fold principles. Its first aim is to store in the soil the falling moisture so that the action of drought might be eliminated and the soil made to yield more uniformly year by year. In the second place it extends to the irrigated area by teaching the irrigation farmer to store in the soil the falling moisture and make less the need for irrigation. The third aim is to reclaim for agricultural purposes that portion of the earth's surface which has hitherto been looked upon as irreclaimable, the portion which has only twenty inches of net precipitation annually.

The Greatest Aim.

"As this portion of the earth's surface," concluded Dr. Widtsoe, "is about six-tenths of the whole area, it is plainly seen that this aim will in time become the greatest of all."

Professor Bedford, deputy minister of agriculture for Manitoba, referring to the extent of Western Canadian territory interested in dry farming, pointed out that a great section of Southern Manitoba, particularly around the Melita district, was dry and sandy, as also was Southern Saskatchewan and Albert and parts of British Columbia, and needed dry farming methods.

LETHBRIDGE POLICE RESENT INSPECTOR

Whole Force Resigns—Chief Only Man on Duty—Ask Aid from Calgary.

Lethbridge, Alta., Oct. 20.—The police force of Lethbridge has resigned on the eve of congress week. The members of the force protested against the appointment of Constable Skelton, of Toronto, as inspector, in preference to a local man and threatened resignation unless the appointment was rescinded.

The mayor refused to accet the resignations, declaring the council would not be dictated to. There are a number of mounted police on hand, three new constables have already been sworn in, and it is understood that eight men of the Calgary force will be loaned temporarily.

Referring to the deadlock tonight, Chief of Police Davis declared he anticipated no difficulty in adequately protecting the city and keeping order during the rush of the dry farming congress.

He has already secured eleven men for patrol duty and as the nominal force is about nineteen men the city will not be unguarded. The disgruntled policemen quit at 6 o'clock this evening, leaving the chief the only man on duty.

DUKE OF CONNAUGHT IS NOW CHANCELLOR

Cape Town, South Africa, Oct. 20.—On the occasion of the visit to South Africa in 1901, King George, who was then Duke of Cornwall, was invested with the Chancellorship of the Cape University. Since, however, there is no precedent for sovereigns holding office in any university of the empire, His Majesty has resigned the position, which has been accepted by the Duke of Connaught in succession to the king.

BURNING PATROL DRENCHES CROWD

Automobile Gasoline Tank Bursts When Hose Comes Into Play.

Twenty-five Injured—Two May Die—Car Caught Fire in Garage.

Petaluma, Cal., Oct. 20.—Twenty-five persons were seriously burned here today by the explosion of an automobile gasoline tank. Two may die. The worst burned were about the victims' head and faces and it was regarded as remarkable that none were blinded.

Those probably fatally injured are: James Mott, driver of the city hose cart, and M. J. Hickey, fireman and city electrician. Among those seriously burned is Mayor William H. Zartman.

An instant after the explosion, which occurred on the main street, the sidewalks were filled with shrieking, maddened men, beating at their burning hair and clothes. Those who were not injured tore off their coasts and did what they could to help smother the flames.

Hospital Crowded.

Automobiles were impressed from every part of the town for ambulance service, and in half an hour the city's only hospital was fairly overwhelmed. Women brought bandages. All the doctors who could be reached volunteered their services.

The accident has not been explained and probably never will be. The machine was standing in the garage of J. H. Misner, with the engine dead, when it caught fire. The machine was wheeled to the street and an alarm rung in. The department turned on its chemical apparatus and a stream from the hydrant was turned on.

Made Little Noise.

The instant the water struck the hot metal, one end of the tank blew out with only a slight report. The crowd had formed about the machine in two semi-circles, one on the sidewalk and the other on the street. Those on the sidewalk were unhurt. Those on the street, facing the exploding end of the tank, received the fiery blast full in the face and chest.

WILL NOT STAND FOR STREET JOGS

Subdivision of Acreage Under "Metes and Bounds" Method Causes Inconvenience in Burnaby.

Edmonds, Oct. 20.—The owners of acreage in Burnaby will receive little encouragement as far as local improvements are concerned if they still persist in subdividing their property by the "metes and bounds" method, was the stand taken by the council at a meeting held on Saturday morning.

Under the "metes and bounds" act the owner can file plans at the land registry office without the sanction of the municipal engineer, and the purchasers of this property are frequently promised that water, light and sidewalks will be laid by the municipality, whereas under the act these improvements are not allowed until the roads and lanes through the subdivision have been conveyed to the municipality.

Several instances have appeared of late where the roads of these subdivisions do not conform with those owned by the municipality and any more jogs in streets and lanes will not be countenanced by the municipality unless under extraodinary conditions. The matter, it is understood will be gone into at the coming Revelstoke meeting.

The first and second readings of the two bylaws to be submitted to the voters on Nov. 2 were dealt with. These are for roads to the amount of $250,000 and for sidewalks $50,000. As most of the money has been spent on these bylaws it is expected that while the voting will be light, the ratepayers will endorse the action of the council by the customary large majorities.

Owing to the large outlay on improvements to the old municipal hall during the past summer, the council were not prepared to detract from their original motion that $5 be the rental to all public bodies for the use of the hall on any evening. No reduction will be allowed any organization.

Reeve Weart and Councillor MacDonald leave for Revelstoke on Monday to attend the annual gathering of the Union of B. C. Municipalities.

Councillor Fau Vel will also leave on that day for Medicine Hat to purchase horses for the police officers and also for the waterworks department.

The next meeting of the council will be held on Tuesday evening, October 29.

FLEET OF GREECE SAILS TO SEEK TURKISH FOE

No Serious Resistance Offered by Ottoman Troops to Advance of Balkan Allies---Strictures on Correspondents--Valorous Greek Infantry Capture Siege Guns---Albanian Treachery--Servian Artillery Vengeance.

BATTLE OF TRAFALGAR WILL BE CELEBRATED

In commemoration of Trafalgar a rousing patriotic concert will be held in St. Patrick's hall at 8 o'clock this evening. Plans have been laid for making the entertainment one of the most successful of its kind ever held in the city and no pains have been spared in securing the best talent procurable for the occasion.

The affair is being held under the auspices of the Overseas Club but the support and the co-operation of the Native Sons, the Sons of England, the Sons of Scotland and the United Service Club have been accorded. Colonel Johnston has extended permission to the militia to attend in uniform while the Boy Scouts in uniform will be admitted free.

The hall is being beautifully decorated and arrangements are being made to seat a capacity house, so great is the interest being evinced in the event. The chair will be occupied by Mr B. G. Walker, of Burnaby, president of the Overseas Club.

MORE NEW HOUSES BUILDING IN CITY

Eleven Permits, Value $13,800, Taken Out Last Week—Four New Residences.

The substantial figure of $13,800 in eleven building permits was reached last week. The drop from the previous week's total of $31,000 is to be expected as the rainy season has now set in and the weather during the great part of last week was not the kind to offer any inducement to builders to start work on new structures.

Taking the total of $55,300 for the month so far as it has gone the average for this time of the year has been well upheld. Permits to the value of $30,000 are necessary before the end of the month to bring the total up to a parity with October last year, but with practically two weeks to go yet it is reasonably certain that the current month will not fall behind.

Most of the permits taken out last week were for residences. Mr. A. Bradley will build two houses on Hamilton street at a cost of $2600 apiece, while the largest single permit was taken out for a $2800 residence to be constructed on Hamilton street for Mr. H. Lancaster. Others were: The City, garage for new auto patrol of cement block construction, to be erected behind the city hall, $300; William Miller, Fourth street, brick bake oven, $600; Sloan & Harrison, changing front of building for plate glass window, $600; Joseph Crane, stable and shed, Duncan street, $150; G. L. Saunders, addition to present house on Sherbrooke street, $1200; W. Haynes, cottage on Holmes street, $600; John Hess, shed for concrete blocks on Elgin street, $150; Mr. A. G. Stephens, seven roomed bungalow on Tenth avenue, $2200.

STRAY COWS AND BREAKERS OF LAW

Japanese Fined for Shooting on Sundays—Auto and License Offenders at Burnaby.

Edmonds, Oct. 20.—For allowing his cows to stray on the tracks of the Burnaby Lake branch of the B. C. E. R. to the danger of traffic, James Anderson, of Burnaby Lake, was yesterday mulcted $10 and costs. Constable Thomas gave evidence that he first saw the kine at the sharp curve near Ravside station and was compelled to flag an approaching car.

Two natives of Japan came under the hand of the law, one for shooting on Sunday, for which he was fined $5 and costs, while the other for being in possession of firearms while under 16 years of age, was the loser to the extent of $10 and costs.

A Vancouver autoist was fined $5 and costs for not having a tail light on his car, while a business man, also from Vancouver, was fined $10 and costs and also charged $10 for a license for peddling within the municipal limits without having the necessary license.

London, Oct. 20.—No really serious fighting has been reported from the seat of war. The Montenegrins have captured Pluva and Gunsiure, and the Greeks have occupied Elassona, but these are regarded as minor affairs in which no real resistance was offered.

On the Servian and Bulgarian frontiers, the situation is little changed. An unconfirmed report says the Bulgarians have captured Kirk-Kilisseh, but like many similar reports, this is probably untrue.

From both Constantinople and Sofia come constant denials of successes claimed by the respective opponents. For instance, an unofficial statement tonight from Sofia says all the reported Turkish invasions of Bulgarian territory are pure inventions, while on the previous day the Turkish government denied the capture of Turkish troops by Montenegrins at Tushi.

This campaign of misrepresentation has become so serious that the authorities of Sofia have issued a decree threatening summary punishment martial law to those who circulate such inventions.

The Servian advance in the direction of Uskup encounters little resistance. It is reported that the Servian headquarters are being transferred from Nish to Virna. In this district heavy rains are impeding operations.

Large numbers of war correspondents and many military attaches will start for the front tomorrow. They will work under the greatest difficulty because of the severe restrictions imposed.

According to a Belgrade despatch the Bulgarian government declines to permit attaches to join the general staff.

Fleet Seeks Foe.

London, Oct. 20.—An order was given to the army of Thrace to take a vigorous offensive stand against Bulgaria, according to a Constantinople despatch to the Morning Telegraph. Meantime the Turkish fleet has been called from the Black sea and ordered to pass through the Dardanelles with instructions to seek and attack the Greek fleet.

An Athens despatch to the Telegraph says that after a preliminary artillery duel between the Greeks and 6000 Turks at Elassona, the Greek infantry charged repeatedly and finally dislodged the Turks, capturing their siege guns.

The Turks retired to the north. It is estimated that 40,000 Turks are concentrated at Servia, a small town in Macedonia, about 20 miles from Mount Olympus, with strong artillery.

Blockade Turkish Coast.

Washington, Oct. 20.—An investment of the Turkish Litteral from the entrance to the gulf of Arta to Port Goumenitsa, has been proclaimed by the Greek government, according to advices received today by the state department from Minister Schurmann at Athens.

The action apparently was taken by the commander of the Grecian naval forces as a military movement rather than as a blockade of the coast, although it might amount to a blockade.

Six Warships Appear.

Constantinople, Oct. 20.—It is reported from Janina that six Greek warships and three transports have appeared off the coast of Epirus. Their apparent object is the landing of troops.

At Bayonet's Point.

Sofia, Oct. 20—The Bulgarian forces which are operating against Adrianople have driven the Turks back to the forts forming the outer line of the defences. They took 100 prisoners.

The general advance of the Bulgarians continues. Several positions on the heights were taken at the bayonet point. In the villages the Turks are seizing Bulgarian officials and holding them for ransom.

Servian Successes.

Belgrade, Oct. 20.—The Servian army under the crown prince has captured Rulva Heights, a strategical position south of Bujano Ratz, seven miles below Vranya.

An official report from the general staff at Nish says the Servians have taken all the trenches in the Turkish territory around Vranya and the Turks have been driven across Kriva valley.

Details have been received of a treacherous act by Albanians on the Servian posts near Prepalata, [illegible] miles south of Nisp, on Tuesday. Albians irregular who [illegible] the attacking party were [illegible] and hoisted a white flag. A Servian captain with a white flag approached and the Albanians opened fire, killing 12 men and wounding 40. The Servian artillery immediately shelled the enemy, killing 200.

Montenegrins Hold Pluva.

Cettinje, Montenegro, Oct. 20.—It is officially announced that the Montenegrin forces captured the town of Pluva yesterday. The battle lasted two days.

QUEEN MARY'S HOME.

Opened With Money to the "Mary Fund," and Will Do a Lot of Good.

Barn House is the name painted on the wicket gate of the holiday home for working girls at Whitstable (Kent), purchased with a portion of the "Marys'" coronation gift.

No formal ceremony, just a hearty "come right in" from the lady superintendent will welcome the first girl guests when they invade "Queen Mary's Home."

On a recent afternoon a correspondent loitered up a flower-bordered path, passed a moss-covered sundial circled with rose trees, and halted wonderingly before the restored fifteenth century barn. The walls were of red bricks interrupted with frequent black beams, the bottle glass windows where white-curtained and sash tied, while the oak entrance door, elaborate with worm-eaten carvings, led into a hall reminiscent of yule logs and boars' heads and punch bowls.

That great floor cushion and the tapestries on the wall came down this morning from Buckingham Palace, said Miss Campbell, lady superintendent, and an old campaigner in matters of organizing, as we sat drinking tea from the cups of the china service chosen by the Queen herself.

"The Queen has been most kind. She has taken a personal interest in all the arrangements which have been going on for nearly twelve months. We are venturing to hope she will pay us a visit some time during the summer.

"Our girls are to have a splendid holiday. Breakfast at nine, and no rules worth mentioning. We have our own bathing hut only a hundred yards or so away from here, and there is a tennis court and croquet lawn. There will also be organized excursions for those who care to join in.

"The girls are all members of the London Girls' Club Union.

'Some are factory hands, some are shop assistants — some are vegetarians! Fourteen of them will come at a time, and each group will stay for a fortnight. The 'season' will last right on till October."

The grounds comprise an orchard, where the girl guests may pick fruit as they will, a kitchen garden, and a pool shaded with tapering rushes, and reeds. There is a poultry yard, and an old summer house, and a tank, green with rust, dated 1760.

Boil Penguins For Their Oil.

In the capture of penguins for their oil there is being carried on quite an industry at Macquarie Island, which is about half way between Tasmania and the Antarctic continent. This island belongs to the state of Tasmania and has an area of about 25,000 acres, being about 25 miles long and five miles wide. It is leased by the Tasmanian Government to Joseph Hatch, who has established the penguin oil industry there.

There are probably 80,000,000 penguins on the island, so that the stock to be drawn from seems almost limitless. There are also a large number of sea elephants about its shores. The oil is obtained from the penguins by boiling the carcasses in digesters capable of dealing with 800 birds at a time. It is barreled up and sold to binder twine makers in Australia and New Zealand.

Macquarie Island is about 750 miles southeast of Hobart. It is barren, being covered only with tussocky grass. Whaling ships visiting there have introduced rabbits and Maori hens, which are now quite prolific. The Mawson Antarctic expedition from Australia has established a wireless station there, and daily messages are now being received at Hobart.

A Chance He Missed.

Joseph Chamberlain and the late Sir William Harcourt were fierce political rivals, but warm personal friends. On one occasion in 1886 Mr. Chamberlain was staying at Malwood, Sir William's home. The guests were inscribing their names in the visitors book, one page of which was already full, when it came to Mr. Chamberlain's turn.

"Now is the great chance of your life, Chamberlain," said Sir William. "You will be able to turn over a new leaf."

"I will be hanged if I do!" retorted Mr. Chamberlain, and he turned the book around and wrote his name on the margin of the full page.

Interested In Agriculture.

The British Royal Agricultural Society has secured a very distinguished president for next year. The Earl of Northbrook is the head of the great Baring family, to which Lord Cromer and Lord Revelstoke also belong. The family owes its rise to John Baring, son of Franz Baring, a minister of the Lutheran Church at Bremen. This John Baring settled at Larkbeer, near Exeter, in 1747, and rapidly attained prosperity as a merchant and cloth manufacturer. Francis, his third son, became the first baronet, and founded the London family which has given so many distinguished servants to the state.

A Sporting Record.

Lord Desborough has just created what must be rather a novel kind of record. His election for presidency of the Four-in-Hand Driving Club brought the number of governing bodies in sport of which he is president up to no fewer than ten, as follows: M.C.C., Amateur Fencing Association, British Olympic Council, Lawn Tennis Association, Croquet Association, Thames Punting Club, Four-in-Hand Driving Club, Coaching Club, Royal Life-Saving Society, and Wimbledon Lawn Tennis and Croquet Club.

Few Roads In Congo.

Outside of Stanley's old road from Matadi to Stanley pool, now rarely used, and the lately constructed roads in the Katanga connecting the different mines, there are no roads in the Congo. Native trails, waterways and railroads furnish the only facilities of transportation. Over the trails native porters carry loads averaging sixty pounds on their heads.

HE'S AN IMPERIALIST.

Mr. Obed Smith Makes British Connection His Ideal.

As is often the case with men who have made their mark in the great Dominion, Mr. Obed Smith, Canada's immigration representative in Britain, was born in the Mother Country, at Birmingham, to be exact, in 1864. But at the age of 17 he was already in Western Canada, a pioneer before the railways themselves had arrived, says an English paper.

For twenty-six years he went through all the varied training and experience that life in such a land affords, from farming to ordinary manual labor—the experience, in fact, before any emigrant. For this reason alone his training his pre-eminently fitted him for his present work as the chief officer in Europe of the Canadian Government's emigration service.

He had been for some years clerk of the Legislative Assembly of Manitoba when, in 1900, he was appointed commissioner of immigration, with jurisdiction from Lake Superior to the Pacific Coast, and from the International Boundary northward, and his powers in the settlement in those early days of the rush to the West were, in effect, only limited by his own judgment.

Perhaps few have any idea of the extensive operations of the Canadian Government in order to secure proper foundations for the erection of the Western Empire, which must inevitably provide the manufacturing interests of the East with an increased amount of business from time to time. Here he learned all the manifold details which accompany any undertaking dealing with human beings, and particularly those who go to a new country to make a living in a new home.

Only those who had had any experience in that work realize how much of a science the care and settlement of people has become. Let any individual recall the trouble and anxiety he has had in caring for a single friend, and some slight intimation will be derived as to what it means to receive and to settle and care for the hundreds of thousands of new comers in Western Canada, so that to-day the foundations then laid have proved broad and deep enough to carry what many are pleased to call the New Nation.

Luckily for the people and the Dominion the officials of Western Canada have not brought to their work a mass of mere machinery, more or less hampered by red tape, but they apply not only common sense but unique tact and ability to overcome the difficulties and during the period of great development and until 1908 Mr. Smith was the officer in charge, and guided the reception and placing at work on land of over half a million new arrivals, attending to their immediate necessities and difficulties in sickness and in health, and during his office as commissioner of immigration the crop area in Western Canada increased from less than three million acres to over eleven million acres.

Imperial and British connection has always been the predominant nature of Mr. Smith's administration. He never failed to effectively thrust this upon the large number of Americans crossing the International Boundary and just how much Western Canada has to thank him in this connection will probably never be known.

In giving his evidence before the royal commissioners on the civil service in 1906, he is reported as saying "We believe in the West and in the ultimate destiny of Canada, and our guiding-star is that the new comer cannot withstand the dominion of the British tongue, or our Canadian institutions, no matter where they come from."

At the beginning of 1908 Mr. Smith was transferred by the Government to England as chief officer in charge of emigration, and in his removal was presented with many flattering testimonials from all classes and creeds in Western Canada.

An Aboriginal Village.

The remains of what must have been long years ago an Indian settlement near Spencerville are being unearthed by excavators employed by the Geological Survey in connection with the work of Mr. Harlan I. Smith Dominion archaeologist. When at Kemptville he was guided to the site near Spencerville where relics of an ancient Indian village are being daily dug from the ground. Excavation work was commenced, and in six days half a dozen skulls of the aboriginal inhabitants and innumerable pieces of pottery artistically designed, sharp bone instruments that may have been either forks or awls, as well as other archaeologically interesting specimens were unearthed. Men are still working on the site and Mr. Smith stated that it was possible work would be continued for as long as a year.

From the fact that no objects made by Europeans or white people have been found it is conjectured that the village was abandoned by the Indians, or whatever race occupied the site, before any of the exploring parties had reached the vicinity. That they were a peaceful people is to be inferred from the fact that extremely few implements of war have been taken from the ground among all the relics of peaceful living.—Kemptville Advance.

Methodists Increase.

Rev. Dr. Carnish, the Methodist general conference statistician, announces that there was a net increase during the past twelve months of 6,[illegible]. The total membership of the Methodist Church in Canada is placed at 351,710.

The net gain must have been greater had it not been for the removals and "the loose methods of transferring members, which aggregated 9,198 in number.

The Dangerous Germans.

One can never resist a good school boy "howler." Here is the latest.

The teacher had been giving a lesson on elementary hygiene, explaining about cleanliness and germs, and so on, and the scholars were asked to write an essay on the subject.

ROUND THE MESS TABLE

BY THE MARTIAN.

A meeting of the 104th Regiment Badminton Club was held on Friday the 18th. Plans for the ensuing season were drawn up and approved. Lieut.-Col. Johnson was elected Honorary President, and all the officers were elected Vice-Presidents. Mr. J. H. Diamond was requested to take the executive presidency by acclamation, and Mr. Gordon B. Corbould the Honorary Secretaryship, under the same condition. A record year is anticipated for the club, which owing to certain unforeseen reasons, was unable to assemble last winter. Through the kindness of Colonel Johnson, the Drill Hall has been selected as the scene of activities, and those addicted to the chase of the elusive and wily shuttlecock will be found foregathered there on every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday afternoons.

The above-mentioned club has decided to set aside a part of its annual revenue to be devoted to a prize or prizes, which will be awarded to the 104th Regiment, during the forthcoming drill season, for efficiency in such branches as may be decided by a committee composed of the secretary of the Badminton Club acting in conjunction with the officers of the regiment.

The United Service Club has changed its quarters from the Hardman Block to the B. C. Electric Railway's building. The latter is looked upon by the executive of the club as being a great deal more central, and now that the winter evenings are drawing closer a large amount of renewed activity is anticipated in the affairs of the club. Meanwhile a large membership is desired in order that the rooms may be fitted out in a manner in accordance with the objects of the institution, and it is hoped that all men who have served in the regular or auxiliary naval or military forces of the Crown will affiliate themselves with the movement, which has been inaugurated so that all the old sailors and soldiers who form part of the population of this city, may be of mutual defence and support. There are many hundreds of us here and we only need to come together and get to know each other, and who can then say what old battles may be refought side by side; what pleasant memories may be recalled, and what mutual assistance may we render to each other, supposing evil days fall upon any one of us. Unity is strength, and united we can stand, and feel that whatever may happen, he who has given part of his years in the service of his sovereign and country, may always find in the quarters of the United Service Club a hearty welcome, a friendly hand, and should he be so unfortunately placed, a hand that is helping also.

There has been much talk lately with regard to the alterations which are to be made in the naval policy of the Dominion. There is no doubt, that the time is long past when Canada should have started to bear, at any rate, a part of her share of the defences of the Empire, along with the Mother Country and the other Dominions. However, that may be, and under whatever conditions the undertaking of that share may be adopted, the fact remains that the policy of Canada both as regards the formation of a navy and the maintenance of her militia must be made absolutely independent of the quibbles and petty jealousies of party politics. If one side will not give us what we want in the way of defence, the other must be given the chance. Whatever else may happen the people of Canada must remember that her power of defence, for which she has fawned upon the Motherland for so long, must be made a reality, must be brought to perfection as rapidly as possible, and must on no account be made the instrument of party politicians. The army and navy are the people's, irrespective of the government that may be in power; to those services we shall look in the future for the protection of our commerce, perhaps even of our very existence. Let us see to it, that we have only of the best.

BALKAN ARMIES MOVE ON TURKEY

Censorship Complete and Little Is Known of Actual Details—Biggest Force Since 1810.

London, Oct. 20.—Along the mountainous front of 200 miles from Kirk-Kilisseh in the east to Uskup in the west, the advance of the allied armies into Turkey continues. The Turkish army appears to be acting on the defensive. Its outposts are slowly withdrawing and are attempting only to screen the way for mobilization, while the main forces are marching toward the frontier.

Only small engagements, which give no idea of the mettle of the combatants, have occurred thus far. The censorship has been so complete and effective that Europe has few details except that the largest armies in the field on the continent since 1870 are preparing for a death struggle.

Adrianople and Uskup are being watched as the strategic points for the first great battle. Adrianople is defended by modern fortresses with three hundred of the most modern guns. It is the main gateway to Turkey, and should give the invaders a long siege. The town of Mustapha Pasha, 17 miles to the north, already has fallen into the hands of the Bulgarians.

The approach to Uskup is more difficult. The Servian and Bulgarian armies are likely to follow two roads, one from Koestendil in Bulgaria, through Palanka Pass, which is strongly fortified on the Turkish side, the other along the main line of the railroad from Servia.

The taking of Mustapha Pasha was the most important event reported today. The Turkish fleet, the size of which has been kept secret, but probably a few small craft, was engaged in bombarding the Bulgarian port of Varna this afternoon.

Reports received by way of Bulgaria today say a regular force of 2,000 Turks was ambushed by the Montenegrins in an attempt to recapture Berinia. The whereabouts of the Greek fleet is unknown, but one report has it that the fleet has sailed to find Turkish ships, while the Greek Government has proclaimed a blockade of part of the southern coast of Turkey.

The Montenegrin advance has stopped before Taraboch, which blocks the way to Scutari. The Greeks have crossed the border by three roads at the eastern end of the frontier. Turkey is apparently concentrating her attention on her Slav foes in the north. It is believed she will detach only a comparatively small force to deal with the Creeks in the beginning.

The Turkish legations deny indignantly all reports that Turkish army doctors are preparing to scatter disease germs. These denials are made in a reply to a dispatch received yesterday in London and vouched for by the Greek minister, that Turkish doctors had gone to Janina, in the south of Albania, near the Grecian frontier carrying with them typhus and cholera microbes.

Capture Denied.

Constantinople, Oct. 20.—The War Office denies the Montenegrin report of the capture of six Turkish battalions and a large quantity of ammunition at Tushi. It admits however that Tushi has fallen. Up to the present there has been no serious fighting on the Bulgarian frontier. Everywhere the Turkish forces are showing alertness and determination not to be caught napping.

WIND AND RAINSTORM HOLDS OREGON IN GRIP

Portland, Ore., Oct. 20.—Portland and the Pacific Northwest last night experienced the first real storm of the season. The wind blew a gale and on the coast it attained a velocity of nearly 80 miles an hour in the most exposed places. In spite of the fierce attack and the terrific downpour of rain which accompanied the wind, comparatively little damage was done.

In the cities and towns signs were blown down and a few windows broken. Telephone and telegraph wires were prostrated but no serious damage was done, the storm being more spectacular than damaging. In the fruit districts some damage was done, trees were uprooted and branches torn off, but on the other hand the agricultural sections were benefited by the rain.

WHY BRITAIN NEEDS IMPREGNABLE NAVY

Sultan Says English Sympathy Is With Turks—North Sea or the Mediterranean?

London, Oct. 20.—British military experts almost unanimously expect a victory for Turkey. It is a war of five nations to the death—a struggle of ten millions of diverse peoples with a combined army of half a million under separate staffs and a separate administration against a population of twenty-five million with an army of one million.

It has always been the aim of Turkey to turn Christian against Christian, government against government. Englishmen who remember the vitally conflicting ambitions of Russia—whose sworn ally is France—and Austria—are asking themselves: "How can Europe hope to escape the fateful general conflagration if Turkish troops occupy Sofia and alienate the sympathies of the powers by stern measures?"

The Russian people may demand and may do as they did in 1877 and sweep the indifferently strong and skeptical government at St. Petersburg into a war and refuse to allow Turkey to undo Russia's work of freedom in Bulgaria.

Anticipating some such embroglio the Sultan of Turkey has published an astonishing personal statement in the Daily Mail declaring he has evidence that English public sympathy is on the Turkish side in the present war. The correspondent adds that the sultan, speaking slowly and with great emphasis, continued: "The English race is proud in the calm consciousness of what is due its dignity. We Turks esteem the sympathy of such a great people."

All this is gall and wormwood to the great body of Non-conformists upon whose hundred odd votes in the British parliament, Premier Asquith's ministry is absolutely dependent. Their members cherish the Gladstonian tradition that the Turks should be expelled bag and baggage from Europe.

As the matters now stand in the near east the British Government is compelled to come to a fateful decision between Britain's naval strength in the North Sea and the Mediterranean. Both strategic positions cannot, in the opinion of the highest expert authority, be commanded with the absolute security vital to British interests in all parts of the empire. The "Little Navyites" begin to tremble at the outlook.

Ten and even five years ago Great Britain stood sentinel in both regions with impregnable fleets. The aggressive naval policy of Germany and Germany's ally, Austria, has entirely changed the situation is dawning upon them when in a decade all stern realities of unpreparedness have come. The realization will hit Canada and other parts of the empire like bolts from the blue.

"The Marseillaise."

The words and music of the famous battle hymn, "The Marseillaise," usually are ascribed to Rouget de Lille, a French engineer officer, who, it is said, composed it by request, about 1792, to cheer up the conscripts at Strassburg. It derived its named from a body of troops from Marseilles, who played and sang the piece as they marched into Paris. De Lille was pensioned by Louis Philippe in 1830 and died in 1836. It is safe to say that no other song ever written has stirred the hearts like "The Marseillaise." It will probably live forever.

Amiable Cats.

Cats are of a high strung and sensitive nature, easily influenced by their surroundings. If you wish a fine tempered, nice little home loving cat you must possess some of these attributes yourself. You cannot expect to have a very amiable animal if you are cranky all the time. Give the animal credit for being a good imitator. If you are vile tempered and given to striking the kitten find no fault if the cat has a like manner and strikes people and smaller animals.

His Accomplishment.

Little Willie—Oh, Mr. Henpeckke, won't you play something on the violin?

Mr. Henpeckke — Why, really, Willie, I would be glad to if I knew how.

Little Willie—Oh, I guess you know how all right. My pop says you always play second fiddle to Mrs. Henpeckke.

Table Daintiness.

I could better eat with one who did not respect the laws than with a sloven and unpresentable person. Moral qualities rule the world, but at short distances the senses are despotic.—Emerson.

Sarcastic.

"Would you marry a Chinaman?" he asked.

"Oh, dear," the girl, who is sarcastic, replied, "this is so sudden! But I always supposed you merely looked like one."

TRAFALGAR DAY.

Admirals all, they said their say
(The echoes are ringing still),
Admirals all, they went their way
To the haven under the hill,
But they left us a kingdom none can take,
The realm of the circling sea,
To be ruled by the rightful sons of Blake
And the Rodneys yet to be.
—Newbolt.

Time plays strange pranks with history. We have now altered the pronunciation of Trafalgar, we know that the famous signal of the little admiral did not read exactly as quoted, we have long known that his victory was not entirely responsible for Napoleon's decision to abandon the invasion of England. But time cannot alter the fact that the victory of that grey October day, one hundred and seven years ago, when the fleets of France and Spain were crushed off the Spanish coast, gave to Britain the control of the sea.

Since that day her fleets have done little actual fighting collectively, but split up and together they have policed the seas of the world over which is borne the commerce of the British Isles and that of the scattered countries flying her flag. But in addition to protecting trade routes, the might of the British navy during that long period has often been of the most vital effect in preserving the peace of the world by a show of superior force at a critical juncture.

At this present period of Canada's history it is good for all to think for a while upon the real worth of naval power to the Empire whose fabric stands upon the prowess, self sacrifice and foresight of men like Nelson. Three years ago Canada volunteered to aid the motherland in contributing to the general insurance policy of peace guaranteed by the navy. In little less than three weeks we may know something of what form that payment will take.

All nations have honored their heroes, and that a demonstration of this nature is to take place in Westminster tonight is another sign that we are advancing from the callow stage through which all young countries must pass. Nelson's name may be recalled by landsmen at this season of the year only, but to the man o' war's man, Nelson is almost a living personality. The black scarf worn by all sailors is in memory of him as are the three white stripes upon his uniform reminders of Nelson's trio of glorious victories.

But more than external signs is the fact that his spirit lives with the men who go down to the sea in the King's ships, be they grim dreadnaught, knife bowed destroyer, submarine or hydro-aeroplane. So long as his spirit lives and his memory is kept green on veldt or prairie, under palm or pine, so long will it be well with all the Britains.

PHEASANT SHOOTING

Twenty Gallant Sportsmen Find Quarry Close to Bridge.

The jovial proprietor of the Clarington hotel, South Westminster, dearly loves a jest and certainly perpetrated one on the ardent sportsmen, who thronged the precincts of his property on Friday last. With the art that conceals art he skilfully displayed a stuffed pheasant on the edge of the brush that skirts his pasture field off the Yale road.

Blinded by the ardor of the chase, about twenty unsuspecting sportsmen during the day, manoeuvred for position, rolled the deceptive mummy over, to the infinite merriment of mine host and his fellow wags—a merriment in which, after a few explosives of profane disgust, the Nimrods heartily joined. One of the most amusing features of the diversion was the action of some of the dogs, who, bounding to retrieve and immediately discovering the fraud on seizing the "bird," turned with a reproachful look, expressive more of sorrow than anger, on their masters.

Among the "sold" was the gentleman who had formerly owned the "stool pheasant," an incident which added hugely to the delight of the jokists.

Are Going Away.

Burnaby Lake, Oct. 20.—Councillor Fau Vel leaves for Medicine Hat on Monday to purchase horses for municipal use. Mrs. Fau Vel and children will also leave on that day for Spokane, Wash., where she will spend several weeks visiting relatives and friends.

WHERE HE WAS BORN.

Sir John A.'s Birthplace Causes Amusing Dispute.

Three well-informed Conservatives lately had a dispute as to the birthplace of Sir John Macdonald, says The Canadian Courier. They were yachting down Kingston way, and the talk turned upon the suggested memorial to the late Conservative chieftain to be erected at Adolphustown on Hay Bay.

One of the party, a Conservative journalist who knows Kingston even better than the city he lives in, said: "But why not at Kingston? Sir John was born there?"

"I think you're wrong," said the Ontario M.P.P. "He was born in Adolphustown.

"I believe you're both wrong," said the third, also a member of the Albany Club. "But I can't set you right. I don't know where Sir John was born."

All three of these Conservatives had begun to be young political workers about the time Sir John Macdonald died, twenty-one years ago. They knew a great deal about Sir John's political life and character and his place as a nation builder. They knew rafts of the stories told or said to have been told by the weirdest character that ever came on the stage of Canadian politics.

They had a most vivid recollection of the dramatic events in Canadian public life centered about the chief actor. They had heard the old chieftain speak many a time. They knew his personality better than they knew that of Sir Wilfrid Laurier or Premier Borden. But not one of them remembered, even if he ever knew, the exact place where Sir John Macdonald was born.

Merely as a matter of fact, Sir John Macdonald was born at neither Kingston nor Adolphustown. He was born in Glasgow on January 11, the year of the battle of Waterloo. His father was a manufacturer who, as a young man, moved to Glasgow from a Sutherlandshire village in the Highlands. The boy John, third of five children, was five years old when he came with his parents to Canada. They settled first in Kingston, which was then important as a military and social centre.

The elder Macdonald failed to succeed in business in Kingston, just as he had failed to succeed in Glasgow. The family moved first to Hay Bay, then to Store Mills, on the Bay of Quinte. From ten to fifteen years of age the boy John was a pupil at the Kingston Grammer School, which was all the formal education he got. As he once remarked to a friend, "I had no boyhood. From the age of fifteen I began to earn my living."

At the age of fifteen he began to study law as a junior clerk on a small salary in the office of George Mackenzie, a friend of his father's in Kingston. At twenty-one he was called to the Bar in Kingston. The following year he became almost famous at the hands of subsequent political biographers by his connection with the defence of Von Schoulz, the Polish revolutionist who had joined the rebels of 1837 in Canada.

In 1842, at the age of twenty-seven Macdonald made his first visit to England, and for the first time revisited Scotland, the Highlands and Glasgow. Two years later two hundred electors presented an address asking him to become a Conservative candidate for Kingston. In his first address to a Canadian constituency, Macdonald said:

"I therefore need scarcely state my firm belief that the prosperity of Canada depends upon its permanent connection with the Mother Country, and that I shall resist to the utmost any attempt to weaken that union."

He was elected by a huge majority as member for Kingston, which, with one short interruption, he represented from 1844 till 1891. He was the first Premier for Canada after Confederation, of which he was at least one of the "fathers." In 1837 his government was succeeded in office by that of Alexander Mackenzie. In 1878 he reaffirmed his British connection plank and added to it the bigger one of a national policy of protection for Canadian industries — since endorsed and adopted by the late Liberal Government, along with the British preference. By a big majority he was returned to power, which he held until his death in 1891.

Hudson Bay Timber.

Interesting observations with regard to the timber of the Hudson Bay region (the southern part of the old district of Keewatin) are found in the 1911 report of the Director of Forestry, published as part of the annual report of the Department of the Interior for 1911.

Mr. J. T. G. Whyte, an experienced timber cruiser and fire ranger, (who has since been drowned while in discharge of his duty) reports on the conditions of the forest around Split Lake, on an area of about 24,000 square miles. This whole territory was originally covered with forest. The islands in Split Lake still bear spruce, tamarack and jack pine large enough for railway ties, poles and lumber.

All the rest of the country has been burned over at least once within the past forty or fifty years, and the timber, which dates from the last fire, rarely exceeds three or four inches in diameter.

According to a Government return issued recently there are unclaimed balances in Canadian banks totaling $676,147, unclaimed dividends of $3,650 and drafts or bills of exchange of $49,851. The increase in unclaimed balances during the last fiscal year amounted to $58,000 and in unclaimed drafts $10,000. The largest amount unclaimed is in the Montreal City and District Bank, $122,071; Bank of Montreal, $119,000; and Bank of British North America, $92,000.

These balances will in all probability be taken over by the Government, as has been suggested several times in the banking and commerce committee of the Commons, as it is doubtful whether much of it will ever be claimed by the owners.

REBEL TROOPS FIRE ON CITIZENS PARADE

Twenty-two Dead as Result of Demonstration of Loyalty at Vera Cruz Mexico.

Mexico City, Oct. 20.—Twenty-two persons are said to be dead and a large number wounded as the result of rebel troops firing on a parade of citizens yesterday in Vera Cruz. Earlier reports had fifteen killed. The demonstration was made to show the loyalty to the government of those who participated. Failing to stop it, Felix Diaz, the rebel leader, who controls the town, ordered the troops to fire.

Diaz, according to a story current here is greatly handicapped in the progress of the revolution which he heads, because of the lack of arms and ammunition. He hopes it is declared to equip his volunteers from a shipment intended to be unloaded from a steamship at Vera Cruz for the government. When that port fell in Diaz's hands federal officials communicated with the vessel by wireless and ordered it to make full speed for Tampico.

To Attack Juarez.

El Paso, Oct. 20.—General Inez Salazar will attack Ciudad Juarez some time Sunday night, according to his own statement made yesterday afternoon to a party of eleven Americans who reached El Paso at 1 o'clock this morning by handcar from Pearson, on the line of the Mexico Northwestern Railway.

"We met General Salazar and about 75 men Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Barreal, about 65 miles from Juarez," said L. Runight, of Madera, Chihuahua, who was one of the party of Americans who arrived this morning. According to the story told by Mr. Knight and R. C. Burbank another member of the party, Salazar said that he is coming to Juarez to "get" General Trucy Aubert.

The Harnessmaker's Hands.

If you see a man with hard lumps or corns on the back of his fingers, just at the bottom of the first joint and particularly well marked on the little finger, you may be pretty sure that he is a harnessmaker.

The corns are caused by the thread used rubbing across the backs of the fingers, and they appear on both hands, for in sewing harness both hands are used alternately.

The saddlemaker also has a distinctive hand. It is strong and well developed, with characteristic corns on the palm at the roots of the fingers. His nails are usually split, broken down or otherwise injured.—Pearson's Weekly.

FIRST VICTORY IS NOTCHED BY ROVERS

Outplay Vancouver Celtics—Sterling Football Exhibited by Every Member of Team.

Playing better football than has been exhibited on Moody Park for some little time, the Rovers notched their first league victory of the season Saturday afternoon, defeating the Celtics of Vancouver by three goals to one. The result was well merited for at no stage of the game were the Vancouvers in the running, although they equalized toward the end of the first half.

Everyone of the Rovers team played at his best although several of the players were changed to unusual positions caused by the absence of Lyon at full back. Hotchkies showed himself in the limelight by strong head and foot work although he was unfortunate to get kicked on the leg toward the close of the game.

Carinduff made amends for his slipshod work in previous games by scoring the first goal on a rebound from Hayes. This was twenty minutes after the kick-off. Jardine for the Celtics came through with a tally just before the whistle went for the interval.

In the second period the Rovers had it all their own way although their forwards were weak in finishing their pretty rushes.

Bruce at centre half scored what is believed to be the first league goal since he joined the Rovers, taking a header from a corner from Cadyzien. Fields, a substitute, came through with another towards the end of the game. Cadyzien was a star on the left, bringing the ball in perfectly from the flag. For the Rovers, the work of Cadyzien, Hotchkies, McMillan and Hayes was particularly brilliant.

The Rovers meet the Thistles again on Saturday next at Vancouver, while on Thanksgiving Day, Monday, Oct. 28, they will have the Hibernians over here in the first round of the Westminster Cup.

ROYAL CITY HIGH SCHOOL WIN ANOTHER VICTORY

By defeating the Sons of England of Vancouver on Saturday afternoon at Clark's park, the soccer team of the Royal City High school have found their feet, and but one point now separates them from St. Andrews at the head of the table in the Junior Alliance. The Royals, although they only nosed out by the lone goal, were the most aggressive during the greater part of the game.

The first half went by without a goal being scored, although the Sons of England net had several narrow escapes. In the final half the Westminsters came through with better combination, the final touch being missed time and again.

CITY LEAGUE.

Bankers Completely Outplay 104th Regiment—Eleven to Nil.

The Bankers soccer team kept their lead at the head of the league table on Saturday afternoon by administering a crushing defeat to the 104th regiment. Eleven goals to nil was shown on the score board, and this about represents the difference in class between the two teams. Murray in the forward division was a tower of strength for the winners, finding the net on several occasions.

Although not in the class of the Bankers, the regimental boys put up a plucky fight and kept plugging away until the finish.

The following is the standing of the league:

	P.	W.	L.	D.	Pts.
Bankers	3	3	0	0	6
Sapperton	3	2	1	0	4

Burnaby	1	0	1	0	0

SCHOOLS SOCCER.

St. Louis College Notch Second Victory—McBride and Kelvin Tie.

By their second victory in succession, the soccer team of St. Louis college appear to be slated as probable champions of the Westminster Schools league. The college boys defeated the John Robson school eleven on Saturday morning to the tune of 6-0, being continually on the aggressive.

The High school defeated the Herbert Spencer aggregation to the tune of 3-0, while a tie game resulted in the Lord Kelvin-Richard McBride contest, final score being one goal each.

St. Louis College	2	2	0	0	4
High School	2	2	0	0	4

R. C. H. S. Beat Connaughts.

In one of the most spirited hockey games ever played in the city, the girls team of the Royal City High school defeated the Connaught team one goal to nil on the Queens park oval Saturday afternoon. Very little difference was noticed between the two elevens and while the school team were perhaps in better shape, several of the older ladies showed promise of becoming stars in the game.

Win for Burnaby.

Central Park, Oct. 20.—The Burnaby Hockey club won their first victory yesterday afternoon by defeating the Burrards of Vancouver two goals to one. The forward division of the Burnabyites showed better combination than heretofore and the team well merited its victory.

NATIVE SONS WIN BY SMALL MARGIN

Enthusiastic Crowd Cheers on Westminster Rugby Players—Score Three Tries to Two.

In a game which certainly excited a large concourse of spectators, the Westminster rugby team, after drawing level with the Native Sons a Queens park on Saturday were beaten by a try (three points), the final score being three tries to two. To Andrew, an old soccer man, playing his first rugger game, is the honor of having first crossed the line of an opposing side.

The Native Sons were completely outplayed in the scrum, although the home side was a man short in the forward line, but their back division showed considerably more understanding between its components than did the wearers of the green shirts. Morton, Westminster's back, saved his side frequently.

The brand of rugby served up was not of the highest, several players on both sides being guilty, among other things, of reckless "soccer" kicking, thereby feeding the opposing three quarters.

Playing down hill the visitors early attacked and first Thomson and later Marshall went in for a try, the goal kicks failing. Save for spasmodic efforts play was confined to the Westminster half. Changing over, the Royals appeared to wake up a little, and in a forward melee, Andrew grounded the ball for a try. The shot at goal failed.

Dusk was falling, but the spectators hopes of a win for Westminster ran high when Ford, after running in far out, just missed goaling with a splendid kick. This tied the score, but almost on time, the Native Sons forced their way up the hill, and poor marking and tackling let in their wing three quarter, Thomson, again. The shot at goal was ineffective.

The home side should have won, but victories will not come until the team is under better organization. A meeting will be held during the week and steps towards this end should then be taken.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT FOR SPORT MOGULS

The difference between an amateur player and a professional (especially in lacrosse), is one of the farces of Canadian sport. Every little while we see where some player is a professional or has been declared a professional by one amateur league or another. The Canadian Lacrosse Association will declare one man a professional and the D. L. A. will say he is an amateur, and here are some of the instances that have happened where amateurs can play with professionals and still be amateurs:

According to the ruling of the Mann cup trustees they say Harris, of St. Kitts, is a pro. But the players who played with him the last two years are good enough amateurs to play for their cup.

The O. L. A. say Warren, of Woodbridge, who played for Torontos against the Tecumsehs this year, can and did play with Woodbridge against Brampton and Young Torontos in their league games without anybody losing his amateur standing.

Parke, who played with the Young Torontos, and was disqualified by the O. A. A. U. of C., can play Rugby with the Old Boys against Varsity, and nobody lose their amateur standing.

The C. L. A. say any any man they reinstate at their annual meeting is an amateur whether he received money or not, and can play in their league.—Charlie Querrie.

"THE CHOCOLATE SOLDIER."

The modern trend of music has been more than cheerfully expressed in the Straus light opera, "The Chocolate Soldier," which will be presented at the Opera House next Thursday evening by the Whitney Opera Company.

In olden times, or, to be specific scarce 50 years ago, the composer worked in conjunction with the author of a work. Today the musician takes the literary work and moulds it to the form and fashion of the musical theme.

No man has been more aggressive in his assertive individuality than the king of composers, Oscar Straus. He has been the most radical reformer in light opera musical schemes with the possible exception of De Bussy.

When all the workers in arts and letters stood aghast at Bernard Shaw's "Arms and the Man," and trembled and thrilled at the unique comedy satirical theme of the play, it took a Straus to evolve one of the most daringly romantic plots of musical harmony about a subtle comedy which has made two continents lilt, sing and hum in the streets, cafes, eating places and homes of Europe and America.

Strauss was attracted to the Shaw work from its setting in picturesque Bulgaria. Mr. Whitney, the producer, to be assured of absolute accuracy went all the way to Bulgaria. There he lived for a summer and became a part of the homely atmosphere of these romantic hills of the Austrian Empire. He studied closely the costumes, manners and customs of the peasants, as well as the coloring of the natural scenery. The result of his summer's work has been a detailed presentation of a light opera which has gained the approval of two continents with the record run of a musical production in New York City.

EDISON THEATRE.

One of the most sumptuous, as it has been universally acclaimed, the most remarkable of photo plays will be shown at the Edison Theatre this evening and Tuesday. The subject deals with Don Juan and Charles V.

Claude Garry and Paul Capellani play two of the leading roles in this piece, which is faultless in treatment and technique. Garry, as Phillip, gives a perfect impression of a man who will not suffer any thwarting of his desire, whilst Capellani, as the bastard son of Charles V. of Spain, is in direct contrast to him in his gentle demeanor.

The story is quite easy to follow. Charles V. of Spain, wearied by a long and war-troubled reign, abdicates in favor of his son Phillip. His wish is to retire to the monastery of St. Just, but before disappearing from the world, he has a strong desire to see his illegitimate son, Don Juan, of Austria, whose education is being cared for by the monks of a religious order. After his abdication, Charles makes the journey to his son's retreat, and in the character of an old friend of the young man's father, he clasps his son in his arms. This act accomplished, he passes beneath the portals of St. Just and the doors of the monastery close upon him. This scene when the weary king passes out of the world in which he had played his part so ably, is beautifully enacted, and the mysticism of the life he is seeking is wonderfully expressed.

Although the watchful eye of his tutor in the monkish retreat in which he has been brought up has allowed Don Juan little freedom, yet he has nevertheless succeeded in falling in love, even before the coming of the mysterious visitor, whom the monks know to be his father. Lucinda is the name of the damsel with whom he holds converse, whenever possible, over the wall of the monastery garden.

The girl is beautiful and full of the vivacity of youth. Naturally she has heard of the abdication of the old king and the approaching coronation of Phillip. She has a desire to see the ceremony, and with Don Juan, who escapes for a few brief hours from his tutor, she stands outside the church on the day when Phillip rides to it to receive the blessing upon his new crown. Romantic by nature, the girl has an impulse, as the king passes her, to offer him a bunch of white roses, and Phillip, taking the gift with a smile, is struck by the beauty of the giver. He, too, falls violently in love, and not many evenings later he goes with his face masked to offer the girl his love.

Lucinda shrinks away from the king even when he unmasks, and upon Don Juan entering suddenly, she turns to him with relief for protection. Don Juan impetuously challenges the king to cross swords, and on hearing Phillip's refusal, he strikes him in the face. The king calls for guards and the young man is arrested.

He is carried away and on the morrow is tortured before the eyes of Lucinda, who still refuses to give herself to the king. The girl has, however, sent news overnight to Don Juan's tutor, and a speedy messenger has invoked the old king's aid. Charles leaves the still quiet of the monastery, and hastening to Phillip reveals to him for the first time the secret that he has a brother, and that the brother is his prisoner. The scene is poignant, for Phillip, although he arrests the hand of the torturer, has difficulty in mastering his jealousy as he sees Lucinda locked in Don Juan's arms. At his father's bidding, however, the younger brother swears fidelity to the elder, and Phillip in accepting the oath promises protection to both him and Lucinda.

WINDSOR SALT—ought to cost more—so pure, fine, well-savoured. Goes further, too. But not a cent dearer.

A Wager Won.

The following story is told of J. P. Morgan—and possibly of other successful business men as well. For three consecutive days the great financier carried an empty birdcage in his hand to and from his office. On the third day one of his managers ventured to ask why he carried that apparently useless article.

"To see," replied Pierpont Morgan, "if any one would have the impudence to ask me why I did so."

"I beg your pardon," began the inquirer, "I"—

"You needn't do that," said the chief, smiling grimly. "I had a bet with a man that I had at least one employee with some curiosity. I've won the money; but in future don't ask questions about things that don't concern you!"

One-third of the purchase price shall be paid in cash and the balance in three equal instalments at the expiration of One (1) Two (2) and Three (3) years from the exercise by the Lessee of the option of purchase. Interest at the rate of five per centum per annum shall be paid on deferred payments.

Time is the essence of this agreement.

AND IT IS FURTHER PROVIDED that in the event of the Lease and term hereby granted being forfeited or determined by reason of non-payment of rent or non-performance of covenants that the option to purchase herein contained shall immediately cease and determine, and the Lessee's right of purchase shall be immediately forfeited and void. The Lessee shall have no right to assign this option of purchase without the assent of the Lessor signified by Resolution of the City Council.

Upon the exercise by the Lessee of the right of purchase aforesaid, and on payment of the cash payment of the purchase price of the said lands by the Lessee to the Lessor this lease shall be void and the Lessee relieved from all the covenants and conditions herein contained on the part of the Lessee. The conveyance from the Lessor to the Lessee of the said lands shall reserve the easement or right to the Lessor to maintain the waterway or drainageway hereinbefore described through the said lands. AND said conveyance shall also reserve the easement or right to the Lessor to maintain the water main hereinbefore referred to through the said lands.

PROVIDED, HOWEVER, and it is hereby further agreed that should the land hereinbefore described as parcel "B" be required for the purpose of establishing a street thereon, the Lessor may at any time within five years from the date hereof on ninety (90) days notice to the Lessee cancel this Lease so far as it relates to said Parcel "B" and the rental reserved hereby shall thereupon be reduced by the sum of One Hundred and Forty-five Dollars ($145.00) per annum, and the option of purchase of said parcel shall thereupon be cancelled and void; and should the said Lessee exercise his right of purchase prior to such revocation the Lessor may at any time within five years from the date hereof re-purchase said parcel "B" with all riparian and other rights from the Lessee its successors and assigns at the price of Five Thousand Eight Hundred Dollars ($5,800.00) and interest at five (5 p.c.) per centum per annum on that sum from the date of payment to the Lessor of the Purchase money therefor and the conveyance from the Lessor to the Lessee of said Parcel "B" shall reserve that right of re-purchase within five (5) years from the date of these present;

AND in the event of the said street being established within five (5) years the Lessee shall have or make no claim for damage to adjoining lands or otherwise or receive any compensation or payment whatever except the rebate of rent or the payment of purchase money aforesaid for said Parcel "B."

SHOULD the Lessor not open and establish a highway on said Parcel "B" after resumption, or having resumed, shall ceases to use the said Parcel "B" for a highway, or shall allow the use thereof for any purpose inconsistent with its use as a highway, then and in any such case the right of the Lessee to said Parcel "B" shall be renewed, and the same shall be subject to the terms of this Lease as if no resumption had been made by the Lessor.

The Lessor may at any time release to the Lessee this reserve as regards Parcel "B."

IN WITNESS WHEREOF the parties hereto have caused their corporate seals to be hereto affixed under the hand of its proper officers respectively.

An Aid to Aviation.

An old negro who had seen Curtiss fly approached him at New Orleans and asked timidly if he could feel his arm.

"Surely," said the puzzled aviator as he stretched forth an arm.

The old darky ran his hand up and down the biceps carefully, then said disappointingly:

"'Tain't true. You ain't got no mo' wing sprouts than I is."

"No," said Curtiss seriously, "but I always make it a point to eat a pint of birdseed before I take a flight."—Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post.

The Way France Eats Snails.

French farmers find snail culture a profitable undertaking. As many as 500,000 "first quality" snails, the price of which throughout the year averages $1.70 per 1,000, can be reared on an acre of land. They have to be fed only once a day, preferably in the evening, and, though extremely voracious, are by no means fastidious. After a fall of rain, which seems to sharpen their appetites, a bed of 100,000 will demolish a barrow load of cabbage in a very short space of time.

GOLD PLATED MUMMIES.

Recent Mysterious Discoveries From Egypt Thrill Old London.

Two exhibitions of antiquities unearthed in the course of excavations in Egypt were opened in London recently. They contain many items which serve to illuminate in a peculiarly vivid manner the life and customs of races whose memorials lie buried in the sands of the regions about the Nile.

At King's College, in the Strand, the relics discovered at Abydos by the party working under Prof. Edouard Naville are shown. The professor's principal object was the uncovering of the building known as the Osireion, which will occupy another couple of years; but in seeking a spot suitable for throwing the deposits removed from the ruins he stumbled upon an ancient settlement of the pre-dynastic era.

Perhaps the most curious feature of this village is two parallel lines of kilns, in rows of 11 and 12, the purpose of which it has baffled the exploring party definitely to unravel. Various prehistoric implements, including fish hooks, were found, and other articles of flint. Hitherto, the flint and other weapons have been obtained from graves, and were objects specially prepared; here we have the actual objects in use by the primitive villagers, just as they left them on the destruction of their huts.

A number of diminutive carved figures, each carrying a hoe with a basket slung over the shoulder, were retrieved. Mr. T. Eric Peet, a member of the expedition informed a representative of The Daily Chronicle, that it was the custom to put a box full of these quaint figures at the foot of the coffin. "They were supposed to be servants who would save the dead person manual labor in the next world," he said.

Relics obtained by Prof. Garstang and his assistants at Meroe in the Sudan are on view at Burlington House. The Bishop of London visited the camp during his tour in Egypt, and recently, accompanied by Sir Charles Hercules Read, the president of the Society of Antiquaries, his lordship inaugurated the exhibition. Sir Reginald Wingate, the Sirdar, was a visitor in the afternoon.

Prof. Garstang was mainly occupied with the excavation of a finely-appointed Roman bath. A series of carvings have been brought home; but the materials in sandstone; and is very friable. Mr. Horst Schliepack, the professor's colleague, has ingeniously stuck a head on the shoulders of a statue weighing some cwts.—the largest statue of those on view. Some beautiful examples of mosaic are exhibited.

The Gurney-Oxford Enthusiast

The housewife who owns a Gurney-Oxford—who has daily experience with it—who knows the way it works—the economy and efficiency of it—is a Gurney-Oxford Enthusiast.

The Gurney-Oxford Range is the sum total of 70 years experience in stove construction. It is a big, up-standing, handsome stove, that works constantly and unfailingly for its owner's satisfaction. It stands guard over her interests, conserving her time and energy, effecting a daily saving in coal, adding to the household economy and increasing the pleasure which comes from a smooth-running and well-ordered household.

That's why she enthusiastically recommends the Gurney-Oxford whenever the question comes up.

She wants her friends to learn, what she knows to be a fact, that a Gurney-Oxford Range is a good housewife's most valuable and cherished possession.

Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Craig, Sapperton have returned from their trip to eastern points well improved in health, but glad to get back to the sunny climes of the Pacific slope.

Mayor Lee and Alderman Gray left for Revelstoke last night to attend the convention of the Union of B. C. Municipalities on Tuesday. They expect to return about Friday.

The Ladies' Guild of St. Albans church, Edmonds, will hold a special meeting at the rectory on Friday afternoon to discuss plans for the holding of the annual bazaar. A full attendance is desired.

A. Hardman, the cake man. Get good bread. Eighth street Bakery Telephone 281. **

The regular monthly meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock in St. Aidan's Presbyterian church, on the corner of Seventh avenue and Fourteenth street.

The usual week end harvest of drunks was corralled by the police officers Saturday night and yesterday. Eight of them were resting in the cells last evening and they will have an hearing before Magistrate Edmonds at 9:30 o'clock this morning.

Miss Minerva A. Smith, Graduate of Music, has opened her studio at 13th aveaue and 6th street. Telephone R 735. **

Due to a defective chimney a small fire broke out in the home of Alfred Williams, corner of Hospital street and Buchanan avenue, yesterday. The firemen from Sapperton hall were called and extinguished the blaze with ease. Practically no damage was done.

Mr. George Ferguson, contractor South Westminster, is at present erecting a lawn fence in front of the Hjorth road school, Surrey, and a handsome fence with cedar posts round the remainder of the school grounds. They add greatly to the attractiveness of the building.

The Rev. J. S. Henderson preached at both services in St. Andrews church, Vancouver, yesterday, his pulpit here being occupied by Rev. Mr. Peck, of Arnprior, Ontario, who has been spending a few weeks on the coast. Mr. Peck preached a most interesting sermon in the evening from the text, "God is Love."

Showered with the best wishes of their friends seventeen Westminster Greeks, in company with 200 of their countrymen from Vancouver, left on the Great Northern on Saturday afternoon for Greece. On arrival there they will immediately take up arms and go to the front to fight against the Turks. All of the men from this city were workmen.

The Y. M. C. A. building will be the scene this evening of the annual rally and business meeting of the New Westminster Local Union of Christian Endeavor. An address will be given by Rev. C. R. Blunden and a solo by Mr. John Graham. After the business part of the affair is over a general social time will be held. The executive extends a hearty invitation to all interested in the work to attend.

A series of dances has been inaugurated for the winter season at South Westminster, and Biggar's hall is to be the scene of fortnightly social reunions for the residents of that flourishing suburb of the Royal City and their friends. On Friday evening about twenty young couples had a most pleasant dance to excellent music.

Approaching a hundred in number the Westminster Choral and Orchestral society will leave on a special car for Vancouver at 7 o'clock tonight. They accepted an invitation some six weeks ago from the Vancouver Navy league to be on hand for Trafalgar Day celebration, or arrangements might have been made for them to aid in Westminster's own observance of the day.

CRITICISM OF B. C. E. R. BY BOARD OF TRADE

Regarding the criticism upon the B. C. E. R. which took place at the meeting of the board of trade on Friday evening last, Mr. J. G. Robson writes us that he is misquoted in having been noted down as saying: "The service supplied by the B. C. E. R. was a curse not only to Westminster, but also to the district."

He says that his words were "That it was a curse to B. C. E. R. freight shippers to be so seriously hampered for the want of empty cars."

The courtesy extended to the press at the meetings of the board of trade leaves nothing to be desired, but owing to the proximity of the room to Columbia street and the noise of passing cars it is frequently difficult to note the exact phraseology of speakers. The report was made in good faith both to the B. C. E. R. and Mr. Robson.

Big Rush of Orders.

After a fortnight's incessant working night and day (Sundays excepted) the Brunette mill has resumed normal conditions. The pressure of orders from the fruit valleys in the interior for boxes, and from the canneries on the coast for salmon cases, compelled the company to employ a nocturnal staff in the box factory. The fruit yield this year in the Okanagan and other districts, is said to be enormous.

A FLAMING FIRE.

The Saviour of Canada and the Hero of Trafalgar.

In a striking sermon at the cathedral last evening Rev. George A. Ray delivered an address upon two British heroes, Brock and Nelson, taking his text from the 104th Psalm, "His ministers a flaming fire."

He dealt in an able manner with the characters of both, emphasizing the fact that above the pride of personal prowess, or love of country, was the sublime faith in God shown by both the saviour of Canada and the hero of Trafalgar.

The great need of today was for higher ideals. If the memories of great men inspired us how much more did the great tradition of Christianity, the living presence of whose hero founder was with us always.

PILE DRIVING BEGINS FOR COQUITLAM INDUSTRY

The Fraser River Pile Driving company starts work this morning on a new mill to be built for the Coquitlam Shipyards company. The company proposes to erect a lumber mill in the first instance by which it will be able to cut its own lumber for the yards and shipways which are to be built later.

The pile driving concern will drive the piles for the new mill and also place the boom piles in position to handle the booms which will be brought there from the company's property in the vicinity of the mill site.

PROMINENT CITIZENS OFF TO ATTEND CONVENTIONS

There will be a regular exodus of Westminster's prominent citizens during the next two or three days and the reason for it all is that this week a number of very important convention are being held at points outside of the city.

Specifically these are the Conservative Convention at Revelstoke, on Thursday and Friday, the B. C. Union of Municipalities Convention at the same place on Tuesday and Wednesday, the Province Wide Development League Organization at Vernon on Tuesday and the Dry Farming Congress at Lethbridge which opens on Monday.

With reference to the last Mr. A. E. Easton, accompanied by Mrs. Easton, left on Wednesday for Lethbridge. Both will attend as the representatives of the Westminster Progressive Association.

Alderman Gray and Mr. C. H. Stuart Wade will be present at the organization meeting at Vernon as representatives of the city and Mr. John R. Duncan or Mr. W. R. Gilley will represent the Board of Trade. Mayor Lee and also Alderman Gray will attend the gathering of the B. C. Union of Municipalities at Revelstoke on Tuesday.

The delegation which will leave the city to attend the Conservative Provincial Convention on Thursday and Friday is as follows: Judge Bole, Messrs. George Blakely, D. E. MacKenzie, J. H. Vidal, R. A. Stoney, F. J. Lynch, Peter Peebles, J. S. Clute and M. J. Knight.
